Leslie Lake Park now authorized by order in council

The Quebec government has authorized the Société d'Aménagement de l' Outaouais to go ahead with the acquisition of land for three industrial parks and eight tourist complexes in the Outaouais.

Order-in-Council 4384, adopted December 22, 1971 authorized the SAO to purchase the land either by negociation or expropriation.

The projects were approved in principle last July 21 by the provincial authorities as part of the development policy of the Société.

The land will cost some $4 million and money will be raised at first with loans and then by the issuing of bonds.

Notices of expropriation have been filed by the SAO in the registry offices at Hull, Maniwaki, Papineauville and Campbell's Bay, and the SAO is free to begin negociations immediately.

The provincial government attaches a great deal of importance to these projects as a way of stimulating the economy of the Outaouais.

All preliminary technical work such as surveying, mapping and assessment have been completed, and negociations are proceeding with the federal government for participation in the financing of the projects. It is hoped the federal government will provide financial aid.

The order-in-council approved include the following projects:

MULTI-USE TOURIST COMPLEXES:
Leslie Lake, Pontiac County
Lac Simon, (Petite Nation Valley)
Lac Gagnon (Petite Nation Valley)
Lac de l'Argile (La Lievre valley)

SPECIALIZED TOURIST COMPLEXES:
Lac Beauchamp, Gatineau
Lac des Iles (Rouge Valley, Papineau County)
Lac Deschenes, Aylmer
Upper Gatineau, Maniwaki, Gatineau County.

INDUSTRIAL PARKS:
Eastern industrial park (195 acres) East Templeton
Centre industrial park (214 acres) Hull
Western industrial park (309 acres) Lucerne

SAO POLICIES:
These projects are the result of policies developped by the Société d'Aménagement de l'Outaouais in cooperation with the Outaouais Regional Development Council (formerly the Outaouais Economic Council) .

The projects will be developped according to the finances of the SAO and funds available through federal and provincial programs. Negociations with the federal government are carried out under the direction of Honorable Oswald Parent, minister responsible for Intergovernmental Affairs.

First baby of 1972

Two day old Melanie Greer is already bored with it all while her mother enjoys a much needed rest while she may. At home are Melanie's two brothers and two sisters, Ricky 6, Coleen 5, Cory 3, and Debby 2. The parents, Mr and Mrs Jason Greer of Elmside are well accustomed to large families. Jason has six brothers and three sisters and Viola, daughter of Mr and Mrs Sylvester Trudeau, has four brothers and three sisters. The latest member of this large family arrived on January 2nd at Pontiac Community Hospital at 9:57 p.m. and weighed in at six pounds, six ounces. Dr Michelle Gregory was the attending physician. The first Pontiac baby's daddy is a truck driver employed by Harvey Smith. Their address is Bristol, RR 1.

The future of schools in Pontiac County depends on Quyon

Lester McCann, Chairman of St. Mary's School Board, has told THE EQUITY that he discounts the indication of public opinion as expressed in the recent public opinion poll held by this paper. His reason is that he believes the people who replied to the poll, indicating such an overwhelming desire to stay in Pontiac for school purposes and all others, did not know all the facts in the case.

We asked him how he intended that they should become knowledgeable on these matters and he replied that we, in THE EQUITY, should let them know the true situation.

As he sees it, the true situation is that if Quyon, and the supporters of the St Mary's School Municipality, demand to remain in Pontiac they will eventually have to send their children to Fort Coulonge to High School, unless they are also willing to fight for some other arrangement.

Mr McCann realistically faces the fact that whatever the people of Pontiac ever can get for their own benefit will be gotten by fighting. There is no such thing as just requesting a Government Department to act on our behalf, considering our own wishes. He also has stated that the English Catholics of Pontiac will have to speak with one voice to be heard in Quebec and he doesn't think they can. He thinks their differences as between one community and another are too diverse and nobody among them is willing to consider the total picture.

We had thought that a public opinion poll conducted by an impartial institution such as THE EQUITY would be considered as valid by those who make the decisions, but Mr McCann has stated that he intends to take no action with regard to this sort of public opinion.

Mr McCann will only put his weight behind a request if it is brought to him personally by the people of Quyon, either by telephone or in person. His telephone number is 458-2626 and he does not want to hear from people outside Quyon although the decisions of the St Mary School Board will have a permanent effect on everyone in Pontiac County of either English or French language and either Protestant or Catholic religion.

There are at present two large modern high schools in Pontiac County; a French Catholic one on Fort Coulonge and an English Protestant one in Shawville. There is also an English Catholic one in Shawville but this one is old and without the sort of facilities it should have.

If the English Catholic families concerned were to make a firm decision about either having an English wing added to the French School in Fort Coulonge, or a Catholic wing added to the Protestant school in Shawville, or having a new school built in Campbell's Bay for English Catholics, they might stand a chance of getting what they wanted; but only if they could agree and stand together.

Meanwhile, the trend is towards Aylmer and Hull and nothing can reverse the trend except some personal contacts between Quyon citizens and their school board chairman.

This is placing a lot of responsibility on the shoulders of each individual catholic school supporter in the village of Quyon, but that's the way Mr McCann wants it. As he says, why should he go out on a limb and work for something unless he knows everyone wants him to?

Bryson Centennial plans being made

Women's Liberation started early in Bryson which might come as a surprize to many people. It seems that Tilly MacFarland was a leader in the movement before the first World War when she became the only woman telegraphist in North America.

This little known fact is just one of the tidbits of information being unearthed by the Bryson Centennial Committee in its effort to bring Bryson to the attention of the public as it embarks upon its second century next year.

1973 is the official year for Bryson Centennial, but knowing how long it takes to get things organized, a committee was set up last year and is just now getting into middle gear.

Committee Chairman Ron Coyne expects high gear to be reached some time later this year and anticipates a splendid cooperation from Bryson people, both old and new.

With a little advance publicity in THE EQUITY it is hoped that many people who have Bryson in their bones, even if they now live far away, will contribute information, photographs, anecdotes, ideas for a lasting memorial, and even a few dollars to see the memorial become a reality.

There has been a delay on the contest to find a Centennial Design because of the serious illness of one of the major judges in the competition. However, in a few weeks they hope to be able to proceed with the selection of a good design which will be used for advance publicity and later as a memento of the big Centennial Year.

Anyone wishing to contribute in any way should contact Ron Coyne, or if it is old photos (with names please) of people or buildings, or stories of Bryson's history and illustrious citizens, they could send them to THE EQUITY. In either case they will be warmly welcomed. Even a list of past Bryson citizens and the interesting things they are now doing would be nice to have around during the big year.

Bridge at Des Joachims

It was announced today by TOM LEFEBVRE that the Federal Government Department of Public Works would be spending $121,214.00 for the improvements to the interprovincial bridge between Rapides des Joachims in Pontiac County, Quebec, and Rolphton in Ontario.

The bridge crosses the Ottawa River about 35 miles north of Pembroke, on Ontario Highway 17.

Under the contract, old timber decking and stringers will be replaced.

Minor repairs will be made to truss members and abutments. Approximately 25 tons of steel stringers and 100 tons of steel decking will be used in the work.

Plans and specifications for the repairs were prepared by the Civil Engineering Branch at federal Department of Public Works Headquarters. The successful contractor: " Lagendyk and Company Ltd., Montreal" submitted the lowest of seven tenders.

Week of Prayer, organized by the Clarendon and District Ministerial Association representing thirty five Protestant congregations in Pontiac County, officially starts on Monday, January 10th in four district churches.

At eight o'clock in the evening prayer services will be held at the Ladysmith Lutheran Church, Bristol Presbyterian, Shawville Standard and Quyon United Churches.

It is traditional in Pontiac County for people of various denominations to visit churches of other than their own during this special week of prayer, or else to use this opportunity to visit the church of their own denomination in another part of the County.

All prayer meetings for the week will be held at 8 pm winding up with two on Friday night, January 14th, at the Anglican Churches of Shawville and Campbell's Bay. The complete schedule appears in the Coming Events column on the Classified page of this issue of THE EQUITY.

Help for small family farms

The Federal Government's "Small Farms Development Program", announced on December 6, by Mr. Olson, will provide $150,000,000. over a seven year period. Priority on use of funds will be given to small family farms wishing to enlarge their operations, as land becomes available, and credit facilities expanded.

Many farmers in Pontiac will wish to avail themselves of the benefits under this plan.

There are others who may wish to leave farming to retire or because of other reasons.

This fund will also be available to them in a land transfer arrangement, when their farm may be purchased by others immediately or to be put into a land bank for future use.

Although final arrangements have not been made with the provinces the Farm Credit Corporation will be actively engaged in many phases of its operations.

Hunter safety courses

Pontiac Fish and Game Protective Association is starting firearms safety courses again for 1972.

Anyone from any area is welcome to attend any of the courses. The fee is $3.00 which includes instruction and membership in the Association.

— OLD FOLKS HOME — POST OFFICE — AND ALL THAT

Mr. Jean-Guy Lariviere M N A, wants us to correct an impression which appeared in THE EQUITY in November, when we asked in a paragraph above a story about old folks homes in Quebec: "Would you believe that in the past two years 140 projects for old folks homes have been approved by Quebec?"

The article was in French, reprinted from a brochure provided by the Société d'Habitation du Québec. It described glowingly, the many advantages of just the sort of old folks home which is needed in Shawville and how the government was going about assisting communities in the building of these homes. What the article did not state was that the government has, since last year, changed its mind about the value of this sort of old folks home. We published the article on the day it arrived from Quebec but apparently it represented the thinking of the government previous to 1970.

In the last paragraph of the article it said, in French of course, "In all, 140 projects, including 9765 rooms and 1278 apartments at a cost of $103,610,650 . . . . have been approved by the Société. In 1968-1969, 60 of these projects were approved compared to 80 in 1969-70."

Since these 140 projects were approved in the two years from 1968 to 1970, Mr Lariviere would have preferred that we had so stated in our opening paragraph. In other words, the 140 old folks homes were not approved during the "past two years" but actually during the two years previous to the past year. There's quite a difference because, even though the brochure came from the present government it was obviously advertising the achievements of the previous one.

Many of our readers could only understand those first few English words in which we confused the issue by being out one year on our calculations.

We did receive some comment from readers who wanted us to translate the whole article but our feeling is that if our government wants to communicate in French we should not stand in its way. For years we have been translating and interpreting for the people of Pontiac County. We have just recently realized that the people here will never do anything about their lack of communication with their government if we pretend it doesn't exist.

As for the change in thinking about old folks homes, apparently there is still no understanding in Quebec of the needs of our people. They are discussing the relative merits of chronic hospitals and low cost apartments for old people and will probably end up with a combination of the two instead of the comprehensive old folks home which Shawville wants.

There is some thought that after old people have been in an old folks home for a few years they become sick and need to go to a hospital like the Ade Hospital in Bristol and this, for some reason, confuses the need for old folks homes.

We would like to know how many people over 70 are on the committee which decides these things.

We would like to know, in fact, who decides what old people want and need in Shawville.

If the government of Quebec is waiting for a local committee of old people to tell it what is needed in Shawville, we could get them such a committee very easily. If they won't take the word of the Lions Club, the Clergy, the Municipal Councils, the Social Planning Council or this newspaper, a responsible committee of senior citizens could be organized any day of the week to tell them that Shawville really does need an old folks home. Perhaps the modern concepts of sociologists at Lavalle University and Sherbrooke do not agree with the old people in Shawville. Let them plan for their own old age problems in whatever way they choose. If what Shawville wants is old fashioned, perhaps it is simply because the old people in Shawville are old fashioned.

One thing sure is that over the past fifteen years, since our Lions Club started on its old folks home project, a lot of old people have passed away whose last years on earth would have been much more enjoyable if we had only had our old folks home.

Mr. Lariviere says there should be an announcement about this in the new year. Hopefully, this means 1972, but as we know from bitter experience there are other new years, 1973, 1974 and so forth — would you believe 1984?

As far as Jean Guy is concerned, we're sure he's doing his very best for us all. We know he is in a really difficult position. In Quebec he has to answer to the government for all our demands and in Pontiac he has to answer to the electorate for the government. Whatever we think of the government and the influences in Quebec, we must believe that Jean Guy Lariviere has our best interests at heart.

We don't blame him for the stalemate about the old folks home, nor for the road conditions into this County, any more than we blame Tom Lefebvre for the silly post office situation in Shawville.

It isn't our Members of parliament who make the decisions. We'll never know who it is but we know it isn't Jean Guy and Tom. Tom would never have asked for the scaffolding they have tacked onto the north end of our post office, (after having started off so nicely with the fieldstone on the south end) and Tom certainly had nothing to do with the gigantic billboard they have erected in front which states BUREAU DE POSTE. Tom knows more about Shawville than to do that. But our suspicion is that whoever is responsible for the doings at the post office probably knows all about Shawville and knows what he is doing.

But not to be complaining about everything . . . something good seems to be happening up near Otter Lake.

Read on . . .

LESLIE LAKE PARK — IS IT FOR REAL?

It is good to read this week that the government of Quebec has authorized the acquisition of two thousand acres of land around Leslie Lake for a tourist park.

This park is one of eleven now proposed for the Outaouais area, and the only one in Pontiac County.

The projected park for Pontiac is of particular significance. It is intended to offer a wide range of activities all year for people of all ages.

Among the activities specified for development are swimming, sailing, canoeing, fishing, underwater diving, hiking, horseback-riding, alpine and cross-country skiing, mountain climbing, snowshoeing, snowmobiling, golf and nature exploration.

Camp grounds, cottages, hostels, grocery stores and snack bars will be set up. The overall network of parks for the area also include a marina, youth hostel and campsites at Lake Deschenes in Aylmer.

The first recommendation for the establishment of this park came from a small committee which met at Alex Webster's house in Shawville one wintry day a long time ago. Each member was supposed to speak for a different sector of the population of Pontiac to the Outaouais Economic Council with some ideas for the development of the area.

Alec was to speak for Forestry, Neil Drumond for Agriculture, Orla Young for Industry, Cecil Bigelow for Wildlife, and Rosaleen Dickson for Tourism and People in General.

The five decided to lay aside their particularly designated areas of interest and concentrate on one proposition to the Economic Council which would benefit People in General.

The Park was decided upon and consulting maps and charts all over the coffee table, living room floor and dining table, the group decided the best possible location would be Leslie Lake.

The park was not to be merely a tourist attraction, although this aspect would certainly not be overlooked. It was also to provide for the health and happiness of Pontiac County people, thus making Pontiac an even better place to live in.

Through a series of letters, proposals, discussions and support of many other groups, the proposition gained the attention of the Hull based Economic Council, which has since changed its name to the Outaouais Regional Development Council. From there it was passed on to the Societé d'Amenagement de l'Outaouais which meantime had received urgent messages to accept the project from various Pontiac sources.

From all indications, the original plan will go ahead as requested by that little committee and endorsed by so many Pontiac clubs and committees.

Notices of expropriation have been filed in the registry office at Campbell's Bay, all preliminary technical work such as surveying, mapping and assessment has been completed. Now they are hoping for financial aid from the federal government.

It is naive to rejoice over the mere announcement of authorizaton to proceed, but yet it does seem like a good omen for 1972 that in this very first week we are told the way is clear for the establishment, by co-operation of federal and provincial governments, of a two thousand acre park right smack in the middle of Pontiac County.

Leslie Lake Park now authorized

MULTI-USE AND SPECIALIZED PARKS:
In keeping with its policies for tourist and recreation development, the Société d'Aménagement de l' Outaouais will have four specialized parks as well as four multi-use parks which will form the beginnings of a network of tourist infrastructure in West Quebec.

The multi-use parks will each have an area of about 2,000 acres and will be located on the shores of Gagnon, Simon, Leslie and l'Argile Lakes.

There will be activities for every member of the family and some of them are: swimming, water-skiing, sailing, canoeing, fishing, underwater diving, hiking and horseback-riding, mountain climbing, alpine and cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, snowmobiling, golfing and nature exploration.

Camp grounds, cottages, hostels, grocery stores and snack bars will also be set up.

The specialized tourist parks, which will be smaller in area, will be located in the Upper Gatineau (Maniwaki) , Lac des Iles (St. Emile de Suffolk), Lac Beauchamp (Gatineau) and Lac Deschenes (Aylmer) Their facilities will include a marina, youth hostel and camp sites.

INDUSTRIAL PARKS:
The three industrial parks, are based in a 20 years plan and respond to present and future needs by their size, role and rhythm of development.

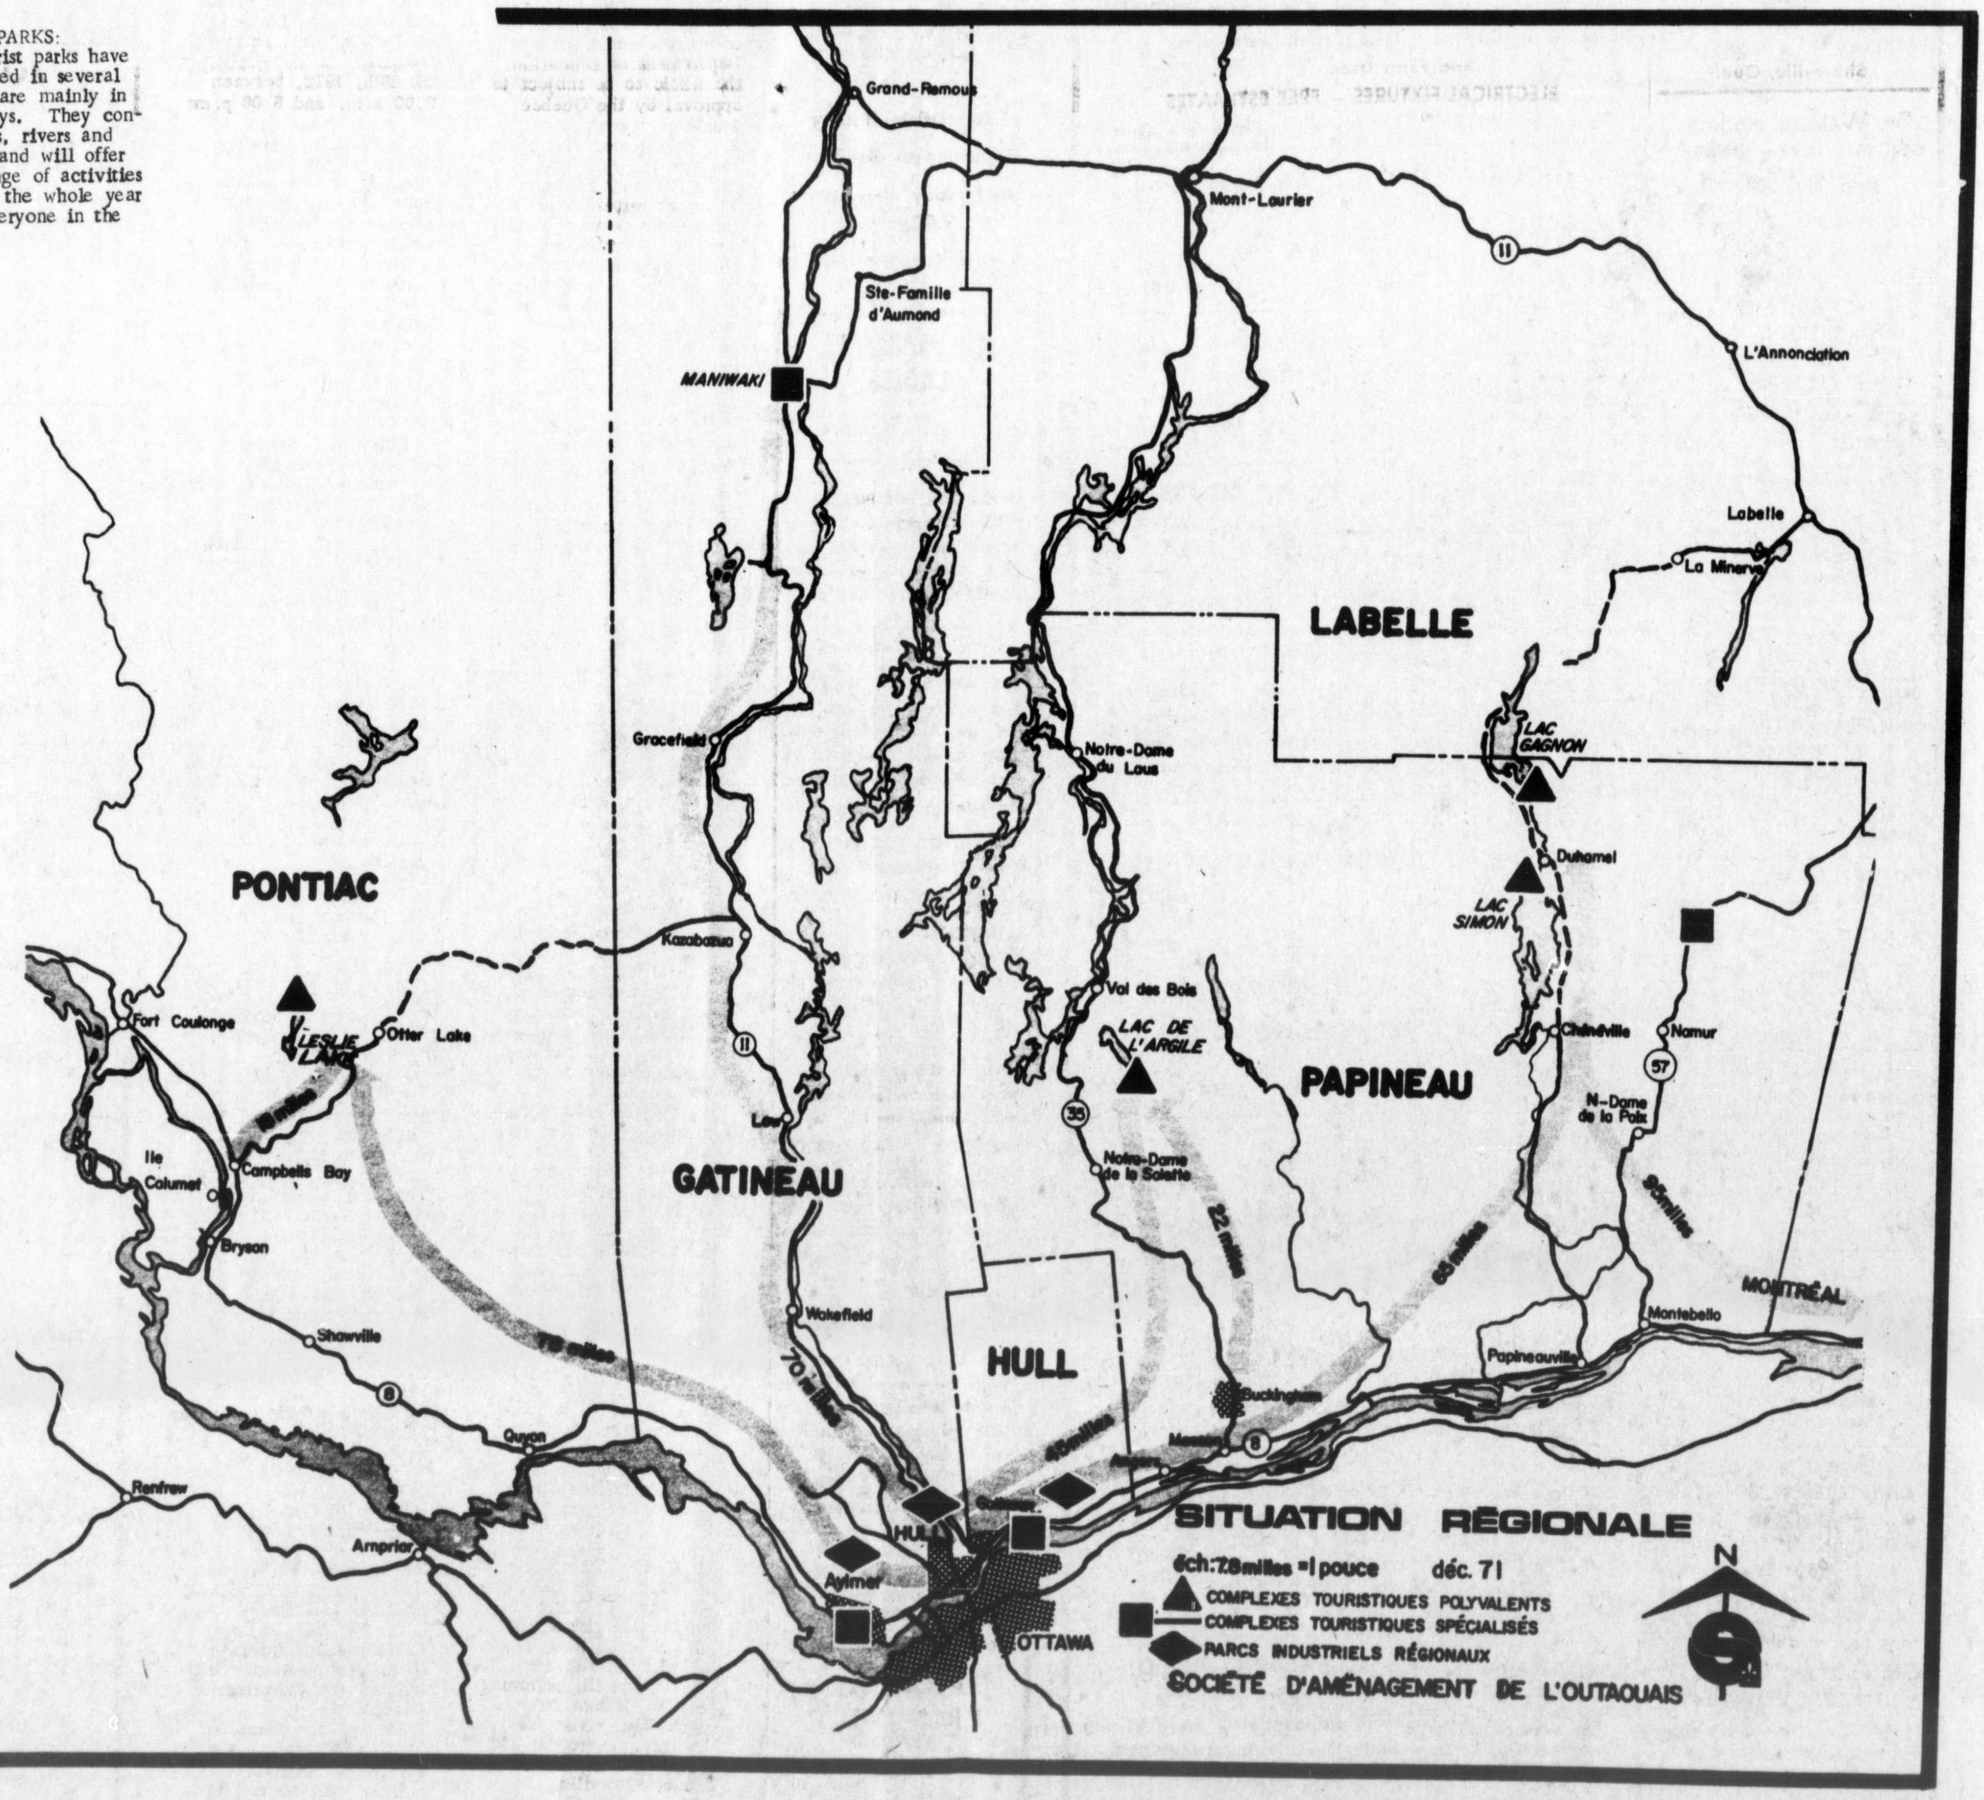
These parks have been situated very near and will be able to take full advantage of the new roads system.

Western Industrial Park will be located in Lucerne near the new Northern Electric plant and will be for the technological industries.

Centre Industrial Park is the natural extension of Richelieu Park and will take the overflow of industries which the park can no longer handle.

Eastern Industrial Park, in the eastern section of East Templeton, will be kept in reserve to be developped according to demand and when services become available. It will be a multi-use park.

TOURIST PARKS:
The tourist parks have been located in several areas and are mainly in river valleys. They contain forests, rivers and mountains and will offer a wide range of activities throughout the whole year and for everyone in the family.



Deep River Jr Knights will play here Sunday

The High flying Deep River Knights will be looking to make it two in a row over the Pontiac Juniors in Shawville Sunday, afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Deep River have been coming on with a great surge for the past month and could very well be the team to beat this year.

The Pontiac Jrs have dropped their last two starts, and need to get some hustle back into their attack.

Our forewards just aren't hustling in to forecheck. We have too many guys holding back and there is no place for this.

A solid effort from every player is needed if there is hopes of retaining a top spot again.

Deep River have a great hockey player in Desjardins and he must be stopped.

The New Year's Resolution by the Pontiac Junior's is ending up in second place.

Beef cattle promotion in Pontiac County

The Quebec Dept. of Agriculture last summer adopted a program to encourage farmers to increase and improve their beef cattle herds. This program is of particular importance for Pontiac County as beef production is an important crop and the possibilities are good to increase this production. In 1971, when this program first came into affect 175 farms in Pontiac were visited and approved under this program with approximately $100,000.00 having been paid by Quebec to local farmers.

It is important that farms be developed in an orderly progressive manner and beef production offers encouraging possibilities for the following reasons:

1- a beef operation with annual sales of $15,000.00 should offer comparable returns compared with an industrial milk operation.
2- the expansion of a beef operation can make use of buildings not suitable for a dairy operation and no quota is required.
3- the dairy industry seems to be starting to show the effects of the quota system which limits production to market requirements and which has improved prices for dairy products.

It would seem important that an orderly progressive development of the dairy industry be continued rather than try to expand production too quickly with the inevitable surplus of milk and a lower price to the farmer.

4- One of the major factors affecting the beef producer is an economic factor as his income has been too low with a cow-calf operation to allow him to carry calves over winter or raise these calves to market weight. The Quebec program allows an additional income which should allow more farmers to increase their production without increasing their debts and therefore develop their operation in an orderly and progressive manner.

To qualify for the beef promotion program the following main requirements are made:

1- a farmer must have 20 potentially productive cows in a predominantly breeding herd using a beef type bull.
2- farmers with milk or cream quotas do not qualify.
3- an increase of 15% in the herd is required yearly up to a maximum of 40 animal units.
4- the farmer must provide the greater part of the labour for his enterprise.

The Quebec department of Agriculture assistance is based on the number of cows wintered. Only cows are considered up to 30 cows but with 30 cows or more young females are counted on the basis of animal units. The maximum for any farm is 75 animal units with a maximum annual payment of $1475.00. A payment is made of $25.00 per cow up to 30 cows. $20.00 per cow from 30 to 40 animal units and $15.00 per animal unit up to a maximum of 75 animal units.

It is anticipated that the Quebec Dept. of Agriculture will commence counting cows in April to qualify farms on this program. Farmers should keep in mind that each farm has to have 20 cows to qualify and an increase of 15% over the 1971 count will be required up to 40 animal units.

Support price for potatoes

The agricultural prices stabilization Board, a federal government body, has just announced a programme to buy potatoes from Canadian growers to support the price of this farm product.

The Board will buy Canada No 1 potatoes at $1.50 per hunderweight (cwt) for lots of at least 200 cwt and not more than 1,333 cwt per grower. Provided that he satisfies requirements the grower will receive an advance payment of 75 cents per cwt as soon as his application has been received by the Board, whereupon the latter will become the owner of the quantity offered.

Delivery of the potatoes will then be made in the manner and on the dates stipulated by the Board. Until delivery, each producer will be required to store his potatoes himself and be responsible for their satisfactory keeping. He will, however, be permitted a certain "shrinkage" in proportion to the duration of storage, to cover the loss in weight which will occur.

If the Board requires delivery in bags, they will be supplied.

The final date for taking advantage of this programme has been set at 31 January 1972.

Quebec dairy herd analysis service now available to all

The Quebec DHAS is now available to all dairy farmers in the province except those in some counties in the Gaspé.

This announcement has been made by Macdonald College which, in collaboration with the Quebec department of agriculture, operates this computerized service for analyzing dairy herd production, feeding and management that has given surprising results since its introduction in 1966.

The programme stresses bigger income rather than high production records and provides milk producers with full and precise information on the feeding rearing and special needs of every cow in the herd.

Thus the dairy farmer is given the benefits of the latest research and technique and the best methods of rearing, feeding and tending in his efforts to achieve sound and efficient management.

At present about 65,000 cows in 1,800 herds are enrolled in the program. The participants agree in saying that the service has turned out to be a really effective management tool.

The results of the first three years have been convincing; on the average, cows in herds tested during that period have produced 1,653 pounds of milk per head more without change in the butterfat content.

Improvements for dairy producers

Agriculture Minister H. A. (Bud) Olson announced further important changes in the Canadian Dairy Commission's holdback on payments to shippers of manufacturing milk and cream. These changes will again improve the returns of dairy producers.

(On November 3, the Commission's rate of holdback on payments to manufacturing milk shippers on deliveries within their quotas was reduced to 10 cents per hundred pounds, retroactive to last April).

According to today's announcement, in provinces under market sharing quotas a producer may now exceed his market quota by 10 percent before the over-quota holdback will take effect. This applies to Ontario, Quebec, and since December 1, to Prince Edward Island. In these provinces, the holdback is made from market payments to producers.

In other provinces, the holdback is made from direct federal subsidy payments, based on each producer's subsidy quota. If all provinces were under market sharing quotas, the national total of the subsidy quotas would be about 70 per cent of the total market sharing quotas. For this reason, Mr Olson said, there will be a larger allowance for over-quota deliveries where the holdback is made from subsidy payments. The adjustment will permit producers in provinces not under sharing quotas to exceed their subsidy quotas by 30 per cent before the over quota rate of holdback will apply (i.e . in the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Newfoundland.)

The changes in today's announcement apply to both manufacturing milk and cream.

"There has been some question of the necessity of a higher rate of holdback on over-quota deliveries in a situation where butter production this year will be slightly below Canadian requirements," Mr. Olson said.

" The Dairy Commission has consulted closely with dairy producer organizations on this. The consensus is that if the supply management system on which the dairy industry has embarked, and which has been of considerable benefit to producers this year, is to work effectively there has to be some significant charge to discourage excess production.

" However, as a special measure in the circumstances of this year, the payment programs will be adjusted to allow producers a margin of deliveries in excess of their quotas before the over-quota rate of holdback is applied."

The Minister said, " I wish to stress that this is a special arrangement for the dairy year ending next March 31. Dairy producers should not interpret this as indicating that a similar arrangement will apply next year."

Accident insurance rates to go down

The officers of the Ministry of Financial Institutions, Compagnies & Cooperatives have studied the documentation submitted by the Insurance Companies relating to their automobile insurance tariff programme for 1972. They later met with the representatives of the same Insurance companies in view of pursuing this study in greater depth.

As a result of these efforts, for the first time in many years, the Québec public will benefit from a reduction in public liability automobile insurance rates applicable to private passenager vehicules.

This reduction will be from 3 to 10% depending on the territory where the vehicule is utilized. These reductions will remain in force in so far as the proprietors record remains unchanged.
