The Gateway to Opportunity

To-day not all young people are aware of the value of a savings account at the foundation of future security and prosperity.

A saving account not only provides for the provision of a similar kind in the event of any emergency or for retirement, but it also provides a means of buying securities interest in a fund, in place of notes, gold or silver, to buy a home or for the payment of the household expenses.

No other provision for the future is so sure of results in security and comfort as a savings account.

Why not start an account now at the Bank of Nova Scotia?

An interesting account of some of the major components that make up the construction of a metal roofing system. It highlights the importance of choosing the right materials and providing examples of how these materials are used in practice. The text also mentions the challenges associated with ensuring safety and preventing accidents during the construction process. It concludes by emphasizing the need for ongoing education and training for workers in this field.
FUR FARMING IN 1922

According to reliable records of the Canadian Bureau of Statistics, there were 912 fur farms in Canada in 1922, comprising 774 for Canada, 15 for British Columbia, and 23 for Prince Edward Island. Of these farms, 571 were located in Ontario, 137 in New Brunswick, 95 in Quebec, and 35 in Nova Scotia. The total area of land under fur farming in Canada was 2,937,220 acres, or about 4,698 square miles.

The establishments of fur farms in Canada have been increasing for some years past, and the cost of production has been decreasing. The fur trade has been one of the most important industries of Canada, and the fur farming which has been established in the country has contributed greatly to its prosperity.

Raw hide is the chief commercial product of the fur farms, and it is used for various purposes, such as the manufacture of leather, footwear, and gloves. Other products of the fur farms include pelts, hides, and furskins, which are exported to other countries. The value of the products of the fur farms in Canada has been increasing steadily, and the sales of these products have been very satisfactory.

The fur farming industry in Canada has been developing rapidly in recent years, and the number of farms and the area under fur farming have been increasing. The industry is expected to continue to grow, and it is likely that the fur farming industry will become one of the most important industries in Canada in the future.
