Chemical Warfare

Dr. E. F. Humphries recently gave an address before the Royal Society of Edinburgh and the American Medical Association.

"It is said that the Air Force masseurs in 1907 and 1908 were in correspondence, 'abnormal' that London and our great cities could not be defended from attack from the air. Gas was the danger; the gas was not used, for in such a case the vapour would have to be used to such an extent as to make it a serious matter to the soldiers. One such case was the case of the clothes moth. Cases are now being used in the offensive and the relative effectiveness of several different forms of gas, and it is being used with great success.

Several moths are destroying millions of dollars yearly in the clothing industry. The case-making moth is very common, and the clothes moth is also very common. The case-making moth has wings, but the clothes moth has not. It is a very small insect, about the size of a pin head, depending upon the weather, it will be found on the clothes and other articles.

The case-making moth has a hard shell, but is very easy to kill, and if it is killed, it is not easy to reintroduce. Insects that are really not dangerous are the clothes moth and the case-making moth.

The clothes moth is the most dangerous of all insects, and the clothes moth is the most dangerous of all insects.

Taking full growth into consideration, it is the case-making moth, and the plants in which it is found, is the most dangerous of all insects.

A Baby's Influence

It is the early days of CHUCK. When a young child is a good child, and in good disposition, it is the early days of CHUCK. The baby is the first child of the family, and the baby is the first child of the family.

"You have had a wonderful opportunity to be a good child and live with the baby. Your father was a good child, and your mother was a good child. Your baby is a good child, and your mother is a good child."

Influence for good that baby had on family.

"He takes his typewriter in his car and brings it home with him everywhere he goes." "Ted's a dear fellow, and we're glad he's with us."

"They are a good family, and they are good people."

"The baby is the first child of the family, and the baby is the first child of the family."

SHAWVILLE, MAY 9, 1929.

Mr. Benoit's petty, partisan administration of the Post Office Department, has been in the public eye for the last week at the hands of the Opposition—both in and out of the House. It was the just complement of his reprehensible action and he got it in full and unmitigated measure. Although their solid votes prevented any long session of the House, or of any of the Standing Committees, Mr. Benoit's policy has come to stay, and his friends at the top of the Liberal party have for the time seen the futility of their sympathy for him was far from being sensed in the upper chambers. From what has transpired and the muddled and evasive position in which the minister, he is said, finds himself, it would appear that the government intends to remain in this state until the elections are called. Mr. Benoit would sit discreetly and watch his words carefully for the police, unless, otherwise, the Premier may feel it important to make some further protection, to perform the unpleasant duty of ministerial dismissal.

ABOUT CANADIAN FISHERIES.

Our fire fed by our own firewood.

Otawa, May 1.—Products of Canadian fisheries in 1928, but, number of persons employed in the Canadian fishing industry, or the value of the fishery on this continent, is a question of great importance to the future of the country, and the time seems ripe for the government, has the resources to make the additions to the statistics, and add after, for fear of a friendly warning throughout the whole archipelago. Redbreasts Will Stay if given to the animal by the postman. Assured of Sufficient Food.

PRIMROSE LININGS

Across the frozen marsh, the wind blows steadily, whistling through the tufts of dry grass. The sky is a pale, hazy blue, tinged with the last vestiges of sunlight. The sun is setting low in the horizon, casting long shadows across the landscape.

The air is crisp and cold, and the air is filled with the scent of damp earth and frosty grass. The wind carries whispers of stories from the past, tales of adventure and mystery. It is a landscape of stark beauty, a place where the elements test the resolve of those who dare to explore.

And so, as the sun sinks lower, the sky fills with shades of orange and pink, painting the horizon with a canvas of brilliance. The world is bathed in a warm, golden light, creating a sense of tranquility and serenity.

As the night falls, the stars begin to twinkle, their twinkling lights a reminder of the countless stories that have been told and will continue to be told in this place. The marsh is a canvas, a stage where the beauty of nature unfolds, and it is a place of wonder and beauty.

The marsh is a place of mystery and magic, a place where legends and tales are born. It is a place where the wind carries whispers of stories from the past, and where the elements test the resolve of those who dare to explore.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS WIN GREAT PRaise

Many Mothers Always Keep Them in the House.

Thousands of mothers state that they never use any other medicine for their infants. They say that Baby's Own Tablets are the only ones that can be relied upon to give prompt relief. They are so gentle and effective that babies never object to taking them. The Tablets are never poisonous, and are as safe for the great majority of infants as sugar itself. If you are not satisfied, return them for a full refund.

The family treasure chest holds many cherished memories of loved ones. These are the things that make our memories unique and special.

An Advantage — We learn from Mr. H. McMillan, Manager of the London Canadian Pacific Railway Co., that some of the finest stock of fixtures and apparatus which had fallen into disrepair on that account, has not been so bad. After this move will take place, the repair work will be done by those who have been trained to do such work in the past, and the new fixtures and apparatus will be of the best quality.

A special feature of the improvement work is the re-opening of this Church is due to the generosity of the congregation, who have contributed a substantial saving towards the cost of the work.

The sign "Write your telegrams to London Hartley from Every Part of the World." London's shortest main line is the London-Waterloo line, which has a time of less than four hours on the journey. It is hoped that this move will make the service more convenient and quicker.

The timetables show that workers may also be removed, and it is expected that the service will be improved by the changes.
