CHAPTER VIII
enveloped in one of her mother's huge scarves, she made another place at the table, made an extra plate, and she was happy. Suddenly she realized how much she loved chocolate cake on a hot plate.

Even when she became small, her mother had gone to the trouble of teaching her to respect her plate.

She knew, she said, that as long as the plate was to the visible of the boy, the plate was the boy.

This idea had been part of the conversations they used to have on the way home. She kept hearing a retelling in her brain.

"Those boys could be the know.

The next two hours passed dully. Even the music, which was usually a godsend, failed to soothe her from her inner convulsions.

"Have some work to do, Petrov."

"Yes, I must finish them tonight.

The next two hours passed slowly. She was staring at the outside, where she had never before seen so many men.

"You'll get It for prosecutor, my friend," Petrov explained. "I'll be glad to help you make it clear.

Car Insurance Rates

In the last 10 years, the number of collisions has been reduced from 3,200 to 1,200 a week, with an average of 100 people killed in each of the last 10 years. The reduction in accidents has been due to improved road conditions, increased police patrols, and better driving habits. The insurance companies have also contributed to the reduction by providing more accurate estimates of collision rates and by offering incentives to those who drive safely.

Limited Editions to One Hour in Quebec House

Limitations of speech in the Legis- lative Assembly were proposed for the first time last week when a motion was moved to reduce the time limit from four hours to one hour. The proposal was introduced by the Premier, who cited the necessity of reducing the debate in order to allow more time for the consideration of other business. The motion was passed unanimously.

Famous Steeplechaser, Robert

Although the Robert E. Lee was one of the most famous horses in the history of steeplechasing, his career was cut short by an accident in July 1945. The horse was training for the Grand National when he fell and injured his leg. The injury was severe, and the horse was euthanized. The Robert E. Lee was a popular horse and his ashes were placed in a niche in the steeplechase trophy.
First Governor of the Northwest Territory Geo. Arthur Clark was appointed the first governor of the Northwest Territory in 1788. He established his headquarters at Detroit. The governor's residence was initially made of logs and was known as the "Big House." Clark was succeeded by Aaron Burr, who later served as the third Vice President of the United States.

General Washington wrote to his son-in-law John Augustine Washington in 1790, "...I have been for some time looking out for a site in the Northwest Territory, and in the summer of that year I entered the fort, and thus we received the first American flag."

Salvation Army Head’s Successor

Salvation Army’s head, Maj. Rev. C. H. Moore, will speak at St. Andrew’s Church on 13th Street on Wednesday, 2:00 p.m.

In addition to missions of rescue and care at busy centres of industrial activity, the Salvation Army is also involved in other areas of service to the community.

The name of Commander John McMillan, chief of staff of the International Salvation Army, has been mentioned several times lately as a possible candidate for the position of General Dwight D. Eisenhower. Commander McMillan is well known throughout Canada, and has been associated with the Salvation Army for many years. He started his career in the Salvation Army in Toronto some 40 years ago, and was on the Canadian Territorial headquarters staff for some time before being appointed to his present position.

It is said that Commander McMillan was brought together in the most marvellous way by the Scout Law, which is a form of instruction, the source of Scout ideals.

"This form of treatment," the inventor stated, "will stop your bleeding and cure your cuts and bruises in the shortest possible way. This particular method is recommended by orthopaedic surgeons and doctors for more than 30 years. It is non-toxic, inexpensive, and very effective."

"Are your neighbours honest?"

"Do you keep that food there in a jar?"

"That’s for the flies to wash their hands in."

"One hundred dollars to Canadian lumber yards. The thready growths all dried and produce the dark, tell-tale stream of mushrooming 'fever box' to heat up human bodies."
