Support For Better Roads

Recent decision of a neighbouring Farm Par-\n um to refuse payment of road taxes be-\n cause of a loss in the value of his land, has given rise to those who have watched the tempest of our motorists rise even during the \n past few Weeks. We do not wish to argue the legal rights or wrongs of this decision but from comments heard on local garages it is a popular one. We assume that a farmer may produce results, and at any rate should prove to Eastern Quebec that the neglected Western baby has grown sufficiently to demand its rights.

The Equity will continue to support this question of better roads for Pon-\ntiac. We have commented frequently in the past six months on the sub-\nject and are pleased to see that most of the Pontiac people felt as we did. Now however a Gatineau res-\nident has written to the Ottawa Journal on this subject. We therefore reprint his letter which appeared last Saturday evening along with the accom-\npompanying editorial in that paper.

The column occasionally referred to the condition of the roads from Hull to Maniwaki which is scarcely to be thought of as being in \n any great condition. As he points out, more is expected. The Pontiac Highway is paved but the quality of the work is scarcely to be thought of as being up to the standard of other roads. In fact, it is so bad that residents of the southward bound are unable to proceed further without much trouble. It has been a source of constant worry to those who live in the area, and one of the key stories of the tourist trade.

The Government of Quebec, under the leadership of its Minister of Highways and Reconstruction, has been active in the area of road conservation. The Pontiac Highway is a good example of this activity. It must be recognized that the problem of road construction and maintenance is a complex one, and that progress can be achieved only through cooperation between the provincial government and local municipalities.

We should never ignore the fact that the forces of life which are exploited in hunting and fishing are also a small segment of our wildlife heritage. Our woods and fields are full of wildlife.

Our country, which in pioneer days had a supply of wild meat, has never really exploited this resource. It would be a great shame if we were to lose our wildlife resources.

We should never allow ourselves to forget the immense importance of wildlife to Canada. We have an enormous area of wilderness which is suitable for wildlife management, and through it, the wolf and the bear, the lynx and the snowshoe hare, as well as the many other species that are native to Canada, can be found.

We should therefore support the activities of the Wildlife Service, and work towards preserving this resource for future generations.
This machinery is in the fight against cancer, too. The photo, a still from the National Film Board production "Challenge: Science Against Cancer," was reproduced for the promotion of the Canadian Cancer Society. The Society is seeking a $1,000,000 national objective.

The Royal Troop has called it its morning walk until after the Esri.

As soon as these activities were resumed they will be taking the turn of the hundred odd streets they collected recently, and said how to as Provincial Headquarters no be sent to Greece with the others from different parts of Canada.

The River Crew will hold its next meeting on the 29th, and it is expected they will have some guests at this meeting. They have been acting as counselors and friends to a number of Boys Scout; and it is hoped there will be an increase in that crowd of some of the younger ones as well.

The Rover Leader, Jack Tulloch, has some real plans for this event.

At the last meeting of the Cub Pack there were 22 out of 35 members, and the other three were not there because they were all NO abstinence without tears in the Cub Pack. All those who were at the meeting "walked the plank" which is part of the requirements of Physical Exercises for the 2nd Star. The Guards Cub completed this section, Darrell Smith, Brian Alexander, Collins Young, Wesley MacKinnon, Derek MacEwen, Jerry Bernabe, Collins Young, and Keith Yorke finished their work in Star training and were invested with their badge.

It was suggested that the men and women of the holiday for all the Cub Pack during this month. No Cub Pack again next week. The Old Wolf is going to show the Beaverville Dale and present the badge to the Cub Pack next year.

Seventh Scout Law

A Scout obeys orders of his parents, patrol leader or Scoutmaster without question.

No game is worthwhile unless it has rules. If there are no rules, it would just result in a mess where there would be no fun, no credit, or any satisfaction.

You know what would happen if you were playing hockey and the referee said no more might play. It would be over and go on. One side will be all right and the other could not make a thing. In baseball there are rules under which the team scoring in run and your Patrol Leader or Scoutmaster will not give any orders that do not conform with these rules. At the moment you might think it silly, but if you know a little more about what is going on, then what you do or tell you to do something which works in with someone else.

As an example of a bad and unnecessary forcing take-out, consider the following:

Dealer: North.
Scorer: 2 No Trump.
South opened One No Trump, North bid Three Spades, which North raised to Four Spades. South's point count was not high enough to suggest slam possibilities, and with his balanced distribution he should have made the obvious call of Three No Trumps.

An example of a bad and unnecessary forcing take-out.

MAY 1st-Birthday of Lions Club, Fitch, a former boy scout, celebrated his 20th birthday recently. Attending the party was Mr. M. Harriion-Cray, former Scoutmaster of the Western Province, and Mr. J. M. Bailey, former Scoutmaster, and many of the former members.

A Scout rules of thumb are:

1. If you have no idea, never do anything unless you are certain you are doing right.

2. If you are not sure, never do anything unless you are certain you are doing right.

3. If you are certain, go ahead and do it.

There are a great many things we can do with our hands and our minds and our hearts. And the Scoutmaster will not give any orders that do not conform with these rules. At the moment you might think it silly, but if you know a little more about what is going on, then what you do or tell you to do something which works in with someone else.
