The annual draw for a Homelite chain saw was lively. One had to be present at dinner to win, and if not, you could get in the contest the next day. As part of the interesting program for the visiting foresters, there was a fashion show for the ladies put on by members of the club.}

Accent on youth

Young people were honored at the closing banquet of the Fareren Association with the presentation of awards for year-end accuracy. Those who earned two blue scores for the season were honored, and the details of how they achieved these scores were shared. The evening was filled with music, dancing, and a sense of camaraderie, with the club looking forward to hosting more events in the future.

Good forester honored

The Ottawa Valley Forestry Association held its annual banquet in Shawville for the first time this year. For many of its members, it was their first time at this event. The highlight of the night was the presentation of awards to several members for their contributions to forestry. The audience was entertained with a speech by a prominent forester, who highlighted the importance of good forestry practices and the role of the association in promoting these practices. The evening was concluded with a delicious meal, providing a perfect conclusion to the event.

Managers present certificate

A second certificate was presented to Bob Green by Larry Bowman, manager of the Pontiac mill, at the launching of the Association's new project. A certificate of appreciation was also presented to a youth forester to recognize his contribution to the project. The evening was filled with a sense of accomplishment and excitement for the future.

Candidate proposes climate of stability

A citizen of stability in this position is Claude Wagner, the incumbent mayor of Pontiac County, who said he would be a leader for the people, not for the politicians. Wagner proposed a climate of stability, which he said would be achieved through his commitment to community service and his dedication to the needs of the people. He proposed that the council should be more self-disciplined and self-controlled, working for the people and not for themselves. Wagner also proposed that there should be more work in the building of a climate of stability, which he said was essential for the people of Pontiac.

A second certificate was presented to Brian Green by Larry Bowman, manager of the Pontiac mill, at the launching of
the Association's new project. A certificate of appreciation
accomplishment and excitement for the future.

Peace in our province is Wagner wish Candidate Wagner makes a wish for peace in our province.

He says that peace is needed to promote the economic development of the province and to create a better life for the people. Wagner emphasizes the importance of working together and the need for mutual respect and understanding. He also emphasizes the need for a climate of stability, which he believes is crucial for the achievement of peace.

Best antlers in Pontiac

This evening, Donnie Rooney of Shawville, aged 20, bagged a great buck with perfect antlers but also owns an empire by having the largest set in the province at Calumet Island last year. On November 6th, at the Liberal leadership convention held in Quebec City, the business of the day was the nomination of candidates for the provincial election. Among the candidates were two from Pontiac County, Claude Wagner and Jean-Guy Larrivee. Wagner, who has been active in politics for many years, is known for his commitment to the people of Pontiac County.
