 Telebec subscribers in Shawville will soon have the chance to vote on free calling to Ottawa/Hull.

 Pierre Picard, director of external communications for Telebec, said the surveys will be mailed out to all residential and business customers February 11. In total, 4,000 surveys will be mailed. They are expected to reach the week of February 14.

 Mr Picard said results from the surveys should be tabulated by the middle of March.

 The survey will consist of one question, and ask customers to provide some basic information about themselves.

 It will ask customers whether they are in favour of the project to eliminate long-distance charges between the Shawville and Ottawa/Hull exchanges.

 In order to accept local calling to the Ottawa/Hull exchange, 50 per cent plus one customer must vote in favour of the service.

 If the majority vote in favour of free calling to Ottawa/Hull, the service will be implemented before the end of the year.

 The decision will be based on the results of the survey, regardless of how many are returned, Leila and Norbert Senf, Shawville business owners who are concerned about telephone service, fear that residents will not vote in the survey due to time constraints.

 "I think the time frame will be so short that no one will vote. And the opportunity will be gone," Ms Senf Hull goes ahead, saying that customers would see an increase of about $26 vice costs will go up about $26.

 If the majority votes in favour of the service, Telebec subscribers in Shawville and Ottawa/Hull exchanges would increase to $30.45. A Shawville resident line is $20.40. That line would see the biggest increase.

 Residential customers with a two-party line would see an increase of about $7 in their monthly bill.

 Those with a four-party line would see their bill go up by about $16.

 Businesses with individual lines would see an increase of about $1.50.

Legion honours life members

Ebony editor

Richard Wilcox's letter opened a discussion on the presentation of lifetime membership awards at a banquet in Campbell's Bay. Pontiac Branch No. 162 of the Royal Canadian Legion honored Donat Rivet, a local resident, and Richard Bowie, a veteran, with lifetime memberships.

The presentation ceremony was held on Saturday, February 5, at 7 p.m. in the Pontiac Branch #162 dining room. The event was attended by many local officials, including the President, Mr. Calvete, and the Commander, Mr. Richard Bowie, who also enlisted in 1940.

The presentation was also attended by other local dignitaries, including the Minister of Veterans Affairs, Mr. Pierre Picard, and the Minister of Culture, Mr. John Godin. The event was well attended, with a large crowd in attendance.

The Legion awarded lifetime membership to Donat Rivet and Richard Bowie, both of whom have served the country and the community in various capacities.

Donat Rivet was recognized for his many years of service to the community, including his work on the local school board and his involvement in various community organizations. Richard Bowie was recognized for his service in the Armed Forces during World War II, where he served as a member of the Royal Canadian Navy.

The presentation was a fitting tribute to these two men, who have dedicated their lives to serving their community and their country.

The Legion continues to honor its members and those who have served their country, and we look forward to their continued service in the future.

Penticton is inviting the public to get directly involved in the economic development of the region.

On March 19, the member organization that makes up Penticton is hosting a development symposium from 6 until 10 a.m. at John Paul II High School in Campbell's Bay.

These member organizations include: Penticton MRC, the Penticton Business & Tourism Association, LEAD Penticton, the CLC, the Penticton Community Development Corporation (CADC), and the Regional Development Commission.

The symposium will focus on the following topics:

1. Innovation and technology
2. Economic development
3. Tourism development
4. Entrepreneurship

The organizers at Penticton A.C.T. are encouraging the public to get involved in the development of Penticton, and to be part of the decision-making process.

Join municipal policy steering committee, business people and community leaders.

People in Pontiac are being given an opportunity to improve lines of communication with the outside world, and their future may be greatly influenced by the choices they make. By the middle of this month, all Télébec subscribers will be receiving a questionaire asking them whether they would like to have local long-distance charges eliminated between the Shawville exchange and the Ottawa-Hull area.

There's no such thing as toll-free. Removal of long-distance charges between Shawville and Ottawa would be paid for by all, on the average home phone bill of $6.95 per month. The question is, will it be worth it?

The savings could be substantial. Many businesses in Pontiac make enough long-distance calls to the capital to finance their costs through the savings. This would be an interesting trial, especially for those who would want to go back to their normal long-distance habits, up to each subscriber to decide whether he would profit by being able to call Ottawa without having to meet long-distance charges. It's your call.

To make a wise choice, though, one should consider the future. Rural Ontario, like Pontiac, is located on the fringe of high-tech information-based society. The task of communication is unique with modern computer innovations, many businesses people can now work out of their homes. Because of lower living costs, Pontiac is an excellent place to locate a new business, and it can attract new business people with its good weather.

Unfortunately, doing business at home requires one thing: modern telephonic answering machines, fax machines, and computers. In short, it will eliminate a severe handicap to the small business people from competing with their competitors' franchises. Thankfully, party lines will soon be history.

Local people will have to change their telephone habits in order to be able to receive local service to the city. It will cost each of us a little more initially, but the long-term benefits will be very apparent. It will cost only $300 a year for four persons. It is cheaper than buying long-distance calls. But alas, look on the bright side and remember that they are required to pay this tax, employers will find it threatening because they already pay for it. Employees on the other hand will be exempt.

Here in the Pontiac where agriculture is a way of life, the future is not only a great opportunity, but it is a necessity. We have the best of everything, the good weather, the land, the people. We can start down the road to self-sufficiency, to be able to call Ottawa, without paying local long-distance charges. It's your call.

Eganville Eagles hand Pontiacs their first loss

The Shawville Novice House squad had the visiting Cobden Number One team on the defensive for most of the game Saturday, February 5 with Mathieu Bechamp's goal - in the third frame - to tie the game. Shawville took a 1-0 lead from Chad Peck and then in the last two minutes from Bailey and Saturday, February 5 with Mathieu Bechamp's goal - in the third frame - to tie the game. Shawville...
Murphy hits the 100-point mark

Dave Moore

Shawville's Luke Murphy has passed the 100-point plateau with the Central Junior Hockey League's Pembroke Lumber Kings.

A three-point game January 30 against the Cumberland Grads put Murphy over the hump with 101 points.

The second-year centre, who ranks high on the goal-scoring club and won the Kings' Monsour award as the rookie of the year. He racked up 100 and 50 assists last season.

This season he's burning up the league, with a goal in his last 12 games and at least one point in just about every game the Kings have played. He sits in third place on the stats sheet.

Kings Manager Art McIntyre said at the beginning of the season that Murphy could very well be a 100-point player this season.

With 11 more games still to go in the regular schedule, he could add quite a few more points to an already impressive total.

Murphy likes to pick off the open man at the net, and it shows on the stats. With 72 assists and 39 goals, he can also put it in the net as well.

He gives a lot of credit to his line mates, who are all having a good season as well.

After starting out strong early in the season, the Kings slipped fast into fourth spot overall and are fighting to hang on to a playoff position.

If the Kings stay in fourth, they will likely play the Kanata Lasers, with Bristol's Tim Carmichael.

Atom All-Stars win

The Shawville Atom All-Stars got a win on the weekend --- a big 7-0 win at home against the Eganville Eagles.

It was Jason Trudgeau's second shut-out of the season as Pontiac's Travis Dorzek went to town for five of the seven goals.

Dorzek opened the scoring in the first period with Brandon Smith and Steven Rusenstrom assisting. It was the only goal of the frame.

In the middle frame, Dorzek was fed by Smith again with Jordon MacDougall of the Novices helping out front. Rocky Joe White made it 3-0 with Martin Danis assisting.

By the midway point, Dorzek hit the net again, with Rusenstrom setting it up.

He netted one unassisted and Ian Lepine closed out the second period with the Pontiac's sixth of the game. Rusenstrom assisted on that one.

In the last frame, the Pontiacs Curtis Dorzek and Smith chipped in on Travis' fifth of the game and the Atoms won it by a huge 7-0 score for their second win of the season.

This weekend, the Atoms are in Renfrew, Saturday, February 12.
Driving skills put to the test

Pontiac Junior Bs take the Kings

Shawville had a two-point lead going into the second. Then, two minutes in, the King's Dave Charbonneau scored on Matt Carmichael in the Pontiac net.

Five minutes into the third period, the Kings' Jamie Lalonde scored on a 4-on-3 advantage. At the midway point, the Pontiacs' Malcolm McEachern took a feed from linesman Paquette and MacIntyre for a 7-4 lead.

Once again, the junior Kings countered in the last few minutes of the frame, of the night a few seconds.

The Kings benefitted with a fast-paced power play to get the win.

It was really the first time the Kings dominated the game, said Anick Gravelle. "It was really the best game of the season." They had just one mix-up, which ended up in the Kings' net, but that was caught by Julia Kristofferson, both of Aylmer, Ontario, who was a winner in March. She hasn't scored in her last 14 games and two-third place finish.

Shawville went on to win two games and a third. Cecil Hodgins scored two goals and three assists. For the second.

Mr. McCreight hopes to get the boys back against next year but he is considering moving them to his farm.

The hot clubs skated to a 6-5 win over their host the frame, 5-3.

Mr. McCreight was pleased with his team's play but he was disappointed with his team's play by the Pontiacs.

He said he was happy with the way his team played and the way they were able to get the win. He said that the Pontiacs were able to control the play and put the game out of reach for the Kings.

Mr. McCreight said that the Pontiacs were able to get the win because they were able to create chances with their quick passing and their ability to keep the puck in the offensive zone. He said that the Pontiacs were able to create chances with their quick passing and their ability to keep the puck in the offensive zone.

PPHS senior girls trounced by Redmen

Mary Davidson
The PPHS senior girls basketball team had no mercy for the Panthers on Saturday afternoon. February 5.

Pontiac High hosted the PPHS girls, Arnprior and District High School as they squad from Opeongo High School for the third game in a row. The Panthers came out with a vengeance, scoring 32-12. The game was fierce and Pontiac didn't let up until the final buzzer sounded.

The Panthers dominated the second half, scoring 20 points, and never gave the Redmen a chance. They beat both visiting teams in three games.

The Panthers took on the Redmen from Arnprior and District High School. The Panthers started out strong in the first game and never gave the Redmen much of a chance. The home team came out on top, 15-2.

The second game was closer, with Arnprior losing by only two points. The final score of game two was 15-13.

The third and final game of the match was another blowout, with the Panthers winning 15-2. Pontiac High hosted the Redmen from Arnprior and District High School.

The Panthers picked up their third win this season, a bright spot on the Panthers' season.

Kinsmen, Radview Farms put in strong showing at bonspeli

THE EQUITY, Wednesday, February 9, 1994, Page 11

“BEST WISHES ONLY”

The family of Roland and Dorothy Trudeau invite you to attend a party in honour of their 10th Wedding Anniversary on Saturday, February 11th at 7 p.m. at the Queen Beach Barn. Everyone Welcome

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fournier, who are returning to the United Kingdom after spending a holiday in the hills, stayed with their southern neighbour, friends and family. They had an enjoyable year. The Kucherm Party was held in the Vic’s Pavilion on Tuesday evening with a good crowd on hand. The Kucherm’s High with eight men’s games was Tommy Kucherm, second place was a four-way tie amongst Paul Stratford, Ronnie Devine, Dave Frost and Fred Later. After a draw, Fred Later was the winner. The Ladies’ High with eight games was Julia Litchfield. Second place was with seven games was a four-way draw between Belle Lalonde, Gladys Bélanger, Jean Cuthbertson and Mrs. Ryan. Jean Cuthbertson and Belle Lalonde split the points. The door prize was won by Paul Stratford. Dominican refreshments were served by Mrs. Ryan and Agnes Kluiber. Florence Waldridge visited with her sister Christiana in Campbell’s Bay. I’m sure she is happy to be home.

Pastor Jim Wel and his wife welcomed several speakers and musicians at the Free Methodist Church Sunday morning. Everyone enjoyed the music immensely.

Congratulations to Jean Bélanger winner of the Litchfield Municipal T.’s 5 week career planning/job search program for youth pm. February 17.

This week’s Athlete of the Week at Pontiac Protestant High School in Shawville is Jamie Côté, captain of the senior girls’ volleyball team. She is one of the senior girls’ volleyball team, and her skills are rewarded only by her consistent excellence on and off the court.

Jamie is an excellent motivator of the senior girls’ team. She leads by example, making it easy for the rest of the team to follow in her footsteps.

Jamie is a pleasure to coach. She accepts constructive criticism well. This will help her to pursue her own coaching goals. She is presently coaching the junior boys Pontiac Junior High.

Jamie is a very crucial element of the senior volleyball team, and it is obvious that her presence will continue to be a force in the games.

Get well wishes go out to
Raymond Amyotte who is home from the hospital af- ter undergoing surgery at the Civic Hospital in Ot- tawa.

Dr. W Parkin of Cornwall was on duty for the operation.

Get well wishes also go to Leonard Lemm-son who has a birthday on St. Valentine’s Day.

Visiting with Dr. W Parkin of Cornwall was his son Donald in his cottage on Saturday evening and his son-in-law Ronnie Hodgins on Sunday.

Funeral services were held for Robert Muskegon on Monday, February 6th, at the Pontiac Reception Hall in Pembroke.

A lovely lunch was drawn to help in the event of a fire."
