Portage stone school approved for local purchase

CHRISTINA GRAY

The Voice of the Pontiac

WILBUR MCLEAN

PONTIAC—A closer look at the Portage du Fort rodeo was on offer last weekend when the 16th annual Portage de Pontiac rodeo was approved by the municipality of Portage-du-Fort, a private seller and the CLD before deciding that the CLD would be approved.

"There was a huge amount of discussion," said Young. "He would have preferred to see all the municipality's enterprises support the Portage de Pontiac but was told that the CLD wants to see more than a one-time event."

The school board originally submitted the proposal to the municipality of Portage-du-Fort and is one of the few areas that is not owned by the union.

The school board has been in store for the Portage de Pontiac but was told that the CLD would be approved.

"We're very happy about the result," said Noel Gates of the union.

The school board originally submitted the proposal to the municipality of Portage-du-Fort and is one of the few areas that is not owned by the union.

The school board has been in store for the Portage de Pontiac but was told that the CLD would be approved.

"We're very happy about the result," said Noel Gates of the union.

The school board originally submitted the proposal to the municipality of Portage-du-Fort and is one of the few areas that is not owned by the union.

The school board has been in store for the Portage de Pontiac but was told that the CLD would be approved.

"We're very happy about the result," said Noel Gates of the union.
Changes to professional education avoided

CHRISTINA GRAY

ONTARIO – Proposed changes to the professional education centres in the Pontiac have been shelved by the provincial government.

The government is currently reviewing the education centres in the Pontiac, but according to the director general of the Commission Scolaire des Hauts-Bois, a decision to rename them will be made in the fall.

"The committee must decide whether to partition the centres," said the director general.

The massive new Centre de l'Enfant was built for the Pontiac education centre, which will now be renamed Centre de l'Enfant.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government will also be reviewing the education centres in the Pontiac, and is considering renaming the centres.

The government is currently reviewing the education centres in the Pontiac, and is considering renaming the centres.

The government is currently reviewing the education centres in the Pontiac, and is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

The government is considering renaming the centres.

"The centre will be expanded," said the director general.
OVERTIME | LUKE MURPHY

The way of God in sports

Every week when I write my column, I try to write two topics in my faith and religion. These two subjects are inherently connected - there is not much controversy, and there is no need to make people decide. Everyone has his/her own opinion. Everyone has his/her own way of talking about these topics, and I'm not going to say that this is the right way. These are just my views. I know this is a sensitive issue.

When I was a child, I used to see a professional athlete who taught me, and spoke about sports. I came to learn about Christianity outside of the playing field. The fact that I played sports is a religious duty, and has a big influence on me. The fact that I am a Christian, and a religious person, is part of the general organization. The same applies for my professors.

As a child, I was a part of the team. We used to play in the streets, or on the playground. We used to play with our friends. Now, I am a part of the team in the field. When we play as a group of players, we have a great deal of athletic ability. Our goal is to shine in the field.

Every game, we are a group of players who are committed to the game. We are not afraid of the competition. We are not afraid of the competition.

I would like to thank all the coaches, and the teachers who helped me. They were great leaders, and they helped me to achieve my goals. I am not afraid of the competition. I am a part of the team in the field, and I am not afraid of the competition.

In conclusion, I would like to say that I am a part of the team in the field, and I am not afraid of the competition. I am not afraid of the competition. I am a part of the team in the field, and I am not afraid of the competition.
Last year when the Pontiac Hospital Foundation began a capital campaign to raise funds for the Critical Care Unit, I became a leader in the Morningside campaign because I knew it was important to the community. Last fall, our family was grateful to have access to the new unit at our local hospital. There was a serious need for an inpatient unit for critical care patients.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

This is an important moment in history for me, as I had become leaders in a new wave of activism. In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

As an observer of the community, I realized that the Ottawa Citizen has always remained at the top of the list in terms of the level of engagement and interest.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

One of the main challenges faced by the Ottawa Citizen was the need to deliver news in a timely manner. In the nineteen century, newspapers delivered news by horse and carriage, which could take several days to reach their destination.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

The Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper in the nineteen century. It was owned by John Stewart and delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.

On May 1, 1989, my husband Eric and I received a call from Dr. John Stewart, who was then the publisher of the Ottawa Citizen. He asked me if I was interested in writing a column for the newspaper. I agreed, and the column "The Ottawa Citizen" was born.

In the nineteen century, the Ottawa Citizen was a daily newspaper that delivered news to people in the region. Not only did it allow readers to stay informed about local news, it also provided a platform for discussion and debate.

The column was called "The Ottawa Citizen" and was written by John Stewart. It focused on local news and events, as well as national and international issues.
Spring Fling presents array of talent

WILBUR MCLEAN

It wasn't quite the Fat Bullocks Show, but it was a little bit like it.

Variety was an art form, and when it was held at the Jack Graham Centre Saturday evening, there were bluegrass, show tunes, poetry, Indian drumming, and a little bit of everything in between.

The Bristol Community Association held the event in a fondness for the community centre with about 125 people, according to organizers.

All the money raised will help the causes of the association.

One of the 30's rendition of "As Time Goes By" was a big hit.

Death said she learned the tunes as a child along with a few others and it has always stayed with her.

"It's not always the easiest to sing, but it's still a good memory," she said.

One of the highlights that was appreciated was the Indian drumming.

"It was an awesome performance," said one of the audience members.

The biggest hit of the night was the Indian drumming.

"It was an awesome performance," said one of the audience members.

Forest producers in the Pontiac watch thousands of dollars slip away

CHRISTINA GRAY

The Pontiac School of the Trades provide students with the opportunity to learn skills that are in demand in the workforce.

The program includes 8 weeks of on-the-job training.

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

Register Now to Ensure Your Place in September

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

How about a pie in the face for some fun?

WILBUR MCLEAN

GUYTON - Some people's idea of a good time is different from others.

The fastest fingers of Kyle Oueland work the piano during the first Spring Fling variety show held at the Jack Graham Centre Community Centre Saturday.

The big draw for the event was the pie-throwing.

"It was a hit," said one of the organizers.

How about a pie in the face for some fun?

The Pontiac School of the Trades provide students with the opportunity to learn skills that are in demand in the workforce.

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

Register Now to Ensure Your Place in September

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

New students are welcome to apply.

For more information, please contact us at 819-647-5160 or 819-647-5140.

The Pontiac School of the Trades provide students with the opportunity to learn skills that are in demand in the workforce.

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

Register Now to Ensure Your Place in September

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.

Students learn how to perform the tasks and activities of a nursing attendant in hospitals and other health-care establishments.
La Confédération des Français Autochtones de l'Outaouais s'applique dans la création d'emplois.

MARAIS - Pour la dernière fois, le Centre des Artisans de Pontiac (CAPP) de la Révolution québécoise présente Mercredi 18 juin 2008 de 14h à 17h un événement a la rançon de l'Outaouais avec le support de la Direction des Ressources de l'Outaouais (DRO) et les partenaires qui ont manifesté leur intérêt pour cette manifestation.

Le public pourra faire connaissance avec les artisans, artistes, musiciens, danseurs et producteurs de la région et aussi découvrir les actions en cours de mise en œuvre par les différents partenaires autour du projet "Lâcher la main, prendre le pouvoir".

Des dossiers de projets seront à la disposition du public, des informations seront diffusées et des témoignages seront remis. Ce rendez-vous ne manquera pas d'inspirer et d'ouvrir des perspectives pour la mise en œuvre de nouveaux projets.

Des activités de sensibilisation à la culture autochtone seront proposées aux visiteurs.

Auprès des membres de la Confédération des Autochtones du Canada on sait que le gouvernement du Canada a pris des mesures de dureté qui rendent la situation encore plus délicate. C'est pourquoi il est important que les gens de la région de Pontiac échangent sur les enjeux de leur communauté et qu'ils se réunissent pour trouver de nouvelles solutions. Cette rencontre permettra d'identifier les outils disponibles en matière de protection de l'environnement. Cette rencontre permettra également d'amorcer avec les décideurs et les acteurs du milieu une démarche de mise en place d'une stratégie nationale pour la protection des eaux canadiennes.

Une partie de la rencontre aura lieu à l'USINE B.C. et une autre à la MRC de Pontiac. Cette activité sera suivie à 19h d'un tournoi de golf à la Campground du Pontiac. Le tout finira par des remises de prix et une réception avec la Mme Thérèse, la chef de la DRO.

Enfin, un sommet de l'Outaouais, qui se tiendra à l'USINE B.C., aura lieu le 18 juin 2008, et sera consacré au développement durable de l'Outaouais.

Ordinary citizens put on extraordinary yard sale in Bryson

WILBUR MCLEAN

BRYSON - A fundraising yard sale and barbecue was held Saturday in Bryson. There was no associ­ation, no service club, no church involved. Rather, the idea, the proceeds of which will go to support the local artist community, was brain­stormed by two everyday people who just wanted to help out.

"It's just us," quipped Louis and Joanne Staff­ord of Campbell's Bay. "It's been a lot of fun. Now we've got two more days to go on the 148 across from the Voyager Restaurant in Bryson."

"We've been busy making all sorts of stuff for the sale," said Stafford, the now e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti. "There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti. "There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"It's just us," quipped Louis and Joanne Staff­ord of Campbell's Bay. "It's been a lot of fun. Now we've got two more days to go on the 148 across from the Voyager Restaurant in Bryson."

"We've been busy making all sorts of stuff for the sale," said Stafford, the now e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti. "There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"It's just us," quipped Louis and Joanne Staff­ord of Campbell's Bay. "It's been a lot of fun. Now we've got two more days to go on the 148 across from the Voyager Restaurant in Bryson."

"We've been busy making all sorts of stuff for the sale," said Stafford, the now e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"It's just us," quipped Louis and Joanne Staff­ord of Campbell's Bay. "It's been a lot of fun. Now we've got two more days to go on the 148 across from the Voyager Restaurant in Bryson."

"We've been busy making all sorts of stuff for the sale," said Stafford, the now e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti. "There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"It's just us," quipped Louis and Joanne Staff­ord of Campbell's Bay. "It's been a lot of fun. Now we've got two more days to go on the 148 across from the Voyager Restaurant in Bryson."

"We've been busy making all sorts of stuff for the sale," said Stafford, the now e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"It's just us," quipped Louis and Joanne Staff­ord of Campbell's Bay. "It's been a lot of fun. Now we've got two more days to go on the 148 across from the Voyager Restaurant in Bryson."

"We've been busy making all sorts of stuff for the sale," said Stafford, the now e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.

"It's just us," quipped Louis and Joanne Staff­ord of Campbell's Bay. "It's been a lot of fun. Now we've got two more days to go on the 148 across from the Voyager Restaurant in Bryson."

"We've been busy making all sorts of stuff for the sale," said Stafford, the now e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti. "There's a lot more than we thought to sell," said the e-business manager for Ford Canada, Andrew Shiavetti.
Adventures in Heavy Metal: Memphis and the Birth of Rock 'n' Roll

ABSTRACT

This book explores the cultural and musical transformations that occurred in Memphis during the 1950s, leading to the birth of rock 'n' roll. It examines the role of local music scenes, the influence of national trends, and the impact of key figures such as Elvis Presley and Sam Phillips. The book also discusses the economic and social changes that shaped the city during this period.

INTRODUCTION

Memphis, Tennessee, is often referred to as the birthplace of rock 'n' roll. This city's music scene in the 1950s was a melting pot of influences, including blues, gospel, country, and R&B. The book aims to provide a comprehensive overview of this transformative era.

CHAPTER 1: The Memphis Sound

This chapter delves into the roots of Memphis music, focusing on local legends like B.B. King and Howlin' Wolf. It explores how these artists and others contributed to the development of a unique sound that would later become iconic.

CHAPTER 2: The Birth of Rock 'n' Roll

This chapter examines the pivotal moment when Elvis Presley first burst onto the national stage. It discusses the reaction of industry insiders and the public, as well as the broader cultural implications of his music.

CHAPTER 3: The Rise of Rock 'n' Roll

This chapter tracks the growth of rock 'n' roll as a mainstream genre, highlighting key events and players, including Buddy Holly, Chuck Berry, and the Beatles. It also examines the impact of rock 'n' roll on society and culture.

CHAPTER 4: The Enduring Legacy

This chapter looks at how Memphis music continues to influence contemporary artists and fans. It explores the ways in which the city's legacy is preserved and celebrated, both locally and globally.

CONCLUSION

The book concludes by reflecting on the enduring impact of Memphis's music scene on the world. It highlights the importance of preserving this heritage for future generations.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The author wishes to thank... for their support and contributions to this project.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

This section lists the books, articles, and other resources consulted during the research process.

INDEX

The index provides a comprehensive guide to the book's contents, allowing readers to quickly find specific topics or figures.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

[Profile information about the author, including background and expertise.]

SUGGESTED READINGS

A list of additional books and articles that provide further insights into the subject matter.

IMAGES/ILLUSTRATIONS

A detailed list of images and illustrations included in the book, along with their sources.

CONTACT INFORMATION

For inquiries or further information, please contact...

---

This book is a comprehensive exploration of the complex interactions and influences that shaped the birth and development of rock 'n' roll in Memphis. It offers a rich and engaging narrative for readers interested in music history and the cultural significance of this iconic genre.

---

[End of abstract]
the family and friends of Linda and Terry Robinson. Rosette Fleury May 28. Lamadeline May 26 and Roy Peck, second, Gillie Dagenais, second, Josie cious luncheon. Paula will celebrate her upcoming this Saturday, June 7. A few Muriel Young for a surprise McColgan at Gavan's. When recuperating at home. a little playmate. Very proud their beautiful daughter Jacobg42@hotmail.com 689-2652 of Hazel Schock of Oakville and granddaughter prayers are extended to his sympathy, thoughts and Vernon Carroll and Donna to the priesthood. It began about and the Master of ceremonies for the over the Pontiac. The Master who were greeters, ushers, five parishes and family were to charity work. They have 3 day yard sale was by machine for Pontiac County careers. Dispersal of a long time business. for Pontiac County and donations

"Partial listing only as donations are still coming in" Global Positioning System by Satellites.

Stewart's Auctions, Cobden, Ont.

Global Positioning System by Satellites

It is a very busy time when Christians to join him. It was

The Pontiac Junior Bs will

"PAR" FARM

10 GELBRIED COWS WITH CALVES FOR CARL SCHURRER

Subdivision Young FOR SALE

Service Residential Building Lots Price $17,000 to $25,000

Contact Doug Young 613-647-2742

Auction Sale Tractors, Farm Machinery, Construction Equipment, Trencher, Tractors, Equipment and Tools from the Estate of the late Joe Streit of 2nd Line Rd, Kars. Farm Tractors and Construction Equipment; M Farms who has discontinued his farming operation Saturday, June 14 at 9:00 am TOLL FREE: 1-800-556-1380

View listing and pictures at www.revelstewart.com www.theauctionfever.com

Stewart's Auctions, Cobden, Ont.

GLOBAL POSITIONING SYSTEM BY SATELLITES

We are looking for an experienced Chartered Accountant who is around the next cor

Mildred to Brenda and Byron Barr of the diocese of Central Pontiac,

At 10:30 a.m. for the Estate of PERCY McCORRISTON View listing and pictures at www.revelstewart.com

AUCTION SALE

Estate of Robert McMillan

AUCTION SALE

Wednesday, June 7, 2006 — 9:30 a.m.

AUCTION SALES

TOLL FREE:

FUNDRAISER - YOUNG JAMESTOWN COWS and CALVES on 1st street

FARM

Saturday, June 7, 2008 at 10:00 am ST. THERESE OF LAGARDERE PARISH PARISH OFFICE

invitation

Environment FORUM Pontiac MRC

Theme: the protection of lakes and waterways

Wednesday, June 18, 2008 @

2nd Street, R.A., Centre in Campbell's Bay

We are looking for some interested in pursuing a challenging and fulfilling career in

We are looking for Leaders

Wherever you are, whatever your background, whatever your career goals. Our firm is always looking for new opportunities. For more information on our firm, visit our website at www.welchlp.com.

MICHÉL FORTIN O.L.S., C.L.S.

470 Venier Rd., OATHEAL, Que J0j 3X1

(819) 684-0771 TOLL FREE: 1-800-532-1853

We Are Looking For

"Parle frais only as donations are still coming in" a very excellent game. The

TOLL FREE: 1-800-532-1853

INVITATION

Environment FORUM Pontiac MRC

Theme: the protection of lakes and waterways

Wednesday, June 18, 2008, 5 p.m.

2nd Street, R.A., Centre in Campbell's Bay

You are cordially invited to participate in the Environment Forum organized by the CREO - Centre pour le Rapport d’Environnement in cooperation with the Centre Local de l’Environnement.

The event will be a seminar on the awareness of aduction of lakes and waterways that will be dedicated to the launch of a Montreal Union will permit elected officials, municipal officials as well as lake associations and colleagues the chance to familiarize the issue with the public. It will be an opportunity for environmentalists as well as any other environmental awareness community members to network and link up with each other.

During the event, an invited speaker will also make a trip to the green-blue issue agenda,

"Celebrate Earth Day!" a discussion forum including various representatives of concerned organizations, also there will be a light meal at the event that will start at 5:30 p.m.

For more information, please contact M. Pierre Ducharme, Land Use Planner.

by phone: (819) 648-5685, ext. 211 (a detailed message is necessary). For more information please contact M. Pierre Ducharme, Land Use Planner.

by phone: (819) 648-5685, ext. 211 (a detailed message is necessary). For more information please contact M. Pierre Ducharme, Land Use Planner.

by phone: (819) 648-5685, ext. 211 (a detailed message is necessary). For more information please contact M. Pierre Ducharme, Land Use Planner.
Vinton

Canada 125.

48-5270

It had an interesting night. I went to see the movie and my grandson to dinner on the way home.

I had almost given away one truck load and realized that I had too much stuff again. Another truck to load, and I was finished.

Of course, I would have been able to get rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.

I lost 55 pies all together.

I saw. All my pies were

thrown away. I got rid of all of them without their help.

When we reached the
garage I had to cut my bread

with the knife. I have two

of them, but they don't turn

out to be any good.

When I got back home

I was horrified at what I

saw. All my pies were

thrown out and two were

unbaked. I noticed the freezer

was not working. I could do

was remove the food. I finally

got my potatoes from the

dump. Now I have to start

all over again.