

Weekend weather brings fire and ice to area

Quebecers Sunday began to dig themselves out of the drifts of a two-day blizzard which raged all over the province during the weekend dumping up to 23 inches of snow on the ground and causing at least three deaths.

The Sherbrooke area was no exception.

The storm left behind about 20 inches of snow in the area as it spent itself over a 24-hour period. It was accompanied by high winds and freezing rain at times and scattered areas of the region were completely paralyzed for varying periods.

Quebecers Sunday began to dig themselves out of the drifts left by a two-day blizzard which dumped up to 23 inches of snow on the province and was responsible for at least three deaths.

Many persons spent the morning digging their cars out of roof-high drifts, pausing only to curse passing road graders as they piled up new roadside heaps, and clearing driveways and sidewalks.

Municipal and provincial road crews were also at work clearing city streets and roads. By 8 p.m. Sunday, all roads were reported clear, although still slippery.

Transportation was returning to normal after a weekend which saw schedules disrupted generally by blocked roads, rails and runways.

Trains were also returning to schedule, and airports reported an increasing number of landings and takeoffs, although flights to and from the east were cancelled.

Trains were also returning to schedule, and airports reported an increasing number of landings and takeoffs, although flights to and from the east were cancelled.

MANY ACCIDENTS

In addition to the three deaths, the storm also resulted in several minor traffic accidents and thousands of dollars worth of damage.

Donald Boissinot, 56, of St.

Emile, was killed Friday night when he was run over by a snowplow while working on street-clearing operations in Quebec City's Lower Town.

France Desruisseaux and Lucie Cote, both 14-year-old residents of the St. Lawrence River community of Ste. Croix, died the same night of exposure and cold when they were unable to find their way home in the blowing snow after an ice-fishing excursion.

Several persons suffered minor injuries in collisions during the storm Friday and Saturday, when the drifting snow cut visibility on some roads to as little as 10 feet and made city streets slippery.

Winds of up to 50 miles an hour toppled hydro and telephone poles and brought down the belfry of a church at St. David, near Quebec City.

FIRE TAKES TOLL

In Montreal, four fires during the height of the storm claimed a total of six lives, including four children, and left 23 families homeless.

The fires, all in a seven-hour period Friday night and Saturday morning, were fanned by the strong winds. Fire-fighting efforts were hampered by swirling snow and freezing fire hoses. Violent winds blew in the plate-glass windows of the library of the Quebec City newspaper L'Action, causing an estimated $30,000 worth of damage to books and documents left exposed to the snow.

Not even Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League were spared from the storm's effects.

The Canadiens were unable to reach Montreal from Detroit by air Friday night and were forced to spend the night in Toronto.

They arrived by train in Montreal Saturday, only five hours before they were scheduled to meet Philadelphia Flyers at the Forum. The game ended in a 2-2 tie.

However, other Quebec sportsmen found the weather more to their liking.

Skiers and snowmobile enthusiasts were out in force in the Laurentians and Eastern Townships, and children got their first chance to play with new Christmas sleds and toboggans.

The Montreal weather office Sunday forecast clearing skies in western Quebec and "noticeable improvement" in the weather in the eastern part of the province for today or Tuesday.

Four arrested for shooting

MONTREAL (CP) — Four men were arrested during the weekend in connection with the shooting death Dec. 10 of a Brink's Express guard during a $127,000 holdup of an east-end credit union, police said.

They are being held as material witnesses in a coroner's inquest into the death of Real Champagne, 31. No date has been set for the inquest.

The guard was killed by a burst of gunfire when at least four men held up the credit union at the CPR's Angus repair shop. Police said the suspects were picked up during eight weekend raids.

Brink's has offered a $15,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killer or killers.

75 fight St. Lambert fire

MONTREAL (CP) — Seventy-five firemen fought a fire in suburban St. Lambert for eight hours before bringing it under control Saturday night.

No one was injured but one family was left homeless and damage to the building, which housed a beauty salon and offices, was estimated at about $75,000.

Blaze destroys motel

RIVIERE-DU-LOUP, Que. (CP) — A fire Saturday night destroyed 10 motel units valued at about $100,000 in this community 125 miles northeast of Quebec City.

No one was injured. Cause of the fire was believed to be a faulty electrical system.

Girl's frozen body found

STE. CROIX, Que. (CP) — The frozen body of a 14-year-old girl was found Saturday on ice spanning the St. Lawrence River near here.

Found frozen to death was Lucie Cote, of Joly, Que., who had been visiting a family in Ste. Croix, 25 miles northwest of Quebec City.

Found dead earlier was France Desruisseaux, 14, who had accompanied her brother, Guy, 16, and Lucie on an icefishing expedition late Friday.

The trio lost its way in high winds and drifting snow. Guy Desruisseaux found his way to safety.

Must think of urban problems

MONTREAL (CP) — Greater concern for municipal problems by the provincial government was one of the most significant developments for Montreal in 1969, Mayor Jean Drapeau said Sunday.

Speaking on radio station CJAD, he said broadened co-operation between the city and the province in urban renewal and assistance for Man and His World, Montreal's continuing exhibition, were two indications of a new report.

"Maybe the most important event in 1969 was the demonstration that Montreal and its region are part of the great problems that higher governments consider their problems."

In urban renewal, Mr. Drapeau said, "the provincial government has again shown that problems of the Montreal region need bold solutions."

Despite a month of uncertainty early in the year on the future of Man and His World, the "understanding" between Montreal and the province "is a matter of permanent face," the mayor said.

Last summer the Quebec Government announced it would provide as much as $5,500,000 towards the operating expenses of the fair.

THE SHADOW OF HIS SMILE — Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau smiles broadly as he parries a reporter's question. The mayor announced his decision to retire from municipal politics next November when his current term expires. He has been at the helm of the Sherbrooke city government for 16 years and moves on to a job as a member of the newly-established crown corporation to control lotteries in the province.

Avalanche kills seven-year-old

Tragedy struck twice in the Eastern Townships during the weekend as a seven-year-old boy was buried alive in a snow slide at Thetford Mines and seven persons were burned in a fire at Victoriaville.

Killed in the Thetford tragedy was Hermann Vachon, seven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Vachon of 161 Smith St. in Thetford Mines.

The boy was buried alive near noon Saturday morning when a sudden avalanche started on a heap of mine residue on which the youngsters were sliding.

Luc Vallee, also seven, who was playing with the Vachon youngster at the time of the incident, was saved from a similar fate when rescuers pulled him out of the snow pile.

He was taken to hospital immediately and sources reported he was in good condition, but being kept for observation. Young Vallee was found by his father who had joined the rescue team. He was stuck head first in the snow directly above the body of his playmate.

The Victoriaville fire broke out Sunday evening in the city's business district. The seven injured suffered only relatively minor injuries and damages were estimated at about $60,000.

Stickup artists observe festive season their way

MONTREAL (CP) — Nearly 250 robberies and five murders have been reported so far this month in what police say is Montreal's worst rash of violence, it was learned Sunday.

Ten holdup suspects were arrested during the weekend bringing the total of arrests to about 50 for December, a police official said in an interview.

Not a single armed holdup was staged Christmas day but 40 holdups were reported to police Christmas Eve.

With the end of the year only days off, police anticipate a new flurry of robberies with banks carrying extra sums of money to meet the end-of-the-month pay day.

Crime in this city has risen 10 per cent over 1968 and outgoing Police Director Jean-Paul Gilbert said: "I don't think the trend is over."

Mayor to retire at end of term in November '70

By RICHARD SPALDING

SHERBROOKE (Staff) — Sherbrooke Mayor Armand Nadeau announced this weekend he will give up municipal politics when his term of office expires next November.

When he retires, Mayor Nadeau will have completed 16 years at the helm of the Sherbrooke city government.

The mayor's retirement announcement coincides with an upsurge in the city economy which was heralded last week by Bombardier Ltd.'s announcement that it will establish a manufacturing plant in the city.

Mr. Nadeau said in an interview with the Record yesterday he had made his decision one month ago with his family not to run for another term.

The mayor said he had been appointed a director with the recently-established Quebec Corporation for Operating Lotteries and Races, but said the appointment was not his reason for resigning from municipal politics.

"Let's give somebody else a chance to do something for Sherbrooke," Mr. Nadeau said, noting he will have completed 15 years of service as mayor next April.

Last Tuesday, the Quebec government had announced the establishment of a corporation to operate a provincial lottery and other games of chance.

Mr. Nadeau said his new responsibilities with the corporation would be to administer a new provincial lottery along with two other members.

With the recent Quebec government law on lotteries and the modifications of the Omnibus Bill becoming effective on Jan. 1, Mr. Nadeau said that Dec. 31 would be the last day in the short lived Sherbrooke Voluntary Tax experience.

He said, however, it appears the provincial government will provide some assistance to the city in helping build a new city hall.

Mayor Nadeau said last night provincial finance minister Mario Beaulieu had indicated he did not deny the idea completely.

Judging from Mr. Nadeau's optimism last night, when he said "the doors in Quebec city are wide open", there is a positive feeling an important move will be soon be made.

When asked if there existed a chance the city would be compensated for the loss of its voluntary tax, the mayor calmly replied, "there is no compensation for illegality."

Mr. Nadeau predicted a new outlook for Sherbrooke in years to come, citing the establishment of the Bombardier Ski-dor firm in Sherbrooke.

The city of Sherbrooke sold a total of 1,168,000 square feet of land to the Valcourt-based company to build a plant.

"The coming of Bombardier is a prestigious affair for Sherbrooke," Mr. Nadeau said, pointing out it would provide work for about 250.

Although the coming of Bombardier within city walls was cheered by a number of concerned people, the establishment of such a specialized firm will provide work for skilled technicians and set a new trend in industrial employment, Mr. Nadeau commented.

Included in his plans for the next months is the coming of a French firm to Sherbrooke, which, he says, is almost "fait accompli."

"I carry an interesting feeling of the future for Sherbrooke, with the university center growing, and firms like Bombardier coming here to set-up business."

Stocking defects mean poor science

BOSTON (AP) — The "built-in obsolescence" of women's stockings is typical of what is wrong with science today, a student scientist told his elders Sunday.

Allen S. Weinrub said women's stockings are manufactured to run after the first wearing although they could be made to last longer.

Weinrub, a graduate student in engineering and physics at Harvard University, said scientists and technologists lend themselves to such practices when they should be "more responsive to people's needs."

"Technology is not out of control but out of control of the people," said Weinrub, 26. He said technology in the U.S. is controlled by "corporate interests and the government which serves them."

His comments came at a student-run symposium on The Sorry State of Science.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — When a man says he is retiring from politics for good, the proper question is, "Whose good?"

Scientists gird for anti - noise pollution battle

BOSTON (AP) — Health scientists sounded a word of advice Sunday to our noisy world: Hush.

Too much noise apparently is taking a heavy toll of human health. It really is a pollution as dangerous as smog or dirty water, they declared.

The health costs may well include heart attacks, high blood pressure, damage to unborn babies, disorders of nerves and glands, irritability, tensions, not to mention hearing losses, the specialists told a special symposium of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The louder and more frequent the exposure to noise, the worse the harm may be, they said, pointing to a general increase in the noise level in modern life, plus special loud sounds such as sonic booms from jet planes and rock 'n' roll music.

Thunderstorms intrigued Dr. Mary F. Lockett, pharmacologist at the University of Western Australia. She noticed that laboratory rats became ill after thunderstorms.

Dr. Lockett made recordings of the thunderclaps, playing them at different intensities to her rat audience. She said she discovered the noise was stimulating a master gland, the pituitary, to excrete more of a hormone, oxytocin, that stimulates the body to excrete water and salt.

Now she wonders whether noise and loud sounds have similar effects upon human glands?

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake of the University of California at San Francisco, suggested the stress from loud noise could affect the nervous system or glands of a pregnant woman so that her unborn baby is affected, too, by stress chemicals or hormones that pass from her bloodstream through the placenta to the baby.

Could this, Dr. Leake wonders, be a cause of some instances of defects or mental retardation in infants?

ARTERIES INJURED

Dr. Samuel Rosen of Mount Sinai Hospital New York City, said loud sounds can make tiny blood vessels contract, and that repeated exposure lengthens the time it takes for them to relax again. So a noisy life might lead to injury to arteries, and to an increase in fatty materials in the bloodstream that makes arteries clog up in the heart or brain, he said.

Even for people who work in noisy places, "you may forgive or forget it, but your arteries never will," Dr. Rosen said.

He called for a "world wide movement for effective control of noise pollution."

It's time to quiet down the noise, and find out about the human effects, said Dr. Bruce L. Welch of Baltimore, Md., chairman of the symposium.

THE WELL CHILD®

Child's Vision Is Vital;
Provide Finest of Care

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My niece, 2 is cross-eyed. The doctor told her parents that as the bridge of her nose develops, it will cause the eyes to right themselves. How long should this take? Would you advise an operation?

A—Blocking the vision of the dominant eye for two weeks at a time is advised to strengthen the weak eye and prevent blindness in that eye from disuse. This should be kept up for five or six months. If at the end of that time the eyes are still crossed, an operation should be performed without further delay. The bridge of the nose has nothing to do with it.

Q—We recently found that our daughter, 12, is near-sighted and got her glasses. She was told she would need them for distant vision but not for reading. After wearing them for two months she says she gets a headache if she doesn't wear them all the time. I have heard that if you wear glasses more than you should, your eyes will get weaker and you'll need a stronger prescription. What do you think?

A—When glasses are prescribed for a young person they should be for the full correction and should be worn all the time. This places the eyes under normal conditions and allows the muscles of accommodation to adjust for near and distant vision. A near-sighted child often needs a stronger prescription every two or three years but this is not caused by wearing her glasses.

Q—I took my son, 3½, to an eye specialist who used drops to dilate his eyes and said he had astigmatism. When I took him to an optometrist to get his glasses this man said that if a person has drops put in his eyes every time he has an eye examination he will get glaucoma. What do you think?

A—Since optometrists are not licensed to use drops in the eyes they are often inclined to discourage patients from going to an ophthalmologist who does use drops. The drops are necessary in persons under 40 to relax the muscles that modify the shape of the lens. These drops are not used in persons who are under 50 and is not caused by the use of the drops earlier in life.

DIGGING OUT — Eastern Townships residents joined people all over the province Sunday in digging out streets, paths and driveways in the wake of a blizzard which swept Quebec, Ontario and the eastern United States during the weekend. The storm dumped about 24 inches of snow on the province and at times, entire areas were paralyzed by the snow which choked off highways and streets. Parts of Vermont were declared disaster areas after the blizzard had deposited over 30 inches of skiers' delight.

Holiday accidents claim 72

At least 72 persons died in accidents across Canada during the four-day Christmas holiday, 50 in traffic.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Wednesday local times to late Sunday also showed that nine persons died in fires and 13 died of miscellaneous causes.

The number of traffic deaths surpasses by five the 45 predicted by the Canadian Safety Council for the 102-hour holiday period.

Quebec led the count with 28 deaths. Thirteen persons died in traffic accidents, six in fires, four in snowmobile accidents, two of exposure during an icefishing trip, one was crushed by a snow plow, one crushed by a car while making repairs and one fell down a flight of stairs.

Ontario had 24 accidental deaths, 21 on roads. One person died in a fire, one youth was accidentally shot and one young woman died after falling from a balcony.

British Columbia and Manitoba each had five fatalities. In each province, four persons died in traffic and one in a fire.

Nova Scotia reported three accidental deaths, two in traffic.

Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick each had two traffic fatalities.

One person died in traffic in Alberta and a child was killing while handling a horse.

Saskatchewan reported one traffic death.

Newfoundland was fatality free.

The survey does not include industrial accidents, known suicides or slayings.

Spiro says all ok with Thieu regime

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Spiro T. Agnew, vice-president of the United States, said Sunday that South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu has made progress in broadening the base of his government and will not be pressed by the Nixon administration into speeding the process.

"We have always encouraged President Thieu to have the broadest based government that he can have, compatible with his own national security," Agnew told reporters aboard his plane as it crossed the Pacific en route to Asia.

"We think that he has made amazing progress under a very difficult set of circumstances and that he continues to progress and to exhibit a desire to expand the base of his government."

Many critics of the Nixon administration's Vietnam policy, especially in the Senate, have called for U.S. efforts to force Thieu to broaden his administration as a necessary prelude to political unity and all-South Vietnam elections.

Agnew flew from Hawaii to this mid-Pacific U.S. air base for an overnight stop before going to the Philippines today.

Agnew plans to attend three days of ceremonies in connection with the inauguration Tuesday of President Ferdinand E. Marcos, the first Philippine chief executive to win a second term.

Agnew is on a 25-day trip to 10 countries.

Hope dims for ship's crew in high sea

HONOLULU (AP) — Hope dimmed Sunday for 20 crew members who abandoned the Vietnam-bound munitions ship Badger State on the high sea Friday before an explosion blew a hole in its side.

Weather improved in the mid-Pacific, making it easier to hunt for the men, a United States Navy spokesman said. But the sea was rough and cold, and he said it would be difficult for the men to survive.

"Hopes for finding them alive are getting dimmer all the time," the navy spokesman said.

Five bodies were sighted Saturday by an American freighter, Flying Dragon. It picked one up, but 20-foot swells kept it from reaching the others.

The Badger State, hauling 8,900 rockets and bombs ranging to the 2,000-pound size, began breaking up in heavy seas Friday about 580 miles northeast of Midway Island. Its cargo—explosives equalling 2,000 tons of TNT—broke loose in the holds.

Capt. Charles Wilson and 38 crew members went over the side. They scattered over a wide area in life rafts and life jackets. Seas were reported at 25 feet at the time.

Wilson and 13 of the men were picked up within hours by the Greek freighter Khian Star, which reported they were in good condition.

The Badger State was still afloat early Sunday. It wasn't known whether any of its munitions were involved in the explosion, which tore a hole in its starboard side 70 minutes after the crew abandoned ship.

tivities which make it appear the Vietnamese have taken over the major share of the war.

Senator J. W. Fulbright (Dem. Ark.) released the letter, but not the name of the man who sent it in response to his Senate criticism of the defence department's public relations program.

Two former servicemen wrote Fulbright they agree with his assertion that the department is waging a propaganda program with tax money. One writer-researcher for a department movie team in Vietnam rejected the senator's views.

Fulbright is having the letters published in the Congressional Record, noting that the Senate appropriations committee has agreed to "take a close look at the department of defence public relations programs" during the next session of Congress.

A man who identified himself as a 16-year veteran, and said was in charge of an air force newsfilm team, said that about four months ago "we were advised to concentrate on the Vietnamese doing various jobs."

"We are filming so much of the Vietnamese and what they are doing that it certainly would appear from looking at our stories that the Vietnamese have taken the major share of the war as their own," the sergeant wrote Fulbright.

MEETS ROADBLOCKS.

The man said he has agreed that the movie team should be photographing U.S. soldiers in their combat roles, but "the roadblocks that have been thrown up on all sides are seemingly insurmountable."

A defence of the program came from a man who identified himself as a writer and researcher for one of the movie teams assigned to Vietnam. He denied that the five groups at work there are involved in propaganda.

"It is my conviction that the American people are not aware of the progress being made in Vietnamization, pacification and nation building ...." this man wrote.

A former air force man said he was assigned to the information office at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas and found the program "consisted largely of glorifying the air force role in Vietnam."

"We were not concerned primarily with accuracy (except in spelling the names of officers)," he wrote Fulbright, "and we were not adverse to releasing false information when advantageous to the air force."

Still hopes to bring in Xmas cheer

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — With the door to Hanoi slammed in his face, U.S. industrialist H. Ross Perot aimed Sunday for a long journey to Moscow, still expressing his intention to bring a belated Christmas to American prisoners-of-war in North Vietnam.

Perot returned to Bangkok from Vientiane, Laos, where he met with officials of the Hanoi government and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. He was refused permission in both cases to deliver food, Christmas gifts, medicine and other supplies to war prisoners.

Perot told reporters here that North Vietnam also had rejected a proposal to release American prisoners-of-war in exchange for the rebuilding of schools, hospitals and other buildings destroyed in U.S. bombing raids.

For outstanding service

Sherbrooke scouter gets highest award

SHERBROOKE — Sherbrooke Scouter Clarence G. Blake has been awarded the Silver Wolf, the highest decoration which can be given for services to scouting in Canada.

He was officially advised of the honor at a brief ceremony at his home here last week and the investiture in the Silver Wolf order will take place next autumn.

The final presentation will be made at Government House in Ottawa by Canada's Chief Scout, Governor-General Roland Michener.

The letter advising Mr. Blake of the award, which was signed by the Deputy Chief Scout for Canada, Air Vice Marshal James B. Harvey, was given to him by H. E. Grundy, Q.C., chairman of the Provincial Honors and Awards Committee.

Present also were Percy Gray, president, and Stanley Lothrop, vice-president, of the Sherbrooke District Council.

Mr. Blake, who is the only person in the Sherbrooke district to have been given the Silver Wolf since scouting started here about 1910, is manager of freight and passenger sales of the Quebec Central Railway and district manager, marketing and sales, for the Farnham Division of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

His career in scouting started almost fifty years ago, when he joined the 5th Sherbrooke Troop in 1920.

He has been active ever since, in a wide variety of positions. He served at different times as an assistant scoutmaster, assistant cubmaster, cubmaster and scoutmaster.

He was later the District Commissioner for this district for ten years and then, for a similar period, Assistant Provincial Commissioner for the Province of Quebec.

He has been vice-president of the Provincial Council and served for a number of years as a member of the National Council for Canada.

Mr. Blake's early enthusiasm for scouting resulted in his being sent to the World Jamboree at Birkenhead, England in 1929, as an assistant scoutmaster.

He has spoken on scouting at many meetings of service clubs and other organizations.

Cookshire Chapter OES holds Christmas party

COOKSHIRE — An enjoyable evening was spent in the lower hall of the Masonic Hall when the officers and members of Cookshire Chapter OES held the annual Christmas party. They participated in games, a number of Christmas carols were sung, and gifts were distributed from the prettily decorated Christmas tree. The Worthy Matron, Miss Esther Farnsworth, the Worthy Patron, John French and the organist, Mrs. Mary Heatherington, were recipients of special gifts, and expressed thanks and appreciation to the members and officers.

Gaily-wrapped lunch boxes were drawn for, and the money will be put into the general treasury funds. Mrs. Wilda Robinson, Mrs. Idell Griffin and Mrs. Margaret Willard were in charge of the refreshments and decorations.

Previous to the party, a regular meeting was held in the Chapter room with Miss Esther Farnsworth and John French in the East.

A letter was read from the Worthy Grand Matron, Amy Millington, and the Worthy Grand Patron, Kenneth Aldrich, extending best wishes for the Christmas season and for a happy and prosperous year. Letters of thanks were also read for flowers received.

Mrs. Wilda Robinson gave a report for Christmas cheer and cards to be sent out.

The members were reminded that Mrs. Olive Worby, now residing in the Wales Home, would celebrate her 91st birthday on Jan. 18, 1970.

Mr. French presented a bar to the Past Patron's Jewel to Arthur Graham, who was unable to be present at the November meeting, due to illness.

Mrs. Barbara Vogell, secretary, and Mrs. Ruby Davies, treasurer, gave favorable annual reports.

The next meeting will be held on March 25.

EDITORIALS AND COMMENT

MATTER OF FACT JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON — For over three decades, this reporter has lived in the same tree-shaded little block in Georgetown. It has the delightful but mysterious advantage of being wholly free of flies and mosquitoes; and it has an interesting history.

Back in 1937, the people of our block were overwhelmingly black. The block's appearance was a lot less glossy then; but it was far more comfortably neighborly, like a back street in a pleasant country town.

In fact, I liked it better then than I do today, when the Georgetown vogue has made our block lily-white.

These reminiscences have a certain political point, because I am now our block's oldest inhabitant; and as such, I can testify that our block was entirely crime-free for three entire decades, both when almost wholly black and when wholly white. It was only about a year and a half ago that we had our first purse-snatching by night. An unsuccessful house-breaking followed some months ago.

Then last Wednesday, one of my older neighbors was getting ready to lock up after having guests for dinner. Whereupon a youth pushed into her house, threatened to kill her, and both raped and beat her up pretty brutally. He also escaped with some fairly valuable jewelry.

In our block, in consequence, crime is now a danger that we have to think about, night after night and every night of the year. It is not nearly as bad for us as it is for the friends I have in Washington's deep-ghetto neighborhoods. But it is pretty bad, and there is no one on the block who is not aroused about it.

The facts about our block have a wider meaning, too, for crime is now an ever-present threat in just about every urban neighborhood, and in many a suburban neighborhood, too, all over the United States. And all over this country, including on our block, people are talking approvingly about anticrime measures so harsh they would have horrified everyone only a few years ago.

This is the human context in which to judge the way that President Nixon, that very shrewd politician, is undoubtedly going to exploit the issue of crime in the next election. The federal government, to be sure, is badly situated to control the kind of crime that so much worries our block.

The government can do something, to be sure, about the ever-mounting crime rate in the District of Columbia, and Mr. Nixon has in fact proposed a pretty Draconian anticrime program for Washington. But he has also sent the Congress a whole slew of other anticrime bills, to control the traffic in snuff, to permit preventive detention in federal crime-cases, to attack organized crime again, and so on and on.

With the help of Sen. Joseph Tydings of Maryland, whom his fellow liberal Democrats call "a hawk on crime", the President's anticrime program for this city will probably be enacted at the next session of Congress. But just about the whole of the President's anticrime program for the nation is still moldering in the House Judiciary Committee.

The committee chairman, Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), must be the only remaining member of Congress whose office walls boast a signed photograph of President Calvin Coolidge. His seniority is vast. His control over his committee is nearly complete. And he is firmly persuaded that some of the Nixon anticrime bills are downright unconstitutional, and that all are less for use than show.

In the abstract, there is much to be said for several of Chairman Celler's arguments. But constitutional theory, alas, is beginning to count for less and less in the present, all too concretely disturbing situation, with its far-reaching political implications. At a guess, President Nixon may even be pleased that Chairman Celler is blocking his bills, thereby leaving the President free to blame the "do-nothing" Democratic Congress for its refusal to act against crime.

This prospect so alarms the House majority leader, Carl Albert of Oklahoma, that he has already begged Celler to take action on two different occasions. On both occasions, the aged but vigorous boss of the Judiciary Committee flatly refused Albert's request. There is every prospect, in fact, that he will still be sitting on the President's anticrime bills when the 1970 election is held.

Before the election rolls around, moreover, a further massive increase of the President's political aggressiveness can be confidently predicted. Equally surely, "law and order" will be a major Nixon theme. And the present Carl Albert even expects this to have a big effect on the political makeup of the next House of Representatives.

Toast to the New Year

As the 1960's fade into limbo, few will shed tears. Though its technological successes have been spectacular, it has been a noisy, bloody, intemperate and inhuman decade.

Occasionally it has been brightened by some significant human advance — our Centennial celebrations and Bill of Rights; the American Civil Rights Bill which won for the American Negroes their legal rights — rights which have the firm support of millions of men of good will, even though their full implication has yet to come. This has been a beacon lightening the strident ugliness of a permissive society carried perilously close to its logical end, anarchy.

In the epic moon flights we have seen human courage of a high order, and the magnificent moral courage of Martin Luther King Jr., the Kennedys and Tom Dooley. They shattered our corporate torpor, but on balance our spiritual and rational assets have been depleted rather than enriched — witness Biafra.

What we need in the Seventies is a resurgence of discipline, especially self-discipline. When men live in complex communities, "doing your own thing" is a totally inadequate response. Witness the failure of the Rochdale co-operative, dedicated to "freedom".

Freedom is only possible when adults carry the unspectacular responsibilities of citizenship — weighing issues, voting, participating in enterprises that build rather than destroy.

Man cannot live in company without some mutually agreed-upon adjustment to others.

That is what law is all about.

A New Year's toast then to patience and self-control. They have been away too long.

May we march toward a "just" society committed to the tedious, often heart-breaking effort required to achieve it.

Daily doses of poison

When a baby swallows a bottle of aspirin, a frantic mother rushes the child to the nearest hospital to save its life. When a man kills his wife with poison, justice is demanded and he receives the death sentence or a jail term for life. Most poisons are regarded with natural fear and thought of in terms of death. Only a suicide deliberately takes poison.

Today the entire population takes poison daily — poison not imposed by some scheming enemy, but absorbed through their trusted natural environment — air, water and soil. But strangely enough, the great majority of people calmly and apathetically accept their daily poison potion without fear or protest.

No doubt the danger is difficult to grasp. We have enjoyed these basics of life, air, water and food and taken them for granted over a lifetime. Now our good friends — the elements — contain an insidious enemy attacking our bodies, slowly eroding the internals of man — his lungs, liver, blood and other organs.

Pollution has developed to almost catastrophic proportions and many scientists maintain the extinction of the human race is imminent.

Even our faithful oxygen supply is in jeopardy.

People are seldom urged to be fearful, but the salvation of mankind may well depend on our arousing natural fear of our poisoned environment in individuals.

While leaders in government and industry are in positions of power to take action, citizens everywhere will need to form pressure groups to assure that action is taken to halt the trend to suicide.

Joey's last year seems far away

By ED WALTERS

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — It started out to be Joseph R. Smallwood's final year as premier of Newfoundland.

It ends with Mr. Smallwood still premier after a fierce leadership contest and thinking about hard work "for at least two years."

The next provincial election is due in September, 1971, and Mr. Smallwood, 69 Christmas Eve, intends to lead the Liberal party in the campaign.

Mr. Smallwood recently stressed the "at least" portion of a statement he gave reporters following his victory in the party's leadership convention Nov. 1.

He said at the time: "I'm not thinking about retirement. I'm thinking about hard work for at least two years."

And he later emphasized

"those two words, 'at least,'" hold the key to his plans for the future.

That was as close as he would come to revealing his intentions for the next decade.

OPPOSITION GOES ON

But some observers believe disenchantment is spreading among party members and Mr. Smallwood will be forced out before the decade is more than a year or two old.

Those loyal to Mr. Smallwood say his leadership is safe until he decides to quit voluntarily.

Despite his victory at the convention—he received 1,070 of the 1,715 votes cast—his main competitors are continuing a sort of behind-the-scenes leadership campaign.

John C. Crosbie, 38-year-old St. John's lawyer who quit as health minister in May, 1968, in a disagreement with the premier over financial aid to industry, says there is no hope for the party if the rebels do not gain control.

Mr. Crosbie, who gathered 440 votes in the convention, said he and Clyde Wells, independent Liberal member of the legislature for Humber East, will not accept defeat.

Mr. Wells supported Mr. Crosbie in his break with the premier and was his leadership campaign manager.

Mr. Crosbie said he and his supporters would go on fighting because Newfoundland was heading for disaster under Premier Smallwood.

CHANCES SPOILED

T. Alex Hickman, 44, who resigned as justice minister three days after entering the leadership race Oct. 13, agreed with Mr. Crosbie that the premier spoiled his chances of reuniting the party by his handling of the resignation of H. R. V. Earle as finance minister.

Mr. Earle, who supported Mr. Hickman in the leadership contest, resigned Nov. 5, saying he had been forced out by Premier Smallwood in reprisal.

The premier denied the charge.

Mr. Hickman, who received 187 votes, was maintaining close contact with his leadership campaign workers as the year drew to a close.

Mr. Crosbie's campaign headquarters remained active on a reduced scale.

Many observers feel Mr. Crosbie's bid for the leadership caused Premier Smallwood to change his mind about retiring.

He had announced his decision to resign by the end of this year after six of seven incumbent Liberals were defeated in Newfoundland in the 1968 federal election. Don Jamieson, now transport minister, was the only Liberal returned.

Education Minister F. W. Rowe, long thought to be Mr. Smallwood's choice as successor, was the first to announce his candidacy.

OPPOSED TO PREMIER

Premier Smallwood held to his "firm and final" decision for almost a year, with an occasional comment that he might consider entering the leadership race if there was danger of the party falling into "the wrong hands."

There was little doubt his reference was to Mr. Crosbie.

THE ART BUCHWALD COLUMN

WASHINGTON — The trouble with scientists is that they can't leave well enough alone. They were able to get a man to the moon and that was a good thing. They had man bring back rocks from the moon to examine, and that was certainly a noble endeavor. Then someone thought up the idea of having a lunar module crash into the moon to see how much the moon would quake, and while that was sort of messy, it was something most people went along with.

But apparently it was just the beginning. Last week at a meeting in Los Angeles a scientist named Gary Latham proposed that we fire off an atomic bomb on the dark side of the moon to find out what the core is made of.

I am certain that if this idea is finally agreed to, our scientists will not be satisfied to stop there. I predict that if we go ahead with an explosion on the moon that this will eventually happen:

"Gentlemen as you are all aware our atomic explosion on the moon was tremendously successful. We now know the core of the moon is composed of hard rubber, similar to that used in a golf ball. The questions today is what do we do to the moon next?"

"Professor, my department has been making studies and we believe it is feasible to knock off a large section of the moon with an intercontinental ballistic missile, and then, with a giant magnet, which we would build in Nevada, attract the piece of moon to earth. Thus we would be able to study the moon in an earth environment and not be dependent on a bagful of rocks for our information."

"In all due respect, Professor Heitel, my department has come up with an idea far superior to yours. We feel that with the right conditions we can put the moon on a collision course with another planet and register the impact at the moment it collides. This will give us invaluable information on how other planets react when hit by a large body of dead mass."

"That's not good enough, Professor Runkle. The most important thing to be learned is what would happen if the moon was removed from the earth's orbit. Until we know this, we cannot continue our future experiments. At the moment, the moon is too large to be pushed out of orbit. But if we broke it up into little pieces, by firing a series of hydrogen bombs in a volley for three days, we could smash the moon to bits. The small pieces could then be pushed out of orbit by our space ships and we could track their paths."

"I do not object to the idea, Professor Grimsted, except that we don't want to contaminate other planets just in case there is life on them. My people feel that if there was some way we could set fire to the moon, we could photograph it in color while it was burning up, which then could give us clues to the unanswered questions we still have about the sun."

"Gentlemen, gentlemen. All your ideas have merit."

"We seem to be agreed that the moon is expendable. The only question is how best to destroy it and still get the most scientific data. Our laboratories in Carlsbad may have a solution. They have perfected a powerful chemical which, when fired by an SBM 4 rocket, could turn the moon into a thick muddy soup which would drip down on the earth."

"If our calculations are correct, the major part of the soup would drip down off the beaches at Santa Barbara, Calif., giving us valuable information as to what happens when the moon's surface is blended with crude oil."

For and about Women Reflections on Christmas past

By BETTY CANARY

Christmas, the last one we'll celebrate in the '60s, and it's over.

I don't know about you, but I never really believe it will be over. Or that once again I'll spend days wading through wrapping, wondering: "Where, oh, where, are we going to put all this stuff, especially those six fruit cakes?"

Perhaps the best thing, next to finding all the pieces to the new chess set (the last pawn is always discovered inside the kitchen register), is the realization that one won't have to spend much time during the following week in menu planning. A different salad or a pan of sneaky peaches, along with the chopped remains of turkey or ham in eggs or cream sauce, and you've got it made. (Sneaky peaches: Add a little rum and brown sugar to the syrup and peach halves, then, while baking, baste, baste, baste.)

After Christmas day has passed, most of us grow reflective for a time. I know I always sit around wondering why so many people gave us fruit cakes. (Do you suppose somebody gave THEM the fruit cakes for Thanksgiving?)

Much good can be derived in reflecting upon how each person might contribute to the solution of the war; how we personally might do something to stop starvation; how, with some original thinking, an individual could possibly come up with big answers to big problems. But perhaps we should concentrate instead on the mighty oaks from tiny acorns-grow theory. Perhaps it might be good to do something first about the quarrel with the neighbors about their dog and our flower beds. Or we might walk a block to the local school and check into their lunchroom problems.

It's only one short step from reflectiveness to counting one's blessings. And, although there are those who say that, as a nation, we haven't much for which to give thanks, only those wearing mental dark glasses can believe that. (They might read "Only One Year" by Svetlana Alliluyeva. I am not a critic, so I'll not comment on writing style or technique. I do recommend reading her thoughts about the first Thanksgiving and the first Christmas she spent in the United States.)

It's also not a bad idea to count one's personal blessings. For example, some of our friends couldn't understand why we weren't terribly upset about our son's emergency appendectomy during the holidays this year. But they hadn't seen some of the other children being treated in the same hospital—the ones in continuing pain, some cruelly injured, some hopelessly ill.

Thoughts such as these and a mother can grow maudlin. She's likely to start saying things like, "Harken to the merry laughter of the children 'round the hearth."

But then she notices the piece of mince pie that's been mashed on the sofa and things at last get back to normal.

Gift of life membership pin highlight at W.I. meeting

STANBRIDGE EAST — The December meeting of the Stanbridge East Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Neil Creller, with 25 members and a guest in attendance.

After opening exercises a few moments of silence were observed in honor of Mrs. Erle Corneli, an esteemed member of the Branch for many years.

Roll call was responded to by each member telling of her happiest Christmas, which constituted the program.

The highlight of the Christmas meeting was the presentation of a Life Membership pin to Mrs. T. S. Davitt. These pins are awarded only for outstanding service in W.I. work and have to be vouched for by the Branch, before being approved by the Provincial Board. Though not a Charter member, Mrs. Davitt has been a member here almost from its organization in 1921. The long list of services rendered and offices held by her over the years were read by the president, Mrs. Rhicard. Mrs. Wanzor, County President, made the presentation. Mrs. Davitt, though taken completely by surprise, voiced her appreciation and thanks.

Conveners' reports were: Agriculture, Mrs. Corey read an article by Walker Riley regarding practices advocated today, which result in upsetting the balance of nature; citizenship, Mrs. Shephardson read the Outline for Citizenship; education, Mrs. Hayes, spoke on the McLennan Travelling Library whose services are being curtailed and may be discontinued if no government grant is received. She also gave the names of winners of the 1968 prizes for endeavor offered by the Branch to pupils in local schools. They were won by Carol Davitt in the lower age group and Carol Realfie in the 10, 11 and 12 age level.

Home Economics: Mrs. Davitt, told of the value of waxing apples for longer shelf life and appeal, reducing shrinkage and containing the moisture; publicity: Mrs. Tremblay told of her visit with Mrs. Moore to the National Office of the Federated W.I. at Ottawa; welfare and health: Mrs. Woods read an article on importance of daily exercise for a longer and healthier life; corresponding secretary, Miss Corey, read two letters of thanks and stated that she had complied with a request from Mrs. Burgess to send names of officers and members.

Members voted to donate flannelette to the Home for Retarded Children, Clareville. Mrs. Rhicard announced that a wheel chair and walkers were available from the Oddfellows' branches in the District.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Shephardson, Mrs. Tait and Mrs. Tremblay.

As the January meeting falls on New Year's Day, it was decided to hold it on Friday, Jan. 2, at the home of Mrs. C. Rhicard.

Stanstead County Council holds quarterly meeting

AYER'S CLIFF — Quarterly meeting of Stanstead County Council of Mayors was held on Dec. 10 in the hall of the County building. Ernest Cloutier, Warden, welcomed the Mayors returned to office since the previous meeting and the four newly elected, Jacques Codere, Hatley, Bernard Tremblay, St. Hermenegilde Village; J. P. Dupont, St. Hermenegilde; and Ulysses Cloutier, Stanstead East.

A representative from the Eastern Townships Economic Council presented the resolution they had approved concerning construction of highway from the International Boundary at Derby Line — Rock Island to Ayer's Cliff, Deauville, round Sherbrooke, to Brompton, Windsor, Richmond, Asbestos, Danville, Trois Rivières to join Route 19 to Lac St. Jean, the Trans-Quebec Highway. Already route 22 Expressway from the Boundary is a part of it.

The proposed route will consist of some 300 miles of which about 200 would be first class highway and about 100 miles an expressway, toll free. The ET Economic Council had adopted the by-law for construction at their Nov. 13 meeting. The Stanstead County Council made a resolution to give support. It seemed to be the general feeling that such a highway will improve economic conditions in the Townships. Mr. Bolduc, the representative noted the present route has travel of from 4,000 to 6,000 vehicles a day.

Each Mayor took a copy of the resolution for submission to his Council meeting to be held in January. After the resolution is approved they are to send one copy to each of the Minister of Highways; J. J. Bertrand and ET Regional Economic Council.

A meeting is to be set up between interested parties from the Village of Hatley, a delegation from the County Council on roads, and a delegation from Compton Station Council, Sherbrooke County, to discuss pros and cons of rebuilding what was the old stage coach road between Compton and Hatley. People in Hatley feel it should be carefully studied so that it will not interrupt their water supply from springs on each side of the old road bed.

The Municipal tax to the County Council will remain as last year, it was decided after considerable discussion. This money is used for the County to operate, to maintain the Health Unit in Magog and for maintenance of their County properties.

Edgar Boneval of Magog Township and Ernest Cloutier of Barnston gave a report of the Union of County Councils held recently in Chicoutimi and which they attended as delegates of Stanstead County.

The 1970 conference will be held at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal. A resolution was adopted to gain control to enforce by-laws in the rural areas against having car cemeteries in so many locations by imposing heavy penalties.

Bowen-Nutbrown wedding

A small but pretty wedding took place on Nov. 29 at 2 p.m. when Barbara Faith, daughter of Rupert Nutbrown and the late Mrs. Gail Nutbrown of Hatley was united in marriage to Mr. Lance Bowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beaven Bowen, also of Hatley.

The ceremony took place in St. Georges Anglican Church, Lennoxville. Rev. John McLennan officiated with Mrs. Hallie Nutbrown playing the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress with embroidered trim at the waist and sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place with a star of pearls.

Mrs. Rence Harrison, sister of the bride, as matron of honour, wore a white dress with black accessories. Mrs. Rupert Nutbrown, step-mother of the bride, wore beige suit with brown trimming.

Philip Bowen, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony a buffet lunch was served at the church hall in Hatley. Out of town guests were from St. Catherine's, Ont., Granby, North Hatley, Beebe, Compton and Waterville. Upon returning from a short trip to the U. S. A., the couple will live in Huntville.

Most of the good roads in use today can be traced to a 19th-century Scottish merchant named John McAdam, who became disgusted with the condition of the roads in his district and devised a system of ground-up stones covering a raised surface for good drainage, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Maud Sr. of Casa Grande, Arizona. The marriage has been arranged to take place January 8, in Tucson. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Bishop's University. Her fiancé has a law degree from the University of Arizona.

EAR-MARKED FOR NET? — Beaver forward lets go with shot in last night's Junior "A" action against the Laval Saints.

However, the puck eluded both the goal-tender and the net by rattling off the goalpost. Beavers won the contest 8-3, but lost Friday to Shawinigan.

In weekend action...

Beavers topple Saints 8-3, bow to Bruins 6-4

The Sherbrooke Junior Beavers split their games played at the Sports Palace during the weekend. On Friday night the Shawinigan Bruins won a close one by a 6-4 score, but they bounced back on Sunday night to romp to an 8-3 win over Laval Saints.

On Friday night, which was a rough one as far as weather was concerned, 2600 spectators turned out and on Sunday evening the attendance read 2295.

The Beavers were up to their old habits on Friday, again blowing a lead. They were tied four—all at the end of the second and had a one-goal lead in the first period but two unanswered goals by the Bruins in the third period gave the visitors the win.

In Sunday's game against the Saints, the teams were tied up one—all at the end of the first period. Gilbert Smith, assisted by B. Landry and Normand Dallaire, scored for the Beavers after fourteen minutes of play. The Saints, on an unassisted goal by Bonami, got this one back two minutes later. The Beavers had a man in the penalty box at the time.

The second period started with a player from each team in the cooler. Bossy of the Saints and Boulanger both received five minutes for fighting just before the first period ended.

Claude St. Sauver put the Beavers ahead after two minutes of the period, assisted by Lacompte and Lefebvre. This was a power play goal as the Saints had two men in the penalty box. Bennett, of Laval, was caught hooking after fourteen seconds of play.

It took only two more minutes of action to put the Beavers further ahead as Normand Piche finished off a three man passing play with J. C. Landry and Andre Lalonde. Gerald Lacompte added another one three minutes later as he scored from close in on passes from Smith and B. Landry. Then the Saints came up with their second goal with Peloffy scoring assisted by Defosses and Loboiron.

J. C. Landry of the Beavers was the next to find the mark as he finished off a play started by St. Sauver and Lefebvre. Peloffy clicked for his second tally just before the period ended. At this stage the Beavers were ahead by a 5-2 score.

In the third period, the Beavers were held off the score sheet until the fourteen minute mark, then suddenly erupted in the last six minutes with three fast goals — Smith with his second and third and Piche with his first, were the spoilers. B. Landry and Dallaire assisted on Smith's goals while Piche's was unassisted. This was all the scoring in the game, the Beavers taking this one on the long end of an 8-3 score. Smith, Piche and B. Landry were the Beavers' stars in the game.

In their encounter with Shawinigan Bruins on Friday night, Sherbrooke bowed 6-4. Early in the second period they held a 4-2 lead, but four unanswered goals from the Bruins in the later part of the game earned a Bruin victory.

The Bruins took a two-goal lead in the first ten minutes of the opening period on tallies by G. Boisvert and L. Legault. J. C. Landry got one of them back just before the period ended. Lalonde and Lefebvre drew assists on the goal.

The second period was only seventeen seconds old when B. Landry notched the Beavers' second goal assisted by Lacompte and Bruno Landry. Normand Dallaire with help from B. Landry and Smith made it three-two less than a minute later. St. Sauver, on a breakaway with J. C. Landry, put the Beavers further ahead as they caught the Bruins' defence out of position. That was all the Beavers could muster for the evening. The Bruins, with goals by Paiment and M. Morton just before the period ended, made it a four-all game.

Markers by Borgogne and Morton in the third period salted away the win for the visitors. The Beavers still have the habit of losing games after maintaining a comfortable margin.

Browns to meet Vikings for NFL title

Dallas succumbs to Cleveland nemesis

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "Rubber band defence, huh?"

Cleveland Browns shouted the phrase in derision Sunday as they trudged up the ramp in the Cotton Bowl after thumping Dallas Cowboys 38-14 to win the Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

Tom Landry, the Cowboys coach, intended to compliment the Browns when he said, after a 42-10 defeat in November, the Browns defence is "like a rubber band that stretched but does not break."

The Browns jumped on the "rubber band" phrase as a battle cry for their rematch with the favored Cowboys. In big white letters on the blackboard in the Browns' locker room, it was printed for all to read:

"Rubber band? How about steel bands?"

The steel bands held the Dallas club to 39 yards in the first half as Cleveland rolled up a 17-0 lead while Bill Nelsen picked apart the vaunted Cowboy defence.

At the end of a dreary, rainy afternoon, some of the 69,321 Dallas fans were booing Craig Morton, their regular quarterback, and cheering Roger Staubach, his replacement, in a one-sided game that deteriorated into a duel between Staubach and Jerry Rhome, a former Cowboy who backs up Nelsen at Cleveland.

"Can't you do anything right?" a Cleveland player shouted to the confused Cowboys when Mike Clark missed the ball on an attempted onside kickoff in the final minutes.

SHOW NO CONCERN

If the Browns were concerned about their NFL title rematch Sunday with Minnesota Vikings who annihilated them Nov. 9, 51-3, they didn't show it. Most of them had watched on television as the Vikings beat Los Angeles Rams Saturday 23-20 in Minnesota. The winner of their game Sunday in Minnesota will go on to the Super Bowl Jan. 11 in New Orleans against the American Football League champion.

"We'll have no trouble getting up for them after what they did to us," said Bo Scott.

Running back Scott, who came to Cleveland from Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League, scored two of the Cleveland touchdowns and shared the brunt of the Browns' rushing attack with LeRoy Kelly.

Although Kelly paced the rushing with 66 yards on 19 carries, Scott picked up some key yardage for the Browns and finished with 33 yards on 11 carries.

Paul Warfield and Milt Morin were the targets of most of Nelsen's passes, but Scott had two receptions for 39 yards.

Nelsen made good on eight of 11 third-down situations and completed 18 of 27 for 219 yards and one touchdown with a slippery ball.

"They are a great football team," said coach Blanton Collier in praise of Minnesota. "They beat us bad."

"I think they have the finest front four in football. I am a great admirer of Bud Grant (Minnesota coach). I coached him at Great Lakes Naval Training Station in 1945 when he was our left end. Jim Houston, who intercepted a Morton pass and ran 35 yards to set up Scott's second touchdown plunge, was asked about Joe Kapp's running as quarterback against the Rams.

...While in Minnesota, "we're going to be the best."

Minneapolis (CP) — Minnesota Vikings defeated Cleveland Browns 51-3 earlier this season but Minnesota coach Bud Grant declines to make any rash predictions for next Sunday's National Football League championship game between the Vikings and the Browns.

"Nobody is 40 points better than anybody else in this league," Grant said Sunday, the day after his Vikings defeated Los Angeles Rams 23-20 to win the NFL's Western Conference and advance to the NFL playoff.

Grant was also asked if he expected the Vikings to have a let-down against the team they beat by 48 points.

"You're the first of 101 persons who will ask the exact question," said Grant, former coach of Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Canadian Football League, "and the answer is, 'No.'"

Joe Kapp, former quarterback with British Columbia Lions in the CFL, led the Vikings to victory by scoring the game-tying touchdown, passing for 169 yards and rushing for 42. He completed 12 of 19 passes.

"GOING TO BE BEST"

"We're going to be the best! The best!" was Kapp's prediction in the dressing room after the game. "Two more. Two more."

The "Two more" remark referred to next Sunday's clash with the Browns in Minneapolis and the Super Bowl game between the NFL and American Football League champions at New Orleans Jan. 11.

Cleveland defeated Dallas Cowboys 38-14 Sunday for the NFL Eastern Conference title.

Grant said he watched the Cleveland Dallas game on television "in between shovelling snow" from his driveway and was impressed.

"I thought the Browns played a fine game," he said. "But it's hard to make comments after watching from television."

After the loss to Cleveland in November, Cleveland coach Blanton Collier called Kapp "the most underrated quarterback in the National Football League."

Kapp lived up to this advance billing Saturday, setting up two Minnesota touchdowns with his passing and running and scored the third himself in the fourth quarter to tie the score 20-20. The Vikings went ahead on Fred Cox's conversion and added two more points when the vaunted Minnesota defence tackled Rams quarterback Roman Gabriel in the end zone for a safety.

SCORES TWO TDs

Dave Osborn scored two touchdowns for the Vikings, both on one-yard plunges, and Cox converted both.

The Rams, who held a 17-7 lead at the half, mainly on the performance of Gabriel, the NFL's most valuable player, got touchdowns from tight ends Bob Klein and Bill Truax and two field goals from Bruce Gossett.

Discussing his key touchdown, Kapp said: "It was a bootleg, definitely a call for a run. We hadn't shown it that much this year."

"I didn't know you could run that fast," someone yelled at Kapp in the dressing room after the game.

"I can't," said Kapp.

Speaking of Kapp's 42 yards rushing, Grant commented: "You can't live by the pass alone in this league. We had to run the ball, too."

WANTS TO WIN

"This team wants to win," said Kapp. "You don't do it by talking. You do it by playing."

Defensive end Carl Eller tackled Gabriel in the end zone for the safety on the first play the Rams ran from scrimmage after Kapp scored the tying touchdown and defensive tackle Alan Page killed the final Ram drive late in the final period with an interception.

"I knew I had made the tackle," said Eller, "but I wasn't sure I had carried him into the end zone so I didn't let him go."

"I didn't know it was a safety until the rest of the boys came up and said 'You got a safety.'"

"That tickled me."

Speaking of his interception, Page said: "I was overjoyed. It came right on a line to me."

Only Gary Connelly, a member of the University of Michigan team currently sidelined with a broken ankle, will be missing from the Junior Canadiens' reunited 1968-69 lineup.

Nats nip Czechs

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Canadian Nationals combined effective penalty killing with playmaking Sunday to defeat the touring Czechoslovakian national hockey team 3-2 in the first of a best-of-five exhibition series.

A capacity crowd of 9,000 saw the Nationals take a 3-0 lead on goals by Brian Conacher, Fran Huck and Chuck Lefley before the Czechoslovakian team came back with two goals in the final period.

Nationals' coach Jack McLeod said after the game that he was satisfied with the way the team stifled the Czech power play during five penalties. He said Steve Carlyle was a stand-out on defence.

"He's going just great all the time," said McLeod.

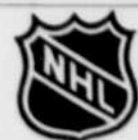

Bob Murdoch and Mike Poirier played well, he added, helping keep the visitors off balance most of the game.

Conacher's opening goal came at 14:59 of the first period. Billy Harris, former National Hockey League player, started the play that ended with Conacher tipping in Corby Adams' goalmouth pass.

Fran Huck scored on a break-away in the second period.

Wings' Gary Unger pots three in 5-3 victory

Bruins creep up on Rangers, shade Flyers 5-4

Unger collected his 11th, 12th and 13th season goals and Gordie Howe added his 14th for Detroit Red Wings Sunday while team-mate Alex Delvecchio completed his 30th game without scoring.

Delvecchio, 38-year-old veteran of 18 National Hockey Full League seasons with the Red Wings, had 375 goals in 1,236 games to the end of the 1968-69 season. The closest he came Sunday to earning his first 1969-70 season goal was on a shot at 13:24 of the third period.

Goalie Gary Smith of Oakland Seals stopped the Detroit centre but Howe banged the rebound into the net and Delvecchio came out of the 5-3 Detroit victory with only his 66th career assist.

In other games, Boston Bruins defeated Philadelphia Flyers 5-4, while Los Angeles Kings earned a 3-3 tie with New York Rangers.

Saturday, Toronto Maple Leafs downed St. Louis Blues 4-1, Philadelphia tied Montreal Canadiens 2-2, Chicago Black Hawks whipped Pittsburgh Penguins 3-0 and Oakland Seals defeated Minnesota North Stars 5-3.

Defenceman Bob Baun scored his first season goal to start the Red Wings scoring before a crowd of 14,205 at Detroit.

Goalie Roger Crozier stopped only 22 Oakland shots and allowed two goals by the Seals' Ted Hampson and one by Carol Vadnais.

WINGS FOURTH AGAIN

The win moved the Red Wings back into sole possession of fourth spot in the East Division, two points ahead of the idle Black Hawks.

Defenceman Bobby Orr scored a goal and three assists in the Boston victory to open an eight-point lead over St. Louis' Phil Goyette in the scoring race.

Orr's 11th season goal started the scoring before the 14,606 Philadelphia fans and the Bruins never dropped behind the scrambling Flyers who arrived an hour and 45 minutes before the game after a tiring bus ride from Montreal.

Ken Hodge, Ed Westfall, Johnny McKenzie and Derek Sanderson scored the other Bruins goals while Simon Nolet got two for the Flyers. Andre Lacroix and Jean-Guy Gendron scored once each for the losers.

The Bruins win moved them to within one point of New York, the East Division leader.

Boston goalie Gerry Cheevers stopped 34 Philadelphia drives while Bernie Parent took the loss despite 37 saves against the Bruins.

Bill Flett collected only his third season goal to gain the tie for Los Angeles before a crowd of 17,250 at New York.

Ed Joyal scored the other two goals for the Kings who still trail the West Division with only six wins and four ties in 30 games.

Jean Ratelle, Bill Fairbairn and Arnie Brown scored for the Rangers who pelted Los Angeles goalie Gerry Desjardins with 35 shots. Ed Giacomin made only 23 saves for the Rangers.

HAD EASY TIME

The Maple Leafs had an easy time against veteran goalie Glenn Hall Saturday night with rookie Jim Harrison scoring the first of his two goals on a flip shot from centre ice.

Hall came out of his nets to make the easy save but the puck slipped between his pads and trickled over the goal line.

The Leafs peppered the St. Louis goalie with 45 shots and Dave Keon, Ron Ellis and Harrison scored to give Toronto a 4-0 edge midway through the second period.

Bob Plager beat goalie Bruce Gamble for the only St. Louis goal.

Despite the loss, the Blues kept their 12-point lead in the West Division while the Leafs remained in the East cellar, five points back of Chicago.

Goalie Tony Esposito recorded his seventh season shutout for the Black Hawks, stopping 30 Penguins shots before a crowd of 8,746 at Pittsburgh.

Bobby Hull, Stan Mikita and Cliff Koroll provided the Chicago scoring power.

A goal-tending duel between Montreal's Rogatien Vachon and Philadelphia's Parent kept both teams scoreless until the last minute of the second period when Yvan Cournoyer collected his 10th of the season for the Canadiens.

EARN THE TIE

Jacques Lemaire made it 2-0 for Montreal early in the final period but Gendron and Nolet scored to earn the tie which moved the Flyers to within two points of second-place Minnesota in the West Division.

Centre Earl Ingarfield scored three goals to lead the Seals' attack in front of 14,598 fans at Minneapolis. Vadnais and Brian Perry also scored for Oakland's ninth win in 33 starts.

Goalie Gary Smith made 32 saves to earn the victory while Minnesota's Cesare Maniago took the defeat under a hail of 44 Seals shots. The Blues are at Montreal Tuesday night, still looking for their first win against the Canadiens since the West Division joined the league in 1967. St. Louis now has a record of 17 losses and four ties against the defending Stanley Cup champions in regular season and playoff action.

In one other Tuesday game, Minnesota is at Los Angeles.

W.M.S. MEETS

The W.M.S. meeting was opened by the president Mrs. Real Larochelle. It was decided to hold a food sale in the Legion Hall on Jan. 20, 1970 at 3 p.m. The food sale is under the auspices of the women's groups of l'Eglise des Cantons de l'Est and proceeds of the sale will go towards the Foyer Richmond.

The friendship secretary, Mrs. Florian Menard, reported five cards sent and 12 visits made to sick and shut-ins.

The business part of the meeting was brought to a close and members prepared the hall for their invited guests, the WMS group from St. Andrew's Church, Upper Melbourne, who were joining the French group at 8 p.m. for a combined Christmas Advent Tryst entitled, A World Prepares, which was a bilingual program.

Mrs. J. Vanderwal, St. Andrew's W.M.S. group, prepared the evening's program with Mrs. Real Larochelle.

After a few words of welcome to the guests, Mrs. Larochelle gave the opening devotions after which the offering was received and dedicated.

The center table at the front of the hall, covered with a bright red cloth displayed the Advent wreath with a white candle in the center representing the love of God and the four red candles for the four Advent weeks before the birth of Christ.

Mrs. Gerald Doran presided at the piano for the five carols, sung between the Bible readings and those pertaining to the lighting of all five candles. Members who took part in the program, A World Prepares, were: Mrs. R. Larochelle, Mrs. Dorothy Oakley, Mrs. Raymond Gifford, Mrs. Ashley Stalker and Mrs. Gerald Fortier. Mrs. Vanderwal gave the closing prayer.

Interesting recollections of Christmases Past were related by Mrs. Vanderwal, who told about Christmas in Holland; Mrs. Larochelle told about Christmases in St. Adrien de Ham, Quebec, in her mother's day and age. Mrs. Doran told how Christmases were kept in Ireland, as a young girl.

Several favorite Christmas poems and verses were read by Mrs. Dorothy Oakley, Mrs. Forest Hughes and Mrs. Vanderwal.

The atmosphere of the meeting was a happy one and souvenirs of Christmases past lingered on in conversations at the tea hour, when lunch was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Vanderwal, on behalf of St. Andrew's Auxiliary, thanked the hostesses for the lunch, the evening of friendship and expressed her hope there would be other occasions such as this, in the near future.

WORRYING ABOUT STAYING ALIVE — A small child, skin stretched taut over her tiny undernourished body, hides in the arms of an older sister on the outskirts of Santo Domingo. They live in a tiny thatched shack.

Nearby are palm-lined boulevards with sprawling ranch houses. To cure economic desparity, the Dominican Republic is attempting to build up its tourist industry.

Social issues exposed in Canadian author's stories

EDMONTON (CP) — "I try to use fiction to get across social ideas — to show readers several sides of a social issue through conflict in story form," says Edmonton writer Sheila MacKay Russell.

The "about 50" short stories she has written for magazines in the last 10 years have used this approach, she said in an interview.

At present, she is working on two series for Chatelaine magazine. In one, she uses members of a family living in a prairie community; in the other she uses settings in a large city hospital.

Each story is complete in itself, not continued from month to month, Mrs. Russell said. But some of the characters are in several stories and provide a sort of running thread for regular readers.

This series idea is used fairly commonly in British, South African and Australian magazines, she says. And many of these overseas magazines are now picking up her Chatelaine stories.

Mrs. Russell said the strongest favorable reaction she has had for a story came from readers in response to one on the aged.

'LOST SEGMENT'

"Old people are almost a lost segment of our society," she said. "They're so often treated like children. Even in Alberta where care programs are superior, there's room for improvement. The human aspect just can't be lost sight of."

Unfavorable criticism came from anti-Hutterite factions for a story in which she tried to give both sides of the issue concerning problems faced by this religious and ethnic group in the Canadian community.

Mrs. Russell was born in Airdrie, Alta., and grew up in Calgary, graduating with a nursing degree from the Calgary General Hospital in 1942.

For a year she worked as a general duty nurse, then enrolled at the University of Alberta in Edmonton in the public health nursing course. A year of district nursing in rural Alberta followed and in 1945 she was assigned a dual post as assistant director of public health nursing and assistant director of health education for the provincial health department.

While working with the health department, Mrs. Russell used her evenings to write a book about the experiences of student nurses.

She says she had always wanted to write and was inspired by a small book of cartoons on the trials of nurses in training. Later, those same cartoons were used to illustrate her first book.

BOOK WAS SUCCESS

The book, A Lamp Is Heavy, was published in 1950 and has been a successful seller since. A tongue-in-cheek look at both the fun and hardships of a student nurse's life, it has been translated into seven languages and made into a film by the J. Arthur Rank organization in 1954.

Mrs. Russell says it has had several editions, but she has lost count and doesn't know what the total circulation would be now.

"It sells steadily — about the same number of copies each year, although it must be getting a little out of date now," she said. "At least, I hope it is out of date as far as the hardships go."

Mrs. Russell said that one of the points she tried to bring out in that book was that the old apprenticeship system — in which the student paid for her tuition in service to the hospital — was bad.

"It degenerated into appalling exploitation of the student."

Mrs. Russell's second book, The Living Earth, was a novel about a woman — who was just accidentally a district nurse — in northern Alberta. It was published in 1954.

She says she sometimes thinks about doing another book, but that at present the short stories keep her busy.

SEEKS ACCURACY

She and her husband and 15-year-old daughter live quietly in Edmonton, she said. She spends about three hours every morning writing — "longer if it is going well."

And she says she spends a number of afternoons researching her stories. The settings have to be accurate and up to date, so it requires several visits to a hospital and a lot of reading for one of the hospital stories. She subscribes to three medical and nursing journals to help keep herself aware of new trends.

She still takes a great interest in nursing and in the experiences of student nurses and would like to see a greater emphasis on clinical experience in some of the nursing education programs.

"In the intensive care units, bedside nursing has reached a level of technical excellence that wouldn't have been dreamed of in the past," Mrs. Russell said. "Outside of this I believe the nurse is becoming more and more an executive and less and less a nurse."

"Modern care is becoming more and more technical and I think it is of extreme importance to the welfare of the patient that these programs produce technically competent bedside nurses rather than pseudo-psychologists, pseudo-sociologists, etc."
