Liberals. As he approached his hotel he was met by about 40 demonstrators, protesting Canada's stand in the Nigeria-

Biafra war. They crowded around the Prime Minister with placards and argued with him for 15 minutes. (CP Wirephoto)

Urges scientific payoffs

OTTAWA (CP)—All-out scientific "missions" that promise big payoffs and harness public, private and university skills are proposed by the Science Council of Canada in a major report published today.

The federal government's science advisers chart a specialized role for Canada in the uses of space and computer technology.

They urge a marked swing in the emphasis of Canada's scientific endeavor toward practical results and away from so-called "pure" research.

The report, entitled Towards a National Science Policy for Canada, proposes an immediate start on prototype programs in space research—under Canada's own space agency—and in the management and development of water resources.

The council says planning should begin at once in these further areas:

- Transportation, to develop a "rational, national system;"
- Urban development, to put order and scope into community planning and environmental studies "to build a new future for Canada;"

- Computer technology, "to promote intelligent use and application of computers throughout Canada's economic framework;"

—Aid to poorer nations, narrowing assistance to fewer countries and offering to share Canada's scientific and technological expertise.

Canada's challenge, says the report, is to yoke science and technology to the service of the nation. Action must be highly concentrated. It must produce new and improved goods and services, many of them for dollar-earning exports.

Furthermore, past dominance by government laboratories in research and development must end.

"In future a role of growing importance for government should be the initiation, co-ordination and financing rather than the performance of research."

What the council calls "mission-oriented programs" must aim at solutions to national problems, not simply at the performance of research.

"The major programs proposed will call on the talents of social scientists, financial experts and management specialists, as well as natural scientists and engineers.

Domtar officials and union leaders hold special meeting

QUEBEC (CP) — Domtar Pulp and Paper Ltd. officials and union leaders of 1,200 company workers who went on strike 3½ months ago have been summoned to a special meeting today aimed at resuming contract negotiations which broke down Oct. 17.

The meeting, to be held in the department of labor building here, was called by Claude Gosselin, minister of lands and forests and by Real Mireault, associate deputy labor minister who acted as mediator in the dispute.

The July 18 strike forced the closure of Domtar's two Eastern Townships pulp and paper plants in Windsor and East Angus, in the Sherbrooke area about 90 miles east of Montreal.

Talks reached an impasse two weeks ago when workers voted against ratification of a draft agreement proposed by Mr. Mireault.

House passes mail rate hike

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons gave third and final reading Monday to a bill to raise Canada's postal rates but the government first had to defeat a last-ditch NDP move that would, in effect, have killed the bill.

An NDP amendment that the bill be given third reading in six months instead of now—the traditional bill-killing move—was defeated 100 to 66.

Only the government voted against the motion. Seventeen New Democrats were joined by 41 Conservatives and eight Creditistes in support.

The bill itself was approved 100 to 67, with 42 Conservatives, 17 New Democrats and eight Creditistes against passage.

Standing in the 264-seat House: Liberal 155, Conservative 72, NDP 21, Creditiste 14, Independent 1, vacant 1.

Under the bill, which now goes to the Senate, all first-class mail would cost six cents—it now costs five cents for delivery outside of local delivery areas, where the charge is four cents. Rates for newspapers and magazines also would increase sharply.

BACK PARTS OF BILL

Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre) said New Democrats support many parts of the bill, such as the provisions to raise the rates on second-, third-, and fourth-class mail, but they do not agree the first-class rate should be increased to six cents. Nor did they go along with the government's intention to stop Saturday delivery of mail in urban areas starting Feb. 1.

Gerald W. Baldwin, the Conservative House Leader, said the increased rates on publications would be passed on to the subscribers and thus become an indirect tax on many Canadians.

Higher postage rates for publications would go into effect in three stages. The first increase would come next April 1 and others would follow on Oct. 1, 1969, and April 1, 1970.

News in brief

Running scared

WASHINGTON — (CP) — In this United States election the pollsters as well as the candidates are running scared.

This presidential election year is so "volatile," says Dr. George Gallup, that it would be "reckless even to try to anticipate what's coming in November."

On the move

PRAGUE—(CP)— Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders travelled to Slovakia today for more 50th anniversary celebrations while the country wondered what price the Soviet Union might exact for a 12-hour outburst of anti-Soviet demonstrations in Prague Monday.

Possible Soviet retaliation ranged from new attacks in the Soviet press to a new showdown between the Kremlin and Czechoslovakia's reform regime headed by Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek.

Suggests hike

MONTREAL — (CP) — Separatist leader Rene Levesque told an English-speaking audience Monday his newly-founded political party—Le Parti Quebecois—would be essentially "moderate" if it came to power and led the province out of Confederation.

In his first public address since the founding of the Parti Quebecois two weeks ago, Mr. Levesque, a former provincial Liberal cabinet minister now sitting as an independent in the Quebec legislature, said his party would avoid nationalistic extremes "especially in the language field."

Start strike

NEW YORK — (AP) — About 800 union staff musicians are to begin a strike Wednesday against the three major US television networks in a wage dispute.

The American Federation of Musicians said Monday that picket lines would form in New York and Los Angeles at the facilities of NBC, CBS and ABC.

Moral issue

MIAMI, Fla., — (AP) — Richard Lansdale says his wife's firing as an airline stewardess "comes down to economics versus morals."

Celete Lansdale said Monday she could have kept her job with United Air Lines if she had taken a lover instead of a husband.

Concrete form

MONTREAL — (CP) — State secretary Gerard Pelletier said Monday he is "studying and giving concrete form" to suggestions from youth organizations which call for a non-military draft and year-round schooling.

In a speech to the Montreal Chambre de Commerce, Mr. Pelletier said some of the proposals are "difficult to accept" but this was no reason for rejecting the ideas without first studying them.

Two brothers enjoy only six hours' freedom

Two brothers who escaped from the East Angus jail yesterday by forcing apart the bars of their cells were captured six hours later in the Maisot St. Georges, across the street from the Sherbrooke Police Station.

They were arrested on three charges of car theft in Thetford Mines, Weedon and East Angus, and two attempted car thefts.

When a single guard left the room and left the two crafty brothers alone in their cells, Michel was able to force apart the bars of his cell and then, using a piece of wood, he pried open the bars of his brother's cage.

East Angus Police chief, Andre Phaneuf, said this morning that the escape took place about 5:40 a.m. yesterday.

Chief Phaneuf heard the noises the men were making as they were escaping. He ran downstairs (he lives over the jail) but when he got there, the two men were gone.

The police chief reported this morning that the brothers had stolen a .303 calibre rifle and a .22 calibre rifle from the police station.

They also broke another door in the station while they were escaping.

The brothers fled to Sherbrooke.

They were spotted by a guard employed in the Webster Parking lot as they walked around the parking lot looking at cars.

He directed them to the Maisot St. Georges on Marquette Street.

The guard then telephoned Sherbrooke Municipal Police who were on the alert for the two brothers.

Sherbrooke police had been notified earlier of the escape by East Angus officials.

Sherbrooke policemen arrested the two brothers at 11:33 a.m., six hours after they escaped.

The two Madore brothers will face an accusation of escaping legal custody this morning in St. Francis District Court of Sessions in Sherbrooke.

They are now under lock and key in the Winter Street jail in Sherbrooke.

Author gave Dief secret report

OTTAWA (CP)—The author of a new book on the Diefenbaker era identifies himself as the man who passed on the famous Liberal "hidden report" of 1957 to the Conservative leader.

In Vision and Indecision: Diefenbaker and Pearson, Patrick Nicholson, a veteran Ottawa political columnist, writes that he uncovered the economic outlook report and handed it over to Mr. Diefenbaker, who had ousted the Liberals from office in the June, 1957, election.

The report, prepared by civil servants for the Liberal government months before the election, forecast economic deterioration and worsening unemployment.

Mr. Nicholson, a veteran of more than 20 years in the Parliamentary Press Gallery, now with the Thomson newspaper, wrote that he gave the report to Mr. Diefenbaker in the fall of 1957 when the Liberal opposition was attacking the government for rising unemployment and bad times.

In the following January, Mr. Diefenbaker used the report in a devastating attack on Lester Pearson in a rebuttal to the newly-elected Liberal leader's call for the Conservative government's resignation in favor of the Liberals.

The prime minister accused the previous Liberal government of concealing the facts of the economic situation from the people.

Mr. Nicholson wrote that the speech left Mr. Pearson "ridiculed, disarmed and indeed already defeated" in the March 31, 1958, election that Mr. Diefenbaker called shortly after.

The Conservatives swamped the Pearson Liberals in the election, exchanging their minority of Commons seats for the greatest majority in Canadian history—208 of the 265 Commons seats.

Mr. Nicholson writes that he got his first inkling that the Louis St. Laurent Liberal government had received some kind of economic warning from Paul Martin, the veteran Liberal cabinet minister and now government leader in the Senate.

At a social conversation at Mr. Nicholson's home in July, 1957, the author quoted his friend as saying:

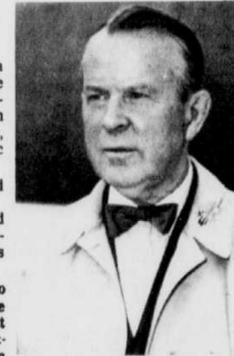

"It wouldn't be correct to say that we sought defeat in the election. But you know some of us were not sorry that we were defeated. We had been warned of trouble ahead—there will be a lot of unemployment this winter."

ASKED FOR FORECAST When he began checking a few months later, Mr. Nicholson turned up nothing until he made a deadpan request to the parliamentary secretary for Gordon Churchill, then trade minister, to see if there was an economic forecast in government files.

The secretary found it and handed it over.

Mr. Nicholson said he could not "properly publicize" the report in his column since it was a classified document.

Bertrand indicates the Union Nationale will make a bid for the English-speaking Montrealer's vote

MONTREAL (CP) — Premier Jean Jacques Bertrand indicated Monday that his Union Nationale party plans to make a determined bid for the votes of English-speaking Montrealers in campaigns in two key provincial by-elections Dec. 4.

The premier brought a strong delegation of cabinet ministers and MLAs with him to a news conference at which he announced that John Lynch-Staunton, a Montreal alderman, will be Union Nationale candidate in Montreal Notre-Dame-de-Grace, a Liberal stronghold which has never elected a Union Nationale member.

Among those present was Education Minister Jean-Guy Cardinal, party candidate for Bagot riding in the other Dec. 4 by-election.

Mr. Cardinal listened quietly as both Mr. Lynch-Staunton and the premier said parents have the right to choose English or French as the language of education for their children, a sore point with English-speaking Montrealers since a school crisis on the issue developed in the suburb of St. Leonard.

The St. Leonard Roman Catholic school board has replaced formerly bilingual Grade 1 classes with classes in French only, and plans to continue the change progressively through all seven elementary school grades. English-speaking parents in the suburb have set up their own Grade 1 classes in English for the children affected.

Mr. Lynch-Staunton, 38, is a fluent bilingual member of Mayor Jean Drapeau's Civic Party who has held his city council seat since 1960.

In addition to language rights in education, he stood for "a strong Quebec in a united Canada" and better understanding between the French and English cultures.

Mr. Bertrand replied "yes" when asked whether he shared his candidate's views on language rights, and added that government linguistic policy will be spelled out in detail soon, in the form of legislation.

The premier had named Mr. Lynch-Staunton himself because the Union Nationale association in NDG was "not structured" as in other ridings.

Also present at the news conference, although not among the Union Nationale group, was Egan Chambers.

Company-union agreement eases bus strike across the province

MONTREAL (CP) — A company-union agreement led Monday to partial easing of a bus strike that had affected wide areas of the province since early Saturday.

It came after a day in which about 120,000 regular users of suburban and inter-city bus lines across the province were inconvenienced by a strike of 800 drivers, mechanics and ticket sellers. Affected in the Montreal area alone were about 32,000 commuters.

The 800 work for eight bus companies. They went on strike early Saturday.

The agreement concerned 183 drivers who work for four of the companies involved in the strike. These drivers had not gone on strike subsequent to accepting a company offer Saturday.

The Union of Provincial Transport Employees, one of 10 involved in the strike, agreed to lift picket lines at company garages to permit the 183 drivers to take their buses out.

This partial resumption of service was expected to make buses available to at least 25,000 passengers in the province.

Stanfield criticizes PM's showing

HALIFAX (CP) — Opposition Leader Stanfield followed Prime Minister Trudeau here and took the federal government to task for what he called its "disappointing" showing since taking office.

He criticized the government for delays in getting food to Biafrans and for failing to present a balanced budget as had been predicted.

Mr. Stanfield's arrival here to suggest the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative association in his home riding of Halifax followed Mr. Trudeau's weekend visit to address provincial Liberals at their annual meeting.

The PC leader told a news conference Monday he is not suggesting the Canadian government take sides in the Nigeria conflict, but "it should show more initiative in getting food and supplies to the starving people."

He said the government should have made assistance available to the International Red Cross and other relief agencies at a much earlier date.

YIELDS SLOWLY The government's reaction has been "a gradual yielding to public opinion in Canada."

Mr. Stanfield also suggested Canada should have taken the lead in getting nations shipping arms to Nigeria to halt such shipments. Representation should have been made through the UN and directly to Britain, Russia and other arms-supplying nations, he said.

Canada should have been prepared to take the initiative at the UN in a search of a peaceful settlement of the war.

Shingles, Reactivation Of Chicken Pox Virus

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What causes shingles? Is it the same as herpes zoster? What does it look like? Is it serious? Is it contagious? What is the best treatment?

A—Shingles or herpes zoster is seen chiefly in adults who have had chicken pox. It is usually caused by a reactivation of the chicken pox virus after it has been quiescent for many years. The lesions, a series of painful blisters, follow the course of a nerve that runs close to the skin surface. Any part of the body may be involved.

Serious complications are very rare. The disease is contagious only in the period just before the blisters appear and during the first three days of the rash. The treatment consists in making the victim as comfortable as possible. Bed rest is not necessary. Aspirin and codeine are given for the pain. Bandaging the lesions after applying a thick layer of zinc oxide ointment greatly reduces the pain.

Q—I had a bad attack of shingles two years ago. It left the involved area scarred and the burning and itching are unbearable. What can I do to get relief?

A—This is a common problem. Shingles often leaves nerve endings trapped in the resulting scar tissue. This is a form of neuritis. If the discomfort is severe, cutting the affected nerve, or injecting it with hot water, will give relief. No other treatment is satisfactory.

Q—My blood pressure is about 105. Would that cause me to be cold and tired all the time?

A—An upper reading (systolic blood pressure) of 105 is not abnormally low and should augur a long life unless your doctor finds that it is caused by anemia or a thyroid deficiency. It would not cause you to feel cold or tired but the two diseases mentioned might.

Q—My blood pressure sitting is 130/90, but standing it drops to 60/32. I've been taking Dexamyl for two years. Is there any other drug that is better?

A—Since Dexamyl, an appetite suppressant, may cause an increase in your blood pressure, it is not the cause of your standing pressure falling to shock level. As it contains a barbiturate it may be habit-forming. Have your standing pressure checked again, try to keep your weight down by reducing your food intake and skip the drugs.

U.C.W. meets at Cookshire

COOKSHIRE — Mrs. S. McVetty entertained the U.C.W. of Trinity United Church at her home. The ladies were reminded to fill out their conveners' annual reports promptly, send them to Mrs. C. J. Hoy in Lennoxville by Jan. 10.

Plans were made to send for the allocation some good used Cub clothes and two plastic baby's pads to the Caughnawaga Indian Reserve.

The president, Mrs. D. J. Macmillan reported on the cost of an electric tank for the church kitchen, and it was decided to use the present arrangements until spring.

Tentative plans were made for arranging decorated booths for the Christmas sale on Dec. 7.

Mrs. D. A. Bellam will entertain the group on Nov. 6. The hostess served refreshments

Winter parking regulated

City council plunged into its first lengthy discussion this autumn about the problems caused by parked cars on city streets during snow removal operations.

After several ideas and suggestions were put on the table last night, council decided to accept South Ward alderman Carl Camirand's suggestion to remove snow on one side of a residential street one day and to clean the other side of the same street the next day or night.

This applies only to residential streets as council decided last night to prohibit parking on the city's principal streets at night when snow removal operations are in effect.

Signs prohibiting parking will be placed on the side of a residential street which will be cleaned.

Alderman Tony Pinard, head of the city's Public Works committee, was against Mr. Camirand's idea.

He told the South Ward alderman that the alternate day system would work well in the south and centre wards but that different problems faced West Ward residents.

Besides, he pointed out, the signs used to prohibit parking would cost between $15,000 and $20,000.

Mayor Nadeau closed the discussion when he opted in favor of the alternate day system and Mr. Camirand proposed that the resolution be adopted. Mayor Nadeau also informed Mr. Pinard that the signs would not cost the city $20,000.

Alderman Gaston Roy seconded the proposal and no amendments were made.

Before the acceptance of the plan, however, council studied reports submitted by city engineer Roger Charland.

Mr. Charland suggested that parking be prohibited on all streets during the night when there is snow on the ground.

His report stated this plan should be in effect between December 1 and March 31.

Mr. Pinard was in favor of the city engineer's suggestion and he urged council to take steps to force car owners to park their cars in their driveways, in garages or elsewhere.

He pointed out that some car owners park their cars in front of a neighbor's home and the snow plow cannot clear the side of the street and sidewalk in front of the neighbor's house.

Newly-elected alderman Marc Bureau was not in favor of forcing residents on all city streets to get their cars off the streets at night during the winter season.

He said that residents on some streets in his ward had no other place to park their cars except on the curbs. He cited Aberdeen Street as an example.

Alderman Gaston Roy proposed earlier in the evening that only the city's principal arteries be plowed during the winter.

He said the city was not obliged to remove the snow from residential streets but this idea was blasted by the other aldermen with a "Whoa, there, wait a minute."

He said parking on principal streets should be prohibited between midnight and 8 a.m.

Council slams secrecy lid on refinancing

Council went through its agenda rapidly last night, briefly discussing trucking, the various city committees' proposals, meetings with officials, Sacair and the refinancing of the city's deficit.

The agenda slated a discussion on the refinancing, requested by Alderman Romeo Quintal, but Mayor Armand Nadeau suggested that the subject be discussed during the contentious session, in committee, when taxpayers are barred.

Mr. Quintal said he had no objections to the mayor's proposal.

The city's deficit has been a hot subject in council chambers during recent weeks and this could be one of the reasons why Mayor Nadeau wanted to discuss the topic in secret.

Last week, Mayor Nadeau confronted city Budget Chief Marcel Savard with charges that Mr. Savard's approach to the city's budget and deficit was unrealistic.

Council decided to approve the city of Drummondville's request for Sherbrooke's support when Drummondville makes a bid to be granted the franchise

FORTIER AT LEGION

Msgr. Jean-Marie Fortier, Archbishop of Sherbrooke, will be the special speaker at the Armistice dinner of the Canadian Legion tonight at the Legion Home, Bowen Street South.

During the evening the archbishop will be inducted as an active member of Branch No.

for the projected international airport in Quebec.

Drummondville is very much like Sherbrooke, the mayor said.

The request was tabled last night by Alderman Tony Pinard.

The same request was made of council last week by officials of Farnham.

Tonight's gathering will be the first armistice dinner to be held by the members of Branch No. 10.

Preliminary plans for the Armistice Day observances call for an ecumenical service to be held in St. Michael's Basilica.

Sacair received council's approval to proceed with the construction of an airplane hanger. Last night was the second time the request had been on the agenda.

Council refused a request made by the Trucking Association of Quebec Inc. to allow delivery trucks to be parked in spaces allotted specifically as busstops.

The truckers have been warned by municipal police constables to remove their delivery trucks from the busstops.

Panel trucks used for delivery are allowed to park on Wellington Street any time of the day but larger delivery trucks have to be removed by 10:30 a.m. every day.

Scouting: for child and active adolescent

Children enjoy make-believe games. Since play is the child's way of learning, the Cub program is carefully planned to teach the boy as he plays.

Kipling's Jungle Stories provide a rich background of adventure and romance to which is added games, story-telling, play-acting handicrafts and singing.

Thus a program of character training has been developed which more than 40 years of use has proved fundamentally sound.

Baden-Powell said: "Play is the first great educator. We teach the Cubs small things through play which will eventually fit them for doing big things in the future."

The main idea of Cubbing is to prepare the small boy for Boy Scouting. This does not mean for one minute that those responsible should try to make the Cub into a mild edition of a Scout.

But it does mean you can train him to be alive, alert and interested in all around him. The aim of the Cubs and Boy Scouts is to develop a boy in a sense of obedience, which is the beginning of team spirit, so necessary to good Scouting.

In recent years the interest in Scouting has led to the foundation of another new and different branch of the world-wide organization.

After a boy has passed thru' the ranks of Cubs and Scouts in past years there were no other doors open to the youngster to continue his interest. From the hesitant steps in 1963 when the original "older boy" sections were formed, through the official announcement of a new program in October, 1966, to the vigorous strides of today's energetic youth, the Venturer program has had a short though exciting life.

What was until February of this year, a trial program, has grown into a full-fledged, nationally-accepted section of Canadian Scouting. One that is providing a new kind of interest for a new kind of Canadian youth.

For many people, the need to become involved with Venturing has been viewed with very little urgency. However, with the advent of Scouts 68, the revised program boy boys aged 11 to 14 introduced across the country last September, the urgency is much more apparent.

The Scouts 68 program makes no provision for boys beyond the age of 14, except for the phase-out period from September, 1968, to December 1969, which will permit older Scouts to finish work on badges of the old program.

After this period now comes Venturing. Venturing is a program designed to meet the needs of boys ages 14-17 who feel the urge to plan and carry out activities of their own choosing, in their own time and under the administration of their own div enturing troop.

But to achieve this aim while continuing the present high standard of Cubbing and Scouting in the area, money is needed.

Lennoxville begins revamping lighting system

The Town of Lennoxville has undertaken a plan to revamp its lighting system and the first sign of the new additions are visibly apparent on a number of the town's thoroughfares and streets.

Essentially the new lighting system provides for 70 new mercury vapour lights similar to those used in Sherbrooke but smaller, said Ken Herring, town secretary-treasurer, in a recent interview.

The lights though smaller, he said, are compact and therefore quite bright.

This, he said, is part of a continuing plan to revamp the town's lighting system.

When the installation began in the summer months the first phase of the town's plan was begun, he said. This was to brighten up the main arteries of the town, namely Queen St. St. Francis and Winder Streets. Having completed the first phase, the second or spreading phase has now begun.

The plan was devised by Southern Canada Power after an extensive survey was completed. The fact that Southern Canada Power has been defunct for some time shows that the plan has been around for a number of years.

The plan will be continued according to budget allowances, said Mr. Herring.

The cost of the project per year is estimated to be around $18,000.

The installations, authorized by council last summer, are being made by Hydro Quebec.

Bilingual arts group seeks new members

Claude Lafleur, director of the University of Sherbrooke's Art Centre announced recently the integration of the Association for the Advancement of the Arts into the framework of the Centre.

Mr. Lafleur explained the merging of the two organizations draws attention to the Association as "the indispensable link between the cultural life of our region and that of the Cite Universitaire."

The Association is primarily responsible for youth activities and recruiting procedures.

A tentative schedule of events at the Art Centre has been drawn up and includes a classical French cinema, "The Doors of Night," in November; and a conference on Borduas et Le Pefus Golbal, under the supervision of U of S Professor Bernard Tesseyre also slated for next month.

Among the singers who will be featured at the Art Centre in November are:

Marc Gellinas and Jocelyne Pascal, Jean-Guy Moreau and Jean Fortier, Claude Leveille and Andre Gagnon, Rene Claude and Stephane Venne, and Pierre Letourneau and Monique Brunet.

The Arts membership campaign is still seeking new members. Mrs. A. A. Dougan, is chairman of the English-speaking members of the Association for the Advancement of the Arts.

The English-speaking membership committee is comprised of Mrs. Eric Yarrill, Mrs. M. Boschi, Miss Enid Hopper, Mrs. Carl Covey and Mrs. Louis Rosenbloom.

Community Chest needs final minute support

The Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Community Chest campaign is in its final stages and substantial assistance is still required from the residents of the two communities if the drive is to go over the top by the time the books close on Thursday night.

Combined agencies participating in the drive carry on a valuable work among the people of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville.

None needs any reminder of the activities of the Boy Scouts in the field of the development of a healthy atmosphere, physical, mental and moral, among the youth.

The Sherbrooke and Lennoxville Libraries each offer a means of education and enjoyment for the English-language readers, with special facilities being provided for the young people — youths and children — who can now enjoy the facilities of these institutions without charge.

The Y.M.C.A. - Y.W.C.A. have played an important role in community life for decades and the recent co-ordination of their activities markedly improves the services being made available by the group.

The work of the Sherbrooke Welfare Agency may be less exciting, being directed to easing the suffering among the less fortunate portion of the community, but it is of no less importance in the creation of that just society for which most Canadians hope.

Set at $25,000, the objective asked this year barely covers the anticipated financial requirements of the various agencies and unless the people of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville provide the deficit within the next few days, there must be a curtailment of their activities.

There's something about Halloween that escapes us — usually the kid who rings the doorbell and runs.

Inflation nothing new

To many people inflation is something that was born within the past few years and to others it originated in Germany in the grim years following World War I.

But recent archaeological discoveries offer the disconcerting news that many centuries before the Christian era, Croesus, the richest man on earth, whose name through the centuries has been the very epitome of wealth, and probably the first man to introduce coinage, deliberately debased his gold coinage.

Archaeologists who recently discovered his gold refinery at his fabulous capital of Sardis, found that some of the gold used there contained bits of silver.

One may wonder if this incredibly wealthy ruler was forced to resort to inflation to finance his wars.

Over the centuries it has been proved that wars are expensive and the infusion of a bit of silver in the gold coins may have provided Croesus with the funds required to pay those archers forever demanding higher wages.

Currency, wars and inflation seem to provide an eternal triangle.

No sooner is currency invented than Croesus invents inflation.

The archaeologists do not tell us whether the inflation discovered in ancient Lydia was of the "safe" two per cent variety or whether it was a galloping one.

But for what it is worth, those who decry the shrinking value of the dollar should realize that inflation has been with us for a very, very long time.

The best thing to take for a hangover headache is less of what caused it.

Turn gloomy

Vietnam peace settlement is an on again off again affair

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

One day the signs of a negotiated Vietnam peace settlement look good and businessmen rush to their brokers with buying and selling orders.

The next day the portents turn gloomy and the markets go into an agonizing reappraisal.

For many industries, the war in Vietnam is more than a moral question. It is an important economic issue. It is a plain question of whether they can survive in peace.

As the American presidential campaign draws closer to the Nov. 5 election, the signs indicate President Johnson would like nothing better than to be able to announce a truce, perhaps for his own prestige as well as to boost the chances of the Democratic presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey.

Reports that something is afoot have swept the world, heightened by Johnson's own indications that a major diplomatic effort has been launched to loosen the deadlocked Paris preliminary peace talks.

MIGHT HALT BOMBING

Any day now, the world might see the United States announce a complete halt in Vietnam bombing, perhaps accompanied by some minor concession from the North, although Hanoi gives no indication it is prepared to yield any ground.

But if truce comes and a settlement appears imminent, what of the defence industries and the Asian economies whose strength appear to depend on American outpourings in Vietnam?

When peace talks began in Paris last May, one business publication aired the prospect of "a real threat" of peace. The "threat" was in a likely reduction in American arms spending as well as all the ancillary items required to prop up a walloping regime.

There appears to be little doubt that peace will require economic adjustment not only in the U.S. but in such countries as Japan which have found certain Asian markets well stocked with American cash.

A special American task force has been working on ways of making an orderly transition. There undoubtedly will be some jolts. But to some extent the war has been borne by restraints in the American home market, including credit curbs, higher interest rates and higher taxes.

Different backgrounds

Role of missionary is changing

TORONTO (CP) — The role of the missionary is changing, judging by appointments made in 1967 by the board of world missions of the United Church of Canada.

The 40 missionaries appointed last year included an engineer, a builder, an agriculturalist, several nurses and doctors, teachers, a well-driller, a machinist, a business administrator and a laboratory technician.

Their mission is to contribute their skills in teaching others, not primarily to convert non-Christians.

But Rev. Norman H. MacKenzie, personnel secretary of the board, says: "Spiritual motivation is still the first requirement for any of our overseas staff."

Among those appointed for 1968 is Harry Graves of Toronto, member of Fairlawn United Church.

In June Mr. Graves will retire from the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada as supervising installation foreman. On July 1, he will begin an orientation course and he and his wife will go to Zambia, Africa, to work at Senaga Hospital.

Mr. Graves will be the electrician and general maintenance man of all equipment and buildings while Mrs. Graves will do secretarial and accounting work.

FILL DIVERSE ROLES
Rev. Tadashi Mitsui, 35, and his wife came to Canada 10 years ago from Japan. About Aug. 1, they will leave Vancouver, where he is associate minister of Renfrew United Church, for Lesotho, South Africa.

After being seconded to the Paris Evangelical Mission, he will do pastoral work among African congregations.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Gough, members of Iondale Heights

United Church in Toronto, leave in May or June for Nairobi, Kenya. Mr. Gough, 23, a television technician with the CBC, will contribute his skill to the All African Conference of Churches.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room

Said Thomas . . . unto his fellow disciples. Let us also go, that we may die with him. (John 11:16)

PRAYER: O God, so fill us with Thy spirit and power that enthusiasm and courage may be added to our discipleship. Strengthen us to follow the Master and to do Thy will anywhere. Amen.

Bygone days

TEN YEARS AGO

Some 50 farmers swelled the ranks of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night for the annual rural-urban meeting held at the Brampton Road Community Hall.

Rotarian Bart Holtham entertained the group with witty reminiscences and occasional serious facts on the part electricity has played in our lives, touching on items from the old carbon street lights to the latest "efficient" electrical household gadgets.

He was introduced by Rotarian Alex Ross and thanked by Warren Ross.

President Ivan Saunders conducted a brief business meeting when he announced that final net receipts of the Rotary Fair had topped last year's figures and were $8,659.33.

A turkey supper served by the Women's Institute members was enjoyed prior to the meeting.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Jacques Beaucage, Eastern Townships representative for the National Film Board, was the guest speaker at the regular weekly dinner meeting of the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club held at the New Sherbrooke Hotel last night.

"The National Film Board is interested in documentary films on safety, industry, music art, scenic beauty, natural resources and other educational subjects," he said.

"Canada is the only country with a National Film Board. Film libraries are being organized across Canada. The Sherbrooke Film Council was organized in 1950.

"There are some 350 film councils in Canada and they work voluntarily to promote the showing of these documentary films."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

John A. Fuller, vice-president and director of Shawinigan Water and Power Company, addressed the Eastern Townships Chapter of the Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants at the St. George's Club last evening.

Mr. Fuller maintained that it is our problem to support and uphold the rights of free enterprise, which brings with it unlimited competition and advancement.

He said that our economic system with its high labor demands, and our tax profit are such that there is little incentive for capital investment, without which the road is open to communism and socialism.

H. Moffatt introduced the speaker, while J. Grundy thanked Mr. Fuller for his address.

Guests in attendance included E. W. Gilbey, George Davidson, E. Campbell, M. Barter, E. C. Finch, P. M. Poops, K. S. Jackson, E. Taylor, D. Grayton and C. Vaughan.

COMMENT

by Lubor J. Zink

OTTAWA — (TNS) — Two Trudeau and Kene Levesque. Trudeau stands for political unity with linguistic and cultural diversity; Levesque preaches political separation for the sake of Quebec's survival in linguistic and cultural unity.

These are the basic options of future development offered to us by two Quebecers — Pierre

Accusations

In arguing their cases the two one-time close friends and intellectual mainsprings of Quebec's "quiet revolution" accuse one another of reviving outmoded patterns of the past.

Says Mr. Trudeau: "Those who argue for separation, in whatever form, are prisoners of past injustice, blind to the possibilities of the future."

Says Mr. Levesque: "He (Trudeau) has reactivated an old illusion. But he has not demonstrated anything up to now except that he was elected on that (bas'is), more or less."

Having indeed been elected, "more or less," on that basis, Trudeau enjoys an enormous advantage over Levesque. As the leader of a majority Federal Government, Mr. Trudeau has the power and the means for translating a good part of the bilingual one-state concept into a legislative framework.

As the leader of a new political party in Quebec, Mr. Levesque's power base does not so far extend much beyond his faith in the attractiveness of his nationalistic survival-through-self-determination formula.

Mr. Trudeau recognizes the potential pull of the Levesque doctrine in Quebec, and the predictable reaction to it in English-speaking Canada. "In all parts of the country," he says, "with in both language groups, there are those who call for uniformity. It will be simpler and cheaper, they argue. In the case of the French minority, isolation is prescribed as necessary for survival."

And he warns: "We must never underestimate the strength or the durability of these appeals to profound human emotions."

To counter the linguistic part of the danger of nationalistic fragmentation, the Prime Minister has taken the first step in an effort to make the whole country officially bilingual.

He has introduced in the Commons the Official Languages Bill which embodies the major recommendations of the first volume of the Bi-Bi Commission report. Assured of an easy passage, the bill defines the rights of French-speaking citizens to deal with Federal institutions in their mother tongue in any part of Canada where they are numerous enough (the tentative criterion is 10 per cent) to be a viable group.

This measure is the initial part of what will have to be a joint Federal-provincial endeavor to help make the French-speakers feel at home outside Quebec.

Mr. Levesque believes that this is a wild goose chase. In his opinion the pockets of French-speakers outside Quebec — with the possible exception of what he calls "the Acadian fact" — are for all practical intents and purposes "a dead duck."

"They were built," he says, "out of very poor people that came out of Quebec for small jobs all over Canada. . . . Their so-called cultural survival was based on a very tight and close-knit parish life of the ancient times."

"This is all over now (so) the younger people in those minorities, if they have any kind of education, know damned well they're going to be in a very mobile (English-speaking) labor market. . . . and they tell us: 'Have an immigration policy for Quebec that brings us back. This is the only way we can remain French. But not staying here!'"

In other words, Mr. Levesque is convinced that no amount of official bilingualism can counteract the assimilation pressures of the economic imperative of English-speaking North America. Hence his readiness to write off the French minorities and concentrate on separating Quebec from the Federal structure, because, as he sees it, only an independent Quebec can provide a sufficiently strong socio-economic entity for the survival of the "French fact" on this continent.

There is logic in this reasoning, assuming that its premise of the inevitability of irresistible homogenizing economic pressures in a politically integrated industrial society of "deux nations" is correct.

There comes a time in most men's lives when a guaranteed income is more important than the hope of capital gain.

And that's exactly what annuities from Manufacturers Life offer. They provide an automatic, guaranteed income for life.

People have asked us many questions about annuities in the past. Important questions such as: Can I arrange for some of the money to be returned to my estate if I die early? Is there an annuity that will transfer the income to my wife if she outlives me? How do annuities affect my income tax? Is an annuity a practical way of supplementing Canada Pension Plan and other retirement income?

To provide you with the answers we have published an easy-to-read, easy-to-understand booklet called "Annuities . . . the key to a golden age." It's yours for the asking, without obligation. Just fill in and return the coupon above. And if you would like to discuss annuities with someone, you couldn't find a better person to talk to than the Man from Manufacturers.

SAFETY-WISE — For the second year, Knowlton High School students have the opportunity of taking professional driving lessons. Above

Knowlton teens learn rules of the road

KNOWLTON (Special) — For the second year in succession the students of Knowlton High School have again been offered the opportunities of receiving professional driving lessons, thanks to the time and effort that has been put into this project by the qualified driving instructor, Daryl Hayes.

As last year, this course is open to all students of Knowlton High School over the age of 16, in Grades 9, 10, and 11.

The first day's instruction took place Saturday October 19, and will continue for the prescribed period. The course consists of 24 hours of classroom instruction, and 21 hours actual driving lessons on the road. One of the advantages offered the students on completion of this course is a 10 per cent deduction in insurance costs, and they may obtain a driver's license at 16 years old instead of the customary 17 years.

The students receive a comprehensive and very detailed instruction on all aspects of summer and winter driving, the highway code, elementary mechanical knowledge, insurance requirements, physical aptitude tests, defensive and sportsmanship in driving, courtesy, and also many of the dangers that will face all young drivers. Instructor Hayes holds the necessary qualifications from the Quebec Department of Transport. Mr. Hayes is well qualified and gives many hours of his spare time from teaching, to give his students the best possible start on the road. The financial arrangements are undertaken by the District of Bedford Regional School Board, who pay the necessary insurance for the car and students. This entire project would not be possible if it were not for the kindness of Deragon Auto Inc., of Cowansville, who have loaned a brand new dual control Ford car for the course. While Mr. Hayes sits bravely beside his students, he has the power to stop the car and switch off the engine should such an emergency arise.

Bedford

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Blinco have returned from North Norwalk, Conn., where they spent the holiday weekend, guests of the former's sister, Mrs. L. McQuarade and Mr. McQuarade.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson spent the Thanksgiving weekend in Lennoxville to visit their son, Peter, a student at Bishop's College School.

Mr. John McCaw, who has spent the past weeks, on a trip through Canada, has returned to Bedford, and is with his parents.

Missisquoi Chapter IODE receives reports on finances, scholarships

BEDFORD — The meeting of Missisquoi Chapter IODE was held on Oct. 7 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Oakes, with Mrs. Lennox Ames and Mrs. Lewis Bockus as hostesses.

The regent, Mrs. Lennox Ames, opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Hannibal Shelus, treasurer, reported a balance of $89.28, with expenditures of $29.04 for provincial fees and $16.96 for calendars.

Educational secretary, Mrs. Cyril Chrysler, reported that the Chapter's bursary of $75 had been awarded to Miss Patsy Palmer, who is taking a secretarial course at the Knowlton High School and that $15 had been awarded to the Stanbridge East schools for the IODE cross-country run, in which scholars from both the English and French schools participated, both of which were presented by the educational secretary.

Mrs. Shelus reported that 48 pairs of spectacles had been sent to the Sir Charles Tupper Chapter in Vancouver. Mrs. Richard Craighead, services at home and abroad, reported shipment, valued at $57.35, containing quilts, magazines and knitted articles that had been sent to the IODE House, Montreal.

The Chapter was pleased to have at this meeting, the following provincial officers: Provincial president, Mrs. Hayden; first vice-president, Mrs. L. Ferguson; treasurer, Mrs. L. Roodhouse; educational secretary, Mrs. Dobson; publicity, Mrs. White; third vice-president, Mrs. Richard Rowat and councillor, Mrs. John Gibbs. The regent welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Hayden congratulated the Chapter, which has a membership of 21 for their excellent work. Special mention was made of the excellent scrap book of the Chapter's activities, prepared by Mrs. F. E. Best, and which has been given to the Provincial Chapter. Mrs. Hayden said how much scrap books were appreciated in giving the history of chapters.

Mrs. Roodhouse spoke of the importance of the calendar sales, the proceeds of which are used to carry on educational work among Indian and Eskimo children.

Mrs. Rowat, a former resident of Bedford, expressed her pleasure at being present as also did Mrs. John Gibbs. Mrs. White distributed the new IODE booklet, now printed in both French and English, and asked that the former booklets be destroyed. She also spoke of various methods of bringing the work of the IODE before the public.

The annual food and sale of knitted articles of Missisquoi Chapter will be held in the Laundromat on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 7.

Mrs. Hayden expressed the appreciation of herself and the provincial officers for an enjoyable visit.

The serving of refreshments brought the meeting to a close. Tea was poured by Mrs. Neil Creller, the tea table being centered with an arrangement of autumn flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Deforest Judd, John and Judy Judd, motored to Amesbury, Mass., for a visit with Mrs. Judd's sister, Mrs. Noyes Eldred, and family. They also called on Rev. and Mrs. David Asel, and family, Newburyport, Mass. They returned home on Oct. 11. On Oct. 12 Mr. and Mrs. Richard Judd, and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Schillgalies and family, all of Chateaugay, Mrs. Joe Sculnik, and children, Chomey, Mr. and Mrs. David Royea and family, Richmond, Vt., attended a family gathering at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Deforest Judd, prior to Mr. John Judd leaving on Oct. 14, to join the R.C.M. at C.F.B. Cornwallis, N.S., where he will be in training for the next five years.

Among those calling on Mrs. R. E. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. George Allen were Mr. Archie Burnet and Miss Muriel Burnet, Cowansville, Mr. and Mrs. John Foss, Morrisville, Vt. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Webster, Montreal.

Mrs. A. C. Carter and Mrs. Wayne Johnston were guests at the Trousseau Tea held at the home of Mrs. Fred Marsh, Waterloo, for her daughter, Janet, whose marriage, took place on Oct. 12 in St. Luke's Church.

Mr. Norman English was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Williams, while here to close his summer home before leaving to spend the winter in Hollywood, Fla.

Friends here regretted to learn of the death of Mrs. Harold Campbell. Sympathy is being extended to her family and to her only sister, Mrs. Wilfred Allen.

ROMULUS AND WOLF — he shot with his 12 gauge shotgun October 23rd. It's believed wolves have been killing sheep in the area. Romulus Mitchell, Bolton Centre, is seen with the wolf

Romulus gets a wolf who might have been after a tasty sheep

BOLTON CENTER (Special) — The farm of Mr. K. Thompson, Austin, where sheep are raised, has been plagued by wolves recently.

There has been a loss of sheep, so a group of men gathered together to try to eliminate these wolves to no avail.

Romulus Mitchell of Bolton Center, drove to Austin, October 23, to pick up his mother, Mrs. Harold Mitchell of Bolton Center, who was visiting a few days with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Lachapelle.

Mr. Mitchell saw a wolf in the road, stopped his car and took after him on the Thompson farm, and got him with his 12-gauge shot gun.

It is hoped that the rest of the pack will soon be eliminated. Maria Bay

Cowansville residents rap hospital policy

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Many Cowansville residents of French extraction have expressed their dissatisfaction with the monolingual practices of the Brome-Missisquoi - Perkins Hospital.

A number of the people who voiced their unhappiness said that they could understand why some of the nurses were monolingual, but they felt that there was no good reason why employees in the reception area could not be bilingual.

Many felt that the situation will become more pronounced when the expanded facilities are opened.

Joseph A Ritchie, Hospital Administrator, said "we have some long service employees who are not bilingual, but we are replacing them when they leave our service with fluently bilingual personnel."

"We have always considered the Hospital to be bilingual," said Mr. Ritchie, "to the best of my knowledge we have only one monolingual switchboard operator, and she was here long before I arrived 10 years ago".

Mr. Ritchie said "it is a problem that works both ways, and we hope that the usual spirit of cooperation that existed in the past will be continued. In the meantime we will try and use everything at our disposal to alleviate any language problems."

Labrador dog wins top award over 45 other competing dogs

WEST BROME — (Staff) — Mi Cris Drambuie, a four-and-half-year-old Black Labrador Male, owned by Barry Clute, London, Ontario, is the 1968 Canadian National Retriever Champion.

Jake Baird, manager of Brome Stages Kennels, trained the dog in Florida last spring, and at the kennels here this summer. Mr. Baird said that 45 top dogs from Canada and the United States competed in the trials at Regina, earlier this month.

Mr. Baird said that the dog was handled by his owner, and was near perfect throughout the trials. "Nobody came anywhere near him," Mr. Baird said.

Wayne Irvin Barnes marries Suzanne Graul of Westmount

STANSTEAD — The marriage of Linda Suzanne Graul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Graul, 528 Grosvenor Avenue, Westmount, to Wayne Irvin Barnes, of Edmonton, Alberta, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Barnes, of Rock Island, took place recently in Christ church here.

Rev. R. W. Peirce officiated for the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Alfred Middleton played the organ music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Lawrence Goodsell. The church was decorated with gladioli and mixed summer flowers. The guest pews were marked with white satin ribbon bows and blue and purple bachelor buttons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie with chantilly lace trim, featuring a rolled collar embroidered with seed pearls, long sleeves, and a chapel train draped from the shoulders. Her veil of tulle illusion was held in place by tulle roses embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of miniature mums and pink sweetheart roses, entwined with ivy.

Pamela Hellyer, as maid of honor, Bonnie and Cheryl Graul, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Sutton, as bridesmaids, were gowned alike in floor-length royal purple worster. The skirts were designed with matching sashes buckled at the back, and the bodices of mauve chiffon featured ruffles edging the long sleeves and V necklines. They wore matching purple flowers in their hair. The maid of honor carried a colonial of white singles in shaded purple and mauve, while the bridesmaids carried nosegays of shades blending with the mauves and purples.

Morgan Barnes was best man for his brother and the ushers were Russell Graul, brother of the bride, George Barnes, brother of the groom, Tom Frapper and Paul Sutton. The bride's mother wore a dress of silk chiffon in shades of mallard blue, purple and gold, a matching velvet turban hat and accessories with a corsage of purple gladioli tips. The groom's mother chose a dress of gaelic green silk chiffon over printed taffeta, designed with full pleated sleeves. She also wore a matching green feathered hat and accessories as well as a corsage of yellow gladioli tips.

The reception was held at Hatley Inn, North Hatley, where tables were arranged on the lawn terrace. The bride's table was centered with a triple-tiered wedding cake, decorated in white with roses and was flanked by white candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes left by car to spend a few days in the New England States before returning to Edmonton, Alberta, where they are residing. The bride traveled in an off-white all wool coat-dress, a shocking pink hat, navy blue accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Guests attended from Australia, Edmonton, Alta., Montreal, Westmount, Sherbrooke, Toronto, and Hamilton, Ont., Stanhope, Hatley, and Boundary Villages.

The evening preceding the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Barnes were host and hostess for a dinner held at the Dufferin Heights Golf Club following the rehearsal at Christ church. The dinner was attended by the couple, their attendants and the immediate families.

The bride and groom exchanged personal gifts, while the bride presented a gold locket to the maid of honor and pendants to the bridesmaids. Mr. Barnes presented cuff links to his best man and the ushers.

Pretty floral motif for the Norris-Cote wedding

ROCK ISLAND — Pink and white gladioli and mums were used to decorate the chancel of Our Lady of Mercy church here for the recent wedding of Colette Joanne Cote, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Cote of Rock Island to Brian Norris, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Norris of Newport Center, Vt.

Rev. George Guay, parish priest, officiated for the nuptial double-ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by Dr. Gilles Morin, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride was escorted to the Altar on the arm of her father in a floor-length gown of white peau de soie and rose-point lace featuring a lace Empire bodice with elbow length sleeves and topped with a matching lace sleeveless manteau designed with scallops down the front opening. Her bouffant illusion veil was held in place by a cap of tulle and pearl blossoms. She carried a muf of red sweetheart roses.

Mr. Norris stood as witness for his son and the ushers were Jean Paul Cote, brother of the bride, and Arlen Macie. The bride's mother was wearing a Tricoza knit in a camel beige with brown flowers featuring gold and brown embroidery. Her feathered hat matched and she wore brown accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The groom's mother was in a persian blue dress and full-length coat ensemble. She wore toning accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception was held at Rockcliffe where a dinner was served to 125 guests. The bride's table was arranged with the tiered wedding cake, made and decorated in white by Mrs. Horace Doyon. Gold and yellow mums flanked the cake. During the dinner and later for dancing the Mrs. Lise Flanders rendered the organ music.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris left by car for their wedding trip to Niagara Falls and other points with the New England States. Upon their return they will reside in Newport Center. The bride traveled in a sheath dress topped with a matching jacket in melon colored wool with fur cuffs on the three-quarter-length sleeves. She wore black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Among the guests were relatives and friends from Webster, Mass.; Nashua and Hooksett, N.H.; Montreal, Asbestos and Boundary

ALDRESHOT CHAPTER IODE

The October meeting of the Aldershot Chapter, IODE, was at the home of the Regent, Mrs. H. Y. Durrant with an excellent attendance.

Mrs. Russell Wheeler, the chapter delegate to the semi-annual provincial meeting, held recently at the Airport Hilton, Montreal, reported on the proceedings at the meeting.

Final plans for the chapter's Christmas salad tea, which will be held at IODE House Nov. 9, were made. It was decided to have a gift table as well as the usual Christmas and greeting cards.

It was also decided to have a rummage sale at Trinity Church Hall Nov. 14, if possible, and all members were requested to attend. Anyone having rummage is asked to telephone the Regent, Mrs. Durrant at 562-1892 for a pick-up.

The members also agreed to have a Christmas party in December preceded by a Sherry party. The specific date was left open until the chapter's November meeting.

Reports were given by various convenors and later refreshments were served by the hostess.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Xi Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its regular meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Herring in Lennoxville.

With Mrs. G. Armstrong presiding, the meeting began with the opening ritual. Mrs. E. Prince read the minutes of the last meeting; the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Peter Lagasse. Correspondence from the president, M. Cotton, and Mrs. G. Blanchette was read. Mrs. G. Curphey and Mrs. J. Lacroix are in charge of arrangements for the annual fall banquet to be held Nov. 4.

In lieu of a program, the evening was spent discussing further plans for the 27th anniversary celebration of the organization of a Beta Sigma Phi chapter in Sherbrooke. Mrs. G. Curphey won the door prize which was donated by Mrs. S. Hansford.

ST. PAUL'S GUILD

The regular meeting of St. Paul's Guild met in the church Hall, following a recent rummage sale. President Mrs. Florence Lord opened the meeting with the guild prayer. Ten members answered the roll call and two visitors were welcomed.

Mrs. A. Stanford gave the financial report on the card Party that was held Oct. 17 as well as the rummage sale. Both were reported satisfactory.

Another card party is to be held in the hall Thursday at 2 p.m.

The meeting was brought to a close with prayer and tea was served by the members — Next meeting will be held Nov. 6.

Try cheese cake with a tangy French flavor

Unusual cheese cake from France.

In a book on regional French cooking, "Les Plats Regionaux" by Austin de Croze, a chapter is devoted to the Savoie region.

This chapter has a recipe for an unusual cheese cake totally unlike the ones with which we are familiar. It is made with goat cheese and reblochon (both indigenous to that region), plus come from the Franche-Comte area near the Jura Mountains, and flecked with tiny pieces of ham. It is rich with the moist goodness of all three cheeses, neither cake nor bread, neither sweet nor salty, but interesting and delectable. This cheese cake should stand for 24 hours before cutting. This bread-cake has excellent keeping qualities. It is superb spread with fresh country butter and served with piping hot coffee.

GATEAU DE FROMAGE CHEVRE

2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour

- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup butter
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 cup milk
- 2 4-oz. goat cheeses, coarsely shredded
- 1/2 cup grated come or reblochon cheese
- 1/2 cup diced ham
- 2 teaspoons baking powder

Combine flour, salt and confectioners' sugar in a saucepan. Add shortening, butter, egg yolks and milk. Blend well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly for 10 minutes or until shortening and butter are melted and dough is thick. Cool. Beat in cheeses, ham and baking powder. Spoon mixture into well-greased 1 1/2-quart decorative mold. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) for 40 to 45 minutes or until richly browned. Unmold and cool. Cut into thin wedges and serve with whipped butter. Serves 8 to 10.

He needn't be a musical genius

TORONTO (CP) — A child doesn't need to be a musical genius to enjoy and benefit from music lessons. It does help if he is interested, though, and not taking them merely because his parents consider it the thing to do.

Lloyd Queen says an average age for starting lessons is seven, when the child has had a year at school and, among other things, learned to read. Some children can and do start younger.

"But perhaps the best time is when the child is really interested, when you have motivation and the kid is keen. If the parents are paying for lessons because it's the done thing, you won't get too far."

"There is a difference between parents who want to provide lessons because it's a status symbol, and those who want to because they love music. Those parents will expose a child to music by encouraging him to listen for appreciation, even if there isn't the opportunity to offer lessons."

Mr. Queen is assistant supervisor of music curriculum for the Ontario department of education.

HARD TO ASSESS

He says aptitude and potential are difficult to assess, and shouldn't worry the average pupil unduly. There are aptitude tests, but Mr. Queen says he doubts their value and considers some of them nothing but sales gimmicks.

"I still think interest is the main thing. Most people have some musicality, only a very few really have a tin ear. I don't think people should think so much in terms of going on to Grade 8 or conservatory degrees. The important thing is what does music do for the child. We believe everyone can benefit from music."

Mr. Queen says the piano is a good basic instrument to learn on, unless or until a child expresses a preference for something else or shows abilities or inabilities that might make another instrument more suitable. He suggests that the best way to find a teacher is to ask people with experience of them until you find one considered satisfactory.

Once a child is taking lessons, both teacher and parents can do a number of things to foster a continuing interest.

"One of the hazards is playing by yourself all the time. You feel no one is interested."

"Don't kill his interest just because he can't play the piano."

What service does so much and costs so little?

In two months, electricity can wash 3,600 plates, cups and saucers, thousands of pots and pans, knives and forks . . . toast 480 slices of bread . . . wash, dry and iron hundreds of laundry items . . . not to mention lighting, radio, and television.

In two months, electricity does all of these things for less than 25 cents a day.

When electricity is turned on . . . Drudgery is turned off.

Make total comfort a reality with electricity . . . The Biggest Bargain in Your Family Budget.

PATRICK: Leslie and Mary are happy to announce the arrival of their chosen daughter, Kelly Ann. A sister for Stephen.

Birth

BURT—Ralph and Virginia (nee Lockwood) proudly announce the birth of a daughter, Patricia Anne, at the Catherine Booth Hospital, on Oct. 24, 1968. Both well.

Trek west

REGINA — (CP) — The federal housing inquiry trekled west into Saskatchewan today with plaintive appeals from Manitoba's slum - housed natives and Winnipeg home-hunters fresh in their memories.

Submissions prepared for the inquiry team in Regina seek less erratic housing programs and a squarer deal for the Prairies—in essence the same refrain heard in Winnipeg.

Advance pay

OTTAWA — (CP) — The government's proposed increase in advance payments on farm-store grain will land farmers perpetually in debt unless they can sell more grain, an Alberta MP charged in the Commons Monday.

Jack Horner PC—Crowfoot, a wheat farmer, said a new maximum advance of $6,000 could not be repaid in one year as long as the wheat board purchases only six bushels per acre from the farmer.

Held up plans

MONTREAL — (CP) — Guy Guerin, president of Radio Quebec, said Monday the federal government's failure so far to grant a licence to the newly-formed provincial educational broadcasting system has held up plans to get the station on the air this year.

Mr. Guerin told a service club here that Radio Quebec now is engaged in partial production only but "1969 should be a year of full production."

The former judge of the Quebec Sessions Court declined to discuss the constitutional aspects involved in the licence issue, but said "organization of a coherent telemedia system is necessary to the very life of Quebec."

THEFTORD, EXPO, TO LAVAL — Laval University and mining industry officials looked on, October 24, as a crane eased the big 45-ton asbestos ore sample, featured at Expo 67 and Man and His World, into position as the centrepiece for the university's geological garden beside the Pollack Pavilion. The garden contains samples of all minerals mined in the Province. Moving the giant boulder from Montreal to Quebec City and installing it on its base took two full days to complete.

Campus 'rocked' by big asbestos ex-Expo display

QUEBEC — The campus of Quebec City's Laval University was "rocked" October 24 by the arrival from Man and His World of the world's biggest sample of chrysotile asbestos ore.

The 45-ton mineral block that was presented to the university's geological garden had served as the centerpiece for the Asbestos Plaza on Ile Notre-Dame this year and during Expo 67. It came from the Normand Mine in Thetford Mines.

In its two-year existence beside the mini-rail, it has become probably the most looked at mineral sample in the world.

The Asbestos Plaza was sponsored by the Quebec Asbestos Mining Association. The group presented the huge ore sample, complete with underwater illumination system and asbestos-cement gargoyles, to organizers of the geological garden, located beside the Pollack Pavilion.

National Resources Minister Paul Allard officially opened the garden last month.

Installed in the centre of a pool, into which it will gush water, the giant chrysotile asbestos boulder will act as a focal point for the garden that houses samples of ore mined throughout Quebec.

As a result, mineral exhibits in the Laval University garden now span the geological alphabet from Asbestos to Zinc.

Asbestos industry officials point out the asbestos block was removed from Man and His World to honor a pledge made to Laval University in early 1967. That was well before Mayor Jean Drapeau announced plans to transform Expo 67 into a permanent exhibition.

Despite its solid appearance, the block of chrysotile asbestos

St. James ACW reviews activities, plans Nov. 15 Christmas sale, tea

BEDFORD — The opening meeting of the A.C.W. of St. James Church for the fall season was held Oct. 9 in the parish hall. The meeting was opened with prayer by the rector, Rev. J. W. Sparling. The president, Mrs. John Ewing, welcomed members after the summer's recess.

During the summer, activities of the A.C.W. included the serving of the graduation banquet for the high school graduates, a farewell party for Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Trickey and the reception for the new rector, following his induction, attended by 200 guests.

A report by the treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Baglow, showed a balance of $443. A bill for $78.54 for the society's adopted child in Hong Kong was ordered paid.

The Christmas sale and tea will be held on Nov. 15 in the church hall from 3:30 to 6 p.m. Among those in charge of the various sales tables are: Mrs. Jack Paton, nearly new table; food table the Misses Ileen and Dorothy Ewing; sewing and knitting, Mrs. P. Brown, Mrs. Richard Craighead, Mrs. Roy Cook and Mrs. John Ewing, who will also be in charge of the ticket sales; Mrs. George Harland will look after tickets at the door; Mrs. W. H. Baglow, Christmas decorations; tea Mrs. Wayne Miller, Mrs. Adolphe Greenwood and Mrs. Earl Bockus.

The church calendars, now on sale, are in charge of Mrs. R. Van Horn, Mrs. Alfred Nicholson and Mrs. Allan Palmer. Ten dollars was voted to the Poppy Fund. Two dozen cups and saucers at a cost of $12.25 are to be purchased and $10 was voted to the Bible Society.

The rummage sale will be held on Oct. 26 in the parish hall, opening at 9 a.m., pick up of articles will take place on October 25 in the afternoon and will be marked and sorted the same day. Mrs. Jack Paton and Mrs. John Fope are in charge of the sale.

Those desiring subscriptions to the Living Message are asked to contact the secretary.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Wayne Miller, Mrs. Adolphe Greenwood and Mrs. Earl Bockus.

Guild meets

BROOKBURY — A meeting of St. John's Ladies Guild was held recently at Willowdale by Mrs. Ibrey Batley and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Mackenzie. Twelve members were present and two visitors, who joined the Guild.

A sunshine basket, prepared earlier, was presented to Mrs. Morrison, who has been ill. Plans were discussed for holding a baked bean supper later, but no definite decision was made as to time or place.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the meeting.

Notice of Amendment

Construction Industry Eastern Townships

Pursuant to the provisions of the Collective Agreement Decrees Act (RSQ 1964, c. 143), the Honourable Maurice Bellemare, Minister of Labour, hereby gives notice that the contracting parties to the collective labor agreement respecting the Construction Industry and Trades in the Eastern Townships District (made binding by Decree number 122 of February 29, 1956, as amended) have petitioned him to submit the following amendments to the said decree to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for consideration and decision:

Sections 1 through 103 will be superseded by the following:

"PART ONE"

General provisions applicable to all employees

Section 1. Territorial jurisdiction:

1.01 The territorial jurisdiction of the present decree, known as the "Eastern Townships District", encompasses the electoral districts of Sherbrooke, Compton, Frontenac, Stanstead, Richmond and Wolfe.

Section 2. Industrial jurisdiction:

2.01 This decree covers all building construction and engineering projects; farms operated on a commercial, industrial or experimental basis, except the "agricultural exploitation" defined in the Collective Agreement Decrees Act; the installation, renovation, repair, maintenance, demolition, permanent addition and moving of buildings.

2.02 It also covers all work done in connection with water distribution systems sewers, wharves, canals, roads, excavations, tunnels, bridges, culverts, sustaining walls, airports, landing fields, landscaping, radar installations, pile-driving, cement sidewalks, cement streets roads, dams, viaducts, wells, locks, oleoducts, parks, fences and all other analogous or related work.

2.03 This decree governs all work carried out on construction sites, be it done in a special separate enclosure or not or in a building undergoing repairs, renovation or addition or when such work is performed in a temporary shop fabricating component parts for a site, even though such shop may be separate from the site in any way whatever.

2.04 Work done in shops: All employees who are assigned to work hereby covered and who must work in the shop are governed by the present decree. However this decree does not cover production work in shops plants and factories.

2.05 Digging: The digging of holes for telephone poles as well as digging done for the laying of underground cables, when done by contractors, are governed by this decree.

2.06 Permanent employees: The present decree does not cover permanent employees as defined in subsection "k", section 1, of the Collective Agreement Decrees Act. For the purposes of this decree, maintenance work does not include: work performed in connection with new construction, rebuilding or renovation of part of a building or construction complex, major repairs done to outside walls, foundations or sustaining walls.

2.07 All fabrication or assembly of wood, metal or a combination of both, carried out on construction sites is subject to the provisions of this decree.

2.08 Railroad companies: Railroad companies are not subject to this decree for work ordinarily carried out by the system's maintenance forces who are already covered by another collective agreement with the said railroad companies.

2.09 Mines: Mining operations, as well as the operation and maintenance of all shops connected therewith, including metal-treating shops, smelters and refineries, are not governed by the provisions of this decree.

2.10 Sawmills and Paper Mills: The operation of sawmills, pulp and paper mills, as well as forestry operations, are exempt from the provisions of this decree.

2.11 Hydro-Québec work: The present decree does not apply to work directly performed by Hydro-Québec. However, such exemption clause does not apply when such work is carried out through contractors or subcontractors.

2.12 Government work: This decree does not cover work directly carried out by the Québec Government or by one of its departments, authorities or bodies.

2.13 Road work: All road work carried out on behalf of any Québec Government department comes under the Labour Standards Schedule and is not governed by the provisions of this decree.

However, all bridge, tunnel, viaduct and public building construction carried out on behalf of any such department is subject to the present decree.

2.14 Municipal work: Cities, towns and municipal and school corporations are not governed by the provisions of this decree in respect of repair and maintenance work on their own buildings. This excludes construction or renovation work. Likewise, they are exempted for construction, renovation or maintenance work done on water - distribution systems, sewers, paving, sidewalks and other similar work performed under their immediate supervision. This exemption does not extend to contractors or subcontractors who perform identical work under the control of, or by contract for the said cities, towns and municipal or school corporations.

2.15 Bridge construction: Except work covered by Decree number 1247 of August 4, 1967 as amended (Structural Steel Industry), all work connected with the construction of a bridge that enters into the jurisdiction of another decree is covered, for the entire construction time, by the decree (either this decree or that other decree) which, on the contract's signature date, provided the higher wage rate for carpenter-joiners. Should wage rates be the same in both decrees, the following trades, taken in order, shall be used as standards: labourer, reinforcing steel erector, pile driver, cement finisher.

Section 3. New materials:

3.01 In all trades where any other material is used instead of the regular and recognized commodity, the wage rate for the pertinent trade shall continue to apply.

Section 4. Job or piece-work: 4.01 For the purposes of this decree, anyone to whom job or piece work is given shall be considered as an employee if he does not supply the materials.

For the same purposes, the one giving the work shall be considered as that person's employer and as the employer of all other workers hired by the said person. For his professional services and when himself performing work governed by this decree, every contractor or artisan shall insist on all the conditions provided for herein.

Section 5. Supplementary provision:

5.01 Any verbal or written provisions of a contract that grants an employee hereby covered working conditions less advantageous than those stipulated herein, is strictly prohibited.

Section 6. Vacations with pay:

6.01 "Joint Committee" means the Building Trades Joint Committee of the Eastern Townships District.

6.02 "Sub-committee for vacations with pay" means the sub-committee that it is to be set up in compliance with the regulations adopted therefore by the Joint Committee.

6.03 "Qualifying period" means the period beginning on May 1st and ending on April 30th of the following year.

6.04 Two (2) weeks' vacation is compulsory throughout the present decree's territorial jurisdiction.

However, only one (1) week is compulsory for employees engaged in asphalt-paving.

6.05 Such compulsory vacation weeks shall be granted and taken as follows: in 1969: July 13th through 27th, in 1970: July 12th through 26th.

Watchmen's compulsory vacation weeks need not be taken during the times specified above. When called to work during such weeks, watchmen may be paid straight time.

6.06 The compulsory vacation week for employees engaged in asphalt-paving shall be granted and taken as follows: in 1969: July 13th through July 20th; in 1970: July 12th through 19th.

6.07 Vacation pay equals 6 per cent of gross wages earned by the employee during the qualifying period and shall be calculated to the nearest cent. Effective January 1, 1970, 7 per cent shall be used for vacation pay calculations.

6.08 During the compulsory vacation weeks an employer may keep a given number of employees on staff to handle emergencies. Should the employer keep more than one employee, the number of employees shall not represent more than 10 per cent of the employer's staff, as shown in the employer's June report to the Joint Committee.

6.09 (a) Emergency employees may take their week's vacation during the week preceding or following the period stipulated in this section.

(b) Ten (10) days prior to the annual vacation period speci-ed in subsection 6.05, the employer shall forward to the Joint Committee a list of the employees he intends keeping on staff during such time. Likewise, the employees concerned shall be given an equal notice.

6.10 Pursuant to the provisions of subsection 6.08, time and a half shall be paid for all work performed during such week. This does not apply to employees answering service calls who shall be paid straight time.

6.11 Every employee, through his employer, shall make known to the Joint Committee: his family name, given name, address, social insurance number, qualification, trade and any change of address or of employer occurring during a qualifying period.

6.12 As a condition of employment, every employee shall insist that the vacation pay be included in his salary. He shall also insist that time and a half be paid for all work that is not hereby authorized a straight time.

6.13 No employee may at any time and for any reason whatever, transfer, sell, use as security or assign in any way the vacation pay held in trust by the Joint Committee.

6.14 Every employee who has performed for an employer work covered by this decree is entitled to:

(a) be given an amount of money equivalent to the vacation pay he has accumulated with one or more employers during the said qualifying period;

(b) the vacation pay payable to the employee by the employer which shall be credited to him at the end of each week.

6.15 At the end of each month, the employer shall turn over to the Joint Committee, for and on behalf of each of his employees, the amounts so credited during the month. Mention shall be made of: the employee's family name, given name, address, trade, social insurance number, qualification, hourly wage rate, number of regular and overtime hours worked, gross amount of earnings.

6.16 Such reports for the previous month, along with the amount of vacation-pay credits, shall reach the Joint Committee within the first fifteen (15) days of the current month, on special report forms supplied by the Committee. If the payrolls forwarded by the employer are deemed unsatisfactory, the Joint Committee may direct that the employer use the special forms prepared and supplied by the Committee.

6.17 No employer may acquire himself of remitting such vacation-pay credits to the Joint Committee by direct payment of money or other to the employees concerned.

6.18 The Joint Committee shall collect from each employer, for and on behalf of the employees concerned, the total amount of vacation-pay credits as they become due during the qualifying period.

6.19 The Joint Committee shall deposit the amounts so collected in a separate account and shall issue special receipts to both employer and employees upon request.

6.20 To cover the administration of vacation-pay credits so collected, the Joint Committee shall receive the bank interest on the amounts for which it is responsible.

6.21 Any employee who has not claimed his due vacation pay within six months after each May 1st, shall have no further claim against the Joint Committee. However, upon production of satisfactory proof, the Committee shall remit him the amounts collected in his case.

6.22 The Joint Committee shall give employees their due vacation pay between May 1st and July 15th that follows a qualifying period.

6.23 A cheque in the amount collected and held in trust shall be mailed to the employee's last known address.

6.24 The Joint Committee is only responsible to the employee for the amounts collected on his behalf from his employer during a qualifying period.

6.25 No employee may claim his due vacation pay before each July 1st. However should an employee pass away, his legal heirs may claim the vacation pay credits collected up to date by the Joint Committee.

6.26 When employers and employees from other districts come to work in the territorial jurisdiction of this decree, the amounts collected and the required information may be transferred between May 1st and July 1st, to another Committee that has a vacation-with-pay plan in force.

6.27 The Joint Committee shall supply employers with report forms for the periodical transmittal of required information and vacation-pay credits. It shall also supply forms for the identification of each covered employee.

6.28 Lack of such forms does not relieve the employer or employee of his obligations towards the Joint Committee.

6.29 Every employer shall:

(a) show on each payroll the amount of vacation pay accumulated by each employee for the period covered by the said payroll;

(b) supply with each payment of vacation pay, a statement attached to or a copy of the said payroll, showing:

1. employer's name and address;

2. pay period covered by each payroll;

3. family and given names of each employee;

4. social insurance number and qualification of each employee;

5. amount of vacation pay;

6. total of such amounts;

7. signature of a duly-authorized representative of the employer or of the employer himself, certifying as to the accuracy of the information so supplied.

6.30 The Joint Committee shall:

(a) Maintain a record at 78-80 Peel Street, Sherbrooke, showing in respect of each employee:

1. The name, address, social insurance number or any other means of identification of each pay from the Joint Committee, employee receiving vacation;

2. The name and address of the employer(s) who paid vacation pay on behalf of each employee;

3. The amount of vacation pay and the date of the last payday from which such vacation pay has accrued;

4. The amount and date of payments made to each employee by the Joint Committee.

(b) Upon receipt of a written notice from an employee, stating his identity and place of employment:

1. Make the necessary entries under the employee's name, in accordance with paragraph "a" of the present subsection 6.30;

2. Take the necessary steps to collect from the employer the vacation pay that may become due to the employee.

6.31 With the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council the Joint Committee shall enact by-laws for the proper administration and trust of monies collected for vacation with pay.

6.32 For the purposes of section 37 of the Collective Agreement Decrees Act, the due date of vacation pay for the previous year for each employee shall be May 1st.

6.33 If an employer, in violation of subsection 6.07, fails to remit the vacation pay, the Joint Committee may sue the employer in order to recover such vacation pay for each employee concerned and the payment of all penalties incurred by the said employer through his fault. Legal action and recourse are taken in compliance with section 20 of the Collective Agreement Decrees Act.

6.34 Exemptions: Employees who participate in a vacation-with-pay plan established by their employer with conditions as favourable as those provided for in this Part and who are mainly employed in manufacturing establishments and partly in building or engineering construction or as permanent maintenance employees are exempt from the provisions hereof.

6.35 When an employer governed by a private collective agreement performs work and a part hereof is covered by the present decree and the other part is not; when the vacation period stipulated in his collective agreement does not concur with the dates set forth herein; when workmen may take their vacation outside the period specified in this decree, then, the Joint committee may enact the following their agreement between the parties:

1. the contractor shall forward to the Joint Committee the amounts due as vacation pay for all employees performing work that is governed by the present decree, on the 15th of each month. The amounts shall cover the previous month;

2. upon production of a statement duly signed by the contractor or his authorized representatives, as well as a receipt from the claimant(s), the Joint Committee, within fifteen (15) days from the reception date, promises to remit the monies received and held in trust for the said employees to the contractor, while the latter will have already remitted such amounts to employees at vacation time.

Section 7. Safety, Health and Welfare:

7.01 Employers shall take all necessary measures to ensure the safety, health and welfare of their employees. The decrees, Acts and regulations enacted by the Québec Government shall be adhered to just as if they were quoted herein in their entirety.

7.02 So that the Joint Committee may advise the proper authorities without delay, the Joint Committee inspectors shall report to the Committee any danger on a construction site. The inspectors' reports shall be forwarded to the contracting parties.

7.03 Safety equipment on all construction sites shall be at least equal to that set forth in the regulations enacted under the Industrial and Commercial Establishments Act.

7.04 Lunch rooms: Employers shall set up a convenient, sanitary and heated place for employees to eat their meals. Such place shall be equipped with tables and benches.

7.05 Within a week of the beginning of operations on a construction site, the general contractor shall install a heated and sanitary washroom and supply the usual requisites such as soap, paper towels, toilet tissue, and so on. He shall also make certain that such place be kept clean and properly attended.

When there are more than one hundred (100) employees, an additional washroom must be set up. Each additional one hundred (100) employees shall warrant an extra washroom.

Employees are not compelled to work if the above-mentioned conveniences have not been installed within the time limit specified above.

7.06 Tool sharpening: So as to ensure efficient continuity in employees' work, the employer shall provide a tool sharpening service whenever same is required on a construction site.

7.07 Safety equipment: When working conditions so warrant in excavations, trenches, tunnels and caissons, the employer shall supply all the required safety equipment, such as rubber boots (caul gloves), rubber suits, safety goggles, safety belts, safety goggles, and so on. At quitting time, the employee shall leave all such equipment on the construction site or at the shop, requested by the employer, safety

7.08 Safety helmets: When requested by the employer, safety helmets shall be paid by him and remain his property. The employee shall pay for any safety helmet he may lose. The employer may request a $5 deposit which is refundable when the employee turns in his helmet.

7.09 Tools: The employer shall supply all power, pneumatic and electric tools. Employees are forbidden to supply any power, pneumatic or electric tool for the performance of their work.

Save for special exceptions for specific trades, only hand tools may be supplied by employees.

Section 8. Payment of wages: 8.01 Wages shall be paid in full, in cash or by cheque, on the construction site every Thursday. When paid by cheque on Friday, the employee may take one (1) hour off from work without loss of wages to cash such cheque.

If Thursday is a non-working day, wages shall be paid in cash or by cheque on Wednesday. When paid by cheque on Friday, the employee may take one (1) hour off from work without loss of wages to cash such cheque.

If Friday is a non-working day, wages shall be paid in cash or by cheque on Wednesday. When paid by cheque on Thursday the employee may take one (1) hour off from work without loss of wages to cash such cheque.

8.02 Cheques shall be negotiable at par in the locality where they are handed to the employee and in the locality where the employer has his head office or main place of business.

8.03 Employees' earnings statements shall be detachable and shall list the following particulars:

1. employer's name;

2. employee's given and family names;

3. payment date and work periods corresponding thereto;

4. number of standard hours worked;

5. number of overtime hours worked;

6. hourly wage rate;

7. amount of gross earnings;

8. type and amount of deductions made;

9. amount of take-home pay;

10. amount of union dues;

11. amount of vacation pay.

8.04 One (1) working day after notice thereof has been given, the employer who dismisses or lays an employee off shall give the employee all that is owing him including his unemployment insurance booklet.

Section 9. Notice:

9.01 When a layoff is expected to last more than two (2) working days, every employee who has one week's service or more with an employer is entitled to a 24-hour notice. Failing this, the employee is entitled to be paid for a full day's work at the wage rate set forth in his trade.

Section 10. Call-in pay: 10.01 Every employee who is called in to work or who reports in for work at the usual times without having been notified beforehand that his services would not be required is entitled to payment at least equal to three (3) hours' work. The employer may request that such employee remain at his disposal during the paid waiting time. This does not apply when work is stopped because of bad weather or because of circumstances beyond the employer's control, proof of which the employer may be expected to supply.

Section 11. General holidays with pay and non-working days: 11.01 Double time shall be paid for all work performed on Saturday afternoons, Sundays, New Year's Day, January 2nd, Good Friday, St. John the Baptist Day, Canada Day, Labour Day, Christmas Day and December 26th.

11.02 No employer may punish or threaten to punish, by dismissal or suspension, directly or indirectly, any employee who is absent from work on a religious holiday of his faith.

Section 12. Compassionate leave:

12.01 Should his father, mothers pass away, every mother, spouse, child, brothers or playmate shall be paid for the funeral day, provided that it take place on a working day and proof of death be given the employer.

Section 13. Travelling expenses and board:

13.01 When the employee is requested by his employer to work outside the immediate vicinity of the employer's head office or main place of business, transportation, travelling expenses and board are to be paid by the employer should there be no daily return, in addition to the wage rate herein provided for.

13.02 (a) The employer shall provide free transportation for work outside a 5-mile radius of employees who are required to the city or town where the employer has his head office or main place of business.

(b) The employer shall pay travelling expenses and board for all employees who are hired in their respective locality to work outside a 5-mile radius from their place of residence.

13.03 No employer may request that an employee put his vehicle at his disposal. If he does so, the employee shall be paid 12c a mile therefor. No employer may request that more persons than the number permissible by law travel in the employee's vehicle. Employers may only request and authorize the transportation of employees in adequately insured vehicles.

13.04 The employer shall pay straight time for all time employees mentioned in subsections 13.01 and 13.02 spend travelling to and from the job site when such time exceeds fifteen (15) minutes either way.

13.05 When an employer has an employee work outside the municipality where he has his head office or place of business without having notified such employee the day before, he must pay up to $2.25 for a single meal, provided the employee produces a receipt therefor.

13.06 The value of meals or room, or both, that the employer must supply to his employees who work out of town shall be paid according to the following minimum rates:

Room and board (per week)	$30.0
Room (per day)	5.00
Meals (each)	2.25

13.07 When an employee is requested by the employer to work outside this decree's territorial jurisdiction, the employer shall abide by the provisions stipulated hereof if they are more advantageous than those of another decree; otherwise, the provisions that cover the other territorial jurisdiction shall apply.

Section 14. Bonuses, premiums and shift differentials: 14.01 Leading hand bonus: Any employee who is called direct or supervise a crew of five (5) to fifteen (15) men shall be paid a 15c-an-hour bonus besides the wage rate set forth for his trade.

14.02 Night shift differential: A 15c-an-hour shift differential besides the regular wage rate of his trade shall be paid to any employee who has to work at night (between 5:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.).

14.03 Height bonus: A 15c-an-hour bonus besides the regular wage rate shall be paid to any employee who works on scaffolds that are sixty-five (65) feet or more above ground level, floors or water, or who works outside or inside steeples, towers, water tanks or grain elevators.

Section 15. Hours of work and schedules: 15.01 (a) Standard hours of work for employees covered by this decree shall not exceed forty (40) a week and eight (8) a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday day, scheduled between 8:00 through Friday.

However, for employees engaged in excavation work, standard working hours shall not exceed fifty (50) a week and ten (10) a day.

Section 16. Overtime rates:

16.01 Time and a half shall be paid for all overtime work or for all work performed over and above the standard working hours up to Saturday noon.

16.02 Emergency work: All emergency work (work that must be performed to avoid damages to persons or property) may be carried out outside standard hours of work and paid at straight time. The employer must be prepared to supply proof of such emergency and must advise the Joint Committee in writing within thirty (30) days. If work is completed within an hour, the employee is entitled to be paid on hour's wages.

16.03 Any employee may refuse to work over and above his standard work day.

Section 17. Vested rights:

17.01 The present decree in no way affects vested rights of employees, obtained under previous decrees, nor does it affect any claim made by the Joint Committee under previous decrees.

Section 18. Trustworthiness: 18.01 No employee may, under penalty of dismissal and all other applicable disciplinary measures, perform work connected with any of the construction industry trades, inside or outside his employer's establishment on behalf of a third party, whenever such third party is a professional employer, any employer or a customer other than his usual employer.

Section 19. Social security: 19.01 Social security fund: A fund is established with a view to setting up a social security plan for employees hereby covered.

The abovementioned social security plan shall be approved by either the Superintendent of Insurance or the Québec Pension Board and both shall control the application of such plan.

19.02 Contributions: Beginning on the decree's effective date, the employer shall deduct from each employee's wages, 5c for each hour worked by such employee. The employer shall also contribute 5c for each hour worked by every employee.

19.03 Transmittal of contributions: The abovementioned employer and employee contributions shall be deposited in the social security fund, shall be forwarded to the Joint Committee along with each employer's monthly report and shall be held in trust.

19.04 Administration: The fund shall be temporarily administered by a committee made up of three (3) representatives of the Corporation and of three (3) representatives of the Union. This committee must draw up its statutes before January 1, 1969.

19.05 The parties agree that this plan be integrated into an autonomous province-wide plan for plumbers.

If such provincial fund does not come into existence by March 1, 1969, the parties promise to negotiate the details dealing with the application of the social security plan.

Section 20. Term: 20.01. The present decree shall remain in force until February 28, 1971.

It automatically renews itself from year to year thereafter, unless one of the contracting parties gives the other a written notice to the contrary, at least one hundred and twenty (120) days prior to its expiry date.

Such notice shall also be filed with the Minister of Labour.

Negotiations shall begin as soon as the above mentioned notice is given.

Part II

Provisions governing the general trades

Section 25. Industrial jurisdiction:

25.01 Landscaping: The following work, when done in connection with construction work, is considered as landscaping and is governed by this decree whenever it is carried out by hand or machine: excavating, dynamiting; the moving of earth, gravel and stone; leveling and asphalt work.

25.02 Landscape gardener's work: Landscape gardener's work, such as sodding, the moving of tillable soil, lawn-seeding, shrub-planting and all other landscaping work is not governed by this decree.

25.03 Glass-work: Glass-work, the installation, repair and replacement of glass panes, shop windows, permanent or non-permanent work, glass decoration, ornamentation or structural work are governed by this decree.

25.04 Asphalt paving: Asphalt paving is also governed by the present decree when it is carried out in connection with a job site that is hereby covered.

25.05 The following are also subject to the provisions of the present decree: the laying, removal or repair of inlaid linoleum; asphalt or rubber tiles; carpets or under-carpets; any other similar product permanently set on floors or elsewhere.

25.06 The firing of boilers on building construction and repair projects is governed by the present decree.

25.07 Non-structural metal-work: The present decree governs all work done in connection with non-structural metal-work only on a job site in the electoral district of Sherbrooke and on a job site or in a shop in the other electoral districts covered by this decree, all pursuant to Decree number 790 (Decree respecting the Non-structural Metalwork Industry in the Montreal-Region).

25.08 With the exception of work governed by Decree number 1247 (Structural Steel Industry in Québec), the setting of all structural work or ornamentation made of glass, metal or composition wallboard (known as "Vitrolite" or otherwise), as well as all insulation work, is considered as construction work and is subject to this decree.

25.09 Concrete: The preparation and distribution of ready-mix concrete are subject to the present decree.

Section 26. Professional jurisdiction:

26.37 "Foreman" means any employee who represents the employer in employer-employee relations; does no manual work except to lend a helping hand to an employee; is not governed by the present decree.

26.38 "Explosive" means any substance which, by its nature, is capable of producing a sudden expansion of gases, which expansion, if confined, will result in a rupture of a vessel containing the same.

26.39 "Substitution of the new term for the old does not affect any vested rights and current interests, nor does it in particular, prevent the application of the new wage rates set forth for the said trades and occupations that have a different name in this decree. It does not alter the validity of competency certificates, apprentice certificates and certificates for handicapped workers issued in accordance with the terms previously in use.

Section 27. Hours of work and schedules:

27.01 For employees engaged in asphalt work and paving, standard hours of work shall not exceed fifty (50) a week and ten (10) a day, Monday through Friday.

27.02 Watchmen: Watchmen are hired on a weekly basis and hours of work shall not exceed fifty-six (56) a week and eight (8) a day, scheduled over seven (7) days, but without specific starting and finishing times.

27.03 Enginemen (stationary or portable engines): Standard working hours for stationary enginemen shall not exceed forty (40) a week and eight (8) a day, Monday through Saturday, but without specific starting and finishing times.

27.04 Concrete mixing: Standard hours of work for concrete-mixing truck drivers and concrete-mixing plant operators shall not exceed fifty (50) a week, scheduled as follows:

Monday through Friday, ten (10) hours scheduled between 7:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. However, employees shall divide into two groups for meals so that work be uninterrupted; meal times shall be between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

27.05 The above-mentioned schedules are based on either Standard Time or Daylight Saving, whichever is in force, in the locality where work is being carried out.

27.06 Employees who carry out work that falls in certain categories may work ten (10) hours a day at straight time instead of eight (8) when work is interrupted because of bad weather or for reasons beyond the employer's control. In the last instance, the employer may be required to supply proof. The aforesaid categories are:

1. Outside painting;
2. Pouring concrete by labourers only;
3. Surfacing concrete;
4. Laying of roofs.

This provision does not mean that time and a half is to be paid for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) a week.

27.07 From October 1st to March 1st, work may begin at 7:00 a.m. without affecting the standard working hours in a day.

Section 28. Temporary assignment:

28.01 Every employee who is temporarily assigned to work other than that of his own trade shall continue to be paid the wage rate for his own trade even though the temporarily-assigned work warrants a lower wage rate.

Every employee who is temporarily assigned to work other than that of his own trade shall be paid the wage rate of the temporarily-assigned occupation, should it be higher than his.

28.02 Every employee who performs work that is hereby covered but for which no wage rate has been determined shall be paid fifteen cents (15c) an hour more than a labourer until such time as the contracting parties set forth a definite wage rate for such work.

Section 29. Safety, Health, Welfare:

29.01 Stilts: Except for "Gyproc" joint-pointers, all work performed on stilts or similar devices is at all times forbidden.

29.02 The employer shall provide cold drinking water on each construction site; whenever possible, water is to be kept in an insulated water tank.

29.03 Stenches: If, within a given establishment, the application of certain coatings gives off odours that are unbearable or toxic and that necessitate work being stopped, employers shall supply masks to all those who are thereby inconvenienced.

29.04 Dust: Employers shall supply adequate masks to employees working in places where dust from terrazzo or other sources becomes unbearable and may be detrimental to health.

29.05 Work accidents: When an employee sustains injury at work or when he is at an employer's disposal, he shall be paid in full for the accident day, provided the injury had to be taken care of in a hospital emergency ward and that proof thereof may be produced.

29.06 Rest periods: employees are entitled to a ten-minute rest period for each half-day's work, to be taken at the following times:

- (a) forenoon: 10:00 a.m. to 10:10 a.m.
- (b) afternoon: 3:00 p.m. to 3:10 p.m.

(c) When working overtime, employees are entitled to a 10-minute break every two hours. This applies except at the end of a shift.

Section 30. Characteristics of certain trades:

30.01 Only bricklayers, masons and the apprentices in such trades may do joint-pointing.

Section 31. Equipment:

31.01 Painter: Painting contractors shall supply their employees with all brushes and rollers required for their work.

31.02 Roofer: Employers shall supply gloves to roofers in their service.

31.03 Ornamental iron worker and Welder: Employers shall supply the following equipment to ornamental iron workers and welders in their service: welder's mask, goggles for cutting and grinding, welder's lighter and flints, flux hammer.

31.04 Lather: Employers shall supply the following to lathers in their service: blades for "Gyproc" knives, powder and all types of chalk.

Section 32. Apprenticeship:

32.01 No apprentice in any of the building trades may be admitted to apprenticeship before his sixteenth (16th) birthday nor after his thirty-five (35th). Every apprentice shall supply the secretary of the Board of Examiners with a letter signed by a professional employer of the trade he wishes to learn and stating that such employer is actually ready to employ the candidate. Such letter is not required of apprentices attending the Sherbrooke Apprenticeship Commission school or any other technical school recognized by the Department of Education and the contracting parties.

32.02 Anyone over age thirty-five (35) may obtain an apprenticeship record book if he meets the selection standards and has taken technical training or vocational rehabilitation courses either in an apprenticeship school or in any other technical training centre recognized by the Department of Education and the contracting parties.

32.03 Examination requirements: Anyone wishing to take the prescribed trade examination shall first produce a letter signed by a professional employer of the trade he wishes to learn and stating that such employer is actually ready to employ the candidate.

32.04 Compulsory courses: A candidate who holds an apprenticeship record book in any of the trades covered by this decree shall take development courses in his trade, according to the facilities available where he lives and where he works. This requirement must be met before the apprentice certificate is renewed. For each hour of study at the Apprenticeship Commission, a 5-hour apprenticeship credit shall be granted.

32.05 Compulsory course at the Apprenticeship Centre: Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding paragraphs, no candidate in the bricklayer's, joiner's, plasterer's and painter's trade who lives or works within the present decree's jurisdiction may be admitted to examination before he has taken a 10-month regular pre-employment course at the Building Trades Apprenticeship Centre.

32.06 Register:

1. Each apprentice's name shall be entered in a register kept by the Joint Committee.
2. The said register shall mention: the apprentice's age, family name, given name and address; the date apprenticeship began, together with proof of apprenticeship continuity; the name and address of his first employer and of every subsequent employer until the term of apprenticeship set forth for his trade has been completed.

32.07 Apprenticeship record book: The Joint Committee shall supply each apprentice with an apprenticeship record book that shall show the number of hours spent in each employer's service. Under signature, employers shall indicate the dates the apprentice's service began and ended.

32.08 Apprentice journeyman ratio:

1. There may be no more than one (1) apprentice per journeyman in the following trades: plasterer, mason, carpenter-joiner, glazier, reinforcing steel erector, cement finisher, marble layer, tile setter, terrazzo layer, ornamental iron worker, linoleum and carpet layer, "Gyproc" joint-pointer, floor sander, terrazzo polisher (wet or dry process), lather, rigger, construction boilermaker and millwright.
2. There may be no more than one (1) apprentice for every two (2) journeymen or fraction thereof in the following trades: bricklayer, painter.
3. There may be no more than one (1) apprentice for every two (2) journeymen or fraction thereof in the following trades: insulator, roofer.

4. There may be no more than one (1) apprentice per journeyman in the tinsmith's trade. However, there may be no more than two (2) apprentices per journeyman, as concerns machine operators in shops who work on a mass-production basis.

5. Except when no apprentices are available, the number of 4th-year apprentices in the service of a given employer may be one (1) for every four (4) apprentices on all contracts and work hereby governed.

32.09 Performance of work: No employer may have an apprentice work alone; he shall always be accompanied and supervised by a journeyman of his trade. No foreman may be assigned an apprentice.

32.10 Should an apprentice, for a full half-day or more, perform work that is usually assigned to labourers and special labourers, he shall be paid labourer's or special labourer's wage rates.

32.11 Term: Apprenticeship consists of 8,000 hours of trade work. However, apprentices who have attended the building trades apprenticeship school or a school governed by the Specialized Schools Act shall be granted credits proportionate to the length of their studies and the results of examinations passed.

32.12 Exceptions: Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, apprenticeship in the floor sander's trade is dependent on the following conditions: the apprentice shall have a total of nine (9) months' work as floor sander to his credit; he must produce a letter of recommendation from two professional employers stating that he has the required qualifications and that he has completed the aforementioned training period. After making certain that the above two requirements have been met, the Joint Committee may issue a competency certificate.

32.13 More exceptions:

(a) Apprenticeship consists of 4,000 hours of trade work in the following trades: linoleum or carpet layer, terrazzo polisher (wet or dry process), lather, roofer, cement finisher, "Gyproc" joint-pointer, reinforcing steel erector and insulator.

(b) Apprenticeship consists of 6,000 hours of trade work in the following trades: rigger, construction boilermaker, millwright.

32.14 Vested rights: An apprentice who has been employed in the above-mentioned trades before the effective date of this decree shall supply a sworn statement as to time served with each employer. Such statement is to be filed in the Joint Committee's apprenticeship register.

32.15 Apprenticeship indenture: No private apprenticeship indenture in the above-mentioned trades is considered valid unless it complies with the provisions of the present decree.

32.16 Employer's duties: When an employer begins an apprenticeship, the employer shall immediately advise the Joint Committee accordingly. The employer shall properly instruct his apprentices in their chosen trade so that they may become skilled employees.

At the end of each month, the employer or the foreman shall rate, according to set standards, the apprentice's performance in the various professional areas and sign the apprenticeship record book.

32.17 Apprentice's duties: At the end of each workday, the apprentice shall enter in the appropriate column, the number of hours worked that day on each operation. The apprenticeship record book is valid for twelve (12) months after issue or renewal. Thirty (30) days prior to the expiry date, every apprentice shall bring his record book to the Joint Committee's office to have it checked and renewed. This shall be repeated until the end of apprenticeship.

After having completed the prescribed apprenticeship hours, every apprentice must go before the Board of Examiners to take the journeyman's examination.

Anyone wishing to take an examination or have his apprenticeship record book revised shall supply the Committee with two (2) photographs of himself.

32.18 The Joint Committee may request that an apprentice supply proof of age.

32.19 Minimum wage rates for apprentices: The following minimum wage rates shall be paid to apprentices in the trades listed below. Minimum wage rates are calculated to the nearest 5c according to the following percentage of the minimum wage rates paid to qualified workmen in their respective trade:

hours of work shall be the same as journeymen's. A year's apprenticeship shall consist of 2,000 hours of work.

32.20 Apprentice electricians shall be classified into four (4) categories: 1st year, 2nd year, 3rd year and 4th year.

32.21 Before obtaining an apprenticeship record book, every apprentice electrician shall undergo a compulsory 9-month (1,000 hours) training period in an apprenticeship centre approved by the Board of Examiners.

43.05 The apprentice shall go before the Board of Examiners yearly. Failing this, his record book shall be cancelled without notice. Both the employer and the employee shall be liable to the regular penalties provided for by law, should apprentice continue to work.

43.06 At the end of each apprenticeship year (1st, 2nd or 3rd), each apprentice shall take an examination before the Board of Examiners before being promoted to the following year. Should he fail, he shall be granted a 3-month extension.

43.07 There may be no more than one apprentice per journeyman electrician. A foreman may not have an apprentice.

43.08 No apprentice may do trade work unless accompanied by an under the close supervision of a skilled workman in his trade.

43.09 No journeyman electrician may do trade work unless employed by an electrical contractor.

Section 44. Minimum wage rates:

44.01 The following minimum wage rates shall be paid to the employees listed hereunder:

July 1, 1969, May 1, 1970, Sept. 1, 1970.

Trade:	1st year	2nd year	3rd year	4th year
Electrician, class "C":	$3.40	$3.70	$4.00	$4.20

44.02 Apprentices' minimum wage rates: The following minimum wage rates shall be paid to apprentice electricians:

1st year:	50% of journeyman's rate;
2nd year:	55% of journeyman's rate;
3rd year:	60% of journeyman's rate;
4th year:	75% of journeyman's rate;

Section 45. Safety:

45.01 Stilts and plaster-spray machine: Except for "Gyproc" joint-pointers, work on stilts or other similar devices is forbidden at all times. Work with the plaster-spray machine is also forbidden.

Part IV Provisions governing plumbers and pipe-mechanics

Section 50. Industrial jurisdiction:

50.01 This Part covers the repair of all piping repairs; all work governed by the Pipe-Mechanics Act (RSQ 1964, c. 154, as amended); any stationary or moveable piping installation for any use whatever, inside or outside buildings; all work performed by tinsmiths, roofers and sheet-metal workers.

Section 51. Professional jurisdiction:

51.01 Definitions: For the purposes hereof, the following words have the meaning hereinafter given them:

51.02 "Plumbing and heating apprentice" has the same meaning as in the Pipe-Mechanics Act (RSQ 1964, c. 154).

51.03 "Journeyman pipe-mechanic" has the same meaning as in the Pipe-Mechanics Act (RSQ 1964, c. 154).

51.04 "Junior journeyman pipe-mechanic" has the same meaning as in the Pipe-Mechanics Act (RSQ 1964, c. 154) and in the regulations enacted thereunder.

51.05 "High-pressure welder" means any employee who has been issued with a Government licence for high-pressure welding. Such employee is considered as a senior journeyman and is paid accordingly.

51.06 "Tinsmith" means any employee who works with sheet-metal (iron, copper, aluminum or stainless steel); makes and installs all types of sheet-metal items on a job site; installs and repairs ventilating and air conditioning systems; covers with metal, sky-lights, cornices, fire-stops, flashings and prefabricated installations; performs other similar work.

Section 52. Characteristics of certain trades:

52.01 There may be no more than one (1) apprentice per journeyman tinsmith. However, there may be no more than two (2) apprentices for each journeyman working in a shop and operating machines for mass production.

52.02 Except for "gyproc" joint-pointers, work on stilts or other similar devices is forbidden at all times. Work with the plaster-spray machine is also forbidden.

Section 54. Equipment:

54.01 Plumbing, heating and tinsmithing contractors shall supply their employees with all size pipe taps; pipe wrenches 24 inches and over; propane gas torches, knives, reamers, tapping benches, electric drills and electrical cables. Employers shall also replace broken or worn out dies, pipe wrench jaws and bits. The employee shall supply all small tools 18 inches and under.

54.02 Apprenticeship: 55.01 (a) Employers and employees shall abide by the apprenticeship regulations set forth in the Pipe-Mechanics Act for the trades governed thereby. (b) No candidate living or working within the jurisdiction of this decree may be accepted for the tinsmith's examination before having taken a regular 10-month pre-employment course at the Building Trades Apprenticeship Centre. The apprenticeship provisions governing the general trades also apply to tinsmiths.

55.02 Apprentices' standard hours of work shall be the same as journeymen's. A year's apprenticeship shall consist of 2,000 hours of work.

55.03 In the trades concerned, there may be no more than one (1) apprentice per journeyman. A foreman may not have an apprentice.

55.04 No apprentice may do trade work unless accompanied by and under the close supervision of a skilled workman in his trade.

55.05 No apprentice may do trade work unless employed by a contractor in his trade.

Section 56. Apprentices' minimum wage rates:

56.01 The following minimum wage rates shall be paid to apprentices in the following trades: pipe-mechanics, heating equipment installers, pipe welders, oil burner installers, stoker installers, gas pump installers, high-pressure welders and tinsmiths:

1st year:	50 per cent of journeyman's rate;
2nd year:	55 per cent of journeyman's rate;
3rd year:	60 per cent of journeyman's rate;
4th year:	75 per cent of journeyman's rate;
Junior journeyman:	85 per cent of journeyman's rate.

Section 57. Minimum wage rates:

57.01 The following minimum wage rates shall be paid to the employees listed hereunder:

Bricklayer, mason, plasterer:	1st year	2nd year	3rd year	4th year
	60%	70%	75%	85%

Roofer:	1st year	2nd year
	70%	80%

Beavers travel to Victoriaville while the Gauls meet Sagoueneens

Sherbrooke Beavers hit the road this evening, traveling to Victoriaville to meet the Tigers while the St. Hyacinthe Gauls host the Chicoutimi Sagoueneens in another regular Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League game. Both games will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Chicoutimi leads the league at present with five wins and two losses for 10 points. St. Hyacinthe are two points back of Phil Watson's Sagoueneens. Ottawa and Victoriaville are four points back with Granby in fifth place with five points and Sherbrooke holds the league up with three points on a win, a tie, and lost six.

A list of the league's top scorers will be available in a short time. This year's extended schedule of 60 games should be extremely close in that there does not seem to be that wide Sherbrooke on the other hand are fighting to get out of the league cellar. At the moment nothing seems to be going right for Bruce Cline's Beavers. In eight outings so far this season, Jim Beckman will not be in uniform tonight when the Beavers meet the Tigers. Beckman, who had no chance to rest following the finish of the 1968 Provincial Baseball League season, has been given some time off by Coach Cline.

Beckman started at second base for the Sherford Miners this past summer in the PBL.

Eastman, due to pressing business matters, will not be in uniform this evening either. The absence of Beckman and Eastman will surely be noticed this evening especially, Beckman, who has sparked the Beavers of late.

Monette, injured Thursday after falling to the ice heavily, is ready to return to the Sherbrooke nets. Monette in his last outing stopped 58 shots, only good enough to get the Beavers one point in the standings, tying the Tigers 2-2.

ACCEPTS TROPHY — Alcide Beauvoyer is seen accepting Melchers Trophy from Claude "Mutt" Dussault, local representative of Melchers Distilleries, for being declared the winner of the Go-Go Race at the local track Sunday afternoon. Alcide Beauvoyer wins Go-Go Race and Melchers Trophy in official fixture Alcide Beauvoyer driving Mrs. Leonard Gauthier's True Prince was declared the winner of the annual Go-Go Race at the Sherbrooke Race Track Sunday afternoon and was awarded Melchers Trophy.

The race, which is reserved for track officials, was held under perfect conditions and six various officials went to Alexis Loranger, former starter and now Paddock Judge. He got his field of six away in fine style with all six right on the gate. There was no recall.

The pari-mutuels refused take any bets and all horses were set at 99 by the mutuel manager Valmore Morin. He and his staff just left to join the railbirds and watch from close quarters.

Florent "Mo-Mo" Desjardins with Hal Regent was established as a slight favorite but tough competition could be expected from the others. Robert "Bob" Caron, who is the official starter at the track and last year's winner, was ruled out of race since he won last year. No official can win twice in a row.

Caron with Eebzee Z finished first but despite his loud objections was ruled out and Beauvoyer with True Prince was declared the bona-fide winner. Claude "Mutt" Dussault, the track announcer, just finished his mile in time to present the trophy to Alcide Beauvoyer. Dussault drove Mervin Hal to a strong six-place finish behind the whole field.

The winner of the winning horse was presented with a winter blanket by J. Ernest Laporte, of Ayer's Cliff. Beauvoyer will receive a copy of the original trophy by Mutt Dussault, local representative of Melchers Distilleries.

George Emile Houle, presiding judge, was placed second with Senator Spencer after Caron had been set back. Charles Connors, general-manager, was right after Desjardins while Dussault brought up the rear by himself.

The race drew a good crowd of fans and although the race went only 1:09.2 to the half to finish in 2:15.1 it was a good event for the officials, who enjoyed themselves in their annual jaunt. Plans are already under way for next year and special rules are being laid down.

Dufferin Heights Golf Club holds closing, N. Chamberlain elected new club president

DUFFERIN—Norman Chamberlain, Jr., of Stanstead, was elected as the president of the Dufferin Heights Golf Club at the annual meeting which was held Friday evening, October 18, at the club house.

The meeting opened with retiring President Robert Auger in the chair. In his annual report, Mr. Auger, had words of tribute to his directors, vice-president, Robert Gardyne, and the match committee of Douglas Henderson and Wallace Browning. The house committee, Norman Chamberlain, Jr., and Louis Barber, for their efforts in staging the dance October 12 which helped defray expenses for the summer dances.

George Joyal, greens keeper committee chairman, and the crew who kept the greens so fine during the season.

Mr. Auger said that concerning improvement to the course some enlargements are being made of tees and temporary tees at little cost to the club. It is hoped the new tees can be cut with the fairways mowers.

Henry Crochetiere re-elected QAHA president, new structure is formed at annual meeting

MONTREAL — The Q.A.H.A. at its annual meeting, held at the Queen's Hotel in Montreal, Saturday and Sunday last, adopted unanimously a complete new structure which in future will be the Quebec Amateur Hockey Federation, worked hard to hammer out a program destined to unify all the forces of amateur hockey in the province.

Henry Crochetiere, of Sherbrooke was re-elected president of the Association. Marcel Robert, Jonquiere, and Arthur Lesard, Ville Laval, were elected vice-presidents. Martin Conway of St. Lambert, was elected treasurer. In line with the new changes in the Q.A.H.A., the board of directors will be composed of six directors representing minor hockey and eleven representing major hockey. Among those elected from the Eastern Townships were: Eugene Menard, Sherbrooke; and Rene Gauthier of Victoriaville.

Following this most important meeting, the directors met Sunday to set up seventeen committees which will study rules, registration, discipline, finance etc.

In the year end report, President Crochetiere reported that for the season 1967-68, there were 41,000 players registered with the Q.A.H.A. Special mention was made of the Victoriaville Tigers who won the Allan Cup and who will represent Canada at the Ahearne Competition in Sweden, in December.

Paris — Antonio Angular, Argentina, outpointed Nessim Cohen, Morocco, 1, middleweights.

Mikita leads scoring battle, Bruins' goalies setting pace

MONTREAL (CP) — A pair of sharpshooters—one from Montreal and the other from New York—have fired their way into what had been Chicago Black Hawks territory in the young National Hockey League scoring race—but Hawks' Stan Mikita still holds the number one position.

Statistics released Monday show centre Jean Beliveau of Montreal Canadiens and right winger Bob Nevin of New York Rangers nudging their way near the top spot.

Mikita, seeking his third straight scoring title, leads the field with 16 points on five goals and 11 assists. Beliveau and Nevin are tied for second place along with Chicago's Jim Pappin. All have 12 points, although right winger Pappin is the league's top goal-getter with eight. Nevin has scored seven times and Beliveau has five goals.

Three other Hawks follow, with right winger Ken Wharram and defenceman Pat Stapleton tied at 11 points each, one more than Bobby Hull.

Seven players, including the West Division leaders—Ted Hampson and Bill Hicke both of Oakland Seals—are tied for eighth place with nine points each. The others are Phil Goyette, Jean Ratelle and Vic Hadfield of the Rangers and Dennis Hull and Gilles Marcotte of Chicago.

While Mikita maintained his lead in the scoring race, there is a different pair of names leading the goaltending race.

Eed Johnson and Gerry Cheevers of Boston Bruins have not had more than two goals scored against them in any of their eight games.

Lennoxville High School and Richmond Regional High School Boys' soccer squads battled to a 2-2 tie Friday night. The game, an exhibition tilt, was played on the Lennoxville field.

LHS goals came from Dean Riek and Wayne Berry with Richmond tallies coming from David Livingstone and Alex Melsbach.

On Saturday morning, LHS Junior Girls' were downed by Princess Elizabeth High School 1-0. The Magog goal was scored by Charlene Hoyt.

In the Senior Girls' tilt which followed, LHS reversed the tide, stopped PEHS 4-0. LHS goals came from Sylvia Chontoff, two, and singles by Linda Rooney and Debbie Morehouse.

Bill Symons and Argos only yards away from new records, Coffey is leading scorers

TORONTO (CP) — Bill Symons and Toronto Argonauts are both only yards away from personal goals this year in the Eastern Football Conference.

Symons is eight yards short of gaining 1,000 yards rushing this year and the Argonauts are a victory away from finishing first in the EFC. Ottawa and Toronto both have 18 points and meet Sunday in the final game of the regular schedule.

If Symons gets his eight yards Sunday, he will be the first player in the history of Toronto Argonauts to have gained 1,000 yards rushing in a single season.

Symons has carried the ball 147 times for a total gain of 992 yards and a 6.7-yard average. His longest gain has been 75 yards and he has scored nine touchdowns along the ground. He has scored two others on passes.

Meanwhile, the conference scoring race has tightened with Tommy-Joe Coffey of Hamilton Tiger-Cats maintaining a three-point edge over Don Sutherland of Ottawa.

Coffey has 102 points on four touchdowns, 21 converts, 16 field goals and nine singles while Sutherland has one touchdown, 41 converts, 14 field goals and 10 singles.

Whit Tucker of Ottawa is third with 72 points, followed by Dave Mann of Toronto with 69 and Symons with 66. Tucker leads the conference in touchdowns with 12.

Bobby Taylor of Toronto is tops in the pass receiving department with 52 catches for 907 yards and a 17.6 average. Coffey has a 16-yard average while Symons' average is 12.4.

Wally Gabler of Toronto has taken over as top passer from

Coaticook upsets Waterville 7-2 in Dow Independent League

With a four-goal outburst from Louis Michaud, the Coaticook Dynamics trounced the Waterville Firemen 7-2 in a regular Dow Independent League game at the Sports Palace Sunday.

Waterville opened the scoring at the 2:21 mark of the first on a goal by Real Guillemette but the Dynamics rallied to score two goals within 40 seconds to go ahead 2-1.

Coaticook scored two goals in the second and added three more in the third to soundly defeat last year's playoff champions.

For Coaticook, Michaud led the way, scoring four goals. Nelson Emond tallied once and assisted on another goal. Remaining Dynamics' goals were scored by Claude and Marcel Letourneau.

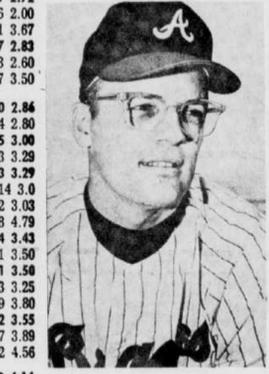

Pierre Bissonnette, Raymond Brulotte and Yvan Dawson each picked up a pair of assists for Coaticook with Michel Caron, Denis Messier, Robert

OUR SALE HAS BROKEN ALL RECORDS

Pierre's Barn LTD.

2 MILES FROM SHERBROOKE ON BOURQUE BOULEVARD

WE APOLOGISE for not being able to give you our usual attention during the First Week of our Sale.

NOTICE

Dear Customers:-

We worked a whole year to prepare this sale so it would be a success, and IT WAS... but we are sorry the crowds were so large we couldn't give customers the old fashion attention we are noted for.

Anyone who visited our store, but could not get properly served last week, are asked to come back. Following our great response to this sale, we asked our manufacturers and suppliers to send us new stocks, and because of the huge volumes we are buying, have been able to continue giving low, low prices! With such co-operation, we'll keep our sale in progress for 2 more weeks. We appreciate these bargains and know you will too!
