Aldermen fight Montreal-level printing wages

By MALCOLM REID
(Record staff reporter)

Sherbrooke city councillors have spoken out against the enforcement of Montreal-level wages in the Sherbrooke printing trade.
Assistant city clerk Robert Belisle will prepare for city council brief to the Quebec labor department on the effects of extending Montreal wage levels in the printing trade to all of the province, including Sherbrooke.
If the brief follows the wishes of Mayor Nadeau and most councillors, it will protest that such an extension would hurt the city and its industries.
Ald. Antonio Pinard was the sole dissident when last night's committee session of council discussed the measure, a recent demand of the Montreal Printing Trades Party Committee.

The committee is a joint labor-management body set up by the provincial government to enforce the "decrees" by which, under Quebec labor law, wage levels and working conditions are applied to a whole district once they have been negotiated and laid down in one labor contract within the district.

Councillors who opposed the extension of the Montreal zone decree to the rest of the province and agreed with Mayor Nadeau that Sherbrooke should "do its part in protesting," said Sherbrooke printers could not afford to pay Montreal-level salaries.

Ald. Pinard, however, said he was unready to back a protest until he had more information. "Getting in bad with the unions wouldn't pay for us at all," he said. "We can't go to war with an important workers' group."

Mayor Nadeau insisted it was not the unions which were proposing the change, but a parliamentary committee. Ald. Pinard replied that "the unions certainly have something to do with it."

Mayor Nadeau attributed the closing down of a cardboard-box factory in Sherbrooke to the similar placing of the industry in "Class A" and thus rendering it uncompetitive.

"The cost of living is not the same here as it is there," said Mayor Nadeau.

"They can't pay the same salaries as Montreal here, they don't have the same rents," said Ald. J. M. Jeanson, back at council after an absence for illness.

"Then there's the transport of paper," said Ald. Marcel Savard. "Even if they can pay the same salaries, they have extra costs in shipping paper from Montreal."

Workers had been "the ones who lost their jobs when the box factory closed," said Ald. Savard. "When printers lose See 'Aldermen Fight' Page 7

BEST CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Seventeen-year-old Irene Szabadhazy of Sherbrooke shows off the best of the chrysanthemums now on display at the 12th annual Chrysanthemum and Flower Show sponsored by the parks committee of the City of Sherbrooke. The week-long showing opened Saturday and continues through this week at the municipal greenhouses on Portland Avenue. The chrysanthemums shown above will be awarded to visitors in a drawing for 12 prizes to be held this Saturday. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

City shows flowers

The 12th annual Chrysanthemum Show sponsored by the parks committee of the City of Sherbrooke continues this week.

The colorful showing of more than 5,000 white, yellow, mauve and bronze chrysanthemums opened Saturday and more than 200 persons have already toured the municipal greenhouses on Portland Avenue.

The annual showing draws thousands to this municipally-owned nursery of Sherbrooke's well-known park plants and shrubs and the much-photographed Court House and King Hill mosaic garden plants.

The showing continues to Sunday, November 10. Visiting hours are from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and parks president Antonio Pinard cordially invites the public to tour the greenhouses.

More than 35 varieties of chrysanthemums are on display, attractively arranged under the guidance of superintendent Tony Mikolaj.

Following the same procedure as in previous years, the flower show is offering door prizes during the week-long event.

First prize will be the 12 best chrysanthemums on show. Second prize is eight chrysanthemums and two bunches of pom-poms. Third prize is six chrysanthemums and three bunches of pom-poms and so on. These drawings will be held Saturday and Sunday. Each visitor will be given a ticket for the drawing and a register book will be available for each visitor to sign.

As well as chrysanthemums, cut flowers, ferns, azalea, carnations, begonias, Christmas peper plants and a variety of other plants will be on display. A special attraction is the mosaic plants arranged in designs in huge boxes.

After the exhibition, all the flowers will be distributed among the patients in the public wards of Sherbrooke's hospitals.

Sugar to rise

QUEBEC (CP)—B. C. McCallum, sales manager of Canada and Dominion Sugar Co. Ltd., said Monday the cost of sugar will continue to rise until supplies have increased.

He told a convention of the Quebec Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages that the price will certainly go down as supply meets demand.

Want back pay

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal longshoremen want their back pay paid more quickly, and some of them hint at the possibility of another work stoppage to get it.

Leo Taylor, president of the influential 400-man checkers local of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) said 50 of his members have petitioned him for a special meeting Monday, Nov. 11 to discuss the back pay question. Scheduling a special meeting on a working day means, in effect, not working.

Men tranquilized

BROISTEDT, West Germany (AP)—Tranquillizers were sent down today to 11 German miners, trapped in a flooded iron mine for 12 days.

The men were getting edgy, rescuers reported, as operations to get them out lagged almost 12 hours behind schedule.

Italian quits

ROME (Reuters)—Caretaker Premier Giovanni Leone submitted the resignation of his minority Christian Democrat government today to make way for efforts to form a centre-left coalition.

An official statement issued after a cabinet meeting at which the decision was made said the government had fulfilled its task of getting essential budget legislation passed and guaranteeing constitutional liberties.

On unemployment

Grits beset again

OTTAWA (CP)—The minority Liberal government was assailed Monday in the Commons with the same issue it used so frequently in opposition—unemployment.

The Progressive Conservatives, launching a two-day supply debate, moved a non-confidence motion expressing regret that despite election campaign promises the Liberals have failed to "introduce any effective new policies or programs to reduce substantially unemployment in Canada and in particular to alleviate winter unemployment."

New Democrats promptly moved an amendment alleging government failure to "propose any plans for the fundamental economic and social changes required to deal with the chronic and growing problems of unemployment caused by automation and technological change."

Both motions of non-confidence will be voted on tonight. There was none of the advance excitement generated last week when nuclear arms were injected into the supply debate. Former Conservative labor minister Michael Starr said the Liberal government simply wants to sweep the topic of unemployment under the rug.

His speech launched the fifth of six supply debates provided in each parliamentary session for the Opposition to mount non-confidence motions.

The sixth and last will be held next Tuesday.

PLAN SHELVED
Aside from the unemployment debate, the Commons heard Prime Minister Pearson juggle business priorities to shelve the proposed Canada Pension Plan until early in the new year at the next session of Parliament.

Bishops' power-paper gets Vatican critics

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A key document on the government of Roman Catholic dioceses, brought before the Vatican ecumenical council today for the first time, ran into an immediate flood of criticism.

All 12 prelates who spoke on the schema found fault with it. Most said it was inadequate and vague in applying a new theological concept of wider powers for bishops.

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles was virtually alone in seeing the schema's proposals as "radical changes in the government of the church that could be a danger to the unity of the church."

The schema before the 2,300 prelates is entitled Bishops and Government of Dioceses. The five-chapter topic deals with the relations between bishops and the Vatican-based administration known as the Roman curia. The schema also covers national episcopal conferences of bishops. There now are 49 of these.

Traditionally, the Pope has governed the church through the Vatican curia, the Italian-dominated administrative apparatus that developed as a papal cabinet in the centuries when the pontiff was a temporal as well as a spiritual leader.

But Pope Paul and the bishops, who constitute the bulk of the 2,300 prelates attending the council, appear bent on changes that would shift some powers from the curia to the bishops.

NEED REFORM
Pope Paul told curia members Sept. 21 there was need for reform and he would like to see diocese bishops associated with him in church government.

In test votes last week, the bishops showed themselves overwhelmingly in favor of the idea. The votes came in a discussion of the general concept contained in the schema—De Ecclesia (On the Nature of the Church).

US convoy to Berlin is blocked

HELMSTEDT, West Germany (AP)—A Soviet blockade of a U.S. military convoy of the Berlin autobahn went into its second day today with no indication of retreat by either side. The Americans were boxed in by the Russians.

The 12-vehicle, 44-man convoy tried to run the blockade just inside East Germany early this morning, but three armored Soviet personnel carriers roared out of nearby woods and blocked their path. Two other Soviet personnel carriers parked behind the convoy, boxing in the Americans.

A Soviet radio command car was parked ahead of the convoy, which was stopped at the Marienberg checkpoint on the western end of the 110-mile superhighway to West Berlin.

Several Soviet jeeps also were standing by, but as a heavy rain pelted the vehicles only one Soviet soldier was visible. A steel-helmeted sentry manned a heavy machine-gun on an armored car. The gun was uncovered and pointed diagonally across the road.

The blockade—the third involving Allied convoys in less than a month—caused concern in Washington.

HEAD COUNT ISSUE
Again it centred on the issue of who is to make the rules for Allied military convoy travel on the autobahn. The Russians demanded a head count of U.S. soldiers on the vehicles. The Americans refuse.

U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk summoned Georgi M. Kornienko, Soviet charge d'affaires in Washington, Monday and demanded the convoy be released. Informants said Kornienko explained he had no word from his government on the incident.

Banks' surrender is possible today his lawyer says

MONTREAL (CP)—Counsel for Hal C. Banks, president of the Seafarers' International Union Ind. says "some talks" have been held on arrangements for the burly labor boss to surrender himself in court to answer any charges against him.

The Gazette quotes a "highly placed source" in an Ottawa dispatch as saying Mr. Banks would appear before a judge today, accompanied by his counsel.

Justice Minister Chevrier said in the Commons Monday that a charge was laid against the union, president Oct. 23 but Mr. Chevrier declined to answer questions as to whether a warrant for Mr. Banks' arrest had been issued and if not, why.

Joseph Nuss, counsel for Mr. Banks, said the "talks" were complicated because he did not know whether a warrant or summons for the arrest of his client had been signed by a judge.

"Perhaps Mr. Chevrier, the judge and a peace officer in possession of such a warrant or summons are the only ones who know about it," Mr. Nuss said Monday night.

Mr. Banks, reported to be in Montreal by his counsel, other SIU officers and shipping officials, was not immediately available for comment on the "talks" about surrendering.

Meanwhile, lawyers and reporters saw documents Monday that may shed some light on the federal government's case against Mr. Banks. Evidence seized in RCMP raids Friday on SIU headquarters and union officers' houses was made available to defence counsel.

"Information" against Banks and two minor SIU officials have been drafted, bearing the signature of Joseph McLeod, an RCMP officer, as complainant.

There is no entry on the dosiers to show that what court officials say is normal legal procedure—signing of a warrant or summons by a judge—was followed after the "informations" were filed Oct. 23.

The "informations" allege criminal conspiracy by Banks, Ernest Paul Carsh and Eldon Richardson, all with Montreal area addresses.

ALLEGED CONNECTION
The "information" allege that the three persons named and other persons unknown were concerned in an assault on Capt. H. F. Walsh in August, 1957, at which time Walsh was an organizer for the Canadian Merchant Service Guild.

Jean Martineau, special federal prosecutor, has repeatedly said the only action he is obtaining an executing order for search warrants, resulting in the RCMP raids. The warrants were given to obtain information on the alleged assault and the alleged conspiracy by Mr. Banks to have SIU members walk off the job in contravention of the Shipping Act and Criminal Code two weeks ago for a march on Parliament Hill.

About 1,500 documents taken by the RCMP from the SIU were surrendered to the custody of a Montreal court Monday.

Consulate hands over Vietnamese 'Tyrant'

SAIGON — Ngo Dinh Can, boss of central Viet Nam in the regime of his brother President Ngo Dinh Diem, was turned over to South Viet Nam's new revolutionary government today after he sought asylum at the U.S. consulate at Hue.

U.S. officials were understood to have received assurances from revolutionary officials that Can "would not be lynched and would receive the due process of law."

Diem and another brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, his closest adviser, were captured by the rebels Saturday. The revolutionary government said they committed suicide, but reports from private reliable sources have been widespread in Saigon that they were assassinated.

Children arrive in Rome

ROME (AP)—The three younger children of Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, former first lady of South Viet Nam, arrived by plane today from Saigon to await the arrival of their mother from the United States.

Mrs. Nhu's brother-in-law, Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc of Hue, met the children—a boy 15 and two girls 11 and 4. Their mother was expected here Wednesday.

The archbishop is in Rome for the Vatican ecumenical council.

The children's uncle, President Ngo Dinh Diem, and their father, who was Diem's closest adviser, died in the military revolt in South Viet Nam last weekend. The children at the time were in Dalat, a hill resort 150 miles north of Saigon.

A U.S. Air Force plane flew them to Thailand Monday night. There they were put on a commercial airliner for Rome.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Hue, capital of central Viet Nam, that 180 bodies had been found in a mass grave at Can's mansion there.

Responsible Vietnamese officials said rows of filthy dungeons were found in an old French arsenal on property owned by Can just south of Hue. Mobs Monday sacked and destroyed the home Can was building there.

BLOODY TYRANT
Buddhist leaders, students and others in Hue long have charged that Can ruled his bailiwick as a bloody tyrant.

Foreign observers believed Can probably would be tried by the new government and given either a death sentence or a long prison term.

Can, who dropped from sight when the coup overthrew Diem's regime last weekend, went to the U.S. consulate in Hue Monday night and asked for refuge. Consular officials notified the revolutionary government.

Late this afternoon, Can was flown 400 miles south to Saigon in a U.S. military plane and turned over to officials of the new government.

It was not known whether he knew he was to be turned over to the revolutionaries. He was taken from the airport to the nearby headquarters of the military junta.

Fregeau is mayor at border

ALBERT FREGEAU

ROCK ISLAND —(Special)—Albert Fregeau, local attorney, was elected mayor of this boundary town Monday, defeating his only opponent, retiring Councillor Louis F. Roberge by a margin of 66 votes.

Of the 293 votes cast, 179 were in favor of Mr. Fregeau and 113 for Mr. Roberge. There was one spoiled ballot. The turnout represented 69 per cent of the 498 names inscribed on the electoral list.

This is considered an unusually high percentage as a large number of properties in Rock Island are owned by United States citizens who generally refrain from casting their ballots because of possible legal complications.

Following the announcement of his election, the new mayor issued a statement saying he would "do my utmost in the service of the public in collaboration with the present council."

He indicated the first session of the council under his direction would be held early next week.

Mr. Fregeau has served for many years as legal adviser for the town and is well acquainted with the municipal affairs.

Mr. Roberge, a retired hardware dealer, was Liberal Member of Parliament for Stanstead County for several years and spent some time as a member of the municipal council before retiring to contest the mayoralty.

Mayor-elect Fregeau will succeed Mayor Carroll Smith who relinquished office under a gentlemen's agreement whereby the mayoral chair is occupied alternately by English and French-speaking residents.

Five new council members were elected by acclamation at the nomination meeting October 25. They are Gerard Sturtevant, Gerard McClure, Denis Bellevue, Edgar Hill and Lawrence Tilton. Sr. Re-elected was Stuart Edgar.

Urge controls on pesticides

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Association of Consumers today urged that sale of pesticides be restricted to retail outlets approved and licensed by the federal government.

In a brief to the Commons food and drug committee, the association also recommended that more federal inspectors be hired to step up the testing of food products to make sure they are free from excessive residues of poisonous chemicals used in pest control.

"We maintain that there should be more inspectors to work in the field in order to discover the areas where careless or improper use of pesticides is frequent," the association said.

Coupled with this should be a crackdown to ensure that all persons producing or marketing chemical-contaminated foods are prosecuted and the prosecutions given wide publicity.

The CAC brief said the staffs of approved stores would be trained to give full and proper advice to pesticide purchasers. It noted that Manitoba already has such a plan in effect.

vre, vice-president of the branch; Mayor Armand Nadeau, and Rev. Lucien Blanchard, a director of the blood donors committee. Attending nurse is Francoise Venne of Montreal. A total of 367 pints of blood were collected yesterday. The clinic continues until Nov. 7. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The general opinion here is that with its seventh running, the San Francisco Film Festival has reached its maturity.

Official support was never so strong; the governor of California attended the premiere for the first time. Hollywood at long last gave its partial benediction, contributing a top film, The Victors, and a sprinkling of names to give the festival needed glamor.

Talk of a full-fledged festival in Hollywood or Washington has become less evident. The reason appears simpler: Who is going to pay the bills? The studios no longer have money to lavish on such proposals.

Even San Francisco has had its rough financial waters. Last year the mayor stormed out of a satirical film about a girlie magazine, declaring the city shouldn't support such trash. The city halted its appropriation.

BEGAN IN 1957

But director Irving Levin, to whom the festival has been a one-man crusade, manages to find the backing to put on the event in first-class style. He has nursed his baby along from its opening night in 1957 with 300 in attendance.

Vincent Edwards, one of the cast members here for The Victors, stayed at the Fairmont Hotel, which also housed the convention of the American College of Surgeons. Television's Ben Casey did not attend meetings.

"I don't mix with those cats," said Edwards. "They'd cut me to ribbons."

One festival delight is the showing of short subjects of all nations before the feature entry. The inventiveness of the foreigners with animation and live action makes the movie fan yearn for the days when Hollywood used to pour inventiveness into shorts. But they are commercially unsound and have almost vanished in Hollywood.

ALDERMAN, AIRCRAFT TAKEN FOR GAME

When is a partridge a partridge and a duck a duck? If you want the answer to that one you'd better not ask hunters in the Eastern Townships.

So far this season one hunter has taken a shot at an alderman from Asbestos, saying he thought he was a partridge.

On two other occasions pilots, one from Drummondville, Que., and the other from Windsor, Que., found pellets fired from shotguns had hit their planes while they were flying over areas infested with duck hunters.

Veilleux appointment is made officially

Official announcement of the appointment of Sessions Court Judge Evender Veilleux of Sherbrooke as judge of the Superior Court for the Districts of St. Francis and Bedford was made in Ottawa Monday by Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier.

At the same time Mr. Chevrier announced the nomination of Gabriel Roberge of Thetford Mines as a judge of the Superior Court for the District of Quebec. He fills a vacancy caused by the retirement of a member of the Quebec District Bench.

Mr. Roberge was Liberal MP for Megantic from 1958 to 1962.

Nadeau asks that preference be given to local unemployed in winter construction

Mayor Armand Nadeau has launched a "respectful" campaign among Sherbrooke's winter-working contractors to prefer unemployed Sherbrooke men as workers.

Speaking during the public part of Monday's council meeting, the mayor said that municipalities had no legal way of forcing contractors to help cut down on winter unemployment.

But he said, after listing construction projects scheduled for the city by both private interests and by the city itself, "I ask you to remember that at the same time we have this $11,680,000 program of works, we have a normal, yet still rather dismaying figure of our unemployment."

Among the private projects were textile mill extension and a motel.

The hiring policies of the city-built Montreal-Terrill and Big Forks bridges will also be in private hands — the work is being done by contract.

Later, in committee, the mayor asked council to approve the city's going ahead with its works.

The Montreal Street approach to the North Ward — East ward bridge will require the acquisition of a good deal of private property, and Ald. Everett Nicol warned council that no work should begin on any land until the city had spoken to the owner.

Ald. Gervais told council there was new legislation in Quebec which says land must be acquired by expropriation — in which the price is set by an outside evaluator — if it has changed hands within the past five years.

"If they accept the offer, it's not obligatory," said Alderman Antonio Pinard.

"People want these works to get underway," the mayor summed up.

Council decided to offer one price to each landowner, and then to go to expropriation if the price was not acceptable. There would be no long periods of open negotiation.

Mayor Nadeau said that works could not await long discussions with owners. "J. S. F. Construction is ready to begin," he said of a contractor for the span.

Ald. Paul Gervais, who represents the North Ward, said the council would find no resistance to work beginning even before land prices were set except with one householder.

Council decided to offer one price to each landowner, and then to go to expropriation if the price was not acceptable. There would be no long periods of open negotiation.

Lawyer's report is awaited by council on Beckett deal

The city's Beckett farm deal may never take place.

Though the City of Sherbrooke has signed a contract to buy the 178-acre North Ward farm, it could still call the whole deal off, because the owner of the land has not yet signed, the city's lawyer informed city council last night.

One alderman at the council's committee session indicated he would like to do just that. But City Lawyer Rivard rejected Ald. Marcel Savard's resolution to kill the sale, saying it was "premature."

Ald. Savard, financial watchman on the council, has opposed the Beckett farm purchase all along as beyond the city's immediate land needs.

Council decided nevertheless to buy the farm from Miss Cecilia Beckett, but since the decision a series of ands and buts has turned up to stall the sale — and Miss Beckett still has not signed.

The latest point of dispute was raised by Leonard Beckett, a brother of Cecilia, who wrote to council two weeks ago to say that the division between a strip of land belonging to him and the farmland the city was buying was not the city's line but an old family fence, and last week invited the city to settle on a border with him.

It has become clear in debates of Mr. Beckett's claim that many councillors were originally unaware that he owned the section of land in question — a three-quarter-mile strip along the Beckett Road.

"It was no more than a right-of-way when we first discussed it," declared Ald. Amedee Roy. "If we had known he owned this strip I wonder if we would have offered the price we did."

The price the city is paying for the Beckett farm is $200,000 for 178 acres "more or less."

Ald. Everett Nicol, who has dealt personally with Miss Beckett in the negotiations, said he was aware of Leonard Beckett's ownership of a strip along the Beckett Road when the sale was first talked of, and council Director Charles Langlois backed him up in this, saying earliest engineers' maps of the farm had indicated it.

"The only question is what line divides it from our purchase," said Ald. Nicol.

"So do we settle on a border?" asked Ald. Paul Gervais.

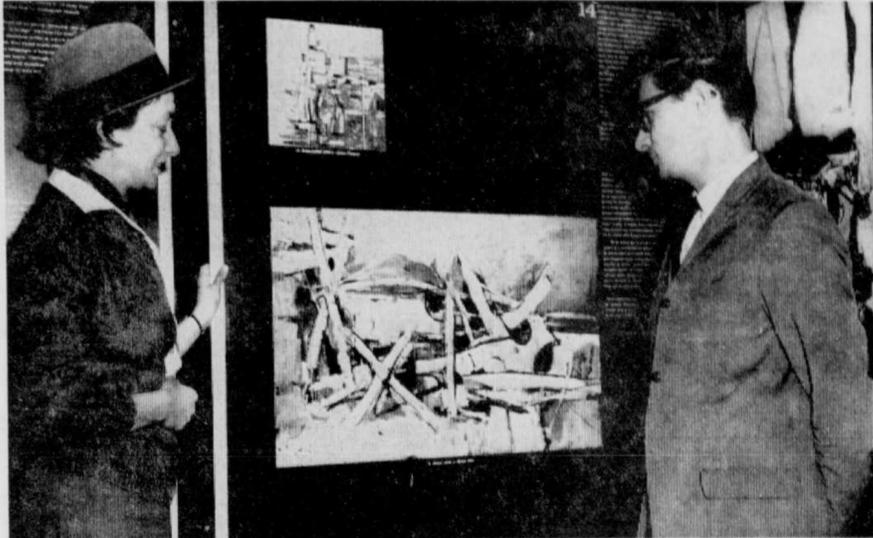

Council decided, however, to leave the matter to next week when it wants a report from Mr. Rivard on whether or not it can back out of the sale without legal repercussions from Miss Beckett.

Council wants this view in writing. Ald. Savard wanted to make a decision to cancel the sale automatically as soon as such an assurance came from the lawyer, but Ald. Gervais said, "You can't work that way."

The difference between the Leonard Beckett section as measured by the city and as delineated by the fence is about four acres.

Speaking of the strip, Ald. Savard said "those will be the first lots to be sold, too. For development, that's the best land."

Mayor Nadeau, who had previously expressed doubt that Mr. Beckett did indeed own the strip, accepted his ownership Monday and merely said council was "disappointed with the frontage we are getting on Beckett Road."

Lennoxville council

To permit building of winter car ports; grant towards reservoir made by Quebec

Lennoxville town council last night agreed to amend its building code to allow the erection of temporary car ports.

Council announced however its intention of using its power to withdraw the amendment "if the situation got out of hand."

Council considered the matter after John Saunders asked that he be permitted to put up a 20 by seven foot car port to keep snow off his garage driveway during the winter.

Lennoxville town officials last night publicly acknowledged receipt of an $11,348.56 provincial grant for expenditures to their recently-constructed reservoir.

The grant offered in a letter from Municipal Affairs Minister Pierre Laporte "in virtue of the Fire Prevention Act" amounts to 50 per cent of costs and is repayable in four annual installments available after approval of the structure by the fire commissioner.

Mayor Archie Mitchell extended the town's thanks to Quebec, extended an invitation to the fire commissioner, and expressed the wish that the first payment from the province would be forthcoming before the new year.

The minister's letter reads as follows: "I have the pleasure to inform you that the Department of Municipal Affairs awards to your Corporation a grant of 50 per cent of an amount of $22,697.12 representing the part which can be granted in virtue of the Fire Prevention Act on the expenses which have been incurred for improvements of the waterworks system.

"This grant of $11,348.56 will be paid in four annual installments, the first of which as soon as a favorable report shall have been submitted to me by the Fire Commissioner.

Other bids: Thomson Electrical Works at $475 and another of $340.

If the room used by Scouts and Cubs on the upper floor of the Lennoxville town hall can be re-painted and the plaster patched up at a cost not exceeding $150, council has consented to have the job done.

Alderman Charlie Lewis last night reported to council that there had been a break-in; one stolen car in the town during the month of October, and 56 traffic speeding tickets issued.

Mayor Archie Mitchell last night extended an invitation to council to attend Armistice Day services in the Lennoxville Square November 10 at noon.

Lennoxville councillors declined to re-study the request for permission to build a regular car garage submitted by Carl Speck, after he arrived at the regular meeting with charts of the proposed structure.

Earl Marshall approached Lennoxville council last night with a request for town authorities to remove the storm sewer installed on his property. Council indicated that it had already made repairs to the sewer at the request of Marshall.

Officials will meet Mr. Marshall to discuss his request.

The Province of Quebec Crippled Children's organization wrote council thanking them for allowing the tag day in the town that allowed them to raise funds for rehabilitation. President J. S. Gillam signed the letter.

Nobel prizes

STOCKHOLM (Reuters) — Two scientists from the United States and another from West Germany will share the 1963 Nobel Prize for physics, it was announced today.

Half the prize of 265,000 crowns ($51,000) went to Professor Eugene Wigner of Princeton University for his contributions to the theory of the atomic nucleus and elementary particles.

The other half will be divided by Professor Maria Geopfert-Mayer of the University of California and Professor Hans Jensen of Heidelberg University.

The pitfalls of building bulwarks

If there is a lesson to be learned from the still chaotic events in South Viet Nam, it is that building a bulwark against Communism can force the West into agonizing choices.

In recent months, the United States made some effort to force Diem into a less dictatorial mold. But its efforts were largely in vain. The United States could not afford to alienate Diem's government completely in the absence of any anti-Communist alternative.

OTTAWA — Old grudges die hard in the House of Commons because fresh conflicts give them new sustenance when the original causes of animosity have become but incidents in political history.

It was ironic that the man who made great political capital of having been howled down by the Grits in the Commons last year was frustrated and angered by his failure to prevent Harkness from speaking.

In death of Granby woman

Given 3 years for manslaughter

SWEETSBURG — Gilles Sevigny, of Granby, who pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter during the October session of the criminal assizes at Sweetburg was sentenced yesterday to three years in penitentiary by Judge Cliche.

The charge arose from the death of Mrs. Roger Martineau October 26, 1962, at Granby.

Her death was the result of an attempted abortion executed by Sevigny.

The defence argued yesterday that the accused was ignorant of the possible consequences, that he was guilty of ignorance rather than of any real dishonesty.

He only committed the crime after being asked to by Mrs. Martineau on two occasions and it was she who gave him the fatal instrument.

By FRED PATTEMORE
(Record staff reporter)

Defence further reminded the bench it was not the duty of the court to seek to destroy a man. The court must remember that the sentenced man must re-enter society at some time.

The accused came from a good family, was young and had been given excellent references, argued the defence.

The crown admitted there was no excuse for a 40-year-old woman with four children who "chased after an abortion," but maintained this was not a plausible excuse for Sevigny's behavior.

The crown described Sevigny's crime as a "stupid crime." "Ignorance is the only thing in his behavior."

The crown demanded a prison sentence, reminding the bench that the law permits a sentence of up to life imprisonment. Judge Cliche, in passing sentence, said he agreed with the defence that it is not the duty of the court to destroy a man. "The court must remember the young man will return to society at some time in the future," he said.

Speaking directly to Sevigny he said the crime committed and created "a horrifying scandal" in Granby, and the accused had "very seriously erred."

"We are not here to forgive but to protect society," he said.

The bench continued by explaining the sentence handed down would probably be cut in half for good behavior and would carry with it a recommendation that Sevigny be permitted to study electronics at the Institute Leclerc at St. Vincent de Paul, Montreal.

Judge Cliche said he hoped the sentence handed down would provide adequate punishment as well as resulting in the accused coming out of prison a better citizen and probably better equipped to practice his trade as an electrician.

Also sentenced yesterday was Emile Tetreault, of St. Valerien. Tetreault was originally charged with raping a 13-year-old St. Valerien girl June 9, 1962, at St. Valerien.

During the session of the criminal assizes he appeared for trial and eventually pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of attempt to corrupt the morals of a minor and was found guilty on the reduced charge.

The defence argued yesterday that the crime was Tetreault's first offence and said he should receive the same clemency shown any youth on his first offence.

It was also argued by the defence that the arrest and trial of the accused had provided a better punishment than any prison sentence could.

Defence mentioned several cases of jurisprudence concerning sentences handed down in similar cases.

The crown rejected the defence's call for clemency, stating that Tetreault, a man of 50, was quite aware of what he was doing and called for a prison sentence of two years and $1,000 bond for two years.

Tetreault was sentenced to complete one month imprisonment and be bound over on $500 bond for one year. He has already served 19 days in prison.

Five hurt in collision

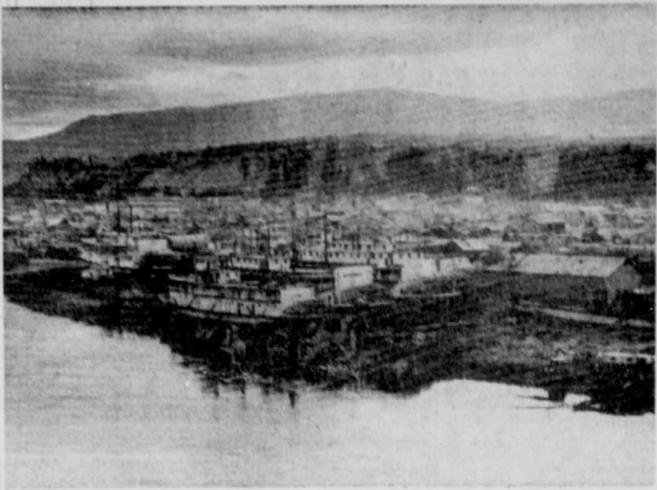

SUTTON — (Special) — Five persons were injured in a head-on collision between 1954 and 1962 cars near the Jacquess farm on the Abercorn road here at about 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Most seriously injured was 20-year-old Miss Betty McKinney of Sutton, driver and owner, of one car who received head injuries and a gash on a leg. The four other occupants of her car, a brother, Norris, aged 12, injured his nose. Another brother, Wallace, 11, received head injuries, and Leon Larocque, 53, of Dunkin, received a blow to his head.

The other man in the McKinney car, Bert Barnett, 62, was unharmed. The second car was driven by Bernardine Prince of Asbestos. His wife, who was with him, is reported to have put her head through the windshield.

A Wilson ambulance transferred the victims to the B.M.P. Hospital at Sweetburg, where they were X-rayed and given surgical and medical treatment. They were then allowed to return home, but Miss McKinney and her brothers must go back for further X-rays later this week. The Asbestos woman was taken to a Montreal hospital.

The cars were towed to a local garage. Damage to both cars is extensive.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

Weekend storm causes trouble in Brome district communities

WATERLOO—The surprise snow storm caused trouble and disappointment over the weekend in the Waterloo district.

It is estimated that about 14 inches of snow fell during the evening and early morning.

Saturday night cars were skidding all over the road and many landed in the ditch. One car was seen between Waterloo and South Stukely, upside down, half across the road. The occupants, a family of man and wife and four children were badly shaken but not hurt. Travel was extremely dangerous at this bend of the highway for the next two hours before a tow truck removed the vehicle.

Sunday morning, many hunters couldn't get out of town. One home in particular had four enthusiastic hunters start out at 5:00 a.m. and return an hour later. Roads were dangerous and impassable.

A tie-up in traffic on Sunday morning on the No. 1 highway coming into Waterloo from Granby caused trouble and delay. Chief of Police Girouard directed traffic until the roads department had the hill cleaned.

Some motorists were still struggling to reach their destination Monday. One car received help on the Foster road near the highway at 5:00 p.m. He reported he had been since 3:00 a.m. getting from St. Albans, Vt.

Another man with three elderly ladies as passengers was shovelled off the Foster road onto the highway, after seven hours of trouble on his short trip.

Church services were called off Sunday at South Bolton because of the road conditions from the heavy weekend snow fall. On Monday the school bus from Knowlton did not come through on the East River Road.

Many Sutton residents felt uncomfortably cold when they awakened November 3. Oil-burning furnaces were off because of a power failure. The mercury was low and a 16-inch snowfall was in progress. By breakfast time, one seven-minute tantalizing return to power was followed by another cut-off of electricity.

WA life membership given to Nesbitt Residence lady

COWANSVILLE (Special) — On October 28, the Rt. Rev. Kenneth Maguire, Lord Bishop of Montreal, through the local committee and Montreal Ladies' Committee of the Nesbitt Anglican Residence, presented Mrs. Orin B. Rexford with a life membership in the Dominion Anglican Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Kirby, president of the W.A., assisted the Lord Bishop while Mrs. Agar, chairman of the Montreal committee gave the citation.

This presentation was made in recognition of more than five years devoted service by Mrs. Rexford as president of the management committee.

During that time she gave unfaltering and loving care to the residents of the Nesbitt residence whose life she has made a home away from home in every sense.

Mrs. Rexford recently resigned as chairman but continues to work as a member.

Life in India to be discussed at CWA meeting

GRANBY — (Special) — The Church Woman's Association of the St. George's Anglican Church here will hold a regular monthly meeting on November 7 in the Parish Hall at 3 p.m.

This promises to be a most interesting afternoon when Captain Edward Brown of England will talk on his impressions of life in India.

Captain Brown spent twelve years at sea and then joined the Bombay Pilot Service. He later became conservator of port, retiring in 1960.

He will have on view a small collection of paintings done by Captain Brown in Kashmir and elsewhere.

Land Rovers Always Do

You can take steps now that will help your son or daughter throughout life. London Life explains below.

A report from London Life:

What the expectant mother should know about life insurance

Motherhood is a world of love. Life insurance is a world of facts. At first glance they seem far apart, but a second look brings them together. London Life reveals some facts that will probably surprise you.

YOU MAY NOT REALIZE how much you depend upon your husband and his income—until a baby comes. Then you must stop and think:

(1) If your husband should die unexpectedly, how much money would you need each month—and for how many years—to care for your family properly? Whatever the amount, a London Life policy can guarantee it for you.

(2) As well as protecting you year after year, London Life permanent insurance builds savings. These savings are an unusually good investment. Your London Life policy is not affected by market fluctuations. It is just as safe as high-grade bonds and much safer than most common stocks.

(3) If your husband buys a $10,000 London Life Jubilee whole life policy now, he can have quite substantial savings at age 65. For example, if he is now 25 years old, and in good health, he may purchase this policy for $13.09 a month. At age 65 there will be a guaranteed cash value in his policy of $5,580 and about $7,000 in dividends. Twice as much as he has paid in premiums. (Based on the 1963 dividend scale and assuming dividends are left to accumulate.)

(4) London Life has had an outstanding dividend record for over 50 years. Since 1951, the dividend rate has been increased six times.

(5) The London Life Insurance Company operates only in Canada. One reason London Life premiums are low is because Canadians, on the average, are long lived.

(6) Dividends to policyowners are high because, among other things, the Company invests wisely and profitably in Canada. Interest rates are higher in Canada than in most other industrialized countries. (In 1962, the Company earned 5.47% on its investments—after investment expenses.)

(7) Don't think for a minute that your husband must write one annual cheque to buy life insurance. He can buy a London Life policy on a monthly budget plan.

(8) If a financial emergency comes along, your husband can borrow from London Life on the cash value of his policy. The interest rate of 6% is comparable with banks' regular lending rates and much lower than personal loan companies'. Repay when convenient.

(9) For about the cost of a new permanent each year, your husband can add a special feature to his $10,000 London Life policy. If he should become disabled and unable to work for a period of six months or more, London Life will pay premiums falling due during the period of disability. For an additional premium, London Life will guarantee to pay him a monthly income, after the six months' waiting period, while he continues to be disabled.

(10) For about $7.50 a month you can buy your baby a $10,000 London Life Jubilee whole life policy. When he completes his education and takes over the premiums, he'll still pay this same low rate.

(11) For a small additional outlay on your child's policy, you can guarantee that if your husband should die London Life will pay the premiums until your child reaches age 21.

Know about your husband's insurance. Take an evening to discuss it. Find out what insurance he owns now and where he keeps the policies. Get to know his lawyer, insurance man and banker. You might tear out this page and talk about it with your husband.

The London Life representative in your community has been schooled to tailor insurance to fit your needs.

NEW OFFICERS INTRODUCED AT KIWANIS CLUB

GRANBY — The Kiwanis Club met Oct. 29 at 6:30 p.m. to discuss coming events and to introduce the new officers: President, J. A. McAulay; first vice-president, Guy Cloutier; second vice-president, Jack A. Fanning; treasurer, Jean Mathieu; secretary, Fred A. Wallace.

Directors are: H. B. Lawrence, Bill H. Young, Jim A. Wright, Donald Weston, J. Alfred Leveille H. P. Wassido and the past-president, Wm. Munroe.

Jacques Fortin was recently inducted as an active member. Chairman, Fred Leveille announced that he was not able to give a report of the receipts of the Gas Day as the receipts have been slow in coming in, but hoped to have them soon.

Chairman Herbert Wassido announced the winners of the Garden Contest for the season. George Brandrick won first prize, Gale McHutchin second, and Margaret Brandrick, third, all for the layout, maintenance and uniformity of vegetables.

Special prizes went to Margaret Brandrick and Shirley McHutchin. Herbert Wassido supplied seeds for the growing of all vegetables, for which he was tendered a vote of thanks.

It was also announced that the combined service at St. James United Church in Montreal on Oct. 27 for all the clubs in the Granby Division was well attended.

Kiwanian W. Turnbull, delegate to the Niagara Falls convention earlier in the autumn, gave an account of the meeting.

Eaton

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Picard spent a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Winslow in Lancaster, N.H.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Glen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hurd, of Cookshire, and Mrs. L. Matthew, of Sawyerville, accompanied Miss Doris Lake, to Montreal, where they paid their respects to the late Mr. Trevor Buck.

Mr. Ayton Dodge was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Picard.

Miss Joan Glen and Mr. Allan Glen were among those from this district who attended the Scouts tour of Dorval Airport and enjoyed seeing the Eastern Townships from a jet airliner.

contracts, that doesn't help workers."

Aldermen Everett Nicol and Paul Gervais both said, "We object."

"We must see it from both worker and employer sides," said Mayor Nadeau.

"I'm for protecting our industries," said Ald. Pinard, "but I don't want to get into trouble on the other side either."

The provincial labor department, headed by Carrier Fortin, Sherbrooke's MPP, has assigned the study of the proposed change to a Montreal team of consultants.

Montreal livestock market

MONTREAL (CP) — Cattle prices were slightly lower yesterday on the Montreal livestock markets. Trading was slow and demand only fair.

Receipts were: 684 cattle, 233 calves, 20 hogs and 230 sheep and lambs.

Good steers 23.43, 22.25 - 22.75, medium 20.22 and common 14.23 - 19.50. Common heifers were 14 - 18.75.

Medium cows 15-15.50, common 13.50-14.50 and canners and cutters 8.25-13.50.

Common and medium bulls 13-18.

Good yearlings 28-32, medium 22-28, common 12-21 and grassers 13-15.

There were no sales of hogs. Good lambs 18.50 - 19 and common 15-16. A few sheep 7.

DON'T ALL DIE

Unlike Pacific salmon, landlocked and Atlantic salmon do not always die after spawning but may return each year to spawn.

Now five kinds of Chevrolets for all kinds of people!

JET-SMOOTH LUXURY CHEVROLET—For luxury-loving people. Here's the Jet-smoothest, most luxurious Chevrolet ever built! Rich new styling, finer appointments in all four series and 15 models. Including those dazzling new Super Sports! Engines up to 425 hp*, manual or Powerglide* transmissions to match your personal tastes!

NEW CHEVELLE—For pace-setting people. A totally new kind of car with all the advantages — small-car handling, big-car comfort! All wrapped up in styling that makes expensive cars jealous. Chevelle serves every purpose with three series and 11 models, and a full choice of engine and transmission teams!

CHEVY II — For practical people. Chevy II with new V8 power* tops all thrifty cars for fun-on-a-shoestring. Stretches the shoestring further with 4- and 6-cylinder engines. Chevy II's six models in two series all like pretending they're bigger, more expensive cars — and they act like it!

CORVAIR — For fun-loving people. More fun than ever from Corvaire's new bigger engine! Same Corvaire handling and riding ease with a dressed-up '64 look in 9 models — including the 150-hp Turbocharged Spydere, Club Coupe and Convertible!

CORVETTE — For sports-minded people. More sport than this you won't find on wheels! Corvette now rides softer, smoother — but loses none of its gusto because its big V8 offers versions from 250 to 375 hp*! Sport Coupe and Convertible models. Want to get together with other car-loving people? Go see your Chevrolet dealer... he likes all kinds!

Plymouth U.C.W. chicken patty tea

Unique Christmas wreath attracts buyers at sale

A unique Christmas wreath was the centre of attraction at the Chicken Patty Tea and Sale, held at the Plymouth United Church, on Saturday afternoon, sponsored by the United Church Women.

The wreath, which took many hours to make, must have been a most tedious task, as the main base of the wreath was formed with several pounds of taffees, wrapped in pale blue cellophane paper, each one being tied separately to the round base of the wreath. Pale blue silvered ribbon entwined the frame, and at the top, was a huge bow to match. In the middle of the wreath was placed a verse which read, "Before you leave this house of mine, snip a candy for Auld Lang Syne". This unusual idea was the work of the minister's wife, Mrs. M. W. Williams, and centred a most attractive table of fancy work items, too numerous to mention. In charge of this table were the Misses Vina Brownlow and Ruby Whiting.

The convener of the tea was Mrs. G. LeBaron, assisted by Mrs. G. McClintock, Mrs. P. Gray, Mrs. R. Collinson, Mrs. E. Lavallee, Mrs. K. Marshall and Mrs. H. Rawlings.

Receiving the guests into the lower hall, where the sales tables were arranged with colored gourds and pine branches, were Mrs. M. W. Williams and Mrs. Fred Sangster. Here in this hall, many prospective buyers, browsed around, pondering what they could buy for Christmas gifts. A table of Christmas cards was looked after by Mrs. E. Kennett and Mrs. D. MacPherson, while a table of surprise boxes was supervised by Miss L. Seymour and Mrs. F. Klossner.

The table of delectable home baked foods was cared for by Mrs. F. Paterson and Mrs. P. Dunbar and the jams and jellies were capably handled by Mrs. W. Gibson, Mrs. H. Griffith and Mrs. D. MacLean. The clothe-line of gaily printed aprons was looked after by Mrs. G. Dougal, Mrs. R. Planche and Mrs. P. Rawlings.

As guests ascended the stairs to the dining room, which was most tastefully decorated for the occasion, with arrangements of giant yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and pine boughs, the treasurer, Miss Eunice MacIntyre took the tickets. The stage was also decorated with standards of giant yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and pine boughs, while on the piano was a silver candelabra, with white lighted tapers.

The tea table was arranged with a lace cloth, centred with red carnations and fern, flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra, here pouring tea were Mrs. L. Rasberry, Mrs. G. Ranshousan, Mrs. D. Johnston and Mrs. A. Swan. In charge of the dining room was Mrs. R. Beers and the individual tea tables were centred with a most attractive motif, of silver twigs, bearing tiny gift wrapped parcels, tied with ribbon bows, the base being a square sponge decorated with a crepe ruffle, tied with silver ribbon.

The servers were: Mrs. L. Gillam, Mrs. L. Pettigrew, Mrs. G. Philbrick, Mrs. R. Fern, Mrs. N. Hunter, Mrs. R. Goselin, Mrs. T. Bechar, Mrs. J. Rugg, and the Misses Joan Beers, Gladys Elkas, Jane LeBaron, Evelyn Salten and Peggy Westerman.

In charge of the decorations was Mrs. C. Frappied, and the cutting of squares was done by Mrs. R. Larrabee, and the Misses Eva Hall and Kate Fales. Replenishing the tea were Mrs. E. Kimmis and Mrs. S. Lothrop.

The tea proved to be a social success, despite the bitter snowy weather which prevailed during the day.

Miss A. Ward speaks to U.C.W.

Miss Anne Ward, secretary of the Board of Women of the United Church of Canada, paid her first visit to this district yesterday to meet the executive of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterian United Church Women. During the day, there was a discussion of the work being done in the area as well as touching on the problems encountered.

At luncheon, the members were joined by Rev. A. B. Lovelace, Chairman of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery and Mrs. Lovelace, Mrs. F. L. Shonkwiler, president of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference U.C.W., was also present.

Miss Ward, stated that in completing the second year of this new organization, the members must think of where they are going now and what road will be taken. She also asked the members to interest others in the organization, which has a membership of more than 200,000 across Canada. Miss Ward said she was sure that the union of the Women's Groups has brought more women into church work.

Aviano-Laythe wedding

LONG ISLAND, N.Y. — The marriage of Janet Patricia, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Laythe, Derby Line, to Mr. Robert Matthew Aviano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Aviano, Patchogue, Long Island, New York, took place on Saturday morning, October 19, at eleven o'clock in St. Francis de Sales church. Father Traynor officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The wedding music was played by the church organist, who accompanied the soloist for the singing of Ave Maria. The Altar was adorned with white roses, mums and gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a gown of white peau de soie over taffeta, the fitted bodice having lily point sleeves with Chantilly lace applique from the circular neckline down the front to the hemline, the skirt having unpressed pleats over the hips, with bustle roses at the back to drape into a chapel train. Her chapel veil of silk illusion was held in place by a pill box of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white roses and camellia cut gladioli.

Miss Jacqueline Laythe, was maid of honor for her sister, Miss Susan MacLean, Derby Line and Springvale, Maine, and Miss Carol Shaffer, Boston, Mass., as bridesmaids, were alike in floor length gowns of green on gold brocaded taffeta, the bodice having long sleeves and a circular neckline. The skirt was fashioned with unpressed pleats over the hips, with a butterfly bow at the back waist. They wore matching pill box hats with green nose veils and carried autumn cascades of toned mums and daisy poms.

Mr. David Aviano was best man for his brother and the ushers were Messrs. Allen Jewell, West Haven, Conn., and Peter McGreevy, Long Island, N.Y.

Mrs. Laythe, the mother of the bride, was in a sheath dress of teal blue wool sheer, matching toned velvet petal hat, brown accessories and a white orchid corsage on her fur stole.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Aviano, was in a sheath dress of light autumn blue silk, a matching hat and toning accessories and a white orchid corsage on a fur stole.

The reception took place at "Felicie's of Patchogue" with 90 guests received and attending the wedding banquet. The bride's table was arranged with the tiered wedding cake decorated in white with lily-of-the-valley and mauve orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Aviano enjoyed a honeymoon trip to points of interest in Northern New York State. They are residing at 2912 Gull Road, Medford Station, Long Island, New York. For her wedding trip the bride chose a cranberry wool sheath dress having a matching full length coat and wore with it a cranberry to rose toned velvet hat and toning accessories.

Guests attended the wedding from points of Pennsylvania, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Vermont.

The evening of Friday, October 18, following the wedding rehearsal, a reception took place at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aviano, Sr., at Patchogue, Long Island, New York, and was attended by the wedding attendants and close friends of the couple.

The bride presented her gift of a gold wrist watch to the groom, and the groom gave his bride a gold watch. The bride presented her maid of honor with earrings and the bridesmaids with sterling silver pins. The groom also presented appropriate gifts to his best man and the ushers.

During the social evening Mr. and Mrs. Aviano served refreshments to the 40 guests attending.

Quickly prepared nog ideal for night time

"Winter's coming on apace" ... and with it, long evenings of family activities at home. Reading, watching television or studying, parents and children enjoy themselves together in the cozy warmth.

Before the evening ends, someone is sure to call for a bit of refreshment. When that cry is raised, respond with a quickly prepared nog. Instant pasteurized powdered skim milk, conveniently stored on the shelf and always ready to use, is a basis for the very best beverages. It's high in nutrition ... the B vitamins, protein and minerals of whole milk are still there, and only the fat has been removed. Flavour alone is ample reason for preparing these drinks, but it plumpness is a problem with your family, you'll be pleasantly surprised to find that nogs made with instant skim milk powder are low in calories.

Milk and Honey Nog and Milk Nog are excellent choices for that bedtime snack. If your youngsters are hungry after school or play, they'll enjoy a sampling in mid-afternoon ... without the accompanying lag in appetite that can follow heavier between-meal nibbling. Home economists offer recipes for both delicious potables with an eye to convenience, nutrition and economy.

MILK AND HONEY NOG

(Makes about 4 servings) 1-1/2 cups instant pasteurized powdered skim milk, 2-2/3 cups ice water, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 cup honey.

Mix instant pasteurized powdered skim milk and ice water; stir lightly. Combine egg, cinnamon and honey; beat well and add to instant skim milk mixture. Beat until foamy. Sprinkle with cinnamon if desired.

LEMON MILK NOG

(Makes about 4 servings) 1-2/3 cups instant pasteurized powdered skim milk, 3 cups water, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 package (1-1/2 ounces) lemon-flavoured rennet custard.

Combine instant pasteurized powdered skim milk and water; mix well. Heat to 110° (lukewarm). Gradually add to egg; mix well. Add rennet custard; mix until dissolved. Let stand 10 minutes. Chill until set. Beat with rotary beater or blend in blender until foamy. If mixture separates on standing, beat until blended before serving. Sprinkle with nutmeg, if desired.

* Other flavours of rennet custard may be substituted.

Women's Groups

ST. PAUL'S LADIES' GUILD

A regular meeting of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild was held in the church hall on October 30, with 10 members present.

The president, Mrs. G. Carleton, was in the chair and the meeting was opened with prayer led by the Rector Rev. R. Jervis-Read.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and the treasurer, Mrs. F. Stanford, gave a report on the card party held on October 24 showing this event to be an outstanding success.

The winner of the drawing for crocheted place-mats held at this party, was Mrs. J. Drew. Rev. Jervis-Read spoke about the partnership in the Gospel program, the plans of which is to be carried out in this parish, during the next few weeks.

Conveners for the card party to be held on November 7, were named as follows: Card tables, Mrs. J. Drew and Mrs. D. Sangster; Kitchen, Mrs. A. Fearon and Mrs. H. Buckland; Food table, Mrs. F. Stanford.

The purchasing of a hot-water heater for the rectory was discussed and a sum of money was voted towards this project.

A donation of money was received from Mrs. S. Farmer.

The meeting closed with prayer, following which refreshments were served by members and a social hour enjoyed.

MY TRIBUTE TO TOM GORDON

Tom Gordon is gone, his pen takes its rest. His typewriter knows not his touch; We trust his soul mingles in realms with the blest Where the righteous are waiting for such.

There is much may be said of the kindness he showed To humans on Life's thorny way; My pen can't express the goodness bestowed To others, by him day by day.

A well-cherished friend to all on Life's trail Who pass through its uncertain school; When help was required Tom never did fail To practise the good "Golden Rule".

Though his body now lies beneath the green sod His soul in its beauty is free, And through Faith o'er the years, we trust meets its God Where through promise it yearned so to be.

-- Father Time in his haste may rush madly on Other Rhythms much eloquence show, Yet the Verses of Gordon shall rise as the dawn In the minds of their readers I know.

Alberta Fish and Game Association plans to re-locate herd of 60 elk

CALGARY (CP) — Sixty healthy elk will be moved into a disease-free region of north-western Alberta this fall as a conservation measure by the Alberta Fish and Game Association.

Bruce Stewart of Calgary, secretary-manager of the 17,000-member association, said the elk will be trapped in an over-populated valley in the national park 20 miles north of Banff. The animals will be collected as soon as snow drives them into the valleys from the mountains.

"The only way park officials now control the elk herd size is to slaughter the old, sick or weak animals each fall," said Stewart, a native of Ottawa.

"We don't like this method but under present circumstances there's little else the park wardens can do. If they don't keep down the herd, the food supply is threatened and almost all animals could be lost."

Three years ago the association decided to find a new home for the elk that would be slaughtered. Its biologist found a natural elk area 40 miles northwest of Spirit River. No elk live in the district.

The association sought provincial government approval to transport a large number of elk to the region—a 600-mile road trip from Cascade Valley, the elk winter feeding area in the park.

SIGNED PETITION

The government feared elk damage to new crops in a region, recently opened for home-stead, and refused. The association persisted and circulated a petition in the area which received approval from Spirit River residents.

"The government said we could ship 60 and we agreed because it at least gave us a foot in the door. Next year we hope to be able to move more elk to Spirit River and other northern areas which can support them."

Stewart, a one-time Yukon big game guide, and Ross Laycock of Calgary, association big game chairman, will handle the job. They expect it will take a week to trap the animals in a pen, test them for disease and then move them in two trucks to Spirit River.

The elk will be enticed into the pen by hay and salt.

Horns will be cut from five bull elk selected for the trip. When trapped in rutting season bull elk are known to attack cows in the herd.

A special tranquilizer, given the animals in their water, will be used to keep the elk calm during the trip. Its effect will be the subject of a research paper by Dr. B. W. Tonken of Calgary.

Stewart said that while elk

Commencement exercises held at North Hatley High

NORTH HATLEY — The annual Commencement exercises and prize giving was held at the high school on Oct. 24, when a program of choruses and songs was presented by the pupils, and the valedictory address given by Jack Blier.

The chairman of the local school board, A. Greer, who spoke on the duties of the school board and its financial position, asked for the cooperation of all to make the next year a successful one.

The principal, Mrs. Hart Montgomery, welcomed the guests and introduced her staff, Mrs. N. Pike, Mrs. A. Cheal, Mrs. R. Vaughan, Mrs. A. Cruickshank, Mrs. G. Young, Mrs. G. Bean, Mrs. M. Turner, Mrs. E. Turner, and a new member, Mrs. Keith Cheal, who is taking the sciences in the senior grades.

Mrs. Montgomery reviewed the activities of the last term, mentioning the sports schedule, and the public speaking contests. She pointed out that in the Stanstead County competition, a North Hatley pupil Beryl Greer, won the trophy. The maximum points at the School Fair was also won by a North Hatley scholar, Brian Smith. She congratulated the members of the graduating class, and all those receiving awards for their year's work, and urged for the co-operation and understanding of all to insure every opportunity for the progress and well-being of the scholars, and a successful and happy year.

Mrs. E. Detchen, president of St. Barnabas Anglican Guild, presented the scholarships from the North Hatley High School Memorial Scholarship Committee to Jack Blier and Gayle Hatrick.

Mrs. W. Crease won the drawing on a cake, and the proceeds from this went to the students council.

Bishop's University cagers eke out 38-35 win over South Shore All-Stars in exhibition fixture

Bishop's University Gaiters defeated the South Shore All-Stars 38-35 Sunday in St. Lambert. The game was decided in the closing minutes of the contest on the strength of a basket by Mike Levesque and a free throw by Alden Appely.

This was the first exhibition game for the Gaiters, who will open the league schedule against R.M.C. at Kingston Saturday, Nov. 16.

The scoring for the Gaiters was well balanced as nine of the ten who played counted points and no-one scored in double figures. Top man for Bishop's were Alden Appely and Dwight Douglas with seven points.

Goal No. 545 may be bugging Gordie Howe

DETROIT (AP)—Can it be that Gordie Howe's thoughts of goal No. 545 are bugging him? "Sure," says Detroit Red Wings manager-coach Sid Abel.

Howe has gone scoreless in four games since he tied Maurice (The Rocket) Richard's career record of 544 goals in the National Hockey League. Gordie needs one goal to break the retired Montreal star's record, which doesn't include playoff games.

"Sure this thing is bothering him," Abel said Monday. "I'm conscious of it myself. I've been using him on the powerplay on the point."

Putting a man on the point means that he's kept in a preferable position to make the shot at the goal on a drive at the net.

But Howe has been off form. In Detroit's last two games, defeats by Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins, he had few shots on goal.

piece, while Barry Stewart netted six.

The rebounding was led by Pete Crosby and Bill Forward as they faced an ex-Gaiter, Murray Smith. Although Bishop's won the game they showed that there is considerable room for improvement before the game with R.M.C. The foul shooting was generally poor, ball handling was sloppy at times, and the defensive rebounding in the first half was not as good as it should have been.

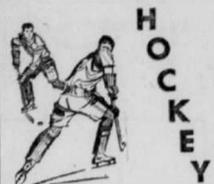

Coaches Garth Smith and Dan Partridge will, therefore, have plenty to talk about and correct during the next two weeks.

The game was played without the services of Bruce Bristowe, Keith Mills, Ron Barr and Bob Aitken. The first three along with Douglas, Crosby and Bob Coates comprise what remains of last year's team which reached the final round of the playoffs.

Missing this year are, John Hamby, "Squee" Gordon, (who now play for the pro Montreal Northern Oilers), Pete Campbell and Dave Little. In addition, Bob Coates, who is starting guard with Bruce Bristowe, sustained an injury to his heel in an auto accident this summer, and has been slow getting off the mark.

New additions to the squad from last year's second team are Bob Aitken, Ken Taylor and Mike Levesque. The freshmen talent is considerably better than it was last year at this time. It includes Bill Forward, Barry Stewart, "Butch" Staples and Hugh Stewart. Alden Appely is a third year student transferred from U.N.B. and he is a strong addition to the team.

Before the league opener, the 14 man squad will be cut down to 12. There is sure to be quite a battle for some of these positions.

Maurice's mark should stand - Henri Richard

NEW YORK (AP)—As a youngster, Henri Richard was justifiably proud of his older brother, Maurice, one of the greatest hockey players of all time.

Now Henri is even prouder of The Rocket.

"You know," said Henri, a star centre for Montreal Canadiens, "whenever someone gets his record broken you hear him say 'records are made to be broken' or 'good luck to him for breaking my record.'"

"Maurice is more honest. He's saying what he is thinking. That's what I always admired most about him."

The Rocket, whose National Hockey League career record of 544 goals has been equaled by Detroit Red Wings' Gordie Howe, requested last week that his total remain in the book as an asterisk because he played in 150 fewer games than the Red Wings' star.

Ed Enos gets job with Alouettes on hunch

MONTREAL (CP)—Ed Enos, a big, burly man who looks and talks like a prize fighter, switched all over in exasperation and glared at Jim Trimble, a big, burly man who looks and talks like a tough football coach.

"Look, I can do this job for you, and I can do a darn good job," Enos growled. "Now do I get it or don't I?"

Trimble, who had summoned Enos from his Boston home three weekends in a row to talk about the job without ever indicating he would get it, hardly moved a muscle as he replied calmly: "You get the job."

The job was defensive coach of Montreal Alouettes, and head coach Trimble of the Eastern Football Conference club was making sure of his man.

Enos still perspires when he recalls that confrontation with Trimble last spring, but the outburst is typical of the Enos football career to date.

Enos walks around like a balloon ready to burst.

"I'm a winner," he says, gritting his teeth to contain his enthusiasm. "I get plenty excited when I win, and I get plenty cheesed off when I lose. I hate to lose, and I won't stay around anyone who's a loser."

"I want to be the best defensive coach in Canada, and then I want to be the best head coach in Canada, and then I want to be the best head coach in the United States."

The only son of a now-retired, tough Boston cop, 30-year-old Ed Enos started playing football in high school with "no talent but lots of enthusiasm." By the time college days at the University of Connecticut were over (he graduated in 1957) he was an all-star guard and tackle and good enough to be drafted by the New York Giants of the National Football League.

Giants kept him through the 1957 pre-season training camp but didn't play him. Enos finally exploded, demanded more playing time, and was promptly shipped off to British Columbia Lions.

"It was like going to British Guiana as far as I was concerned," Enos recalls, "but I wanted to play and I went."

He arrived in Vancouver on a Thursday and was told he would be playing two nights later against Edmonton Eskimos, then the best team in Canada.

"But what will I do?" Enos asked in despair.

"Just ask the guy playing next to you," he was told.

When game time arrived, Enos nudged his linebacker and asked, "who is my man?" A big Edmonton offensive end overheard him and glared at Enos. "I'm your man, buster," he replied.

That was the start of what Enos describes as two good years with Lions, 1957 and 1958, when "I was doing what I wanted to do—play football."

In 1959 Enos arrived in Vancouver a full week before training camp, after the 3,000-mile car ride from Boston, only to be told: "Sorry, you don't fit into our plans."

Shocked and hurt, he headed for New York seeking a berth with Giants. To his surprise he found himself in the lineup for the season opener in Dallas. He got the break because of pre-season injuries to Giants players.

He was having a great opening game—good key blocks and an interception of a screen pass when suddenly he collapsed on the field. Unconscious, he was taken to the dressing room where the doctor ordered him back to Boston for tests and observation. A year later, after months in hospital, he learned he had blood clots that were affecting his breathing. He was ordered to quit football.

PERFECT RECORD

He was soon feeling well enough to take a minor coaching job at Pittsfield, Mass., directing a local high school team that hadn't won in several years. During the 1959 and 1960 seasons the team went undefeated with an 18-0 record.

Enos then moved to a Vermont college as an assistant coach for two years but quit when the administration refused to give him free rein to get more talent in efforts to produce a winner.

Last winter Enos decided he wanted to coach in Canadian football and wrote his old team, the Lions, inquiring about prospects.

Later, after he had received a favorable response, he began to get cold feet about moving his family the long distance to Vancouver.

One day he ran across a small item in a Vermont newspaper reporting that Trimble had moved from Hamilton to take over as head coach of Alouettes.

On a hunch, he wrote Trimble. But the weeks went by and he was packing his bags for the Vancouver trip when the phone rang. It was Trimble.

Enos calls Trimble "a master craftsman."

"He's a winner, like I am. That's why I'm happy to be on his side. And that's why the Alouettes are going to be winners."

Gros Bill holds five-point lead over Stan Mikita, Glenn Hall of Chicago setting pace for goalies

MONTREAL (CP)—Ask a forward in the National Hockey League about his aspirations and chances are that he wants to score 200 goals before bowing out.

Why 200?

The figure serves as a kind of unofficial dividing line between the standout performers and those of lesser status.

A man carries special enchantment when he can lay claim to 10 seasons or more averaging 20 goals or better a year in scheduled play.

Going into the current season, the league's 46th as the NHL, only 36 players had reached the plateau, seven of them still active.

New York's slippery Camille Henry joined the select group early in the schedule — he started the year with 198 goals — and now seven players might be considered within striking distance of the mark before the schedule closes out the second day of spring.

They represent a cross-section of all five of the league's other clubs.

George Armstrong, hard-driving team captain of Toronto Maple Leafs, is closest to the milestone among the seven and Detroit centre Normie Ullman the farthest.

IRON MAN

Also in the group is Boston's Handy Andy Heberton, headed for the NHL's iron man distinction.

The others, with goal totals bracketed:

Dean Prentice of Boston (193); Bobby Hull of Chicago (188); Henri Richard of Montreal (186); Frank Mahovlich of Toronto (152).

Armstrong went into the season with a 192-total and has since added four to leave him four shy.

Ullman, meanwhile, needs a 26-goal year and that's his exact production in each of the two previous seasons. He's off to a slow start with only two goals so far but appeared to be coming on stronger in more recent Detroit games.

Heberton is 23 goals away. But right now he's probably more concerned about just staying in the lineup for Boston's next 11 games through Dec. 1.

That would give him a total of 581 consecutive appearances in scheduled play going back to G.T.R.'s 1956 season and break the record of 580 Johnny Wilson set with Detroit, Chicago and Toronto between 1952 and 1960.

anyone else around the league. Mikita's six goals give him a share of the league-lead in that department with Hull and three Montreal players, Bernie Geoffrion, Gilles Tremblay and the suddenly-potent Dave Balon.

All-star Glenn Hall of the Black Hawks tops the goaltenders, having allowed 18 goals in 10 games. One was scored after Hall had been lifted for a sixth attacker but it counts against him in the Vezina Trophy competition.

In penalties, Terry Harper of Montreal is the leader with 41 minutes. The young defenceman's total is made up of eight minors, three majors and one misconduct.

Ticats win first place without any stars, Bernie Faloney is their best in second place

Hamilton Tiger-Cats may have finished first this season in the Eastern Football Conference—but they did it without one honest-to-goodness offensive star.

Shatto scored 13 touchdowns and kicked 37 conversions for 81 points, a healthy lead over Dixon and Thelen who had 66 apiece. Leading place kicker was Ottawa's Moe Racine, fourth in scoring with 57 points on 24 conversions, nine field goals and six singles.

Shatto snared 67 passes for 78 yards for the last-place Argonauts. Next came Ottawa's Whit Tucker and Hamilton's Hal Paterson with 41 receptions each. Tucker averaged 23.6 yards as he picked up 967 yards and Paterson's total of 841 yards gave him a 20.5 average.

Shatto, only bright spot in a dull season for Toronto, won the scoring title, was the top pass receiver and third in rushing.

Dixon was the rushing leader, tied for second place in the scoring race with Dave Thelen of Ottawa, ranked 14th as a receiver and was third in kickoff returns.

Jackson's value isn't completely reflected by the statistics. The Ottawa quarterback was the leading passer, ninth in rushing and tied for 14th place in the scoring race.

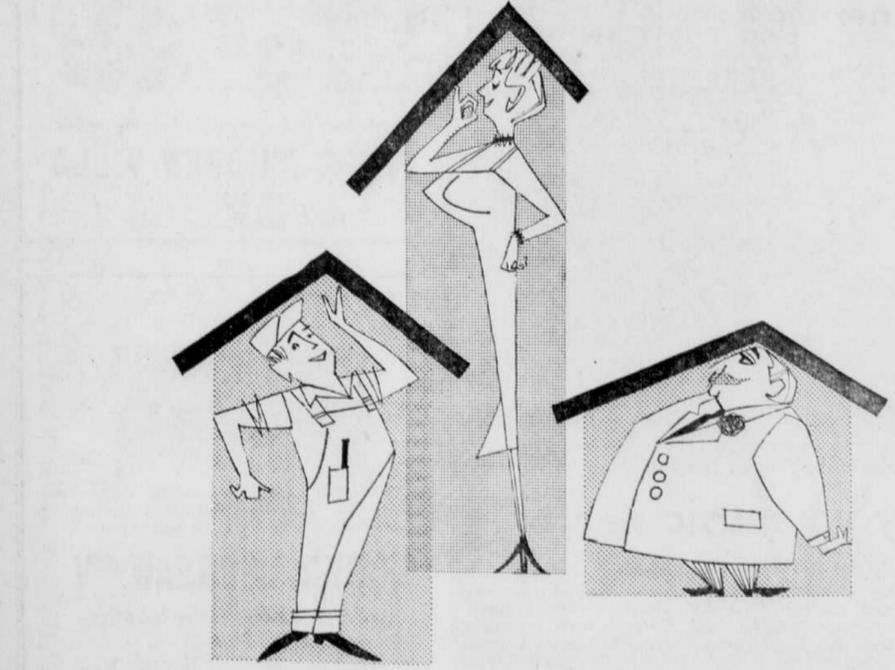

WAS FEARED

But his ability to pick apart

defences as he led the surprising Rough Riders to second place also made him a feared man.

Dixon piled up 1,269 yards on 189 carries for Montreal—a 6.7 average. Thelen, with 907 yards on 151 carries was second with a 6.0 average. Shatto averaged 5.3 yards a carry as he rushed 108 times for 570 yards.

Jackson led in every department among the passers: 152 completions in 259 attempts, a net total of 2,915 yards, 19 touchdown passes, 11.3-yard average completion, a 587 per cent completion and 19.3 average completion.

Tobin Rote is top passer in American loop

NEW YORK (AP)—Tobin Rote, veteran quarterback of the San Diego Chargers replaced Buffalo Bills' Jack Kemp as the passing leader in the American Football League the latest statistical rundown.

Rote, 33-year-old former National Football League star with Toronto Argonauts in the last three years, has connected with 62 per cent of his passes for 13 touchdowns and 1,494 yards.

Ratings of the passers are figured on a complicated system involving efficiency in six different departments including interceptions, yards, touchdowns, completion percentage, interception percentage and average yardage.

Sonny Liston and Cassius Clay are to confront each other today to sign contract, Joe Louis on hand

DENVER (AP)—Loud-mouthed Cassius Clay and silent Sonny Liston, the champ, confront each other in a room today to sign a contract for their long-rumored world's heavyweight championship fight.

Most guessers predicted the two Negroes will fight 15 rounds in Los Angeles next February. The details will be announced at the contract signing scheduled for 2 p.m.

Gaseous Cassius blew into town Monday night in his private bus festooned with signs proclaiming: "I'm The Greatest" and "Cassius Clay, Next Heavyweight Champion."

The Louisville, Ky., Lip spouted his customary kind words for Liston. "He's too ugly to be world's champion," Clay told reporters. "I'm pretty as a girl."

Liston, dressed like a dude from London's Bond Street, turned up at the Denver Airport to meet former champion Joe Louis and his wife, Martha, who flew from California. Mrs. Louis is a lawyer for Liston, who makes his home in Denver.

"I came along just for a free ride," Louis said.

Liston, resplendent in an executive-style grey suit, smart black hat and gold-handled swagger stick, was accompanied by his wife, Geraldine.

Louis predicted Clay would last longer against Liston's sledge hammer fist than Floyd Patterson who lost the title to Liston in the first round at Chicago and absorbed another first-round knockout in the rematch at Las Vegas, Nev., last July 22. Liston's record is 35 victories, one loss, no draws and 45 knockouts.

Mr. Richard McCaw, of Montreal, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. McCaw.

Ceylon fire walk is a family affair and none can explain how it's done

COLOMBO, Ceylon (Reuters)—It was almost like a family evening stroll, that walk together of a father, mother and young daughter through a trench of flaming coals.

Not quite, of course. The most devoted and unconventional family does not normally take the air at 2 a.m. in a remote Ceylon jungle village, in a night strange with the passions of thousands — passions fed by sacred fire and holy water, by ecstatic faces, writhing bodies and the insistent clanging of temple gongs.

Frenzy under the frangipane great temple trees whose heavy-sweet fragrance seems suspended in the air, rose and ebbed and rose again during the long night of the annual "firewalking ceremony" at Kataragama in southeastern Ceylon.

But a calmer family feeling, a sharing of a religious experience, could also be often sensed among the more than 400 persons who trod the pit of fire to fulfill vows made to the Hindu god Subramaniam.

It was clearly there among the thousands of other pilgrims who came from all of Ceylon and south India to bathe in the holy Menik River and to offer frangipane petals, bananas, coconuts and mangoes to the son of Shiva, the destroyer.

FLAMING TORCHLIGHT
I stood on the steps of this temple, ancient beyond anyone's recall, its vibrant golds and blues and reds leaping out and receding under flaming torchlight, its walls resounding to the drums and gongs and chants of "Subramaniam, Subramaniam — hora, hora — hora hora."

Toward me walked a young man, followed by his wife and a girl of perhaps 12, over a trench of flaming red coals about 15 feet long and nearly a foot deep.

Quickly but with a certain calm on their faces, they walked through the fire and on up the temple steps where they offered what they had done as a family vow.

I brushed shoulders with an ancient couple, a shriveled old man and his wife, who tottered slowly through the coals.

None of these people, nor the hundreds of others whom I saw tread slowly or race wildly through the coals, had any burns on their feet. None had any protective covering.

And none could explain how the people did it.

A Christian minister a year ago denied the usual explanation—religious faith—and himself walked through the fire to prove that the reason was scientific. He spent three weeks in hospital with severe burns.

Couple marks 40th wedding anniversary

SAWYERVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas French observed their 40th wedding anniversary on Oct. 26, when they were at home to their friends and relatives in the afternoon and evening. Others visited the celebrants the following day.

The 150 guests who called on Saturday and Sunday were received by Mr. and Mrs. French. Good wishes were extended to the couple in their living room and all enjoyed the hospitality of their home over a cup of tea, refreshments including the anniversary cake, made and decorated in ruby by Miss Elena French. The basket adorning the top tier of the cake had been used by Mrs. Winnie Hurley, Mrs. French's mother, seventy-one years ago.

Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs. Hurley, aged 91, who wore a pastel dress with white carnation corsage, also the bridesmaid of 40 years ago. Mrs. Mary Ashe, sister of Mrs. French, in a pastel dress with pink carnation corsage, and Mr. Harry French, who had been best man.

Decorations throughout the house carried out the ruby theme and a large basket of white mums, tied with ruby ribbon, graced the fireplace.

The bride of yesteryear wore a dress of blue, with a ruby corsage, and the groom had a white carnation boutonniere.

Friends and relatives who called were from Thetford Mines, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Montreal, East Clifton and Cookshire.

Church guild sponsors 500 party in Brome
BROME — The Ladies' Guild of St. John's Church held a successful card party in the hall on Oct. 26, when 500 was played at seven tables.

First prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lyla Owens and Gordon Midgley, while consolations went to Colleen Stone and Norman Osborne. Lawrence Page won the door prize and also the floating prize, for no trump bidding. Mrs. G. E. Soles was the winner of the floating prize for the ladies. Mrs. Roderick Crandell, who won the lucky saucer, was the recipient of a box of Christmas cards.

Refreshments were served by the ladies at the conclusion of the game.

General Notes
Mrs. J. C. Soles has received word from her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Elliott, of Goose Bay, that Mr. Elliott is being transferred. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and son, Brady, will take up residence at Dorval, on Nov. 6.

Edmonton study trying to save young players' teeth

EDMONTON (CP) — A pilot study aimed at helping young hockey players keep their teeth intact will move into its second stage here this winter.

The study, a joint effort by the Edmonton and District Dental Society and the Edmonton and District Hockey Association, is testing tailor-made mouth protectors.

Started last winter among 180 minor league players in the area, the study proved successful in one respect but a partial disappointment in another.

"We had only one bruised lip all year," said Dr. M. M. Blackburn, chairman of the dental society's committee on mouth protectors.

This compared with an average of $3,000 spent for repair of mouth injuries in the previous three-year period by companies insuring hockey players.

However, the committee decided it needed another year to find a mouth protector that could meet the qualifications—protection, comfort and cost.

The committee last year concentrated on a guard made of latex. It proved inadequate because players chewed through it rather easily and suffered from dehydration of the mouth.

ATTITUDE CHANGES

This year the committee, which has help from 35 dentists in fitting the mouthguards, will switch to resilient acrylic material. It also will reduce its study to about 120 boys in the 14-to-21 age group.

Dr. Blackburn says the program started to move smoothly after overcoming initial suspicion from the young players.

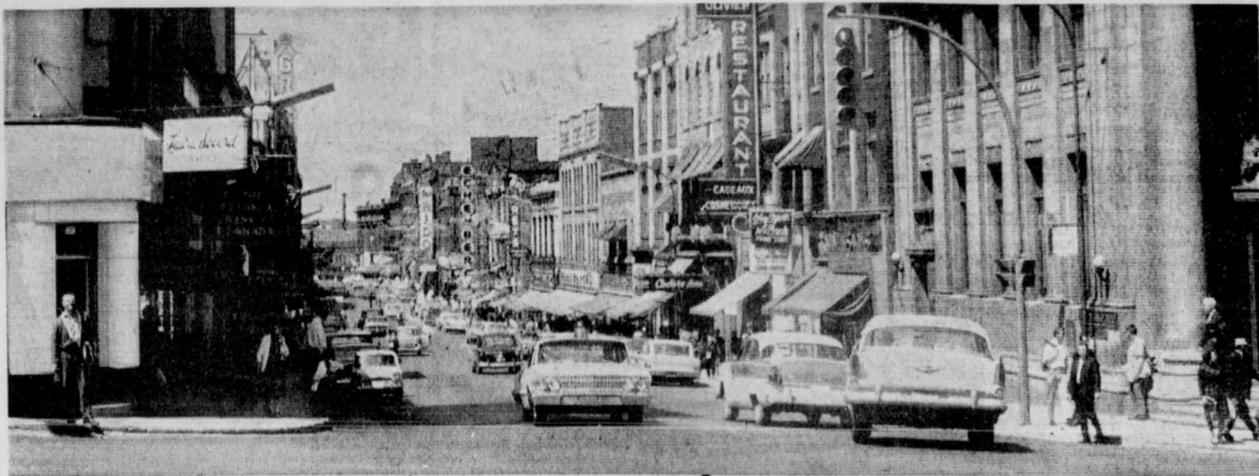

"Some youngsters felt a couple of missing front teeth indicated they were better hockey players. It seemed this proved you were the type of player who wasn't afraid to go into the corner and fight for the puck."

Most boys who wore the mouthguards now say they wouldn't be without one again.

"Some boys felt the guards made them more aggressive."

The Edmonton study, believed the first of its kind in Canada, has acted as a spur for setting up similar programs in other parts of Canada. Dental associations in Saskatchewan, the Maritimes and Ontario have indicated they plan similar projects.

Paint company's 'Brain' does work of experts, orders stock, accounts

VICTORIA (CP) — An electronic brain that can type 400 lines a minute and do a complete payroll for 200 workers in 60 seconds has been installed in a Victoria office.

The brain is more flexible than existing equipment, operates four times as fast and is more compact, says W. Allan Pendray, president of British American Paint Co. Ltd.

"The machine performs functions normally beyond the budget of small companies by providing information that would normally require the services of a battery of high-priced experts."

The Victoria-based company, with two factories and eight branches in Western Canada, expects the machine will coordinate its operations.

Company officials will be provided with detailed, almost instantaneous information analysing market trends and future requirements.

ORDERS SUPPLIES

"We expect the new equipment will give us greater efficiency in our operation and in meeting the changing demands of the public," says Mr. Pendray.

As well as helping executives with important decisions, the brain is also designed to perform a variety of accounting, book-keeping and recording tasks.

The machine will keep watch on paint formulas in relation to the cost of raw materials and even warn officials of mixing errors if they occur.

The machine will automatically order supplies of paint shipped to distant branches before the branches themselves anticipate their requirements.

Boosting the company's efficiency and keeping operating costs to a minimum are "of great concern to the public because efficiency has a direct bearing on price and service," Mr. Pendray says.

The machine, manufactured and installed by a division of Remington Rand Ltd., is programmed by punch cards and is capable of high-speed calculation and analysis of statistical data.

Friends honor bride-to-be at Kinnear's Mills

KINNEAR'S MILLS — Mrs. George Crawford, Mrs. J. M. Kinghorn and Mrs. Wendell Marshall, were hostesses at the church hall, Oct. 24, at a miscellaneous shower, held in honor of Miss Gloria Wallace, a November bride-to-be, with about 35 guests present.

The bride elect, who was met at the door by the hostesses, and presented with a corsage was escorted to a chair decorated in blue and pink. Miss Wallace was then presented with a box of gifts, which she was assisted in opening by her mother, Mrs. Wilbert Wallace, and sister, Mrs. Alfred Crawford.

Refreshments were served, including a shower cake made by Mrs. Charles Warcup, of Lemesurier.
