U.S. NUCLEAR BLASTS IN SPACE

Late Bulletin

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood's office announced today that a murder charge will be laid against Ronald Laing of Lomond, Nfld., in the death of a Newfoundland constable.

Union To Put Guard On Office

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—The International Woodworkers of America (IWA) today maintained a beefed-up guard at its office at nearby Bishop's Falls to prevent a duplication of Wednesday's attack when unidentified raiders chopped through the office door and damaged equipment.

RCMP said Wednesday they had made no arrests in connection with the raid. Five IWA men inside the converted restaurant escaped through a back door. There were no injuries.

The incident was the latest flare-up in the IWA strike against the Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company which entered its 79th day today. A clash between police and pickets last week at Badger resulted in the death of Const. William Moss, 24, of the Newfoundland constabulary.

WON'T BUDGE

An IWA spokesman said Wednesday that the union had no intention of being forced out of its Bishop's Falls headquarters by "threats of violence and property damage." He said a "large group of men" would be used to guard the building, but declined to reveal the exact number.

Ed Glavin, son of the woman who rented the office building to the IWA, said in an interview Wednesday that he was in bed asleep when the raid took place "but I'll be ready for them the next time. I've had to shoot dogs before."

Glavin said the people of Newfoundland opposed Premier Smallwood's stand in the strike. The premier says 98 per cent of the people supported his drive against the IWA.

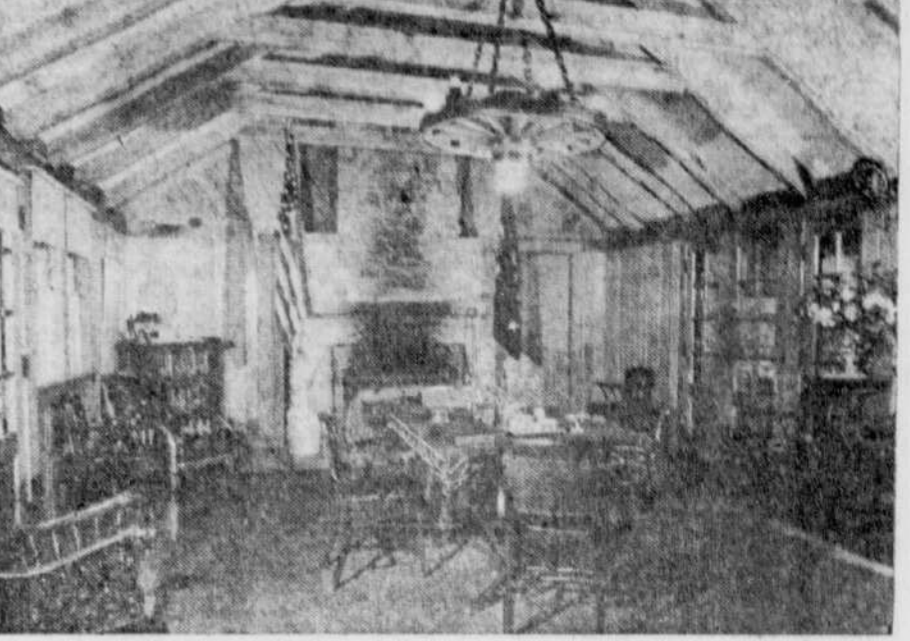

"Let him call an election," said Glavin. "He'll find out."

Meanwhile, in St. John's Wednesday night, RCMP Superintendent A. W. Parsons squelched rumors that he was thinking of quitting the force. It was thought that the superintendent might follow Commissioner L. H. Nicholson in resigning to protest the countermanding of the commissioner's order sending RCMP reinforcements into the strike area.

Board Says Firemen Out On CNR Too

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian National Railways is reported ready to accept a federal conciliation board report that awards its firemen's union a 10-per-cent wage increase and calls for firemen to be dropped from freight and yard diesels.

President And Prime Minister Will Confer In Secluded Mountain Retreat

Hidden among the hardwoods of Maryland's Catoctin Mountains near Thurmont is Camp David (see Newsmap). This is the retreat where President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan will meet to confer on ways to thaw out the Cold War between East and West. At left is the main building of Camp David. At right is its living room where President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill worked out Allied strategy during World War II. Roosevelt, who first used it in 1942, called the place Shangri-la. The buildings were constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps and are located on the Catoctin Recreational Area, 70 miles from Washington.

Crazed Convict Mother, 3 Children Held As Hostages

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A 29-year-old mother and her three children were captives today of a crazed former convict who threatened to torture and kill the four unless authorities released a convict from prison so he could slay the man.

"Only you have the power to save them from certain death, by granting my demands," read the note left behind by a man identified as Richard I. Payne, 23, who drove away with the four in the family car.

"I don't want money I want vengeance," it continued.

State police described Payne as an especially dangerous mental patient.

WANTS ENEMY'S HEAD
 He left a note behind in his victim's home, addressed to West Virginia Governor Cecil H. Underwood. In the rambling, five-page tirade, he named another convict, Burton Junior Post, also known as Junior Starcher. The note said:

"My purpose is to kill and to take the head of my worst enemy, who is now out of reach. He is in the W. Va. penitentiary at Moundsville."

"To save the children . . . the note read, 'I demand only the FBI work on this case. . . .'"

Payne entered the home of John H. Baldwin, 31, early Wednesday night on the pretense of wanting to use the telephone.

Then he whipped out a pistol and threatened to kill the family, Baldwin told police later.

He bound and gagged Baldwin, his wife Elma, 29, and their children, Susan, 5, Danny, 7, and Kenneth, 10.

Then he paced across the living room floor and shouted hysterically. He ignored Mrs. Baldwin's mumbled pleas to release the gag, and composed his wild note addressed to Underwood.

Finally, Payne untied the youngsters but left Mrs. Baldwin's hands bound. He herded the mother and her three children into Baldwin's 1955 model car. Baldwin was left in the family's five-room house but later broke free and notified authorities.

State Funeral Today

OTTAWA (CP)—A state funeral for Sidney Smith was to be held today.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, cabinet colleagues, Opposition Leader Pearson and university friends were to lead the procession into Chalmers United Church here for the 4 p.m. EST service. Rain was forecast.

Governor-General Massey, members of Parliament and high government officials were expected to crowd the 1,400-seat old greystone church where the late external affairs minister was to lie in state from 11 a.m.

POST UNFILLED
 Meanwhile, there was speculation on who would replace the 62-year-old former Maritimer as the country's top diplomatic spokesman.

One of the immediate problems occasioned by his unexpected death Tuesday is who will take his place as leader of the Canadian delegation to the 10th anniversary meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at Washington April 2.

The external affairs portfolio automatically returns to the prime minister, who always has taken a keen interest in foreign affairs.

Mr. Smith had held the post a brief 18 months after a brilliant career as president of the University of Toronto from 1945 and the University of Manitoba before that.

"He overtaxed his strength," said Mr. Diefenbaker. He had urged him a few days ago to slow down, but "that was not his way."

First Joint Stamp

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and the United States are attempting to ensure that their versions of a joint St. Lawrence Seaway postage stamp are as similar as possible. Talks for that purpose are going on in Ottawa, it was announced Thursday.

Mac Wants Troop Freeze

OTTAWA (CP)—A British plan for freezing military forces in Central Europe will be placed before President Eisenhower during Prime Minister Macmillan's five-day United States visit, it was understood today.

The busy British minister, piling up diplomatic air miles the way ailing State Secretary Dulles used to do, left for Washington at 10:15 a.m. EST after a one-day stop in Ottawa.

Informants said he carried a formula for limiting forces in an agreed area of Europe as a preliminary means of reducing tension.

Any such agreement would contain provisions for effective control and inspection, with parallel understandings on political questions. The balance of military strength in Europe would be undisturbed.

CANADIAN APPROVAL
 The proposals, discussed Wednesday in meetings between Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Mr. Macmillan and other British and Canadian ministers, are believed to have won general Canadian approval.

A British source said there was a "meeting of minds." One Canadian informant, putting the emphasis differently, said there was no "formal assertion" of Canadian support, though no objections were raised by Ottawa ministers.

It was learned the idea of some form of United Nations solution for the Berlin problem was not excluded during the Ottawa discussions, though nothing precise developed.

Apart from morning and afternoon talks with Canadian leaders, Mr. Macmillan also met members of the cabinet and outlined impressions of his recent 10-day visit to Russia. Finance Minister Fleming said the review was "stimulating."

More Flexible Policies Mac's Goal With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan arrived today for Berlin strategy talks with President Eisenhower. He is expected to urge Eisenhower to join him in working out more flexible Western policies for forthcoming negotiations with Russia.

The two go into a weekend of conferences agreed on the need to resist Soviet threats aimed at forcing the Western powers out of Berlin. But they are said to be divided on a number of other issues involved in preparing for negotiations with Russia.

Before heading to Washington from Ottawa, Macmillan expressed confidence his visits to the two capitals "will serve to consolidate and confirm the united will of the Western world."

PREPARE STAND
 Eisenhower called acting state secretary Christian Herter and other diplomatic advisers to the White House for discussion of the Berlin situation in preparation for Macmillan's arrival.

The actual talks between the two men will get underway Friday at Camp David, Md., a secluded mountain retreat about 65 miles from Washington.

Although a joint statement early next week may report generally on their talks, detailed practical results of their work may not be disclosed officially until the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Russia meet this spring. Such a meeting is being worked out.

SPLIT ON SUMMIT
 One of the chief differences is in attitudes toward a summit conference, Macmillan is represented as feeling one is necessary, regardless of any results of the foreign ministers meeting.

Eisenhower has made clear he feels a "dynamite" development should "justify" a summit meeting at the summit.

Macmillan is reported to believe also that some legal basis other than the Second World War right of conquest might be found for keeping U.S., British and French forces in Berlin.

There is speculation that what he has in mind is getting Russia to underwrite the access of Western transport across East Germany in return for some kind of Western acceptance of the Communist regime.

But the U.S. has emphasized it would be willing to work out a Berlin settlement only within the framework of German reunification.

Russia Proposes May 11 For Talks

MOSCOW (Reuters)—Premier Khrushchev said today Russia is prepared to accept May 11 as the date for a big-power foreign ministers' meeting.

He added, however, that he would prefer a summit conference before the foreign ministers meet.

Document Containing Jesus' Sayings Found

NEW YORK (AP)—A French scholar disclosed Wednesday night the discovery of a document in Egypt containing 114 sayings attributed to Jesus. The sayings—many of them previously unknown—are contained in a document known as the Gospel of St. Thomas.

Existence of the document was disclosed by Dr. Oscar Cullman, professor of early Christianity at the Sorbonne in Paris, in a lecture at Union Theological Seminary here.

The document, Cullman said, is "comparable in importance to the Dead Sea Scrolls and of even greater significance to students of the New Testament."

He said the document was one of 44 treatises found in 1946 by Egyptian peasants in an old tomb cut in limestone cliffs about 60 miles from Luxor. Written in the Coptic language, the treatises were divided among 13 leather-bound, papyrus books which had been placed in a jar.

QUOTED IN GOSPELS
 Cullman said many of the sayings found in the treatises could be traced word for word in the four gospels of the New Testament—Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John.

Those which are word for word the same as in the canonic gospels.

Those which provide independent variants to the sayings in the canonic gospels.

Those not found in the canonic gospels in any form, but which were known from citations of the church fathers.

Those which were formerly completely unknown.

Electronic Shield For Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three U.S. nuclear bombs exploded in September beyond the earth's atmosphere formed an electronic shield that circled most of the world, it was learned Wednesday night.

And, a responsible official outside the defence department said, the tests were an effort to spread a shield through which missiles could not fly.

Defence department officials confirmed that the blasts had been set off secretly for both military and scientific test purposes. But they declined to discuss the military angles.

OFFSET REACTION
 Other sources reported, however, that the tests explored the possibility of generating at an altitude of about 300 miles a diffusion of neutrons that would offset the nuclear reaction in missile warheads.

The shots were fired from naval craft in the South Atlantic late in September—more than a month before the United States started a one-year suspension of nuclear tests pending negotiations with Russia on halting all such testing.

Deputy Defence Secretary Donald Quarles and Dr. Herbert York, director of Pentagon research, gave some details of the test shots after reporters learned of them from other sources.

They said the explosions were of low yield in radiation and would not reveal the altitude at which the tests were made.

York said there was no radioactive fallout on the earth from the tests.

TEST THEORIES
 York said the main objective of the blasts was to test important theories about the trapping of electrons by the earth's magnetic field. He said the detonation of the bombs released electrons into space above the earth's atmosphere, and that the trapping of these by the earth's magnetic field created the great sheet that eventually circled the globe.

The electronic sheet created by the bombs, York said, extended around the world except for breaks over the poles—a pattern similar to the natural Van Allen belt" of radiation above the atmosphere.

York would not reveal the depth of the artificial sheet or say how long the phenomenon lasted, against missiles.

People Want Elvis — Radiomen

OTTAWA (CP)—A privately-owned radio station has told the Board of Broadcast Governors that if it "tried to be a St. George and kill Elvis Presley, we would be a voice crying in the wilderness."

"We couldn't do it alone," Gordon Henderson, counsel for CKOY Ottawa, said Wednesday.

He spoke at the 15-member board conducted a day-long study of broadcasting philosophies as expressed by seven private broadcasters, with particular emphasis on the use of recorded popular music versus live talent.

SERVICE MAJORITY
 The general view of the seven stations was that they must serve the desires of the majority of listeners in order to be financially successful.

Most of the seven said that the majority of listeners like and want popular music recordings. This is proved, they argued, by the success of their stations.

The seven stations are among 171 holders of broadcasting li-ences which come up for renewal March 31.

They were, in order of their appearance before the board: CKY Toronto; CHUM Toronto; CKOY Ottawa; KKNW New Westminster; B. C.; CFPA Port Arthur, Ont.; CKWS Kingston, Ont.; and CKRN Rouyn, Que.

Board members indicated; by their questioning, that the BBG is concerned about the need for more local live talent programming and a higher quality of recordings, and how privately-owned radio stations can serve more varied groups of listeners.

SEEK OTHER VIEWS
 The board requested views on three other points: time allowed for advertising spot announcements, use of give-aways to attract audiences, and marathon programs conducted by announcers.

Opinions on the present regulation governing advertising time ranged from acceptance of it to a proposal that all such restrictions be removed. The present regulation allows a maximum of five spot announcements, totalling four minutes, in any 15-minute period.

Stations that expressed views on give-aways and announcer marathons agreed they are not good radio practice.

Dr. Andrew Stewart, board chairman, said the BBG believes renewal of licences should not be automatic, but that the performance of each station should be examined at renewal time.

Several stations presented strong arguments in support of using recorded popular music as the main vehicle for appealing to a mass audience. Basically, they said, it is what the public wants and is cheaper than live music.

LITTLE CULTURE
 Board member Emyln Davies of Toronto said broadcasters should assume other responsibility for fashioning public taste and enriching national culture.

"I get the impression you are not really concerned with the promotion of culture," he told Mr. Henderson. CKOY seemed more concerned with catering to com-

Waterloo High School News

The students in the upper grades were assigned to do write-ups on the different organizations at a meeting of the School Annual. Kay Campbell is the newly appointed, exchange editor. Everyone is operating in getting together the literary material for the Annual, and with the help of Mr. Gardener, staff advisor of the "Waterlute", everything is going smoothly. All the pupils have been asked to bring in photographs of activities in and around the school.

In Education Week, all the parents were invited to the school on Wednesday evening to meet the teachers. Various samples of the pupil's school work were on display at the school, and some were on display all week in the window of the Southern Canada Power Company store. The purpose of the evening was for the parents to discuss the children's school work with their teachers. It was the practice a few years ago for the parents to visit the school during school hours to see the children at work. However, the large attendance of pupils makes it impossible to have visitors during school hours. So an evening was set aside, called "Parents Night."

At the end of the evening the parents were served doughnuts and coffee by Susan Flood, Irene Watts, Susan Martin, Jackie Bailey and Ina Chapman, under the supervision of Mrs. Hanson, the household science teacher. Each year the staff performs this small service, and enjoy meeting the parents.

As was previously planned, the Students' Council sponsored a record hop in the gymnasium, which was well attended. Vouchers were given out for gift records to the following: Elaine Daine and David Grimmond in an elimination dance and to Joan Westover and Dudley Jones in a spot dance. We would like to express our appreciation to the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilkinson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman.

Those interested in forming a Badminton Club met in the gymnasium. Many have never played and Mr. Black has offered to teach them. Whether the club is formed or not depends entirely on the attendance and the interest shown.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What's this — Annette afraid of teenagers?

The idol of millions of youngsters says it's true. Though she is the picture of self-assurance in movies and TV, she's really shy.

"It's not easy for me to meet other teen-agers," she said. "And when I'm in a crowd and they start staring at me, I really get scared."

"I'm much more at ease with grown-ups, because I've been with them most of my life. I seldom see teen-agers. I'm the only one of the Mouseketeers left at the Disney studios, so I go to school there alone. It's almost like having a private tutor."

FEW DATES

"Naturally, I miss the proms and other school activities that school kids have. I can't have many dates when I'm working, and I don't get to meet many boys, anyway."

So you see the life of a teenage star is not all velvet. But let us shed a tear for Annette, let me add that the velvet part is nice indeed. For instance, what other 16-year-old girl has her own white Thunderbird?

There is satisfaction aplenty for Annette in her work, too. Right now her third record, Tall Girl, is on the best-seller list, having sold 500,000 copies. She's being seen in her first feature movie, The Shaggy Dog, and scored a hit with four guest appearances on Danny Thomas' TV show. Her fan mail tops anybody at the Disney studio, including Zorro and Mickey Mouse.

Her success may be due in large part to her naturalness. No show biz child, she happened on a career by accident. She was taking dancing lessons when Walt Disney organized the Mouseketeers. Her dancing teacher took her along with other students to try out for the youthful troupe. Annette was one of 24 chosen out of thousands.

About the name, it's really Annette Funicello, and she sometimes goes by that.

"I've wanted to change it," she remarked. "When I suggested getting a new name to Mr. Disney, he wouldn't hear of it. I kinda like just plain Annette."

Cowansville J.C.'s Are Entertained At Dinner Party

COWANSVILLE — Maurice Maurice was host to the Junior Chamber of Commerce when about 50 ladies and gentlemen enjoyed dinner and an interesting program at his hotel.

Thanks were expressed to Mr. Maurice by President Robert A. Meunier, who also conducted the business meeting, during which reports on recent projects were given. These reviewed the Popularity Contest, the Winter Carnival and the Santa Claus Parade; all reflected the successful activity of the Cowansville group.

Two announcements were made. On the evening of Wednesday, April 15, members will visit Molson's Brewery, Montreal; the excursion is being arranged through the courtesy of Gaston Forand. It is hoped to have a sugaring party early in April.

Following dinner in the Main Salon, the guests were taken on a conducted tour of the recently redecorated hotel. Assisting Mr. Maurice as guides were his sister, Miss Jeanne Maurice and Real Proteau, both staff members. A demonstration of the fire alarm system, which gives 24-hour-a-day protection, proved interesting.

Another pleasant feature was the showing of two colored films, the crowning of the Cowansville Carnival Queen and travel scenes taken by Mr. and Mrs. Jean-Maurice Daigle in Florida. Mr. Daigle commented on the lovely views from Washington, D.C., to the Cypress Gardens and other famous Florida spots.

VON Told

Increased Hospital Costs Boost Home-nursing Demand

More patients are being treated at home because of the increased hospital charges, Jack Pembroke, of Montreal, national president of the Victorian Order of Nurses told the annual meeting of the Sherbrooke branch held at the MacKinnon Memorial building yesterday afternoon.

The outgoing slate of officers was re-elected for the coming year at the same meeting. They are Bruce Bishop and Dr. Lasalle Laberge, joint presidents; Leonce Cote and John Dunn, vice-presidents; Curtis Bishop, treasurer, and Mrs. Eric Webster, secretary.

Hospital construction costs have risen and have caused a subsequent increase in patients' charges, Mr. Pembroke said.

"There is a resurgence of belief in home nursing... There is going to be a tremendous increase in the number of patients being treated at home."

He said it was up to the nurses to fulfill this demand. At the same time, he noted that the nurses were to be congratulated for the work. He said they really were the representatives of the VON and that the organization's officers did only a small amount of the work.

"However," he pointed out, "the officers are tremendously interested in VON. We take pride in its growth."

Mr. Pembroke said he was amazed that in an area where VON nurses must serve 70,000 people there was difficulty in obtaining the required amount of money to do the job.

The doctors and hospitals were probably not benefiting from the VON as they should, he said.

Speaking about the annual financial campaign which is expected to start shortly, Mr. Pembroke said it would not compete with other drives.

He said funds would be solicited from corporations and certain individuals only.

day and from 1-4 p.m. on Good Friday. The Thursday night service will be a United Service of Holy Communion.

Dr. Organ was born in Powey, Cornwall, England, and became a Methodist local preacher while an electrician in the Admiralty service. He came to Nova Scotia as a Methodist probationer in 1924, later securing his B.A. from Mount Allison University, and his B.D. from Emmanuel College, Toronto.

Appreciation Of Human Relations Held Vital To Plant Functioning

Proper understanding of human relations is an important factor, "perhaps the most important", in the good functioning of any organization, the Eastern Townships Textile Association was told at a dinner meeting here last night. R. D. Archibald, secretary of Dominion Textile Company Limited, who addressed the association, also supervises industrial relations activities. He was one of the Canadian delegates in 1956 to the Duke of Edinburgh's Study Conference on Human Problems in Industrial Communities, held in Oxford, England.

Business management, Mr. Archibald said, can make plans, establish quotas, create new practices and devise new techniques, yet these must be put into solid action and it is through the employees that this action is developed. To the degree that human relations, properly applied, results in effective action by employees and all concerned, so will be measured the success of those plans, quotas, quality standards and other techniques.

"I think it can fairly be said today, that while the proper understanding of human relations is not the only factor that ensures the good functioning of any organization, it is one of the most important factors, perhaps the most important."

He defined human relations as "the relationship between various people within an organization, a corporation or a club; relations with subordinates, relations with equals, relations with superiors and relations with persons outside your particular department or outside your firm." To develop these different relationships so that they would result in mutual understanding and effective teamwork had engaged the attention of more and more people in the business world these days, he said. Businessmen on this continent were spending literally uncounted millions in programmes designed to help men improve themselves and their ability to work with others.

Some of the points that had been brought out in recent research were attitudes such as the need for understanding other people different from ourselves, and the acceptance of people as they are. Respect, tolerance and acceptance of human frailty were important, Mr. Archibald said, though this did not mean irresponsible action, sloppiness, self-indulgence or laziness had to be condoned. Human relationships improved if a person had an awareness of differences between his outlook and another man's and at the same time had an ability to maintain an individual point of view in the face of such differences.

Often, he said, behaviour was a better indication of someone's feelings and sentiments than the words they spoke. "If a supervisor is criticizing the way another department is run, perhaps he is really asking approval for what he himself is doing."

To understand others, it was useful to understand oneself, he said. "Complete self-understanding is impossible and undue preoccupation with oneself is unhealthy but the person who recognizes that his own tensions may communicate themselves to his subordinates at least has an awareness that will help to deal with the problem."

Understanding that people had specific characteristics when identified with a group such as a club, a department, a plant or even a social gathering, was also necessary, he thought. So, too, was it important to be realistic about the existence of a hierarchy of authority, responsibility, status and position within your organization, even if the organization be a curling club or a social group. Authority, rank and status were aspects of any social structure and had strong bearing on the relationship of one person to another. He noted, too, that while general rules might apply to the study of human relations, it was always well to watch for the unique elements which might arise in any situation. "Human beings are not machines and individual and organizational behaviour is far too complicated for anyone to be omniscient about it."

Awareness of the human relations factor in business today was important, the speaker noted, but it was not by itself, of course, a guarantee of success in any enterprise. "The facts are that the world's work has to be done and people have to take responsibility for their own work and their own lives." Too great emphasis on human relations might encourage people to feel sorry for themselves, make it easier to avoid responsibility, and find excuses for failure, he warned.

A sense of participation, a knowledge of being a member of the team, a set of high objectives in terms of service and the sharing of satisfaction in progress towards these objectives represented a great motivating force which helped people to work together, Mr. Archibald said. The proper application of human relations understanding helps towards these goals.

E. T. Apple Co-op Launches New Product

By CUTHBERT JONES

ROUDEMONT — A revolutionary new fruit juice which is being offered to Quebec shoppers this month was formally announced at a reception for government officials and leaders of the pomological industry held at the plant of the Cooperative Monteregienne yesterday afternoon.

The Cooperative Monteregienne is an association of some 300 Eastern Townships apple growers which operates one of Canada's biggest and most modern apple-processing plants, producing apple juice sauce, jelly, apple-butter and an apple-orange jam.

The new product, apple nectar, marketed under the trade name of Apple-Day, is a distinctly-flavored, high-nutritive apple juice prepared exclusively from two of Canada's top varieties of apples — the succulent McIntosh and the Fameuse — the pride of Quebec's apple-growing industry.

The man responsible for the development of Apple-O-Day is Rhys W. Arengo-Jones, a former top government food scientist and collaborator in the first production of vitaminized apple juice, now manager of the plant. During the war, he was in charge of the development of dehydrated vegetable production for Canada's fighting services.

He describes Apple-O-Day as "a combination of apple juice and a specially-prepared apple puree. The secret of the nectar lies in the preparation of the purees, which required years of research and testing before I was satisfied with the result."

Vitamins are added to the nectar during its preparation to give it a nutritive value comparable to that of higher-priced citrus juices.

Allard Urges Conference On Constitutional Reform

A federal-provincial conference should be called to amend the Canadian constitution which has become a "straight-jacket" on the country's economy, Maurice Allard MP. for Sherbrooke, believes.

Mr. Allard said the constitution had not evolved since 1867 when it was drawn up and that it was hampering the common efforts of the (senior) governments.

"The time has come for a federal-provincial conference to amend the Canadian constitution relating to material problems with the consent of all parties interested."

He said the conference would be a good opportunity for the establishment of a permanent council of economic orientation. The purpose of this council, he said, would be to study and advise the governments on the questions of long-term production and development of our national wealth.

In passing, Mr. Allard said he was also pleased to notice that there had been a decrease of unemployment in the district.

"It follows," he said, "that workers have remained on their jobs because of many factors." He congratulated the Sherbrooke Senior Chamber of Commerce, the city and the manager of the Unemployment Insurance office and all those who contributed directly or indirectly to lessen the effects of seasonal unemployment.

The federal government, he said, has helped the region greatly by adopting measures favorable to the textile industry and by voting additional credits for home building.

Don Griffin Is President Of Y's Men's Club

Rene A. Bureau, guest speaker at the Y's Men's weekly supper meeting last night held at the Magog Hotel, told club members about the origin and development of chiropractic and explained the method of treatment used by chiropractors.

The number of chiropractors has increased greatly over the past 50 years. Mr. Bureau said and there are now 1600 in Canada and over 25,000 in the United States. Mr. Bureau is a graduate of the Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College in Toronto and a member of the Quebec College of Chiropractors. He was introduced by Don Wood and thanked by Jim Strickland.

President Cliff Lamb reminded members of the coming Life Savers Days, April 10 and 11 and asked for their cooperation. He also announced that a District Governor's meeting would be held in Granby, April 19, and urged the members' attendance.

The new slate of officers for the coming year was announced as follows: President, Don Griffin; 1st vice-president, Curtis Bishop; 2nd vice-president, Vern Wilkin; secretary, Gordon Moe; treasurer, Jim MacKinnon; directors Tom Lawrence and J. Mutchler.

lant and progressive," he said. "There is great anomaly in the Canadian economy: the lack of coordination between the ten provincial governments and the central government.

"There seem to be as many different economic policies as there are governments."

Future Phone Service Developments Topic At Richmond Board Of Trade

RICHMOND — From fact to fancy, the development of telephone service in the years ahead, was the topic of an address at the Richmond and Melbourn Board of Trade Industrial Night, by Mr. Neil Graham, Bell Telephone manager.

He said that by 1985, not only will equipment change but the ways and means and scope of calling will surpass anything yet dreamed of and noted that telephone history over the past 80 years has set the example.

New and better ways of serving one's telephone needs are being sought at Bell Telephone Laboratory research centres in the United States. From here comes the most exciting item seen in a long time, an insignificant looking little piece of metal named the transistor, he said.

This replacement of the well-known vacuum tube performs the same kind of job and many more at a fraction of the power—and is much smaller. This is only one of the jobs that the transistor can perform.

The speaker went on to mention other findings in the same field which have enabled us to further control electronics in telephone operations.

The transistor was invented by three telephone scientists from the Bell Labs and was an outgrowth of the study being carried on in the field of solid state physics.

Commenting more on use of this transistor, the guest speaker went on to say that it was put to good use when the first earth satellites were launched in the Western world; it was used to amplify radio signals that carried information about the stratosphere back to earth. On a more down-to-earth level, the transistor will play a big part in the development and operating of most of the telephone service of the future.

Not only will it figure prominently in switching equipment and boost the voice over thousands of miles, but it will even enter the home as the power control for an entirely new telephone signal device.

With the forthcoming innovations in switching technique, one will be able to dial directly to any telephone north of the Rio Grande without the help of an operator and perhaps, later on, anywhere in the world. Mr. Graham noted here that customers in Toronto, Guelph and Windsor already have a limited version of this Direct Distance Dialing service. Montreal will get it next year and many cities in the United States have it. Eventually DDD will be a feature enjoyed by every telephone customer in North America.

With regard to dialing psychological studies and customer try-outs show whether the customers might not be happier with seven numbers rather than the present two letters and five numbers.

The speaker went on to mention possibilities of a wrist-phone or even for the watch pocket, etc., and also business and industry where the picture-phone can be used to supervise operations.

In closing, Mr. Graham said that man had come a long way since the crank on the side of the large telephone box was in style. "My faith in the ability and ingenuity of our men of science allows me to go a bit out on a limb and promise that these things will materialize."

Mr. Graham was introduced by Jean Paul Brouillette and thanked by Gordon Stewart.

Mr. Brouillette, vice-president of the Regional Boards of Trade announced a regional meeting to be held today at Victoriaville. Top discussion on the agenda will be the improvement of Route No. 5 between Richmond and Victoriaville. The board has already gone over this important project and will meet again to try and have government officials look over the situation.

In other business of the board, Robert Simpson, Ulverton mayor and member of agriculture committee of the board mentioned the upcoming Agriculture Night of the Board in May.

Other Bell Telephone guests were Neil Ladd, Plant Foreman for Richmond; J. A. Hamilton, Plant Wire Chief, Drummondville section; J. A. Pronovost, Construction Supervisor, Drummondville.

Head table guests included Rev. J. L. Dean, rector of Richmond and Melbourn United Church; H. I. Apps, rector of St. Ann's Anglican Church; Mr. Ladd, Mr. Graham, Mayor C. W. Armstrong, Pro-mayor Alfred Geoffroy, Mr. Labrosse, Mr. Planck and Mr. J. P. Brouillette.

The board also entertained the Richmond Mosquito Hockey team, Eastern Townships Champs. Maurice Parsons, Vice-president of the Québec Minor Hockey Association, was on hand to make presentations of the team trophy along with others awarded to the best players. Mr. Geoffroy presented a cup to Billy Doyle as an outstanding player of the Richmond Minor Leagues and young Richard Thibault accepted the trophy presented by Mr. Parsons on behalf of the club. Mr. C. A. Pope, President of the local minor hockey group was on hand to give a few notes on the progress of the league.

The Doctor Says

INFECTION OF IRIS DEMANDS PROMPT, SKILLFUL TREATMENT

Several readers have inquired about iritis, particularly its possible causes and treatment. Certainly this serious eye disease deserves attention.

Its name comes from the part of the eye affected — the iris. It almost always causes pain, watering of the eyes, sensitivity to bright light. If it goes on too long it can lead to poor vision or even total loss of sight in the involved eye.

When, as often happens, iritis begins suddenly, the symptoms are worse than in the chronic variety. But recovery usually comes more rapidly, perhaps in a few weeks. Pain is usually severe and commonly worse at night than in the daytime. Touching or pressing the eyeball produces excruciating pain.

Iritis is sometimes associated with rheumatism, diabetes, tuberculosis, syphilis or injury. It is most important that the cause of the iritis be discovered when-ever possible.

The disease or condition producing the inflammation of the iris must be treated as well as the eye itself. Thus the search for infection or disease elsewhere in the body must be carried out painstakingly and thoroughly.

But sometimes no cause whatever can be found. When proper treatment is begun early, the iritis often clears up completely, but complications and chronic inflammation are dangerous possibilities.

The eye itself requires highly skilled treatment, including the use of drugs, heat applied locally, rest and protection from light.

Sometimes a method called foreign protein therapy has been found helpful in iritis. This consists in injecting some protein substance (boiled milk is an example) which produces a reaction in the body, usually with fever. This seems to stimulate resistance and often has a favorable effect on the iritis.

As in most other inflammatory diseases of the eye (but not such things as cataracts, simple glaucoma, and the like) ACTH or cortisone have been used with considerable success in some but not all.

When anything goes wrong with the eyes, diagnosis and treatment should be prompt since the risk of permanent damage to these vital organs is great.

It is not possible for a patient to tell what kind of eye trouble he has from the symptoms alone. Therefore, expert advice should be obtained promptly because the vision itself may be at stake.

Capacity Crowd Attends Annual Shamrock Luncheon

As a fitting observance of St. Patrick's Day a delicious luncheon was served by the Women's Association of Plymouth United Church on Tuesday noon to a capacity crowd. The menu of pea soup, baked potatoes, ham, salads and pies, left nothing to be desired, and upheld the reputation of the ladies of the church as being good cooks.

The large hall resembled a "Wee bit of Old Erin", with its cut-out shamrocks and Paddy's hats adorning the walls. Slim green and gilt canes in tall green cane-stands made a fitting setting on either side of the embroidered linen covered tea table with its centerpiece of shamrock and clay pipes and green tapers in silver candelabra.

The smaller guest tables were centered with Paddy's hats and the old clay pipes on dainty shamrock cut-outs. The artistic arrangements of the hall and tables was in the capable hands of Mrs. Geraldine Frappied.

Mrs. Gordon LeBaron, assisted by Mrs. Gerald Spafford and Mrs. Ralph Goselin convoked the luncheon with Mrs. G. M. Armstrong in charge of publicity.

The treasurer, Mrs. Newman Hunter, acted as cashier at the door, and the advance sale of tickets was in charge of Mrs. Neil Dinning.

Pourers during the luncheon were Mrs. C. A. Beaton, Mrs. George McClintock, Mrs. W. W. Gibson and Mrs. J. R. Collinson. Replenishers were Mrs. Stan Lothrop and Mrs. Peter Keur.

Waitresses in charge of Mrs. R. K. Beers included Mrs. Guy Blanchette, Mrs. George Buckley, Miss Vina Brownlow, Mrs. Sanford Carter, Mrs. Neil Dinning, Mrs. Percy Dunbar, Mrs. Jack Evans, Mrs. Percy Gray, Mrs. Wm. Hammond, Mrs. E. C. Kennet, Mrs. Ernest Kimmis, Mrs. Harold Rawlings, Mrs. Percy Rawlings, Mrs. Fred Sangster, Mrs. Gerald Spafford and Mrs. Ray Stevenson.

Mrs. Gerald Spafford, in charge of preparing the hall, was ably assisted by members of the Ladies' Guild.

Preparation of food was taken care of by Mrs. Hubert Johnston, Mrs. B. W. Morin, Mrs. F. S. Rugg, Mrs. Basil Allatt, Miss Kate Pales, Miss Leta Seymour, Mrs. Geraldine Frappied, Mrs. Earl Lavaliee and Mrs. Earle Price.

Mrs. George Logie, convener of kitchen duties, was assisted by Mrs. Hubert Johnston, Mrs. Don Johnston, Mrs. Don MacLean, Mrs. Victor Newton and Mrs. Ralph Goselin.

Purchasing of supplies was undertaken by Mrs. Gordon LeBaron and Mrs. B. W. Morin, and the soliciting was done by members of the W.A.

Officers of the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., Mrs. J. R. Beveridge, president, and Mrs. G. A. Winters, educational secretary, were guests at the annual meeting of the Municipal Chapter of Sherbrooke, I.O.D.E. held Tuesday night at I.O.D.E. House.

At this meeting Miss Frances Macdonald was re-elected regent for another year. Other officers elected were: 1st vice-regent - Mrs. R. L. Reports presented by various secretaries and conveners showed that a very busy and successful year had been spent by all of the Chapters in the service of the community and, to a lesser degree, overseas. Excerpts from a few of these reports follow:

Mrs. R. M. Loughheed, reporting for welfare, stated that

$2,719.59 had been spent in this field, comprising, in part, 2579 qts of milk, delivered daily to needy families with children, 25 food orders, 8 layettes, much new clothing and a large quantity of good used clothing, 37 local families, including over 100 children, were given baskets at Christmas time including food, mittens and toys. Several children were sent to summer camp, both fees and clothing being provided, 27 pairs of socks were sent to Korean children, as well as personal property bags and nursery bags.

Many members of the Order assisted at Cancer Clinics, Red Cross Clinics, and the School for Retarded Children, at all of which their services were most welcome.

The Municipal Regent laid a wreath on the Cenotaph on Remembrance Day.

In concluding her report, Mrs. Loughheed declared "It makes me proud to be a part of the Order's work in Sherbrooke - making children happy, helping mothers to provide some of the necessities of life, and encouraging fathers during hard times."

In the field of education, Mrs. R. D. Wells stated that $889.75 had been spent by the Chapters during the past year. Miss Ritva Suonpera is the present holder of the Myrtle V. Loomis Bursary which assists a student nurse at the Sherbrooke Hospital. The Elizabeth Thomson Bursary was won by Miss Ann Covey, a student at Bishop's University, and the Elizabeth S. Hume Bursary was awarded to Miss Sylvia Evans, a student at Macdonald College.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS
—by Byrne Hop Sanders

MONTREAL, Mar. 19th—"What's your secret?" Madge asked me one day. "You two are no better off than Harry and I, yet you seem to do so much more with your money." Well, there's no secret to it. Our BANK OF MONTREAL manager once told us, "there's a time to borrow, and a time to save," and we've worked on this principle ever since. Saving comes first, of course, but there are times when you want to achieve some objective without touching your bank balance. That's where a B of M Personal Loan comes in. It helps you realize sooner the things you want . . . and you pay off your loan in regular instalments without touching your savings. When you have money problems, why don't you and your husband have a chat with your neighbourhood B of M manager?

MORE AND MORE HOUSEWIVES are putting pine-green Spic and Span in their wash these days — for a cleaner, whiter clothes. In a Brandon, Manitoba test, 268 women used their regular detergent and added 1/4 cup of Spic and Span. Overwhelmingly they reported that they did get better washes with SPIC AND SPAN. You see, pine-scented Spic and Span is a fine, safe cleaning agent and a natural water softener. It works with the detergent to clean clothes thoroughly. I've seen how the EXTRA CLEANING POWER of Spic and Span means my white clothes. Just try Spic and Span in your next wash.

HI, THERE, PRETTY LADY! Please pause for a moment and read about the one-and-only MIRACLE WHIP, the salad dressing by Kraft, which no one has ever been able to copy successfully. You'll find that it combines a tangy, home-made flavor with a satin-smooth texture . . . Salads made with it are unique for flavor, for smoothness, and down-right goodness. Try Miracle Whip, for instance, on canned salmon in sandwiches, then you'll see what I mean by that "something extra special" . . . it's truly superb! Buy the budget-wise, 32-ounce Miracle Whip jar this very week — go!

FROM THE LABORATORY TO THE CRADLE! To further insure baby's health, two new INSTANT PREPARED FORMULAS, with essential Vitamins C and B₁, and the baby sugar already added, have been perfected by FARMER'S WIFE . . . one with Whole Milk, Farmers' Wife Instant Prepared Formula Red Band, and the other made from Partly Skimmed Milk, called Farmers' Wife Instant Prepared Formula Blue Band. Your doctor can now choose between either of the two new Instant Prepared Formulas or from the original three Farmers' Wife Infant Formula Milks . . . Whole, Skimmed or Partly Skimmed, in prescribing just exactly the right Farmers' Wife Milk for your dear one!

SEE CANADA FIRST . . . for it offers you the best of everything! And high on the list of the good things you'll find from St. John's to Victoria is RED RIVER CEREAL . . . as Canadian as the Maple Leaf . . . and Canada's favorite hot cereal for generations. Most people enjoy the nutty and wholesome flavor of the Red River blend of cracked wheat, rye and flax. Red River is excellent for youngsters and active workers, since it provides the energy requirements they need, while it guards regularly for sedentary workers and older people. Yes — cheery Red River Cereal is good for all of us!

I KNOW YOU'LL LIKE THIS RECIPE! It's an unusual and delicate accompaniment to your Lenten Fish Dishes. My advice is to serve MINUTE RICE every time — for each kernel is always plump, tender, light and fluffy. From package to plate in just 5 minutes!

Now do try Lemon Rice.
Add 1 1/2 cups Minute Rice, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. grated lemon rind to 1 1/2 cups boiling water in a saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 5 minutes. Then add 1/4 tsp. butter and, if desired, 1/4 cup chopped walnuts or pecans. Mix lightly with fork. Serve with fish. Makes 4 servings.

"I SPENT A MISERABLE WINTER," writes a Toronto man, "until a friend advised me to try TEMPLETON'S TRC's. They gave quick and satisfactory relief from the rheumatic pain which had been causing me much suffering. I am most grateful." Yes, TRC's effectively banish pain in many long-standing cases of rheumatism, arthritis and sciatica — and what they have done for others, they can do for you, or your friends. I wish you, too, could read the first-hand, straight-forward accounts of the freedom from pain furnished by Templeton's TRC's, written by men and women every where.

Senators-Yanks Still Stymied After Meeting

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — New York Yankees and Washington Senators still were stymied today in their lengthy negotiations over a possible player trade.

Calvin Griffith, Washington president, and George Weiss, Yankees' general manager, talked for more than an hour Wednesday without result. They were to meet again today.

New York primarily wants a pitcher. Pedro Ramos and Dick Hyde have been mentioned.

Yankees believed to be under consideration include infielders Jerry Lumpe and Fritz Brickell, pitchers Johnny Kucks and Tom Sturdivant and outfielders Gordon Windhorn and Jack Read.

"We're going to have to demand an established ball player or two who have been with the Yankee club last year," said Griffith. "We want no kind who are trying out."

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Harry Lumley, Boston Bruins' veteran netminder, who turned aside 35 shots in helping Bruins to a 5-3 win over New York Rangers in New York Wednesday night.

Young Davey Moore Pounds Defending Champ's Face Into Bloody Mask To Win Featherweight Championship

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (CP) — Young Davey Moore won the world featherweight boxing crown Wednesday night by slashing Hogan (Kid) Bassey's face into a bloody mask in 13 rounds.

The gallant little defending champion from Nigeria, blinded by his own blood and the front of his white trunks crimson, was unable to answer the bell for the 14th round. The bout had been scheduled to go 15 rounds.

"Stop the fight, my fighter has had it," shouted George Biddles, Bassey's manager, to referee Tommy Hart.

Moore, from Springfield, Ohio, hopped gleefully across the ring and threw his arm around Bassey as he was having his eye cuts swabbed.

"Well, it's like this, Hoag," Davey said. "You had the title and I want it, man."

"Yes, yes," replied Bassey in his clipped British West African accent. "I could not continue. I could not do an impossibility."

It was the third time in Bassey's career that he had been stopped on cut eyes.

A rematch is slated within 90 days in Los Angeles — perhaps the opening event at the new 22,000-seat Sports Arena. However, Bassey's eye cuts may take longer than three months to heal.

Moore, who continued to pop away at Bassey's wounds, said: "I knew I had him after the sixth."

By the seventh, the champion's face was smeared with blood. But kings die proudly and Bassey was not giving up the title he won two years ago from Cherif Hamia without a battle.

The African pounded away but with little success.

"I wasn't trying for a knock-out—I was just out to win," said the 25-year-old Moore. There were no knockdowns.

Moore was leading on all cards when the bout was stopped.

Bassey picked up a guaranteed $45,000, plus television rights. Moore was guaranteed 20 per cent of the gate of $65,602.

Bassey weighed 125 pounds, Moore 125½.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .
Joek McAvoy, British challenger for the world's light-heavyweight boxing title, was outpointed by champion John Henry Lewis in a 15-round fight at New York 23 years ago tonight. McAvoy had been boosted as one of Britain's best fighters since the First World War, but he won only three rounds. Lewis abandoned the title in 1939.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .
Boston Bruins, at the season's halfway mark a fifth-place club supposedly shattered by player-coach quarrels, Wednesday night clinched second place — their highest National Hockey League finish since 1948-49 — by defeating New York Rangers 5-3 in New York.

With their fifth consecutive win — and Rangers' fifth consecutive loss — the Bruins also assured Chicago Black Hawks of finishing third, their best performance in 12 seasons.

Boston now has 71 points and 30 victories while Hawks have 67 points and 27 wins. Each has two games to play, but even if Boston lost both and Hawks won both Bruins would get the nod for second place because of a greater number of victories. New York has 62 points and cannot catch Chicago in its two remaining games.

TAKE 40 LEAD
Boston's Leo Boivin opened the scoring at 12:29 of the first and less than two minutes later Fleming Mackell made it 2-0. In the second period defenseman Jim Morrison and rookie Larry Leach raised it to 4-0.

Bill Gadsby got Rangers' second-period goal and captain George Sullivan and right winger Andy Heberton scored in the third.

Rangers removed goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley in the final minute with the score 4-3, but Don McKenney popped a goal into the empty net to kill the rally.

Goalie Harry Lumley was superb in the Boston nets as he turned back 35 Ranger shots.

GADSBY SETS RECORD
Ranger Bill Gadsby collected an assist on Heberton's goal to bring his season's total to 45, an all-time record for defencemen. He and Montreal Canadiens' Doug Harvey shared the previous record of 44.

Rangers will be watching tonight's game in Montreal between Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs.

A Toronto win would mean Rangers would have to win both their weekend games to get fourth place, and even if the Leafs lose a pair of Toronto weekend wins coupled with two New York losses would put Leafs in fourth.

A Ranger win and tie on the weekend and one win and two ties by Toronto would leave the teams with identical won-loss-tie records, but Rangers would probably then get the nod since they have scored 22 more goals than Toronto and Leafs could hardly hope to make up the tie-breaking margin.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .
Boston Bruins moved into first place in the American section of the National Hockey league by beating New York Rangers 34 years ago tonight. The Bruins won the league title that season, and in the Stanley Cup final they whipped Rangers two straight.

ROCKET OVERWHELMED
He was still overwhelmed on his return at the welcome and acclaim he had received from the Czech people, government officials and the Czech hockey players. He was snowered with gifts.

"When they talked about a car I thought they had in mind a toy car. When they finally presented it to me I was overwhelmed. It was no toy."

It may be a surprise to some Canadians, particularly in amateur hockey, to know that the Rocket doesn't see any essential difference between the game as played here and as played under European or international amateur rules. European rules prohibit bodychecking, except in the defensive zone, and boarding.

"They play rough over there," said Richard. "There's a lot of holding and spearing and most of it isn't called by the referees. They don't keep up with the play the way the referees do here. Maybe the referees are old."

"There is plenty of hard hitting around mid-ice. They also get away with boarding. I think perhaps penalties are called more frequently against a strong team when it plays a weaker team."

Richard said he felt the Canadian team, in losing to the Czechs, suffered a letdown—"it looked as if the boys thought they had it all wrapped up after they beat the United States."

REMEMBER WHEN . . .
MONTREAL (CP) — Maurice Richard, the National Hockey League's all-time scoring champion, had the cast removed from his leg Wednesday and hopes to rejoin his Montreal Canadiens teammates in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The 37-year-old rocket was elated when x-ray examinations showed complete healing of a fracture of the shinbone where it joins the ankle. He was injured Jan. 18 during a game in Chicago.

"I'll start skating Sunday, or maybe I'll wait until Monday," said Richard. "Meanwhile, I'm starting gymnastic exercises with the weights and bike-pedaling to help strengthen the muscles in my leg."

"I hope to be ready to play in the cup final — provided of course the boys get past the semi-final."

DOUBLE REJOICING
It was a day of double rejoicing for coach Toe Blake. Bernie Geoffrion, back from a rest in Florida, had a light workout on the ice with his teammates. The Boomer had been sidelined because of strained stomach muscles.

Only a few hours before he visited the hospital Richard returned by air from Czechoslovakia where he saw several of the final matches in the world amateur hockey tournament, won by Canada's Belleville McFarlands.

After the cast was removed and the x-rays taken, the club physician gave his okay to Richard, leaving it to the veteran star to decide when to start skating but suggesting this weekend.

Two weeks ago Richard was disappointed when examination showed he would have to continue wearing the cast a while. It was then that he accepted an invitation from the Czechoslovakian government to make the trip to the tournament.

Richard said he felt the Canadian team, in losing to the Czechs, suffered a letdown—"it looked as if the boys thought they had it all wrapped up after they beat the United States."

REMEMBER WHEN . . .
MONTREAL (CP) — Maurice Richard, the National Hockey League's all-time scoring champion, had the cast removed from his leg Wednesday and hopes to rejoin his Montreal Canadiens teammates in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The 37-year-old rocket was elated when x-ray examinations showed complete healing of a fracture of the shinbone where it joins the ankle. He was injured Jan. 18 during a game in Chicago.

"I'll start skating Sunday, or maybe I'll wait until Monday," said Richard. "Meanwhile, I'm starting gymnastic exercises with the weights and bike-pedaling to help strengthen the muscles in my leg."

"I hope to be ready to play in the cup final — provided of course the boys get past the semi-final."

DOUBLE REJOICING
It was a day of double rejoicing for coach Toe Blake. Bernie Geoffrion, back from a rest in Florida, had a light workout on the ice with his teammates. The Boomer had been sidelined because of strained stomach muscles.

Only a few hours before he visited the hospital Richard returned by air from Czechoslovakia where he saw several of the final matches in the world amateur hockey tournament, won by Canada's Belleville McFarlands.

After the cast was removed and the x-rays taken, the club physician gave his okay to Richard, leaving it to the veteran star to decide when to start skating but suggesting this weekend.

Two weeks ago Richard was disappointed when examination showed he would have to continue wearing the cast a while. It was then that he accepted an invitation from the Czechoslovakian government to make the trip to the tournament.

ROCKET OVERWHELMED
He was still overwhelmed on his return at the welcome and acclaim he had received from the Czech people, government officials and the Czech hockey players. He was snowered with gifts.

"When they talked about a car I thought they had in mind a toy car. When they finally presented it to me I was overwhelmed. It was no toy."

It may be a surprise to some Canadians, particularly in amateur hockey, to know that the Rocket doesn't see any essential difference between the game as played here and as played under European or international amateur rules. European rules prohibit bodychecking, except in the defensive zone, and boarding.

"They play rough over there," said Richard. "There's a lot of holding and spearing and most of it isn't called by the referees. They don't keep up with the play the way the referees do here. Maybe the referees are old."

"There is plenty of hard hitting around mid-ice. They also get away with boarding. I think perhaps penalties are called more frequently against a strong team when it plays a weaker team."

E. T. Badminton Tournament Slated For March 21-22; Windsor Mills Loses In Paul Gascon Playdowns

The annual Eastern Townships Badminton Tournament gets underway at the William Street Armory on Saturday, March 21 and all "B" players are reminded that play starts at 9:30 sharp. The "A" players will start eliminating one another Saturday afternoon at 12:30.

A large number of entries have already been sent in to Miss Dorothy Shattuck, the president of the St. Francis Valley Badminton Association but post entries will be accepted up until Friday evening.

All five titles in each class "A" and "B" will be at stake. Some 100 entries will compete in the ladies' singles, men's singles, ladies' doubles, men's doubles and mixed doubles.

All of last year's "A" champions with the exception of Diane Johnstone will be on hand to defend their crowns. Murray Parker, Windsor Mills, is the defending men's singles champion, Jack Bagnall and Gordon Harmer are the men's doubles titleholders. Mrs. H. R. Cleveland has teamed up with Miss Janet Russell of Waterloo, since Miss Johnstone left and this looks like the team to beat although upsets could be a dime a dozen. Bagnall and Cleveland are the mixed champs.

The finals in all events will be held on Sunday, March 22, starting at 1:30 and the public is cordially invited to witness these matches.

WINDSOR LOSES

The Canada Paper team lost out in the semi-finals of the Paul Gascon playdowns in Montreal over the weekend. They lost 6-1 to Valleyfield and in the other semi-final Quebec Winter Club beat M.A.A.A. 6-1. Quebec won the title beating Valleyfield 6-1.

Trophies and prizes will be presented to the winners and runners-up in all events, "A" and "B" in the E. T. tourney.

Saskatchewan And Manitoba Score Wins In Legion Curling Tourney

LLOYDMINSTER, Sask. (CP)—Saskatchewan, defending champion, and Manitoba both scored last end victories Wednesday in the seventh round of the Canadian Legion national curling championships.

The Saskatoon rink of Max Presly scored a single in the 12th end and edged New Brunswick 7-6.

Both rinks played a steady knock-out game with one being counted in every end but the first when the Saskatchewan rink picked up two. Manitoba also was forced to the final end by Alberta and kept their unbeaten streak alive by counting three for a 10-7 victory.

Ontario handed Quebec their sixth straight loss, 6-5. Prince Edward Island matched the Ontario rink with their second win in the championships, defeating Nova Scotia 9-7.

The two remaining draws will be played today with the highlight expected in the afternoon game between Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Floyd Patterson Is Favored Over Brian London In April Bout At Las Vegas, June Fight Still On

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, world heavyweight boxing champion, today was made a prohibitive 1-to-6 favorite to whip Britain's burly Brian London in a "warmup" title fight at Las Vegas Tuesday, April 21.

Broadway bookmakers set the odds shortly after Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato, stressed that Patterson's June fight in New York with Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's undefeated European champion, still is on schedule.

London, 24, a 209-pound brawler who once was British and British Empire champion, is ranked fifth by the National Boxing Association and ninth by Ring magazine. He lost his titles last Jan. 12 to Henry Cooper, a Cockney plasterer, in a bloody 15-round bout in London.

London has a 22-4 won-lost record, including 19 knockouts.

London will receive in the neighborhood of $75,000. Patterson around $150,000. If he should lose, the 24-year-old New Yorker will get a return bout within 90 days.

Guy Lombardo To Resume Boat Racing Again

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Orchestra leader Guy Lombardo Tuesday said he will resume speedboat racing with a newly-designed boat and a powerful turbo-jet engine, a combination he believes capable of 275 miles an hour.

Britain's Donald Campbell now holds the record, 243 miles an hour over a measured course.

Lombardo began racing in 1938 and won every major trophy in the Gold Cup unlimited class, for 20-to-40-foot boats which are propeller-driven. He retired in 1952 but returned to racing in 1955, winning the national championship that year and again in 1956. He sold his boat last year and retired again.

Johnny Longden To Retire In 1959

TORONTO (CP)—Veteran jockey Johnny Longden said Wednesday night he intends to retire next summer—but not before he has another shot at winning the Queen's Plate.

"I've had a couple of bids to ride in the Plate next June but there's nothing definite," he said. "I wouldn't like to say right now which owners I've been talking to, but there's a chance I might have a mount in the race. I'd certainly like to, especially since the Queen will be attending."

The 48-year-old millionaire rider finished third in the Plate last year aboard the favorite, Stole the Ring.

Belleville Wins 6-5 Over Czechs

OSTRAVA, Czechoslovakia (AP)—Canada's world champion hockey team defeated the Vitkovice Klement Gottwald iron works team 6-5 Wednesday.

The Canadians led 3-1 in the first period but were outscored 2-3 in the second. The final frame was tied 1-1.

Belleville's scorers were Billy Graham, Wayne Brown, Paul Payette, Dennis Boucher, Lou Smrke and George Gosselin.

The game was Canada's 30th in Europe in nearly seven weeks. In another exhibition at Kladno Tuesday, Belleville defeated Sopl Kladno 7-2.

"Operation Dore" To Commence In A Few Weeks, Sponsored By Molson's, 137,000 Dore Delivered In Four Years

The restocking of lakes and rivers with dore, or as it is more commonly known, "Operation Dore," will start in a few weeks. Once again the program is under the direction of the Department of Game and Fisheries of the province.

The Molson's Fishing Club and Molson's agents will absorb the cost of transportation of the dore to those areas authorized by the provincial authorities. Associations which have purchased dore for restocking and wish to have this free transportation service should apply to their local Molson agent.

The Department of Game and Fisheries works in collaboration with public organizations and particularly those groups belonging to the Federation of Fish and Game Associations of Quebec and both the department and Federation help defray the cost of the operation.

In the past four years more than 137,000 dore from Missisquoi Bay have been distributed in hundreds of lakes and rivers throughout the province. This successful program will be under the supervision of the director of the fish hatchery in the Eastern Townships. Anglers within a 150-mile radius of Missisquoi Bay will benefit from this joint operation by the fishing associations, the Department of Game and Fisheries and the Molson Fishing Club.

Bruins Call Up Four Forwards From Farm Club

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Bruins have called up four forwards from their Providence farm team, general manager Lynn Patrick said Wednesday.

Cal Gardner, Ken Yackel, Dan Poliziani and Pete Panagabko will join the Bruins after Providence completes its American League hockey schedule Sunday night. The four will be on hand for possible use in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

Springfield, Ohio, 125½, knocked out Hogan (Kid) Bassey, 125, Nigeria, 13 (Moore won featherweight title).

SIMPSONS-SEARS

Why Chrysler Corporation Chose Simca

For 2 years, Chrysler Corporation conducted a top-secret, world-wide search. Hundreds of engineers tested scores of cars. Took them apart. Evaluated, and re-evaluated. Finally, just weeks ago, a decision was made. Here are the facts...the inside facts behind the story...Why Chrysler Corporation Chose Simca!

1 Because Canada wanted it. There's a new kind of car buyer in Canada today... the kind that wants to know. The kind that lifts the hood to get at the facts, and carefully checks the comparison charts. SIMCA is made for that kind of person. A real automobile, with a real engine (up front, where the safety experts say it belongs!). A car that's solid as a rock, and just plain sweetness to drive.

2 Because SIMCA gives you more for your money than any other car in the world. Mechanix Illustrated Magazine said it: "BEST IMPORT BUY IS... SIMCA"! Just look at all the standard equipment you get at no extra cost, on the Super Deluxe Sedan: reclining seats, trip mileage indicator, 4 speeds forward transmission, heater, defroster, electric windshield wipers, unitized construction, 12-volt key-turn ignition, and even 2 roomy glove compartments.

3 Because SIMCA makes the cars you want. Terrific 4-door sedans, with gorgeous sound-proofed interiors. Station wagons, with regular extended-load tailgates. Even sports convertibles and hardtops. But most important, SIMCA makes the new car that can save you hundreds of dollars a year in gasoline alone. And you don't sacrifice a thing for it. Your new SIMCA is the world's most luxurious economy automobile. See for yourself. Get inside one, and look around.

4 Because SIMCA was planned with safety in mind. Rugged 1-piece unit construction, with perfect 50-50 balance. Distortion-free safety-plate windshield, safe front-engine design, and extra large brakes. Doors are hinged at the front, and the man-size pedals are wide apart. Additional features include a big trunk for all your luggage, and, in most of the models, reclining seats.

5 Because SIMCA is one of the world's greatest performing cars. Holder of the world's endurance record, driving 62,137 consecutive miles at an average speed of 70.02 MPH. 14 all-time performance records in all. And after their exhaustive tests, Sports Cars Illustrated Magazine said, "SIMCA OUTPERFORMS ANYTHING IN ITS PRICE CLASS." And they tested them all, as did the Chrysler Corporation engineers.

6 Because SIMCA is the Economy King. Outstanding high mileage performance no matter how you drive. Officially scored 51-plus miles per gallon on lowest price gasoline. And the economy story goes further than that! You save because of SIMCA's amazing stamina and functional design. For instance, when you need spark plugs, you buy only 4. And, because of SIMCA'S perfect weight distribution, the tires last twice as long.

COMING SOON! Watch for news of your SIMCA Dealer's appointment. Then visit him right away, and take your family for a spin in the real car of economy cars. Soon as you press the accelerator down and feel that plush seat nudge your back with power, you'll know the truth. That of all the world's economy cars, Chrysler Corporation has brought you the finest. Suggested retail prices start from $1810 POE East Coast. Prices, equipment, and specifications subject to change without notice.
