DISCUSSION ON UNEMPLOYMENT TO BE CONTINUED AT OTTAWA TODAY

"Work, Not Charity, and Labor, Not the Dole," Will Be Guiding Influence in Government's Fight to Alleviate Unemployment, Premier Bennett Told House Yesterday—Money Which He Would Ask Parliament to Vote Would Be Spent in Accordance With Recommendations of Employment Service Council of Canada.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 11.—Unemployment relief, in the form of a sum of $20,000,000 set aside for construction programmes, aids to municipalities and provinces, will again be under discussion in the House of Commons today. The whole of yesterday's sitting was given over to a prolonged cross-examination of the Government's proposals by the Opposition members and explanations from the treasury benches.

If this debate is completed today, and the House will sit both afternoon and evening, it is possible the Government's tariff changes will be introduced in their preliminary form.

The Senate will be marking time today in anticipation of action on the part of the Commons in passing legislation. While the Upper Chamber will meet as usual it is possible it will adjourn until such a time as it has something before it for consideration. In the meantime, the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, has not been completed and will be continued by Senator McMeas. The debate yesterday was featured by the charge made by Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, that the King Government was made aware of existing unemployment last winter by numerous appeals for aid, but replied that the situation was none of its responsibility.

The day in the House of Commons consisted largely of a long list of questions directed to Premier R. B. Bennett. He was asked a resolution calling upon Parliament to set aside $20,000,000 for unemployment relief. This brought about a barrage of questions from Opposition members who wanted to know how it was to be spent. The Premier, as Minister of Finance and representative in the Commons of the Minister of Labor, took it upon himself to personally guide the resolution through the debate.

Among other things, Premier Bennett indicated there are now 117,000 persons out of work in Canada and added that the prospect was that 177,000 would be unemployed during the coming winter.

He expressed the opinion that the Government proposals, if placed into effect, would materially reduce the number of jobs and possibly reduce the total by several thousand within a few weeks.

The Government will deal directly with the provinces in its relief programme affecting provinces or municipalities, the Premier stated. This approach also would be followed in the granting of one-third of the total expended by municipalities forced to provide relief other than employment. It is proposed, he said, to assist the provinces in connecting the links in the trans-Canada highway but the Government did not intend building a second coast-to-coast road. Assistance might be forthcoming from the Federal Treasury, Premier Bennett said to provinces for the maintenance of highways connecting provinces.

"Work, not charity," and "labor, not the dole" will be the guiding influence in the Government's fight to alleviate unemployment, Premier Bennett said. The money which he would ask Parliament to vote would be spent in accordance with the recommendations of the employment Service Council of Canada which met in Ottawa recently. After listing the twelve recommendations, the Prime Minister said the proposal before the House was in the nature of a palliative, not a cure. He made no promise that, through it, unemployment would be ended but he did believe it would alleviate the emergency situation.

In outlining how the Government proposed to use the money which Parliament would be asked to supply, the Prime Minister said there were certain national undertakings which, ordinarily, would not be commenced this year. Such works as wharves, docks and public buildings might be commenced at once. Municipalities wishing to borrow money for public works might be accommodated if the programme were instituted promptly. All this, he believed, would provide employment for hundreds of men and create a far better general economic situation throughout Canada.

POLITICS PLAY SMALL PART IN DOCK CONTROL

New Members of Montreal Harbor Commission Sworn into Office Yesterday—Ceremony Very Brief.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 11.—"Whatever part politics may have played in the tradition of the appointment of the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, there has not been in my regime, nor in the regimes of Mr. Ross and Major Geo. Washington Stephens, which preceded mine, any politics in the operation and development of the port of Montreal, Canada's national harbor," Senator McDougall said yesterday in formally handing over the administration of the harbor of Montreal to his successors in office.

At one o'clock yesterday the ceremony of swearing in of the new board was carried out in the board room of the harbor office. The oath was administered to the new president, J. H. Rainville, K.C., and to his colleagues, John C. Newman and Col. H. J. Trihey, by the secretary of the commission, Mr. Archambault. The outgoing and incoming boards posed for photographs after which Senator McDougall invited both boards and the harbor officials to a delightful luncheon at the Forest and Stream Club.

AYER'S CLIFF SCHOOL FAIR A GREAT SUCCESS

Busy Time Spent at County Fair Grounds When Agricultural Society Also Convened—Judges Had Difficult Time Examining Exhibits.

AYER'S CLIFF, Sept. 11.—The usual success, made possible by good weather, good crowds and good exhibits, attended the School Fair held in Ayer's Cliff, on Wednesday, September 10th. In fact the county fair grounds was unusually busy as the County Council and Agricultural Society convened the same day with a representative number in each.

A busy time was experienced from the opening until lunch time, the exhibitors transforming the horticultural building into such a contest of agricultural skill as demanded time and wisdom on the part of those judging. The culinary and floral arts were not neglected by the young ladies, toothsome cakes and a lovely variety of garden flowers being shown. For those not bringing lunch, the local W.I. offered for sale the customary ice cream, soft drinks, cany, nuts, hot dogs, lunches and coffee. These meeting excellent financial results.

Following this a large crowd assembled on the grand stand to view the school parade and foot races. The Ayer's Cliff school, headed by the Junior band and students carrying the school colors of purple and yellow, led the following six groups of pupils from Burroughs Falls, Teyon School, Way's Mills, Fitch Bay, Stanstead North and Beebe High School, each representing in an original and practical way their separate districts.

Marie, Ont., thence through United States territory to Emerson, Man. From there they followed the main prairie roads and Crow's Nest Pass through the Rockies to Vancouver.

The previous record for this trip was 96 1/2 hours actual running time.

ALTERATION IN ONTARIO GOVT. IS PREDICTED

Relinquishing of Portfolio of Minister of Education by Premier C. Howard Ferguson Included in Changes Which Are Understood to Be Contemplated.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 11.—Four important changes in Premier C. Howard Ferguson's Government, including the relinquishing of the portfolio of Minister of Education by the Premier, are forecast in a feature story published by the Globe today.

"In the reported reorganization," says the paper, "there are said to be involved the retirement of three of the present members of the Government. Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Dr. Forbes Godfrey, Minister of Health, and Hon. Lincoln Goldie, Provincial Secretary, the elevation to full cabinet rank of one present minister without portfolio, Hon. E. A. Dunlop, and of four private members of the Legislature.

"The creation of a new Department of Welfare, which Mr. Ferguson has indicated on several occasions was needed, will be effected in the re-organization," continues the Globe.

According to the paper, "Should prospective reorganization be effected on the lines indicated, Premier Ferguson will relinquish to Leopold MacAulay, M.L.A. for South York, the education portfolio the Premier has administered since his Government came into office; Dr. John M. Robb, M.L.A., Algoma, will take over the Health Department that will be extended, it is understood, to include within its jurisdiction the provincial mental hospitals and public general hospitals, now administered by Mr. Goldie."

"The fourth new face in the re-organized cabinet," says the paper, "will be that of Rev. William G. Martin, M.L.A., Brantford, who will be entrusted with the welfare portfolio, which was urgently recommended in the recent report of the royal commission that investigated the province's general welfare situation."

"Mr. Dunlop will be the new Provincial Treasurer," the story proceeds, "while Hon. J. D. McNeill, treasurer since 1926, will head a new combination of portfolios, Game and Fisheries, and that of the Provincial Secretary, which it is said, will become almost nominal in future."

The Globe says it has "learned from authoritative sources that an official announcement regarding the re-arrangement of the Cabinet will be made by Premier Ferguson early next week."

BRITISH SHIP CREW IS GIVING CO-OPERATION

Marines Working Like Other Laborers Clearing Debris in Stricken City of Santo Domingo.

SANTO DOMINGO, Sept. 11.—British naval detachments worked like any other laborers today in putting this ancient capital back on its feet.

At the request of President Roujillo, sailors from the cruiser Danae, which left Halifax early this week, landed yesterday to supervise cleaning of debris and refuse from the streets, thus releasing fatigued Dominican soldiers who have had almost no relief since the hurricane, Wednesday of last week.

The Britons came, in their white clothes and regulation helmets, but for only a little while they stand as guards and supervisors. Their officers almost immediately put them to work aiding the general reconstruction labor, and today it was evident they were making quite a dent in the task at hand.

With the tropical heat and the perspiration of their labors, they quickly became begrimed and their uniforms soiled, but they did not mind, never halted their work. Their presence was somewhat of a novelty although in times past British naval detachments have landed to guard the Legation in the time of revolution.

President Trujillo has asked for detachments of United States Marines to aid in the reconstruction, but it was regarded as doubtful here that they would be sent.

The British cruiser turned over all of its medical supplies above those actually needed for an emergency to the medical committee and all surplus food and board was given to the President and the American relief committee.

Meanwhile the technical personnel of the British ship carried on a survey of transportation needs of the city, with particular regard to destroyed bridges and communications service so that repairs might be facilitated.

ADVOCATES FURTHER RESTRICTION OF NEWCOMERS IN SENATE DEBATE

Senator Casgrain Claimed in Senate Speech that Improved Machinery Removes Need for Further Farm Laborers in Western Provinces—Protection of Canadian Labor Urged—Tribute Paid to Senator Blondin.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Senator J. T. B. Casgrain continued the discussion on the address in the Senate yesterday. On immigration, he suggested that it be suspended from central Europe and preferred countries. There was no need of importing farm hands for the wheat harvest. In view of old age pensions legislation identification of citizens should be established. The system of deportation of underables should be simplified and assisted British immigration was a failure and should not be revived.

Senator Casgrain, in congratulating Speaker Blondin, recalled the Conservative-Nationalist campaign of 1911. He also reviewed the position taken by French-Canadians in the revolutionary war and pointed out that in 1773 there were only 360 English in Canada and most of them were disaffected.

His compatriots, he said, had also played a prominent part in defending Canada in 1812. Referring again to Speaker Blondin's elevation, he said, "no one in the Conservative party better deserves reward than him. He was hounded from pillar to post in the province of Quebec. He was practically placed in the class of the unfortunates of India."

Referring to the new Premier, he pointed out the great courage he had displayed in 1914 in opposing the Canadian National $45,000,000 bond guarantee.

PARLIAMENTARY SHOW ATTRACTS MUCH INTEREST

Both Afternoon and Evening Performances of House of Commons Given Before Crowded Houses and Galleries.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 11.—Canada's parliamentary show is playing to packed houses and the galleries are filled for both matinee and evening performances. Judging by the crowds which seek out the House of Commons for the session of Parliament is exciting unusual interest in the general public.

While there may be several reasons for the increased attendance, the fact that Parliament is sitting during the tourist season is probably more responsible than any other. Many of those in the galleries are from out-of-town and a significant feature of the present session is the large number of requests for tickets of admission to the reserve galleries from visitors from the United States. United States tourists often apply to the United States Minister and his staff and obtain tickets through them.

Then there are many Canadians from widely scattered parts of Canada who are taking advantage of the holiday season to see the first time in many years that Parliament has opened in the summer, as usually the opening takes place in the winter when the average workaday citizen has neither the time nor the inclination to travel.

The fact that a new government is at the helm also adds to the interest and many people attend the sessions to see Premier Bennett and his cabinet play the stellar role for the first time. Naturally many of the members are occupying seats in the House for the first time and the proceedings of Parliament have the attraction of novelty for the wives, children and friends who have accompanied them to Ottawa.

GUELPH TEAM TO COMPETE

GUELPH, Ont., Sept. 11.—A team of students representing the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph will again compete in the Eastern United States dairy judging competition which is to be held at Springfield, Mass., commencing September 16th.

They money to keep up prices and speculate. Guarantees by the western provinces had been equally injurious. In concluding, Senator Casgrain approved of the restriction on immigration by the new Government, and said it was right to keep out causes which had led up to the present unemployment situation, and pointed out that Sir Robert Borden, in the Versailles Treaty in 1919, had played a large part in the recognition of human rights to receive a larger share of the world's attention. When Sir Robert returned to Canada he had summoned a conference of labor and capital and the Government attitude towards the wage earner had been defined and had been implemented.

The Government of that day had devoted large sums for highways and technical education.

The King Government, he said, in 1924 had called a conference on unemployment which made many recommendations, but none of them had been acted upon by the Government. Good times followed until late in 1928, when business slackened, and immigration continued and emigration decreased which produced a labor surplus. In 1929 came the short crop, wheat congestion, and reduced purchasing power, which led to more than 20,000 railway men being out of work last winter.

In the winter of 1929, said Senator Robertson, the Federal Government had been asked to aid and relieve unemployment, but no aid was given. The whole burden fell on the municipalities and their finances were exhausted. Last winter the federal authorities did not appear to realize the serious unemployment situation, although appeals were made from every part of Canada, including all the prominent cities and several of the provinces. Even prominent associations in Montreal petitioned for some Government action and thirteen labor unions did the same. From the correspondence in the Department of Labor it was evident that the former Minister of Labor, Hon. Peter Heenan, did not take the same view as the Prime Minister of this problem. The Government had all this information last session and refused to take any action.

DEPRESSION IN CANADA BELOW OTHER NATIONS

Optimistic Outlook on Present Situation Taken by Bank's Monthly Letter.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 11.—While there was no doubt that all lines of Canadian industry had suffered from effects of a general depression, taking a broad view of world conditions, there were few countries which had come through the trade reaction as well as had Canada, stated the September letter of the Royal Bank of Canada.

NEW MAYOR WAS ELECTED BY CITIZENS OF DETROIT

Ex-Mayor Charles Bowles Failed to Regain Hold, and Victory Went to Frank Murphy.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 11.—Charles Bowles lost his fight on Tuesday to regain the position of mayor of Detroit which he won as a reform candidate and lost in a recall election after six months in office.

He had the satisfaction, however, of running ahead of the man endorsed by the committee which managed the recall campaign. The winner of what turned out to be a virtually a three-man race was Frank Murphy, who resigned from Bowles' court to enter the contest with the backing of some of the elements which helped elevate Bowles from the same bench to the mayor's chair last November. Murphy ran approximately 12,000 votes ahead of Bowles, who in turn had a margin almost as large over George Engel, the recall committee's choice. John W. Smith, former mayor, trailed far behind, and Philip Wynn, a Communist, got about 3,000 votes.

UNITED STATES WOULD PUSH ON WATERWAY PLAN

Despatch from Washington Says Newly Appointed U.S. Minister to Canada Has Asked Bennett Government to Proceed With Development of St. Lawrence Waterway.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Sept. 11.—The New York Times in a special despatch from Washington today says: "In a note delivered by Harford MacNider, as one of his first official acts as the new American Minister to Canada, the United States has asked the Conservative Government of Premier R. B. Bennett whether it is prepared to proceed with development of the St. Lawrence Waterway and has suggested that the two governments appoint commissioners for settling the remaining points of difference and negotiating a treaty for carrying out the project."

Whether a reply has been transmitted by the Canadian Government is not known here.

The United States was led to move in the matter at this time from the fact that Mr. Bennett in the recent campaign criticized the Liberal Government severely for not proceeding with the project.

The move also is indicative of the keen interest in the St. Lawrence waterway scheme taken by President Hoover, as well as by Mr. MacNider, whose home state of Iowa would benefit from a development which would give the middle west access to the Atlantic by a water route.

The step taken by the United States is the first formal diplomatic move in the situation since 1928, when the country urged the conclusion of arrangements for building the waterway, but was informed by Premier Mackenzie King that Canada, for various reasons, was not prepared to proceed with the matter until several domestic questions had been adjusted. There was at that time in dispute such technical questions as to whether the section between Prescott and Cornwall, Ontario, should be of single or double stage construction and the matter of the distribution of costs between the two governments.

Premier King, in refusing to proceed at that time, pointed to these technical considerations and the fact that the constitutional question of ownership of the waterway in Canada was still at issue between the federal and provincial governments.

This latter question has not been settled and the joint engineering board, reconstituted a few months ago to determine the technical issues in the international section has not completed its work. The matter of cost is also yet to be decided."

FEW INSURANCE CLAIMS FIND WAY TO LAW COURTS

FOREIGN TRADE FAILURE CAUSE OF DEPRESSION

Prominent English Shipper Declares Free Trade Necessary to Restore Economic Balance.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 11.—Attributing the present trade depression to failure of countries to exchange their basic products and manufactured goods, Major Leonard H. Cripps, C.B.E., partner in a large shipping firm at Liverpool, England, and son of Lord Parmoor, president of the council in Premier Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet, said he had found many Canadian business men unable to grasp the simple economic principle that a country cannot increase its exports, if it refuses to permit imports.

Major Cripps said he found the belief prevalent, not only in Canada but also in United States, that a country can build up a large export market while prohibiting importation of goods.

This, the visitor contended, was a mistaken attitude. For instance, he said, if Canada desired to sell her wheat in Great Britain at a reasonable price, she must be prepared to accept British-made goods at a reasonable price, on the basis of a fair deal.

EXECUTIVE TO ASK APPROVAL OF TERMINALS

Meeting Yesterday Approved Principle of Lagachetiere Street Terminal Project—Minor Modifications Suggested.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 11.—Following a conference lasting over three hours yesterday afternoon between high officials of the Canadian National Railways and the members of the Executive Committee, Mayor Houde, who was also present, announced that the city executive appeared to be willing to submit a report to the special meeting of the City Council on Tuesday, asking the adoption of that part of the C. N. R. project relating to the construction of the large terminal at Lagachetiere street, some minor details only not having been settled.

As regards the much discussed elevation of the company's tracks from Bonaventure station to Turcot, and the Longue-Pointe-Mount Royal line, these questions would be discussed later on, the company having promised the city that the adoption of the plan relating to the terminal station and the viaduct lines across the city would not affect the elevation of tracks from Bonaventure station nor elsewhere.

Mayor Houde added he thought the adoption of the really big part of the terminal project, giving work for two or three years and requiring an outlay of many million dollars, would give satisfaction to the people of Montreal and would likewise prove very acceptable as a relief to the problem of the unemployed.

There were present at the conference, which was held in the private office of Mayor Houde: His Worship the Mayor, Ald. Bray, chairman of the City Executive, and the other members, Ald. Savignac, Ald. Weldon, Ald. Mathieu, Ald. Fortin, Jules Crepeau, director of Municipal Departments; G. R. MacLeod, city engineer; Charles Laurendeau, consulting attorney; City Attorney Butler, and Ald. Biggar, leader of the City Council.

The Canadian National Railways was represented as regards the terminal project by S. J. Hungerford, vice-president, and C. B. Brown, chief engineer.

COMPLIMENTED ON HER COMPLEXION AT 65

Tells All Women How She Does It

20 YEARS OF KRUSCHEN 20 YEARS OF HEALTH

Just fancy! A grandmother and still being complimented on her complexion! How does she do it? Her letter explains. Kruschen keeps her young and fit. That's the secret of the whole matter.

"When I was on holiday this Summer I was asked what gave me or what I used for my fresh complexion. For 20 years now I've used as directed Kruschen Salts, the finest and only medicine to my knowledge. Before this I was troubled with my liver and biliousness and rheumatism in my arm and shoulders. I just take it regularly as you describe, with the above result. I tell everyone this, also my family, who are now men and women, for I am over 62."

Don't be content to envy her. Follow her example. Kruschen will keep you young, just as it keeps her young. The little daily dose keeps you young inside; you wake up every morning as fit and fresh as a schoolgirl, and before the first month is out the wonderful difference is written in your complexion and your eyes. Kruschen will restore the liver and kidneys to proper activity. Waste products will be naturally expelled by those eliminating organs as Nature intends. The blood will be refreshed and will course in a cleansing stream to every fibre of the body, reinvigorating your whole system, brightening your eyes, clearing your skin. You feel—and are—a different person. Thousands are proving it daily. Why shouldn't you? Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

The End of The Fight

By Thornton W. Burgess

Who puts his courage to the test, though he may lose, has done his best.

—Impy the Chipmunk.

There was nothing cowardly about Impy the black chipmunk. This was his first fight and he was fighting another chipmunk who was bigger and older than he. Impy was getting rather the worst of it. Yes, sir, he was getting rather the worst of it. That was quite natural. The strange chipmunk had fought many battles. Not only was he stronger than Impy, but he knew all the tricks of fighting. Over and over they rolled on the ground, biting, kicking, scratching, every once in a while one or the other would squeal.

The other chipmunk ran after him.

Impy fought so long and so hard. That reason was little Miss Frisky. She was watching that fight and Impy knew it. He was fighting for her. He would have quit long ago had it not been that she was looking on. But the stranger was fighting for her too. Yes, sir, he was so. You see, he had fallen in love with her just as Impy had. So both were fighting for her and each was sure that if he could win the fight he would win her.

Impy was growing short of wind. He was getting very, very tired. Still he fought on. Presently he knew he was beaten. He knew that the stranger was too strong for him. He knew that when he got the chance he would have to run away. He couldn't bear to think of doing such a thing with little Miss Frisky looking on. But when it was a case of his very life there was nothing else to do. He knew that if he kept on the strange chipmunk would kill him.

Presently the stranger paused for breath. He loosened his grip a little. It was Impy's chance. He made the most of it. He tore himself loose and was on his feet before you could wink an eye. Then Impy ran. Yes, sir, he ran. The other chipmunk ran after him. Looking over his shoulder Impy saw that the other chipmunk was gaining. Fear gave Impy speed. How his small legs did move! The next time he looked over his shoulder the stranger had stopped. Impy stopped, then. He just had to. He needed a wee bit of rest. The strange chipmunk said a lot of unpleasant things. He warned Impy never to come that way again. He told Impy that if ever he caught him again he would kill him. Impy said not a word. You see, he felt disgraced. He wasn't disgraced at all, for he had done his best; and no one who does his best is ever disgraced by failure. However, Impy felt that way.

He ached all over. His coat was torn. He was a sorry looking chipmunk. He wanted to get away somewhere and hide. He looked around hastily to see if little Miss Frisky was watching him. He didn't see her, but he did see the strange chipmunk go swaggering along toward the place where he suspected little Miss Frisky was hiding. Poor Impy! You see, he really was very much in love with little Miss Frisky. It was bad enough to lose that fight, but it was worse to lose Miss Frisky; and he hadn't a doubt in the world that he had lost her.

"I'll go 'way off somewhere," said Impy to himself. "Yes, sir, I'll go 'way, 'way, 'way off. I just can't stay here. I'll give up my new home and go 'way off out in the Great Woods and make me a new home somewhere."

Then Impy sadly made his way home and crept down into the bedroom he had taken so much pride in. And there he licked his wounds and then curled up in his bed.

NO WONDER YOU FEEL SICK

When Constipation Gets Its Grip You Can't Keep Well. What You Need Is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

That tired feeling, that persistent headache, that bad breath are often symptoms of constipation.

There is only one thing to do—clean out your system. Do it now or you may be seriously sick. Your intestines are clogged because you have not eaten enough roughage. And there is no better roughage than that healthful, appetizing cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is a natural food that brings natural results regularly. Its fiber content sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Much better than habit-forming pills which become useless unless their dose is increased.

ANY real tea lover knows when he is getting King Cole. No other tea can match it for flavor, fullness, and strength. Not only that, but, properly made, every cup of King Cole Tea is exactly like every other cup. Other teas may vary with changing tea crops, and changing prices.

But King Cole is always uniform because of the unerring care used in the selection of the tea leaves and because of the enormous reserve stock which we carry at all times.

No more dirty floors

You have plenty of work to do without scrubbing floors. So stop it. If you don't, you'll ruin the floor, as sure as water rots wood.

If you're using oil on your floors, consider this: Oil leaves a sticky floor. Dust sinks in. Becomes ground in. How can you possibly get it out? If your floor is dark and lustreless, you already see the result. An oiled floor is bound to be dirty—troublesome.

But when a floor is waxed, it is clean! Transparently clean and sanitary. Radiant. For wax is lustrous, dry and hard. Never sticky. Light dusting is the only care required.

Hard to apply? No. For now you can rent a Johnson electric polisher and do the whole house for $2. There are several dealers near you. Telephone one to deliver a polisher today.

And for a 3¢ bottle of wax to try, send 10¢ for postage costs.

FINAL TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO MR. E. G. PIERCE

Prominent Sherbrooke Citizen and Well-Known Journalist Laid to Rest Yesterday Afternoon in Peaceful Little Cemetery at Melbourn—Representative Gathering of Citizens Attended Funeral.

The last chapter in the life of Ernest Gardner Pierce was written late yesterday afternoon as the peaceful sun cast its rays over the peaceful little Maple Grove Cemetery in Melbourn.

It was here in this quiet sunny spot, close to the scenes of his childhood and near the home of his birth, on the hill overlooking the town of Richmond and the surrounding countryside, which was so familiar and so dear to him, that a large gathering of sorrowing friends committed to their last resting place the mortal remains of the late vice-president and managing director of the Sherbrooke Daily Record. It was here amidst the resting places of other noble citizens of by-gone days that a final tribute of respect was paid to one who was held in the highest esteem by an exceptionally large number of friends: a man who contributed in full measure his share to the progress and development of this section of Quebec Province, in which he was so well known; a man whose death is universally mourned and whose absence from the religious, business, educational and social activities of the district will be keenly felt.

At two o'clock yesterday afternoon, a brief, but impressive, service was held at the late residence, 19 Stanley Avenue, which was attended by a large and representative gathering of citizens, including representatives from the various organizations and associations with which the late Mr. Pierce was connected, as well as members of Parliament and business and professional men in all walks of life.

The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. W. E. Lennon, pastor of Trinity United Church, of which the deceased was a valued member. In a address, Dr. Lennon spoke very feelingly of the life which had come to an end. The life of E. G. Pierce, as Dr. Lennon fittingly remarked, had been a life of usefulness, one of service and one which could not but impress those who were familiar with it. Mr. Pierce, Dr. Lennon said, was a great asset to the community; he had given of his time freely and willingly to all worthy movements; he had been a valuable member of his church, was always keenly interested in the progress of the community and anxious to promote and support anything which tended to the welfare of the youth of the community; he was in brief, a man who had served well and good his God and his fellow-men. During the service, a quartette, composed of Mrs. F. H. Bradley, Mrs. E. A. Salter, Messrs. Gordon Armitage and Ernest Armitage, rendered two beautiful hymns.

At the conclusion of the service the casket, containing the body of the man whose death was so keenly felt by all, was borne by six bearers to the waiting hearse to be taken to Melbourn for burial. The bearers were Messrs. Malcolm H. Bradford, J. A. Boyle, J. Fraser, C. Pearson, J. A. Blais, four of the oldest employees of the Record, in years of service, and P. P. Kenney, one of the younger members of the staff. The pall-bearers, all personal friends of the deceased, were Messrs. C. B. Howard, M. P., D. J. Salls, J. H. Bryce, R. S. Nutbrown, E. S. Stevens and P. M. Robins.

The committal prayers at the graveside were said by Rev. Dr. Lennon, who was assisted by Rev. Mr. E. W. S. Coates, of Richmond United Church. Here again Dr. Lennon spoke a few comforting words mentioning how the friends of the late Mr. Pierce had assembled to bring home again, after life's task had been successfully performed, a son of Melbourn. The sad duty which was being performed, Dr. Lennon said, was to lay to rest a man who, beginning life in a humble way, without wealth or influence, had made a name for himself and had nobly contributed his part. Now that life was ended, that man had passed on and the body of E. G. Pierce was brought back again to the town where it had first seen the light of day and where it now was being left to its final rest and peace.

Assembled at the graveside, when the funeral cortege arrived from Sherbrooke, was a large gathering from Richmond and Melbourn who had come to pay their final respects. The large number of beautiful floral tributes which were received gave silent testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held, while the numerous telegrams and messages of sympathy received by Mrs. Pierce were outward signs of the general regret which was felt at the passing of one who was universally admired and respected.

the injuries which the complainant and Albert Chamberland, also of this city, suffered as a result of a serious automobile accident on the Montreal highway on the evening of August 11th, were withdrawn yesterday in the Magistrate's Court, by the counsel for the complainant, Col. Emile Rioux, K.C.

The two cases which were drafted yesterday were sworn out on August 15th, but between that time and the preliminary hearing, the Crown intervened and Desnoyers, the owner of the American car, was ordered to stand his trial on the more serious Crown charge at the criminal assizes in the fall. The two cases against Stuffy Nolin, driver of the American car, however, remain the preliminary hearing for which is scheduled for Friday morning. Nolin is still receiving treatment at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital for a badly broken arm which he suffered when the two cars crashed.

VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH IN CASE OF J. E. BIBEAU

A jury empaneled by Coroner L. Bachand rendered a verdict of "accidental death" yesterday afternoon, at the inquest held at police headquarters in connection with the death of Mr. J. E. Bibeau, St. Louis street, who met with a fatal accident near Weedon Monday afternoon, while working for the Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Bibeau, twenty-nine years old, was working when he fell from a telephone pole and sustained a broken back and fractured skull. He was immediately rushed to the Sherbrooke Hospital, but he passed away Monday night at about nine o'clock.

OPENING MEETING OF OMEGA-ALPHA CLUB

Final arrangements for the Eastern Townships conference of the Omega-Alpha Club to be held at North Hatley on Sept. 20th and 21st were made at the last meeting of the local O.-A. Club. Delegates will leave Sherbrooke at two o'clock on Saturday, September 20. A varied programme has been prepared for this event, including sports, talks and discussions.

The secretary was instructed to send a letter of sympathy to Mrs. E. G. Pierce, expressing the sorrow of the members of the club in the loss of her husband, who had given his time unreservedly for the youth of the Eastern Townships. Other minor matters were discussed before the meeting adjourned.

MANY MOTORISTS FINED BY RECORDER FOR THIS MORNING

Nine city motorists were fined each three dollars and costs, by Recorder L. Forest this morning, in the Recorder's Court, for violation of the parking regulations. Four of these were up for having parked their cars on Dufferin street bridge. Chief H. O. Camirand advised sometime ago that he would be very severe in treating with those guilty of infraction of the "no parking" sign placed at the bridge, and this morning's fines indicated that the local police are as determined as ever to stop this dangerous practice. Three motorists were obliged to pay the imposed fine, for having exceeded the twenty minute parking allotted along Wellington street, and two others had to pay the same fine for breaking the parking regulation for Dufferin street, which says that a car must not remain parked for longer than an hour.

There were also nine cases of protection at the police station last night. Two of the individuals seeking shelter came from England, while one came from Scotland. Z. Nicholas, of Magog, who appeared for drunkenness, before the Recorder, was let off on a suspended sentence.

The TORRID ZONE STEEL FURNACE

LENNOX FURNACE CO. OF CANADA LIMITED

TORONTO ONT. WINNIPEG MAN.

TORRID ZONE DEALERS:

A. R. Wilson Ltd., 13 Frontenac St. Sherbrooke, Que.

Claude J. Farrell, Knowlton, Que.

Torrid Zone steel furnaces are the only riveted and caulked gas-tight boiler plate furnaces in Canada. When installed according to the Standard Code, as designed by research engineers for the National Warm Air Heating Association, they will recirculate warm, fresh air evenly throughout every room in your house. Guesswork has surrendered to science in Torrid Zone heating.

MODERN WAYS DEMAND STEEL AND RIVETED CONSTRUCTION

RIVETED

THE TORRID ZONE furnace is the most durable furnace that is made today, because it is made of STEEL—heavy plates of steel, caulked and riveted, gas-tight and dust-tight. The average life of Torrid Zone furnaces has been twenty-one years. The Torrid Zone furnace is GUARANTEED for ten years.

Cupolas in which iron is melted are made of steel, lined with fire brick, just as Torrid Zone steel furnaces are made of heavy boiler plates and are lined with fire brick. Steel heats quicker than iron. Torrid Zone furnaces will heat with less fuel because their extra large heating surfaces radiate heat from the fire quickly. Soot will not accumulate on smooth steel walls to retard radiation of heat as it does on iron-walled furnaces.

Because they are made of steel—riveted, gas-tight, like a boiler—Torrid Zone furnaces not only heat quicker and more powerfully, and with less fuel than ordinary furnaces, but they always deliver CLEAN heat. No dust, no gas, no smoke or soot.

TEST POWER OF UNITED CHURCH OVER MINISTRY

Calling of Minister from Wales by Toronto Church Cause of Heated Debate at Presbytery Meeting.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 11.—At the first autumn meeting, the Toronto East Presbytery had adopted a motion which will be in effect, a test case to ascertain to what extent the General Council may exercise its jurisdiction in the admission of ministers to the United Church of Canada.

Presentation of the report of the Welsh Church (United Church of Canada), by Rev. Dr. Roberts precipitated a discussion that resulted in the motion being moved. Dr. Roberts said Rev. Dr. John Lewis, a minister of the Congregation Union of Wales, has been called to a local Welsh Church and had taken over his duties last month. Although Rev. Dr. Lewis was at present only supplying, he had not been admitted to the ministry of the United Church, said Dr. Roberts, who expressed the opinion it was a serious matter for the congregation.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Coulter, chairman of the Conference, suggested a request be made to the General Council to admit Dr. Lewis. It would at least be a test case and help out the Welsh Church congregation, he thought.

This should interest a lot of wives!

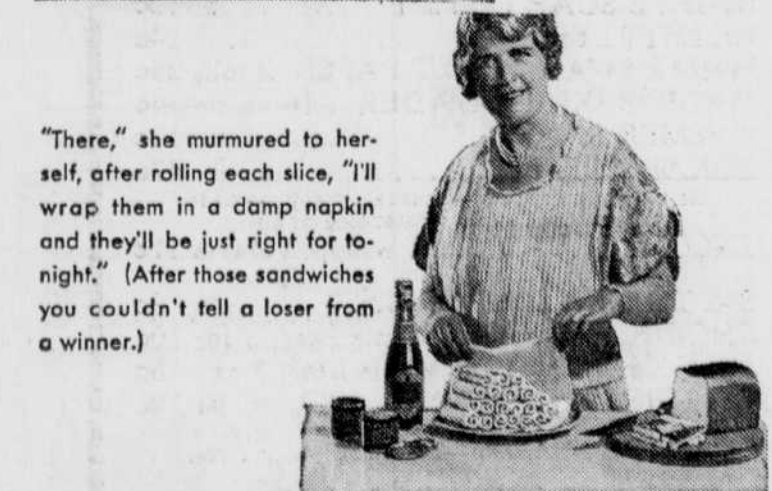

"Goodness, I almost forgot that Dad is having some of his friends in tonight for a game of cards," thought Mother, "I must make them some tasty sandwiches."

She mixed some Clark's Potted Veal with chopped hard-boiled egg, and spread this on thin slices of bread, adding a dash of Clark's Tomato Ketchup for relish.

Then, for variety, she spread other slices of bread with Clark's Pâté de Viande, and sprinkled each with crisped celery hearts sliced very thin. She trimmed off all crusts.

"There," she murmured to herself, after rolling each slice, "I'll wrap them in a damp napkin and they'll be just right for tonight." (After those sandwiches you couldn't tell a loser from a winner.)

On every tin of Clark's Potted Meats you will find a seal—Canada approved—it assures you that the contents have passed Federal Government inspection. In addition you may buy any Clark product with the assurance that if you are not entirely satisfied with your purchase your grocer will refund your money without question.

...they must be good!

"All things will change, yet
Nothing will die!" said the Poet.
When will the stream be weary of flowing
Under my eye?
When will the wind be weary of blowing
Over the sky?
When will the clouds be weary of fleeting,
When will the heart be weary of beating and Nature die?
Never! Oh, Never! Nothing will die!

The Stream flows, the Wind blows,
The Cloud fleets, the Heart beats,
Nothing will die!

FAREWELL.

Laid to rest yesterday in the cemetery on the hillside at Melbourne, within sight of the home where he was born about sixty years ago, the impressive funeral services over the mortal remains of Erastus G. Pierce were attended by many prominent men in the Eastern Townships. Among them were members of both Parliaments, one of whom had hurried away from Ottawa to bid a last farewell with love and loyalty to his old friend and fellow-townsmen.

From Richmond and Melbourne, two towns ever held in fond memory of the deceased, there came many who shed tears on the bier of the boyhood companion who had departed from their midst in his early manhood to seek fame and fortune in the nearby city.

The officiating minister referred feelingly to this he who had gone to far-off fields and to the high place that Erastus Pierce had attained among his fellow-members of the Fourth Estate.

Relatives and family connections of the Pierce family had gathered from far and near to commune in the mourning, and to minister with their kindly presence to the deeper sorrow of the widow and of the nearest and dearest of the departed journalist. There is ever solace and comfort in such communion. There were present many close relatives who themselves stand high in the professional and financial world.

The members of the staff of the Record, everyone of our family of workers who had enjoyed the close comradeship of their late chief, were at the services to give silent voice to their sorrow and to radiate their sincere sympathy. He who had rejoiced with them in their success, had helped them in their trials, and was ever ready to extend to them his hearty and loyal fellowship, might lie still on the sunny hill, but those memories which he had left behind him would ever live and comfort them. There stood on each side of the grave two members of the printing staff who had been with Mr. Pierce in all the twenty-seven shining years of his work on the Daily Record. In that quarter century they had seen him come to the office in a minor capacity and envied not his steady climb to the top. Their sorrow was too deep for utterance or for interpretation by words or through a pen more gifted than that of the Editor, who feels disqualified when joined by the older colleagues of their deceased confrere, whose loss they deplored.

Every step in the sad and sorrowful journey from the home to the grave carried the mind of the mourners back to the days when Erastus Pierce was a young man, robust and cheerful, with a wide circle of friends throughout the Eastern Townships. Here he had labored, and here he had loved with all sincerity and soulfulness, and 'twas here as well as far afield where friends looked upon him as an ornament of virtue.

Erastus G. Pierce was lovable and likable. May God rest a soul which had been wearied by long illness, but which stood courageous to the end.

To such a man, to such a name, we voice and preserve his fame.

ASKING FOR THE DUKE.

"But so far as we can legislate we provide that for all time to come the sovereign of Great Britain shall be the sovereign of British North America," said Sir John Macdonald in 1867 when he presented the plan of Confederation to the Parliament of Canada.

And he commented upon the advantage of the monarchical system over that of the United States, where the President was but the leader of a party temporarily in power.

"We have avoided all conflict of jurisdiction and authority," he said, but previously explained, "with us the representative of the sovereign can act only on the advice of his ministers, those ministers being responsible to the people through Parliament."

"We place no restriction on her Majesty's prerogative in the selection of her representative. . . . The Sovereign has unrestricted freedom of choice. . . ."

That is the reply to those who would have sought, through Imperial Conference, to ask King George to allow some political party presently in power in Canada to select a Canadian as Governor-General. Such a clear statement cannot be termed a "lazy fugacity" by those who would trifle with "the tie that binds." The wisdom of our forefathers placed the prize of supreme power without the sphere of passion and partisanship.

In further explanation of the Canadian Constitution the late Sir John said to the members, "The executive authority must be administered by Her Majesty's representative."

It was this statement which the Ex-Premier flouted when he claimed that Lord Byng, on the Premier's own confession of his minority, called upon Sir Arthur Meighen to form a Government.

The outstanding Father of Confederation had further emphasized the recognition of British sovereignty for all time to come, "Whether in making a selection (of a Governor-General) Queen Victoria may send us one of her own family, a royal prince, as a viceroy to reign over us, or one of the great statesmen of England to represent her, we know not. We leave that to her Majesty in all confidence."

Sir John had clarity of expression and was lucid in his interpretation. He did not equivocate nor stutter over facts.

It is that no man shall again term any part of the Constitution which was extolled by its founders and frames.

We submit that an invitation should be sent to King George to allow Canada to have as her next Governor-General the Duke of York.

The only members of the Royal family who resided in the vice-royal halls in Ottawa, were the Princess Louise, whose royal title takes precedence over that of Marchioness of Lorne or Duchess of Argyll, and the Duke of Connaught.

BRING YOUR SACK OF SOIL.

A young man on a farm near Waterville found a bog, or a dried up swamp which will make him rich.

An energetic farmer near Huntingville developed a soil on his farm which grows the most delectable lettuce grown in America, the "Nix-dean" lettuce, as it is known on the market.

The Quebec Government and the Canadian National Railways have launched a "Soil Improvement Train" which will shortly visit the farm centers of the Eastern Townships to give free service to the farmers so that they may know just what their own soil is best fitted to produce.

Science in its most practical way is coming to the aid of the agricultural community. The Minister of Agriculture, Hon. J. L. Perron, hopes to accompany this train, and should his health not permit the voyaging he will be represented by his able colleague, Hon. J. E. Perrault, Minister of Highways, who also has a deep understanding of farm problems.

Farmers, who may be able to go to Compton on the afternoon of the 15th, or Lennoxville on the morning of the 16th, or Richmond on the 17th of September, can have a free analysis of their soil made if they will but bring a peck of dirt along with them.

There are four cars on the special train, the first one being for soil analysis, the second featuring the value of lime, the third a fertilizer car, and the fourth will be the lecture car, where a small crowd may gather together and hear Dr. Black and other authorities explain the charts and their significance as applied to each individual farm.

GOING TO THE FAIR.

To go to a real country fair, and to gather in an atmosphere which has preserved the County Exhibition in all its purity and simplicity was our privilege this week at Marlleton. It was an agricultural fair of ye olden time, and did our citizens know of its allure they had spent a happy afternoon and added a few thousands to the attendance. Next year the Directors of the Marlleton Fair in Wolfe County will introduce some new features, and such attractions as will bring everyone within a radius of fifty miles. The energetic young secretary, Mr. Skinner, promises that.

The last of the county fall fairs for the present season will be held in Danville on the last Saturday in September, and the Editor is going to board his little puddle-jumper and see Danville once more.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

We can ever extract good from excess of evil, and surely the powers of darkness are evil. When aldermen hide behind closed doors to transact public business there is no good other than the fact that the citizens do not have to read about too-much foolishness. Therein lies the good.

PRESS COMMENT

HOLIDAYS IN ENGLAND.

The English are the last people in the world to yield to the spirit of depression. In the midst of an unemployment situation that would create general gloom in any other country, the population of the little island is entering wholeheartedly into enjoyment of the holiday season. Motor coach services are making special appeal to those on holiday bent, and the railways are providing for hundreds of extra trains.

The Englishman has a passion for the country. He is the world's greatest pedestrian, and with his knapsack on his back, may be found trudging along the less frequented but always beautiful roads of his native land, wandering through the Highlands of Scotland, down in Little Wales, in Ireland, or wherever the walking is reasonably good and there is something to see. There is no better way of seeing a country, and the health returns are beyond calculation. This habit has a lot to do with building up the rugged constitution that the average Englishman enjoys.

Things may be bad in England, and they may even be worse before they are better, but the indomitable character of her people will carry the country along until the tide turns. A race of men who do not know when they are beaten will never be beaten. This may be a paradox, but it expresses the situation. At any rate the holiday spirit is abroad in the land, and is being welcomed by all hands, including members of the House of Commons. Public affairs may look after themselves for a while.—Toronto Globe.

HE-MAN COLLEGES.

The latest person to "view with alarm" the vogue for college athletics is President Campbell of the University of California at Berkeley.

It is natural that brains should be jealous of brawn. The moment muscle becomes ascendant, education is unbalanced. When salaries of professors are lower than those of coaches, something is lopsided.

And yet athletics are important. A university is no longer a place just to train the mind. The mind is fettered without a good machine to express it. We are rapidly changing from what is central.

Girls more than boys have been graduating. The boys had almost come to think that study is effeminate. Business has been making its bid for boys. As a result many drop out even before high school and go to work and girls go on to college.

Too many bespectacled youths have been capturing the Phi Beta Kappa key. Round shoulders instead of big shoulders have been the badge of learning. Red-blooded youth have wondered whether it is worth the sacrifice.

The rise in athletics has changed matters. He-men are attracted by the team. Hairy chests are becoming the vogue. Football may have had much to do with advertising the university idea. The call of red blood is to the classroom. The school is now making an appeal to the whole man. Instead of scrawny apologies the campus is now swarming with brawny heroes.—Los Angeles Times.

GRIFFIN AND BISSELL ROAD

Twenty-seven young ladies took part in a picnic at Tomkin's Creek, Tuesday, August 26th, the occasion being a shower for Miss Sara Layfield. She was very much surprised upon arriving to be invited to enter a boat decorated with goldenrod, with an arch in the bow, under which she was asked to take a seat, and rowed to the boat-house, where she was showered with confetti. Miss Rachel Elliot gave a short speech on the kinds of fish caught in Lake Memphremagog, but thought if Miss Layfield would take the rod and line and fish she would catch many different kinds in the dry pool prepared among the trees on shore. She was embarrassed indeed with the ease with which her line, baited by Miss Louise Davis, continued to draw prizes from the pool. The fish were beautiful and in their variety will be useful and beautiful in the new home all ready in Rosemount. After an expression of surprise from the lucky "fisherman," the lunch comprising salads, rolls and cakes, including a bride's cake, which bore on its satiny surface the name Sally in pink letters, was enjoyed.

Miss Layfield will fondly remember the bright afternoon and the sunny expressions of friendship which were so much in evidence.

VERY, VERY NEAT

A gang of men were working on street repairs in front of a woman's house. She seemed quite interested in them and asked one of them, a big burly Celt, "Which is the icerman?"

"O' am, mum," he replied proudly.

"Really?" continued the lady.
"O' kin prove it, mum," rejoined the Irishman. Then, turning to a laborer at hand, he added, "Kelly, you're fired!"

MEETINGS HELD FOR CLERGY AT LENNOXVILLE

Large Gathering of Anglican Clergymen at University of Bishop's College—Right Rev.
Lennox Williams, D.D., Lord
Bishop of Quebec, Addressed Clergy.

A large gathering of Anglican clergy of the Diocese of Quebec met on Tuesday at the University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville,
first to study and discuss theological thought, and to attend a retreat conducted by the Very Reverend the Dean of Niagara, Dr.
Broughall. The meeting will continue until tomorrow morning.

All arrangements are in the hands of Rev. C. Stevens, rector of Grande Mere, secretary of the retreat committee.

Tuesday night the Right Reverend Lennox Williams, D.D., Lord Bishop of Quebec, addressed the clergy in the library of the university. Bishop Williams' subject was the Lambeth Conference, from which he recently returned. The Lambeth Conference is held every ten years in London, England, and every Bishop in the Anglican Communion is invited to attend this conference, and also a deputation from the Orthodox Churches.

Bishop Williams' address was to the clergy, but the Bishop related in an informal way the impressions he received this year while he was in England at the conference.

During the day the visiting clergymen were in different study groups. Dean Broughall arrived from Niagara on Tuesday noon and delivered his first address on Tuesday evening. Yesterday there were several services and addresses and the programme is being repeated today.

The meetings finish with a celebration of Holy Communion in the college chapel at eight o'clock on Friday morning.

Among the visiting clergy are:
The Right Reverend Lennox Wil-iams, D.D., Lord Bishop of Quebec;
the Very Reverend Broughall, Dean of Niagara; the Very Reverend Dr.
Crowfoot, Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Quebec; Rev. Canon Kelley, of St. Matthew's Church, Quebec; Rev. P. Abraham, assistant at the Cathedral in Quebec; the Revs.
Canon E. Roy, of Lewis; J. Brewer, of Port Daniel, Gaspé Coast; W.
Bunbury, of La Tuque; O. Berry, of Waterville; Rural Dean C. Earleley-Wilmet, of Compton; Canon H.
R. Biggs, of St. Peter's Church,
Sherbrooke; R. Rowcliffe; E. Hum-

LADIES HELD FIELD DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

First Field Day Proved to Be Decided Success and Will No Doubt Be Made Permanent
Fixture of Activities of Ladies'
Branch.

The first Ladies' Field Day ever held for local club members took place at the Sherbrooke Country Club on Tuesday, September 8th, and was a most auspicious commencement for what will no doubt in future be an annual event. The weather man was kind, the day being ideal for play; there were sixty-one entries; fifteen in class
A, and forty-six in class B. Owing to various reasons, three B class players scratched. Class A teed off at 9.30, followed by class B and at 11.15 all entrants were on the field. Luncheon was served at the club house, after which the best eight net scores in class A qualified for a third nine holes, and the remaining seven played a consolation round. The best eight scores in class B played off a second nine for the best gross and net for eighteen holes, while the second best eight scores also played off for a consolation prize. Sixteen attractive prizes were given, eight in each class, in order to stimulate interest in field day and local matches, and providing opportunities for players with low or high handicaps to win. The committee is very grateful to Mrs.
Stephen Newton for the donation of a lovely silver water jug. This prize was given in class A, and won by Mrs. K. B. Jencks. Special mention should be made of the scores made by rs. S. G. Newton in class A, who won the best gross for twenty-even holes as well as for eighteen holes. Mrs. R. Costley, in class B, won the best gross and best net prizes, making a fifty gross on the first nine and a fifty-four gross on the second nine, giving a total of 104, being the lowest gross score of the day. As no one is allowed to accept more than one prize for the day, these ladies had to limit their choice to one prize.

At the conclusion of the play, afternoon tea was served at the clubhouse, the hostesses being Mrs.
W. McManamy, Mrs. W. W. Lynch,
Mrs. J. H. Blue, Mrs. L. A. Darcy,
the Misses Jean MacKinnon, Grace Waite, Eleanor MacKinnon and Elizabeth Van Roden. The president of the ladies' branch, Mrs. H. Bruce Fletcher, and Mrs. R. G. Costley presided at the tea table, which was centered with zinnias in harmoniz-ing colors. After tea the presentation of prizes took place, Mrs.
Bruce Fletcher, the president, making the presentations in a gracious manner.

TITLE RACE IN NATIONAL LOOP GROWS TIGHTER

Games Yesterday Only Served to Complicate Position of Four Teams Battling for Top Run—Yankees Still in Running for American League Pennant.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—After seeing the congestion caused by four teams trying to occupy one place, it appears that a squadron of traffic police is needed along the road to the National League pennant. So far, all the efforts of the teams from Chicago, St. Louis, Brooklyn and New York to get to the championship have resulted in one of the greatest jams that highway ever has seen.

The only progress made in yesterday's pair of "crucial" games was to bring the Brooklyn Robins and St. Louis Cardinals a game closer to Chicago's league-leading Cubs, while the New York Giants in fourth place remained only three games behind the top.

Ligue, however, pitched almost perfect ball from start to finish and some fine Robin fielding made up for his few deficiencies to keep the Cubs well away from the plate.

The Giants and Cardinals started out for a second pitchers' battle with Fred Fitzsimmons, leader of the Giant staff, opposed to Sylvester Johnson. The Giants forged ahead slowly, getting one run in the first, which St. Louis equalled in the third, and two more in the sixth when Frank Hogan clouted a home run with one mate on base.

But the eighth inning overcame all their labor. High's single and Adams' double accounted for one tally. Then Fritch hit and Bottomley smacked the ball against the upper deck of the stand for a home run and the ball game.

Tom Zachary's four-hit pitching and Wally Berger's thirty-fourth home run gave the Boston Braves a five to nothing triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are not so far out of the pennant race, while steady and timely hitting by the Phillies enabled them to defeat Cincinatti in the fourth National League class.

The Washington Senators again failed to take advantage of an opportunity to tighten up the American League pennant chase when they allowed the St. Louis Browns to hand them a three to two setback, although Alvin Crowder gave his former mates only four hits. They remained six and one-half games behind the Philadelphia Athletics, who were not so successful with their four blows off Vic Sorrell in another fine pitching duel. They failed to score, while the Detroit Tigers bunched a good part of their five hits off Shores and Walling and won by that margin. A home run with two aboard by recruit Frank Doljack, furnished most of the scoring.

Danny McFadyen, of Boston, was not far behind in the day's hurling feats, as he gave the Chicago White Sox only six hits while the Red Sox hammered out a six to two victory. Henry Johnson, of New York, had the honor of outpitching Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland's young ace, to give the Yankees their second straight triumph over the Indians, seven to two, and to enable them to hold their mathematical chance of capturing the flag.

The teacher had given a lesson on the Wars of the Roses. "What do you know of Margaret of Anjou?" he asked.

"She was very fat," said Billy.

"How is that?" inquired the teacher.

"Because," he replied, "I read that she was one of Richard's stoutest opponents."

YOUTH MARKED FINALISTS IN TENNIS TITLE

Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter Only Veterans to Qualify for Quarter-Finals of National Singles Contest.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 11.—Those two old soldiers of the tennis court, Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter, stood today in the quarter-final round of the National Tennis singles championship, surrounded by half a dozen youngsters ranging in age from eighteen to twenty-four.

Big Bill was pitted against the same opponent he met in the quarter-final round of last year's tournament, Johnny Van Ryn.

In the upper half of the draw, nineteen-year-old Frank Shields opposed Gregory Mangin, twenty-two, and Sidney Wood, eighteen, clashed with Cliff Sutter, the twenty-year-old National Intercollegiate champion from New Orleans. COMEBACK GAVE UNITED STATES POLO VICTORY Serious Threat Made by British Four for Westchester Cup at Westbury, N.Y., Yesterday.

WESTBURY, N.Y., Sept. 11.—Great Britain's four today were acclaimed gallant losers of the International Polo series with the United States for the historic Westchester Cup, after dropping the second match yesterday by a score of fourteen goals to nine. The United States won the first match of the series on Saturday, ten goals to five.

Not since 1914 has a British team provided such a serious threat against the supremacy of the United States four. For the first five periods, 4,000 spectators sat stunned and amazed by the fury of the British attack, which kept them leading in a see-saw match. At the start of the sixth chukker, Great Britain led seven to six, but a four goal rally by their United States rivals sent them out in front, and at the end of the period they led by ten to seven.

An All-Weather Oil For All-Weather Lubrication

Waxfree Havoline circulates instantly in zero weather. And it holds its sturdy oily body at highest temperatures found on any bearing surface after your motor gets hot. It does this because it is wholly distilled and free from wax. Wax in oil congeals in cold weather, causing engine stiffness, hard starting, and excess battery wear—just as this same wax turns water-thin with motor heat and has no lubricating value.

Remember this fact: With the New Waxfree Havoline of the proper grade, your car will have the best possible lubrication in cold weather. It assures better engine protection. . . more power . . . greater mileage. . . less frequent crankcase drainings . . . at all speeds, at all temperatures.

WAXFREE

Wax turns candle-hard with cold. Wax turns water-tight with heat. Now, for the first time you can get a wax-free paraffin type oil for the best year-round lubrication.

... this quick, easy way

IT'S A SHAME to waste time and energy three times a day, when Rinso makes dishwashing so easy. Its rich, active suds cut the grease in a flash. A hot rinse—and your dishes dry bright and clear without wiping!

Rinso's suds are creamy and lasting even in the hardest water. Marvellous for pots, pans, tubs, basins and all cleaning. No grit. Economical, too—cup for cup it goes twice as far as light-weight, puffed-up soaps because it's granulated, compact.

DEATHS REPORTED

HERBERT NEWELL CAIRNS.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 11.—

Herbert Cairns, of Vancouver, B.C., formerly of Sawyerville, Que., died suddenly in New Westminster on Wednesday afternoon, July 30, the cause of death being angina pectoris, from which he suffered for many years.

The last twenty-six years of his life were spent in the West. For two years he was in Calgary in the employ of the Hudson's Bay Company. From there he moved to the Okanagan Valley, where for fifteen years he was closely connected with the commercial and fruit-growing interests in that district.

VANCOUVER MAN IN LONG SEARCH FOR FRANKLIN

Success of Major Burwash in Finding Two Camps of Arctic Explorer Credited to Studies of Vancouver Resident.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 11.—The Toronto Mail and Empire this morning publishes the following despatch from Vancouver, B. C.: "Major Burwash's success in finding the two Franklin camps is credited here to clues supplied by T. W. 'Judge' Jackson, a little white-haired resident of Vancouver. For more than sixty years Mr. Jackson has been interested in finding Franklin's grave. He has followed clues of elusive Eskimos, studied old charts, diaries and books, and with the help of George Jamme, a western mining engineer now living in Seattle, he felt sure he had obtained information which would lead to Franklin's tomb. 'After many years of effort, the Dominion Government became convinced of the plausibility of Mr. Jackson's conclusions. They acquired his documents, obtained all the necessary information and sent Major Burwash into the Arctic this summer. Burwash was instructed to go to King William Island, where Eskimos reported they saw 'The Great Chief' laid in a box with his books and papers and sealed in solid rock. 'It was in '83 or '84,' says Mr. Jackson, 'that I got a chance to get some first-hand information about the Franklin expedition. About the time of meeting in Ottawa of British Association for the Advancement of Science, Sir John Macdonald sent a party of distinguished visitors out to my farm in the west. Among them were Admiral Pym, on the orders of Queen Victoria, and the request of Emperor Nicholas of Russia, led the second Lady Franklin in expedition in search of the grave of Sir John. I talked with him about the expedition and as the years passed I talked with many others and heard many theories and some facts. 'But it was not until 1924 that I got some real information. My old friend, George Jamme, came to see me and he put me on the track of a real find. 'George had been many years in the far north, some of the time looking for tin on the Arctic coast. During these years he became familiar with Captain Bayne, a well-known navigator who had a wide experience. Bayne told him of meeting a band of Eskimos. One of them, a woman, said she and her tribe had watched the burial of the great chief Sir John Franklin. She explained how men had brought the body ashore from the ship in a coffin, made cement with powdered rock and tar and sealed the coffin in a rock. She remembered how the white men had placed papers in the coffin and she remembered the salutes of the guns of the Erebus. Terror Bayne was dead and it took a long time to get in touch with his son who stayed in the north country. 'Finally I got hold of Bayne's charts and plans and I believed they held the key to Sir John's resting place. 'I did not place any confidence in stories by living Eskimos about first-hand memories of the burial of Franklin. They would have to be one hundred years old and Eskimos do not live that long.'"

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh.

BROKERS' OPINIONS

Hornblower and Watson.—We feel that the important stocks in various departments of the list will continue to better their July and August prices. E. F. Hutton and Co.—The market gives indications that recent professional activities on the upside will be continued and probably enlarged upon in the next few days.

TOBACCO'S STILL LIKED

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Wall Street Mirror says today: The stock market once again has had to absorb profit-taking on a large scale. Furthermore it can be said that it has acted very well in the face of selling. Adverse news regarding dividends and earnings continues to make its appearance but it will be noticed that this news is being ignored for the reason that it has been thoroughly discounted. Further advance will be seen in the market and the current price level should be used for making purchases. There are some signs of public participation in the market. Rumors are once again being spread of a "bank merger." These who have been discussing such an occurrence declare it will have a stimulating effect on the market. Tobacco issues are still well liked in good quarters. American Tobacco Company is the prime favorite in this group but the others are also entitled to do better.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 11.—Fred Betts, local alderman and brother of Lieut.-Col. H. B. Betts, Canadian mining engineer of this city, who mysteriously disappeared from Calneva, Lake Tahoe, on July 7th, last year, stated last night he had received word from Reno, Nev., that a skeleton had been found in the heavy woodlands near there, which has been identified as that of his brother.

Hon. Peter Heenan, former Minister of Labor in the King Government, requested an assurance from the Government that there be no discrimination against unemployed men because of political affiliations. He declared there had been rotten politics played by the Ontario Government in the last election campaign, particularly in the northern part of the province.

GENERAL NOTES AND PERSONALS FROM KNOWLTON

Rev. B. S. Murray, B.A., Preached at Service in St. Paul's Parish—General Notes of Interest.

KNOWLTON, Que., Sept. 11.—Sunday last was observed in St. Paul's Parish, Knowlton, as "Harvest Sunday." Eager ladies spent many hours decorating the church. The color scheme was white with autumn flowers. Masses of these beautiful flowers were placed in the sanctuary and chancel together with an excellent display of vegetables, fruit and grain.

At 10.30 o'clock, Rev. Canon Rexford, M.A., LL.D., said morning prayer. The preacher was the Rev. B. S. Murray, M.A., who delivered a splendid sermon on "The Harvest Song." There is no real measure of nature, he said. She overbunds all our calculations and one cannot detect any exhaustion in her. Her creative activity is perpetual.

Special music was rendered by both choirs. A most generous thank-offering was received for the budget of the parish.

Recently Rev. B. S. Murray paid an eloquent tribute to Senator George B. Foster for his deep interest in St. Paul's. During the summer he was instrumental in painting the church. New steps have been completed at the rear door. New doors, also, are being given by the Senator. He has also initiated a movement to redecorate and repair the Bolton Glen church. It is a joy to his numerous friends to see the Senator recovering so splendidly.
