Hon. Lucien Cliche
Minister of Lands and Forests Pays First Visit To Pontiac

Impressed by Full Utilization of Pine At Boyle's Lumber Mill in Davidson

From the forest to finished lumber, Boyle's Mill at Davidson completes the process. Foreman Hermas Raymond explains some of the procedures. For complete picture story see pages 6 and 7. Equity Photo

In his official capacity as Minister of Lands and Forests for the Province of Quebec, the Hon. Lucien Cliche, with his secretary M. Gerald Coulombe, visited Davidson and Fort Coulonge last Saturday.

A part of the dream of a new Quebec is the establishment of manufacturing plants close to the raw materials of our great Province and the development of self contained villages on these manufacturing sites.

Davidson is a living example of this vision.

Fiddlers and Step Dancers

An open-air fiddling and step dancing contest on Friday night held hundreds of spectators enthralled in spite of the near-freezing weather. Nine fiddlers and 14 dancers kept many toes tapping in the large crowd facing the open stage.

Top fiddler was Jerry Lafleur of 545 Lisgar Street Ottawa, followed by Reg Workman of 2 Arbutus Street, Aylmer. Youngest fiddler was David Foran of Quyon who also appeared in the step-dancing contest. Other district fiddlers participating were Mike Parizeau of Aylmer and Dominic Curley of Quyon.

Once again Buster Brown of 176 Arlington Avenue won the honours in the step-dancing competition followed by Gilles Roy of Cumberland and Bobby Henry of Ottawa. Trophy for the youngest dancer went to Judy Ann Cooney of Quyon, and that for the best lady dancer to Mrs. Ronald Holt of 46 Main Street in Aylmer. Other district entrants were Diane and Claudette Lebrun of the Cedars Road in Ayl- Avenue, South Hull, and David Foran and Lorne Daley of Quymer, Bazil Alexander, 64 Vanier on.

A group of young square dancers under the direction of Ray Lavigne provided entertainment between events. Known as the Aylmer Square-Abouts, the youngsters went through a number of complicated changes, including a breakdown without benefit of calls. All in the 12-14 year age bracket the young people proved crowd pleasers and were called on for a number of encores. Equity photos of dancing and fiddling contestants will appear next week.

103rd Aylmer Fair Draws Biggest Participation Ever

After a very damp start, the 103rd annual Aylmer Fair finally got a break from the weatherman and Friday and Saturday crowds brought attendance to near-record levels. According to officials of the Gatineau County Agricultural Society, a break from the weatherman who drowned out Thursday's events with 2½ inches of wind-driven rain would have left no doubt that this fair was the most successful ever held. Saturday attendance figures were not yet available, but over 5,000 persons jammed the grounds on Friday to see the various exhibits, all of which were up about 10% in each class over previous figures.

In the various classes of Women's Institutes exhibits, The Wright W. I. topped the combined honors edging out the Aylmer W.I. by a narrow margin.

In home cooking, top individual honours went to Mrs. R. Binette of Aylmer who collected 24 firsts in various classes. Other major entries were Mrs. C. Mackenzie of Aylmer, Mrs. A. O. Routliffe, Mrs. L. Cadieux, and Miss V. Beaudry. Honour in the Church Group competition went to the Mountain View United Church.

As is traditional with the Aylmer Fair, Horse Show competitions drew some outstanding entries, with Sunset Farms collecting many of the individual honours. Also high on the winners lists were the Hurdman entries.

In the heavy horse drawing contests, Don McLaughlin of Venosta topped the 3200 and under class, followed by Stirling Laffin of Smith's Falls and James Barton of the Cantley district.

In the 3200 and over class, Irwin Stewart of Wakefield took top honors, followed by C. Green and Stirling Laffin.

The Poultry Division this year drew a record 900 entries. Dawson McMillan of Aylmer was awarded the trophy for best bird in the show. Other district winners were Mrs. Pat Graveline, M. T. Bennett, S. Shoulder, and L. Houle. Best group entry was that of Wm. Ayotte of Aylmer.

Prizes for the major draw held on Saturday evening went to Mrs. M. Normand, 38 Aylmer Boulevard, Aylmer, who won the hi-fi combination, while the portable TV set went to Mr. Fred Sangster of RR 2 Aylmer.

(from the Family Herald)

"A Landmark of many years, and once the centre of social life in the community, the old Redvale school has been demolished. Most of the original settlers who volunteered their labor to build it are gone now. Tony Elsworth, who served as foreman, was killed in the war. The Betts brothers moved to the U.S. in the depression . . . "

There is only one place you can read "news" like that — in the hometown weekly. It has a flavor all its own, impossible to imitate.

"The Martinuks are having fresh misfortunes this year, the culmination being the loss of their barn on Friday night. Last year persons unknown shot their purebred bull during the hunting season" Three weeks later, you read how the community put on a big dance and raffle, proceeds in aid of a new barn for the Martinuks. And though the local correspondent doesn't say so, chances are the Martinuks acquire faith for the future through the spontaneous sympathy of their neighbors — a sympathy so often brought into play by a little item in the District News.

"Local correspondents," as every smalltime newspaper publisher will tell you, are the backbone of such papers.

Some laugh at the role these "local correspondents" take .But many a family like the Martinuks got a helping hand precisely because of the way the story of their misfortunes was phrased. When the hometown paper carries news of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Watson and family moving onto the old Williams' farm, the people somehow feel as if the Watsons belong — and visitors start turning up the lane again. Even romance can be aided by the "news" — two weeks in advance! — that Miss Jean Wilkinson, whose family lived in the district for years, is returning for a week "to renew acquaintances". A boy who never realized how much he missed Jean till she was gone, is on hand to drive her around to see those old acquaintances — and it is not the local correspondent who exhibits surprise when the couple announce their engagement.

Reporters on big-time dailies shake their heads over the "news" as interpreted by the "country correspondents". Real news — the fact that the Smith boy broke into the poolhall, or that Jack Cassidy was slapped into the pokey for being drunk again — is not even mentioned.

After all, there are the boy's heartbroken parents to think of. As for Jack Cassidy, the fewer that know of his misfortunes, the better.

"We weren't pointing our fingers at Jack when he got the Military Medal at Ortona," the district correspondent informed me. "Who of us is to say what makes him drink now?"

Local correspondents are the unofficial judges of human nature — and the years generally make them gentle judges.

Their greatest tribute springs from the fact that even when people grow up and move far away, they still look forward each week to those few paragraphs of news from home — tender little tidbits, usually, gathered by the unpaid and oftentimes unknown "local correspondent".

(In Readers Digest of March 1962 the distinguished anthropologist Professor Loren Eiseley of University of Pennsylvania (and other parts) is featured in an article titled: "Our Path Leads Upward". The Digest summarizes the professor's outburst. I cut out his verbiage. What I have left is:

HOPEFUL EVOLUTIONIST

We humans sprang from reptiles (oh, so many years ago!);
Our reptiles sprang from unicells (more aeons than we know!);
Those unicells sprang up from dark eternity and so:
All sprang from where they were at first
(for they were there, you see!)
. . We sprang to where we are right now (from pool to cave to tree!).
We all spring on to somewhere else quite expeditiously . . .
It's in the book. Just give us time (ten billion years or more!)
We'll start again in some foul slime (on some stark barren shore!)
And spring and spring and spring as we have sprung in years of yore.

Grains of Sand

Lots of people noticed the misspelling on the road sign which renamed our town CHAWVILLE but only one reader discovered the mistake on page one of The Equity last week. We had it SAWVILLE! Well we do a lot of sawing here and in fact no one will deny we do a lot of chawing but let's get our heads together and try our darndest to spell it SHAWVILLE from now on.

* * *

We have heard from Bryson that it would be nice to hear more often from there. Well, we are more than willing to hear from Bryson.

* * *

The Agricultural Society secretary, Everett McDowell came in this morning to tell us the odds on winning the new car being raffled are very good because very few tickets have been sold.

* * *

Weighing 2½ lbs, measuring 13" around the waist and 18" around the other way, one large potato, accompanied by numerous others almost as big, were thrust under our noses by Mel Kehoe yesterday. No name brand was mentioned — just regular garden variety, says Mel.

As you pass through Aylmer this week ,do stop in at the Allied Food Market in the big shopping centre and let Mr. Gillis know you saw his advertisment in "The Equity". He has a free gift for you if you take in your copy of the ad.

Campbell's Bay

Hospital Auxiliary

The regular meeting of the Campbell's Bay Hospital Auxiliary met at the court house on Monday, Sept. 9.

The president opened the meeting with prayer. Secretary's report was read and adopted by the secretary and seconded by Mrs. Morris.

The treasurer reported $8.50 sold from hospital show case, collection $2.36, one toaster cover sold 75c, total on hand 11.61.

Central Board gave their report, plans were made for the Campbell's Bay Auxiliary to sell home cooking and other articles at the Shawville Fair on Saturday afternoon only. Several ladies were also asked to assist at the sale.

Mrs. MacDougall asked if each member would bring a dish cloth to next meeting as quantity on hand were very low at the hospital.

Mrs. W. Morris reported for Ways and Means stating that four pairs of booties, 2 bonnets, one baby sweater and a nightie had been brought in for the show case.

Rummage sale to be held in October was discussed and any donations of clothing would be much appreciated.

Moved by Mrs. E. M. Dagg and Mrs. R. Sparling that the candy be ordered to sell at the sale.

One card had been sent. A letter was read from Ottawa Valley Television, Pembroke asking for a few with talents to put on a program at a later date. It was left to a committee to make further plans. Door prize donated by Mrs. Flood was won by Mrs. E. B. Lunam.

Next meeting to be held one week early on October 7, due to Thanksgiving being on our regular date.

Refreshments for October are Mrs. E. Dagg and Mrs. Pearl Hayes. Miss Margaret Smith moved meeting adjourn.

"the lower end of the 'pike"

Directors of the Aylmer Fair deserve a good deal of credit this year for two remarkable improvements to the handling of the fair. First and most welcome is the new lighting system for the show-ring which has finally been completed. Total cost of the installation has run close to the $1800 mark. Another outstanding contribution was the provision of competent and courteous uniformed security-service men to direct traffic, parking, and generally keep things under control. One thing that could be improved is the system of informing the crowd of the results of the nightly attendance draw. The numbers are chalked up on a board and placed outside the door of the main office. Unfortunately, no PA system is used to let the crowd know that the draw is about to take place, and the numbers as posted, halfway down the steps of the office cannot be read unless you happen to have the temperament and the physique of a running fullback and are willing to force your way through the maze of people, guards, tables, etc. just by the gate. No attempt was made, at least on Saturday night, to call out the numbers, and no announcement of the eventual winner was forthcoming.

* * *

Hats off to the hard workers at the Anglican and United Church booths at the Fair who managed to provide excellent service, combined with good food and really HOT coffee, even though many of the workers were wearing snow boots and parkas.

* * *

It's truly amazing what an investment of a few cents in flypaper will do to keep a booth clean and inviting! There was a lot of scrubbing and painting went on — but to all the ladies and the men who helped so valiantly — the result was worth the effort!

* * *

There has been a controvery raging in Aylmer for some time now over the "Caution" lights mounted, but not working, near the Aylmer schools. As most people know, the responsibility for these lights rests with the Department of Highways, and not with any local body — and as the same sober citizens know, getting the provincial authorities to move on any given project, or request, takes time—sometimes far too much time! It's very easy to take a broad swipe at the local council for everything that isn't up to par, but it would take very little effort on the part of each individual concerned to sit down and WRITE to the Minister of Highways at Quebec requesting some quick action. Ministers of departments, as elected politicians, are very keenly sensitive [illegible] expression of opinion from [illegible]ers. Is a child's life worth a five cent stamp to YOU? Meanwhile, drive slowly near any school yard — and that covers the three entrances to Aylmer.

Quyon UCW

The September meeting of the Quyon U.C.W. was held in the Church Basement, Thursday evening September 5.

Mrs. Ronald MacKenchnie was in charge of the devotional period.

Eight members answered the roll call by naming a man from the Bible with the initial "J".

The minutes of the previous meeting we read and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Huckabone. The president would like a volunteer for Christian Education leader.

Mrs. Harper Young gave a reading on Christian stewartship and recruiting.

Next months Roll Call will be a donation to the work box as the box is almost empty.

Mrs. J Davis volunteered to clean the church for Sept.

Mrs. Harper Young reported Mr. Philips is going to look after the church grounds.

A supper was planned for Saturday evening. Oct. 26th in the church basement.

A motion was carried that the balance of our allocation be sent to missions.

Mrs. Gordon gave a very interesting account of her attendance at Summer School at MacDonald College.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Red Sox Edge Tigers

The Campbell's Bay Red Sox came out fighting last Sunday in Campbell's Bay and downed the Shawville Tigers 9-7 as they proved that they shouldn't be under estimated in this hard fought UOVBL final series.

The Red Sox jumped into an early 3-0 lead with the help of two Tiger errors, both with two out and they never trailed afterwards. Bob Lavigne collected 3 hits and Wally Morris and Joe Ranger each hammered out a pair in leading to the Tigers downfall.

The Tigers, led by Harvey Smith, Harvey Sweetman and Bill Murray each with 2 hits, managed 11 hits off of winning pitcher Delacy Sloan. Sloan also struck out 8 on route to the victory.

Glen Morrison started for the Tigers and was victim of some cloppy Tiger defence. He was releived by Harvey Sweetman who was tagged with the loss. Sweetman who was tagged with the loss, the winning run coming on another Tiger defensive lapse.

Next week the Tigers will return home for the third game of the best of five series and you can bet they will be much sharper. Game time 2 p.m.

The lumber mill at Davidson Visited by Provincial Minister

Tours The Mill

The visitors were flown into Pontiac County from their home in Abitibi by Davidson's own bush pilot, Jos. Bertrand. Their hosts, Mr. J. E. Boyle and Mr. Lorne Routcliffe, escorted them through the lumber mills accompanied by Mr. W. D. Moffatt, President of the E. B. Eddy Company, Eddy's Woodlands president, Mr. Allan Buell, Mr. Fournier M.P. of Gatineau, Wallace MacDonald of Chapeau and Mrs. David Dickson of The Equity.

Meets the Foremen

After the tour, the entire party enjoyed a reception and dinner at Labine's Hotel in Fort Coulonge along with Boyle's shopping superintendent Charlie Wakelam, planer mill foreman Hermas Raymond, Head mill wright, Ovila Boucher, Upper Coulonge bush foreman Milton Mousseau, Rabbit Lake Mill Foreman Ferdinand Mercier, pay master Ovide Belland, Assistant superintendent of shipping Rheal Labrecque, Mill superintendant Claude Marion, Inspector of Lands and Forests Lionel Sauriol and his assistant Eugene Marion, trucking president Jos. Laroche, Drive foreman and general inspector for Boyle's Mondoza Gervais, and E. B. Eddy check scaler Onesiphore Bertand. Milt Mousseau spoke the group's thanks to the Minister for his visit.

At Davidson the clean scent of fresh cut pine emphasized the fact that lumbering is the lifeblood of the village and the entire surrounding area. Close to the forests from which it feeds and to the river which provides transportation for its raw materials Boyle's gives employment to more men than any other operation in Pontiac County.

Red and white pine comes to the mill down the Coulonge River from the E. B. Eddy timber limits.

Nothing Wasted

An unique aspect of Boyle's mill is its 100% utilization of the raw material.

The cut-off from squaring the timbers is made into pickets which go to make window blind rollers; chips from the slabs and ends go to Thurso to be used in the sulphate process for pulp; wood flour is shipped for the manufacturing of linoleum, plastic wood & other specialties; strips are made into mouldings for the building trades.

The main volume of lumber produced at the rate of 95,000 board feet per day, is marketed half rough and half dressed. Northern New York State, and the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec are the main consumers but dressed lumber also goes to

Natural transportation

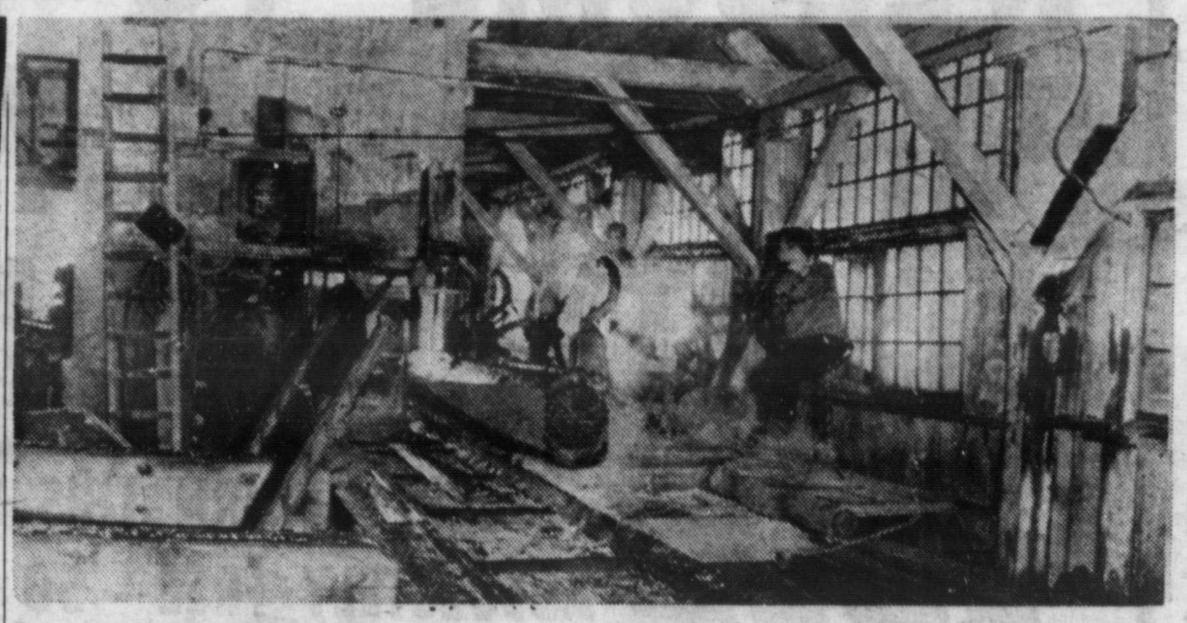
Our vital natural resouce, the versatile red and white pine, comes bobbing down the Coulonge towards the old covered bridge. A beloved landmark of the area, the bridge also serves as a useful gap where the logs are sorted according to their ownership and destination. On his trip to Davidson last week, Lands and Forests Minister Lucien Cliche flew over this natural transportation system as it winds through upper Pontiac. Equity Photo

Peeling

The big logs come in from the river covered with bark and the first milling process is the removal of this rough covering. Here the debarker doing its work.

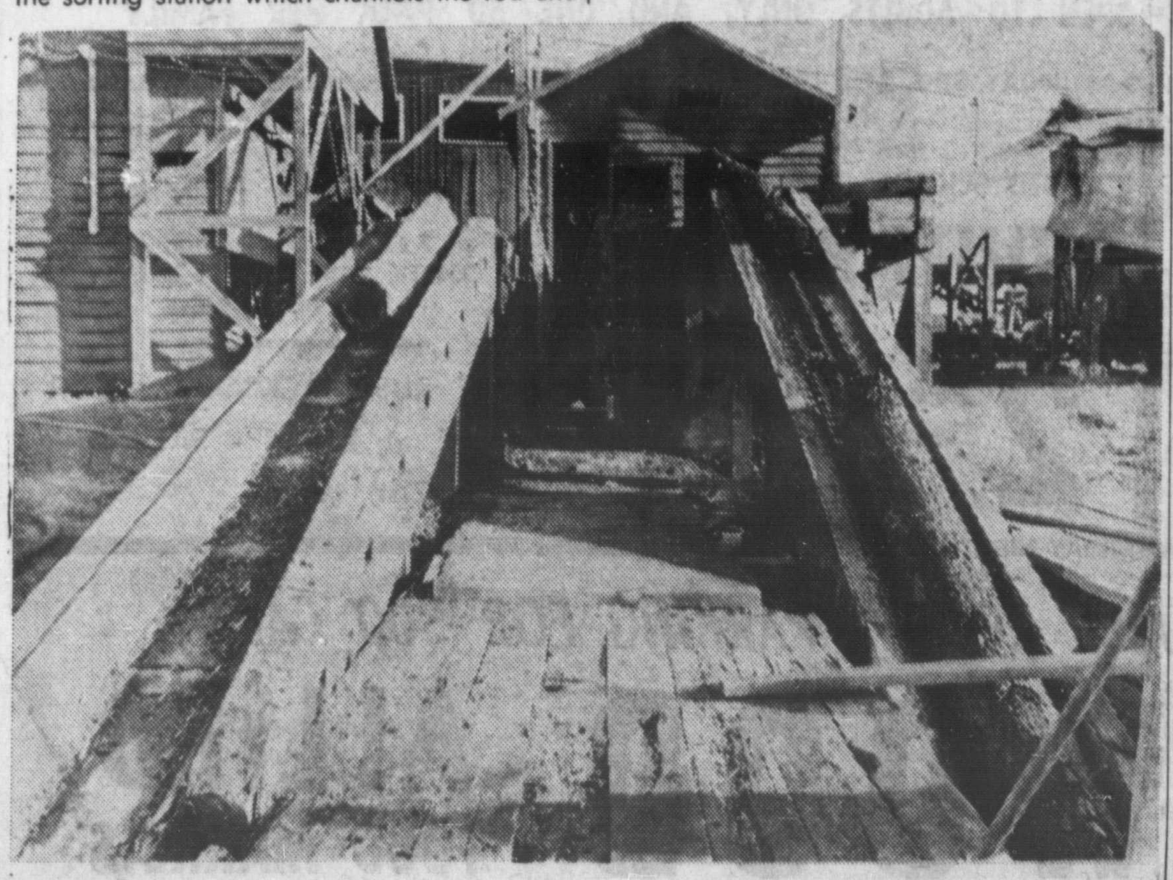
Gapping

Gappers check and pass the logs through the sorting station which channels the red and white pine into the mill at Davidson. Equity Photo



Squaring

After debarking, the logs are squared by being carried on giant carriages past the trimming saws. Equity Photo



The first process

Up dirty and down clean, the pine logs get their first manicure on this giant machine.

Sawing

Passing through a 14 blade gang saw, each log is cut into rough boards which are slid into a chemical bath to prevent staining. Equity Photo

Jamaica, Barbados and Trinidad while our good Pontiac milled pine in the rough goes to the United Kingdom where it holds its own in the highly competitive market which includes the best lumber of the Scandinavian countries and the USSR.

Jobs for 565

Boyle's mill employs 215 men in Davidson and 350 more in the bush and is responsible for whatever prosperity exists in the area.

Growing up around Boyle's is a bustling community where large families are able to satisfy their needs. Children can be educated up to and including the teachers college level right in Fort Coulonge. Three doctors serve the immediate community and the first rate Pontiac Community Hospital thirty miles away has a Quebec Certified Surgeon on its staff.

Churches and stores provide all family requirements and dance halls, hotels, theatres and skating rinks cater amply to their recreational needs.

Promised Return

Hints of Pontiac's autumnal radiance greeted the Minister as his plane set down on the waters of the beautiful Coulonge This was his first visit to Pontiac County but he promised to come back.

The people whom he met and came to know in Davidson will welcome Mr. Cliche's return any time. He became as one of them when he said at the luncheon that he believed it important that our Quebec wood should be manufactured in Quebec and that he was impressed with the size of the plant at Davidson and its importance to the district. He remarked on the total use of the raw materials at Boyle's and appeared to be as we all are, proud of "les richesses de Québec."

Picket making

Some of their best "men" are girls! Sorting pickets for the manufacture of window blind rollers are Mrs. Dagenais and Cecile Amyotte. The noise in the mill was so great that we couldn't catch the names of some of the workers pictured. Equity Photo

Stacked on company grounds on both sides of Davidon's main street, the lumber is cured for shipment to far away places, by truck, by rail and by boat out of Montreal. Clarendon W. I.

Mrs. Vincent Hodgins read a very appropriate article on the motto, "There is no excellence in anything without great labor" at the September meeting of the Clarendon W. I. held at the home of Mrs. James Tracy with Mrs. Conolly and Mrs. Neil Sly assistant hostesses. There was a good attendance of members, two visitors also one was Mrs. Chris Caldwell, formerly Miss Florence McJanet, Yarm, now living in Alberni, B. C.

Correspondence included letter of thanks from Ade Memorial Hospital for donation of dish towels.

Report from hospital convenors told of plans to hold a food sale during Friday and Saturday afternoons of Shawville Fair to raise funds for our hospital and asked for donations to help in this project. Members also paid the assessed dollar donation towards county funds instead of having tea room during the fair.

Receipts from sale of tickets on W. I. quilt were also given to Mrs. Cameron, treasurer, and final plans made for arranging branch display at Shawville Fair.

In response to letter from Brookdale Farm a donation was given to assist in its work.

Being education meeting the program was in charge of the convenor Mrs. Conolly who read extracts from early history of our county, mail carriers and postal customers. Letters mailed from Ireland to Canada over a hundred years ago, before use of postage stamps, were shown. Writing still is quite legible. Two contests were conducted and prizes went to Mrs. John Beattie and Mrs. A. Dagg.

During supper hour Mrs. Caldwell recited a poem she had composed on last Federal election. Refreshments were served by hostess assisted by Miss Jean Tracy.

Quyon W. I.

The September meeting of the Quyon W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. E. N. McColl with Mrs. Clarke presiding.

It was decided that members should bring to the next meeting a list of good used books which might be suitable for the Used Books Project.

Mrs. Fraser is to convene the booth at the school fair. It was decided to obtain all our supplies from one store each year.

The convenor of home economics, Mrs. Fraser, read an article "From Lamb to Loom" tracing the use of wool from shearing to weaving, all on one farm.

The October meeting is to be held on the third Monday in October in the council room. Ladies from other organizations are asked to attend in order to form a local Cancer Society.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. McColl, Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Burke.
