

EIGHTY-EIGHTH YEAR No. 152.

MONTREAL DAILY HERALD, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1895.

MR. MARTIN REPLIES TO MR. OUMET.

THE MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION
EASY OF SOLUTION.

IF THE MINISTER'S STATEMENT IS QUITE CORRECT.

ARE THE FRENCH MEMBERS PRE PARING FOR A BACKDOWN?

A New Phase of the Difficulty—An Interesting Addition to the Literature on the Subject—In the Senate.

Special to the Herald.
Ottawa, June 25.—The gravity of the political situation here is shown in the variety of remedies which are being suggested by the leading organs of the Government, some of which are controlled by members of parliament who are in the confidence of the Government, and consequently know of what they write.

Of all the different suggestions which are in this way given so as to secure a possible escape for the Government from the dilemma in which it is placed, the idea of introducing a remedial bill is not mentioned or thought of. Some suggest a private member dealing with the matter so as to evade the Government's responsibility; others suggest a commission, but all the Government advisers are seemingly agreed that remedial legislation, after the protest which has been made so successfully by the English-speaking Tories, is out of the question.

This being the case, it is now said that the Government will introduce some kind of a bill which everybody can vote for. In this way it is thought they have accomplished their duty. The Remedial Order is to be discarded and something of a very general character, which even Controller Wallace can approve of will be furnished in its place.

The interview with Hon. J. A. Oumet which has appeared in the press was specially prepared to satisfy the Hagart-Wallace-Woodring-Woodring-Woodring Cabinet and to prepare Quebec for the back down. Mr. Oumet is understood to have given the interview under instructions.

Joseph Martin, M.P., the author of the original Manitoba school bill, has addressed the following letter to the editor of the Citizen here in connection with this interview:

"I notice in your issue of to-day an interview with the Hon. Mr. Oumet, from which the following is an extract: 'However, it would be idle to discuss that now, as no legislation has been asked by the Catholics of Manitoba giving them the right to share in the funds provided for education by the Government or by the local authorities if their schools are not up to secular teaching to the public schools in the province. All they ask is to be at liberty to add to the secular education required in the public schools such religious teaching as will meet their religious views. I may say that if that had been provided for in the legislation of 1890 we would never have heard of the Manitoba school question.'"

"There has been all along a very serious misunderstanding between the Catholic Church and the Government of Manitoba if the above is an accurate statement of the position of the Church. I suppose, however, that we must take for granted that Col. Oumet is in a position to formulate the wishes of the Roman Catholics in connection with this question. If so, then I may say at once that there is no need of any remedial legislation in order to bring about a state of affairs which I believe the people of Manitoba will be willing to give to the Roman Catholics all that is asked for."

Everybody wishes that a solution of the question may be found without any action on the part of the Government Parliament, and if the demands of the minority are correctly expressed by the Minister, I am very much at sea in my attempts to find a way out of the Manitoba problem if they will not bring about of their own accord all that is asked for.

When I introduced the School Bill of 1891 I pointed out that in so far as it provided for religious exercises in the schools it was in my opinion defective.
I am one of those who deny the right of the state to interfere in any respect with the religious exercises of the people. I still think that the clause of the act which provides for certain religious exercises is most unjust to Roman Catholics. If the state is to recognize religion in its school legislation, such a recognition as is acceptable to Protestants only and, in fact, only to a majority of Protestants is, to my mind, rank tyranny. The desire of those with whom I think in this matter is to eliminate every question of religious teaching from the school laws and to make the schools purely secular. This has not been done in Manitoba.

That course is apparently not supported by a majority of the people there.
That being so, surely it will be admitted that the nature of the religious exercises or religious teaching (I am unable to make any clear distinction between the two) should be such as is agreeable to the conscience of the majority of the people who support the schools.

I have sufficient faith in the liberality of the Manitoba people to declare on their behalf that if a final settlement of this question can be reached upon the lines suggested by Col. Oumet, they will do their part. What Manitoba has insisted upon is that the Roman Catholics shall not have a system of separate schools such as existed prior to 1890, which were exempt from the general laws as to efficiency. If the Roman Catholics are willing to accept the schools as they exist at present, and as they may be from time to time, and with the addition of such religious teaching as they may desire, then there should be no am sure would be no difficulties question without any legislation on the part of the Dominion Parliament."

DISCUSSION IN THE SENATE.
The charges of inefficiency made against the separate schools of Manitoba were replied to by Senator Bernier in a speech lasting three hours in the Senate to-day. The Senator from St. Boniface brought the matter up on a motion for returns of all correspondence and petitions received by the Dominion Government in reference to the working of the educational system in Manitoba prior to the passage of the School Acts of 1890. The passage of the School Acts had been seized and a United States marshal placed in charge. John Ridez, a sailor, brought suit in the United States District Court for $50,000 damages for personal injuries sustained under the direction of the Andrina's master, Benjamin E. Smith.

the public platform by Attorney-General Sifton and others. The new ground taken by the Manitoba Government in its refusal to obey the Remedial Order involved serious charges against the system of education in the Roman Catholic schools which were never heard of before the Acts of 1890 were passed.
The Roman Catholics, he said, were not given any alternative to improve their schools or to lose them and he maintained that the acts of 1890 were not designed to improve the educational system, but to destroy the system of separate schools in the province. He quoted from the public utterances of Hugh John Macdonald and a Protestant newspaper published in Montreal, Man., to show that the acts of 1890 were passed with brutal ruthlessness, and designed as acts of political vengeance. He made a strong defence of the old schools.
He strongly impressed upon the Government that the question now was not one of political expediency, but a simple question of right. He appealed to the Protestant and Catholic majorities in all the provinces to grant the small minority in Manitoba the rights awarded them under the judgment of the highest tribunal in the British Empire. The idea of having an investigation now, he said, was only an afterthought designed to delay the settlement of the question. The Roman Catholics of Manitoba had suffered injustice too long already to be again put to the test. The enforcement of the judgment of the Privy Council, promulgated by the Premier in the opening days of this session.

Senator Angers, after congratulating the hon. gentleman for his able and exhaustive exposition of the case said that he was not aware that the Government had any correspondence on the subject of 1890, but if any existed it would be brought down.

The French Opera.
The French Opera Company is making rapid progress in the arrangements for next season. Manager D'Almeida writes from France that he is drawing together a first-class company. Among the productions will be Les Pecheurs de Perles, La Dame Blanche, Zampa, Mireille, Le Pardon de Dieppe, L'Esclavage, La Muette de Portici, Romeo et Juliette, Manon, Galathée, Lakmé, Le Cheval de bronze, Hernani, Don Pasqual, Le Pre-aux Clercs, Le Barbier de Seville, Les Noces de Saint-Jean, Les Femmes de Corneille, St. J'etais roi, Mignon, Martha, La Favorite, Hamlet, La Traviata, La Jolie fille de Perth, Lucie de Lammermoor, Pique, Rigoletto, Le Postillon de Longjumeau, La Vie du regiment, L'Attaque du Moulin, Le Trouverie, Les Mousquetaires de la Reine, Troubadour, Haydee.

R. and O. Moonlight Excursion.
The first of the series of bi-weekly moonlight excursions on the beautiful steamer Columbian, of the R. & O. Company, took place last night. It met all the expectations of the directors, and secured a good attendance, consisting mainly of the principal people in the city. The City Harmony Band, under the skilful leadership of Mr. Maurice Perrault, played itself in fine style, contributing to the enjoyment of the evening.
Interpersed with instrumental selections were a number of songs rendered by singers of repute. Refreshments were supplied by Dixon, the well-known caterer, in first-class style, and at city prices. The boat started at 7.45, went as far as Boucherville, and returned at 11.15. The excursion was a success, and return will be regularly adhered to by the management, so that the patrons of these excursions may know when to order their carriages. The next excursion will be Friday evening.

Coal Contracts Awarded.
The Water Committee met yesterday afternoon. It was decided to remove the fountain now in Dalhousie Square to Bellevue Park. Contracts for coal were awarded as follows: 120 tons of hard divided amongst the following at $5.50 a ton: A. T. Barlow, two-sevenths; W. F. Torrance, D.
Whelan, Laurence, Gosselin & Co., Evans Bros., and De Witt, one-seventh each. Cohen & Son got the contract for 1900 tons of steam coal at $3.55, and 800 tons of Welsh at $5.35.

The question of the discharge of Private Secombe was brought up by Chairman Costigan, and after a long conversation a sub-committee composed of Chairman Costigan and Ald. Beausolaire and Proulx was appointed to examine Mr. Secombe's case, and to pronounce an opinion as to Mr. Hebert's qualifications to discharge the duties of the position which he has held for over a year.

Also Speaks.

(Special to the Herald.)
Ottawa, June 25.—Lost, strayed or stolen, the Canadian Cabinet. There was a mild form of crisis in the House when it met fifteen minutes late this afternoon. The three outside members of the Government were in their places, but not a Minister was visible. The members of the Opposition were very jocular over the empty front benches, and even the Tories saw the joke.

There was a dead-lock, for as it was Government day, some member of the Cabinet was needed to act as leader of the House, and the Speaker called over the items of routine with unnecessary slowness to kill time. After ten minutes the Hon. John Haggart turned up smiling,
"Are you all that is left?" asked Dr.
Landerkin in his blundering manner.

Mr. Oumet appeared a few minutes later, and was met with numerous questions and suggestions about "strike," "fights" and remedial legislation. Some one said that the Government was "striking" the "Manitoba twins," although they are bitterly opposed to each other. Mr. Foster entered the House at 3.30 o'clock, and the other Ministers dropped in one by one.

Hon. David Mills brought up the increased expenditure of the country on the motion to go into supply by moving in amendment that these words be substituted for the motion: "This bill is intended to provide for the increased expenditure which since 1890 the public expenditure has increased, and is increasing, and ought to be diminished." The hon. member pointed out that in the last fifteen years the expenditure has grown out of all proportion to the growth of the country. He quoted the well-known figures showing the rapid increase of the public debt, the charges of management, public expenditure and civil government, there being all round an increase of about 75 per cent. since 1890, a percentage vastly in excess of the increase in population.
The expenses of civil government in 1893 were $383,655, which was reduced by $60,000 during the five years of the Reform administration, but quickly rose to $1,040,000 in 1893 and $1,040,000 in 1893, while $1,449,000 is asked for next year. Mr.
Mills went into the expenditure of the several departments, giving the increases in the number of clerks as compared with 1878, increases which he did not consider justified by the amount of work to be done. The cost of administering the Indian Department in the Northwest was six and seven times the amount administered to the Indians. Incidentally he condemned the Government for establishing industrial schools at a large cost to Bellevue Park.

Under the fostering care of the hordes of Government officials the 23,000 Indians in Manitoba and the Northwest last year raised 7,700 bushels of wheat and 1,700 bushels of oats. The wheat requires an expenditure of eighty cents. The average earnings of an Indian amount to thirty cents a month, or $3.60 a year. Returns showed that by giving the Indians a gun and some porter and shot they could make $6 a month by trapping and shooting.

Mr. Daly undertook to deal with the figures produced by Mr. Mills, and defied anyone to conduct the department concealer. He said that the duty of the Government was not only to pay treaty money, but to teach the tribes agriculture. The hon. gentleman, however, ignored the great excess in the cost of the military and education departments, and the enormous expenditure on the reserve commission and surveys. He claimed that the percentage is now 32.75, as compared with $5.30 in 1878. The increase in the aggregate expenditure was due to the education policy of the Government, which believed it to be its duty to educate and elevate the Indians to the standard of their white neighbors. He predicted a bill of costs for breakfast some morning if there was any reduction in the expenditure on Indians or mounted police.
The House was tested to an Indian report on a small scale and was asked to decide whether the member from Bothwell had only directed his charge against one department. The Mackenzie Government had efficiently administered the Militia Department for $185,000, which last year was $1,285,000. Of the force, Col. R. H. Davis lately said in Toronto:
"We have no force fit to take the field for organization for a campaign, nor stores to supply it. Darkness and ignorance, or worse, have prevailed for many years and the country should know that the militia is not only disorganized but demoralized. The Military Gazette has stated that ignorance, incapacity and systematic neglect were the prominent characteristics of the department. The contingent expenditure in 1878 was $6,000,000, while last year it was $18,000,000.
The expenses of the collection of revenue increased 72 per cent. Millions had been spent blunderingly and corruptly." Among such amounts Dr. Macdonald mentioned Ouderdonk's $209,000, John Shield's $365,000 and the Langwin
Block, Curran Bridge, Tay Canal, Skeels
Island Dam and other scandals.

The Government put up no one to reply and a division was at once taken, resulting in the defeat of the amendment by 57 to 87.

In supply the votes for legislation amounting to $396,355 were passed without discussion. On the vote for the archives Mr. Flint enquired if anything had been discovered of the lost Confederation documents, and Mr. Mills asked if the journals of the Prohibitory Brothers, who made a trip into the Northwest last century, were among the archives. Dr.
Montague was not prepared at the moment to answer.

The Government asks for $4,000 for publishing the year book, an increase of $300 being asked for the purpose of publishing extra copies. The Liberals demanded that the practice of making the book a campaign document by the introduction between the tables of argumentative explanations favoring the National Policy.

The House adjourned at 12.45 a.m.

SESSIONAL NOTES.
The draft bill of the North Pacific seal fisheries introduced in the Imperial Parliament has been submitted to the Dominion Government. In two respects it is understood that the bill is very objectionable. The one is that it empowers Russian vessels to search Canadiana, and the other is that it exacts the extreme penalty of the forfeiture of the ship and equipments for infringement of the regulations.

In the Senate this afternoon upon the consideration of the report of the Banking and Currency Committee a bill incorporating the Bankers' Life Association, Senator Angers thought the name misled, and if no other could be found, suggested the Bankers' Bankers' Association.

Senator Loughheed, who had charge of the bill, objected to such strictures being made upon a bill promoted by respectable citizens by a Minister of the Crown. He asked the Senator to withdraw his objection until to-morrow, when he would be prepared to show that companies bearing a similar name were doing business in the United States and Great Britain.

The following replies have been received by the Agricultural Committee in regard to Mr. McLennan's bill for the branding of cheese: Ontario sends in 345 replies, 261 in favor of compulsory branding, 83 say nay, and 8 to a retailer.
Quebec has returned in all 430 replies.
Of these 409 are for compulsory branding with date of make, 11 are against and 10 are doubtful.

SALISBURY ACCEPTS.

NAMES OF HIS NEW MINISTERS
SUBMITTED TO THE QUEEN.

BALFOUR AND CHAMBERLAIN HAVE PROMINENT POSITIONS.

Irish Leaders Express Their Opinions
Regarding the Coming Elections.

London, June 25.—After a conference to-day with the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, the Duke of Devonshire, the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and others, the Marquis of Salisbury started for Windsor, where it is expected he will submit to the Queen the names of the new Cabinet Ministers.

London, June 25.—Herbert Gladstone this morning stated definitely that his father would take no further part in public life. Mr. Gladstone dined with Lord Rosebery, the retiring Premier, last evening.

It is officially announced that the Marquis of Salisbury will be Premier and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs; the Duke of Devonshire, President of the Council; Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury; Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies; Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Right Hon.
Geo. J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admirality. The other members of the Government have not yet been fixed upon.

Mr. John Redmond, the Parnellite leader, member of the House of Commons and of the House of Lords, has stated the intention of the members of his party to contest every seat in Ireland at the coming general election.

IRISH LEADERS SPEAK.

London, June 25.—Justin McCarthy has issued a manifesto to the people of Ireland stating that the defeat of the Government has placed Ireland in a position enemies in office. "For a brief space before the elections," the manifesto says,
"Downing Street and Dublin Castle would be occupied by men pledged to the policy of coercion in Ireland. This dis-eat was compassed by the factionists, who still divide Ireland and buy the votes of the Chamberlains, the Russells and other false friends of land reform." Advocating the continuance of the alliance with the Liberal party as Ireland's only hope of redress, the manifesto appeals earnestly to Irishmen at home and abroad for funds with which to fight the enemies in the coming election campaign.

In an interview John Redmond said that it seemed probable that the election would result in the defeat of the Liberal party. The Parnellites had invited the Government to dissolve Parliament when the Liberal party was united. Mr. Gladstone gave the same advice and the (Gladstone) Irish in a position to assume positively that Mr. Gladstone resigned because the Cabinet rejected his advice. If the Government had dissolved Parliament then the Liberals would have carried the country on the Home Rule policy. They now go to the country without a policy, without a leader, beaten, discredited and disheartened. He did not expect that the Tory Government would be under any degree of pressure to pass the Irish Land Bill through the House of Lords, and they were likely to do so quickly and to provide more money for the purchase of the land by the Irish. He was not sure that Home Rule would not eventually be dealt with by the Conservatives. The political prisoners could not be worse off under a Tory Government than they were under Mr. Asquith, the retiring Home Secretary.

OTTAWA ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

A Profitable Year—Annual Meeting—
Election of Officers.

Ottawa, June 25.—The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Ottawa Electric Railway Co. took place yesterday afternoon in the company's office on Albert Street, Mr. J. W. McKee in the chair.

The annual report of the directors was submitted by the president. It gave the following statistics:
Gross receipts, $193,991.56.
Net profit, $71,855.63.
Number of miles run, 1,171,849.
Number of passengers carried, 4,119,084.

A comparative statement of the number of passengers carried since the railway started was submitted. It showed great increases every year. During the 11 months, ending May 31st, 1892, 1,530,405 were carried; during the year ending May 31st, 1893, 2,824,594 were carried, and during the year ending May 31st 1894, 2,797,231. As will be seen, the increase for the past year over the previous year is over 1,500,000.

The dividend of the amount of 8 per cent.
had been declared, and the sum of $41,641.55 had been carried forward to the credit of the profit and loss account.
The dividend was not paid, as the company is not yet ready to pay it. It is composed as follows: J. W. McKee, W. Y. Soper, Thos. Ahearn, G.
P. Brophy, J. Whelan, Wm. Scott, Thos.
Workman.

Mr. J. D. Fraser was reappointed secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Redmond Quinn, auditor.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

W.S. BROWN FOUND UNCONSCIOUS AT HIS HOTEL.

Doctor's Attention Failed to Restore Him and He Died.

Death under remarkable circumstances came to W. S. Brown at the Notre Dame Hotel at an early hour yesterday. Brown came to Montreal about eight years ago and made many friends here. He worked for some time for the Montreal Cigar Company, but always had a penchant for drug stores; as a matter of fact, so intimate was he with the proprietors and clerks of several stores that he frequently spent an hour behind the counters. Monday morning he went to the Springfield House, Chabot square, and took a room; then he commenced drinking, and about three in the afternoon went to McGeale's drug store on Notre Dame west. When Mr. McGeale came in he saw that Brown had been drinking, and sent him to the hotel. Brown staggered upstairs, and when called at 7 o'clock gave no answer. The door was finally opened, and he was found on the bed in an unconscious condition.

There were evident signs of his having taken an opiate, but no bottle was found. After working with him for two hours the doctor advised his removal to the Notre Dame Hospital, where everything possible was done to save his life, but without avail; he died yesterday, never having recovered consciousness.

Brown made several conflicting statements as to his arrival in Montreal, his mission, etc. He had a return ticket to Boston and a few dollars in his pocket.

MOUNT ST. LOUIS EXHIBITION.

It was asserted by a French local journal recently that the pupils of Mount St. Louis and other similar colleges were over-dressed and had not enough time to devote to their studies. That Mount St. Louis gives a thoroughly good education could not be doubted by anyone who was present at the opening exhibition of specimens of the pupils' work yesterday. As the examinations for the term are all finished the prize results were placed on exhibition by the management, as is customary. These productions include samples of writing, engraving, bookkeeping, etc. Many excellent paintings and drawings are shown, some of which won prizes at the World's Fair in Chicago. An exceedingly interesting piece of work is a painting by a pupil of the Institute at the time of the fire two years ago.

A large number of people, including parents of many of the children, visited the school yesterday. The exhibit is on view to-day in one of the large rooms of the building.

Didn't Hope to Better Herself.

"Please, ma'am," said the cook, "I'd like to give you a week's notice."

"Why, Mary, this is a great surprise. Do you hope to better yourself?"

"Well, no, not exactly that," answered Mary, with a blush. "I'm going to get married."—Christian Register.

Not Exempt From Taxation.

Judge Archibald gave judgment in the Enquete and Merits Court yesterday in the case of the city versus Stewart & Bebert in favor of the plaintiffs according to the decision of the Enquete was taken by the city on the following grounds: Messrs. Stewart & Bebert, bakers, of Cote St. Louis, which was incorporated in the city, claimed that being an industrial establishment they were, in accordance with the by-laws of the municipality, exempt from taxation. However, the city took action for $211 and costs, contending that they, the defendants, had not complied with the provisions of the municipal by-laws and were consequently liable to taxation. His Honor gave judgment dismissing the pleas of defendants and condemning them to pay their taxes.

Lost His Rail.

The case of the Queen versus Matthews came before Judge Archibald yesterday in the Enquete and Merits Court. Matthews, proprietor of the gambling establishment on St. Lawrence Street, which was raided last year, Matthews claimed that he was ordered to appear on his bonds in the Court of Queen's Bench at 10 a.m. He was present, but the case was not called till 11 a.m., after he had left the court room. He was condemned by the Prothonotary to pay his bonds, $500 personal and $500 each for Andrew Maloney and James Crowley. He appealed from the judgment on the grounds stated, but the court held that the contention of his being on hand at 10 a.m. and leaving immediately after was not sufficient, and the Prothonotary's decision was upheld.

BREVITIES.

City Clerk David has not yet received a reply from the Montreal Gas Company to the offer made to it by the City Council.

"TED" EMERY GONE.

The Queen's "Organization of Unusual Strength" Stranded.

Edward (the affable "Ted") Emery is missing, and his company, his "organization of unusual strength," which appeared at the Queen's Theatre for one week instead of ten, is stranded—stranded as high, dry and helpless as any ship thrown on rugged rocks.

Emery knew of the disastrous failures of summer companies at the Queen's, yet he again tempted fate and, evidently without a dollar's worth of backing, brought fourteen people from New York to Montreal.

They opened last week in "The Magistrate," but box office receipts were decidedly small. What little share there was due the company after preferred claims had been paid was handed over to Emery. On Saturday afternoon he appeared as usual, but when his dressing-room at the Queen's remained unoccupied up to the hour for the curtain to ring up a strange uneasiness came over the company. The uneasiness grew into fear and the fear was not without cause.

Emery had gone. There was no doubt of that, so they did the next best thing: twisted up the parts and played without him. On Sunday it was decided to close up and realize, and so Montreal has another forsaken company, including the wife of the skipped-out manager.

There is a general impression that Emery left on Saturday night for Quebec and boarded the Parisian en route to England.

BOYD AND COMPANY.

Pay a First Dividend of Twelve Per Cent.

(Special. One Cent a Word.)

Huntingdon, Que., June 25.—The insolvent firm of Boyd & Co., iron workers, have declared through the Liquidator a first dividend of twelve per cent. This firm, it will be remembered, was involved in the collapse of the Boreaux and went down with the crash of 1894.

TOURISTS' BICYCLES FREE.

May Bring Their Wheels Into Canada Without Paying Duty.

Ottawa, June 25.—Tourists who bring their bicycles with them to Canada have hitherto experienced a great deal of trouble with the customs officials. The Customs Department has finally determined that tourists' bicycles are to be admitted free. The collectors are required to receive from the riders an affidavit to the effect that the machine is the personal property of the rider, and not brought into Canada for the purpose of sale, and that it is necessary for the journey which he contemplates. Furthermore, the tourist must state the date and the place at which he proposes to export the machine. The collector must take an accurate description of every bicycle so imported, together with the name of the maker and the number of the wheel.

AN ANARCHIST'S SUICIDE.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 25.—Anton Metzger, a reputed Anarchist of Allegheny, committed suicide by placing a bomb in his car and then touching it off. The whole side of his head was blown off. He was 81 years old.

THE SUICIDE'S DEVALUATIONS.

Butte, Mont., June 25.—The experts have concluded the examination of the accounts of the late city treasurer, Jacobs, who committed suicide several weeks ago. His devaluations amount to $20,519. His bondsmen will make good the loss.

SQUATTERS TOLD TO QUIET.

Ottawa, June 25.—The squatters on the Rideau Canal reserve between Theodore Street and the deep cut have received information from the Government to vacate their buildings forthwith in view of the central depot works. Litigation is being talked of by some of the squatters who are under the impression that their long residence on the lands gives them a right of ownership.

DIED ALONE IN THE WOODS.

Gravenhurst, Ont., June 25.—The badly decomposed body of a young man was found Sunday afternoon by some boys in the woods beside the Big Lake road, about two miles from this town, which proved to be the remains of John Caké, aged 19 years. Caké had been working at R. O. Miller's mill, and upon leaving sick last Tuesday afternoon went to Gravenhurst. His friends here thought him still at the mill, and he had not been missed. It is supposed that he was seized with fatal illness on the road and was not able to get help. He had probably been dead for several days.

A New Clue.

Detective Carpenter and Crown Prosecutor Quinn have discovered some startling facts in connection with the St. Henri murder case, and leave to-night for the country to investigate the clue.

Shall we ever be able to fly?—It is now affirmed that a Russian scientist has at length discovered the secret of aerial navigation—a secret which whole generations of engineers have sought for in vain. If the problem has really been solved science has, indeed, won a mighty triumph. Such a discovery would tend to change the whole character of man. And yet, if we are to judge a discovery by its probable beneficial influence upon mankind, this cannot be compared to the discovery of the now world-famed remedies—Holloway's Pills and Ointment—which have relieved the sufferings of millions of human beings, and have brought back joy and happiness to thousands of stricken homes.

THE SATURDAY HALF HOLIDAY.

Probably Montreal's great army of wage earners, pleasure seekers, who each Saturday afternoon during the warm months tie themselves to the Mountain, St. Helen's Island, the Back River or the many other inviting retreats of convalescent rest, will begin to agitate for the Saturday closing of the large establishments. But Mr. Perrault was not thinking of our enjoyment at the time of the departure in favor of a Saturday half holiday. It was the time of the Trent affair and war between England and the United States seemed imminent. The Victoria Rifles, to which Mr. Perrault belonged, was the leading military organization of Montreal. There was no fixed time allotted the regiment for drilling, and it was in order to provide for this contingency that the idea of the Saturday afternoon suggested itself.

The movement was opposed by the French merchants and tradesmen and by English firms of the East Side between Custom House Square and St. Sulpice Street. The firm of Stirling, McCall and Co. was the first in Montreal to close its shutters on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Within a couple of weeks the custom had become general in Montreal. The original Saturday half holiday did not embrace the six consecutive summer months as at present, but simply three months during the two dull seasons.

Montreal was the first city in the Dominion to establish this popular custom. Quebec followed the example fifteen years ago. So after all, the afternoon of the week that we look forward to with such longing was really not instituted for our own exclusive pleasure, although we have benefited most directly by its results. But that circumstance need not mar the interest of a lacrosse match, or diminish the delights of a sail on the river, or any other pleasure that we may have planned for ourselves.

Scotch Capital Seeking Investment.

A party of Scotch capitalists consisting of George M. Low, general manager of the Edinburgh Life Insurance Co., J. Howden, and John Bod, directors of the same company, are at the Windsor. They are making a tour of Canada with a view to making investments and have letters of introduction to Lord Aberdeen and many other prominent people.

GRATIFYING INTELLIGENCE.

Word Received of the Complete Recovery of Mrs. John Dowly.

Owen Sound, June 24.—Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well-known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received, as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint, and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dr. Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to most of the residents in this locality, as having previously effected some very extraordinary cures.

MONTREAL, JUNE 26.

SUGGESTIONS FOR AN ESCAPE.

The floundering of the Government in the pit which it has dugged for itself on the school question, is well indicated by a leading article in the Gazette of yesterday, in which certain methods of escape are suggested. The article is, no doubt, designed as a feeler.

First, the Gazette wants action postponed. The longer this can be done the longer will the members of the Government revel in their luxurious offices; and having for four years kept the question in a condition that permitted wholesale lying about their intentions they imagine that this can be done a little longer, though the plunge must be made some day. The Gazette, therefore, wants the issuance of a commission for an "investigation into the actual state of education in Manitoba as it affects the minority."

In the second place the Gazette makes, or rather revives, the proposition that the Government should throw the question into the House of Commons, making it open for each member to vote on it irrespective of party policy. The idea is that a private member should introduce remedial legislation, for which some members of the Government will vote, while others will oppose it; and thus, whatever the outcome, the Government, as a Government, will not be responsible. The Gazette says:

Nor does the constitution seem to require in any way that the subject should be one of Ministerial responsibility in the ordinary interpretation and application of that term. At any rate, it has not so been regarded in the past in connection with cognate subjects. At one stage of the New Brunswick school case, for instance, namely on May 14th, 1878, the Government of the day was defeated upon a resolution introduced by a private member of the House, and opposed by the Ministry, yet Sir John Macdonald did not deem the circumstance one calling for his resignation, and he continued to enjoy the confidence of Parliament. And upon the subject of the enactment of a prohibitory liquor law, members of the Government have repeatedly been found voting on both sides of the question.

The Gazette's precedents are not in point. It is free for any member of Parliament to ask for the judgment of the House on an abstract question such as that of prohibition; and in such circumstances the members of the Government would vote in accordance with their personal wishes. But in this Manitoba School question the Government must take the responsibility of acting. It heard the case of the Manitoba minority; it decided that it had grievances; it issued a Remedial Order instructing the Manitoba Legislature to remove those grievances by the passage of certain specified acts. The Manitoba Legislature has refused to honor these requests; and since, by this refusal, the jurisdiction passes to Parliament it seems perfectly clear that the Dominion Government must be prepared to justify the terms of its Remedial Order to the House and initiate the confirmatory legislation.

The Gazette seems to think that because the Manitoba Government refused to obey the order Parliament has the power, to be invoked by any private member, of tinkering with the Manitoba school laws until something satisfactory to the minority is evolved. It is doubtful whether this is the case. Parliament's jurisdiction exists only by virtue of and to the extent of the abdication of its powers by the Manitoba Legislature; and can, therefore, act only so far as Manitoba has refused to act. But Manitoba has not made a general refusal; it has not said that its school law is to be unalterable; it has merely declined to carry out the express terms of an order; and it is doubtful whether Parliament has power to do more than to pass this order as it stands without addition to it or subtracting from it. This makes it doubly necessary that the Government should father its own child.

This evading of responsibility, as a political move—and the Government's relation to this question has always been dictated by the votes that were in it—will not do. How, for instance, would the obsequious Mr. Angers dare to face his friends, the Bishops, if, after all his earnest protestations of the intention of the Government—not the French members of the Government, but the Government itself—to pass the fullest measure of remedial legislation, the question should be thrown into the House to run the gauntlet of a callous Protestant majority? The Government has built its own Frankenstein; it cannot so easily escape from its clutches now. It may postpone action for another six months by the Royal Commission device, but it has got to deal with the issue one way or the other, either leaving it alone or taking it up, before it goes to the people; if it has any expectations of holding even a fraction of the Parliamentary seats it now has.

THE VICE-REGAL SALARY AND OTHER THINGS.

The member of Parliament who annually attacks the maintenance of the Governor-Generalship, because of its cost, is quite within his privilege in doing so; but the public are equally within their privilege when they criticize his action. It is unlikely that Parliament will agree with Mr. Mulock's proposition that the salary of the Governor-General of Canada should be reduced by half. In the early days of Confederation, when Canada existed under less important conditions, a similar attempt upon the Governor-General's salary was made, and was passed by both Houses of Parliament, but was reserved by His Excellency for reference to the Imperial authorities. It followed that Royal assent was refused, and cause for the refusal given. Since that abortive effort several attempts have been made in the same direction but never with any chance of success. It is not by passing a bill through Parliament that progress in the direction of this particular economy can be made. The bill in question, even if passed by both Houses of Parliament, would have to be referred to the Colonial Office in London because of the responsibility of the Home Government in the matter of the appointment to which it refers. It will be necessary if anything is to be done, that our Government should open negotiations with the Imperial authorities with the view to a common understanding and that legislation, when required, should be at the instance of the Government. It is simply raising an unpleasant issue, with the certainty of gaining nothing but perhaps a little unworthy election capital for use on the stump it may be with us much disadvantage to one party as to the other, to press the bill upon Parliament under present conditions.

It is argued that we cannot afford to pay so high a salary in consideration of the value received. In some of its phases that becomes a very broad proposition. When we entered upon the compact we must have thought we could afford it, and we are at least as able to pay it now as we were then. This is amongst the chief of the penalties or the privileges of our connexion with the Empire; and, if the price is too high for the consideration, we should work our objection differently rather than plead in forma pauperis. It is scarcely satisfying in a logical sense to argue that the cost of this important feature of British connexion is out of all proportion to that paid to the President of the United States, or many times in excess of the salary of the Governor of New York State. (We do not know what the President in one case or the Governorship in the other does cost; and if we did there would be no practical standard by which the respective values received, in all their peculiar and very great significance, could be compared and estimated. In the economical sense there are millions spent and squandered, for which we receive no value, but from the peculiar misappropriation and expenditure any way, and the vote upon which must be as embarrassing to friends as to opponents, should not be found amongst the tactical make-weights of any member having a leading position. That sort of thing should be left to the small fry.

A matter that cannot be made a party issue, to which no party can be made to commit itself, which is of doubtful importance any way, and the vote upon which must be as embarrassing to friends as to opponents, should not be found amongst the tactical make-weights of any member having a leading position. That sort of thing should be left to the small fry.

ABOUT GOLF.

The sudden popularity of golf in this country and the United States has given rise to some conjecture as to the origin of the game, and to a great deal of interest in its early history. Scotland has always been the home of golf, where it is known to have existed 400 or 500 years; and the "royal and ancient" club of St. Andrews at Blackheath is the fountain from which are drawn the playing rules and etiquette for all other clubs. Of the etymology of the name there are many more or less plausible explanations. It has been asserted that the word came originally with the game from Holland, and it is more probable that both were introduced into that country from Scotland. The records of the Honorable Company of Edinburgh Golfers, which antedate even those of the St. Andrews Club, show, at any rate, that the game under that name was known and played in Scotland long before there was any record of it elsewhere. Golf balls were at one time imported from Holland, and this may have caused the impression that the game was originally Dutch.

Sir W. Simpson, in his "Art of Golfing," states that the game was first called "putty," because the object was to put, or put, the ball into the hole, but at the longer distance, what is now called driving, was the principal interest, so the name was changed to "go off," or golf. This explanation may be a little far fetched, but it at least settles the question of pronunciation and makes it "goff" beyond a doubt. It is said that shepherds used to amuse themselves, while hunting up strayed sheep, by means of sending balls along the distance, and hence the game was evolved.

Garrick and the Earl of Montrose were all golf players in their day.

Charles I. of England was on the links at Leith when a letter reached him telling him of the rebellion in Ireland. There is no record of the game ending abruptly; it probably was finished if Charles was as enthusiastic as a thoroughbred golfer should be. James II. was also a golf player.

In England the Royal North Devon Golf Club (of which the links are Westward Ho!) Hoyle and Sandwich are among the best known clubs. Hoyle is the Liverpool golf ground and to it belongs the credit of establishing the amateur championships in England. The history of the game in the United States dates back only seven years, but it is an interesting and somewhat surprising fact that there are seventy-five clubs in the States that maintain golf links. St. Andrews, at Yonkers, N.Y., is the oldest club, and it was only incorporated in 1883. The Shinnecock Hills Club is the second, and it was incorporated in 1890. The Chicago Golf Club is one of the original five associate members of the United States Golf Association and is one of the best known in the country.

The Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, the Newport Golf Club, Boston (Brookline) Country Club, St. Andrews, Yonkers, Chicago, Essex County Club, of Manchester, Mass., and the Philadelphia Country Club form the list of associate members to the golf union. A cup of the value of $1,000 to be held for one year by the club of which the amateur champion is a member has been presented to the president of the association, Theodore Havemeyer, of New York. The playing rules of St. Andrews Club of Scotland have been adopted as the rules to govern the contests.

Golf in Canada may be said to date from the institution of the Montreal Club in 1873 and of the Quebec Club one year later. The Royal Montreal Golf Club was founded by A. Dennistoun, of Edinburgh, W. M. Ramsay and the Sidney brothers. The Toronto Club was founded in 1882, the Niagara and Brantford Clubs about the same time, Kingston in 1885, Ottawa in 1891, Deer Park Club, Toronto, 1892, London and Hamilton 1894. A Canadian Golf Association has been partly formed. The Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, London, Winnipeg, Victoria, B.C., and Ottawa clubs have already joined, and the others are expected to follow.

Popular incredulity as to the existence of any grave crisis at Ottawa was based on the utter inability of the people to believe that anything could induce any member of the present Cabinet to resign his little eight thousand.

The Rosebery Government has violated every precedent in recent Canadian politics. No less an authority on Canadian matters than the Hamilton Spectator makes a candid avowal of its surprise at the outcome of the crisis in the British Parliament. "Lord Rosebery," it says, "has done the unexpected thing in tendering his resignation." In Canada the unexpected would certainly not have happened in a similar case. Whatever admiration Lord Rosebery's Imperialistic tendencies may have attracted from Canadian Tories has been quenched in their contempt for a set of Cabinet Ministers who would voluntarily resign their offices and emoluments.

SIXTY-THREE YEARS OLD.

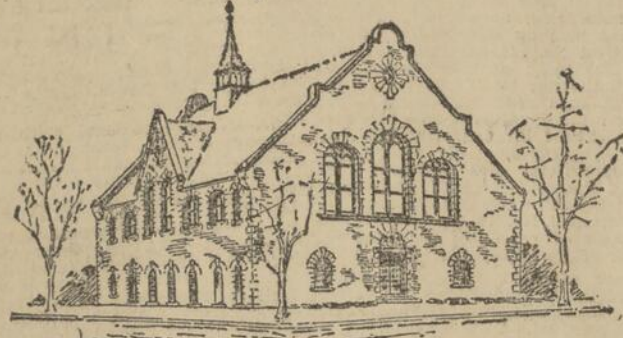

ZION'S CONGREGATION PREPARING ITSELF A NEW HOME.

Corner-Stone Laid Yesterday Afternoon—The Church's History.

Zion Church, the corner-stone of which was laid yesterday afternoon was the first Congregational Church established in Montreal, and is one of the oldest in Canada.

In September, 1831, a few Congregationalists resident in this city gave a call to Rev. Richard Miles, a returned missionary, who had lately come from England, with a view to the formation of a church. Under his pastorate they met first in a school room on McGill Street, afterwards in the Mansion House Hall, and on July 6, 1832, when numbering 13 members, were duly organized as a Congregational Church of Calvinistic principles.

In spite of the general belief regarding the number 13, the growth was rapid and steady, and the Hall becoming too limited in accommodation for the increasing attendance a church building was erected on St. Maurice Street, at the cost of $1,000 and opened for public worship in February, 1835.

In the autumn of that year a call was extended to Rev. H. Wilkes, a Montrealer interested in the church and a friend of Mr. Miles, but who at the time was studying for the ministry in Scotland. It was accepted, and on October 2, 1836, Mr. Wilkes preached his first sermon as pastor of Zion, a position which he held for 35 years.

In 1845 a new chapter in the history of the church opened with the erection of a larger building on Beaver Hall Hill. Dedicated in November, 1846, it soon became a centre of spiritual force in the city. Men and women of all ages and no sects crowded to it, attracted by the earnestness of its pastor and the breadth of the doctrine preached, and deep was the regret when in 1867 it was destroyed by fire. Zion Church has, however, always been difficult to conquer and the building was re-erected and dedicated May 10, 1868.

REV. MR. WARRINER.

(Pastor of the Church.)

In 1871, Dr. Wilkes resigned his position as active pastor to take that of principal of the Congregational College, still, however, maintaining a lively interest in all that pertained to the welfare of the church. His successor was the Rev. J. J. Stevenson, who was pastor of the Zion Church for several years before.

Another notable event was the association with him of Rev. J. F. Stevenson, with the end in view of establishing another church up town, part of the congregation meeting for some time in the M. A. A. Gymnasium, and part in the church building, the pastors and the pulpit alternately morning and evening.

The new church was organized under the name of Emmanuel Congregational Church in 1875.

During Rev. A. J. Bray's term of office misfortune after misfortune swept over the church, and after worshipping in the Queen's Hall, and then in the present St. Gabriel's Presbyterian Church building, they, under Rev. Hector McIntyre, rented a hall above Mr. C. W. Lindsay's store on St. Catherine Street.

R. STANLEY WEIR.

In 1892 the congregation in fear and trembling purchased a lot of land on the corner of Mance and Milton Streets, and erected a basement; this was opened for worship on the first Sunday in July, 1893.

The present pastor was called in 1890, and greatly due to his sympathetic and painstaking labors have been the steady progress that has characterized its life since that period, and the cordial and hearty spirit of friendship and unanimity that exists among its members.

An extension was built in 1892, and when plans for the completion of the building were submitted in the spring of this year they were adopted almost without a dissenting voice.

The present outlook of the church is bright, and with a devoted pastor and a people as cordial in their welcome to strangers as they are faithful in their fellowship with each other it will be strange if the "upward" movement is not crowned with success, and Zion Congregational Church, known once more as maintaining as high rank in regard to numerical strength as she always has done in the possession and dissemination of the principles of Faith, Hope and Charity.

The ceremony of laying the corner stone of Zion Church was successfully completed yesterday afternoon.

The following order of service was observed: First part, within building, hymn, "The Church's One Foundation," sung by choir and congregation; psalm xlviii., read responsively; lesson from 2 Chronicles vi., read by Rev. J. McKim; address by Rev. W. H. Warriner, pastor; statement by R. Stanley Weir, Chairman of Trustees; deposit of documents; presentation of trowel, and collection.

Second part, on roof, placing of box containing documents in stone by W. Flindley, Senior Deacon; spreading of mortar and placing of stone; formal laying of stone by pastor; response and hymn by choir, and the Benediction pronounced by Rev. H. Colborne Helme.

MURDER WILL OUT.

Truth Respecting a Buffalo Mystery Coming to Light.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 25.—The mystery about the murder of John Bennett may be cleared up after all. On the morning of June 30, 1894, Josie Bennett, a woman of the town, was found dead in her room. She had been strangled with a pillow. Her lover, James Towse, a hackman, was arrested on suspicion, but two other women in the house swore that a mysterious stranger had accompanied the victim to her room the night before the murder. Towse was not indicted. One of the witnesses was arrested for drunkenness a week ago, and she confessed that she had told the truth before the grand jury. Towse disappeared two days later, and it was thought that he had fled the city, but the police admit that he has been under arrest since the girl's confession. Another witness is also locked up.

MARK IT WELL.

A Development Peculiar to the Present Generation, Dangerous and Often Fatal.

As each generation comes and goes it is marked by changes, developments and discoveries unknown to its predecessors. From a physical standpoint one of the most to be dreaded conditions and peculiar to its rapid increase during the present generation is when the mind labors under the delusion of persecution continual restlessness, pain in the back and head, twitching of the muscles of the face and hands, furred tongue, breath foul and heavy, nausea and further indications of stomach trouble. There may be delirium, convulsions or sinking spells. Medical authorities apply different names to the conditions that are untellable to the average reader. The actual facts are the demoralized and dangerous state of the system is due to the accumulation of "Body Poison" in the blood that should and would be thrown off by the kidneys if in a healthy condition. In order to restore health, strike at the root of the disease, with Chase's Kidney Liver Pills, the only medicine known that will control the changes going on in the kidneys, enabling them to furnish for the whole system blood free from disease-breeding poison, building up the shattered condition of the nerves, and relieving mental depression. Price 25 cents. Sold by all dealers. Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

RECIPES.

Maize Muffins.—Mix together one pound of shredded maize, one pint of hot milk, a teaspoonful of salt, and one ounce of butter; let it cool and whisk into it three beaten eggs, one ounce of sugar, and two teaspoonfuls of Cook's Friend Baking Powder, mix thoroughly; half fill the muffin rings and bake in a hot oven.

July Fruit Cake.—Two cups of sugar, two-thirds of a cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, three cups of flour, three eggs, and two and a half teaspoonfuls of Cook's Friend Baking Powder. Flavor with lemon. Mix flour, sugar and baking powder by sifting all together at least twice, and then mix the others in thoroughly. Bake one-half of the above mixture in two pans. To the remainder add one teaspoonful of molasses, one cup of raisins, one-half cup of currants and a piece of citron chopped fine. Bake in two tins. Put the four layers together; alternately mix with frosting and jelly.

Rice Bolder.—Wash and drain one cup of rice in cold water. Put it in a saucepan with one quart of boiling stock. Boil rapidly for fifteen minutes; then stand it over a very moderate fire to steam, not boil, for twenty minutes longer. Drain, season with salt and black pepper and press into a well greased mould (use butter for greasing). Then place it in the oven and bake fifteen minutes. Take out, place a dish on the mould, turn it upside down and remove the mould. The hollow space in the centre may be filled with white or brown rice-cakes of chicken or a curry.

Eclair.—Put in a saucepan a half pound of butter; whisk into it a quart of milk, and add gradually one pound of sifted flour and a salt spoonful of salt. Stir the milk briskly with a wooden spoon while the flour is being added; allow the paste to stand on the range a few minutes to evaporate some of its moisture, and add one egg at a time, beating it thoroughly until the paste shows signs of becoming sticky instead of being smooth. No definite number of eggs can be prescribed to attain this result, as there is so much difference in flour, but from five to seven will be sufficient to produce the desired consistency. Put the paste in a funnel-shaped bag, having a tin tube in the small end, and squeeze it out on a buttered pan, making the eclairs three or four inches long. Then bake these forms of light paste for about thirty minutes. Prepare a cream as follows: Put two quarts of milk on the range and add to it half a pound of powdered sugar; put together a quart of a pound of flour and four eggs and one vanilla bean; beat it thoroughly; when the milk boils add it to the flour and eggs and whisk lively. Set the mixture on the range; let it come to a boil, and then pour it into a bowl to become cool. When cold stir into this cream a pint of whipped cream. Cut the eclairs on the side, and fill them with the cream. They may be served plain or with a covering of chocolate icing.

ALL OVER RAG PICKERS.

A Nice Little Breeze at the Health Committee Meeting.

At the Health Committee yesterday a number of letters were read protesting against Scavenging Superintendent Morin's action in preventing rag-pickers from gathering rags from Ald. Brunet's dumping ground on Papineau Road, and asserting that Mr. Morin was personally interested in the matter. One of the writers, Olivier Barrette, had attached to his letter a note from the Rev. Cure Rottot, certifying that he is an honest man, a father of a family, and without any resources except his avocation as a rag-picker. A joint letter signed by 7 proprietors endorsed the letters of protest.

A letter was read from Mr. Morin stating that the petition supported by the Rev. Father Rottot is false from beginning to the end.

After some discussion it was resolved to prevent rag-pickers from gaining access to the dump from 6 a.m. till 8 p.m. Sanitary Engineer Dore reported that the Montreal and Champlain schools were not in a satisfactory sanitary condition. It was decided to communicate with the Board of Catholic School Commissioners on the subject.

Milk Inspector R. Raymond was granted three months leave of absence owing to ill health.

The cases of the two foremen, Messrs. Chénier and Renaud, suspended by Mr. Morin, will be considered at a special meeting of the Committee on Friday.

THREE RIVERS ACADEMY.

(Special to the Herald.)

Three Rivers, June 25.—The closing exercises in connection with the Dissident School were held last Friday. All the departments assembled in the academy. Quite a number of the friends and parents were present. On the platform were Mr. Charles K. Ogden, postmaster, Revs. J. R. MacLeod and W. W. Ryan and Mr. Alex. Houlston, secretary-treasurer of the School Board, who also presided. There were several readings, recitations and some music by the pupils. The reports of the various departments were read by the respective teachers and prizes were awarded to those who attained to over two-thirds marks as follows:

Academy, (Mr. John Douglas, B. A., teacher), Grade I—Ethelyn Crossley, 1; May Ogden, 2.

Grade II—Emily H. Crossley, 1; Naomi Ritchie, 2; Muriel Houlston, 3; Eva McLennan, 4.

Grade III—Charles G. Ogden, 1; Alfred Ryan, 2.

Punctuality Prizes—Charles G. Ogden, (perfect attendance), 1; Lewis Williams (two days absent), 2.

Mr. Houlston offers each year a gold medal to be awarded to the pupil taking the highest rank in Grade II. Emily H. Crossley carried off this medal this year.

Model Department, (Miss A. C. Melrose, teacher), Grade 1—Esther Ryan, 1; Laura Louthoud, 2.

Grade II—Myrtle Baxter, 1; Isa Houlston, 2.

Elementary Department, (Miss M. McCutcheon, teacher), Grade 1—Beatrice Ritchie, 1; Crommond Baptist, 2.

Grade II—Gertrude Peabody, 1; Bruce Baxter, 2; Archie Crossley, 3; Winnie Crossley, 4.

Grade III—Veda Adams, 1; Reginald Louthoud, 2; Lilian Kelly, 3.

Grade IV—Alice Luckerhoff, 1.

At the close of the prizes of the various grades presented their respective teachers were visibly moved and expressed their appreciation in feeling addresses.

It is understood that Mr. Douglas, who has been principal of the academy for two years, leaves for Ontario. Miss Melrose and Miss McCutcheon return to resume their work in August or September. They have gone into the country.

Stabbed Her Husband.

High Constable Lambert last evening arrested one Melvina Lechere on a warrant sworn out by her husband, charging her with assault. He states that she stabbed him in the hand with a fork, and she, on the other side, claims that he was choking her at the time, and that she did it in self defence.

Ross does not keep asbestos pipes alone; he carries one of the best stocks of Havana and domestic cigars in the city; also a full line of fine walking sticks. Ross, 20 Chabouille Square, en route to G.T.R. and C.P.R. depots. Give him a call.

Had a Fit.

John Kearney, a cattle driver, was found in an apoplectic fit lying on the sidewalk at the corner of St. Peter and Commissioners Streets last evening at about seven o'clock. Constable Hunter thinking that the man was drunk, ordered him to be taken to the Central Station in the patrol, but on his reaching there the Captain placed him in a conveyance to the Notre Dame Hospital. He had not recovered consciousness at a late hour, and will probably die.

Portland—Old Orchard.

The Canadian Pacific trains this season will leave for Portland and Old Orchard at 8.00 a.m. week days and 8.20 p.m. daily. Returning, will leave Old Orchard at 7.20 p.m. and Portland at 8.15 p.m.

Suicide by Paris Green.

A suicide under rather strange circumstances occurred last evening at St. Austin's boarding house, 12 Sangulnet Street, at a little past seven o'clock. One of the boarders named Joseph Chenart, a comparatively young man, who was employed by Mr. Denis as a painter, came in as usual from his work at 7 o'clock. About half an hour later his roommate also came in, and going to Chenart's room found the door locked. Upon its being forced open Chenart was seen to be lying on the bed in great pain. A box of Paris green was by his side. Dr. Ethier was called in, and after making an examination he did what he could and sent for the Notre Dame Hospital ambulance. The man was removed, but expired a few minutes after entering the hospital. No reason can be assigned for Chenart's taking his life, he was not known to have any serious troubles, and he had not drunk heavily. An inquest will be held to-day.

A Prophet of the Ancient Time.

Nathan, the living voice of Nathan, the prophet so often read of in the Bible, is hanging out at 71 St. Lawrence Street, city. In his "Fence" he sells the celebrated El Padre Needles, a cigar made from clear Havana tobacco, not butts, trapped or shot and skinned, but a cigar made by a firm who have a reputation and are not afraid of their name. But putting all jokes away, my dear apostles, if you want a real good cigar ask for El Padre Needles. The Prophet also keeps the largest assortment of canes, pipes, cigars, etc., in the village of Montreal. Come, my ye smokers of people who would get a good article at a sacrifice in the way of tobaccoist's goods. Why, Nathan is known the world over from St. Jean Baptiste village to Longueuil.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

The following message was received by a local broker this afternoon from Chicago: Crop news from the southwest is the worst yet received. Millers say samples of the new crop are unfit for milling, and one of them paid $3 over July for 15,000 bushels No. 2 red in East St. Louis.

MANITOBA WHEAT.

The wheat crop in Manitoba has not fallen back any, if to-day's messages are to be believed. A report from Portage in the Prairie said: "Weather during the past week has been all that could be desired. Crops are looking splendid."

LOCAL SHIPMENTS.

A FAIR MOVEMENT OF WHEAT, CORN AND FLOUR FROM MONTREAL.

Considering the fact that grain markets on this side of the water are relatively high compared with those on the other side, shipments of wheat and corn have been fairly large.

In fact, as far as the shipments for the last week or ten days are concerned, they compare very favorably with last year's, when the conditions are taken into consideration.

A large part of the flour shipped, and all of the wheat and corn have been American.

Following is a statement of exports from Montreal from June 13th to June 22nd:

	Wheat, bush.	Corn, bush.	Flour, sacks
Liverpool.....	104,109	80,838	3,342
Glasgow.....	32,463	97,392	11,879
Bristol.....	55,170	—	400
Hamburg.....	—	27,778	12,200
Total.....	192,044	206,028	30,011

Several other steamers sailed during this time, but their manifests have not yet been listed.

THE PRICE OF OIL.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 25.—Oil closed at 160 bid.

HARBOR BOARD.

The Question of Pilotage Fees—North Atlantic Pilot Charts.

The Harbor Board discussed the reduction of the pilotage fee yesterday.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries stated that, in consideration of the board being pilotage authority for the district, and that they found it necessary to pay an agent of the city of Quebec, in the interests of pilots and their earnings, he sanctioned the deduction of 2 per cent. Council to their deduction of 2 per cent. from the earnings of pilots for the purpose of defraying necessary expenses of that district, including the salary of the agent of Quebec.

The following notice to shipowners and agents, etc., speaks for itself, being issued by the Board's order: Whereas under the Pilotage Act it is, and has been, the custom for all shipping agents to keep out any pilotage dues payable by them for vessels between Quebec and Montreal 5 per cent. thereof, and which is paid to the custom house before outwards clearance is granted.

This is to notify you that in accordance with an Order in Council dated 15th June, 1895, you are hereby required to retain hereafter and pay to the Collector of Customs, in addition thereto, a further sum equal to two per cent. to defray the necessary expenses of conducting the pilotage business of the Montreal Pilotage District, making a total deduction of seven per cent. from your sum earned by and due to any pilot for and above the Harbor of Quebec. The Secretary of the Board presented the following important correspondence from the Department of the Navy, Bureau of Navigation, Washington, D.C., dated June 19th: The Hydrographic Office has received your communication of the 17th instant, and noted your statement that extra copies of the North Atlantic Pilot Chart could be distributed with advantage by your office to ship masters frequenting the same. While the office would be very glad to place the Pilot Charts at your disposal, it must keep in mind the policy to distribute them among officers of vessels in return for their keeping its meteorological forms, in addition to Pilot Charts, Notices to Mariners and Hydrographic Bulletins are issued free of charge to co-operating observers when a request is made for the same.

Copies of the blank forms above referred to are forwarded for your information and it would afford the Hydrographic Office pleasure to place a supply of them in your hands for distribution to such ship masters as would undertake to keep them, in which case such captains would be placed upon the mailing list for the publications mentioned, if they so desired.

The office is under many obligations for the publications which you mention having been forwarded.

GRIMAUD'S SYRUP

THE OLD FASHIONED FRENCH REMEDY FOR

Children's Ailments.

This popular blood purifier is a combination of iodine with the antiseptic plants: Horse-radish, Scutellary-grass, and Watercress. It prevents and cures constipation and inflammation of the glands of the neck, eruptions on the face and skin generally, sea-sickness, indigestion, flatulency of the bowels, running from the ears, scrofula and lymphatic affections. It increases the appetite, restores the liveliness and beauty of the face, and is much better than Cod Liver Oil and other disagreeable medicines.

SANTAL-MIDY

is used in the treatment of all urinary discharges from the urinary organs.
