SIR SAM HUGHES SAYS HE WELCOMES CHANCE TO CLEAR THE ATMOSPHERE

Sir Robert Borden Will Take Charge of Militia Department During His Attendance at Royal Commission—Challenged Motive of Mr. Kyte in Preferring Charges in House

Special to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 18.—This afternoon, speaking to a crowded House of Commons, the Minister of Militia, Maj-Gen. the Hon. Sir Sam Hughes, declared that he welcomed an investigation into the charges made by Mr. Kyte, M. P. for Richmond, in connection with fuse contracts, as a means of clearing the atmosphere. He announced that he had requested Sir Robert Borden to take charge of the Department of Militia during the attendance upon the Royal Commission. He questioned the motive of Mr. Kyte in making the charges, and he defended the fuse companies from the imputation of dishonesty.

SIR SAM HUGHES' STATEMENT.

Sir Sam said:

"With the indulgence of the House, I desire to make a personal explanation. On March 9 I left Ottawa for England. A week or so before my leaving I spoke to the Prime Minister of Canada and explained to him the necessity of my going. I asked the Prime Minister if he would see the leader of the Opposition and ascertain if there were any questions likely to arise which would require my attendance here. It was agreed that I should see the leader of the Opposition, and I did so.

"I also saw the hon. member for Pictou (Mr Macdonald), and the hon. member for Halifax (Mr. Maclean), and some others. I asked them if there were any questions affecting my Department likely to arise that would require my attendance here. The leader of the Opposition frankly stated that he did not know of any.

"But—and it was characteristic of him—he declined to assume the responsibility for all of his followers. He said he did not know of anything at the time——"

"Personally," Sir Wilfrid Laurier interrupted.

Sir Sam Hughes—"Yes, personally, he did not know of anything that would justify my staying here, and in the opinion of other prominent members of the Opposition, they could not conceive that anything might arise. It was known that I was going away. I did not send out a brass band and blare that I was going across the ocean.

"The statement was made that I was going South, and that was absolutely true. The day before I went away, Mr. Carvell was speaking. I had intimated also to that gentleman that I was going away, and those who recall the night of his speech will recollect that his eyes wandered to the clock and he seemed to long that night or Bluecher would come. (Laughter.)

"I thought he was killing time. It was known that I was leaving next day, and it was the only chance I had to get at him. I asked him that night to continue and finish his speech, and I would be only too delighted to take up the few minutes available before I should leave. He declined and he got an opportunity to finish his speech next day. But I do not think that any great harm was done, and I will let that pass."

Sir Sam then briefly referred to his visit to England, and the splendid work being done by the Canadian contingents. While there he had received a message that startling statements had been made in the House involving the honor of the Shell Committee and his own honor, and he had returned to Canada.

Glad of Chance to Clear Atmosphere

"I am glad," Sir Sam went on, "that the chance has come to clear the atmosphere of these charges. I wish to thank the member for East Toronto for acting as Minister in my absence and during my attendance upon the Royal Commission I shall do myself the honor of asking the Prime Minister to look after my department.

"In regard to the charges made by the member for Richmond, Mr. Kyte, it is no part of the duty of an M.P. to impugn the honor of another man, but I shall inquire as to his motive.

"Was it to ascertain the truth? If so, all could have been learned from Gen. Bertram or Col. Carnegie. Was it to gain notoriety? If so, that has been accomplished. Was it to injure the Tories? If so, it will fail in its object. Was it to assist the cause of human liberty? If so, I want to point out that only truth and right can win in this war. Or is it only petty parochial politics?

"I cannot conceive the object of increasing the nervousness of the Canadian people, whose gallant sons are dying for the great cause. However, his responsibility is to his conscience and not his constituents.

"Now, what were the conditions surrounding the shell contracts? At first no one could be induced to touch them. Banks interfered and pestered Gen. Bertram. Certain people were poverty-stricken, nervous and afraid.

"There was want of confidence on the part of capitalists, uncertainty as to the length of the war and lack of materials. There was great need of removing these depressing influences, but there were men who were not afraid and who rose to the occasion. In the next stage everyone wanted to get into the game. They talked in millions.

DEFENDS FUSE COMPANIES.

"As I understand the statement of the member for Richmond, it is that the contract for fuses was made with people who had no intention of producing them, and that one and a half millions were paid over and divided at the start. The facts are that the two companies now employ, between them, nearly eight thousand men; they have met with great difficulties in production, with the exception of one, they have done better than any other on the continent of America.

"So much is this the case that the British Government, through the House of Morgan, recently gave one of them an additional order for four million fuses, while the other got one million.

"Every dollar that has been advanced is protected by the strongest trust company on the continent, and incidentally by the great financial strength of the gentlemen who direct it.

"The gentlemen behind one of the companies are rated at millions of dollars. The money advanced by the Shell Committee went for the purpose for which it was intended—for plant and material.

"It would, perhaps, have been better if the money had gone towards the manufacture in Canada, but circumstances were against it, and we wanted fuses.

"As to the advance upon it, it might be noted that it amounted to only 15 per cent of the total amount, whereas the usual advance on such contracts was 25 per cent.

"Now I understand that my honorable friend, the leader of the Opposition, did have a conference with Sir Thomas.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier: I had no conference with him; it was simply a social call.

Sir Sam Hughes: I understand Mr. Thomas called on the leader of the Opposition by instructions of the Ministers of Munitions in Great Britain. However, that is a matter between there I know not and care not.

"On my return from England in 1914 I called on that splendid man, Gen. Bertram, in regard to the manufacture of trinitrate. As a result the Shell Committee soon afterwards let a contract for the manufacture of this material to the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, and made an advance payment on it of $300,000.

"Now coming to J. Wesley Allison. That officer was formerly associated with the venerable Doctor Webb, of the New York Central. He was respected, and is respected by big manufacture concerns in the United States.

"In the beginning of the war United States firms were nervous about the attitude of the then Secretary of State, W. J. Bryan, in regard to exporting munitions. They absolutely refused to undertake deliveries to foreign countries.

"I was requested by the British Government to look into this matter, and I enlisted the sympathy and assistance of Col. Allison. By arrangement with the Minister of Customs, those munitions were admitted at Morrisburg. So satisfactory did this method prove that munitions were going through over that route long after they were being shipped direct from New York.

COURTS FULL INQUIRY

Maj.-Gen. the Hon. Sir Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, who declared his desire for the fullest investigation into the Kyte charges, on the floor of the House of Commons this afternoon.

ACQUITTED OF BLACK HAND LETTER CHARGE

Raffaelo Mallino, arrested by Detective Nassa in connection with the Black Hand letters sent to Luigi Cassili, grocer of 462 St. Timothee street, was acquitted today by Judge Bazin on the ground that there was not sufficient proof to hold him.

Mallino went to Cassili some months ago and declared that he knew who was sending the threatening letters demanding money, and offered for a consideration, to mark the letters to prove his word and thus bring about the arrest of the Black Handers. Mullino was then himself arrested in connection with the case, but owing to the conflicting evidence of Cassili and several of the witnesses, was allowed to go.

UNDERTONE BETTER BUT ACTIVITY IS REDUCED GREATLY

New York Stock Exchange Shows Influence of Present Uncertainty

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

There was little or no change in international affaire today and the stock market continued under the uncertainties that have restrained dealings for such a long time past. The hysteria which prevailed for a time among the holders of industrial specialties yesterday was absent, however, and the general list, while irregular, displayed a better undertone.

But dealings were almost entirely professional and activity fell away sharply after the first hour. The market, in fact, relapsed into apathy while awaiting definite developments regarding the outcome of the submarine controversy with Germany, which is now in its most critical stage, and also while awaiting positive information regarding the death of Villa and our future course in relation to Mexico.

Although Baldwin Loco., Crucible Steel, Westinghouse Manufacturing and American Loco. declined, the early losses for the most part did not exceed a point or so. U. S. Steel receded fractionally, but the issue was largely neglected.

Copper issues and standard railway shares were quiet, but the latter, with the notable exception of New Haven, which lost a full point on the latest disaster were steady.

RUMOR SAYS MR. LLOYD GEORGE IS LEAVING CABINET

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 18, 5:45 p.m.—It was rumored this afternoon that David Lloyd George, Minister of Munitions, had presented his resignation, owing to the differences of opinion which have arisen regarding conscription.

The rumor apparently originated in the fact that Mr. Lloyd George was not present during the day's debate in the House of Commons. No confirmation of the report was obtainable.

It was also observed that Winston Spencer Churchill, former First Lord of the Admiralty, who recently criticized the Government severely, paid two visits to Mr. Lloyd George after this morning's meeting of the Cabinet Council.

HUN ATTACK WITH 100,000 MEN WAS IN VAIN AT VERDUN

Troops from Five Different Divisions Hurled at French Positions in Fruitless Attempt to Break Through—Sacrificed Men by Hundreds to Take Few Advance Positions

Special Star Cable by United Press.

PARIS, April 18. German troops from five different divisions, aggregating 100,000 men, participated in yesterday's violent attack on the French lines east of the Meuse, it was officially announced today.

In last night's fighting, the Germans were partially thrown back from a first-line trench they penetrated in Chauffor, north-west of Douaumont.

The Germans attacked with the greatest violence on a ragged front, extending from the Meuse southerly to the Douaumont-Ornes road. German artillery had prepared the way for the assault by a drum-fire that opened at midnight, and continued without cessation for twelve hours.

The first blow fell against the French barriers in the narrow ravine south-east of Pepper Heights, the scene of furious fighting ten days ago. Time and again the grey-clad legions piled up against the French works in fruitless charges. The ravine and its wooded slopes were swept by a steady stream of shrapnel and machine gun fire until the gorge itself was choked with bodies.

EXTENDED ON BOTH FLANKS.

Repulsed in this attack, the Germans extended the fighting on both flanks. One division, advancing from Talou Heights, moved southward along the west bank of the Meuse, but came under a heavy fire that forced an immediate retreat.

The heaviest blow was struck on the eastern wing. Gathering up two divisions, the German commanders hurled them against the French line in Chauffour and Ablain woods, driving southward in an attempt to reach the Douaumont-Bras road.

The first German attacks were beaten back before the enemy reached the French trenches. The second assault, delivered by still heavier forces, carried the enemy into the advanced positions and forced the surrender of a redoubt and its connected advanced trenches, forming an exposed salient north-west of Douaumont village.

LOSSES HEAVY ON BOTH SIDES.

The losses on both sides in the hand-to-hand struggle in the shell-wrecked woods were very heavy. Unprotected by ravines, the attacking forces sacrificed men by the hundreds on small sectors of this front.

The French successes reported in today's communique from the War Office apparently were against these advanced positions taken by the Germans yesterday.

The German bombardment of Hill 304 and other positions west of the Meuse, reported in last night's official statement, is increasing in violence. The War Office reported today that the French first lines between Dead Man's Hill and Cumieres were heavily shelled.

GREAT EXPLOSION AT WILHELMSHAVEN.

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 18—A Reuter despatch from Copenhagen says:

"A despatch to the Kieler-Zeitung from Wilhelmshaven says there was a great explosion on Friday night last in the new torpedo works there, a number of persons being killed and others wounded.

"The works were recently finished, and were inspected by Emperor William on February 25."

TURKISH SUBMARINE DESTROYED BY MINE

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 18. News service despatch from London today says:

"A Central News despatch from The Hague states that a Turkish submarine has been destroyed by a mine off Trebizond, in the Black Sea, the entire crew perishing. Four new submarines are reported to have been sent to Turkey from Germany.

A Salonika despatch to the same agency says:

"A Bulgarian convicted of espionage was executed here today. Another Bulgarian is awaiting trial. They were caught spying on the Allies."

FRENCH AIRMEN BOMBARD BULGARS.

By Canadian Press.

SALONIKA, April 17, via Paris, April 18.—Twenty-two French aeroplanes bombarded the headquarters of the Bulgarian staff at Doiran at three o'clock this morning. The raid was an entire success, the French officers say. A German squadrilla which attempted to engage the bombarding French aeroplanes was attacked by special French rapid fighting machines, which forced the Huns to abandon the attack.

HUNS BOMBARD RHEIMS WHILE CROWN PRINCE'S ARMY FAILS AT VERDUN

Despite Tremendous Onslaught by Hundred Thousand Men, French Hold Their Lines Firmly, Only Trifling Gain Being Achieved by Huns—British Retire on Tigris River

Special Star Cable.

PARIS, April 18.—Confidence in the ability of Gen. Petain to withstand the newest German attack is expressed in high military quarters here, following the receipt of news from the Verdun front this afternoon to the effect that, despite the fierceness of yesterday's bombardment and infantry attack, in which over one hundred thousand picked German troops participated, the German gain is literally nil, as the section of the salient which they have succeeded in retaining is swept on three sides by French gunfire. Gen. Petain's army is holding its lines firmly in every direction.

News comes this afternoon also that while the Crown Prince is attacking desperately at Verdun, long-range guns and aviators are busy bombarding Rheims, and that many shells have fallen in the city during the past three days.

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 18, 1:45 p.m.—British lines on the south bank of the Tigris in Mesopotamia have been forced back by the Turks for a distance in some places of from 500 yards to 800 yards, says an official statement given out today by the official Press Bureau.

The text of the official statement says:

"Lieut. Gen. Sir Percy Lake (commander of the British forces in Mesopotamia) reports that on the night of April 17-18 a series of heavy counter-attacks were delivered on the right (south) bank of the Tigris. Our lines were in places forced back some 500 to 800 yards."

VERDUN ONSLAUGHT RENEWED

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 18. After six days' rest while effectives were made up and stocks of ammunition replenished, the Germans have again begun concentrated attacks upon different points of the French defenses at Verdun.

The first point selected was the one-mile section between the Meuse and Douaumont, which forms a salient that seriously impedes the enemy. It includes the famous Pepper-Hill.

Approaches to this position are further enfiladed by the French batteries on the west bank of the Meuse, and it was with the view to facilitating operations against the salient that the Germans made their recent offensive against Cumieres and Dead Man Hill.

That having failed, they now are trying the effect of direct wave tactics, employing dense masses of infantry in small spaces, but so far with little success.

The net result of their efforts has been the gain of a small salient west of Douaumont which, the French found out, is unimportant.

FIVE HUN DIVISIONS ATTACK

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 18, 12:01 p.m.—The French first-line trenches in the Verdun region west of the Meuse, from Dead Man's Hill to Cumieres, were bombarded yesterday by the Germans. East of the river relative calm prevailed during the night.

Yesterday the attack between Douaumont and the Meuse was very violent. The German forces arrayed troops from five different divisions. Right east of the Chauffour salient the Germans penetrated a front-line trench, but were partially ejected.

The French official report given out this afternoon, says:

"On the left bank of the river Meuse there has been a bombardment of our first line positions between Le Mort Homme and Cumieres. On the right bank of the river the night passed in relative quiet.

"It has been confirmed that the German attack delivered yesterday between the Meuse and the Douaumont region took on a character of extreme violence. Further information is to the effect that this offensive action was conducted by troops belonging to five different divisions.

"In the east salient of the Chauffour Wood the enemy penetrated our first line trench, but from this position he was in part driven out by a counter attack.

"In the Woevre district there has been artillery duel in the region of Moutainville. To the south of Bindeseil a German reconnaissance which was endeavoring to approach the trenches in the direction of Hermaupere, to the northeast of St. Die was repulsed with hand grenades.

"During the night of April 17 aeroplanes of the enemy threw down seven bombs, one of them being an incendiary missile, on Belfort. It has been reported that two persons were killed and six wounded. The materia damage was not important."

HENRY BIRKS & SONS LIMITED :: MONTREAL

CLOAK-AND-SUIT COMEDY A VASTLY ENTERTAINING ONE

"Potash and Perlmutter" is Full of Opulent Wit

Many thousands of people must have acquired a keen liking for Montagu Glass's droll Hebrew partners in the cloak-and-suit trade, Potash and Perlmutter. They are almost national characters in the United States. Through the medium of Mr. Glass's very human sketches, they have been brought close to many of us, and we have laughed ourselves almost to tears over their drolleries, and found ourselves sympathising deeply with them in their troubles.

This was in print. Now Montrealers have an opportunity of meeting them embodied on stage characters. The faithfulness and the sheer humanity of Montagne Glass's portrayal stand the test well. Potash and Perlmutter, on the stage, do not seem to us mere puppets; they live. They are exactly what we expected them to be. Their drolleries are the same; their wit is the same; their individualities are what we had pictured them; and they are intensely and appealingly human.

* * *

It is not Potash and Perlmutter alone, however, who interest us. The comedy contains a wide range of types and the majority of them are limned with more than average skill and fidelity. There is, for instance, a "shark" lawyer who has his double by the thousand; there is a bookagent wholly delicious in his imposing imposture; there is a carter we could match easily enough here in Montreal; there is a typical typewriter; and there are half dozen more or less lay figures who fit into the picture perfectly because they are not overdrawn.

The comedy is slim enough in structure, but it has been deftly built. It moves smoothly, leisurely, but we are never in a hurry. The humor is unctuous; the action in complete accord. There is, from first to last, not a line, not a feature one would wish altered. The whole play is devoid of vulgarity. Beneath the surface we find Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter sterling characters, in whom the salient keenness of their race has not eliminated the milk of human kindness.

No more entertaining comedy has been seen in Montreal for a long, long time. Those who fail to see it will have missed something worth seeing, because it is an excellent tonic for a people laboring under the shadow of a Titanic strain, such as the Dominion is meeting today.

* * *

In such a comedy, efficient acting to type is the main essential. In this regard, the company appearing at His Majesty's theatre acquits itself with distinction. Harry First's study of Mawruss Perlmutter is marked by many a subtle touch of expression, gesture, intonation; the same can be said of the portrait of Abe Potash which Phil White draws.

Harry Hanlon depicts Henry D. Feldman — not the Feldman of the Glass stories, by the way, — as a clever, unscrupulous lawyer with facility and conviction; T. S. James contributes a clever little study of a book-agent; and Maurice Barret as the irrepressible buyer, Marks Pasinsky, radiates cheerfulness.

Miss Jane Fearnley is a statuesque beauty who can act. She plays Ruth Goldman, the designer, with an easy grace that suits the role well; Helen Salinger has a rich comedy role as Mrs. Potash; and Harriet Gustin makes a natural typewriter. The minor parts are adequately filled.

The staging and setting add to the attractiveness of the comedy. It is not built on lines that meet all the requirements of dramatic standards, perhaps, but it IS amusing and it IS a thoroughly satisfying entertainment.

ORPHEUM TURNS VERY EXCELLENT TAKEN IN PARTS

Like the curate's egg, the Orpheum program this week is good, very good even, in parts.

Long Tack Sam and his Chinese troupe, which includes two very pretty little girls, over whom all the ladies raved last night, provide a complete vaudeville entertainment in themselves. A little thing like needle swallowing, which takes Houdini half an hour, a glass of water and about a dozen assistants to do, the Chinese juggler equilibrist and what else you will, does just to fill in an odd moment. It is strange, too, to see a Celestial in flowing robes sing a song of today to a ragtime accompaniment. Stranger still to see two Chinese ladies, with their hair fastened on to ropes hanging from the flies, swing round and round, and appear to enjoy it. One thing is sure that the ladies' hair is genuine. Rounded off with a patter that ranges in dialect from Piccadilly to Hong Kong by way of Canada and the United States, the performance is the most remarkable and comprehensive that the Orpheum audiences, satiated with tight wire acts et hoc genus omne has seen for a long time.

THE ANIMAL ACT.

There's an animal act. Generally animal acts are to be regretted. Without going into detail, Derkins dog pantomine is a wonderful canine parody of human life, even taking in the gentleman who "is blind when it's his turn to buy."

Bert Kallman and Jessie Brown have a pretty nursery story act which will delight all who have families of children.

"The Visitor" is the last word in the impossible but it is entertaining. It is a sketch in which a district attorney of a variety that fortunately for the community is never seen off the stage and another figure. The climax is good.

The three Stewart sisters have a novel set of dances from the London "halls." Agility rather than art is the keynote but there is some clever pantomimic work.

Hughie Blaney sings descriptive songs and gets away with them. He has a very fine one of the sacred order, about peace. He ran out of verses to meet the encores to the one comic song he gave.

Julia Curtis a lady with an amazing amount of voice—she can sing in four of them bass treble mezzo and contralto gave an exhibition of her powers.

Last but not least were Santly and Norton singers of the "nut" variety. They cannot be described but most decidedly should be seen and heard.

BURLESQUE IS LIKE GOOD MUSIC COMEDY

Burlesque along musical comedy lines is the impression derived from "The Merry Rounders" at the Gayety this week. In a two-act revue, entitled "This Is the Life," comprising ten scenes, there are many of the finer and lighter touches of light comedy in scenery, costumes and songs, which stand out in contrast to the heavier but entirely wholesome burlesque elements, making the whole a rare and original presentation.

The elaborate and effective settings are new and striking. The black and white scheme of "Tangoland" and the beautiful shaded and delicate colors of the roof garden and the reception room in the last scene, are the most pleasing. The costumes are in many instances an innovation to the burlesque stage, and much attention has been paid to the selection of the principals' voices.

Abe Reynolds and George F. Hayes, working either singly or in combination, are extremely humorous in their patter and their antics.

The musical numbers are as numerous and pleasing as they are well sung and appreciated. "The Merry Rounders Sextette" is heard to advantage in several pleasing selections.

Contrary to announcements, it is expected the Gayety will remain open for another two weeks.

"THE ONLY GIRL" AGAIN PLEASING AT THE PRINCESS

With practically the same cast that presented the piece here early in March, the musical and comic musical comedy "The Only Girl" returns to the Princess this week. The return engagement of the Herbert-Blossom musical farce was greeted by a large audience last night, proving that Montreal has kindly memories of the former appearance.

It is something of a novelty to find a musical comedy of recent vintage that lives up to the description. From the amusing farce by Frank Mandel, "Four Wives," Henry Blossom has, with his usual deftness, evolved a clever little plot concerning the adventures of a chief-of-the-detectives, who collaborates on an opera with a parlor composer who promises to be nothing but a "one-piecer." Despite the horrible examples offered in the persons of three married friends and their wives, the "machine" collaborators mutually capitulate at the end of the piece, of course.

The lines are clever, and there is sufficient humor in them to cover the cynicism. Victor Herbert has again succeeded in producing a number of lyrics that satisfy, and if the present company might be improved upon in various directions, they at least give a pleasing performance.

The only change in the cast of principals is Helen Tyler, who takes the place of Ruth Thorpe in the role of Ruth Wilson, the composer. Miss Tyler is not a great singer, but she is a mighty dainty lady, sufficiently so to make the surrender of a "machine" libretto quite convincing.

The bill for next week is a return engagement of "Britain Prepared," the remarkable series of moving pictures showing the preparedness of Britain's army and navy.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL.

The annual meeting and social in connection with the Presbyterian Church at Pointe Claire, was very successful. The program was patriotic in character.

The Western Hospital AN APPEAL

The Western Hospital, Montreal, now regarded as one of our leading philanthropic institutions is in need of help and has decided to organize a Relief Campaign beginning in May.

The Western Hospital has made no organized appeal to the public for many years.

The deficits from year to year has now reached a total of over $50,000.00

To avoid curtailing the work of the Hospital this sum together with enough to meet current expenses must be raised.

The Hospital covers all that large area West of Windsor Street and the Emergency Work alone is only exceeded probably by one other Hospital.

The campaign will commence on May 1st, returnable May 15th.

The Manufacturers, Governors and General Public will be canvassed.

On May 1st and 2nd, the Trinity Players will give a two-night's performance at His Majesty's Theatre of Sir A. W. Pinero's "Thunderbolt."

On Saturday, May 6th, a Hospital Saturday on the lines of those held in London, England, will be held, the permission of both the Cities of Montreal and Westmount having been obtained.

On Sunday, May 14th, a special collection will be made in the West End Churches.

LAST NOTE TO BERLIN IS READY

Said to Be Most Vigorous President Wilson Has Yet Penned

IMMEDIATE CHANGE IN POLICY DEMANDED

Otherwise it is Rumored Friendly Relations May Be Ruptured

States is in the position of guardian of Bender, of the United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The cables were expected to carry today a final declaration to Germany of America's view on submarine warfare as conceived and drafted by President Wilson and the Secretary of State, Mr. Lansing.

The document, of possible far-reaching consequences—breaking of relations, perhaps—is complete. The Berlin Foreign Office is expected to know its message Thursday or Friday. The American public probably will read it simultaneous with publication in Germany.

The President and Mr. Lansing at a conference beginning at 10 o'clock today went over the final draft together.

VON BERNSTORFF TO CONFER.

Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, acting under instructions from his government, will discuss the submarine crisis in general terms with Mr. Lansing at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

It was understood that the Ambassador had no instructions to discuss any specific case now in controversy between the two Governments, but to take up the subject broadly and to seek the viewpoint of the American Government in the present situation.

Through Senator Stone and others in Congress who handle questions bearing on foreign relations, the President is to communicate today to Congress the nature of his note to Germany. How confidential the Executive's statements to Mr. Stone and the others remain to be seen.

It has been intimated in the past that before the President took a final decisive step that might involve the country in war, he would make known his course to Congress. The Cabinet meeting today, there is reason to believe, will not be devoted to consideration of the communication. The Cabinet members gave their approval last Friday of action being taken, the note, in rough form, being laid before them there.

That the alleged abuse of international law and the principles of humanity is a continuing, live issue, was brought home. Administration leaders said today, by yesterday's news of the Austrian submarine attack on the Russian barque Imjerator. One American citizen having been injured by shrapnel fire, a full investigation was ordered by the State Department.

It is still the profund hope of Administration officials that a break with Germany may be avoided. The communication leaves the way perfectly clear for Germany to take such action as will preclude the possibility of further dangerous situations between the two Governments.

The President, however, recently reiterated his belief that the United States is the position of guardian of the neutral rights of the world, and that in the interests of humanity there must be some law strongly upheld to which those not involved in the great struggle may cling.

Acting on tais principle, the President, in his communication to Germany, cites not only those ships attacked during the last ten months with Americans aboard, but also certain neutral vessels of other nations attacked during the same interval.

LAST WORD FROM STATES.

WASHINGTON, April 18. — The American Government's communication to Germany, designed as the last word of the Washington Government in the submarine controversy, is being put into diplomatic code today for immediate transmission to Berlin. It is expected to go forward during the day.

The document is said to be the most vigorous diplomatic paper President Wilson and Mr. Lansing have drafted. It covers the activities of German submarines since the Lusitania affair, and is intended to force the question of a speedy settlement of the submarine issue by making plain that only an immediate change in Berlin's policy can prevent a rupture in the friendly relations between the two countries.

Senator Stone, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had an engagement to see President Wilson at the White House today before the Cabinet meeting. Senator Stone was informed of the intentions of the Administration as soon as the communication was completed by the President.

Much interest centred today about the German Ambassador, von Bernstorff, who returned to New York on the eve of the dispatch of the American communication. It is said that the Ambassador has no new instructions from his Government, although it is possible he may visit the State Department today to learn the views of the United States and to inform Mr. Lansing regarding those of Germany.

CONCESSIONS TO U. S. OPPOSED

Special Star Cable by United Press.

BERLIN, April 18. — Reichstag leaders who recently led the fight for a more vigorous prosecution of the submarine war are preparing to take a hand in the new German-American crisis, it was learned today.

They will oppose to the utmost any further concessions to the United States. If necessary, they will break the truce raised upon a short time ago and direct open critici sm against the Government, if there are any signs that Germany intends to alter her submarine policies again to conform to President Wilson's wishes.

MINISTRY IS SPLIT OVER COMPULSION

Premier Asquith Postpones Statement to House of Commons

RESIGNATION RUMORS PERSIST

Issue Lies Between Lloyd George and Moderate Section

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From Our London Correspondent (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur street, London, April 18. —The air is still thick with rumors of Ministerial resignations, upon a decision by the majority of the Cabinet against compulsion of married men. Mr. Lloyd George's name is especially mentioned. He has repeatedly declared to his friends that he would resign if the Cabinet finally decides against compulsion.

Arthur Henderson, representing labor in the Cabinet, says, on the other hand, that he will resign if further compulsion is adopted.

Two things already seem certain, one is that Premier Asquith's Cabinet will survive the present storm, even if Mr. Lloyd George and perhaps one or two other Ministers resign. The other is that the compulsion of unattested married men is most unlikely.

In all 487,000 married men have already attested voluntarily. Mr. Asquith is understood to see his way to obtaining a million more men for the army by moderate measures which the majority of the Cabinet favor. This, they say, is the utmost posible diversion of men, seeing the urgent industrial necessities of the country, especially in regard to Admiralty and mercantile shipbuilding.

David Pinkney, a well-known London shipbroker, says the total dead-weight tonnage, that is, carrying capacity, recently lost, namely 3,000,000 tons, must be made up by imitation of the methods applied by President Lincoln in the American Civil War, namely, a complete blockade of Germany by the entire stoppage of all neutral supplies, bringing them to British, French, and Italian ports, and so divesting to Allied needs, the shipping now used in German interests.

WINDERMERE.

CABINET'S FATE IN BALANCE.

Special Star Cable by United Press

LONDON, April 18.—The fate of the present Coalition Cabinet rests on the outcome of a final conference on the conscription issue held before Parliament met today.

Rumors are flying that the Minister of Munitions, David Lloyd George the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Bonar Law, and Lord Curzon, are about to resign. Nothing definite is known except that the Cabinet failed yesterday afternoon to adopt Mr. Lloyd George's suggestion to adopt general conscription at once, and that the meeting adjourned with the Ministry badly split, and Premier Asquith holding the upper hand.

Mr. Lloyd George told his colleagues that the Allies' chances of winning the war are seriously threatened by a shortage of men. He pointed to the large reserves of Germans now massed opposite the British lines, and urged the Government at once to summon to the colors all men, both single and married, who can possibly be spared.

Premier Asquith, who was expected to make a complete statement on the conscription issue in Parliament this afternoon has postponed his statement until later in the week it was officially announced this morning.

The special meeting of Cabinet this morning was called in an effort to reconcile the divergent elements. In anti-Ministerial quarters it was reported that Mr Lloyd George would accept no compromise.

Besides the Cabinet meeting there was a conference of the special committee appointed to make a final effort to bring about a solution of the problem, but like that of the Cabinet, it was unable to reach an agreement, and a postponement of the Premier's statement became imperative unless an immediate break-up of the coalition was to be faced.

The special committee consisted of David Lloyd George, the Minister of Munitions, who, putting all his old principles behind him, has come out strongly for compulsory service for all men of military age; Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, secretary of State for War, who also favors conscription; General Sir William Robertson, who is expected to follow the course of his chief; Walter Hume Long, president of the Local Government Board, representing the Unionist members in the Cabinet, and Arthur Henderson, president of the Board of Education, who, like the Labor Party, is opposed to any further extension of compulsion.

Clemenceau Speaks Out Britain Must Furnish Men Needed He Says

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 18. — The New York World today publishes the following special cable.

"GENEVA, April 17. — An impression of increasing dissatisfaction on the part of France with England because of the latter's military inactivity and failure to make a move to relieve the pressure at Verdun is created by excerpts from the French press.

"The meaningless exchange of phrases and empty talk of mutual admiration of England and France must come to an end," writes Clemenceau in his Homme Enchaine.

"I am astounded that the London Cabinet is deliberately deferring universal service, and does not want to comprehend that a postponement for one month could seal defeat.

"Despite the situation in France whose last reserves are shedding their blood, Premier Asquith remains quiet and feeds us with words.

"No, this cannot continue longer. It is now a case for immediate action in order that good troops may reach the battlefield at the right moment.

"The question for England is, 'Are you determined, as we are, to stake everything on one card?' In that event be quick, today if possible, else it may be too late.

"Call immediately and place at your head Lord Curzon, the only Englishman who embodies English energy, and no longer stupefy the people with phrases. Your action reminds one of the cinema films, which show only apparent or illusory, not real, action.

"Our soldiers are falling. Their relief is necessary. We need soldiers for the final victory. England must furnish them."

OFFICE TO CLOSE.

BRITISH STEAMER ZENT SUNK WITHOUT SLIGHTEST WARNING

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 18, 2:33 p.m.—An announcement was issued by the Admiralty today corroborating the previous unofficial statement that the British steamer Zent, sunk early this month, was torpedoed without warning. The statement is as follows:

"The British steamer Zent, unarmed, was sunk by a torpedo from a submarine on April 5, without any warning whatever. She never saw the submarine.

"She sank in a very few minutes, and consequently forty-nine lives were lost."

Press despatches at the time said fifty men lost their lives. Ten were landed at Queenstown.

CANADIAN MEETS IMMELMANN IN AERIAL CONTEST

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From Our London Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE 17 Cockspur street, London, April 18. The honor of having a fight with Germany's air idol, Immelmann, which came out a draw and must have made the Hun aviator thank fur-lously, goes to a Canadian in the Royal Flying Corps. It is impossible to mention his name, but I may say that he is a captain who recently gained the Legion of Honor, is British born, and was for many years in a Montreal broker's office.

He climbed to seventeen thousand feet in a new type of machine that is quite the equal of the much-advertised Fokker. Over the German lines, about seven thousand feet up were two slower British machines, dodging anti-aircraft shells.

As was expected, Immelmann started to climb well behind the Hun aerodrome, hoping to be successful in his usual swooping tactics. At about twelve thousand feet he hovered over the British slower machines, ready for a sudden dash.

Then, with a whirr, the Canadian used Immelmann's own tactics, swooping down to nearly one hundred yards of the Hun and firing with all his might, but with no luck.

Immelmann changed his mind about the slower machines and swooped down westward until about three thousand feet and under the protection of the German guns when he saw the fast British machine climbing again he decided the battle was off for the day.

"Some bus I've got now," says the captain, and from other Canadian airmen I learn that he really has an equal of the Fokker in speed and climbing powers.

Canadian aviators are doing well at the front, though, according to this captain, they are too ready to take chances. In one crack battle squadron there are five Canadian-born pilots.

AMERICANS LIKELY TO LEAVE MEXICO WITHIN A MONTH

Special to The Montreal Star.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Official Washington wholly discredits the report from Carranza sources of Villa's death, which yesterday passed without any confirmatory advices from army officers or State Department agents.

A despatch from Casas Grandes says there was trouble between United States troops and Mexican civilians there yesterday afternoon. The communication is without details.

Special to The Montreal Star by Carl D. Groat, of the United Press

WASHINGTON, April 18. — Withdrawal of American forces from Mexico within the next month is likely. Such action may be taken without accomplishing the original mandate—"Get Villa"—but the step will not be made until War Department orders to break up Villa's band is fulfilled or until Carranzistas are fully able to take up the chase.

The United Press learns today that although no change in policy has yet been determined, the Administration at least gives thought to the possibility of withdrawal without Villa's death or capture. Moreover, from various reliable sources comes the indication that the end of the hunt is in sight.

This Government feels that already it has accomplished an enormous task. It has driven Villa and his men 400 miles beyond the border, it has robbed Villa of any glorification among his folk for being the first Mexican in about a half century to invade the United States and kill "Gringoes." It has minimized the likelihood of any revolution in the Northern Mexican States, has virtually assured against border raids for some time to come, and has practically accomplished the task of scattering Villa's bands.

DEATH REPORT DOUBTED.

Reports of Villa's death are taken with considerable salt in the absence of American confirmation.

Press reports of trouble between American soldiers and civilians at Casas Grandes troubled officials, though they had no confirmation early today.

Requests from Gen. Funston for considerable additional re-inforcements and for a better supply system seem likely. The question is whether the expedition may not be limited to its present territory, thus avoiding need for such requests.

Mexican reports and policy came in for some consideration in the Cabinet meeting. Particularly the members considered what course to pursue in the situation created by the Carranzistas firing on the Americans at Parral.

American Officers Were Fired on Near Gen. Pershing's Camp

By Canadian Press.

CAMP OF GEN J. J. PERSHING AT THE FRONT, April 17.—by motor and wireless to Columbus, N.M., April 18. The American pursuit of Villa is at a standstill because of the unprovoked attack upon American cavalrymen by the insubordinate soldiers of the Carranza garrison at Parral.

A small party of American officers was fired upon near here last night. None of the Americans were injured. This, coming at the heels of other reports of snipings is responsible for the belief that the expeditionary command is confronted with a serious problem.

PERSHING'S TRAIN FIRED ON.

COLUMBUS, N.M., April 18. A motor train carrying Gen. Pershing, commander of the expeditionary forces and with his escort, was fired on during a drive at night from Satevo to the wireless station at Namiquipa, according to reports received here.

GERMANS RENEW ATTACK IN MASS FORMATION AT VERDUN, GAINING LITTLE

British Lines on Tigris Withdrawn Before Series of Heavy Turkish Counter-Attacks—French Airmen Make Successful Attack on Bulgar Headquarters—Explosion at Wilhelmshaven

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 18.—A Reuter despatch from Copenhagen says:

"A despatch to the Kieler-Zeitung from Wilhelmshaven says there was a great explosion on Friday night last in the new torpedo works there, a number of persons being killed and others wounded.

"The works were recently finished, and were inspected by Emperor William on February 25."

By Canadian Press.

SALONIKA, April 17, via Paris, April 18.—Twenty-two French aeroplanes bombarded the headquarters of the Bulgarian staff at Doiran at three o'clock this morning. The raid was an entire success, the French officers say.

A German squadrilla which attempted to engage the bombarding French aeroplanes was attacked by special French rapid fighting machines, which forced the Huns to abandon the attack.

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 18, 1:45 p.m.—British lines on the south bank of the Tigris in Mesopotamia have been forced back by the Turks for a distance in some places of from 500 yards to 800 yards, says an official statement given out today by the official Press Bureau.

The text of the official statement says:

"Lieut.-Gen. Sir Percy Lake (commander of the British forces in Mesopotamia) reports that on the night of April 17-18 a series of heavy counter-attacks were delivered on the right (south) bank of the Tigris. Our lines were in places forced back some 500 to 800 yards."

VERDUN ONSLAUGHT RENEWED

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 18.—After six days' rest while effectives were made up and stocks of ammunition replenished, the Germans have again begun concentrated attacks upon different points of the French defenses at Verdun.

The first point selected was the one-mile section between the Meuse and Douaumont, which forms a salient that seriously impedes the enemy. It includes the famous Pepper Hill.

Approaches to this position are further enfiladed by the French batteries on the west bank of the Meuse, and it was with the view to facilitating operations against the salient that the Germans made their recent offensive against Cumieres and Dead Man Hill.

That having failed, they now are trying the effect of direct wearing tactics, employing dense masses of infantry in small spaces, but so far with little success.

The net result of their efforts has been the gain of a small salient west of Douaumont which, the French found out, is unimportant.

FIVE HUN DIVISIONS ATTACK

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 18, 12:01 p.m. — French first-line trenches in the Verdun region west of the Meuse, from Dead Man's Hill to Cumieres, were bombarded yesterday by the Germans. East of the river relative calm prevailed during the night.

Yesterday the attack between Douaumont and the Meuse was very violent. The German forces included troops from five different divisions. East of the Chauffour salient the Germans penetrated a front-line trench, but were partially ejected.

The French official report given out this afternoon, says:

"On the left bank of the river Meuse there has been a bombardment of our first line positions between Le Mort Homme and Cumieres. On the right bank of the river the night passed in relative quiet.

"It has been confirmed that the German attack delivered yesterday between the Meuse and the Douaumont region took on a character of extreme violence. Further information is to the effect that this offensive action was conducted by troops belonging to five different divisions.

"In the east salient of the Chauffour Wood the enemy penetrated our first line trench, but from this position he was in part driven out by a counter-attack.

"In the Woevre district there has been in artillery duel in the sector of Montaiville. To the south of Bande Saint a German reconnaissance which was endeavoring to approach the trenches in the direction of Hermaupere, to the northeast of St. Dje, was repulsed with hand grenades.

"During the night of April 17 aeroplanes of the enemy threw down seven bombs, one of them being an incendiary missile, on Belfort. It has been reported that two persons were killed and six wounded. The material damage was not important."

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star from our London Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur street, London, April 18. — Today's casualties include eighty-one officers, of whom thirty-three are dead, 969 men, of whom 287 are dead. The regiments suffering most are the Royal Field Artillery, Royal Engineers, Manchesters, East Yorkshires, West Yorkshires, Gordon Highlanders, Sherwood Foresters, Northumberland Fusiliers, Leicestershires and West Kents.

Their relatives today announce that Sergeant Harold Welstead, of the Canadian Force, son of Dr. Welstead, of Dulwich, and Pte. Frederick Calderon, of the Canadian Machine Gun Section, son of the late Philip Calderon, R.A., killed in action.

Among the British officers killed are Lieut.-Cols. D. Lewis, a distinguished member of the Royal Flying Corps, and A. Ferguson Davie, who had seen much service on the Indian frontier.

U-BOAT SINKS RUSSIAN SHIP, CREW IS SAVED

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 18.—According to a despatch to Lloyds the Russian barque Schwanden, which left Greenock, Scotland, March 22, for Mobile, Ala., has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine.

The crew of the barque was saved. Regarding the Holland-American freighter Eemdijk, which arrived at Southampton, April 11, in a damaged condition as the result of an explosion, an Admiralty statement says:

"The Dutch steamer Eemdijk was torpedoed by an enemy submarine on April 7, whilst on a passage from Baltimore to Rotterdam. She had the Dutch colors painted on her sides in four different places and also carried a rigid painted ensign at the foremast head, a painted rigid house flag at the mainmast head, her name and port of register in large white letters on her sides.

"The ship did not sink and has been beached in England. Careful examination by experts has been made of fragments of steel and brass which were found embedded in the ship, which are undoubtedly portions of a torpedo."

CLOAK-AND-SUIT COMEDY A VASTLY ENTERTAINING ONE

"Potash and Perlmutter" is Full of Opulent Wit

Many thousands of people must have acquired a keen liking for Montagu Glass's droll Hebrew partners in the cloak-and-suit trade, Potash and Perlmutter. They are almost national characters in the United States. Through the medium of Mr. Glass's very human sketches, they have been brought close to many of us, and we have laughed ourselves almost to tears over their drolleries, and found ourselves sympathising deeply with them in their troubles.

This was in print. Now Montrealers have an opportunity of meeting them embodied in stage characters. The faithfulness and the sheer humanity of Montagu Glass's portrayal stand the test well. Potash and Perlmutter, on the stage, do not seem to us mere puppets; they live. They are exactly what we expected them to be. Their drolleries are the same; their wit is the same; their individualities are what we had pictured them; and they are intensely and appealingly human.

• • •

It is not Potash and Perlmutter alone, however, who interest us. The comedy contains a wide range of types and the majority of them are limned with more than average skill and fidelity. There is, for instance, a "shark" lawyer who has his double by the thousand; there is a bookagent wholly delicious in his impossible imposture; there is a carter we could match easily enough here in Montreal; there is a typical typewriter; and there are half dozen more or less lay figures who fit into the picture perfectly because they are not overdrawn.

The comedy is slim enough in structure, but it has been deftly built. It moves smoothly, leisurely, but we are never in a hurry. The humor is unctuous; the action is complete accord. There is, from first to last, not a line, not a feature one would wish altered. The whole play is devoid of vulgarity. Beneath the surface we find Abe Potash and Mawruss Perlmutter sterling characters, in whom the salient keenness of their race has not eliminated the milk of human kindness.

No more entertaining comedy has been seen in Montreal for a long long time. Those who fail to see it will have missed something well worth seeing, because it is an excellent tonic for a people laboring under the shadow of a Titinic strain, such as the Dominion is meeting today.

• • •

In such a comedy, efficient acting to type is the main essential. In this regard, the company appearing at His Majesty's theatre acquits itself with distinction. Harry First's study of Mawruss Perlmutter is marked by many a subtle touch of expression, gesture, intonation; the same can be said of the portrait of Abe Potash which Phil White draws.

Harry Hanlon depicts Henry D. Feldman — not the Feldman of the Glass stories, by the way, — as a clever, unscrupulous lawyer with facility and conviction. T. S. James contributes a clever little study of a book-agent, and Maurice Barret as the irrepressible buyer, Marks Pasinsky, radiates cheerfulness.

Miss Janet Fearnley is a statuesque beauty who can act. She plays Ruth Goldman, the designer, with an easy grace that suits the role well. Helen Salinger has a rich comedy role as Mrs. Potash; and Harriet Gustin makes a natural typewriter. The minor parts are adequately filled.

The staging and setting add to the attractiveness of the comedy. It is not built on lines that meet all the requirements of dramatic standards, perhaps, but it IS amusing and it IS a thoroughly satisfying entertainment.

ORPHEUM TURNS VERY EXCELLENT TAKEN IN PARTS

Like the curate's egg, the Orpheum program this week is good, very good even, in parts.

Long Tack Sam and his Chinese troupe, which includes two very pretty little girls, over whom all the ladies raved last night, provide a complete vaudeville entertainment in themselves. A little thing like needle swallowing, which takes Houdini half an hour, a glass of water and about a dozen assistants to do, the Chinese juggler equilibrist and what else you will, does just to fill in an odd moment. It is strange, too, to see a Celestial in flowing robes sing a song of today to a ragtime accompaniment. Stranger still to see two Chinese ladies, with their hair fastened on to ropes hanging from the flies, swing round and round, and appear to enjoy it. One thing is sure that the ladies' hair is genuine. Rounded off with a patter that ranges in dialect from Piccadilly to Hong Kong by way of Canada and the United States, the performance is the most remarkable and comprehensive that the Orpheum audiences, satiated with tight wire acts et hoc genus omne has seen for a long time.

THE ANIMAL ACT.

There's an animal act. Generally animal acts are to be regretted. Without going into detail, Derkins dog pantomine is a wonderful canine parody of human life, even taking in the gentleman who "is blind when it's his turn to buy."

Bert Kailman and Jessie Brown have a pretty nursery story act which will delight all who have families of children.

"The Visitor" is the last word in the impossible but it is entertaining. It is a sketch in which a district attorney of a variety that fortunately for the community is never seen off the stage and another figure. The climax is good.

The three Stewart sisters have a novel set of dances from the London "halls." Agility rather than art is the keynote but there is some clever pantomimic work.

Hinchie Blaney sings descriptive songs and gets away with them. He has a very fine one of the sacred order, about peace. He ran out of verses to meet the encores to the one comic song he gave.

Julia Curtis a lady with an amazing amount of voice she can sing in four of them bass treble mezzo and contralto gave an exhibition of her powers.

Last out not least were Santly and Norton singers of the "nut" variety. They cannot be described but most decidedly should be seen and heard.

BURLESQUE IS LIKE GOOD MUSIC COMEDY

Burlesque along musical comedy lines is the impression derived from "The Merry Rounders" at the Gayety this week. In a two-act revue, entitled "This Is the Life," comprising ten scenes, there are many of the finer and lighter touches of light comedy in scenery, costumes and songs, which stand out in contrast to the heavier but entirely wholesome burlesque elements, making the whole a rare and original presentation.

The elaborate and effective settings are new and striking. The black and white scheme of "Tangoland" and the beautiful shaded and delicate colors of the roof garden and the reception room in the last scene, are the most pleasing. The costumes are in many instances an innovation to the burlesque stage, and much attention has been paid to the selection of the principals' voices.

Abe Reynolds and George F. Hayes, working either singly or in combination, are extremely humorous in their patter and their antics.

The musical numbers are as numerous and pleasing as they are well sung and appreciated. "The Merry Rounders Sextette" is heard to advantage in several pleasing selections.

Contrary to announcements, it is expected the Gayety will remain open for another two weeks.

"THE ONLY GIRL" AGAIN PLEASING AT THE PRINCESS

With practically the same cast that presented the piece here early in March, the musical and comic musical comedy "The Only Girl" returns to the Princess this week. The return engagement of the Herbert-Blossom musical farce was greeted by a large audience last night, proving that Montreal has kindly memories of the former appearance.

It is something of a novelty to find a musical comedy of recent vintage that lives up to the description. From the amusing farce by Frank Mandel, "Our Wives," Henry Blossom has, with his usual felicity, evolved a clever little plot concerning the adventures of a skirt-proof librettist, who collaborates on an opera with a girl composer who promises to be nothing but a machine." Despite the horrible examples offered in the persons of three married friends and their wives, the "machine" collaborators mutually capitulate at the end of the piece, of course.

The lines are clever, and there is sufficient humor in them to cover the cynicism. Victor Herbert has again succeeded in producing a number of lyrics that satisfy, and if the present company might be improved upon in various directions, does at least give a pleasing performance.

The only change in the cast of principals is Helen Tyler, who takes the place of Ruth Thorpe in the role of Ruth Wilson, the composer. Miss Tyler is not a great singer, but she is a mighty dainty lady, sufficiently so to make the surrender of a "machine" librettist quite convincing.

The bill for next week is a return engagement of "Britain Prepared," the remarkable series of moving pictures showing the preparedness of Britain's army and navy.

The Western Hospital AN APPEAL

The Western Hospital, Montreal, now regarded as one of our leading philanthropic institutions is in need of help and has decided to organize a Relief Campaign beginning in May.

The Western Hospital has made no organized appeal to the public for many years.

The deficits from year to year has now reached a total of over $50,000.00

To avoid curtailing the work of the Hospital this sum together with enough to meet current expenses must be raised.

The Hospital covers all that large area West of Windsor Street and the Emergency Work alone is only exceeded probably by one other Hospital.

The campaign will commence on May 1st, returnable May 15th.

The Manufacturers, Governors and General Public will be canvassed.

On May 1st and 2nd, the Trinity Players will give a two-night's performance at His Majesty's Theatre of Sir A. W. Pinero's "Thunderbolt."

On Saturday, May 6th, a Hospital Saturday on the lines of those held in London, England, will be held, the permission of both the Cities of Montreal and Westmount having been obtained.

On Sunday, May 14th, a special collection will be made in the West End Churches.

SECRETARY OF VON PAPEN PUT UNDER ARREST

"Man Higher Up" in Bomb Plot Case Handcuffed by U. S. Secret Service Agents—Puts Up Sharp Fist Fight Before Subdued

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Wolf von Igle, secretary to Capt. Franz von Papen, recalled German military attache, was arrested in his office at 60 Wall street by agents of the Department of Justice, today after a lively fight. Four special agents overpowered von Igle, when he attempted to get away.

Von Igle was indicted yesterday with von Papen, Capt. Hans Tauscher, husband of Mme. Gadski, and others in connection with plots to blow up the Welland Canal and put bombs upon Allied ships. His name was kept secret until today, however.

Agents of the Department of Justice called at von Igle's yesterday, but is was said he was out of town. Today von Igle at first refused to admit Joe Baker, assistant to William Offley, head of the Department's investigating bureau, and his three deputies. Baker finally convinced him they were coming in, forcibly, if necessary, and the door was opened.

Von Igle hurried to the safe as Baker and his men entered, slammed the door and threw on the combination, locking it. Von Igle declared he would not surrender Embassy papers. Failing to secure documents he expected to take from the safe, Baker ordered von Igle to come with him. Von Igle endeavored to escape. Before he had gone far toward the door Baker and his three assistants were upon him. They struggled about the office, overturning furniture, but the agents soon gained the upper hand and marched the secretary away.

Von Igle will be arraigned laetr today, when his bail will be fixed.

Special Star Cable by United Press.

NEW YORK, April 18. — Capt. Franz von Papen, recalled German military attache, was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury yesterday afternoon for alleged participation in the plot to blow up the Welland Canal in Canada.

Capt. Hans Tauscher, husband of Madame Gadski, grand opera singer, Alfred F. Fritzen, and two others whose names have not been revealed, were also indicted.

The indictments were returned before Federal Judge H. B. Howe.

Von Papen is in Germany and beyond the jurisdiction of the United States courts.

This is the first time that Von Papen has been named in any formal charge in any of the Federal or State investigations of alleged plots framed by Teutonic agents, though his name and that of Capt. Boy-Ed have been mentioned frequently.

The five alleged conspirators are charged with having set on foot in the United States an enterprise injurious to a foreign country at peace with the United States, in plotting to destroy the Canadian canal.

JEWS' PASSOVER BEING OBSERVED EVERYWHERE NOW

The Feast of the Passover was ushered in last night, with elaborate ceremonies in every Jewish home all over the world. The Haggadah was recited and the traditional four cups of wine were drunk.

The Seder, the Hebrew name for the Passover commemorates the deliverance of Israel's firstborn from the judgment brought on those of the Egyptians and the wonderful liberation of the Hebrews from Egyptian bondage. The feast lasts eight days, commencing last night at sunset. The first and last two days are set aside for holy convocation, no work being permitted for those days except such as is necessary for preparing food.

The Seder, or Passover night service, is one of the most beautiful of all Jewish ceremonies. Everything is symbolic of the history of the race, the arrangement of the table, the special unleavened cakes, the four cups of wine, and the special goblet set aside for Elijah the prophet, who is supposed to visit every house on that night. Special verses and melodies in Hebrew and Chaldee are sung.

SPECIAL FUND.

The service opens with the time-honored declaration: "Let all who are hungry enter and eat, and all who are needy come and celebrate." No one is allowed to go hungry during the week of Passover. A special Passover fund is raised in every Jewish community, to provide food for the poor.

On the night before the advent of Passover, the necessity of removing from the Jewish house all bread and other compositions which are technically included under the head Chometz, leaven, causes a spring cleaning which usually begins with the observant Israelite several weeks before the festival. Not only is the consumption of leaven prohibited during the Passover but its mere presence in the house is considered unlawful. Each room is subjected to a thorough cleaning and scouring, and the crevices and corners which may at other times be passed by are now explored for stray crusts and crumbs.

Miss Armour, matron of the Hebrew Sheltering and Orphanage Home on Evans street, has made extensive preparations for those who may wish to take advantage of the institution's hospitality during the Passover. There will be special suppers for both the orphans and the aged tonight.

To Lease Interned Hun Ships to Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 18. — It is officially announced that Germany has authorized shipping companies to lease to Brazil, for coast service and for the length of the war only, three steamships interned at Brazilian ports, under condition that Brazil obtain from the Entente Allies a guarantee that these ships will not be captured nor attacked.

SIR SAM HUGHES ASSERTS HE WILL STICK AND FIGHT

Minister of Militia Has No Intentions of Resigning Under Fire

INTEREST CENTRES ON SPEECH TODAY

General Denial Expected—G. G. Foster Added to His Counsel

Special to The Montreal Star by Our Own Correspondent

OTTAWA, April 18.—Parliament is on the qui vive today in anticipation of the statement by Gen. Sir Sam Hughes in the House this afternoon in defence of the Shell Committee and the fuse contracts which are to be the subject of judicial inquiry. Nothing else is talked of.

The General is not expected to speak at great length and there is a possibility that his statement will be read. That it will be prepared with caution is indicated by the fact that all this morning the General was closeted with his lawyers, going over his statement and also the case generally.

The services of an additional lawyer have been enlisted in the person of G. G. Foster, K.C., of Montreal, who will act in conjunction with the Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, Eugene Lafleur, K.C., and John E. Ewart, K.C.

DETAILED EXPLANATION UNLIKELY.

The Minister's declaration this afternoon is expected to be in general terms, denying any knowledge of wrong-doing or impropriety and upholding the transactions as in the public interest.

He will say that he wants full investigation. He is unlikely to go into detailed explanation.

Though there is some doubt on the point, it is anticipated pretty generally that the Minister of Militia will state that he has asked to be relieved of administering the Department during the progress of the inquiry.

Again today the Prime Minister was silent on this point, remarking simply that a statement will be made in the House this afternoon. In view of the fact that the point is to be dealth with by the Minister, the conclusion is drawn that something is in the wind.

Reports which have been circulated as to his resignation, temporary or otherwise, are, however, wholly unfounded. He says he intends to stick and fight.

In addition to his counsel, another caller at the Department today was E. R. Carrington, head of the Thiel Detective Agency, who since the war began has been close to the Minister of Militia.

REAL PROBE NEXT WEEK.

The Meredith-Duff Commission will be here tomorrow formally to start the inquiry. It is presumed that the initial sitting will be devoted to calling for the production of papers, summoning witnesses and making arrangements for the real investigation to begin next week.

I. N. Hellmuth, K.C., counsel for the Government, is here and conferred this morning with the Minister of Justice.

Not the least interesting bit of information is the announced coming of Col. Allison. He wired that he would be in Ottawa last week but failed to arrive. That he is coming, however, is the assertion of George F. Henderson, K.C., of Ottawa, who has been retained as his counsel.

"Col. Allison will come whenever he gets a wire from me to do so," said Mr. Henderson today.

"The facts are that he has not been well. He was bothered by interviewers and his doctors advised him to go where it was quiet. You are free to state that he is at the Hotel Nassau, Long Beach, Long Island.

"The Colonel will be prepared to explain everything."

MINISTER IS CONFIDENT.

The Minister of Militia expressed supreme confidence as to the outcome of the inquiry, but to see that his interests are adequately protected he is taking the precautions of enlisting four lawyers of eminence.

FIVE KILLED, OVER THIRTY INJURED IN NEW HAVEN WRECK

Gilt Edge Express Crashes Into Stalled Local at Bradford, R.I

By Canadian Press.

BRADFORD, R.I., April 18.—Search of the wreckage resulting from the rear-end collision of two trains on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad here last night, is still in progress today, in an effort to determine whether it contained any bodies in addition to those of the five persons who are known to have lost their lives.

It is the opinion of many persons who were at the scene during the night that at least three other passengers had been unable to extricate themselves from the burning mass.

The known dead were:—

Thomas Broadman, Westerly R.I., employe of the Bradford Dye Association.

Miss Jeanette Clark, Westerly, R.I., daughter of William Clark, President of the Westerly Mill of the American Thread Company.

Margaret Bliss, address unknown.

William Barber, Westerly, carpenter.

Mrs. Oscar Martelle, Southbridge, Mass., died in hospital at New London.

MORE THAN THIRTY INJURED.

More than thirty other persons were injured, most of them suffering from cuts, bruises or shock.

All the victims were occupants of the rear car of a local train, which had started to run on a siding in front of the Bradford station when the Gilt Edge express, from Boston, crashed into it.

Coals from the express locomotive and the explosion of a gas tank on the bottom of the coach set fire to the wreckage, and the flames spread so rapidly that the station and freight house were destroyed, with four wooden coaches of the local train.

The passengers had much difficulty in climbing out of the demolished car, and those who lost their lives were badly burned.

As there is no fire department, no adequate fight could be made against the flames until the arrival of apparatus from Westerly, six miles distant. A wrecking train was sent from New London and physicians came on another train from Providence.

Minor injuries were treated and several persons were taken to a hospital at New London.

No one was injured on the express, which was backed to a junction, and proceeded to New York soon after the accident.

Trainmen were at variance in their statements as to the signals set against the express after the local train, detained here by engine trouble, had been ordered to take the siding.

They agreed that the signal nearest the local was set for danger, but the engineer of the express, Charles H. Mansfield, said that the signal next behind this showed a clear track ahead, and that when he caught sight of the "home" light shining through the thick fog it was too late to stop his train.

Mansfield was in a wreck at Stonington Junction, July 25, 1912, in which three men were killed and four were injured. He was one of the more seriously hurt at that time, and was off duty for several months.

ENGINEER DETAINED.

Mansfield remained here today, not under restraint, but with the understanding that he was not to leave until the several investigations had been completed.

An inquiry by the Public Utilities Commission of Rhode Island was well under way, a special agent having been early on the scene with his assistants to take statements from witnesses for use in an effort to place responsibility for the wreck. The coroner's inquest probably will be held this afternoon.

Supplementing its earlier investigation, the New Haven road today, through Mr. Litchfield, superintendent of the New London division, attempted to gain further information as to the exact cause of the wreck.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The official report of the Bradford wreck from the General Manager, C. L. Bardo, given out here today, follows:

"There was some fog at the time. No. 633, the local passed Wood River Junction nine minutes ahead of No. 25, the "Gilt Edge" and stopped at Bradford three minutes before No. 25 was due there.

No. 25 was four minutes late at Auburn and Wood River Junction. Engineer Mansfield in charge of No. 25, states he was running about fifty miles an hour, that the distance signal east of Bradford, which is of the electric semi-automatic type, was clear and that he saw both the home signal, the flagman and rear end of 633 all about the same time.

TWO GALLANT FRENCH-CANADIANS

LIEUT. P. L. BROWNE.

CORP. P. LAMBERT, D.C.M.

The Canadian eye-witness bears testimony to the bravery of the 22nd Battalion in his description of the fighting at St. Eloi. Lieut Browne, who lived at 2050 Waverley street, was in charge of a machine gun in the front line, and continued to fire his gun until it was put out of action, but before this occurred a number of Germans had been killed at close range. With his detachment of six men Lieut. Browne then withdrew in the direction of the second line. On the way barbed wire was encountered. While crossing it the party was shot at by Germans who had interposed on the line of retreat. Four of the party were killed, but having crossed the wire Lieut. Browne met a few more of the 22nd, who had been cut off from their trench, and with these reinforcements, charged the point from which he had been fired at. Twelve Germans were found there, one of whom was an officer. All twelve were clubbed to death, the officer being attacked and killed by Pte. Simoneau. Lieut. Browne eventually reached the trenches with his party. Of his original detachment of six there remained but two.

Lance-Corp. Lambert, who had already earned the D.C.M. and the Medaille Militaire, was reported missing after the battle.

LACASSE AND ROY EQUALLY GUILTY, SENTENCE PUT OFF

Judge Bazin Severe in His Condemnation — Two Real Estate Agents Sent to Jail Pending Hearing of Motion for a Reserve Case

Eugene Lacasse and J. H. Fernadeau Roy, partners in the realty firm of Lacasse and Roy, with offices on St. James street, were found guilty by Judge Bazin this morning of conspiring to defraud the Sterling Bank of Canada of $7,300. Immediately after his Lordship had pronounced judgment, Peter Bercovitch, K.C., counsel for Lacasse, asked for a reserve case, particularly on behalf of his client. Judge Bazin consented to postpone sentence until next Tuesday, but cancelled the bail at which the two have been at liberty during the trial.

Roy showed nervousness from the start, and the tears came to his eyes frequently. Lacasse, who sat apart from his partner, was absolutely impassive until the end, when he, too, wept. The two were taken out from the courtroom to the cells, to be removed to Bordeaux Jail this afternoon.

Judge Bazin made a bitter criticism of the partners' treatment of J. M. Cauchon, the accountant of the bank, from whom they obtained advances during the absence of Basil Walker, the manager, who had refused them a credit account.

"Roy has told us," said his Lordship, "that Cauchon did not make a cent on these transactions. It would seem that he won Cauchon's confidence rather than bought his complicity, and this all his actions go to prove. As far as Lacasse is concerned, I do not see how he can be less, guilty, although Roy has produced an affidavit to the effect that he alone looked after the financial end of the firm's business. I cannot see how a man could sign cheques upon a bank where he had no funds with honest intention. I cannot accept Roy's statement that he understood that Cauchon was so able legitimately to dispose of the bank's money. What was Cauchon's motive I do not know. But it was not an acceptable one. The whole business is a case of the most revolting trickery. Roy talked of explanations. There was only he could have given, and that was 'for the past three months we have been robbing you systematically with Cauchon's help.' I have no hesitation whatever in pronouncing both of the accused equally guilty."

Early in 1915 Lacasse and Roy deposited $480 with the Sterling Bank. This dwindled down to fifteen cents, and it was then that their cheque manipulations commenced, after Mr. Walker had refused them a credit account. By November 11 cheques had been "kited" to such an extent that the firm owed the bank $7,300.

The cheques were handed in to Cauchon, who gave cash for them, and carried them as cash on hand. Finally, on November 9, he asked Roy to make him out four freshly dated cheques to cover the old ones, amounting in value to $7,300. Roy sent the cheque over, and the next day Cauchon disappeared.

After he had tramped for days and ridden miles on freight trains, Cauchon was located in Chicago by Mr. Gadsden, Toronto representative of the New York Company that bonded him. Criminal proceedings against him and against Leslie G. Kastner, cashier of the bank, will be heard time, this afternoon this week, commencing, if there is

HIS REARREST REQUESTED.

Although Biddinger was held in $10,000 bail on Saturday morning by Judge Crain of General Sessions, awaiting the arrival of extradition papers, Assistant State's Attorney Walker of Cook County requested Inspector Cray late on Saturday afternoon to rearrest him.

Accompanied by Mr. Walker and A. Leo Weil, Corporation Attorney, the reform worker of Pittsburg, whose investigations of Biddinger's record as Detective Sergeant in the Chicago Police Department led to the charges, Inspector Cray's detectives went to the Holland House, where Biddinger resides.

As Biddinger stepped from the elevator car he was shown the extradition warrant and told he would be turned over to the Chicago officials at once.

Justice Cohalan of the Supreme Court issued the writ of habaes corpus which brought Biddinger before Justice Bijur yesterday, and which resulted in his release on $30,000 bail.

The merits of the entire matter will come up again before Justice Bijur at 2 o'clock next Friday afternoon, to which time the case was adjourned at the request of Biddinger's counsel, Moses L. Grossman.

The State of Illinois was represented by Assistant District Attorney Robert L. Johnstone and Isidore Kressel.

Mr. Johnstone opposed the granting of any bail whatever. He said that he did not think that it lay within the power of Justice Bijur to release Biddinger on bail until after the full hearing of the case.

GUY BIDDINGER RE-ARRESTED AND LATER RELEASED

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Guy Biddinger, who is wanted in Chicago on fifty-one charges for acts alleged to have been committed while he was a Detective Sergeant of the police force of that city at least eight years ago, was released yesterday by Justice Bijur of the Supreme Court upon $30,000 bail furnished by a surety company after an argument on a writ of habeas corpus.

Biddinger had previously been arrested for the second time and locked in a cell at police headquarters, where he had to spend the night.

THREE VERY YOUNG BOYS COMMIT THEFT

Three boys, aged twelve, eleven and seven years, were found guilty by Judge Choquet in the Juvenile Court yesterday of having broken into J. J. Joubert's store on Chabot st. and stealing paint and brushes. They were remanded for sentence later.

The youngest was before the Judge only a few weeks ago, charged with stealing empty bottles from the back of a store and running round to the front and selling them. The boys were arrested by Constables Maloney and Carducci.

SOLDIERS' WIVES.

An especially important meeting will be held at the Montreal Soldiers' Wives League at 53 Union avenue at 10:30 on Wednesday morning. All members are requested to attend.

TWENTY-TWO JOIN 148TH BATTALION, IN A SINGLE DAY

Recruiting for the 148th Battalion took an extremely good turn yesterday. During the day nineteen men were added to the strength, with three others sworn in and to return in the course of the next few days.

Yesterday afternoon the men were entertained by Mr. Speyte, who helped them spend a very interesting hour with recitations of both a serious and humorous nature. Last night a basketball game was played, the sergeants of the battalion having challenged the officers. The game was a good one, resulting in a win for the officers, the score being fourteen points to 6. Mr. Kearns of the M. A. A. A. refereed.

Amongst those taken on yesterday were:

A. W. Abbott, Montreal.
G. H. Meredith, Montreal.
C. Castella, Montreal.
H. A. Marshall, Montreal.
C. E. Morin, Clarenceville.
Victor Williams, Montreal.
L. D. Colthorpe.
F. B. Ryan, Brownsburg.
H. S. Wells, West Brome.
Charles Eason, Montreal.
Michael Reilley, Montreal.
John Brand, Montreal.
Tom Tolping, Montreal.
R. B. Smith, Montreal.
E. Braidwood, Montreal.
Thomas Moyce, Montreal.
A. L. Pichette, Montreal.
G. C. Giddings, Montreal.

The 148th Battalion Overseas will hold a regimental euchre and dance in Stanley Hall at eight o'clock this evening.

The patrons and patronesses are Sir William and Lady Peterson, Col. Robert and Mrs. Starke, the senior officers of the battalion, and their wives.

AUXILIARY BATTALION.

There will be another Auxiliary Battalion of the McGill C. O. T. C. this summer. The announcement is made that authorization has been received from Ottawa for the organization of the battalion, and Lieut.-Col. R. Starke, with Major McKergow, will start at once taking the preliminary steps. The battalion, which it is hoped will be 1,000 strong, is authorized for business men, to enable them to get some military training during the four months of summer. Last year the experiment was a great success, and under the able guidance of Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee (then Major) who is now commanding the 148th Overseas Battalion, a splendid course of training was gone through, the A. B. turning out at the end of its training as smart a battalion as any in the city.

VERDUN CHURCH'S UNIQUE RECORD OF RECRUITING

St. Clement's Has Honor Roll of 361 Names

IS UNVEILED BY GEN. WILSON

The Rev. F. L. Whitley Pays Tribute to Verdun's Sacrifice

To have 361 members of one church fighting for the Empire is the proud boast of the congregation of St. Clement's Church, Verdun, and in order to make a record of this splendid evidence of the patriotism of the male members of the congregation, an Illuminated roll of honor, containing their names has been prepared and hung in the church.

Brig. Gen. E. W. Wilson, C. O. C. of No. 4 Military District last evening attended a service held at the church and unveiled the honor roll, and there was a crowded congregation to take part in the special military service.

The Verdun Squadron of the 13th Scottish Dragoons and the Verdun Troop of Boy Scouts paraded to the church, and there were many returned soldiers and others who are soon going overseas present.

Capt. the Rev. F. L. Whitley, who is chaplain of the squadron of Dragoons, and the pastor of the church conducted the service, and after Gen Wilson had unveiled the roll the National Anthem was sung. Gen. Wilson gave a brief address in which he praised the patriotism that had been shown by the members of the congregation, not only the men who had so nobly gone to the front, but also the women who had made the sacrifices of letting their loved ones respond to the call of duty.

FALEN IN BATTLE.

The pastor also gave an address, in which he eulogised the memory of those who had fallen in battle, reading the names of the seven Verdun men who had made the supreme sacrifice as follows: Gunner Albert G. Penticost, 3rd C.F.A.; Gunner John Mawhinney, 3rd C.F.A.; Sapper A. Kirby, Royal Engineers, Pte. Arthur N. Leavitt, 23d Battalion; Pte. Hubert Rowland, 14th Battalion, Pioneer Alexander Donaldson, 13th Battalion, and Pte. L. Studwick, of the 42nd Battalion.

The services concluded with the sounding of the Last Post and the singing of Onward Christian Soldiers.

Brigadier-General Wilson was attended by Lieut.-Col. E. M. McRoede, D.S.O.; Capt. Knox-Leet, of the 13th Scottish Rangers, lately returned from the front and a former member of the parish, and Capt. Campbell Stewart. The 13th Scottish Dragoons were under the command of Lieut.-Col. Morris, and Lieutenants C. C. Ballantyne, James Shearer, George Ross, W. D. Smith, W. Craven, G. Ross-Sims, P. F. Mathias, H. D. Rolland and G. E. Bingham. The Boy Scouts were under the command of Scout Master Crow and Assistant Scout Masters Glinn and Harrison. The collection was taken up by Quartermaster-Sergt. Hodgson, of the 148th Battalion. Sergt. Armstrong, of the C.A.M.C., Pioneer Abbott, of the 5th Pioneer Battalion, and Pte. Conway, of the 148th Battalion. The server was Cadet Pollet, and "The Last Post" was sounded by Bugler Stevens, of the 148th Battalion.

REFERENDUM IS POSSIBLE WAY OUT OF IMPASSE

Special Meeting This Afternoon Deals with Justly Celebrated $2,000,000 Deficit — In Meantime Dust Nuisance Grows

There is no likelihood of the city's financial situation being bettered in any way at this afternoon's special meeting of the City Council, when reports left over from yesterday's financial meeting will be considered. Yesterday the council did not get to hear speeches and recited trimmings. Today the usual post-cay headache is in evidence in the form of the inevitable $2,000,000 deficit.

The aldermen in camera this morning talked from every angle, and did not see the way. They came to a decision on one point only that they will not adopt the Board of Control report for a loan of $2,000,000 secured by a special tax on real estate, to fall up the hole in the 1916 expenses. They may not kill the report outright, but they will not adopt it.

The general opinion is that the Board of Control will be asked to make a new report, devising other ways of raising the needed money. A counter proposal is that the loan and tax proposal be submitted to the people in the form of a referendum, the majority of the aldermen refusing to take the responsibility of passing such a measure.

To provide the referendum would require two months, and in the meantime various civic services, notably the street cleaning department, are crying aloud for money, and will not be comforted. It is suggested that in the mirst of the street cleaning be done with money diverted from sums voted for sewers and other works, but not yet spent.

There is another proposal also for the cleaning of the streets. That is to have the fire department wash down the streets at night. But the firemen will probably be heard from before this suggestion becomes a reality.

The City Council has a large accumulation of reports up today; but the probability is that most of them will be "next meetinged."

GERMAN BABIES BETTER FED NOW THAN EVER BEFORE

By Canadian Press.

THE HAGUE, via London, April 18. Samuel S. McClure, of New York, has arrived here after a three months' tour of Germany, Belgium, Poland, Austria-Hungary and Turkey.

Mr. McClure says he made it a point to investigate reports in circulation that German babies are dying from lack of milk. He characterizes these reports as ludicrously untrue. Far from its being true, he says, German babies were never in better health and infant mortality at the present time is lower than ever before in the history of the Empire.

The same thing is true with regard to school children and the people generally, because health conditions are now more closely watched by the Government.

The last quarter of 1915 shows a record low figure for infant mortality in Berlin of 11 per cent., compared with 13.6 per cent. for the third quarter of 1914.

Does Newspaper Advertising Pay?

A large paint manufacturer asked this question of retailers throughout the country:

NO. 1 SAID:

"We believe rightly conducted newspaper advertising to be one of the very best forms of advertising open to the retail dealer—perhaps to any dealer or manufacturer. We believe also that poorly conducted newspaper advertising means money nearly wasted.

"By rightly conducted we mean well written advertisements having the local flavor, written in view of local conditions and needs, well displayed, appearing but once or not to exceed twice in the same paper, that is, in one or two issues."

FRENCH SQUELCH ANOTHER GERMAN DRIVE AT VERDUN

Two Teuton Divisions Swept Back by Their Curtain of Fire

HUNS GAIN FOOTING AT ONLY ONE POINT

Russians Now But Little More Than 11 Miles from Trebizond

LONDON, April 18. The British official communication, issued this evening, says:

"There was heavy shelling today about Neuve-Chapelle and Festubert and also of the area between Ypres and the Ypres-Comines Canal. There was some artillery activity on the Souchez-Lens sector. Between the Ancre and the Somme our artillery was active in Carnoy and the Leuze Wood sectors, and in the Maricourt Wood and Montauban sectors. There has been nothing to report from the remainder of the front.

"Yesterday there was considerable local activity. One of our machines

EXPECT BIG ACTION AT YPRES.

Everything points to special activity on a large scale on the Anglo-French front around Ypres. For weeks mining activity of large proportions has marked the operations around St. Eloi, the south of Ypres. This activity is still going on, but during the last twenty-four hours has been supplemented by furious bombardments throughout this portion.

Heavy casualty lists particularly of officers, reported during the last ten days have added to the general feeling that a big battle is impending.

BRITISH HIT WAR MINISTRY.

In the British air attack on Constantinople Friday evening, two bombs dropped by the raiders burst in the War Ministry, according to a report from Saloniki forwarded by the Athens correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The despatch adds that another bomb burst in the powder factory of Makrekui, which blew up. There were numerous casualties.

NEW VERDUN ATTACK STOPPED

PARIS, April 18. The official communication, issued by the War Office last night, reads:

"Between the Aisne and the Oise our batteries shattered enemy trenches and shelters in the regions of Beuvraignes and Lassigny.

"In the Argonne destructive fires were directed on the German works north of La Harasee.

"At Vauquois one of our mines blew up a small enemy post, with its occupants.

"On the left bank of the Meuse the enemy artillery displayed great activity against Hill 304 and our second lines.

"On the right bank, after a bombardment of increasing violence, began in the morning against our positions from the Meuse as far as Douaumont, the Germans at about two o'clock launched a powerful attack with effectives of at least two divisions. The waves of the assault against a front of about four kilometres (two and one-half miles) were met by our curtain of fire and the fire of our machine guns and swept back, save at one point, where the Germans gained a footing in a small salient of our line south of Chauffour Wood.

"In the course of this attack the enemy suffered very heavy losses, especially west of Cote du Poivre and in the ravine between Cote du Poivre and the Haudremont Wood.

"In the Woevre there were some artillery gusts in the sectors at the foot of the Meuse Hills.

"Aviation—On the night of April 16-17 our bombarding aeroplanes dropped twenty-two shells on the railway stations at Nantillois and Brieulles; fifteen on Etain and a bivouac in the forest of Spincourt; eight on the cantonments at Vieville and Thillot, northwest of Vigneulles."

The Belgian official communication reads: "The artillery was quite active on both sides, especially in the region of Oostkerke and Dixmude."

RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

The text of Petrograd's afternoon communication, that of Monday, says:

"On the front from the German artillery has developed its fire against the Riga bridgehead and Dolgi positions and southward of Garbunovka. The artillery duels in places southward of the Dvinsk region were particularly intense between Lakes Mastovi and Naroch.

"The enemy is using aeroplanes bearing our distinctive circles and no wings.

"In Galicia, in the Middle Strypa region, we repulsed several hostile attacks in the approach trenches.

"Caucasian front: In the coast region our troops, after occupying Surmeh-Tchai, the strategic centre and reached the village of Arsa Kebesi, 15 versts (about 11 1-4 miles) east of Trebizond.

"The fighting continues to our advantage in the Upper Tchoruk Basin."

ITALIANS HOLD GROUND.

ROME, via London, April 18. The War Office communication, issued yesterday, says:

"There is intense artillery activity from Giudicaria to the Sugana Valley and on a portion of the front from the Upper Degano to the Upper Boite.

"In the Sugana Valley the enemy attacked our positions from the Larganza Torrent to Mont Colle, but was counter-attacked and repulsed leaving in our hands two officers and sixty men as prisoners.

"On the Isonzo and Carso fronts the activity is light. Our artillery fire repeatedly reached enemy batteries concealed in hollows in the environs of Zagomilla in the Plava zone."

An Old-Fashioned Breakfast Dish

In the old days, before the modern milling process was invented, there were no highly refined cereal foods. The health of the people was better, too, because the coarse, dark cereals then in use contained more nourishment and gave the digestive system more work to do. Dr. Jackson's Roman Meal is an old-fashioned food, made from the whole berries of wheat, rye, and deodorized and tasteless flax seed. It is a coarse, nut-brown, exceedingly nourishing food, and a natural aid to digestion. It gives the bowels the work they need in order to keep them vigorous and healthy.

It is estimated that there will be at least 7,000 troops on parade, and the major portion of them will attend the service in the Arena, which has been arranged by Major the Rev. C. A. Williams, Chief Recruiting Officer for No. 4. Military District.

ORDER OF SERVICE.

The service will open with the Doxology, and Dr. Hugh Pedley (Congregational)' will read a brief Scripture lesson, and offer a brief invocation. Then will be sung Kipling's "Lest We Forget," to the air of "Eternal Father Strong To Save."

Following this will come the responsive reading of the 91st Psalm, and then another brief Scripture lesson by the Rev. Dr. Smythe, Principal of the Wesleyan Theological College. The Lord Bishop of Montreal will offer prayers, and then an offertory will be taken up for the funds of the Montreal Soldiers' Wives' League. A special hymn will be sung during the collection, and then Major, the Rev Bruce Taylor will give a short address. A verse of "O Canada" and a verse of the National Anthem will follow, and after the pronouncing of the Benediction by Bishop Farthing the service will conclude by the sounding of the Last Post.

The band of the 1st Regiment Grenadier Guards of Canada will provide the musical portion of the service under the baton of Bandmaster Gagnier, and the service will last about half an hour.

The Roman Catholics will attend a short service at the St. James Cathedral and march west to the Arena, where they will join up with the other troops on Wood and Elm avenues, which are to be kept closed to the public to facilitate the formation of the troops. It is expected that the city police will prohibit the congregation of any vehicles on Sherbrooke street and Union avenue, so that the whole of the space along the line of route will be available for the general public.

13 WOUNDED MEN RETURN TO HOMES FROM THE BATTLE

Thirteen wounded Montreal men returned to the city last night and were met at the Windsor street station of the Canadian Pacific Railway, by Major Muckleston, of the headquarters staff. They were driven to the quarters of the Composite Battalion and afterwards allowed to go to their homes. The Montreal men who returned were: Lance-Corp. E. Lajoie, 23rd Battalion; Ptes. H. Angel, 60th; G. H. Bernard, 39th; E. Boyer, 23rd; A. Berger, 23rd; E. Catty, 12th; T. Fuller, 60th; J. McLaughlin, C.F.A.; S. Paquet, 34th; E. St. Louis, 22nd; A. Strachan, C.A.S.C.; C. Theriault, 11th; and M. J. Whitty, C.A.V.C.

In addition there were ten Kingston men who were taken to the Khaki Club in Dorchester street and given accommodation for the night, while men for further Western points went straight on their journey.

Among those who returned was Pte. Emile St. Louis of the 22nd. Battalion who wore the black military button which indicated he had lost a relative at the front. His twin brother, Paul who was serving in the same company with him, was killed by a machine gun bullet at Messines and it was in going to his aid when he saw him fall that Emile got three bullet wounds in the leg. He was sent to the Highland Hospital at Belfast, and says he got splendid treatment everywhere. He is eighteen years of age.

CONGREGATIONAL ANNUAL REPORTS READ HERE TODAY

Reports of the Congregational College, of Canada, McTavish street, the Congregational Union of Canada, the provident fund and details about the weekly paper, The Congregationalist, were given at this morning's session of the Spring meeting of the Quebec Association of Congregational Churches in Point St. Charles Congregational Church, Wellington street. The Rev. Dr. E. Munson Hill, was moderator, and after devotional exercises led by the Rev. H. J. Kilbourn, the Rev. Dr. N. H. Warner, principal of the College, described last year's work.

The type of student at college, Dr. Warner said, was chiefly that of young men who had been already out in the world working at various trades, when they felt the call to join the ministry. Few came from well-to-do families who could afford to educate them. A preparatory class was arranged to meet the needs of the former type of students and some of the best men entered under these circumstances.

CO-OPERATION.

"The course is 8 years and is a real test of a man's earnestness for the work," said Dr. Warner. Among the four co-operating colleges 91 men attended the theological classes, 77 had gone to the front.

Dr. Warner referred to the good lectures allowed by the board and spoke of J. S. Woodsworth's sociological course where the students received instruction in practical investigation of cases.

W. H. Black reporting for the provident fund, showed that only a small sum was received in fees as compared with the large revenue derived from beneficiaries and good investments. Last year the total receipts were $5,068, of which $394 was fees. To widows and orphans, $1,000 had been paid out and to retiring ministers $1,968. Judging by the good state of the finances of the fund Mr. Black prophecied that in two years time a larger sum would probably be paid out to widows and orphans and retiring ministers without raising the fees.

The Rev. T. W. Davidson said the fund was an institution to which every minister should belong.

COMING MEETING.

The Rev. W. Gunn, secretary of the Congregational Union of Canada, spoke of the meeting of the Union which will be held for the first time east of Montreal, from June 6 to 9, at Sherbrooke, Que. He outlined the program and mentioned some of the speakers, including the Rev. Dr. Yedley, the Rev. J. B. Silcox, Dr. Beach, of Andover, the Rev. T. W. Davidson and the Rev. J. P. MacNaughton.

The finances of the union had improved in the last few years. From a former yearly $360 balance, there was generally between $1,000 and $1,100 in hand. Referring to the possible union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches in Canada after the war, Doctor Gunn said that the latter church suffered by the delay as during the last five years twenty-five men at least had gone over to the Presbyterians, not from change of conviction but because of greater opportunities to work in more comfort.

The Rev. H. J. Kilbourn, editor of The Congregationalist referred to the increase of circulation and general popularity since the opening of the young people's department since last June. The paper was in a good financial position and letters of appreciation had been received from coast to coast.

Doctor Hill, on taking the chair referred to a letter he had received from the secretary of the sub-committee of the Interdenominational Committe saying that a suggestion to have an Interdenominational Committee on foreign work for every city in Canada was being promulgated.

A paper on the "Naturalness of Prayer" was given by the Rev. G. Ellery Read and one on "The Early Church at Prayer" by the Rev. L. A. McLean.

Lunch was served in the rooms by the ladies of the church and a prayer meeting was seconded by the Rev. A. F. Pollock this afternoon. A discussion was held by the Rev. Norman McLeod, and final reports and resolutions given.

The closing of the Congregational College takes places at 8 o'clock tonight in Emmanuel Church, Drummond street, when an address will be given by the Rev. Dr. J. B. Silcox on "John Wesley and the Reformation of the 18th Century"

JAMES A. ALLAN

Allan Line member who died today.

By Canad'an Press

GLASGOW, April 18. James A. Allan, formerly one of the chief partners of the Allan Steamship Line, died last night.

Jas. A. Allan, for the last half century, had been prominent in the public life of Glasgow. His association with Montreal is as a developer of the Allan Line, and as a kinsman of Sir Hugh Martagu and Mr. Allan Allan.

In business methods he displayed great acumen, and when he retired from the directorate of the Allan Line at their headquarters in Glasgow, it was felt that shipping circles had lost a very wise and able controller. His interest in the Allan Line was immense, but it was currently reported he sold out at a disadvantage.

DOCTORS' WORK ON FIRING LINE HIGHLY PRAISED

"My impressions from what I have seen at the front, are that the British are absolutely strong. I cannot conceive of Germans or any force under Heaven breaking through our lines," said Dr. A. Mackenzie Forbes to the Montreal Woman's Club, yesterday afternoon. Dr. Forbes recently returned home after spending sixteen months with the Canadians overseas. When war broke out Dr. Forbes went to Valcartier and joined No. 1. Canadian General Hospital. The hospital followed the first contingent through all its trials. "No one who has not been there, knows anything about Salisbury Plains," said Dr. Forbes. "There were a great many sick there and the hospital accommodation had to be increased three times."

Describing the work of the C. A. M. C. at the front, the speaker said there were three phases. First, with each battalion was a regimental medical officer. This man was invariably young, usually from 22 to 25 years of age, because he would have more strength and energy than an older man. The R.M.O. has to look after the proper clothing, feeding and sanitation of the men under his care. Among regimental military officers who had won distinction was Capt. Scrimger who won the V.C. Many more deserved it and did not get it, said Dr. Forbes.

Immediately behind the trenches are dressing stations in charge of the Field Ambulance Corps. There are three of such units from Montreal, the First, Sixth and Ninth, and many well known Montreal doctors are on the staff, among them Dr. R. P. Campbell, Dr. Peters, Dr. Burnett and Dr. Macphail.

Section A of a Field Ambulance looks after the dressing station; Section B the rest camps, and Section C the resting stations, where the patients help to do the chores.

Casualty clearing stations are the next in the chain of medical units. These are usually within five miles of the advanced trenches, and must be near enough to transport patients who are seriously wounded. Dr. Edward Archibald, of Montreal, is in charge of one of these.

F. A. Covert, chairman of the Clean-Up Committee, gave a short address outlining plans for the coming summer. Competitions are to be started among school children, for which $1,275 in prizes will be awarded. Dr. Boucher and Chief Tremblay are both assisting in the campaign.

Mrs. W. J. Hamilton sang "Summertime," and "The Lass with the Delicate Air." E. H. Blair was accompanist.

An item of unusual interest was the singing of the Belgian national anthem by Mlle. Jean, accompanied by Mlle. Dadeaux. These ladies were members of the Queen of Belgium's orchestra.

GERMANS RENEW MASSED ATTACK ON VERDUN LINES

Special Star Cable by United Press.

BERLIN, April 18. — Capture of important French positions north and northeast of Verdun in yesterday's fighting was announced by the War Office this afternoon. The Germans took 1,700 prisoners.

The captured positions include the works south of Haudremont farm near Pepper Heights, and 700 yards of French trenches on the heights northwest of Thiaumont farm, near Douaumont.

URGED TO GREATER EFFORT.

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 18. — A warning that France must make still greater efforts was given by Albert Thomas, the Munitions Minister, in an address yesterday at the Creusot works. M. Thomas praised the efforts of the workers, and continued:

"But these efforts, great as they are, are still insufficient. The enemy had a considerable advantage over us, which we perhaps have not yet regained. Certainly our armies, thanks to you, are today well provided with munitions, but you know how the enemy, with his methodical, disciplined organization, has constantly increased his strength.

"It is your task to continue, to surpass our production, and with the help of our Allies to equal the effort of the menacing, sleepless enemy."

M. Thomas also praised the industrial organizations which before the war were at strife with the State for "the present union of effort and organization which the most audacious among us would never have dreamed was possible."

PREFERABLE TO FLAMING FIRE.

LONDON, April 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Morning Post says that on one occasion recently the Germans started to bring up their flame throwing machines opposite a Paris regiment.

A sergeant shouted that he would be damned if he would be burned up "by those Boches," and before anyone had time to think the matter over the entire company had charged with the bayonet, scattered the Germans, and captured their apparatus.

These policies are the most free and liberal of all policies issued and contain guarantees of cash values, loans, paid-up insurance, and automatic extended insurance, and in addition the most liberal disability feature ever incorporated in an insurance policy.

THE DISABILITY FEATURE referred to above, guarantees that should the insured become permanently disabled and unable to engage in any gainful occupation before reaching the age of sixty not only will all future premiums be cancelled, but that the company will immediately start to pay him an income of $68.00 a year for life for each $1,000 insurance that he has; by this provision not only is he relieved of all further premium payments, but he is personally provided for by the payment of the insurance as an income.

THIS IS THE MOST LIBERAL PROVISION OFFERED BY ANY COMPANY.

The policies are incontestable after one year from date of issue.

Claims are paid immediately on receipt of proof of death.

The more complete and simple the insurance the better it will serve its purpose, and the lower priced it is with due regard to absolute safety, the greater the amount the insured will be able to carry for a certain sum.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—These policies cannot be sold to any one who is a member of any military organization or intends to become a member of such, with the exception of the Home Guard, to whom this restriction will not apply.

The above three plans of regular Life Insurance, are three of the plans that the low cost term plan advertised by me can be changed into.

SECOND CITY BALL LEAGUE IN FIELD---FLEMING POSTS $100

NEW RIVAL TO CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE FORMED

Have Made Offer for Shamrock Grounds to Play Week-End Games Between Six Clubs — Claim They Made $13,000 a Few Years Ago

There will be more fighting and rivalry in Amateur Baseball circles [illegible] although it has been expected that there would be only one city league.

It seems now a pretty foregone conclusion that while the City League will play on the Dufferin Park grounds, the Independent City League with six clubs, will play on the Shamrock grounds.

An offer has been made by Mr. McGoogan to the Shamrocks for the use of the infield grounds each week-end.

The clubs which will comprise [illegible] what he calls the Independent City League will be the Shamrocks, the Britannias, the Balmorals, the St. Michaels, and one other not yet announced.

The promoters claim that they have some very strong baseball [illegible] to draw from and that they expect to have a very profitable season.

In their communication to the Shamrocks, they remind the fact that [illegible] which they also played on the Shamrock grounds, they made $13,000 [illegible]

FRANCIS OUIMET

BOSTON, Mass., April 18.—Francis Ouimet, Massachusetts golf wizard, who startled the world by defeating Harry Vardon and Edward Ray for the national open championship at Brookline in 1913, is no longer eligible for amateur competition. This notice was served on Ouimet by M. Lewis Crosby, of the executive committee of the United States Golf Association, representing the Boston District. John H. Sullivan, Jr., Ouimet's business partner is also included. Ouimet and his partner are held to be professionals because they are making money out of golf by selling sporting goods.

Ouimet refused absolutely today to comment on the matter of his being barred as an amateur. He refused to discuss the possibility of his playing professional golf in case the rumor that he was barred were true.

AMBROSE DEGRAY TO FORM LADIES' LACROSSE BODY

Held Consultation with Manager Thompson of East End Ladies Stanleys and is in Correspondence with Miss Lapensee About a Club in Cornwall

Special to The Montreal Star.

CORNWALL, April 18.—Today a local gentleman received a wire from a promoter of lacrosse for ladies in Montreal, asking him to inquire into the possibility of putting up a ladies' lacrosse team here this summer.

In Ottawa, it is understood that Mr. McCarthy was forming a ladies' club, and as the ladies' baseball league appears to have been dropped in Montreal, it looks as though the N. L. U. circuit was to be repeated by the ladies and have a league composed of Montreal, Ottawa and Cornwall. Ladies' hockey caught the public fancy during the past winter in all three places, and it is thought lacrosse by the ladies would be just as popular.

In Cornwall, it was learned, a team would be organized within the next week or two. Miss Albertine Lapensee, who created such a furore in hockey last winter, is endeavoring to organize a team here, and hopes to meet with success. Ernest N. Runions will, in all probability, manage the team for Miss Lapensee, who will be the captain of the team. In England, before the outbreak of the war, the ladies played lacrosse in all the leading colleges, and the sport was very popular. It is argued that if the English ladies could become adepts at the game and provide good sport, why should not Canadian ladies do likewise. The majority of them have a knowledge of the game through witnessing the men's game, and a very short time at practice would make them perfect. The proposition is to be tried here; at any rate, and if the clubs in Ottawa and Montreal meet with success it is not unlikely that a league composed of teams from those places and Cornwall will be formed and a schedule drawn up on dates which will not conflict with any of the home dates of the senior clubs.

The Montreal man referred to apparently is Ambrose de Gray, formerly of Cornwall, but of late of the National Lacrosse Club, because he has had a consultation with Manager Thompson, of the East End Stanley Ladies' Hockey Club about forming a ladies' lacrosse league.

WESTERN HOCKEY LADIES GOING IN FOR AQUATICS NOW

The Western ladies held their first annual swimming meeting last night, at which a large number were present. The Westerns have formed a Ladies' Aquatic Club and will have a male manager to look after their interest, having asked Len Porteous to accept the position. The Westerns have some very good swimmers, and are talking of forming two polo teams to play with each other, and Aquatic meets will be held periodically. The Westerns also claim to have very good paddlers whom they will enter in several canoe races, the Western ladies will also use one night a week in making bandages, etc., in aid of the Red Cross.

Among those who were present at the meeting were: Miss Vautier, Miss Barnes, Miss Arnold, Miss M. Bernier, Miss V. Bernier, Miss Boyle, Miss Bangs, Miss Craw, Miss Gallagher, Miss C. Hardman, Miss M. Hardman, Miss F. Hardman, Miss Gear, Miss MacGibbon, Miss Audette, Miss McGown, Miss Armstrong, Miss Clerq, Miss Aboud. Mrs. Hart was elected chaperon and Miss C. Hardman coach.

REAL EFFORT UNDER DISTINGUISHED AUSPICES TO FORM A SPORTSMEN'S COMPANY

Lieut.-Col. Trihey and Captain "Sinc" McEvenue Will Take the Matter in Hand at Once Without Delay—M.A.A.A. Will Co-operate

CAPT. "SINC" McEVENUE
Well known All-round Amateur Sportsman Who Will Recruit Sportsman's Company.

Capt. "Sinc" McEvenue, all-round Amateur sportsman, McGill Rugbyist, and at one time honorary coach of the Montreal Rugby team, will get up a real Sportsman's Company for the 199th Irish Rangers, which will be entirely independent of and will have no connection whatever with any similar propositions that have been much heralded in the press without any practical results having been achieved thus far. Capt. McEvenue has already secured the co-operation of the M.A.A.A. and at a meeting of the board of directors, held last night, the suggestion to organize a sportsman company to be attached to the Irish Canadian Rangers to be recruited under Lieut.-Col. H. J. Trihey and Capt. McEvenue, was heartily endorsed and the directors expressed their willingness to aid in the recruiting of the company in everyway possible. The company will be confined to those who have been actively connected with sports.

Direct appeals will be made to members of baseball clubs and lacrosse clubs, hockey clubs, rugby clubs, tennis clubs, soccer clubs, and other athletic associations to enlist in a body, following out the idea inaugurated by the Toronto Sportsman's Battalion. Only two hundred and fifty men are required for a company and there should be no trouble in securing this number.

The first appeal to men for the company will be through personal letters to the managers of the various athletic associations. The officers of the Irish Canadian Rangers are already making plans for the holding of athletic competitions while in training at Valcartier. The Montreal Amateur Athletic Association directors have offered to place an office at the Peel street clubhouse at the disposal of Capt. McEvenue during the recruiting of the company and the use of the gymnasium and grounds for any athletic entertainments held by the regiment.

FRANKIE FLEMING
POST $100 FORFEIT
FOR PATRIOTIC BOUT.

Frankie Fleming today through his manager Mr. Power, posted a forfeit of one hundred dollars that he will meet Wallace, the U.S. fighter for the benefit of the 163rd French-Canadian Regiment, "Les Poil-aux-Pattes" on Thursday evening, April 27th, the Drill Hall, on Craig street. The bout is to last ten rounds and the men are to weigh 126 pounds, at 8 p.m.

Fleming will receive a thousand dollars for the bout.

"CON" MAGUIRE, JR.,
LATEST RECRUIT
FOR THE I. C. RANGERS.

Conor Maguire was one of the recruits added today to the non-commissioned officers' class of the Irish Canadian Rangers, Overseas Battalion. He is a son of Mr. Cornelius Maguire, more familiarly known as "Con," who in his day was the most noted lacrosse player of his time as a defence fielder of the old Shamrocks. Mr. Maguire had a record as a fast clean player that has never been excelled. The son is a fair chip of the old block.

Lively Times at Meeting of All-the-Year-Round Swimming Club

Some lively discussion took place, it is understood, at a special meeting of the All-The-Year-Round Swimming Club held last night, and as a result of which one member at least—John Jones—has resigned from the Club.

It was reported in outside circles at the close of the meeting that the majority of the officers had resigned, but this was denied today by Lew Davis, captain of the club.

Mr. Davis explained that the meeting was called to consider a proposition to withdraw the monthly handicaps, one of which had been already run off, but the majority of the members favored the continuance of the handicaps.

SHAMROCKS WILL CONTINUE MONEY CAMPAIGN STILL

Secured a Little Over $11,000 Thus Far — When Everyone Refused Responsibilities of Executive Head Harry McLaughlin Jumped in Breach

Friends and members of the Shamrock Amateur Athletic Association turned out in large numbers last night to attend the annual meeting, which in view of the strained financial position of the association, was probably the most important gathering ever held by them.

Judging from the spirit displayed during the evening there seems little doubt, but that the Shamrocks will be able to weather the present storm, and while the result of the campaign for funds, which has been in progress for several weeks, fell far short of the mark set, confidence that the $25,000 mark, at least, would be reached in the very near future was not lacking. It was therefore decided to continue the campaign and new teams will probably be formed and the work continued along slightly different lines.

GOT $11,000 THUS FAR.

As a result of the month's work the Shamrocks have been enriched to the extent of $11,926, and there are still two teams to be heard from. Of this amount $808 was the proceeds from a special collection and card party.

Harry McLaughlin turned in the largest sum, $4,000 being collected by his team, while T. F. Slattery was second with $3,532.

The list of teams and the amounts they secured in the campaign were announced by Mr. Singleton, the secretary of the campaign, as follows:

Team No. 1, Harry McLaughlin	$4,000
Team No. 2, T. F. Slattery	3,532
Team No. 3, J. Gallery	1,854
Team No. 4, P. J. Monohan	413
Team No. 5, M. D. Carroll	477
Team No. 6, P. Brennan	572
Team No. 7, (not heard from)
Team No. 8, J. J. Sheely	26
Team No. 9, P. Murphy	110
Team No. 10, D. O'Sullivan	110
Team No. 11 (not heard from)
Team No. 12, W. Loye	24
Special collection and card party	808
Grand total	$11,926

Some difficulty was experienced by the members in the election of officers, and it was only after a strong appeal from those present, who virtually refused to take "no" for an answer, that Harry McLaughlin, the well known lacrosse enthusiast, consented to take the office. Mr. McLaughlin tried to argue that he did not have sufficient time to devote to the interests of the organization, but the members refused to listen to him.

The selection of Mr. McLaughlin, a Shamrock veteran of so many years standing, at this very critical stage in the history of the association, was the subject of much favorable comment at the conclusion of the meeting.

The members were addressed during the evening by Messrs. Denis Tansey, M.L.A., L. I. McMahon, P. J. McCrory, and Harry McLaughlin.

One of the points brought out by Mr. McMahan was the necessity of membership and he suggested that every friend who had contributed $10, should be given a membership card for one year, while every contributor of $5 should receive a card for six months, and so one. He also suggested that letters be sent to each individual contributor expressing thanks of the members for the assistance rendered.

The rebuilding of the stands destroyed by fire at the Mile End grounds was not discussed, it being decided to leave this question to the executive to deal with at their first meeting. Following the election of officers of the club, a meeting of the lacrosse department was held, at which the plans for the season were discussed and the officers were elected. The lacrosse club will have the majority of their players of a year ago, while they expect to have a number who played with Montreal, owing to the Winged Wheel association having withdrawn from competitive sports. Practice will be commenced at the earliest possible date by the members of the lacrosse club. The following are the officers elected:

SHAMROCK A. A. A.

Honorary president—C. J. Doherty.
President—Harry McLaughlin.
Vice-president—T. J. Power.
General manager—J. J. Ryan.
Honorary secretary-treasurer — H. Kerrin.

LACROSSE CLUB OFFICERS.

The officers of the lacrosse club are:

Honorary president—Denis Tansey, M.L.A.
President—Tom O'Connell.
Vice-president—T. F. Slattery.
Secretary—E. P. Cooney.

The committee will be selected by the other officers from various parts of the city to create a general interest in the club.

HARRY McLAUGHLIN

He has again come to the rescue of the S.A.A.A. by allowing himself to be elected president once more.

GOOD MEN ENTER TORONTO TOURNEY

TORONTO, April 18. — Three entries forwarded by Secretary Brown, of the Boston A. A., for the Dominion Boxing Championships, to be decided at the Arena on the last two days of this week, are of unusual interest, meaning that the Arena bill will include at least three holders of United States championships.

Tom Darey, the 108-pound champion, and Pat McCarthy, 175-pound champion, will represent Boston, and Brosseau is coming up from Montreal to defend his honors in the 145-pound class.

All three of these won the American championships at Boston two weeks ago. The third Boston nomination is Tony Vantlan, the runner-up in the 115-pound class at that time.

YOUNGSTER HOLDS TIGER SLUGGERS

CLEVELAND, April 18. — Having held the mighty swatters of Jennings' crew to one run in eleven innings, Stanley Coveleski, young spitballer, recruited from Portland, was bidding hard today for a regular turn with the first-string Indian hurlers.

After his brother, Harry, refused to pitch for Detroit, fearing he might send Stanley back to the minors, the youngster showed his class by striking out six men, including Cobb and Veach; issuing but two passes, getting six assists, and figuring in one double play.

HOCKEY PLAYER ENLISTS.

HAMILTON, Ont., April 18. — Jack Pringle, who was one of the star goal men in local hockey circles during the past winter, has decided to give up a commission in one of the local battalions and enlist as a private in the Canadian Mounted Rifles. Jack was very popular with the other players on the teams and it would not be surprising to see some of his team mates follow him.

RAIN ONCE MORE PUTS DAMPER ON ROYALS TRAINING

Special to The Montreal Star.

HACKETTSTOWN, N.J., April 17.—The Rain God sent more April showers during the early part of today and again mussed up the Royals training grounds. Manager Howley took his squad to the High School gymnasium for exercising for several hours this morning; the afternoon was spent in idleness. Towards evening the clouds cleared away and the weather man prophecied better weather for the morrow and Wednesday.

The final training here will be given to the limit of hard work, says Manager Howley.

Thursday morning the Royals leave here for a game at Scranton, Pa., Friday they play at Binghampton, N. Y., and Saturday at Elmira, N. Y. They expect to return here Sunday and remain until Tuesday when they move to Baltimore for the opening.

POOR CHAUFFEUR! HE DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS 'K.O.' BROWN

NEW YORK, April 18.—The jitney bus was overcrowded as it left Newark for Harrison yesterday afternoon. The chauffeur was a big, raw-boned individual, six feet two in his stockings, and full of fight.

"Move up, there," he demanded, as he stopped for another fare.

There was a murmur of disapproval from the passengers.

At the end of the seat was a little, quiet, unassuming fellow weighing 130 pounds. Very meekly he ventured the opinion there was room for no more passengers.

The chauffeur heaped a torrent of abuse upon his head.

"Why, you little runt, if you was big enough, I'd mop up the street with you," declared the chauffeur. Then he called him a name.

The next instant the little man was by the chauffeur's side. It was as if a bunch of wild-cats had been let loose, his face was badly cut, his nose was bleeding and three front teeth were missing.

The little man, unscathed, adjusted his tie and resumed his seat in the jitney.

"Who is he?" demanded the other passengers. Only one knew.

"He's 'Knockout' Brown, the lightweight pugilist," he answered jubilantly.

Watching the Score Board

Yesterday's homer—Vic Saier, of the Cubs, off Doak, Cardinals.

A small helping of the laurels, please, for Tris Speaker. Four hits yesterday.

Wanted—One first class alibi for Walter Johnson, who was hammered for eleven hits in six innings by the notorious Red Sox, thus shattering a fond illusion.

The St. Louis Browns have absorbed some of that hitless wonder stuff. Five runs in three innings on four hits. Well, look at who is leading 'em.

Those White Sox are persistent cusses. It took them eleven innings to crawl out of a hole the Browns dug with a five run lead.

Hal Chase batted zero.

The Cincinnati Reds walked the plank when the Pirate sluggers let go Honus Wagner contributed a triple and a single.

Nineteen errors were made yesterday in five games. The White Sox contributed eight.

Mel Galvin and Ray Clarke, White Sox pitchers, have been released to the Hannibal, Mo., team.

Cuban Ball Players Not Allowed to Enter Canada

SEATTLE, April 18.—Two Cuban ball players, J. Acosta, a pitcher, and Jacques Calvo, an outfielder, have been refused permission to enter Canada to join the Vancouver club of the North-West League because they lack passports from the Cuban Government.

Appeal has been made to the Canadian Immigration Department. It was announced today, to overrule the decision of the Vancouver authorities.

Acosta played with a semi-professional team in the east last year.

ANNUAL MEET LAKE TWO MOUNTAINS CLUB

At the annual meeting of the Lake of Two Mountains Yacht Club the following officers and directors were elected for the ensuing year:

Honorary president—Colin C. Drew.
President—E. W. Monk.
Vice-president—F. G. Brewer.
Treasurer—W. R. Lakin.
Secretary—A. J. Meyers.

Directors—Messrs. W. G. Bailey, C. M. Henderson, A. J. S. Hawken, Dr. Aselin, J. W. Barre.

The secretary and treasurer reported that the past season had been a very successful and satisfactory one. Their reports show the Club to be in a sound condition financially, a substantial amount having been added to the reserve account.

This year the annual regatta will be held on the second Saturday in July, as usual, and the club affairs will be conducted along the usual lines.

MILITARY INDOOR BASEBALL REVIVED

Officers of the Irish Canadian Rangers and officers of the 148th Battalion have arranged a game of indoor baseball. The contest will take place tomorrow, Wednesday night, in the gymnasium of the Peel street Barracks.

PRINCETON, N.J., April 18.—Princeton won the toss and chose the canal side for the Varsity eight-oared race with Harvard Thursday. The Tiger crew has never lost a race when rowing on the canal side.

Life and Character Reading
APRIL 17.

This horoscope shows the planetary influence of Venus upon earth life is most important. Venus is called the "Star of Life," and sheds a beneficient influence on all domestic relations, on the building of homes, on the sale of farm lands and the exchange of household goods and the sale thereof.

This birthdate begins to feel the influence of Venus and the strong characteristics which dominated the birthdates under the planet Mars are now softened by Venus. These people are difficult to understand, being strong in opinion and variable.

The influence of the planet Mars in this horoscope begins now to wane, as on the 19th of April. Taurus controls all birthdates between April 19 and May 20, and the planet Venus comes gradually into control.

They show great weakness and contradictory elements of strength. They succeed in a big way and they fail in a big way and are intense in their love natures.

GENEVA, N.Y., April 18.—Acting-President Durfee, of Hobart College, has received a telegram from Washington to the effect that the State Department has wired the Immigration Department at Niagara Falls, to release Coach Billy Fitzgerald of the Hobart College team and allow him to enter the States.

Hobart College play their first game on Saturday against Cornell.

SIR SAM INVITED TO BOXING BOUT

Special to The Montreal Star.

TORONTO, April 18. — Sir Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, has been asked to attend the patriotic professional boxing tournament at the Arena tomorrow night. A special box has been reserved, and should the Minister accept the invitation the box will be specially decorated for the occasion.

"Battling" Slavinsky arrives in Toronto today and will complete his training here. He works out this afternoon at the Varsity gymnasium. Fitzgerald will arrive tomorrow. The latter, although having only been in the ring for a couple of years, has a very good record. It includes a draw with Frank Moran over six rounds, a draw with Soldier Kearns, and the famous black heavyweight, Sam McVey.

SOCCER NOTES

A friendly match between Verdun City and Calvin A. F. C., will be played on the former's ground on Good Friday, April 21st, at 10.30 a.m.

As generally expected the M. A. A. A. refused the request of their soccer section to continue in the First Division, F. Q. F. A., if away gates were devoted to the Patriotic Fund. Consequently M. A. A. A.'s resignation will be accepted when the league meets tomorrow evening. The vacancy cannot at this date be filled by Verdun City, unless the constitution is stretched somewhat, but it is said the necessary clubs will be got together to call a special F. Q. F. A. general meeting, and then permission asked to elevate Verdun to senior ranks, as M. A. A. A.'s withdrawal would mean an idle Saturday for one club, and this is not considered desirable for seniors.

The executive of the C. P. R. Angus A. A. A. met last night to gather in the returns of a short but sharp campaign for new members. George Sly earned the first prize, bringing in 65, winning the box of cigars presented by Tom Mitchell. Mr. Sly promptly turned his prize over to the secretary of the association that looks after their members at the front in regard to "smokes," being a useful addition to the never neglected parcel that periodically leaves Angus for the boys away over there.

A meeting of the Fairmount Boys' Club will be held in the East End Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday, April 19, 1916, at 7.30 p.m., corner Papineau and Mount Royal avenue. All those interested in the welfare of this club are requested to be present at this meeting as important business will be discussed.

Nomads F. C. have started in earnest on Saturday a practice was held, when picked teams, juniors and seniors, battled for fifty minutes, and the officials had an opportunity of witnessing the work of the "New Talent" signed up. Weight, experience and skilful dash on the part of the players combined with absolute harmony amongst the officers, should make the club equal to anything in the second league.

Members of the Nomads Football Club will please note to attend Club House on Tuesday and Thursday at 7.30 p.m. for training. Juniors will also attend.

The Maisonneuve Football Club has arranged to hold their practices every Tuesday and Thursday night. Dressing room open any time after 6 p.m., therefore will all intending players please take note of this and arrange to be present at these practices.

EASTER HOLIDAYS.

The Canadian Pacific will issue tickets at single fare for the round trip good going and returning Friday, April 21st, and at first class fare and one third for the round trip good going April 20, 21, 22 and 23, good to return until April 25. Tickets and full particulars can be had on application to City Ticket Office, Dominion Express Building, 141-143 St. James street, Windsor street station, Place Viger station or Windsor Hotel.

PROMPT ACTION OF C.A.A.U. PREVENTS GRAVE INJUSTICE TO CORKERY

Special to The Montreal Star.

TORONTO, April 18.—Tom Flanagan received a wire from Capt. Ellwood Hughes this morning from Boston stating that Jim Corkery's amateur standing has been questioned for the Boston Marathon tomorrow, because of his having competed last Saturday at Hamilton in a military road race. The difficulty will be smartly overcome as Secretary Crow of the C.A.A.U. has wired vouching for Corkery's good standing. The race at Hamilton was a closed event for soldiers only and as such was open to any soldier amateur or professional.

OTTAWA TO HELP MAKE LACROSSE A GENTLE GAME

Special to The Montreal Star.

OTTAWA, April 18.—President Ed. St. Pere, of the National Lacrosse Union, has notified the various clubs that there will be a meeting at Montreal the latter part of this week for the purpose of revising the playing rules. He has suggested several changes, and will not consent to accept the presidency, unless the clubs see their way clear to act accordingly. Mr. St.Pere is out, in short, to clean up the National game, proposing, in his own words, the elimination of "Hun methods." He wishes the league to continue the old penalty system, and to refuse to sanction substitutions. He would also double the penalties for fouls and tack on heavy fines as well, being convinced that the time has come to make lacrosse one of the cleanest of sports.

It is understood that the various clubs are favorable, and that Mr. St. Pere will be authorized to draft the proposed amendments. He claims that there has been altogether too much rough work, and will make several important amendments. A draft of the changes he proposes to make will likely be received today, and be discussed at the first meeting of the Ottawa Lacrosse Club directorate, which takes place at the New Russell this evening.

In the old days there were some pretty strenuous encounters on the lacrosse sward, and Ottawa men were usually able to uphold their own honors when the going proved heavy, but the time for "rough stuff" has passed.

Millionaire Hockey Promoter for 'Frisco Good for Players

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. April 18.—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Long Beach and possibly other southern California cities will see established in their midst the great Canadian game of hockey next winter. Mr. Pantages, of Pantages vaudeville fame, is the man behind the proposition. The western vaudeville houses king can see a harvest of shekels in hockey in California. This news was given recently by Lloyd Cook of Tabor, members of the Vancouver hockey team. Lloyd has just returned from Vancouver, and stopped off here for a day to do a little business, and incidentally look up a few of his old friends here. He will join his family on the Cook farm near Tabor today, where he will reside during the summer. Lloyd had a good season at the coast; he never missed a game. He says clean and fast hockey was the rule. It is the only kind the public will stand for at the coast. The butcher brand of hockey played in the east is tabooed.

Mr. Pantages took the addresses of all the hockey players who were in action this winter at the coast, and, if the California circuit goes through, some of the boys will be re-receiving some flattering offers from the theatre magnate. Mr. Pantages is a resident of Seattle. He became infatuated with the game there, and his eagle eye for business sees great things ahead of the game on the southwest coast. Fancy skating is quite the craze in that part of the States now, and many of the big cafes, hotels and resorts have established rinks for the entertainment of their guests.

The man who is going to promote hockey in southern California is a Greek. His wealth today is estimated at $5,000,000. A man with that much money hasn't got time to waste in shooting hot air, and Lloyd Cook is anxiously looking forward to a season of hockey in the sunny south next winter.

LACROSSE TEAM LOST AT BASEBALL

In the M.A.A.A. Indoor Baseball League last night representatives of the Snowshoe and Ski Club defeated the lacrosse team 20 to 15.

Ernie Christmas, who was on the firing line for the Snowshoers, was a puzzle to the lacrosse players for six of the seven innings, during which time the latter only gathered two tallies.

The teams were as follows:

Lacrosse—C. Fyon, pitcher and third; Blake, first base; Brady, pitcher and catcher; Anderson, left field; Kenna, right field; McMullen, catcher; McGue, second base.

BEACONSFIELD GOLF CLUB OPENS FRIDAY

Good Friday will see the opening of the Beaconsfield Golf Club and on that day the course will be thrown open to the members.

The links are in exceptionally good shape for this time of year, the turf having wintered well and the moisture run off satisfactorily, and the green should also be in good shape for the opening.

Everything around the club house has been put in order and arrangements are being made to accommodate a large number of members, who will spend the Easter holidays at the club house should the warm weather continue.

CHICAGO, April 18. — An extra match between the Pullmans and Bethlehem (Penn.), soccer teams to determine which shall play the Fall River, Mass., Rovers, for the National Championship will be necessary as the result of the 0 to 0 tie game played by the Pullmans and Bethlehems here.

Lachine Gun Club Tourney

The beautiful weather on Saturday drew a large crowd of shooters and spectators to the weekly shoot of the above club, when five events of 15 birds each were disposed of. The winners in each event, Maher-Cockburn (after two shoot offs) Monette, (two events), and Clark. The shooting of Cockburn and Monette was the event of the afternoon. In the Club Spoon Event each struck 14 birds. In the 2nd Shoot off Cockburn made 12 and Monette 11. In the handicaps spoon event, Monette 15 and Cockburn 14. In the first sweepstakes, Monette made 15 and Cockburn 14; whilst in the second sweepstakes and practice matches, Cockburn made 12 and Monette 11. Cockburn and Monette tied for 1st place. Total, each breaking 66 birds out of 75; Maher being 2nd, with 64 whilst Woodward and Doremus tied for 3rd place, each breaking 62. The weather was ideal for shooting and amongst the visitors participating in the events was Mr. Coyne, Sales Manager for the Du Pont Powder Co.

Next Friday (Good Friday) the Club will hold their Annual Tournament and shoot, starting at 10:00 a.m. and lasting all day. A large number of Clubs have signified their intention of being represented. The prize list contains 11 events including a 50 bird championship of the Province of Quebec also High Gun and Rose System. A silver cup will be offered for the longest run. Ottawa will be well represented at the shoot and a large squad will return the compliment on Easter Monday when a 5 man and 10 men teams will go there to try and recover the both cups now held by the St. Hubert Gun Club. Luncheon will be served on the grounds on Friday. The best way of getting there is to take the street car to the end of the line Brewester Avenue

SPORTING CORRESPONDENCE

The following letter explains itself:—
April 12th, 1916.

Sporting Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—I read in your paper recently about the Montreal A.A.A. abandoning all sports where admission is charged.

I am very much surprised at their action, especially as far as Lacrosse is concerned, as it is our national game. England's national game is football, and I notice by your paper that the game is still being played regardless of the war. I read in Monday night's issue of your paper an item on the number of Soccer players in this country that have enlisted. There are more Lacrosse players at present at the front serving their King and Country than Soccer players. In proportion to the numbers that are actually engaged in playing the game. In and around Montreal there are more Soccer Clubs than there are hairs on one's head.

If Lacrosse, as an amateur sport was left alone to be promoted by men who had the game at heart, and were not in it for what there is in it financially, the game would never have died out, as it has in the past few years.

In my opinion, and I am backed by several others, horse racing should be stopped first, soccer next, baseball next, and if it comes to extremes, then lacrosse.

M.A.A.A. had a good team and will lose all their players, and it will take years to rebuild, if they should again wish to enter the game. Lacrosse showed last year that it was again becoming popular by the way the players volunteered their services and played as amateurs for the good of the game (after receiving large salaries), and now our biggest amateur association steps in and gives the game a black eye. When the players who got the hard knocks are willing to come forward and play for nothing to resurrect the game, I think it is up to some of our amateur associations to exert themselves to the utmost to keep our national game to the fore.

Lacrosse would not hinder recruiting in the least, should the boys decide to go overseas, it would keep them ready and fit. The majority, like Soccer players, are married and have other duties to attend to which keeps them at home.

YALE CREW READY.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 18.—The Yale eight has practically completed heavy training for the race with the University of Pennsylvania oarsmen on the Schuykill Saturday. They will row lightly today and tomorrow, and Wednesday will leave for Philadelphia, using Thursday and Friday to tune up over the racing course. This year the Yale crew is rowing a stroke almost exactly that of Oxford. The shell equipment, however, is American. The race will be the first test for the combination, along lines suggested by Prof. Tait Mackenzie, formerly of McGill University, Montreal, who is now in England with the R. A. M. C., on leave of absence. Prof. Mackenzie is in charge of the physical training at a military camp near Manchester.

THE NEW PLAN.

Sir Lauder Brunton, a distinguished London scientist and author of many standard medical books, has outlined the new plan as follows:

"Our public schools will henceforth have 'game masters' recruited from the same classes as the ordinary masters, teachers, and of equal rank in the Faculty. Hitherto some of the schools have had athletic coaches who dealt with practice and training and selection of teams. These coaches have been of great practical importance, but the game masters will be more efficient. They will necessarily have to be equipped with a sound knowledge of physiology and medicine, as well as with intellectual fitness for skilled scientific direction, in order to wield more authority and bring about the object in view.

"This object, broadly put, is the adjustment of bodily fitness of the students produced by a judicious alternation of games, gymnastics, and physical culture of the right sort. The usual objection is bound to be made—that is, that cricket and football are already taken too seriously by the schools. But that is shallow talking. The future physical fitness of young England is a matter of grave national concern."

MASTERS OF GAMES FOR ENGLISH LADS

Authorities of English schools who supervise the athletic competition of the schoolboys, have come to a realization of the fact that systematic training under proper supervision is of vital importance and a movement has been started to introduce physical training as a part of the curriculum of the institution. This movement had its origin in London, and will follow closely

EASTERN BASEBALL LEAGUE FORMED

At a meeting held yesterday [illegible] to organize the Eastern baseball league, the following eight cities were elected: Stanleys, Montreal; Canada Cement, Lyons and Post Office.

It was proposed to make this league occupy the same position in baseball that they held in hockey, that is, form the fast amateur sport for the East End, and will be composed mainly of clubs in the Eastern Hockey League clubs.

From the present prospects it looks as though each club would have an exceptionally strong team.

The next meeting will be held Thursday next at 31 Lasalle avenue, Maisonneuve, when officers will be elected and a schedule drawn up.

NEW MANNER OF SELECTING SKIPS

The action taken by St. Andrew's curling club a year ago was followed on Saturday last by the St. Lawrence Curling Club when it was decided at the annual meeting to give the playing members a voice in the selection of the skips. A committee was appointed to draw up a code of rules governing the selection.

The officers and directors after [illegible] were elected for the ensuing year as follows:

President, W. H. Griffin.
Vice-presidents, H. W. Price, [illegible].
Hon. Secretary, C. W. G. Dufresne.

Directors, W. George Kent, James Griffin, Dixon Anderson, W. J. Laing, W. W. Williamson, J. R. McGregor and H. Drysdale.

Production and Thrift
"TO win the war with the decisiveness which will ensure lasting peace, the Empire will require to put forth its full collective power in men and in money. From this viewpoint it is our true policy to augment our financial strength by multiplying our productive exertions and by exercising rigid economy, which reduces to the minimum all expenditures upon luxuries and non-essentials. Only in this way shall we be able to make good the loss caused by the withdrawal of so many of our workers from industrial activities, repair the wastage of the war, and find the funds for its continuance. It cannot be too frequently or too earnestly impressed upon our people that the heaviest burdens of the conflict still lie before us, and that industry and thrift are, for those who remain at home, supreme patriotic duties upon whose faithful fulfilment our success, and consequently our national safety, may ultimately depend."
SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.
PRODUCE MORE, SAVE MORE.
MAKE LABOUR EFFICIENT.
SAVE MATERIALS FROM WASTE.
SPEND MONEY WISELY.
LET US PRODUCE AND SAVE —
The war is now turning on a contest of all forces and resources—men, munitions, food, money. The call to all is to produce more and more. It may be necessary to work harder. The place of those who enlist must be taken by those at home, men and women, old and young. The more we produce the more we can save. Produce more on the farms and in the gardens. Save more and help to win the war.
LET US NOT WASTE OUR LABOUR —
In this war-time all labour should be directly productive or should be assisting in production. Make it as efficient as possible. If your labour is on something that can be postponed, put it off till after the war and make your labour tell now. Making war is the first business of all Canadians. Efficiency in labour is as important as efficiency in fighting.
LET US NOT WASTE MATERIALS —
Begin at home. The larger portion of salaries and wages is spent on the home—food, fuel, light, clothing. Are any of these things being wasted? $20.00 a year saved from waste in every home in Canada will more than pay the interest on a war debt of $500,000,000.
LET US SPEND OUR MONEY WISELY —
Are you spending your money to the best advantage? What do you think of extravagance in war time? Tens of thousands of Canadians are daily risking their lives for your home. Is it not our duty to be careful and economical? Canadian dollars are an important part of the war equipment. Make them tell. Have a War Savings Account. Buy a War Bond.

With a fluency of words, put together with charm and perfect taste, and in front of the fate of over [illegible] Kathleen Burke, of the Women's Hospital [illegible] addressed the Canadian Club yesterday for over [illegible] of the Women's Hospital, [illegible] of the Scottish Women's Hospitals for women of the Empire, now in France, in Belgium [illegible]

It was a [illegible] after which [illegible] the business men of the city [illegible] and any one who [illegible] Miss Burke [illegible] something fresh [illegible] the room that she is [illegible] interesting in anything [illegible] Scottish girls. Dressed in a [illegible] during [illegible] time, trimmed with [illegible] plaid, and wearing the beautiful military medals of France and of Serbia, Miss Burke, who is under medium height, and of charming personality, gave a vivid description of the great organization founded in October, 1914, by the National Union of Women's Suffrage, for which members among its workers suffragists and anti-suffragists, and women of all political faiths. There is no question of politics merely a question of serving humanity to the best advantage," as Miss Burke remarked at the outset. There are several Canadians among the staffs, including Dr. Kerr, of Toronto, and the complete staff of every hospital, of which there are now seven working, is composed solely of women doctors, surgeons, dietetics, bacteriologists, X-ray experts, all are women. The British Government supports the organization, giving it free transportation of all its units and supplies, thus saving a great deal of money. Each of the hospitals costs $25,000 to equip and maintain, and $125 will maintain a bed for six months, and $250 one for a year.

NEEDY SERBIANS.

Miss Burke made a strong appeal for funds to carry on the work of the hospitals, especially among the thousands of Serbians now taking refuge on the Island of Corsica. She commented upon the fact that receiving money at a gathering of the Canadian Club was against the rules; but the Chairman, Robert Reford, said A. E. Holt, of the Royal Trust Company, Montreal, was acting as local honorary treasurer of the fund; that all monies would be sent direct to England, and that Sir Edmund Walker was the general treasurer.

The word pictures which Miss Burke painted of conditions at the different fronts were remarkably vivid. She spoke of Serbia as "a little land and oh! so desolate just now," and went on to describe the conditions under which the soldiers were fighting for their realization of their dream of a greater freedom to come, declaring, "We hear much of a greater Serbia, but she will never be greater than she is now in the hour of her supreme desolation." She said the Scottish Hospital Unit was the only one working here, and the Serbians sent in the wounded from a radius of sixty miles. This distance might not seem much to the people of Canada, but it meant a great deal to the suffering soldiers, for they had to be carried on bullock wagons over the rough mountain roads where the greatest pace that could be made was a mile to a mile and a quarter an hour.

Miss Burke said the hospital, which had seven or eight doctors and forty orderlies, nursed 500 wounded men. There was applause when she described how the brave girls of the hospital went down into one town and cleaned out six inns, working among the vermin and filth in order to make use of the buildings as hospitals.

Then with lightning-like rapidity Miss Burke switched to the outbreak of typhus, and drew a vivid picture of the terrible conditions of the Serbian hospitals, where it was almost certain death to go, and where the mortality was as high as 85 per cent.

She sketched the long low buildings with narrow slits in the wall for light and air, and dealing on the straw on which the [illegible] in their dirty, [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] that when they were moved the others could take their places. She told [illegible] the Al- [illegible] she told [illegible] organization had [illegible] and forty [illegible] the [illegible] establishment [illegible] of a [illegible] beds to [illegible] from 85 per [illegible] Then, after [illegible] respect [illegible] were treated [illegible] of the dis- [illegible] each hospital, [illegible] women with [illegible] and waited [illegible] treatment [illegible] little ones [illegible] of the Austrians [illegible] were Slavs, [illegible] with the Serbians, and that was little did they need [illegible] there was no [illegible] and [illegible] the Austrian [illegible] and everything in their power to help Serbia in the time of the [illegible] cripple. The Scotch organized [illegible] 200 girls working in Serbia and looked after as many [illegible] Serbians at one time during the [illegible] girls had laid down their lives.

Touches of humor were interspersed with the pathetic story of suffering and bravery, as when Miss Burke described how a little Scotch girl, when the Germans seized all the stores of the hospital, boarded the German commander in his den, told him what she thought of him, his family and his ancestors, and then proved to him that he was breaking the rules of the Geneva Convention in seizing the stores. The German commander was overawed by the little lass's courage, and let her have the stores, and Miss Burke, "those stores brought back rather more than their own stores."

VERY IMAGINATIVE.

Miss Burke described the Serbians as having a wonderful imagination, they were the Irish of Southeastern Europe. Given a chance to direct their imagination into proper channels they would produce inventors, musicians and artists the equal of any country in the world.

Then Miss Burke spoke of the hospitals units that had gone to France. She was more particular even when she spoke of the French soldiers, the in seizing the stores. The German [illegible] in the trenches, and the spirit of chivalry and gentleness which characterized their every action when they came back wounded. Every man was a hero, she said, and those who had military medals were almost ashamed to show them for they said that they were sure their neighbors in the next cot had been equally as brave as they had, and everyone of them would have done the same thing for their beloved country.

She told a touching story of a soldier who had picked up a little baby which had been wounded by shrapnel and which he found lying in the mud. He carried it with him to the clearing station and then to the hospital, where the child was operated on, the shrapnel removed, and now that baby was the king of the ward. All the soldiers adored it, and the audience could visualize the scene as Miss Burke described the big soldier walking up and down the ward at eventide crooning the Marseillaise to the child in his arms until its tired eyes closed in sleep.

Immediately as a contrast Miss Burke told of the gloom which she saw on a soldier's face who had received the military medal, and had received a letter from his wife about it. The man had earned the honor because, when a hand grenade was thrown in the trench, he promptly sat on it, and smothered the fuse. When the nurse asked him why he looked so gloomy, he gave her his wife's letter, and there she read: "I am not not at all surprised that you sat on the grenade. I never knew you do anything but sit down at home."

In conclusion, Miss Burke spoke of the magnificent work being done by the women of France of all classes, and when she finished the members of the club gave her an ovation.

TWO RESOLUTIONS FOR COMMISSIONS IN ALBERTA LOST

Special to The Montreal Star.

EDMONTON, Alta., April 18. In the Legislature yesterday afternoon Dr. T. H. Blow, Conservative member for South Calgary, presented his resolution calling for a Royal Commission of Judges to investigate the administration of the Department of the Minister of Railways, over which Premier Sifton presides.

He criticized at length most of the construction of the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway, alleging that the work was being done much cheaper than was shown by the estimates on which the Government payments from the proceeds or bond guarantee were made.

Dr. Blow was followed by the Premier, who said the Central Canada Railway, which was largely the subject of criticism, had been built cheaper than any similar railway in the Dominion. The resolution was defeated, fourteen to thirty-one.

R. E. Campbell's resolution, asking for a Commission to investigate offered interference with the administration of justice by Messrs. Sifton, Mitchell, Gariepy and Cross, was then taken up. Mr. Campbell outlined a number of instances in which he said cases in the courts had been interfered with.

The four Ministers whose names were connected with the resolution all spoke briefly in reply to the charges, giving explanations in regard to each of the cases mentioned. Following their speeches the resolution was defeated 31 to 11.

104TH YEAR WAS ENTERED UPON BY MRS. MOTHERWELL

In her 104th year, Mrs. William Motherwell, died on Saturday at the home of her stepson, John Motherwell, 90 St. Genevieve street. Before her marriage she was Miss Isabella McKinnon.

She was born in 1812, and was the last surviving daughter of Allan McKinnon, of Glengarry, and his wife, Sarah McMillan. Her place of birth was the "17 of 5th," Lochiel, Glengarry.

She married Thomas Fawcett, a cabinet-maker, of Alexandria, and on his death removed to Montreal. In 1870 she married William Motherwell, who predeceased her fifteen years ago. She enjoyed robust health until about a week before her death. The funeral was yesterday afternoon.

A new electric range is so flexible in its construction, being made in a number of interchangeable parts, that it may be assembled into any one of a half dozen shapes to fit different nooks and corners.

EASTER EXODUS TO NEW YORK WILL BE A RECORD ONE

All Lines Predict Unusual Rush This Coming Season

Every indication points this year to a record rush of Easter visitors from Montreal to New York and Boston. Passenger agents on the lines which will handle the holiday exodus already predict business far exceeding that of last year. One reason given is that Easter is twelve days later than in 1915; the holiday resorts are more attractive in consequence and spring is calling.

"In addition," said J. Quinlan, district passenger agent of the Grand Trunk, "people have had more time to make arrangements for breaking away from the winter routine. We are already handling the first of the Easter holiday crowd but expect to meet the big rush on Thursday when the special rates go into effect. They will run along this year until May 1 probably."

There has been a proportionate increase in the demands for transportation to Boston, according to early reports and it will really rival New York. But the big attraction without doubt will remain the big fashion parade following the New York church services. Last year, April 11th, the parade took place in a snowstorm but there is little fear of that this spring.

J. Fitzsimons, General Canadian Passenger Agent for the Delaware and Hudson, stated that he is looking forward to an exceptional rush.

"The increase this year," he said, "is extending to points further south, especially for those leaving now who can afford to turn a broken week into an entire holiday. It has been becoming more and more apparent that an increasing number of golfers in the Canadian metropolis find it a good plan to go south where the greens are in condition and 'find' their game. We were hardly ready to credit this at first but it is a fact and those golfers are quite an item in the passenger traffic."

The New York Central report that early indications have convinced them that the exodus will be a record one.

SWEAR NEW CLERK OF CIRCUIT COURT

F. X. Roy, K. C., the newly named clerk of the Circuit Court, was sworn in yesterday. A. E. Corriveau, K. C., clerk of the Crown and Peace, will administer the oath of office. Mr. Roy will enter upon his new duties immediately.

SPRING FISHING.

Anglers in all parts of the country are now getting their fishing paraphernalia ready for the opening of the spring call. An objective point that will appeal to fishermen is Algonquin Park (200 miles north of Toronto, and 170 miles west of Ottawa), where fine sport is assured with the gamey speckled and salmon trout. "The Highland Inn" at Algonquin Park Station will open this year for the reception of guests on May 1st. Interesting illustrated, descriptive, literature free on application to M. O. Dafoe, No. 122 St. James street, Montreal.

Life and Character Reading
APRIL 18.

This horoscope shows an important date in history.

On April 18, in the year 1906, occurred the great earthquake and fire in San Francisco.

That this disaster may be repeated is a belief shared by many, when the planetry conditions are again in conjunction.

Many descriptive writers were born on this date.

Richard Harding Davis, the journalist, was born April 18, 1864.

On this date advertise through the Montreal Daily Star Want Ads for summer homes and summer board, at the lake or sea shore.

Summer cottages may be sold and rented through a Montreal Daily Star Want Ad placed during the coming week.

Domestics and housekeepers, hotel chefs and managers would do well to use the Montreal Daily Star Want Ads for seeking better positions.

Eating for Pleasure, Eating for Strength, are two distinct propositions—but both operations are combined in Shredded Wheat Biscuit, the food that is pleasing to the palate, that makes healthy tissue and gives strength to mind and body. It is what you digest, not what you eat, that nourishes the body. Every particle of Shredded Wheat Biscuit is taken up by the digestive organs and converted into muscle, bone and brain. Try it for breakfast with hot or cold milk or cream, or for any meal in combination with sliced bananas or other fruits.

RIVER WILL SOON BE FREE OF ICE, SAY ALL REPORTS

A general break-up of the river ice is imminent. It has started to shove in Lake St. Peter and at Contrecour, thirty-six miles from Montreal, while at Sorel it is still fast. Open water between Contrecoeur and Montreal is reported at many stations.

The ice-breakers Lady Grey and Montcalm are now making fast progress in Lake St. Peter, and have sent down such qualities of ice that there is now a partial jamb between Three Rivers and Batiscan.

There is no anxiety now as to the local situation, the Lake St. Louis ice having almost drifted out. This ice increased the river level by two feet Sunday, but yesterday the river dropped as much, and now stands at forty-six feet.

The new Government signal station at Belmouth, between here and Sorel made its first report yesterday, which stated that the ice at that point shoved considerably during the night.

Ice drifting in from Belle Isle strait has practically filled the lower gulf, where all stations report "ice everywhere."

LOCAL MAN ON A. B. C. BOARD

J. M. Gibbon, General Publicity Agent of the C.P.R., has been appointed chairman of the Canadian Advisory Board of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, an influential association of publishers, advertisers and advertising agents, with headquarters at Chicago. The "A.B.C." as it is familiarly known, has a standardized form of audit, which shows in practical and convenient form the distribution and circulation of any publication, and has been almost universally adopted in the United States. It has been making such rapid progress in Canada that a Canadian advisory board has been appointed, consisting of William Findlay, manager of the Ottawa Free Press, G. F. Chipman, of the Grain Growers' Guide, Winnipeg, J. G. Palmer, of the Canadian Kodak Company, B. H. Bramble, of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, J. P. Atkinson, of the N. K. Fairbank Company, and J. J. Gibbons, advertising agent, of Toronto, who will act as secretary for the Canadian advisory board.

LONDON, Ont., April 18.—After-effects of German gases and shell shock are declared by friends of driver James Diggles, Sixth Battery man invalided home from the front, to have been the cause of his shooting himself through the head in his boarding house here. His wife died some time ago and he leaves a five-year-old son and an aged mother.

SAYS BOULEVARD IN MERCIER WARD IS FOUND FAULTY

There appears to be a difference of opinion as to the condition of the boulevard in Mercier ward, work on which was done last summer and fall. The following letter has been received from an indignant ratepayer in the ward:

"In Friday evening's Star I saw a short article stating that the city was intending to take action for the recovery of $7,000, after discussing the Mercier ward stone deal. It made no wonder how many citizens of Montreal have seen our beautiful boulevard, which was shown to visiting aldermen some time last fall.

"It was a grand sight then, but I am sorry to say that after being torn up in two or three places to put down water pipes, etc., that could not be laid before the road was finished, Jack Frost came along in a not too severe form and lifted our boulevard about three inches between the car tracks. In fact, the edges near the rails had to be picked out and chunks of our good money in the form of asphalt, weighing anywhere from five to thirty-five pounds, were thrown on the unfinished side of the road.

"Then there is the cement sidewalk. I don't like to mention this as our friend Lavigne mentioned it in his election campaign and told us he had worked hard to get the thing done. East of Vickers' offices, by the bridge, it is not too bad, as there is only about ten feet there that is defective. It is sunk about four feet and some obliging servant has dumped a cartload of the spring scrapings of the boulevard into the cavity to fill it up, and thereby made a beautiful trap for unwary travellers.

"But what about the other side facing the Canadian Steel Foundries? A number of men who were passing were heard to remark that the city would have to hurry with some sort of a saving device, or they would lose about seventy-five yards of sidewalk and never see it again, as it is on an angle of about forty-five degrees in places, and nothing underneath to hold it up, not even a little of the $16,000 worth of stone the city was supposed to get. A little west of this spot the sidewalk and kerbstone also are trying to get into the creek, and after a little rain will undoubtedly succeed.

"In conclusion, I might state that the citizens are very proud of the sidewalk and boulevard in Mercier ward, and consider it a monumental evidence of the efficiency of present day road making, as practiced by the engineers of the city of Montreal."

In reply to this "frank criticism," Paul E. Mercier, chief city engineer, said this morning that the roadway on the boulevard was as good as Sherbrooke street.

"It is true," said Mr. Mercier, "that there has been a little trouble between the car tracks, but it is nothing of consequence, and is not where traffic passes over it. It will be repaired rapidly.

"As for the sidewalk, it was laid by contract, with a five year guarantee. The city should worry."

SOLDIERS FIGHT AND STATESMEN TALK PEACE.

THAT the Germans are still attacking in force at Verdun indicates that they have not yet given up the hope of compelling the evacuation of this salient. Their very stubbornness, in the face of terrific losses and repeated repulses, betrays how much they had built on a decisive victory here. The thing they seem unable to do is to accept final failure.

Verdun was more promising, perhaps, as a point at which they might hope for a shining success than has generally been realized. It was a salient pushed into their lines so they could not be flanked while attacking it. It was fed by one railway, while their attacking forces were fed by several. The French position was divided by a river, which hampered the defence and would have greatly confused any rapid retreat. The formal forts had been abandoned; so that the position was really little or no stronger than any other part of the front. Altogether, it looked like a good gamble from the German point of view; and they now find it most difficult to believe that they have definitely lost.

* * * * *

The Russians are making capital progress in their advance upon Trebizand. The Turks are clearly not to be caught as neatly as they were at Erzerum; for now they appreciate how formidable and dangerous is their enemy. And the Turk is a hardy and vigorous fighter when standing on the defensive. But it seems likely that the Russians are in considerable strength in this district, and that they will presently secure the resources and the shipping facilities that will come to them with the capture of this important Black Sea port. The failure of the "Goeben" and the "Breslau" to establish a Turkish domination in these waters has been one of the keenest disappointments of the war for our enemies.

The heavy Canadian casualty lists that are coming in prove beyond cavil that our boys have been doing some fierce fighting in the last week or so. The cost probably is worth holding most of the facts, but the casualty lists tell their own tale. Facts likely to have heavier and more deadly work lately on the whole British front than we quite realize. With the tremendous issues at stake in the Verdun battle, our lads could hardly keep out of the fray. Rumors come from time to time that they are preparing a great offensive for the near future. When that comes, our hearts will, indeed, cease beating. The Germans have shown how costly must be an attack upon an entrenched position; and, when our "drive" starts, we will be the attacking army. But that is the only path to victory; and, with so many faint-hearts prattling peace these days, the soldiers must hasten to win their victory before the nerves of the safe-at-home-civilians give way.

* * * * *

That the Germans meant Bethmann-Hollweg's impossible terms to be overtures toward peace, is surely funny; but, it can hardly be doubted in view of the number of Austro-German statesmen and journalists who seriously discuss them as such. Count Andrassy, ex-Premier of Hungary, says that "the speech is a basis whereupon peace negotiations may be begun—conditions which leave the door open to counter-demands." This means, we suppose, that if we do not see what we want on the counter, we can ask for it. It also implies that demands were set up by the German Chancellor for the express purpose of being traded off for other things we have to give.

The absolutely impossible part of Bethmann-Hollweg's proposals was his treatment of Russia as a conquered country. Not one of the Allies could dream of even hesitating about the rejection of such insulting and insufferable suggestions. Count Andrassy, as a Hungarian, would naturally favor this proposed punishment of Russia. It would play the Hungarian game to a nicety. But it would mean the cruel curtailment of Serbia, the passing of the Balkans under German control, the appearance of the Teuton on the Persian Gulf, his mastery of the Holy Places, his menacing nearness to both Egypt and India, his ability to tell Russia in his most insolent manner that she has nothing to hope from an alliance with her Western friends, and can only prosper as an obedient vassal of Prussia. So long as Germany holds this attitude toward Russia, it is idle to talk of the prospects of peace.

Count Andrassy intimates that Germany may not want all her Colonies back. This is very likely. Some of them were exceedingly poor investments. Germany, coming late to the table, had to take the leavings, and they were not always worth taking. If Germany is permitted to emerge from this war with Austria in her pocket and the Turkish Empire to exploit, she will have quite a fair chore to do at home, without looking for unprofitable and uncongenial colonial adventures in Africa. We rather fancy that Germany, when she dreams of a peace based on a present deadlock, looks for her future Colonial expansion not to the odds and ends of undeveloped continents, the discards of the great game, but to more carefully nursed and nurtured communities which she hopes some day to filch from other nations. In that day, we would cordially advise our Uncle Samuel to have an eye on his Monroe Doctrine.

THE COMING PARLIAMENT OF THE ALLIES.

THE two war councils of the Allies already held in Paris, have demonstrated to the world the complete unanimity which prevails among the opponents of the Central Empires. Impressive as this example has been, the Council which is to meet in the French capital within the next two weeks is doubly so, and is likely to be attended by consequences of even wider effect and greater future import.

Whereas the conferences already held have been concerned entirely with the conduct of the war, what makes the meetings about to open of such surpassing interest is the fact that they will constitute for the first time in the history of the world what is virtually a great international parliament, dealing with problems of commerce, industry and trade.

The nations which will be represented there are Russia, France, Belgium, Great Britain, Italy, Serbia, Japan and Portugal, as well as the overseas Dominions of the British Empire. Never before has the spectacle been presented of so many great nations sitting down together to legislate on matters of common interest, which have little bearing in some instances none at all on the great problem of the moment before the nations represented, the war.

There is, for instance, the matter of the establishment of an international patent office, a thing that has been long required, but which never before seemed likely of fulfilment. Internationalization of the laws governing stock transactions and bankruptcy, also being desired, will come up for discussion, as will a draft system for dealing with the losses and thefts of bonds payable to bearer, with certain proposals to prevent fraud in the shipment of merchandise between nations, with an attempt to effect a reduction on international telegraph and telephones, and the establishment of a penny postage among the Allies. There will also be a discussion as to the methods to be employed to prevent ante-bellum conditions of German trade with the Allies, and the possibility of establishing and maintaining a discriminating tariff against the Teutonic Powers.

We have as yet, of course, no means of knowing what degree of success will attend the conference. It may possibly be that the difficulties which have stood in the way of the accomplishment of these much-desired reforms will still be found to be insuperable. Again, nobody can predict how long the present alignment of nations will continue after the war is over, although the very nature of the questions up for solution at the coming conference is good proof that the countries to be represented there intend to remain as Allies for many years to come.

The most significant and hopeful thing about it all is, however, as has been said, the spectacle to be afforded of the first world-parliament meeting to discuss construction rather than destruction. Whatever may be the outcome of the war, the world will have been shown how easy it is to "get together" on questions which make for the good of all. The series of meetings, to begin shortly in Paris, will mark what is in many ways a new epoch in human progress.

Apparently the only way Uncle Sam stands a chance of getting Villa is by serving Carranza with a writ of habeas corpus.

The German Finance Minister says the Fatherland is in a strong position now that he has floated another war loan. So far he hasn't found it necessary to rob the babies' savings banks.

Whatever fortunes may be made or marred by the Kyte investigation, it is evident by the long list of lawyers engaged in advance that the legal profession won't come out of it much poorer.

"I hope that you will preserve in your deliberations all the dignity incumbent upon the high position which you have the honor to occupy," says the Mayor to the Aldermen. So of course we need expect no more "strikes" and similar antics from His Worship during the next two years.

American self-respect is insulted by the suggestion that, because of financial obligations, Great Britain would protect the United States from future German aggressions. Weren't we once fed up on the doctrine that Uncle Sam would "protect" us if we ever got in trouble with a first class Power?

THE WORLD'S PRESS

What of the Censors?

Detroit News:—If mail to the United States from Canada and from Canada to the United States is to be censored all during the vacation season, as it is at present, time will hang rather heavily on the hands of souvenir post card fiends this summer, when they are taking their vacations in one or the other of the countries.

Nelson Waited Long.

London Truth:—Sea power is not a stage property to be squandered to provide exciting stories for daily newspapers. When Nelson was awaiting the final triumphant meeting with the Napoleonic fleets he knew better than to fritter away his force in a series of futile attacks upon their bases, even though in his day the mine and the submarine were non-existent. He kept his battle fleets in their proper place?—on the high seas and the war was nearly two and a half years old before he met his enemy.

What Might Be.

Cleveland Plain Dealer:—Neither the Netherlands nor Switzerland is a great nation as the term is used to describe population or territory or natural resources. Either of them, or both together, would make a sad showing by comparison with the United States upon these points. Yet Switzerland has been ready almost from the opening of the war; and the Netherlands is ready now. Were Americans trained and recruited in the same proportion as the Swiss, the United States would have a standing army of 12,000,000 men.

As to Neutral Rights.

New York Sun: It is not the function of this Government to modify accepted principles of international law in order to suit the military convenience either of Germany or of the Allies. It is our function to insist on the preservation of clearly established neutral rights for the sake not only of our own interests but also of the interests of civilization when the war is over; and to this end the Department of State should be equally firm and impartial in its insistence, whether Great Britain or Germany is the repudiator and violator.

A German Blast.

Cologne Gazette:—The Englishman simply cannot understand any war except as a system of tricks and intrigues and bluff, intended to deceive public opinion. The two Central Powers are fighting for their life against a limited liability company of robbers, assembled on a scale never previously known. They know that all that is dearest to them, the soil and the future of their Fatherland is at stake, and so they will go on fighting until a result in accordance with their ideas has been reached. Meanwhile people on the Thames and the Seine may go on issuing prophecies about the length of the war which have a strong taste of war weariness.

"Empire Building."

London Daily News:—Men of all parties are agreed on the necessity of establishing closer relations between ourselves and the Dominions. It is of the utmost importance that that great problem should be considered in an atmosphere free from bias and prejudice, not by "raging tearing propagandas" but by cool and deliberate calculation. Above all, it is essential that neither on our side nor on the side of the Dominions should there be any tendency to dictate to the other side or take part in the controversies on internal policy. The experience of this war makes it inevitable that there should be some reconstruction of the Imperial relationship, but the work is one of great delicacy. It cannot be rushed. It certainly cannot be rushed by converting it into a Tariff Reform crusade.

Their Eyes Wider Open.

London Telegraph:—The idea that the Colonies and Dominions at the other end of the world have no living interest in the affairs of Europe is dead. It was always false, for while they were growing to their strength their future inevitably depended on the maintenance of British sea-power. But today there is not a single responsible Australian or New Zealander who does not understand that the downfall of Britain in this war would place the destinies of his own country at the mercy of the conqueror. And so it may very well be that there is in the distant Commonwealth and Dominion a truer perception of the deepest issues of the war than there is among the masses of our own people. Their eyes, in many respects, are wider open. At any rate, their statesmen and their Parliament have taken far more drastic action than has been taken here, and have already cut out one cancer that of German control over some of their most vital industries while we are still rather timorously discussing whether it is advisable to use the knife.

The Most Hopeful Augury.

The Round Table: If at times depression besets us, it is well to remember that for all their faults the people of this Commonwealth have not been false to its principles and its traditions. Not only have four million men from the British Isles given themselves voluntarily to the service of the cause of liberty and public right, but the Dominions have made provision for contributing more than 900,000 men to the common cause, and India itself, touched by the same high fire, has sent men and money with a generous hand. This is the most hopeful augury of the times. For it means that these young communities, at the beginning of a career which must, before many years are past, make them collectively far more important than Great Britain, have dedicated themselves to that same cause of freedom and justice in human affairs which Britain itself has always upheld. In essence the war is a renewal of that ancient struggle for liberty which has devastated all the centuries of history. The longer the war lasts, the more certainly will liberty prevail. For the free commonwealth is founded not upon fear, but upon the devotion of its citizens to the right, and every day that passes strengthens their conviction in the justice of their cause, and their determination to see it through. Victory is not yet. Heavy sacrifices and heavy burdens have yet to be borne. But who can doubt that right will prevail, if we endure to the end?

A CALL TO THE COLORS.

(By Shakespeare: Richard III.)

If you fight against God's enemy,
God will, in justice, ward you as His soldiers;
If you do swear to put a tyrant down,
You sleep in peace, the tyrant being slain;
If you do fight against your country's foes,
Your country's fat shall pay your pains the hire;
If you do fight in safeguard of your wives,
Your wives shall welcome home the conquerors;
If you do free your children from the sword,
Your children's children quit it in your age.

FULFILMENT.

You are quiet at the end of day,
You are the peace no storms may ever mar,
You are the light that can not fade away—
Lost be the path in darkness, you the star.

Once as a dream that youth had held unreal,
Now as a dream more real than all things true;
You only—yet the symbol and the seal
Of dreams eternal that shall come through you.

THE PASSING HOUR

REASONABLE EXCUSE.

Teacher—You are late this morning, Tommy. Have you a good excuse?

Tommy—You bet I have. First buckwheat cakes and sausages of the season.—Indianapolis Star.

A man, who had made a huge fortune, was speaking a few words to a class at a business college. Of course the main theme of his address was himself.

"All my success in life, all my financial prestige," he said, proudly, "I owe to one thing alone—pluck. Just take that for your motto—pluck, pluck!" He made an impressive pause here, but the effect was ruined by one student, who asked impressively:

"Yes, sir, but please tell us how and whom did you pluck?"

"Lor', Mrs. Green, you ain't looking yourself at all this morning. Whatever do be the matter with you?"

"There, Mrs. Budd, you know the trouble we've allus had with our George, an' now ah've a postcard this mornin' sayin' as 'ow he's got t' V.C., an' me an' 'is father teetotalers all our lives!"—Punch.

The manager of a small department store in the west sought out one of the proprietors saying:

"I can't do a thing with Jones, the new salesman. I have had him in three departments and he dozes all day long."

"Put him at the pyjama counter," said the boss, "and fasten this card on him, 'Our night clothes are of such a superior quality that even the clerk who wears them cannot keep awake.'"

Jarge (on a visit to London)—"Let's go oop past th' War Office, Maria. We might see Kitchener."

Maria—"We'll do nothin' o' th' sort. More'n likely you two'd get talkin' an' we'd miss our train."—Puck.

An elerdly gentleman from the country was at the head of a line of arrivals at a Michigan avenue hostlery, and, after signifying his acceptance of the rate offered him, was invited to sign the register. He consumed such an unconscionable amount of time in this that the clerk became impatient.

"Just sign your name, please," snapped the clerk. "The other guests, too, would like to register."

"See here, young man," exclaimed the old gentleman, "don't you try to hurry me. I don't sign nothing I ain't read carefully."

NOT IN IT.

Minister—"You're too young to be thinking of war. You should let your father do the fighting."

Tough kid—"Father nuthin'! Say, mister, mother can lick him!"

"A man lives three lives — youth, manhood, and age," philosophically stated Professor Pate. "Youth is the rising sun of life, when he thinks of what a heck of a feller he is going to be; manhood is the sun at full meridian, when he is satisfied that he is indeed a heck of a feler; age is the setting sun, when he sags around and brags about what a heck of a feller he used to be."—Judge.

"In the old days the main element of a soldier was to know how to act under fire."

"And nowadays, in addition, he is supposed to know how to act under water, in the earth and without air."

FROM THE STAR FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

"April 18, 1886, fell on Sunday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

The Late Hon F. D. Monk.

"The Jacques Cartier Club meeting yesterday, unanimously elected F. D. Monk candidate for the elections."—From The Montreal Star, April 18, 1896.

The late Hon. F. D. Monk, K.C., M.P., was born in Montreal on April 6, 1856, the fourth son of the late Hon. Samuel Cornwallis Monk, a judge of the Court of Queen's Bench for the Province of Quebec.

Mr. Monk was called to the Bar in 1878. He was first elected to the House of Commons as member for Jacques Cartier County in 1896, and was again elected in 1900, 1904, 1908 and 1911. In 1901 he was elected Opposition leader for the Province of Quebec in the House of Commons, resigning that position in 1903. When the Conservative party came into power in 1911, Mr. Monk took office as Minister of Public Works. He remained as member of the administration until October, 1912, when he resigned his portfolio, but retained his seat as member for Jacques Cartier. Laval University, in which Mr. Monk lectured as Professor of Constitutional Law for many years, conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Civil Law.

German Doctors Differ

By Henry Dalby.

As usual the views of the German spokesmen regarding the military situation are widely divergent. The Imperial Chancellor, von Bethmann-Hollweg, claimed on Wednesday that the reports of Germany's enemies that the German military force had been expended were erroneous as the Verdun battle has proved that where operations are prepared with great foresight, and where the bravery of German troops is called into play, one advantage after another is obtained. The Vossiche Zeitung referring to the Verdun operations says: "For the moment our position may seem discouraging, but there is still entire confidence in the strength of the German army. Let us not be pessimistic so we may not weaken the resistance of our soldiers." There cannot be much doubt as to which utterance embodies the truth. We do not question the bravery of the unfortunate German troops, but we do question the foresight, the wisdom of the man who threw away their lives so recklessly. The insincerity of von Bethmann-Hollweg with reference to the Verdun situation throws a doubt upon the sincerity of every statement in his painful apology for the war. It must be as obvious to him as it is to everybody else, that the German military force has been very nearly expended, and the fact is only emphasized by the desperation of the Verdun operations. On the other hand, it must be equally obvious to him that the military resources of the British Empire and Russia, have scarcely been tapped yet. Canada, for instance, has 60,000 men at the front, 44,000 men in England and 134,000 in Canada. There is no limit practically to the number of men that Great Britain and Russia can add to those already in the field, and there is absolutely no limit to the amount of money they are prepared to expend and can afford to expend in a righteous cause. If the present tactics are kept up by the Crown Prince at Verdun there will soon be more dead Germans than living ones in France, and much as this may add to the glory of the war lords, it will not add to the popularity of the Hohenzollern dynasty in Germany.

Never was a nation so ruthlessly betrayed and deceived by its rulers! How the poor patient asses stand it is one of the wonders of super-humanity. There is certainly something exceptional about the German after all. We can all understand a man sacrificing all that he has for a principle—religious or political—even life itself. But who but a German would throw away his life and connive at the ruin of his home and family and country, simply to add to the vain glory of an ambitious, arrogant and unutterably selfish royal family. Tricksters, brutal savages, lacking in all the best instincts of humanity, and who scarcely take the trouble to conceal their contempt for the poor wretches who trust them and suffer for them. There must be such a thing as super-stupidity. But some day the German people will awaken from their torpor and then heaven have mercy on the brutes who have betrayed them, for the people will have none. The French Revolution will not be a circumstance to it, and the longer the evil day is postponed the worse it will be for the aristocrats. They will be begging the foreign troops to remain in Germany to protect them from their surviving victims.

Say "Cheero!"
Is the Advice of Capt. Redmond

"Two soldier members of the Commons, both of them home from the Flanders front, have recently addressed the House on the conduct of the war, but the two speeches have been as far as the Poles apart in tone and temper," says the London Sunday Times.

"Col. Churchill came back to launch a bitter philippic at his former colleagues, and especially at his successor at the Admiralty; Capt. William Redmond to sound a clarion note of good cheer and confidence. Col. Churchill gave his fellow-members a pretty clear hint that if they knew their business they would not let him go back; Capt. Redmond was happy to say that I am going back to the front almost immediately, and it is not likely that I shall be here again for some time."

"The one speech showed dissension and discord; the other, as a later speaker said, brought a breath of manliness from the trenches, and was for the heartening not only of the immediate audience, but of the nation at large.

"At the front, where every day and night the Angel of Death comes so close that they can hear the beating of his wings, 'the common salutation,' says Capt. Redmond, 'is one of cheer.

"Send us out the reinforcements which are necessary," exclaimed Capt. Redmond; "and then trust the men. When victory does come you can spend the rest of your lives in discussing whether it has been won on proper lines or not. There has never been enough Germans born into this world to depress our men; they could be depressed only by controversy at home. The men under all conditions in the trenches call to one another 'Cheero!' We ask you at home as well to say to us, 'Cheero!'"

The first lighthouse erected by the United States Government was built at Cape Henry in the year of 1791, and was rebuilt in the same spot in 1881.

LITTLE STORIES for Bedtime
By T. W. Burgess

FARMER BROWN'S BOY SEES MR. QUACK.

(Copyright, 1916, by T. W. Burgess.)

"That duck found my corn," said he.

Sammy Jay looked down from the top of the Big Hickory tree at Farmer Brown's Boy shaking a fist at him, and he knew then that Farmer Brown's Boy knew who had warned Mrs. Quack that he was coming. But though Farmer Brown's Boy was shaking a fist at Sammy, there was no hint of anger in his round, freckled face, and Sammy knew that he was just pretending.

"Ho, ho, ho!" laughed Sammy in his saucy way, and flew toward the dear old Brier Patch to see if Peter Rabbit was at home.

Farmer Brown's Boy approached the Smiling Pool very quietly. He hoped that there might be another duck there. He didn't expect there would be, because of Sammy Jay, but he hoped. So when he got where he could see all over the Smiling Pool he was not surprised that no duck was to be seen. All the way across the Green Meadows he had listened to the great chorus of the Hylas in the Smiling Pool: "peepers," he called them, but the instant he stepped on the bank the choirs stopped. He had expected it would. It always did, no matter how careful he was to make no noise. It was as still as if there were no living thing anywhere near.

"Funny how they always know when I get here," muttered Farmer Brown's Boy. "There must be hundreds of them here, and yet I've never seen one of them singing."

He walked along to the place where the bulrushes grow, and his eyes grew bright as he noticed that among them the water was very muddy. "That duck found my corn," said he. 'I hope it tasted so good that she will come back for more." He put his hand in a pocket and drew it out full of yellow corn. This he tossed out among the rushes. Several times he did this. Then he turned toward the alderbushes along the Laughing Brook where it flows into the Smiling Pool.

"I'll hide here a while. Perhaps that duck will come back," said he. So he made himself comfortable among the alder bushes where he could watch the Smiling Pool and sat perfectly still. Sitting perfectly still isn't the easiest thing in the world to do, but Farmer Brown's Boy had learned that it was the surest way of getting acquainted with the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, and he had practiced it so much that it was not so hard for him as it once had been. Gentle Sister South Wind blew softly through the alders and made the tiniest silver ripples on the Smiling Pool. The laughter of the Laughing Brook was good to hear, and presently there came a clear, sweet "peep, peep, peep" from over in the Smiling Pool, and, as if this were a signal, the great spring chorus began again right where it had left off when he had stepped out on the bank.

There was joy in that chorus and it found an echo in the heart of Farmer Brown's Boy. It was good to be there. Along the edge of the Laughing Brook he could see the bright green of sturdy skunk cabbage leaves some tightly rolled as they had thrust their way up through the earth like little spears, and some already beginning to unfold. He could see soft gray pussywillows. In the top of the Big Hickory tree Redwing the Blackbird was doing his best to let every one know how glad he was to be back from the south. Somewhere back of him among the alders Little Friend the Song Sparrow seemed to be trying to put all the gladness and joy and hope of springtime into song. Presently Jerry Muskrat swam across the Smiling Pool and climbed out on the end of an old log. Farmer Brown's Boy smiled as he watched, and then he wondered how he ever, ever could have tried to trap Jerry, and a little flush of shame crept over his face.

And then he caught his breath. Something was moving close to the bank on the opposite side of the Laughing Brook. What could it be? He fixed his eyes on the spot and held his breath. And then he almost exclaimed aloud, which would have spoiled everything, for out from under the bushes swam a handsome duck with green head and neck, a white collar, and a reddish waistcoat. It was Mr. Quack. It was plain to see that he was very nervous and anxious. He looked this way and that way. He held his head very high, and Farmer Brown's Boy knew that just as his keen eyes were searching everywhere for signs of danger his keen ears were listening for suspicious sounds. Presently he saw Jerry Muskrat taking a sun bath on the end of the old log, and at once he seemed satisfied that all was well. He drew his neck down to a more comfortable position and slowly swam out into the Smiling Pool.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENCE

BROWN EYES.

Ether will remove the stain on your blue dress.

WIN.

Spray plant with a solution of whale-oil soap, to remove bugs. Thank you for verses.

SHORTY.

I would write sensible, friendly letters to the soldiers of whom you speak, but I do not think I would send my photograph, if I were you.

J. H. RENTING QUESTION.

All questions regarding renting of houses, reason for breaking lease, complaints against landlord, etc., are legal, and will be answered by Editor "Notes and Queries." Please address such questions to him.

CHARITY.

I think you should ask your mother to let you have a small allowance, say, ten cents a week, which you could spend or save for your hair ribbons, etc. At present it would be just as much self-denial for you to use the small sum you have in buying a gift for your sister as in putting it in a "self-denial" box.

ONTARIO.

Write "Lonely Soldier," care Lady Drummond, Canadian Red Cross Bureau, Cockspur street, London, England. She will see that it is forwarded to some soldier who will appreciate it.

SHE IS PEEVED.

I often invite a friend to my house for tea and not once has he offered to take me anywhere or pleased me as I do him. I ask your advice what you would do with such a fellow. I am very fond of him though, this is my first question I have ever asked you. Hoping you will answer it, as I am a bit peeved about it.

GIRL.

Ans.:—I know of nothing you can do, unless you stop inviting him to tea.

AFTER-THEATRE SUPPER.

Would you please inform me if it is correct for a girl to go to supper after the theatre with a man? (2) Is it polite to refuse as it is so late? (3) At what age would this be permissible as, of course, a girl would get home at quite a late hour? (4) Would you call a girl with light golden hair and brown eyes a blonde, her skin is also very fair? Most say she is a blonde, while others insist a blonde must have blue or grey eyes. (5) Is there no name for a person who is neither a blonde or a brunette? Some call them disappointed blondes, but I see no reason to call them disappointed? Do you? (6) Pardon me, I'm not jealous, but don't you think, "Fluffy Ethel" is getting more than her share of limelight? After receiving her answer to "What is love?" she promptly asks, "What is hate?" What will be her next question?

HINKEE DEE.

Ans.—(1) It is difficult to lay down set rules for these things. I am quite aware that it is not always possible for a girl to have a chaperon for such an occasion, and I think a girl must rely on her own common sense to tell her what to do. If she is circumspect in her behavior, does not drink anything intoxicating, or make herself conspicuous in any way, she is allowed considerably more latitude than her mother was. The point is, that a girl must avoid the appearance of evil as well as evil itself, if she wishes to preserve her most valuable asset, her good reputation. (2) Absolutely polite. (3) Over twenty-one. (4) I would think her a blonde. (5) You might call them of medium coloring. Have never heard the term "disappointed blonde." (6) "Fluffy Ethel" is a very good friend of this page, and is constantly sending in items of information and good topics for discussion. I really believe you are jealous. Fie, Hinkee Dee!

WHAT'S THE USE?

I wonder if you would be good enough to explain just what was the meaning that you wished to convey to your readers through the article, "What's the Use." It appealed to me and yet I cannot define it. I think your page is just splendid, and I wish you every possible success.

FLORENCE.

Ans.—I wrote the article originally some years ago, while travelling through the Columbia Valley in British Columbia. The experience actually happened as related, and the old man's words are given as nearly verbatim as my memory would permit. I had no particular object in writing it, except that the old man appealed to me in just the same way as does that verse of the Rubaiyat:

"The Worldly Hope men set their hearts upon
Turns ashes—or it prospers; and anon
Like snow upon the desert's dusty face,
Lighting a little hour or two — is gone."

AN UNSUCCESSFUL GIRL.

1. Put an advertisement in the classified advertising columns of The Star under heading "Wanted to purchase." 2. It is impossible to say why some girls gather up beaux so easily and others cannot get them at all. It is a question of personal magnetism, or charm, and that is a quality that cannot be defined. 3. A navy blue coat is usually a good choice for general wear, and should be becoming to you. 4. Unless I knew your height, I would not say if you were too fat, or not. 5. Please remember rule to write on only one side of the paper.

CURE FOR WARTS.

In reading your very interesting page, I saw one of your correspondents asked if you knew a cure for "warts." Now if she will only use this simple one which I know and have tried, for I had one on the palm of my hand for over 20 years. Get a piece of washing soda, and after each time the hands are washed while damp rub soda on wart and let it dry, and if done regularly in time wart will disappear.

I am interested in your page and have found some useful things there.

E. N.

Ed. Note.—Thank you very much

IRENE.

1. I am sorry, but I'm afraid you can't take dye stains out of your blouse. Anything strong enough to remove the dye would remove the blouse. 2. Spray your plant with a solution of whale oil soap to remove insects.

WHAT GIRLS MAY DO
BY JESSIE ROBERTS

TRAPPING ANIMALS

An article of mine some time back telling how one woman in New Jersey had made a living by trapping animals, following in her husband's trade after his death, has brought me a certain amount of criticism from people interested in the work of the S.P.C.A. for the prevention of this form of cruelty.

"Please read these pamphlets," says the lady who sends them, "and then decide whether any woman with a heart in her body would wish to engage in the trapping business if she knew beforehand of the wicked suffering her work would cause."

There is not a doubt that much terrible suffering is caused by traps. Any one wearing furs wears something that has been procured, in nine cases out of ten, by the road of pain. Perhaps some day we shall all refuse to be, even in the remotest way, responsible for suffering. Those who are working with this end in view are doing a good work. But so long as a fair trade is carried on in the furs of wild animals, so long will men and women who must make their living in no other way engage in the business of getting these furs.

Myself, I should not care to be a trapper. But since there are trappers and since women have proved themselves successful in this line I see no reason for suppressing the account of their success. After all, most of the fur-bearing animals are of those species that prey on other animals and on birds. One fox will destroy more birds and smaller animals than a hundred traps. The thing to do is to strive to train trappers to use those traps that will kill instantly or will catch without wounding.

A woman is more apt than a man to be humane in her trapping: to visit her traps promptly, and to use the best form of trap. That is as much as we can expect under the present laws.

Today's Household Affairs
BY MARY LEE.

A correspondent from a western town writes:

"We have one of those ugly useless little rooms in our house which used to be called 'parlors.' We never use this room because the big living room behind it is so much more comfortable. The little room has a south exposure and plenty of sun. Can you suggest any way of improving this room and making it habitable?"

We saw in our mind's eye an ideal sun-parlor opening off the big living room, a room where the fragrant breezes would play, and where the family could sit in screened and awninged comfort in the summer, and where the winter sunlight would stream in the cold months, and a sun bath would be waiting every cloudy day.

Make the south end of the room all windows of the lattice variety which will swing wide in the summer and close well in the winter. The floor, with the floor: get a good stain filler, make the floor as even as possible, if it happens to be a hardwood floor varnish with two coats of wood varnish; if it is a pine floor, sandpaper off to smoothness then stain it a dark brown and finish with two coats of varnish.

Use the cottage drapery for the windows, the under curtains of white cheese cloth, the over-ruffle and sides of delft-blue denim. The ideal furnishing would be wicker with cushions of the blue; but often there are pieces of furniture which are too good to be discarded, and there is no place to store them, which may be utilized in such a room.

The essentials are a good sized table for books and magazines, comfortable lounging and sewing chairs, and a couch where "forty winks" may be snatched on occasion.

If the door is solid between the living-room and sun parlor, have a glass one put on, if possible folding doors of glass which will give a sense of spaciousness to the living room which it has never before enjoyed.

If more decoration is desired, there are hanging flower baskets, which will hold blossoming plants summer and winter, and any body can climb the stairs well, with a few brass or bronze vases for boots. If the entrance to the parlor contains a door it will possess a sound set for study, deception, and the possibility for locking. The room has also delightful all winter.

Make-over clothes have always been with us, but the made-over room was long in developing, now with small arbors and sleeping porches, it has come into its own.

BEEF STEW A LA MILITAIRE.

(Providence Journal)

Here is a recipe for beef stew which can be recommended without reservation to housewives, cooks and all others whom it may concern. For a pail of stew take half a pound of beef, a quarter pound of rice, and one entire variety of beans, onions, carrots and water. The authority for this beef stew is the British Government. It will be prepared, strictly according to specifications, by packers and canneries in the United States and Canada, to be served hot on Tommy Atkins in the trenches six hundred million pounds cans, with deliveries at the rate of nine or ten million weekly at the contract price, ninety-one million dollars worth of stew. Never before in the glorious annals of beef stew was there such an order.

For Genuine Comfort

By MAY MANTON

9006 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Kimono with Set-In Sleeves, Small 34 or 36, Medium 38 or 40, Large 42 or 44 bust.

Price 15 Cents.

This is a negligee that means real comfort. It is delightful to slip on in the seclusion of one's room, it is really perfect for pullman use, and it is, in fact, generally satisfactory. It is absolutely simple, too, meaning very little labor for the making. Here, it is made with the fronts lapped in double-breasted effect, but they can be cut off to make a narrower lap if preferred. All the pretty simple silks and crepes and the like are used for such garments. The cotton crepes are fashionable as well as the silks, and some of the flowered voiles of the season are charming for such a purpose. For immediate wear, albatross is of comfortable weight.

For the medium size will be needed 6 yards of material 36 inches wide, 5¼ yard 44, with ¾ yard 36 inches wide for the trimming.

The pattern 9006 is cut in three sizes—small, medium and large. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of fifteen cents.

PLAIN SPEECH AT FIRST MEETING OF NEW CITY COUNCIL

Harmonious Program Exploded by Maiden Remarks by Ald. Lariviere

FINANCES AGAIN BURNING QUESTION

Controller Villeneuve Reviews Local Conditions Back to 1906

The inaugural ceremonies incidental to the organization of the City Council yesterday was replaced by a social function when Ald. Lariviere, the new Board Leader, confused [illegible] in making his maiden speech. Ald. Lariviere reminded the Mayor that the civic order of the day was business, and of the people's wish for speedy action toward everything was burning today, and the fleetness of spring blossoms.

The Mayor, with his robes and chain of office, settled on a throne that was more like a bank wherein the wild thyme blows, heaped up and overflowing with flowers. The council chamber was a riot of bloom, from the city greenhouses. With the aid of the city's park system, the City Hall had been decorated with $888 worth for the glorious occasion of the inauguration of an administration. Everywhere were fair women and brave men, even standing on one another's toes, because there was not enough floor space for them all. Each lady had a beautiful bouquet of carnations, no doubt as compensation for having to listen to a few aldermanic speeches.

CLERK'S RECITAL.

The City Clerk opened the ball with a recital of what happened on election day. Then the Mayor made his speech from the throne, as published in yesterday's Star. Rene Bouset, assistant city clerk, read an English translation of this edict, and then, on motion of the new "leader," the address was received. At this moment the program was varied slightly by Ald. Menard, who sprang to his feet and made an impromptu speech, thanking the electors for electing him, and making a few appropriate remarks about the war in Europe, the language question in Ontario, and other civic issues.

When he had finished, Controller Villeneuve resumed the scheduled program. He said that as far back as 1908 he had realized the financial situation of the city and had drawn the attention of the civic authorities to it. At that time there was a population of 400,000 and a debt of $31,220,712, while salaries amounted to about $1,000,000.

"I drew attention to the extravagance existing then," said the Controller, "but now we have a population of 600,000, a debt of $100,000,000, or $70,000,000 more than it was eight years ago, and salaries of $4,000,000. The debt increase is largely due to unbusinesslike methods, innovations, disastrous and unwarranted expropriations made at random.

FINANCIAL REMEDY.

"The heritage left to us is not an enviable one, and, therefore, have we not the right to ask the people to judge the present administrators on their conduct as the future will show it, and not saddle us with the acts of our predecessors. As for myself I intend to disassociate myself from responsibility for all that has been done in the past."

As one remedy for the financial situation, Controller Villeneuve suggested that the public utility companies be asked to contribute more to the city treasury for the use of the streets.

Controller Ross followed, thanking the ratepayers of Montreal for showing their confidence in him, and promising that he would use his every effort to see that a business administration was given the city, and that the prestige of the city be restored.

On motion of Ald. Menard, seconded by Ald. O'Connell, Ald. Hushion was made acting mayor. Then Ald. Den's moved that the selections of committees and chairmen made at the aldermanic caucus on Friday be ratified. The main point of this was the appointment of Ald. Lariviere as chairman of the legislation committee. Ald. Lariviere moved in amendment that the question be deferred.

CIVIC FIGURES

REPORTS DEFERRED.

On motion of Ald. Farrell, civic reports were deferred until this afternoon's special meeting of the council.

Ald. Macdonald wanted to know whether aldermen could attend meetings of the Board of Control. The mayor replied that they might attend, but could not take part in the proceedings.

Ald. Duncan wanted to know when the city intended putting the streets in order. The mayor reminded the council that they had left over the supplementary budget for another day and that nothing could be done to improve our streets until money was voted. Ald. Farrell charged Ald. Lariviere with being responsible for the present condition. Ald. Lariviere replied that he had been in favor of completing [illegible] Ald. Menard agreed with Ald. Lariviere that the streets were in a bad condition. Ald. Lariviere then moved that as soon as [illegible] the Board of Control [illegible] which could be done in a few days, the streets be put in order. Ald. Menard moved in amendment that the matter be left in the hands of the Board of Control. The amendment was carried.

LOCAL RED CROSS SENDS MUCH AWAY FOR THE WOUNDED

Goods Now Stored in Windsor Street Station—Recent Visitors

Through the kindness of Lord Shaughnessy, the Red Cross Society now has a room in the Windsor Street station of the Canadian Pacific Railway, where supplies may be stored. Lieut.-Col. McRobie of the Canadian Transfer Company has undertaken to deliver some of the goods. George Benson has arranged for a fire-escape, loaned by the Montreal Foundling and Baby Hospital, to be put up on the building in Belmont Park.

The Red Cross group working in Birks' building under the direction of Mrs. A. H. B. Mackenzie, has made a specialty of surgical dressings, many thousands of which have been sent in to headquarters this winter.

Among recent visitors has been Miss Fletcher, sent by the Peter Burt Brigham Hospital in Boston to exchange methods and ideas with the Canadian society. Miss Fletcher, who, during her stay in Montreal was the guest of Mrs. B. Tooke, came as a delegate from the American Red Cross Society.

Following is a classified list of contents of cases shipped recently: Nos. 5909 to 6058 inclusive, 1,560 slings, 1,110 pillow cases, 2,500 face cloths, 205 many tailed bandages, 4,404 bandages, 50 sets flannel underwear, 160 bed sacks, 124 gauze bandages, 65 khaki suits, 100 surgical shirts, 30 comfort bags for Cliveden hospital, 160 binders, 950 bed pads, 23 large pillows, 173 surgical pillows, 1,704 wadding bandages, 445 suits pyjamas, 625 flannel shirts, 1,180 pairs socks, 4073 cotton bandages, 127 convalescent suits, 3,990 towels, 550 sheets, 240 mufflers, 51 dressing gowns, 5,420 dressings, 2,700 large dressings, 255 packages folded gauze, 208 rolled gauze, 56 bags sponges, 12 packages sponges, 15 bags drainage, 3,110 compresses, 4 bags eye dressings, 365 absorbent pads, 17 jute pads, 25 rings, 125 surgeons' caps, 695 "T" bandages, 120 nurses' aprons, 650 packets chocolate, 826 packages chiclets, 1,240 head bandages, 117 comfort bags.

PRIZES PRESENTED FOR CALISTHENICS

The closing calisthenics of the Villa Maria Convent an interesting program was given by the pupils. A novel feature of the program was the Carpet Ball match, which was much enjoyed by the large number of relatives and friends who were present.

Miss Campbell and Miss Roberts led the very graceful poses of "mode of expression." Military tactics were carried out with precision and reflected great credit upon the instructor. Miss Baker Edwards was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses, while Miss Wade received one of white carnations.

The result of the competitions follows:

NEEDN'T WATCH FEET ALWAYS IN WALKING

"A man has a right to walk on the sidewalk without looking at his feet all the time," remarked Chief Justice Archibald, in a jury case wherein the city was first condemned to pay Wm. Robertson $300. The city thought the condemnation unjust, and Robertson considered it not quite just enough, so both went to appeal.

Robertson, when walking on Wellington street, tripped over a flagstone which protruded above its fellows. The jury found that Robertson had suffered $600, but reduced the amount by half because he was negligent in not keeping a sharp eye on the sidewalk. Chief Justice Archibald did not like the latter part of the verdict, and in awarding Robertson the full amount said:

"A pedestrian has a right to assume that the sidewalk is in good order. It is not negligence to look straight ahead without watching one's feet. To do this might lead to far more accidents than occur by looking straight ahead where one is going."

MONSTER PARADE OF THE SOLDIERS AT FOUR, SUNDAY

The combined church parade on Sunday afternoon of all the troops in the city, including the overseas and home service battalions and the Highland Cadets, is called for four o'clock.

The men who are Roman Catholics will attend a short service at St. James Cathedral at three o'clock, and will then march west to the Arena, where they will join the Protestant soldiers. The parade will form up on Wood and Elm avenues, and in that neighborhood at four o'clock, and will march eastward along Sherbrooke street to Union avenue. The men will then turn down Union avenue to St. Catherine street, where the different units will march off to their respective headquarters, some going east and others west. As all the streets in the neighborhood of the Arena will be occupied by the soldiers getting into formation, people who desire to watch the parade are requested by the authorities not to congregate in this vicinity, but to line the route of march along Sherbrooke street and Union avenue.

Each of the home regiments and the overseas battalions will have their bands out, and the parade will be one of the largest the citizens have seen.

Headache

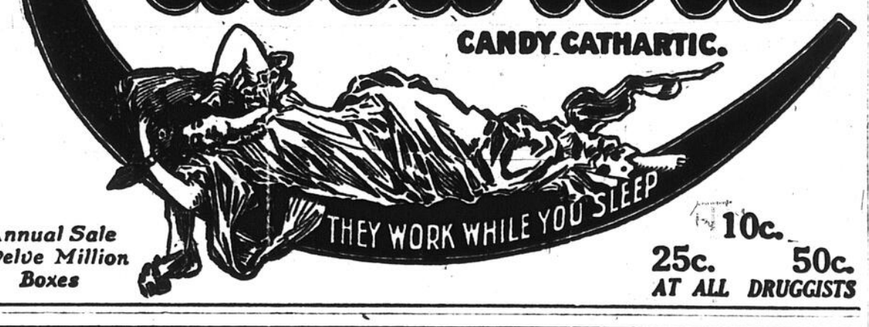

Stomach Trouble, Biliousness, Dizziness

Sick Headaches. Always trace them to lazy liver or a sick stomach. Poisonous matter, instead of being thrown out, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, awful throbbing, sickening pain. CASCARETS remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the poison move on and out, and purifying the blood. The effect is almost instantaneous. Ladies whose sensitive organisms are especially prone to sick headaches need not suffer for they can quickly be

ZAM-BUK

AMSTERDAM, via London, April 18.—The public prosecutor has opened an inquiry against the German Consul Herr Von Humboldt, who is alleged to have spread the recent report that Great Britain had issued an ultimatum to Holland, says the Telegraaf.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

THE sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion Land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy can be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (but not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section along side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions.

A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties: Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $300.

The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be substituted for cultivation under certain conditions.

W. W. CORY, C.M.G.,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

GOOD PRICES ARE PAID AT AUCTION OF REAL ESTATE

The inaugural sale of the "Real Estate Market" yesterday was a success beyond the expectations of those under whose auspices it was held. G. W. Parent, who acted as auctioneer in the rooms at 18 St. James street, practically cleared the list of offerings and at good prices.

The first two lots he doubled up and sold enbloc to Messrs. Anglin, Ltd. The property comprised the corner lot at Redfern avenue and Western, 34 feet x 134 feet, and another immediately west with a depth of 132 feet. The price realized was $16,824.

This was followed by a bigger transaction when property at the corner of St. Joseph and Cadieux streets, comprising 18 flats, realized $38,500 the buyer being Mrs. D. Templeton, of Notre Dame de Grace.

Another property, at the south-east corner of Sanguinet and St. Joseph streets, brought in $1.25 a foot, going to J. Cohen for $10,000.

The last lot to be sold was on Marcil avenue, Nos. 271 and 273, comprising 2 flats. This went to J. Turner for $3,950.

Nos. 5, 7, 9, 11, 13, and 15 Davidson street, Hochelaga, was postponed until the next sale which will be on April 26.

Should the next sale prove to be as popular as the one today it is intended to hold them daily. Today's sale was well attended.

SALES REGISTERED.

Opinions from Wall Street

Janes, Gwynne & Co.—While International news is still unfavorable, the outlook in the German situation is taking a more hopeful turn. We believe, however, we believe great changes in the stock market pending definite declarations will offer but quick trading opportunities.

Laidlaw & Co.—The war munition business is very quiet, but over the greater part of the country total volume of business, although there is no means of time of business created by reason of the war; that is the demand for commodities formerly supplied by European manufacturers, both neutral and belligerent nations.

Press Opinions on N.Y. Situation

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Press "To a great extent the Mexican and submarine factor gave way as an active influence in the stock market to officially confirmed reports of a slump in buying by the Allies of munitions of war in this country, the new argument bringing out an amount of liquidation that had a rather disastrous effect upon prices of the leading shares.

American—After a brave opening yesterday Wall Street got terribly frightened because doubt was cast on Villa's death and because the Bethlehem Steel Company confirmed what Morgan & Company announced last week about a scarcity of big war orders.

Herald — A spurt of three or four points at the opening in Mexican Petroleum and of 1¼ in American Smelting was attributed to reports of Villa's death which would clarify the Mexican situation. The market, however, did not respond, and a sharp decline in "war stocks" led to general weakness.

World — Feverish movements in the stock market yesterday continued to reflect the nervousness and uncertainty in financial circles over the country's foreign relations.

Tribune — The difficulties with Mexico and Germany remained over the week-end and the stock market was still nervous. Traders found additional cause for disquiet in further prophecy that munition orders from abroad were likely be light from now on.

Sun — There were peculiar features in yesterday's stock market which prevented the weakness display during the greater part of the day from being wholly attributable to the particular factors of uncertainty in our international relations which have undoubtedly exercised a good deal of depressing influence on the general share list.

Times — A selling movement which on the surface did not bear relation to the matters which have been uppermost in the minds of the financial community—the submarine controversy and the Mexican difficulties—was the chief feature of yesterday's trading on the Stock Exchange. The brunt of the selling was borne by certain of the war order stocks, including several of those in which recent trades operations had been most extensive.

Post — Pictures sprung out in connection with the annual meeting of the shareholders of the United States Steel Corporation today threw additional light on one of those unusual influences which the war has brought to bear on the stock market namely, foreign buying. Since the beginning of hostilities in Europe, foreign owners of the common stock of the Steel Corporation have sold no less than 50 per cent of their holdings, reducing the number of shares held abroad from nearly 1,200,000 in the early part of 1914 to 634,000 shares two years later.

LATE FINANCIAL NEWS

WAR STOCKS OBJECTS OF N.Y. ATTACK

LIST ACTIVE, RECESSIONS ARE SLIGHT

WALL STREET, 1.30 p.m.—Trading dwindled to slender proportions in the afternoon, the coppers being almost the sole features at moderate advances. Rails held their ground but specialties receded again under pressure.

After a monotonous hour and a half of afternoon trading, Baldwin Loco. declined to 95, a new low for the year, other "war brides" then came under selling pressure.

Towards the close the market showed little change. Steel was $3.

President Jarvis on Canadian Locomotive

Special to The Montreal Star.

TORONTO, April 18.—Aemilius Jarvis, president of Canadian Locomotive, told The Star representative that there were no new developments at the Kingston Works which would lend any warrant for a boom in the stock at present time.

"Any influences that would move the market for the stock now might just as well have done so several months ago. The company has orders on hand that will keep the plant working at capacity for at least a year, and the outlook for new orders is particularly bright. We are now turning out fifteen new locomotives a month; this in addition to our own work on munitions. The one difficulty we are experiencing at the present time is that of securing materials. These are very scarce, with consequent high prices obtaining."

TEMPERANCE BILL AMENDED TWICE, HAS THIRD READING

In supply on the agriculture estimates, Mr. Glass said it seemed regrettable that municipalities did not avail themselves of the provision for the inspection of dairy herds for the prevention of tuberculosis. It was important that there should be proper inspection, especially in view of milk supply, and Mr. Glass thought that more agressive methods might be adopted of bringing the matter to the attention of the health authorities.

The Hon. J. D. Hazen, acting Minister of Agriculture, replied that every health officer in Canada had been notified of the provisions. If a board of health took the matter up the Government sent an inspector.

Mr. Robb felt that some better measures should be adopted of getting rid of tuberculosis in cattle. The present system could only be considered as a half way measure. Many people did not know there was any compensation for cattle.

NO MICHIGAN CONTRACT.

In the course of subsequent discussion, Mr. Hazen informed Mr. Lanctot that the Department had made no contract for the purchase of hay in Michigan for the Imperial Government. The contracts for hay were made in Canada and called for Canadian hay. Mr. Hazen also stated that in purchasing horses, the British Government had sent a special official to Canada who had all arrangements in hand.

Following considerable debate, third reading was given to the Bill to confirm a transfer of the lands held by the Indians of St. Peter's reserve near Selkirk, Man. The Hon. Frank Oliver submitted an amendment that the Bill be referred back to committee to have that part struck out which required the payment of an additional dollar an acre and, further, to confirm the surrender of the lands unconditionally as made by the Indians in 1907. Mr. Oliver argued that it was evident that the Indians were satisfied with the terms of the surrender. It was unjustifiable he said, to compel people who had purchased the land by auction in good faith to pay another dollar an acre.

George Bradbury, member for Selkirk, said that the present arrangement was in the nature of a compromise. He believed that the Indians were being cheated of a very valuable asset. The present proposal would not give to them their full due, but it was probably the best compromise that could be reached.

The Hon. Dr. Reid, acting Minister of Railways, introduced a Bill to extend the provisions of the Railway act, in regard to the service of small claims, to all Government railways. At present the provisions apply only to the Intercolonial Railway.

At question time, J. G. Turriff was informed that the wives of officers of the Expeditionary Forces stationed in Canada draw separation allowance from the Militia Department.

WE OFFER

250,000 Shares of the Treasury Stock of the

Adanac Silver Mines, Limited

Incorporated Under the Laws of Ontario. Mine Located at Cobalt, Ontario

AT FIFTY CENTS PER SHARE

Capital, 2,500,000 shares. Par Value, $1.00

PROPERTY:

This Company owns 60 acres in Coleman Township, immediately adjoining the Temiskaming Mines, Ltd., on the Southwest.

DEVELOPMENT:

Work is now being carried on between the North and South planes and within 300 feet of the Temiskaming line. Here a shaft has been sunk 200 feet and cross-cuts run East and West at this level. In the East cross-cut, about 75 feet from the shaft, a winze has been sunk 120 feet, and is being continued to reach the 400 foot level, where a cross-cut will be run to connect with the shaft, which, will, in the meantime be continued on to that depth. In this winze, at a depth of 64 feet, or 264 feet from the surface, high-grade silver values were encountered in a calcite vein about 2½ inches in width, in the form of ruby and native silver deposited in the calcite and cobalt. These values were something over four thousand ounces in silver to the ton of orebearing rock.

EQUIPMENT:

Equipment consists of all necessary mining machinery, such as hoists, drills, blacksmith shop, houses, stables, horses, wagons, manager's office, etc.

Over Four Hundred Thousand Dollars has already been spent in bringing the property from the prospective stage to the producing one. Due to their faith in the property, all of this was expended by the largest shareholders at no cost to the treasury o the company.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:

President, Burr E. Cartwright, of Toronto, Ontario. Mine operator of many years' experience in Cobalt.
Treasurer, J. P. Bickell, of J. P. Bickell & Co., Toronto, Ontario. President of the Superstition Mining Company of Arizona. Director of McIntyre Porcupine Mines, Ltd., of Ontario.
Secretary, D. A. McArthur, Lawyer, Toronto, Ontario. Of the firm of Fasken, Cowen, Chadwick & Rose.
P. M. Bushnell, Lawyer, of Buffalo, New York.
J. J. Calvin, of Fasken, Cowen, Chadwick & Rose.

MINE MANAGEMENT:

The mine management is in charge of Mr. Charles Spearman, M. I. M. A. M. E.; a graduate of the Columbia School of Mines, who is well known as an eminent geologist.

IN CONCLUSION:

The Cobalt Camp since 1904 has produced over $100,000,000 worth of silver and paid in dividends over $65,000,000, and is still producing at its normal rate. It can be truthfully said of Cobalt that for every dollar expended in development work and scientific mining at least five dollars has been returned by mother earth.

Application will be made to list the stock on the New York Curb, as well as on the Standard Stock Exchange of Toronto, Ontario.

NOTES AND QUERIES

FOR DURATION OF WAR.

Q.—My fiance, an American citizen, enlisted last August for overseas service with the 73rd Battalion. He [illegible] was told that when that year was up, namely August, 1916, he would be free to return to Canada. Is he correct in his statement, or is he simply trying to cheer me up? Can he leave at the end of that [illegible]

A.—Like [illegible] on for the duration of the war. He cannot leave until then.

AN ARMY CYCLE CORPS.

Q.—Can you tell me if there is an army cycle corps being formed in Canada, at the present time? If so, where could I join one, as I am very anxious to do so.—F. S., Valleyfield, Que.

A.—No, there is no army cycle corps being raised at present, so far as we know. One went with the First Contingent; it was organized at Valcartier. Write to the Militia Department, Ottawa, and they will tell you if they are raising any more such units, or sending over reinforcements.

THE RETREAT FROM MONS.

Q.—Will you kindly answer if there were any Canadian troops engaged in the retreat from Mons of the present war.—J. M. A.

A.—No. Canada's First Contingent, after training at Valcartier and Salisbury Plain, arrived in France on or about February 9, 1915, several months after the retreat from Mons, which came in August, 1914, in the early days of the war.

ISLAND OF ANTICOSTI.

Q.—What is the size of the Island of Anticosti?—A. W. C., Montreal.

A.—The Island of Anticosti, the largest in the entire Gulf of St. Lawrence, is one hundred and forty miles in length, with a mean width of twenty-seven and a half miles.

"KING CAN DO NO WRONG."

Q.—To settle some discussion, will the Editor of Notes and Queries [illegible] of the British Constitution, by the saying, "The King can do no wrong."—A. W. M., Westmount.

A.—The government of Great Britain is conducted in conformity with certain tread[illegible] [illegible] the King can do no wrong. "Rightly understood," says Dr. Alpheus Todd, in his "Parliamentary Government in the British Colonies," "this precept means that the personal actions of the sovereign, not being acts of government, are not under the cognizance of the law, and that as an individual he is not amenable to any earthly power or jurisdiction. He is, nevertheless, in subjection to God and to the law. For the law controls the King, and it is, in fact 'the only rule and measure of the power of the Crown, and of the obedience of the people. And while the sovereign is personally irresponsible for all acts of government, yet the functions of royalty which appertain to him in his political capacity are regulated by law, or by constitutional precept, and must be discharged by him solely for the public good, and not to gratify personal inclinations." Since the Revolution of 1688, the ancient maxim has been interpreted so as to mean that no mismanagement in Government is imputable to the sovereign personally; and by another principle, it is understood that no wrong can be done to the people for which the constitution does not provide a remedy.

FIELD AMBULANCE.

Q.—Please let me know if there is a medical or ambulance corps in the city for home service in connection with the militia. If possible, please let me know the commanding officer, the place of meeting and the evenings, as I would like to join such a unit.—H. S. W., Montreal.

A.—The No. 4 and the No. 5 Field Ambulance have their headquarters at the Craig Street Drill Hall. They are combining for drill purposes on Thursday nights. The commanding officer is Major Muckleston.

INCREASING PRODUCTION.

Q.—Is anything being done in Great Britain to increase production from the land, in view of the war and the shortage of ships to bring in food?—E. A. D., Montreal.

A.—Yes; a great deal is being done to increase production from the land. It is proposed to use the parks and golf courses of the British Isles, both public and private, for grazing stock, and to put land previously used for pasture as far as possible under seed. Many private owned parks are being used for agricultural purposes.

THE 57TH BATTALION.

Q.—Kindly let me know where the 57th Battalion C. S. F. is located. The little daughter of a non-commissioned officer is here alone in the world and would like to locate her father. She has not heard from him since he enlisted and is naturally anxious.—J. W. M., Montreal.

A.—The 57th Battalion, C.E.F., is commanded by Lieut.-Col. E. T. Paquet, and is at present at Quebec.

CANADA'S YIELD OF WHEAT.

Q.—What was Canada's yield of wheat in 1915?—D. M., Montreal.

A.—The Census and Statistics Monthly, January, 1916, gives the total estimated 1915 yield of wheat in Canada as 376,303,600 bushels, and the quantity available for export as 266,173,000 bushels.

BIRTHDAY WEEK

Confidence One must have it to win it. It is contagious. You catch it, so to speak, when the other fellow has it. We have it: in ourselves: in each other: and in your confidence in us.

We dare to leave it to the statement of a single price to give you an idea of the value of anything we advertise in tonight's papers. After all the question isn't "What is it worth to us?" but "What is it worth to you?" However, the Birthday Week has been characterized by some values so extraordinary that they would have justified the most spectacular and most extravagant statements, had we chosen to make them.

Birthday Week Closes Tomorrow

These are Exceptional Petticoats for .98

Brocaded Silks, Taffetas, Crepe de Chines, Soft Satins, Pussy Willows, Moires, Satoens and Near Silks, all made up into the smartest of petticoats for Spring wear in fashionable shades of blue, brown, rose, cerise, white, purple and black.

We had an opportunity to purchase 1200 of these silk skirts, they are all cut in the new wide effect, some have accordion pleated flounces, and ripple pleats, others have deep flounces, and still others are trimmed with lace and ribbon flowers.

They are truly unusual, you know from past experience the values that are given by Goodwin's, and this petticoat sale goes beyond what we have had before.

UNDERSKIRTS FIRST FLOOR UP

A Sale of Spring Hand Bags at $1.29

600 Bags, and the range of models is such that every woman will find here a bag suitable to her taste.

A Polonaise mode with an inside frame purse is one; the deep pouch another, also mourning bags with gunmetal mounts. In fine silk moire bags, three models are shown, all three having kid lined inside frame purses and a mirror and Dresden silk lining.

Another mode is of silk velvet. The leathers are pin, morocco, grain, seal grain and crepe grain, all of a superior quality.

The mountings are varied, some have the new white ivory mount suitable for engraving; another a rich rhinestone top, others are in oxidised white metal, gun meta and gilt. Nearly all have the inside frame purse. All are silk lined and have the usual fittings. Birthday Sale Price, each $1.29
