Doubts About the Valkyrie.
 LONDON, June 21.—The yacht squadron will meet early next week to decide what steps to take with regard to the deed of gift of the America cup. Earl Dufferin does not think the Valkyrie will compete for the cup.

Military Rule in Austria.
 LONDON, June 21.—The Austrian Government has appointed a new Governor for Trieste, Baron Krans, and has given him power to declare a state of siege in that city, if, in his opinion, such a course should become necessary.

Where the Money Went.
 PITTSBURG, Pa., June 21.—John McMassters, formerly a teller in the Farmers' and Mechanics' South Side Bank, in this city, was arrested to-day charged with complicity in embezzling $159,000 of the bank's funds.

Make an Example of Them.
 LONDON, June 21.—The coroner's jury investigating the circumstances connected with the recent frightful railroad disaster near Armagh have brought in a verdict holding five of the officials of the railroad responsible for the loss of life and charging them with manslaughter.

Will Get His Desserts.
 WILkesBARRE, Pa., June 21.—The Governor has declined to interfere in Re Nosed Mike's case, and Mike will be hanged on Tuesday.

Struck by Lightning.
 OSWEGO, N.Y., June 21.—During a thunder storm to-day Mrs. Henry Warner was struck by lightning at her home in Hamhill, and so injured that she will probably die.

A Missouri Cyclone.
 ALBANY, Mo., June 21.—A cyclone passed over north-western Missouri yesterday, demolishing a number of dwellings, school houses and other property. The house of H. P. Williams was blown to pieces and one of his children killed.

President Harrison's Vacation.
 CAPE MAY, N.J., June 21.—President Harrison, Postmaster General Wanamaker, and ex-Senator Sewell, of New Jersey, arrived here at 9:45 p.m. by special train. They were welcomed with fireworks and general enthusiasm. The party went at once to the Wanamaker cottage, where Mrs. Harrison and her father have been stopping.

Damages to the Constellation.
 NORFOLK, Va., June 20.—The United States practice ship Constellation was placed in the dry dock at the Norfolk Navy Yard to-day at noon, and after the dock was emptied an examination was made of her bottom. Her forward show was found gone, a portion of her keel carried away, and her forward planking started at the butts, showing that she was mainly bow on the beach.

Pretty Mormon Converts.
 NEW YORK, June 20.—The steamship Wyoming, from Liverpool, landed at Castle Garden yesterday 245 Scandinavian men and women, who are bound for Salt Lake City to join the Latter Day Saints. They were in charge of Mormon Elders Ellis and Anderson.
 There were two dozen pretty young girls among the recruits. They "proceeded on their journey West without delay.

Killed by Lightning.
 SCRANTON, Pa., June 21.—Much damage was done by a terrific thunder storm which passed over this city about 9 o'clock this evening. Several houses were struck by lightning and set on fire. Henry Somers, aged 8 years, while lying on a couch at home was struck by lightning and killed.

In Sulky Dignity.
 LONDON, June 21.—The German Consul at Zurich, Switzerland, Herr Bentliher, has resigned from the German Club of that city, as have several others of his countrymen, because the club protested against the severe attacks upon the Swiss Government, which appeared in the North German Gazette.

Burke Remanded for a Week.
 WINNIPEG, June 21.—This morning at 10:30, Martin Burke was brought in the Court. Mr. Howell, counsel for the prosecution, asked that the case be remanded for a week. He said he was collecting evidence and would be prepared to go ahead with one witness to-morrow, but as counsel and additional witnesses would have to be brought from Chicago he thought a remand for a week would be necessary.

A Snub for Prince Bismarck.
 LONDON, June 21.—The Czar of Russia refuses to permit the young Prince Philip, of Hohlenlohe, to accept his portion of the estate of his deceased uncle, Prince Wittgenstein. This decision of the Czar causes intense irritation, for although Prince Philip has become a Russian by naturalization, he is the son of Prince Hohlenlohe, the German Governor of Alsace-Lorraine, and the Czar's action is felt to be a blow aimed at Germany and the Germans, the more especially as the claim of the young Prince was vigorously supported by Prince Bismarck.

BEFORE THEIR TIME

Fourth of July Crackers Cause a Fatal Fire.

HATTIAN FIRE AT THE STARS AND STRIPES
 Burke Satisfactorily Identified but Will Fight Extradition.

FATAL FIRE IN A FIREWORKS FACTORY.

A Dangerous Trade to Work in.
 BOSTON, June 21.—A disastrous fire, accompanied by loss of life, occurred early this evening in the fireworks manufacturing factory of Hoyer Bros., corner of Sumner and Hawley streets. Four dead bodies have been taken from the ruins, and three persons are known to be fatally injured. It is feared there may be more victims. The building was occupied on the ground floor by C. E. Browning and on the three upper floors by Hoyer Bros., dealers in fancy goods and fireworks. A salesman discovered the fire on the second floor shortly after 5 o'clock. The flames spread rapidly, cutting off the escape of several men in the upper stories and in five minutes the dense smoke and almost incessant discharge of fireworks made a perfect pandemonium for those confined within its walls. Charles Albert Gage, aged 20, dropped from the 3rd story window and broke his neck. Charles Callahan of East Boston and Thomas Paine, packers, who were working on the fourth floor jumped from a window in their fright. Paine was killed, and Callahan's injuries will probably prove fatal. William Brevenstahl was injured so badly that it is feared that he cannot recover. A body taken from the burning building has been recognized as that of Samuel Cord, the chief packer of the firm. The body of a boy was also taken to the morgue and has not yet been identified. The firm carried a stock of $10,000 worth of fireworks and $50,000 to $60,000 worth of fancy goods. A large portion of the stock is ruined. The cause of the fire is not known.

A CROW TO PLUCK WITH HATTEL.

Firing on a U.S. Vessel.
 NEW BEDFORD, Ms., June 21.—The schooner Baltic of Providence Town, from a whaling voyage reports while in Samana Bay on May she was fired on by a party of Haytian soldiers, but no one was hurt. The captain was unable to get any satisfaction and reports that the authorities are unable to enforce discipline. He will forward an account of the matter to Washington.

FROM THE PRAIRIE CITY.

Burke's Identification—A Menonite Suicide—City Tax Certificates.
 WINNIPEG, Man., June 21.—After the remand of Burke this morning, Martinson, expressman, who moved the furniture in carts to the cottage, arrived, accompanied by a Chicago official. Arrangements were made by which the identification of Burke would be clearly established, if possible, and to-night a number of persons were taken to the jail-yard, where several prisoners in chains and Burke were drawn up in line. All told there were 52. Burke stood in about the middle. He held his hands in his pockets and averted his eyes from Martinson, who walked slowly up and down the line. The men were "told off" when Martinson at once identified Burke so thoroughly that the authorities openly stated they were satisfied. Burke's number was taken down by Martinson. The authorities are very reticent regarding the affair and will say nothing. Burke has engaged additional counsel and will fight against being extradited to the end.
 Brandon defeated Winnipeg to-day for provincial lacrosse championship 3 to 1.
 Mrs. Knalsen, a Menonite living near Mondak, is here and is insane.
 Winnipeg Field Battery go into camp at Silver Heights, 8th July.
 The application of Mr. Schultz for an injunction to restrain Winnipeg from issuing tax certificates to land sold belonging to her was refused this morning by Judge Kellam.
 Several hundred Ontario farmers arrived to-day.

JESUITS' ESTATES BILL.

Resolutions For and Against.
 TORONTO, June 21.—At the meeting of the York County Council to-day, Reeve Anderson moved, seconded by Reeve Slater, that the committee on by-laws and legislation be instructed to prepare a petition to the Dominion Government praying that the Jesuit Act be disallowed, thereby doing away with a question that will be a future trouble to the progress of the Dominion. There was a full discussion, and the resolution was voted down by 14 to 1.
 The following resolution was passed by the Toronto District Baptist Association, in session for several days this week at Bakersville: Moved by Rev. Dr. Thomas, seconded by Principal McGregor,
 Resolved,—That in view of the present widespread agitation respecting the Jesuits Estates Act, we reaffirm our conviction, which is the simple and historic faith of the Baptist body, that all religious organizations should, in pursuance of their legitimate work, be absolutely free from state patronage and control.

FROM THE DOMINION CAPITAL.

Striving Up a Family Compact—Bonding Privileges on the C.P.R.—Sale of Phosphate Mines.
 OTTAWA, June 21.—Principal MacCabe left for Toronto this morning to attend a meeting of the Central Board of Examiners, which sits to-morrow, to decide the standing of the Ottawa Normal School students of last session.
 Mr. C. T. Gibbs, accountant of the Senate, has been asked to give evidence in regard to certain charges preferred against Chief Justice Austin of the Bahamas, by certain residents of these islands. Mr. Gibbs spent last winter at the Bahamas for the benefit of his health, and he is likely to render timely service to Mr. Justin Austin, who, if papers are to be believed, is being made the victim of a game of freeze out by a few Government officials there. The trouble has arisen over what Mr. Gibbs says was an eminently judicial stand taken by Judge Austin in reference to a certain murderous affray which occurred last December, and in which a relative of the Attorney-General is implicated. Judge Austin, regardless of the fact that nearly all the members of the white population of the Bahamas, consisting of about 2,000 souls, are related to one another, did his duty unflinchingly, with the result that an attempt is being made to get him removed Judge Austin is a Canadian.

 A gentleman who came through from St. Johns, N. B., over the C. P. Coy's Maine road a few days ago says the refusal of the United States Government to grant bonding privileges to the road has stopped all freight traffic over it and the company are likely to lose heavily in keeping it in operation.

Mr. H. Satow, a Japanese Government Commissioner, is here to study the question of trade relations with Canada.
 Mr. Anus McMillan, of Little Rapids, River du Lievre, has sold his phosphate mine to a New York syndicate for $20,000. The purchasers intend commencing operations on an extensive scale immediately.

FROM THE ANCIENT CAPITAL.

A Centenarian—An Octogenarian Bank Employee—Generous Students—Miss Wheeler's Body Found.
 QUEBEC, June 21.—Chicotini, Saguenay, has a centenarian in the person of Mr. E. St. Laurent, who celebrated his one hundredth birthday a few days since, amid great local rejoicing. The old man is still vigorous.
 Mr. Meiklejohn, for upwards of forty years an employee of the Bank of Montreal, died last night, at the ripe old age of 86 years.
 The students of most of our colleges have besought their professors to hand over the money allotted each year to them for prizes, to the sufferers of the St. Sauveur fire.
 The body of Miss Wheeler, who was drowned in the collision of the steamboat Montreal and tug L. N. G., was found to-day in a good state of preservation at Beaumont near this city.

MUDDLING COLONIAL MATTERS.

The Governor of Cape Colony Suspended.
 LONDON, June 21.—Sir Hercules Robinson having positively refused to withdraw his resignation of the governorship of Cape Colony. The Government, after offering the post to several gentlemen who were disinclined to accept it, have finally prevailed upon Sir Henry Locke to assume the grave responsibilities of the office. It is felt here, even by friends of the Government that it was a mistake to refuse to Sir Hercules that support for his policy upon which he insisted as a condition of his retention in the office. Sir Hercules possesses the confidence of the people of the colony and, considering the circumstances, it cannot be expected that his successor, who ever he may be, could be regarded with anything but suspicion.
 Grave complications in South Africa are feared as a result of this action on the part of the colonial office.

HE LOVED NOT WISELY.

A Thirteen Year Old Girl Shot by Her Elderly Lover.
 NEW LONDON, Conn., June 20.—Alva Park, forty years of age, shot and seriously wounded Edith Littlefield, a girl of thirteen, near West Mystic this morning. Park is a disolute fellow, and he has for two years had an infatuation for the little girl, declaring that she would some day be his wife, but never the wife of another. Park's attentions were distasteful to the girl and discouraged by her parents, and he several times told her he would have her dead or alive.
 On Saturday Park was about the neighborhood threatening the girl, incited by jealousy of a young man named Latham. Last night Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield were away, and Edith, with her two little brothers, stopped at the residence of Mrs. Thomas A. Brown. This morning at six o'clock the girl and her brothers returned home. Soon after entering she was seized by Park, who was concealed in the house. He caught her by the throat, threw her to the floor, saying "You have but fifteen minutes to live," and immediately began firing at the girl. One shot pierced her ear, and, taking a downward course, lodged in the neck. Another went into her neck just below the ear and two others lodged in the right arm.
 A neighbor named Chester heard the shooting and disarmed Park. The girl was taken to the floor and Park stood over her. She was taken to Mrs. Brown's house.
 Park appeared there later, swinging his bloody hand, and remarked: "I am ready to be taken now. My heart is at ease." He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hoxie, and will be held to await the result of the wounds.
 One of the bullets was extracted to-night and the attending physician has hopes of the girl's recovery.

A BRITISH AMBASSADOR'S HOLIDAY

Of No Political Significance.
 LONDON, June 21.—Sir R. D. Mercer the British ambassador to St. Petersburg is coming home and is expected to arrive in London to-morrow. It is claimed he only comes to England for a short holiday and that his visit has no political significance.

TREATING WITH THE SIOUX.

Signatures Slowly Coming in.
 PINE RIDGE AGENCY, D.T., June 20.—American Horse again spoke at the council to-day, mostly in regard to the boundary line of the reservation, which he thought had been moved since the treaty was made. All his questions were replied to by the members of the commission in a very satisfactory manner. The council was continued until to-morrow.
 Red Cloud and Little Wound attended the council. They did not have anything to say, but listened very attentively.
 The signing is still going on very slowly, and only one at a time comes in. The total number who have now signed is three hundred and fifty. It is possible that by hard, patient work on the part of the commission they will get the required number, but the chances are that they will get only a majority at this agency, unless the followers of Red Cloud break from him and sign. Mr. Blank, of the Indian Defence Association, is supposed to be at the bottom of the trouble.

HYPOLITE STILL ADVANCING.

Within Four Miles of Port au Prince.
 NEW YORK, June 20.—The Clyde steamer Saginaw, which left Hayti June 12, arrived here yesterday and brought news that General Hypolite's army of 15,000 men were within four miles of Port au Prince, with a strong probability that the city would be captured soon. Legitimate forces were in the forts just outside of the city, and were believed to be disorganized. These reports, however, are through Northern sources.

ADMIRAL COOPER RESIGNS IN DISGUST.
 Among the passengers on the Saginaw was Mason T. Cooper, son of Admiral Cooper, U.S.N., and formerly captain in the United States Navy. He has been an admiral in Hypolite's navy for several months and has resigned. Recently Hypolite visited Cape Haytian and Admiral Cooper thought it the proper thing to salute the Northern hero. So the man aboard the Haytian gunboat Carondelet blazed away with twenty-one guns. The concussion was so great that the seams of the war ship were opened, and when the Yankee admiral discovered eighteen inches of water in the hold he became so disgusted that he immediately quitted his flagship, resigned and started for home.

CONFESSION OF A MURDERER.

She Drags Her Husband with Morphine and then Cuts His Throat.
 VINCENT, Ind., June 20.—One of the most terrible crimes ever committed in Davis county has just been brought to light by the confession of the murderer, who is seventy years old. On the 12th of November last Richard O. Allen, an aged farmer, living five miles south of Washington, was found tied to a tree near home, with his throat cut from ear to ear. The general supposition was that he had taken his own life. He was buried, and the matter was little thought of a few days ago, when the mystery was solved by the confession of the man's wife, Charlotte Allen, and two coloured servants. She and her husband had had trouble as to who rightfully should own the little farm, and in order to settle the dispute she gave him morphine to take on the fatal day. She then drove him into the garden, where he fell into a furrow in a deep sleep. She then procured a case knife and a rope and went where her grudge husband was lying on his face. She tied the rope around his body, turned him over, and making several slashes at his throat, half severed the head from the neck. She then dragged him to a tree and tied him there. When this was done she went to the sand—

SERIOUS RIOT IN AUSTRIA.

Municipal Building and Law Courts Fired.
 VIENNA, June 21.—The rioters at Kladrto to-day wrecked the Municipal buildings, including the Law Courts, and set fire to the residence of the owner of the mills. The Director and his family only escaped with their lives by barricading themselves in a bedroom, where they were afterward discovered and rescued by the police. The rioters also set fire to the Mayor's house. All shops are closed and a panic prevails.

GERMAN PROHIBITIONISTS?

But the Boys Couldn't Stand It.
 BERLIN, June 21.—The professors of the Technical School at Imbeck, in Hanover, the other day started on a prohibition crusade and issued an order that students were not to be permitted to visit the beer gardens in the town, unless attended by parents or guardians. The students stood it as long as they could but yesterday they rebelled, and all quit the school in a body.

Gen. Cameron Dying.

Secretary Tracy to Look into its Affairs.
 LANCASTER, Pa., June 21.—Gen. Simon Cameron is believed to be sinking and death may occur at any moment.
 Simon Cameron was born in Lancaster Co., Pennsylvania, March 3, 1799. Left an orphan at the age of nine, he learned the trade of a printer, and in 1820 became editor of a country newspaper. In 1822 he removed to Harrisburg, the capital of Pennsylvania, and took charge of the leading Democratic paper of the State. In 1828 he was president of a bank, and soon after at the head of two railway companies. In 1835 he was elected United States Senator, to fill the vacancy created throughout with the Democrats. In 1836 he became affiliated with "the people's party" in Pennsylvania (subsequently named the Republican party); and in the winter following was again elected United States Senator. He was supported by the Republicans of several States as a candidate for the Presidency in 1860. After Mr. Lincoln's inauguration, Mr. Cameron was appointed Secretary of War. He served in this capacity till Jan. 11, 1862, when he was appointed Minister to Russia, but returned to the United States in November of the same year. In 1866 he was again elected United States Senator, and in 1872 he replaced Mr. Sumner as Secretary of the Committee on Foreign Relations. He was re-elected in 1875, but resigned his seat in 1877, being succeeded by his son, Donist Cameron, who still retains the post. Since 1877 Mr. Cameron has taken no part in public life. He resides at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Quietly Settled.

LONDON, June 21.—The controversy between Sir George Cetywynd and Lord Durham, growing out of charges of irregularities preferred by the latter against the former, has been settled by a compromise.

A Doctor Shot Down by Mistake.

FLORESVILLE, June 20.—Dr. F. Foutz was called Thursday morning on a professional visit to a lady some miles from town. He found her condition so serious that he started back to town to get some necessary remedies, and soon after his departure the patient grew rapidly worse and a messenger was sent after the doctor to hurry his return. The messenger overlooked the physician near the negro colony, when they were fired upon from the roadway by three or four men. Doctor Foutz was shot through the breast, and Poppell, the messenger, received a bullet in the right thigh. The latter, seeing his companion fall from his horse, clapped spurs to his animal and made for home as quickly as possible, leaving Dr. Foutz helpless and dying. The shooting occurred about three o'clock in the morning, in front of the residence of a negro named Whiffer, and in the hearing and sight of a colored preacher, Rev. Holmes, who heard the wounded man groaning, but said he was afraid to go to his assistance. The doctor died to death. The deceased leaves a wife and two children. It is believed that the assassination was the result of mistaken identity. The murderer, it is thought, intended to shoot a colored man who is accustomed to ride a horse similar to the one Foutz rode. A secret inquest is in progress.

WEATHER REPORT.

MONTREAL, June 21.
 Temperature in the shade by Standard Thermometer, observed by Heards & Harrison, opticians and mathematical instrument makers, 1640 and 1642 Notre Dame street: 8 a.m., 70; 1 p.m., 75; 6 p.m., 71; max., 77; min., 62; mean, 69.
 By standard barometer: 8 a.m., 29.93; 1 p.m., 29.85; 6 p.m., 29.76.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE,
 TORONTO, June 20, 11 p.m.

Showers and thunderstorms have been general in Ontario and western Quebec. The pressure is increasing to the west of the Lakes accompanied by fine weather. Fine warm weather is general throughout the Maritime Provinces and the Northwest.
 Maximum temperatures.—Qu'Appelle, 78°; Winnipeg, 70°; Port Arthur, 66°; Toronto, 74°; Montreal, 74°; Quebec, 74°; Halifax, 80°.

Probabilities.

Lakes and Upper St. Lawrence.—Fresh to strong west and northwest winds; fine weather; a little lower temperature.
 Lower St. Lawrence.—West and northwest winds; fine weather; stationary or a little lower weather.
 Gulf and Maritime.—Winds shifting to westerly; showery and local thunderstorms; followed by clearing weather.

Bad Railway Smash.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., June 21.—An east bound freight train, collided with a stationary freight train in the Erie railroad yards to-night, derailing 30 cars and smashing eight to pieces. The damage is about $5,000.

TO-DAY'S DOINGS.

THEATRE ROYAL—Struck Gas Company, at 2 and 8 p.m. SOMMER PARK—Concerts by City Band at 3 and 8 p.m. ANNUAL INSPECTION Sixth Fusiliers and Sixty Fifth Battalion, Champ de Mars.

SUFFICIENT FOR THE DAY, &c.

Poor Mr. Tallon's organ has discovered that the Liberals of Ontario are saying something inconsistent with something said by the Liberals of Quebec, and the late Mr. Riel appears to have something to do with the matter.

HE KNEW IT WAS AFTER DINNER.

When the merchants of Montreal cheered the Finance Minister at the Board of Trade banquet, and lavishing encomiums on his speech flattered themselves that the inflated sentences meant anything in particular, they were probably in that happy frame of body and mind when applause seems easier and more pleasant than criticism.

It is a little hard to get over this without a quibble, which there is no reason to suppose Mr. Greenway desires to employ. If a matter is considered to be of paramount importance "to a people and the legislature "unanimously pass" an act providing a guarantee to ensure its establishment, it is hardly possible for a Government to say, "Oh, yes, it was of paramount importance yesterday but it is not to-day," without causing considerable suspicion in the minds of those to whom they formerly addressed themselves.

BUILDING UP THE STRONG AND CRUSHING THE WEAK.

The general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in his address at the annual meeting of that institution, made some remarks respecting the agricultural implements' manufacturing industry which deserve some attention.

But there is another point to be noted in this connection. General Manager Walker says, that the three largest companies manufacturing agricultural implements, can "supply the wants of the "whole of Canada unless the wants of "the North West grow very rapidly."

THE HUDSON'S BAY RAILWAY.

The quarrel in Manitoba concerning the Provincial guarantee for the Hudson's Bay Railway bonds has attracted attention in England where goods were supplied on the strength of the guarantee legislation.

The real reason generally understood for shelving the matter was that Manitoba and the West having now secured a competing railway in the "Northern Pacific and Manitoba" road no longer pined for the Hudson's Bay route.

WINNIPEG, MANITOBA, March 29, 1888. To whom it may concern: The bearer, Mr. Hugh Sutherland, president of the Winnipeg and Hudson's Bay Railway, visits New York on business connected with his Company.

It is a little hard to get over this without a quibble, which there is no reason to suppose Mr. Greenway desires to employ. If a matter is considered to be of paramount importance "to a people and the legislature "unanimously pass" an act providing a guarantee to ensure its establishment, it is hardly possible for a Government to say, "Oh, yes, it was of paramount importance yesterday but it is not to-day," without causing considerable suspicion in the minds of those to whom they formerly addressed themselves.

The plea may be true, but still Governments and Legislatures are expected to be a little more careful in their official assurances than a woman is as to her intentions in buying a bonnet.

BANK OF TORONTO.

A bank which has a paid up capital of $2,000,000, a reserve fund of $1,400,000, and last year was able to pay two dividends of four per cent each, and a bonus of two per cent.—in all $200,000—besides adding $50,000 to the reserve fund, must be considered as occupying an exceptionally strong position in the financial and commercial world.

CARING FOR IMMIGRANTS.

It is worthy of note that public opinion, as represented by prominent citizens from the Mayor down, and the managers of charitable institutions, are strongly in favor of the reform in handling immigrants advocated by THE HERALD some weeks ago—that the Dominion Government should provide comfortable sheds for the reception and accommodation of immigrants arriving at this port by the various lines of ocean steamers.

ABOUT MILLIONAIRES.

The New York World published the other day a list of forty-two American millionaires, with the popular estimate of their wealth and approximately correct estimate of a Wall Street operator who is in a position to be well-informed. The popular estimate places the total aggregate wealth of the forty-two at $1,093,000,000, ranging from $5,000,000 to $110,000,000, or an average of about $26,000,000 each.

Here is Mr. L. O. David, backed by the Gazette, engaged in iconoclastic work. It is one of the cherished beliefs of this country that Sir John's swell pair of official whatshisnames are red.

THE 38th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science will be held at Toronto, Ont., beginning on Tuesday, August 27th, 1889.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

MORE HELPFUL IN DEATH THAN IN LIFE. Instead of giving home rule a staggering blow, the disruption of the Clan-na-Gael will prove more helpful than anything that has happened for years.—Lincoln Journal.

WILL MR. BLAINE TAKE NOTICE.

Mr. Blaine need not imagine that because the London press is now liberally showering its praise upon him for his success in the Samoan affair, that he can tread upon the lion's tail with impunity.

RUNNING DOWN THE COUNTRY.

Perhaps it did not require the statement from the manager of the Bank of Montreal to convince one that all is not couleur de rose in business circles in Canada, but it was not generally known that while the assets of the chartered banks had decreased $5,000,000 their liabilities had increased $11,000,000.

fact is the unfavourable agricultural season of last year was more disastrous in its consequences than was generally anticipated, and unless there is a change pretty soon in the weather now we may look out for equally hard times this fall.—St. Johns (Que.) News, Tor.

DISGRACING THE NAME OF IRELAND.

The organization which has done the most to advance the cause of Ireland is open and above board in its work. The organizations that have done the most to disgrace the name of Ireland and to hinder real progress have been secret. These are significant facts, and there can be no mistaking their meaning.

THE LESSON IT TEACHES.

The enormous vote by which prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquor has been voted down in the State of Pennsylvania, is another mark in the ebb of the tide on this question.

THE EXCEPTIONS ARE GROWING.

The Tory argument is that the manufacturers don't want unrestricted reciprocity. This may be true as a generalization. But it has its exceptions, nevertheless. Many times have we quoted the words of prominent manufacturers in favor of free trade with the States.

SQUIBS.

—Weakigh—Good morning, Miss Travis. I hope I see you well! —Miss Travis—I don't believe you do. You are blinking like everything.

BREVITIES. The Garrison Artillery and Prince of Wales Rifles were out drilling last evening under their commanding officers. Their inspections take place next Saturday.

It was reported in the city yesterday that the Dominion Government had decided not to grant the use of the military reserve on St. Helen's Island to any society or organization for the purpose of holding picnics there. This step has, it is understood, been taken owing to the heavy demands made for the use of the grounds.

A SIGN OF APPROACHING TROUBLE. Russian Orders for Railway Rolling Stock. LONDON, June 21.—The Russian Government has ordered forty engines and a thousand cars for the Ekaterinoslov railway, to be used for military purposes.

JOHNSTOWN'S LABOR TROUBLES. Labor Riots Feared. JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 11.—Five bodies were recovered to-day, among them the bodies of a mother and two little children. The children were locked in the mother's arms.

The committee appointed at the morning meeting of the striking laborers reported to a largely attended subsequent meeting that all the foreign workmen had left their work, but at the request of the strikers all the local men have continued their labors.

Not one thousand men all told were at work to-day. Those employed by McKnight, the Pittsburg contractor, are idle, and the dissatisfaction and discord is spreading to the other workmen.

SING SING CONVICTS FIGHT. Desperate Struggle in the Breakfast Room of the Prison.

There was a desperate fight in the prison at Sing Sing yesterday morning between two convicts named James Kayley and Thomas Downey.

They were marching from the breakfast room to the yard, when Kayley picked up a bottle of pepper-sauce from one of the tables, rushed from the file in which he stood, and going to the head of the rank where Downey was, struck him a stunning blow on the head, breaking the bottle and gashing Downey's head.

Downey was staggered for a moment, but recovered in time to grapple with his assailant to avoid further punishment. The two men struggled for a moment and then fell to the ground. Keeper Bronson, who was in the rear of the line, rushed forward and parted the men.

Downey was sent to the hospital with a reprimand and had his wounds dressed. Kayley was a six year convict and only had one month more to serve.

Indiana's Champion Crank. FOUR WAYNE, June 20.—C. R. Higgins, who was yesterday appointed postmaster of this city, has gained some unenviable notoriety. Last Sunday Messrs. Centivire and Berghoff, the proprietors of two of our breweries, arranged a concert and picnic for the benefit of the Johnstown sufferers and besides paying all expenses generously donated the refreshments.

THE JESUIT BILL.

Who makes the politicians fight?
Who makes the papers bought at night?
Who wants some of the boys on right?
The Jesuit "Bill."

Who gives the press so much to do,
Who hears of nothing else that's new?
Who roused the pulpits and the pew?
The Jesuit "Bill."

Who's making old fields fought again,
On platform, or with caustic pen?
Who "stumpers" makes of honest men?
The Jesuit "Bill."

Whom should we like to send off, soon,
Before the end of balmy June
To some location in the moon?
The Jesuit "Bill."

Who knows the straightest thrust, as yet,
Against his safety has been set,
By journalistic hands—you bet,
The Jesuit "Bill."

Who knows the Government's afraid
To pull him out of friendly shade,
Even with Hugh's financial aid?
The Jesuit "Bill."

Who smiles when Leo of the Bar
Says sweet, kind things about the Star—
Who chuckles at the "war"
The Jesuit "Bill."

Grim Leo saith, "No one but I
Shall have a finger in this pie,
Unless I say so—I defy
The Jesuit "Bill."

Now, Hugh, keep off—you're pretty mean,
Or else you must be jolly green,
To think you'll hustle off the scene,
The Jesuit "Bill!"

You don't begin to know the way,
We do—we're here and mean to stay,
We're running this big show, I say,
The Jesuit "Bill."

And still we wait and wonder when
The ready tongue and caustic pen
Will take a rest, and drop again,
The Jesuit "Bill."

But know full well, whatever they do,
They're only right to let us view
In legal light and Starlight too,
The Jesuit "Bill."

And they who honour truth will say
Hugh's was the honest patriot's way,
By fair and legal means to lay,
The Jesuit "Bill."

Mr. Drouin took advantage of the holiday, Thursday, to visit Longue Pointe and inspect the dairies there. He returns with nothing but praise concerning the condition of things generally. He says that the cows housed in Mr. H. Tremblaine and Messrs. J. & W. Hogg's are especially well equipped. They are roomy, with over 400 cubic feet of air for each animal, clean, well appointed, well drained, the cows well fed and well watered from artesian wells. The stables have slate roofs, and are exceedingly comfortable for the animals.

What Do They Mean?

Remain,
Very truly yours,
THEO. DE LAMAGDELEINE, JR.

To the Editor of THE HERALD:

Sir,—I notice in the published report of the standing of the scholars in the Preparatory High School, that some of the boys and girls have to their credit whatever they may mean such terms as "gen. prof." Are the initiated to understand from this that it means general proficiency, or professorship being very general now a days. Then by "punct." is it to be supposed that the boy is an adept with his fists and it is warranted to puncture or punch any one whom he falls foul of? Into what can "cards ret." be interpreted in connection with the juveniles whom Principal Sheehan has under his care? Is it whist or euchre that is taught and does the "rit" refer to some new-fangled mode of dealing? Surely when some people have so many letters attached to their name, all significant of some accomplishment or scholastic honor that has been conferred it is unjust to any poor girl or boy to single them out as "prof." "punct." "cards," as the unlearned and ignorant may conclude, either that the school is teaching what it is not supposed to do, or that some of the characteristics of the pupils are so marked that, bad or good, special attention has to be called to them.

SOME TALES OF THE TELEGRAPH.

Messages Mutilated in Transmission—Supplying a List of Names.

Minneapolis Tribune: "People who have occasion to use the wires frequently are sometimes greatly amused, not to say mystified, by the manner in which messages are mutilated in transmission."

"A prominent commission merchant in the City of Toledo, O., a short time ago was thus derestruck upon receiving a telegram from a Chicago elevator company which read as follows:

"Offer you two car-loads mined cat twenty-nine half."

"A repetition of the despatch made it read thus:

"Offer you two cars mixed oats," etc.

"A bright young operator employed on a press wire in this city, some time ago, while receiving an item describing some ceremony in connection with the recent jubilee in Rome made an amusing error. As received by him the despatch stated that Cardinal So-and-So turned towards the congregation, extended his hand and said, 'O, rats, father.' The editor fell off his chair when his eye fell on the paragraph. A correction was not necessary, however, as he understood the sentence was intended for the Latin phrase, 'Orate Fratres,' or, in English, 'Pray, brethren.'

"Operators on a press circuit are sometimes compelled to resort to peculiar methods to avoid interrupting the sending office, which religiously keeps account of every break; and upon this often depends the receiving operator's reputation as regards his ability.

"Some years ago, during the existence of the National Press Association, a bitter rivalry sprang up between two operators as to who should go the greatest length of time without 'breaking.' One was stationed at Kansas City, which was the terminus of the circuit, and the other at St. Louis. Both men were determined, and every effort was put forth to avoid opening the key. One night an important piece of news was started over the circuit, and as the weather was stormy the Kansas City operator was experiencing great difficulty in picking out the characters. The item told the story of a large passenger steamer which had gone ashore during a terrible storm, and a panic ensuing about fifty passengers were either lost overboard or crushed to death. The Kansas City man, by hard guessing, succeeded in reading every word until the list of fatalities was reached. Here came a conglomeration of German, Swedish, Russian, and Irish names all jumbled together, although his imagination was in a fever. He was unable to pick anything out of them, and being too high spirited to open his key he was obliged to omit the entire list from his report, intending by some means to secure them later. It grew late, however, and he was unable to devise any scheme for securing the list, and finally, as a last resort, he selected the names of fifty operators who were employed by the different companies in the city, and making a list of them sent them to the editor.

"Quite a sensation was created in telegraph circles the following morning when, upon glancing at the newspaper, each operator found himself lost overboard in the Atlantic Ocean. No complaint was made, however, and the reading public was never aware of the deception."

The Magdalen Islands.

To the Editor of THE HERALD:

Sir,—I wish to draw your attention to your despatch entitled "Buying us Out" about the "Magdalen Islands" to be sold to an American syndicate. In the said article it is stated that the said islands were granted to a certain gentleman named General Coffin for services rendered to British Government.

This property was given to my great grandfather by a French governor for his 30 years service to him as a private attendant before the treaty of 1663 was passed between France and England, which property was given for him and his descendants.

Now, the governor's name and the year and date this act of donation was passed, are yet unknown, but a sure thing is that there is an act and that it lays at Paris; and the other documents are in places known by the family.

The islands were given to Gen. Coffin for a period of ninety-nine years, after which time the islands were to return to the government and could have been claimed by the inheritors, and still they might, in spite of this transaction with these American capitalists. Expecting to have the pleasure of seeing some of these gentlemen's names in the columns of your journal, and trusting that I might some day have the happiness of proving my statement, and that some of these Bostonian gentlemen may strike my ear or eye some day.

Remain,
Very truly yours,
THEO. DE LAMAGDELEINE, JR.

To the Editor of THE HERALD:

Sir,—I notice in the published report of the standing of the scholars in the Preparatory High School, that some of the boys and girls have to their credit whatever they may mean such terms as "gen. prof." Are the initiated to understand from this that it means general proficiency, or professorship being very general now a days. Then by "punct." is it to be supposed that the boy is an adept with his fists and it is warranted to puncture or punch any one whom he falls foul of? Into what can "cards ret." be interpreted in connection with the juveniles whom Principal Sheehan has under his care? Is it whist or euchre that is taught and does the "rit" refer to some new-fangled mode of dealing? Surely when some people have so many letters attached to their name, all significant of some accomplishment or scholastic honor that has been conferred it is unjust to any poor girl or boy to single them out as "prof." "punct." "cards," as the unlearned and ignorant may conclude, either that the school is teaching what it is not supposed to do, or that some of the characteristics of the pupils are so marked that, bad or good, special attention has to be called to them.

TARIFF ROBBERY THROUGH THE SUGAR TRUST.

Philadelphia Record: In England the price of sugar is three cents a pound less than in this country. Under the present tariff system the duty on refined sugar is so high that the Sugar Trust can run the price up at will without incurring any risk of foreign competition. A few years ago there was a large export trade in refined sugar, and the sugar of this country was sold in considerable quantities in England in competition with the best-root products of the Sugar Trust. But the members of the Sugar Trust concluded to abandon the foreign trade and to compel American consumers to buy more for a smaller quantity of production. This they are enabled to do behind the tariff wall. In order, therefore, to enjoy all other like advantages and blessings of the tariff system American consumers must pay for one of the commonest necessities of life just what the Sugar Trust may choose to demand.

FRENCH CANADIANS IN THE U.S.

The St. John's celebration in Fall River, Mass., next week will be the greatest demonstration by French Canadians ever witnessed in New England. It will begin on Sunday next, when the various French Canadian societies will attend high mass at the churches. Monday will be passed in the reception of visiting societies and guests from abroad, and in the evening three band concerts will be given. On Tuesday the great parade will take place. Religious exercises will be held at Flint Village in the open air, and the literary exercises will be held later on in the park. The festivities will close with a banquet on Tuesday.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

LONDON, June 19.—At the wool sales to-day the improvement noted yesterday was maintained and prices were in favour of sellers. Cape secured and all mercerized wools advanced slightly. The attendance was good, and competition brisk, home and German buyers securing most of the offerings. There were 14,562 bales offered. The offerings in detail and the prices obtained were as follows:

BUSINESS CONCLUDED.

The Diocesan Synod closes its Session.

The Diocesan Synod met for the last time of this its thirteenth session) at 10 a.m. yesterday.

The attendance of both clerical and lay members was small. This fact called forth censure from Dr. Davidson, who compared laity in connection with the church unfavourably, to the same class in other denominations. He further recommended that in future absence be not allowed without the Bishop's leave.

The attention of the Synod was largely occupied with discussions upon Foreign Missions during the morning.

The Rev. Mr. Troop spoke in favour of sending a missionary to India and that funds should be appropriated for that purpose.

Canon Mussen seconded, by Dr. Davidson, a resolution, "That all unallotted money be sent to the S. P. C. K. the argument being that the latter society could put the money to better use in the mission field, than the diocese through better knowledge.

Archdeacon Lindsay thought that the Church of Canada should act independently in the matter, and should send and support its own men.

Archdeacon Evans also supported this view.

It was agreed finally that the matter be left over until next year.

The report of the Rev. Mr. Chambers on immigration was then read.

Major Bond expressed his conviction (based on observation) that cattle on the ocean steamers received better care on landing than immigrants.

Mr. White did not agree with the major in this. He had had information from the Beaver Line to the contrary.

There was further discussion upon this matter, after which Dean Lindsay moved and Rev. Mr. Chambers seconded an amendment to the effect: "That petitions be sent to church societies in England engaged in emigrant work asking them to aid in sustaining the immigrant chaplain, and that the Dominion Government should be petitioned to erect sheds for immigrants in Montreal.

This amendment Dr. Davidson thought was beneath the dignity of the Synod.

There was a good deal of contention on the subject, but on Mr. White (seconded by Major Bond) moving "that a deputation should be named by the Bishop with the object of petitioning the Dominion Government to erect sheds for the use of immigrants in Montreal" the amendment carried.

After some further routine business had been disposed of, the Synod closed after receiving the Bishop's blessing.

BISHOPS COLLEGE SCHOOL.

Attention is drawn to the notice of the annual meeting of the Convocation of Bishops College on the 27th.

The following is a sketch of the proceedings:—

There will be divine service at 11 a.m., when the University sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. Langtry, M.A., Prolocutor of the Provincial Synod. The public meeting will be held at 2.30 p.m. usual conversation will take place in the evening.

The athletic sports will come off on the 26th, commencing at 10 a.m., and the prizes will be distributed at the close.

There will be a cricket match on the 25th, at 11 a.m., between the "Old Boys" and the present members of the Institution.

The Mayor—Certainly; insure them to their highest value. It is the best property the city has.

A letter was next read from the Gas Company, in which they called attention to the fact that their bill of $28,000 had not been paid.

A letter was next read from the Grand Trunk Railway with regard to the covering of the Bonaventure Station, saying that the material was ready and they would be glad to have an interview with the sub-committee.

The question of closing up of Atwater Avenue was next brought up, but after discussion it was sent to the Road Committee.

A letter was next read from the Expropriation Commissioners of the St. Lawrence street property, in which they declined to accept $2,500 each in lieu of their original bill of $3,582 each.

AN OPINION WAS NEXT READ FROM MR. ROY, the City Attorney, in relation to the sum of $2,500 being granted to repair St. Gabriel's Market.

A communication was next read from the Road Committee, seeking to vary their expropriation to the amount of $4,500 to enable them to remove the green-houses from Viger Gardens to Logan's farm.

Mr. Stephens did not concur with the request asked for. There were plenty of glass houses on the Mountain Park, in which all the flowers necessary for the City squares could be raised.

The Mayor favored Logan's farm as the place for the green-houses. Mr. McGibbon had quite enough to do to look after the beautiful Mountain Park.

The Mayor—You are perfectly right, Mr. Chairman, and I will bring the matter before the Road Committee at its next meeting.

YALE WINS AT NEW LONDON. NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21.—Yale won the boat race on the Thames to-day, defeating the University of Pennsylvania crew.

SEARLE ARRIVES. LONDON, June 21.—Searle, the Australian oarsman with the backer and trainer, has arrived here and begins training next week. He does not think lightly of O'Connor, but is confident he can beat him.

THE YALE-PENNA BOAT RACE—YALE COME IN AN EASY WINNER.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 21.—The eight-oared, four-mile race, between Yale and the University of Pennsylvania crews, was rowed this evening over the Thames river course, from Gales Ferry to Withropes Point, and was won by Yale by one and one-half lengths.

A stiff breeze was blowing up the river against the crews and over the first three miles the water was rough. The interest in the race centered almost wholly in the exhibition given by Yale as a means of judging her chances in the race of next Friday against Harvard.

The comments on the race vary widely, but all agree that the crews were kept very close together to the finish. The crews were late in leaving their quarters, but at 6.57 they backed up to the starting lines and were at once sent away by Referee Brooks, of Harvard.

Both crews caught the water together, and for two or three strokes both crews splashed water badly. Yale's shell forged ahead about ten feet, but the Quakers settled down and a few strokes pushed the bow of their boat to the front.

At the first quarter mile the boats were bow and bow, both crews rowing in good form, Yale's perfect swing being especially noticeable. A strip of rough water was entered and both crews eased down, but the Pennsylvania boys managed to push ahead at the half mile again were leading by a full length.

Yale's 34. From the half mile flag to the one mile Yale dropped her stroke to 30 while Pennsylvania ran theirs up to 36. In spite of this change Yale gradually crept up to the Quaker's and at the one mile flag were again on even terms.

From the 1 mile to the 1 1/2 flag the boats were bow and bow, Pennsylvania pulling 34 and Yale 30. In the Pennsylvania boat there was some splashing and No. 4 was keeping a poor time. Just before the 1 1/2 mile flag was reached Pennsylvania had a stretch of smooth water under the lee shore, while Yale was in rough water.

The Pennsylvania men spurted and thought to take a lead, but Yale responded and easily held her own. At the two-mile flag the difference between the slow and steady swing of Yale and the quick and nervous stroke pulled by Pennsylvania began to show itself very plainly.

Yale gradually forged ahead pulling 32 in the easiest possible manner, while the Pennsylvania men—although doing fairly good work—went all to pieces in their swing and recover. From the yard to the finish their stroke was a "swing-and-pull."

After passing the navy yard Yale increased her lead to a length with plenty of power in reserve. At the three and one-half mile flag Yale had a lead of nearly two lengths and was taking things very easy.

A quarter of a mile from the finish Pennsylvania made a tremendous spurt and cut Yale's lead to half a length, but then Yale hit her stroke up to 34 and crossed the line with a lead of about one and one-half lengths.

To the casual observer the race appeared to have been one of the most exciting and evenly contested races on record, while as a matter of fact it was a walkover for Yale. Bob Cook's orders to the Yale crew before they left their quarters was to win by the smallest possible margin, as they did not wish to give Harvard any points as to their strength.

These orders were obeyed. The following table gives the time of the crews at each half mile:

Assistant City Clerk Gosselin goes to Quebec to-day as one of the delegates representing the St. Jean Baptiste Society of Montreal at Monday's celebration.

Arabi Pasha, the Egyptian patriot, complains that his incarceration at Ceylon is killing him. The climate is too damp, and he is tortured with rheumatism.

Sir Conrad Reeves, the Chief Justice of Barbados, is of slave descent on his mother's side, and is the first mulatto who has received the honor of Knighthood.

Martin Irons, the once powerful labor leader in Missouri, who sent word to General Manager Hoxie that he didn't have time to see him, is now—dirty and half clothed—running a shabby little fruit stand in St. Louis.

The trustees and choir of St. Gabriel Presbyterian Church presented Mr. Wallace, of the Witness staff, who is a member of the choir, and who is leaving for a trip to the old country, with a handsome gift of a chain and maltese cross, as a mark of their regard.

The Hon. William Wirt Henry, grandson of Patrick Henry, has been designated by Gov. Lee of Virginia to represent that State at the meeting of the Governors of the thirteen original States, to be held at Independence Hall, July 4. Gov. Lee's official duties prevent his personal attendance.

Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., has again made his appearance in Wall street, his identity being concealed from the general public in the "Co." attached to the name of a small stock brokerage firm. During his mother's absence in Europe young Ulysses and family occupy her elegant mansion in the aristocratic West End of New York.

Mrs. Jennie Moore, her husband, and two children were swept away by the Johnston flood. Mrs. Moore was rescued, and has since been staying with friends in Wheeling. Last Saturday she went to Pittsburgh, and there, on exhibition in a dime museum, she found her baby. Her husband and 5-year-old boy were drowned.

The wife of Count Tolstoy, the Russian novelist, is like the wives of many literary men the business member of the family firm. She has sole charge of the sale and distribution of her husband's books, and is his amanuensis, reviser and translator. Besides all this she superintends the bringing up and education of their thirteen children, and looks after all domestic matters.

The Rev. Dr. Barbee, who recently resigned the pastorate of McKendrick Church in Nashville to accept the book agency of the Methodist publishing house, made a little talk to his old congregation Sunday night, in the course of which he said: "Two of the greatest evils of our day are the men's club tendencies and the women's masculine tendencies. The club-goers are on the road to hell, but not more surely than are the masculine women."

Miss Elizabeth Mitchell, daughter of Mr. Alex. Mitchell, produce merchant of this city, and who graduated in medicine with high honors at Queen's College, Kingston, and who has since then received diplomas from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Edinburgh, Glasgow and London, has begun the practice of her profession at 148 Peel street. Miss Mitchell is the first lady who has practiced the profession of medicine in Lower Canada.

The Hon. Duncan Gillies, Premier of Victoria, Australia, arrived in the colony that he now practically governs in the first 182, being then 20 years old, and the money he earned was for a job at breaking stones. He soon found his way to the Ballarat gold fields, worked as an ordinary miner there for some time, developed a capacity for ventilating the diggers' grievances on the platform, was elected as one of their representatives on the local mining court, next sent to Parliament as member for Ballarat West, and to-day he would make his mark in the British House of Commons as a polished and effective debater.

Good News.—The following extract of a letter received by the St. Leon Water Co. from a gentleman in Boston will show how the St. Leon Hotel is now run under the new management: "My wife writes from the Springs in high terms of the way your hotel is run this year compared to former seasons, and says the table compares very favorably with the Windsor Hotel in Montreal. I expect to remove to the Springs the middle of July for a couple of weeks."

THE THOROUGHFARES.

Some of the Little Inconveniences the Citizens Put up With.

THEIR PATIENCE IN ADVERSITY.

Extracts from the By-Laws Governing the Subjects.

The citizens of Montreal are peculiarly constituted in many respects. Of their many marked characteristics, the most marked is the sublime patience with which they submit to inconvenience by the contravention of city by-laws, and the equally sublime contempt with which these by-laws are treated when occasion arises for such a course.

Perhaps the citizen who has to suffer the most in Montreal is the pedestrian. This individual puts up with enough inconvenience during his every day career to almost turn his head grey. To enumerate the insignificant—for they are insignificant in Montreal—things that bother him would make a formidable list. Reckless driving is among the first of the little inconveniences that the walking citizen has to suffer.

Must have his fun, so the victims are sacrificed and the Montreal Juggernaut rolls on. The only difference between the Montreal performance and the Indian one is that the votaries of Vishnu in India were generally voluntary victims, whereas the celebration in Montreal is accompanied by involuntary sacrifices. It is pleasing to note, however, that the evidences of barbarism in this particular are growing less, due to the spirit of progress and the more efficient supervision of the genius "Bobby" at the more important street crossings, such as St. James and Victoria square, etc.

Talking about crossings, is there any place in the world but Montreal where the manipulators of the watering cart is so carefully particular to turn on an extra stream of water when directly over the crossing. It is hinted by one who knows that these gentlemen have entered into a pool with the bootblacks down town, by which trade is to be furnished them, and now although willing to ENCOURAGE HONEST INDUSTRY, the average citizen, no matter what the Government at Ottawa and the other trusts and rings think, have a healthy aversion to any combine that is formed for the purpose of extorting money out of their pockets. Therefore, muddy boots are borne with and the recording angel is required to exercise his short-hand.

Every crossing in the city, with the exception of St. James and Notre Dame streets, is covered in dry or wet weather with a coating of that adhesive mud for which Montreal has a record. It is surprising, therefore, that there are so few "cuss" words used.

But not only is the citizen compelled to wade through the mud on the crossings owing to the perverse waterway cart man, but he has to take a mud foot-bath on wet days in the street proper. Why, because as above mentioned there are citizens who don't care a rap for the city ordinances and violate them as they see fit. The first and perhaps worst offenders in this respect are the down town merchants and their coadjutors, the truckmen. The odds are six to one that any one taking a walk through the business portion of the city would have to wade out in the street as many times as he has fingers and thumb, as a stroll from Notre Dame street to the river front. There is a clause in the by law

PIEDON HOLED AT THE CITY HALL, that says—'and mark how considerably these gentlemen are troubled. No to be sure man shall block the sidewalk for more than five minutes, whether in loading or unloading.' But he does. Oh! Yes! It would take every policeman that Chief Hughes has got to see that this clause is strictly adhered to. Every one of these warehouses, or at least the generality of them, have rear entrances, and the only proper solution of the difficulty is to make the truckmen load there or else run a sidewalk in the middle of every street with elevated bridges to the stores, this to be the exclusive property of the pedestrians. The sidewalk proper could then be devoted to the use for which it was evidently intended, viz., a convenience for the loading and unloading of merchandise.

A walk taken through the wholesale portion of the city the other day furnished the following facts: On St. Peter street, between Notre Dame and the river front, the writer ducked under and evaded no less than six trucks backed in across the sidewalk. He looked at the river for several minutes to give them time to observe the five minute clause, and then came back with a jaunty air, confident of an uninterrupted passage. But he didn't. Oh, no! And the ducking and wading process had to be repeated. On St. Jacques street four trucks were drawn across the sidewalk; on St. Nicholas three; on St. Paul seven, and on St. Sulpice two; so that in a half-hour's walk between St. Peter and St. Sulpice, and from Notre Dame street to the river, some twenty-two trucks were noticed.

DRAWN ACROSS THE SIDEWALK, and, strange to relate, during all his perambulations he never met a policeman except one that he saw talking to an ancient apple woman at the St. Ann's market. He got back to the office after running an exciting gauntlet of cab-races at the corner of Bleury and Craig streets, procured a volume of the city by-laws, and this is what he found:

By-law concerning vehicles, article 3, section 30: "No person driving any carriage or vehicle, or riding any horse, mare, gelding or other beast in or through the said city shall permit the beast or beasts to run, gallop, trot, pace or go at any rate exceeding six miles to the hour."

Section 31: "No owner, driver or other person having the care of any truck, cart, wagon, or other vehicle, whether used for profit or pleasure, shall stop or place such vehicle at or near the intersection of any street, lane or alley in such manner as to cross the footing or flagstone, or prevent foot passengers from passing the lane or alley in the direction or line of the footing or flagstone on the side of such street, lane or alley."

FASTER THAN A WALK when coming out of any cross street or court yard into any main or leading street in the said city, or in turning any corner of a street or square in the same," (what about Victoria square?)

Section 43—It shall be the duty of the Chief of Police and of the officers and men under his command to visit the public stands and places where vehicles for hire are permitted to stand, and thereat as well as elsewhere at all times and in all places in the said city to enforce the rules and regulations respecting such vehicles and the drivers thereof, and to report to the clerk of the Recorder's Court all offenders against any of the provisions of this by-law.

(Some are and some are not.) Section 52.—Any and all persons offending against any of the provisions of this by-law shall for each offence forfeit and pay a fine not exceeding twenty dollars and the costs of prosecution, and be liable to imprisonment in the common goal and labor for a period not exceeding one calendar month.

(Is it ever twenty dollars, or rather $5 and costs, and was there ever an imprisonment. Perhaps the Recorder is too considerate for the health of the offenders. After reading the above it was decided to give the facts as they stand to the public and let them think for themselves.

A CHANGE OF WEAPON. Last winter I climbed Lookout Mountain in company with a veteran of the late war. It was his first visit since the day of the memorable assault, and as we climbed he fought the battle over again for my benefit. As the conflict waxed hotter he grew excited, and on our arrival at the hotel near the summit was at a fever heat. He then passed on through the narrow defile which leads to the pinnacle, where we were confronted by a diminutive specimen of the genus "cracker" with these words: "If you gentlemen wish to go to the top, you must pay twenty-five cents." This was too much for the pent-up feelings of my warlike companion, who, tragically waving his strong right arm, shouted: "I won't pay it. Twenty-five years ago I came up here with a sword in my hand." But the modern Leonidas, moving no otherwise than to display a deputy sheriff's badge, quietly remarked: "Well, sah, you must come up with a quarter to-day." The money was paid.—Harper's Magazine.

CANAL WORKS IN EGYPT. Schemes of irrigation in Upper Egypt, in the provinces of Esneh, Keneh, Girgeh and Southern Assiout, have been considered on the spot by Colonel Ross, Inspector-General of Irrigation, with the governors of the provinces and the provincial councils. The area affected by these proposals includes 736,000 acres, of which no less than 250,000 acres were not irrigated or were insufficiently irrigated in 1888. The projects are all based on the idea of going up the river to such a distance that a canal on a slope of 4cm. in 1 kilom. shall, when the Nile is at 14 cubits, take enough water and deliver on the surface a free flow. The present system of canals is being utilized by deepening, widening and prolonging them, and in many cases only by a change of site of the offtake from the river. The masonry works required will, it is estimated, cost about £180,000, of which £100,000 is required immediately. The junctions and prolongations of canals are estimated to cost £200,000. The length of the valley thus protected from the effects of a low Nile is 255 miles.

COAL POSSIBILITIES OF RUSSIA. The Russian empire is very rich in mineral wealth. The known supplies of coal are very large. As yet, however, the vast wealth possessed by the empire in this direction alone is only beginning to be known. A report to the Government by Professor Mendeleeff shows that in the basin of the river Donetz, a tributary of the Don, there are nearly 21,000,000,000 tons of coal awaiting working. If the mine prove workable as deep as the average English mines it is estimated that three times the above total is to be obtained. The Donetz basin, it is claimed, could alone supply the present annual coal consumption of the world for two hundred years to come. The Donetz coal is said to possess two especially notable advantages over many other coals, in that no explosive gas is generated in mining it, and that it leaves such a small quantity of ashes—estimated at 2@3 per cent.

THE MOST DENSELY POPULATED REGION. This valley of the Ganges has more people than it can support and it is probably the most densely populated part of the world. The people live in villages and the average country town consists of one story mud huts too poor and ill ventilated for American pig pens. You would not think of having such out-houses as the residences of the majority of this vast population would make, and in a large part of India, and especially in the best part of this Ganges country, the holdings average from two to three acres apiece. At four to the family this represents a half acre per person or over 1,200 persons per square mile. When it is remembered that these people live by agriculture it will be seen that this condition is far worse than that of China or any part of Europe. And still the people are bright. They are brainy, too, and you will find few sharper business men, better out faces and more polite people than these people of India. Their faces in this part of India have much the same characteristics as those of the Anglo-Saxon. Those of the higher castes are more like those of the Greeks, and I see faces every day which, if the skin were white, any American might be proud to own. They belong to the same race germ that we do, and under the same training and Christian influences they would be strong competitors with us. But what can a man do on six cents a day, or how can a man learn when he has to struggle to exist? The population of India is continually increasing. England has the lion's share of the products of the country, and though the people are perhaps better off under her Government than they have been in the past, it is the same old story of her wealth going to the rulers and the people working their flesh off their bones to support them. The Governor-General of India, who by the way is the rich Marquis of Lansdowne, gets $100,000 a year. Quite a contrast with the wages of the masses at six cents a day! Isn't it?—India Letter.

A Confectioner's Confidence. "I suffered with neuralgia and obtained no relief until I used Hagyard's Yellow Oil. Since then I have also found it an invaluable remedy for all painful burns and cuts, rheumatism and sore throat." Mrs. F. Cameron, 137 Richmond Street West, Toronto, Ont.

CONSCIENCE IN WORK.

Suggestions Worth Pondering by Young Men.

(Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

The policy of right-doing cannot be doubted. Every intelligent man and woman must see that in nearly every instance it pays richly and fully for whatever labour or self-sacrifice it may involve, and in the few cases where they cannot see this result most of them have sufficient faith in the law to trust it. Yet, if this be the only motive in action, it cannot be called right-doing in the best sense. That which is done solely from the hope of gain or advantage cannot be of the highest type. The young man, for example, who, tempted to a dishonourable deed, is led to refrain only from the thought that it will ultimately injure his reputation and prospects is to be congratulated for his intelligence, but we cannot hold him in the high esteem that we do his fellow worker, who, knowing the action to be wrong, dismissed the thought of it at once, without pausing to inquire whether it will be to his interest or to his disadvantage. It does not avail to say that they amount to the same thing in the end, the interest of the individual being always bound up in his good conduct. This is certainly true, but the right-doing itself is in its turn bound up in its motives, and cannot exist in its purity where self-interest is the only thing pursued. There is no doubt that the late liberal outflow of material aid for our suffering brethren will react upon the characters of the many givers, turning their hearts and quickening their benevolent affections; but could we imagine any one having given to these afflicted ones from the deliberate motive of improving himself, would it not have robbed the action of all its grace, beauty and virtue?

This truth is especially potent in the case of the worker. The fact is so self-evident that the laborer in any sphere will find his best success and welfare in diligent, thorough and pains-taking effort that we fall unconsciously into the practice of giving him this motive alone for a stimulus to such exertion. Now, that it is and ought to be a strong and natural incentive is undoubtedly true. The law of self-preservation is a primary one. "If a man will not work, he shall not eat" is an unanswerable argument, and when this is extended to the welfare of his family and the education of his children, it obtains a tenfold power and dignity. Yet we should not stop there. It should not be the only motive to excellence and effort. At a recent meeting, held in the interests of labor, where many different problems were discussed and methods advanced to better the present condition of things, the keynote was given by the last speaker who declared that the greatest need of the day was "more conscience in work." The habit of doing what we have to do as well, as thoroughly and as speedily as possible, without immediate reference to its probable or possible effects upon ourselves, is one which would of itself secure at once the best success for ourselves and the greatest good to the community. It would settle many vexed questions and solve many knotty problems. Instead of this, the common course is to consider closely the comparative benefit that is likely to accrue to us in return. There are all degrees of this calculation, from the strictly just to the grossly selfish. One man tries to estimate the true worth of his labor and performs it accordingly; another gives as little work and security as large returns as possible; and between these there is every shade. But in all such reckonings there is one important element left out. No one can count up the value of the labor which is both generous and conscientious. Even its money value can never be calculated.

The youth who enters business determined to do all that comes to his hands as well as he can, and to be free of his anxious to learn and anxious to please, who never measures his labor by his wages, but freely gives all the work, and the best work in his power, is vastly more valuable than the one who is always bearing in mind the small pay he is receiving and fearing that he should give too much in return. So the mechanic or the clerk, who beyond his stated salary, beyond his obligations to his employer or the demands which public opinion could make upon him, exerts himself to make his work as perfect as he can, and delights in its thoroughness and excellence, apart from any private benefit it can render him, has a value which can never be computed. It matters not what the work be, whether it be done with the spade of the labourer, the pen of the clerk, the brush of the artist, or the voice of the statesman. Such people are sought far and wide; there are places always open to them, and their services are always at a premium. Talents and skill tell for much, but conscience in work tells for more. He whose integrity is unquestionable, who can be trusted far and wide, who will work equally well alone as when every eye is upon him, and will do his best at all times, is an invaluable member of society. And he cannot do this simply from the motive of self-interest. It is the result of something more than intelligence and foresight; it is conscience, vitalizing every detail of labour, and raising it to its highest pitch of excellence.

PUTTING THE LIGHT UNDER A BUSHEL. Extract from a Sermon of the Rev. Sam Goosberry, of Pock Bottom, Va. To be Hodge in Luck! 'De we'ds ob de tex' am: 'Don' put yo' light undah a bushel.' 'Dah am four pints of dat tex'—de bushel, de light, de candle, an' de candlestick. 'In de first place, dah am many kinds ob bushels. Dah am de bushel ob shell'd co'n; dah am a struck bushel. Dah am de bushel of co'n in the eah; dah am a heap bushel. Dah am de cheatin' bushel, wid de bottom too neah to de top. An' dah am de basket ob peaches dat run three peck to de bushel, wid de bus' peaches on top. 'In de second place, dah am de light. Dah am de de light ob de sun. Dah am de de second-hand light ob de moon. Dah am de winkin' ob de sta's. Dah am de coal-le lamp, an' de dip. Dese multitudinous so's ob lights ain't what de tex' pints to; it pints to de light dat yo' bruddahs an' sistahs am holdin' up since yo' got converted.

Some ob you is holdin' up de glo' ons light of de sun. Some ob you is holdin' ob de second-hand' light ob de moon. Some, de winkin' ob de sta's. Some ob you is de de winkin' ob de sun goin' 'ronn' wid de shot's stump ob de ole dip dat wants snuffin' mighty bad. An' dah's some ob yo' dat smells mighty strong ob sulphah—de Dobbles' been snuffin' yo' candle wid his fingahs.

'Don' put yo' light undah a bushel.' Ob co's yo' don't! What fo' yo' tun' de bushel upside down so it won't hold snuff? De Lord wants folks fo' to see de measure ob yo' light; yo''ve got to put it in de bushel!

'Some ob yo's got an honest struck bushel. Some ob yo's got a heap bushel dat looks big, but hain't hold. Some ob yo's tryin' to fool people wid de bottom ob yo' bushel too neah to de top. An' some ob yo's tryin' had to make yo' po' ole stump ob a dip gib three pints ob light to de bushel. An' ole Satan's standin' at da measurin' grinnin' at you; an' he'll grab you fo' sho't measure, sho'.

'I mind when I was a young man, restin' in my ca'nal security, I was co'tin' a lady dat didn't lib fo' my mile from de sanctu'ry. We was settin' dah in de bes' kitchen; an' settin'—I needn't tell you sinnahs 'bout dat. De lady says to me, 'Set yo' kin' at de dip dat was bu'in' on de high up de chimney-piece—Dat light kin'dah hut's my eyes.' 'I wouldn't hab had her eyes hut fo' nothin'; so I done to' her fo' to git up off—I jumped up fo' to blow out de candle, an' she grab me. 'What you gwine to do?' says she. 'Blow out de light dat hut's yo' eyes,' says I. 'Don't do dat,' says she; 'Father don't 'low dat.' 'I lef it alone—bu'in'—an' set down agin.' 'What you gwine to do now?' says she. 'Come set where you was an' shut yo' eyes,' says I. 'I'll kiver de light fast,' says she; 'dah's no law agin' kiverin' it.' She grab de candle an' stuck it undah a tub dat was upside down on de flo'. An' de darkness was ez black ez inside do toe ob a shoe. 'Den we set down in our ca'nal security, like we was befo'.

'Befo' dat tub had time fo' to git half full of light, de do' opened, an' de ole man hollahed, 'Who dah?' 'Dah we set in our ca'nal security, says yo' snuffin' no mo' den owl in de night, wid our light out de tub. 'De ole man, he cam a rampagin' 'roun', an' he tumbled ober de tub; an' de light of truth come out, an' de candle ob damnation kep' on bu'in'; an' dah we was cotted by de be' yo' fellow himself. 'I hab reasons ob my own fo' mindin' de truth of de tex' ez long ez I lib. Don' put yo' light undah a tub.'

There is an old colored shoemaker in Hartford, Conn., who has for 25 years devoted himself to collecting rare copper coins and studying their history. His collection comprises a nearly complete set of pennies issued from 1793 to 1857. His British coppers are especially interesting, some of them dating as far back as 1700.

The Danbury (Conn.) News says: "A mouse attracted no little attention in the window of Hoyt's bazaar Saturday night. The little fellow ran about among the goods, and climbed up to the top of the large show-window and curtains, catching flies. He has made the window his abode for several weeks, and keeps his flies away in the most approved manner."

Exasperating Luxury, from yesterday's New York World: Private telephones in New York are a luxury. The World has one in operation which costs $45 per month. On an average it is open to service about five days in the month. The remainder of the time this exclusive phone is crossed with all the other telephone wires in the city, and the amount of vexation which it causes is incalculable.

Secretary Jeremiah Rusk is quoted as having thus spoken to a friend recently: "I had supposed that in being relegated to the Agricultural Department I would be forever buried from public gaze. On the contrary I find the newspapers full of paragraphs regarding my movements. I am so snowed under by invitations to speak at agricultural fairs that my secretary is almost beside himself with the task of declining them. Now, if you want to become famous, just take charge of the new Department of Agriculture."

"Those who have read the detailed accounts of the flood in the Comenagh Valley," says the Kansas City Star, "can scarcely have failed to note that, with the single exception of the messenger who rode to his death in giving his warning of the advancing torrent, the incidents of fortitude, self-sacrifice, resignation and moral courage were traced for the most part to women. There is every reason to believe that the accounts are true to nature as well as true in fact, and that in great emergencies women develop a higher grade of moral strength than men, although they are regarded as the 'weaker sex.'"

The Machinery Hall, which occupies nearly the whole width of the Champ de Mars, is credited with being the largest building covered by one roof in the world. It contains 1,350 feet in length, 100 feet in width and 135 feet in height, and is roofed in by one span. On either side are galleries, 57 feet 6 inches wide. The cost of the whole structure is given in an official return as $1,502,785, made up as follows: Earth work and masonry, $118,485; iron work, $1,079,660; wood work, $38,750; covering, lead and zinc, $47,385; flooring, $36,445; decoration, $51,230; painting, $31,705; miscellaneous, $38,025; engineers, $38,850. Three-quarters of the space of the Hall is occupied by France, and the remaining quarter is divided between Great Britain, the United States, Belgium and Switzerland.

The dredging of the river Medway for the purpose of deepening the channel, which is being carried out by a large Government steam dredger, has led to an interesting discovery being made just below Gillingham Pier. For several days the workmen employed on the vessel have noticed that a considerable quantity of wood has been brought up in buckets, and examination has conclusively proved that the pieces are portions of a ship. It is conjectured that this ship was one of those engaged in the historical fight in the Medway between the Dutch and English fleets. Several chain shots, too, have been found, together with a few very old-fashioned bottles, a number of broken tumblers of ancient pattern, and several boxes of human beings. The wood is mostly of oak, and the fact that in the place of nails or bolts the wood has been "trunnelled," is another proof that it is of considerable age.

In Paris lately a physician was arrested for practicing medicine without a diploma. He had a large and lucrative practice, and at the trial several patients testified that they had been ordered by him to keep the boy out of his hands until he held a copper coin on their heads. The disclosures didn't unnerve the doctor in the least, and when asked what he had to say, to the great surprise of all, produced a diploma showing he was a regularly graduated physician. He then explained that for five years, after leaving college, he had vainly tried to make a living by regular practice. Then, to avoid starvation, he hit upon the quick-witted dodge, and made considerable money. But now that he had been obliged to show his diploma, the "trick" would work no longer, and he would be obliged to move to some other locality, where he would not be known as a regular physician.

The Boston Traveller relates that three forlorn looking urchins were observed on one of the busy streets of that city asking passers-by for pennies. "A benevolent looking lady, who was evidently touched by their ragged clothes and general condition, asked one of them for what he wanted the money. He hesitated a moment, and then said, 'To buy candy with.' His honesty pleased the kind-hearted lady, who immediately opened her pocket-book, hoping to find a penny for each little fellow, but there seemed to be nothing but a 5 cent piece. This she handed to the smallest of the trio, suggesting as she did so that he divide the purchase with the others. No sooner had the little one received the money than his friends pounced upon him, as if determined either to have his money or his life. They rolled about and knocked each other right and left, and when separated by spectators the 5 cent piece couldn't be found. When last seen each of the small pugilists was busily engaged hunting for the lost treasure."

Many Thanks. "My age is 58 and for 20 years I have suffered from kidney complaint, rheumatism and lame back, and would have been a dead woman if it had not been for Burdock Blood Bitters, of which you bottles restored me to health and strength." Miss Maggie Hendaby, Half Island Cove, N. S.

Seldom does a lady appear to better advantage than when in her own home, attired in a pretty or becoming costume, dispensing hospitality or caring for the comfort of her household. The materials now offered for morning dresses or a dress for home wear are in great variety, and the prices for many of them so low that a charming gown can be had for very little money.

The Cleghorn stripes are shown in dull and in very brilliant tones, red and blue forming a handsome effect and red, white and blue a pretty combination. The olive and green shades are most attractive, being skillfully united with other tones.

There is an immense variety in white goods, some beautiful effect in thick stripes or plaids on thin grounds, or vice versa; or lace stripes, or blocks mingled with plain stuffs in charming style, as low as 12 1/2 cents per yard.

White skirts are considered vulgar for travelling. An hour's wear spoils them, and the lace and embroidery with which they are trimmed become frayed and ragged, and consequently untidy.

Two pronged hairpins, with a plating of gold on the curve, either plain or decorated with precious stones, enjoy considerable favour just now, and similar pins ornamented in this way with the new biscuit coloured enamel are among the latest novelties produced by jewelers.

An excellent pomade for the face when the skin is dry and rough is made of oil of bitter almonds, one scruple; spermaceti, one drachm, two scruples; and cerate, one ounce. A greasy complexion may be cleaned by dusting the face with a finely pulverized starch, applied either with a down puff or a hare's foot; then gently remove the starch with a piece of fine cambric or an old silk stocking.

I find in an old magazine the following receipt: To remove or diminish wrinkles, and it is recommended: Benzoin water, one drachm; white honey, one ounce; alcohol, one gill; steep or macerate eight days, and bathe the forehead with it.

Some beautiful styles in dresses for little girls made for the early Spring trade, sizes that didn't happen to sell, are now marked at exactly half price. For instance, a little dark green cashmere dress, the skirt trimmed with three rows of ribbon and accordion plaited, a pointed yoke also trimmed with the narrow ribbon and a full, graceful sleeve, the little dress beautifully made, was marked at $12, is now offered at $6.

mousseline de laine, and I know of no fabric of this class better calculated to display the best styles of dressmaking. This charming material is printed all over with floral patterns on a light ground; a light pink ground, nearly covered with fern, perfectly true to nature in its feathery, clinging grace, meanders in brown and blue tones, so well chosen, as to produce a charming effect on the pink ground. Stems and red berries are seen on a white ground and other designs equally pleasing. Striped and plain mohairs are among the most favoured of dress fabrics for general wear. They are very suitable for traveling gowns and for short steamboat or car trips, as they will not retain dust and always look well.

There are, however, boarding houses and boarding houses. It is scarcely fair to infer that they are all bad, but it must be admitted that a large proportion of them are. Of course the boarding house mistress has a lot to put up with. Her boarders may affect airs. They may be cantankerous. They may be expecting much, perhaps more than they pay for. They would like to dine as princes on $16 or $18 a month. They don't, and they grumble.

THE BOARDING HOUSES. Some Experiences with Montreal Landladies. (Continued.) The boarding house problem is a complex one. It is one of the social problems which Parliament might spend years discussing without any beneficial results accruing from such a proceeding.

predominates in the city. She is generally credited with knowing a great deal. By a practice of rigid economy she can make her edibles last as long again as they ought to. The boarder fears her.

There is no doubt that the Prince of Wales, for a man so thoroughly spoilt as one in his position must be, displays at intervals unusually sound common sense. The bad taste of Lord Salisbury in withdrawing the British Minister from Paris at the opening of the exhibition aroused great bitterness of feeling in France.

There are a few places in the city where one can get a comfortable meal without having the eyes of the parsimonious boarding-house keeper forever on him, but the rates for such places are correspondingly high, perhaps $25 or $30 per month. Here is the case of a young man who paid $27 for a room which was pleasant enough. The board, however, was bad.

JOHNNY CAKE AND CRACKERS were what he had to live upon, with an extra dish on Sundays. He got tired of it. This food did not agree with him. He grew thin, and had to seek medical advice, which amounted to "change of diet." He gave up his quarters and eventually found a place which suited him. The landladies do not often ask the boarders what they would like for dinner. They serve up steaks or some other meats which would sometimes require a man with great muscular energy to tackle. They do not consider the interests of the boarders of sufficient importance to be consulted. The man who had stunk for breakfast six days of the week. He did not seriously object to the steak. No; but life was altogether too short to devote the time necessarily required to masticate and digest this, oftentimes, indigestible inedible.
