ALD. C. E. GRAVEL WILL RETIRE FROM CITY COUNCIL OF OUTREMONT

Only Member Who Will Not Seek Re-Election—Motion of Appreciation to Retiring Councillor—Financial Report Accepted at Last Meeting.

Internal financing by the City of Outremont effected great savings for the municipality, it was pointed out at the City Council Meeting last week. Explanation of savings through financing was given by E. T. Sampson, city treasurer. About $750,000 of short term bonds are maturing May 1, but $230,000 worth will be entirely cancelled, and the financing for the balance, $520,000, will be effected from the sinking fund investment and reserve through the medium of the Metropolitan Commission.

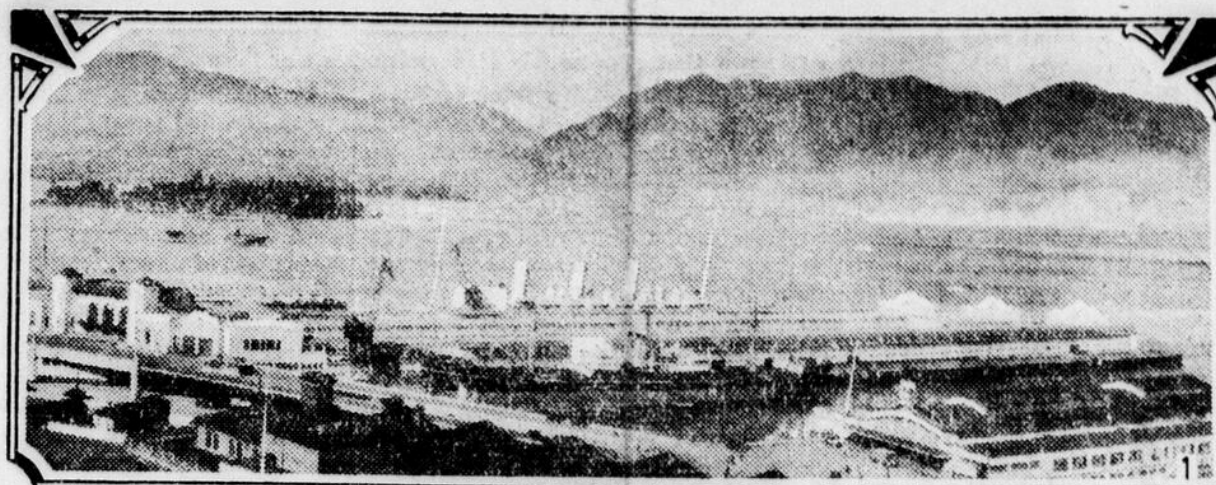

Another interesting report too, was the further increase of Outremont's taxable and non-taxable property and land valuation which is now $50,006,475 following the adoption of the supplementary valuation roll for $371,000.

Considerable time was required to dispose of a number of items at this meeting that concerned mainly the finances of the city. Shortly before adjournment, Ald. C. E. Gravel, representing the South Ward announced that he would not seek re-election at the forthcoming elections.

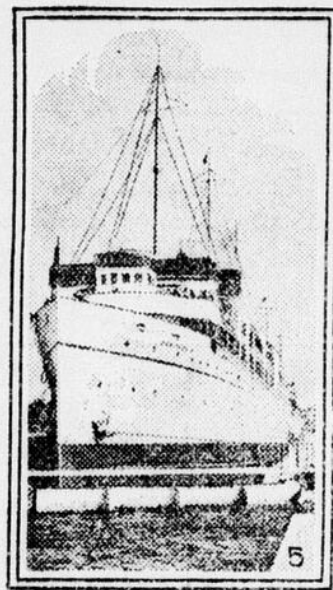

Referring to the two terms he had served on the Council, he outlined various improvements accomplished during the last four years, and spoke highly of the splendid co-operation he had received from the other Council members. A motion of appreciation was later expressed by E. W. Sayer and Ald. Charles Bourassa on behalf of the retiring Councillor.

Mayor Joseph Beaubien presided and the attending members were E. W. Sayer, C. E. Gravel, Ernest Pitt, Arthur Dansereau, J. D. Hudson and Charles Bourassa.

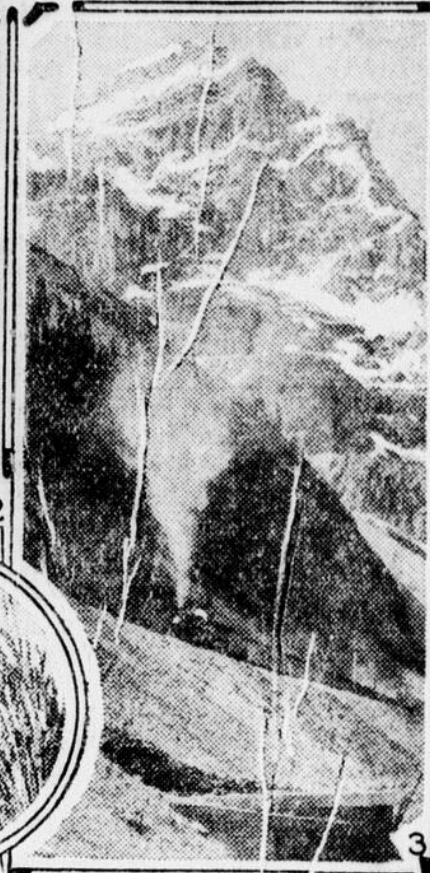

Showing Canada to Canadians

Six thousand miles of travel, taking in every phase of Canadian life will be accomplished under exceptionally favorable circumstances by those who leave over Canadian Pacific lines, with Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College.

Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que., starting from Montreal on July 26th, and Toronto July 27th. The trans-Canada trip, which will be made by railway, motor through the Rocky Mountains, one of the smart

C.P.R. coastal steamers between Vancouver and Victoria and vice-versa, and on one of the same company's Great Lakes boats from Fort William to Port McNicoll, will take 22 days to complete and will include all the Dominion's important centres, the wheat regions of the Prairies, beautiful resorts in the Rockies and a comprehensive visit to the Pacific Coast. This is the eighth annual tour under Dean Laird's guidance. The pictures show: (1) Vancouver's bustling waterfront with the great C.P.R. liner "Empress of Russia" at her berth. J. CHARLES SHEA AND GEORGE PRATT TAKE OUT NOMINATION PAPERS

Will Contest Honors in Aldermanic Seat Vacated by C. E. Gravel—Elections on April 20th—Mayor Beaubien Will Likely Be Re-Elected by Acclamation.

Considerable competition is expected in the forthcoming civic elections in Outremont, which have been set for April 20th.

Politics have taken a decided turn in this part of the city, where for six years past elections by acclamation were noticeably the rule. This time, at least for the present, the contest is centered upon the West Ward, as a result of the vacancy created by the withdrawal from the Municipal Council of Alderman C. E. Gravel.

Two prominent residents of the City of Outremont, J. Charles Shea and Georges Pratt will run for aldermanic honors in the retired Councillor's place. Both candidates who are seeking election for the seat have filed their regulation papers with E. T. Sampson, city clerk.

Following Mr. Shea's official acceptance of the nomination presented to him last Monday night at the Outremont Curling Club by a representative group of ward residents, he expressed his appreciation for the co-operation of all those present in his campaign for election.

Owen J. Callary, president of the Kiwanis Club of Montreal, was loud in his praise of Mr. Shea. "I have been a resident of Outremont for the past 22 years, although not in the West Ward, and as one who has the best interests of the city at heart, I recommend Mr. Shea most heartily to the electors in his division. He has the requisite training to fulfill the duties in the council to the advantage of the municipality."

Major John Long vouched for the capability of the candidate in a few brief remarks. "I, too, pledge my whole-hearted support to Mr. Shea," he said, "for I know that he is the right man for the important vacancy on the city council." Paul Bastien, Ernest Richardson, John Long, Jr. and S. Foley also spoke.

As one of the joint-chairmen of the evening, S. G. Bendon took the opportunity of suggesting the formation of a Boy Scout troop in Outremont.

He estimated that there were about 400 boys eligible for this better citizenship movement in the whole district, and intimated that steps would be taken to secure the co-operation of the city council along these lines.

The candidate, J. Charles Shea, referred to the present body of councillors as "men of fine calibre." He said if elected he would carry on the fine traditions of the municipality to the best of his ability.

Nominations will be held Monday, April 13, from 9 until 10 o'clock in the morning. In the case of opposition, elections will be held the following Monday, April 20.

The other two Aldermen whose term of office is expiring this year are Ald. E. W. Sayer and Ald. J. D. Hudson. Mayor Joseph Beaubien's term also expires it was learned at the City Hall. Mayor Beaubien, Alderman Sayer and Alderman Hudson will seek another three-year term of office.

PHILIPPE MAGID RECEIVES INJURY

Philippe Magid, 6, 5178 St. Dominique street received a fracture of the right arm and cuts on the body when he was struck opposite his home Monday night, by a truck driven by Ovide Marcoux, 7170 De Gaspé street. The injured boy was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital where his condition is reported as not serious.

elections will be held the following Monday, April 20.

SATURDAY IS PRIMROSE DAY

Annual Tag Day to Benefit Hervey Institute

The committee of the Hervey Institute have been very busy making ready for their Annual Primrose Day to-morrow.

Societies and individuals have given time and help. The Committee Room at the Mount Royal Hotel has been a busy scene, where the friends have gathered twice a week making ready the blossoms which must now be sold to give the return so much needed.

Among those who are co-operating are members of the following: Outremont North End Women's Club, Westmont Women's Club, Montreal Women's Club, Stanley Church Ladies' Guild, Cygnet Club, Franklin Hall Chapter I.O.D.E., Jeffrey Hale Burland Chapter, Monkland Chapter, Guy Drummond Chapter, Margaret Polson Murray Chapter. The ever generous public are asked not to look upon this as another Tag Day, but to remember a nickel or a dime dropping in a box is a way in which anyone and everyone is able to play a part in a Charity Drive without a strain on the purse.

The Hervey wish to operate their camp in the Laurentians. This camp is the original camp for children from institutions. It opened twenty-six years ago. The Committee feel that after a winter of sickness and consequent scripping on the part of many that every camp will be needed, if we are to build up children for next winter, so they propose to make this the feature work, taking children other than those in the home for two weeks or two months as required. Sunshine and mountain air this summer will be less expensive than special treatment next winter.

Don't pass the sellers of flowers, help them in their not always easy task and so do your good deed of the day. Put yellow and purple decoration on your cars and if you feel inclined drop in at headquarters or send a cheque to office 26, Mount Royal Hotel.

BURGLARS STILL PROWL AROUND NORTH DISTRICT

Locate Nearly Three Hundred Dollars of Laurier Ave. Merchant

SAFE MISSING
 Cart Away 200-Pound Safe With Contents

The ferocious appetites of burglars who entered the grocery store of Allan Defreux, located at 1499 Laurier avenue east, last Monday night, led them into what could well be termed a "pleasant surprise."

Defreux when leaving the store that evening felt the urge to leave away his supply of cash on hand. He did not even trust the safe, but hid it away under some groceries. When he arrived the next morning he found to his horror that burglars who appeared to have been hungry discovered the money in the groceries, and after a hasty meal made their departure. The amount taken from the shop was $290.

Other burglars or in fact perhaps the same culprits entered the Thrift Store, 112 Bernard avenue west at 3.15 o'clock last Thursday morning

EASTER PARADE ON PARK AVENUE

A blue and cloudless sky—a warm sun shining brilliantly down upon the earth—a soft breeze, although somewhat cool, is how the parading Montrealers were greeted by the weather man on Easter morn.

This year color and style walked hand in hand in the "Big Parade." Sherbrooke street was ablaze in colors of red, blue, grey green, and even lighter tones of brown.

More frequent is the desire in the female sex to go forth on Easter Sunday and show her fine wares, and also to vie the wares of others, but this year the men decided to complete that which the women started.

Here in the North End color and style predominated. Park avenue on Sunday afternoon enjoyed a steady stream of paraders on their way to join their comrades on Sherbrooke, and it can be safely said that the North End girls in their new smart suits of various colors set an example to other sections of the city that was hard to be beaten.

All in all the display of Sunday just goes to show that when the people who reside in the North End do something, they do it in a big way, and are always to be found amongst the leaders.

and carried away a 200 pound safe valued at $52, and containing $286 in cash.

Keep Off The Grass And Beautify Your District

In the spring time of the year mother nature is always busy beautifying the flowers, the trees, and the grass. Mother nature always does her share of the work, but without the co-operation of the community at large she will never meet with a very great success.

The Examiner takes this opportunity of appealing to the people to protect the grass. Fresh green grass that is just beginning to make its first appearance out of the earth is trampled on, and crushed to death before it even has a chance to live.

There are many people who take great pride and an active interest in the little gardens that are outside their front doors, but there are other who, to all appearance, always enjoy bareness. Mothers are strongly urged to see that their children do not trample and crush the young grass that requires such great care now that it is only young.

The City of Outremont has already taken steps to prevent the destruction of the lawns by placing broken branches along by the sidewalks.

FIRE DESTROYS COAL COMPANY ON VAN HORNE

Spectacular Two-Alarm Fire Wipes Out Premises

EARLY MORNING
 Flames Were Noticed Shortly Before Three O'Clock

A spectacular two-alarm fire which completely destroyed the premises of the Standard Coal Company, 171 Van Horne Avenue, was blazing furiously when the first alarm was turned in by passersby at 2.47 last Tuesday morning.

When firemen from stations 17, 30, 31, under Acting District Chief Messett arrived, the flames from the wood and coal shot high into the air sending sparks in all directions. Time was hardly taken to lay the first streams when a second alarm was turned in and Director Raoul Gauthier, Deputy Chief Marin, District Chief Presseur and Acting Chiefs Martin and Brouillette with men from stations 14, 16, and 18 responded.

The fire which had started in the rear of the offices of the coal yard, spread with amazing rapidity to the Art Bronze Company, 187 Van Horne avenue, which was considerably damaged by fire, smoke and water, while the Cook's Friend grocery store at 169 Van Horne suffered from smoke and water. Automobiles and trucks which were stored in the sheds were completely burned, as were great piles of wood and stored coal that still smoked and hissed with steam at day-break Wednesday.

No one was hurt while the firemen battled the stubborn flames which threatened at every moment to get out of control.

Damage has not yet been estimated but it is certain that the figures will reach high into the thousands.

Building permits for the month of March showed a considerable gain in the City of Outremont. Permits issued were for $47,000 and $500 respectively.

OUTREMONT TENNIS COURTS NEAR READY

ENTHUSIASTS PLAN EARLY PLAY AS WORKMEN GET SURFACE IN SHAPE

Unusual Summerlike Weather Assures Net Wizards of Early Play—Ask Ald. Pitt to Open Playgrounds Before May 15th.

At last that long awaited spring weather has arrived, after a dreary and cold winter, and has brought with it the cheer and joy of sport-lovers. Particularly for tennis in this section. The growing popularity of this game in the past few years is astounding, and inasmuch as its competitive degree in amateur circles of this section is concerned, it has contributed a worthy part in our athletic careers.

This part of the city has always boasted of considerable interest in Provincial ties each year for the championship, offering as its recruits members from many of our clubs and it is gratifying to note the results in every case.

With unusual weather conditions prevailing for some time now, local tennis courts will soon be ready for play. In any case, this year's schedule will be some two weeks ahead of last year for many clubs here. The Stuart Avenue courts were the first ones ready this year, with two of their number already taped and conditioned for immediate play last Sunday. Though the surface of the courts appeared pretty solid, there is yet some frost in the ground to contend with.

The Outremont Municipal Tennis Courts, however, will not be confronted with quite the same conditions of jack frost when they are ready for play, as the date set for their opening will enable the city to condition the ground for play with the assurance that it will retain its level. According to a report of the city engineer Mr. Lacroix, May 15 has been set for the opening date, and since the expenditure required for earlier opening than this date was not provided for in the city's budget, it will not be possible to alter that date otherwise. Many requests have reached Alderman Ernest Pitt of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee to have the above opening date changed, considering favorable weather conditions, but, unless further action is taken in the matter, the date will remain the same as previously announced.

Many tennis clubs in Outremont and the North Section of this city are at present making ready for an early start this year, but, it is not expected

Y.W.H.A. STARTS CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

Plans Laid for Big Extensions To Association Work

MEETING HELD

Captains Met at Home of Mrs. Sam Bronfman

An enthusiastic gathering of leading and interested girls of the "Y" met to discuss plans for a spring campaign for the collection of dues for the year 1930-31, at the home of Mrs. Sam Bronfman, Belvedere Rd. Mrs. Bronfman, who is treasurer of the Y.W.H.A., in a most convincing manner, inspired these 15 girls to encourage the members to be in good standing and to increase the present membership by marshalling new blood in the form of additional active young women.

A special inducement is offered to those joining now.

Officers of the "Y" present to support Mrs. Bronfman and to encourage the girls were Miss Essie Hirsch, vice-president, and Miss Bertha B. Friedman, secretary. Mrs. Max Bernfeld, executive director of the "Y", feels confident that this band of willing workers will go over the top in securing the best of results. The "Y" depends on its membership dues to carry on with its extensive program of activities. The success of this undertaking means the creating of new branches of work and a larger program for its members.

The following girls have consented to act as captains:—

Pearl Winer, Don Caplan, Dorothy Boyaner, Sarah Schlessinger, Celia Leitman, Anne Deskin, Rose Cohen, Libby Selinger, Betty Sloan, Bessie Fish, Ruth Cohen, Esther Milson, Florence Davidovitch, Minnie Chanania, Nettie Goldman.

Fights Are All Right In The Ring But—

Eddie Farney has gained the reputation of being one of the most impartial and efficient referees in Montreal during recent years, one of the few who commands real respect not only from players and officials, but also the crowds.

Eddie showed a couple of unruly hockey teams where they got off at during a commercial play-off at the Forum last Saturday, and he certainly didn't mean maybe. Eddie was doing a gratuitous job, something not unusual for this man who can command quite a figure as a whistle-blower, and he stepped into a veritable hornets' nest.

Farney handed out eight major penalties during the afternoon, and all were fully deserved. Players chose to fight rather than attend to hockey. Disgusted with it all, Farney skated to the officials of the team, handed them the whistle and the puck, said the game was over as far as he was concerned, and left the players battling on the ice, four minutes of play still remaining.

Now there are some wiser, perhaps sadder, men in hockey, for Q.A. H.A. officials happened to be gazing at the "domybrooks", and four of the would-be pugilists find themselves thrown out of amateur hockey for a year.

That sort of a thing is a pretty tough break, at this time of the year especially, but serves as a fine object lesson for those who think that the best way to play hockey is with a ready pair of fists.

It was no discredit to Farney's ability that things got beyond control on Saturday. Both factions seemed determined to take the steam out of each other, and penalties were not enough to check them. Good referees are few and far between in hockey, and men of the Farney type are a boost to the game.

A Nice Little Joy-Ride For Ball-Players

Amateur baseball players have something out of the ordinary to look forward to as the summer approaches, for there is an added prize at the end of the championship fight. That incentive to make the ball-players try harder than ever is a trip to Los Angeles in 1932, to attend the Olympic Games that are being held there.

Baseball is not on the Olympic card, but being one hundred percent American it is a certainty that this sport will not be overlooked in the quadrennial classic. And when it comes to participants in an international baseball series the first country to turn to outside the States is naturally enough Canada, where the game is now firmly entrenched.

An exhibition ball series to be held in connection with the Olympic Games is now being considered, which would bring together the best amateur teams of the two countries. No points would be awarded the winning country, it merely being a little propaganda for the sake of the game, and, incidentally, perhaps the "amateur baseball championship of the world."

Canadian baseball playdowns as a rule are overshadowed by football, for they run far into the Fall, but with a trip to California as the stake, there would be greater interest than ever stirred up by the Dominion ball finals this year.

Y.M.H.A. To Have Four Tennis Courts Ready Early

Another sport will be given added impetus by the Y.M.H.A., according to an announcement made this morning. The sport in question is tennis and, judging by the plans made, this great international game will be one of the features of the Hebrew Association. Four playing courts will be open for play before the end of this month, with the possibility of there being one, if not two, more additional courts put up this year. It is also planned to re-surface and re-sod the courts starting immediately, with additional lighting being provided for night play.

Another attraction for more tennis players are the hours of play, which this year are being extended to 11.00 p.m. Only one team will be entered in the Province of Quebec Tennis Association. This will enable members to have the courts more to themselves.

Applications for membership in the tennis club are unusually heavy for so early a date, and it was decided that all applications should be in the hands of the secretary by April 19th. It was also decided to limit the membership to 100 for full-time membership, and 150 for part-time.

Officers elected at the annual meeting were: S. Itef, president; Jack Reitman, vice-president; Charles Brownstein, secretary; committee, Miss Rae Bercovitch, Rep. Y.W.H.A. S. Shulman, Henry Blumenstein, Harry Letovsky, H. Gould.

British Industries Fair

CANADIAN EXHIBITS POORLY HANDLED

By ERNEST PITT

While the Canadian exhibit at the British Industries Fair was a splendid showing, and reflected credit on the Dominion, I have one criticism to offer to Canadian exhibitors. I was the only Canadian present at the Olympia, and I was only able to find two Canadians at the Birmingham section.

The balance of the Canadian exhibits were in charge of people who, although undoubtedly highly competent in their lines, had never been to Canada.

It seems to me that in order to sell the products of Canadian manufacturers, not only in England but all over the world, it would be highly desirable to have some one from the Canadian factory on the spot to meet the thousands of buyers from all over the world. There are few things on which Canada can claim to have a monopoly, if any. She has got to fight for business. Other British Dominions and colonies are showing a very aggressive spirit, both as regards getting business and looking for suitable immigration.

In speaking with many British manufacturers and merchants, I was impressed by their intimate knowledge of Australia, South Africa, South America and other countries, but I found that some of them had only a passing knowledge of Canada.

Our Canadian manufacturers could learn something from the way in which the British manufacturer is bidding for the export market. They seemed to be treating the home market as secondary and concentrating their attention on expert business.

It seems to me that for a country like Canada, in a fair like this, thronged with potential purchasers from every part of the world, 35 exhibitors were hardly an adequate representation, particularly as a large proportion of these were exhibitors of food stuffs, such as honey, macaroni, breakfast foods, etc.

The exhibition was patronised by hundreds of thousands of visitors of all categories, from royalty downwards, every one of whom was a potential consumer of something produced in Canada. Surely there must be more than 35 firms in Canada who might well be interested in selling something to these hosts of potential purchasers.

TWO LOCAL BODIES FOUND IN WATER

Eugene Lauzon and William Dickey Identified by Relatives

During the mild spell last week-end the mysterious disappearances of two local residents were solved when the St. Lawrence river gave up two of its victims, who, according to police records have been on the missing list since the winter months. The bodies were taken to the morgue where they were identified by relatives.

On Tuesday at the inquests verdicts of accidental death were returned in both cases.

Robert Finn 1919 Decarie Boulevard discovered one of the bodies on Sunday afternoon while he was walking along LaSalle Boulevard. The body was identified as that of Eugene Lauzon, 37 years old, of 1022 Church avenue. Finn, during his walk observed what appeared to be a body floating in the water below the power house. He called to C. Smith, 4077 LaSalle Boulevard and C. Travers, 4087 LaSalle Boulevard who were out in a boat. The three men investigated and they brought the body ashore.

Immediately the Verdun police were notified of the discovery and Sergeant Detective Liot and Constables Cartier and Aitken conducted further investigations and succeeded in locating the sons of the dead man, Emile and Isidore Lauzon, 1022 Church avenue who identified their father by the clothing which he was wearing when he disappeared from his home during the first week of February.

The sons went to the morgue where the body had been taken and the identification was made.

Two boys, William Griffith and William Messier, found the body of William Dickey, 8 years old, 267 First avenue, while they were in a canoe on the river at the foot of Troy avenue, on Saturday afternoon.

Being a fine day the boys started out for a canoe trip, and as they neared a point opposite Troy avenue, they noticed the body of a boy floating in the river. The boys notified the police and the body was removed to the morgue, where it was later identified by the father of the child, who said he recognized it by the clothing and its general appearance. The case was investigated by Constables Priestly and Gattineau, who located the parents.

Dickey had been reported drowned on January 22, and the police immediately took steps to recover the body. Their efforts proved in vain and the search was given up. It fell to the lot of the local lads to make the discovery, while paddling near the shore on Saturday.

The great choir passing through the assembly hall, entered by the front vestibule and came up the aisles singing a majestic processional hymn, throughout the service they rendered Easter anthems, solos and hymns, and led the congregational singing with great effect. The Rev. Dr. Dobson preached an Easter message, on the subject "Jesus Revealing the Future Life." The Rev. J. P. MacFarlane led the evening service, taking "Easter Gladness" as the subject of his address. The choir again excelled in inspiring Easter music, and a large congregation was present. SPRING SEASON BRINGS BRIGHTNESS TO MEALS

There are so many appetizing dishes that are suitable for use during the present season that no week's menus need be dull or monotonous. Following are suggestions that may help you to add zest to the April meals.

Luncheon Tomatoes

Butter rounds of toast and arrange them in a shallow pan. On each piece of toast place a slice of cheese, then a slice of tomato. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, and a little grated onion and green pepper mixed. Top with grated cheese. Set the pan in a hot oven and bake. Remove when tomatoes are done and the cheese slightly brown. This is a fine dish to serve at luncheon.

Celery Au Gratin

Here is a delicious dish that will add variety to the menu and make a given amount of celery go just twice as far.
Select sound heads of celery, as many as you would ordinarily buy to serve raw. Wash and cut off leaves. Throw away the green or bruised outer stalks and save the circular disc or core at the base of the stalks (a very tender portion when cooked). Save the hearts and tenderest inner stalks to serve raw at another meal. Cut the remaining stalks into pieces three or four inches long and until tender in salted water.

Drain and cover the bottom of a baking dish with the cooked celery. Sprinkle with salt and grated cheese. Cover with another layer of celery. Pour in enough scalded milk to reach to the top of the celery. Salt, cover thickly with grated cheese, and sprinkle buttered bread crumbs on top. Bake about 40 minutes.
Macaroni Supreme
1 cup soft cheese (Canadian).
1-2 cup butter.
1 cup soft bread crumbs.
1 cup cream.
3 eggs.
1-2 teaspoonful salt.
1 package macaroni.
Cream the cheese with the butter. Add the bread crumbs which have been soaked for a few minutes in the cream. Add the eggs, slightly beaten, and the salt. Now add the macaroni which has been cooked until tender in boiling water. Bake in a greased pan 30 minutes in a moderate oven.
For special occasions, pour the following sauce over the macaroni just before serving:
Cream 1 tablespoon of butter with 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1-2 cup of milk and 1-2 cup cream. Cook until thick. Then add 1 cup mushrooms and some of the mushroom juice.

The macaroni is complete without this sauce, which forms only a special treat.
Sandwich de Luxe
1-2 cup ground pickles.
1-2 cup ground celery.
1 teaspoonful chili sauce.
2 hard boiled eggs, chopped.
1 dozen stuffed olives, sliced.
1 teaspoonful minced onion.
2 teaspoonfuls salad dressing.
Chopped nuts may be added. Put between buttered bread. These are delicious for picnics.
