TOP SPEAKERS

No decision on petition until June

A judgement on the petition to block construction of the Westmount Centre project will not be rendered until the middle of June at the earliest, it was predicted Thursday. Both counsel for the city of Westmount and for petitioner, Mrs. Diana Martin, presented written arguments yesterday to Judge Victor Chabot in Magistrate's Court.

The petition, taken in late November, contended that re-zoning to make way for the high rise project was carried out illegally without proper notice to the elector-proprietors.

Meanwhile demolition of the Wood-Elm properties is slowly proceeding but construction cannot begin until the question is settled.

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

May 23 to 31

Sunshine and blue skies this week, afternoons hot and humid. Nights cold with morning valley mists. Temperature range: 40-85°F in the south, 30-75 in the Laurentians, and northern counties. 30-65° for Gaspé and the Gulf.

Continuing pleasant through the weekend, with hot days and cool nights. Heavy dews, even killing frosts for low-lying places.

St. Catherine apartment set

Demolition of two buildings on the south side of St. Catherine street at the foot of Melville avenue began this week to make way for an 8-storey brick apartment building.

It will contain about 50 units and is scheduled for completion by October 1965. Cost is about $850,000. Eight stories is the maximum permitted under current regulations for the area.

Owners of the property and general contractors for the project is the Profile Development Company, 5820 Decarie boulevard. Architect is William Reiter. Long time occupants of the site were J. H. MacIntyre Reg'd., A. C. Houston and Son and A. R. Grafton and Co.

Demolition work has also begun on Sherbrooke street between Mt. Pleasant and Elm for a six-storey office building covering the entire block. Occupancy is set for May 1, 1965. Principal tenants will be the newly-formed Westmount Insurance Company.

Local library's closed shelf conjures up strange visions

"It's on the closed shelf." These words summon up strange visions in the minds of library borrowers as the staff at the Westmount Public Library have found to their surprise when members are invited in to take a look at the closed shelf room.

It is an unpleasant fact that libraries do suffer from theft and the mutilation of books, specially when their stacks are open. And yet open stacks suit a public library, encouraging browsing, new interests, new knowledge.

"To put books of value in special safe-keeping is not a happy solution, but it is a practical one," head librarian, Mrs. Norah Bryant remarked.

She said that there are mainly three kinds of books on the closed shelf.

- Beautifully illustrated and expensive books on such subjects as birds and animals, art costume and jewelry.

- Books on technical subjects — radio and TV repairs, photography, accounting, engineering.

- Books with a special propensity for vanishing — the latest travel guides and those

No one opposes master zoning by-law change

Westmount quietly amended its master zoning by-law Monday night, following a public meeting attended by only one citizen.

Since the introduction of legislation to permit construction of the $20 million Wood-Elm complex, Westmount's zoning by-law amendments have attracted considerable attention from its citizens. An amendment to the city's master zoning by-law to alter the permissible size of apartment dwellings in district C-3, the York-Prince Albert-St. Catherine street area was no exception, but despite the hue and cry, no one cared to oppose the changes.

The single ratepayer who did attend the statutory meeting merely "asked a few questions and then left, registering no opposition," a city official said. Ten protests are required to force a referendum.

The by-law, now approved by council, eliminates the necessity of including a penthouse structure atop a building in the total number of floors. The total floor area of the roof-top structures must be less than 50% of the area of the roof on which they are situated.

$382,419 for Dorchester land

In other business Monday night, council voted payment of $382,419 for seven properties on the north side of Dorchester boulevard required to make way for widening and redevelopment. Payments to proprietors will be made when the decision of the Public Service Board confirming the amounts has been approved by the Superior Court.

Other commitments approved by council were $3,250 to Pierre Louis Falher, tenant at 4083 Tupper, in settlement of claims for damages arising out of the expropriation of his property; $1,790 to C. C. Lindsay and R. J. Lindsay for a survey of the ski trail boundaries in Summit Park; $3,700 for the purchase of 80 wooden poles for the Light and Power Department; $155.42 for a hot water tank for the Glen Power House and $600 to Warnock - Hersey Appraisal Company for services rendered in connection with the expropriation of property at 76 York, bought up several years ago for widening and extension of St. Catherine street west of Victoria.

Former Mayor J. S. Cameron dies at 78

Private funeral services were held yesterday for former Westmount Mayor James Somerville Cameron, who died Tuesday at the Montreal General Hospital.

A Westmount resident most of his life, Mr. Cameron was for many years a member of the Municipal Association Executive. He became Commissioner of Police and Fire in 1947.

Two years later he was elected Mayor by acclamation, succeeding R. P. Adams. He served two terms until 1952. Keenly interested in the Metropolitan Corporation, he was frequently praised for his "good neighborliness" in providing better pavements and wider arterial roadways through Westmount to facilitate the passage of metropolitan traffic.

Mr. Cameron was born in Stellarton, N.S. on May 27, 1886. He received his primary education at Pictou, and his university training at McGill University, from which he graduated, in mechanical engineering, with a B.Sc. degree in 1908.

He joined Northern Electric and Manufacturing Company on February 14, 1910, and when that company was amalgamated with the Imperial Wire and Cable Company to form the Northern Electric Company Ltd., he was appointed superintendent of plant in charge of the construction of the Shearer street building. He became vice-president (manufacture) in 1948 and retired in 1956.

During World War I, Mr. Cameron trained with the McGill COTC, but discontinued his training to take charge of the erection of the fuse loading plant for the British Munitions at King's Park, Verdun.

Mr. Cameron was keenly interested in the affairs of the Canadian Standards Association, on school or college reading lists — T. S. Eliot, Bradley on Shakespeare and St. Thomas Aquinas.

There books circulate in the same way as those on the open shelf but must be asked for at the desk.

Special books are listed

This month the library has issued a list of books of interest on the closed shelf to draw attention to some they believe members will enjoy. There is also a list at the desk

★ The Westmount Division of the Combined Health Appeal and Red Cross raised only about $34,000 in the recent campaign, well short of its $50,000 objective, it was revealed this week. A spokesman at CHA headquarters said that a few more donations may still be received but the figure was "for all intents and purposes, final."

Over 1200 residents, mostly housewives, took part in the campaign as canvassers. Division chairman was Mrs. Pierre Sevigny.

In the overall Montreal area drive a total of $1,855,074 was raised.

Of this amount, $1,620,581.98 is in cash. Individual pledges, donations voted by or recommended to Corporations and pending, and projections of outstanding cards amount to $234,493. 76,746 individual gifts have been turned in.

The individual cards have been estimated at their face value, that is the amount subscribed by the donor last year. "If the increases shown in all other contributions are maintained in these outstanding cards," said chairman J. P. W. Ostiguy, "we will come very close to the 1964 objective."

He urged that all citizens who have not yet been canvassed for some reason or another, to mail in their donation to campaign Headquarters, 390 Craig street west.

"The key to unqualified success is in the hands of those who have not yet turned in their contribution," he said.

More demolition tenders sought

Westmount is this week calling for tenders for demolition of "group six" expropriated properties on Dorchester boulevard. They will be received at City Hall until Friday, May 29.

To date, the City has expropriated 120 properties in the area for widening and development. Buildings on about 100 of these have been demolished. Total amount spent to date on expropriation is $4,729,399.

Annual Financial Campaign Westmount 'Y' seeks $31,000

This week, Westmount YMCA joined with eight other divisions as the Montreal YMCA, launched its 113th Annual Financial Campaign.

This year, the regular Financial Campaign has been combined with a Capitol Fund Drive for Sir George Williams University. The City-Wide total objective is $7,300,000.00.

Westmount Branch has accepted a goal of $31,000.00 ($11,000.00 Annual and $20,000.00 Capitol Drive).

During the period May 18 — June 8, 96 volunteer workers divided into 21 teams, will visit 1,150 Westmount homes and business firms.

At the Westmount Opening Banquet, W. D. Macdonald, of Northern Electric Co. and Chairman of the Westmount Campaign Division this year, stated, "our task has been increased this year with the addition of the Sir George Williams University Capitol Drive — but, with at least 115 local residents attending the Day Division of the University at the present time and many alumni residing in Westmount, I am confident that we will receive the required support from our fellow citizens."

Guest speaker at the Opening, was A. R. McMurrich, General Manager, Eastern Region, Steel Co. of Canada and Vice-Chairman of the Metropolitan Team's Division, "The YMCA doesn't have to apologize in asking for public support," he said. Our record, over the years, has been of the highest calibre. Over 33,000 Montreal residents can vouch for this fact. I urge each of you to tell

We Say

Westmount seen natural leader

FOLLOWING the release of the Westmount Municipal Association brief to the Blier Commission — we would say it affords considerable further tangible evidence to indicate that Westmount is the natural leader around which the other suburban municipalities can cluster to weather the approach of the 'big city'.

Not all suburban municipalities on the island will wish to remain aloof when Jean Drapeau comes courting them, especially those who 'have not' and feel that they stand to gain even while being absorbed.

Pruning away all the verbiage, the target of the brief is close to the avowed first principle of the association "honest and sound administration of the affairs of the City of Westmount." No one, we feel, can quarrel seriously with such a motive.

It is proper, too, we feel, at this time, to hand a bouquet to Mayor Reginald Dawson, for his earnest efforts in carrying the standard of the suburbs through a trying period when the scattered shots of the opposition have been falling without pattern. And perhaps we should remind all, as well, that it was Westmount that took the bit in its teeth many years ago, and left town for the 'heights'.

The brief makes the point that such suburbs should pay for any services gained from the big city, which is well; and also points to the fact that amalgamation is not the way, and that a proper metro organization (given a chance) may well be. We agree.

YOU SAY

One complex only thought sufficient

Sir:—The Annual Spring Meeting of the Westmount Municipal Association revealed a schism in Westmount's citizenry. On the surface, individuals appear to be lined up into two opposing camps; there is that group oriented towards preserving the status quo; in direct opposition is a group in favour of progress, in "keeping up so as not to go under". I would speculate, however, that still a third group exists; a group composed of individuals that sympathize with neither of the views expressed above. I would like to clarify this third position.

To return to "the good old days" is a lovely thought but an unobtainable dream. I am a strong advocate of change and progress; to stand still is to sink. The kind of progress currently practiced by the City of Westmount, however, I find most disturbing. The essence of this dissatisfaction lies in the City's concept of city planning. I contend that valid, progressive city planning involves a far-sighted, schematized and systematic method of development, re-development and expansion. To assume that it is impossible to foresee anything other than the immediate future is not acceptable. Valid city planning in Westmount entails retaining the flavour of the local community within the framework of change. It is not necessary that Westmount become a carbon copy of Montreal.

Westmount is unique inasmuch as it is adjacent to downtown Montreal but is still a residential community. As a residential community, however, it does not resemble the majority of modern suburbs. Although it cannot boast of a true population cross-section, it has its share of the wealthy and not so wealthy, the young and not so young. In other words it is not a contrived suburbia made up only of middle class families with young children. It does not completely isolate its citizens from the realities of life. As citizens, we should make certain that this pattern is continued; some low-cost housing should be available; all older sections of the city should not be demolished. As was mentioned in the meeting, some of these areas have considerable charm. A far-sighted and intelligent scheme of city planning would take this into account.

A more glaring example of lack of foresight is reflected in the Atwater Complex Development. Not that I am against it; on the contrary, it appears to be a logical and necessary move. The Mayor clearly explained the urgency of developing this particular tract of land; the location is such that it hurts the fewest people and; it is relatively distant from most of the residential areas. The same cannot be said for the Elm-Wood Complex Development. This area of the city, while adjacent to small commercial establishments, is distinctly residential in flavour. In addition, to place next to one another two large complexes exhibits the non-existence of any kind of appropriate city planning. I would argue that the situation will be beneficial to neither the citizens of Westmount or to the business men involved in these two proposed ventures.

In retrospect we might ask, therefore, what should have been done? Since it was a known fact that the Metro Station would be constructed on Atwater, it should have been equally obvious that this particular piece of land would demand commercial utilization. To an outsider it appears to be either a case of the council grabbing the first deal that came along, namely the Wood-Elm project, or a matter of excessive greed, neither of which is defensible. Surely one large complex in one small section of the City is sufficient — and the Atwater location would have been the obvious choice. It would then follow that there would have been no need for the Wood-Elm Complex. With some imagination this area could have been re-developed to fit several of the many needs of the community.

We might also question the proposed plans of the Atwater Development to determine whether or not the suggested commercial establishments are suitable to the unique needs of the Community. Perhaps with additional imagination some revision of plans, such as a complete underground shopping center, would prove to be more acceptable to the population as a whole.

The safeguards of any community, city or nation lies in its projected planning. City planning is an enormously complicated and intricate operation. Because Westmount is now involved in a most critical period of change, perhaps we had best call in some additional expert help before it is too late.

Mrs. Arlene Bruck

Says apartments no solution

Sir: We read a great deal in The Examiner in regard to various projects and their effect on the "tax base."

Perhaps some of your readers are not aware of the fact that while industrial and commercial developments (where they are desirable and compatible with the rest of the community) do indeed enlarge the tax base without causing a strain on resources and services this is not true of large apartments.

If the tax base is enlarged by the construction of many high density apartment houses the result will be that more schools, libraries, pools and tennis courts will have to be built just to maintain the "status quo."

This is obviously a complicated subject and requires a good deal of study, but if someone were to guess that the proposed residential projects will immediately lower the standard of certain facilities in Westmount I don't

Hon. C. M. Drury

Your MP reports from Ottawa

OTTAWA — Some weeks ago Canada agreed to take on a particularly difficult and delicate task, at the request of the Secretary General of the United Nations. By unanimous consent, the House of Commons authorized the government to assign Canadian troops to a UN peace-keeping force on the island of Cyprus.

This is a thankless task and in order to carry on as directed, members of our contingent — the famed "Van Doos" — have to display a considerable amount of patience and self-restraint. Placed in the middle of budding civil war, our men are there to keep the peace, not to impose it. There is a body of neutral men at whom neither side wants or dares to shoot, because of the consequences in terms of world opinion.

Special to The Examiner

This is not the first time Canada has undertaken a tough job on behalf of the United Nations. So far, it has contributed greatly to avert a full-scale civil war and this should be quite enough to rate it as a worthy accomplishment. In view of all this, I feel that it is unfortunate that part of the opposition in the House should make use of the difficult situation for purely political reasons. Embarrassing the government in touchy domestic situations is considered a fair game in our parliamentary system. Catching a minister off-base in normal, every-day business is routine procedure.

What is not routine procedure however is using a matter that involves our country's prestige on the international scene to make it appear that the government is not doing its job properly. There is too much at stake and the opposition, as the secretary of state for external affairs, Mr. Martin, pointed out last week, would do itself more credit by helping the government in a situation such as this.

New rules

In the House, we are now proceeding with a six-week experiment in new parliamentary procedure. This is an attempt to find ways of speeding up the work of the House and force members to exercise a little more self-restraint.

Specifically, the Speaker is now empowered to limit the daily question period; in exchange, we get three half-hour periods — after ten o'clock at night — for brief debate on matters that members consider pressing. If this fairly limited experiment think they would be far from wrong.

I have always been opposed to suburbs fencing out city people who need living space, but where is there an apartment shortage anywhere on the Island?

succeeds, it will be followed by other changes to make the house more effective in dealing with the nation's business.

Since the beginning of the present session, the question period has averaged 48 minutes. Since we adopted the new rules, it has been shortened considerably and there has been a marked tendency to make this period more productive. I can only hope that this will keep up and that with everybody's co-operation we will succeed in putting an end to the waste of time that was all too prevalent during recent months.

Miss Gross wins Wilson scholarship

Janice Marion Gross, Lexington avenue, a senior student at McGill has been awarded a Woodrow Wilsonscholarship for graduate study in the academic year 1964-65.

Purpose of the award is to encourage talented undergraduates to give serious consideration to careers in college teaching. "We do not ask them to promise they will become university professors, but if they take our award we expect them to use a year of graduate study in anticipation of continuing to teaching careers," commented Sir Hugh Taylor, the Foundation's president, in making today's announcement. "Past experience indicates that most Woodrow Wilson Fellows complete their doctoral programs and enter the academic profession, so we believe the able young Canadians elected in this year's competition will eventually provide significant relief for Canada's faculty shortage problem," Sir Hugh said.

Altogether a total of 1507 Fellows have been elected from approximately 11,000 candidates nominated by faculty members throughout the United States and Canada. Each Fellow will receive a stipend of $1,800 plus dependency allowances and tuition costs at the university he attends. Of this year's group of Canadian Woodrow Wilson Fellows, 69 are in the humanities or social Sciences, while 24 awards have been made to students in the natural sciences.

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, with headquarters in Princeton, New Jersey, administers its fellowship program through a $27,500,000 five-year grant from the Ford Foundation.

WHS speaker to compete in Boston

Tova Wisenthal, 17, a tenth grade student at Westmount High School will travel to Boston on July 5 to represent Montreal at the eastern Seaboard Finals of the Knights of Pythias public speaking contest. Miss Wisenthal won the first annual Montreal final public speaking contest held recently at Sir Winston Churchill High School.

Speaking on "The Changing Face of English and French Canada from 1864 to 1964", she defeated six other competitors from Montreal, four of them boys. She received a gold medal and a certificate of merit.

The contest, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias in conjunction with the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal was held over a nine-months period.

WHS honors graduates, veterans of two wars, with special cabinet

By DAVID SMITH

Westmount High School has a fine record of service in both world wars. Many Westmount graduates have fought and died for their country. To honor both those who came back from and those who died in both wars, the school has placed two plaques and a memorial cabinet in the foyer.

Howard Atwood of the English department, is in charge of the memorial cabinet. The cabinet contains photographs of those who died in World War Two, and a book of remembrance containing the names of all Westmount students who served. The cabinet is directly below the World War Two plaque.

J. D. Lawley, former vice-principal, originally obtained the photographs from the families of the boys who died. There are twenty-six trays, each containing three or four photographs. Two trays are displayed each week. By this system of rotation, all trays are on view twice during the school year. The cabinet contains 115 pictures.

The book of remembrance is placed between the two trays of photographs. It lists the names of the 1400 graduates who served. A page is turned each time the trays are changed.

On the wall, over the memorial cabinet, is a bronze plaque bearing the names of the 140 former students who died in World War Two. A plaque on the other side of the foyer lists the names of all graduates who served and all who died in World War One.

Three teachers gave lives

Three Westmount High School teachers also gave their lives in the Second World War. Their names are inscribed on a plaque in the teachers' common room; and every year the Teachers' Memorial Prize is given, in memory of Squadron Leader Leslie Meeag, DFC, Lieutenant Rugh Gall, and Lieutenant Kenneth Simms, to the boy and girl in grades nine and ten who in the opinion of their teachers and schoolmates have done the most for the school.

Through the plaques, the memorial cabinet, and the Teachers' Memorial Prize all those Westmount students and teachers who fought, and those who died in both world wars are remembered and honored.

6 Revive 'Metro' to solve Island problems urges Municipal Association

The following brief was presented Monday to the Blier Committee by the Westmount Municipal Association, WMA past president J. H. Richer was the signer. He was accompanied by his successor R. L. Hunter and association members Richard Stevenson, Charles Aspler, Mrs. Helga Malloy, Arthur Minnion, Walter Eversfield, Mrs. Phyllis Lee Peterson, Martin Collier and G. H. Hobbs.

The Blier Committee headed by the Quebec Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, Camille Blier, was set up to study Montreal Island inter-municipal problems for a report to be made by October 31. Members are Montreal executive committee chairman Lucien Saulnier, and Mayor R. L. P. Dawson representing the suburbs.

The brief was read by J. H. Richer:

Study Commission of Intermunicipal Problems on the Island of Montreal, Sirs,

The following brief is submitted to you by the Westmount Municipal Association (hereinafter referred to as the "Association"), a non-profit organization which has been in existence since 1908 and has a present membership of some two thousand residents, property owners and persons carrying on business or practising a profession in the City of Westmount.

The principal objectives of the Association are:

1. to ensure honest and sound administration of the affairs of the City of Westmount; and

2. to act as a public sounding board for the citizens of Westmount and to provide liaison between them and their elected representatives on the City Council.

The first objective mentioned above is achieved by nominating for civic office candidates with the necessary qualities of integrity, experience and competence. In this connection it should be noted that the Mayor and Councillors of the City of Westmount serve without remuneration.

The second objective mentioned above is achieved primarily through the work of an executive committee, composed of some fifty members, which holds regular monthly meetings throughout the year, except for the months of July and August. The members of the executive committee are also grouped into a number of sub-committees charged with the study of questions relating to various phases of the civic administration, upon which they report to the executive committee at its regular monthly meetings. The Association also holds two general meetings each year, which are open to all citizens of Westmount who wish to attend.

Annexation is no solution

On behalf of its members, and by extension, on behalf of the citizens of Westmount, the Association wishes to record with you its strong belief that the City of Westmount should retain its autonomy. We appreciate of course that the interdependence of municipalities in a large metropolitan area such as that of the Island of Montreal and its environs necessitates some form of metropolitan organization to deal with problems of general concern to all residents of such area.

We also recognize that certain projects undertaken by one municipality within the confines of its own jurisdiction may be of a metropolitan character and of benefit to other municipalities in the metropolitan area. This is well exemplified by such projects as the subway, major traffic interchanges, the approaches to the Champlain Bridge, and a number of the projects undertaken by the City of Montreal for the purposes of Expo. 1967, all of which are or will be of benefit to the residents of other municipalities in the Montreal metropolitan area, and it is our belief that all municipalities in the area should contribute to the costs of such projects on an equitable basis. The City of Westmount is in complete agreement with the principle of fair apportionment of the costs of such projects and does not wish to benefit therefrom at the expense of others. However, we do not agree that the preservation of the independence of the smaller municipalities in the Montreal metropolitan area in any way precludes the development of truly metropolitan projects and services in an orderly manner or the equitable apportionment of the costs of such projects and services.

Problems of common concern

It is the opinion of the Association that in principle some form of metropolitan authority is the best means of dealing with matters and problems of common concern to all the municipalities in the metropolitan area. It is true that the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation, as reorganized by the Act 8-9 Elizabeth II, Chapter 106 (Statutes of Quebec 1959-60) did not meet with the success expected of it, but it must be admitted that the Corporation was never given a chance to function effectively, even within the scope of the limited powers conferred upon it, because of the strong opposition of the City of Montreal and its refusal to cooperate with the other municipalities represented on the Council of the Corporation.

On the other hand, we concede that there may have been some justice in the claim of the City of Montreal that its representation on the Council of the Corporation was not commensurate with its relative size and importance in comparison to the other municipalities represented on that Council. We submit, therefore, that the Corporation might be revived on such a basis that it could function usefully and effectively if, on the one hand, the composition of its Council were reorganized in such a manner that the representation thereon of the City of Montreal and the other municipalities of the Montreal metropolitan area respectively were more in accordance with their relative size and

Group hits annexation

(Continued from page 6) importance, both as to population and property valuation, and on the other hand, the powers and functions of the Corporation were carefully defined in such a manner as to protect the smaller municipalities against any improper interference in their local affairs.

Appended hereto as a schedule to this brief is a list of subjects of general metropolitan concern prepared by the City of Westmount some years ago as part of a brief submitted by the City of the Legislature of the Province. In the opinion of the Association this list is still valid as an indication of the main areas which might properly come within the jurisdiction of a properly constituted metropolitan authority.

Promote orderly growth

One of the principal arguments of the City of Montreal against the creation of a metropolitan authority having an overriding jurisdiction in matters of common concern to all municipalities in the Montreal metropolitan area is that such an authority would in effect constitute an additional level of government entailing not only additional costs but also unnecessary duplication of effort and services. We do not deny that the operation of such a metropolitan authority would cost money, but we believe that the primary functions of such an organization should be those of planning and control with a view to promoting the orderly growth of the metropolitan area as a whole and that it should not concern itself with matters of purely local concern. On this basis, we consider that the operating costs of such a body should not be excessive, and, if properly shared among the municipalities concerned, would be fully justified by the advantages gained, particularly if the only alternative to the creation of such an authority were the forceful deprivation of the autonomy of a large number of municipalities that have enjoyed independence for many years.

Further, notwithstanding the evident complexity of the problems inherent in the growth of the Montreal metropolitan area, we do not accept the theory that annexation offers the only or even the best solution to such problems. We submit that centralization of government is not in itself a guarantee of greater efficiency and economy and we do not believe that the alleged advantages of such centralization are any real substitute for the positive advantages of local autonomy.

In our opinion it is of prime importance that a municipality be administered by an elected council which understands and can properly interpret the requirements of its citizens in order to provide the character of municipal living and the type of municipal services that best suit the needs of the community and it is our contention that this vital element in responsible municipal government is to a large extent vitiated by over-centralization of government in a large and heavily populated area such as that of the Island of Montreal. Moreover, we maintain that it is the inalienable right of an independent municipality to retain its autonomy so long as it does not do so at the expense of neighboring municipalities.

'A financial burden ?'

The City of Montreal has claimed on numerous occasions in support of its arguments in favor of annexation that because of the autonomy of the other municipalities in the Montreal metropolitan area, the City of Montreal has had to bear a heavy financial burden which would be eliminated if such municipalities were brought under its administration. We submit, however, that this is a claim which should not be accepted unless proven by facts and figures. If, for example, the fact that the City of Westmount exercises independent control of its own police and fire protection services, the construction and maintenance of its own local streets, its parks and recreation facilities, garbage collection and snow clearing within the territorial limits of the municipality and other essentially local matters imposes a financial burden upon the City of Montreal, then it should be possible to establish the existence of such burden and the dollar amount thereof by factual evidence.

If, however, it cannot be conclusively established that any such financial burden in fact exists, we fail to see why the citizens of Westmount should not be entitled to continue to exercise the free democratic choice of paying for the type and quality of local services which they deem appropriate for their needs so long as an acceptable minimum standard of service is provided.

Moreover, despite the allegations of the City of Montreal that the unification of all the municipalities on the Island of Montreal under one central municipal government would in itself ensure greater efficiency of administration, we maintain (and we consider this to be particularly well exemplified by the record of the City of Westmount) that local services can be provided by smaller municipalities under the direction of their own elected councils at low cost and with a high degree of efficiency and it is our firm opinion that when an organization becomes too big, contact with the individual and with individual requirements, which we hold to be of vital importance in the case of municipal organizations, cannot be effectively maintained.

On the other hand, we believe that for every truly metropolitan service that is provided by the City of Montreal to the benefit of neighboring municipalities in the metropolitan area, a proper apportionment of cost can be established and that every municipality wishing to retain its independence should pay its fair share of the cost of such services.

We recommend therefore that your Commission endeavor, with the help of all the expert staff required, to ascertain the truth or untruth of the City of Montreal's claim that the existence of the other independent municipalities on the Island of Montreal imposes on it a financial burden and also to evaluate and establish a fair apportionment of the costs of those services of a truly metropolitan character now provided by the City of Montreal among the municipalities of the metropolitan area which benefit from such services.

Summarize views

To summarize the views expressed in this brief, the Association maintains:

(a) that annexation by the City of Montreal of the other municipalities on the Island of Montreal does not offer the only or the best solution of the intermunicipal problems of the area and that no municipality should be force-

Obituary

Dr. A. W. McClelland

Funeral services were held this week for Dr. A. W. McClelland, Aberdeen avenue, widely known orthodontist, who retired from practice in 1961.

Dr. McClelland was the first dentist in the Province of Quebec to limit his practice to orthodontia. He had studied under Dr. J. Lowe Young, of New York, and Dr. Ben Lischer, of St. Louis, in this specialty, and he became associated in Montreal with the late Dr. James B. Morison.

Born in Cantley, Que., he was the son of Elizabeth Kerr and Sifton McClelland. He was educated in Quebec schools, and graduated from Granby Academy to McGill in 1910. He obtained his degree in dentistry from McGill in 1914, was appointed associate professor of or-thodontia in 1922 and full professor in 1924.

He retired from McGill in 1948, continuing in private practice.
He was a member of the American Association and of the Northeastern Society of Orthodontists, an honorary member of the Quebec Association of Orthodontists, and a member of the International College of Dentistry.

He was a member of Stanley Presbyterian Church.

His wife, the former Florence
Kent, of Granby, predeceased him in 1951. He is survived by his daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. W.
D. Taylor, and his son, Kent, of New York; and by three grandchildren.

MAKING arrangements in advance relieves the family of having to resolve many problems at the Former Mayor . . .

(Continued from page 1) and was vice-president of this organization from 1933 to 1947. He was a life member of the Engineering Institute of Canada; a member of the Institute of Electrical Engineers; and of the Professional Engineers of the Province of Quebec. He was a member of the University Club of Montreal; Royal Montreal Golf Club; a life member of the Telephone Pioneers of America; an Officer of the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem.

He was at one time honorary treasurer of the McGill War Memorial campaign; a member of the Board of Governors of Sir George Williams College (now University), and the Montreal General Hospital.

Mr. Cameron was married in 1911 to the former Kate Church Lawrence who predeceased him in 1953. He is survived by his three daughters, Olive (Mrs. Samuel Morrison); Elizabeth (Mrs. Neil S. McKechnie); and Miss Katharine L. Cameron, and four grandchildren.

Spring is a beautiful season, as everyone agrees, but for sport its the worst of the tour. Summer sports won't be in full swing before late May, winter sports are a thing of the past and in the fall, at least, there is good hunting and fishing.—Rouyn-Noranda (Que.) Press.

Airlines have safest year, Maple Leaf Wing is told

The airlines of the world had their safest year on record, last year, Ross Smyth, head of TCA's speakers' Bureau told the members of the RCAF Association 306 Maple Leaf Wing meeting in Westmount recently.

"The fatality rate was less than one per cent per million passenger miles, while the fatality rate was three times as high in automobiles. Cars were involved in 46,000 casualties in North America alone last year," Mr. Smyth said.

He also emphasized that the need for safety belts in automobiles had been well proven by the very small incidence of death or serious injury in non-catastrophic aircraft accidents, even where extremely rapid deceleration was experienced.

The speaker stated that nearly three million passengers moved through Montreal International Airport last year; 7,000 people were employed at the airport; and there were nearly 500 landings and takeoffs each day, or more than one every three minutes.

There are 14 scheduled carriers including 11 international airlines at Dorval, he said.

LCC cadets told:

Military discipline an 'acquired taste'

Military discipline is like learning to like the taste of olives — it is acquired. That, in effect, is the belief of Brig. Claude Prieur, ED, Commander, 10 Militia Group in Montreal, as he addressed the assembled cadets of Lower Canada College at the annual inspection last Friday.

"Those who acquire a taste of self-discipline are the ones who will make a success of their lives," he told the 200 cadets on parade.

The cadet corps is affiliated with the Royal Montreal Regiment. The boys gave a demonstration of drill, first aid, signals and rifle team competitions, followed by a gym display.

Cadet awards

Chief cadet awards went to: Stephen B. Lyman, the PQRA Shooting Medal; Cadet Major D. Ross Peebles, Mathewson Shooting Trophy; Cadet Sgt. Walter Maughan, Chief Instructor's Cane; Cadet Major Peebles, the Strathcona Medal.

The Royal Montreal Regiment Cup went to No. 1 Platoon, led by Cadet Lieut. Alan Gratias.

Signal certificates went to S. J. Bonny, T. M. Denton, I. S. Fraser, and J. B. Neale.

First aid certificates went to D. A. Johnson, R. W. Clarke, J. D. Cageorge, R. G. Howard, P. A. Low-Beer, J. P. Lang and R. B. Tucker.

Gym trophies

Gym trophies went to those boys who had earned gym awards consistently over the past four years: C. M. Drury, W. L. Lindsay, P. S. Martin, T. G. Rapoch, R. G. Wright.

ides, T. Asselin, N. G. Deakin, J. Ebbitt, A. R. K. Jurczynski, W. E. Norrish, R. C. Perowne, I. G. Price and J. R. Wright.

Text of Mayor's address to WMA

Finally, the efficacy of voluntary systems at the district and regional levels could be assured by the creation of an overall, non-political authority under Provincial jurisdiction exercising what I shall describe as the prerogatives of an impartial arbitration board. Such an authority, with a more limited function, already exists in Quebec. An example is the Quebec Public Service Board. This authority might have the power to order any municipality, in the Montreal Region or elsewhere, to cooperate with another municipality or a group of municipalities on any project left unsolved by negotiations at the district and regional levels.

These suggestions follow in general terms the brief submitted by your organization to the Blier Commission on Intermunicipal problems and I know will be given most serious consideration by that commission.

This question of annexation is not entirely new and I quote from a letter from legal representatives for the municipality of the Village of Verdun to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Town of Westmount.

"You are doubtless aware that the bill to amend the Charter of Montreal, which lately passed the Private Bills Committee of the Legislative Assembly, contains certain clauses which enact that outlying municipalities may, under certain conditions, be annexed to the City of Montreal in spite of, and contrary to, the wishes of their municipal councils, and possibly those of the majority of the residents.

Our clients are strenuously opposed to these parts of the bill and we understand that their feelings are shared by most of the municipalities surrounding the city.

We think that the best way to oppose the bill would be for all the interested municipalities to join together and send a large delegation to Quebec.

In the case of your Municipal Council holding a meeting before that date, we would suggest that a resolution be passed there at condemning the principle of annexation against the wishes of the council of the municipality to be annexed."

It will interest you to know the date of that letter is 1906 and despite that threat we have successfully staved off this bogey for 58 years.

In this pattern of changing times your Council has tried to keep the citizens informed by News Letters (six since this time last year), press releases, and contact with your executive and chairmen of your committees.

Sometimes we achieve success — sometimes we fail. We only hope our successes exceed our failures. We welcome interest by your committee chairmen and will try and answer their every query.

I would like here to thank in public the very loyal hard working and devoted staff of the City of Westmount without them the city would not run — with them it makes a hard job run a little easier.

Your association is of great assistance to us and we look forward to the future with the expectation that we can work more closely together than ever in the mutual interest of your city — The City of Westmount.

*Westmount 'Y' . . .

your story and we will reach our objective."

Canvassing techniques

Twelve canvassers presented skits at the Banquet, showing some of the techniques of canvassing. Assisting in this briefing of canvassers included: Wm. Abbot, H. Brotman, B. Clarke, R. O. Huntington, Mrs. W. D. Macdonald, Miss M. MacBrearty, Mrs. Wm. McCrudden, H. C. Nourse, R. F. Powell, C. Reckitt, D. Rennie and R. E. Watt.

Commenting on the reasons for a Spring Campaign, G. L. Welton, Executive Secretary of the Westmount Branch, said, "There are several reasons why our Campaign dates have been changed to the Spring:

- The fiscal year of the Montreal YMCA and Sir George Williams University have been changed to terminate on May 31.

- The YMCA Maintenance Appeal and the Sir George Williams University Building Fund are being run concurrently by the same canvassing organization in order to conserve volunteer leadership resources. Separate subscription cards are being used.

- Future annual appeals will take place in the Spring to better suit yearly program planning."

"This will be the only appeal in 1964," Mr. Welton said.

Pipe smokers rally tonight

The pipe smoking rally at Victoria Hall on Friday, May 22, will appeal to tyros and veterans, according to E. M. Elimeleck, president of the Pipe and Tobacco Council of Canada. A non-profit organization, the Council is sponsoring the event, the first of its kind in Canada. An internationally known pipe smoker, Commander R. H. Stokes-Rees, will deliver a short talk on the art and pleasure of pipe smoking. After his remarks, the audience will participate in a question and answer period led by Clifford E. Minshull of Imperial Tobacco, Eric Huebner of R&H Products and Commander Stokes-Rees. There will be a display of antique pipes and a display showing the various stages of the manufacture of a pipe.

Competition strong in St. Leo's Spring Tennis Tournaments

St. Leo's Spring tennis tournaments are now underway, with some fine competition in evidence on the local Westmount courts, in both the junior and senior sections.

Bernard Pennee, has retired from competition due to the exacting demands of his graduating year exams, leaving the field open to succeed him as perennial senior champion. Philip Erney, former junior champion two years ago and now senior performer is expected to make a strong bid for top honors but will receive strong competition from players like Mike Radoman, Paul Stubbs, Pat Fennell, Richard McNally, Ken Hamilton and Reid Sherriffs.

In the junior division, look for the Fernandes brothers, Desio and Neil to be strong threats for the junior school tennis crown. Albert Gadbois who made a good showing last year in junior, could also make things interesting for the opposition.

An upset is possible and if it was to materialize it would come from one of the following: Paul Petit, Dave McKinnon, Dalton Barnoff, Richard Porteous, Derek Murphy, Paul Salvatore, Chris, Tokarski, William Lemieux, Sigmund Stosik, John Callaghan, Paul Boucher or Mike Young.

WMA brief . . .

fully deprived of its autonomy in matters which are properly of local concern;

(b) that on the other hand, some form of properly constituted metropolitan authority having clearly defined powers and functions is the best method of dealing with problems of common concern to all municipalities in the Montreal metropolitan area; and

(c) that the cost of services of a truly metropolitan character now provided by the City of Montreal can and should be appropriately apportioned among the municipalities which benefit from such services and each municipality so benefitted should pay its fair share of such cost.

Finally, in view of certain statements reported in the press in recent months suggesting that many residents of the City of Westmount and other municipalities on the Island of Montreal are in favor of annexation by the City of Montreal, we wish to place on record with you the fact that the results of a survey conducted by the Association during the past month indicate that in fact an overwhelming majority of the residents of the City of Westmount are opposed to annexation. The aforesaid survey, which took the form of a questionnaire mailed to all householders in the City of Westmount inviting them to complete and return to the Association a ballot constituting a vote either for or against annexation, has established conclusively that the citizens of Westmount are keenly interested in the future of their community and of the replies received up to the 23rd April last, approximately 97.4% were opposed to annexation by the City of Montreal.

Respectfully submitted,
 Westmount Municipal Association

Health Services should be divided into two fields — local and general, the local service having jurisdiction over those matters which are principally local as of now, and the Metropolitan Authority having jurisdiction over the larger field such as food inspection with also authority to co-ordinate the local Health Services in case of emergency or epidemics.
12. Establishment of minimum standards in By-laws governing common problems such as the control of dogs, sanitary control of barber shops laundries, food establishments, store closing hours, maintenance of property, street frontages, nuisances, morals, decency and good order, licensing of gasoline stations.
