MONTREAL, 1st August, 1894.

To the Anchor Medicine Co.

It is with great pleasure that I testify to the really astonishing and beneficent effects your ANCHOR WEAKNESS CURE has produced on myself and in my own family. One of my children, especially, was suffering from Great Debility, and after having tried several other tonics without any good results, I bought a bottle of ANCHOR CURE and it has given me complete satisfaction. In a few weeks my child gained strength and weight, and is now enjoying entire good health. I can well understand the popularity and the large sale your excellent tonic is meeting with wherever it has been in use for some time, because it certainly deserves them, and I consider it my duty to the public, now that there are so many quackish medicines, to publish my own experience. Yours truly,

GEO. BROWNE, Traveller for Messrs. Crathern & Caverhill. 187s 3

REAL ESTATE FIRM.

VALUES FOR THE MONTH OF JULY WELL MAINTAINED.

In a Dull Month Over Half a Million Dollars Worth of Property Changed Hands—No Change in Real Estate Mortgage Loans.

The month of July is seldom an active one in real estate and the transactions recorded show that the past month has been no exception to the general rule. Most of the properties disposed of says Simpson's Real Estate Record were of moderate price but of good grade, with a fair proportion of building lots at prices that do not indicate any general decline in values; on the contrary, for the better class of properties, values are being maintained in a manner that speaks well for the previous character of the market and its present general stability. There is no speculation at all, and but a limited demand at present for business and residence properties, so that if any one is forced to realize quickly the result is usually very unsatisfactory.

The renting season usually commences about the middle of August for houses to be occupied in September and October, and an improvement in the number of enquiries gives promise of more activity next month.

There is no change in real estate mortgage loans, the current rates being from five and a half to six per cent., with a few choice ones at five per cent. where the borrower and the margin are both satisfactory. The real estate transfers during the month of July in Maisonneuve, Mile End, St. Henri and Montreal Junction amounted to about $16,000, of which about $33,000 was contributed by St. Henri.

There were 130 real estate transfers in the city wards and in Cote St. Antoine recorded at the registry offices during the month, as follows:

St. Antoine Ward	13	$1.7,927 43
St. Ann's Ward	8	53,415 00
St. James Ward	18	69,705 45
St. Louis Ward	6	25,810 00
St. Lawrence Ward	7	37,309 45
St. Mary's Ward	16	62,973 24
East Ward	1	4,894 00
St. Jean Baptiste Ward	23	37,920 25
St. Denis Ward	21	115,085 00
St. Gabriel Ward	4	8,618 00
Hochelaga Ward	2	40 00
Cote St. Antoine	11	33,164 07
	130	$59 ,661 89

The real estate mortgage loans recorded during the month of July in the registration division of Montreal West amounting to $193,805.57. Of this amount, $4607.87 was placed at 4 per cent., $35,000 at 4½ per cent., $74,195 at 5 per cent., $38,500 at 5½ per cent., $11,040 at 6 per cent., $10,345.70 at 7 per cent., and $20,117 at a nominal rate.

In Montreal East the loans recorded amount to $105,332. Of this amount $24,000 was placed at 5½ per cent., $64,006 at 6 per cent., $2000 at 6½ per cent., $6200 at 7 p. cent., $400 at 7½ per cent., $175 at 12 p. c., $2051 at 8 per cent., and $6500 at a nominal rate.

A Hint to Travellers.

All persons going on a journey, and therefore subject to changes of diet, should carry with them a box of Hawker's liver pills, which are a prompt and most effective regulator of the liver and stomach. All druggists sell them, 25 cents a box.

Quality should always govern the price, but it don't in pianos, as there are makes the factory cost being half that of Heintzman, and which are retailed for as much and in some instances more than Mr. C. W. Lindsay, 2268 to 2272 St. Catherine st., sells these celebrated pianos for.

The Week's Happenings At Summer Resorts.

THE RUSH OF CITY PEOPLE TO THE SEASIDE CONTINUES.

What Montreal Holiday Seekers Are Doing to Amuse Themselves.

Lake Champlain has commanded a larger share of Montreal summer patronage this year than ever before perhaps. Rouses Point, Plattsburgh, Highgate Springs and Burlington have all had their share of summer visitors from Montreal. Philipsburg has probably had more Montreal families stopping there this year than ever before in its history, and Missisquoi Bay, one of the most picturesque parts of the lake, has been lively all season with pleasure craft. There are many picturesque bits of scenery around Lake Champlain, but few, if any, are more effective than the view of the lake from Philipsburg. Quite a feature of the scenery is the old block house on the brush-covered bluff on the bay front, which adds a delicious air of romance to the neighborhood, and is a favorite playground for the younger generation of holiday seekers.

Stewart, Miss G. Stewart, Miss R. Perant. Rev. Edmund Wood has camping with him: S. Dugan, W. Dugar, H. A. R. D. McLeod, L. Nash, W. A. Court, L. A. Court, D. Helmsley, G. Helmsley, H. Wotherspoon, A. Cleveland, H. Gibb, E. Gibb, G. Seekings, H. Lamplough, G. Smith, P. Wardill, W. Henders, J. Harbeson.

At the Champlain House—Mrs. E. Ranch, Mrs. M. Witmack, Mr. E. W. Sohmer, Mr. Bruce Savage, Mrs. Savage, Miss Ida Savage, Miss Madge Savage, Harold Savage, Mrs. T. Vittie, Miss Given Vittie, Mrs. C. H. Pollock, Mr. H. C. Hill, Mr. David Matheson, Mrs. Matheson and child; Mrs. Lewis A. Street, Mr. R. Street.

Among the recently arrived guests at the Lake View House were: E. A. Gerth, Mrs. Gerth, Miss Ollie Gerth, Miss Freda Gerth, and three children; Mr. W. E. Burgess, Mrs. Burgess.

OLD ORCHARD BEACH.

The season is now at its height and will remain so during the coming two weeks. The weather has been simply perfect, and the social events which cater to the amusement of the sojourners were both numerous and varied. There has been on an average of two fulldress balls an evening, not taking into consideration the numerous informal hops, euchre, and whist parties at the various hotels and cottages. Although the hotels are all crowded to their fullest capacity there does not seem to be near as many people at the Beach as during past seasons. The piazza of the "big hotel on the hill" presents a gay and festive appearance during the progress of the semi-daily out-door concert. An interesting group of Montrealers seated there include Chief Hughes, C. A. Geoffrion, Q. C., ex-Ald. Gauthier and Tansey, James Cochrane and Emanuel St. Louis, who are discussing the future destiny of Canada when the two latter shall monopolize all the Government and municipal patronage.

The arrival of the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Casgrain, Attorney-General of Quebec, has been hailed with general pleasure by all the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Casgrain participate in all the festivities at the Beach, and have now many friends from amongst the American sojourners at the Beach. The local paper publishes the following this a. m.: "The Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, Attorney-General of the Legislature of the province of Quebec, Can., is a guest at the Old Orchard House, and is accompanied by his charming and accomplished wife. Mr. Casgrain is one of the youngest members of the Cabinet, and is as unpretentious as he is talented and urbane. 'Noblesse oblige' is no reminder for our welcome visitor."

The number of French Canadian guests at the Beach this season is on the increase. They are a most desirable class, and add in a great measure to the success of the present season. The dress and general deportment of the ladies are such as to reflect credit on any nationality — which is more than can be said of many others. Considerable jealousy on the part of those who should know better and who should not poison those moments of sunshine which might otherwise be consecrated to happiness has led to some ill-feeling between a certain section who, as Cæsar says: "are never at their hearts' ease when they behold a greater than themselves."

There was a heavy surf and undertow the other day which nearly claimed a victim in the person of Mr. Rankin Davidson, of Ottawa. When bathing he was carried out beyond his depth and on the point of sinking for the third time, when his companions, Mr. John Macdonald, Kingston, Ont., and Dr. Scott, Ottawa, who had lost sight of him and who heard him shriek, plunged to the rescue and after gallantly battling with the waves rescued him. Mr. Davidson was laid on the beach, when after a half hour he regained consciousness.

The first grand concert of the season was held on Sunday evening last at the Old Orchard House, and attracted numerous guests from the other hotels. The hotel orchestra played on the piazza until 9 o'clock, when an adjournment was made for the concert hall. The following were the principal items on the programme participated in by Canadians: Miss Eva Thivierge, of Montreal, sang "Villanelle" very acceptably. Miss de Lorimier, of Dakota, who is related to the de Lorimiers of Montreal, recited the "Confession," and was compelled to render several encores before the audience were satisfied. Her recitations are worthy of a professional. Mandolin and vocal numbers made up the balance of the programme, but the "piece de resistance" was a song by Walter J. Joseph, "Let me like a soldier fall." Mr. Joseph's powerful voice was never heard to better advantage, and he amused the guests to their hearts' content.

A resident physician who was watching the ladies bathing the other morning spoke very strongly against the custom of the fashionable women bathing in tight-laced corsets. To ensure any benefit from salt water bathing a person's body must be entirely free from any compression in order to give the lungs free scope to act. The doctor, therefore, thought that it was most detrimental to health to bathe in corsets.

A very unique idea to secure the autograph of her gentlemen friends was hit upon by a well known Montreal lady. She invited her numerous friends and admirers to inscribe their names in pencil on a linen square, from which she worked them out in different colored silk. The effect of this souvenir when completed was indeed pretty. Other ladies have taken up this idea, with Mr. Chas. McIntyre's name as a centre-piece.

Amid the scene of the wildest excitement and enthusiasm the Canadians with many drawbacks to contend with defeated the Americans at a baseball game yesterday afternoon. After the close of the game the Hon. Mr. Casgrain mounted a chair, and proposed three cheers and a tiger for Canada, which was responded to with a will. Miss Lionais, of Montreal, provided the Canadian players and their friends with their national colors, whilst the Americans were decorated with tiny United States flags. Albert Pagnuelo, of Montreal, and Geo. P. Chick were both struck by the ball during the game and disabled for a short time. Mr. Geo. McClure, who was to have played, was struck on Saturday last whilst practising for the game and badly hurt. The attending doctor advised Mr. McClure to leave for home, as he thought that he might be confined to his bed. Mr. McClure left on Sunday evening accompanied by Mr. E. Hutchinson, much to the regret of the guests.

Pink Ball.

Unquestionably the event of the season was the "Pink Ball" held on Tuesday evening last. The printing, from the delicate invitation card to the heavy programme with its silken ribbons, the decorations, the stage, the pots of palms and bunting, together with the costumes, were pink in color. The entire arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. E. C. Staples and Mr. G. P. Chick, who deserve the praise lavished on them for the unqualified success of the party. The only drawback to the success was the music and the short intermission between the dances. Among the Canadians, Misses Burnham, of Port Hope, Ont., were conceded to have been the belles of the evening, and the American belle was Mrs. Robinson, of Detroit, Mich. She wore pink satin with point lace and diamonds. She is one of the rarest of blondes and wore her hair in Marie Antoinette style. Miss Burnham wore pale blue net, with pink satin trimmings. The richest dress of the evening was a Parisian gown worn by Mrs. Coolican, of Montreal. It was of a rich, pink, heavy brocaded silk, with green velvet and pearl trimmings.

Miss Cleghorn, of Montreal, looked dainty in her becoming costume of a soft pink silk material.

Mrs. M. E. Davis wore an original creation of dressmakers' art, made from black satin, with pink velvet trimmings and lace, diamonds.

Miss Gooderham, Toronto, attired in pink silk of the most delicate tint, with gold trimmings and pink carnations, was much admired.

Mrs. Dodsworth wore a pretty gown of white mull with pink trimmings; diamonds and pearls.

Miss Lichtenhein, pink striped mull and pink satin trimmings.

Among the other ladies on the floor were Mrs. and Miss Barnes, Chicago; Misses McCready, Brosseau, Blanche Lionais, Miss Gleeson and Mrs. Webber, Boston; Miss Block, Boston; Misses Irwins, of Montreal; Mrs. A. E. Smith, Mrs. T. Chase Casgrain and Mrs. Lemoine, Quebec; Mrs. Arthur Gauthier, Mrs. Reineir, New York; Miss Stella Nash, Mrs. McGlinchy, Portland; Miss Eva Thivierge, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. Linton, Mrs. Chas. Cassils, Miss Amy Cassils and two hundred others.

RIVIERE DU LOUP.

An air of mystery pervades this pleasant resort at present, having as centre the White House, on the point, and as circumference the town of Fraserville, the other hotels and the surrounding districts.

Hitherto the enjoyments of the place have been the customary ones of drives, croquet, tennis, bathing and above all dancing. But since last Saturday the old amusements have largely palled in face of the wonderful feats accomplished in mind reading, mesmerism and table turning. It all arose from a dull evening to the relief of which Mr. Weir was asked to come. He volunteered to do a little mind reading, and first, under the will of Miss Langevin, of St. Hyacinthe, and afterwards of Miss Blanche Augé, of Montreal, he had no difficulty in discovering first the hiding place of an object known to him, and then of an unknown object, which he afterwards handed to Mr. Jules Laframboise, Manager of La Banque du Peuple, St. Hyacinthe, who had been selected by the spectators as its recipient. Mr. Weir was blindfolded in every instance.

His feats have been duplicated in every instance by Miss Augé who had had no knowledge of her remarkable powers previously. In mind reading, even of the highest class, it is generally requisite that the reader hold the hand of some one knowing the [illegible]bouts of the hidden object, but Mr. Weir dispensed with this physical contact and blindfolded and alone found the desired articles directed only by the mental assistance of his friends.

Mind reading is not the only amusement indulged in here. The phenomena of table turning have been elevated to the rank of a science and wonderful information is derived from the "spirit world." Mingled with war news as to the China-Japanese embroglio, the guests of the hotel have been supplied with pleasant social gossip as to the doings of absent friends. Only on the question of the U. S. tariff was the spirit silent. The seance ended with what those who know Mr. Husmer Lanctot, of Montreal, pronounced the greatest wonder of all. To see that gentleman, with all his dignity of 233 pounds, resting in the air, near the ceiling, upon the finger tips of four friends, one a young lady, very nearly destroyed all faith in Newton's law of gravity. It certainly nearly upset the gravity of the meeting. Those most successful around the spirit table were Mr. and Mrs. H. Lanctot, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, London, Ontario, Miss Augé, Mr. and Mrs. J. Laframboise, Miss Langevin and others. Mr. Filiatrault, Registrar of Montreal, Mrs. Moore, of Quebec, Mrs. Weir and a small number of others cannot secure the affection of the spirits and are invariably sent out of the room in disgrace when the mysterious rites are being celebrated.

The latest arrivals at "Maison Blanche" are: Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Allaire, Master Allaire, Quebec; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weir, Miss Beatrice and Master Weir and Nurse, Mrs. T. J. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Husmer Lanctot, Miss Robidoux, Mr. Zeph. Hebert, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Jules Laframboise, St. Hyacinthe; Miss Langevin, Miss Auger, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laframboise and Miss Perodeau, Mr. Slater and Master Slater, Mr. S. St. Onge, Mr. F. Filiatrault, M. D., wife and daughter, Montreal; Mr. Demers, and family, of L'Evenement, Quebec.

The Misses Delafield have taken possession for the rest of the summer of Mrs. W. H. Kerr's cottage, which has been occupied for the past month by their aunt, Miss Kennedy.

Mrs. Bonner's cottage was the scene, last Saturday, of a charming informal little five o'clock tea in honor of Mrs. Bonner's daughter, who arrived this week from New York.

It was with deep regret that our people heard of the death of one of Pointe au Pic's oldest and most honored visitors, Mr. Hamel.

Judge and Mrs. Levine and Miss de Salaberry are the guests of Mr. Duggan, at the Manor House.

Messrs. A. and Edward Buchanan joined Mrs. Buchanan here yesterday for a short holiday.

Madame Blanchet was "at home" to her numerous friends last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cabot intend remaining here for some weeks.

BACK RIVER.

Special services were held in St. Andrew's Church last Sunday, being "Flower Day."

In the morning offerings of flowers were made by the children of the congregation, and the large number of beautiful bouquets added greatly to the appearance of the church, which, especially in the evening, seemed hardly large enough to contain the congregation.

The services were appropriate to the occasion and full of interest with instruction. Monday morning the flowers were distributed among the patients in the Montreal General Hospital.

On Sunday, the 19th inst., the Lord Bishop of Montreal will hold a Confirmation service in this church at 11 a. m.

There is a good deal of talk about a second electric line up St. Denis street. A syndicate has been paying Mr. Hannah $1000 a year for the option of buying his property—through which St. Denis street runs—within five years. The option expires next year, and it is said the property will be purchased. Among those in the syndicate are several well-known Montreal capitalists. As an instance of the boom in property out here it may be mentioned that Mr. Hannah bought the property for a little over $7000 in 1885, and the option price of it is $26,000.

The question of a regatta has again been discussed this week. It is quite probable that committees will be formed during next week, and that the event will take place within the next four weeks. The course will either be down by the paper mill or up near Sault au Recollet station.

The Park & Island Company has commenced to double its tracks. They will be finished as far as the new Shamrock grounds this autumn.

Misses Edmere and Katie Dalglish of New York are at present spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bourgouin.

The sale of lots on the Peloquin property on Saturday was well attended. Quite a number were sold at good prices.

Mr. L. H. Packard was the guest of Mr. Barnard one afternoon during the week.

Miss Fatt has returned from a holiday spent at Cape Elizabeth, Me.

The Clergy House of Rest.

The third annual meeting in connection with the "Clergy House of Rest" was held on the 1st inst. The Bishop of Niagara presided. More than thirty ladies and gentlemen, summer residents of Cacouna, manifested their interest in the institution, as in other days, by their presence on this occasion. The annual report, presented by Mrs. M. B. Irvine, president of the managing committee, was an encouraging one, evincing as it did the continued interest shown by the laity in the success of the House, and a growing and widening appreciation of it on the part of the clergy. An item therein, at once noteworthy and gratifying, was the fact that amongst the guests of last year, no less than seven of the dioceses of this ecclesiastical Province were represented. The Rev. Canon Ellegood, the Rev. J. H. Dixon and the Rev. George Abbott Smith, of Montreal. The Rev. Principal Adams and the Rev. Dr. Allnatt, of Lennoxville, and other guests of the house present at the meeting, most warmly endorsed the high commendations penned by the visitors of last year, including one by the Bishop of Quebec, himself a guest at the time. These gentlemen expressed a wish and intention, not at the meeting only, but through the public press, to make known the comforts and attractions offered to the clergy by the House of Rest, convinced that these had only to be known to be very generally availed of. In the words of a very comprehensive resolution they desired to bear "strong testimony to the comforts and advantages afforded by the Clergy House, to the variety and excellency of the table d'hote, to the kindly attention paid to the guests' every want, to the stimulating tonic effect of the air of Cacouna; to the privileges offered by the daily service in the beautiful little church hard by, to the pleasure and profit to be reaped from the mutual intercourse among brethren of varied gifts and experiences, coupled with unrestricted freedom—in a word to the unique character of the Institution; and all to be had at such an extremely moderate cost." Warm appreciation too was expressed of the exceeding kindness shown by the Committee of Management, and by the summer residents of the place, and of their efforts to make the sojourn of each guest not beneficial alone but agreeable and happy. The Committee of Management was unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year, viz.: Mrs. M. B. Irvine, president; Mrs. John Hamilton, 1st directress, and Mrs. Irwin, of Ottawa, 2nd directress.

ST. LAMBERT.

The St. Lambert Tennis Club will play a friendly match to-day (Saturday), with the West End Club of Montreal, on the grounds of the latter. Our representatives will be picked from the following: Mrs. Claire, Mrs. Buchanan, Miss Sowden, Miss E. Wright, Messrs. W. E. Dart, W. A. Dart, W. S. Wright, F. Buchanan and A. E. Harvey. A number of the members and friends of the St. L. T. Club will accompany the players and attend the hop to be given in the evening at the Grand Trunk Boat House.

The concert in aid of the Fresh Air Fund held in the boat house on Thursday was a great success, and the large number present thoroughly enjoyed the tableux and the other items which made up the programme. The children's minuet in costume was much appreciated. A great deal of credit is due to the Misses Morris and those friends who so ably assisted them in a good cause.

The date of the annual illumination of boats, open air concert and hop has been definantly fixed for Friday, August 24th. The committee will spare no trouble to make it a success, and we hope to see more than a few of our friends from the city.

The fortnightly bonnet hop last evening, was the most successful of the season. An invitation had been extended to the members or the Laprairie Boating Club, and a large number of them came down to share the pleasures of the evening.

Our war canoe will not take part in the Point Claire regatta, but we will be ably represented by the Irving brothers in the tandem, Alex. Irving in the single paddle and Irving brothers, W. Beatty and R. Locke in the four in a canoe.

Mr. Frank Riley, who has been visiting his mother in the North-West, has returned.

This evening after the lacrosse match, a smoking concert will be held in the boat house.

A FASHIONABLE RESORT.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

ORIGIN OF A TROUBLESOME WORD OR COLLECTION OF LETTERS.

Should it be "Turnpyke" or "Turnpike?"—What Happened Three Hundred and Thirty Years Ago in Canada.

"Vescalion."

To the Editor of Notes and Queries:

SIR,—Please give me the derivation, the meaning and the correct use of the word "vescalion."

J. P. J.

Nearly eleven years ago I explained how this strange-looking combination of letters came into existence. Correspondents are invited meanwhile to comment on it, if they can. Next week I will astonish my querist J. P. J. by my explanation. I wish he would send me his name and address. ED. N. AND Q.

I have now heard from my correspondent, who writes from Chilliwack, B. C., and will accordingly answer his queries, satisfied that he will see my reply. The word "vescalion," which seems to have interested him, has no derivation, and no meaning or use whatever for anybody in the world. I will explain this statement afterwards. Meanwhile, J. P. J., from constantly dwelling on the consideration of the tantalizing word, has persuaded himself that he has met with it on various occasions, but is able to quote only one passage in which what I have called the "strange combination of letters" occurs. For this I was fully prepared, as will be seen in a few moments. My correspondent says: "I have read the passage repeatedly, and must confess my inability to attach a definite and precise meaning to the word. That it has such a meaning is established by Dr. Johnson's employment of the term, and the trouble, no doubt, lies in my own stupidity. I have consulted several dictionaries without success. * * * I have read with pleasure your contributions to the STAR, and therefore wrote to you for the solution of my difficulty. I am looking with somewhat anxious curiosity for your reply, and anticipate much pleasure from its perusal." J. P. J. concludes his letter by transcribing for my benefit the following passage from one of Dr. Johnson's essays, quoted in a translation of one of Cicero's moral treatises:

"The other miseries which way-lay our passage through the world, wisdom may escape and fortitude may conquer; by caution and circumspection we may steal along with very little to obstruct or incommode us; by spirit and vigor we may force a way and reward the vescalion by conquest, by the pleasures of victory." There, certainly, is the cabalistic word, transcribed literatim from a respectable book. To account for its appearance I need only quote the explanation that I wrote nearly eleven years ago in answer to a B.A. of McGill College, Montreal. On November 3, 1883, I published in Notes and Queries of the STAR the following communication: "What is the meaning of the word italicized in the following passage from Dr. Johnson on 'Old Age?' He then quotes the passage transcribed by J. P. J., with the word vescalion italicized, and continues: "The quotation is taken from the translation of Cicero's 'Philosophic Works,' by Cyrus Edmonds."

I at once referred to the volume of Bohn's "Classical Library," which contains a translation of Cicero's treatise "On Old Age" by Cyrus R. Edmonds, and in a note to p. 249 found the passage as quoted from Dr. Johnson. I may state that I consulted two editions of Bohn, published in England, one in 1850, and the other in 1877—and found the same words in both editions. I found, also, that Harper's New York reprint was identical with the London version; and felt assured that the word vescalion was a printer's error. Under these circumstances, all that remained was to hunt up Dr. Johnson's essay. It forms the 69th of the "Rambler," and the passage that has occasioned so much trouble, there reads as follows: "By spirit and vigor we may force a way, and reward the vexation of conquest by the pleasures of victory."

The murder is now out, and the mystery is cleared up, I hope to the satisfaction of my Chilliwack correspondent. The handwriting of Mr. Cyrus R. Edmonds was probably a little shaky, and the compositor metamorphosed Dr. Johnson's words, the vexation of conquest, into the vescalion by conquest. Hinc illæ lacrymæ.

"Turnpyke," or "Turnpike."

W. F. G. draws my attention to the former mode of spelling, at the office of La Commission des Chemins à Barrières; and asks if it be correct. I have never seen the word turnpyke before, and consider it incorrect. The term turnpike originally meant "a frame of pikes or pointed bars, a kind of revolving cheval-de frise, set in a narrow passage to obstruct the progress of an enemy." The old dramatic poet, Beaumont, writes:

"Love storms his lips, and takes the fortresse in,
For all the bristled turn-pikes of his chin."

In our own time the word denotes a gate set across a road in order to stop carriages, waggons, etc., and sometimes foot-passengers, till a toll is paid. A toll-bar, or toll-gate, briefly.

"Pike," a pointed pole, or kind of spear formerly used by foot-soldiers, is in French pique. A voracious fresh-water fish is called pike, from its pointed snout or lower jaw.

Three Hundred and Thirty Years Ago in Canada.

To the Editor of Notes and Queries:

SIR,—The author of the Jesuit Relation for 1662-63 has been accused of exaggeration in his description of the catastrophe which took place in Canada about that time. Do not the recent landslides in the Province of Quebec quite go to show that perhaps he was telling the truth after all? E. JAY.

Schreiber, Ont.

After having carefully read the "Relation de la Nouvelle France, en l'Année, 1663," which was written by "Hierosme Lalemant," and originally published in Paris in 1664, I cannot but think that the author has been lightly accused of exaggeration. I am referring to the second chapter, entitled "Tremble-terre universel en Canadas, et ses effets prodigieux." As it would destroy the effect of the old French to translate it, I will quote a short paragraph, which, though very extraordinary, is by no means the most extraordinary passage in the "Relation." Here is what was seen after the catastrophe:

"L'on voit de nouveaux lacs où il n'y en eut jamais; on ne voit plus certaines montagnes qui sont engouffrées; plusieurs saults sont applanis; plusieurs rivières ne paroissent plus; la terre s'est fendue en bien dès endroits, et a ouvert des precipices dont on ne trouve point le fond; enfin, il s'est fait une telle confusion de bois renversez et abysmez, qu'on voit à présent des campagnes de plus de mille arpents toutes rases, et comme si elles estoient tout fraischement labourées, là où peu auparavant il n'y avait que des forests."

The passage at p. 4 which begins: "L'air n'estoit pas exempt de ses alterations, pendant celles des eaux et de la terre," and continues: "l'on a veu des spectres et des phantosmes de feu portants des flambeaux en main," is still more marvellous, and seems the work of a disordered imagination.

Tennyson and Goethe.

To the Editor of Notes and Queries:

SIR,—Kindly oblige by giving name of author and other particulars of the following lines:

"I hold it truth with him who sings
To one clear harp of divers tones,
That men may rise on stepping stones
Of their dead selves to higher things."

Chenneville st. QUIDNUNC.

The lines quoted form the first stanza of the first Section of Tennyson's "In Memoriam." There have been many disputes in literary circles all over the world as to the identity of the writer to whom the poet refers. On this question I shall have something to say next week. The following extract from the London Times seems to settle it rather unsatisfactorily, as the passage in the author of "Faust" has not yet been unearthed.

Admirers of Lord Tennyson have long sought to ascertain to whom the Poet Laureate alluded in the opening lines of "In Memoriam:"

"I held it truth, with him who sings
To one clear harp in divers tones,
That men may rise on stepping stones
Of their dead selves to higher things."

Many poets have been mentioned, but hitherto the allusion has never been traced. A week or two ago an enquiry on the point appeared in Notes and Queries, which has elicited the following reply from the Rev. Dr. Gatty, vicar of Ecclesfield, Yorkshire, who some years ago issued an able key to Lord Tennyson's great work: "The poet alluded to in the first stanzas of 'In Memoriam' is Goethe. I know this from Lord Tennyson himself, although he could not identify the passage, and when I submitted to him a small work of mine on his marvellous poem, he wrote, 'It is Goethe's creed on this very passage.'" My correspondent has hold for held in the first line, and of instead of in in the second.

THE NATIONAL POLICY.

HAS IT BENEFITTED THE FARMERS OF THE DOMINION?

A Deaf and Dumb Fraud—The Proposal to Place Hon. Mr. Hall on the Bench—The Guard Wall.

Does the N. P. Benefit the Farmer?

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR:—A great deal has been said, by the advocates of the National Policy, in favor of protection. With your permission I would like to say a few words on the subject.

An increased home market for his produce was the inducement held out to the farmers of Canada by the advocates of the National Policy, and is still insisted on by, them, as a reason for its continuance.

Now the question arises, what has protection done for the farmer during the sixteen years of its existence in Canada? It professed by the creation of new industries, to furnish more consumers, and on the other hand, by increasing the duties on imports of farm produce to restrict foreign competition. Both these objects are claimed to have been accomplished. The census of 1890 furnishes a list of new industries created and old ones developed during the previous ten years. These are pointed out by the N. P. advocates as an evidence of the increased home market for the farmer.

On the other hand, Mr. Foster in his budget speech gave figures to prove that by the restrictions on importations, a great many millions of dollars' worth of produce had been kept out of the country, compared with what had been imported under the former policy of the Government.

Not only have these two been in operation, the one to increase the number of consumers, the other to restrict the market to the home producer, but during these sixteen years another market has been found. Sixteen years ago the cattle trade with Britain had just been started and the cattle came principally from the United States. Now a great many thousand Canadian cattle are shipped to Britain every season.

The cheese industry was then barely started, and I think I am safe in saying that, for every factory that existed then, there are at least ten in operation now. Another circumstance is either overlooked or ignored in regard to this home market, and that is the extent which the farmer himself figures as a consumer. Sixteen years ago the farmer depended chiefly on the shipment of grain; now that is a secondary consideration. Indeed, some of our best farmers raise no more than they can consume on their farms.

Here we have given four factors, increase of consumers, decrease of importation, decrease of production, and very largely increased exportation.

Now given all these facts, which I think are undeniable, what are the results? Are the farmers more prosperous? Has the agricultural population increased? The contrary is notoriously the fact; the value of land has decreased 25 per cent. and the rural population in many districts has actually decreased in the last sixteen years. The farmer finds that in spite of the so-called protection of the National Policy he has to sell in the world's market because the home market fails to consume all he can raise. The home price is regulated by what his produce will bring when exported. On the other hand, the N. P. prevents his free access to the world's market for what he has to buy if there has been a decline in prices. During the past fifteen years he is forbidden by the N. P. to enter the market as a buyer on the same equal terms as he has to enter it as a seller and in consequence everything he has to buy is increased in price to the extent of from twenty-five to fifty per cent. and even more in many cases; so that while the home market has been of little value to him as a producer it has certainly increased the value of everything he has to buy.

Our local N. P. paper, the Belleville Intelligencer, every now and then publishes a list showing how the prices of articles of general consumption have decreased in price during the past fifteen years, and exclaims triumphantly: "See what the N. P. has done for the consumer. Why not publish a list of the prices in Great Britain, showing how free trade has acted in that regard. Why does the writer not have the honesty to say that the prices of these articles have declined not on account of the N. P., but in spite of it, that every one of these things, with the exception of tea, which is free, costs the consumer 25 per cent. more on account of the N. P. than it would otherwise.

The same is true in regard to protected industries. I know it is claimed that competition among themselves will keep prices all right. We find, however, that combination prevents competition, and if protected industries charge only fair prices why could they not exist under the slight reduction in the amount of protection under the proposed tariff of '94?

Now, sir, in the face of these facts I would like you to show how Protection has improved or can improve the condition of the farmer. It seems to me that in place of an increased home market, Protection has made it worth less to the farmer than it was before. In fact, the advocates of the N. P. have about given it up, and advise the farmer to take advantage of the free market of Britain, where in consequence of the facilities of transportation, he has to compete with producers who could live a year on what would not maintain him for a month. When our rulers are asked to make some arrangement with our neighbors across the line for a free exchange of productions, they say that, as their productions are the same as ours, and they, too, are our competitors across the Atlantic, their market would be worthless. But when it is shown to be a fact that all the produce of the west that moves eastward, whether by the lakes or railway, not 20 per cent. is exported, and when we consider that Ontario and all the provinces east of it are all nearer their eastern market than any of the States west of Lake Erie, one can have some idea what free access to such a market would mean to the farmers of Canada, even if to secure this market the manufacturers of the U. S. had to have free access to Canada.

If our manufacturers could not compete with them, it would simply show that either their business was not adapted to the natural conditions of the country, or they were not adapted to their business. Even if some of them should go down in the fight, the increased prosperity of the farmer would be felt in every small town and village in the country. Wherever you go you find unused workshops and dwellings, evidences of a prosperity that is gone for ever.

Harbor Works.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—It is now a considerable time since I last addressed you on this subject. My former letters seemed to have raised a breeze amongst the "staff" at that time because I ventured to speak slightingly of the mud bank, and of the snail-like progress of that great national work, which at one time was to have been completed, I believe, by December, 1892. I hope all my old friends, "Semper Paratus," Sproul, "Beaver Dam," "Dam" and "Vincit Veritas," not to speak of the newspaper engineer, who occasionally took a hand, are still to the fore. The "raw place" then, was the washing away of the mud, and the frequent breaking down of the big derrick, but now, as there is a large amount of mud in sight, and the big land derrick in fine working order, my friends aforesaid may be more amiably disposed to see "A Montrealer" once more in print. My contention from the very first was against the building of this guard wall, first, because it was not wanted, second, because of its enormous cost, entailing heavy taxation on commerce, and, lastly, from the unforeseen dangers and difficulties to navigation which its completion might disclose. Even now, with the wall not half finished, changes in the current have taken place, rendering the turning of large steamers extremely hazardous, and rendering necessary the removal of a shoal whose existence was previously hardly known to the public. The large steamers of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co., which formerly left their berth without difficulty, now (unless aided by a tug) run a great risk of striking the tail end of the wall or getting on the shoal. The possibility of these dangers was not admitted by our modern engineers, though as far back as 1841, when a similar project was proposed, a commission of Royal Engineers was appointed by the Government to report on the feasibility of the scheme. The report is no doubt now among the papers of the Harbor Board. It stated that such a wall might prove most disastrous, and any advantages it might seem to promise, would more than likely be offset by greater damages in other respects. I don't pretend to give the exact words of the report, but the above was the substance of it. The scheme was at once abandoned, and we are only now beginning to see the wisdom of one set of disinterested engineers, and the folly of another. I still believe that the Ottawa Government will appoint a commission to investigate the whole business of this harbor. To be effective, it should be composed of engineers who have not before been consulted, and who are entirely independent of local influence. Had that precious $4,000,000 loan been adopted by the Government, I should have had my doubts about a commission; but seeing nothing of it in the "Supplementary," I still hope to see the committee at work.

Claim of Bishops.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—It would be hard to find a more misleading fallacy than that contained in the letter of an advocate "Pro Ecclesia" in last Tuesday's STAR, when he avers that the title "Reverend" (adjective) is on a level with that of "Lord" (substantive), either in sense or in use. Indeed, in this discussion these titles must be contrasted rather than likened. For the question of granting "Reverend" to the Wes-

FOUR GENERATIONS OF THE ROYAL FAMILY.

The following, relating to royal photographs, a cut of which is herewith given, is taken from the Pall Mall Budget:

I was sitting in Messrs. W. & D. Downey's waiting-room, anxious to get an early glance at the photograph which that firm had taken after the Royal christening at White Lodge. A photograph taken upon such an occasion is certain to be of tremendous interest, not only to us who have just greeted the youthful Prince on his arrival, but to our grandchildren in the days when King Edward VII comes up from Windsor in his flying machine to start the first train on the new electric railway from Charing Cross to the moon. For it represents a scene which has never before occurred in the history of the Royal Family of England, or indeed in that of any Royal Family which I can call to mind—a group comprising the reigning Sovereign and three younger generations in direct succession to the throne. One was naturally curious to see how the aged Queen looked upon such a unique occasion. We have seen her bearing her part in affairs of State and looking every inch a Queen, but we had not seen her playing the role of the complacent great-grandmother. There was interest, too, in seeing the beginnings of a king; for though Edward Albert would probably look much as less exalted babies look, he differs, as logicians say, in his connotation.

As the photograph was not quite ready, I began asking questions of the white-haired, white-bearded old gentleman who had received me.

"Who was it that took this photograph?" I asked.

"I took it myself," was the reply. "I have photographed every member of the Royal Family for the last thirty-five years."

"And how is it managed? Royal personages don't come here, I suppose?"

"No. I make all the necessary arrangements at Windsor, or Osborne, or Sandringham, as the case may be, and having received instructions and selected a suitable spot—as regards light and so on—for the operation, take my apparatus and my assistants down. Ah! here comes the photograph."

He took it and spread it upon the table, smoothing it out carefully, and going critically over it with a magnifying glass.

"Now, I don't believe a better photograph was ever taken under more unfavorable conditions. It is the best likeness of Her Majesty that I have seen," he said, after a few moments of close inspection.

"How so?" I asked. "What were the special difficulties on this particular occasion? Had you not made elaborate arrangements at White Lodge beforehand?"

"Yes—we reckoned on a fine day—foolishly, perhaps, and fixed up a place that was perfect for the purpose. But the weather, as you know, was bad, and the baby was too precious to be exposed to damp and draught. So at the last moment I had to find another place indoors. That was no easy matter. It is rather awkward to go poking about in another person's house, especially when the other person is a Royal Duke, and you keep tumbling over reigning Princes and Heirs Apparent at every step, and you have a nasty touch of gout into the bargain, as I had. However, we found a place at last, a room on the ground floor, to suit the convenience of her Majesty. The light was not so good as I should have liked; but I think I made the best of it."

"Then—as to the operation itself?"

"Well, that took place after the christening was over. The Queen was wheeled along to the temporary studio in her chair; the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York—well, they just walked; and the baby was carried. Then, after some little trouble, I got the group arranged—the baby in the Queen's lap.

"How do you manage Royal sitters? Do you order them about with a wave of the hand, tell them to hold their heads up and look pleasant?"

"There is never any need to tell any member of the Royal Family to look pleasant."

"And how did Edward Albert behave? Was he nervous?"

"Not in the least. As soon as he was placed in the arms of the Queen he was perfectly calm and self-possessed, and gave me no trouble whatever. You see the Queen knows how to hold a baby. And a baby who has just faced a christening is not going to break down at a camera."

"Do you find Royal personages good sitters?"

"Generally speaking, excellent. They have learned, I suppose, to control their faces. And then, of course, they all know me so well—have known me from childhood, and talk to me as pleasantly as possible."

"The Queen has seen these photographs, I suppose?"

"Certainly; as a matter of courtesy I always submit Royal photographs to Her Majesty, and until they have received her approval no one is allowed to have a copy. You may rest assured that the picture you are publishing as a supplement is the best possible portrait of the Queen as she is now."

leyan minister on the tomstone was decided by the Privy Council of Great Britain in the positive, while the granting "Lord" was decided in the negative by the Secretary of State. Again the same Secretary for the Colonies decided that "Right Reverend" should be given to bishops in a British dependency, but that "Lord" should not be added to that description. The State does not, since 1865, acknowledge the territorial titles of Anglican or other bishops in the colonies; and thus, for example, as a bishop of Ontario is now a thing of the past, so a "Lord of Ontario" diocese is now no longer officially recognized. That this question has nought to do with culture must surely be admitted by the church's advocate, because not only was it a peer of the realm (Kimberley) who refused the title Lord, but it was a bishop and lord of Parliament who refused the description Reverend. The question has therefore to do with law and custom, and not with courtesy and culture. I am glad, however, to think that an advocate is not of the same opinion as "L.," who thought all discussion on this subject trivial and unnecessary. He is probably aware that the question was debated not only in the synod of the Episcopal "Church of Ireland" since 1871, but also in 1883 at Episcopal synods in Australia and New Zealand. Besides, even in the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, I believe that some of the bishops have lately begun to claim the title Lord, and to wear knee-breeches. Whatever may be the case with churches in other countries, it is a well known fact, that for about 100 years none of the bishops of any of the churches in the North American Republic have either claimed or expected to be addressed as the "Lord Bishop." At any rate in Canada none of the Anglican bishops consecrated since 1865 have any legal claim to the titlt Lord, as was once publicly admitted by the late Right Reverend Dr. Medley, "Lord Biship of Fredericton," and afterwards Metropolitan of Canada.

HISTORIAN.

The Proposal to Put Mr. Hall on the Bench.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—Your editorial of 31st ult. referring to the retirement of Mr. Hall as treasurer of the province and of his elevation to the Bench, has given rise to a good deal of discussion as to the wisdom of the change. Surely Mr. Hall will think twice before taking such a step. The Conservatives who elected him and the Liberals who supported him in the last election should certainly do what they can to induce him not to resign at this time when the financial condition of the province requires the greatest care in handling. He alone is familiar with the requirements during the present crisis, and it would be most unfair to his supporters that he should resign now. True, his position is anything but enviable—he took hold of the finances of the province at a time when everything was at its very worst—and no doubt made enemies of some of his former friends; but right-thinking people and our large monetary institutions supported him in his measures in the hope, which to a large extent has been realized, that under his management the finances of the province would improve, and that they have, goes without saying. Now just at the turning point it is proposed to side track him on to the Bench, and let some one else—rumor says Mr. Pelletier—take hold of the purse-strings. Mr. Hall is a young man; if he desires a seat on the Bench let him wait, there will be many more opportunities offering—the English Conservatives should to a man put their feet down, and say to Mr. Hall: "Remain where you are for the present; in you we have an honest representative and a capable treasurer; we know you, we do not know your successor."

Apart from all this, there remains the question of new elections; at this time the province is better without any.

A Deaf and Dumb Fraud.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR—Our representative, Mr. Geo. E. Powers, has forwarded me a copy of the STAR of the 2nd inst., in which a paragraph appears in reference to a deaf and dumb man who was arrested in Sherbrooke for collecting money on false pretences, ostensibly for some Maritime institution. I should esteem it a favor if you would kindly let the friends and subscribers of the above Institution know by the insertion of this letter in your next issue that the man referred to has not and never had the slightest connection with the Fredericton Deaf and Dumb Institution. The St. John Institution for which he was ostensibly collecting was given up and disbanded some five or six years ago and he was probably collecting the money for himself. The Fredericton Institution is the only one in New Brunswick. The buildings were erected principally by Government funds and the work has been recognized and aided by our Local Government from year to year. Our Institution has been frequently injured by deaf and dumb men who have called on our subscribers and pretended to be collecting for us without any authority, and, of course, the money collected has never been forwarded to the Institution. Mr. Powers who recently visited Montreal is the only authorized collector for the Institution in the Province of Quebec.

IT SEEMS TOO SMALL to do any good, when you look at one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. But just try it, when you're bilious or constipated, or have a sour stomach, or a fit of indigestion—and you'll own up that they're the best things in the world.

That's because they cure permanently, and do it, pleasantly. They're tiny, sugar-coated, and easy to take. There's no disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. Satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.

DOES THE N. P. BENEFIT THE FARMER?

Mr. Morrice, of Madoc, admits that the N. P. has increased the number of consumers competing for the products of the Canadian farmer, and has kept down the importation of foreign farm products likely to press into the Canadian market and press down the price of home grown articles; and yet he contends that the protective principle is antagonistic to the interests of the farmer. His line of argument, to be found in another column, is that in spite of these benefits conferred upon him by the N. P., the farmer is not more prosperous, the value of his land has decreased and he must sell his products at lower prices. It seems that the Belleville Intelligencer has been meeting this argument, based on the falling prices of farm products, by publishing lists of articles that the farmer must purchase which likewise have fallen in price. Now Mr. Morrice is very wrath at this sort of retort, and indignantly points out that the prices of these articles have fallen in free trade England, too, and, in fact, all over the world. Hence he thinks it dishonest to claim this reduction in price for the National Policy. But how about the man who endeavors to prove the failure of the National Policy by citing the reduction in the prices brought by farm products, which, also, is world-wide?

The question in reality is not, has the National Policy absolutely increased the prices of farm products; but rather, has the National Policy succeeded in giving the Canadian farmer a better living than he would have had under Free Trade or a non-protective tariff? Mr. Morrice complains that the farmer is forbidden by the N. P. to enter the world's market as a buyer on the same terms of equality with all comers that he must accept when he goes there to sell. This is in a sense true, but he does not do by any means all of either his buying or his selling in the world's market. Many of the things that he sells could not stand an ocean voyage and hence have their price wholly fixed by the conditions that prevail in Canada Then other products which he does export are affected in price by the demand in Canada; for a demand in Canada is always better for a Canadian farmer than the same demand in Britain or even in New York. It pays a farmer to live near to his market. Mr. Morrice recognizes the fact that the growth of a home market relieves the farmer of the necessity of going abroad. "Another circumstance" he says, "is either overlooked or ignored in regard to this home market, and that is the extent to which the farmer himself figures as a consumer. Sixteen years ago, the farmer depended chiefly on the shipment of grain; now, that is a secondary consideration. Indeed, some of our best farmers raise no more than they can consume on their farms." It is plain that Mr. Morrice is thinking mainly of the Eastern farmer; but it is also plain that he sees that home consumption can dry up a stream of foreign export; and why? Obviously for the reason that it pays the farmer better.

But to return to the world market again. The farmer sells in the world market—that is, in the outside world market—only what he cannot dispose of profitably at home. Whatever he sells at home, it pays him to sell there better than to export, or he would not do it. Were the home market reduced, he must export more of his produce to find purchasers, and thereby his profits would be decreased. Now, on the confession of Mr. Morrice, the N. P. builds up the home market and consequently benefits the farmers to precisely the extent that they gain by that increased home competition for their produce. Then, again, the N. P. protects certain farm products from American competition mainly, and thus gives our farmers another, though a minor, benefit. On the other hand, the tariff does prevent them from buying some things—coal oil, for instance—in the cheapest market. It is not true, as Mr. Morrice seems to imagine, that in every case the Canadian duty is added to the foreign price. It is the aim of protection to foster the trade at home until competition within the country forces the price here as low as it is found anywhere; and, and though this object has not been attained in all cases, it has in some, it is closely approached in many others, and must be by the remainder if they are to continue to enjoy tariff protection. But undoubtedly the tariff is to some extent a tax on every consumer in the country. And hence it is simply a question for the farmer to decide whether it benefits him in providing a home market and in protecting his produce to some degree more than it mulcts him on certain articles which he will have little difficulty in naming.

In coming to a decision, he must remember that the loss of protection to Canada would mean a terrific crash among her industries. Thousands of workmen would be driven across the border, there to patronise his rival, the American farmer. Merchants and professional men of all kinds would follow them, and the voracious city markets would suffer lamentably from loss of appetite. In the United States he has seen a mere threat against Protection fill that land with industrial distress and he may be sure that the farmer is not prospering when his customers are moneyless. He should face this side of the picture very frankly before he decides that the other side is intolerable. The STAR has maintained for some time that the present application of the N. P. principle sadly needed amendment. It does tax the farmers too severely. An empty North-West and a Patron of Industry movement in the east stand as proofs of this fact. But the remedy is reform, not destruction—and especially not such complete and humiliating destruction as Unrestricted Reciprocity with the United States, which Mr. Morrice proposes though the Liberals have abandoned it, would imply with its corollary of political union and national overthrow.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR CITIZENSHIP.

Mr. John Brooks Leavitt, a political Reformer in New York city, contributes an article to the current Forum on what he sternly calls the "Criminal Degradation of New York Citizenship," in which he uses the exposures of the Lexow Committee as to the condition of the New York police force to lash the citizens of New York for their negligence of public duty. Mr. Leavitt is absolutely right in carrying the blame direct to the door of the individual citizen. No man has a right to neglect his public duties. If one be in business wholly for and by himself, it is largely his own affair—in a sense—whether he work faithfully or idle himself into failure; but if he be in partnership with another, he owes it to his partner by all laws of decency and honor to do his best to push their common business forward along the paths of prosperity. Now a citizen is in partnership with all other citizens to manage the business of the village, city or country in which they dwell. It is as much a partnership as that which binds any business firm in the world together; and it is a breach of faith for any one of the partners to neglect his share of the management of the business. Some may think that this plea to decency can hardly be effective where the plea of self-interest has failed; but Mr. Leavitt points out that very probably many men in New York have submitted to bad government as it touched them, through the belief that, their stay in the city being only temporary, it was to their self-interest to avoid a fight. He quoted on this point from a letter written by a personal friend, as follows:

"The typical New Yorker seems to be a man who plunges into his business for the sake of making a fortune, and he plunges into it in so headlong a way, with an eye so [illegible] to this one purpose, that he sacrifices everything else for it. He argues to himself, consciously or unconsciously, that after a certain number of years he will be able to retire or to do whatever he have it in his mind to do, and that it makes no difference what the intervening years cost him. It is easier and cheaper to pay a policeman or a ward man than it is to take the time from his business or to run the risks of embarrassment to show himself a good citizen.

To such a man, the argument of self-interest seems only to prove that his adviser misunderstands the peculiar conditions that confront him, while a sharp appeal to his sense of decency—an insistent pressing upon him of the claims of his civic partners—might arouse him to the performance of his duty. It is clear enough in any case, that if New Yorkers do not hear some call to duty and that speedily, their city of New York will soon stand a place so shunned of business that men cannot even make money there.

Another point made by Mr. Leavitt marks a step in advance in American thought, and is a promising sign of the times. He says:

We are slowly discovering in this country that it will not do to put too implicit a faith in our institutions. We are learning through bitter experience, and costly withal, that a democratic form of government is no better than an aristocratic or monarchial form as an insurer against our human nature; that government of any kind is merely a machine, which must have machine tenders; that, if these do not do their duty, the machine will either not go at all, or become an engine of destruction; that it is impossible for them to perform their duties if they are ignorant or dishonest.

We Canadians have long been critics of the American form of government, as they have of ours; but the feeling which Mr. Leavitt punctures is a belief, often quite conspicuous across the border, in the efficacy of institutions apart from men. An engine made to run without steam would get on very well without steam. An engine made to generate its own motive power free—if that were possible—could do its work alone. But an engine made expressly to permit the energies of steam to accomplish their best results would be a folly and a failure if no steam or poor steam were supplied. There are institutions that would and do improve men; but these must be set up by other men, and usually managed by men. Institutions of self-government, however, are expressly intended to permit men to show the best that is in them. They are made for men as the railway engine is made for steam. Whether they are so constructed as to be managed by all men or only by some men, the first requisite is that they be managed by good men. The claim of democracy is that the majority of men, under normal conditions, are good men; but this claim goes for naught if the vast majority utterly neglect their share in the responsibilities of Government and abandon the machine—however perfect—to the unpatriotic hands of short-sighted self-seekers. Then the very delicacy with which the machine is constructed to reflect public opinion becomes the means by which the self-seeker uses it with the surest precision for his own ends. If public government is left to men who make governing a trade and pay themselves out of the profits thereof, the machine of government will soon be manipulated for profits only. If a democracy undertakes to govern itself, it must govern itself democratically—that is, every man must do his full duty.

This is the truth that Mr. Leavitt has discovered. He instances the "primary." The American "fathers" thought this an admirable plan to secure the selection of honest and capable candidates, for they expected American citizens to be true to the trust of citizenship. But they, forgetting that the "primary" is a machine, have left it to the control of any set of men who chanced along; and the result to be expected has come. There is no substitue for citizenship. Our climbing tax bills will teach us this lesson sometime in Montreal; and then we shall have a tax-payers government.

THE FRESH AIR FUND

KIND RESPONSES PROMPTLY MADE.

Many Mothers and Children Rendered Happy.

Last week's special appeal for further generosity to our suffering poor, by whom the coming heats of August may well be dreaded, has brought in a number of prompt and kind responses; and, as a result, many another happy child and happier mother will escape from the city for a brief dip into the cool greens of the country-side. If giving happiness to others brings a reward to the givers, those who drop their contributions into the Fresh Air Fund have chanced upon a most paying investment, for in what other way could a stated amount of money confer so much ecstatic pleasure, as in loosing the bonds that faston restless children and worried mothers to the city pavements and sending them out to all the fresh delights of country life? They enjoy every minute of the respite; for their pleasure is ever heightened by contrast.

Mr. W. H. Nowers sends three dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Anonymous sends two dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

B. and C. send ten dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

The elementary class of Cote St. Antoine School, Elm Hall Division, sends two dollars and fifty cents for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

The proceeds of a girls' bazaar, held on the 4th inst., by the Misses Daisy Day (14 years), Jessie Hasley (13 years), Lena Greene (12 years), Arno Day (11 years), and May Wilding (10 years), amounting to ten dollars, are received for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mr. J. M. M. Duff sends ten dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mr. Paul G. Martineau sends three dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

The Senior Boys' Class of St. Matthew's Church Sunday-school, Point St. Charles, sends five dollars, per Mr. John C. Mace, secretary, for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Helen sends twenty-five cents for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mrs. W. H. McDunnough, 194 Milton street, sends five dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

"Inasmuch" sends two dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mr. Edgar Parkins sends one dollar and twenty-five cents for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Miss Rintoul, Little Metis, Que., sends five dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

"Quebec" sends twenty-five dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

The Misses Philippa and Hilda Macmaster send ten dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mr. John J. Arnton sends five dollars, which, with ten dollars acknowledged on the 2nd June, makes fifteen dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mr. John Macintosh sends ten dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mrs. T. Spindlo sends three dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

Mrs. W.W. Ogilvie, "Rosemount," sends ten dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

A Friend sends three dollars for the Children's Fresh Air Fund.

RABBINICAL CONFERENCE.

Reform Jewish Organs in Favor of its Being Held in Montreal.

Nickerdown in "Notes and Comments" in the recent issue of the Chicago Israelite has the following:

"The Executive Committee of the Central Conference of American Rabbis should give serious consideration to the invitation extended by the Reform Jews of Montreal, Canada, to hold the next meeting in that city. There are various reasons why the invitation should be accepted and it is hoped that the Committe will see its way to so doing. Recent copies of the Montreal STAR contain full reports of the Atlantic City assemblage and most cordially endorse the plan to bring the Rabbis to Canada next summer. The interest manifested by the press of Montreal in the work of the Conference is quite remarkable, in view of the fact that Canadian Judaism is almost exclusively dominated by the orthodox element. The Rabbis of the United States owe it to their Canadian brethren who are making a fight for progressive Judaism, to give them all possible aid and encouragement. It is therefore a matter of importance that Rabbis like Rev. Mr. H. Veld, who extended the invitation to the Conference, should receive the support and countenance that would be given by compliance with their proper and timely request.

The American Israelite, of Cincinnati, O., a rational expounder of Jewish principles, in its issue of the 2nd inst. has the following: "The Reform Jews of Montreal are very desirous of having the Central Rabbinical Conference hold its next session in their city. It would be very pleasant if the Canadian congregations could be brought into active co-operation with the Union. If the 'Canucks' are not our brothers they are at least our first cousins. Let the Conference hold its next meeting in Montreal by all means."

"An effort is being made to hold the next annual Conference of American Rabbis in Montreal. For seven years it has been held on American soil, now it might be well to extend it to British territory. Montreal is a desirable city in many ways, and as the Rabbis are assured of a hearty welcome, there is no good reason why the invitation so cordially extended should not be as cordially accepted."—Lyceum Weekly of Philadelphia.

Stationary Engineers.

Montreal Branch No. 1, Canadian Association Stationary Engineers held an interesting meeting on Thursday night, President John J. York in the chair. Messrs. J. Robinson, H. Nuttal and J. Murphy were elected as delegates to attend the fifth annual convention at Toronto on September 4. The Winnipeg delegates will be received here by the executive officers, Messrs. Geo. Hunt, president; J. J. York, secretary; T. Ryan, chairman of executive board, and District Deputy J. Hardestein. The delegates have chartered a car to Toronto, and will take up delegates at Ottawa, Brockville, Kingston and Belleville.

That Special Loan.

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—Before Mr. Hurteau attempts another blunder, (a special loan of $200,000 to be repaid in 3 years) would it not be advisable to draw his attention to clause 139a of the charter 57 Vict. cap. 56, which terminates as follows:

"All authorization of contracting any special loan not already effected, is cancelled, and the city shall not have power of effecting any special loan." CITIZEN.

The New Military Position.

The proposition of some of the local military officers to go as a deputation to Ottawa to urge the claims of Lieut.-Colonel Mattice to an appointment has been allowed to fall through on the strong recommendation of some of the Colonel's personal friends, who say that he objects to having his case taken up in this way. He has had promises made to him by the Minister of Militia, which he has all along had every confidence will be made good.

THE WAR IN THE ORIENT.

Reported Attack on a Chinese Position.

REPULSED ONCE, THE JAPANESE MAKE A SECOND ATTEMPT.

China to Continue the War to the Bitter End if Necessary.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 11.—A telegram has been received from Chee Foo, dated August 10: A Japanese fleet attacked the Chinese position this morning at the entrance to the harbor of Wei Hai Wai, where the Chinese have a fort said to be impregnable. The Japanese ships were repulsed at one entrance to the harbor and they are now attacking the other entrance.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—A despatch from Paris says that the Mikado's cousin, Prince Konatsu, who has been studying maritime forts in Europe, has left Paris for Havre en route to Japan, returning by way of the United States. Fifty Japanese officers, who have been studying in France, have started for home.

The Times' correspondent at Shanghai says that 12,000 Japs from Fusan and 8000 from Gensah are marching on Seoul.

The Standard's correspondent in Berlin confirms the United Press despatch of August 3, announcing that Li Hung Chang had been divested of the Yellow Jacket in consequence of his remissness in prosecuting the war. The correspondent says that his information came from a high diplomatic source and is unquestionably authentic. The Emperor's object in treating the viceroy as he did was not to disgrace him in the eyes of the world, but simply to reprove him for his dilatoriness. The rebuke merely signifies that the war is to be prosecuted in earnest, and that the viceroy will be held primarily answerable for the issue. The correspondent learned from the same diplomatic source that it is China's intention to continue the war until Japan's strength is exhausted, and she is compelled, perhaps by the powers, to sue for mercy and for pardon for the Kow Shung affair, which greatly irritated the nation.

BERLIN, August 11.—The Tagblatt says France has offered to co-operate with the Russian fleet at the seat of war.

ROME, August 11.—The Official Journal announces that the Government will maintain a neutral position in the war between Japan and China.

BERLIN, August 11.—A despatch to the Tageblatt from St. Petersburg says: "In addition to the eight Russian warships which sailed recently from Vladivostock under sealed orders for Corea, the commander-in-chief of Eastern Siberia, has been instructed to hold the troops in his district in readiness to march at any moment. Russia wishes to maintain a strict neutrality, but as soon as a constitutional change occurs in Corea, she will resolutely protect her enterprises." The despatch adds that France has declared her readiness to co-operate with the Russian fleet in the far east.

LONDON, August 11.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News says that the telegraph line in Corea is controlled by the Japanese in the south and by the Chinese in the north, and that both refuse to transmit news despatches. It is calculated that China will have 60,000 soldiers in Corea before the close of September.

A despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Shanghai says that Captain Galsworthy and the chief officer, Mr. Tamplin, of the sunken transport Kow Chung, arrived at Shanghai yesterday. The despatch adds that two British subjects who were on board the ill-fated transport, are missing.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—A despatch to the Standard from Brussels says: A report has reached there that the Chinese minister who was recalled from Japan on the declaration of war has been censured by his government for his dilatory conduct in the negotiations pending with Japan prior to the outbreak of the war.

The Russian Flag Flying.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., August 10.—Advices by the steamer City of Pekin, say a telegram received at Yokohama from Seoul states that the Russian flag is to be seen high on the Island of Getsubi. It is surmised that Russia had seized it. The Queen of Corea in concert with her relations, the Bin family has appealed to the Russian minister for Russian protection in case of emergency and the minister has consented to grant it.

Japan's Position.

Shortly after the first news of war-like preparations between Japan and China were received here, it was reported that the British Consul at Seoul, capital of Corea, was beaten by Japanese soldiers, for no other reason but that of trying, as a representative of so great a power as Great Britain, to prowl through Japanese quarters in bivouac. The news travelled quickly and the whole British world raised its eye-brows and exclaimed: "The Japs dared beat an English Consul!"

The seed of mischief was now sown, and the British mind was made up to find fault with Japan for any cause whatever. Then came the report of the sinking of Kow-Chung, charging the Japanese with barbarous brutality, coupled with the fact that the said vessel was at the time flying a British flag. And then arose loud and still unabated cries, which, interpreted, would simply mean: "Down with the Japs!"

In the meantime it is singularly remarkable to observe how entirely the cause which led to the outbreak of the present warfare became forgotten.

Let me explain briefly why Japan had to come to blows with China over Corea. There have so far been adduced three reasons in this respect—all foreign views:

1. The Mikado of Japan finding himself unsafe to face the angry waves of reactionary sentiments against his policy of introducing and adopting of Western ideas and civilization, had to resort to a foreign warfare to divert popular discontentment! Utterly ridiculous!

2. Count Hirobumi Ito, the present Prime Minister of Japan, seeing his influence waning, forced the war upon China, knowing that Japan would be victorious in the meantime, so that it would help bringing him back to power and popular favor at the approaching general elections in September.

3. That the traditional hatred existing between the Japanese and the Chinese had got the best of the former and plunged them into a serious warfare.

A few days ago I received a batch of Japanese newspapers, among which I may especially mention Ji-Ji Shim-po ("The Times Newspaper" of Tokio, a very influential paper), and in going through them I can find nothing but that the above insinuations are due to conscience-stricken opinions of good Christians who are much higher up in the wiles of politics than the Japanese. However that be, I find that according to Japanese papers dating as far back as July 1st last, while it is true that a general election is impending, nothing is said there of such time-serving trickeries. On the other hand those foreigners who are most clamorous and profess to know more about Japan than the Japanese themselves, never seem to have even the least knowledge of the Corean situation which is really what compelled Japan to assume her present attitude.

It should be remembered that in the east despotism does not necessarily mean that the King himself is the author of tyranny; on the contrary it always means that he is the symbol of righteousness, but that his advisers and officers, for their own ends, oppress the people. For centuries past, Corea never had a king who was not an imbecile and you will be surprised to be told that eunuchs are even at the present moment the power behind the throne there. In fact at the time of the insurrection of 1884, the first thing the rebels did was to ransack the royal court and put to death the head eunuch. Now eunuch are those unfortunate beings who are treated as mere cattle. These miserable creatures, however, scarcely ever fail to gain influence over a king for their own aggrandisement, and thus compensate themselves for their ill-treatment, and thus have always been the cause of greatest evils in China and Corea, and in fact all the Eastern nations with the exception of Japan, where this institution was never introduced. Sitting behind the screen they pull the strings, and the nobles and great officials of the state have to dance to their music. And this has been the condition of Corea, and the country has been groaning for these many years under a degraded system of tyranny and corruption, heavy taxation and official robbery, compared to which that abominable blackmailing system of the New York police under Tammanyism, as exposed at the Lexow investigation is a midget by the side of a giant. At last the patience of the people gave out. They had either to face slow starvation without a murmur as the reward for their obidence, or meet death at once by bravely planting a standard of rebellion. They chose the latter course and burst forth like a mighty forest fire; and the Corean Government soon found themselves unable to quell the rebels. In the meantime the Japanese who form by far the largest portion of foreigners residing and doing business in Corea were being put to endless troubles and losses through the inefficiencies and corrupted practices of Corean magistrates, the custom officers, etc., and when the rebellion broke out they could offer no protection or security to the safety of not only the Japanese, but to all foreigners. Then, it is understood, that the powers behind the throne, began busily corresponding with the Chinese Government in secret, requesting the latter to send over an army to put down the rebellion for them. This plan if carried out, would have meant nothing short of the absolute extermination of the Japanese rights and interests in Corea which were secured by a solemn treaty. Consequently the Japanese Government could not afford to stand by and watch the proceedings with its hands in its pocket; and they did not hesitate to send out a detachment of soldiers to Corean soil to look after Japanese interest on the one hand and on the other to force much needed reforms upon the Corean Government. China naturally felt sore at the steps Japan had taken which practically thwarted the secret designs the former had been cherishing. Under a pretense of a prolonged negotiation, China at once began pouring in troops to Corea by land and sea, and it was evident that when she had sufficiently concentrated her forces at a point of vantage she would turn round and say to Japan: "We will listen to none of your wordlings. Get out of here mighty quick, or you will get hurt!"

This was exactly the state of things, when on the 25th of July last, a sea fight occurred, which resulted in the sinking of the Kow Chung, a British vessel, flying a Union Jack, but chartered by the Chinese Government and sent out by the latter to transport their own soldiers to the seat of contention, evidently for warlike purposes, and that against the Japanese. Thus it will be seen that up to the Kow Chung incident, even the most prejudiced could not very well say that Japan has acted very improperly. For it must be borne in mind that the Japanese interests at stake in Corea are more than one hundred times greater than those of any of the European and American powers and nearly five times those of China, and she had had to adopt a firm and decisive measure, and it is utterly unreasonable to presume that the internal political or social condition of Japan had ever been a motive factor in bringing about the present warfare.

As for Japan's action in regard to the "Kow Chung," so eminent an authority as Prof. Hall, whose work on international law is known the world over, entirely exonerates Japan of all blame, in spite of "Jingo" cries throughout the entire English press world. At any rate, it will be well to wait till more facts about the case are known, to pass any judgment upon Japan. More so when it is remembered all the damaging charges against Japan so far reported come from a German colonel who has a number of years been in the employ of Li Hung Chang, and whose sympathies are entirely with the Chinese.

K. T. TAKAHASHI.

Death Roll Increased.

LINCOLN, Neb., August 11.—The list of killed in the terrible railway accident which occurred yesterday has been swelled to 20. The names furnished by the coroner last night are as follows: Dr. C. H. Pinney, Council Bluffs; J. D. Matthews, commercial man, Omaha; Harry Moore, Kansas City; Ike Depew, engineer, Council Bluffs; W. O. Hambell, lawyer, Fairbury, Neb.; C. Stannard, conductor, St. Joseph; John Munger, grain dealer, Omaha; H. R. Peters, merchant, Council Bluffs; H. F. Serenike, lawyer, Lincoln, Neb.; two unknown farmers, two unknown men, Charles Unruhue, mother and son, Jensen, Neb.; J. B. Edd, merchant, Pawnee, Neb.; M. Beaver, merchant, Pawnee; two unknown farmers from Jansen, Neb.

Those marked as unknown are those passengers known to have been on the train by the brakeman and unaccounted for.

The Bomb in Chicago.

CHICAGO, August 11.—What is supposed to have been an attempt to blow up part of Packingtown occurred Thursday night. A bomb was exploded in a waggon load of empty boxes near Armour's Packing House at 42nd street and Packers Avenue right in the heart of the Stock Yards. The explosion occurred in one of Goodwillie & Co's. waggons filled with empty boxes, which are left every evening for the benefit of the packers. The report was like that of a cannon, but the only damage to property was the destruction of the waggon and the load of boxes, which were reduced to kindling-wood.

The Situation at Bluefields.

NEW YORK, August 11.—A Colombia special says: The Nicaraguans about Bluefields are inflicting terrible cruelties, it is reported, upon the Mosquito Indians and the Jamaican negroes taken prisoners. It is believed the Nicaraguans intend to destroy the fruit crop, so as to financially cripple the Indians.

The whole coast is in a state of anarchy. The taking of Bluefields by the Nicaraguans was not attended with bloodshed.

Dried Horse: Not Beef.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, August 11.—It has just been discovered here that a local firm has been slaughtering cheap ranch horses, the flesh of which is made into "dried beef." The product is all shipped to Jersey City. The proprietors say that they convert 1100 horses daily into "dried beef." They buy the horses for less money on the ranges than cattle can be had for.

Another Visit in '95.

LONDON, August 11.—The Emperor of Germany has accepted the invitation of the Queen on behalf of himself and the Empress to visit Osborne House in 1895, when his visit will be less private than it has been on the present occasion.

A Duel to Death.

CITY OF MEXICO, August 10.—In a duel with pistols last evening Senor Jose Verastegui, chief of the Government Stamp Department, was killed by Francis Romero, a well known Congressman.

KINGSTON, August 11.—(Special)—The Grand Lodge of Oddfellows concluded its business yesterday. Hamilton was chosen as the next place of meeting.

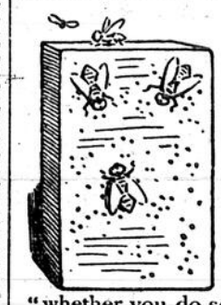

The Hail was Terrific.

BOSTON, August 11.—The worst hail-storm in its history, prevailed in the town of Revere, Thursday. Hail stones fell that by actual measurement varied from ¾ to 1¼ inches in diameter. In an incredibly short time, the streets and fields were as white as they ever are in winter. The hail fell five minutes before rain came. Garden plants were stripped of their leaves and foliage; fruit was cut from the trees and many windows were broken. More than 1000 pains of glass were smashed in one green-house. The teamsters had a hard time with their horses and runaway were numerous.

MR. JONCAS AT GASPE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

GASPE, Que., August 10.—Mr. Joncas has just paid a flying visit to this section of Gaspé Sound. He addressed meetings of his constituents at Newport, Pabos, Grand River and Cape Cove. He was unfortunately recalled by telegram to Quebec as he was preparing to visit other sections of this county. The thundering cannon of Fort Ramsay announced his arrival at Gaspé Basin, where he was met by a large number of friends. Mr. Joncas' parliamentary conduct meets with hearty approval in this county, and Parliament on the demand of Minister of Public Works, Ottawa, Hon. Mr. Ouimet has shown interest in Gaspé by granting a fair allowance for harbor improvements at Pabos, Grand River, the northern end of Gaspé and Magdalen Islands and Surveys at Fox river and Griffin Cove.

"Well," said the bright woman who had asked for Pearline, to the grocer who wanted to sell her some imitation of it, "whether you do sell more of these other things or not, there must be something in Pearline which makes the flies avoid it. I notice that all the Pearline packages are clean and fresh. All the others are fly-specked!" This is a true story. Everything is true that we print about Pearline. The thing in Pearline that keeps flies off is its popularity. It doesn't stay on the shelves long enough to become soiled.

When women want washing made easy, without any risk of harm, they must have Pearline. 427 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

MORE ABOUT KIM-OK-KIUN.

He Was Opposed to the Chinese Element.

HONG CHONG WOO'S VILLAINOUS ACT.

Poor Kim's Body Utilized to Make a Fortune.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE STAR.]

SEOUL, Corea, July 15, 1894.—One of the causes of the trouble between Japan and China, and the beginning, in fact, of the present rebellion in Corea, was the assassination of Kim Ok Kiun at Shanghai. Kim Ok Kiun after his famous conspiracy in Corea fled to Japan, and he was for a long time under the protection of the Japanese government. He was inveigled over to Shanghai, and was there assassinated by a friend of the King of Corea. Japan almost claimed him as a subject, and she thought that his murderer and his remains should have been carried to Tokio. Li Hung Chang aided the Coreans in transporting them to this place, and the maltreatment of the body of Kim was probably foreseen by Li Hung Chang when he gave the order for the Chinese vessel of war to carry the body to Corea. This country is a strange mixture of barbarism and civilization. It is almost incredible that these people whose souls are full of poetry, whose tastes are, I believe, naturally refined, and who pride themselves on being disciples of Confucius should act in the way they did with Kim Ok Kiun. His body was brought here to Corea. It was cut into pieces and the different parts of it have been carried over the country and hung up as a warning to traitors above the biggest gates of the largest of the Corean cities. Seoul went mad with joy when the news came of the assassination. Business was suspended, and the court devoted itself to feasting and dancing. I am told that 150 of those frail professional maidens known as gesang or dancing girls were brought into the palace in a single night, and when I came here the other day from Chemulpo I passed one of these almond-eyed beauties going back home after her carousel at the capital. She was on horse-back, riding astride, and she had a couple of servants with her.

The tale of Kim Ok Kiun's life and death reads more like a romance of the dark ages than the story of actual doings in this year of our Lord eighteen ninety-four. It will have a great influence upon Corea's future, and in it are comprised events which have materially affected the governments of this part of the world. China and Japan are mixed up in it, and it is largely the cause of the war clouds which are now hovering over Asia. Russia is deeply concerned by it, and England is now trembling at the possibility of its results upon her Indian empire. This little land of Corea is the key to Easter Asia. If the Czar gets his hold upon it, China will probably be subjected by the Russians, and a door will be opened for a Russian army into Hindoostan and Burmah. Corea is within only a few hours' sail of Japan. It is separated from China by a wall of stakes. The lower boundary of Siberia touches it, and Russia, Japan and China would all be glad to call Corea heirs. The most famous statesman of the Japanese empire were, it is said, behind Kim Ok Kiun's rebellion, and it is charged that a Japanese led the rebels in the fights with the king's troops of a few days ago.

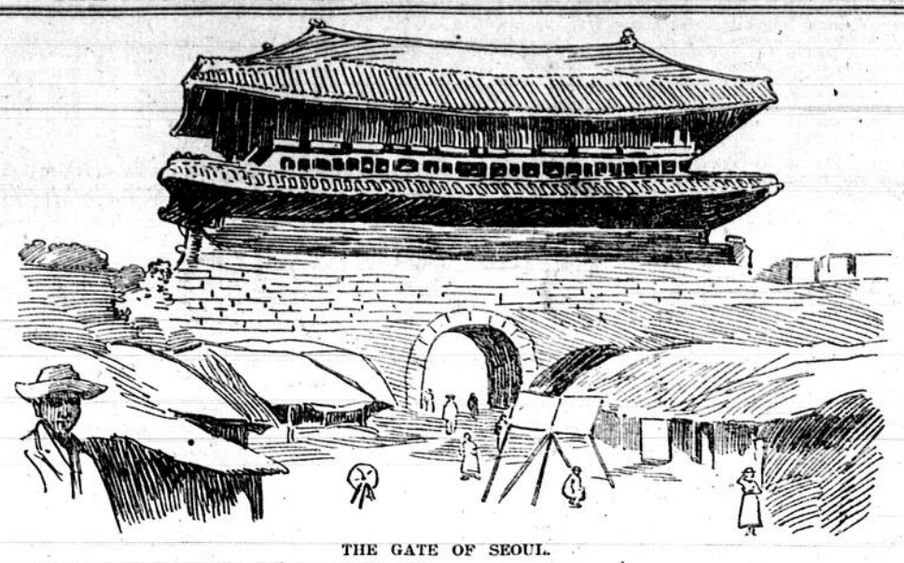

The rebellion of ten years ago and the rebellion of to-day are in the interests of modern progress, as far as the Japanese are concerned, and there is no doubt but that Corea will come out of the fight in a better condition than she has ever been in the past. Kim Ok Kiun got his idea of changing the Corean government and of the introduction of western civilization through his residence in Japan. He saw what had been done there, and he tried to play the same game in Corea. Less than a generation ago Japan was in almost as barbarous a condition as China is to-day. It was ruled by feudal lords, and their soldiers went about maltreating the common people as they pleased. The mikado was merely a puppet in the hands of the army, and the real ruler was the commander-in-chief of the troops. Now Japan is one of the civilized lands of the face of the globe. It has a postal system as good as ours. It has adopted the national banking system. Its common schools and universities are everywhere. Its people have their parliament and every Japanese has his rights. The cities turn out newspapers by the million a year, and property is safe. The country is making money. It is one of the richest on the globe, and its public debt is practically nothing. The story of its change is the most wonderful page of history. There is nothing like it. In the space of less than thirty years it has jumped further on the road to civilization than any other nation has done in centuries, and today it is more civilized than any country outside of Europe, except the United States. It has a fine army and a powerful navy, and it is a giant which may make China, notwithstanding her millions, kneel. This revolution was accomplished by Japanese statesman, men who held such positions as Kim Ok Kiun held in Corea, and it was from them that Kim got his idea of revolutionizing his own country.

Corea, like Japan, was for years shut out from the rest of the world. Foreigners dared not land upon its shores. No one knew anything about the land, in fact, until twelve years ago, when our own Admiral Shufeldt made the first treaty and opened the country to the civilized world. Commodore Perry, you know, opened Japan, and the fact that America was the first to open Corea and that it has always been friendly to the country is one of the reasons why the king would like to have the United States step in and help him in his present trouble. Before Corea had been opened, however, Kim Ok Kiun had told the king of the wonderful changes that were going on in Japan. He had fled there secretly in order to study is civilization, and, in connection with another Corean named So Kwang Pom, had spent some years in the country. They came back with with the idea of inducing the king to adopt the new civilization. At this time, however, the king's father was practically the ruler of Corea. He is a bad man, and he hates Christianity and western methods. He killed thousands of native Christians, and he charged Kim with trying to introduce Christianity into Corea. The result was that Kim came near losing his head, and he had to flee. The king's father, in fact fomented a rebellion, and during this the Chinese troops were called by him into Corea nominally to protect the kingdom. He had all along favored China, and during this rebellion, he tried to have the queen killed. He failed in this, and it was through her family and friends that the revolution did not succeed and the king was made the real ruler of the people. The king's father was banished. He has since returned to Corea, and I saw him riding in state the other day through the main street of Seoul.

After the rebellion was over Kim Ok Kiun and So Kwang Pom came back here. They added, I think, in making the treaty with the United States, and began to plan for the introduction of modern civilization. Ambassadors were sent to Washington, and they returned full of new ideas and schemes for the modernization of the country. The chief of these ambassadors was Prince Min Yong Ik, who is related to both king and queen, and who was one of the most influential of the progressionists. The foreigners from all the greatest nations established themselves at the capital, and Corea seemed to be on the same road as Japan. Kim had at this time the implicit confidence of his majesty. He was head of the colonization department, was vice-president of the foreign office and had undertaken the establishment of a modern postal system for the country. He had begun to build a mint. Electric lights had been ordered from America for the palace, and a body of Corean cadets had been sent from Japan and drilled by the soldiers there. They had come back, and the king had given them important positions in the palace. The Chinese instructors of the troops had been dismissed, and gatling guns were ordered from America.

In the meantime, the anti-foreign spirit began to rise. The Chinese saw that they and their civilization were losing ground every day. They felt that Corea was slipping away from them, and they did all they could to foment trouble. They soon had a party in their favor. Prince Min Yong Ik changed his policy, and leaned toward the Chinese, and the country was in a short time divided upon the lines of progress and anti-progress, or, in other words, upon those of China and Japan. It in divided in the same way to-day. China represents the old regime, Japan stands in the place of modern progress and civilization. There are two parties now, as there were then, and it may be said that these parties are headed by the families of the king and queen. The queen's family is very strong in Corea. The chief officials who have been squeezing the country to death belong to it, and I am told that they favor the Chinese. They did so ten years ago, and it was though them that a large part of the king's revenues went to the paying of Chinese troops, who traveled about the country acting in the most impudent way. Kim Ok Kiun saw with alarm the growth of this Chinese element. As vice president of the foreign office, he had to pay the bills of many contracts which were made with the Japanese, but there was no money in the treasury. He decided to overthrow the existing government, to seize the king, and, through him, rule Corea after modern methods. He had influential friends to help him, and his conspiracy came to a head just about ten years ago.

It was the night of December 4, 1884. The new postal service had just been opened. The first mail had been sent that day from here to the sea coast at Chemulpo and the new postmaster general was giving a dinner in honor of the event. The leading foreigners had rushed in and taken up ernment, and it is only through them that his life has been preserved so long.

The true story of Kim Ok Kium's taking off has not been told. I get it almost direct from his assassin. He is now nominally in prison and he cannot be brought into the presence of the king until thirty days from the time when his hands have touched a dead body. This is according to Corean custom. He is well treated, however, and when a month has passed every one expects that he will be called to court and receive a high official position for his bloody murder. This man's life would make a plot for a dime novel, and his assassination of Kim was done, not because he hated him, but in order that he might carry out a pet scheme of vengeance, which has I am told, been the mainspring of his actions for years. The man who gave me my information is a Corean official from the northern part of the country, who is a close friend of the assassin and who was in Seoul at the time of Kim's rebellion. He came to me almost directly after a talk with the assassin, and the man told him just how he had killed Kim at Shanghai and gloated over it as he related why he did it. A more villainous act I never heard described. The assassin's name is Hong Chong Woo. He is a man of about forty years of age. He was born near here, and when he was still young his father moved to the Island of Quelpart. Here Hong got an office. He was a very unjust official and he levied all sorts of unfair taxes. He squeezed the people until they were almost starving and at last they arose in rebellion and mobbed him. In the melee Hong's mother was killed. The story of his oppressions getting out Hong saw that he could no longer stay in Quelpart, and he went away, vowing vengeance upon the people whom he had oppressed. He told his friends that he was going to Japan and that he proposed to learn all about modern civilization. He would come back in the course of years to Seoul and get an appointment under the king. By the aid of his knowledge he would work his way up to such a position as would eventually give him the control af his old tax district at Quelpart and he would then squeeze the life out of the people who had killed his mother. This story will sound like a tale of Munchausen's when read in the United States. It does not sound so strange here. At any rate, Hong went to Japan. He studied French and Japanese there until he became a good enough French scholar to translate Corean books into the French and to make money out of them. With this money he went to Paris, and he landed there with only $12 in his pocket. His knowledge of French and Corean gave him work with the missionary societies of the Catholic church and he also did work and became the friend of Pere Hyacinthe. He accumulated money and after a time returned to Japan. In the meantime the rebellion of Kim Ok Kiun had occurred. Kim was staying in Yokohama, protected by Japanese guards: Hong saw that through killing him he might gain the favor of the king and get the office which would accomplish his scheme of vengence. He sought Kim out. He wormed his way into his confidence. He pretended to want to overthrow the Corean government. At the same time he privately told the minister from Corea to Tokio that he thought Kim ought to be killed and that he was ready to do it. The legation became convinced of his sincerity and they first attempted with him to take Kim to Corea alive. They gave him a dinner at a tea house in Yokohama, where there were plenty of geishas and plenty of wine. The scheme was to get him drunk, propose a ride to cool off, to capture him during the ride, carry him to a ship and take him to Corea. Everything went well up to the time of getting into jinrikishas for the ride. Here it failed, because the men from the Corean legation were not on time.

Then Hong planned the assassination at Shanghai. He had great trouble in getting Kim to leave Japan, and it was only through persuading him that he had the money by which he could organize another revolution in Corea that he got him to go. Kim thought that if he had ten thousand dollars he could get enough Japanese troops to go with him to Corea to conquer the country. He knew that the Corean soldiers were of no good, and realized that the people were on the verge of rebellion. Hong pretended he had the money in a French bank at Shanghai, and he showed Kim a forged check upon this bank for five thousand dollars. He told Kim that there were many Russians in Shanghai, and that during his stay in France he had learned many things about the schemes of Russia. He said that the Russians were building the Trans-Siberian railroad in order to take Corea first and afterward China. He said that they were looking about for a good strong Corean general to help them, and that by meeting the Russians at Shanghai, Kim could in all probability have the command of their forces. In this and other ways he at last persuaded him to leave Japan. He acted so that Kim had full faith in him, going so far as to even present him with a sword cane, and telling him he must have this always with him, so that he could use it if attacked by Coreans at Shanghai. On the trip Hong paid all the bills and he furnished Kim with money for his expenses at Shanghai. The two had rooms at one of the good hotels, and it was in Kim's own room that Hong shot him. Kim was lying down in his chair reading and Hong walking up and down the room pretending that he was much interested in a book. During the walk he got behind Kim's chair and then pulled a revolver and shot him again and again, killing him at the third or fourth shot. You have all read how the Chinese authorities protected him, and how by Li Hung Chang's order both he and the dead remains of Kim were taken to Corea. All this was barbarous enough, but perhaps the most barbarous of all remains to be told.

I refer to the treatment of Kim Ok Kiun's body. It was landed in Corea shortly before I reached here, and I sailed up the Han river the other day past the spot upon which he was mutilated. The body was taken by the Chinese vessel of war to a port near Chemulpo, and it was brought up this river by a deputation from the king. There is a point about three miles from Seoul, where Kim crossed this stream during his flight from the country after his rebellion. In a hut beside this place the body was left over night. The next day it was taken from its coffin, stripped of its clothes, and laid face downward upon the ground. Then a murderer—murderers always perform the part of executioners in Corea—cut the corpse into six pieces with a blunt sword.

"An eye witness has told me how it was done," said he.

First the head was chopped off, then the left hand was cut off at the wrist, next the right hand at the wrist, and then the left and right feet. The hair was unloosed from the top knot, which ornaments every Corean crown, and the head was tied by the hair with the feet and hands to the crossings of three poles, which were propped against each other like those of a tent. The bloody trunk was left lying on the ground below these. Then upon the coffin; which stood near by, and upon the poles, were fastened strips of paper, bearing in large Corean characters the crime of Kim and a denunciation of his deed. For three days the remains were left in this condition, and the Japanese photographer of Seoul took a picture of them, which lies before me, and I have had a sketch made by my Corean artist from the photograph. At the end of the three days the remains were taken down, and they are now well on their way through all parts of Corea. They are carried by the king's royal couriers and six of these men have each a piece which they are bearing to and from the governors of the six leading provinces of the country. Each governor will receive his portion of the dead body with fitting ceremonies, and for three days it will be hung over the main gate of his capital city as a warning to traitors. After this time it will be taken down and will be given back to the courier, who will carry it to the mountain of Cho Pi San. This mountain is about sixty miles from Seoul. Here the different couriers will meet some weeks from now and deposit the remains, which time, decay and the birds have left of the body. They will throw it on the spot, which is considered the most disgraceful of this dishonorable mountain. It is, I am told, the only mountain in Corea which does not point its head toward Seoul, and this lack of consideration for the majesty of the king probably causes it to be the place upon which the remains of all executed rebels are thrown.

One of the most curious things that I have heard in connection with Kim Ok Kiun's execution, and one which gives a good insight into Corean character and the condition of the country, was in relation to the couriers who are carrying about this dead human flesh. A prominent Corean said to me yesterday: "These couriers will earn a great deal of money by carrying Kim's body from place to place."

"How so?" said I, "I suppose the king pays them well."

"No," was the reply. "They don't get it from the king. The king will know nothing about it, but they will earn it on the road. Each courier is, you know, on the king's business, and according to law, it would be almost death to retard him. The couriers will travel very slowly and they will levy a tax on every man they meet. Take, for instance, the man who is carrying the bloody and now half-decomposed head. He has to take it to one of the southern provinces, and he could go there in ten days. It will probably take him a month, and he will earn money all the way. Suppose he comes to the door of a rich man's house. He will stop there, knock on the door, and tell the rich man that he is tired, and that he would like to rest in the neighborhood for a day or so. He will lay the bloody head down on the man's parlor floor, and will order him to keep it for him until he is ready to go. The man will not dare to strike him, for he is the king's courier. He will cry, 'Oh, take it away! Take it away!' and he will earn much money from that man. A little further on he may meet a peddler with a pack on his back. He will ask the peddler to carry the head for him, and the peddler will be glad to pay to get free. You know, one of the best businesses in this country is in salt. There are salt merchants in all the villages. The salt is kept in big bags, and as it pays taxes, it is very high. When the courier comes to a town he will enter such a store, perhaps, and says to the merchant, "I find this head is not keeping well, and I will leave it here for a day to preserve it." He will thereupon thrust it well down into one of the merchant's salt bags, and he has to earn a good deal of money if he takes it way. He thus goes on earning money from every man he meets, and he will do better on the return trip than at the outset. The more decayed the head gets, the more he will earn, and at the end of the journey he will have a fortune."

I give this man's conversation in nearly his own words. Such blackmailing seemed to him perfectly legitimate, and it is through blackmailing schemes that a large part of the money of Corea is "earned."

JAPANESE CONSUL AND WIFE AT NEW YORK.

SHINA, THE NEW YORK CONSUL'S DAUGHTER.

SURE JAPAN WILL WIN.

The Opinion of the New York Japanese Consul.

"I am confident of Japan's triumph," said Mr. Hashiguchi, Consul-General of Japan in New York, yesterday, to a reporter. The Consul smiled joyously as he exhibited a despatch from Japan announcing the capture of Chinese entrenchments at Shan Yeug, Corea, by the Japanese, and the killing of five hundred Chinese soldiers. "We lost only seventy men and five officers," said Mr. Hashiguchi, cheerfully. Then he lighted a fresh cigar and gazed benevolently at nothing in particular. He seemed to be looking at an open-and-shut cinch. There is nothing bloodthirsty about the Japanese Consul, but he does like to see the right triumph.

"It will be no short task to thrash them," he resumed at length. "But we're doing as well as could be expected. We've been scoring bulls-eyes all along the line, by sea and land. But it may take all summer to make them learn their place—those Chinese." The reporter wondered if the Consul had General Grant's celebrated remark in mind. "You see, China may have more men-of-war than we've got, but, then, oh my! how we can handle ours! We've been out in the world and learned a thing or two. See? Our sailors and soldiers have been drilled in European methods. What we lack in numbers we more than make up in skill." The Consul took a few puffs from his cigar and then, smiling thoughtfully, went on: "We would gladly have accepted arbitration, but China refused. What is it your newspapers are always saying about keeping off the grass? Well, China wouldn't keep off the grass, isn't that it? By the way, I see that the Chinese Consul thinks that China will win. I don't blame him. Why shouldn't he? No. I've never called on him. I have intended to, you know, but really I have not had time. Just at present I don't think I shall be able to drop in on him soon. I should like to know him, but things are strained just at present. It's no time for gayety."

Here the Consul-General showed the reporter a picture reproduced on this page and also a photograph of Little Shina.

"The word 'Shina' means China," explained Mr. Hashiguchi. "My little girl—I have two others, older than she, who are in Japan—was born when I was Secretary of Legation and Charge d'Affairs at Pekin. We named her Shina in compliment to the great country with which we are now at war. She loves Central Park. The people who see her there are very nice to her. My wife and my little girl love New York. Everybody is very kind to them."

Mr. Hashiguchi's attention was called to the Chinese Consul's expression of dislike for newspaper reporters. He chuckled sarcastically. "I love the American newspaper men," he exclaimed. "They are good fellows. I am always glad to tell them all that I possibly can. You see, I have not disguised from you in any degree that I think we have the Chinese on the run—though it may be a long run." Then he smiled joyfully again and lighted a fresh cigar.

More Milwaukee Smallpox Riots.

MILWAUKEE, August 11.—In another riot Thursday night, when the police attempted to prevent a mass-meeting called to protest against the action of the health authorities, about thirty men were injured and eleven arrests were made. A number of police officers were also hurt. Probably 4000 residents attempted to hold another mass-meeting in violation of the proclamation issued yesterday by Mayor Kochin, which he forbade the holding of public gatherings on the South side. The people had been made defiant by the incendiary speech at the mass-meetings on Wednesday, and when the small squad of police tried to probably disperse the crowd, they resisted with the above result.

THE JUDGE'S STORY.

Hon. John M. Rice tells how He was Cured of Sciatic Rheumatism—Crippled for Six Years.

The Hon. John M. Rice, of Louisa, Lawrence county, Kentucky, has for many years served his native county and state in the legislature at Frankfort and Washington, and until his retirement was a noted figure in political and judicial circles. A few days ago a Kentucky Post reporter called upon Judge Rice, who in the following words related the history of the causes that led to his retirement: "It is just about six years since I had an attack of rheumatism, slight at first, but soon developing into sciatic rheumatism, which began first with acute shooting pains in the hips, gradually extending downward to my feet. My condition became so bad that I eventually lost all power of my legs, and then the liver, kidneys and bladder, and in fact my whole system became deranged. I tried the treatment of many physicians, but receiving no lasting benefit from them, I went to Hot Springs, Ark. I was not much benefited by some months stay there, when I returned home. In 1891, I went to the Silurian Springs, Wakeshaw, Wis. I stayed there some time, but without improvement. Again I returned home, this time feeling no hopes of recovery. The muscles of my limbs were now reduced by atrophy to mere strings. Sciatic pains tortured me terribly, but it was the disordered condition of my liver that was I felt gradually wearing my life away. Doctors gave me up, all kinds of remedies had been tried without avail, and there was nothing more for me to do but resign myself to fate.

"I lingered on in this condition, sustained almost entirely by stimulants, until April, 1893. One day I saw an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. This was something new, and as one more drug after so many others could do no harm, I was prevailed upon to try the Pink Pills. The effect of the pills was marvellous, and I could soon eat heartily, a thing I had not done for years. The liver began to perform its functions, and has done so ever since. Without doubt the pills saved my life, and while I do not crave notoriety I cannot refuse to testify to their worth."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post-paid, on receipt of price (50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50,) by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

Our Policy Compels the Lowest Price on Everything at All Times.

Many people wonder at the magnitude of our business—more wonder how we sell so cheap—but it is small wonder when our clear cut, determined and strictly adhered to policy is understood.

Nine years ago we started with the intention of underselling all others.

We have grown to what we are by persistently and constantly underselling all others—never allowing any one to undersell us on anything. No matter what others may offer from time to time, even if offered below cost, our policy compels us to not only meet the price, but to always go them one better.

Such a policy, backed by the largest stock of machinery belting and mill supplies in Canada, bought for spot cash in the "United States" at Panic Prices, must win, does win and shall win for ever—that is why we lead.

Will the present trouble between China and Japan affect the Tea Market?

W. D. STROUD & SONS,

WHOLESALE ONLY.

As Usual, we are the First in the Market with New Teas.

We offer to the trade the only 1894 Foochow, Shanghai and Hoochow teas in the market, such as Pekoe, Congous, Panyongs, Packlings, Padraes, Saryune, besides 1440 half-chests new season's spring pickings Japan teas. These teas were shipped direct to Montreal by our representatives in China and Japan on the following steamers: SS. "Sikh" via Northern Pacific, 525 half-chests Foochow tea; per SS. "Empress of China" via Canadian Pacific, 730 half-chests Foochow, Shanghai and Japan teas; per SS. "Victoria" via Canadian Pacific, 1160 half-chests Foochow, Hoochow and Japan teas; per SS. "Empress of India," 640 half-chests Foochow, Hoochow and Japan teas.

The opening of hostilities between China and Japan can have but one effect, and that is a steady and gradual increase in the price of teas. The conflict of the two great tea producing countries of the world has already stiffened the prices, and the stoppage of cypher cables to China and Japan puts prohibitory tariff on cable orders, and even then they stand a chance of great delay. Up to this time new teas have come in very slowly, and up to date only about one-tenth on the 1894 crop has been received in the London market, and the same thing may be (generally) said of Canada.

WHOLESALE ONLY. W. D. STROUD & SONS, WHOLESALE ONLY.

CANADA'S GOOD CROPS.

EVERYTHING LOOKING WELL AND PROMISING.

The Haying Season Over—Farmers Satisfied—Weather Not to be Complained Of—Prospects.

From the following crop reports which have been received by the STAR from its correspondents throughout the country it will be seen that generally the outlook is satisfactory. The farmers express themselves as being well pleased. The weather this year, for the most part, is all that could be desired. The haying is now over and from all accounts it is the heaviest yield for some years and of excellent quality. The grain is doing well, as are also the root crops, especially the potatoes. The fruit yield in some sections will be heavy, but in others it is not up to the average.

QUEBEC.

Richmond.

The outlook of the crops in this vicinity is excellent. Early in the season there were three weeks of heavy rain while keeping up pastures and the consequent supply of dairy products, a most important item here, greatly retarded roots and grains. Hay is far above the average crop. Potatoes are turning out well with no damage to mention from bugs and no signs of rust. Grains are all looking well, far better than last year, especially fodder stuffs and silo corn. Fruits of all qualities, the coarser kinds which prevail here are a prime crop.

Point Fortune.

The hay crop here is nearly as good as last. Oats on high land are very good. The pea crop is a failure on low land, but fair on high. What wheat there is is very good. Potatoes are a splendid crop, and corn has a good appearance. The fodder corn will be a large yield. Root crops of all Kinds look well. The apple crop will be above the average.

St. Jean, Isle of Orleans.

The hay crop is double that of last year. Oats are looking well on elevated land, but have suffered from wet in the low lands. Garden fruits are plentiful and of fine quality. The apple crop promises better than for many years past. Potatoes will be a double crop this year.

Granby.

Hay in this district is more than an average crop. Too much rain in the early part of the season damaged the grain, especially on low ground. The prospects are that wheat, oats and barley will be about an average crop. The root crops are all looking well. Fruit will be an excellent crop.

Danville.

The weather has not been very favorable this year to the crops. However, hay is good and oats are an average crop. Wheat and barley look as well as last year. Potatoes promise well and apples will yield a good crop.

Abbotsford.

The hay crop in this vicinity is quite as good as last year. Also wheat, barley and oats are looking well. Potatoes are very good. The fruit crop is better than last year, but of rather poor quality.

Lakefield.

Hay is a little below last year; oats will be about an average crop, being badly rusted. Potatoes are looking very good; much better than last year. Buckwheat also is very good. The season has been very wet. The fruit crop is about twice as good as last year.

St. Henri de Mascouche.

The general crop outlook is much better than last year as to oats, barley, wheat and peas. The hay is an extra good crop. This has been a very wet season.

Ayers Flat.

The general crop outlook is fair. The hay crop is an average one, and the grain good, and will compare favorably with last year's crop. The fruit crop will only be an average one.

Chambly Basin.

The crops in this county have not been so good for several years. Hay, oats, barley and wheat are all good. Very little fruit is grown here.

ONTARIO.

Windsor.

The fall wheat crop is a little less acreage than last year, but the yield will be about the same quantity. Oats are a good crop and fully equal to last year's, which was good. Barley is a fair crop, better than last year. Beans are largely grown in the southern part of this county and are very promising. Potatoes look better than for several years. The other root crops are looking favorable. Fruit is promising a large yield, larger than ever before on account of the greatly increased acreage. Peaches will be a full crop. Apples three-quarters of a crop per acre. Pears are a good, medium crop, and grapes about eighty per cent. of last year's yield. Hay is not up to the past two years' yield. Every one praises the corn crops.

Sarnia.

The autumn wheat harvest made splendid progress under the splendid harvest weather and the crop is nearly all saved in the very best of condition. The heads are perhaps not so large as in some seasons, but the yield, except in some cases where the plants were winter-killed, will be quite up to or a little over the average. Oats promise a fine crop, but it is said are ripening a little too fast under the hot weateer. Barley looks magnificent, and promises a splendid return. The hay harvest is over, and the crop has been saved in the very finest condition. The yield is very much better than was looked for in the early part of the season, and the crop, as a whole, will be quite up to the average. Root crops are very much in need of rain. Apples are also suffering for want of rain. There are some reports of scab on the snow apples and other tender sorts, but generally the prospect is very good for a heavy apple crop this year.

Walkerton.

The hay crop in this vicinity is not so heavy as last year but is a good fair crop. The autumn wheat is very good. Early oats are good but the late oats owing the dry weather are going to be poor. The barley is a good average crop. The root crops are looking well. Fruit is better than last year. The early spring was wet and when the dry weather came the late grain got scalded.

Brampton.

Fall wheat is a better crop than last year. Spring wheat however is poor. The wet weather in the early season destroyed what promised to be an abundant crop of barley and there will only be about half a crop harvested. Peas are almost a total failure. Oats on the average are good and better than last. Hay was a good heavy crop though not quite so good as last year. Potatoes are poor this year. The small fruits were poor. Apples are better than last year and pears and plums promise large yields.

Guelph.

In the immediate vicinity of Guelph, the hay crop is a very good average. Autumn wheat and barley are being harvested and the prospects are a very fair average as to quality and quantity. Potatoes, peas and oats do not promise very much. Oats are heading out very quickly. The prospects are for a fair harvest only, and it will not quite equal last year's.

Strathroy.

The general condition of the crops in this section was not so good as during the past two seasons. Wheat suffered from the frost in June and will only average about half of last year's. Wheat, barley and peas there are will be a fair crop. Oats will also be a fair crop. Hay was poor.

Collingwood.

The hay crop off new meadows is above the average, the old meadows were fair. The farmers say they have no reason to complain. The grain crop is immense, autumn wheat especially, although in some parts hardly filled. The dry weather of the last month ripened it too fast. Farmers report the yield away above the average and express themselves well pleased.

Bowmanville.

Hay is very good, and saved in excellent condition. The barley is below the average. Oats, of which there is a large acreage sown, is only a medium crop. Wheat is looking fairly well. Early apples are only half a crop. Since the very heavy rains in May there has been very hot, dry weather.

Arnprior.

Crops are better than last year, such as wheat, barley, rye, oats and hay. Peas are not quite so good. The weather has been very good here, and prospects on the whole are far better than last year.

MARITIME.

Springhill, N. S.

So far as Cumberland County is concerned the outlook for an abundant harvest was seldom or never more promising. The people of this locality have just finished hay-making; this crop is fully one-third heavier than it was last year. In fact, farmers from outlying districts state that their hay crop is going to be twice as heavy as it was last year. The oat crop, though heavy, has been slightly damaged, some of the leaves on the stalks having the appearance of rust. Wheat and barley are unusually good this year. Potatoes and all other vegetables are in excellent condition throughout this county. The potato bugs are not so troublesome to farmers as formerly. Strawberries were never more plentiful than they were this year. Fruit trees, such as apples, plums, etc., are literally loaded to such an extent that branches require support to bear the fruit. If nothing happens, such as high winds, apples will be more abundant than any time during the last five years. The weather in this part of the country has been unusually favorable for the growth of all kinds of seeds this summer. The early spring weather was somewhat dark and cold. Towards the latter part of May it became warmer, remaining moderately warm ever since, with frequent rains, or at regular intervals. I think that the greater part of Nova Scotia will this year yield a much larger crop of hay, grain, vegetables and fruit than that of many years past.

New Castle, N. B.

The hay crop this year is better than usual, and the farmers having good weather to make it, there is an over abundance. Oats this year do not look well, and unless there is plenty of rain during this month they will be below the average. Last year the oat crop was good, more especially the late oats. True in the beginning of the season it was exceptionally dry, and the early oats were stunted and burnt up before they got fairly started, while the late oats were more than good. It is almost too early in the season to express a decided opinion on the oat crop. Wheat and barley are not much grown in this county, and one never hears much about them. Last year potatoes were an abundant crop, and every one rejoiced in having plenty and to spare. This year the crop is not going to be so good, as they did not get well above the ground before the bug commenced his work, and the potato plant being so small, Parisgreen had no effect except to kill the vine. Strawberries were never so plentiful. Raspberries and blueberries have just come to market, and from all accounts are a bountiful crop. Other fruits are not grown to any great extent in this county. The season commenced here in fine shape, lots of rain and warm weather. Local showers nearly every day.

Amherst, N. S.

The general crop outlook in this vicinity is very good. The English or timothy hay is 30 per cent. better than last year. Our later or broad leaf hay on the marshes promises a better crop than it has for a number of years, owing to the quantity of snow in the ground continuously through the winter months. The grain and root crops are doing well, with the exception of oats that are blighted to a certain extent in the form of a rust on the leaves. So far the season has been very favorable to growing crops; plenty of rain and yet not any heavy storms.

Truro, N. S.

The hay crop is the best for many years, and the weather was exceedingly favorable for its harvesting. For oats there is a very promising outlook, but in some localities the aphis is doing considerable damage. On the whole, prospects point to a more than average crop. Wheat is said to be light. Barley is considerably above average. Of potatoes there is a large acreage and the outlook excellent as the ravages of the bug are less than any year since its advent, due, in a marked degree, to the efforts at extermination during the last two years. All root crops look well and point to a fair yield.

New Glasgow, N. S.

In this district the hay crop is unusually good, being above the average. Haying operations have commenced. The grain is suffering from a dry spell which will leave a short crop unless there is rain very soon, which would advance it a great deal. There is not very much fruit grown in this vicinity. It appears to be fair or a little below average.

Albert, N. B.

Hay is average crop. Oats, wheat and barley are all suffering from green lice, and will largely be a failure in this section. The drought is long continued and operates against these crops. Small fruits and fruit of all kinds are excellent. The grass is looking fine notwithstanding the dry spell.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Victoria, B. C.

The general outlook for crops this season in British Columbia is excellent, both as to quality and quantity. The floods in the Fraser River district have done an immense amount of damage, as the extent of the territory flooded, in length 100 miles and varying in breadth from 10 to 20 miles, would render unavoidable. Most of the farmers in the Delta and other flooded districts have re-seeded their land, and expect to harvest a large oat crop, though the wheat will be a failure. Fair crops of hay should also be obtained, and if the fine weather continues the root crops will give a heavy yield.

In the upper country more land has been put in cereals than in any previous year. An early spring has advanced them more quickly than usual and a very heavy harvest is looked for. The hay crop in these districts will be fully 20 per cent. greater than last year. In the lower districts of the mainland, which include those invaded by the flood, it is impossible to make a correct estimate, but whilst the oats and hay will fall little if any below last year's yield, practically no wheat or barley will be produced. On Vancouver Island crops all round are excellent, and the yield will be at least 10 per cent. greater than last season. Farmers have already commenced to gather in their hay, which is of fine quality. Oats look wonderfully well; they are long in the straw and very full in the ear, and nothing but a continued wet spell can prevent an enormous yield. The hop crop throughout the province promises well. This will soon be one of the most important agricultural industries of British Columbia, and a few more seasons like the present, which has been so favorable to this fickle plant, will induce many landowners to make hop-raising a specialty. The area under hops is at least a fifth greater than in 1893, and the attention that has been brought to this industry will result in the yield being doubled in the next three years.

On the mainland, the potato crop in the upper country will be fair, but in the lower country it will fall much below the average. On Vancouver Island potatoes look better than ever before, and at a conservative estimate the yield on the island will be sufficiently great to supply an deficiency caused by the floods along the Fraser river lands. There will be a big crop of plums and stone fruit throughout the province, cherries promising especially well. There will be few, if any, pears, except in one or two small districts, and the apple crop, save in isolated spots, will be a complete failure, the woolly apis being prevalent everywhere and having played havoc with the buds. On the island, where apples constitute a greater proportion of the orchards, this will prove a serious loss.

Wellington B. C.

The crops on the Vancouver Island are invariably good. This year we had a very wet spring which lasted until June, which I believe has effected the orchard crops, apples, pears and cherries. Then we have had a very dry season since the rain stopped. We dont raise much wheat on the Island, oats do very well and small fruit of every description does exceedingly well. Our raspberries, black currents, red currents, white currents, gooseberries, for quantity and quality can compare with any place. The hay crop will compare very favorably with any place in Canada. I cannot say that we have a larger or smaller crop of hay this year, but we can depend on good crops all the time.

MANITOBA.

Portage la Prairie.

The crops in this district are fully five days ahead of last year. The outlook of wheat is good, as good as it ever was. Oats are not looking well, as they were affected by drought, being sown later than the wheat. They will hardly be an average crop. Barley is only a fair crop. We have about the same acreage in crop this year as last, perhaps a little more wheat and oats than heretofore. The proportion of oats to wheat is trifling, the latter being the principal product. The cultivated hay crop is light, being about three-quarters of an average crop, but wild hay is plentiful and grew very rank. Potatoes do not promise to be good, as they were affected by drought. Garden and farm vegetables are good. We had a wet spring.

Carman, Man.

Wheat is looking well and prospects are good. Oats and barley are very heavy. Of hay the timothy and high lands is moderate, but low land is plentiful. Fruits of all kinds are scarce. There have been some very light showers. Crops compare favorably with former years and are ahead of two years ago.

Special Notices.

Shrewd investors have been quietly buying lots in Montreal Annex during the past two weeks in order to secure the advance in prices which will accrue from the completion of the Park Avenue electric, and the improvements which are now being carried out. A controlling interest in the Company which owns this beautiful suburb has been secured by some of our wealthiest and most enterprising citizens, who realise that Montreal must have more than one first class suburb, and who are determined to make the Annex a rival of Cote St. Antoine. The effect of their influence is evidenced by the rapid improvement of the property, which can be reached by both St. Lawrence and Park avenue cars in less than 15 minutes from Craig street. Beautiful modern residences are being erected, and find a ready sale. The streets are being graded, sidewalks and sewers are going in, and no expense is being spared to make the Annex attractive. Prices are less than one fourth of lots situated equal distance in Cote St. Antoine. Those who are fortunate enough to secure a lot now will reap a handsome profit. To the St. Leon Mineral Water Co., Montreal.

DEAR SIR,

For several years I have been suffering from headache, indigestion, pains in the stomach and back and sore eyes to such an extent that I was forced to quit my employment. I tried all sorts of remedies which produced no effect, when one day, being at the house of one of my friends who was using your celebrated water, I took several glasses, which did me a great deal of good, and from that time I resolved to use it. For several months I took it morning, noon and night, so that my health rapidly improved, headache, pain in the stomach and in the back disappeared. My digestion is better, my eyesight is stronger, and, in fine, I am completely cured. I give you this certificate with the hope that several people may be induced by my example to avail themselves of the advantageous qualities of St. Leon Water.

Yours, most gratefully,
MRS. AN. OUELLETTE.

THE ROADS COMMITTEE.

THE STAFF OF EMPLOYES TO BE CUT DOWN.

Only Those Retained Who Are Absolutely Necessary, and Will Have to Wait for Their Money—A Foreman's Tongue Gets Him Into Trouble.

The situation at the City Hall at two o'clock yesterday afternoon remained unchanged. There was some talk of a meeting of the various chairmen of committees in caucus to consider the position of affairs, but it did not materialize to any great extent. It is true that Ald. Hurteau was skimming through the civic corridors all morning, and Ald. Stevenson, of the Fire Committee, also loomed up, but there was no gathering of forces and no outward appearance of anything having been decided in the peculiar premises. The Roads Committee was called for two o'clock for the purpose of discharging the whole staff of laborers in the employ of the department, but the only member to arrive in time was Ald. Lyall. Ald. Prefontaine turned up at twenty minutes past two, giving as his excuse that he had just returned from the funeral of the Hon. Mr. Geoffrion. The others present were Ald. Kennedy, Jacques, Grothe, Turner, Renaud, Brunet and the City Surveyor.

"I have looked over the situation," said the chairman, "and have come to the conclusion that we cannot put a stop to the work which is absolutely necessary. We must take that responsibility on ourselves. Of course we must instruct the City Surveyor to discharge all men who can possibly be dispensed with. This is what must be done."

Ald. Lyall agreed with the chairman. The matter was dropped to permit of the reading of the minutes. Ald. Brunet made a bitter attack on Foreman Rochon. He claimed that he constantly denounced the aldermen, particularly the members of the committee, was too friendly with contractors, and was not fit for his position. "I demand his instant dismissal," concluded Ald. Brunet.

The City Surveyor—"This is news to me. If you had told me I would have attended to it. He is a good man for his work."

Ald. Brunet—"No, he is not, and I can prove it. I do not think it necessary to tell you about it."

The Chairman—"As regards Rochon, from the reports I find he is a good man, but as regards his tongue he talks too much. He says as regards the present money difficulty, that if the aldermen put less in their pockets there would be more for the public. I think an employé of the department should control his tongue better."

The City Surveyor—"Perhaps the man has enemies; let him be suspended pending an investigation."

Ald. Brunet—"I say no. Let him be dismissed at once."

The Chairman — "There have been frequent complaints about this man, particularly of late. In fact he has been a spoiled child. I would suspend him until he can make an explanation."

Ald. Brunet—"No, my motion is there for dismissal, and will have to stand."

It was resolved that Rochon be suspended until further orders.

The City Surveyor presented the following letter indicating the necessities of the Department in the matter of cash:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to enclose you a statement of appropriations required for the balance of the year, amounting to $180,854.52.

"I give you a detailed list of what employés are absolutely necessary; at the same time I cannot guarantee that the work will be efficiently done, nor can we, with this appropriation, do any new work, but only repair and try and prevent accidents on sidewalks and roadways.

"The squares can only be kept partly in order, and you cannot expect them to look as well as they do now. With this appropriation, if granted, you must refuse the application of citizens for new work.

"I do not consider it fair to the Road Department that we should be at all blamed in having exceeded our appropriation, as the Council imposed on us the duty of keeping the streets clean for the Montreal Street Railway Company's tracks, which amounted to $44,903.52, of which amount the city will collect, I hope, at least two-thirds. This should be made, as I have repeatedly asked, a special work.

"If I had known on the first of January that the city could not afford to keep the winter roads in as good order as formerly, I could easily have reduced the force, and the public would have had to be satisfied, as it was owing to a severe winter that our snow cost us more than usual.

"If the Road Committee decide to stop all work, I must request you to pass a resolution to that effect, as the City Comptroller has refused to pay any men after this date.

"This appropriation does not allow us to keep our Outremont quarry open, and I shall be obliged to discharge all the men and close the quarry. Yours truly,

"PERCIVAL W. ST. GEORGE,
"City Surveyor.

"Note—Stopping of work will cause the discharge of 988 men and 279 horses."

As a rider to the communication was the below tabulated statement giving the sums of money required for the work of the Department from July 31 to the last of the year:

Service in Road Department	$ 3,025 00
Permanent force	26,818 00
Maintenance of roads	10,000 00
Cleaning and watering streets	33,256 00
Wooden sidewalks	18,898 00
Squares	6,754 00
Repairs to paving	500 00
Repairs to sewers	5,381 00
Shaft cleaning	2,000 00
Private drain connections	500 00
Street names and numbers	700 00
Removal of snow balance from last winter	16,252 50
Winter river roads	176 13
Damages	500 00
Contingencies	500 00
Horse keep	5,000 00
Inundation work	700 00
	$130,969 63
Accounts unpaid	4,990 70
Removing snow for Montreal Street Railway Company	44,903 19
Total	$180,854 52

The City Surveyor, after his communication was read, went into a lengthy defence of his department. He claimed that when the Roads was given its appropriation the sum of $43,219 had already been expended for snow removal, and the Council, when it granted this appropriation, provided only $20,000 for this work, or $16,000 less than what had already been expended. Thus, taking into consideration the cost of removal of snow from the Street Railway tracks, which the city did at a cost of $44,903, the department had been saddled with an expenditure of $65,000, for which it had not received one cent.

The chairman suggested that the Council be asked to give to the Committee whatever sums were received from the Street Railway for snow cleaning.

The question of discharging employés was then taken up, being introduced by a letter from the city treasurer to the effect that he could not honor any warrants if the expropriations were expended. It was resolved that all employés not absolutely necessary be dismissed, and that those who were retained should be informed that they must be content to wait for their money until such times as it could be paid them. The committee then adjourned.

Where is the Report on the Water Works?

To the Editor of the STAR:

SIR,—Can you tell why Mr. Keefer's report on the Water Works has not been printed? Last winter it was asked for by Ald. Prefontaine in the most urgent manner and now that it has been in the hands of the Council for some six months it has been kept in the dark. It is rumored that the Water and Power Company do not want the citizens to see it for fear it may stop the expropriation deal which the Council is promoting in order to repeal the electric light and Street Railway jobs. Let us have the report and stop this hole and corner work.

Children Enjoy Themselves.

The "Free Kindergarten Children" were tendered an "at home" yesterday afternoon at the House of Refuge. Mrs. Maclagen, the kindergartener, and her two assistants, Miss Maclagen and Miss Hoerner, gave their assistance in the hope that the many young people there would enjoy themselves. In this hope they were not disappointed. They were first placed in a circle surrounding their mistress and made to sing and play. Afterwards they were brought in to another room and a light but substantial lunch placed before them, this being due to the kindness of Mesdames Shaw, Maltby, Fuhrer, Barlow, Innes, Hoerner and Miss Maclagen.

THE FILTEAU CASE.

That Trouble Between Two Water Department Employes.

The trial of Henri Filteau, chief clerk of the Water Department, for assault on Alphonse Marchand, messenger of the Department, took place in the Recorder's Court yesterday afternoon. Mr. Descarries, M. P.P., appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Marechal for the defence. The first witness examined was the complainant himself, who swore that on the afternoon of August 1 he went into Mr. Filteau's room at five o'clock to close the windows. This was in obedience to his instructions, for all windows in the department were to be closed before leaving. Mr. Filteau ordered him to leave the window open, but he went on with his work, when Mr. Filteau came up to him and tried to stop him. The former then picked up a cane and broke it with a heavy blow on complainant's head. Before this Mr. Filteau had called him insulting names, such as beggar, rag-picker and that he was a fit subject for Longue Pointe Asylum.

Mr. Frank Dowd, secretary of the department, testified that it was customary for the office to close at five o'clock.

Mr. A. B. Poitvin was an eye-witness of the assault. He heard Mr. Filteau call complainant names, and they both left the office. Witness saw through the window Filteau strike Marchand.

The defendant himself then went into the witness box and swore that Marchand had first caught him by the coat and raised his arm threateningly. Witness felt positive that Marchand was going to strike him, so used his cane in self-defence.

Deputy Recorder Bourgouin took the case en délibéré.

THEATRE OPENINGS.

The Royal to Open With "She" On Monday—The Queen's on the Monday Following—"The Players' Club."

"She," one of A. Y. Pearson's most successful productions, will be the attraction at the Theatre Royal for the week commencing Monday next, with afternoon matinees every day. "She" lays claim to be the only play of its kind that has ever been produced, in so much as its characters are a combination of the mystical and real. Never before have theatre-going or reading people found a character like Ayesha, a woman whose beauty lasted for over 2000 years. When Haggard gave his story "She" to the world it created a stir in literature. Critics thought him crazy, many readers thought him grand. The story admits of strong dramatic situations and wonderful scenic effects. The company presenting the play is headed by Miss Ethel Raynes, a young California actress. The rest of the company are said to be above the average. The Royal has been thoroughly overhauled during the holiday season and several important improvements have been made with a view to the increased comfort of the patrons of the house.

The Queen's.

The Queen's Theatre opens on Monday week with "Jane."

Sohmer Park.

Although Sohmer Park this week was considered good, the attractions for next week are much greater, and should draw crowded houses. In addition to the strong men, Louis and Peter Cyr, Deseve, the great violinist, and the Jordans as flying trapeze artists, there will be the extra attraction of the Japanese troop.

"Players' Club."

Montreal has a "Players' Club." It was decided at an informal meeting held Messrs. George J. Sheppard, Sidney Ollendorff and others to form a club for the study of elocution and the drama, purposing the production of a series of good plays during the coming season, with a charitable object in view. After some discussion it was concluded best to establish a free coal fund, not by appealing directly to the purses of those philanthropically inclined, but rather to give dramatic productions of high character, which of themselves would be well worth the price of admission. Subsequently the Club was duly organized with a strong membership of those already well known in amateur and professional theatricals in this city. The objects of the club may be gathered from the address by Mr. Ed. Varney, in which he said that the club had been founded with a charitable object in view. It was a noble object, and one in which there was a large field to work. The Barclay Club, of New York, a similar organization to the present one, had devoted the proceeds of its entertainments during last winter to the purchase of ice for free distribution among the poor during the summer months. Hundreds of tons were so distributed. In Montreal fuel was a greater necessity than ice, and it was to the distribution of that commodity among the needy classes that the profits of the Montreal Players' Club would be applied. The speaker alluded to the beneficial results achieved by the originators of the Fresh Air Fund. The Club, he also remarked, would endeavor to foster and elevate that artistic taste of which Canadians had shown great evidence in the art centres of the world.

The Club elected officers as follows: President, Mr. Geo. J. Sheppard; vice-president, Mr. Sidney Ollendorff; treasurer, Mr. Ed. Sheppard; secretary, Mr. G. P. Harley; directors, Messrs. Henders, Smith, Baldwin and McQuillan; instructor, Mr. Varney.

To Join the Theatrical Profession.

Mr. Robert Henders, well known in amateur musical and dramatic circles in Montreal, who made such a success of the part of "Cadeau" in the Montreal Amateur Operatic Club's production of "Erminie" last winter, left last night for New York to see some theatrical men who have been corresponding with him with the view of securing his admission to the theatrical profession. Mr. Henders has been for ten years connected with Spence and Sons' stained glass works and was a member of the choir of the Church of S. John's the Evangelist.

Caledonian Society Games.

Strenuous efforts are being put forth by the officers and Games Committee of the Caledonian Society to make August 18, the date set apart for their annual games, an eventful day in the history of the Society. The interest manifested in this event is not confined to Montreal or to the Dominion. Applications for entries in the various competitions are being daily received from all over the continent. The usual attractive programme of Scottish games will be gone through and in addition there will be an exciting tug-of-war contest between teams from Glengarry and Argenteuil countries. Glengarry county will be represented on this occasion by twelve stalwart Highlanders, who are determined to sustain its reputation for athletic giants. The Argenteuil team has been recruited from among the farmers of the county. Mr. Hope, of Lachute, who was the organizer, pronounces them "the finest specimen of physical manhood that ever entered in the Caledonian sports." Another special feature and a novelty in Montreal sports will be a skirmishing race by members of the Royal Scots in uniform. The committee anticipate a very large gathering on the 18th, and in view of this a deputation interviewed the management of the Street Railway, who has promised to put fifteen extra cars on the Exhibition grounds route for that day.

Will of the Late Mr. William Adams.

By the last will and testament of the late William Adams, the sum of one hundred dollars each has been bequeathed to the following Institutions: The Montreal General Hospital, The Ladies' Benevolent Society on Berthelet street, The Protestant Orphan Asylum, The Mackay Institute for Deaf Mutes, The Protestant Hospital for the Insane. The testator after leaving $1500 to each of his brothers, divided the remainder of his property between his wife and his daughter, Mrs. Samuel M. Baylis.

FRATERNAL SOCIETIES.

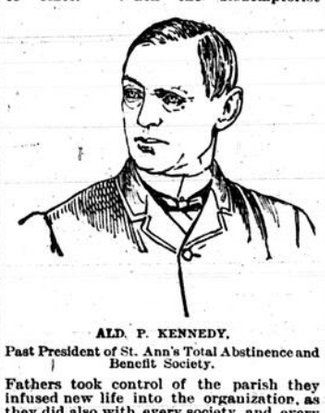

HISTORY OF THE ST. ANN'S T. A. AND B. SOCIETY.

Chambly, Que., Wins the A. O. U. W. Banner—A New Lodge of the Order of the World Instituted—Interesting Topics.

The sacred cause of total abstinence has ever found numerous and staunch champions among the Irish race. It is not surprising, therefore, that when members of that dear old land and their direct descendants settled in Montreal one of their first thoughts was to perpetuate the memory of that great apostle of temperance, Rev. Father Mathew, by organizing themselves here into societies for the propagation of that sentiment of total abstinence which in these latter days has found so many supporters and admirers among all classes and creeds. As the Irish people multiplied in Montreal so did the number of adherents to the principle of total abstinence, and as a natural consequence the spread of Irish Catholic temperance societies became as spontaneous as it did popular. As far back as the year 1863 the late lamented Rev. Father Hogan, of the then newly formed parish of St. Ann, organized a society among his parishioners, which was thereafter known as the St. Ann's T. A. & B. Association, and which from the very date of its organization gave every promise of budding forth into the powerful society which it is to-day. Among its past presidents will be remembered the names of such well known citizens as Mr. Wm. Brennan, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Flannery, Mr. J. D. Quinn, and Mr. P. Kennedy, all of whom held office at different times during the society's existence, and who were frequently induced to re-occupy the presidential chair after having repeatedly resigned. One striking example of this is found in the

ADMIRATION WHICH THE SOCIETY HAS FOR THE NOBLE WORK

which Ald. P. Kennedy, the present president, has done for the society and the cause of temperance. A strict observer of the pledge he has taken, he has ever been indefatigable in forwarding the interests of the society, with the result that it is now one of the most, if not the most, flourishing organizations of its kind in Montreal. He has also held the position of president on two distinct occasions, and for the last three years the society has shown its appreciation of his labors in its behalf by unanimously re-electing him to office. When the Redemptorist

ALD. P. KENNEDY,
Past President of St. Ann's Total Abstinence and Benefit Society.

Fathers took control of the parish they infused new life into the organization, as they did also with every society and every Catholic club connected with the same. The celebration of the Father Mathew Centenary has always been made one of the features of the society's programme, and a choice entertainment can always be counted upon outside of the usual religious demonstration. Last year, on the occasion of the Father Mathew Centennial anniversary, St. Patrick's and St. Gabriel's T. A. & B. societies joined hand in hand with the St. Ann's society, with the result that one of the most imposing temperance demonstrations ever given in Montreal was witnessed in St. Ann's parish. The objects of the society are similar to those of organizations of a like nature. On the death of a member $100 is paid to his wife or family, or on the death of a member's wife $50 is handed over, and all this for the small monthly contribution of 25 cents. The membership of the society is at present about 250 and its financial status is recognized as being one of the strongest in the city. It pays out annually in the way of benefits an average of $500 and has still a fund close on to $5000, of which $4880 is to be found in the burial fund and about $100 in the contingent. Like all other societies of its kind it has a spiritual adviser, who is one of the Redemptorist Fathers attached to the parish.

The Officers of the Society this year are: Spiritual Director, Rev. L. De Ridder, C.S.S.R.; President, Mr. P. Flannery; Vice-President, Mr. James Shannahan; Secretary, Mr. James McGuire; Assistant Secretary, Mr. Thomas Rodgers; Treasurer, Mr. Michael, J. Ryan; Collecting Treasurer, Mr. Thomas Ward; Assistant Collecting Treasurer, Mr. John Ryan; Grand Marshal, Mr. Philip Malone; Assistant Marshal, Mr. W. Donnelly. Executive Committee—Messrs. M. Bardon (chairman), W. Cullen, W. Welsh, W. Howlett, D. Graham, John Hagan, M. Crowe, E. Norris, John Leonard, Jas. Reilly, Mr. J. Mullan.

A. O. U. W.

The regular meeting of Columbus Lodge, No. 26, A. O. U. W., was held in their lodge room, 1863 Notre Dame street, on Wednesday evening, Bro. Geo. Clarke in the chair. This lodge intends securing the first prize offered by the Grand Lodge for a new ritual, as the members think the proposition is a good one. It was decided to hold a series of entertainments during the autumn and winter of 1894, to consist of euchre parties, At Homes, etc., for the benefit of the brethren and their friends. Arrangements were also made for a moonlight excursion to be held on Friday evening, August 17, by steamer "Three Rivers." The Recorder was instructed to officially write the Master Workman of sister lodges, also Grand Officers of Grand Lodge.

Last summer the ex-District Deputy, Bro. A. Woods, presented a beautiful banner for competition among the various A. O. U. W. lodges in the Province of Quebec, the terms being that the lodge initiating the largest number of members from October 1, 1893, to February 1, 1894, would receive the banner. The fight has been a hard one and resulted in a victory for the Chambly lodge. The banner, which is a very pretty one, is on exhibition in the STAR window.

All the lodges of the A. O. U. W. in the province of Quebec have united for a monster demonstration and outing at Missisquoi Park on September 3. A lengthy programme of games is being prepared.

Knights of Pythias.

At the last communication of Ingomar Lodge, K. of P., the retiring Chancellor Commander, Mr. Dougherty, was presented with a magnificent diamond Past Chancellor's jewel. The presentation was made by the Deputy Supreme Chancellor, Bro. A. L. Friedman, who, in a neat speech, complimented Past Chancellor Dougherty on his efficient services to the Order, also the desire of Ingomar Lodge to record the period of his Chancellorship.

Great preparations are being made for the reception of the Supreme Lodge, which meets at Washington on the 27th of this month. It will no doubt be the largest convention of any fraternal organization ever held in the world, as fully 75,000 uniformed members are expected to participate. The order is making remarkable progress in this city, and the membership for both lodges are growing very rapidly. There is another new charter list out for a new lodge.

Manchester Unity of Oddfellows.

On Monday evening Loyal Victoria Lodge, No. 5896, I. O. O. F., M. U., held their fortnightly meeting in their Lodge room at Point St. Charles, Noble Grand Henry Seymour in the chair. Among those present were the following past officers: Bros. G. King, P. G.; J. Brighton, P. G.; J. Webster, P. G.; W. Waugh, P. G.; J. Paris, P. G.; J. Mason, P. V.G.; and Donald Robertson, Treasurer. A very pleasing ceremony will take place at their next meeting when it is the intention of the members of the lodge to present medals to Past Grands J. Brighton and W. Barrett for services rendered to their lodge during the past two terms, on which occasion the Provincial Grand Master Officers of the District and several brothers of the order are expected to be present. This lodge boasts of having the oldest Oddfellow in America in the person of Bro. George Outram, P.G., who joined Loyal Mechanics'

Oldest Oddfellow in the Dominion.

Lodge, Sheffield District, July 23, 1832, and who has been over sixty-two years a member of the I. O. O. F., M. U., is also a Justice of the Peace for Point St. Charles.

The members of Loyal Excelsior Lodge, I. O. O. F., Manchester Unity, held their annual excursion down the river on Wednesday night. The steamer Three Rivers, which had been chartered for the occasion, was beautifully decorated for the occasion and presented a pretty spectacle as she steamed out from the wharf. The Independent True Blue Band rendered some good music at intervals during the evening, and Blasi's Italian orchestra supplied the dance music. There were five hundred present. The affair proved a success in every respect. The committee deserve credit for the able manner in which they conducted the excursion to the comfort and delight of the pleasure seekers.

Independent Order of Good Templars.

Good Samaritan Lodge, No. 5, I. O. G. T., held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, at their hall, Wellington street, Point St. Charles, and elected and installed for the ensuing term the following officers, M. W. Corbitt, District Deputy, officiating throughout the evening, assisted by Bro. A. G. Ellis, G. E. S., and Bro. Norwood, P. C. T. Terra Nova Lodge, as installing marshal and deputy installing marshal respectively: C. T., Bro. Adams; V. T., Sister Darlington; Secretary, Bro. Shakishaft; F. S., Bro. Donaldson; Treas., Sis. Ryder; Chaplain, Sis. Mason; Marshal, Bro. Aykeman; D. M., Sis. Pike; Guard, Sis. Ayles; Sentinel, Bro. Slater; P. C. T., Bro. Young. Good Samaritan have in contemplation an entertainment to be given in the near future, which, if their wishes are fully carried into effect, will prove one of the best of the season.

Order of the World.

The institution of a new lodge of the Order of the World took place last evening in Federation Hall, with a charter list of 30 members. Deputy Supreme President A. Woods, assisted by President E. S. Putnam, of Montreal Lodge, No. 87, initiated the new members. The name of "Aberdeen" was then adopted by the members as the same, after which the following members were nominated and elected for the current year: Past President, J. Hamilton; President, Wm. Rawley; Vice-President, J. P. Ryan; Secretary, W. R. Rawley; Treasurer, J. O. Hara; Chaplain, T. Newton; Marshal, P. Leduc; Guard, J. J. Campbell; Sentinel, C. Cantwell; trustees, Dr. Kennedy, J. Hamilton and H. Morning; medical examiner, Dr. Kennedy. The above were duly installed to their respective offices. Aberdeen Lodge will meet on the second and fourth Saturdays in each month in Walford Hall, corner of Victoria and St. Catherine streets. Under the order of Good and Welfare, Organizer Woods made a stirring address on the aims and objects of the Order and the duties devolving on the members. A vote of thanks was tendered to Bros. Woods and Putnam, of Montreal Lodge, for their service and their very instructive addresses which everyone agreed contained some very good advice.

Plumbers Association.

The plumbers of this city have organized themselves into a society for mutual protection. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing term: President, Mr. Joseph Lamarche; 1st vice-president, Mr. John Date; 2nd vice-president, Mr. Champagne; 3rd vice-president, Mr. W. Patton; secretary, Mr. Wm. Briggs.

FORESTERS' PICNIC.

A Pleasant Outing—The Successful Prize Winners.

The fourth annual picnic and games of Court Sarsfield, No. 133, C. O. F., was held on Saturday at Sherringham Park. A very enjoyable time was spent and the happy party returned to the city highly delighted with their day's outing. The games were entered into with a vim and very evenly contested. They resulted as follows:

RIEL'S PIPE.

An Interesting History Said to be Connected With It.

Riel's pipe, which has been on exhibition in the STAR window for the past few days, will bring back to the minds of many of our volunteers vivid reminiscences of the North-West rebellion, in the quelling of which they took a hand. The pipe in itself is of unpretentious appearance, although on close examination it shows no mean skill in carving. The stag's head in the centre with a hound on each side conveys the idea ever uppermost in the mind of the noble red man. His great earthly glory from time immemorial has been hunting, and his hope in the future is to be blessed with a happy hunting ground over which he can roam at will. Hence the suggesting of the symbol on the pipe, which is said to have been highly prized by Riel on account of the associations connected with the presentation of the pipe to the acknowledged leader of the North-West Indians. There is nothing of the "calumet of peace" about this pipe, for it was presented to Riel (so the story goes) as a pledge of fidelity on the part of a tribe of Indians to fight for him to the death. This probably accounts for the importance Riel attached to the pipe. How it came into the possession of the present owner, Mr. Wm. Ford of this city, is best explained by the following letter, which he received in reply to a query he sent asking for some particulars about the old dhudeen which Mr. Haynes had given him.

CASSELMAN, July 14, 1894.

W. Ford, Esq.,
245½ St. Urbain street,
Montreal.

DEAR WILLIE,—About that old pipe. It was given to me by a half-breed Indian whose life I saved from drowning at the Tramping Lake in the autumn of 1887. This lake is the source of Eagle Creek, which empties into the Saskatchawan and is about half way between Battleford and the south branch of the above river. He was a kind of chief or something of that sort, with a name as long as your arm, and said that the pipe formerly belonged to Louis Riel, who gave it to the Indian as a memento. I don't think there is any doubt about it being Riel's pipe, as the chief I got it from was thought a great deal of by many of that race of people. I don't remember the Indian's name, but I got him a pass to Montreal and never heard of him since. Don't know whether he went or not. Yours truly,

C. M. HAYNES.

ITCHING AND PIN WORMS. PILES

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—ulcers and tumors form, excessive moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Gives Instant Relief.

PIN WORMS is an ailment entirely different as to cause than Itching Piles, yet its effects and symptoms are exactly the same. The same intolerable itching; the same creeping, crawling, stinging sensation characterizes both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

A MOTHER'S BEAUTIFUL CHILD

Dragged Nearly to Death's Door by Severe Nervous Disease—Suffered Extreme Pain in the Head—Doctors Could Do Nothing—South American Nervine Called in at the Eleventh Hour and Restored to Health Little Annie Joy, of West Toronto Junction—The Great Remedy is Reducing the Death Rate of All Canadian Cities.

MISS ANNIE JOY, WEST TORONTO JUNCTION.

A bright little lad, or golden-haired girl, is the delight of your home. Whether you revel in riches, or know something of the privations of poverty, that child is all the world to you. It is no wonder that mother and father become anxious when sickness overtakes the little one.

The remedy, fathers and mothers, is near by. South American Nervine has been the means of giving back the bloom of youth to thousands of suffering little ones. It is not a medicine that buoys up the parents' hopes, only to have them in a short time dashed down again lower than ever. Whether with child or adult it promptly gets at the seat of all disease, which is the nerve centres. From this fact it is peculiarly efficacious in the treatment of nervous diseases of man, woman or child.

A recent case is that as told by Mrs. M. A. Joy, of West Toronto Junction, whose little daughter Annie, aged 15 years, had been a sufferer from severe nervous depression for about two years. As with all mothers, no trouble and expense was spared in the effort to bring relief to the child. The little one suffered extreme pains in the head, so distressing at times as to render her completely helpless, sapping all her strength. The best skill of the most skilled physicians was called into request, but little Annie steadily grew worse. Becoming more hopeless and discouraged as the weeks went by, Mrs. Joy decided on trying South American Nervine, as almost a last resort. Employing her own words, she said: "I determined to give it a trial, although I felt it was useless."

To-day it was all happiness around that home, for before one bottle of the medicine had been taken, the mother tells us, Annie commenced to show decided signs of improvement. The child has taken three bottles and has practically regained her natural health and vigor. There is nothing surprising in the fact that Mrs. Joy cannot speak too highly of South American Nervine.

Much was at stake, but this wonderful discovery proved equal to the emergency. And so it does in every case. Thousands of letters on file from well known citizens prove this. For nervous diseases of young or old, from whatever cause, it is an absolutely infallible cure.

Paine's Celery Compound Makes the Sick and Diseased Body Healthy and Strong.

Onward all ye weary, nervous, weak and pale,
Use that mighty Compound, which can never fail;
It will strength and vigor give to old and young;
It will build the body, strengthen nerves unstrung.
Onward, then ye weary, nervous, weak and pale,
Use that mighty Compound, which can never fail.

By this Compound's power, fell disease must fly,
Health will lift its banner, o'er us all on high;
The broken-down and wearied, all will strength regain,
Perfect health and pleasure will for us remain.
Onward then ye weary, etc.

Thousands of our people, who once suffered long,
Now rejoice in vigor, feel robust and strong;
That remedy of virtue, Paine's Celery Compound,
Saved them from the perils that compassed them around.
Onward then ye weary, etc.

Onward then, ye people, hearken to the sound!
Victory will follow Paine's Celery Compound;
Disease and pain can never 'gainst our lives prevail;
While we use this Compound we can never fail.
Onward then ye weary, etc.

THE TURF.

A Great Day at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., August 11.— First on yesterday afternoon's card came the finish of the free-for-all trot, Alix having two heats to her credit. She had a royal battle in the final heat, and Alix secured the verdict by a narrow margin, Pamlico breaking twenty-five yards from the wire and going under on a run, head and head with his rival. There were none that could take Azole's measure in the 2.13 trot, and the gelding by Whips won on the reel. Geneva, the Canadian stallion, was the one nearest him in the first heat, and David B., driven by young Curtis, was second in the next two heats. The second heat in 2.10¼ was just one second over Azole's mark. Ellard was counted the one to beat Azole, but he proved unequal to the task. Robert J. had an easy time of it in the free-for-all pace, and none of them could come anywhere near to his clip. The first mile was in 2.08¼, and Guy, a half-dozen lengths back, was nearest Robert. Saladin fell outside the flag in the second heat and Mascot was a fair second, the mile being made in 2.08. Robert J. went the route the third mile in 2.06¼, within a half second of Hal Pointer's race record for the track. Henry F. was a hot favorite at the start and sold at even money against a field of 10, in which there were some very likely quantities. Allie L., a 20 to 2 shot in the books, surprised all by taking the first heat, and followed it up by capturing the second. Then she tired and fell back. Ed. Easton, the Village farm 4-year-old colt by Chimes, landed the next two heats. He broke in the fifth heat and was laid up. Jo He Forest showed in front this time. Coast Boy created more havoc by winning the next heat, and Seal caused the talent another heartache by sailing under the wire first in the seventh. Jo He took the eighth and ninth heat and the race. Judge Fisher started as favorite in the 2.21 trot, but lost the first two heats to Sally Simmons. Then he came on and took the third. Darkness caused a postponement until to-day. About 6000 people saw the racing. To-day will bring the great meeting to a close. Summaries:

A Good Day's Sport at Jerome Park.

NEW YORK, August 11.—The Jerome park track was in perfect condition yesterday, and the weather delightful. Father Bill Daly was on hand. He made a fervent appeal to the starters. No answer was returned to the notorious old turfman. The chances for the Sage of Hartford ever getting reinstated are decidedly slender. As a matter of course, Kingston was a prohibitive favorite for the first race. He really had but Pactolus to beat. J. Healy and his friends were confident that they could accomplish this feat. Kingston, old as he is, has a vestige of his former speed, and all of his dauntless courage, left. Pactolus lacks courage. This became apparent at Brighton Beach in his last previouse race. He collapsed utterly as soon as he was collared. He died away to nothing as soon as Kingston challenged him yesterday. It must be said in his favor that a great deal too much use was made of him early in the race. Simms rode his second winner for the day in the second race. It was Sir Dixon Jr. His closing price, despite his good work at Saratoga and the usual remarks about the efficacy of Saratoga air and water, was 15 to 1. McKee was the first favorite. He might have duplicated his victory of yesterday, but the start killed whatever chance he had. The other events were unimportant. Summaries:

First race ¾ mile—Kingston, 112 [Simms], 1 to 4 and out, won; Pactolus, 108 [Doggett], 6 to 1, and 4 to 5, 2; Harrington, 97 [H. Jones], 15 to 1, and 7 to 5, 3. Time, 1.17. By Jove also ran.

Second race, 5½ furlongs—Sir Dixon, jr., 106 [Simms], 15 to 1, and 5 to 1, won; Hanwell, 106 [Doggett], 4 to 1, and 11 to 10, 2; McKee, 100 [McClain], 7 to 5, and 4 to 5, 3. Time, 1.11¼. Ella Reed, Pontlear and Mosquito also ran.

Third race, about 1400 yards—Robusta, 109 [Doggett], 18 to 5 and 6 to 5, 1; Topgallant, 108 [Carter], 16 to 5 and 6 to 5, 2; Sir Catesby, 108 [H. Jones], 50 to 1 and 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1.22¾. Speculation, Drummajor, Willfonso and Treveyan also ran.

Fourth race, 1 1-16 miles—Dutch Skater, 108 [Doggett], 3 to 5 and 1 to 3, 1; Lochinvar, 102 [G. Taylor], 9 to 1 and 11 to 5, 2; Live Oak, 102 [Bergen], 30 to 1 and 8 to 1, 3. Time, 1.52. Halton and Charlton also ran.

Fifth race, ⅝ mile—Punch, 196 [H. Jones], even and 2 to 5, won; Belgravia, 105 [Bergen], 4 to 1 and even 2; Gazelle, 105 [Carter], 40 to 1, and 15 to 1, 3. Time, 1.03. Leonguela, Tree Top, Eulogy colt and Mike, also ran.

Sixth race, mile and a furlong—Jack Rose, 166 [Hamilton], 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, won; W. B., 106 [Doggett], 5 to 2 and 3 to 5, 2; Roller, 107 [Simms] 6 to 5 and 2 to 5, 3. Time, 1.59. Harry Alonzo also ran.

Trotting at the Capital.

OTTAWA, August 11.—The C. P. R. conductors gave a great day's sports here yesterday afternoon at Lansdowne Park. Three thousand people were present, and they saw three good trotting races, in which Budd Dobb, the Ogdensburg pacer, lowered the track record by four seconds, Covering the mile in 2.18½. The 2.30 and 2.45 classes were well contested, and furnished exciting amusement. The free for all was the best ever witnessed here, but could not be finished owing to darkness. The third heat in it was decided by the judges for Ben B. He skipped all the way, came in a length behind, and was given the place, to the great dissatisfaction of all present. Following are the summaries:

The committee was instructed to set dates and arrange a programme of races to be held in September.

AQUATICS.

The German Emperor on His Yachting Trip in Norway.

At the furthest and most beautiful remoteness of the far and beautiful Hardanger Fjord lies Odde. There is a theatre of sheer precipice that shuts and shadows a gleaming greening narrow of fathomless sea. Above are infinite imminent brown rocks, spires and towers, and bastions lit by snows and glaciers and an endless day. Below is Odde, which means a little wood church, and a little wood inn, and a little wood curiosity shop, and six little wood houses, and a handful of little wood horses, carriages, men, women and children. It is a kind of toy. It is also, at its usual, a land of falling streams where the only music is the song of waterfalls. To-night all was other. The music was Wagner and Strauss, trumped out by the flower of the flock of German bands; and the three estates of the population, instead of cowherd, cow and calf, turned on a sudden to Emperor, Empress, and tourist. Odde rollicked. The usual rollic of Odde is crass natural sentiment tempered by agriculture—long-tailed maidens in red waistcoats, and Vikings without guile. To-night the rollick was something between that of a Levee-cum-Drawing Room and that of a halfpenny evening paper. Every available inhabitant, without regard to age or sex, crammed themselves into some six canoes and went and wondered at a white ship. For that vessel carried a Cæsar and several fortunes. In mid-fjord, where the character of the sea makes every man of sentiment cry, and the sunset broadening into boundless midnight day makes every man of faith regret the omission in heaven of both sea and night—in that mid-midnight-daylight Fjord lies a white ship in which repose, or don't repose, the two uneasy heads of the one Emperor and one Empress who sit atop of Germany. These poor thing-ridden lords of the world are refreshing themselves, and about 2000 tourists constantly watch them at it. It was a curious contrast between Odde drunk and Odde sober. The Fjord of Asgardr and Utgardr, of Harald Haarfager and Haakon Haakonson harboring that strange little special-train Viking with his quick-firing guns, and brass band, and electric launches. I had just been reading Ibsen's "Nordische Seefahrt," in which a quite similar pleasure trip ended in

of the nineteen leading characters. And this trip seemed quite tame in comparison. Yet did these vagabond monarchs happen on one lightning opportunity, which how many prophets and kings have desired to have and have not had it! One lifetime's opportunity at least offered itself—qua minime reris—to these throne-weary figures. Your correspondent was ware of them and resolute to help and comfort. His breast was open to their heads, his heart to their sorrows, his brain was eager to counsel, to nerve, and, should need be, to execute.

Can you believe? Their seeming eyes and ears nor saw nor heard. A rotten waterfall and a probably excessive picnic seemed more to them. I wrote to the Emperor overnight expressing my willingness to help him. I am bound to admit that, though weak in its preference for pleasure, his answer was extremely civil. He would be away, but his house was at my disposition. Perhaps I might give him some hints upon its installation. So I said I would try. This morning he left at the indelicate hour of seven, a start which my more sober habit made it impossible for me to countenance. But after an early snack at ten o'clock I took a boat navigated by an obviously unweaned Viking, and headed for the Hohenzollern.

Now of H. I. M. yacht Hohenzollern you may suitably say what Abraham Lincoln said of the friend's book which he was asked to criticise: "Well, I honestly think that for people who like that sort of yacht, that's just the sort of yacht they'd like." If when "some damned liner's lights went by like a grand hotel" you'd rather have been in the Bolivar than in the liner, why then you won't care for the Hohenzollern. She was built at Bredow, near Stettin; launched in June, 1892, commissioned April, 1893; was painted white probably about the same time, with the arms of the house of Hohenzollern on stern, and the Black Eagle on the bows. She measures 4,500 tons, draws 7 metres, and has the narrowest entry man ever saw. She has 14 water-tight compartments, and can travel 22 knots without any forced draught for five days running. She is populated by 11 officers and 317 men, 60 in the band, and 120 in the engine-room and stoke holes; also by a good many sentinels with swords and staves; also by four dachshunds.

She carries eight quick-firing Krupp guns, four launches, two cutters, two gigs, one jolly-boat, one life-boat, two electric searchlights, and a great deal of beer. And she has always two torpedo-boats and bringing fliegende Blatter from home. The rest—if there is any—remaineth unrevealed, but thus much was unveiled to me by a dear little white-toothed lieutenant who led me round to my and his Kaiser's honour.

Next it seemed good to me to investigate the accommodation, so I plunged into the Kaiser's bathroom. Here I was delighted to find the most comprehensive arrangements for washing. My hand hung long over the Imperial soap as a pleasing Andenken to bear away; but I remembered I was a trusted guest, and bridled my appetency. The bedroom held a bed, the dressing-room things for dressing, the study a table, and the Council Chamber chairs; and all was very good, simple, and comfortable. The English Queen and the German Empress sat on most of the tables. On the walls were English war-ships, a watercolour of the Portsmouth Review, another of the Meteor winning the Queen's Cup, and an enlarged photograph of the Victoria off Tripoli just before she went down.

On the study-table lay Captain Mahan's "Sea Power" at top; a History of the Royal Dragoons, a Navy List, Naval Annuals, the Silesian War, and a novel by About at bottom. Behind and beyond the Emperor's cabins are rows of rooms, all good, where the Court (sixteen male, one female) sit, eat, smoke, sleep, and sometimes suffer. So far so good, but now where does the Empress emp? Now up to this all had gone well; but as, year out, year in, I get very little work to do for you at Odde, I had fallen back on the base amateur habit of note-taking. Armed men came and watched and went away, and wildfire ran round the ship that I was a little lower than the Anarchists, and a spy at that. Public feeling ran high, and a nasty scene followed. I believe there were tattoos and quarters and clearings and things upstairs. But if you've got a good correspondent anywhere you've got one at Odde. He flashed, he thundered, he cajoled, he said—several things about himself and others; and the surge reeled back. All save one. All save the watchful Baedeker. Una de multis face imperiali digna. That the venerable Valkyrie's name was Baedeker I cannot swear, but it was a word to that effect. And all day long the noise of battle rolled about her. I would see that bedchamber august. I should not. I threatened Kaiser, Kaiserin, Caprivi, Montecuculi, and Kleine Belagerung. Then I cajoled, but fell like a broken purpose from that horny breast. Finally, by a literal coup de main, I compromised triumphantly. "Believe me, Baedeker" (or a word to that effect), I cried, "I love——" "Verfluchtes Animal!" from behind me luckily relieved the sentence of its object, but the blasphemer was away, and hand-in-hand with Baedeker or Berserker, I won to a blue drawing-room of fair proportions, and Pisgah-ed a maternal bed set in suitable surroundings. There was a touch of Titus upon me as I left, and all else fell flat—even the linoleum floorcloth of the Imperial upper deck, which my hobnails scarred like pork; even the Imperial dining-room, to seat 150 Imperial guests, and rich with over fifteen cups that the Imperial Meteor has won, including the Queen's Cup at Cowes. Yea, I felt chastened still, as with a last lingering pressure Baedeker told me that the Kaiser was an austere man, loving on board only the music and machinery. And therein I trusted her, seeing that for two hours long sixty bandsmen had been tuning sixty instruments concurrently within fifty yards of me. So bummelt der Kaiser herum. Yet there are some paltry inconveniences in cohabiting even the same country with the Kaiser. First, he is ubiquitous; second, he sleeps in thirty-seven bedrooms. It sounds a restless habit, yet so it is. And he dogs you like a good conscience. I have said "Peradventure," and gone into carrioles and the uttermost parts of the sea. But even there also I have had dustily to cheer Imperial dust, or to discharge little percussion-pistols and snap-cameras at the Imperial ship, all which was thought to cheer the Imperial heart. But, all told, he's a good sporting Kaiser, and 'twill all be well. —Pall Mall Budget.

BEAUTY AT THE SHEET.

Gaudaur Wants to Row Again.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 11.—Jacob Gaudaur, sculling champion of America, has deposited $500 with H. J. P. Good, of this city, to make a sculling match with Thomas Sullivan, of Australia, who is at present in England, for a thousand dollars or more a side. Gaudaur will take $250 expenses and row on the Thames or Tyne, or he will give $500 if Sullivan will row in America. Immediately Sullivan posts a forfeit Gaudaur's money will be transferred to W. J. Innes or the London Sportsman.

The Britannia and Vigilant Will Not Race Monday.

COWES, Isle of Wight, August 11.—The proposed match between the Vigilant and the Britannia on Monday next has collapsed. The Prince of Wales wanted the course to be fifteen miles to windward and return. Mr. Gould wanted the course to be fifteen miles to leeward and return.

CHESS.

Tarrasch Wins in 49 Moves.

NUREMBERG, August 11.—Tarrasch won the seventh game of the chess match against Walbrodt after 49 moves. Walbrodt opened with a Ruy Lopez. The score now is: Tarrasch, 6; Walbrodt, 0; drawn, 1.

THE WHEEL.

Another Reinstated.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, August 11.—The racing board of the C. W. A. has reinstated B. E. Cummings, of Belleville, who was suspended for making a false entry.

A Montrealer's Bravery.

The following item in the Halifax Morning Chronicle of Monday last, under the heading "A Plucky Rescue," refers to Mr. William Murray, of the Dominion Express Company, of this city, a son of Mr. John Murray, of the District Telegraph Company:

There was a rumor current last evening that a young man named Clements had been drowned at the Arm while bathing, but the rumor proved to be without foundation. A young man, however, had a narrow escape while bathing at "diving rock." Mr. Murray, of Montreal, who was near, saw the young fellow struggling in the water, and immediately divested himself of part of his clothing and went to the rescue. The task was not an easy one, as the young man was in an exhausted condition. Murray succeeded in bringing him to land. The young fellow was insensible and it was some time before he was brought to. Murray's action was a brave one.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

THE ALLANS AGGRIEVED

AT A STATEMENT OF SIR CHARLES HIBBERT TUPPER.

Huddart Perfectly Satisfied as to the Safety of the St. Lawrence Route for the Fast Line.

[BY CABLE FROM THE STAR'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT IN LONDON.]

LONDON, August 11.—The Times this morning publishes a column letter from the Allan Line Steamship Company of Glasgow, in which they state they are much aggrieved at the statement of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in the Canadian House of Commons on July 11 last, to the effect that they, the Allans, were helping to throw discredit on the safety of the St. Lawrence route because the proposed fast line would hurt their personal interests.

They contend, however, that the outlook for a fast Atlantic service to Canada is not very bright because of the prevalence of icebergs, disasters in the St. Lawrence, and the absence of local trade at Halifax and Quebec.

Mr. James Huddart, the promoter of the new line, will reply to the Allans' letter. He says he is quite satisfied with the assurances of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper as to the safety of the St. Lawrence route. He further states that his speech in reply will be inserted in the prospectus of the company.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

[BY CABLE FROM THE STAR'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT IN LONDON.]

LONDON, August 11.—The July trade returns are important on account of the new tariff. British exports to Canada declined 40 per cent., the heaviest declines being in cottons, woollens, silks and iron. The imports from Canada are stationary.

THE PROTEST CROP.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, August 10.—Protests were filed yesterday against the return of Major Hiscott, of Lincoln, P. P. A., Conservative, and Dr. Willoughby, Conservative, of East Northumberland.

THE FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

HALIFAX, August 10.—The Hansa Line Steamer Gothia arrived yesterday from Christiania with 250 Scandinavian immigrants bound to the Western States. The steamer had not a pound of cargo or a single first class passenger for Canada. The destination of the Gothia is New York. There was therefore no reason why the immigrants should not have been carried to New York and despatched overland from that point. The Canadian Pacific Railway people say the Gothia's trip is an experiment in connecting with the proposed fast Atlantic steamship line, to be subsidized by the Canadian Government. The object seems to be to ascertain if a passenger traffic can be worked up from Europe to Halifax or Montreal.

STABBING AFFRAY AT TORONTO.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—James Hannan was stabbed and probably fatally wounded by Michael Duggan early this morning. Hannan, who is 27 years old and lives with his widowed mother, at 46 Wellington avenue, was in rear of 824 King street west, where Duggan resides, and talking to a woman of his acquaintance, when Duggan appeared and ordered Hannan to move on. Hannan showed no disposition to do what he was told. Hannan finally threatened to slap the the other's face. Scarcely had he said the words when Duggan drew a knife and stabbed Hannan in the side. Hannan was at once taken to the hospital. Duggan was arrested in bed at his home. The latter is a boyish-looking fellow and gives his age as 18.

MANITOBA TIMBER RESERVES.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—The Dominion Government has decided to set apart all heavily timbered lands in Manitoba, west of the Red River, as permanent timber reserves which will be conserved as the sources of fuel supply for settlers. All timber lands not already taken up will be withdrawn from settlement whether held by the Hudson Bay or railway companies. Among the tracks already divided up and withdrawn from settlement are the bush lands in Turtle, Moose and Riding Mountains and in the Touchwood hills, besides other scattered patches of timber of less extent.

MR. M'INTYRE'S LOST PLUM.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, August 11. It is learned on good authority that William M. Matheson, Master in Chancery and Registrar of the High Court of Justice here, intends resigning his position on account of ill-health. There will be a big scramble among the local Liberal lawyers for the position. Had not A. F. McIntyre ran against the Reform nominees at the last election, he would certainly have been appointed.

AN ONTARIO ELOPEMENT CASE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

LONDON, August 11.—Samuel Jeffreys and Mrs. Viola Fellows, who eloped from London West a short time ago were yesterday committed for trial by Squire Smyth on the charge of stealing from Aden Fellows, the woman's husband, a lot of furniture that they carried away with them. A peculiar feature of the case is that Jeffreys is only 20 years of age, while the woman is 50 and a grandmother.

COL. POWELL'S ATTITUDE.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

OTTAWA, August 11.—All reports as to Col. Powell's answer to Hon. J. C. Patterson, Minister of Militia, in regard to the charges contained in certain letters written by Major General Herbert, are purely conjective. Col. Powell is diffident about touching on the subject. Indeed, he has assumed this attitude from the beginning.

Seven Killed by Lightning.

DALLAS, Texas, August 11.—A Dekalb special to the News says: About three o'clock yesterday a crowd of boys and men met on a small prairie nine miles south of town, and were playing baseball. A shower came up during the game and they all ran to a large oak, lightning struck the tree and the following were killed outright, John Jacobs, Walter Atchley, Tom Blanchard, Will Bentley, John Jackson, Charles Petty, Will Walsh. About a dozen more of the boys were hurt, and it is thought some of them will die.

United States Crops.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—The report of the statistician of the Department of Agriculture shows a decline in corn of nearly 26 points since July 1, the average for the entire breadth being 68.1 against 95 for the month of July. The condition in August, 1893, was 87. The great decline is due almost wholly to the extensive drought that set in since the last report and to the hot dry winds that swept over some of the Western States. In some localities the crop has been injured beyond recovery, while in others timely rains would go far towards assuring fair yields. The condition of spring wheat has fallen since last report 1.3 points, being 67.1, against 68.4 for the month of July. Advices as to winter wheat from correspondents and threshers indicate a good yield of excellent quality. The condition of oats has declined 1.2 points since date of last report, being 76.5, against 77.7 in July. The condition for August, '93, was 78.3. The condition of spring rye is 79.8, against 81.7 last month and 78.5 last year. The average condition of barley is 69.8, against 76.8 last month, being a decline of 7 points. The acreage of buckwheat is reported at 96.8 and a condition of 82.3 against 88.8, or 6.5 points lower than at the same date last year. The acreage of hay, as compared with that of 1893, is 92.4; condition of same is 75.6 against 77.3 last month. The average condition of rice August 1, 1892, was substantially the same as last month. A further decline of nearly four points in the average condition of apples, being 44 against 47.6 last month is reported. The condition of peaches has fallen since last report, and now stands at 22.3. The condition of grapes, while higher than either apples or peaches, is lower than for any year since 1890. The condition of potatoes is 74 against 93.3 last month. The condition of tobacco is 74.9 against 81 last month.

UNCLE SAM'S TARIFF.

Senator Hill Presents A Motion Demanding Immediate Action.

WASHINGTON, D.C., August 11.—Yesterday was the first day in the Senate since the tariff bill was sent a second time to Conference that there was any unusual interest in the proceedings. Senator Hill, who has been the central figure in several dramatic scenes during the tariff debate, was again in the van of the fray. He moved a resolution directing the tariff conferees to report the difficulties and cause of the failure to agree. It was almost adopted before the Senators fully realized its importance. The conferees were aware of it and were willing it should be adopted. By parliamentary tactics, however, on the part of the Democrats, who did not want the storm to break, a vote was presented and the resolution went over. The Senate adjourned at 4.30 until to-day, although the peacemakers endeavored to have no session until Monday. The prospects are that this will be a lively day.

A crisis in the tariff affairs was reached yesterday both in the open Senate and in the secret councils of the Democratic tariff conferees. When the Conference closed last night it was with the understanding that the meetings would be suspended for the present. No time was set for re-assembling the conferees to-day or thereafter, and it was felt that no further sessions might be necessary in case the Senate acted favorably to-day on Senator Hill's resolution directing the Senate conferees to report the situation of affairs. What was of most importance was the feeling expressed by the House conferees at the close of the Conference that in case the Hill resolution passed—and they belived it would—the Conference would practically be relieved of its work, and it would remain only for the House to accept the Senate bill as a lesser evil, as they believe, than the McKinley law.

A poll of the Senate during the day disclosed that in the event of the acceptance of the free sugar amendment, the bill, as a whole, would be voted against by thirty-eight Republicans, and by Senators Kyle, Allen and Peffer, Populists, and Caffery and Blanchard, Democrats—a total of forty-three votes, or sufficient to defeat the bill. The House men accepted the poll as showing conclusively that the tender of the free sugar amendment, while in good faith by the Senate conferees, was a means adopted by the Conservative Senators for the purpose of defeating tariff legislation and leaving the McKinley law in force. It was while animated comments were being made on the foregoing conditions that word reached the Conference of Senator Hill's coup d'etat in the open Senate.

The Conference hastily adjourned, the Senators going on the floor to take part in the debate. Mr. Wilson was not disposed to attach much weight to Senator Hill's move at the outset, and said that it would be futile, as the Senate could not act while the bill was in Conference.

Later in the day, however, this feeling gave way to one of profound concern over the situation and the future of the bill. At two o'clock the Conference, or a remnant of it, again assembled, with the Hill resolution and the exciting debate thereon as the main topic among them. No progress was made up to 5 o'clock, when the Conference separated without fixing a time for re-assembling.

The House conferees no longer disguised the deep concern they felt over the future of the bill. They had made a rough estimate of the vote on the Hill resolution and they felt that it would pass to-day.

Under these circumstances they said nothing could be done until the resolution was disposed of. If through some hopeful turn it was defeated, they said, it would leave the Conference to proceed and the contest would be carried on for the Wilson Bill. If, however, it was passed, it would practically discontinue the Conference. In that event the House men stated with satisfaction that they would still be able to divert the complete defeat of all tariff legislation, by having the House agree to the Senate Bill. They spoke of this as showing that while the situation was bad it did not necessarily mean the defeat of all tariff legislation.

Manufacturers and the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—A formidable petition containing the signatures of 500 managers or proprietors of iron working establishments in New England was brought to Washington yesterday morning by James L. Coles. The petitioners ask first that iron, coal and coke shall be put on the free list as they were before the war, and secondly that the duty on pig iron, scrap iron and scrap steel which prevailed immediately before the war, be restored, to wit: 24 per cent. ad valorem. The petition recites the fact that the signers represent all shades of politicians.

The Cholera in Europe.

ROTTERDAM, August 11.—In consequence of the spread of cholera in Holland, steerage passengers for America are subjected to five days' quarantine before being allowed to embark. Five new cases of cholera and one death were reported in Maastricht yesterday, and two new cases in Amsterdam. A few cases have been reported in five small towns in different parts of Holland.

AMSTERDAM, August 11.—Two cases of cholera were reported here yesterday. Steerage passengers bound for the United States are subjected to five days quarantine. At Maastricht two cases of cholera and one death from that disease were reported yesterday. The following additional cholera reports were received: Wormerver, one case; Bleskensgraaf, two deaths: Oudvroenhoven, four cases; West-Graftdik, one case; Berlikum, six cases: Rotterdam, one case.

A New Industry For Montreal.

MONTREAL, August 11.—Notice is given of application for letters patent to incorporate the Dominion Rubber Reclaiming Company for the purpose of manufacturing rubber stock, reclaimed rubber, and articles in which rubber is contained, and especially to supply reclaimed rubber to rubber manufacturers. Headquarters, Montreal; capital, $100,000. Applicants—William Clendinneng, founder; William Currie, clothier; William T. Costigan, William D. Lighthall, advocate, all of Montreal; and Francois Dagenais, manufacturer, of the city of St. Henri.

Converts Received by the Pope.

LONDON, August 11.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that the Pope received yesterday several clergymen who were recently converted from the Church of England. The Pope said he rejoiced at their conversion. He and his successors would be prepared to sacrifice all except the custody of the sacred deposit of truth to welcoming back those separated from the fold by schism and historical events.

Sentenced for Upholding Santo.

PARIS, August 11.—At Dijon yesterday three Anarchists were convicted on the charge of upholding the action of Santo in murdering President Carnot. One of them was sentenced to three years imprisonment and the others to five years each.

MANITOBA CROPS.

HARVESTING TO BE GENERAL NEXT WEEK.

Grain Crops all Appear to be in Splendid Condition—News From all the Wheat-Growing Centres.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

WINNIPEG, August 11.—Next week will see harvesting operations general throughout every district in the province. The yield in the different sections will run from as low as 8 and 10 bushels per acre to as high as 35 according to the amount of moisture received. Samples of this year's grain have already been received at the grain exchange, and in quality this year's crop promises a high average.

For the week ending August 10 the weather and crop bulletins furnished by the Northern Pacific officials are even more favorable than those heretofore issued. Harvesting seems to be general all along the line, the weather is entirely suitable, and in many instances the yield is above the average.

BRANDON—Harvest will be general by the end of this week. Weather is very favorable.

WAWANESA—The weather during the past week has been very favorable for ripening crops and the harvest is now in full swing in the neighborhood. A few farmers on early land are about through cutting wheat and threshing will probably commence early in September.

BALDUR—The wheat and barley harvest is general. The weather is favorable, mostly cloudly, one shower of rain fell recently.

SOMERSET—The weather for the past week has been favorable for the ripening crop. Barley cutting has begun in general and oats and wheat are well advanced. Some wheat cutting is already commenced and by the end of the week a good deal of wheat will be cut. Cutting won't be general for a couple of weeks yet. Last Thursday there was a light frost, which injured garden stuff a little, but no injury was done to the grain, a good crop is expected.

MIAMI—The crops are looking fine. Many have commenced harvesting and the general reports are very good.

MORRIS—Harvesting commenced in this locality this week. A number of farmers are cutting wheat, probably fifteen per cent. being now cut. The yield or quality cannot yet be ascertained. Two hours of very heavy rain fell last night. Weather is very fine.

ST. JEAN.—The crops are looking splendid. Some farmers are cutting grain now. Harvesting will be general the first of the week. There was fine weather during the week.

EMERSON—Harvesting is now general. The crop is now turning out fully better than expected, and will average about eighteen bushels to the acre.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE—The weather since last report has been all that could be desired. Last night a two hours rain fell, which will do a great deal of good. Cutting will be general in about three days. The farmers are well pleased with the present prospects.

THE ATCHISON MUDDLE.

Reinhart's Resignation Sent in To-day —A Suit For Damages.

NEW YORK, August 11.—The resignation of J. W. Reinhart as president and director of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, was presented to the Board of Directors at a meeting to be held in New York to-day.

Mr. Reinhart has also prepared his resignation as a receiver of the Atchison company, Henry W. Male has resigned as a member of the Atchison protective reorganization committee.

Mr. Reinhart, in his letter resigning his position, said that in view of the general criticism of his methods by the shareholders of the Company and also of his impaired health, he felt called upon to abandon the position he held as president.

Matilda Wallace has brought two suits in the Superior Court of this city against J. W. Reinhart, as president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, one to recover $50,000 damages and the other to recover $5300 damages. The grounds for the action are that Mr. Reinhart issued a statement on June 30, 1893, giving the Atchison surplus at $1,918,380 as above the operating expenses, and on September 23, 1893, making another statement showing the excellent condition of the Company and the amount of securities held in its treasury. The plaintiff further charges that on June 21, 1894, the defendant had published a statement showing the condition of the Company's finance, which the plaintiff claims was not a correct statement of the Company's affairs, and sets forth that the statements in her complaint are confirmed by the report of Senator Little, the expert accountant, who made the statement for the Re-organization Committee. The plaintiff avers that on the representations made by Mr. Reinhart she purchased 1700 shares of Atchison stock, and that she is damaged thereby to the amount of the sums that she seeks to recover. The complaint has been served on Reinhart.

Another Newfoundland Scandal.

HALIFAX, August 11.—A cable to the Halifax Herald, from St. John's, Nfld., says: Another sensation is likely to start here soon. The Assembly yesterday, when passing the contingencies bill, refused to vote sessional pay to the disqualified members for the winter session, and as these, fearing disqualification, discounted notes of the Savings Bank before the Whiteway ministry resigned the savings banks are at a loss for this money. The bank will now have to sue those members unless the money is refunded. The Government is determined to insist that the money be paid back. It is reported that a number of removals will likely be made in the public service soon. No pay was allowed any members for the session just closed.

Different than Montreal.

TORONTO, August 11.—The Deputy Treasurer's first return of taxes for the present year shows that the payments on account of the first instalment of taxes payable July 10 were $1,472,011, or $214,297 over what the first instalment amounts to. Payments were in many cases made in full. Mayor Kennedy says the city's finances were never in a better condition.

Rain at Last.

DES MOINES, Ia., August 11.—Showers last evening, broke the drought over the central and Northern parts of the State. The rain came too late to do corn much good in this section.

HASTINGS, Ia., August 11.—A heavy rain visited this section yesterday. The rain will save potatoes and other late crops.

Prices And The Standard of Values.

LONDON, August 11.—Mr. Edward Atkinson, of Boston, read a paper before the British Association yesterday on prices, wages and the financial position of the United States, the paper being entitled "The evil effect of raising prices by depreciating the standard of value."

The Codorus Gets Off.

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., August 10.—The steamer Codorus, of the Anchor Line, was released this evening after having been lightered of about 300 tons hard coal and is now laying here re-loading her coal. Her bottom was slightly damaged.

Fire at Forest.

FOREST, Ont., August 11.—One of the large grain elevators on the Grand Trunk property here was burned to the ground at an early hour yesterday morning. The loss will aggregate $6000.

The Rebellion in Venezuela.

NEW YORK, August 11.—A Caracas, Venezuela, special says: The Government troops have been defeated north of Bolivar by the rebels, with heavy loss.

Bye-Elections in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, August 11.—Very little interest seems to be manifested in provincial bye-elections on the twenty-third. Mr. Adams, the Government candidate for Brandon, is as yet unopposed. The Liberals have made no nomination against Mr. Davidson in Beautiful Plains, but the Patrons have brought out a man and these two are likely to fight it out.

LESLIE E. KEELEY

CURE FOR

DRUNKENNESS

HAS RECEIVED THE HIGH ENDORSEMENT OF THE Governor and Senate of Michigan.

In that State Police Magistrates and Recorders are authorized to send to the Keeley Institutes of the State such cases of Chronic and Constant Alcoholism as in their judgment ought to be so treated. . . . . .

This means that one of the most progressive States of the Union has acknowledged the unmistakable and irrefutable fact that drunkenness and kindred habits can be cured.

It may not be generally known that Dr. Leslie E. Keeley has established at No 69 Osborne Street, Montreal, a Canadian asylum for those afflicted with

ALCOHOLISM (Chronic or Constant),
THE MORPHINE HABIT,
THE OPIUM HABIT,
NEURESTHENIA, or
NERVE EXHAUSTION.

The Institute, No. 69 Osborne street, Montreal, is under the guidance and direction of physicians who have not only passed the severe course of learning in great local universities, but who have also thoroughly qualified themselves under the eye of Dr. Leslie E. Keeley himself at the parent institute, Dwight, Illinois.

of people wear Hats, and we have hats for all sorts of people. Every man has his own idea of a hat to suit him, and it must be a queer one if we haven't got it. There is one thing about our Hats, too, that you don't find everywhere, and that is—no matter how expensive they are, they are always cheap. That sounds like a contradiction, but the fact is, our price is always below what the Hat is worth. We never try to sell anybody a Hat he does not want, or that does not suit him. We know better than that, for we like to have our customers come back to us. We have all the latest styles

THE JAPANESE REPULSE.

Chinese Batteries and Gun Boats Did Their Work Well.

THE JAPANESE FLEET MADE A PLUCKY ATTEMPT TO CARRY OUT THEIR ORDERS.

LONDON, August 11.—The Central News correspondent in Shanghai says that the Japanese made a second attempt to disperse the Chinese fleet at Wei-Hai-Wei, on the Chinese coast, and to thus gain access to the port. After an obstinate fight, they were compelled to retire. No details of the losses of Chinese or Japanese in this or Thursday's naval encounter can be obtained at this time. Last night a Japanese fleet attacked Port Arthur, the station of China's Pei Wang squadron. The Japanese bombarded the town heavily, but were unable to gain any advantage. Eventually they were forced to draw off. Their losses have not been ascertained in Shanghai.

At the hour when the Central News correspondent sent his despatch a stubborn fight between the Japanese warships and part of the Pei Wang squadron was reported to be in progress. Twenty-one large men-of-war and many small craft were engaged. The Japanese are reported to have lost heavily, although it is not known that they have lost any of their ships. There is no news to indicate which has the advantage.

Great Britain has notified the combatants officially that warfare within the limits of the water-approaches to Shanghai was precluded by Japan's promise.

Another despatch from Shanghai says that a special despatch from Chee-Foo confirms the report that the Japanese fleet attacked the Chinese fleet at Wei-Hai-Wei yesterday morning, and that the former were repulsed at one entrance of the harbor and subsequently attacked the other entrance. The special despatch says that the Japanese made a daring attempt to capture the forts and arsenal at Wei-Hai-Wei. The Japanese attacked in force, four cruisers and several smaller vessels holding the advance. The first shots were exchanged at daylight, but the Chinese were on the alert and their gunners returned a vigorous fire from the forts. The Japanese, apparently, expected to take the Chinese by surprise while the latter's warships were away, as the Chinese squadron, with the exception of some small gun-boats and torpedo vessels, sailed the day before for another port. But the gun-boats and forts kept up such a well-directed fire that the Japanese were unable to enter the harbor. The Chinese torpedo boats were then ordered to advance, and when they did so, the Japanese fleet retired. Later, the same fleet of Japanese vessels began an attack upon the other entrance of the harbor. The result of this second attack was not known when the special despatch was sent.

A despatch received from Shanghai this noon confirms the Times' correspondent's statement that 12,000 Japanese who were landed at Fusan and 8000 more who were landed at Gensan are marching toward Seoul. The two forces will meet at some distance from Seoul, and then effect a junction with the Japanese troops already in the Seoul district. This combined army is expected to operate against the Chinese army coming down the peninsula.

Contradictory War News.

LONDON, August 11.—The Times yesterday published a despatch from Tien Tsin, China, stating that the report circulated to the effect that Viceroy Li Hung Chang's ranks and privileges had been reduced by the Imperial command was entirely unfounded. The Times despatch also stated that there was no truth in the report circulated from the same source that General Yeh had been killed in the battle fought at Asan. Finally, the Times announced that it was untrue that the Chinese cruiser Kwangui had been sunk.

The Times this morning, commenting on this bogus news, as revealed by its Tien Tsin despatch, in a leading editorial says: "All these disasters would probably have occurred in any well-regulated war. But it is not quite certain at which end of the telegraph wire the war, as it ought to be, is carried on. Those who want to know what is really going on at the other end of the world would do well to exercise some care in selecting their sources of information."

The Chinese and Japanese Telegraphs.

NEW YORK, August 11.—Direct United States Cable Company, has issued the following:

The Great Northern Company notify us that the land lines to Japan have been restored. Messages can now be accepted without restrictions.

All lines beyond Osaka interrupted by storms. No immediate prospect of restoration.

The Anglo-American Telegraph Company sends out the following notice:

London advices state that all lines beyond Osaka are interrupted by storms. There is no immediate prospect of restoration.

A CHINESE CONFLAGRATION.

A Great Arsenal Destroyed by an Incendiary Fire—Anti-European Riots.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 11.—The "City of Peking" brings the news of a great conflagration in China which almost amounted to a national misfortune. Just at this time when China needs all the improved arms she can secure, it is very unfortunate that the new rifle factory and steel works established by the Viceroy, Chang Chi Tung, of Hu Kuang, at Han Yang, should be destroyed by an incendiary fire. The loss will amount to $1,000,000. The incendiaries are thought to be coolies who had been severely punished by the officials in charge of the works.

The steamer City of Peking brings details of the destruction of the American Presbyterian church at Shuklung, near Canton, the mention of which are contained in the Oriental mail. It seems that anti-missionary riots began in the prefectural town of Tung Kan in June, as the placards posted up contained vile charges against Christians. The mob appeared in Sheklung June 19, and pulled down the church. Luckily all the missionaries escaped but a Chinese convert, Kaing Lap, who was overtaken, beaten to death and his body thrown into the river. Several Christian families in the vicinity were subjected to indignities and robbed. Some soldiers then appeared on the scene and effected the arrest of two rioters. The next point of attack was the Roman Catholic church. Those inside the church fired at the mob and hold them at bay for some time. At this juncture a squad came and dispersed the mob, thus saving the building from sharing the same fate as the American church. On June 21, the church at Sam Kong, a village of Tsan Shing was sacked and a girl aged 19, belonging to a native preacher's family was carried away. Fortunately in the middle of the night the Christian brethern were able to secretly open the door of the house where the girl had been taken, allowing the captive girl to be conveyed safely to Canton.

The Polish Mining Catastrophe.

WARSAW, August 11.—The fire in the extensive coal mines near Dombrow; government of Gradno, have been burning since yesterday afternoon. The fire was started by an explosion of gas, when the full force of men was underground.

The main shaft was wrecked, and comparatively few miners have been rescued. The latest report is that several hundred men are entombed in the mines, and that all hope of saving them has been abandoned. The mines are owned by the Franco-Italian Bank.

It is now believed that the number of lives lost in the accident was 15.

AMERICAN BAGGAGE AGENTS

Will Start for Montreal To-morrow Afternoon.

The courtesies of the Grand Trunk Railway Company are being extended to the members of the American Association of General Baggage Agents, which meet in convention here on the fifteenth. Side trips have been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors, and Mr. Symons, General Baggage Agent of the Grand Trunk, will, with Mr. Cantlie of the Canadian Pacific be on hand to do the honors of Montreal. The Western contingent leave Chicago to-morrow afternoon over the Chicago and Grand Trunk to Kingston, where they will take the steamer to Montreal, arriving here on Tuesday.

DECHENE VS. MONTREAL.

PRIVY COUNCIL RENDERS JUDGMENT FOR MONTREAL.

The Action of the City in Spending Money During the Small-Pox Epidemic Sustained on all Points.

The judicial committee of the Privy Council recently rendered judgment in the case of Dechene vs the City of Montreal, dismissing the appeal, the cost of which must be paid by the appellant.

This was an appeal from a judgment of the Court of Queen's Bench for Lower Canada of June 8, 1892, affirming a decision of Mr. Justice De Lorimier.

Mr. Bompas, Q.C., and Mr. Edmund Barnard were counsel for the appellant; Mr. Fullarton, Q.C., and Mr. Gore for the respondents.

The arguments were heard before a committee consisting of Lord Watson, Lord Hobhouse, Lord Macnaghten, Lord Morris, Lord Shand, and Sir Richard Couch.

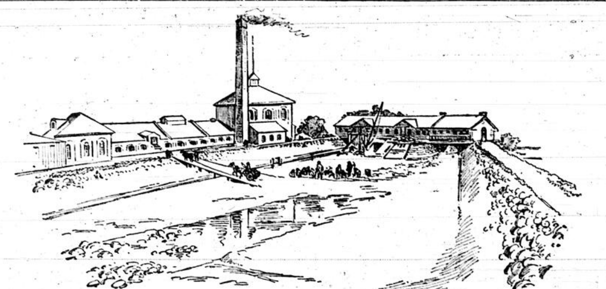

Lord Watson, in giving their Lordships' judgment on Saturday, said the respondent corporation were authorized by section 101 of 37 Vic. (Quebec), cap. 51, to make an annual appropriation for the amounts necessary to meet the expenses of municipal administration during the current year. By the same clause it was enacted that "such appropriation shall never exceed the amount of the receipts from the preceding year added to the balance of the said receipts which have not been expended." Section 12 of the Quebec statute 42 and 43 Vic., cap. 53, provides that "any municipal elector in his own name may by a petition presented to the Superior Court sitting in the district of Montreal demand and obtain, on the ground of illegality, the annulment of any bye-law, resolution, assessment-roll or apportionment, with costs against the corporation; but the right of demanding such annulment is prescribed by three months from the date of the coming into force of such by-law, resolution, assessment-roll, or apportionment, and after that delay every such by-law, resolution, assessment-roll, or apportionment shall be considered valid and binding for all legal purposes whatsoever, provided that it be within the competence of the said corporation." The effect of those provisions, taken by themselves, appeared to their Lordships to be plain and free from ambiguity. They conferred upon each and every municipal elector the right, which he had not at common law, to challenge, on the score of illegality, any corporate appropriation of money to meet the expenses of the current year, subject to the condition that the right should prescribe, if not exercised within three months from the time when the appropriation came into force. They also conferred upon the corporation an absolute immunity from liability to have the legality of the appropriation questioned, at the instance of any person whatsoever, after the lapse of those three months. But they did not interfere with any right existing by law to impeach the appropriation after the expiry of the three months, upon the ground that it was beyond the competence of the corporation. On March 29, 1886, the respondents passed a by-law or resolution, which became immediately operative, appropriating the sum of $1,922,173 to the expenses of current year. Upon June 30, 1886, the after the period of three months expired, the appellant, who is a municipal elector of the city of Montreal, presented a petition to the Court praying for annulment of the appropriation to the extent of $136,000. 36 cents, which sum was alleged to be in excess of the limit prescribed by the Act 37 Vic., cap. 51. The last day of the three months was the feast of St. Peter and St. Paul, which by section 2 of the Civil Procedurd Code was declared to be non-judicial. In defence the respondents, whilst disputing the allegations upon which the petition was founded; pleaded that it was out of time. The parties arranged that before entering into the merits of the case the judgment of the Court should be taken upon that plea, and that for the purpose of raising the plea it should be assumed that in making the appropriation the corporation had exceeded the limit of their statutory power by the sum of $139,000.36 cents. Mr. Justice DeLorimier in the Court of First Instance, sustained the plea and dismissed the petition. On appeal his decision was unanimously affirmed by five learned Judges of the Court o Queen's Bench. The arguments submitted by the appellant to the Court of Queen's Bench were summarized in the case which he had laid before the board, to which it might be convenient to refer. As therein stated, he pleaded "(1) That the resolution complained of was not within the competence of the municipal council. (2.) That the question of the delay within which the petition could be presented was one of civil procedure. (3.) That the law making valid an act done on the next judicial day, where the last day on which it could be otherwise done was a holiday, applied in all cases, and not only in matters of civil procedure. (4) That the act extending the time for presenting a petition to six months applied to the present case." Those pleas covered the whole points which were discussed in the lengthened argument addressed to their Lordships in support of the appeal. The second and third of them were the only pleas which could be regarded as having any substance, or any relevancy to the preliminary question of title which the parties agreed to try before the facts were investigated. To begin with the first of those pleas, it was true that an incompetent resolution must be illegal; but it did not follow that an illegal resolution must be beyond the competence of the council. In this case, the resolution sought to be impeached was plainly within their competence, seeing that it exclusively related to matters committed to the council by statute. Even if it had been incompetent, that circumstance could not enable the appellant to bring a petition for its annulment after the expiry of the three months. After the lapse of that period the right conferred upon a municipal elector by 42 and 43 Vict., cap. 53 sec. 12, was at an end, though the incompetent resolution remained open to challenge at the instance of persons who had a proper title. The fourth plea was to the effect that the time allowed to the appellent for bringing the suit, by 42 and 43 Vict., cap. 53, was enlarged to six months by the Quebec Act. 52 Vict., 79, sec. 144. The plea was sufficiently refuted by stating two facts. The three months allowed to the appellant ran out, according to his own contention, upon June 30, 1886. The Act upon which the plea was founded was passed about two years after that date. The second and third pleas might be treated as one. They were meant to express the proposition that, by the law of the Province of Quebec, June 29, 1886, being a non-juridical day, the three months period was extended to the next day, which was juridical. The appellant maintained that the right given to him by the 12th section of 42 and 43 Vict., cap. 53, was substantially a matter of procedure, and, in the event of its being held otherwise, that the same rule which obtained in matters of procedure had been extended by statute to the time limited for the prescription of any right of action. The rule for which the appellant contended was to be found in sec. 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, which enacted as follows: "If the day on which anything ought to be done in pursuance of the law is a non-juridical day, such things may be done with like effect on the next following juridical day." In the opinion of their Lordships, that enactment referred exclusively to things which the law had directed to be done either by the plaintiff or the defendant in the course of a suit, and had no reference to the title or want of title in the plaintiff to institute and maintain it. The enactment on which the appellant chiefly relied was section 20 of the Quebec statute 49 and 50 Vict., cap. 95. The statute did not become law until the 25th of August, 1886, nearly two months after the present petition was brought, but was said to be declaratory. Sec. 20 was in these terms: "If the delay fixed for any proceeding or for the doing of anything expires on a non-juridical day, such delay is prolonged until the next following juridical day." The section appeared to their Lordships to be essentially a procedure clause, and to be, in substance, a re-enactment of section 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Its language was not calculated to suggest that a claimant might bring an action for recovery of land, after the period of limitation had run, if he could show that the last day or days of that period were non-juridical, and that his claim was preferred upon the first juridical day after its expiry. Yet that would be the logical result of giving effect to the argument of the appellant. Their Lordships were satisfied that no question of procedure was raised by the circumstances of the present case. Their Lordships had to express their concurrence in the reasons rendered by the learned Judges in both Courts below. They would humbly advise Her Majesty to affirm the judgments appealed from and to dismiss the appeal, the costs of which must be paid by the appellant.

Condition of the Water Works.

The condition of the water works is unchanged, but the fact that the lower level reservoir, with the exception of the new Worthington engine, is stopped, will be of immense importance.

A water famine it is thought may not be imminent, but the superintendent's former advice will now be realized as correct.

"There is no doubt," said a prominent member of the Water Committee this morning, "that until the City Council recognize the fact that the settling basin, as well as the axueduct, requires immediate attention the city may be placed in the position of an inefficient water supply."

MONTREAL WATER WORKS—THE "SETTLING POND" AS IT IS TO-DAY.

SMASH-UP NEAR CORNWALL.

The Morning Express From Toronto Delayed Two Hours and a Half.

The Grand Trunk express form the west, due here this morning at half-past seven, was marked up this morning two hours and a half late. This was caused by a smash-up near Cornwall. A misplaced switch threw a heavy loaded freight off the main line, blocking traffic and wrecking half a dozen freight cars.

Twenty-five Tots Disappointed.

There was a sad little scene at the Windsor station, this morning. The scholars of the Dorchester Street Methodist Church were going out to Iberville for the annual picnic. After the train had started away twenty-five little tots came rushing in just in time to see the special departure. It was hard to see their little faces pucker up and finally break up into a torrent of grief at their disappointment. The attendant mothers comforted them as far as possible and then led the wee party sadly home again.

Four Hundred Civic Employes Dismissed.

The Road Department discharged 400 men this morning, and they do not just now know when they will be able to take them on again.

"The men were not paid for last week's work," said the City Surveyor to-day, "and we do not propose to pay the men when there is no work for them."

Mr. Duhamel Improving.

The condition of Mr. Joseph Duhamel, Q. C., who has been laid up for several days past, is considerably improved to-day.

Partnerships have been registered by Jos. Laviolette, alone, butcher (Jos. Laviolette & Son); F. X. Caron and T. B. Malo, painters, gravel roofers, etc. (F. X. Caron & Cie); Jos. TARIFF VIEWS.

Expressed by Senator Bass of Illinois.

Senator Bass of Illinois, accompanied by Mrs. Bass, arrived at the Windsor yesterday morning. He told a STAR reporter last evening that he did not believe that the Democrats meant at all to let this Wilson tariff bill go through.

"Yes, they went into office, pledged to a tinkering of the tariff, but they have found out their mistake. Their businesses show them that, all the political parties know very well that we must have a tariff, and in my opinion considering the present financial condition of the United States it is a very great mistake to disturb the existing tariffs. I know within my own experience several cases where capitalists have simply closed their businesses during the past few months solely on account of their apprehending the passing of this tariff bill. If that bill is allowed to pass and the present rate of wages is kept up in the States, no manufacturer can carry on his business at a profit, I am not in trade myself. I am a lawyer and, in my profession I have means of knowing how things are going. Without going into details my impression is that this tariff bill will not be passed. For the last six months it has paralyzed all sorts of trade. The United States workman has been all summer out of a job and he will remain out of a job until this tariff bill is got rid of. The Democrats are just looking about for any respectable excuse to shelve the bill. In my opinion nothing tends more to interfere with business than a constant meddling with the tariff. Settle the tariffs and let them remain. This is hurting Canada just as much as the United States. I wonder that Canadian opinion does not express itself definitely."

Mr. and Mrs. Bass go to Quebec to-day, but return to spend a few days in Montreal.

CITY ITEMS.

Mrs. Abon, of 312A Champlain street, died suddenly this morning.

High Mass at the Cathedral to-morrow will be followed by Papal benediction.

Twenty members of the Y. M. C. A. leave this afternoon for camp at Ste. Agathe.

The open air concert of the Royal Scots Band last night on the Shamrock Lacrosse grounds was an excellent one. The audience was a large one.

The Rev. A. K. McLennan, of Dalhousie Mills, will preach at Stanley Street Presbyterian Church both morning and evening, a Gaelic service will be held in the afternoon, at 3 p.m.

The visiting governors to the Montreal General Hospital for the week commencing on Monday, August 13, 1894, are: Messrs. J. B. Learmont, R. Campbell Nelles, A. W. Grant, W. E. Muir.

The steamship Sardinian is reported at Rimouski with ninety-eight cabin, seventy-eight intermediate and one hundred and fifty steerage passengers on board. The passengers will arrive up to-morrow afternoon.

The remains of the young son of Mr. W. F. Egg, drowned yesterday at Iberville, were brought in this morning to the Windsor station and thence conveyed to St. George's Church, where funeral services were conducted. A large number of friends of the family were present.

Captain F. Loye, of No. 5 Police Station, takes exception to the statement of a colleague on the force who deprecates the acceptance of prizes for the Police picnic. He says that the same thing is done in every other city and that the class of men who donate prizes are not those with whom the police came into contact officially.

REINHART'S RESIGNATION.

HE WAS NOT IN HARMONY WITH THE SHAREHOLDERS.

He Realized That, and Decided That He Had Better Resign—His Health Seriously Impaired.

[SPECIAL TO THE STAR.]

NEW YORK, August 11.—Mr. Reinhart's resignation as President of the Atchison Railway was received by the directors to-day. It is understood that pending the receivership no successor will be appointed. His action caused no surprise. It is understood to have been forced by Mr. Little's report. The question now is whether any proceedings will be begun against him by the Government for violation of the interstate commerce law.

One investor in Atchison securities, a woman, has begun a suit for $50,000 against him to recover losses on the stock which she says she bought on Mr. Reinhart's representations in the newspapers about the road's condition. The following is Mr. Reinhart's letter of resignation:

To the Board of Directors of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Co.

GENTLEMEN,—I hereby tender my resignation as President and Director of the Atchison, Topeka and Sante Fe Railway Company and I request that you will forward a copy of this resignation to each of the auxiliary Companies composing the system, and that the Directors of such Companies will please consider such copy as my resignation as President and Director of each of the said Companies.

The recent examination of the accounts, which was undertaken with my hearty approval, has called attention to certain methods of my system which have been the subject of much adverse criticism.

So far as I have seen no imputation has been made upon my personal integrity or any suggestion that I have profited to the slightest degree by reason of the matters criticized. Certain features of my administration have, however, been so generally critized, I feel whether rightly or wrongly, I am no longer in full harmony with those interested in the property. I am satisfied that my furthur continuance in the presidency of the Company might be an obstacle in the way of a speedy and successful re-organization of the property. I have no desire to impair in any way the efforts now being made or which may be made hereafter to put the property on a sound basis for successful operation.

Under these circumstances it seems hardly fair that I should continue to operate the property, even though confident as I am that ultimately my course will be found to have been to the interest of all. I wish to add, in justice to myself, that I am also impelled to take this course by the fact that my health has for some time been seriously impaired, and I do not feel that, even under the most favorable condition, I ought longer to continue the strain and responsibility of the position. Thanking the Board for the confidence reposed in me,

I remain,
Yours respectfully,
J. W. REINHART.

Meredith & O'Brien's Wall Street Gossip.

President Reinhart's resignation will be followed, it is said, by action by the interstate commerce committee.

Most papers say tariff bill will probably be killed to-day, but the Herald prints following: Since tariff conferees adjourned this evening the house conferees have determined to accept all the senate amendments and get the bill back to the House before the Senate can pass a resolution postponing action on it. The plan is for the House to concur in all the Senate amendments and immediately pass separate bills putting sugar, coal and iron on the free list. This was the programme last night.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

The Chicago Grain Markets during the early part of the day were quiet and about steady. Corn opened at 55 to 55⅛c for September, and 53c for May, and up to 11.30 a.m., fluctuations were decidedly tame. For wheat the opening quotations were 56⅛ to 56c September, and 64⅛c for May, and there was very little change during the first hour of the session. Pork at 11.30 was quoted at $13.40 for September and $13.80 for January.

Messrs. Meredith & O'Brien received over their direct private line the following despatch: Rains are reported in various points in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, but more is needed to do much good. Despatches generally agree that rain will not help corn much now.

Seeking Information in England.

LONDON, August 11.—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon says: Owing to the complaints as to the tardy delivery of letters in America, especially in New York, President Cleveland has sent Mr. Charles W. Dayton, chief of the New York Post Office, to inspect the foreign system under Mr. Arnold Morley's direction. Mr. Dayton yesterday inspected the London post office. Mr. Dayton is postmaster of New York and says he went abroad solely for rest.

MR. GOULD DECLINED.

The "Field" Thinks the Britannia the Better Boat.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The Field to-day in its yachting article says: "The Britannia has now defeated the Vigilant under every condition of weather and sea, except a hard-reefed sail in a heavy head sea. The contests are becoming monotonous to both. An incident result is that Mr. Gould has declined to sail the 15 miles to windward match, on the ground that the Vigilant won the event she came over here for, last Saturday, and that she does not desire any further contests of the kind."

SHIPPING SAND TO LONDON.

Little Grain for Export and Ships Have Got to Take Something.

The Thomson Line Steamer Fremona, which sails from here to-morrow morning for London, is loading 400 tons of sand, being unable to secure any grain cargo. There is little or no grain arriving here at present and next week's steamers are going to have a hard time in finding cargoes sufficient for ballasting purposes.
