St. Jean Baptiste captures the city

By NICK POWELL
(Record Staff Reporter)

The Spirit of St. Jean Baptiste has taken over Sherbrooke.

It started last night with a bonfire at the Jacques Cartier Park, gained steam with the mammoth parade today and winds up with a banquet at St. Michael's Basilica at 6.30 tonight.

"O Canada," the Canadian national anthem was the theme chosen for the 1960 St. Jean Baptiste parade.

Assembled on the occasion were 13 floats, municipal and Provincial police escorts, guests of honor, representatives of district fire departments, units of the Frontiersmen, sections of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, Parish guards from Sherbrooke and other Townships centres, seven bands, representatives of several snow shoe clubs and four Sherbrooke ambulance units. The parade was scheduled to start at Dufresne Park on Galt street, west at 2:00 p.m. From the park it was to move down Galt to Alexander, north on Alexander to Aberdeen and east to Wellington South; Wellington South, Wellington North, west up Frontenac and north again on Dufferin to the Mitchell park at the corner of Montreal street and Dufferin.

Celebrations today include a Pontifical Mass, said this morning at Beauvoir by His Excellency Georges Cabana, archbishop of Sherbrooke; the parade, and the Grand National banquet, to be held at 6:30 this evening in the dining hall of St. Michael's Basilica.

Each float in the parade was designed to symbolize a line from the French version of O Canada.

Listed in order of appearance in the parade they are: Provincial and municipal police; flag bearers; Sherbrooke

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE BONFIRE — 12,000 people were on hand last night at Sherbrooke's Jacques Cartier park for the traditional St. Jean Baptiste bonfire. The bonfire was followed by the usual spectacular fireworks display. Following the parade this afternoon is the Grand National Banquet at St. Michael's Basilica tonight.

A mystery man from Toronto causes stir in Nfld legislature

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — A man from Toronto caused a stir in the legislature Thursday.

Harvest West, a Progressive Conservative organizer, has been popping up frequently the last few days in the spectators' gallery, rarely selecting the same seat twice.

He didn't go unnoticed by Premier Smallwood who inquired about him during committee study of the estimates. Mr. Smallwood said the only explanation he could offer was that "the mystery man" was a representative of Prime Minister Diefenbaker here "to guide, nurse along and help the leader of the opposition to his job."

"I don't know who he is, or what he's here for," the premier said. "But I notice that every time the leader of the opposition left the chamber, the gentleman in question left the chamber also. They had lunch today and I understand they were together all last night."

DIEFENBAKER PREFERRED — Mr. Smallwood suggested wryly he be invited into the chamber but "we'd much rather have Mr. Diefenbaker himself than his representative."

Opposition Leader James J. Greene said the mystery obviously had made the premier "the most frustrated man in Newfoundland."

"The last few days the premier has been sending out ministers and back benchers, and even had the press to help him, to try to find out who he was. He must really be worried."

Chinese in Tibet build up forces

Seek to nullify pact New demonstrations in Tokyo

TOKYO — (AP) — Japanese leftwingers began a new series of demonstrations enough public sentiment to force nullification of the new U.S.-Japan security pact.

The first demonstration was a "people's funeral" for Michiko Kamba, the 22-year-old Tokyo University co-ed killed in the student assault on the Diet parliament building June 15. It was the third leftist memorial service held over the girl's ashes. Sponsors of today's funeral had predicted 20,000 would turn out, but only about 3,000 showed up.

Rallies in factories and shops are scheduled Saturday with a night demonstration around the Diet for which 60,000 are promised. On July 2 the Socialists and their allies will try to muster 300,000 around the Diet for more shouted demands that a new parliament be elected at once and voice adoption of a declaration refusing to recognize the security treaty which went into force Thursday.

The Socialists concede that in an election Premier Nobusuke Kishi's conservative Liberal-Democratic party would again win a majority. But they claim the majority would be reduced substantially, and that this would represent sufficient popular objection to the treaty to justify its nullification.

Moments after the treaty took effect Thursday, Kishi announced his intention to resign but set no date. Today he was reported to have told a cabinet meeting it would take some time for his party to decide on a successor. He said he could not step aside for a caretaker cabinet, as the Socialists demand, because this would create an administrative vacuum.

The Communist party meanwhile was warring with the rest of the left wing over Miss Kamba, the dead co-ed, who was a member of the "Trotskyist" wing of the Zengakuren student federation. The Trotskyists are more extreme than the Communists and accuse the party of being too soft.

The bulk of the left wing attributed Miss Kamba's death to police brutality. A police autopsy report said her internal injuries indicated she was crushed or trampled during the student-police clash, and a Communist party organ accused the Trotskyist students of being partly responsible for her death. They retailed with charges that the Communist party had collected funds in Miss Kamba's name and then diverted the money to the party coffers.

Commons in wrangle over civil defence

OTTAWA (CP) — A bitter wrangle over civil defence—punctuated by jeers, catcalls and repeated points of privilege—enlivened the closing stages of a humdrum debate on health department estimates in the Commons Thursday night.

The dispute—in which a dozen or more MPs on both sides of the House took part—erupted when Paul Martin (L—Essex East) tried to get from Health Minister Monteth a statement of government civil defence policy. Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal Laurier) and H. W. Herridge (CCF — Kootenay West) joined Mr. Martin in needling the minister, who maintained that he could speak only for his department.

Besides national health and welfare, the defence and justice departments and the prime minister's office are involved in civil defence planning.

The opposition speakers argued that they were entitled to an overview at government assistance for do-it-yourself fallout shelters, and the degree of co-operation between Ottawa and the provinces.

Mr. Monteth referred them to a statement he made in the Commons estimates committee—whose chairman, Art Smith (PC—Calgary South), said later in the stormy debate that Mr. Martin and other opposition members had not bothered to attend.

Mr. Martin replied that he had stopped attending because he had repeatedly been told that he was taking up too much time questioning witnesses.

Mr. Monteth termed the op-

Border parleys still on

NEW DELHI — (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru said today "obviously there is a large build up" of Chinese Military forces in Tibet but it is not known to what extent Communist troops are on India's border.

Nehru said he could not draw a line showing at what parts of Tibet the Chinese troops were concentrated. His army chief of staff, Gen. K. S. Thimayya, said there is a build-up on some parts of the border.

Nehru reported talks on the border dispute with China are proceeding in Peking, but officials still are discussing procedure rather than substance.

Thimayya told reporters Wednesday he felt there was no danger of border trouble as long as the talks were proceeding. They are scheduled to end in September.

STORIES DISTORTED

Nehru told a press conference many stories coming out of Tibet have no foundation and others are distorted. He said the flights of refugees into northern Sikkim, the Indian protectorate between India and Tibet, has been exaggerated into a story of forced occupation of Sikkim's territory by Tibetans.

Nehru said he has been invited by Soviet Premier Khrushchev to visit Moscow and said he might go later this year, but nothing has been decided.

Nehru was evasive when asked if he still considers President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev men of peace.

Nehru had described them thus during their visits to India last winter. Asked today whether he still feels that way, Nehru replied such a personal question was "hardly desirable."

"How can any of us sit in judgment of people in high places? I have no doubt both of them are anxious for peace, desire peace and would like peace established."

Mobilize group to draft Adlai

WASHINGTON (AP) — Formation of a nationwide Stevenson movement to draft Adlai Stevenson as the Democratic party's presidential nominee was announced Thursday by James Doyle of Madison, Wis., on behalf of supporters of the former governor of Illinois.

Doyle, a former Democratic state chairman, told reporters he expects to mobilize and coordinate the support of volunteer draft-Stevenson organizations already existing in more than 40 states.

USSR ready to break off arms talks

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet deputy foreign minister Valerian Zorin hinted that Russia is ready to break off the 10-nation disarmament conference unless the Western powers agree to negotiate on the basis of the new Soviet plan for total disarmament. "This marking time cannot last endlessly," he said.

Premier - elect Lesage:

Summons caucus to name cabinet

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT

QUEBEC — (CP) — Jean Lesage, whose Liberals were elected to power in Quebec for the first time in 21 years on the crest of the largest popular-vote wave in the province's history, now faces the task of forming a new cabinet.

The Liberal chief meets with his top lieutenants this weekend to draw up a list of cabinet members to fill the 17 posts of the administration responsible for an annual budget of $600,000,000.

Mr. Lesage faces a busy period for a new premier. Soon after taking office he must get ready for the federal-provincial taxation conference in Ottawa, a sensitive area in Quebec politics where the Liberal leader and his new team will wish to make a profound impression.

Then the Liberals will have just two or three months to prepare for the legislative session. Steps must be planned to implement the far-reaching program of promised Liberal reforms and changes.

INQUIRY PROMISED

Mr. Lesage has promised a royal commission inquiry into the 16-year administration of the Union Nationale party. There are indications he may summon the public accounts committee to thrash out government spending under the late premier Maurice Duplessis.

If that is so, Quebec may have the busiest sessions since those of 1936 and 1938 when the Union Nationale — then a newcomer on the provincial scene — knocked out the old Liberal Taschereau administration.

Mr. Lesage says there is also going to be an investigation into the "confusion" in Dorchester riding where Colonization Minister Lesage was elected.

Threatens US firm in Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro threatened Thursday night to confiscate all U.S. business interests in Cuba if the United States cuts the quota of Cuban sugar on which it pays the island nation a bonus of $150,000,000 a year.

The Cuban prime minister termed a proposal before Congress to give the U.S. president standby authority to cut the quota "economic aggression" and a "knife thrust in the chest."

Speaking of the huge U.S. business interests in Cuba, Castro said: "In the same manner that they are there now, it may be in the future that they are not there."

Son is benched Mom sues league

BAYONNE, N.J. (AP) — The mother of a 13-year-old lefthanded first baseman is suing the Bayonne Babe Ruth League because she claims her son has been benched out of the lineup.

Mrs. Theresa Lanni filed the suit Wednesday in Superior Court, claiming her son, Pasquale, was benched for not appearing for practice.

As a result, the boy warmed the bench for half the season and "suffered continued torment and anguish."

The suit was filed by the boy's father, Virgil Lanni, a lawyer and a vice-president of the league.

Triumph of U.S. ingenuity

A swimsuit you can't sit on the sand in

For Your Swimsuit's Sake:

1. Rinse after each wearing in clear water.

2. Do not sit on abrasives such as concrete and sand.

3. Never put suit away wet; dry thoroughly in shade, never in the sun.

Straight from the manufacturer's tag.

By DICK KLEINER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — American industry may be strong on know-how, but every so often it's a bit weak on know-what.

A case in point is a cheerful tag that is tied to a little girl's bathing suit made by one manufacturer. It has a list of three instructions for the care and feeding of the swimsuit. The second of these three reads:

"2. Do not sit on abrasives such as concrete and sand." Now, unless you know of a beach made out of tapioca pudding, you're going to have a lot of trouble finding a non-abrasive place to sit. And there are precious few summer pools bordered with foam rubber. Most are trimmed with that abrasive concrete.

So if the little girl in question is to follow instruction No. 2, she's going to spend most of her beach life standing up or leaning against her mother. She can go into the water, of course, but when she comes out, she'll be forced to get her sun tan vertically.

The ownership of a swimsuit which cannot be sat on in sand is a rare privilege. But do not underestimate American ingenuity. This swimsuit still has its place, even though you can't do what you might expect to do in it.

It makes a fine signal flag, to be lashed to a mast in case you are adrift in a lifeboat. It's perfect for shining elephants' tusks or stuffing in cracks in igloos.

And, perhaps, someday you may come across a place to swim where the ocean or the river or pool is bordered in some nice, non-abrasive substance that this swimsuit can take.

American industry deserves a pat on the smokstack for this latest proof of its genius. It must have taken many hours in the lab, countless debates in boardrooms and millions of dollars spent on tests to turn out a swimsuit you can't sit on sand in.

Show Business

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The nice thing about growing older in the acting business is that you don't have to worry about competing. You come in and do your work, knowing that you bring a certain competence to it and receive a certain acceptance."
These were Claudette Colbert's reflections upon returning to the movies after a five-year absence. Her last film was Texas Lady, a western she admits was "not very good."
Now she's back to play the mother of teen-age idol Troy Donahue in Parrish. It's a role that suits the longtime Colbert charm, and she looks fine. The same trim figure, the smooth, high-cheeked face, the ever-present bangs, the mellow voice. You wonder why she has been away from the screen so long.
Claudette was one of the stage stars imported from the theatre to films for the talkies, and she has seen a lot of Hollywood history pass by. I asked her what changes she detected in recent years.
"In the actual shooting of a picture — nothing," she said. "We're making this picture the same way we made them 20 years ago."
One change she deplores in Hollywood: The new kind of star.
"I just don't dig the dirty sweatshirt approach to stardom," she said. "Perhaps we leaned too far in the other direction in the old days. The glamor routine can be overdone. You don't have to dress in minks and sables all the time. But you can be presentable in public."

Solution to brutal Foster slaying may be in U.S. with Waterloo couple

The solution to the baffling bludgeoning slaying of a 74-year-old Foster man in his home last May 9 may be in the United States with a Waterloo, Que. man and his female companion.

Provincial Police homicide squad detectives say they have come up with nothing new, and no suspects have been arrested in the brutal murder.

But it has been learned Provincial Police badly want the Waterloo couple.

The man, about 37, is a former neighbor of the victim, William Ellison. He lived in Foster for several years before coming to Waterloo. Born in the United States, he has a prison record on this side of the border, and is known to Sherbrooke police.

His female companion, about the same age, also has a prison record. She was married to a Sherbrooke man, but they are separated. She has three children.

A few days after the battered body of Ellison was found in the basement of his home — four days after he had been bludgeoned to death with a pipe wrench — it is known the couple disappeared from where they lived into heavily wooded hills in the Bolton area.

Provincial and Sherbrooke police have questioned the relatives of both persons.

Nothing has been heard from the couple for over a month, and relatives are sure they have fled to the United States.

The murder victim's house had been thoroughly ransacked, police investigations showed last month.

Papers were strewn over the floor, drawers had been pulled out, and some of the furniture tipped over.

The victim, a quiet, well-liked man, had lived alone since the death of his wife in 1958. Although retired, he worked at repairing radio and television sets and was remodeling and renovating his home.

No by-law, but...

'Decent' garb for Magog

MAGOG — If you're a resident or a tourist in this Eastern Townships vacation centre, watch your shorts, bub!

City fathers have issued instructions that summer dress in this Lake Memphremagog centre must be "decent."

No by-law about shorts has been passed this year, but the provincial code covering the uncovered situation is going to be strictly applied.

Last year, a special edict was issued that no one in the city limits could wear shorts shorter than two inches above the knees. This put Magog's finest in somewhat of a quandary. Would tape measures have to be issued to members of the force? And how would visiting females feel about being measured for shorts length?

The edict received notice all over Canada, and amid a storm of laughter, the city council rescinded the by-law two weeks later.

There's to be no tape measures this summer either, but watch it, bub!

Decency is the word.

The monument was that of Patrick Walsh, who died at the age of 68 in October 1884, a native of Ireland, and of his wife, Wynnefred Wilson, who died in June, 1892 at the age of 75. Through the efforts of Father Deshaunais, parish priest, and with the permission of the Bishop, the bodies were exhumed and placed in the newer cemetery in the eastern part of the village last fall. The encircled Walsh monument of white stone is shown in the bottom photo, in the new cemetery.

FIRE CRACKERS HINDER CELEBRATION

Pranksters force Harmony Band to leave the bandstand

Celebration of the Eve of St. Jean Baptiste Day, held last night before 12,000 people at the Jacques Cartier Park in Sherbrooke were badly hindered by the antics of some firecracker-tossing culprits.

First the traditional bonfire was set off half an hour prematurely when a youth tossed a firecracker on to the gasoline-soaked pyre.

Moments later, the Sherbrooke Harmony Band, scheduled to provide the music for the evening, quit en masse after pranksters bombarded them on their bandstand.

Sherbrooke police officials said today however, that no reports were turned in on the celebrations and that no one had apparently been injured by the firecrackers.

The Sherbrooke bylaw regarding firecrackers states that they may only be set off on private property, not in public places such as the park.

Lennoxville police reported no "firecracker activity" last night. In Lennoxville, firecrackers are absolutely prohibited.

Meanwhile, the fireworks display in Sherbrooke was its usual success, hampered only by the frightening explosions of the small firecrackers underfoot.

Police, working in teams to control traffic in one of the largest crowds seen at Jacques Cartier park, unsnarled traffic jams for almost an hour after the celebrations ended. Thousands of pedestrians in the park area, only added to the tangle of cars.

However, shortly after 11:00 p.m. traffic was again moving steadily away from the park.

Modernization program seen key to survival

MONTREAL — Modern plants and machinery were seen as the key to survival of Dominion Textile Company Limited, by two senior officers of the company speaking at the annual meeting here today.

G. B. Gordon, president, told shareholders "we require above all things more adequate earnings from our operations to provide the funds we must have to keep our plants modern and efficient and to reward our shareholders for their patience and fort their faith in the company."

F. R. Daniels, vice-president and managing director, said the management was convinced of the necessity of spending sizeable sums of money on the modern equipment as it becomes available. "In our opinion, any other course would spell failure by your company to remain in the textile business. This is our only hope of survival."

Reviewing the annual report and the year ahead, Mr. Gordon noted that the record of past years gave both shareholders and management "some grounds for satisfaction in past performance and a measure of hope for the future." Earnings on the volume of business transacted "and in relation to the value of the facilities at work were lamentably low," he said and as a natural consequence, so were returns received on the shareholders' individual interests. "I would say that while the structure of your company is basically sound, we have little to spare, and we require above all things more adequate earnings from our operations," he said.

"The current year is now nearly three months underway and, barring a drastic decline in business conditions during the balance of 1960 and the early months of 1961, we can look forward to some improvement over last year's results. It will be a happy day for the directors and management of your company when the shareholders begin to receive a more adequate return on their stake in the company."

Mr. Daniels noted that in the past five years more than $27,000,000 had been spent on machinery and buildings, and he anticipated expenditures of at least an equal amount in the next five years. Reductions in cost of production achieved through plant modernization "have helped us to contain to some degree the invasion of the Canadian textile market by goods of foreign manufacture," he said.

Management's task of deciding expenditures on capital account had to take into account not only the current extremely high cost of modernization but also the necessity of each separate project and the probable rate of return on the investment he said. While this was normal procedure for any industry there were "uncertainties in important areas" which added to the problem of decision-making in the textile industry. One such uncertainty was the condition of the U.S. textile industry which bears on the fortunes of Canada's industry.

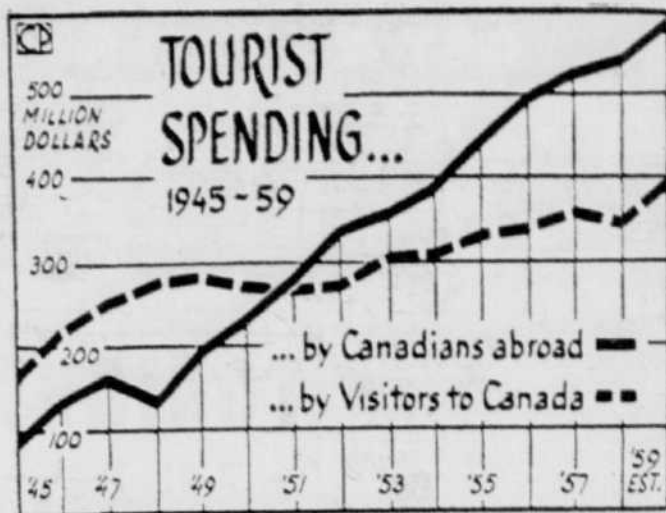

He also said "We are uncomfortably conscious of the political climate in Canada for secondary manufacturing in general and for textile manufacturing in particular. Canada today, unlike all other important textile manufacturing countries offers little encouragement for subsistence, let alone growth."

I wish to thank Richmond County electors for the wonderful support they have afforded me in returning me for my third term as their representative at Quebec City!

BBG hearing

Bilingual broadcasting said bad in principle

OTTAWA (CP) — Bilingual broadcasting is bad in principle and often causes bitterness between the two language groups it is aimed at, the board of broadcast governors was told Thursday.

These views were expressed by two of the five private organizations applying for the government licence to establish Ottawa's third television station. The two existing TV outlets are operated by the CBC—one broadcasting in French, the other in English.

Neither of the first private applicants heard by the board made any firm commitment to broadcast any of their programs in French. The area their proposed stations would cover takes in about 500,000 people in Quebec and Ontario—many of them French-speaking, but most of them bilingual.

CAUSED BITTERNESS

Frank Ryan, president of CFRA Limited, told the governors "tremendous bitterness" was caused here in 1953 when the CBC's present English-language station, CBOT, went into operation with some programs in each language.

"Bilingual broadcasting can do more harm than good unless it is done very carefully," he said.

Lawrence Freiman, department store president who heads another applicant group, told the governors:

"We believe that any attempt to be a bilingual station would be wrong in principle. This would be neither flesh nor fowl. This station is intended to be an English-speaking station, and it is."

However, Mr. Freiman said his group is "not unmindful" of its responsibilities to the French-speaking population.

EMPLOYEE-OWNED

Mr. Ryan said CFRA Limited, proposing a TV station that would be integrated with radio station CFRA Ottawa, would be employee-owned.

Mr. Freiman said he and his associates "have a deep sense of the responsibility to the community to be assumed" by the successful applicant. His group was worthy of the BBG licence recommendation on four main counts:

Recognized business and professional TV skill; financial strength; "people of responsibility," and "sensitivity and personality."

Programming proposed by CFRA Limited totalled 87½ hours weekly.

Conciliation Proceedings Interrupted At Windsor Mills

Progress of conciliation proceedings at Windsor Mills for employees of the Windsor Mills Pulp and Paper have been interrupted. Arbitration is necessary to arrive at an agreement between the two parties concerned.

The "Canada Paper Company," an affiliate of Howard Smith Paper Mills Ltd., Dominion Tar of Canada and Argus Corporation, does not seem to wish to make an offer that would be comparable to offers made to affiliates of this same Company.

The members of the Pulp and Paper Syndicate of Windsor Inc., demonstrated to the negotiating committee their discontent with the attitude of the Company when the majority of Pulp and Paper mills in Quebec and Ontario agreed to give their employees an average increase in pay of 12c an hour.

The members of the Syndicate cannot accept the idea of the Company not accepting clauses in the contract that would not constitute an increase in the cost of operation and that would be of advantage to the employee and employer. This would indicate that the Company has not made any real effort to regulate the differences.

by Gladys Richards For and About Women

Visiting the display of handicrafts at the School for Retarded Children the other night, I was amazed at some of the work done by the pupils. Few of us realize the painstaking care and loving kindness that went into this exhibit, for the simplest of these items took many hours of careful teaching.

You know this little school has come a long way in the few short years, since a handful of interested women got together to help the retarded child, though they had had no training for this work. Now there are two trained teachers, Mrs. Thomas Quinn and Mrs. John Goodson with the backing of a well organized Woman's Association and an Auxiliary in Lennoxville. Mrs. Lorne Buckman is president of this group, and though the work is growing there is still a great need for more support from the public.

Wallace, president of the Sherbrooke County W.I., and she tells me that the exhibit of handicrafts sent to the W. I. Convention taking place this week at Macdonald College is one of the best yet.

These articles have all been made by members of the branches in the county, some being the results of the handicraft courses taken during the winter. At the weaving course held last winter place mats, bordered cocktail aprons and lovely white wool stoles with silver borders were made and are among the exhibits. Other handicrafts included crocheting, cut-work, fair isle knitting, felt work, millinery and of course quilts.

Have you ever tried left over tea leaves as humus for your garden. Mix equal parts of soil, sand and tea leaves. It is also good for a seed or potting compost. To keep your potted plant from drying out when you are away for a few days place a handful of wet tea leaves around their base and, they will keep moist for days.

With the school term nearly over, thoughts are turning to summer camps for boys and girls, where fun and learning go hand in hand.

Mrs. Harold Way, of Lennoxville, Girl Guide District Commissioner told me preparations are nearing completion for the Guide Camp at Brompton which opens the end of June.

The summer Fun Day Camp for girls being held the month of July at the MacKinnon Memorial building is ready for registrations, Miss Doreen Lee tells me. This year the director of the camp will be Magret Allen and the craft director, Judy LeBaron. The regular girl's camp at Shore Acres will not be held until August. It seems to me that the girls are in for a good time this summer.

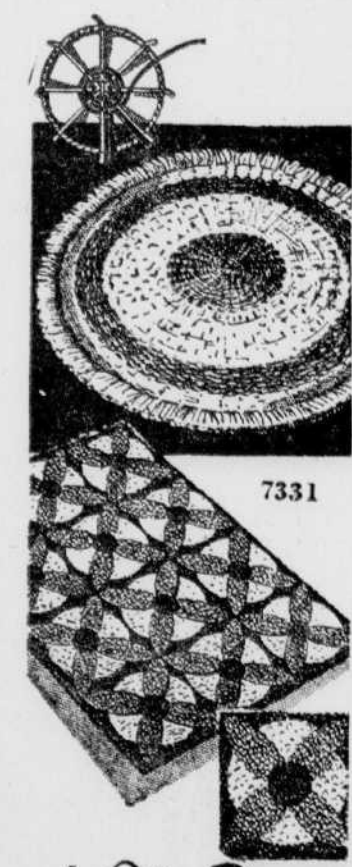

Coffee is becoming very popular as a flavoring. We find coffee in chocolate icing, chocolate cakes, puddings and ice cream. Here is a date loaf made with coffee that a very good friend of mine gave me. I'm sure you will like it, she says its delicious.

1 cup boiling coffee, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 tsp soda, 1 tsp baking powder, 1 cup chopped dates, 1 cup nut meats, 1 tsp butter, 2 cups flour, 1/2 tsp salt, 1 tsp vanilla.

Put the cup of chopped dates into a bowl, add soda and pour over the cup of boiling coffee. Let stand while mixing the other ingredients.

Older Men Shrug Off Age With Look-Ahead Hobbies

I wrote a column recently on today's older women who refuse to be old ladies, but merrily lead busy, happy lives instead of rockin' and knittin' and talking about the old days.

Well, I've been noticing that something has happened to old men, too. You don't see many old men any more, sitting around swapping stories about the old days, content to sit in the sun and through half-closed eyes watch the world go by.

Men aren't letting themselves grow old these days. Look at the jaunty clothes older men now wear, their bright sports shirts, their close-cropped hair.

Do you hear them complaining about their rheumatism or beginning their sentences with: "In my day..."

Not much you don't. Most of them don't retire until retirement is forced on them. And if they have to quit one job most likely they scratch around until they find another.

Instead of putting in a garden or mending their grandchildren's toys or playing checkers with an old caddy, they're out playing golf, taking trips, working in politics, even taking dancing lessons and having themselves a fine time.

An 80-year-old widower in our town has a different date for each symphony concert and he can be seen any summer day getting in his daily swim.

So the men deserve some credit, too, for insisting on being "older men" and not "old men." Maybe on the whole they aren't licking old age quite as well as the women but they are making a good fight.

If you want to please one of them don't ask him how he is feeling or condescendingly tell him how well he is looking.

Ask him about his golf game, how the fishing is or compliment him on that loud sports shirt he is wearing.

He'll thank you not to treat him like an old man — because he isn't one.

Senators Edge Indians 14-13 In Little League Fixture

Guy Vincent And Jean St. Cyr Clout Homers, Errors Play Big Part In Result; One Game Tomorrow Morning

Senators, deep in the cellar of the Sher-Lenn Little League, broke into the winning column last night taking a close 14-13 victory over the Indians. Scoring six runs in the first inning and four in the fifth and sixth they managed to edge the Indians by a single run.

No games are slated for this evening but to-morrow morning the Red Sox meet the Tigers at the Parade Grounds game time 10.30.

A single by St. Cyr and two errors got the Indians away to a two-run lead top of the first Senators, in the same inning, came up with four hits that pushed six big runs across the plate. Bilodeau, Martel, Hamel and Palmer did the hitting in the inning.

Each team went scoreless in the second stanza. Top of the third the Indians got three runs. Vincent, with a home run, St. Cyr and Manseau each with singles accounting for the tallies. Singles by Martel and Gaudette were all for the Senators in the bottom of the fourth. Indians in the top of the fourth also clicked for two hits.

A big fifth inning that netted them eight runs put the Indians ahead for the first time in the game. This uprising was the result of five walks, two Senator errors, a home run by St. Cyr and a single by Charpentier. All this made the score at the top of the fifth 13-6 in the Indians' favour.

Senators fighting back came up with four runs in the last of the fifth with singles by Martel and Goulet bringing home the runs. Indians in the sixth failed to add to their lead being held to a single by Gaudette, Senators' hurler.

Needing four runs to take the game the Senators did just this. A three base hit by Bilodeau, a single by Hamel and two Indian errors giving them the runs needed to take the game. In a closely played game St. Cyr, with four hits, Vincent, with three, were the Indian stars. Martel, with three hits, Bilodeau, Goulet and Hamel each with two were the Senators' big guns.

QUEBEC (CP)—Veterans Francois Godbout of Waterloo, Que., and Don Fontana of Toronto remained the only two unbeaten players in the Canadian Davis Cup trials here Thursday. Both scored third-round victories.

Godbout was given a tough battle by Val Harit of Montreal before winning his third straight match 6-3, 7-5, 4-6, 1-6, 6-3 in the longest and closest match of the trials so far. Fontana started slowly but recovered in time to defeat Roland Godin of Montreal 3-6, 6-0, 7-5, 6-1 for his second victory.

In another third-round match, Harry Fauquier of Toronto registered his first win 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, over Keith Carpenter of Montreal.

Fontana meets Harit and Godbout goes against Godin in the fourth round today. Pairings for the fifth round will be decided

MacKay And Two Leading Aussies, Fraser And Laver, Skid Ahead At Wimbledon, Maria Bueno Also Wins

WIMBLEDON, England (CP)—America's Barry MacKay, second seed in the Wimbledon championships, has quietly let it be known that he's looking for a career. But he doesn't know whether his future lies in professional tennis or commerce.

"So far as pro tennis is concerned, MacKay says, "nobody has yet asked me seriously. I suppose that might change if I win Wimbledon. On the other hand, with a major in economics, I would be interested in joining say a financial or investment house."

MacKay and the two leading Australians, Neale Fraser and Rod Laver, skidded their way through the fourth round of the championships Thursday on courts made slick by repeated rain.

Cleveland Barons Sign Agreement With Canadiens

MONTREAL. — (CP) — Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League Thursday signed an affiliation agreement with the world champion Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

Richmond pitcher Zach Monroe went all the way. Rene Valdes, who pitched seven innings for the Royals, took his eighth loss against four victories. Monroe's record is five up and six down.

He's still one of the finest hitters of a ball in the business. He proved it Thursday by taking a 7-2.

"I think that's a tremendous performance under the circumstances," Player said of his partner.

Player said he thought his own par - shattering 31-34-65 over the 7,000 - yard Portmarnock links "is my finest record of ever, remembering how lousy I was feeling with this asthma."

Now the big question is: Can Player and Locke survive another three days of competitive golf?

The South Africans led the United States by three strokes in the team championship, 137 to 140.

Arnold Palmer, the reigning U.S. Open and Masters champion, had 36-33-69. Sam Snead, his partner, had 35-36-71.

CANADA WAS NINTH

Belgium was in third place with 141 strokes. Flory Van Donck, the Belgian star, turned in a 68 for the second best individual score of the day.

Canada's standard - bearers held ninth place with a combined score of 146. Besides the three frontrunners, Scotland, Ireland, Argentina, Wales and Italy were ahead of them.

Balding, the pipe - smoking Torontonian, matched Locke's par 72, the 12th best individual scores for the opening round. Leonard, the Vancouver veteran who is defending the individual title he won last year in Australia, went two strokes over par with a 74.

Peter Thomson and Ken Nagle, defending the team title for Australia, were 12 strokes off the pace with 149.

Yankees On Top Of Circuit Move Into Cleveland For Crucial Series, Orioles Stop White Sox In Eleven

New York Yankees, back in a familiar spot atop the American League, roll into Cleveland tonight for the opener of a four-game series with the third-place Indians, who at the moment are in a better position than second-place Baltimore in the flag chase.

After their latest winning streak was cut at six with a 2-1 loss at Detroit Thursday, the Yankees have only a half-game lead over Baltimore. But the Orioles, who defeated Chicago's White Sox 5-3 in 11 innings, are four games back in the decisive lost column.

Cleveland is only two back of New York in games lost after putting away a three-game sweep over Washington with a 7-6 victory.

Boston won the lone night game, wallopping Kansas City 13-4.

MOSSI, MAXWELL SHINE

Charley Maxwell's leadoff home run in the ninth beat Yankee reliever Ryne Duren (2-2) and ended the Tigers' losing string at four. Don Mossi (4-5) won it, scattering nine hits and blanking the Yanks until the eighth, when Gil McDougald hit a pinch double and scored on Hector Lopez' third single. The Tigers had only six hits. They scored first in the sixth, off Bob Turley, on Frank Bolling's double

Kist Racks Up Sixth Win In Junior Baseball League, Downs Indians 5-1

Claude Ruel's Squad Retains 1,000 Percentage, Indians Drop To Fourth, Pitcher Tanguay Stars For Winners

Kist posted a 5-1 victory over the Sherbrooke Indians last night to strengthen their first place lead in the Junior Baseball League. The win, by the visiting Kist squad, put them in firm possession of first spot with six wins and no losses while the loss by the Redmen puts them in fourth position.

Jean-Guy Tanguay hurled the visitors to their win, whiffing nine men, walking two, and allowing four hits while losing pitcher Billy Robinson struck out four men, gave four free passes to first, and had five hits chalked up against him.

The two squads battled for two full innings before breaking into the scoring column and it was during this time that the best ball of the game was displayed. Both the Indians and Kist tallied a single in the third frame with Gagnon scoring for the visitors and Andre Moreau making the rounds for the Redmen.

For the next three innings, the clubs once again were in top form and neither could rack up any points! Only two hits were registered in these three frames, those going to Bacon and Desbien of the Indians.

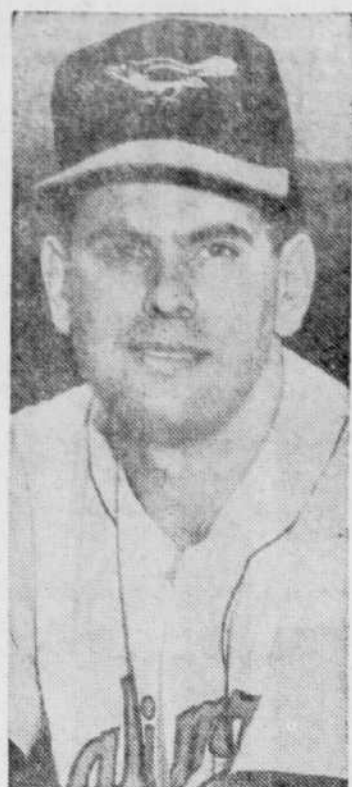

In the top of the seventh, the visiting Kist team exploded for four runs, capitalising on two hits and three Indian errors. Label, Auray, Provencher, and Tanguay were the marksmen for the visitors, putting Kist in a four-point lead by the score of 5-1.

The Redmen tried desperately to break the four-run bulge by Kist but only managed to get one man on base before the side was retired.

Getting the hits for Kist were Jacques, with a double, Tanguay, Auray, Label and Gagnon all with singles. For the Indians, Moreau, Desbien, Bacon and Billy Robinson each smashed bingles.

Kist 001 000 4 5-2
Indians 001 000 0 1-4
Tanguay and Provencher; B. Robinson and Pelletier.

FIREBALLER — Chuck Estrada, 23 and extremely fast, joined the phenomenal group of young Baltimore pitchers this season after striking out 178 in 183 innings in the Pacific Coast League last year.

No. 42 — Handwork

By JIMMY DEMARET

Using a six iron for a chip of about 60 feet, the feet are together, the left only slightly back from the line of flight.

The knees are together and flexed. The hips are opened slightly. The arms hang comfortably. The head is over the ball which is off the center of an opened left foot.

The hands, holding the club as loosely as they instinctively can with control, begin the action of the swing with an easy, calculated forward press. The hands then move into the backswing, taking all the moving parts of the body with them.

The hands work freely conducting the progress of the swing with their superior sense of touch, indicated in the accompanying illustration. But this is not a wrist shot as I point out in my Golf-To-Music Lessons album. There is no such thing, for this implies exclusion of any other body activity.

At the end of the backswing,

Hands conduct progress

the knees, hips and shoulders have allowed the back passage of the club by giving way to it.

A steady head position anchors all the activity.

The O'Keefe Brewing Company is also giving $100 in merchandise value to the amateur scoring a hole-in-one during any of its tournaments during the "1960 O'Keefe Golf Circuit."

The Dolbeau Golf Club is on the property of the St. Lawrence Corporation Limited, beside the Mistassini River. Gaston Boutet Club President, Andre Tremblay Club captain, and Roger Belanger, greens keeper are looking forward to a good turn-out on the weekend.

The next O'Keefe amateur golf tournament will take place at the Anjou Golf Club, Montreal July 16 and 17. The second pro-amateur contest of the season is slated for Ste. Percy Robillard Gets Three MONTREAL — (CP) — Percy Robillard brought home three winners Thursday night at the Blue Bonnets Raceway to set the pace on the jockey's scoreboard.

He won with T.E.M., Kitty Chips and Volo Diamond.

Veteran Del MacTavish drove Joan's Commander to a first place finish in the featured $1,800 B race.

The eight-year-old black gelding owned by D. M. Pinkney of Stratford, Ont., paid $17.80, $9.90 and $5.60. Sammy Herbert was second, paying $17.40 and $7.80, and Colona Hanover paid $3.80.

A. H. Reynolds Drives Graham Abbe Home In 2.122-5; Success Lionel Goes Half In 1.032-5, Prices Low

The pickers were at their best last night at the Sherbrooke Race Track and the prices were low. The double paid only $26.30 while the quinellas were $10.80, $16.30 and $25.30.

Tomorrow evening another ten-race card is slated as well as Sunday evening. The Post Times are booked for 8.00, depending however on the arrival of the betting fans.

The fastest time of the evening, for a half mile, was registered in the tenth and final race when driver Gilles Lachance teamed Success Lionel, a three-year-old, across the wire in 1.03 2/5. He was several lengths ahead of the rest of the field but before the three-quarter post had been reached the others passed him and he finished fifth.

The interest was high and the drivers were going all out to win. The judges handed out fines and at the same time set back two horses for interference in the ninth.

In the ninth driver Gilles Lachance and Denny Pointer were set back along with Jean-Paul Toulouse and Miss Mighty. Lachance caused interference in the stretch and at the same time changed his position in the final dash to the wire. Driver Toulouse got his when he interfered twice on the back stretch with two different horses. They were both put back to the end of the field and drew warnings from the judges after races for their dangerous driving.

The best time of the evening was posted in the sixth when A. H. Reynolds drove Stevens' Graham Abbe home in 2.12 2/5. His time for the half failed to compare with Success Lionel. The top payoff for a win investment went to Fred Bean's Texas Blue in the fifth. $11.50 was picked up.

In the same race $13.70 was collected for a place bet with C. Bennett and Fair Show the duo. In the same class, in the eighth, Freedom Direct paid his backers the sum of $7.20 for a show ticket.

Canada's Champ Volo Pulled Upset Winning Third Leg Of International Widower Creed Gets Trophy On Points

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Canada's Champ Volo, a 48-to-1 outsider, sprung a startling upset Thursday night in winning the $50,000 third leg of the International Pace at Yonkers Raceway, but only after surviving a foul claim and after New Zealand's Caduceus had been disqualified.

Champ Volo, driven by Philip Dussault and owned by Adrien and Gerard Miron of Montreal, was declared the winner after finishing in a dead heat with Caduceus. Caduceus was disqualified and placed last for interfering with O'Brien Hanover on the first turn and with Bye Bye Byrd down the stretch.

Speedy Pick of the U.S. was moved up to second place and Mighty Dudley of Canada to third. The winner paid $98.30, $25.30 and $9.

The race, paced in 2:01 1-5, was marred by an accident on the first turn when O'Brien Hanover and the favored Widower Creed went off stride.

Caduceus led for the first quarter, but Bye Bye Byrd was challenging at the half mile and all the way to the home stretch. There, Bye Bye Byrd seemed set to take command when he went off stride. Champ Volo came along rapidly to deadlock Caduceus at the wire.

Because the three legs were won by as many horses—Widower Creed, Bye Bye Byrd and Champ Volo—the trophy went to the horse with the most points, Widower Creed.

The International Pace's first leg was raced on June 2, at 1 1/2 miles with Widower Creed the winner. On June 9, Bye Bye Byrd captured the 1 1/4-mile second leg.

Points were awarded on a 10, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2 basis.

The final point total: Widower Creed 22, Champ Volo 18, Bye Bye Byrd and Speedy Pick each 16, O'Brien Hanover 14, Caduceus 13 and Mighty Dudley 12.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Pitching — Don Mossi, Tigers, snapped the Yankees' six-game winning streak with a 2-1 victory and brought his season's record to 4-5.

Hitting — Eddie Mathews, Braves, hit a pair of homers, his 15th and 16th of the year, in an 8-4 triumph that completed a sweep of a four-game series with the Giants.

Athletes Use Tea As Pick-Up

TORONTO — Tea as a pick-up drink has wide use and acceptance among tired athletes, and a constant user is Floyd Patterson, newly re-crowned world's heavyweight boxing champion. Patterson sips tea after every workout, it was learned by Tea Council of Canada, and appreciates its stimulating qualities.

"The unusual benefits of tea have made it one of the most popular of all beverages with top level athletes and trainers," Lloyd Percival, Director of Sports College, states in his book "Fitness Is Easy."

Percival recommends that "any time you are feeling tired, a cup of tea will do a great deal to help, preferably with lemon or orange, and honey or corn syrup rather than sugar."

"Tea is," adds Percival, "one of the most beneficial aids in postponing or recovering from fatigue. The action of the chemicals in tea creates both a stimulation and feeling of cheerful relaxation. Tea is truly the cup that cheers."

REMEMBER WHEN...

The Irish-bred colt Noor, sold by the late Aga Khan to the late Charles S. Howard, set a world record of 1:58 1-5 for the mile and a quarter at Golden Gate racetrack at Albany, Calif., 10 years ago today. Noor, then a five-year-old, just a week earlier had set a world record of 1:46 4-5 for the 1 1/4 mile distance, since lowered to 1:46 2-5 by Bug Brush at Arcadia, Calif., in 1959.

The Record's Farm Report

Agreement has still to be reached on how the farm implement price inquiry is to proceed. The House committee on agriculture, given the job of making the investigation, had to postpone its in-camera meeting slated for Tuesday last week until a suitable procedure could be worked out for consideration. With this delay and the extremely heavy summer agenda of other House activities, it seems unlikely that the farm machinery study in this session will get much beyond laying out a course of action for next year.

Feed Ratio Gain Favors U. S. Hogs

Feed prices in the U. S. have fallen from an index of 78.1 a year ago to 74.6 last week. As a result of this and higher U. S. hog prices ($17.80 last week in Chicago) the corn-hog ratio rose to 13.6 last week against 12.8 the same week a year ago. In the same time, the hog-barley ratio in Canada declined from 18.8 last year to 17.6 this year. This advantage for U. S. hog producers may be offset by the quality bonus ($2.00 on grade A, $1.00 on B) payable to Canadian producers and by the prospect they will receive a deficiency payment to maintain prices at the national support level of $22.64.

Butter Stock Conversion Aids Board

The Stabilization Board's butter conversion program is more limited than was indicated. Purchases of butter by the Board will include only first grade as before. The Board's butter oil operations will apply only to its own stocks of butter in storage. All of its current stocks stored before May 1, 1959, will be converted to oil. Butter stored since that date will be regraded and any that has deteriorated below first grade will also go into oil.

Brucellosis Tests Hold Export Market

Canada's Brucellosis Certified area plan now has one third of all Canadian cattle under supervision. Most are in areas from which exports to the U. S. are made. This insures acceptance of cattle by the U. S. in the "modified accredited areas" which now include 24 states, as in both countries the plans allow not more than 5 per cent of the herds to be affected by brucellosis.

New Hampshire is the first state to acquire brucellosis free designation, a state must have tested all herds within 18 months and all herds with brucellosis must have been retested and found free of infection. Cattle being shipped from Canada's certified areas must be retested within 30 days in New Hampshire. Those from areas not certified are barred entry.

Potato Price Holds, U. S. Output Up

Potato prices were $4.45 per 75 pound bag at Toronto on the weekend. This is $1.30 above last year at this time. There are no indications yet that this higher price has stimulated extra plantings of potatoes this year. Prices for the balance of the 1959 crop are likely to hold well, since stocks in storage are below normal, especially in the Maritimes. Exports from the Maritimes are down by a third from last year. U. S. department of agriculture regulations were revised effective June 8, to provide that imported potatoes of round varieties other than red skinned, must meet the requirements of U. S. Grade No. 1 or better, size A and two inches in diameter. Requirements for other varieties remained unchanged. U. S. late spring potato crop is now estimated at 27 million cwt., 15 per cent above 1959 and 10 per cent above average. Early summer potatoes are estimated at 14.5 million cwt., 16 per cent above average.

Crop Prospects Grow, Wheat Outlets Shrink

With the possibility of a bumper wheat crop developing in Canada, the prospects in export markets continue to darken. U. S. wheat production is now estimated at 1,271 million bushels, 13 per cent above 1959, and 16 per cent above average. Next year's wheat support legislation, now before Congress, may do little to improve future prospects.

Canada's exports of wheat for this crop year up to May 25 were at 193 million bushels, 6.4 million bushels below last year. Unless stronger competition with U. S. wheat disposal can be developed, and greater efforts made to hold present European markets, this decline is likely to become more rapid. But prospects for an expansion of government support for wheat export promotion are not bright at this time.

DO IT YOURSELF

FENCE POST POINTERS:

By MR. FIX

Your home may be fairly new and in good shape, but if there's a sagging fence on your property the whole place will look as though it were in the last stages of decay.

If you allow the fences to droop long enough, the day will come when a high wind knocks them flat.

If you get to the job in time you may be able to avoid ripping out the old fence and replacing it.

Rotting Problems

Posts tend to rot at ground level and below ground where the end grain absorbs water. Check carefully. Excavate some of the earth around the post if you must. Even if the post is set in concrete it might be rotted.

Remove the post if there are serious signs of rot. You'll have to break up the concrete if that material was used.

If only the base of the post is rotted it can still be salvaged. Cut off the rotted portion and splice on new wood with a lap joint—an L-shape cut in each—so that the ends fit smoothly. Nail or fasten together with galvanized bolts.

Another method is to spike a length of 2x3 piece of lumber to each side of the post end.

Treat the end of the post with a wood preservative before setting it back. The preservative should extend about two inches above ground level.

Set It Deep

Whether setting new posts or old, remember to set them deeply enough. Perhaps when you examine your sagging fence you'll find that the posts haven't rotted at all. Maybe they've just shifted. The post hole should be deep enough that frost won't knock it over.

Figure on a hole deep enough to take a third of the post length—half as much below ground as above.

Before you dig the post hole (and use a post hole digger by the way) wet the ground a little.

This will make the hole easier to dig and help it keep its shape.

Drop a flat stone or broken concrete in the hole for the post to rest on. If the earth is clay you may not have to use cement. Just tamp the ground thoroughly.

Pouring Cement

If the ground is loose, drop stones and gravel in around the post to hold it in place and pour in cement. Bring it to about one inch above grade and slop it away from the post so that water will run off.

Rot can hit other parts of the fence as well. Decay is likely to occur where rails are fastened to the posts or where pickets are nailed to the rails. If rail ends are rotted you can salvage them by cutting off the ends evenly and nailing a 2x4 to rail ends and to the post.

Replace rotted pickets completely.

Use rust-proof nails to avoid further repairs. Touch up nail heads with metallic paint before painting the fence.

Q—Is there any way to minimize dust when cleaning a fireplace?

A—Burn a wad of newspapers in one corner of the hearth as you clean out the ashes. The rising heat will pull the dust up the chimney.

Tour Of Britain Arranged For Canadian Farmers

Canadian farmers curious about agricultural methods in England and Scotland will have a chance to find out for themselves this fall. Canadian Pacific's Immigration and Agricultural Development Department is organizing a special tour group to be drawn from Canadian farmlands from coast to coast which will enable them to have a close look at how British agriculture is developing.

The group is scheduled to sail October 4 from Montreal for Greenock, Scotland, aboard the Empress of Britain. The Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the National Farmers' Union in the U. K., and the authoritative publications "Scottish Farmer" and "Hereford Herd Book Society" are all backing the Canadian Pacific project.

The tour circuit will be a professional one. Since the driving of the "Last Spike," Canadian Pacific's agricultural department has smoothed the way for Britishers to find places in the Canadian farm economy.

Now they are partially reversing the procedure so that Canadian agriculturists can find out how they handle turkeys in Ayrshire, see the manufacture and testing of British-made farm implements, attend the famed London Dairy Show at the Olympia and visit the Scottish Highlands and English meadows that their forefathers cultivated.

Aware of the thin agricultural content of some holidays offered as "farmers' tours," C.P.R. planners have responded to farmers' enquiries and requests for plenty of model and breeding farms, beef auctions, stock shows, tractor works, training colleges, and research centres for the farm sciences.

Visits to the famed and ancient tourist attractions - including Burns' Cottage and Canterbury Cathedral - will not be lacking, either.

The 1100-mile trip through Scotland and England by motor-coach calls for stops from Loch Lomond to London.

The farmers will be accompanied throughout by a C.P.R. official. If any wish to extend their travels beyond the month-long itinerary, Frames' Tours, who are handling on-land portions of the project, will be glad to assist.

The sightseeing farmer may examine the lands that have given his profession so many names - from Hereford and Aberdeen Angus cattle to Yorkshire pigs - all for $650 and a month off from the chores on his acreage.

MEASURE THE Benefits YOURSELF!

12% MORE MILEAGE 5% MORE HORSE-POWER 70% REDUCED PRE-IGNITION 145% LONGER SPARK-PLUG LIFE

When tested in a fleet of ambulances, TOTAL gasoline benefits improved mileage 12%. A taxi fleet enjoyed a 3% increase which improved still more after the detergent action eliminated carburetor deposits. The benefits built into new White Rose TOTAL gasoline have been proven in exhaustive laboratory and road tests. One of these is the improvement in usable horsepower, amounting to as much as 5%. Today's high compression engines, benefit from control of premature combustion within cylinders. This wasteful pre-ignition is reduced 70% by the benefits built into new White Rose Ultra—a TOTAL gasoline. Cars requiring premium octane gasolines will find that the TOTAL benefits of new White Rose Ultra can lengthen sparkplug life between 100% and 400%—all tests averaged over 145% increase.

What makes all these benefits possible? New TOTAL gasolines successfully combine—for the first time in Canada—the major advances known to petroleum chemistry. TOTAL gasolines are produced in both regular and premium octane grades: new White Rose and new White Rose Ultra. That's because TOTAL benefits begin where octane benefits leave off. And you pay no more for them. So start using—and stay with—new TOTAL gasolines. Soon you'll discover why
