MANS' CHARACTERISTICS GREATLY INFLUENCED BY HEREDITY, SPEAKER SAYS

Dr. W. E. Williams Addressed Luncheon Meeting of Rotary Club on Wednesday — Many Physical and Mental Diseases Can be Traced to Parents and Ancestors, He Declared

Heredity is a tremendous factor in the physical and mental characteristics of people, Dr. W. E. Williams, child specialist of Outremont, stated when addressing the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall, on Wednesday. Dr. Williams entitled his address, "What's Old and New in Children."

"More attention is paid to heredity in animals than in human beings, and due to tthe human element, this will probably always be the case," the speaker believed.

A great many diseases, except those of an infectious character, can often be traced to heredity, and in mental ailments ancestry played an even greater part. Character, also is greatly affected by heredity.

As an example Dr. Williams recalled a case he new of in which a family had adopted a baby, only to have one of their own a short time later. Both children were given identical upbringing and educated in schools of a good standing. When the children reached thirteen years of age their was a marked difference in their character, the adopted boy showing tendencies to steal and tell lies. An ivestigation was made as to the record of his parents and it was discovered that the father had been an habitual criminal.

A muscular disease developed by a seven-year-old child had been traced back three generations, or almost 150 years. Asmetic diseases, such as hay fever, were in the majority of cases due to heredity.

There are two schools of thought regarding the upbringing of children, Dr. Williams said. The modern trend is to give the child his own way as much as possible and thereby prevent the development of inhibitions.

The old view that children should be disciplined with the objective of bringing out their character. The speaker believed that both had their good points but that parents should use moderation in applying them.

Modern treatment of diseases is vastly different than that practiced a few years ago largely due to the present knowledge of vitamins and glandular action. Vitamins, especially that known as "D", can cure a great many diseases that doctors could not treat successfully in the old days.

Glands are now known to play a tremendously important part in physical characteristics and further knowledge in this field will greatly increase the physician's ability to right physical defects, Dr. Willams stated.

The speaker was introduced by Cliff Odell and thanked by Cecil Medlar.

The president, John Colton, was in the chair.

CHURCHES WILL SAVE BY WATER TAX JUDGEMENT

Ruling of Chief Judge Greenshields Will Save 17 Churches $4,000-$5000

Between $4,000 and $5,000 annually will be saved by Westmount's 17 churches as a result of the judgment handed down by Chief Justice Greenshields on Tuesday ruling that Montreal's by-law governing water taxation was "ultra vires." Schools and similar institutions in the city will also benefit.

The city of Montreal had fixed a rental value on church buildings at four per cent. of its assessed value and then levied an impost of 7 1-2 per cent of that amount. This, according to the Chief Justice, is illegal. Montreal has thirty days in which to appeal the judgment but it is believed that no action will be taken.

Churches affected in Westmount are: Church of the Ascension; Shaar Hashomayim; Dominion Douglas; St. Leo's; Stanley Presbyterian; Westmount Park United; St. Andrew's United; Calvary United; St. Matthias; Westmount Baptist; Temple Emanu-El; St. Stephen's; Church of the Advent; Melville Presbyterian; Calvin-Westminster United; Seventh Day Adventist; and Lutheran Evangelical.

Rev. F. W. Kerr of St. Andrew's United, speaking on the Greenshields judgment said yesterday: "Naturally, we are very gratified. I personally have felt that an injustice was being laid on the churches with the increased water tax rate, and method of assessment. It would almost have meant that some of the smaller churches would have had to close their doors. In some cases the increased tax was ten times as much as the old rate. It is a great relief. We would not have minded a reasonable increase but that asked by Montreal was exorbitant, we felt."

Examples of increases are as follows: One church paying $160 was asked to pay $890, $720 increased to $320, $120 rose to $370, $72 was increased to $350.

The feeling of the churches was that the tax was not truly a water tax but merely an increase in taxation under a "water-tax" label. Payment at the lower rate had been tendered by the churches since 1935 when the tax-by-law was passed but was refused by the city, awaiting the judgment.

Religious Play To Be Presented

In Westmount Park Church on Sunday evening, another presentation of religious truth in dramatic form will be made. Under the direction of Miss Margaret E. Murray, a group of the young people will present the play, "Peace, I give unto You."

The scene is a home from which two sons have gone to war—one to serve on one side, the other to fight against him. The sons meet and a quarrel ensues, but then the realization that Christmas is near brings a cessation of the angry words. So the spirit of good-will triumphs over jealousy and anger. The drama will be presented in the school room following the evening service.

HOME, SCHOOL GROUP HEARD TALK ON BOOKS

Literature Suitable Young People Discussed By Christopher Ellis At Meeting

"Books for Young People," was the title of an address delivered by Christopher Ellis at the regular monthly meeting of the King's Westmount Home and School Association, held at the school on Monday evening.

The speaker did not list the more modern books for children in detail, because he felt that they have not as yet stood the test of time. Speaking from the view point of literature in general, Mr. Ellis referred to the important part that books have played in men's lives. Books in the home for a child to read are a priceless legacy that a parent may pass on to his children. A bookless home, he continued, is one without intelligence or intellect.

Among the books mentioned, was John a London's Weekly which is a mine of information. Two of the best known characters of children's books are Peter Pan by Barrie and Winnie the Pooh by A. E. Milne.

Included in the list of books that are loved by adults as well as by children because they appeal to the child in us, are Alice in Wonderland and The Water Babies.

Children who read Stevenson's "Treasure Island" and "Kidnapped," are soon anxious to read others by the same author.

As an introduction to Dickens, we might read to the smaller children the "Children of Dickens" which is adopted from the works of this author.

The spirit of adventure which appeals so greatly to boys and girls, is certainly to be found in the Henty "Books of Adventure." Older boys will be interested in Tom Sawyer, Huckleberry Finn by Mark Twain and Jules Verne "Twenty Thousand Leagues under the Sea."

Charles Lambs' Tales from Shakespeare form a good introduction to the plays of Shakespeare.

The speaker concluded by saying that if children are given the opportunity to read good books, they will turn away from trash. We must not forbid them to read anything. Each has the right to make his own selection but if we, as parents, provide only the better types of books, we shall gain their interest in good reading which will be of benefit to them always.

Boy Injured In Attempt To Get Ride On Wagon

When a milk-wagon driver rapped his stick against the side of his cart in an effort to scare away school boys who were trying to get a ride on his wagon eleven-year-old Frederick Fraser, of 84 Selby street, suffered a painful injury to his lip requiring hospital treatment.

Young Fraser, with a number of other pupils of Queen School, was running alongside the milk cart, opposite 262 Olivier avenue, shortly after 10 o'clock on Saturday. He asked the driver for a ride and in order to frighten the boys William B. Fraser, 17 Fourth avenue, Ville St. Pierre, rapped a stick against the side of his waggon. A piece of the wood broke off, however, striking the boy on the mouth.

The younsgter returned to school but on the advice of the principal was taken to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital where four stitches were put in his lip. He was treated by Dr. McArthur and allowed to return home.

When questioned by police follow in the incident the milkman stated that he had no knowledge of injuring the youngster and had merely picked up the stick to warn them not to try and jump on the wagon.

Westmount's municipal budget for the 1939 fiscal year was given third reading at a regular meeting of the City Council in the City Hall Monday night and showed an estimated expenditure of $1,334,710.

Estimates for current expenses, interest and sinking fund, unemployment relief, depreciation, pension funds and hospital and other grants, are included in the bill.

The property tax of 13 mills is to remain unchanged and will yield a return of $876,995 on buildings assessed at $67,461,125. The Protestant School tax is set at 10 mills and the neutral panel tax at 12 mills. Ald. Currie proposed homologation of the 1939 general municipal tax.

Anticipated revenues and expenditures for 1939 are about the same as those of the current year.

The 1939 estimated revenue is $1,334,710, in comparaison with $1,345,245 for the present year. Estimated expenditures have been set at $1,342,374, compared with $1,332,502 for 1938. Next year's anticipated surplus is set at $2,971 for the present year.

Next year's revenue will be: $876,995 levied through the 13-mill tax on assessed value of the municipality's total taxable property of $67,461,125; $156,500 by local improvement and frontage taxes; $29,525 by electric light department revenues; $120,000 by income and sales taxes; $20,000 payable by the City of Montreal; $96,000 by estimated revenues from business taxes, licenses, interest on assessments, court fines and Westmount Athletic Grounds; $16,000 by the operation of Victoria Hall, and $9,690 from other sources.

See Need Of Crossing Officer

Need of a traffic officer at the intersection of Cote St. Antoine Road and Roslyn avenue during the periods when children are going to, and coming from school, is felt by residents in the Roslyn avenue area living south of Cote St. Antoine and a request that a constable be stationed at this point will in all probability be made to the Westmount Police Department.

These residents point out that the volume of traffic passing this intersection, particularly during the morning rush hour, is extremely heavy, endangering the safety of pupils of Roslyn school.

A great many motorists who formerly used Sherbrooke street now travel via Cote St. Antoine in order to avoid the traffic lights on Sherbrooke. In the morning rush period there is an almost continuous stream of cars, and children are forced to take unnecessary risks in order to cross the street, it is contended.

CITY ALLOTS $5,000 TO LIBRARY FOR PURCHASE OF NON-FICTION BOOKS

Is Special Sum To Be Used To Increase Number of Technical and Reference Works — Entirely Apart From Regular Annual Grant — Approximately 2,000 New Volumes Will Be Added

The sum of $5,000 has been allotted by the City to the Westmount Public Library for the purchase for approximately 2,000 technical, reference and nonfiction volumes, it was announced this week by Miss Kathleen Jenkins, head librarian. $2,500 will be placed at the disposal of the library immediately while the rest will be received in 1939.

This is a special grant and is entirely separate from the regular allotment from the municipal budget turned over to the library each year for general maintenance and the purchase of additional books. It will place the library in a position to purchase about twice as many books as are usually added during a twelve-month period.

The regular annual allotment for operation of the library for 1939 will be $21,685, it is revealed in the budget report adopted at Monday night's meeting of the City Council.

The special fund is to go towards the purchasing of nonfiction works only in order that reference and technical facilities may be greatly expanded. Included in the new works will be the complete Oxford Dictionary consisting of twelve volumes.

A number of books on foreign languages are also to be acquired as well as scientific works on chemistry, physics, etc. The music section of the library will receive special consideration and is to be greatly enlarged.

A considerable portion of the allotment is to go towards improvement of the children's section and new encyclopedias, books on science and general reference works will be purchased for this department.

The 2,000 or more books will not be purchased in large single orders but will gradually be added to the shelves of the library from time to time. This plan being adopted in order that a careful selection may be made before ordering new volumes.

The regular purchases of current fiction and non-fiction books will go ahead as usual and will in no way be affected by the special grant. Usually, about 2,500 volumes are added to the library's shelves each year.

ROAD BUILDING PLAN IS SCORED

The varied plans of road construction to be found on any one highway in Quebec is caused by "dictates of political pressure" Mr. Theodore Morgan, executive chairman of the Royal Automobile Club, declared in an address before a large gathering of young people in St. Andrew's Church, on Tuesday evening. The speaker expressed the belief that highway expenditures can no longer be considered political booty and that the sooner the government realizes this the better it will be for the economic, financial and social life of the province.

At this meeting, under the direction of Mr. Donald Miller, plans were made for the reorganization of the Young Men of St. Andrew's and the Young Women's Study Club and the forming of a Young People's Organization of considerable size. At the next meeting a constitution will be presented and an executive elected. It is expected that supper meetings will be held once a month and already several excellent speakers have been approached. A most successful season is anticipated.

H. O. Young Addressed Members of Hi-Y Grads Club at Meeting Monday

H. O. Young, general manger of Canadian Colonial Airways, Ltd. was the guest speaker at this monday's meeting of the Westmount Hi-Y Grads Club. Mr. Young spoke on the general subject of flying, with special reference to recent developments in Canadian aviation.

To-day, a university education and thousands of flying hours are essential qualifications for transport pilots.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1938

SIGNIFICANT TRADE TREATY

Last week, the nations of the world witnessed the spectacle of the three greatest Anglo-Saxon nations joined together in the strongest of all bonds, the bonds of trade. The English-speaking democracies are peopled by men who are the sons of many generations of free men, and they have their love of liberty as a great common heritage. This inherited dislike of restriction has expressed itself through the centuries not only in religious wealth was achieved under freedom of trade; All the great merchant nations of history were nations that became wealthy under freedom of trade. Their ships roamed the seven seas trading where they willed and bringing home the riches of their bargaining. England's great wealth was achieved under freedom of trade; and so was that of Holland in her hey-day. Most of the troubles that have beset the nations since 1929 can be traced to restrictions to the natural flow of trade, restrictions which have gone to the extent—almost unbelievable, but true—of a system of inter-state tariffs between states of the American union. Ever since the great trade war started in 1930 thinking men in the United States, Canada, and England, have been busy trying to devise an agreement that would sweep many of these obstructions which had sidetracked thousands of freight cars, tied thousands of ships to the pier, and thrown hundreds of thousands out of work. To accelerate the velocity of the flow of trade has been the principal aim of men like Cordell Hull and Mackenzie King for years, but many of their countrymen are hard to convince. The English, on the other hand, are free traders by training and instinct. The new treaty, however, while hardly going far enough to completely fulfill the purposes of its framers can be taken as a great beginning to the restoration of normal trade between the countries concerned.

What Others Say

LEARN FROM THE RED INDIAN

In the days before the coming of the white man the young Red Indian who wanted to get married had to satisfy his elders that he would be able to look after a wife and family. If he could not there was no consent. The would-be bride was asked if she knew how to dry birds, fish and herbs; if she understood how to care for children; how to make two kinds of moccasins; where to find certain foods. If she did not know her job as wife and mother she could not get a "marriage licence." We can think of a lot of things more foolish than for the white race to ask whether it would not be a good idea to take a tip from the red man.—The Albertan.

Japan is no longer trying to conceal from a critical world the fact that her economic system is being severely strained by the China "incident." In every walk of life, from the Emperor down, stringent economies are of necessity being observed. The time has gone when the rabid militarists scoffed at the economists. Some foreign observers in Japan say that the decrease of the supplies of war material is rapidly becoming the most embarrassing economic problem the country has to face.—Straits Times.

THE FORUM

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C.

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety and originality of treatment.

Senator Robert La Follette, who may be president of the U.S.A. before many more years, in a radio address from Washington said: "We have the stream of people in the one hand, the stream of resources on the other; we can put them together." Isabel Bacon La Folette, wife of the governor of Wisconsin, (Phil to her and most of his friends) in her interesting column in the Progressive wrote, 'A lot of experimentation has gone on these past years, but it has faced in the wrong direction; it has shared poverty rather than wealth. People sense that increasingly and that is why there is so much wrangling and dissatisfaction. As I said to Phil the other night, they are fighting over a bone; we want to put on enough meat on that bone so they won't need to fight over it." "Bob III listened to his father discuss this with a group of people yesterday, and summed it up afterwards to Phil, "I have a slogan for you. You mean work makes wealth and wealth makes work." If an eleven year old can understand that, our first step is solved. Imagination and experience show us the method. But the big hurdle is getting the opportunity to put this in practice. The American people still have the sovereign power. I am convinced that the American people will use their power to get what they want."

One of the astonishing paradoxes of this crazy world is the fact that those who talk the most of the glories of the competitive system have actually already abandoned it! Our great business enterprises are no longer in the noble (?) American practice of free competition, but by their system of monopolies have practically eliminated it. The only place where it remains is in little business and in the ranks of labor, where man must compete with his fellow-worker for jobs, and thus keep an ever-present supply of cheap labor, which serves the purposes of private profit well. And so we hear much talk of the wonderful value of the great American system of competition, emanating from the sources of propaganda controlled by the great monopolies, which have abolished competition as far as they themselves are concerned!—M.C. in Epic News.

L. W. Brockington, K.C., chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation told the House Radio Committee that it is the ultimate policy to eliminate advertising, but in the meantime it is necessary to carry advertising in order to get sufficient revenues for expansion of programs.

Banish Haunting Fear By James Norman Hall, Quoted by W. E. Woodward, in his book "Money For Tomorrow":

The thing that numbs the heart is this:
That man can not devise
Some scheme of life to banish fear
That lurks in most men's eyes.
Fear of the lack of shelter, food
And fire for winter's cold;
Fear of their children lacking
these,
This in a world so old.

Where man has lived so long, so long,
Finding no way to share
The bounty of a world so rich
That none need suffer there.

Y.P.S. GROUP PAYS RETURN VERMONT TRIP

Calvary Young People Were Guests of Christian Endeavour Society in Johnson

This last weekend Calvary Young Peoples Union paid a return visit to Johnson, Vermont, where they were the guests of the Christian Endeavour Society of the United Church of Johnson. The Vermont group had visited Montreal two weeks ago and had been received at the Westmount City Hall.

The Calvary group left Friday evening and on arrival in Johnson, a social evening was held, after which they were entertained in various homes in the town. On Saturday morning, the group was taken to the State Capitol—Montpelier—where they visited the state buildings and where received by the Governor, Honorable Geo. D. Aiken, who gave them a cordial welcome on behalf of the people of the State and spoke a few words on the greater understanding which can be accomplished between our two Christian peoples through such visits.

The group then had dinner at The Montpelier Hotel. Following which, a broadcast from station WDEV at Waterbury took place. This was in the form of interviews with the various young people. This program was broadcast over the State and lasted for forty-five minutes.

The delegation then drove to Burlington following which, they returned to Johnson for a banquet and a social evening.

On Sunday morning, a special church service was held under the leadership of Rev. A. Ritchie Low of Johnson, who was on charge of arrangements for the trip. A welcome on behalf of the young people of Johnson was expressed by Miss Fernwood Gate, President of the local Christian Endeavour. This was responded to by R. Gwilym Edwards, president of the Westmount group who was in charge of the local delegation. He stated, this would be but one of many exchange visits between the two groups and hoped that other meetings of a similar nature might be arranged throughout Canada and the United States to foster a greater understanding between the Christian Young Peoples' of both countries.

Following dinner and the taking of pictures, the group departed for Montreal in the afternoon.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB TO VISIT BORDEAUX JAIL

The next meeting of the Young Men's Canadian Club promises to be one of exceptional interest. The guest speaker will be Rabbi Harry J. Stern of the Temple Emanu-El. His subject will be the Migration of the Jews from Germany and Austria, and is one on which he is qualified to speak, as he has travelled extensively in Europe and the Near East, and is conversant with the conditions under which the Jews have been living on the continent.

This meeting will be held in the Queen's Hotel, on Monday evening, and George P. Graham, president, will be in the chair.

The Young Men's Canadian club also announce a rather unusual outing. On Saturday afternoon December 3rd, they will make a tour of inspection of Bordeaux Jail. Last winter the club were addressed by one of the jail chaplains, which quickened the interest of the members in prison reform, and in the measures that have been adopted or are being tried out to enable the accupants of our jails to win their way back to society.

MASONIC LODGE SERVICE WILL BE HELD HERE

Rev. T. W. Jones to Preach on "Masonry On Trial in the Court of Life"

On Sunday night at 7.30 p.m. Wellington Masonic Lodge will hold its annual service in Calvary Church. The Minister of the Church, Bro. the Rev. T. W. Jones, D.D., will preach the sermon on the theme, "Masonry on Trial in the Court of Life." Members of other lodges and kindred organizations are invited and urged to attend this service. The Brethren will assemble in the Church hall at 7 p.m.

At the morning service Dr. Jones will commence a series of sermons oan "Messages from the Book of Exodus." The first of these will deal with the persecution of the Hebrew people in the land of Egypt, the story which is set forth in the early chapters of the book of Exodus. The subject of the sermon will be "Anti-Semitism—An Ancient and Modern Scourge." The significance of this theme at the present time will be apparent to all in the light of the present day Jewish persecution.

The Women's Association of Calvary Church will hold its annual bazaar in the Church hall on Thursday and Friday, December 1st and 2nd from 3 to 10 o'clock each day. The bazaar, which is described as the "Christmas Gift Bazaar" will be officially opened on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock by W. R. Bulloch, member of Parliament for Westmount. REALTY SALES PREDOMINATE IN WEST END

Westmount is Near Million Mark and Verdun Sales Now Exceed $800,000

Real estate sales in Notre Dame de Grace and Mount Royal wards for the ten first months of the year amounted to $4,355,312 which is more than a quarter of the value of real estate sales in the City of Montreal. Among the municipalities, Verdun is second and Westmount occupies fourth place.

The greatest number of real estate sales among the municipalities was in Outremont, where 17 transactions involved an exchange of property valued at $223,002. In Verdun, there were 14 sales valued at $56,075 and in Westmount, there were nine sales for a value of $39,625. Westmount is now near the million mark in the value of property sold this year and in Verdun the figures are $807,503.

The only other Montreal ward that boasts of a high amount of sales is Villeray, where $1,297,268 worthy of property has been sold this year. The N.D.G. figures are $2,461,217 for the corresponding period.

PROGRESS CLUB HAS LUNCHEON

Hears Talk By G. N. Paterson-Smyth — James A. Donnelly Is Head Table Guest

Dr. G. N. Paterson-Smyth, Chief of the Department of Psychiatry of the Women's General Hospital, addressed the Canadian Progress Club at their weekly luncheon meeting in the Windsor Hotel on Tuesday, on the subject of "Mass Psychology and Propaganda."

In order to be a leader, the speaker pointed out, all that was necessary was for a man to have clear-cut views and express them often enough. The tendency of the crowd to imitate or follow would give that man a following.

The speaker was introduced by Alec T. Parkes and a vote of thanks was expressed by W. H. Williamson. Head table guests included James A. Donnelly, aldermanic candidate in Notre Dame de Grace Ward, and one of the charter members of the club. The chairman read a letter from the Catholic School Commission expressing its sincere thanks and grateful appreciation for the daily supply of free milk

OSCULATION DEFINED

A kiss is a peculiar proposition. Of use to no one, yet absolute bliss for two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to lie for it, and the old man has to buy it. The baby's right, the lover's privilege, and the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl, faith; to a married woman, hope; and to an old maid, charity.

"Love From A Stranger" Is Next MRT Presentation

Offering a sharp contrast to the quiet humour of the opening production the MRT brings for its second presentation of the season "Love From a Stranger," at Victoria Hall, November 29th, to December 3rd, with Matinee Dec. 3 at 2.30 p.m., a gripping mystery thriller from the pen of that famous detective-novelist, Agatha Christie. Adapted for the stage by Frank Vosper, the play builds up the suspense throughout, gives the most avid thriller "fan," satisfactory clues and achieves an exciting climax which promises to lift the hair of the most hardened. "Love From a Stranger" was tried out this summer by the Brae Manor Players and proved the most popular of their offerings at Knowlton and North Hatley. The MRT presentation will be its first showing in Montreal.

The story opens with Cecily Harrington and her friend Mavis two business girls, preparing to vacate their flat in London which they wish to let furnished. Cecily is about to be married to her engineer fiance who is returning on leave from the Sudan—and to complicate matters the two girls have recently shared a winning ticket in a sweepstake. Cecily is reluctant to marry before she has had time to enjoy her newfound wealth and freedom. An intriguingly mysterious stranger appears in answer to the "to let" advertisement— Nigel, the fiance from Africa arrives home to find he has lost his bride-to-be to the stranger, Bruce Lovell, and the first act curtain falls with Bruce making that first inexplicable move which the audience is going to remember vividly as the next two acts warm to their work. Act two finds Bruce and Cecily happily married and living in a delightful but lonely cottage in the country. From there on the plot thickens and thickens in the best Christie style.

Was for Twenty-Five Years A Prominent Member of St. Andrew's Church

A prominent member of St. Andrew's Church, William Alexander Reid, of Wilson avenue, was paid final tribute on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the church in which he was an elder for 25 years and for 23 years superintendent of the Sunday School.

Mr. Reid who was 64 years of age, died suddenly on Saturday morning in his sleep. He had appeared in his usual good health on Friday and had attended to his office duties as usual the previous day.

A son of the late James Reid and Mary Southam Reid, he was born and educated in London, Ont. In 1900 he came to Montreal where he opened a manufacturer's agency under his own name.

He was one of the best known members of St. Andrew's Church being superintendent of the Sunday School and an elder.

Surviving Mr. Reid are his widow, formerly Beatrice Green whom he married in 1907; three daughters, Misses Eleanor and Marion Reid, of Montreal, and Mrs. C. L. Spencer, of Manila, Philippine Islands; one sister Mrs. Ernest Crouch, of Toronto, and one brother, T. S. Reid, of London, Ont.

R.C.A.F. UNIT HOLDS WEEKLY RIFLE PRACTICE

Temporarily Using Range in Armoury of Royal Montreal Regiment

The Westmount No. 115 R.C.A.F. Fighter Squadron is now holding weekly rifle practices each Thursday evening at the Royal Montreal Regiment Armoury through permission of Lieut.-Col. J. E. Slessor, the regiment's commanding officer.

Use of the R.M.R. armoury is necessary due to the fact that the squadron's rifle range is not yet equipped for practices and will probably not be ready until next year.

In the meanwhile officers and non-flying members of the squadron will be given instruction in this branch of their training at the armoury. They are using their own rifles.

The unit's ground crew will hold its second dance of the season on Thursday, Dec. 3, it was also announced this week.

Hitler Moustache Is Imitation Of Chaplin's

"According to recent press despatches I note that it is now illegal to wear a 'Hitler' moustache in Kitchener and district," writes a correspondent, who has long been known for his anxiety to reach European soil to find out what all these dictatorships are about. Kitchener was formerly a stronghold of German patriots.

"It has been said that the German (and latterly the Jap imitator of Hitlerism) never originated anything except the printing press and that is what defeated them in the last war and history will repeat in the next.

"Charlie Chaplin conceived the idea of the abbreviated snout warming upper lip hirsute adornment. It was adopted to create mirth.

"Hitler with his lack of originality copied it. One clown copying another but unfortunately with his inflated and exaggerated ego, the moustache in question has become emblematic the object of scorn, hatred and tears. Were it not so tragic one might laugh at the aping of such an ape. Even Hitler's policy of blood and iron was not original and was instituted by Hannibal the original Hun.

"Our sincere congratulations to Kitchener on their vetoing of insipid imitators.

"Strange, is it not, that the first re-action to such methods and policies had to originate what have proved to be real Canadians."

SUSPIC OUS

"Have you seen the cashier this morning?"

"Yes, sir, he came in without a moustache and borrowed the railway timetable."

Businessmen IN THE Public Eye

ARTHUR LAFORTUNE

One of Westmount's younger, but never-the-less successful businessmen is Arthur Lafortune, operator and manager of the Imperial Service Station on Sherbrooke street at the corner of Grosvenor avenue.

Born in Montreal in 1901, Mr. Lafortune received his early education here later entering St. Louis College at Terrebonne, Que., where he completed a course in arts and commerce.

He joined the staff of the Imperial Oil Company in 1933 and was for two years employed at the station at the corner of Girouard and Monkland avenues.

In 1935 he was transferred to the Sherbrooke and Grosvenor service centre taking over operating control of the unit in September 1936 when the independent system of operation came into general effect.

Although having little bearing on Mr. Lafortune himself, it is interesting to note that his service station is on the site of what is believed to have been the first gas station erected in Westmount and is listed as No. 2 in the Imperial chain.

When Imperial first entered the retail business over fifteen years ago they secured seven stations in Montreal among them being the one now operated by Mr. Lafortune.

In those days, however, the running of a service station was a far cry from the efficient manner in which they are operated today. Calls for gasoline were so few women could easily attend to the business and girls were employed for the servicing of cars instead of men. Service stations at that time sold only gasoline and were not equipped for any sort of repair work.

As operator of one of Westmount's pioneer automotive centres Mr. Lafortune is well known to a great number of local motorists. While the time he devotes to his business prevents him from indulging to any extent in club activities he is an ardent baseball fan and was for many years an active player on the diamond.

Interested in the future of business in Westmount as a whole he was an early member of the Business Association of Westmount and is a firm believer of its beneficial force in the community.

SURE TEST

Maxie, the producer, was selecting a chief for his scenario staff. The producer insisted that the successful applicant must be a college graduate. He looked with favor upon one applicant, and asked if he had had a college education. The answer was in the affirmative.

"Lemme see your diplomas?" demanded Maxie. The applicant tried to explain that it was not customary for college graduates to carry diplomas around with them.

"Well, den," demanded the producer, "say me a big woid."

Hoop-skirt. Ermine wrap. Winsome smile. That would be the recently eloped Mrs. William Dobbs (the shipping heiress.)

Orchids to Miss Wilhelmine Kirby. That floral shoulder-piece set off her quilted satin gown and silver fox wrap.

The Santa Claus influence in fashion! Lovely Mrs. William Cavanaugh wore a red velvet wrap, a gold-and-white brocade gown.

Another entry in the unofficial fashion show was Mrs. Fred Kimberly in a peach silk gown overlaid with black lace stripes.

A colorful "show within a show" is the modish parade of New York society belles who lend their chic presence to the National Horse Show. These fashionables were photographed on opening night.

Westmount League Visited Hospital

Westmount sub-division of the Catholic Women's League held a hospital day at the Montreal Convalescent Hospital last Friday afternoon, under the convenership of Mrs. W. J. Keating.

Members of the league were welcomed to the hospital by Miss Kathleen Murphy. Dr. J. J. McGovern, guest speaker, who was introduced by Mrs. Keating, complimented the ladies connected with the institution on the splendid work that was being carried on. The speaker also remarked that a convalescent hospital of this type was a boon to the community in relieving the other hospitals of many people, who were recovering from an illness, and rest was the only requisite, there by vacating beds in other institutions for very sick persons.

Mrs. A. A. Pare thanked the speaker. A group of songs were sung by Miss Germaine Lefebvre, accompanied by Miss Hermine Lefebvre. Tea table centred with autumn flowers was presided over by Mrs. J. J. O'Brien and Mrs. F. Roland Graham.

TEA TIME TOPICS

Recently we wrote a little story in this column, about a mother and her daughter, who were constantly bickering. The issue containing this item was sent to someone in England, who wrote us a very nice letter telling us that she tried out the idea and was amazed at the results. The trouble with people today, and particularly the female sex, is that they take the small things of everyday life far too seriously, and do not pay enough attention to the worthwhile things. The lady recommands that mothers and their children have several interests in common, whether it be books, movies or some hobby or other, this would create an understanding between people. We sincerely thank our English friend and hope that she will write again.

Reigning belles of the Victorian age were called when they came nearest to the Greek conception of alabaster perfection. Perfectly formed features combining into a flawless whole. Women today whose faces approach this classical ideal are not the women who make heads trun in a restaurant, who are adored by movie fans, and whose features decorate the covers of famous magazines. This is encouraging, for it clearly shows that we are no longer concerned with the surface of things. A women of personality, stirs us far more than a flawless mask. Who cares whether a mouth is too large, or a check too hollow, as long as they are animated by a potent spirit? The beauty of today earns her title one-half by personality, one-fourth by nature, and one-fourth by the modern miracle of make-up.

The Way To A Man's Heart

Broiled Grapefruit Dessert Is as Easy as Pie to Make

Variations on the grapefruit pie theme — topped with hard sauce, with whipped cream or with softened peanut butter.

Grapefruit—now in season—used to be a breakfast dish. Now it's all over the lot. Every year many readers ask for a recipe for broiled grapefruit. It's getting to be popular as a dinner dessert.

Broiled Grapefruit

Select smooth-skinned grapefruit and cut each grapefruit in half. Core and remove seeds. Loosen segments by cutting around them with curved knife, but do not take out membrane.

Sprinkle one tablespoon brown or granulated sugar on top of each half. Dot generously with butter. Dust with nutmeg if desired.

Heat through in medium oven for about 10 minutes, then place grapefruit under flame of broiler and allow to broil for 7 to 10 minutes, or until delicately browned. Serve immediately.

From Florida a reader sends this pie recipe. Tested, it proves its merit.

Two-Crust Grapefruit Pie

Five cups grapefruit segments, 1-4 cup brown sugar, 2 1-2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 tablespoon butter, pastry.

Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry. Mix brown sugar, flour, cinnamon and nutmeg. Place one half segments in pie pan. Sprinkle with half the sugar mixture. Repeat. Dot with butter. Top with pastry. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for 25 minutes.

Fancy Chicken Salad

(Serves 6)

And grapefruit also goes to bridge luncheon parties.

Two cups cooked chicken (white meat), 1 cup celery, 2 tablespoons pimiento, 2 tablespoons green pepper, 1-2 cup mayonnaise, stuffed olives, 2 medium grapefruit, sectioned, lettuce.

Dice chicken, celery, pimiento and green pepper and add salt, pepper and mayonnaise. Arrange lettuce in salad bowl with salad mixture in center. Garnish with ring of stuffed olives and grapefruit sections radiating like spokes of a wheel.

RACING RACHEL

Stifling frequent sneezes in a flowing, red, silk handkerchief—bu' "veree, veree, happy to be here again"—Rachel Carley, singing star of "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round," jumped from an inbound New York train early Monday evening and raced way to fulfil a dinner engagement at a local abaret.

Two hours later, with the cheers of a crowded auditorium still raging in her ears, we chatted together backstage in her dressing room, and Mam'selle found time to discuss French-Canadian music, food and flowers.

The little lady is particularly enthusiastic about compositions of Leo Lesieur, Montreal's own radio organist. In fact, she includ one of his numbers, 'Pourquoi', in her program every night.

"I first met Leo in New York several months ago," she said, her nose twitching in entrancing manner. "I had signed to make several records for RCA-Victor, and the first number handed me was 'Pourquoi.' Leo was so delighted with the recording that he dashed off another song before leavin the studio. It is called 'Quand je Danse Avec Vous,' and is to be published next week."

Mam'selle's nose twitched some more, and she swallowed some coffee in an effort to counteract the chill.

After studying violin and voice in the Conservatoriums of Paris and Brussels, Miss Farley made her operatic debut when 17 in 'Carmer' at the Theatre Royal de Bruxelles. Earl Carrol met her several months later at a performance of 'Les Folies Bergeres de Paris,' and brought her to America to star in his forthcoming 'Vanities.' From the stage she stepped into radio, last month completing her fourth year on 'Manhattan Merry-Go-Round.'

Mam'selle's alluring figure is natural—she eats what and when she chooses. In fact, cooking is her hobby and she can wrestle up as fine a steak as anyone this side of London. Fine foods simply lay down and do as she bids them.

She is fond of all species of flora and fauna, but prefers American Beauty Roses . . . because they are so near to love, and I am veree romantic." She also adores orchids because " . . they make a woman beautiful, and I do so want to be beautiful!"

At this point in the discussion, Mam'selle's nose twitched dangerously, but in most entrancing fashion. Suddenly her smile changed to a look of terror; she covered her face with the silk handkerchief—and sneezed.

When she removed the kerchief her nose twitched no more. The interview was at an end.

RECORD TESTS SUCCESSFUL

After a successful session of recording tests in New York, Frank Baker, of Roy Campbell's Royalists, will cut his first two Brunswick disks in Manhattan Saturday afternoon. Baker will be supported by Jimmy Carroll's orchestra in two tunes by Alex Wilder, the composer of 'The Kings Horses' . . Sarah Fischer, Montreal soprano, will sing to the Empire December 10 in a special BBC broadcast from Daventry, England. Thanks for your note . . . Art Hall:—Yes. The "stamper," or master, is now shipped to Canada and prints are made here. Unfortunately this manner of avoiding duty on transcriptions does not benefit local artists.

YEAR'S MOST MEMORABLE PICTURE!

Thrills Abound In New Scarlet Pimpernel Story

One of the most popular characters in modern fiction is brought to the screen again in "The Return of the Scarlet Pimpernel," a new London film which is now showing at the Seville United Theatre until Sunday.

Twenty years ago Baroness Orczy was asked by a famous publishing house to supply a thrilling serial story in rather a hurry. Within fifteen minutes of receiving the commission she had formulated mentally the story of "The Scarlet Pimpernel." Originally the setting was to be in Russia, but for diplomatic reasons Baroness Orczy altered it to the French Revolution.

Three or four years ago Alexander Korda made a film of it. with Leslie Howard as the central character. It was a big success, in fact one of the biggest box-office successes ever made in this country.

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" Begins A Second Hit Career

"Alexander's Ragtime Band," the song which Irving Berlin wrote nearly thirty years ago and which has lived long enough in popular fancy to become a genuine American folk song, forms the theme of the Darryl F. Zanuck 20th Century - Fox production which bears the song's name.

This film is now playing at the York United Theatre until Friday with Tyrone Power, Alice Faye and Don Ameche in the starring roles.

While it revolutionized the entire popular concept of dancing and singing in 1911 . . . and is generally admitted to have begun the ragtime vogue which has since passed through the eras of blues and jazz to current "swing" . . . there are a number of interesting facts in connection with the song itself.

Originally written by Irving Berlin as "Alexander and His Clarinet." The song had no words.

Revamped and lyricized for a Friars Frolic in New York in 1911.

First sung in public in 1911 by Emma Carus in Chicago.

In 27 years, to date, has been given 10,000-odd performances.

Dorothy Lamour As Native Girl In "Hurricane"

When Dorothy Lamour finished her first picture "The Jungle Princess," she swore she'd never wear another sarong.

"I couldn't even stand the thought of putting on my bathing suit," she said. "I wanted clothes, pretty clothes and lots of them."

Then came the opportunity for her to play "Marama," the native girl heroine of Samuel Goldwyn's South Sea drama "The Hurricane," in which she is appearing opposite Jon Hall at the Snowdon United Theatre starting Sunday.

"I couldn't pass up that chance," she said. "It's the sort of opportunity that comes once in a lifetime. So here I am gone native again—and loving it."

Miss Lamour was born in New Orleans, spent a year in Birmingham, Alabama, while still a small child, then returned to the Louisiana city.

What would the Ritz brothers do if they ever visited an asylum? . . . If Boris Karloff has nightmares, what are they? . . . Why has Katharine Hepburn dropped from sight since she lost that R.K.O. contract? . . . Would a little added weight hurt Luise Rainer? . . . Why is the picture "Ecstacy" omitted by Metro in the list they have compiled for the biography of Hedy Lamarr . . . Where are the crowds that used to go to the movies in '29 and '30? (A reward is offered for the answer to this one).

Horse-Loving Star Has Truck Scenes In Comedy

At last Bing Crosby, whose name is more closely associated with the turf than that of any star in filmdom, stars in a picture in which racehorses play a prominent part! It is the new Paramount comedy, "Sing You Sinners," now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Sunday, with Fred MacMurray sharing the lead withe Bing.

Although Bing has protrayed every kind of fellow, from a Princeton student in "She Loves Me Not" to a Hawaiian publicity agent in "Waikiki Wedding," he had to wait until now to play a role nearly approaching the one he has in real life, that of a good-natured, happy-go-lucky young man who would rather own a good racehorse than the Bank of England and whose greatest pleasure in life is a successful day at the track.

With Bing's passion for thoroughbreds in mind, th author of the picture, Claude Binyon, the ex-newspaperman who wrote "I Met Him in Paris" and "True Confession," went to work and created colorful character "Joe Beebes," which Bing portrays in the film. He is a young man whose aversion to the humdrum routine of the business world makes him the despair of his family, especially his hard-working brother, Mac-Murray.

"Anne Of Green Gables" By Children's Theatre

Everything is set for the seventh major production of the Montreal Children's Theatre, directed by Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, which is to take place at Victoria Hall on Saturday afternoon, at 2.30 p.m.

"Anne Of Green Gables" has been a prime favorite for years both with children and grown-ups, and a carefully selected cast of the Children's Theatre have been rehearsing for the past weeks, and special care given to the interpretations of all the beloved characters of this delightful story, so that when the curtain goes up on this play, you will recognize all those folks whom you admired so when first read this tremendously popular book.

There is a cast of over sixty children including: Laure Mitchell who is playing the beloved Anne who goes through life imagining things. Marcia Getz is playing Marilla, Alfreda Wallace portrays Rachel Lynde, and other important roles are played by Jean Philpott, Yvonne Cook, Elaine Robinson, James Keith, Elika Spector, Pat Joudry, Thelma Vautour, Patsy Pearson, Ed. McGibbon, and Frank Leonard.

Many of the old favorites of the Children's Theatre will be seen in this production together with many new members who have made a splendid showing during the season, and with the large school scene and specialty numbers, even the little tots of the school will have an opportunity of appearing. There are specialty numbers introduced in the school scene, and participating in these will be Shirley Pearce, Lilian Wilkinson, Joyce Litwin and Isobel Weinrauch, and a surprise with "our babies" Iris Shklar, Margo Blatt, Charlie Stillman, Howard Davis, Arlene Margolese, Gerald Rubin and Estelle Horn.

Profit and Loss

One prominent studio in Hollywood reports net operating profit for the first 39 weeks of 1938 of $4,622,097 compared to $4,898,893 for same period last year. Just gives you an idea how bad business has become in the Motion picture industry.

"Four Daughters" Based On Fannie Hurst Story

What happens when four devoted sisters fall in love with the same man? "Four Daughters," the Warner Bros. picture based on a Fannie Hurst story, which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre and opens at the Seville United Theatre on Sunday, takes that as its theme and develops it into a richly human story.

The four daughters of an elderly musician all give their hearts unanimously to a captivating young man who comes to live at their home, and he in turn is enraptured by the youngest of them. And it is this girl, scarcely more than a child, who bravely sacrifices her own happiness because of a mistaken notion that by so doing she will insure the happiness of her oldest sister. More by chance than by design, the tangle into which the lives of the four girls is thrown is eventually unravelled so that each achieves the destiny that makes her happiest.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATION OF WESTMOUNT
Geared for Better Business

The Business Association of Westmount
— OFFERS —
A WORD OF APPRECIATION

Realizing that the success of its campaign to better business conditions in Westmount rests to a great extent on the support of the buying public the Business Association of Westmount takes this opportunity to record its appreciation for the co-operation thus far received.

The Association has never recommended shopping in Westmount merely to help local merchants. Its aim is to acquaint residents of the genuine desirability of patronizing Westmount firms, and while this year it stresses the point that . . .

IT'S QUICKER TO SHOP IN WESTMOUNT

there are, of course, a great many other reasons for doing so.

Modern wholesale and distribution methods make it possible for the local merchant to do business on an equal price basis with other business houses and Westmount firms offer goods and services at prices that will meet comparison with those charged elsewhere.

Also neighborhood stores almost invariably offer service that cannot be surpassed. An order for a weekend's supply of food or a last-minute call for a pound of butter can be handled with equal ease by your nearby dealer.

Every time your local merchant sells you an article, he also sells you service. He knows your individual preferences and will go out of his way to serve you in the most efficient manner possible.

The variety of merchandise stocked by local merchants is sometimes overlooked but the most casual survey of Westmount firms will readily demonstrate that practically every marketed commodity and service can be secured within the boundaries of the city.

For these reasons, and for the fact that Westmount business will benefit greatly as a result, residents are urged to place as much of their business as possible with local firms. Whether your order calls for food, clothing, drugs or the services of a plumber or painter, etc., the members of the association listed on this page are anxious to accommodate you. They will do everything possible to warrant your patronage.

WESTMOUNT JUNIOR SQUAD WILL MEET HAMILTON TEAM AT GROUNDS HERE TOMORROW

Both Teams Have Won Title Once in Past—Westmount Took Honors Last in 1936 — No Decision Yet on East-West Junior Final Game With Regina, Western Winners

Westmount's most important football game of the year will be battled out at the Athletic Grounds tomorrow afternoon, when the local junior squad meets Hamilton Italo-Canadians to decide the eastern Canada championship.

Both teams have won the title once in the past, Westmount in 1936 and the Hamilton crew last year and odds are considered pretty well even.

The Westmount squad gained considerable confidence in defeating the crack Ottawa team last Saturday 17-0, but under the coaching of Andy McGillis, have spared to effort in practicing up for their new encounter.

Talk of an East-West junior final game between the Regina Dales and tomorrow's winner is rife locally but so far no official announcement has been made.

As far as the Westmount team is concerned, the secretary, Alf Phillips, stated that even if it emerges victorias against Hamilton, there is there is but slight chance that it would be able to make the trip to Regina if the match is to be held.

However if the Western squad is willing to meet Westmount here the Purple and White is willing to meet them providing satisfactory proof is furnished that all players are under 21 years of age. Due to the fact that Westmount has operated at a loss throughout the season only 50 per cent of the gross receipts would be offered to the Westerners.

Manager Ingrassia of Italo-Canadians said they might be persuaded to travel West should they beat Westmount — providing they received a suitable guarantee. Regina announced a willingness to come East should the eastern team make an offer equivalent to what they have offered for the game to take place in Regina.

Out at the Westmount grounds, the Q.R.F.U. champions are interested at the present in defeating the Hamilton team on Saturday.

AFTER LOADING UP

The youngster was going to a party.

"Now, dear," said the mother, "what are you going to do when you've had enough to eat?"

Replied the youngster: "Come home."

"Helen, don't go too far out in the water."

"But look, daddy's out a long way."

"He's insured, dear."

Lake's Fury Defied By Norwegian Skipper

Like his namesake who commanded the tide to stop, Knut Wiig, captain of the Norwegian freighter "Letus," displayed confidence in his ability to master the elements when he pulled his ship out of port at Erieau, Ont., recently into the teeth of a 45-mile-an-hour gale.

Waves 15 feet in height were rolling over docks here as the sturdy little Norwegian freighter left for ports down the lake. She took on a cargo of beans for Newfoundland at Erieau. So strong was the current in the channel when the "Letus" docked that it was impossible to load her in the usual way.

Captain Wiig found it necessary to go several hundred yards down the channel. Steel cables were passed ashore, the boat was docked cross-wise and the stern held by anchors. The cargo was taken aboard over the bow. Waves beat up by the strong wind continually rolled and pitched the boat and snapped several of the cables before the loading was complete.

Captain Smiles

Had the vessel not been lightly loaded when she came into port it would have been impossible for her to dock, according to some sailors. Captain Wiig, however, merely smiled at suggestions that he stay in port till the wind died down.
