Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones Urges That Canadians Do More To Help English People

Calvary United Church Pastor Voices Appeal at Rotary Club of Westmount's St. George's Day Luncheon — Former Head of Y.M.C.A. Overseas Services Has Travelled 9,000 Miles in Canada in Five Weeks

Canadians have a long way to travel, in comparison with the people of the British Isles, before they deserve victory, Captain Rev. Dr. T. W. Jones of Calvary United Church, told Rotarians yesterday at the club's St. George's Day luncheon held in Victoria Hall.

"We Canadians must give more and more aid to those brave people over there," he said. "We must maintain constant intercession with God for ultimate victory, and give every minute of our spare time and every spare cent to ease the suffering and help bring the conflict to an end."

Returned five weeks ago from England where he served for sixteen months as head of the YMCA Overseas Services, Capt. Jones gave a vivid description of conditions, particularly in England.

"The whole of the British Isles is suffering today," he said, "but it is England that is absorbing the most punishment and her stand is magnificent. England stands on a pedestal today."

Since his return, the speaker continued, he has covered 9,000 miles in Canada and yesterday's was his 95th address in that time. "Thus," he said, "having seen both sides of the picture clearly I feel safe in saying that we British people in the Western Hemisphere will have to accomplish much more, by comparison, before we are deserving of victory."

Can't Break Hearts

Speaking of the English peoples' amazing spirit, Capt. Jones quoted the recent report of a woman, whose house had been levelled by Nazi bombs, saying to Lady Astor, "They may wreck our homes but they can't break our hearts."

"And that's perfectly indicative of the general spirit in England," the speaker said. "I don't know how to explain it even though I spent more than a year with those people, but they truly believe they are going to win. They are planning as much for the future as for the present.

"For instance across from Westminster Abbey there is a former hospital now serving as YMCA headquarters with 1,500 beds for any member of the Armed Forces. Outside this building a sign reads, 'Following the War This building Will House Commercial Offices. Space Can be Arranged for Now, Inside.'

"I can scarcely find words to describe their courage. No matter how terrifying or destructive the bombings might be, they go about daily tasks as if they had been living under such circumstances all their lives.

"Not long before I returned home, I was in London during a heavy air attack, and in the course of the raid a well-known tea room was almost totally demolished. But by eight o'clock the next morning the proprietors had improvised facilities and were carrying on as usual, serving tea to passing truck drivers.

"And with gaping holes in the structure surrounding them, they had tacked up a sign reading, "MORE Open For Business Than Usual."

Brings Greetings

Capt. Jones brought Westmount Rotarians greetings from the Croydon Rotary Club where he was guest speaker at a special "Canadian Day" luncheon, attended by approximately 75 well-known Canadians. Situated not far from London and in the path of German planes intent on bombing the English capital, Croydon is systematically bombed night after night, the speaker said, but the spirit of the people there is unbroken.

Coventry too, is a shambles, but it matters little to inhabitants of that historic city. "It is almost sickening to look down the main street nd perceive nothing but ruin as far as the eye can see.

"But still the people are carrying on their respective businesses, most of them now housed in basements which hardly could be called havens for very few doors and hardly a pane of glass remains intact throughout the town.

"And yet despite this devastation, residents still have the spirit to carry on campaigns for funds to aid the War Effort. The last time I was in Coventry, I saw signs all over the city reading "This is Coventry's War Weapon Week. How Much Can You Subscribe?"

But these signs are about the only type to be found in England today, the speaker said. All milestones and sign posts have been removed to hinder any possible action by fifth columnists or parachute troops. Names of railway stations, and other such identification have been eliminated.

They Won't Talk

"You can't get the people to tell you where you are even if you're in uniform," Captain Jones stated. "You have to go to a police station and present your credentials before you're able to determine your position, so to speak."

The speaker lauded the work of the fire-fighting brigades, the Red Cross, Y.M.C.A., Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and various other units operating to ease the strain and stress throughout the land. And he had particular praise for the Home Guard patrolling the highways and byways with marked efficiency.

"Once I was driving along a road at night in a "Y" tea-car when suddenly I heard a sharp call to 'Halt!' Ordinarily our cars halted only for a flash signal which I knew well, but this particular call had a meaning ring so I pulled up.

"A hardy-looking fellow strode towards the car and I turned down the window and challenged his right to command our vehicle to stop. 'If you 'adn't 'alted, I would 'uv shot you,' was his reply. You can see they mean business.

"I could go on talking about those gallant people for a long time but I will conclude by asking you to do all you can to help them by sending clothing and foodstuff such as cheese, butter, chocolate bars and other products they are unable to procure.

"And instead of sending a maximum 10-pound parcel, split your donation into two five-pound packages so that the goods may have a better chance of arriving safely."

Lt.-Col. Elder Is Back At Home

Overseas with the 9th Field Ambulance in the first Canadian contingent since December, 1939, Lt.-Col. H. M. Elder returned to his home in Westmount last week.

Interviewed at his residence, 18 de Casson Road, he said he was unable to say anything about his experiences overseas, and his impressions there, as he still was "on duty."

His future movements were uncertain, he said, depending on Ottawa instructions.

ROTARY FAIR IS POSTPONED

The Spring Carnival Fair which was to have been presented by the Rotary Club of Westmount in aid of the Montreal Children's Hospital, the Julius Richardson Convalescent Home and the St. Patrick's Orphanage, in the Forum this week, has been postponed until the last week in May, it was anounced by Wm. F. Close, one of the Joint Chairmen of the Committee in charge of the Fair.

"When the Rotary Club of Westmount signed the contract with the Canadian Arena Company to hold the Fair in the Forum Building" Mr. Close stated, "it was on the understanding that should the Memorial Cup Dominion Finals have to be played in Montreal, we would release the Forum to them and postpone our own event." The Rotary Club of Westmount is now completing arrangements with the Forum to hold the Fair during the last week of May".

AWARD PRIZES IN EVENT FOR MODEL PLANES

After a meeting of the judges of the model aircraft contest sponsored by J. Pascal Hardware Co. sports dept. Westmount, Friday evening, winners were announced and a judges' report released.

The judges were Cadet Squadron Leader Illsley, Officer Commanding No. 1 Westmount Squadron, Air Cadets of Canada, W. J. R. Oliver, Vice-President of Curtiss Reid, Jack M. Pierce, Air Cadets of Canada, Jack Graham and A. J. Edwards of Curtiss Reid.

The contest was managed by Joe Richman of the sports department.

Part of the judges report states that the work of some of the boys is of the highest calibre, their workmanship showing that they can be of great future use to the aircraft industry.

Greatly in evidence was the fact that though plans were followed to the last detail, in most cases the builders had but little knowledge of the aerodynamical principles behind their planes. This is mainly due to the lack of guidance in model aircraft in Canada.

The air cadet league hopes to solve some of these problems of acquainting air-minded youth with the fundamentals of aircraft and the theory of flight.

The best advice for the boys is to get in touch with the experts, for example the judges and ask questions and advice. It is hoped to start a radio program which will explain many of these problems in an interesting manner and so start training youth early in aviation.

Winners of the airplane rides at Curtiss Reid Airport are R. Coulter, J. Brossard, and J. Kennedy.

Winners of the miniature class: I. Finical; second prize winners were Peter Merrill, Bill Dawson, R. Coulter.

Winners of third prizes: Ross Miller, Vince Prichard, Michael Thompson, Lorne Webster.

A special pize was given to R. J. Britton for his nine-foot gas model.

Transfer H. L. Webster To Victoria, B.C., Post

Webster is well-known in Westmount, having been educated at King's School and Westmount High.

'TOPS' IS THE WORD FOR THESE NIGHT FIGHTERS

Letters on farthest plane in background spell out "tops" — and these Boulton Paul Defiant planes have lived up to that word in nocturnal battles over Britain. Powered with Rolls-Royce Merlin engines, the British planes carry power-operated, multi-gun turrets.

GROUP CAPTAIN FRANK S. McGILL CHANGES POST

Leaves Command of R.C.-A.F. School at Uplands To Become Director of Postings, Records at Headquarters

Group Captain Frank S. McGill of Westmount, officer commanding the R.C.A.F.'s No. 2 service flying training school at Uplands Airport near Ottawa for some time, has exchanged posts with Group Captain Wilfred A. Curtis of Toronto and has become director of posting and records at headquarters, it was announced.

"He has been itching to get out on a job like this," Group Capt. McGill said of his sucessor, as he addressed the parade Monday when Group Capt. Curtis took over. "This is his opportunity and you will find that he will make the most of it."

Biding farewell to the school, Group Captain McGill said, "I appreciate all you have done. We have kept ahead of schedule and have turned out pilots here who are as capable as any who have been trained in Canada."

Following the general salute and march past, Group Capt. Curtis signed in as commanding officer and Group Capt. McGill signed out at a small table on the reviewing stand. Group Capt. McGill's standard was presented to him as a memento.

Born in Montreal, June 20, 1894, Group Capt. McGill was a noted swimmers and football star with local teams. In the Great War he served with the Royal Naval Air Force, concluding his service as a member of the British War Mission in the United States. He was a former commanding officer for the No. 115 Fighter Squadron in Montreal before being transferred to Uplands.

King's School Group To Meet

A general meeting of the King's Westmount Home and School Association will be held tomorrow evening, at 8.15 p.m. in the school auditorium. The nominating committee will present the slate of officers for the incoming year.

This meeting should be of special interest to the parents as some of the children are taking part in a spelling bee. The classrooms will be open with a display of work by the pupils. This is an excellent opportunity to see the various types of work done in the different classes. It is hoped that as many as possible will attend.

NOBLE GOES FROM LOCAL BRANCH TO CENTRAL "Y"

Popular Physical Director Will Be Replaced by Murray MacFarlane From Ottawa Y.M.C.A.

After nearly three years as physical director of the Westmount Y, Hugh A. Noble leaves Westmount to join the staff of Central Y.M.C.A. as senior physical instructor.

Noble came to Westmount directly after graduating from Springfield College, where he was captain of the college gym team. He has put on two first class gymnasium exhibitions and this year played an active part in the physical fitness exhibition put on at the Forum, being the secretary treasurer of the Province of Quebec Physical Education Association.

The Westmount "Y" intermediate and senior basketball teams under Noble's coaching reached the provincial finals and demonstrated to basketball fans of this city a fast breaking type of game that won favor with everyone.

Noble has done much to make the business girls gym class a popular work out and the Leaders Corps of the Westmount Y attribute their success to his valuable leadership.

The best wishes of the board of management and members of the Westmount Y go with Noble as he takes on his new responsibility.

Replacing Noble will be Murray MacFarlane, from the Ottawa Y.M.C.A.

MacFarlane is a graduate of Springfield College and has spent the last two years on the staff of the Ottawa Y.

MacFarlane has done, in addition to his regular work, a special bit of conditioning work with the men of the Air Force.

About 100 men who had been rejected by the Air Force Medical Examiners because of inability to hold breath a certain number of seconds, were under weight, over weight, high pulse rate, high or low blood pressure due to poor physical condition, were given special conditioning exercises beginning slowly at first and gradually increasing the difficulty as the condition improved.

The subject's diet was carefully watched, and a careful check was also kept on pulse rate, breath holding, weight and general condition.

Approximately 90% of these rejected men have qualified for assignments in the Air Force, Army and Navy. Most of work has been with Air Force applicants. Some of the men have already qualified for their wings.

MacFarlane is also an experienced camper, having been on the staff of the Y.M.C.A. Camp at Golden Lake for many years.

Skiing comes as second nature to him, having been brought up in the Gatineau hills.

The cable read:
The Right Honorable,
The Lord Mayor of London.

On this St. George's Day, the mayor, aldermen and citizens of Westmount, Province of Quebec, express their admiration of the courage and endurance of the people of Britain in their battle for freedom. May God sustain all of you in your noble cause and bring to our Empire an early victory and a lasting peace to the world.

WALTER A. MERRILL,

BOYS' BRIGADE IS ATTENDING OPENING EVENT

Westmount First Company To Participate in Inaugural Service of Garden City Company

Boys of the First Company Boys' Brigade will attend the inaugural service of the new Garden City Company, this coming Sunday morning, on which occasion their Life Boy Team becomes of age.

They will meet in front of Melville Church for a quarter to ten, when transportation is being arranged to enable them to parade to the church, accompanied by a representation from the 10th Company as well as their band.

Colors will be carried by Sergeant Robert Morrow and Staff-Sgt. Alex Upham, with Lance-Corporals Edwin Goring, Everitt McKinley and Private Knute Sorensen. Captain Richardson and Life Boy Leader Don Scott will take part in the service.

The first team of Life Boys took third place on Saturday at the annual Life Boy display, held in First Presbyterian Church. The boys made an excellent showing in tumbling and pyramid building, under the able direction of Sgt. Robert Morrow.

Judges for the display were Messrs. J. Burt, R. Baker and T. Ritchie, and found it most difficult to ascertain which team was to receive the Canadian Ensign, as being the best on the floor, and for a time the seventh, fifth and first were tied. The fifth, however, came out victorious, although by a very small margin.

The chair was occupied by Captain J. Howard Richardson, Dominion vice president of the Boys' Brigade and eastern supervisor of Life Boys. Capt. Alex Lough directed the program and Rev. Quincy MacDowell acted as chaplain and also presented the award to the 5th team.

Refreshments were served the boys participating at the close of the program and during this interval patriotic sons met with the approval of all present. Lance-Cpl. Edwin Goring's squad of Ptes. Benfield Inglish, Ian Campbell, Doug Lyle, Ken Brambell, Junior Robinson, Allan Robinson and Fred Fraser, did a marvelous job in handling the orderlies duties and assisting the various teams in preparing for their displays.

This Friday night, Don Scott will again resume his duties with the team, after an absence of two weeks. He is all set to see that a hum-dinger program is in store for the balance of the season.

Life Boy Bill Dalgarno was awarded his collector's badge and several others are nearly ready to complete theirs. Plans are being made for the Life Boy closing evening, to take place toward the latter part of May. The boys will rehearse on Friday for some of their stunts.

MISS SAMPSON, FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIES

A former resident of Westmount, Miss Maude Frances Sampson, died Sunday at her North Hatley, Que., residence in her early seventies.

Daughter of the late Robert Sampson and Louisa Barton Jeffries, Miss Sampson was born and educated in Quebec City, coming to Montreal 30 years ago. She resided for many years on Grosvenor avenue in Westmount.

Miss Sampson was president of the Westmount Social Service Association for a long time also president of the Financial Federation in the early years of that organization.

She was associated closely, in that capacity, with the work of Western Hospital's Social Service Department and several tributes have paid to her outstanding contributions to social work.

A member of Erskine Church while living in Montreal, Miss Sampson was an ardent curler, being secretary of the old St. Andrew's Curling Club. She also was a charter member of the Kanawaki Ladies' Golf Club.

Miss Sampson moved to North Hatley about four years ago, where, in spite of her advanced age, she took an active part in Red Cross and church work. Surviving are a sister, Louisa, and one brother, William, both of North Hatley.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1941

ENEMY ALIENS HELP BRITAIN

A policy of extending sympathy to enemy aliens—in contrast with the attitude shown toward them in the Great War—has been reaping benefits for Britain in this war, according to a report from London.

Among the khaki-clad soldiers who help to clear up the debris from bombing raids are many refugees from the Nazi tyranny which launched the attacks. In the British Labour Corps are some 3,000 of these enemy aliens who have been released from internment camps since last summer. In all, about 10,000 have been freed.

Britain went further than merely turning these people at large. Interest has been taken in their actual and potential contribution to British National life. Restrictions on employment have been lifted enabling many to fill jobs left vacant by men on active military service. And many have been found to qualify for key positions for which they had special training or ability.

The work in this regard has been largely supervised by the Christian Council for Refugees, an agency sponsored by the Archbishops of Canterbury and Westminster and the heads of other religious denominations. The Council's latest report showed that 250 distinguished scholars and research students among refugees have rendered valuable services. Many professional people, technicians, and artists have aided with the problem of re-establishing and training other refugees for British life.

The Council reported upon a number of industrial undertakings set up by refugees. These were said to have given work to many British workers; in one instance the number was given as 15,000. Lines of production include plastic goods, leather goods, knitted wear, silk printing, Turkish towelling, drawing pins, zip fasteners, electric batteries and other products which help to maintain Britain's export surpluses and enable her to secure muchneeded exchange abroad. It was reported also that the Refugee Industries Committee is planning development and expansion programs that would add another seventy-five industries.

By charitable means Britain has turned an enemy alien liability into a wartime asset of increasing value.

Westmount Baptist Church Notes

On Sunday, Rev. J. A. Johnston will preach at both services. The Theme of the morning sermon will be, "The Hidden Source of Calm Repose." This inner strength is no silly sentiment, no mental weakness, no false emotion. It is something that comes and abides, when God defends the Citadel. This will be a Remembrance Service, in which the Congregation will pay tribute to the memory of late Mrs. J. Franklin Hodgson, who for many years was the honoured and beloved organist of Westmount Baptist Church.

At 7.30 P.M., the Theme of the address will be, "The Bulwark of our Steadfastness"—"In nothing be terrified by your adversaries, which is to them an evident token of perdition; but to you of salvation, and that of God." Worshippers at the evening service will witness a beautiful Baptismal Scene, in which the symbolism of our Lord's Death, Burial and Resurrection will be impressively portrayed. Visitors are cordially invited.

Parts of South Africa are threatened with record locust plagues.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C.,D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

I am indebted to Sir Richard Winfrey for a copy of The Lynn Advertiser Centenary Number—February 28, 1941. There is also a photographic reproduction of the first issue dated February 1, 1841. Their first "Address to the Public" began: "In the existing state of commercial enterprise, Advertising has become an important branch of communication in regard to general business. Containing a variety of information, the Advertisements are insured a general reading, and by the exclusion of political and other controversial matter, its perusal is not restricted to any particular class or party."

A surgeon dentist advertised his "Tooth Powder and Brushes—Also an excellent remedy for the Tooth Ache, and his well known Astringent Lotion for the Gums, which is highly recommended to persons especially, whose Teeth are liable to decay."

The following interesting facts appear in the Centenary number. When The Lynn Advertiser commenced publication, the population of the British Isles was 26,000,000. Two million lived in London and a quarter of the population lived in small towns such as Lynn. The rest lived in the countryside or in towns from which the fields were only a short walk. Half of the people were engaged in rural or semi-rural pursuits. The great majority were the sons or grandsons of farmers, yeoman, peasants, and craftsmen. In 1841 the total number of British Naval vessels was 183.

The first real newspaper published in England was established by Sir Roger L'Estrange in 1663—the Public Intelligencer which continued for three years, when it ceased on the appearance of the Gazette. The Times was established in 1788. Punch came out in 1841, the Daily Telegraph in 1855 and Illustrated London News in 1842.

In early Anglo Saxon days when a song was called for in the King's hall and the minstrel responded with harp and voice, it was said he unlocked his "word-hoard." The first of recorded English poems, "Widsith" begins as follows:

"Widsit spoke, unlocked his ,word-hoard.
He of all men of the tribes over earth
Wandered far among folk."

Sydney (N.S.) Cooperative Society has been a success from the beginning and continues to grow. It now has a membership of one thousand.

Twelve new languages in which the Scriptures had not previously been published were added last year, bringing the total number of languages into which some part of the Bible has now been translated to 1,051.

In connection with the "economy of man power" in G.B. it is reported that the Government is planning for a time when no job will be done by a man that can be done by a woman.

Plans have been completed in G.B. which will enable schoolboys to obtain a grounding in the science of flying before they are 18, at which age, if they wish they can try to qualify for the R.A.F. The headmaster of a famous school Mr. Wolfenden of Uppingham will supervise the educational work of the corps.

The following headlines, taken by a foreign correspondent, from Japanese newspapers are some indication of what is happening in that country: "Intricate rationing system considered for improving Tokyo rice distribution;" "New Year card show 68 per cent decrease compared with one year ago"; Tokyo egg retailers reduced from 26,532 to 2,500 in plan to readjust distribution; "16,000 shops closed during year in metropolis; Konoye plans limit for private profit."

Amount of income paid out to Canadians in 1940 was about $550,000,000, approximately 14 per cent greater than in 1939.

Words of praise for "Into Abundance" by Soren K. Ostergaard and published by Willett, Clark & Co. of Chicago and New York (which I reviewed recently in The Monitor, The Guardian and The Examiner) follow:

"Contains more wisdom than the American people are now willing to recognize."—Professor Arthur E. Holt. This remarkably clear and simple volume shows that there would be jobs for all and insecurity for none, if people would only see that life is far more valuable than profits. — The Churchman.

"Timely and readable. I would recommend it particularly to business men."—Alfred W. Swan.

Canadian dividends in February 1941 total $10,328,708, exceeding February 1940 by more than $3,500,000.

Why the waste of annual license plates? In G. B. a motorist is given a number when he gets a car and that number remains with the car as long as the motororist owns it. Connecticut has abandoned annual plates and has saved a considerable sum. Plates five years old show only slight wear. This progressive state rewards drivers with a good 5 year record by issuing plates with the motorist's initials on them.

BOOK REVIEW

BY HOWARD S. ROSS

Our Generations its Gains and Losses
by
The late Dr. Oscar D. Skelton

Being the Inaugural Course of Lectures Delivered at Westminister College, Fulton, Missouri, 1937.

The University of Chicago Press Chicago,

This is the first of the Green Foundation Lectures, established by Mrs. John Findley Green as a memorial to her husband a graduate of Westminister College of the class of 1884. The deed of Gift provides for annual lectures designed to promote a better understanding of international, economic, and social problems. It was fitting that one who had that object as the uppermost aim of his life should open this series of lectures.

This Foundation was chosen as the best expression of Mr. Green's lifelong belief that the most practical application of the Christian religion is the improvement of human relationships.

In the first lecture, "Tendencies Affecting International Relations" we are reminded of many striking facts and wise conclusions as to their significance are drawn. In closing that lecture some of the effects of World War No. 1. His belief was that: "It led to new assertions of the state's power over the property, the lives, the thinking of men, and built up new bureaucracies to wield these powers, and though in some degree those assertions of state control receded, and abiding effect remained. It habituated men to violence, and revealed to the ambitious the unsuspected powers of reckless and persistent propoganda."

In his second lecture he discussed the transformation of the British Empire into the British Commonwealth of Nations, the increased power of the Dominions "steadily, and mainly under Canadian leadership" and their separate membership in the League of Nations. Then came the equality declaration of the Imperial Conference of 1926 and the Stature of Westminister in 1931 which gave legal form to this conventional understanding. The League of Nations is discussed at length and with rare balance of its weakness and strength. He hoped that: "Another chance may be given to work out an adequate adjustment of international relations in the new world of jostling neighbors and deadly weapons that man has made for himself to live in." That was said in 1937.

He in his third lecture discussed "Changes In Political Organization" he discusses in a realistic manner (and with first hand knowledge) the different party systems and in particular the two-party system of the English-speaking world, which to be successful, "except in times when some outstanding issue or great emotion sweeps a people, such a party tends to become all things to all men, to avoid taking clear-cut stands which may lose the votes of a section or class. Labels become meaningless, party platforms studiously vague; efficient organization becomes more important than common conviction.

He discusses the growth of the pressure groups—"a bewildering array of interests, good, bad, and indifferent, big and little, idealist and selfseeking — have arisen. Not only have the numbers grown: the permanency of organization has increased; a third house has grown up. The professional lobbyist takes up where the amateur voter leaves off. He goes in search of a client or a cause if it does not seek his agency. A new technique of mass pressure has superseded or supplemented the old-fashioned individual buttonholing — the higher arts of salesmanship are employed, press and magazine articles provided, and barrages of telegrams inspired. Like the party boss, the pressure group in some measure is a device thrown up to provide the direction and coherence which the constitution makes it difficult for a responsible executive to provide. Whatever its measure of justification, it is a significant development."

In his fourth lecture "Economic Trends" he reviewed the most important economic changes of the past generation which are affecting domestic policies and attitudes, the outstanding being the accelerated increase in productivity.

Of planned control he said: "It assumes a body of supermen, all knowing, selfless, and capable of judging a nation's myriad resources and co-ordinating them to a million needs: 'men', to quote a phrase used recently in another connection, 'possessed of high competence, great physical vigor and passion for anonymity'. The knowledge is not available. The handful of men who can do the thinking for a thousand industries and whose moderation is proof against the heady intoxication of control over the destinies of millions are not available. The willingness to try such an experiment does not yet exist on this continent. Once given autocratic power, with criticism ranking as treason, planners might be able to bury their mistakes, but now without absolute power. Planning in the sense of study there must be; planning in the sense of wide compulsion there may be in emergencies and in special cases; but planning of the full-blooded type of the totalitarian state, we may venture to believe, 'can't happen here'.

DANCING SCHOOL WILL PRESENT SHOW FOR NAVY

Betty Speirs-Peter Miller School to Give Show at Victoria Hall — All Proceeds in Aid of Naval Recreation Hut at Halifax

Due to the large numbers of men from all branches of the Services at Halifax, N.S. men from all over Canada and the four corners of the world meet, therefore it is hard to keep our Naval forces entertained in their off duty hours.

The City of Halifax donated land and the different committees have to date collected Nineteen Hundred Dollars towards building a Naval Canteen in the North End near the dock yard.

It is hoped that with the continued support which this worthy cause has to date received, it will soon be possible for our Naval forces to be entertained near their headquarters and relieve the congested down-town district for other forces.

In support of this worthy cause a Dance Recital will be held at Victoria Hall Westmount, Saturday May 10th., under the auspices of the Betty Speirs-Peter Miller School of Dancing.

A splendid programme has been arranged, and all monies received will be donated to the Halifax Naval Canteen Fund. All cheques should be made payable to the Halifax Naval Canteen Fund, and mailed to "R.N.C.V.R., Mountain Street, Montreal.

The usual capacity audience which always greet a Speirs-Miller Show will be on hand to enjoy a really worth while evening's entertainment. In addition to "The Basket of Flowers" which will feature the Baby Classes, such other numbers as "Ballroom Ensemble", "Peter Miller" presentation, and the Parisian Cabaret Scene featuring Alla Shiskina, Jean Barnes, Helen Lehtela, Jack Hymander, and the Male chorus will be presented for your approval. Other well known stars who will be seen during the evening will be Dorothy Fitzgerald, Joan Layton, Peggy Cooper, Nancy Telfer, Therese Landry, Jean and Hazel Fitzgerald, Jane Allan, June Sidaway and others.

Your Help Is Needed For Our Boys

There is a war service which many of you who read these pages can render the men in uniform; in so doing, you may also to some extent benefit yourself.

The Young Women's Christian Association is anxious to secure at least 2000 furnished rooms of moderate price, with or without board, and with or without kitchen privileges, for the many friends and relatives or our men in training.

If you feel that you could open your home to such people, you would undoubtedly be doing service, and at the same time financially recompensed.

Many visitors to the city in the coming months will be unable to afford the costliness of hotels, and the comfort of a private home will do much to ease the pangs of approaching parting with their dear ones.

Therefore, if you feel that you can help in this way, please phone or write for further details to the Travellers' Aid Department of the Young Women's Christian Association, 1124 Dorchester street west.

"Y" Continues Military Work

Miltary work continues at the Westmount "Y" and at the Westmount Athletic Grounds where the local "Y" operates a recreation hut.

W. S. Gilpin, chairman of Military Services committee, is running a mid-week entertainment at the hut in addition to the Friday night movie.

Saturday night dances continue and will do so throughout the summer, while the Sunday afternoon teas and suppers finished off last week with a supper put on by the Westmount Women's Club.

CARD PARTY STAGED

The Jersey Channel Islands Society held a bridge party in Victoria Hall last Thursday night to raise funds for aiding refugees from the Channel Islands, it was announced by Secretary A. G. Amy who said the party had been well supported and that a substantial collection had been taken.

Gray Rocks Inn Now Opens Season

Owing to the fact that the season is so far advanced this year, the Province of Quebec Fisheries Department has advanced the open season on speckled trout to April 25th, in the Laurentian Mountain area. This step was taken because of the fact that nearly all of the lakes are now ice-free, which is not usually the case until early in May. The ice has been out of Lac Ouimet for some time and other lakes and streams in the immediate vicinity of Gray Rocks Inn are open. Gray Rocks' leased waters at Lac La Carpe and at Cold Lake are also practically open, although these are considerably farther north than Lac Ouimet. The early arrival of the warm weather has also made it possible to open the golf course at Gray Rocks earlier than usual.

Sat. Night Club Is Feature Of Joint Y Effort

"S.N.C. presents" is the latest password in cabaret shows.

At 9.30 p.m. next Friday, May 2nd, the Saturday Night Club will raise its standard in the halls of the Ritz Carlton Hotel to introduce "Man in Revue."

Months of eager preparation has gone into this worthwhile entertainment. "Man in Revue" comprises a medley of songs and dance burlesque and acting. Pattern for the program is from Shakespeare — Jacques' famous speech in "As you like it" — All the world's a stage, etc. Saturday Night Clubbers have given his words a dynamic interpretation.

Besides the show, the club will provide her guests with dinner and a fine dance orchestra, all included in a nominal charge.

Dancing will continue until 2.30 a.m.

People were skeptical about the success of the Saturday Night Club, when timidly it broke the ice in October.

"Saturday Night Club" is a joint effort of the Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. to bring together young men and young women from all walks of life into a happy healthy recreational companionship.

The man who is responsible for this movement is Tom Burnett, who for some time travelled with Ted Shawn and his modern dance group as secretary and understudy.

At the Saturday Night Club young men and young women may swim, play billiards, badminton or table tennis, sing songs, see movies and dance to the music of Bruce Ogilvie's seven piece orchestra.

UNEMPLOYMENT INS. MEETING TO BE HELD

A meeting for discussion of the Unemployment Insurance Act will be held under the auspices of the Members' Council of the Y.W.C.A. in the Association Building on Wednesday evening next at eight o'clock. On July 1st, there will be inaugurated throughout Canada a system of payments by employees, employers and government, in order to establish an insurance fund for periods of unemployment, and it is therefore essential that employed people understand all that is involved in the application of this legislation recently adapted by the Canadian House of Commons.

With this need in mind, the council has arranged a symposium in which Miss Florence Childs, Mrs. Phyllis Poland and several industrial workers will participate. There will be opportunity for questions and discussion from the floor. The interested public, both women and men, are cordially invited.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Betty Joan Baird was the guest of honor at a party held on Friday afternoon, on the occasion of her ninth birthday. Decorations throughout the rooms and on the tea table were carried out in yellow and pink. Mrs. Allan Baird was assisted by Mrs. W. H. Nolan and Mrs. R. Checketts. Among those present were: Betty McKercher, Joyce Gilhooly, Anna Smith, Errol McKercher, Geraldine Nolan, Della McKercher, Isabella Telford, Joanna Gomery, and Isabella Beck.

APPROACHING MARRIAGE

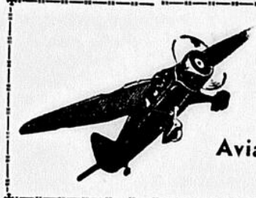

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Manley announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Fortituda (June), to Mr. Ernest Alexander McIntosh, son of the late Arthur Wallace McIntosh and of Mrs. M. Aviation News and Gossip

BY BETTY BRUCE

The savage game of trumping your enemy's ace in the air is being played with increasing concentration in Europe. Ever since 1914, when the first British fighter, a Maurice Farman "Shorthorn" with a 70 h.p. Renault engine, waffled over to France at a speed of 55 m.p.h. complete with a Lewis gun in the front seat, the scientists and engineers of the major nations have been striving to keep the lead in this grim bid for mastery either in offence or defence.

Fighters have been trumped by faster, more manoeuvrable fighters; bombers have been brought down by better anti-aircraft guns as well as fighters; better engines have enabled bombers to fly faster, further and with greater loads of bombs at greater heights and the threat of these better bombers was met by super fighters with terrific firing power, not to mention balloon barrages and still better anti-aircraft. Now we have super bombs, super-charged engines and super-charged pilots on armored machines that carry cannons and fly beyond the range of the anti-aircraft guns altogether.

Germany, it is believed, thinks she has another ace up her aerial sleeve in the shape of a new, secret, invisible and silent bomber. Can we trump that one? The people who should know, think we can.

First of all, of course the machine is not invisible, but it is claimed that it can hardly be seen or heard when it flies over 2,500 feet. Wings and fuselage are made of a transparent plastic material, and the only things that are opaque — the engines, guns, fuel tank, landing gear, tail wheel, control cables and a few structural bracing units (and of course, the pilots) show up as a couple of blobs and a few dots when the machine is about 2,500 feet. These aircraft, according to the Aeroplane, will shortly be turned out by the Herschel works in Austria, at the rate of between 200 and 250 per month. Their speed is given as 390 m.p.h., with full load. Two 1140 h.p. motors fitted with mufflers, power the "Ghost" bomber. Even if the mufflers do reduce the noise of the engines, however, there is still another noise factor to be overcome and this is the sound of the whirling propeller, or propellers on a multiple engined plane. Unless this din of the spinning prop is reduced, sound detectors on the ground may still be able to point to the fact that a plane is within range, or is coming into range.

The Klystron, one of the newest radio devices, is being perfected for use in helping to locate enemy planes. This is a new micro-wave plane-detecting system. Experts are also experimenting with a very sensitive heat detector, which would measure or detect the heat from an engine's exhaust.

"Conventional listening posts," said H. Dyson Carter recently in "Saturday Night, "detect the sound of approaching planes. Sound waves are distorted by wind, by tricks like running two motors out of synchronism, and by the terrific speed of today's planes But our black light waves have no such disadvantages. An infra-red 'eye' could follow even a comet as unerringly as a hound with the fox in full view. Used with automatic gun aiming devices these eyes must be infallibly accurate. If anti-aircraft guns could shoot high enough, the heat eyes would chase invaders up to the moon."

Too bad there is an "if" in that last sentence. And there must be a lot more "ifs" somewhere else in the experiments we suspect. Doubtless the difficulties will be overcome, but it seems that just as present the infra-red eyes don't stay awake while London sleeps — underground.

There was nothing noiseless or invisible about the Liberator, (Consolidated B-24) bomber that flew quite low over the city last Saturday at noon. What a thunder of engines! And what a giant on wings. The Boeing Flying Fortress seen on Monday afternoon did not seem to be nearly so noisy, but then it was flying at a greater altitude. As you probably know, it is easy to distinguish these two huge four-motored bombers from each other if they are not flying too high to be seen clearly, for the Liberator's tail has twin fins and rudders (like the T.C.A. Lockheeds), while the Boeing has a single fin and rudder (as have the Douglasses in operation with Canadian Colonial Airways).

Intercepter Fighter

Reported to climb at a vertical mile-a-minute and to be one of the fastest climbers in the world, the new United States intercepter-fighter, Curtiss-Wright 21-B is now in production "for a foreign power." The new fighter was designed expressly to intercept invading enemy bombers between the time the alarm is sounded and before they reach their objective. The model 21-B gets off with a very short run and this, taken in conjunction with its extremely steep angle and high rate of climb allows it to operate out of small areas temporarily in use as airfields. The 21-B will climb to 13,000 ft. in four minutes, and in addition to having heavy fire power is said to be exceptionally manoeuvrable. One of its accessories, according to Canadian Aviation, is an electric "Tell Tale" or warning signal that automatically indicates when anything is wrong—a handy thing for a fighter pilot to have when he may have so many things to do and watch in a split second. This electrically lighted warning signal panel contains eight sets of lights reading: Fuel pressure low, oil pressure low, tank selector off, mixture lean, low propeller r.p.m. setting, high blower setting, flaps down and landing gear.

Once a Maritimer, Always a Maritimer—Ask H. S. Ross

Howard S. Ross, K.C., although over the three score years and ten, still skates once in a while, and is a keen follower of amateur hockey. He took quite an interest in the Sydney Millionaires-Montreal Royals series. In fact, he did not miss a game and became keenly interested in the players. He visited the dressing room and made sure the boys had all the refreshments they required after each game.

He also made sure they received the daily edition of the Sydney-Post. After the last game in which they won the Eastern title and the right to enter the finals for the Allan Cup, Mr. Ross was invited to visit the dressing room and meet the victorious players, manager and coach. Later the team presented him with a hockey stick, autographed by all the players.

SERVICES HELD FOR THE LATE MRS. F. HODGSON

Nationally-Known Organist Of Westmount Baptist Church Dies Sunday After Long Illness

Organist of Westmount Baptist Church and well-known as a piano and organ teacher here for years, Mrs. Franklin J. Hodgson died at her home Sunday after an illness of several months.

Funeral service was held Tuesday at the William Wray Chapel on University street, and interment was at St. Charles Cemetery in Hudson Heights, Que.

Mrs. Hodgson was musical director of the Dicken's Fellowship, musical director of the Dominion-Douglas Literary Society and for years convener of the music committee and accompanist for the Montreal Women's Club.

Born in Montreal and daughter of William and Mary (Vipond), Mrs. Hodgson gained her musical education under Alfred Laliberte and Vaughan Konigsberg for piano and Dr. Edward Droome of Toronto and Dr. J. S. Ford of Saint John, N.B., for organ.

Her first musical appearance was made at the age of eight and at 17 she began her career as church organist at the Westmount Methodist Church. For six years she was organist at Dominion Church and for five years after that was at St. Andrew's Church in Saint John.

Mrs. Hodgson was nationally known as an organist and accompanist of many outstanding singers. Surviving are her husband, Franklin J. Hodgson; one son, Franklin D. Hodgson; three daughters, Mrs. Norman S. Skinner, of Saint John, Mrs. Edward L. Gray and Mrs. Harrison S. Jones of Montreal; and one sister, Mrs. E. W. Griffith, also of Montreal.

Messages Of Sympathy Are Extended By City

It was announced that the Westmount City Council had sent a message of sympathy to the family of the late Flying Officer Jess Baldwin of 4216 Western avenue, who died last week as a result of burns suffered in a fire at the R.C.A.F. training centre at Dunnville, Ont.

A similar message also was sent to the family of Sgt. John Lewis Michaels of 17 Chesterfield avenue, who was killed while serving with the Royal Worcestershire Regiment in the Middle East.

VOCATIONAL CONGRESS IS HELD BY YWCA

Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, regular lessons finished for the day, nearly one thousand girls thronged to the Montreal High School for Girls for a vocational congress. This gathering is sponsored annually by the Montreal Y.W.C.A. to give to high school girls of the city of Montreal and its vicinity some idea of the vocations open to them in present day society.

The occupations covered ranged all the way from factory work to veterinary practice, including stenography, teaching and nursing. Fifty speakers prominent in their fields presented vocations to interested groups and there was ample opportunity for discussion of necessary aptitudes and training, as well as remuneration and other perquisites.

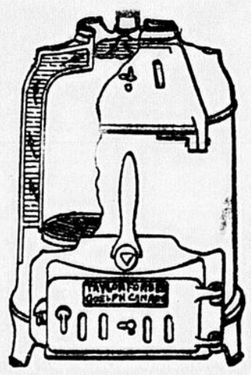

Mrs. H. A. Rowlands, convener of the Girl's Work Committee of the Y.W.C.A., presided at the opening session of the congress introducing Miss C. I. MacKenzie, principal of the Montreal High School for Girls, who addressed the congress. A skit dealing with the right and wrong ways to apply for a job was presented by a group of students of the Montreal High for Girls.

Double Sash Curtains Charmingly Informal

Double sash curtains have been revived and are charming in informal rooms. Side curtains of any but the sheer materials should almost always be lined, and sometimes interlined. Only a decorator can succeed with an unlined side drapery of the usual fabrics. That is because decorators can break the rules and get away with it. Before attempting the job of making your own curtains, keep in mind the fact that making curtains is a tailoring job demanding precision, perfect fit and workmanship. You can do it yourself if you are willing to take great pains. In having the work done, be sure that the workman is skilled enough to do the job right. Badly made curtains look just like badly made clothes.

Every worker may take the commonest job an immortal task.

The chief means of making others good is to be good.

Mme. Frankowska Speaks At Meeting of Sodality

Mme. M. R. Frankowska, the noted Polish political refugee, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Young Ladies' Sodality of Ascension Parish, held on Monday evening in St. Paul's Academy.

Mme. Frankowska gave a first-hand report of the catastrophe that had befallen Poland, having ben there herself during the siege of Warsaw. She spoke feelingly of the wonderful spirit of the Polish women, and related personal incidents and tragedies that had happened to her dearest friends. Mme. Frankowska stated that there were powers that could not be destroyed, powers that are stronger than material forces; and said she believed women were given a special strength when their crosses seemed heaviest and hardest to bear. She went on to say that the long line of famous Polish women and their traditions had taught them how to deal with calamity when it struck them and that when the history of this period is written due homage will be paid to women. The misery and suffering of the Polish people is indescribable, and millions have already perished; but they had not lost hope, said Mme. Frankowska, and it was their faith, and their faith alone, which would keep them alive and give them courage to go on and wait for the day of their release.

Mme. Frankowska stated that a film entitled "This is Poland" will be presented by the Polish Women's Club in Montreal next Tuesday, April 29 at the Windsor Hotel in aid of the Polish Army.

Mme Frankowska was introduced by Miss Carroll McDonald, chairman of the publicity committee, and the thanks of the Sodality were extended to the speaker by Miss Beatrice Berini.

Miss Alma Tremblay, prefect, was in the chair.

Reports were read by the corresponding and recording secretaries, the treasurer and chairmen of the various committees. Miss Marjorie McGarigle, for Our Lady's committee, said that plans were being made for our annual pilgrimage to Bonsecours and stated that the date would be announced later. Miss Mary Wickham, Apostolic committee, gave a report on the rummage sale and stated that her committee were preparing for a concert to be given at the Sisters of Service Club on Thursday, April 24. Miss Inez Meagher, Eucharistic Committee, said that arrangements had been completed for the Day of Recollection to be held by the Sodality on Sunday, April 27, in St. Paul's Academy Chapel, from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning. Rev. Father Hector Daly, S. J. will be guest speaker and breakfast will be served. All unmarried ladies in the parish are cordially invited to attend. Miss Anne Allison, chairman of the Social Life committee, reported that after the reception of new members on Sunday, May 4, a silver tea would be held to which all the parishioners and friends of the Sodalists are invited.

The prefect announced that at the next monthly meeting the election of officers would take place and reported that Miss Betty Bethell had been appointed chairman of the nominating committee. The prefect also outlined plans for World Sodality Day, Sunday May 11, stating that a Holy Hour would be held in St. Patrick's Church from 4 to 5 o'clock and that it was anticipated that about two thousand would be present.

The meeting closed with mental prayer by Rev. G. F. Thoms.

SIMPLE LINES AND GOOD MATERIAL ARE STYLE ESSENTIALS

Simplicity is America's fashion today! In this quick moving modern world our girls are becoming increasingly aware of speed, efficiency and an almost military tempo, so they're streamlining their clothes accordingly. Simplicity is, therefore, smartness in milady's wardrobe, whether for sports frocks, afternoon suits or glamorous evenings. Young America looks to line, fabric and color for chic, rather than elaborateness or too many involved details.

Zestful Personality

In Universal's comedy, "Sing Another Chorus," Jane Frazee, 5' 2" of zestful personality, complements her flaming gold hair and green eyes with a wardrobe of stunning costumes which she wears with a jaunty air.

Jane's two-piece, navy blue sheer wool suit features a high uniform collar of crisp white pique with gold star trim and introduces a novel accent of red suede stripes fashioned into pocket arrows. By eliminating the gold star collar trim, and substituting individual monogramed initials this suit could become a smart addition to any well-dressed woman's wardrobe.

Another o. Jane's outstanding dresses is a simply cut dove gray linen shirtmaker, colorfully accented by a pert, Peter Pan collar, and matching belt, of flame red raffia. Poised deftly over the left hip is the only other accent to the dress, a cleverly contrived pocket of the gray linen, accented in red, which loops over the belt and fastens with a huge silver button.

Note of Spring

Completing this trio of unusual costumes is Jane's "Styled for Spring" dress of toast-toned silk linen, featuring a narrow "wallpaper" stripe of white. The smooth lines of the slightly gathered bodice and kick-pleated skirt are accented by scalloped banding of white pique which encircles the neck and ripples down the front to outline the hem. Matching trim borders the cuffs and forms a V at the center. With this, Miss Frazee wears a gay, cowboy-styled, white, crocheted hat and white suede accessories.

Gingham Is Fabric Family Cinderella

Every so often gingham, that Cinderella of fabrics, comes out of the kitchen and goes into exclusive places. There's every reason to look forward to a comfortable, cotton-clad summer. So don't forget about ginghams, which are right here in approved check and plaid designs and in grand colorings. Topped by a white pique hat, could anything be finer—at the price—or could anything be more effective, irrespective of price?

Who Won The War?

On April 30-31, 1898, there was no waiting for a bill to be put through Congress, no long-winded debate, no Gallup polls on public sentiment for or against. The British saw that this was a time they could be of service to their confreres of the U.S. fleet—and the service was performed as a matter of course. And, not an American life was lost!

STARS IN NAVY LEAGUE SHOW

Miss Dorothea Innes and Miss Helen Barnard who will appear in "The First Mrs. Fraser" to be presented by the Royal Bank Players at Victoria Hall on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next in aid of the Navy League of Canada.

TRAINED ATTENDANTS GRADUATE FROM YWCA

Twenty-four young women graduated in the Y.W.C.A. course for trained attendants this spring. The special exercises were held in the Association Building yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Murray G. Brooks addressed the class on the subject of "Opportunities for Service." Devotions were led by Mrs. Gerald Cragg.

The young women who have completed the three months' course were presented with their pins certifying their new status and final diplomas were granted to former graduates of the course who have completed six months of nursing service under medical supervision either privately or in an institution. This latter presentation was made by Miss Catherine S. Vance, Ph.D., general secretary of the association. Mrs. K. S. Barnes, recently elected president of the Montreal Y.W.C.A. presided.

Following the exercises tea was served to the candidates and their friends, with Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Cragg at the tea tables. The guests were received by Miss Vance, Mrs. Brookes and Miss Norah Christie, R.N., instructor of the class.

Sentimental Colors In 1880 Toque Styles

Toques of the 1880 era reappear in soft sentimental colors—palpitating pinks, true blues, and sweet lavenders. Bouquets of bright flowers and ribbon make them lively. Marquisette scarves swathe some of them gracefully, falling in alluring folds to the shoulder. Ah, me! You know the kind. Sometimes the hats are so small as to serve no other purpose than to flaunt bouquets and nosegays. You think these millinery morsels are the season's most stunning headgear—until you are bowled over by a cartwheel as imperious as any of Gainsborough's, and made utterly captivating by a huge moline bow.

Simply to be in this world is to exert an influence.

South Americans Are Creating Beautiful Hats Of Rare Straw

Perhaps the biggest news in summer hats is the fact that for the first time in a thousand years of weaving, the natives of South America have learned to make the Panama, with its rare qualities of wear and appearance, in open-mesh ventilated weave, making it lighter in weight and as airy on the head as no hat at all.

An important aspect of these new hats is that they bring color to the straw-hatted head. Most of them are woven of various rare native rushes, palms, and grasses, and have a range of natural color from mellow tans to the deep cocoanut browns. Some are dyed with native juices, and even the Panama in which the bleached white has been traditional, now is dyed in South America with an essence extracted from the bark and shells of the walnut so that it can be harmonized with costumes of various colors. Growing in favor this summer will be the combination of light sand or cream-colored puggree bands on darker-toned cocoanut and other brown straws.

Among those appearing are: Betty Endersby, Ina Gauthier, Gertrude Parsons, Grace Stanger, Muriel Sykes, Mary Whitehead, Madeline Willis, Joan Withers, Frank Cobbett, Arthur Dirkman, Charles Langston, Arthur LeRiche, Arthur Mann, Pat Meany, Angus Sweeting, Bill Taylor, Cyril Welsh.

"Chad Hanna" Monkland Feature

Great novels which have been swept by a wave of popular interest onto the best-seller lists throughout the nation are, more and more, being sought by film producers as suitable vehicles for successful films. Some of the greatest have been based on the best-selling novels, like "The Grapes of Wrath," "The Rains Came" and "Drums Along the Mohawk."

And when Walter D. Edmonds' "Chad Hanna" was first appearing in the Saturday Evening Post under the title of "Red Wheels Rolling," it was natural that production companies would bid heavily for it. Acclaimed by millions of readers as a magazine serial and later as a novel, "Chad Hanna's" success on the screen was virtually assured.

After purchasing the rights to "Chad Hanna," 20th Century-Fox asigned the task of bringing it to life on the screen to the combination which had so much to do with the success of "The Grapes of Wrath"—Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson, who also wrote the screen play, and the star Henry Fonda. Two other important starring roles went to Dorothy Lamour and Linda Darnell. Filmed in brilliant Technicolor and directed by the veteran Henry King, "Chad Hanna" starts its engagement on Sunday at the Monkland United Theatre playing until Tuesday night.

"Chad Hanna" tells the appealing story of colorful people, earthy humor and tender romance in a wandering tent show. The romance revolves about Chad, portrayed by Henry Fonda, and another runaway, Linda Darnell, who goes on to become one of the show's leading performers. But when the exciting, gorgeous Albany Yates, played by Dorothy Lamour, rides into Chad's simple, country boy world, he is dazzled by her sultry allure.

"Tall, Dark And Handsome" Comes To Westm't Sun.

What technique! What finesse! What a man that dashing Cesar Romero is in "Tall, Dark and Handsome! He's a killer who doesn't kill! He watches his own funeral and it's not done with mirrors! He's the Romeo of the rackets and last but not least, he gets the girl. And what a honey Virginia Gilmore is!

The film opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

Milton Berle and Charlotte Greenwood, veterans in the art of comedy, who are also featured, add the lighter touches to what has been hailed as a sparkling film.

Laughs of the loud, long variety that come close together are packed into a story that is reported to have everything—excitement that crackles when the boys give out with Tommy guns —romance with people who believe in living fast because they may die young, and some grand new music, too!

Action starts popping in the very first reel when Romero, as the Romeo of the rackets, falls for beautiful Virginia Gilmore, a nurse. Cesar poses as a father and gets Virginia to take a job in his luxurious home.

To right-hand man Milton Berle goes the job of finding a "son" for the gang overlord. Milton does more than that—recruiting tough little Stanley "Stash" Clements, graduate of the Major Bowes amateur hour. Charlotte Greenwood acts as housekeeper and things go along pleasantly enough until a rival gangster, "Pretty Willie,' ably portrayed by Sheldon Leonard, tries to muscle in on Cesar's territory.

From there on the picture has a thrill a minute as "Pretty Willie" discovers that Cesar isn't as tough as he's supposed to be. "Rubbed out" gangsters come suddenly to life . . . Cesar's taken for a "ride" . . . but lives to watch his own funeral and get the girl in the suspensive climax. It's zany, of course, but it's guaranteed to produce laughter!

Frank Jenks and Barnett Parker round out the fine featured cast selected by Associate Producer Fred Kohlmar for "Tall, Dark and Handsome." H. Bruce Humberstone directed while Karl Tunberg and Darrell Ware wrote the original screen play.

Leo Robin and Ralph Rainger, one of America's top songwriting teams contrbiuted four new songs "Hello Ma! I Done It Again," "Did I Have Fun?" "I'm Alive and Kickin'" and "Wishful Thinking." Nicholas Castle and Geneva Sawyer staged the spectacular dance sequences.

"Honeymoon For 3" Plays At York

A new, light-hearted, rollicking comedy called "Honeymoon For Three" opened last night at the York United Theatre and judging from the delighted howls of laughter which greeted it, it is the year's funniest film. Ann Sheridan and George Brent are starred as a couple of people who fall in love with one another but try to convince themselves that it is more a matter of convenience than romance. When an over-amorous ex-college student, played by Osa Massen, claims Brent as the man she adores, romance climbs out of the back seat and takes over the driver's wheel.

Ann comes through with her finest performance to date as a girl who has to enter a battle of wits (armed with some very snappy dialogue) to keep her man from surrendering to an eight year old romance. Brent shows how excellently he can play a comedy role when he comes in for laugh after laugh as a popular author who has more trouble with his women than with his writing. Miss Massen was perfectly cast as the young matron who could not forget a certain summer's evening during her college career but who could easily forget that she was married to a very patient man, played by Charles Ruggles.

"Honeymoon For Three" is a perfect combination of sophisticated and slapstick humor. Both the dialogue and the situations provide plenty of laughter. One of Warners top notch directors, Lloyd Bacon, gave the picture a breezy pace that is in keeping with its humorous story. One will never forget the scene where Brent is forced to keep up a running chase between two sections of a roadside restaurant.

The supporting cast is made up of a group of screen favorites who all give fine performances. There's William Orr as a young lawyer who is more capable in trying to get a case than he is in winning one. He is aided and abetted in his pursuits by the very expressive little Jane Wyman. Lee Patrick is a riot as a mother who wants Brent to christen her child.

Belmont Park To Open On May 10th

It seems to be a general belief that when an amusement park closes for the season, its executives also cease all activities. This is far from being the case, according to Rex D. Billings, managing director of Belmont Park which will hold its grand preview showing of new attractions on Saturday and Sunday, May 10th and 11th, with the official opening for the season on Saturday May 17th.

"During the period that a park is closed," stated Mr. Billings in a recent interview, "there are a thousand and one things to be attended to. Plans are laid for the improvement of the park; negotiations are set afoot for securing new 'rides' and attractions; new and more sensational acts have to be booked in advance; and several other details have to be taken care of.

The free outdoor attraction, for the grand opening on Saturday May 17th, will introduce to Montrealers Miss Bee Kyle who, last year, won the professional high diving championship of America. The startling and sensational nature of her act is demonstrated when she dives from a tower, 110 ft. high, into a tank of water, approximately five feet deep, which is set afire just before she dives.

Reason may cure illusions, but not suffering.—Alfred de Musset.

"COME LIVE WITH ME"

"The Phantom Strikes" Starts At Snowdon Sun.

Edgar Wallace, author of more than two hundred novels, a thousand short stories and a score of plays, was one of the most prolific writers the literary world has ever known. One of his best known novels is "The Ringer." Based on this book is "The Phantom Strikes," opens at the Snowdon United Theatre on Sunday Afternoon playing for one week. Born in 1875, the noted writer of mystery yarns met his untimely death in 1932.

After extensive newspaper work in South Africa and London, Wallace started writing detective fiction. As a hobby he wrote thousands of columns of horse racing comment and dramatic criticism. During some of his most successful years, his books sold more than five million a year. In fact, one book in every four which was sold in England, was by the famous writer. At one time, six of his plays ran simultaneously on the London stage.

The speed with which he wrote was amazing. He has been known to spend only one day in the writing of a story. According to his secretary Wallace dictated complete novels in two days. He never outlined his yarns. He began with a character and an incident. Then, like Topsy, he just let them grow as they would.

Quantity was a weakness of his. Not only in writing, but in every thing he ever did, Wallace went at it with full force. An inveterate cigarette smoker, it was not unusual for him to consume as many as five packages in a day. He is said to have drunk as many as fifty cups of tea in one day.

During his last days, Wallace spent some time in the film capital. There is a well known Hollywood story concerning his visit. He was writing "Before Dawn," an original for the screen. On Saturday morning, there was a story conference to outline the type of yarn which the producers wanted for their film. The following Monday, Edgar Wallace turned in his finished script. At first the executives thought it a joke, that the writer had turned in an old yarn. Only after an hour of convincing, did they believe the amazing speed with which Wallace had written the story.

The cast of "The Phantom Strikes" includes Wilfrid Lawson, Louise Henry, Sonnie Hale and Alexander Knox. Walter Forde directed from the screenplay by Sydney Gilliat. Michael Balcon produced.

"Spring Fever '41" will be presented for one night only, Monday April 28, when the variety show put on by the St. Leo's Scout group is shown in the St. Leo's school hall, on Clark avenue.

This presentation is the work of the Cubs, Scouts and their officers, consisting of various musical and comedy numbers, with parts all taken by members of the group. The officers, however, will not appear on the stage, their work being completely concerned with the production and staging of the show.

Some of the highlights will be: the dancing of the Wolf Cubs, all under 12 years old; a fake boxing match; a fashion show; and a burlesque ballet and various musical numbers. There are many other acts, and it is said that some of the scouts and cubs will render a few solo selections.

Westmount Pee Wee Softball Loop Opens Monday

FIVE SQUADS ARE ENTERED WITH GAMES TO BE PLAYED ON FOUR DAYS EACH WEEK

Panthers, Spitfires, Red Wings, Bruins and Cyclones Make Up League Open to Youngsters Weighing Not More Than 90 Pounds — Panthers Top Spitfires 14-13 in Exhibition Encounter

Five teams have entered the Westmount Park Pee Wee Softball League that begins its schedule on Monday afternoon. This league is for players who weigh eighty pounds or under, with the exception of two players on each team who are allowed to weigh ninety pounds, or under.

The five teams playing in the group and their managers are as follows: Panthers, Ross Gillingham; Spitfires, Ted Tobias; Red Wings, Don McDonald; Bruins, John Drury and the Cyclones, George Taylor and Brian Tiffin.

Games are scheduled to be played every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, and Saturday mornings. The Panthers and Spitfires meet in the loop inaugural Monday afternoon at Westmount Park.

Ross Gillingham's Panthers played Teddy Tobias' Spitfires in an exhibition game Saturday morning with the Panthers scoring four runs in the last inning to eke out a 14-13 win over their opponents.

The Spitfires took a four run lead in the first inning and managed to stay in front of the Panthers till the seventh inning when pitcher Ronnie George weakened issuing two successive walks to open the inning. Two long singles and an error counted four runs for the winners, enough to take the game by one run.

The Panthers collected fourteen hits off pitchers George and Davies, all of them singles, while the Spitfires got to Gillingham for twelve bingles including homers by Ronnie George and Ross Joly. Joly also banged out a double among the four hits he collected for the day. Ian Forrest was the batting star for the winners getting four hits out of five times at bat.

Tilden, Tennant Pay School Visit

Big Bill Tilden and Eleanor Tennant, two of professional tennis' outstanding exponents, got together with 200 Westmount High School students for two hours yesterday afternoon in the school gymnasium, according to G. P. Smith, physical director, who said he had to call a halt to proceedings or else Tilden and Miss Tennant would have continued their instructional session indefinitely.

Miss Tennant, is the woman mainly responsible for molding Alice Marble into the great tennis machine she is today, while Tilden needs no introduction, particularly to Westmount scholars whom he met last night he was in Montreal a couple of years ago. The Tilden-Marble-Don Budge-Mary Hardwick troupe appeared at the Forum last night.

BASEBALLERS AWAIT WORD

Westmount Bantam Hardball Teams to Operate At Atwater Park If M.I.-A.B.L. Suspends Operations

Young baseball enthusiasts are hoping that the Montreal Intermediate League will not operate this year, as they have been promised the use of the Atwater diamond for two afternoons a week by the City Senior Amateur Baseball League if the Intermediate loop suspends activity for the season.

Four teams have signified their intentions of entering in the Bantam section of the league, Bill Dryden's Hurricanes, Warren Chippindale's Aces, Charlie Lovett's Eagles and Dave Bussiere's Redskins.

At least four teams will line-up with the Midget league, John Peirson's Beavers, Jimmie deLalanne's Aces and two teams from the St. Leo's league.

Most of the teams have been playing exhibition games and as soon as definite word is received on the diamond situation the teams will be ready to start.

A LOTTA' PITCHER

Cleveland's Mike Naymick, a righthanded pitcher, six feet eight, was rejected by the Army because he was too tall. He sleeps diagonally in a double bed, takes two berths in a Pullman and has to put on his trousers before his shoes because his feet are so big he can't pull the pants on over them.

PULCHRITUDE PADDLES TO RECORD

Suzanne Zimmerman, Nancy Merki, Joyce MacRae and Brenda Helser, left to right, of Portland, Ore., defended 400-yard free-style relay championship with record performance in national A. A. U. women's swimming meet in Buffalo. Their 4:12.4 clipped full second from previous American mark established five years ago by Seattle quartet.

Louis To Set New Mark With Bum-a-month Drive

If and when Joe Louis completes his 1941 fight-a-month program, he will have set a lifetime record which makes the one compiled by Jack Dempsey take a back seat.

This is the opinion of the experts along Jacobs Beach. Thus far, Joe has defended his heavyweight crown sixteen times and between now and the first of the year he probably will have taken care of three or four more title aspirants, including Lou Nova, Billy Conn, Abe Simon and Buddy Baer.

Of course, there's a chance one of these ambitious gents may hit the jackpot and deprive Joe of his much shot-at crown.

Against his last two opponents Abe Simon and Tony Musto, Joe showed definite signs of hitting skids. According to many who saw him, he lacked timing, fire and the old punch.

FIGHTS 'EM ALL

But come what may, Louis hasn't quibbled about meeting anybody since he knocked out Jim Braddock June 22, 1937.

During Dempsey's reign as champ Jack met only five conteners over a seven-year period, including the bout in which Tunney beat him for the title. This may or may not have been Jack's fault. His manager, Jack Kearns, and promoter Tex Richard, steered him through his trials and tribulations in those days and were probably more responsible for Jack's program than Dempsey was himself.

Dempsey introduced the million dollar gate in boxing, working on the theory that making himself scarce was the key factor in making this possible. In those postwar days Dempsey observed the custom of taking on no more than one opponent a year.

Not until Sept. 6 1920, did Jack make the first defense of his title in a fight against Billy Miske. His next effort was on July 2, 1921, when he knocked out the French dandy, gorgeous Georges Carpentier in four rounds.

LONG LAYOFFS

Then he laid off for almost two years, finally meeting and beating Tom Gibbons in fifteen rounds, July 4, 1923. He kayo'd Luis Angel Firpo in short order two months later.

This was Jack's shortest interim between fights. After the Firpo fracas Jack took a three-year vacation, not putting his crown on the line again until he lost it to Tunney Sept. 23, 1926.

Louis' critics argue that the current heavyweight crop doesn't begin to compare to the men Dempsey faced. They also insist Louis never saw the day he could touch Dempsey at the time when Jack knocked out Jess Willard for the title back in July 4, 1919. This, of course, is another one of those intangibles that can never be measured.

Staunch advocates of both Joe and Jack will argue the virtues of their men until doomsday without ever getting the satisfaction of knowing either side was right.

Westmount Municipal Softball League Now Has Five Prospective Starters — Teams Work Out

It has been announced that Artie Mann is lining up players for a team to enter the Municipal Senior Softball League, this brings the prospective number of entrants to five, last year's pennant winning Royals, Swans, Grads, Staynor Tigers and Mann's club.

A meeting of the league was scheduled to take place on Monday evening but owing to military commitments the gathering was put off until Wednesday night.

The Royals worked out on Saturday afternoon in the Park. Quite a few of last year's players made their appearance. Donnie Maher, Tommie Brennan, Desse Browne, Bill Willock, Bert Dalzell and Emmett Millen were some of the veterants taking part in the practice. Tom Brennan and Bert Dalzell were doing the pitching.

If Dalzell developes into a hurler it will mark the third successive season that he has shifted his position successfully. Two years ago he was an ace first baseman with the Granites and last year he covered left field in a smart manner for the Royals.

A "STERN" REMINDER

A magazine piece by Bill Stern, sports broadcaster, depicting the Senators as the "worst team in the American League," was tacked on the bulletin board of the Nats' clubhouse with assorted comments, some of which were sulphurous.

One-Sport College Sees Its Methods Paying Dividends

Tyler, Texas.—Athletically, Tyler College put all its eggs in one basket—a mesh-covered basket—and the results have been good.

The one-sport college has shown what concentration can do. In four seasons the basketball team has won two state junior college titles, finished second another time and at present is undefeated in 24 straight games with an average of 60 points a game.

Coach William R. Ward's Apaches expect to finish the season with a spotless record.

Buck Overall is the all-firedest basketball player these piny woods have seen in a long time. This year he has run up 442 points, an average of 18 per game, and if the player he's supposed to watch on defense scores over six points he's fortunate.

The team usually wins by a about 25 points. The closest an opposing outfit has come has been seven.

Win Fred Williams has run up 276 points, Acie Cannaday 268 and Barnard Clayton 192.

The other regular is a full-blooded Indian, Foster Bullock, a rip-roaring guard.

The starting five averages 6 feet 2.

Pee Wee Hockeyists Will Meet Tonight

The Westmount Pee Wee Hockey League is holding a get-together for the players and followers of the league to-night at Victoria Hall. The winning teams will be given their trophies. Entertainment and refreshments will be part of the program.

A Milk-Fed Paul Waner Making Good Comeback

Tip to mothers everywhere: In case you have trouble making Junior drink his milk this season, stop preaching about its vitamin value, balanced elements, etc. Just trot out the latest Dodger box score and batting averages. That's the language Junior understands. You have a living sermon in "Paul Waner, rf"—a 38-year-old baseball derelict who floated himself back into the Big Leagues on the tide of a quart-of-Grade-A-per-day.

Last winter, Paul puttered around Florida golf courses after being handed his unconditional release by Pittsburgh. He was a scrawny, hollow-chested 140 pounds.

Big Poison contacted Manager Leo Durocher, and soon won a Dodger trial with the argument: "Take me to spring training. If I'm really through, you can chuck me before the season starts, and you won't owe me any salary."

BIG SURPRISE

But spring training brought a big surprise to the Dodgers. Waner ran and ran and ran — the only way to get a player's legs into shape.

The weight he sweated off was regained (with interest) by the faithful cowjuice program of a quart-a-day.

It was sheer curiosity that impelled Durocher to start Waner in the first game of the exhibition season. But it was simple necessity that kept him in the lineup for the next 28 games.

During that time Waner added ten valuable pounds, punched a solid .313 and found himself the regular right fielder. All he did was steal the job of Dixie Walker, the team's leading hitter last year!

Walker is being kept on the bench, in case hot weather wilts the veteran Waner. But Paul gloats in his private secret—he always has hit better in hot weather!

And that new milk diet will do plenty toward muscle-building for the strenuous, sweaty "dog days."

HONOR MAN

Camera-eyes Waner already holds dozens of honors, including three batting titles, Most Valuable Player award, etc. But his immediate aim is the collecting of 132 hits this year, for that number will bring him into the select class of players who have colected 3,000 hits in their lifetime — Cobb, Speaker, Wagner and Collins.

Waner started last season wearing glasses. He chucked 'em, announcing he could see the pitcher well enough. His milk diet, no doubt, will strengthen his eye muscles too.

Milk mends broken bones faster, y'know. Well, Paul broke something in his right leg last year. It hastened his trip to the bench. But by this spring he was entirely recovered, and tears over the diamond without the slightest trace of his old injury.

SERIOUS ASPIRATIONS

He rarely fails to reach his goals. Another aim for '41 is to bat .300 (his lifetime average is .341, highest in the league). Another is to break into the World Series this year without having to pay for a ducat and without having to pull a One-Eyed Connolly. That's right, he expects the Dodgers to win. That would make his second Series in 16 years of NL play.

A host of milk-conscious mothers will be praying for Paul's success this year. Well, if Popeye could do it on spinach, we're betting Waner can win with MILK.

Raw Materials

The British Dominions and European overseas territories are practically the only suppliers to the world market of a number of raw materials, such as rubber, jute, kapok and shellac, and also spices, according to a study issued of certain foodstuffs, particularly by the international documents service of the Columbia University Press.

BY-LINES

BY S. B. MacCLEAN

A U.S.A. blacksmith has been complaining that there is not a single chestnut tree in Wyoming county and few horses are being brought to the village blacksmith shop nowadays. This recalls the plaintive parody of Longfellow's famous lines that appeared in an Ontario farming journal some years ago:

Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy snoozes;
No nag, since 1923,
Has been to him for shoeses."

Public opinion is more important in the present struggle than a great many people on this side of the Atlantic imagine. That this is realized by the Axis powers is evident in their unremitting efforts to influence public opinion in many parts of the world by every means in their power. Public opinion in France before the Nazis struck was centred round one word, "Defense," and it was not given time to readjust itself to something more useful. Britain also was an exponent of "Defense," but her magnificent resistance to the Nazi onslaught has given her time to realize that even the most heroic defense cannot win a war — an attack on our enemies must be made to achieve final victory. In the U.S.A., which is frankly the hope of the Democracies, that negative word "Defense" is still overruling most of its activities, The arm program, the aid to Britain, the defense of the Western Hemisphere, the resistance to Japanese imperialism, all these movements spring from the negative desire of avoiding war, and not from the positive wish of crushing Totalitarianism. Not that the desire to crush aggression does not exist, it does, but the dominant idea in the American mind seems to be to escape active participation in the struggle by means of an extensive Defense program. John F. Kennedy, in his book "Why England Slept," puts the matter in a nutshell when he writes:

"A boxer cannot work himself into proper psychological and physical condition for a fight that he seriously believes will never come off."

This was written of the Chamberlain Government's policy in Britain prior to the outbreak of war, and it is equally applicable to America today. The U.S.A. is training for war in the sincere hope that the course of training will avoid the fight, which any fight fan would unhesitatingly pronounce as absurd for a boxer who wanted to win.

After last week's "alphabet of requisites" in a wife, it is only fair to encounter with a bachelor girl's requirements in a husband:

". . . amiable, brawny, courteous dependable energetic forgiving, gay, handsome ,immaculate, judicious, knowing, loving, merciful, nimble observant progressive, qualified, reverent, sober, tolerant, unassuming, versatile, wise, youthful, and zealous."

Once again, the absence of "money" or "means" is to be highly recommended, and no surprise can be expressed at the young woman being still unattached!

A wet Sunday afternoon during the Easter vacation led me to explore the boarding-house bookcase.

The contents of this particular case were almost as varied as those of the Miscellaneous Box at the door of any second-hand bookseller's shop. It seemed to have grown gradually through the passage of many holiday seasons around the proprietor's original set of the novels of Charles Dickens, a Shakespeare, and the Bible.

As there were a number of children in the house, I was drawn to a volume with the lengthy but promising title of "Elegant Extracts; or Useful and Entertaining Pieces of Poetry, Selected for the Improvement of Youth in Speaking, Reading, Thinking, Composition, and in the Conduct of Life," which I thought might yield me something I could trot out at supper with a nonchalant air. The first "elegant extract" which I saw was:

"Friend to the wretch whom
every friend forsakes,
I woo thee, Death!"

and this effectively killed my interest in that particular volume.

There was a sort of inherent charm about the way in which the books in this case were arranged. It was stimulating, for instance, to find "The Pilgrim's Progress" rubbing shoulders with a volume on "Practical Sanitation," and to see a volume of Rabelais cheek by jowl with a copy of the poems of Christian Rossetti!

Curiously enough, I passed over most of the modern "thrillers" and detective yarns in favour of a novel entitled "The "Family Secrets: or Hints to Those Who Would Make Home Happy," the latter devoting no less than 10 pages to the "Dangers of Dining Out."

A literary snob might be inclined to sneer at that boarding-houses bookcase, but I was grateful to it for helping to pass what might otherwise have been a very dull afternoon.

I came across recently an amusing little volume with the ambitious title of "The Outline of Everything." It was published in 1923, "complete in one fortnightly part," and appears to have been a gentle satire on a once-flourishing literary activity. Here is a quotation from the section devoted to the "Oligies":

"Ah, biology! Man, who once lived in the tree-tops and shied cocoanuts on the pates of his foes, now drags out a miserable existence below, in a world of wage-earning and flat-dwelling, and income-tax returns."

A revised edition would undoubtedly add "and Dictators an War."

U. S. Has Minted 2 Billion Nickels

Minting of nickels has passed the 2,000,000,000 mark.

Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, Director of the Mint, made this announcement in connection with the celebration by numismatists of the 75th anniversary of the five cent piece. The present Jefferson nickel, of which 453,314,458 have been struck off already, is the fourth nickel.

When Congress authorized the coin in 1866, the first nickel bore a shield design. Then came the Liberty nickel, and then the Buffalo nickel. The Jefferson nickel started coming out of the mints Oct. 1, 1938.

RED CROSS HAS GREAT SUCCESS WITH SALVAGE

More Than 300 Tons Already Collected — Report That After Saturday Will Have to Return To Original Scheme

Red Cross House on St. Antoine Street, has been literally swamped with telephone calls during the past few days by generous hearted citizens offering articles of salvage value to the Conservation department of the Quebec Provincial Division, the Canadian Red Cross, as the familiar "moving day" of May 1 approaches.

Every effort is being made by the Conservation department to keep up with the collections, which until Saturday will be picked up individually in any part of the city to assist those who are moving from one residence to another.

After Saturday, however, due to the fact that the trucks now being used for pick-up will be needed for moving purposes, it will be necessary to revert to the original system of salvage pick up which was inaugurated when the campaign opened last fall, whereby the city was divided into four sections and each section covered during one week each month, namely: the south and central section the first week; the west section during the second week; the north section during the third week and the east section during the final week of every month.

Officials of the conservation department pointed out this morning that it will be necessary to have all calls listed as soon as possible at Red Cross House, PLateau 1751, if citizens wish their salvage loads to be picked up before Saturday, and stress that householders who are moving should have their articles ready, and placed near the entrance so that the men of the Red Cross trucks and women volunteers of the Canadian Women's Transport Service, who are assisting in the work, may be able to make the pick up quickly.

Conservation officials stated today that steadily increasing contracts are being made with local large business firms for salvage, with the result that during the past five months more than $3,000 has been netted on collections totalling more than 300 tons. Both the Red Cross and the Salvation Army are working in close cooperation on the collection of salvage, according to officials at Red Cross House, with the result that as complete a collection as possible is being made in every part of the city.

Westmount Rover Crew News

Capt. R. F. Scott Crew

On Friday evening, the Capt. R. F. Scott Rover Crew held a very successful party at the home of Rover Squire Tony Chatterton.

Games were played, with a period of dancing around 11 o'clock. The women present deciding that the men of the local Rover Crew needed brushing up, so instructed them in one or two popular dance steps.

However we must in all fairness congratulate Rover Scout Gordon McAuley and Rover Squire John Dougall on their prowess.

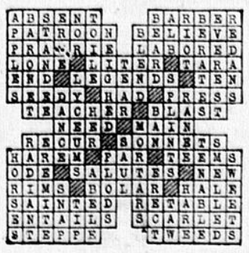

Meanwhile another party is to be held on May 16th at some other Rover's home. The same committee is in charge of the entertainment as of the last party. The Crew are thinking of taking dancing lessons to be in readiness for this coming affair.

Monday night will be another Crew Meeting night at 27 Renfrew Avenue, any prospect recruits are asked to be present by 8.30 to receive any details they wish to know about Rovering. Rover Leader Albert Gilhooly is in charge, assisted by S.R.M. Mel Burge and R.M. Fred Read.
