TRAINS WILL RUN NEXT SPRING

From Port Arthur to Saskatchewan
on the New Transcontinental Line.

(Special to the Chronicle.)

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Mr. Charles M. Hays, President of the Grand Trunk Pacific, on his return from his tour over the line of the new Transcontinental, this morning stated that by the opening of next spring the G. T. P. would be running trains through from Port Arthur to the Saskatchewan. While delays had occurred on the Government section between Superior Junction and Winnipeg, Mr. Hays was confident that this section would be in good-working order early next summer, with both the Government and G.T.P. sections handling traffic.

(With regard to the West, Mr. Hays returned in a most enthusiastic frame of mind, declaring that he saw no signs of any financial panic or other depression during his tour. Mr. Hays stated that great progress was being made at Prince Rupert and all along the British Columbia section of the Grand Trunk. Another hundred mile contract would be given out immediately on the western section, while two hundred more miles would be soon put under contract east of the Rockies, which would reduce the gap between the east and west to 400 miles over the mountain district.

Mr. Hays stated definitely that the G.T.P. had a charter to run a road to Vancouver and that it was merely a question of time till they started a service to that city.

In general he considered conditions in the West very good for railroad work, and said he was perfectly confident of the future.

DEPORTED FROM CANADA

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Since the first of January, 1908, the Immigration Department has deported 1,011 immigrants as undesirable citizens. During the same period 1,226 persons were refused entry from the United States. These returns show a close supervision is being exercised over Canadian immigration at the present time to shut out such as are likely to become a charge on the public.

ONTARIO'S IMMIGRATION AGENT

Toronto, Oct. 30.—The appointment of Ontario's chief immigration agent in England will be made next week in all probability, according to Sir James Whitney. This official will have charge of the work of the three other officials in the U. S. country, and his office will be in London. "Is there a probability of Hon. Nelson Monteith being an agent?" Sir James was asked. "I am sorry to say that this is not to be," he replied, as he went on to eulogize the figures of Mr. Monteith for the position. "Mr. Monteith desires to stay in Ontario."

Mr. Arthur Murdoch, of St. Valier, is in the city, a guest at the St. Louis.

NEW FERRY BYLAW ADOPTED

Meeting of Council Last Evening
Approved Work of Joint Committee.

The City Council held a rather important meeting last evening under the presidency of His Worship the Mayor, Sir George Garneau. The principal item on the order paper was the second reading and adoption of the by-law respecting the ferry between Quebec and Lévis, the present contract expiring in 1910. For the consideration of a by-law, in second reading, it is necessary that two-thirds of the Council, (20) be present. Last evening twenty-two aldermen put in an appearance, but when the ferry contract came up, three of them suddenly disappeared from the Council Chamber, thereby leaving only nineteen members present. His Worship criticized the conduct of these three city fathers very severely and Ald. Fiset, having been reached by telephone, drove up to the City Hall and completed the quorum, and the by-law was finally passed.

These present were Aldermen Galipeault, Drouin, Hogan, Lantier, Gauvreau, Norcross, Pouliot, Brunet, Letourneau, Messervy, Foley, Fiset, Verret, Huard, Barbeau, Lavigne, Paret, Cannon, Cummings, Sanson, Madden, St. Pierre and Mulroney.

A letter was received from the Secretary of the Citizens' Relief Committee of Fernie, B.C., thanking the Council for its subscription towards the victims of the fire there last summer.

A letter was also received from Mr. A. D. Cartwright, secretary of the Board of Railway Commissioners, Ottawa, enclosing a letter from Mr. Beattie, one of the solicitors of the Commission, to the effect that the following streets in Quebec, crossed by the C. P. R. line are protected as follows:—Corner of Prince Edward and Dorchester streets, alarm bell, nearly completed; corner of Crown and Prince Edward streets, interlocker, semaphores and gates, Laliberte and Prince Edward streets, alarm bell; Corner of Prince Edward and Bridge streets, watchmen and gates.

Mr. Beattie informs the Council that in the event of the City of Quebec passing a by-law prohibiting whistling within the city limits, that any additional protection which the city considers necessary, will be provided, but at the city's expense.

A letter was read from F. Lavoie, secretary of the Quebec Board of Trade, enclosing a resolution of that body drawing the attention of the Council to the insufficiency of the water supply in this city and also asking that the surroundings of the dam at Lorette be examined. Referred to the Waterworks Committee.

Mr. F. Murphy, K.C., on behalf of the Riviere Jaune Lumber Co., wrote to the Council, informing them that next spring, the latter company will float a quantity of pulp through the Riviere Jaune and River St. Charles, but that the city dam at Lorette would interfere with the drive as there was no opening in the dam. He requested that the city take the necessary means so as the drive of pulp would not be interfered with.

The City Clerk replied to Mr. Murphy upon instructions from His Worship the Mayor, that the Riviere Jaune Company would not be allowed to float its pulp down by the St. Charles, as such action on their part would soil the water.

A letter was read from Mr. Frank Lavoie, thanking the city for the kind words expressed in the civic address and also referring to the pleasant days he had spent in this city.

One report from the Finance Committee and two from the Market Committee, referred to in yesterday's Chronicle, were referred back to the Market Committee.

His Worship remarked that before proceeding with the consideration of the Lévis ferry by-law, he considered it his duty to inform them that in 1906 the Town of Lévis had their charter amended in such a way that a clause was inserted giving the latter town certain rights in connection with the Lévis ferry contract. Consequently a special committee consisting of three aldermen from this city and three from Lévis was appointed to consider the future contract and to make any suggestions and conditions which could improve the system. The by-law now before the Council could not be modified by that body, but had to be either accepted or rejected. He suggested that the new by-law be read clause by clause and Ald. Drouin, Pouliot and Madden, members of the special committee, could explain any changes.

Ald. Cummings thought that the by-law framed by the special committee could not be rejected nor even approved by the Council, as it appeared that the special committee, appointed under the Lévis charter, were the only parties to decide the question.

Mayor Garneau replied that no doubt the City Council could prevent the by-law becoming law if they so desired, but a new by-law had to be passed if tenders were to be called for. The special committee have been studying the whole matter for some time past and they had prepared the by-law after listening to the suggestions of manufacturers and members of the Board of Trade.

Ald. Drouin, as president of the special committee, explained how both committees from Lévis and Quebec had worked together and had listened to the suggestions made by delegates from both Boards of Trade, Canadian Manufacturers' Association and steamboat men, and the result of all these interviews was the present by-law. For example the new summer ferry boats, under the next contract, must be 150 feet in length.

Ald. Galipeault replied that if that clause was carried out it would necessitate the boats now in use being put aside, if the present company secured the contract. He thought the present boats were sufficiently long.

Ald. Madden, as member of the special committee, had no objection to any suggestions being made to the by-law and referring the same back to the committee.

Ald. Galipeault drew the attention of His Worship that there was not a quorum.

Ald. Cannon replied that he seen three of the aldermen leaving the room together.

His Worship remarked that if the City Council could not get a quorum to pass an important by-law, such as that now before the Council, the taxpayers were justified in thinking that the Council did not want to change the present state of things.

Deputy Clerk, Mr. A. Maloin, was then asked to see if he could find Aldermen Foley, Messervy and Mulroney, but they informed him that they had to leave.

Mayor Garneau again remarked that the action of the three Aldermen in preventing this important measure to be adopted was most unjustifiable and they would have to shoulder the responsibility of their action. Let them oppose the by-law or not, but their action in leaving the Council Chamber, under present circumstances, was ordinarily qualified as a cowardly action as they appeared to be afraid to act in public.

Personally, he considered, the by-law a good one, on the whole, but everybody should judge for themselves whether it was or not. Besides the special committee had done considerable work in framing the by-law.

Ald. Cannon suggested that they proceed with the by-law, although the quorum was not complete, but Ald. Galipeault objected on the ground that the measure was a most important one.

On motion of Ald. Lantier, seconded by Ald. St. Pierre, it was decided to adjourn the consideration of the by-law until all the other orders were disposed of.

Several orders of the day, of very little importance, were adopted and in the meantime Ald. Fiset, who had been telephoned for appeared in the Council Chamber, thereby forming a quorum.

The by-law was then taken up and read clause by clause and adopted. Ald. Galipeault made some suggestions in regard to certain clauses, respecting the proposed length of the summer steamers and the construction by the City of Quebec and Town of Lévis of buildings to be used as offices by the company securing the contract. Ald. Galipeault thought that such a clause, if adopted, would embarrass the corporation, as the lessees would, probably, be continually asking for improvements to these buildings.

Ald. Pouliot asked if the committee appointed to inquire into the possibility of annexing Limoilon to the city had studied the question and what progress had been made.

His Worship replied that the above committee had met a delegation from Limoilon and the latter had imposed certain conditions which the committee, after serious study, had concluded, would entail considerable expense. However, the committee would always be pleased to consider any other suggestions from the delegates of the town of Limoilon.

Ald. Cannon brought up the question of the rise in the price of milk and referred to the Milkmen's Association holding their meetings in the City Hall. At Lévis milk was sold at five or six cents a quart and he was of the opinion that there should be some means of controlling the Quebec milkmen, who without any reason increased the price of milk when they pleased.

Mayor Garneau replied that on several occasions a vacant room was granted in the City Hall to the milkmen, and whether the milkmen held their meeting in or outside the City Hall, the increase would have been decided upon. None of the Civic Committees could control milkmen and he thought the only way would be to name a special committee to confer with the milkmen.

Ald. Pouliot moved that the City Engineer be instructed to inquire if the proprietor of the building on the west side of the steps leading from Cote d'Abraham to Valier street was willing to sell a portion of his property, say five or six feet, for the widening of these stairs, and the motion was carried, the City Engineer to report to the Finance Committee.

Ald. Verret moved and it was resolved that the City Council send a message of congratulation to His Holiness Pope Pius X. on the occasion of his sacerdotal jubilee.

The Council, on motion of Ald. Galipeault, adjourned for three weeks.

ORIGINATED NEW YORK'S "400"

Mrs. William Astor, Great Social
Leader, Dead in American Metropolis.

New York, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Wm. Astor, who for thirty years has been regarded as the social leader of New York, died to-night of heart disease at her home on Fifth Avenue. For nearly four weeks Mrs. Astor, who was 82 years old, had been in a critical condition. Mrs. Orme Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Astor, was with her mother when she died. There is no name in the American social register that is so well known as that of Mrs. Astor. It was Mrs. Astor who established the famous "400," her visiting list originally being confined to that number of names. Wm. Astor, who died in Paris in 1892, took little part in the social activities, his wife enjoyed. Mrs. Astor was Miss Caroline Schermerhorn, a daughter of Abraham Schermerhorn, a well to do merchant. She was married to Wm. Astor on September 23rd, 1853. John Jacob Astor was their only son. There were four daughters, two of them, Mrs. Ogilvie Haig and Mrs. Orme Wilson, are now living. The eldest daughter, Miss Emily Astor, who married J. J. Van Alen, died some years ago, as did Miss Helen Astor, who married James Roosevelt.

The Quebec Chronicle

QUEBEC, OCTOBER 31, 1908.

THE HARBOR.

During the recent campaign in Quebec West, a gentleman well-known and respected for his business acumen and experience, favored the Chronicle with a communication supporting its contention that the interests of the port had been neglected by the present Government, and that the deficiencies of its equipment in every respect were glaring by an instance in which he and other passengers were detained for two hours in the stream because the landing facilities at the Breakwater were occupied by two ocean steamers, and there was not room there to berth another. To this a gentleman equally well-known and respected retorted in the columns of our Bunde street contemporary that he had undergone a precisely similar experience at the landing stage in Liverpool. The point endeavored to be made by the latter writer that if a big port like Liverpool was unable to thoroughly accommodate its passenger traffic, a little port like Quebec she had no reason to complain if she found herself in a similar condition.

The fallacies in this kind of argument are numerous. In the first place, there is no reason why Quebec should be a port in any respect inferior to that of Liverpool. She is similarly situated, and has her Birkenhead ready to her hand in Lewis. Those who know the history of Liverpool know under what disadvantages, and by what strenuous and persistent efforts a ready berth at the confluence with the Irish Sea of a small river like the Mersey which can be crossed by stepping stones a little above Runcorn, some 12 miles above Liverpool, and the resort of water fowl, has been raised to its present position as one of the great ports of the Empire, and the contrast between the Liverpool of to-day, and the Quebec of to-day, with the great natural advantages of her land-locked harbor and her deep-water approaches is sufficiently striking to induce an inquiry why the great British port has grown in spite of all obstacles, and the great port of the St. Lawrence has fallen back, and has been subordinated to the Canadian Manchester, Montreal.

In discussing the relative merits of the Quebec Breakwater and the Liverpool landing stage, the demands upon each must be taken into consideration. It must not be forgotten that for one ocean-going steamer that enters the port of Quebec, there are, to put it on a moderate computation, at least twenty that enter the port of Liverpool. It is quite conceivable that at any given time, ocean arrivals should find a temporary block there, but it is not conceivable why a similar detention should take place here, unless on the supposition that we have not the facilities adequate to our requirements. The Liverpool landing stage is a huge structure floating upon pontoons, rising and falling with the tide, and is about 2,500 feet long. From it to the railway station alongside lead numerous automatically adjusted bridges for passengers, and platforms for baggage. "Altogether," says the report by Messrs. George W. Stephens and Frederick W. Cowie, "the best passenger facilities in the world, affording comfort and despatch."

Since a comparison between Liverpool and Quebec has been invited, we may be excused for quoting from the report alluded to a few items as to the equipment of the former. "The different docks and quays," says the report, "are supplied with hydraulic cranes of varying capacity, one of the most recently erected being a coal crane, with a capacity of 30 tons, lifting a car-wagon at a time. The number of hydraulic, steam, and coal cranes at the cargo quays exceeds 230 of a capacity of from one to 100 tons, and the lifts vary from the ground floor to 106 feet. There are also floating cranes, varying in capacity from 25 to 100 tons, capable of lifting 95 feet above the water level. Two main lines of railway run in close proximity to the docks throughout their entire length, and many of the berths appropriated to the largest class of steamers are connected with the main lines to enable direct shipment from ship to railway wagons to take place, and the connecting up of other berths with the main lines is progressing rapidly. Within the dock estate there are over 75 miles of railway."

Such is the equipment of the Liverpool of to-day, a place that when Champlain founded Quebec, was not much better than a harbor for fishing vessels situated at the mouth of a muddy estuary. It had not the natural advantages of Quebec, but it has increased, and we have decreased; decreased so much that Montreal which had to have a ship-canal dug which her has superseded us in the position of the great port of the St. Lawrence. It is as if Manchester were to take the place of Liverpool. But Montreal has seen to it that her port equipment and railroad facilities along the wharves should be adequate to her commercial necessities, and should grow as they grew. But we! We have not enough facilities for unloading heavy freight, and it has to go to Montreal to be unloaded there, and sent back to us by rail."

WOMAN VOTERS.

Recent despatches from Ottawa say that the "suffragette" idea has reached Canada, and that among the resolutions brought before the National Council of Women in session at Ottawa was one that the Canadian Suffrage and Canadian Medical Alumnae Associations urge that women should be given the right to vote as in New Zealand, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, and resolves:—"That this Canadian National Council, realizing these facts, desire greater scope for discussion of the all important question of citizenship and hope that this subject will be awarded its rightful place in the programme of the quinquennial."

We are only too thankful that the issue was not broached during the recent electoral campaign, and added to the heat thereof.

The question of feminine suffrage involves two main issues, first as to whether the ladies suffer any material loss by being deprived of the right to vote in elections, and secondly whether their admission to the suffrage would improve the moral tone of the electorate. We do not think that the first issue can be successfully maintained. The suffrage is not always regarded as a desirable thing, and in every election there are many who deliberately abstain from the use of it, to such an extent indeed, that propositions for compulsory voting have frequently been brought forward. The ladies exercise no inconsiderable influence on the masculine vote, as it is, and this would totally disappear if they had the privilege of independent action. In such a case they would be reduced to the level of the ordinary male vote.

Whether the feminine vote would purify and elevate the masculine is more than doubtful. Human nature is human nature, regardless of sex, and the addition of feminine weaknesses to masculine ones does not present any alluring prospect of amelioration of present electoral conditions. At the same time we may say that the conduct of the British suffragettes removes the principal objection to the admission of the ladies to the franchise. There has always been in the minds of even the coarsest men a feminine ideal which he recognized as morally superior to his own. He placed the woman on a plane greatly higher than that which he himself occupied, and gave her credit for a delicacy of feeling that was to be preserved from the rough contact of masculine life. The London suffragettes have rudely shattered this ideal; they have shown themselves a shrieking turbulent crowd who can brush shoulder with the toughest of the roughs. If womanhood elects to re-recognize these as its leaders, there is no longer any difficulty about according it the suffrage. Woman, as represented by the London suffragettes, is simply a man in skirts and should be accorded the same rights as the man in trousers. But whether she will purify politics is more than doubtful.

THE NEW EASTERN QUESTION.

From time to time are published assurances that the situation in the Near East will clear without the outbreak of war. It is to be hoped that these optimistic views will prove correct, but the problem raised by Austria's action is of so serious a nature as to seem very difficult of solution by entirely peaceful means.

Austria will undoubtedly incorporate Bosnia and Herzegovina in her own territory unless practically irresistible pressure is brought to bear upon her in opposition to that policy. Turkey alone is not capable of applying such pressure, faced, as at the moment she is, by the hostility of Bulgaria. Serbia and Montenegro would have common cause with Turkey, but their alliance would not make her a match for Austria. Russia has as much at stake as any of the powers touching the Turkish Empire, but Russia is not eager for another war. The purely Eastern powers, therefore, do not seem formidable to Austria, but the Eastern powers are not the only ones concerned to thwart Austria, any more than is Austria the only one sympathetically concerned in that power's seizure of Bosnia and Herzegovina. Austria has the backing of Germany, and the Eastern powers on the other side of the controversy cannot but have the backing of Britain and France. The great States of Europe tend to line up as follows:—Germany and Austria on one side, and Russia, France and Britain on the other. The issue is no mere question of the binding force of the Berlin conference agreement, but is the vital question whether a single power is to be master of Europe. In none of the Foreign offices are there any delusions as to Germany's part in this trouble. It is foreseen by the statesmen of that Empire that when the aged Francis Joseph passes off the scene the troubles of Austria-Hungary will culminate, and the discordant elements will probably wreck the union. This will give Germany an excuse for interfering, and interference will mean the establishing of German ascendancy.

It is that revisionary interest in Austria that now prompts Germany to support the seizure of the two Turkish provinces. The larger Austria becomes, the greater will be the prospective extent of the Pan-Germanic sway. Russia and France do not desire to have this tremendous wedge thrust between them, across Europe and stretching along their respective confines. Britain has as little desire to see so large a part of the map of Europe filled in by Germany. The question opened by Austria is an extremely difficult one for settlement by diplomacy.—Toronto News.

STARCH LEVELLED CASTE.

Introduction of Homely Commodity Made Ruffs Common.

The fact that the family laundry is a thing of terror in these days is due partly at least to no less a person than the Dutch coachman of Good Queen Bess. For he brought over his wife and she brought the art of starching. At this time everybody that was anybody wore a ruff, not unlike the short crisp ones of lisse and net thrown about the shoulders now, but in the sixteenth century they fastened them neatly about the throat, and they were made of linen and lace. But, alas, the ruff was a luxury, as after a few days' wear it flopped down about the throat, lost all its chic, and had to be discarded, so that only those "swells" who could afford to buy a great many could wear them. And all for a little starch, of which nobody knew!

The Queen was the most recklessly extravagant of all, as though pretty women in England took to lowering their ruffs to show their throats, her Majesty, having a long yellow one, wore a ruff exceeded only in height and stiffness by that of the Queen of Navarre, who doubtless had her own reasons for flying to this extreme of fashion. Elizabeth's ruff-makers must have led a busy life, while history does not state what became of the quantities of cast-off royal neckwear. Then Mrs. Dingham came over to join her husband, and her Dutch economy, shocked at the waste of ruffs in merrie England, made haste to advise the Queen of a new ingenious process of setting up the fallen once more—those fallen ruffs that all the Queen's houses and all her men had been unable to set up again. Mrs. Dingham, however, set them up; she clear-starched them. Her Majesty was delighted. The news spread like wildfire. Mrs. Dingham as in great demand, and was not at all unaware of her value, for she set herself up in business and took pupils in her art, who thought it worth while to pay her twenty or twenty-five dollars to learn the secret. After starching the ruffs Mrs. Dingham "got them up" with "an iron stick heated in the fire." Then they were wired to make them firmer.

There was no distinction in wearing a ruff, once Mrs. Dingham had arrived with her clear starch; or everyone could now afford it, and it was as omnipresent as the shirtwaist and the Merry Widow to-day. Which was probably the secret reason of its being discarded finally by fashionable Elizabethans. Most people starched their white, but some starched theirs yellow. In fact, starch in those days was a freakish new fad as compared with the hoary kitchen veteran of the twentieth century.

A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

The Trouble Yields to the Rich Red Blood
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills
Actually Make.

Ask any doctor and he will tell you that rheumatism is rooted in the blood; that nothing can cure it that does not reach the blood. It is sheer waste of money and time to try to cure rheumatism with liniments and lotions that only go to skin deep. You can speedily cure rheumatism with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich the blood, drive out the poisonous acid and loosen the stiffened, aching joints. Among the thousands of rheumatic sufferers cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. W. A. Taylor, Newcastle, N.B., who says:—"For number of years I was a great sufferer from rheumatism which was seated in my shoulders and knee joints. I tried liniments and blistering, but with no effect. In fact the trouble was getting worse, and my knee joints grew so stiff that they could snap if I stooped, and I could scarcely straighten up. Altogether I was a terrible sufferer, and nothing I did or took gave me any relief until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took the Pills steadily for a couple of months and every vestige of the trouble disappeared. That was two years ago, and as I have had no return of the trouble I feel safe in assuming that the cure is permanent."

Nineteenth of the common ailments that afflict humanity are due to bad blood, and as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood, that is the reason they cure so many different troubles, such as anæmia, indigestion, rheumatism, eczema, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, paralysis and the ailments of girlhood and womanhood with all their distressing headache, backaches and irregularities. QUEEN STILL OPPOSES ABRUZZI MARRIAGE

King Humbert's Widow Will Not Have Miss Elkins in Royal Family.

TURIN PLEADS IN VAIN

ROME. The unions, an authoritative Catholic journal, states that last winter, when all the princes of the house of Savoy were assembled to celebrate the silver wedding of the duke of Genoa, the queen mother demonstrated her opposition to the contemplated marriage between the duke of Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins. Now her majesty has again shown that her attitude has not undergone any alteration. The count of Turin has proceeded to Gressoney, where the queen mother is spending her summer holiday, to see whether his august aunt was inclined to take a more favorable view of the proposed match.

Pleading Duke's Cause.
The count pleaded the case of the duke of the Abruzzi, stating that his age, 35 years, would not allow him to delay his marriage any longer. Moreover, he was determined in the matter, and the engagement was now a formal one. Miss Elkins, said the count of Turin, was admirably qualified for becoming a member of the house of Savoy. It was true that she was not of royal blood, but the count reminded the queen mother of the fact that the first wife of Prince Amadeo, the father of the duke of Abruzzi, was a daughter of the duke of Genoa, and the count Dal Pozzo della Cisterna, whose wife was of recent date, yet she was able to hold her position on the throne of Spain beside her husband.

"To this Queen Margherita replied that her opinion was the same as it had been last winter. She was absolutely opposed to the marriage, because, among other things, a large part of the American public had declared that the duke of Abruzzi had gone to the United States 'in search of a dowry.' Moreover, many of the American newspapers, in articles, sketches and caricatures had spread similar statements, while the Italian colony in America was not at all pleased with the match.

Queen Mother Grieved.
The count of Turin was unable to deny the force of this argument, but he replied that in any case the duke of the Abruzzi was engaged to Miss Elkins. This deeply grieved the queen mother, and a certain amount of coolness ensued between her and her nephew. The count of Turin, who had intended to stay a few days in Savoy, left immediately for Spezia to meet the duke of the Abruzzi.

It is stated that the duke, who has been taking part in the naval maneuvers on board the Regina Elena, will, as soon as he can leave his ship, depart for New York to arrange all the details of the marriage, which, unless any complications arise, will take place on January 23, his birthday.

Roads Closed to Motor Cars.
PARIS. The district of Rueil, in France, has closed a number of roads to motor cars. In all seventy-by-laws against motor cars have been passed by the local Council.

PRINCE AND PEASANT-COSTUMED PRINCESS
The Russian Grand Duchess Maria Pavlovna, who married Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, has already become very popular in the country. Owing to her nationality there was at first a prejudice against her in the minds of most Swedes, which was quickly dispelled by the princess, who won the hearts of every one by daily wearing the Swedish peasant costume, shown above.

The Kaiser and His Staff Watching Operations

On September 7 the Kaiser began a great series of maneuvers in Alsace on the very ground of many of the famous battles of the Franco-German War, notably the heights of Spicheren. A device which has been adopted for the first time at these maneuvers was to have straw dummies dressed up in uniforms to take the place of infantry supports for artillery.

FESTIVE SPOOK CREATES PANIC

Hurls Pots and Pans About Indiscriminately and Forces Family To Quit House.

LONDON. No little excitement has been created in Hull by reports of uncanny happenings at a house in Sykes street, the responsibility for which has been readily placed by residents in the district, and less readily by the police, on occupants of the spirit world. The place, an old house in Richardson's Buildings, Sykes street, is tenanted by a workingman named James Gilson and his wife, but yesterday they removed their furniture in a state of panic which has the sympathy of the neighborhood.

Even Police Constable Kelly, of the local force, who, at the Olympic games, in the White City, gained the championship among heavyweight wrestlers, says that when he went to the scene there was something that he could not wrestle with.

Persistent Tappings.
It appears that on Friday of last week Mrs. Gilson's brother James, a man of 35, was buried, and in the early hours of Saturday morning a series of persistent tappings roused the sleeping inmates of the house. First of all, Gilson and his brother-in-law, named O'Grady, were awakened about 3 o'clock by a low tapping. They believed that the sound came from their wives, sleeping in a lower room, but on investigation they found the women sitting on the bed in a state of great alarm. "Then," says Mr. O'Grady, "pots and pans flew across the room, and the end of it was that we all ran into the street."

Soon the whole neighborhood was aroused by the screams of the women, whose fears could not be pacified by their husbands, and when the police arrived great excitement prevailed. One of the women fainted, and when she recovered consciousness cried for her baby, left in the "haunted house."

Accompanied by the husband, a constable entered the house and made a thorough inspection. "I found nothing at all to cause alarm," said the officer, "but on coming downstairs something flew past me and hit the husband, who was in front. It turned out to be a blacking tin. The man shouted out to me, 'Did you see that?' and ran. I am positive nobody threw that tin. I turned round sharply, but there was nobody there. I was forced to believe something supernatural was at work—and I tell you I felt queer." The constable is a smart young fellow named Hynes.

Witnesses' Stories.
Mrs. Gilson was during the latter events removed to the house of a neighbor. A priest—the Rev. Father Roman Catholic—looked in, but was likewise baffled, and, as if in mockery of the puzzled men, a teacup was sent careering off the table without any visible force behind it as they turned to go.

Mrs. Gilson, who was in a serious state of nervous prostration yesterday, directly associates her trouble with the death of her brother. Both women, in fact, are ill. "Mrs. O'Grady about the funeral, when we heard repeated knocking somewhere in the place. Next came a loud noise, as of something falling. We went into the next room, but saw nothing to account for the noise. The only thing disturbed was a comb, left in a box, but which now lay on the floor."

"While we looked at it the hairbrush fell out of the box and two cups and two glasses fell on to the floor."

"Then," continued the woman, "I screamed. It has about killed me!"

Other witnesses declared that ornaments have fallen from the mantelpiece, bric-a-brac has dropped off the wall and pots have come away from the hooks. A huge pebble, produced for inspection, was alleged to have come flying apparently through the back door, without leaving any mark of its passage.

The police are keeping a watch on the place, naturally suspicious of any theory of the supernatural. "But," says the young constable, Hynes, "I know a pot fell to the floor and broke and I did not see it fall. Its mark is on the wall."

"I cannot account for that thing whirling past my head. I have always treated such stories as fairy tales and ridiculed them; but there was something yonder which I cannot explain. I believe it was supernatural."

Some practical explanation as the result of their watch is expected by the police. Police Constable Kelly, the champion wrestler, is on duty there—and no further "manifestations" have occurred.

BURGARS FOILED BY AMERICAN WOMAN

Jewels of Ambassador Reid's Daughter Saved by Lady Alastair Innes-Ker.

A LUCKY DISCOVERY

LONDON. The mother of the German birth, but she married an American, and lived in New York until her husband's death. Now she is back in Berlin for the sake of her children's musical education. She was formerly an operatic singer, but ill-health has compelled her to remain at home. She herself is a brilliant player, and has taught her children all they know. In a humble room the three little fellows gave a recital for half an hour. The eldest lad, David, is only 9 years old, but he plays most brilliantly some of the most difficult works of Chopin and Beethoven. The baby plays the piano and violin in an astonishing manner.

Mrs. Berlin wishes to come to London this winter. Her children will undoubtedly take the town by storm. Although the kindness of the Kaiser has brought her children into public notice, she is very modest about the whole affair, and does not wish to make a great advertisement of it.

GARTER FOR KING MANUEL
English Sovereign to Honor the Young Portuguese Ruler.

LISBON. The duke of Oporto, the heir apparent to the crown of Portugal, will leave Lisbon on November 24 in order to notify King Edward of King Manuel's ascent to the Portuguese throne.

It is the special wish of the young king that the British government should be the first formally notified of his accession, on account of the friendly relations between Great Britain and Portugal.

The duke will also carry the insignia of the Order of the Garter which he belonged to the late King Carlos. It is expected that this will be given to the young king.

The duke of Oporto will remain about a week in London.

CARDINAL VANNUTELLI AND THE ARCHBISHOP OF WESTMINSTER
The papal legate and president of the Eucharistic Congress recently held in London was Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, thirty miles from Rome. He was ordained in 1869, and seven years later was appointed assistant secretary of state. He is prefect of the congregation of the council for the decrees of the council of Trent, and he has played a very important part as procurator of the sacred congregation of propaganda. The Most Rev. Francis Bourne, archbishop of Westminster, succeeded Cardinal Vaughan in 1903.

Maps on Tram Tickets.
LONDON. The London County Council has introduced a novel guide for the convenience of persons traveling on the southern section of its tramways. On several of the lines transfer tickets are issued and in order to facilitate the changing of cars by passengers a diminutive map has been printed on the back of the tickets, showing the points of transfer is necessary.

MUSICAL PRODIGES CHARM THE KAISER

Aged Four, Five and Nine They Are Really Juvenile Wonders.

TO APPEAR IN LONDON

BERLIN. There is no doubt that three children named Berlin, aged respectively 9, 5 and 4, are musical prodigies. The general intendant of the royal theaters having heard of them, induced the Kaiser to send for them. Baby Clarence, a born Democrat, gravely saluted the emperor with a "Good day, dear brother," to which the emperor replied with a hearty laugh.

He was so impressed with their remarkable performance on piano, violin and cello, that he commanded them to appear before him for a second recital, and afterwards presented the mother with 1000 marks, and offered to her, free of cost, the Royal Opera House for their first public concert, which is to take place next session. In addition to this, he gave them free admission to the Royal High School of Music, where they will receive further musical instruction.

The Berlins live in humble circumstances. The mother is of German birth, but she married an American, and lived in New York until her husband's death. Now she is back in Berlin for the sake of her children's musical education. She was formerly an operatic singer, but ill-health has compelled her to remain at home. She herself is a brilliant player, and has taught her children all they know. In a humble room the three little fellows gave a recital for half an hour. BOOM IN ABSINTHE
Swiss Manufacturers Work Their Plants Night and Day.

GENEVA. The referendum in July last, by which the Swiss prohibited the manufacture and sale of absinthe throughout Switzerland, has resulted in an unprecedented "boom" in the beverage.

The prohibitive law does not come into effect till July 1, and in the meantime absinthe manufacturers in the canton of Neuchâtel are working day and night with double shifts in order to meet the demand. The referendum, curiously enough, was a great advertisement for absinthe.

Orders from France have increased 25 per cent. since July. In spite of the fact that within two years absinthe factories will be closed, several manufacturers are clearing their premises and accepting long contracts.

Firm as a Rock.
Guinness' brewery stands as a rock. It has no tied houses, and depends exclusively on the merit of its manufacture. A characteristic of the late brewer, Mr. Purser, who is said to have refused a partnership from the late Sir Benjamin Lee Guinness, father of Lord Iveagh, is worth quoting, as it has passed into a proverb in commercial circles in other breweries. Mr. Purser would say: "Let us put more meat into the pot," which, being interpreted, means "Let us improve the quality of our manufacture still more."

A situation in Guinness' is better than an office under the government. Not only do they pay handsome salaries, but they provide for their employees in illness, they give pensions, as a matter of course, to the widows, and provide for the orphans of deceased employees. A noteworthy feature in the management of the brewery is its encouragement of temperance among its workmen. As in all other breweries, each man is entitled to a daily allowance of beer, but in Guinness' the workmen can take what is called "nerp" instead of the drink to the value of a penny for each pint of beer. This scrip can be exchanged for drygoods and provisions at the company's co-operative store, thus enabling a workman to spend on his family a perquisite which in other breweries must always take the form of a stimulant for himself.

There are several engineering works at Guinness' brewery which allot the admiration of visitors from all parts of the world, notably the colossal malt store, the highest building in Dublin, in which the malt, instead of being stored on a series of ladders, is kept in huge vertical cylinders terminating in runways, from which it pours into the steam-hauled wagons which carry it to the mash-houses; the underground railway connecting the brewery proper with the wharf and delivery yard on the bank of the Liffey.

Coffin Made of Match Boxes.
LONDON. A coffin will be buried at Chester Cemetery today in a coffin which he spent ten years of his life in making out of match boxes. The coffin is provided with an electric battery and a net-work of wires, but the purpose of this work is not known.

Lord Iveagh's Scheme.
An Operation Without Precedent, and One That Seems Almost Incredible.

LONDON. There will presently be issued privately, as a free gift to the ordinary shareholders of the richest brewery in the world, £2,500,000 fully paid-up ordinary £1 shares, which, immediately on their issue, will be worth double, or more than double, their face value. This operation is so extraordinary, if not unprecedented, that it seems almost incredible that it should have received so little public attention.

A free gift of at least five millions, probably ten millions, sterling to the holders of brewery shares, just at a moment when complaints are heard on all sides of dwindling dividends and possible bankruptcy in the brewing trade! And it is no less wonderful in its way that this amazing tale of prosperity should come from Ireland, the commercial Cinderella of the United Kingdom.

One day recently a few men might have been seen assembling quietly together at Salisbury House, E. C. The man of little, fragile frame, with finely cut and expressive features, by whom the chair was occupied, is perhaps the most interesting of King Edward VII. in the matter of ready cash and gilt-edged securities—Viscount Iveagh better known in Dublin as Edward Cecil Guinness. He is Irish of the Irish. His father was a Guinness; his mother was a Guinness; his wife was a Guinness—all descended from the sept of the Guinnesses, or MacGuinnesses, whose headquarters were in County Down, of which Iveagh is one of the existing barons.

Unwieldy Reserve Fund.
In a few clearly enunciated words Lord Iveagh told his small audience that they had met by the authority of the last annual meeting of the company, held fourteen days previously, to increase the capital of the firm from £4,500,000 to £7,000,000 by the creation of 2,500,000 new ordinary shares of 1s each. What was the object of this increase of capital? Was it to help the company over some difficulty caused by mismanagement, or to meet an emergency caused by excessive competition? No. It was mainly to enable the company to reduce a reserve fund which had grown embarrassingly large.

Lord Iveagh asked the meeting to pass resolutions "sanctioning the declaration and payment out of the reserve fund of a bonus, free of income tax, at the rate of 100 per cent. on the £2,500,000 present ordinary stock of the company, to be paid to those members who on August 18 were registered as holders of ordinary stock. The bonus was declared to be paid by the distribution and allotment of 2,500,000 new ordinary shares of £1 each in the capital of the company, credited as fully paid up and ranking for dividend as from June 23 last, ratable and on an equal footing with the existing stock at present in existence, and that a sum equal to the amount of such bonus be transferred from the reserve fund to capital account and capitalized accordingly." C. D. La Touche, one of the directors, seconded the resolution, which, needless to say, was carried unanimously. The meeting, having lasted only a few minutes, broke up as quietly as it had assembled.

There are several engineering works at Guinness' brewery which allot the admiration of visitors from all parts of the world, notably the colossal malt store, the highest building in Dublin, in which the malt, instead of being stored on a series of ladders, is kept in huge vertical cylinders terminating in runways, from which it pours into the steam-hauled wagons which carry it to the mash-houses; the underground railway connecting the brewery proper with the wharf and delivery yard on the bank of the Liffey.

Coffin Made of Match Boxes.
LONDON. A coffin will be buried at Chester Cemetery today in a coffin which he spent ten years of his life in making out of match boxes. The coffin is provided with an electric battery and a net-work of wires, but the purpose of this work is not known.

Lord Iveagh's Scheme.
An Operation Without Precedent, and One That Seems Almost Incredible.

LONDON. There will presently be issued privately, as a free gift to the ordinary shareholders of the richest brewery in the world, £2,500,000 fully paid-up ordinary £1 shares, which, immediately on their issue, will be worth double, or more than double, their face value. This operation is so extraordinary, if not unprecedented, that it seems almost incredible that it should have received so little public attention.

A free gift of at least five millions, probably ten millions, sterling to the holders of brewery shares, just at a moment when complaints are heard on all sides of dwindling dividends and possible bankruptcy in the brewing trade! And it is no less wonderful in its way that this amazing tale of prosperity should come from Ireland, the commercial Cinderella of the United Kingdom.

One day recently a few men might have been seen assembling quietly together at Salisbury House, E. C. The man of little, fragile frame, with finely cut and expressive features, by whom the chair was occupied, is perhaps the most interesting of King Edward VII. in the matter of ready cash and gilt-edged securities—Viscount Iveagh better known in Dublin as Edward Cecil Guinness. He is Irish of the Irish. His father was a Guinness; his mother was a Guinness; his wife was a Guinness—all descended from the sept of the Guinnesses, or MacGuinnesses, whose headquarters were in County Down, of which Iveagh is one of the existing barons.

Unwieldy Reserve Fund.
In a few clearly enunciated words Lord Iveagh told his small audience that they had met by the authority of the last annual meeting of the company, held fourteen days previously, to increase the capital of the firm from £4,500,000 to £7,000,000 by the creation of 2,500,000 new ordinary shares of 1s each. What was the object of this increase of capital? Was it to help the company over some difficulty caused by mismanagement, or to meet an emergency caused by excessive competition? No. It was mainly to enable the company to reduce a reserve fund which had grown embarrassingly large.

Lord Iveagh asked the meeting to pass resolutions "sanctioning the declaration and payment out of the reserve fund of a bonus, free of income tax, at the rate of 100 per cent. on the £2,500,000 present ordinary stock of the company, to be paid to those members who on August 18 were registered as holders of ordinary stock. The bonus was declared to be paid by the distribution and allotment of 2,500,000 new ordinary shares of £1 each in the capital of the company, credited as fully paid up and ranking for dividend as from June 23 last, ratable and on an equal footing with the existing stock at present in existence, and that a sum equal to the amount of such bonus be transferred from the reserve fund to capital account and capitalized accordingly." C. D. La Touche, one of the directors, seconded the resolution, which, needless to say, was carried unanimously. The meeting, having lasted only a few minutes, broke up as quietly as it had assembled.

Firm as a Rock.
Guinness' brewery stands as a rock. It has no tied houses, and depends exclusively on the merit of its manufacture. A characteristic of the late brewer, Mr. Purser, who is said to have refused a partnership from the late Sir Benjamin Lee Guinness, father of Lord Iveagh, is worth quoting, as it has passed into a proverb in commercial circles in other breweries. Mr. Purser would say: "Let us put more meat into the pot," which, being interpreted, means "Let us improve the quality of our manufacture still more."

A situation in Guinness' is better than an office under the government. Not only do they pay handsome salaries, but they provide for their employees in illness, they give pensions, as a matter of course, to the widows, and provide for the orphans of deceased employees. A noteworthy feature in the management of the brewery is its encouragement of temperance among its workmen. As in all other breweries, each man is entitled to a daily allowance of beer, but in Guinness' the workmen can take what is called "nerp" instead of the drink to the value of a penny for each pint of beer. This scrip can be exchanged for drygoods and provisions at the company's co-operative store, thus enabling a workman to spend on his family a perquisite which in other breweries must always take the form of a stimulant for himself.

There are several engineering works at Guinness' brewery which allot the admiration of visitors from all parts of the world, notably the colossal malt store, the highest building in Dublin, in which the malt, instead of being stored on a series of ladders, is kept in huge vertical cylinders terminating in runways, from which it pours into the steam-hauled wagons which carry it to the mash-houses; the underground railway connecting the brewery proper with the wharf and delivery yard on the bank of the Liffey.

ROY ELECTED IN DORCHESTER

Hon. E. J. Flynn Defeated by 163 Votes—Official Majority in Quebec County.

The official declaration by the returning officer in the recent election in Dorchester took place at St. Henedine yesterday morning in presence of the two candidates, Mr. Ernest Roy was declared elected by 163 votes. The number of votes given each candidate were as follows:—Roy, 204; Flynn, 192; majority for Roy, 163. In two parishes, St. Henedine and Cranborne the two candidates were tied. At St. Anselme Hon. Mr. Flynn had five majority, but six ballots were set aside, five for Mr. Flynn and one for Mr. Roy.

The official declaration of the Returning Officer in the County of Quebec was made yesterday at Lorette, Mr. Turcotte's majority being given as 146.

LIBEL SUITS FOLLOW ELECTIONS

Statements Made During Campaign Brings the Battle into Civil Courts.

Quite a crop of libel suits seems likely to arise over the recent Federal elections in this district, and already a number have been entered in court. There are also murmurs of more to come, and the hot electoral battle which has just been waged will likely have a numerous sequel in the cool and judicial shades of the Court House before the final echoes of the fray have finally died away. Among the suits already entered are two by Hon. L. P. Pelletier. One of these is an action for $1,000 damages against Le Soleil newspaper of this city and the other one for $1,000 against Mr. Sam Desrochers. Mr. Geo. Parent, M.P. for the County of Montmorency, has given notice of his intention to enter an action for $500 damages against Mr. Antoine Gagnon, while Hon. A. Turgeon is going to sue Mr. Charles Verina, the Conservative candidate in Bellechasse, for $500 damages. All the actions are based on statements made during the campaign.

DON'T FORGET

Our great 39 cents sale to-day (Saturday). MARCEAU & CIE., 155 St. Joseph Street.

STRUCK BY STREET CAR.

A fireman of the Empress of Britain was struck by a street car at the corner of St. Paul street shortly before four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Sgt. Mulrooney, of No. 2 station, who was on board the car, immediately went to the assistance of the victim, who complained of being hurt about the hip and also internally. The ambulance was summoned, and at the request of the injured man he was taken to Jeffery Hale's Hospital.

ANNUAL SALE.

The Women's Christian Association will hold their annual sale of work, as usual, on the first Thursday in December. In order that the work may be exhibited to better advantage the committee have secured St. Andrew's Kirk Hall, Stanislaus street, opposite Morrill College, for the occasion. Remember the date, Thursday, December 3rd.

A SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

The concert given at the Ship Laboratory Hall last evening in aid of Our Lady of Perpetual Help table, in connection with St. Bridget's Asylum Bazaar, was a most enjoyable one, and there was a very large attendance, among whom were Rev. Father Woods and many of the prominent members of St. Patrick's Church. The concert was organized by Mrs. M. Power and Mrs. M. J. Crane and these ladies are to be greatly congratulated on the success which attended their self-sacrificing efforts. High praise is also due to the Misses Aird, Swindell, Cooper and O'Toole, whose musical direction contributed in no small degree to the very pleasant entertainment afforded, and of which the large audience present was not slow in expressing its appreciation by enthusiastic applause. The programme was a varied and interesting one and the different performers acquitted themselves in such pleasing style that encores were the order of the evening. Those who took part included the following:—Chorus... Mr. J. O'Connor Song... Miss McCann Song... Mr. J. O'Reilly Song... Miss Stella Mayes Recitation... Mr. Fitzgerald Song... Miss Fleming Cornet Solo... Mr. St. Clair Piano Solo... The Misses Power Piano Duo... Misses Aird and Swindell Song... Mr. P. Doyle Recitation... Miss May Swindell Step Dance... Mr. T. Ryan Piano Solo... Miss O'Toole God Save Ireland.

A SUSPECT IS HELD

Young Man Supposed to Know Something About Bank Robbery at St. Raphael.

According to the Montreal Gazette, there is being held at headquarters in that city a young man who is supposed to know something concerning the blowing of the safe in the Provincial Bank branch at St. Raphael, Bellechasse county, last Saturday morning, when $8,000 in cash was carried away by the safe-blowers.

The man under arrest is a young French-Canadian, who was taken into custody Thursday morning, but it could not be learned if he is suspected of having taken part in the robbery of the bank, or if he was the one who had spotted the branch at St. Raphael out as an easy mark for the safe-blowers. It is admitted, however, that he was in a position to know that there was more than the usual amount of cash in the vault at the branch of St. Raphael on the night of the robbery. St. Raphael is seven miles from the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, and most of the money in the bank on the night of the robbery was to pay the wages of men working along the line.

It could not be learned if the young fellow under arrest had admitted knowing anything about the affair, but it is believed he revealed information that may lead to other arrests being made.

SUNDAY LABOR.

An important decision was rendered in the Police Court yesterday, when judgment was given in a test case in regard to Sunday labor. Some time ago action was taken by the corporation against two city bakers by their employees with a view to proving whether the former had the right to carry on operations on the Sunday. The action was taken under the new law regarding Sunday labor, and will have wide-reaching effect not only in the bakers' trade, but also in many others. The case was argued some days ago, and the contention of the employees was that Sunday baking was not a work of urgency or necessity. Judgment was rendered in the case yesterday condemning the master bakers to a nominal fine of $1 and costs each.

The delicious flavor and aroma of "Salada" Tea is preserved by the use of sealed lead packets. It is never exposed to the sun, dust, dirt, air, the surrounding odors and contaminating influences of other goods as bulk or loose teas are. A teapot test will show the difference.

ASBESTOS.

The universal development of the Province of Quebec goes on apace. Until quite recently it was thought that asbestos would only be profitably produced in the township of Thetford, and for several years past that township has been the scene of feverish commercial activity, where thousands of men have found employment and millions of dollars have been taken from the asbestos mines. Now, however, it is found that the adjacent township of East Broughton possesses equally rich deposits of this valuable mineral, and several companies have been formed and are actively at work, and a great deal of money has been spent in opening mines and putting up mills. Amongst the companies actively working, or about to do so, may be mentioned, the Boston Asbestos Company, the Frontenac, the Quebec, and others. Samples of magnificent asbestos from the mine of Mr. Normandin, adjoining the Boston Company's, may be seen at the office of Mr. Alex. Hardy, real estate agent, and are well worth seeing.

LATE MR. LOUIS LAROSE.

The funeral took place yesterday morning of the late Mr. Louis Larose, the well-known contractor, and was very largely attended, the mourning cortege being a lengthy one, in which were many prominent citizens. The chief mourners were the five sons of the deceased, Messrs. Louis, Wilfrid, Aurelian, Raoul and Adelard; his brothers, George Larose (of Boston), and David Larose. The funeral service took place at St. Jean Baptiste Church, the interior of which was heavily draped with mourning. The levee du corps was performed by Rev. Cure Beaudoin, who, Rev. Father Turpin officiated at the solemn requiem mass, being assisted by Rev. Fathers Pichette and Caron as deacon and sub-deacon. The choir of the Union Musicale together with the pupils of the Brothers' School rendered the musical portion of the service. The interment took place at Belmont Cemetery.

CONCEALMENT OF BIRTH.

Two months in gaol was the sentence imposed by Magistrate Panet-Angers upon the unfortunate girl, Marie Madore, of St. Pascal, Kamouraska, who on the 11th of September last was arrested in connection with the disappearance of her newborn infant. The preliminary investigation following her arrest failed to connect her with the crime of infanticide. The body of the child, which was found, upon information from the mother, in an outbuilding, was in such an advanced state of decomposition as to render it impossible to discover whether it had been born alive. The only proof which could be brought against her was concealment of birth, and to that she pleaded guilty. Considering the humiliation and the suffering which she had already undergone, Magistrate Panet-Angers considered that an imprisonment of two months would be sufficient punishment, and to this she was accordingly condemned.

Cold Weather Overcoats

May or may not have wide collars.

For ordinary business wear a 3/4 Chesterfield with velvet collar is comfortable and appropriate.

But for stormy and windy days we have a new model of ulster—combining elegance and a great deal of comfort.

We are particularly proud of the latter coat for its fitting feature about the neck.

The buying of one of these should convince you of our ability to turn out distinctive clothes.

Scotch Tweeds are warm and cosy. Meltons and closer woven fabrics are more dressy and wear well. The selection is large and the values are exceptional. Either Ulster or Chesterfield from $18. up.

FLANAGAN DENIES LONGBOAT IS PRO.

Says He Has Entered Into No Negotiations—Matter Rests With Indian.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Will Tom Longboat turn professional?

That is the question that is worrying athletic Canada.

The same problem also seems to be worrying athletic America, and to have its echoes in England and Ireland, for the Bronze Wonder's fame is world-wide.

It was announced by a Toronto newspaper last night that the Indian had turned "pro."

HAS NOT TURNED.

Tom Longboat has not turned "pro." At least Tom Flanagan, the manager of the Irish Canadian A. C., and the Indian's closest associate, says that he has not, and Flanagan should know.

What does the Indian say?

The Indian is not in Toronto, and cannot answer for himself.

He is not in Caughnawaga where Tom Flanagan left him on a visit.

He was expected home this morning, but did not arrive, and is supposed to be in Deseronto visiting friends.

Whether he is there or not Tom Flanagan does not know positively, but he said he was going to stop off there for a day.

"How about it?" Flanagan was asked this morning.

WHAT FLANAGAN SAYS.

"As far as I am concerned and know, and I certainly should know if there is anything doing, he is not going to turn professional, was the reply, and if I can hold him he is not going to enter the money brigade this fall, at least.

For a year people have been worrying me to turn the Indian professional, and I have refused. This last two weeks the efforts made to get him to turn pro. have been positive frantic, but I have not entertained them for an instant, nor have I entered into any negotiations. Failing to move me, these people have tried other people who are supposed to have a hold on the Indian, but to no effect.

The greatest proof that there is nothing in the story is the fact that last night I entered him in the Hamilton Herald race on Thanksgiving Day, and if he is in shape, I will start him, or try to start him.

The Indian himself told me he would run no more—Shrubbs or any one else. He has never talked of "pro." racing except the time he was suspended by the Y. M. C. A. league. Then he said that if he were not reinstated by the C. A. A. U. he would go to New York and run for money.

"Since then he has never said a word about it. He said nothing in Montreal. Of course, the whole thing remains in his own hands. If he insists I cannot stop him, but as long as he obeys my wishes he will not turn "pro."

NO IDEA OF IT.

"You can say that I haven't the slightest idea of signing him up to meet Shrubbs, Dorando, Hayes, or any other runner, and no one has any right except the Indian himself or myself to say that he will turn professional. I cannot say any more, can I?"

A PECULIAR SITUATION.

The situation is, of course, peculiar. The natural wind-up of the Indian's career is professional. He has no trade to turn to, and if he does not get the money out of professional running he will have to go back to the farm. He may turn professional at any moment, and the chances are that he will wind up his career as a "pro," but as far as can be ascertained now, there is no more chance of him becoming a money runner now than there was two weeks ago.

Flanagan says that the most desperate efforts have been made to get the Indian to turn "pro."

ALMOST KIDNAPPED.

"Why, they have done everything except kidnap him," he says. "Three weeks ago an agent of a man, who was an applicant for the position of trainer to the Canadian Olympic team came here, painted Tom a glowing picture of gold in showers to be made in New York, and tried to take him away, but Tom came to me, and I told the stranger, and the man behind him, to mind his own affairs. I'll hold the Indian an amateur to the last ditch, and when he turns "pro," I'll see that he gets what is coming to him."

GOLF.

The committee of the club decided to postpone the Silver Cleek Competition for a week and it will, in consequence, be played for to-day, as appears in our advertisement column. The match between the President vs. Captain last Saturday resulted in a win for the Captain's side, 10 matches to 5.

ORIGIN OF "TWENTY-THREE."

A very erudite fan, who writes on violet scented, Alice blue vellum, hands me the only really true source from which grew the expression, "twenty-three." But he only adds to the very long list, and like all the others, draws rather on his imagination than on his memory or knowledge for his facts, says Gym Bagley.

I will set this much-disputed origin of "twenty-three" at rest right here. And it has no cause to blush for that same origin, for it was fathered by no less a literary guy than Charles Dickens. It occurs in "A Tale of Two Cities." Sydney Carton has his neck under the guillotine. There was a bunch of them that day who lost out by a head. The 22nd victim had checked his topper in the basket when Carton's turn came. Then, to quote:

"The pressing in of many foot-steps in the outskirts of the crowd, so that it swells forward in a mass, like one great heave of water, all flashes away. Twenty-three."

Claire Fontaine.

INDOOR BASEBALL
LEAGUE REORGANIZES

Another Series of Games will be Played at the Drill Hall During Winter Months.

There was a meeting of the Military Indoor Baseball League at the Drill Hall last evening, when reorganization for the coming season was proceeded with. The meeting was attended by representatives from the R. C. G. A., R. C. R., 8th R.R. and Q. O. C. H. Captain Norman Fletcher, President of the League presided. Captain Fletcher was re-elected President and Mr. R. J. G. Gare, Secretary-Treasurer. It was decided to hold another meeting early next week to arrange a schedule of games. The re-organization of the Indoor League will be received with pleasure, and there should be some more fine sport at the Drill Hall during the coming winter.

CANADIANS WERE NEARLY BEATEN

English Lacrosse is Fast and Northern Team Led Olympic Champions at Half-Time.

The Canadian Olympic lacrosse team defeated the North of England by 7 goals to 6.

Five thousand spectators yesterday witnessed a fine game of lacrosse between the Canadians and North England, with the fine play mostly on England's side.

The Canucks evidently after, if not before, Gorman scored a goal in the first minute of the half, thought they had a cinch to beat their opponents, but then went "up in the air," despite loud exhortations from the bench.

Thereon sat Moran, Murphy, and Lally, to "Get there Canada." "Let go that ball, Turnbull." "Now then, Brennan, put her in."

The Canadians failed to respond by a display of any brilliant play, and when the first twenty minutes ended the score stood: Canadians 2, England 1.

England went to work in dead earnest and showed some fine sprinting, outturning the Canucks, and had their passing been equal to their sprinting they would have had more than four goals to their credit at half-time to Canucks' three.

Excitement was at high pitch, and in the third twenty minutes England scored another goal, and when the scores were equalled it looked as if the Canucks were all in, and the last ten minutes were well fought, until Gorman scored, and a minute or two later the whistle blew and Canada was saved.

It was not exactly a ladylike game, but there was no kick coming from the referee.

The Canadians play Cheshire at Stockport to-day.

HUGBY.

There will be no practice to-day of the Quebec Football Club, owing to the road race, but all up boys next week.

THIS 10 TO 1 SHOT GOOD.

New York, Oct. 30.—"I'll bet 10 to 1 that every big factory in the country will be shut down four months after Bryan is inaugurated, if he should be elected," shouted one of the brokers on the Broad street curb yesterday.

The broker was surrounded quickly. Several Bryan partisans took his offer.

"You're foolish to give 10 to 1 even if you think that way," said one of the broker's friends as they pushed out of the crowd.

"Hush!" whispered the broker, "four months after March 4 is the Fourth of July."

GRAND SMOKING CONCERT.

Don't forget the big "Smoking Concert" of the Rugby Club on Tuesday evening, the 3rd of November. The boys have gone to a great deal of trouble in arranging an elaborate programme, consisting of instrumental music, songs, recitations, etc., and Mr. Alf. Lyth has very kindly offered his services in the interest of the club and will give an exhibition of boxing. It is hoped that a large number will keep this evening free and come. This club deserves every encouragement as the boys are working hard to keep up Quebec's reputation in football, so be on deck everybody and a good time is assured. Don't forget to bring your money with you.

ALLAN LINE.
R.M.S. Victorian, Captain Pickering, from Liverpool, Friday, 23rd instant, arrived in port at 5.30 a.m. yesterday, thus completing the passage from port to port in less than seven days. The Victorian was handsomely decorated with flags in honor of Her Excellency the Countess Grey and Lady Evelyn Grey who were passengers on board. Captain Pickering reports experiencing heavy weather for two days on the passage and thick fog outside Belle Isle. Remainder of passage had moderate weather. The following were the runs of the steamer up to noon each day: Saturday, 276 knots; Sunday, 420; Monday, 450; Tuesday, 445; Wednesday, 391; Thursday, 435; Friday, 268 (Quebec). Having landed passengers and Quebec cargo, the Victorian left for Montreal at 12.30 p.m. She brought out 298 passengers and a general cargo. She is on her last trip to the St. Lawrence for the season.

Steamer Tunisian, Captain Nunan, arrived from Montreal at 5 p.m. yesterday and moored at the Company's wharf. Having embarked Quebec passengers, she left for Liverpool at 6.30 p.m. This is her last trip from Quebec for the season.

Steamer Pomeranian, Captain Renne, having landed passengers and Quebec cargo, left for Montreal at 8 a.m. yesterday.

C.P.R. LINE.
R.M.S. Empress of Britain, Captain Murray, left port at 4.30 p.m. yesterday, for Liverpool, on her last trip of the season. She has on board 57 first, 125 second and 868 third-class passengers, 1,080 in all, besides a general cargo.

Steamer Lake Manitoba, Captain Evans, from Liverpool, passed Point Amour at 6 a.m. yesterday. Due in port on Sunday morning. She has on board a detachment of the Imperial navy, consisting of 100 seamen, with eight petty officers and eight commissioned officers. These men have been sent out by the British Admiralty, and will go through to Esquimaux to undergo a course of training at the naval station there. They will travel to Esquimaux by a special train on the C.P.R.

DOMINION LINE.
R.M.S. Kensington, from here on Saturday, Nov. 7th, and R.M.S. Canada on Saturday, Nov. 14th, will complete the Dominion Line service from Quebec for the season of 1908. The Kensington offers an opportunity for those now returning to England who desire the best on the steamer, at moderate rates. All the cabin passengers will be berthed in two-berth rooms at the $45 rate. The third-class passengers will be berthed in 2 and 4-berth rooms at the $27.50 rate. R.M.S. Canada, which is known as one of the finest and most comfortable passenger steamers in the St. Lawrence trade, has also ample berthing accommodation in the most desirable rooms in the first, second and third-class at $77.50, $45 and $27.50 respectively.

R.M.S. Canada sailed from Liverpool at 3 p.m. on the 29th with 54 cabin and 114 third-class passengers and a general cargo for Quebec and Montreal.

DONALDSON LINE.
Steamer Athenia, Captain McNeill, arrived from Montreal yesterday evening and proceeded for Glasgow.

GASPE LINE.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.
New York, Oct. 30.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:—Toronto advises that the weather has been against retail trade, but there is some improvement in wholesale lines. Collections are good owing to the heavy crop movement. Winnipeg reports that in all wholesale lines goods are moving briskly. Wheat is being rushed to lake ports in very large quantities and this makes for good collections. The outlook for winter trade is excellent. Business failures for the week number 32, against 31 last week and 25 in this week last year.

BEAR'S GREAT FEAT.

Dragged Heavy Trap Half a Mile and Climbed Tall Tree.

G. J. Quilliams, who was recently on a vacation trip in the east, has a nature story that President Roosevelt should surely not leave out of his collection, and the best of Mr. Quilliams' story is that it is true; he has photographs to back it up.

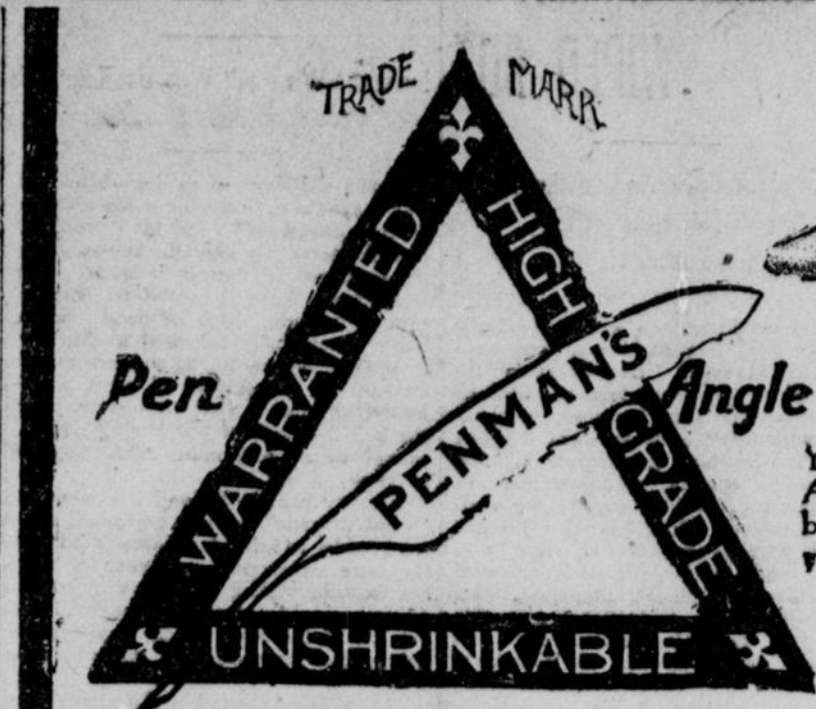

Mr. Quilliams was visiting at Magog, Que., this summer, and he had with him his camera, with which he secured a large number of views. The fact that he had his camera became known in the community, and one morning, bright and early, a trapper named A. E. Baird, of Cherry River, a hamlet a few miles distant from Magog, sent for Mr. Quilliams to come as quickly as possible and bring his camera. Mr. Quilliams found Baird and several companions in a great state of excitement when he arrived, and they at once hurried him in a buggy some distance from Cherry River into the heart of the old woods surrounding the place. There he found a full-grown black bear lying along a limb of a hemlock thirty feet from the ground. Fast to one of the animal's forepaws was a heavy steel bear trap, to which a big pole was attached by a chain. The poor brute had apparently been suffering terrible agony, for it was found that he had all but gnawed the thick pole right through.

The manner in which the pole and trap held the bear made it impossible to get it down alive, and Baird, the trapper, shot him. Mr. Quilliams then made a photograph of the animal as he hung from the high branch. The trapper and his companions immediately chopped down the tree and brought down within a few feet of the ground. Here it was discovered that the trap had clutched only two of the bear's toes. But it held on so tenaciously that he was unable to dislodge it. Mr. Quilliams made another photograph of the bear as he hung suspended from the fallen tree. Examination of the spot where the trap had been set showed that the bear dragged trap, pole and chain almost half a mile and had then climbed the tree with them. How the animal managed to do it remains a mystery to the oldest trapper in the Cherry River district, where nothing of the kind has ever been known before.

Baird, the trapper, has traps set all the time and has captured scores of bears, but he never before had as experience such as this.

READ THIS, RHEUMATICS!

Just because your disease is deep seated, the best of treatment is required. Only powerful remedies can reach your sore muscles and joints. Ever hear of Nerviline? RICH COUNTRY.

Prof. Gwillim Speaks of Resources of Northern British Columbia.

J. C. Gwillim, professor of mining in Queen's University, Kingston, recently completed a tour through the Telkwa, Bulkley and Babine country in northern British Columbia on behalf of the Trail smelter. His impressions as regards its agricultural and mining possibilities are rather favorable.

"The Telkwa-Bulkley-Babine country is a great district southwards of Hazelton. The valleys are broad, but not flat-bottomed as many people expect. They are low rolling slopes, partially or totally wooded. The growth upon these valley slopes is extraordinary, and no fall frosts had occurred up to Sept. 10 in the main Bulkley valley," said Mr. Gwillim.

"All grass, stock and root crops seem to do very well. There seems to be a future for stock and dairy products with hay and oats as probable exports to the coast and north country. The conditions southward toward Nechako, and southeastward toward Babine lake appear to be equally favorable for a large farming community."

"Concerning mineral resources, ores of lead, silver and copper have been found over a very large territory, but little has been done in the way of development. The distances are great and at present the transportation is all by pack animals. A wagon road is being built from Hazelton to Aldermore, a point 60 miles south from this trail of 20 and 30 miles branch off into the mountains on either side. The country is a favorable one to prospect, but development and cheap transportation must come about before there will be any production of large tonnage."

"Any one entering this district at this stage should receive easy terms and plenty of time to develop the mineral properties because the cost of development will be great, and also experimental, and the time of realizing from ore production cannot come until the Grand Trunk Pacific is on a shipping basis."

AFFECTED HIS VOICE

A Case Which Proves How Deadly A Disease Is Catarrh.

After reading this experience it will be easy to see why every person with the catarrh taint should use Catarrhazone.

J. H. Wood, Point Rock, Oneida Co., N.Y., says: "I had a very bad attack of catarrh that settled in my forehead, and the pain over my eyes was often so intense I thought my head would burst. Suddenly the catarrh got worse and my voice grew very hoarse. I coughed almost every night and through the winter I simply couldn't speak. My voice was gone. I tried a couple of doctors, but they didn't help me at all. I gave them up and the next doctor ordered 'Catarrhazone.' It cured me and now many others are using it here, too. My doctor says he doesn't know anything so good for catarrh and throat troubles as Catarrhazone." The complete outfit gives treatment for two months and is guaranteed to cure. Price $1; sample size, 25c. At druggists everywhere.

MILKING CUTTLEFISH.

Strange Farming Carried on Along the British Coast.

It is not known generally that cuttlefish are cultivated on some farms in order to be "milked." These cuttlefish farms are located on parts of the British coast, and the cuttlefish are kept in tanks or ponds to be milked of their ink.

The pond or tank is connected with the sea by a pipe, and a thousand or more cuttlefish are kept in a single one. They form a most curious sight as they move about trailing their long arms and staring out of their bulging eyes.

They are guarded by screens, which prevent them from being scared, for if they are suddenly frightened the cuttlefish will squirt their milk into the water, and it would therefore be lost. This fluid or milk is very valuable, and each cuttlefish will yield about $4 worth a year. It is secreted in a bag, which can be opened and closed at will, the cuttlefish ejecting the fluid to darken the water so that it may escape unseen when attacked. The best cuttlefish are procured in China, where for some reason or other they produce the best quality of milk.

When the farmer considers it opportune to milk the cuttlefish he proceeds by opening the sluices of the pond and gently agitating the water. The cuttlefish then swim around the pond, and as soon as one passes through the sluice is closed. The cuttlefish passes down a small channel into a basin or metal receptacle, and as soon as it is securely there the water is drained off. It is then frightened and at once squirts the fluid from the bag. When it is exhausted it is lifted out, the milk is collected, and the basin is prepared for another.

La Compagnie d'Amiante Champlain

Incorporated by Letters Patent issued by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec

President—A. E. DOUCET, Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Quebec.

Vice-President—J. E. BEDARD, K. C., ex-batonnier of the Bar of the Province of Quebec and President of the Beaufort Brewery.

Secretary—ARMAND LAVERGNE, member of the Legislative Assembly for the County of Montmagny, and advocate of Quebec.

This Company, incorporated with all the powers conferred by the mining act, and the act of incorporation of limited companies of 1897, has acquired a portion of lot number 13 in the 8th range of East Broughton. The extent of this property is 14 acres in length by 7 acres in depth. It is therefore an immense property for such a working as this.

DEPOSITS

Very rich deposits of asbestos have been discovered upon the entire length of this property, and the width of the asbestos layer which crosses it reaches 600 feet at some places.

A sufficient quantity of minerals have already been extracted to fully pay all the disbursements of the company and to enable the work to be carried on.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

On the 20th August, 1906, Mr. John Hurley, manager of the Quebec Asbestos Company at East Broughton, wrote as follows:

"I have examined lot Number 13 of the 8th range of East Broughton, and I can state: 1st, that the layer of asbestos found at Thetford, Black Lake and East Broughton passes through lot Number 13 of the 8th range of East Broughton; 2d, I explored the lot in its entirety and found first-class deposits on the entire length of the lot and upon a width varying from 150 to 600 feet; 3d, the place is most advantageous for the construction of mills and for the carrying out of important works; the railway runs only 14 acres from the said property; 4th, I have had a long experience in this kind of work and I strongly recommend the development of that property, which should be very remunerative on account of the quantity of asbestos it contains."

(Signed)

"JOHN HURLEY."

The foregoing report was written before any serious work of exploration had been undertaken. Mr. Hurley basing his report upon the beautiful specimens found on the surface of the property.

Considerable works, amounting to several thousand dollars, were made after this report was received, and on the 15th July, 1907, Mr. Fritz Cirkel, the highest recommended engineer of the country, made a supplementary report, containing full details, of which we now print a copy, and which shows the cost of working of our mine and the profits to be derived therefrom:

REPORT OF MR. CIRKEL, M. E.

For "Crude Asbestos" the following prices are paid:
For 1st quality of "Crude".....$260.00 per ton of 2,000 lbs.
For 2d quality of "Crude".....$165.00 per ton of 2,000 lbs.

Supposing that a mill would produce 250 tons of asbestos daily (24 hours), the result would be as follows:

25 working days per month, 250 tons daily equals 6,250 tons.

Supposing, moreover, that only 8 per cent. would be extracted, the following would be the monthly receipts:

1st qual. "Mill Fibre" 0.2 6250 1.25 ton at $80.00—$1,000.00
2d qual. "Mill Fibre" 5.8 6250 362 ton at $27.50—$9,955.00

9x $13,705.00.....$123,345
Besides 10 tons of "Crude" No. 1 at 250.....2,500
Besides 20 tons of "Crude" No. 2 at 105.....3,300

$129,145

The expenses for the whole year are 9x$6,250.....
$6,250 tons extracted during 9 months at $1.00 per ton.....$6,250
Transportation of asbestos to station, tools, machinery, etc.....$6,000
Wear and tear of machinery, work in the mines being interrupted during three months, and other unforeseen expenses.....$20,000 $82,250

It must be remembered that since that time asbestos has increased 30 per cent. in value, and Mr. Cirkel, in a letter written in September, 1907, requested us to change the above figures by giving them an increase of 30 per cent.; consequently the actual profits based upon a minimum of expenses and on a maximum of production would therefore be increased 30 per cent., that is to say that the revenues would be $66,000 instead of $50,000.

PROBABILITIES.

What are the probable revenues, without considering the possible revenues? At the present price of sale of asbestos and the richness of the deposits which the "Compagnie Champlain" possesses, we can affirm that the probable revenues will be $100,000. For, in place of a yield of 8 per cent., that is to say, that in place of getting 8 tons of asbestos from 100 tons of rock in almost all the East Broughton region, we have an average of 10 per cent. to Treasurer—DAVID WATSON, Manager of the Chronicle Printing Company.

12 per cent., and we have made tests which give us 20 per cent. at certain places. Now, with a mill producing 250 tons daily, we would, at 10 per cent. production, obtain 25 tons of good ore daily. Let us admit that we would only receive a net profit of $15.00 per ton, which is not up to the truth, we would have a net profit daily of $375.00, which, multiplied by 25 working days during the month, bring a profit of $9,375 a month; therefore, during ten months our net profit would be $93,750. These are rather conservative figures and we consider ourselves justified in stating that these figures would be exceeded during the first year.

Therefore our shareholders would have nothing to be sorry for, as we would probably be able to pay them a dividend of 30 per cent.

WHAT ARE THE EXPENSES?

Mr. Cirkel in his report estimates the expenses at $80,000. To be more exact, we place the figure at $100,000. There are $150,000 worth of shares on the market; $10,000 of these shares have already been subscribed.

WHAT WORKS HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED?

1. First of all, Mr. Cirkel's preliminary expenses.

2. Plan of mill and buildings.

The company wishes to hasten the works of construction so as to have them in operation in September, and to pay a dividend to the shareholders under the least possible delay. We complete this statement by the following conclusions of Mr. Cirkel, our engineer:

"I do not hesitate in stating that you possess a valuable property which only awaits to be worked to render it very remunerative."

Yours respectfully,

THE BATTERSEA DOG.

Famous Statue Was Erected to Dog
Tortured by Vivisectionists.

Battersea Park is a tract of about one hundred and eighty-five acres in the southwestern part of London, and is very much frequented by the populace. Not very far from it there is situated the laboratory of the University College Hospital. About eight months ago, a Swedish lady, Miss Lind-Hagberg, presented to the Battersea District Council a bronze statue, asking that it be set up in the park.

This statue represented a brown terrier, and on the pedestal was a tablet which stated that the statue was erected in memory of a certain brown dog which had been kept alive and tortured for several weeks in the University College Hospital. The lady who presented the statue told the councillors that she had herself been a witness to this torture of a dumb animal.

The sympathy of the people of Battersea was wholly with Miss Lind-Hagberg. The statue was erected without any further investigation. Naturally it aroused the anger of the medical students of University College, and they descended upon Battersea Park in large numbers, having sworn to demolish the brown dog. Some news of their intention, however, had reached the authorities, and a strong force of police was on hand to protect the dog. Something like a small riot was the result; but in the end the students were bent on with battered heads and many bruises.

Of course, this is only one phase of the anti-vivisection excitement which is sweeping over England. The story as told by the medical directors of University College differs very much from that of Miss Lind. They say that the brown dog in question was used by Dr. Bayliss in the laboratory in a legitimate medical test, and after being chloroformed. After the operation, it is claimed that the dog ran about the place as comfortable as ever, and that later, being again chloroformed, an operation showed that no inflammation had occurred. The animal was then killed while still unconscious.

These facts were brought out in a libel suit which Dr. Bayliss instituted against the Hon. Stephen Coleridge, who is the head of the National Anti-Vivisection Society. The jury believed the statement, and Mr. Coleridge was obliged to pay the sum of $10,000 damages to Dr. Bayliss.

Nevertheless, the brown dog still stands in bronze upon its pedestal; and the inscription still remains; charging the University medical men with cruelty and torture. The sight has become one of the curiosities of London, and this monument of the brown dog is destined to be famous all over the world.

STOMACH DERANGEMENT

Her Limbs Ached.
Worn Out—Tired.
Headaches, Dizziness

Mrs. Scholes case like that of thousands cured by the celebrated tonic Ferrozone.

This is but one example of the sickness, the dull aching weariness that afflicts so many homes to-day. Hundreds of women, single and married will recognize in Mrs. Scholes' statement symptoms from which they suffer continually.

Almost instant in its wonderful results, better than any other tonic in the world is Ferrozone. All other medicinal discoveries seem as nought compared with the vital bracing health Ferrozone so surely brings.

Proof of Cure.

"People in ordinary circumstances find sickness the greatest burden of all," writes Mrs. W. S. Scholes, the wife of a well-known citizen in Russell. But the mother with young children must keep going whether sick or well. This was my plight just before my third child was weaned. I became weak and pale, and at night I was so weary that I shed all over. I slept poorly, suffered with indigestion and headaches that almost blinded me.

"At last, when thin, wrinkled and hollow-cheeked, I was urged to use Ferrozone. For the first time in years I enjoyed freedom from headaches, my appetite picked up, I grew stronger, felt better and slept soundly. You can't imagine my joy in seeing my strength, color and spirits returning. Week by week I improved, gained eleven pounds and have been robust ever since."

Because Ferrozone invigorates—braces—builds up—because it will make you feel the exultant thrill of vitalizing blood and strong nerves—because it will give you comfort, energy, sound lasting health, these are a few of the reasons why you should use Ferrozone. Sold by all dealers, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50. Try Ferrozone. Do it to-day.

JUST SATISFIED HERSELF.

People of all sorts weigh themselves on the penny in the slot machines found widely distributed in public places, but never before had this man, anyway, seen anybody weigh on one of them anything but himself or herself as this weigher, a woman, did in a subway station.

She came in carrying in one hand a muff and in the other a box of polished oak that was narrow and proportionately high and may be a foot in length. That the box was heavy was shown by the fact that the leather handle had been stretched somewhat by its weight.

And apparently the present carrier had found it heavy and was curious about its weight, for now she set the box on the platform of one of those weighing machines and dropped a penny in the slot. It weighed ten pounds, certainly a heavy box to carry. That was all she wanted to know—didn't weigh herself. She just picked the box up again, this time with a smile, and went aboard the train. — New York Sun.

Di. ppsin Relieves Indigestion About Five Minutes After Taking It.

There would not be a case of Indigestion here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous digestive virtue contained in Di. ppsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sour, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Di. ppsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Bilioesness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach and intestines clean and free.

Stomach is sour or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't tempt you, why not get a 50-cent case to-day from your druggist and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is often sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Di. ppsin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

AUTUMN SONG.

Autumn clouds are flying, flying
O'er the waste of blue;
Summer flowers are dying, dying,
Late so lovely new.
Laboring waters are slowly rolling
Home with winter grain;
Holy bells are slowly tolling
Over buried men.

Golden lights set noon a-sleeping
Like an afternoon;
Colder airs come stealing, creeping
After sun and moon;
And the leaves, all tired of blowing
Cloudlike o'er the sun,
Change to sunset colors, knowing
That their day is done.

Autumn's sun is sinking, sinking
Into Wither's night;
And our hearts are thinking, thinking
Of the cold and blight.
Our life's sun is slowly going
Down the hill of night;
Will our clouds shine golden-glowing
On the slope of night.

But the vanished corn is lying
In rich golden glooms
In the churchyard all the sighing
Is above the tombs.
Spring will come slow lingering,
Opening buds of faith:
Man goes forth to meet his Spring,
Through the door of death.

So we love, with no less loving,
Hair that turns to grey;
Or a step less lightly moving
In life's autumn day.
And, if thought, still-brooding, lingers
O'er each bygone thing,
'Tis because old Autumn fingers
Paint in hues of spring.

PREHISTORIC MOUNDS.

Toronto Professor Has Been Investigating Relics at Souris, Man.

The Souris, Man., Plaindealer says: Our visitor of last summer, Prof. Montgomery, curator of the museum of the University of Toronto, has been again pursuing his archaeological explorations among the Mound Builders of the Souris Valley during the past seven weeks. Last summer he succeeded in making a large and valuable collection of the remains, but before completing his report he has spent another period making examination of the Souris mounds. This year he opened fourteen mounds, three earthen enclosures and several long, wide earthen ridges or embankments. This entails a tremendous amount of careful work with workmen, teams and scrapers, because the mounds are of great size and contain immense quantities of earth.

The explorations on this occasion were not so fruitful of relics, but many illuminating facts were discovered. The professor added to his collection a number of human skeletons, a bone comb made of the leg bone of a buffalo, an earthen pipe, flint knife blades, flint arrow points, bone knives, bone awls, and two kinds of marine shell beads that originally came, by means of traffic, from the Gulf of Mexico.

The mounds that have been examined are situated on the North Antler Creek at Sourisford, and are scattered along the valley for five miles. There still remains a number that have not been opened.

GEYSER IN YUKON.

A geyser has broken out on Eldorado, just below Bay Guleh, Yukon, according to advices from Dawson, and is throwing three-fourths of a sluicelike of water, with no promise of cessation. It has been running six weeks without diminution, and the miners are beginning to predict that it will continue and will form an immense glacier. The origin of this geyser is unknown. How it should happen to break out at this time, especially since no work has been done on the ground, is a mystery. Were the water to appear on some ground where good pay exists, and where the miners are prepared for work, it would be considered a bonanza. As it is, this fine stream is running to waste in the creek bottom. Five years ago a rusher broke out on Eldorado, adjoining claim number three, and carried such an immense head, that it formed an immense glacier in the winter.

BUTING THE WIND.

Iceland 'Wizards' Who Used to Sell to Superstitious Mariners.

In the old days of sailing ships it was a common thing for a sea captain to "buy the wind" for his voyage, though, strangely enough, the only people supposed to deal in it were the Icelanders. When a constant succession of baffling winds or dead calms had persistently followed a ship for more than one cruise, it was not at all unusual for the skipper of a big wind-jammer to pay a visit to Iceland for the sole purpose of purchasing wind, enough to last him on his next voyage or two.

In every port in Iceland one or more "wind wizards" were to be found, who were ready to sell a favorable wind for the next six months or a year to any sea captain willing to invest in something he could not see. The sailor, having found the way to the magician's house, first proceeded to spread out upon the floor the articles offered in payment for the wind—tallow candles, cloth, beads, knives, powder and lead. After a good deal of haggling and many times adding to or taking away from the little pile of merchandise between them the price was finally agreed upon, and the captain passed over his handkerchief to the Icelandic.

The wind merchant muttered certain words into it, tying a knot in the handkerchief at the end of each incantation. This was done to keep the magic words from evaporating. When a certain number of knots had been tied, the handkerchief was returned to its owner, with a strict charge to keep it knotted and guard it with extraordinary care until he arrived at the desired port, and at each port a knot was to be taken out.

One old captain had been bothered with head winds that he kept crying out to the Icelandic to tie another knot in the handkerchief and another and another, so as to be sure of plenty of the wished-for zephyrs, until finally there was no room for any more knots had been added to the heap on the floor. But when the wind greedily captain was two days at sea a terrific gale began to hurl the ship ahead of it ever increasing in fury, until she plunged along under bare poles, with her nose deep in the brine and tons of water washing her decks. Darker and darker grew the sky, and higher and higher rose the racing, foam created waves, hammering blows until her seams began to open under the strain and let in the sea.

Then, believing he had the devil in his pocket, the badly frightened skipper drew forth the much knotted handkerchief and threw it overboard. In a short time the tempest abated, the clouds cleared away, and the waters subsided, but one seaman never again bought wind. He was content with the kind that comes by chance.

HOW MRS. CLARK FOUND RELIEF

After Years of Suffering Dodd's
Kidney Pills Cured Her.

Pleasant Point, Matron Tells Her Suffering Sisters How to be Free From the Terrible Pains that Make Life a Burden.

Pleasant Point, Ont., Oct. 30.—(Special).—That most of the ills that the suffering women of Canada have to bear are due to disordered kidneys, and that the natural cure for them is Dodd's Kidney Pills, is once more shown in the case of Mrs. Merrill C. Clarke, a well-known resident of this place and a prominent member of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Clarke is always ready to give her experience for the benefit of her suffering sisters.

"My sickness commenced twenty years ago with the change of life," says Mrs. Clarke. "My health was in a bad state. Water would run from my head which would make me faint. When I came out of the fainting spells, I took fits. I was bloated till I was clumsy. The pain I suffered was awful. It would go to my feet and then to my head. Many doctors attended me, and I tried many medicines, but nothing gave me relief till I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. The first box stopped the fits and seven boxes cured me completely."

Every suffering woman should use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They make strong healthy kidneys, and the woman who has good kidneys is safeguarded against those terrible pains that make miserable the lives of so many women.

KNOWS 40,000 DATES.

Mr. E. C. Laston, who has just issued a challenge to the world for the memory championship, although only a young man of twenty-three years, is a veritable walking encyclopedia, for he has memorized 40,000 dates of the principal events in the world's history since the Creation. It was quite by accident that he discovered that he had an exceptional gift of memory. He was being trained as an Army officer, when an attack of rheumatic fever dispelled his hopes in that direction. At that time he happened to meet the Zancigs, in India, who, noticing what a remarkable memory he had for dates, advised him to cultivate it. He then purchased a copy of Haydn's "Dictionary of Dates" and sought to commit to memory the dates of the most important events in the world's history by writing fifty to a hundred dates on a piece of paper, and rewriting them three or four times until he had fully grasped them, with the result that he has a repertoire of thousands of dates, and can give the correct answers without the slightest hesitation.

Charcoal Kills Bad Breath

Whether From Decay In The Stomach or Teeth, and Will Stop Stomach Gases.

Willow Charcoal Best For Use.

Charcoal has been used for absorbing foul odors and neutralizing noxious gases for centuries.

Dupont, the powder manufacturer, learned that willow shoots two or three years of age made the best charcoal. It is most porous.

Petrid breath, whether from stomach or teeth, pyrosis (or gastric pain), diarrhoea and constipation simply cannot exist under the action of charcoal.

Charcoal oxidizes all gases, or in other words, changes foul smelling odors into oxygen, thereby doing away with all foulness and rendering even such gases beneficial to the system by giving it more oxygen.

The lungs purify the blood with oxygen from the air. Dying patients have oxygen administered to their system artificially and live for days under this treatment.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from willow shoots and sweet honey. Thus they are palatable, strong and natural. No medicine is used what-ever, but the peculiar Stuart process gives them a decided charm and efficiency which endears them to all consumers.

One may use them as one likes. Eating one every once in awhile insures pure breath, while the common method is to eat two or three after meals and at bed time. They work very fast and their use is a most excellent habit to form. In a short time you will learn that their influence has improved bowel action wonderfully: simply by giving to the bowel a waste product to carry off that has no gaseous formation to kill and destroy its nerves and membranes.

Every druggist carries Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, price 25 cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

The gifts, which consisted of an artistically designed and exquisitely finished silver punch bowl and tray for Sir Mortimer and Lady Clark, a beautiful gold hand bag for Miss Clark, and a dainty gold watch with diamond setting for Miss Elsie Clark were presented in the drawing-room of Government House by Mr. E. F. Osler, in the presence of a gathering which included Sir James Whitney, the Hon. Dr. Pyne, Sir Henry Pellatt, Mayor Oliver, Dr. Ryerson, Col. G. T. Denison, Col. J. M. Robertson, Col. W. C. Macdonald, Mr. Samuel Nordheimer, Mr. H. M. Mowat, K.C., Mr. Chas. Cockburn, Mr. P. V. C. Larkin and a number of ladies.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating before her eyes, has a gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily excited or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weakness and derangement that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and unbroken record of cure in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong prophylactic effect against the state of affairs which leads to such a large number of ordinary non-professional gynecological troubles. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath.

In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened, and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, if taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence should be as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

THE CITY'S MILK SUPPLY.

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Sir,—Thank you for your strong and timely article on this subject.

We are deeply indebted to the milkmen for rousing us at last from our criminal apathy on this subject.

The disgracefully high price charged for milk in this city and the disgraceful way in which the trade is allowed to be carried on without any adequate inspection of cows and stables, are things which ought to rouse to action everyone who has, at heart, the interests of the poor and the little children.

It is quite possible to keep their cows as they keep them at present. It is quite possible they do find their trade a hard and laborious one. The trouble is that the trade is not organized on the principle of the division of labor.

The milkman has to look after his cows, often he plays the part of a veterinary surgeon, he has to milk them twice a day, he has to take care of the cleaning of the cows and of the storage of the milk. Then he has to see to the delivery of the milk in the city. No wonder that such diverse and laborious work costs dearly and pays badly.

The whole thing needs organization and centralization. The public has it in its hands now to help both themselves and the milkmen.

The newly incorporated Pure Milk Supply Co. offers the only true solution. It will enable milkmen to concentrate their time and energy entirely on the feeding and keeping of their cows. They will have nothing to do with delivering milk from door to door. The company will then see that the milk is clean. It will be put through the new process of sterilization and so rendered safe as an article of diet. By thus being sterilized and bottled, it will keep for a long time and can be purchased at the grocer's when wanted, like other articles of food.

Even if the milkmen were to lower their prices now, we must not any longer tolerate our present system. Milk is both a necessary of life to the young and delicate and it is the most frequent carrier of disease. How many children lose their lives every year from diseases caught through drinking impure milk, and how many cases of consumption among older people could be traced to drinking the milk of tuberculous cows, we cannot tell. Scientists tell us that the numbers are large. Let us then now, while the iron is hot, strike and so remove from our midst a terrible source of danger to health and life, and, at the same time, place within easy reach of all, even the poorest, an article of diet which contains in it, as no other does, all the elements of a perfect food.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

A BOON TO CHILDREN

A medicine that will keep babies and young children plump and good natured, with a clear eye and rosy skin is a blessing not only to the little ones but to mothers as well.

Baby's Own Tablets is just such a medicine. They cure all the minor ailments of children and make them eat well, sleep well and play well. They are used exclusively in thousands of homes when a child medicine is needed.

Mrs. G. Collins, Hirkella, Man., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the most satisfactory medicine I have ever used for ill of young children. They are as good as a doctor in the house." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
