Deft informality

Hair receding, Philip soon 40

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip turns 40 Saturday with his hairline receding but his influence growing.

In almost every field of British life-except the arts and horse racing, which do not amuse him-the husband of the Queen increasingly makes his presence felt.

Science, industry, education, the services—all have had an occasional shake-up from the end of Philip's fluent tongue.

With Philip at her side, the Queen has matured from a shy, plumpish and often awkwardly dressed girl to a slim, composed and even sophisticated sovereign of 35.

Philip's breezy but deft informality and his wide swipes at established snobbery have shocked and staggered some of his elders.

DITCHED THE DEBS

It was Philip who successfully urged the Queen to abolish the Buckingham Palace debutante presentation parties.

These had become a sort of ungainly quadrille of girls annually selected because of birth, wealth or both to formally meet the sovereign.

Prince Philip saw this performance as strangely out of place in modern Britain.

The noise of protesting debs was nothing compared to the gasps of surprise in 1955.

At the 450th anniversary banquet of the Royal College of Surgeons at Edinburgh, the surgeons' president made a long and impressive speech. At its conclusion, he turned to the guest of honor.

GAVE A CUP

Fingering a silver object—model of a utensil used by doctors of old in bleeding their patients—the president said in precise and pedantic tones:

"And now, sir, may it please Your Royal Highness to accept this bleeding cup?"

Smiling, the Queen's husband replied:

"I can only say—it's bloody kind of you."

Twenty-five years ago bloody was not a word to be used publicly in Britain. Ten years ago it wasn't used often in any mixed company. And today it's seldom used from the head table at dignified dinners.

But Philip got away with it.

Although he has difficulty resisting the urge to be funny, he is extremely serious.

He is constantly hammering home the message that Britain must streamline its production apparatus, must keep abreast and exceed in a world of stern competition.

Aware of the rise in juvenile crime all over the land, his work with youth clubs and youth organizations is magnificent.

He works untiringly for charity, and the organizations he heads raise millions of pounds every year for the poor and handicapped.

People from all walks of life are now invited to Buckingham Palace, people who in years gone by never would have got inside the palace gates.

Children exposed to radium

TORONTO (CP) — A harmless-looking white powder sent 16 children to hospital Tuesday after tests showed they had been exposed to radiation.

The children were released after a thorough scrubbing.

They were to be taken to the department of physics at the University of Toronto today for further tests, including blood counts to check whether they were contaminated internally.

The powder, a radium compound used during the Second World War to illuminate aircraft instrument panels, was found by the children in a ware house Monday night. They broke open a lead box and some of the 1½ - inch glass vials to get at the powder. Tests showed the radium was spread over a two-block area.

Dr. John D. Munn said the children are in little danger.

"The radium was hardly more powerful than that on your watch."

'Hostage' doctor suicides

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP) — A doctor who claimed he was forced at gunpoint to shelter the assassins of dictator Rafael Trujillo died Tuesday night after cutting his own throat, the government reported.

The doctor, Robert Reid Cabral, died in hospital after surgery failed to save his life. Informants said he was on the operating table for nine hours.

The government said Reid Cabral severed his jugular vein with a penknife Tuesday, a day after he claimed he had been forced to harbor Brig. - Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, charged with being the chief assassin, and three accomplices.

Diaz was shot and killed and a companion wounded Sunday night by security forces. Reid Cabral said hunger drove them into the streets.

BLAST BETANCOURT

Meanwhile the newspaper La Nacion, considered a government spokesman, launched a blast at Venezuela's President Romulo Betancourt, arch opponent of the slain Trujillo.

Accusing Betancourt and the U.S. state department of pressuring the Organization of American States into voting sanctions against the Trujillo regime last year, the paper called Betancourt "the man who prostituted all international laws and violated all human rights."

Continuing bail of $5,000 was set by Magistrate Austin O'Connor for Adrienne Laroche, 54, following a preliminary hearing.

Laos village lost in all-out assault

By RENE - GEORGES INAGAKI

VIENTIANE (AP) — Padong fell today under an all-out assault by pro-Communist rebels supported by heavy artillery. The tiny mountain village had been a symbol of government resistance-and of rebel violation of the cease-fire proclaimed in Laos five weeks ago.

A United States military adviser radioed from the front that the Pathet Lao rebels laid down an "extremely heavy" barrage and then attacked with infantry.

The royal government forces estimated at 1,000 — mostly tough Meo tribesmen — began falling back in the early hours of the morning to a new defence line.

The attack began Tuesday after a week of relative calm around the government-held village on a 6,000-foot mountain slope 20 miles southwest of the rebel headquarters at Xieng Khouang.

CASUALTIES NOT KNOWN

Reports to Vientiane did not give the number of men the rebels threw into the attack nor any idea of casualties.

Lt.-Col. Vang Pao, the Meo commander of the Padong garrison, had charged that North Vietnamese troops were fighting with the Laotian rebels.

The rebels earlier justified their shelling of the village despite the cease-fire by terming Pao's forces "bandits." Padong was typical of a number of pro-government pockets scattered throughout the northeast sector of Laos which is nominally controlled by the Pathet Lao.

Say Dief to tell 'quite a story' as U.S. hits at China wheat trade

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker today steps into what is shaping up as a new and ticklish problem in Canadian - United States trade relations.

He is expected to make a special statement in the Commons on the American government's refusal to let U.S. - made portable unloading equipment be sold for use on charter ships carrying Canadian grain to Communist China.

One senior Ottawa informant said Tuesday night the prime minister will have "quite a story" to tell the Commons.

OTTAWA. —(CP)— Canada hopes to have its own grain-handling equipment in three weeks to replace machinery denied by United States law for use in unloading wheat-carrying tankers at Red China ports, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today.

He told the House of Commons an intensive shopping campaign indicates an Ontario firm can do the job and that there will be no interruption of shipments of grain to China. He added that Canada must recognize the right of the United States to enforce provisons of legislation on American companies inside the U.S.

But Canada was concerned at any action affecting the grain trade.

The "story" is set in Ottawa, Montreal, Washington and Batavia, Ill., where an American firm makes special suction equipment for unloading grain from the holds of tankers.

Since Chinese ports have no facilities for unloading bulk grain from tankers, ships hauling Canadian grain there must carry their own unloaders.

Such equipment is not normally kept in Canada because Canadian grain shipments usually go to foreign countries which have this modern gear available at their ports

The U.S. action would not affect the bulk of Canadian wheat which is shipped by freighter and for which Chinese ports have adequate dockside facilities. It would, however, put an end to the limited use of tankers which now serve to carry a small portion of Canadian grain.

Since the start of the year Canada has signed agreements with China to ship 217,000,000 bushels of wheat and 58,000,000 bushels of barley to that famine - plagued land. The agreements call for delivery by the end of 1963 with payments totalling $425,600,000.

The initial phase of the agreement calls for shipment of 28,000,000 bushels of wheat, 17,000,000 bushels of barley and 32,500 tons of flour between June 1 and Nov. 30 of this year. Some of this initial amount has already been sent.

The Batavia firm seems to be the sole source of the unloading equipment. Hand - handling by Chinese laborers would bog down the whole delivery operation insofar as tankers are concerned.

Castro clears way for tractor exchange

DETROIT (AP) — The hour for action approached today in the offer to give tractors to Fidel Castro's Cuba in exchange for invasion prisoners.

Castro cleared the way in part Tuesday night by accepting the proposition in principle, though stipulating negotiations.

The Cuban prime minister's action, announced on the Havana radio, came approximately 12 hours before today's noon deadline given him for his reply. It followed a meeting of the Cuban Council of Ministers.

At the same time Castro cabled the citizens "Tractors for Freedom Committee" here.

Contents of the cable, in Spanish, were not made public by the committee, pending a translation. A reply to Castro also was withheld until the translation.

OFFERED TRACTORS

The citizens group, headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt; Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, has offered to exchange 500 American tractors for 1,200 prisoners taken in the May 17 Cuban invasion.

The Cuban government, in the radio announcement, thanked the committee for its "humanitarian act."

The committee arranged to act swiftly on Castro's move of Tuesday night.

A language expert was called in to translate Castro's message. Presumably a reply then would be sent to Castro in Havana.

Castro stipulated that a delegation of the committee go to Cuba to negotiate with him. He suggested Mrs. Roosevelt or Dr. Eisenhower.

DISCUSS DETAILS

Castro said the delegation would discuss not only details of the indemnification but also the exact number of prisoners to be involved in the exchange.

The exchange, he said, should be one of "freedom for freedom." This was a reference to another proposal by him that the captured invaders be exchanged for "political prisoners" in the United States, Puerto Rico, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Spain.

"Cuba accepts the exchange," the announcement said, "not only as material compensation but also as an act of generosity (by Cuba) because it would not have been unjust to apply to the traitors the penalty they deserved."

He has said often before that any courts of the world would have convicted the invaders of treason for which Cuba has the death penalty.

Fleming shows surprise at Japanese resentment

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming described Tuesday as "somewhat surprising" a press report quoting Japanese Ambassador Toru Hagiwara as saying Japan is becoming resentful over the need to fix quotas on its exports to Canada.

He said in the Commons that statements attributed to the ambassador, who spoke in Regina Tuesday, were "not in harmony" with the tone of Mr. Hagiwara's recent letter agreeing to the export quotas to be applied by Japan this year on certain shipments to Canada.

Mr. Fleming was replying to a question by Opposition Leader Pearson, who said the press report quoted the ambassador as saying Japan was forced to accept the trade curbs under the threat that Canada otherwise would apply arbitrary customs valuations on imports from Japan.

Mr. Fleming emphasized that the restraints were applied 'voluntarily" by Japan following negotiations with Canadian officials.

Bulletin

GENEVA (AP) — Angered by the fall of Padong, Western delegations today cabled their capitals to see if there is any point in continuing the 14-nation conference on Laos following major Communist violations of the cease-fire.

Canada is one of the Western countries attending the talks.

Britain's Malcolm Macdonald, who was to be chairman of the 14th session today, called it off. The British delegation issued a statement recalling it had "agreed to attend the conference on the clear understanding there would be an effective cease - fire throughout the negotiations."

Macdonald will be keeping in touch with Georghi Pushkin, the Soviet co - chairman, but no date for the next meeting was fixed.

Eichmann trial

Witness collapses in stand

By THOMAS A. Beedy

JERUSALEM (AP)—A noted Jewish writer, who rose from the ashes of the Auschwitz concentration camp, took the witness stand against Adolf Eichmann today, spoke in rambling terms for about 10 minutes, then spun off the chair in a faint.

The trial of the former Gestapo chief was suspended immediately.

The witness was introduced by the Israeli prosecution as Yechiel Di-Noor, Polish born. The packed audience gasped when he was identified — for the first time in public — as the writer K. Zetnik, a pen name meaning a prisoner of a concentration camp. His best known work is The House of Dolls, the story of the two years he spent in the Auschwitz death mill.

Attorney - General Gideon Hausner showed Di - Noor the blue and white striped Nazi death camp uniform and he identifed it. Di - Noor paled. The uniform shown him was his own. He had brought it and was presumably prepared, the attorney - general thought.

LUNGED FROM CHAIR

As he sketched the background of his thoughts on Auschwitz, Di - Noor lunged up from the witness chair, and crashed to floor. Eichmann in his glass cage leaned forward and stared.

The man's mother, sitting in the second row, leaped to her feet and screamed. The udience rumbled. Guards pulled Di-Noor to a chair and forced water into his mouth.

Still ringing in the ears of court and audience were Di-Noor's last words on the stand as he described how he continued to survive and others were murdered: "I was always left behind."

When the trial resumed some minutes later, it moved into other phases of the Auschwitz story without Di - Noor. It was decided he was unable to testify.

The next witness, an Israeli carpenter, told the court trying Eichmann for the alleged killing of 6,000,000 Jews that as a boy of 14 he endured the terror of Auschwitz and saw "the angel of death arrive on a bicycle."

CHOSE THE VICTIMS

The "angel of death" was Dr. Kurt Mengele, the SS doctor who chose those for work and those for death. He is still be-

Says K. hit blow at West's hopes

WASHINGTON (CP) — President Kennedy, in a sombre report on Vienna summitry, says Soviet Premier Khrushchev dealt a "serious blow" to Western hopes for an efective treaty to ban atomic explosions and reduce the world's arms race.

* * *

Khrushchev wouldn't budge an inch from his demands for a veto over inspection controls against possible cheating. However Kennedy said the West would continue its struggle for a treaty.

Kennedy found his two - day talks with the Soviet leader in Vienna brightened hopes of obtaining progress in seeking a peaceful solution to the Laotian problem through the 14-country Geneva conference. The parley has been deadlocked over Soviet refusal to grant cease-fire inspctors freedom to check violators.

Kennedy said neither he nor Khrushchev scored a victory over the other June 3-4 but the chances of a world war by miscalculation should be less now that each leader knows better where the other stands.

Kennedy reported this to the country Tuesday night in a 23-minute radio-TV speech.

OPENED CHANNELS

"The gap between us was not in such a short period materially reduced, but at least the channels of communication were opened more fully," Kennedy said.

Kennedy and Khrushchev didn't plan any future summit meeting but the president hinted there would be further diplomatic exchanges. For example, Khrushchev's views on the Berlin and German issues would be the subject of "future communications."

K. is gay on return

MOSCOW (AP)—While President Kennedy was telling the American people of his "sombre" talks with Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet premier was dancing the cha cha cha —with President Sukarno.

Back from Vienna in a light-footed mood, the Soviet leader was the life of the party Tuesday night at a celebration for the visiting Indonesian president's 60th birthday.

It was the gayest Moscow party in half a dozen years and Khrushchev, 66, was in his gayest form since he gave up vodka for orange juice.

Swept up by the rhythmic beat of a band playing Indonesia is Free, Cha Cha Cha, the Soviet premier was out on the dance floor hand-in-hand with Sukarno.

Khrushchev did a few improvised steps just for laughs—crouching as in the Cossack dance and kicking out his legs. He beat a bongo drum. At another point he grabbed Sukarno's marshal's baton and began leading the orchestra.

When the Indonesian president suggested this would cost the Soviet government a new loan, Khrushchev turned his pockets inside out to show they were empty and quipped:

"Look, he robs me of everything. He takes everything I have."

Six school bills adopted

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec Legislative Assembly plowed through voluminous education legislation Tuesday in a sitting that ended at 12:30 a.m. EDT today, 90 minutes past the usual adjournment time.

A bill providing free public education to the 11th grade was approved in principle. This bill also would make school attendance compulsory to age 15 effective July 1, 1962. Present limit is 14.

The assembly adopted a companion bill requiring school commsisions to furnish education to grade 11 inclusive.

This bill also would require school commissions to pay as much as $200 tuition for each student in their jurisdiction attending an independent secondary education institution to grade 11.

ADOPT ESTIMATES

The assembly also adopted roads department estimates of $152,925,000 of which $31,713,000 is earmarked for the 396 - mile Quebec portion of the Trans-Canada Highway.

Roads Minister Bernard Pinard said the possibility of a second Trans - Canada Highway already is being discussed in some provinces but Quebec could not entertain this idea until its share of the present highway was completed.

In all, six of the government's nine bills on education were given third reading and final approval Tuesday.

QUEBEC (CP)—The Quebec Legislative Assembly Tuesday gave unanimous final reading to a government bill giving all parents of children under 18 voting rights in school commission elections.

At present only proprietors are allowed to vote in the elections.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dr. Frank Baxter, who achieved wide success with his TV lectures, is retiring as a college professor but not as a lecturer.

For 31 years, Dr. Baxter's English classes have been one of the notable assets of the University of Southern California, along with its football team. In 1953, he enlarged his classroom for Shakespeare on TV, a pioneering venture for the new medium. Since then, his TV lectures have garnered a harvest of awards, including seven Emmies.

Now 65, he is retiring from USC. He has given his last class lecture. "No, I'm not sorry to be quitting," he said. "After all, I've been at this teaching game for 41 years."

His future schedule sounds athletic. He has lined up lectures all over the country. He will start a 15-minute radio series on subjects of his choosing for Westinghouse, which has been seeking him for two years. He will tape introductions for An Age of Kings, the British-made series of Shakespeare's chronicles which will appear on TV. He may continue narrating the Bell Telephone science hours, of which he has done all eight.

HAS NO REGRETS

Dr. Baxter, a solidly - built man, has no regrets about his choice of profession.

"There were rough years," he admitted. "But I wouldn't hesitate to recommend the academic life to a young person today. It is a good life, and now it can even pay well. If a professor keeps up his outside writing and other activities, he can earn $12,000 to $15,000 a year."

SPEAKS AT SHERBROOKE ROTARY MEETING — Dr. Ronald Sutherland, professor of English of the Faculty of Arts, University of Sherbrooke was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club held Tuesday evening at the New Sherbrooke Hotel. Condemns "trash"

Hits public taste in reading matter

The general public's taste in good reading literature is at a low ebb, a professor of English at the Faculty of Arts, o fthe University of Sherbrooke told Sherbrooke Rotarians Tuesday evening as he condemned the public's choice of "trash" that now floods the reading stands.

"Because of the public's indifference, people are not able to judge what is good in a book, what is mediocre, or what is poor," said Dr. Ronald Sutherland.

People need to refresh their interest in good literature and in judging literature the speaker said they should be quick to condemn the poor and voice their opinion on what they think is good.

"I think interest in judging good literature is far more important than scientific advancement," Dr. Sutherland said.

Dr. Sutherland outlined briefly the general principles necessary for a book to be good. "By a book. I don't necessarily mean printed work, but any work of art, such as a movie, or a television show," he explained.

"The principles are not absolute." he said, While man will prefer one type of book, and another, another, there are two main principles that make a book great." he said, "namely breadth and depth." He explained that by breadth he meant universality. "A work cannot exist in a vacuum if it is to become great, it must have a large group of readers." Dr. Sutherland said, "A book will never become great if it has a limited number of readers."

For a book to achieve breadth it must give a description or analysis of human nature. "A good example is Canterbury Tales which describes such human reactions as hate, hopes, amibitions, and jealousy." Dr. Sutherland said. "Canterbury Tales gives an accurate description of people 600 years ago and a book with an accurate picture of human nature is bound to interest people for years."

Breadth alone is not enough for a great book, it must also have the other principle, depth. A book with depth, is one which attempts to analyse deeper things of life and the philosophy of life. Good examples are Romeo and Juliet and Shakespeare's, Hamilet.

Another more important attribute is style — meaning the ordering of language, vocabulary, choice of words and sentence structures, the speaker said.

A second technique is characterization of a character, the speaker said.

F. L. Pearson named president; circulation sets a new record

F. L. Pearson was re-elected to his fourth term as president of the Sherbrooke Library at the annual meeting held Tuesday night.

Other members elected to the executive were A. C. Skinner, honorary president, Frank Milne, vice-president, Miss Helen Davis, treasurer, R. N. Ogilvy, secretary, W. W. Gibson, past president and Miss W. A. Farmer, librarian.

Newly elected trustees are Mrs. D. Ward, A. Swan, Gordon Shaw, E. Grigsby, Grant Mitchell, and Ralph Gosselin. Other trustees are Dr. A. C. Hill, Dr. K. Willis, Mrs. K. F. Beattie, Mrs. Daniel Heilig, and Miss E. Bradley.

The treasurer, Miss Helen Davis, reported that the total income for the year ended April 30, 1961, was $6,688.55. Although there was a deficit of $151.75 the total income showed an increase of $524.95 over 1960, she said.

Miss Davis submitted a budget for 1961-62 showing an expected surplus of $63.50.

Miss Farmer's report showed that 18,390 books were circulated during 1960-61 which was a record number in the library's history.

A slight decrease in membership was noted but this is offset by the larger number of monthly members, she said. A drive to increase the number of members will be undertaken this year it was decided.

The Ladies Committee report was given by Mrs. Daniel Heilig. The committee purchased a $124 bookcase for the library and gave a donation of $150 to the library fund. A bank balance of $218 was reported.

Mr. Pearson thanked the members for their cooperation during the year and welcomed the new trustees. He said how much Mr. Skinner regretted that he could not attend the annual meeting.

Speed-reading craze

One thing is certain about U.S. fads. Sooner or later they're imported to Canada.

Whether it's yo-yo's, hula hoops or scrabble we just can't seem to resist anything that goes over big with our affluent neighbours.

With this in mind it's hoped that we run true to form and pick up the latest fad that is sweeping Washington.

It's speed-reading — the ability to whip through printed matter at a space-age clip.

Impetus to the fad has been given by President Kennedy who with his brother, attorney-general Robert Kennedy, took a rapid-reading course a couple of years ago. The President now reads at a 1200-word-a-minute rate, nearly five times the national average in the United States.

It's estimated that he has read — with very little effort — most of the 20,000,000 words that have been written into the Congressional Record since he launched his New Frontier. To this he has managed to add three or four newspapers each day, Congressional reports, surveys and studies and the flood of correspondence and other printed matter that get by his staff each day.

To meet the sudden popularity of speed-reading in the U.S. capital, an organization known as Reading Dynamics Institute is offering a three-month course that helps candidates unlearn the bad reading habits of years. These include regressing, stopping at individual words and whispering words as you go along.

The new technique, it's claimed, allows you to read, straight down instead of across the page.

And while it means a lot of hard work it can also mean a big difference in your life once you get the hang of it.

According to press reports the ladies of Washington as well as the men are getting in on the speed-reading craze.

And Jacqueline Kennedy? — She's a speed-reader as well.

But she didn't have to work at it. The experts found her natural reading rate and comprehension were so superior that she didn't need speed-reading instruction.

Sunday school papers

The Anglican Church of Canada has announced that after 41 years, weekly Sunday school papers will be discontinued as a basic means of Christian education.

The church says that during the last 10 years the increased use of workbooks and undated leaflets for Sunday school children has gradually placed the Sunday school papers on the "unnecessary" list.

The church says "good literature now available for children in libraries, schools and stores makes it unnecessary for the Church to provide reading material for the ordinary child."

For those children who are isolated, the church notes, a paper will still be produced.

With the Anglican Church decision go a number of weekly papers with such titles as The Child's Own and Treasure Chest.

We don't know if other denominations now using Sunday school papers intend to discontinue theirs, but the disappearance of even one summons waves of nostalgia for anyone who was brought up on them.

Many of these illustrated papers were awaited as eagerly as the weekend comic section now is. Those that are to be discontinued, for example, contain such things as serial stories, children's puzzles, cutouts, and how-to-do-it projects.

Thousands of children's most beloved acquaintance with the great stories of the Bible came from Sunday school papers.

Progress, in Christian education as in other fields, must not be denied, but the passing of Sunday school papers will be sentimentally regretted by many.

These pesky mosquitos

Those pesky mosquitos are more to be pitied than censored. They're not simply pests, they're addicts.

Two zoologists from the University of Western Ontario, A.W.A. Brown and A.G. Carmichael revealed this recently at a meeting of the Canadian Federation of Biological Societies in Guelph, Ontario.

It seems that mosquitos just can't get enough of a substance known as L-Lysine, an amino from which proteins are built.

And, unfortunately for us, there is plenty of this 'goody' in human blood. And the mosquitos know it.

Castro turning to Guatemala

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE

In obvious retaliation for Guatemala's part in the successful attempt by anti-Castro exiles to invade Cuba, Radio Havana has started trying to whip up revolutionary forces in Central America, particularly Guatemala.

Most of the anti-Castro invaders captured in Cuba have said they received at least part of their training in Guatemala.

Announcement of the new series of programs was made in a matter-of fact fashion.

'Radio Havana," the announcer said, "will give time . . . to the Guatemalan Information Committee . . . on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights."

The first program featured a speech by Jacobo Arbenz, who was president of Guatemala until the anti-Communist revolution there in 1954.

Arbenz began his talk with a double-barreled attack on the United States and Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes. Arbenz called Ydigoras an "accomplice" of the United States in the April 17 invasion attempt.

The broadcast by the Guatemalan Red, who has been a guest of the Castro regime for almost a year, made it obvious that the Cuban Communists are intensifying their propaganda attacks on Ydigoras in an effort to stir up another revolution in Guatemala.

* * *

"We just want to liberate our people," Arbenz said. "Revolutions do not come from abroad. The people (at home) make them, when conditions are right,"

Arbenz evidently is trying to make sure that the Guatemalan people are conditioned to the idea of revolution against Ydigoras.

He appealed to the "democratic and heroic youth of our country," to the "farmers, intellectuals and women", to all Guatemala's "patriots," to make Guatemala "sovereign" and "free of the Yanqui yoke that oppresses us."

"The United States is pushing us toward revolutionary violence," Arbenz said. "We must organize all those who believe in the fatherland . . . in the strength of the people.

"There must be organizations in the cities and organizations in the countryside . . .

"Our program is inspired by the desire for the national liberation of Guatemala," Arbenz said.

The plan outlined by the former Guatemalan president follows the general organizational scheme spelled out by Fidel Castro's chief strategist, Ernesto "Che" Guevara, in his widely circulated booklet on guerrila warfare.

* * *

For one thing, at no time in his talk, did Arbenz mention communism. He painted his listeners a picture of a Guatemala suffering under American oppression, which is not true, and fearful of Guatemalan police brutality, which is only partially true.

Arbenz, though, should be expert in Communist propaganda tactics. After he fled Guatemala in 1954, he disappeared behind the Iron Curtain where he was reportedly kept busy as an advisor on Latin American affairs to the international Communist movement. Later he moved the Montevideo, Uruguay, where again he was linked with the Communist network for South America.

President Ydigoras, a professional military man, has shown in the past that he does not hesitate to use his small but well-trained army and his fast flying air force to put down revolutionary threats.

Last November he employed ground forces and twin-engined U.S.-built attack bombers to quell an uprising in the Puerto Barrios area.

Nevertheless, living condition in Guatemala long have been poor. Some estimate that 70 per cent of the country's 3,800,000 people live in poverty. Hundreds of thousands of Guatemala's Indians do not even speak Spanish.

Misery and illiteracy are problems that cannot be solved overnight. Extremists insist that the solution must be violent to be effective.

Not even the leftist governments Guatemala had, between 1944 and 1954, made any notable progress in raising living standards, however.

BARNACLE BILL

(Detroit Free Press)

Using that raffish old ditty about Barnacle Bill the Sailor to teach English to Communist little ones, Russian educators have revamped its words to give them an ideological twist. Probably they might as well have done it that way as another. If you're going to bring Barnacle Bill into elementary school, you've certainly got to do something about the words, though for the life of us we can't understand what the Reds were thinking of in making it a class exercise.

Ban-the-Bomb signs a familiar sight

Campaigners gathering strength in U.K.

(A Canadian writer living in Britain tells of the organization and activities of the opponents of nuclear arms policy.)

* * *

By GENEVIEVE BARTOLE

LONDON — (TNS) — The visitor to Britain soon becomes aware of the mounting tempo of the campaign against the testing and retention of nuclear weapons. Chalked on a wall or painted high up on a window overlooking a street like a large clock, or worn as a lapel pin by a woman waiting for her bus — the Ban-The-Bomb sign is a familiar sight. To many it is a public testimonial to their belief that time is running out, that politicans are too intent on legalistic negotiation while ignoring dangers that grow while they negotiate.

Many are touchingly prepared to make sacrifices, to walk the country in all weathers — often with babies in prams — risking arrest, fines and prison. They say that they do this because the public is lulled by a press that does not wish to publicize the dangers from fall-out, the impotence of civil defense, or estimates of possible casualty figures.

* * *

The press did, however, devote front page headlines to two recent actions when 826 people were arrested and fined in London, and when attempts were made in Scotland to board the nuclear submarine supply-ship and shore establishment. And it is perhaps a sign of increased respect for the group that journalists and not demonstrators were responsible for official complaints that the police in the latter case used violence.

All age groups are represented. It is simply, not true to say that students are the only interested group, although this heart and centre of Sir John's life.

If we want to be truly worthy of our heritage let us reject the reactionary point of view that "patriotism", "inspiration", "aspiration"—and "vision" — are just nasty words to be ridiculed and scoffed at.

June 6th would seem to be an appropriate occasion for Canadians "with pride in their country's past, belief in her present and faith in her future" to pay richly merited tribute to Sir John A. Macdonald—The Great Canadian.

CRIME ENOUGH

(Hamilton Spectator)

Crime in Ontario has to be fought whether it is "organized" or disorganized, whether it has its origin in New York, Chicago, Timbuktu or right here at home. If the attorney-general's investigations prove that U.S. thugs wouldnt care to be found dead in Ontario, so much the better. If crime is so patriotic that it refuses to cross international borders, that is fine. There is plenty to look after here, regardless of politics. Our own unorganized, home-grown amateurs can be tough enough.

Letters To Editor

Dear Sir:

On June 6th it will be seventy years since the death of Sir John A. Macdonald was announced to Parliament and to a sorrowing nation. It is a matter for deep regret that in our own day, both the anniversary of Macdonald's death, and of his birth, pass almost unnoticed in the country he helped to put on the road to nationhood, and to the very end served with the last full measure of his devotion and strength.

Except for those Canadians far too few in number—who have read Professor Donald Creighton's admirable biography of Macdonald, he is really little known to his present day fellow country men. Admittedly there is the occasional magazine flash-back and TV documentary. In most of these, however, we too often see, not the real Macdonald, but a crude caricature of the patriot statesman.

Most thoughtful Canadians will agree that Sir John A. and the things he stood for—and fought for—have a great significance in these days of indecision and doubt about our country's future. As one Macdonald admirer put it recently: "Canadians in our day, no less than in Sir John's, must be imbued with national purpose, concerned with national development and steadfast in their national loyalty."

At such a time as this, the supreme need of our people is that 'true patriot love' of which we sing, and which was the

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

WHAT PRICE OVERTRICK?

In rubber bridge a good declarer concentrates on his contract and only goes after overtricks when the contract is sure. In duplicate it sometimes pays to gamble a little.

Playing at two spades South received the fortunate opening lead of the four of hearts. Dummy's queen held the trick and East won trick two with the ace of diamonds. A second heart lost to South's ace and West won a second diamond.

Now West tried to cash his king of hearts. South ruffed that; ruffed a diamond in dummy; and played dummy's ace of spades.

At this point his contract was safe as long as he simply cashed high cards and left trumps alone. He played the jack of hearts. East ruffed and later on West made his two remaining trumps.

The game was duplicate and North pointed out that South would have made an overtrick if he had played a second trump. South replied that he felt that two spades bid and made would be a very satisfactory score and that a second trump lead would have jeopardized his fine contract.

When the scores were in South's reasoning was justified. Plus 110 tied for top.

Strong position

Dominion Textile earnings up to highest level in 10 years

Dominion Textile Company Limited had earnings of $1.35 per common share in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1961, compared with $1 in the previous year. The financial results in 1961 were better than for any year since 1951.

The company's balance sheet reveals a continuance of its strong position with an increase in working capital of $1,620,760. Working capital now totals $35,555,988. An increase in inventories is attributed to an increase in raw cotton stocks.

The report, signed by G. B. Gordon, president, points out that the earnings, while better than in the previous year, represent a return of barely 3½ percent on the sales dollar, and the common dividends only 1¾ per cent. Mr. Gordon emphasizes that a larger return on the sales dollar is essential in the business for sufficient funds to be generated to ensure the progress of the company. This would be in the interest of close on 7,500 shareholders and would also safe-guard the jobs of the 7,500 wage earners who gain their livelihood in the plants.

"We can speak frankly of a corporation's responsibility to earn a profit," said Mr Gordon who continued, "The word profit remains an honest one, and it is the key to any society in which the enterprise of human beings is allowed to serve naturally as the motivation for achievement." He adds that taxable corporate profits today are what make a social security possible on its present scale, and therefore Canadian Society has a direct stake in the profitability of this country's corporations and businesses."

The alternative is the socalist planned economy, "with the government in charge of everything." And Mr. Gordon expresses the view that this explains the consistent attack by socialist exponents on even the most modest profits.

He says that the major activity that has kept the company in business has been the modernisation of capital equipment, on which $57 million has been expended in the last 13 years. By this modernization the company has been able to hold costs in check.

Mr. Gordon points out that earnings of Dominion Textile have decreased as a percentage of capital employed but the earnings per share of common stock have not decreased because the increase in capital employed was not accompanied by an increase in the number of shares outstanding.

He concludes his comment by noting that if Canadian manufacturing industry had to compete without assistance against foreign imports, the result would be that there would be little general manufacturing industry left in Canada, and a land of mines, oil and gas wells, forests and grain would provide livelihood for only a fraction of those now gainfully occupied in manufacturing industry and its ancillary services. He also notes that there is an appreciable duty on the importation of wheat into Canada and that any import is subject to strict license control.

CHIVERS of the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation was elected vice president for the Central Area (Ontario and Quebec) at the Federation's Annual Meeting at Macdonald College, St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, June 5 - 10. Ursuline convent kindergarten holds closing program of year

STANSTEAD — (Special) — The closing program of the Ursuline convent kindergarten was held on Sunday afternoon, June 4 in the school auditorium with the children of the two classes morning and afternoon presenting a delightful program to a large number of relatives, parents and friends of the school.

Amarylis, was the opening number, a band selection under the direction of Bobby Kerr, who wore a red and gold tunic and hat and navy blue trousers.

With Beverly Bushnell playing the piano the entire group sang Chantons le Mai, and with Michelle Poulin at the piano, they sang Ave Marie.

The well known French Canadian song, Alouette, was sung by the two groups, one in French, the second in English, with Steven Kelly dressed as a bird.

Choose a Bride, was sung and acted, with Martial Cote playing the piano. Two recitations followed, Un Bon Fils, by Gerard Roy and I'm Much too Big For a Fairy, by Craig Bullis.

Mary Downing played the piano for the motion song by the classes, Counting, and Linda Delisle played as they sang, Le Petit Bonhomme. Diane Rogers, Robert St. Amant and Christopher Chamberlain presented a trio recitation, Dollars and Cents.

Les Lutins Dansent was the title of a song and little dance, with Linda Deslisle playing the piano. Songsters and pianist all wore fancy paper hats.

The two classes recited Savez-Vous, and th eboys and girls presented a gymnastic number under the direction of Bryan Davis. Danielle and Robert Blouin presented a motion number, Devinettes, and the graduation song was sung in unison with O. Courtemanche playing the piano accompaniment.

Among the guests were Father DeLamaree, Convent Chaplain, who spoke to the assembly and paid tribute to Rev. Mother St. Louis de Gonzaire, who had started the kindergarten a few years ago and who died last summer.

This work has since been carried on by Rev. Sister of the Holy Ghost and by Rev. Mother of the Assumption . The students, French and English, Roman Catholic and Protestant come from the four Boundary Villages.

Diplomas were presented to the graduates and prizes to all by Father DeLamaree, Father Dusseault of Derby Line, and Mother Superior assisted by students of the school.

To Rev. Mother of the Holy Ghost and on behalf of the students a beautiful bouquet of flowers, and a tribute was presented by Leslie Gardyne, Bryan Davis and Frances Gaudreau, and from appreciative parents, a gift of money was presented to her by Pierre Pepin.

Deplores status emphasis

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Norman E. Peveril, of Sherbrooke, Que., president of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, says church membership is tending to denote status rather than spiritual significance.

He told the convention's annual meeting Monday that too much emphasis is placed on the size of the congregation and income. To a large percentage of those claiming it, church membership is becoming more a badge of respectability.

Mr. Peveril urged Baptists not to make the mistake of becoming overly concerned about a financial and numerical success that does not necessarily indicate achievement in the church's real mission.

He also said auxiliary, non-biblical activities have assumed an exaggerated importance in churches, there is strong evidence churches are not seriously influencing the character of their average member or society as a whole, and cars, cottages, boating and golf dictate the Sunday activities of more persons than do churches.

Earlier, Rev. Alva S. Roblin of Sudbury, Ont., suggested the church lower standards to create a group of "pastors" to ease the shortage of ordained ministers in Ontario and Quebec.

C.D.M. BUTLER, purchasing agent (eastern area) Bathurst Containers Limited, was elected, president of the Purchasing Agents Association of Montreal, at the annual general meeting of the Association.

Campaign for peace outlined

MONTREAL (CP) — A seven-point campaign for world peace was recommended Tuesday by the international committee of the Canadian Home and School and Parent - Teacher Federation.

Committee chairman Dr. Kenneth Parker, of Charlottetown, presented the report at the opening business meeting of the federation's annual convention, being held this week in nearby Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

The report's recommendations for easing world tension include:

1. A 25-nation parent-teacher conference in Canada in 1963, sponsored by the Canadian federation.

2. The adoption of one of the new African countries to help it establish an educational system suited to its needs.

3. Correspondence on a parent-to-parent level with Asian and African countries.

4. Enrichment of senior high school curricula with material on current international affairs.

5. Government and university aid to foreign students studying in Canada.

6. More effective contact with new Canadians.

7. Closer liaison with such international groups as UNESCO.

Controversy on nuclear weapons flared into the open before the international committee's report was accepted.

John Ricketts, a Toronto public relations executive, charged the committee dropped a proposed anti - nuclear clause for fear of being labelled "pink."

Delegates elected a six-man special committee to plan implementation of the report's proposals.

WITNESS COLLAPSES

Joseph Kleinman testified how his own slight stature subjected him to a long ordeal on one occasion when Mengele was conducting one of his infamous "selections."

The witness said Mengele inspected 2,000 teen - age Jewish boys. He asked one, a kid of 14, how old he was and the lad replied bravely he was 18.

"Mengele was furious," Kleinman said. "He said 'I'll show you' and he ordered hammer, nails and a plank. We stood in death silence."

Mengele ordered the plank nailed onto a goalpost on the football field at such a height that only the big boys could touch it with their heads.

SHORT ONES DIED

All had to pass under it, the witness said. Those who were too short were to be sent to the gas chambers.

Kleinman knew he couldn't make it.

Kleinman said he finally "infiltrated" a group which already had passed the test. Mengele suspected something like that and all had to file beneath the plank once more.

"Again I infiltrated the big boys," the witness said. This time it worked.

The 2,000 were thus divided about evenly. Half of them were gassed.

ETGA Forced To Revise Schedule, Open To Be Held July 22-23, New Rules For Southern Canada Event

The Eastern Townships Golf Association has been forced to revise their schedule for the coming months. This was brought about as several of the club-sponsored events were changed.

The E.T. Open will take place at the Sherbrooke Country Club on July 22-23 and not as previously announced. The E.T. Junior, also at the Country Club, takes place Friday, Aug. 11 while the Lennoxville Field Day wil be held July 15-16.

The Southern Canada Power event takes place at Waterville June 17 and this year it will be run under different conditions, stated Gerry Miltimore, who is in charge of it. It will be based on low gross scores and each club will name their four-man team before the contest. Their gross scores will count for the trophy. It is figured this way more players can take part in the event.

The E.T. Mixed will be played at Asbestos July 16 while the father-son tourney wil be staged at Drummondville. The E.T. Amateur will also be held in Drummondville Aug. 19-20 while the E.T. Senior, which will be played on a different date this year for the first time will be at Cowansville.

The Colby tourney wil take place at the Country Club on July 1. O'Keefe events will be held at East Angus, July 8-9, Mt. Orford, Aug. 5-6, and at Granby St. Paul, Aug. 19. The Coogan Mixed will take place at Lennoxville July 9.

The field days sponsored by the various clubs throughout the Townships remain about the same with the first at Granby St. Paul Saturday and another in Thetford on Sunday, June 11.

The other field days follow:
June 18, Asbestos.
June 24, Dufferin-Heights
July 29, Cowansville.
Aug. 26, Richmond.
Aug. 26-27, East Angus.
Sept. 2-3, Drummondville.
Sept. 10, Thetford.

Sam Snead Qualifies For U.S. Open With Rounds Of 68-70 For Four Under To Lead Detroit Section In Event

NEW YORK (AP) — Sam Snead, playing his 13th and 14th successive rounds of competitive golf in 70 or better, successfully qualified for the U.S Open championship Tuesday.

Snead, who has played in every open championship but one since 1937 without ever winning the title, led the field in the Detroit section with rounds of 68-70—138, four under par.

The leader in Tuesday's qualifying as 85 players filled out the starting field of 150 for the open was Bob Goalby, who fired 66-68—134 at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club.

On Monday 44 players qualified in seven sections with scores of 135 by Don January and Bill Bisdorf the lowest.

Twenty-one players, headed by defending champion Arnold Palmer and the year's leading money-winner, Gary Player of South Africa, were exempt from all qualifying.

OPEN DATE SET

The big championship will be played at the Oakland Hills Club, Birmingham, Mich., June 15-17.

In the Cleveland section for 10 qualifying berths, one of the disappointments was Al Balding of Toronto, who shot a 74-72—146, not quite good enough for one of the 10 places. But as runner-up he is the first alternate.

Bill Ezinicki of North Reading, Mass., formerly of Winnipeg, was one of 20 who qualified.

Goalby was the low man in a field of 56 in which a number of professionals failed to win one of 25 qualifying places. Among those who missed were Ken Venturi, Dave Marr and Tom Nieporte.

Other sectional leaders included 1954 U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol, with 73-65—138 at Cleveland, and Ernie Boros, brother of Julius, the 1952 open champion, at Washington.

Australia's Peter Thomson, four-time winner of the British Open championship, qualified with 142 at Washington. Christy O'Connor of Ireland failed to qualify.

Lavagetto Flys Home To See Calvin Griffith

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Cookie Lavagetto flew back to Minneapolis for a week of enforced vacation today while his Minnesota Twins huddled in ninth place in the American League race with a 12 - game losing string.

Club owner Cal Griffith called Cookie home Tuesday but said he didn't plan to fire the 48-year-old skipper, who has led the team since 1957.

Griffith said "I just hope to get him away from the ball club for a week, take his mind off the team, play golf for a while. Call it a vacation, if you want."

The Twins, formerly Washington Senators were in first place for 10 days this season. Now they're a half-game shy of the cellar

CFTO-TV Sells Rights To CBC On Grey Cup

TORONTO (CP) — The Eastern Canada rights for the Grey Cup game here next Dec. 2, have been transferred to the CBC from CFTO-TV in Toronto after the private station outbid the CBC for the rights from the Canadian Football League.

Co-sponsor Dow Brewery Limited announced the transfer Tuesday.

League and playoff games will be shown over a network of private stations as originally planned by CFTO-TV.

Dow will also co - sponsor weekly half - hour Big Four game highlight programs in the Ontario cities of Fort William, Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, North Bay, Windsor, London, Kingston and Cornwall. All these centres are outside the range of the private station network which will carry the games live.

Donald MacDonald, CBC public relations director, said the contract in final stages of negotiation with Dow and British American Oil Company Limited does not provide for the Grey Cup game being carried on private stations. He said because the coverage of the independent stations is overlapped by CBC outlets, he could see no reason why private stations should carry the game.

Spencer Caldwell, president of CTV Television Network Limited, said all stations should carry the cup classic.

Redlegs Are Still On Top In NL With Dodgers Half-Game Back As Giants Hit Skids Losing To Last Place Club

Cincinnati Redlegs still are on top in the National League race and Los Angeles Dodgers still are just a half-game behind. But what has happened to San Francisco Giants?

The club that led through the month of May has done nothing but swoon in June, losing five of six games this month in a skid to third spot. The Giants have won only two of their last 10 engagements. They dropped their second in a row to Philadelphia Tuesday night as the last-place Phillies grabbed a 13-9 decision.

Cincinnati clung to the lead by beating Milwaukee Braves 7-3. The Dodgers kept the pressure on with an 8-7 comeback victory over the third - place Pittsburgh Pirates St. Louis Cardinals defeated Chicago Cubs 6-2 in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game, called by curfew, ended in a 3-3, 10-inning tie.

Don Demeter and Clay Dalrymple each hit a home run and drove in five runs for the Phillies, who were out-hit 15-12. The Giants died hard, scoring five runs in the ninth inning.

O'DELL LOST IT

Billy O'Dell (1-3) was the loser, giving up a three-run double by Demeter in the first inning. The Giants scored three runs in the first against Frank Sullivan, but reliever Dallas Green then held them in check for his second victory, both at San Francisco, before needing Ken Lehman's help in the ninth inning.

A two-run homer by Gene Freese broke a 1-1 tie for the Reds in the fourth inning against loser Carl Willey (2-3). Gordie Coleman scored in the deciding run with a sacrifice fly in the fifth. Bob Purkey (6-3) was the winner, but gave up all 13 hits by the Braves and needed a one-inning mopup by reliever Jim Brosnan.

The Braves used relief hurler Claude Raymond of St. Jean, Que., in the seventh frame. He was the most successful of the relievers, yielding only one hit.

The Dodgers came from behind three times against the Pirates and beat reliever Elroy Face (2-2) in a three run seventh, scoring the tying run on a two-out pinch triple by Willie Davis and getting the winner on a pinch double by John Roseboro.

TWO BELTED HOMERS

Bill Virdon of the Bucs and Norm Sherry of the Dodgers belted three - run homers off starters Roger Craig and Joe Gibbon. Southpaw Johnny Podres (6-1), out since May 15 with arm trouble, was the winner with a save by Larry Sherry.

The Cardinals replaced Milwaukee in fifth place behind the six-hit pitching of Ernie Broglio (6-5), who has won six straight games from the Cubs over three seasons. Bill White drove in three runs for the Cards, two with a homer, and broke a 2-2 tie with a sacrifice fly in the third inning. Loser Glen Hobbie (4-6) singled home the Cubs' runs in the second.

In the nightcap, the Cubs managed just three hits off southpaw Ray Sadecki, but came from behind for the tie with three unearned runs in the seventh on an error, a walk and a homer by George Altman Sadecki also had two of the Cards' 12-hits off Jack Curtis and Joe Schaffernoth and drove in a run.

Dodgers And Kansas City A's Thrive On Close Games, Lead In Winning One-Run Duels In Their Own Loops

NEW YORK (AP) — The closer the ball games, the better the Los Angeles Dodgers and Kansas City Athletics like it. They have the best won-and-lost records in one-run games.

The Dodgers have won 14 and lost three of 17 one - run decisions for an .824 average. The Athletics top the American League with 7-1 and .875

The Dodgers have won four squeakers from San Francisco Giants, three from St. Louis, two each from Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Milwaukee and one from Chicago Cubs. Their only one-run defeats were administered by the Giants, Reds and Phils.

Sandy Koufax, Dodger lefty, has won his last four by one run, all complete games. The scores were 3-2, 1-0, 2-1 and 4-3 in that order. Roger Craig, Johnny Podres, Stan Williams and Dick Farrell have each won a pair by a single run. Relievers Larry Sherry and Ron Perranoski captured the other tight games.

PIRATES SECOND

Pittsburgh is second in the National League with a 7-3 record for .700. The Pirates are followed by Cincinnati, which has won 11 and lost seven one-run games for .611. Then follow San Francisco 12-10, .545; Chicago 7-8, .467; Milwaukee 8-11, .421; Philadelphia 5-12, .294 and St. Louis 3-13, .188. The figures include Monday's games

The Cleveland Indians are runners-up to Kansas City in the American League with 7-4, .636. Baltimore is third with an 8-5 mark and a .615 average followed by Washington 11-9, .550; Minnesota 8-8, .500; Boston 10-12, .455; Chicago 6-8, .429 and Detroit 5-7, .417. Greenberg To Head White Sox, Offer Refused

CHICAGO (AP)—Hank Greenberg, who made his money by hitting a baseball and then plowed the earnings back into the game as an owner, is the new boss of Chicago White Sox of the American League.

Greenberg emerged as Chicago chieftain Tuesday when he stopped the proposed sale of controlling interest in the club to a syndicate headed by Chicago lawyer Bernard Epton and comedian Danny Thomas.

Greenberg, White Sox vice-president, ailing president Bill Veeck, and board director A. C. Allyn Jr., had been negotiating to sell their 54 per cent of the club for a reported $4,800,000.

Greenberg said no to the Epton offer and that was that. Epton said he would continue efforts to buy the White Sox and that he might take legal action against the Greenberg - Veeck Allyn combine if negotiations are not re-established within 30 days.

Greenberg shrugged off Epton's comments and said: "My job is to get the Sox out of the second division and back into contention in the American League race."

Greenberg said he doesn't "want the responsibility of running the club," but I'll just have to until Bill is able to take over again.

The White Sox are in eighth place in the 10 - team league race.

Als Tangle With Acton Vale Sunday, Away In Afternoon, Home At Night, Monette Tops At Plate With Three

Coaticook Canadiens belted four Alouette pitchers for a total of 13 hits to post their 13-6 victory over Sherbrooke last night at the Park Avenue Stadium in a free-hitting battle. In the other tilt Granby eked out at a 6-4 win over Drummondville. These were the only games on the schedule.

Tonight Waterloo travels to Acton Vale to take on the front-running team in the loop. On Sunday all teams will see action. Sherbrooke will clash with Acton Vale, Granby and Coaticook meet while in the other double Waterloo and Drummondville get together.

Sherbrooke used four pitchers in last night's tilt. Bert Cotterell started the game and last two and one-third innings. Wayne Nugent was next to go to the mound. He finished the inning and faced only two men. Coach Ruel followed and then he called in Claude Prud'Homme to finish the game.

The Canadiens started with three runs in the first frame but the Als bounced right back with two. In the third the Canadiens sewed up the decision when they shoved four runs across the plate for a 7-4 lead. The Als tallied two in the third and one more in the fifth.

Rene Dupont opened on the mound for the visitors but was relieved by Lapierre after two-thirds of an inning. He worked until the fifth when Manager Malloy called Latour in from first base. He finished the game allowing only one hit for the rest of the stretch.

The Als were charged with five errors which didn't help their cause. Normie Dussault got tossed out of the game when he jostled base-umpire Claude Larente on a close call. He was replaced by Jean-Guy Dion.

Jacques Monette was the best at the plate for the Als with three hits. The Als had two new players in uniform Bob Sanville, catcher, and Savard, a third baseman.

Indians Wallop Senators 14-3 To Slide Into First Place, Tigers Lose To White Sox As Yanks Win

Jimmy Piersall is leading the American League in batting at .370, Johnny Romano is on a 21-game hitting streak and the bullpen is strong. Put them all together and Cleveland Indians are in first place with an eight-game winning string.

The Indians, winning 20 of their last 24 games in a climb from fifth place, broke on top by .006 percentage points with their biggest run splurge of the season, walloping Washington Senators 14-3 Tuesday night while Chicago White Sox drove Detroit to second place by defeating the Tigers 7-1.

Piersall had two hits, one a triple, and drove in three runs. Romano, third in the batting race at .359, was 4-for-5, drove in four runs and belted a pair of homers as the Indians matched the longest winning streak in the major leagues this season—eight.

Third-place New York Yankees closed to within three games of the lead by handing Minnesota Twins a 12th straight loss, 7-2. Baltimore Orioles split a doubleheader with Los Angeles, losing 7-3 before Chuck Estrada pitched a two-hitter for a 2-0 decision over the Angels in the nightcap. Boston Red Sox defeated Kansas City Athletics 5-3.

The Indians turned a close game into a runaway with a seven-run sixth inning that beat rookie Joe McClain (5-4). They sent 11 men to bat in the sixth, getting runs on Piersall's triple, a double by Willie Kirkland, three singles, two walks and an error.

Vic Power's solo homer had given Cleveland a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning. Gary Bell (4-4) was the winner with a three-inning mopup by Bob Allen. Tribe relievers have been in on all but one decision in the eight-game streak and have locked up 15 of Cleveland's last 20 victories.

The White Sox, winning two successive games for the first time in almost three weeks, tripped the Tigers behind 5 2-3 innings of three-hit, shutout relief by Turk Lown. The right-handed veteran replaced starter Early Wynn with a run in, three men on base and one out in the fourth inning. He got out of the jam by retiring loser Jim Bunning (4-5) on a foul pop and striking out Jake Wood

Al Smith had four hits, one a homer, and drove in three runs for the Sox, giving them the lead with a two-run single in the fourth.

Southpaw Whitey Ford (8-2) and Luis Arroyo combined for a three-hitter against the Twins, who were shut out on one hit for 6 1-3 innings.

Roger Maris drove in four runs for the Yanks and regained the league home run lead with his 16th, a three-run shot. Jack Kralick (4-4) lost as the Twins suffered their 17th defeat in 18 games. They played under coach Sam Mele after club owner Cal Griffith called manager Cookie Lavagetto home for a week's vacation.

Estrada (3-4), an 18 - game winner a year ago, pitched his first complete game of the season while blanking the Angels on two singles. He struck out 12 men but walked six. The Orioles broke up a shutout duel with Ken McBridge (5-3) with a run in the fifth inning on Whitey Herzog's single.

Los Angeles wrapped up the opener in two innings on two homers — Kent Hunt's three-run shot and a grand-slammer by Lee Thomas—off Milt Pappas (1-3). Eli Grba (5-4) won.

Thomas was hit in the head by an Estrada pitch in the first inning of the nightcap. He escaped severe injury, but McBride then received an automatic $50 fine when he threw at Estrada, firing a pitch behind the Baltimore righthander.

KNOWLTON — (Special) — Joe Richman was guest speaker at the annual Awards Banquet held at Knowlton High School Friday, June 2, to honor the athletes who had taken part in the school's athletic program. Most prizes were given as group awards, instead of singling out individual players.

Vice-Principal S. B. Hardacker was master of ceremonies. D. Wild offered Grace. The various athletic teams of the school were introduced by Doug. Flewwelling, physical education instructor, who also proposed a toast to the athletes. The response was given by Don. Brown.

Mary Quilliams proposed a toast to the coaches, R. Stonefield replying. A toast to Knowlton High School was given by Mr. Hardacker.

A resume of the Athletic Association's year was presented by the president, Lionel Staples, showing that this department of the school had been well organized, most active, and had brought honor to the High School.

The secretary of the Association, Sandra Staples gave the financial statement.

Presentations were made as follows:-

Pee Wee Crests, awarded by Mr. R. Elliott.

Cheer Leaders awards, Mrs. D. Wild.

Felt, Chenille and winged "K"s, Linda Park, Student Council president, and Mr. Hardacker.

Intermediate Boys' Basketball Crests, Donald Badger.

Senior Boys' Basketball Crests, Donald Badger.

Senior Boys' Basketball Team crests and trophies, Mrs. J. L. MacKeen in Mr. MacKeen's absence due to illness.

A plaque honoring the 1959 and 1961 Visser Championship, which was won by Knowlton High School Senior Basketball Team for both years, was unveiled by Mayor Carl C. McClay, chairman of the school board.

Gifts to Mr. Flewwelling and Miss Linda Silverson, who coached the Intermediate Girls' Basketball teams, were presented by Elizabeth Patten, both being accepted by Mr. Flewwelling, in the absence of Miss Silverson.

Managers' Crest was presented to Lois Sanborn by Mr. Hardacker.

In introducing Mr. Richman, Mr. Flewwelling mentioned his career as a football player, with the "Big Four" from 1938 - 1947. During this time he was a member of the Toronto "Hurricanes," R.C.A.F., which won the Grey Cup. He also played for the Alouettes. He coached basketball teams which won the Canadian Senior Basketball Championships in 1950 and 1957 and the Olympic Basketball team in 1950 and 1957.

In his remarks, Mr. Richman emphasized the necessity of self control and determination in all athletic activity. He mentioned the great lack of adult participation in sports, and said such an activity could enrich their lives.

The speaker conducted a question and answer period. One boy asked why the Americans seemed to excel in most sports. Mr. Richman said he thought the reason was that they have more facilities. They start at a very young age in training and they have a greater population, so that, actually, if taken on a percentage basis, their supremacy would not be so great.

Kenneth Flewwelling, vice-president of the Athletic Association, thanked Mr. Richman for his interesting remarks. Mr. Richmand was honored at the banquet by being made a First Class Athlete for Knowlton High School.

Signs Three Year Contract As Club Launches Reconstruction Program With Accent On Youth All Around

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League have launched a major reconstruction program with a front-office shakeup and an accent on youth.

The club, which finished last in the NHL last season, Tuesday named temperamental Phil Watson as coach to succeed Milt Schmidt, who becomes assistant manager.

Schmidt's chief assignment is to get the best young talent at any cost. Watson will prepare it for combat.

"The battle for hockey youngsters is getting more competitive each year," said Schmidt, who recently signed three 15-year-old prospects. "It's getting like baseball-bonuses and all—on a smaller scale.

FIERY PHIL BACK

"We have battled other clubs, including Montreal, but have landed the first three boys we have gone after. I am authorized to tell the kids that if another club offers more money then we first discussed, the Bruins will top it."

Bruins president Walter Brown said "our biggest failure, outside of not winning the Stanley Cup, is not coming up with young players to make us a contender. Now we're going to try to sell the Bruins to young hockey players in Canada and the United States."

Watson, 46, a native of Montreal, was given a three - year contract by the Bruins after spending a year coaching Providence Reds, a Boston farm team in the American League. Previously he had led New York Rangers to the Stanley Cup playoffs in three of four seasons he coached them. He lost the Ranger job after a bout with ulcers.

"I'm delighted at the opportunity to prove I am a big league coach," said Watson. "We may not win too many games at first—I'm no miracle man. This is a complete rebuilding program and the Bruins are going along with the youngsters. But I'm going to insist on a pleasing hockey team which will put on a good show."

Watson is a veteran of 13 seasons as a player in the NHL. He joined Rangers in 1935 and played with them until 1948, with the exception of one season with Montreal Canadiens in 1943-4.

Schmidt, 43, one of the league's greatest centres, played with Boston for 15 seasons and was appointed coach in 1954. He got the Bruins into the Stanley Cup finals twice—in 1957 and 1958—but each time lost to the Canadiens. He is a native of Kitchener, Ont.

Umpires Get Tired Of Hearing Same Remarks Over And Over Again As Fans Take Delight In Ribbing Them

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a baseball umpire gets tired of hearing:

"Kill the umpire!"

"You know what happened to vaudeville? Well, give Blinky McGuire five more years behind the plate, and he'll do the same thing to organized baseball."

"I admit Blinky calls them as he sees them. That's the whole trouble He don't see very many of them."

"Boo-oo-oo-oo-oo—oohhhhh!"

"Forty thousand fans scream he's safe, and Blinky calls him out. Is this a democracy or isn't it?"

"Oh, he's all right except for one thing—he favors the pitcher."

"There's only one thing I really got against him—he favors the batter every time."

"We'll be glad to sell you the life insurance coverage you requested, but because of . . .uh . . .certain inherent risks in your calling, we'll have to ask for a higher premium."

"Okay, little boy blue, bend down and dust the plate. Papa's going to belt the first one over for a homer. That way you don't get a chance to call one wrong."

"Boo-oo-oo-oo-oo—oohhhhh!"

"Don't mind the paying customers, Blinky. Maybe the sun got in all their eyes—not yours."

"Blinky dear, you were talking in your sleep again last night. I warn you for the last time, I simply will not tolerate language like that in our home."

"No, Mr. McGuire, I don't find any indication of ulcers. However, I would like to make a suggestion. One of my associates specializes in psychiatry and I think it would be a good idea if you would. . ."

"Boo-oo-oo-oo-oo—oohhhhh!"

"In your case, Mr. McGuire, I would recommend contact lenses. Then no one would even suspect that. . ."

"Put a mouse in a uniform and give him a little authority and right away he begins to act like a big rat."

"There was no return address on the package, dear. I opened it and there was another tin cup and another white cane. Who do you suppose is sending them all to you?"

"Boo-oo-oo-oo-oo—oohhhhh!"

The long-awaited professional baseball career of bonus baby Jake Gibbs is under way And the price may be right after all.

Gibbs, who banked $100,000 in bonus money from New York Yankees of the American League, made his debut with Richmond Virginians of the International League Tuesday night. He came up with five hits after starting off the evening by being called out of strikes and muffing his first field attempt at third base.

"After I struck out and made that error I began feeling better," he said.

Gibbs, former all - America quarterback at the University of Mississippi, hit singles in the opener of a doubleheader that Richmond won from Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 and 3-1. He got three more, and a run batted in, in the nightcap before flying out his final at-bat.

Coker drove in four runs, while Ted Savage and Jackie Davis also contributed to the Bisons' barrage.

Johnny Glenn's triple drove in the tying run for the Marlins and he scored the winner on Fred Whitefield's sacrifice fly to cap a comeback victory by Charleston.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitching: Turk Lown, Chicago White Sox, worked out of bases-loaded jam when he came on in the fourth inning and knocked Detroit Tigers out of first place in the American League with a 5 2-3 innings of three - hit shutout relief for a 7-1 victory.

First Major All-Star Game Slated July 11

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball will revert to the 1959 all-star game pattern this year with 25-man squads for the first game July 11 at San Francisco and 28-man rosters for the second game, July 31 at Boston.

Charley Segar, secretary-treasurer of baseball, announced the changes Tuesday at a news conference in the commissioner's office.

The eight starters again will be picked by a vote of the players, coaches and managers in each league to be conducted by Frank Slocum of the commissioner's office from June 23 to June 29. The results will be announced Sunday, July 2.

The two managers, Paul Richards of Baltimore for the American League, and Danny Murtaugh of Pittsburgh for the National League, will select the remainders of the squads. For the second game each can add three players to take advantage of any sudden spurts by men not named originally.

Each manager can change any or all of his pitching staff for the second game. Other than pitchers, the other 17 players remain on the squad. Of course, the same eight, with the exception of the pitcher, must start each game and play at least the first three innings.

Game time in San Francisco will be 1 p.m. local time (4 p.m. EDT) and game time in Boston will be 3 p.m. (EDT).

City shoplifting toll—up to $14,000 per store

Light-fingered culprits from eight to 80

By ALISON SCHOENFELD
(Record Staff Reporter)

Sherbrooke merchants are losing as much as $14,000 a year each because of shoplifting activities in this city.

Managers of Sherbrooke stores say that the variety of items stolen is immense and that the people who shoplift range in age from eight to 80.

Most of the stores in downtown Sherbrooke agree that shoplifting is a major problem. Food and five and ten cent stores seem to have the most trouble.

Their losses are greater than the stores that sell a smaller range of larger products.

Several weeks ago one of Sherbrooke's supermarkets put a policewoman on duty for a week. Twelve shoplifters were caught as a result of her observations. One of them, a woman, had merchandise totalling $13 in her shopping bag. She had taken four pairs of nylons and a T-bone steak among other things.

Another couple that was caught worked as a team. One would keep watch while the other stole various items. These particular people have been caught several times. This store loses from $4,000 to $5,000 a year because of shoplifters.

When someone is caught, the manager explained, they are asked to give their name and address and then they are contacted by the stores' lawyer and they have to pay a fine. The amount of the fine depends on how much the person stole.

NO POLICE

Unless the person refuses to give his correct name and address the store does not call the police.

In an attempt to discourage shoplifting this store has put extra cash registers and clerks by the counters on which there are cosmetics and household articles. These articles are most easily pilfered, the manager of the store explained.

One of Sherbrooke's five and dime stores has much the same trouble as the food store. People steal everything from mousetraps to prayer beads and portable television sets, the manager of the store said.

The younger shoplifters take clocks, lighters, transistor radios and jewelry. Older people take sheets, pillow slips and other such articles the manager of the store says.

When they are caught the store sometimes calls the police and prosecutes them. When children are caught pilfering the manager will contact their parents and suggest they come and get the child.

Although the manager of a food store says that most of the people who shoplift there are women between the ages of 45 and 55, the other stores find no such age limit.

One of the five and dime stores reports an annual loss of $14,000 as a result of shoplifters.

One jewelry store reports that little boys about eight years old came into the store and got behind the counter and stole five pocket lighters. The police caught them outside and brought them back.

The owner of the store said, "How they did it I'll never know. There was no one else in the store at the time and yet none of the clerks saw them take the lighters."

One of Wellington Street's drugstore and soda fountains has a different kind of shoplifting problem. The offenders are mostly teenagers who walk out without paying their bills.

"The amounts are too small to make it worthwhile prosecuting them but if they are caught we put a good scare into them", the manager of the store said. Another problem for that store is the people who steal magazines.

Portable radios and portable tape recorders are popular items among shoplifters, another store reports. This store which also has a record bar, employs a plainclothes detective to keep an eye out for shoplifters. The clerks are very careful as well, one of the owners said.

Stores that sell only clothes are not as concerned about shoplifting. One which sells ladies clothes has no problem. The manager explained that the customer is only allowed to have one dress in the changing room at a time and that smaller articles are kept behind the counter rather than out on display.

37 SUITS TAKEN

Another store which sells both men and women's clothes says that the only large amount ever shoplifted there was 37 suits.

Three men would come in at lunchtime and two of them would send off the two clerks on duty for articles leaving the way free for the third man to walk in and steal a couple of suits.

The clerks soon realized what was going on and refused to serve the first two men and they never came back again, the owner of the store said.

Most stores agree that it is the items on display which are stolen most often. One store owner told of children's rings which were displayed on a foam rubber elephant. In three weeks seven rings were stolen so they covered the elephant with clear plastic but the rings were still taken.

One of the pharmacy's reports much the same sort of incidents. Perfume and cosmetics on display are taken, if someone is caught they pretend they forgot to pay for the article, and so they pay and walk out.

Another Sherbrooke store which sells sporting goods, hardware and china and kitchen utensils is presently studying this very problem.

When someone comes into the store who is known to be a suspicious character a bell rings and everyone is out on the alert. People with shopping bags who come in when the store is either shortstaffed or their is a large crowd of shoppers are usually suspect, the manager said.

One man they discovered came in every Friday night with a coat over his arm. When he left several boxes of golf balls went with him. He was stopped and never came back again.

According to national surveys the majority of shoplifters are women with teenagers, second. Canada with a population of 18 million has $60 million dollars worth of merchandise stolen every year.

Why do people shoplift? Sherbrooke merchants had various answers.

The women do it because they'd rather spend the money their husbands gave them for food on beauty aids, one store manager said.

Teenagers do it partly for excitement another manager suggested. Sometimes they sell the goods at a pawn shop and get some money this way.

Sometimes people shoplift because they are too poor to buy. Sherbrooke merchants agree that these cases are very rare.

The Doctor Says

Dr. Hyman

PARANOIA MARKS PERSONS WITH PERSECUTION COMPLEX

Q—Is paranoia a very dangerous disease? Is it safe for a person with paranoia to live outside a mental hospital?

A—Paranoia is a symptom not a disease. Quite literally, it means unsoundness of mind. Actually it is usually used in the sense of feelings or delusions of persecution. Now these feelings or delusions of persecution are of variable importance.

For example, there's the schoolchild who complains that "his teacher has it in for him." A younger daughter complains that her older brother is "always picking on her." A worker says his foreman "hounds him." Until finally you come to the chronic alcoholic or the truly psychotic patient who fancies himself beset by imaginary attackers and assailants, both human and otherwise.

Now, quite obviously, the mildly paranoid person is hardly a candidate for a mental hospital. But when the paranoid symptom is a manifestation of a disease that may result in actions harmful to the person, the family or the community, drastic steps may have to be taken in the common interest. And the nature of that action is a matter for experts to decide.

Q—Is it possible to straighten curvature of a spine in a young child? Does this always require surgery?

A—If the spinal curvature is not too extreme and it is due to a correctible cause such as muscle weakness or a shortened leg, it may be overcome by exercises, the use of braces and adjustments of the shoes.

However, if the cause is not correctible, such as a congenital deformity of the vertebrae or their destruction by a disease like tuberculosis, operative treatment may merit consideration by an experienced orthopedic surgion.

Q—Is Paget's disease curable? If so, how?

A—Paget's disease of the bone is incurable, though it is compatible with many years of comfortable living. When the legs become greatly bowed, care must be exercised to prevent even slight falls that may result in fractures that heal very slowly.

Q— Each year I have about eight attacks of what the coctors call "paroxysmal aricular tachycardia," I have been taught to press against a blood vessel in my throat until the attack stops, usually in 15 minutes to an hour. Isn't it possible to prevent these attacks from coming? Will they ever prove fatal?

A— Paroxysmal irregularities of the heart, such as the one you describe, are very frequent and very , very rarely the cause for more than passing discomfort.

If the cause can be discovered and corrected or eliminated, the attacks may be prevented. Such causes include over-activity of the thyroid gland, overdoses of drugs such as digitalis, excessive smoking and overloading of the stomach with food and drink.

The method for controlling the attack, by pressing on the carotid sinus in the neck, is approved and usually effective. But some patients discover other methods of stopping the attack like doubling over the back of a chair or standing on the head.

The important thing to remember during the attack is the avoidance of panic. Of the thousands of paroxysmal heart irregularities that occur each day, perhaps 99 per cent-plus are over and done with in a very few moments.

The presentation was made by the pastor, Rev. H. Hatt, who expressed the regret of all, at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson, who have been faithful workers in the church.

Become a member of the Harmony Cadet Band

A HELPING HAND — J. P. Belisle, who handles part of the teaching duties in the trumpet section of he Sherbrooke Harmony Cadet Band, gives some pointers to Michael Garant.

Aspiring young musicians from nine to 16 will have an unparalleled opportunity this Thursday to put themselves in line for expert musical instruction and a lot of personal enjoyment.

The opportunity will present itself Thursday evening, June 8, between seven and eight p.m., at Sherbrooke Harmony Band headquarters, 363 King Street West. Those who apply at that time will be considered eligible for membership in the Harmony Cadet Band.

Applicants must be accompanied by a parent.

Those accepted into the band will become in effect junior members of the Sherbrooke Harmony Band organization, which this year proudly celebrates it its seventy-fifth anniversary.

The Harmony Cadet, organized in the late 1940's, is essentially a 'farm' organization for the senior band. After several years of playing in the junior outfit young musicians become eligible to move up to full fledged membership in the 45 member senior unit.

Composed of 23 young bandsmen last year, the Harmony Cadet unit contains woodwind, brass and percussion sections. Members receive on the average one individual lesson and attend one group practice each week.

New applicants accepted will receive five individual lessons and then form in with the group. Expert instruction is provided by experienced older members of the Sherbrooke Harmony Band.

Those without instruments of their own will be supplied by the parents organization.

The benefits of the Harmony Cadet Band are many. Officials of the enterprise have summed them up in an equation: Proper discipline and mental attitude, plus companionship and the opportunity to develop a hobby and musical culture, equal personal pleasure and gain and the satisfaction of participating in a community effort.

Start the day right with a good breakfast

By LOUISE MOORE

A group of outstanding youngsters representing teen-agers across country declared at a recent National Youth Power conference in Chicago that adults in the family must show a stronger leadership in effecting closer relationship with their youngsters, especially at mealtime.

They felt that the family should dine together during at least two of the daily meals to preserve and strengthen family unity.

FOOD CONFERENCE

The conclave was sponsored by the National Food Conference. Paul Willis, president of grocery manufacturers of America said, "We should emphasize food for social aspects as well as for nutritive value and enjoy mealtime as a family retreat from the daily hustle and bustle."

So gals, if you are in the habit of cooking up any old dish and tossing it on the table with a come and get it attitude, don't be surprised if Dad and the youngsters lag in coming to the dining room table.

Who but the family deserve the best. Plan meals as though company was coming. Serve dishes the family really enjoys and serve them attractively. Use your best linens, china and silver—what are you saving it for? Make a habit of better breakfasts as a start for a better day. Even the most ardent juice and toast addict won't refuse bacon and eggs when they appear of a morning.

A GOOD BREAKFAST

A good breakfast provides protein, vitamins and minerals, materials needed to build and repair the body and to help keep you healthy. It provides fuel for body energy and besides it tastes good.

Fruit — It is a must for breakfast. It gives zest, and citrus fruits especially are outstanding in vitamin C. If you don't get some at this meal you are likely to fall short of your daily quota. An orange, half grapefruit or glass (4-ounce) of citrus juice, fresh, frozen or canned, goes far toward meeting vitamin C needs for the day.

Tomatoes, fresh or canned, are also good sources of vitamin C. Strawberries, canteloupe and some other fresh fruits are valuable for vitamin C and can take their turn when in season.

Cerals and Bread—Cereals and bread give added protein, iron and other minerals, vitamins and food energy. Choose whole grain and enriched breads as they have added values of B-vitamins and minerals Butter and margarine used as spread help out with food energy and with vitamin A.

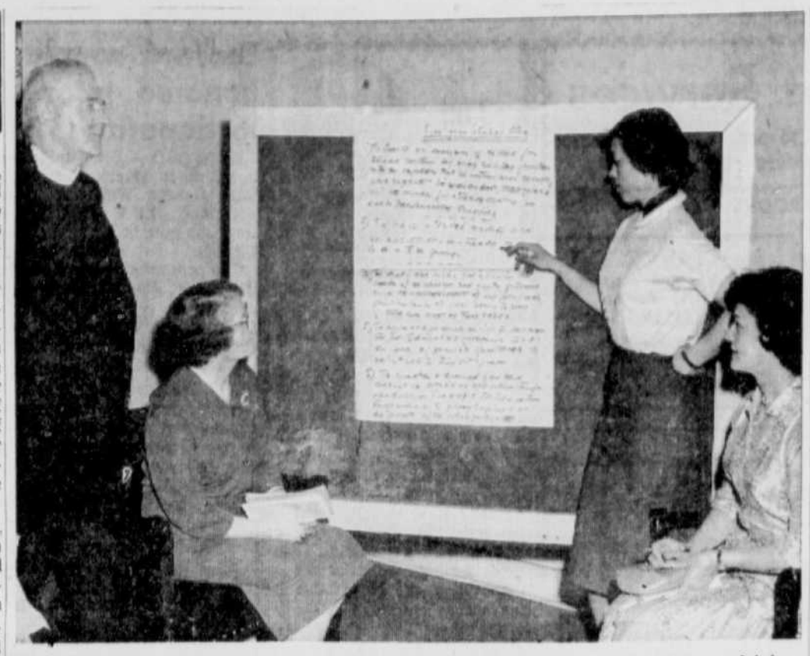
Milk—Without a regular supply of milk in meals it's hard to get enough calcium—an important mineral for bones and teeth—and the B-vitamin riboflavin. Milk is also a top source of good protein.

Normal healthy adults need a pint or more of milk in some form each day. Young children should have 3 to 4 cups, older ones 1 quart.

(TNS).



STUDY PERIOD — Shown above is Miss B. Gibaut, Youth Worker in Training, explaining the Five year Strategy Plan that is a result of the National Conference of G.A., J.A. and Youth Workers secretaries held in Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., recently. J. A. conference held at St. Peter's

A conference of leaders of Diocesan Junior Auxiliary groups was held at St. Peter's Church Hall, Sherbrooke on June 3.

The meeting began with prayers and an address by Rev. J. Franklin.

Mrs. J. R. Brown of Drummondville then welcomed the Leaders and introduced Mrs. Broscomb of Danville who is to succeed her as Diocesan Junior Secretary at the end of June.

Mrs. Brown announced the formation of a Diocesan Junior Library which is now in circulation among the various branches of the JA. She also referred to the Newsletter which is issued periodically during the year giving news of the activities of the groups, and concluded by thanking the Leaders for their support and help during her term of office.

Miss Barbara Gibaut, Diocesan youth worker in training then discussed various aspects of programme planning for the groups. This gave rise to a lively discussion which had to end all too soon at 4.30 p.m.

Lunch and Tea were kindly served by the mothers of the members of St. Peter's Junior Auxiliary.

Miss Joan Wark bride elect feted at shower

Miss Joan Wark, a June bride-to-be was feted at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. T. Saunders, Warren St. Lennoxville last Thursday night.

Upon her arrival she was presented with a corsage of lilacs and pansies. Mrs. A. Drennan, grandmother and Mrs. H. J. Wark, mother of the bride-to-be were presented with corsages of the same.

The Misses Judy Cathcart and Sandra Majury presented Miss Wark with a basket of gaily wrapped gifts from a group of neighbours and friends.

After she unwrapped the gifts, Miss Wark graciously thanked everyone for the useful gifts that she had received.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. Cathcart and the Misses Esther and Alice Bassett with the grandmother and mother of the bride-to-be pouring coffee and tea respectively at a table adorned with a lace cloth centered with a bowl of yellow tulips and pansies, flanked by yellow tapers.

MR. and MRS ALAN McKERGOW, of Clark Hill, Waterloo, are shown cutting the wedding cake on the occasion of their twenty-fifth anniversary held last Sunday.

Waterloo couple feted

WATERLOO — (Special) — Sunday, June fourth was the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McKergow, Clark Hill.

A very pleasant "At Home" was arranged, as a complete surprise, by Mr. and Mrs. Roger McKergow at the home of the "bridal couple", who returned from a drive to find their house taken over by relatives and friends.

The table was covered with a white linen and lace cloth, centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by white tapers in silver holders. The wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. H. H. Cowling, aunt of Mrs. Roger McKergow.

Miss Taylor, aunt of Mr. McKergow and Mrs. Gordon Kendall, aunt of Mrs. McKergow both of Montreal poured.

Mrs. Roger McKergow was assisted in serving by Mrs. Kenneth McKergow of Kingston and neighbors on Clark Hill.

Margaret McKergow passed a guest book for everyone to sign as a memento of the day for her father and mother.

The couple received numerous gifts of silver.

This popular couple have always lived in Waterloo and are prominent in their church, social service work, library, Eastern Star and many community affairs of the town.

The large number of friends who called to express their good wishes was a fitting tribute to two who have always taken their part in town activities.

Ruth Millett

Woman who's widowed is apt to lose friends, too

Since a large percentage of today's wives someday will be widows, the indifference of women who still have husbands to women who have lost theirs is hard to understand.

It exists just the same. This column continually receives letters from widows that express pretty much the puzzled disillusionment in the following letter.

"My husband died two years ago. While he was alive we had a close circle of friends, couples we thoroughly enjoyed and entertained from time to time.

"I can truthfully say that we entertained more often than most because we both enjoyed being with old friends and making new ones. We also tried to be especially thoughtful about inviting newcomers to our home.

"I thought we had so many friends and such a well-established place in our community that I would not feel left out of the town's social life when I was left alone.

"But, though our friends rallied around me wonderfully at the time of my husband's death —all but two couples have drifted away in just two years.

"I still am invited to strictly 'female' get-togethers, teas and luncheons, and such. But I'm no longer included in evening parties where there are both men and women.

"I realize that I am now only half of a couple—but should that make such a difference to friends of long standing? I wouldn't be writing this letter if this were just my problem. But I think what has happened to me happens to most widows—and, somehow it seems unnecessarily unkind. I should have said unnecessarily thoughtless, for I am sure that none of the couples who use to be such close friends actually mean to be unkind."

Care for Woolens

If you want your woolen dresses to look spruce next fall, now's the time to have them cleaned and bagged. If you wait until autumn, they will have collected more dirt and wrinkles through the summer months.

The hall had been made gay with apple blossoms, lilacs and streamers of white and silver.

The honored guests were met at the door, where Miss June Chapman presented a pink carnation corsage to Mrs. Mason, and William Mason, the best-man of 25 years ago, presented his brother with a white boutonniere.

At lunch time they were seated at a table, centred with a cake made by Mrs. Cecil Mason and decorated by Miss Irene Williams of Sweetsburg. Adorning the cake were some of the decorations used 25 years ago. The cake was flanked by candles in silver holders with a miniature bride and groom in front.
