

Robber holds up bank again

A daring holdup of Imperial Bank, 4825 Sherbrooke street west, by the slim bespectacled robber who held up the same bank three weeks ago took place yesterday at 12:25 p.m. No information was available immediately on the amount of money taken or the identity of the clerk held up.

Upon receipt of a call from the bank three police cars converged on the area around the bank. The robber successfully by passed a roadblock set up on Grosvenor by mounting the curb and driving on the lawn around the police patrol car. Another police car in pursuit went up on the curb on the other side of the roadblock car.

Police Chief Ed Harper said, "The robber went up Grosvenor, through the light at Cote St. Antoine road, the wrong way on N.D.G. avenue and then through a lot of side streets until we finally lost him."

"He had all the luck on his side and we had none. He just got the breaks. Then too, he didn't care how he drove. He went like a maniac and we had to remember our moral obligation to drive with care and not endanger the lives of innocent people."

"His description is that he is five feet nine, about 30 years old, slim and he wears glasses. He is white and English speaking. He had on a brown business suit."

"The clerk who was held up is downtown going over mug shots to see if he can identify him."

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

July 1 to 7

Generally sunny, very warm, sultry and humid, with scattered afternoon or evening thunder showers. Mainly fair and warm, but occasional morning drizzle in the mountains. Temperature range this week, nights down to 45 degrees F. in the south, and up to 90 degrees F. some days; 35 - 85 degrees F. in the north and east.

Sunny, hot and humid into middle of the week with risk of heavy thunderstorms and hail, even tornado conditions for some places, then cool gusty winds. Other years Montreal has had a flash thundershower and floods at this time.

Another pleasant weekend, very warm and humid with morning mists, but blue sky afternoons, light breezes and very local evening showers.

This week in Westmount

By VALENTINA RAHR

This is the season for petitions in Westmount, it seems. Running neck and neck with the petition to have traffic lights installed at St. Catherine and Park Place, is another organized by Mr. and Mrs. J. MAJOR, 19 Stayner street, dealing with rental control. Residents are signing readily, with more than three hundred names already on the former list; and several hundreds on the latter, with signature collectors frequently ringing the same doorbells during the same evenings.

Many residents hoping to have traffic lights to facilitate St. Catherine at Park Place, are requesting "some supervision and protection" during heavy traffic hours in the morning before 9 a.m. and after 4:30 p.m. Some claim it takes more than twenty minutes to cross during these times, with adults taking risks to get through.

The few blocks between Metcalfe avenue and The Glen have become a sort of speedway, with drivers often disregarding pedestrians and honking horns to clear the road. MRS. THOMAS, policeman who crosses students four times a day, will no longer be there after this week, and parents are fearful of the potential dangers at this point to children and adults after school vacation starts.

Suggestions on the kind of traffic lights to be installed at Park place favor the three-way type that is in use at present at the top of Stratheona avenue on Cote St. Antoine road.

MRS. WILSON 118 Blenheim Place, whose Siamese cat disappeared Tuesday, would welcome any information regarding his whereabouts from anyone who might have seen him. "MINKIE" is a blue point Siamese, candy colored tinged with bluish grey on his ears, paws and tail, with blue eyes. Please phone WE. 2-3540 if you happen to see this beautiful pet around.

A successful painting picnic, the first one organized this year, took place Saturday when a chartered bus conveyed a group to the Old Mill Art School, Elizabethtown, N.Y., from Westmount Park. A demonstration was given by the resident artist E. Stanley Turnbull, renowned portraitist. The model who sat for the portrait was CHRISTINA RAHR, King's School student. After the demonstration Mr. Turnbull presented the painting to Christina.

Another painting picnic is scheduled to take place on Saturday, July 8 (weather permitting), and its destination will be Emileville de St. Bagot, P.Q. Please contact BEA ALAN, HU. 1-7019, for reservations. Chartered buses will leave as usual from Westmount Park and Academy road.

Taxi drivers are often blamed for various misdeeds and passengers are warned about them. But Westmount Taxi service can be commended — or at least one driver can be commended. Recently a first edition book by author BLUEBELL PHILLIPS called "SOMETHING ALWAYS TURNED UP" was left inadvertently in a Westmount taxi. The passenger wasn't sure where it had been left, and on a long shot phoned the taxi company to make a report. A few hours later a driver returned the book in question, and was too shy to accept the reward offered.

Verdun Protestant patients entertained by Unity Talent

Registration for the 1961 Unity Boys' Club Summer Program began last Monday morning and it is anticipated that a banner season is in store for Unity's summer-time population. This morning, over 100 youngsters and their parents left Club Headquarters en route for Granby, Quebec where the entire group was to spend the day at the Zoo.

The summer staff includes Charles Tyler, John McDonough, Jacques McCormack and Linda Vaux.

Circulars describing this year's program are available at the Club and can be obtained without charge from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

LEARN TO SWIM

Swimming medicals for those taking part in the Learn to Swim project at the Y.W.C.A. takes place at the Club on Wednesday morning, July 5th, at 8:45 a.m.

The "Learn to Swim" at the "Y" is an excellent opportunity for all beginners to learn how to swim. The cost for the course is nominal and all non-swimmers should take advantage of this opportunity.

Please register early.

Horn blower irks cabby $25 worth

Turning off Sherbrooke street south on Victoria avenue on a red light in front of a southbound Cadillac driver June 12 cost a Westmount cab driver $5 and costs. That was only the beginning.

Constable William M. Kavanaugh, on plain clothes duty, heard the horn of the Cadillac sounding off in the intersection and watched the horn blowing Cadillac pursue the errant cab down Victoria.

He told the court, "the taxi went 25 feet and put on its brakes; then it went 100 feet and braked, all the time it stayed in the middle of the street so the Cadillac couldn't pass it. Then, when it got to Somerville avenue it put on its brakes again."

The cab driver explained one of the stops as being to "let a police car pull away from the curb to go after the guy who was blowing his horn."

The Cadillac driver attributed the stops of his quarry to his horn blowing.

Acting Municipal Court Judge Alex McT. Stalker disclaimed any trouble with the brake charge and told the taxi man, "You were only trying to annoy the driver behind you. This is a very serious and dangerous practice. I fine you $20 and costs. Also, your license must be marked."

The Cadillac driver received a suspended sentence on a charge of sounding his horn unnecessarily.

It's pretty hard to convince the kids that the shortage of teachers is a calamity.

Rotary Club carnival draws record crowds

The 21st annual carnival of the Westmount Rotary Club held at the Artificial Ice Rink ended Saturday night with a final night record attendance of close to 4,500. A success, retiring president Ron Mackay told the crowd waiting for the draw for the 1961 Pontiac, "Thanks to you, we have raised enough money with our carnival to provide all the furnishing and equipment for Prospect House, residence for elderly, recently purchased, renovated and turned over to the Family Service Association by the Westmount Rotary Club."

The drawing for the car at 11:30 Saturday night, which was the peak of the week for a lot of carnival attendees, was done by Tanita Lake 7, 5463 Upper Lachine road. She drew the name of A. Crump, 1180 Mackay street.

When Mr. Crump's name was read out by Ron Mackay, he emitted a surprised squawk, according to bystanders, but was calm and composed when he mounted the platform to receive the plaudits of the crowd of losers. The car was formally presented to Mr. Crump following the Rotary meeting Wednesday at Victoria Hall.

No estimates were available on how many chances were bought on the automobile during the five-day carnival. Mr. Crump's ticket, purchased Saturday night, numbered in the 7900. The three cubic feet square rotating drum from which the drawing was made was over half full of green ticket stubs.

When asked Saturday night which of the 33 booths was the biggest drawing card, Charles W. Wright, who managed the carnival, answered, "All of them."

He explained, "Over the years we have dropped booths which were not too successful until now each one draws its proportionate share of the business. They all do well."

He went on to tell about this year's carnival. "We had a good opening night. In fact, we only had one bad night. That was Wednesday night when it rained so hard. Only about 700 or 800 people turned out then. Tonight we have close to 4,500."

Tonight is a record night both people and money-wise. Thursday and Friday were record night money-wise."

"How long have I worked on the carnival? Ever since it started. This is the 21st one. I started on the refreshment stand. There are a few others that have worked on the carnival since the beginning still around besides me. Let's see, there's W. F. Close, W. G. Moxley and there there's Percy Jarman."

"It has been a big success. That is thanks to the good will of the people who came out to support the carnival and enjoy themselves with their families. Also, we have had wonderful cooperation from the press and the city."

"Westmount lets us use the rink free. Then, we get cooperation from the Police and Recreation Departments which is very helpful."

"We have had the carnival on this same site since the beginning. We held it here 15 years before the rink was built."

"Previous carnivals bought and renovated Prospect House. This one will furnish and equip it. Family Service Association does all the work on the residence for the elderly. We just pick up the tab."

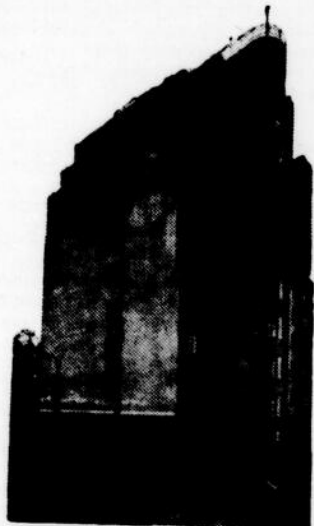

Up until the last minute Rotarians made their carnive pitches for charity. "Try your luck, try your luck, you can do it, you can do it, only ten cents a throw, throw a dime on a plate for a panda, fifteen winners tonight, try

Local Liberals united for federal elections

John S. Corbett, 65 Forden avenue, elected president of the new St. Antoine-Westmount Liberal Association Wednesday night at the Montreal Reform Club, told the 125 assembled Liberals, "Our party unfortunately is not calling the next election so we must be prepared to fight and win at any moment".

According to a club spokesman, A. K. Hugessen, J. Richard Hyde, QC, MPP, and Senator Thomas Vien.

Vice-presidents are: Gustave Meunier, W. Lonsdale Holland, Mrs. J. O. Asselin, Mrs. Maurice Cormier, Mrs. L. W. Holland, Nantel David, Edward McCrory, Reuben Spector and the Right Honorable Lord William Shaughnessy.

Honorable president of the new organization is George C. Marler. Honorary vice-presidents are: Shirley Dixon, QC, J. Bruce Brown, Lazarus Philips, Senator

Mrs. R. W. Coristine, Mrs. Maurice Cormier, John Foch, W. Lonsdale Holland, Gustave Meunier, John J. Pepper, Reuben Spector and the Right Honorable Lord William Shaughnessy.

Other members of the Board of Directors besides those listed as being on the executive and Mr. Corbett are: Ignace Aumont, Mrs. J. O. Asselin, J. E. Birks, Hector A. Caron, Nantel David, Mrs. Jacob Elkin, Miss Constance Gervais, Mrs. W. L. Holland, J. Richard Hyde, QC, MPP, Mrs. Frank Lafferty, Richard Lord, Honorable George C. Marler, PC, Edward McCrory, P.E. Prudhomme, Granger Robertson and Pierre Tellier.

The organization, which is the fighting force for the federal election of the local Liberal party members, includes the Westmount-St. George Liberal Association, the St. Antoine-Westmount Women's Liberal Association and the Westmount Young Liberal Association.

Beloved math teacher of 31 years retires

E. W. "Ed" Smith, popular mathematics department head at Westmount Senior High School, retires this month after teaching at Westmount high school since 1930. Before coming to Westmount, Mr. Smith was principal of Sherbrooke High School and of St. Lambert High School. He taught in the province for 40 years.

To honor him at his retirement, present and former members of the Westmount Senior High staff entertained Mr. Smith at dinner Tuesday at Dorval Airport. Principal Norman W. Wood and former principals H. B. Parker and R. O. Bartlett attended.

The staff presented Mr. Smith with a set of golf clubs. Earlier, Westmount Senior High students presented him with a golf bag and cart.

Mr. Smith will retire to his farm at Danville.

Across the rink sunbonnetted Philip R. Gosling and Gordon Thompson made their pitch for customers' quarters. The Rotarians' hats were wonderful. Swiss mountaineers' and bridesmaids at gypsy wedding setting the styles among the businessman.

Perhaps the hats took the men's minds off their feet. Later, at the end of the evening, flat feet were admitted to prevail among Westmount Rotary Club members, but "It was worth it," said one, "and we'll do it again next year."

WE SAY YOU SAY

Local petitions are healthy sign

PETITIONS on rent control and installation of traffic lights at Park place and Ste. Catherine street, being circulated among the residents of Westmount, are in themselves a healthy sign of interest in government.

The Examiner for one is delighted.

We venture a guess that the Mayor and Council welcome these and any other expressions of opinion on their decisions and conditions in Westmount. If people make known their opinions on public issues, those who govern can do so with much less by guess and by golly.

The next pleasant surprise will be when a substantial number of Westmounters attend City Council meetings. It would only be a short step then to a citizen rising to ask a thoughtful question.

Then we will have a real town meeting.

Bike collisions becoming serious

THE bike season is with us again. We are appalled at the number of boys and girls, mostly boys, who are involved in collisions with motor vehicles on the streets of Westmount.

Fortunately, thus far no child has been seriously injured. We would not be sticking our necks out too far though if we predicted it is only a matter of time.

With school out the hours have substantially increased during the week when youthful bicyclists abound on Sherbrooke street and other busy thoroughfares. The ideal solution would be to have a bicycle path abutting each street. Perhaps setting aside the sidewalk on one side of every street for use by bicyclists, skaters, scooters and wagons would be feasible.

Some solution should be found before some child is killed on our streets. The City has the power to set aside certain streets as play

Academy road tenant anti rent decontrol

Sir: Many tenants, including myself, are still under rent control, who are living in old apartment buildings, with disadvantages and hindrances. Such people, most of whom are of moderate incomes, will be sore pressed if rental controls cease. Is the City of Westmount only thinking of landlords?

I would ask such individuals to speak up, and show how many there are, and what a difficult time is in store for us if rental controls come to an end.

May I ask what right the City has to plunge a lot of people into difficulties?

Academy Road Tenant.

Watch out for boys on bikes

Watch out for Boys on Bikes season is in full swing this week, apparently. Three Westmount youths on two wheelers collided with larger four wheeled vehicles to their hurt, according to police reports.

Nick Willis, 11, 416 Roslyn avenue, pedalling on Sherbrooke street got hit by a taxi emerging from the parking lot in front of Victoria hall. He was not seriously damaged, suffering only a bruise on his right thigh and a slight bump on his head.

The next day, Hank Anamat, 10, 31 Bruce avenue, biked through a lane below and parallel to Dorchester street into a car going south on Greene avenue. Hank said he did not see the car.

Tuesday, Allan Lawee, 9, 694 Aberdeen avenue, couldn't get his bicycle brakes to work fast enough to avoid running into a car at the intersection of Aberdeen and Bellevue avenues. Mrs. W. Andrew Grier, 29 Bellevue avenue, reported that when Allan ran into the right front side of her car he dented her right front hubcap.

Allan's bike damage amounted to a broken front wheel and bent front fender and fork. Personal injuries were two chipped upper teeth and scraped right knee.

streets. If this were done the bicyclists, particularly the younger ones would have a place where they could enjoy this pleasant pastime and acquire sufficient skill to venture out later on into dangerous world of mechanization in which we live.

Excerpts relating to Westmount

From

A New Picture of Montreal

by W. GREIG

1846

On the evening of this memorable day Maisonneuve visited the Mountain. Two old Indians who accompanied him, having conducted him to the summit, told him that they belonged to the nation which formerly occupied the country he beheld.

"We were," said they, "a numerous people, and all the hills which you see to the East and to the South were peopled by us. The Hurons drove from thence our ancestors, some of whom took refuge with the Abenakis, some with the Iroquois and some remained with their conquerors".

The Governor urged the old men to invite their brethren to return to their hunting grounds, assuring them that they should want for nothing and that he would protect them from every attack of their enemies. They promised to do so, but it does not appear that they were successful.

The mountain, which is a very conspicuous object, consists of two distinct hills between which passes one of the leading avenues into the city. There are roads by which the circuit of either mountain may be easily made, and which, from the many charms of its scenery, is a very favorite drive.

The slopes of the mountain are wooded nearly to the summit, but toward the base the forest trees have been succeeded by orchards that produce apples, pears, and plums of the choicest flavor; and it is worthy of remark that although the fruit of the Island is universally excellent, all other parts yield to the vicinity of the mountain in the luxuriance of the orchards and the deliciousness of the fruits they produce.

The Priests' Farm

The Priests' Farm is situated on the side of the Mountain a little to the left of the road leading to Cote des Neiges and St. Laurent. It consists of intensive gardens and orchards, and several acres of land which are cultivated as a farm for the benefit of the Seminary, to which it belongs.

The buildings are substantial and commodious, and occupy a position which commands a lovely view of the city, the River St. Lawrence, and the fine country in front. They are in summer the weekly resort of the professors and pupils of the Seminary and College and nothing can be better adapted for exercise and recreation from sedentary employment.

They march to and from the place in regular order and are generally accompanied by a band of music, formed from amateurs of their own body.

The place was formerly known by the appellation of the Château des Seigneurs, but now frequently called La Maison des Prêtres.

Mechanics Institute

The Mechanics Institution Association of persons with a view to the benefit of the working classes, have, in many parts of Britain, been undertaken with spirit, and been productive of much good under proper management, they are well adapted to promote not only the mental improvement but the moral benefit of those in whose behalf they are undertaken. By inducing those who would otherwise spend their earnings at the tavern, to pay some attention to the improvement of their minds, and by placing within their reach the means of becoming acquainted with the principles of their art, and of gaining otherwise useful knowledge, a great advantage is conferred upon them.

The institute of this city was founded after the model of those at home; the greater part of its members being artisans, by whom its affairs were chiefly conducted. It commenced in 1828 and for several years was carried on with much harmony and success.

An interruption of its meeting occurred about three years since, and was followed by the two winters insurrection, which effectually precluded all other topics than those which related to self-defense.

In addition to the ordinary exercises allotted to the hours of meeting lectures on the principles of Mechanics and Natural Philosophy were occasionally delivered by Mr. Skakel, whose valuable collection of apparatus, and familiar knowledge of the subject, enabled him to render them highly interesting and instructive.

It were to be wished that, on the establishment of tranquility amongst us, the operations of this useful Society may be resumed, as it is capable, in many respects, of being made conducive to the improvement of a valuable class of our citizens in habits and intelligence. Apparatus and books, to the value of 150 pounds, remains ready for use, in the care of its officers.

Called The Mountain

The hill on the west, in the rear of the city, though somewhat unaptly dignified with the title of The Mountain is in reality a most interesting object. It is seen finely rising from the city with its graceful and well defined outline.

Its summit is almost entirely covered with trees, which, though not of large growth from the shallowness of the soil there, give a softened and cheerful appearance to the scene. The sides of it present numerous beautiful spots, several of which the wealthier citizens have selected as the sites of elegant and retired dwellings, from which the views of the city, and adjacent country on both sides the "mighty river" are exceedingly delightful; while its base and more gentle risings are covered with farms, and gardens, and hundreds of acres of most productive orchards, abounding with trees which bear fruit of the finest quality.

West End scouters picked for Jamboree

Boy Scouts and Scouter leaders of the Western area are getting ready to take part in the Third Canadian Scout Jamboree, to be held at Connaught Ranges, near Ottawa, July 6 to 15.

District scouts who will attend, along with their unit affiliation are: Troop Leader J. Sklofsky, Willingdon; D. N. Slone and M. D. Ornstein, Shaare Zedek; L. M. Wolman, Lord Alexander; K. R. Mountfield, Knox Crescent and Kensington; R. Bourne, Trinity Memorial; R. E. Taylor, Knox Crescent and Kensington; E. J. Marshall, St. Thomas; J. E. McMahon, St. Columba; M. B. Campbell, Willingdon; R. M. Capper, T. H. Tyrell and J. F. Meuris, St. Leo's, Westmount.

These Scouts have been selected as members of Quebec's contingent totalling 165 persons, which will assemble at Camp Anderson near Choisy, 40 miles west of Montreal July 3.

They will spend three days forming troops, getting acquainted and becoming familiar with equipment, which includes tents of a new design built especially for the Quebecers who will introduce it to Canadian scouting.

The entire contingent will move to the Jamboree Thursday, July 6, in a special train. Opening ceremonies will be held on July 7 with Governor-General Georges Vanier, Chief Scout for Canada, presiding.

Theme is "Scouting From Sea to Sea" and the 10-day program will allow as much time as possible for Scouts from across Canada to meet, get acquainted, swap souvenirs and taste each other's cooking.

Four sub-camps at the Jamboree will be made up so as to mix scouts from across Canada. The sub-camps are named for famous Canadian explorers — Cartier, Champlain, Thompson and Mackenzie. John W. Miner of Granby will be a sub-camp commander.

Last week, Albert Nicholson, 3440 Broadway, Lachine, was acquitted of a hit-and-run charge growing out of a collision of his automobile with one parked on Hillside avenue toward midnight May 27. A companion summons for turning left in front of the pursuing police car from the right hand lane of Ste.

Catherine street into the Glen a few minutes later terminated in a fine of $5 and costs. Mr. Nicholson's lawyer was Irwin B. Cohen.

Acting Judge Alex McT. Stalker remarked, "I am satisfied there was an accident and I am satisfied that the accused's car was involved. However, I am going to give Mr. Nicholson the benefit of the doubt on the matter of intent and find him not guilty".

Mr. Nicholson testified, he did not know his two-toned green Chevrolet was involved in an accident until police told him his car radio was on at the time, also, he was talking to his wife.

Mrs. Nicholson testified she felt a jar at the time of the collision and thought their car had a flat tire. She insisted upon getting out of the car to inspect them.

Damage to the Nicholson car consisted of a continuous crease along the right side. The other car, belonging to William Ross, 12172 Taylor boulevard, Ahuntsic, was scratched on the left front fender and bumper. Police found green paint chips under the Ross car, which they claimed matched the paint on Mr. Nicholson's car.

At the time of the accident, Hillside avenue was parked solid with cars on both sides of the street, leaving insufficient room for more than one car to navigate safely. The police witnessed the collision.

FSA prexy manages Westmount B of M

Frederic H. Peters, 561 Grosvenor avenue, has been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal, Claremont avenue and Sherbrooke street. He succeeds Alan G. Burrirt, now manager of the Sherbrooke and Drummond streets office.

Mr. Peters was born in Calgary. Educated at Queens University, Kingston, he joined the B of M in Montreal. In 1952, he was appointed assistant manager of the Sun Life Building branch, and two years later, assistant manager, the Montreal main branch, Place d'Armes. Most recently, he has been engaged on special duties at the head office.

Mr. Peters is president of the Family Service Association and a director of the United Red Feather Services.

Mr. Burrirt, the departing manager, has been at the Claremont and Sherbrooke branch since 1958.

Local 10th graders attend UN seminar

Four Westmount 10th grade students are participating this week in the first United Nations seminar to be held in the province of Quebec. The study program and workshop at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, began Monday and ends at 4 p.m. this afternoon.

Mary Feltin, Cecelia Leslie and Joseph Littner, all Westmount Senior high school students, are sponsored by the I.O.D.E. Fred Fisher Chapter, the Westmount Senior High Alumni Association and the Jewish Junior Welfare League, respectively. Martine de Pooter, a student at St. Paul's Academy, is attending under the aegis of the St. Paul's Academy Alumni Association.

A model General Assembly to be conducted by the students from 1.30 to 4 this afternoon will discuss (1) establishment of a permanent peace force, (2) amendment of the UN Charter to exclude the article dealing with non-involvement in domestic affairs and (3) recognition of the People's Republic of China.

Boy and bike are reunited

When Geoffrey Chambers, 8, 251 Kensington avenue, found his bicycle was no longer where he left it Tuesday, in the baseball park by Westmount junior high school, he did not need any advice on where to go.

"I decided I would have to go to the Police Department," he said Wednesday at the counter in the Westmount Police Station.

He identified his bicycle, which was one of two standing in the hall. After his ownership had been verified by the officer on duty by checking his license number against the files, he signed a receipt and wheeled off his one-year old blue New Hudson bike.

He told police he would never leave it lying around again.

She broke zoning law, fined $20

The woman proprietor of 325 Melville avenue was found guilty Wednesday of establishing a three-family residence in a two-family zone and of installing plumbing without a permit. Fines totalled $20 and costs.

The upstairs tenant testified the landlady showed her the two second floor dwelling units and arranged for the signing of a lease of one of the units between her and the occupants of the other second floor unit as lessors.

Since complaint by the city, the original second floor tenants have been released from their lease of the entire second floor by the landlady and a new lease of the whole floor to the present tenant executed.

Commissions are not paid on arguments won, but on sales made.

Clues to Cashword Explained

ACROSS:

1. MEDITATION is preferred. MEDITATION, or thought, may curb aggressive tendencies, as when it gives one time to think better of committing a hostile act. MEDITATION is not as likely; it would depend on the type of medicine and what it is meant to do.

9. ALLOW is better. A student may complain that a teacher did not ALLOW him enough time, as when she may have rushed him in covering new work. ALLOT would suggest giving him her own time, and in most schools such personal instruction is not possible.

11. TIME is chosen. A car may do a man little good if he lacks TIME for pleasure driving and trips. If he lacks a TIRE, it would do him no good at all.

13. SNIP, yes. O woman may be irked if she has to sew a SNIP on a new dress, for she would expect the dress to be in perfect condition. SNAP is not as certain; it may be her own idea to make the collar more secure.

18. SPIN is required. When a river's current is swift, one might get dizzy on a SPIN, as a swift sail, for it might induce seasickness. One is not likely to get dizzy on a SPAN, or bridge, across a swift river unless one hangs over the side and looks down, and nothing in the clue suggests this.

need of extensive repairs. A ROOKING, or cheating, may make one sorry he bought anything. ROOMING and ROOTING are remote.

24. KNOB is wanted. Close inspection of a KNOB, or hill, may cause one's blood pressure to rise, for it may take considerable energy to walk up it. Even a cursory examination of a SNOB may anger one enough to raise his blood pressure.

25. RANTS, to be sure. Government officials may feel that the RANTS of a dissident group may thin out as time goes on, for the initial impetus will be lacking. They may recruit additional members to their RANKS if their point of view has anything to offer even though they become less vocal.

28. OPINING is selected. A man may promptly walk out on a lecturer if he does not agree with his OPINING, or expressions of opinion, for he may not be willing to listen when he is not in agreement. The OPENING of a lecture may merely establish the area to be covered and call for neither agreement nor disagreement.

DOWN:

1. MORASSES, to be sure. One might get stuck in MORASSES, or swamps, as when he may sink in the mud and find it virtually impossible to get out of it. MOLASSES is weak; one is not likely to get into it in the first place.

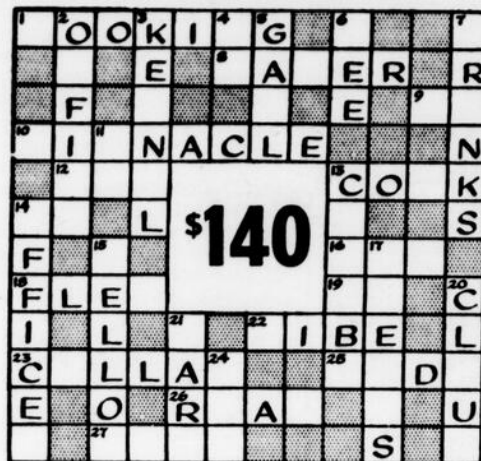

2. DOLLISH is better. One may lose patience with the ineptitude of a DOLLISH person, as a pretty, empty-headed woman, for one may feel she is trading on her looks to get help from others. One might feel sorry for a DULLISH person, for his lack of intelligence may defeat all his efforts.

4. TOME is preferred. A youngster might find a TOME, or large volume, hard to carry because of its cumbersome shape and heavy weight. A TOTE might be anything that could be carried and might be his size. TONE is vague. TOLE and TOPE are remote.

6. NATION is favored. A world traveler may find his gestures of friendship viewed with suspicion and rebuffed if his NATION is misunderstood everywhere. If his NOTION, or idea of friendliness, is misunderstood, he is more likely to take it personally and feel insulted rather than merely frustrated.

7. WIRE is chosen. A man may take time to consider how to answer an angry WIRE, for he may either wish to placate the sender with a diplomatic reply or give as good as he got. If he doesn't answer an angry WIFE immediately, there may be no point in answering later when the argument may be forgotten.

14. PUN is best. A jealous suitor may envy a rival's PUN, for he may imagine that the wit it exhibited is credited to the other's account. PEN is improbable; it is not likely he would be shown his rival's letter's. PIN needs further explanation. PAN is remote.

16. CORNER, yes. The possessor of a CORNER, or monopoly, would want to protect it, at least until he has taken complete advantage of the opportunity it presents to make his own price. Protect is too strong for CORNET; one is more likely to take care of it. CORNEA is remote.

19. PANGS, to be sure. PANGS, or throes of pain, may deter a fleeing thief, for they may weaken him and make any further activity impossible. PINGS, as the sounds of bullets striking an obstruction, may lend wings to his feet.

Old high school building vacated for Selwyn House

Westmount Senior High School moved out of the Cote St. Antoine road property Wednesday. Supervising the move was principal Norman W. Wood.

Said Mr. Wood, "Selwyn House is taking possession of the building July 1. We are moving our equipment out of here. What we can't get out today, we will move out on Tuesday."

"No, we are not moving directly into the new school on St. Catherine street. It won't be ready for occupancy until about the middle of summer, maybe around the first of August."

"The movers are taking mostly text books and laboratory equipment from here over to the junior high school on Academy road. That is where we will store the senior high school property until we can move it into the new school," he declared.

"We are selling some of the teachers' and students' desks to Selwyn. Then, some of the furniture is going to the elementary schools. We will have mostly all new furniture in the new high school," Mr. Wood stated.

The junior high text books, shop equipment and art supplies will be taken to the new school.

"One facility that will be considerably improved by the move is the library." Mr. Wood noted that the senior high school library of 4,000 books would be combined with the junior high library of 6,000 books to make a more complete library available to all students.

"It is very important that people realize that after the first of July, our office will be located in the junior high school building, the principal stressed. Our phone number will be WE-5-4886. This is where summer school students will have to pick up their text books next week. After August 1, the school office will be in the new building on St. Catherine street."

Summer school starts Tuesday

The senior high school announced this week that summer schools for high school students will be held at Montreal West High School, 189 Easton avenue; High School of Montreal, 3449 University street and Mount Royal High School, 50 Montgomery avenue.

City Hall Beat

with Jane Hendershott

The Bell Telephone Company started installation of the municipal switchboard this week. July 20 is the promised completion date. The switchboard operator will be right out in the City Hall lobby and can double in brass as receptionist and information center to the citizens. City Hall says it hopes the service to the public will be improved by this change.

Mayor Cushing proclaimed Monday a holiday in honor of Dominion Day, which, incidentally is tomorrow. This means the library and all public buildings will be closed.

City Hall says the petition to install traffic lights at Park Place and St. Catherine street mentioned in Valentina Rahr's column last week will be of considerable interest. The need for traffic lights at this intersection was not made known to the City until some of its employees read about it in the Examiner.

The Westmount Recreation department took possession Tuesday of the Westmount Amateur Athletic Association trophies and pictures found in the basement of the home of former Westmount cricketer C. R. G. Watt. It will be interesting to see what all turns up and what Westmount proposes to do with the old souvenirs.

Eight members of the Westmount Police Department sat for promotional exams for the ranks of lieutenant and detective Wednesday. Results will be known in several weeks. Recent retirements have caused a number of vacancies in the ranks of the force.

There will be a meeting of the Mayor and City Council in City Hall Tuesday at 8 p.m. This meeting is open to the public.

Work like sixty in the '60s and you won't have to work like sixty after you're 60.

False alarmists nabbed by cops

Police happened by the fire alarm box at Grosvenor avenue and St. Catherine street Monday immediately following the turning in of a false alarm there.

A passing pedestrian told police, "They went that way."

In hot pursuit, police quickly overtook two fleeing seven year old boys.

Both boys were taken by police to their homes and the seriousness of their venture was explained to their parents.

How hot things became then for the young lawbreakers has not been reported.

Registration is today from 9 a.m. to noon.

Monday is a holiday. Classes commence Tuesday and will be held weekday mornings from 9 a.m. to noon. Afternoon sessions are confined to Wednesday from 1 to 3:15 p.m. The final session will be July 28.

Students of Westmount Senior High School attending summer school can obtain their text books at the junior high school on Academy road. A deposit of $1 per text is required, which will be refunded upon return of the books.

Summer school is open only to those students who were promoted on condition that they attend, who have been recommended for summer school or have been promoted and wish to take additional courses. Students who will have to repeat the year just completed because of poor records cannot attend summer school.

The senior high school office can be reached for further information by telephoning WE. 5-4886.

Cane causes car runaway

A maiden in distress, a cane, a runaway automobile and fast thinking truck driver contributed an exciting few minutes Tuesday morning to quiet Grosvenor avenue.

Miss Diana Harrison, 579 Grosvenor avenue, told police that, as is her custom before entering an automobile, she tossed her cane ahead of her into the car of Mrs. Pearl Gameroff, 20 Cote St. Catherine road. The cane struck and disengaged the hand brake. The car rolled backward, Mrs. Gameroff pulling Miss Harrison back out of the way of the open car door.

The car rolled down the hill and struck the automobile of Mrs. Carman Leblanc, 9693 La-Jeunesse street, a glancing blow on the fender, and proceeded on down the hill.

It was then that quick-thinking truck driver Saul Keeb, 5240 Dalou street, moved into action. Theorizing correctly that the collision would not damage his truck, he pulled his car out into the middle of the road into the path of the oncoming runaway car. It halted and all ended well if you discount a few fenders.

As you like it

By LAURENT PRICE

On July 1, almost 100 years ago, the Dominion of Canada came into being, by way of a struggling confederation, under the great and wise leadership of Sir John A. MacDonald.

The original and hopeful provinces were Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Ontario.

Three years later, in 1870, Manitoba was admitted to the Dominion. And, hard as it may seem now to believe, it was necessary to negotiate with the Hudson's Bay Company which controlled the large central expanse of western Canada before this was accomplished.

Actually, benign as it might have been, this privately chartered company ruled that area of our great country.

By 1871, British Columbia had joined the other five, and in 1873 Prince Edward Island was ready and made the charmed circle.

After further palaver with the Hudson's Bay Company, Saskatchewan and Alberta were formed and they, too, were admitted in 1905.

The remainder of the company's lands became the Yukon district and the North West territories, under the direct jurisdiction of the Canadian government.

Most people remember when Newfoundland came into the Dominion's sphere, and aside from some peculiar little by-plays of its native son, Mr. Smallwood, things have been going pretty well.

Except, of course, for the current gnashing of Mr. Fleming's teeth at Mr. Coyne, and the same display the other evening at some members of the fourth estate, on television. And, this too will disappear with the passing of time.

All things considered the 10 provinces have done very, very well.

Our internal relations with our French-Canadian brothers have never been better, and the external ones with our American cousins — despite outside international pressures—run smoothly, indeed.

Culturally, both French and English speaking Canadians have contributed much to literature, painting, the stage, architecture and other arts.

In fact, French speaking television, alone, provides the highest quality of televising in North America.

So this is the good and rational reason we are celebrating!

You never can tell, next year we might even have a flag!

PEOPLE and PLACES

Moagy Campbell, the astute squire of the North Hatley Terrace Club, has his nice little Bon Soir Room in full and splendid operation with the Magero trio and the organ providing musical atmosphere . . . Hermance Gaudier opened a swell little dress boutique called the Lili-Mance on Rolland street in Ste. Adele-en-haut for the Laurentian carriage trade . . .

Next week Jim Balfour presents the Oscar Wilde bit, The Importance of Being Earnest, at the North Hatley Playhouse . . . While down in Stowe, Vermont, the Stowe Playhouse opens its season with George Axelrod's very funny Seven Year Itch . . .

PHIL ROBERTSON

Both start July 6 and run until Saturday at North Hatley and Sunday in Stowe . . . This is very good theatre fare, by the way . . . Leslie Brandt, the owner of Cabana Lodge at Magog, Quebec, has his goodlooking son Reg, handling more of the managerial duties this season . . . Phil Robertson, the Cranmore Skimobile man at North Conway, N.H. has a short routing plan for the Maine coast and other resort areas in that direction. It should save some time for Montrealers, as follows: Montreal to Magog on route 1; route 50 to Coaticook; route 22 to Norton; route 114 to Canaan, Vt.; 3 to Colebrook and Lancaster; route 2 to Gorham, N.H. and 16 to North Conway . . . We traced it on a map and it works out well . . . That's all, kiddies . . . Have a fun holiday, and drive carefully . . .

SUMMER FUN: This pretty young lady waves good-bye as she prepares for a journey to the top of North Conway, N. H. on a Cranmore Skimobile.

Safety tip

Rest to drive and stay alive

Fatigue while driving is an insidious cause of highway accidents that is no less formidable than excess speed or alcohol.

This is the informed opinion of W. Arch Bryce, executive director of the Canadian Highway Safety Council, at a time when hundreds of thousands of Canadians are preparing to embark on long motor trips for their annual summer holidays.

According to Mr. Bryce, there is only one basic remedy for fatigue: rest. "Careful drivers give themselves a good night's sleep before setting out early next day. In addition, every hundred miles or so, they make brief stops to take a little exercise, admire the scenery and enjoy a stimulating cup of coffee at a nearby restaurant. These sensible measures help to keep the driver fresh and alert.

Stressing the theme of the national campaign for highway safety, "Slow Down and Live,"

Mr. Bryce urged motorists to exceed the speed limit prescribed by law and to always keep their car under control according to weather conditions, visor road conditions, and traffic density.

St. Thomas Aquinas Fair gets $11,000

Hundreds of people came from all over the city and its suburbs to patronize the Fair in St. Thomas Aquinas Parish. Many were former parishioners but the greater number were friends and socially-minded citizens who wanted to assist the parish in its efforts to keep its hopes for the future alive.

A raffle was one of the main features of the Fair. The results were far beyond the expectations of the organizers as gross receipts for the raffle and the various booths soared to nearly $11,000.00. The addresses of the raffle winners give testimony to the widespread response to this wonderful cause: Mrs. M. D. Tracey, 3971 St. Antoine St., Montreal, Robert Giroux, 1565 De Maricourt, Montreal, Brendan Noonan, 1152 Roland avenue, Verdun, Perry Calderone, 4986 Cazalais, Montreal, Eddie Erdell, 3580 Notre Dame St. W., Montreal, M. B. Sloan, 2212 Girouard, Montreal, Gerard Rousseau, 556 Dominion street, Montreal, John O'Neill, 1792 Caryier street, Lafleche, L. Lord, 645 Montrose, Duvernay, P.Q.

Many Companies, Commercial Enterprises and people who were not directly concerned, supplied donations and prizes for the various booths. This kept down the overall expenses and allowed for a greater margin of profit.

Members of CMA participate in Sabbath worship

In recognition of the 94th Canadian Medical Association Convention being held in Montreal, a special Sabbath Eve Worship, the first of its kind in the history of the Canadian Medical Association, was held at Temple Emanu-El, Friday, June 16, at which time members of the Association, both Jewish and non-Jewish, participated in the worship.

Rabbi Dr. Harry J. Stern preached on the theme "Religion and Medicine" and pointed out that Jews had a Ministry of Health over 3500 years ago, and that the authors of the Bible, through the priesthood, laid the foundations for a health program—that prophet, sage and rabbi have ministered both to the soul and bodily needs of humans. He spoke of the classic tradition which existed in Israel beginning with the second century, of the high office of rabbi-physician, which has continued until modern times. In this day, when so many of us are filled with tension, anxiety and fear, because of the threat of atomic destruction, it is most important that clergyman and physician work together to give emotional balance, confidence and courage to humans, and advance to the cause of spiritual rehabilitation.

At the conclusion of his address, the Rabbi invited the congregation to arise and recite with him the prescription for physicians as formulated by the immortal philosopher, rabbi and physician, Moses Maimonides.

Sabbath services during summer weeks:

Friday evening, June 30, at Temple Emanu-El, service will be held at 8:15 p.m. in Temple Community House auspices Temple Brotherhood. Readers will be: Bernard Isaacs, Isadore Morrell. Pulpit Honors will be shared by: Gerry Levitan, Mrs. Henry Rosenberg. In charge of the worship will be Hershell H. Lewis.

Memorial anniversaries in the Kiddish ritual will be observed for the following departed: Millie Godinsky, Maxwell Goldstein, Martha Pam, Israel Gross, Lea Mandel Borkowitz, Adolf Aaron Meyer, Max Smith, Gustave Blum, Irving I. Selig, Eva Illion, David Spector, Dorothy Cohei, Jeanne Goldman Levitan, Ralph Miller, Louis Ufland, Bernard W. Lands, Sidney Bick.

Registration in Temple Religious School for all students who attended last year: Registration is now taking place through the mails for the new School season which will commence in September. New pupils are to register on Saturday morning, September 9 and Sunday morning, September 10.

Our Day

by

The Venerable

R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.

Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

English-Canadians prefer to observe July 1 as a national holiday: French-Canadians observe June 24, and in some ways the French have the best of the argument, for they have tied together three things, French language, French culture and religious observance, and the three-fold cord is not easily broken. French-Canadian leaders are wise enough to guard that cord.

The English-Canadians, on the other hand, has carefully chosen a national holiday without any religious significance. Separation of Church and State must be maintained at any cost. English language and English culture are assumed to be strong enough without religious sanction, and the general result is selfishness and indifference.

One English-speaking group has accepted the threefold linkage, i.e., the Irish. They too maintain their individuality through religion. The result is that the Irish have their parade on St. Patrick's Day and the French on St. John the Baptist's Day, but who would think of a parade on St. George's Day? The English-Canadian has lost the power to declare himself. He cannot nail his colors to the mast, for he has no mast.

We call our country a Christian country but we have dissipated our Christianity in so many forms that it means little to us from the national standpoint. We look at Christianity from the individual rather than the collective point of view.

At the same time no religious group has come through the present series of revelations of politico-financial misdoings unscathed. Probably every man concerned in the transactions between government and industry, government and hospitals, and government and public works, is registered in the current census as belonging to some religious group, yet the religious affiliation has had little influence on him. Apparently we can proclaim our belief in a God of righteousness on Sunday and dip into the public treasury on Monday. And politicians and business men apparently have not yet expressed any repentance.

This is not the way to build a country; this gives us little pride in our day. We need a public repentance and a determination to stamp out public immorality.

August novena honors saint

Rev. Francis L. Filas, S.J. will preach to radio audiences the annual Thanksgiving Novena at St. Joseph's Oratory, in honor of St. Joseph from August 1 to 9. The closing day of this Novena will be the birthday anniversary of Brother André, founder of St. Joseph's Oratory, the "Miracle Man of Montreal" who died in 1937 at ninety-one. Father Filas is Chairman of the Theology Department at Loyola University in Chicago. Numerous radio stations in Canada and in the United States will broadcast the Novena.

The schedule of services for the summer is as follows: On weekdays: Masses at 6, 6.30, 7, 7.30, 8, 8.30 a.m., 12.15 and 9.15 p.m. On Sundays: 5.30, 6.15, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 a.m. and 12.30 p.m. Carillon concerts: at 12.15, 2.30 and 7.30 p.m., Organ recitals: on Sundays from 3.30 to 4.15 p.m.

Services continue during the summer

Sir: I am happy to send you a brief report on the Parish Fair held in St. Thomas Aquinas Parish at mid-June.

I would be deeply grateful if you were able to bring this report to the attention of your readers, many of whom patronized this Parish project.

The Parishioners of Saint Thomas Aquinas, through the medium of your paper, wish to express their gratefulness to the public at large, for its encouragement and to the many citizens of all faiths who patronized the Fair. We wish to thank The Examiner and its affiliated newspapers for having helped St. Thomas Parish in its hour of dire financial difficulties by making its immediate needs known to so many generous and socially-minded persons.

Rev. Msgr. T. Mooney, CS, Administrator.

Every one of us is his brother's keeper, according to the Holy Scripture. This fundamental principle of moral duty should be recalled when we have control of a fast moving vehicle. You see a child crossing the road in a reckless manner when under the traffic law you have the right of way — remember; you are still your little brother's keeper. His life is in your hands, if you dash forward relying on your priority right. Of course, the pedestrian ought to know better but the child's unpredictable behaviour will not exonerate you from blame. The Provincial Highway Safety Committee, appeals to all drivers for better understanding of their responsibilities in this respect, as the driver's permit confers not only rights but also grave duties.

Union services begin in July

The 21st year of union summer services of Dominion Douglas United Church, Westmount with Stanley Presbyterian Church, commencing Sunday will be held for the five Sundays in July at Dominion Douglas with Rev. Keith Eddy officiating.

During August and on September 3, Rev. Professor Stanford Reid will preach in Stanley. Calls for pastoral help can be made to the church office at HU 6-1165. Mrs. Maynard will be in the Dominion Douglas Church office during July and Mrs. Findlay from August 15 until September.

When the fall program of the church gets under way new members will be welcomed on staff. Mrs. Holly E. Davidson has been appointed Director of Christian Education and will take up her duties August 15.

Mrs. Davidson is a recent graduate of the United Church Training School. Her office will be the one occupied in recent years by the assistant ministers.

In addition the official board has authorized the securing of some assistance to the minister, Dr. Smith in the pastoral oversight of the congregation.

Summer plans for Dr. Smith include a visit to Ocean Park, Maine, for the July 2 weekend where he will be the preacher at the community service in the Pavilion Church. Each Sunday, from 1,000 to 1,500 people worship here. It is customary on this first Sunday in July to have a Canadian preacher. Later in the summer he will be one of the representatives of the United Church at the World Conference of Methodism in Oslo, Norway.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith leave July 18 for a visit to Palestine, en route to Oslo, and will spend some days in England and Scotland.

Neuro-surgeon honored at dedication in Westmount

A memorial window in honor of a pioneer in the teaching and the practice of neurosurgery was unveiled last Sunday in the Chapel of St. Andrew's United Church, Westmount.

The window is in memory of Dr. William V. Cone, one of the world's leading brain surgeons at the Montreal Neurological Institute, who died suddenly in his office May 4, 1959, at the age of 62.

The ceremony of dedication took place at the morning service conducted by the minister of the church, Rev. Dr. D. M. Grant. An address was given by Dr. Wilder Penfield, well-known author and neurosurgeon, and former head of the Montreal Neurological Institute.

Other prominent doctors participating in the dedication of the window were Dr. Gerald W. Halpenny, president of the Canadian Medical Association, Drs. J. Preston Robb and Francis L. McNaughton, of the Neurological Institute, and Dr. G. R. Brow, a noted heart specialist.

The window, sponsored by an anonymous donor whose wife was saved by Dr. Cone, was designed and executed by the Celtic Studios of Swansea, Wales, to illustrate the image of Christ as Physician and Healer.

Based on Holman Hunt's 19th century painting "The Light of the World", the 64-by-28-inch window is composed of some 300 pieces of hand-blown antique glass and is inscribed with the words "The Great Physicians" "Always Near".

A memorial plaque beside the window reads: "This window is in Grateful Memory of Doctor Wil-

World's largest organ

When one hears the sound of the organ in the Main Hall of the huge Convention Hall in Atlantic City he is listening to music from the largest console in the world. To describe adequately this giant organ would require a large sized book. The huge organ is by far the largest and most powerful ever built. It is equipped with two giant consoles, one with seven manuals and the other, a movable one, with five. There are 1225 speaking stops and 33,000 pipes ranging from three-sixteenths of an inch to 64 feet in length (the latter is illustrated by a normal sized man standing in front of it). It is run by a 365 H.P. group of motors, has seven blowers and its own generator.

The wiring used would girdle the earth twice. Four years' time was necessary to complete the organ at a cost of $500,000. The soundings are disposed in eight locations, all discernible from the main floor by reason of grille-screens which form the face of each chamber. In checking over the parts of the giant instrument a maintenance man walks the length of many city blocks before he can make a complete survey.

In addition to the huge main organ, there is a smaller one, i.e. smaller in comparison, in the ball-room.

Chatham minister is guest in Westmount

The Rev. Roy Cook, BA BD, a graduate of McMaster University and Vice-President of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, will be the vacation preacher at Westmount Baptist Church during the month of July. Mr. Cook is from First Baptist Church, Chatham, Ontario.

Nursery and Junior Congregation will be held in conjunction with morning worship.

The B.Y.P.U. will hold its regular meetings through the summer on Friday evening at 8.00 p.m. in the Lower Hall.

Travellers are welcome

There is no suspension of classes during the summer months in the Sunday Schools maintained by the Christian Science churches in Montreal and Westmount.

The children of tourists and vacation travellers are always welcome as visitors provided they have not reached the age of 20. The Christian Science church in Montreal maintains a nursery for the care of infants whose parents wish to attend church service.

It is an established custom of the Christian Science denomination to hold one service each Sunday during July and August. Accordingly, the Christian Science churches in Montreal, Westmount, Pointe Claire and Sherbrooke will hold Sunday morning services only.

Dominion Day observance

Dominion Day, which is a statutory holiday or non-judicial day, falls this year on Saturday, July 1st.

The banks, the Montreal Stock Exchange, the post office and other federal government offices, provincial offices and municipal offices will be observing the Saturday only and will not be closed on the preceding Friday or the following Monday.

Unless a firm is bound by the terms of a collective labor agreement or some specific arrangement with its employees, or is subject to a special ordinance or decree, stipulating what it must do on Dominion Day, there is no legal obligation on the part of an employer either to close his place of business or to pay the employees extra if they work, or to pay them at all if they do not work.

The Montreal Board of Trade state that out of a total of 500 reporting companies (209 non-manufacturing firms) 268 firms (127 non-manufacturers and 141 manufacturers) will observe Dominion Day by closing (part or full day) on either the Friday before, the following Monday or on both days.

Of this group of 268 firms: 62 firms (23 non-manufacturers; 39 manufacturers) will close on the Friday, part or full day.

202 firms (102 non-manufacturers; 101 manufacturers) will close on the Monday part or full day.

The truth about crime in MONTREAL!

This story will shock and amaze you! You'll read about Montreal's gambling dens, houses of ill-fame, blackmail, and bribery in high places. This startling five-part series, "The Shame of My City" is by Pax Plante, ex-assistant police director, who,

Eventide Home Birthday Tea well attended

The Women's Auxiliary of the Eventide Home of the Salvation Army held the sixth Birthday Tea at the Home on Wednesday, June 14 at which 353 persons attended including residents.

Mrs. D. K. Gowans, Mrs. R. Uden, Mrs. F. W. Baily and Mrs. G. Dockery welcomed members and guests. Mrs. S. J. L. Glew was in charge of the handcraft sale.

The Home was attractively decorated with flowers provided by Mrs. K. A. Campbell and members of the Chateaugay Horticultural Society and friends on the Lakeshore.

Mrs. W. A. Routledge and her committee were in charge of refreshments and a four tier birthday cake was generously donated for this occasion.

Presiding at the tea table were: Mrs. Gordon McKay, chairman of Board of the United Church Homes, Mrs. John Cerini, president of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Homes Inc., Mrs. Brigadier Wm. Jones and Brigadier N. Jolly, Superintendent of Catherine Booth Hospital.

MR. AND MRS. IAN JOHN SIBBALD MOORE, whose marriage took place recently in Westmount Park Emmanuel and Calvary United Church. Mrs. Moore, formerly Miss Patricia Jean Thompson, is the daughter of the Reverend Callum and Mrs. Thompson of Westmount. Mr. Moore is the son of Mrs. F. Seddon and Mr. John L. Moore of Vancouver, B.C.

Following the tea, entertainment was held in the auditorium under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ethel Bardo Gardner. Mr. Harry Norris well known Montreal musician gave an organ recital of Gilbert and Sullivan selections. Six residents of the Home sang accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Warr and Mr. Don Harvie, popular musical satirist gave a most enjoyable performance.

Mrs. D. K. Gowans thanked the artists for their very fine entertainment.

During the afternoon, tours of the building were conducted by Mrs. Percy Swail.

Still a Chance for Your Son and/or Daughter to get away this Summer COST? RIDICULOUSLY LOW!

If you have a son and/or daughter six to seventeen years of age, you can give them a luxury camp vacation on a piggy-bank budget at WILDWOOD CAMP on the beautiful Lake of the Two Mountains, Vaudreuil, Que. — 168 acres of natural beauty, with over a mile of private waterfront.

A full, enjoyable and educational camp life; varied according to the age and inclination of the camper — including swimming, hiking, cook-outs, riding, water skiing, canoeing, boating, archery, basketball, tennis, volleyball, badminton, arts and crafts, stunt nights, camp fire sing songs, movies, etc.

And all this at a weekly rate which will really astonish you. Why not drive out this Saturday between 2 p.m. and 5 p.m., and see for yourself — just 1½ miles north of Vaudreuil Village — or write for illustrated booklet.

Mrs. T. Casgrain on VOW Board

Two members of the Quebec Provincial Committee of the Voice of Women were elected to the board of directors of the national organization at the first annual meeting held last week in Toronto.

Mrs. Therese F. Casgrain, Quebec Provincial chairman, was named one of the five vice-presidents and Dr. Helen Cunningham is chairman of the research committee.

Among the resolutions passed at the meeting, attended by 70 delegates from eight provinces, called for the Federal Government to establish a Ministry of Peace with a budget of at least one per cent of the current defence budget. The group decided to promote a Peace Research Institute in Canada which would conduct studies on the political, economic and social conditions of a world without war.

The VOW also opposes the acquisition of nuclear weapons by countries not now possessing them and urges the Canadian government to exert all its influence to prevent a resumption of nuclear testing.

Miss Edith A. Dorsey weds Mr. Martin Charles Raff

The marriage of Edith Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marven Dorsey, of Westmount, to Mr. Martin Charles Raff, son of Dr. and Mrs. David Raff, of Westmount, took place Thursday evening at half past six o'clock at Elm Ridge Country Club, Ile Bizard, Que., Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat officiating, assisted by Cantor Nathan Mendelson. Mrs. Leba Fineberg played the wedding music. Standards of white roses and sweetpeas arranged with greenery and candles in candelabra were used as decorations.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white satin. Her floor-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a white satin bandeau applied with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade-bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Anton Raff, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, wore a floor-length gown of yellow organza and lace with a matching hat, and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Stephen Dorsey, brother of the bride, acted as best man for Mr. Raff, and the ushers were Mr. Marvin Goldman, of Toronto, Mr. Mortimer Lechter, Mr. Richard Notkin, and Mr. Michael Usher.

Mrs. Louis Dorsey, the bride's mother, wore a gown of green chiffon with a matching tulle hat, and a corsage bouquet of symbidium orchids.

Mrs. Raff, mother of the bridegroom, was in a gown of avocado green French lace. She wore a hat of the same shade, and a corsage bouquet of white orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Raff left by motor for Banff, Alta., and the United States, the bride travelling in a pink silk frock, and wearing a navy blue velvet

Commercial travellers to gather

The order of the United Commercial Travellers of America, will hold its seventy-fourth annual session of the Supreme Council in Montreal, July 8 to July 13, at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel.

This Session will be a unique event, as the Supreme Council is the highest governing body of the order, with all annual meetings being held at Supreme Headquarters at Columbus, Ohio, without a break from 1888 to 1947. In recent years the Constitution was amended to permit the Supreme Council to meet at any point on the continent, and this is the first time in its history that the Supreme Session will be held outside the borders of the U.S.A.

Upward of 1,500 delegates, guests and their wives will attend, coming from all over the U.S.A. and Canada, including many from N.D.G., Westmount and Verdun. The local meetings were formerly held in N.D.G. Community Hall. Supreme Counselor James McGregor of Iron Mountain, Michigan, will officiate.

Some of the highlights of the official program are as follows:

Saturday and Sunday: Welcoming and registration of delegates and guests by the local Montreal Councils.

Sunday Afternoon: Sightseeing buses for a tour of the city and St. Lawrence Seaway, with reception and buffet lunch at the Mountain Chalet on Mount Royal.

Sunday Evening: Special concert by the Montreal Bach Choir in the Grand Salon.

Monday Evening: Guest Speaker John Fisher, well known as "Mr. Canada."

Tuesday Evening: In the Main Ball Room, "French Canadian Night," folk dancing, and a secret feature attraction.

Wednesday Evening: Banquet and dance.

Thursday: As a Finale, the SS St. Lawrence has been reserved for a cruise of the St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers.

St. Lawrence XI beats Wanderers

St. Lawrence Cricket Club chalked up another victory by bowling out Wanderers CC for 66 runs after St. Lawrence had scored 170.

St. Lawrence batted first at the Lower Canada College ground and opening batsmen Roy Fox and Al McKinlay found runs hard to get against the accurate attack of Newnes and I. Gibson.

A misunderstanding led to McKinlay being run out when the score was 13 and Chappell then joined Fox.

These two batted quietly for a while until Gibson and Newnes were replaced by Khan and Douglas.

St. Lawrence then collapsed and when Fox, who had scored 54, was bowled by Scutt, the score went from 100 for wickets to 111 for 6. Bushby and Judge then added 30 more runs but when Bushby was out to a fine catch by Newnes, no one could remain with Judge who batted well for his 42 not out.

THE LAST OF summer sports got away from the wire last Saturday when the paddlers opened their season at Chateaugay and the results were not surprising, even to the extent of Cartierville Boating Club picking up 185 points. However, even with such a strong showing, the weaker clubs were happy over the way that their minor paddlers, such as juniors and juveniles, especially the latter, who never gave up trying to pick up points for their clubs. Most of the weaker clubs do not have the senior horses to compete with the Carts, but their juniors and juveniles gave the Carts a run for their money.

CARTS' HEAVY POINT getters are their seniors. In 10 events, their seniors finished first and second, which includes every senior event. But, Carts have a good crop of young paddlers coming up. In Saturday 'Chats' event, Carts lost two juvenile and one junior event. In regattas to come, it will be Cartierville competing with Cartierville in the senior events and in many of the minor races. This is the fourth year that Carts have poured this power on and it will be few more years before any club is even going to make it close.

At one time, and that was not so long ago, if you won a regatta with some 30 odd points and even a Dominion with 20 odd points, it was something to crow about. Then the boys in the back room changed the scoring and instead of the first three placing crews earning points, it was decided to give to the first five. This year, war canoe events have been changed and now first place is worth 12 points. First place in any other event is worth eight.

The scoring system was changed to help the weaker clubs, who after travelling to the National meet in Ottawa, from East and middle West, they went home with no points. Now they go home with several points, which proves what? So, a crew places fourth or fifth and takes home a few points. What does that prove?, that their trip has not been wasted.

Now, it's a dozen points for the winning war canoe crew. The scoring system has just about being carried a little too far. There is not much to make a crew finish in the first three in present meets, for if it is fourth or fifth he gets points for his club. If you are not able to finish first why second or even third or even fourth or fifth. Racing officials will tell you that the new scoring system is to help the weaker clubs, but for what? There seems to be even inflation in the paddling scoring system and I'm against it.

Wherever and whenever you do your boating, it's almost certain that you're going to have the kids along. In fact, as the water seems to have a fascination for the youngsters, it's tough to get out in a boat without them. It's a good thing to remember that things that spark the interest and delight of adult pleasure cruisers may prove as gruesome as a Saturday night bath to the small fry. They crave action — not long periods of inactivity. So, when they go along, whether you like it or not you're going to have to provide something for them to do.

Don't the time lag between stops and ports of call if you're on a long cruise. Kids riding in cars are no different from kids riding in runabouts. They get impatient and they'll start a fight among themselves if they don't have some distraction. Plan a number of stops for almost any excuse to let the kids get ashore. Let the kids get ashore. Let them gather driftwood and shells or perhaps go for a swim. Don't try to keep a schedule because the whims of youngsters don't respond to regimentation.

It's always a good idea to have aboard a pair of binoculars and let them search the scenery ahead. Kids are more interested in where they're going than where they've been.

Husband and wife tennis team of Harits capture Montreal Cup singles

Val Harit and his wife Shirley, pair, in men's doubles, by a 6-2, 10-8, 6-4 count. Marian Boudy and Therese Blais won the ladies doubles at 8-6, 6-4 over Shirley Harit and Ann Bedard.

Rochon opened his attack on Harit in impressive fashion, scoring clean-cut placements to work into his set victory. In the next two sets he kept Harit busy but in the fourth, the pace began to tell on the veteran and his return of Harit's deep shots lacked accuracy.

Rochon was forced into the backcourt on many exchanges and his usual tricky drop were smothered by Harit whose anticipation came in handy.

Rochon, always a gallery favorite, kept up a running conversation with himself. He beat Roland Godin in the semis 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, to reach the final.

Harit turned back Mike Carpenter in his bracket at 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4. Carpenter tossed a scare into Harit several times during this long duel.

Mike and Keith Carpenter turned back Ellis Tarshis and George Robinson the veteran Monkland

Adastrians loses cricket match to Australians

Australia's touring cricket team EMU ran their unbeaten streak to 15 games and one draw when they defeated Montreal Adastrians at Lower Canada College ground 226 for 6 declared to 137.

With weather conditions ideal, Adastrians won the toss and sent the visitors to bat. The opening partnership added 43 runs, but then the game began to swing in favor of the home team with five wickets down for 125 at lunch.

Left-handed opener Neville Holstein made 49 giving him 1,000 runs for the tour to date, which is considered phenomenal batting in any ranks.

On resumption of play, the visiting batsmen dominated the bowling, scoring freely all round the field with the sixth wicket adding 100 runs at the declaration for 225.

Peter Davidson, a solid built youngster with the Aussies, delighted the spectators with powerful hitting, scoring 92 not out, including 7 fours and 3 sixes.

His partner, Ken Falkenmore, added 41. Dave Boys returned the best bowling figures with 2 for 30.

Adastrians opened disastrously with the first three wickets falling for no score and the fourth wicket at 11.

Fred Robinson and Des Phillips then carried the score to 77 when Robinson was brilliantly caught at mid off by John Hayward for 44.

Phillips was trapped leg before wicket for 29 and Mel Rilstone adding 31 and Ed Dellani 14, the score advanced to 126 for 8.

The last two batsmen were quickly dismissed for the total of 137.

Alan Robinson and John Muller were the most effective bowlers taking 3 for 14 and 3 for 46, respectively.
