ARMIES FACE TO FACE
DECISIVE BATTLE IS NEAR

General Kuropatkin's Forces Confront General Oku, General Kuroki is Moving Against Russian Flank at Hai Cheng.

ADMIRAL TOGO SENDS DETAILED REPORT

Russian Admiral Was Out-generalled—The Battleship Peresviet Was Torpedoed and Sunk—Two Other Ships Were Damaged—Entire Russian Fleet Steamed Out in an Attempted Dash for Liberty but Delayed Too Long—The Japanese Loss Was Small.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Despatches received here from Ta Tche Kiao indicate that both the Russian and Japanese armies are moving into contact for a great battle, which even now may be in progress.

General Kuropatkin yesterday assumed the offensive against General Oku, while General Kuroki, from a position fourteen miles to the eastward, was moving against the Russian flank at Hai Cheng.

Japanese Plans Were Disarranged.

Liao Yang, June 27. The apparent cessation of the Japanese advance in the northern part of the Liao Tung peninsula is attributed here to the loss of two or three transports carrying ammunition. It is also reported that the naval battle off Port Arthur caused an alteration in the Japanese plans.

Armies are on the Move.

Ta Tche Kiao, (Between Kai Chou and Hai Cheng, Liao Tung Peninsula), June 27.—A great battel seems to be impending. A portion of the Russian army has assumed the offensive against the Japanese forces commanded by Gen. Oku and it is reported that Gen. Kuroki is moving along the Russian left flank against Hai Cheng. According to a high placed personage Gen. Kuroki's army is strong enough to take the offensive and he presumably is anxious for a decisive action before the rains begin.

Sharp firing was heard in the hills yesterday at daybreak and severe fighting is reported to be in progress near the village of Ton Chen. An officer who galloped in yesterday evening reported that the Russians were gaining the upper hand and driving back the enemy. This, however, has not yet been confirmd.

All day yesterday Russian troops were hurrying southward from Ta Tche Kiao and as night fell battalions were continuously moving out briskly to the accompaniment of their battle songs. Clouds of dust hung over the marching columns and the chorus of the infantry singers was occasionally interrupted by the rattle and clank of guns drawn at a smart trot and followed by galloping squadrone of cavalry. It was a stirring spectacle to see the Russian army eagerly hastening, singing into battle. The old battle hymns last heard in the Balkans resounded among the hills and valleys as with bayonets glittering in the setting sun the regimental colors were borne majestically forward.

As this despatch is filed news has reached here that General Kuroki is marching upon Hai Cheng.

Russians are Hopeful.

St. Petersburg, June 27.—Not since the war began has such an air of excitement pervaded the war office and Admiralty. The news received during the next few days is expected to largely determine the fate of the present campaign on land and sea.

The spirits of the Russians have appreciably risen at the prospect that after all the sortie of the squadron of Raer-Admiral Withoft (in command of the naval forces at Port Arthur,) while it may have resulted in the loss of some of the Russian ships, has been successful. A despatch from Che Foo this morning says that a Chinese junk reports having seen two big Japanese warships and several torpedo boats damaged near Port Arthur. This strengthens the belief here that a great sea fight has occurred and that the Japanese, who alone are able through wireless telegraphy to be in constant communication with their base, are withholding the news. If the Vladivostok squadron is at sea with the purpose of effecting a juncture, as is generally believed, with the Port Arthur squadron, its appearance on the scene could easily turn the scale in favor of the Russians.

Some usually well informed personages at the War Office are bold enough to see in a report received this morning by the Bourse Gazette of the hasty retirement of General Oku evidence that the Japanese fleet has suffered a reverse, and that th communication of this intelligence to Oku, with the accompanying threat that his base at Pitsewo may be attacked, compelled his withdrawal.

Decisive Battle is Inevitable.

All direct news from the land side indicates an immiment and decisive battle near Ta Tche Kiao. According to the Associated Press advices last night General Kuropatkin is there personally in command. The presence of the military attaches and newspaper correspondents is also significant. Kuropatkin's purpose seems to be to try to prevent a juncture of General Oku's and General Kuroki's armies. The outposts are in touch all along the line.

If Kuroki has met Kuropatkin's offensive move southward against Oku by an advance on Hai Cheng, the Russian commander-in-chief seems to be seriously endangered unless he retires or is strong enough to present two faces to the enemy. Kuroki was only fourteen miles from the Russian army yesterday, according to a despatch from the front, and the three armies are so close together that a decisive battle appears to be inevitable.

Admiral Togo's Report.

Tokio, June 27. Admiral Togo's detailed report of his effective attack on Port Arthur last Thursday night reached Tokio yesterday.

The report confirms the reported destruction of a Russian battleship of the Peresviet type, the disabling of a battleship of the Sevastopol class, and a protected cruiser resembling the Diana, and the injuring of a torpedo destroyer, but throws no light on the Russian plan.

The entire Russian fleet steamed out to sea in line of battle. Suddenly, when within 14,000 metres from the Japanese fleet the Russian fleet refused to give battle and steamed back to an anchorage outside the harbor, where, during the night, the Japanese destroyers and torpedo boats made eight desperate attacks upon it. The Russian vessels re-entered the harbor on Friday, since which time it has failed to reappear.

In his report Admiral Togo says: The exit of the Russian fleet from Port Arthur harbor began early Thursday. The battleships Peresviet, Poltava and Sevastopol, the armored cruisers Bayan, the protected cruisers Pallada, Diana, Askold and Novik came first, a steamer leading them clearing mines.

A warning, flashed by wireless telegraphy by the Japanese patrol brought up Admiral Togo's fleet at full speed to a series of prearranged stations.

Three flotillas of Japanese destroyers and torpedo boats steamed close to the harbor entrance and watched the Russian vessels. At 11 o'clock the Russian battleships, Czarevitch, Retvizan and Popieda joined the other Russian ships outside the harbor. Several steamers and boats were engaged in clearing exploding mines in order to make a passage seaward.

Torpedo Flotilla Led the Attack.

Captain Asai, commanding the Japanese torpedo flotilla, attacked the vessels engaged in clearing out the mines and hampered the work. At 3 o'clock seven Russian destroyers appeared, and the Japanese vigorously attacked them. One of the Russian destroyers, which was hit and set on fire, retreated to the harbor burning. The Novik attacked the Japanese, who scurried away. The vessels engaged in clearing the harbor finally made a passage, and the Novik led the Russian fleet seaward. In the meantime Admiral Togo concealed the positions of his ships, and at 4 o'clock sent the third squadron out into the vision of the Russians with the object of withdrawing them seaward. The Russian fleet stood southeastward and then southward. During this time, Admiral Togo concealed his first squadron south of Gugan rock. As the Russians approached, Admiral Togo assembled his fleet and prepared to attack. At 6.15 p.m. the Russians were in plain sight eight miles northwest of Gugan rock. The Czarevitch led, and the nine others followed in a single line. The Novik and seven destroyers were placed at the right of the line. Admiral Togo waited, with battle flags flying from all the tops. The Japanese fleet formation represented the first letter of the Japanese alphabet inverted.

Russian Fleet Became Confused.

At 7.30 p.m. the Russians headed for the Japanese and Admiral Togo veered slightly to the right in order to bring pressure against the head of the Russian formation. At 8 p.m. the Russians changed their course and headed northward. Admiral Togo followed in a long single line, ordering the destroyers and torpedo boats to prepare for an attack after sundown. At 8.22 p.m. the small flotillas swung around the rear of the Japanese fleet and headed towards the Russians at full speed. At 9.30 the fourteenth flotilla delivered the first attack on the Russian fleet, now in the rear of a point five miles outside the entrance to Port Arthur. Immediately afterwards the fifth flotilla delivered a second attack. The Russian fleet was confused, and it was impossible for it to retreat quickly into the harbor on account of narrowness of the channel, and possibly the low tide. At 10.30 p.m. the Russian fleet anchored in a single line extending from the foot of Wantsuing Fort to the base of Chentaorhan. During the night the torpedo flotillas kept up constant attack on the Russian fleet, going in eight times. The most effectiv attack was of the sixteenth flotilla, which, at 11.30 p.m. caught the Russians rounding Shenshen.

Peresviet Was Sunk.

The first-class torpedo boat Shirataka, Commander Wakabayashi, sent two torpedoes in a battleship of the Peresviet class. She was seen to sink in a volume of smoke and fire.

Other effects of the attack were not observed on account of the heavy firing, which cast volumes of water over the flotilla, and the heavy cannonading which rent the air. The searchlights from the ships and the forts also blinded the Japanese.

At dawn Friday a reconnaissance of the entrance was made by the fourth and fifth flotillas whose report confirmed that of the patrol ship as to the Russian loss.

Admiral Togo says the moonlight and the narrow line of the enemey prevented greater damage.

The Japanese loss was unexpectedly small. The destroyer Shirakumo was struck in the cabin and three of her crew were killed and three wounded.

The first-class torpedo boat Chidori was struck in the engine room. Torpedo boats 64, 66 and 53 were damaged, the others engaged were uninjured.

In concluding his report Admiral Togo says: "The effect of the attack and the small loss must be attributed to the illustrious virtues of His Majesty."

Serious Blow to Russia.

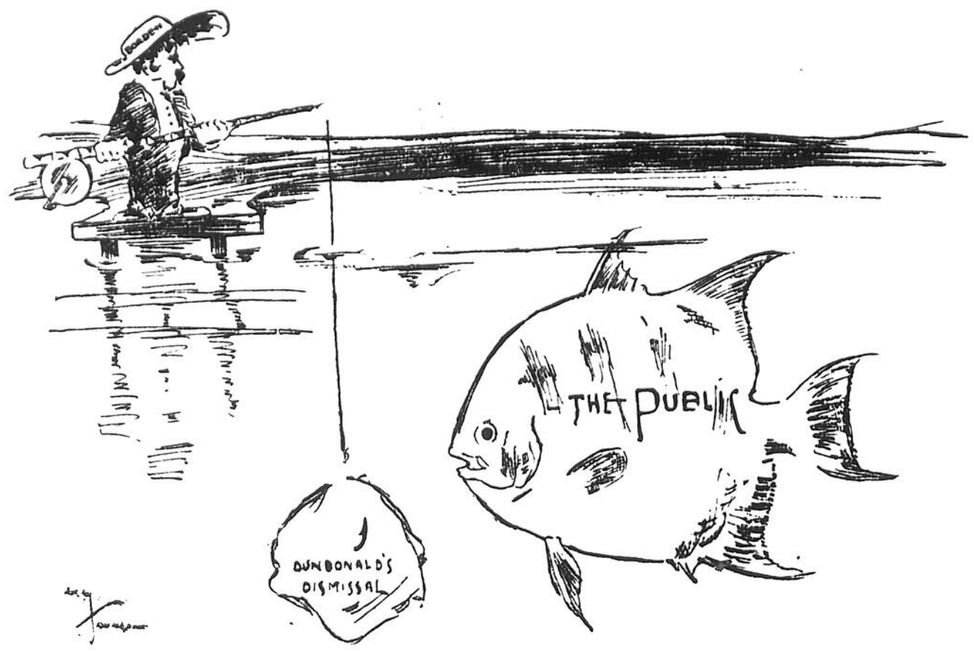

London, June 27.—While the special despatches to the morning newspapers add nothing to the details contained in the Associated Press information concerning the Port Arthur engagement and the sutiation on the Liao Tung peninsula, the editorials by war experts devote much space to the situation. The general view is that the Russians at Port Arthur lost their opportunity through their timidity, and that Togo has again asserted his right to be considered one of the world's great admirals.

It is conceded on every hand that while the details are not yet fully known, when both sides tell the whole story the calamity to Russia will only be increased. It is pointed out, however, that Port Arthur is open and that the Vladivostok fleet may make another diversion, in which case the remnants of the Port Arthur squadron may at any time make a forlorn hope dash for a juncture.

BOERS ARE NOT YET RECONCILED

Interesting Chat On South Africa By Returned School Teacher.

After spending two years in Ladybrand, South Africa, as school teacher in one of the Government schools, Miss Isabel Perry has returned to her home in St. Genevieve Street, Montreal.

She left South Africa in March last and after spending two months in England and Scotland, left Liverpool on the SS. Tunisian, arriving last Saturday.

Miss Perry to-day, stated that the Goverment is doing great things over there with their schools, but the Dutch people are far from satisfied and discourage the work as much as possible by building church schools to be under their own clergy. Considering that the Government is supplying their schools with the best qualified teachers, of the Dutch language and so teaching the younger generation of the Boers, their mother tongue, this seems spiteful. This is only one example that the Dutch are not settling down under British rule as well as they might.

Miss Perry went out at the close of the wark and speaks of the hard work in the concentration camps, reconciling the Dutch women and children to British rule. As Mr. Chamberlain said before they left England, the work of the teachers was a great one and compared it with that of the nurses.

With respect to the labor question, Miss Perry says that the colonials cannot get so much satisfaction out of the Kaffirs as before the war when under Dutch rule, which is put down to the British officers civilizing them, a great mistake.

Miss Perry went into Basutoland and visited the village of Chief Nena at his invitation. She went through the huts of the chief and his principal wives and says everything was much cleaner than she had anticipated. For white people to pay him a visit was an honor, hen she left the chief presented her with a head-dress and some head necklets.

Just before leaving Africa, Miss Perry heard a rumor that some Boers in the Transvaal districts were smuggling arms into the country, across Portugese Territory.

ON TAKING A JOKE.

A severely judicial attitude towards one's self is not easy, and very few attain to it. Many good, and even great, men suffer from, or should we rather say enjoy? a measure of self-love during the whole of their useful lives. To be able to take pleasure in a joke against one's self is a very rare quality, rarer than it seems, for many people pretend; and this is one of the pretences of which any honest man may be proud, just as he may be proud not to show any form of pain. Those who can really enjoy it are almost always popular. But to say that that is the reason of their popularity is to mistake cause and effect. They always feel themselves to be among friends. Consequently the public who witness their discomfiture are a prejudiced public, whose laughter is exceedingly kind, and who feel more at home with their favorite because they perceive his failings. It sounds ill-natured, but we think it must be admitted that to see some one else "put his foot in it" is, provided we are in no way responsible for him, sometimes pleasant for a moment. There comes a sudden sense of thankfulness into the mind of the spectator that it was not himself who has done it. There is a story of two old Scotswomen landing from a ferryboat which will illustrate our meaning. One stepped safely upon the shore, but the boat moved as the second put her foot on the gangway, and she slipped and got wet. "Eh! what a Providence it was her and no me," exclaimed the one upon the bank. The expression was instinctive, and hardly, perhaps, blameworthy. A moment's thankfulness as we note a conversational false step may be inevitable, but ridicule should be sparingly indulged in. Too much laughing over such incidents is, in our experience, dangerous. Retribution often overtakes the scoffer in the guise of a like mistake. On the same theory, while it may be occasionally justifiable to give a snub, it is never well to gloat over it. The snubbed one may turn the other cheek, but fate very often avenges the helpless. This may be a social superstition, but it is wonderful how often it fits the facts. The Spectator.

COLONIAL GIRL BEATS HERMIS.

St. Louis, Mo., June 27. — Colonial Girl, by Meddler Springtide, five years old, owned by Otto Stifel, of St. Louis, running in the name of C. E. Rowe & Company, won the World's Fair Handicap. The Eastern champion, Hermis was second, three lengths back, Moharib, owned by John W. Schorr, was six lengths behind him. Colonial Girl won the race very easily.

The race was at a mile and a quarter, and was worth $41,500 to the winner.

Goody, Two Shoes, Lady Forise, Joe Goss, Forehand, Woodlands, and Thana were the other winners.

HARBOR ELEVATOR NOT STRONG ENOUGH

Will Have To Be Braced Before It Will Be Able To Stand the Strain.

The new elevator of the Harbor Commissioners is not strong enough and further strengthening of the rodding in the will be required before the Harbor Board will take over the elevator from the contractors.

This statement was sprung on the Harbor Commissioners at the regular meeting this morning. The statement was contained in a report letter from A. Lafleur, the assistant Government engineer and was borne out by a statement by Mr. John Kennedy, the chief engineer of the Board. The latter, in answer to a question by Mr. Bickerdike, pointed out that six months ago, he had reported that the elevator would not be strong enough, but nothing had come of his report.

Mr. Doran remarked that the Board should refuse to take over the elevator from the contractors unless it was shown that it was sufficiently strong.

Mr. Weber, the contractor will arrive from Buffalo to-morrow morning and it was decided to hold a special meeting in order to find out what course should be adopted.

LONDON COMMENTS ON THE DIVISION

St. James Gazette and the Pall Mall Not Satisfied.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 27.—The St. James Gazette says:—It is not too much to hope that the question Lord Dundonald raised by such unfortunately indiscreet methods will not be allowed to drop in the whirlpool of party discussion to which the incident was bound to give rise. The question of Canada's power to protect herself must be answered, not only as a matter of Imperial duty, but as one of the personal safety of the colony and the people of Canada may yet find reason, when the bitterness of the moment has been to some extent assuaged, to be grateful for the alarum which has gone off so noisily and suddenly in their ears. But nothing can compensate us for the loss to which the indiscretions in the speeches of Lord Dundonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier have subjected both the Mother Country and the colony.

The Pall Mall Gazette, alluding to the vote, says: The sapient Premier will not require to be told that this is but an empty victory. If any proof were required that Lord Dundonald had touched Minister "on the raw," it is to be found in the bitterness of Sir Frederick Borden's counter attack and the desperate theatrical shifts he was driven to in constructing the case against the discharged commander.

HENLEY REGATTA GOSSIP.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 27.—The Henley correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says the Canabs are in the stewards challenge cup and are in tremendous form. If the Canadians beat them they will be easily the best amateur team in the world. Kelly is sculling grandly and it will take a magnificent man to beat him, but the chances of Scholes are vastly better than on the last occasion.

NAVAL MODELS FOR TORONTO.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 27. The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have loaned, through Lord Strathcona, some torpedo and a number of armor piercing shells to the Toronto exhibition. Models of battleships will also likely be sent.

ADMIRAL DOUGLAS DISTINGUISHED.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

London, June 27.—The naval correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says: "Not for many years has there been such a sensation over the Portsmouth appointment of Admiral Douglas. In the past forty-one years the Admiral about to retire has been given the command, while Admiral Douglas has several years more to serve.

CANADIAN OARSMEN AT HENLEY

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

Henley-on-Thames, June 27.—Scholes is in splendid condition and rowed a trial this morning to Fawley Court, on the championship course, under four minutes, and doing the full course in eight minutes thirty-five seconds. This afternoon's work was an easy pull over the course. Much sympathy is expressed for the mishap to the Winnipeg boat. The crew has not arrived at Henley, but are expected to-morrow. Meantime to-day the crew is using the Thames Rowing Club's boat at Putney.

DR. J. V. ANGLIN WAS APPOINTED

St. John, N.B., June 27.—(Special.)—Dr. J. V. Anglin, of Montreal, has accepted the position of superintendent of the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Diseases. He will enter on his new duties in September. Dr. Anglin succeeds Dr. G. A. Hetherington, wh oresigned some months ago. Dr. J. R. Travers, assistant superintendent, has since been in charge and it was thought would get the appointment.

HOUSE MAY PROROGUE BEFORE AUGUST 1ST.

Ottawa, June 27.—(Special.)—All the sitting days of the House will now be devoted to Government business. This means that prorogation ought not to be very far distant. It is expected that the 20th of July, or between the 20th and the close of the month will see the House closed. The Conservatives have some literature to send out and of course the Parliamentary work will have to be carried on until such time as that is done, no matter if it should take all August to do it.

CLAIM WESTMOUNT MINUTES HAVE BEEN TAMPERED WITH

In Court To-day It Was Claimed That Additions Had Been Made to the Minutes After They Were Complete.

WILL BE INVESTIGATED IN THE COURT.

The Street Railway Case Now Before the Courts Promises to be an Interesting One—This Morning's Proceedings Consisted of a Motion by Mr. Percy Ryan to Verify the Correctness or Otherwise of the Minutes.

Decidedly sensational developments are on the tapis in the dispute between a section of the citizens of Westmount and the Town Council over the Street Railway agreement. Nothing less than "cooking" the official records of the town by high civic officials is charged.

It is alleged by the petitioners, who are represented by Mr. Percy Ryan, that the official minutes of the council meeting of the second of May last contain a marginal note, in the handwriting of a high civic dignitary, which is unauthorized, and relates to matters which did not actually transpire at that meeting. It is charged that this marginal note was added after the regular record of the meeting had been made by the Assistant Secretary-Treasurer of the municipality. This marginal note is alleged to consist of a pretended notice of motion of Councillor Duclos to the effect that he would bring the Street Railway agreement up on the 16th inst. The petitioners contend that this matter was never mentioned at that meeting at all.

It is further alleged that at the meeting of the 16th inst., an attempt was made to confuse the records of a special meeting with those of a regular session held on the same day. That is, that although the two meetings were totally distinct affairs the minutes were so kept as to make it appear as though they were only one session. The minutes, it is said, set forth that after the regular meeting the discussion was continued at the special session, to go right along.

The proceedings now taken by the petitioners against the Street Railway agreement will also have a peculiar effect upon the Town of Westmount. The official minute book of the town will have to be reproduced, sealed, and filed in court until the action is ended.

It is expected that the new turn of events will come up for trial on its merits on July 5th. He would be a bold man indeed who would attempt to fix any date for its conclusion.

The dispute over the agreement between a section of Westmount's citizens and the Town Council over this Street Railway is already well known. Some time ago, Mr. Duncan Cameron, on behalf of the "kickers" entered a petition to have the agreement annulled, on the ground of various irregularities in the passing of the by-law to legalize the agreement. This petition came up for trial in Practice Court this morning.

Mr. Ryan, however, stated that as the Town of Westmount had placed its minutes in answer to the petitioners, contentions of insufficient notice of the consideration of the by-law, he would make a petition in improbation for the purpose of having the minutes declared false and irregular.

The marginal note alleged to have been wrongfully inserted in the minutes by a civic official not authorized to keep the minutes, is said to be of a character to upset the contention of the petitioners, if it is accepted as a bona fide part of the official record.

CATHOLIC YOUNG FRENCH CANADIANS

Congress of the Association Opened on Saturday with Large Attendance.

The congress of the Catholic Young French-Canadian Association opened on Saturday afternoon with an attendance of over 500 members. Archbishop Bruchesi presided, and among those present were Rev. Canon Nantel, Lecompte, Abbe Phaneuf, of Rigaud College; Ducharme, Hudon and Mr. Alphonse Leclaire, director of the Revue Canadienne.

A letter from the Pape was read, and a congratulatory reply was sent, in which the apostolic blessing was implored. A special message was also forwarded to Mgr. Sbaretti, in which the invasion of the papal domains thirty-four years ago was deplored.

Mr. Joseph Versailles, president of the congress, made a long speech, in which he outlined the aims of the society, and concluded with the remark: "We owe to England all the loyalty of British subjects, but we have no other country than our own."

Secretary Benoit told of the foundation of the association, and he was followed by Archbishop Bruchesi, who congratulated the society on its splendid turn-out. Nothing but work, sobriety and temperance would hold together such a powerful body.

On Saturday evening a business meeting of the congress was held, when several matters were disposed of.

Yesterday morning at eight o'clock the members attended mass at the Church of the Gesu, when Archbishop Bruchesi officiated. After church the sessions were resumed, and in the evening an address was delivered by Mr. Henri Bourassa, M.P. for Labelle. Mr. Bourassa urged upon all young people the value of serious study and the gain to be obtained in seeking the higher levels of culture. At the end of his discourse Mr. Bourassa was admitted to honorary membership in the association, and a similar honor was conferred on Count de Mun and Mr. J. A. Chicoyne, M.P.

The final speech was delivered by Archbishop Bruchesi, who off ered $100 to start a subscription list for the benefit of the association.

CANADA CLUB OPEN.

The initial luncheon of the Canada Club was held this afternoon at one o'clock in the club's chambers in the Board of Trade building. A large and representative gathering of the commercial men of Montreal assisted. The new quarters of the Canada Club are well adapted to attract the man of business. The dining hall, with its restful tints of ceiling, carpets and walls, is an ideal spot for midday luncheon. The ceilings are high, and there is abundance of cool, fresh air. The service is hardly to be judged by the first day, as it will require some little time to have everything running smoothly. Pleasant features of the club's headquarters are the spacious smoking and billiard rooms, where the members may gather to chat and enjoy themselves, forgetting for a time of the responsibilities of business. On the whole, judging from the success of the first day, the Canada Club may look forward to a pleasant and successful season.

WILL PUBLISH IN BOOK FORM.

The "Four Hundred Facts About Canada," published in Saturday's Herald, attracted so much attention, and created so large a demand for the issue, that it has been determined to re-publish the article in pamphlet form.

Herald readers will be duly notified when the pamphlet is issued.

REV. CANON CODY DECLINED HONOR

Anglican Synod of Nova Scotia Postpones Selection of Bishop.

Halifax, N.S., June 27.—(Special.)—There is only one thing talked about in Halifax to-day and that is the attempts being made by the Anglican Synod to elect a bishop in succession to Dr. Courtney. When churchmen left St. Paul's parish hall Saturday night they felt assured that all their troubles were over because the synod had unanimously agreed on Rev. Canon Cody as the chief pastor of the diocese. But Sunday morning the announcement was made in the various Anglican churches that Dr. Cody had declined, and this morning the synod again assembled to see what can be done.

Following is Dr. Cody's declination: "Toronto, June 28, 1904. Rev. Archdeacon Kaulbach, Halifax, N.S.: I am deeply sensible of the great honor done me in my unanimous election to the diocese of Nova Scotia, yet after the deepest and most prayerful consideration I am forced to the conclusion that the duties and responsibilities which I have undertaken here render it impossible for me to leave my present charge at this time. With grateful thanks to the synod of Nova Scotia and with the prayer that God's blessing may rest on their choice of chief pastor of the diocese, I am obliged to decline the high office which they have invited me to accept. (Signed) H. J. Cody."

This was received with general regret by both high and low churchmen, as it was felt Dr. Cody was exactly the man to rule over this rather peculiar diocese in which the laity are supposed to be low and the clergy high in their views.

The eleventh ballot on which Dr. Cody was elected was: Clerical vote, total vote 87, Cody, 59; Macklem, 26.

Lay vote—Total vote, 116, Cody, 103; Macklem, 14.

It was decided to-day to postpone the election of a bishop for two months.

DR. POZZI, OF PARIS, ARRIVES.

Dr. Pozzi of the Faculty of Paris, arrived in the city last night to attend the Congress of French Doctors to be held in this city on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the present week. Dr. Pozzi, on his arrival in the city was met by Dr. de Lothiniere Harwood and accepted an invitation to attend an operation at Notre Dame Hospital on Wednesday morning.

Courtney, Principal Ahern announced the many candidates who had passed the different grades in the examinations, the numbers being the largest on record. The programme was well executed, the singing and declamations under the direction of Prof. J. J. Shea, jr., calling for special mention. At the end of the entertainment Rev. Father O'Meara complimented the teachers and pupils on the success of the year's work, and especially on the work of the higher classes in the competitive examinations, in which Sarsfield School captured the honors, the school again leading this year, Rev. Cure Bonin, School Commissioner J. H. Semple, Ald. Dagenais, Ald. Turner all followed in the same strain, and concluded by paying a tribute to Principal Ahern, who is justly styled "a model principal." The singing of God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close. The following received their diplomas:

St. Lambert Academy

On Friday afternoon last the closing exercises of the St. Lambert Academy were held, and were very largely attended by the parents and friends of the teachers and pupils, and the large hall, which was tastefully decorated with the national flag, portraits of the King and some of the well known generals, was packed.

There were present on the platform Mr. Walter Andrews, chairman of the board of Protestant School Commissioners, and the Revs. Dean Dart, McDiarmid and Armstrong, as well as the principal, Mr. A. S. Rivard, B.A., and the Misses Varney, Carbee, Kydd and Perry, teachers. The proceedings opened with the patriotic song, "The Hymn of the Empire," by the pupils, after which a lengthy programme of songs, recitations, violin and piano solos followed, these being interspersed with patriotic songs, all of which were well executed and deservedly encored. Revs. Dean Dart, McDiarmid and Armstrong made a few remarks, and were followed by the chairman. Rev. Mr. McDiarmid drew attention to the iniquitous rule of the Department of Public Instruction at Quebec in carrying on the examinations in the academy grades at the beginning of June, and asked why it were so? Principal Rivard replied, after which the prizes were presented to the successful pupils, Rev. Dean Dart presenting the kindergarten ones, Rev. Mr. McDiarmid those of Grade II., and Rev. Mr. Armstrong those of Grade I. The day closed with the singing of the National Anthem by the scholars, in which all the visitors joined.

The principal, in his few remarks, thanked his assistants for their hearty co-operation and work, which had tended to make the session so successful. He also expressed regret at the resignation of Miss Carbee, who had decided to go to the Northwest.

The following are the promotions and prize lists:

PALE, WEAK WOMEN TAKE NEW HOPE

There is a Remedy for all your Troubles—Thousands have been Cured—Why not get back your Strength and Vigor by Using the Food-Tonic Ferrozone?

Ever since the world began woman has borne more than her share of suffering. Secret troubles, undermine her strength, yet she seldom complains. But because she has suffered in the past is no reason why she should forever be dragged down in misery and sleeplessness.

There is a remedy, one that will lift that awful burden and remove the ills from which women suffer. The name of this remedy is Ferrozone which today is a household word throughout the length and breadth of the American continent. New hope has been brought into the life of many a downcast woman, a new era of health has dawned for thousands who have tried and proved the merit of Ferrozone.

There is no girl or woman who can afford to miss the benefit that is sure to come from the regular use of this grand remedy. It acts directly on all the organs and insures functional activity upon which health so largely depends. Your days of weakness and headache, your hours of nervousness and despondency will all depart. Life will hold for you many new joys as it does for everyone that uses Ferrozone regularly.

Your whole body will feel the quickening influence of Ferrozone. The blood will be purified and enriched. You will no longer suffer from suppression and interference with the menstrual functions. Ferrozone cures all such ailments and prevents their return.

Mrs. Mary E. Cowan, of Hillsboro, writes: "If half the ailing women in this world would only use Ferrozone regularly they would save a great deal of sickness. Before using Ferrozone I was fatigued and tired out with the least exertion. I spent half my time in bed and was forever bothered with some trouble or another. After using a few boxes of Ferrozone I became more robust, my strength increased and the irregularities I formerly had have disappeared. Ferrozone is a grand medicine for women."

This is the experience of thousands. You really ought to use Ferrozone,—it will do you so much good. Don't listen to the druggist who urges something just as good. No substitute compares with Ferrozone, which does all that is claimed for it. Price, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at druggists or by mail from The Ferrozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

A HAPPY ANOMALY.

Although "SWISS FOOD" is building up poorly nourished systems every day, it is still sold by grocers in a large package at a small price.—adv.

ALD. GALLERY REMAINS ON.

St. Ann's Total Abstinence and Benefit Society held a special meeting yesterday afternoon. Ald. D. Gallery, occupied the chair, the vice chair being occupied by Ald. M. J. Walsh. Ald. Gallery wished to tender his resignation as president of the society but the members wished him to continue in office and he acquiesced in their wishes. All arrangements for the society's annual excursion to Lake St. Peter, July 14th, were completed. The past year had been very heavy on the finances of the society, some twenty-five members dying.

Neuralgia of The Heart

An Ailment Which Terrifies its Victims—Indicated by Pains About the Heart and Quick, Loud Breathing—Cured by

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

It is quite natural to be alarmed when the heart becomes affected, but there is no reason to despair of being cured.

The great majority of heart derangements are due to exhaustion of the nerves and a watery condition of the blood. By overcoming these causes of trouble with the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the heart will be restored to health and its action again become normal.

Mr. James G. Clark, Fosterville, York County, N.B., writes: 'I have been a great sufferer from what the doctors said was neuralgia of the heart. The pain started in the back of the neck and worked down into the region of the heart. Though I had taken a lot of medicine of one kind and another, I could not get anything to help me until I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

"When I began this treatment I could not rest in bed, except by sitting upright, on account of the dreadful pains about the heart and the quick, loud beating. The change which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has made in my condition is wonderful. It has entirely overcome these symptoms and is making me strong and well. If this statement will help to relieve the suffering of others, you are at liberty to use it."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recipe book author are on every box.

KING AND KAISER MEET AT KIEL

The Greeting Between The Two Monarchs Was Most Cordial.

Kiel, June 27.—The Royal yacht Victoria and Albert with King Edward on board entered the Moltenan lock, at the mouth of the Baltic canal, shortly after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, amidst salutes from the assembled German warships.

Emperor William, who was accompanied by Prince Henry of Prussia, the Crown Prince Frederick William, and a brilliant salute, awaited his uncle here. The meeting between the two sovereigns was most hearty.

King Edward, wearing the uniform of a German admiral, and having across his breast the ribbon of the Order of the Black Eagle, was on the deck of the Victoria and Albert with a large retinue. Immediately after the gangway had been laid, Emperor William boarded the British yacht and greeted his uncle in the heartiest manner, kissing him several times on both cheeks. After greetings between King Edward and Prince Henry of Prussia, and the Crown Prince, the King landed, witnessed a march past of the guards and returned to his yacht which afterwards entered Kiel harbor. All the warships, yachts and other vessels in the harbor dressed ship and the shore batteries and warships fired Royal salutes.

There was a gala dinner at 8 p.m. on the Hohenzollern, which was attended by King Edward and the members of the Royal Family, a large company of high dignitaries of state and military and naval officers.

Yesterday King Edward and Emperor William attended divine service on board the German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, and afterward took lunch on board the Empress' yacht Iduna, which did not take part in the regatta. Later King Edward, accompanied by Prince Henry and other members of the Royal party, paid an informal visit to the Royal Yacht Club. Among those present at the luncheon were the ex-Emperor and the Empress, King Edward, Count Von Buelow and Marquis of Ormonde.

The Emperor and the Empress dined last evening with King Edward on board the Victoria and Albert.

JEWISH MILITIAMEN PARADE TO SYNAGOGUE

Rabbi De Sola Criticizes Strongly the Opposition in Certain Quarters to Zion Cadets.

Seldom has the Spanish and Portuguese synagogue presented as brilliant a scene as that witnessed on Saturday morning, when the Jewish members of the militia and Zion Cadet Corps attended service. The former were commanded by Sergeant M. Sparber, and the latter by Captain D. Livinson, Lt.-Colonel Gordon, D.O.C., Major Lafferty and Major Stewart occupied the seats of thes ynagogue wardens. Among the other military men present were Lieut. Youngheart and Dr. Lauterman, of the Duke of Connaught's Hussars, Dr. H. Lightstone, who served in South Africa, and Captain Herbert Harris, of London.

The ceremony of opening the Ark was performed by Lieutenant Youngheart, and the sacred scroll of the law was borne by Dr. Lightstone, who was in kahki. Among those called to the reading of the Law were Major E. L. Rosenthal, Captain Livinson, Lieutenants L. Vineberg and Schleifer, Sergt. Sperber, Corporal Shreiberk and Privates H. Lightstone and H. Cohen. Rabbi De Sola conducted the service, which was choral, and the lesson from the prophets was chanted by Mr. Isaac Kirschberg. A very impressive feature in the service was the bearing of the scroll ofthe Law by Mr. Lightstone, while Lieut. Youngheart stood in the military attitude of attention on the marble steps of the Ark.

Rabbi De Sola's address was an eloquent appeal for the cultivation of loyal and patriotic sentiments. He referred in scathing terms to the opposition of a certain institution to the Zion Cadet Corps, and sternly denounced such opposition as un-Jewish, un-British and unpatriotic. After the service, Colonel Gordon and his staff inspected the men in line.

MONTREAL MAN KILLED BY THE OTTAWA EXPRESS

He Was Overtaken on Rideau River Bridge, Being Unable to Hear Signal.

Ottawa, June 27.—Herminas Jacques, a deaf mute from the Mile End Institute, Montreal, was struck and instantly killed by the Montreal and Ottawa C.P.R. express as the train was crossing over the Rideau River bridge, about 7 o'clock Saturday evening. Dr. Baptie, the coroner, wil hold an inquest to-day. The train was in charge of Conductor Alex. Younger and Engineer Horatio Hymers. The latter was blowing his whistle for the bridge and did not notice the man, who was on the track on the bridge, till the train was just on him, and Jacques could not hear the signal. He was struck with great force and thrown forward and alongside the track. The train was halted, but the man was dead when picked up. The corpse was brought to the Central station, where it was viewed by the coroner, and then removed to the morgue. Upon his clothes were found a pencil and pad used for purposes of communication by notes. Jacques was about twenty-five years of age.

RE-MEASURE FRENCH SHIPS.

The Imperial Privy Council has recently passed an order in council which will be of interest to all shipping men doing business with France in French bottoms. Ever since 1873 a law has been in force that whenever the ship measurement regulations of any foreign country conformed to those of the British "Merchant Shipping Act" that the measurements and tonnage of such ships as indicated in their certificates of registry or other national papers should be accepted by the British authorities, thus obviating the necessity of remeasurement in British ports.

This rule applied to French ships, as to those of all other nations. The new Imperial Order in Council states that: "Whereas it has been made to appear to his present Majesty that the tonnage of French ships as measured by the rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships of France materially differs from that which would be the tonnage of such ships if measured under the "Merchant Shipping Aact, 1894." French ships may, for any necessary purposes under the British Merchant Shiping Act, be remeasured in British ports.

EASTERN TOWNSHIPS.

Sherbrooke, June 27.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Sherbrooke County W. C. T. U. the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. C. Skinner; vice-president, Mrs. G. E. McCurdy, Lennoxville; secretary, Miss M. Robinson, Spring Road; recording secretary, Miss G. M. Bradley.

At a meeting of the Eastern Townships directors, the petition of a number of Waterville merchants for the bank to establish a bank at Waterville was considered. It was decided to send a clerk from the head office two days in each week for a year, and at the end of that period should business warrant it a new branch may be opened.

Mr. John Hayes has received word that his brother, William Hayes had been killed in Boston. The deceased was a conductor on the New York Railway.

Paul Boisvert, a brakeman, on the I.C.R. morning passenger train dropped dead while engaged in making up his train. He had just given the signal to back down when he fell to the ground dead.

The dry kiln at C. W. Bryan'ts sash and door factory, was damaged to the extent of $200 by fire.

The Rev. Father Lefebvre, parish priest of Weedon, celebrated the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood yesterday. Rev. Father Lefebvre was formerly parish priest in East Sherbrooke.

C. H. McGown, Georgeville, was fined $10 and costs for threatening to do bodily harm to one James A. Davidson.

A curious story comes from East Angus that a child was born there this week with five eyes. Two are in the usual place, while the three others are in the forehead at equal distances apart.

The farm buildings and a number of live stock belonging to John McCaskill, farmer, Scotstown, were destroyed by fire a few nights ago.

NOVA SCOTIA WILL GO SOLID FOR LAURIER

Mr. Johnston, of Cape Breton, Says Conservatives Will be Lucky to Carry Three Seats.

Mr. Johnston, one of the Liberal members for Cape Breton, who, with Dr. Kendall, defeated Sir Charles Tupper at the last election, passed through Montreal yesterday from Ottawa on his way to Sydney.

At the Windsor Mr. Johnston expressed a most optimistic opinion of the Liberal outlook in the East.

"Everything is fine," he said, "and there is nothing to these Conservative claims that they are going to make gains in Nova Scotia.

"The Liberals are solid down there, and if the Conservatives get three seats in Nova Scotia they will be awfully lucky.

"It's too bad," continued Mr. Johnston, "that the electors of Canada cannot hear the debates in the House of Commons. There has been some magnificent speaking on the Liberal side of the House this session, and the contrast between the Government and Opposition speakers was never so marked before.

"It does one good," said Mr. Johnston, "to see how well the chief is looking now. I never saw Sir Wilfrid in better form. He is debating with grand vigor, and is working hard night and day."

A CURIOUS CERTIFICATE.

How a Woodstock Medical Man Raised a Liquor Embargo.

Toronto, June 27.—"Give—— —— three or four glasses of whiskey every day to gradually allay nervous irritability, and wean off by degrees." Thus read the order addressed to an hotelkeeper of Woodstock by a medical practitioner of that city. This certificate has been submitted to the Ontario License Department for an opinion thereon. Inspector McKay of Woodstock, prosecuted J. J. Brunker, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, Woodstock, for selling liquor to the person named, contrary to an order circular among hotelkeepers. It was ineffective, however, because the Crown Attorney contended that the certificate could be used on one occasion only, and the magistrate registered a conviction. But, believing that the hotelkeeper thought he was acting entirely within the law, the magistrate fined him merely $1 and costs.

Chief Officer Saunders proposes to call the attention of the Ontario Medical Association to the matter, for he fears that the issue of such certificates will have a tendency to render the law a dead letter.

QUEBEC FIRMS ASSIGN.

Several Montreal Firms Figure in List of Creditors.

Quebec, June 27.—C. E. Roy, boot and shoe and leather merchant, of this city, assigned on Saturday, with assets of $94,487, and liabilities, $86,632. Among his assets is stock in trade in this city, valued at $47,714, and stock in Montreal valued at $11,688; book debts, $10,767, and properties, $21,000. The banks interested are La Banque Nationale, St. Rochs, $24,400; Merchants Bank, St. Sauveur, $3,420; Molsons Bank, Quebec, $3,000. Among the Montreal firms interested are: The Canadian Rubber Company, $3,765; Royal Shoe Company, $6,167; Mr. George Darveau has been named provisional guardian, and a meeting of creditors is fixed for July 5.

Alf. Poirier, boot and shoe manufacturer, of this city, also assigned on Saturday. Assets, $3,175; liabilities, $19,058; indirect creditors, Merchants Bank, St. Sauveur, $24,455; Paul Tourigny, $2,482. Mr. Geo. Darveau has been appointed provisional guardian, and the meeting of creditors is fixed for July 5.

THE BARRIEFIELD CAMP.

Kingston, Ont., June 27.—(Special.)—Col. Buchan, D.O.C., who will be in command of the Barriefield camp, expects that there will be 3,000 men under canvas. A few weeks ago he figured on only 2,000, but the militia order stating that efficiency pay is to be given all ranks will have the effect of bringing out a larger number of men than there otherwise would have been.

HALLEWYN WAS ROBBED.

St. John, N.B., June 7.—Three men giving their names as Charley J. Grant, James Howard and John J. Williams were arrested on the Canadian Pacific train at McAdam on the trip from St. John to Montreal this evening on suspicion of stealing $90 from Stanislaus D. Hallewyn, secretary to M. Kleczkowski, of Montreal, consul-general of France in Canada, and J. P. Baxter, mayor of Portland.

When the loss of the money was made known a woman passenger said she saw the three men named dividing money between them, and they were arrested on suspicion, and taken to Fredericton.

COFFEE CATARRH.

An Unsuspected Cause.

It is curious how many diseases come from a disordered nervous system which locates disease in some part of the body and the primary cause can often be traced to coffee which first breaks down the nervous system. A Georgian says:

"There is no doubt coffee gave me nasal catarrh. The ceptim in my nose was all gone and the catarrh was eating its way, getting hold of the main bone of the nose. It also affected my sight very much.

"My nose was constantly dripping bloody water but in two weeks time after I quit coffee and used Postum Food Coffee in its place, I could see my way very well, the dripping from my nose stopped and my nose finally got perfectly well and healthy as far as is possible for the ceptim to grow back.

"There is no doubt it was a case of coffee catarrh and the cure was made entirely by changing from coffee to Postum. The rest of my family took up the new drink and Postum relieved my wife and little boy of frequent headaches and what is called 'coffee headache' is not known in our family any more. Our sleep is so much more refreshing.

"We have influenced many people to try Postum and all of them like it better the longer they use it and most of them say it is better than coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days trial Postum in place of coffee often works wonders. There's a reason.

MR. WARING KENNEDY DEAD.

He Was Twice Elected Mayor of Toronto, and Served as Alderman.

Toronto, Ont., June 27.—Warring Kennedy, ex-mayor of Toronto, died on Saturday at the residence of his sister, 91 Spencer Avenue, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered about a year ago. Warring Kennedy was born in Ireland in 1827, and he came to Canada in 1857, in 1869 established in Toronto the wholesale dry goods house of Samson, Kennedy & Gemmel, which continued business until 1895, when it was obliged to assign, and was wound up. Kenned, was elected an alderman in 1871 and in 1894, ad again in 1895 was elected mayor of Toronto. Mr. Kennedy was a prominent Conservative.

MILITIA ORDERS ISSUED.

Ottawa, June 27.—Militia Orders announce that authority to undergo a special course in military sketching and reconnaissance at Laprairie camp, has been given to Major R. J. Hewton, Capt. R. Thomas and Lieut.-Col. T. L. Brown, all of the 11th Hussars.

Certificates of qualification have been issued as follows: Field officer's class, Major S. Howard, Montreal Engineers; Capt. E. Gravel, 55th Regiment; Maxim gun, Capt. L. F. Bacon, 61st Regt.; Sergt. L. Gauvreau and Corp. L. Denny, both of the 8th Regiment. Captain; Second Lieut. C. R. Donoghy, 55th Regiment.

The inspection of the Eastern Townships Cavalry Brigade, will take place at Laprairie on July 1 and 2.

GIFT FROM ROYAL SCOTS.

Kingston, June 27.—(Special.)—The mayor has received a military gift for the city. It is a four by three feet photograph framed in walnut of the officers of the 5th Royal Scots Regiment of Montreal, which was the guest of the people of Kingston on May 24th and 25th, 1903. On the bottom of the frame is a brass plate, engraved. Lieut.-Col. Carson wrote the mayor, asking him to accept the photograph on behalf of the city in commemoration of the Royal Scots visit here a year ago. The picture will be presented to the city council.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

ELDERS ORDAINED.

An interesting service took place yesterday morning at St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church, when Messrs. F. L. Geer, John Barber, William Cheeseman, S. W. Cuthbert, W. Ainslie and P. Eaton were ordained by the pastor, Rev. D. A. Mackenzie to the eldership. The number of elders is now eighteen, the addition being made necessary by the rapid growth of the congregation.

Special Notice. SO QUIET AND HOMELIKE.

"Yes, we like our new flat very much. There are two barking dogs in the hall, a howling infant overhead, a piano below, three street car lines pass the door, and a sweet young thing across the hall is rehearsing the title role in "Camille." It is so restful and peaceful." No wonder the poor man looks pale and haggard. What he needs is a wineglassful of in St. Michel, three times a day. It quiets the nerves, brings sound sleep, builds up and strengthens the whole system. At all dealers.

Point St. Charles

Over six hundred passes were issued Friday to the workers in the Grand Trunk shops, this number taking advantage of the enforced holidays to visit friends all over the country.

Mr. William Pitt, of Magdalene Street, accompanied by his wife and family has left for Old Orchard Beach. Mr. Pitt will only spend the week there, but his family will remain for a month.

Mr. James Wilson was the recipient of a splendid fishing outfit from his fellow workmen in the Grand Trunk rolling mills Friday night on the eve of his departure for his new situation in Belleville.

SEVERAL SERIOUS FIRES REPORTED

Two Barns Destroyed Near Brockville—Valleyfield $7,000 Fire.

Brockville, Ont., June 27.—The house and barns belonging to George McLean, a farmer living on the Prescott road below Maitland, were discovered to be on fire yesterday. As there was no means of checking the blaze the buildings were totally destroyed. The fire started from a defective chimney, and there was no insurance on the property. The barns and outbuildings of Harold Jones ignited from flying embers, and were burned with their contents. The loss is covered by $1,400 insurance.

Fire in Valleyfield.

Valleyfield, Que., June 27.—(Special.)—A disastrous fire broke out on Saturday in the vicinity of Dion's store house and lumber yard in the New York Central yards here, by which two cars, containing coal oil and two of lumber, the property of O. Cossetti, one of bran consigned to E. Dion, were totally consumed, also the storehouses of E. Dion and O. Guindon, both filled with oils, cement, etc. A car load of flour was badly damaged, the warehouse of N. Langevin was slightly damaged as well as a passenger coach belonging to the Railway Company. The loss is about $7,000, partially insured.

Victoria Hotel Threatened.

Victoria, B.C., June 27.—(Special.)—The Hotel Driard at Victoria, B.C., was reported on fire late last night. The extent of the damage has not yet been ascertained. The hotel is a six storey building in the heart of the town.

Fire in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., June 27.—Fire broke out in the Olafson Block on Saturday and damaged it to the amount of about $25,000. Twenty-one families are homeless, and though all their effects were not lost the damage from smoke and water will render the goods useless. The ground floor and basement were occupied by the Olafson Flour and Feed Company, the upper storeys being used as apartments. It was valued at $35,000 and is covered by $25,000 insurance in the Law Union ad Crown Company. Origin of the fire unknown.

DECORATE GRAVES OF FIRE FIGHTERS

The Aldermen and Firemen Honor Their Dead Comrades.

A delegation from the Firemen's Benevolent Association, accompanied by several members of the City Council and others, visited the cemeteries on Saturday afternoon and decorated the graves of the firemen who had laid down their lives for duty's sake.

In Mount Royal Cemetery nine officers and fifteen men are buried, and their graves were eadorned with Dominion flags. The tri-color and the Irish harp were placed over the six officers and twenty?four men who rest in Cote des Neiges cemetery. The Firemen's Association has a beautiful lot in each cemetery, but many of the brigade are interred in private lots, and a long tour was necessary to decorate all the graves.

Those buried in Mount Royal Cemetery are Chief A. Bertram, Chief W. Patton, Sub-Chief A. McCulloch, Sub-Chief J. Beckingham, Captain F. Haines, Captain W. Sparling, Captain P. Gibson, Captain W. Mann, Foreman J. Livingston, Firemen W. Sharp, H. W. Scott, F. Turner, A. McKenzie, W. Ferguson, R. Choules, T. Higgins, W. Perry, N. Cairns, W. Shaw, J. Tower, J. J. Cairns, jr., A. Ferguson and W. McDonald.

In Cote des Neiges Cemetery are Engine Superintendent J. Nolan, Captain J. Naud, Captain T. Mangan, Captain I. Roach, Foreman E. Laporte, Foreman C. McAllister, Firemen P. Kelly, M. Barry, F. Beausoleil, J. Cloran, J. Gunn, M. Aumond, G. Garand, G. Dagenais, E. Smith, J. O'Rourke, P. A. Dufour, W. St. George's, H. King, S. Landerman, E. Benoit, N. Burrelle, A. Dumas, A. Rioux, V. King, L. Vervais, J. Enright, S. Carpentier, O. Asselin and W. Lamoureux.

From Cote des Neiges Cemetery the party drove to the Canadian Hunt Club, where supper was partaken of. Ald. M. J. Walsh occupied th echair, and suitable speeches were made by Ald. Clearihue, L. A. Lapointe, Lavallee, Duquette, Proulx, Leclaire and Chief Benoit.

YESTERDAY WAS THE HOTTEST DAY SO FAR

The Mercury Reached 83.8 in the Afternoon, Just a Few Degrees Below the Record.

Montreal was hot yesterday, and its citizens hotter, for the mercury had climbed up into the eighties, and at three o'clock in the afternoon had reached almost to the eighty-four mark, or four degrees lower than July 9 last year, the record of the season.

Saturday was hot enough, and Montrealers had their work cut out to keep cool. Even Mount Royal, where breezes are generally to be found, had little to offer, and the weary climber was glad to seek the friendly shade of the trees.

On Saturday night there was a slight fall in temperature, but the sun resumed operations on Sunday morning with increased power.

The readings at McGill were:—1 a.m., 72 degrees; 3 a.m., 73; 5 a.m., 73; 7 a.m., 77; 9 a.m., 80; 11 a.m., 81; 1 p.m., 83; 3 p.m., 83; 5 p.m., 80; 7 p.m., 75; 9 p.m., 70; 11 p.m., 67.

Between one and three o'clock the maximum, 83.8, was registered.

The heat was so intense yesterday afternoon that thousands were driven from their homes in search of a cooler spot. Nine thousand crossed to St. Heeln's Island by the ferry, while thousands invaded Mount Royal or travelled over the island by electric cars. In the evening the parks were crowded, and lucky was the man who could find a seat.

A WOODSTOCK HERO.

He Will be Recommended for Carnegie's Hero Fund.

Woodstock, Ont., June 27.—(Special.)—James Lynch's right hand was taken off in a chopper on Saturday. A fellow employee named Budd thrust his hand into the machine and thus allowed the boy, Lynch's arm to be drawn out. Budd's hand and arm were terribly lacerated. The deed was a singularly brave one, and will be drawn to the attention of Carnegie's heroes fund trustees.

SUCCESSFUL GARDEN PARTY.

The garden party and sale of work given by the Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension on Saturday evening proved a great success. The beautiful shade of the grounds at Mountview was a great attraction owing to the excessive heae. The tea table was well patronized, and was presided over by Mrs. Reeve and the Misses Kruse. The ice cream booth in charge of Misses Sevazie and Marshall, was in great favor. The candy table, in charge of Misses Bishop, Daniels, and Mrs. Swift, made a good display, and was well patronized. Mrs. Tector and Miss Usherwood dispensed strawberries and cream under the shadow of a huge Japanese umbrella. The handsome display of fancy handkerchiefs provided by Mrs. G. adn Miss F. Southee, and the fancy work table in charge of Miss M. Forrest, Mrs. Jos. Taylor, and Miss McCort attracted many purchasers. The music provided by the Prince of Wales Fusiliers, and the handsome decoration of the grounds made it one of the most enjoyable and successful events given by the Guild.

TRANSLATING THE BIBLE.

Some of the Difficulties—Scriptures Now in Over 400 Tongues.

The Bible, or some portion of it, has, says Miss Klickman, writing in the London Leisure Hour, been translated into over 400 languages, while it is estimated that there are considerably over 1,000 languages in which, as yet, the Scriptures have never been spoken. At the present time, to proceed from any one spot in the hinterland of Africa, making it a centre for excursionists in all directions, every ten or fifteen miles will bring one to tribes speaking dialects that are mutually unintelligible. How far this state of affairs hinders the spread of the gospel can only be dimly surmised. The foremost agency which is grappling with this problem is the Bible Society, which has rightly been described as the world's greatest philological institution. On the shelves of the famous library at the Bible House are 10,000 copies of the Scriptures in over 400 different languages. The majority of these volumes are the result of years of hardship, drudgery and peril.

One great trouble in Bible translation is the rendering into another tongue of ideas and words for which there are no equivalents. When translating the Scriptures into the Eskimo language the missionary had to render "the lamb of God" as "the little seal of God," since sheep were unknown to Labrador, whereas seals were familiar objects to the natives. In some regions the sheeps are entirely black, hence the difficulty of translating "white as wool." In many parts of the world fig trees, camels, snow, ice, and scores of other things of which mention is constantly made in the Bible, are totally unknown. In Idzo, the language of the delta of the River Niger, there is no word for girl or sister. In New Britain the translator was seeking some native idiom to convey the idea of a binding oath, when a chief suggested that the desired phrase was, "I would rather speak to my wife's mother than do such and such a thing."

In New Guinea another translator was wrestling with the word "love," and asked his native assistant what term he would use to express his fondness for whatever he held dearest on earth. The native promptly supplied the missing word. Later the missionary was apaplied to find that the word he had used signified to the natives "a liking for putrid meat." In British Columbia a missionary wanted his catechist to translate "A crown of glory that fadeth not away." This was done to the satisfaction of all concerned, but ultimately the missionary found to his horror that it had been rendered, "A hat that never wears out!" Still more surprising was the Pandit's comment on Genesis, xlvi., 4, "Joseph shall put his hand upon thine eyes," which obviously implies closing the eyes after death. This was how Dr. Hooper and his colleagues rendered it, forgetting that the Hindus have not this custom. After a time the Pandit relieved his mind thus: / "I can't understand this story of Joseph. He seems such a good son, and his father so fond of him. How comes it, then, that they have a stand-up fight, and Joseph being the stronger, hits his father on the eye so hard as to close it?" There was no help for it but to render the passage simply, "Joseph shall conduct thy funeral ceremonies."

MONEY UNDER FALSE PRETENCES.

Rat Portage, June 27.—(Special.)—Adolphe Perrault was brought before Judge Chapple Saturday on a charge of having obtained money under false pretences, under promise of marrying a young woman servant in a hotel who had saved 200, gave her money to Perrault. He did not use it for the purposes pretended, but left town and had to be brought back by detectives. He wos found guilty and sentenced to two years in the Central Prison at Toronto, with a standing judgment against him of 300 to be paid to the one defrauded.

FAMOUS MOUNTAINEER HERE.

Mr. Edward Whymper, the celebrated mountaineer, who has ascended Mount Blanc and the Matterhorn, as well as having made several notable climbs in the Rocky Mountains, is at the Windsor on his way to the Rockies, where he expects to do some more climbing this year. Mr. Whymper said this morning that he has not completed his plans as yet, but he hopes to make several ascents during the summer.

CIRCUS PARADE ATTRACTS CROWDS

Forepaugh & Sells Brothers Turnout Was Centre of Attraction.

Forepaugh and Sells Bros., circus reached the city last night, held the usual street parade this morning and this afternoon the first performance is being given on the old exhibition grounds.

The first of the circus trains reached Montreal at ten o'clock last night from Kingston, N.Y., where the show appeared on Saturday. As is usual with circuses the commissariat tent was the first canvas up and a short time after, the erection of the other tents was well underway. Before the call was given for the street parade the big tents had assumed tangible form and the canvas city was being gotten speedily into shape.

The street parade this morning attracted the usual large crowds and the streets all along the route were lined with spectators. The procession was a particularly long one and in point of the number of bands, horsemen and women and decorated chariots and vans seemed to be larger and more elaborate than Ringling Bros. show seen here last month.

Four open cages were shown, the first containing two particularly large lions of majestic appearance. Three lionesses were in the second cage while in the other open ones, Polar bears were shown.

The herd of elephants was a large one and some of the animals of exceptional size. There was also a fine display of camels and dramedaries. A pleasing feature of the parade was the splendid condition of all the animals and the chariots.

The procession was headed by a squadron of horsemen, dressed to represent American soldiers of different periods, from 1776 to the present day. The costumes are said to be historically correct and thus a basis was formed for interesting comparisons between the dress of the soldiers of revolutionary days and that worn in the latest campaign in which Uncle Sam was engaged.

ON THE DOWNWARD PATH.

John Parker, of Toronto, Stole Ten Dollars From a Waiter.

A sad case of a respectable-looking young man entering on the downward path came to light in court this morning before Judge Lafontaine. Accused, whose name is John Parker, 24 years of age, was charged with the theft of $10, and also with having attempted to pass a check for $25, the signature on which, it is alleged, is a forgery.

Police Corporal Picard informed the court that Parker had been boarding at the Wellington Cafe, and that on Saturday night he stole the $10 from a waiter there, slipping the notes under the edge of the carpet when called in question. Accused also, in payment of certain refreshments supplied at the house, presented a check for $25 on the Eastern Townships Bank, purporting to be signed by H. P. Aiken, a party who is, up to the present time, unknown to the police, but whose name, it is stated, Parker admitted on his arrest, to having signed.

The officer added that from letters found in his possession, accused seemed to be well connected in Toronto, where, apparently, there was property under trusteeship on his behalf. There were also letters of a very pathetic nature from a sorrowing mother in the States asking him to return to a straighter path, and go South and get to work.

Accused pleaded guilty to theft of the $10, and was remanded until July 5 for inquiry.

PRESENTATION TO MR. HORN.

The staff of the equipment department of the Bell Telephone Company on Wednesday, June 15th, presented Mr. F. B. Horn, supervisor of instrument inspection, with an illuminated address, and large teacher's Bible.

Mr. Horn was compelled to resign his position on account of ill-health, and it is hoped that after a two months' vacation he will be sufficiently recuperated to again take up his work.

The presentation was made by Mr. D. O. Clarabutt.

The staff are sorry to lose Mr. Horn, who was held in high esteem.

THE COST OF NAVAL WARFARE.

Modern naval warfare is one of the most costly things that can be imagined, and a combat between two fleets means the expenditure of vast sums of money. Some idea of the high cost can be arrived at by taking a Japanese warship like the Kasuga or Nisshin and calculating the number of shots she would discharge, say, at Port Arthur. The first-named ship carries four cannon of 300 millimetres, which cost £60,000 each. One of these guns can fire two shots per minute, and every shot costs £80. Thus in five minutes these four cannon can discharge forty bombs at a cost of £3,200. The smaller cannon cost each £3,600 and every shot they fire means an expenditure of £14. They are very rapid, and it is estimated that in five minutes the twelve cannon do discharge shot to the value of nearly £7,000. There are about thirty smaller guns, which can in five minutes throw out ten tons of shot and shell amongst the enemy. On the whole, it is estimated that a first-class warship can expend in an hour's rapid fighting a sum not far short of a quarter of a million sterling.

DOMESTIC SERVANTS IN RUSSIA.

The Russian servant is hired for one year, and is told exactly what his particular duty is to be. He then sticks to that one duty. As long as each servant faithfully performs the special duties of his position all is well; but the neglectful butler, or cook, or coachman, is sent by the employer with a written note to the police judge, who after carefully investigating the complaints has a right to order bodily punishment or to write a bad mark in the book kept for this purpose.

In great Russian households, often from twenty to fifty servants are kept, and even the middle class families have two to four. The pay of these servants varies according to the line of work. While the "chiefs" in the kitchens of wealthy families often receive £300 a year, a cook in an ordinary citizen's employ gets no more than £12 a year, and a maid-of-all work never gets more than £5 a year. At Easter every servants gets a present, generally a suit or a dress.

Every other Sunday the servants in a Russian household are entirely free. Their work stops Saturday night after supper, when the servants leave the house, not to return until next Monday morning.

Russian servants will pilfer. Since Russian ladies leave everything to the care of the servants, the latter do as they please.

The menservants smoke cigars belonging to their masters, and pay frequent visits to the wine cellars of the house, but a gentleman would consider it "demeaning" himself to prosecute a servant for this.

The Russian servants will talk about fellow-servants but never about their employers. Even when they quit one place and take service in another family they would never mention anything about their former masters. This discretion goes so far that even the law considers it. In Russia the law excludes servants as witnesses against their former or present employers, so long, at least as these servants are not suspected of having taken part in the crime.

THREE TORONTO DROWNINGS.

Toronto, June 27.—(Special)—Two lads, Walter aylor, aged ten, and Wilfrid Smith, aged fifteen, were drowned in the bay on Saturday night, and a young man believed to be Ralph Hurlow, was drowned in the Don river.

THE SIBERIAN COW.

Growth of Butter-making Industry East of Ural Mountains.

No phase of Old World agriculture has made such astonishing progress in the last few years as the dairy industry of Siberia, says the New York Sun. Tweny years ago no butter was made in that country. Milk was consumed where produced, and if there was any excess it was thrown away. The first butter was made by a farmer named Panphilof among the foothills of the Urals eighteen years ago. At the present time over $15,000,000 worth of butter is annually exported, besides what is consumed in the country. Nothing like this wonderful development of butter making in so short a time was ever seen in any other land.

The growth of the industry has been due to a number of favoring circumstances. The region of grassy steppes in the western provinces of Siberia is finely adapted for cattle raising. About the time that the Siberian Railroad began to afford facilities for shipments to the west some Danes who visited the country were struck with the immensity of its natural pasturage and the fine condition of the cattle. They brought their expert knowledge and imported their machinery and began to make butter Russian, German and a few English butter makers came in and followed the example of the Danes.

Th attention of the Russian Government was called to this new development and the officials thought the prospects for the new branch of farming were excellent. Probably no government has ever fostered a young industry with more energy and intelligence than Russia has given to Siberian butter making. Government agents by scores have gone from farm to farm to teach the proper care of milk and the processes of butter making. The Government has subsidized the cold storage plants that are maintained at all the butter-shipping points and provided the Siberian Railroad with a large number of refrigerating cars. It has also helped to establish a large number of co-operative butter factories on the Danish model, and most of the butter is now made in these establishments.

The Siberian cow, yielding milk not great in quantity, but notably rich, is to-day worth more to Siberia in international trade than its wheat crop. Butter is the chief export commodity. The first exports were in 1893; nine years later they amounted to 685,000,000 pounds, worth more than twice the value of the wheat exported in 1900, the last first-rate harvest year.

So here is a region of Asia that would suffer severely if anything should occur to destroy Russia's friendly relations with her great neighbors. Siberia would lose for a time the best markets for her growing production of butter.

SUNSET LAND.

Morocco, towards whose shores the guns of many warships point, is a word unknown to the people of the land we call by that name, as also is Moor, the name we loosely give to all those people. Since Shakespeare made the Moor of Venice black, and probably before that time, Europe has been in the habit of thinking of Moors as black people. We should be nearer the truth, though still not accurate, if we called them white. The fact is they range all the way from the fairness of a Norwegian to the blackness of a Soudanese, a fact which is not surprising when we remember that the Mooors of the plains are Arabs (a light-skinned people), and that the great Sultan Moulal Ismail (of pious but bloody memory) used to surround himself with as many as one hundred thousand pure black guards from the Soudan, and was wont to marry them in batches to the fairest women he could find, by the simple process of saying: "Hadi yi houd Hadi," or "That take that. (See "Adventures of Thomas Pellow.")

The Extreme West.

Its natives call Morocco, Al Moghreb al Aksa, or the Extreme West, The Land of the Setting Sun, or Sunset Land. They are Mohammedans, and Morocco is the extreme west of the world of Islam. It is the point of the Orient which is nearest to Europe, so very near as to be within heavy gun range of that essentially British Clapham Junction of the Mediterranean, Gibraltar. And yet, in all other senses than the geographical, Morocco, up till now, has been a place more really remote from Europe and its civilization than Patagonia or Cochin China.

Early Bible Memories.

Landing at Tangier, says A. J. Dawson in T. P.'s Weekly, you recall your childhood's conception, based mainly upon old Bible illustrations, of the appearance of those Eastern cities and market-places which were frequented by your favorite heroes and heroines of Scriptural story. Fill your lungs with the subtly scented rich airs which brought rest and refreshment to weary eager Israelites in the confines of Canaan. (The Berbers, the original owners of Morocco before the Arab invasion, describe themselves as the descendants of the folk who occupied Canaan before the Israelites arrived and ousted them from that land flowing with milk and honey.) Shade your eyes from the insupportable brilliancy of the sky that saw the brazen serpent upreared and worshipped in the wilderness. See again, as childish learning showed it to you, the intense whiteness of walls, blackness of shadows, and vividness of colored robes, distinguishing that scene in which Joseph dealt out grain to his brothers from the famine-stricken land where petted Benjamin waited with his patriarchal father.

Mysterious Old World Cities.

Tangier is not Morocco at all, but merely its picturesque front door. Beyond lie rolling miles of asphodel, and plains so fertile that the mere lazy scratching of them with a wooden plough like a bootjack, with the scantiest sort of primitive attention, produces two crops a year from them. Beyond is an immensity of unexploited mineral wealth; a mine and a granary for Europe at Europe's very door, and scores of wonderful, mysterious, old-world cities, half of them crumbling in decay, all of them full to the gates of fascinating interest and romance.

THEATRE ROYAL WILL CONTINUE

Proprietors Announce That It Will Be Made a Most Up-to-date House

The Theatre Royal is to be completely remodelled and will be reopened and conducted along the same lines as before.

This statement was made to The Herald this morning by the proprietors of the theatre, and following close upon the announcement made by the J. B. Sparrow Company to the effect that the theatre would not be reopened, naturally created considerable interest in theatrical circles.

It is intended to add to the height of the building. The entire front of the theatre, entrances and lobbies will be reconstructed and lounging lobbies provided for each gallery. New fire exits will also be provided, and the building will be completely modernized.

As to the management under which the new Royal will be run the proprietors as yet have not decided. The lease under which Mr. Sparrow holds the theatre expires in May, and already the proprietors have received several offers from people who are anxious to run the house.

One thing seems certain, and that is that the career of the Theatre Royal has by no means terminated yet.

THE EVER-READY PAT.

There is a professional fisherman of my acquaintance in Tipperary, writes "Gowgeen," in the County Gentleman, who kills many pike during the winter months, for which he finds a ready sale in the town. He told me of one customer of his who was in the habit of so beating him down in price that he felt justified in resorting to somewhat questionable means to increase the weight of his fish. In the manner of the winner of the stakes in the celebrated "Jumping Frog" sporting event, he would introduce some weighty substance into their interior, stones, bits of iron railing, etc.

Once he went so far as to stuff two old handless flat-irons he had picked from a refuse heap down the gullet of one before taking it to his customer, who, having weighed it carefully, and after much haggling, paid him a fraction less per pound for it than he might have perhaps obtained elsewhere. Meeting him next day, he was instantly aware there was trouble in the wind by the opening remark: "What do pike feed on, Paddy?" "Och and indade, your honor, but there's mighty little that comes amiss to thim lads," he answered; "frogs and fish, sticks and shtones they like well, but they would give their two eyes for flat-irons."

TO BEAT THE SUBMARINE.

A novel method for fighting submarines, based on an idea which emanated from Vice-Admiral Sir A. K. Wilson, is to be tried shortly. Three ship's cutters have been fitted up to carry a steel net about 200 ft. long. While the cutters are being towed along they will drop these nets, and endeavor to take in them the submarine boats they may locate. The submarines on their part will try to dive under the nets or break holes through them.

WIRE ROPE 1,825 YEARS OLD.

It is not an uncommon thing in this age of advancement in industrial and engineering matters for the present-day engineer to assume that he knows much more than his ancient brother. While this is true in many things, it frequently happens that an invention or appliance commonly believed to belong to modern times is found to have been known and used centuries ago.

Ropes made of various kinds of fibre and leather are of very ancient date. Ropes of palm have been found in Egypt in the tombs of Beni-Hassan (about 3000 B.C.), and on the walls of these tombs is also shown the process of preparing hemp.

In a tomb at Thebes of the time of Thothmes III. (about 1600 B.C.) is a group representing the process of twisting thongs of leather and the method of cutting leather into thongs.

The Bible tells us that Samson was bound with ropes, and that the spies sent by Joshua into Jericho were let down in a basket, presumably by means of a rope.

At Nimrud, Assyria, a carved slab showing the siege of a castle was found, on which a soldier was represented in the act of cutting a rope to which a bucket for drawing water from a well outside the castle walls was attached.

The wire rope is generally considered a modern invention, a product of modern skill, and it will surprise many to learn that its manufacture is really a rediscovered lost art.

Although the Assyrians practised the art of wire beating, no evidence has been found to indicate that they used wire for making rope.

The excavations at Pompeii have, however, brought to light a piece of bronze wire rope nearly fifteen feet long and about one inch in circumference. This rope is now in the Museo Borbonico at Naples.

It consists of three strands laid spirally together, each strand being made up of fifteen wires twisted together, and its construction does not, therefore, differ greatly from that of wire ropes made to-day.

Pompeii was buried A.D. 79, 1,825 years ago, but how long wire ropes had then been known it is impossible to tell, though, judging by the knowledge shown in the construction, it may be safely concluded that they had been known for a considerable time.

The uses to which these ropes were put are not definitely known, but further excavations may shed some light on the subject.

THE CALL TO THE SCOT.

The desperate appeals being made to Canadians of Scottish birth or descent over this Dundonald business are ludicrous in their disregard for the Scotsman's prime distinction, his hard-headed good sense. One Scotsman will stand by another, it's true, and men of most other races will stand by one of their kind if he is hard pressed or unjustly treated. But this country is full of Scotch Liberals who have fought, and whose fathers fought before them, the battles for responsible government, and they are not to be stampeded because a very excellent soldier of their race finds our system of responsible government not to his taste. What more than one Canadian Scotsman freely says is that Lord Dundonald has done his race a disservice by showing himself so devoid of prudence and by placing himself so unmistakably in the wrong.

As to the use of the word "foreigner" by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, they know perfectly well that Sir Wilfrid, who has never during his whole political career used offensive language concerning any man, was not likely to do so in this case, particularly after he had, but a moment before, joined in the praise of Lord Dundonald as a soldier. As the text of his speech clearly proves, all that Sir Wilfrid desired to convey to the House was his view that Lord Dundonald, who knew nothing of the local conditions in the Townships, should have been glad to avail himself of the advice of the one man who might be supposed to know more of the local situation than any other. To assume that any Scotsman in Canada is going to be turned against Sir Wilfrid because the Prime Minister took that ground is to assume that Scotsmen can be moved by appeals to their emotions rather more easily than various persons who have tried it in the past have succeeded in doing. Liberals, who know how in many parts of Canada Scots who could not be stampeded have formed the stiff backbone of the party, will not lose much sleep over the prospect of their now parting with their saving good sense.

ANOTHER CRIPPLING BLOW.

The naval sortie from Port Arthur, disastrous though it was, proves that the report in the Times of June 7 that all the battleships and cruisers injured since February 8, except the sunken Petropaviovsk, had been repaired by the placing of sheets of steel over the damaged parts was correct.

Since the loss of the Hatsuse the Japanese have only five battleships of all classes, and assuming that they were every one within hail at the time Admiral Togo was warned of the Russian movement, the forces would have been equal as to ships of the class, for Admiral Wiltoft, who has been in command since the death of Makaroff and the failure of Skrydloff to get through to Port Arthur, had with him the battleships Poltava, Sebastopol, Peresvet, Retvisan and Czarevitch, five to five, besides two or three cruisers, and a torpedo squadron. The temporary repairs, under the stress of vibration when steaming, very probably gave out to such an extent that the Russian admiral felt it too risky to try a general engagement. Hence the hurried attempt to regain the inner harbor of Port Arthur, which, however, gave the alert Togo a partial opportunity.

There is strong evidence that while the Russian workmen in the arsenals of Cronstadt are making but slow progress in the equipment of their Baltic fleet the Japanese are turning out a number of new torpedo boats if not larger vessels in their own dockyards. They had some of the best artificers of England and Germany in their employ before the war, and there is no reason to doubt that these men are still employed. If so, torpedo boats can be built in a couple of months as easily at Sasebo as they can on the Thames or at Stettin. If the Japanese can maintain, even if they do not increase, the number of their torpedo boats and scouting vessels in the naval area of war they will be under no great apprehension even if the Vladivostock and Port Arthur Russian units remain afloat.

To account for the raids of the Rurik, Gromoboi and Rossia from Vladivostock it is explained that from this latter port there are two exits, both through intricate channels between islands and the mainland. The difficulty of maintaining a successful blockade is infinitely more arduous than at Port Arthur, and in addition the blockading fleet is much further from its base than are the Togo squadrons which watch Port Arthur.

CANADIAN TERCENTENARIES.

The most interesting happening of last week in this great Dominion was the celebration of the three hundredth birthday of our oldest city. It was during the third week in June, 1604, that the Sieur de Monts, arrived with the authority of Henry of Navarre, and accompanied by Samuel de Champlain and a little band of some 100 soldiers and settlers, most Catholic, but a few Huguenots, entered the Bay of Fundy at the mouth of the St. Croix river, where they found an island, and there formed the first white man's settlement in Canada.

It is true that three years before Quebec had received a visitor from civilized nations, and that fifteen years earlier the Pilgrim Fathers had made their landing at Plymouth in Massachusetts, but Port Royal, afterwards Annapolis Royal, was the scene of the foundation of European civilisation upon the great territory we now call the Dominion of Canada. The development of the growth of the seed sown so brief a time since, in the history of nations, was graphically illustrated in The Herald on Saturday in our special article "400 Facts About Canada."

It is no exaggeration to say that Canada has grown more during the last ten years than in any previous century of her existence. The increasing vigor of the community from east to west, as testified by this advance, seems to have awakened in us a more serious sense of our advantages and our opportunities. It is not only that we are larger than the United States, equal to the area of thirty United Kingdoms, and eighteen times larger than France, but that our resources, whether in agriculture or in minerals have scarcely even yet been systematically worked. Our population is still but a fraction over one person to the square mile; millions of acres remain untilled, if not untrodden, and some of our great waterways still wend their way burdenless towards the sea.

All the signs of the times point to still more rapid progress in the immediate years before us. The building of the Grand Trunk Pacific will bring other enterprises in its train, and the tens of thousands who have within a short time settled in our Northwest are adding bulk to our productions almost more rapidly than it can be dispersed to its natural market.

The celebrations at St. John, Annapolis, and St. Croix were also notable in the character of the principal participants. Not only France and England, whose descendants are so inextricably knitted together in the development of their common country, but also the Government of the United States wanted to do honor to the pioneers through whose enterprise so much happiness and prosperity has been spread over the great continent.

It was a notable event, and took place at a notable time.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Col. Kaulbach, Conservative member for Lunenburg, did not vote on the resolution condemning Mr. Fisher. He was in the building and was not paired. Why did he not vote?

Anti-French last election; pro-Scotch next election—the Montreal Star is a firm believer in the value of race cries in winning elections. Yet its experience does not warrant the belief. Can it be that the Star, like a distinguished family of Europe, never learns?

The Montreal Star informs its readers that Hon. Sydney Fisher "never was a good fighter; a reverse always makes him cringe." The Star has not read the history of Brome. By virtue of being a hard fighter, and of fighting on even when beaten Mr. Fisher has turned Brome from a Conservative into a strongly Liberal riding. It is because he fights so well that Mr. Rufus Pope and the Star pay him so much attention. As Sir John Macdonald used to say, the most sticks are flung at the best apple trees.

Because Lord Dundonald is a Scotsman, a local Conservative paper says that the Liberal Government will "have to reckon with a grievously insulted Scotch people." It is true that the Scotch in Canada are clannish, but they are more than that. They are human beings, with uncommnly well-developed reasoning powers—a fact which some of the vote-catchers have apparently overlooked. These Scotch folk have a habit of thinking for themselves, and the mere fact that the retiring Major-General is a son of Scotia, and a gallant one at that, will not prevent them from judging on its merits the question at issue between him and the Government. A word to the Star: The worst way to go about capturing the Scotch vote for Mr. Borden is to assume that it is purchasable by cheap appeals to race prejudice.

Views of French Press

Le Journal — The public will soon learn that the resignation of Sir Percy Girouard was not brought about through uncapacity, but by intrigues and jealousy.

Le Canada The action taken by Mr. Monk in reassuming the leadership of the Conservative party will not put an end to the troubles of the party in the province, and will certainly render them more acute.

Le Journal — The city should not waste any money on the erection of a new lookout on the mountain. It would be better to spend a small amount to finish the one started last year, and wait for five or six years, when the city has more money to build a new stand.

Le Canada—Mr. McDougall, the auditor-general, was an excellent employe, who rendered great services to the country, but whom it was impossible to make understand that it is the Government enjoying the confidence of the people who should be supreme in financial as well as in military matters.

MAPLE LEAF CHAPTER OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of Maple Leaf Chapter, No. 1, Royal Arch Degree, Manchester Unity Oddfellows, held in the chambers, 1863 Notre Dame Street, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: Robert Hamilton, noble grand master; J. A. Tetrault, ancient grand master; A. McGrither, vice grand master; Thomas Essery, grand secretary; C. J. Williams grand treasurer; J. A. McDowll, grand warden; William Ardill, grand guardian; R. Lewthwalte, T. J. Molsy and Thomas Pratt, trustees, Comp. Jones, James Field and W. Hawkin, auditors. A resolution of regret at the death of the physician of the chapter, Dr. Rollo Campbell, was passed and ordered to be transmittted to the father of the deceased and to Mrs. Rollo Campbell. Past Ancient Grand Master Owen Gee will leave for England in a few days.

Rev. Canon Archambault, the new Bishop of Joliette, will be consecrated Bishop on August 24.

What Sir Wilfrid Said.

In view of the attempts to make political capital out of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's use of the words "foreigner" and "stranger," it may be of interest to produce here the text of Sir Wilfrid's speech of June 10, which proves that he sought only to remind the House that Lord Dundonald, who had no local knowledge of the Townships, would have done well to consult with Hon. Mr. Fisher, who had that knowledge. Sir Wilfrid said:

Lord Dundonald is certainly—I am willing to give him every credit in that respect—endowed with good motives. No one who knows him can question that. He bears a very honorable name, as was said by the honorable member for Victoria (Mr. Hughes) a moment ago, a name made famous by his forebears in British history, and to the lustre of which he has added himself by his own services in South Africa and elsewhere. I had no desire in the slightest degree to reflect upon him as a soldier, but perhaps I may not be offensive if I say that it is not the first time that a good soldier may have lacked discretion. Lord Dundonald, in his position, is charged with the organization of the militia, but he must take counsel here when organizing a regiment. He is a foreigner no—

Some hon. members—No, no.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—I had withdrawn the expression before hon. gentlemen interrupted. He is not a foreigner, but he is a stranger.

Some hon. members—No.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Yes, he does not know the people of the Eastern Townships, where these light dragoons are to be enlisted. I doubt if he ever was in the town of Sweetsburg, or in the county of Brome, or the county of Missisquoi, or, if he has been in any of these places, it could only have been for a very short period, when passing through. It was advisable that a regiment should be recruited in those districts, but in what way? If this regiment of 13th Scottish Light Dragoons was to be organized and recruited from the counties of Brome and Missisquoi, how could Lord Dundonald possibly know personally who should officer it? How could he know what officers should be appointed? Perhaps he knew Col. Smart, but Col. Smart himself was from Montreal, and he had to go to the counties and get there his information from somebody. He had to get information from parties in and around Sweetsburg and the other towns in the counties of Missisquoi and Brome. Well, it is evident that Col. Smart happened to fall into the hands of certain parties who represented rather a small family compact. The list he made was composed almost exclusively of gentlemen connected with the Conservative party. My hon. friend said a moment ago that in militia matters there should be no politics, and in this I heartily agree, but it so happens that this regiment was to be officered almost exclusively by Conservative politicians. It is no harm to be a Conservative. It may be a mistake, but I do not count it a sin. But I submit to my hon. friends on the other side, is it not proper that whenever a regiment is organized in any part of the country, it should be officered as far as possible from both parties? I do not know how things are now, but once upon a time, when I was in the militia myself, there was a battalion organized, with which I was connected, and in organizing it, the man who was our colonel went and consulted everybody. He consulted men who could not take any part in the organization, but whose advice was valuable. But in the present instance, it so happens that there is a gentleman in the Eastern Townships who is connected with politics and holds a position of some respectability in that part of the country. I refer to my hon. friend the Minister of Agriculture. Was his position to be considered a bar to his offering any advice Was he to be precluded from expressing an opinion simply because he happened to be Minister of Agriculture? Had he not as much right to give advice in the matter of Col. Pickel and the others about Sherbrooke, or in the counties of Missisquoi and Brome, who happened to be consulted? Was my hon. friend, simply because he happened to be Minister of Agriculture, bound to say: It is all wrong, you have chosen none but Conservative politicians to be officers of the regiment, but I cannot say a word about it? If we are all in agreement upon this principle that volunteer associations should not be political preserves, if we all agreed that politics should be kept out of them, I think that my hon. friend the Minister of Agriculture ought to be commended for having pointed out to the general that he was making a mistake in choosing nearly all his men of the one stripe and so few of the other? That is all my hon. friend did. He wrote to the General Officer Commanding that there were in that regiment too many of one stripe and not sufficient of the other. He went over to the militia office and had a conference with the Minister of Militia and Cols. Whitley and Smart. Together they discussed the personnel of the staff. My hon. friend made some representations, and it seems to me that the representations he made were in the best interests of the force and should have been accepted. As a matter of fact they were accepted at that conference, but unfortunately Lord Dundonald came to the conclusion that having signed a list of names recommended to him—a list probably of men about whom he knew nothing—that list was as sacred as the laws of the Medes and Persians and could not be interfered with—that even the Minister of Militia—which is not denied by Lord Dundonald—could not have a word to say, but that the list had to be accepted simply because it was signed by Lord Dundonald.

GHOSTS OF THE SEA GALE.

The gale has summoned, the night has beckoned—
Lo, from the east and west,
Stately shadows arise unreckoned
Out of their deeps of rest!

Wild on the wind are voices ringing,
Echoes that throng the air,
Valiant voices, of victory singing,
Or dark with sublime despair.

. . . . . .

The gale that swoops and the sea that wrestles
Are one in their wrath and might
With the crash and clashing of armed vessels,
Grinding across the night.

Out of the dark the broadsides thunder,
Clattering to and fro:
The old sea-fighters, the old world's wonder,
Are manning their wrecks below.

You shall smell the smoke, you shall hear the crackle
Shall mark on the surly blast
Rush and tear of the rending tackle,
Thud of the falling mast.

. . . . . .

Briton, Spaniard, Phoenician, Roman,
Gallant, implacable hosts—
Locked in fight with a phantom foeman,
Gather the grim sea-ghosts.

—Bret Byron, in "Blackwood's."

WHAT HE THOUGHT.

Dr. Kurenon—What's Blink's worst trouble?

Dr. Phil Graves—Won't pay his doctor's bills.

Saturday Night.

"How much?" questioned the big, long-legged Chinaman, as he pulled out and shook the bunches of curly lettuce, that lay piled up in the basket. The little old man who stood behind the vegetables, watching the possible purchaser's movement jealously, grunted out the price, as he filled his clay pipe with tobacco, lit it, and puffed away carelessly. He was bent with age, his hair gray and beard frizzled, and a soft hat was pulled half way down upon his head, from which he looked forth, much as a squirrel looks out from his hiding place in the woods.

The Chinaman chose his bunches of lettuce, paid for them, and pulling out a long white cotton bag, slipped them into it, and slung the bag over his shoulder. Then, shuffling and slipping along in his queer shoes, he made his way toward the poultry stall. Unmolested he opened the door into the cage, where the live fowl were, and amid much squawking and flapping of wings, pulled one of them from it, and after feeling, and pulling and shaking, and weighing and bargaining, the legs were tied, and into the bag with the lettuce went the new living purchase. In and out, quickly, quickly, but effectively, went the Chinaman on his way, and soon the bag was full of a miscellaneous collection of market purchases.

"Just two or three for a button-hole bouquet!" and the three or four men took the flowers from the man on the market corner, and, amid much laughter, put them in their coat lapels. A group of women stopped and looked the plants over, asked the price, and then passed on. At the meat stalls the customers looked over the meat and handled it. Dozens of hands picked it up, to throw it down again, before a purchaser came. They went inside the stalls, they examined the weights, they drove sharp bargains. Two or three Italians, evidently new to the country, went from stall to stall, trying to find a piece of meat for the price of a few cents only. Their patched trousers, their unkempt appearance, made them almost pathetic as they went empty-handed into the streets.

Jew, Chinaman, Syrian, Greek, Italian, Frenchman, Englishman, they passed on their way from stall to stall, bargaining and questioning, the week's pay fast dwindling away in their pockets. As the evening advanced the prices went down, the crowd became larger, the market bags filled up. Idlers came in from St. Dominique or St. Lawrence streets to swell the busy throng. Here and there was a misshapen form that tried to pass unnoticed. Out on the street the Saturday night crowd was going by in its happy-go-lucky, and sometimes, unsteady way. Each of them with his own history, tragedy or comedy. Each of them willing to stay up late for the next day was Sunday and there was no factory or office or shop to call them out in the morning. Each of them, sober or drunk, crippled or straight, strong or sickly, making up a common human kinship. And, strange as it may seem, the institution of the Sabbath receives its greatest appreciation from such motley crowds as the one that throngs about St. Lawrence market on a Saturday night. It is the man who toils who appreciates his time of play.

THE TIMES.

The subjoined reply has been sent by Mr. Walter to a correspondent in London who expresses the conviction that certain "rumors" of changes in the ownership or management of this paper "are doing it damage" and operating against its circulation:—

"The Times Office,
"Printing House Square.

"Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 8th inst., in which you refer to certain 'rumors' calculated in your opinion to injure the position of the Times.

"Such rumors are so absurd in themselves, and so utterly baseless in point of fact, that it might seem unnecessary to pay any attention to them; and hitherto I have acted in accordance with that view.

"It may be, however, that the moment has arrived when it is desirable to contradict once for all the idle talk to which you refer, and to state for the benefit of all concerned that there is not, and never has been, one word of truth in it. The control of the Times has been in my hands for a good many years past, it is there now, and there it will remain until events over which mortals have no control shall place it in the hands of my successor. Until that happens, you may rest assured that no outside influence of any kind or of any origin will ever be permitted to affect the character of the great institution which was founded by my great-grandfather 120 years ago, which has never for a moment passed from under the control of his lineal successors, and which I, in my turn, have the honor and the responsibility of conducting to-day.

"I am, sir,
"Yours faithfully,
"A. F. WALTER."

"London, June 10, 1904."

THE CITY DEATH RATE.

There were 149 deaths in the city last week, of which 139 were Catholics, eight Protestants and two Jews. The principal causes of mortality were as follows: Infantile debility 87, consumption 9, pneumonia 5, broncho-pneumonia 4, bronchitis 2, typhoid 2, diphtheria 1.

Band Waggon Methods.

There has recently been some attention directed to the large number of continentals of an undesirable class that have been headed for Canada, and fears expressed that the cut in rates would still further swell the ranks of the physically weak or diseased against the departure of whom the nations of Europe offer no objection. But while this is going on, the Dominion Government are by no means idle. Immigrants are still wanted in the West, whatever be the condition of the labor market in closer proximity to the Atlantic seaboard, and while there is no attempt to interfere with, or restrict, the landing of healthy men and women of any nationality, the powers at Ottawa are determined to do all in their power to introduce a still farther leavening of those 'strangers" of whom we have heard so much recently. The attempt is being made to raise political capital out of the use of this word, but call the countrymen of Dundonald by what name you will, the fact needs no digging for that the Laurier Government are anxious for more of them as settlers.

Thousands have been reached through the newspapers, and by means of lectures and cinematograph exhibitions. Now the Canadian leaders go one better, and the latest idea for getting in touch with and influencing a desireable class of people to come West, is one that is likely to prove fruitful to a degree. The cities, and towns, and the villages lying contiguous thereto, have been fairly well exploited, but there are yet many hundreds of well sized places to which the advantages of this newer country have not yet been sufficiently well demonstrated. And it is to reach the dwellers in such that an effort is now to be made.

To do this effectively, a comfortably appointed travelling exhibition and living van combined, has been built for use in Scotland, under the supervision of J. Bruce Walker, the Canadian representative in Glasgow, and by special instructions from the responsible minister at Ottawa. This will be sent on tour, carrying specimens of the agricultural and other products of Canada, and in charge of a suitable representative, capable of imparting a good all-round knowledge of things as they exist, and of the prospects for the hardy energetic settler.

Keeping away from the beaten track of the railway lines the missionary van at the outset will go into the far north from Edinburgh, by way of the villages and hamlets, and striking cross-country by Invernesshire, return south through the West Highlands to the valley of the Clyde. The lowlands, comparatively speaking, have been well tapped ere this, but even here there are yet many of the smaller villages in which the peregrinating exhibit will not fail to do good work.

The innovation should be rich in results. The van will touch a really desirable class of men and women, lads and lasses, of a purely agricultural and stock raising type, and it will be strange indeed if the fruits of the present tour are not largely in evidence on Canadian plains before another seed time is to hand.

WHEN HE DONNED HIS STRAW HAT.

There had been three warm days in succession—not merely temperate days, but really warm ones. So Hockleben thought he might safely permit himself to wear his straw hat. He had bought it rather late last year, and it was in good condition without being too aggressively new in appearance. It seemed that it might be worn without exciting any comment. "Why should it excite comment?" asked Hockleben.

He wore it.

The following list of remarks he compiled after dinner on the evening of the fourth warm day:

The idiot Walker, who lives next door: "Hello, Hock! Rushing the season, ain't you? Where's your linen trousers?"

The baggage man at the railway station, who is entirely too fresh: "Crowdin' the season a little, Mr. Hockleben, ain't you?"

Chorus of neighbors on the platform: "Oh, look at the hat!"

Scattering remarks from the same: "I didn't know they were up yet. You must have raised that under glass." "Haven't you got your nerve with you, though!" "Taking risks of getting that frost-bitten." "A drowning man wouldn't clutch at that this time of the year, Hock." "You want an ulster to go with that." "If somebody doesn't watch him he'll be trying to organize a picnic."

The conductor—Aren't you crowding the season a little?

One of two girls three seats down on the other side of the aisle—Tee-hee!

The girl with her—Tee-hee-hee!

A little boy, accompanied by his mother—Oh, look at the man in the straw hat!

A cabman to the cabman behind him—I guess he's just in from Noo Orleans.

The elevator boy—Ain't you rushin' the season a little with that hat?

Partner—Say, you ought to have wired me or let me know in some way. Bursting on me in this way without any previous warning! I'm better now, thank you. Did you wear it on a bet?

Jarvis, of Herne, Jarvis & Co.—You must be plugging for a snowstorm, Hockleben. I only hope you'll keep way from the Board of Trade to-day. It's hard telling what effect that hat would have on the market.

Werner, at lunch time—I'm going to have some pork and beans and a cup of coffee. I suppose you want a salad, some claret lemonade and a plate of ice cream. Hock, if I had your backbone and reckless disregard of public opinion I'd be a millionaire inside a month.

The office boy—I din't say nothin', Mr. Hockleben. Honest, I didn't. You're a-hurtin' of me.

At the bottom of the page Hockleben wrote: "As a nation we undoubtedly lack breeding. Our sense of humor is crude and has been grossly overestimated.

"The proper time to begin wearing a straw hat is along in July July."—Chicago News.

THIS IS NO JOKE.

The trolley ride to Bout de L'Ile Park on the Montreal Terminal Railway cars is the cheapest and most refreshing on the island, the line passing through one continuous field of clover and daisies. With the exception of Saturday, all week days have been reserved for private picnics. All street railway cars going east connect with Terminal cars at LaSalle avenue, Maisonneuve. Return fare, 25 cents; children, 15 cents.—Adv.

MOUNT ROYAL CORRECTION.

In the prize lists recently published of the Mount Royal Public School examinations several inaccuracies were included, due to an oversight on the part of one of the teachers. In the sixth year class, finishing in January, Catherine Effie Robinson was awarded the commissioners' medal, and Walter Lee the commissioners' scholarship and medal for first general proficiency.

FINAL DECISION TO SELL RAILWAYS

Quebec Southern and South Shore System to be Disposed of by Tender.

Tenders will be called for the Quebec Southern, South Shore and East Richelieu Valley Railway system, en bloc or in detail. Each bid for the whole system must be accompanied by an accepted cheque for $50,000; if for either the South Shore or United Counties Road by $20,000, and only $10,000 if for the East Richelieu Valley road by itself.

This was the decision reached by Mr. Justice Burbidge, of the Exchequer Court on Saturday, when he met the representatives of the many interests concerned to finally dispose of the roads. The same large attendance of counsel that marked the earlier deliberations of the court was present, and it was not until the matter had been vigorously threshed out that the above decision was arrived at.

The schedule of conditions of sale will be deposited at the office of the receiver of the three roads. Tenders must be sent to Registrar Audet, of the Exchequer Court at Ottawa before noon of August 3rd. Mr. Justice Burbidge will then open the tenders in the presence of the interested parties, and any necessary time to examine them will be allowed. The title will not devolve upon the purchaser until the full price has been paid, the receiver retaining control in the interim. Should a tenderer fail to observe the conditions of sale his deposit will pay the forfeit.

Like everything else in connection with the winding up of these roads the settling of terms of payment occasioned a lengthy and at times heated argument. It was finally decided that the successful tenderer must pay fifteen per cent. of the purchase price within thirty days of the final sale, and the balance within sixty days more. In the event of failure so to do the fifteen per cent. will be forfeited as well as the original deposit. Four per cent. will be charged on all unpaid balance.

Any preferential creditor who may buy the roads will, after proving his claim, be entitled to advance it as part payment.

The Exchequer Court will resume its sessions at Ottawa on August 3rd next.

FUNERAL OF MR. W. P. BEAUCHAMP.

Large Attendance at Church of St. Leo, Westmount.

The funeral of the late W. P. Beauchamp took place Friday at Westmount to the Church of St. Leo. He was forty-two years of age, and had travelled twenty years for Thomas May. Mr. Beauchamp was also a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus.

The chief mourners were: Allan Beauchamp, Robert Beauchamp, and Frank Beauchamp, brothers of the deceased, his three sons, and Mr. A. E. Ross, of Cowansville, a brother-in-law.

The D.C.T.A., and Knights of Columbus attended the obsequies in force. Among the prominent officials of these bodies present were: J. S. N. Dougall, president D.C.T.A.; D. M. Lefebvre, vice-president D.C.T.A.; R. J. Booth, director D.C.T.A.; J. F. L. Dubreuil, director D.C.T.A.; John Paterson, director D.C.T.A.; Thomas S. Currie, director D.C.T.A.; H. W. Wadsworth, secretary; also Max Murdoch, past president; George A. Mann, Hon. Justice Doherty, P. McCaffrey, Jas. R. Rodgers, John Duggan, J. B. Sicard, A. J. Hudon, of Richmond, J. A. Gauthier, of Sherbrooke; C. M. Milles, Wm. Wright, Wm. Kearney, Frank Ross, George Brooks, John T. Dwyer, A. J. Brown, J. C. Garden, L. M. Desparais, Wm. Patrick, P. J. Burns, S. Greenleese, L. P. Pelletier, Wm. Cox, D. Tansey, John Hammil, Gus. Tasse, F. X. De Grandpre, Wm. Cooke, Jas. Vibert, Newton Tucker, J. Hector, Bernard McNally, Thos. Conroy, E. J. Langlois, G. M. Hodges, M. Casey, J. F. Neville, B. Bergeron, David Rochon, Wm. Cole, and about two hundred others.

The service was conducted by Rev. Father Perron, parish priest of St. Leo's, assisted by Rev. Father Gauthier, his vicar. Numerous floral tributes were laid on the casket.

The late Mr. Beachamp was liked by all who knew him, and his early death casts a gloom over a wide circle of friends.

DECORATED THE GRAVES OF '37 VETERANS.

Members of the St. Jean Baptiste Society went to Cote des Neiges Cemetery yesterday afternoon to decorate the graves of the French-Canadians who lost their lives in the rebellion of '37-38.

Some two thousand persons had gathered round the obelisk when Mgr. Racicot ascended the elevation which surrounds the monument and addressed the gathering.

The religious service was followed by selections from the "Libera," then the brass instruments resounded to the sublime harmony of Chopin's funeral march.

After salutes by the Duvernay Guards, which were marshaled around the graves, the crowd dispersed.

FEDERAL BODY WILL ASSIST.

Denver, Col., June 27.—The American Federation of Labor has taken up the fight of the Western Federation of Miners in Colorado, and will give it financial and moral support. The proposed amalgamation of all general labor organizations has not tken place; but the American Federation of Labor has entered the fight officially.

This news was made public in Denver on the receipt by mail of an appeal signed by President Samuel Gompers and the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. The appeal is dated at Washington, and is addressed to organized labor of America.

After stating the labor conditions existing in Colorado, the document closed with an appeal for financial contributions "to maintain the legal rights of the Colorado miners."

FRENCH PRESSMEN ENTERTAINED.

Members of the French-Canadian press of Montreal and visiting pressmen, who were here for the St. Jean Baptiste celebration, were entertained by the city to a lunch on the mountain Saturday afternoon.

The newspaper men, accompanied by several aldermen, left the City Hall in carriages and drove up the mountain, after driving through the principal streets of the city.

Later on they enjoyed a trip down the river on the Harbor Commissioners' tug Robert Mackay, and in the evening a banquet was held at the St. James Hotel.

DEATH OF MRS. H. R. BENOIT.

Rev. Henry E. Benoit, pastor of l'Eglise du Redemption, in this city, has just learned of the death, in Springfield, Mass., of his mother, Mrs. Amanda Benoit. Mrs. Benoit, who was in her 63rd year, has been an invalid for many years, and leaves to mourn her decease a husband and eight children.

WESTERN HOSPITAL GOVERNORS.

The visiting governors to the Western General Hospital for this week are John Murphy, George Creak and John Dillon.

WIRELESS SYSTEM IN ST. LAWRENCE

Parisian Kept in Touch With Fame Point for 120 Miles.

A short time ago Commander Spain, of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, announced in a speech at the Board of Trade that the department intended to at once instal several Marconi stations on the St. Lawrence route. Four were to be put in this season, the points selected being Fame Point, Heath Point, Point Amour, and Belle Isle. On Friday last the station at Fame Point was ready for business, and the remainder will be completed by the middle of August.

For the first time in the history of St. Lawrence navigation, telegraphic communication between a steamer and Fame Point was established, when on Saturday night the Allan liner Parisian, from Montreal for Liverpool, exchanged messages with that station. Messages were sent from the Parisian via Fame Point to Sir H. Montagu Allan, Mr. Hugh A. Allan, and from many of the passengers to their friends. From a point sixty miles above until sixty miles below the station communication was carried on.

The Allan liners Tunisian and Bavarian are also fitted out with the Marconi instruments, and it is the intention of the firm to install it on all their passenger steamships.

DOWIE STILL AT IT.

Speaking in New York, He Bitterly Denounced King Edward.

New York, June 27. — On the first public appearance after his trip around the world, John A. Dowie yesterday attacked the character of King Edward, declared that he loved President Roosevelt, and denounced reporters. He spoke at Carnegie Hall in the morning and afternoon, making two addresses at each session.

After much bitter reference to King Edward he said:—"Defender of the faith, indeed. Two weeks ago he went to see the Duke of Devonshire to see some horses and gets points about a coming race. The prophet is a mightier man than the King and what the prophet said, has made his throne totter. I love Theodore Roosevelt, but if he does a great wrong I shall not be afraid to tell him of it, and I believe he is too good a man to be afraid to hear of it."

To the reporters he shouted: "But I say to each one of you fellows, beware. You will each have to stand before God for your own sins. 'Touch not mine anointed and do my prophets no harm.' God declares, and He will protect his prophets. All liars have their portion in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone. You can laugh, you can laugh yourselves into hell, but you cannot laugh yourselves out."

WRECK ON BIG FOUR.

Express Train Jumped Track When Going Sixty Miles an Hour.

Delaware, Ohio, June 27.—The southbound Twentieth Century Limited on the Big Four Railroad, jumped the track here Saturday afternoon, while running sixty miles an hour.

The train consisted of an engine and four coaches, and was making terrific speed. The engine, baggage car and one coach turned over on their sides in a ditch. The wreck was caused by spreading rails, and took place about 3½ feet from the station. The engineer and baggagemaster, both of Cleveland, were killed. Four others were injured, one seriously.

TRIPLE DROWNING AT ST. HYACINTHE

Three Young Men Perished Before Assistance Could Reach Them.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., June 27.—(Special.)—A sad drowning accident occurred here yesterday afternoon a little below the St. Hyacinthe Seminary. It appears that three young men of the town, named P. Jeannotte, aged 24; J. Laliberte, aged 17, and J. Sevigny, aged 18 respectively, were out boating when the former decided to have a swim. He thereupon undressed and made a plunge from the skiff, and in so doing upset the two others in mid stream in about twenty feet of water. All being poor swimmers, they were unable to help one another, and sank before assistance could reach them. The three bodies were recovered a few hours after the accident.

The spot where the accident occurred is considered a very treacherous one owing to the numerous eddies which make the handling of light crafts there a difficult task.

The three victims belonged to very respectable families. Jeannotte and Sevigny were both employed at the Ames-Holden Boot & Shoe Manufacturing Company, and Laliberte had just graduated at the St. Hyacinthe Commercial College.

Coroner St. Jacques will hold an inquest this evening.

THIBETANS OPENED FIRE.

They Attacked British Post and Compelled Latter to Retire.

Sastano, Thibet, June 27.—The Thibetans again attacked Palla village, having failed to blow up the post the previous night. Reinforcements have arrived here from Kangma, passing the Redidol Gorge without opposition. Peterson's mounted infantry in advance came in contact with the enemy at Niani, six miles beyond Sastano. The Thibetans are entrenched at Niani and a mud fort, 400 feet above, opened fire at 300 yards on the British, wounding one. The Thibetans were driven out of the fort, but were returning when the British retired.

BROWN-WASHBURN.

The marriage of Miss Louisa May Washburn, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Washburn, of Washburn's Corners, Soperton, to the Rev. Burton Booth Brown, of St. Henry's Methodist Church, Montreal, took place at two o'clock, June 22nd, at the family residence in the presence of immediate relatives. Miss Keltha Brown, sister of the groom, played the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father, and walked through an aisle formed of wreaths of daisies to an altar of evergreens. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Reynolds, of Athens. She wore a gown of Japanese crean taffeta silk, the full skirt being shirred at the waist, and falling in folds in a train. The bodice had a berthe of tinsel chiffon. She wore a crescent set with pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of cream roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Annie Gilbert, of Athens, who was dressed in white organdie and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a turquoise ring set with pearls. Miss Ada Brown and Miss Julia Washburn acted as flower girls. The groom was supported by Mr. W. J. Snider, of Boston. The young couple received many handsome gifts, among which was a cabinet of silver from the congregation of the Montreal South Methodist Church, to the groom, and a purse to the bride from her father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left about five p.m. for their honeymoon, the bride wearing a suit of pale gray broadcloth, with hat of tuscan straw, with gray trimmings.

The Great Ruby

A Tale of Adventure.

By T. W. Hanshew, Author of "The World's Finger," "The Mallison Mystery."

PROLOGUE

A wild night on the Cornish coast. Jannice Polwhele, huddling over the fire in her cabin, sees a young man standing with a child in his arms at her door. She asks the stranger in, but, instead, he gives her the child and pushes a purse of gold in her hand and begs her to keep the boy until he returns.

Chapter I. The scene is changed to Kent Sir Nigel Forrester tells his daughter Helen that they are ruined and that his steward, Luttrell, is now the rich man. Helen demands the right of overlooking the books and sends her maid for them.

CHAPTER II.

THE HISTORY OF THE GREAT RUBY.

Sir Nigel sighed and shook his head dolefully.

"I am afraid that hope is a vain one, Helen," he said. "The Great Ruby could never be found without Lady Adela's 'key' to its hiding place, and that has been lost for almost a century now. Even the Cinghalese themselves seem to have given up all hope of ever finding the stone for, although it is down in the family records that so lately as the year 1845 they were still to be seen prowling about this neighborhood occasionally (and in the year previous a Kandian native actually broke into the house in the dead of night, and was found rifling the chest of papers which my father kept in the strong room), they have never troubled

WHERE TO FIND A LAUGH

Through The Herald's Sieve.

SO MYSTERIOUS was the situation around Haicheng that for a while even the unconfirmed rumor could not get a line on it.

WE HAVE never seen people cheer a refrigerator, but we have seen the Cons. work off a few counterfeit yells for R. L. Borden.

STRAWBERRIES are said to be lower in price, but doubtless you can testify that no one has broken the news to your grocer.

YOU WOULD never think Mr. Borden was 50 years old to read his speeches.

JUDGE PARKER, who is boomed for Democratic nominee in the States, hasn't spoken a word on politics for 6 months. What a frost Parker would be as a Conservative in Canada.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The "Inside Inn" is an enormous hotel inside the Fair grounds at St. Louis. A newspaper man staying there writes:

I am comfortably situated in the Thinside Inn, which is a pleasant little tavern about as big as Missouri Valley. It is built of lath, scantling, jute bagging, wall paper, and paint, and is very substantial.

I saw three bell boys carrying the bill for a night's lodging up to the fourth floor just now, and the beams didn't sag much.

The management is careful, though. It puts all new guests on the ground floor. After they have paid their bill for the first day they put them on the second floor. By the time a man has paid his bill for two days he is light enough to go up on the third floor with safety. When he has stayed a week they have to put weights in his pockets to keep him from shooting up through the roof.

I got into the Inn at nine o'clock and I was ninety-sixth in the line. When I got to the clerk he turned me upside down and shook me.

Then he counted what fell out of my pockets, told me to register, and handed me a blue ticket for a bell boy.

"You have enough money for four days," he said. "Go to the cashier and settle."

My room is No. 5415, three blocks from the public square, and a mile south of the buffet. When I got my receipt and my bell boy I sat down and waited an hour for a street car. But they told me there wasn't a line in the whole place—not even a hack line. I had to walk all the way to my room—wore out two bell boys on the way, but there were plenty more. There are more bell boys than there are guests in the Inn. They use 'em for change. When you give the clerk $5 for your room he hands you back $2 and a bell boy.

My rooms is a little far away for meals, but I make it nicely. I start for supper at 9 A.M., and stop for lunch on the way with a friend I know in room No. 2507.

But a friend of mine who lives in room No. 7649 is up against it. He got two days behind with his meals living out in the country at the rear end of the hotel. Finally, he found that he was nearer to Moberly, Mo., than he was to the dining room, so now he walks over to Moberly every morning.

WHY IS IT that a dead beat who can never raise a cent for any other purpose usually has the price of a drink?

THE RUSSIANS say that among the Japanese losses on one of those sunken transports was $1,000,000 in English gold. It sounds much more fierce and practical to say English gold than Japanese gold.

Proper Definition.

Little Willie—"Say, pa, what is the meaning of premonition?"

Pa—"It's something that ails people who say 'I told you so,' my son."

DOWIE has denounced King Edward, but, strange to say, the King refuses to resign.

The Only Way.

Because the Hon. Mr. R. L. Borden mentioned Hon. Mr. Fisher's name in his amendment, Mr. Fisher couldn't vote on it.

If Borden has the massive intellect the Cons. think he has, he would have mentioned all the Libs. in the amendment and, not being able to vote on it, the Government would have been beaten.

It's a nice state of affairs when we have to tell the leader of the Cons. how to beat us.

GREAT WEATHER for golf and the June bride.

WALL STREET is protesting against the nude figures on the Stock Exchange building. This looks like a movement against the bares.

THE RUSSIAN advance is chiefly backward.

IT'S ALWAYS a good sign if the man from whom you try to borrow a corkscrew can't accommodate you.

A CALIFORNIA astronomer has discovered 100 new stars, and consequently the theatrical business ought to pick up.

KUROPATKIN will have to get himself a new regretter if the Japs keep it up at this gait.

Using the Wire.

(Toronto Star.)

Lord Dundonald grumbles that he was dismissed by telegraph. He should bear in mind that he utilized the telephone to convey his insult to Hon. Mr. Fisher. Those modern inventions save time.

HIS BUSINESS.

She—Time gets the best of us all.

He—Oh! I don't know. The leader of the orchestra beats it.

NOTING that the manufacturer of the dollar watch has just been married out in Michigan, we wonder mildly if he carries one himself.

DOWIE SAYS when he dies he thinks he will take a trip down to hell to fight the devil. War correspondents please send in applications.

DO YOU KNOW THIS MAN?

"Yes," he said, "it weighed three pounds
And was just about so long.
Did it fight? For twenty rounds
And you bet it finished strong
'Twas a beauty, on the square,
And we photographed it, too.
Contradict me if you dare;
Guess this snapshot shows it's true!"

"Yes," he said, "our luck was great!
Say, we caught 'em by the score.
Almost any kind of bait—
Some we've often used before.
Trout! By Jove, I've fished a lot,
But I never saw the like.
Every time I cast I got
Like a flash a dandy strike."

"Yes," he said, "and by the way,
We had hardly started out
(Guess it was the second day)
When I hooked a monster trout.
Got him almost to the shore,
Then he broke the hook—oh, pshaw!
Probably I wasn't sore—
Biggest fish I ever saw!"

MONTREAL ART PRINTERS— HERALD JOB DEPARTMENT.

Offer No. 4

On Wednesday and Thursday of this week there will be on this page ten numbered lines among the classified "ads." These lines will be numbered before The Herald appears on the street, and handed to a gentleman who will act as judge. All you have to do is to guess the lines you think are numbered. For every one of the lines you guess correctly you will receive a 10 cent piece. Pick out the ads you think the numbered lines are in; mark the lines and send to "Want Department," Herald Office. To the person who, during the two days, picks the most numbered lines we will give $5.00 in goods from any advertiser in this paper. This competition is not open to any employee of The Herald or a relative. Replies will be received up to Saturday, July 2nd.

SPORTING GOSSIP OF THE DAY

Shamrocks and Brantfords Will Play the Minto Cup Matches

The Nationals Should Have Beaten the Capitals on Saturday.

N. A. L. U. Standing.

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Goals For	Agnst.
Shamrock	2	2	0	0	15	3
Capital	1	1	0	0	9	3
Cornwall	1	0	0	1	3	3
Montreal	2	0	1	1	5	9
National	2	0	2	0	4	18

Capitals Beat Nationals.

The Capitals defeated Nationals on Saturday at Maisonneuve by 9 goals to 8. For the greater part of the game the French-Canadians were the better team, and looked comfortable winners, but in the last quarter they went up in the air and the Capitals ran away with the match. The teams and officials were:

Nationals.		Capitals.
L'Heureux	Goal	Macdonald
Caterinich	Point	Baldwin
Decarie	Cover point	Ralph
Sauve	Defence	Shea
Clement	"	Robertson
Lachapelle	"	Ashfield
Pitre	Centre	Pringle
Dulude	Home	Westwick
Lamoureux	"	E. Murphy
Laviolette	"	Eastman
Loderoute	Outside home	P. Murphy
Contant	Inside home	Allan

Referee—Mr. James Murphy.

Umpires—Messrs. P. Murphy and Harry Smith.

Timekeepers—Messrs. Carruthers and Fred Quinn.

The Capitals went away with a burst, and for a few minutes made rings around the home team. They looked an exceedingly dangerous lot, and their front division certainly played up to the reputation they possess. Allan sent in a hot shot to L'Heureux when the play had been almost five minutes old, and found the net. This seemed to waken up the Nationals, for they began to make rings round the visitors, and put up the most brilliant exhibition of lacrosse that has been seen in Montreal this season. Laderoute capped a great piece of combination by scoring with a beauty, and shortly after Dulude gave his side the lead.

The match seemed to be lost and won, for the display of the Nationals after the first five minutes had been far ahead of the visitors. They were much faster and they showed more combination. Though the Caps managed to tie the score in the second quarter, still the crowd believed in the Nationals, for they were giving a delightful exhibition, and earning round after round of applause for their clever work.

The third quarter was sensational. The Capitals began the scoring through P. Murphy, and took the lead, but this advantage was lost when a couple of minutes afterwards Contant completely beat Macdonald. Murphy, however, was again on the spot, and once more the Capitals led. This was exceedingly hard lines, for the Nationals had had three-fourths of the play so far, and were continually hovering round Macdonald. Bad luck dogged their steps, and if they had had a ghost of a smile from Dame Fortune they would have trebled their score at least.

In the last quarter the Capitals scored five times in succession, and won the match. Scenes of a disgraceful order were witnessed. The Nationals had three men off at one time, and it was no wonder that the Caps scored so frequently.

Summary:

First Quarter.

Club.	Name.	Time.
1.....Capitals	Allan	4.20
2.....Nationals	Laderoute	3.45
3.....Nationals	Dulude	4.55

Second Quarter.

4.....Capitals	P. Murphy	11.00

Third Quarter.

5.....Capitals	P. Murphy	6.57
6.....Nationals	Contant	2.38
7.....Capitals	P. Murphy	3.10

Fourth Quarter.

8.....Capitals	P. Murphy	4.15
9.....Capitals	P. Murphy	5.09
10.....Capitals	E. Murphy	0.45
11.....Capitals	Allan	2.09
12.....Capitals	Eastman	2.00
13.....Capitals	Eastwood	2.09

Penalties: Ralph (2), Laderoute (2), Lachapelle (2), Baldwin, Contant, Shea, Laviolette, Westwick, Sauve, Robertson, Pringle.

If the C.L.A. and the C.A.A.U. come together the latter will become a much more responsible and powerful body.

Nothing but compliments are going round for the masterly way in which the Shamrocks acted throughout the Brantford difficulty.

There is no anxiety among Shamrock supporters as to the outcome of Saturday's game. But up west they think they have half a dozen teams that can lick the Irishmen.

The prospect that the C.L.A. will come under C.A.A.U. rulings has caused a good deal of satisfaction in Montreal.

If the various associations through out Canada were combined and represented in the C.A.A.U. sport would be put on a much sounder basis.

The Brantford team is being reorganized to meet the Shamrocks. Kelly will probably catch a place.

Brantford people don't seem to have lost faith in Powers. Yet the great player is not the Powers of old.

Mr. Pittaway, of the Capitals was enthusiastic over the exhibition his team gave on Saturday and thinks they will just about trim the Shamrocks.

The Shamrocks beat Nationals 9-1, and the Capitals beat them, 9-3, yet the Nationals were a hundred per cent. better on Saturday. What about paper form?

There were five old Cornwall players in Saturday's game: Decaire, Clement, Contant of the Nationals, and Allan and Eastwood, of the Capitals.

Brantford Beat Fergus.

Brantford, June 27.—The lacrosse match played here on Saturday afternoon between the Fergus and Brantford teams at the start was very fast. Brantford securing the first goal and at quarter time had 3 to Fergus's 0. From that out the Fergus boys kept good watch of their goal and Brantford only scored one in the second quarter. The remainder of the game was noticeable for its non-scoring. F. C. Waghorn was referee and was very strict and impartial, giving good satisfaction. The weather was very warm. About two thousand people were on the grounds to witness the game. The final score was: Brantford, 4; Fergus, 0.

The Shamrocks have diplomacy down to a fine point. The tact exhibited by Mr. H. J. Trihey, brought about the Minto Cup games.

Brantford won't be quite such a good drawing card on Friday as they might have been. However, a good crowd will be out to see the twelve men from twelve villages.

Mr. Phil A. Errett, who made such a hit at the C.A.A.U. meeting on Saturday evening, is sporting editor of the Brantford Expositor.

He seems to think that the N.A.L.U. clubs are just as much professional as Brantford.

The special meeting of the Shamrock Lacrosse Club which had been called for to-night, has been cancelled by order of the president, Mr. Thomas O'Connell.

The doings of Saturday's C.A.A.U. have been formally sent to Mr. J. P. Dickson, who will present the same to Mr. P. D. Ross.

The question of a referee for the Minto Cup game on Friday is engaging attention. It is probable that Joe Lally will be asked to officiate.

The Shamrock juniors on Saturday on the S.A.A.A. grounds, administered a decisive defeat to the Westmount team by a score of 13 to 5.

Before the game at Maisonneuve on Saturday, Mr. W. Foran, of Ottawa, said that if the Nationals protested against Pringle, the Capitals would not go on the field. There was no protest, however.

The Minto Cup Games.

It is now certain that the Minto Cup games between the Shamrocks and Brantford will be played on July 1 and July 9. This was the outcome of the N.A.L.U. meeting held in the M.A.A.A. club house on Saturday evening. Those present were: W. G. Ayling, president; P. Gorman, first vice-president; E. Herbert Brown, secretary; Harry Trihey, C.A.H.L.; J. S. Trempe, C.P.A.A.A.; Fred. Tees, McGill A.A.A.; W. J. McGee, S.A.A.A.

The first business was the consideration of a motion by Mr. McGee which sought to amend rule 19 as follows:

"That this rule shall not apply to games for the "Minto Cup," representing the lacrosse championship of the world, when such games have been authorized by the trustees of the Cup. No amateur competing in such games against a professional shall thereby forfeit and endanger his amateur standing." This, however, was ruled out of order.

A telegram was read from Mr. Frank president of the C.L.A., and also an official of the Brantford club stating that the C.L.A. were ready and anxious to confer with the C.A.A.U. regarding the government of amateur sports in Canada. This was received with much satisfaction by the meeting and paved the way for the subsequent business.

Mr. Phil A. Errett, secretary of the Brantford club, was admitted to the meeting, and made a statement regarding the situation in the West. He showed that Brantford had recognized the C.A.A.U. suspensions. Lambe, of the Torontos, is now a member of Brantford, yet the latter has not played him. They played their C.L.A. games against professionals under protest. Mr. Errett showed that it was impossible for them to act otherwise than they did, for they would have been without any games at all and the N.A.L.U. clubs were too far away. He was asked if he could give an affidavit that none of the Brantford players were paid, and replied that he was secretary and not treasurer.

Mr. Harry Trihey then submitted the following motion to which all agreed except Mr. Gorman:

"That in view of the statement of the president of the C.L.A. that they are willing to enter into conference with the C.A.A.U. upon the question of membership and recognition of the ruling of this body, that this union take steps to hold a conference with the representatives of the C.L.A. and the other organizations of the Dominion at present not represented as members of this union. That pending such conference the suspension made by the Board of Governors on June 3rd, be raised and that they be relieved of such suspension until a report of the result of such conference has been received.

That a committee be now appointed to take steps to arrange for the necessary conference with such associations not now represented by this Union.

"The motion to be subject to the consent of the trustees, that in the event of the C.L.A. not agreeing to become members of this union subject to our regulations and the Brantford Lacrosse Club winning the Minto Cup, that they shall agree to return same to the champions of the N.A.L.U."

Maples and Silver Stars Draw.

The Maples drew with the Silver Stars on Saturday in an Independent Juvenile Lacrosse League match, played on the grounds of the latter. The score was one all. Mr. M. Kearns made an excellent referee. The teams were:

Maples.		Silver Star.
Hartford	Goal	H. McDavitt

Umpires—Messrs. McCoy, Palmer.

The Nationals had a splendid gate on Saturday and the officials smiled cheerfully.

If the Nationals could only score what a team they would be. They should have had twenty goals to their credit on Saturday.

Except for about five minutes in the first quarter the much vaunted Capital home were a very mediocre lot.

GOLF AND GOLFERS

The Try-Davies Cup.

The final of the Try-Davies Cup competition of the Outremont Golf Club was played over the Outremont links on Saturday afternoon. The finalists were Messrs. Gerald Lees and F. R. Redpath. Mr. Lees won after a close match.

Montreal Amateurs Are Trying The Birds New Play with Success

Montreal and the Clam Diggers Had an Even Split on Games.

THE BIRDS have kindly allowed the Toronto artists to pass them in the percentage table and have also shown a disposition to give up to Providence. This charitable spirit goes all right in ordinary life, but it is not mentioned in the ten commandments of baseball, the tenth of which reads:

(10)—Do the others or they will do you.

The local performers will appear in Jersey City to-day and will have a four game series with the Hon. Joseph Bean.

On Friday they will be back here for morning and afternoon games with Rochester and if we don't fatten our average a little on that day we will have to ask the Laurier Government to resign.

"I guess the boys have all read about that new play of ours," said Tom Martin.

"I was taking a stroll up around Fletcher's Field the other afternoon," said Tom," and past the elevator I stopped to look on at a ball game between youngsters around the age of thirteen and fourteen.

"They were all in costume, red stockings, and all that sort of thing, and were playing for blood. I asked one youngster the names of the teams, but just then a friend of his made a three-bagger, and he got too busy yelling, to answer.

"The next boy up to bat took his position, then stopped the game, and ran up to talk to his man, who was playing off third base.

"I didn't guess what was up, until the pitcher threw the second ball, and I suddenly noticed the kid on third make a dash for home."

"Did the batter bunt it?"

"Bunt?" said Tom, "why that kid dumped the ball two feet in front of the plate, and ran down to first like a deer. The other youngster scored while the catcher was picking the ball up. He threw wild to first, and the kid who did the bunt act got around to third on the play.

"I laughed for about ten minutes," said Tom, "and the friends of young bunter rooted away to beat the band. What those kids didn't know about baseball is not worth knowing."

The new play is also being by the older ones.

At Atwater Park Saturday afternoon in a game between the Y.M.C.A. and Lachine, the Y.M.C.A. boys tried it in the early part of the contest.

The batter missed bunting the ball, however, and the base-runner was caught between third and home, five members of the Lachine team handling the ball on the play.

There were about 150 fans out to see this game, Lachine winning out in the ninth by ten to eight.

There was a lacrosse game going on at the same time, and the ball game had to stop every once and awhile when the lacrosse artists worked their ball over towards the diamond.

Immediately after these two contests there was an Association football game played, so Atwater Park had a good lively afternoon of it.

Walters.

Owing to his lameness Walters does not lead off the batting order, but will very shortly.

McCarthy.

Somebody should wake up Charley Atherton to the advisability of using a winning pitcher like McCarthy more than once a week.—Gazette.

Hear! hear!

Rapp, of Toronto has been out of the game with a sore knee.

Saturday's Game.

Providence, June 25.—(Special)—Providence indulged in a terrific batting feast at the expense of slab artist Adams, of the Montreal team, this afternoon, and won handily by a score of eleven to three.

It was a Providence day throughout the entire game, and the visitors never had a look-in. Batting averages went up on the jump, and the fans were treated to the best exhibition of slick work which the Grays have given this season.

Sixteen hits were pounded out, and all were free from the slightest trace of a blemish.

Adams was given his bumps hard in the fourth and fifth innings, but was kept in the game notwithstanding.

Milligan was in the box for the Grays, and pitched his usual gilt-edged game. He had a goodly assortment of twisters, which gulled the Montreal sluggers in fine style, and there was never a moment when he weakened or showed the slightest trace of unsteadiness. Clancy was the only man who could solve the benders without much difficulty, and he cracked out two three-baggers which were certainly beauties.

Five other hits are slated on the Montreal side of the ledger, but they were well scattered. The visitors did not display the same brilliant fielding game as that put up in Friday's contest, and the snap and dash were absent.

The Grays, on the other hand, were on the jump continually, and worked off every play with clock-like precision. Conn put up a great game in centre field, and accepted five chances in pretty style. Umpire Egan's decisions were entirely satisfactory to both teams. Attendance, 4,500.

Sunday Game.

Providence, June 26.—(Special)—On the afternoon of the hottest day thus far experienced this summer, fully 3,000 followers of the national game saw Montreal take the concluding game of the series from the home team by the score of three to two.

Opportune batting on the part of the visitors, and costly errors by the Grays tell the story of the downfall of Daly's men after two victories over the Canucks.

McCarthy and Fairbanks did the twirling, both doing consistent work, though as the score shows, McCarthy had slightly the better of his opponent, keeping the hits down six, while eight men scored against the Providence boy.

Hartman and Gibson excelled in wielding the willow, each securing a two-bagger and a single to his credit. Yeager's splendid catch of a ball which seemed impossible, brought everybody standing in the third inning.

The game started in rather slowly, and neither side succeeded in scoring in the first inning. In the middle of the second there came a hard shower, and made it necessary to stop playing. After the rain the field was so wet as to make fast playing impossible.

Considering the condition of the field from this time on the teams played good, and it was anybody's game up to the ninth inning, when Gibson stepped to the plate, and lined out a hard one which was good for two-bags, thus bringing in the winning run. McManus and Milligan acted as umpires, giving good satisfaction.

Westmount vs. Mount Royal.

Westmount and Mount Royal met on Saturday afternoon on Westmount Park, and a most interesting and at one time very exciting game was witnessed by a large crowd of supporters of both sides. For Mount Royal J. Boyes batted well. Some good catches were made by Bottomley and Lomas. Westmount had lost four wickets for eighteen runs, when a stand was made by Messenger and Featherston, who by first class cricket, pulled the match through for Westmount by the narrow margin of six runs. Annual Meeting at Ste. Rose.

The annual meeting of the St. Rose Boating Club was held Friday night in the club house at Ste. Rose. The reports of last year were presented and considered very satisfactory, it being shown to have been one of the most successful years in the history of the club.

Considerable routine business was discussed, and it was decided to hold the annual regatta early in August.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Chas. MacAdam; secretary-treasurer, Andrew Darling, Executive Committee, T. Howard, R. Stephenson, T. M. Sinn, J. W. Bearle, H. Garand.

It was decided to hold the informal opening hop on July 2.

Royal St. Lawrence Club Races.

The races of the St. Lawrence Yacht Club, held at Lakeside on Saturday, were somewhat of a disappointment. The Seawanhaka class was that attracting most interest, it having been announced that five races would be sailed with this class. Aeolus II., Geo. Slaughter's new boat, which was only put in the water on Friday, appeared for the first time, but had bad luck, tearing off one of her rudders on an anchorage line before starting. Only two boats were left in the Seawanhaka class, the Noorna and the Thorella II. The contest was extremely interesting at the outset, the Noorna reaching the first and second buoys ahead of her opponent, but later in the race one of her bilge boards jammed, and the Thorella forged ahead, winning in a walk.

The races of the smaller craft were interesting and well contested. A summary of the events is as follows.

The crews of the big boats were:

Thorella II.—C. Routh, W. E. Finley, H. Gordon and Thornton Davidson.

Noorna—Huntley Drummond, P. McNaughton, P. Shearwood and W. A. C. Hamilton.

Aeolus II.—Geo. Slaughter, L. Morris, R. Magor and F. D. Rogers.

TALK OF SOME ENGLISH CAPITALISTS GETTING HOLD OF DOMINION COAL

Dominion Coal was about the only thing to the market this morning, and a fair amount of scattered liquidation worked the price under 44.

An incident of the day was the talk that the Coal Company may be absorbed by a group of English capitalists.

This is not exactly a new rumor, as we heard it about the time that Mr. Ross made his visit to England.

A broker asserted this morning, however, that there has been a little buying of Coal here on English account, and another broker reports the same thing from Toronto.

In regard to the present liquidation the only explanation for it is that many shareholders are giving up the idea of any immediate resumption of dividends.

There was some trading in Steel common around the basis of 7 1-2 to 7 3-4, while 10,000 bonds sold between 56 3-4 and 57 1-4.

Power was a little stiffer at 72 1-4, and Canadian Pacific dull at 123 1-4.

The sales to noon in Wall Street today were 111,900 shares.

Favorable reports from the crop districts continue without abatement, and it is almost certain that the crops now being harvested will prove larger than had been expected. Spring wheat is progressing favorably, and corn, while somewhat late, is undoubtedly in a flourishing condition. It is these facts more than anything else that has produced the better feeling which now exists in the Wall street market. It is but natural that railway reports should reflect the exceedingly severe winter just passed, and now with the return of good weather, crops are in an excellent condition, and general business looking hopefully to the near future, it is not to be wondered at that people with money to invest are now turning their eyes toward standard issues. It is an undisputed fact that prices of stocks have been hardening ever since the middle of April. True, they have not advanced with a rush, but stocks have acted as they should have acted in the spring months of a presidential year. Prices are not now as high as they were after the great depression of last fall, and there have been rallies and depressions since then, but it is to be noted that the low point on these depressions grows higher on each operation. Day by day, the market is apparently growing healthy and technically speaking the market is in a healthier condition than at any time this year. Activity in the bond market continues, which is a good sign.

Montreal Holidays.

The members this morning voted to adjourn the Exchange next Friday, Saturday and Monday.

The U. S. markets will be closed Saturday and Monday.

Montreal Exchange.

Montreal Exchange quotations to-day are reported as follows by Marler & Hodgson: New York funds, 5-64 to 1-16 dis. banks; 1-16 to 1-8 prem., counter; Sterling sixty days, 9 3-8 to 9 5-32 banks; 9 3-8 to 9 1-2 counter; Sterling demand, 9 17-32 to 9 19-32 banks; 9 3-4 to 9 7-8 counter; Sterling cables, 9 5-8 to 9 11-16 banks; 9 7-8 to 10 counter; Paris francs short, 5.16 7-8.

Strike Situation.

Mr. Plummer, of the Steel Company, passed through Montreal yesterday, and did not express a very hopeful view of the strike situation at Sidney.

Sales of C. P. R.

The sales of Canadian Pacific in Wall street last week amounted to 24,500 shares, the biggest week for some months.

The stock opened at 120½, went to 124, and closed at 122⅝.

Sales of "Soo."

"S" Railroad common opened last week in Wall street at 62½, jumped to 67¾, and closed at 65¾.

The preferred opened at 199, went to 124½, and closed at 120¼.

Sales of the common were 13,080 shares, and preferred 3,800 shares.

Rossland Shipments.

The shipments for the week ending Saturday were: Leroy, 1,220; Centre Star, 1,440; War Eagle, 1,230; Leroy, 2,310; do. milled, 250; Spitzee, 30; Kootenay, 390; Jumbo, 220; total, 5,240 tons. Year to date, 177,358 tons.

Toledo Earnings.

The Toledo Railway & Light Company's report of railway earnings for three weeks ending June 21st:—

1903	$71,739.63
1904	73,420.42
Gain	$1,680.79

Financial Chips.

Americans in London steady, about parity.

London fortnightly settlement began to-day.

Attack on People's Gas in Illinois Legislature threatened.

Pittsburg steel authorities expect unusual quietness in steel business for next three months.

First quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. on Third Avenue declared.

U.S. Steel will scale production 50 per cent. in July and August.

Seventeen roads for third week June show average gross increase 6.24 per cent.

Stocks plentiful in loan crowd.

Bond houses expect continued active investment demand.

Anthracite trade dull, and bituminous seriously demoralized.

Banks lost to sub-treasury on Friday, $234,000.

Heavy increase in loans in bank statement practically all divided between a few large banks.

Keene says he will subscribe for Southern Pacific preferred stock, and advises holders of common to sit tight.

Forget's Cable.

L. J. Forget & Co.'s London cable quoted Grand Trunk first at 103 1-4, second at 38 1-2, third at 40, Pacific, 126 1-4; Anaconda, 3 5-8; Hudson, 40 1-2.

Irregular Market.

A wire to Mr. C. D. Monk said: Some weakness appeared in early dealings today; no apparent cause for same. News over Sunday could be construed as favorable. O. & W. the leader; heavy buying appearings, and stock sold to highest on present movement; rest of list steady at noon.

Noon Letter.

Noon letter.—The market this morning has been slow and dull, with light significance to the dealings. The opening tone was firm, with prices fractionally better than Saturday's close. Atchison advanced 5-8 on reports of buying by Harriman interests, and Steel pfd. was 1-2 per cent. higher. Reading second pfd. opened up a point, and Great Western pfd. rose 3-8; Detroit Southern lost 1 3-8; preferred fell 3-4. Traders appear to be afraid of making any important commitments, and there is a general feeling that speculation will be narrow and uninteresting until the definite results of the Democratic convention becomes history. The undertone is firm, notwithstanding the dullness.—E. & C. Randolph.

London Closing.

London close.—Anaconda, 3 3-4 and 72 1-2; Atchison, 74 1-2 and 72 5-8; C. P. R., 126 3-8 and 123 1-8; St. Paul, 143 3-4 and 143; Erie, 24 1-2 and 23 7-8; E. R., 59 3-4 and 58 3-4; Illinois Central, 135 and 131 3-4; Louisville & Nashville, 113 and 110; New York Central, 119 1-4 and 116 1-4; Pennsylvania, 59 1-2 and 116; Rio Grande, 24 and 46 3-4; Southern Pacific, 48 and 46 3-4; Union Pacific, 90 5-8 and 88 3-4; U. S. Steel, 10 and 9 3-4; U. S. Q., 57 1-4 and 55 7-8. American stocks in London closed steady.

N. Y. Gossip.

Messrs. Zimmermann & Forshay wire Robert Meredith & Co.—The only news over Sunday was the weather reports for crops, and this was of a favorable kind. The London quotations this morning show firmness; prices are about at parity with ours. We look for an inactive and irregular market, with prices maintained at about the present level. Noon letter: We can only reiterate our early gossip market irregular, with a little more activity at advancing quotations in Ontario & Western and Reading. This being a short week, the exchange having voted to close on Saturday next to remain closed until Tuesday, will influence traders to refrain from making new engagements. Therefore we cannot expect anything but a very dull week. We learn from prominent bond houses that they are virtually bare of high grade investments, having disposed of their bonds at good prices, and still report a big demand.

Cotton Was Higher A Crop Report

The cotton market was stronger. Liverpool closed 10 up on near, 8 up on distant. Judson's wire said: The Journal of Commerce special reports to-day cover Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee as follows: Mississippi: Crop generally in fine state of cultivation and in good condition, but owing to the dry weather and cool nights growth has been slow, resulting in small plants. The season averages about ten days late.

Louisiana—In many sections conditions are almost ideal, fields being well cleaned and ample rains having fallen, but some correspondents report dry weather and small plants.

Tennessee has had liberal rainfalls, and the crops well cultivated and in good condition.

Irish Lad Won.

New York, June 27.—Driven to the limit, in the last few strides Irish Lad won the $15,000 Advance Stakes at Sheepshead Bay, making a new world's record of 2.17 3-5 for the distance, one mile and three furlongs, the best previous record, made by Sabine, in Chicago, July 5, 1894, being 2.18 3-4. Ort Wells was second and Bryn Mawr third.

The other winners were Lady Amelia, Judith, Campbell, Flyback, Virgo, and Ben Macdhui.

C. P. R. For Year Will Show Earnings Of About $45,907,000

The Canadian Pacific is now on the last week of its fiscal year, and will show gross earnings for the twelve months in the vicinity of $45,900,000, or an increase over 1902-03 of $2,500,000.

Needless to say, these figures are the biggest on record.

The recent showing of the road has been excellent, and in the last fourteen weeks only two decreases have been shown.

The weekly returns of the road since June 1st are as follows:

	1904.	1903.	Dec.
Jan. 1 to 7	$697,000	$794,000	$ 97,000

Passengers Carried By Our Tractions

Montreal and Toronto Street Railways will have to do a little sprinting in order to catch up to the number of passengers carried by the two big systems in New York. Here are their figures of paying passengers:

	Metropolitan.	Manhattan.
1903	323,491,446	255,365,390
1902	301,601,431	223,427,283
1901	291,418,365	194,152,316
1900	284,881,023	183,788,851
1899	266,303,073	177,204,558
1898	220,070,511	179,728,356

The passengers carried by the Montreal systems are shown in the following:

	Toronto.	Montreal.
1902	44,437,678	49,947,467
1901	39,848,087	46,741,690

One Half Per Cent. Money in Wall St.

The decline of call money on the Wall Street Stock Exchange to ½ of 1 per cent. last Thursday is the first instance since March 11, 1898, that the official rate has touched so low a figure. Business then was at a standstill owing to general recognition that war with Spain could no longer be averted.

Why most banks would prefer not to lend at all, rather than to lend at ½ of 1 per cent., was thus explained by an official of one of the larger institutions:

"A certain bank loaned $100,000 at ½ per cent., and on the following day it was paid off by the broker who was accommodated. The bank received just $1.38. Consider the amount of work attached to the operation. The $120,000 in securities, we will assume, which were sent in by the broker as collateral, all had to be carefully examined by the bank's expert in the particular department, to see that names and other particulars were regular. Next a check for the amount of the loan had to be drawn and passed through several hands up to the cashier or vice-president. The transaction must be entered on various books, and the broker's account duly credited with the item. When the loan was paid off the next morning, there was another spell of work—all for $1.38. It was not worth the trouble."

The Rich Men and The Stock Market

Continued absence from Wall Street of half a dozen prominent financiers, with the announcement that several others intend to depart soon on extended European trips, has excited interest this week in the discussion respecting the power of very rich operators in the market and arrangements by them to protect their interests while away. Fifteen years ago the market became nervous when ever a powerful operator went away, took sick, and often broken violently on rumors of his death. That has all changed now, owing to the elaborate arrangements made by most rich men to protect heir holdings when they die and prevent hasty selling by trustees or executors. Most Wall Street men nowadays make it conditional upon joining forces with any group of operators that each member should make specific provision in his will for the protection of the interests of his associates in event of death. These agreements are binding, and are always lived up to.

J. P. Morgan, William K. Vanderbilt, and John D. Rockefeller are out of the city at present, and George F. Baker, James Stillman, George J. Gould, and E. H. Harriman are booked to go abroad in a few weeks.

All these men have large interests, which are carefully looked after during their absence. While they might not like to leave the city if the stock market was very active, they have provided for almost every contingency.—N.Y. Post.

Canadian Northern Shows Steady Gains

We doubt if there is another road on the Continent, apart from the Canadian Northern, which has shown increases every week since January 1st. It is true the gains shown by the property have not been large, but they are excellent for a new road.

For the calendar year the figures are:

Market Reports.

NEWS OF THE DAIRY MARKETS

Little Export Demand for Cheese Even at the Lower Prices—Butter Continues Dull.

Cheese—The cheese market rules quiet at the decline, but a discouraging feature is the fact that the drop in prices does not seem to have induced any enquiry from the other side. At the country boards to-day 7 1-2c was the ruling first cost, and this is equivalent to 7 3-4c to 8c.

Butter—There was no change in the butter market, trade ruling dull, while arrivals continue heavy. At country points to-day the equivalent of 17 3-4c to 18c laid down here was paid, but sellers assert that they cannot obtain more than 17 3-4c here on actual deals in finest creamery.

English mail advices of the 18th are not enthusiastic on cheese, one from London remarking: "The state of the market generally is not very encouraging. There is a certain amount of business doing, but the trade is very far from being active, and prices have a tendency to ease off still further on most descriptions. Canadian—Stocks show an increase on the week of something like 6,000 boxes, the total quantity at the depot being 42,000 boxes. Shipments from the other side are not much less than they were a week ago, and as they have lately appeared to be in excess of the weekly consumptive demand, some increase in the amount of stock of this side may be reasonably expected, especially when the usual expansion of the new make is borne in mind. The demand for old cheese is not very lively, but sellers are not unduly depressing the market by forcing sales.

The Cheese Boards

Cornwall, Ont., June 26.—At the Cornwall cheese board on Saturday, 2,310 boxes were boarded 1,051 white, and 1,259 colored. All but one lot of 67 boxes sold at 7 1-2c. J. A. McRae got 565 for Hodgson Brothers; N. Pitt, 433 for Wiler & Riley; J. A. Welsh, 159 for James Alexander; A. Logan, 296 for the Ayer Company, Limited; J. F. McGregor, 311 for Lovell & Christmas, and M. McLean 569 for A. W. Grant.

Alexandria, Ont., June 25.— At the cheese board here this evening the offering was 1,135 white and 295 colored. All sold at 7 1-2c; McRae 302, white and 30 colored; McGregor, 435 white and 83 colored; Welsh, 279 white and 44 colored; Fraser, 119 white and 38 colored.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., June 25.—At a meeting of the St. Hyacinthe Butter and Cheese Board, held to-day, 15 creameries offered 637 package of butter. Seventeen cents was bid, but no sales were made.

Cowansville, June 25.—Thirty-three factories offered 2,291 boxes cheese; 27 creameries offered 2,152 boxes butter. Lovell & Christmas bought 480 boxes butter at 17 3-4c, 120 at 17 5-8c; James Alexander, 230 at 17 3-4; A. W. Grant, 235 at 17 1-2c; Hodgson Bros., 265 at 17 1-2c; H. H. Hibbard, 138 at 17 1-2c; James Alexander, 210 at 7 1-2c; A. W. Grant, 159 at 7 1-2c; H. H. Hibbard, 187 at 7 1-2c; Gunn & Langlois, 79 at 7 1-2c; Lovell & Christmas, 56 at 7 1-2c. Balance unsold. Twelve buyers present.

Belleville, Ont., June 25.—Forty-three factories offered 4,175 white and 370 colored. Sales: Magrath, 1,470 white and Cook, 195 colored, at 7 5-8c; balance selling at board price on curb.

London, Ont., June 25.—There was 1,870 boxes offered at 130, white calance colored. Sales 340 colored at 7 5-8c to C. W. Riley, a few lots sold on street at same price; excellent pastures and large make.

Watertown, N.Y., June 25.—Cheese sales, 10,000 at 7 5-8c to 8c for large.

Country Produce

Eggs—A fair trade was done in a jobbing way and prices were unchanged at 14c to 14 1-2c for straight gathered stock, and at 12 1-2c to 13c for seconds per dozen, in round lots.

Beans—In a jobbing way sales of choice primes were made at $1.35 to $1.40, and primes at $1.30 per bushel, while car lots of choice primes were quoted at $1.30 and primes at $1.25 per bushel.

Honey—We quote as follows: Extracted white clover honey, 8 1-2c to 9c per 10-lb tin, and at 7c to 7 1-2c in 300 lb. keg; buckwheat honey, 5c to 7c, and white clover comb, 13c to 19 1-2c.

Maple Product—Syrup in 15-gallon casks, 5 1-2c to 5 1-2c per lb.; in tins, 55c to 60c per wine measure, and 70c to 75c for imperial, and Beauce sugar, 8c to 10c per lb.

Ashes—The market for potash was dull and featureless. First sorts, $6 to $6.10; seconds, $5.40 to $5.50 and pearls, $7.25 to $7.50 per 100 lbs.

Hogs and Provisions

Owing to the exceedingly warm weather the trade in fresh killed abattoir dressed hogs was quiet, but prices rule firm at $7.50 to $7.75 per 100 lbs. The demand for hams and bacon was good at steady prices. A private cable today quotes Canadian bacon in London at 36s to 48s; in Bristol at 40s to 46s, and in Liverpool at 40s to 48s. We quote: Heavy Canada short selected heavy Canada short cut boneless, in barrels, 81S; heavy Canada short cut mess, $17.50; Canada short cut back pork, $16.50; heavy Canada short cut clear pork, $16; heavy flank pork, $16; light Canada short cut clear pork, $14.50.

Compound lard — Tierces, 375 lbs., 6 3-4c; tubs, 50 lbs., 7c; boxes, 50 lbs., parchment lined, 7c; wood pails, parchment lined, 20 lbs., 7 1-4c; tin pails, 20 lbs., 6 3-4c; cases of six 10-lb. tins, 7 1-4c; do five 10-lb. tins, 7 3-8c; do three 10-lb tins, 7 1-2c.

Pure lard — Tierces, 375 lbs., 7 1-2c; tubs, 50 lbs., 7 3-4c; boxes, 50 lbs., parchment lined, 7 3-4c; wood pails, 20 lbs., 8c; cases, 8c to 8 1-4c.

Kettle lard—Tierces, 375 lbs., 8 1-2c; tubs, 50 lbs., 8 3-4c; pails, 20 lbs., 9c; cases, 9c to 9 1-4c.

Smoked meats—Hams, 6 to 28 lbs., 10 1-2c to 13c; boneless hams, rolled, 12 1-2c; English boneless breakfast bacon, 13c; boneless spiced roll bacon, 9 1-2c; Wiltshire bacon, 50 lbs., sides, 12 1-2c; Windsor bacon, backs, 12 1-2c.

For round lots of all lines the above prices would be shaded.

Liverpool Markets

Liverpool, June 27.—The cotton exchange here will be closed on Tuesday July 19.

Liverpool, June 27.—Pork, prime mess western quiet, 65s. Bacon, Cumberland cut, steady, 40s; short ribs, steady, 39s 6d; long clear middles, light firm, 40s; long clear middles heavy, firm, 39s 6d. Shoulders, square firm, 37s.

Cheese—American finest white, quiet 37s 6d; American finest colored quiet, 38s 6d.

The imports of wheat into Liverpool, last week were 31,400 quarters from Atlantic ports and 2,000 from Pacific, and 96,000 from other ports.

The imports of corn from Atlantic ports last week were 5,200 quarters.

Europe's Crops

The wheat outlook on the Continent is not developing favorably. France may still exceed last year's yield, but Beerbohm now figures that the aggregate production of Austria-Hungary, Roumania and South Russia will fall very far short of last year's output, and that the Italian crop will be 24,000,000 bushels below 1903. Spain's crop, too, has been damaged; so that Europe's import of wheat may after all be on a considerably larger scale.

GRAIN HERE AND IN THE STATES

Pretty Good Bids for Manitoba Wheat —Oats are Firm and Just About the Same.

There was considerable enquiry for Manitoba spring wheat from over the cable and bids were generally 3d higher than those of yesterday, which makes a net advance for the week of fully 9d, or 2 1-4c per bushel. A moderate amount of business was done to-day and exporters stated that more would have been done only that the offerings at Winnipeg are now becoming limited. There was an improved enquiry for oats from foreign sources also at an advance of 3d in the prices bid recently, but no business was reported as having been worked. Locally the market for oats was firm and prices were unchanged at 37 1-2c to 38 for No. 2 white, and at 36 1-2 to 37c for No. 3 per bushel ex store. Buckwheat was quoted at 59 1-4c; peas at 70c; No. 2 rye, at 62c to 62 1-2c; No. 2 barley at 49c; No. 3 extra at 48c, and No. 3 at 47c; No. 2 white oats, 36 1-2c to 37c per bushel, afloat.

The various options in Chicago today were quoted as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	12.30
Wheat—
July	85⅛	85⅞	85½	85¾
Sept.	81⅛	81½	81⅛	81⅛

Wheat in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Man., June 27.—(Special.)—Wheat dull, shade lower but firm, trade small, July, 86 5-8; Oct., 79. Cash wheat firm fair demand but no offerings. No. 1 northern, 86 3-4; No. 2 northern, 84; No. 3 northern, 80 1-4; No. four, 73 1-2; feed, 59. No. 2 feed, 56 1-2, receipts, wheat, 32 cars, last year, 93. Terminal stocks wheat, 2,419,707 bushels. Same date year ago, 2,424,138 bushels.

Flour, Feed, Hay

Flour—There was no change in the condition of the flour market, the undertone being still very firm in sympathy with the strength in the wheat market. The demand for all grades was somewhat slow to-day and business was rather quiet. Manitoba spring wheat patents, $4.90; Manitoba strong bakers', $4.60; winter wheat patents, $4.80 to $4.90; straight rollers, $4.65 to $4.75; straight rollers, in bags, $2.20 to $2.25.

Feed—Business in millfeed was quiet and the tone of the market continues easy. Manitoba bran in bags, $18; shorts, $19 to $20 per ton; Ontario bran, in bulk, $16.50 to $17; shorts, $18 to $18.50; and mouillie, $24 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

Meal—There is an unsettled feeling in the market for rolled oats, as it is claimed by some in the trade that the sales have been made at $2.15 to $2.20 per bag, while the combine price is $4.90 to $5 per barrel, and $2.30 to $2.35 per bag. There was no change in cornmeal and business is slow at $1.30 to $1.40 per bag.

Decline in Hay

The weak feeling in the market for baled hay continues and prices have declined 25c to 50c per ton, owing to the continued liberal offerings and weaker foreign advices. No. 1, $10 to $10.50; extra good, No. 2, $9.50 to $10; ordinary, No. 2, $8.75 to $9, and clover mixed, $7.75 to $8 per ton, in carload lots.

St. Catharines has voted $20,000 to the Niagara, Queenston & St. Catharines Electric Railway.

The by-law to give a bonus of $20,000 to the Ontario Electric Railway was defeated in Newtonville by 370 to 238.

The by-law granting $20,000 to the Niagara, Queenston and St. Catharines Electric Railway was carried at St. Catharines.

MONTREAL MONEY IN NEW COMPANIES

Thos. May & Co. to Take Over Canada Ribbon Co.

The last issue of the Canada Gazette announces the issue of a charter of incorporation to Ferdinand Bayard, gentleman; Pierre Edouard Beaudry, real estate agent; J. Alexandre Brossard, bank manager; Pierre Désforges, accountant, and Edgar Gauthier, merchant, all of the city and district of Montreal, in the Province of Quebec, as the "Star Chrome Mining Company." The capital stock is to be $450,000, divided into 90,000 five dollar shares. The objects of the company are to search for mines and ores, particularly chrome, asbestos, platina, mica and iron, and when found to carry on a general mining business anywhere in Canada.

Edward J. Major, merchant; Bernard McNally, secretary, and Hercule Giroux, commercial traveller, of the city of Montreal, in the Province of Quebec; William Macculloch, banker, of the city of Toronto, in the Province of Ontario, and Dame Mary Elizabeth VanKoughnet, wife separate as to property of Frank W. May, merchant, of the city of Montreal, have secured a Dominion charter to take over the business of the Canada Ribbon Co., and carry on a general wholesale and retail trade in ribbons, fancy dry goods and millinery under the name of "Thos. May & Co." Capital stock, $48,000; head office at Montreal.

A Dominion charter has been issued to Samuel Carsley, merchant; William Francis Carsley, merchant; Samuel Carsley, jr., merchant; Tancrede Bienvenu, bank manager, and Frederic Hague, insurance agent, all of the city of Montreal, as the "Canadian Vacuum Cleaner Co., Ltd.," with a capital stock of $100,000, divided into one hundred $100 shares. The company's purpose is to acquire the Canadian and Newfoundland patents protecting Booth's system of cleaning by vacuum suction. A general business of cleaning carpets and all sorts of household and commercial articles will be carried on throughout Canada and Newfoundland.

Business Building

Months ago it became obvious to the management that some system had to be devised if this store's constantly growing trade was to be properly cared for. More room! more room! was the constant cry of the department chiefs.

There were periods in the morning, however, when larger audiences could have been promptly attended to. It was believed that the question of "growing room" would be satisfactorily solved if a proportion of those who delayed to come until the afternoon could be prevailed upon to do the shopping at 8 a.m. An aggressive campaign in favor of early shopping was then inaugurated. The result was to secure audiences of sufficient size to keep the salespeople busy throughout the morning, yet no appreciable reduction in the afternoon crowds was noticeable. Then plans for extension were discussed, and soon the extensions were under way. The work will not, however, be complete until the entire block stretching from University to Victoria Streets becomes a uniform and united structure.

We are seizing every opportunity to acquire additional room, and have within the past two weeks moved into the completed parts of the new section on the second and third floors. The third floor of the "New Building" is now devoted to the Music, Books and Picture departments, as well as underpriced lines of Dress Goods; also Summer Merchandise, such as Hammocks, Screen Doors and Windows, Ice Cream Freezers, various Toys, etc., etc. The Boys' Clothing, the Whitewear and Corset departments are now located in the second floor of the New Building. Needless to say, the greater opportunities afforded for selections and displays will be appreciated by the public.

Residing Out-of-Town

for the summer months only, or all the year round, it is possible to keep in constant touch with this establishment through the Mail Order Department. An efficient staff sees that you are favored with as prompt and satisfactory service as those who are enabled to make personal visits to the store.

WE'VE PUBLISHED A SUMMER CATALOGUE

DEALING PRINCIPALLY WITH GROCERIES.

For the information of the out-of-town public (whether for the summer only or all the year round), who order their supplies by mail, so far as the Grocery lists are concerned, the compliment has been paid that nothing more complete has been issued. The information is given in a form that is easily and quickly understood. Sent free by mail to all residing out of town who intimate their desire to possess a copy. Ordering Groceries by mail from this establishment is a paying proposition. We pay freight on assorted Grocery orders that amount to or exceed the sum of $10.00, to all points within 200 miles of Montreal.
