King's school students to take bicycle tests

The first Bicycle Safety Program sponsored by the Westmount Rotary Club Safety Committee will take place tomorrow for students attending Kings School.

Classroom instruction has been given to all pupils at Kings over the past two weeks and written tests will be completed today. These instructions, tests, as well as movies, lectures, etc., are part of an overall program designed to instill good road habits and safety thinking in all younger children — the automobile drivers of tomorrow.

The program will conclude on Saturday morning when all pupils with bicycles will be tested for their ability to ride properly and obey traffic signals. A "testing area" complete with stop signs, intersections, traffic lights and bicycles will be inspected for faulty mechanism.

The Home and School Association at Kings School as well as members of the Westmount Police Department will assist in the testing program Saturday morning.

All pupils will receive report cards and successful applicants will receive pennants and safe driving certificates.

Municipal association hears talk on MMC

By E. C. Gannon

"The City of Westmount will show a surplus this year for the third year in a row due to the efficiency of the city management," Mayor J. C. Cushing told members of the Westmount Municipal Association in Victoria Hall last night.

The mayor did not go into further detail on the city's budget but his announcement was received with applause.

He was speaking to the members at their annual meeting and reviewed the work of the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation since its formation in 1921, when it was known as a Commission.

He reviewed the highlights of the work done since the formation of the Paquette Commission and the issuance of the Croteau Report which produced the Montreal Bill in 1959 and later was followed by the formation of the Montreal Metropolitan Corporation.

MMC PROVIDES FORUM FOR DEBATING

The corporation, Mayor Cushing stated, had done good work under the able guidance of Mr. Chagnon, even though he did not see eye to eye with him in all its work.

It did, however, provide a forum between the various municipalities on the island and it was his opinion that it would not make much headway until there was some change in its set up.

The corporation had made an exhaustive study on transportation and had reported on the arterial roads to solve traffic problems. It had, due to Mr. Chagnon's efforts, helped the credit rating and financial structure of the whole metropolitan area and had studied and ruled on the early closing bylaw during the past three months.

He believed that it would not make too much further headway under the present set-up.

Car thief jailed

A three-year sentence was imposed on Pierre Tetreault, of Westmount avenue following his admission to stealing five automobiles valued at $10,400. Sentence was pronounced by Judge Redmond Roche.

Next week's weather

May 12 to 19

Mainly sunny with cold nights and some rain. Many years we have had a short hot spell at this time. Temperature range 30-75°F or higher in the south, 25-50°F in the north with 50 to 55 sunny hours.

Raw mornings in the middle of the week, but afternoons sunny with cloudy periods in the south. Drizzle and snow in the north; stormy along the border States and into the Maritimes with thunder and hail. Sunny for the weekend.

Light to shine in the dark

An additional street light will be installed on Greene avenue between Dorchester and Stayner streets.

This is to improve the lighting at this spot as the distance between the street light at the lane north of Stayner street and the one on the north side of Dorchester street is approximately 250 feet.

Other street lights in the vicinity are separated by 160 feet.

Police, fire units show efficiency

Efficient operation of the Westmount Police and Fire Department, under the able direction of Chief Edward C. Harper, is revealed in an analysis of its operation.

It has been shown that, of 496 calls received by the Department in 1961, 142 were for actual fires. Thirty-two false alarms were rung in and the remaining 322 miscellaneous calls ranged from oxygen cases to floods.

Total fire loss was $68,000 down from a yearly average of $127,000. The department also reports that radar equipment has reduced speeding offences in Westmount and the local crime record shows substantial improvement.

Pool to cost $150,000

Westmount keeps in the swim

Westmount keeps in the swim!

Co-incident with other progressive municipalities on the continent it is to have its own municipal swimming pool to be made ready within a few weeks.

The cost will be in the vicinity of $150,000 and it will be located at Western and Lansdowne avenues according to an announcement made by Alderman M. L. Tucker, Commissioner of Parks and Playgrounds to members of the Westmount Municipal Association at their annual meeting held in Victoria Hall last night.

The pool, according to Mr. Tucker who is chairman of the Pool Committee stated that it will go into operation sometime in July, subject to approval by the City Council and the Province of Quebec's Department of Health.

Facilities for patrons will be provided in the skating rink premises adjacent to the pool until permanent bath houses and storage facilities are completed shortly afterward.

According to Mr. Tucker, the pool will be of standard Olympic dimensions, 72 feet long by 42 feet wide with sloping base providing varying depths equipped with separate diving and wading facilities.

There will be three diving boards in the area for diving measuring 40 by 36 feet, as well as a beginner's pool, 32 feet by 18 feet.

A water heating system will be installed which will allow the extension of the swimming season.

Before final decision had been made Alderman Tucker and the pool committee made exhaustive studies of other municipal pools over a period of two years and have come up with the best type available for the needs of the citizens of Westmount.

Indoor swimming pools were also considered, he said, with the result that the committee decided that the construction of such a type would not warrant the cost which was estimated in the vicinity of $750,000.

The site at which the pool is to be constructed was also given careful consideration before the final location was decided upon.

The announcement was received with enthusiastic applause by all members present.

Election: First prize or nothing

By Margaret Aitken

For politicians, it is the end of the lull before the storm.

Leaders of the parties have already started their treks back and forth across the country.

To me elections are just as exciting as that last Stanley Cup hockey play-off. And you know how exciting that one was. Elections call for the same kind of team work, and the same kind of dedication to win. There are no second prizes in elections or Stanley Cup finals.

Dorothy Downing, who has managed more campaigns than she can count, has always claimed that a good team could win with a broomstick as a candidate. Naturally, the candidates will not go along with this but there is no doubt about it, team work is the crux of every successful campaign.

One reason why I like elections is because you really do get to the grass-roots in our society.

For instance, one problem that is coming to the top more and more in this election is the question, how old is old?

It is a fact that employers now seem to regard a man or woman as old at the age of 45 years. And not the least guilty among employers is the Civil Service Commission. Almost always the CSC forms call for applicants to be between 19 and 30 years.

While science is increasing longevity, economics are decreasing usefulness. Our demand for security, through pensions, in what used to be the retiring age of 65 or 70, has boomeranged to make 45 a dangerous age to be looking for a job.

During the past few years I have received many letters on this subject, some angry, some pitiful, all of them deeply concerned. Men and women with plenty of bounce and energy and ambition do not want to be finished at 45.

Some people think portable pensions are the answer. And perhaps they are.

Certainly no employer could refuse to hire a 45-year-old on the excuse it would throw out of balance his company's pension plan.

Another answer could be a government-sponsored contributory system as in the U.S.A. But it has snags, too. Because the contributions are based on a man's earning capacity, the rich get rich pensions, and the poor get poor pensions.

But whatever the answer may be, this is a problem that governments are going to have to solve. I am finding at the grass-roots resentment, despair, and frustration that a man or woman is "too old" at 45 to get a job.

Defeated candidate John S. Corbett, of 65 Forden avenue, said, "We were friends before this and we're friends after. We'll work on this thing together."

Students who fail should not quit school

FINAL examinations in the high schools throughout the West End are coming up soon.

To many it will be the moment of truth; the gay school social life throughout the year may give way to bitter disappointment.

Many fail because they did not apply themselves diligently to studies; few fail because of a lack of enough ability to make a passing grade.

Unfortunately, the bitter disappointment may lead to a snap decision to leave school and seek employment.

With less than high school standards, it can be safely assumed that the bulk of these drop-outs will, if at all, gain employment which will never bring to the fore inherent talent or ability.

It would be much wiser for the student considering leaving school to stop and think about the future.

The embarrassment of repeating one year is not so bad; actually, it could, and should, serve to teach how to study, and to point up the necessity of just a little harder work next year.

If many would do this, it would be surprising how many would eventually go on to university, and to greater things in business, and as good citizens in this complex world.

In years to come it is too late to have regrets.

So, consider carefully before making a rash decision to drop out.

Gracious living now 'a lost art'

Sir:

One of the real pleasures of living in upper Notre Dame de Grace is the daily opportunity afforded one to drive through Westmount on one's way into town.

Spiralling income taxes, increased wages for domestic help and maintenance people have been blamed for the fast-growing trend towards life in smaller homes. But, regardless of the reasons behind this trend, the fact remains that today's generations are losing the art of gracious living.

The homes of Westmount above The Boulevard are among the last bastions of gracious life. No "luxury" apartment buildings, which operate more as dormitories than as homes, are seen here. Colonades, elaborately sculptured entrances, architecture reminiscent of Southern Colonial, French Chateau and English country manors, as well as numerous examples of purely town house architecture, offer us daily reminders of the skills of man now rarely used in the building of comfortable homes.

Besides the homes along The Boulevard, of course, are others seen less often by the general public. There is another face to Westmount too—that of its blighted areas, rarely identified with the city's name.

Would it be possible to see a weekly, front-page photograph showing the "Face of Westmount" as seen by its residents and, more particularly, its visitors?

Summer is usually a slow time for news and would seem just right for a feature of this type. I feel it would be welcomed by both old and potential subscribers to your weekly.

The high cost of money when you want to buy a car By Pierre Berton

One thing is certain — interest rates seem to vary widely from car lot to car lot, from car to car and from person to person. About the only real rule that seems to apply is that new cars are cheaper to finance than used cars. Generally speaking, my informal survey of leading new car lots showed that the rates were generally lower than they were for furniture and appliances, which you'll remember ran between 17 and 32 per cent. In the new car field the interest rates seem to run between 13 and 22 per cent.

In several cases my Operative 67 was told that the rates were as good as she could get at the bank. When the payments were checked by an actuary, this didn't turn out to be true, though in one or two cases the rate nudged the bank rate. You can get secured loans at a bank for between 5½ and 6 per cent and you can borrow money to buy a car at a little more than 11 per cent. The lowest car loan we found was at 12.3 per cent (a GMAC plan at West Hill Motors). This was an insured loan which may explain the difference.

* * *

On used cars, interest costs vary more widely. The worst example I've yet come across was that of a man in Aylmer, Ontario, who bought a six-year-old Pontiac from Nash & Bell Motors on an 18-month installment plan, financed through Associates Discount. His money cost him a little over 36 per cent per annum. This was in 1958 before the banks got actively into the business of car loans. However, in a more recent case, last summer, a Toronto man paid upwards of 32 per cent in interest charges on a five year old Mercury Sedan from Arby Motors Ltd. financed through Danforth Discount. Such charges are often made on the basis of a man's credit rating; in the latter case the purchaser had borrowed the down payment from a finance company and so he had no real equity in his automobile. In both instances, it's significant that the purchasers couldn't keep up their payments and the cars were repossessed.

The Salesman Gets A Cut

An even odder case, which I'd scarcely believe if I hadn't seen the contracts and payment books, involves a man who bought a two-year-old station wagon from Del Bodkin Motors in New Toronto. He made a substantial down payment and the contract shows his interest rate was only 14.4 per cent per annum. However, the Delta Acceptance payment book showed that monthly payments were four dollars a month higher than the contract showed. This brought his true rate of interest to 18.8 per cent per annum. He couldn't handle these payments and so traded down to a cheaper car. On this his rate of interest was 29.1 per cent.

* * *

In the automobile field the scales seem to be tipped against the man who wants to pay cash, just as they are tipped against the man who wants to pay off his loan at an earlier date than set.

Recently a customer who had bought a new car at a true interest rate of 16.8 per cent through General Motors Acceptance Corporation, decided to pay it all off in the fifth month. The extra finance charges brought the cost of his loan to 25.3 per cent per annum. That's because there are certain fixed charges on these loans that can't be returned.

It's well known in the auto industry that some of the profit on cars comes as a result of cutbacks from acceptance companies. Part of this cutback is passed along to the car salesman on the floor which means that every man has a vested interest in talking his customers out of paying cash.

I have a copy of a standard salesman's agreement put out by Hogan Pontiac, which uses General Motors Acceptance Corporation. This agreement shows that every salesman gets a bonus for every car he finances through GMAC. On new cars this bonus starts at $10 per contract. If he sells more than 15 contracts he gets $15 for every car he finances — and that payment is retroactive. No wonder salesmen find it attractive to boost the easy payment plan. (Some used car dealers, who charge about 30 per cent interest make their profits almost entirely from financing. They're really in the loan business.)

No. 401's big 'do' Glories, tragedies remembered

OFFICIAL PRESENTATION: RCAF Squadron Standards for those units who have been in existence for more than 25 years were given during a special ceremony last Sunday at RCAF Station St. Hubert, to 401 City of Westmount and 438 City of Montreal Auxiliary Squadrons. The Standards were officially presented to the units by Hon. Paul Comtois, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec. Group Captain E. S. Light, Director of RCAF Religious Administration (Protestant), here offers prayers for those officers and airmen who are remembered by the battle honors inscribed on the standards.

Lost comrades honored; old friends reunited

Lost comrades were honored. Old friends were reunited. Memories of glories and tragedies were invoked in both precise, polished, stirring ceremony and informal, fun-bent partying.

That was the nature of the City of Westmount's own RCAF Auxiliary squadron's big "do" Saturday afternoon and evening.

In spasmodic sunshine which lent alternating glamor and som-cers, NCO's and airmen — along with members of No. 438 "City of Montreal" Squadron (Auxiliary) — put on a magnificent performance to invited guests and the general public.

The Mayor of Westmount, His Worship John C. Cushing, represented the people of this community who sent one of 401's main components, the pre-war No. 115 Fighter Squadron, off to fight the Battle of Britain in 1940.

Lieutenant-Governor Paul Comtois represented The Queen and was the central figure of the tradition-encrusted rites on the open tarmac of RCAF Station St. Hubert.

After dark, when day fighter squadrons such as 401 in war were "released for the day" from "readiness," when the young pilots returned to their mess to celebrate the day's victories, decorations, promotions or just plain survival, the famous Westmount unit's present and former personnel gathered at its urban headquarters, Sherbrooke and Metcalfe, to show the new standard, standing proudly near the entrance in a lighted glass case, its first squadron party.

The promotions involve Police and Fire Chief Edward C. Harper; Det.-Lieut. Herbert Ward and Det.-Sgt. Adolphe E. Jones. The move is a result of Westmount's aim to improve all city services.

Chief Harper has been appointed director of public safety in command of the Public Safety Department effective immediately.

DEPUTY CHIEF NAMED FOR DEPARTMENT

Lieut. Ward has been appointed deputy chief of police in the Public Safety Department.

Sgt. Jones has been promoted to the rank of acting detective-lieutenant of the police force in the Public Safety Department. He will be responsible for the criminal investigation section. The by-law concerning the promotions reads:

"The Public Safety Department shall comprise the police force and the fire brigade of the city and shall be under the direction of the Director of Public Safety who shall be both Chief of Police and Chief of Fire and shall answer directly to the General Manager, Norman Dawe. The police force, composed of a police division and a public safety division shall be under the immediate direction of the Deputy Chief of Police."

has been appointed director of public safety; Det.-Lieut. Herbert Ward, appointed deputy chief of police; and Det.-Sgt. Adolphe E. Jones, raised to the rank of acting detective-lieutenant. All will work in the Public Safety Department.

Rotary Club informed...

'Many techniques used' in air defence system

The key to early warning against possible enemy air attack is the variety and alternate means of communication, a senior RCAF officer told members of the Rotary Club of Westmount at their weekly luncheon Wednesday.

"Many techniques are used," Air Commodore J. B. Harvey, chief staff officer, Air Defence Command St. Hubert, said.

He mentioned submarine cable, FM link and microwave, and "tropo and ionospheric scatter" systems. "Reliability and voice quality are excellent," Commodore Harvey said. "Technological advance now enables us, for example, to carry on several thousand simultaneous voice communications over a single channel with backup channels available."

He added: "Such a communication system could not have been in existence as little as 10 years ago."

IMPROVEMENTS CONSTANTLY BEING INTRODUCED

Improvements in the system constantly are being made, including long-range radars to replace the older models in what is known as "the Pine Tree system."

"By this means we can 'see' and control at much greater distances," Commodore Harvey said. "Radar coverage has been and is being extended very substantially to the north and west and we are adding a number of supporting radars to the prime units."

Commodore Harvey looked into the future and came up with these forecasts:

(a) Materials which will withstand almost any change in stress or temperature will be invented;

NEW POWER SOURCES UNDERWAY

(b) New sources of power will come into use, including atomic, nuclear and solar;

(c) Super fuels for rockets, both liquid and solid, will become available;

(d) Communications will be revolutionized, not only in mode of transport but by voice and signal code;

(e) Weather forecasting will undergo great changes, even to the extent of controlling it locally.

(f) Perfecting problems of air control at high altitudes;

(g) Manned and unmanned space vehicles operating both within and without the atmosphere.

"With these developments clearly in sight," Commodore Harvey said, "it does not require much imagination to come to the conclusion that weapon systems will undergo considerable change."

Commodore Harvey also touched on aircrew training and other aspects of keeping up to date in the realm of air defence.

Unity Boys' Club

April report shows increase in membership, activities

The statistical report for the month of April shows that a total of 885 boys and girls have enrolled in the Unity Boys' Club since September 1, 1961. This shows a large increase over last year's April total of 743. If the present trend continues, a record could be established. The last membership high was in 1956 when a total of 1,000 were enrolled.

Participation in the many varied activities also continues to be on the upgrade. Last week's Hobby Show Exhibition was the finale to an exceptionally busy year in the arts, crafts and hobbies. However, this department continues to operate on a limited basis.

VARIETY OF SPORTS SCHEDULED

The club members are now

turning to a variety of sports. With the Unity Boys' Club Track and Field Meet scheduled for May 26 at the Westmount Athletic Grounds, the youngsters are working-out daily in preparation for the meet. Track Coach John Hiltz is on hand every Wednesday afternoon, Friday evening and Saturday morning to train the Unity team. The high jumping team is under the direction of Gilbert Alleyne. A few more boys and girls are needed to round out the team.

Meanwhile, the little Leaguers under Coach Manny Barnoff and Assistant John McDonough are all ready for the opening of the Kiwanis West Little League Baseball season which gets under way next week.

Douglas Wright and Douglas Gavin are at the helm of the soccer team. The groups have been working indoors and are now awaiting the call to play outdoors.

Don Cochrane's Gymnastic Squad is also busily engaged in weekly work-outs and should be ready for competition in the Fall.

SUMMER PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Boys' Work Supervisor Chuck Tyler is preparing the summer program schedule. The program will include a trip to the Granby Zoo, tours, trips in and around Montreal, twice-weekly visits to the Seignior Park and Beach Club at Chateaugay, inter-club softball games, inter-club tracks meets and the Learn-to-Swim Project at the YWCA.

The Unity Boys' Club Talent Parade is conducting weekly rehearsals in preparation for their Annual Variety Revue which takes place this year at the new Westmount High School.

As mentioned before, the Unity Boys' Club Track and Field Meet will take place at the WAG on Saturday, May 26.

The Talent Parade will travel to Lake Placid, N.Y., on May 27 to entertain at the Rotary International Assembly.

Fund drive underway

Montreal Branch of the Navy League of Canada is currently conducting its annual financial campaign, from May 6 to 19, with an objective of $45,000.

The Branch sponsors five Sea Cadet Corps units with 364 boys, aged 14 to 17 and five Navy League Cadet Corps units with 474 boys, aged 12 to 14.

It also sponsors, by "remote control," a Navy League Cadet Corps comprising one officer and 32 Eskimo boys at Poyungnituk on the east coast of Hudson Bay.

For summer training purposes the branch maintains two craft, a 45-foot ketch-rigged, diesel-powered motor-sailer and a 25-foot power cutter. Arrangements are being made to ship a whaler to the corps at Poyungnituk.

A combined Church Parade was held in Westmount on April 29.

Plans are being prepared for the First Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Sailing Regatta to be held this summer at the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club with crews from across Canada participating.

Ballet group sets program

The Roslyn Home and School ballet project will present "The Sleeping Beauty" on next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Westmount High School Auditorium.

The music is by Tchaikowsky and the choreography is being done by Eleanor Moore Ashton. The pupils of Roslyn School will dance the ballet.

Information may be obtained from Mrs. Cross, WE. 2-6772.

Now there's room for midget cars

In an effort to standardize regulations in Westmount with those required in other cities it is now ordered that no vehicle be parked within 15 feet of a fire hydrant.

The resolution which has been rescinded called for "no vehicle be parked within 25 feet of a fire hydrant."

Thomas More Annual lecture to include convocation

The annual spring lecture of the Thomas More Institute for Adult Education, to which the public is especially invited, will take place this year on Sunday, May 13, at 8:15 p.m. in the ballroom of the Ritz Carlton Hotel. Tickets may be secured from the Institute office, VI. 2-5076.

Professor Harry Kalven of the School of Law, Chicago University, will be guest speaker and will discuss Law and the Shape of Man. Professor Kalven has written many articles on the notion of law and society.

DEGREES

Convocation ceremonies will follow the address. BA degrees of the University of Montreal will be conferred on the men and women graduating from the Institute's liberal arts and science program.

Diplomas and certificates will also be conferred on those who have completed other programs at the Institute such as training in the care of the retarded child, teaching kindergarten, high school leaving certificate qualification course, etc.

R. Eric O'Connor, SJ, of Loyola's Mathematics Department, dean of studies and acting president at the Thomas More, will report on the year's progress of the Institute.

Scouters to rally

The annual rally of all English-speaking Catholic Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides, Brownies and their leaders will take place on Saturday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Oratory.

There will be Mass and presentation of the emblems by His Excellency Bishop Lawrence P. Whelan. More than 2,000 children will participate in this event and parents and friends are cordially invited.

The congregation moved to the Westmount boulevard site, "Leslie Hall", in 1913 and was later joined by the Douglas Methodist Church located at Chomey and St. Catherine streets where now stands the Seville theatre.

It was in 1927 the present church building was built adjoining Leslie Hall which is still in use.

Lecturer refutes healing definition

The notion that Christian Science uses will power or "positive thinking" in healing the sick was firmly refuted by Jules Cern of New York City in a lecture prepared for delivery in Beaconsfield High School auditorium on Monday evening, May 7, under the auspices of the Christian Science Society of Pointe Claire.

"Christian Science healing is not a process of willing sick matter into becoming well matter. It is the lifting of thought to the allness and perfection of God and God's perfect expression, man."

Mr. Cern explained that prayer in Christian Science does not request God to improve upon sick matter, but it is a joyful and grateful recognition of the present and eternal perfection of God's spiritual creation.

This week in Westmount

BY VALENTINA RAHR

An avid ice fisherman, who drives a Westmount taxi to make a living, went out last weekend just across the U.S. border and brought home some prize trout.

"I was surprised to find many down there," he commented. "They don't think it's too far to go to Vermont to fish for the day, or for the weekend. I like to go on Friday night and get down to the water early in the morning — around 6 a.m. The air is cool, and the fish are hungry. They like Canadian worms!"

The slate of officers for the 1962-63 season of Westmount High School Home and School Association is as follows: Past president — Dr. L. C. Adams; president — Mr. J. M. Linnell (re-elected for a second term); vice-president — Mrs. Blanche Wisenthal; vice-president — H. G. Burritt; treasurer — Sydney Becker; recording secretary — Mrs. T. I. Levine; corresponding secretary — Mrs. Norton Fellows; member of the executive — Norman Wood.

CONCERT SCHEDULED BY H. & S.

"MAY MELODIES", a concert to be held in the Auditorium of Westmount High School next Thursday evening, will consist of a performance by the band, orchestra, and choirs, and will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. E. R. Marlin, 419 Lansdowne avenue, author of 15 children's books, is having another three books published this summer. Under the name of "Hilda Van Stockum" the publishing firm of Farrar, Straus and Cudahy, New York, commissioned her to write a book for children ages 8 to 12.

"WINGED WATCHMEN" is about a family who lived in a windmill in Holland. It tells of the privations and sacrifices made by women who tramped for miles to get food, to keep their families alive while their men were at World War II.

Based on two diaries that give weather conditions, and a great deal of other detail, it is about a Catholic family and how their religion played a major part all during the war in keeping up their moral courage.

Viking Press is publishing "THE LITTLE OLD BEAR"; and Constable Publishing Company is publishing both "THE LITTLE OLD BEAR" and its sequel "JEREMY BEAR". Mrs. Marlin does all the illustrations contained in her books.

GOOD PAINTINGS IN DEMAND

J. Douglas Lawley's exhibition of paintings at Dominion Galleries recently resulted in the sale of all but one picture. The reason for this is apparently that people who purchase paintings are going through a strong reaction against poor abstractions.

People love horses, and they are fascinated with Sable Island. But people also usually like to recognize what they see in a good painting.

White gulls with black-tipped wings gracefully wheeling again over Westmount Park during early frosty mornings denote another sign of spring. Mothers proudly clutching team trophies and crests at the annual awards night of the Westmount Recreation Department, Victoria Hall, while their offspring cheerfully await their turn at the refreshment stands.

No. 401's big 'do'

Air Officers Commanding Air Defence and Air Transport commands; the chiefs of the RCAF Roman Catholic and Protestant chaplaincy services, and the squadron's famous first commanding officer in 1934, now Air Vice-Marshal Frank S. McGill, were among those on the reviewing stand.

They and other guests, plus hundreds of men, women and children of the invited public, watched enthralled from the first mounting of the precision guard of honor for the Lieutenant-Governor, through three split-time fly-pasts, and the moving commemorative ceremony, to the final imaginatively staged march-off of the two proud squadrons into the distance beneath the wings of a big transport, surmounted by trumpeters, which served as the backdrop.

The alternating strains of the Air Transport Command band and of 401's own plaid-bedecked pipe band provided the mood-setting pace for marching and prayer alike.

In the evening, officers in blue and gold ceremonial epaulets and belts, smartly-clad airmen, and their ladies saw guests of another sort: business-suited men of assorted sizes, nearly all betraying the tell-tale signs of approaching or arrived middle age (your "Spy" proudly among them).

These were former members of the squadron. Some had flown in from as far away as London, England, and Vancouver, B.C.; some from Winnipeg or Toronto or smaller places in between; some from Westmount's doorsteps where they have gone their civilian ways since leaving their Spitfires, their aircraftmen's tools, their briefing boards and their administrative forms behind in Europe. The old Westmount telephone exchange building — since soon after the war 401's home — had never seen a reunion such as this. Quite a "do"!

A bit of a comedown from swift Hurricane and Spitfire fighters with which 401 scored 195½ enemy aircraft destroyed, 35 probables and 140 damaged in air combat over Britain and Europe — to today's more humble Expeditors and Otters on which to train evenings and weekends in light transport and air rescue work.

Yet few complain about 401's present role. It's important, keeps the squadron in being and in trim for any emergency. And nothing detracts from those honors on the new standard:

Battle of Britain 1940.
Defence of Britain 1940-44.
English Channel and North Sea 1942.
Fortress Europe 1941-44.
France and Germany 1944-45.
Normandy 1944.
Dieppe.

Drury gets nod

a day to the Liberal cause with the interests of the riding always uppermost in his mind."

NOMINEE ADDRESSES THE GATHERING

Mr. Drury, addressing the gathering in English and near-flawless French, assailed the present government for its "ineptitude and vacillation."

"Now is the time to get the first team back on the ice," he commented. "We have 42 days left to collect votes, and let's all go to it together."

A brass band, playing such tunes as "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" lent a carnival atmosphere to the meeting.

ENTHUSIASM NOTED AT MEETING

Westmount has been Conservative for 69 of the 95 years since Confederation, but there was much Liberal enthusiasm

Monday night at Victoria Hall.

Mr. Drury will contest the riding with Progressive Conservative nominee Peter F. Kerrigan famed by the PCs when Ross Webster, MP who has held the riding since 1958, decided to withdraw.

Prominent Liberals introduced to the convention included Hon. Richard Hyde, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly; Senator Thomas Vien, Alan Macnaughton, MP; Crown Prosecutor, Michael Franklin, QC; St. Lawrence-St. George candidate John Turner; and Madame Renee Mercier, candidate for the northern riding of Chapeau and the first Liberal woman nominee in the province.

Hon. George C. Marler, government leader in the Legislative Council, and John de B. Payne acted as joint chairmen.

Dear Abby...

Motivated design!

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently had the privilege of taking a nice young lady to dinner, and was very much surprised when she asked if she could butter my bread. I let her do it, since she seemed so sincere in her offer, and I must say the world would be much better off if little courtesies like this were shown more often. I am a Yankee and this lady was from the South. Is this a Southern custom?

YANKEE

DEAR YANKEE: No, it's a universal custom with all young women who know on which side their bread is buttered.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I are making plans to marry. Do you think it is proper for him to ask how much money I have in the bank? I did ask him what his financial situation was, and he claims he has a right to know mine, too. He says we should combine all our money into one account. I worked hard for 22 years (I am 40 and he is 42) and I feel that what I have saved should not be divulged. If it were needed I would be glad to share it, but he is the type who would buy a new car every year, as he spends money faster than he makes it. Am I wrong in my thinking?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Your boy friend appears too eager to "combine" your money with his. And you appear properly unwilling to do so. This is a rather shaky foundation on which to build a marriage that should last forever. Don't marry a man with whom you are reluctant to share everything.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that even the best educated people don't know enough to send the priest (or officiating clergyman) an invitation to the wedding breakfast, reception, dinner or any social function related to the wedding? I have seen this happen so many times it isn't even funny. The very last minute they send word that the clergyman is "expected" to attend these affairs and are insulted if he isn't available. Parishioners do the same thing at Christmas, New Year's and Easter.

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I don't know why this "oversight" is so commonplace, but perhaps after this item appears there will be fewer "sins of omission."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I read your column every day and notice that some women complain because their husbands —

1. Stay out all night,
2. Beat them,
3. Gamble away the paycheck,
4. Drink to excess,
5. Use abusive language,
6. Never take them anywhere,
7. Never show them any affection.

How lucky these women are whose husbands have only one, two or three of these faults. My husband has all of them.

Sincerely,

BURT'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Now, I'd like to hear from Burt.

Renewal

And now the dawn's awaking brings
Bright hours, awaited long,
Our feet are shod, with silver wings,
Our hearts are filled with song.

Life's journey is a thing of joy,
Adventure marks the way,
For there's a rainbow round about,
Since night has turned to day.

Forgotten yesterday's sad gloom,
The pains of life, its sum,
For old things now have passed away,
And "all things new become."

HILLSDALE HOLE-IN-ONE SHARPSHOOTERS: Ed Greenspoon of 5562 Pinedale, Cote St. Luc, who last year gained the distinction of being the first director of the Ste. Therese Hillsdale Golf Club to score a hole-in-one, shows off to three other golfers who scored aces at the club last year, the set of new "woodless" woods he won at a Dow Brewery reception where it was announced the company would continue to give out trophies to hole-in-one scorers this season. Next to Mr. Greenspoon, from left, are Mrs. Sidney Cohen, 672 Belmont avenue, Westmount, who though a member of Elmridge Golf Club scored her ace at Hillsdale; Mrs. Ben Cohen, 591 Davaar avenue, Outremont, and Maurice Saxe, 4574 Michel Bibaud street.

Dow will continue hole-in-one awards

A hole-in-one trophy will once again enable Quebec's "ace" golfers this season to re-live their memorable feast for friends at the drop of a word or an eyelash.

Dow Brewery has announced it will continue awarding, as last year, trophies to hole-in-one golfers. More than 200 of them were handed out throughout the province last year.

Any golfer scoring the perfect stroke is eligible for the trophy provided:

- 1 — The ace was scored during a regulation round on a regulation course before witnesses and
- 2 — The scorecard is signed by the witnesses and the professional of the club where it was achieved.

Roger Meloche, sports promotion manager for Dow, said a request for a trophy, accompanied by a properly completed card, could be sent to any of its distributors in Quebec or the company's headquarters; or left with the club pro who would forward it on for attention.

Sam Tilden MAAA honorary president

Sam Tilden, 31 Surrey Gardens, Westmount, who has been closely associated with the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association for nearly 60 years, will become honorary president at the association's annual meeting on May 14.

He succeeds William Northey whose retirement was announced at the recent life members' dinner.

When he came to Montreal from Toronto at the age of seven, Sam Tilden joined the MAAA and learned to swim. He boxed under the tutelage of Billy Armstrong, famed instructor of the early 1960's, and one year won both the association's lightweight and middleweight junior titles.

Football

tennis

Tilden also played junior football and intermediate tennis for the MAAA and later became one of its leading squash racquets players.

Early in the 1930's, when the association had bank indebtedness of some $140,000, Sam Tilden was one of a group which decided to restore the MAAA athletically and financially.

In the group were such men as Walter Davidson, Graham McGoun, Charlie Virtue, Stan Elliott, Alex Williamson, Les Patterson, Billy Weldon, Jim Paton, and Commodore Paul Earl. Harold Fiske was general manager at that time.

New wing added

The group formed the Wheelmen's Club to promote the interest of the MAAA.

Eventually a new wing was added to the club to accommodate badminton courts, squash and handball courts, a health club and a snack bar.

Tilden was also chairman of the committee which sold the $50,000 bond issue to MAAA members to finance the expansion.

Later he was president of the Wheelmen's Club and, subsequently, a director of the association. From 1936 to 1938 he served as president of the MAAA.

Recently Tilden was a member of the planning committee appointed to study the problems which have arisen due to crowded facilities of the 60-year-old clubhouse.

City posts park signs

The City of Westmount has installed signs on all play and games areas throughout its parks, asking people to keep their dogs off of these particular sections.

To prevent dogs

Citizens are asked to co-operate as the number of dogs running loose and unattended is growing each year.

This will also serve as a reminder that dogs must be on a leash at all times, and owners are subject to a fine for any offences against the law.

Park substation is 'juiced up'

On recommendation of the superintendent of Light and Power and the electrical consultant, Prof. W. H. Schipple, a $30,000, 5,000-kilowatt power transformer and switchgear valued at $14,900 will be purchased for the park substation.

The apparatus is required to double the rated capacity necessitated by the increased demand for power.
