QUEBEC—January 27.

ALDERMAN HEARN has been elected Chairman of the Special Committee of the Corporation upon the Government claim in the matter of the Q. M. O. & O. Railway. Councillor Chouinard has been elected President of that on the bonding of the City debt.

A FRENCH paper is responsible for the story that a night or two ago a huge rat jumped upon a bed in which were reposing two young girls of the city, one three, the other thirteen years of age. The youngest had two bites upon a finger, and her sister was bitten upon the elbow. Their cries awakened their parents. When the chase after the invader occurred, it was finally entangled behind a piece of furniture and killed with heavy blows from a stick. So large was the animal, that it was thought worth while to weigh it, and according to the authority above mentioned the weight was found to be 24 lbs.

It is said to have been definitely decided to fix upon Queen's Wharf as the point from which steamers will leave this side of the river in connection with the Railway project of the Intercolonial and North Shore.

The clergy of St. Patrick's Church are making a great effort to suppress dancing. Last night three of them visited a house in Champlain street and summarily broke up a dancing party. There was a good deal of excitement over the matter among the parishioners.

The City Council to-night resolved to ask Parliament for legislation to enable them to change the manner of paying the city debt.

OTTAWA—January 27.

HON. MR. CARON entertained the members of the Cabinet in the city and several other gentlemen at a dinner party last night.

A DIVIDEND of one hundred cents on the dollar on all filed claims with a surplus of about $20,000, after making due allowance for reserved claims and reasonable costs in the case, is a new item in the record of the Involunt Courts. Four years ago the fine limit limits owned by Mr. John Lorne McDougall and Mr. Duncan Campbell McDougall, were taken possession of by their creditors and the firm forced into insolvency. At that time a Mr. Frazer held a mortgage on properties to the amount of over $40,000, and valued his security at $20,000, and the best experts say that had the estate been turned into a cash realization he could not have got more than $25,000 for the estate. Two banks held large claims against the concern, and so convinced were they of the value of the estate, that they "gone," that they advised the assignee to hand the affair over to Frazer and relieve them of the liability. Mr. Bell, of Carleton Place, who was the party in charge, refused to do so. He had every confidence in the recuperative power of the country and now has the satisfaction of knowing that he has enabled the estate to pay all its claims and have a handsome amount on hand for the benefit of its first owners.

A GOLDEN WEDDING took place at Embury, County of Russell, last Tuesday. The aged couple were Mr. and Mrs. Norman of that village, a large number of the inhabitants of that vicinity taking part in the interesting ceremony. The church was crowded, Mass being celebrated by the Rev. Father Guillaume, who also preached an appropriate sermon for the occasion.

THE DEPUTY MINISTER of the Interior, of the Department of the Interior and Hudson Bay Railway and Steamship Company was held last evening at their office on York street, when the report of the Engineer was laid before them and the stock-book opened for subscriptions. The affairs were, to a great extent, of a private nature, but the report of the Engineer must have been eminently satisfactory to the projectors of the scheme, as the whole stock was taken up in the course of a very few minutes.

For egypt reasons the gentlemen principally interested in the project have no desire to make the contents of the report known, but there is no doubt that it would reveal facts which makes the success of the idea more certain than its most sanguine friends hoped.

FOR a couple of months past a Queen street young man has been wooing a Queen street maiden. The mother of the latter raised objections to the courtship from the first, and the courtship was done clandestinely. On Tuesday night the object of the young man's affections smuggled out her clothing to the house of a friend, and on Wednesday, under the pretence of spending the evening at a neighbour's house, she repaired to the friend's residence, where the ever-faithful Romeo was awaiting his Juliet. A cab was engaged, and the pair were driven to a couple's residence, accompanied by a couple of friends, and the nuptial knot was quietly tied by the clergymen. The party had just arrived at the residence of the groom, after the ceremony was performed, when the bride's mother put in an appearance, having become suspicious on account of the daughter's absence from home. Mater familias, Chagrin may be imagined when she found she had arrived too late to prevent the wedding, and now the young man is happy in the possession of the heroine of this runaway marriage.

ADVICES dated the 19th of January, inst., received by J. R. Booth to-day, announce that the greatest scarcity of snow was experienced in the Madawaska district, where, up to the date mentioned, only six inches of snow had fallen. MR. DUFFY, Engineer of the Canada Atlantic Railway, is at present engaged with his staff in laying out what is to be known as the Chaudiere Branch of the above railway. This is especially designed as a convenience for the shipment of lumber from that part of the city and branches will be run into the various lumber yards, as the terminus is to be located near the Chaudiere Falls. The construction will involve a considerable amount of engineering skill in effecting the necessary river crossings in that section. The route through Rochester will necessitate a rock cutting of not less than fifteen feet in depth.

THE contract for the Greece's Point locks has not yet been let.

THE specifications for the enlargement of the railway wharf at Leclaire, at which the boats of the Ottawa River Navigation Company lay up, state that about 30 feet or more in length of the present pier, including the sloping ice-breaker, is to be removed for a depth of at least two feet below the extreme low-water line, and rebuilt, and cribs 30 feet square, formed of timber and filled with ballast, are to be sunk 20 feet apart, outward to the new 30 feet square heading pier, outside of which is to be a new sloping ice-breaker, 70 feet by 40 feet at the bottom, and 30 feet square at top, less the side batters.

At a meeting of the City Council this evening a resolution was passed deprecating the action of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in making changes in the connection with the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway, which road was recently purchased by them. The city contributed a bonus of $200,000 to the construction of the line, and the Council feel that the new arrangements will materially affect the prosperity of the Capital. A resolution was passed setting forth the grievances, and the Mayor was authorized to call the attention of the Government and the Railway Company to the facts recited, with a view to protecting the interests of the public.

THE Liberal Association held their meeting this evening for organization.

YESTERDAY and to-day several hundred ladies and gentlemen called at Rideau Hall.

It is said that Mr. Nicholson's tender for the Greece's Point works is the lowest.

TORONTO—January 27.

IT APPEARS that for the last ten years an idiot cripple has been kept in a house on Erin street. His name is Francis Parker, and often at night his screeching has startled the neighbourhood. When the party appeared at the door this morning, a girl denied that there was anyone by herself in the house. But seeing that the party was determined to enter she called her mother, who repeated the girl's story. The Detectives produced their warrant and demanded to see the cellar. This was searched and nothing found. Then they noticed a stairway, but the mother tried to bar the way saying her son was sick. The detectives would not be denied, so she deceived upstairs, and entering a room, threw it over the emaciated form of the crippled idiot, who was lying on the floor with a few rags beneath him. The poor fellow recognized strange faces and tried to speak, but his chatter was unintelligible, and his arms were so weak that as he reached them out they fell back on the counterpane. He has been treated ten years in this way, and is two years since he saw a doctor. The authorities will investigate the matter.

the Commissioner appointed by the Dominion Government. He, however, reserved the case, in order that the Crown might be communicated with, and an opportunity thus given for the withdrawal of the Commission.

THERE were no features in the Stock market this morning outside of dullness and steady prices. Montreal Bank was 1 per cent. lower, and Ontario 1 lower in bids, without transactions. Toronto was held at an advance of 1/2 on yesterday afternoon's quotation, without apparent buyers. Merchants still offered at 127 1/2 without apparent buyers. Commerce was slightly easier, with sales of 120 shares at 139 1/2, and closing at that price bid—a decline of 1/2. Imperial advanced 1/2 in bid, with sellers at 1/2 lower than yesterday. Federal sold at 156 1/2 for 25 shares in two lots, and closed at 156 1/2 bid. Standard was 1/2 better in bid, while holders offered at a decline of 1/2, which, however, resulted in no transactions.

GREAT BRITAIN.

COMMENTS ON THE GUITEAU TRIAL.

LONDON, January 26.—The Standard this morning says:—"The announcement of the Guiteau verdict will be received with a sense of relief by the public, which has been wearied by the monstrous protraction of the proceedings and disgusted and scandalized by the outrageous incidents which marked them at every turn. American jurists and politicians may be taught from this case the necessity of re-organizing the forms of procedure in criminal matters."

The Times says:—"The administration of justice in America has been brought into grave disrepute. The trial has been a kind of play enacted for general amusement. That Guiteau deserves hanging, none can doubt. That the nation has a right to hang him which has turned the sufferings of his victim into food for a sensation, his crime into a jest, and the trial into a prolonged farce, is, perhaps, less entirely self-evident."

The Daily Telegraph says:—"Guiteau's horrid jests, ribaldry, and irreverence toward the majesty of justice were but clutched at forlorn hope. No suspicion that Guiteau was insane disturbed the minds of the judge and jury, and he is not entitled to the benefit of any such doubt. The conduct of the trial casts deep reproach upon judicial procedure in America. The story of Guiteau's horrible wickedness will live forever. His memory will be branded like that of Cain."

The Morning Post says:—"Guiteau's guilt was so undeniable that his long trial has been followed here with positive pain. We hope Mr. Scoville will not so far forget what is due to justice and his profession as to repeat the disgraceful lecturing exploit which he once performed in behalf of Guiteau."

The Daily News says:—"Day after day the world has looked on with disgust and amazement at a spectacle for which it will be impossible to find a parallel in the history of criminal cases. There could be no more beneficial or enduring monument to the memory of Garfield than the adoption of a reform which would do much to stop the growth of the class of which Guiteau is a conspicuous example."

In conclusion he said:—"In the European crises which threaten us we may expect that the monarchy will again prove itself to be the bulwark of our rights and freedom."

Their position is absolutely unsalable. It threatens Comitza, which commands the communication between Mostar and Sarajevo, and dominates the principal mountain pass. The attempts to gag the press have redoubled the fear that a panic may arise at Vienna. A high Austrian official stated on Monday that the situation could not well be worse."

The Vienna Tagblatt reports that 600 insurgents have appeared north of Stolz, in Bosnia.

After establishing a Local Government the expedition will proceed to Ayacucho and probably Arequipa. A BOSTON SCANDAL.

BOSTON, January 26.—On March 6, 1879, an Improved Ship Berth Company was organized in this city, several officers of the Company making affidavit that they had a capital of $100,000 was paid in, and that a vote of the Directors it was decided that a part of that capital was to be devoted to the purchase of certain patent rights. Among the officers of the Company were Edward P. Cassell, Robert M. Vose, F. W. Pelton and Henry McLeellan, all well-known in moneyed circles. On January 5, 1880, the Company re-organized, under the title of the Huestin Ship Berth Company, Cassell and McLeellan being in the second Company. During the boom in stocks the shares of this Company reached high figures, and were extensively sought for investment, the value of the shares sold here being nearly $200,000. An investigation of the books of the concern has been proceeding for some weeks, and yesterday resulted in the swearing out of warrants against Messrs. Vose, Pelton, Cassell and McLeellan, for perjury, it being alleged that they falsely made affidavit that the capital stock had been paid in. Pelton, McLeellan and Cassell were arrested yesterday afternoon, but all three obtained bail in the sum of $3,000, and were released. Vose is out of town. There are two counts each against Cassell and McLeellan, they having been members of both Companies.

THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.
WASHINGTON, January 27.—In the additional correspondence relative to the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty transmitted to Congress by the President to-day, is a letter from Minister Lowell, dated December 27th, stating that he read Blaine's despatches to Lord Granville and left copies with him. Lord did not think it prudent or proper to enter into a discussion with Granville upon the matters therein set forth, but as some newspapers had thought it not out of place to remind him that the policy of the United States had already been clearly indicated in his Message to Congress by Hayes, and more strongly reiterated in some public manner by Garfield. Granville was, as usual, exceedingly courteous and friendly, but made no remark except that the publication of the despatch before an opportunity was given him of replying to it, "seemed to him, to say the least, unusual."

IMPRISONED IRISH-AMERICANS.

The antics of our own Bunster reconcile us to any conceivable eccentricity on the part of a legislator. But Bunster will have to look to his laurels, for the United States House of Representatives has a member who is nearly as silly and quite as vigorous in the demonstration of his silliness. A report from the Committee of Foreign Affairs, embodying a resolution requesting the British Government to furnish the names of all American citizens imprisoned in Ireland since the suspension of the Habeas Corpus Act—a very proper demand to make—gave the crank in question a chance of showing how devoid he was of common sense. This very reasonable suggestion from the Committee brought out all his unreasonableness, just as Nature plays at cross purposes by generating the most beautiful winged insects from slime, and the most hideous objects from surroundings the least likely to produce such. The proposition was one involving a demand which any nation has a right to make upon any other, and one with which the Government of any civilized nation would readily comply. The British Government has no interest in concealing the names of aliens who are in confinement, when the nation to which they owe allegiance interests itself in their behalf. On the contrary, it would often relieve the Government if the claim were pushed further, and the person instead of the name were demanded. But the presentation of the report gave the Congressional Bunster an opportunity of spreading himself on the wrongs of Irishmen everywhere except in America, the barbarity of British rule, the obligation of the United States to shelter all oppressed nationalities, and to find work for her at present idle militia in destroying London and upsetting British institutions generally. It was, he contended, the first duty of the Republic to demand the release of all prisoners of American origin or citizenship, and to make the demand peremptorily by a display of force, for which course he found a precedent in the mode in which Great Britain dealt with King Theodore of Abyssinia, Bunster—we mean Robinson—evidently not being able to see that the mode of procedure between two great nations, by race and diplomatically related, must be somewhat different from that which dictates dealings between the most civilized people and a race whose initial steps from barbarism to civilization must be through chastisement of the wrong they do. Spurred on by the derisive laughter which his remarks naturally provoked, Bunster (Robinson) declared that nothing would content the American mind except the liberation of all Irish captives—what ever the ground of their detention—a general goal delivery, which he thought might be easily effected by the American artillery laying London in ashes. General Grant was strolling about with nothing to do, and Admiral Porter was gun-slinging himself into downright feebleness; why, he asked, should not their consummate genius be utilized in the behalf of the distressed, especially the suffering Irish, and anybody else whom British tyranny had shut up within prison walls? It is satisfactory to know that talk of this sort is as offensive to our neighbours generally as it is amusing to us.

THE PROVINCIAL TREASURERSHIP.

After due consideration, it appears, Hon. Mr. Church has declined to accept the Provincial Treasurership, rendered vacant by the resignation of Hon. Joseph Robertson. Mr. Church's reasons for declining will probably be made known ere long, but it is quite possible that Messrs. Robertson and Church may have like grounds for not wishing to have any further connection with the Chapeau Ministry. The same causes which led the ex-Treasurer to leave the Cabinet have, very probably, prevented Mr. Church from entering it, as the latter, with characteristic judiciousness, no doubt consulted with Mr. Robertson before deciding to decline the proffered portfolio. Meanwhile the public can only conjecture as to whether it was the lottery scheme, the Credit Foncier imbroglio or the management of our Provincial Railway, that caused the present unpleasantness in the local Conservative ranks. Mr. Wurtelle, the member for Yamaska, has, it seems, no scruples about entering the Ministry, and gladly accepts the Treasurership. Mr. Wurtelle is a respectable man, and may make a useful Minister, though we question whether even he will be able to rescue the Province from its present financial difficulties. It has been usual to have at least two English representatives in the Provincial Ministry, however, and by no stretch of courtesy or imagination can Mr.

Wurtelle be regarded as an Englishman or as a representative of Englishmen. His sympathies and associations are French. He represents a French constituency. We refer to these matters, not as objections to Mr. Wurtelle's promotion, but for the benefit of such persons as have been contending that the rights and privileges of the English minority in this Province were safer under Conservative than Liberal rule. The fact that Mr. Chapeau was unable to select a Treasurer from amongst his English-speaking followers, is certainly not complimentary to the latter. The minority of electors, who pay about half the taxes of the Province, must therefore be content with a single representative in the Ministry—Mr. Lynch.

THE DUTY ON LARD.

The duty imposed upon lard imported into Canada is one which falls chiefly upon the working classes, particularly in the large cities and towns, and as the necessities of revenue no longer demand its continuance it is to be hoped that the Finance Minister, in his next budget speech, will announce the removal of the duty on that article. The duty on American refined lard is now two cents per pound, and there is also a duty of twenty cents upon each pig. This tax does not help Canadian producers, for the latter find a ready market for all the lard they may have to sell. There is not enough lard produced in Canada to supply the home demand, and the imported article is generally of a preferable grade. Though prices ruled high in Chicago last year, and the importation was less than it might otherwise have been, we find that, as nearly as can be ascertained, some six or seven thousand dollars were paid on lard imported into Montreal for local consumption. The price of lard here is governed altogether by the fluctuations of the Chicago market, with freight charges, duty, etc., added. The cost to the consumer is increased by exactly the amount of the duty, as may be ascertained by inquiring of any provision dealer. Very little, if any, Canadian lard is obtainable during the summer months, so that importation begins sometimes as early as March or February. Under the late Government, the duty was one cent per pound, or half the present amount. At times lard may be obtained in Chicago for seven, eight or nine cents per pound, so that the present duty adds about twenty per cent to the cost of the article, delivered in Montreal. Any tariff change tending to reduce the cost of living must be popular, and while reducing the duties from tea and coffee, we trust that the Finance Minister may also consider favourably the request that lard be placed on the free list.

THE NEW YORK CANAL.

The canal question is occupying a larger share of the attention of the New York Legislature than any other subject of consequence before it. There is a proposition to appropriate $15,000,000 for the enlargement of the canal to a capacity sufficient to pass steam barges of 600 tons, and the proposal is said to be more popular than it was ten or twelve years ago, on account of the entirely changed condition of things. At that time they were yielding a revenue, whereas now they are not self-supporting, and have to contend with rival routes which did not then exist. The question has come to be this, in the opinion of some, whether the canal shall be sustained by the State or be abandoned. But, as we noticed the other day, there is a third alternative, the handing them over to the Federal Government on condition that their efficiency is maintained, and that they are made free for American vessels and trade. A telegram received from Albany yesterday informs us that the State Engineer, Mr. Seymour, has reported in favour of free canals. The New York Telegram has the following remarks on this subject—

"We believe the time has arrived when New York, unless prepared to surrender the sceptre of commercial supremacy, must at once adopt a vigorous and liberal policy in connection with her waterways. The first step in this direction is the adoption by the people of the proposed amendment. The second step is the enlarging of the canal to an extent sufficient to equal or exceed the increased facilities offered by competing water routes. The commerce of New York is threatened with great danger by both New Orleans and Montreal, the former by the fact that the Mississippi, the natural highway of the West to the sea, has been deepened at its mouth by Eads' system of jetties, and is becoming more and more a route for grain transportation; the latter by the enlarging of the Welland Canal and the free system on which it is managed. The Erie Canal was widened and deepened in 1835. Its third stage of advancement will arrive as soon as it is made a free canal, and its fourth stage will come when it is made a ship canal."

St. Paul, Minn., promises well to become the North-West entrepot for live stock. The yards are situated midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis. The arrangements for loading and unloading cattle are described as perfect; the ground occupied by the yards, which occupy ten acres of ground, is high and dry, and has been carefully graded and drained. Along the track there are large pens, just a car's length in width and fifty feet deep. It is expected that ere long one hundred acres will be required. There are eight large barns, seven of which have each four pens sixty feet square, for cattle and horses, and the other is for sheep and hogs. There are twenty-eight large pens, with sheds to protect the animals from storms. The business at this transfer station began last May, yet the record to the end of the year gives the following satisfactory results, the numbers in parenthesis showing the car loads: Sheep, 4,071 (44); cattle, 5,614 (296); horses, 6,686 (509); hogs, 1,898 (27); mules, 746 (39). This is exclusive of the Montana stock handled, which occupied 78 cars, containing 7,080 sheep, and 463 cars containing 8,797 head of cattle. It is calculated that during the period named, 1,410 cars with 8,460 horses and 4,250 cows passed through the station without transfer. One St. Paul butcher has been slaughtering at the rate of 300 beefs per month, and forty local butchers are estimated to kill 120 beefs weekly. St. Paul's demand is estimated at 10,946 cattle, or 5,604,000 lbs. of beef, worth at retail over half a million dollars. The value of the cattle unloaded at the transfer yards is estimated at $2,057,000, and the grand total value of live stock bought or handled in St. Paul $3,702,400.

While there are objectionable features in colonization schemes which have nationality or faith as their basis, there is a good deal to be said in their favour. The communities thus established enter on their existence with similar views, habits and interests, and can at once provide the religious and social arrangements to which they have in common been accustomed. Considering the vast area of territory for which we are anxious to find settlers, the evils of settlement upon this plan are not likely to be realized. The latest colonization scheme of this sort announced is under the auspices of the Primitive Methodist Church. The projectors have gone about their work in a business like way. Of the $100,000 capital called for, $40,000 has already been subscribed, and as soon as this is increased to $50,000, a charter will be obtained. The first call is 25 per cent, and it is thought that the proceeds of this with a later call of 25 per cent, will be sufficient to meet all requirements. The stockholders are all either members or adherents of the Primitive Methodist Church. No decision has yet been reached as to the location of the colony, the choice lying between two eligible sites in the neighbourhood of Qu'Appelle Valley, west of Brandon. It is proposed to take up four townships at the start and make additions as may be found necessary or desirable. The terms for the settler will be the same as in other cases, but he, with his neighbours, will from the first enjoy the advantages of a school and a church, and together with these whatever good can come from similarity of belief and personal and family habits.

THE THAMES is a noble river. Its history is rich in interest to the lover of the old as its scenes delight the eyes of the admirer of the new. The argosies of the world speed their way towards it, and upon its banks unload the products they have been charged with. The Thames has never had its history written, and it would need an able pen to do justice to the work. But we are forgetting ourselves. It is another Thames we had in view—the little Thames of the little London up West, things quite dissimilar, except in name, from the river and city we have referred to. The Ontario Thames is an interesting stream in some respects. People actually find holes in its ice in which, if of only medium stature, they can drown themselves; it is navigable to small rafts; it is hardly necessary to tuck up one's trousers to ford it from bank to bank. Eels are unable to wriggle along its bottom without by their convolutions betraying their presence. Some time ago there was an agitation got up to induce the Government to appropriate a few dollars for the deepening of the river, and the following is a pleasant illustration of this local vanity: It was found by some one who had waded over it to be blocked up with oyster cans, sardine boxes, beer bottles, and other serious obstructions to Lilliputian navigation. Yet the Londoners are proud of it, and speak of it with all the reverence with which the ancient Roman regarded the Tiber. THE LIBERALS of Cardwell are alive to the issues involved in the approaching elections for the Dominion and Ontario Parliaments, and have selected their candidates accordingly. Cardwell for a time was regarded as safe for anybody whom the U. E. Club should select, but in 1879 the Liberals carried the constituency, and they are not disposed to rest upon their laurels. For the House of Commons the Cardwell Liberal Convention nominated Mr. J. T. McLaughlin, of Mona Mills, a well-known miller, grain buyer and general merchant, and the present Local representative, Dr. Charles Robinson, has been re-nominated.

MR. TALMAGE undertakes to prove that there is scarcely a modern invention which has not its foreshadowing in Scripture. Referring to the telegraph, he says that Prof. Morse doubtless thought he was doing a wonderful thing when he invented the magnetic telegraph, but Job described it thousands of years before. "Canst thou send the lightnings until they say, 'Here we are?'" It is a wonder the irreverent reverend did not suggest that this was a premonition of the telephone "Hell!"

"THE GREAT PORTY."

Nothing could better testify to the popularity of Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels and the excellence of their performance than the packed house which again greeted them last night, notwithstanding the strong opposition of the games and sports at the Victoria Rink. The gallery could hold no more, while both the parquet and orchestra chairs were nearly all the seats occupied. It would take up more space than we can afford this morning to mention all the special features of the evening's entertainment, suffice it to say that the singing, dancing and burlesques were all of the very finest description and free from all vulgarity. Certainly it would be hard indeed for the most fastidious to carry at anything that was performed. We know that minstrel shows are generally put down as being low and vulgar, but Haverly has managed to give the public a minstrel company which can be seen by any lady without feeling that offensive expressions will be spoken. Haverly has done for America what Christie and Hagne have accomplished for Great Britain, elevating minstrelsy, and clearing it of all low and questionable acts, songs and jokes. The members of the Company now at the Academy are very good exponents in their several specialties, and are well worth seeing. They give their last two performances to-day—a matinee at two o'clock, and in the evening at the usual hour; and we wish all our readers who wish to enjoy two hours innocent and pure enjoyment to attend the Academy, and see for themselves Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels. The Company leave for Ottawa, per special train, Monday morning, and perform there under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency the Governor-General.

THE ICE BRIDGE.—The ice road between Hochelaga and Longueuil has been completed and large quantities of hay passed over yesterday. The Laprarie road was also opened yesterday morning, but was not much used during the day as the great thaw made the crossing somewhat dangerous. The work of laying the ice railway still continues.

THE ALLEGED MURDER.—In connection with the alleged murder of Emma Hamilton, the Police Magistrate, Mr. Dugas, has taken the deposition of a Sister of the Immaculate Conception staying at the goal, to whom it was understood that the principal witness in the case of the woman Hellard had given certain information about the affair. The deposition contains a repetition of the old story. After being taken it was read over to the three prisoners, who said they did not wish to ask any questions of the witness, and they were then again remanded.

ST. ANTOINE WARD.—A deputation of citizens waited on Mr. A. Montrait on Thursday evening to request him to enter the field for the representation of St. Antoine Ward in the City Council. Mr. Montrait said he would consider the matter, and if a requisition calling upon him to do so received a number of signatures of the electors of the Ward, he would accede to their request. His friends have taken the matter in hand, and in a few days expect to present him with a numerously signed petition. Mr. Montrait is a large property holder in the Ward.

RECORDED'S COURT NOTES.—In the Recorder's Court yesterday, Joseph Gauthier and Examen Bertrand, for refusing to pay their carter's, were each fined $5 or one month at hard labour. Annie Marston, for attempting to kill the children of her employer, while under the influence of liquor, and for resisting the police while attempting to arrest her, was fined $10 or three months at hard labour. Madame Bonin was charged with keeping a house of ill-fame on St. Dominique street, and her trial was fixed for Tuesday next. Two inmates of the house were fined $10 or one month each.

THE CONGREGATED THEATRE.—The 500 lbs. of fish seized recently by Mr. John Morris, of the Fish and Game Protection Society, on the markets and elsewhere back in the country, have been distributed by him, by order of the Government, among the various charities of the City. The General Hospital and Notre Dame Hospital each received about 40 lbs. —Lying-in Hospital, House of Refuge, Ladies' Benevolent Society, Hotel Dieu, St. Patrick's Asylum, Deaf and Dumb Female Institute, St. Denis street; Providence Asylum, St. Catherine street; and the Refuge de la Passion de Jesus.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN,

We take pleasure in stating that the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil, is being used by many rising artists now engaged with P. T. Barnum's Greatest Show on Earth, united with the Great London Circus, Sancer's Royal British Menagerie and the International Allied Shows. From its happy effect upon those who have occasion to employ it, we have no hesitation in pronouncing St. Jacobs Oil the best liniment which has ever been brought to our notice. It is wonderfully efficacious in subduing pain.

TO THE MUSICAL PUBLIC.

I have much pleasure in announcing that I have been entrusted with the Agency for the Province of Quebec for the justly celebrated Square and Upright Pianos of which, for tone, touch, finish, original design and durability, are unsurpassed by any instrument manufactured in this Continent. They have won the unstinted praise and admiration of some of the greatest musicians and artists who have visited Canada, and from the highest musical authority in the world, the great Maestro Franz Liszt, to whom one of these instruments was submitted for inspection, at Weimar, Germany, by Messrs. Mason & Risch. I invite the Professors, Lovers of Music and intending purchasers to examine these superb instruments at the ROSENKRANZ PIANO WAREHOUSES, in the Art Gallery Building, and assure themselves of the high position which Messrs. Mason & Risch have attained in this important department of Art Manufacture, and of the fact that Canada now produces its own high-class Piano, and that it is no longer necessary for Canadians to buy or patronize Pianos of American manufacture.

MASON & RISCH-

OF TORONTO,

CHARLES MARTIN,

ART GALLERY BUILDING, corner St. Catherine street and Phillips' square, Sole Agent for the Dominion for the celebrated Rosenkranz Pianos, and for the Province of Quebec for the Mason & Risch Pianos and the Clough & Warren Organs.
