Tshombe may go to Elisabethville

Offers to negotiate

CP from Reuters-AP
ELISABETHVILLE — President Moïse Tshombe of secessionist Katanga today sent a message to United Nations Secretary-General U Thant offering to return to Elisabethville Thursday to confer on arrangements for peaceful entry of UN troops into Kolwezi.

The message followed a statement from Tshombe Tuesday saying he was ready to reunite his secessionist province with the rest of the Congo.

UN military authorities on the scene treated the surrender offer with extreme caution even though the Congolese central government agreed to Tshombe's demand for a full amnesty. It was his lone remaining condition for returning to the Congo fold.

Indian troops advancing on Katanga were reported under mortar fire Tuesday night. The Indians suffered one wounded in a sharp fight earlier in the day. They were reported 72 miles from the Tshombe stronghold, and the vital mines and utilities which the secessionists once threatened to blow up.

Signs multiplied elsewhere that Tshombe's long fight for Katanga independence was at an end.

THANT OPTIMISTIC
Thant, often skeptical in the past about Tshombe's pronouncements, welcomed the new promise of co-operation and said in New York he hoped freedom of movement for UN troops

Men selected

OTTAWA (CP) — The man who will run the 1967 Montreal World's Fair and his assistant have been selected, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Tuesday. He said following a cabinet meeting that he was not yet ready to announce names.

BERLIN — Soviet Premier Khrushchev poured scorn on Communist China's war-and-peace theories today, warned that communism would not win a nuclear war and drew a dire picture of the vast destruction a world conflict would bring.

Without naming China — he used the usual device of condemning its Albanian allies — Khrushchev warned the Peking regime to mend its ways if it wants to stay in the Soviet camp.

Speaking clearly in the context of his argument with Peking over the necessity of war for Communist expansion, he called the fight for peace "the prime task for socialism."

In a major policy speech to the sixth East German Communist party congress in East Berlin, the Soviet premier also:

1. Called for establishment of West Berlin as a free city guaranteed by the United Nations with foreign troops remaining "for a certain time" under the United Nations flag.

2. Claimed he was victorious in the Cuban crisis, prevented the United States from attacking the island and thereby kept communism alive there.

3. Called for conclusion of a German peace treaty which "will not bring gains to one side and losses to the other." But he set no deadline, saying the Berlin wall had made a treaty a less pressing problem.

4. Assured the East Germans that Germany will be reunified as a Communist state and anti-Communist forces in West Germany "will be swept away."

5. Claimed Russian scientists have developed a 100-megaton nuclear bomb — equivalent to 100,000 tons of TNT — but added "this must not be exploded in Europe."

6. Predicted that the Red Flag one day will fly over the whole world.

In a direct appeal for world Communist unity, Khrushchev said the Albanians — and by implication the Chinese — "must abandon their path if they want to go with us."

At another point in his 2½-hour speech, the Soviet leader said:

"In the relation between Communist parties one has to show patience. Discussions are possible but one has to approach our common goal patiently."

But he rejected China's demand for a world meeting of Communist leaders to air Moscow-Peking differences.

"Some people say one should call a meeting of all fraternal parties to settle our differences. It would, if called immediately not lead to settlement of differences, but would heat up the arguments. I think, in the interests of the working class, one should stop polemics in the press, then later meet to discuss matters."

Wu Hsuei-chuan, the Red Chinese delegate, sat expressionless through Khrushchev's speech. In the rising ovation at the end, Wu stood with his arms stiffly at his sides.

Most of Katanga's revenues come from Union Minière, the huge copper and cobalt mining company dominated by Belgian and British interests, who still were worried about the explosives planted by Katangans on its installations in Kolwezi, worth millions of dollars.

Congolese Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko expressed regret to Ambassador Sir Derek Riches over the pillaging of the British Embassy in Leopoldville Tuesday by 1,000 Congolese.

Three embassy staff members were injured by flying glass. The rioters accused Britain of supporting Tshombe in his long secession.

Throne speech prelude to cabinet changes

HIGHLIGHTS

QUEBEC (CP) — Highlights of the Throne Speech read yesterday at the opening of the Quebec legislature:

Government expropriation of 11 private power companies will be a powerful instrument with which to stimulate economic growth.

Act for regional development of rural areas under Federal Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act to be introduced.

Government, "within limits of its power," intends to aid thalidomide victims.

Change in Agricultural Marketing Act forecast.

Major changes to agricultural co-operatives laws planned.

Bill respecting credit unions and other co-operatives due.

Payments under workmen's compensation act to be increased.

Legislation needed for Quebec's participation in 1967 World's Fair to be voted.

Tourist department to be established.

Administration of commercial fisheries to be switched to Industry and Commerce Department from Game and Fisheries.

Inquiry into taxation at provincial, municipal and school board levels will be instituted.

Revision of the electoral map forecast.

Measures which had not been passed last session to be reintroduced.

QUEBEC (CP) — Legislation forecast in the throne speech read at the opening of the Quebec legislature Tuesday apparently will set the stage for cabinet changes planned by Premier Jean Lesage during or after the current session.

The speech, which drew a faint outline of long-term economic policies, also announced a series of changes in the administrative structures of the government, establishing one new ministry and making adjustments in others.

The new department will oversee Quebec's growing, $250,000,000 tourist industry and will take over services now under other departments.

At the same time, the industry and commerce department is to take over the commercial fisheries section of the game and fisheries department. Other services from the game department will go to the new tourist department.

Game department spokesmen say they believe the department will continue to exist with a few services, such as wildlife management. But a cabinet informant said there is a chance that the department will disappear entirely.

The administrative changes will require cabinet changes.

A minister for the tourist department will have to be appointed. In political circles, the man generally seen as the first tourist minister is Lionel Bert, 56, the provincial secretary whose department is responsible for the present tourist bureau.

There is some speculation that Bona Arseneault, 59, the controversial game and fisheries minister, would continue to head the altered game department and perhaps take over the provincial secretariat from Mr. Bertrand.

Mr. Arseneault took over game and fisheries in a cabinet shuffle Dec. 5. At that time Mr. Lesage said the changes were the first stage of a "double reshuffle," with further changes to be made during or after the session.

The throne speech, read by Lieutenant-Governor Paul Comtois, contained a number of references to planned labor legislation. The House, it said, would be "asked to study a bill respecting labor relations prepared in the light of the recommendations of the Superior Labor Council."

This is understood to be a reference to a long-awaited labor code, essentially an amalgamation of several existing labor laws which have been under study by the council for some time. The council is a body composed of economists and representatives of labor and management groups.

The speech referred to the acquisition of private power companies — to take place this session — as a means to stimulate the growth of the economy of Quebec.

Today the address in reply to the speech from the throne is to be moved by Roy Fournier (L-Gatineau) and Louis-Philippe Lacroix (L-Magadalen Islands), both freshmen members.

Opposition Leader Daniel Johnson opens the throne speech debate Thursday.

Discussion follows opening

Redistribution plans disturb ET members

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record staff writer)

QUEBEC — The opening day of a new Legislature traditionally is devoted to ceremonial and social activity. The Legislative Assembly goes through the history-steeped process of electing a new Speaker, the honor as expected going to Richard Hyde, Liberal MLA for Westmount-St. George, who held the post in the 26th Legislature, and the second English-Protestant to hold the post since Confederation. It listens to the reading of the Throne Speech and formally opens the debate on the Address.

Then it adjourns for the reception in the Red Chamber, the Legislative Council room, given by the Speakers of both Council and Assembly.

But certain legislation forecast in the Throne Speech brought much discussion among the legislators as they gathered informally following the adjournment of the House. Special interest for Eastern Townships members resulted from the announcement that the government planned to proceed with its new election act and the bill for redefining the boundaries of the constituencies.

The E.T. MLA's hold a peculiar position in this respect as by the terms of the British North America Act, the boundaries of the 12 ridings in this district cannot be changed except by the consent of the majority of the MLA's representing these constituencies.

In any redistribution measure designed to cut down the number of rural ridings at least two, and probably three, E.T. divisions would disappear. Certain to get the axe are Bromes, which would be consolidated with Missisquoi, and Wolfe which would be joined with Richmond. Frontenac probably would be carved up between Compton, Megantic and Beauce.

Daniel Johnson, Union Nationale leader, stated at a press conference following the opening session yesterday that his party would oppose any move to cut down the number of rural members.

Thus five of the E.T. members would be expected to fight any redistribution on party lines, the party holding Compton, Frontenac, Shefford, Missisquoi and Wolfe.

Some Liberals, including Glen Brown, of Bromes, indicated their opposition to any change some months ago. They declined any comment yesterday as to their probable course of action when the proposed bill comes up for detailed study but they gave no indication that they have changed their previously expressed views.

Hon. Carrier Fortin, making his debut in the Legislative Assembly as Member for Sherbrooke, was the key figure in the delegation of local citizens who attended the opening ceremonies.

But several other Sherbrooke residents also held important roles in the proceedings. Lt.-Col. John Dunn, officer commanding Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, was in the official vice-regal party, acting as an honorary aide-de-camp to the Lieutenant-Governor.

Among other invited guests occupying seats of honor in the Legislative Council room were Pierre and Yves Comtois, of Sherbrooke, both sons of the Lieutenant-Governor.

A further medical bulletin was to be issued later today. Today's first statement said: "Although Mr. Gaitskell slept quite well his condition is a little weaker and there is as yet no response to treatment."

Tuesday night he was given a special treatment which was not expected to produce results for about 24 hours.

The socialist leader entered London's Middlesex Hospital Jan. 4 after he had left another hospital shortly before Christmas following treatment for influenza and pleurisy.

Package deal is proposed

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — Britain today proposed a "package deal" to the European Common Market on tariffs to be imposed on important Commonwealth exports if Britain joins the trade group, informed sources said.

British chief negotiator Edward Heath thus invited the Common Market countries to clear up one of the major problems still outstanding in the 14-month negotiations on Britain's bid for membership in the trade group.

The informants declined to give details immediately but said the package deal covered Britain's proposal for an abolition of the Common Market's external tariff on such big Commonwealth exports as aluminum, newsprint, lead and zinc.

Heath's proposal came at a 30-minute meeting on the third day of a crucial five-day session of negotiations. The current session has been overshadowed by French President de Gaulle's statement Monday expressing serious doubts about Britain's Common Market bid.

Policy bad

WINNIPEG (CP) — President George S. Bain of the Manitoba New Democratic Party said Tuesday Liberal Leader Pearson's proposal that Canada acquire nuclear arms is "a suicidal policy, both for Canada and for the other nations."

December total up 72,000

6.3% of labor force unemployed as winter layoff takes effect

OTTAWA (CP) — An increase of 72,000 in Canadian unemployment from mid-November to a total 414,000 at mid-December was reported today in a joint statement by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the labor department.

The month's increase — entirely among men — was described as "a normal increase for the time of year." The jobless total was virtually the same as the year-earlier unemployment figure of 413,000 in December, 1961.

The unemployment rate climbed to 6.3 per cent of the labor force compared with 5.2 per cent a month earlier. The rate was 6.4 per cent a year earlier, when the labor force was somewhat smaller, and two years ago it was 8.2 per cent.

A seasonal slowdown in outdoor industries brought a decline in employment to 6,160,000 at mid-December, down 110,000 from a month earlier. The job total was 78,000 higher than a year earlier.

The month's drop in employment was greater than the decline in jobless numbers because many seasonal workers withdrew from the labor market.

The job picture in brief, with estimates in thousands:

	Dec. 1962	Nov. 1962	Dec. 1961
Labor force	6,574	6,612	6,495
Employed	6,160	6,270	6,082
Unemployed	414	342	413

The report is based on a survey of 35,000 households across Canada during the week ended Dec. 15.

"Unemployment normally rises between November and December because of seasonal declines in construction, agriculture and certain parts of manufacturing," the report said.

During the month the total of jobless men rose by 80,000 to 414,000, while unemployment among women declined 8,000 to 56,000.

More than three-quarters of the jobless — a total 319,000 — had been unemployed for less than three months. Another 51,000 had been seeking work for from four to six months and 44,000 had been out of work for more than half a year.

Unemployment rose during the month in every region, but the largest gains were in the East with jobless totals jumping by 16,000 in the Atlantic provinces and by 30,000 in Quebec.

Compared with a year earlier, unemployment was higher in the Atlantic provinces and Quebec, lower in Ontario and the Prairies, and unchanged in the Pacific region.

The month's drop of 110,000 in total employment was shared among all regions. Compared with a year ago, employment was significantly higher in Ontario and British Columbia but other regions had only marginal gains in job totals.

The Eastern Townships are shivering today along with most other parts of Canada, in cold Arctic air.

The thermometer, still hovering below the zero mark, plummeted Thursday night in the area to 31 degrees below zero, the coldest night experienced this winter and what seems to be the beginning of a second cold snap in this area this winter.

Cubans in U.S. splintered many ways

Exiles wage the battle of Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The "battle of Miami" rages on among multi-splintered Cuban exiles despite President Kennedy's plea for unity.

About 30,000 Cubans assembled in the Orange Bowl here Dec. 29 heard Kennedy urge exiles "to submerge those differences which may now disturb you, to the united end that Cuba is free."

Because of the differences mentioned by Kennedy, thousands of others did not hear his plea. They stayed away.

The schism separating some of the 200 anti-Castro bodies is profound. Deep-rooted division prevails particularly between former — and present — followers of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista and men who risked their lives to overthrow him only to split later with Premier Fidel Castro.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, formed with U.S. cooperation to mount the April 17, 1961, Cuban invasion, is tacitly recognized by the U.S. government and some others as the ranking exile organization.

HAS BITTER FOES
The council has bitter foes as well as staunch supporters among the 300,000 exiles, more than a third of whom live in Miami.

Rival groups ask such things as why Council President Jose Miro Cardona, as Castro's first premier, permitted the Cuban executions that brought grief to thousands of families.

Friends reply that whatever delusions Dr. Miro Cardona had later that he sent even his son on the expedition to invade Cuba. The son, Pepe, was one of the freed prisoners honored at the Orange Bowl ceremony.

Another, Enrique Llaica Jr., 27-year-old son of a leader of the exile committee that sponsored negotiations for their freedom, said about 100 of the invasion brigade companies were among exiles boycotting the meeting.

Llaica charged that Dr. Miro Cardona, who as council president was on the platform with Kennedy, was "using the brigade for his own benefit."

CLAIMS LET DOWN
Llaica charged on Jan. 8 that the invasion brigade was let down and said "explanations are needed on some points."

He said neither U.S. nor Cuban leaders had been effective in action against Castro. Llaica said he and two companies had resigned from the brigade.

"We must force some action and we shall do so."

While "Batistianos" or Batista

followers and "Arrepentidos" or "repented ones," as former Castro followers are called, are in the front lines of the battle of Miami, the rift widens.

For example, Cardona and Manuel Ray, one-time associates in Castro's cabinet, and later working side by side as council chiefs launching the invasion to overthrow Castro, now are greatly at odds. Ray, former minister of public works, pulled out his People's Revolutionary Movement from the council after the expedition failed. Later he left the party.

Ray has formed a new organization, the Revolutionary Junta. Thus exile groups multiply,

and the battle of Miami

Heath's proposal came at a 30-minute meeting on the third day of a crucial five-day session of negotiations. The current session has been overshadowed by French President de Gaulle's statement Monday expressing serious doubts about Britain's Common Market bid.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The idea of a middle-class, middle-aged couple find $94,000 that had been hidden in the cellar of their house. At his wife's insistence, the husband turned the money over to authorities.

Instead of being a hero, he was immediately regarded with suspicion—did he turn over all the money he found, or did he hold out some? Antagonisms started to build between the man and his wife. Even his job was affected.

Then, when the couple had pretty well convinced everyone they were honest, another $40,000 turns up in a cellar air space.

"What to do? Turn over this money, too—and convince the world that he had kept it but had a change of heart? Keep it—and live carefully so no one would suspect? Go away with the loot?"

So far, so good. But then, apparently, the writer didn't know how to wrap it up. So he took the easy way out. In the final scenes, we saw the couple, happy as larks burning the troublesome $40,000 in their incinerator.

This was the disappointing, obvious wind up of Sunday night's Windfall on NBC. It was also typical of so many original television plays seen these days.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "No body ever had a faster rise and a faster drop in show business," said Tommy Sands, looking back from the wisdom of his 25 years.

The good-looking singer is back in Hollywood after a two-year absence. He came to make a television film called All Ashore, which will be an Alcoa theatre spinoff — that's trade talk for a series segment that is used as a prospect for a future series.

If the pilot sells, Sands and his wife, the former Nancy Sinatra, will be moving back to Hollywood. If not, they'll continue their New York residence.

As he finished making the film, Tommy reflected on his past glories and future hopes: "Did I make any mistakes? Sure, lots of them. Boy, how I would have done things differently!"

MAYBE MEANT TO BE "But who knows? Everything might have turned out exactly the same. I might have gone up and gone right down again. Maybe that's the way it was meant to be."

"I quit school and came out here when I was 18. What I really wanted to do was go to New York and study. But suddenly I fell into things and before I knew it, I was a big name. I hit it big for 5½ years, then the bottom fell out."

Sands' fame was based on the enormous, but fickle teen-age

Treasurer lists expenditures at U.C.W. meeting

VALE PERKINS — The U.C.W. held its first meeting of the New Year at the home of Mrs. Martha Challes with a good attendance.

The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. Olive Perkins, showed that the money earned from various projects during the year amounted to $295.47. Disbursements amounted to $285.31.

Fifty dollars was donated to the committee of stewards, $50 to the Manse and $20 to the Va-following. When that disappeared, he was faced with the problem of building his career on a more stable foundation.

After his marriage to Nancy, he abandoned his Hollywood haunts and went to New York. He figures he earned $300,000 a year at his peak, collected no more than $5,000 in 1962.

"But you know something—we live very well on it," he said.

"I'm happier now than I have ever been. I'm doing the things I want to do, and that's important. I've been studying acting with Lee Strasberg for two years, so I could get to know what I can do. I know now, and I'm ready to work."

If the series sells, he'll have his work cut out for him. He would play a restless young man who travels the world by freighter with Buddy Chris Robinson; it's kind of a wet Route

Supplies, purchased by the U.C.W. for the Sunday School, amounted to $61.73. The group also financed the stay of a boy from Point St. Charles, Montreal, at Cedar Lodge Camp.

The president appointed her committee for the coming year. The U.C.W. intends to adopt a reading plan similar to last year with the group sharing the books chosen, which will be those dealing with current topics.

It was decided to study for discussion the booklet, What's the Difference?, during the first question at the next meeting, which will be at the home of Mrs. Howard Jewett on Feb. 6.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Guthrie, assisted by Mrs. Erno. Next meeting will be held on Feb. 13.

Scotstown without a mayor

SCOTSTOWN — (Staff) — Nomination day will be held here January 18 to fill Seat No. 4 vacated January 11 when municipal council members officially accepted the December 17 resignation of Mayor Frederic Poisson.

The town is without a mayor at present.

Secretary-treasurer of the municipality, Maurice Laliberte told The Record in a telephone interview this morning that a mayor will be chosen from among the councillors at the first general meeting of council February 4.

General elections of council to fill three other seats will be held January 25.

Mayor Poisson's written resignation of December 17 was officially presented to council members for acceptance or refusal at a special council meeting held January 11. His resignation was accepted by a vote of four to two. Mr. Poisson held Seat No. 4.

Mr. Laliberte said that Mayor Poisson had asked him to check with the department of municipal affairs as to the legality of his resignation following an attack by former Mayor Donald MacLean, claiming that Mayor Poisson was not legally Mayor of Scotstown.

Mr. MacLean claimed that Mayor Poisson went back into office December 20 following a public show of confidence without councillors having the chance to render their decision on his resignation letter of December 17.

"The department told me that the letter would have to be formally presented before council," Mr. Laliberte said.

Mayor Poisson could not be reached this morning for comment.

Bridge plans to be sent to Quebec

Engineer's plans for the Montreal-Terrill Streets bridge project will be sent to Quebec for study within the next three months said Director of Services Charles Langlois.

At present, he said plans are still in process of being drawn up by Jacques Lemieux, engineer, who should have them prepared within this time limit.

The Sherbrooke city council Monday night received instructions from the provincial government on what procedure it must follow if it wished the government to consider its request for financial aid.

Stated in the letter from the provincial authorities was that a copy of the plans for the project along with a copy of the tenders received for it were to be forwarded to them.

Otherwise, they would not take into consideration the plea for partial compensation on the project.

If any grant is to be made, said the letter, it will be done on the basis of a study of these facts.

No guarantee was given in the letter of financial help.

Council decided to deliver the necessary material to the government when it is available.

AT PARADE GROUNDS — Work started on the Parade Grounds washrooms January 10, and should be completed by the end of February, according to Paul Talbot, the general contractor in charge of the job. The size of the structure is to be about 1,000 square feet and is being built at a cost of close to $15,000 said Mr. Talbot. The site of the structure is the Parade Grounds on Moore Street and Queen Boulevard. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

Apostle of the Eastern Townships

Life of Bishop Charles James Stewart outlined by Rev. J. Franklin at Rotary

The life of the second Anglican Bishop of Quebec, The Rt. Rev. Charles James Stewart, was outlined Tuesday evening by the rector of St. Peter's Anglican Church in Sherbrooke, the Rev. John Franklin.

Described as the Apostle of the Eastern Townships, Bishop Stewart travelled throughout this area during the early part of the first half of the 19th century and built the first Anglican Church outside of Quebec.

Pair pleads guilty to a holdup charge

Two Montreal brothers, formerly of Sherbrooke, pleaded guilty before Mr. Justice William Mitchell of the Court of the Queen's Bench Tuesday to holding up a Sherbrooke bank for $4,300.

Jacques, 23, and Raymond, 25, Talon, of a St. Denis Street address in Montreal, pleaded guilty to the armed robbery of the Banque Canadienne Nationale branch at 578 King Street East and Seventh Avenue in Sherbrooke's East Ward on October 26.

They will be sentenced next Tuesday.

The brothers have been behind bars since the time of their arrest, the night of the robbery. Another man, Gilles Ethier, 28, also of Montreal, was given a four year term last year by Sessions Judge Evender Veilleux.

A fourth man is still sought by police.

The money taken from the bank was never recovered. The armed bandits held up the bank just before closing time on a busy Friday evening. Police later found masks, hoods, revolvers and a shotgun. A sawed-off .303 rifle was recovered in a field near the Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Police arrested the Talon brothers after a brief chase that ended at St. Francis Boulevard North and Terrill Street.

The gang fired at a bystander, Roger Blais, of 419 Eighth Avenue, as the fled from the bank, who tried to stop them by aiming his car at them.

They were sentenced next Tuesday.

At Lowney plant

Rise in sugar prices will force increases in candies, chocolates

The Walter M. Lowney Co. Ltd. said Tuesday it was inevitable that candy prices would rise following an increase in the price of sugar on international markets.

Lowney's in Sherbrooke has an inventory of sugar stored, said J. C. Hewitt, vice-president and general manager of the firm, but when this is exhausted, prices will have to go up.

Mr. Hewitt told The Record this would happen in 30 to 60 days.

World sugar surpluses have depleted in recent weeks to the point where companies like Lowney's, major Canadian chocolate bar, candy and ice cream makers, must now pay $9.80 for 100 pounds of sugar which cost them about seven dollars in November.

Lowney's obtains its sugar in granulated form from the three Canadian refiners.

Mr. Hewitt said that for chocolate bars, the price increase would take the form of a reduction of the size of the bar, not an increase in its cost.

This would require mechanical adjustments in the Lowney plant and would take time.

"It might be cheaper for us to absorb a loss for the interim," the general manager said. The company hopes sugar prices will "clarify" themselves soon enough to wait the increase out.

"We couldn't put out smaller bars tomorrow morning," Mr. Hewitt said. "We couldn't put them out in the same labels, and we have quite a backlog of labels printed."

For types of candy which are poured in molds, the size of the molds would have to be changed. For candy sold by the pound, the price per pound would go up.

Dr. A. C. Hill is improving

Dr. Arthur C. Hill, who was seriously injured in a two car collision at the intersection of Queen Boulevard and Moore Street, last Thursday, is reported "improving slowly" by Sherbrooke Hospital officials.

Hospital officials said Dr. Hill who suffered three broken ribs and head injuries in the accident and taken to hospital unconscious following the accident, "is improving — although slowly."

Most pupils at the college come from the Eastern Townships, but there are some from Montreal and the St. Maurice region. All infected pupils are hospitalized or convalescing in their home towns.

The doctor who examined students and recommended a two-week quarantine for the younger classes did not know what the origin of the epidemic was, Father Sincerny said.

In a review of events of the past three months, Mr. Joslin noted that there were increases in the number of births, out-patient visits, X-Ray diagnostics and X-Ray therapy service as compared to the same period in 1961. He also noted a rise in the number of prescriptions filled in the hospital pharmacy.

Commenting on the increase in the work of the X-Ray Department, Mr. Joslin stated that this has created an immediate and pressing problem since, due to the substantial increase in the work-load of this department, another diagnostic unit is urgently required and no space can be found for it without temporarily disrupting the work of at least one other department.

Lack of space has also presented difficulties in setting up a pulmonary function laboratory, considered eminently desirable by the medical staff and made possible through the generosity of a donor who wishes to remain anonymous, he noted.

Work on its establishment is proceeding, however, and when completed will make a major contribution to the medical standards of the hospital, said Mr. Joslin.

Museum director to be speaker at women's club

DR. EVAN TURNER

The Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships will hold a luncheon meeting on January 23rd, at 1 p.m. in the New Sherbrooke Hotel.

Dr. Evan Turner, director of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts will be the guest speaker and his topic is "Abstract Art."

Dr. Turner is making a return visit to Sherbrooke to speak to the Club and his talk will be illustrated by color slides.

Since Dr. Turner became the director of the Montreal Museum he has been responsible for new policies and a new philosophy in the Museum. Exhibitions Dr. Turner has staged in Montreal have been reported in detail in leading art publications in London, Paris and New York. Some of the outstanding exhibitions have been Canada Collects Old Masters, works by van Gogh, contemporary Soviet Art, Eskimo graphics and many others. Dr. Turner also introduced the idea of Objects Trouves, a display of junk converted into works of art.

Baron Hope, who was Grand Champion at Sherbrooke Fair and Reserve Grand Champion at Quebec Provincial Exhibition for Georges R. Gladu, was one of six animals nominated for All-Canadian consideration in the Aged Bull class.

Snow removal can mean headaches

Every year, a large slice of the budgets of most Canadian cities must be set aside for snow removal operations, and to add to the headaches of municipal administrators, the outlay cannot be calculated with any close precision.

For instance, in 1961, the City of Sherbrooke paid $216,624 for removing, plowing and dumping snow, for removing ice, for putting up snow fences and for laying cinders, salt and sand along streets. The 1962 budget provided $187,600 for the same operations and the final cost will not be known until the city releases its figures for operations. This year, the city budgeted for $226,000, and $40,000 of this has already been used.

Not included in these figures are allowances for depreciation of rolling stock. Many centres, like Sherbrooke, purchase their own machinery in the hope of providing reliable service, although in most cases it would be cheaper to hire a private contractor to do the work. However, contractors are reluctant to make binding arrangements with municipalities because of the unpredictability of the weather and for fear of losing money because of it.

In a season of light snow fall, a contractor can count on making money. But as it has happened so often in the past, a winter of heavy storms can mean a definite loss for the private firm which may have entered a low contract bid as a gamble.

In one Quebec city, after three winters of heavy falls, contractors decided that snow removal done for a municipality could be a profitable undertaking. One company honed down its tender so fine that it beat the firm which had been awarded the contract for three years before.

That year, of course, it was unusually stormy, and the contractor, bound by a legal contract, found himself, by the winter's end, paying for removal cost out of his own pocket. He went bankrupt.

Until the weatherman has perfected his long-range forecasting, civic authorities have few alternatives. They can over-estimate appropriations and declare a surplus if it is a year of small snow fall. But they may be charged with making a rosy financial result for their own purposes. On the other hand, they can make a low estimate of the operation costs, and face the ire of the electorate if they go over the budget. Either way, it can provide the council with sleepless nights.

Continued long arguments have a bad habit of shortening married life.

Far-reaching changes for province

In the Speech from the Throne that opened this year's session of the Quebec legislature, yesterday there were contained indications of one of the heaviest sessions of any Quebec legislature.

Not only were there intimations of a number of new and important proposals; it was also evident that the nature of them could bring about changes in Quebec that will have far-reaching and perhaps revolutionary effects.

Heading the list of government concerns was, naturally enough, nationalization of power. There is much yet to be done before this becomes a working reality, and it can be expected that the path to completion will be far from smooth. In travelling along it, the Lesage government will be erecting new signposts for future governments to ponder.

New legislation contemplated includes the setting up of a department of tourism, an act for "the regional development of rural areas," amendments to the Quebec Agricultural Marketing Act, to laws on agricultural cooperatives and to legislation covering savings and credit unions, changes to the Workmen's Compensation Act, revision of the electoral act and redistribution of legislature representation.

An advisory body will be asked to study a proposal for the establishment of a labor court, and a royal commission into taxation at the provincial, municipal and school-board levels will be set up.

Two reports by committees studying education can be expected during the session — the first report of the Parent royal commission and the report of a committee looking into technical education.

If ever there was any doubt in Canada that there is a brisk, new spirit in Quebec, the outline of the session to come should dispel it. Yesterday's speech from the throne may well mark the beginning of a new era for this province. Certainly, it opens the door to startling, and perhaps unsettling changes.

One of the best ways to keep a wife is in the things she loves.

Splitting wood taken over by a gun

Not too many people these days know the fine old art of log splitting. Time was when it was part of every boy's education to learn how to swing an axe properly on a block of hardwood, giving it just the right twist at just the right moment to produce cord after cord of cleanly-split firewood.

Now, it appears, that even the few who have the skill are in danger of losing it. A professor with Macdonald College's agricultural engineering department has been experimenting with a new type of gun to split logs.

The design is a simple one using gunpowder and a fuse in a metal container or gun. The gun is reported to be able to split a four-foot long log full of knots in seconds.

The professor is working on several designs so that a single blast will result in several splits.

It won't be long, apparently, before "splitting" logs will be an archaic term. Soon, we'll be "shooting" them.

Other papers say:

Competitive bidding best system

The process of awarding contracts is best done on a free and competitive tender basis.

For this reason, there is no reason to entertain a Calgary builder's proposal for a new tendering system based on awards being decided on the basis of an average of all bids submitted, rather than on the lowest bid.

Mr. R. A. Lott, past president of the Calgary Builders' Exchange, has suggested several reasons why such a system would find favor with contractors.

He claims that the present method of tendering forces prices down to a level where contractors have difficulty in showing a profit. He also suggests that, under the present system, the client may emerge with a project of inferior quality.

Mr. Lott has stated that the system of averages has worked most effectively in certain European countries, and that its purpose is to secure "a fair price for the contractor." It may be that there is "cut-throat competition" within the contracting industry. This, however, is the sole concern of the contractors — not of their clients.

The tender system is a cornerstone of public purchasing, and the custodians of public funds should not be expected to submit to any changes in the system simply to make the lot of contractors an easier one.

There is little logic in the argument that the present system often results in work of inferior quality. Any proper contract should contain protection against construction of inferior workmanship or quality.

Whether a contractor shows a profit is not really the concern of the purchasing body. The customer's objective is to accept a tender which will provide him with work of good quality at a price he deems reasonable.

Contracts are not necessarily awarded to the company tendering the lowest bid. On occasion Calgary City Council has accepted tenders on the basis of other factors besides that of price — although, of course, it is the duty of a public body to keep a strict eye on economy.

Who is to say that the bidder selected on the basis of average tenders will always be the one capable of doing the best job at the best price? The present system, by virtue of its flexibility, has proved capable of working effectively in the past, and there is no reason why it should not continue to do so in the future.

Competition is the very essence of free enterprise.

The Government isn't like-

"We Feel You Should Extend Your 'Conventional Forces' Coverage"

The readers say:

Roads around city are badly needed

Dear Sir:

I was with much interest that I read the short but intelligent letter to the editor from Harry E. Perkins re the position for the new bridge across the St. Francis River, and others, also comment re the World's Fair at Montreal, and the highway from Montreal, in your very valuable newspaper.

As I stated in a letter to the editor previously, and emphasize once again, what is needed are roads encircling the city so that those that wish to reach places outside Sherbrooke, and would otherwise just pass through Sherbrooke to reach their destination without stopping in Sherbrooke, could do so. At present much of the traffic is due to people just passing through in all directions of the compass.

By having the bridge at the southern entry with direction signs, traffic from west of Sherbrooke as well as north, going east to Lake Megantic and other points, could be routed around the city. That would be about the only reason for the bridge at Montreal Street.

Of course this will require a little common sense — not just millions of common dollars.

Most of the trouble lies within the following boundary, as most of the traffic within this boundary eventually leads to the intersection of King and Wellington Streets. Therefore unnecessary traffic should be diverted before reaching this area:

Queen Boulevard North to King Street West, along King Street West, along King Street West to Belvedere Street, along Belvedere Street South to McManamy Boulevard, then continuing by way of the underpass to Aberdeen Avenue, to Wellington Street West, and continuing along the St. Francis River back to the intersection of Prospect Street and Queen Boulevard.

PC policy Friday?

Showdown on the nuclear issue could come in a spring election

By PETER DEMPSON

OTTAWA — (TNS) — The acquisition of nuclear weapons for Canada's armed forces has emerged as the issue for the next general election — likely to be held in the spring.

Liberal Leader Pearson, in a Toronto speech Saturday, set the stage for a showdown on the controversial question by calling on Canada to accept nuclear weapons for its NATO and NORAD forces.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker will probably announce the Government's policy Friday, when he addresses the Conservative Association's annual meeting here, or soon after Parliament reconvenes next Monday. The Cabinet spent several days last week considering the matter.

Reports here are that the Government is now ready to announce that Canadian forces in NATO acquire such weapons, provided they are under NATO and not national control.

A full-dress Commons debate on defense will probably be scheduled for an early date.

With the Government under pressure from NATO and NORAD to set out a clear policy on nuclear weapons, the Prime Minister may ask for an immediate dissolution of Parliament and call an election as soon as Canada's stand on the controversial question is made known.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, outspoken NATO ex-commander, recently hit out at Canada for its failure to acquire nuclear arms. Gen. Norstad insisted Canada is committed to accept atomic weapons for its NATO forces, including the Starfighter CF-104 strike bombers and Honest John missile launchers.

Liberal policy has done an about-turn on nuclear weapons. Mr. Pearson, in a speech to the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation in Toronto Jan. 21, 1961, said Canada should continue to play its role as a middle power in the United Nations and "should determine our own defense policy."

Such a defense policy, however, does not and should not require Canada to become a nuclear power.

Surely, the Liberal leader added, Canada's objective "should not be the extension of the ownership and acquisition of such weapons by other nations, but their abolition by all nations before they destroy all nations. We should be in a better position to do this if we didn't have them ourselves."

Mr. Pearson said it was "nonsense" to suggest that nuclear weapons were necessary for the "effective" or "essential" discharge of Canada's defense obligations on this continent.

In an Ottawa speech, he told a Liberal gathering that the role of the RCAF should be one of "surveillance" and "warning." Mr. Harkness immediately tagged it as a "bird watcher's" role.

The Liberal party's defense policy on nuclear weapons had changed somewhat when spelled out during the last election campaign. It called for more flexibility, in the light of changing conditions.

But, it added, on the basis of present information, a new Liberal Government "will not require Canada to become a nuclear power by the manufacture, acquisition or use of nuclear weapons under Canadian or American control."

During the recent Cuban crisis, Mr. Pearson said this showed "the danger of extending nuclear bases beyond countries which now possess them."

Liberal defense critic Paul Hellyer, MP for Toronto-Trinity, and C. M. (Bud) Drury, MP for Montreal-St. Antoine-Westmount, took opposite sides on the question in a Commons debate in December.

Mr. Hellyer urged flatly that Canada sign an agreement with the U.S. to accept nuclear weapons for Canada's NATO and NORAD forces — the policy now spelled out by Mr. Pearson. Mr. Drury favored such weapons only for NATO.

Annual winter count

Birdwatchers spot unusual species

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Thousands of bird-watchers stretched necks skyward and scanned the horizon with binoculars as they trudged swamps, fields and woods on the annual mid-winter bird count in December.

With some exceptions, a Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press shows, their trouble was rewarded by the excitement of spotting an uncommon species, although the variety of birds reported was somewhat less than the previous count a year earlier.

In Regina, watchers were amazed when they sighted several times one of North America's rarest birds—a Ross goose. They said there are about 4,000 of these geese in North America but they have been reported only twice during continent-wide counts.

In an eventful excursion, Regina bird-watchers also saw a brown creeper for the first time. Altogether 34 species were recorded, second highest count ever made in the area.

In the Saskatoon area where 23 species, four more than 1961, were observed, the excitement centred on sighting of nine blue jays—more than most people think there are in all of Saskatchewan, one watcher commented.

bers of mallards, mourning doves, pileated woodpeckers, tufted titmice, house sparrows, redwings, blackbirds, cardinals, field sparrows were counted.

Poor weather in the Montreal area was partly responsible for a reduced count of 22 species, lowest since 1944, compared with the usual 30 to 40.

Fewer species were also sighted around Quebec City, Moncton, N.B., and Saint John, N.B. More were seen near Edmonton and St. John's, Nfld., the latter reporting 5,485 birds of 31 species compared with 3,842 of 23 species in 1961.

brooke Junior Liberal Association.

Two other announcements in the Throne Speech of special interest to ET members concerned the plan to establish a separate Ministry of Tourism and the application of the federal Agriculture Rehabilitation and Development Act program to Quebec.

The latter may also involve the creation of a new ministry, which would absorb some of the colonization activities now being administered by the Department of Agriculture.

Speculation is that the new post, if created, will be filled by Glen Brown, Liberal Member for Brome.

To date the only county to make any direct effort to apply ARDA policies has been Brome where the basis has been laid for the establishment of a pilot plan.

Mr. Brown, who is at present parliamentary assistant to Agriculture Minister Alcide Courcy, has been active in advancing the Brome project and is considered the best informed member of the Assembly on its operations.

Tourist trade development is one of the keynote of the ARDA plan and the decision of the Government to create a Tourist Ministry is seen as strengthening the project generally.

ARDA itself is basically a guidance program.

It conducts surveys of the land potential in various areas and suggests the best use to which the land could be put — farming, winter sports, summer sports, etc. The actual carrying out of these suggestions is left to the parties concerned who are expected to arrange the financing, etc.

An active tourist development program at the provincial level might make extensive government financial assistance available through the estimates of this department supplementing the money available from local sources.

One or two Opposition members were heard sniping at the failure of the Throne Speech to refer to the tourist project but the Liberal supporters of the plan had a ready answer.

Previous Legislation, they claimed, placed responsibility for carrying out the ET autoroute in the hands of the Quebec Autoroute Authority.

Thus the main role of the government from now on will be making the necessary financing available.

The only legislative action will be the adoption of measures to guarantee any loans the Autoroute Authority may contract from time to time as construction work proceeds.

As these come under the ordinary operations of the government and do not involve principles not already adopted there is no need for reference to them in the Speech from the Throne.

Apparently Opposition Minister Daniel Johnson and his chief lieutenant, Jean Jacques Bertrand, MLA for Missisquoi, have buried the hatchet for the time being at least.

Both men share the same desk in the Assembly.

In the new seating arrangement, Glen Brown of Brome occupies a seat immediately behind the Premier.

MLAs will have to be more careful of their statements in the future.

During the House recess, the Chamber was equipped with a system of recording debates through electronic recordings, with microphones being installed on each desk.

This not only improves the acoustics of the Green Chamber but will permit the establishment of a provincial Hansard within a few weeks when the required personnel is recruited.

Gone will be the excuse: "We were misquoted."

ROCK ISLAND — Stanstead South Church Aid Unit met Jan. 10, in the church hall, with 13 members attending. The president, Mrs. Hazel Smith, opened the devotional period with a reading.

Mrs. A. P. Bliss gave the annual report of the treasurer, showing that, although few in number, the group had raised over $800 in 1962 through semi-weekly suppers, which brought in $357.70, food sales, and other projects. They have met all obligations and start the New Year with a balance of $50.72.

Mrs. Smith thanked everyone who had worked hard to make the past year a success and Mrs. Carl Gustafson extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. Smith for her excellent leadership for the past 10 years.

Mrs. A. P. Bliss presented the nominating committee's report, which re-instated Mrs. Smith as president, Mrs. Harry Goodall, vice-president, Mrs. Bliss as treasurer and Mrs. Eulalie Goodall as secretary, succeeding Mrs. Arthur Jobel.

Regrets were expressed at the absence of two faithful members, Miss Agnes Greenwood and Mr. Howard Walsh, through illness, and a card was signed to be sent to each. A birthday card was also signed and presented to Mrs. Arthur Jobel, who observes her anniversary on Jan. 13.

After adjournment, Miss Pearl Dorman, a deaconess of Stanstead South Church, gave an interesting talk on what is required of a deaconess and of the days a few short years ago when she was on a mission in Trinidad.

The next Aid Unit meeting will be held Jan. 24, with supper at five o'clock.

A large number of local people came in at the supper hour, adding a sizable sum to the treasury.

Freedom is sought by banks

OTTAWA (CP) — The chartered banks indicated Tuesday they could practically put the Crown-owned Industrial Development Bank out of business if they could charge the same interest rates and accept the same security for loans.

And the banks sought freedom to do just that. They told the royal commission on banking and finance that Parliament should wipe out the statutory six-per-cent ceiling on chartered bank interest rates and give the banks the power to take mortgages on industrial and residential property.

The IDB, a subsidiary of the Bank of Canada, was set up in 1944 to help fill a financial gap in Canada by supplying medium-term financing for small business unable to raise money elsewhere "on reasonable terms and conditions." It has no fixed rate on loans but now is charging 6 per cent.

TAKES BANKS' BUSINESS
Earlier in the commission hearings, finance companies said they were losing business to the IDB—that the gap had been filled, and that the IDB, getting its money cheaply from the central bank, should not be competing directly with private enterprise.

Tuesday, J. P. R. Wadsworth, vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, said the IDB recently has made a number of loans that could have been made by the chartered banks had they been able to take similar security and charge the same rate.

Commissioner J. Paul Leman, treasurer and vice-president of the Aluminum Company of Canada, asked whether there would be any field left for the IDB at all if the banks were granted such freedom.

"There might be," said Mr. Wadsworth. The IDB was not affected by tight-money conditions to the same extent as the commercial banks, which in such circumstances might have to limit term loans to businesses.

The IDB could continue in the equity field — financing small businesses by purchasing their stock, said R. D. Mulholland, vice-president and general manager of the Bank of Montreal.

CONVENTION SHOWS

OPENER'S COUNT
In International competition it is proper to use as many artificial conventions as desired. The only provision is that they must be listed in advance of play and made available to your opponents so that they will know the meaning of your conventions.

Bobby Jordan and Arthur Robinson have a very special bid after an opening no-trump. Their no-trump is usually in the 15 to 17 range but occasionally they bid with 18 so they use the immediate four diamond response to ask for point count. The opener rebids

6, Diamonds 2, Clubs K-J-5-2. What do you do?
A—Bid three spades. This hand looks slamish, but there is no hurry about getting there.
TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid three spades and your partner bids four clubs. What do you do now?

four hearts with a minimum (15 or a bad looking 16), four spades with 16 or a sorry 17, four no-trump with 17 or a weak 18; they jump to six no-trump with a good 18.

North holds 19 points opposite his partner's no-trump. He intends to bid at least six, but the Jordan-Robinson bid lets him get to seven when his four diamond response sends South to six no-trump to show a maximum opener. South's 18 plus 19 equals 37 and should be enough for a grand slam.
The grand slam is also a lay down. South has 13 tricks in top cards and does not have to worry about the jack of spades and queen of clubs held against him.
It is also likely that most readers also could reach that nice contract, but the Jordan-Robinson method is certainly an easy one.

United Church Women meet at Cookshire

COOKSHIRE—The United Church Women held the first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Gordon Learned, with the vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Robinson, in the chair.

Plans were made to assist the W.A. with refreshments for the congregational meeting and to hold a silent food sale this month. The work committee will send for material to be made up into sale articles.

Correspondence consisted of letters of thanks and a letter from the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Carr describing their trip to British Columbia.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Butler, and the secretary, Mrs. E. Heatherington, gave their annual reports, which showed the year had been successful, financially, spiritually and socially.

The devotional period was opened with the singing of a hymn, with Mrs. MacRae as pianist. Readings were given by Mrs. Robinson, Miss Aleta Mackay and Mrs. Heatherington. Following adjournment, the hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. C. M. Cooper will entertain the ladies in February.

Church women are entertained at Derby Line

DERBY LINE — The Derby Line Universalist Church Women's Society was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Jane Kerr on Jan. 8, where 18 members assembled for 1:30 p.m. and enjoyed dessert served by the hostess.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent playing bridge and canasta. Prize winners for bridge were Mrs. C. C. Copp and Mrs. Edith Bradley, in canasta, Mrs. Elsie Cowens and the floating prize was won by Mrs. L. H. Laythe.

At the Christmas season the society had voted a sum of money to be given to two motherless girls through the county nurse, Mrs. Helen Batchelor, and a nice letter received from the girls was read at the meeting.

A friendly note was signed and sent to Mrs. Hattie Dodge, who in July will be 97 years of age, and frequently makes gifts of taffy to the group.

The next meeting will be in February at the home of Mrs. C. C. Copp, with Mrs. L. H. Layth assisting hostess.

All officers are re-appointed by Helping Hands

FRELIGHTSBURG — At the annual meeting of the Helping Hands Society, was held Jan. 11, at the home of Mrs. Milton Tait, with 17 members present.

The following officers were all re-elected: President, Mrs. Milton Tait; vice-president, Miss Selena Holland; secretary, Mrs. L. R. Boast; treasurer, Mrs. H. Miller. Miss Joyce Burt and Mrs. Sherman Young are auditors.

A letter from the wardens thanked the society for the donation of an oil heater for the Chapel, which is used for services in the winter months.

A letter is being sent to thank Mrs. Nettie Leavitt for the donation of oil drums and oil.

It was proposed to hold a card party to raise funds in the near future.

The meeting closed with the serving of lunch by the hostess.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL GARTH RYAN

Sandra Ann Ball weds Michael Garth Ryan

The marriage of Sandra Ann Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tonkin Ball, of Lennoxville, to Mr. Michael Garth S. Ryan, son of the late M. L. (Mickey) Ryan, and Ann Swain Ryan took place on December 7, 1962 at 11 o'clock in St. Patrick's Church. Msgr. Rosaire Moisan officiating. Mr. John Codere was the organist. Two large baskets of white chrysanthemums were used to decorate the church and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Alencon lace, on duchess lines, fashioned with a three tier skirt, the hemline being scalloped and the bodice having long fitted sleeves ending in points, and a scalloped neckline. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held in place by a petit pearl diadem. Her jewelry was a necklace of seed pearls set in gold, an heirloom of the family, and cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. George Bishop, as matron of honor, wore a poult de sole gown of French line, borrowing the duchess line from the bride, the interest of the dress, was the soft draping in the back. A miniature pill-box of the same material complemented her gown.

Mr. George Bishop, acted as best man and the ushers were, Messrs. Patrick Ryan, the groom's brother and Michel Leprohon.

The bride's mother was attired in a Balmain adaption, in pure silk damask, eggshell, re-embroidered in gold, in a flowered pattern, the corsage of beige silk chiffon, softly draped, the skirt styling in fitted fluid lines. The Chanel type jacket was complemented with a natural Ranch mink collar. She wore a matching mink hat.

The groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. P. Ryan, wore a mink color double knit suit, with a Canadian squirrel stole and hat, and brown accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Au Carrousel, at the New Sherbrooke Hotel, the bride's table being centred with the wedding cake, which was decorated with pale pink roses and three bells and pink candles. Mums and chrysanthemums completed the decor. Later the couple left on a trip to Quebec City, the bride wearing for travelling a white wool ensemble, with cognac accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Out of town guests were from Drummondville, Boston and Melrose, Mass., New Hampshire, and Waterville. The couple have taken up residence in Sherbrooke.

Today's recipe

TUTTI-FRUTTI FUDGE

2/3 cup evaporated milk (not diluted), 1 2/3 cups sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 cups (16 medium) diced marshmallows, 1 1/2 cups chocolate chips, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup chopped mixed candied fruits.

Combine evaporated milk, sugar, and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Cook and stir 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add remaining ingredients and stir just until marshmallows are melted and mixture is well blended. Pour into greased 8x8-inch pan. When cool, cut in squares. Makes about 24 pieces.

*Or use 1 1/2 cups miniature marshmallows.

Polly's pointers

by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — Here is a tip for stamp collectors. To remove the stamp from paper, soak in cold water for 10 minutes. Then slide off the paper. To dry, place stamp between two paper towels and go over with a warm iron.

PATRICIA ANNE Our thanks to another of our young readers (11 years old) who shares her own pet trick—and a good one—with us.

DEAR POLLY — As I go through magazines before throwing them away, I cut out all articles for children. Some are patterns for puppets, easy-to-make gifts, decorations, etc. I keep these in a box along with scraps of felt, paper and other materials. Whenever the neighborhood children come to visit or when I baby-sit, they enjoy seeing what I have to make that day.

STEPHANIE Another good way to keep little minds busy and little hands out of mischief.

DEAR POLLY — I find that plastic baby bottles in which milk has been used get to smell sour, so I put in one-half teaspoon of baking soda, fill with water and let stand overnight. Next morning they smell sweet and fresh. I also use soda to clean combs and brushes. Just add a couple of teaspoons to a pan of water after five or 10 minutes soaking, dirt floats out of combs and brushes and leaves little or no scrubbing for me.

MRS. D. G. DEAR POLLY — When packing to move, I label each carton in big black letters with the name of the room where it is to be unpacked.

For example, a box with dishes, pots and pans would be marked "KITCHEN" on the outside. When the box arrives at the new house, one quick look will tell the movers where to put it.

MRS. P. M. DEAR POLLY — When making circular felt skirts for growing girls, cut them two or three inches longer than the present skirt length. Finish the skirt and cut off a circle of two or three inches from the bottom and put this away until the skirt needs lengthening. How happy you will be to have those extra inches. Just sew that circle of felt on the bottom of the skirt and cover the seam with a fancy braid, stitching or rickrack and the skirt will be good for another or two.

MOTHER OF THREE GIRLS GIRLS — I think this idea should be good not only for felt skirts but also corduroy, velvet, wool or any other firm skirt fabric. All of us who sew know that circular skirts cannot have deep hems to let out, so this suggestion keeps them from being a one-season proposition when the girls are still growing.

Women's World Day of Prayer is first Friday in Lent

On March 1, Canadian women will gather in large city churches, prairie farm houses and even in Eskimo igloos to pray for peace and brotherhood with women from 145 other countries.

The first Friday in Lent is the Women's World Day of Prayer in which Canadians have participated for 35 years. The theme this year is "More than Conquerors," and the service which will be used by all countries was written by a committee headed by Mrs. David Chung of Korea.

Mrs. Chung came to Canada in 1956 to study women's work in the United Church of Canada and then accompanied her husband to Yale University where she studied Christian education.

She returned to Korea in 1958 and now is general secretary of the Women's Evangelistic Society there.

Copies of the service in English, French and Japanese are distributed to more than 3,500 centres in Canada by the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada and many ethnic groups are given copies of duplicate on their own.

Contributions made at the services are used to aid 96 causes. Those made by Canadian women are used mainly to help refugees and to publish and distribute Christian literature.

Women in the United States held their first day of prayer in 1887. In 1922, Canadian women joined them for the first international day of prayer.

By 1927, the movement had taken hold in Europe, Latin America, Asia and Africa, and since 1930 the participating countries have taken turns writing the service.

The movement is co-ordinated by a committee of the United Church Women of the United States.

CARRY-ON-CLUB

The annual meeting of the Carry-on-Club was held on January 10, in the Board Room of the Sherbrooke Hospital. The president, Mrs. George Brault, called the meeting to order and after the reading of the secretary's and treasurer's reports, several items of business were discussed.

A donation of $200 towards Maplemount Children's Home was approved, also the purchase of several items of equipment for the Children's Ward of the Hospital.

Various Annual reports were read and 1962 proved to be a most successful year.

Mrs. T. J. Quintin, nominating committee chairman, reported on new officers for 1963 as follows: Past president, Mrs. G. Brault; president, Mrs. D. Armitage, 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. Allen; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. E. Fuller; secretary, Mrs. R. Cotterell; treasurer, Mrs. D. Coates and corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. Quintin.

Mrs. D. Armitage, new president, took over the meeting and proceeded to ask for various committee volunteers.

Several items of new business were discussed and the next meeting will be a business and social gathering at the

LENNOXVILLE W. I.

Lennoxville Women's Institute held their regular meeting recently and a sale of surprise packages to start an anniversary fund, as this branch will be celebrating its 50th anniversary on June 14, 1964.

Mrs. Hugh L. Wallace president, presided and extended the season's greetings.

The roll call was answered by naming your favorite magazine and why.

The Sunshine committee reported 10 Christmas cheer boxes packed and delivered.

Mrs. George Povey read a letter of thanks from the local association for 19 gifts for cancer patients and gave an outline of the progress and unofficial opening of Maplemount Home in Cookshire. She also asked for a donation for the hot lunch fund at the local high school. The sum of $10.00 was voted with special children named for benefits.

Mrs. Louis B. Pierce, read an interesting article regarding historic skills still carried on within the province. Breads baked in outdoor ovens and the dying of threads - yarns and materials for wearing and rug making, using weeds, barks and various local findings.

Mrs. Gerald Cascadden, outlined the next Tweedsmuir competition in Citizenship. This is to be a 15 minute play, based on municipal affairs.

Mrs. Rupert Porter, read an article stressing the need for more government support for the training of retarded children.

Mrs. Warren Ross, outlined courses available in the near future and it was decided in favor of sewing, tailoring and mosaic tile. All who are interested, to send their names to Mrs. Ross as soon as possible.

Mrs. Wallace thanked the members for their generous support of the anniversary fund. It was decided to invite the members of East Angus and Halloway to be guests at the February meeting.

Mrs. Louis B. Pierce and Mrs. Raymond Pariseau were named to head the nomination committee.

An invitation was accepted to visit the Lowney plant, with Belvedere Branch, early in February.

Members were reminded and urged to enter the county competition to be held on February 13, something new from something old.

January 17, to be the next cancer dressings day.

Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Gerald Cascadden, Mrs. Cecil Skinner and Mrs. Joseph K. Rafal.

JENNIFER LEIGH, 9 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McHarg, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McHarg and Mrs. Florence McCormick.

Will convert Candlish manse to home

By C. W. McVETTY
(Record Correspondent)

INVERNESS — The former manse of Candlish United Church at Kinnear's Mills and some sixty acres of land, was purchased early last spring by a group of interested people who are anxious to have a home for senior citizens in this area.

The project has now been incorporated and has received official recognition by the Federal and Provincial Governments as a charitable, non-profit organization, and to show the amount of interest there is in the scheme, the board of directors is proud to have within its number, two local young ladies, Miss Sheila Allan, of Lemesurier, and Miss Ann Cruickshank, of Inverness, each of whom have provided generous financial assistance, as well as their full moral support.

Built many years ago, of a quality of lumber almost unobtainable today, and by workmen who took great pride in their work, the manse remains in a good state of repair, and situated as it is, high above the village, close to the winding road leading to Route 1, it commands a magnificent view of the South and West, while to the east and north, a small mountain, heavily clad in sugar maples, forms a splendid protecting background.

The building, when renovated, according to present plans, will serve as the central unit of the whole scheme. The main floor will provide ample space for the kitchen, office, dining and recreation rooms — the second floor to be reserved as quarters for the personnel in charge of the actual operation of the home.

A wing 27 x 60 feet, running at a 30 degree angle to the main building, will be constructed on the north-west side, the floor of which will be level with the ground floor of the present building. This will provide the necessary rooms for the guests, while the basement will be used as storage rooms and a laundry. The heating system to be in the fine basement of the central unit, so, should conditions demand it later on, a similar wing could be erected on the south-east end, and serviced as easily as the first one.

It must be pointed out that leading officials of the Provincial Department of Health and Social Welfare are quite sympathetic to the opening of this home, because there is no such institution for English speaking senior citizens for many miles around. In their opinion there would be always a waiting list, because there are numbers of English speaking guests in such institutions where only French is spoken, and, while these guests receive all possible courtesy and kindness, from those in charge, many of these people would prefer to be with those speaking their own language.

HOME FOR SENIOR CITIZENS — Pictured above is the lovely old building at Kinnear's Mills, formerly the manse of Candlish United Church, which has been purchased by an interested group for conversion to a home for elderly people in the Megantic county area. A campaign is under way to raise funds for extensive renovations to the well constructed building and for the addition of a 27 by 60 foot wing on the north-west side. A similar wing could be erected on the south-east should conditions warrant it.

The directors are very anxious to have building operations commence in the early spring. The sum of $63,000 is urgently

Committees for 1963 named by Sweetsburg Unit

SWEETSBURG — Mrs. H. J. Strange entertained Unit A of Emmanuel United Church at her home on Jan. 9, with 14 ladies present. One new member was enrolled and three visitors were welcomed.

The following committee appointments were made for 1963: Finance, Mrs. Roy Jenne; program, Mrs. H. P. Stowe; literature, Mrs. M. R. Hodge; manse, Mrs. Gordon Peron; friendship and visiting, Mrs. J. Wills and Mrs. Arthur Spoerri; social functions, Mrs. W. Stowe; work, Mrs. M. R. Hodge and Mrs. E. Quigley; stewardship, recruiting, press, Miss Lora Robinson; posters, Mrs. E. Quigley; Christian citizenship, social action, Mrs. J. Wills.

The secretary read a letter of thanks from CARE for a donation of $10. A Christmas card, with good wishes for 1963 was received from Mrs. Donald Beattie, of Trenton, Ont., a former member.

Two members of Unit A, Mrs. Arthur Spoerri and Mrs. James Wills, visited the staff and 22 residents of the Nesbitt Anglican Residence at Christmas, enjoyed afternoon tea with them and presented them with a bouquet of flowers.

A letter of thanks was sent by Mrs. E. Royce for $10 given the Sunday School for gifts put on the tree.

The next general meeting has been arranged to take place on Jan. 23, at two o'clock in the church hall, when a large attendance of U.C.W. members is anticipated. A baby sitting service is in process of being arranged for the afternoon to facilitate attendance of young mothers. The February meeting will be entertained by Mrs. Wm. Stowe at her home.

A social hour and salad tea concluded a pleasant afternoon, with Miss Sarah W. Garth, of Dunham, and Mrs. C. Jones assisting the hostess.

Mrs. Mahannah and Mrs. G. Peron attended the executive meeting of the U.C.W. on Jan. 8, representing Unit A.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Shepard have been their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas, accompanied by Mr. Douglas' mother, Mrs. Marion Douglas, of Toronto, Ont., Mr. David Hawley and Mr. Ray Mondell, of Montague, Mass., and Mr. Michael Tetley, of London, England.

Friends of Mr. Andrew Moffatt will be happy to know that he has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to enable him to return to his home here after spending several weeks in the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetsburg. Other residents who have also recently returned from hospital are, Mrs. Robert Hill and Mrs. Leland Davis.

Mrs. J. N. Turcotte reaches century mark

NICOLET — Upwards of 75 relatives attended the celebration of the 100th birthday anniversary of Mrs. J. N. Turcotte, held Jan. 5, at the Hotel Dieu here, where Mrs. Turcotte is a resident. The party was organized by her great-niece, Sister Marie de Jesus, a teacher at the Sisters of the Assumption, Nicolet.

A Thanksgiving Mass at 11 a.m., celebrated in the chapel by Father R. Ladue of Africa, who is here on an extended visit, was followed by a banquet, at which Father P. Cote, principal of the Normal School at St. Leonard, was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Turcotte, who wore a corsage, presented as a gift, was assisted by her granddaughter, Mrs. Therese Vigneault, in receiving the guests. The room was attractive with Christmas decorations, as was the dining table with its several vases of cut flowers.

A member of each family present was called upon to extend greetings. A purse of money was presented to the guest of honor, with wishes for good health and happiness. She was also the recipient of several bouquets of flowers, cards and congratulatory letters.

Mrs. Turcotte was born at St. Gregoire, Que., and received her education at the Sisters of the Assumption of the Sainte Vierge, where she obtained her teacher's diploma, and taught for some time. Afterwards she married M. Vincent and left to reside in Lowell, Mass. They had one daughter.

After the death of her husband, she returned to Canada. Later she married Andre Painchaud, of St. Felix de Kingsey, and was a devoted mother to his large family.

A few years after the death of Mr. Painchaud she was married again to J. N. Turcotte, merchant of Drummondville. At his death she left to reside for some time with her stepson, Dr. J. Turcotte, at St. Cyrille, and with her granddaughter, Mrs. Therese Vigneault, at Cap de Madeline, before going to Nicolet.

Mrs. Turcotte enjoys good health. Her eyesight has failed somewhat in the last few months, and being a great reader, she finds this a real handicap.

Birthday party enjoyed by tots

STANSTEAD — Master Brian Stuart on Jan. 3, his fourth birthday, was guest of honor at a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stuart.

The group had a good time playing with toys and Brian received several nice gifts.

At four o'clock supper was served at a table attractive with balloons, hats and other favors, and at each place was a basket filled with sweets. The cake was decorated in animal motif and four lighted candles.

Attending the party were, Michael Stuart, Terry Chamberlain, Randy and Scottie Cooper, Greg and Kathy Goodsell, Tammy, Randy and Sherry Rediker.

THETFORD MINES —

The council chamber at the City Hall was the scene of a civic reception on Jan. 3, with the mayor, Mr. Louis Trepanier, the city's secretary-treasurer, Mr. Fernand Poiré, and the city's aldermen, the hosts. Federal and Provincial Members of Parliament, Mining Industry executives, as well as executives in other industries and local business men, religious dignitaries, members of the press and radio were among the guests. The Mayor, in his welcoming remarks, outlined a few outstanding items to be dealt with in the New Year, one of them being the continuation of the building of the Civic Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. MacLeod, Sr., are vacationing in Mexico. Mrs. Donald Hollett, of Burin, Newfoundland, was a recent guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. MacLeod, Jr., and family.

Mr. Gerald Bush, of Montreal, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kenney and daughter, Carolyn, who spent the holidays with her parents.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Jenkins for a weekend were Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Jenkins II and family of Dorval.

Miss Maureen McKenzie, accompanied by Mr. Donald Grenier, of Sherbrooke, spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McKenzie. Mrs. W. G. Nutbrown, of Lennoxville, has returned home after spending two weeks at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dostie and children, Robert and Anne, spent the weekend in Quebec visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Magwood and family, of Montreal, were guests of Mrs. Annie Magwood. Miss Susan Gavin-Duffy, of London, England, en route to her home in Australia, is spending some time with her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Carson and family.

The annual observance of the Week of Prayer will take place on Jan. 16, with a joint service at St. Stephen's Church conducted by Rev. G. Kendrick, Rev. G. Joyce as guest speaker.

Mrs. Olive Burroughs, of Ayer's Cliff, was a guest of her sisters, Mrs. Stanley Cromwell and Mrs. Stanley Beerworth, on Jan. 3.

A keenly contested broom ball game was held on Jan. 6, at the High School rink, when the senior students played a team made up of parents and Home and School members.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turnbull entertained Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beerworth and John, of Lennoxville, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Turnbull, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cromwell and Irene, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beerworth and family on Jan. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beer-worth and Sandra were guests of Miss Annie Saunders in Lennoxville, Jan. 5, and called on Miss Beatrice Everett, who has been confined to her home by illness for several days.

Friends of Miss Jean Boisclair are pleased to hear that she is recovering, following her recent appendectomy.

Mr. Robert McAlpine is spending several days holiday, visiting his parents in Paris, Ont.

The Town snow removal equipment has been having a good workout since the heavy snowfall of a week ago, all of the busier streets have been well cleaned, full-width, by the snow blower and trucks.

Mr. Armand Grenier and Mr. Stanley Beerworth were in Scotland on Sunday and called at the parsonage of the Presbyterian Church, visiting Rev. R. D. Sandford.

LEARNED PLAIN —

Recent visitors at the Redden home were Mr. Edward Roscoe and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Paul Roy and family, all of Sherbrooke, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Redden and family, Canterbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Redden and Mrs. Herbert Redden visited relatives in Sherbrooke.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brazenall were: Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Harper, Linda, Valeria, Jim and Jo.; Mrs. Jackie Harper, Eddy and Dana, Mrs. Eva Coates, Alf and Dick, and Mr. Allan Kelsa, all of Bury; Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Menard and Tina, of East Angus; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McVetty, Cookshire; and Mr. Ga-ton Marchand and Mrs. Gilles Lortie and daughter, of Montreal.

"easy-does-it" MOLASSES GINGER COOKIES

THIS IS AN ICE BOX RECIPE!

Don't worry if they disappear like magic. This is an ice-box recipe. Make a big, big batch of dough, roll it in wax paper and keep it in your refrigerator. Then bake 'em as you need 'em. Yes, Easy-Does-It with these new molasses ginger cookies.

One cup shortening
2/3 cup Crosby's Molasses
1/3 cup brown sugar
2 tsp. soda

Blend shortening, sugar and molasses. (For best results be sure to use Crosby's Pure Barbados Molasses. Barbados is excellent for sugar content.) Add dry ingredients and mix thoroughly. Shape into roll (approximately 1 1/2" diameter) in wax paper. Store in refrigerator until chilled. As required, slice very thin and place on greased cookie sheet. Bake 8 minutes in a 365° oven.

RECEIVE CHEQUES — Robert Wallace and Prosper Sargent, of Stanstead, were presented with cheques of $100 each by Local 1896 of the International Association of Machinists on the occasion of their retirement from the Butterfield Division of the Union Twist Drill Co. Seen above at the banquet held in their honor are, from the left: Clifford Rediker, union vice-president; David Newlands, recording secretary; Mr. Wallace; Salvatore Galazzo, president; Mr. Sargent and Carlton Joyce, secretary-treasurer. Also present was Frank Anderson, conductor. Ernest Viger, sentinel, joined the gathering later.

Stanstead men feted by union

BEEBE — Robert Wallace and Prosper Sargent, both of Stanstead, longtime employees of the Union Twist Drill Co., Butterfield Division, and members of the International Association of Machinists, Local 1896, were honored by the union officers and executive on Jan. 2, when a banquet was held at Distefano's restaurant in Beebe.

Salvatore Galazzo, union president, presented Mr. Wallace and Mr. Sargent with cheques of $100 each from the union, in recognition to their retirement from the company on Dec. 31.

Mr. Galazzo, in his remarks, wished both men happy and healthy retirement years to pursue their pleasures and hobbies for which there was not time when they were five-days-a-week working men.

Both recipients responded with words of appreciation.

Later, all assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Newlands for a social period and group singing.

UNEASY PEOPLES

The Flemings and Walloons of Belgium have occupied the country together for some 1,400 years with occasional periods of hostility.

Weekly activities at

Stanstead College

Staff and students returned to the College on January 10, after spending the holidays with family and friends and are now settling down for the winter work and play program.

Saturday afternoon, Jan. 12, some 40 boys and members of the staff had a few hours of skiing at Jay Peak, and on Sunday afternoon there were some practice runs on the College hill.

Rehearsals are resumed and going well on the Shakespeare play, Julius Caesar, under direction of Charles Bolster, so says this should be ready for presentation to the public about mid-March.

Prior to the holidays a group of some 25 boys joined the school choir and on January 13 sang their first anthem at the chapel service. This was a Praise My Soul Thou King of Heaven, and sounded very nice. The choir is under the direction of Alex Philip, with Mrs. Hugh McClary the organist.

A prize of $5 is being offered for the best cover design for the school annual, The Spectrum. Jim Ball will receive all entries by Jan. 31, after which a winner will be selected.

A senior hockey game will be played at the Border Arena, 4 p.m. on Jan. 19, between the College and Bishop's. Come and cheer on your home team.

Montreal on Jan. 13 to attend the Dave Brubeck concert.

Sunday evening, Rev. Stirling showed an interesting film in Pierce hall, titled, Courtship, relative to customs and so forth in Iran, Italy and Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Faust, Montreal, were here on Sunday to visit their son Tom, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Rodger, Montreal, to visit their son, David.

SPORTS

The bantam hockey team met with Rock Island bantams on Border Arena ice on the weekend; results, College 1, Rock Island, 1. Bradley Kito scored for the College, unassisted, and the winning goal was scored by Pierre Prevost, assisted by Colin Fleet and Watson Rye. Rock Island's goal was scored by Lee Rollins.

The senior basketball team clashed with Sherbrooke High at Sunnyside School Gym. The College lost to Sherbrooke by 65 to 40.

Senior basketball games on tap are Jan. 18, at North Hatley, a St. Francis Valley Association game, and on Feb. 2, on exhibition game with Ashbury, Ont., College, to be played at Lower Canada College, in Montreal.

A senior hockey game will be played at the Border Arena, 4 p.m. on Jan. 19, between the College and Bishop's. Come and cheer on your home team.

HAROLD R. PARKINSON, OF WATERVILLE.

WATERVILLE — The death of Harold Richard Parkinson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Parkinson, occurred suddenly at the Sherbrooke Hospital on Dec. 22, 1962.

Born at Rawdon, on April 29, 1894, the deceased came to Waterville at an early age with his parents. He attended school here followed by a commercial course at Gleason's Business College, Sherbrooke.

Mr. Parkinson was employed for a number of years in the United States and Ontario, coming back to Waterville about ten years ago to be with his brothers on the home farm.

He was predeceased by his parents, and his sister, Annie. Mrs. Reginald Young, of Winnipeg, left to mourn his loss are his brothers, Walter, William and Elton, Mrs. Chas. Peasley, Grace, Mrs. D. W. Ayer, Mary, Mrs. W. Bernard, Ethel, Mrs. H. S. Ball, Bertha, and Mrs. C. N. Gundesen, Inez, of Toronto, as well as several other relatives.

The funeral service was held on Dec. 26, at the Waterville United Church, Rev. K. L. Feltham officiating. The hymn, The Lord Is My Shepherd, was rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Burton.

The bearers were six nephews of the deceased, David, Daniel and Gordon Parkinson, Lloyd Gundesen, Haines and Clayton Bernard.

Interment took place in Greenwood Cemetery, Waterville.

EARL BASIL WIZENER, OF KNOWLTON.

KNOWLTON — The sudden death of Earl Basil Mizener occurred Dec. 27, following a heart attack. Mr. Mizener had been in comparatively good health and though he had a serious heart condition, his death came as a shock.

Born at South Stukely on July 22, 1899, the son of the late Alvin W. Mizener and his wife, Phoebe Duboyce, the deceased spent most of his life in Brome County with the exception of a couple of years, when he moved with his parents, to Clinton, Mass.

In 1916 he came with his parents to Knowlton, where he received his education at the High School. In 1927 he married Elaine Crandall.

Mr. Mizener was a member of the Knowlton United Church, which he attended faithfully, when his health permitted, and was a Past Master of Brome

OBITUARIES

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Andy Bathgate is only one point away from having as many points as games he has played in NHL

Rangers' Andy Bathgate is just about deadlocked in his grudge match with the National Hockey League record book.

The 30-year-old right winger is only one point away from having as many points in regular-season NHL play as games played. He now has 633 points in his 634 league games.

Bathgate broke even for the first time in his career three games ago in Montreal, and though that was the game he set a record for goal-scoring in consecutive games, he confessed he attached more importance to boosting his career scoring record past the number of games played.

"There are only three guys in this league that have scored more points than they have played games," he said then, "and they're Gordie Howe, Jean Beliveau and Boom Boom Geoffron."

"You can see what it means from that."

HAD SLOW START

Bathgate had trouble breaking into the NHL, and had only 45 points in his first 108 games after the 1954-55 season. But in the seven - and - a - half seasons since then, he has made up for it.

Beliveau has averaged more points a game than Howe. The smooth Montreal centre has 677 points in 588 NHL games—more than nine seasons—while Detroit's ageless star has 1,166 points in his 1,089 games in 17 seasons.

Geoffron has less of an edge, having amassed 711 points in 693 games.

Many of the NHL's promising young stars are within reach of the one-point-a-game plateau. The closest behind Bathgate is Chicago's Bill (Red) Hay, whose 202 points in 235 games gives him a deficit of 33 points to make up.

KEON NEEDS 36

Toronto centre Dave Keon has scored 139 points in 175 games, 36 behind, and Chicago star Bobby Hull has 38 points to make up, having 351 points in 389 games.

Montreal's Henri Richard is 46 points behind the point-a-game pace with 445 points in 491 games, while Montreal's Gilles Tremblay and Chicago's Stan Mikita are each 47 points down.

Toronto's hard-shooting Frank Mahovlich has 61 points to make up, having 323 points in his 384 games, while Montreal's Dick Moore is 57 points down with 567 points in 624 games, while Boston's Murray Oliver needs 73 points, with 163 in 236 games.

In tonight's only NHL game, last-place Boston plays the first place Black Hawks. The Hawks will be out to avenge a 5-4 defeat to the Bruins last week. Up to that point, the Hawks had won four and tied two in six meetings with Bruins.

REMEMBER WHEN

Governors of the National Hockey League decided 22 years ago today to impose automatic fines of $25 each on players joining in fights on the ice that they did not originate. The rule was intended to discourage free-for-alls, such as the brawls that broke out in New York, Chicago and Montreal rinks during the 1940-41 season.

LHS Bantams down BCS 5-3

Lennoxville High Bantams chalked up a 5-3 victory over BCS Senecas Tuesday afternoon.

The win by LHS was sparked by two-goal tallies on the part of George Garard and Wayne Berry. In addition, Sandy Kingsley and Danny Desjardins turned in commendable performances.

The Senecas who are one of three Bantam teams entered by BCS, turned in a creditable performance, despite their loss. Vickers tallied two of his squad's points while Monk drove in the third.

Lennoxville set the pace early in the game and had pulled ahead 4-1 by the end of the second period. The Senecas came close in the third, however, by firing in two more goals but the game was clinched for LHS by a goal late in the third stanza.

Lennoxville: Cotton (goal), Desjardins, Carr, Cathcart, Baker, Berry, Kingsley, Garard, Smith, Walter, Wark, Spaulding, Marlin, Bradley, Van Horne.

BCS Senecas: Copland (goal), Abdalla, Gault, Kerlin, Kirby, McCain, Monk, Paterson, Robertson, Vickers, Walker.

Valleyfield Jrs. trounced 28-4

VALLEYFIELD, Que. (CP) — A junior hockey team, able to scrape up only 10 players, was hammered 28 - 4 Tuesday night in the Montreal Metropolitan League.

The spree by Verdun Maple Leafs against Valley-Braves smashed all league scoring records.

A statistician stopped counting shots on goal after Verdun had hurled more than 60 at the Valleyfield netminder.

Albuquerque, N.M.—Joey Limas, 147, Albuquerque, and Mel Barker, 146, Austin, Tex., drew, 10.

Aurel Joliat became a pro for $100

OTTAWA (CP) — In these days when hockey clubs reject offers of $1,000,000 for a player, the sum of $100 seems a trifle to pay for the contract of one of the game's all-time great left wingers.

"But that's all that was needed to sign me," recalls Aurel Joliat, now employed with the CNR office staff at Union Station here.

That was in 1920 before the 145-pound native of Ottawa became a part of hockey's first kid line with centre Howie Moroz and right winger Billy Boucher.

Joliat, wearing the colors of Montreal Canadiens and the baseball cap that became his trademark, played 16 seasons in the National Hockey League. He was the highest scoring left winger the league ever produced—270 goals and 190 assists in regular season play—until Ted Lindsay set a new mark in the late 1950s when the seasons were longer.

But in 1920 Joliat was just a teen-ager with a leg so weak from a football injury that he flunked his tryouts with Regina and Saskatoon of the old Prairie League.

TRADED FOR LALONDE

Saskatoon gave him $100 for train fare and expenses back to Ottawa "and though no contract was signed, that made me their property," says Joliat.

Canadiens acquired him the following season in a widely criticized deal. They dealt off the great Newsy Lalonde to the western club for the youngster who hadn't played an NHL game.

"Leo Dandurand owned the Montreal team then and he told me he wanted young blood for the Canadiens," Joliat explained.

Boucher was already a Canadian and when Moroz joined the club in 1923, one of hockey's most colorful, productive lines was born.

Canadiens won the Stanley Cup that year. Joliat and Moroz were together for two more cup wins—1929-30 and 1930-31—but by that time Boucher had been replaced by Johnny (Black Cat) Gagnon.

In 1938 when Montreal Maroons folded and the players were put at the disposal of Canadiens, Joliat was given his unconditional release. Injuries kept him from finding a place with other NHL teams and he dropped from sight until 1947 when he was named to the Hall of Fame.

'DUMBEST ATHLETES'

Looking back now Joliat says: "Old-time hockey players were the dumbest athletes of them all. They didn't get paid enough for their services and few of us saved our money or went into business."

Lenn. Grads rally to down St. Pat's 51-48

Lennoxville Grads edged St. Pat's Old Boys 51-48 Monday night in the first game of the post-Christmas ETABA schedule. The win by the hosting Grads club put them into a second-place tie with Bury, each team having a total of eight points.

St. Pat's turned in a very good performance in the first half of the tilt and racked up a 27-16 score over the hosting Grads. However, the final half told the story as the Lennoxville squad came back to outscore their visitors 35-21 and take the game.

Doug Sullivan led the winners with 21 points while Art Mandigo dumped in 15 and Jim Findlay 10. For the losers, Mike Bryson was the standout with 28 points while teammate Serge Gregoire chalked up 12.

St. Pat's: M. Bryson 28, S. Gregoire 12, D. Bean 6, R. Findlay 2, J. Wray, J. Landry, R. Butterfield, D. Hamel. Total 48.

Lennoxville: D. Sullivan 21, A. Mandigo 15, J. Findlay 10, R. Jenne 2, B. Gillam 2, D. Crosby 1, V. Horseman, C. Stronach, H. Chapman, G. Peak, D. Little, D. Matherson. Total 51.

San Antonio, Tex.—Humberto Barrera, 122, Robstown, Tex., outpointed Jose Cejuda, 117, Los Angeles, 10.

So the $7,500 purse given to him by Montreal fans in the Forum in 1947 during a playoff game "has to be one of my great thrills in hockey."

That was one of the three times he's seen an NHL game in person since hanging up his skates. He rarely watches a game on television and never travels to nearby Hull, Que., to see Hull-Ottawa Canadiens of the Eastern Professional League.

Joliat says Moroz was "the greatest hockey player who ever lived."

"I've never seen another man who could lift every fan out of his seat in the Montreal Forum the way Moroz could."

"From what I have seen of Rocket Richard, he was like a hawk at the opposing blueline, ready to swoop in on goal. But Moroz carried the puck from end to end, and I've seen him go through teams in three consecutive rushes to score."

MORENZ INJURED
The night Moroz broke his leg in the Montreal Forum against Chicago in January of 1937 "was easily my saddest hockey experience."

Joliat recalls that Moroz "was washed up" when traded by Canadiens in 1934. But when he was brought back a few years later "he was the Moroz of old, playing almost as he had at the peak of his career."

"I went to visit Moroz in hospital after his injury and he told me he would come back to the Forum," said Joliat.

"He did but only because his funeral was held there."

Joliat, who was named to the first all-star team ever picked in the NHL in the early 1930s, ignored modern-day players in choosing his own dream team.

"But I'm not kidding myself that fellows like Gordie Howe of Detroit and the Rocket aren't great."

Moroz is his centre with Bill Cook of Rangers at right wing and Harvey (Busher) Jackson of Toronto at left. Eddie Shore of Boston and King Clancy of Toronto are his defencemen, and in goal "it has to be George Hainsworth of Canadiens."

Montreal close in on Drummondville with win, Gilles Gagne, junior, pots two goals, here tomorrow

Montreal Olympics pulled a surprise by knocking over Drummondville Rockets 4-0 last night at the Maurice Richard Arena before some 800 fans. The win moved the Montreal team within three points of the Drummondville team, who are at present in third spot in the Provincial Hockey League.

The Olympics brought up two juniors from their farm club, the St. Hyacinthe Rangers, and the youngsters turned in good performances and figured in the scoring. The Olympics' next game is in Sherbrooke tomorrow evening when they tangle with the Beavers.

The win ended the Olympics' four-game losing streak during the period they used Andre Martin. Martin was in uniform last night as he had been given the green light by the league. He obtained his release from Greensboro, N.C. and was officially accepted by the QAHA.

The Olympics picked up their goals in the first two periods as both teams played through a scoreless third frame. The line formed of Claude Richard, Jacques Gagne, junior and Jacques Gagne paced the way by registering three of the four goals.

Andre Binette turned in a top job in the nets for the Montreal club especially in the second frame when the Rockets fired a total of 13 shots at him. In the final period the Drummondville still continued to force the pay but Binette was unbeatable in posting his shutout.

G. Gagne opened the scoring in the opening frame just before the half-way mark and before the Rockets could get settled down J. L. Goyette made it 2-0 for the Montreal team. Both goals were scored within a minute of each other.

Gilles Gagne came up with his second tally of the evening in the second frame and then Claude Richard completed the scoring when he potted the Olympics' fourth and final tally. The Rockets were forcing their play but they just couldn't get the disc by Binette.

Eleven penalties were dished out with only one figuring in the scoring. In the first period the Olympics blasted a total of 12 shots at Hamel but in the second the Rockets took over driving 13 at Andre Binette and in the third they rifled 11 at the Montreal net minder but failed to get the rubber into the net.

First Period
—Olympics: G. Gagne, (Richard, J. Goyette) 9-48
—Olympics: J. L. Goyette, (St. Onge) 10-26

Second Period
—Olympics: G. Gagne, (Richard, J. Gagne) 4-20
—Olympics: Richard, (J. Gagne, St. Vincent) 7-40
Penalties: Boudreau, Morin, Larvee, Poxon, Soucy (2).

Third Period
Scoring: None.
Penalties: James, Racette, Martin, Boudreau.

St. Louis dump Hull-Ottawa

St. Louis Braves don't win many hockey games but they take particular delight in beating the first-place Hull-Ottawa Canadiens.

In the only Eastern Professional Hockey League game Tuesday night the Braves dropped Canadiens 4-1 at home before a crowd of 2,900. The Braves were switched to St. Louis from Syracuse Jan. 1. In their last game at Syracuse they thumped Hull-Ottawa 6-2.

Tuesday night's win was only the eighth in 35 games for St. Louis.

Braves goaltender Roger Crozier blocked 40 shots, 20 in the second period, and blanked the Canadiens until Brian Smith scored at 3:15 of the last period.

The Braves, who fired 42 shots at Cesare Manigo of Hull-Ottawa, got two goals from Murray Hall and singles from Bert Fizzell and Red Oumet.

The loss kept the Canadiens from widening their one-point lead over Kingston Frontenacs.

"Ski Total" to be shown in Magog tonight

"Ski Total", film on the training of the French Olympic Ski Team was shown Tuesday evening at the St. Charles Auditorium in Sherbrooke, drawing a large number of enthusiastic skiers from the city and district.

Many of today's skiing techniques were illustrated in the fifty-five minute presentation, which proved to be a hair raiser in many ways. Fantastic falls which had been filmed at the world championships in Chamoin, France, made up part of the film.

Ski Total and another ski film will be shown this evening at the Lantern in Magog, starting at 8:30 p.m.

St. Johns Pirates withdraw from Provincial Baseball League

Five teams remain in league, Als pick up Chuck Poxon, Taillefer and Norm Breault in special draft

St. Johns Pirates withdrew from the Provincial Eastern Townships Baseball League and at the same time, the five other member teams, revealed their intentions of staying in the league.

The decisions were taken at a meeting held last night in Actonville which was presided over by president J. D. Loignon. The reason given by the Pirates' withdrawal was financial difficulty.

The five teams that gave their intentions of remaining in the league are, Sherbrooke Alouettes, Drummondville Royals, Granby Knights, Acton Vale Beavers, and Coaticook Canadians. Each of these five teams turned over their deposit of $300 required by the league.

The Pirates, who finished last in the league standings last year, had previously revealed their intentions of dropping out of the league. Last year they were first in the loop and they had difficulty in attracting enough people to the games.

Since they went under financially during the past year, they have no intentions of repeating the performance this year. With the retreat of the Pirates, their former players are now free agents and are being sought by the other clubs.

Coaticook, who finished ahead of the Pirates last year, were given first choice, while the first place finishers, the Sherbrooke team had last pick. The Canadiens picked up the following players: G. Pinard, P. Bayeur and J. Gross, two fielders and one pitcher.

Granby Knights chose Gael Gervais, T. Morocco, and A. Sirard, two fielders and one pitcher.

Acton Vale Beavers selected G. Desroches and Gislain Gaudreau.

Drummondville Royals got R. Scheel, a pitcher, and M. Menard, a fielder.

Sherbrooke managed to get Chuck Poxon, catcher, Pete Taillefer, third baseman, and Normand Breault, a fielder.

Team representatives this year drew up a 48 game schedule, in comparison with the 50 game program last year. Thus each team will this year play 24 home games and 24 away games. Last year they had one more "home" and one more "away" game.

Also decided at the meeting was that if the league remained composed of five teams then only four would take part in the playoffs.

Club officials are confident of a prosperous year, as teams are already being organized for the coming season which gets under way in a few months.

Cleveland to name coach

CLEVELAND (AP)—A new coach was expected to be named for Cleveland Browns today and most prognosticators figured Blanton Collier, a member of the team's coaching staff, would get the job.

A guessing game as to who will direct the fortunes of the National Football League club has been going on since Paul Brown was fired as coach and general manager last Wednesday. Brown had served in the dual capacities since the Browns were organized in 1946.

Arthur B. Modell, Browns' president, said in removing Brown that the veteran coach would remain with the club as vice-president and continue to draw a salary for the remaining six years of his contract.

Brown claimed that Modell breached the contract by taking away his coaching responsibilities and said the matter is in the hands of his lawyers.

Collier, 56, was a member of the original coaching staff of the Browns but left the club in 1954 to become head coach at the University of Kentucky. He rejoined the Browns as backfield coach after being removed from his college post after the 1961 season.

Heads of US Olympic Committee are accused of violating IOC rules by siding with NCAA in fight with AAU

NEW YORK (AP)—Both the president and secretary of the United States Olympic Committee were accused Tuesday of violating the rules of the International Olympic Committee by siding with the National Collegiate Athletic Association in its bitter feud with the Amateur Athletic Union.

Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU, said both Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, U.S. Olympic Committee president, and Asa Bushnell, the organization's secretary, had ignored Rule 24 of the IOC rules.

"This rule," said Hull, "instructs national Olympic committees to co-operate with national bodies affiliated with the international body. It also says that national committees must not recognize more than one organization and that must be the one recognized by the IOC."

The AAU is the affiliated governing body in the United States for track and field—the centre of its controversy with the NCAA.

With the backing of the NCAA, a United States Track and Field Federation has been formed. It seeks co-sanctioning power with the AAU. Last November a peace meeting between the AAU and NCAA was held here and a coalition was formed. But it since has exploded amid charges and counter-charges.

KENNEDY STEPS IN

Now, under instructions from President Kennedy, arbitration of the dispute is scheduled to start Friday under the direction of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"At the November meeting," said Hull, "Wilson said that the Federation must be recognized. He also said the same thing at a meeting with the State Department. He has compromised the trust given him."

"In the case of Bushnell, he wrote a letter to the International Amateur Athletic Federation, espousing the cause of the U.S. Track and Field Federation. The letter was turned over to us and when it was circulated to the Olympic Board, Bushnell offered to resign."

"Therefore, I charge that both Wilson and Bushnell have violated the UCC rule on both counts—that they must not recognize more than one organization and that it must be the one affiliated with the IOC, and that they must co-operate with the recognized organization."

"I have been forced to come to the conclusion that these men whom I respected are not worthy of my respect."

Wilson said he wanted to hear the accusations from Hull, and Bushnell, vacationing in Arizona, was not available for comment.

Christensen - Griffiths bout may be stopped on grounds fighters are unevenly matched to clash

COPENHAGEN (AP)—A Danish member of Parliament has moved to prevent a fight scheduled here Feb. 3 between Denmark's Chris Christensen and Emile Griffith, world welterweight champion from New York.

In a letter to Hans Kaekkrup, minister of justice, Verner Sinnbeck, a powerful opposition parliamentarian and a leading foe of boxing, said:

"Does the minister of justice consider it possible, while an entire ban on professional boxing in Denmark is being contemplated, to halt the uneven match between the Dane Chris Christensen and the world champion, Emile Griffith, who earlier has caused another boxer's death in the ring?"

Former champion Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba died after at stake.

Amadee to go to Argos as quarterback

TORONTO (CP)—Lynn Amadee, quarterback of the Eastern Football Conference, will play next season and there is no chance I'll change my mind." The statement was made in a telephone interview from the Louisiana State campus at Baton Rouge. Amadee said he will sign at the end of the United States college baseball season.

Mrs. S. J. Turvey honored on hundredth birthday

KINGSEY FALLS — Mrs. S. J. Turvey, who was born on Jan. 2, 1863, when many friends and relatives called on her to offer congratulations on her 100th birthday.

Mrs. Turvey, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Blake, was born in Warwickshire, England, on Jan. 2, 1863. Coming to Canada in 1922, she lived in Montreal for some time before coming to live in Danville.

She has eight children: Mrs. Milward, Ethel, Mrs. Edwards, Alice; Mrs. Arnold, Clara; and Mrs. Day, Gertrude, all living in England; Mrs. Ormandy, Edith, of Montreal; Mrs. Patullo, Winnie, of Brantford, Ont.; Mrs. Blake, Hilda, of Kingsley Falls; and Sydney Turvey of Port Colborne, Ont.

Altogether Mrs. Turvey has 148 living descendants made up of her eight children, 41 grandchildren, 79 great-grandchildren and 20 great - great - grandchildren.

Fond of travelling in her earlier years, she has made two trips around the world. During one trip she spent three years in Australia. On that occasion she recalls that the temperature was 100 degrees in the shade on her birthday. Mrs. Turvey has no long life formula, but has always had a cheerful outlook on life. The Bible is read daily and she thanks God for giving her the many years to enjoy.

Congratulations were received through the mail from such far away countries as Australia, England and New Guinea, where she made many friends. Among the many received by the honored guest were those from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, Right Honorable John G. Diefenbaker, Prime Minister of Canada, John P. Roberts, premier of Ontario, Ellis Morningster, M.P.P., Welland, Ont., Flowers were received from Trinity United Church, Danville, the town council of Kingsley Falls, the grandchildren, and a gift corsage from her daughters, also from Australia.

About 80 guests from Montreal, Brantford, Ont., Port Colborne, Ont., Danville, Quebec, and many other points were present. The buffet luncheon was convened by Mrs. Harry Blake, Mrs. Frank Ormandy and Mrs. Wm. Patullo, assisted by several of the grandchildren. Tea was poured by Mrs. Mac Leith. Mr. Roux of Kingsley Falls stated that, to the best of his knowledge, Mrs. Turvey is the first person in this area to reach the 100 year mark.

One of the highlights of the evening came when Lise Roux presented Mrs. Turvey with a dozen red roses from the town council.

Plans for year made by C.W.L. at Rock Island

ROCK ISLAND — Our Lady of Mercy Council, Catholic Women's League, held the Jan. 8 meeting in the evening at the home of Mrs. Leo Masse, with 17 members attending.

The group made plans for the year, which include a food sale at the Southern Canada Power Co., the afternoon of Feb. 7, with Mrs. Norma Biledeau, as chairman, and a tea and sale in the fall. Arrangements will be made in the months ahead for the Diocesan meeting here in May. In regard to the food sale, members will be contacted by the phone committee.

The correspondence included a hand painted Christmas card made by the League's adopted Korean boy, as well as a letter from a Reverend Sister, containing news of their adopted boy. It was learned with regret that Harold Hall is a patient in Broadview Hospital and the Council has lighted a spiritual lamp for him in Our Lady of Mercy Church.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 12, at the home of Mrs. Catherine Fregau. A social hour followed and refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Masse, Mrs. Therese Winter, Miss Dena LeBlanc and Mrs. Nora Siquin.

weeks with Mrs. Smith's mother and brother, Mrs. Ethel McLeod and Mr. Robert McLeod. Miss Donald Parsons, of Montreal, and Mr. Ardley Walker, spent the weekend at their respective homes here.

Mr. Wesley Rowell, of East Clifton has returned home after spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rowell and family.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Parsons recently were Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Rand, Jimmie and Sylvia, of Milby, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weir, of Williamstown, N.L.

The Doctor Says

LEARNING TO RELAX IS NOT AN EASY TASK

Are you sick and tired of feeling tired and sick? If so you may belong to the vast army of persons who have not learned to relax properly.

A large part of the illness people suffer today is due to the Big Three: nervous tension, fatigue, and sleeplessness. According to Dr. S. W. Gutwirth, in his book, "How to Sleep Well" (Vantage Press, 1959), many persons believe that all they need to do to relax is to go fishing, read a novel, or listen to music. All of these things are forms of activity and, although they may help you achieve a change of pace, they are not relaxation because relaxation is a state of perfect inactivity.

Dr. Gutwirth explains how, even while lying in bed in a darkened room with your eyes closed, your thoughts cause various skeletal muscles (those under your direct control as opposed to the muscles of your heart and digestive tract) to contract. You cannot, for example, visualize past or future events in your mind's eye without contracting some of your eye muscles and you cannot imagine or recall a conversation without contracting some of the muscles of speech.

With persistent practice you can learn first of all to recognize the difference between a feeling of tension and its absence (relaxation) in each and every skeletal muscle in the body. This is not an easy task for human being, although the so-called lower animals seem to have mastered it.

This would suggest that we had it once and at some time between our infancy and our present state we lost it. It is possible, however, to get it

Bulwer U.C.W. elects officers

BULWER — The January meeting of the United Church Women was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Drake.

Following a short devotional period the following slate of officers was brought in by Mrs. Howard Kerr and were installed by the Rev. J. A. H. Plowright:

President, Mrs. Gordon McElrea; vice-president, Mrs. Norman Gibson; treasurer, Mrs. Herman Wolters; recording secretary, Mrs. Ralph Todd; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Everett Paker.

Instead of the regular February meeting a sugar social will be held on Feb. 12.

At the close of the meeting, lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. G. McElrea and Mrs. E. H. Parker.

General Notes

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McElrea included Mr. and Mrs. Alton McElrea and children, David and Cynthia, of Coaticook, Mr. Ronald McElrea, of Granby, and Mr. and Mrs. Murdo MacDonald and children, Merna and Alec, of Sherbrooke.

FOSTER —

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Crowhurst and Miss Barbara Marcotte, Montreal, and Mrs. Audrey Marcotte, Arden, were guests of their mother and grandmother over the holiday.

Mr. Ronald Williams, Montreal, was the weekend guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Quilliams.

Mrs. W. Edwards was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Vincent Lee, Mr. Lee and niece, Dr. Myra Smart, and Mr. Smart in Sherbrooke.

Miss Sandra Taylor has returned to Sherbrooke, where she is a student at O'Sullivan Business College, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McLean have returned to Montreal after spending the holidays at their country home here. They are leaving shortly to spend a few weeks in Florida.

Farm Forum Activities

SAWYERVILLE

The Sawyerville Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morrison on Jan. 7, with 12 present.

Following the broadcast on the radio the guide questions, which dealt with Taxation, were discussed.

The group felt it was fair to obtain money through income tax. It was also felt it would be a good idea to have stricter enforcement of income tax.

The reason for this opinion was that a lot of people who make large sums of money, buy farms and skin large amounts into them, thus evading tax. This Forum felt it should not be possible unless the necessary tax is paid.

Tax for municipality purposes would be more equitable if it were placed on land and buildings — and — it would be more fair if school tax was collected in the form of income tax and sales tax.

Members felt it should not be placed on land, as this was the way they have of making a living, just as someone who owns a truck or bulldozer.

Refreshments at the meeting's close, were served. The next meeting to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nugent.

COOKSHIRE

The first meeting of the New Year was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McVetty with 21 present.

The broadcast for the evening was on taxation, an aftermath to the answers received to the broadcast of Oct. 29, and which indicated that Forums throughout Canada think that income taxes should be an alternative to property taxes for school and municipal taxes.

Since the only taxation rights given to rural municipalities and school boards in Quebec are property taxes we wonder if this has been thought through to its logical conclusion.

The only authorities with the right to collect income tax are the Federal and Provincial Governments and since municipal and school administration comes under Provincial supervision we must presume that Quebec in our case would be the Government to levy and collect the income taxes necessary for this purpose.

It is also logical that, if the Government of this province furnishes all the money required to provide the services now under the administration of our municipal councils and school boards, they will also take over administration.

We think therefore, that if we are to retain any control of the administration of our schools and municipalities we must continue to pay property taxes and we also think that the system now in effect of assessing and taxing both lands and buildings, faulty as it may be, is still more equitable than either taxing buildings alone or land alone.

It is true that property taxes, especially those for schools, have increased tremendously in the past 20 years. Even, in spite of these increases in local taxation, many of the school and municipal services we now enjoy would not have been possible without assistance from the Provincial Government such as 75 percent and over for the current expense of running our schools, 100 percent of the cost of keeping our roads open in the winter, 100 percent of the cost of summer maintenance, of improved municipal roads taken over by the Government, generous grants for sewer and water facilities and fire fighting equipment to name the most important.

Progress costs money but who can say that the results have not been worthwhile.

Busy meeting held by Y.W.I. at Melbourne

MELBOURNE — The Richmond Young Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Daisy McGee for the January session, with Mrs. Lyla Beattie as co-hostess.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Morrison, the minutes were read by Mrs. Joyce Mastine, who also read an interesting article from the C.A.C. Bulletin.

The annual report forms were given out, to be filled in and brought to the February meeting.

White articles were brought in for the Cecil Memorial Home; the remainder will be brought in to the next meeting.

A suggestion for the country project was a pair of men's knitted socks with fancy pattern.

Members of the group had catered to the Royal Canadian Legion Ladies Auxiliary banquet recently. A few of the members also served at the pot luck supper for the Melbourne Ridge Institute members and their husbands.

Flowers were sent to a member in hospital and a gift sent to a new baby.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Morrison.

Parish Guild, W.A. appoint 1963 officers

SWEETSBURG — The Parish Guild and Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church met on Jan. 8, for the first time in 1963, when the following officers were installed:

Honorary president, Mrs. Hugh Ashness - Wells; president, Mrs. Irene Williams; vice-president, Mrs. W. Austin Lee; secretary, Mrs. Alfred Forster; treasurer, Mrs. N. M. Ingalls.

The president then appointed her committees for the year as follows: Sick, Mrs. Alton Ewing; work, Mrs. C. M. Weddell; education and prayer partner secretary, Mrs. W. A. Lee; Little Helpers, Mrs. Reginald Shaw.

The tea hostess was Mrs. Irwin Haines. Several matters of interest to members were discussed during the social hour.
