Franco Would Extend Limit On Shipping

Insurgent Commander Demands That Oil, Coal and Motor Trucks Be Added to Non-Intervention Committee's List of Contraband in Return for Establishment of Safe Port—Denies British Shipping Singled Out for Attack.

London, July 2.—(AP)—General Franco was said in unofficial quarters today to have replied to Great Britain's repeated protests at bombing of her ships with a proposal to designate a neutral port in Spain where "bona fide" shipping would not be molested.

The insurgent leader was understood to have put a sting into the tail of his reply by demanding that oil, coal and motor trucks be added to the Non-Intervention Committee's list of contraband goods. Present contraband is confined to actual war materials.

Foreign Secretary Halifax and Sir Robert Hodgson, British representative in Burgos, the insurgent capital, wrestled with the reply which Sir Robert brought to London Thursday. They were unable to begin a detailed examination of its contents until today, however, because they had to wait for a translation of the Spanish text.

Franco's reply was understood to have stressed his determination to continue bombing "military objectives" and to have denied British ships were singled out for attack.

It was noted, however, that no British ships have been attacked or sunk since Monday. Two days before it was disclosed in Rome that Premier Mussolini had advised the insurgent General to moderate his attacks.

WORLD NEWS BRIEFS

EVEN TOO MUCH FOR A TAVERN

Chicago, July 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Emily Arnault, proprietress of a tavern, was indignant when two of her customers removed the top of her beer cooler, unlimbered fishing tackle—poles and all—and tried their luck in the icy water surrounding the beer coils. She called policemen who agreed the pair had picked the wrong place in which to fish.

London, Ont., July 2.—(AP)—Lieut. Col. Robert Bruce Ross, fifty-six years old, veteran officer of the First Battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, died yesterday at his home here after several weeks' illness. A civil engineer in private life and head of the Ross Construction Company of London, he was for many years officer commanding the First Divisional Engineers here.

France Orders Drastic Limitation On Importation Of Japanese Goods

Paris, July 2.—(AP)—Growing coolness between France and Japan over the war in China has resulted in a French order suspending importation of Japanese merchandise on the quota list.

The drastic move, coupled with the relative small volume of foreign trade involved, caused observers to link the commercial break with diplomatic incidents growing out of the Far Eastern conflict.

Foreign traders said France never before had taken such severe commercial action against any country. Yet the quotas involved—about one-fourth of Japan's exports to France—make up only half of one per cent of total Japanese exports, and slightly less than that percentage of French imports. Imports of raw silk were not affected.

France imported $38,300,000 of Japanese merchandise of all kinds of 1937 (about $9,134,000 at present rates of exchange).

Lighthouse To Honor Memory Of Earheart

San Francisco, July 2.—(AP)—A monument on a desert island and a prosaic ruling which established legal death stood today as reminders that just one year ago Amelia Earhart and Frederick J. Noonan vanished trying to fly across the vast South Pacific.

On tiny Howland Island, 1,500 miles southwest of Hawaii, a bone-white lighthouse tower—the "Earhart Light"—marks the sand spit which the aviatrix missed on a hazardous leg of her world flight.

Commemorating her last venture, the lighthouse was erected by Hawaiian colonists sent to the barren island in a programme of developing potential American air bases in the Mid-Pacific.

Disappearance of the couple, which led to the greatest search ever launched in one of the world's loneliest quarters, had its sequel too in an Oakland Superior Court, where Noonan, navigator on the tragic journey, as a result of an action taken by his widow, was declared legally dead last month.

Early in the morning of July 2, 1937, a radio message from Miss Earhart's plane, speeding toward the island from Lae, New Guinea, foretold of death in shark-filled waters as an end to the flight which the aviatrix undertook "just for fun."

While the United States Coast Guard Cutter Itasca, stationed at Howland to aid the fliers, vainly sought to give them radio bearings, Miss Earhart reported no sight of land and but thirty minutes gasoline to complete the 2,570-mile flight.

Most searchers agreed Miss Earhart, possibly blinded by the rising sun, toward which she sped, either overshot the minute island or fell short of her goal when her gasoline supply failed.

BRITISH PRESS DIVIDED OVER DEBTS ACCORD

Financial Journals Take Opposing Views as to Need of Reducing Interest Rates on Dawes and Young Plan Loans.

London, July 2.—(AP)—The Press opinion was divided today on the Anglo-German debt settlement announced yesterday.

The Financial Times (Independent) termed the agreement "an excellent thing" and observed that reduction of interest on the Dawes and Young plan loans "has long been regarded as inevitable."

The Financial News (Independent) said: "The debt settlement bears all the marks of hard bargaining. It is based upon assumptions which a considerable body of opinion in the City will reject. By all proper tenets of relations between creditor and debtor the settlement is ridiculous."

The Daily Telegraph (Conservative) said: "Against the main gain of recognition by Germany of responsibility for the loans of Austria, there has to be set the reduction in interest payable on the Dawes and Young loans. Yet service on these seemed so precarious at times that the holders may well be content with what seems a greater certainty of payment of smaller interest, particularly since that lessened yields is coupled with setting up sinking funds that will gradually extinguish the principal and should in the meantime enhance its value."

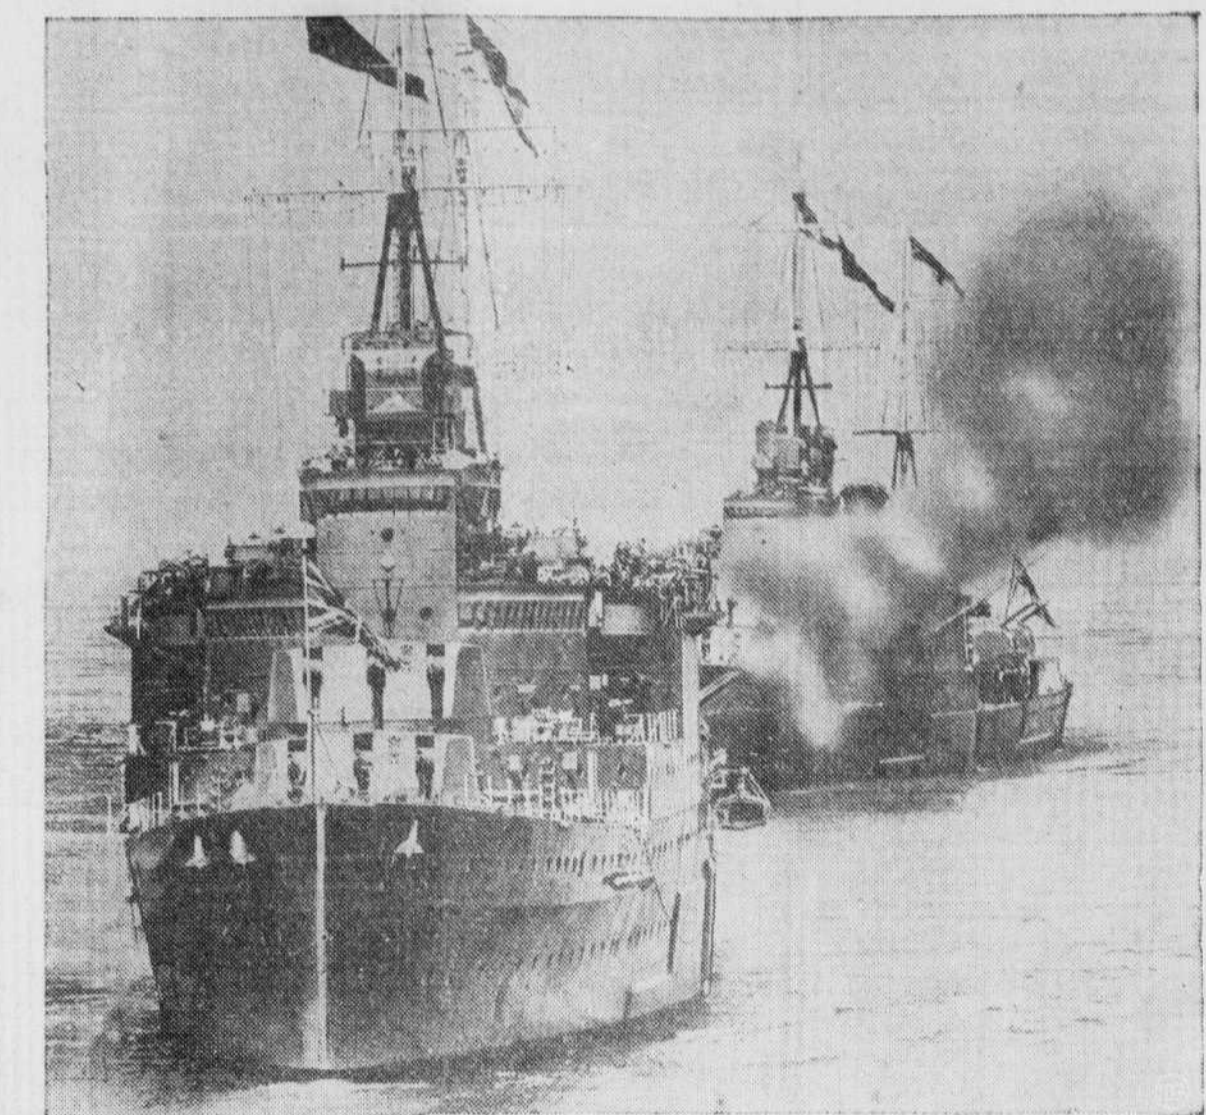

FORMER AUSTRIAN CHANCELLOR PLAYED IN GERMAN PRESS

Berlin, July 2.—(C.P.—Havas)—Der Stuermer, Julius Streicher's anti-Semitic journal, today devoted a special issue to Austrian Jews and branded the former Austrian Chancellor, Kurt von Schuschnigg, an "arrant coward and a man without character."

WOMAN KEPT HER WORD

Hot Springs, Va., July 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Florence Burton Roth, of Erie, Pa., former Grand President of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, is a lady of her word.

BARKING WAR DOGS . . . WILL THEY BITE?

With resentment growing among a section of the British public over Government inaction on the bombing of British merchantmen, the Home Fleet of the Royal Navy, led by King George, put on a demonstration of sea might in the English Channel. With their royal commander on the bridge of the flagship Nelson, eighty ships went through elaborate exercises, including a demonstration of defense against air attack. Pictured above are the anti-aircraft batteries of H. M. S. Sheffield blasting away at a radio-controlled airplane target which was brought down.

Two Hundred School Children Among Latest Bomb Victims

Four Hundred Civilians Killed or Wounded as Japanese Aviators Drop Over Hundred Bombs on Crowded Sections of Port of Swatow—Propose to Divide China into Five Autonomous States in Effort to End Year-Old Sino-Japanese War.

Hong Kong, July 2.—(AP)—Four hundred civilians, including two hundred school children, were killed or wounded in yesterday's Japanese bombing raid on the South China port of Swatow, Chinese reported today.

More than one hundred bombs were dropped by the nine planes which attacked the city. Many of the bombs fell in crowded residential sections.

The large number of casualties among school children resulted when a school building was struck as they were leaving their classrooms. Other buildings damaged included Red Cross headquarters and the municipal government building.

FIVE POINT PLAN FOR ENDING WAR

Peiping, July 2.—(AP)—A plan for ending the Chinese-Japanese war by carving China into at least five autonomous units was being drafted today, it was reported, by Chinese members of the Peiping Provisional Government and their Japanese advisers.

It was admitted the plan had little chance of early acceptance by the Chinese Government of General Chiang Kai-Shek, but it was believed to be an indication of the basis on which Japan would be glad to terminate the conflict, now only five days from its first anniversary.

FARM WORKER WHO ATTACKED WOMAN SOUGHT

Police Search Woods Near St. Hyacinthe for Bare-Footed Man Who Struck Woman with Shotgun.

St. Hyacinthe, July 2.—A bare-footed man who fled into the woods after attacking Mrs. Armand Bienvenue, of St. Thomas d'Aquin, with the butt of a shotgun last Wednesday afternoon is being sought by Provincial Police and High Constable Thomas Blanchard, of St. Hyacinthe. A warrant has been issued charging the man, Leonard Ernest Cote, with bodily harm. Although seen the day before yesterday near St. Jean Baptiste de Rouville, near here, the man has so far evaded capture.

According to police, Cote was employed at the Bienvenue farm and following a quarrel with Mrs. Bienvenue concerning his work he picked up a shotgun and struck her on the head and arm with the butt of the weapon. The blows were so hard that the barrel of the weapon, said to be an old one, broke in two. Mrs. Bienvenue, alone at the time, shouted for help and as neighbors arrived Cote fled into the woods. The woman was not seriously injured.

Cote, who is thought to be trying to enter the United States, is said to be thirty-one years of age and of medium build.

JERSEY CITY'S MAYOR BEFORE SENATE PROBE

Civil Liberties Commission Expected to Turn Spotlight on Mayor Frank Hague, Arch-Foe of "Reds and Communists."

Washington, July 2.—(AP)—The United States Senate Civil Liberties Committee, informed persons said today, will turn its attention to Mayor Frank Hague and complaints against Jersey City policies before Congress meets again.

Chairman La Follette, (Progressive, Wisconsin) has parried questions about this subject for weeks. He has replied to them by saying the special committee must first wind up its inquiries in the field of labor relations and by mentioning limited funds.

Committee investigators said they had a "thick file of requests" for an investigation of the Hague regime in New Jersey.

Among these requests are those from Representatives O'Connell, (Democrat, Montana), and Bernard (Farmer-Labor, Minnesota), House members who failed to keep a widely publicized speaking engagement in Jersey City, and Norman Thomas, Socialist leader.

The Senate resolution creating the special committee two years ago directed it "to make an investigation of violations of the rights of free speech and assembly."

Labor leaders have contended that Hague has abrogated rights of free speech and assembly in combatting what he termed Committee for Industrial Organization "Reds" and Communists in Jersey City.

JAP FISHING FLEET QUILTS WEST COAST

Seattle, July 2.—(AP)—A Japanese fishing fleet source of many charges that Japanese fishermen were encroaching on the valuable Alaska salmon run, has sailed away from Bristol Bay.

Reporting the departure simultaneously with the opening of the Bristol Bay fishing season, Chairman Miller Freeman of the Joint Committee for Protection of Pacific Coast fisheries, said today it "may indicate the Japanese wish to remove any suspicion their fleet is operating against the salmon run."

TWO AVIATORS HURT DURING OBSERVANCE

Moosomin, Sask., July 2.—(AP)—Pilot Robert Gibson and his flying companion Gordon Arthur, both of Brandon, Man., were injured severely yesterday when the airplane in which they were "stunt flying" on a sports day programme crashed.

Gibson suffered a possible fractured skull and internal injuries. Arthur had both legs broken and received multiple cuts and bruises.

SPANISH REBEL LEADER PLACED UNDER ARREST

Agostin Aznar Imprisoned by Insurgent Authorities for Failing to Give His Whole-Hearted Support to General Franco.

Gibraltar, July 2.—(C.P.—Havas)—Agostin Aznar, Spanish Fascist leader, has been arrested by Insurgent authorities on charges of failing to give whole-hearted support to General Franco, it was reported here today. Other prominent personages were said to have been arrested at the same time.

Early last year Aznar was reported under a sentence of death at Salamanca for plotting a revolt against Franco. He was subsequently restored to good graces, however.

FIGHTING TAKES ON NEW OUTLOOK

Hendaye, France, July 2.—(AP)—Fighting in Eastern Spain changed today from a general engagement to a series of isolated operations, with Insurgent and Government forces dividing successes about equally.

In the coastal sector about thirty-five miles north of Valencia the Insurgents finally occupied the village of Bechi, which had been surrounded for two days. They also reported they had taken Artesa and Tales, villages just south of Onda and a few miles west of Bechi, representing an advance of a little more than a half mile in three days.

On the western flank of the fifty-mile front, Government militiamen pushed back Insurgent lines south of the Mucia de Sarrión range, twenty miles southeast of Teruel, and regained an important hill commanding the Teruel-Sagunto highway.

EIGHT KILLED IN BOMBING RAIDS

Valencia, July 2.—(AP)—Eight persons were killed and fourteen wounded today by an insurgent bombing raid on Segorbe, twenty miles to the northwest of Sagunto, the Spanish press agency reported.

Segorbe was attacked yesterday and sixteen killed and eighty injured.

PRAIRIE WHEAT CROP IMPROVED BY RAINS

Winnipeg, Man., July 2.—Scattered showers occurred throughout the three prairie provinces during the past week. Heaviest precipitation was recorded in West Central and Northwestern Saskatchewan where rains of from one-half inch to one and one-half inches were reported.

Further rain is required at many points in the three provinces where precipitation did not occur in recent days but the cooler weather prevailing makes the condition of crops in these sections more favorable than they would otherwise be. North Saskatchewan and Northern Alberta crops are in a rather precarious condition in many sections, according to the weekly crop report of the Department of Agriculture, Canadian National Railways.

Denounces Government For Attitude On Creation Of British Air Bases

Ottawa, July 2.—(AP)—In what may prove to be his last major utterance in Parliament as leader of the Official Opposition Conservative Leader Bennett denounced the Government for its stand against the establishment in Canada of a British air force training or other military establishment.

"If it was to be my last word in this House and uttered with my last breath," Mr. Bennett declared yesterday he would say no Canadian was worthy of his heritage who would refuse the partner who established Canada the right to set up here the training facilities conditions at home made inconvenient there.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared Canadian governments had well established the principle that in this country there should be no military establishment not owned by the Dominion and responsible to the Dominion Parliament.

"I am bound to say—so am I," Mr. Bennett retorted. This phase of the discussion did not develop. In any event, the Prime Minister and Defence Minister Mackenzie assured the House, there had been no request from the British Government for permission to establish training fields in Canada. There had been "exploratory conversations."

Prorogation Offers Little Relief For Majority Of Cabinet Ministers

Ottawa, July 2.—Prorogation does not spell holiday for the Canadian Cabinet. Its just an eleven-letter word meaning more work for the majority of the Ministers. They plan to keep on slugging away at administrative problems for most of the summer despite the fact the Parliamentary session wound up yesterday.

CANADIAN APPOINTED

DOUGLAS PHILPOTT, recently appointed Managing Director of Lehn & Fink (Canada), Limited, manufacturers of drug products. This young Canadian has risen to his present rank through the advertising business and because of his wide knowledge of the Canadian drug business.

He is unanimous in the belief they will not be able to take any prolonged holiday.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner has a pile of Government business to dispose of before he can entrain for the West and a rest at his Saskatchewan farm. Fisheries Minister Kitchawan also will stay close to Parliament Hill through most of the summer.

"So you went after the job. I thought you believed that the office should seek the man."

"I do, but this is a fat job, and I was afraid it might get winded before it reached me."

DRUG PROVIDES APPARENT CURE FOR INSANITY

Recent Development Increases Distrust of British Medical Profession for "Incurable Insanity" Provisions of Divorce Law.

London, July 2.—An apparent insanity cure through use of a drug has prompted the medical profession to view with increased mistrust the divorce law provision enabling a petition to cite "incurable" insanity as a cause.

The British Medical Journal cites the case of a woman who had been confined for seven years in an asylum suffering from schizophrenia (split personality) of a depressive type and whose husband was contemplating divorce proceedings against her.

The woman's history said that after her admittance to the institution she suffered apparent progressive dementia with faulty habits, complete self neglect and impulsive suicidal tendencies extending over years.

Last March she was reported to be emaciated and "portraying little evidence of mind."

Within a few days she lapsed into her former state. Physicians decided to induce further epilepsy by injections of pentamethylenetetrazol.

Widespread Legislative Programme Disposed Of At Long House Session

Continued from Page 1. Five per cent the third year. Then, a fund of $30,000,000 was established from which loans may be made to municipalities for self-liquidating projects, such as gas, light and water works.

Mr. Dunning, who was taken ill towards the end of the session, announced a deficit of $13,775,000 for the fiscal year, 1937-38 compared with the estimated deficit of $35,000,000. His forecast for 1938-39 admitted the possibility of a deficit of $23,000,000 but also contained the hope of a much lesser deficit should world economic conditions improve and the western crop prove satisfactory.

Throughout the session a troubled international situation was constantly in the minds of the members although external affairs debates produced no new declaration of policy.

National Defence estimates aggregating more than $30,000,000 were approved with less opposition than at the previous session. A group of Quebec Liberal members who bolted their party in 1937 on the defence programme had little to say.

Complete nationalization of the Bank of Canada was made possible by a bill directing the Government to buy 10,000 shares of the Bank held by the public. The shares have a par value of $50 and will be bought at $59.20 each.

The Bank was established by the Bennett Government in 1935 with a capital of $5,000,000 in 100,000 shares. When the Liberals came into office the Bank of Canada Act was amended to give the Government majority ownership of shares and a majority representation of the directorate. Now it will have complete ownership.

Passage of the bill to transform the Board of Railway Commissioners into the Transport Board with regulatory authority over rail, air and certain water transportation, climaxed a long struggle extending over two sessions.

During the 1937 sessions, Transport Minister Howe had a bill introduced in the Senate to establish a Transport Commission. It was somewhat similar to the bill passed this session except that it included regulation of highway transport in the Commission's powers. It was defeated.

This session Mr. Howe introduced a new bill in the commons. The highway regulation clause was dropped but another feature, agreed charges, was added and on this clause centred the main attack on the bill.

It passed the Commons and went to the Senate where a committee amended it to exempt shipping from Canadian Atlantic and Pacific ports through the Panama Canal from regulation of the Commission.

Introduction of agreed charges, which will enable railways to give a special lower rate if he sends all his goods by rail, will mark the first time this principle of transportation economics has been used on the North American continent.

The session was conspicuous for the number of important reports and other documents submitted to it. A white paper covering correspondence between the United States and Canada and between the Dominion and Ontario in the negotiations for the St. Lawrence Deep Waterways Treaty was tabled February 23. On March 21, a communication from United States Secretary Hall containing United States refusal to permit the importation of additional

LENNOXVILLE

The many guests who attended the garden party given by the W.A. of St. George's Church on Thursday afternoon in the Rectory garden were able to walk through the beautiful gardens and admire the gorgeous flowers. The guests were greeted by Mrs. E. A. President, Mrs. Robert Neill, assisted by Mrs. Jones and Miss Stevens. The small tables with white linen cloths looked tempting and the serving was nicely done by seven little girls, Shirley Tapp, Mary Locke, Grace Pratt, Linda White, Marietta Walters, Mildred Coates and Ruby Cornish. Tea was poured at the table by Miss Grace Stevens while the kitchen arrangements were also looked after by Mrs. E. Atter, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. A. Merrill and Miss Dorothy Wood. Refreshments were served and the proceeds were very satisfactory.

Many students and their friends were cordially welcomed by the patronesses Mrs. C. H. Aikman, Mrs. F. W. Lord and Mrs. A. L. Kuehner. The gymnasium looked very attractive with the decorations of blue and yellow streamers draped from a false ceiling, covered with stars and lighted indirectly by blue lights, giving a very realistic appearance. The Blue Baron's Orchestra furnished music for the dancing and light refreshments were furnished.

The National Employment Commission report was tabled on April 1. It recommended greater assistance in housing projects and this was later implemented in the Housing Act.

Markets for dried and pickled fish were reported on by O. F. MacKenzie, of Halifax, and F. Homer Zwicker, of Lunenburg. They urged steps for the markets for these commodities.

Chief interest in the Senate centred around the enquiry conducted by a special committee into the railway problem. Opportunity was thus opened for disclosure of proposals, approved by Mr. Edward Beatty, Canadian Pacific Railway president, relating to unification of that system with the Canadian National Railways. Sir Edward suggested savings of $75,000,000 annually could be effected if the railways were operated under unified management.

His evidence disclosed examinations had been carried out in great detail by C.P.R. officers into unification. Their conclusions, however, differed from those of C.N.R. officers who had performed a similar task.

The programme was opened with the hymn "Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken," after which Rev. Carl Gustafson, of Scotstown, led in prayer. Organ solos were beautifully rendered by Miss Bertha Allen of Sherbrooke, and Miss Thelma Crawford's lovely tenor voice was heard in several vocal solos with Mrs. Allen accompanying. ing to the British Air Force at the rate of 129 a year for additional training. Mr. Mackenzie said.

Mr. Bennett disapproved of the Government's policy in the most emphatic manner. He had referred only to air training establishments, he said, not to naval or military stations.

Because of the density of population it was not possible for the British to establish needed training fields and they had naturally looked to the Dominions. He was critical of a government that would refuse this concession to a power on which it admittedly depended mainly for defence.

"If England goes, we go," Mr. Bennett warned. England was Canada's "ancient partner" and that partner, on which Canada relied, was to be denied the facilities so greatly needed for defence not only of the British Isles but of the Empire.

No person in Parliament had more respect for or believed more strongly in the British Empire, Mr. Mackenzie King said, but he believed the unity between members of the Commonwealth could be best served by each conducting its own affairs.

A Welcome Suggestion

Reports originating from London that Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, will extend an invitation to Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth to visit Canada next year will strike a responsive chord in the hearts of citizens of the Dominion.

A visit from Their Majesties would do more than anything to strengthen the bonds existing between the various sections of the Empire. Being the only visible link between the Old Country and the Dominions, a state tour of the Empire would bring the Monarch and his people in closer contact and improve that personal touch which is so necessary in strengthening the relationships between individuals.

But not to the Empire alone would this be important but to the whole world, indicating as it would more effectively than ever that the people of the British Commonwealth of Nations are at heart one and owing loyalty to one monarch despite the fact that the various members may speak different tongues and reside in different parts of the globe.

Their Majesties, if they saw fit to accept the invitations to be offered by the Dominion, would be received with a display of loyalty seldom equalled and never exceeded anywhere in the Empire.

Helpless Children Cast Aside

A state of civilization which permits the bombing of thousands of inoffensive civilians has become commonplace and accepted during the past ten years.

But perhaps there is still a capacity to be shocked at a civilization that permits children to go homeless and starving down the path to squalor and disease and death.

When the history of this era is written, perhaps the blackest blot upon it will be its treatment of children. When adults are bombed and massacred and driven by marching men from their homes, it is bad enough. But after all, it is their world, and it is as they order it.

But the children, brought into the world without a will of their own, living amid circumstances which they have not yet had a chance to affect—they are the blackest tragedy of all.

Such a picture comes back from Spain through workers for the Spanish Child Welfare Association, which, with backers like the Unitarian Church, the Quakers, and other humanitarian groups, is trying to help the children left helpless in the backwash of both sides of the Spanish civil war.

A million children, whose parents are either dead, or lost, or fighting on one side or the other, deserted, underfed and sick, whimpering in terror of things they do not understand—that is the most terrible toll of war in Spain. Quaker relief workers tell their tales of mothers standing in lines carrying their hot, feverish children, every one a hospital case, weak with dysentery or Malta fever. The three fifty-bed Quaker hospitals in the Alicante region tried to serve 50,000 helpless mothers and children who needed help desperately.

Advancing or retreating armies have slaughtered the cattle; there is no milk for these Spanish babies. Practically no meat, and very little rice and wheat. If the brave Quaker volunteers can supply them with a bowl of cocoa and a chunk of bread in the morning, and a dish of beans at night, they have done what all Spain is now unable to do.

Such relief workers cannot forget nine thousand refugees huddling in a single deserted factory building in Murcia amid indescribable filth, mere chattering animals with everything stripped from them that made life human and livable.

Even should the Spanish war end tomorrow, thousands of these deserted children would have to be cared for. Their parents are dead or missing. They have never had decent food or clothing. They have had nothing but starvation, and misery, and terror. What will they mean to Spain and to the world when they shall have grown up?

Let those who talk lightly of civil and class warfare consider what it has meant to Spain. It will take brilliant social results to repay Spain for these wasted and whimpering children.

Get Acquainted

It has been said often about democracy that its greatest peril is the apathy of its citizens. Responsible for not a little of that apathy is sheer ignorance. A man is incapable of responding to threats to a political form with which he has only a nodding acquaintance. He is incapable even of recognizing those threats.

There is probably more talk of the perils to the democratic structure today than there has been in generations. The times are particularly in need of a public acquainted with its government. In the light of this need one of the happiest innovations in the field of civic enterprise in many years is the "Boy State" movement which a number of states are supporting.

For varying periods of time during the summer, sessions not unlike "summer camp" are held, but with the express purpose of acquainting young men in their teens with the structure of American government. Classes conducted by key government officials and judges are the preliminaries to a period during which the boys try governing democratic "states" of their own.

Rhode Island and Vermont are among the newcomers to the movement this year. Illinois was the pioneer in 1935. New York, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Utah are other states in the movement.

Duties That Should Never Conflict

Matt. XXII, 21: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

We have been hearing and reading a great deal about Canada's wonderful growth since Confederation—the vast extent of her territory, the marvellous richness and diversity of her mineral deposits, and so forth. All this is quite right and natural; the birthday, whether of a nation or an individual, is like New Year's, an excellent occasion for spiritual stock-taking. Love of country, and the duties and responsibilities of citizenship are most fitting subjects for consideration.

Our Lord's words in the text present another duty which some of our very best citizens are prone to ignore. There is no dilemma here suggested; the two kinds of duty are perfectly consistent with each other. Indeed, the best type of citizen is generally a good Christian, because, in his creed, love of God and neighbor is the fulfilling of the law.

This chapter illustrates the kind of treatment to which Christ, like all other great reformers, was constantly subjected. Misunderstanding, criticism, and strife were His daily portion. All men in public positions have to face this sort of thing. The statesman who announces some new and advanced policy; the great scientist who claims to have wrested from her custody some of Nature's secrets, is sure to find objectors and detractors.

Let us see how this chapter stresses this fact. St. Matthew here records a subtle scheme to get the Man of Nazareth into serious trouble, by "entangling Him in His talk." Fortunately, Jesus could see the thoughts and intents of the heart, so "perceiving their wickedness," He gives an answer that utterly defeats their malicious scheme.

They asked: "Shall we give tribute to Caesar, or shall we not?"

To say "yes" would be to arouse the easily excited wrath of the multitude, who naturally regarded payment of taxes—especially to foreigners—a grievous wrong. And yet, to answer "no" would be to commit an unforgivable offence against the laws of Rome!

Refusing to fall into this trap, the Master points to a denarius, a Roman coin stamped with the image and superscription of the reigning Caesar. Why should they not hand back to the Emperor that which so obviously was his? Then He proceeds to speak of another duty, analogous to the first, their duty towards God! Just as if He were to say: "Can you not see that this denarius in my hand bears Caesar's stamp and belongs to him? So every one of you are made in God's image, and thus belong to Him!"

Well might those disconcerted plotters marvel at the wisdom of this answer, that not only rendered their attempt to injure Jesus completely innocuous, but that turned their deceitful and malicious question into a thought to sift their own consciences!

St. Mark, in dealing with this same occurrence, speaks of another question put to our Lord at the time, that of the young lawyer who asked: "Lord, which is the Great Commandment of the Law?"

Though the questioner was also a Pharisee, he may not have been prompted by any evil intention, but may merely have asked the question in order to test Christ's knowledge of the laws of Leviticus and Deuteronomy.

For, at this time, the Master's reply is simple and direct. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and soul and mind, and thy neighbor as thyself."

Again, however, we have the indication of a very deep and wonderful truth. Having simply stated the law as it stands in the ancient writings, Jesus goes on to say: "On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets!"

In other words, these two Commandments sum up all that God requires at our hands. There can be no command which does not fall in line with one or other of these—a fact fully recognized by St. Paul, when he wrote: "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore, love is the fulfilling of the Law."

How evident this is! If we love God we shall, as a matter of course, do our duty to God. If we love our neighbor, our fellow-men, we shall by free-willed necessity do our duty by them also.

So we can readily see that our whole series of complex relationships, personal, social, economic and political, are brought into marvellous harmony and completeness by these two Great Commandments of the Law.

GERMANY ONLY ENEMY TO ITALY

(The National Review, London.)

Speaking at Genoa on May 16 after the departure of Herr Hitler, the Italian leader told his people that on March 11, the day Germany reached the Italian frontier, he had had to take a great decision. That decision was, we know, to do nothing. It must have been a very hard one. His logical conclusion was to exist in spite of new combinations. In 1904, after a parading visit of the German Emperor to Italy, the great Ambassador, M. Barrere, who represented France in Rome for twenty-seven years, wrote a despatch to his Government which has since been published. In it he said: "Italy has only one real and adversary abroad; her ally. In order to control this adversary she has renewed the old pact. Two years of experience have proved that the pact no longer holds good, that Austrian intrusion into Italy's preserves can no longer be withstood. . . It is now clear to Italians that the real danger is on this side, and that the day in which Austria becomes the dominating power in the Adriatic, Italy will sink to the condition of a third-rate Power. . . The peril is considerable." The peril for Italy is greater now, for instead of the ramshackle Empire of Austria she has now on her frontier a vital and predatory people eager for spoil. Trieste and the Adriatic are not far away, and the Prussian jack-boot has not a long walk to take to enter the country fashioned by Cavour and Garibaldi. As in 1904, Italy has only one redoubtable enemy—her ally!

ENGLISH NAME IS IRELAND

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

With an election imminent in Ireland, European correspondents and the editors of a number of Canadian journals against have an opportunity of showing their acquaintance with the Erse language by referring to the newly-constituted state of Ireland, formerly known as the Irish Free State, by its native name of Eire. The name of the state in the English language is Ireland, as the name of the "Six Counties" of Ulster is officially Northern Ireland. The name Eire is correctly used only in the written or spoken Irish language. If an English newspaper is to write Eire for Ireland, it should logically use the names Belgique, Deutschland, Osterreich, Ceskoslovensko, Schweiz, Espana and Helas for Belgium, Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Spain and Greece respectively.

No doubt the short word Eire may sometimes save the day for the writer of a headline, bound by the exigencies of space, but it has no place in the text of an article. Above all, be it remembered that the word is a noun, and that the expression "Eire Government" is as incongruous as would be "Germany Government." Nor can there be any compromise, for the English journalist who wrote not long ago of the "Eirish Government," committed a greater atrocity against the Isle of saints and scholars than any attributed to the Black and Tans.

But since the word Eire will undoubtedly continue to enjoy its present popularity, a note on its pronunciation, which appears to be in some dispute, may be in order. The word rhymes approximately with Mary, the monosyllabic rhymes with mere or mire being incorrect.

ACCIDENT TOLL IN U.S.

(La Presse, Montreal)

The statistics released by the National Safety Council show that twice the number of humans who gave their lives for the United States during the Great War were killed in accidents during the past year. Accidents also brought injuries in America to 9,900,000—or one person in every four families.

Figured down to dollar value, the results of these accidents amounted to a total cost of $3,600,000,000—enough money to construct seventy-five buildings of the same proportion as the Empire State Building in New York. Automobile accidents alone resulted in an economic loss of $1,700,000,000, as well as the sacrifice of 39,500 human lives.

Can we believe that such tragedies will not lead people to be more careful, to observe the simple rules of prudence? There is no doubt that the conditions in the United States in this respect are the same as those existing in Canada—without regard, of course, to proportion.

It is to be hoped that the amendments brought into the Criminal Code of the Dominion by our Federal authorities during the past few weeks will help our own situation, through the fact that penalties have been made more severe in accident cases.

THE MILITARISTIC GOBLINS

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review)

Some military units from Britain, Canada and the United States celebrated an ancient international ceremony at Boston the other day and the governor of Massachusetts took occasion to say something about the tendency of the peoples represented to refrain from boasting about their military prowess. The occasion was the return visit of the Honorable Artillery Company to Boston. The other visitors were the Byng Boys of St. John, N.B., and a score or so of American military units. At a dinner which succeeded the parades and other public ceremonies, Governor Charles F. Hurley after commenting on the unity between Great Britain and the United States said: "We do not seek to over-awe other nations by a display of force but let no nation delude itself because we do not so conduct ourselves, we would supinely submit to infringement of our prerogative as a free nation."

There is no mistaking the objective of this assertion. The recent demonstration in Germany and Italy, where the dictators put on military shows for each other, do not appear to have impressed such nations as Britain and the United States as proving that European militarism had produced paralyzing fear among democratic nations. On the contrary, while Britain and the United States are not indifferent to the martial strength of Germany and Italy, they are not inclined to concede that one or both of these nations can dominate the world. In fact the estimate is that either would have a poor chance of scoring victory in a world war for the important reason that in trying to window-dress they have exhausted the resources that would be vital in a war.

On the other hand Britain and the United States have virtually unlimited financial resources. They have the credit necessary to buy what they might require in any part of the world and they are also providing themselves with armaments that cannot be classed as inferior to any possessed by other powers. They are not boasting or trying to terrify anyone, but if they have reason to apply their strength the latter will be found to be quite effective.

If thou desire the love of God and man, be humble, for the proud heart, as it loves none but itself, is beloved of none but itself.—Humility enforces where neither virtue, nor strength, nor reason can prevail.—Quarles.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

MAKING SIX SPADES WITH SOUTH HAND HELPED ECKER TO CHAMPIONSHIP

BY WM. E. MCKENNEY
Secretary, American Contract Bridge League

The National Masters' Individual Championship of the American Contract Bridge League is rated first among all bridge contests, because in order to compete in it a player must rank high on the National Masters' list, and also because playing with thirty-five other Master players once as a partner and twice as an opponent gives a variety to the play impossible in any other contest.

The winner of the last National Masters' Individual Championship was Dr. R. E. Ecker, Jr., of New York, who gained fame in 1936 by holding more sectional championships than any other player in the United States. He was the lone declarer to make six spades on the hand shown today.

One method of play would be to pass the first diamond, hoping to develop a squeeze if West held the three diamond honors and four clubs. West probably held five diamonds anyway, and basing his play on this assumption, Ecker won the first diamond with the ace, drew two

The most unhappy of all men is the man who can not tell what he is going to do, who has got no work out for himself in the world, and does not go into it. For work is the grand cure of all the maladies and miseries that ever beset mankind—honest work, which you intend getting done.—Carlyle.

Girl of 19 Accused of Bad Complexion (Before Mr. Justice Kruschen)

JUDGE: Jane Smith, you have had a fair trial and you have been found guilty of the charge made against you. PRISONER: Y—yes, my lord. JUDGE: Very well, then. Your crime may not have been deliberate, but it was one of serious neglect. You admit that though you do not get enough time for adequate open-air exercise you have never troubled to take steps to prevent constipation. Your complexion inevitably suffered. COUNSEL FOR THE DEFENCE: My lord, I protest that there are other causes. JUDGE: I said that constipation inevitably causes bad complexion; your client admits to the cause and plainly suffers from the effect. PRISONER: It isn't my fault, my lord. I couldn't help it. JUDGE: You could help it and you shall help it. This is the first time a charge has been made against you; let it be a lesson to you that young women may not neglect and spoil the good looks that Nature gave them. Your duty to your parents, to your friends, to your future husband is to make the most you possibly can of yourself. (Here the prisoner covered her face with her handkerchief and was handed a glass of water.) JUDGE: (continuing): You will be placed on probation for 3 months and I order that you drink one cup of coffee or tea, or a glass of water at breakfast every morning— PRISONER: But I always do! JUDGE: (sternly): Don't interrupt! One cup of coffee or tea or a glass of water every morning into which you shall put as much Kruschen Salts as will lie on a 10c piece. You will get rid of constipation and when you do you will never find yourself in your present predicament again. After consultation with counsel, the judge announced that costs to the extent of less than 1c a day should be borne by the defence. "I believe I am right in saying," said his lordship, "that a 75c bottle of Kruschen contains 95 doses. That is much less than 1c a day." The prisoner left the court smiling.

KRUSCHEN SALTS

relieve constipation and rheumatism

Kruschen is a combination of several mineral salts which your body must get, in some way, to keep the blood pure, the inside clean, and the system generally toned up, but which you can't get in Nature's own way without abundant exercise and fresh air. You should have these salts every day; hence the importance of the "little daily dose" of Kruschen in 25c, 45c and 75c bottles. It's the little daily dose that does it.

Attractions at the Local Theatres

At The Granada

"Cocoanut Grove," which opens at the Granada Theatre tomorrow, is the swing-happy and amusing story of how "name" bands are born.

Fred MacMurray heads a large cast of tried and proven favorites that include Harriet Hilliard, the radio thrush, as his romantic lead, Ben Blue, the Yacht Club Boys, Raf, Ben Blue, Harry Owens and his Royal Hawaiian Orchestra, Billy Lee and Dorothy Howe. The focal point of the story is the mecca of all young bandleaders, the actual Cocoanut Grove in the Hotel Ambassador in Los Angeles, long called the "spring-board of the stars."

MacMurray leads a swing-nutty crew of musicians right across the continent, picking up talent here and there, until he finally makes the grade at the Grove.

Both MacMurray and Miss Hilliard play parts in the film that are almost the exact prototype of their real lives. The tall star actually barnstormed the country for several years before he was "discovered" by the movies, while Miss Hilliard, off the screen, is the wife of Ozzie Nelson and sings with his band.

And that is why the new film is different than most musical comedies. It's a down-to-earth, screwy, but at the same time, true story of how swing bands originate.

The other attraction is "Crime School." Films of the Eucharistic Congress in Quebec will also be shown.

At The Premier

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

PROFIT TAKING WITHSTOOD BY STOCK MARKETS

Canadian Exchanges Ended Two-Week Rise in Prices with Moderate Gain for Day Despite Pressure of Traders Taking Profits.

Toronto, July 2.—Canadian industrial stocks have had two weeks of rising prices on increasing volume and have been able to absorb considerable profit-taking without being shaken from their new price level. The demonstration of strength has produced a decidedly more cheerful outlook in the financial district.

Small holders of stocks, having taken down little if any profit in recent months, were lined up on the selling side as the market headed into the prolonged week-end shutdown, from Thursday till Monday but, although Thursday's early gains were trimmed the balance was still on the up side at the close and the market registered its ninth advance in ten sessions.

The week's net gain in the industrial share index was 4.05 on top of last week's advance of 7.33. The present standing at 117.73 is back at the level of March 11th last and down only 9.12 below the year's high, registered on January 15th.

Base metals continued to make some headway upward, posting an index gain of 1.33 in the week but the golds took a loss of about a point. The strong movement of the New York market on expectations of a quick business response to the inflationary implications of the Washington spending programme was more of a support for the Canadian industrialists than the mines, partly because of the more numerous interlistings.

Canadian business improvement also came to the help of some of the industrial groups, especially the paper, steel and construction issues. The Atibiti stocks and Consolidated Paper posted new high prices for the year. Atibiti preferred showing a net gain of $5.75 in a week. Advances were measured in dollars for the Steel of Canada issues, Dominion Steel "B," Dominion Bridge, Shawinigan, Bell Telephone, Distillers-Seagraves and Canadian Dredge and several preferred stocks.

Realizing shaded prices of the big base metals on Thursday without greatly disturbing bullish sentiment, inspired by commodity price gains, especially those of copper, lead and zinc. Consolidated Mining and Noranda held net advances of $3 to $3.25 and International Nickel is up $1.50 in the latest period. Hudson Bay retained a minor gain.

Playing consistent golf in the thirty-six hole tournament at Dufferin Heights Golf Club yesterday, Sherman Peabody, of the Sherbrooke Country Club, captured the junior championship of the Eastern Townships. In spite of the driving rain and water-soaked course, young Peabody posted a total of 146, made up of two thirtysixes, a thirtysix and a forty, to lead a teammate, Dave Robins, by a margin of nine strokes whose 153 was composed of two thirtysixes, a thirtysix and a thirtysix.

DALLAS STEERS VALUE SERVICE OF DAFFY DEAN

Critics Predict Paul's Return to Major League—Former Card Threw Only Eleven Balls in Nine Innings Last Night.

Dallas, July 2.—(P)—So they don't come back? Paul (Daffy) Dean, gentleman farmer-baseball pitcher, is about to wind up his noted ailing arm and curve that myth right out of the park. He's on his way back to the majors—or critics of a Texas League that has sent stars to the big time for years are making their worst guess. While they hold silent prayer over Brother Diz Dean's lame arm in Chicago, the "Daffy One" is proving that he could still be a valuable hand around the St. Louis Cardinal camp. He now is with Dallas.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Outstanding players in yesterday's major league games were: Bob Seeds, Giants—His homer with two aboard beat Dodgers by three to one. Bill Dickey, Yankees—Hit two homers, driving in seven runs, in eight to nothing win over Senators. Claude Passeau and Lefty Lamaster, Phillies—Each pitched five-hitter in double-header victory over Bees; Lamaster drove in three runs with two hits, and hurled five to nothing shutout. Jimmy Foxx, Red Sox—Hit homer and double, driving in five runs, in twelve to seven win over Athletics. Clay Bryant, Cubs—Held Reds to six hits and drove in two runs himself in eleven to four victory.

IN SPORTING VEIN
By Allan Bryce.
Granby Red Sox have a very large following back in their own home town. On Wednesday night, when the Red Sox went down to defeat at the hands of Sherbrooke to the tune of eight to two, practically everyone was pulling hard for a Granby win. The mere mention of the game brought forth offers to place a "friendly little" wager on the result.

The players on the team are idolized, especially manager "Buzz" Maloney and Phil Corrigan. Both are gentlemen, on and off the playing field, and are really the backbone of the Red Sox.

Although admitting that their hockey team was no match for the local Red Raiders the Granbyites feel quite differently about their diamond stars and would stake them against the Hammondmen any day in the week, and twice on Sunday.

Paul Calvert officiated "sur le monticule" as our lads pinned the defeat onto the Red Sox. He is a different pitcher now and takes it easy. In this way he is more effective and will make a strong bid to overtake the high-flying Windsor Mills crew.

Interest in the loop should be stimulated by the addition of this team, and even more so if Richmond decides to operate a franchise.

Greetings to Bill Peake, his able assistant and young campers at the "Y" camp. It is reported the shouts of the happy youngsters ring and echo up and down the shore for miles in both directions as they revel in the excellent weather that has prevailed during the week. The softball games, athletic competitions and swimming meets are popular with the lads, and they all hate to come home when their time has elapsed. Lots of people in Sherbrooke are wondering what has become of "Poor Brodie."

LEADS FIRST PLACE SOFTBALL SQUAD

Henry Klein, who came to Sherbrooke from the United States in 1926, is well known to every follower of softball. He has operated a Kayser outfit in the City League ever since its inception and always turns out a team to be reckoned with in the race for the loop bunting. Right now his team is far in front of the other aggregations and seems a sure bet to take the league honors.

TRIO OF YOUNG STARS IMPRESS AT WIMBLEDON
Eric Filby, of England, Owen Anderson, of United States, and Franz Cejnar, of Czechoslovakia, seem headed for Tennis Fame.

Wimbledon, England, July 2.—(P)—At the end of a one-sided men's singles championship on Wimbledon's courts, won for the second straight year by Donald Budge, only three players who played here during the past two weeks show definite promise of developing into top-notchers.

They are Eric Filby, of England, Franz Cejnar, of Czechoslovakia, and Owen Anderson, of Los Angeles. Filby, who took Bunny Austin deep into the fifth set before going down, is only twenty-one. He has weaknesses that go with this age, but he is volleying at the net and taking the ball earlier than anyone here except Budge, and even Budge has been watching him closely.

Anderson, a University of California at Los Angeles student, came over here for practice and by the time he went down in five sets before the seeded Ferenc Ponce, of Yugoslavia, in the third round, Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra both were watching him and predicting he soon would be playing on the United States Davis Cup team.

riding high in a third-place tie with City Transit and Paton and championing at the big to take a fall out of the second berth, New Wellington combination. They seem to have the smartest fighting team in the league, considering their performances since play opened, and leave nothing to be desired in the way of hitting power. Can Kayser and New Wellington staff off their challenge?

"Given some ability and a healthy body and brain, any youngster can become a crack-a-jack big-league player—if he knows how," declares Mr. Bobby "Wonder Boy" Feller. Feller claims there is plenty of big league material being wasted throughout the country simply because the boys don't have an opportunity to learn the tricks that professionals know. Bobby says condition, experience and temperament are the three big factors in successful major league careers.

Feller advises pitchers not to run in to fight with the umpire every time the catcher turns around to talk to him after a called ball. He learned his lesson last summer when he threw a curve ball that could have been called either way. Pytlak turned around to talk to Bill McGowan, who was doing the honors behind the mound protector. When Feller steamed in to chew the fat with McGowan, Pytlak waved him back to the mound.

The Cleveland hurler learned later that what Pytlak had said to McGowan was just this: "Gee, Bill, this kid is getting better every day. Did you see that curve?" The Yanks begin to look more like the Bronx Bombers of old more and more signs of starting their annual parade to the top.

MCCARTHY SEES AMERICAN LOOP WINNING AGAIN

BY JOE MCCARTHY
Manager, New York Yankees
New York, July 2.—Again it is my privilege to manage the American League All-Stars against the National.

One more I cannot see any reason why we should not maintain the supremacy our circuit has held in these inter-league affairs. The American League will field a well-balanced array in Cincinnati, July 6.

Reliable Bill Dickey and Rick Ferrell give us plenty of catching, with large Rudy York and his big home run bat in reserve. We have a distinct bulge at first base with the home run clouters, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, and Hank Greenberg.

FOOTBALL
New York, July 2.—(P)—It's a long while before the football season but they are already calling for crying towels at Pitt. Coach Doc Sutherland lost seventeen by graduation, and nine of his hopefuls were declared ineligible by the new athletic regulations. Leroy Haynes, negro heavyweight, returned from Europe yesterday after a disastrous tour of Europe. Connie Mack says the Yanks and

Jimmy Foxx Aiming To Shatter Batting Mark

If Boston Slugger Continues Hot Pace He'll Wipe Out Hack Wilson's 1930 Runs-Battle-In Record—Bill Dickey Homered Twice in Yanks' Win—Bob Seeds Starred for Giants.

TWO LOCAL MEN TOP BATSMITHS IN PROVINCIAL
Unless the American League's pitching talent can do something soon about Jimmy (The Hammer) Foxx, the prized runs-batted-in record the National League has been guarding so jealously since Hack Wilson's heyday is going to be wiped out.

Wilson's mark has been in the books since 1930. That year, he drove one hundred and ninety tallies across the plate, and it takes some pretty fair clouting to come anywhere close to that figure. Consider, for instance, that Babe Ruth never made it, and Lou Gehrig, who holds the American League standard, never got over a hundred and eighty-four.

But along comes Jimmy "The Hammer" to travel at a clip so far this season that it indicates he'll pass the two hundred mark if he can keep it up. The Wilson record has been especially precious to the senior circuit, because in the last fifteen years or so most of the slugging standards have been taken over by the American League swat set, like Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri and the like.

Foxx was slowed up for a while in the last couple of weeks, and it looked as if he might not keep up the pace. But since the Red Sox have returned East, he's back in there fence-busting and well on the way to the record, instead of adding five more to his total for the year, hitting a homer and a double to help Lefty Grove down the Athletics twelve to seven.

Despite Jimmy's help, the Red Sox victory didn't pull them any nearer New York Yankees, in second place in the American League. Yanks called on their number one runs batted-in producer, belting Bill Bergeron, D. 96 8 14 3 333

SYRACUSE GETS BEST PITCHING IN MINOR LOOP
Chiefs May Make Things Interesting in International if Beards Don't Pin Their Ears Back.

If the Newark Bears don't pin their ears back in the next few days, Syracuse Chiefs might make things interesting in the monotonous, one-sided International League race.

In third place, two and a half games behind the second place Buffalo Bisons, and twelve and a half games astern of the league-leading Newarkers, Chiefs aren't in much of a position to threaten the Bears at present. But Chiefs, who are getting the best pitching in the circuit right now, have been stepping fast since Dick Porter took over the managerial reins early in May.

They won their fifth game in a row—not counting a tie with Jersey City Thursday—when they walloped the Bears nine to four last night. It marked the fifth straight time that the starting pitcher was still around when the lights were doused.

The Chiefs have been hitting behind the steady flinging and they slugged out nineteen hits to give "Red" Barrett plenty of support against the Bears in the series opener. Behind four to two going into the eighth inning, the Chiefs bombarded Marius Russel off the mound with a five-run attack that was featured by Lloyd Russell's double with the bases loaded.

CANADIAN BISLEY TEAM IN FINE FORM
Bisley Camp, England, July 2.—(C.P. Cable)—Healthy and happy, the Canadian team of eighteen shooting members is all set for the opening Monday of the National Rifle Association's Empire meeting. The MacKinnon match, which calls for teams of twelve to fire at the long 900 and 1,000 yard ranges on July 15, the day before the meet closes, was much better this year than last, the aggregate being sixteen points higher.
