54 Head of Cattle Rescued From Destruction — Firemen save Barn

TOP LEFT: Firemen run hose to north end of barn where the fire originated. At this time there was little hope of saving the building.
BOTTOM: The booster pump manned by members of the Huntingdon Fire Dept. Once this invaluable machine started pumping water direct from the Chateauguay River, the flames were quickly brought under Control. Hoses in the foreground ran up the steep bank, across the highway and into the barn.

Fire that broke out at the north end of the cattle barn at River Bend Farm, about one mile east of Huntingdon, threatened to raze one of the most modern barns in the area for a time early Monday afternoon. Passers-by on Route No. 4 noticed smoke, gave the alarm and minutes later three young men started turning 54 head of cattle out. One milk cow died of suffocation, a diesel tractor was considerably damaged by fire and a large quantity of hay and grain was also damaged by fire and smoke, but loss was kept to a minimum through the efforts of volunteer helpers and the efficient work of the Huntingdon Fire Department. Less than two hours after the Huntingdon firemen received the call, the cattle were back in the barn eating hay.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ruddock, driving towards Huntingdon, noticed smoke at the north end of the barn. They went to the house to warn Mr. Labrie, but he had left shortly after one o'clock to go to the farm of Mr. W.U. Hughes, former owner of River Bend farm. The Ruddocks then drove to Huntingdon, stopping at Cameron Stewart's Massey Ferguson showroom at the entrance to town. Cyril Stewart, Stuart Duncan of Ormstown who was there at the time and Melvin Harrigan left immediately for Labrie's where they went into the cattle barn and started unfastening stanchions. The smoke was so dense they could only see one cow when they first entered. After turning a half dozen head loose, the three lads ran outside to the west side of the barn and broke all the windows there. They then re-entered the barn and kept turning cattle loose and forcing them to walk into the open.

"I've been in the barn quite often so know where things are and I slapped the switches off," Cyril told The Gleaner.

Melvin and Stuart had never visited the barn before. "We didn't know where we were before we broke the windows. The smoke must have been coming from the tractor tire that was burned. It was hard to breathe and the smoke hurt our eyes, it's a wonder more of the cows aren't dead."

One cow was down and could not be roused. Several others were down but the lads managed to get them up and out. Eyewitnesses said several of the animals collapsed after getting out of the barn, but quickly recovered.

Cyril Stewart also was overcome by smoke and lay gasping on the ground for some minutes. After recovering, he went back in and helped to get the manure spreader out. "That was when he burned his hand," Melvin said. "We were together when he grabbed the wheel of the spreader, there was a hissing noise and Cyril yelled." With some persuasion. Cyril showed us his left hand on Tuesday afternoon. It was red and sore looking and he reluctantly admitted he hadn't slept at all Monday night. Stuart Duncan said he awoke several times in the night, thinking his barn was on fire. Melvin said he thinks he fought about twenty more fires in his sleep.

The three young men, and others who also helped, deserve much credit for saving the lives of 54 head of pure-bred Holsteins.

There was a slight delay after the fire station was notified of the barn fire before the equipment was sent out.

Local Man Loses Driving Permit And Pays Two Fines In Court

An accident occurred at the intersection of Route 52 and Fairview Road early Friday evening that resulted in one vehicle being demolished after being pushed almost 50 feet from where it was struck. Stanley Farquhar was later apprehended and charged on two counts, reckless driving and failing to stop after an accident. In court at Valleyfield on Monday, he was sentenced to a fine of $50. and costs on the reckless driving charge; the other charge, hit and run, also brought a $50. fine as well as three months suspension for his driving permit. The second vehicle involved was driven by Mrs. Georges Renaud of Huntingdon.

A Provincial Police car was parked near the intersection when the accident occurred. The officer chased after Farquhar's car and the arrest was made near the Chateauguay St. parking lot. Mrs. Renaud miraculously escaped serious injury.

John K. Dickson Of Ormstown Honored As Outstanding Visitor To Charlottetown

The week long annual meeting of the Dairy Farmers of Canada held in Charlottetown from January 13 to 18 was a busy week for the President, Mr. John K. Dickson of Ormstown. Mr. Dickson spoke on several occasions. His speech to the Rotary Club of Charlottetown was a direct answer to Hugh Garner's dissent, when he referred to farmers as Social Stumbling Blocks and Spoon Fed Parasites. Mr. Dickson's major speech was to the assembly of the Dairy Farmers of Canada and his address as out-going president appears elsewhere.

Perhaps one of the greatest thrills came to Mr. Dickson, when the acting Mayor, on behalf of the city of Charlottetown, presented him with a sterling silver cigarette box as one of that city's outstanding visitors.

John K. Dickson has been unusually busy the past year and many of his comings and goings have not been recorded. We have just recently learned that he appeared on T.V. Romper Room with a farm animal for the benefit of those children who have never seen a cow, horse or any of the animals farm children take so for granted. The animal which shared TV honors with him was a six-week-old calf, the property of little Miss Vaillancourt of Franklin.

The complete text of Mr. Dickson's speech to the Dairy Farmers of Canada at their annual meeting in Charlottetown, P.E.I. will appear in next week's Gleaner.

HELPED BY MARCH OF DIMES

Mrs. Rose Lalumere of St. Antoine had the misfortune to have her leg amputated. She is here pictured in a wheelchair provided by money collected in the March of Dimes by Mothers of the Roval Canadian Legion Branch 196, Ormstown. Standing behind Mrs. Lalumere are Com. Clarence Baird, Com. Hazel Cairns 1st Vice-Pres. of the Ladies' Auxiliary and Com. Wesley Cairns, Treas.

Once again the porch lights will go on in Ormstown on February 3rd. so that mothers may call and collect dimes for the March on Polio.

Many dollars are needed for this most worthy of all causes. Not only do the dimes collected help in the search for serums and other deterrents to polio but braces, shoes and wheelchairs are placed throughout the country for the use of polio patients. The money collected is sent to headquarters in Montreal and from there requests are filled for all needs. For instance in our district there are now six wheelchairs sent to the Canadian Legion and one to a needy patient. A nurse gives treatment once a week at the Barrie Memorial Hospital for anyone requiring such.

The Mothers' March will take place in town on February 3rd, and in the country from January 29 to February 3rd. Anyone wishing to make a donation may send their contribution to Mr. Tom Begbie, Chairman or to Mr. Wesley Cairns, Treasurer, Branch 196, Royal Canadian Legion, Ormstown.

Donations To Date For Mothers' March Of Dimes

Mrs. Anne Cameron, General Convener of the Polio Committee of Huntingdon (Que. No. 81) Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, reports that arrangements for the Mothers' March of Dimes Campaign have now been completed.

As heretofore, because of the seasonal weather changes at this time of the year, the Country Districts will be canvassed during the current week, with the "Porchlight", Door to Door canvass in the Town of Huntingdon being made on Monday evening, February 3rd. (For fuller particulars please see the Polio Committee's advertisement in this issue, which, by the way, is a donation of the Branch and will not be charged to the Campaign).

In the meantime, however, the Campaign has got off to a good start with the following donations being received up to January 24th:

$1.00 — Mr. A. L. Levine, Salon Luce.

Wheelchairs Are Still Available From Rotarians

With several Rotarians on vacation, attendance at the weekly meeting on Monday was disappointing. Plans are progressing for the International Ladies' Night to be held after Lent. One wheelchair has been sent to a Hemmingford resident, but others are available if needed. As mentioned on different occasions, the Huntingdon Rotary Club provides wheelchairs as a local service and there is no charge involved. The speaker at next Monday's meeting will be the guest of Rotarian A. M. Brockman and all members are urged to attend with a guest. Humorous excerpts from the weekly Valleyfield Rotary Club bulletin have been proving popular at recent local meetings.

STILL SEIZED NEAR DEWITTVILLE

Located in the cellar of a farm home near Dewittville, the small still shown here was seized by the R.C.M.P. — O.P.P. on Thursday morning. The owner of the farm, Brian Richard Erb, appeared in Valleyfield Court on Friday and was fined on two counts. Charged by the R.C.M.P. under Sec. 158 (1-E) of the Excise Act, Erb was fined $500 and costs for possession of a still. The second charge was laid by the Q.P.P. for illegal possession of alcohol and he was fined $100. and costs.

The farm home is located on the west bank of the Chateauguay River about a half-mile west of Dewittville. The lane leads off Route 4 through bush and the house is not visible from the highway. Erb acquired the farm about a month ago from Antonio Laberge, who now lives in Ormstown.

Seized along with the still in the cellar were twelve tanks of gas, a small household pressure cooker and some copper tubing. Upstairs in the small frame house several barrels of mash were located and destroyed.

Senior Residents Of Howick Meet At Curling Club

Howick Seniors had their first meeting of the season at the Curling Rink on Wednesday, January 22nd. Twenty-five members were out and others are looking forward to coming next week.

The ladies played bridge, euchre, scrabble and dominoes, while two rinks of men curled and the extras played cards with the ladies.

It seemed too bad to waste the usefulness of old-time trophies sitting on the shelves, so each week the McGregor Trophy donated in 1911 will be presented to the winning rink of the day—provided it goes back on the shelf until the next week. Willie Anderson was the winning skip per this week with 3rd Arthur Kerr, 2nd Melville Kerr and lead, first game curler J. Marsden. Mr. Marsden shows signs of becoming a good curler. He's studying his little curling book, so we wish him well at this new activity.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. J. D. Lang spoke briefly, welcomed old and new members, and hoped everyone would enjoy the 1964 meetings. If you have crept into the Senior Group, don't be afraid to admit your age, but come along and enjoy the fun. Nobody is obliged to do anything. You can play cards, knit, crochet, curl, or just sit and talk and watch the others.

Howick Rink To Curl In British Consols Briar At Quebec City On Feb. 4

The Howick Men's Curling Club had a successful week of curling. Elmer Black (skip) John Logan, Oakley McRae and William Ness entered the British Consols Briar for the southwestern Quebec region.

In the first stage they met Ormstown in a best out-of-three game series. Curling for Ormstown were G. Brunet (skip), B. Poirier, Wm. White and Mr. Dandurand. Results of these games were as follows: Howick, 7-6, Ormstown, 9-5, Howick, 12-6.

Howick then played against Lachute — Art Nobel (skip), Don McFaul, Lionel Rendell, and Carl Rodger — The outcome: Howick, 12-10, Lachute, 11-9, Howick, 8-7.

These games were all thrillers. In the last game with Lachute, Black of Howick blanked three ends to hold last-rock play. With his last rock in the last end with Lachute one up Black made a double take out and won his winning point by measurement.

This win sends Howick to the Provincial Finals in Quebec on Feb. 4 to decide a winner for the Dominion Playoffs at Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Mrs. Winter, of grade two, has been busy raising money for the Junior Red Cross. Her latest project was a doll display which she obtained from Office Overload. The set included fifteen dolls, each dressed in costumes representing life in different parts of Canada. Henry Hudson, fur traders, Frontenac, MacDonald, Laurier and other prominent figures in the history of our country were in the display. An admission of five cents was charged for the students to see the dolls, and a sum of seven dollars was raised for the Red Cross.

On the sports scene, the Senior Boys will play Chateauguay on Wednesday afternoon in Ormstown. On Saturday morning they are to play Gault.

Only two seasons

There are only two seasons in Egypt, says the Encyclopedia Americana — Winter and Summer. The former, lasting from November to March, brings cool air and a little rain to the delta of the Nile; while the latter, extending from June to September, is a period of intense heat marked by a total absence of rain. The in-between months, the Americana informs us, have a little of each kind of weather, but are (without the distinctive characteristics of our Spring and Autumn.

54 Head of Cattle....

This was because Paul Labrie's name was not listed for out-of-town service and it was some minutes before it was learned the service is registered in the name of W.U. Hughes.

The firemen were ready and once permission was granted, the booster and auxiliary truck were raced to the scene with a Provincial Police escort. Rene Roussel's was already on the scene and had chopped a hole in the Chateauguay River a few hundred feet directly across the highway from the barn. Within seconds hoses had been coupled and water was being played on the flames. By this time, the ceiling of the cattle barn was burning fiercely and few, if any, held out any hope that the building would be saved.

Working quickly and efficiently, the firemen soon had the fire under control. One minute it appeared that nearby buildings and even the house would be lost as well as the barn. Some people even moved their cars away from where they had left them. Next minute, while still carrying pails, strainers, etc. from the milk house, people watching the firemen began to have hope. It wasn't long after that everyone heaved a sight of relief and knew the barn would be saved. The Huntingdon Fire Department deserve great praise and the new booster pump proved its value.

Besides Cyril Stewart, Melvin Harrigan, Stuart Duncan and others who saved the cattle, and the Huntingdon firemen who saved the barn, many others deserve praise for their help. It would be impossible to mention all, but we do know that Cam Fiset of Riverside Motors Reg'd dispatched his entire staff to help.

Long after the fire was out and the cows returned to the barn, people were working to help restore order. Some shovelled water, some grain, some pitched hay...others carried milking machines etc. which had been taken to safety back to where they had been... all remained to help, even to getting the tractor and spreader back into the barn.

Damage has not been officially estimated, but is light in comparison to what it came close to being. Mr. Labrie told The Gleaner on Tuesday that he carries $25,000 on the barn and $350 on each animal.

Besides the animal that suffocated, one cow had not been accounted for by Tuesday noon. Mr. Labrie believes the animal wandered back towards the bush after being turned out of the barn. He also reports that the other animals are not eating and is fearful that others may yet be lost.

FARQUHAR, Lester — who passed away February 2, 1953.
Eleven years have passed away, my heart still is sore
As time flies by I miss you more;

As in the hour you passed away.
His wife, Hazel.

In loving memory of a dear Mother and Dad, who passed away, Mother Feb. 2nd., 1944 — Dad Sept. 17th., 1935.
When shadows are falling soft and still,
We see thro' the dusk, as loved ones will,
The faces of the ones who are gone,
And the toil of the day is done.
We think of you, dear Mother and Dad,
But God will link the broken chain,
As one by one, we will meet again.

Martha Baskin, Lillie and Bob.

KYLE — In loving memory of our dear son and brother Jimmy who died accidently Jan. 30, 1962.

Hydro-Quebec Improves Service In Certain Areas

A vast improvement in service involving the power line running east from the Lake Street sub-station in H'don has been announced by Hector Provost, local manager of Hydro-Quebec. The installation of new transformers, changing the line from 4,000 volts to 12,000 volts and underway for a little more than a month, was scheduled to be completed for Tuesday, January 21st, weather permitting. The new line will prevent fluctuation of power in the Wellington and York Streets area and also on the Ridge and Connaught Roads.

In a less technical vein Mr. Provost explained that the new power line is comparable to replacing a one-half inch pipe line by a one and a half-inch pipeline, guaranteeing a continuous flow of electrical power to the public. He also mentioned that the whole conversion had been completed with less than three-quarters of an hour power disruption to anyone in the area.

Good Reports At Annual Meeting Of United Church

The annual meeting of The United Church of Canada, in Huntingdon, was held in the church parlour on Monday evening with an excellent turnout of members.

The minutes of the previous annual meeting were read and approved, after which reports from the following were given: The Session; Financial; Stewards; Property Committee; Women of The Church; Christian Education and Sunday School Superintendent; Hi-C; C.G.I.T.; Explorers; Messengers; Tyro, which was followed by the Minister's Report.

The various reports indicated success and growth within the church. Several discussions ensued, the lengthiest of which was probably about the church organ, which is in need of renovation and repair. A special fund to cover this expense will be set up in the near future.

At the conclusion of the meeting, coffee and doughnuts were served.

THIS and THAT in TOWN

● A Still was seized on Thursday near Dewittville and on Friday a man pleaded guilty to charges laid by the R.C.M.P. and Q.P.P. resulting in two fines totalling $600. and costs. Story elsewhere.

● A hit-and-run accident occurred Friday evening at the intersection of Route 52 and Fairview Rd. Fortunately nobody was injured but one vehicle involved was demolished. Story elsewhere.

● Fire threatened to raze a modern barn about a mile east of the Town of Huntingdon for a time on Monday afternoon, but about an hour after the firemen arrived, the cattle were back in the barn eating hay.

● And now we see that Ste. Barbe has new street lights, accounting for a vast improvement in appearance.

● The mild weather we mentioned previously continued until Sunday. Heavy rain fell on Saturday and by late afternoon there was little trace of snow anywhere. Fact is, grass had started to turn green and we know some farmers, including Ross Irving of Laguerre, tapped maple trees. Ross gathered enough sap to make two quarts of syrup ... maybe the first of 1964? Sunday morning was colder with a biting wind and snow fell off and on most of the day, returning the countryside to a wintry appearance. Now once more we have snow and we'll probably have plenty more before the sap buckets are hung again.

● Two men from St. Anicet were arraigned in Valleyfield Court on Monday charged with theft of two tires and wheels. See elsewhere.

● The mild weather and rain necessitated more chemicals in the town water again last week. Bad taste, bad color, bad smell, but safe to drink. We have it on good authority that never yet has a daily sample sent for testing been returned as "unsafe."

● Outdoor skating rinks took a beating during the "April in January" showers, but are getting back into shape. The Dewittville ice-makers were hard at work Sunday restoring their sheet. Too bad their Saturday carnival was rained out ... fingers crossed for this week-end.

● La grippe, 'flu or what-is-it' is still around, but we haven't heard any more about scarlet fever.

● And Monseigneur David is busy preparing for the 100th Anniversary of St. Joseph's Parish early in May. Did you know this is the 'youngest' parish in the Valley? More about this as we are informed, meanwhile check in the French Section of The Gleaner.

● More and more local people going to Florida, Mexico, Trinidad, Jamaica and other warmer climes ... from Ormstown, Hemmingford, Franklin, Athelstan, Huntingdon, Howick and all around. Seems reduced air fares are making far-away places seem closer. So, the rest of us will stay and keep the home fires burning, pretending we prefer it this way.

● It's happened again: the outfit on the left is for digging wells and the Rosario Taillefer family and tenants on Chateauguay St. are now drinking well water. The drill produced water at 20 ft., but the well was deepened to 60 ft. to ensure a good reserve. A well was also drilled at the home of Mr. Ovide Monique on Wellington St. and at least four other residents are contemplating this source of water.

● Ever hear of a Budd railroad car? We have and we think they'd be ideal for either the N.Y.C. Huntingdon-Valleyfield-Montreal run or the C.N.R. Huntingdon-Ormstown-Howick-Laprairie track. The North Shore likes them, why not our side of the St. Lawrence? And just maybe we'll be hearing more about BUDD cars.

● Our Franklin-Covey Hill-Hemmingford area is becoming known as a ski resort area faster than some of us realize. Why not? We have the hills.

● Speaking of sports, we didn't mention last week that at a recent Ormstown bonspiel we met a Howick lady curler who informed us the Curling Club in her town has members from Chateauguay and Beauharnois.

● Speaking of skiing and Covey Hill, how many have heard of Hemmingford Mountain? We venture to say about as many who have heard of 'Covey's Hill'. And now it seems there are people who believe a certain resort should be called 'Hemmingford Mountain Ski Club'. Certainly the word mountain sounds more alluring to skiers than hill, and this particular mountain is actually about twice as high as our famous Mount Royal that all Montrealers refer to as THE Mountain. And for those who have never heard of Hemmingford Mountain, please refer to Page 173, Revised 2nd Edition of "The History of the County of Huntingdon and of the Seigniories of Chateauguay and Beauharnois from their First Settlement to the year 1838 and revised to the 1900's by the late Robert Sellar, founder of The Canadian Gleaner, later The Huntingdon Gleaner and now The Gleaner." We refer, of course, to "The Sellar History" and we have some on hand for immediate delivery at the current selling price, sixteen dollars. If you have an opinion with regard to 'Covey Hill Ski Club' or 'Hemmingford Mountain Ski Club', drop a line to The Gleaner ... we'll print it if signed by the writer or we'll just pass it along to Carlyle Gilmour, as you wish.

● Still thinking about Hemmingford, we had a phone call from a young man there last week. "I thought you only printed newspapers at The Gleaner. We're coming down tonight to give you an order for some invitations." Thanks, Les, that order is appreciated. And again, The Gleaner prints everything from a postcard to a catalogue, from a half-inch label to a 48-inch poster, including personalized stationery, invitations of all kinds, billheads, statements, ruled forms, envelopes, sales books, sales folders, and on and on, in one or more colors. We also have three salesmen whose ambition it is to give service and satisfaction so we will get your repeat orders. For free estimates, call in and see us, drop us a line, or phone. Clubs and organizations, please remember we print tickets of all kinds, too. When we read of your activities in these columns, we are always hoping next time we'll be asked to print some tickets or letterheads for you. Again, we offer service and quality.

● A former Gleaner employee, Walter Edwards, is now devoting full time to his own photography business. Walt, who was with The Gleaner for a year, comes from a family of photographers and is available for your photographic requirements.

● Although we don't have too many facts, a sports car rally held on Sunday included a number of local roads on its course. Sixteen sports cars were seen in the Kensington-Glenelm-Herdman area at close intervals.

District C.G.I.T. Leaders And Seniors To Attend Annual Conference In Montreal

The Annual Conference of the Canadian Girls in Training (CGIT) within the Province of Quebec will be held in Wesley United Church, Montreal from Friday January 31 to Sunday, February 2. The theme for the conference is "Where Are You Going" and the theme speaker will be Mrs. David Paterson, Immediate Past Secretary for Teen-Age Work for The Department of Christian Education of the Canadian Council of Churches. Mrs. Paterson will present the theme sermon Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock church service.

The National organization was founded in 1915 and the CGIT groups and Provincial Committee started in Quebec shortly after. The Canadian Girls in Training is a nation-wide, interdenominational group for girls whose purpose and concern is on Christian belief, character, attitudes and responses in everyday living.

The First Conference in Quebec was held in the early "Twenty's" and today the movement is found throughout Quebec. The CGIT program has an important role in the Christian Education program of the Baptist, Church of Christ Disciples Presbyterian and United Churches. Girls from other communions also participate. With the growth in the number of members, the conference must now limit those attending to Leaders and Seniors (girls between 15-17). The chairman of the Provincial Committee is Mrs. Colin Campbell of Montreal West; Chairman of Girls Events is Mrs. J. G. McGibbon of Lorraine; and the Chairman of the Leadership Committee is Miss Mac Connell. They and their committees are in charge of the conference.

On the program for the three-day event will be vespers, square dancing, Bible study, programs, project development, Christian living and vocations, panels, presentation of plans for the 50th Anniversary next year, a banquet prepared by the retiring executive of Wesley United Church Women and a Church service on Sunday at 11 a.m.

Assisting with the program will be Miss Margaret Quigley, Girls' Work Secretary of the Council of Christian Education of the Province of Quebec; Mrs. Donald Scoates and Seniors from Chalmers United Church; Mrs. David Paterson; Miss Margaret Mitchell of Otterburn, Provincial C.G.I.T. president and Miss Betty Anderson of Brownsburg, the vice-president.

The registrar for the conference is Miss Barbara Liddell, 2047 Westmore Avenue, Apt. 8, Montreal West. Registration closes January 24. There are approximately 150 groups registered with the Council of Christian Education this year.

The CGIT groups registered from this area include from St. Andrews United Church, Chateauguay, Mrs. V. Longly (supt.) leaders, Mrs. H. Lapointe, Mrs. D.M. White, Mrs. M. Rowe, presidents G. Morris, Jo-Ann Bub, Valerie Smith; from Maplewood Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Gerald Black (supt.) Leader Mrs. Charles Cowell, president Margaret Birtwistle; from Chateauguay Center United, leader Mrs. E. Pappin, president Donna Pasquini; from Chateauguay Heights, leader Mrs. M. Rowe, president Nancy Woodhouse; from the Howick area-Georgetown-Riverfield, leader Ruth Jones, president Sandra McFarlane; Howick United Church, leader, Mrs. O. W. Mattison, president Barbara Logan; from Glenelm, leader Mrs. G. McIntyre, president Janet Tannahill; from Hemmingford, leader Mrs. G. Clark, president Susan Derry; from Huntingdon United Church, leader Mrs. R. Beal, presidents Marilyn Leggett and Catherine Rottensten; from St. Paul's, Ormstown, leader Mrs. A.E. Loree, president Janet McCartney; from Valleyfield United Church, leader Mrs. Allan Molyneaux, president Lyn Riley.

Les fêtes du Canada Français

La fête nationale du Canada Français, le Jour de la St-Jean-Baptiste, prendra la forme d'un festival d'une semaine cette année.

Les détails de cette semaine de festivité ont été divulgués le 15 janvier par Jean Séguin, président de la Commission des fêtes du Canada Français, et Yves Bourassa, commissaire général de la Commission, à une conférence de presse tenue aux quartiers généraux de la Société St-Jean-Baptiste boulevard St-Laurent à Montréal.

Le programme s'étendra sur une période allant du 19 au 26 juin inclusivement, et comprendra une variété d'évènements sociaux, culturels athlétiques et religieux, une chaine spectaculaire de feux de joie la veille de la St-Jean-Baptiste et la traditionnelle parade le jour même.

"Cette année le 24 juin est devenu une semaine complète," a expliqué M. Séguin. Ce programme d'une semaine sera inauguré vendredi soir le 19 juin par une représentation musicale et un grand bal. La représentation, un spectacle de Music Hall qui aura lieu dans la Grande Salle de la Place des Arts, sera intitulée: Salut de la communauté française au Canada-français. Le grand bal, le bal blanc de la Saint-Jean, auquel les dames seront invitées à porter des robes blanches, aura lieu au Chalet du Mont-Royal après le spectacle, à la fois sur la terrasse et à l'intérieur, dans un décor approprié.

Le reste du programme s'échelonne comme suit:

Samedi, le 20 juin, Gala National, spectacle populaire qui aura lieu au Forum et comprendra des concours d'orchestre, de corps de clairons, de chorales et de groupes de danseurs de folklore.

Dimanche, le 21 juin, Messe aux Flambeaux, à la Place d'Armes, laquelle le Cardinal Léger sera invité à célébrer en avant de l'église Notre-Dame à 9:30 p.m. Immédiatement après la messe, aura lieu la première représentation du spectacle Son et Lumière qui aura lieu tous les soirs de l'été. M. Bourassa mentionne que le pageant serait une production spectaculaire d'aspect technique et artistique.

Lundi le 22 juin, présentation en la Grande Salle de la Place des Arts de l'Oratorio de Guillaume Couture: "Jean-le-Précurseur. "C'est la première fois depuis 1928 que ce chef-d'oeuvre sera présenté au long. L'orchestre Symphonique de Montréal sera sous la direction du Dr. Wilfrid Pelletier; en vedette aussi la chorale des étudiants de l'Université de Montréal sous la direction de Fernand Gratton, Léopold Simoneau, Robert Savoie et plusieurs autres réputés chanteurs.

Mardi le 23 juin, Communion de Feux, une chaine de feux de joie le long des rives du St-Laurent s'étendant jusqu'à Baie Comeau et Percé, le long des rives des affluents du St-Laurent et aux différents endroits de villégiature; ils seront allumés à des signaux donnés par le réseau français de CBC. A Montréal même, trois gigantesques feux de joie seront allumés au Parc Jeanne Mance et au pied du Mont-Royal, au son des chants et danses.

Mercredi le 24 juin, les Jeux Gymniques, une démonstration de gymnastique qui aura lieu au stade de Lorimier et qui sera organisée en coopération avec le Rév. Père Marcel da la Sablonnière, directeur du Centre Sportif de l'Immaculée Conception, Yvon Dubois, président de la Fédération canadienne des centres de loisirs et la division des loisirs du Département des parcs de la Cité de Montréal.

Dans la soirée, parade de la St-Jean-Baptiste ayant comme thème: "Le Canada Français, réalité vivante", elle comprendra quatre sections: réalité humaine, réalité matérielle, réalité technique et réalité culturelle.

Jeudi le 25 juin, Banquet National, avec 700 invités au Chalet de la montagne et la terrasse du Mont-Royal.

Vendredi le 26 juin, La Fête dans l'Ile, une fête à l'Ile Ste-Hélène qui devrait attirer au-delà de 100,000 personnes à ce qui serait une des plus grandes danses du monde, et des attractions spéciales comme le plus gigantesque feu d'artifice jamais présenté à Montréal et des spectacles rotatifs mettant en vedette nos meilleurs chansonniers, raconteurs, etc.

M. Bourassa mentionna que des boutons spéciaux donnant une réplique du symbole des Fêtes seraient distribués à tout le monde à Montréal. Il ajouta que les détails de chaque évènement de la semaine du festival seraient rendus publics plus tard.

CFLV à l'honneur

Afin de souligner la participation très active du poste radiophonique CFLV de Salaberry de Valleyfield à la dissémination de renseignements concernant les opportunités d'emploi et sa contribution à la sécurité d'emploi des travailleurs, le Chapitre du Québec de l'Association Internationale du Personnel de la Sécurité de l'Emploi a décerné un certificat de mérite au directeur-général du poste CFLV, M. Jean-Claude Lefebvre. La présentation en a été faite par M. Jacques DeSerres, gérant du Bureau National de Placement de Valleyfield.

Sur la photo prise à cette occasion, on reconnait de gauche à droite: Messieurs Arthur Savignac, préposé aux relations extérieures du Bureau National de Placement de Valleyfield; Alain Truchet, directeur des programmes à CFLV; Jean-Claude Lefebvre, directeur général de CFLV; Jacques DeSerres, gérant du Bureau National de Placement de Valleyfield; Jean-Denis Girouard, chef des nouvelles à CFLV et Gérard Lalonde, chef de la direction du placement au Bureau National de Placement de Valleyfield.

Un pélerinage en Terre Sainte

C'est une chose courante qu'un pélerinage en Terre Sainte. A l'année longue des gens de toutes les nationalités vont visiter les lieux Saints et s'arrêtent un moment pour prier. Au début de l'année courante, un personnage célèbre, Sa Sainteté Paul VI, fit son pélerinage.

Qu'allait-il faire là? Beaucoup de journalistes y ont mis de leurs opinions. Il semblerait vouloir reconnaitre l'Etat d'Israel, ou peut-être appuyer la Jordanie... C'étaient des opinions de politique internationale qui devenaient fort embarassantes et en dehors des idées du Saint-Père. Oui il retournait au point de départ de la Chrétienté, là où était né, avait vécu, était mort, avait été enseveli et s'était élevé au ciel, le Christ-Jésus. Donc visite de prières, de méditations, de fatigues ou de pénitence.

Le pape Paul VI a dit une messe dans la Basilique du Saint-Sépulcre. Il a prié à Bethléem là où est né Jésus. Il bénit la mer de Galilée, il visita le Mont Thabor et Nazareth. Il pria à Gethsémanie. Il poursuivit la Voie Douloureuse. Il marcha dans Capharnaum. Il séjourna au Mont des Oliviers, où il fit l'historique et aimable rencontre du Patriarche Athénagoras. La soirée précédente, il eut soin de donner l'exemple, en rendant visite à un paralytique qu'il bénit et embrassa.

C'est la semaine de l'Unité des églises. Et chaque jour nous invite à prier pour tous ceux qui croient en Dieu. On demande l'Unité avec tous les Chrétiens, la Sanctification des Catholiques, des Anglicans, des Protestants, des Orthodoxes, des missions des Eglises, enfin l'Unité de tous les hommes et femmes dans la charité et la vérité du Christ.

Durant cette semaine remercions le Ciel d'avoir favorisé le Pape dans son pèlerinage et méditons et prions pour l'Unité de tous les peuples dans le Christ, pour jouir d'une paix durable dans notre beau monde moderne et extrêmement riche en découvertes et techniques de toutes sortes, qui manifestent la grandeur et la splendeur de Dieu.

A droite, c'est être à droit

Les lourds vêtements d'hiver qui restreignent la liberté des mouvements portent parfois à des imprudences en montant en automobile ou en en descendant, souligne Prudentia. Pour éviter de glisser avec plus ou moins de difficulté d'un côté des sièges à l'autre on entre ou sort par la portière gauche parfois sans souci de ce qui vient derrière. Ceci est une pratique dangereuse que chaque conducteur devrait s'interdire et défendre à ses passagers. Mieux vaut perdre des instants qu'exposer sa vie: toujours utiliser la portière droite c'est être adroit.

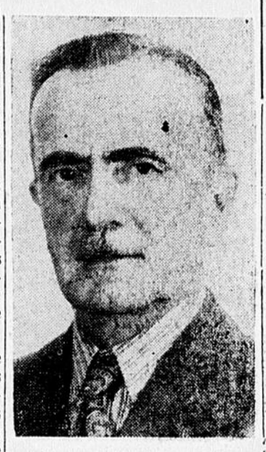

Décès du père du Député du Comté de Beauharnois à Québec

C'est avec regret que nous avons appris le décès de M. Charles Cadieux, marchand bien connu de Salaberry de Valleyfield, survenu dimanche le 26 janvier 1964 à l'Hôtel-Dieu de la même cité à l'âge de 77 ans et 10 mois à la suite d'une courte maladie.

M. Charles Cadieux était l'époux de Cécile Lalonde en 3ième noces. Il était le Président fondateur de la Maison Charles Cadieux et Fils Inc. de Salaberry de Valleyfield. M. Cadieux était entre autres Chevalier de l'Ordre de St-Sylvestre.

Le défunt laisse dans le deuil outre son épouse, ses brus et gendres et dix enfants: Claire (Mme Charles Lanoue); Eugène Cadieux; Victor Cadieux; Paul-Emile Cadieux; Thérèse (Mme Claude Bernard); Mgr Jean-Denis Cadieux, Curé à la Cathédrale de Valleyfield; Rachelle (Mme Gérard Hébert); Bernard Cadieux; Gérard Cadieux député provincial du Comté de Beauharnois; Pierre Cadieux.

Le défunt laisse également 34 petits enfants et 8 arrières petits enfants. Il laisse aussi pour pleurer sa perte une soeur: Mlle Delphine Cadieux.

M. CHARLES CADIEUX

Les funérailles auront lieu, mercredi le 29 janvier 1964. Le cortège funèbre partira des Salons Funéraires J.A. Larin et Fils, 315 rue Victoria, pour se rendre en la cathédrale Ste-Cécile, où un service sera chanté à 10h. 30 et l'inhumation aura lieu au Cimetière du même endroit.

Elections au Conseil de Huntingdon

Messieurs J. Douglas McGerrigle et Gérald Brisebois ont été réélus par acclamation Echevins du quartier Est de Huntingdon, le jour de la mise en nomination, le 25 janvier, pour les trois prochaines années.

L'Echevin McGerrigle a été neuf ans Echevin au Conseil de Huntingdon, période pendant laquelle il a été président des comités suivant: pares, police, eau.

M. Brisebois est au Conseil comme Echevin du quartier Ouest depuis septembre dernier; il a alors remplacé l'Echevin Achille C. H. Picard, incapable de compléter son terme pour cause de maladie.

Dans le quartier Est, deux sièges sont contestés. Trois candidats se présentent pour combler ces deux vacances. L'élection aura lieu lundi, de 9.00 a.m. à 6.00 p.m. Deux des candidats viennent de compléter leur terme à l'échevinage, Messieurs Yvon Leduc et Lawrence Murphy. Le troisième candidat, M. Léopold Legault, a déjà fait partie du Conseil il y a quelques années.

Prêt pour l'amélioration des maisons

Voici un renseignement utile sur le logement. Saviez-vous que vous pouviez obtenir un prêt d'une banque à charte pour l'amélioration de votre maison? Ce genre de prêt est consenti aux termes de la loi nationale sur l'habitation qui autorise la Société Centrale d'Hypothèques et de Logement à fournir aux banques, moyennant un droit d'assurance payé par l'emprunteur, une garantie limitée sur les prêts qu'elles consentent. Le produit du prêt peut être employé à payer le coût de la main-d'oeuvre et des matériaux nécessaires pour des réfections, des réparations ou des rajouts à votre maison. Le prêt maximum qu'un requérant peut obtenir dans le cas d'un logement unifamilial est $4,000; un tel prêt est remboursable en mensualités comprenant un intérêt de 6 p. 100, réparties sur une période d'au plus dix ans. Durant les mois d'hiver, où les travaux de construction sont au ralenti, un bon nombre d'ouvriers compétents sont disponibles pour des petits travaux. Votre banque est en mesure de vous fournir des renseignements qui seraient sans doute utiles pour remettre votre maison en parfait état.

Un alambic a été saisi jeudi près de Dewittville; un homme a été trouvé coupable vendredi à une double accusation du R.C.M.P. et de la P.P. et condamné à des amendes totalisant $600.00 et les frais. Article dans le Gleaner de cette semaine.

Lundi après-midi, le feu a menacé de ravager un moment une étable moderne à environ un mille à l'est de Huntingdon, mais environ une demi-heure après l'arrivée des pompiers, les animaux étaient revenus dans l'étable et mangeaient leur foin.

Nous constatons maintenant que Ste-Barbe possède de nouvelles lumières de rues, ce qui améliore considérablement l'apparence du village.

Le temps doux dont nous avions parlé précédemment s'est maintenu jusqu'à dimanche. Une pluie abondante est tombée samedi, et vers la fin de l'après-midi, il ne restait que très peu de neige. C'est un fait que l'herbe commençait à verdir et nous connaissons plusieurs fermiers, dont Ross Irving de Laguerre, qui entaillèrent des érables. Ross a recueilli assez de sève pour faire deux pintes de sirop... peut-être le premier en 1964? Dimanche matin, il faisait plus froid et le vent était piquant; il a neigé et le paysage à la campagne est devenu plus hivernal. Il a neigé encore depuis et nous aurons sans doute encore beaucoup de neige avant qu'on entaille encore les érables.

La température clémente et la pluie on nécessité plus de produits chimiques dans l'eau de la ville la semaine dernière. Goût, senteur et couleur désagréables, mais propre à la consommation. Nous tenons de bonne part que pas un des échantillons prélevés chaque jour pour expertise n'est encore revenu avec la mention "dangereuse".

Monseigneur David est tenu très occupé par la préparation du 100ème anniversaire de la Paroisse St-Joseph au début de mai. Saviez-vous qu'elle est la plus "jeune" paroisse dans la vallée? Des détails à ce sujet vous seront communiqués, lisez entre temps les colonnes de la page française.

De plus en plus, les gens de chez-nous vont en Floride, au Mexique, à Trinidad, en Jamaique et à d'autres endroits où la température est plus clémente... des gens d'Ormstown, de Hemmingford, de Franklin, d'Athelstan, de Huntingdon, de Howick et de toute la région. Apparemment la réduction des tarifs aériens permet d'aller très loin. Alors nous qui restons garderons la maison, en prétendant que nous aimons mieux cela.

Un ancien employé du Gleaner, Walter Edwards, s'occupe maintenant à plein temps de sa propre entreprise photographique. Walt, qui était avec le Gleaner depuis un an, est issu d'une famille de photographes et est à votre service pour vos besoins en matière de photographie.

Un accident est survenu au coin de la route 52 et de Fairview Rd. tôt dans la soirée de vendredi alors qu'un des véhicules en cause a été démoli après avoir été traîné sur une distance de 50 pieds. Stanley Farquhar devait être arrêté plus tard sous deux accusations, soit conduite dangereuse et manque d'arrêter sur les lieux d'un accident. En cour lundi à Valleyfield, il a été condamné à $50.00 d'amende et les frais pour conduite dangereuse; il fut condamné à un autre $50.00 d'amende pour avoir fui les lieux d'un accident et vit son permis de conduire suspendu pour trois mois. Le second véhicule impliqué était conduit par Mme Georges Renaud de Huntingdon. Une auto de la Police Provinciale était stationnée près de l'endroit où l'accident est survenu. L'officier prit en chasse l'auto de Farquhar et l'arrêta près du terrain de stationnement de la rue Chateauguay. Mme Renaud s'en tira miraculeusement sans blessure grave.

Deux hommes de St-Anicet, Richard Richer, et Ernest Cartier, 24 ans, ont comparu en cour de Valleyfield lundi après-midi. Ils avaient été arrêtés pour avoir volé deux pneus et roues, propriété de Donat Martin de St-Anicet, dimanche matin. Ils ont été condamnés au temps purgé en prison.

Aux Electeurs du Quartier Ouest

J'ai été élu Echevin du quartier Est de Huntingdon en septembre dernier, alors qu'on me demandait de compléter le terme de feu l'échevin John R. Walsh. Dans les mois qui suivirent, je me suis rendu compte de ce que les gens de mon quartier désiraient, et des problèmes auxquels ils avaient à faire face; je me suis aussi familiarisé avec les responsabilités que comporte la charge d'échevin dans notre ville. Si les contribuables du quartier Est m'élisent comme leur représentant pour les trois prochaines années, je promets de donner le meilleur de moi-mêmhe en tout temps et d'assurer à tous et à chacun une représentation équitable. Mon désir le plus sincère est de continuer à servir les contribuables du quartier Est au meilleur de mes connaissances.

Sports Association Sponsors "Bean Supper".

Delson Sports Association held a successful event last Saturday evening in the Town Hall, when patrons enjoyed an appetizing supper prepared by Clark's Co. Thirty lucky people won door prizes, and everyone spent a happy evening. The proceeds of this effort will be given towards the renovation of the basement room of the Church of Ste. Therese of The Infant Jesus, which, we are told will be used for recreational purposes for the children of the community.

H. and S. Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Home and School Association of Greater Laprairie was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 21st with Mrs. H. Jacob in the chair. The president opened the meeting with prayer and the usual business session followed. Mr. A.F. Crummey informed the assembly that a Parent and Teacher meeting is scheduled for Wednesday evening, January 29th. This will give parents an opportunity to interview teachers regarding progress of pupils.

The guest speaker was Rev. Emil Boisvert, who was introduced by the president and spoke on the topic "Bilingualism As I See It". In his opening remarks Rev. Boisvert stated that it is through discussion that we reach a better understanding For many years French Canada suffered from an inferiority complex. In the past few years Quebec has come a long way in the field of education. It is a great encouragement to note that students of Laval are discussing Bill 60 with open minds. Rev. Boisvert spoke about the realization of the majority for cooperation and unity and stated that separation would be the suicide of the Province. Various phases concerning bilingualism were discussed, and interesting opinions and questions given which Rev. Boisvert aptly answered.

Mrs. Jacob extended thanks to Mr. Boisvert on behalf of the assembly and a social period followed when refreshments were served.

Card Party

The Brownie Mothers Committee arranged a "Cootie Partie" which was held last Saturday evening and provided plenty of excitement and fun for those who attended. In the game of "Cootie" players move from table to table thus becoming acquainted in a jovial atmosphere, as everyone did at this party. Girl Guides and Brownies were hostesses, and proved to be quite capable in their duties.

Who has been touch and go? Last I heard, Lynn and Beth had parted company so did Rita and Mike who seemed quite established. Since then rumor has it that Rita has an open heart for someone at St. Willibrord's. Rumor or not? Gary occasionally latches up with Merna but Donna B. wears his ring. John S. was going out with a girl from the Heights until recently. Helene G. is still having a good time but is not tied down at present. Confusion seems to be the outlook towards Wayne and Lynn while Barbara M. got the brush off a little while back. Ricky G. has all sorts of problems. Judy and Ian made a short go on it. Finally, this is a first and last time I will print this: I am caught up in the "going out". The name of the lucky girl is being withheld to protect "ME".

Baptism

At St. Andrew's United Church, on Sunday, January 26th, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dolhan presented their chosen son, Glen Joseph, for Christ's blessing in the Sacrament of Baptism which was administered by Rev. Wesley Ball. Following the ceremony, the child's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Sutton, held a reception to which friends and relatives were invited.

Get Well Wishes

We are pleased to hear that Mr. Georges Petts is now on the road to recovery following a serious operation. George is the brother of Mrs. J. Keen, and son of Grandma Petts of Delson Gardens. Formerly of Delson, George now resides in Lachine.

Congratulations

We extend hearty congratulations to Rev. and Mrs. Winter LeCras upon the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary which they celebrated recently. Rev. LeCras is a founder member of St. David's Anglican Church, Delson where he worked ardently for a number of years before entering the ministry. Rev. and Mrs. LeCras and family are well remembered in this community and their many friends send along good wishes.

H'don Curlers Participate In St. Lambert Bonspiel

On Saturday, January 25, President E. C. Martin and Secretary George Collum were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Newman of St. Lambert and while there participated in the St. Lambert Curling Club Bonspiel under the banners of the Huntingdon Club. It was a reuion, organized by Christie, of the members of a rink which in 1942 won the British Consols Trophy at Quebec and participated in the Dominion championship competition. The members of the original rink were J. A. (Pat) Ross, E. C. Martin, C. Newman and the late J. B. Carr. In the games on Saturday George Collum replaced the missing member of the rink. The Old Timers defeated a rink from Joliette in a morning game 7 to 5 but lost to Ken Weldon and his Caledonia rink in the evening by a score of 4 to 9. At the end of the last game the members of the rink realized that the passing of twenty-two years, and infirmities, had taken their toll.

Pat Lid Competition

In a semi-final game E. C. Martin (Skip) defeated M. Cluff (Skip) and will now play the winner of rinks skipped by M. Duke and George Collum.

On Saturday evening the usual mixed curling took place. The winners of the glasses were as follows: Kermit Aldridge, Jack Elliot, Ruby Middlemiss and Lyle Sparrow, Skip.

At the R.R. Dance last Saturday Joanne Morada won an album plus the fortune wheel which held the sum of ten dollars. John Sonne was also lucky in that he, too, won an album.

The C.H.S. Red Cross Society will hold a Sleigh Ride and Dance at Murphy's Stables on January 31st. The ride will start at 7.30. For information see Bob Kerr either at school or phone him. While with the C.H.S. Red Cross you probably already know that they are holding noon hour dances in the girls' end every second day of the week. Considering the weather we may be experiencing this should be fun.

The C.H.S. Student Council gave the Girls Senior Basketball team $50 towards the purchase of uniforms.

Students are anxious to get their school rings which had been promised for about this time. What has happened, Angela?

Poor Connie Henley, editor of the C.H.S. newspaper, and her assistants have been having trouble getting the school newspaper off the press. However in a personal interview with Miss Henley she firmly stated that the paper would be out before Wednesday or else she'd take a slow boat to China (or something to that effect). By the time you read this Connie should either be smiling or packing.

Teen Town Back!

Yes, Teen Town is back in competition. Things will start rolling in February at St. Willibrord School where a Valentine's Dance will be held beginning at 8.30 P.M. This school has a good P.A. system, is centrally located, has a room for smoking or lounging and a big room for coats. And, of course, you are allowed to wear shoes on the dance floor. There will be top records, lots of prizes and a terrific band, the "Star Fires" from Montreal West. Besides that there will be a new M.C., John O'Hanley and quite possibly a guest appearance.

The A.Y.P.A. is apparently planning to hold a dance at Maple School next month. This is all I can gather but I will possibly have more information next week.

YAK-YAK

I apparently caused quite a commotion last Saturday at the R.R. dance over my last week's comment about their P.A. system. It is at least a consolation to know that my column does get read, even if all parties don't agree. I would like to state that my criticisms of various parties in the past and those that will be dealt with in the future were not or are not directed directly to injure personally but to point what I have noticed which doesn't appeal to me and to pass on comments relayed to me.

Gossip

Since the last time my vicious pen wrote the names of fervent young lovers "much water has passed under the bridge". This week I shall try and up-date the present and reveal some of the past.

Who is still at it? Rex and Lou are quite established, Kent and Karen also. Gary and Diane have been going out for over six months and Bobby and Heidi must be close to that. Jimmie and Sidge can occasionally be seen together at the Centre or a dance. Gordie H. seems to keep company with Marilyn

Official Opening Of Mont Franklin Ski Centre Sunday, Feb. 2nd

We were informed this week by Mr. Gerard Faille, well-known sportsman in this area, that a winter sports centre has been open for nearly a month near Franklin Centre.

A 1,500 ft. by 500 ft. ski slope, large enough to accomodate 500 skiers at one time has been laid out. A double 1,000 ft. T-bar capable of carrying 450 skiers an hour is already in operation. At the foot of the hill there is a beautiful chalet-restaurant with a 50 x 30 ft. dance hall providing room for 150 persons. At the rear of the restaurant there is a repair shop for skis, toboggans, etc. Skis may be rented and a ski school is in operation. Prices for private or group lessons are reasonable.

For those interested in tobogganing, a 500 by 200 ft. slope is available for this sport. The slope is lighted and soft music is played while you practise your favorite sport. Sleigh rides are organized regularly or on request. A parking lot large enough for 250 cars faces the restaurant at the foot of the slope.

The official opening of Mont Franklin will take place on Sunday, Feb. 2 at 2 p.m. Civil and religious authorities will be present for the blessing and the opening ceremonies. Commencing this week Mont Franklin will be open for skiing on Wednesdays and Thursday from 12 to 5 p.m.; Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will also be open nightly for dances, tobogganing and sleigh rides.

Mont Franklin is situated on Route 52, two miles east of Franklin Centre and one mile west of the intersection of Routes 52 and 14.

M. Gérard Faille, sportif bien connu de la région, nous apprenait cette semaine que depuis environ un mois, un centre pour les amateurs de sports d'hiver est à la portée de tous ceux qui s'intéressent à ces sports.

En effet, il a aménagé une piste de 1,500 pieds pour les amateurs de ski, d'une largeur de 500 pieds. Près de 500 skieurs peuvent prendre place sur cette piste En plus, un T-bar double de 1,000 pieds, d'une capacité de 450 skieurs à l'heure, est déjà en opération.

Au bas de la pente, nous trouvons un magnifique chalet-restaurant avec salle de danse le 60 pieds par 30, pouvant accomoder 150 personnes et plus. A l'arrière du restaurant il y a une boutique pour la réparation des skis, bottines bâtons mitaines et traine-sauvages. Il est a noter qu'il y a aussi un endroit pour la location de skis. On pourra trouver également une école de ski pour les débutants dont les prix pour les cours privés, ou en groupe sont très raisonnables.

Pour les amateurs de traine-sauvages, une pente de 500 pieds de longueur sur 200 pieds de largeur est à la disposition des adeptes de ce sport. Il est à noter que cette pente est éclaireé; aussi, une douce musique remplit l'air de ses sons harmonieux pendant que vous pratiquez vos sports favoris. Il a aussi des excursions en cariole qui sont organisées à intervalles réguliers ou sur demande. Un stationnement pouvant accomoder plus de 250 voitures a été amenagé au pied de la piste, face au restaurant.

L'ouverture officielle du "Mont Franklin" aura lieu dimanche prochain le 2 février 1964 à 2.00 heures de l'après-midi. A cette occasion, les autorités religieuses et civiles seront sur les lieux pour la bénédiction et l'inauguration. A compter de cette semaine, le centre sera ouvert les mercredi et jeudi de 12.30 p.m. à 5.00 p.m. et les samedi et dimanche et jours de fête de 10.00 a.m. à 5.00 p.m. pour les skieurs. De plus il sera ouvert tous les soirs pour les amateurs de danse, de traine-sauvage et de promenades en cariole.

Le "Mont Franklin" est situé sur la route 52, à 2 milles à l'est du village de Franklin et à un mille à l'ouest de l'intersection des routes 14 et 52.

Chateauguay Minor Sports Assoc. Appeals For Parents' Aid

by E. Vetland

The current mild spell has created extra pressures on the organizers and players of this season's hockey games under C.M.S.A. The outdoor rinks have melted down to mud in many areas and each district must now make arrangements to reschedule most of the games.

Play-off time will soon be here and plans have been finalized for eight hours of play-off games on artificial ice at LaSalle Arena. The only hour available is 5 to 6 P.M. for the following dates: February 14th; 19th; 21st; 26th; 28th; March 4th; 6th and 11th.

A plea goes out to all parents of boys in the play-off series to give assistance to get the players to the arena for 5 P.M. on the above mentioned dates.

Please help! Don't disappoint your son or your community. Your cooperation will be appreciated by all concerned.

Canvassers for March of Dimes

The 1964 edition of the Mothers' March of Dimes got off to a good start last Sunday when arrangements were finalized and the first contributions were made by the mayors of the three Chateauguay Towns.

Mothers of Chateauguay have promised to donate their time to this worthy cause and they will be calling on you Monday, Feb. 3rd between 6 and 9 p.m. a light in the doorway will indicate a willing heart to do your share in this all out fight against polio.

Please — do your share.

Chateauguay Police News

On Jan. 25th at 11:50 p.m. the Town of Chateauguay Police received a call from Dr. Laberge of Chateauguay Centre asking for oxygen for Mr. Ovide Leblanc, 61, of 14 Jeanne D'Arc Street who had suffered a heart attack.

Constables 103 Gauthier and 107 F. Pregent responded to the call and Const. Gauthier accompanied the Reid Ambulance to administer oxygen during the journey to the Verdun General Hospital.

We are informed by the police apparently it is not yet realized by dog owners that dogs are not allowed to run loose at any time during the year. This is covered by by-law and owners are liable to be fined. Many phone calls are received by the police regarding dogs running loose on other people's property.

Carnival In Chateauguay

Chateauguay will hold its first Carnival from February 2 to 9. The committee, comprised of more than thirty citizens, has formulated an interesting program.

An item which should receive much support from the different businesses, is the opening parade on February 2nd. Merchants of Chateauguay have been approached for cooperation and several of them have already agreed to do their part to make this event a success. The parade will leave City Hall at 1.30 P.M. on February 2nd and arrive at St. Willibrord School in Colonia via Chateauguay North and the Basin. All citizens are invited to participate.

The sale of "Tags" will start on February 1st and last until the end of the Carnival on February 9th. It is hoped that everyone will support this project.

Bonhomme Carnival will visit the merchants... watch his moves...listen to his declarations... encourage his followers! There might be a happy surprise!

As all wards of Chateauguay have been invited to actively participate in the festivities, the committee expects much interest in the events. More details will be published next week.

Chateauguay High Junior Red Cross News

by Riki Stanford

The last two weeks have been bustling with activity in our council, so I think the best place to start would be at the beginning.

Another meeting of the Inter-High School Council was held in Montreal on January 13. Our school was again represented by myself, as Editor-in-Chief of the Quebec Junior Red Cross News. Nothing of any great concern arose from that meeting.

Our calendar sale is still underway and although the official number sold is not known yet, there is a definite number yet to be sold, so please "give with your hearts" to help. Remember, it only costs one dime.

Noon hour dances, sponsored by our council, will be commencing this week at C.H.S. We find that such an activity during the winter noon hours helps to pass the long sixty minutes usually spent by the students in the halls or outside. It also helps the teachers in that they know where everyone is!

The Mayor's Blood Donor Clinic was held on January 24. Members of our council helped the Senior Division of the Chateauguay Red Cross by helping the nurses, attending the doors and doing other odd jobs. The quota was 400 pints and 361 was achieved. Although the quota wasn't met, the spirit was high. I even saw an eleven-year-old waiting to give his blood. When told he has seven years to go, he was quite disappointed! In short the clinic went very well and was extremely well organized. Transportation was supplied for donors and refreshments were also served. I might add, a number of C.H.S. teachers gave their blood.

As a result of our meeting on Monday, January 20, the following activity will take place, proceeds of which are to go to the Special Service Project 1963-64, Children's General Hospital.

There will be a "Sleigh Ride and Dance" at Murphy's Shady Lanes on Highway 4 on Friday, January 31st, starting at 7.30 P.M. Price for admission is $1.00 single, $1.50 a couple. Tickets are available from Council Members at C.H.S. or phone Bob Kerr at 691-0593. All are welcome. Remember just one thing, if we do not get snow by that date (Jan. 31) only the dance will be held and the money refunded.

Due to the fact that the assistant secretary has taken over the collection of taxes and must meet the public in his offices it was decided to make needed repairs to same

N.E.S. Promotion

Mr. J. DeSerres, Manager of the National Employment Office in Valleyfield, is pleased to announce that Mr. Andre R. Morin has been promoted to Special Services Division Supervisor.

Mr. Morin joined the N.E.S. in 1960 and until recently, held the position of special services officer. Mr. Morin's new duties will entail supervision of special services staff, promotion of this service and development of its operations.

Born in Salaberry de Valleyfield, Mr. Morin graduated from the scientific course at Ste. Cecile Secondary School and followed courses in psychology at the University of Montreal, in Administration at the Gesu and various improvement courses in public service.

Under the supervision of Mr. Gerard Lalonde, Mr. Morin will elaborate fields of activity in youth placement, vocational training, handicapped, older workers and veterans. He will maintain liaison with the various organizations related to the labour market.

Well-known Valleyfield Merchant Passes

The late Charles Cadieux.

We have learned with regret of the death of Mr. Charles Cadieux, well-known Valleyfield merchant, which occurred on Sun., January 26 at the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Valleyfield. The deceased was 77 years of age and had been ill for only a short time.

Mr. Cadieux was the President and founder of the firm of Charles Cadieux & Fils Inc. in Valleyfield. Among other things he was a Knight in the Order of St. Sylvester. He leaves to mourn his loss his third wife, the former Cecile Lalonde, ten children: Claire (Mrs. Charles Lanoue), Eugene, Victor, Paul Emile, Therese (Mrs. Claude Bernard) Mgr. Jean Denis Cadieux, Vicar of the Cathedral Parish in Valleyfield, Rachelle (Mrs. Gerard Hebert), Bernard, Gerard, Member of the Quebec Legislative Assembly for Beauharnois County and Pierre, 34 grandchildren, 8 great grandchildren and a sister, Miss Delphine Cadieux.

The funeral was held on Wednesday, Jan. 29, in Ste. Cecile Cathedral at 10:30 a.m. Interment took place in the Valleyfield Cemetery.

Good Response To Mayor Laberge's Blood Donor Clinic

Mayor Joe Laberge reports that in spite of cancellations due to the flu the Blood Donor Clinic held at Maple School on January 24th, was an unqualified success.

According to Bob Jennings, working in cooperation with the Mayor as many as 75 earlier donations were required for the son of Mr. Max Polsky of St. Jerome and for John Mercer of Chateauguay which normally would be credited to the Mayor's Blood Clinic.

The Polsky boy was badly hurt when struck by a car while riding his bicycle some two months ago. After many blood transfusions he is now well on the way to recovery. The call for donors was made by several of Mr. Polsky's friends in Chateauguay.

John Mercer was hospitalized for a back operation. Blood was donated which was however not required. John's many friends will be glad to know he is home again but for a time must have complete rest.

These 75 donations were over and above the 265 pints of blood given at the Maple School clinic.

Mayor Laberge is grateful to all concerned for making the clinic a success.

Heart Talk

In a recent demonstration for the Société Médicale de Montreal, an electrocardiogram taken at Hotel Dieu Hospital was simultaneously transmitted over regular telephone lines to the Bell Company head office. The demonstration showed that a Data-Phone — up until now mainly used to enable electronic computers to "talk" to each other — can also be used to transmit physiological readings such as heart beats, muscle movements, flustuations in blood pressure, etc. Medical specialists located in centralized diagnostic centres could receive such readings over the telephone, and send their interpretations and diagnoses without delay to the attending physicians.

Du Maurier Helicopter To Visit Covey Hill

Arrangements were finalized after last week's Gleaner was published for the CFCF du Maurier helicopter to visit Covey Hill Ski Club on Saturday morning. Hurried phone calls to schools advised that skiing would be free for the day and a number of dignitaries were invited to attend. In the Chateauguay Valley, however, the weatherman failed to cooperate and heavy rain cancelled the du Maurier helicopter flight although a number of invited guests, including Mr. Ian Watson, M.P. Chateauguay - Huntingdon - Beauharnois, did travel to the top of Covey Hill where the weather and temperature is generally quite varied from that in the rest of the Valley.

Mr. Carlyle Gilmour, proprietor-owner of Covey Hill Ski Club, has now advised that the week-end of February 8-9 is allotted to free skiing, tobogganing and others sports. The du Maurier helicopter will be on the scene, weather permitting, and students from all schools in the Chateauguay Valley are invited to use the runs. Hemmingford Chamber of Commerce is lending their support and it is expected that bus loads of children from Hemmingford schools will be transported to Covey Hill. Mr. Gilmour hopes that other schools will also arrange transportation.

The mayors and members of councils of the towns and municipalities in the Valley will be invited and some will ikely be interviewed by CF-F and du Maurier. More particulars will appear next week.

Officers Elected At St. George's Anglican Church Vestry Meeting, Jan. 20

At the 39th annual Vestry Meeting of St. George's Anglican Church, Chateauguay held on Monday, January 20, Mr. Jackson Sheppard was reappointed Rector's Warden, and Mr. A. J. Walker was reelected People's Warden. Other officers elected were: Treasurer, Mr. W. Maude; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. D. Mizener; Sunday School Treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Walker; Envelope Secretary, Mrs. J. Garrett; Senior Sidesmen, Mr. F. Hunter, Mr. A. Curran; Lay Delegates to Synod, Mr. W. Brooks, Mr. F. Berry; Alternates, Mr. J. Sheppard, Mr. F. Lunn; Vestry Clerk; Mrs. F. Lunn; Membership Secretary, Mrs. C. Schofield; Secretary Board of Management, Mrs. M. Little; Auditors, Mr. T. Tremaine, Mr. E. Spencer; Appointed to Board of Management, Mr. A.Curran.

Outgoing Treasurer, T. Tremaine, reported an increase in contributions over 1962, but it had nevertheless not been possible to meet the church loan in full, or make a payment off the rectory loan. After reports had been received from church organizations, donations were made from the Women's Auxiliary of $1381.40 and from the Junior Auxiliary of $25. The sustained and tremendous effort of the ladies was acknowledged by Mr. Walker on behalf of the Parish.

Rector's Warden, Jackson Sheppard, called for a spiritual revival in the parish and expressed the view that St. George's was "treading water" and Christians doing this will drown.

Rev. John Buck reported 56 baptisms, 5 marriages, 6 burials, and 52 confirmations. There had been an increase of approximately 50 families over last year's figures, and the additional service at 11.15 a.m. had increased Church and Sunday School attendance. He expressed appreciation to the Lay Readers for their assistance, especially in recent months.

Particular mention was made of the work done on the Church property by the Men's Group, and the completion of the W. G. Walsh Memorial Room has been a source of satisfaction to the parish. Diocesan obligations for the coming year were accepted, and it was agreed that $10 a month be set aside to be paid off the rectory loan.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the Women's Auxiliary.

New System Of Teaching Mathematics Outlined At P.T.A. Meeting

by M. Fabio

Last week's P.T.A. meeting at St. Willibrord School was an important one. The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Dominic Modefferi, Mathematics Professor at St. Joseph's Teachers' College in Montreal. He endeavoured to explain to the parents the new system of teaching mathematics in our schools; See-in, through Arithmetic from Grades 1 to 6, and Seeing through Mathematics from Grades 7 to 9. This system has been in use throughout the Provinces for the past four years and before that time had been used mainly in the experimental stage. It is now actually taught from Grades 1 to 5 but next year Grade 6 Students will also use this method.

With this new system Mr. Modefferi pointed out that our children are being taught to think mathematically. They are not taught anything unless they know the reason why. Reasoning through problems is more important for the child than getting the answer, and this new system helps to prepare the student for Algebra.

The new method as outlined has three main functions: 1. It prepares children for mathematical research. 2. It prepares them for automation. 3. When they get into higher learning, it prepares them for the laws of probability.

One important thing we as parents must remember is not to try to help our children with their arithmetic unless we understand the new method for we will only confuse them and do more harm than good.

Happy birthday to Paul Poupart, who was five years old on January 28th; Mrs. Graham Mitchell on February 2nd; Mrs. Earl Ness on February 3rd and my dear sister Greta on January 29th.

Mr. and Mrs. James McCaig and daughter Debbie of Beauharnois, called recently to see Mrs. Gardner, on their way to the shopping centre.

It was with great sorrow that I read of the passing of Mr. Charles Petch. While a patient at the Barrie Memorial Hospital in 1962 I had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Petch, also a patient. I listened to him talk and discussed topics with him. One has the feeling you are a better person, for having known him. He gave me a speech he wrote and delivered at a large commemorative banquet I shall keep it among my literary terasures. To Mrs. Petch, who is a wonderful and kind person, my deepest sympathy.

Birthday Parties

Paul Poupart was host at a luncheon party on Tuesday to celebrate his fifth birthday. His guests were Steven Rankin, Debbie Hillock, Janice and Linda Golden, Lola Cherrier and his young brother David Poupart. A birthday cake centered the table and the children enjoyed the refreshments.

On Sunday, January 26th, a family buffet supper honoring young Paul was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. T. Morrice, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. T. Morrice Jr. and son Stephen, grandparents, uncle, aunt and cousin respectively of Paul, and of course Mummy, Daddy and David. A birthday cake centered the table here, too. According to Paul this was a small party. His big party was Tuesday with all his friends. Do have many more wonderful parties, Paul.

Mrs. C. C. Cotton is home from hospital as of Saturday last. Hope you are going to take it easy, Christa and that you feel better.

Ladies are you aware of the free bus service to the shopping centre? You get the bus in front of the Model home at West End Drive and Principale on Thursday at 2 p.m. and Fridays at 9.30 a.m. and 1 p.m. You must cross the street and be in front of the model home — not at our bus stop. — This service is for the housewives, so make use of it.

An enjoyable evening social took place last Tuesday in the Roy's playroom. Conveners for this event, Vera Esdon and Lee Baker, did a great job. There was a variety of prizes and plenty of coffee, for all. A shower gift was to have been presented to Mrs. L. Boisse (Lucille) from a group of her friends. As she was unable to attend the social Mrs. Roy offered to take the gift to her home the following day. Our next conveners will be Mrs. Rang and Mrs. Paduch. There will be a short committee meeting before the social.

Mrs. M. Gardner had a visitor on Monday and enjoyed a card game, tea and refreshments with Lola Cherrier. I don't know who won, but you have to be up early to beat or put anything over on young Lola.

LETTER FROM SEIGNIORY PARK

(by FERGUS HORSBURGH)

STEPHEN FLYNN
379 St. Francis 691-2498

The Town Notice Board beside the ice rink has been displaying a notice of vital interest to all Seignory Parkers this past week. By-Law no. 232, the installation of drainage pipes in Des Grandes Prairies Ditch, for $135,000, has been deposited at Town Hall. This of course in part is the ditch carrying away Seigniory Park's drainage, south of St Francis Blvd.

To become effective, this by-law must pass the Meeting of Electors scheduled for 8. p.m., February 4 at the Town Hall. We understand that there has been a change in procedure in the matter of protesting this or any other by-law. In the past a written petition signed by twenty electors, or two electors casting dissenting votes in person at the meeting, were sufficient to cause a referendum to be taken on the issue. It appears that current interpretation of the Provincial Statute requires that twenty electors must attend the meeting in person in order to record their Nay votes, and ensure that the By-Law does not become effective in default of twenty contrary votes. In view of the importance of this By-Law concerning our Municipal Taxes, home-owners in Seigniory Park may wish to attend the meeting of electors on February 4.

The next regular monthly meeting of Seigniory Park Home Owners Association will be held in the Clubhouse on Wednesday February 5 at 8.30 p.m. The many new members from Northern Development are assured of a warm welcome from their neighbours in Seigniory Park.

I am happy to report that my last Tuesday's minor surgery proved to be just that — very minor. The patient is now convalescing comfortably. My previous high opinion of Canadian hospitals has become even higher, and I am full o praise for the doctors, the service, the food and particularly the pretty nurses How could anyone remain very sick with them around?

Pat Bedard reports tha there are still several va cancies in the Homeowners' Activities Committee's Art Classes which will start their 10—week season this coming Saturday, February, at the club-house, from 9.30 to 11 a.m. Perhaps some parents and/or children have been unduly troubled by the announcement that preference would be given to talented youngsters. Pat Bedard and Keith Strike advise that a more proper statement would be to say that, other things being equal, some preference might be given to those youngsters who are more artistically inclined. In any case vacancies do exist, and applications should be sent without delay to the Activities Committee, 383 St. Francis Blvd. A warm expression of thanks is due the Country Club, who are very generously donating the use of the club basement for this popular feature. It is planned to hold an exhibition of the children's art in the late spring.

The Horsburghs recently acquired what they consider to be the greatest invention since the wheel, — a pair of bellows. It is now over thirty years since I last used a pair — my grandmother's — and it is still such a relaxing pastime to sit and blow up a fine blazing fire. And so much easier, and more dignified, than my former practice of lying face down on the living room carpet and puffing the fire into life. My wife now asks what is to become of all the hot air I used to get rid of on the fire.

Former Seigniory Parker Larry McInnis (now of Chateauguay Heights) was responsible for arranging a further trip for the Homeowners to a downtown brewery for March 31st. This is due to be a considerable improvement on the previous visit, and will be held in more salubrious quarters. Reservations should be made with Pat Bedard, 691-1014, or Maddie Karch, 691-1731.

Reservations are starting to roll in for the adult sleigh ride scheduled for next month. This of course assumes that the recent thaw will soon revert to a more normal climate for this time of year. Still lots of that old white stuff still to come, I fear.

All scheduled hockey games last week were cancelled due to the unseasonably warm weather. It is reported that the Seigniory Park rink stood up to the thaw better than any other local ice, but unfortunately, on the nights that our ice was skatable, our matches were scheduled away. It is hoped to make a start at catching up on delayed games next Saturday, February 1. Writing as at Sunday night, Jan. 26 the rink is now back in good shape, and at the moment, this week's scheduled games are definitely on. Sports Association President Mac McConnel announces that the following weekly schedule will be effective until further notice:-

Weekdays Up to 4 p.m. — skating only, no hockey sticks allowed.
4 p.m. - 8 p.m. — hockey, including scheduled league and house games
8 - 10 p.m. Pleasure skating for all, including adults — no sticks allowed.

Saturdays and Sundays Up to 2 p.m. — hockey.
2 - 5 p.m. — pleasure skating for all, no sticks allowed.
5 - 7 p.m. — hockey.
7 - 10 p.m. — pleasure skating for all, no sticks

Have you too felt that omewhere along the way we ost the first three months of 964 and that April is here? 3e of good cheer. Mother Nature was just in a mixed up playful mood and gleefully disturbed everyone by giving us April in January. As a result, instead of sleighs now shovels and skates, the order of the day were bikes, tricycles, wagons and tractors. As of this writing, it seems that the joke is over with more seasonal weather on its way. But the mild days were pleasant, weren't they?

I hear that many people in our area are looking out their windows and seeing dogs, dogs, dogs! On the loose! For these dog owners who do not know (or choose to ignore) the law, it does state that all dogs must be kept on a leash all year around. (By-law No. 136 of the Town of Chateauguay). So before your neighbours become angry, obey the law and keep your pet tied up Besides the fact that he upsets your friends garbage cans, digs holes in other people's property, frightens children, annoys deliverymen being loose he can very easily be struck by a vehicle, eat food which may harm him, or just wander away never to return.

There are four perfectly good reasons to keep your dog on a leash: 1—It's the law; 2—It protects you from a $40 fine; 3—It protects your neighbours possessions, (children included) and 4—It protects your pet. It is this latter thought that rarely occurs to animal-lovers.

A hearty welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs Ronald Jarvis and two and a half year-old daughter Kathy This family moved to 10 St Francis Blvd., last November from Ville d'Anjou Home town is Ottawa, but they have also lived in that section of the island of Montreal called Town of Mount Royal. Ronald is employed at Standard Chemical Co. in Beauharnois which necessitated their move to our district. Margo and Ronald Jarvis have already become active members of our community. Extend a warm handshake to them and say "Welcome! We wish you every success and happiness in your new surroundings!"

Happy birthday greetings go out to Sarto Hanney of Lang Street who celebrated last Friday, January 24th.

Sunday, January 26th was the birthday of Stu Shearer of Edward Street. Best wishes, Stu!

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Al Round of Ross Street. Pat and Al celebrated their 12th wedding anniversary on Sunday, January 26th.

Two couples from our district decided to brighten an otherwise dull Saturday by going on the night club circuit. During a visit to one of Montreal's more famous night spots to view a tummy-tossing performance, our two gentlemen were persuaded by the M.C. to go up onto the stage and learn the fine art of belly-dancing as taught by one of the dancers. Being good sports, they tried valiantly, much to the audience's amusement. Everyone came to the conclusion that men just don't seem to be able to shimmy as effectively as those beautiful girls from Egypt and Arabia. The residents who proved they can take a good ribbing are Mr. and Mrs. Pat D'Arcy and Mr. and Mrs. John Fedorko, all of Lang Street. Really boys, I must say it is a novel way to try to lose weight!

There was a sour note to the evening, though. An advance telephone call to the night club gave the assurance that the star performer from Egypt would be on stage for the 9:30 evening show. She wasn't. It doesn't speak too well of the club which gets customers there under false pretext, does it? Despite the disappointment, an enjoyable time was had by all.

In our immediate vicinity, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Faust of 15 Edward Street invited many of their neighbours on Saturday for an evening of talk and the showing of slides. Mr. and Mrs. Faust had recently travelled to France and returned with beautiful colour slides of Paris, Cannes, Nice, Pyrannees Mountains and Monaco. Some of the shots showed such famous places as Le Louvre, Monte Carlo Casino, Prince Rainer's and Princess Grace's Palace. Arc re Triumph, Paris sidewalk cafés, shrines of such saints as St. Bernadette and St. Joan of Arc. A most entertaining evening for all of us!

The Keep-it classes are progresing very well but there is room for more. The ladies of the Gardens are invited to attend the sessions given at Mary Gardner School, every Wednesday from 8-9 p.m. Need more details? Why not give me a call?

Elsewhere in this paper you will find an appeal by C.M.S.A. for assistance for our hockey players. Please read it, make note of it and do what you can to help!

Reports have it that Mayor Joseph Laberge, accompanied by other Town Councilmen were to visit members of the Public Works Department on Monday, January 27th. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss plans which would help alleviate the costly flooding conditions which occur each spring.

During the thaw of the past two weeks, the ice broke prematurely and caused flooding in some areas. It is sincerely hoped that effective measures can be taken before this year's annual spring break-up. At least there is the possibility that the future years will see less and less of this frustrating and frightening spectacle

As you know, the residents of the Gardens number about 250. It is up to everyone to help keep this column interesting. You have welcomed the return of this column (Thank you!) but your news is needed. Here are some ideas you can telephone me about: birthdays, get-well wishes, anniversaries, visitors to your home and your visits out of town, unusual hobbies, achievements of members of your family, social news (not of an advertising nature), your suggestions comments on things concerning our area and our town, congratulations to someone or a group on some job well done worthy of public notice, birth of new residents, arrival of new residents by choice. I'm sure you can think of some topics, too. Just a reminder that I cannot accept any announcements of an advertising nature, such as lost, found, dances, bazaars or any of those functions which require the sale of tickets, unless I make a nominal charge. The number to call is 692-2659. I'd be very pleased to hear from you.

A little late no doubt, but our congratulations to Mr. Horace Meode of St. George Street who was elected President of the Chateauguay Minor Sports.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Foley of 182 Viau Street has been like Grand Central Station recently. Their daughter Rita spent a three-week vacation in Hawaii recently with her brother Danny, who is a Cpl. in the U.S. Marines and was stationed in Hawaii at this time. They had a wonderful time. A Foley family reunion was held at Christmas and New Year's. It was the first time in five years all the family had been together to celebrate the special holiday. Danny and Jim were home on leave from the U.S. Marines (the two sons have also spent three years in the Canadian Army) Danny who has been in Hawaii three years began his return trip on Friday after spending a month at home. Rodie Foley left Wednesday morning for South Carolina where he also will become an American Marine. This is Mr. and Mrs. Foley's third son in the service.

Many of Rodie's school chums gathered at the home of his parents Monday night to wish him all the best in his new undertaking and to wish him bon-voyage.

The Foley family attended the annual New Year's Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sobskinski of Montreal East, formerly of Nova Scotia Everything is getting back to normal gradually at 182 Viau although I can well imagine the loneliness there must be in their hearts for their three sons. No doubt they are greatly missed.

Little Graham Kennedy of St. Aubin had an accident the other day which required several stitches under his chin and on his tongue, but the little fellow is doing well and is a bundle of energy.

Baby Gary Schmidt also of St. Aubin was rushed to hospital a few days ago when he underwent an emergency operation. (Gary is three or four months old).

Mrs. Lise Dube of Sherbrooke Crescent underwent surgery recently. Hope you will be well again soon.

No doubt many of you know about the "Mothers' March of Dimes." How wonderful it is to see all those porch lights on to indicate the generosity of those living within. They also mean encouragement to those who are afflicted by this dreadful disease. The Mothers' March on Polio will be Feb. 3, Monday night from 7 to 8 p.m. So put your porch lights on and also, let the light shine forth from your hearts by giving to help provide the care and future happiness to those less fortunate than you and I.

I thought we were in for a real snowstorm on Sunday, but it didn't amount to very much. I guess there were a lot of disappointed people, skiers for instance and I'm sure the children haven't had their fill of snow yet, but no doubt we will be getting a few good feet between now and spring.

My heart goes out to the poor folks who were victims of the flood condition last week. It must be very discouraging, to say the least.

Marion Lange got a bit of a scare the other day. Sandra swallowed a fish bone. It got stuck in her throat and they couldn't get it up or down. Marion had to phone the doctor and he managed to dislodge it.

Mrs. Parker of Labelle St., had to have the doctor in for two of her youngsters, both had the grippe. Hope they are all over it now.

Mrs. David Murray had her father and mother Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Angers, her two brothers, Gilles and Phillip and their wives and children, all from Montreal North, for supper on Sunday.

Best wishes go out to Rene Merette of Maisonneuve St., who celebrated his birthday on January 27th and to little David Sneddon is two years old today, January 29th. Mrs. A. Bricault of LaSalle St., also had a birthday last Friday January 24th. Happy birthday to all of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Bricault and their two children spent Sunday at Mr. Bricault's sister's home in Montreal North.

Helen Randle had her mother-in-law in from Dorion for supper on Sunday and yours truly had her niece and her fiance from Ville St. Michel to spend the day with us, much to the delight of the children.

An Association For The Mentally Retarded To Be Formed In Valleyfield

The Valleyfield Welfare Council under the direction of Mr. Bertrand Breton, director and Mrs. Suzanne Cayer, Head of the Social Psycho-Clinic sponsored a meeting at Le Centre Le Royer on Tuesday January 21st, for persons interested in sociology in the district.

Some fifty people gathered to hear the guest speakers from the Association for Retarded Children, Montreal, namely Mr. Miron, Social Worker, and Mr. Ken. de Jersey, executive director, who both ably and thoroughly discussed this vital need. A film on Mental Retardation was viewed and commented on.

Representatives of both Protestant and Catholic clergy, Catholic and Protestant School commissions of both Huntingdon and Valleyfield, members of St. Ignatius Auxiliary and P.T.A., Dr. Werry, psychiatrist of the Montreal Children's Hospital as well as Dr. Dion psychiatrist in the Psycho-Social Clinic, Valleyfield, Mr. James D. McDonald, president of the Valleyfield Rotary Club as well as social workers and reporters from C.F.L.V., parents and interested friends were in attendance.

The general aim of the gathering was to form the basis for the establishment of an association for the Mentally Retarded, irrespective of colour, race and creed.

An open forum followed with discussions and comments by Dr. J. S. Werry. A nominating committee was formed consisting of James D. McDonald, Rotary Club, Mrs. Suzanne Cayer and Mrs. J. Curran.

Last Sunday evening the Legion team entertained Colonia and came out winners by a score of 4 to 1. Scorers for the Legion were Roger Bisson (2), Camille Reid and Ron Fisher. Abbie Keyser got the lone goal for Colonia. The three stars in the game were R. Bisson, C. Reid and Jim Jennings.

VALLEYFIELD — The annual Burns Supper was held in the Presbyterian Church Hall with a good attendance on Friday evening, Jan. 24th. St. Andrew's Notes

The congregation of St. Andrew's United Church welcomed their minister the Rev. Howard C. Fraser on Sunday with thanksgiving as he took up this duties at morning worship following his recent severe illness.

As in former years on Youth Sunday, the sermon was given by a young person in preparation for a life of Christian service, namely Mr. Orville James Messengers, B. Sc., of Lewisville, N.B., brother-in-law of the Rev. Fraser. Mr. Messenger is presently a Second Year Medicine Student at McGill University and although not a candidate for the ministry is licensed to preach under the Maritime Baptist Convention. During the summer of 1962 he served as student minister on a Mission Field in New Brunswick. Last summer he worked as a lab technician at Moncton General Hospital and preached on weekends to one of the new suburban congregations in West Moncton. A week ago he conducted worship in a Presbyterian Church in the Laurentians.

Church Attendance Awards were presented on Sunday to the following Sunday School pupils who attended church service 40 Sundays out of 50 during 1963: Lynn Artagnan, Arline Balfour, Judy Balfour, Linda Balfour, David Beauchamp, Brenda Davies, Judy Gale, Doreen Gilbert, Tommy Gilbert, Heather Hollis, William Hollis, Debbie Humbertstone, Carla Klop, Neil Klop, Anne L'Ecuyer, Philip Longley, Teddy Longley, David Murdoch, Ross Murdoch, Janet Reid, Donald Reid, Lesley Smith, Valerie Smith, Maureen Woodhouse, Jimmie Woodhouse.

Last Sunday, January 19th saw 245 boys and girls attend Sunday School classes — the largest attendance ever on record. Total registration of pupils in St. Andrew's Sunday School is now 304, including children from the age of 3 years to the teenagers of the Senior Bible Class.

The first of three weekly training sessions for all persons participating in the February 16-29 Visitation of church families was held in the Memorial Hall on Sunday at 7.30 p.m. The Rev. Douglas Pilkey was on hand to provide energetic leadership.

The Young People will hold a basketball game in the Memorial Hall on Saturday at 10. a.m.

A nursery for wee tots is provided during Morning Worship at 11.

Members of St. Andrew's who were unable to be present at the Congregational Meeting may obtain a copy of the printed report at the rear of the sanctuary and are asked to sign when they take one.

Judges Uphold Conviction

A majority of the Quebec Court of Appeal has ruled that a sentence of 12 years in prison and six strokes of the lash imposed on two Valleyfield men was entirely just.

The court, made up Chief Justice Lucien Tremblay, G. Miller Hyde, Edouard Rinfret, G.R.W. Owen, and André Montpetit, dismissed the appeal from the conviction of two men for the rape of a 15-year-old girl Nov. 18, 1962 The men were convicted by jury and the sentence imposed by Mr. Justice Roger Ouimet in Court of Queen's Bench.

The Appeal Court ruled that there was no doubt that the two men, Jacques Bourgoin, 21 and Maurice Leboeuf 28, were rightly convicted.

Chief Justice Tremblay, with Justices Rinfret and Montpetit, found the sentence was appropriate, but Justices Owen and Hyde in dissenting opinions, advised that the sentences should be reduced

The 15-year-old girl was seized from the street near her Rosemount home by the two men and driven to Valleyfield where she was raped repeatedly.

Mr. Justice Ouimet in imposing the sentence said the brutality used and the seriousness of the crime must be taken into account and he felt no pity for the two men. He added this was the first time in his life that he had recommended that the lash be imposed.

Mr. Justice Montpetit, who wrote the notes for the majority opinion of the Appeal Court, said that according to Art. 533 it was necessary to take into account whether the punishment fitted the crime, and he said under the circumstances the punishment was eminently just.

He also added he was taking into account that both men had previous records.

In his minority views, Mr. Justice Hyde said he felt 12 years was unnecessarily long and recommended the sentence of imprisonment be reduced to six years, along with the lash as previously recommended.

Mr. Justice Owen recommended that the sentence be reduced to six years without the lash. — Montreal Star.

Editorial Notes...

A Great Accomplishment

A few years ago a wall was erected in Berlin to divide East and West portions of that city. On the one side the people were Communist governed, while on the other a democratic form of Government held sway. On each sides of the wall were people who had relatives and loved ones. However, they were kept apart and if they dared to try to cross the wall they stood in danger of losing their lives. In the past walls have been built around cities but mostly these were for protective purposes and not to separate or forbid anyone to pass by them. Even in the City of London, England, part of an old Roman wall still stands, which enclosed that city.

These walls are visible walls, can be seen felt and known. But years ago an invisible wall was built which divided religious denominations and kept them entirely apart. When actually the aim of Christian teachings is to draw together, to unite as one in common bond with one purpose of being followers of Christ. We are speaking now of the division which was made between followers of the Roman Catholic Religion and those of various forms of the Protestant Faith. We do not believe that Christ intended his teachings should be used to divide — they were intended for all Christians to band them together. However the clevage did come about.

Just recently at Christmas time the Berlin wall was opened and citizens from either sides were allowed to pass through on special permits. There were joyful reunions and then sad departures as once again the wall was closed.

In this area just two weeks ago, we witnessed the opening of the invisible wall that has divided peoples of religious faiths for years. Right here in our own midst we witnessed the peoples of the Roman Catholic Faith and those of the Protestant Faith praying together in common bond to the one God known to Christians.

We believe this to be a tremendous accomplishment and one which will probably have excellent results in the days to come. In view of the trend in Quebec today, we feel that this bonding of the two faiths in common prayer should go a long way toward settling many of the differences which arise. If we can pray in harmony, we can live in harmony. It is the true Christian spirit of one God, no matter the approach which is made — the aim is the same.

We believe that at last some real achievement is being made and such teamwork should be a weapon against the inroads of Communism. It will be noted that much gain is being made by that ideology in the past few weeks in various parts. If Christianity is to be our goal — then all Christians must present a United Front. A start has been made let us keep it going forward.

It's Everyone's Duty

A Picture of a still seized in the raid of a local farm home appears on the front page of this week's Gleaner. The still was small (it and other evidence has since been destroyed by the authorities) and only capable of producing from two to five gallons of alcohol per day and was the type known as a "pot" still. Inexpensive to make and operate, it appeared crude and harmless.

However, this type of still is a potential killer. Alcohol produced from a pot still is quite often not properly rectified and is dangerous. Bad alcohol if consumed in small quantities may make a person sick, but larger quantities produce swelling of the hands, face and other parts of the body and can be the cause of blindness, even death. While there is no proof that other stills exist in the area, large or small, there probably are some in operation, and they too are potential killers. If anyone is aware a still is being operated, or suspects it, he would be doing his fellow-man a service by reporting the information to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Quebec Provincial Police.

Also, every still in operation is cheating our governments of tax revenue and thereby cheating all of us. A small pot still is capable of producing 40 to 50 overproof alcohol; the operator then dilutes or "cuts" this by adding five parts of water to one of overproof; this is then used for home consumption or sold. Each gallon represents a loss to the Federal government of about $22. in tax money and about the same to the Provincial government in tax and profit derived from sales through Quebec Liquor Stores.

To derive tax benefits and safeguard health and lives, it is the duty of every honest citizen to report suspicion or knowledge of the illicit manufacture of alcohol.

Support A Worthy Service

THE War Amputations of Canada Key Tag Service has been serving Canadians since 1946. Through the years it has become nationally recognized as a needed public service. It has also been nationally approved as the "self-help" project of Canada's war limbless. Forty members of the Association, which consists entirely of those who have lost a limb or complete evesight in the fighting services, enjoy year-round employment in a workshop in Toronto making and shipping these key tags.

This month two million Quebec motorists will be receiving or have already received two miniature car license tags in the mail. During the next five months nine million other Canadians will also be receiving them. Two tags are enclosed one for each set of keys. There is no obligation but you are asked to enclose 35 cents (60 cents for the duplicate set) in the return envelope supplied. By so doing and attaching the tag to your key chain you will be protecting yourself against the loss of your keys. Last year 11,209 sets were recovered. Of these 2,112 were returned to Quebec drivers. 78,745 sets have been returned since the start of the service eight years ago.

The finder of the keys simply drops them into the nearest mailbox. They are sent to the office of the Association where they are identified and returned to the owner promptly at no cost whatsoever.

It is difficult to ascertain when these tags will come in useful. For example, following the disastrous air crash at Ste. Thérèse last November the finding of one of these war amps key tags helped to identify one of the victims.

May we urge all car owners to make their remittance without delay. It is the prompt receipt of these small yearly sums that make this service possible. Every cent of profit goes to the seriously war disabled. No commercial firm or interest participates in any way. Primarily the money is used to maintain the workshop in Toronto. The balance goes toward the benevolent work of nineteen War Amputation Branches across Canada where the local needs of war amputees in job placement, social services, specialized recreation and other benevolent work are looked after. A further share of the profits is used for the National Programme of rehabilitation and after-care for war amputees; aid to their widows, orphans and dependents; artificial limb research and liaison work for the benefit and guidance of civilian amputees.

The War Amputations of Canada Key Tag Service is worthy of public support. The cost is small but the potential assistance to be derived is great. Can you be counted on to avail yourself of this service? We sincerely hope so.

AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS MEMBER

SUGAR and SPICE

By Bill Smiley

This week I'm supposed to speak to our honor students and their parents, at a banquet. Dull topic: "Good Reading Habits."

Choice of speaker was a hilarious piece of miscasting. I think I can state, not proudly, but with little fear of contradiction, that my personal reading habits are the most atrocious in Canada, maybe the world.

Thirty-five years ago, my mother was saying anxiously "Billy Smiley, you'll be blind before you're 15 if you don't stop reading in dark corners!"

Well, I ain't blind yet, and I'm still reading in dark corners. Not to mention bright corners, on trains planes and ships, in bath rooms, libraries and restaurants, before breakfast and after going to bed, walking to work or watching television.

By the time I was ten, I had barreled through the Rover Boys, the Tom Swift series, the Horatio Alger pap and was gnawing on the massive historical novels of G.A. Henty. By 15, I had gobbled Zane Grey and Max Brand, along with most of the detective stories available.

At about 16, I was devouring books, historical political, travel and biographical, with wild, swinging excursions into the fiction of Dickens and Defoe, Poe and Proust, at the rate of about one-and-a-half volumes a day.

Then came the acquaintance with Hemmingway, Thomas Wolfe and Evelyn Waugh, with heroes haunted, wild, and sophisticated. Heady stuff for a teen-ager. Then came the war.

While the other pilots played cards, or talked about the girl they met in the pub last night, I read.

The real book fiend, lost beyond recall, never reads anything remotely connected with real life, as it's being lived. He's a pure escapist.

If he lives on the prairies, he reads about the sea, or mountain climbing. If he lives in a fishing village, he reads westerns. If he's a shy boy, he reads about bold men. If he's a detective, he reads love stories. If he's a politician, he reads about detectives. If he's making history, he reads romance. If he's in the middle of a love affair, he reads war novels.

The alcoholic and the drug addict will sink pretty low, when money runs out. They will lie and cheat and steal to get the goods. The alcy will drink shaving lotion, rubby-dub, or put a tin of canned heat through a loaf of bread to get a smash. The dope addict will resort to prostitution or armed robbery to obtain a fix.

This is kid stuff. A book fiend, when cut off from sources, will sink to unspeakable degradation. It begins when he picks up discarded newspapers. Next thing you know he's avidly perusing public signs, match books, and empty toothpaste tubes.

But that's only the beginning. One day in Algiers, just after the war, I met an old air force friend, a Sikh, from India. He was a book fiend, as I knew. One look at his red-rimmed, vacant eyes announced it. He was leading an old lady by the hand.

Asked him where he was going, who she was. Turned out she was his aged mother. He was on his way to the slave market. "I know what you think," he slavered, "but I can't help it. I gotta getta book."

I heard later he got $19 for her. Or, to put it in realistic terms — 38 pocket novels.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY MR. WALKER RILEY

"Country Notebook" by Mr. Walker Riley, Agricultural Extension Specialist with Macdonald College, appears in The Gleaner with this edition. The column will be a weekly feature which we trust will be of interest to all in the Chateauguay Valley.

I have just come back from two days in Argenteuil County. A most promising development is taking place there.

A team of special agronomists, working out of St. Eustache, is setting up Quebec's first farm management associations. Experience gained from the pilot project there will be used to form new associations in neighbouring counties. In time, every agricultural county in the province may have the chance to develop one.

For Argenteuil, Ls. Ph. Thibodeau has been engaged as the first full-time Farm Management Officer. Enrollment in the initial group will be limited to sixty farms.

The first year will be spent in setting up a good bookkeeping system and analysing individual farm programs.

In the second year there should be enough information collected to work out a long term plan for each farm. Through group meetings, and from individual calls, each farm owner will receive the information and the help necessary to make management decisions.

By comparison with the group average, each will be able to spot the weaknesses in his own program.

Mr. Thibodeau will be able to call for specialized help from the team of agronomists at St. Eustache. G. Tremblay co-ordinates the Farm Management work. Jean Perron looks after livestock problems, and Paul Vezina field crops.

These men, on the staff of Oka before the agricultural school there moved to Laval University, are now with the Quebec Department of Agriculture Soils and farm plans are looked after by Gustave Ouellette who works out of St. Jerome.

Florent Morency, regional inspector in the fifteen counties of District 5, is very hopeful that this new pro-gram will help meet the challenge of the revolution in agriculture.

If you live in Argenteuil, and are interested, get your application in soon to Mr. Thibodeau at the agronome's in Lachute. If you are in one of the other counties, it is a project well worth watching.

This business of farm management has really come to the front in the past few years. Most provinces in Canada and many of the States are giving it top priority in their agricultural programs.

And little wonder. There are plenty of figures to show that the cost-price squeeze is very real.

A dairy farmer has to sell almost three times the value of goods as he did twenty years ago to make the same income. In the poultry business, it used to take eight hours work to market 100 pounds of broilers. Now it can be done in one hour.

If we don't adjust to these remarkable changes, someone else will get the business.

If you are one of the forty farms in Macdonald College's pioneer electronic accounting project, make a note of this. The computer centre has set a deadline for processing 1963 accounts. So send in a record of your December sales and expenses before February 5.

There will be an inventory questionnaire to fill out also before the analysis of your year's business can be done. These forms, together with renewal application and 1964 code book, are in the mail.

A few more new accounts will be accepted this year. The cost for the average farm is about $35. You send in a simple statement of the week's transactions; the information is punched on a card, and the machines do the rest.

You get back a monthly statement showing totals to date in each section of your business — milk sold, calf feed bought, gas used, or what have you. At the end of the year, there is an analysis of the farm business.

Ever pay a quarter to get shaken up? I did, out of pure curiosity. The room in the motel where I stayed over at Lachute was equipped with an electric bed shaker. It is supposed to put you to sleep; it claims that "magic fingers will waft you into dreamland". The inventor should try riding a steel-wheeled tractor for half a day.

Ormstown Curlers Do Well

Ormstown curlers stole the show at Quebec's annual bonspiel which was held last week in Quebec City. Of the seven trophies which were up for competition three of these went to Ormstown and a fourth was won by a former Ormstown resident.

W.G. McGerrigle won the Holt Renfrew Trophy last Wednesday when he skipped his rink to victory. John M. Darby, formerly of Ormstown and skip with the Montreal St. George rink, captured the Citadel Trophy on Thursday. On Friday afternoon Fred Soucy clinched the city of Quebec Trophy and on Saturday J.L.C. McGerrigle skipped the Ormstown four to another victory winning the Garrison Trophy.

Where Was it?

It took a post card four years to come from Constable, N.Y. to Huntingdon, a distance of seventeen miles. In the fall of 1934 a Canadian visiting his daughter in Constable wrote to J.L. Pelletier, Huntingdon County Agronome. A short while ago Mr. Pelletier received the card. A few days afterwards he met the sender of the card on the street and spoke of the card he had just received.

Just where had the post card been hiding?

Celebrating 55th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hampson are today celebrating the 55th anniversary of their marriage. They are one of the oldest couples in Huntingdon and have lived here since their marriage. Immediate friends and relatives will gather at their home this evening to honour the couple on this occasion.

Spring VS Winter

On Jan. 19 an Ormstown citizen picked a bunch of pussy willows giving a promise of spring. However the cold, stormy weather and heavy snowfall of the last two days does not show an early fulfilment of the promise.

Report From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Cabinet changes, a revamped approach to the proposed Canada Pension Plan, and details of a $500,000,000 hydro power deal made last week a period of great political significance.

The changes in Prime Minister Pearson's cabinet ranged over a wide area.

He brought three new ministers into his team of departmental administrators. He also juggled the jobs of six other ministers and unveiled plans for the overhaul of the government's financial-control machinery and of the agriculture department.

The three new ministers to assume posts February 3, are Maurice Sauve, 40, Yvon Dupuis, 37, and Senator John Connolly, 57.

Mr. Sauve, MP for Iles-de-la-Madeleine, starts off a forestry minister and eventually will take a proposed new protfolio as minister of rural development and Forestry in a planned merger of the agriculture and forestry departments. Agriculture Minister Harry Hays, 54, will continue in his present post in the dual-purpose department.

Mr. Dupuis, MP for St. Jean-Iberville-Napierville, becomes minister without portfolio. Senator Connelly of Ottawa assumes the dual post of government leader in the Senate and minister without portfolio. He replaces Senator W. Ross Macdonald, 72, of Brantford, Ont., who is resigning both posts.

Two other vacancies resulted from the appointment of Justice Minister Chevrier to the post of Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain and of Postmaster-General Azellus Denis to the Senate.

Other Changes

Mr. Pearson's other changes coupled reorganization of cabinet responsibilities with switches in portfolio for the following senior ministers:

Immigration Minister Guy Favreau, 46, to justice minister and the tough job of government house leader.

State Secretary J. W. Pickersgill, 58, now government house leader, to transport.

Transport Minister George Mcllraith, 55, to president of the Privy Council and eventually a new portfolio of president of the treasury Board.

Privy Council President Maurice Lamontagne, 46, to secretary of state, assuming responsibilities for certain cultural agencies of government.

Forestry Minister John R. Nicholson, 62, to postmaster-general.

Minister without portfolio Rene Tremblay, 41, to immigration minister.

The changes left the size—26—of the cabinet unchanged as well as the geographical representation. It cut the average age of cabinet members by two years to 50.7. Mr. Pearson is oldest at 66.

Opposition leader Diefenbaker described the changes as insignificant and said Mr. Pearson had found it difficult "to make something better out of nothing much."

Reduce Benefits

The Government's retirement-pension scheme was remodeled to meet provincial demands. The effect was to make the maximum monthly benefit $75 instead of $100 and to boost contributions slightly.

The plan, to be submitted to Parliament this year, covers some 7,000,000 Canadian employees who are residents of all provinces except Quebec. These employees and their employers will split the cost of contributions into the plan — two per cent of an employees earnings up to $4,500 a year, or an annual payment of up to $90, for at least the first years of the plan's operation.

What the employee gets is a pension of a maximum $75 a month at age 70 if he has contributed at least 10 years.

The plan does not apply to Quebec, which is developing its own scheme. It won't be compulsory for the self-employed, members of the armed forces or for employees of business where it would be difficult to administer. Self-employed persons may join voluntarily but must pay the full two-per cent contribution on their own.

Main result of the change is to provide for rapid build-up of reserves in the fund of employer-employee contributions to $2,560,000,000 plus interest after 10 years. This is more than 10 times the reserve under the original plan.

Ottawa would make half this reserve available for investment in provincial bonds on a level proportionate to the province's contribution. This feature was seen as especially alluring to Ontario, whose participation in the federal plan has not yet been guaranteed although the federal government cannot go ahead without Ontario participation.

B.C. Profits

The big news about details of the Columbia River treaty provisions made public after the Washington signing witnessed by Mr. Pearson and President Johnson was that British Columbia gained about $100,000,000 in revisions of the original 1961 treaty.

The province's benefits for its share of extra power generated in the United States through construction of dams in Canada will amount to at least $501,00,000 by 1973.

The cash is for B.C.'s 30-year advance sale of its share of the power. The province would get $274,300,000 in a lump-sum advance next October 1. Additional payments would bring B.C.'s cash payment to $344,400,000 in Canadian funds.

Interest earnings on the money while B.C. goes ahead with stages of construction of the three dams involved will make the difference.

By the time the dams are built at a cost of $447,700,000 B.C. should have $53,400,000 left over for generating machinery at Mica Creek.

Fisheries Meeting

The federal-provincial fisheries conference ended five days of closed talks Friday with a pledge to design a national development program that would bring Canadian fishermen the same benefits given to farmers.

No details were set out, but the conference's final communique referred to general agreement on the need for improved credit facilities, research, exploration and technical training.

The first stage of the program may be presented to parliament later this year. It could take five years or more to get the whole program developed.

Letter To The Editor

The Huntingdon Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Que

Gentlemen:

I want to congratulate you for your editorial in the Jan. 15 issue of The Gleaner in which you stressed the importance of the farmer. I also wish to thank you for introducing "Country Notebook" by Walker Riley as a regular feature.

I read his article with interest but to his question "Why should we not be optimistic for the year to come?" I would like to say this — even if the chances are that an improvement is expected on the milk market for the coming year, the price gap between the cost of production and the price paid to the farmer is too great. The rise in the price of milk in one year will never reach the cost of production, although I wish this was not true. Farmers will still have to produce milk at a loss. It is obvious that Mr. Country Notebook has not produced milk in this area for the last six or seven years. Otherwise he would not ask such a question.

Hoping that Mr. Riley will not be too upset with my views, I remain.

Yours truly,
André Billette

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC, (CP) — Unlikely as it seems, authors of text books now have something in common with those who sell land to school boards — their profit is somethimes just a wee bit high, and sometimes they are members of the purchasing body.

A Royal Commission reported this week that its inquiry disclosed "a stunning number of conflicts of interest" at different levels in Quebec's education system.

The report recommended creation of a Book Business Control Board and repeal of legislation approved two years ago and designed to aid publishers and authors in the province.

Commissioner Maurice Bouchard ,an economics professor at the University of Montreal, found that authors had been paid nearly $1,500,000 in royalties for works approved by education groups on which they sat.

There were 19 authors of school books issued since 1955 who were members of public bodies that approve texts for classrooms. The report also named five religious communities that publish text books and whose members-authors were on the body approving the texts.

The report said that 75 per cent of the publishers in the province are taking too large a profit. One house, Le Centre de Psychologie et de Pedagogie in Montreal, accounted for 47 per cent of books approved where there was conflict of interest.

The report said that nearly all the conflict of interest cases began after Roland Vinette became secretary of the Education Council.

Before joining the council he had been manager of Le Centre de Psychologie et de la Pedagogie "which sort of holds the monoply in the conflicts of interest."

As an author with a conflict of interest, Mr. Vinette was listed in the report as having received $3,400 in royalties.

Highest amount listed was $199,781 which went to Pierre Dagenais, author of five geography texts and a member of the approving committee at the same time.

Jean-Marie Laurence, now assistant director-general of the Normal School Service in the Public Education Department, was reported to have made $199,239 in royalties for a series of French Grammar texts and workbooks going back to 1957.

Other government officials charged with involvement in conflict of interest cases were Gerald Filteau, technical adviser in the Department of Education, and Cecile Rouleau, a secretary of the Roman Catholic section of the Department.

Cultural Affairs Minister Geroges Lapalme tabled the 250-page report but the Cabinet hadn't read it and there was no immediate comment upon it. However, its detailed suggestions on how to avoid conflict of interest are expected to cut the cost of text books when Quebec gets an education Ministry.

Mr. Bouchard said that if proper guides had been followed, Quebec taxpayers could have been saved more than $1,250,000 where school book costs were concerned last year.

Interesting Experiences Related By A. S. Hayes

Since leaving home in late November of 1962, I have had a varied and extensive trip across country. Taking a jet plane at Dorval Airport in Montreal, I arrived at Lethbridge, Alberta in four hours time, after a smooth and pleasant flight; then on to Butte and Dillon, Montana where I remained for several months with my sister, Mrs. Lorenzo Cushing. In July, 1963 it was my pleasure to visit the Calgary Stampede the largest rodeo on the North American Continent. Here, the Blackfoot Indians were much in evidence. One hundred of them, bedecked with feathers and all their colorful regalia, rode their ponies in the parade. It was really quite unique. From there, I journeyed to Edmonton Exhibition. The parade depicted the Klondike days and prospectors equipped with their picks, shovels frying pans and dog trains were featured. Klondike Kate was there and even the Hillbillies were not left out. A hundred and fifty thousand spectators lined the streets to watch the parade. I proceeded to Lethbridge and Regina's anniversary fair where the grounds were thronged with merry-makers; for everyone was in a happy mood, as only Westerners can be, with the prospect of a bumper crop of wheat in the offing. It was exciting to attend the racetrack where some of the fastest horses in Canada and the United States were participating. From Regina, I boarded a plane for Butte, Montana and flying over the Rockies was indeed quite an experience.

On December 5th., I landed in California to spend the holidays and winter season with my niece, Mrs. Marjorie Williams Watson, and friends in San Diego. On New Year's Day, we drove to Pasadena to view the 77th Annual Tournament of Roses. With the sun breaking through early, it assured us of a clear beautiful day, with a temperature of 85 degrees. Promptly at 8:45 Pacific time, the Grand Marshal, Dwight D. Eisenhower, gave the order which sent the river of floats marching bands and equestrian units moving north on Orange Grove Avenue. It would be hard to pick out one float more beautiful than the others but the one that impressed me greatly was "Paul Revere's Ride". I wish Dave McCoy could have been here to have seen those beautiful horses. There were sixty-two floats in the parade and some were covered with as many as three hundred and fifty thousand blossoms at a cost of ten thousand dollars per float. The display of gorgeous color is an unforgettable spectacle and beyond my ability to describe; well worth journeying many miles to see.

After a pleasant visit with relatives in Thousand Oaks the next day found us on our way to Disneyland often called "Magic Kingdom" of which I will deal with quite briefly. One could choose a buggy ride through the grounds, a monorail ride to get a panoramic view of the park, a breath-taking Mt. Matterhorn covered with a snow effect giving it a wintery appearance or a steamboat cruise on the "Mark Twain" on the river in Frontierland. The trip which I enjoyed the most was the submarine tour which takes you to the ocean bottom; here you see sunken ships stranded on the rocks, deep sea fishes of many species and coral, even mermaids swimming around; all quite fantastic. The grounds were landscaped with evergreens, laden with tinsel and colored lights — a real fairyland, indeed.

In conclusion, I will add that after visiting the Calgary Stampede and Rodeo, the Edmonton and Regina Exhibitions, the Tournament of Roses and Disneyland, I have just about seen everything in the form of entertainment, which should last me for a long, long time.

Athelstan

Everyone who had any connection with St. George's School in its early pioneering years will have been saddened by the death last week of Mrs. Sam Anderson, a member of the founding staff of teachers and vice-principal for the last eight of the twenty years she taught at St. George's.

Without people like Edith Anderson it would have been impossible for a handful of young parents to venture upon the radical experiment in education that St. George's was in 1930. The salaries they were able to pay were preposterously minute, even for those days; the teacher's reward, for devoting practically all of her waking hours to the fledgling school, was only the satisfaction of exploring new paths in education, and of watching children's love of learning grow and flourish.

Mrs. Anderson neither wished nor tried to be an executive. She wanted no more than to be what she was, a rarely gifted teacher who was able to perceive and to cultivate each child's individual quality, and help him develop every capacity to the full. Until her last illness she never stopped teaching. When her husband accepted a position in Edmonton and she had to leave St. George's in 1950, she immediately became a teacher (and, for a time, school librarian) in an Edmonton high school. After her husband's death she returned to the Montreal area and taught at Beaconsfield High School; her "retirement" at the age of sixty-eight meant only that she became a supplementary teacher not only at Beaconsfield but also at Huntingdon, Quebec. After taking up residence at Athelstan, she drove back and forth between the two places in all weathers. Her life was one of constant service and hundreds will remember her with gratitude and affection.

Curling Club Dinner

The 205th Anniversary of Robert Burn's birthday was celebrated fittingly on Saturday, January 25th, at the Curling Club. Unfortunately one member of the Club with a birthday falling on the same date, (this writer) was ill, and missed what friends report as a delicious roast beef dinner.

Ralph Reddick, Fred Letto and the Social Committee of the Men's Club made all the arrangements and with assistance from their wives served about 115 dinners.

President Mitchell Ness was on hand and saw that everyone had a good time. Mixed curling went on all evening, Mrs. Donald Lang played the piano and there was singing, a record player was used for dancing. It was a most enjoyable evening, but this descendant of Scots must admit sadly it was't planned to celebrate Burn's birthday — it just happened!

Friends are glad to know that Messrs. Hiram Reddick, Sid Stewart and Frank Sutherland have come home from the Barrie Memorial Hospital. Glad also to see Mrs. Murray McCartney at home again.

However two ladies from Fertile Creek have become hospital patients. Miss Jean Morison is feeling better and may be home within a few days.

Miss Flora Currie fell a few steps to the bottom of the stairs and has a break near the hip, a most unfortunate and painful accident. We send greetings and best wishes to these good ladies.

A rink of young men entered the Valleyfield bonspiel and after exciting games they emerged runners-up in the Consolation. Kyrke Nussey (skip), Rodney Reddick, Earl Craig and Malcolm Reddick were the players.

One of our young ladies has the same birthday as Robert Burns. Phyllis Whyte celebrated her 16th birthday on Saturday evening, when sixteen young school friends met at her home for an enjoyable party.

The Burns Supper at Valleyfield Presbyterian Church on Friday, January 24th, was attended by people from Ormstown and Howick. One hundred and fifty sat down to supper in an atmosphere of merriment and good will. Rev. W. M. Brown from Howick led in the singing of Scottish songs and called upon individual members of the audience to sing a verse. Each one called upon responded in good voice and style.

Mr. Ian Ferrier from the Isle of Lewis and Glasgow, Scotland, was guest speaker, and gave an interesting talk on Robert Burns.

Mr. George Philips, student minister of Valleyfield was a happy and congenial chairman at this fine gathering.

DOROTHY DAVIDSON

The most unforgetable character we ever have known may well be Raz-id-Din, the Indian bearer who served us faithfully for the two years we lived in Lahore.

It was late one evening the first time we saw him. After a long train journey, we had just arrived at our bungalow, tired, preoccupied with sorting the luggage and whisking the children off to bed. Suddenly, the curtains drawn across the doorway parted and there he stood, a magnificent, black-whiskered eyeful in dazzling white uniform and turban.

Majestically, he raised an arm. "Salaam", he said. The fate of centuries reverberated in his voice. No actor ever planned an entrance with more dramatic or electrifying effort than this middle-aged man with the manners of a Sultan.

True, Jack had told us about Raz; about what a wonderful servant he was, about how well cared for he, Jack had been prior to the family's arrival in India. He had spoken about Raz's references, stacks of them, all recommending him highly; and about how Raz had been employed as Chief Steward in the households of two Viceroys at Delhi. He said we were lucky to obtain the services of such a treasure.

What he had omitted to say was that we had a Mogul Emperor on our hands. At least that was our first impression of Raz. Every inch of him was proud and regal as he stood before the curtains, his head held high, his dark eyes piercing each of us in turn — sizing up this new family. The whiteness of his uniform accentuated the blackness of his beard and his tan skin; and we half expected to see an emerald flash in his turban. He reminded one of certain characters from the "Arabian Nights" who secreted their daggers in the voluminous folds of their baggy trousers!

There was going to be considerable adjustment to customs and people in India, not the least this ferocious-looking, impeccably-groomed, aristocratic bearer of ours whose princely manner was fast reducing our person to the height of a worm. How on earth would we succeed in becoming mistress of 44 Wellington Mall? How did one get about making the tail wag the tiger?

Our worries were unfounded. Once we knew him better we discovered that his haughty manner was part and parcel of the business of "face" — the maintenance of which engages everybody's attention in the Orient. His proud bearing was a cover-up for a gentle sensitive spirit. Although pride in himself and his work oozed from every pore, he continually sought praise like a child. Once, when unexpected dinner guests (six of them!) necessitated last-minute arrangements and an expansion to the meal, Raz caused to be produced a feast which bore the earmarks of having been planned and prepared days in advance. Afterwards, we complimented him on his resourcefulness. He accepted the praise with a formal bow like a king accepting a gift from a subject, but he blushed and his eyes sparkled with the pleasure of a child whose report card is all A's!

Answering to no one except his Sahib, a bearer is Number One man in the household. He hires or fires the servants and oversees their work. He is at the beck and call of the Sahib whose slightest wish is law, and instructs the Memsahib, if she is new to India and its customs, on what and what not she can do. He insists on a strict observance of protocol by everybody in the house. He is chief Purchasing Agent, buying all the food (if he is not satisfied with the cook's purchases) and other household necessities. It is only by his favour and a well-greased palm that peddlers are allowed inside the compound. In short, a bearer is like a foreman whose duty is to see that the complicated machinery of running a household in India is kept well oiled. The more oil applied, the less danger there is of breakdowns. So it was with Raz. Only once, during our two-year stay in India, were we aware of a grinding in the gears, so to speak. One afternoon, a noisy quarrel broke out in the servants' quarters, and, at teatime, we asked Raz what the trouble was.

"Trouble, Memsahib?" His expression assumed a babe-like innocence. "I know of no trouble." He snapped his dust cloth at a fly. The subject was closed. Next morning, however, there was a new sweeper cleaning the verandah.

Like all Indians, he wore the marks of his trade, status symbols designed to improve a bearer's "face" before men. One such symbol was the tail end to his turban which he was allowed to let hang down his back. (Men of lesser rank must always keep the ends curled in their turbans.) Another symbol was a dust cloth which, when not in use, sat on his shoulder like a limp epaulette. But the symbol that really boosted Raz's stock was his hookah. Few bearers could boast of such a treasure. An Eastern invention, a hookah or hubble-bubble, is a complicated sort of pipe with tubes coiling through a bowl of water. The smoker sits on the ground beside the instrument and, after firing the tobacco proceeds to suck on a long flexible stem. His lungs must be good as the distance between tobacco and stem end is great. It may be a cool smoke, but it's a noisy one, the water bubbling and gurgling with each suck. We tried smoking Raz's hookah once but the effort exceeded the enjoyment and we never tried again.

Raz was a devout Moslem who not only attended the mosque every Friday, but three times a day — sunrise, noon and sunset — prayed to Allah. "Excuse, please. I go make church", he would say and taking his prayer rug and placing it on the ground beneath the mango tree in the servants' compound, he would face the West, kneel down and bow toward Mecca. The children used to watch from a distance. The worshipping of a God, different from their own, made a lasting impression on them.

Raz often talked about religion, his and ours, and how similar some of the beliefs are. Word for word, the Old Testament is written in the Koran, and Jesus is one of the major prophets. "You and I, we believe in one God", he used to say. "The only difference is in the names."

How simple is truth.

The partitioning of India and Pakistan and the subsequent independence of these countries became effective during our stay. After two centuries of ruling a vast subcontinent, the British were beginning to pull up stakes and to leave India forever. For Raz-id-Din and thousands of servants like him, it was a dark hour. How could he, a grandfather, whose whole life had been spent in service to the white Raj, expect to keep face when unemployment loomed like a nightmare on the horizon?

As the day for our departure approached a great change took place in him. His pride began to sag. He sulked, he moped, he complained about his health. His eyes grew listless and his rich tan skin became a sickly gray colour. More and more, he suffered Alim-Din, who was second in command and whose special charge had been the children, to take over his duties.

The night before we left Raz entered the living room, as usual, to see to our wants before retiring. What a difference there was now between the proud, aristocratic bearer who had stood before these same curtains, two years ago, and had electrified us by his presence and this ill, broken, old man who had disintegrated into the pedsonification of "Alim-Din will see to everything in the morning," we said, trying not to show the pity we felt. "There is no need for you to be up so early."

He bowed. "As Memsahib wishes." His voice was bleak. "I will be at the station to say goodby." He salammed and vanished between the curtains.

We never saw him again. It was no surprise to any of us, the next morning, when he failed to show up at the station before the train departed.

HOWICK High School HIGHLIGHTS

by Carol Carson

Winter sports are playing a very important part in the life of Howick High. Curling and hockey have both got off to a good start and even basketball hasn't been forgotten. The Junior and Senior Girls played an exhibition game in basketball at Chateauguay on Saturday morning. Both teams lost, but it was considered that the Junior Team did rather well, as it was their first game outside of the school. The basketball teams are planning another game for Friday night at St. Lambert. We wish them the best of luck.

The Senior Boys' Hockey Team played against Ormstown during the past week and they lost by a score of 4 to 3. However, this was only their first game of the season, so perhaps they will surprise us yet.

Everyone seems to be studying hard, even though sports require considerable time. The exams are always lurking around the corner, so let's try to keep that in mind and continue to work well.

Havelock

HAVELOCK — Sorry to hear of the illness of Master Bobby McKee, who is a patient in the Children's Hospital in Montreal. All wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sutton, motored through the States for a few days last week.

On Saturday morning a helicopter was to have landed at the Covey Hill Ski Centre but due to the adverse weather conditions the landing had to be cancelled. It was to have been a children's day and many were disappointed.

Saturday afternoon just east of Havelock Corner on Route 52 the wind blew down a large tree across the road blocking traffic for an hour or so. However a number of cars in a hurry went around the tree and through the field. Luckily the ground wasn't too soft and none became stuck. A young boy told his mother that he heard a big noise but since she was busy at the time and hadn't heard it she didn't look out of her window or else she would have known what had happened. About twenty minutes later a man came to use the phone to call for help. Mayor George Gowdey and Mr. James McAllister soon arrived and with the help of two young Patenaude boys with their tractor and Mr. Hubert Poissant with his truck soon had the tree removed. Luckily no one was passing at the time of the crash or else this story might have read a bit differently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Collins and Lois and Mrs. J. Elvidge, were Sunday callers on Mr. and Mrs. John Laurin and family.

Miss Monique Therrien was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. Laurin.

Upon returning home they plan a motor trip with their son, Donald, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Alex Black in California.

A 45th anniversary cake centered the lunch table as well as a birthday cake when happy birthday was sung to Diane Ness and Harold Robertson.

Obituary

The late Mrs. Gertrude Wheeler.

The beloved owner of a famous house in Iberville County, Mrs. Gertrude Wheeler, passed away on Thursday, January 23rd in her 88th year.

Mrs. Wheeler was born Gertrude Louise Johnston in Clarenceville, Quebec in the year 1877. At the age of 19 she married Elwin A. Wheeler and moved into the house she then managed until her death.

This residence in Venise on the shores of Missisquoi Bay, was known at one time as the Wheeler Inn where stagecoaches stopped overnight on the trips between Montreal and Boston.

The front end of the house was built in 1870, but the kitchen area in the rear was erected over 200 years ago! (Since then, improvements, additions and alterations have been made.) It is also interesting to note that the beautiful maple trees which today surround the house and are many feet in diameter, were planted as saplings about the year 1870.

It was in these historic surroundings that Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler looked after the stagecoach passengers, their own children and their large home. Farming eventually became their mode of life and this was continued even after the early death of Mr. Wheeler.

In those days, there were no modern conveniences and all washing was done by hand; water was pumped and heated, when necessary, on the stove; bread, pies, cakes were all baked at home.

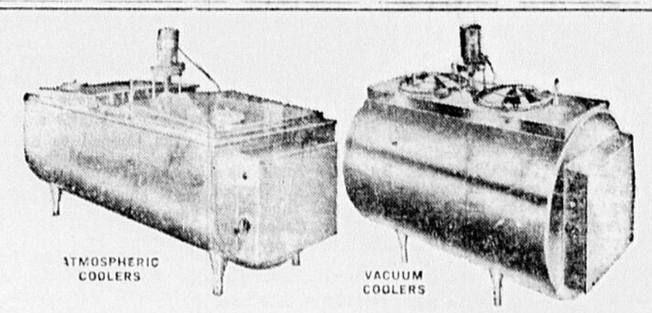

Mrs. Wheeler was adept at all forms of handicrafts and did all the sewing for the family, even the underclothing. Knitting was also one of her many talents but at that time the wool had to be spun first. Evidences of her applique work, quilting and embroidery are visible throughout the house.

The day began at 6:30 a.m. and included in the job of cooking, feeding, and dressing her children, a long with performing the various tasks known so well to all mothers since time began, there was also the canning to be done, butter to be churned, gardening to tend to, and children to teach. Yes, there was time for love, time to play, time to help with school work, time to encourage and help develop each child's special talents or interests.

Local, national and international affairs did not go unnoticed and these events were often discussed with welcomed guests over an ever-ready cup of tea or coffee.

Some people go through life belonging to all kinds of organizations. Mrs. Wheeler belonged only to one — her family. For them through them, she lived a most rich, full and rewarding life. Not a woman to be fussed over, she loved simplicity and honesty in all things. She loved people of all ages around her. On the day of her funeral, they came. The presence of her family and friends from all over Quebec and parts of the United States was the finest of tributes to the gentle woman of courage.

Mrs. Wheeler is survived by her nine children; Mr. Foster Wheeler of North Hampton, Mass., Mr. Howard Wheeler of Clarenceville, Miss Edith Wheeler of Bedford, Miss Gertrude Wheeler of Hartford, Conn., Mr. Frank Wheeler of Verdun; Mrs. Madeline Turvey of Lachine, Mr. Mahlon Wheeler, Miss Ellison Wheeler and Mr. Eric Wheeler, all of Venise.

New York State Council Of Rural Women Hold Interesting Meeting In Albany

by Kay Williams, Lecturer, New York State Grange

Having had occasion to travel parts of New York State on Grange business during the past weeks, certainly has tested the stamina of the automobile, as well as the physical abilities of the driver. Returning from Saratoga January 10th., and going to Albany January 13th were certainly hazardous trips; when one had to watch the power line pole crossbar to keep on the beaten path. To say the recent storms were bad is putting it mildly! We have been lucky in this area of Canada.

The Regional State Grange Meetings, wherein the State Master and Assistant, Lecturer, the Secretary and Assistant and the Juvenile Superintendent were in charge, have been held in Madison, Oswego and Saratoga Counties, N.Y., when four to six other counties took part. Even with the inclement weather there were record attendances at all three meetings, and great enthusiasm and Grange interest was high. It was worth the approximate eight hundred miles of travel in the sub-zero weather.

Representing the New York State Grange, the Lecturer along with the three members of the State Service & Hospitality Committee are members of the N.Y. State Council of Rural Women. This Council is composed of twelve key leaders representing 112,000 women members of four Statewide organizations, viz, The Grange, Home Bureau, Town and Country Dept. N.Y. Council of Churches, and the Dairymen's League Cooperative Ass'n. The Council of Rural Women met in Albany on January 13th through 15th. Whilst attending this conference we were privileged to attend the Senate Legislature meeting as guests of Senator Dutton S. Peterson, and were introduced to the Assembly.

A tour of the State Education Department and Bureau of Rural Administration Services, as well as the State Libraries and Museum was enjoyed. The use of the "BOOKMOBILE" Library Service in rural areas was described. Slides were shown of the new educational projects which are being carried out in "backward" parts of the world. These coloured slides are being shown to school children throughout the State of New York.

The New York Women's Joint Legislative Forum meeting was held at Chancellors Hall on January 14th with our Council of Rural Women in attendance. The speaker was Attorney General Liefkowitz, who was most interesting in explaining the workings of his department, its relation to the citizens and the law, etc. The blizzard delayed the arrival of Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller and Mrs. Rockefeller, for several hours. However upon their arrival a standing ovation was accorded them. The Governor spoke on the importance of the Women's Groups in familiarizing themselves with governmental affairs and issues.

The Council or Rural Women also had the pleasure of sitting in at the 132 Annual meeting of the New York State Agricultural society.

One of the most interesting events was the tour of the New York State Civil Defense Commission Building, which is situated at the northern end of Washington Street, Albany. We had the pleasure of meeting Director Lt. General M. J. Asencio who informed us that the cost of this project was three and one half million dollars; half paid by the State and half by the Federal Government. This civil defense project is known as "Emergency Operating Center & Alternate Seat of Government." There is accomodation for 700 people in this "below ground" structure with food to last three to four weeks. Six giant generators give 375 kilowatts per hour. Water is supplied by the City, also a six miles away water hookup, as well as six wells where water can be had at the rate of twenty to thirty gallons per minute.

There is an emergency operating center, with dormitory for 350 persons: the hospital has a five-bed ward with all facilities. All major surgery can be done in the emergency room. There is a full room sterilizing unit: X-ray room steel lined; a pharmacy, clinic, and a cafeteria; all equipment is "shock mounted". The building is totally airconditioned, humidfied and dehumified as occasion warrants. Bronze steel lined entrance doors worked hydraulically. There are decontamination centers, etc., with tunnel entries.

This building houses a complete "Alternate Seat of Government" for New York State, with all records microfilmed. There is a complete broadcasting station geared to all parts of New York State, as well as the Federal Government offices, and the United States in general, with "feeder" stations, and an underground communications system. The Army Liaison, Civil Air Patrol, the Military & Naval Affairs, State Police are also housed there, in part at the moment.

The "Attack Warning Center" was of great interest as the group were there when the NORAD checkup was given across the country from Colorado. The group alerter "or control man," at his desk in Albany, receives the signal which he in turn calls out to every country in N.Y. State, and receives a reply all in one minute! Every county receives the alert warning at the same time. "NORAD" is operated in Colorado by an American officer with a Canadian officer as second in command. Signals are given in Canada as well as the U.S.A. All warnings can be given simultaneously within 8 to 10 seconds, across the North American Continent.

This Civil Defense Commission is not only working for wartime emergencies, but is also being called upon in time of disaster, flood, hurricane, and as a first hand instance; severe snowstorms as was experienced last week, when emergency accomodation was given motorists stranded on the highways during the blizzard. Hotels and motels borrowed equipment, such as beds, etc., from this emergency center. As an experiment, an "ALERT" was sent out by telephone to Plattsburgh, N.Y., the operators contacted each other and gave weather reports within two seconds.

The three-day conference ended with the N.Y. State Agricultural Society Banquet, when all New York State products were used. The feature of this banquet was the presentation of citations to the Century Farm Families of N.Y. State. There were four families who were all Grange members, as well as belonging to other organizations. They had held the farm homes for over one hundred years in the same family. Governor Rockefeller made the presentations and mentioned that "he too, owned a farm and was a farm boy." The Governor and Mrs. Rocfefeller were very interested in our Canadian way of life and our agricultural situation, and all affairs "north of the border", knowing the writer was the only Canadian (Foreigner) present.

To end this long discourse; one does not waste one's time at Conferences or Conventions. All the above events took place from 3 P.M., Jan. 13th and 11 P.M., Jan. 15th. The Gleason Family of Franklin County, living in the Town of Malone was one of the Century Farm Families. The others were the Loveless Family, of Onondaga Co. (Mrs. Harold Stanley's Family), the Millers of Columbia Co., and the Saile Family of Genesee Co.

Petch; Parochial Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Tom Cleland; W. A. The Rev. David Rogers closed the meeting with prayer, after which a pot-luck tea was enjoyed.

Christmas Decoration Contest

The judges in this annual contest, organized by the Hemmingford Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Walter Smith and Mrs. Walter Keddy, had a difficult job on their hands this year. Residents in both village and country entered into the spirit of Christmas and many beautiful, and unusual decorations were to be seen. A decision had to be made, however, and finally the first prize was awarded to Mrs. Leo Duquette, second to Mr. Gaetan Fortin and third to Mr. Sam Metcalfe of Roxham. The members of the Chamber appreciate very much the cooperation they received from the residents in their annual effort to promote beauty and gaiety in the district during the festive season.

Around the Town

Mrs. Walter Keddy underwent an operation at the Barrie Memorial Hospital on Thursday and to-day, Sunday, the doctors are quite satisfied with her progress and hope to permit her to get up for a little while in a few days. The best wishes of all your friends, Helen, for a speedy recovery.

A sudden epidemic of 'something' struck Hemmingford during this past week. An unpleasant kind of 24-hour stomach 'Flu' violent and sudden vomiting, cramps and general weakness. 97 reported absent from the High School and around 70 from the Catholic Elementary School on one day! The weather? A 'bug'? The water?

And speaking of the weather, if you are a worker with a distance to travel on the road to work, it's wonderful! If you are a small person, enthusiastically looking forward to a winter carnival on a Sunday afternoon, it's 'puugh!'

The carnival is postponed until next Sunday, February 2, and, judging by the temperature this evening, the weatherman is preparing to co-operate.

Sympathy

Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Grosser whose little six month old daughter died on Friday afternoon. The baby was buried in St. Roman's Cemetery on Saturday, after a Mass of the Angels had been said in Church at 3 p.m. A large number of friends and relatives attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Alister Somerville are back from a short holiday in Florida. Glad to be back too, Mr. Somerville said it was warmer in Hemmingford. The day before they left the temperature was down to 22 degrees!

Mrs. C. E. Petch is staying for a few weeks with her daughters and sons-in-law at Point Claire.

WEDDING
WING - EDGERTON

A pretty double-ring wedding was solemnized at St. Andrew's United Church, Hemmingford, on Saturday, December 14th, 1963, at 3 p.m. when Shirley Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Edgerton of Hemmingford and Mr. Albert Hartland Wing, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wing of St. Luc, exchanged vows. The Reverend Gordon Ficko officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Halton Kennedy played the wedding music and Mrs. Gordon Ficko sang the "Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown of white nylon over taffeta, the fitted bodice having an embroidered, scoop neck-line with long sleeves tapering to points over the hands and the full skirt ornamented with two small bows at the waistline in front with a larger bow in the form of a rosette at the back. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held with a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book on which was attached a spray of pink Rambler roses.

Miss Lynda Edgerton, as bridesmaid for her sister, wore a two-piece dress in turquoise brocade over taffeta with a matching headdress. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Edgerton, mother of the bride, wore a two-piece suit in royal blue wool with a black hat and black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Wing, wore a dress of rayon crepe in a pale green shade with beige accessories and her corsage was of yellow roses.

The best man was Mr. Richard G. Wright of St. Johns and the ushers were Mr. Winston Edgerton, brother of the bride and Mr. Mac Long, brother-in-law of the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Hall of the Church and the members of the Hemmingford Women's Institute served a delicious turkey supper to the guests, about 70 in all.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Wing motored to Lake Placid, N.Y., for part of their honeymoon and then on to Quebec City. For travelling, Mrs. Wing wore a suit in red mohair with a grey tweed topcoat, a black hat and accessories and a corsage of white roses. The happy couple are now residing at St. Luc, P.Q.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included friends and relatives from St. Johns and Lacolle.

Prior to the wedding, Mrs. Lorne Bennett of L'Acadie, P.Q. entertained a number of guests at a miscellaneous shower given in Mrs. Wing's honour and at St. Andrew's Church Hall in Hemmingford Mrs. Earl Orr, Mrs. Harvey Smith, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. Allan Radley, Mrs. Albert Akester, Mrs. Pat Leavey and Mrs. Archie Speck entertained a large number of guests who showered Mrs. Wing with gifts both beautiful and useful.

OBITUARY

The late Lawrence J. Herbert

On Sunday morning, January 19th, Lawrence Hebert, a well-known resident of Hemmingford, passed away at the Montreal General Hospital. Mr. Hebert was born in Hemmingford, on March 13th, 1911, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hebert. In 1936 he married Miss Doris Merlin and they made their home in Hemmingford where Mr. Hebert was employed by the local firm of contractors and, for some time before his death by Marcel Fortin Ltd. In June, 1963, he was admitted to the Barrie Memorial Hospital but was shortly transferred to the Montreal General where he stayed for a month, receiving treatments. His condition improved considerably so he was able to return home, visiting the hospital at intervals for further treatments. But early in the new year his condition again became grave and he returned to the hospital where he passed away after much suffering.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and five children, Audrey (Mrs. Curtis McPhee) of Richlieu, Bobby, who is a student at McGill, Carole, who is in her final year in the Applied Commercial Course at Mooers High School, Billy and Diane, a grandson and granddaughter, four sisters, Mrs. Helen Long of Montreal, Mrs. Kenneth Duprey (Lilian) of Massena, Mrs. Leon King (Evelyn) of Massena, Mrs. Delia Tremblay of Champlain and one brother, Mr. Wilfred Hebert of Barre, Vermont, also several nephews, nieces and cousins.

A Requiem Mass for Mr. Hebert was celebrated at St. Roman's Parish Church on Wednesday, January 22nd, by Reverend Father J. M. LaRocque. The men's choir, under the direction of Mr. Yvon Frederick, sang the Mass accompanied by Mrs. J. H. L'Esperance at the organ. The pallbearers were Ralph LaRiviere, Rolland Poissant, Leonard Bickes, Gerry D'Amour, Bill Wilson and Hector Tremblay and leading the bearers were Harvey Duquette and Leonard Hebert. The arrangements were in the hands of Mr. Milton Sharpe of Franklin and Hemmingford. Interment will take place in the spring in the cemetery at Mooers where Mr. Hebert's parents are buried. As the vault at Mooers is full, Mrs. Hebert gratefully accepted the suggestion of the Protestant Cemetery Committee that the coffin be placed in the vault here until the spring.

Many beautiful floral arrangements and Mass cards were received and were deeply appreciated by Mrs. Hebert and her family.

The deepest sympathy of their many friends and acquaintances in and around Hemmingford is extended to Mrs. Herbert and the children and for Mrs. Hebert the prayer that she be given strength and courage for the future.

Liturgie — C'est l'aviron qui nous mène vers Dieu. Notre âme doit gagner sa vie. Sans doute cela nous apparaît moins urgent que ces lits à retaper, ce tuyau à remplacer, cette lettre à écrire, cette besogne qui conditionne le salaire. Et pourtant, nous savons dans la foi que non seulement nous devons gagner notre salaire de vie humaine mais aussi notre salaire de vie éternelle. Mais l'aviron se manoeuvre par la prière, la générosité, et surtout l'amour.

Liturgy — Septuagesima Sunday indicates a transition. This transition is more than just the passing of the weeks after Epiphany, and the beginning of the period preparatory to Lent. The transition it indicates is more far-reaching than that. We find its significance summarized and condensed in the Offertory prayer that we say at Mass: "O God, at creation You conferred a wondrous dignity on human nature; then after the fall of our first parents, You redeemed us, restoring our dignity but establishing it in a state even more marvellous than before."

EN ROUTE VERS SEATTLE

(Suite)

Le P. Jean-Baptiste Manseau, un clerc de Saint-Viateur, lui aussi, est né en 1843, à St-Polycarpe. Prêtre en 1879, il fut envoyé en Oregon, à Baker City, fonder un collège en 1883. Les Clercs portent la soutane à la grande joie des catholiques. On abandonne la fondation après deux années. Il fut supérieur de St-Rémi (1896-1912) et professeur de Mgr David, p.d., qui endosse le témoignage suivant d'un biographe. Ce dernier écrit: "Dans ce poste, (St-Rémi) comme dans tous les autres d'ailleurs, il est tout à son oeuvre, donne et se donne sans compter; jamais il ne connut la mesquinerie sous aucuns rapports." Il est décédé en 1912.

Voilà ce que j'ai vu sur la route de Seattle.

Je m'en voudrais de ne pas dire un cordial merci aux paroissiens de St-Joseph de Huntingdon, au Comité des fêtes du 50e anniversaire de sacerdoce de Mgr David, à lui aussi, sans doute et à son vicaire, pour le don généreux qu'ils m'ont fait.

De sincères remerciements aussi à ceux qui nous ont accueillis en frères, les Clercs de Saint-Viateur du collège d'Otterburne, M. l'abbé Gaston Aubry, du grand séminaire de St-Boniface, les Pères du Saint-Sacrement de Vancouver.

C'est un gros, très sincère merci que nous offrons, mon confrère et moi, à notre ancien élève, Ch.-Auguste Primeau et à Madame son épouse pour la cordialité et la générosité avec lesquelles ils nous ont accueillis et gardés. Nous étions de la famille. Que la Vierge de Lourdes leur rende au centuple ce qu'ils ont fait si généreusement pour nous, qu'Elle soit la maman de leur fils, étudiant au séminaire, qu'Elle leur donne à tous les trois, santé, bonheur et joie. Leur souvenir restera profondément gravé dans nos coeurs et nos prières!

J.-T.-Donat Fortier, chanoine

Alambic saisi près de Dewittville

Trouvé dans une cave d'une maison de ferme près de Dewittville, un petit alambic a été saisi par des agents fédéraux et provinciaux jeudi matin. Le propriétaire de la ferme, M. Brian Richard Erb, a comparu à la Cour de Valleyfield vendredi et a été condamné à payer l'amende sous deux chefs d'accusation.

Trouvé coupable d'infraction à l'article 158 (1-E) de la loi fédérale des Régies, Erb a été condamné à payer $500. d'amende et les frais pour possession d'un alambic. Il a été de plus trouvé coupable sous un 2e chef d'accusation porté par la Province pour possession illégale d'alcool et condamné à une amende de $100. plus les frais.

La ferme est située sur la rive ouest de la rivière Chateauguay à environ un demi mille de Dewittville. Le chemin qui y mène laisse la route 4 pour s'engager à travers un bouquet d'arbres; la maison n'est pas visible de la route. Erb acheta la maison il y a un mois de M. Antonio Laberge, qui demeure maintenant à Ormstown.

Douze bidons de gazoline, un petit poêle et des tuyaux de cuivre ont été saisis avec l'alambic. Au rez-de-chaussé, dans la maison de petite dimension, plusieurs tonneaux de liquide ont été trouvés et détruits.

Majorettes: Les étoiles de Notre Dame

Au cours d'une assemblée de l'Association Parents-Maitres, tenue au mois d'octobre dernier, S.S. Agathe, supérieure de l'Ecole Notre-Dame, exprima son intention de fonder un corps de majorettes qui serait formé d'élèves de cette institution.

Depuis, pas un mot sur la question. Vous croyez peut-être que le projet n'a pas eu de suite. Au contraire, il existe maintenant un corps de majorettes; voici comment il est né.

Toutes celles qui désiraient en faire partie furent convoquées au début du mois d'octobre. Près de cent vingt-cinq filles répondaient à l'invitation. On ne put en accepter qu'une soixantaine. Depuis, toutes les semaines, elles s'exercent à marcher au pas; à des formations nouvelles; en un mot elles font leur apprentissage. Leurs instructeurs sont Messieurs Clermont Laurendeau et Hervé Tessier. Mlle Ann Provost agit comme capitaine.

Comme toute organisation qui se respecte, les majorettes se sont voté un conseil. Ont été élues: Présidente, Carole Saumier; Vice-présidente, Hélène Dorais; Trésorière, Francine Lussier; Secrétaire, Francine Lalonde.

En décembre on choisit pour nom: "Les étoiles de Notre-Dame" et pour la version anglaise: "Notre Dame Stars".

Les activités délaissées pour la période des Fêtes ont repris le 8 janvier. Au cours de la réunion, on discuta du costume et de son prix assez élevé.

Pour faire face aux dépenses en vue, on a songé à former un comité d'organisations qui verrait à procurer les fonds nécessaires. Chaque majorette paie une contribution de un dollar par mois mais il faudra trop de temps à ce rythme pour atteindre l'objectif requis.

C'est pourquoi le comité a décidé d'organiser pour le 7 février une danse qui aura lieu au gymnase de l'Ecole Notre-Dame. Un orchestre sera sur les lieux et tous ceux (jeunes ou vieux) qui veulent se récréer agréablement sont invités à réserver la soirée du 7 février.

Du succès de cette soirée dépend la situation financière de cette organisation qui compte bien à l'occasion faire honneur a toute la population de Huntingdon. La première sortie des "Etoiles de Notre Dame" est cédulée pour les Fêtes du centenaire de la paroisse.

D'ici là nous vous en reparlerons.

Mère M. Bourgeois, une des premières à préconiser la préparation au mariage

A Ville-Marie, Marguerite Bourgeoys consacre une grande partie de sa vie à s'occuper des jeunes couples, qui profitent volontiers de sa direction maternelle. Cela commence pour de bon avec les Filles du Roy, qui se font courtiser puis se choisissent un mari, sous son regard amusé. Et les "cavaliers" acceptent facilement ce chaperonnage de la part de celle qu'ils vénèrent comme leur mère. Une fois unis par le mariage, les amoureux d'hier tiennent à rester sous les soins vigilants de Mère Bourgeoys. Et cela dure jusqu'à sa mort, ses anciens élèves, garçons et filles, grossissant d'année en année le nombre de ses protégés. Chacun a pour elle une telle estime qu'il en fait sa confidente. A la faveur de cette confiance, Mère Bourgeoys exerce une influence salutaire sur les amours de ses "enfants". Elle distribue conseils, avertissements et réprimandes à l'occasion. Par-dessus tout, elle élève les pensées et purifie les coeurs par l'exemple et la grâce de la Vierge Mère. Les jeunes se laissent guider parce qu'ils se sentent compris et aimés.

Ce rôle de confidente et de conseillère, la bienheureuse est bien plus en mesure de l'exercer envers nous, ses enfants d'aujourd'hui. Plus que jamais, elle désire distribuer les grâces de lumière et de force que la Reine du Ciel met abondamment à sa disposition afin de nous aider à résoudre les problèmes de l'heure.

L'éducation de l'amour se heurte de nos jours à des difficultés inconnues il y a trente ans et devant lesquelles parents et éducateurs se trouvent parfois désemparés. Citons, par exemple, le fléau des fréquentations hâtives et des amours précoces, qui menace l'équilibre sentimental et la vertu de nos adolescents et adolescentes. Mère Bourgeoys apprendra aux jeunes, pour peu qu'ils se confient à elle, la grandeur et la fécondité de la passion maîtrisée avec le secours du ciel, sublimée pour ainsi dire par le respect de la vie et un idéal élevé. Elle guidera les amoureux à travers les embûches des fréquentations et des fiançailles. Elle assistera les jeunes mariés aux heures de joie comme aux jours de deuil. Aux parents actuels, comme aux jeunes d'aujourd'hui quand ils seront à leur tour chargés d'enfants, elle enseignera l'art de faciliter les confidences, d'exercer une influence par des conseils, des avertissements et même des reproches au besoin, le tout animé par un grand amour et inspiré par la grâce de Dieu.

Lettre au rédacteur

Huntingdon Gleaner,
Huntingdon, Qué.
Messieurs,

J'aimerais vous féliciter pour votre éditorial paru dans le Gleaner du 15 janvier dans lequel vous souligniez l'importance du cultivateur. J'aimerais aussi vous remercier pour la parution régulière dans votre journal de "COUNTRY NOTEBOOK" par Walker Riley.

J'ai lu son article avec intérêt, mais j'aimerais répondre ceci à la question qu'il posait, à savoir, "Pourquoi ne regardions-nous pas avec optimisme l'année qui vient?" Même si on a toutes les raisons de croire que la situation du marché du lait s'améliorera cette année, la différence de prix entre le coût de la production et la rémunération payée au cultivateur demeurera grande. L'augmentation du prix du lait dans une année ne couvrira jamais les frais de production, même si je souhaite le contraire. Les cultivateurs devront encore produire le lait à perte. Il est évident que "M. Country Notebook" n'a pas produit de lait dans cette région ces six ou sept dernières années. S'il l'avait fait, il ne se poserait pas cette question.

Espérant que M. Riley ne sera pas trop contrarié de mes opinions, je demeure,

Votre tout dévoué,
André Billette

L'Institut National Canadien pour les aveugles fait appel au public

Personne ne s'attend à devenir aveugle, mais 6 Canadiens perdent la vue chaque jour. Qu'ils soient jeunes ou âgés, ils auront besoin d'une variété de services pour les aider à surmonter les difficultés engendrées par la cécité. Le programme de services extensifs de L'I.N.C.A. est la seule source à laquelle ils peuvent s'adresser pour voir à tous les problèmes créés par la perte de la vue. Ce programme est prêt à aider cette communauté à aider ses citoyens.

Depuis cinq ans l'Institut National Canadien pour les Aveugles est attaché à la Fédération des Oeuvres de charité du diocèse de Valleyfield. La population du dit diocèse a toujours répondu favorablement à l'appel de l'Institut depuis 1949. Je demande donc à tous les supporteurs et amis à tous les citoyens du diocèse tant canadiens-anglais que canadiens-français et indépendamment de la race, de la croyance et de la nationalité de bien vouloir nous accorder leur appui en répondant généreusement à l'appel de la Fédération des Oeuvres de Charité, laquelle depuis 5 ans fait un travail gigantesque dans le but d'aider les citoyens et d'améliorer la situation de tous et de chacun.

Les 24,000 aveugles du Canada sont unis comme des frères tous sur un pied d'égalité et je tiens à les citer en exemple à toute la population des comtés de Beauharnois, Châteauguay, Huntingdon, Vaudreuil et Soulanges. En formant l'unité dans la charité, nous serons plus forts et nous pourrons aider la Fédération à obtenir son objectif et à remplir la tâche qu'elle s'est imposée; Le Bien-Etre pour tous.

J.A. René Corbeil,
Secrétaire-administrateur, Institut National Canadiens pour les Aveugles.

Qu'est-ce que les fiancailles?

Que l'amour mène au mariage, c'est là une vérité admise partout. Il s'en trouve cependant pour affirmer que l'amour y mène un peu trop vite. Certains époux déçus disent parfois: "On devrait pouvoir essayer pour un temps de vivre ensemble avant de se marier pour de bon." Ce genre de propos fait souvent sourire. Mais faudrait-il admettre que les candidats au mariage se marient le plus vite possible sans aucune espèce d'apprentissage? Faut-il absolument que les fiancés plongent dans le mariage comme dans l'inconnu total?

Trop de fiancés comprennent mal leurs fiançailles. Pour certains celles-ci consistent en ceci: le garçon achète une bague et la passe au doigt de son amie. Une fois ce geste accompli, on se lance dans les préparatifs matériels, par exemple: achat de meubles, location d'un logement, toilettes de la mariée, réception, etc... Si ces démarches sont nécessaires, elles ne suffisent pas à préparer adéquatement le couple à la vie conjugale.

Les fiançailles se situent surtout à l'intérieur dans le coeur, la volonté et l'esprit des fiancés. Sont fiancés le jeune homme et la jeune fille qui dans leur coeur se sont entendus pour se marier bientôt l'un à l'autre. Les fiançailles représentent l'échange de promesses de se marier, l'accord, parfois secret, d'un garçon et d'une fille pour bientôt former un couple d'époux. C'est que, contrairement au "flirt" ou même aux fréquentations peu sérieuses, les fiançailles comportent un véritable engagement de fidélité réciproque.

Qu'est-ce que les fiançailles? Ce fut un des sujets développés par M. l'abbé Gareau aumônier des participants au cours de préparation au mariage et premier invité très dévoué d'ailleurs, à venir se faire entendre à l'occasion des cours du S.P.M. Tout le monde est sans doute au courant que les cours de préparation au mariage ont débuté dimanche soir dernier à l'école Saint-Joseph de Huntingdon. Une vingtaine de couples de fiancés ou de futurs fiancés s'y sont inscrits. Des couples venant de partout dans le district se sont fait un devoir de prendre en main la cause de leur amour et de leur propre bonheur. Une seule ombre au tableau, Huntingdon, la ville la plus populeuse de la région, n'a même pas un couple de fiancés qui participe à ces cours. Pour une paroisse où il y a une moyenne d'environ trente mariages bénis par année, il y a certainement une lacune quelque part. Notre jeunesse pense peut-être en savoir assez long sur le mariage ou bien elle ne réalise pas les avantages multiples qui peuvent découler de ces cours, non seulement sur le mariage mais aussi sur les fiançailles. Tout jeune homme et toute jeune fille qui se fréquentent sérieusement devraient se faire un devoir d'y assister. Il arrive parfois que le garçon se fasse prier pour venir aux cours. Est-ce parce qu'il est moins sérieux que la fille face au mariage ou qu'il a peur de s'embarquer sur un bateau? Qu'il vienne faire un petit tour en bateau dimanche soir prochain ce garçon-là et il trouvera que le temps passe vite car pendant sa promenade il recevra le meilleur cours de psychologie féminine qui puisse se donner actuellement. C'est M. Florian Tardif, principal de l'école St-Joseph qui est le conférencier et habituellement son auditoire est des plus attentif et des plus intéressé lorsqu'il fait un discours quelconque.

Donc à dimanche soir à 8 hres.
