FRENCH FRANC DEVALUATION GIVEN FINAL PARLIAMENTARY APPROVAL

Only Promulgation of President Lebrun Is Necessary to Make Reduction of Gold Content of the Franc a Law—Premier Blum Accepted Senate Compromise Limiting Government's Decree Powers—With Momentous Legislation Safely Out of Way, Premier Blum Will Leave Immediately for Geneva—Compromise Solved a Dangerous Political Problem.

Paris, October 1.—The French Chamber of Deputies late today gave final parliamentary approval to devaluation of the franc, adopting the monetary measure, with its compromise clause on price fixing decrees, by a vote of 354 to 217.

The vote meant that only the promulgation of President Lebrun is necessary to make reduction of the gold content of the franc a law. Before the final ballot, the Chamber had adopted, by a show of hands, the compromise Senate clause which provides a check on efforts by the Government to control the cost of living.

The Government and the Senate earlier got together on the devaluation bill in a political atmosphere charged with threats of disorder.

Rumors that the capital's mobile guards were being reinforced were reflected in the Senate debate, where speakers urged avoidance of "the psychosis of civil war."

With the momentous legislation safely out of the way, Premier Leon Blum announced he would leave Paris late tonight on a delayed journey to Geneva. Thus he indicated his confidence that the Government's devaluation difficulties were ended.

The Chamber finance committee accepted the compromise definitely after the Senate had passed the substitute measure without a recorded vote. It calls for resignation of the currency, but provides a check on Government decree powers to control price increases.

The Government gave its approval to the substitute bill, withdrawing its opposition to Senate objections on particular clauses in the original measure.

The Senate, bowing to the Government's desire for speed, pushed through the compromise after only a brief debate. Abel Gardey, presenting the report of the finance committee, said the concessions were made "in a spirit of conciliation."

M. Blum addressed the Senate briefly, approving the compromise. Then he went to the Chamber with Vincent Auriol, Edouard Daladier, Camille Chautemps and other ranking ministers for the final drive to enactment.

Economic Council Given Power To Check Government Actions.

As finally approved by the Senate, the clause concerning the issue of decree powers to fight price increases provides for obligatory arbitration and conciliation of labor disputes arising from rises in the cost of living.

The Government would have similar decree power, always with the Council to check its actions, for altering and enforcing application of collective wage contracts and for revision prices of prime agricultural products.

The decrees would be effective for not more than six months, and to become permanent would have to be enacted into law by Parliament. The compromise clause specified that persons guilty of taking advantage of devaluation to increase prices unjustifiably will be punished by imprisonment, fine or both.

Sharp Drop in the Gold Reserves of Bank of France

Today the Bank of France, in its weekly statement, showed its gold reserves had dropped to 50,111,283-678 francs on September 25.

The statement showed the country lost 2,580,478,207 francs in the week preceding the tripartite agreement on monetary equilibrium.

After receiving the measure back today, the Chamber of Deputies, by a show of hands, provided for restoration of veterans' pensions cuts and suspended their session to await a report of their finance committee on the compromise bill.

The Finance Minister also presented a special bill to the Chamber which would provide restoration of pension cuts to war veterans, a clause which the Senate eliminated yesterday when it rejected the Government's monetary measure.

Devaluation Became Entangled in Political Controversy

The devaluation proposal, sponsored by Premier Blum's Government, became entangled in two political rights which constituted a grave crisis for the Socialist administration.

The principals in the controversies were: 1.—The Chamber of Deputies vs. the Senate.

The Senate refused to concur in the devaluating measures which had received Chamber approval. Instead, the Senate passed its own bill, limiting the Government's power to control prices after devaluation and substituting a proposal to extend that privilege only to Parliament.

2.—French Rightists (the minority parties) versus the Leftists (the majority composed principally of Socialists, Radical-Socialists and Communists which form the Popular Front Government).

Rightists led the Senate opposition to the Blum bill, asserting the Leftist Cabinet desired to establish itself in a dictatorial position by the price-fixing clause in the monetary measure.

Adding to its defiance, the Chamber repassed the original bill, giving Blum the equivalent of a vote of confidence. The vote was 351 to 217.

QUEBEC TO FLOAT $51,000,000 LOAN

Montreal, Oct. 1.—The floating by the Province of Quebec of a domestic loan totalling $51,000,000 is expected to take place in the near future. The loan will be used to meet the November 1 maturity of $10,000,000 five per cents, repay treasury bills totalling $25,500,000, with the balance for the general purposes of the province.

No official statement was forthcoming from either the Premier or the Provincial Treasurer, nor could details of the new financing be obtained from the firm which was understood to head the syndicate, but in well-informed circles it was said that the loan would be in four maturities as follows: $12,000,000 2-year 1 per cent at par, to yield 1 per cent; $12,000,000 4-year 1 1/2 per cent at 99 to yield 1 1/2 per cent; $12,000,000 8-year 2 1/2 per cent at par to yield 2 1/2 per cent; and $15,000,000 in 15-year 3 per cent at 99 to yield 3.08 per cent.

CANADA'S FRUIT CROP NOT AS ABUNDANT AS YEAR AGO

Preliminary Estimate Records a Decrease in All Fruits Compared with Final 1935 Statistics.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Preliminary estimate of Canada's 1936 fruit crop, it was reported today by the Department of Agriculture, shows a decrease in all fruits compared with the final 1935 estimate.

The 1936 production estimates with last year's figures in brackets follow: apples 4,078,700 barrels (4,432,700); pears 362,000 bushels (423,100); plums and prunes 164,000 bushels (263,100); peaches, 423,000 bushels (519,600); apricots 2,260 bushels (29,900); cherries 192,000 bushels (214,500); strawberries 19,836,000 quarts (27,506,000); raspberries 5,819,000 quarts (8,140,200); grapes 20,552,000 pounds (42,945,000).

Although increases were shown in all fruit produced in Nova Scotia, and in strawberries and raspberries in Quebec and New Brunswick, they were not sufficient to offset decreases in all fruit crops in Canada as a whole.

DISARMAMENT COMMITTEE SET UP TODAY BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Prime Minister Mackenzie King Named to Represent Canada on New Disarmament Committee, with Senator Dandurand as Substitute Representative—Hopes for Discussion of Arms Limitation Show Faint Signs of Life in League Circles

Geneva, Oct. 1.—The steering committee of the League of Nations decided to set up a disarmament committee today as hopes for a discussion of arms limitation showed faint signs of life in League circles.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King was named to represent Canada on the disarmament committee. Senator Dandurand was named a substitute representative.

Lord Robert Cecil and other delegates from the Brussels Peace Conference were invited to address the League Assembly this afternoon.

Hungary cast a slight damper on disarmament hopes, however, announcing she would abstain from work with the Commission "in view of the position taken by certain powers on the principle of equality in armaments."

In Paris Premier Blum of France said he would leave for Geneva late tonight.

Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, invited to meet Blum. The League, meanwhile, looked forward to acquiring a new member. It became known that Nahas Pasha, Egyptian Foreign Minister, would arrive Saturday for a preliminary discussion affecting Egypt's prospective entrance into the League after the recently concluded Anglo-Egyptian treaty becomes effective.

The Assembly voted to increase the number of non-permanent members of the Council from nine to eleven. China, as a representative of the Far East which has had no delegate since Japan withdrew, and Latvia were expected to receive the new seats.

PLAN RE-CONSTRUCTION OF CITY DESTROYED BY FIRE

Marshfield, Ore., Oct. 1.—A "running board" session of the Council started the coastal city of Bandon, burned to the ground by a forest fire, back toward a place on the map today.

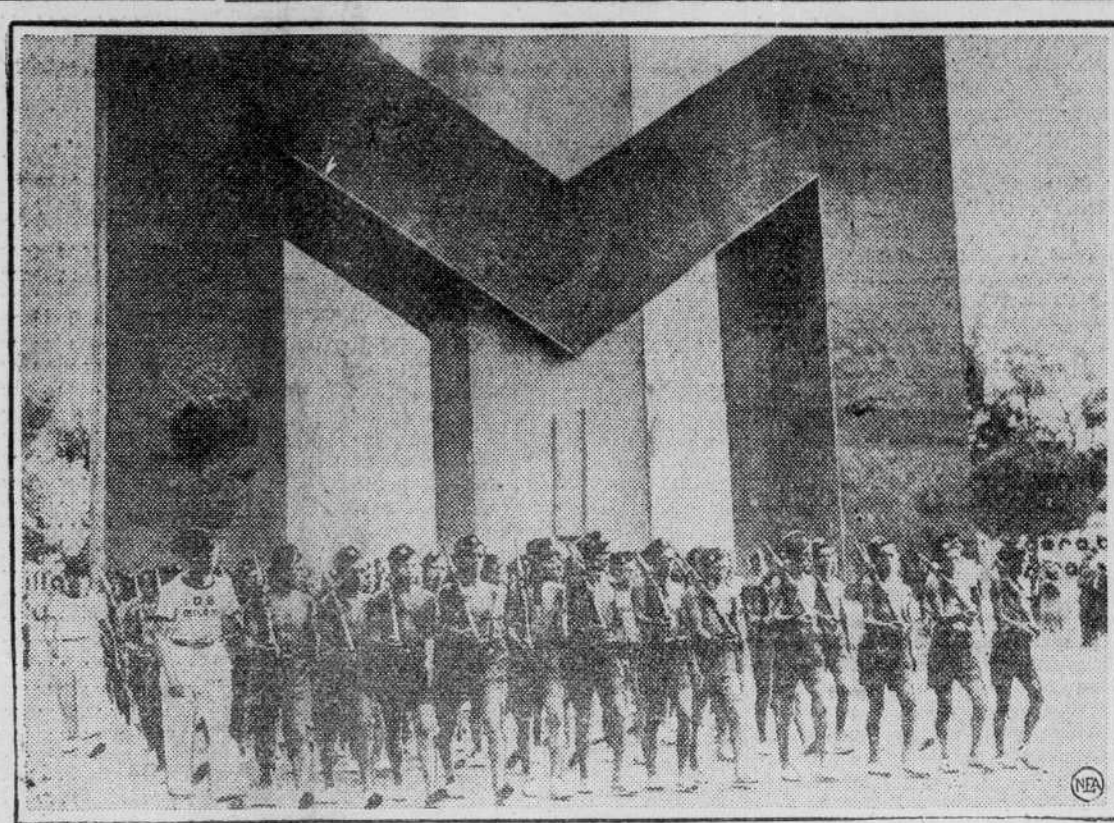

Meeting while the ashes of the city of 1,500 still were warm, Mayor Ed Capps presided from the running board of an automobile at a session to plan re-construction.

The Mayor said any kind of temporary shelter will be permitted, but that the Council can order all emergency structures removed upon 120 days' notice.

Between 350 and 400 buildings—almost all in town—were destroyed or damaged beyond repair. Tottering walls in the business district were dynamited as a safeguard to citizens returning to rebuild their homes.

While fires still dotted the territory, none was endangering cities. Meanwhile in the San Bernardino national forest in California, 1,500 men battled the most disastrous fire since 1918 which burned over 2,000 acres containing large stands of sugar pine.

"M" Means Mussolini, Young Fascists Taught

The enormous capital "M" through which these young Italian Fascists are marching might, from the guns on the children's shoulders, represent Militarism, but in fact stands for Mussolini. The symbol of loyalty to the Italian dictator was erected at a youth camp near Rome. Through the centre of the "M" runs the Fascist emblem.

RACE OR CREED PREJUDICE NOT LONDON'S WISH

Republican Nominee for U.S. Presidency Disclaims Support of Any Element "Endeavoring to Bring Racial Prejudices and Religious Bigotries into American Life."

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 1.—Governor Alf M. Landon disclaimed today support of any element "endeavoring to bring racial prejudices and religious bigotries into American life."

In a formal statement, issued without comment, the Republican nominee for the United States presidency said: "My attention has recently been directed to the activities of a number of agencies which, for selfish purposes or political reasons, are endeavoring to exploit prejudice between groups of American citizens."

"I have no use for any elements who are endeavoring to bring racial prejudices and religious bigotries into American life and state frankly that I disclaim the support of any such organizations or groups."

"If ever the day should come in this country that would see persecution of any racial group or sect because of race or religion, contrary to the bill of rights, I would stand among their defenders."

A critical study of the New Deal's Social Security Act was made public yesterday by Governor Landon, who said, "This report was made by the Twentieth Century Fund supported by the Filene Foundation."

In New York, Evans Clark, director of the Fund, said the material was given Landon "with the express stipulation that it be treated as confidential" and John B. Andrews, chairman of the Fund's old age security committee, said the report represented merely the views of the Fund staff member who prepared it. Andrews added that the committee had not acted on it.

HOOPER TO MEET LONDON

Denver, Oct. 1.—Herbert Hoover, former United States President, left Denver early today on a Topeka-bound train and his secretary, Lawrence P. Riskey, said he would "meet with" Governor Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, this afternoon.

Riskey's announcement came shortly after Hoover had assailed federal tax policies in an address last night to the metal mining convention of the American Mining Congress.

FAILED TO STOP COMMUNIST BROADCAST

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 1.—David J. Bental, Chicago attorney, who succeeded in making a Communist campaign speech here last night in spite of opposition by Chief of Police James C. Yates, planned to seek court orders today to bring about the release from jail of Earl Browder, Communist candidate for president of the United States, and four associates.

Browder and the others were arrested yesterday by Chief Yates in an effort to halt a Communist meeting last night.

Bental said he would go to the Superior Court here today and present petitions of writs of habeas corpus to obtain the release of Browder; Waldo Frank, novelist; and Seymour Waldman, member of the Communist national election campaign committee, both of New York; Charles Stadfield, Indiana Communist chairman; and Andrew Rems, a party worker, both of Indianapolis. All are held on vagrancy charges.

MANIPULATIONS OF MILK FIRMS ARE DESCRIBED

Tactics Used by Giant U.S. Milk Concerns to Maintain List Prices and Manoeuvring whereby Certain Dairy Farmers Lost $200,000 a Year Embodied in Washington Report.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The story of big stick tactics by giant United States milk concerns to maintain list prices, of rebates to chain stores and of a "manipulation" manoeuvre in New York whereby certain dairy farmers lost money at the rate of $200,000 a year was told today in a federal trade commission report.

The commission also said it found evidence of price agreements among big firms and that the Borden Company, one of the largest "at times refrained from competing" with other companies.

The report dealt with conditions in the vast New York milk shed, and discussed nationwide milk products concerns which have headquarters in New York City.

It was prepared in response to a congressional mandate to determine whether any concern is tending toward monopoly, competing unfairly, or depressing the prices dairy farmers receive. The New York milk shed comprises the states of New York and parts of Vermont, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Two huge concerns, the Borden Company and National Dairy Products Corporation, were named as maintaining resale prices on their products.

COMPLETE FIRST LINK IN INTERNATIONAL HIGHWAY
Dawson, Y.T., Oct. 1.—A highway from Dawson to the Alaska boundary, first link in a projected 250-mile international highway between Dawson and Fairbanks, Alaska, has been completed, today, after a forty-mile section of Alaska as a commercial tributary to Dawson.

The chief had three policemen in the local radio station under orders to prevent any Communist speech, but a few minutes before 9:15 o'clock—the time Browder's speech was to have been started—Bental rushed into the station, hurried past the officers and was locked in a small broadcasting booth.

Almost at the same time Chief Yates, ten other policemen and approximately fifty citizens hurried into the studio. The door to the broadcasting booth was locked, however, and Bental spoke.

THE WEATHER

FAIR AND COOL.

Pressure is high over the greater part of the west portion of the continent, also over east Maritimes and Grand Banks. A moderate disturbance, centred to the immediate east of James Bay, has a trough of low extending southward to Lake Ontario, thence southeastward to the New Jersey coast. Rain has occurred in Ontario and western Quebec, and it has become unsettled in west Maritimes though in other districts the weather has been fair. It has been decidedly cool in the Western Provinces with severe frost in all districts.

Forecast: Cloudy with showers; clearing tonight. Friday—northwest and west winds; fair and cool. Northern New England: Mostly cloudy; showers in east and north portion and in north portion Friday; not much change in temperature. Temperatures yesterday: Maximum 67; minimum 25. Same day last year: Maximum, 45; minimum, 40.

AIRPLANE DERBY WON BY SCOTT-GUTHRIE

Johannesburg, South Africa, Oct. 1.—C. W. A. Scott and Giles Guthrie flew to victory today in the England-Johannesburg air derby. Word arrived here a few hours later that two of the entrants in the race had been killed in the crash of their plane at Abercorn, Northern Rhodesia.

They were Max Findlay and Wireless Operator Morgan, flying with Ken Waller. They were in second place in the 6,500-mile race at the time.

TWENTY-THREE NEW CASES OF PARALYSIS IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Oct. 1.—A number of infantile paralysis cases reported in Manitoba in the past two months neared three hundred today as authorities filed reports of twenty-three new cases.

EXPORT TRADE NEARS BILLION DOLLAR FIGURE

Revenue Minister Hsley Declares that Trade Agreements with United States Have Been Successful "Beyond Our Most Sanguine Expectations."

Halifax, Oct. 1.—Canada's export trade is advancing by leaps and bounds, and Revenue Minister Hsley held today, there is no apparent reason why it should not top the $1,000,000,000 mark when, he said, "prosperity, and abounding prosperity, will come."

Speaking to the Nova Scotia Liberal Association last night, Mr. Hsley said the Dominion's export trade was rapidly approaching this figure. He coupled his assertion with the statement that democracy was strengthening in Canada.

"In a world of chaos, where many countries have become dictatorships, the Government and people of Canada are stronger than ever for democracy—for democracy means freedom," said the Revenue Minister.

"Our ancestry, our traditions, our nature are such that we must be free or die, we speak this tongue that Shakespeare spoke!" declared Mr. Hsley.

"After eight months of operation, we are able to say that the trade agreements with the United States have been successful beyond our most sanguine expectations," the Minister said.

Excluding gold bullion, the Dominion's exports to the United States for the first eight months of 1936 were twenty-eight per cent greater than for the same period a year ago and the agreements were of especial benefit to primary products, Mr. Hsley said. He noted an increase of more than thirty per cent in exports of planks and boards as a result of these agreements.

CHEAP SENSE OF HUMOR

Kinston, N.C., Oct. 1.—When Carl Thigpen went to his chicken house, he found four choice hens had been stolen and a cardboard placard about a rooster's neck reading: "How sad I am."

OPEN HOSTILITY BELIEVED ONLY SOLUTION TO CHINESE SITUATION

Japanese Army Generals Mapping Plans for Military Measures in China in Event Break-Off of Negotiations Should Complicate Increasingly Grave Situation—Armed Action Regarded as Japan's Next Step—Japanese with Fixed Bayonets Patrol Area of Shanghai—Japan Refuses to Discuss Reasons for Return of Armed Patrols.

Tokyo, October 1.—Japanese army generals mapped plans today for military measures in China in the event a break-off of negotiations should bring the increasingly grave Sino-Japanese situation to open hostility.

The high command met at Sapporo, Japanese town where army manoeuvres are being held.

Reports meanwhile were published in Tokyo newspapers describing would proceed with its second step, which means direct armed action, if General Chiang Kai-Shek, Dictator of China, refused Japanese demands—including its terms in North China—and if Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe withdraws from Nanking.

Reports meanwhile were published in Tokyo newspapers describing the situation in Shanghai as almost impossible to solve without force.

Strong patrols of Japanese marines took up positions in Shanghai's Hongkew district today in an apparent renewal of guard duty for Japanese residents.

Japanese officials declined to discuss reasons for the return of the patrols, which came suddenly and without warning.

A Japanese naval spokesman was represented as declaring the action was based on developments in the trial of the alleged slayers of a Japanese naval warrant officer, Hideo Nakayama, who was fatally wounded in Shanghai on November 10th, 1935.

The Japanese sources pointed out previous sensational developments in the trial had resulted in the killing on August 10th of Kosaku Kayau, a Japanese employee of a trading company.

The Japanese professed belief that if the Nakayama trial is finished today, fresh anti-Japanese violence might break out and therefore the patrols were established.

In armored cars and on motorcycles, the foreign guards spread quickly throughout the district in which many Japanese nationals have their residences.

Assume Direction of Traffic.
With fixed bayonets the marines assumed direction of traffic, superseding the Russian force employed by authorities of the International Settlement.

In addition, Japanese reservists—men who have served in the regular Japanese army—were called out for possible duty.

Chinese residents of the eastern section of the Chapei district, meanwhile, began evacuating into the International Settlement.

They moved from the Chinese area by foot, Rickshaw, cart and automobile, carrying with them all their belongings.

The movement of the Chinese recalled, in 1932, when thousands attempted to enter the international zone during fighting between Japanese and Chinese troops in Chapei.

REPORT AWAITED TODAY ON "VOLUNTARY PARENTHOOD"

Important Social Question Receiving Final Consideration by General Council of United Church of Canada.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Consideration of the "voluntary parenthood" report on the General Council of the United Church of Canada preferred to characterize what is ordinarily termed "birth control," will likely be reached by the Council here today. The committee reporting favorably on this social question also approved voluntary sterilization of the mentally unfit.

Establishment of voluntary parenthood clinics under public control and operated in conformity with Public Health Department requirements was approved in the report.

Total abstinence from alcoholic liquor was dealt with, the report urging support to legislative enactments aimed at controlling the liquor traffic. An element criticized by the report was the frequency of drinking scenes in motion picture plays. These were regarded as prejudicial to the habits and well-being of youth.

from the capital on the Toledo-Madrid highway, and pressed on north. "The back of the capital's resistance is broken," asserted General Jose Vareda, commander of the southern Fascist forces.

Insurgent officers made ready for an engagement a short distance north of Illescas, where Socialist troops were reported strongly entrenched.

Fascists reported Government planes bombed the marching columns at many points, including field headquarters at Maqueda. Socialist aim was bad, they declared, reporting no casualties from the aerial assaults.

While the few thousands of Toledo's 25,000 inhabitants who remained in the city survived the ruins still littered with dead, General Vareda described the fall of the former Moorish capital.

His 8,000 men, he said, took the city from 12,000 defenders, of which all but 5,000 organized troops were militia.

The Toledo arms factory was left inexplicably intact by the retreating Government troops, who blew up only the city's electric plant. Vareda said he expected to have the munitions factory in operation again within a fortnight.

CLAIM BACK OF SOCIALISTS' DEFENCE HAS BEEN BROKEN

Toledo, Spain, Oct. 1.—Insurgents pushed their advance to within twenty miles of Madrid today as Socialist defenders retreated from Illescas.

Advance patrols of one of three Fascist columns drove straggling Government militiamen from the town, which is twenty-two miles

EXPECT STRIKE NEGOTIATIONS TO OPEN TODAY

Mills of Guelph Cask, Veneer and Plywood Company at Scottstown Continued Idle This Morning—E. A. Wilson, Company Manager, Expected to Arrive During the Day.

Scottstown, Oct. 1.—Arrival from Ottawa today of E. A. Wilson, manager of the Guelph Cask, Veneer and Plywood Company, was expected to result in immediate reopening of negotiations between plant officials and 150 employees who have been on strike since Monday morning last.

No new developments were reported at the local mills this morning. Everything is at a standstill and no disturbance has occurred. The workers declared a strike when their demands for an increase in wages of ten cents an hour and time and a half for overtime, as well as the slowing down of the machines, were turned down by company heads.

CLAIM ESKIMO POPULATION IS VERY HEALTHY

Halifax, Oct. 1.—A clean bill of health was given to the Eskimo population of Canada's eastern Arctic land by doctors who returned today on the Hudson Bay Company steamship Nascopee, which makes a far-north voyage every year.

Returning were Dr. and Mrs. A. W. MacKinnon, of Ottawa, who spent two years at lonely Pangnirtung, Dr. MacKinnon, Government medical officer, expressed admiration for the courage and resourcefulness of native folk.

"The general health of the Eskimos appeared to be very good," asserted Dr. R. G. M. Keeling, British physician who, joined the ship at Southampton Land and aided as assistant medical officer on the Nascopee. The white man's plague, tuberculosis, had not obtained a foothold in the north, the doctors advised. Cases encountered were in scattered districts.

Absence of crime was noted by Inspector Keith Duncan, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who carried out inspections in all the far-north posts.

"The Eskimos are getting along fine," reported Major D. L. McKeand, M.C., officer in charge of the expedition, who chatted with reporters soon after the supply ship tied up at a Halifax pier.

The Eskimos are having their own "depression" due to a scarcity of caribou, their chief supply of clothing; and seals and walrus, their main food source, were difficult to find, Major McKeand said.

"In spite of this the population is slowly but steadily increasing and the health of the natives is improving, due largely to the work of the Government medical officers and the hospitals established at Pangnirtung and at Chesterfield Inlet by the Roman Catholic Church."

The ship carried three unregistered "passengers," white polar bears given by Chesley Russell, Hudson Bay agent at Dundas Harbor, to the Quebec zoo.

BITTER WORDS EXCHANGED AT TEXTILE PROBE

Letter Referring to Criticism that Some Manufacturers of Knitted Goods Were Turning Out Articles "A Little Better than the Brand Called for" Caused Heated Argument.

Toronto, Oct. 1.—Hearings continued today after one of the most heated disputes since the inauguration of the textile probe between J. C. McRuer, K.C., counsel for the Textile Commission, and Major Douglas Hallam, secretary of the Primary Textile Institute.

A letter referring to criticism that some manufacturers of knitted goods were turning out articles "a little better than the brand called for," brought about the clash at the hearing yesterday. Counsel and witness differed on the interpretation of a price-cutting memorandum.

Mr. McRuer said that if the witness was going to "get impudent" he would "be here for a long time." The declaration followed a reply made by Major Hallam to a remark by Mr. McRuer. Witness said: "You may say no, but it isn't the truth."

After a brief exchange, Mr. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon, Commissioner, ruled that Major Hallam must expect some retaliation after intimating counsel was not telling the truth.

Suggesting a committee of two be appointed to examine yarn samples submitted by manufacturers, Mr. McRuer said the criticism that some manufacturers were making articles a little better than the brand called for could be avoided.

Mr. McRuer charged after summing other letters and documents that agreements were made between mills concerning prices, terms of credit and shipping of goods. A bulletin from the Institute quoting prices to be agreed upon was mentioned.

The suggestion by counsel that there was a price-setting agreement among mills and the practice of shipping F.O.B. at point of buying would break the agreement was denied by Major Hallam.

SOCIAL CREDIT PLAN ADVANCED ANOTHER STEP

Registrations Closed Yesterday as Albertans Moved a Step Closer to Receiving Monthly Credit Dividends from Alberta Government.

Edmonton, Oct. 1.—The people of Alberta were a step closer today to receiving "Social Credit" dividends from the Alberta Government, but the date of the first issue was still indefinite.

All over Alberta registration for dividends closed yesterday and will not be re-opened until next June. It was a voluntary census of men and women over the age of twenty-one who desire monthly credit dividends, the basis of the Alberta social credit scheme. A few days ago Premier Aberhart indicated the dividend might be between $5 and $10 monthly for each person registering.

It will be days before complete figures for registration are known, but Provincial Secretary Manning said yesterday he expected they would exceed 378,249, the number of men and women on the voters' list at the 1935 provincial election.

When each man or woman registered, an agreement was signed with the Government. In addition, manufacturers, retailers, farmers and wholesalers were asked to sign agreements, but there was no closed registration period for them.

The covenant signed by the ordinary sort of citizen bound him: 1.—To co-operate most heartily with the Alberta Government and with my fellow-citizens of the Province of Alberta in providing food, clothing and shelter for every one of us.

2.—To work whenever possible and to accept my remuneration in Alberta credit as far as I can reasonably do so. In the event of receiving the whole or the greater part of my income in Canadian currency, I shall exchange as much of it as is convenient for Alberta credit.

3.—To make no claim or demand, at any time, for payment in Canadian currency of Alberta credit held by me.

4.—To tender no Alberta credit in payment of provincial taxes, fines, licenses, royalties, etc., until such time as the Alberta Government shall be able to accept all or part on the taxes, etc.

The covenant bound the Government to the following: 1.—To establish, as early as possible, and maintain a just rate of wages with reasonable hours of labor.

2.—To grant interest-free loans in Alberta credit on such terms and security as shall be mutually agreed upon, not exceeding two per cent, for administration charges, for the building of a home or the establishment of the registered citizen in his own enterprise if conducive to the economic requirements of the province.

3.—To give monthly dividends to all registered Alberta citizens and to increase the same as the total production of the province will allow.

4.—To redeem, when possible, Alberta credit with Canadian currency for the purpose of allowing the holder to take up residence outside the province or for other essential requirements.

In a general way, this is how the social credit dividend will work.

BRIGHTER TONE FEATURES NEW YORK TRADING

Recovery Tendencies Appeared in Today's Stock Market, Although Profit-Taking Dented Number of Issues and Kept Many Others within Restricted Area.

New York, Oct. 1.—Recovery tendencies appeared in today's stock market, although profit taking dented a number of issues and kept many others within a restricted area.

Selected motors, farm implements, utilities and assorted specialties were in demand around noon as gains of fractions to two points. Conspicuous on the upside were Chrysler, White Motors, Mack Truck, Deere, International Harvester, American and Foreign Power preferred, International Paper and Power preferred, Allied Chemical, Hollander and Son, American Locomotive, Texas Pacific Coal and Oil, Flintkote, Lee Rubber, Commercial Credit, Scheraga and Hiram Walker.

Du Pont dropped more than a point and unchanged to a shade lower were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda, American Can, Consolidated Edison, Santa Fe and International Nickel.

Bonds were slightly mixed. Grain and cotton futures improved. Call money remained at one per cent.

While business news tended to buoy sentiment in the board room, traders were inclined to step warily in view of possible market repercussions from the European currency devaluation move.

A drop of 13.3 per cent. in bank dealings from the comparable period last year was explained by the fact the 1935 total included heavy settlements for the first two days of October.

Notice was taken of the prediction of the publication "Banking" that the recovery curve will continue to ascend during the autumn months and business in 1936 will be the best in the past six years.

Rubber company shares received attention in the light of reports a boost in tire prices is likely soon because of higher labor and material costs.

The Bank of France statement for the week ended September 25 disclosed a further loss of around $15,000,000 in gold. At the beginning of foreign exchange transactions, nominal quotations were posted for sterling at $4.94, up 3-4 of a cent; guilders, 54.70 cents, off 30 of a cent; and Swiss francs, 23.07 cents, up .04 of a cent. The franc was not quoted.

Gray's leading Kayser League ranking today.

Second Three-String Triumph Placed Grays at Top of Julius Kayser Bowling League Standing—Three Teams Experienced Bad "Breaks" Last Evening.

If total pinfalls were taken into consideration in determining winners of Julius Kayser Bowling League fixtures, today's story of last evening's programme would be considerably altered. In three of last night's five contests the losing quintettes recorded higher aggregates than their victorious opponents. The losing teams would have been credited with victories had they been able to bowl consistently instead of concentrating on one string.

The Whites had a total pinfall which was seventy-two pins higher than the aggregate accumulated by the Pinks, but the latter squad chalked up a two to one string-decision. The same situation existed in the Greens-Reds and Maroons-Oranges struggles, the Greens and the Maroons capturing the odd string in three each although outpointed by fifty-nine and fifty-two pins by the Reds and the Oranges, respectively.

Such was not the case, however, when the undefeated Grays blanked the Browns to remain alone at the top of the league standing, for in the Blues-Purple fixture in which the former quintette led in both the strings—won and total-pinnal columns, scoring a two to one decision.

Fred Goyette, anchor man for the Purples, captured single-string honors with a mark of 169, while Connie Katadotis, who occupies the same berth with the Browns, placed first in the three-string department with an aggregate of 428. Others in the 400-class were Harvey Courchesne, of the Greens, with 416, Lucien Chertier, of the Blues, with 412, and Goyette with 401.

The detailed results follow:

GRAYS LEADING KAYSER LEAGUE RANKING TODAY

Second Three-String Triumph Placed Grays at Top of Julius Kayser Bowling League Standing—Three Teams Experienced Bad "Breaks" Last Evening.

If total pinfalls were taken into consideration in determining winners of Julius Kayser Bowling League fixtures, today's story of last evening's programme would be considerably altered. In three of last night's five contests the losing quintettes recorded higher aggregates than their victorious opponents. The losing teams would have been credited with victories had they been able to bowl consistently instead of concentrating on one string.

The Whites had a total pinfall which was seventy-two pins higher than the aggregate accumulated by the Pinks, but the latter squad chalked up a two to one string-decision. The same situation existed in the Greens-Reds and Maroons-Oranges struggles, the Greens and the Maroons capturing the odd string in three each although outpointed by fifty-nine and fifty-two pins by the Reds and the Oranges, respectively.

Such was not the case, however, when the undefeated Grays blanked the Browns to remain alone at the top of the league standing, for in the Blues-Purple fixture in which the former quintette led in both the strings—won and total-pinnal columns, scoring a two to one decision.

Fred Goyette, anchor man for the Purples, captured single-string honors with a mark of 169, while Connie Katadotis, who occupies the same berth with the Browns, placed first in the three-string department with an aggregate of 428. Others in the 400-class were Harvey Courchesne, of the Greens, with 416, Lucien Chertier, of the Blues, with 412, and Goyette with 401.

Extra Rich in the Economical Bag—say 5 coffee lovers

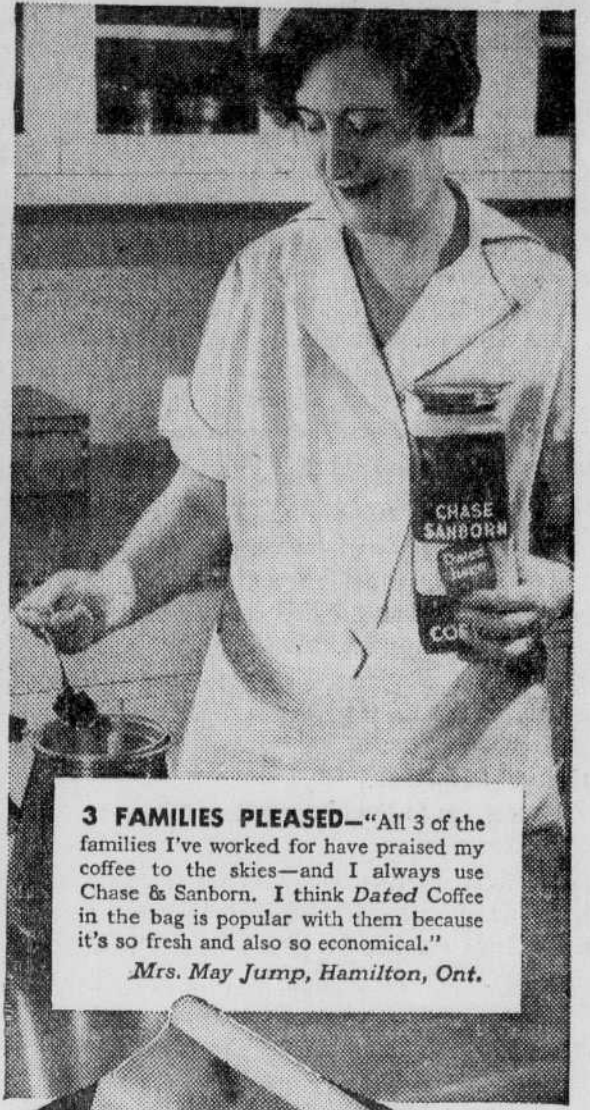

NEW COFFEE ENJOYMENT—"Until I drank Chase & Sanborn Dated Coffee, I didn't know coffee could be so perfectly fresh and delicious. I've enjoyed it to the utmost—and its inexpressiveness in the bag is popular with me, too." Mrs. Audley Curran, Montreal, P. Q.

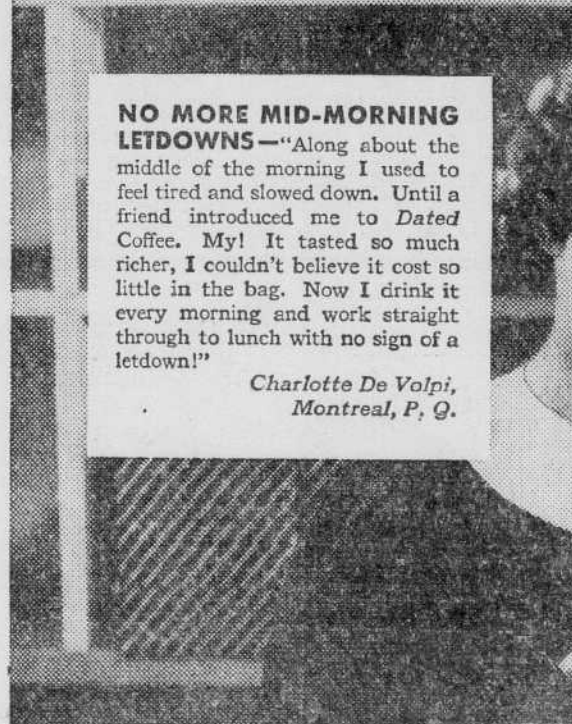

BUDGETERS THRILLED—"We feel we're getting a special value every time we buy Dated Coffee in the bag. It saves us money—and it has so much rich flavor, we're both crazy about it." Mrs. Frank L. Armstrong, Ottawa, Ont.

BUSINESSLIKE ABOUT FOOD—"Food should be bought as intelligently as supplies for an office. I approve Dated Coffee for my household because it delivers both flavor and freshness, and because the bag makes it a real economy." James B. Thorpe, Toronto, Ont.

3 FAMILIES PLEASED—"All 3 of the families I've worked for have praised my coffee to the skies—and I always use Chase & Sanborn. I think Dated Coffee in the bag is popular with them because it's so fresh and also so economical." Mrs. May Jump, Hamilton, Ont.

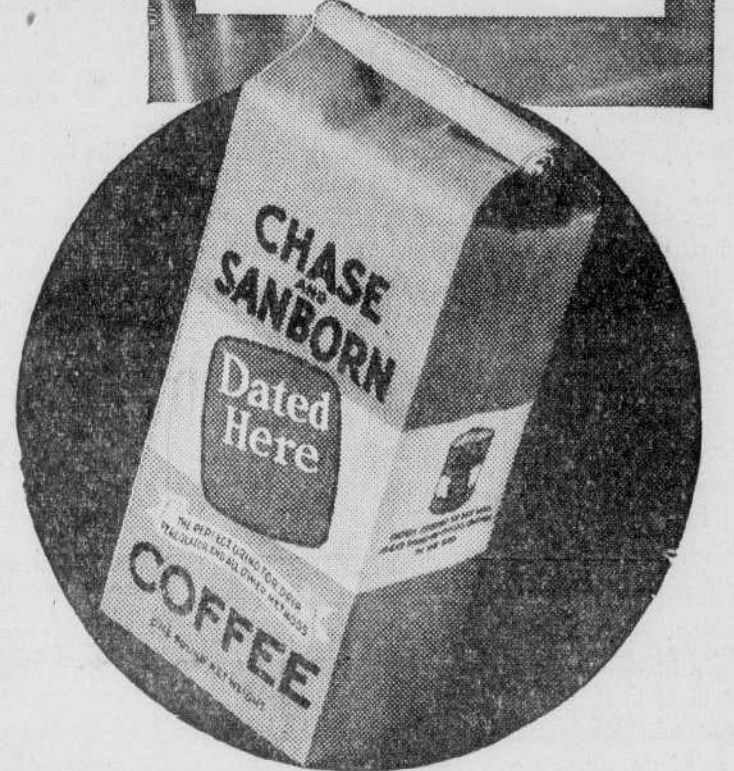

NO MORE MID-MORNING LETDOWNS—"Along about the middle of the morning I used to feel tired and slowed down. Until a friend introduced me to Dated Coffee. My! It tasted so much richer, I couldn't believe it cost so little in the bag. Now I drink it every morning and work straight through to lunch with no sign of a letdown!" Charlotte De Volpi, Montreal, P. Q.

ONE cupful will show you why coffee lovers are so enthusiastic about Dated Coffee in the bag. It's extra rich, because it's blended from the world's choicest coffees. And its delicious freshness is guaranteed by our Dating Plan.

We rush every bag of Dated Coffee to your grocer, plainly marked with the date he gets it, and no bag stays on his shelves more than 10 days. That's why we can put it in the inexpensive bag—and give you the saving!

Order delicious Chase & Sanborn Dated Coffee in the economical bag from your grocer tomorrow.

One hundred pupils from the Beebe High School attended the school fair at Ayer's Cliff.

Rally Day service was held at the United Church on Sunday morning. Miss Beatrice Cass presided at the organ and Miss Josephine Wells at the piano. Much credit is due Miss Maude Akin, superintendent, and Mrs. Leon Miller, assistant superintendent for the splendid programme rendered by the children.

Mrs. Lillie Sharkey entertained the Guild of All Saints Church at a special meeting in honor of the older members and church friends. After a short business meeting a programme of readings piano solos and songs was rendered. At the tea hour refreshments were served by the hostess, after which the guests departed, thanking Mrs. Sharkey for a very pleasant afternoon.

WINDSOR MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wark, of Lyndonville, Vt., were week-end guests of Mrs. W. J. Wark and Mrs. A. MacKinnon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Munroe, of Gallup Hill, called recently on the Misses Barbara and Janet Main.

Mr. H. A. Brouillette spent the first of last week in Kingston, Ont. Later he and Mrs. Brouillette motored to Bury, where they were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brouillette.

Mrs. A. G. Stalker was in Sherbrooke last week attending a meeting of the Presbyterian W.M.S.

Rally Day was observed at St. Andrew's United Church Sunday morning, the auditorium being beautifully decorated with flowers and maple leaves. The junior choir was in attendance and the young people took a prominent part in the service. Miss Hilda Bilson, giving a special reading. Mr. S. M. Paige, secretary for the Windsor School, made a detailed report of the work of the various classes and announced the promotions, while Mrs. Tanner presented each of her pupils a certificate for attendance and membership. The same programme was followed at the services in Lower Windsor during the afternoon.

SHERBROOKE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1936.

Expresses Sentiments Of All Canadians.

One of the first acts of Hon. N. W. Rowell after his appointment as Chief Justice of Ontario was to move the United Church message of loyalty to His Majesty King Edward the Eighth.

In this message Mr. Justice Rowell not only expressed the sentiments and feelings of the adherents of the United Church, but he also proclaimed the thoughts which lie deep in the hearts of all loyal Canadians.

The message to the King read as follows:

"To Your Majesty we pledge the like loyalty and affection. In this Dominion we account Your Majesty one of ourselves, and Your Majesty's accession confirms the ties by which we are bound to the Empire. We thank God for the proved gifts and sympathies which Your Majesty brings to the Throne, and in particular do we rejoice in Your Majesty's deep concern for the lot of the common folk. We pray Almighty God that He grant Your Majesty good health and length of days, and bestow upon you therewith the graces and the insight of His everlasting kingdom, so that, under your royal leadership Your Majesty's reign may see peace and good-will, freedom and fellowship established and made well secure, not for your own people alone, but for all mankind."

Truly does this message embody the sentiments of a loyal and united Canada to a King who is beloved and revered. It is the fervent prayer of all Canadians that the wish expressed in these words may in reality be realized.

United We Stand.

Hon. Michael Dwyer, Nova Scotia Minister of Mines, merits a word of commendation for his efforts to keep to the forefront the importance of co-operation between the provinces in our endeavour to build up a progressive and prosperous Canada. The value of this point of view can never be overstressed, for it is of major importance that the country as a whole benefit from the particular resources of the different provinces.

Nations are closer together today than towns were one hundred and fifty years ago. We have passed from the stage known as "town economy" into "world economy." Under these conditions of international finance it is indeed ridiculous for the provinces of Canada to put up barriers against one another. If Canada is to be strong and prosperous, she must be united. The peoples of each province must endeavour to understand the problems of every other province, for, after all, these problems affect the growth of Canada as a nation.

The East can contribute to the growth of the West, and vice versa. Therefore, let the barriers be down, let understanding be the keynote and Canada will march forward.

Teaching The Child Fire Prevention.

The child of today is the citizen of tomorrow. In a comparatively short space of time our children will be the home builders and business men and women of the nation; the responsibility will soon be theirs of directing its destiny and of bearing our torch of civilization onward. We cannot prepare them too well for this great purpose. The progress that may be made in our and their day toward the ultimate goal of human happiness will depend largely upon how much we teach them of what is good, helpful and progressive.

You, no doubt, know about the little things which start big fires. Many of the causes are simple things and are not too complex or difficult for the child mind to grasp and understand. Children cannot be taught the simple fundamentals of life too young. The younger they are, the more plastic their minds, and the more receptive to truth. To make them understand requires meeting their minds with child thought and language. The failure of so many, even of teachers in school, to teach children successfully is because they try to teach a five-year-old child in fifty-year-old language and thought. Another reason for failure is because of a lack of love for the child. To love a small child is instinctively to influence it. The child just as instinctively shuns those who do not love it.

Today while they are eagerly grasping every fragment of knowledge which comes to them, and while their ways are being moulded into life-long habits, commence the teaching of fire prevention. Teach them the dangers of heat, that is, stoves close to woodwork, or stove pipes through or close to wood walls or ceilings, or of oils when mixed with cotton or other fibres and hence of furniture polishes and other things which contain oils. Keep on teaching them until they understand, not necessarily why, but that these and many other simple things if misused or neglected become dangerous hazards which might harm or destroy them.

The most opportune time for teaching fire danger to children is in the impressionable age during the lowest grades of school. After that time it becomes increasingly difficult to genuinely impress them; the older they become, the more stereotyped are their habits. If you have small children, you are vitally interested, for you want to know that they are safe from danger or fire. So begin at once to teach them the safe way and continue until you feel that they are competent to care for themselves.

Editor's Note-Book.

There are six million persons in Canada who have passed their twentieth birthday, and of these nearly five million have some deposits in Canada's banks, which total approximately two billion dollars, states the Brantford Examiner. These statistics do not seem to harmonize with the demagogic declaration that the wealth of the country is confined to a very few people.

A New Yorker invited friends for a game of cards in a plane. If one of the party wants to leave when he is winning, it will probably be okay with the others.

Scientists say sourmilk will remove rust from white goods, but they have found no benefit yet in sour grapes.

In an effort to improve Protestant education in the Province, the Council of Public Instruction advised an increase of one-half mill in the special Protestant school rate.

The double wedding was reported from Warden of Miss Bessie Atkinson to Mr. Ernest J. Standish and Miss Ida Hunter to Mr. Percival Atkinson, Rev. Mr. Howard officiating.

Albert Allen, of Farnham, was instantly killed when he unknowingly stepped into the path of an oncoming freight train.

The Tobin Manufacturing Company ordered a large extension to their mill at Bromptonville to care for increasing business.

Mr. J. K. Edwards returned to Sherbrooke after an extended trip to Western Canada and the United States.

A Sherbrooke lacrosse squad comprising L'Heureux, J. Drapeau, C. Moe, Lavers, G. Dunsmore, T. Southwood, Fred Povey, G. Parsons, Humphrey, George Povey, McInnis and Fred Rocque defeated an "All Montreal" aggregation by 10 to 5.

Mr. Joseph Hugo returned to Sherbrooke after spending several months with relatives in Belgium.

Mr. H. M. Regan left Eastman on a trip to Western Canada.

What Editors Say

STRICTER PENALTIES FOR TRAFFIC OFFENDERS.

L'Espresso, Quebec.
In the Province of Quebec, a man who comes before a Judge for perhaps the twentieth time charged with driving too fast is not liable to even half the fine imposed for a second offence in New York.

Perhaps if our laws were more severe there would be fewer highway accidents attributable to the chauffeurs.

Our authorities should never lose sight of the fact that one of these speedman idiots can place in danger the lives of several others driving according to all the rules of etiquette and of the law.

HUMAN ADVERTISING.

Stroud, Eng. Journal.
Major Ian Hay assured an audience of business executives in London that human advertising was the world's best way of selling value-for-money goods. He instanced the case of a Western American small-town clothier, who made a fortune from the sign: "The Cheapest Pants in the World! Walk right in, folks, and buy a pair! One dollar per leg! Seats free!" "People," said Major Ian Hay, "want to be told when a good article comes on the market, and an intelligent system of making that fact as widely and as quickly known as possible is a public necessity."

AIDING PRIVATE ENTERPRISE.

London Advertiser.
Judging by the success of the British housing scheme, and by the painful results of public construction of houses in this country the Government is doing well to aid private enterprise, rather than to launch out on public projects.

Since the war Britain has added almost three million homes to the eight million existing at that time. Of these 1,697,430 were built by private enterprise, unassisted, 422,926 by private enterprise, assisted, and 861,048 by local authorities with or without the assistance of the central government. The British building programme has been one of the main features in the improvement of trade conditions in that country.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR.

Buffalo Evening News.
Sir Robert Falconer in addressing the New York State Historical Association dwelt upon the trends which threaten democratic institutions everywhere. The republics and constitutional monarchies of the world today are definitely on the defensive. The rise of the authoritarian state has caused men of liberal thought to grope for logic to justify the faith that is in them. The former head of the University of Toronto is convinced that democracy has justified itself. Sir Robert feels that the chief peril lies in the fact that "ignorant demagogues" exercise a vast power over the emotions of the multitude. This same charge could lie, of course, against dictators. Almost all tyrants, in ancient and modern times, have achieved power by the "bread and circus" formula. In his address the distinguished Canadian made it clear that he had "as little sympathy for the panic-stricken tenacity of the 'haves' as with the violent graspings of the 'have-nots.'" It is by such extremists that democracy is threatened.

Letters To The Editor

CANADA'S MINES

To the Editor,
Sherbrooke Record.
Dear Sir:
Permit me to thank you for your vastly improved stock report service. It is a tremendous improvement over your old service with its single column, very small type and quotations on very few stocks.

It may interest your readers to know that Canada is now one of the richest mining countries in the world. At present the production of gold alone has reached a new all-time peak. Over 130 gold mines are producing gold at the rate of $135,000,000 a year and the annual output for the next five years is expected to exceed $250,000,000. For the year 1936 shareholders will receive about $75,000,000 in dividends, to say nothing of the appreciation in stock values. In the past year our Canadian gold stocks have appreciated over $800,000,000 and this is certainly going some when you consider that Canada's entire population is only a little over ten million. Fortunes are made and lost in stocks, and yet I never advise anybody to speculate in any kind of stocks unless you follow the "golden rule"—to never invest more than you can absolutely afford to lose. On the other hand, some have done very well.

Yours truly,

STOCKS.

DENISON'S MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. P. Andrews, of Quebec, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrews and Mr. Ray Andrews. Their daughter, Miss Emma, came with them and is spending some time with her uncle and aunt and cousin.

The chicken-pie supper held in the community hall for the benefit of Holy Trinity Church was fairly well attended. The sum of nearly seventy dollars was realized. Mr. W. J. Sutherland was the winner of the chicken given for the correct guess on the amount of seeds in a pumpkin pie.

The many friends of Mr. Guy Andrews are deeply concerned about his illness. Mrs. Andrews returned to Charney to be near him, after spending a few days at their home here.

ULVERTON

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith and family were at Sweetburg as guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Johnston. Mr. E. W. Doyle and son, Master Elwyn Doyle, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Doyle, Bromes.

Mrs. John Crook, of Melbourne, is a guest for a few days of Mrs. A. G. Harriman.

DANVILLE FAIR PROVED TO BE A GREAT SUCCESS

Over Three Thousand Persons Attended Sixtieth Annual Exhibition of Danville Union Agricultural Society—Exhibits of High Quality.

Danville, Oct. 1.—Over three thousand persons attended the sixtieth annual exhibition of the Danville Union Agricultural Society. The beautiful weather induced many to visit the fair grounds and was largely responsible for the success which attended this year's event.

The grounds presented a well-kept appearance, reflecting great credit upon the efforts of the president, B. F. Olney, and the directors who gave so generously of their time during the previous week preparing for this annual exhibition. The livestock exhibits, as well as other displays were up to the usual high standard of quality. In the town hall the ladies' department was especially fine, and special mention might be made of the numerous and beautiful collection of flowers.

Officers of the organization are: honorary presidents, Senator E. W. Tobin, Col. R. F. Stockwell and J. P. Mullins, M.P.; second honorary president, Norris Perkins; honorary vice-presidents, S. E. Desmarais, A. Goudreau, M.L.A.; second vice-president, Stephen Olney; president, B. F. Olney, vice-president, Ira Snaden; secretary-treasurer, H. S. Brown.

Honorary directors: H. H. Cleveland, Stephen Olney, G. Porter, W. S. Denison, C. Perkins, C. H. Cleveland, O. P. Shaw, J. A. McCallum. Board of management: H. Goodenough, W. Lockwood, F. Olney, W. Denison, Jr., F. Gallup, president, vice-presidents and secretary.

Directors: Albert Robinson, Charles Boisvert, S. L. Lockwood, Louis Lafrenay, L. E. Findlay, W. Greer, S. L. Gibson, F. Armstrong, J. I.

Ladies' committee: S. L. Gibson, A. E. Ward, N. H. Smith, I. C. Watson, J. A. McCallum, W. T. Greer, J. H. Boutelle and S. L. Lockwood. Gate committee: H. Goodenough, L. E. Findlay; music and hall, H. Smith, J. H. Boutelle, A. E. Leet and F. Olney.

Licenses: F. Olney, W. A. Findlay and W. Z. Matthews. Among the exhibits in the hall was a rare copy of the famous "Breeches" Bible, which was loaned by Mr. Albert Tector, of Asbestos. The copy was printed in 1607. Although more than three hundred years old, it is in excellent condition. There are only a few copies of this kind in existence. A church of England prayer book printed in 1756 was also on exhibition.

QUEEN MARY PREPARING TO LEAVE BUCKINGHAM PALACE

Will Take Up Permanent Residence at Marlborough House, where She Lived for Nine Years as Princess of Wales.

London, Oct. 1.—In a few days Queen Mary will move from Buckingham Palace to her new home at Marlborough House.

In truth it ought to be called her old home, for it was at Marlborough House that she spent nine years when the late King George and she were Prince and Princess of Wales.

By her express wish the exact date of Her Majesty's departure has been kept a secret, so that she may leave the palace and settle down at Marlborough House without being watched by a curious crowd.

Although the house has been untenanted since Queen Alexandra's death in 1925, it has undergone two complete renovations since then. The first was eight years ago when it was suggested that the Prince of Wales, now King Edward, should reside there. The Prince, however, preferred to remain at York House.

His Majesty is expected to leave there for good on his return from Balmoral. His private apartments at the palace will overlook the gardens, which are on the opposite side of the great building from that facing the Mall.

LENNOXVILLE

A large attendance of St. George's Parish Guild members spent a busy afternoon at the Parish Hall yesterday when final arrangements were made for a rummage sale, a card party and a food sale to be held in the near future.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the St. Francis District Association to be held in St. George's Church about the middle of October, when the Parish Guild will cater for the luncheon to be served to the visiting clergymen, speakers and visitors.

Mrs. W. A. Brown, first vice-president, took charge of the meeting in the absence of Mrs. H. R. Fraser, the president, who is still confined to her bed through illness.

Following adjournment, the members left the hall to re-assemble at "The Varsity Tea Room," where they were pleasantly entertained at afternoon tea by Mrs. Maude Morgan and Miss Louise Molloy.

General Notes.
A most enjoyable and highly successful card party was held last evening in the Lennoxville L.O.O.F. Hall under the auspices of Myrtle Rebekah Lodge Number Twenty-eight. Cards were played at nine tables, and a prize presented at each table. Following the card game, a delicious lunch was served by the refreshment committee.

Mrs. W. J. Lane and Mrs. Truman Dawson. The card tables were looked after by the Misses Estella Wellma, convener, Ruby Pegg and Bettie Cole.

Mrs. V. T. Evans entertained very charmingly at her home yesterday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Elaine, on the occasion of her eighth birthday, when fifteen children and Miss Hazel Gibson were her guests. A happy time was spent playing games following which a delicious lunch was served in the dining room, where the attractive table was centered with a crystal bowl of pink flowers and tall pink tapers in crystal candlesticks. Tiny pink ladies were given to the children as mementos of a most enjoyable afternoon.

Dr. Ann Purdy, of San Francisco, Calif., is a guest today at the home of her cousin, Mrs. John Robinson, and Mr. Robinson. Other guests at the same home are Dr. Purdy's father, Mr. James Purdy, and her niece, Miss Constance Lewis, R.N., of Sherbrooke.

RESTRICTIONS PLACED ON CINEMA KISSING.

Hollywood, Calif., Oct. 1.—It is not true that all the world loves a lover.

Movie lovers, for example, frequently have a hard time of it when their celluloid romancing comes to the scissored hand of the censor in many countries. New restrictions on cinema kissing issued today in Japan emphasized the fact.

Authorities announced that kissing scenes "beyond official discretion" will be banned hereafter from Japanese theatre screens.

HIGH SCHOOL

1936 Graduation Class Commencement Exercises Last Evening Attracted a Large Gathering of Parents and Friends.

The attractively-decorated Assembly Hall of the Sherbrooke High School was filled to capacity last evening, when parents of the pupils and friends of the school, numbering nearly five hundred, assembled to witness the commencement exercises of the graduating class of 1936.

Seldom, if ever, before has the Assembly Hall presented such an attractive appearance as it did last evening, and the members of the graduating class were certainly deserving of much praise for the clever decoration scheme which was carried out with such good effect.

Literally speaking the spacious hall had been transformed into a ship, the large gathering being privileged to spend the evening aboard the good ship "S.S. Grad 1936." With green and silver, the decorations consisted of wall streamers depicting the sides of a ship. There were also many small silver stars, fish and other marine equipment to bring out the idea of decorations.

The programme, which was carried out under the presidency of A. D. Brodie, chairman of the Board of School Commissioners, opened with a piano performance by Miss Muriel McHarg, M.A., after which Rev. Dr. Ellery Baker, Pastor Emeritus of Plymouth United Church, pronounced the invocation. Then followed the singing of "O Canada" and the chairman's report.

The principal, Wright W. Gibson, M.A., in his report spoke in most commendable terms of the past year's work and assured his hearers that the Sherbrooke High School looked to the future with optimism and confidence.

Year after year the Sherbrooke High School continues to enlarge in numbers and in the scope of its activities. Principal Gibson told the gathering. The Principal also made reference to the difficult position which school boards and educationists have to face in attempting to meet the demands for greater educational facilities with the limited financial resources at their disposal.

The enrolment at the High School last year, the Principal said, was 273 pupils, which included 119 girls and 154 boys. Last year 241 pupils completed the year's work and of that number 217 or ninety per cent. were successful.

Mr. Gibson also extended congratulations to Miss Elizabeth Horton, Principal of the Mitchell School, who is to receive the Order of the St. Scholastic Merit from the Quebec Department of Education in recognition of her merit as a teacher and a worker in the cause of education for the past twenty years.

Special mention was also made by the Principal of the continued interest shown by the Sherbrooke I.O.D.E. in the cause of education, and he especially thanked the Duke of Wellington Chapter for the numerous scholarships which they donate annually to the school.

The special speaker last evening was Rev. P. A. C. Dossie, B.A., pastor of Plymouth Church, who delivered an inspiring address to the members of the graduating class and gave them much valuable food for thought in the difficult task which faced them of taking their places in the world of today.

The following were the special prize-winners in the graduating class: Vivian Parr, Superintendent, Delage Medal for highest standing in Grade XI, the Rev. C. P. Reid entrance scholarship to Bishop's University, the Schubert Music Club prize in music in Grade XI and the John Leonard Memorial Prize for Music, which was awarded for the first time this year by Miss Leonard in memory of her father; Margaret Miller, the National Scholarship Award for Art; and Marjory Lee, Miss Griggs' Prize for Art.

This year for the fourth time in succession Sherbrooke High School won the Southern Canada Power Company Perpetual trophy at the annual Eastern Townships Track Meet held at Stanstead. This is the seventh time since the cup was placed in 1928, then, in 1928, the High School has been victorious. The presentation of this cup was made by ex-Mayor Dr. F. H. Bradley.

COURT ORDERS ALL-NEGRO JURY.
Murfreesboro, Ark., Oct. 1.—Circuit Judge A. O. Steel ordered attorneys to select an all-negro jury today to try a murder case in which negroes are principals.

Circuit Clerk M. C. Barton said no jury in Pike County ever included even one negro.

The jury will try Charles Gentry on a first degree murder charge. Gentry is accused of stabbing to death another negro, named Evans, two months ago. Murder is a capital crime in Arkansas.

YOUTH FACES TRIAL FOR MURDER OF PRISON GUARD.
Moscow, Sask., Oct. 1.—A fifteen-year-old Wesley Anderson is on trial here on a charge of murdering guard John Sangster with a potato masher in the jail on August 2nd when the guard is stated to have frustrated an alleged attempted jail-break by Anderson and his companion, Robert McGrath. Anderson pleaded not guilty.

HAVE A CLUB DINNER AT HOME
Just in case you have not met before, let us introduce to you the "Club" steak! Under the guise of a wine roast you've been enjoying its succulent tenderness for years but now, with the aid of our modern electric slicer, you may have the roast cut into fine juicy steaks, each one big enough to satisfy the appetite of your hungry husband—no matter how big and handsome he may be! Each steak figures out at about fifteen cents. Telephone Dixon's Market today for "Club" steak—observe how wonderfully it is cut—learn how delectable it tastes.

NEW LOW RATES FOR MOTOR COACH TRAVEL
Another reduction of ten per cent. in new motorcoach fares, making them the lowest in history for highway travel, was announced today by R. G. Perry, passenger traffic manager for the Provincial Transport Company, Montreal. The new rates become effective today.

According to Mr. Perry, motorcoach travel has had one of its most successful years. In spite of the low cost per mile to the traveler, the tremendous increase in the volume of traffic has resulted in a substantial gain in the year's revenue.

DEATHS REPORTED

FUNERAL OF MRS. RACHEL KENNEDY MACALLISTER.

The funeral services for Mrs. Rachel Kennedy MacAllister, who passed away very suddenly on Monday, September 21, in her seventy-sixth year, at the home of her daughter, Miss Alice MacAllister, Montreal, were held on Wednesday, September 23rd. Prayers were said at the home of her son, Mr. L. E. MacAllister, and Mrs. MacAllister, Clough Avenue, Lennoxville, by Rev. Harris Wallace, of the Baptist Church, Coaticook, and Rev. F. R. Matthews, of Lennoxville. The hymns, "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er" and "Forever with the Lord" were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Austin Scott, the Misses Florence Wark and Thelma Crawford, and Mr. Stewart Marlin, accompanied by Mrs. F. S. Browne.

The bearers were her nephew, Mr. James Tomalty, her great nephew, Mr. Cecil Tomalty, of Montreal, and four friends, Messrs. William Wallace, Charles Johnston, Harold Allen and L. W. Moulton, of Coaticook. Interment took place in Mount Forest Cemetery, Coaticook.

The deceased was born in Grenville, County of Argenteuil, Que., on November 27, 1860, the youngest child of Joseph Kennedy and Elizabeth Hughes, who came from Ireland to this country in 1838. She received her education in Grenville and remained there until her marriage to Charles MacAllister, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacAllister, of Brownsburg, Que., in August, 1882, at Dalesville, Que.

After her marriage, she and Mr. MacAllister lived in Dalesville, for eleven years, and then moved to the Eastern Townships, where they resided until Mr. MacAllister's death on July 13, 1935. Since that time she resided with her daughter, Miss Alice MacAllister, in Montreal.

Deceased will be sadly missed by all who knew her, for she was a woman of sterling character and high ideals, a loving and devoted wife and mother, a kind neighbor and a loyal friend. Her sunny disposition and keen sense of humor gained for her a host of friends, and the many beautiful floral tributes, telegrams and expressions of sympathy received were evidence of the high esteem she had earned during her life. She had always enjoyed exceptionally splendid health.

She was predeceased by her father and mother, her ten sisters and brothers, her husband, who passed away only fourteen months ago, and her youngest son, William who died at the age of six.

She leaves to mourn her passing, two sons, Charles MacAllister, of Toronto, and Lawrence E. MacAllister, of Lennoxville, two daughters, Miss Alice MacAllister and Miss Caroline MacAllister, R.N., both of Montreal, five grandchildren, one great grandchild, many nephews, nieces, and several great nephews.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacAllister, of Toronto, her two daughters, the Misses Alice and Caroline MacAllister, of Montreal, her niece, Mrs. James Tomalty and Mr. Tomalty, of Montreal, Mr. Cecil Tomalty, of Montreal, great nephew, and many friends from Montreal, Coaticook, Waterville and Sherbrooke.

The diner was feeling in kindly mood after being driven home in a taxi. As he paid the fare, he searched through his notecase for a new ten-shilling note.

"I suppose," he said to the driver, "you would rather have clean money?"

"Don't you worry yourself, sir," replied the man. "I ain't particular how you made your dough."

Social and Personal

Messrs. Gordon Edwards, Colin Campbell and Douglas Howard are spending a week in New York.

Mr. Ashley Hibbard, Quebec street, left yesterday for Montreal to resume his studies at McGill University.

Miss Agnes Timmons, of Lennoxville, has returned from Victoria, where she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Timmons.

Miss Louise Mitchell left yesterday for Portland, Me., where she will be a guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown Parker.

Miss Bernice M. Baron has returned to town after spending an enjoyable holiday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Baron, "Pleasant View Farm," Sawyerville.

The many friends of Master Philip Hindmarch will be pleased to hear that he is making a good recovery at his home on Portland avenue, after undergoing an operation at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Miss Gertrude Chadsey, nurse-in-training at the Sherbrooke Hospital, who has been ill at her home in Bedford for several weeks, is the guest for a few days of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Cleary, "The Bellevue," Melbourne street.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Littler, the Misses Doris and Phyllis Littler and Mr. Kenneth Littler, Murray street, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Littler, of Bishopston, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Powell, of Worcester, Mass., are in St. Johnsbury, Vt., today to attend the graduation exercises at the Brightlook Hospital, Miss Patricia Littler being one of the graduates.

Mrs. Hugh M. Tomlinson and Miss Florence Hunt were hostesses at the tea hour yesterday afternoon, following the weekly meeting of St. Peter's Guild in the parish hall. Golden hued autumn flowers centered the tea table, at which Mrs. E. O. Grundy presided. The guests were received by Mrs. James Johnston and Mrs. G. S. Thomson acted as treasurer.

Mrs. W. Cotterell entertained the members of the Sir John Sherbrooke Boy Scouts' Mothers' Auxiliary at her home on St. Charles street. During the pleasant evening Mrs. R. S. Giff, president, introduced Mrs. B. Schofield, a new member, to her co-workers in the Auxiliary. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Fred. Palmer and Miss Alberta Cotterell.

Members of the Young Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Trinity United Church were pleasantly entertained at last evening's meeting by Mrs. H. J. Hall, their president, at her home on Kingston avenue. Plans were made for a rummage sale and tentative arrangements were put under way for the Christmas sale during the short business session, following which the members enjoyed a pleasant social hour during which the hostess served dainty refreshments.

A very pleasant and largely attended social event was the delicious supper given by the Women's Auxiliary in Trinity United Church hall last evening. The guests were cordially received by Mrs. C. Wright, the president.

The sumptuous repast was served under the convenship of Mrs. C. Wright, Mrs. F. Cutter and Mrs. O. Williams. The tables were in charge of Mrs. E. Hodges and Miss M. Heath, the latter acting as cashier. Mrs. F. Cutter superintended the kitchen arrangements and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. L. Rainey, Mrs. L. Morehouse and Mrs. O. Williams assisted in serving.

Miss Margaret Hall, a bride-to-be of the month, was the guest of honor last evening at a pleasant social gathering held at the close of a meeting of the Baptist Young Ladies' Guild at Mrs. Harold Sundbury's home on Minto street. Several additional guests joined the members after the brief business period, and the remainder of the evening was devoted to social enjoyment. Games were played and later little Miss Mildred Sundbury presented the bride-elect with a "shower" of lovely crystal goblets and a beautiful electric lamp. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her little daughters, the Misses Lillian and Mildred Sundbury.

"Seaton Place," Mrs. Gordon Hume's lovely home on Melbourne street, was the scene of an unusually successful bridge party yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the Sir John Sherbrooke Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire. The hostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Malcolm W. Mitchell, the Chapter's Regent, and Mrs. Norris Robins acted as treasurer. Bridge was played at twenty tables, a pretty prize being awarded at each table at the conclusion of the game.

Tea, under the convenship of Mrs. Ashton Tobin, was served in the dining room. Mrs. Malcolm Mitchell pouring coffee and Miss Gladys Hale tea at the beautifully appointed table, which was centered with mixed autumn flowers in a Sheffield bowl and old gold candles in Sheffield candlesticks. Assisting in the tea room were Mrs. W. E. Baker, Mrs. D. I. Bothwell, Mrs. Wallace Barrie, Mrs. E. T. Harbert, Mrs. R. Muir, Miss Pauline Gustafson and Miss Cynthia Baker.

The beautiful hand-made hooked rug donated by the hostess was won by Mrs. F. A. Baldwin.

Mrs. Mitchell and members of the Chapter appreciate very much Mrs. Hume's generous help and co-operation in placing "Seaton Place" at their disposal for the afternoon.

Any and all kinds of business—a cent a word. Record Want Columns.

The friends of Mr. Harry Cuthbert, who has been a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital for some time, will be glad to hear that he has recovered sufficiently to return to his home on St. Charles street today.

Members of the Friendly Christmas Club were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. F. Cathart at her home on London street. Cards were played during the evening, the prizes being won by Mrs. George Bell and Mrs. Robert Winstade. Mrs. S. Snow, Mrs. Beattie and Mrs. Earle Savage were guests of the Club for the evening, the latter winning the special guest prize. At the conclusion of the game the hostess served delicious refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Savage.

Mrs. Emile Poisson received for the first time since her marriage on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at her home in Richmond. The bride, who wore her lovely wedding gown of gold colored silk chiffon, with corsage of yellow tea roses, was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. Hayes. Masses of beautiful multi-colored autumn flowers decorated the living room where the reception took place, the same brilliant flowers also adorning the dining room where tea was served. The hostess chose dainty yellow tea roses, arranged in a pierced silver bowl, and tall yellow tapers in crystal and silver holders to center her lovely tea table, which was covered with an exquisite lace cloth and finished at the four corners with bows of yellow tulle and tiny white bells.

On Saturday Mrs. Grant Campbell, of Richmond, and Mrs. D. Irwin, of Sherbrooke, poured tea and the ices were cut by Mrs. C. Jones. Assisting were Mrs. J. Fortin, Miss Alice Brazeau, Miss Juliette Laporte and Miss Jeanne Cloutier. On Sunday tea was served by Mrs. A. W. McCabe, of Richmond, and Mrs. Gregoire, of Asbestos, the ices were cut by Mrs. B. Hudon and the Misses Antoinette Linahen, Isabel McGovern, Minna Smith and M. Brazeau assisted in serving. The little Misses Winifred Hudon and Margaret Campbell were in attendance at the entrance.

The Gorgeous Hussy

Starring from the METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER Picture
by HALSEY RAINES

What has happened so far: In the Washington of 1823, political turmoil is in the air. Peggy O'Neale, a young daughter of the owner of the Franklin Inn, is a friend of Andrew Jackson. But she disregards the latter's advice in order to keep a secret tryst with a handsome young palmer and mystic, Prof. La Roy Sunderland.

"You won't go anywhere without me," threatened Sunderland.

CHAPTER IV.

Peggy had never visited this part of the city before, and the houses on McComb Street looked all alike; they were rather pretentious, with jutting brick facades, lace-draped windows and potted plants. Masking her inner excitement with an assumed calmness, Peggy walked up the steps of Number 25 and rang the bell. The door was opened by a hard-featured woman of middle years.

"What do you want?" she asked.

CHELSEA BUNS (Quick Method)

Temperature: 400°F.-375°F. Time: 30 minutes

1 cup milk; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/2 cake fresh yeast; 2 tablespoons lukewarm water; 3 cups ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR; 1/4 cup sugar; 3 tablespoons butter.

Filling: 2 tablespoons softened butter; 1/4 cup Sultana raisins; 1/4 cup brown sugar; 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon.

METHOD: Scald milk, add 2 tablespoons sugar and salt; cool to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water and add to milk mixture; add 1 cup flour. Beat until smooth. Let rise in a warm place until foamy. Add remaining sugar, flour and butter. Turn on floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; let rise until light. Punch down to release gas bubbles. Knead lightly and roll 1/4 inch thick. Spread with filling; roll as for jelly roll. Cut with sharp knife or scissors into one inch slices. Place close together on greased baking sheet. When light, bake in moderately hot oven. Entire time for making these buns is approximately 4 hours.

message. But when eight o'clock arrived she could not resist the temptation of turning back the curtains in her room and peering out. Sunderland, as he had promised, was waiting with his carriage in the outer lane. He caught sight of her and signalled that she should open the window.

"I'm sorry," Peggy called to him, when she had done so. "This is impossible."

"I must see you, if only for a second," begged Sunderland.

Peggy hesitated. Then she decided that it might be a courteous thing to bid him good-bye. At the lower stairs she hesitated again. No one was about—but of course it was safe!

"Peggy, come with me," breathed Sunderland, when she emerged. "You won't be sorry."

"Please!" she replied, pulling her hand away. "I must go right back!" "You won't go anywhere without me!" answered Sunderland, in a new and threatening tone.

Roughly he seized the girl, who in point of physical strength was no match for him. She was able to cry out only once, but it was enough to center the attention of Cree on what was happening. He had observed the waiting vehicle before, and now he lumbered out from the servants' lodge toward the lane. There was no time to spread the alarm. All he could do was rush at the intruder.

When Cree lunged at him Sunderland was forced to let go of Peggy. In fury he whipped out a knife, but his thrust miscarried. Cree wrapped his powerful arms about him, and pinioned him until the two men lost their balance. As they toppled over, the knife dropped from Sunderland's hand. He fell directly on it and received a bleeding gash.

By now the commotion had aroused those within the Inn. Andrew Jackson threw open his window, and Major O'Neale appeared with a lantern at the post-entrance. There was just time for Sunderland to make a bolt for his carriage, pick up the reins, and dash away into the night.

While those behind comforted Peggy and held a council of war to determine what should be done, Sunderland brooded revenge. He venched a grog shop in the central part of town and invented a quick lie for the benefit of the patrons. A dangerous black at the Franklin Inn had fallen on him treacherously and stabbed him. He showed his wound, still bleeding.

The Professor became a center of sympathy. Late drinkers, night-time marauders, and passing mechanics heard his tale and embellished it. Disgraceful! The negro who had committed the assault must be captured and burned. In a short time a spirit of mob frenzy had been aroused. Banding together, the mob marched on Franklin Inn.

When the rioters reached the gates of the tavern, they found it barred. Someone produced a log for a battering-ram. Amid wild shouts they applied it. The gate splintered, and the mob poured in.

Peggy had been taken to her room, but when she heard the blood-curdling yells outside her first thought was for Cree's safety. He had defended her; now they were seeking him. Seizing the only weapon she could find, a fish-gird, she rushed to the slave quarters.

Andrew Jackson, his eyes like raging flames, rushed from the front door brandishing two guns. John Randolph was not far behind him, and most of the other lodgers at the Inn, armed with sticks or whips, followed after.

By sheer weight of numbers the attackers hommed in the defending unit. Jackson and Randolph were towers of strength, but they were only two against a maddened horde. Some of the would-be lynchmen pulled Peggy out of the way and tried to beat down the locked door of the servants' building. Others picked up stones and began to throw them at the windows of the main building. There was no rescue force in prospect for the defenders, and it seemed likely they might be waging a losing battle.

Tomorrow: The battle at the Inn continues to a startling finish. Peggy, when it is all over, decides to visit John Randolph and confide in the real state of her feelings toward him.

HUBBELL LED GIANTS TO VICTORY IN FIRST GAME OF WORLD SERIES

Ace Screwball Artist Humbled Yankees' "Homicide Squad"
Yesterday as Terrymen Scored Six to One Triumph in Rain-Soaked Opening Contest of New York's Civil War World Series—American Leaguers Blew Up in Eighth Inning and Giants Sewed Up Victory with Four Runs—Hubbell Recorded Third Straight Championship Victory and Ended Yankees' Twelve-Game World Series Winning Streak.

New York, Oct. 1.—The pitching mastery of Carl Hubbell and the mudhorse talent of his mates shifted the betting odds sharply in favor of the Giants in the New York civil war World Series today, even before the Gotham rivals lined up for the second start of the baseball classic.

While Old Man Weatherer another laugh at the expense of the athletes and baseball faithful, threatening to duplicate the soaking he handed out for the opener, the betting fraternity about-faced from the previous odds of eleven to twenty, with the Yankees as favorites, and made it four to five—and take your choice.

They came up out of the huddle, however, with "Lefty" Gomez's erratic speedballing the three to five choice to take the second game over Hal Schumacher at the Polo Grounds and even things up for the manner in which Hubbell subdued Murderers' Row so successfully in yesterday's opener which the Giants captured by six to one.

To the baseball experts, who saw the American League champions outsmarted and outplayed, finally reaching the point where their defense came apart in the opening test, it appeared that the waging men were more than generous in making the Yankees favorites for the second game. Schumacher's return to form strengthened the pitching edge Hubbell has already given the Giants. In short, the Yankees faced a rout unless they put on a speedy comeback with their big sticks.

Only 39,419 of the faithful paid $172,157 to see the opening tilt—far off the nearly 52,000 capacity expected.

To match the pitching shifts both line-ups faced changes for the second battle. The Giants assigned "Hank" Leiber, a right-handed hitter, to center field in place of Jim Rippel against Gomez's portside offerings, while, instead of batting in the clean-up spot, Mel Ott drops to fifth place in the hitting order.

George Selkirk, native of Huntsville, Ont., whose homer accounted for the only Yankee run yesterday, was expected to regain his regular place, No. Six, in the batting order against Schumacher. Selkirk was dropped below Jake Powell and Tony Lazzeri yesterday.

The weather, a nasty rain that fell through the last seven innings and was carried along by a biting wind blasting in from the outfield, made for the worst playing conditions since the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Washington Senators in the rain-soaked final of the 1925 series. Long before the last out, the third base line was deep in mud, the entire infield was a messy muck and the outfield was as slippery as a skating rink.

At the same time, the Yanks finally met their match and came to the end of their twelve-game World Series winning streak, the longest of all time, which they began under Miller Huggins in the 1927 and '28 seasons and continued under Joe McCarthy in '32.

Although Hubbell was the bright star of the rain-soaked opener, he was given able assistance by Burgess Whitehead, the flashy second base youngster whose fielding was tops, and by Dick Bartell, Bill Terry and Mel Ott, who contributed two hits apiece in the nine-hit attack on Charley Ruffing.

While the two biggest guns of the Yankee firing line, Lou Gehrig and Bill Dickey, were completely silenced, the particular bright spot for the Homicide Squad was Powell, who collected three of the seven hits Hubbell gave up and whose spectacular catch of Bartell's towering fly to left in the first inning was a fielding highlight.

Although the Giants took a two to one edge in the first six innings, it was the eighth chapter and the two big "breaks" in that frame that really decided the ball game.

The first came in the Yankee half—when the American Leaguers got men on first and third on Frank Crosetti's two-bagger over third base and Hubbell's fumble of "Red" Rolfe's dinky bunt. Joe DiMaggio, the rookie sensation who seems to have a knack of falling into hard luck, slammed a shotout liner directly at Whitehead, if it had been a foot to either side, a sure base hit and at least one run would have resulted. As it was, however, Whitehead barely had to move an inch to take it and toss to Terry for the double play.

The Giant half of the frame started off with Terry getting his second single of the day. Ott then beat out a bunt and Rippel sacrificed. Mancuso walked, filling the bases, and Ruffing passed Whitehead, forcing in a run. Travis Jackson, hitless all day, sent a fly to DiMaggio to score Ott and then came the blow-up.

Hubbell sent a hit to the aging Tony Lazzeri, but it took a bad bounce over his right shoulder, scoring Mancuso. Crosetti, backing up Lazzeri, threw wide to home and Whitehead came in, Dickey's throw from the dugout, where he finally retrieved the ball, was too low for Ruffing, covering the plate, and Hubbell rested safely on third. JoJo Moore grounded out to end the inning.

Hubbell's masterful performance in the rain, his control of the slippery horsehide and his resourcefulness in baffling all the Yankee maulers except Powell justified all the things they have been saying in advance about the slender southpaw. Mixing his screwball with a sweeping curve that had many a Yankee bending his back in vain to connect, Hubbell picked up where he left off with two triumphs in the 1936 series against Washington. His third straight championship victory was also the seventeenth consecutive winning game of the 1936 season, even though it will not be entered that way in the records.

Anything but a World Series game would have been called off yesterday despite the fact that the rain did not actually begin to fall earnestly until the last half of the second stanza. It was penetratingly cold and the field was mushy from Tuesday's showers, but Commissioner Konesaw M. Landis ordered the battle to go on and the faithful responded with surprising enthusiasm.

The Giants, proving themselves better mud-runners, had all the better of the opening tussle, but it remains to be seen whether they can capitalize their winning start or whether the Yankees have the recuperative power to come back after looking so sour in the closing sessions yesterday afternoon.

The play-by-play description of yesterday's game follows:

FIRST INNING

Yankees—The crowd stood while the band played the Star Spangled Banner and the game was on after workmen left the field after attempts to mop up soft spots in the visiting bull pen. With the count three and two, Crosetti grounded out, Jackson to Terry, and Rolfe to Selkirk. Whitehead grounded out on the first pitch, Bartell to Terry, the Giants' manager making a backhand catch of Bartell's wide throw. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Giants—Moore lifted a high fly to Powell and Terry singled sharply past Crosetti after Bartell had lined out. Ott walked after fouling several of Ruffing's pitches and Rippel lifted a high fly that Crosetti took back to third base after the count reached three two. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING

Yankees—Gehrig grounded to Terry and was tossed out as Hubbell came over to take the throw for the put-out. With the count three and two, Powell smashed a line single to center after Dickey had grounded out on the first pitch, Whitehead to Terry. Lazzeri fanned as Hubbell continued to get a sharp break on his screw ball. Only one of the first seven batters man to face him got the ball out of the infield. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Giants—Mancuso became Ruffing's first strike-out victim when he fanned on a third called strike. Jackson was also called out on strikes after Whitehead had grounded out, Crosetti to Gehrig. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING

Yankees—The crowd roared as Selkirk, the Canadian star on the Yankee lineup, smashed a home run into the upper right field stands for the first run of the game. Ruffing was tossed out on a close play, Hubbell to Terry, after dribbling the ball toward the mound and Crosetti lifted a high fly that Whitehead bagged on the grass behind second base. Rolfe and DiMaggio bounced singles past second base, the former scrambled back to second when he slipped rounding the bag. Gehrig grounded weakly to the box and was tossed out, Hubbell to Terry. One run, three hits, no errors, two left.

Giants—The Giants filled the bases with two out but failed to tally when Rippel fanned swinging with the count three and two. Hubbell started the frame by singling and Moore fanned swinging. Bartell popped a single over Gehrig's head, sending Hubbell to third, and the corners were loaded when Ott walked after Terry had fouled to Dickey. Rippel struck out after a mix-up on calls called against him because a pitch was made while he was out of the batter's box. No runs, two hits, no errors, three left.

FOURTH INNING

Yankees—Powell got his second straight hit on a line smash that made good for two bases by fast running after Dickey had fanned. Lazzeri drew a base on balls and the Yankees attempted a double steal, but Powell was tagged out, Mancuso to Jackson, as Lazzeri reached second. With the count three and two, Selkirk fanned, swinging at a curve. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Giants—Rain, which started in the second inning, developed into a downpour and the bleacher spectators were permitted to leave the open and seek cover in the unoccupied sections of the upper stands. Mancuso lifted a fly to Rolfe, Whitehead fanned, swinging at a fast ball, and Jackson grounded out on the first pitch, Crosetti to Gehrig, to end the inning. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees—Only three men faced Hubbell in this frame. Ruffing fanned, swinging; Crosetti lifted a high foul to Mancuso, and Rolfe popped to Whitehead. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Giants—Dick Bartell duplicated Selkirk's feat and the crowd went wild when the Giants' shortstop crossed the plate. Hubbell had opened the inning by grounding out, Lazzeri to Gehrig, and Moore had popped a foul fly to Dickey before Bartell hit his line drive that was about six feet inside the foul line, the ball landing in the upper left field stands. Terry grounded out, Lazzeri to Gehrig. One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

SIXTH INNING

Yankees—The crowd gave Hub-

bell an ovation as he finished the best frame of pitching so far in the game. The outburst followed Hubbell's feat in fanning both DiMaggio and Gehrig in succession on ten pitches. Dickey, with the count two strikes and one ball, ended the inning by grounding out to Terry unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Giants—The Giants went out in front for the first time when Ott opened the frame with a double and advanced to third on Rippel's sacrifice. Mancuso lashed a single down the left field line and Ott scored, fast fielding by Powell preventing the Giants' catcher from stretching the hit into a double. Whitehead popped to Rolfe and Jackson lifted a high fly to DiMaggio. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees—The entire field was a mass of mud as the seventh chapter started but there was no attempt to halt play after the umpires had powdered the ground conditions over. Powell singled for his third straight hit but was forced at second, Terry to Bartell, by Selkirk after Lazzeri had become Hubbell's seventh strikeout victim. There was no attempt for a double play. Ruffing fanned swinging with the count three and two and the crowd gave Hubbell another thundering ovation. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Giants—The Terrymen went out in one-two-three order, Hubbell forcing the first pitch to Gehrig, Moore belting a long fly to DiMaggio and Bartell hoisting a high foul to Dickey. Workman had been summoned before the last half of the inning started to give the bases a coating of chalk and the pitcher's box an application of sand. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING

Yankees—The McCarthymen had a fine chance of going out ahead, but a double play killed their hopes. Crosetti led off with a double and got to third when Rolfe's bunt was fumbled by Hubbell, the batsman being credited with a sacrifice and Rolfe being charged with an error. DiMaggio lined to Whitehead, the Giants' second baseman plucking the ball off his shoestrings, and Rolfe was doubled off first, Whitehead to Terry, while Crosetti remained at third. Gehrig was hit on the shoulder by a pitched ball, barely avoiding being beamed, and Dickey grounded out to Terry, unassisted. The Giants' rooters roared as their favorites pulled themselves out of the hole. No runs, one hit, one error, two left.

Giants—The Terry Troupe shoved four runs across the plate on three hits and two errors to sew up the decision. Terry opened the rally with a single and Ott bunted along the first base line, turning it into a base hit as he caught the Yankees flatfooted. Rippel bunted for a sacrifice and was thrown out, Rolfe to Gehrig, as the two runners advanced. Mancuso was intentionally passed to fill the bases and Whitehead also drew a pass to force Terry across the plate. Jackson lifted a high fly to DiMaggio and Terry scored after the catch. Whitehead and Mancuso holding their bases. Hubbell's grounder bounced away from Lazzeri and Mancuso scored. Whitehead then ran all the way home and Hubbell reached third when Crosetti's throw to the plate got away from Dickey. Hubbell was credited with a scratch hit and both Crosetti and Dickey were charged with errors. Moore was thrown out, Crosetti to Gehrig, on a fast play. Four runs, three hits, two errors, one left.

NINTH INNING

Yankees—The Yankees, after blowing up with a resounding roar, went out in order in their last time at bat. Powell was thrown out, Bartell to Terry, while both Lazzeri and Selkirk grounded out, Whitehead to Terry. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

The score by innings was:
Yankees 001 000 000—1
Giants 000 011 04x—6

FOURTH FIXTURE OF LITTLE WORLD SERIES DELAYED

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 1.—Carl Fischer, Buffalo southpaw, will oppose Forrest Pressnell, Milwaukee right-

WET GROUNDS POSTPONE TODAY'S FIXTURE

New York, Oct. 1.—A heavy overnight rain turned the Polo Grounds into a miniature lake today and forced postponement of the second game of the World Series between the New York Giants and the New York Yankees.

Weather permitting—and there were indications that a two-day spell of intermittent rain finally was ready to call a halt—the game will be played tomorrow at the Polo Grounds.

The series schedule, calling for the third, fourth and fifth games to be played at the Yankee Stadium, simply will move back one day.

The postponement was ordered by Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, after a tour of inspection of the rain-soaked grounds. The left field section was a virtual lake and the infield, though protected by covers during the night, was a quagmire.

FROM THE SIDELINES

New York, Oct. 1.— They are thinking of drafting the Yankee shortstop, Frank Crosetti, for the 1940 Olympic diving. He showed championship form with a half-gainer he used in swooping back to third base after Joe DiMaggio hit into a double play in the eighth inning of the opening game of the World Series yesterday.

There were four generations of the Bartells on hand to watch Dick do his stuff for the Giants at shortstop. In the stands were Dick's four-year old son, "Skipper," the shortstop's father and his grandmother, aged eighty years. There was a big cheer from that section when Dick parked the ball in the upper stands in the fifth frame to tie the score.

First error of the Series: The program listed Harry Danning, the Giants' reserve catcher, as a pitcher.

Statisticians still were ga-ga to try to figure out how many balls were used before the final out. A safe bet is that whoever is footing the bills will have a severe headache when he sees the total. It was almost one to every batter when the going was wettest.

Before the game, Vernon (Lefty) Gomez suddenly recalled he had won a hat from Bill Terry back in 1935 when he outbatted Pat Malone. He dogged the heels of the Giants' manager until Terry finally took the hint and promised a pay-off.

The wistest man seen in the stands was the spectator who strolled in wrapped up in a raccoon coat. That wind bit through anything lighter.

A few firsts of the Series: First put-out, Bill Terry; first assist, Travis Jackson; first fly ball, JoJo Moore; first walk, Mel Ott; first strike-out, Tony Lazzeri; first error, Carl Hubbell.

The man with the very red face was the bleacherite who had been waiting at the front of the line since September 18 to make sure he would get a seat. The storm kept the crowds away in such numbers that he would have had no trouble at all—even if he were quintuplets.

The rule about no fraternizing among members of competing teams did not mean a thing to the pitchers huddling in the right field bull pen. When the overflow made a lake of the left field pen, elbows of both sides crowded onto the same bench and got wet together.

Frank Frisch, who saw some of his greatest baseball days with the Giants, did not give the series half as much attention as his new yacht. Reporters who asked the Cardinals' manager what he thought of the Yankees-Giants get-together got in reply only explanations about the trip he's going to take to Florida.

George Herman (Babe) Ruth has finally faded into legend. He was the most forlorn figure in the Polo Grounds yesterday, snapped now and then by a photographer who noticed him in a box down the first base line near Mayor LaGuardia and Jimmy Walker. But there was none of the fanfare that attended him at the series last year.

George (Twinkletons) Selkirk, the Canadian who replaced Ruth and whose homer in the third inning was the Yanks' only run, was moved down to eighth position in the batting order just before the game because he had not been connecting. He struck out the next time up.

When the rain became heavy in the third inning, the bleacherites were allowed to move into the empty $3.30 seats in the upper grandstand. Those who remained huddled under newspapers added a bright touch to the bleak scene. The only spectators left out in the rain were the boys who paid $6.00 for box seats.

Hander, tonight in the fifth game of the Little World Series between the International League and American Association champions.

Postponement of last night's game because of rain gave Fischer two full days of rest and Manager Ray Schalk lost no time in naming him to supersede Ken Ash, the original selection.

Fischer was beaten in Milwaukee Monday night by three to one. He held the Brewers to seven hits, two of them homers, walked one and fanned seven. Pressnell has appeared twice as relief pitcher, gaining credit for victories in the first two games.

Milwaukee holds a three to one edge in the best four-of-seven series.

BRITISH GIRL ONLY INVADER LEFT IN PLAY

Pam Barton Gained Quarter-Final Round of United States Women's Open Golf Title Play Yesterday—Last Two Canadians Were Eliminated.

Summit, N.J., Oct. 1.—The United States women's Open golf championship tournament had reached the quarter-finals today with rain clouds threatening further heavy going.

With the elimination yesterday of the last two Canadians in the competition, interest today centred on the match between Mrs. Opal Hill, of Kansas City, conqueror of Patty Berg, Minneapolis prodigy, and Maureen O'Rourke, of Englewood, N.J. Mrs. Hill, regarded by many experts as North America's match play queen, ended the championship ambitions of the eighteen-year-old Miss Berg by scoring a four and three victory over the Minneapolis sensation.

Mrs. Hill's smashing triumph over the 1933 runner-up to Glenna Collett Vare and the pre-tournament favorite, featured a two-round programme which saw another Minneapolis youngster, Beatrice Barrett, grab part of the spotlight by eliminating the qualifying medalist, Estelle Lawson Page, of Chapel Hill, N.C., by two and one. Miss Berg's downfall and Miss Barrett's ascendancy both occurred in the third round.

Neither the veteran Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, nor Mrs. Thomas Rudel, of Bayside, N.Y., and formerly, Montreal, survived the earlier of the day's two rounds. Miss Mackenzie lost to Mrs. W. E. Shepherd, of Beverly Hills, Calif., by one up after a tight struggle, while Mrs. Rudel was beaten by the British amateur champion, Pamela Burton, by two and one.

Another feature of today's play will be the encounter between Miss Barton and Miss Barrett.

Besides Mrs. Hill and Miss Barrett, others who gained the round of eight were Miss Barton, Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. Carl H. Donner, of Springfield, N.J.; Mrs. Shepherd, Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, S.C., and Mrs. Crews.

Before they collided Mrs. Hill disposed of Mary K. Browne, of Wiloughby, O., runner-up to Dorothy Campbell Hurd in 1924, five and four in the morning, while Patty stuck close to par figures in crushing Mrs. Wright D. Goss, Jr., of Springfield, N.J., finalist a decade ago, six and four. Out in thirty-eight, one under par, Miss Berg wins.

only two over par for the fourteen holes the match lasted.

The other quarter-finalists advanced as follows:

Miss Barrett defeated Katherine Sylvester, Harrison, N.Y., five and three and then Mrs. Page, Miss Barton defeated Mrs. Rudel and Mrs. Norman Lack, of Wilmington, Del., two up; Miss Miley defeated Patricia Stephenson, of Hopkins, Minn., who scored a hole-in-one on the 152-yard tenth, two up, and Charlotte Glutting, of South Orange, N.J., one up at the nineteenth hole; Mrs. Donner defeated Mrs. William Hockenjos, of West Orange, N.J., three and one, and Jane Corhan, Greenville, S.C., one up at the twenty-first hole.

Mrs. Shepherd defeated Miss Mackenzie and Betsy McLeod, Buffalo, three and two; Miss Hemphill defeated Marjorie Harrison, Ausable Forks, N.Y., two and one, and Ruth Adel, Forest Hills, N.Y., two up; and Mrs. Crews defeated Helen Dettweiler, Rockville, Md., four and three, and Dorothy Traung, San Francisco's 1934 runner-up, two up.

WINDSOR MILLS PLAYERS DOWNED ST. FRANCIS

Windsor Mills, Oct. 1.—Emerging victorious in six of the eight matches on the programme, local shotmakers scored a decisive eighteen and a half to five and a half triumph over St. Francis in a friendly inter-club competition here. Five victories in the local column were three-pointed decisions, while the sixth win added two points to the Windsor Mills margin.

The visitors won one foursome by the odd point in three and gained their other points when J. Beattie defeated J. J. Watt.

The detailed results follow:

Windsor Mills	St. Francis
G. Noble	C. Beaton
E. Rice	H. Gibson

BIRTH CERTIFICATE STANDS BETWEEN MCCOY AND TITLE

Quebec, Oct. 1.—Al McCoy counted a heavyweight boxing victory over Winnipeg's Charlie Belanger today while his handlers scoured Beauce County records for the birth certificate McCoy says will back up his claim to being born Florian LeBrasseur and thus make him eigible to hold a Canadian boxing championship.

McCoy and the Winnipegger battled through fifteen rounds last night and only in the last five rounds was there much action. It was then Al rallied and earned the points that gave him victory.

The fight was advertised as being a Canadian heavyweight championship bout but, a few hours before the fighters entered the ring, Frank Hogan, chairman of the Canadian Boxing Federation, ruled it could not be a championship fight because McCoy had failed to file his birth certificate with the commission.

POLITICS LURE DEMPSEY BACK INTO RING
Rochester, N.Y., Oct. 1.— Jack

Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champion, will box either two or three rounds against Eddie Egan, former amateur heavyweight champion, as part of a "political" wrestling show feature here Tuesday night, according to Promoter Jake Carey.

The "Manassa Mauler" has been campaigning for the Democratic party and his appearance here will be in the party's behalf.

BLAND WON DECISION OVER BOSTON WELTERWEIGHT
Halifax, Oct. 1.—Toronto's Tommy Bland, Canadian lightweight champion, won a point decision over Werther Arcelli, Boston welterweight, in a ten-round battle last night.

In the smoke-room of a hotel, a guest had been boring everyone with tales of the wonderful things he had done in all parts of the world. "Well," said one of his listeners, "suppose for a change you tell us something you can't do and I'll undertake to do it myself." "That's fine," replied the bore, "I can't pay my bill."

A MONUMENT TO SCOTSTOWN WAR DEAD PLANNED

Memorial of Scotstown Granite, with Names of Those Who Gave Their Lives for Their Country Inscribed on It, Will Be Erected on School Grounds.

Scotstown, Oct. 1.—The citizens of the town met in the Odd Fellows' hall to consider the erection of a suitable memorial to Scotstown's fallen heroes in the Great War. Mayor G. F. Cowan presided over the meeting, with Mr. Thomas Riglar as the chairman, and Mr. W. A. Ladd as secretary.

After some discussion, it was decided that the monument, composed of Scotstown granite, inscribed with the names of those who gave their lives for their country, be erected on the school grounds. Further arrangements were left with the committee in charge.

General Notes.

The sympathy of this community is extended to Mrs. Allan K. MacLeod and family, of Canterbury, in the loss of their husband and father, Mr. Allan K. MacLeod.

On Sunday morning the service in St. Andrew's United Church was taken by the pastor, Rev. H. E. Parsons, whose sermon was based on "The murmurings of the children of Israel in the wilderness," illustrating one of the three great temptations in their weariness on the pilgrimage to the Promised Land.

The guest soloist was Miss Lydia Wood, of Gould, who rendered "My Sanctuary," very pleasingly. In the evening the theme from the text, "Greater is he that controlleth his spirit, than he that taketh a city."

The great battles of life are fought out in the battlefield of personality. "Controlleth" refers not only to restricting, but to guiding one's spirit, by supplying it with appropriate food for growth, and this to the end that we may become leaders for God, through the two-fold vision of Him, the preacher said.

During the service Mr. A. A. MacKenzie sang "Glory to Thee My God This Night."

CHECKING UNNECESSARY RACKET

With a twenty-four hours' hooting ban on motorists throughout Britain believed to be not far distant, Countess de la Field, who lives in Upper George street, Marylebone, London, has given the street the distinction of being the first and only highway in England where "No Hooting" signs are displayed. After months of effort the Countess received permission to erect the signs. She said the unnecessary racket caused by auto horns had become intolerable. The signs are erected fifty yards from each end of the road. Countess de la Field is shown fixing up her sign.

TRIBULATIONS OF AN EXILE

Experiences of a North Hatley Citizen.

There are countries in the world where it is criminal to be learned, to do humanitarian work and to own property. Such conditions exist in unfortunate Russia which, for the past twenty years, has exiled or killed its reputable patriots and is bringing about its own downfall by banishing its most distinguished sons.

Dr. Belilovsky was practising in Pultava, Ukraina, when the bloody revolution broke out in 1917. Skilful and experienced, head of an up-to-date hospital and owner of considerable property, his civil status was of such importance that he fell into the bad graces of these savage and jealous Bolsheviks. Dr. Belilovsky had too much nobility in his blood and his exaristic sentiments brought him misfortune. He was hounded by Soviets, and dispossessed of his hospital and his other properties.

Then began for Dr. Belilovsky a life of misery and all its accompanying terrors. Here was a learned man, father of a family, a renowned surgeon, assured of wealth and enjoying an honest reputation—suddenly reduced to poverty at the age of forty-eight years, separated from his family and haunted by the hatred of his fellowmen.

A poor man, Dr. Belilovsky wandered for two years—without shelter and without bread—subsisting on what he could find on roadsides, clothed in sordid rags and shedding bitter tears on the sod of a country which no longer wanted to shelter him.

Dr. Belilovsky found himself alone in a room one night with a Cuckoo spy. His life was in danger, but he saved himself by his presence of mind. Pointing his revolver at his Moscow guard and threatening to blow his brains out, the prisoner succeeded in making his goaler escort him beyond the Russian frontiers. Once in foreign territory, the spy himself refused to return to Russia—and the two enemies of the previous night became staunch friends.

In a subsequent article will be related how Dr. Belilovsky, inventor of the "Bombing Coloured Ray Lamp" (now at 18 Walton avenue, Sherbrooke) came to settle in North Hatley on one of the most picturesque farms in this region.
