Farnham police to fight agency

By PAT BOUGIE
(Record staff reporter)

COWANSVILLE — The Association of Professional Policemen of the Town of Farnham will "use every possible legal means available" to fight the town in its bid to hire the Phillips Detective Agency to replace the town's present policemen.

This decision was announced by Gerald Audette, chairman of the Association, after it was learned that Farnham officials were negotiating with the Phillips Agency.

10 new cardinals created

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John created 10 new cardinals today and at the same time spoke sorrowfully of the "new slavery" being established in vast regions of the world.

The Pope addressed a secret consistory of 30 members of the College of Cardinals, who concurred in his new selections to their ranks. It was the first in a series of ceremonies that will culminate in a public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica Thursday at which the Pontiff places the broad-brimmed galero—the hat symbolic of the cardinal's rank—on the head of each new prince of the church.

The appointments raised the Sacred College to an all-time high of 87 members.

Of the 10 new cardinals, three are Italian and two are South Americans. The others are Irish, Spanish, Portuguese, Belgian and Syrian.

The prelates elevated today were Archbishop Raul Silva Henriquez, 54, of Santiago, Chile; Archbishop Leo Jozef Suensens, 57, of Malines-Brussels, Belgium; Father Michael Browne, 74, Irish master-general of the Order of Preachers, also known as the Dominicans; Msgr. Jose da Costa Nunes, 81, Portuguese, vice-chamberlain of the Holy Roman Church; Msgr. Giovanni Panico, 66, Italian, nuncio to Portugal; Msgr. Efrim Forni, 72, Italian, nuncio to Belgium; Msgr. Ildebrando Antonutti, 72, Italian, nuncio to Spain; Msgr. Gabrielle Acacio Coussa, 64, Syrian, pro-secretary of the Vatican's Oriental Congregation, member of an eastern priestly order, and Abbot Anselmo Albareda, 70, Spaniard, prefect of the Vatican library and member of the Benedictine Order.

As soon as the Pope had read the list of new cardinals, pontifical messengers set out to bring them official notification of their elevation to princely rank.

Pope John did not reveal the identity of the three cardinals that he has held secretly "in pectore"—in his heart—since the consistory of March 29, 1960, when he announced that he made such selections.

Newspaper sold

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Sun announced Saturday the sale of the Daily Garden Grove, Calif., News, a wholly-owned subsidiary, to Twin-Coast Newspapers Incorporated, an affiliate of the Ridd Publications group. The price was not disclosed.

GENEVA (CP) — Canada today outlined a seven-point plan to break the East-West deadlock on disarmament and urged the big powers to make a "further effort" to agree on a nuclear test ban.

External Affairs Minister Green issued the call for the new moves in Canada's first major speech to the 17-nation Geneva conference on disarmament, which opened last Wednesday.

After the session Soviet Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin announced Russia's readiness to join the U.S. and Britain in negotiations on a test ban.

He proposed at a press conference that the three nuclear powers form a subcommittee and indicated he would like to have France—which is boycotting the conference—join it.

Green, in a brisk and businesslike speech, implored delegates to take advantage of the "unprecedented opportunity" to make a breakthrough on disarmament.

ASKS REPORT

He also said tartly that it would be "most helpful" if the big three—Britain, Russia and the United States—gave the conference a report regarding earlier informal talks on a nuclear testban. These discussions have taken place outside the disarmament conference proper.

This reflected Canada's displeasure over the fact that the United States last Thursday announced new proposals on a test ban—and Russia promptly rejected them—without either power informing the conference.

Green was unaware of the Soviet-American exchange until about noon the day after the new proposals were unveiled at a press briefing.

Green's seven-point plan placed emphasis on possible areas of agreement and compromise in rival plans for disarmament tabled by Russia and the United States at the 17-power conference last Thursday.

The competing plans were similar in several respects and the conference should seek to "define and enlarge" these areas of partial accord, Green said.

He also suggested a streamlined working procedure involving a subcommittee operating on a continuing basis under alternating chairmanship of Russia and the United States, the

'Purely exploratory'

Provinces hold talks on power grid plans

OTTAWA (CP) — Nine provinces and the federal government were holding exploratory talks today on a national power grid.

The meeting was convened at the invitation of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, scheduled to attend at least the opening rounds on the discussions expected to last only two days. The talks have been labelled as purely exploratory.

To be examined are such matters as the advantages of such a power grid and technical problems — of mechanics or economic feasibility.

A national power grid is envisaged as a means of carrying power at high voltages over long distances from distant generating sites or linking areas of surplus power with those needing more power, either seasonally or continually.

As a sideshow, Premier Bennett of British Columbia arrived early to discuss the Columbia River stalemate with Finance Minister Fleming. They met Sunday and more meetings are expected.

Premier Roblin of Manitoba was the only other provincial premier on hand.

CHOSE TO STAY HOME
Premier Lesage of Quebec chose to stay at home. He condemned, with some agreement elsewhere, that power as a provincial resource, is a matter for provincial consideration and a national power grid is on the agenda for the third annual premiers conference at Victoria later this year.

Other delegates: Alberta, A. Russell Patrick, minister of industry and development; Ontario, Energy Resources Minister Robert MacAulay, New Brunswick, chairman Donald Harper of the N.B. Electric Power Commission; Prince Edward Island, Resources Minister Leo Rossiter; Nova Scotia, Highways Minister George I. Smith. The Newfoundland and Saskatchewan delegates have not yet registered.

Federal representatives, apart from Mr. Diefenbaker, were Mr. Fleming, Forestry Minister Hugh John Flemming, Trade Minister Hees, Resources Minister Dinsdale and a representative of Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton, who is convalescing.

No rubles
MONTREAL (CP)—A spokesman for the Montreal Symphony Orchestra said Sunday night a plan of the Canadian Soccer Football Association to provide rubles to pay travelling expenses of the orchestra's tour in Russia next month is "very unlikely." Secretary George Anderson of Winnipeg told the annual meeting of the association Saturday he had entered into negotiations to provide rubles to pay the orchestra's travelling expenses.

Fronzizi orders federal control; nullifies Peronist election wins

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's President Arturo Fronzizi today ordered federal control in all provinces where Peronists won in Sunday country-wide congressional and provincial elections.

The move enabled Fronzizi to name governors for the provinces and in effect nullifies the results of Sunday's balloting which resulted in a Peronist landslide and a sharp setback to Fronzizi.

Latest unofficial returns showed that followers of ex-dictator Juan D. Peron won more than 30 seats in the National Congress and 10 governor's posts including that of Buenos Aires province, which is second to the presidency in political power and prestige.

Fronzizi acted early today after Argentina's armed forces chiefs met with Interior Minister Alfredo Vitolo to consider whether to form a military junta to deal with the crisis.

The military bosses called on Fronzizi to intervene and demanded the resignation of Vitolo, who had mapped the strategy of Sunday's election. Vitolo was reported to have submitted his resignation, but Government House sources said Fronzizi had not decided whether to accept it.

With 97 seats needed for a working majority in the 192-seat National House of Deputies, unofficial, incomplete returns showed: Fronzizi's Intransigent Radicals 75; Peoples Radicals 57;

Peronists 43; Conservatives 8; National and Popular Movement 4; Christian Democrats 2; other parties 3.

Unofficial, incomplete returns in the popular vote gave the Peronist party and its allies 2,050,327; Fronzizi's Intransigent Radicals 1,715,447; Peoples Radicals 1,574,308.

Jubilant Peronists earlier had hailed the outcome as a "recall" for their exiled leader, ousted by the military in 1955. After the voting trend became clear, Fronzizi's ruling intransigent Radical party issued a warning that the Peronist victory would cause chaos in Argentina.

Peron himself was not present, but was reported following the returns by telephone from

French authorities remain on alert

Algerian war cease-fire goes into effect at noon

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—The cease-fire in the Algerian war went into effect at the stroke of noon today, ending 7½ years of savage warfare between France and the nationalist rebels.

Even as the cease-fire became official, the French Army and police forces remain on the alert to combat the European secret army pledged to keep Algeria French.

The cease-fire officially came into force in the fifth month of the eighth year of the bitter struggle that cost more than 200,000 lives.

But more bloodshed threatened before Algeria gains independence as the underground army of European settlers defiantly proclaimed: "Now the real fighting has begun."

As the first show of strength, the secret army called a general strike in Algeria's major cities for 24 hours and urged Europeans to remain indoors.

The walkout that went into effect at midnight crippled Algiers but the French Army was in tight control of the capital.

Algeria was tense with some terrorists attacks reported after the cease-fire was announced. Carrying forged orders, rightists in Oran carried away 3,000 rifles and machine-guns and 200 bazookas in a truck-trailer from an army armory.

The Casbah in Oran, where 80,000 Moslems live in squalor, was broodingly silent. French troops erected sandbags around the area to prevent demonstrations.

In Algiers, frightened Moslems erected barricades of stones at the approaches to some southern suburbs, fearing attacks by secret army gunmen.

In the face of the general strike call, authorities mobilized key personnel of vital utilities to ensure the supply of water, gas and electricity.

BRUSHES OFF THREAT
President de Gaulle, acknowledging there will be "last obstacles" to be cleared up, brushed off the terrorist threat by "straying chiefs" and "criminal adventurers." He appealed to the French people for support of the cease-fire even though it marks the end of the French empire.

The 71-year-old French leader, who returned to power four years ago with the backing of former French army officers now leading the fight against him in Algeria, declared in a country-wide broadcast Sunday night that he had achieved a "solution of good sense."

Details of the peace accord were not published immediately but they call for:

1. Creation of a 12-man provisional committee to run the country under a French high commissioner during the interim period until an independent Algerian government takes over. The committee will have four Moslem nationalist representatives, four non-aligned Moslems and four Algerian Europeans.

2. A self-determination referendum—sure to approve independence—and general elections to name an Algerian parliament within three to six months.

3. Gradual withdrawal of French troops.

Orange barriers for Irish parade

MONTREAL (CP) — The shamrocks painted at the intersections were green. The line dividing the traffic lanes was painted green. All the stores lining St. Catherine Street were decorated in green.

But those wooden police barriers holding back the crowd? They were (ah, mither, what hath tolerance wrought) orange.

In the old days there would have been a furious fight about it, but in these enlightened times Montreal's Irish enthusiastically paced through the 138th annual St. Patrick's Day parade without a fuss.

Twenty bands tooted by, including the fine Irish Harpmonie de Lachine, Incorporated, playing Come Back to Erin in quick-march time.

Order stands
JAKARTA (Reuters) — President Sukarno of Indonesia said Sunday his order for "liberation" of Dutch-ruled, Indonesian-claimed West New Guinea still stands despite forthcoming informal contacts with the Dutch. He told a radio audience that the Dutch would either agree immediately to negotiate the next week's business schedule at least by Thursday night. This has gone by the boards.

Accord brings joy around world except among members of SAO

The Algerian cease-fire today brought praise in the West, jubilation in the Arab world, relief among the neutrals—and a rush by the Communists to the leaders of the new Algeria.

The joy over the armistice in the bloody North African rebellion was tempered by refusal of the underground Secret Army Organization in Algeria to respect the peace accord. The European terrorist organization promised to do all it could to sabotage the cease-fire.

The Algerian rebel premier, arriving in Rome en route from Tunis to Morocco, said the "cease-fire has not brought peace to Algeria."

"There are still enemies of peace there," said Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda. He cited "groups whose interest it is to sabotage the peace," obviously referring to the secret army.

The people of Tunis went on a spree until the early hours of the morning. Cars, jubilantly sounding their horns, rushed the wrong way up one way streets. Cheering crowds trooped through the city.

President Habib Bourguiba said the cease-fire marked the end of a heroic struggle by the Algerian people against the "forces of tyranny and despotism."

In Washington, President Kennedy said the United States "supports these efforts toward a mutually beneficial solution and welcomes the agreement."

Premier Khrushchev fired off a telegram to Ben Khedda declaring the Soviet Union's readiness to establish diplomatic relations with it.

Cat and mouse game

OTTAWA (CP) — How long will the cat toy with the mice before he pounces?

That the cat will, in fact, pounce before too long is a foregone conclusion in the game now being played by the government and opposition groups in the Commons.

The only question is when the government will decide a general election, expected this year, is opportune.

ACCUSE GOVERNMENT
The Liberals now are accusing the government of trying to shut off debate—the same complaint the Conservatives made in the latter days of their sojourn in opposition, and especially so after the former Liberal government used debate-limiting closure to force the trans-Canada gas pipeline bill through the Commons.

Parliamentary observers say the atmosphere now on the eve of the coming election is very different from what prevailed just before previous elections when both sides of the House were convinced of good chances of electoral success.

The government is closely guarding its election intentions. The date is determined by Prime Minister Diefenbaker alone, and he is playing the cat and mouse game with relish, preserving the element of surprise.

Knowing him to be a formidable campaigner the Liberals are employing every available opening to needle and wheedle.

PREPARE BUDGET
While preparations are going ahead normally on the 1962-63 budget, the Liberals are demanding assurances there will be one presented before the election. The government refuses to say. When it comes, it is almost certain to be a vote-attracting one.

The Liberals last week began questioning the government about what they claimed was a delay in producing the mid-February unemployment report, due this week. The government would not say when it would be made public.

The same kind of wrangling applies to attempts to reach all-party agreement on the schedule of House business. The practice of successive House leaders has been to try to announce the next week's business schedule at least by Thursday night. This has gone by the boards.

Bedford W.A. makes increase in appointment

BEDFORD — At the monthly meeting of the St. James Woman's Auxiliary held in the Church Hall, the treasurer, Mrs. R. W. Craighead, reported a balance of $225 and that a letter of thanks had been received from Save the Children Fund for the branch's donation.

A letter was read from the Diocesan secretary stating that the apportionment for the coming year was $295 including contributions to the Women's Training College at Toronto, youth counsellor for the Diocese, and the Nesbitt Residence. In order to increase the low salaries of missionaries, it had been necessary to increase the apportionments by ten per cent.

Since the smaller branches would not be able to meet the increase, large branches were asked to increase their apportionments. An increase of $50 was voted by the branch, making its apportionment $345.

Mrs. Jack Paton, Dorcas secretary, read the requirements for the bazaar, which this year goes to the Indian Residential School at Prince Albert, Sask.

All work is to be in at the end of the month, for shipment to Montreal. A request was made for additional articles, especially layettes.

The president welcomed a new member, Mrs. R. Doak. The education secretary, Mrs. Alfred Nicholson, gave a review of a chapter in the Study Book, The Living Message.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. W. Craighead and Mrs. W. J. Hammond.

Hong Kong missionary describes work in re-settlement area for refugees

By ALICE BUCKLAND
(Record Correspondent)

WATERLOO — (Special) — Miss Isabelle Miller of Knowlton, missionary on leave from Hong Kong was guest speaker at a meeting of the United Church women March 15.

A very large group of members and friends assembled to hear this interesting lady who describes her work in the Hong Kong clinic.

The clinic she works at is situated in a town called Ren-chie's Mill where about ten thousand refugees from Communist China are living. This place is now termed a re-settlement area, as some have been there over 10 years and it can hardly be classed as a refugee camp.

"T.B. is a big problem for the nurses in the clinic," Miss Miller said. Great advances have been made against the disease with the help of an X-ray machine bought by the W.M.S. in Canada.

Miss Miller said at present part of the work at the clinic is feeding 85 children who were very undernourished and providing treatment for 50 children suffering from T.B.

The work among the children brought this Canadian missionary in contact with a pathetic little Chinese baby girl in an orphanage. Her mother was dead and her father was unable to care for her.

Miss Miller brought the one year old child to the clinic where she and another nurse took over the full responsibility of caring for her.

Today Judy is three—a sturdy normal little child, very well behaved and certainly above

HONG KONG MISSIONARY — Miss Isabelle Miller, missionary from Hong Kong and Judy, a little three year old Chinese girl, were guests at a U.C.W. meeting in Waterloo March 15. average intelligence. Judy came to Knowlton last July with her "foster mother" for the year's leave. Loving care has developed the little girl beyond belief. She couldn't speak a word of English when she arrived and now very seldom speaks Chinese. She sings children's hymns in English and also in her mother tongue. Her little voice was heard on CBC this week, singing hymns in the two languages. Judy does not wear the traditional Chinese clothes. Miss Miller said they are getting away from these and everyone dressed European style. But to be photographed, Judy did put on a real Chinese red silk coat, embroidered in gold, which was a gift at New Year's from the clinic in Hong Kong. The little China girl will have to go back at the end of her year's visit next summer.

Record turnout at banquet held by Richmond St. Patrick's group

RICHMOND — (Special) — The 85th annual anniversary of St. Patrick's Society of Richmond, Windsor Mills, Danville and vicinity, which was founded in 1877, was celebrated at a banquet held Saturday evening at the Brunswick Hotel.

The largest number ever known to attend such an occasion was present. Mr. Leo Delaney acted as master of ceremonies and the guests were welcomed by the president, Mr. Warren Smith, who called on Rev. Daniel Page to say a prayer for the deceased members. He also offered grace. A toast was proposed to the Queen.

Mayor Alfred Geoffroy, of Richmond, thanked the society for having invited him and Mrs. Geoffroy to the banquet. He thanked the organization that worked to make the event a success, and he brought greetings from the Town of Richmond.

M. O'Donnell proposed a toast to the Sister Societies. Mr. Fernand Dussault, president of St. Jean Baptiste Society and Mr. George Ewing president of St. Andrew's Society gave messages of greeting from those societies.

During the banquet a short singing and vocal selections by Miss Francoise Proulx, who sang "Macosha" and "Did Your Mother Come from Ireland," Howard Blanchette sang "Galway Bay" with "A Little Bit of Heaven" as an encore. Joe Doyle sang "An Irish Lullaby" with "McNamara's Band" as an encore. All were accompanied by Mrs. M. O'Donnell.

Lt.-Col. Edward P. McGovern proposed a toast to Ireland, and introduced the guest speaker Rev. Raymond O'Connor, S.J. of Loyola College, Montreal.

MRS. JOHN WILKINS

(Record Correspondent)

He is the son of the late Raymond O'Connor, a former despatcher with the CNR here years ago.

Father O'Connor was born in New York City where there are now more Irish people than in the land across the sea. He moved to Richmond at a very early age. Attended the old Brothers' School and later in new one. He then left Richmond and went to Montreal where he attended Montreal High and D'Arcy McGee. He later worked for the CNR, joined the Canadian Army and served overseas. He joined the Jesuit Order in 1947 and was ordained in 1958, and is now a professor at Loyola College, Montreal, where he teaches theology.

In speaking Father O'Connor made reference to his early days in Richmond and said that in listening to the solos during the evening, only in Richmond could it happen that the Irish songs would be sung so well by a Miss Proulx and a Mr. Blanchette.

"There is no doubt about the genuine goodwill that exists in Richmond between people not only of different language but of different faiths," he said. "In the year 1947," said Father O'Connor, "I met Father Harry Bedard, a former Richmond boy. It makes a man think about what he is going to do. How a man becomes a Jesuit—we are asked why—we go to school all our lives."

"Yes there is no doubt about the goodwill that is here to night," said Father O'Connor. "I beg you people of Richmond to appreciate this genuine thing of value that you have and do not let become something superficial. Do not let this occasion St. Patrick's Day become just a day of celebration. It might lose its meaning and be just an occasion to get together and be gay."

He talked about St. Patrick and said that if there was a word that qualified St. Patrick as a Christian, it was the word apostle.

"An apostle is one," said Father O'Connor, "who is sent out to do an errand and that is just what St. Patrick did. Ireland, he said, "was never the same after he lived and died there. He was an apostle, and carried out faithfully all the work he was given to do."

"It was because of this apostolic spirit that St. Patrick brought to Ireland that we are reared in the faith that he brought to Ireland, through our ancestors."

Mr. J. L. Burns thanked the guest speaker. President Warren Smith made some closing remarks. A social evening was enjoyed after the banquet.

Seated at the head table were M. O'Donnell, Rev. Father D. O'Connor, Mayor Alfred Geoffroy and Mrs. Geoffroy, Warren Smith, president of St. Patrick's Society and Mrs. Smith, Rev. Father A. Gauthier, Mr. Leo Delaney, MC.

Eight persons were injured, four seriously, in accidents on the highways of the Eastern Townships over the weekend.

In Magog three persons were injured Saturday night in a three-car collision. Two of the three are still on the critical list in Magog's La Providence Hospital.

In Drummondville, four persons were injured in a weekend accident.

A nine-year-old girl, Joanne Bizier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Bizier, of Woodward Street, Sherbrooke, was hit by a car around 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Woodward and 10th Avenue intersection.

The youngster was walking along the street roadway when a car, driven and owned by Claude Royer, 22, 101 11th Avenue North in Sherbrooke, hit the girl police said.

The girl was taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital for first aid treatment for cuts and bruises. She was released two hours later.

Three persons were injured in an accident at Magog late Saturday night.

Injured in the three-car collision were, Louis Hebert Lambert, of Tring Junction, Beauce, Normand Sylva, 18, also of Tring Junction, and Robert Champagne, R.R. 4 Cookshire.

To back demands

Over 1,800 workers strike at Celanese

Drummondville. — (Staff) — Over 1,800 employees of the Canadian Celanese plant here went on strike Saturday afternoon to back demands for better wages, shorter working hours and more fringe benefits.

An official of the plant told The Record today that production of the plant is at a standstill although about 1,200 of the plant's 3,000 employees showed up for work.

Maurice Jones, plant manager said it would be "hard to say" how long the strike would last because the plant has offered reasonable rights which were approved by employees this summer.

"There has been no trouble since the strikers walked off their jobs at 3 o'clock on Saturday," Mr. Jones said.

He noted the plant's last strike was back in 1940 when employees went on strike for seven weeks to back demands for higher wages.

Employees voted 96.7 per cent in favor of the strike on March 1.

Mr. Jones told The Record that the non-striking office workers were allowed to cross the picket lines.

Robert Dean, representative of the Textile Workers Union of America said the production part of the plant went on strike following five months of negotiating with the company.

A company offer Thursday was termed as "not acceptable" by union members who are asking a 12 cent per hour raise and the reduction of working hours along with management rights, Mr. Dean said.

Mr. Dean told The Record the company offered a 10 cent per hour increase spread over two years.

Mayor Marcel Marier, of Drummondville, is expected to meet union and company officials in attempt to reopen negotiations between the two groups.

Sap's running in the maple bushes

The maple sap's running in the sugar bushes again.

From sun-speckled forests still piled deep with snow comes the pungent odor of wood smoke, wafted on blue-grey eddies through the straight, tall maple stands.

Evaporators are boiling, bubbling and frothing merrily away in the sugar camps as farmers and their families—anyone old enough to tote a stick of kindling—work feverishly around the clock to reap the sweet harvest while the short sugaring season is with us.

It's a big business here in the Eastern Townships. About 85 per cent of the world's supply of maple products comes from this area, and while proud Vermonters and patriotic New Hampshireites may claim otherwise, maple syrup from the Townships is not only the mostest but also the bestest.

But the bigness of the business has not robbed it of any of its traditional color and charm. Oh, there are veteran maple men who lean to plastic piping, snowmobiles, gas-fired evapo-rators, and fancy modern pails, but the majority stick with Old Dobbin pulling a collecting tank and wood-burning boiling equipment.

And, while the endless argument rages about respective methods of producing maple syrup and sugar, no one has yet shown that modern technology can do anything to the taste of these products that experience and tried and true methods cannot do just as well.

For science, with all its wonders, can do nothing about the basic ingredient in sugar-making—the weather. That's where it all starts. Without the right combination of warm, sunny days and crackling, cool still nights, maple syrup won't be maple syrup, no matter how it's collected, boiled or bottled.

In the end, the weather has the last word on any given sugaring season. Will it be a good word or a bad one this year? That's something no one will know for sure until the last whitened paddle has been licked clean of its taffy.

There's a place for everything except your knees under some lunch counters.

What is the Film Board hiding?

Is the National Film Board hiding something from Canadians?

Board documentaries have repeatedly won international awards for their artistic quality and imaginative presentation. The films also serve the important end of acquainting people elsewhere with the Canadian way-of-life.

For example, in India alone there are 28 outlets for Board films including a special centre in New Delhi which dispenses documentaries for children audiences.

The Indians have enthusiastically praised the productions. However, there is one report from a leading Delhi newspaper which will leave Canadians wondering about what the Board is saying about Canada.

The newspaper in a leading editorial comments:

"Why, here are people apparently more advanced than Americans, yet, how little we know about Canadians."

Perhaps, the Film Board should distribute its works more widely in Canada. It is only fair that Canadians know how "progressive" they are.

New signs of British Liberal revival

One swallow does not make a spring. Nor does one by-election victory necessarily represent a national trend. But the results of two British supplementary contests held within the past few days may indicate a sharp change in the political thinking of the middle-of-the-road electorate.

These contests saw the once moribund Liberals capture the traditionally Conservative seat of Orpington and move into second place behind Labor in Middlesbrough.

Political observers are seeking to read into these results a dissatisfaction by the British electorate with the long-entrenched Conservative Government but an equally strong wish to steer clear of further experiments with Socialism.

Logically they would vote for the revived Liberal party as the alternative to the present administration.

But whether this trend would continue in a general election is subject to argument.

Experience in Great Britain, as well in Canada, has shown that in many cases electors normally supporting the Government tend to vote for third parties or independents at by-elections if they feel dissatisfied with some particular aspect of administration policies.

They seem to feel that by this course of action they can serve a warning on the Government to mend its ways without completely upsetting the applecart.

However the current revival of the Liberal party gives fresh interest to the approaching British general elections. In a straight fight with Labor, the return of Harold Macmillan's Conservatives is regarded as a foregone conclusion, but the presence of aggressive Liberals in most of the ridings might seriously alter the picture, with Labor members being elected on minority votes.

Other papers say:

How much boldness has U.S. labor?

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) has expressed dissatisfaction with President Kennedy for the first time since his election with labor support.

His policies in combating unemployment have been "overly timid," says a resolution by the council. It urges that public-works programs and tax cuts on low incomes be put into effect immediately instead of waiting for a downturn in business. It also advocates an amendment to the federal 40-hour law by which under anything less than "full employment" the permissible work week would be cut below 40 hours (to 35 or 30?) with employers still required to keep up the 40-hour pay levels.

President Kennedy's "timidity," if that it be, bears all the earmarks of plain sound economic judgment.

There is more than one road to full employment. Labor organization leaders are almost bound by the nature of their jobs to point to only one of those roads—to have the government hire whatever substantial labor surplus there may be at the prevailing wage level.

But the wage level, especially if it be a continually rising one from an already high plateau and exceeding the increase in productivity, also tends to have something to do with the size of the labor surplus.

The AFL-CIO council says unions "must continue to press vigorously for wage raises," implicitly rejecting President Kennedy's appeal for moderation. At the same time it argues for increases in "the real purchasing power of workers."

That real purchasing power can be increased as effectively by reductions in the cost of goods as it can by hikes in wages. And it can be increased more broadly because price cuts benefit not only union members but also self-employed workers and the three of four employed workers who are unorganized.

Do labor union leaders have some of the boldness they ask of the President and of business managers? Have they the courage to face their own memberships and tell them that the market for labor depends in part on the price of labor? (Christian Science Monitor)

Now Teddy jumps in American dynasty may form too many Kennedys in politics

WASHINGTON (TNS) — A dynasty of Kennedys may now be taking root in the American political scene.

In the next few months, through the bitter fighting of a Massachusetts senatorial election, a great deal is going to be said about "too many Kennedys in public office."

This is triggered by Teddy Kennedy's decision to run as a Democrat for the Massachusetts seat vacated by his brother when he became President.

THE FIRST SHOT at Teddy Kennedy on this score has already been fired by Edward J. McCormack, who also wants that Democratic nomination. "Ted Kennedy's only qualification," he said curtly, "is that he is the President's brother."

In the months of bitter campaigning—and probably no campaign is as bitter or as colorful as a Boston-centered election—the youngest Kennedy (he's 30) will become thoroughly sick of that charge. But right now, he's smiling.

"IT'S TOO LATE now to talk of too many Kennedys," he replies amiably. "You should have spoken to my parents years ago."

The marks against Kennedy are that he is, undeniably, young and inexperienced. He barely qualifies, by age, to run for the Senate; the limit is 30—and he reached that age only on February 22.

There is resentment about his plan to step up, in one bold step, from an assistant attorney in Boston to U.S. senator. But, most of all, it's all those other Kennedys in office that bother people.

JACK—in the White House. Rob—the attorney general. Brother-in-law SARCENT SHRIVER—head of the Peace Corps. And brother-in-law STEPHEN SMITH—who only recently gave up a state department job to run the multi-million family business.

Now along comes TEDDY, the "baby" of the family. And speculation about a future dynasty is hot and widespread, sometimes serious and sometimes joking—but always under discussion. THE WHOLE KENNEDY clan can run for office some time or other—and there are even those who say, with a touch of bitterness, that by the time the United States has its first woman president, it'll probably be Caroline.

Columist Roscoe Drummond theorizes: "From the standpoint of presidential elections, there is just about the right age differences among the Kennedy brothers."

"ROBERT will be 43 by the time John F. would, if re-elected, have finished his second term."

"EDWARD (Ted) will be 44 by the time Robert (if nominated, if elected, and if re-elected) would have finished his second term."

What sort of young man is Teddy Kennedy? Like all the Kennedys, he is a formidable campaigner, he has all the Kennedy charm and personality, and sounds a dead ringer for the President when he speaks.

He has a beautiful young wife, Joan, and two young children. Like his brothers, he ate, drank and breathed politics from the day he was old enough to understand.

He has traveled the world preparing for this day, but back home has been equally busy, making 108 speeches in a month. Most of them were to schoolchildren, who don't have the vote. But as one observer noted—"Their parents do."

The youngest Kennedy climbed the Matterhorn, won bobsled races, and his philosophy about the senate race is this:

"THIS THING is up for grabs. The guy who gets it is the guy who'll scramble for it. I think I can scramble a little harder than the next guy."

He promises to campaign on the issues—"and nothing else." He also promises an "all-the-way" battle with McCormack for the nomination. This battle pits the Kennedys against the McCormacks, but they have been this way for generations at election time.

MCCORMACK is the nephew of John McCormack, Speaker of the House of Representatives, who has the power of life and death over President Kennedy's new legislation. And the Speaker wants his nephew to get the nomination.

If Ted Kennedy gets the nomination, he may then have to run against a Republican Lodge—as his brother and his grandfather did before him.

In Boston, the Lodges and the Kennedys are like the warring Hatfields and McCoy's. One of the two Republicans running for the Massachusetts nomination is George Cabot Lodge. Lodge's father, Henry Cabot Lodge, ran for vice-president in 1960, and lost; and before that, he was ousted as Massachusetts senator by the man who is now President. His grandfather defeated President Kennedy's grandfather, John F. Fitzgerald, in a congressional race.

SO THIS ELECTION now taking shape involves the three great families of Boston politics, each with strong organizations and backing—and it should produce a battle that people will be writing about for decades to come.

The political prestige and power of the families is at stake. If Ted Kennedy is defeated, it's a blow to all the Kennedys—and so on.

The Kennedy image must be kept bright because the President will be running for reelection in 1964. And Bob Kennedy is usually regarded as a man who will one day run for elected office.

At this stage, Ted Kennedy's chances look extremely good. He faced the press on nationwide television a few days ago and emerged relatively unscathed.

HE IS WITTY, astute and superbly evasive. His main obstacle is the image of a Kennedy dynasty, which could harm his chances; American voters have shown themselves unwilling to accept dynasties as anything but un-American.

Cross-Canada survey

Ontario abolishes liquor permits

By CARL MOLLINS
(Canadian Press staff writer)

Ontario joins most of the rest of Canada April 1 in doing away with a time-maligned system of buying intoxicants by government permit.

The $1 annual liquor permit, defended as an essential control against intemperance and criticized as hypocritical means of boosting revenue, has been abolished in Ontario after 35 years.

The operation has been surprisingly painless for all involved, considering that it concerns a perennial Canadian controversy, the consumption of alcoholic beverages.

But the Ontario government could lean on examples in six other provinces in deciding to do away with permits while avoiding a major fuss.

A Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press shows that citizens of all provinces except Newfoundland, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island are free of the permit system.

Quebec has never issued liquor permits; New Brunswick and Saskatchewan used them only for wartime rationing; British Columbia abolished them in 1947, Manitoba in 1956 and Alberta in 1957.

But all provinces, with or without permit systems, maintain control of the sale of alcoholic beverages through government-appointed commissions and government-operated retail stores. Liquor control in Canada is a responsibility of provincial governments, not a federal matter, and liquor revenue is a major source of funds for provincial treasuries.

Ontario consumers required a book listing purchases from 1927 until 1954, when card permits were introduced. Permits were needed only for "hard" liquor, such as whisky, gin, rum, brandy and liqueurs.

Purpose of both books and cards was said to be to prevent sales to minors, bootleggers and others barred from buying liquor, such as reservation Indians. However, Premier Robarts said in an announcement Feb. 21, "the necessity of producing a permit has been a continuing source of irritation to liquor purchasers."

The announcement produced neither jubilation among Ontario permit holders nor outraged cries from temperance groups. The change means little to the average consumer, who must still fill out a form, including name and address, for each purchase of liquor, wine or beer.

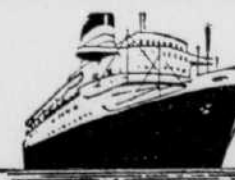

Nor is the government out of pocket. Because of a three-per-cent provincial sales tax introduced last September, most prices on the government liquor list ended in odd pennies. By adjusting these tax-included prices upwards to the nearest five cents, the government is expected to recover more than the $1,300,000 lost in revenue from permits.

Other provinces that abolished permits did so for much the same reasons as Ontario and with similar trouble-free results. British Columbia introduced a permit book system in 1921 as a check on bootleggers. It was dropped as needless red tape 15 years ago.

The Alberta government discontinued its 50-cent permit five years ago on the ground that it was largely ineffective in preventing illegal purchases. Saskatchewan rationed hard liquor to 26 ounces a week per purchaser through $1 permits from 1942 to 1946.

The Manitoba government, which abolished a permit book system in 1956 after 33 years, maintains limits on the amount an individual may purchase in one day. But the limits are liberal: 288 bottles of beer, 12 gallons of wine and 12 bottles of hard liquor.

LONDON (CP) — Police in central London issued a parking ticket against a vehicle registered JRR284. Farmer Gordon Palmer in Aslockton, Nottinghamshire, was puzzled. He complained that JRR284, his 15-year-old tractor, can hardly make it out of the barn, let alone all the way to London.

Polly's Quiz by polly cramer

Unearth your 'buried treasure' to perk up a drab room

Most homes have at least one treasure hidden away. It may be forgotten or nearly so. It probably isn't museum quality but if it has been saved for color, shape or sentimental value, bring it out into the light of day. Plan a room scheme to enhance the importance of this treasure. No one can enjoy it while it lurks in the dark corner of some cupboard or closet.

It might be a small picture that would take on new beauty reframed and given a larger mat. Or, it could be a bit of china or glass, a piece of furniture, a small rug or lovely old quilt made by hand. Too often, things are kept behind closed doors because we fear damage of some sort. The thing to do is get them out and enjoy them.

Dear Polly: I have just fallen heir to a lot of old blue-and-white china. My furniture is not antique so I didn't know what to do with these dishes. I hate to put them away in a closet. I have a glass-topped wrought iron dining table and chairs. Please help me.—Mrs. X.

Dear Mrs. X.: You're lucky and don't seem to know it. Build open shelves to hold your china, perhaps at either side of a window. Paint them white like the walls and woodwork.

Enjoy treasured items.

Buy a bright green rug and have it cut in the same shape as your table top but large enough to accommodate the table with chairs around it. Edge with white fringe. Cover half the chair seats with plain green and half with deep blue, like the china pattern, and alternate them around the table.

Blue, green and white striped curtains would be smart. If there is turquoise or covered vegetable dish in the set, use it as a centerpiece on the table.

Dear Polly: I need your help, and fast. My three boys entertain their friends in their room. They want it done in brown but that may be dreary. Couch bed is plain dark brown. Drapes are brown and tangerine print on a beige background.

Two chests are to be painted. Varnished woodwork is nice. Have enough gold for Hollywood bed cover but would tangerine be better? Will use white shades on natural lamp bases or would natural shades be better? What should I paint walls and chests? If I get a rug, what color?—???

Dear ???: Boys will be boys so a rug seems essential to deaden the noise. Tangerine and brown or beige tweed would be a practical choice in a room-size rug. Small rugs would just invite broken bones. Paint the walls the parchment color of the print background and use brown corduroy for the Hollywood bedspread. It will wash easily and not show the soil too quickly. I would paint the chests tangerine. Natural burlap shades would be smart on your lamps.

Today's recipe

CHOCOLATE BRIDGE CAKE

6 egg yolks, 3/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled, 3/4 cup very finely chopped walnuts, 6 egg whites, cocoa whipped cream.

Grease the bottoms and sides of two 9-inch layer pans; line with paper and grease the paper. Set aside. Beat egg yolks until foamy. Gradually add 1/2 cup sugar, beating until yolks are thick and lemon colored. Add salt. Gradually add chocolate, blending well.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Then add 1/4 cup sugar gradually, beating after each addition until sugar is blended; continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks.

Fold into chocolate mixture. Fold in nuts. Pour into pans. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool 5 minutes; then turn out on rack. Carefully remove paper. Cool.

COCOA WHIPPED CREAM
1 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons breakfast cocoa, 4 tablespoons icing sugar 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Combine ingredients in small bowl. Chill 1 hour. Then beat until cream holds its shape. (Do not overbeat) Makes 2 cups.

Mother of four cared for eighty-six foster children

MRS. A. LAROCQUE, 17 Larose Street, Wrightville, Quebec, has been nominated for the title "Canadian Mother of 1962". Besides raising her own four healthy children, Mrs. Larocque has cared for eighty-six foster children from 1947 until the present. She is shown here with her own twin granddaughters and foster children who will be cared for until they go into adopting homes. (Photo by Malak)

Mrs. A. Larocque, 17 Larose Street, Wrightville, Quebec, has cared for over ninety children over the past fifteen years. Four of the children were her own, the others were eighty-six foster children whom Mrs. Larocque has taken from the Catholic Family Service. Mrs. Larocque cared for the foster children — all of them under school age — until they were placed in adopting homes or went back to their own families.

Mrs. Larocque fell so completely in love with one of the foster children — little Danny, who came to her weighing only four pounds one ounce — that she adopted him. In nominating her mother for the title Canadian Mother of the Year, Mrs. Larocque's daughter wrote, "Mom would have kept them all if she could have, but she knew she could never provide for eighty-six children. Anyway, many of them had mothers and fathers who loved them, but were sick in sanitariums and hospitals and when they were well again, we would have to say goodbye to another baby. Mom always hated to see one go, but the other babies would soon require all her attention and soon another baby would come to take its place."

Mrs. Larocque is only one of the superlative mothers who have been nominated in the annual search for the mother worthy of the title, "Canadian Mother of 1962."

W.I. executive meeting held at Ayer's Cliff

AYER'S CLIFF — The Ayer's Cliff branch was hostess to the executive of the Stanstead County Women's Institute at the school library in Ayer's Cliff. Members were delighted to welcome back the president, Mrs. Gordon McHarg, after her recent illness.

A greeting was read from the new branch at Rouyn.

It was announced that the annual County meeting will be held at North Hatley on May 9, when the guest speaker will be Mrs. Ossington, of Granby.

A leadership course will be held at Macdonald College, May 21 - 25, and the convention will take place June 25 - 29, with a guest speaker on June 28.

The Stanstead County Memory Book is to be revised. Resolutions to the committee are requested at an early date to be sent to all branches for discussion before the annual meeting in May. The committee for the Fair wishes to make a new list and would like additional funds for prizes.

It was decided the committee could spend up to $50 and decide what the prizes would be, a School Fair meeting to be held March 19, at Ayer's Cliff.

The home economics convener stated that suggestions for the Fair are a fish pond with five and ten cent articles, each branch to help, and coffee, tea and sandwiches to be served in the evening.

It was suggested that the county home economics convener be a member of the Canadian Association of Consumers.

A second-hand gas stove is needed for the tea room at the fair ground. Any one knowing of one is requested to contact Mrs. R. Knight, Ayer's Cliff.

All branches are asked to send lists of members and officers to Mrs. Knight, who will forward them to Macdonald College.

It was decided to ask the school nurse to request the County Health Unit to place information in the schools and public places on hepatitis.

Mrs. Ivar Lemon, of Stanstead North, gave a fine report of the Quebec executive board meetings which she attended in Montreal.

It being Shrove Tuesday the hostesses served pancakes and tea following the meeting.

TWO NO-TRUMP FORCES PARTNER

This week's articles will discuss the two no-trump response.

This response is a popular one. Everybody likes to bid no-trump. In standard American bidding it is a game force and shows a balanced hand, 13 to 15 high card points and preparation for the lead of any suit except that bid by partner.

It is also generally abused because somehow or other most bridge players like to bid no-trump at the first opportunity so that if the hand plays in no-trump they will be declared.

South has a perfect book two no-trump response and North should take him right to game. Of course, North has a bare minimum bid, but the two no-trump response is a force and North must bid again.

Many players would rebid to three spades with the North hand, but there is no reason to make that bid. North has no trump that bid. North has no trump distribution and South has announced that he will be responsible for stopping any suit.

Playing at three no-trump South wins the opening diamond and promptly rattles off 10 tricks. He has nine cold tricks against any lead. Playing at four spades North would make only eight tricks. The defense would collect two clubs, two diamonds and a ruff before North could get the lead.

Q—The bidding has been:

Girl Scouts hold special service at Rock Island

ROCK ISLAND — In observance of the 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting in America, the Derby Line Girl Scout and Brownie troops of Rock Island, joined for a special service in Stanstead South Church on March 11 to mark the beginning of Girl Scout Week.

The girls entered the church during the Processional. Scouts hymn, with Marguerite McLean and Ruth Darby, Girl Scouts, carrying the American flag and the Scout flag; Mary Loo Hucks, the Brownie flag and Miss Janet Jarvis, the Union Jack.

Dr. Harry Hutchison, in charge of the morning service, spoke on What's in a Name, with the message especially directed to the youth groups. He pointed out five qualities expected of a true Girl Scout or Girl Guide: Graciousness, understanding, imagination, dedication, and enthusiasm, explaining what is contained in each quality, and taking the first letter of each to spell out the word GUIDE.

Mrs. Gwen Greer, organist, during the offertory played a selection, and accompanied for the singing of the hymns.

Mrs. H. Searles accompanied on the piano the Junior choir, Girl Scouts and Derby Line Brownies for the singing of the anthem, Jacob's Ladder.

The colors were retired during the singing of the last hymn. On March 18 Girl Scout Week will conclude with another worship service in the Derby Line Universalist Church at 10:30 a.m.

Walt Alston has secret weapon for this year

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Walt Alston, the Los Angeles Dodgers' manager who is supposed to be on the spot marked X if he doesn't win this year, has a secret weapon. "I'll tell you what it is—all our kids of last year now have an added year of experience," said before today's scheduled game with Kansas City.

For a man in his position he's second (Charley Neal has joined Hodges with New York Mets). "We haven't any Ed Mathews or Hank Aaron, but at least we've got numbers." The Dodgers of 1962 are young and numerous, but there are five open positions on the team and three on the pitching staff, and at first base (Gil Hodges and Norm Larker are gone) and

Downs Bob Johncox of Bishop's 10-7 after close battle, Sherbrooke's Ivan Lavallee downs McLennahan in Lennoxville Press Trophy

By LEN O'DONNELL

Rollie Badger of Sherbrooke guided his rink to victory in the John Nichol Memorial Trophy in the main event of the annual Lennoxville Curling Club Bonspiel while Ivan Lavallee of Sherbrooke and his quartet copped the Lennoxville Press Trophy in the finals Saturday evening.

Immediately following the finals President Hugh Brown presided at the presentation of the trophies and prizes assisted by Stan Hamilton, chairman of the Bonspiel. Howard Nichol awarded the Nichol Memorial Trophy to Skip Badger while Wes Nichol presented the prizes and Otis Burns awarded the Lennoxville Press Trophy to Skip Lavallee.

At the dinner held Saturday noon over two hundred curlers and their friends enjoyed a delicious meal served by the ladies. President Brown presided. Mayor Ernie Gilbey welcomed the curlers on behalf of the City of Lennoxville. Phil Lawrence was the guest speaker and gave the gathering a brief humorous outline on the art of curling. Stan Hamilton then thanked all who had helped to make the Bonspiel such a huge success and thanked the press for their outstanding coverage. He also thanked the Sherbrooke Club and North Hatley for the use of their ice.

In the main event Badger's rink pulled through with a 10-7 victory over Bob Johncox and this one was decided with the final stone also.

In the Badger-Gartshore battle the Sherbrooke rink held a 4-3 count after the fourth end. The Badger rink snared two when their skip made a nice take-out. In the following end skip Badger pulled off another to pick up two when skip Gartshore missed for a 7-4 count.

In the next end Rollie Badger missed his stones and Danville pulled out with three to tie the match 7-7 coming home. In the last end Badger slid by on a take-out and Gartshore got two stones in well guarded. On the last shot Badger made a perfect take-out to roll over on the button to count one and win the match 8-7.

In the Hill-Johncox the Lennoxville rink held a comfortable lead of 3-0 after three ends. The Bishop rink pulled off a two-end to get back in the fight but the Hill rink picked up one for a 4-2 lead. Skip Johncox had a great chance to count two but he was too heavy and he took his own out and failed to tally.

The Hill quartet got one but Bishop's came back with a three-end for a 5-4 lead coming home. Bishop's got two counters in when the skips came to shoot. Hill missed on his first and then Bishop's got one more in and on Hill's last stone he was just a little too heavy and slid through the house when he tried a wick-and-roll and Bishop's got three to end the match 8-4.

Buster McLennahan of Windsor got off to an early lead and after three ends held a 5-0 lead over Lloyd Syan of Magog. The Syan rink got their first counter in the fifth and then followed with another single for a 6-2 count. In the seventh the Windsor rink posted a three-end and Magog conceded the match 9-2.

In the Way-Lavallee match it commenced with Sherbrooke taking one but skip Way snared a four-end. The Sherbrooke quartet bounced right back with a big six for a 7-4 lead. The skips traded shots and Sherbrooke finally ended up with two in the fourth for a 9-4 lead. Bishop's got one and then Sherbrooke came back after exchanging shots to count one. In the seventh end skip Way's squad got two for a 10-7 count coming home. In the final end it was just a case of taking out the Bishop's stones by the Sherbrooke rink and finally skip Way conceded the match as it was impossible to tie the game.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Dianne Gerace of Trail, B.C., stole the hearts of 7,000 fans at the 1962 Canadian indoor track and field championships Saturday by outshining firmly established stars. She eclipsed the former Canadian open and native record of five feet, three inches held by Eleanor Ward of the University of Western Ontario by three inches and was voted outstanding competitor of the meet.

Hers was one of nine records broken, with two going to Terttu Vuorinen of Port Arthur in the women's shot put with a toss of 36 feet, 6½ inches. The former open and native indoor record of 35 feet, 6½ inches was set here in January by Miss Vuorinen.

In the open pole vault, George Davies of Arizona shot to a new Canadian open record of 15 feet, 5¼ inches. The former record was 15 feet, five inches set by John Rose of Arizona State in January.

In the men's mile East York's Bruce Kidd, voted Canada's outstanding athlete in 1961, won in 4:13.4.

George Shepherd covered 500 yards in 58.2 seconds to win easily. East York teammate Paul Gaudet nipped Gene Dehahn of the University of South Dakota, in the 60-yard dash both being timed in 6.4 seconds.

CARRY HOME VICTORIES
The women's 60-yard final was captured by Maureen Barde of Hamilton Olympic in 7.1 seconds.

Tom Skadland and Wayne Steffenhagen carried home victories for Minnesota. Skadland took the high jump at six feet, three inches and Steffenhagen the men's shot put at 51 feet, 7½ inches.

In the men's 1,000-yard run, Don Bertoia of Washington State and Rossland, B.C., won in 1:59 and 60.

TAKES POLE VAULT
In the open two mile, Jim Tucker of Iowa won in 9:11.4. Geoff Mitchell of Mount Allison University won the second division pole vault at 11 feet, six inches. Dave Naylor of Winnipeg took a special high school mile in 4:38.4.

Toronto East York teams took the men's club mile relay in 3:23.7 and the men's club two-mile relay in 7:50.

The University of Manitoba first and second teams won the University men's two-mile relay in respective times of 8:06.9 and 8:36.9 while South Dakota took the men's sprint relay in 2:23.

In a special all-star race, an eastern women's relay team beat a western team in 1:17. Chris Williamson of the University of New Brunswick was third in the open two mile with a time of 9:23.2.

Canada leads in curling championships
EDINBURGH (CP) — The world curling championships, with Canada the only unbeaten rink in the series, resumes here today after a weekend of rest.

Ernie Richardson's rink from Saskatchewan has a 3-0 record in the double round-robin series.

The United States is second with a 2-1 record. Scotland is 1-2. Sweden has been blanked 0-3. Sweden meets Canada today, Scotland the U.S.

In Falkirk Friday, Richardson thumped Willie Young of Scotland 20-4 in the highest scoring game ever played in the competition. Earlier he had defeated Sweden 17-7.

The U.S. rink, skipped by Frank Kleffman of Hibbing, Minn., handed Sweden its second loss of the day, downing Rolf Arfwidsson 13-8.

Richardson is trying for his third world crown. He won in 1959 and '60.

Canadiens blank Rangers, lose to Bruins

Only the fourth playoff berth remains to be settled as the National Hockey League heads into the final week of its 1961-62 schedule.

Battling for it are New York Rangers and Detroit Red Wings. Weekend play left the Rangers with a one-point lead over the Red Wings, but they have only two more games to play to Detroit's three.

New York gained only one point in two weekend outings; Detroit won its only start.

The Rangers bowed 2-0 to Montreal Canadiens at Montreal Saturday night, permitting the Habs to clinch a fifth straight league title. Then on home ice Sunday night, they blew a 2-0 lead and had to settle for a 2-2 tie with Toronto Maple Leafs.

NHL STARS
Johnny Bucyk of Boston, who scored two goals and helped set up another when the Bruins whipped Montreal Canadiens 6-2 Sunday night.

Billy Harris, whose goal at 12:58 of the third period brought Toronto Maple Leafs a 2-2 tie with New York Rangers Sunday night.

Defenceman Bill Gadsby of Detroit, who assisted on three goals when the Red Wings dumped Chicago Black Hawks 4-1 Sunday night.

Bobby Hull, whose 47th goal of the season led Chicago to a 3-1 victory over Toronto Saturday night.

clubbed Chicago Black Hawks 4-1 at Detroit Sunday night and in the process snapped Bobby Hull's consecutive game scoring streak at nine.

Hull bagged his 47th goal of the season Saturday night as the Hawks won 3-1 at Toronto. He needs three or more goals in Chicago's remaining three games to tie or break the league's 50-goal scoring record.

In the weekend's only other game, the Boston Bruins rose from the depths of the league cellar to clobber the injury-plagued Canadiens 6-2 at Boston Sunday night.

Canadiens have 92 points, eight more than second-place Toronto and each club only has three more games to play. Chicago has third place wrapped up.

The New York-Detroit battle will go right down to the wire. Each club has one mid-week game, Detroit meeting the Black Hawks at Chicago Tuesday night and New York playing the lowly Bruins at Boston Thursday night.

Detroit plays at Toronto Saturday night, then each club winds up the schedule Sunday night on home ice — Detroit against Montreal and New York against Chicago.

SCORE IN THIRD
Rangers and Canadiens were locked in a scoreless duel until the third period Saturday night when Bill Hicke put Canadiens ahead 1-0. Claude Provost added an insurance Montreal goal with less than two minutes to go.

Jacques Plante turned away 24 shots in the Montreal nets for his fourth shutout of the season.

Against the Leafs, the Rangers grabbed an early lead on goals by Dean Prentice and Earl Ingarfield, but the Leafs fought back with defenceman Tim Horton and centre Billy Harris scoring to earn the tie.

Defenceman Carl Brewer needed assistance Sunday night when Toronto Maple Leafs' airplane landed in Toronto after a flight from New York. He was suffering from what Dr. Hugh Smythe, team physician, said appeared to be a charleyhorse in the left leg and may not be able to play in the Leafs' next game at Montreal Thursday.

COLLIDES WITH BATHGATE
Brewer was hurt when he and the Rangers' Andy Bathgate collided in the second period.

The Wings spotted Chicago a 1-0 lead, but roared back. Alex Delvecchio, Claude Laforee, Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman counted for the Wings and Stan Mikita for the Hawks.

Howe's goal was his 501st in regular-season play. At Toronto, Hull scored his 47th goal in the second period and it turned out to be the winning marker. Jack Evans and Eric Nesterenko also scored for the Black Hawks while Frank Mahovlich potted Toronto's lone goal.

The Canadiens, playing without three regulars, just didn't have it at Boston. Johnny Bucyk and Murray Oliver sparked the Bruins. Bucyk scored twice and drew an assist while Oliver had one goal and three assists.

The other Boston scorers were Pat Stapleton, Ted Green and Wayne Connelly. Hicke scored both Montreal goals.

Missing from the Montreal lineup were defencemen Lou Fontinato and forwards Don Marshall and Dickie Moore.

Fontinato and Marshall have groin injuries while Moore suffered a torn rib cartilage in Saturday night's game against Rangers.

One bright spot for Canadiens was the play of Gordon (Red) Berenson, twice Michigan All-American.

Berenson, making his professional debut on the NHL trial plan, did an outstanding job playing as left-winger on Montreal's third line. He normally is a centre.

Amherst edges Montreal 4-3 in second overtime period

Dave Kiley's overtime goal at 55-seconds of second period is payoff for Ramblers in hard battle

By LEN O'DONNELL

MONTREAL — Amherst Ramblers edged Montreal Olympics 4-3 here Sunday afternoon in the first game of the Allan quarter-finals before 3,535 fans at the Maurice Richard Arena in a hard checking battle. The second game will be played this evening and the Olympics, Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League champions, will be going all out to stop the rough Maritimers.

The Ramblers opened the game with a series of hick-sticking but they didn't get far as the Olympics dished it right back. The referee worked overtime but he kept things under control as several of the Montrealers had old scores to settle. In the rest of the game things simmered down and the fans witnessed some good fast hockey.

Veteran Shermie White set up the winning goal for the Maritime champions with a short pass to Kiley, who lobbed the puck into the upper right-hand corner of the net.

Ramblers took a 3-2 lead early in the third period, but couldn't hold it.

Jean-Guy Morrisette, the Amherst goalie, turned in an outstanding performance as he kicked out 64 shots.

Morrisette's cool goaltending kept Amherst in the game in the last half of the third period and the first overtime period when Montreal put on the pressure.

The second game of the series will be played here tonight. The third game will be Wednesday, and, if necessary, the fourth and fifth games Thursday and Friday nights.

Lou Kiley, Dave Polley and Angie Carroll scored the other Amherst goals.

Phil Latreille, who led Olympics to victory over Drummondville Rockets in the Eastern Townships Senior Hockey League finals, scored twice for Montreal. Michel Labrosse added the other.

Heavy body contact characterized the first two periods. In the first, eight penalties were handed out. Only four other penalties were assessed by referee Gordon Prenschi the rest of the way.

Montreal scored twice, once in the first period and again in the second, while Amherst was short-handed.

Michel Sawyer paces Richmond to 4-3 win over Rock Island Jets in opening tilt of St. Francis finals

ROCK ISLAND — Richmond Braves defeated Rock Island Jets 4-3 here yesterday afternoon to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven final series for the St. Francis Valley Intermediate hockey championship.

Michel Sawyer paced the Braves with three of his team's four goals. His brother Gilbert also played a big part in the win stopping 23 shots, many of them dangerous.

It was the 9th win in ten games for the Braves. They defeated the Magog Aces 4-0 in the quarter-finals and knocked over Windsor 4-1 in semi-final series "B".

The two teams meet again tomorrow night in Richmond before returning to Rock Island for the third game on Thursday evening.

Two more penalties were handed out in the period and again neither figured in the scoring.

At 13:46 of the third period Renold Beaudoin evened the score after taking a pass from Menard. Nineteen seconds later M. Moisan a Richmond defenseman who hails from East Angus scored the winning goal with help from Sawyer and Desrosiers. R. Desrosiers, G. Menard.

Peter Snell sets half mile record

TOKYO (AP)—With the "no smoking" signs out and the heat turned down, New Zealand's Peter Snell blazed to another track record Sunday, posting a world indoor mark of one minute, 49.9 seconds for the half-mile.

The 23-year-old apprentice surveyor, who smashed both the world outdoor mile and half-mile records earlier this year, clipped three-tenths of a second off the indoor 880-yard standard 10 set Feb. 9 in Los Angeles.

When he ran the mile in 4:06.7 Saturday, Snell complained that the Tokyo Metropolitan Gym, where the Japan national track and field championships are being held, was too smoky and stuffy.

Marg Mitchell paces Magog to win over Cliff

Princess Elizabeth High School Junior girls of Magog came up with an outstanding game to whip Ayer's Cliff squad 49-32 in a league game Friday night at the Cliff.

The girls worked exceedingly well as a team with Margaret Mitchell, who scored 42 points, right on the target for the passy her team mates fed her. Judy Hopps and Diane Partington netted 5 and 2 points respectively.

The strong defence efforts of Joan Mitchell, Nancy Atkins, Pat Baker and Mary Finlay were also an important factor in deciding the outcome of the team's superb performance.

Magog ended the first half well ahead of their opponents, the score then reading 31-6; but N. Lyford and D. McComb did credit to their team by bringing the losing count up to a respectable 32.

Magog: M. Mitchell, 42 points; J. Hopps, 5 points; D. Partington 2 points; Penny Lee; Judy Hurlbut, Mary Jane Brookhouse, Joan Mitchell; Helen LeBaron, Pat Baker, Nancy Atkins, Total 49.

Ayer's Cliff: Nancy Lyford (12); Ina Dezan (8); D. McComb (12); J. Waite; D. McVeay; P. Cass; L. Turner. Total 32.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Cary Middlecoff, 41, twice winner of the St. Petersburg open golf championship, is applying pressure to the leaders in a bid for his third victory in the $20,000 event.

Middlecoff ended Sunday's third round with a 71 for a total eight under par 208, one stroke behind the leaders, Don Fargnoli of Champion, Ill., and Frank Boynton of Corpus Christi, Tex.

Sweden wins World Hockey Championship

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (CP) — The Swedish national team returns home today with the world hockey championship, a flock of other honors and every indication of being a selfish host at the 1963 tournament.

"We are going to be tough to beat," said Swedish coach Arne Stromberg whose darkhorse squad whipped Canada's defending titlists and the United States in a seven-game sweep of the 12-day tournament. It was the first time Canada had ever lost to Sweden in world and Olympic hockey history.

The Canadians finished second with a 6-1 won-and-lost record after trouncing the U.S. 6-1 in a televised game Sunday.

Still complaining over the officiating in their 5-3 key loss to Sweden, the Canadians will see even more delicate calls made in their quest to regain their championship in Stockholm next March. They prefer the rugged, slambang style of play normal against us killed us. They scored twice when we were two men short."

The unofficial scoring championship went to McLeod, who had 11 goals and eight assists for 19 points. Swedish forward Nils Nilsson was second with 12 goals and five assists for 17 points.

BROWN SCORES TWO
Canadian scorers were Bobby Brown with two, Bobby Mader, Joe Hogan, Tod Sloan and Jack McLeod. Don Hall scored the U.S. goal.

Sloan, 34, who had six goals and 10 assists in the tournament, is retiring from hockey. A member of the Stanley Cup champion Chicago Black Hawks last spring, Sloan came out of retirement to join Galt Terriers who formed the nucleus of the Canadian team.

"I still say we have a better team than the Swedes," said Canadian coach Lloyd Roubell. "We could beat them seven out of eight times no matter where we play. Those double penalties (in the Swedish game) called slambang style of play normal against us killed us. They scored twice when we were two men short."

The unofficial scoring championship went to McLeod, who

Cleveland wins top spot in AHL Western section despite 3-0 loss to Quebec, Indians tie and win

Cleveland Barons seem to have their battle for first place in the American Hockey League's Western Division well in hand.

Things didn't look good Saturday when they dropped a 3-0 decision to Quebec Aces, but the Barons rebounded with a 6-0 shutout against Hershey Bears Sunday night.

The split left the Barons two points ahead of Buffalo Bisons, held to a 1-1 overtime deadlock by Springfield Indians Saturday and lost 3-1 to the Indians Sunday night. The Barons have 75 points and six games left in the regular 70-game schedule. The Bisons have 73 and only four games to go.

In other Sunday games Providence Reds belted Pittsburgh Hornets 8-3 and Rochester Americans edged Quebec 4-3. Hershey beat Pittsburgh 4-2 Saturday.

Cleveland's scoring Sunday was handled by John Ferguson, with two goals, Wayne Larkin, Jim Mikol, Cal Sterns and Gary Bergman.

SCORE FOR ACES
Maurice Mantha, Guy Black and Danny Lewicki scored for Aces Saturday. Charlie Hodge was brilliant making 19 stops for his fifth shutout of the season.

Billy Sweeney scored twice to lead the Indians to victory at Buffalo Sunday night. Bob Kabe added a single. Brian Smith scored in the final three minutes.

Neither the Indians nor Bisons could score in overtime and had to settle for the tie in their Saturday meeting. Barry Cullen scored for the Bisons and Kent Douglas for Springfield.

The Reds were led against Hornets by Orland Kurtenbach's three goals at Providence. Jim Bartlett scored twice. Bob Beckett, Pierre Brillant and Zello Toppazzini added singles. Norm Corcoran, Dick Mattiussi and Bo Elk were the Pittsburgh marksmen.

The defeat was the 54th for the Hornets, a league record for losses in one season. The old mark of 53 defeats was set by Washington in the 1948-49 season.

Ramblers' Coach Lou Kiley confident team can win series in four games, veteran Shermie White to retire

MONTREAL (CP) — Coach Lou Kiley, cautious but jubilant, said Sunday he thinks his Amherst Ramblers can win their best-of-five Eastern Canada Allan Cup quarter-final series against Montreal Olympics in four games.

Kiley was interviewed shortly after Ramblers won the series opener 4-3 on Dave Kiley's goal at the 55-second mark of the second overtime period.

The 31-year-old defenceman-coach said the game was "one of the most enjoyable we've had this season."

"It was the first time in the playoffs that we had to cope with pressure."

Ramblers lost only one game in winning four playoff series that earned them the right to represent the Maritime provinces in Allan Cup play for the third consecutive year.

"The truth is that our forwards were used to playing quite a bit in the opposing zone because of weak competition," the coach said.

UNDER PRESSURE
"But today they found themselves having to backcheck. This Montreal team kept applying the pressure."

"We'll strengthen our defence and I think we can win the series in four games."

Coach Kiley had high praise for his pint-sized goalie, Jean Guy Morrisette, who made 64 saves during the game.

"We lost Jacques Monette (now playing in the American Hockey League) and everybody figured we didn't have a goalie any more."

"But we knew on the club."

that Morrisette was good and he sure proved it today."

Morrisette only joined Ramblers prior to the start of the playoffs.

"BEAT HIM CLEAN"
Dave Kiley said of his winning goal:

"I beat him on a high shot that went over his left shoulder. I beat him real clean."

Shermie White, craggy 38-year-old veteran who set up the winner, said he had trouble adjusting to the ice, made soft by humidity and mild temperatures.

"You couldn't get any glide. You had to push all the time," said White, who once had a try-out with Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League and later played several seasons in the defunct Quebec Hockey League.

Shermie said this is his last season in hockey.

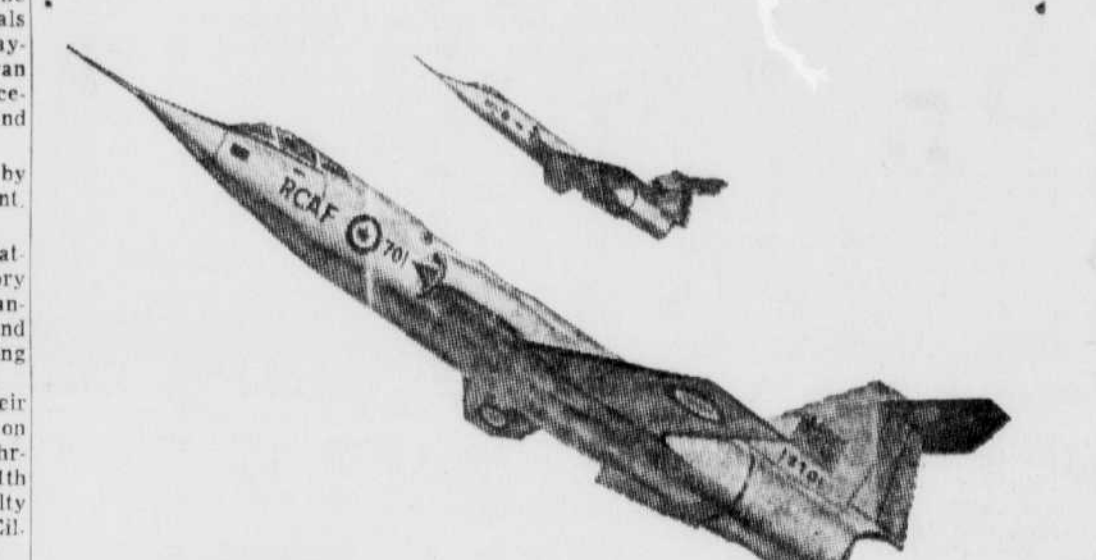

"No more after this one," he said.

He said the pass for the winning goal was "a short 10-footer, not sharp or hard, a real soft one."

MAGOG — (Special) — Jean-Guy Brunet of Ste. Agathe won the annual Adams Memorial Ski Races held at Mount Orford Saturday and Sunday, to claim the much coveted Adams Memorial Trophy for the second consecutive year.

Miss Ann Parsons of Ottawa accumulated best time over the two days in the women's class, to win the newly introduced Dr. George Austin Bowen Trophy, as best lady skier of the year at Mount Orford.

E. T. Badminton team wins Provincial championship

An Eastern Townships Badminton Club, for the first time in history, won the Provincial team championship and the coveted Paul Gascon Trophy which goes with the crown at the Quebec Winter Club over the week-end. Magog squeezed out a hard-fought and thrilling 4-3 victory over the Winter Club team from the Capital City.

Previously the Windsor Mills club had made the best showing losing 4-3 in the finals a few years ago to the M.A.A.A. club from Montreal but over the week-end the Magog aggregation took the title.

Mr. R. G. Taylor, president of the Provincial Badminton Association, presented Gordon Harmer, team captain, the trophy immediately following the finals.

Magog, representing the Eastern Townships, took a 2-0 lead when they swept the two men's doubles matches. Quebec came back strong and won both the ladies' doubles matches and by winning 2 or the 3 mixed events the Magog team walked off with the honors.

George Corbiere, who turned in a stellar performance over the week-end, teamed up with Gordon Harmer to beat L. Therrien and V. Simard 18-17, 15-0.

The first set was keenly contested and could have gone either way but in the second set Corbiere's net shots and Harner's smashes were working well. Bertrand Sevigny and Gascon Frechette also combined good net play and strong smashes in beating G. Gilbert and J. P. Hardy 18-15, 15-12. Claudette Langlois and Helen Hardy beat Mrs. Evelyn Jackson and Mrs. Lucille LeSeigneur 15-10, 15-11 and Quebec also won the other ladies' doubles match as Monique Clavet and Marcelle Fortin beat Cathy Jamieson and Virginia Wayne 15-8, 15-10.

Corbiere and Mrs. Jackson needed three sets before beating Claudette Langlois and G. Noel 15-12, 17-18, 15-12. Corbiere made some real good defensive shots in a crowd-pleasing match. Frechette and Mrs. LeSeigneur won in straight sets to clinch the victory. They beat Helen Hardy and C. Methot 15-12, 15-12. Several good rallies were witnessed in this event. With the victory clinched for the Magog team the host club did not quit as L. Havard and J. P. Hardy beat Peter Watson and Miss Wayne 15-1, 15-5.

Last year the Provincial "B" team title went to Quebec and they were gunning for their fourth straight win. The tourney was under the direction of Mr. Taylor and Mac Tessier, of the Quebec Winter Club.

The Eastern Townships junior and senior individual tourney will be held at Magog, April 7-8.
