ITALY WILL TAKE ACTION TO CHECK PLOTS

German And French Delegates Discuss Big Problems

Franco-Italian Situation Tense At Present Time

Italian Premier Declares that Italy Will Take Steps Against Repetition of Plots Against Peace of Italy Fomented on French Soil—Addressed Vast Mob of Cheering People—Palace Was Flooded Yesterday With Messages of Congratulation and Flowers Sent by Sovereign Heads of States and by Humblest of Individuals from All Parts of World—Cabinet Members Who Were Outside of Rome at Time of Attempt on Premier's Life Rushed Back Yesterday, Using Autos and Planes to Return to Side of Their Leader.

(Associated Press Despatch)

ROME, September 13.—Saved from death by a bomb hurled at his car when his chauffeur stepped on the gas and got away ahead of the explosion, Premier Mussolini addressed a mob of a hundred thousand cheering people and declared Italy would take steps against the repetition of plots against the peace of Italy fomented on French soil. The situation between France and Italy is more tense than at any time since the Fascists entered Rome in October, 1922.

CALM COURAGE ROUSED POPULAR ADMIRATION

(Associated Press Despatch) ROME, Sept. 13.—Il Duce was acclaimed Sunday by crowds on the spot where twenty-four hours before he had escaped death at the hands of a would-be assassin.

The calm courage of Premier Mussolini, when his life was threatened by bombs hurled by an anarchist, roused popular admiration to a high pitch and thousands of persons stood for hours in the suffocating heat, unprotected from a burning sun, before the Chigi Palace to catch a glimpse of the Fascist idol as he entered his office. Sitting alone in his automobile, the premier insisted that he be driven past the spot where Saturday morning Ermete Giovannini hurled a bomb at him. As the car passed by the scene of the attempted assassination the crowds gathered at the spot and cheered wildly.

The palace was flooded yesterday with messages of congratulations and flowers sent by sovereign heads of states and by humblest of individuals from all parts of the world. Cabinet members who were outside of Rome at the time of the attempt on the premier's life rushed back Sunday, using automobiles and aeroplanes to return to the side of their leader.

One of them said to Mussolini in a horrified manner, "Thank God, the would-be assassin's aim was no better or the bomb would actually have entered the car."

"In that case," Il Duce replied, "I would have picked it up and thrown it back at my assailant as it was done during the war."

ASSERT ASSASSIN HIDING REAL FACTS

(Associated Press Despatch) ROME, Sept. 13.—Ermete Giovannini, who Saturday tried to assassinate Premier Mussolini in a wider plot to remove the premier and end the Fascist regime, the Roman press declared unanimously yesterday.

The young would-be assassin still insists to the police that he was "an individualist anarchist" and that he acted solely on his own initiative and not as part of an organized plot. The newspapers asserted, however, that he was hiding the real facts concerning himself and his previous whereabouts.

Giovanni told police that he crossed the frontier near Ventimille on September 9, purchased the two bombs used in the attack and a revolver after entering the country, and then came at once to Rome, arriving by train only two hours before he hurled the bombs at the premier's automobile.

This tale, it was pointed out, was very unlikely. The frontiers are so closely watched that it is almost impossible for anyone to enter without a passport, it was said. That the young man could find within two days any one ready to sell him the bombs and the revolver was improbable. His assertion that he spent only two hours in Rome before the attack was discredited, it was said, by the unlikelihood of his learning within such a short time the route followed by the premier on his way to his office and the time he would pass the scene of the attempt, as well as of his being able to recognize so readily the premier's car.

On the contrary it is believed that he had entered Italy long before and had been provided with a passport even if fraudulent; that he had been supplied with arms by friends, who gave him all the necessary information regarding Mussolini's habits and the shape and color of his car; and that he was but the

FOUR NUNS ARE BEING HELD BY CUSTOMS MEN

Rare Breton Lace Found in Clothing of Nuns by U.S. Officers.

(Associated Press Despatch) ST. ALBANS, Vt., Sept. 13.—Customs officials probed further today into the mystery surrounding the discovery of rare Breton lace valued at $80,000 francs found in the clothing of four nuns, members of Massachusetts communities, which was seized on them as they crossed the Canadian border Saturday.

Investigation already made has indicated that the goods were part of a shipment seized from two Belgians at Quebec last month.

The nuns, in whose petticoats the lace was found sewed, maintained they had obtained the garments at Montreal convent and were unaware of the presence of the contraband.

Customs officials took them off a Canadian Pacific train at Richford and they have been detained here at a hotel under guard to await a hearing today. They are members of the Order of Franciscan Sisters.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT THE TORONTO FAIR.

(Associated Press Despatch) TORONTO, Sept. 13.—A new high record for attendance at the Canadian National Exhibition during the two weeks it operates has been made this year, 1,573,000 people having passed through the turnstiles from the opening on August 28th to the closing Saturday night. The former high record was 1,515,000 made in 1924, and the figure last year was 1,491,300.

Conversations, Object Of Which Is Broad Franco-German Understanding, Were Begun

It is Understood that Broad Lines Were Discussed and It Is Learned from German Sources that Dr. Stresemann Broached Matter Nearest to the German Heart, Namely, Reduction of French Forces in the Rhineland.

(Associated Press Despatch)

GENEVA, Sept. 13.—Conversations, the object of which is a broad Franco-German understanding, not only on problems existing between France and Germany, but on international policies as a whole, were begun Saturday between Gustav Stresemann, the German Foreign Secretary, and M. Briand, French Foreign Minister, and M. Vanderveld, of Belgium.

This is the beginning of the embodiment of pledges made by the German and French statesmen in the League assembly that they would strive loyally to reach an accord, and the announcement of the pourparlers attracted tremendous interest because of the possible repercussions for a successful understanding on world politics.

It is understood that broad lines were discussed and it is learned from German sources that Dr. Stresemann broached the matter nearest to the German heart, namely, the reduction of the French forces in the Rhineland, and proposed, first, that the troops should be cut down from about 70,000 to 38,000; second, the evacuation of three watering places, and third, rendering all occupation "invisible."

BRITISH STEAMER WITH WOUNDED SAILORS ABOARD FIRED ON BY CHINESE

Fusillade Was So Heavy that Vessel Was Forced to Retreat.

(Associated Press Despatch) SHANGHAI, Sept. 13.—A delayed despatch from Hankow, dated last Friday, says the British steamer Kiangwo, having on board British sailors wounded in the attack by Chinese troops at Wansien recently, was heavily fired on last Thursday while passing Shanghai and was forced to return up the river.

The Kiangwo made another attempt to pass Shanghai on Friday, but the fusillade was so heavy that she again returned up the river.

A United States torpedo boat destroyer afterwards took off the wounded from the Kiangwo and a British gunboat eventually escorted the steamer to a place of safety.

MONUMENT ERECTED TO CANADIAN MARTYR

(Associated Press Despatch) HULL, Que., Sept. 13.—A monument erected to the memory of the Venerable Father Jean de Brebeuf, one of the early Canadian martyrs, was unveiled yesterday with fitting ceremonies at Portage de Milieu, on the upper Ottawa River, three miles from here. The early martyr was one of the first known white men to make the portage at this spot. Mr. Justice Latchford, of Ottawa, and Mr. Justice Fortier, of Three Rivers, were the principal speakers at the ceremony.

MANY HOMELESS AS RESULT OF FLOOD WATERS

Swept Southeastern Kansas—Three Persons Are Known to Have Lost Their Lives.

(Associated Press Despatch) EMPORIA, Kansas, Sept. 13.—Three persons were known to have lost their lives, hundreds were homeless or marooned in their houses and damage to livestock and buildings was mounting steadily today as flood waters of the Neosho, Cottonwood and Verdigris rivers swept southeastern Kansas, following rains yesterday and last night which in some sections approached cloud-burst proportions.

Starting at the head waters of the three rivers, the flood swept southeast through Emporia, Madison, Burlington and intermediate points, swelling in volume as it came. Water threatened householders fled for their lives. Many, taken unaware, were rescued in row boats from the roofs and second stories of their homes.

A large section of the town of Neosho Falls, about thirty-five miles south east of here, was reported as virtually inundated at midnight, with some residents forced to the roofs of the houses. A banker who reported the situation to Wichita said he stood in water on the second floor of a building while telephoning the report.

The engineer quickly stopped the train and went to the assistance of the victims. No doctor was available on the train nor at stations along the line, so members of the train crew placed them on the train and, under Conductor Clement, improvised splints and rendered first aid till Montreal was reached.

Hospital authorities, who reported that Pauline Fox was in a critical condition, were informed that the family were returning to their home in Orleans, following an afternoon's outing, when the accident happened.

The political campaign, locally and in the Townships, was marked by numerous meetings over the week-end and much quiet work. Yesterday, addresses were made at many places following Mass.

READY FOR VOTE IN STANSTEAD COUNTY

STANSTEAD, Sept. 13. (Special)—The Stanstead election campaign, though starting late, has developed into a warm contest in these regions.

Meetings have been held at many places by both candidates and their supporters.

The returning officer, Mr. P. L. Baldwin, of Coaticook, has announced his deputies and ballot boxes are being sent out today.

Polls open tomorrow at 8 o'clock standard time. This is one of the counties where two sets of time prevail. Here at Stanstead, for instance, summer time is followed, which of course means the opening of the vote at 9 a.m.

WILL RURAL VOTE BE SMALLER THAN USUAL

COWANSVILLE, Sept. 13. (Special)—Last guns are being fired in the election campaign here today. Both candidates, Mr. Kay and Dr. Pichel, have been working hard but the area of the united counties is great.

Most of the territory is on standard time, with polls open from 8 a.m. till 6 p.m.

Many anticipate that the vote will be somewhat smaller than a year ago.

SHEFFORD FIGHT; GRANBY READY TO CELEBRATE

GRANBY, Sept. 13. (Special)—Mayor Boivin, the Liberal candidate, has had the most strenuous time of his life since becoming candidate and is reported to have acquired a liking for the hustings.

His opponent, Mr. Gauthier, of St. Hyacinthe, is an old campaigner and delights in an election fight.

So everybody is happy. Granby, of course, expects to see its mayor elected and a big celebration will no doubt follow if this belief is realized.

BOTHWELL, NICOL AND TOBIN SPOKE AT ANGUS

EAST ANGUS, Sept. 13. (Special)—A big political rally was held here, on Saturday evening, and addressed by Mr. J. A. Bothwell, Mr. E. W. Tobin and Hon. J. Nicol.

ITALIANS WHO LANDED ON DORI ARE ROUNDED UP

Immigration Authorities and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Took Charge of 102 Italians Yesterday—Are Being Held Awaiting Instructions from Ottawa.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 13.—A party of 102 Italians from the Island of Sicily, rounded up during the night and early this morning by immigration authorities and officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police after they had landed yesterday afternoon from the Italian steamer Dori at Mill Cove on St. Margaret's Bay, were brought to Halifax this morning by train and lodged in the immigration premises at Pier Two, there to remain under guard pending instructions from Ottawa. Shortly before the arrival of the band at the immigration shed while en route to the city THHTT six other Italians, who had been picked up on the St. Margaret's Bay road while en route to the city, were brought to Pier Two by police officers, making a total of 108.

While little accurate information can be secured as to the number of Italians who were on board the Dori, it is thought by officials that the number was around 150 and that those yet to be accounted for totalled about forty.

The Dori, it was understood this morning, was being escorted to Halifax by the Canadian government steamer Arcturion, which was despatched to St. Margaret's Bay during the night to prevent the Italian vessel's departure.

Meighen so as to avoid another election, and yet we have had two experiences of Mr. Meighen," said Mr. Robb. He contrasted the manner in which Mr. Meighen had got back into parliament after his personal defeat in 1921 with the manner in which Mr. King had come back to the House after his personal defeat in 1925, and held that it illustrated that Mr. King had more respect for British constitutional customs. Mr. Robb declared that it had been the Liberal party which had taken four different railway systems, and formed them together securing the services of Sir Henry Thornton, with the result of last year there had been an operating surplus of $30,000,000, and this year the expectation of Sir Henry Thornton was that the surplus would be $45,000,000. He dealt also with the matter of the change as regards the balance of trade.

Mr. Meighen said that the Conservative press was apt to point out that eighty-two countries of the world had raised their tariff walls, and therefore that Canada was out of step, yet since that had happened Canada was selling more goods to the eighty-two countries in question than before, the balance of trade having gone to $386,000,000 as regards those countries.

Mr. Robb spoke of the reductions he had been able to make in sales taxes, and prophesied that if the

THE INK MAKER

Some people seem to like to shroud their movements underneath a cloud.

—Grawing the Gull.

Reddy Fox had been so interested in watching the queer fellow who swam backward and whose feet grew out from his head, for that is what those long moving feelers really were, that he had quite forgotten the pool that he suddenly turned all black when he rolled a stone into it. He was reminded of it now by something that happened. Unnoticed by Reddy, Graywing had picked up a stone. He flew up until he was exactly over that queer fellow in the water. Then he let the stone drop. The water splashed up right in Reddy's face and startled him so that he turned tail and raced away.

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed Graywing. Reddy stopped short and looked back. He didn't know yet what had happened, but he was sure that Graywing had played a joke on him somehow. Reddy is just like you—he doesn't like to have jokes played on him. It made him cross. He had opened his mouth to say something sharp and unpleasant, when he happened to glance at the water. He didn't say a word. He forgot that he was going to say something sharp and unpleasant. The water was turning black right where Reddy had seen that queer fellow. Reddy looked up at Graywing and then down at the water. Slowly, he was very suspicious, he crept back to the edge of the water. It was just like the water that had so puzzled him in the little pool into which he had rolled a stone a short time before.

Now, if Reddy had been real smart and had really done a little thinking, he might have suspected that the blackness of that water had something to do with that queer fellow he had been watching. There had been one of those queer fellows in that pool which had turned black, and there was one here hidden somewhere beneath this blackness. But Reddy didn't think of this. He couldn't think of anything but the mystery of that black cloud in the water. He even forgot that he didn't know what made the splash that frightened him. "Where does that come from?" he demanded, looking up at Graywing.

"Where does what come from?" inquired Graywing, pretending that he didn't understand.

"That black water," said Reddy. "Oh, that comes from the ink maker. Didn't you know that?" inquired Graywing.

"The ink maker? Who is the ink maker?" asked Reddy, looking very much puzzled.

"You ought to know him by this time," said Graywing.

"Why ought I to know him?" demanded Reddy rather sharply.

"Because you've been looking at him long enough to know him," retorted Graywing.

Reddy stared all about in the most puzzled way. "I don't see any ink maker," said he.

"Of course you don't," retorted Graywing. "He's hidden under his own ink."

Then Reddy suspected the truth. "Do-do-do you mean to say that that queer fellow who swims backward made the water turn black?" he inquired.

"I'm glad you asked up," chuckled Graywing. "That is exactly what I mean. He is

COLLEGE PREACHED TWO POWERFUL SERMONS

Rev. Principal A. D. MacKenzie, M.A., B.D., of Stanstead College, won for himself a large and an enduring place in the estimation of the two large audiences which gathered yesterday in Trinity Church by the two powerful sermons preached by him in connection with the reopening services of that church. Rev. Principal MacKenzie based his remarks in the morning on Psalm 96, preaching a most appropriate sermon for a church reopening. His insistence upon "strength" "beauty" as belonging first to the being of God, and then desirable in places where men sought to worship God, and in that final sanctuary, the human heart, will not soon be forgotten by his hearers. The evening message of Rev. Principal MacKenzie dealt with the Christian religion as supplying the needs of men whatever the contrasting circumstances of their lives might be. It had its wheat-belt for the supply of life's necessary sustenance, and it also could draw honey from the rock.

The musical features of the day's services were very striking, the choir rendering effectively appropriate anthems both morning and evening, in addition to a solo by Mrs. F. H. Bradley in the morning, and one by Miss Willard in the evening.

The evening congregation was a united one, Plymouth Church having cancelled its service in order that its people might worship with the people of Trinity Church.

The Sunday School, for its reopening at 2.30 o'clock yesterday, held an open session, which was largely attended, and at which Rev. Principal MacKenzie gave a very interesting address to the scholars.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE FALL OF QUEBEC

One hundred and sixty-seven years ago today occurred the fall of the City of Quebec, an event which proved to be one of the most important events in the history of Canada. By this fall, the French regime in Canada came to an end, and the country passed under English rule, which it has since and is still enjoying.

War, which always claims its toll, made no exception in this case, and brave men on both the English and French sides laid down their lives for their countries. Among those who gave their lives were the brave and gallant Generals Wolfe and Montcalm, the leaders of the two armies.

The story of the capture of Quebec is an interesting one. James Wolfe, who was at that time in his thirty-third year, had distinguished himself in 1757 on the coast of France, and had won the approval of Pitt, who picked him out for promotion.

On June 26th the English fleet cast anchor off the Island of Orleans. The task of the young general was a difficult one. Though he had with him the flower of the British army, there were not more than 9,000 men, while against him Montcalm had an army of 14,000 trained men.

Behind his ramparts Montcalm sat secure and nothing could lure him out. Wolfe established camps on the Island of Orleans, on Point Levis, on the opposite bank of Montmorency.

After several unsuccessful attempts to make Montcalm come out of his stronghold, on the night of September 12th Wolfe worked out a plan of landing above the city. He made his attempt at the Anse du Foulon, known ever since as Wolfe's Cove, where a steep path leads up to the city. Up the hill in the darkness went the troops and were drawn up on the Plains of Abraham.

Montcalm had not been idle, and had brought his troops across the St. Charles and pushed on an attack which cost the British heavily. The English stood silent until the French were within forty yards and then poured in a succession of volleys which swept the French away. Montcalm, trying to rally the fugitives, was shot. Wolfe had already fallen, shot through the breast, although he lived till his dying ear was brought the news of victory. In the night he died and was buried in a hole dug by a burning English shell in the chapel of the Ursuline Convent.

Quebec had not yet fallen. During the winter the English garrison, under the command of Murray, suffered terribly. When the spring came De Levis, who had wintered at Montreal, came down to strike a last blow for France. On April 28th, Murray marched out 3,000, against the French army of 7,000 and won.

On May 25th groups of English on the ramparts and of French along the river's bank watched a frigate came slowly up the river. On her nationality depended the fate of Canada. Should she be French, no earthly power could save Murray.

AGED MAN MEETS
STRANGERS AND LOSES MONEY

While on His Way Here, Jean Drapeau, of St. Evariste, Made Acquaintance of Two Unknown Men, Which Cost Him $140.

Making the acquaintance of strange men on a train and telling them all about himself, where he was going and how much money he had on his person, cost Jean Drapeau, an elderly man of St. Evariste, one hundred and forty dollars on Saturday.

The old gentleman was coming to Sherbrooke, and while on the train made the acquaintance of two unknown men. The three men sat together and talked freely, and before long Drapeau had been reached. Drapeau had told the men who he was, where he had come from and where he was going to, as well as mentioning how much money he had with him.

When the train pulled into the Sherbrooke depot, the three began to get ready to get off, and when the train had stopped they left the car together. As he was going out of the car door, Drapeau felt somebody push against him, but paid little or no attention to the incident. When he went to get some money after leaving the train, however, he found that he had been deprived of all his money.

It is believed that the men in question were pickpockets returning from the Quebec Exhibition.

from defeat. At last a little ball ran up to her mast-head, hung for a moment and then broke out into the glorious white ensign, with the Union Jack of England and Scotland in the corner.

By the Peace of Paris on February 10th, 1763, France cleared out of North America. By this peace Great Britain took over the whole of North America, east of the Mississippi, except the city of New Orleans, which was ceded by France to Spain. From the Gulf of Mexico to the shore of Rupert's Land, the Union Jack was supreme.

OLD MAN IS
ROAD ACCIDENT

Mr. Sanborn, of Fairfax, Nearly 82 Years of Age, Suffers Fracture of Hip.

A very unfortunate accident occurred a few days ago at the junction of the Sherbrooke-Stanstead Highway and the Ayer's Cliff road.

Mr. "Mid" Sanborn, an old man about 82 years of age, was driving from Ayer's Cliff to his home in Fairfax. When crossing the government road, his wagon was struck by a car coming down the hill. The old man was thrown out and suffered a fracture of the hip. Dr. Brown was called and the old gentleman has been taken to the Sherbrooke General Hospital.

The automobile was owned by Mrs. Stewart, of Beebe. Every effort seems to have been made to stop the car but it struck the wagon with sufficient force to overturn it.

AT HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE

"The Sporting Lover", featuring Conway Tearle and Barbara Bedford, will be the special attraction at His Majesty's Theatre today. The plot of this picture is centered around the famous English Derby, while there is also a touch of war about the picture.

On Wednesday one of the treats of the year for Sherbrooke theatre-goers is expected at His Majesty's when George White's Scandals, of New York, will make their appearance. The cast in this production numbers one hundred, and the stage effects and costumes are said to be of the highest order. The comedy scenes in this sixth edition are by William K. Wells and George White; Bud de Sylva and Ballard MacDonald are responsible for the lyrics and the musical score is from the pen of George Gershwin. The company also carries its own large orchestra. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday, His Majesty's Theatre will offer Johnny Hines in his latest picture, the "Brown Derby".

AT THE PREMIER THEATRE
Elinor Glyn's production, "The Only Thing", will head the Premier Theatre programme today, tomorrow and Wednesday. Eleanor Boardman and Conrad Nagel are featured in this picture.

A LARGE BEAR
WAS WOUNDED
NEAR BARNSTON

Shot by Hunters But Escaped—Men Thought They Were Going to Be Attacked and Went for Help.

Considerable excitement prevailed in the vicinity of Barnston Corners one day last week when it was reported that a large bear had been discovered and wounded in the woods between Barnston and Castook.

It appears that two men in the woods hunting came upon him. He was reaching up from a fence to gather cherries from a tree. A rifle shot was fired and with a tremendous roar the bear began to tear up the ground.

Having read stories that wounded bears often attacked their assailants, the two men decided to go for help.

When they returned they found the bear had departed. A trail of blood was followed for some distance but finally lost.

The bear is said to have been a very large one.

MEGANTIC COUNTY AND ITS PEOPLE

ARTICLE NO. 4.—(By Dugald M. McKillop)

"Oh, wad some power the giftie gie us,
To see oursel's as others see us."

In No. 3, of this series we had an account of just how Megantic of today impressed one interested Scotsman. We all think we know what we look like, and what our town represents to the world, but none the less may be glad to read what a sympathetic globe-trotter has to say about a land foreign to him: Dr. Currie was interesting if not quite accurate in some of his statements, but though he spoke plainly he gave no offense so far as I have heard.

Now, it may seem strange to some of us descendants of people who crossed the seas about a century ago that the leaving of the Arran bands in 1829 is kept well in mind in Scotland today, and in the Androssan and Saltcoats Herald—the newspaper that published Dr. Currie's address—we find under date no longer ago than July 23, 1926, an article on "The Homes of Our Fathers," by James Nicol, author of "Arran Sketches" in which in somewhat lurid style, wherein some fiction may be deftly mixed with fact, he takes up the same theme.

Before giving the story of Dr. Nicol, we quote the following editorial from the Scotch paper referred to:

Professor Currie's interesting address at the Arran Reunion revives memories of tales one heard of the times when the Sannox Exodus was the central event of many happenings before and after, and the writer remembers hearing from the lips of a Brodick man, who witnessed the exiles passing through the old village of Brodick on their way to embark on the "Caledonia" in Lamlash Bay, that the procession of elderly men, and of women, and children, was the most moving and pathetic sight that was ever seen or known to pass their doors, and left an impression that was never effaced from his memory. From the family of another old man, who, with his father, witnessed their departure from Lamlash, the writer also heard that it was a very emotional affair, and left a deep impression on his memory too. These were the days when hardships were not easily overcome, and had to be endured. The names New Brunswick and Bay of Chaleur were too familiar to the liking of the people of that time.

The article by Dr. Nicol is chapter XV in a series, and I feel that at least the bulk of this article would be fitting here. Of course the Island of Arran has been written up in many sketches and books, and they are still coming from the press, but the following will at once give a picture of the Isle, and at the same time refer to the events of 1829 in a most interesting way. J. C. Inglis, the Arran gentleman who sent me the article seems to consider that there are many unwarranted assumptions in the article, but the reader may like to read the piece as written and make his own comments. So here is Mr. Nicol's chapter in "The Homes of Our Fathers, A Romance of Realities".

Traveling by the new road to Lamlash, at that period of time only some few years formed, the Sannox families bade adieu to their kindly Inverclyde entertainers. The afternoon had now set in, and as they slowly climbed out of the green hollow of Lag-an-Bheithie, the sun was lighting the spring hillsides with a glorious April gladness. The tender foliage of the birches was just beginning to break into cascades of trembling splendor, and here and there on the brown, heather-covered surface of torr, crone, and lagan the curling shoots of the young bracken (not nearly so prolific then as it is now, alas!) were unfolding their saucy fronds in riotous happiness.

At the top of the hill-road the company rested and feasted their eyes (for the first time with most of the young people, and the last time with all) on the most magical view of mountain, glen, islet, and land-locked ocean that the bounteous earth possesses for man's children to enjoy. To the north, whence they had come and where their long-ling sight was immediately turned, the wonderful chain of peaks, with Ben-Goath, the mountain of the wind (or Goatfell as it is commonly named) in the foreground, seemed to be ramparts of a wide, far-stretching world. Such a lofty wall must be the beginning of a vast continent, and not alone a small island erection reared in the billow-crests of Creation out of the builder's spalls to charm a smallish race.

that will make harvest time and the Holy Isle abide in the memory forevermore.

The young children were much impressed as they looked down into the quiet loch. Many of them had never been out of the shut-in-glen of their birth before, and this striking scene opening up so immediately close before their eyes filled them with awe.

Malcolm Archibald McKillop's second youngest son, wanted to know if you was Canada that lay across the water, and quite a babble of talk began with the children as they thrashed out the matter between them.

Alas! it was still a far cry to the St. Lawrence and the new world of their thoughts, and many a one amongst that devoted band of emigrants heaved a sad, sad sigh as they thought on the dangers before them. From where they rested, the vessel they were to join was not visible, but Archibald McKillop knew that she had arrived in the loch early in the day, and was now at anchor close in shore below the clachan inn.

"We must be goin'," he said, rising to his feet, and leading the way down the green valley of Blairmore. "The tide waits for no man, and we may be sure that Captain Millar wants us all aboard, so as to get sailing with the morning flood. Come away, my friends; the mountain of Arran must be left behind."

D. M. McKillop.

Does Meighen Deserve Another Chance

Judged on his record, all “NO”
true Canadians must answer

TOMORROW the electors of Canada will be asked to decide whether or not the Meighen-Patenaude combination will be given another chance to direct the destinies of this Country, or whether the Liberal Government will be permitted to resume the good work which they started in 1921.

Tomorrow a crisis in the history of this Country will be decided. All true Canadians should think well before casting their votes.

For some weeks now Meighen, Patenaude and their followers have been pleading for your support, claiming to deserve it on the strength of the many promises—and promises only—of what they will do for you in the future, but do not forget this that before 1921 Mr. Meighen had the opportunity of doing all the things which he is promising you today, but what did he do?

The Government of which he was the head plunged Canada into enormous debts—squandered the revenues of this Country—mismanaged the National Railways, piling up deficit after deficit—crippled the industries of this Country to such an extent that even some of his supporters were freely predicting financial ruin, yet today, surrounded by many of the same men who counselled him and advised him when last in power, he comes to you asking for another chance.

And furthermore, he offers you the same promises as has been his custom in any election. He claims the Country needs a higher tariff, and that he will revise the tariff along these lines—to what extent no one knows as he will not say—in the East he states a higher and higher tariff—in the West he does not believe in too high a tariff, but a reasonably protective one, yet while he was in power Mr. Meighen, did not change the tariff to any appreciable extent.

Consider his record well and compare it with the record of the King Government which came into power when the finance condition of this Country was in a most appalling state and during their term of office—

Brought back prosperity.
Brought the Canadian dollar back to par.
Reduced taxation.
Reduced the National Debt.
Placed our National Railways on a paying basis.
Increased Savings banks Deposits.

Increased employment.
Opened new markets and developed trade.
Renewed manufacturing activity.
Restored Canadian confidence and Canadian unity.

And all to an extent unequalled by any previous administration.

Consider carefully the record of the Liberal administration—compare this with the record of Mr. Meighen, and then decide whether Mr. Meighen should be given another chance. In the face of such facts Mr. Meighen is asking for something to which he is not entitled, and which the Canadian people will not give him.

Can Mr. Meighen Practice What He Preaches

During the present election campaign Mr. Meighen has preached far and near the need of clean administration in public affairs, and in his efforts to besmirch the Government of Mackenzie King with the stigma of corruption has countenanced the use of false and vile insinuations directed at the character of clean men in our public life, but can Mr. Meighen be trusted to give this Country clean government.

Few if any electors will have forgotten:—

The Ross Rifle scandal.
The scandal of the Mackenzie and Mann Railroad purchase.
The patriotic potato scandal.
The scandal of card-board shoes for soldiers
The scandal in the purchase of service horses, involving a Conservative member.
The scandal of profiteering on surgical dressings for the army.

And further

A minister of the Meighen Cabinet is a lawyer indicted and condemned for refusing to acknowledge or pay his debts.

Another lawyer who was at one time barred from his profession because of professional misconduct, is now a close counsellor of Mr. Meighen and candidate in this election.

The senior partner of a firm which has been convicted of transporting smuggled goods is now a Minister in Mr. Meighen's Cabinet.

These men, and many others of like calibre are today asking the support of Canadian electors in the interests of the Conservative Party, and with the endorsement of Mr. Meighen.

Is it on the advice and counsel of such men as these that Mr. Meighen expects to render a clean administration to this country? In the face of this can Mr. Meighen be trusted to render a clean administration? The electors of Canada will scarcely be able to accept with confidence that he can practise what he preaches.

VOTE FOR THE LIBERAL PARTY

MARRIAGES

STOCKWELL-PRINGLE
SCOTSTOWN, Que., Sept. 13.—A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening, September 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Pringle, of Lebanon, N.H., when their daughter, Hildred Nellie, was united in marriage to Wallace Edwin Stockwell, of West Lebanon.

Rev. H. H. White of the Baptist Church performed the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the bride and groom. The ceremony took place under a handsome arch of evergreens and pink and white flowers, with a large white bell. The entire house was decorated with a profusion of pink and white flowers.

The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Phyllis McClinck, of Bury. The bride was attired in a white satin gown with georgette sleeves and pearl trimming. Her long flowing veil was becomingly arranged in cap effect with bandeau of orange blossoms and carried pink roses and ferns. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Theresa Pringle, who was groomed in pink georgette with silver trimming and wore a black picture hat with pink roses. She carried a bouquet of pink and white asters.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harland Stockwell, of Boston, Mass.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held with Mr. and Mrs. Stockwell, their attendants and immediate members of the family receiving. A buffet supper was served and a four-tier wedding cake occupied the place of prominence in the centre of the dining room, which was decorated with pink and pastel streamers.

The bride's mother, Mrs. R. A. Pringle wore a gown of pencil blue flat crepe with corsage bouquet of white asters. The groom's mother was in a blue and black printed crepe dress with black trimming. Miss Violet Pringle wore a pearl-grey canton crepe dress with rosebud trimming. Mrs. Harold Odell, sister of the groom was in a pansy brocade canton crepe dress.

Going away, the bride wore a flag blue flat crepe dress with tan point collar with side pleats and small hat to match.

The happy couple left for a motor trip to Ottawa, Quebec, Montreal and other points in Canada amid a shower of confetti. On their return they will reside in West Lebanon, where Mr. Stockwell is overseer of the Highway Department.

The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful including silver, drapery, electric utensils, and checks.

White's opponent in the club final was P. M. Robins, one of the club's consistent performers. ## Back Home Again—Will You KEEP Your Summer Vitality?

WHEN you were away on vacation this summer you obeyed Nature's laws almost to the letter. You enjoyed plenty of sunshine, outdoor air and exercise. You ate Nature's simple, healthful foods. Consequently your vitality was high. You had an abundance of energy to enjoy life.

Why not keep on treating your body in the right way—eating the right foods? At breakfast, possibly the most important meal in your day, why not eat food which supplies those certain elements of nutrition to give your body energy, vitality, healthful bones and tissues?

And it's not a difficult task to do this, for a food expert has saved you all the trouble of selecting foods which will give you the proper elements in the right proportions, by creating for you the delicious health food—Grape-Nuts.

Grape-Nuts—made from whole wheat and malted barley—gives your body these five essential, nutritive elements: Dextrin, maltose and other carbohydrates for energy; iron for the blood; phosphorus for bones and teeth; protein for muscle and body-building; and the essential vitamin-B. Grape-Nuts is indeed an exceptionally well balanced food.

And this nourishment is in a form your body can readily take up—due to special milling and baking.

Delicious taste, digestibility, high food value—and one more fine quality, still, to the credit of Grape-Nuts! Crispness. A delightful crispness which makes you enjoy chewing—makes you enjoy giving your teeth and gums the healthful exercise that dentists say is so necessary!

Have Grape-Nuts to-morrow. Your grocer has it in wax-wrapped packages. And it's ready to eat from the package—with milk or cream. Very economical to serve—each helping—four teaspoonsful—costs less than one cent.

If you would like to try Grape-Nuts free for two days, before you buy a package, accept the offer below.

THE METROPOLIS

It is not so long ago that a trip from Sherbrooke to Montreal was made only when absolutely necessary. Now, due to the splendid railway service given by Canadian National Railways, a trip to the Metropolis seems but a pleasant jaunt. It has brought the two cities much closer together, both socially and in business. It has made the theatres and other attractions of Montreal available to the people of Sherbrooke and made Montrealeers more familiar with the many advantages of Sherbrooke. The cities are now neighbors.

Canadian National trains between these points are most comfortably appointed and leave Sherbrooke at hours most convenient for business and social appointments. Ask any Canadian National Agent for complete information or apply City Ticket Office, 23 Wellington Street North, Phone 33.

The balance of the authorized bonds may be issued in such currencies and series and may be payable in such places, mature on such dates, not earlier than September 1, 1946, bear such rates of interest and carry such sinking fund, conversion and redemption provisions as the Directors may determine at the time of issue; such additional bonds may be issued to refund the outstanding prior lien bonds, due 1935, or bonds issued under this mortgage par for par, or against 66 2/3% of the cost or fair value, whichever is less, of additional properties pledged or charged with the Trustee, provided in the latter case that net earnings for the two preceding years have been at least two and one-half times the interest on all bonds outstanding and those proposed to be issued; of the unissued bonds, $5,000,000 may only be issued with the consent of the Preferred shareholders; all as will be more fully defined and set out in the Trust Deed securing this issue.

From a letter of Mr. F. N. McCrea, President of Company, we summarize as follows:—

COMPANY AND ITS PROPERTIES—The Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited, owns and operates plants at East Angus, Quebec, producing newsprint, boxboard, kraft, manilla and fibre paper and groundwood pulp, together with water powers on the St. Francis River capable of developing approximately 15,000 h.p., and at Bromptonville, Quebec, a plant producing groundwood pulp, to which is being added a newsprint mill with a capacity of 110 tons per day, which it is expected will be completed by December 1, 1926. The Company will then have a total capacity in its Canadian plants of 225 tons of newsprint, 55 tons of boxboard, and 25 tons of kraft, manilla and fibre paper per day. It also owns subsidiary companies operating in New Hampshire, close to the Canadian border, which have a capacity of 70 tons of kraft paper and 85 tons of fine bond and other paper per day.

The Company and its subsidiaries own 282,102 acres of freehold lands and 637,757 acres of Crown timber leases. These areas are estimated to contain over 5,930,000 cords of pulpwood, sufficient to assure at least fifty years' supply on the present basis of operation.

The Company has practically the exclusive use for logging purposes of the St. Francis River, from the location of the Company's mill to its headwaters. This greatly facilitates logging operations and transporting timber cut by the Company or purchased from settlers.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE—The proceeds of this issue will be used to redeem $2,345,600 Bonds of the Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited, of which part bear 8% interest; to reimburse the Company for capital expenditures recently made; and to furnish additional capital to complete the installation of the new newsprint machine at Bromptonville.

SECURITY—These bonds will be secured by a specific charge on all the real and immovable property of the Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited, and a floating charge on all other assets now owned or hereafter acquired. They will be a first specific charge on certain of the properties and assets, including stocks of subsidiary companies, and on the remainder of the Companies' properties the bonds will be a specific charge, subject to a prior charge in favor of the Consolidated 6% bonds, due 1935, of which there are outstanding $817,000 under a closed mortgage; all as will be set out more fully in the Trust Deed securing this issue.

SINKING FUND—The Trust Deed will provide an annual Sinking Fund for the Series "A" bonds sufficient to redeem the whole issue by maturity, the first payment to be made September 1, 1927.

SUBSIDIARIES—The Company controls three subsidiary companies through ownership of their entire common stocks. Through these the Company carries on the manufacture of sulphite pulp, bond and wrapping papers in the State of New Hampshire, U.S.A., and controls timber limits in the Province of Quebec. These companies furnish valuable outlets for the products of the Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited.

According to independent valuations, the assets of these subsidiary companies substantially exceed their liabilities. Of the securities of these subsidiary companies, $905,000 bonds of the McCrea-Wilson Lumber Company, Limited, are guaranteed by the Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited. These are secured by timber limits recently purchased, independently valued at $2,060,000 and from which the Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited, is now supplying part of its timber requirements. In addition to the above, $345,000 of banking advances to the same company are guaranteed.

ASSETS—The Fixed Assets of the Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited, exclusive of subsidiaries, as shown by the balance sheet as of June 30, 1926, certified by Messrs. George A. Touche & Company, chartered accountants, after allowance for depreciation and making provision for the estimated cost of construction of the new paper mill at Bromptonville, amounted to $11,574,826, and have been independently valued at $14,325,000. The Net Current Assets of the Company (exclusive of investments, after giving effect to the present financing, and allowing for the estimated cost of the new paper mill) certified by Messrs. George A. Touche & Company, amounted to $2,515,465, thus showing a total book value of $14,090,292. The appraised value of the fixed assets, together with the net liquid assets, show a total value of $16,840,465, against which there will be outstanding $817,000 of prior lien bonds due 1935 and the present issue of $4,183,000 First and Refunding Bonds. The total appraised value of the fixed assets of the Company and its subsidiaries, together with their net liquid assets, after deducting the prior lien bonds outstanding, and all the securities of subsidiary companies in the hands of the public amounts to $21,073,744.

EARNINGS—Based on the net earnings of the Brompton Pulp & Paper Company, Limited, exclusive of subsidiaries, certified by Messrs. George A. Touche & Company, chartered accountants, after deducting all operating expenses, depletion and interest on the $817,000 6% bonds due 1935, the amount available for interest on these bonds, income tax and depreciation, has been as follows:

Average annual net earnings for 4 years and 8 months ending June 30, 1926.....$1,164,562
Net earnings for the year ending December 31, 1925.....$1,047,762
Net earnings for the 6 months ending June 30, 1926.....$ 666,345
Annual interest charges on this present issue.....$ 250,980

The above figures do not take into account earnings from the new newsprint mill now being erected or economies expected from recent capital expenditure. It is conservatively estimated that annual earnings of the Company will be increased by at least $250,000 from these additions.

PRICE: 99 3/4 and interest, yielding over 6%.

These bonds are offered for sale, when, as and if issued and received by us, and subject to approval of all legal details by our Counsel.

ST. LOUIS' LEAD
SHOVED DOWN TO SINGLE GAME

Cincinnati and Pittsburgh Both
Chalked Up Two Victories in National League Race Yesterday.

(Associated Press Despatch,
NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The St. Louis Cardinals found their grip on the National League crest shaken to a single game and confronted, not only with a Cincinnati menace, but also a formidable challenge thrust by the world champions, who refuse to be counted out of the running.

While the blue laws of the Bay State forced idleness on the Cards yesterday, Cincinnati turned out a double triumph over Brooklyn by 5 to 0 and 4 to 3 and crept to within a full game of the peak. The Reds now have the same number of games to play as the Red—thirteen, and if Jack Hendricks' team wins the lot, St. Louis must do likewise to become champions.

Pete Donohue eased the Robins down with three hits in the shut-out, while his mates gathered thirteen from the offerings of the speed balling, Dazzy Vance. Hargrave's home run spoiled the day for Brooklyn in the closing battle, when it came with one on base in the eighth, producing the tying and winning runs. With only one out in the ninth and two on the sacks, Donohue was rushed into the box to relieve Luque and retired two batters to end the game. About thirty thousand fans were in attendance at Brooklyn, including Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis and President John A. Heydler, of the National League.

The Pirates repulsed the Giants twice at the Polo Grounds before forty thousand onlookers, 5 to 1 and 7 to 1. The victories advanced the Corsairs to within two and a half games of the Cards and one and one-half contests from Cincinnati.

Vic Aldridge beat Fred Fitzsimmons in what started out as a pitching duel in the opener. Les Meadows yielded but five hits in the second contest, while Greenfield distributed thirteen.

Pual Waner was the big noise of the Buccaneers, hitting out two homers, one in each game, and was credited with three other hits, for a total of fourteen bases.

Cleveland gained half a game on the Yanks by swamping the Senators 14 to 4. Speaker and Burns both connecting safely in four times at the plate. As a rainstorm, hail and snow combined to keep the New Yorkers idle at Detroit, the Indians out to the Yanks' lead to seven games.

The Red Sox split a doubleheader at St. Louis, annexing the opener by 11 to 0, and dropping the closing engagement by 1 to 0. Milton Gaston allowing but two hits in the shut-out.

Rain washed out the contest between the Athletics and the White Sox.

GOOD SOCCER
WAS WITNESSED
AT WEEK-END

Quebec Central Won First Round of I.O.D.E. Shield Contest
from Elesco by 1 to 0—Game
Clean and Fast—Magog and Beebe Play 1 to 1 Tie in First Round of Prinn Cup.

Two excellent games of soccer were witnessed on Saturday afternoon when Quebec Central, playing at the Parade grounds, won the first round of the I.O.D.E. Shield contest from Elesco by a score of one to nothing, and Beebe, playing on their home field, battled to a one to one tie with the visiting Magog eleven in the first round of the Prinn Cup series. The Quebec Central-Elesco game was a fast, clean game, with Quebec Central showing a slight edge over their opponents. The first period was scoreless. In the second period Hammond succeeded in putting his team ahead by heading the ball into the Elesco nets.

A good brand of soccer was seen in the Beebe-Magog match. Stewart and Brown, net guardians for Beebe and Magog, respectively, put up their best games of the year.

Quebec Central Win First Round of I. O. D. E. Shield Contest.

The Q.C.R.-Elesco game opened with the former making a rush for the Elesco nets. A scramble resulting from this maneuver, Elesco soon rallied, however, and McGinty was called upon to stop hard shots from Rice, Rudd and Davidson. The Quebec Central boys again broke away and invaded Elesco territory and Loughheed had a busy time blocking shots from Twyman, Loach and Jackson. He was unable to clear his nets after this bombardment, giving Joiner and Wootton a chance to get in some hard shots which he stopped by good work. With the aid of a goal kick, Elesco worked their way down the field, Miller forcing McGinty to save a hard cross shot. Quebec Central had the edge on the Elesco boys, however, and once more approached the Elesco goal area. A mix up in front of the Elesco looked promising to Quebec Central, but good work by the Elesco back line kept them from scoring. Grime cleared and made a rush down the field, but lost the ball to Wootton. Wootton worked his way to a good position and passed to Joiner, who tested Loughheed with a wicked shot. By pretty combination work, Elesco reached the Quebec Central goal area. A scramble in front of the Quebec Central goal resulted. Miller passed to Davidson, who headed the ball. McGinty saved by catching the ball and laying on it until he was able to carry the ball outside the goal limits. The first period ended with both teams trying hard to break with the score sheet.

The opening of the second period found Quebec Central around the Elesco nets. The play ranged up and down the field, neither side being able to pierce their opponents' defense. It was Quebec Central who got the first break and swarmed around the Elesco nets. Hammond headed the ball. Grime attempted to stop the shot by heading, but the ball glanced into the nets for the Railroaders' first goal. Elesco tried to even up the score, Bennett sending a hard shot that gave McGinty some trouble in stopping. Elesco at this stage pressed hard and McGinty was called upon to save shots from Miller and Boness. Both teams tired under the fast pace and the game slowed up considerably. Elesco tried hard to put in the equalizing goal, Rice sending in a long shot that McGinty scooped up. The final whistle blew with Elesco prevailing hard to overcome the one to nothing lead of the Quebec Central boys.

Beebe and Magog Play Tie Game.
Playing at Beebe, the Magog football team battled to a one to one tie in the opening game of the Prinn Cup contest. Both forward lines played a good class of soccer. Hall was the bright star of the visiting team, while Benson and Frew shared honors for the home team.

two miles yesterday in nine minutes, one and two fifths seconds, Emil Wide, of Sweden, not only settled old scores with Paavo Nurmi of Finland, and outdistanced him by a score of more yards, but established a new world record.

Nurmi, too, out-did himself, also beating the previous world record by covering the distance in nine minutes and five seconds.

(The previous world's record for two miles was made by the British champion, A. Shrubbs, in 1904, 9 minutes, 3 3/5 seconds.)

There were five men in the race. Nurmi went to the front and held that position up to about three hundred yards from home. It was then that Wide by a spurt overtook Nurmi, who was unable to keep up the pace, and the Swedish champion fairly ran away from him at the end.

JOHN G. WATSON
JOINS DOMINION
LIFE COMPANY

Accepts Position as Eastern
Townships Branch Manager—
Has Had Successful Career in Insurance Field.

Mr. John G. Watson, well known insurance man of this city, according to announcement in this issue, has accepted the position of Eastern Townships Branch manager for the Dominion Life Assurance Company.

Mr. Watson began his active insurance career in Sherbrooke in March, 1919, when he became district manager of the Canada Life. During six years he continued in this position and built up an extensive business for the company in the townships. Energetic application to his task, executive ability and a consistent advertising campaign in the Record placed the Canada Life "on the map" so to speak in the townships.

Last spring, Mr. Watson retired from this position and together with Major H. G. Porter, organized the general insurance firm of Watson and Porter. General lines of insurance have been carried on with success by the new firm.

The life insurance field, however, appeals strongly to Mr. Watson and, when the Dominion Life laid an attractive proposition before him to accept the position of Eastern Townships Branch Manager, he accepted.

This will not affect the firm of Watson and Porter excepting that Mr. Watson will devote himself to the "Life" end of the business while Mr. Porter will apply himself to the "Fire" end. Mr. Watson has already assumed his new duties and expects to build up an efficient organization.

Mr. Watson's brother, Mr. Lee M. Watson, for some years with J. S. Mitchell and Co., has joined the local staff of the Dominion Life.

The Dominion Life Assurance Company, which has its head office at Waterloo, Ont., is one of the outstanding companies in Canada. The 1925 report shows $81,680,000 assets, and 1,045,000 policy holders.

DEMPSEY TO END
WORK BEHIND
CLOSED DOORS

Champion Yesterday Convinced
Expert Observers that He Is Rapidly Getting on Edge.

(Associated Press Despatch)
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 13.

Jack Dempsey, following the precedent established by Georges Carpentier, will finish the remainder of his training campaign in secret, the public being barred starting Wednesday.

After Saturday next the training sessions will be strictly private, with even the newspaper correspondents barred, Dempsey, explaining his decision to train in secret, said he desired to work out as he pleased, when he pleased and how he pleased.

In his five savage rounds of boxing yesterday the champion convinced expert observers that he rapidly is getting on edge. He revealed his true fighting form by all but knocking out Tommy Loughran, the Philadelphia light-heavyweight, who only Saturday made Dempsey appear awkwardly clumsy and at times like a novice.

The champion, evidently smarting under the criticism of his showing Saturday ripped into Loughran for two rounds Sunday afternoon, driving him around the ring under an avalanche of wicked punches.

708,578.67. From interest, rents, etc., there was received $754,258.89 giving a total cash income of $3,462,837.56—an increase of $415,616.38 over the corresponding income of 1924.

Policyholders and beneficiaries received $1,043,950.00 being $174,767.92 in excess of payments made to them in the previous year. The so called mortality ratio for the year was 35.5 p.c.
