Plane Explodes Over City

Detroit Houses Levelled

DETROIT (AP)—An RAF delta wing Vulcan bomber exploded over Detroit Friday and crashed into a river-front residential community, damaging some 30 homes.

Miraculously only two residents of the area were injured.

The crew of the plane, believed to be six men, perished.

Portions of their bodies were strewn among the rubble.

The plane exploded with a tremendous roar and smashed through tree tops as it disintegrated. Portions hit one house, glanced into another and went up in smoke.

The scene is two blocks from the fashionable Grosse Pointe park suburb northeast of the Detroit business district.

In London, an air ministry spokesman said the plane was on a routine training flight from Waddington, Lincolnshire, in central England, to Lincoln Air Force Base in Nebraska.

On board was a good will message from the mayor of Lincoln, England, to his counterpart in Nebraska.

Three homes were burned and blasted to the ground. A dozen more were set afire and 15 to 20 more damaged in varying degrees.

One blazing piece of wreckage plowed a furrow 50 feet long and up to 15 feet deep through a home.

Lennoxville Hit And Run Injures Man

Lennoxville police are looking for a hit-and-run driver today following an accident last night opposite the Roman Catholic school on Queen st.

Injured was Gaston Beaudoin, 33, of North Hatley. Lennoxville police said this morning he suffered a fractured hip.

Police are looking for a green truck in connection with the accident.

Beaudoin was found lying in a ditch about 10:00 p.m. last night, covered in mud. Police said he had been attending a lecture at the University of Sherbrooke and was believed to be on his way home when the accident occurred.

Disaster Strikes Below Ground And In The Air

By DAVID ROWNTREE

An earthquake-like bump sent a shock of fear through the people of Springhill in the Cobequid Hills of northwestern Nova Scotia.

The tremor signalled a tremendous rockfall to the 7,000 residents as it shook their homes up to a mile away from Cumberland pit No. 2, the deepest coal mine in North America.

The night shift of 172 men was trapped up to three miles below ground. The ventilating system was smashed, a survivor later reported, and pockets of deadly gas formed in the seams of soft coal.

Hundreds of townsfolk, with the memory of a similar cave-in two years ago that killed 39 miners in an adjoining pit, raced to the pithead. Throughout the night they stood silently in a cold drizzle while teams of draegermen—the volunteer rescue crews of the Nova Scotia coalfields—went into the mine to clear debris from the passageways and help their workmates to safety.

By daylight, fewer than half the men had reached the surface,

Short Conclave Expected

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A brief conclave and a new Italian pope of the Roman Catholic Church were generally predicted Friday night as 52 members of the college of cardinals prepared for the solemn election ritual.

But nobody could claim to have the answer in advance.

Talk of breaking the 400-year-old tradition of Italian popes gave rise to fresh rumors about the pre-eminence of Gregory Peter Cardinal Agagianian, patriarch of Cilicia of the Armenians, as the outstanding candidate.

But at the same time, other speculation centred about Angelo Cardinal Roncalli, well-liked patriarch of Venice, among several Italian cardinals.

STAY IN SESSION
The college of cardinals meets today and will stay in secret session until it names the man who will rule over the world's Roman Catholics.

Before the cardinals are summoned, they assemble Saturday morning in St. Peter's Basilica. Their grey-bearded dean, French-born Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, will celebrate the mass of the holy spirit. Msgr. Antonio Bacci, secretary of briefs to the pope, will deliver an oration exhorting the cardinals to give the church an "able pastor in the shortest possible time, unimpaired of any other considerations."

At 3 p.m. (11 a.m. EDT) the cardinals will be led by a master of ceremonies, carrying the papal cross, toward the conclave quarters.

The procession will wind slowly into the Sistine Chapel. Their contact with the outside will end. The prefect of ceremonies, Msgr. Enrico Dante, will intone the Latin word "extra omnes." It means all outsiders must leave.

OUTSIDERS WARNED
The great bell of St. Peter's tolls a warning for all outsiders to leave the conclave area. A group of cardinals must make a thorough search to "assure themselves that no person or spy lurks in hiding."

The search over, the cardinal chamberlain, Benedetto Aloisi Massella, locks the doors within, and the marshal of the conclave, Prince Sigismondo Chigi, locks the doors outside.

Any attempt to violate the rules will subject a violator to excommunication, the church's most severe punishment.

Inside the conclave area, the cardinals may communicate freely among themselves. Most of the first night will be spent in meditation. There is no voting until Sunday morning. The rules call for no more than four ballots daily, two in the morning and two in the afternoon.

The attorney-general said the sect has no evidence of this yet.

The federal government has deferred a decision to offer help to the Sons in their proposed move until they clarify their position.

FRENCH INVITATION

General Charles de Gaulle, with a mandate to end the four-year Algerian civil war, invited nationalist rebels to negotiate a cease-fire.

The only solution to the fighting is through elections, he said. After that, Algeria may evolve its own "personality" in association with France and possibly Morocco and Tunisia.

De Gaulle also announced plans for France to go ahead with plans for nuclear weapons tests.

STRIKE ENDS

Work resumed after a two-month halt at Davie Shipbuilding Limited in Lauzon, Que. The 2,000 members of the National Trades' Federation (CNTF) accepted a reduced work week and a wage increase amounting to 24 cents an hour over the next two years.

The Town That Won't Give Up

By DON HOYT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
If Springhill survives the latest in a series of tragedies, the credit will belong to its tough clannish people.

Since November, 1956, each year has brought the rugged coal-mining town in the Cobequid Hills of northwestern Nova Scotia face to face with despair.

Three times miners, their wives and children have met the task of rebuilding broken families and repairing a crushed economy.

Two years ago, less a week, the Cumberland No. 4 mine was ravaged by explosion, fire and gas. Thirty-nine miners were claimed by the coal seams which make Springhill a one-industry economy. But the mine rescue crews—whose courage is believable only to those who watch them enter the mines—saved 88.

COMEBACK SHORT-LIVED

Christmas last year was a happy one in Springhill. The memories of the 1956 disaster were fading. There was money in the miners' pockets and the No. 2 mine was working full blast.

On Boxing Day fire broke out. When the flames were controlled the business district was ruined. The damage was $1,500,000. For the second time in little more than a year the town vowed to fight back.

Mayor Ralph Gilroy, the 13th chief magistrate who voiced the faith of the people in their town in 1956, declared Springhill would rise from its ruins.

"We'll never say die," he promised reporters. "We'll carry on if only half Main Street is left."

Again Mayor Gilroy has been called on to fight back against a tragedy. This time it may overwhelm even his rugged optimism and the fierce determination of his 7,000 neighbors.

ANOTHER BLACK THURSDAY

On Thursday—the same day tragedy struck in 1956 and 1957—Mayor Gilroy was called on to predict the town's future once more. A mighty upheaval of No. 2 mine—the major industry and employer of 900 men—had trapped many miners far below the earth's surface.

"There will always be a Springhill," he said Friday. The latest challenge to the spirit of the town and its people could be met "with God's help." But he admitted that this latest blow made the future forbidding.

Its chances are impossible to assess in a practical way while emotions are so disturbed. Some miners have already vowed never to return to the pits. But this happened in 1956. And for every miner who left 10 stayed in Springhill.

The big question—unlikely to be decided for several weeks—is what A. V. Roe Canada Limited will do about the mine it controls through Dosco. Mayor Gilroy says he hopes No. 4 mine will be opened again. It was sealed after the 1956 disaster.

But would the miners return to a pit with such a dangerous record? And would Dosco open a pit which might at any moment add more names to those inscribed on the town's biggest monument—erected to 125 men who died in an 1891 explosion? It seems almost unlikely, even though there conceivably be pressure from politicians and unions.

NO TIME TO THINK

It will be weeks before the feelings of the miners are felt. Fighting in the mine to save their comrades while anxious families wait at the pithead, they have no time to think of anything beyond today.

It will be in the homes that the decisions will be made. And that is where Springhill may get another chance.

As one rescued miner said when asked whether he would return to the pits: "What else could I do? Coal is in my blood just like you can see it in the lines of my face. Sure I'll go back."

As Mayor Gilroy says: "Miners of Springhill are a peculiar breed. There are no better anywhere."

Drinks On Credit

MONTREAL — Mr. Justice Andre Montpetit of Quebec Superior Court has ruled that a night club client is not required by law to pay for liquor sold to him on credit.

81 Miners Safe; 10 Dead

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (CP)—Teams of blackened rescue workers today edged nearer the underground tombs of 83 men trapped beneath tons of rock and debris in Cumberland No. 2 mine here.

"There is a remote hope, a very remote hope, that some men will be alive," Dosco coal chief Harold Gordon told a press conference early today.

Of 174 men trapped Thursday night by a sudden upheaval in the subterranean tunnels of the pit, 81 have been brought to the surface alive. Ten men are dead, including one whose body still lies unidentified deep in the underground coal workings. The rest are trapped.

CONTINUE SEARCH

Mr. Gordon said that regardless of the time involved, rescuers will continue probing the narrow, debris-cluttered tunnels in search of the missing, whether they're alive or dead.

"It is our intention to bring everyone up," Mr. Gordon said. "It may be a week or it may be longer." He said it was possible that some could survive more than a week if they lived through the rockfalls that followed the heaving of the strata more than 36 hours ago.

Earlier Friday Mr. Gordon told a press conference no hope was held for about 35 miners trapped at working levels 13,400 and 13,800 feet from the pithead—nearly a mile below the earth's surface in the continent's deepest coal mine. Major rescue efforts are concentrated in an area 13,800 feet down where 30 to 55 men were working at the time of the bump.

While bare-faced miners with picks and shovels inch through the underground jungle of broken timbers and heavy boulders, respirator-masked draegermen test the slanting slopes ahead for poisonous gas.

holding to the slender thread of hope strung through pessimistic reports of mine officials and workers who have seen the devastation below.

"It's toughest on the women," said rescued miner Tom McManaman, 44-year-old father of three children, who clawed his way to life after being felled by tumbling pieces of the mine wall. Mrs. St. Clair Ross, whose husband is among the missing, said to a reporter Friday:

"Wouldn't it be something if they walked in here now?"

A reporter here said the air of optimism prevalent during a 1956 explosion that tore apart a mine adjoining No. 2 is absent this time. "They didn't know what the explosion might have done but they know—and dread—a bump."

Fred Hahnen, who has worked the coal seams for 38 years, was temporarily trapped at 13,800 feet. "It was the hardest bump I ever felt," he said after being brought to safety.

SMASHED AGAINST PROP

"She just kind of threw everything right out. I never knew a bump could be so hard." He was working near Fred Halliday, one of the 10 known dead. Halliday was thrown against a prop so hard "it seemed every bone in his body was broken," another survivor related.

Layton Amon, father of two children, wonders how he survived. With blood streaming from his face, he said "It was so bad words can't describe it. For a few minutes we didn't know where we were."

The bump—a sudden movement of the walls, floor or passage of a mine—shook this town of 7,000 like an earthquake at 7 p.m. EDT Thursday night.

Houses shook. Dishes tumbled from shelves. Plate glass windows in stores trembled. The shock was felt 14 miles away in Macaan.

RUSH TO PITHEAD

Hundreds of women, children and miners streamed down the main street which still bears the blemishes of a $1,500,000 fire which ravaged the business district on Boxing Day, 1957. Like 1956 and 1958 mine disasters, the fire occurred on a Thursday.

Few bothered to glance at a monument near the Miners' Hall which bears the names of 125 men killed in an 1891 explosion.

At the mine they gathered around the lamphouse. There hung the name tags of the miners underground. Nearly two hours later—at 9:50 p.m.—mine officials said they were unable to account for more than 90 men.

Through Thursday night and into the early hours Friday the women waited. As the first survivors trickled to the surface—

Crash Kills Baby

SAWYERVILLE—(Special)—A five-month-old baby was killed last night in a crash on the Sawyerville-St. Matthias road. Her mother is in a Montreal hospital in critical condition.

Dead is Sylvie Lauzon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lauzon, 1226 Pacifique St., Sherbrooke.

The accident, which occurred early Friday evening involved two cars and one truck. Mrs. Lauzon, aged 18, suffered a probable fracture of the skull. No one else suffered serious injury.

First Aid was given the victims by Dr. Curtis Lowry, of Sawyerville. Mrs. Lauzon was taken to the Hotel Dieu in Sherbrooke before being removed to the Notre Dame Hospital in Montreal.

The accident occurred when the Lauzon car crashed into the rear of a truck which had no tail lights, police said. Immediately following the collision with the truck, the car was hit by another vehicle.

Cabinet Holds Up Bell Rate Increase

OTTAWA (CP)—Phone rate boosts within Ontario and Quebec were held up Friday by the federal cabinet pending hearing of appeals against them.

The increases averaging five per cent on local and long distance services were to have gone into effect Nov. 1. The cabinet suspended them for a month from that date.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's announcement of the suspension—second such action by the cabinet against a Bell raise this year—shut the company off, at least temporarily, from some $17,000,000 a year in proposed new revenue.

TO CONSIDER APPEALS

The prime minister said the cabinet action was taken "to make it possible for the government to consider the appeals that have been made against the increases."

The appeals have been entered by eight provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—27 municipalities in the two affected provinces and the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

There was no indication as to when the case would be heard by cabinet.

tawa Tuesday on a round-the-world tour and is not due back until Dec. 20. Whether the remaining members of the cabinet would reach a firm decision in his absence was questionable.

AVERAGE FIVE PER CENT

The increases granted by the transport board Oct. 10 would have authorized Bell to make boosts of varying sizes, averaging out to five per cent of its gross revenue.

The last previous increase granted by the board, in December, 1957, was first suspended by the cabinet and then rescinded by it in April because the ministers disapproved of the company's income taxation setup on which the transport commissioners granted the increase.

For the current case, the company took a new tack in the complicated income tax setup. Basically, it decided to pay more federal income tax now than it has to, charging this up to current users, as a hedge against possible higher taxes in the future.

Those appealing protested this on the ground that the company now should take everything it legally is entitled to in taxation savings. Such savings, they said, should go to current subscribers.

Late Bulletin

OTTAWA—(CP)—A terrific explosion today rocked downtown Ottawa and completely wiped out Myer's motor show-room on downtown Laurier Avenue. Casualties are believed to be heavy and several persons are believed dead.

often hurt and sometimes on stretchers—women broke down. Some cried with relief as they saw a husband, son or brother alive. More wept for the men who did not appear.

MANY OFFER HELP

The Canadian Press flashed the news of a major disaster at 7:30 p.m. Thursday night. Assistance and offers of medical supplies, men and rescue equipment followed within minutes from every part of the continent.

A Toronto man launched a relief fund with a $5,000 contribution. Prime Minister Diefenbaker, awakened by a Nova Scotia member of Parliament, was among the first to ask that the town "advise at once if we can give any assistance in the work of rescue or in medical and other services."

The RCMP rushed men and vehicles into the area. Navy helicopters began ferrying blood plasma to the town. The Salvation Army and Red Cross hurried mobile canteen units and workers to the scene. RCAF planes stood by to carry supplies.

Queen Elizabeth wired her condolences. She was joined by Governor-General Massey, Canadian Labor Congress President Claude Jodoin and officials of mining provinces and towns across Canada.

START NEW FUND

The Nova Scotia government set up a temporary office here manned by Acting Premier G. I. Smith and Mines Minister E. A. Manson. Mr. Manson announced Friday that a new fund had been opened by a disaster committee set up during the 1956 explosion.

The 1956 fund is still distributing $500,000 collected for the relief of families of the 39 dead miners.

As material help poured in, the draegermen came from the fields of Pictou County and Cape Breton. Specially-trained in mine rescue work and voluntarily accepting the dangerous assignments without extra pay, they probe the hazardous recesses of disaster-struck collieries.

BREAKS UNDER PRESSURE

The mine is like a six-decker sandwich. Coal seams 4½ to 10 feet thick are separated by shale ranging in depth from 70 to 700 feet. Often a seam fractures under pressure after coal has been dug out. This results in a bump.

Between mid-March and Sept. 1 this year, six bumps were recorded in No. 2, a pit described by a longtime mining inspector as "susceptible" to the earth tremors. Fourteen miners were slightly injured.

While pessimism covered the town like a grey cloud today many recalled the sombre predictions of Harold Gordon two years ago. Then he said there was only the "slightest probability" of saving 113 men trapped in the No. 4 mine. Two days later 88 miners were re-united with their families.

Money Orders Stolen From CNR

MONTREAL (CP)—E. A. Spearing, assistant director of CNR's investigation department, issued a warning to the public Friday to check the serial numbers of all $100 Canadian National Express money orders submitted for cashing.

A total of 125 money orders in this denomination were stolen recently from railway stations at St. Jerome, Pointe Claire and St. Hubert, Que., and several have already been cashed in Montreal.

Get-Together Club Scavenger Hunt Provides Fun For October Meeting

THETFORD MINES — The October meeting of the Thetford Mines United Church Get-Together Club took the form of a scavenger hunt, which led most of the members back and forth across town and to Black Lake a number of times as well, ending in a hilarious display of trophies, each of which carried with it a gleeful account of the ingenuity displayed in finding it.

A business session opened the meeting, with President John Mossop in the chair. Minutes of the September meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Lorne Taylor, after which treasurer, Mr. U. A. Vaudry gave his report.

An invitation to visit the Sherbrooke Double or Nothing Club and a report on the formation of a Bowling League among Get-Together-Club members were reported. Mr. Don Hodapp reported that from now on three alleys at Payer's Bowling Alleys would be reserved from 7 to 9 each Friday for the Get-Together-Club members.

The Get-Together-Club was asked to be responsible for the Laymen's Sunday service and Mrs. A. B. Hollett, Mrs. Lorne Taylor, Mr. John Mossop, Mr. Don Worth, Mr. Harry Eden and Mrs. Norman Bradley were asked to take part.

Mrs. Hollett for the UNICEF committee, brought up the subject of its current appeal and it was decided to donate individually instead of in a group.

Two new members, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Callan, were introduced to the group.

After the business session, the meeting was turned over to the Kenny Little group. Mr. Dave Scott was in charge of the devotional period assisted by Mrs. Scott at the piano, following which Mr. Kenny Little and Mr. Don Hodapp divided the group into five carloads for the scavenger hunt. Winners of the hunt were the Don Worth group, including Mr. Don Worth, Mr. Charlie Smith, Mrs. Dave Scott and Mrs. Harry Eden.

Those responsible for the planning included Mr. and Mrs.

Kenny Little, Mrs. Lyall Simpson, Mrs. John Mossop, Mrs. Dick Hall, Mr. Don Hodapp, Mr. Dave Scott and Mr. Harry Eden.

Lunch was served. The next meeting on November 10th will be in charge of the Kennedy group including Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kennedy, Rev. Lyall Simpson, Mr. Henry Robinson, Mr. Lloyd McKenzie, Mr. Frank Brayton, Mrs. Edward Whitham, Mrs. Norman Bradley, Mrs. Harry Eden, Mr. Bill Callan and Miss Dorothy Daigneau.

CHURCH PARADE

The members of the Order of the Eastern Star, Progress Chapter No. 38, held their annual church parade to the United Church in Thetford Mines. The church was tastefully decorated for Thanksgiving Day, appreciation being due Mrs. Archie Kinneer and Mrs. Howard McHarg for their efforts.

Theme of Rev. Simpson's Thanksgiving sermon was, "Order in the universe". The choir, under the direction of Mrs. David Scott, sang an anthem and Mrs. Kuyt sang a solo.

In Sessions Court

Decision Deferred In Wife Abuse Case

Charges against Marcel Viens, 27, of Ayer's Cliff, accused of causing bodily harm to his wife through criminal negligence, were taken into deliberation by Judge Joseph Marier in Court of Sessions following the preliminary hearings yesterday.

Crown Witnesses Monique Casseviens, 25, Thomas Keene, 41, taxi driver; Mrs. Jean Paul Rousseau, 30, and Roland Major, 36, testified that they all saw the accused in a car on the night of August 29 in Stanstead together with five other people of which three were girls.

They claimed that they also saw the accused start his car and drive backwards after Mrs. Viens grabbed hold of the car. They said she was dragged for at least 40 feet, before the accused stopped.

According to Mrs. Viens, she was obliged to hold onto the car because she was having trouble with an artificial leg.

Thomas Keene, the taxi driver who drove Mrs. Viens from Ayer's Cliff to Stanstead, said that the next day the woman showed him her bruised arm which she said she suffered the previous night when her husband failed to stop his car.

Mrs. Viens also claimed that her artificial leg was twisted and of no more value since she was dragged.

The respondent, Marcel Viens, said that on that night he was in Stanstead and that there were three girls in his car and a male friend of his. Viens went on to say that he did not know the names of the girls in the car because they were friends of his male companion.

Viens testified that he heard his wife scream at him from across the street but did not know or hear her scream when she was holding onto the car because his windows were closed.

At this point, the judge asked "Were all your windows closed on Aug. 29?"

"Yes" said the accused.

Crown prosecutor Roland Dugre then asked "What was the weather like, was it raining?"

"I can't remember" said Viens.

The judge then asked "could it be snowing, maybe, on August 29?"

The reply "I say only what I know."

Judge Marier then replied "If that is the situation, I will believe only what I want to." The Judge then declared that "it is obvious that the accused wanted to get rid of his wife all the time."

After hearing the testimony of both parties concerned, Judge Marier declared that he would take the case into deliberation and that a decision would be rendered Friday, Nov. 7.

Before adjourning, Judge Marier told the defendant "Do not have too much hope."

E. T. History Highlighted In Novel By Thetford Woman

Gladys Taylor of Thetford Mines has set herself a goal which would make ordinary writers quake. Her goal: To write 10 historical novels, one about each of the Canadian provinces.

Her record of success to date has left little doubt in the minds of those who know her work that she will succeed.

Two years ago, Mrs. Taylor's first novel, Pine Roots, won the Ryerson fiction award.

This year, her second novel, The King Tree, has topped the award again.

The first novel was about early Manitoba, where Mrs. Taylor was born. Her second is about the Eastern Townships in the first half of the last century, a corner of Canada where the dream of Canadian unity has become a living reality. She is now working on the next one, about Saskatchewan.

The central figure is an American, Forrest McLean, who is emotionally wedded to neither side but trusted by both and searches for an understanding of the racial and religious tensions of his adopted country.

Mrs. Taylor states her theme bluntly in the opening pages: "In Quebec there is, for the observer, an ever-increasing intermingling of French and English customs which as time goes on comes to form a sort of color-stepped mosaic; a mosaic made up of feast days and fast days, Santa Claus and Pere Noel, Halloween pumpkins and Mardi Gras masks. While always behind this pattern there are the Catholic priests and the Protestant preachers forever holding out the same promises of the same heaven. It is a paradox of this province that the English and French neighbors who live so peaceably on the hillsides of Quebec and will presumably live as peaceably together on the slopes of Heaven, have so much made of the contrasts in their respective routes to it."

She dislikes intolerance and prejudice and makes no secret of it. A major criticism of her characters might be that they preach too much at the reader and dwell too often on their many troubles. But they lived in troubled times and they were reaching for happier relations between the two cultures which we have achieved only in this century.

Many of the characters are well known to history. Papineau and other rebellion leaders figure prominently. Others, such as John Galt and his son Alex, the Brooks, Waltons and Feltons were among the leading citizens of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville a century ago.

By boldly attacking the problem of French-English relations, which many others have side-stepped for various motives, Mrs. Taylor has made a major contribution to that understanding which is vital to the full flowering of Canadian nationhood. A.A.

GLADYS TAYLOR

How Mrs. Taylor finds time to accomplish so much remains a mystery to her friends. In addition to writing successful novels, she keeps house for her husband Lorne, an asbestos mine superintendent, looks after three children, ranging in age from five to 12 years, is active in church work and is the Thetford Mines correspondent for the Sherbrooke Daily Record.

The King Tree is a story of the Eastern Townships spanning the period from 1800, when the last of the Loyalists trickled across the border from the United States, through the tensions and strife of the rebellion of 1837 and the bitterness in the years that followed. A brief

Remember

Clocks Change Tonight

Tonight you can make up for that hour's sleep you lost last April. Or you can watch the late show on TV without your conscience bothering you.

Yes, this is the night you turn back your clocks one hour.

As if leaden skies and falling leaves weren't reminder enough that fall will soon be changing into winter, reversion to standard time is the final blow.

But to offset this gloomy mood, the C.N.R. has interjected a ray of brightness—a 10 minute time cut will be effected between the Sherbrooke-Montreal run beginning tomorrow. The run now will be two hours, five minutes.

The schedule is as follows: from Sherbrooke 6:50 a.m., arriving Montreal 8:55 a.m., daily, except Sunday; 6:25 a.m., arriving 9:10 p.m., Sundays only.

From Montreal, 9:20 a.m., arriving Sherbrooke 11:25 a.m., daily, except Sunday; 8 p.m., arriving 10:05 p.m., daily; 8:30 a.m., arriving 11:29 a.m., Sundays only.

These schedules make connections with all major trains in Montreal.

The schedules for all passenger trains on the C.P.R. remain the same insofar as local time is concerned.

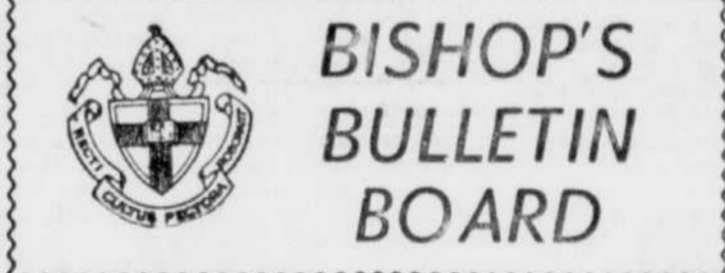

University Blitz Drive Tomorrow

Some 4,221 canvassers will make a house-to-house canvass throughout the Diocese of Sherbrooke tomorrow as part of the campaign to raise $1,000,000 in the Eastern Townships for the University of Sherbrooke capital fund, Charles Emile Belanger, co-chairman of the campaign announced today.

In commenting on the $1,000,000 objective set for this region, Mr. Belanger said that if the people of this district showed sufficient goodwill and sense of civic responsibility to subscribe this amount, he believed that large industrial and business organizations and residents of other parts of Canada and the governments would contribute sufficiently to assure that the $4,000,000 sought would be raised.

"Important companies in Montreal, Toronto and even Vancouver have subscribed generously to the campaign to date," he said, "and we are hopeful of a grant from the provincial government. But we have complete confidence about the generosity of the people of this district who, thanks to the splendid press, radio and TV educational campaign, are fully aware of the importance of the University of Sherbrooke and wish to assure its survival."

"We must always remember," said Mr. Belanger, "that the University of Sherbrooke is the business of everyone. The University of Sherbrooke counts on each of us as we count on it."

The first round of the annual Skinner Debating contest between the Divinity faculty and the faculties of Arts and Science featured the resolution: "That this House deprecates Orval Faubus and all that he stands for." During the sizzling debate heated tempers grew thin and frayed. The Divinity faculty, representing the Opposition side of the House, scored a thumping victory led by veteran pugilist, Malcolm Hughes. The upset Opposition victory saw all three Divinity speakers stress the point that, "The Governor of Arkansas is abiding by democratic principles in representing the views of the majority who elected him. Other points effectively driven home by the Opposition's Semples, Brown and Hughes included:

"His policy of segregation is based on a way of life in the South and Northerners are infringing on a sacred institution."

"Gov. Faubus greatly believes in segregation on a separate but equal basis."

"He is merely standing up for what he believes to be true."

Most effective of Opposition tactics were the loud guffaws of Malcolm Hughes which erupted every time the Government tried to present a serious point.

HARRY JOHN BROWN

Here for the first Bishop's concert of the season on Monday night will be director and composer Harry John Brown leading the Manhattan Concert Orchestra in a program ranging from the conductor's own arrangements of Broadway show tunes to light classical which include Bizet's Carmen Suite, Mozart's Overture to "Les Petits Riens" and "Delibes' Procession of Bacchus from 'Sylvia'."

The 21-piece orchestra, which won wide acclaim in a 50-appearance tour last year, is led by a conductor who some critics describe as "among the few conductors of conspicuous achievement in this country who has so far produced," and "a tasteful showman with a rare yet necessary talent for these concerts where rapport between conductor and audience is important."

Tickets for the concert are on sale in Sherbrooke at H. C. Wilson & Sons and in Lennoxville at Clark's Drug Store.

Semi-annual Watchtower Group Rally

The semi-annual circuit assembly of the Jehovah's Witnesses opened last night in Kingdom Hall on Federa. St.

Assembly sessions are expected to continue throughout the weekend. Highlight of the meeting will be a talk by Laurier Saumer, district supervisor, entitled "The Watch Tower Society in God's Purposes," to be given Sunday afternoon.

Witnesses from Drummondville, Granby, Sherbrooke, St. Jean, Coaticook and St. Hyacinthe are expected to attend the three-day assembly.

HOT CASH

A fire in a French fried potato wagon in Denault Street which apparently started in the cash register, caused a little damage, late yesterday afternoon.

Although nothing was seriously damaged, the owner of the stand sure had some hot cash on hand.

ODD BODS

Bishop's couples will dance to the mellow notes of Irving Richards and his orchestra at the annual Freshman Formal in the Memorial Gymnasium this evening. High spot of the evening will be a period of Freshman entertainment.

The university soccer team was dumped twice over the week-end, 4-0 in Magog and 3-0 on the Bishop's gridiron at the hands of an experienced team from Drummondville. In another mid-week game Bishop's tied Bishop's College School in a game which saw both teams unable to score.

Vancouver Girl Is Prima Ballerina Of Ballet Group

Described as a "dancer of most appealing feminine grace," Lois Smith, prima ballerina with The National Ballet of Canada, appearing at the Granada Theatre, November 1, this season adds to her interpretations of the great classic roles.

A superb artist of unusual charm, Vancouver-born Miss Smith probably is best known for her lyric portrayals of the principal roles in the four-act "Swan Lake," "Giselle," and Princess Aurora in "Sleeping Beauty."

Critics have acclaimed her appearances at Jacob's Pillow, on the international tours with The National Ballet of Canada and as star of the famed grandstand show at The Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Miss Smith danced the dual roles of Odette-Odile in "Swan Lake," when the classic had its first full-length television production in North America. The performance was such an outstanding one it is considered a milestone in this medium on the continent.

After a guest appearance with David Adams at Jacob's Pillow, reviews said, "her phrasing was delicate and came-like. Her balletic line was smooth and clear, motions seeming to originate a her pointed toes and rising to her graceful arms and expressive hands... Lois Smith and David Adams proved to be the finest ballet dancers of a season which has included some of the big names in the field."

Her first appearance with The National Ballet of Canada was in 1951. She has since appeared with the company in New York, Washington, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Mexico, and coast to coast in Canada. In 1952 and 1953 she and Mr. Adams were featured soloists at The Canadian National Exhibition.

She has performed on television and in films in Canada and the United States. Before joining The National Ballet she danced briefly in musicals in Vancouver and in "Oklahoma" and "Song of Norway," which toured the U.S. She has danced also with the Los Angeles Light Opera Company.

Some of the roles identified with her include: the pas de deux and mazurka in "Les Sylphides," the operetta star in "Offenbach in "The Underworld," the Sugar Plum Fairy and Snow Queen in "The Nutcracker," "Les Rendez-vous," and the Woman in Black in "Winter Night."

LOIS SMITH

During the coming season Miss Smith will be featured in leading roles in two new productions, "Ballad," an original ballet by Grant Strate, and as Swanhilda in a new production of the classic "Coppelia."

Sentencing Of Pair Deferred

J. M. Hamel 18, of Sherbrooke was given a suspended sentence in Court of Sessions yesterday while his two companions, Denis Bouchard, 25, of Jonquières and Yvon Baillargeon, 25, of Montreal had their sentence postponed until Thursday morning, Oct. 30.

The trio pleaded guilty before Judge Joseph Marier on charges of stealing between $800 and $1,500 worth of merchandise from a parked station wagon behind a local hotel.

They were arrested late Wednesday afternoon in Montreal and were handed over to local police for questioning in connection with the theft.

The incident occurred Tuesday night when the hotel patron parked his car near the establishment. Several hours later, a constable making his rounds discovered that the doors of the car had been opened and notified the owner.

The University Of Sherbrooke

The University of Sherbrooke Campaign gets down to the tough business of door-to-door canvassing this Sunday. This is the phase of a campaign that is the most difficult yet at the same time the most rewarding in more than one sense as the ordinary people of the community respond to the appeal.

The University of Sherbrooke appeal is unique in that the university is starting from scratch. Founded only four years ago, the institution is literally building from the ground up. Already it has made great strides and the response to the campaign to date indicates that the people of the area realize the importance of this institution to Sherbrooke.

The need for greater university facilities is felt all across Canada and nowhere more than in Quebec. An indication of the national scope of the problem is given by the response of industries across the country to the Sherbrooke appeal. Vancouver and Toronto as well as Montreal firms have given generously. Private industry has come to realize more and more that Canada needs university-trained men and women and that industry, which absorbs so many graduates, has an obligation to aid in their training.

A feature of the university of particular interest to the English-speaking population of the Eastern Townships is its bilingualism. Of necessity, text books and courses are given in English now and it is hoped that this bilingual character will be extended when the university has more adequate facilities.

A community only gets out of a university what it is willing to put into it and nowhere is this more true than in a bilingual centre such as Sherbrooke. The University of Sherbrooke will be an asset to all sections of the community. The campaign now under way deserves the fullest support.

Time For A Change?

Two cries which became familiar to Canadians in recent federal elections appear to have crept into the state campaign in neighboring Vermont. There the Democrat opposition claims "It's time for a change," while the Republican administration urges its return as "a vote for experience."

And if Canadians thought that 23 years of continuous Liberal rule at Ottawa was too much, Vermonters might have reason to decide the Republicans have been around a little too long — say by four years. For it was back in 1854 that the Republicans assumed control of the state government and have held it ever since. After all, to change political allegiance once a century should not mark the electorate as being unduly fickle.

According to reports from the state, the Democrats are conducting a quiet campaign, designed to win them the support of the uncommitted voter without arousing the Republicans to a too great stage of activity, the argument being that apathy among the administration supporters offers the best chance for a changeover.

But whatever the arguments and outcome of the present election campaign might be, it would be interesting to study conditions which have permitted a single party to dominate the scene for over a century in a democratic country.

Conditions which faced the first Republican Governor in 1854 were entirely different from those which had to be tackled by Governor Joseph Johnson when he started his last term 100 years later.

The state has evolved from the ox-cart and candlelight era to the jetliner and electricity economy, the country has gone through the tragic civil war and several foreign conflicts and weathered many economic crises.

But through all these difficulties, the Republicans managed to hold onto power, creating a possible record for longevity of government in the democratic world.

Fashion By-Passed

The Space Age has by-passed the world of fashion.

While automobiles, bombs, home appliances, food, health, and even the weather are being improved more and more every day through the miracles of modern science, clothes are simply redesigned from year to year.

Many of us still have to keep shoes on our feet with shoelaces. A rather primitive development, shoelaces. There are shoes on the market that don't need them, and we are told that don't need them, and we are told science can produce a lace-less shoe that will never wear out. Still, the fashionable, by and large, wear shoes with shoelaces in them.

Shirts, coats, trousers, skirts and dresses are essentially the same now as they have been since someone decided the Roman toga was 'passe.' They are often uncomfortable, sometimes unhealthy, and nearly always perishable. Children rapidly outgrow theirs, and the articles have to be either thrown away, or handed on to others. Science could easily remedy all of this, but fashion won't allow it.

The "sack," though it mercifully died an early death, was a Space Age fashion as incongruous in this day and age as a pot bellied stove would be in a jet airliner.

In short, we are surrounded (literally) with things that have become anachronisms. We have only to look at our rocket experts — the most forward-looking of all modern men — to see this. Strange that men who are computing the next lunar rocket shot still struggle themselves with neckties. But that is the fashion.

OVERTRICKS ARE SKILL'S REWARD

Alan Bell of Chicago likes to open the bidding light. Fortunately for him, his fine dummy play brings home many tough contracts.

He won East's king of spades with the ace and played the jack of diamonds. East won with the ace and returned a spade which Alan won with the queen.

The play continued as follows: Club to dummy, diamond ruffed, spade ruffed in dummy, diamond ruffed, another club to dummy, last diamond led and ruffed by East's eight and Bell's nine, last spade led and ruffed by dummy's ace of trumps.

Now Alan played the small club from dummy. East played the queen but West, who was down to nothing but trumps, had to trump his partner's trick and lead a trump up to Alan's king-jack combination.

Before I get a lot of mail explaining that South could have made his contract in a lot of other ways, I want to point out that Alan had made five odd, not a mere four, and that over a period of years those overtricks mount up.

Also, East could have held the hand to four if he had led a trump when he was in with the ace of diamonds.

Breakfast in Bed

Saturday's Sermon:

That Strange Cloud

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

Do clouds interest you? Their formation? Their colors? Their light, fire-fringed at dawn, grey, dark-blue and snow-white at noon. Then when stormy weather ariseth they are "ragged and black-veined with lightning and when the moon was brightening, imperaled and purpled by the changeful moon".

PICTURES, TOO.

Just now it is the pictures I have occasionally seen in the world's oldest picture book, the Sky, that interests me. For the clouds do form pictures granted some of them require a dash of imagination, others are what easily persuaded eyes see.

I remember at Brome Lake one afternoon seeing what I named "The Ascension of Our Lord". A friend of mine shared this delight; his enthusiasm convinced me that I was not seeing visions. Pleased was I to have Our Lord associated with clouds for it recalled that day long ago when from the Mount of Olives a cloud received Christ out of sight and He returned to heaven. And when He comes again in like manner, on clouds triumphant (Acts 1:9,10,11) to summon the world to judgment. Then we, meeting Him in the air shall rise to those realms where He is reigning where we, too, may reign for ever.

Now don't think that cloud-gazing is limited to a few odd folk. Not at all. There's that great intellectual giant Shakespeare who saw "dragons in the clouds, a vapour sometimes, like a bear or lion, a towered citadel, a pendant rock, a forked mountain, or blue promontory, with trees upon it, that nod unto the world, and mock our eyes with air". So there are pictures in clouds!

THE YOUNG — THE AGED

Sermons, too. I remember one evening as I sat on a veranda chatting with a friend who recently was bereaved, observing a lad, sixish, climbing frantically a ladder. "Do you see what Bruce is doing?" his father explained "well, he is trying to reach the clouds and find his mother who died a short time ago". Childish? Not so! For I recall a friend telling me of his aged mother who each evening in the summertime, hastened to a chair in the garden where she sat watching the clouds with the hope that she might see pictures of her loved ones now in the Better Land. It was God's twilight hour; it was her hour of retrospection and peace. During that sacred period she hoped that oldtime faces long-time vanished would come trooping on the clouds and thereby cheer her lonely heart. With her spiritual eyes opened, she could see things human eyes could never see for the things that are seen are temporal whilst the things unseen are eternal. And only a thin veil, a cloud, divides us from that joy, past words.

BEYOND THE VEIL WHAT?

In what lies beyond that veil methinks you are interested particularly if you have loved ones gone before. The Master drew aside that veil when He told us "In my Father's house are many mansions - I go to prepare a place for YOU and will come again and receive YOU unto Myself that where I am, ye may be also (John 14:1-3). Here then is a blessed assurance far more important than any assurance of astronomers about the glories of the Milky way. It is the assurance of One Who alone knows the future life, and came back to tell us so. Apart from Christ then, there is no Knowledge of the future life and very little of this present life that is worth knowing. And apart from His revelation and His life, we know nothing worth getting excited over.

THE SAINTS ABOVE

As realists then let us read, mark, learn and inwardly digest all we can about life beyond the veil using the Holy Bible as our intangible source book, supplemented by the poetic interpretation thereof, of Rev. Isaac Watts (1709) who in a most comforting and never-giving hymn asks that to him - and us - be given wings of faith so that we may rise within the veil and see THE SAINTS ABOVE, how great their joys, how bright their glories be. Once they were mourning here below, and wet their couch with tears; they wrestled hard, as we do now, with sins, and doubts, and fears.

"I ask them whence their victory came; they with united breath ascribe their conquest to the Lamb, their triumph to His death. They marked the footsteps that He trod; His zeal inspired their breasts; and, following their incarnate God, possess the promised rest.

"Our glorious leader claims our praise, for His own part given; while the LONG CLOUD OF WITNESSES show the same path to heaven!"

"THE CLOUD OF WITNESSES"

With such patterns then as Christ the King of Saints and the saints innumerable and convinced of their interest in us, it is not surprising that when the strife is fierce and the warfare long that our hearts and minds ascend where they are. Then it is from behind that strange cloud there cometh to our ears the distant triumph song of those once warriors but now spectators who hold us - you and I - in full view. Their song so enheartens us that we redouble our efforts, straining every nerve, and press on, so that we may eventually become overcomers, conquerors, achieving victory through faith, as we all the while "look off unto Jesus (Heb 12:2).

Apparently one of the secrets of these saints of God was just this. They knew that their Lord and Master was an intensely interested Onlooker who watched their progress with keenest concern, hoping for their success. He even tried to catch their eye and thus draw them on. And of this He never tired. Never.

Nor will He fail us who are engaged in a similar race that is equally as hard, demanding constant effort. In this struggle they are one with us. We have the testimony of their victorious faith to inspire us. Because of this the writer of the HEBREWS calls them WITNESSES, that is, people with a personal knowledge. And so innumerable are they that he further referred to them as "a great cloud". (Heb 12:1) They are, indeed, a long cloud, too. To imitate them in thought, word and deed, God's all-animating voice calls to you, may we forthwith rise up and incorporate into the warp and woof of daily living their love, their courage, their faith, self-sacrifice and the simplicity of truth they embodied. By so doing we, in sharing their course, will eventually share with them their crown.

MY FELLOW-TRAVELLERS

Exceedingly grateful am I for the privilege of having them as my fellow travellers. For to me, only a thin cloud separates me from these spectators these LIVING spirits and souls of the Righteous. To them, on the other side of that cloud, we are fellow-travellers shrouded in a mist but nothing nor no one can bar us from the heart-fire of the universe or hide for more than a moment the inconceivable oneness of souls.

In God then WE, members of the church visible and militant here on earth and THEY, members of the church invisible are one, joined in a spiritual unity, a blessed communion, a fellowship divine. Alleluia! For we are all children of one Father, God, all fellow-citizens of the saints and of the household of God. The name matters not; it is the fellowship and the tie, LOVE, that binds our hearts in a dear-togetherness that really matters. Let us therefore ask God Who has called us to His service to show us His purpose in our lives that though it be hard, make us strong to follow it, giving us courage to persevere till, at the last, we reach the goal which Thou hast set for us."

So, be of good cheer and, as you keep "looking off unto Jesus" believe, know that He will see us through for He is the "Finisher" as well as the "Author" of our faith.

These then, are some of the thoughts I extract from the Clouds as we approach All Saintstide 1958. You agree, I like to think, that that particular cloud about which we just mused, THE CLOUD OF WITNESSES is indeed a fascinating, inspiring though a strange cloud.

REPORTING

OTTAWA — Prime Minister Diefenbaker's decision not to include the Union of South Africa in his globe-circling tour of the Commonwealth has aroused some curiosity.

The big question is he snubbing the Afrikaans as a gesture to the Indians who are barely on speaking terms with their white Commonwealth brothers in South Africa?

If so, other Asians too would approve, for they all resent the policies of racial discrimination against blacks and Asians practiced by the Union government.

This speculation is whetted by the Diefenbaker government's action at the United Nations this week in ranging Canada on the side of those who condemn South Africa's program of apartheid, or the separate and segregated social development of the races in the Union. Hitherto Canada always has abstained from taking a stand in UN debates on this question, out of consideration for a sister nation's sensibilities.

But Diefenbaker always has had a strong personal feeling about racial equality. As a boy in Saskatchewan, Indians and half-breeds were frequent callers at his parents' home. Gabriel Dumont, the Metis who was Riel's adjutant-general, was one of the future PM's earliest and warmest friends, regaling young John with stories of the '85 rebellion. A half century later Diefenbaker campaigned on a promise to give Indians and half-breeds a square deal, and appointed one to the Senate.

Moreover, he has been a strong supporter of the UN Declaration of Human Rights, and now is engaged in having Parliament enact a Canadian Bill of Rights - both of which stress racial equality.

The Indians and other Asiatics know this. If Canada had ducked the vote at the UN on the eve of Diefenbaker's departure for the Far East, the PM's sincerity might have been suspected by his Asian hosts and the purposes of his journey jeopardized.

On the other hand, if he went to South Africa after Canada's vote at the UN, it would be embarrassing to both hosts and guest.

I pointed out to Diefenbaker the other day that he would be visiting "all the major Commonwealth countries except South Africa". He corrected me. It was true in a sense, he said, but he also was not visiting Ghana and Rhodesia. "That's another trip," he said.

It is only good diplomacy to indicate that no snub to South Africa is intended, while letting the Indians and their friends take what they will from the fact that the PM won't be going to Pretoria. But at the same time it would appear that, traveling by air, the PM could have included a two-day visit to Pretoria in his itinerary without any great difficulty.

Canada's prestige in Asian eyes undoubtedly took a tumble when Canada spoke for and voted for the US motion at the UN to give a one year hiatus to the question of admitting Red China. Diefenbaker wants to regain the measure of Asian respect that was lost. A visit to Pretoria wouldn't help.

Incidentally, you've heard the story - officially denied - that Foreign Minister Smith refrained at the last minute from serving notice at the UN that this would be the last year Canada would support hoisting the China question.

Days later someone saw Charles Ritchie, our ambassador to the UN, with his arm in a sling, and asked why.

"They twisted our arm," Ritchie replied.

Matter of FACT

The beloved author, Hans Christian Andersen, was born in 1805, in Odense, Denmark, the son of a cobbler. As a boy, young Andersen staged his own plays in the cobbler shop. He made marionettes, sewed their clothes and built theaters in which to make them act out the plays of Shakespeare or those of his own imagination.

OBITUARIES

MRS. W. P. SHARMAN, OF SCOTSTOWN

SCOTSTOWN. — Friends and relatives of this community and surrounding district were saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. William Percival Sharman, at the Sherbrooke Hospital, Thursday, September 18, 1958, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Sharman, who had been in ill health for about three years, had been in the hospital several times, and had borne her suffering with patience. She will be greatly missed by her family, relatives and friends.

Mrs. Sharman, the former Cora Goodin, daughter of the late Sylvester Goodin, and his wife, Olivia Sharman, was born November 22, 1898, at Victoria Farm, Scotstown, Que. Her parents later moved to Canterbury where she resided until her marriage to William Percival Sharman, September 26, 1917. They made their home in Galsion, Que., until 12 years ago when they purchased the farm of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Rudd, a short distance from Scotstown on the Bury Road. Of this union one daughter, Helen, wife of the late Ernest Hall, was born.

Mrs. Sharman was a member of the Scotstown branch of the Women's Institute, always a willing helper of St. Alban's Guild, and a faithful member of the Anglican Church.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, her daughter, and grandson, Barry Hall; two sisters, Miss Laura Goodin and Mrs. Thomas Chapman, (Clara), brother-in-law, Thomas Chapman, of Canterbury; two nieces and four nephews; an aunt, Mrs. Kate Sharman of Austin; an uncle, Reuben Sharman of Birchton, and several cousins. Her only brother, Douglas Goodin, predeceased her a year ago.

The funeral was held on Sunday, September 21, from her late residence where prayers were said, thence to Christ Church, Canterbury, where the deceased had been confirmed and married. The service was conducted by Rev. W. Walker. There was a large attendance and the many floral tributes were silent tokens of the esteem in which she was held. The choir rendered "There Is a Green Hill" and the soloist, Mr. Henry Moulard, sang "The Old Rugged Cross," two favorite hymns of the deceased.

The bearers were Ronald Chapman, Dennis Chapman, Milton Goodwin, of Canterbury, and Milton Goodin, Jack Butler and Harvey Parsons of Scotstown.

Burial was in the family plot in Bown Cemetery. Relatives and friends present were from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Birchton, Cookshire, Bury, Gould and Stornaway.

MRS. EFFIE M. MORRISON, OF SCOTSTOWN

SCOTSTOWN. — It was with deep regret that the many friends of Effie Matheson Morrison learned of her death in the Sherbrooke Hospital on September 19, 1958, at the age of 82.

Mrs. Morrison was the daughter of the late John Matheson and his wife, Annie MacAulay. In 1902 she was united in marriage to Alec D. Morrison and they lived for several years in Dell. Six children were born of this union, John of Scotstown, Dannie, whose address is not known, Murdo, who kept the home for his mother, Bessie and Earle, who died in early childhood, and Anna, Mrs. Ted Stark, of Calgary, Alta.

In 1919 they moved to a farm on the Lingwick Road, where they resided until they moved to Scotstown in 1927. Mr. Morrison passed away in 1942.

Mrs. Morrison took a great interest in community affairs. She was a member of the Ladies' Circle and the Missionary Society. A good neighbor and a kind friend, her cheerful nature made her admired by all for the courage and fortitude with which she bore her long illness, suffering for several years with rheumatism. After breaking her hip in a fall, she passed away a few hours after undergoing surgery on the fracture.

Left to mourn are her daughter, Anna, Mrs. Ted Stark; her sons, Murdo, John and Dannie; a sister, Joanne, Mrs. W. W. Foote; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Morrison; a son-in-law, Ted Stark, of Calgary, Alta.; five grandchildren and a great-grandson.

The funeral service was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, of which Mrs. Morrison was a member, on September 22. The service was conducted by Rev. Iver MacIver, who spoke words of comfort to the bereaved.

Bearers were John C. Morrison, John N. MacKenzie, William Wannacott, William MacAskill, Kenneth MacAulay and Dan Smith. The many floral tributes were silent tokens of esteem in which she was held by her friends near and far.

Burial was in the family lot in Dell Cemetery.

MRS. E. C. JAMES, OF COOKSHIRE

COOKSHIRE. — Mrs. E. C. James, wife of the late Rev. E. C. James, a widely-known and highly respected citizen of the Eastern Townships, died at the Sherbrooke Hospital on Wednesday October 1, 1958.

Mrs. James, the former Alice Timberlake, was born in Danville, on February 16, 1879, daughter of the late Rev. William and Emily Moore Timberlake. She received her education in the public schools of Ontario and graduated from Ottawa Collegiate Institute. After attending the Hamilton Normal School, she taught in Ontario from 1905 to 1913. She spent a year in Toronto at the Training School of the Woman's Missionary Society, then served as a missionary in Japan for a number of years.

In 1913, she married the Rev. Elwood C. James, who held pastorates in Morewood and North Augusta, Ont., and at Lacolle, Danville, Cookshire and Kingsbury in Quebec.

Mrs. James had been active in all departments of the Church, in C.G.I.T., Sunday School and choir, and her greatest interest was in the work of the Woman's Missionary Society. From 1926-1929 she was President of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial, and also served as President of the Montreal-Ottawa Conference Branch of the W.M.S. from 1929-1933.

In 1936, she again served the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial as president for another three-year term. She was on the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial executive continuously from 1936 until the time of her demise.

Among her other interests were the Women's Institute, the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the United Church of Canada, being the treasurer of this pastoral charge fund, the British and Foreign Bible Society,

Quebec Jersey Cattle Club

39th Annual Meeting Held In Richmond

The 39th annual meeting of the Quebec Jersey Cattle Club was held at the Richmond Hotel over the weekend with over fifty members in attendance. Mr. Robert Simpson of Melbourne presided and remarked on the club's activities during the year, including mention of the shows which were well attended and congratulated the breeders for the quality of cattle shown.

Commenting on the showing of Jersey, Mr. Simpson said exhibition, Mr. Simpson said that a good exhibit of cattle is the best promotion for any breed. He also remarked on the prestige shown at the show for the past few years with top notch American judges and thanked the Fair board for their assistance. He added that registrations, transfers and membership were up due to increased activity and the acceptance of All Jersey products.

The increased demand for Jersey cows was evident at the very successful sale held at Spring-mount Farm and Mr. Simpson mentioned that there would be another such sale held next fall. The present policy of vaccination has been a hold-up on the export market but this was gradually being taken care of with the new Federal Provincial policy of Brucellosis Control.

Discussions regarding classification arose and it was decided to have the fieldman in the district for the last week in October and the first two weeks in November so that the breeders could have their herds classified.

Classifying cattle adds ten dollars per head and also helps breeders on selection. This is attributed also to the R.O.P. test showing farmers the non-paying animals.

Later on during the meeting, debate took place on the selection of judges at the fairs. After deliberating, it was moved that the local clubs send in names of recommended judges for the local fairs and the judge for the fair at Sherbrooke be selected by ballots by the exhibitors of the last two years.

The secretary, John McCaig gave a satisfactory financial report on the club's standing.

The secretary then stated that the club should finance promotional material. He regretted having to resign due to pressure of other work.

A presentation of a briefcase was made to Mr. McCaig by the directors for his devotion to and years with the club.

Presentations were also made to the winners of the Richmond Jersey Club, Mr. Simpson, Henry Fowler and Royce Fowler with Mr. Calvin Fleming, president of the Richmond club accepting the Interclub Judging Trophy. Mrs. McCaig presented the trophies to the winners.

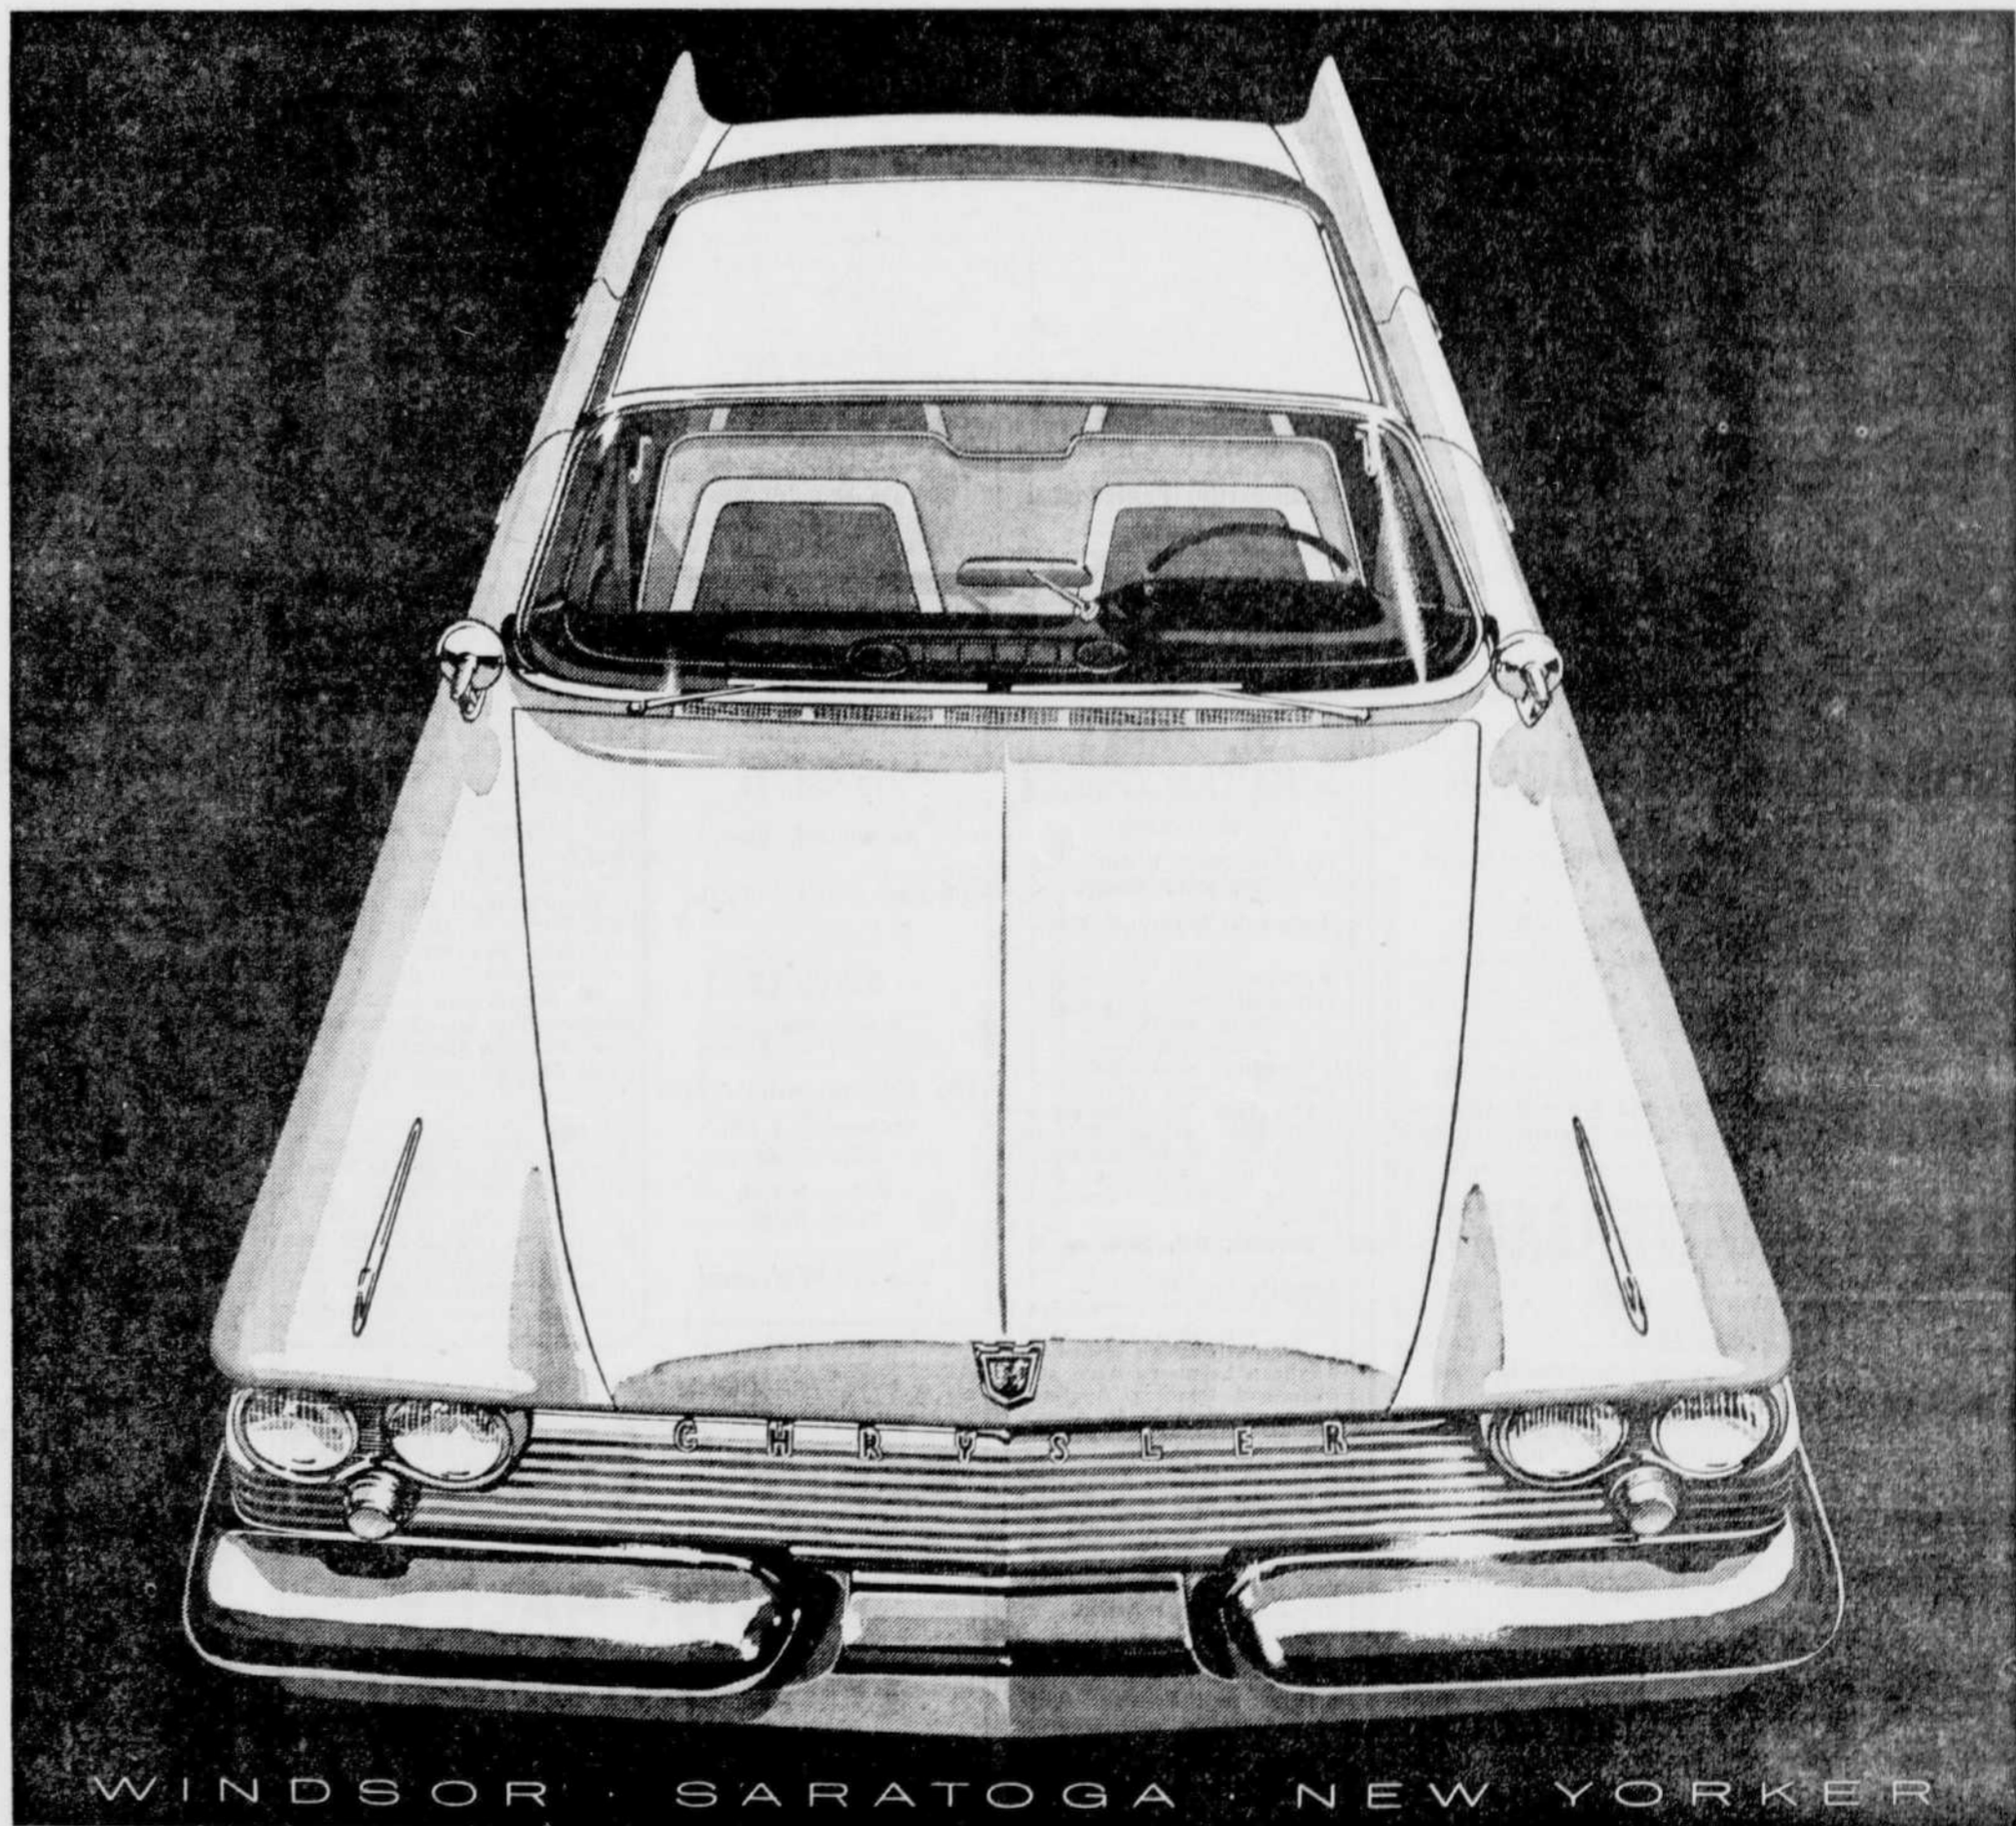

In conclusion, each and all members accepted the fact that the Jersey cow was the 'Ideal Commercial Breed' that would reach new highs this year.

Another presentation was made, this to Mr. Simpson, of a brief case for his faithful direction of the club for the past eight years.

Marriage

SMITH-ANNESLEY

MONTREAL — A pretty autumn wedding took place in the Trinity Memorial Anglican Church, Montreal, at four o'clock on Saturday, October 11, when Laura Jessie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Annesley, of Maple Grove, Que., became the bride of Acheson P. Smith, son of Mrs. G. Smith and the late Mr. Smith, of Jamaica, B.W.I., Rev. T. Ramsay officiated.
Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Dufferin Annesley, the bride was in a waltz length gown of white lace and net over satin, having long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her chapel-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a halo clip of nylon net enhanced with iridescent rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of yellow and pink roses.
Mrs. Douglas MacDonald, as matron of honor for her sister, wore a street-length dress of electric blue satin, a pink feather hat, and carried a nosegay of white carnations and pink roses.
Mr. Joe Menbride acted as best man for the groom.
Mrs. Annesley, the bride's mother, chose a navy blue crepe dress with black and white accessories, and a pink orchid corsage.
Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. Tatlow, where seasonal flowers were used to decorate. The bride's table was centered with a two tier wedding cake flanked by white tapers in silver holders.
For travelling, the bride chose a blue tweed-effect rayon dress, navy blue accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.
Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Grant Annesley, Mr. and Mrs. Dufferin Annesley, of Maple Grove, and Mrs. Douglas MacDonald, of Albert Mines.

MUNICIPAL CHAPTER OF SHERBROOKE I.O.D.E.
The October meeting of Municipal Chapter of Sherbrooke I.O.D.E. was held at I.O.D.E. House on October 21, with the regent, Miss Frances Macdonald, presiding.
A letter was read from Mrs. R. Havard, expressing thanks for flowers received during her sojourn in the hospital and the secretary was asked to write to her, affirming the regret of the Chapter at her inability to attend meetings for some time.
The treasurer requested that all monies be in before November 15, as there would be no December meeting, and the books closed January 15.
Mrs. R. D. Wells, educational secretary, reported that the calendar were in, requesting the Chapters to distribute them to their members. She advised that the subscriptions to Saturday Night, given to the High School, had expired, and it was agreed to renew the subscription.
Mrs. R. M. Loughheed, services at home and abroad secretary, reported that two food orders, a layette and several pieces of good used clothing had been given out since the September meeting. The regent requested assistance for Mrs. Loughheed in the carrying out of her arduous duties. The members agreed to purchase the usual wreath to be laid on the Cenotaph on Remembrance Day.
Due to Mrs. Havard's prolonged illness, it was agreed that Mrs. George Foreman should act for her as convener of Empire and World Affairs for the balance of the year. Mrs. Foreman read an interesting article on the life of John Diefenbaker, Canada's Prime Minister.
The regent then spoke of the Dime Banks, which would be filled and presented to the House Committee to apply against the mortgage. Three chapters had already agreed to this and the co-operation of the other three chapters was being awaited. The regent suggested that if the chapters had other ideas they would be most welcome.
The Provincial film convener, Mrs. George Smith, advised that the film "Stratford Adventure" was available for showings.
The regent then reminded the chapters that all chapter events must have the approval of Municipal Chapter, and the following forthcoming events were approved: King George V Chapter, Food Sale at Steinberg's, October 31, drawing for fruit cake in November, Duke of Wellington Chapter, Tea at the home of Mrs. A. A. Munster, October 28; Sir John Sherbrooke Chapters, Sherry Party at William St. Armoury, Officers' Mess, December 6; 53rd Regiment Chapter, Social Evening at I.O.D.E. House, October 23; Aldershot Chapter, Tea at I.O.D.E. House, with Food and Fancywork Tables, November 8, Spinsters' Spree, February 6.
The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by Admiral Sir Dudley Pound Chapter. The next Municipal Meeting will be November 18, with King George V Chapter as hostesses.

Do-It-Yourself

Snow's Sneaky — Plan For Its Arrival

By MR. FIX

It only takes minutes to take an inventory of your snow-fighting equipment.

It's easier to buy a hundred pounds of rock salt when you have time to wait for it to be delivered than to carry it home over slippery pavements.

SNOW SHOVEL: Get a real snow shovel. Don't use a heavy-duty scoop shovel designed for shoveling coal. Get a new shovel if the old one is in bad shape.

Recondition your present shovel if it's not too far gone. Straighten bent edges. File them sharp and smooth. Clean off rust with steel wool.

Give the shovel a coating of auto or floor wax, or of metal polish, to keep the snow from sticking to it.

SALT OR CHEMICAL deicers: Rock salt can get rid of an icy glaze in a big hurry.

Chemical deicers often do the job with less staining of sidewalks and steps.

Buy a large enough supply so that you don't run short during the winter.

Keep some in the garage, have small amounts inside doorways.

Sharpen snow shovel blade left, and set driveway markers, right, before the first heavy snow of the year blows into town.

Think back to last winter and try to anticipate some of the problems that are likely to come up again.

Back door hard to open? Maybe a snow shed or fence would keep some of the drifting away.

IF YOUR DRIVE is surrounded by wide-open spaces, it's probably the drifts more than anything else that keeps you snow-bound. A snow fence can be put up easily on the side from which the prevailing winds blow.

Something to think of for the future: If your landscaping permits it, why not a row of hedges to stop the drifting?

If your lawn gets torn up because you or others can't recognize the snow-covered driveway, mark it with poles or stakes. Drive them in before it freezes. Reflectors or luminous paint will help you spot them at night.

IS YOUR CAR ready for snow? It might be wise to put your snow tires on at the time you add antifreeze. Keep a scraper for your windshield in the glove compartment.

A small broom will clear away the loose snow right after a fall. In the trunk store a shovel, sand, salt and some old burlap bags.

Put new blades on your windshield wipers.

AND HOW ABOUT your personal needs? Get out the old galoshes and rubbers and check their condition. Repair buckles and small tears, now. Use plastic rubber or patches.

And when that first snowfall does come, don't panic — don't over-exert yourself.

Season Set For Nat. Farm Forum

National Farm Radio Forum, the much copied, but never equalled rural discussion group, is all set to embark on its most ambitious program in some time. While farm forum interest has fallen off slightly in some areas in recent years, there are two facts that point out its vital importance to rural Canadians. Last year, despite this drop in forums, more than 85,000 individual farm forum meetings were held across the country in the five month season. Forum continues to be one of the top four "most listened to" programs on the national network, and this year promises to see more effort put forth to revive the movement.

Rodger Schwass, Editor-Manager of National Farm Radio Forum is busy making final additions to the brand new "Farm Forum Guide," which will this year be a 12-page, magazine type publication, crammed with discussion material, and reports of forum opinions. Further streamlining has been done in the selection of discussion topics. This season will see three discussion periods set aside for "regional broadcasts," when forums will be given an opportunity to discuss regional problems affecting farmers. These will be on Nov. 10, Feb. 9, and Mar. 9.

The topics committee has come up with a series of thought-provoking subjects that should surely stimulate attendance as well as participation in the discussions. For example, the first topic, "What Price Freedom," a study of the farmer's freedoms, is one that frequently brings about corner-store debates. In that discussion on Nov. 3, Forum members will have a chance to weigh the freedom of individual action, against the freedom of group action, and its economic security.

The first two weeks in December, will see topics dealing with farm management. . . Dec. 1, the subject for discussion is "How to measure costs of Production," and on December 8, the forums will study the special requirements in the field of farm management, brought about by today's complex farming operations. In January, the Forums will discuss one of the topics most farmers have been reading about in recent months. That topic is "Contract Farming, and Vertical Integration." The three Forums of January 5, 12 and 19, will give farmers and their wives an opportunity to study at length the ramifications involved in contract Farming, and its cousin, vertical Integration.

SOUTH DUDSWELL —

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dahlin and Mrs. Margaret Smithson, of Long Island, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Campbell and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edga Gauley will shortly be moving to East Angus when they are taking up residence.

Miss Mary Andrews, of St. Lambert, was a guest for the weekend at her home here.

FLANDERS —

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bowker, accompanied by Miss Bernice McMillan and Miss Sylvia Carson, of Sherbrooke, motored to New Carlisle, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, and attended the wedding of their daughter, Faith Campbell, to Mr. Bruce Delaney.

The Doctor Says

CYSTIC MASTITIS IS A CHRONIC, BUT BENIGN, AFFLICTION OF THE BREAST

A number of readers have asked for a discussion of cystic mastitis.

Q—Please discuss chronic cystic mastitis and what causes it. How can it be cured? Do doctors ever cut off a breast because of mastitis? Can a person develop cancer or tuberculosis from this condition? — D.E.

A—This is a common condition which occurs in one or both breasts of many women. Its cause is not known. It appears as a lump, or several lumps, in the breast.

It is almost impossible to tell the difference between the lump of mastitis and the lump of cancer by examination. Consequently, what is usually advised is surgery. At this time a piece of the lump is removed and examined immediately under the microscope. If it turns out to be mastitis the breast is almost always left in place, but the lump is removed.

Mastitis shows a most annoying tendency to come back and the question of further surgery then becomes extremely difficult. There is no need to operate continuously for mastitis, but one does not want to miss the development of a cancer in a breast which has previously had mastitis.

Chronic cystic mastitis does not lead to tuberculosis, and if it increases the chances of developing cancer at all, this risk is generally considered to be rather slight.

Q—Please say something about a frozen shoulder. I have had this for several months, have had all kinds of treatment, but the pain is almost more than I can take. — M.B.

A—The name given by the inquirer is applied to a painful shoulder which also moves with difficulty. It seems to come in association with a number of conditions and even without any obvious cause. In some cases it is apparently closely allied to emotional strain of some sort.

Having had one myself several years ago, I can corroborate M.B. on the severity of the pain. So far as I know there is no single treatment which always works. The inquirer should keep on trying. In most instances the shoulder eventually does get entirely well.

Q—Is there anything which can be done for polycystic kidneys? Is there any pill or liquid that would dissolve the cysts? — Mrs. R.

A—Unfortunately, there is no medication which can be taken by mouth or given in any other way which will dissolve the kidney cysts described. If only one kidney is involved there may be a question of removing it by surgery. If both are involved the best thing to do is to keep the strain on these organs as slight as possible.

Q—A friend has a hernia on his left side. Recently he mentioned he had heard of these being treated by injections of asbestos fluid. Would you comment? — Mrs. O.

A—I am not familiar with this treatment. Most surgeons today favor operative treatment rather than injections for hernia. I should personally be most reluctant to try injections of asbestos fluid.

CAN THE ARGOS CONTINUE THEIR WINNING WAYS?

This is the $64,000 question in Big Four football circles just at present. Today Ronnie Knox and company will try to make it in a row over the Ottawa Rough Riders while the Alouettes will be trying to knock over the Ticats in Montreal.

Coach Jim Trimble of Hamilton claims the "Argo Bubble" is due to burst very shortly and states that they won't make the playoffs. If the Argos should win today in Varsity Stadium there will be no holding them and the battle for the final playoff berth will be carried to the last game.

If the Als stop the Ticats and the Argos drop their tilt it will be "laps" for the Cinderella Team. On the other hand if Mr. Knox and company can keep up their torrid pace and take the Riders while the Als come out on the short end of the count at Montreal there will be only one point separating them for the last two games.

Coach Walker claims he won't use Hal Patterson today as he wants to save him for the stretch drive with the Argos. Bob MacLellan will be back to help out at centre while Dave King will also make his return to action.

The Als will go with 11 imports in today's battle but will be out to try and make their situation better with a victory. It certainly has all the earmarks of a tough battle all around with the big factor in Varsity Stadium. The pressure will be on the Argos as they must win to stay in the running.

The Argos have posted their victories on the throwing arm of Ronnie Knox and the weather has been pretty good but today the weather man forecasts rain and a wet field. We wonder how this will affect the Argos and their top passing game. Anyway it should be something and playing before a home crowd no doubt the Argos will go all out. It should be quite a game.

The local office of the Crown Life Insurance Company has received their allotment of football and hockey schedules as well as the latest edition of the C.A.H.A. rule books. Anyone desiring one can secure it by visiting the Sherbrooke office at 31 King St. West, suite 411.

The Sherbrooke Figure Skating Club executive and directors are staging a meeting Monday evening in President Don MacLennan's office at 8:00 and all members are asked to be on hand. We understand that President Don has some very important business to discuss and he would like to see a good turnout.

The current issue of the Saturday Evening Post has a very interesting story on Baltimore Colts' Jimmy Unitas "The Passer Nobody Wanted." Football fans everywhere will enjoy the rise to the top by a player who wasn't wanted by anybody.

Unitas, one of last year's leading National Football League passers, was ignored by all the big colleges and at his graduation the pros gave him the go-by. He spent a year trying to get a try-out yet today he is considered one of the best quarterbacks in the business and plays a big part in the Colts' plans. The Steelers had territorial rights on him but let him go and have regretted it ever since. It is a good story and worth reading.

The Sherbrooke Beavers are beginning to roll and Manager Bob Beaudry is going all out in an effort to get together another good team to represent our Fair City in the E. T. Intermediate Hockey League. The squad has been working out all week in an effort to get in shape for their All-Star tilt which is slated for Sunday Nov. 9 at the Arena.

Manager Beaudry expects to have several of last year's star performers under contract in the very near future. The Beavers are glancing around for a goalie to help them out.

The Richmond Braves in our opinion made a very big step towards lining up a squad when they signed Gerry Plamondon as playing-coach of the club. He was the last one to affix his signature and now the league is complete in the coaching department.

The Braves have been hard at work and with their new pilot you can rely on it that they will be no pushovers this year. Last season they had some tough luck in securing a coach. Normie Dusault started the year but quit after eight games. Eddie Vigneau tried his luck but travelling from Montreal was too much and he retired but now their troubles are over.

In Plamondon they picked up a good experienced coach and he should definitely be a big asset to the club. He knows his way around and we are sure he can save the Braves some money in more ways than one. It doesn't take much to run up bills in trying to pick up a team and a good coach can help.

Monday evening the league will hold an important meeting to discuss the schedule and at the same time study the list of players. This, in our opinion, is very important because to have a good drawing circuit the teams must remain on a level keel. A loaded club hurts the whole loop and this will be the big question to decide. We are sure the managers understand this and although they will try to get new players they must bear this big point in mind.

Canadian Ski School In New Zealand Nearing End Of Successful Season; Harvey Clifford Moves To Stowe, Vt.

AUCKLAND, N.S. (CP) — The Canadian Ski School at Mount Ruapehu, New Zealand, is nearing the end of another successful season.

Largest ski school in New Zealand, it is staffed by Canadian instructors who have firmly established Canadian teaching methods. Adverse economic conditions and heavy new taxes have cut patronage of most facilities at the Mount Ruapehu resort this season, but the popularity of the ski school can be judged by the fact that it has more than held its own as compared with previous years.

The success of New Zealand in defeating Australia in both men's and women's contests at an international meet at Ruapehu in September was credited in substantial degree to the instruction and coaching of the Canadian teachers.

WINTER MAN The director of the school, Harvey Clifford, "the man who never sees summer," will leave for Canada soon to begin his 15th straight winter. In the Canadian winter he has taught at Chatelet Cochand, in the Laurentians, and in the northern summer at Mount Ruapehu.

In the coming northern ski season he will take up a new appointment as director of the ski school at the big Vermont resort, Mount Stowe. Several of the Canadian instructors with him at Ruapehu are likely to join the Mount Stowe staff.

First, however, a new attempt may be made at Ruapehu on the unofficial world ski speed record of 99 miles an hour. An effort was made last season and several Canadians exceeded 80 miles an hour. They included Rod Allin and Bob Dawson, of Banff, who are again at Ruapehu this year, and Willie Angerer, an Austro-Canadian, who had the fastest time of 84.31 m.p.h.

SNOW PROBLEM They believe this speed can be substantially exceeded at Ruapehu if conditions are right, but the problem will be to secure suitable snow in the small time available before their departure for Canada.

Some of the Canadians who have served more than one season at Ruapehu may not return next season. Clifford hopes, however, to retain the Canadian character of the school of recruiting more Canadians for the staff before his return next season.

In future years they may be able to secure a longer period of teaching at Ruapehu. The season already extends from June to October, but a third chairlift opened this year now takes skiers to 7,300 feet, and gives access to nearly 2,000 feet of glacier skiing above that level. Once the advantages of spring skiing by the use of the higher chairlift become known, there may be sufficient pupils to keep instructors busy until December.

CARDS DUMP JAPAN ALL-STARS TOKYO (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals rocked Japan's All-Stars 5-2 Friday in the opener of a 16-game baseball tour of Japan. The game was watched by 25,000 fans at Korakuen Stadium.

EARLY STEEPLECHASE The first recorded steeplechase in Canada was held at Toronto in 1843.

The Sherbrooke Racing Club will for the first time in its history present a 10-race program tomorrow afternoon at the local oval. Eight single dashes and two doubles are on the card commencing at 2:00 Post Time.

A grand total of sixty horses will be taking part in the Sunday afternoon event. Four of the classes are "D" while the rest are all "C" starts. Two of the latter are Conditional classes with the rest straight events.

Nine classes are on the agenda for this afternoon, two doubles and the rest singles. All the "D" events will have eight starters while the two "C" races have six horses in each.

Tomorrow's big card will give the fans plenty of work in making their selections. The big class will have Little Royal, General Fingo, Shawpi, a newcomer, Coaticook Directly, Merrie Darnleyson and Direct One, also making his first start at the local track. Little Royal, with the pole position, is rated the favorite based on his upset performance Wednesday evening after his victory in 2:12 3/5. The Bennett entry, Coaticook Directly, would give him plenty of opposition while General Fingo and Merrie Darnleyson could cause some trouble. Nothing is known about the two new starters but being eligible for "C" competition should be able to worry the rest of the field.

In the "C" Pace Conditional eight horses will face the starting gate with three new ones entered. Symbol Manley, May Put and Billywyn are the new horses and they should be able to give some good opposition.

In the other "C" event which is a Trot and Pace eight entries are listed with no new horses on the sheet. The final race of the afternoon is a "D" Trot and Pace and will see eight in the class.

Fullback Johnny Bright Of Eskimos Just 191 Yards Short Of His Rushing Record Set Last Year With 1,488 Yds

REGINA (CP) — Fullback Johnny Bright of Edmonton Eskimos has pulled to within 191 yards of the rushing record he set a year ago in the Western Interprovincial Football Union. He has picked up 1,488 yards and two games are left in the regular schedule.

League statistics released Wednesday show fullback Cookie Gilchrist of Saskatchewan Roughriders in second with 1,147 yards and halfback Leo Lewis of Winnipeg Blue Bombers is third with 1,030.

Chuck Holloway of Calgary Stampeders and Riders' Jack Hill are waging a close duel for passing honors. Both have caught 33 passes. Holloway for 887 yards and Hill for 872.

Hill is far ahead in touchdown passes with 11 to equal the league record set in 1932 by Calgary's Paul Salata. Saskatchewan's Ron Dundas has taken 21 of 23 aerials for the best completion average, 91 per cent. Lewis is averaging 23.2 yards on 24 passes for the best average gain.

Frank Tripucka of Riders has thrown the most passes, 297, and completed the most, 163, for the most yardage, 2,376.

Sudbury Wolves Of Ontario Senior Hockey League Follow Policy Of Nickel Workers, Go On Strike Too

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — The city of Sudbury, with 13,000 workers on strike against the International Nickel Company, now has a second strike on its hands—this time by a hockey team.

Sudbury Wolves, an entry in the Ontario Hockey Association senior A series, cancelled their opening game scheduled for tonight after the players refused to sign contracts.

Coach John (Peanuts) O'Flaherty said the team couldn't give the players the money they wanted because of a salary limit in the league this season.

The Wolves signed seven players but were far short of the 15 they need for the game.

The players had two chief complaints—the team's inability to furnish jobs or give any signing bonuses.

The Wolves' next game in the schedule is next Wednesday at Sault Ste. Marie. O'Flaherty said he was confident the players would sign by that time. In the meantime the club has appealed to the other five teams in the league for player assistance.

If Wednesday's game has to be cancelled, O'Flaherty said, the club will probably have to withdraw from the league.

"It would be better for us to quit now than to cheat by giving the players more than the salary limit," — $1,750 weekly for the team.

There has been one retaliation already — Non-signing players have been fined a week's pay.

Aggressor Is 11-To-2 Favorite To Win Cambridgeshire Handicap Next Wednesday; Last Irish Sweepstake

LONDON (AP) — Bookmakers Friday night retained Aggressor as the 11-to-2 favorite for the 11th running of the Cambridgeshire Handicap next Wednesday.

Odds against the three-year-old colt have remained unchanged all week. But bookies again shortened their offer against the second choice, Babur, from 7-to-1 to 13-to-2.

The nine-furlong race at Newmarket carries the last Irish sweepstakes of the racing season. Other odds called were: Midlander, 21 to 2. Marshal Pil, Empire Way and Faith Healer, 18 to 1.

Coach Otis Douglas Claimed It Was About Time His Stamps Got A Break

When coach Otis Douglas tells it, there was more involved than luck in Calgary Stampeders' 21-7 victory over Saskatchewan Roughriders last weekend.

Rider coach George Terlep called the loss unlucky but Douglas says quarterback Nobby Winkowski and the Cowboy line had a lot to do with it, and anyway, "Isn't it about time we got some of that luck? This is the first time we've been able to sneak a close one."

That close one drew Stampeders to within a point of Riders in the race for the third and last playoff spot in the Western Interprovincial Football Union and made tonight's Rider-Stampeders game in Calgary the most important of the year for both.

Gene Conley Signs To Play Basketball

BOSTON (AP) — Milwaukee Braves' pitcher Gene Conley has signed to toss a basketball for Boston Celtics, but he also threw the fat in the fire with the baseball club.

The six-foot-eight Conley, who played briefly with the Celtics during the 1952-53 season, signed with the National Basketball Association club Thursday for an undisclosed amount.

In Milwaukee, where Conley had a disappointing 1958 season, Braves general manager John Quinn said: "What our action will be regarding Conley's flouting of a section of his baseball contract will not be determined until (president) Joe Cairnes, (executive vice-president) Birdie Tebbetts and I have had a chance to sit down and thrash it out."

Quinn said the standard one-year baseball contract signed by the big righthander provides: "The player agrees . . . he will not engage in any game or exhibition of football, basketball, hockey or other athletic sport."

HANSARD ORIGIN Hansard is named after Luke Hansard who began printing journals of the British parliament in 1774.

Argos' Desperate Wind-Up Making Finish Most Exciting In Years; Als Can End Duel By Taking Cats

The Big Four football clubs are thundering down the home stretch. And with the fiercest three games from the playoff post, Toronto Argonauts are at the top of the list.

Coach Jim Trimble, whose Hamilton Tiger-Cats entry has first place in the race now, doesn't think they'll make it.

The Argos' desperate wind-up, started after losing eight in a row, is making the finish for the playoff stakes one of the most exciting in years. But Trimble says: "A team that plays desperation football will be either very good or very bad. However, should Argonauts reach us in the playoffs, we'll be very happy to meet them."

The Argos rolled up shutout victories in their last two games. They trounced Hamilton 37-0 and Ottawa 41-0 for their second and third wins of the season.

HAVE PLAYOFF CHANCE If they continue to roll, they'll have a chance to make the three-team playoffs—if Hamilton beats the Alouettes in Montreal today.

The revitalized Toronto club takes on the second-place Rough Riders in Ottawa. It's all over for Argonauts if they lose to Ottawa and Montreal beats Hamilton.

That would open a five-point gap between Toronto and Montreal and Argos victories in their last two contests—against Alouettes—would still leave them one point shy.

Ottawa could lose out on a playoff berth, if they lose three and Montreal beats Hamilton but loses twice to Toronto.

Trimble is the only coach sitting pretty. Earlier this week he said: "I don't think Toronto will win in Montreal. It's always tough for anybody to win there."

That's a theory Ottawa coach Frank Clair subscribes to. When Clair coached Argos and led them to two Grey Cup victories, he was rarely beaten consecutively by the same team.

He'll use Canadian rookie Russ Jackson in the quarterback slot today to replace import Hal Ledyard who couldn't get the team moving last Saturday.

Passing wizard Ronnie Knox will be in the pivot spot for Toronto.

But this season promising youngsters like Clive Bircham, James McNab and Len Ashurst, who cost the club nothing, are being given their chance in the first team. Local boy Stan Anderson has been appointed captain and this step is taken as an indication of a change of policy by Sunderland.

Time will prove whether a homebred lineup can do a better job on the field than a team of high-priced misfits. But at least it will cost less money.

Once known as "the team of all talents," the club is finding the Second Division a little bewildering. The side appears to have lost its traditional finesse and it has resorted to much kick-and-rush soccer.

HOME TALENT The Roker Park management is slowly concluding that success cannot be bought and that to regain its former prowess the club must raise its own soccer plums. The success of this method has been proved by Manchester United and other prominent clubs in post-war soccer.

Since 1946 Sunderland has spent £200,000 buying players. No club had more individual talent—but it just didn't combine as a team. Last season alone the club paid £60,000 for new play-

Don Campbell's Effort Falls Short Of Record

LAKE CONISTON, Eng. (AP) Donald Campbell, British speedboat king, roared his jet hydroplane Bluebird across Lake Coniston at 201.5 miles an hour early Friday, far short of his 239.07 world record.

Campbell said the boat performed beautifully but there were rough patches on the water. Campbell will try again as soon as conditions permit.

so often sung, "This Is My Father's World". All joined in a Thanksgiving Litany which Mrs. Boomhour had herself prepared, followed by another selection by the quartet, "Let The Lower Lights Be Burning".
