DUCHESS HAS ATTACK OF APPENDICITIS

Impossible to Say Yet if Serious —Coming to Royal Victoria Hospital To-day.

ROYAL VISIT TO THE ANCIENT CAPITAL ENDS

Dr. Garrow, Summoned at Night, Rushes by Special Train to Quebec Citadel.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Quebec, June 4.—The following bulletin was given out this morning by Lieut.-Col. Lowther, military secretary to H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught:—

"Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught is suffering from a mild attack of catarrhal appendicitis. Dr. Garrow was called in in consultation, and it has been decided to move Her Royal Highness to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, to-day, for observation.

"(Signed),
"H. C. LOWTHER, LT.-COL.,
"Military Secretary.
"The Citadel, Quebec, 4th June, "1912."

Special Staff Correspondence.

Quebec, June 4.—As a result of the illness of H.R.H. the Duchess of Connaught, the visit of the Royal party to Quebec has been summarily terminated, and they will leave by special train for Montreal this afternoon.

It was found yesterday morning that the Duchess was suffering from indisposition, and she was confined to her bed all yesterday. Towards evening her condition became somewhat feverish. This alarmed the Duke, and, though it was not thought to be serious, Dr. Garrow, the Montreal specialist, was summoned from Montreal by special train.

Leaving Montreal shortly before 10 o'clock last night, he arrived at the Citadel about 3 o'clock this morning. All efforts to obtain news from the Citadel at that hour were fruitless, as the staff professed to know nothing whatever about the illness of Her Royal Highness.

At half-past nine this morning Mr. Sladen, the secretary, would admit nothing beyond the fact that the Duchess was indisposed, and said that the doctor had not yet seen the Royal patient.

However, it seems that shortly after this Dr. Garrow diagnosed the case as one of mild catarrhal appendicitis, and the Military Secretary, Lt.-Col. Lowther, gave out a bulletin to this effect about noon, saying that Her Royal Highness would be moved this afternoon to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, for observation.

Lt.-Col. Lowther, when seen by the Star representative, said that Her Royal Highness had passed a very good night. It was impossible at present to judge if the case was really serious or not, but under the circumstances it had been thought advisable to take all precautions, and this could not be done at the Citadel. Still, it was quite possible that there might be no occasion for an operation, and that the Royal party might return to Quebec to finish their visit within a few days.

Notices will be sent out to the press cancelling all the social engagements that were scheduled to take place during the Quebec visit.

DUKE MADE D.C.L. OF LAVAL UNIVERSITY.

Quebec, June 4.—H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, accompanied by the Princess Patricia and his A.D.C., visited Laval University this morning. The Royal party was received in the great promotion hall, where the Rector, Father Gosselin, presented an address to the Duke.

The decree of Doctor of Laws was afterwards conferred on His Royal Highness.

The Governor-General, speaking in French, congratulated Laval University on the splendid educational work it was accomplishing in this province, and recalled that this university had received its Royal charter from his mother, Queen Victoria.

The Duke was presented with a bouquet by a young scholar, and he expressed his thanks by giving all the scholars a holiday. He then proceeded to visit the University, expressing his high appreciation of the magnificent and rare pictures that he saw in the art museum.

ALL ENTERTAINMENTS HAVE BEEN CANCELLED.

Quebec, June 4.—The following notices for the press were handed out this morning.

"Owing to the indisposition of Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught, the Governor-General and party are leaving for Montreal to-day. All those who have received invitations to the dinners and parties at the Citadel are requested to accept this notice of all entertainments having been cancelled.

(Signed) Lieut. Col. Lowther, Military Secy.

SWIFT WORK MAKING UP SPECIAL TRAIN.

Remorkably quick work was done by the Canadian Pacific Railway officials yesterday in responding to the call for a special train for doctor and nurses to go to Quebec to attend Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught. The train was made up and standing in the station ready for the journey to Quebec in the short time of twenty-five minutes, or, as a matter of fact, something like a quarter of an hour before all the passengers for it had reached the station. Two minutes after the last nurse had put her foot on the train, it was away on its journey.

MONEY FLOWS INTO COFFERS OF CITY

License Dept. Officials Expect $10,000 Cash on Licenses by This Afternoon.

The license department at the City Hall presented a busy scene this morning, and it is estimated that $10,000 will be taken in in this department before three o'clock.

When the crowd thinned out a little at the lunch hour the money collected at the four windows where licenses were being issued was placed in a large box to be counted later in the day. At that time there was enough paper money to fill a good-sized steamer trunk and as much more is expected to come in this afternoon.

The licenses issued this morning were chiefly for street vehicles, to carters, expressmen, peddlers, etc., but there were also representatives from almost every line of business in the city.

While all city licenses are due on the first of May there is, as a rule, little rush to pay them until the first of June, when the police are authorized to take action against every one doing business without having their licenses renewed and the filing of a number of such actions in the Recorder's Court started the rush this morning.

Special constables employed in factories and such places were also greatly in evidence this morning and sixteen members of the Guarantee Burglary Alarm Staff were sworn in before Mr. Recorder Weir. The City Attorney has ruled that all special constables must take a new oath each year and the same routine has to be gone through now as when a new man is taken on.

Stork Had Busy Week.

No less than 349 births were reported in the city last week. The deaths numbered 185.

STRIKE ON WHARF IS SOON SETTLED UP

Stevedore Put on Extra Men and Little Flurry Was Ended.

In the opinion of officials of shipping companies, the longshoremen who this morning went out on strike claiming that their agreement between the Shipping Federation and themselves was not being fulfilled, are totally in the wrong and are guilty of a breach of the previously mentioned contract.

The "strike" in question occurred that morning at Section 42 when fourteen men who were engaged in unloading the Elder Dempster steamer Bornu quit work because, they claimed, that the agreement between the Shipping Federation and their Union was not being lived up to. The clause of the contract which they claimed has been violated is Section 8 of the agreement, and reads as follows:

"Fifteen men shall constitute a gang for discharging a ship, and sixteen for loading, according to the nature of the cargo and the capacity of the ship."

The cause of the strike was that there wtre only fourteen men working at discharging the Bornu. Shipping men point out that when they decided to quit work, the longshoremen overlooked a very important clause of the agreement, to wit: "according to the nature of the cargo and the capacity of the ship."

The affair was settled without delay, the company preferring to engage the extra men than lose time by bringing the question up before the board which deals with such matters. But, nevertheless, shipping opcials are of the opinion that the longshoremen have broken their contract for the reason that they did not take the last clause of section 8 into consideration; and that they have more harmed than benefited their cause by their uncalled for action in quitting work.

Sandman looks to be the close of the first race.

Michiel Rice, Delorimier Park and Orowoc should be close up.

In the second race Inspector Lestrade is a horse that ran a good race on Saturday. Vanbear is improving and Salian should win later on.

In the Third Race, Lady Fruna must be considered a horse that has worked fine and seems to be the class. Sol Volatile is improving steadier and Napa Nilla is rounding into form.

In the fourth race Plate Glass may be looked upon as a wonderful horse that seems to be unbeatable around here. Olambola should be the runner-up, and Progsleys ran well in Toronto.

Buckthorn has worked out hard and stands well for the fifth race.

Luckola has improved very much. Wickson is a fair jumper and should win soon.

Edith C., according to the clocker's report is on edge and ready for the sixt race. Bridgeland should win before the close of the meeting. Blagg won a race at Delorimier Park.

Bertie seems to be class for the last race.

Naughty Lad won three straight races at Delorimier Park and is good now.

Bit of Fortune has worked well but the distance is a little too far.

The body of James Daillebout, of bridge, while trying to avoid a train, has been recovered, and was taken to the morgue where the coroner disposed of th case without a jury. Daillebout was 41 years of age, unmarried, and was also known by his Italian name of Skironati.

ASSERT FRAUD IN LAWSUIT; PARIS SOCIETY IS AFFECTED

Rich Parisian Said to Have Secured Naturalization Papers Fraudulently.

WANTED TO SPITE MARRIED DAUGHTER

Tried to Evade French Law by Taking Out Citizenship in Canada.

Fraud committed in Montreal involving high social circles in Paris, France, was brought to the attention of Court House officials here this morning, and they declare that the facts will lead to a big scandal in Parisian society.

The case involves a rich Parisian, who wished to disinherit his daughter for marrying against his will, and his son-in-law, who is now bringing the facts before the public. According to the statement given out by Court House officials this morning; the Parisian when he discovered that his daughter had married against his authority, wished to cut her off from his fortune, which comprises a couple of million dollars. According to the law of France, however, he would be obliged to leave his fortune to his children, whether he wished or not. He, therefore, cam eto Canada, where there is no such restriction, people being allowed perfect liberty in making wills.

On September 7, 1909, he took out naturalization papers, swearing that he had lived here for three years prior to that date. His naturalization was accepted, although as a matter of fact, he had not lived three days in Montreal. He purchased property in West ward, near Dorchester street, but returned to Paris almost immediately afterwards, believing that he had succeeded in avoiding the obligations of the law in France, and that he would now be free to disinherit his daughter on the clai mthat he was a Canadian citizen.

Since then his daughter died, but a child is living as a result of the marriage, and it is to claim the rich grandfather's fortune that his naturalization in Montreal is now being attacked in Montreal by the son-in-law. The latter's father is a distinguished judge in Paris, who is interested in the case, and has written the authorities here to have the naturalization contested. The documents are already in the hands of one of the Circuit Court judges who will proceed in a few days. A criminal charge of perjury will also be made out and the rich Parisian will be prosecuted should he ever return to Canada.

He still owns the property which he originally purchased in Montreal and his name still appears in the Montreal directory.

LATE MR. N. DOUGLAS.

Funeral Service at St. Agnes' Church Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late Mr. Norval Douglas, sr., took place this morning from his late residence 1008 St. Denis street to St. Agnes Church and thence to Cote des Neiges Cemetery. The funeral was largely attended.

The body was received at the church door by the pastor of St. Agnes Church, Rev. Dr. Brophy, who was also celebrant of the requiem mass. Dr. Brophy was assisted as deacon by Rev. Father McDonald and by Rev. Father Lamy as sub-deacon.

The late Mr. Douglas died Saturday at the Royal Victoria Hospital following an operation.

The late Mr. Douglas was 79 years of age, and was born in Chateauguay. He was an expert millwright, but retired some years ago from active work. He is survived by four daughters and one son: Mrs. Alex. Mackintosh, of Toronto; Mrs. O'Leary, Aylmer, Que., the Misses Mary, Florence, and Alexandria and Mr. Norval Douglas, jr., of this city.

At the Lyric Hall.

Crowds yesterday were delighted with the performance of Will Palean, the famous English ventriloquist, who is at the Lyric Hall this week. Palean has a number of figures representing the Rooney family with which he kept the audience in a constant uproar of laughter. The picture programme is exceptionally good and contains a big variety of travel, comedy and dramatic subjects. Miss Irene Gold, prima donna, who has been with Creatore's band for the last three seasons, is also on the programme.

CITY CAN GOVERN HERSELF WITHOUT QUEBEC'S AID

So Declares Ald. Laponte Endorsing Controllers' Report for Drafting of Charter.

NEW CITY CHARTER IDEA IS FAVORED

City Council to Be Asked to Name Committee to Draft it.

At a caucus of aldermen held at the City Hall this morning, a report was read from the Board of Control asking that the City Council appoint a special committee to draft an entirely new civic constitution for the sanction of the Legislature at Quebec.

"Montreal is capable of governing herself," said Ald .L. A. Lapointe, in discussing the controllers' report. "We need no interference from Quebec. The progress of the city in recent years has been so great that it is being impeded by the present state of affairs. If greater powers be given the City Council and the Board of Control, they will not be abused and the development of the city will be encouraged, instead of being hindered."

Other aldermen present at the caucus concurred with Ald. Lapointe in this view and determined steps will be taken at once to bring the matter to an issue.

The report of the controllers was adopted and the question will come up at an early meeting of council. The personnel of the committee which is to draft the new charter will be composed of members of the City Council, the Board of Control, and one or two members of the Legislature from the city of Montreal.

Premier Dined By Mr. Smithers

Hons. J. D. Hazen, Col. Hughes, T. W. Crothers and L. P. Pelletier Also Guests.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 4. — Mr. A. W. Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived in Ottawa at noon to-day, and entertained at luncheon at the Chateau Laurier, the Right Hon. R. L. Borden, the Hons. J. D. Hazen, Col. Hughes, T. W. Crothers, L. P. Pelletier, President E. J. Chamberlin, and Vice-President Wainwright, of the Grand Trunk Railroad. Mr. Smithers returned to Montreal by a special train this afternoon.

MRS. JAS. MURRAY DIES.

Was One of Montreal's Oldest Residents.

The death occurred of Mrs. James Murray, widow of the late James Murray, in his lifetime connected with H. M. Customs. The deceased lady, who was one of Montreal's oldest citizens, was a native of Queen's Co., Ireland.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from her late residence, 134 Mountain street, to St. Anthony's Church, where a solemn requiem mass was sung, the celebrant being Rev. Father Fahey, with Revs. J. J. Donnelly, P.P., as deacon, and Father Callaghan as sub-deacon.

The choir of St. Anthony's rendered the musical portion of the service, after which the remains were interred in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

The surviving members of her family are her two sons, John and James Murray, of this city, and three daughters, Mrs. John Harrigan, Mrs. Jas. Dempsey, and Miss M. Murray.

APPROVE CITY HALL ANNEX.

The caucus of aldermen to-day approved of a report from the Board of Control that $649,000 be voted for the erection of an annex to the City Hall in Gosford street. Many aldermen thought the expenditure a large one, but it was realized that something would have to be done in order to do away with the congestion at the City Hall. There were members who prophesied that despite this expenditure the time was not far distant when the city would have to spend millions in a civic palace, something like that of Toronto, and other large cities.

SATURDAY'S DICTIONARY SALE

Greater by Thousands than on the Opening Day

The Star's second great Dictionary Sale opened on Saturday morning, and during the entire day, a constant stream of buyers made their way to The Star counter to be supplied with a copy of the new Illustrated Webster Dictionary at 98c. The sale surpassed that of the opening day three weeks ago. Four clerks were employed all Saturday morning handing out the books to purchasers who were anxious to be supplied before the stock was exhausted. We need not say that every purchaser of the Star's Dictionary is delighted with his bargain. They tell us it is the greatest bargain ever offered in the book line.

The supply, however, cannot last forever, and The Star must now announce a postponement of a few days, during which time all out-of-town orders will be filled, and, if the supplies will allow, another opportunity will be given to our readers to purchase a copy on Saturday next.

Country's Orders for The Star's Dictionary Now Being Filled

The Star's great Dictionary Sale in the city has been suspended to give our staff an opportunity to fill a large accumulation of out-of-town orders. The Star's Dictionary is admitted by even the trade to be of an immense value, and they are amazed that such a work can be sold at 98c. Star readers in the country should have the opportunity and we are going to try to give it to them. The price by mail or express is $1.20. The next few days will be devoted entirely to filling promptly all orders from out-of-town readers.

BOY AGED FOUR FIGHTS POLICE NEAR STAR OFFICE

Wanted to Sell Papers and Became Indignant When Policeman Said He Was Lost.

Constable Bowman of the Central station had a lively tussle with a prisoner on St. James street, this morning and while the officer did not suffer any grievous bodily harm he was pretty well winded by the time he landed his charge in the guard room at headquarters.

The prisoner was a little lad of about four years who was unable to tell the constable where he lived, or what his name was. He was first noticed by the officer in front of the Star Building and all that he could make the officer understand was that he wanted to sell papers.

Seeing that the little fellow had strayed away from home Constable Bowman tried to induce him to walk along to the station with him, until his parents were located, but he was afraid of officer's buttons and lay down in the street and cried. He put up a lively battle when the officer tried to pick him up to carry him and he fought all the way to the station in Bowman's arms.

He is still in the hands of the police.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT REASSEMBLES TO-DAY.

Rumored Welsh Disestablishment Bill May be Dropped by the Government.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, June 4.—Parliament reassembles after the Whitsuntide holiday to-day, and it is admitted that the programme awaiting its digestion is truly gigantic.

There is talk of dropping the Welsh Disestablishment Bill. Although this is certainly a far from popular measure with many supporters of the Government, yet it is extremely doubtful if the Ministerialists dare drop the measure.

Th session, it is expected in some quarters, will extend into next year.

Engineer Buried Under Engine.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Quebec, June 4.—Lying in the Jeffrey Hale's hospital, between life and death, with small chance of recovery, is locomotive engineer Sturton, who had his skull fractured and one leg and two ribs broken in an accident which happened to the Lake St. John down tain, near Chambord, the night before last. The engine upset, burying Sturton beneath it.

The accident occurred at Rocher-a-Perce, between Chambord and Metabetchouan. A special train was sent from Quebec to bring the passengers here

TAFT-ROOSEVELT FIGHT SHIFTS TO CHICAGO TODAY LEADERS HURRY THITHER

Taft's Declaration For Publicity Declared by His Backers to Mean That He Will Win Out in the Committee Fight—Roosevelt Men Scoff at the Claim and Will Continue to Fight Root for Convention Chairman—Trying to Prove Teddy a Tax-Dodger in 1898—Taft's Hatred of Roosevelt Now Said to Amount to an Obscession.

(Special Staff Correspondence.)

Washington, June 4.—By to-morrow all the pomp and panoply of popular politics as played for the delectation of a people who still take their politics straight and over-proof will have been transplanted to Chicago and the Big Show of 1912 will be formally opened.

The Taft headquarters in Mr. Munsey's beautiful building here have already been closed; the Roosevelt sentiment factory in New Willard has been retransmitted into rather humdrum and matter of fact hotel rooms. Mr. La Follette's shouters who could not afford Washington and New York headquartegs, are ready to do so at Chicago and even Senator Cummins, with his little herd of ten Iowa delegates, sees that the dignity of the occasion demands formal headquarters.

This does not mean that there will be any less day-and-night scheming at Washington, or conferring at New York, or telegraphing to Oyster Bay, or calling at the White House than there has been in the past. Where Mr. Roosevelt sits is certain to be the head of the table and the Colonel has not yet gone to Chicago, though he is fairly certain to do so in spite of his denials, when the National Committee starts to massacre his delegates.

Taft and His Bankers.

Mr. Taft has already violated all the traditions of presidental dignity that the American people will permit —perhaps more of them—and, in any case, people can fight better for Mr. Taft when he is not around. This is regrettable but it is by no means unique. The same thing can be said of our own Canadian statesmen. Mere absence from the scene of the battle, however, is not going to prevent the president from having something to do with the ordering of the battle. Mr. Taft is not only fighting for his party and his principles; he is, with vigor and determination than most people imagined were contained within his plump and rotund exterior, determined to fall on Theodore Roosevelt and crush him. People who have talked with the President recently say that he has developed into an obsession, a mania. A fat man with a homicidal mania is very difficult to control—especially if he happens to be President of the United States.

Mr. La Follette is making his fight to prove that Roosevelt is only a sham and time-serving progressive, having none of the characteristics of the genuine article. Mr. Cummins is simply "hanging around." This is one of the great differences between Mr. La Follette and Mr. Cummins, also between the respective kinds of Progressiveism.

TAFT WINS FIRST MOVE

So while, from now on, the actual moves will have to be made at Chicago, the ordering of them will be as before—at Washington, at New York, and wherever two or more politicians with "pulls" are assembled together to confer on what is in the best interests of their common country.

Tactically, the first important battle of the convention campaign proper goes to the Taft forces, and no poohpoohing in the Roosevelt ranks can alter the fact that it was a victory.

If Theodore Roosevelt had been able to defeat the National Committee nominee for Temporary Chairman, the nominee being no other than his quondam friend and member of his official family, Elihu Root—the moral effect n the country and particularly on the wavering Southern delegates would have been of incalculable value. Last week, Mr. Roosevelt said, or allowed it to be said for him, that this would be done and that, if Elihu Root were nominated and elected, he would start right there to tear things wide open.

"BLUFF" DIDN'T LAST LONG

For a few days the bluff worked admirably. Mr. Root, even less than the ordinary politician, has no desire to be slaughtered in in order to inaugurate a Roosevelt holiday, and unless he could assure himself that he was reasonably certain of being elected, declined to consider the nomination at all. At this point there were loud yells from the Roosevelt camp and much brandishing of the big stick. Concurrently, the shaky Southern delegates began to slump dangerously towards the Roosevelt side, as the gallant Colonel knew they would.

Yesterday the "bluff" was "called," and not so much by any specially clever play in the Taft camp, as by a very characteristic oversight on the part of the Colonel himself. Mr. Root has the advantage of being personally very well liked by the rank and file of Eastern Republicans, possibly more liked and respected in many quarters than Mr. Roosevelt himself. There are delegates from Pennsylvania, New York and New England States, who will vote to make Theodore Roosevelt President, but who will not refuse to do honor to Elihu Root, because Theodore Roosevelt says so. The consideration of this fact did not at all enter into Mr. Roosevelt's calculations. Being the kind of a man he is, it is impossible that it should have. Fortunately some of his best and most distinguished advisers were more farsighted. With some difficulty they were able to persuade him that there was too much at stake to risk everything on a preliminary skirmish in which the Roosevelt forces might easily be shown to possess less than the strength that was really theirs, and the Colonel reluctantly consented to withdraw his instructions to start the harmonizing of the party by killing off-hand a man recognized as the brainiest and most astute of its leaders.

Mr. Taft's friends have not failed to take advantage of the incidents and the Southern delegates have shuddered uneasily back to their old position near the Taft band-waggon. They are not so near, however, but that they can slide into the Roosevelt machine once it shows signs of having the greater horse-power.

Mr. Medill McCormick, the young Illinois "kid-glove" politican who is to act as Mr. Roosevelt's personal aide—de—camp during the convention still persists in his assertions that President Taft's name will not come before the convention, that Mr. Roosevelt will have a margin of at least a hundred votes and will be nominated on the first ballot, and that the

JESUITS CLAIM LAPRAIRIE COMMON; ACTION IN COURT

Demand Half of Proceeds in Expropriation Which Affects Big Tract of Land.

Who owns Laprairie Common? It was always understood that the extensive tract of land across the river was owned by the Federal government but set aside for the common use of people in the vicinity.

This morning, however, the Jesuit authorities claimed in the courthouse that they were the original and real proprietors of the district. The dispute aises over the fact that the village of Paprairie wishes to expropriate forty-eight acres of the Common to add to the teritory of their village, and their claims were being heard to-day before a commission composed of Messrs L. J. Perron, Amedee Geoffrion and Hormisdas Trudeau, when epresentatives of the Society of Jesus made their claim. They gave notice that unless they were given half the proceeds of the expropriation they would enter litigation contesting the proprietorship.

It was stated that the Jesuits had always claimed to have owned the Commol and that when a portion of the Common was sold to the Laprairie Brick Co., half the proceeds were given to the Society of Jesus.

The Laprairie Common has been known by that name since the old times when it was the custom, particularly in France, to cede large tracts of land, for the use of the people in pasturing cattle, etc. There is a beautiful turf, such as is seldom found in the country, throughout the common, and many attempts have been made to secure the Common for golf links.

The trustees of the Common in this connection are claiming $125 an acre for the forty-eight acres which the village of Laprairie wishes to expropriate.

BLAZE SCORCHES CHATEAU FRONTENAC.

Kitchen and Adjoining Section Damaged to the Extent of $20,000.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, June 4.—As two night bellboys of the Chateau Frontenac were passing through the kitchen of the Chateau about 1.30 o'clock this morning, they noticed that the room was on fire, and immediately notified the night watchman and engineer. The employees of the hotel immediately unreeled the hose which was in the kitchen, while the night watchman rang in the double alarm.

The portion of the building which was attacked by flames is situated on Des Carrieres street, and forms a bridge over the driveway entrance to the court-yard. The blaze was fortunately confined to this portion of the building and though it burned fiercely, the blaze was completely extinguished after three hours' work.

The damage to the Chateau Frontenac amounted to between $20,000 and $30,000. This is covered by insurance, which is placed by Col. Whitehead of Montreal.

The damage will be repaired in two weeks.

Priscillian's Victory Was Feature of Yesterday's Races at Blue Bonnets---The Win of Kormak Was Another Popular One.

Another banner day in the matter of attendance and a good day's sport provided for it, some close finishes and a sensational steeplechase race marked the second day's racing at Blue Bonnets yesterday.

The fields were large and notwithstanding the fact that the track was none too fast, owing to the rain of the previous night, there were very few scratches. As the afternoon progressed, however, under the hot sun and the warm wind the going became better and by the time the sixth race was run off, the track was in fairly good condition.

Although the crowd which journeyed to Blue Bonnets yesterday was not as large as Saturday's, it seemed to be more of a speculative gathering. Only twenty books weighed in but they were kept busy and handled as much money as they did on opening day.

The players appear to fight shy of the "muauel" system. They gather around the booths in large numbers, take copious notes of how many tickets have been sold on the different entries in the race and then go over to the betting ring and put their money up with the bookmakers.

Priscillian's Win.

Priscillian won what purposed to be the feature race of the day, although no particular race was advertised as the feature.

The way the son of Hastings tiptoed his field made the race practically a little less than a walkover. No one appeared to think that he had a chance to lose but the price that the books chalked up against him were prohibitive. Opening at 1 to 10 and receiving quite a heavy backing at these figures, 1 to 12 was the best available at post time. He jumped in the lead at the start and running under a strong pull showed the way to the half where he led by a half a length. The others were already laboring to keep up with the old Hastings gelding, who was simply galloping. Making the turn for home, Acton challenged but he was easily shaken off, McTaggart giving the big chestnut his head and he started to draw away winning by five lengths. The old horse looks better now than he has for some time and would be about the one horse now at the track to give Plate Glass a run for the players money at six furlongs.

The already large number of horses at the track was added to when a carload reached the stables yesterday from Latonia. Mr. A. Labadie and M. Horton are the owners of the horses amongst which are some good two-year-olds.

One Opening Race.

A very open betting race opened the day's card. In a seven horse field there were two starters which could be played as high as 100 to 1 while two others were split favorites at two to one.

The despised outsiders were the victorious horses at the Delorimier Park meeting ten days ago. Miss Felix, once known as the "Queen of the half mile tracks" and Faneuil Hall who won the last race at the north end track in such an impressive fashion were the two that both bookmakers and public relegated to the "no chance" class. They ran in a way that justified their price. The race was between King Commoner and Sherwood, the two favorites. The Commoner horse opened up a big gap in the first half, but going around the last turn Schuttinger began to work on Sherwood and the son of Alan-a-Dale responded gamely making up three lengths on the pacemaker and racing him head and head for about a furlong. The effort proved too much however, and King Commoner was again drawing away at the finish winning by a half a length. From a poor beginning Hamilton ran an impressive race, fetching up a comfortable third from Lady Irma by a length and a half. Martin on King Commoner gave the most artistic whip swinging" exhibition that has been given at a local track for a long time but the winner never faltered under the "bat" and finished stoutly.

Cock-o'-the Walk's Race.

Cock-o'-the-Walk lived up to his name in the second race when he won in fine fashion from the best field of two-year-olds that has faced the barrier at the northern tracks this season. Genesta, who was always a favorite in the betting ran a good race for three quarters of the journey. She had all the early speed and before the field had gone a quarter had a lead of three lengths. She retained her advantage until the turn for home was made and then class in the shape of Cock-o'-the-Walk began to move up on the outside. The little Broomstick filly was stopping fast and although Diggins was working hard to keep her up with the fast coming Cock-o'-the-Walk, she had enough and lost with every jump. Lounsberry did not have to urge his mount with the "baton" but he simply gave the Peep-o-Day colt an extra dig in the ribs and the latter came on. Scallywag under a strong finish by Turner beat out the fast tiring favorite for the place. The latter was still four lengths ahead of Orowoc.

Kormack Was Popular.

Apparently one of the most popular victories of the afternoon was the win of Kormack in the third race. It was also the closest finish seen at the track for some time and the cries of "dead heat" coming from the backers of the favorite, Blackford, were loud and long. The lucky bettors had a few minutes of anxiety when the stewards called up in the stand little Dunn, who rode the winner. The Clifford gelding, favorite in the betting at all times, was bumped at the start by Kormack and lost several lengths, being thrown out of his stride and trailing the field for the first two furlongs. The judges thought that Kormack did it, but Dunn explained to their satisfaction. Blackford was probably the best horse in the race at that. Lying absolutely last, until half the journey had been completed, he began to move up on the outside in the stretch, and ridden with brutal vigorousness by Turner all but got up in time. It was a peculiar race. Five of the six horses led at some time of the journey. Futurity showed in front at the start Mediator then took up the running, to be replaced immediately by Mission with Picoletta moving up at the head of the stretch. Blackford was the only one who did not get a call.

The Steeplechase.

Only four horses finished out of a field of eight in a sensational race over the "sticks." Mr. H. S. Holt's Gun Cotton was in great demand with High Hat second choice and a hot tip. It was another case of feed-box information going wrong. McAfee rode a poor race on the Sombrero gelding. High Hat was undoubtedly the best horse in the race and should have won under a proper ride. Lynch showed himself to be about the best steeplechase "jock" around these parts, when he repeated the beautiful effort that he put up on Lampblack on opening day, and rating his mount admirably, won out in a stirring finish after a well-judged race. Lenape went down at the third jump. Gun Cotton threw Allen at the eighth jump and besides a few bruises in the face he escaped unscathed from a villainous-looking fall. Jimmy Lane went down in a heap at the last jump, but Kermath came up smiling. Giddy Girl would not negotiate the tenth jump. The going through the field was about fetlock deep in mud.

Capsize Made Good.

Capsize made good in the sixth. He is the only horse who ran at Delorimier Park that has shown anything at the "big show" thus far. He trailed the field half the way but came strong at the finish, winning by a head from Carrillon, who was next in demand. Wood Dove, at ten to one, was third. Ridgeland, after showing the way to the stretch, doubled up like a folding-bed and finished fourth by a head, all out to stall off The Rump for third money. The latter received a big play and ran a disappointing race.

Scrimmage sent the players home happy when he nosed out Fred Mulholland in the last race of the day. The books received a drubbing in the race. Scrimmage was played heavily to win, while the Bannockburn gelding got the bulk of the money played on his chances for the place. Scrimmage assumed the lead at the half and although he led for the balance of the journey, was never more than a half a length to the good. Challenged by nearly everything in the race, he shook them all off successfully. He disposed of Apiaster, after Taboo had fallen back from the lead at the half. Supervisor made a move entering the stretch but he went lame and fell back to fourth. Fred Mulholland outran in the early stages, came flying through the stretch and nearly collared the winner at the wire. Royal Report was third.

Lawn Bowling Getting Busy

Outremont Formal Opening on Saturday Next.

Mayor Beaubien has consented to be present on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Outremont green will be formerly opened for the season. An open invitation is extended to everyone to be present to assist in giving the club a good send off on its first full season in the game. Members of other clubs and their ladies are specially invited.

The green has been open for scratch games for a week or more, and the more enthusiastic members are already getting into form.

Everyone is looking forward to a successful season and enthusiasm is rumpant. The green, under "Joe." Bricklay's careful handling is in good shape and will rapidly become one of the finest in the province.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

EUROPEAN INTEREST IN MOTOR BOAT RACES.

German Hydroplanes May be Secured for Chicago Carnival.

Chicago, June 4. — International interest of a wider range than was expected at first, it is now believed, will be attached to the motorboat races to be held here in August.

Commodore William Hale Thompson, of the Chicago Yacht Club, who for several weeks has been in Europe in the interest of the coming pageant, has cabled Vice-Commodore Qualle here that he has obtained the entries expected from Great Britain and France. The cable, which was received last night, also stated that a representative was in Germany soliciting hydroplanes for the race with every hope of success.

Commodore Thompson will arrive in Chicago next week, and at that time the names of the new entrants will be made known.

BILLIARD REFEREE VERY UNDECIDED.

Ralph De Oro Match for Title is Still Unfinished.

Trenton, N.J., June 4. — The championship pocket billiard match between Alfredo De Oro, challenger for the title, and Edward. Ralph, the title-holder, which was scheduled to end last night, was not finished owing to an argument between the players, and will be decided on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week, in a 600 point match.

The argument arose over the failure of De Oro to call a ball which he afterwards made, with the score favoring Ralph 587-583. The referee decided that De Oro did not call the ball, and afterwards delcared that he did.

Mutuels paid: Cock o' The Walk, straight $15.05, place $4.00; Scallywag, place $2.65; Genesta, show $2.85.

Cock o' The Walk outrun in early stages, closed a big gap and finished with a rush. Scallywag faltered last fifty yards. He was used up following the pace. Genesta had speed, but apparently a non-stayer.

Overweights: Widow Wise, 3.

10—THIRD RACE—One mile. Purse $500. For three-year-olds and up. At post four minutes. Start, good; won driving; place, same. Winner, b.c., 4, by Puryear D.—Chiffie. Trained by H. Penny. Value to winner, $405. Time—.24, .48, 1.14 3-5, 1.43.

Mutuels paid: Priscillian, straight $25, place $5.50; Blackford, place $3.50.

Kormak, raced with excellent judgment off the early pace, responded with good courage in stretch run and hung on gamely. Blackford, caught in a jam soon after the start, lost much ground. Was coming strong last furlong. Picolata was tiring. Mission used up forcing pace.

Overweights: Mission, 5; Futurity, 3.

11—FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $500. For three-year-olds and up. At post three minutes. Start, good; won easily; place, driving. Winner, ch.g., a., by Hastings—St. Priscillia. Trained by L. Feustel. Value to winner, $410. Time—.23 3-5, .47 2-5, 1.15 2-5.

Mutuels paid: Newcomer, straight $10.65, place $4.15; High Hat, place $3.35; Young Morpheus, show $10.55.

Newcomer, under restraint until last turn of the field, where he moved up stoutly and outlasted High Hat in final drive. High Hat made a bad landing at twelfth fahce, where he went to his knees, and lost a couple of lengths. Young Morpheus tired badly last half mile. Jimmy Lane lost rider at 13th. Giddy Girl refused at tenth. Gun Cotton lost rider at eighth, and Lenape fell at third.

Scratched: Luckola. Overweight: Giddy Girl, 2.

Winner entered for $600; no bid.

13—SIXTH RACE.—Six furlongs. Purse $500. For three-year-olds and up, selling. At post two minutes. Start good; won driving; place same. Winner, br.c., 4, by Cesarion—Hull Down. Trained by J. W. Flynn. Value to winner, $415. Time, .24 2-5, .49 4-5, 1.16 2-5.

Mutuels paid: Capsize, straight $10.15; place, $3.70; Carillon, place, $3.00. Wood Dove, show, $4.60.

Capsize, outrun to stretch turn, closed with determination when called on, and, wearing Carillon down, outlasted her in final drive. Carillon, used up forcing the pace and weakened under punishment. Wood dove, crowded back at start and forced to work her way up on outside.

Scratched: Frigid. Overweights: The Rump.

Winner entered for $700; no bid.

14—SEVENTH RACE.—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $500. For 3-year-olds and up, selling. At post four minutes. Start good; won driving; place easily. Winner, b.g., 4, by Wild Mint—Ballyhoo Belle. Trained by J. F. Scholl. Value to winner, $425. Time, .25, .50 1-5, 1.15 2-5, 1.43 2-5, 1.58.

Mutuels paid: Scrimmage, straight, 6.00, place, $3.15. Fred Mulholland, place, $3.20. Royal Report, show, $12.35.

Scrimmage raced Taboo into submission first half and hung on gamely in final drive. Fred. Mulholland was wearing the winner down and would have beaten him in a few more strides. Royal Report, a distant trailer in early stages, closed a big gap.

Scratched: Brosseau. Overweights: Onrica, 2; Taboo, 2.

Winner entered for $600. Bid up to $1,005 and retained.

EX-AMBASSADOR WAS HURT ON POLO FIELD.

Robert Bacon Suffered Broken Collarbone When Pony Fell on Him.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 4.—While playing in a practice game of polo on Phipp's Field at Westbury, L. I., yesterday, Robert Bacon, a former ambassador to France, was thrown from his pony and broke his collarbone. Bacon was riding down field on a gallop, when, in turning his mount, the animal slipped, falling partly over him. His Collarbone was set to-day and Bacon is doing nicely.

Bacon met with a similar accident on November 28, 1809, when his favorite hunter slipped and fell pinning him underneath and breaking his collarbone.

Twenty of Team Will Play Matches There To-day and To-morrow.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Baltimore, Md., June 4.—Twenty clean limbed fresh cheeked young men of French, English and Irish descent typical athletes of the Dominion of Canada arrived in Baltimore from Toronto for a stay of two days in this city. They were members of the Toronto University Lacrosse team and are here to meet the Mount Washington Lacrosse twelve this afternoon on the Hillmenst grounds. The Toronto boys are the Amateur Champions of Canada in the college classing in the great Indian game and their appearance upon the field either in Canada or in this country is looked upon with much interest. The Canucks are a remarkably fast, clever lot of stick handlers and dodgers and in this city when they have appeared on the field in past years there has always been a large turnout to greet them. The Toronto team played in Baltimore several years ago on which occasion the Mount Washington team which defeated the John Hopkins alumni team won and lost one to the fleet Canucks. The Canadians practiced at the Mount Washington grounds.

PRESIDENT OF ST. LOUIS NATIONALS HAS RESIGNED.

E. A. Steinenger Had Lost Legal Battle With Woman Owner

New York, June 4.—President Lynch, of the National League, received a telegram to-day from President E. A. Steinenger, of the St. Louis National League Baseball Club, announcing that he had resigned that position. The message said simply: "I have to-day resigned as president of the St. Louis National League Baseball Club."

Mr. Steinenger was defeated recently in a legal contest with Mrs. Helen H. Britton, owner of the club.

Gossip From Blue Bonnets.

The next stake to be run at the meeting is the Jacques Cartier selling stakes, with $1,200 added by the club. This will be run as the feature event of Thursday afternoon, and, with the track in fast condition, it should attract one of the largest fields that has ever started for it. The original entry in this event totalled forty-two, and a field of at least a dozen should remain in to hold it up. The nomination and additional starting fees will make this one of the most valuable stakes of the meeting. The majority of the larger stables are well represented, which is a good indication of a keen contest.

There have been fewer withdrawals at this meeting than ever before in the history of the club. The fields have been well balanced, and in the majority of the contests have served up first-class and exciting finishes. When Cock o' The Walk graduated from the maiden class by winning the second event on Monday, it was a good one uncovered. This colt had run one or two good races, and had a strong following in his first victory.

After the running of the last race the selling race war was started by Sam Louis. He boosted Scrimmage, the winner of the event, up to $1,005, when he was retained by his owner, John W. Schorr. Scrimmage ran at Blue Bonnets as a two-year-old, and has developed into a nice-looking four-year-old.

Weight for Wilson Cup Steeplechase.

The following are the weights allotted for the Wilson Cup, a handicap steeplechase for Canadian-owned horses, to be run on Wednesday, about two miles and a half, declarations being due at 11 a.m. to-day:

Wickson	154	Broadsword	150
Luckola	149	Buckthorn	145
Annum	135	Waterlook	130

There were only five withdrawals during the whole afternoon yesterday, which shows what a good rule it is to not allow horsemen to withdraw below eight. This rule was inaugurated a year ago, and has worked out to the advantage of not only the public, but the owners.

The Kindergarten race, run this afternoon, gives promise of being a cracking contest. The field is not, perhaps, as large as would be looked for from the original entry, but it is a classy one.

High Hat pulled up lame after her grueling race through the field yesterday. Carrying top weight the Sombrero gelding had his work cut out for him and considering the poor ride he received was lucky to finish at all.

Mrs. A. L. Higginson, whose horses run in the name of Mr. Chetland and who has won both of the races over the jumps ran at Blue Bonnets this year will ship to Brookline, Mass., after the close of this meet. Lampblack and Newcomer, both winners here, will be taken along. Lynch, the most successful jockey thus far this year will probably be retained.

Scrimmage, the winner of the last race was run up to $1,005, by Sam Louis. He was retained by the usual five dollar advance of his owner, Mr. J. W. Schorr.

Turner came to the front with two wins yesterday, but Schuttinger has failed to fetch home a winner as yet. He has been riding in hard luck.

There was a paucity of programmes yesterday. They ran out early. Not expecting such a large crowd only four thousand had been ordered by the Club. Before the first race excited individuals were canvassing the grand stand to buy out the lucky ones. One would-be plunger offered three dollars for a man's programme about the second race. The deal was closed.

The third race will bring a good field to-day when Star Charter, the winner of the Toronto Cup, will hook it up with Guy Fisher, Amalfi and Bob R.

Priscillian certainly made a show of his field in the fourth. The old Hastings horse has a few races left in him yet.

Could Not Stop Jeff Boyle.

Peru, Ind., June 4. — Packey McFarland failed to stop Jeff Boyle, a Canadian lightweight, here last night in their six round bout. Boyle started gamely, and held up well under severe punishment.

Driscoll Floored Polsy.

London, June 4. — Jem Driscoll, the featherweight champion of England, last night knocked out the French champion, Jean Poesy. The fight, which was before the National Sporting Club, went twelve rounds.

U. S. BEATEN IN BRITAIN AT GOLF

Fred Herreshoff and W. C. Vanderpool Out of Contest in First Games.

London, June 4—In the British Amateur Golf championship at Westward Ho, to-day, D. A. M. Brown, the Isle of Wight player, defeated Fred. Herreshoff by 2 up and one to play, thus putting the American out of the contest in his first game.

Herreshoff appeared nervous. He got in the ditch at the first hole and at the turn was one down. At the eleventh hole where Brown was three up Herreshoff sliced and got into the rushes twice but at the twelfth hole was only two down. At the thirteenth, however, the American bunkered again three down. He won the fourteenth but was able only to halve the next three.

W. C. Vanderpool, the only other American competing, met a similar fate at the hands of H. L. Nicholl, of the Royal North Devon Club, being beaten by nine up and eight to play, and so the American competition was short lived.

London, June 4.—The Henley acceptances are for Grand Challenge Cup: Argonaut, Toronto, and Sydney, N.S.W., Club. For the Diamond sculls: Eb. Butler, Toronto; Horodynski, France; Kusik, Russia; McVilly, Tasmania; Sirigaglia, Italy; Veirman, Belgium; Wrobel, France.

SATURDAY'S CRICKET.

By five runs the Westmount "A" cricket team lost to the Verdun eleven on the latter's ground. Only nine men batted for Westmount, and they scored 55, of which Wingate was not out for 21. Verdun came back with a total of 60 runs.

A match at Beacer Field between the Point St. Charles and McGill teams was a one-sided affair, McGill losing by 67 runs. Score: Point St. Charles, 32; McGill II., 15.

At Molson Park the Westmount "B" team were defeated by the Yorkshire Society. No remarkable individual work featured the scoring, which stood: Yorkshires, 38; Westmount "B," 34.

H. O. Brown Lost to Cross.

New York, June 4.—Leach Cross defeated K. O. Brown in a ten-round bout with which Madison Square Garden was reopened last night as a boxing institution. Cross weighed in at 134½ at the ring side, and Brown was two pounds lighter.

Brown had the better of the first two rounds, the third was even. Cross took the next six and Brown finished strong, with slightly the better of the last round.

REAL RACE MEET TO BE HELD NOW AT VALLEYFIELD

Special Trains Will Be Arranged for to Do Distance in Forty-nine Minutes.

The announcement that there would be a race meeting held this season at Valleyfield has been received with a great deal of satisfaction by the racegoers. Montrealers will be within easy distance of the beautifully situated track for the New York Central have promised special trains, making the track but forty-nine minutes from St. James street.

The meeting which takes place about two weeks hence, June 15th to 22nd, is held under the auspices of the Exposition Company of Valleyfield. Racegoers will find the grounds of easy access, they being just across the road from the New York Central station. The grounds are about thirty acres in extent. There is a beautifully wooded grove at the entrance. At the end of the stretch shade trees abound. Two spacious stands are placed just opposite the finishing line. The infield is a large lawn. Big electric-lighted stables extend along the entire length and breadth of the park.

The announcement has brought out numerous applications for stabling accommodation from owners in the United States who welcome the fact there will be a good deal of racing at the half-mile tracks in Canada. In addition all the horses now at Delorimier Park which raced during the last season will be raced at the meeting.

Every day of the meeting, the New York Central will run a special train direct to the track with accommodation for thousands at 1.15 p.m. With the guaranteed time of about fifty minutes to the track, Montreal racegoers will arrive in time for the first race at 2.15. On Saturdays the special will start at one o'clock and there will be a fast train leave 25 minutes later.

SAN DIEGO STILL TALKS LAWLESS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Police Proclaim Reliance Upon Clubs Instead of the Courts.

Special to The Montreal Star.

San Diego, Cal., June 4.—Mr. L. T. Shiffrin, who said he was a resident of Oakland, Cal., tested the "move on" ordinance of San Diego, and was moved on from one spot on the street to another, under the protection of the police.

The report of his intention to speak on the street had been spread, and a great crowd was present. A squad of police appeared just before the speaker arrived, and on all four corners many "Vigilantes" were in evidence. The "Vigilantes" jostled the man until the police rushed him into an office building, and kept him there until the crowd dispersed.

Developments of the last two days make it clear that the police and "vigilantes" of this city have not yielded one whit in their determination to deal with the Industrial Workers of the World problem, as they have done in the past.

The effort of Attorney-General Webb to demonstrate that even lawless "free speech" agitators are entitled to legal means of suppression has not thus far been of much avail.

Riots in San Diego Jail.

The rioting in the jail continues, the I. W. W. prisoners now being on bread and water rations.

It is plain that in the ten days Attorney-General Webb has been here dealing with the situation, he has accomplished nothing toward curbing the "Vigilante" spirit.

Attorney LeRoy Wright, counsel of the "Vigilantes," declared to-day that the excitement had subsided in San Diego, because the I. W. W.'s disturbers had been driven out.

Captain of Detectives Myers to-day announced that if the agitators should return, the police would use their clubs on them, and ignore lawful procedure, which he declared to be futile.

"Vigilantes" Still Active.

The "Vigilantes" are quiet, but they say frankly that they will administer the same treatment to agitators in the future, as they have done in the past, emphatically explaining that force is the only successful method of adequately protecting their city and their homes.

The Morning Union denounces Governor Johnson as having close relations with anarchists, and accuses him "of trying to "play politics in intervening in the city's trouble."

This morning the paper began a fight against the prosecution of "Vigilantes." It declared that in the end the prosecutions would not avail, because a jury could not be found in San Diego county to convict.

INDUSTRIALS CHARGED WITH WRECK ATTEMPT.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 4.—Only ignorance of the use of a switch prevented the success of a bungling attempt to wreck Santa Fe train No. 75, from San Diego yesterday, at Galivan, a siding six miles north of San Juan Capistreno.

The fact that a camp of the I. W. W. was reported in the vicinity of the latter place, the night before, has caused a suspicion that the threatened "war of retaliation" against San Diego has begun.

Train No. 75 sped on at a fast clip on the straight track, when suddenly the train swerved and lurched, as it took the siding where the switch was thrown. The conductor, engineer and brakeman instantly seized the emergency brake levers. The passengers were almost jolted out of their seats as the wheels ground and slid. Just ahead the tracks were torn up for some distance.

His son accidentally killed, his store destroyed by fire and his wife taken seriously ill suddenly, was the measure of grief meted out to J. F. Johnson, of Lonsdale, Tenn., in the twenty-four hours ending last night.

OROZEO AND CAMPA ARE NOW DIVIDED IN THEIR COMMANDS

Commands Working in Opposite Direction—Huerta Cut Off From Base.

From a Special Correspondent of the Central News.

Mexico City, June 4. — The storm centre of the revolution has shifted for the time being, from Chihuahua to Durango and Zacateos, where General Campa's rebel column is active. According to the latest advices, Campa has been defeated and has retired from Durango to the state of Zacatecas. The advices are vague, however, and do not state whether the rebels were driven from Canon del Refugio, where they were last reported to have fled.

Zacateos is south of Durango, and despatches indicate that Campa is working southward, instead of north, thus becoming further separated from Orozco.

Federals Move Slowly.

Zacateos is 500 miles south of Bachimba, where Orozco is fortifying himself.

A message received by Ambassador Wilson from J. C. Carruthers, American consul at Torreon states that the Federals, under General Blanquet are reported to have taken a long while en route to Durango city. A report is current here that rebels are operating in the region between Torreon and Jimines in Huerta's connection with his base at Torreon.

Flores Magon, Minister of the Interior, admits that communication with Huerta is interrupted, and that no trains are operating north of La Colorado on the old Mexican Central line. Long stretches of track have been destroyed but the work of repairing is progressing rapidly, according to information received at the head offices of the National Railways of Mexico.

Congress Has Adjourned.

Congress adjourned yesterday for three months. One of the last acts of the Senate was to lay on the table the bill appropriating $3,100,000 to indemnify relatives of the Chinese who were massacred at Torreon during the Madero revolution last year. It is claimed that more than 250 Chinamen were slain by the mob, and that their homes and stores were looted. The Chinese Government filed a claim with the Commission which recommended the payment of the aforementioned sum.

The bill passed the Chamber of Deputies, but the failure of the Senate to act, defers the settlement for at least another three months. It is understood that the delay is not due to unwillingness on the part of the Government to meet the obligation, but to the fact that it is not in a position to make the expenditure just now.

Rebel Victory Reported.

Washington, June 4. —The Mexican rebels have scored another victory south of Torreon. Reports to the State Department to-day declared that after a hard fight the insurrectos captured the town of San Miguel del Mesequital, Zacatecas, just across the line from Durango.

MONTREAL GENERAL HOSPITAL

ESTABLISHED 1823

Supported Entirely by Voluntary Subscription

Through the generosity of the public, the Montreal General Hospital has been supported for the past eighty-seven years on a scale commensurate with the needs of the community.

The unprecedented growth of the city during the past five years has so enlarged the demands upon the institution by the suffering public as to necessitate the reconstruction of the Hospital buildings.

The modernized Montreal General Hospital will be fireproof, and will embrace the latest improvements in hospital architecture and equipment.

This important undertaking, necessitating increased expenditure for maintenance, has been assumed by the Committee of Management, in the full hope that the public will recognize the growing claims of this venerable institution.

REALLY DELIGHTFUL

The Dainty Mint Covered Candy Coated Chewing Gum

Chiclets for Children.—Very many mothers who forbid their children ordinary comfits give them Chiclets freely. Chiclets satisfy the craving for candy. They keep the mouth moist—help the digestion—keep the teeth white and the breath pure. They are the refinement of chewing gum for people of refinement.

Look for the Bird Cards in the packets. You will find one beautiful bird picture in each packet of Chiclets. Send us any fifty of these pictures with ten cents in stamps and we will send you—free—our splendid Bird Album.

WOULD SUSPEND CONSTITUTION TO CRUSH THE REBELS

Pres. Gomez Asks Power from Cuban Congress—Importing Arms from U. S.

Havana, June 4. — President Gomez sent a message to Congress yesterday requesting the passage of a law empowering him to suspend the constitutional guarantees either through the Republic or in such portion of the island as he may consider necessary.

No action was taken by the House in consequence of lack of a quorum, but the message was referred to the committee on laws, and a call was issued for a special session to-day to discuss the momentous measure which, it is believed, marks the crucial moment in dealing with the insurrection.

Because of the lack of a quorum the House of Representatives also failed to take action upon the repeal of the Morua law, prohibiting the organization of political parties on racial lines, bills for which purpose have been prepared by General Freyre Andrade, the Conservative leader, and ex-Speaker of the Lower House, and General Campos-Marquetti, a leading negro representative. It is probable that Congress in extra session to-day will give the President authority as requested to suspend the guarantees.

SUPPLY OF ARMS FOR CUBAN GOVERNMENT.

Washington, D.C., June 4.—The State Department has authorized the War Department to honor the application of the Cuban Government for 5,000 rifles and one million rounds of ammunition, which are to be used to arm the volunteers and the guards organized by plantation owners to protect their property against the insurrectos.

President Gomez wanted the latest type of Springfield rifle, similar to the 10,000 already supplied to the Cuban army. When it was found that such arms could not be sold without express authority from Congress and as it would take some time to secure the necessary legislation, the Cuban Government decided to accept Krag-Jorgenson rifles instead.

REALTY REVIEW

VOL. II. MONTREAL, TUESDAY, JUNE 4, 1912. No. 130

Montreal Is Yet Unfinished

The world might have been made in six days and Rome may not have been built in one, but to anybody who has looked carefully over Montreal, the fact is self-evident that it has a long way to go to reach its ultimate destiny.

The improvements and changes that are necessary in the central parts of this city to make it what it will eventually become—one of the great cities of America—are evident to those who have known the conditions in this city and have watched it grow.

The gradual evolution of Montreal is taking definite shape under the guidance of expert real estate men.

Under the conditions of growth that exist in Montreal there are exceptional opportunities for investment in real estate.

We have always made a specialty of central properties, and under the present rapidly changing conditions in Montreal we have the best that can be offered the investor.

DAILY FASHION HINT

TWO-TONE EVENING GOWN OF CHIFFON.

Black accordion-pleated chiffon over plisse pink chiffon is the effective combination in this dancing dress. The skirt of round length is of the pink, while the tunic, weighted at each side with heavy crystal bead tassels and outlined with a narrow rhinestone gulmpe, is of the black chiffon. Cream shadow lace is used with the pink chiffon under the black in the waist. A huge black butterfly bow of maline centred with jet is set at the waistline in the back.

Fiances and Finances

An amusing misprint in a morning paper the other day was the change of fiance into finance. It spoke of the little bride-to-be awaiting the arrival of her finance and her disappointment at his delay in disembarking. But underneath the error there is an element of truth, and that is the association of finances and fiances. Getting married means to many girls the settlement of their financial troubles. They know, unless something unforgseen happens, that they will be looked after and provided for during the remainder of their lives.

Now that the month of weddings has arrived, let us consider for a moment this question of finances and fiances. There are two principal sides to it,—the bride's side and the bridegroom's side. In the first place, the bride should feel that in return for a home and support—to put it on the material basis—she is able to give the best of her services. It is the husband's part to go out into the world and earn the living for the family; it is the wife's part to see that the home is comfortable and attractive, that the wheels of life within the home run smoothly. The law forces a husband to provide for his wife and family, but there is no law which punishes the foolish, incapable wife. Therefore, when the conscientious bride-to-be is considering this problem of finance and fiance, let her be determined to go to her new home as thoroughly well-trained for her important position as she can be.

She will learn much by experience, but to begin with, she should know how to cook, sew and mend, order meals, look after the house, and a thousand and one things which she can learn at home or at some school of domestic science. It is not fair to any man for a woman to marry him unprepared for the duties that lie before a wife and mother. It is not right for any woman to allow her daughter to enter the married state ignorant and inefficient.

On the bridegroom's part, his first duty towards his bride is to tell her exactly what his income is. There have been many cases where a young wife has run into debt, thinking her husband can easily afford to pay her bills. He has not informed her as to their income and she has judged it to be larger than it is. Absolute truthfulness from the start in regard to money matters, as well as other matters, is imperative if there is to be peace and happiness in the home.

The next duty of the husband with regard to the financial question is to give his wife, from the start, a definite allowance. Let him be determined that his wife, the woman he has chosen in a world of women, shall never have to beg for money.

If all who are getting married this beautiful month of June would follow this little chapter of advice, there would be far fewer unhappy homes at this time next year. Truthfulness and justice on the husband's part, efficiency and economy on the wife's,—these are four necessary ingredients in a successful marriage.

JUVENILE FASHIONS

Some styles of our present fashions display such a juvenile stamp that they are really well suited for young girls. What, indeed, is more charming than lingerie collarettes worn on walking costumes? Girlish tailor-mades, which, necessarily, must be very simple of make and style, are beautifully brightened up by them. Thus over a tan "eponge" costume the latest tissue of the season, a round collar of plain cambric, edged with narrow open-work, was lengthened by two large pleated tulle revers between which a red bow formed a cravat.

All the girls will wear low-necked waists owing to this pretty fanciful mode.

For dressy occasions combinations of plain and dotted foulards are much in favor. A charming model had a white skirt with blue dots, parting over a dark blue apron front, the lower part composed also of the same plain tissue. Its small, short-waisted vest in flat folds with a narrow black velvet belt, had a large blue foulard sailor collar, finished off with a cravat. Inside this collar appeared a lingerie guimp, and the "tout ensemble" displayed a youthful and charming aspect.

Red will constitute a very fashionable shade this summer, as also shot taffetas, of which has been derived so many old-time reminiscences. It is useless to add that paniers and other sensational novelties would be quite unbecoming to girlish figures, and couturiers of our "lassies" make no other than lovely straight dresses finished off at the bottom with wide pinked rushings or three ruffles. The bodices are adorned with large Marie Antoinette fichus, and, looking at this charming simplicity, we greatly regret that we have passed the time of our early "teens."

IN LIGHTER MOOD

Their Hiding Place.

"Oh, Ma'am, Ma'am. I've swallowed a safety-pin."

"So, that's where my safety ping go, is it?"

A Girl's Way.

"I am going to learn to swim this summer."

"I thought George taught you last summer."

"But I am no longer engaged to George."

In Line

"What makes you think the baby is going to be a great politician?" asked the young mother, anxiously.

"I'll tell you," answered the young father, confidently; "he can say more things that sound well and mean nothing at all than any kid I ever saw."

Poor Creatures!

Kate Douglas Wiggin tells of a hard working farmer's wife, who was asked if she believed in woman's suffrage and would like to vote. "No, I certainly do not," she exclaimed, with a vigorous movement of the churn dasher. "I say, if there is any one little thing that the men folks can do alone, for goodness' sake let 'em do it."

CHILD'S ONE-PIECE DRESS

7440 Child's One-Piece Dress, 2 to 6 years.

WITH OR WITHOUT KNICKERBOCKERS.

Such a simple one-piece dress as this one makes the prettiest and most practical possible for warm weather wear. Many mothers like knickerbockers to match, and this dress can be worn over such or over the regulation underwear as preferred. Sleeves and body portion are cut in one, in kimono style, so that there is almost no labor for the making of the dress, and the knickerbockers are simple ones, drawn up by means of elastic at the knees and closed at the sides. The opening of the dress is cut at the left of the front, and the belt holds the fulness in place. In the illustration, striped percale is trimmed with plain color, but little dresses of this kind are made from every simple material, lawn and batiste for the warm days; chambray, gingham and galatea and the like for the cooler days and for harder usage.

For a child of four years of age will be required 1¾ yards of material 27, 36 or 44 inches wide for the dress, with 1 yard 27 for the trimming; for the knickerbockers will be needed 1¾ yards 27, ⅞ yard 36 or 44 inches wide.

The pattern, No. 7440, is cut in sizes for children of 2, 4 and 6 years of age, and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

WOMEN THE WORLD OVER

The first woman suffrage candidate to be elected to the Paris Municipal Chamber is M Bracke who has been returned by the electors of Plaisance Montparnasse. M Bracke made woman suffrage the chief feature of his campaign, and through it obtained the support of the Socialist party which is pledged to admit suffrage.

A petition has been presented to the Mayor of Chicago by the women suffragists of that city asking that a force of plain clothes policewomen should patrol the factory districts where girls and women are employed in order to lessen the disorder and immorality which prevail in those quarters. Suffragists declare that only women could help in these cases which require the most delicate handling.

The Young Men's Roman Catholic Association of Belgium has formally allied itself with the women suffrage section of the Christian Democrat League, and has intimated its readiness to start on a propaganda campaign. The suffragist party in the Government is being cordially supported by the Roman Catholics section of the Opposition, and the trend of Roman Catholic feeling throughout Belgium is toward women's enfranchisement.

The French National Anti-Alcohol League, which held an exhibition recently at the Ministry of Public Works, Paris, is to divide the profits with the Woman Suffrage Association, as that body has pledged itself to vote for local option in all questions concerning the drink traffic when the municipal franchise is granted to women. In the countries where women vote on the drink question and local option is in force, as, for instance, in Finland, Norway, New Zealand, and Colorado, prohibition, complete or partial, is in vogue.

The Women's Homestead Association of Boston, has made an appeal to the Governor of the State to appoint a duly authorised commission to women to investigate the high prices of food. This some association also recently passed a quaint resolution, on which bachelors were declared "misfits," and incompetent for public office, and called upon the members to use their influence against single men who offered themselves as candidates for any position under State control.

A Jewelled Brooch.

One of the new bowknot pins, set in a jewelled rim, has a feature that makes it useful. It is apparently a black moire ribbon framed in small diamonds, but this ribbon instead of being stationary may be removed and other colors substituted to match any costume.

One pin of this sort is nearly three inches long and is worn to catch up laces or drapery on the corsage or as a hair ornament. Buckles for watch fobs can be found in the same style, so the ribbon of the fob may be changed to match different gowns.

Dainty Handkerchiefs

Some of the shops have been decorated this week with wares in all shades of purple. One very pretty window showed every accessory of the toilet that can be thought of, among them ostrich feather ruffles, bags, belts, handkerchiefs, boutonnieres and collars in all the fashionable tints of violet from bishop's purple to the tenderest hue of the first spray of spring lilac blossoms.

Lavender is a shade that is to be very fashionable, indeed, this season, and the lavender handkerchiefs, with white broderie anglaise corners and edges are the acme of prettiness.

Among the smart dainties of dress that have met with great approbation are the handkerchiefs made of silk and the tiny bandanna squares. In other fabrics the idea is carried out, and it is possible to buy the very prettiest of pretty handkerchiefs made of chiffon, some patterned and others plain.

Summer Rugs

Rag rugs and grass rugs are the two classes into which rugs designed primarily for summer use may be divided. The rugs of prairie grass are well known; each year finds them made in number of sizes.

A grass rug which is new is the one made of Mexican rush. It is plaited in strands of about two or three inches broad; these strands are sewed together round and round to make a rug of the needed size. Only oval or round rugs are to be had of this rush, says an exchange. Some of the strands have black rush woven in with the effects of the sombre background in the finished covering.

There are countless styles of rag rugs now put forth by various manufacturers; some of them wash very easily, while with others this operation is more difficult. They all, however, have one charm, and that is daintiness and a hint of coolness and simplicity.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE WILL DISCUSS WIRELESS

Problems of Better Conditions at Sea and of Amateur Operators to Be Settled.

UNIFORM WAVE-LENGTHS WILL MEET DIFFICULTY

Twenty-five Nations Represented—An Assembly for Business, Not for Pleasure.

London, June 4.—The seconl international conference on wireless telegraphy opened here to-day with twenty-five nations represented by delegates in atendance. The British government is acting as host of the conference, with the Postmaster-General in charge of the proceedings. All of the sessions will be secret, but it is known that the chief problems discussed will be concerned with better wireless conditions at sea.

Of the nations represented, all have sea coasts, and the use of wireless by vessels since the initial conference in Berlin six years ago has increased to such an extent that new regulations are needed.

According to a high official of the British post office, the problem of securing uniform wave-lengths, whereby there may be no repetition of the confusion which prevailed at the time of the Titanic disaster, will be one of the leading matters discussed by the conference.

In this connection it is considered likely that international action will be recommended to compel the various systems of wireless now in use to cooperate with each other in the case of disaster and weather messages.

Although some of the nations concerned have practically solved the troubles caused by amateur operators, this evil also will be discussed by the conference.

The delegates were officially welcomed by Postmaster-General Samuels.

The only social diversion of the delgates will be of an informal character, and the only trip made will be to the wireless station of Poldhu.

The sessions of the conference will be held at the Institute of Electrical Engineers. Mr. Marconi will represent his company.

Besides Canada, Australia, India, New Zealand, South Africa and the United States have sent special delegates. The French deputation will include the remote colonies of Indo-China, Equatorical Africa, Madagascar, and Tunis. Even Morocco is sending delegates, to say nothing of Siam, Japan, and the South American republics.

AUSTRALIA TO WELCOME THE CANADIAN CADETS.

Ottawa, June 4.—Australia will give a state welcome to the Vancouver Cadets on their tour to the Antipodes this summer. Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, has been so notified in a cable from the Australian War Minister.

STAMBOUL QUARTER HAS BEEN DESTROYED.

Constantinople, June 4.—Fire to-day devastated a great area of Stamboul, in the vicinity of Akhir Kapusi (the Stabel Gate), Enormous damage was done.

Stamboul is a Mohtmmedan part of the Turkish capital, and covers the whole area enclosed by the Theodosian walls of the city. It contains the Seraglio, the principal mosques, mausoleums of the Sultans, the baths, the public offices of the Government and the existing remains of ancient Constantinople. Akhir Kapusi letds to the former site of the Sultans' stables.

No Gambling Order in New Zealand.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Wellington, N. Z., June 4.—The Postmaster-General of New Zealand has just published an order prohibiting gambling in any form, on pain of dismissal to the employees of the postal service.

The men resent the order, asking why they should be put under ban when the totalizer has been legalized.

Hilton Play at Westward Ho.

London, June 4.—Play started today in the British amateur golf championship at Westward Ho with 134 entries, the lowest number since 1904. H. H. Hilton is defending his title of British amateur champion ,and is installed as favorite.

DEFENCE ATTACKS DETECTIVE WITNESS AT LOS ANGELES

Legality of Payment of $4,000 Bribery Fine Questioned by Rogers.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 4.—Chief Counsel Rogers commenced to-day the cross-examination of Franklin. Rogers began by making a scathing attack on the witness.

"What were you fined by Judge Cabannis, when you pleaded guilty to the bribery?" was Rogers' opening question.

"I pleaded guilty, and was fined the sum of $4,000," answered Franklin.

"Did Mr. Ford have a talk with Judge Cabannis before he told you that your fine would be $4,000?"

"Not to my knowledge," answered Franklin.

"Did not Mr. Ford come out from Judge Cabannis' chamber and tell you you would be given immunity?"

"He did not," was the reply.

Further questions of the same nature by Mr. Rogers caused Assistant District-Attorney Ford to object.

This brought the following statement from Mr. Rogers:—

"This is a serious matter. I contend that the $4,000 paid by Franklin in this fine was not his property, despite the fact that Mr. Ford told Judge Cabannis that the transaction was O. K. I contend that the procedure was an outrage against a foreign judge."

Franklin, according to his testimony here, did not own the money used to pay his fine. Now what do you call it?"

According to rumors rife about the Court House, the county grand jury may be called upon to investigate certain matters having a connection with the Darrow case.

It is probable that the mysterious disappearance of a State witness, Harry Stallings, will be probed, with the view of punishing him. That John R. Harrington, the Chicago attorney who was employed by the McNamara defence, will go on the stand as a witness for the State in the Darrow trial, is indicated by his presence in Los Angeles.

Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, the San Francisco lodging housekeeper, who knew J. B. McNamara, and who was counted on as an important witness by the prosecution in the McNamara case, is in the city to testify for the State.

RURAL REGIMENTS ARE UNDER STRENGTH

Increased Allowance for Privates Fail to Increase the Recruiting as Anticipated.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., June 4.—The problem of securing men to go to camp with the rural regiments appears to be no nearer solution than it has ever been. With the idea of making recruiting through the country easier, the Militia Department last winter increased the pay of the privates from 50 cents to 75 cents a day, and that of other ranks to correspond; but as regards inducing men to leave positions at which they can earn at least $2 a day, the 75 cents is no more effective than was the half dollar.

The first camp of the rural corps commenced yesterday, and, as was expected, all the regiments are under strength, not one numbering over 300 men, the weakest being less than 200. Nevertheless they are considerably stronger, in proportion, than are the city regiments.

The total number of men under canvas is about 2,500.

Turkish Navy Is Mutinous

Demand Government's Permission to Fight—Refusal Followed by Revolt.

London, June 4.—It is reported that a mutiny has broken out in the Turkish navy. A portion of the navy, stung by the newspaper approaches of inactivity, demanded that the Government issue orders for the war vessels to fight. The Government refused, and the crews mutinied.

Italians Seize Psara Island.

Athens, June 4.—The Italian forces have occupied the Turkish island of Psara in the Aegean Sea. The island is entirely inhabited by Greeks.

"If this car, now within three days of its completion," Orlando proceeded, "does not rise from the oval of my hangar like a bird from its nest, and after a wide and circling flight descend again into the selfsame spot without any swerving from its direct course, then have I failed in my endeavor and must take a back seat with the rest. But it will not fail. I'm certain of success, Oswald. All I want just now is a sympathetic helper—you, for instance; some one who will aid me with the final fittings and hold his peace to all eternity if the impossible occurs and the thing proves a failure."

"Have you such pride as that?"

"Precisely."

"So much that you cannot face failure?"

"Not when attached to my name. You can see how I feel about that by the secrecy I have worked under. No other person living knows what I have just communicated to you. Every part shipped here came from different manufacturing firms; sometimes a part of a part was all I allowed to be made in any one place. My fame, like my ship, must rise with one bound into the air, or it must never rise at all. I was not made for petty accomplishment, or the slow plodding of commonplace minds. I must startle, or remain obscure. That is why I chose this place for my venture, and you for my helper and associate."

"You want me to ascend with you?"

"Exactly."

"At the end of three days?"

"Yes."

"Orlando, I cannot."

"You cannot? Not strong enough yet? I'll wait then,—three days more."

"The time's short. A month is scarcely sufficient. It would be folly, such as you never show, to trust a nerve so undermined as mine till time has restored its power. For an enterprise like this you need a man of ready strength and resources; not one whose condition you might be obliged to consider at a very critical moment."

Orlando, balked thus at the outset, showed his displeasure.

"You do not do justice to your will. It is strong enough to carry you through anything."

"It was."

"You can force it to act for you."

"I fear not, Orlando."

"I counted on you and you thwart me at the most critical moment of my life."

Oswald smiled; his whole candid and generous nature bursting into view, in one quick flash.

"Perhaps," he assented; "but you will thank me when you realize my weakness. Another man must be found—quick, deft, secret, yet honorably alive to the importance of the occasion and your rights as a great original thinker and mechanician."

"Do you know such a man?"

"I don't; but there must be many such among our workmen."

"There isn't one; and I haven't time to send to Brooklyn. I relied on you."

"Can you wait a month?"

"No."

"A fortnight, then?"

"No, not ten days."

Oswald looked surprised. He would like to have asked why such precipitation was necessary, but the tone in which this ultimatum was given was of that decisive character which admits of no argument. He, therefore, merely looked his query. But Orlando was not one to answer looks; besides, he had no reply for the same importunate question urged by his own good sense. He knew that he must make the attempt upon which his future rested soon, and without risk of the sapping influence of lengthened suspense and weeks of waiting. He could hold on to those two demons leagued in attack against him, for a definite seven days, but not for an indeterminate time. If he were to be saved from folly,—from himself—events must rush.

He, therefore, repeated his no, with increased vehemence, adding, as he marked the reproach in his brother's eye, "I cannot wait. The test must be made on Saturday evening next, whatever the conditions; whatever the weather. An air-car to be serviceable must be ready to meet lighthing and tempest and what is worse, perhaps, an insufficient crew." Then rising, he exclaimed, with a determination which rendered him majestic, "If help is not forthcoming, I'll do it all myself. Nothing shall hold me back; nothing shall stop me; and when you see me and my car rise above the tree tops, you'll feel that I have done what I could to make you forget—"

He did not need to continue. Oswald understood and flashed a grateful look his way before saying:

"You will make the attempt at night?"

"Certainly."

"And on Saturday?"

"I've said it."

"I will run over in my mind the qualifications of such men as I know and acquaint you with the result to-morrow."

"There are adjustments to be made. A man of accuracy is necessary."

"I will remember."

"And he must be likable. I can do nothing with a man with whom I'm not perfectly in accord."

"I understand that."

"Good-night then." A moment of hesitancy, then, "I wish not only yourself but Miss Scott to be present at this test. Prepare her for the spectacle; but not yet, not till within an hour or two of the occasion."

And with a proud smile in which flashed a significance which startled Oswald, he gave a hurried nod and turned away.

When in an hour afterwards, Doris looked in through the open door, she found Oswald sitting with face buried in his hands, thinking so deeply that he did not hear her. He had sat like this, immovable and absorbed, ever since his brother had left him.

XXXV.

Silence—and a Knock.

Oswald did not succeed in finding a man to please Orlando. He suggested one person after another to the exacting inventor, but none were satisfactory to him and each in turn was turned down. It is not every one we want to have share a world-wide triumph or an ignominious defeat. And the days were passing.

He had said in a moment of elation, "I will do it alone"; but he knew even then that he could not. Two hands were necessary to start the car; afterwards, he might manage it alone. Descent was even possible, but to give the contrivance its first lift required a second mechanician. Where was he to find one to please him? And what was he to do if he did not? Conquer his prejudices against such men as he had seen, or delay the attempt, as Oswald had suggested, till he could get one of his old cronies on from New York. He could do neither. The obstinacy of his nature was such as to offer an invincible barrier against either suggestion. One alternative remained. He had heard of women aviators. If Doris could be induced to accompany him into the air, instead of clinging sodden-like to the weight of Oswald's woe, then would the world behold a triumph which would dwarf the ecstacy of the bird's flight and rob the eagle of his kingly pride. But Doris barely endured him as yet, and the thought was not one to be considered for a moment. Yet what other course remained. He was brooding deeply on the subject, in his hangar one evening—(it was Thursday and Saturday was but two days off)—when there came a light knock at the door.

This had never occurred before. He had given strict orders, backed by his brother's authority, that he was never to be intruded upon when in this place; and though he had sometimes encountered the prying eyes of the curious flashing from behind the trees encircling the hangar, his door had never been approached before, or his privacy encroached upon. He started then, when this low but penetrating sound struck across the turmoil of his thoughts, and cast one look in the direction from which it came; but he did not rise, or even change his position on his workman's stool.

Then it came again, still low, but with an insistence which drew his brows together and made his hand fall from the wire he had been unconsciously holding through the mental debate which was absorbing him. Still he made no response, and the knocking continued. Should he ignore it entirely, start up his motor and render himself oblivious to all other sounds? At every other point in has career he would have done this, but an unknown, and as yet unnamed, something had entered his heart during this fatal month, which made old ways impossible and oblivion a thing he dared not court too recklessly. Should this be a summons from Doris! Should (inconceivable idea, yet is seized upon him relentlessly and would not yield for the asking), should it be Doris herself!

Taking advantage of a momentary cessation of the ceaseless tap tap, he listened. Silence was never profounder than in this forest on that windless night. Earth and air seemed, to his strained ear, emptied of all sound. The clatter of his own steady, unhastened heart-beat was all that broke upon the stillness. He might be alone in the Universe for all token of life beyond these walls, or so he was saying to himself, when sharp, quick, sinister, the knocking recommenced, demanding admission, insisting upon attention, drawing him against his own will to his feet, and finally, though he made more than one stand against it, to the very door.

"Who's there?" he asked, imperiously and with some show of anger.

No answer, but another quiet knock.

"Speak' or go from my door. No one has the right to intrude here. What is your name and business?"

With an outburst of wrath, which made the hangar ring, Orlando lifted his fist to answer this appeal in his own fierce fashion from his own side of the door, but the impulse paused at fulfilment, and he let his arm fall again in a rush of self-hatred which it would have pained his worst enemy, even little Doris, to witness. As it reached his side, the knock came again.

It was too much. With an oath, Orlando reached for his key. But before fitting it into the lock, he cast a look behind him. The car was in plain sight, filling the central space from floor to roof. A single glance from a stranger's eye, and its principal secret would be a secret no longer. He must not run such a risk. Before he answered this call, he must drop the curtain he had rigged up against such emergencies as these. He had but to pull a cord and a veil would fall before his treasure, concealing it as effectually as an Eastern bride is concealed behind her yashmak.

Stepping to the wall, he drew that cord; then with an impatient sigh, returned to the door.

Another quiet but insistent knock greeted him

In no fury now, but with a vague sense of portent which gave an aspect of farewell to the one quick glance he cast about the well known spot, he fitted the key in the lock and stood ready to turn it.

"I ask again your name and your business," he shouted out in loud command. "Tell them or ——" He meant to say, "or I do not turn this key." But something withheld the threat. He knew that it would perish in the utterance; that he could not carry it out. He would have to open the door now, response or no response. "Speak'" was the word with which he finished his demand.

The door remained unopened.

Stepping slowly back, he stared at its unpainted boards for a moment, then he spoke up quietly, almost courteously:

"Enter."

But the command passed unheeded; the latch was not raised, and only the slightest tap was heard.

With a bound he reached forward and pulled the door open. Then a great silence fell upon him and a rigidity as of the grave seized and stiffened his powerful frame.

The man confronting him from the darkness was Sweetwater.

XXXVI.

The Man Within and the Man Without.

An instant of silence, during which the two men eyed each other; then, Sweetwater, with an ironical smile directed towards the pistol lightly remarked:

"Mr. Challoner and other men at the hotel are acquainted with my purpose an dawait my return. I have come —— here he cast a glowing look at the huge curtain cutting off the greater portion of the illy-lit interior—"to offer you my services, Mr. Brotherson. I have no other motive for this intrusion than to be of use. I am deeply interested in your invention, to the development of which I have already lent some aid, and can bring to the test you propose a sympathetic help which you could hardly find in any other person living."

The silence which settled down at the completion of these words had a weight which made that of the previous moment seem light and all athrob with sound. The man within had not yet caught his breath; the man without held his, in an anxiety which had little to do with the direction of the weapon, into which he looked. Then an owl hooted far away in the forest, and Orlando, slowly lowering his arm, asked in an oddly constrained tone:

"How long have you been in town?"

The answer cut clean through any lingering hope he may have had.

"Ever since the day your brother was told the story of his misfortune."

"Ah! still at your old tricks! I thought you had quit that business as unprofitable."

"I don't know. I never expect quick returns. He who holds on for a rise sometimes reaps unlooked-for profits."

The arm and fist of Orlando Brotherson ached to hurl this fellow back into the heart of the midnight woods.

But they remained quiescent and he spoke instead:

"I have buried the business. You will never resuscitate it through me."

Sweetwater smiled. There was no mirth in his smile though there was lightness in his tone as he said:

"Then let us go back to the matter in hand. You need a helper; where are you going to find one if you don't take me?"

A growl from Brotherson's set lips. Never had he looked more dangerous than in the one burning instant following this daring repetition of the detective's outrageous request. But as he noted how slight was the figure opposing him from the other side of the threshold, he was swayed by his natural admiration of pluck in the physically weak, and lost his threatening attitude, only to assume one which Sweetwater secretly found it even harder to meet.

"You are a fool," was the stinging remark he heard flung at him. "Do you want to play the police-officer here and arrest me in mid air?"

"Mr. Brotherson, you understand me as little as I am supposed to understand you. Humble as my place is in society and, I may add, in the Department whose interests I serve, there are in me two men. One you know passably well—the detective whose methods, only indifferently clever show that he has very much to learn. Of the other—the workman acquainted with hammer and saw, but with some knowledge too of higher mathematics and the principles upon which great mechanical inventions depend, you know little, and must imagine much. I was playing the gawky when I helped you in the old house in Brooklyn. I was interested in your air-ship. Oh, I recognised it for what it was, notwithstanding its oddity and lack of ostensible means for flying—but I was not caught in the whirl of its idea; the idea by which you doubtless expect, and with very good reason too, to revolutionise the science of aviation. But since then I've been thinking it over, and am so filled with your own hopes that either I must have a hand in the finishing and sailing of the one you have yourself constructed, or go to work myself on the hints you have unconsciously given me, and make a car of my own."

PRESIDENT TAFT IS UNDISTURBED BY SIR WILFRID'S CRITICISM

Holds That He Was Entitled to Get All the Advantages He Could for the U. S.

AND WASN'T OBLIGED TO SHOW HIS HAND

Washington Unable or Unwilling to Appreciate Canada's National Sentiment.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Washington, June 3.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's not over fond reference to President Taft during the ceremonies of his re-endorsation in Montreal last week are still being quoted and commented on in Washington.

It is not that one more kick makes much difference to the poor, battered hound of the President's popularity, nor was this particular kick planted in a very vulnerable spot. But as an evidence of the apparently universal desire of former friends to "hand the President one" when he is least expecting it, the incident has a certain outstanding significance even in these days when throwing bombs at the Chief Executive has become something of a national pastime.

Mr. Taft's political managers and trainers are not so wroth about it as they might easily be without loss of dignity or prestige. Reciprocity was not a "party measure" in the sense that it had been advised and sanctioned by the leaders of the party. The fight in Congress is too recent to have made it possible for anyone to forget that the passage of the "pact" would have been defeated if it had depended upon the Republican votes in the House and in the Senate. It was the only thing Mr. Taft has done "off his own bat" in the four years of his presidency, and it is now being held up to him as a horrible example of what comes of trying to be President without due regard for the storied wisdom of your party.

There is another phase of the situation which is very hard for Canadians to understand. It arises from the almost universal conviction that Canada is not permanently sincere in its expression of a lack of desire ever to become part or parcel of the United States. That the attitude is a good one to assume for purposes of negotiating is freely admitted, but that it is a permanent and deep-seated part of the national policy does not appear to the average Senator or member of Congress as at all likely. Which mainly goes to show how two close neighbors can utterly fail to appreciate one another's point of view.

So far I have not found a single statesman—all residents of Washington are officially called statesmen—who believe that Sir Wilfrid was privy to the scheme of making Canada an "adjunct" of this country, commercially and politically, but I have only found a very few who can understand why that phrase in the correspondence between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt was able to fan into a fresh, fierce blaze the territory burned over in the reciprocity campaign of last September. It was disingenuous, they admit, but it was not intended for publication, at least not for immediate publication. The members of the Taft Cabinet knew that it was the reason adduced to pacify certain alarmed interests, and to allay a part of the opposition which the proposals would otherwise have aroused. But the principle of giving a little to-day that you may take back ten-fold to-morrow is a perfectly sound and universally accepted one. No one blames President Taft for holding it, and few take a very serious view of his having made public the specific way in which he believed it would apply to the Canadian negotiations.

* * *

President Taft personally is immune to interviewers and especially to Canadian interviewers these days. He has other things to occupy his mind. It is not difficult, however, to obtain from those who have talked with him recently an idea of his point of view on the Laurier pronouncement. The President is essentially a friendly individual. He has the disposition which goes with his girth and he deprecates harsh words. He has taken the ground, in private conversation, that Sir Wilfrid's criticism was unfair to this extent—he (Taft) was at perfect liberty to get what he could for the United States out of the bargain which was euphoniously called the "reciprocity pact" and was under no obligation to lay all his cards on the table or to reveal his inmost hopes and expectations.

* * *

The negotiations, he contends, could only by courtesy be called a "reciprocity agreement" in the form which they took. Canada tried to drive a hard bargain. Mr. Fielding asked and obtained more in the way of concessions than were included in the first draft of the agreement. Secretary Knox conceded them because he believed that they would be immaterial in comparison with the unspecified benefits which would come to the United States. Mr. Fielding, the Liberal party—even Sir Wilfrid himself—professed satisfaction with the bargain that had been made. Why, then, should the latter now heap reproaches on the President for having expected to derive from it certain benefits for the United States which, while not categorically stated, would follow automatically and of necessity from the terms of the agreement? If they did not, Canada would be no worse off; if they did, it would not be by stretching or straining any of the clauses of the widely discussed arrangement.

* * *

Sir Wilfrid's speech has given new impetus to a well-organized but very unobtrusive movement here to continue the reciprocity work and secure, if not all, at least a good part of the material benefits which it is believed would have come to many interests in the United States from it. The legislation is still on the statute books and there is no present prospect of its being removed. Sir Wilfrid's speech is interpreted as sealing the intentions of the Liberal party to implement the agreement as soon as circumstances permit the opportunity. And the interpretation goes farther. The endorsement of Theodore Roosevelt is taken as indicating that informal communications have passed, either directly or indirectly, between him and some of the Liberal leaders, and that his co-operation has been assured. Washington's strong point is drawing deductions, and it takes the whole responsibility for them. This is often fortunate.

MURDER TRIAL BEGINS TO-MORROW

Assault Case is First in the King's Bench.

John Cummings, accused of murdering his wife in Point St. Charles, will appear in the Court of King's Bench to-morrow for the commencement of his trial. A case of assault was being heard in the Court this morning.

CLAIM YOUTH OF 17 IS BOLD BURGLAR.

William Skelton, Aged 17, is Accused of Three Burglaries, and Admits One.

Unassuming, youthful and meek-looking William Skelton, aged 17, looked anything but the bold burglar that the police say he is, when he appeared before Judge Leet this morning.

For some time past there has been numerous burglaries reported from the east-end of the city and detectives as well as the police have been on the lookout for a man who seemed to have the knack of entering dwelling houses without leaving a trail behind him.

Constable Chaput of the Beaudry street police station arrested young Skelton as the latter was emerging from the home of Mr. Joseph Pichette on St. Catherine street, east, yesterday.

Of three charges of burglary this morning, he would admit but one. He will be sentenced on that charge on the 7th and he will be heard in preliminary investigation on the other two, on the same date.

MAYOR REQUEST OF GREATER POWERS.

Thinks Controllers Should Have Freer Hand in Purchasing.

Mayor Lavallee, at the meeting of the Board of Control to-day, spoke of the city's public works and contended that the controllers should possess greater powers so there would be less delay in calling for tenders. He also argued that the controllers, in certain instances, should be permitted to start public works without calling for tenders. He pointed out how, a week ago, the city had called tenders for a large number of bricks and how only one offer, for a small quantity, had been received. The controllers, the Mayor said, should get powers from the Council to purchase various materials direct when they were badly needed.

PRISONERS PUT UP FIGHT.

The once famous corner, known to the "pickpocket" world as "supper money" corner, Peel and St. Catherine streets, is becoming very unhealthy for the dips lately.

More light fingered gents have been picked up at that corner during the past six months than at any of the other busy street intersections. Harry Cullen and William McGrath are said by the police to have been operating at the corner yesterday afternoon. When apprehended by Detectives Laberge and Weston, they put up a good fight, but with the arrival of Constables Wells and McRae, they were promptly subdued.

When searched nothing was found on them. No one came forward to make a charge of theft from the person against them, and before Judge Leet this morning they both denied that they were vagabonds. They will be tried Friday.

LABOR CANDIDATES MAY GET POSITIONS.

Messrs. Narcisse Arcand and G. R. Brunet, the Labor candidates in Dorion division in the provincial elections, and Government candidates in so far as they were unopposed by the Government, are to be appointed to positions under the Government in connection with the labor department, it is rumored.

LONGSHOREMEN ELECT OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

Mr. George Poliquin Re-elected Secretary for Tenth Time.

The election of officers of the Syndicated Longshoremen of the Port of Montreal which has been going on for some days resulted in the election of Mr. James Sandeland as president. For the tenth consecutive year Mr. George Poliquin was elected secretary-treasurer. Mr. Sandeland has been connected with the labor movement for some years and Mr. Poliquin has been a careful, conservative officer. The result of the ballot follows:

President, James Sandeland; First vice-president, Jean Boule; second vice-president, J. S. Simard; French corresponding secretary, A. Laroche; English corresponding secretary, C. Wilkinson; secretary treasurer, Geo. Poliquin, assistant secretary-treasurer, J. A. Beaudry; Marshals, Pierre Gagnon, and Xavier Poitras; trustees, A. Mullins, G. Bertrand, Joseph Bousquet; sergeant-at-arms, J. B. Pelletier and Louis Laroche; interpreter, W. Mansfield.

In his inaugural address President Sandeland advocated peace and harmony. He expressed the hope that there would be no labor troubles on the water front in Montreal for many years.

CUBA'S PRESIDENT MAY PROCLAIM MARTIAL LAW.

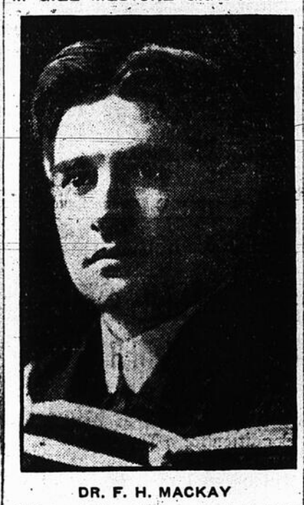

Special to The Montreal Star.

Havana, June 4.—The Cuban Senate to-day passed a bill granting the request of President Gomez, conveyed in a special message, that he be allowed to suspend the constitutional guarantees in such portions of the island as he deems necessary, and a special session of that body was ordered to determine whether the order shall be applicable to all parts of the country.

RIVER WATER IS FALLING.

Victoria Pier Now Shows Above the Water.

The water in the harbor is falling to-day, and if fair weather now prevails, it may be expected that the river will soon be back to its normal condition. At noon to-day the depth of the water in the 30-foot channel was 38 feet 6 inches, as against 39 feet and some inches which the water registered on Friday last. The lower wharves on the Victoria pier are now showing above water and men are again at work on barges lying in that vicinity. The floods did no damage.

LLOYD IS BLAMED FOR LOSS TO PORT IN WHEAT CARGOES

Buffalo Secures Forty-three Per Cent. of Canadian Crop for Transhipment.

The port of Buffalo last year, according to a report recently issued by the Department of Railways and Canals at Ottawa, diverted nearly half of the wheat grown in the Canadian West for transhipment through American channels to the Atlantic seaboard.

The extent of the leak in the flow of Canadian grain export was 43 per cent. and this, under different conditions, would have come to Montreal to be handled here and exported to Europe.

With the rapidly increasing acreage under cultivation in the western provinces of Canada, Buffalo's share of Canadian wheat this year will, in the opinion of well-informed shipping men, be considerably in excess of that which the American port secured last year at the expense of Montreal.

Even with the addition of Montreal's new elevator facilities, the work of constructing which the Harbor Commission has hurried to completion, Buffalo will still continue, if present conditions are not changed, to reap a heavier harvest of trade from the Canadian West.

Not Commissioners' Fault.

President G. W. Stephens, of the Montreal Harbor Commission stated, to-day that the Board, when it assumed control of the port in 1907, anticipated the business which would be offering from the provinces west of the Great Lakes and had done all in its power to divert the grain traffic to this port and away from Buffalo and other American centres along the upper lakes.

"It is not the fault of the Harbor Commission," he said, "that Buffalo got such a percentage of the wheat traffic in 1911. Our facilities here are capable of handling the entire Canadian crop and have been so for some time. Our plans now in course of construction anticipate, as well, the increased crop of the Canadian West for some years to come.

"What is needed here is more tonnage, if we are to handle the entire Canadian output of grain. Every steamer clearing from this port last season was loaded to capacity, when grain was taken and there was more offering, I understand, than there was tonnage to take it. If we are to handle the whole output of the Canadian West, we shall have to have more ships here to take it. The tonnage is, of course, increasing from year to year, but not enough to take the wheat which is now diverted at Buffalo and other places."

An investigation as to the hope of sufficient tonnage this year to handle the 1912 crop, showed that shipping men regarded the probability as unlikely. Insurance rates and the discrimination of the underwriters against the St. Lawrence route were blamed for the present state of affairs. So long, the marine men say, as the present high rates remain in force, so long will Buffalo and other American ports tap the Canadian business.

Insurance Rates Too High.

It was pointed out that the insurance rates demanded by Lloyds' on Canadian traffic had the effect of keeping from the ports of Montreal scores of tramp steamers who go where the probability of securing cargos are most likely. Of late years this class of steamers have been getting very scarce in this port and until they can be induced to come to Montreal, the port will lose what should properly be its own as the national one of Canada.

Shippers of grain, the steamship men state, cannot be expected to send their wheat to Montreal for purely patriotic reasons. Until the insurance rates are reduced or equalized by the Government the existing loss of business will have to be borne.

AUTO-BUS BY-LAW UP IN COUNCIL TO-DAY.

May Get Final Reading at Meeting This Afternoon.

An attempt will be made at the meeting of the City Council to-day to give the Auto-Bus By-Law its second and third reading. The first reading, a mere formality, was gone through with at the meeting of Council two weeks ago.

Those behind the project have informed members of the council that, unless the enactment is passed without further delay, it will be difficult for the company to raise the ten millions it needs for the enterprise, before the autumn.

EASTERN TOWNSHIP CLAIMS.

An Artistic Publication, Designed to Attract Immigrants and Manufacturers.

On the occasion of the organization of the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade and the inauguration of a publicity campaign to attract desirable immigrants, and make known the manufacturing and mining opportunities of the district, the Sherbrooke Daily Record has published a special number, replete with valuable information and illustrations.

The articles in the issue set forth in an interesting manner the many advantages of the Eastern Townships, which are justly claimed to be alike a garden of agriculture and a field for industrial opportunity, while the claims of this beautiful portion of Quebec province as a summer resort, are admirably brought out.

The special issue has also taken in a larger view in the shape of directing attention to the province as a whole, and its vast resources in agriculture, forests, mines, fisheries and water powers.

The edition is as valuable in extolling the many advantages of the Eastern Townships in particular and the province in general, as it is in furnishing another illustration of Canadian enterprise and artistic workmanship.

TWENTY MEN DESERT FROM H.M.S. CORNWALL.

Quebec, June 4.—H. M. S. Cornwall has lost twenty of her crew since she came to anchor in the harbor of Quebec. No fewer than a dozen deserted on Sunday night to the chagrin of the ship's officers.

EXPECTS REAL GOOD TIMES.

New York, June 4.—Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Tel. & Tel. Co. in an interview said:—"I don't think it matters who is nominated for or elected president. I am strongly of the opinion that during the next four years we are going to have prosperous times in America."

PRIVATE WHARVES NOT TO THE LIKING OF ENGINEER KENNEDY

Back from Philadelphia Where He Told Engineers of Facilities Here.

That the harbor of Montreal is unique for the fact that it is entirely owned by the Government and controlled by a commission representing the government, was the statement made this morning by Mr. John Kennedy, Consulting Engineer of the Montreal Harbor Board and dean of Canadian Engineers.

Mr. Kennedy has just returned from Philadelphia where, with 11 other delegates, he represented Canada at the International Navigation Congress held in that city. Mr. Kennedy speaking to a Star representative this afternoon stated that Montreal was, practically the only harbor owned by the Government and therefore, operated entirely in the interests of the people. In New York, he pointed out, the wharves were owned by different railway companies, and it often happened that these companies, opposing each other, neglected the interests of the people for their own private and personal interests.

"I told them that much at the Congress," said Mr. Kennedy laughingly, "and I also told them that when they visit this port on the 16th and 17th of this month, they will find much to interest them."

Asked if the equipment and freight-handling facilities of this harbor compared favorably with those of European ports, Mr. Kennedy stated that the equipments could not be compared for the reason that conditions are altogether different. "Our freight handling facilities compare favorably with those of American ports," said Mr. Kennedy. "We have better railway connections than have most ports in America, and the harbor, being run entirely in the interests of the people, supplies better conditions for work and traffic than do most other harbors. One great advantage of the harbor being owned by the government is that there is no injurious competition between the railroad companies. Their cars are taken down to the wharves and there left in charge of the Harbor Commissioners.

Count Tisza Has Broken Deadlock

Budapest, Hungary, June 4.—The deadlock in Parliament was broken to-day by Count Tisza, the new president of the Lower Chamber, who so successfully dragooned the noisy Opposition ists that the Government was able to carry its defence bills through all stages at a single sitting.

The tumult was terrific. All the members of the Opposition were supplied with whistles, trumpets, rattles or other instruments of the most discordant character and, kept up an ear-splitting din.

Howls of execrations met all Count Tisza's attempts to speak but finally, with the help of the members of the Right, he managed to carry the Army Bills which had blocked Parliamentary business for months. The Opposition intends to petition the Emperor to intervene.

MILK CONSUMERS MADE VICTIMS OF DEALERS' TROUBLES

Secretary of Dealers' Association Holds That Public Has to Take Milik 48 Hours Old.

Mr. W. F. Stevens, of Huntingdon, secretary of the Milk Shippers' Association, writes to the Star as follows:

"We need closer in spection, for on account of a break between the association and the larger dealers, some companies are now bringing milk in from the States, which is at least 48 hours older than the milk which people would otherwise receive, were the companies and the Association agreed upon the prices of milk.

Several years ago the city authorities enacted regulations regarding the milk coming into Montreal for consumption. Four inspectors were appointed, whose duty was to go among the farmers and have them comply with these regulations, which were subsequently approved by the Montreal Milk Shippers' Association in annual session. In most cases, the farmers willingly complied when the inspectors found it necessary to erect dairies, enlarge cow barns, or improve those already in use. This, together with the increased cost of milch cows, food and labour, caused the members of the Milk Shippers Association, at their semi-annual meeting, held last March, to fix the price of milk at 17c per gallon for the summer months and 22c for the winter months, delivered in the city. This was an increase of 2c per gallon over last year's prices.

"Many of the small milk dealers expressed their willingness to pay those prices, but the large companies demurred. Subsequently the directors of the association met in Montreal and asked representatives of the companies to meet them. The directors then explained to the representatives that their reason for asking for an increase, especially for winter milk, was the increased cost of production. The dealers offered 16c for the summer and 21c for the winter. The producers finally agreed to accept 16c for the summer.

"In the meantime the companies have secured milk from small farmers, whose dairies and cow-barns will not pass inspection. Also they have brought large quantities daily from gathering stations in the state of New York. Much of this milk must be from 36 to 48 hours old and off flavor before it reaches the consumer. We maintain that the city authorities should closely inspect this milk, and see that only a first class article goes out to the consumer. It looks as if the companies were anxious to get control of the milk situation, pay the farmer what they like, and charge as high a rate per quart as possible. All the farmers want is to be assured that after spending large sums to meet the city's requirements that they be not undersold by men who have no inspection, and are not obliged to comply with the city regulations."

CHURCH HONORS A DEAD PRIEST

Before the sermon on Sunday morning in St. John's Church, sympathetic reference was made to the deceased clergyman by the Rector, the Rev. Arthus Frenc. For some years past, the Rev. Chas. Baskett had been in the habit of coming to Canada and preaching the sermons during the summer months. In this way the congregation of St. John's had become familiar with his personality and the charm of his manner. Mr. French concluded by paying a high tribute of praise to the deceased clergyman.

The remains of the late Rev. C. R. Baskett, who died suddenly at the Andrews Home Friday were laid to rest in the Mount Royal cemetery. The body, after being embalmed, lay in the Crypt Chapel of St. John the Evangelist Church till to-day, the deceased gentleman being vested in his ecclesiastical robes and holding in his hands his chalice and prayer book.

At 8 a.m. yesterday a Requiem Celebration of the Holy Communion was celebrated in the Crypt Chapel, Rev. A. French being the celebrant, assisted by Revs. L. Smith, surate, and F. Elliott-Baker, Chaplain of the Andrews' Home. At 3 p.m. the burial office was read by Revs. A. French and Canon Renaud. Two favorite hymns of the lat Mr. Beckett, namely "When I survey the wondrous Cross," and "Jesus Lives," were sung during the service.

There were many among the mourners whom the reverend gentleman had brought out from England to Canada. A number of beautiful wreaths expressed the high esteem in which he was held by all who knew him.

The Rev. Elliott-Baker officiated at the burial service. The coffin was of polished English oak, and bore the inscription: "Charles Robert Baskett, Priest.... Died May 30th, 1912. Aged 64 years. Requiescat in Peace." On behalf of the deceased gentleman's brother, the Chaplain wishes to express his very warm appreciation of the courtesy and sympathy of both clergy and laity shown on this accasion.

A MAIL ADDRESS FOR CANADIANS IN LONDON.

Before sailing, Canadian visitors to the Old Country may arrange to have their mail forwarded in care of The Star's London Office, where it will be held until called for, or forwarded to any point desired.

All such mail should be plainly addressed "Mr. _____, c.o. The Montreal Star" (not "The Star"), 17 Cockspur street, Trafalgar Square, London, England.

The Montreal Star Office in London offers every comfort and convenience for visitors, and is now universally regarded as the rendezvous of Canadians in London.

PARTY OF BRITISH MANUFACTURERS CROSSING OCEAN

Visiting Manufacturers Will Be Welcomed in Montreal on June 15.

The party of British manufacturers and business men who are to tour Canada on the look-out for opportunities for the establishment of branch industries and investment of capital, will arrive in Quebec on Friday or Saturday next, on the Empress of Ireland. Mr. W. Leonard Palmer, the organizing director of the tour, is in charge, and there are 65 in the party, which includes representatives of many of the largest business and manufacturing concerns in Great Britain.

At Quebec the party will be officially welcomed on behalf of the Canadian Government, and subsequently by Mayor Drouin and the Quebec Board of Trade. It is probable that they will be received by the Governor-General at the Citadel, and by the Lieutenant-Governor at Spencerwood. If time permits, they will pay a visit to Montmorency Falls, and be given a luncheon at the Kent House.

The party will then travel by special train over the Intercolonial on a tour of the Maritime Provinces, visiting among other places the great steel and coal plant at Sydney, the Nova Scotia Steel Works at New Glasgow, and places of interest in Halifax, St. John, Moncton, Fredericton, and other centres.

On their way west, the party will remain one day in Montreal, but will spend several days in the city on their return journey. They will arrive here on the journey west at ten o'clock on Saturday, June 15. There will be an official reception by the civic authorities and the members of the leading business organizations, including the Board of Trade, the Montreal Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association ,and the Chambre de Commerce. After this the visitors are likely to be the guests of the city at a luncheon on Mount Royal and a drive around the city.

The various organizations now have the arrangements for the reception of the visitors in hand. When the party returns from its tour of Western Canada, it is the intention to then give the visitors an opportunity of inspecting the industrial establishments of the metropolis, and it is probable thatt hey will be given a farewell luncheon or dinner before their departure.

From Montreal on its westward journey, the party will proceed to Ottawa for a two days' visit, then to Toronto, Hamilton, London, and other leading cities in Ontario. They will go right through to the coast, the entire tour occupying two months. Everywhere elaborate preparations have been made for their welcome. At Toronto the Mayor and civic officials, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and the Board of Trade, are co-operating for a joint reception and entertainment. Mr. John Boyd, as special Canadian representative, will accompany the party throughout the entire tour.

BRANDT IS BACK IN DANNEMORA; ANOTHER APPEAL

Judge Rosalsky's Revocation of Thirty-Year Sentences Leaves the Way Open.

New York, June 4.—Folke E. Brandt was taken back to Dannemora prison to-day. For several weeks the former valet of the banker, Mortimer L. Schiff, has been in the city, on a writ of habeas corpus which was obtained on the ground that he was illegally sentenced, after he had served five years of a thirty year term given him after pleading guilty to burglary committed in Mr. Schiff's house.

Brandt's final appeal on the writ of habeas corpus is expected to come before the Court of Appeals to-morrow.

Brandt was taken from the Tombs to the Grand Central Station in a taxicab, in charge of a confidnetial agent of Superintendent of Prisons Scott. Brandt will reach Dannemora at seven o'clock to-night.

In case Brandt's appeal goes against him, it will still be possible to obtain another writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that he is illegally confined, because in open Court a few weeks ago Judge Rosalsky revoked his thirty year sentence and recommended a new trial.

VICTORIAN ORDER NURSES WILL BE "SHOWMEN"

Practically All Receipts at Dominion Park Thursday Will Go to Order.

Victorian Nurses' Day at Dominion Park on Thursday next promises to be a highly interesting occasion. Mrs. J. B. Learmont and Lady Drummond are the moving spirits in the affair, and they have the help of hard-working and representative committees. There will be special programmes for both afternoon and evening, and practically the whole of the receipts of the day will go to the funds of the Victorian Order of Nurses. The ladies of the order and their friends will act as the "showmen" for the time being. In the Vaudeville Theatre the special attractions will include displays by the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association's champion fencing and sabre men.

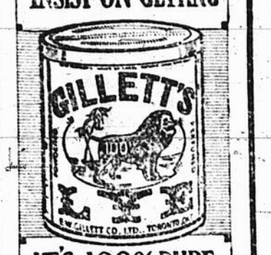

The general management committee is as follows:—Convenor, Mrs. J. B. Learmont, assisted by Mesdames Walton, Drinkwater, A. Whitney, Macarow, Lady Drummond, Mesdames L. Lessenden, A. Fry, C. Morgan, members of the House Committee, and Mesdames, H. B. Carmichael, P. MacKenzie, Chisholm McCormick, Little, the Misses C. B. Bancroft and H. Reid, and Mrs. Quirk associated with Mrs. T. Fessenden, conveners of District Committees.

The committee in charge of the Scenic Railway which is sure to prove as popular as ever is:—Convenor, Mrs. Ware, assisted by Mesdames W. Thompson, C. Hussner, N. Coady Holland, J. Rei, Dunkley, Ross, Dunn, P. Murphy, McGuire, Joslin, E. Thurston, T. Watt and the Misses Reid, Braddwen, K. Carey, Hyner, Redding, Delahanty, Fice, Norman, Ware Invariety, A. & L. Shute, Kirka, M. & T. White, and Noton.

Dolls.—Booth where beautifully dressed dolls will be sold—Convenors, the Misses M. & L. Samson assisted by Mesdames R. Samson, L. Wilkinson and the Misses Sutherland, Willis, Mosley, Wilkinson, Davison.

Tables for The High Teas, which are in the hands of the Westmount Branch can be reserved by ringing up either Mrs. Arthur Fry or Mrs. Colin Morgan.

THE CONGREGATIONAL UNION CONVENTION.

History of Sect in Canada is Interesting One.

The Congregational Union of Canada will begin its annual Congress in Zion Church to-morrow. While the Congregational Church in the Dominion is comparatively small as compared with other sects, its history is not uninteresting. There seems little question that the Church was founded by emigrants from England and provided with ministers direct from that country, although there may have been one or two scattered missions established by minister from Vermont. The first actual church of which there is an authenticated record is that set up in Quebec City in 1801 by a London Missionary clergyman named Benton. The first years of this congregation were marked with a certain amount of intolerance at the hands of the authorities, and Mr. Benton was refused permission to officiate as a minister. On his publishing a pamphlet commenting on this injustice, he was imprisoned for six months and fined heavily.

The history of Independency, Separatism, or, as it is called in the present day, Congregationalism, really dates back to a small band of English exiles who for the sake of their faith took up their residence in Leyden, Holland towards the end of Queen Elizabeth's reign. There they stayed until 1616, when Henry Jacob, a graduate of Oxford, returned to England and set up an Independent Church in Southwark, London. The Act of Uniformity, passed under Charles II's reign in 1662, deprived about 2000 clergymen of their livings, among whom were many Independants. These with the Puritans sailed for this continent, and settled in America.

The general principle that governs the Congregationalist body is that every church is an independent unit and not subject to the rules and authority of any central body. It is an interesting fact that the present Congress is being held exactly two and a half centuries after the Act of Uniformity was passed.

PHARMACY STUDENTS.

Graduating Class Receive Their Medals and Diplomas.

The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Montreal College of Pharmacy was held following the distribution of prizes and diplomas to the successful students during the past year.

The report of W. H. Chapman, secretary, showed a substantial increase of students and also showed a small balance on the credit side of the financial report.

The following were presented with diplomas and prizes:

Diploma of the college—E. R. Beleniss, W. M. Barnes.

—Dr. H. St. George's medals—J. E. Parent, silver medal senior chemistry; H. Mulligan, senior medal botany.

College prizes—Botany class — J. Z. A. Fortin, J. N. Roinville, Chemistry, senior class—J. Choquette, E. Rivet. Chemistry junior class—H. Mulliban. Materia medica—Junior class—A. Jette.

Certificates —Botany — H. Mulligan (honors), J. Z. A. Fortin, J. N. Rainville, J. Gagnon, Chas. Hillrich, W. M. Barnes.

Chemistry, senior class — J. E. Parent (honor), J. Choquette (honor), E. Rivet (honor).

Chemistry, junior class—H. Mulligan, W. Loebel, Leo Jeubert, J. N. Rainville, C. Hillrich, H. Normton, L. A. Casey, S. Frischling.

Materia medica, senior class—E. R. Beleniss, H. Mulligan, W. M. Barnes.

Materia medica, junior—A. Jette, C. R. Reeson.

The scrutineers, A. B. Scarff and J. N. Rainville, announced as a result of the ballot the following as officers and members of the board for the year 1912-13: Mr. D. Watson, president; C. I. Covernton, vice-president; W. H. Chapman, sec.-treasurer; A. Albert, J. E. Tremble, A. T. Christie, W. S. Stone, O. H. Tansey, L. G. Ryan, E. Bernard, T. R. Goulden and J. V. Murray.

Mr. D. W. Bole addressed the graduating class, and votes of thanks to the president and retiring members of the board closed the proceedings.

Constable Struck by Street Car.

Constable Robitaille of the Chenneville street station was struck by a street car last night at the crossing of St. Denis and Beaubien streets. The constable escaped with a few slight bruises about the legs. He was taken to his home, and will be able to resume his duties in a few days.

The average cup of tea or coffee contains from 1½ to 2½ grains of "caffeine"--the drug that you read about here

Tea and Coffee drinkers often suffer from headache, nervousness, indigestion, biliousness, heart irritation and other symptoms of ill health ---due to "caffeine," the drug in their tea and coffee.

The cause is often not understood until expert medical test shows up the bald facts

One can get relief from the ills caused by tea and coffee by quitting them for 10 days and using

POISON SQUAD MEMBER COLLAPSES UNDER TEST

Philadelphia Student, in Serious Condition for a Time, but Has Recovered.

COMPANIONS ARE SICK.

Every Member of Band Suffers Nausea as Result of Caffeine Experiments.

Philadelphia, May 11.—Serious results have followed the feeding of caffeine, a drug lurking in chocolate as well as coffee, to the eight student members of the "poison squad" of the Hahnemann Medical College here. All have been subject to severe headaches and serious attacks of nausea, while one member of the squad was in such a serious condition after taking the caffeine-laden water for the first twenty days that he had to be placed in a special ward in the hospital. He received constant attention, has recovered and at the college is said to have rejoined the squad.

The "poison squad" at the Hahnemann college was formed very quietly. It came into existence on March 1 and is under the direct supervision of Dr. Edmund T. Nesbit, director of the Hering laboratory of the college.

Dr. Nesbit called for volunteers from among the students. He said he wanted men who were willing to do something for the benefit of humanity at large, even though it might be to their own discomfiture. Twenty-five students volunteered. Of these fourteen of the most perfect physically were chosen, eleven as regular members of the squad and three as alternates.

* * * * * *

For thirty days the members of the squad were given doses of caffeine while Dr. Nesbit and his assistants made personal observations, taking the pulses and temperature of the members of the squad and making notes on their general physical condition. It was not until within the last few days that one member of the squad weakened under the experiment to such an extent that it was necessary to send him to the hospital. Dr. Nesbit refuses to reveal the name of the student who collapsed, but declares that through proper treatment immediately he soon recovered.

* * * * * *

The caffeine was administered in a solution and was mixed with the water the squad drank. The students did not know when they were getting the caffeine. There were no stated times for giving it in order to keep the mind of the student free from worry in order that the physical condition might not be changed materially through the action of the brain.

Before joining the "poison squad" each student had to sign a release any action for damages against the college.

* * * * * *

The laboratory was organized about fifteen months ago with Dr. Nesbit as director, and almost immediately an exhaustive study was started to ascertain the destructive qualities of caffeine as used in food stuffs.

* * * * * *

The students continued to live at the dormitories or at boarding houses, but they were required to take their meals at the training table located in the hospital near the diet kitchen. Before each meal the temperature was recorded, the pulse and respiration were taken and the blood pressure was tested. During the period the drug was administered only Dr. Nesbit knew the amount apportioned to each man and when and in what quantity it was administered.

TO LOWER SUEZ TARIFFS.

Canal Receipts Show Increase of $866,000.

Paris, June 4.—An increase in the receipts of $866,000 over the preceding year was reported at the annual meeting of the Suez Canal Company to-day. The total receipts for the year were $27,762,000. This, it was announced, justified a reduction in the tariff on vessels, which will again be lowered next January.

TUESDAY, JUNE 4, 1912.

MALTA AND CANADA.

THE Defence Conference, which has just closed at Malta, was of the utmost importance. Some measure of its importance may be got from the fact that the Prime Minister and the First Lord of the Admiralty journeyed all the way from London to attend it, and that Lord Kitchener came from Egypt on a cruiser for the same purpose. The question up for consideration was an open secret. It was the problem of the defence of the Mediterranean, now that the pressure of the German menace has withdrawn the old "Gibraltar" squadron to the English Channel and the old Mediterranean squadron to Gibraltar. The Mother Country has been drawing in her tentacles in the presence of danger, and the Mediterranean has ceased to be "a British Lake."

Malta is the pivot of Mediterranean defence. It is superbly fortified; its dockyards have cared for the monsters of the deep for many a decade; its guns could shelter a shattered squadron, if ill-luck came. Ammunition and food can be stored there in unlimited quantities, and is entirely safe. The native population is not considerable enough to constitute any real burden in case of a prolonged siege. No fleet of even modern battleships could drive an attack home in the face of its defending batteries, and live to land an occupying force. Thus it was perfectly fitting that the war chiefs of the Empire should gather at Malta, at a time when outside demands had denuded the Mediterranean of her warships, and discuss on the spot what is to be done to maintain British prestige.

The command—or, at all events, the security—of the Mediterranean, is absolutely essential to the British Empire. We hold Egypt by it. Our "army of occupation" is altogether insignificant in view of the possibilities of local revolt and outside interference—to say nothing of a Moslem 'Holy War"—and we keep our place on the Nile because Egypt is practically an island, and the British Navy commands all approaches to it. If you will glance at a map, you will see how much like an island it is. It is cut off from all danger of attack on the West by the Sahara desert. On the south, there lies the empty Soudan and savage mid-Africa. On the north is the Mediterranean. On the east, the Suez Canal, the Red Sea and Arabia. So there are no approaches to Egypt which any hostile Government could use, which are not commanded by supreme sea power.

Then Britain must command the Mediterranean—or have it in surely friendly hands—because of the Suez Canal. That is her route to India; and it would be quite as bad to have the Mediterranean fall into hostile hands as to have an enemy get possession of the Suez or occupy Gibraltar. Yet, in spite of all these things depending upon our hold of the Mediterranean, we have had to withdraw our splendid battle fleets very largely from these crucial waters. If the apprehension regarding the imminence of the danger in the North Sea were not so real and so large, Britain would be in a panic to-day over her enfeebled condition along the route to Egypt and India. In fact, our position in the Mediterranean would not be tolerable at all if it were not for our intimate and super-friendly relations with France. We hold the Mediterranean to-day by a Franco-British alliance. A very few years ago, we held it alone against the world.

It was to consider this vital problem that the Malta Conference has been held. Lord Kitchener apparently felt that Egypt was in danger through the weakening of British power and prestige off her coasts, and demanded a careful study of the situation by the highest authorities in the Empire. The result has been one of sinister significance. Many expected that, despite the peril in the North Sea, a number of battleships would be detached from the Home squadrons and returned to the Mediterranean. We would have to risk something from Germany, they said, rather than see Egypt lost to us and India aroused.

But that has not been done. The official statement does not tell us that a single additional battleship will be added to the Mediterranean forces. The island is to be kept fortified; more submarines are to be employed; but the battleships are to be retained within swift reach of the North Sea.

There is Canada's duty for her, written once more in letters of iron. With all the great interests at stake, and the huge pressing perils at hand in the Eastern Mediterranean, Britain deliberately decides that she cannot return a single "Dreadnought" to watch in this part of the world. How black would our case be, then, if we insist upon having our Canadian "Dreadnoughts" chained to coasts which are not in the highest danger and cruising in seas where no peril can arise? If the British Admiralty feels compelled to risk Egypt and India when all are genuine, unscared, is it likely that it will be wise to 'risk' [illegible]

NO AUTOBUS MONOPOLY.

THE [illegible] overcrowded condition of our street [illegible] as to lead to cries from any proposal [illegible] the pressure, either by underground or [illegible] of London competition. But this feeling of exas[illegible] is only a temporary inconvenience, [illegible] as to sweep away in its position for before [illegible] examination. If we do we may fall out [illegible] pan into the fire, and find ourselves tied up [illegible] term of years by a monopoly which will effectually [illegible] the very relief we now seek.

For example: The Autobus proposal, now before the City Council, should be stripped at once of all monopoly features. If a company proposes to bring competition into the business of local transportation, it should be free in the widest possible sense, that is, it ought to be willing itself to face competition as well as to compel the Street Railway Co. to face it. If competition in local transportation is the right principle and this is itself more than doubtful, then we want it to work freely, and not be confined to one Autobus Company. If we are to have competition let us have lots of it. The streets of London are full of it.

It will be a danger to the future of the city to create another monopoly at this time. We have monopolies enough. We do not, at all events, want to create an Autobus monopoly. The only way in which the rather dismal and gruesome Autobus can be tolerated on the crowded streets of this city at all, is by opening the gate to any man who wants to pay an Autobus for hire or for fares, and so keeping any one Autobus Company from getting a public franchise of great value for nothing.

THE AMERICAN SITUATION.

THE logical development of the Roosevelt-Taft situation would be two Republican tickets. After the savage campaign which, so far, from closing with the end of the "primary" election, is becoming more savage as the Convention approaches, it is farcical to pretend that President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt are now candidates of the same party. They could not be further apart if one were a Democrat and the other a Republican. For the Roosevelt "rooters" to turn in now and work for Taft, or for the Taft managers to swing in behind Roosevelt, would be an exhibition of frank political cynicism which must surely disgust even so busy and careless a people as the Americans.

There are, of course, a lot of working politicians not much in the limelight who could support either section of the party if it bore the magic stamp of "regularity." The nomination at Chicago will probably go to that section which succeeds best in impressing these "loose fish", with its ability to serve them. They care little for men and less for "issues," but a great deal for victory and its "spoils"; and they will be for the man who has the best chance of getting them what they want. At a first glance, we might say that this must be Roosevelt, there being now admittedly no chance of Taft's election. But the Taft people insist that there is equally no chance of Roosevelt's election, in which case it becomes a question with the "loose fish" as to which leader they would rather follow into a camp of Valley Forge for four years.

Taft can lead his party to defeat without utterly smashing it to pieces. They will simply go into exile for a quadrennium with much of their organization and framework intact, hoping for better luck next time. But the surrender to Roosevelt would be pretty well the end of what has been known as the Republican party, no matter whether he won or lost. So, if it is a choice of leaders to head for defeat, Taft is an easy favorite. But Roosevelt does offer a chance of victory. This must be apparent to any who look at the situation with an honest and sincere intent to learn what it means. Any man who is so remarkably a popular hero as to have been able to fight the entire Republican "machine" to a standstill by an appeal to the people in but a few of the States, may easily raise a popular wave by his campaign for the Presidency which will sweep him into the White House over all obstacles.

Of course, there are plenty of these "loose fish" who might even prefer defeat with Taft to victory with Roosevelt. They would take a four-years' holiday rather than wreck the beloved party as they have known it all their lives. But do they all feel this way? Four years is a long time, and much may happen in the meanwhile. For instance, if the party is defeated under Taft, may not the Progressives make such progress in the quadrennium of starvation as to get possession of the "machine" before 1916? Or may not the Democrats, as the only party which seems capable of doing things, gather about it the more solid elements in the nation, and settle down to a long lease of power? On the other hand, a Roosevelt victory, while it may shake things up a bit, will not give the Democrats four years in office, nor will it prove fatal to the private ambitions of those who rally to the Roosevelt banner.

About the only thing that stands out clearly is that, if the nomination of Taft as the "regular" candidate is persisted in, it will be a nomination for defeat. Hope will be frankly abandoned by such a step. It will be a form of saying "Anything to beat Roosevelt." Then the Democrats will have their opportunity. If the Roosevelt movement looks dangerous before polling day, we may see a lot of "slumping" from the Taft ranks to the Democratic candidate—provided he is not Bryan or an imitator. Still, if the Democrats name a man at all welcome to Wall Street, they may send their own Radicals over to Roosevelt, and elect him triumphantly. It is a perilous situation all round for the "Interests," with the sovereign people in a condition resembling quick-silver. The choice certainly seems to lie between Roosevelt or a Democrat—with the possibility that that Democrat may be Bryan.

The increasing observance of the King's Birthday is a sign which all who believe that we work too hard on this Continent, will welcome with joy. It comes at an ideal period in the year for a holiday, and we are much more apt to have too few than too many holidays in summer. The people of Canada will be the better for another June day stolen from labor and spent in the open; and our accumulation of products at the end of the year will not be less. A good holiday soon pays for itself in increased output. Then the Crown, being the only formal bond uniting the Empire, cannot be kept too constantly in evidence before a people perpetually confronted with Republican ideals.

The proposal of the Cuban President to suspend the constitution indicates that he regards the situation as serious. Race feeling is always serious; and it is especially so when one race finds itself in a position of political and economic inferiority, but great numerical power. Even if the Americans took Cuba over, they would have a lot of unpleasant responsibility unloaded upon them in this very particular—a responsibility they had far better permit the native Cubans to bear, at least in theory. American battleships and regiments can always be moved to points of real danger under the formal orders of the Cuban Government. Cuban Independence looks, at this distance, like a shrewd political policy.

Suited Nobody.

Boston Traveller.—Ohio is now finding fault with its primary law, and is convinced that it is not fair to the people nor to the candidates. Massachusetts found this out also. Hindsight in these matters may be a very fine thing, but foresight would be much better. In the rush to enact something which appeared to be new and with the idea the people were to be pleased, the legislators of both states rushed into law a nondescript enactment which suited nobody and frustrated the very object which was sought, i. e., a fair and clear expression of the will of the voters. There are a lot of people running around this world who want to do things and do not know how, and the legislators of Ohio and Massachusetts may be included in the list and placed up in the front row.

Letters to Editor

A Reply to Mr. Sweezey.

To the Editor of The Montreal Star:

Sir,—I note in your issue of May 24, an "interview" with Mr. R. O. Sweezey, of Quebec, which is an unjustifiable criticism of the work of the Commission of Conservation. I am in receipt of the following letter from Mr. Sweezey:

Quebec, May 25, 1912.

Mr. James White,
Sec. Conservation Comn.,
Ottawa, Ont.

My Dear Mr. White,—

You may have seen on the last page of the Montreal Star of the 24th inst. a rather awkward heading to a harmless criticism of the Commission's report on the water-powers of Quebec. I regret that The Star's scribe has presented my words under such a label, as it seems to cast an unpleasant reflection on the valuable and important work of Messrs. Denis and White.

My words to the representative of The Star were meant to show that the estimate of the Commission is most conservative, and the point being that certain powers, which are apparently too small for a pulp and paper mill, might be improved to double their reported capacity; thus it is well worth while investigating before condemning a water power as too small because the report places it at a certain figure.

You will see for yourself, however, that the "interview" in its entirety does not cast any slur such as the heading would imply.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) R. O. SWEEZEY.

In the report it is stated distinctly that the volume is put forward not as an exhaustive compendium of the water powers of Canada, but as a compilation of our present knowledge of it—a very different thing. Mr. Sweezey's remarks, therefore, are superfluous and uncalled for.

To put it as concisely as possible. If the officials of the Commission of Conservation were gifted with omniscience, they would know more than they actually do know. The interview is an excellent example of the facility with which judgment based upon superficial knowledge of a subject, may result in misunderstanding a valuable report—the only one of its kind that has ever been published.

Yours truly,

JAMES WHITE,
Secretary.

The Autobus By-law.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—I have noticed in the columns of the press of this city that attention is being drawn to a scheme now before the City Council, to give an exclusive franchise for a term of ten years, to operate autobuses, for fares, on certain streets of our city, to a company now being formed for that purpose.

Is the Star in favor of the proposed autobus by-law, now before the Council? And is the Star in favor of giving such an exclusive omnibus franchise, to the Autobus Company, which is now pleading for this rich plum?

The Fine Arts

The Dollfus Art Sale.

At the sale recently held in Paris, of the Dollfus art collection, consisting of eighty-four old pictures and thirty-one drawings, $124,091 was realized. A portrait presumed to be of the Countess of Essex, by Lawrence, brought $2400. A portrait of Gevartius by Rubens brought $11,990. "Nymph and Faun" attributed to Carésme, but by many critics believed to be by Fragonard, sold for $1510. A "Portrait of a Miniaturist," also thought to be by Fragonard, brought $5200. Largilliere's "Woman as Diana" fetched $5,200. Portrait of a man by Ferdinand and Bol (formerly ascribed to Rembrandt), sold for $7300. "The Witch of Endor" by Eeckhout (also formerly thought to be Rembrandt), went for $7,200. Frans Hals's "Laughing Man" went for $5200. Maas's "Portrait of Dr. Heinnius" (formerly rated a Rembrandt), went for $5700. A landscape by Ruysdael fetched $3200. Among the drawings sold were two Boucher, which brought $100 and $270; also two Fragonards, which brought $1800 and $310. Mr. Kleinberger paid $8030 for the "Fishing Boats at the Mouth of the Meuse," a fine work by Cuyp. Guardi's "Piazza di San Marco" was sold for $4180, and the "Riva dei Schiavoni" for $2090.

A Great Spaniard.

Writing, the other day, of Zuloaga, the Spanish painter, Thiebault Sisson compared him with El Greco, and said of him:

"Zuloaga is the painter of the soil and the race. Issue of a family of artists in the Basque provinces, where the damascening of steel is carried on with taste, virtuosity and audacity in hundreds of little workshops to-day. Ignacio Zuloaga expatriated himself early in life, at twenty years of age, refusing to associate himself any longer with the paternal labors and preoccupations. The demon of color tempted him. Ceding to its suggestions and, like the young artists of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, looking to Italy as the only home of art, he set forth, with his knapsack on his back and his walking stick in his hand, for the Promised Land. Arriving in Rome, he found neither advice nor masters to his liking, and he left for Paris. He found the place to his taste, but life at Paris is expensive, even on a moderate scale. For three or four years then Zuloaga wandered about Spain, occasionally going home to rest and to get a square meal, then starting of again, staying for weeks or for months at Toledo, Avila, Segovia or San Sebastian. During these years of vagabondage he worked, and worked hard. He studied the bull rings and the toreros, becoming a true aficionado.

"Returning to Paris finally, Zuloaga lodged in an old house on Montmartre with a number of other Spanish artists; they did their cooking and housekeeping in common; they studied at a free school, where Carriere came two or thre times a week to criticise. Carriere encouraged him to try a big picture, and he painted "La Veille de la Corida" (The Eve of the Bull Fight). He sent this to an exhibition of the Libre Esthetique, at Brussels; there it was not only hung but caused a mild sensation, and it was bought by the Belgian Government for the Brussels Museum. That was fourteen years ago; it determined the artist's career."

HOW THE TITANIC WENT DOWN.

In all the mass of material printed concerning the loss of the Titanic, probably the most authentic, and at the same time the most thrilling because told in the most simple and unostentatious way, description of "How the Titanic Went Down," is that of Second Officer Charles H. Lightoller, told before the British Inquiry Board. The British inquiry brought out facts overlooked in the testimony taken in Washington and in New York. Fragmentary reports were cabled over. The following is the complete story as contained in the London Times of May 22:—

In reply to the Solicitor-General, Mr. Charles H. Lightoller, second officer of the Titanic, said that when he came on deck from his bunk half an hour after the collision the steam was escaping out of the boilers and making so great a roaring noise that it was difficult to hear anything in the way of orders or talk. He met the chief officer, Mr. Wilde, and was told by him to see to the uncovering of the boats. He was on the port side of the boat deck superintending this work in connection with boats 4, 6 and 8. When the boats were uncovered he met the captain and asked him if they were to be swung out, and the captain said: "Yes." At this time there were very few passengers on the boat deck. The captain also gave him directions to see that the women and children were put into the boats. The ship was on an even keel when he came on deck. About three-quarters of an hour later, while he was engaged in the uncovering and the swinging out of the boats, he noticed that the vessel had a list to port and was down by the head. This was an hour and a half after the collision. He did not notice the list himself until he heard Mr. Wilde giving the order to the passengers who were now assembled on the boat deck—to go to the starboard side with a view to counteracting the list.

The Gangway Doors.

At this time women and children were being helped into the boats in numbers consistent with the boats' being lowered and launched with safety. One boat, No. 6, had 42 persons on board. His intention was to get more persons into the boats when the boats were afloat. He, therefore, gave the boatswain orders to go down and open the gangway on E deck — one of the lower decks — in order to allow more persons to get into the boats when they were in the water. He did not know whether the boatswain carried out this order. He never saw the boatswain again. But he thought it unlikely that the order was executed, for if it had been the open gangway doors would have been noticed by those in the boats when they were lying off the ship.

The President said it was suggested to him by one of the Assessors that the witness was unlikely to have ordered these gangway doors to be opened on E deck owing to the danger of letting in more water when the ship sank to the level of E deck.

The witness said that at such a time it was difficult to think of every consideration.

The President.—You told us yesterday that before you went on deck after the collision, you were told that the water was up to F deck?—Yes, my lord.

I do not know whether you did or not, but I suppose you realized that the ship was taking in more and more water as you were attending to the boats?—Yes, my lord; but I did not think at that time that the ship was going down.

Did the men in the boat know that those gangway doors would be open?—Hanging about the ship they could not very well fail to see them. If the doors were open the lights would be shining through, and the boats would very soon be hailed by people at the doors. The boatswain has to use his common sense a little, and he would naturally hail a boat and so let them know. A calm night like that your voice would carry a very long way.

The Launching of No. 4.

Mr. Lightoller next referred to the launching of No. 4 boat from A deck. They pulled the boat in and made it fast right close to the wire. He thought that the ship righted when the order was given to the passengers to go over to the starboard side.

The President—Do you mean that the shifting of the passengers on deck cured the list?—Yes. I think, with the number of the passengers, it would.

The Solicitor-General said No. 4 was the boat to which the greasers Ranger and Scott slipped down the falls. Their evidence was that there were 40 people in the boat. Mr. Lightoller replied that in his judgment he had filled the boat as full as he safely could.

The President.—We know that some of the boats carried considerably more than 40.—Yes, 65.

Would the men in the boat after you said "Lower away" know that she was capable of taking more when she became water-borne?—Yes.

The Solicitor-General.—Had you given orders to these boats to remain within hail?—Not that I remember.

Of course, you were calling attention to the light on the port bow. Well, cannot you help us? Did you give any directions which might be taken to mean that you should row towards it?—No, I cannot remember at all.

Saving of the Women.

Mr. Lightoller next described the launching of a collapsible boat. They attached her to the rope falls, swung her out, and loaded her up. They had very great difficulty in filling her with women. As far as he remembered they eventually did so, but two or three times they had to wait calling out for women. In fact, once, perhaps twice, some one said, "Oh, there are no more, women"; on which several men began to climb in. Some one, however, sang out at the back, "Here is a couple more women"; and so the men got out of the boat, and they put the women in. It was in this boat, he believed, that a couple of Chinese escaped; they had stowed themselves away under the thwarts. Barring these two there were no men in that boat. As far as they could ascertain when that boat went away there were no more women about. He was under the impression that he could have put more women, or men, into the boat; but that was the last boat launched on the port side, and he thought it better to get her into the water safely with the number she had in; or, in other words, he did not want the boat to be rushed. The collapsible boat had to be lowered about 10 ft. only to the water; it was lowered from the davits, and at that time A deck was under water. So far as he knew there was no male passenger in any of these boats save Major Peuchan, whom he ordered into one of the boats, as the crew needed assistance.

The Sinking of the Titanic.

After the launching of the boats he went across to the starboard side of the officer's quarters and saw Mr. Murdock working at a collapsible boat. The ship seemed to make a bit of a dive, and he found himself in the water. He had a lifebelt on. He could see the crow's nest, which was just above the water, close at hand. The water was so intensely cold that his first natural instinct was to get out of it into the crow's nest. But realizing that this was foolish, he turned and endeavored to get clear of the ship to starboard. He next found himself held up against the blower, on the fore part of the first funnel forward, by the action of the water rushing down the blow hole. Then there seemed to be a rush of air from down below up the blow hole, and he was blown away from it and dragged under the water.

To the President.—There is no necessity for a man to swim to keep himself afloat if he has a lifebelt on.

The President.—I understand that a man who can swim cannot swim as well with a lifebelt as without it?—No, not as well. I heard afterwards that the gymnasium instructor refused to put a lifebelt on for that reason.

If a man can swim well he is better without a lifebelt?—Yes, so far as swimming is concerned. But if you are taken below the surface you come up more quickly if you have a lifebelt on.

Ship Did Not Break.

When he came up again to the surface of the water he found himself up against the collapsible boat. At that moment the forward funnel of the ship fell down, and, lifting the boat bodily out of the water, threw it about 20ft. clear of the ship. All the other funnels of the ship were then above the water. He was aware it had been stated by some witnesses that about this time the ship broke in two. That was untrue. The ship did not break in two, and could not have broken in two. The next thing he remembered was that he was beside the collapsible boat again. The boat was upturned, and was almost water-logged. Half-a-doze people were standing on it. He climbed on to it, and then turned his attention to the ship. He was not quite sure whether the second funnel forward was visible, but the third undoubtedly was visible. The ship was gradually raising her stern out of the water, and her propellers could be seen. As well as he could recall, the lights of the after part of the ship that was out of the water were not burning at this time. Some of the witnesses said that the after part of the ship settled on the water again before finally disappearing. But that was not so. He was intently watching the vessel all the time, and she remained quite stiff. When she reached an angle of about 50 deg. or 60 deg. he heard a rumbling sound, which he attributed to the boilers getting loose from their places and crashing down on or through the bulkheads. The ship was all the time becoming more and more perpendicular, until she finally attained to the absolute perpendicular, and then she slowly went down.

The six men of the collapsible were standing or kneeling. Several people who were struggling in the water got on to the boat during the night, so that in the morning, when they were taken off by one of the lifeboats, they numbered 28 or 30. He did not know the lifeboat which took them off. This lifeboat was very crowded. When he got into it he counted 63 heads of those who were standing up, and including those who were sitting down there must have been 75 persons in the boat.

FROM THE STAR FILES THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mr. Jonathan Hodgson.

"Montreal Centre — The Reformers held their meeting in the Mechanics' Hall. The nomination of Alderman Wm. Farrell was well received, and speeches were made by Messrs. G. W. Stephens, M.P.P.; C. J. Geoffrion, James McShane, M.P.P., B. J. Coglin, Thomas Cramp, Ald. Farrell, Jonathan Hodgson, N. W. Trenholme, and others." — From The Montreal Star, June 4th, 1882.

UP to thirty years ago, and a little after, the chief central hall for public meetings was the Mechanics' Hall, St. James street. It was, in fact, the central place for politics or pastime, and perhaps there are few young (?) ladies who remember the never-to-be-forgotten ball given there by the officers of the 100th Royal Canadian Regiment. The political gathering above mentioned could not have been a perfect assortment without the presence of that hardy old Grit, Jonathan Hodgson. Mr. Hodgson, although having spent some little time of his early life in the United States, was not contaminated by it, as his old father, who came from Durham, England, had inculcated honorable British principles in his children, and resided at Lacolle, where he cultivated a farm up to his demise in 1879. Mr. Hodgson commenced his career as a clerk in a store in Napierville, P.Q. In 1850 he removed to Montreal, and was employed by Mr. Moody, a wholesale merchant, for seven years, when he entered into partnership with John Foulds, and the foundation of the extensive business of Foulds & Hodgson was laid. Mr. Foulds retiring in 1870, Mr. Hodgson became the senior partner, and other partners were afterwards admitted until the firm became known as Hodgson, Murphy & Sumner. He became one of the most active members of the Board of Trade. He was connected as director or otherwise with many industrial companies.

"A correspondent accuses some of the City Passenger conductors of gross negligence, and instances an occurrence on St. Catherine street, on Monday evening, when he says a lady fell owing to a conductor starting his car while she was getting off." — From The Montreal Star, June 4th, 1882.

THE danger was great thirty years ago when there was only one way of getting off the cars and they were slow.

"Rome, June 4. — The death of Garibaldi, produced an impression. The Municipal Council last night adjourned on the arrival of the news. The performances in theatres were stopped. A great popular demonstration of sorrow will be arranged. The Chamber of Deputies will adjourn. The King sent a despatch to Monette Garibaldi, expressing his grief at the death of the General and the loss which his family and the country generally sustained." — From The Montreal Star, June 4th, 1882.

Pittsburg Jury Returns Unusual Verdict in a Bigamy Case.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—A woman, who has not seen her husband for 27 years, can consider herself a widow. Such is the decision reached by a jury here, in the case of Anna Duclanery.

The woman was charged with perjury and bigamy. She had obtained a marriage licence to wed Joseph Gielisleiski, and said she was a widow. Married life was not smooth for the couple and the husband brought charges against his wife.

At the trial it developed the woman had been deserted by her first husband 21 years before she came to America from Austria, and she had been here six years.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN P. CASEY ANNOUNCED.

St. Catharines Industrial Commissioner Dies, After Lingering Illness, Aged 54 Years.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Catharines, Ont., June 4.—John J. Casey, Industrial Commissioner, died here after an illness of several months.

The deceased was born in Dundas fifty-four years ago, and spent the greater portion of his life there and in Hamilton. In his younger days he was engaged in the lumber and planing mill business in Hamilton, but later entered the employ of the Canada Life Company, and has been connected with it ever since.

For a time he was engaged at the head office, but later took charge of the St. Catharines branch of the business.

About two years ago he was appointed Industrial Commissioner by the City Council, and it was due to his efforts that many large industrial establishments were located in this city.

G. & L. S. Train Ditched.

Quebec, June 4.— The Quebec and Lake St. John regular passenger train, which left Chicoutimi last night at 8.20, for Quebec, went off the track between Metalzechouan and Chambord. The engine was turned upside down and the cars were smashed. Engineer Turton was badly injured.

YOUTH MURDERS SEVENTEEN YEAR OLD SWEETHEART.

San Francisco, June 4.—Bernice Lillian Godair, a sevehteen year-old High School student, was shot and killed, on the front porch of her home here last night, by Charles H. Bonner, 19 years old. Bonner was captured after a chase of four blocks by a policeman.

Miss Godair had just returned from the theatre, in company with her aunt and an escort, when she was called to the door by Bonner.

"You turned me down, and I'm going to kill you," he cried, and then fired. The deed was witnessed by the aunt, Mrs. Mary Breaux, and Samuel Houghton.

MARINE SAFETY ACT INTRODUCED IN THE SENATE

Senator Nelson Proposes Stringent Regulations for Protection of Travellers.

Washington, June 4.—An all-inclusive bill to be denominated the Ocean Safety Act of 1912, designed to cover all the navigation lessons drawn from the Titanic disaster, was introduced yesterday by Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, chairman of the Commerce Committee, which, through a subcommittee, investigated that disaster.

The bill includes stringent regulations for better wireless equipment, continuously operated, on ocean and Great Lakes vessels carrying fifty or more passengers, just as provided in a bill which passed the House yesterday and almost identical with a bill already passed by the Senate. This wireless section vests control of the apparatus in the master of the vessel, and, to avoid the wireless communication being cut off by failure of the vessel's engines, requires a powerful auxiliary power supply that can communicate 100 miles at all times.

The Nelson bill would recognize foreign steamship laws whenever they are as effective as American laws and regulations; would equip every passenger craft leaving an American port with sufficient life boats to accommodate everybody aboard, together with other safety equipment; and would create a commission of five persons to investigate here and abroad merchant marine construction.

It would require rigid port examination, boat drills, define qualification of seamen; penalize failure to assist any person in distress at sea; and make criminally liable any master, managing owner, steamship director or principal resident agent of a foreign steamship for sending from an American port a vessel so unseaworthy as to endanger life.

SAWDUST WHARF CASE AGAIN TO THE FRONT.

Firm Which Acquired Half of Structure Said to Have Refused Payment.

Ottawa, June 4.—It will be remembered that when charged with paying $5,000 for a wharf not worth $400, the Hon. Mr. Pugsley relied on the testimony of the firm of A. and R. Loggie. A member of this firm swore that the property was fully worth the sum paid for it, and subsequently it was announced that this firm had bought for $3,500 half of the wharf. This sale was heralded far and wide as proof that Mr. Pugsley's purchase in the heat of an election was good business.

It now develops that the firm is refusing to accept the property, and incidentally to pay the money. Technical difficulties are being alleged by the firm. It is understood that the Government is pressing the firm to complete its bargain.

MORE CONFUSION AT SAN DIEGO

Grand Jury Refuses to Dissolve and Judge Upholds Its Action.

Special to The Montreal Star.

San Diego, Cal., June 4.—The regular grand jury of the county, protesting against what its members describe as implied censure by Attorney-General, Webb have refused to dissolve, to make way for the special jury to investigate the "Vigilantes," which Webb demanded.

Superior Court Judge Guy upheld the jurors in their defiance, declaring he could not end the body's existence without its voluntary action. It was agreed to let the situation remain as it is until the return of Attorney-General Webb, from San Francisco, probably to-day.

ANTI-COFEE TRUST BILL IS REPORTED.

Washington, June 4. — The House Judiciary committee has agreed to report favorably the Norris resolution, aimed at the so-called "coffee trust" in the United States.

Criticize Australian Capital Plans.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star.

Melbourne, June 4.—Members of the Interstate Conference have expressed the opinion unofficially, that the surveyors will condemn the Winnipeg design for the laying out of the Federal Capital. The Parliament House it has been pointed out, is planned to be on the side of a steep hill, while the central railway station would have to be reached by a tunnel.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., June 4.—Fire at Thousand Island Park, the largest and most influential summer resort in the Thousand Islands, has destroyed eleven boat houses and several launches. The damage is estimated at $10,000.

The flames started in a two-storey structure owned and occupied by Jas. Gardiner.

Forest City Pioneer Dies.

London, Ont., June 4.—One of London's pioneer business men, and probably the oldest druggist in Canada, died yesterday, in the person of B. A. Mitchell, aged 88 years. Mr. Mitchell established the Gothic Hall drug store in 1846, and managed the business until his death. His wife and one daughter survive, also two sons by a former marriage.

Four-year-old Watches Fatal Fight.

Louisville, Ky., June 4.—Four year old Lavergne Shasteen, stood by, an interested but uncomprehending spectator while her father and grandfather fought with knife and revolver until her father fell dead with a bullet wound, at her grandfather's home here last night.

Monkey's Attack Proves Serious.

Hamilton, Ont., June 4.—Harry Connors, son of a James street merchant, was attacked by a monkey near the Princess Theatre on Saturday afternoon, and his arm was so badly lacerated it may have to be amputated.

MAISONNEUVE
THE MORGAN FARM

Everyone admits the accuracy of the old maxim: "The pen is mightier than the sword," yet, not even the greatest historian can mentally paint a picture sufficiently explicit to give the accurate impression that the picture itself would convey if actually placed before the reader's eye.

This is why we are showing you a plan of that most progressive town, MAISONNEUVE, indicating the location of the Morgan Farm, which is being placed on the market at such reasonable figures, considering the tremendous value of its location.

The Town of Maisonneuve, as many are aware, has become renowned as a commercial centre, owing to its harbor and railway facilities and the progressive policy adopted. To-day it is looked upon by the experienced business man as bound shortly to become the seat of industry in the Province of Quebec.

Six years ago Maisonneuve had a population of 8,000 souls; to-day it has over 25,000 inhabitants.

STUDY THIS PLAN carefully, logically and economically, keeping in mind the following facts:

1. Maisonneuve is physically joined to the City of Montreal, and the expansion of that city will necessitate the expansion of Maisonneuve.

2. During the past six years Maisonneuve increased its assessment roll from $5,800,000 to over $18,000,000, which clearly shows the extent of the prosperity of the Town.

3. The Morgan Farm is situated exactly in the centre of the Town. This location demands the principal thoroughfare of the municipality.

4. The Morgan Farm runs directly through the entire Town from Notre Dame Street to Côte Visitation, crossing all the principal streets, and it is entirely surrounded by buildings, which clearly indicates a rapid increase of values.

5. An avenue will be opened through the Farm, on which will be found the Post Office, the Market Place, and one of the principal churches of the Town.

Should Like to Discuss this Matter Further With You.

The Things That Count in Real Estate Investments are

LOCATION The property must be located where the demand is greatest for that particular use to which it is to be put. A residential lot should be bought only in the best residential district. A lot amid poor surroundings and the noise of factories is unsaleable for high-class residential purposes.

BOULEVARD HEIGHTS
THE IMPROVED RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT OF MOOSE JAW, IS IDEALLY LOCATED.

DESIRABILITY is of the utmost importance, because the property must appeal to the man to whom you eventually sell. It must be attractive and stand every test of inspection.

BOULEVARD HEIGHTS
IS ARTISTICALLY PLANNED ALONG UP-TO-DATE LINES.

With wide graded boulevards, beautiful parks and lake, and thousands of trees planted by expert landscape artists, this property is the most desirable residential district of Moose Jaw.

SAFETY Apart from a clear title, is not often absolute. But wherever possible the investor should be protected by the vendor.

BOULEVARD HEIGHTS
AS AN INVESTMENT OFFERS ABSOLUTE SAFETY.

Because, if the purchaser is unable or even unwilling to continue payments, providing the property is released to the vendors, the money paid will be refunded within twelve months together with interest at 6 per cent.

PRICE is everything, and can be judged only by comparison.

BOULEVARD HEIGHTS
Prices bear comparison with any property of the same desirability in any city of the same population.

TRANSCONA, MAN.
New combined railway shops of the Transcontinental and Grand Trunk Pacific, costing $5,000,000, are just finished at Transcona (six miles east of Winnipeg). The shops will employ 5,000 skilled workmen, and this will mean at least 20,000 residents in two years' time where only 1,500 live to-day. Transcona has excellent trackage from all three transcontinental lines, and is receiving the greatest attention by manufacturers looking for sites for their new western factories. Prices now are rock-bottom with the greatest chance in the West for rapid increase in prices. Write for the best values on inside lots. B. C. Cockshot, 606 Ashdown Bldg., Winnipeg, Man. 116 26

TRANSCONA BLOCKS.
We have some promising investments in blocks of lots at wholesale prices in North Transcona townsite, where the C. P. R. and industrial developments are making a town to rival Old Trauscona. MR. J. BRUCE ISMAY SAYS CAPT. SMITH JUSTIFIED IN GOING FULL SPEED

Managing Director of White Star Line Astonishes Court by Declaring Top Speed Through Ice Field All Right—So Long as Weather Conditions Enable Captain to Detect Ice Ahead—Denies Having Had Anything to do With Navigation of Titanic—Captain Showed Him Baltic's Marconigram Warning of Presence of Icebergs

By Special Cable From Our Own Correspondent.

London, June 4—Mr. J. Bruce Ismay's appearance before the Titanic Court upon the reassembling to-day was, purposely or not, so little known that few of the general public were present. The Government's knowledge of the fact was shown by the presence of Mrs. Lloyd George and her daughter, and Mrs. Asquith.

But before hearing Mr. Ismay the court listened to fresh evidence upon the question of the chivalry of the surviving women passengers. The Countess of Rothes, it seems, has been much concerned by the statement that she objected to her boat going back to pick up survivors.

Alfred Crawford, a first-class bedroom steward, in his evidence to-day said his boat had thirty-five passengers, all women. There was room for twenty more. Four men were at the oars. The Countess Rothes steered.

Answering Mr. Lewis, barrister for the British Seafarers' Union, witness said the suggestion was made that as they could not reach the lights towards which Captain Smith told them to steer, they should return to the Titanic. The men agreed, but the ladies objected, saying:—

"Why not obey the Captain's orders?"

"Lord Mersey, reading from a statement of a seamen named Jones, which was put in by Mr. Lewis, asked witness if it was true that most of the ladies objected to going back.

Witness agreed.

The Attorney-General, interposing, said it might be necessary to go more fully into this matter. It did not agree with the statement made by Lady Rothes. She was much concerned about it.

Witness added that he did not hear Lady Rothes object to going back. Cries were heard when the Titanic sunk, but they were a long way off.

Mr. Ismay's entrance into the box caused a great stir of interest. He admitted that the Titanic was in substance an American ship, but she flew the British flag because, having been built in this country, she could not fly the American flag.

The American trust controlled five British and two American companies.

He had no interest in the firm of Harland and Wolff, who built the ship.

No limit was placed on the cost of the Titanic.

He admitted that Captain Smith handed him on the Sunday, before lunch, a Marconigram from the Baltic, reporting ice. Captain Smith said nothing. He (Ismay) glanced at it casually and put it in his pocket.

PROTEST FROM TORONTO RE NEW ENGLAND BRANCH

Manufacturers Claim Line Would Make Boston Atlantic Port of G. T. P.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 4.—The activity of the Grand Trunk Pacific officials and the statements appearing from time to time in the Boston papers and the press of New England, have been under consideration for some time by the Transportation Committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and at the next meeting the matter will be dealt with in a manner as to bring it before the executive council of the association, with a view to forwarding a protest to the Dominion Government against the Grand Trunk Pacific officials making Boston the terminal, at the expense of Canadian ports.

The late Charles M. Hays, Mr. Fitzhugh and others obtained a charter to extend the Grand Trunk Pacific into Boston and other points. The capital is to be $10,000,000, with bonding powers up to twice the amount of paid-up capital.

The promise of the late Mr. Hays to lay the petition of 100,000 New Englanders before the Grand Trunk Pacific directors in England, with the object of making Boston the Atlantic terminus, is viewed with alarm by Canadian manufacturers here.

Strong protests are being voiced against the usage of Canadian money to build railways from coast to coast to develop American ports and provide gigantic incomes for the landed gentry in England, who look to profits rather than the development of the Canadian industries and ports.

Letters will be addressed to the Boards of Trade throughout Canada asking their co-operation in this fight against the alleged misuse of Canadian money and railways.

Sir Charles Tupper is Improving.

Vancouver, B.C., June 4.—"I am feeling stronger than when I left England, and hope soon to be myself again," said Sir Charles Tupper on his arrival here. "We had good weather on the ocean trip, and I withstood the railway journey exceedingly well," he said.

Mr. J. Bruce Ismay Says Captain Smith Justified In Going Full Speed In Ice.

London, June 4.—Mr. J. Bruce Ismay told the British Court of Inquiry to-day that it had been planned to drive the Titanic at full speed during a few favorable hours of her maiden trip, and that he considered Capt. Smith fully justified in going at full speed through the ice region so long as weather conditions made it possible to see ice ahead.

Lord Mersey, the head of the court, which is enquiring into the disaster to the White Star liner, repeated the question whether the witness thought the captain justified in his action, adding "at either day or night?"

Mr. Ismay replied in the affirmative. Mr. Ismay was the star witness when the investigation was resumed to-day. He told the court that the chief engineer had arranged before the steamer left Queenstown for New York, that the weather being favorable on either Monday or Tuesday, the vessel would be driven at full speed for a few hours.

The Attorney-General, Sir Rufus Isaacs, who was examining the president of the International Mercantile Marine Company, asked if that would necessitate additional boilers being lighted.

Mr. Ismay said that it would.

The Attorney-General pointed out that Fireman Barrett, of the Titanic, had testified that additional boilers were lighted on Sunday morning.

Mr. Ismay also said that a wireless despatch which Captain Smith had handed him on Sunday had indicated to him that the Titanic would reach the ice region on Sunday evening. The collision occurred shortly before midnight on Sunday night.

The witness said that there was nothing in their mail contracts to compel the company's vessels to steam at the rate they usually did in crossing the Atlantic and that there was no penalty for delay.

ATTACHED NO IMPORT TO MESSAGE SHOWN HIM.

Mr. Ismay insisted that he had nothing to do with the navigation of the ship, but Sir Rufus continued to press him regarding the speed of the Titanic and the warnings of ice in her path which were received. The witness's answers were not always clear, which led Lord Mersey to remark: "Answer the questions."

The Attorney-General also complained that the witness was not frank.

The attorney for the White Star protested that Sir Rufus' remark to this effect was uncalled for.

Mr. Ismay said that he had not attached importance to the Captain's action in handing him the message from the steamer Baltic regarding the ice, and that he had not had any conversation with any officer with respect to the message.

"Why did the Captain hand it to you?" asked the Attorney-General.

"For my information," was the reply.

Examined as to the speed of the vessel with a view to show that he had something to do with it, Mr. Ismay persisted that he had spoken to no one about the speed after his conversation with the chief engineer at Queenstown. He admitted that the vessel had not been slowed down after the warnings of ice had been received, and said that he had not expected the captain to slow down so long as there was nothing to prevent the men seeing the ice.

Sir Rufus asked: "What was the use of going at full speed through the night?"

Mr. Ismay: "I suppose they wanted to get out of the ice. They would not want to wait and take a chance of fog coming down. They were justified on a clear night in going through as quickly as possible, and even might have increased the speed to get out of the ice field."

Halifax, N. S., June 4. — Hubert Grant, held here on a charge of the murder of Thomas S. Donaldson, has been positively identified as belonging in Antigonish. His brother, Carter Grant, lives on Hawthorne street, Antigonish. The identification was made by D. J. Patrick, proprietor of the Hotel Vendome, New Glasgow, N.S.

SPORTING VIEWS and REVIEWS

It was the King's birthday right around the old globe—throughout the Empire on which the sun never sets; there was king's weather throughout Canada; and there was King's sport out at Blue Bonnets. Who now will say that things never fall right?

Derby favorites continue to break down like opera singers looking for free advertising. The latest is that Richard Croker's entry is coughing so badly that it had to be "scratched." In this case there is one consoling thought—the Derby can get on very well without the ex-Tammany Boss.

It made the Cornwall team and the Cornwall people so happy that the Shamrocks can hardly begrudge them their victory. When the victors arrived home all the populace went down to the depot to say "good boys." Cornwall is the smallest member of the old league, and the loyal manner in which it sticks to the old game and the friends of long ago endears it to every lover of lacrosse. The Shamrocks should not feel bad about it. And then there are the Capitals and the boys of the winged wheel from whom they can urn the necessary victories. Let the Cornwalls have one and say no more about it. And that is the Shamrock's way. The game old organization of lacrosse has too brilliant a history to be peevish over defeat or vulgarly bumptious over victory.

There is an old saying to the effect that it is the unexpected that happens and in order to make the old saying come true only two favorites won at Blue Bonnets on the third day of the meet. And what are favorites any way? Just the horses that "they" say are going to win; but who are "they"? The only ones who know about these things are the horses themselves, and they will say nothing until they tell the truth with their ringing hoof-beats. The true favorites are the horses that win their places in popular affection by actual results.

Money talks, or at least that is one of the many things it is credited with. But it is easier to talk than to tell the truth. The Toronto lacrosse team, said to be worth its weight in gold, or to have cost that much, did not do much talking that had any weight in the recent conversation with the Nationals. In this case it was goals that talked, and the Nationals advanced some arguments that the Toronto could not answer. What trouble makes these spirited Nationals are for people who like to have their own way on lacrosse fields.

Almost five thousand people turned out to see the Capitals win, and an equal number of people went home disappointed. It was hard but the Montreal boys could not help it. They just had to play lacrosse, because they do so enjoy the sport; and besides, a victory will come in very handy when it comes to settling up affairs at the end of the season.

BELGIUM NOW IN THROES OF SERIOUS ELECTION RIOTING

Scouts and Artillery of the Civil Guard Join the Malcontents at Antwerp.

Brussels, Belgium, June 4.—The post-election riots in Belgium have taken on a revolutionary character. Following last night's troubles at Liege and other places, the Socialist central committee declared to-day that it would proclaim a general strike to-morrow.

In addition to the troubles at Liege and Verviers, where gendarmes fired upon a crowd killing or wounding over fifty persons, among whom there were some children, there was less serious rioting yesterday and last night at Bruges, capital of the province of West Flanders, Tournai, capital of an arrondizement in the Department of Hainaut, Ghent, capital of East Flanders, Louvain, fifteen miles north-east of Brussels—and at Antwerp and in this city.

A number of Jesuit Colleges and Catholic institutes were attacked by mobs and the windows of the buildings smashed. The Gendarmes charged the rioters with broad-swords.

ANTWERP TROOPS JOIN RIOTERS.

At Antwerp one battalion of scouts and a section of artillery of the Civil Guard joined the manifestants. They rebelled against the police authority and vented their feelings in demolishing windows.

The clerical press demands the dismissal of these troops.

The favorite cries of the manifestants are those demanding the administrative separation of the Flemish and the Walloon provinces. Some of the newspapers report a growing sentiment among the working classes in the Walloon districts of the south-east in favor of the annexation of their provinces to France.

The agitation is spreading throughout the country and fifty thousand additional reservists will be called out.

SEVERAL PEOPLE KILLED AT LIEGE.

At Liege enormous damage was done by the rioters last night. To-day the streets in the centre of the city were piled high with debris from tables, chairs, beams and stones, which were the arms used by the mob in the attacks upon the police and gendarmes.

The tramways were wrecked. At the Place St. Lambert, the rioters overturned street cars and used them as barricades from behind, which they hurled missiles at the police, injuring several.

The most serious encounter occurred in the vicinity of the Socialist headquarters known as "Populaire." Firing revolvers in the air, the protestants advanced slowly through the streets to "Populaire," sacking stores and cafes en route. After they had arrived at the headquarters several shots were fired from within the place, upon the mounted gendarmes in the street.

The commandant, thinking that the soldiers were about to be overwhelmed, gave the order to fire at will. Several volleys were exchanged, during which a number of persons were killed and twenty others wounded.

Kingston Disaster Accidental.

Kingston, Ont., June 4.—A verdict of accidental death with cause unknown was given by the coroner's jury summoned by Dr. Mundle into the catastrophe at the construction camp on the Canadian Northern Railway at Lake Opinicon, where eight men were killed in an explosion. The inquest was held at the scene of the accident.

Crown Prince Frederick an Author.

Berlin, June 4.—Crown Prince Frederick William has made his debut as an author. "From My Hunting Diary," which is now being printed, describes the Crown Prince's hunting experiences in Germany and abroad. Many photographs will appear in the book, some of them by the Crown Princess.

Second Death in Berlin Family.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Berlin, Ont., June 4.—Margaret Ferrier, aged six, grand child of Mrs. Reinhardt, who was burned to death as the result of a gas explosion yesterday, died at noon to-day. Pneumonia caused the child's death.

DOCK STRIKERS GIVE GOVERNMENT AN ULTIMATUM

Demand Recognition of Transport Workers' Federation as Condition of Agreement.

London, June 4.—The strike leaders conferred to-day with members of the Cabinet at the Home Office and delivered what Ben Tillet, their leader, subsequently described as "our ultimatum," which the employers up to this afternoon had shown no disposition to accept.

Addressing a meeting of the men after the conference, Tillett announced:—

"The Government has taken our ultimatum and that is this. We call for the creation of a joint board, representing all the interests of the employers, and we insist upon the employers as a body being responsible to us while we are prepared as a body to be responsible to the employers. We say that the Transport Workers' Federation shall be the authority to represent the interests of the men and no work shall be resumed unless all the men are reinstated."

The Government will see the employers this afternoon. Hundreds of the striking dock men and transport workers resumed work to-day.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S MESSAGE TO KING.

Washington, D. C., June 4.—President Taft sent the following congratulatory message to King George yesterday.

"On this anniversary of your birth, I extend to your Majesty in the name of the Government and people of the United States, hearty congratulations, and my own sincere wishes for your personal health and happiness and the continued prosperity of the Empire over which you reign."

FIFTEEN THOUSAND ARE HOMELESS IN STAMBOUL.

Several Persons Missing—One Thousand Residences, Mosques and Schools in Ashes.

Constantinople, June 4.—The fire which broke out in the Mohammedan section of the city called Stamboul, yesterday burned itself out at midnight. A thousand residences, four mosques, seven schools and three Mosiem theological seminaries were burned out.

Several women and children are missing, and fifteen thousand persons are without shelter. The fire is believed to have been incendiary, a builder, thus avenging himself upon the owner of a house in course of construction, regarding which there had been a dispute.

BROCKVILLE PASTOR INJURED.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brockville, Ont., June 4.—The Rev. Alfred Barker, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, while assisting in the removal of his household effects to a cottage on the river front, was knocked down by a heavy box, which pinned him, after a fall of some ten feet.

One side and an arm were badly crushed. While no bones were broken, it is feared he is injured internally. Mr. Barker's condition is such that he cannot be removed.

Legal Queries

Use Of Yard, Etc.

Married, Montreal—I occupy a lower tenement, with small yard in rear; also have small sheds, that is, one for myself, and one for each tenant above me; landlady has leased one of above tenements, giving privilege to use one of the sheds for stabling a horse; also to use yard for storing a wagon. Has she the right to do this? It is obviously going to be a nuisance to me; so can I in any way stop it, or would I be justified in moving, although having agreed to stay on for a year?

Ans.—If you had the use of the yard for yourself alone, you may ask the cancellation of your lease if this waggon remains in the yard.

Separation Of Property.

Enquirer, Que.—1. How much does it cost for separation of property in Province of Quebec? 2. How long does it take? 3. Do you have to go to court to get it? 4. Can a lawyer obtain it for you without any publicity other than advertising it in a paper? 5. Can a woman hold property and control it, given by her family (father or brother) without any separation or contract?

Ans.—1. About $100. 2. About six weeks. 3. Must have witness to prove that your rights are in danger. 4. Yes. 5. No.

The Burning Of A Laundry.

A. J. V., Riviere du Loup—A sends some clothes to be laundried at laundry, whose lists may that they shall not be responsible in case of fire, for damaged to the clothes. While there, laundry is partly burned. A is told to look at the lists and he would see that laundry was not responsible, and clothes having been burned no damages are allowed to A by said laundry. Can he claim damages at law? If so, to what extent?

Ans.—Yes, if he can prove the fire is due to the fault of the proprietor of the laundry.

Missing Papers Concerning Cow.

I. S. I., Ont.—I bought a registered Ayrshire cow from a breeder a year ago January, 1912, and he delivered her to me, but had lost papers or mislaid them, as he stated, he agreed to give me the papers as soon as he found them; since then he has not found them, and he repeats that he will give me the papers when he finds them; transaction occurred in Ontario. How long can he keep making this reply? How can I get at him in order to secure the papers? 2. Ans.—Protest him to give you these papers, and, if he fails to do so, take an action to get them.

Clearing of Snow.

Landlady, Montreal — Who must keep the taps of houses clear of snow, the owner or the tenant?

A.—The tenant.

FRENCH CONGRESS WILL BE GREATEST HELD IN AMERICA

Elaborate Preparations for Congress in Quebec to Stimulate Language and Traditions.

BRILLIANT SPEAKERS FROM ALL PARTS OF CONTINENT

Hoped That a Distinctly National Literature Will Be Developed as Result.

The first congress of the French language will be held at Quebec the week of June 24th. It will be the greatest gathering ever held on this side of the Atlantic of lovers and defenders of the French language. Speakers and delegates will come from every province in Canada and nearly every State in the neighboring Republic. Louisiana will send a galaxy of brilliant speakers. It will be curious to note with what fidelity these exiles from the land of Evangeline have preserved their knowledge of the French language after nearly a century and a half of isolation and separation from their Canadian brothers.

It will be a proud week for the Ancient Capital, the cradle of the French language in America. Quebec will receive with open arms, her children scattered all over America, returning to prove their fidelity and undying love for all that they learnt and cherished in the years long gone by.

Aim of the Congress.

The Congress is called to study questions relating to the preservation, the defence and the culture of the French language in Canada and French centres in the United States. The Congress will study new questions arising over the preservation of the language and to note the progress made in the development of French Canadian literature.

The circular calling the Congress states, that there will be nothing that would cause any feeling towards the English speaking people of Canada, and that all unfriendly discussion will be avoided. The Congress is called to stimulate among French Canadians a love for the maternal tongue, to preserve the language free in all its purity, to speak and write it as perfectly as possible and keep it free from all corruption, to agree on the best method to teach it and develop a distinctly national literature.

The promoters of the Congress claim that the English of the Province of Quebec are enlarging the programme of the study of the French language in all their schools, so it behooves French Canadians to find how it is taught in their own schools, how it is cultivated at the family fireside and in society.

What the French Have Done.

French Canadians, of the Province of Quebec, says the circular in its appeal calling the congress, who remained in New France, are guardians of our rights, heirs of the traditions, custodians of the national heritage.

Acadians are people of sorrow, whom neither isolation nor persecution could destroy and who preserved in misfortune their faith and their language.

French Canadians of Ontario are peaceful conquerors, who fought with courage for their rights and who, may be, must encounter greater difficulties.

French Canadians of Manitoba and the West are pioneers of French culture, who endowed a new land with the blessings of their language.

French Canadians and Acadians of the United States are emigrants, who remained faithful to the language of their forefathers.

To all these an appeal is made to attend the congress.

Officials of the Congress.

The honorary president of the Congress will be: Mgr. Begin, Archbishop of Quebec; Mgr. Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal; Mgr. Langevin, Archbishop of St. Boniface; Mgr. Gauthier, Archbishop of Kingston; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Francois Langelier, Sir Lomer Gouin and the Rector of Laval University.

The Honorary Vice-Presidents will be: Hon. A. J. Pothier, Governor of Rhode Island, United States; Hon A. B. Routhier of Quebec; Professor Alcee Fortier of Tulane University, Louisiana, United States; Ex-Judge Dubuc, of Winnipeg; Hon. J. O. Rheaume, member of the Ontario Cabinet; Hon. D. V. Landry, member of the New Brunswick cabinet; Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon, member of the Saskatchewan Cabinet; Hon. M. B. Galland, member of the Prince Edward Island cabinet, P. E. Lessard, member of the legislative assembly of Alberta.

The president of the Congress will be Mgr. Paul Eugene Roy, Auxiliary Bishop of Quebec. Vice-Presidents: Hon. Senator Belcourt of Ottawa; Hon. Thomas Chapais of the Legislative Council of Quebec; Judge T. A. Landry, of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick.

Treasurers: Rev. S. A. Lortie and Rev. Philias Filion of Quebec.

General-Secretary, Adjutor Rivard, K. C., of Quebec.

Assistant Secretaries: Rev. Elie Auclair, of Montreal; J. E. Prince, K. C., of Quebec, and Revs. C. Roy and A. Denault of Quebec.

Sections of the Meeting.

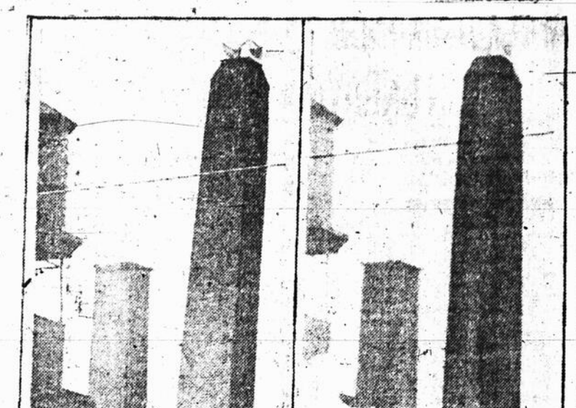

The Congress will be divided into three sections: Scientific, Pedagogical and Literary. These sections will hold two meetings a day in Laval University. The papers to be read cover a wide field. The growth of the French language and its development in each locality. Its present status in the family, in the school, in society and in the law courts.

The following are on the programme to read papers from Louisiana, the home of the exiled Acadians: Henri Francastel, Prof. Alcee Fortier of Tulane University; M. Bassiere, member of the school board of New Orleans; Prof. J. A. Fortier, of Tulane University; Rev. J. Subileau, Hon. Judge Breaux President of the Supreme Court of Louisiana; Dr. Roaldes, Mr. Paul Capdeville, ex-mayor of New Orleans; J. M. Vergnolle, President of the Alliance Francaise of New Orlean; C. T. Soniat, Vice-Preident of the Louisiana Atheneaum; Edgar Grima Emile Scuyer, Albert Breton, Dr. Felix LaRue, Dr. Louis Leboeuf and A. Lafarque.

Every evening public meetings will be held at which the ablest orators will speak. Among those on the programme are: The Archbisops of Quebec, Montreal, St. Boniface and Ottawa, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Lomer Gouin, Hon. A. Portier, governor of Rhode Island; Judge Prudhomme, of St. Boniface, Manitoba; Mr. Bussiere Rouen of New Orleans; Hon. J. E. Prendergast of Winnipeg; Henri Blanchard of Charlottetown; J. A. Favreau of Boston, Hon. M. Constantineau of Ottawa; Hon. P. A. Landry, of Dorchester, N. B.; Mr. H. A. Dubuque of Fall River, Mr. Andre Lafarque of New Orleans; Hon. J. W. Comeau of Nova Scotia; Prof. Fortier of New Orleans; Hon. J. O. Rheaume, of Ontario; Hon. F. A. Turgeon, of Saskatchewan, P. E. Lessard, of Alberta; Senator Belcourt and a score of others.

The French Academy of France will be represented by Mr. Etienne Lamay.

STRAIGHTEN LEANING CHIMNEY BY SKILLFUL WORK

A very delicate operation has been performed upon the chimney which is represented by the above photographs. On April 25th The "Star" published a photograph showing a marked resemblance between the chimney and the leaning tower of Pisa. The owners at the time saw no other remedy but to have the chimney removed.

It was four feet six inches out of plumb from the top to the base and being 129 feet high it presented a very noticeable slanting appearance.

Messrs. R. McFarlane and Sons to whose plant the chimney belonged had about made up their minds to have it demolished when they called in Mr. R. Edwards, of R. Edwards and Co., general contractors and asked his opinion as to whether the defect could be remedied.

How well it was done can be judged by the second photograph. Four layers of brick were taken from the left side of the chimney and after each layer had been taken out the chimney was propped up and allowed to come down the three inches.

"There is only a chance in a hundred of the chimney coming down," said Mr. Edwards to the owners, "and if you will take that chance I will do the work."

They took the chance and the stack is now straight.

This is the first time that such an operation has been successfully attempted, let alone carried out in Canada. It has been performed several times in England.

TO INVITE CANADA TO GOOD ROADS CONFERENCE

Object of Mr. Rees Jeffreys Who Left London on May 25.

From the Star's Own Correspondent, Resident in London.

London, June 4.—Mr. Rees Jeffreys left on May 25, upon a mission to Canada and the United States, which must have the deepest interest for everyone concerned in the better road movement. Mr. Jeffreys is the honorary general secretary of the Permanent International Association of Roads Congress, an association which has the patronage of the King, of which the Chancellor of the Exchequer and other members of the British Government are honorary presidents.

The immediate purpose of Mr. Jeffrey's mission to Canada is to ask the Dominion Government and the governments of each of the provinces to appoint representatives to take part in the third International Road Congress which is to meet in London, in June of next year. The first Congress was held in Paris, in 1908, the second in Brussels, in 1910, and third is being held in London on the invitation of the British Government and under the patronage of the King. Over thirty Governments have intimated their intention to take part, and in view of the widespread attention now given to this question of road engineering from the point of view of governments and municipal administrators, of automobilists and manufacturers of road-making materials, and the community in general, the occasion assumes much importance. All that experience has taught in the way of road-making and management and regulation of traffic will then be discussed. The various governments of Canada will, no doubt, send representatives who are able to take full advantage of so unique an occasion.

Mr. Rees Jeffreys enters Canada from the United States by way of Toronto on June 27, and will visit Ottawa and Montreal July 5, and return to England from Quebec.

LOANS RETURNED SOCIETY REPORTS

Hebrew Free Loan Association Reports a Successful Year.

Loans returned.

The Hebrew Free Loan Association held its first annual meeting on Sunday afternoon, when the directors of the organization presented the report for the twelve months' work. This proved to be a highly satisfactory one, as every loan which had matured was paid back into the treasury by those who had received them, not a single loss having occurred.

The object of the association is to assist needy Hebrews by advancing small loans without interest, thus saving them from the toils of the loan sharks.

During the year just ended, $13,374 was borrowed from the association, the loans averaging about $50 apiece. The following is a summary of the work of the association:

	Loans.	Amount.
To September 30	16	$940.00
October	15	715.00
November	45	1,845.00
December	28	1,495.00
January	33	1,304.00
February	30	1,460.00
March	48	2,605.00
April	33	1,995.00
To May 15	26	1,015.00

The old officers were unanimously re-elected as follows:—President, Z. Vineberg; 1st vice-president, J. A. Jacobs; 2nd vice-president, D. Levi; treasurer, T. Glickman; hon. secretary, M. Albert.

Board—H. Levy, A. H. Jackson, A. Levin, P. Popliger, S. Sternklar, N. H. Godinsky, M. Levitt, Sol Kellert, E. W. Jacobs, A. Harris, A. Schachter, M. Slabosky.

Fire which broke out in the kitchen of the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, last night, caused several thousands of dollars of damage before the firemen could extinguish the flames.

PLANS FOR SYDNEY'S SHIPBUILDING AND ORDNANCE PLANT

British-Canadian Company Will Spend at Least Six Millions In Its Establishment.

SEEK BOUNTY FROM FEDERAL GOVERNMENT.

Hope to Secure Orders for Warships for Canadian Navy When They Are Given

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sydney, N.S., June 1.—On Tuesday next the electors of Sydney will vote yea or nay on the question of the proposal that the city shall grant a concession of one million dollars, to be met in four equal instalments extending over a period of eighteen years, to the British and Canadian Shipbuilding and Dock Company, Limited, which company purposes establishing on the shores of Sydney harbor, within the corporate limits of the city, a shipbuilding plant and dry dock at a minimum cost of six million dollars.

The question has been fully discussed at two public meetings of the citizens, and almost unanimous approval has been expressed of the proposed city bonus, and it is therefore taken as a foregone conclusion that the proposal will be carried on Tuesday next.

Sir Henry Pellatt is the president of the company which has this shipbuilding and dry dock project in hand. Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, is vice-president, and the directors are Sir Charles Ellis, chairman of the John Brown Shipbuilding and Engineering Co., Clydebank, Scotland; and Alexander Gracie, managing director and chairman of the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company, Glasgow. Messrs. Gracie and Ellis are also directors of the Ordnance Works of Coventry, England, which company, with those of the Armstrongs and Vickers-Maxim, supplies the whole of the ordnance for the British Admiralty.

Mr. A. C. Ross, Sydney, is the secretary of the company.

The British and Canadian Shipbuilding Company has secured an admirable site of three hundred acres for the shipyard and dock, immediately adjoining the works of the Dominion Iron and Steel Corporation. Ships of the biggest type both for navy and merchant service will be constructed, and eventually it is the avowed purpose of the company to manufacture ordnance.

Mr. Grant Hugh Browne is at the present time in Sydney looking the ground over, and he stated to the Star correspondent that it would be the company's policy in every way to help further to build up the Dominion Steel Company. As a matter of fact it is the cheapness of steal and coal here which has attracted the Shipbuilding Company to Sydney. This advantage, it is claimed, will at least counterbalance the extra cost of labor as compared with the wages of England and Scotland, and thus put the company on an equal footing to compete with the shipbuilding firms of the Old Country.

Ship-plates, angle-bends, and in fact every bit of steel used in the construction of a ship will be purchased from the Steel Company, and with these two great industrial agents working alongside one another and in unison, much, it is submitted, will be accomplished for the industrial progress of Sydney and the Dominion.

HOPE TO BUILD THE CANADIAN NAVY.

"The promoters," to quote Mr. Browne again, "are sanguine that the Government will give the Company a bounty on the construction of every merchant ship launched from the Sydney yards. Moreover, we contemplate obtaining orders for the construction of warships for the Canadian navy.

"But quite apart from the naval question, if we get anything like the bounty which is at the present time paid by the French Government we shall be able to compete with the whole world. The French bounty is one hundred and sixteen shillings per ton for the hull and two hundred and twenty shillings per gross ton of machinery."

The Canadian company expect to start work with five hundred men during the coming summer, cleaning up and excavating for the dry dock. Next spring two thousand men will be engaged, and the company is looking to launch the first Sydney built ship in 1914. It will take three years to construct the dry dock.

Work will be continued throughout the year, the difficulties of climate being overcome by the erection of steel covered, steam heated sheds, and it will be only during two months of the year at most that a launch into the harbor will not be practicable.

If the Government carries out the expressed intention of constructing car ferries to cross to and from Prince Edward Island, this company will be prepared to contract for their construction. The yard will be equipped to build floating docks, with steel and wood, such as may be placed on the Great Lakes.

CITY'S AGREEMENT WITH THE COMPANY.

On the completion of the dry dock and shipbuilding plant and proof of expenditure of six million dollars, the company will be entitled to receive from the city $250,000 in city of Sydney fifty year bonds, payable at par and bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum.

A second similar payment becomes due from the city upon the launching of the first ship constructed here. The third payment will fall due at a date to be computed midway between the second payment and Jaunary 1, 1930, upon which latter date the final $250,000 will have to be me, provided the company's plant has been and is in "continuous operation."

For ten years the ship and dock plant will be assessed for tax purposes at $500,000, but after that full assessment will be levied.

The company will throughout pay the annual water tax, and will further pay a poll tax of $5 per head per annum on at least two thousand workmen.

In Three Days the Gatlin Treatment Cures Liquor Craving, Restores the Nervous System, Repairs Damage Done by Liquor. (No Hypodermic Injections.)

What would you give for strong nerves? Would nerves that did not continually require liquor to straighten them up and quiet them, be a blessing to you? Think what it would mean to you to get out of bed in the morning with your nerves steady and calm, with no nerve demand. No craving for liquor. Think how it would feel to go through the entire day, and entire week, and entire year—to go through the balance of your life—with no appetite for liquor—with a feeling of disgust for it. The Gatlin is the Modern method of treating liquor craving and liquor drinking and that peculiar form of Nervousness that nothing but liquor will relieve. Canadian Newspaper Statistics.

The Star just received from the publishers, A. McKim, Limited, Montreal and Toronto, a copy of the 1912 Supplement to their Canadian Newspaper Directory. This work shows that within the last year over one hundred newspapers have started in the Dominion. In fact, so quickly is the Canadian newspaper field spreading out that A. McKim Limited have decided that it will be necessary in future to publish the Canadian Newspaper Directory annually instead of biennially as before. This Canadian Newspaper Directory gives full particulars of practically every publication in Canada, and is intended as a guide to advertisers, in selecting papers best suited to their requirement.

The supplement brings populations and sworn circulations up to date and taken in conjunction with the Directory proper makes a very valuable book of reference for the general advertiser.

C.P.R. TRAIN SERVICE.

Ottawa-Toronto-Quebec.

The new schedule is now in effect, trains for Ottawa leaving on week days at 7.50 a.m. and 9.15 a.m. (the latter making the run in 3 hours and 45 minutes), 10.10 a.m., 4 p.m., 9.50 p.m. and 10.30 p.m. Buffet parlor cars are on the 9.15 a.m. and 4 p.m., while there is a sleeping car on the 9.50 p.m. train, so that travellers can get the night's rest and be ready for business in the morning.

The Toronto trains for Union Station are the express at 9.05 a.m. and the night train at 10 o'clock.

The train for Yonge street station, North Toronto, leaves at 11.15 p.m. In addition to the electric lighted sleeping cars, the latter carries the famed compartment observation cars, being the only trains between the two cities which carries such high class equipment.

The trains for Quebec now leave on weeks days at 9.00 a.m., 1.30 p.m., 5.00 p.m. and 11.30 p.m.

There are parlor cars on the morning and afternoon trains, and parlor and dining cars on that at 5.00 p.m., this being really a train-de-luxe.

NO CAMP CANTEENS FOR CANADIAN MILITIA

Sale of Liquor of Any Kind Will Be Strictly Prohibited.

Ottawa, June 4.—That the regulations concerning the consumption of liquor by men in camps will be rigidly enforced this year was the emphatic statement of Hon. Col. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, when asked if there were any new regulations this year governing the consumption of liquor in the training camps.

"Regulations are the curse of the world to-day," was the minister's statement. "They are nothing unless they are enforced, and the existing orders concerning liquor will be strictly adhered to this year."

The sale of liquor of any kind is prohibited in camps and it is said that during this season's camp a strict watch will be kept for any "private supplies" being brought into the lines. Canteens were abolished last year and although it is stated that drunkenness in many of the camps adjacent to cities increased, they will not be permitted this year.

That the minister has a very high regard for the general sobriety of the Canadian militia was evidenced by his remarkable assertion that there was more drinking at a Sunday school picnic than there was in a Canadian military camp.

"The Canadian soldier does not drink, and needs no regulations prohibiting his drinking. I venture to say that there is more drinking at Sunday school excursions and picnics than there is at military training camps. I know because I have seen it at picnics," was the minister's half jesting, half serious remark.

The Mysterious Handful.

A troupe of wandering musicians were playing before a Swiss hotel. At the end of the performance one of the members left the group, approached the leader of the band and pulled out a little paper box, which he emptied into his left hand while the eyes of the leader followed every movement.

He then took a plate in his right hand, passed it round, and a large sum was collected, every one meanwhile wondering what he held in his left hand.

"Why, it's very simple," said the leader, when questioned. "We are all subject to temptation, and to be sure of the fidelity of our collector he has sold five flies in his left hand, and we count these when he returns, to make sure of the money."

Antiquity of Hymns.

While hymns as we know them today are a comparatively recent innovation in church services, they are a very ancient institution and existed long before the Christian era. Many ruthlessly, trapped in all the ways back to about 500 years before Christ though, of course, hymns existed long before that period. Among the collections which have come down to us from them are the Sanskrit "Rig Veda," a Chinese "Book of Odes," the "Buddhist Hymns," the Grecian "Homeric Hymns," and the "Odes of Pindar." The Latin Hymns," or hymns of the western church, date from the fourth to the twentieth centuries, while the Lutheran Chorales" date from the sixteenth century. The hymns which play so prominent a part in the services of the modern Protestant churches were not in wide general use until about 1860.

TAFT-ROOSEVELT FIGHT SHIFTS TO CHICAGO TO-DAY

American people, recognising their hero, their exemplar, and liberator, will triumphantly vindicate the principle that Theodore Roosevelt can have anything he wants when and as for long as he wants it. Mr. McCormick is young, enthusiastic and frank—perhaps distressingly frank. Mr. Roosevelt does not seem to mind, but it makes his careful and circumspect supporters of the old school shudder. Possibly the sooner they become accustomed to shuddering the better it will be.

I. S. L.

Roosevelt May Go To Chicago

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 4.—After delivering his broadside to Senator Root and defying Taft supporters to try to elect the Senator as temporary Chairman of Republican National Convention, Roosevelt to-day continued his preparations for the coming struggle in Chicago.

When asked if he had decided as an outcome of the conference with his campaign leaders which resulted in the attack upon Senator Root to go to Chicago to take part in the delegates' contest, Roosevelt replied:

"Nothing that came up has changed my position about going to Chicago. I can say that I have no expectation of going there—unless they use strong arm tactics."

In coming out decisively against Root, the ex-President abruptly recedes from the tentative position he assumed last Saturday, when he was urged by several aggregations of Roosevelt delegates to abandon the fight on the Senator.

Roosevelt's decision to push his war against Root was advised by Senator Dixon, National Committeeman Ward, of New York, George W. Perkins, Medill McCormick, of Chicago, and Frank B. Kellog, Standard Oil prosecutor, who were in yesterday's Sagamore Hill conference.

Roosevelt will stake everything at Chicago on his fight to prevent the selection of Root as temporary Chairman. He believes that the public would consider any other course an indication of weakness.

The Colonel was up early this morning preparing to start from Oyster Bay for New York, where he was to put in a few hours at his desk in the "Outlook" office. It was announced that the Colonel and his advisers would have another lengthy talk about the temporary Chairmanship issue in New York during the day.

Both sides in the political battle were overjoyed to-day. Roosevelt followers were glad because they had the Colonel's word for it that there would be a real fight against Root as temporary chairman. The politicians who are backing Roosevelt also saw a cause for joy in the action of two Alabama delegates who announced that they would support Roosevelt in spite of their instructions for Taft "because 90 per cent. of their constituents were for Roosevelt."

On Taft's side the rejoicing came from the President's defi of "The Roosevelt bluff" and his statement that he wanted the whole public to know everything that was done at the sessions of the National Committee in deciding the contests.

Roosevelt's followers were confident of winning the fight against ports. They said to-day they were certain of support from the delegates instructed for LaFollette and Cummins. With these votes and the ones that Roosevelt controls, they declared there was no question about the control of the convention.

Taft was emphatic in his statement of his desire for publicity of the facts regarding the contests on delegates. He wrote to Harry S. New, Indiana Committeeman now at Chicago, that he had nothing to conceal in the contests—the same statement that was made by Roosevelt—and that he advised admitting newspaper men to all the sessions of the committee.

CONVENTION ATMOSPHERE NOTICEABLE IN CHICAGO.

The real convention atmosphere was noticeable in Chicago to-day. More politicians and newspaper correspondents arrived there to-day and the hotel lobbies were crowded early. Congressmen William B. McKinley, Taft's manager, did not arrive yesterday as was expected and local headquarters had word that he was delayed, but would arrive Wednesday at the latest. Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager, is expected in Chicago to-day. Ormsby McHarg, contest manager for Roosevelt, again predicted to-day the nomination of Roosevelt on the first ballot. Colonel Cecil Lyon, of Texas, hunting partner of Roosevelt, said that his State was for Roosevelt and that its delegates would support him. General Powell Clayton, of Arkansas, and Henry S. Chubb, of Florida, were certain of Taft's renomination.

ROUGH RIDERS WORK FOR ROOSEVELT'S SUCCESS

The Chicago organization of Rough Riders will be copied in various sections of the country, according to John L. Chan, Colonel of Chicago Roosevelt Rough Riders. He said he had received scores of requests from all over the United States for information concerning the organization and the operation of riders in that city.

Another fight in the Convention which loomed larger to-day was the threatened effort to restrict representations of Southern States in the coming National Convention. General Clayton intends to fight this suggestion. He said to-day that to try base base representation on the number of Republican votes at the election would be playing into the hands of the Democrats because they count the ballots. He added that it would mean the annihilation of the Republican party in the South.

Colonel Harry S. New, commenting this morning on Taft's recommendation for publicity, said that he was personally opposed to changing any of the customs and rules of the party, but that he would not object to the President's recommendation, final action on which depends upon the attitude of the National Committee when it formally assembles.

In pushing to give Taft's letter to the press, or even extracts from it, for publication, Colonel New explained that the President's request was based upon a desire not to keep anything from the people.

"While I am personally opposed to changing any of the customs and rules of party that have obtained for years, I must admit that a peculiar and unusual situation confronts us now," said New. "Friends of Roosevelt and not he will be shown to be trying to work all the political tricks in getting delegates. The President points to many cases where the Roosevelt managers have brought contests where they had not the least merit. In his letter he shows that many Taft delegates have been approached and been promised considerations to bolt to Roosevelt. Friends of Roosevelt have intimated that everything might not be honest and square when the National Committee meets to take up contests. Because this impression has been spread broadcast, and because it has been used unfairly and unmanly in an effort to arouse popular prejudice against the Committee, President Taft feels that the committee should promptly take steps to show the American people that he has nothing to conceal and no tricks to play.

"So far as these contests are concerned, they will be decided strictly on their merits. I know Taft does not desire to keep anything from the people. It might be just as well to have whole matter of contests and their final disposition laid impartially before the public. That, I understand, is the President's reason for requesting that the doors be thrown open to press representatives next Thursday. Whether that will be done will depend on the attitude of the committee when it assembles."

When it became generally known this morning that the President was in favor of public hearings the Roosevelt leaders contended that it was their "ultimatum," given prominence recently, that brought about the present condition of affairs. Many of them said to-day that this session would be secret despite Taft's recommendation. It was reported that other Taft men on the committee besides Col. New were opposed to violation of party custom.

ROOSEVELT THE FAVORITE IN THE BETTING.

There is a considerable amount of betting on the final result of the convention. Roosevelt is favorite. Handbooks are being made according to one report, and odds are being laid on known candidates and dark horses. Champ Clark is, according to wagerers, best bet in the coming Baltimore convention.

A copy of an affidavit said to have been made by Colonel Roosevelt in swearing off his taxes in 1898, as a resident of Oyster Bay, is in possession to-day of the anti-Roosevelt leaders in New York. This fact became known after conference between the Republican State Chairman, William Barnes, jr., and Senator W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts. This affidavit could not be found when it was sought to render him ineligible for nomination and election for governor. Elihu Root, as spokesman for Roosevelt, at that time, denied in a speech to the Republican State convention that the document existed. Barnes was asked: "Is it true that long missing Roosevelt 'swearing off' affidavit of 1898, has turned up, and that it is to be used as part of the ammunition to defeat the Colonel for the presidential nomination?"

"I think you will find that affidavit is now in the possession of the town clerk at Oyster May, the Colonel's home," was the answer.

It later developed that a facismile of that document has been in possession of the anti-Roosevelt leaders for at least two years. It had been intended to circulate it when the Colonel fought Vice-President Sherman for temporary chairman of the State convention in 1910. It was finally decided to keep it under cover until the Colonel came up for President again. The document now reposes in a safe at the Republican state headquarters. It will be taken to Chicago and introduced at what the Colonel's opponents determine is the "psychological moment", and it will be employed for the purpose not only of proving, if possible, that Roosevelt sought to dodge his taxes in New York city, but in Oyster Bay also; that he was actually not a resident of the state, but of Washington, D.C., and therefore ineligible for Governor, and that Root, by his speech at the convention saved to him both his nomination and election.

With the Taft forrces apparently in control of the Ohio state convention to-day and confident of electing six delegates at large, politicians are predicting that the Roosevelt men will bolt and fulfil Manager Brown's threat of carrying the fight to the National convention because the "bosses" will have succeeded in "thwarting the will of the people."

LONDON'S HOMELESS.

On the night of February 9th last 1,203 persons were found homeless in London, this being the smallest number on record. The figure was made up of 978 men, 213 women, and 12 young persons. The night was wet at first, then fine, and not cold; 25 men and 23 women were found on staircases and under arches.

The London County Council report, which publishes these figures, states that although the number of homeless women was less by 108 than in 1911, there was no corresponding increase in the use made of common lodging-houses, casual wards, and free shelters. The districts where most of the men were found were the City, 140; Stepney, 122; Westminster, 187; and Islington, 71.

In common lodging-houses there were 19,710 men, 1,373 women, 196 couples, and 24 children; while there were the following vacant beds, 5,642 men, 1,082 women, and 49 couples; 40 free beds in institutions were also unoccupied on the night of the homeless census.

OTTAWA PARTY AFTER DIAMONDS IN UNGAVA

Organized Expedition is Now on the Way to Hunt Up the Gems.

North Bay, Ont., June 4.—Diamonds in Ungava is now the word, and diamond rumors which have been floating about northern mining camps for some months now begin to take tangible shape.

Thursday morning a prospecting party passed through North Bay en route for Ungava where one of the party is said to have previously uncovered rich diamond deposits and brought out samples of genuine sparklers.

The party represents a syndicate organized in Montreal and Ottawa by Joseph Grant, of Ottawa, an experienced pathfinder and prospector of the north country, who made the original discovery. He is accompanied on his return journey north by J. J. Roberts, of Ottawa, and J. J. Cummins, of Montreal, and the entire party consist of seven white men and four Indians carrying four tons of supplies and will go to Cochrane and Proceed to Ungava via Frederick House and Moose rivers to Moose Factory, where a Hudson Bay steamer has been chartered and will be awaiting the party, which will be conveyed to Rupert House and thence to East Main river which is in the vicinity of the discovery.

It is reported that New York is also on the ground and satisfied that diamond possibilities there are good enough to warrant the expenditure of a large sum of money in sending in men and supplies for development work. The samples brought out are said to have been very favorably passed upon by experts.

Recount Increases Morin Majority.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Quebec, June 4.—The re-count in Islet resulted in the increase of Mr. Morin's majority from 9 to 24. This is the constituency where the Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture, was defeated.

PERSONALS.

Jackson—Poapst.

A pretty wedding took place in Ottawa on Saturday evening, in the Fourth Avenue Baptist Church, Glebe, when Jean Ellice Poapst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Poapst, was married to Mr. John Grant Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson of "Braeside" Dicksie. The church was decorated with a profusion of beautiful flowers. The Rev. R. R. McKay, Pastor of the church performed the ceremony. Miss Weeks presiding at the organ. During the signing of the register, Mr. Eric Strathmere, sang "O Perfect Love." The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a handsome gown of cream satin Charmeuse, witht garniture of pearls old gold, and silver bugle passementerie, the long train, in Watteau effect, hanging loose from below the shoulders. The skirt opened over a petticoat of chiffon, shirred at the bottom to a band of the passementerie, and parting at the front where a wide band of Pointe de Venise, lace was caught under the train, with rich ornaments of gold silver and pearls. The bodice was of chiffon over satin, with a drapery of the Pointe de Venise lace fastened at the waist line with chiffon roses; and the veil of "Rose Pointe" was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms; she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the Valley, and wore the groom's gift, a pearl and gold bracelet. The bride was attended by two matrons of honor, Mrs. Ira John Steele of Ottawa, who wore a gold Tunic, over white satin, and Mrs. Theodore Rice Smith, of New York, in white satin richly embroidered. The bridesmaids, Miss Marion High, of Brantford, Miss Irene Dion, and Miss Florence Poapst, sister of the bride, wore pale pink chiffon over pink satin, with short round skirts. The bodices were overlaid with chiffon in fichu effect, trimmed with folds of satin, silver bugles and fringe. There was also a small "ring bearer," little Miss Marion McLean of Detroit, and two other children, Miss Mary Beatrice Macdonald and her brother, Master Stroud scattering flowers before the bride. The groom was attended by Mr. Percival Poapst, as best man, the ushers, being Captain W. A. Blue, Captain Willard Bush, Mr. Ernest Frith, and Mr. Walter Lambe, to whom the groom gave "swallow" tie pins, in pearls, and to the bridesmaids, lace pins, in the same design, the children having smaller duplicates. After the reception, held at the residence of the bride's parents, Barton Street, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left on the night train, for the West, the bride travelling in a tailored blue whip cord, with blouse of embroidered cream marquisette and a hat of black chip, with a broad band of roses around the crown, and high loops of black velvet at one side.

WE ARE AFTER THE IDLE PIANOS

Do you know how many pianos are "idle" in the homes of the Canadian people—pianos that are rarely made use of? The number would astound you. Millions of families would have their pianos made "alive" again if they properly understood the player piano, at least the Willis Auto Player Piano. By the introduction of the recent patents secured and registered by the Willis Company, automatic player piano playing has become an art, and the best pianists take pleasure in endeavoring to play the Willis Auto Player and the Autopiano in an artistic manner. Willis Auto Player Pianos are fitted with Tempoaid, Solodant, or Metrotheme if desired. Let us demonstrate it for you at our warerooms.

Also Knabe, Newcombe, Dominion Pinaos, and Canadian and American organs.

La Rose Inspection---Toronto Rails Are Active---London Discrimination

PRODUCTION OF STEEL AND COAL IN YEAR

The Steel report says on production. The increase in output has come up to our expectations. The figures for last year and for the 12 months preceding are as follows, but it is to be noted that the Cumberland figures for the earlier period were not normal, owing to the strike:

	Year ending March 31.
	1912.	1911.
Coal Company—	Tons.	Tons.
Cape Breton collieries	4,063,395	3,752,298
Cumberland collieries	342,868	109,863
Total coal	4,406,263	3,862,161
Steel Company—
Wabana ore	602,168	544,792
Pig iron	290,588	248,715
Steel ingots	355,553	301,940
Rails	153,498	133,896
Wire Rods	70,633	75,500
Blooms and billets for sale or stock	43,950	34,110

The Steel Company's earnings reflect the very unsatisfactory conditions of the iron and steel trade in the matter of prices, which are a consequence of the depression in the trade in the United States have marked the past year. The conditions as to bounties and duties have also affected the Steel Company, as a considerable portion of its product had to be sold in a depressed market, in competition with duty free imports from the United States.

Your directors have caused representations to be made to the Government as to these and other matters affecting the manufacture of iron and steel in Canada, and are hopeful of an early removal of the serious anomalies in the tariff on these articles.

During the year the amount expended on new collieries and other property of the Coal Company in Cape Breton amounted to $1,576,931.70, and on the Cumberland property $24,253.01.

The operations at all the collieries have been carried on very steadily and satisfactorily throughout the year. The new mines in the Lingan district are making an excellent showing, both in tonnage and in the quality of the coal. The coal from No. 6 colliery has greatly improved since the deeper parts of the seam were reached. There continues to be a good market for all the coal which the mines produce.

In Wall Street

Absence of selling pressure, more than anything else, seemed to account for the better tone of to-day's early stock market. Overnight political tendency to increase bearish sentiments out were ignored.

Reading rose over 2 points, with Lehigh Valley and Union Pacific next in favor among the active railway issues, while Steel displayed more strength than recently. Coppers reflected the improved tone of those stocks abroad, no less than the further rise in the metal.

American Tobacco, Harvester and Sears-Roebuck were conspicuously strong specialties. Poor April earnings restrained any movement in St. Paul.

Stability of Income

The assurance that the income from an investment is reliable and regular, gives freedom from anxiety worth more than larger dividends without it.

The income from Municipal Debentures is assured both as to Stability and Regularity. The security rests on assets valued at five to ten times the amount of the loan, and the payment of interest comes regularly on the exact date due.

Let us send you a copy of our Municipal Bond List. We have odd amounts at attractive prices.

Scroggies Capital To Be $2,000,000

At a meeting of the directors of the W. H. Scroggie, Ltd., the well known department store, it was arranged to increase the capital of the company to two million dollars.

Mr. F. A. Scroggie, managing director, said that already most of the increased capital had been privately subscribed. When asked if it was the intention of his company to occupy the store to be erected on the property recently acquired by the Birchenough Syndicate on St. Catherine st., extending from Bleury to Alexander street, Mr. Scroggie replied that later on the plans of the firm would be made public, but that the company intended making extensive alterations to their present building east of the proposed hotel site which is now on the market.

It was also learned that the intention of the firm regarding the new store on the south-west corner of St. Catherine and Peel streets, was to open it up shortly as a separate branch of their business.

JOINS BROKERAGE FIRM.

Mr. Philip Mackenzie, for many years connected with the Bell Telephone Co., has formed a partnership with Mr. E. G. Shepherd, of the Montreal Stock Exchange firm of Shepherd & Co. The new firm will conduct business under the name of Shepherd & Mackenzie, with offices at 82 St. Francois Xavier st.

NEW BROKERAGE FIRM.

"Cusson Agencies, Limited," is the name of a new firm in St. Boniface. The directors are, Henri Cusson, Arch. J. Trotter, and M. E. Sabourin. The company will transact a general insurance, loan and brokerage business.

Improved Feeling In London Market

London, June 4.—Money was in plentiful supply and discount rates were firm to-day. The outbreak of liquidation during the late trading yesterday caused nervousness at the opening of the stock market, but this feeling soon gave away to a general improvement.

Home rails were slightly better on the gradual ending of the transport workers strike. Mexican rails improved on increased earnings and Rio Tinto and copper stocks closed strong.

American securities opened steady and about unchanged. A few shares eased off during the early trading, but most of the list advanced under the lead of the copper stocks. The market was inactive until New York opened when most of the list advanced an additional fraction.

SHORT NOTES OF INTEREST.

Last primary election to-day in South Dakota.

London dock strike is failing.

Cotton tariff revision bill to be reported to-day.

American Marconi new was 10 to 10 1-2.

Canadian Marconi was 6 1-4 to 7.

English Marconi was 25 to 34.

Lake Superior gold was 31 to 31 1-2.

Granby was quoted at 53 1-2 to 53 3-4.

Yukon gold was 3 7-16 to 3 9-16.

RISE IN COPPER METAL.

Carrying along the upward movement in the price of copper metal, which has been a feature of the past spring, a number of producers marked their selling quotations higher yesterday, and it was said that some of them had been able to place contracts at a level of 17 1-4 cents a pound for electrolytic.

STEEL CORP. ISSUES ITS FIRST REPORT

Dominion Steel Corporation statement for the first year and nine months of its existence was about as expected, a poor showing in the steel department and a good one in coal.

It is shown that the Corporation surplus for the period represents less than a half per cent. on the outstanding common stock.

The market, however, has been aware of the fact that the company had a very small margin after paying the 4 per cent. dividend.

Some of the more important features of the statement are as follows:

Corporation consolidated assets	$76,566,341
Dominion Coal assets	32,255,019
Iron and Steel assets	48,428,205
Corporation net	3,690,149
Coal net	1,480,416
Steel and Iron net	651,298

Dominion Steel Corporation consolidated profit and loss account for one year and nine months from July 1, 1910, to March 31, 1912, shows:

Earnings after expenses	$7,388,260
Deduct sinking fund	1,624,805
Deduct sinking fund, depreciation, etc.	1,624,805
Deduct interest and discount charges	2,073,304
Net earnings	3,690,149
Dividends	2,205,203
Special appropriation for depreciations and renewals	700,000
Surplus	784,945

Dominion Coal profit and loss account, year ending March 31, 1912:

Operation earnings	$2,274,110
Sinking fund and depreciation	414,009
Interest and discount	379,684

Net earnings	651,298
Surplus, April 1, 1912	2,369,375
Dividends	1,150,000
Surplus March 31, 1912	1,870,674

ILLINOIS APRIL FIGURES.

Illinois April net was $214,482, against $195,195 a year ago; four months' net, $931,357; last year, $830,793.

BERLIN PRICES UNCHANGED.

Berlin, June 4.—Trading was quiet and prices were unchanged on the Bourse to-day. Exchange on London 20 marks 45 1-2 pfennigs for cheques. Money 4 p.c. Private discount rate 4 1-8 per cent.

CEMENT GRIEVANCE WILL BE REMOVED

Mr. F. P. Jones, general manager of Canada Cement, speaking of the complaint from the West of the impossibility of getting supplies of cement, to which the attention of the authorities at Ottawa had been directed, explains that the scarcity is due to the fact that the company cannot get boats or cars to transport cement.

The company has on hand at distribution points 1,000,000 barrels of cement. Boats have been promised this week, and all orders on hand will be filled at once.

LISTINGS IN LONDON.

Special Cable from the Correspondent of The Montreal Star in London.

London, June 4.—The London Stock Exchange has listed Montreal Water & Power £16,600 4½ p.c. and North Coast Land £150,000 5's.

WINDERMERE.

MISSOURI PACIFIC INCREASE.

Missouri Pacific April gross increase $125,189; April net increase, $199,224; 10 months' gross increase, $1,304,413; 10 months' net increase, $710,445.

DECREASES FOR M. K. T.

Missouri Kansas & Texas April gross decrease, $79,089; April net decrease, $29,886; 10 months' gross decrease, $814,107; 10 months' net decrease, $1,452,687.

OPINIONS on the MARKET.

Henry Clews & Co.—Intrinsic conditions may be sound, but caution and patience are desirable until political and crop uncertainties begin to disappear.

R. M. Bauer.—Canadian properties are well thought of, and even the most conservative look for a further rise in these issues.

Laidlaw & Co.—The broad trend appears to be toward a higher level.

Shearson, Hammill & Co.—The market generally is waiting and is subject to bear drives at any moment.

HOLDERS SATISFIED TO WAIT.

J. C. Mackintosh & Co., in their weekly circular review the industrial development of the country in relation to the recent strength in stocks. It also says: "Notwithstanding the big advances which have occurred and the fact that a number of houses are advising clients to take profits, still there is comparatively little selling, and holders are evidently satisfied to wait for still higher levels."

PREFERRED STEEL SHARES.

At the annual meeting on June 12th, a resolution respecting preference shares of the Dominion Steel Corporation, Ltd., will be submitted to the meeting providing for the redemption of the same at 110 and accrued dividend by the Corporation on three months' notice, or in the event of voluntary liquidation entered into for the purpose of reconstruction or amalgamation. This is a necessary technical provision.

Choice Cattle Scarce With Prices 25c Higher

Cattle prices are 25c higher owing to the small run at the West End market yesterday; to the continued scarcity of choice stock, and to the keen competition for supplies.

The daily receipts totalled 400 cattle, 125 sheep and lambs, 1,500 hogs, and 300 calves; for the week 900 cattle 600 sheep and lambs, 2,500 hogs, and 1,100 calves. Butchers' cattle, choice, $8 to $8.25; butchers' cattle, good, $7.50 to $7.75; cattle, medium, $5.75 to $6; cattle, common, $5 to $5.50; butchers' choice cows, $6.50 to $7; medium cows, $5.75 to $6; bulls, choice, $6.75 to $7; butchers' bulls, medium, $6 to $6.50; milkers, choice, $80 to $90; springers, $50 to $60; sheep, ewes, $6.25 to $6.50; bucks and culls, $5.25 to $5.50; lambs, $7.25 to $7.50; hogs, f.o.b., $9.25 to $9.40; calves, $5 to $10.

PRESIDENT OF TOBACCO COMPANY

MR. GEO. T. TUCKETT.

TOPICS OF THE STREET

RICHELIEU LOOKS ATTRACTIVE AT THE PRESENT LEVEL

When Richelieu was selling around 117 the other day the rights were retailing at $4 each.

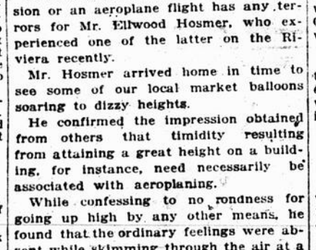

It was pointed out that a person buying from rights at $4 each, or $16 in all, was entitled to one new share at par, or equal to $116, one dollar less than the market price of the old shares.

It did not take the market long to correct this anomaly, as the price soon went down one per cent., or a small fraction lower.

In the meantime the stock looks specially attractive for an 8 per cent. issue, yielding 6.89 per cent. on the investment.

Doubtless a good deal depends on the year's business.

DIZZY HEIGHTS THAT CALM THE MOST NERVOUS LANDLUBBER.

Neither a stock market balloon ascension or an aeroplane flight has any terrors for Mr. Ellwood Hosmer, who experienced one of the latter on the Riviera recently.

Mr. Hosmer arrived home in time to see some of our local market balloons soaring to dizzy heights.

He confirmed the impression obtained from others that timidity resulting from attaining a great height on a building, for instance, need necessarily be associated with aeroplaning.

While confessing to no rondness for going up high by any other means, he found that the ordinary feelings were absent while skimming through the air at a considerable height over land or sea.

WHAT STEEL HAS DEMONSTRATED IN ITS LATEST REPORT

The lively interest in the Steel stock which was created a short time ago had no relation to the showing made in the statement just issued.

The document is not of a character to arouse bullish enthusiasm, but every one knows the buyers of the stock are banking on the future.

The report has shown the public what the company can do in a lean year in the Steel department, and it also demonstrates the advantage of not having one's eggs all in one basket.

Steel and Coal are a good combination, and when one has an off year the chances are that the other will help it out.

MR. DAVIDSON ELECTED.

Mr. Hugh G. Davidson, of Thornton Davidson & Co., was elected a member of the Stock Exchange to-day.

The Bank of Montreal has arranged to open a Branch at Magog, P.Q., and it will be ready for business very shortly.

ENGLISH FAITH IN C. P. R. UNSHAKEN

A London cable to R. M. Bauer said: The Canadian market in London is pretty active, and investors are freely buying the good bond issues and good preferred stocks. The faith in C.P.R. is unshaken, and rumors that England has sold lately some shares is quite unfounded. The contrary is the case. The large profits accrued to English holders out of their C.P.R. holdings have been, and are constantly re-invested in C.P.R. stock. There is a notable inquiry for small certificates.

LONDON GIVES HARD BLOW TO OUR STOCKS

The London Stock Exchange has advanced the rates of commission on both American and Canadian stocks traded in on the London Exchange and the step is regarded here as a distinct discrimination against Canadian issues, several of which have come into prominence on that market of late.

The new rule is compulsory and as it now stands calls for 6d on American stocks and one shilling on Canadian stocks selling under £50 and 1s 6d on Canadian stocks over £50.

It was learned later that this rule did not regard Canadian Pacific as a "Canadian," but was admitted within the charmed circle "American" stocks.

Had it been classed as Canadian the commission would have been practically prohibitive but the action regarding the other stocks is considered highly unfavorable and will seriously militate against Canadian brokers giving orders to buy or sell in the London market for Canadian clients.

The commission both ways on the average Canadians would amount to 3-4 and this is regarded as a serious drawback as the brokers do not feel they can afford to pay it.

A good deal of adverse criticism was heard in the Street with reference to this move and it was felt to be unfair to discriminate Canadians in this manner.

ST. PAUL EARNINGS.

St. Paul April gross, $5,054,242, increase $282,459; April net, $580,358; decrease, $478,339; 10 months' gross, $52,859,122; decrease, $1,893,931; 10 months' net, $10,604,587, decrease $1,678,851.

Drought Increases Porto Rico Expenses

Porto Rico net for April was $31,861, increase $1,018, or 3.19 per cent.; four months' net increase $18,264, or 15.45 per cent.

The gross receipts are normal, but the operating expenses are abnormal, chiefly owing to operation of the auxiliary steam plant nearly all month of April because of drought. The same conditions will apply for the month of May.

Another Story About New Cement Concern

The Wall Street Journal publishes a Toronto despatch, which says:

"Joseph S. Irwin and Charles Irwin, of the International Portland Cement Co. and Sir Sandford Fleming, of Ottawa, with United States and English capitalists, are organizing a $10,000,000 corporation to enter the Canadian field on a large scale as active competitor of the Canada Cement Co., organized by Sir Max Aitken. The company will build a number of modern plants east and west and will use a new process. Sir Sandford Fleming last winter severely criticized the Canada Cement Co. and asked the Government to investigate its methods of financing."

The same story was published some time ago, with the exception that several new names are now added. There was very little ground for the original story.

MAPLE LEAF MILLING.

Maple Leaf Milling profits last year were $280,036, and balance after preferred dividends of $111,095, equal to 4.4 on the common.

Richelieu Officials Inspect New Property

Richelieu xz²Z½ vbgkqj mh ¾¾¾¾¾

The merger of the Niagara and Hamilton Lines with the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company promises to result in considerable improvements and additions to the existing wharves and dockage and freight sheds of the companies in Toronto. A new building, with entrances from both Scott and Yonge streets, is said to be included in the plans. F. P. Smith, Secretary Thomas Henry, traffic manager, and other officials of the R. & O. yesterday inspected the whole of the company's property in Toronto.

Concentrating Plant Planned For Elk Lake

A financial syndicate, many of the members of which are already interested in the mining camps of Northern Ontario, are considering the advisability of erecting a large concentrating plant at Elk Lake.

Their engineers are going to spend three or four months this summer in examining low grade deposits in the vicinity of James and the surrounding townships, with a view to determining the amount of ore of this class available for their purpose. It is proposed to spend upwards of a quarter of a million dollars in the necessary plant.

Grain Growers Said To Owe $50,000,000

The Dow, Jones investigator writing up conditions in the Canadian North-West, according to the Wall Street Journal, learns "that the Canadian manufacturers of agricultural implements hold the notes of grain growers in the western provinces to the extent of $20,000,000. An officer of the Alberta Farmers' Union who has made a careful examination of the situation states that the International Harvester Co. holds about $26,000,000 of farmers' notes, given for agricultural implements in the three provinces, making a total of nearly $50,000,000 owed by the farmers for machinery. A large part of this is due, or past due, and is not being met."

The writer adds: "Consequently, the financial condition of the Canadian grain growers gives promise of developing a very serious situation in the not far distant future. The railways and the banks realize the danger, and recent Canadian bank mergers and increase of bank capital are believed to be, in part at least, due to these conditions."

SATISFIED WITH VISIT TO LA ROSE

The La Rose party composed of Messrs. Dr. Lorne McGibbn, president, and Shirley Ogilvie, Victor Mitchell, K.C., William Hanson, E. W. Nesbitt, M.P., Woodstock, Ont., and William Dobell, Quebec, directors, has returned from Cobalt.

Mr. McGibbon expressed satisfaction with the showing of the property. The Fischer-Eplett property of La Rose, which is near the deep workings of Temiskaming, which has shwn spectacular ore below the 500-foot level, reserved particular attention from the visitors, and they were well pleased with what they saw.

The Fischer-Eplett property it is believed is a continuation of the Temiskaming vein, in which nothing of consequence was met with until they had gone below the 200-foot level.

The old La Rose is now going down to the 600-foot level, and the indications are very favorable.

While the present market for La Rose shares is unsatisfactory, the outlook for the property was said to be exceptionally good.

TO PROBE MONEY TRUST

The money trust enquiry by the U. S. Banking and Currency Committee starts Thursday, with the New York Clearing House first to be taken up.

NIAGARA SHAREHOLDERS.

Toronto, June 4.—Niagara Navigation shareholders yesterday received checks for their holdings, amounting to $200, per share from the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company. The extra bonus of $10 per share was distributed last week. Mr. C. J. Smith, who will be general manager of the entire merger, was in town yesterday.

PORTLAND CEMENT DOWN.

Canada Cement Co. has reduced Portland cement ten cents per barrel, west of the Lakes. A previous reduction of ten cents per barrel was made last November, so that the total drop in the last six months is twenty cents a barrel, west of the Lakes; and ten cents east.

CABLE BIDS ON WHEAT 2c OUT OF LINE

The first shipment of Canadian wheat to Denmark is that on board the Glenean which cleared to-day.

Also the unloading and loading of this ship made a new record for this port as she discharged 5,500 tons of coal and took on as much wheat in 36 hours.

The Glenean arrived Sunday at 4 a.m. and began discharging at 8 a.m. She had 5,500 tons of coal which was all on the dock by 10 p.m. Sunday. Ship was cleaned, shifting boards put up and the ship taken to the Grand Trunk elevators by 8 a.m. Monday. She loaded 190,137 bushels of No. 1 Manitoba hard wheat shipped by Thomson & Earle for Denmark. She had this on board at 10 p.m. This was 13,000 bushels an hour for 14 hours. P. W. Ferns was the stevedore.

Mr. Adam Thomson explained that such a record could be made at no other port in America. The position of the G. T. R. elevators is such that they were able to load from the cars and from another vessel at the same time, which cannot he says be done at any other elevator.

Asked as to why wheat was being shipped to Denmark at this time Mr. Thomson said that there was a market for our wheat there now chiefly because we had the right stuff to send them. It was the first shipment of wheat to that country Mr. Thomson remembers, in forty-three years as a grain merchant.

TORONTO CATTLE PRICES.

Toronto, June 4.—Receipts at the city cattle market to-day were 80 cars, with 1,200 cattle, 260 sheep, 350 hogs, and 600 calves. The tone was strong. Good cattle are scarce and lambs and sheep are steady in price.

Cotton Crop Condition Below 10 Years Average

Washington, D.C., June 4.—The first report of the Department of Agriculture showing the condition on May 25, of cotton of this season's planting in the United States, as compiled from the reports of correspondents and agents of the Bureau of Statistics, was issued to-day by the Crop Reporting Board, which estimated the condition as 78.9 per cent. of a normal, compared with 87.8 per cent. on May 25 last year, 82 per cent. on the corresponding date in 1910, 81.1 per cent. in 1909 and 81.5 per cent., the average condition for the past ten years on May 25.

The usual estimate by the Department of Agriculture, giving the acreage planted to cotton and issued yearly with the first condition report this year has been, and henceforth will be deferred until July owing to the passage recently by Congress of a law requiring this change.

COBALT ORE SHIPMENTS.

Eleven Cobalt mines last week shipped 637.33 tons of ore, and 8,185.52 tons for the year to date. La Rose heads the list, with McKinley second.

CHICAGO MARKET HAD 1c ADVANCE

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, June 4.—Profit taking by longs in wheat was the feature. This swing supplied the wants of shorts and investors, and prevented a runaway market. There were many bulletins to find their way into the wheat pit, and they were made the most of. The absence of rain in Kansas, and the many unfavorable reports as to crop conditions in Nebraska, caused considerable uneasiness among the bears. There were reported scattered showers in sections of the South-West and the senders of these messages were buyers.

With Lichstern long a line of 20,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels of July wheat and the holder of the cash article in Chicago houses, the chance of the bears may be said to be growing smaller and smaller. There was a fair trade in the September, yet the July was the attraction of the day.

Sensational Figures.

A report credited to the Burlington Railway, said that conditions in Nebraska have fallen off from 9 to 30 points during the past week, and that unless there is rain soon the losses will be sensational.

George M. Lecounte, the Finley Barrel expert, in a message from Ellsworth, Kansas, says that in parts of Russell and Ellsworth Counties some wheat is heading out and looking fine. Also many fields fair and many poor. In the greater part of the State the soil is very dry and the wheat is deteriorating rapidly from drought and is much too far gone for recovery.

The European visible supply of breadstuffs decreased 3,400,000 bushels for the week compared with a decrease of 3,450,000 a year ago. Primary receipts were 234,000 bushels compared with 474,000 a year ago. Clearings from the seaboard were 246,000 bushels.

European Markets.

With the exception of a decline of 5-8c at Berlin, the markets of Europe were generally higher, 5-8c at Antwerp; 1-4d. at Liverpool; 1-8c at Buda Pest and 1-4 to 1c at Paris.

The temporary embarassment of Proctor and Company, the Liverpool cash grain house attracted considerable attention at Chicago.

July wheat sold at 110 to 111; September at 106 1-8 to 107, compared with closings yesterday of 110 1-8 and 106 1-8 respectively.

RAILS AT 143 STEEL HEAVY SAO PAULO OFF

The most active feature of the local list to-day was Toronto Rails which moved up to 143 on good buying.

There was talk in the Street of a higher level in the near future and a 10 per cent. dividend not so far off.

The market for Dominion Steel was weak in the early trading, and went off to 6, but later rallieda good sized fraction.

Richelieu was a weak feature following Saturdays decline and went off to 115¾.

There was a sharp break in Sao Paulo of unusually heavy selling from 247¾ to 243¾ compared with 250 on Saturday.

Laurentide was a strong feature rallying to 174.

Spanish River was dull at 62 with pfd. at 96 to 95¾.

Pacific was strong at 266 to 266¾.

Power displayed its old time strength, rallying to 209.

Rio was dull, down to 137.

The afternoon market was fairly active with Richelieu showing strength and selling up to 116.

Rails held firm and under fairly good trading sold around 142 1-2.

Laurentide was on the strong side and sold up to 175.

UNPOPULARITY OF COTTONS A PUZZLE

O'Brien & Williams, writing on the cotton stocks, say: "It is difficult to account for the unpopularity and low price of some of our leading cotton issues. They deserve more attention than they are getting. The cotton companies of Canada have made an excellent record in recent years from the standpoint of earnings, and have successfully weathered conditions few Canadian industries could stand up against, and emerged from them with flying colors. For the past two years raw cotton has been abnormally high, so high that the consumption of the finished article has been greatly curtailed. But the leading concerns have lived through the times of stress and have had a pretty thorough seasoning.

"The stocks of the various concerns by reason of the high yield they give on the money are well worthy of consideration. Take, for example, the following:

	Price.	Div.	Yield.
Dom. Textile com.	68	5	7.35
do. pfd.	102	7	6.86
Montreal Cotton pfd.	106	7	6.60
Can. Cottons pfd.	74	6	8.10
Textile bonds	97	*6	6.18
Dom. Cotton bonds	103	*6	5.82

*Interest.

"It would be hard to conceive of conditions arising in a growing country like Canada which would endanger the dividends on any of the issues mentioned. Certainly at the present time the outlook is most hopeful, as all of the concerns in question enjoy excellent managements, and are booked many months ahead with orders, taken at prices which not only assure good profits, but assure satisfactory statements at the end of their respective fiscal years.

"In addition to the dividend-paying stocks, Montreal Cotton common and Canadian Cottons common are issues which give promise of returns in the future with the chances in favor of a dividend on the former issue this year.

RICHELIEU RIGHTS DOWN.

Richelieu Rights eased off to 3¾ to 3⅝ in sympathy with the heaviness of the stock.

MEXICAN NORTHERN EASIER.

Mexican Northern Power was easier at 22⅞.

WINNIPEG WHEAT CLOSING.

Winnipeg wheat closed at $1.06⅛ for July, and 98⅛c for October.

Winnipeg wheat prices were weaker to-day, but the market is decidedly quiet, with cables few and far between, and what bids are being received are generally two cents out of line, so that the cash trade is dull, and there is practically no export business passing.

Liverpool opened up firm, ⅛d up, and closed unchanged to ⅛c up for wheat, while corn closed weak, ⅝ to 1⅛d lower.

While the weather was fine and warmer in Alberta, there were showers and cloudy weather reported in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

To-day's price fluctuations:

New Concern Taking Over Gibson Lumber

St. John, N.B., June 4. — One of the largest lumber deals in the history of this province is being completed here in the transfer of the Alexander Gibson Lumber, Lands and Mills, opposite Fredericton, to the Partington Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd. The price is in the vicinity of $2,000,000, and it is said that the sale is preliminary to the absorption of the Partington Company by the Consolidated Pulp and Paper Co., Ltd., which has been organized by Senator Jones, of Bangor, Me.

JUST $120,000 THE CITY IS OUT BY ACT OF ALDERMEN

Turned Down Loan at 97 and Now Cannot Get More Than 95.

That aldermanic interference will result in a loss to the city of $120,000 has been brought before the Board of Control.

The loss will be in connection with the loan of five millions which the Controllers tried to float in January last. When the Bank of Montreal communicated in January offers it had in London to pay ninety-seven for the loan at four per cent., forty years, the aldermen raised a big "howl." They held the offer was ridiculous, and that the city should get at least par. Knowing the situation of the money market at the time, and having information from the bank in question that prices would likely go lower, the Controllers sent a report to Council asking that 97 be accepted, as it would be dangerous to wait any longer.

A section of Council upbraided the Controllers in no unmeasured terms for favoring the offer, and after a stormy session of Council the Controllers' report was finally turned down.

From information which has now been laid before the Controllers it actually appears that the best that can now be got for the loan is a fraction less than ninety-five, and prices may go even lower.

"This offer," said one of the Controllers, "when compared with the offer we received in January and which Council killed, means a loss of fully $120,000 to the city. It is too bad the January offer was not taken. The Controllers would not have asked for its acceptance by Council had they not good cause for knowing that prices were to go still lower."

FUNERAL OF THE LATE DR. IBBOTSON.

Service Was Conducted by Rev. A. T. Shatford, Assisted by Masonic Choir.

The funeral of the late Dr. Arthur Frank Ibbotson, the well-known surgeon-dentist who was accidentally killed by a street car on Notre Dame street last Friday night, took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of the deceased, Queen Mary Apartments, Oldfield avenue.

The service at the house was conducted by Rev. A. T. Shatford, assisted by Rev. Mr. Elliott, Dr. Symonds, Rev. Mr. Rogers, Mr. Bruce and Mr. Booth. The Masonic choir, of which he was an old member, attended in a body.

The various Masonic lodges of the city sent a beautiful collection of flowers and the Royal Highlanders, the Church of St. James the Apostle, and the Masonic choir also sent flowers, in addition to the many tributes from individual friends. Among the floral offerings was a wreath from the officers and men of No. 10 police station, St. Catherine street. To these men he had been a friend for years in more ways than one. The chief mourners were Messrs. H. R. Ibbotson, Dr. John S. Ibbotson, William Ibbotson, brothers, and Arthur Ibbotson, his cousin.

Among those who were at the funeral were Messrs. Ivan Selwin, James Burnett, Robert Aitken, Robert Whyte, M. Creak, Henry Gault, M. Mussen, Dr. Sealy, Cleghorn, Martin, Fred. Judah, Gordon Glass, McPherson, Bruce Ewan and Judge McCorkill.

FIRE CALLS FEWER IN MAY MONTH.

Less Streams Used, Less Ladders Raised Than in Previous May.

While the past month of May has been a busy one for the Montreal Fire Brigade, the total number of runs made falls short of the total for the corresponding month of 1911 by 84 runs. During the month of May just past the Fire Brigade responded to 208 alarms, turned in as compared with 292 for the month of May, 1911.

The reports for the past month shows that there were 106 fires, as compared with 172 for the same time the year previous. In fact, the report for the month of May this year shows a noted decrease in all departments. The number of useless calls attended totalled 75 in all, which is 9 less than for May, 1911; the number of false alarms turned in 16, or 10 less than last year.

The figures for the past month as compared with those for the corresponding month of last year are as follows:—

	1911	1912
Streams	8,174	68
Feet of hose used	79,800	25,150
Babcocks	186	151
Feet of Ladder used	31,789	22,220

OLD LANDMARK REMOVED IN DEATH OF MR. N. McGURN.

Was for Many Years in Charge of Seigneurs Street Bridge.

The death of Mr. Michael McGurn at the age of 89 years, which occurred on Saturday last, removes one of the oldest residents of Montreal. Mr. McGurn was well known along the canal, having for many years occupied the position of bridge-master of the old Seigneurs street bridge.

Shortly after his arrival here from Ireland, nearly sixty years ago, he married Miss Elizabeth McNall, who survives. Mr. and Mrs. McGurn have been married for fifty-nine years, and the couple were looking forward to the celebration of their diamond jubilee. A few weeks ago Mr. McGurn took ill and he passed away on Saturday.

The funeral took place this morning from his late residence, 22 Oller street, to St. Ann's Church, and thence to Cote des Neiges cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his wife, two sons, Michael and Patrick, and four daughters, Mrs. A. Gatland, of New York, and Misses Rose, Elizabeth and Therica McGurn.

Oppose License Transfer.

A special meeting of the License Commissioners is being held this afternoon to consider the application of Mrs Barney Law for a transfer from Delorimier Avenue to Parthenais Square.

The transfer is being opposed by the Cure of St. Vincent de Paul Church, and a petition opposing the transfer will be presented to the Commissioners this afternoon.

BANKERS—THE BANK OF TORONTO

The Canada Brick Co., Limited, has been organized to manufacture Sand Lime Brick. Plants are being erected at St. Lambert, P.Q., across the river from Montreal, and at Mile End, Montreal, each of which will have a capacity of 20,000 brick per day. The St. Lambert plant will be in operation early this month.

Brick made by the Sand Lime Process are of excellent quality. The demand for them in the home market of Montreal is several times the capacity of the Canada Brick Company's plants, and contracts have already been made for over half the Company's output at prices which will give a margin of at least $5.00 per thousand over the cost of production and selling. Estimating the annual output at 10,000,000 bricks (only ⅜ the capacity), the net profits will be at least $50,000, sufficient to pay the preferred dividends and 12% on the Common Stock.

Prospectus giving full information, and Subscription blanks, may be had from any Branch of the Bank of Toronto or from the Montreal Bond Company, Limited.

Cheques covering 10% of the amount subscribed for, must be sent in with subscriptions. The right is reserved to allot only such subscriptions and for such amounts as may be approved, and to close the subscription books without notice.

MAKE NEW RECORD IN IMMIGRATION TO THIS COUNTRY

Total of 34,900 Overseas Passengers Landed During the Month of May.

All immigration records in this country have been broken by the figures for May. During this month the Canadian Pacific handled more immigrants from Atlantic ports to the West than ever before in its history. The total, not counting children, was 34,900 for the month, as compared with 29,700 for the month of May last year. April was also a record breaker, there being 32,900 overseas immigrants handled on the C.P.R., as compared with 28,300 in April last year. Most of the 34,900 immigrants handled by the C.P.R. last month were people from the United Kingdom. Those from foreign countries totalled about 10,000.

In order to transport all the immigrants of last month, 780 passenger cars would have to be used, with 200 baggage cars, and 100 locomotives. It is calculated that if all these immigrant trains were put end on end they would cover no fewer than 15 miles of track.

Is Victim of Street Car.

Joseph Gaudry, 67 years of age, was hit by a street car at ten o'clock this morning, at the corner of Pine avenue and Cadieux streets, and taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital with a broken collar bone and a fractured skull.

THAT FOOT PAIN Broken down arch causes cramps and pains in the foot, heel and ankle. Sufferers imagine Gout and Rheumatism when the arch of the foot is to blame. This arch is composed of jointed bones. When they get out of place the bones chafe in their sockets, causing intense pains so often mistaken for Gout and Rheumatism. Scholl's "Foot-Eazers" give instant relief. You can walk all day without cramp or pain. Calluses, corns and bunions soon disappear. Scholl's "Foot-Eazers" make walking a pleasure instead of a torture. Sold by all druggists and shoe dealers. Try them today. The Scholl Mfg. Co., Ltd. 472 King Street, W., Toronto.

DEMOCRATS WILL OPPOSE REPEAL OF RECIPROCITY BILL

Have Joined Issue With Republican Forces in Senate Over This Question.

Washington, June 4. — The Democratic leaders of the House have decided to join issue with the Republicans of the Senate over the proposal of the repeal of the Canadian Reciprocity Act. That proposal, as it came from the Senate in the form of an amendment to the Underwood Bill for the revision of the steel and iron schedule; also provided for a world-wide duty of $2 a ton on wood pulp.

At an executive session of the Ways and Means Committee yesterday, the Democrats voted to accept the Senate's minor amendment to this bill, changing the rates on ferro-silicon and pig iron, but planted themselves firmly against the reciprocity amendment of the Senate. Chairman Underwood was instructed when he calls the Steel Bill up in the House to move to disagree to the Senate reciprocity amendment.

The plan is to give the Senate a chance to withdraw the reciprocity amendment. There is little prospect of this happening since it is the plan of the Senate to attach the reciprocity amendment to each of the other tariff bills sent forward by the House Democrats.

The House Ways and Means Committee also ordered the Underwood Cotton Bill reported. This is the last of the series of Democratic measures, and is exactly like the bill for the reduction of the duties on manufactures of cotton passed by the Democrats during the extraordinary session and vetoed by President Taft, August 22, 1911.

The average equivalent ad valorem of the rates carried by the cotton schedule of the present law is 48 per cent. The Underwood bill proposes to reduce this average to about 27 per cent.

CHINESE PARADE ON SUNDAY NEXT.

Republicans Will March Through City to New Temple.

Progress is being made in the arrangements for the Chinese Republican Party procession and dedication of their hall, on Lagauchetiere street, next Sunday. Mayor Lavallee yesterday granted permission to the Chinese to hold their parade and it has been decided to assemble on the Champ de Mars and start the walk through the city at two p.m. It is expected that there will be over 1,000 Chinamen in the parade and they will proceed by way of Gosford, Craig, St. Denis, St. Catherine, Windsor, Craig, St. Lawrence and Lagauchetiere to the Masonic Temple, 78 Lagauchetiere street. Joe Pang, Grand Master for Quebec, will head the procession.

PRIZES FOR ESSAYS BY YOUNG LAWYERS.

Batonnier Inaugurates This Custom to Replace Former Trials.

No more shall the popping of champagne corks be heard among the lawyers of Montreal; no more shall the vintage sparkle for them in slender-stemmed glasses; no more shall they drink to the health of new elected batonniers. Instead of this practice, honored as it is, by hoary tradition, there is to be serious study among the younger members of the Bar and the consumption of many C. P. of midnight power.

All of this is connected with the announcement that Mr. J. L. Archambault, K. C., the new batonnier, will pay no treats this year to mark his election. This has always been an expensive custom, the cost sometimes totalling $500, and the lawyers this year unanimously decided to abolish the bibulous customs of the past.

But Mr. Archambault believes that the abolition of a bad custom should be marked by the inauguration of a good one and, therefore, he has offered a first prize of $100 dollars for essays on legal subjects to be written by the younger members of the Bar. There will also be a second prize of a medal or smaller monetary consideration.

The proposal to abolish treating in connection with the election of a new batonnier was made at the annual meeting this year by Messrs. Pierre Beulac, K. C., and Leon Garneau, K.C.

WAITERS' STRIKE IS DECLARED ON WANE

Importation of Strike-Breakers from Outside Cities Held-Up.

New York, June 4—The waiters' strike is on the wane, the hotel-keepers say to-day. Many calls to strike have been disregarded, and scores of strikers are seeking their old jobs. The hotel men declare that the strike will be entirely ended within the week, though the strikers' leaders maintain that there is hope for victory.

Although further walkouts were expected at a few establishments today, President Reed, of the Hotel Men's Association, declares that the waiters have played their best hand, and that there is no longer a feeling of uneasiness among the managers. So confident are the hotel men of the outcome that fifty-one telegrams have been sent to outside cities, holding up strike-breakers on their way here.

Although the strike signal was given on the thirteen places during the night, it was obeyed in but three.

PREMIER MACKENZIE'S ADVANCED POLICY.

National Insurance, Allowance for Children and Income Tax are Advocated.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star.

Wellington, N. Z., June 4.—Premier MacKenzie, in an address to his constituents, declared that his policy lies in perfecting the administration, rather than in legislating. The Prime Minister said he favored a scheme of national insurance; also an allowance of 50 pounds to parents for each child; an income tax and the policy of encouraging young women immigrants for domestic service.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC SUBJECT BEFORE THE CONFERENCE

Conference Against Sale, However — Statistical Report Proves Disappointing.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., June 4.—The liquor traffic and social evils were discussed at the Montreal Methodist Conference this morning, arising out of the report of the Temperance and Moral Reform Committee, presented by the Rev. James Lawson, Ashton, the chairman being Mr. W. H. Lambly, Inverness.

The report expressed pleasure that the treating system was likely to be abolished at the next session of the Ontario Legislature, and the hope that immediate steps would be taken to wholly abolish the bar. Among the amendments recommended for the Liquor Act was one asking that any one found drunk in a local-option district be compelled to tell where he secured the liquor.

The Conference again went on record as against the three-fifths clause for local-option, though several voted against this recommendation.

Several amendments to the Criminal Code will also be recommended, dealing especially with offences against women.

One aims to make it a much more serious offence for proprietors who allow their premises to be used for purposes of vice. The committee recommend that the age of consent be raised to 18 years, but the Conference will ask that it be 21 years, and that the penalty be a term of imprisonment of not less than two years.

In view of complaints as to hotel accommodation in local-option towns the committee recommend that the Provincial governments be petitioned to inspect and supervise all hotels, whether licensed or in local-option sections and that the Government insist, under adequate penalties, on efficient and sufficient accommodation to the travelling public. This was endorsed by the Conference.

Quebec Legislation Proposed.

The committee recommended a change in Quebec legislation to provide that only those residing or doing business in a municipality should be allowed to vote on a prohibitory measure. In support of this the Rev. I. Norman cited a case in a local-option fight in Lennoxville. Fifty-nine hotel men and employes from Sherbrooke bought a $3,000 property in Lennoxville, and thus, on the $30 basis, all had a vote.

Prof. P. T. Richardson, Montreal, said the proposed amendment would work both ways. In Hudson there would be a license if the summer residents had not voted against it. The amendment, as proposed, would shut out summer residents.

The Rev. T. E. Burke, Montreal, said the trouble was that both parties played the same game, and in Lennoxville some men were urged to buy property so they could vote for local-option.

The Rev. Mr. Norman objected to this. All the temperance people had done was to ask some men who did business in Lennoxville, and who were talking of buying, to buy in time to vote for local-option. The recommendation was approved.

The Rev. W. H. Stevens, Chesterville, and Elmer Davis, Kingston, were appointed representatives on the General Conference Temperance and Moral Reform Board. The representatives on the Ontario group are: Rev. R. Peever, Ottawa; S. T. Chown, Renfrew; Quebec group—Rev. W. H. Sparling, Brockville; Rev. T. E. Burke, Montreal; W. H. Lambly, Inverness; S. J. Carter, Montreal. The representatives on the Dominion Alliance are: Rev. W. H. Raney, Ottawa; Rev. James Lawson, Ashton; W. H. Rosevear, Montreal; C. W. Cate, Sherbrooke.

Statistical Report Disappointing.

The statistical report as presented at the Montreal Methodist Conference to-day was rather disappointing, particularly as regards membership, which showed an increase of only 73, while the number received on probation showed a big increase. The finances made a better showing. The report also gave the church union vote.

The total membership is 39,130, an increase of 73, as compared with an increase of 333 the previous year. There were 1,566 who came in by letter, while 1,881 were thus removed, making a net loss of 315. The number received on probation was 2,003, which was 276 less than for the previous year. There were 2,142 baptisms, a decrease of 309; 1,174 marriages, an increase of 7; and 1,565 deaths, an increase of 43.

A decrease was shown in the Young Peoples' Society, sustentation city missions and superannuation funds, but the others showed an increase. The principal funds were:—

Missionary, $64,087; education, $7,067; general conference, $2,281; Sunday school, $1,119; contingent, $741; temperance, $1,850; Young Peoples' Society, $209; sustentation, $827; church and parsonage, $154; Women's Missionary Society, $17,031; City Missions, $1,904; superannuation fund, $18,167;; paid by circuits for ministerial support, $152,472; domestic missionary, $25,505. Total raised for all purposes, $595,852.

The reports showed only 80 ministers receiving $900 or over, while 63 receive less. There are 54 mission stations in the Conference.

The returns of the vote on church union in the Conference showed 27,373 in favor of union, and 5,679 against. The total number entitled to vote was 49,885. This report will be discussed later in the Conference.

The fate of "Old St. James," Montreal, as far as the Montreal Methodist Conference is concerned, now rests with the trustee board of the church and a special commission composed of eight ministers and seven laymen. As a last resort they are given full power to sell the whole of the present church property on St. Catharine street and devote the money, partly for an institutional church on some other site and partly for church extension work. This decision was reached by the Conference by a vote of 102 to 74, after a discussion which lasted all afternoon.

While the commission named was given full power, the discussions and applause indicated that the temper of the Conference is against selling the church. The power was given the commission because it was argued that unless it had full authority to do something definitely without reporting back to the Conference before taking action, the trustees of the church would not take it seriously.

The commission will consist of Rev. Dr. E. B. Ryckman, Kingston; Rev. Dr. J. E. Mavety, Ottawa; Rev. Dr. R. W. Young, Montreal; Rev. W. H. Sparling, Hev. William Timberlake, Montreal; Rev. C. S. Deeprose, Ottawa; Rev. Melvin Taylor, Arnprior, Rev. William Philip, Iroquois; Messrs. C. W. Cate, Sherbrooke; J. H. Holt, Quebec; E. Seybold, Ottawa; W. H. Goodwin, Montreal; J. W. McConnell, Montreal, John Leslie, Montreal, and J. Hilliard, Morrisburg.

Loyal Message to King.

A large Union Jack draped the platform at the Montreal Methodist Conference yesterday, and at the opening the National Anthem was sung with enthusiasm, after regret had been expressed that business would not permit of adjournment of conference to celebrate the King's birthday. On motion of Rev. Geo. S. Clendinnen, Ottawa, it was unanimously decided to send the following message to His Royal Highness, the Governor-General, for transmission to His Majesty, King George:

"The Montreal Conference of the Methodist Church, assembled in the historic city of Kingston, respectfully prays His Royal Highness, the Governor-General, to convey to His Gracious Majesty, King George, our congratulations and the congratulations of our people, upon the occasion of His Majesty's birthday. We rejoice in this opportunity of affirming our loyalty to the Empire, whose unity has been demonstrated by the Durbar in India, over which His Majesty has with such conspicuous success, recently presided. We humbly pray that by the Grace of God, the life and health of His Majesty and of Her Majesty, the Queen may be preserved, that they may long reign in peace and prosperity over his united and devoted Empire."

The action taken by the Conference was in endorsation of a report which was presented as coming unanimously from a special committee of thirty which has had the matter under discussion for a couple of days. The report at the outset stated that the present location of St. James was ideal and unique, but owing to financial aspects of the church and church work generally in Montreal there were several propositions under consideration: selling all or part of the property or creating a special endowment fund being the principal ones.

The committee recommended that a special commission be appointed to look into the whole question and discuss it with the boards of the church and that, if all other policies for the formation of an institutional church on the present property were impracticable, the commission, on the request of the trustee board, be given power to authorize the sale of the entire property, the proceeds to be used for the formation of an institutional church on the next best site and the balance used for church extension work as the commission might decide.

In the discussion it was shown that the matter is not by any means a [illegible] one and the opinion was freely expressed that Methodism in Canada would not tolerate the sale of the church except for the very best reasons.

DEATH IN SQUALL ON LAKE ST. LOUIS FOR LITTLE GIRL

Dr. Fry and Mr. Edward Foster Effect Rescue and Bring Party Ashore.

A sad boating accident, attended with fatal results, marked the beginning of the yachting season. Shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon, a little dinghy, with Mr. and Mrs. Hackett, their three-year-old daughter, and Messrs. Nicholson and Wallace, of Montreal on board, was struck by a squall opposite Dorval, on Lake St. Louis, and immediately capsized, throwing all the occupants in the water. Mr. Hackett and one of the other men could swim and quickly helped the other two to take a hold on the keel of the upturned boat. But unfortunately, not a trace of the little girl could be found, and Mr. Hackett, becoming exhausted after repeated dives, was forced to give up further search in despair, and to hold on to the keel until rescue came.

Meanwhile Dr. F. M. Fry and Mr. Edward Foster, who were out with a party of ladies in a small craft, had noticed the capsizing of the dinghy, and, although their little "hobo" was already crowded, were successful in taking off Mrs. Hackett and the two men who were clinging to the keel of the upturned boot, numb with cold and almost ready to drop off from sheer exhaustion. Mr. Hackett, however, who was a prey to the utmost grief at the loss of his child, insisted on remaining in the water for further search, and had almost to be forcibly pulled in to the already overcrowded craft.

The work of rescue was particularly dangerous, as by this time a heavy gale was blowing down the lake, and the light "hobo" might very easily have been swamped had it not been for the presence of mind of all on board. Everyone realized their danger, however, and remained cool, with the result that all were safely landed and subsequently taken to the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club.

While making for shore the rescuers hailed the passing motor boat of Mr. Hugh Morris, which towed in the overturned dinghy. On feeling under the upturned boat, Mr. Morris found the body of the little girl, wedged in between an oar and the tackle. After lifting the body into his boat and wrapping it in canvas he handed it over to a speeding boat, which hurried to the Royal St. Lawrence Club House, where Dr. Fry worked over her for a long time in an effort at resuscitation, but the child had been dead about an hour and his efforts were unavailing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett went to their summer home at Valois, where the body of the little girl was sent later. The rest of the party returned to Montreal.

IS FRIEND OF BOYS, DR. BROPHY TELLS SCHOLARS

St. Agnes Pastor Will Give a Hand to Aid Boyish Activities.

Rev. Dr. Brophy, pastor of St. Agnes parish to-day made his first visit to the Oller School.

An address of welcome was read to the new pastor, congratulating him on his appointment by Master Clarence Miller.

Father Brophy, in reply, asked the boys to look upon him, not as their pastor but as their friend, sharing in their joys and amusements, interested in everything that interests them. He promised to take an interest in their sports as well as their studies. He asked the boys to come to him without fear when they needed anything to promote their sports and he would always be pleased to heelp them willingly and generously.

Then addressing the pupils in French he expressed the pleasure it gave him to find the two races living in perfect harmony and good fellowship and he prayed for a continuation of the same through life. He concluded by granting a holiday which was received with the usual joy unrestrained.

The T. M. H. A.-Disraeli Baseball team, having an off day, have arranged a game with the Ahuntsic Baseball Team, on Sunday, June 2nd, at 3 p.m., and a bumper crowd is expected to go along with the team.

The Harrier Club reorganized for the season and held their first practice on Monday night, and will continue practicing every Monday and Thursday nights under the supervision of "Ted" Garfinkle.

MARINE NOTES.

Vessels in port yesterday were gaily decked out in honor of His Majesty's birthday. The Government offices were also decorated. The Virginian, as she lay at her berth, was as pretty a sight as could be seen in a long while. This big Allan liner was, from stem to stern and up to the peaks of her masthead, dressed out in gay bunting.

The water in the harbor is still high, and, as previously stated, Section 42 of the wharf is several feet below water. Freight cars standing on this section of the wharf are surrounded by water up to the axles, and have somewhat the appearance of bathing houses at a seaside resort.

A two million dollar pier will be built along the breakwater at Quebec. The plans for the new pier have been approved by the Canadian Government, and the Government will shortly call for tenders.

The burning of Lewis Brothers' ink manufacturing plant, a seven-storey structure, near the Brooklyn Bridge, provided a highly spectacular sight for New Yorkers last night. There were many explosions as the flames reached the various chemicals stored there. Loss estimated at $100,000.

WITHOUT A SUBSTITUTE.

There is no substitute for the Want Ad. Columns of the Star.

This is a verdict agreed to by every man and woman who has had practical experience in knowing of their value through reaching the consumer, the worker, the employer, the employee.

No other means of carrying a message to those who are interested can be so efficient and accomplish its object so quickly and at such slight expense.

The Star Want Ads are unique in their far reaching effects and the tremendous influence that they wield in the affairs of business and the household.

DENIES CITY'S LOSS.

Mayor Lavallee Says City Does Not Lose $40,000 From Assessment Roll.

It is denied by Mayor Lavallee that the city loses about forty thousand dollars a year on account of the delay in completing the assessment rolls, as was stated by Ald. L. A. Lapointe last week. In explanation the Mayor said that in the very nature of things there must be some six months' delay before the rolls of the city could be completed, and this, of course, would entail some loss, but nothing like the amount stated by Ald. Lapointe.

As steps have now been taken to increase the engineering staff, it is expected that there will be less delay in completing the rolls.

One of every five of the immigrants who recently arrived in Australia from California will take up land in Victoria.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, do not use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles, sagging cheeks or double chin, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel will prove effectual.—(Adyt.)

MRS. HENRY F. ADAMS DIES.

Had Undergone Operation and Death Was Unexpected.

Mrs. Henry F. Adams, 56 years of age, widow of the late Lieut.-Col. Adams, died in the Royal Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon after a brief illness. The deceased lady had undergone a serious operation some days ago and appeared to be doing well, when she took a turn for the worse yesterday and died suddenly.

Mrs. Fletcher is survived by one brother, Mr. Gordon C. Fletcher, of Montreal, and two sisters, Miss Fletcher also of this city, and Mrs. Walter Swain, of Winnipeg.

The funeral will take place from her home, 195 Park avenue, on Wednesday at 2 p.m., to Christ Church Cathedral, and thence to the Mount Royal Cemetery.

Rev. Mr. Hockin Dies in China.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Woodstock, Ont., June 4.—Rev. M. Hockin, Methodist missionary in West China, from the Nova Scotia Conference, whose father and father-in-law are ministers of that conference, died of typhus fever while assisting in famine relief distribution.

This announcement was made yesterday by Dr. Shore, who is attending the Hamilton Methodist Conference here.

Lochiel Man Drowned.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Alexandria, Ont., June 4.—J. J. McDonnell, aged 27 years, son of Mr. J. A. McDonnell, of Lochiel Township, met death by drowning in the River Delisle, which adjoins the property.

Mr. McDonnell had announced his intention of going bathing, but no anxiety was felt until a friend searching for him, found his clothes on the bank. The body was recovered.

GIFT FOR CAPT. ROSTRON.

Commander of the Carpathia Presented With $10,000 Draft.

New York, June 4.—Captain Arthur H. Rostron, of the steamer Carpathia, which brought into port the survivors of the Titanic disaster, was presented with a draft for $10,000 to-day, a fund subscribed by readers of a New York newspaper. The presentation ceremony took place aboard the liner at her pier here.

Captain Rostron, in accepting the gift, said that whatever part he had played in the Titanic tragedy was due to the loyalty of his crew, and it grieved him, he said, to know that honors were being thrust upon him through the sufferings of others.

The largest contributor to the fund was Mrs. George Widener, of Philadelphia, whose husband perished on the Titanic. She gave $2,500.

Grant to Irish Agriculture.

The Irish Agricultural Organization Society has received from the Development Commissioners a definite reply to its application for a grant in aid of the Society's co-operative work in Ireland. The Commissioners have recommended the Treasury to give the Society a fixed annual sum plus a further grant in proportion to the subscriptions of the Society's supporters. Some conditions are imposed, this offer including representation of the Department of Agriculture on the Society's committee.

Ask Your Doctor

Ayer's Hair Vigor is composed of Sulphur, Glycerin, Quinine, Sodium Chloride, Capsicum, Sage, Alcohol, Water, Perfume.

Show this to your doctor. Ask him if there is a single injurious ingredient. Ask him if he thinks Ayer's Hair Vigor, as made from these ingredients, is the best preparation you could use for falling hair, or for dandruff. Does not color the hair.

Made by J. C. Ayer Company, Montreal, Canada.

CHARLOTTE NOMINATIONS.

More New Brunswick Candidates' Names Announced.

St. John, N.B., June 4.—The Liberals of Charlotte County have nominated Harry McCallister, Harry W. Mann, Daniel Gilmor, Jr., son of Senator Gilmor, and Geo. M. Byron as candidates in the Provincial election.

In Queen's County the Liberal candidates are George H. King, son of Senator King, and I. W. Carpenter, and the Conservative candidates are H. W. Woods, and A. R. Slipp, the farmer members.

Bombs Exploded in New York.

New York, June 4.—Three bombs were exploded almost simultaneously to-day in the vicinity of Eighth street and Fourth avenue, in the lower East Side. No one was injured, but considerable property damage was done. The police as yet have not fixed responsibility for any of the explosions.

Five Deaths From Unusual Cause.

Cincinnati, June 4.—Five persons perished as the result of being overcome by gas fumes in a grain well at the dairy of Jacob Sachs in Fairmount this city to-day.

St. Hilda's Church at Fairbank, a Toronto suburb, was yesterday the scene of a fractional squabble, supporters of the old rector, the Rev. George Scott, seeking to prevent the Rev. Mr. Lawrence, his successor, from taking possession of the pulpit. A legal battle is promised.

SOLDIERS' TROUSERS STOLEN

Trip of 44th Regiment to Camp Was Imperilled.

Welland, Ont., June 4. — The theft of thirty pairs of trousers, several shirts and other clothing from the stores of the 44th regiment, came near interfering with the trip of that corps to camp.

Private George Dukes admitted the theft, and has been remanded for eight days.

Special Notice

Some Information on Player Pianos That May Not Be Known at All.

One quarter of the output to-day by Canadian factories are Player Pianos. Montrealers are not buying quite as many as they should. The reason of this is not quite apparent, but it is presumed that there is not a general understanding of the actual perfection of Player Pianos.

It is an actual fact that Player Pianos are a great source of tuition, as it is only through owning a Player Piano that we are enabled to hear all the music of the great masters, and a wonderful privilege this is. Then, again, a Player Piano is arranged so we may give our own interpretation to any music, enabling us to show the extent of what musical knowledge we have.

There are plenty of musical people who do not play or know anything of notes, and the Player Piano gives them an opportunity to show their natural ability.

For the student there is a correct example of melody and tempo. From our personal knowledge of music, our Player Pianos are unexcelled, as the interpretation mechanism is positive. We are demonstrating all hours of the day, and would be pleased to have anyone call who is interested.
