ADDITIONS AND IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT FRY - CADBURY PLANT, HUNTINGDON

The Fry-Cadbury Milk Plant in Huntingdon, is steadily becoming one of the district's most important industries, especially so for the farmer producers of the area. New additions have been made and new machinery has been installed to accommodate the increase in the amount of milk received at this plant. The top photograph shows a general view of the front of the plant. Running from a door of the plant can be seen the churn conveyor. The lower photograph shows a new butter churn that has been recently installed for the making of butter. It is a stainless steel type made by DeLaval and the only one of this make in the Province of Quebec. Its capacity is 1800 pounds and a make of butter can be seen in the churn. The butter is packed into boxes, seen in front, and shipped to Government storehouses, to whom it is sold. A report of the additions, etc., made appears elsewhere in this issue.

Fry-Cadbury Completes New Extension --- New Equipment Now Being Installed

The Fry-Cadbury Milk Plant in Huntingdon, is steadily growing both as to size and in production. A few years ago this newspaper carried a story of this plant when it was less than half its present size and it was then cited that it was of great help to the farmers of this community. This plant provided an outlet for the farmers' product and within easy hauling distance. The support given by the farmers of this area has been a large factor in the expansion which has taken place over the past few years. At the same time, Fry-Cadbury has shown confidence in this district by going ahead and carrying out the expansion plans.

About five years ago, the first addition was made to the original plant which was 40x40 ft., giving an increased floor space of 1600 square feet. Various changes were made at that time which speeded up the handling of the whole milk and the cooling and pasteurization process. It also allowed for the receipt of more milk from the farmers of the district.

This year, another addition has just been completed, the size of which is 40 feet by 24 feet. All new equipment is presently being installed in this addition and much of it is already in position, although not in operation. The daily receipts of fluid milk is now up to 150,000 pounds. At the moment there is only one place for receiving the milk and washing and returning the cans. When the latest addition is operating, there will be two receiving units and two can washers. This will considerably speed up receipt of the milk from the many customers who ship their product to this plant.

In the new addition there is installed the latest type of can washer and receiving unit. It is known as the return can washer. That is the milk will be dumped into a new type of weigh scales, the can will be placed in the washer and after being washed it will be returned through the same unit to the waiting truck or other vehicle. The cans will be brought in on one conveyor and returned clean to the truck on another. The milk after being weighted on the scales will be drained off into a tank and then into a large tank with capacity for 30,000 pounds to start on the cooling process. All of the equipment is now of stainless steel, which provides for better cleaning and is much more sanitary.

When this tank becomes full, the contents can be drawn off into other storage tanks in the plant and thence to trucks which haul the pasteurized milk to the Montreal plant of Fry-Cadbury for processing into their famous variety of chocolate bars, etc.

The milk is received at the rate of 40,000 pounds per hour and is evaporated at the rate of 12,000 pounds per hour. Seventeen trucks are regularly employed daily to bring milk to the plant from surrounding points and to return the cans to the owners. In addition a large number of farmers make own deliveries to the plant each day. The trucks are under contract to the shippers and are not operated by Fry-Cadbury.

In this same new addition there has been erected a 45 foot loading platform scale which weights the milk that is shipped out by trucks. Special machinery is used to run the evaporated milk through pipes into the tanks on the trucks and it takes only a very short time to load one of these.

A new system of evaporating and cooling the milk has been installed and the evaporator is of stainless steel.

In order to provide a greater outlet for the farmers of the area and also to use up any surplus product not required in the chocolate manufacture, Fry-Cadbury makes a quantity of butter throughout the year. In this end of the business there has recently been installed a large DeLaval stainless steel churn with a capacity of 1800 pounds of butter. This is the first of this make of churn to be installed in the Province of Quebec and the firm is very proud of it. Mr. Lionel Blanchet is the butter maker. In order to cool the cream, ice water continually passed through the viens on the inside of the churn. A 7½ h.p. electric motor is used to drive the churn during the manufacturing process. The butter is taken out by hand and placed in wooden boxes and later shipped to the government storage places, to whom it is sold. None of this butter is sold to retail outlets.

Mr. Harold McLean is the manager of Fry-Cadbury in Huntingdon and much credit is due him for the steady expansion programme that has been carried out by the company in the past few years. Besides Mr. McLean, there are 12 other employees, which is a considerable increase over a few years back.

All cooling is now done by refrigeration process in place of the ice method previously used.

Tax Arrears Must Be Paid Speeding to Be Checked

Huntingdon Town Council held a regular session at the County Building, Tuesday evening, July 3rd, with all present except Alderman Fournier.

Following the reading of the minutes, a number of bills were read and passed for payment.

Mr. W. Goodall and Mr. Raymond Dube, territory manager for the John Deere Implement Company, attended the meeting to inform the council with regard to a tractor and loading equipment. The equipment had been demonstrated previously to members of the council and they were very impressed with the operation. However, after some discussion, while the council did not disapprove of the equipment, it was felt that they were not yet ready to make a purchase. It was said that the time is fast approaching when the town will have to invest in some such equipment. The tractor is of the crawler type and can be used for digging ditches, refilling, bulldozing, snow removal and loading of gravel, etc.

Mr. O. Bonneville asked the council to have the weeds cut along the sidewalk on Cemetery Street across the tracks and also to repair the walk. This will be attended to.

Officials of Popular Rugs sent a letter asking that the valuation on their property be lowered in view of the fact that the building and plant was not presently occupied or in operation. No action was taken on this.

Milk reports were read on samples taken June 5th as follows: Belle Vallee, 22,000cc; Elmhurst, 2,100,000 cc; Salaberry, 96,000; Moniqui, 10,-000cc; Goodfellow, 33,000cc.

Mr. Henri Lazure asked for a permit to build a house on York Street. The permit was granted.

Several alderman complained of speeding cars in various parts of the town and also of cars making unnecessary noise by screeching tires near the Hospital. Chief L'Heureux, who was present was instructed to take any steps necessary to stop these practices. The complaints apparently were in connection with a few young drivers who have been cautioned several times.

Arrears of various taxes amounting to $10,000 were reviewed by the council and the Quebec Dept. of Municipal Affairs had warned the council that measures must be taken to collect these arrears. It was decided to get tough with those who are a year or more in arrears and after a warning to take drastic measures to collect them.

New Rate For Telephone Service in Huntingdon

Because the Huntingdon local calling area has outgrown its present telephone rate group, increases will go into effect on August 13, to bring rates into line with those charged in other centres with a similar number of telephones, J. L. Rivest, Bell Telephone manager for this region, said this week.

The increases are relatively small. For example the monthly charge for two-party residence service will be only 10 cents higher and individual residence service 20 cents higher.

The move into a higher rate group was directed by the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada, following a Bell company report on April 30. The report stated that the number of telephones in Huntingdon's calling area had increased by more than five per cent beyond the maximum limit of the present rate group.

Telephone rates for Huntingdon are governed by the number of telephones in the local calling area, on the principle established by the board that the service increases in value as the number of telephones increases. The Bell company is required to report to the board twice yearly the status of exchanges whose total telephones have increased or decreased more than five per cent beyond the limits of their respective groups.

The Huntingdon area has expanded steadily in recent years and its progress has been accompanied by a parallel growth in the number of telephones. Huntingdon residents now have 2146 telephones in their calling area.

The new rates will become effective on the first normal billing date following the 30 days' notice required by the board. This will be on August 13.

The following table provides examples of the monthly rates for typical classes of service in the present and new rates groups for the area.

Grade 12 to Be Re-introduced At Ormstown High School

A few months ago the Ormstown School Commission received a written request, bearing signatures of eight parents, that be possibility of reviving a written request, during the 1956-57 academic year be explored. It was pointed out by parents that successfull completion of Grade Twelve at the local High School would save their children a year at University and in cases where young people planned to become Intermediate Teachers they would receive a full year's credit in the McGill Institute of Education at Macdonald College. It was further pointed out that having their children at home for another year would represent a substantial monetory saving to families concerned.

This request was entertained somewhat guardedly by the Commissioners who were of the opinion that it would be unwise to make a comitment which would mean added expense at a time when our building programme was in initial stages.

They investigated the matter, however, and after duly communicating with the Director of Protestant Education in Que. the Board concluded that the idea was quite feasible without committing local tax-payers to any additional expense.

While the Board recognited that increased high school enrolment during recent years made it impossible to carry Twelfth Grade without engaging an additional High School Specialist, they learned that a special grant made by the Provincial Department of Education to schools offering Grade Twelve together with revenue from Grade Twelve School Fees would fully cover this additional cost. Upon this basis the Board agreed to grant the parents' request.

The Grade Twelve Course-Offering for 1956-1957 is as follows:

English Literature
English Composition
E. A. King, M.A.
History
North American Literature
Margaret Campbell, M.A.
French (Written and Oral)
Gérard Lacombe, French Specialist.
Mathematics
Chemistry.
Rosemary Aikman, B.Sc., Specialist in Mathematics and Chemistry.
Biology
Janet Morgan, B.A.
Practical home Economics
Nancy Nagie, B.Sc (home Economies).

Students who might be interested in proceeding to Twelfth Grade are invited to direct inquiries to the Principal.

Arrangements Made For School Buses

A regular meeting of the Protestant School Board of Huntingdon High School, was held on Thursday evening, with all members present.

A number of bills were read and some of these were passed for payment while several referred back for closer checking.

Mr. Arnold Milne was present and the matter of bus routes was discussed. In view of the fact of an extended route to pick up the new pupils which will come in from Athelstan next year, it was decided to increase payment for the route from $1700 to $2600. Mr. Milne is to procure some other equipment for another route which he said he would do for a sum of $800 per year. Both of these propositions were approved by the Board.

Dr. Willis, who was not present at this meeting, left a latter of instructions as to work which should be done by the caretaker during the summer vacation. He also said he had arranged for Mr. Yates to conduct music lessions at a cost of $11 per day and which was in accordance with the requirements in this connection. Mr. Yates had said he would be available as long as in this district. The Board did not act on this latter proposition at this meeting.

It was decided to do further work on the new piece of land acquired for extra playground space. The brush and some tree stumps will be removed and some fill will be drawn in and levelled in readiness for the opening of school in September. Enquiries are to be made with regard to a suitable fencing of the property.

Renovation of some of the class rooms is presently underway.

Dial System Telephone For Valleyfield

According to information supplied The Gleaner by Mr. Jean Louis Rivest, Manager for the Valleyfield area of the Bell Telephone Co., starting this week, all telephones in the Valleyfield will be converted to the dial system. All premises in Valleyfield and surrounding area will be visited in connection with this conversion and it will be some time before all this work is completed.

The new Central Office presently being constructed at the corner of Jacques Cartier and Champlain Streets, is expected to be completed by the end of July. When this has been done, the Northern Electric Company will start installing the equipment, which will be about the beginning of September. This work is expected to last approximately nine months.

Completely new numbers will be allotted to all telephone users in the Valleyfield area and the exchange will be known as Frontenac 3 and this will be followed by four other digits.

This will be something entirely new for the people of Valleyfield and area, but it will make for faster and improved service.

Cemetery Co. Needs Your Help

From time to time, cemeteries in this area are in need of some extra money to pay for more than usual upkeep and replacement. One such case is that of the Elgin Church Cemetery Company. Those charged with the upkeep and repair of fences, etc., are urgently in need of financial assistance at this time.

There are only forty-seven lotholders from whom at this time funds can be obtained and this is insufficient to pay for the work and repairs which must be done to keep the cemetery in proper condition. The fence around the cemetery is in need of painting and before being painted it must have the rust removed. This one job alone will involve considerable expense and in consequence, the Company is appealing to all who would be willing to give donations toward this project.

There may be those who will read this article, who are now living away from here, but have relatives or friends buried in this cemetery, or they may just be interested, who would like to help in this hour of need. If there is anyone who would like to help, they could send their contribution to the Elgin Church Cemetery Company and it would be gratefully received. Anyone locally who would care to help are asked to do so and all contributions large or small will be much appreciated. We owe something to those who have passed on, that their last resting place be kept as tidy and neat as possible.

Donald Cogland Addresses Rotary Club on "Adventure in Citizenship"

At the Rotary Club Meeting on Monday it was unanimous agreed that two invalid chairs be placed at the Duck Sweepstake Nurse Bursary Fund are now being made. Favourable reports were received on the sale of tickets, several Rotarians reporting having sold all the tickets allocated to them at the last Rotary meeting.

Donald Cogland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett G. Cogland addressed the Rotary Club upon his "Adventure in Citizenship" as conducted by the Rotary Club of Ottawa. Donald participated in this Adventure in Citizenship as the delegate sponsored by the Huntingdon Rotary Club. Donald as introduced by Dr. Arthur White and thanked by Rotarian Gilbert MacMillan. In extending the words of thanks Mr. MacMillan paid high tribute to Donald for the excellence of his report and the manner of presentation. The address as given reads as follows:

An Adventure In Citizenship
by Donald Cogland

Every young Canadian must understand and realize what citizenship is. An Adventure In Citizenship is an excellent opportunity for the fortunate young Canadian to prepare themselves for the greater adventure of responsible citizenship in our democratic society. If Canada is to survive from the aggressive policy of other countries we, the Canadians of tomorrow, must learn to understand the methods of our government and to work together.

During my stay in Ottawa I learned many vetal and important principles of citizenship. When I boarded the new "Canadian" train for Ottawa on Sunday May 13, I was embarking on An Adventure In Citizenship, I was indeed fortunate to have a reservation on the "Canadian", one of the most modern trains in Canada. What a striking contrast to the trains that I have been used to. My Vision was no longer obscured by grimy dustladen windows. From my comfortable reclining chair I could watch the countryside through large picture windows. The air was delightfully fresh and cool and soft music lent a note of enchantment to the ride. During part of my trip I sat in the dome which is a large tinted glassed-in enclosure above the rest of the train. From my seat in the dome I could view the countryside for miles. On the train I met several students from Eastern Canada who were also attending this project sponsored by the Ottawa Rotary Club. On arrivving at Union Station we were met and given a warm welcome by the Ottawa Rotarians. We were taken to a corner of the station where there was the Rotary Wheel and above this wheel was a sign welcoming the many students. I was then given my program for my visit and taken to the Y.M.C.A., my boarding place for the week.

Among the highlights of the Adventure In Citizenship were the lectures given at Carleton College. I found that these lectures were the best way of teaching me how to be a good citizen. The professor of the group that I was in made the discussions most interesting and informative. The first day he explained the foundations on which our government. He informed us that the different sections makings up the government. He informed us that the Senators are appointed by the Governor General in Council and to become a Senator one must be a certain age and must own property valued at least at four thousand dollars. The Cabinet which is chosen by the Prime Minister is responsible to the House of Commons. It is not necessary at the time of appointment of a Cabinet Minister that he belong to the House of Parliament, but he must within a reasonably short time become a member of Parliament. I also learned that the government can be defeated in three ways; first on a defeat of a government bill, secondly by a defeat on a lack of confidence, andthirdly by a defeat in a general election. On the second and third days our professor compared and contrasted the government of the United States and Great Britain to that of Canada. Another interesting subject of discussion was the topic of the West Indies forming a federation with Canada. Many difficulties would have to be evercome before unification could take place. These lectures at Carleton College greatly stimulated my knowledge of government and broadened my views on citizenship.

On Monday afternoon May 14, we attended a very important session of Parliament, the chief topic being the debate over the pipeline. It was very hard to keep order in the House, in fact some of the members were very rude and shouted names at the man addressing them. Of course, other members just sat back and read their newspaper. After attending a session in Parliament we were taken on a tour of the Parliament Buildings. Also Monday afternoon on what was perhaps the climax of our Adventure In Citizenship we were presented with our certificate of Canadian citizenship, something granted in Canada, but if we were to travel in Europe we would be treated royally because we had such. Unfortunately the Prime Minister was unable to attend; however the certificates were presented by the Hon. J. W. Pickersgill, Minister of Citizenship and Immigration.

An enjoyable Monday evening was spent at Fisher Park High School, one of the largest and most beautiful schools in Canada. During the evening the pupils of the school presented a concert for the Rotary students and then entertained us at a dance. The school spirit shown at Fisher Park greatly impressed me and I felt that the evening spent there was an important step in teaching me how to be a good citizen.

On Tuesday we toured the National Museum where we saw on display many Indian relics, huge dinasaurs, and a great variety of the wild animals and birds of Canada. I was most interested in the section devoted to the Indians. On display were the original canoes carved from cedar by the Indians on the West coast, beadwork made by the Algonquin tribes, clothing made from the hides of various animals, and different kinds of food which had been dried and preserved in glass containers.

Our next stop of importance was a visit to the Supreme Court. Here we saw justice in action. It was indeed a dramatic scene. A doctor was on trial for having caused the death of a man through an incorrect diagnosis. The tense drama of the scene was heightened by the somber black robes of the judges, the severity of their countenance, and the deathly stillness that hung over the courtroom.

The most important feature on Tuesday was a visit to the Government General's residen-

Boy Scout Activities

District Cubs and Scouts Enjoy Outing

On Saturday, June 16, the Huntingdon Scout Troop and the Ormstown Cub Pack were joint participants in a conducted tour of the Trans Canada Airlines station at Dorval. The tour, which was under the auspices of the Chateauguay District Council (Boy Scouts Association) was arranged by the Council as an award to the Troop and Pack contributing most to publicity on the occasion of the District Scout Rally held in June, 1955. Ten Huntingdon Scouts with their leaders, W. Atkinson and H. H. McKrith, and twenty-two Ormstown Clubs with leaders R. S. White and L. B. Coffin turned out for the event. The party included District Comissmioner T. Hargrave and District Scout Master W. Sexton, and eleven guests from Ormstown, Huntingdon, and Valleyfield.

The tour under the direction of Mrs. Buchanan of T.C.A. began with a visit to the hangars and shops where various aspects of aircraft maintenance were observed. The opportunity to view North Stars, Super Constellations, and Viscounts at close range was of great interest to the boys, for most of whom it was an entirely new experience. Lunch on T.C.A. premises was followed by a visit to operational training rooms, and to the flight control tower where several arrivals and departures of large craft were witnessed.

The highlight of the day came when some of the boys took to the air on a trip arranged by Mr. M. J. Scullion of the T.C.A. Publicity and Traffic department.

Twenty Cubs and Scouts under the supervision of Asst. C.M. L. B. Coffin, took off by DC3 on a half-hour flight over their home communities of Huntingdon and Ormstown—an event which will long be remembered. The penguin members of the party then visited the overseas terminal where autographs were obtained from Mr. L. B. Pearson just prior to his departure for London and NATO conferences. The District Commissioner took opportunity to chat with him, regarding the district and Canadian Scouting.

Late in the afternoon the boys returned to their homes with unanimous feelings of gratitude for the District Council, T.C.A. officials, and the weatherman, all of whom had contributed to a really worth-while outing of a type new to scouting in the Chateauguay District.

Adjusting Tillage Tools To Garden Tractors

Two-wheel garden tractors are sometimes difficult to steer or operate in a straight line when intertilling row crops. The cause of this, according to H. J. Kemp, Experimental Farm, Saanichton, B.C., may be the implement rather than the tractor. On some garden tractors, tillage implements are attached rigidly. On others, they are hinged. Improper adjustment of tillage tools such as teeth or discs on fixed tool bars is often the cause of difficult steering of the tractor. Similar faulty adjustments of the same kind of tillage tools on tool bars which are hinged to the tractor may cause the implement to travel to one side or the other.

The cultivator is perhaps the implement which is most widely used with garden tractors because of its adaptability and usefulness for garden work. Most satisfactory performance is likely to be obtained if the implement is first made ready for a tillage job by lining it up with the tractor on a level floor. All teeth should be the right kind, properly distributed and evenly spaced. Staggered teeth, widely spaced, will clear weeds more freely. Depth penetration is important and set all the teeth for the same depth. Note also the suction or penetration angle of each cultivator tooth or shovel. Uneven depth of teeth or suction angle is often the cause of poor operation and difficult steering.

Disc type implements should be set so that each half cuts at the same angle and depth.

The chief adjustment for rotary type tillers is to see that all the blades match. As a rule, when blades become worn, it is better to replace them all with new ones. An old partly worn blade can sometimes be used to replace a broken one to help to completely utilize the remainder. However, they should be matched as closely as possible to obtain satisfactory work and to avoid undue strain on the transmission parts of the machine.

Great English Poet Dies at Age 83

The death at his home in Twickenham, England, at the age of 83 of the greatest living lyric poet in the English language, Walter de la Mare, is one of the greatest losses suffered by literature for more than a decade. The brilliance of his imagery, combined with the strength and delicacy of his language, made him one of the most profound, yet most easily read, of poet-philosophers

To thousands of Canadian schoolchildren his "The Traveller" is as well-known as their own names, but this is only one of his many weird, and fantastic poems which thrill the emotions whilst intriguing the intellect. His stories were in the great tradition of short story writing, and to many people had a flavour of the great stylist, Henry James. His children's poems, whilst easily read and understood by quite young children, gave pleasure to discriminating critics by their beauty of expression, and will continue to form part of the great heritage of English poetry. To those of us who have loved the writings and revered the man, his death has made a gap which no other can fill, and we wonder with him

"How will fare the world whose wonder
Was the very proof of me?"

For us, sadder, less lovely, and somewhat less full of wonder, now that he can no longer sit by

"Some tarn in Thy hills,
Using its ink as the spirit wills to write of Earth's wonders".

Auto Accidents - More Care Must Be Taken

IN two accidents reported in this newspaper last week, it was noted that one of the cars involved in each had failed to stop at the intersection and which was marked by STOP signs. Regardless of stop signs, no driver should rush out of any sideroad onto a crossing road without making sure it is safe. This should be done in the interests of common safety. Wherever a stop sign appears, then it is doubly necessary to make a stop before proceeding to cross an intersection or turn into another road. Stop signs are placed for safety precautions and if we are going to ignore them, then we are asking for trouble.

There is a bad corner right in the Village of Ormstown at Osmond's store and there was a very near accident there during the holiday week-end. A car coming from the direction of Montreal was about to make the corner and was well over to the curb; another car about to turn the corner and going toward Montreal, arrived at the same time, but was cutting short on the same corner. Quickness on the part of the first driver brought his car to a stop within inches of the other car. The car proceeding toward Montreal should have made a wide turn toward the Shell Service Station on the opposite side of the road in order to have been in the right. It seems that a stop sign or warning light should be placed at this corner, for it has been the scene of many a near accident. Better to prevent it than wait until it happens. This is a matter for the Village Council or Board of Trade to take up with the Road Dept. The turns at each end of the Village are also quite dangerous, although not so bad as the one in question. The view of either street no matter in which direction the turn is being made, is very bad, for one has to turn the corner before a clear view can be obtained.

According to The Financial Post, the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce estimates about 37% of all cars and trucks produced in Canada last year were needed to replace vehicles which ended on the scrap heap. In the last three years, Canadians have scrapped 336,000 automobiles. The high rate of scrappage is one of the reasons for the high 1955-56 new car sales. In the five cars reported in accidents here the past week, at least four of them were ready for the scrap heap. It is possible, of course, that some may be repaired and put back into service. Such a high percentage is alarming to say the least and it is very fortunate that there is not more loss of life. Viewing some of these cars after an accident, it is really miraculous that the people in them escaped with their lives.

More attention must be paid by all drivers to the hazards of the road and to carelessness while driving. A large number of these accidents could be prevented if the driver would take the precautions necessary and pay attention to the road signs placed at intervals as safety measures. Until all drivers use their heads and drive with safety in mind, we shall see an ever increasing number of cars going to the scrap heap.

Roadside Growth Obstructs View

WE do not know if it is the weather and the backward growth that was apparent, but at this time there are a number of our highways in bad state on account of weeds at the sides. Mostly, these weeds have grown rather rapidly the past while and are now quite tall. So tall have they grown that on curves and intersections, the view of the road is obstructed so as to make it very dangerous.

Parts of the Athelstan Road are in this condition and this is especially so on the curves in this road. On the newly paved part of the Ridge Road on the outskirts of Huntingdon, this condition is also in evidence. At the intersection of the Plank Road, at the service station, the weeds are so high on the Lake Street side, that one cannot see the ridge road in either direction. The stop signs are also hidden from view until right up to them. This condition is very bad for strangers driving in these parts, in particular and may have been the result of a slight accident at this point the past week-end.

Whoever is responsible for the cutting of the weeds and brush along the roadsides, should see that this work is done without further delay. They have grown to dangerous proportions. It is especially hazardous when high growth stops the view of the cross roads from either direction. In many parts of the district this condition exists and it is probable that the growth has been so sudden as to get ahead of previous schedule for this work to be done. However, notwithstanding, this condition should not be allowed to continue and immediate steps should be taken to have the weeds and brush cut down.

Keep Our Waterways Clean

THE question of pollution of our rivers, streams and waterways is being more and more discussed in these days. The population is becoming more dense and there are so many industries throwing off their waste, that the situation at many points is quite serious.

With the influx of summer visitors at lakeside resorts, there is more and more pollution. Persons who reside during the summer along the shores of lakes and resorts should use care and not make the waters a catch-all for all their refuse. It becomes a trend to throw all waste matter into the water in the belief it will wash away. In some cases it does, but in others it tends to collect and become lodged along the shores. This not only produces an unsightly mess, but it helps to pollute the waters for those who wish to bathe, etc. This in turn tends to produce health hazards.

We would suggest that rather than use our rivers and streams for disposal of waste matters that as much as possible be burned in a safe place and that which is not disposable in this way, be buried deep and well covered. If a municipal dump is operated, see that waste is taken there, or placed out for collection.

There is no doubt that the time is fast approaching when communities disposing of waste matters into rivers and streams, will be required to erect sewage disposal plants in order to protect the health of all people. It must be remembered that while the rivers are used for sewage disposal, they are also used in a large number of cases for obtaining water for drinking. The greater the pollution of such waterways, the greater the danger there is to the people and more attention must be paid to filtration of the waters used for consumption.

Another problem is that fish in these waters are being killed off and a source of one of our great tourist attractions is endangered.

It is possible that in the very near future legislation will be brought into force which will compel greater attention to keeping our waterways clean. Meantime, let us all keep in mind the danger of polluting the rivers, streams, etc., in our district.

Weekly Review

Bread and Circuses

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

J. B. Priestley, the British novelist and playwright, during a recent visit to Canada suggested that the government spend $100 million on the promotion of Canadian arts and letters. He did not go into details as to how that money should be distributed or applied to the development of the various arts and forms of literature. As a writer of plays he was particularly interested in the theatre, and he highly commended the Stratford Shakespearean Festival as an example of what might be promoted by government financial assistance.

At the fourth annual opening of that festival, Rabbi Reuben Slonim took up the same theme. "There is a strange logic in our makeup," he said, which compels us to subsidize the development of precious material resources and to refuse subsidy to priceless human resources. For want of investment in Canadian talent we are losing it just as we should be poor in grain if we were to neglect the soil."

Another call for government aid has come from the president of the National Ballet Guild. He declared that the financial position of the Guild was "grave in the extreme," showing a deficit of $83,878. The Opera Festival Association is also putting in a claim for government support, and there are doubtless other groups in the same category who feel they have as much right to government subsidies. They all deplore the failure of Ottawa to implement the Massey Commission's recommendation for the creation of a Canada Council in support of the arts.

It is not true to say that Canadians have neglected human resources or that our governments have refused to subsidize the development of the arts and literature. There are all kinds of cultural organizations, private and public, including the churches, and all forms of government contribute hundreds of millions of dollars in subsidies to educational institutions, which exist for the cultural development of our human resources.

All the above mentioned claimants for government support are engaged in the field of dramatic and ballet production, and if the government were to undertake to ensure the financial success of such ventures, it would be entering into that business in competition with unsubsidized forms of entertainment. Already the federal government is operating radio and television in costly and futile competition with private broadcasting companies, and if it once became financially involved in general entertainment it might, in a period of depression, be obliged to take over the whole business, as the Romans did ,to placate the people with "bread and circuses." "Free Shows" would be a fine vote-getting slogan in general elections!

The Shakespearean Festival at Stratford is a worthy institution, but its success must depend upon the ability of its producers and players to attract and entertain the public, as did the Globe Theatre in Shakespeare's day. That was a private enterprise and it succeeded on the merits of the plays and the players. Shakespeare was a great genius, but he was also a hard worker, and in spite of his humble birth and lack of higher education he raised himself to the top of his profession. I will be reminded that he had patrons, but so had many other writers of that period who were ruined by patronage. Marlowe was an outstanding example.

J. B. Priestley is a brilliant example of how obscure Yorkshire lad could raise himself by determined effort to his present status as a novelist and playwright. Had his efforts been subsidized by the government he would probably have made a good politician or have been rewarded for his writings with a nice government job. In that case he would have become a sterile civil servant, instead of, as now, being footloose and tongue-loose to say what he thinks on all occasions. He is a good fellow and a typical free and unsubsidized product of British literary tradition.

Looking Back Along the Trail

Editor's note: The following is a continuation of excerpts taken from book "Transactions of the N.Y. State Agricultural Society" 1848. Much of what is contained here is part of Canadian early history.

Johnson advances to lake George. — On the eight of August, major general William Johnson left Albany with the artillery, and took command of the army in person — intelligence of Braddock's disastrous defeat having been received about three weeks before. The latter part of the month, he advanced with the main body of his forces to the head of Lake George, designing to pass down to the outlet of the lake, at Ticonderoga, and there erect a fort, to aid in the operations against Crown-point. His scouts soon brought intelligence that the French had landed and taken possession of the outlet of the lake. This caused him to hasten his preparations for moving forward, that he might dislodge the enemy. But ere his bateaux and artillery were in readiness, the French had fortified themselves so strongly at Ticonderoga, that it would have been no easy matter to force them from their position.

Dieskau lands at south bay and march toward Johnson. — Aware of the projected enterprise against Crown-point, baron Dieskau had collected about three thousand men for its defense. Ascertaining that an immediate attack was not to be expected, he selected a force of two hundred grenadiers, eight hundred Canadian militia, and seven hundred Indians, and embarking in bateaux, proceeded up the lake, landed at the head of South bay. By a prisoner he was told that there was but a small force left at Fort Edward, and that Johnson's camp at Lake George was unprotected either by intrenchments or artillery. To embarass Johnson and disconcert his plans, he resolved to capture Fort Edward, and drop thence down the river and attack or at least menace Albany. He accordingly, Sunday, September 7th, marched south into the edge of Kingsbury. Halting about seven miles distant from Fort Edward he informed his army of his design. The Indians and Canadians by no means relished the idea of assaulting the fort, dreading an exposure to the fire of its cannon; but expressed a willingness to attack Johnson's camp at Lake George, as they supposed it was unfurnished with artillery. Dieskau therefore changed his course, and marched towards Lake George, encamping over night near the southern extremity of French mountain.

The bloody morning scout. — An express that had been sent out by Johnson, returned about midnight, bringing word that the enemy was within four miles of Fort Edward, apparently intending to attack that post. It was probably only a detached party of Indians that had been seen by the express. This misinformation caused a severe disaster. A council of officers was assembled, who advised that a force should be sent to intercept the enemy, whether defeated or victorious, when on his way back from Fort Edward to South bay. Colonel Ephraim Williams with a thousand troops and Hendrick with two hundred Indians were accordingly detached for this purpose, on the morning of September 8th. They had proceeded but four miles, when they encountered the enemy. Dieskau, informed by his runners of their approach, had halted and prepared for their reception, forming his forces in a semicircle, the ends of which were far in advance of the center, and concealed from view by the forest. Into this embuscade the detachment marched, wholly unsuspicious that any enemy was within several miles. Suddenly the war whoop resounded in every direction and a galling fire was opened all along the front and left side of column. Williams, to obtain a more defensible position, ordered his men to ascend the rising ground on their right. But this only brought them upon the other wing of the French line. Both Williams and Hendrick, with numbers of their followers fell, and a confused retreat ensued. A large portion of these troops were from western Massachusetts, and there were few families in that district but mourned the loss of relatives or friends who were cut off in "the bloody morning scout at Lake George," as this encounter was familiarly designated.

Letter to the Editor

Chateauguay Heights
July 7, 1956

Editor,
Huntingdon Gleaner
Sir:

As one of your regular subscribers I realize the very powerful influence that you exert over this important area and am writing this letter to you to suggest that you might see fit to carry some editorial on the matter.

Now you have read and published no doubt, the news that millions will shortly be spent to raise the obsolete Mercier bridge and leave us with the same bottleneck that is strangling this whole area.

I would suggest that for about the same amount of money we should look ahead to the future and have them put a ten lane tunnel under the new Seaway at the Caughnawaga area and build a new six lane low level bridge across the St. Lawrence probably between the Mercier and the C.P.R.

Now six lanes of this tunnel would connect with the bridge. Two lanes would provide access to the new proposed boulevard that will be built along the north dyke of the Seaway and then when this has been built, then put a lift span in the existing Mercier WITH THE OTHER TWO LANES TO PROVIDE AN ALTERNATIVE ROUTE TO THE MERCIER WHEN SHIPS ARE PASSING, all this to be connected to highways by super access roads.

It is obvious that by digging the tunnel when the canal is dry with open blasting and steam shovels that it can be done for a tenth the price of later doing it with the canal full of water and the ships using the canal.

You recall the Harbour bridge has been widened, the Victoria has been doubled, and a new bridge is being built along from Verdun to Laprairie, so that it is not too much for us to be making a suggestion that we have an intelligent use of the millions that are to be spent.

You realize the complete chaos that will result when they play with the Mercier for two years and for two years we try and cross the St. Lawrence on a Bailey floating on pontoons. Anyone who used this bridge in Europe realizes that it really slows traffic.

We must also have the road that now exists starting from the south side of Distillers Seagrams, and goes to approximately the new St. Remi tunnel we must have this short mile or two of road built and paved to relieve some of the traffic at the notorious Ville St. Pierre bottleneck. This should be done for the benefit of our area by the province and would cost very little as the road is presently civic property and is I believe about 100 ft. wide but is now a cart track and few people even know it exists.

Plans should be made now for widening LaSalle Blvd and a new riverside drive built past and over the Pointe St. Charles dump to avoid the traffic of this area and come out right downtown.

The men who built the Victoria before the age of the car or truck had enough vision to look 100 years ahead; we must at least look 25 years ahead.

Unless this bottleneck is fixed immediately, this whole area of Huntingdon, Valleyfield and Chateauguay will stagnate and new industries will go elsewhere. Once they have gone to St. Jean or Granby then they will be lost to us forever.

(Signed) FUTURISTIC.

Round Byre and Ring...

Several Howick - Huntingdon Ayrshire Club area cows figure in the list of cows for which R.O.P. certificate were issued during the month of June.

Two of the cows in the mature class, 305 Day Division, belong to the Marbrae herd of R. B. MacFarlane, Howick. They are:

Marbrae Fancy Lady with 11,712 lbs. milk, 476 lbs. fat, 4.06%.

Marbrae Pride, with 11,438 lbs. M., 445 lbs. fat, 3.89%.

R. W. MacFarlane, Howick, also has a cow listed in that class — Snowflake Choice, with 10,523 lbs. milk, 482 lbs. fat, 4.58%.

Incidentally all three of these cows were sired by Cold Stream Choice Logan.

The leader in the mature class 365 day Division is Clear Brook Irish Girl, with 14,856 lbs. milk, 610 lbs. fat, 4.11%.

Alderwood's Excellents

Two of the leading winners at the 1956 Ormstown Exhibition were recently classified "Excellent" by John D. McCraig,, Chief Inspector of Avanced Registry and Type Classification Inspector for Ayrshires. Both are members of the Alderwood herd of J. G. Wilson, St. Valentin, Que.

The senior of that pair is Cluaran Fancy Maid, first prize aged dry cow at the 1956 Ormstown Exhibition. Incidentally, in her latest record, made at 6 years of age, she produced 17,557 lbs. milk, 730 lbs. fat, 4.16%. As a two year old, she produced 9,455 lbs. milk, at 4.05%, in 305 days, while her 3, 4 and 5 year old records were all well over 12,000 lbs., with average tests ranging from 4.05% to 4.42%.

Her recently dropped bull calf has been sold to Allister McArthur Cherry Bank Farm, Howick.

The other "Excellent" is Alderwood Lady Nettie, first prize 2 year old in milk, Ormstown, 1955; first prize 3 year old, dry Ormstown, 1956. She dropped a bull calf recently & therefore qualified in the 305 Day Division, with 10,462 lbs. milk, 421 lbs. fat, 4.02%, her record having been commenced as a 2 year old.

Incidentally, "Lady Nettie" is a daughter of the noted showring winner, and producer and reproducer, Innismere Nettie which is also in the "Excellent" class. Innismere Nettie has to her credit 6 records which total 82,730 lbs. milk, 3,325 lbs. fat, average test 4.02%, in 1,878 milking days. Her latest record, made at 8 years of age, totalled 16, 165 lbs. milk, 656 lbs. fat, 4.06%, in 305 days. It might therefore be said in this instance that "like begets like".

Terrace Sales.

J. Earle Ness & Sons, Howick, report the recent sale of two Ayrshire bull calves one of them to Walter Kyle, Hemmingford, the order to Alcide Allen, St. Chrysostome. In both instances these bull calves are to follow in service bulls which were purchased at Terrace Bank some three years ago.

Grass Silage.

Both Earle and Bobby Ness have apparently been pretty "ident" since Ormstown Exhibition. Between that showtime and June 29 they built two cement stave silos and filled them with grass. They then filled Robert McFarlane's silo with grass.

In that work of grass silaging the Terrace Bank crew used a forage harvester, five tractors, three waggons and a suction blower. The crew was comprised of Earle and Bobbie Ness; Bob and Brodie McFarlane and Elton Robertson.

In connection with the Terrace Bank end, Earle Ness said "we had 120 acres of hay of which we used 50 acres for silage, but we expect to have quite a stand for second cut hay, or pasture if necessary.

"We managed to get 50 acres sown to grain", said Earle Ness, and continued. "It not a big crop, but the land was plowed and at this date it looks as though we should get a 50% yield.

"Our herd numbers 90 head and they are mostly enjoying good pasture. In May we shipped 400 cans of milk, slightly less in the shorter month of June."

IRON CURTAIN CRASHER

We confess a sneaking respect for one resourceful gentleman who fooled the Commies—albeit by morally dubious means. Seems he would load his hollow aluminum artificial leg with candy, coffee and nylons in West Berlin, then whisk over the border into East Berlin in his motorized wheel chair. He made a neat profit — until the border gendarmes ultimately caught up with him.

More and more businesses—from artificial limbs to shipbuilding — similarly find aluminum a valuable aid to sales and profits. Further major expansion of Alcan's smelters in both Quebec and B.C. is aimed to satisfy the continued increasing demand for the light metal.

Concert Tonight

The first of a series of outdoor band concerts will take place tonight (Wednesday) at the bandstand in Prince Arthur Square. The Band's repertoire was greatly enlarged throughout the winter months and the programme for tonight consists of entirely new selections. The Band regrets that the public was not advised of the date of the opening concert in last week's issue of The Gleaner, but this was impossible due to pressure of engagements. President Herve Tessier informed The Gleaner today that the Band hopes to present at least one outdoor concert per week for the remainder of the summer — dates to appear in the Coming Event columns of this newspaper. The concert tonight will commence at eight o'clock.

Activities

The fact that this column has not appeared in The Gleaner of late does not mean that the Band has been idle. On the contrary, Bandmaster Moore and his men have been kept on their toes since the Sunday preceding election week, when the band played at Ste. Barbe. The following Thursday a short concert was played at Athelstan and immediately after the bandsmen went to Valleyfield where they attended pay parade. Incidentally, this was severance pay as the band had fulfilled their contract and decided not to re-enlist. Friday until Wednesday, Election Day, the band was busy each night as follows: St. Anicet, Friday; Huntingdon, Saturday; St. Anicet, Sunday; Cazaville, Monday; Hemmingford, Tuesday, and again at Huntingdon on the 23rd.

Previous to the campaign engagement at St. Anicet on Sunday, June 20th, the band supplied the music for the annual joint church service at Connaught Place, Port Lewis, in behalf of the Huntingdon United and Presbyterian Churches. The entire collection received at the service was turned over to Gordon Tannahill, Treasurer of the Band. The bandsmen offer belated but sincere thanks to both congregations for their generous gesture.

MILKMAN CLOSES ISSUE

Chipman Returns Medal For Bravery

Edward Chipman, 33 year old Verdun milkman, learned Wednesday that his request that the Queen cancel the George Medal awarded him for bravery has been granted.

Last May 18 Chipman wrote to Uudersecretary of State C. Stein requesting "Her Majesty recall the award," which was given to him for bravery in carrying three children from a burning house in Caughnawaga.

State Secretary Roche Pinard told the Commons yesterday he takes full responsibility for the award of the medal and the cancellation which, he said, was made at Chipman's own request. The medal is the Commonwealth's second highest award for great bravery by a civilian.

"All I can say," he said, "is that the matter was fully investigated and the recipent, to avoid further controversy, asked that the meral be cancelled." He declined in the Commons to elaborate on the unprecedented cancellation.

Chipman request followed an investigation by the RCMP into conflicting reports about his part in the rescue of three children from the burning home of Georges Julien on the Caughnawaga Indian Reserve near Montreal Dec. 20, 1954. One child died later.

Julien, father of the three children, told investigators he did not remember seeing Chipman at the scene of the fire. Julien said his wife led three of the six children out of the burning home. He said he yelled and two of the three children on the second floor came down and that he brought out the sixth child, who later died.

Chipman, said that his action was substantially as recorded in the cituation — that he saved the three Julien children, after spotting the fire while on his milk run.

Mr. Chipman told The Gazette last night that he had received no word or acknowledgment of his letter. He heard the news that the Queen has given permission for the medal to be cancelled yesterday after it had been announced in the House by State Secretary Pinard.

"I am glad the Queen has consented to take the medal back", he said simply last night.

"I did not ask for the medal, but when they wanted to give it to me I was proud to accept it."

The controversy over whether Chipman did or did not warrant the George Medal started last March. Chipman said it has caused him great embarrassment and anxiety to his family.

"Now that the medal is to be taken back," he said, "I might be left alone and I might not.

"At the fire I just did my duty, as I hope someone would do the same thing for me.

"A lot of people thought I was phoney. Maybe they still will think so, but in my own mind I know I'm not."

In a letter, Chipman said that since he received the award "There has been a considerable controversy over whether my deed warranted the award of the George Medal. This has been most unpleasant for me and my family and, in addition, has undoubtedly embarrassing theGovernor General.

"Therefore with the thought of ending this controversy and bringing the issue to a close, I respectfully ask permission to return the medal and request that Her Majesty graciously recall the award."

F. L. Hart, president of Elmhurst Dairy Ltd., which employs Mr. Chipman, said he helped write the letter.

Mr. Hart said that Chipman told him he didn't ask for the medal in the first place and "in view of all the controversy it would be just as well for the Queen, the governor-general and his family if he just gave it back."

Mr. Hart said Chipman's mind should be at rest now.

"He couldn't work. He was disturbed. He and his family were upset and embarrassed by the publicity."

District Newspapermen Visit Bishop's Palace

In 1884, part of the present building housing the Bishop's Palace and church offices of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Valleyfield was built with another annex being added in 1893. Then, the Bishop's Palace was the newest of buildings fitted with then the most modern of fixtures. However as the years went by, the building aged rapidly such that this year though necessity, the construction of a new Bishop Palace was begun. On Sunday, July 1st, a letter was read from his Excellency, Bishop Langlois in every church of the diocese calling upon the many parishioners to contribute generously when asked to sometime next fall to the building of a decent headquarter for the head of the diocese.

On Friday, a group editors, representing the newspapers, located in the diocese, were guided through the different rooms of the present Bishop's Palace. The building is in a bad state of repair, with many walls cracked, plaster fallen from the ceilings, and has none of the many modern conveniences of the average home. The rooms are on the whole very small and cramped. As there in not a definite room set aside for a library simply because there is no space, valuable manuscripts, papers and books are scrattered through the building in assorted bookgroom, wore a gown of beige printed silk with a beige hat and assessories and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

A garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Ross left on their wedding trip by motor for Virginia Beach and the Southeastern United States, the bride travelling in a mauve linen suit with pink and white accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink feathered carnations.

Among the out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Donald Hunten, of Saskatoon, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Desmond T. McCarthy of Mount Vernon, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Murray Warnica of Barrie, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ness of Arvida, Que., Mr. and Mrs. James Angrave of Cookshire, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Armstrong of Lachute, Que., Mr. Alan Thomson of Abbottsford, Que., Mrs. Lawrence LaCoss of Malone, N.Y.

ceses. At the same time, bookbuilding is considered a fire trap due to the lack of escape exits in case of fire. For example there is only one exit for the Bishop to leave the building and that is down a steep narrow stairway. The situation, therefore, is really bad and the need for improvement is undeniable.

Following the tour through the building, Bishop Langlois spoke briefly to the respresentatives of the different newspapers. He reminded them that they play an important part in the any campaign with their strength of the publicity medium. He underlined the fact that a majority will be impressed by the newspaper's attitude and will act accordinly.

Following the tour, Mr. Paul Charette, president of the campaign spoke briefly to the newspapermen at a dinner held in Valleyfield. In his remarks, Mr. Charette said that he felt assured that he could rely on the cooperation of all the newspapers in the diocese and this will help to make the campaign a resounding success for the building and the completion of the new Bishop's Palace.

Presentation to Church Worker

VALLEYFIELD — In a rare and unusual Church Ceremony at the Valleyfield United Church, on June 24th., Mr. Christopher Mayoh and his wife were singled out for recognition upon their golden anniversaries - for their marriage of fifty years and for Mr. Mayohs' half century Service with the Choir and his continuous work on practically all the Church boards.

Following the Sunday sermon which was devoted to song and music, Rev. W. Charles Pelletier called upon Dr. C. L. Roman, who in felicitous words, recalled the background of Mr. Mayohs' contribution to the community.

In summing up Dr. Roman concluded by saying: "With enthusiasm and effectiveners you have served on all the boards of the church, with high resolve and courage, you gave much during the storm and stress of Church Union; you and Mrs. Mayoh sent your children forth, with a song upon their lips, you have sung more than 2500 times in this community and now, after fifty years your friends and members of the church rise up in a great cloud of witnesses and call you blessed.

All that I have said is more beautifully shown in an illiminated address that confers upon you Chris. an ecclesiastical and scriptural order of merit and a companionship of honour. It is a fine and unique example of the art of the Soul at its best executed in gold and colour by a craftsman who created this masterpiece, this artist's dream."

Then Dr. Roman presented Mr. Mayoh with a portrait of himself and an exquisite illuminated address in a golden frame. Mr. Mayoh tried to say a few words but was overcome with surprise and emotion, since the whole occasion was arranged secretly and only with the knowledge of very few people.

Dundee

The Dundee W.I., met on Wednesday at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Earl Gardiner. Special on the afternoon's program was the report of the annual provincial convention held at Macdonald College. Four members, including the president, Mrs. T. W. Stowell, and the treasurer, Mrs. N. D. McPhee, attended the afternoon and evening sessions on Thursday, the second day of the convention, when Mrs. Alice M. Berry, president of the 6,000,000 women connected with the Associated Country Women of the World, was present. In her speech Mrs. Berry spoke of her visits to rural women's societies in different parts of Europe, Asia, Africa, the United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. She owns a sheep ranch in Australia which her manager manages while she is away. She said that the work of the Women's Institutes and other rural women's associations varies greatly from country to country but all are working for the care of women and children in rural areas and are deeply concerned about adult education. The four members and their driver also attended the special banquet in honour of their special guest, Mrs. Berry.

The different convenors gave their reports. Mrs. Stowell read about better methods of bookkeeping for farmers. Mrs. Smallman told about Gerald Fleming, a former Dundee boy, who is at present doing research at the Toronto University, into the selection and placement of students best qualified for university work. Mrs. E. J. Cameron reported that Mrs. G. D. Harvey, the newly-elected president of the Quebec Women's Institute, would represent her province at the triennial conference of the A.C.W.W. to be held in Ceylon in December of this year. Mrs. J. Platt demonstrated how a padded chair could be made from a barrel, and also how an old treadle sewing machine could be made into a barbecue table.

As the Dundee Women's Institute was formed 40 years ago the ladies are planning to hold an Anniversary Tea and Card Party sometime before the harvest season begins.

Several prospective buyers have been looking at the shed adjacent to the Community Hall. It will be sold if a reasonable sum is offered for it.

Mrs. Malcolm Marston and baby son spent several days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ferguson. Dr. Marston spent the week-end at the same home, returning to Montreal with his family on Sunday. Messrs. Stuart Ferguson and Warren Fewster of Roxham, Quebec, spent Sunday at the Ferguson home.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Fraser were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sharpe of Ottawa, also Mr. John McLachlan of Strathroy, Ontario. Mr. McLachlan is remaining for a few days.

Mr. Leonard Farley of Syracuse, N.Y., called on friends last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wood of Powerscourt were recent guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Fleming.

Mrs. Harold Moore and her grandson Alman Henry of Dannemora, N.Y., are spending ten days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harland Platt. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Platt and Mr. and Mrs. Harland Platt, Mrs. Moore and Alman Henry, also the Benane family from Fort Covington, motored to Fish Creek, N.Y., near Tupper Lake. They met relatives in Tupper Lake, Potsdam and Lake George and the group of 37 all enjoyed a picnic on the resort grounds at Fish Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rohling, eight year old son and Mr. Rohling's mother from Kentucky are spending a week at Winfrey Island, as special guests of the doctor. Last year as an advertising stunt, the doctor offered through the medium of the Cincinatti Ohio Casting Club a prize of two week's vacation for two or a one week's vacation stay for four, free of charge at the Island, to the winner at the Championship Meet at the Cincinatti Gardens last November. Mr. John Rohling, who hails from Kentucky and represents the Kenton Casting Club was the winner and grand champion. This win entitled him to a vacation trip for he and his family on the St. Lawrence. They are living in one of the cabins and he is trying his hand at fishing in the favourite spots around the Island. Quite a number of other guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Pope from Gary, Indiana, are also at the resort.

Chateauguay

St. Andrews United

CHATEAUGUAY. — After the service on Sunday, July 1st, the Sacrament of Baptism was administered by the Rev. R. H. Mc Coll to the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Blazis of Chateauguay Park. The baby was given the names Sharon Joy.

Parents of small pre-Sunday-Schoolers are asked to take note that owing to the building now going on, and the fact that the Church basement is not now available, the Nursery Class will not be held during July and August.

The newly-formed Junior Choir of St. Andrew's Church made their first appearance on Sunday 1st, when they sang the well known and loved Crusaders' Hymn — "Beautiful Saviour". The Choir gave a very creditable performance, and Mrs. H. P. Rowell, the Organist, who taught and trained the children, deserves hearty praise for the manner in which these small newcomers to the art of choral singing responded. Quite apart from their delightful singing, their demeanour and deportment were excellent, a point which too many Junior choirs seem to think unimportant.

Chateauguay Aquatic Club

C.A.C. took part in their second Regatta this year at Grand Trunk, Que. This is the 81st Regatta held by this club, and on this occasion Chateauguay improved their standing considerably. The results were:

Single-Bladed Single — 2nd., Paul Duffey; Senior Four — 2nd, Ed. Brady, Sandy Morrison, J. Hamilton, Don Duffey.

Juvenile Single. — 4th, Don Hamilton; Junior Tandem—3rd, Jimmy Clayton, Jimmy Baird.

(A peculiar feature of this race was the fact that Ed. Clarke of Grand Trunk, and R. Hinton of Radisson tied for first place).

Senior Single. — 3rd, E. Brady.

Half Mile War Canoe. — 2nd., J. Smith's Crew.

Senior Tandem. — 1st, Ed. Brady and Don Duffey.

Juvenile Tandem. — 3rd, Donnie Hamilton and Bobby Moore.

At the end of the Regatta, the standings were: Lachine, 39 points; Grand Trunk 30½ points; Chateauguay 20½ points; Otterburn, 16, and Cartierville 15; Radisson, 10½. This is a gain of 12½ points for Chateauguay over the last score. Bill Yarnell of C.A.C. acted as assistant Starter, and Kenneth Smith was one of the Judges. Of particular interest is the fact that this is the third time Paul Duffey has won the junior double-bladed single race at Grand Trunk — the other occasions being in 1953 and 1954.

Chateauguay Horticultural Society

The Horticultural Society have now received copies of the Society's Year Book, and will distribute them to members as soon as possible. The Annual Flower Show is always a most welcome event, and in spite of the poor Spring this year, we are sure that there will be the usual enthusiastic response in the various entry classes.

A would-be boat thief was foiled in his attempt to steal a cruiser belonging to Mr. Nicolle of Salaberry Blvd., Chateauguay North last Monday. At about 4.00 a.m., Mr. Nicolle was awakened by the automatic alarm fixed to his cruiser sounding off, but when he reached his mooring place the thief had disappeared, scared away by the alarm siren.

Mr. Leonide Laberge, of Chateauguay Heights was the victim of a hit-and-run driver on Sunday, June 24th. Mr. Laberge's car was parked in front of the Ski Bar in Chateauguay Basin, when it was side-wiped by a car driven by a woman, and bearing Michigan license plates. Whilst Cst. Rene Prejean was inside the Ski Bar telephoning the Chief of Police, the woman got back into her car and drove off at a high speed. The license number has been circulated to all Provincial Police Posts, and it is hoped the driver can be traced. Damage to Mr. Laberge's car amounted to almost $100.

Make Better Use of High Protein Roughage For Milk Production

Surveys have shown that net income from milk production is related to the amount and quality of roughage in the ration. Improved methods of harvesting will provide a high quality roughage in the form of hay or silage which can reduce the level of costly concentrates required for milk production.

Curing the grass crop as silage results in a roughage which is higher in protein relative to its total digestible nutrient content, than hay, and on this basis contains twice as much protein as corn silage. Experimental results at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, have shown that grass silage supplemented with oats and barley concentrate gave as high milk yields as when the protein content of the concentrate was increased by adding costly linseed oilmeal. Early cut grass cured as silage resulted in higher milk yields than late cut material.

In a second experiment, moderate producing cows were fed balanced rations in which 70 per cent of the protein requirement was supplied by grass silage as compared to 70 per cent of the protein being supplied by concentrate. The ration containing a high proportion of silage resulted in approximately 7 per cent lower production but at a saving in cost of 8 cents per hundred of milk produced. There is a similar trend when good hay is fed.

While this example approaches the extremes in ratios of roughage to concentrate feeding, it serves to indicate the economy in judicious use of high quality roughage for milk production.

GMC Automatic Transmissions

A General Motors Value

Do the Tough Jobs Easily

GMC STANDARD AND HEAVY-DUTY HYDRA-MATIC

GMC's Standard Hydra-Matic in the light duty series offers four forward speeds automatically shifting in three ranges. High range is for open highways. Medium range is ideal for congested traffic, while low provides maximum traction.

Heavy duty Hydra-Matic, in the 40,000 GVW range, with optional rear axles and reduction units, gives automatic shifting for a wide range of operating conditions. It provides heavier duty components and has greater hydraulic pressure to move heavier loads. Heavy-Duty Hydra-Matic's unique "Hold" position overrides the automatic shift to prevent upshifting. Choose a GMC with Standard or Heavy Duty Hydra-Matic!

GMC POWERMATIC . . . NEWEST AND BEST

POWERMATIC is a new principle in automatic transmissions . . . now available in the 16,000 to 32,000 GVW range of GMC Trucks. The heart of Powermatic is a four-element torque converter that triples engine torque. The torque converter locks out at higher speeds giving the advantage of solid mechanical drive.

Powermatic provides six automatically-shifted gear ratios in three ranges. A finger-flip switches you from range to range. And Powermatic presents the unique Hydraulic Retarder—safe braking for dangerous grades. Ask about a Powermatic-equipped GMC Truck . . . now!

Huntingdon Wins 8 to 1 Over Chateaugay in Ball Game

Bob Graham of Huntingdon, and Basil Curry of Chateaugay, two of the finest young pitchers in the Valley League, hooked up in what was billed as a pitcher's battle in Huntingdon on Sunday. For the first four innings the game went as advertised, but in the fifth inning the Chateaugay defence and Curry's control disappeared and Huntingdon scored 6 runs to sew up the ball game.

Huntingdon got off to an early start when St. Denis walked in the 1st inning, Bougie singled and Proudfoot hit a line drive to right field that Sancombe misjudged. St. Denis scored on the play. In the second inning Robare was hit by a pitch, Smith walked and St. Denis singled to score Huntingdon's second run.

In the fifth inning Huntingdon went ahead 8 to 0, when they scored 6 runs. Bougie led off and walked, Proudfoot popped up, Watson singled, Baldy Poupore struck out but, Amrod the Ponies catcher, missed the ball and Pourpore was safe at first, Bougie scored on the play from third and Watson scored also when Amrod threw the ball to third to try and catch him there, the ball got by the third baseman and Curry took the return throw but dropped the ball when Watson barged across the late. Poupore went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a passed ball. Riopelle walked, Graham struck out, Robare walked, then Smith singled to score both runners. Smith stole second and third base, St. Denis and Bougie both walked to fill the bases. Proudfoot came up and was hit by a pitched ball to score Smith. Pop Poupore went in to run for Proudfoot and Watson grounded out to end the inning, when Hopala came in to pitch in place of Curry.

Chateaugay's only run came in the 8th inning, when Knott was safe on an error, went to 2nd on a passed ball and scored when Jack Sharlon doubled.

Bob Graham pitched another great game, giving up three hits, one unearned run, walked none and struck out eleven. In the four games that Graham has pitched this year he has allowed two earned runs, 11 hits, 7 bases on balls and has struck out 37. This is quite a record for a young man of 19

Huntingdon only picked up 6 hits off Chateaugay pitching, but 11 walks, 2 hit batters and 6 errors helped the Huntingdon cause. Wally Smith and Jon Proudfoot each batted in two runs to lead the team at bat.

In Wednesday's game played at Burke, N.Y., the Merchants took Chief St. Denis out of moth balls and gave him his first start of the year. Chiefy was right on form, holding Burke to 2 hits for the game, one of which was a home run by Harry Mastin, the Burke pitcher. The final score was 12 to 1, and St. Denis also struck out 11 batters and did not walk a man. Eric Salter, Ozzie Watson and Baldy Poupore each drove in 3 runs to lead the Merchants attack. Salter had 3 for 5, Watson and Poupore each had 2 for 5, along with Ronnie Robare. In all, Huntingdon picked up 15 hits of the losing pitcher Mastin.

This coming Sunday, July 15th, the Valley League All Star game will be played at Massena, N.Y. Bob Graham and Baldy Poupore have been chosen to represent Huntingdon.

LITTLE LEAGUE

On Saturday afternoon the little leaguers were out in full force at Cunningham's Field to be placed on their teams. Along with the players who played last year there were 16 new boys who were placed on teams. In the 13 to 15 age group there were 20 boys, enough to make two teams and plans are under way to organize these boys so they can play games once or twice a week.

This Saturday the league will officially open when the Yankees and Indians play at 6.30.

The Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. Branch No. 81, Huntingdon, again sponsored a Dominion Day Street Dance in the square in front of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. As has been the custom in previous years, the Band presented a concert before the dancing started. A good attendance was on hand and the evening was a success.

Elsewhere in this issue appears a picture of Bandmaster Moore and Pres. Herve Tessier accepting a cheque as a donation to further band work from a Molson's Brewery representative. A recent expenditure was for a new issue of ties to go with the blue uniforms — the purchase was tagged "rush order" when a couple of the boys could find only flashy red ties. President Herve Tessier reports he is planning a picnic for bandsmen, their families and friends, tentatively arranged for the latter part of this month. The long-awaited transfer to the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps recently became effective and bandsmen will soon be measured for the smart dress uniforms mentioned some time ago in this column — in addition, trades pay is in the offing. The Band was pleased to learn that Bandmaster Moore started work at Trout River, Monday on the 12 p.m. shift — the transfer from Blackpool is only temporary; however, for the next ten weeks he will be relieving Immigration Inspector at the Trout River port and this augurs well for the Band in that engagements can be planned further in advanced. Don has been a busy man lately: in addition to the extra band work and his regular duties he recently decided to make some renovations to his house on Wellington St. For far, he has torn down the old front veranadah and built a completely new closed-in porch and painted half the house — Industrious fellow. Bandmaster Moore states he expects to start a new class for the senior band this fall, so come on all you fellows who have been waiting to join, see the Bandmaster now before the sections are all filled. Coming events include a Sunday evening concert at Franklin Centre and a concert at Athelstan, both centres having requested the band to set a date. Once again, the band is enjoying a solvent financial status, but, like the Bandmaster's transfer, this will probably be only temporary. Remember: 8 o'clock tonight, free band concert.

Chipman Returns

Charles Desgroseillers, deputy mayor of Verdun, said he feels sorry for Chipman — who is "a good boy."

"It is too bad it turned out this way," he said.

Mr. Desgroseillers, secretary-treasurer of the Quebec Safety League, said it had planned to honor Chipman but "we didn't go ahead with the award because of what had been disclosed by the Verdun police investigation and because of the investigation undertaken by Ottawa. "The Gazette", Montreal.

Dundee

A group of Amercian friends and relatives surprised Mrs. Harland Platt, at her home, at St. Agnes, on Monday evening, the occasion being a stork shower. She received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served including a beautiful shower cake. Guests came from Burke, Chateaugay, Dannemora and Malone, N.Y. Members of the Platt family were also present.

ce. We toured the main rooms, on the ground floor, sitting rooms, and the pent house. Originally the pent house was an indoor tennis court, but now has been turned into a dining hall. The walls of the room are adorned with canvas and the cement floor has been covered with thick carpets. Touring Government grounds we saw the various shrubs and trees planted by the different Heads of State and members of the Royal Family. After we had toured Government grounds, the Hon. Vincent Massey spoke to the Rotary students. Out of all the Rotary Club of Canada, to have the Governor General speak to us.

On the following day, Wednesday May 16, the Rotary students toured the National Art Galleries. We viewed the work of our own Canadian artists and also the paintings of many of the old masters.

On Wednesday noon the remainder of the day was taken over by the Federal District Commission. At a banquet at the Coliseum, Lansdowne park, Mr. Boucher of the Federal District Commission gave a resume of the history of Ottawa pointing out that at one time Ottawa had been overrun by rough Irish immigrants. Mr. Boucher explained that the Federal District Commission had done much to beautify Ottawa in the future. One of the projects of this committee is to remove Union Station from its present site, to the outskirts of the city.

At several banquets we had the privilege of hearing many prominent men. The Hon. Stuart Carson, Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada, warned the Rotary students that democratic government is still on thin ice and should not be taken for granted. "Our system of government," quoted Mr. Carson, "cannot survive without a sufficient leavening of wise and honest students". He urged us students to use our franchise in an intelligent and conscientious manner and he said that he hoped that some of us would enter public life. The Hon. George Drew, leader of the Conservative Party, told us that we were living in a period of opportunity and that we would live through years of change which would make the past years static. CCF leader M. J. Coldwell maintained that the Canadian system of government is the finest ever devised by man while Social Credit Leader Solon Low urged the politically minded students to go into politics if our aim was public service. Each of these speaker made me feel proud that I was a Canadian and that everyone of us has something to offer to citizenship.

On Thursday, May 17, the Rotary boys spent an interesting morning at the National Research Laboratory of Canada. Here we saw engineers improving methods of buildings, scientists studying and trying to improve the soil of Northern Canada and electrical engineers working on radio and television apparatus. On Thursday noon our Adventure In Citizenship officially ended at an informal dinner at the Chateau Laurier. A student from each province gave a short speech on the part of the tour that had impressed him most.

In closing I want to thank you, the Rotary Club of Huntingdon, for making it possible for me to attend this Adventure In Citizenship. I feel that it is a wonderful privilege to participate in such an adventure and that the Rotary Club is doing a most worthwhile task by sponsoring a boy each year to represent the club. I might say that as far as I am concerned it was truly the most wonderful experience of my life. I enjoyed every moment of my stay in Ottawa and what I learned could not but impress me of the essence and importance of citizenship.

CARS ARE MY Line

by Noel A. Foisy

Safety Means a Safe Seat

My old friend Charlie Sims used to specialize in stories about henpecked husbands — and I wouldn't for the life of me suggest how it was that he new so much about the problem.

Charlie claims he knew a poor, nervous henpecked soul who had double-trouble with back-seat driving; both his wife and his mother-in-law would yatter at him from the rear.

Finally he shouted back to his wife: "Look, you'll have to make up your mind who's driving this car — you or your mother!"

It made me sad to hear about this trodden-on soul because I think — for a very special reason — he wouldn't be a customer for the sparkling 1956 Ford. And anyone who wouln't be interested in a new Ford this year is a rare case indeed.

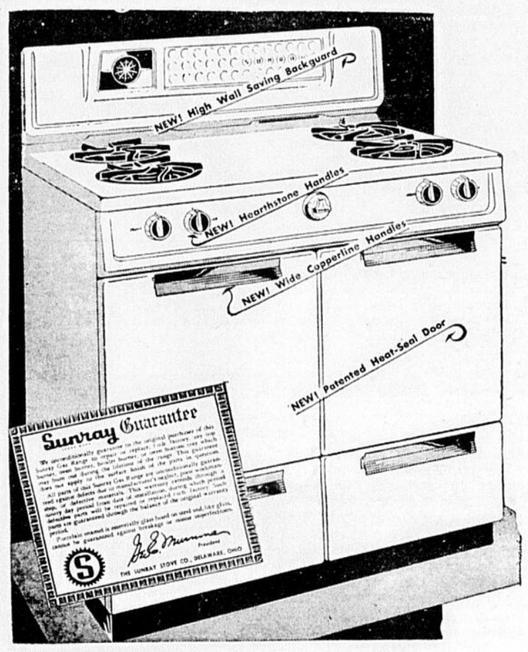

Hold on for a moment and you'll see. All of us by now have heard of the magnificent contribution to car safety Ford has made this year: seat belts, shatter-proof mirrors, safety door latches, scientifically-padded dash boards..

Safety leagues, engineers and universities all over the continent have applauded Ford for this work. But one great new feature has been largely overlooked. All these safety features would be useless if th seats came loose in a crash — which used to be a real problem before Ford came along.

In the front seat of the '56 Ford track and mountings have been completely redesigned so the seat is more firmly anchored. The rear seat cushions are more strongly anchored than in any other car. Yes, in the '56 Fords, even the back seat drivers are safe!
