DAMAGE CAUSED BY OUTBREAK HERE MONDAY

Two Alarm Blaze Endangered Lives and Destroyed Property on Victoria Avenue

A number of persons narrowly escaped injury and considerable property damage was caused when fire broke out in a second storey flat at 439 Victoria avenue Monday night. The residence is occupied by J. Stewart.

The outbreak was first reported at seven p.m. and firemen under Chief Gough and Sub-Chief Burris responded to the call. By the time they arrived, the fire had reached such proportions that a second alarm was turned in and all Westmount equipment was summoned to the scene.

The flames spread from a rear bedroom, through the pantry and into the living room, were most of the damage was caused. Damage was also done to the lower flat by smoke and water.

Firemen fought the blaze for over an hour and played three streams of water into the structure. They succeeded in confining the flames to the building and no damage was caused to nearby property.

RECORD IS SET BY TELEPHONE CO. EMPLOYEES

Over 125 Workers Complete 10 Years Without Being Involved in Accidents

Over 125 employees of the West District, Plant Department, staff of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada completed 10 years of operations without being involved in a "lost time" accident, on Monday.

Commenting on this achievement, R. J. Rumball, Montreal Division Plant Superintendent, said: "This means that not even one of the men in this large district has lost time as the result of an accident since March 6, 1929. This record has not been surpassed or equalled during the last 10 years in any other of the Company's districts in the Eastern Area which includes the entire Province of Quebec and part of Ontario."

The West District Plant staff includes those employees who install telephones, make repairs, and drive the familiar green and red Bell trucks. Mr. Rumball pointed out. The district takes in Westmount, Verdun, Montreal West, Ville St. Pierre, Ville LaSalle, Hampstead, Notre Dame de Grace (except the extreme north section) and part of Montreal proper. The eastern boundary includes part of Colbourne, Mountain, Mackay, and Guy streets, he explained.

R. M. Richardson, of Westbury Avenue, has been West District Plant Superintendent since December, 1936, when he succeeded the late K. F. O. Lerry. Previously, W. J. Feeing had supervision over this district.

CAMPAIGN IS CONDUCTED BY BOYS BRIGADE

Leaders in Financial Drive Will be Awarded Prizes This Evening

The financial campaign conducted by the First Westmount Company of the Boys' Brigade has come to a successful climax and drive will be awarded tonight to Ed. Hilborne, top-notch, who will be the recipient of an engraved trumpet. Jack Goodfellow, second in line, will be awarded a fountain pen and James Wilson, third, a tie pin.

The campaign has enabled the company to make the purchase of a number of necessary instruments for the band, which will prepare it for the first outing.

Three of the newer recruits will be officially enrolled tonight and receive their badges of membership. They are Duncan Jones, Kenneth Nicoll and Roy Howard. The company's steady growth indicates a keen interest being taken in the Boys' Brigade work and augurs well for the future of both the Company and Battalion.

Company Bible Class, meeting weekly in Melville Hall from 2 to 2.45 Sunday afternoons, is also a part of the program. It offers an opportunity of worshipping together in fellowship with their officers. Special attention will be given to Scripture knowledge tests to be held toward the latter part of the session.

The trips of interest each week are proving increasingly popular and arrangements are now complete for their continuance throughout the better part of the season. Last week's trip was under the direction of Robert Beal.

A large Brigade Sweater crest was awarded Duncan Jones for having been the first to answer correctly the Company's weekly puzzle. For this week's contest, which is a very difficult one, a Cycle Penant has been chosen as the award.

TO PROBE ACCIDENT WHICH TOOK LIFE OF RESIDENT, J. STADLER, AND 2 OTHERS

Young Radio Executive and Companions Killed When Plane Falls at Lac-A-La-Croix, Que. — Missing Since Sunday — Father of Local Victim Learns Few Details of Accident

While officials of the Civil Aviation Division of the Department of Transport could not be reached last evening for a statement, it was learned that an investigation into the airplane crash at Lac-a-la-Croix, Que., yesterday, in which John Stadler, Jr., of 4334 Westmount boulevard, and two others lost their lives, will be started immediately.

The probe will attempt to discover the exact cause of the tragedy which occurred while the young radio executive and Capt. Herve St. Martin and Oscar Therrien, were returning from a week-end holiday. Air officials connected with the Dominion Government were planning last night to fly to the scene of the crash where the Waco plane in which the three victims were killed is believed to be imbedded in the ice of a lake.

The plane had been unreported since Sunday when the trio left on a 100-mile flight to Lac-a-la-Croix.

John C. Stadler was a prominent Westmount man and was well-known for his association in radio work. He was executive assistant to the Associate General Manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Mr. John Stadler, father of the victim, stated last night that he had no further news of the accident. He is to be visited today by inspectors of the Civil Aviation Division of the Department of Transport. No arrangements concerning the funeral for his son have been made.

The youthful radio executive graduated from McGill University in electrical engineering in 1930. He had previously studied at Mount St. Louis College. He was 33 years of age.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1939

PROVINCIAL REDISTRIBUTION

The announcement that the Provincial Government has appointed a committee to investigate the redistribution of Quebec electoral constituencies will be welcomed in Notre Dame de Grace and Westmount. For further back than many electors can remember, English-speaking electors in Westmount, Notre Dame de Grace, and Outremont have been lumped together to form one of the largest divisions in the entire country. The result, of course, is that English electors have only one representative for the territory mentioned, when they should have two or three. It is to be hoped that now that the government is going to tackle the problem, this unwieldy, disjointed division we call Westmount will be cut up into its three natural divisions—that is: the City of Outremont together with Cote des Neiges; the City of Westmount; and Hampstead, Montreal West, and Notre Dame de Grace. St. Laurent should be taken out of the division and placed in the same constituency as other Back River towns. Even with the redistribution outlined above, each of the three new divisions would have more voters than many of the rural constituencies.

TOO MANY PARTIES

King Leopold of Belgium recently took his parliament severely to task for its failure to achieve progress in the face of grave national problems. The trouble in Belgium, as in many other countries, is confusion resulting from too many shades of opinion in its Parliament—too many parties—too many platforms—too many private solutions for the problems that beset the people. The advice of the King of the Belgians could be taken to heart in all the democracies. Even in Canada, what with Social Credit, C.C.F., Independent Labour, Farmer, Nationalist, New Democracy, Leadership, and umteen other movements in addition to the old stand-by-

Liberal and Tory parties, we are drifting toward a Babel of voices that is liable to lead to utter confusion. These mis-led although well-meaning reformers are themselves their own worst enemies, for it should be remembered that confusion preceded the Russian revolution—confusion deliberately fomented; confusion also preceded the advent of Fascism in Italy and of Nazism in Germany. There is room—plenty of room—within the old parties for every sincere man and woman; and, were there but two strong parties—government and loyal opposition—stability would be the order in many countries where uncertainty, fear, and stagnation are presently the rule. One of the greatest troubles the democracies have to face is the fact that every crack-pot with a glib tongue can get a following if he talks seriously, and if he also has some money he can get together a party. These men are, as a rule, too egotistical to submit to party discipline; consequently, they have little use for reliable, old-line parties. But our problems will, in the long run, be solved by reliable, old-line parties.

CARING FOR THE BLUENOSE

The campaign now under way to preserve the schooner Bluenose as a national memorial seems certain to win the approval and support of many people. The Bluenose has a proud record and has become almost a personality in the minds of many Nova Scotians. The schooner is a Nova Scotia symbol, not merely a souvenir of some sailing races, but a symbol of Nova Scotia's great fishing industry. The Bluenose has given faithful service and her fishing days are about over. But Nova Scotians, with the sea in their blood and their lives dominated by marine associations, want some better fate for the Bluenose than to end her days falling to pieces in some backwater of Lunenburg harbor. There have been expressions from many quarters that some effort should take place to preserve the Bluenose as a Nova Scotian institution. That effort has begun. The effort, quite properly taking place in the town of Lunenburg, the Bluenose's home port. But it is not to stop there. People in all parts of Canada will have an opportunity to become a part owner of the Bluenose, and it is hoped that, supported by a trust fund and administered by a careful authority, the Bluenose will sail the seas for many a day. The schooner's fishing days may be over, but its trim lines and fine sailing qualities will remain to show the world that Nova Scotians know how to build and operate fine vessels.—Halifax Chronicle.

"Mamma, why has papa no hair?"
"Because he thinks so much, my dear."
"But why have you got so much?"
"Because—go away and do your lessons, you naughty boy."

Almost Logical
"Where plants are found," said the teacher, "you know there is soil; where there are trees, you will find birds, and so on. Now, you boys, fresh from your holidays, what do you associate with fish?"
"Chips," was the chorus.

A Vicious Thrust
"But surely," said Jones, "seeing is believing?"
"Not necessarily," Brown replied. "For instance, I see you every day!"

And From An Author!
"I suppose," a young woman once said gushingly to Mark Twain, "that you're awfully fond of books, aren't you?"
"Well, that depends," drawled the humorist. "If a book has a leather cover it has a magnificent value as a razor strap. A brief, concise work, such as the French write, is very useful to put under the short leg of a wobbly table. Large, old-fashioned books with clasps can't be beat as missiles to hurl at dogs. A large book like a geography is tearily as good as a piece of tin to nail over a broken windowpane."

Dr. Chapman's assistants held that the result of the five years of experiments would open up a wider field of gold recovery than has hitherto been known and that it would reach a whole bracket of gold-bearing ores that cannot now be advantageously treated by existing systems. This, they said, would mean that large quantities of gold "frozen" in mine refuse heaps, abandoned diggings, and low-grade ore fields would be available for exploitation.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

CURRENT FILM REVIEW

"Men With Wings" Is First Air Film in Color

Hollywood's first air epic ever to be filmed in Technicolor is Paramount's "Men With Wings," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre. It was produced and directed by a man who probably knows more about working in color than any one in filmdom. He is William A. Wellman, who made the two recent Technicolor hits, "A Star Is Born" and "Nothing Sacred," as well as the great aviation epic of a few years ago, the unforgettable "Wings."

Plan Play Based On "Nicholas Nickleby"

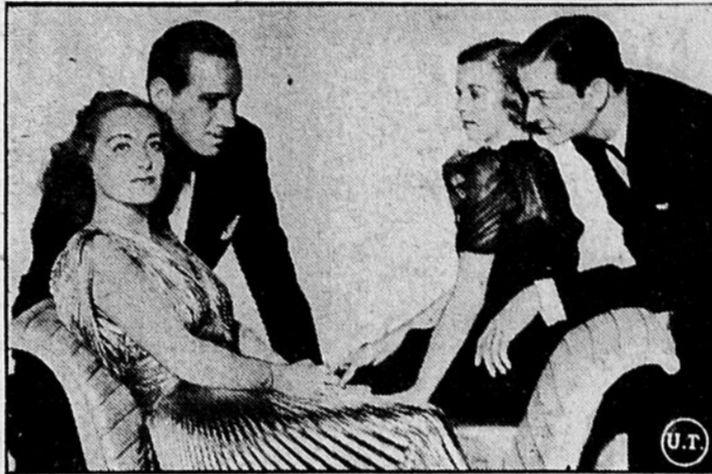

Dickens characters will come to life in Victoria Hall, on the evenings of Monday and Tuesday, March 20 and 21, when a 3-act play based on "Nicholas Nickleby" will be staged by the Dickens Players.

"DAWN PATROL"

Errol Flynn and David Niven in a scene from the picture "Dawn Patrol" which opens Saturday at the York United Theatre.

"THE SHINING HOUR"

Joan Crawford, Melvyn Douglas, Robert Young and Margaret Sullivan in a scene from the film "The Shining Hour" which opens Sunday at the Monkland United Theatre.

"TOO HOT TO HANDLE"

A scene from the film "Too Hot To Handle" starring Clark Gable and Myrna Loy, opening Sunday at the Snowdon United Theatre.

"Peeping Tom" Cameras Used In Capra Film

The remarkably realistic sets of Columbia's "You Can't Take It With You" turned producer-director Frank Capra into a "peeping tom," and Hollywood undoubtedly will seize with avidity upon the new idea in camera technique. Actually, the camera is the "peeping Tom," peering through windows and down stairways, accompanied by a "listening mike" which makes the eavesdropping complete.

The Vanderhof home, in which much of the action of the Monkland United Theatre comedy occurs, is similar to thousands of middle class homes built a quarter century ago, fairly good-sized as homes go—but extremely modest as movie sets go. Capra had the Vanderhof home constructed in its entirety on one of the Columbia sound stages, complete from attic to basement and entirely enclosed within its own walls. And when the lovable collection of humans, portrayed by Jean Arthur, Lionel Barrymore, James Stewart, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer and others, move through the joyous action of the George S. Kaufman Moss Hart Pulitzer Prize play, those rooms became very crowded indeed.

Certainly there was no place inside that house for a camera truck, batteries of light, and a director with his staff of aides and experts. The "peeping tom" technique was Capra's answer to the problem.

THREE SHOWINGS OF 'PRINCESS IDA'

Lyric Operatic Society is this year celebrating its tenth anniversary with the production "Princess Ida" in Victoria Hall tonight Friday and Saturday. This three-act opera is the most lavish of Gilbert and Sullivan's works. The costumes and scenery are an exact replica of those used by the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company and no expense has been spared to make this year's performance a gala event.

The Society is fortunate in having as Conductor and Stage Manager Mr. and Mrs. Harry Norris. Montreal's leading authorities on Gilbert and Sullivan, Harry Norris conducted the D'Oyly Carte Opera in London for 12 years and Mrs. Norris, as Doris Hemmings, was connected with this well known company for five years. After a tour through Canada with the D'Oyly Carte Company, they decided to take up residence in this country. They have resided in Notre Dame de Grace for ten years. Mr. Norris is now superintending the orchestral classes that have just started in several of the high schools.

The cast for "Princess Ida" is as follows: Bert Fleming, John Vrooland, Thos. Edmunds, Geo. Nixon, William Saddler, Harry Maude, John Walker, Beverly Baily, Florence Irving, Maude Whitmore, Mary Light, Muriel Flood, Phyllis Rowell, Beryl Watson and chorus of 40.

Sub Chasers Re-Live Heroic Battle of Sea

The big superdreadnaughts that so frequently plow the newsreel seas in our theatres may be the pride of the American Navy. But it took the frail, splintery, 110-foot submarine chasers to write the most dramatic chapter in World War naval history.

Constructed entirely of wood and for speed rather than seaworthiness, the sub chasers answered the crying need of the A.E.F. for safe transport through the U-boat infested sea lanes of the Atlantic. Ridiculed at first by the rest of the Navy, who doubted the tiny ships could even cross the ocean, the amazing craft demonstrated a phenomenal ability for destroying undersea marauders.

With the British ships standing off to lay a protective barrage, the tiny chasers stormed right into a nest of enemy mines, U-boats and land-fortresses to win one of the greatest naval encounters of the entire war.

When the four sub chasers to survive the vicissitudes of post-war years steamed out of their lay-up dock at Annapolis recently it was for a very appropriate reason. Still retaining their deadly maneuverability, the craft re-enacted the heroic Durazzo encounter for "Submarine Patrol," first picture to tell the dramatic story of the splinter fleet, and which is now showing at the York United Theatre.

Stampede Adds To Thrills Of Black Simoon

Ever since the days of "The Thundering Herd" animal stampedes have ranked high in the list of exciting thrills afforded by the screen. Yet the stark terror of that first big scene was not surpassed for nearly 13 years, when Darryl F. Zanuck included a sequence showing the destruction of the stockyards in "In Old Chicago."

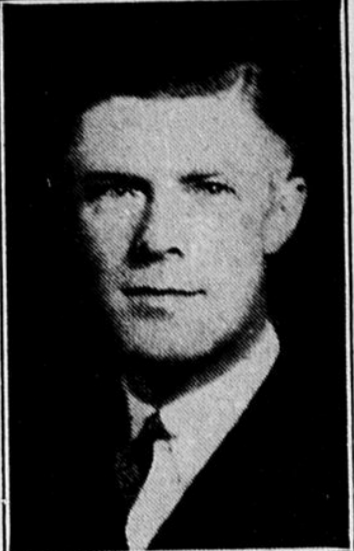

Now Zanuck, whose productions have set many a movie milestone, has over-reached that powerful scene with the stampede caused by the black simoon in "Suez," now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre. This spectacular story of the heroic Ferdinand de Lesseps and the realization of his amazing dream—to tear two continents apart, joining the Mediterranean with the Red Sea, that ships might sail the desert—reaches a terrifying climax when the dreaded zohab-hah, or devil-wind of the desert, roars in upon the helpless builders.

The savage storm, whipping up mountains of sand and leveling everything in its path, stampeded a herd of camels, elephants, horses and mules through its 70-mile-an-hour fury. The beasts, roaring in fright, headed directly for the cameras and their crews, who were housed in specially reinforced glass and steel booths in anticipation of such an eventuality.

"The scene was more dangerous than facing 20 lions and tigers in a circus ring," declared veteran animal-trainer Louis F. Roth, who arranged the sequence.

MAYOR OPENED EXHIBITION OF STAMPS FRIDAY

Fourth Annual Display Held in Victoria Hall by Westmount Stamp Club

The fourth annual exhibition of the Westmount Stamp Club was officially opened in Victoria Hall on Friday evening by Mayor Walter Merrill, K.C.

The exhibition included stamps from many countries, and of all years from "The Daddy of them all" the "Penny Black" of Great Britain (the first postage stamp ever issued) to the latest issues. There were on display even some of the Canadian surcharged 10c on 20c Special Delivery which were issued to the public on the day the Exhibition opened. Many thousands of stamps were on display, attractively arranged in some 120 frames.

Chris Goulden, the dean of Montreal Philately, stated that he had never seen a nicer display. The stamps were carefully selected, neatly mounted, and well displayed in ideal surroundings.

The most attractive displays were a large collection of the errors and varieties of the King George Silver Jubilee stamps with large photographs illustrating the errors. Canadian Semi-Postal airmail stamps, postage dues, recent George VI British Colonials, a complete collection of Coronation stamps with a synoptical description of each colony, a complete collection of the stamps of Belgium, and thousands of other fine specimens were included.

Mayor Merrill, who expressed gratification at the large attendance and the fine things the club was doing, for stamp collectors, was introduced by R. J. Sutherland. He commented enthusiastically upon the interest which such a hobby gave to many people both young and old, and said that he might take an active interest in stamp collecting and the club.

The executive of the club present were: R. J. Sutherland, pres.; T. Kearney, vice-pres.; Dean Williamson, vice-pres., and Lawrence Flood, secretary-treasurer. The Exhibition committee committee composed of Messrs. T. Kearney, R. H. M. Falls, J. Pickering, J. A. Yearwood, Gordon Sheppard, and Morton Shulman, deserve praise for putting over such a fine display.

Women's Association To Hear Talk on Books

Christopher Ellis will address the Women's Association of St. Stephen's Church, on Tuesday evening at half-past eight o'clock in the parish hall. The topic of his address will be "The Friendship of Books." Proceeds of this meeting will be in aid of the Chancel Guild. The lecture is open to the public.

Monthly Meeting
The Women's Union, of the United Church of Canada will hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon in Emmanuel Church parlor at three o'clock.

For Sunday dinner with the roast, a ring of fluffy steamed rice filled with buttered green beans and surrounded by buttered carrot strips flecked with parsley. Delicious, also, as a main dish for meatless menus.

Back in 1900, the women of St. John's Guild in Laurel, Mississippi, put their heads and recipes together and printed a cook book. The aroma of that venture lives on in an old copy that just turned up. Smell those glorious soups, all from The Laurel, Mississippi, Cook Book.

Victoria Soup
(Serves 4)
One small carrot chopped, 1 small onion sliced, 1 sprig parsley chopped, 1 1/2 tablespoons butter, 2 1/2 cups chicken stock, 1 cup milk, 1/2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons grated cheese.
Heat a little of the butter, add carrot, onion and parsley, simmer 5 minutes. Add stock and cook 12 minutes. Strain, pressing vegetables through sieve, return to fire and add the milk and rest of the butter blended with the flour. Heat to thicken, season and, just before serving, add the cheese.

Oyster Bisque
(Serves 12)
One pint strong chicken or veal stock, seasoned with salt and pepper, 1 quart oysters, 1 cup milk, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 pint cream, salt and pepper, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 1/2 cups bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter rubbed with 1 tablespoon flour.
Strain stock, heat in double boiler, add bread crumbs and cook. In another saucepan, scald milk and stir into floured butter. Bring quickly to boil, then add to meat stock and crumbs.
Boil the oyster liquid with a cup of water, season, skim. Chop the oysters and add. Cook for 2 minutes, and then add to the other liquid. Force through a puree sieve and return to fire. Add chopped parsley. Beat yolks and add cream. Just before serving, pour the oyster puree onto the yolks and cream.

Lenten Tea

St. Stephen's Women's Association will hold its third Lenten Tea and sale of home-cooking on Saturday afternoon in the Parish hall. The evening W. A. with Miss Winifred Roberts as convener, will be in charge of the home-cooking table. The sale will open at half-past two o'clock. Afternoon tea will be served from four until six o'clock, with the Red Cross group acting as hostess under the convener'ship of Mrs. H. J. McElna. A musical program will be given by the church choir.

Character should have priority over all else.

RUBBERSET TAKE LEAD IN COMMERCIAL LOOP PLAYOFFS

BRUSHMAKERS SHOW STRENGTH TO DEFEAT M'COLL-FRONTENAC 2-1 IN TUESDAY'S FIXTURE

Stirring Contest Between Commercial League Leaders Is Fight to Finish — Loss of Jerry Donnelly is Hard Blow to Red Indians, Who However, Turn in Steady Game

The Rubberset outfit determined to take advantage of their weekend opponents in the Commercial League Tuesday, carried most of the play in the first period, and after ten minutes and fifteen seconds of furious action scored when Bill Colligan converted a pass from Ed and Don Pilkington. Final score was 2-1.

In the second period Jimmy Burke the blonde flash of the Red Indians took the puck from behind his own net and with the able assistance of Doug Merrick outskated the opposition to knot the count.

The third period started out at a very fast pace with Rubberset forcing the play from the outset. Frank Wilson and old veteran in commercial league playoffs scored Rubberset's second goal on a pass from Bill Richardson.

Frank Wilson, Bill Richardson and Bill Colligan were the stars for the winners while Jimmy Burke, John Crombie and John Kenny the latter having played stirring hockey in the nets for the Red Indians all season were the stars for the losers.

The final game of the playoff series will be played next Tuesday, at Loyola Stadium.

The teams: Rubberset: G. Bird, A. Jones, J. Edwards, E. Pilkington, D. Pilkington, W. Colligan, F. Wilson, W. Richardson, G. Sullivan, T. Fesner. McColl-Frontenac: J. Kenny, S.

Ash-Can Skates Start Hockey Star On Way to Success

Skates salvaged from an ash-can by a little kid with big ambitions started Vic Marriuci on his way to a place in the hockey world in Minneapolis.

It was 12 years ago that Minnesota's defense man on ice and star end in football ran across the skates at Eveleth, Minn., one of America's hotbeds of hockey.

They were large enough for two lads of Vic's size, but they were the first he could call his own.

And besides, they had belonged to the great Vic Des Jardiens, who later was to go on to stardom with the Chicago Blackhawks.

"Des Jardiens was the hero of all the boys in the neighborhood," recalls Marriuci. "When they found out I had his old skates they were awfully envious. I had to make good."

Marriuci has several professional offers.

CALVARY WINS 38-19 OVER LIVINGSTONE

Purple and White Basketball Squad Emerged Victorious on Tuesday

The effect of playing two basketball games in a row told on a tired Calvary team when they met Livingstone United Tuesday night. Calvary seemed to lack the punch which they had on Monday's game, but were nevertheless able to conquer Livingstone United by a tidy score of 38-19.

The only quarter in which Calvary played anywhere near the form capable of them was in the first when they ran up a 17-4 lead.

In the other three the purple and white squad held their own, and came out of the game victors by a 38-19 count.

For the victors, Ian Hellyer and Lolly Wright were outstanding, while Beck was Livingstone's best man on the floor.

Calvary United (38): J. Wright 0, Churchill 2, Sloan 0, L. Wright 12, Flynn 8, Hellyer 10, Thompson 6.

Livingstone United (19): Harris 0, Griffin 2, Read 2, Chapman 9, Beck 4, Powell 4.

DISPOSITION

A tender-hearted and compassionate disposition, which inclines men to pity and feel the misfortunes of others, and which is, even for its own sake, incapable of involving any man in ruin and misery, is of all tempers of mind the most amiable; and though it seldom receives much honor, is worthy of the highest.—Fielding.

Will Bolster Camp Fund With Fossils Club Show

As preparations for the 14th annual Fossils Frolics near completion, Manning Jamieson, President of the Club reminded the members that the success of the year's activities depended entirely on the outcome of the show, and exhorted the participants to do their utmost to keep up the high standard of previous presentations.

Ever since the formation of the club in November 1925, the Fossils have annually sent underprivileged boys to camp for a two week period. "Those of us who are fortunate enough not to know want, cannot actually visualize what a vacation away from the city means to these boys, but those who have had charge of the selection of boys to be sent by the club know the eagerness with which they look forward to the exciting prospect of two weeks at camp," stated Mr. Jamieson at the meeting.

The only means by which the club can secure funds to carry on this work is through the revue, as the club makes no personal campaigns for funds.

The high-light of the show undoubtedly will be a skit based on the recent radio scare when it was thought by certain that the

From Cement Checker To Diplomat

How easy sometimes it is to climb life's ladder is evidenced by turning back the payroll sheets of Messrs. W. H. and M. P. Davis, contractors of Ottawa, who were in charge of the construction of the world-famous Quebec Bridge for the former Canadian Government Railways, now the Canadian National System.

Listed as a checker, may be seen the name of Joachim von Ribbentrop, whose duty it was to check the pouring of the cement into the casements of the bridge and who is now the right-hand man of Herr Hitler and formerly the German Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

CHURCH TEAM CONTINUES TO STAY ON TOP

Calvary Defeats Iverley Settlement in Close Basketball Game

Iverley Settlement nearly put an end to Calvary's winning streak on Monday night at Victoria School but failed to push across the winning basket after coming from behind. The game ended 51-50 in favour of Calvary.

The Settlement juniors played a vastly improved game from their first meeting when Calvary had their own way in a 69-14 triumph. In the first half Calvary carried the play by a narrow margin, and at half-time possessed a 32-27 advantage.

Iverley were quick to take advantage of the faltering Calvary quintet in the third quarter and went into the lead, but Calvary recovered sufficiently to allow them to keep only a two point margin. The fourth quarter was a saw-saw affair all the way and in the dying moments of the game, Calvary were able to gain the advantage, even though being hand pressed by Iverley. The final score being 51-50 in favor of Calvary.

Wright Hellyer, and Flynn, Calvary's forward line collected 46 of their team's points, and were working smoothly and systematically.

Thompson and Keenan were Iverley's best bet, Keenan was especially dangerous, constantly scoring from just past centre.

Calvary (51): J. Wright 2, B. Sloan 3, Hellyer 14, Thompson 0, Flynn 14, L. Wright 18, Churchill 0.

Iverley: Roy C., Milne 2, Thompson 12, Keenan 9, Chisholm 3, Ely 7, Warnock 8, Denham 0, Moore 4, Donnelly 2.

Goodyear Statue Unveiled in Akron

A nine-foot statue of Charles Goodyear was unveiled in Akron, Ohio, recently, in the presence of prominent United States officials and representatives of several foreign countries, gathered to pay homage to the man whose pioneering research of 100 years ago laid the foundation for today's $2,000,000,000 rubber industry.

Gathered around the statue, unveiled by Mrs. Nelson Goodyear on a City park overlooking the great plant that bears the name of Goodyear, were Eduardo Dibos, Mayor of Lima, Peru, a large-scale distributor of Goodyear products, and some 2,000 other Goodyear representatives from all parts of the world.

The sculptor, Walter Russell, was introduced to the applauding audience and spoke briefly of the inspiration he found in doing this piece of work for the people of Akron.

In glowing terms, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, chief speaker at the ceremonies, described the trials of the former rubber man in his quest for the process of vulcanization, leading through a debtor's prison, a stuffy New York attic, and thence to Woburn, Mass., where the great discovery was made. General Johnson pointed to the statue of the rubber pioneer, holding out a lump of rubber to a waiting world, as an example of the heights to which men may rise through faith in themselves and what they have to give regardless of the hurdles that stand in the way.

A pageant depicting the career of the struggling young pioneer will be on exhibition in Goodyear Hall for the rest of the year, being celebrated not only in Akron but in many other parts of the country. The celebrations will continue for three more days.
