Forty-Ninth Year

LUZON'S COMPLETE LIBERATION ANNOUNCED

World News In Brief

London, June 28.—(P)—A strong possibility that Poland's foreign assets will be frozen temporarily developed today as Great Britain and the United States prepared to withdraw recognition from the London regime and transfer it to the newly-formed Warsaw government.

A Foreign Office commentator said the situation post "most complicated" problems, which may require Allied discussions before a solution is reached.

New York, June 28.—(P)—Another television screen projecting a picture of a self-contained screen approximately 16 by 22 inches and of a type intended for the post-war home was demonstrated here last night.

The receiver was developed by General Electric at Schenectady. Engineers said that Radar engineering done for the armed forces had aided in the development. The particular design, it was added, was more of preparatory model than the ultimate for the post-war market.

Results obtained contrasted sharply, both in brilliancy and detail of image, with the less efficiently operating post-war sets, which had an eight by ten inch picture viewed directly on the end of a 12-inch tube.

When such a set will be ready for the market was not indicated.

London, June 28.—(P)—William Joyce, who broadcast Nazi war propaganda as Lord Haw Haw, was bound over formally today for trial in Old Bailey on charges of high treason against the British crown.

The court offered to pay for two attorneys for Joyce, who has indicated his defense will be that he was not a British subject, but was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., 39 years ago and assumed German nationality in 1940, the year before the United States entered the war.

Adak, Aleutians, June 28.—(P)—A North Pacific task force virtually wiped out a five-ship Japanese convoy in the sea of Okhotsk in the sub-Arctic dawn Tuesday.

The action, first reported in those waters, took place in clear weather a few miles southwest of Paramushiro.

Definitely sunk were a 2,000-ton freighter, a smaller cargo ship and a large sea-going tug. Concentrated shellfire from cruisers and destroyers probably sank an additional small cargo ship and damaged another.

Advanced Headquarters, Burma, June 28.—(Reuters)—Troops of the 14th Army have cleared the Japanese from several Burmese villages east of Lethpadan, 80 miles north of Rangoon, and killed a number of Japanese in patrol actions in the same area, today's southeast Asia command communique reported.

Shellbrook, Sask., June 28.—(P)—The Saskatchewan C.C.F. Government tomorrow faces its first test at the polls since sweeping into power a year ago. The Shellbrook by-election, necessitated by the death of A. V. Sterling, C.C.F. last fall, will be a three-cornered struggle. The candidates are G. F. Van Eaton, C.C.F.; H. K. Elder, Liberal, and M. A. Courchene, Social Credit.

Mr. Sterling died before he could take his seat in the Pro-

Four More Enemy Aircraft Plants Hit By Superforts

Railroad Terminus of Beaufort on North Flank of Brunei Bay Entered by Australian Invaders of Borneo.

Manila, June 28.—(P)—Australian invaders of Borneo have entered the railroad terminus of Beaufort on the north flank of Brunei Bay, it was disclosed in today's Southwest Pacific communique, which told of the complete liberation of the Philippine island of Luzon.

The Australians have also occupied Kuala Belait, river port for the Seria oil fields. Melbourne Radio said that Aussies driving below the seized Seria and Miri fields have found only a few scattered Japanese.

Four more Japanese aircraft plants have been hard hit by Superfortresses, it was announced today in a communique disclosing results of attacks June 18, 20 and 22.

The communique announced that heavy and medium bombers unloaded more than 200 tons of explosives on Balikpapan, Borneo east coast oil center.

Tokyo Radio said today that warships continued to bombard the Balikpapan area. It made the unconfirmed claim that Japanese planes sank two destroyers and damaged two others Tuesday.

A dirty job of tracking down and ferreting out thousands of Japanese in mountains and forests of North Luzon—some unexplored territory—remains.

The Ryukyus campaign, including capture of Okinawa island and several associated strikes by the Navy's fast carrier forces on the Japanese homeland, cost the United States 46,319 casualties, of whom 11,897 were killed or missing.

The United States Navy's first venture into the Okhotsk Sea, east of the Kuriles—a penetration which destroyed or damaged a five-ship convoy—also was announced in today's communique. A task force of cruisers and destroyers sank three cargo ships, probably sank a fourth and damaged the fifth in a daylight action west of Harumukotan Island, 60 miles south of Paramushiro.

OFFICER TELLS OF ACTIONS OF SECRET POLICE

Toronto, June 28.—(P)—The Royal Commission inquiry into charges that the Drew Government maintained a secret police in Ontario moves into its seventh day today following conclusion of testimony by Capt. William Osborne-Dempster, alleged "Gestapo" head.

Capt. Osborne-Dempster and three inspectors of the Provincial Police Criminal Investigation Branch were heard at last night's sitting, enlivened by an argument between counsel which caused Mr. Justice A. M. LeBel, Royal Commissioner, to adjourn hearing ten minutes for a conference with counsel.

Inspector E. C. Gurnett, one of the three Provincial Police inspectors, said he was responsible for the "special branch" police offices since last May 28, four days after C.C.F. Leader E. B. Joffe charged that the special branch was a paid political organization.

Gurnett said Capt. Osborne-Dempster visited the office May 28 and removed two bundles of envelopes which he said were personal mail from England. Questioned by Mr. Joffe, witness said he received no instructions to prevent such

32,000 Have Volunteered To Date For Pacific Navy Duty

Ottawa, June 28.—(P)—A series of developments in the last few weeks have supplied answers to many questions regarding Canada's Pacific commitments but have posed others, the most important of which is the matter of operational basis.

Here is the lineup:

Navy—Capt. Harold Grant, 42, of Halifax, will be senior officer of a 60-ship fleet that will fight under British direction and possibly in co-operation with American overall command.

Capt. Grant will be on the bridge of the senior ship—the new 11,000-ton cruiser Ontario—which will soon join her sister ship, Uganda, vanguard of a fleet that will also include two aircraft carriers, the anti-aircraft cruiser Prince Robert, and several other ships.

Already 32,000 men have volunteered for the Pacific Navy, a figure 10,000 greater than needed for actual combat duty. A complement of 13,500 men will be necessary to fight the ships and another 8,500 will be held in reserve. The total requirement for the war against Japan is 37,000 indicating that 15,000 will be used in Canada in administrative and instructional capacities.

Army—Maj.-Gen. Bert M. Hoffmeister, 38, of Vancouver will be returning to his 6th Pacific division command temporary headquarters at Brockville, Ont., on completion of his leave in three weeks.

Already an echelon group is operating at the former officer's training town, channelling Pacific drafts and preparing administration for the 30,000 man force.

The Far East force will "smarten up" at Debert, N. S., Barriefield,

Ont., and Shilo, Man., where it will gather in brigade groups. The preliminary work of grouping which will see volunteers serving with famous 1st Division battalion names and according to geographical affiliation, will be completed in August and the whole force will move to Camp Breckenridge, Ky., early in September.

Already 28,000 European veterans have volunteered for Gen. Hoffmeister's Army and he has chosen an "all-star" team of brigadiers and colonels with fine fighting records to lead his outsize, American-type regiments of infantry and armor.

Air Force—The R.C.A.F. has not yet announced the size and nature of the force which Air Vice-Marshal Roy Slemmon, 40, of Winnipeg, will lead against the Japanese in co-operation with the R.A.F. Vice-Marshal Slemmon arrives here tomorrow or Saturday to plan the organization of his force. He will consult air officials here who this week talked to Air Marshal Sir Hugh Pugh Lloyd, British Pacific Air Chief, under whom the Canadians will fight.

It is possible that the composition was fixed at discussions here with the R.A.F. Commander. If so, there has been no official word and the only comment from Air Force Headquarters is that the problem of finding bases is still holding up completion of R.C.A.F. plans. One source said it was possible that the Canadian Air Force might undertake to build its own bases.

Merchant Navy—While there has been no official announcement it is understood the Canadian Merchant Fleet will contribute its share of bottoms to the Allied shipping pool, supplying the armed forces in the Pacific and it is expected that many of the ships will load at Vancouver and Victoria.

KEEPS FINGER UPON PULSE OF FRENCH LABOR

Stabilization of Franc and Removal of Regulation Setting Maximum Salaries Demanded by French.

Paris, June 28.—(P)—Officially the labor section of the Allied Supreme Headquarters mission to France deals only with the labor problems of 261,000 French civilians working with the Allied armies providing manpower for such formations as the American Army engineers, automotive repair shops, the signal communications as well as for national rehabilitation problems. But unofficially this relationship between Supreme Headquarters and French labor has given the head of the section, Major L. F. Daly in Chicago and Washington, opportunity to study the labor situation in

POLES EXPECT ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW REGIME

Leaders Express Confidants on Arrival at Moscow New Government Will Unite All Poles.

Moscow, June 28.—(P)—Back in Warsaw, Polish leaders began today the task of preparing for formal announcement of the new Provisional Government of National Unity, which is expected soon.

President Boleslaw Bierut, of the Polish National Council, Premier Edward Osobka-Morawski, the Lublin regime, and Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, who is expected to become vice-premier, expressed confidence last night, on their arrival at the airport, that the new regime would unite all Poles.

Bierut said that "reconstruction of the Polish Provisional Govern-

JAPS BOAST OF NEW WEAPON TO STARTLE WORLD

Say Special Suicide Weapons Prepared in Volume "Almost Equal" to Total Tanks and Guns Used in Europe.

San Francisco, June 28.—(P)—The Japanese boasted today special suicide weapons were being prepared against invasion in a volume "almost equal" to the total number of tanks and guns used in the European War and that they would create "world-wide amazement."

Domei Agency quoted one of its correspondents on his return from "special attack" bases scattered throughout Japan. The correspondent said "enormous" numbers of youths were being trained to man the weapons.

"I even hope for an early landing of enemy forces on our mainland to strike a deadly blow to the enemy and in expectation of world-wide amazement when our special attack weapons display full activity," the correspondent said.

"Final, full-fledged results will be obtained when United States forces attempt to carry out a landing on the Japanese mainland," the correspondent added.

While all Japanese "regret" the loss of Okinawa, asserted Tokyo Radio commentator Ichiro Baba, "Japan's future is indeed bright." He said that since Okinawa is now in American hands the Allies will soon attack the Japanese homeland and "the sooner the enemy comes, the better for us, for our battle array is complete."

JAP REFINERY BATTERED FOR 20 CONSECUTIVE DAYS

A Japanese correspondent in Balikpapan declared today that the big oil refining centre in Eastern Borneo has been battered by bombers for twenty successive days, with the guns of Allied fleets adding their fire every third day.

"The enemy's wave attacks," he said, "begin every morning at about nine o'clock and continue until about three in the afternoon. Every third day naval bombardments are carried out before and after the air attacks."

The correspondent said that "it is evident" the Allies were "aiming at a landing operation."

DR. T. V. SOONG IN CONFERENCE WITH RUSSIANS

London Quarters Interpret Move as Indicative of Deterioration of Chungking-Communist Relations in Last Three Years.

London, June 28.—(Reuters)—The arrival in Moscow of Dr. T. V. Soong, marks a second dramatic reversal in the Chinese Prime Minister's movement.

That he would leave Chungking almost immediately after his arrival there from San Francisco is interpreted in well-informed London quarters as indicative of the deterioration of Chungking-Communist relations during the past three weeks.

RAILWAY DEPOT IN SUBURBS OF LIUCHOW TAKEN

Chinese Column on West Battling Toward Junction With Other Forces Battering at City's South Railway Station.

Chungking, June 28.—(P)—The Chinese High Command announced today that Chinese forces assaulting Liuchow had captured a railway station in the western suburbs of that strategic Kwangsi province city and a part of the airfield to the south.

Field dispatches earlier had reported that the Chinese column on the west, paced by low-flying fighter-bombers, was battling toward a junction with other forces battering at Liuchow's south railway station.

The Chinese news service said more than 800 of the enemy were killed in the fight for Likao, 17 miles southwest of Liuchow.

Meanwhile, northwest of the former American base, fighter-bombers of the 14th Air Force smashed at Japanese troops and gun positions.

Other planes bombed and strafed along an 80-mile front from North Hunan Province, where a gasoline dump and radio station were attacked, to an airfield of Peiping, where a Japanese plane was destroyed and the field damaged for two successive days. Shipping and rail communications were hit around the Yellow River and the Grand Canal.

Germans Tricky Imponderables

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Associated Foreign Affairs Analysts: Quite a lot of good folk who are sensitive in the matter of mental fitness are worried because the Allies haven't yet announced a detailed programme covering every phase of the punishment and regeneration of Germany.

Speaking of programmes in general, these critics may be right in insisting that the 'I's be dotted and the 'T's be crossed, but there are exceptions to every rule—and this is one of them, as I see it. Anyw'y, there certainly are great advantages in being able to handle the Germans under a very flexible arrangement at this juncture. So there's method in the Allied madness.

The point is that we are dealing with a lot of tricky imponderables in working out this problem. The Big Four must proceed cautiously in making commitments lest they find their hands tied in uncomfortable situations.

Every day the Allies are discovering fresh and startling facts about Hitler's plans for conquering the world. His schemes exceed anything he displayed in action. Official letters and documents discovered in Berchtesgaden and other places are proving to be gold mines of information.

For instance we have learned Hitler's method of handling his problem of keeping Turkey neutral. Spain's friendly relations with the Axis are becoming more clear. We are gleaming the inner thoughts of other countries during the war too.

Then we may expect that Allied research in connection with the trials of war criminals will provide us with further invaluable information regarding the ramifications of the Nazi activities, not only in Europe but in the Western Hemisphere. We shall learn more about Hitler's scheme of restoring Nazism's potential by the creation of a politico-economic empire in the Western Hemisphere. We shall add to our list of who's who among the warmongers.

One of the vital questions to be faced out is the exact attitude of the German public as a whole towards the activities of Hitler the Hun. Are any of them repentant, or are they just sorry that they lost the war and want another chance at conquering the world?

In this connection the Allies have to figure out just what disposition is to be made of the high-ranking professional German soldiers. It has been decreed that Prussian militarism shall be destroyed—but just how is this to be effected? Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Commander of the United States 6th Army Corps, said in New York a few days ago:

"The (German) General Staff has been destroyed, and for my part I would shoot those who remain."

Well, that would be one mighty effective way of disposing of them. But Gen. Devers was expressing a personal view, and there's no indication that the Allied control has decided this issue. Moreover, it seems doubtful if the Allies would like to commit themselves on this point right now.

Another indication that it pays to proceed methodically is seen in the report on Germany's power of recovery by Leo T. Crowley, United States Foreign Economic Administrator. In a statement to the Senate Military Affairs Committee he declared that despite the Allied bombing, many German industries could be started again quickly. He advocated that the Reich be deprived of every facility which might lend itself to war making.

All this of course isn't an argument against a concrete Allied programme. However, it does give ample support to the idea of not committing ourselves to exact and dried plans until we are sure we want them.

Troopship Pasteur To Dock At Quebec Port On Test Run

Ottawa, June 28.—(P)—The troopship Pasteur will land 5,000 Canadian servicemen at Quebec July 20, on a test run to see if any relief can be brought to the rail-shipping facilities through the overcrowded port of Halifax, it was learned reliably today.

All troopships have been converging on Halifax because the ocean distance to this port is shorter and the turn-around time of each ship is faster. This is an important factor in ocean transport engaged in the huge task of repatriation and redeployment of Allied forces in Europe.

"Transport people want to try one run to Quebec to see if it has any beneficial effect on the rail-shipping situation," an official said. "One thing is certain that is that it will relieve the rail situation between the east coast and inland points. The long rail haul to Halifax will be shortened and will thus provide cars through faster turn-around operations by the railways but the longer ocean trip may hold up ships, badly needed on the east shuttle service."

He said that the great flood of repatriates through Halifax had crowded the facilities from that port to such an extent that officials were worried they might have to

Dardanelles Rumor Brought Into Open

Istanbul, June 28.—(P)—Reports that Soviet Russia is seeking advantages in the Dardanelles, and may even ask return of the Kars and Ardahan districts she ceded to Turkey in 1921, were brought into the open today by an editorial in the semi-official newspaper Aksham declaring Turkey would firmly refuse any such demands.

Aksham said reports that the Russians had brought up the question of the Dardanelles and the proprietorship of the Kars and Ardahan district "may be considered correct."

"The Turkish Government, which naturally will refuse such terms, has not considered necessary any communication on this subject to the National Assembly or the Turkish people, since the problem at present is neither definite nor decisive," the paper added.

It added that "premature excitement is unnecessary."

Much Speculation Caused By Replacement Of Stettinius

Kansas City, Mo., June 28.—(P)—Outwardly unperturbed by the chain of speculation unleashed by his decision to replace Edward R. Stettinius as Secretary of State, President Truman today went cheerfully about the business of celebrating his first Presidential homecoming.

He planned to make the most of his reunion with the homefolks before starting for Berlin early next month for a Big Three meeting at which he hoped to help lay the groundwork for a final peace treaty "we hope will maintain the peace of the world for generations to come."

signment for which he picked Mr. Stettinius, that of American representative to the United Nations World Peace League projected under the charter approved at San Francisco this week.

He told correspondent assembled at his hometown of Independence, ten miles from here, that the new job Mr. Stettinius will undertake is the most important within the gift of his Government, and he gave to Stettinius the assignment of piloting the peace charter through to Senate ratification.

He said last night that he shall devote all his time from now on, at the White House, and in Berlin, to winning the war and winning the peace.

When he gets together with Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill, he said, "we shall discuss the preliminaries for a final peace treaty, which we hope will maintain the peace of the world for generations to come."

COMPLETE PLAN FOR OPENING OF BROOKS STREET

Plans have been completed and accepted by the C.P.R. and the City of Sherbrooke to open Brooks Street, by tunnelling under the Quebec Central Railway tracks, through as far as Oliver and possibly Galt Streets, Alphonse Trudeau, Alderman of the South Ward, announced today.

It is estimated that the project will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 but when built, it will greatly relieve the congested traffic on Alexander Street, the only street in the district which crosses the tracks. The Alexander Street crossing is unsatisfactory in that it is a level crossing and often closed for the passing of trains.

Ald. Trudeau explained that the project will be included in the next by-law which he expects will be made next August.

Complaints have been registered by members of the congregation of the new Christ Roi Church, who living on the opposite side of the tracks from the Church, have to travel some distance to attend.

Ald. Trudeau expressed the hope this morning that citizens will vote for the by-law since it not only benefits them but because it is expected that in the near future when cars are available to the same extent as in pre-war years, heavy traffic over the Alexander Street crossing will increase the congestion now apparent.

It is believed that the Russians will make it clear to the Chinese Prime Minister that they do not propose to interfere in the internal affairs of China but that the Soviet Government is prepared to offer its good services to mediate in the conflict between the Chinese Central Government of Chungking and the Communist regime of Yenan.

This now is a matter of general interest to the Allies in view of the impending invasion of the Chinese mainland. At the moment both Chungking and Yenan forces are converging on the coastal districts, particularly the Shanghai area. Unless, therefore, the standing of these Yenan forces is settled beforehand serious complications may arise in their relations with Allied troops.

At the same time it is believed that Dr. Snoog will be sounded in Moscow about Chinese intentions in Northern China, particularly about Korea and Manchuria. The Russians' standpoint in the past has been to treat both countries as independent of the Chinese Central Government, whatever their post-war status may be.

With Dr. Snoog's arrival, Moscow has become the centre of world-wide diplomatic activity—which in well-informed London quarters is thought not to be accidental.

At the moment it appears Moscow has taken the initiative in seeking a settlement of a number of outstanding questions on her perimeter. In addition to those under discussion with Dr. Snoog and affecting important strategic positions in the Far East, negotiations are also proceeding in the future of the Dardanelles, on Polish-Czechoslovak frontiers

JOHN C. WALSH IS HONORED ON HIS RETIRING

A group of Canadian Pacific fellow officials and employees gathered at the home of John C. Walsh, 266 King St. West, as a mark of honor and respect on the occasion of his recent retirement from railway service, after completing more than half a century of continuous employment with the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Walsh entered the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1894, as a Sectionman, and as a result of hard work and ability, which was duly recognized by Company officials, Mr. Walsh had, for many years prior to his retirement, occupied the important post of roadmaster on various divisions, his fifty years of service being divided among the Laurentian, Quebec and Farnham divisions of the C.P.R. Quebec District, which is an integral part of the Eastern Lines.

A substantial purse, in the form of Victory bonds, was presented to Mr. Walsh, on the part of his many friends in all departments of the railway.

vincial Legislature. The Government has 46 members and former Premier W. J. Patterson, Liberal, leads the five-man opposition party. There also are three active service members of the Assembly, nominally independent, in the 55-member House.

London, June 28.—(Cable)—An erroneous Ottawa report that Prime Minister Mackenzie King was leaving Canada today for Britain, caused a flurry of excitement in Canadian circles in London.

Canada House was swamped with calls following publication in evening newspapers of an exchange telegraph agency dispatch saying the Prime Minister and three senior members of his department were coming to Britain "to inspect departmental activities overseas and to talk over rehabilitation matters with the troops."

The excitement died down however, when a substitute story corrected the name of the distinguished visitor to Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of Veterans Affairs.

Keeps Finger

France and to hear what labor leaders here have to say. Meanwhile labor authorities come with their problems to Major Daly who has had a long association with labor administration.

"My job here is primarily keeping a finger on the pulse of labor employed by Supreme Headquarters, noting any unrest," he said. "If I hear of any dissatisfaction on the part of the workers, I investigate it and notify the proper authorities."

"Officially it's not my job to settle labor disputes, but I am interested in hearing what labor leaders have to say. I believe that the finest way to settle any labor problem is to sit down and talk to the leaders."

Most of Maj. Daly's dealings with labor leaders are through the national confederation of labor, T. E. Headquaters relations with labor have been satisfactory, with the only dissatisfaction arising from wage scales, set not by Headquarters but by the French Labor Ministry.

Among the things labor wants is the removal of the regulation setting the maximum salaries and replacement with a law establishing a minimum salary which can be paid to a worker.

Labor is also demanding a stabilization of the franc. To the workers in France, the number of francs is now not so important as the purchasing power of each franc. Labor therefore wants effective pegging of prices and a stamping out of the black market which cancels the effect of present attempts at price pegging.

and on German reparations. Informants expect that the schedule of subject for discussion has by no means been completed.

The reason for what might be called this present Russian peace-making offensive is seen in diplomatic quarters in a natural desire of the Soviet Government to make the most of its present favorable international position and to get as many tricky loose diplomatic ends tied up before the final peace conference meets.

This was the comment expressed by Lt. Col. Eugene Nantel, Commanding Officer of the Lord Sherbrooke Army Training Centre, following the performance of the Tin Hat Revue, an army entertainment troupe, that put on their show last night at the centre.

Numbering 45 members, the troupe is under the direction of Jeff Merrill and is associated with the Montreal Repertory Theatre.

Receiving a ringing ovation for each performance the show was enjoyed by all. The programme included performances of dancing and singing.

Entertained in the officer's mess, the troupe were given dinner before the show and a late supper afterwards. Many residents of the city were present at the performance.

DEATH REMOVES M. MARCOTTE IN HIS 85TH YEAR

Maxime Marcotte, a former partner in the firm of Marcotte-Pelletier here and a well-known resident of Sherbrooke, passed away last night at his home on Marquette Street, in his 85th year. He had been in failing health for a year and a half.

Born in Melbourne, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marcotte, the deceased attended school there before going to work in Arthabaska. In 1881 he came to Sherbrooke and was employed with a tailor, M. J. Dussault, until 1907, when he entered into partnership to form the tailoring firm of Marcotte-Pelletier. The partnership was dissolved in 1912, and since then Mr. Marcotte continued to be connected with the firm until six years ago, when he retired.

In 1885 he was married to Elise Ouellette, and of this union, eleven children were born. Eight have died, one in France in the last war. Mrs. Marcotte predeceased her husband.

The deceased is survived by three children, Anita, in Montreal; Edgide, in Sherbrooke; and Laurence, in Sherbrooke, four sisters, Miss Eugenie Marcotte, Sherbrooke; Mrs. Adolphe Boivert, Lime Ridge; Miss Angèle Marcotte, Ste. Adele de Dussault; and Mrs. Julie Casaudon, Ste. Anne, and four grandchildren, Rejane, Marcel, Gilles and Fernand Marcotte.

The funeral will be held on Saturday morning at St. Michael's Cathedral, at 10:30.

Plans For Diamond Jubilee Fair Discussed By Directors Who Also Viewed Improvements To Grounds

Sherbrooke's Diamond Jubilee Exhibition will be a gala event this summer, fittingly observing the E.T.A.A.'s sixtieth birthday, and many plans to make this a memorable week are under consideration by the directors. Some of these were discussed at a special meeting held in the Arena building last evening after the officials had toured the grounds and inspected the various alterations and improvements being made.

The Arena Building has been given a fresh coat of paint, the cat sheds are being repaired, the cat club headquarters have been painted and renovated and the grounds generally are being put into shape under the supervision of Norrey Price, secretary-manager of the E.T.A.A.

The directors were particularly impressed last night by the progress which has been made paving the large midway area, where large lanes have been marked out and asphalt surfaces laid. A strip has also been paved leading from the grandstand to the midway area and

A. O. Walker Addresses Meeting Of Canadian Underwriters' Association

A. O. Walker, of Regina, President of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, was the main speaker at a luncheon which was held yesterday noon at the New Chateau Frontenac Hotel. Mr. Walker, accompanied by L. W. Dunstall, of Toronto, Dominion Secretary, is at present touring Eastern Canada, giving speeches to the various branches of the association. Mr. Dunstall also addressed the well-attended meeting.

Members were glad in welcoming back to the life insurance business Douglas Stevenson, who has been for four years in the R.C.A.F. Three visiting members, V. J. Bentley, R. Merton, Provincial Vice-President, and J. Beatty, member of the Dominion Board, were also welcomed.

The chairman, J. A. Goulet, then presented Mr. Rouleau, local manager of the Confederation Life Association, with a farewell present. Mr. Rouleau was then appointed to the Montreal branch of the company. Walter Sutherland then introduced the main speaker, Mr. Walker, who is also chairman of the Regina school board, and a director of the Regina Y.M.C.A. As his topic for the day he had chosen "What Happens When the Hat Comes Down."

"On V-E Day we all threw our hats into the air," said Mr. Walker, "but at the end of the war our hats will come down, and there are two schools of thought as to what will happen to the insurance business in the future. Some people claim that people will be inclined to buy more tangible things than insurance, while another group believes that the boom period which might follow the war will be of definite benefit to underwriters, since insurance is the only thing that offers security to a family."

"With 1,600 fewer agents," continued Mr. Walker, "business increased 60%, which means an individual increase of 80%. We had good times last year, but we have to prepare for the future, and the insurance salesman has to be able to convince his client that we have the one thing to offer that he needs and wants."

Mr. Walker then continued to outline the three main jobs in the insurance business: prospecting, selling and time control. He quoted several figures to illustrate the importance of proper prospecting. Of 1,000 people chosen at random, 3.3 per cent bought insurance after they were approached. Of 1,000 professional men, seven per cent bought, and of 1,000 selected names, 15 per cent took out insurance policies. He also stated that seventy-five per cent of insurance buyers will sign the policy after two meetings with the agent, and only fifteen per cent require three or more interviews. Mr. Walker illustrated all his points with well-chosen examples, and he gave a model interview between a prospective buyer and an insurance agent.

In conclusion he pointed out that the financial life of Canada is held together by the life insurance business, and that it was the duty of all underwriters to be prepared for the future.

L. W. Dunstall, Secretary of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, traced the history of the insurance business in the last forty or fifty years. He stressed the standards that the association was trying to establish, and he urged all members to report all cases of misconduct at once to their regional office or to the national secretary.

Questions of educational and other standards for underwriters was also discussed by Mr. Dunstall. He explained that the association tried to publish as many pamphlets and books as possible in the French language, but this was restricted by the high cost of copies. A new Underwriters' law, which does not permit part-time insurance agents in towns with over 5,000 inhabitants, was also quoted by the speaker, and he claimed that a small but well-trained staff was more desirable than a large one with part-time salesmen.

E. Caron then thanked Mr. Walker for coming to Sherbrooke and L. Vedal thanked Mr. Dunstall.

Seated at the head table were: W. Sutherland, A. O. Walker, J. A. Goulet, L. W. Dunstall, A. Trepanier and H. Peabody.

There will be no meetings of the Canadian Underwriters' Association during the summer months.

FESTIVAL HELD LAST EVENING GRAND SUCCESS

The appeal of fresh young voices raised in song is always especially charming, and this was truly demonstrated last night in the annual High School Girls' Singing Festival at Trinity United Church. Aside from the ease with which they sang and the fine training evident all the way through, the enjoyment the girls got from their singing was marked. Under the able leadership of R. Havard, choir-master, and Mrs. Bertha M. Bell, L.M.S., organist of Trinity Church, the four choirs of Richmond, Coaticook, Lennoxville and Trinity Church sang fifteen varied selections.

Particularly noticeable was the precision, the fine control, and the clear phrasing of their singing. The quality of tone was at all times full and well rounded, whether in a pure pianissimo or a really thrilling fortissimo. This latter effect was never overdone but was given its rightful place. Mr. Havard must be complimented on the restraint with which he tackled classics. There was no leaping at them as is too often the case, but each was approached gradually, building up to a telling result.

Of the compositions sung by the massed choirs, the opening "Who Is Sylvia?" by Schubert, and Beethoven's "Serenade" were outstanding.

The girls' voices somehow seemed to fit the mood of the first particularly well, giving it something of the unspoiled light-heartedness that Shakespeare must have felt when he wrote the words. "St. Swinburn's Chimes" showed to good advantage the choirs' training, with its effect of diminishing bells at the end showing fine control. Also by the ensemble were a clever arrangement of Chaminade's "Soleil D'été," "The Sleepy Song" by Rohrer, "The Rose of Tralee," "The Green Cathedral," which was sung with a true appreciation of its atmosphere, Strauss' "My Hero" from the Chocolate Soldier, and the final "Land of Hope and Glory." The fervor and spirit put into this, the shading of tone, and the magnificent climaxes made it one of the outstanding things of the concert.

Of the individual choirs, it is hard to pick out the best. Nor is it important. The older girls of the Lennoxville and Trinity choirs naturally had more mature and fuller voices, but with regard to technical ability, there is very little room for distinction. The Richmond girls gave a well-balanced, finely phrased performance of Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," and under Mrs. Bell's direction, the Coaticook choir sang "Life's Lesson" by Nevin, a setting of words by James Whitcomb Riley, and the Junior group showed up very creditably in "Stars of the Summer Night," "Piper June" by the Lennoxville choir, was one of the most captivating things on the programme. They sang it with full regard for its rhythm and feeling. The Trinity choir made a fine effect with "Apple Tree Fairy," delicately and imaginatively sung, and "Can't Help Singing," in which one could well believe the sentiment, by the happy way in which it was given. In this, Miss Doreen Cook sang a short solo, showing a promising true soprano voice. The concert concluded with the singing of "God Save the King."

Mrs. Bell was a discreet and efficient accompanist throughout the evening.

In the absence of the Rev. Mr. Williams, the programme was announced by Mr. J. G. Armitage. Sherbrooke is deeply indebted to both the choirs and their able leaders, and to Trinity Church for affording an evening of such enjoyment.

Operations Of Blood Donor Clinic Will Cease On July 15 But Mobile Division May Continue To Carry On

The discontinuation of operations at the local Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic as at present was announced yesterday afternoon at an executive meeting of the Sherbrooke Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, Presiding at the meeting held at the New Sherbrooke were the joint presidents, Mrs. Andrew Sangster and Mrs. Jacob Kison, and present were Colonel William Leggat, Provincial Treasurer, and Major F. J. Corrigan, Provincial Commissioner.

At a luncheon preceding the meeting, Col. Leggat presented Mrs. Russell Tate, Convener of the Work Committee, Sherbrooke Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, with a medal signifying an Honorary Membership in the organization. Major Corrigan read this citation:

"Mrs. Tate, after working at the local Branch in the last war, served Overseas as a V.A.D. Since the beginning of the present War, she has been Convener of the Work Committee of the Sherbrooke Branch of the Society, and in that capacity has devoted a great deal of her time and energy to the Red Cross. She has shown outstanding and most efficient service at all times."

This presentation marked the first occasion of such an honor being conferred upon a member of the Sherbrooke Red Cross Society.

Blood Donor Clinic activities, as operating at present, must be discontinued on July 15, it is explained, since the building the centre occupied has been sold. It is hoped that the Mobile Division will continue to operate, with headquarters at Sherbrooke.

Both Provincial officials discussed with the Executive plans for post-war and permanent activities for the Sherbrooke Branch.

It is anticipated that there will not be any slackening off in the work required of the branches due to the fact that much will be required for the relief of the liberated people of Europe and elsewhere. It is felt that the chief difficulty

THE GERMAN OUTLOOK

One of the things which strikes men attached to the occupation forces in Germany is the fact that the average German seems to have no sense of war guilt. The mental attitude of the Germans is hard for these observers to explain, but they describe it as being something less than arrogance and a state of mind that rests upon ignorance of the truth and that has been largely blinded to actual events by torrents of Nazi propaganda.

The German man-in-the-street needs no one to remind him that his country has been thoroughly defeated in this war. He knows that. But what he professes not to know, or appears not to know, is that Germany, through Hitler, was the sole and wanton instigator of the terrible conflict. It is there that the poison of Goebbels' subtle lies got in its work and distorted the truth; among the young particularly did the incessant falsehoods root deeply.

Allied leaflets and radio broadcasts helped somewhat to convince the more intelligent Germans what the truth was and Allied bombs likewise proved a stern teacher. But for the most part Nazi propaganda seems to have been believed beyond question and its effects are being met with in many ways in Germany today. The Allies are striving to undo what Goebbels has accomplished, but they have a formidable task in undeceiving the Germans and re-educating them, but they hope to succeed eventually.

But this cannot be accomplished overnight and many competent observers are convinced that it may take years. Some think that the older Germans may be brought out of their present way of thinking and restored to the semi-sensible views they held before the rise of Nazism. The very young can be trained anew by the education and cultural machinery set up by the occupational authorities. But there has been one entire generation of Germans thoroughly inculcated with the doctrines of the Nazi party and while their beliefs may have been somewhat shaken by the German military defeat, they for the most part see Germany as a victim of foreign conspiracy. Until this group has been eliminated as an important factor in German thinking, the United Nations will have to maintain a close hold on the Reich to ensure a hope of lasting peace.

FRENCH FOOD PROBLEMS

The fact that food production alone will not assure a people of an adequate supply of the necessities of life, but rather that many secondary factors may interfere with the amount of food which reaches the consumer, is emphasized in the case of France, which has in the past produced a major portion of its own food requirements. There, internal complications, plus world shortages, have combined to make the nation one of the worst fed countries in Europe despite the efforts of the French food authorities and the Allied Supreme Headquarters mission to France.

Major C. M. Herbert-Smith, a Briton, heads the mission whose task is advising the French Ministry of Food and Agriculture on their problems. He succeeded Lieut. Col. J. H. Tremblay, of Edmonton, who recently returned to Canada. Major Herbert-Smith understands the psychology of the French people from long residence there and he also knows food rationing from a former post with the British Ministry of Food.

Comparing the lot of France with conditions in Great Britain, he declared that during May the French received 1,337 calories of food daily while Britons received 2,800. Many factors, including differences in national administration of food, contributed to the differences in caloric value of the two countries' diet.

A difficult problem of equitable distribution faces France. Brigadier S. S. Lee, who heads the Supreme Headquarters mission, said the amount of food diverted from normal channels into the black market for sale at tremendous prices is so negligible that it has no effect on the average person's ration. However, in the Paris morning paper, Le Figaro, it was stated June 10 that if all the food which arrived at Paris railway stations during April had been distributed equally, each Parisien would have received an extra twenty-eight ounces of butter, six pounds of potatoes, two pounds of fish and other commodities.

One stumbling block to France's rationing system is the fact that the national Ministry of Food has not complete control of all food. In Britain, the Ministry of Food is the sole buyer and divider of food, with power to keep the prices up to the farmer and down to the consumer through subsidies. The French Ministry lacks this control which makes its problems more complicated.

LITTLE SYMPATHY FOR HAW HAW

William Joyce, better known to the world under the infamous name of Lord Haw Haw, is apparently held in as poor repute by the United States Government as he is held in Great Britain and therefore has little hope of avoiding the penalty for his treachery in the long run.

Seeking to evade punishment under the British Treachery Act for his anti-Allied campaign over the German radio, Joyce is pleading to the British courts that he is an American citizen by birth and that therefore the act does not apply to him. But Attorney General Biddle of the United States indicates that this will do him little good, because if the British courts determined Joyce is an American citizen "the United States Department of Justice will grab him quick."

Mr. Biddle continued that he was convinced that Joyce was "either an American traitor or a British traitor," and declared the United States would move immediately to bring the erstwhile Nazi radio propagandist before an American jury if his claim of United States citizenship is sustained.

Joyce, in presenting his present plea, is merely playing for time. He must fully realize that the British and United States Governments have a clear case against him and that it matters little whether he is tried before the courts of one nation or the other. But while public indignation against him is high at the present time, he is apparently banking for his future safety on the mellowing of these feelings through the passing of time. But both Governments appear determined that action can be taken promptly enough to end this hope.

CANADA'S ECONOMIC PROSPECTS

The keen interest which is being shown in British financial circles for shares in Canadian corporations is arousing wide interest in the London press and the general consensus of opinion is that the bright prospects for the continued prosperity of this country is largely responsible for the great activity in these shares.

For instance, in discussing the recent active trading in Canadian Pacific Railway, Hudson's Bay and other Canadian companies' stocks, the financial editor of the London Evening News states that shares have been sought in large quantities from America and it is suggested that New York considers the present prosperity of Canada will be carried on in peace years.

Referring to the steady improvement in the price of Hudson's Bay shares, the News says the story is that distances have now been so reduced by air travel in Canada that the Company's land and other assets can now be visited in five hours. The paper also hints that there has been developed in Canada a new type of wheat which ripens in much shorter time and so can be planted in areas previously unsuitable owing to the shortness of the summer.

The Daily Mail says that Canadian prosperity and peacetime prospects have convinced many Americans that the Canadian dollar, now at a discount of ten per cent in relation to United States funds, will again be hitched to the American dollar on a par basis, which is believed to explain much of the heavy buying by American interests of Canadian stocks. However, the Financial News says it understands on high authority that no revision is contemplated in the near future.

BRITAIN USES RUBBLE

Travellers visiting London and other British cities are impressed by the huge rubble heaps, many of them higher than the neighboring buildings, which now dot the Old Country cities. These heaps are the remains of bombed buildings, cleared away and carefully sorted. Every ounce of this debris is valuable and the wreckage material is divided into three categories. The first comprises wood and metal, which are salvaged to be used again where possible. The second is rubble which is valuable as a hard core for constructional work. The third is debris, the finer grained material and dust, some of which is being used just now to raise the level of a lake in Kent and for filling in marshes.

The rubble is reserved for work of national importance. It was used in making the Mulberry harbors for the invasion of Normandy. When the defences of London had to be shifted to meet the menace of the flying bombs, more than a hundred thousand tons of rubble was carried away in trucks to make the foundations for the new gun-sites.

Rubble makes the best of all bases for runways on aerodromes and much of it has been taken for that purpose. And when Britain's new housing projects are laid out the roadways will largely be laid on these scraps of Old London.

MURDER OF PRISONERS

London Spectator
No one wants to propagate hatred now that the war is over, but sound judgments must be based on hard facts, and hard facts such as some which have just been sent me, ought not, I think to be suppressed. They are to be private letters from the CO. of a unit on the Western Front to a relative; the letter was written on April 15:
"An infantry unit that we had been working with had the misfortune to lose about 25 fellows who had been cut off and forced to surrender. The next morning we attacked and captured the area where these lads had surrendered. The SS troops had murdered them and buried their bodies in a house. The same day a troop of our tanks (four in all) were attacked by about forty men, all armed with tankoos. Having set the tanks on fire, those of our lads who were still alive baled out only to be taken prisoner (temporarily). The next morning we found their bodies in a wood close by — each man had been murdered in cold blood and had no less than a dozen bullet holes in their backs."
It is all over now, but this is the kind of thing that has been happening.

HOW SMALL ARE "LITTLE PEOPLE?"

Peterborough Examiner
We notice with irritation that several papers, writing of the King's birthday honors, have commented on the number of decorations which went to "little people."

We are sick to the point of nausea of all this sentimental, patronizing, wet-eyed nonsense about "little people" and that other fabulous creature "the Common Man." An ambulance driver who gets an award for unusual bravery is not a "little person" because he hasn't much money or much education; he is a man of unusual qualities, or he wouldn't be getting a medal from his King. If his background is commonplace, let us pat him on the back because he rose above it, and got beyond it; let us recognize his unusual quality, instead of harping constantly on what is unimportant about him. If we want to do something for him let us foster that unusual quality, and help him to get away from the things which might drag him down. The expression "little person" has a ring of soggy patronage which would make any proud man boil with rage.

One of the worst effects of this "little people" tosh is that a lot of people who really are "little" and will never be anything else, love it and hug it to themselves, and take it as encouragement to be even littler than they are. They have taken to the snug ineptitude of the Victorian "deserving poor." At every turn they look for help and special privileges and approval—because they are "little people" and nothing can be expected of them.

Great nations are not made by "little people." They are made by individuals who hate mediocrity and self-pity—by men and women who would rather stand out as single fighters than as part of a "majority." Majorities never amount to anything unless they are made up of self-reliant individuals.

Surely in a democracy no man has to be a "little person" or a "Common Man" unless he is little or common by nature?

Mr. Goldwell says the C.C.F. party in Ontario has been "a little bit too well satisfied." Apparently Mr. Joliffe has had his spanking from the High Command.—Ottawa Journal.

HAVE A SMILE

In the post office of a North Carolina village a stranger saw the local patriarch sitting on a flour barrel and whistling. A by-stander informed him that the old fellow had already passed his one hundredth birthday. Impressed, the stranger exclaimed: "Isn't that amazing?"
"We don't see nothin' amazin' 'bout it round here," was the laconic reply. "All he's done is grown old—and he took longer than most people would to do that."

Working in a munition factory a man got his coat caught in a revolving wheel. He was whisked up and whirled round and round till the foreman managed to switch off the machine. The workman fell to the ground and up rushed the foreman.
"Speak to me, speak to me," he said in great agitation.
The victim looked up.
"Why should I?" he said. "I passed you six times just now, and you didn't speak to me!"

The reporter began to ask his questions.
"And would you like to tell me what made you a multi-millionaire?" he asked.

The terribly rich man looked pensive.
"I think you can say my wife did," he replied at length.
"I see, her loyal help—"
"No, no. I was curious to know if there was any income she couldn't live beyond."

At a Gloucester festival a visitor wished to enter the cathedral during one of the performances. On demanding admission he was told that he could not enter without a ticket.

Miss Benita Pearle Williams Weds Mr. Kenneth Stuart Graves At Foster

Foster, June 28.—The marriage of Benita Pearle, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice B. Williams, of Foster, to Mr. Kenneth Stuart Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grey F. Graves, of Fulford, was solemnized at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 16th, 1945, in the Creek United Church. Rev. E. D. Mitchell, Pastor of St. Paul's United Church, Waterloo, officiated.

The ceremony took place under a white bell suspended from a floral arch flanked with tall standards of summer flowers. Several baskets of dainty flowers were artistically arranged. Tall white tapers were placed on the altar table.

Mrs. G. C. Whitchee presided at the organ and played the wedding march, and during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of ivory satin with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands.

Her full-length veil of embroidered tulle illusion was arranged from a dainty pearl headband, and her only ornaments were a string of pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

She carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses and orange blossoms.

Miss Constance Graves, the groom's only sister, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a floor-length dress of blue sheer with full skirt and sweetheart neckline. A matching finger-tip veil was held in place with white flowers.

She carried a nosegay of American Beauty roses and corn flowers. Her only ornament was a sterling silver locket and chain, the gift of the bride.

Mr. Baxter Williams, only brother of the bride, acted as best man. L.A.C. Douglas Irwin, uncle of the bride, and Mr. George Tetreault, both of Waterloo, acted as ushers.

Gifts from the groom to the best man and ushers were leather bill folds; and from the bride to the organist a Rebekah Pin, and a bill fold to the groom.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece street-length dress of Allied blue with blue flower hat and white accessories. She wore a corsage of bronze roses.

The groom's mother wore a two-piece street-length dress of turquoise blue with white hat and accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony, when a large number of relatives and friends attended.

The spacious rooms were trimmed with pink and white streamers and white bells. The house was lighted throughout with tall pink and white tapers in crystal holders. The bride's table was very dainty with a hand-made lace cloth and centered with a five-storey wedding cake made and very artistically trimmed by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. J. Irwin, of Waterloo. Four tall white tapers in crystal holders were on either side.

Several baskets of early summer flowers were placed about the rooms.

Following a buffet lunch a toast was proposed to the bride by Rev. E. D. Mitchell and was responded to by the groom.

The happy couple left later to spend their honeymoon at different points of interest, the bride wearing a tailored suit of Allied blue with white mohair hat and sheer blouse, with blue gloves, purse and shoes.

She also wore a corsage of American Beauty roses.

ALLIES WAR AUXILIARY

The President's announcement that five boxes had been shipped overseas since the last meeting, highlighted this week's session of the Allies' War Auxiliary, held at 42 Wolfe Street, with Mrs. P. H. Hamel in the chair.

After the opening prayer, roll call and the reading of the minutes, the President stated that five boxes had been forwarded to men on active service and that one filled with baby things for a mother in London, Eng., and for a nursing sister in India and another for a member of the R.A.F. in England, would be ready for shipment very shortly.

The overseas mail contained the glad news that Die Forest Berwick, who had been seriously wounded in action, had rejoined his unit and was again on active service in Germany.

Mrs. Hamel proudly displayed a clever example of handiwork, a centerpiece with the Royal Artillery insignia, embroidered in wool, the work of Lance Sgt. Leonard Brown, of the British West Indies, still on active service in Holland.

Sewing and knitting was continued throughout the evening, during which plans were made to tack a quilt at the next Auxiliary meeting.

Nazis Who Produced For Hitler's War Machine Are Still Running Factories

This is the second of two articles by Curt Riess, NEA correspondent in Germany, analyzing operations of the Allied Military Government in the U. S.-occupied zone.

By CURT RIESS

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Forces, June 28. — The big Nazi factories that were not knocked out by our bombing are still being run by their pre-surrender Nazi owners, who in at least some instances are discriminating against anti-Nazi workmen.

In a number of instances where anti-Nazis have elected representatives to keep an eye on Nazi owners or bosses, the entire working forces of plants have been discharged one day and re-hired—minus those anti-Nazi representatives—the next day. Complaints to our military governments have proven futile.

One case that I investigated was at the "Strength Through Joy" plant in the north German town of Fallersleben, which was to have built the cheap people's cars promised by Hitler but actually did make parts for Junkers 88's, V-1 bombs and Panzerfausts.

This plant had about 19,000 foreign workers, mostly war prisoners who could not legally be used to make weapons, under the Geneva Convention. It was run by Germans

German police help AMG in governing occupied zone. Anti-Nazis claim many of them are Hitlerites.

The Nazi eagle still graces the sleeve of a German policeman recruited to aid Allied Military Government in rounding up weapons. Retention of Nazis in posts of authority has led to discontent among anti-Nazis.

who returned between 1937 and 1939 from the United States, where they had worked in large American factories.

Now that Germany is defeated, most of these bosses offer explanations for their return to the Fatherland. Hans Mayr, 54, who worked in the United States, says he returned to cure his hay fever. He became manager of the plant.

Karl Luik, 48, who also lived in the U. S., came back for the golden wedding anniversary of his grandparents. They and others will not admit that they were called back to build war material for Hitler.

Though they renounced American citizenship and though there is evidence that they belonged to the Bund and other Nazi organizations and were in contact with Nazi government representatives before they sailed.

A Gestapo office was maintained on the plant premises, with 900 SS men about a mile away. The SS was continually called in and they ruthlessly used rubber truncheons, rifle butts and bloodhounds on the prisoner-laborers.

Mayr justifies this on the ground that the workers were very "obstinate" and the Russians in particular were given to "plundering."

Most workers got the customary starvation diet of watery soup and 200 grams of bread daily, but Hungarian Jewesses were given even less than that. Babies were taken from mothers two days after birth, and died. More than half the female workers died from tuberculosis. Many could not eat regular food as much as eight weeks after liberation.

Most workers were paid forty pfennigs an hour. After charges for barracks and food they had about forty marks a month left. But Jewesses got nothing, because they had been "rented out" by the SS.

Fatigue and undernourishment made accidents frequent. A few days after losing a finger or hand or arm, Dr. Koerber would declare an injured worker fit for return to duty.

I recapitulate this situation not as another and belated horror tale, but because of what happened when Fallersleben was liberated. It was taken for granted that this management would be removed and its members arrested.

On the contrary, Mayr and his associates convinced our military government that they were "efficient," and now they are bossing the factories.

The effect of this attitude on foreign workers and anti-Nazis among the Germans is bad.

Many of our government officers take highly legalistic attitudes and say that where Nazi officials have contracts, with pension rights involved, we cannot impair those pension rights until the Nazi is proven a war criminal or some court intervenes to set aside the contract.

Dr. Brill, anti-Nazi governing president of Thuringia, has proposed a rule-of-thumb test that has not yet been acted upon. He suggests that anybody who was a Nazi before President Hindenburg legalized the National Socialist position should be tossed out. He would be particularly tolerant of those who became Nazis after April 30, 1937, since when entire groups were forced collectively into the party.

Most anti-Nazis do not accept this test. They feel that it would give the benefit of too much doubt to members of a party that by self-proclamation was revolutionary.

Among other instances of over-legalistic procedure that is bringing the Allied occupation into disrepute, there is the plight of the few hundred Jews who remained alive outside of death camps. In at least one city, I have found these still are receiving only half rations because the AMG has taken over the Nazi distribution system which thus discriminated against Jews, without changing the rations.

Or consider displaced persons. We give them shelter, clothing and 2,000 calories of food a day. We encourage them to volunteer to work for us. If they do, they must leave the camp and find their own shelter—and must live on the 900 calories a day allowed for the German civilian population.

In half a dozen instances where Nazis continued as mayors I have learned that anti-Nazis had their homes commandeered for military use while Nazis continued to live at home.

To maintain its non-political attitude most military governments have forbidden formation of anti-Nazi committees, and some of those permitted are unimpeached on the ground, as stated by one officer, that "they must not be forbidden because officially they don't exist."

Play Is Presented By Girl's School At Their Annual Closing Exercises

Sweetsburg, June 28.—The annual closing exercises of the Girls' Cottage Industrial School took place with a good number of local citizens and the Montreal Committee members in attendance. The School Band opened the programme.

A play was given by a large number of the girls, led by their day school teacher, Miss Girling, and Mrs. Octave Domingue, of Cowansville. This was found to be very amusing, and hearty applause was given by the audience. The singing of the special choir, led by Rev. J. O. Peacock, who trains the girls in singing at weekly intervals, and groups of songs were rendered by them, and were much enjoyed by all, as their voices show good training. The programme concluded by singing the National Anthem.

Mrs. J. H. McChlery and Miss Ruth Mendel, assisted by several of the girls, served tea on the lawn, while some of the girls acted as guides to show the guests around the grounds of the school and through the buildings.

One group of girls are learning to play softball, having formed a team and are playing on the regular schedule of softball games in Cowansville this summer, under the supervision of the coach, L. Bach-and. As the Bruck Silk Mills Limited, are not sponsoring the softball league this year, local citizens are carrying on the league games as usual two evenings a week, under the presidency of Arthur Allen, with E. Ratthe as Secretary and score-keeper. A collection is taken at each game to finance this sport. Five teams are in the league: Cowansville, the Girls' School and three teams from among the Bruck Silk employees.

Mrs. D. L. Ritchie, President of the Montreal Board of the Girls' School, addressed the girls, and stated that instead of giving a few prizes in each department of work this year, the Board had decided to give a cheque to be used as a treat for all the girls, such as a hay-cart drive, as each girl had tried as hard in her own way as the others had, and this form of recognition might be more fair to all girls. Mrs. Ritchie also said they were putting the girls on their own in using their own initiative to improve various parts of their work in the way of self-expression. They are to make suggestions for improvements to their teachers and superintendent. Mrs. Ritchie also thanked Rev. Mr. Peacock for his effort in training the girls to sing so nicely.

Among those in attendance were Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Boyd, Miss I. Brouillette, Mrs. Arthur Allen, Mrs. O. Domingue, Mr. L. Bachand, Mr. R. Ratthe and Mrs. A. Biggar, of Cowansville, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Miss Kathleen Moore, Miss Long, Mr. H. G. Lomas, Mrs. E. Hall and Miss Lora Robinson, of Sweetsburg.

General Notes
The Girls of the Cottage Industrial School were entertained by the Waterloo Kiwanis Club, assisted by Mr. Samuel Levitan, of Montreal, a pianist of distinction, who rendered several numbers, which were much appreciated. He also accompanied Mr. Roger McKergow in two groups of favorite solos. Dr. M. Katz gave several violin solos. A very amusing sketch entitled "Little Albert at the Zoo," was given by Rev. Kenneth C. Bolton, rector of St. Paul's Church, Knowlton. The President of the Club, Mr. Hubert Wells, was the chairman of this entertainment. Mr. Peter Gunter, of Waterloo, made some interesting remarks. The staff and girls of the School served refreshments and agreed that all had enjoyed the evening very much and thanked their entertainers for their kindness in coming over to Sweetsburg.

Mrs. Susie Collins, of Sherbrooke, and son, Mr. Clarence Collins, of Bedford, were guests at the home of Mrs. W. U. Cotton over a weekend, as were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cotton, of Montreal.

The closing party of the recently organized card club composed of French ladies working to raise funds for the Canadian Red Cross Prisoners of War Fund, headed by Mrs. E. A. Guilloite, Vice-President of the local Red Cross Branch, was entertained by Mrs. David Cody, when all the ladies were received by Mrs. Cody, who had played cards at any of the thirteen meetings of the club, which had thirteen members, Mrs. Edgar Guillette, Mrs. Carl Philbin, Mrs. Lionel Morrisette, Mrs. E. C. Cadieux, Mrs. Aime Tremblay, Mrs. E. K. Lebrun, Mrs. Edouard Guite, Mrs. R. Noisieux, Mrs. Paul Francoeur, Mrs. M. Messier, Mrs. Damase DeGuire, Mrs. David Cody and Mrs. Eugene Boisvert. One could scarcely say that thirteen is an unlucky number, because seventy dollars has been realized for the Prisoners of War Fund, and the objective of these ladies was fifty dollars. All the parties were very enjoyable events, and in thanking Mrs. Cody and Mrs. Guillette for their hospitality and organization, each one expressed a desire to continue the same idea this coming winter. The prize winners at this party were: Mrs. Paul Francoeur and Mrs. J. J. Bertrand, and five hundred. Sweetsburg citizens extend sympathy to the family of the late Hon. L. Giroux, K.C., who passed away at

Mr. and Mrs. Albert MacDonald, of Detroit, Mich., have returned home after spending their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wood.

Mrs. A. Braun and young son, of Montreal, spent the week-end with Miss K. Kelly.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Matheson spent a few days in Sherbrooke with Mr. and Mrs. C. Beaton.

A special meeting of White Heather Chapter, No. 23, was held in the Masonic Hall one evening, it being the official visit of the Grand Worthy Matron, Sister Esther West, of Quebec, and Brother Edgar Eamon, W.G.P., of Montreal. A banquet was held in the dining hall at six-thirty p.m., when a large number of members and invited guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. The tables were beautifully decorated with tulips, jonquils and lilies-of-the-valley. Following the banquet the members adjourned to the room, where the meeting was held. The meeting was opened in due form by the Worthy Matron, Sister Lorette Turner, who welcomed the distinguished guests from the East. Visitors from out of town included Mrs. Anne Harvey, P.W.G.M., of Mansonville; Mrs. Eaman, of Montreal; Mrs. Vera Hall, of East Angus; and Mrs. Peck, of Sherbrooke.

Mrs. John Morkill was hostess at an enjoyable meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Barnabas Church. The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. J. Smallshaw. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Leon Crandall. At the close of the business session refreshments were served by the hostess.

ROYALS WIN FOUR OUT OF FIVE AGAINST BALTIMORE

Jack Banta Shut Out Birds, Giving Only Four Hits For 8 To 0 Victory

Montreal Royals won the concluding game of the five game I. L. series with the Baltimore Birds here last night by a score of 8 to 0, giving them four games out of the five. Jack Banta, who hasn't pitched in over a month, because of arm trouble, appeared to have benefited by his layoff as he shut out the Birds and gave up only four hits. It was his fifth win of the season.

George Hooks was no particular puzzle to the Royals and they combined him for 12 hits. He didn't help himself by giving out six free passes, four of which were converted into runs.

Jersey City Giants captured both ends of an International League double bill from the Maple Leafs at Toronto yesterday, romping through the opener 9-4 and taking a 1-0 decision in the nightcap.

A 6-run, 7-hit rally in the ninth after Whitey Lockman had evened the score with a homer in the sixth gave the Giants their first win of the current five game series.

The only tally of the afterpiece game in the third, when Cleston Ray rolled a double over the first cushion to score Russ Wein.

At Rochester, Frank Radler shut out Newark Bears on three hits, 1-0, as the Wings gave him great support while gaining a 3-2 edge in the series.

Rochester won the ball game in the sixth as Joe King, with three of the Wings' five hits off Karl Drews, doubled to centre to bring home Leroy Nichols, who had walked. Bob Rausch got the other two safeties off Drews, who passed only two and fanned three.

Buffalo Bisons made a bid to vacate the League cellar by wrestling the opener of a double away from the Syracuse Chiefs, 5-4 but failed in the nightcap 6-3.

Veteran Southpaw Lloyd Brown virtually won his own victory to make it three in his last four starts as he whipped a single to right after John Lastra popped out in the Bisons seventh, moved to second as Ed Boromy walked and slid home safely when Herschel Held singled to left.

ACTON VALE AND NOTRE DAME TO CLASH TONIGHT

Sherbrooke baseball fans are looking forward to seeing the Acton Vale nine in action against the Notre Dame boys tonight. They still remember the exciting series which these two teams staged in the Provincial League finals last year, when Acton Vale was forced to play five games before they could claim the championship, the fifth game being decided by the score of 1-0.

Statistics prove little at best in any argument on sports but they prove even less in baseball. On the basis of last year's performances this game should be a close thing but there have been many changes on the lineup of both teams. Sherbrooke acquired four players from Acton Vale's last year team who will be facing their old team-mates for the first time tonight. They are Lamothe, who was the winning pitcher in last year's championship finals, and Gabby Meunier, Cliff Couillard and Alfie Malfara. Not having had the pleasure of seeing the Acton Vale boys in action everyone is a little cautious in their predictions but it seems unlikely that they have been able to assemble as strong a team as they had last year or as the Notre Dame team is this year.

However, Acton Vale has always had a better-than-average nine and the crowd is expected to turn out in force. This game may well be a preview of things to come if Acton Vale is successful in leading the Yamaska League again this year. Should the enthusiasm warrant the expense involved, it is rumored that the Notre Dame management may issue an invitation to the leading teams in the Atwater Park and Starr Leagues to come to Sherbrooke in the near future for exhibition games. Any such move would be greeted with enthusiasm by the fans as the arguments are flying thick and fast on the relative strength of these leagues and the Provincial League. However, any exhibition game between the two leagues would necessarily be a week-night affair as the schedules do not allow for extra games on most week-ends. Last week-end for example the Notre Dames travelled over 400 miles and played three games which is a very strenuous schedule especially for an amateur ball club.

Largee, of Sherbrooke, spent a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peters.

Lt. Col. R. Jersey, Mrs. Jersey, Mrs. J. M. Bryant and Miss Pamela Bryant visited relatives and friends in Mansonville.

A number from here attended the ceremony of the cornerstone laying of the new Knowlton High School, at Knowlton.

Master Percy Paige is confined to the house with scarlet fever.

Mr. Fred Starkey, B.A., is spending a few days at "Cedar Lodge Camp."

Mr. and Mrs. James Butters and little daughter, of Montreal, have been visiting Mrs. Jack Butters.

Mrs. Jack Butters has gone to Montreal for a few days.

Rand, Fusiliers And Canadian Silk Chalk Up Victories In Local Loop

The Rand, the Fusiliers and the Canadian Silk teams met in Dufresne Park. It was a home game for the Rand team and the Paton, the Kayser and the Notre Dame de Rosarie school, respectively.

At 7 o'clock the Paton and Rand teams met in Dufresne Park. It was a home game for the Rand team and the Paton boys grasped the first opportunity that came along when Fortier, the first man up, got on first by the error of Proteau and then came home shortly afterwards on McIntyre's wild throw to home.

In the third inning both teams broke into the scoring column, the Paton collecting two runs by R. Kirouac and Fortier and the Rand's lone counter being Les Bessant's home run on his long hit into left field. Apparently this home run inspired the Rand boys for they held their rivals to two hits in the next three innings while they scored two runs off Roger Dion and Guillemette's mighty slugging in the fourth inning and 2 more by Planché and Dion in the sixth.

The teams went into the last inning with the Rand having a two-run lead. Paton, who batted first added two runs to her score when Berthold got to first on a bunt and R. Kirouac who followed him was walked. Trepanier brought in Berthold and Kirouac came in on E. Yergeau's hit. However, the Rand came through with one run off Caunter's single when Bouchard, who ran for Caunter in the ninth, crossed the plate on O'Connor's sacrifice hit.

The Fusiliers and the Kayser played a hard fought game throughout the whole seven innings with the winning team getting four runs of eight hits while the Kayser collected three runs off 5 hits. Chief point makers for the Fusiliers were Collin with a three-bagger in the third inning which was batted in by Bergeron while Castonguay came in on Collin's long hit to give Fusiliers the lead by a point as P. Dion had scored for the Kaysermen in the 2nd inning on Lessard's single to right field. Both teams added to their score in the sixth inning, the Fusiliers picking up 2 runs off Pepin and Castonguay's able batting and the Kayser picked up another point when P. Dion scored his third run of the evening on R. Lessard's hit to right field.

In the game at the Parade Grounds at seven o'clock the Canadian Silk team was victorious over the Notre Dame de Rosarie team by the score of 4 to 2. Big guns for the Silkmen were Fontaine and Coriveau in the third inning and L. Dube and Phillipon in the sixth while the Notre Dame scores were made by de Lafontaine on Seymour's two-base hit in the 6th and L. Roy on R. Labonte's hit in the 6th.

Toronto, June 28.—(C)—(advance)

American soldiers huddled around the short-wave set for the world series broadcast couldn't believe it. The private was incredible. Every bet he made—whether the Cardinals or the Browns would score first, how many hits in an inning—clicked like a parlay player's dream come true. He couldn't lose.

The soldiers probably still don't know it, but this was the inside story: what they heard was a recorded broadcast, relayed by short-wave to reach New Guinea in mid-afternoon. By a freak of electronics, the lucky better had picked up the actual broadcast the night before on his private set. So when the tie came for the rebroadcast, the soldier had a chance to be "psychic"—at a profit.

A text-book explanation of the oddity which enabled the soldier to pick up the broadcast probably would be that occasionally radio waves intended for certain local areas may be reflected from the "Heavyweight" layer, miles above the earth, to distant points on the earth's surface.

SCOTLAND ON A SUNDAY
Allan Nickleson, Canadian Press staff writer whose sport stories from Britain have been well received by Canadian newspapers, sends word he will be married in London Friday to a beautiful, blond west end actress named Georgina, now appearing in "Irene." Jim (Toronto Globe and Mail) Coleman says when Georgina told her boss she would live in Toronto, he commented: "It's just like Scotland on a Sunday."

AROUND THE CIRCUIT
One of baseball's rarities — an assist for a pitcher on a strikeout-brightened an Essex County baseball league game between Windsor's Negro Giants and Tecumseh. Gene Goyeau, Tecumseh pitcher, tossed a third strike which evaded catcher Luke Roy, struck the backstop and bounded back to the diamond in time for Goyeau to throw the runner out at first. . . Pat Egan, Boston's bostertous defenceman, was banished from a foothills baseball league game in Calgary, reports Tom (Calgary Alberta) Moore, for straight-arming basemen and swearing at an umpire.

TIP
Fred Kerner, former conductor of this column, messages from New York he has it on good authority that Boston's National Hockey League Bruins have exchanged high-scoring Herb Cain for two New York Rangers whose names will be announced later.

Detroit Deadlocked With Yankees For Top Berth American League

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit has dropped out of complete dominance of the American League and is tied today with New York's Yankees for first place, all because they met up once again with Washington's Dutch Leonard, the hurler who cost them the pennant last year.

Facing the Tigers for the first time since he outpitched Dizzy Trout on the final day of the 1944 pennant causing Detroit to finish one game behind the pennant winning St. Louis Browns, Leonard maintained his pitching wizardry over the Bengals in a twilight game yesterday, by spinning a neat four-hitter to triumph 9-1.

The Tigers' downfall, plus the Yankees' 7-2 victory over the Browns, brought the league leadership into a tie.

With Luis Olmo, the league's leading R.B.I. man driving in the winning run in the ninth, the fast stepping Brooklyn Dodgers increased their national league lead over the second place St. Louis Cardinals to four full games by shading Chicago Cubs 6-5.

New York's Giants swept past Pittsburgh into third place by annexing a twin bill from the Pirates 10-4 and 3-2 to inaugurate their second home stand against the west.

Cleveland's Indians handed Russ Christopher his third loss against 11 victories in dumping the cellar-dwelling Philadelphia 8-2, for the Mackmen's eighth successive defeat.

Cincinnati's Vern Kennedy won his 100th major league game and Boston's batting leader Tommy Holmes hit safely in 23 consecutive games while the Reds were sweeping a doubleheader from the Braves, 5-4 in 10 innings and 4-2.

The Cards and Philadelphia Phillies divided. Vince DiMaggio's third grand slam of the season, his 12th homer of the year, in the eighth inning of the opener paced the Phils to an 8-3 victory, but Blix Donnelly hurled a magnificent one-hit shutout, 6-0, to gain the world champions a split.

A pinch single by Dolph Camilli followed by Ed Lake's fourth hit of the game, drove in two runs in the ninth inning and gave the Boston Red Sox an 11-9 victory over the Chicago White Sox before 16,584 night patrols.
