CANADIAN CORONATION TROOPS REVIEWED IN LONDON TO-DAY

Coronation Show Day Filled With Many Interesting Events

KING GREETS NAVAL OFFICERS

Intercession Services For King and Queen Held in Many Churches. Public Meetings.

London, June 21. — To-day, Coronation Show Day, was filled with many interesting events. Royal carriages with scarlet-clad footmen and postilions with crown emblazoned panels moved to and fro conveying the royal guests to entertainments arranged in their honor, or to pay formal calls upon one another.

Yesterday being the day for special intercession for the King and Queen, services were held in all the churches and meetings at public halls were addressed by the Bishop of London, the Bishop of Ripon, and other leaders of religious thought.

Other attractions of the busy day included the drive of the King and Queen through the West End, to the National Horse Show at Olympia, where there was a special performance, including a parade of foreign officers.

Duke of Connaught's dinner to the King and Queen and visiting members of Royalty, foreign envoys and Dominion Premiers at St. James's Palace.

Lord Derby's dinner to the Dominion representatives at Derby House; and innumerable private luncheons, dinners and dances.

The senior officers of the foreign ships assembled at Spithead, accompanied by British naval officers came to London to-day to be the guests of the nation for two days, and proved an added source of interest in the cosmopolitan multitude already here.

London was taxed to its capacity. It was Coronation Show Day, and thousands flocked from the suburbs of the city west-end to see the decorations and watch the preparations for to-morrow's great event.

The decorations were practically completed and afforded a never-ending source of attraction for the crowds which, in vehicles and afoot, formed a continuous ever-moving mass from Victoria Embankment to Westminster Abbey and Buckingham Palace.

Thousands stood hour after hour on the steps of the new Victoria Memorial, which afforded a point of vantage from which the movements in the palace yard could be seen.

The patience of the crowds was rewarded by the appearance from time to time of regiments of infantry, accompanied by bands, which were arriving to take part in lining the route of to-morrow's procession from the Palace to the Abbey; and the passage to and fro of the Dominion Premiers, members of every parliament and legislature of the Empire, who had come to pay homage to the Sovereign, and who were received in audience by the King and Queen this morning.

The police, who have strenuous work ahead of them, already are doing double duty. Even so the street traffic at times gets the better of them and to-day it occasionally remained at a standstill for a half hour or longer, particularly in the centre of the city.

Upwards of 2,000 ambulance men have been engaged for Coronation day, and already many have been placed on duty, though thus far there has not been much call for their services.

The sky was overcast to-day, but according to the forecastors, the weather prospects are favorable, and there is very reason to expect a fine day for the Coronation.

SEAMEN'S STRIKE ANNOYS VISITORS.

The seamen's strike is playing havoc with the plans of those who had arranged to witness the great naval review by the King at Spitehead on Saturday.

In addition to the four ocean-going vessels of the Union Castle line, the sailing of which for the naval review was cancelled, the Royal Mail Steam Packet line announced yesterday that it was obliged to withdraw four of their big ships which had been chartered to attend the sea pageant.

These eight ships long ago sold out their entire accommodation for Saturday, and thus thousands at the last moment are deprived of the anticipated spectacle.

From Liverpool comes the news that the stewards of the 'Suevic,' another White Star liner, have joined the strike, but on the other hand it was announced that at a meeting of the Cunard officials with a deputation of seamen, firemen and stewards a settlement of all difficulties was arranged.

A serious disturbance is reported as having occurred at Glasgow. During the night strikers stormed a shed where non-unionists were working and fired boxes and oil barrels. They were dispersed only after charges by the police, who used their clubs and also turned streams of water upon the rioters.

BRILLIANT BALL IN PALACE.

The most regal banquet palace of King or Emperor ever witnessed, and a gorgeous Shakespeare ball under the auspices of noted society leaders, stand forth as shining features of the second day of coronation week. The banquet in Buckingham Palace last night was a scene of imperial grandeur, so far as the assembly of royal and eminent personages, the setting of costly magnificence and beautiful decorations could combine to make it.

The King and Queen entertained the visiting and English royalties, all the special foreign delegations, the foreign ambassadors and ministers, the officers of the state and the household, the members of the Cabinet and former Cabinet members, the heads of the Church and Judiciary and the Army and Navy.

The two largest apartments in the palace, the ball room and the picture gallery which adjoin, were utilized as a banquet hall. On the tables was displayed the royal gold plate, used only on historic occasions, the cost of which is estimated at $15,000,000 and its weight eight tons. This plate for the most part was collected in the reigns of the four Georges, and the principal piece is a massive peacock captured in one of the Indian wars, whose tail is studded with diamonds. Cut glass worth a fortune, ivory decanters hundreds of years old, and old wines dating back more than a century were on the board. The gallery holds more than 800 pictures. The decorations of both rooms are largely gilt, and this background was embellished with banks of palms and giant lillies, while orchids, roses and ferns were stacked on the tables. Yeomen of the Guard ranged about the walls, and all diners wore their richest uniforms, decorations, gowns and jewels.

The Shakespearean ball was held in Albert Hall, which was elaborately decorated. The dancers numbered thousands, while 400 boxes were occupied by the representatives of foreign nations and the most prominent British officials. As many as 29 quadrilles were danced simultaneously, the participants representing groups of characters from Shakespeare's plays. Leading actors and actresses took part in these quadrilles along with the leaders of the smart set. The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Prince Louis and Princess Victoria of Battenburg, Prince Alexander of Teck, Prince Henry of Prussia and the Princess, the German Crown Prince Frederick William and the Crown Princess, the Turkish, Russian, Austrian, Japanese, Greek, Danish and American representatives were present.

CHURCHES JOIN IN COMPACT

As the outcome of an appeal by the Duke of Devonshire to the 'Gentlemen of England' to realize at this time their responsibilities to the Empire, a meeting was held last night in Queen's Hall. Patriotic speeches were made and a message of loyalty was sent to the King. Lord Loreburn, Lord High Chancellor, presided, while Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Earl of Selborne, Baron Ampthill, Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, the Earl of Shaftesbury, Earl Cadogan and the Archbishop of York attended. The Archbishop of Canterbury sent a letter in which he exhorted all to strive for Christian citizenship.

One of the most interesting features of the coronation is a compact by the Established and Free Churches for joint services in many cities. This is the first time that the two bodies have united on such a scale for any purpose.

CANADA'S DISPLAY IS ATTRACTIVE.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London, June 21. — People having business with the Canadian offices have to crawl under or climb over massive timber barricades, to say nothing of doing friendly battle with hordes of eager sightseers. The whole city seethes with enthusiasm. The Immigration Offices at Charing Cross are gaily decorated with greetings to 'Our King and Queen.'

One of the best places to view the procession both going and returning is the Grand Trunk Railway offices, which have been transformed into an amphitheatre. A large number of British and Canadian guests are being entertained in the building on Thursday and Friday. Externally the building is decorated beautifully. The C. P. R. offices are also elaborately decorated. The Ontario arch in Whitehall at the opposite end of Downing street excites general admiration with the emblematic figure of plenty surmounting one side and a sheep shearer on the other. Anent the topmost ornamentations there has been a few good humored criticisms concerning the angels blowing coach horns.

KING AIDS IN LAYING CORNER STONE.

St. John's, Nfld., June 21.—In spite of the pressure of the coronation ceremonies, King George will find time to-morrow to participate in the laying of the corner stone of the new Fisherman's Institute, to be erected here by Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell. It will be at His Majesty's word sent over the cable that Governor Ralph Champneys Williams, of Newfoundland, will place the stone in position. Arrangements have been completed for special telegraph and cable connection between Buckingham Palace and the site of the structure in St. John's.

The event will be the only function outside the British Isles which King George will formally recognize on his Coronation Day.

DINNER IN NEW YORK.

Canada will be represented at the Coronation dinner to be given at Manhattan Beach to-morrow by the Canadian Club of New York by Senator Dandurand, ex-speaker of the Senate, who will attend as official representative of the Government. The toast to which Senator Dandurand will reply will be proposed by Mr. Leon Garneau, of the Montreal Bar. Dr. Milton Hersey, of this city, will also attend the dinner, and it is expected that he will be included among the speakers. It is expected that Senator Boyer will also attend the dinner.

MR. BORDEN'S POLICY STATED

Conservative Leader Meets Grain Growers at Brandon

DISCUSSES RECIPROCITY.

Absolutely Opposed to Tariff Agreement, He Declares—Grain Growers Demands.

Brandon, Man., June 21.— Mr. R. L. Borden yesterday met the Grain Growers, who proceeded to lay before the Conservative leader their demands, as they did on the occasion of the Premier's visit last summer.

The meeting of Mr. Borden with the grain growers of Manitoba was the chief event of yesterday's programme in the tour. At the City Hall, some 500 members of the Grain Growers' Association were awaiting him. His entrance was marked by much applause and he was introduced by President Henders, of the Manitoba Grain Growers. Mr. Henders regretted that Mr. Borden had seen fit to make his pronouncement on reciprocity to the Winnipeg meeting before having his interview with the grain growers. There were many things in the Winnipeg speech the grain growers liked, but they were not prepared to sit at the feet of the magnates and have city men dictate them their information regarding trade and transportation questions. They were not prepared to be branded by the statement that the farmers did not know what they wanted in this matter of reciprocity. 'Before you leave us we hope to convince you, Mr. Borden, on this question,' added Mr. Henders. A series of memorials were then read to Mr. Borden, which travelled along the lines of those of the big delegation in Ottawa last December. The one dealing with the tariff set forth that the farmers objected to being taxed for the special benefit of private interests. Protection was merely a license to practice grand larceny on the people. Another demand was for an increase in British preference to 50 percent and ultimate free trade with Great Britain inside of ten years. As to Mr. Borden's action with regard to reciprocity entire disapproval was expressed, and the Opposition was openly charged with employing tactics to force a dissolution before redistribution. Was ever such a market as the American one offered, to say nothing on such conditions? was the grain growers' slogan. The grain growers also put themselves on record as not believing that reciprocity would mean annexation. They wanted the agreement dealt with in a broad and statesmanlike manner. Not on the plan of petty party politics. 'Any political party has ceased to have any weight with us,' was one of the expressions contained in the memorials. Then the grain growers trotted out their arguments respecting terminal elevators, chilled meats industry, Hudson's Bay Railway, etc.

Mr. Borden said that with all these requests pouring in upon him he felt more like a prime minister than ever he, ha ddone before. As to sitting at the feet of magnates, referred to by Mr. Henders, he did nbt know what was meant by that expression or inference, but all he could say was that he had never sat at their feet and never intended to do so. Taking up the reciprocity issue, Mr. Borden said: 'I am absolutely opposed to it.' 'I will add,' said Mr. Borden, further, that if you were prepared to make me Premier of Canada to-morrow if I would support that agreement, I would support that agreement, I would not do it.'

As to the grain growers' complaints about trusts and mergers, he asked them how they thought they were to get rid of these by interlocking their tariff with that of the highest protected country in the world. If they wanted to get rid of trusts, why did they open the doors of Canada to the big trusts of the United States?

Mr. Borden strongly deprecated the suggestion that his attitude towards reciprocity was not sincere. He was not in public life for the love of it, and he had done what he considered to be his duty at all times. As to reduction in tariff, Mr. Borden reminded the grain growers that the tariff was an intensely delicate thing, Hudson's Bay railways and Georgian Bay canals could not be built without money. It had been said that some of the farmers would agree to direct taxation, but he did not believe all the farmers desired this.

'Yes, yes,' came the shout. The increase of the British preference was one for grave consideration. Regarding the tariff generally, Mr. Borden said he did not think the Western farmers would like to see whole communities driven to the United States by the destruction of Canadian industries in the East in small communities. The lowering of the tariff also did not always mean extra competition.

This ended the interview, and Mr Borden proceeded to the public park, which had to be utilized for the public meeting, which was scheduled for the theatre. Hugh John Macdonald, who spoke briefly, received a splendid reception. 'If I were in favor of reciprocity,' he said, 'I would be untrue to my blood and my training. Likem y revered father, a British subject I was born and a British subject I will die.'

Mr. Borden paid particular attention to the reciprocity agreement. He left last night on his special train for Estevan and Qu'Appelle.

GRAIN GROWERS GUIDES' STATEMENT.

Winnipeg, Man., June 21. — The 'Grain Growers' Guide' states that Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party of Canada, and the man who will be Premier of Canada, in the event of a change of Government, has begun his tour of the West. His address at Winnipeg on the evening of June 19th, was the opening shot of his campaign. In that address Mr. Borden dealt with the questions that are at present agitating the West. As will be seen by the report of his address in another column, Mr. Borden stands right with the Western farmers on the Hudson Bay Railway, terminal elevators, and chilled meat questions. His statements upon these questions were clear and definite and are certainly gratifying to the Western people. But satisfactory as is Mr. Borden's attitude upon these matters, his attitude upon reciprocity and the tariff in general is equally unsatisfactory. He opposes reciprocity and gives no hope that the great obstacles to trade will be removed. Mr. Borden should be given to understand, that he cannot expect the support of the West upon his trade policy any more than can Sir Wilfrid Laurier expect the support of the West upon the Government policy towards the Hudson Bay Railway, terminal elevators, and chilled meat industry. Sir Wilfrid was skeptical when he came West, but not so when he returned, so let it be with Mr. Borden. The people of the West know what they want and are willing to pay for it. Neither Borden nor Laurier are entitled to deny them their rights. The farmers should make it their duty to see that Mr. Borden is fully informed as to their views upon the tariff question. All emphasis should be laid upon this matter, as Mr. Borden is already converted upon most of the other questions. Let his education proceed, he is younger than Sir Wilfrid, yet even the Premier was not too old to learn.'

TOBACCONIST STORE ON FIRE.

Considerable damage was done by fire in the tobacco shop of Mr. A. Blouin, at 717 Ontario street east, last night.

CENSUS NOT COMPLETE

To-day the End of Allotted Period Finds Much to be Done.

The census collectors have not yet finished their task of taking the fifth Canadian census, and as forcasted in the 'Witness' last week it will be a few weeks before the work in Montreal is completed. The ennumerators claim that the non-completion within the specified period of three weeks which closes to-day is due to the cumbrous questioning and useless queries which absorb too much time, and the general reluctance of the public to answer certain questions. The returns have to be checked before being forwarded to Ottawa, so that there is still much work to be done by the ennumerators.

In the Maisonneuve district Commissioner Albert Gingeras reports disappointment in his returns. He had fully expected a population of 200-000-000, but this has now dropped to a rough estimate of from 160,000 to 180,-000.

In Westmount difficulty has been experienced owing to the exodus of so many people for the summer, but this was specially provided for by the Government, and all information that the ennumerators could obtain was mailed to head quarters on postcards provided for the purpose.

Notwithstanding all that has appeared in the newspapers, the collectors found thousands totally ignorant as to the real meaning of the census, and the Chinese were in the majority of cases very hard to talk to without interpreters.

Mr. L. Pennevin, of Laurier Ward, Maisonneuve, ennumerated 3,000.

THE BREAD MERGER

Rumor that Stuarts May Enter.

Messrs. Mark Mulock and Breder, accompanied by their solicitor, Mr. A. M. Stewart, of Toronto, have again been in Montreal on the Bread Merger business, but returned west yesterday.

It was rumored that Messrs. Stuart Limited, well known bakers, had agreed to join the proposed combine, but when seen by a 'Witness' reporter this morning, Mr. W. J. Stuart, a member of the firm, would neither deny nor confirm the report. Their object, he said, was to buy up one firm. He believed that the Toronto Mergers were going to build a huge concern in Montreal, but beyond that he would not go.

MOTHER'S TRAGIC SIGHT.

In sight of his mother and sister, Jean Louis Martineau, aged 3, was killed by a street car at 6.30 last night in front of his home at 903 St. Denis street, between Duluth Avenue and Rachel street.

The little boy was playing on the sidewalk in front of his home, with his sister, when she saw the mother on the opposite side of the street and ran over to her. The little boy followed, running directly into a street car. The car was crowded with passengers who saw the dangerous course the child was taking almost as soon as the mother. They yelled but the child had been struck by the steps of the car before they could shout a second time.

The motorman said that the car missed the girl by only a couple of inches. He brought it to a stop not far beyond where the boy was lying. Examination showed that the side of the boy's head had been crushed in. He died a few seconds afterwards, being dead before they carried the body into the home of his parents. It was later taken to the morgue.

WORLD ALLIANCE

Christianizing of Entire Globe Strongly Urged at Philadelphia Convention

Philadelphia, June 21. — The Christianizing of the world was the absorbing topic at the morning session of the Baptist World Alliance which is holding its second congress in this city. W. S. Shallenberger, of Washington, D.C., was the special chairman at the session, and the devotional services were conducted by the Rev. James A. Francis, of Massachusetts.

The Rev. W. Y. Fullerton, of England, spoke of the missionary work that has been accomplished by all Christian workers in foreign lands While, he found there was much to praise in the work done, there is still much to do.

'The reproach of the Church of Christ,' he said, 'is that in the twentieth century of the Christian era, there are yet in the world-non-Christian lands, her apology is that she is beginning to feel that reproach. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that in spite of the compassion of the Good Shepherd there are even now ninety-and ninety-nine sheep in the wilderness and but one in the fold. When it sinks into our consciousness that of the sixteen hundred millions on the earth, a thousand millions are yet unreached by the Gospel; that millions of those who have heard it are not in vital touch with Christ, and that the multitudes who appeal to us are not the same multitudes that stretch out their hands in vain to our forefathers, the work of Christianinzing the world will assume true proportions.

'There are still a few lands,' Dr. Fullerton said, 'where the doors to Christianity are shut—Thibet, Afghanistan and some native Indian states, there are also some places where the natural conditions form a barrier—Borneo, New Guinea, the Amazon Valley and the Solomon Islands.'

The morning session closed with the preaching of the Alliance sermon by the Rev. Thomas Phillips of England.

PRAISE CONTROLLERS

Manufacturers' Association Meets to Elect Officers

In a valedictory delivered at the annual meeting of the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association last night, Lieut.-Colonel R. Gardner, retiring chairman, paid a tribute to the work of the present city administration, which, he said, had brought about many reforms, though so-called champions of liberty in the City Council thought they could bring back the old system of committee government, by thwarting the plans of the controllers, and if possible discrediting the present system of administration. It was the duty of taxpayers, he said, to see that the men elected to the Council next February were not of the reactionary type, but men who would look after the interests of Montreal and her citizens, and not spend their time squabbling over matters of nationality or language.

These remarks evoked hearty applause from those present, and Lieut.-Col. Gardner, after giving expression to loyal sentiments, paid a high tribute to King George, and asked all present to drink His Majesty's health. This was done with acclamation, and the meeting then proceeded to its principal business, the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

Chairman, Mr. J. H. Sherwood; vice-chairman, Lieut.-Col. D. A. Smart; executive committee, Hon. A. Desjardins, Geo. Esplin, Jos. Fortier, Paul Galibert, J. R. Henderson, F. H. Hopkins, T. P. Howard, E. Littler, Howard Murray, L. H. Packard, T. E. Peck, C. S. J. Phillips, Carl Riordon, E. A. Robertson, Walter J. Sadler, Geo. A. Slater, Wm. Waugh and R. J. Younge.

Representatives of affiliated towns: Mr. J. C. Casavant, Ste. Hyacinthe, and D. J. Frazer, St. Johns.

Regret was expressed at the death of Mr. William Cauldwell, a past president, and a vote of sympathy passed to his relatives.

G. T. P. OPENING RICH LAND.

Expected New Ocean to Ocean Line Will Be Ready in 1914.

That the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will be completed from ocean to ocean early in 1914, was the opinion confidently expressed by Chas. M. Hays, the President, in an interview yesterday. The President added that though the route of the branch from Montreal to the main line of the G. T. P., had not yet been decided upon, the branch would be ready by the time the last spike was driven in the mountain section.

Mr. Hays described the territory on both sides of the Grand Trunk Pacific, from Winnipeg to 150 miles west of Edmonton, as 95 percent. good wheat land, and five percent. good grazing country. The great coal deposits west of Edmonton will be tapped by several branch lines. According to Mr. Hays the country being opened up by the transcontinental and its branches is much richer than was at first supposed.

DEATH OF MR. J. R. H. GRIER.

Mr. James Richard Henry Grier passed away at his home 523 St. Urbain street, on Sunday after an illness of a week's duration. Mr. Grier was born in Perth, Ont., and was a son of the late James Grier, for many years postmaster at Iroquois, Ont. He was a resident of this city for the last 45 years, and for the past 16 years was connected with the Lyman Knox Company, Limited, as secretary-treasurer. He was well known in fraternal circles, being a past master of Federation Lodge, No. 2 Royal Guardians. He leaves a widow, one son, and four daughters to mour their loss, also three sisters, Mrs. G. Fell, of Ogden, Utah; Mrs. A. J. Williams and Mrs. C. W. Withycombe of this city, and two brothers, T. J. Grier, of Leeds City, S.D., and George Grier, of Iroquois. The funeral took place from his late residence at 2.30 p.m. yesterday to Mount Royal Cemetery.

UNITED JEWISH SERVICE.

United Coronation services, under the auspices of the congregation of Chevra Kadisha, will be held at the synagogue on St. Urbain street, to-morrow at eight p.m. Ten of the local Orthodox Synagogues will be represented at the services, and the Rabbi of the United Synagogues, the Rev. Simon Glazer, will deliver the address, and Cantor Yudelson and his choir will chant the prayers for their Majesties King George V. and Queen Mary.

MILITARY WILL NOT PARADE

Royal Salute is to be Fired With Obsolete Guns

CANNON IN CAMP.

Highland Cadets to Parade on the Champ de Mars to Fire Feu de Joie

Because of the disorganized condition of the local military corps—owing to camp—there will be no military parade to-morrow, Coronation Day, and the royal salute of twenty-one guns will be fired with obsolete nine-pounder cannon. All of the modern guns are at Pettawawa camp, where are most of the artillerymen, and only enough gunners tre remaining in Montreal to man the half-dozen relics. At Pettawawa it will be different, and there the salute will be fired in style.

The 6th Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery, will be back on July 4. The cavalry, at Farnham, will return on Friday next. The 11th, 80th and 85th regiments will leave for the Three Rivers camp on Monday, and will stay for a fortnight.

The brigade which will fire the salute here, the 2nd, comprising two batteries, sent a composite battery to Pettawawa, consequently some few of their men are here, though their guns are at Pettawawa.

The salute will be fired in Westmount Park, the first lanyard being pulled at noon.

It was thought that the Governor-General was coming to Montreal for Coronation Day, but he found it to be impossible. Had he come there would have been a parade of a kind.

The Highland Cadet Battalion will fire a 'Feu de Joi' on the Champ de Mars at noon. They will gather at the Craig street armory, and after the evolution will go to St. Lambert, where they will spend the rest of the day.

EVANGEILCAL ADVENT CONFERENCE.

Sutton, Que., June 19.—The yearly conference of the Evangelical Advent Conference of Vermont and Canada assembled at Sutton from June 14th till June 18th. There were over a hundred participants at this gathering. The president, the Rev. A. J. Chandler, from Belvidere, Vt., presided. At the business meeting which followed, the Rev. A. J. Chandler resigned, and the Rev. N. C. Hurlburt, of Stanbridge, was elected to fill his place. The Rev. A. Wallace, pastor of the church here and at Standbridge Ridge and Iron Hill, was chosen as vice-president.

THE LATE MR. H. M. PENFOLD.

Mr. H. M. Penfold, who was manager of the Major Manufacturing Company here, about twelve years ago, died in Chicago on Sunday, last and the funeral was held here this morning, interment taking place in Mount Royal Cemetery. The cause of death was organic heart trouble. Mr. Penfold was born in Melbourne, being a member of an old and prominent family there.

CITY HALL HOLIDAYS.

Acting Mayor Gauvin has asked the Board of Control to grant the City Hall employees a holiday until next Monday, and the Controllers have acceded to the request. The City Hall will, however, be open Friday and Saturday, and as usual on such occasions, a number of French employees will be at the Hall on Friday, while on Saturday the English clerks will be present to give the others an opportunity to observe St. Jean Baptiste Day.

A pleasing ceremony took place at the Lower Lachine Road School, Verdun, this morning, when three of the teachers who are about to be married, Miss Agnes Watt, Miss A. Goldblatt, and Miss C. Wilson, were each presented by the principal and staff with a handsome bronze figure. The presentations were made by Mr. Ernest Smith, the principal.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS AND STOCKS

SIR D. MANN IN LONDON GIVES CHEERY VIEWS

A cable from London yesterday announced the arrival in that city of Sir Donald Mann, who will join Sir William Mackenzie on matters of immediate interest to the Canadian Northern Railway.

Sir Donald, in an interview, said the expected the Montreal and Toronto line of that railway will be completed by next year.

'In recent years,' he said, 'it had been surprising the increase in freight bound west. The total now about balances the eastward goods, and everything gives evidence of great prosperity all over Canada.'

FLOUR MERGER

Lake of the Wood common, says McCuaig Brothers & Company, which sold off three or four points after its recent advance to 142½, when it was rumored that the company intended to retire its present $1,000,000 issue of 6 ppercent bonds, has again been strong this week, selling over 144, and there is a rumor that there will be in the near future an amalgamation of the milling companies.

This rumor is strengthed by the action of Ogilvie common, which has also advanced several points recently. It is estimated that a combination of the large local milling concern would affect a very large annual saving, which is at present lost owing to the strong competition between the above companies.

Ore Shipments From Cobalt Almost Double Previous One

THE BERLIN BOURSE.

Berlin, June 20.—Trading was dull and prices were easier on the Bourse to-day.

OPINIONS on the MARKET

McCuaig Brothers & Company.—There has been a marked slackening of interest in the local market during the past week, due probably more than anything else to the fear of tighter money later in the year, and the public are evidently not much inclined to buy stocks at the present level, with the expectation of buying at a lower level at a later date.

G. W Farrell & Co.—The local market has been very dull all the past week, the majority of the list having reached figures at which the public is not over anxious to trade, and this, combined with the deterring influence of a stringent money market gives it the appearance of being in a rather tired condition. Richelieu and Dominion Iron are, we think, the two stocks most likely to advance. We would advise their purchase at present figures.

REGULAR DIVIDENDS.

Regular quarterly dividends have been declared on Rogers' common and preferred, Pacific Burt common, F. N. Burt common and preferred, and Carter-Crume common and preferred.

GLASGOW CATTLE PRICES.

Glasgow, June 20.—Edward Watson and Ritchie report 317 States and Canadian cattle offered trade experienced was firmer, prices slightly higher. Extreme top, 13 cents; current, 12¼c to 12½ cents; secondary, 12 cents; bulls scarce and dear at 10½ to 10¾ cents.

OAT MARKET FIRM.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 41¾c to 42c; extra No. 1 feed, 41c to 41¼c; No. 3 Canadian western, 40½c to 40¾c; No. 2 local white, 40c to 40¼c; No. 3 local white, 39½c to 39¾c; No. 4 local white, 38½c to 39c.

G.T.P. WILL HAUL 20,000,000 BU. GRAIN THIS YEAR

The Canadian West is now probably in its most interesting stages of development. Everyone privileged to pass through or,—better yet—to spend a few weeks in some of the newest towns becomes very much impressed with the signs of vigorous growth all round. Even the big men, who have been west so often as to render them blaze, are not exempt from the feelings of spontaneous enthusiasm which are evoked throughout the Western provinces.

Mr. Charles M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, has good reason for enthusiasm as he feels that his road is to become one of the main factors in the development of that rich virgin country. He has also good reason to be pleased with the splendid progress which has been made in the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific to date.

Officials of the company state that the railroads was now preparing to handle some of the western grain, and that this year they expect to move fully 20,000,000 bushels on the lines west of Winnipeg, an achievement that will come as a pleasant surprise to Eastern Canadians, who do not realize as yet the magnitude and perfection of the Grand Trunk Pacific system, and the pant it is playing in building up our Western country.

W. AYAGAMAC CO. HAS A FUTURE

The stock of the Wayagamac Pulp & Paper Company, which has only come on the local market during the past week, has been very actively traded in, there having been a large turnover of stock, which advanced the price about 9 points. The company's new pulp mill is being rapidly constructed, and is expected to be in operation before the end of the year and owing to the favorable conditions existing on the property, it is likely that the profits of manufacturew ill be above the average.

There is some talk of a Paris market being made for the stock and bonds of the company, and there seems to be a possibility of an amalgamation with the Eostern Canada Pulp and Paper Company, the shares of which have recently shown a substantial increase in value.

The distributions of Knighthoods and similar honors has frequently been somewhat mysterious in its workings, and the preferments announced to-day also created some surprise and showed how wide of the mark former conjecture.

A rather talkative speculator made an apt, though unpatriotic comparison this morning when he said that these honors had curious analogies with the stock market. 'If you invest merely on the intrinsic value of a stock,' he correctly said, 'you run considerable risks, and so if you single out several really deserving men, who obviously should be first to be honored, you will find your surmise false.'

The stand taken by Mr. D. Lorne McGibbon in refusing to increase the dividend on La Rose stock, though no doubt a wise one, brought upon himself a good deal of criticism by speculators, who no dougt wanted to profit by a spectacular rise in the price of the stock.

This sort of drama is as old as the history of joint stock companies. It would be foolish to expect to find that 'sweet reasonableness' amongst all the shareholders and all the directors, which would cause them to take a calm and judicious view of things.

It is just possible that before the lapse of many months, these same critics may change over and become as warmly admiring of their president's action as they were hotly adverse yesterday at the meeting held in New York.

If Mr. Carnegie believes that the capitalistic profits of the past quarter century in the United States have been too large, he can show his contriteness of heart by offering to tear up a hundred millions of his first mortgage bonds, with the understanding that the United States Steel Corporation will distribute the gain in lower prices for its products.

But it looks as if Mr. Carnegie prefers to tickle his vanity by carving his name in stone over library buildings.

TORONTO GRAIN

Toronto, June 20.— The advance in Chicago and Winnipeg options apparently inspired by unprecedentedly bad crop news from the Dakotas, is partly reflected here in higher cash quotations. Western wheat showed a net gain of half a cent yesterday and was up a further half cent to-day. Oats and corn are also higher.

Latest quotations—Ontario wheat No. 2 winter, 80c outside; Manitoba wheat, No. 1 northern, $1.01; No. 2, 98c; No. 3, 95c. RUMORS ON D.U.R. MISLEADING AT TIMES---INCOME

Detroit, June 20.—The air is full of rumors, some of them extravagant, others more moderate in tone, while not a few are simply utter nonsense. These have reference to the many unwarranted stories, which are in circulation in reference to Detroit United Railway, dealing with the civic authorities as well as the possibility of further trouble and delay over approaching franchise extensions and other matters pertaining to the good relationship between the city and the company.

However, the large majority of these reports are to say the least exceedingly unkind, to the parties interested, and while there is always some diverse opinion on such matters as relating to Detroit United affairs, in dealing with the city, yet there remains a chance for an amicable settlement of outstanding difference which it is believed will be arranged to the satisfaction of all concerned.

President Hutchins and other officials of the D. U. R. resent the many reports set in circulation which only have a disturbing effect and which generally means the opposite to what is the exact condition of affairs.

The company at the present time is enjoying a very profitable season financially, and the statement is made that the present year will prove a record earning one, for the company, while the management is extending and improving the service in every and all directions.

As an evidence of the growth of earnings of the Detroit United Railway, it might be interesting to again point out that for April the surplus earnings is equal to 96 percent on the $12,500,000 capital stock, outstanding which compares with 72 percent earned in April last year.

For four months the company's surplus shows 3.31 percent against 2.75 percent in the similar period last year. From this showing the company should earn 9.84 percent this year against 8.28 percent last year.

During May the amount taken in totalled $833,508, compared with $748,953 last year, an increase of $84,955 for the month.

CLEARINGS AT RECORD IN WEST & TRADE GOOD

The collections in the Weet during the month of May are reported to have been exceptionally good A large amount of paper matured on June 4, says the Winnipeg 'Commercial' and it was taken up so well that bankers were surprised. The indications from the trade conditions which prevailed in the various retail centres during the spring months were that mercantile obligations would be met in a more satisfactory way than had been the case in some previous seasons. But it appears that the actual results exceeded expectations. The past month is understood to have been responsible for the best showing ever made in May, and the revenue accruing from the retailers' responses has actually given rise to discussion in financial circles.

The extent to which customers' paper taken up is an accurate barometer of the general trade condition. People have little or no money with which to make payments when times are hard, and while they do not always 'come up' promptly in periods of prosperity, the fact that they do attend to their credors' claims reflecs an abundance of funds.

All lines of trade have not shared to the same extent in the satisfactory returns from retailers. The showing is most encouraging on the whole, however, and the jobbers are delighted. Naturally the enthusiasm over the crop outlook helps to make traders, both the wholesale and retail, sure of their ground.

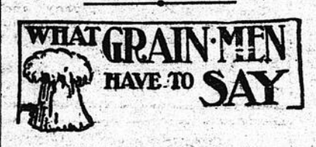
It is to be hoped that prosperity in the west will always lead to the prompt payment of debts.

HAY & OAT CROPS ARE EXCELLENT

Mr. J. E. Hunsicker, the well-known Montreal flour dealer, returned on 'Change yesterday (after an extensive automobiling tour through the Ontario grain growing section) with an account of crop conditions which should be highly encouraging to the trade.

Mr. Hunsicker said that neither humans nor quadrupeds should want for sustenance this year, as crops are flourishing in a way that was rarely seen—especially so early in the year.

'The hay and oats in the Ottawa and Rideau districts are fine,' he said. 'In fact,' he added, 'I have never seen them quite so vigorous and healthy before.'



Mr. T. K. Doherty, the Canadian correspondent of the International Agricultural Institute at Rome cables the following:—

'The wheat crop in British India is estimated at 369,601,000 bushels, compared with 357,109,000 last year. The condition of winter wheat in Belgium on June 1 was 5 percent higher than the average for the last ten years; in Roumania it was 15 percent higher.

HELD FOR BURGLARY

James Noran, of this City Arrested in Toronto—Jewellery Found

Toronto, June 20.—James Noran, who claims 469 Sanguinet street, Montreal, is held on a serious charge in Toronto. This forenoon he was arrested by Detective Montgomery, on Jarvis street, and several charges of housebreaking may be laid against him.

Yesterday the police received complaints that houses on Shuter street had been entered and robbed of jewellery. The police got a description of the man suspected of doing this, and located Noran. So far the detectives have found four gold watches and one silver watch on Noran. Besides he had six gold chains, one pair of gold cuff buttons, six gold rings, three gold lockets, two gold bracelets, a pair of white handled razors in a case, and a Newfoundland $2 gold piece, as well as $30 in money.

RAILWAY PROSPERITY.

Expansion Induces Canadian Locomotive Company to Double Plant.

The Canadian Locomotive Company of Kingston have decided to take advantage of the growth in the railway business and double the present capacity of their plant. This company have been manufacturing locomotives since 1855, and are to-day turning out the very highest grade of locomotives. Their present capacity of 75 per year has been found to be totally inadequate to supply the demands, the company having to refuse a large number of orders every year.

To enable them to expand, the company will issue $1,500,000 of first mortgage 6 percent bonds, $1,500,000 7 percent cumulative preferred stock, and $2,000,000 common stock. Owing to the tremendous expansion in our Canadian railways, and also to the well-known quality of the locomotives turned out by this company, there is not the slightest doubt but that when the company double the present capacity of their plant that they will be able to sell their whole output. They have built up such an enviable reputation that their engines are in the greatest demand by the various railways throughout the country.

The thunderstorm seriously effected the attendance at the Princess Monday night, but those who braved the elements to see the Lyman Howe travel pictures had no cause to regret their temerity. This week's programme includes views of Lake Como, Italy, the falls of the Rhine, dangerous logging in the Italian Alps, the Volcanoes in Java, and a very fine series of London views. The traffic, rush and bustle of the world's greatest city were presented to the audience in a very realistic manner, while its famous and historic buildings as depicted on the screen, created much interest. A few comic pictures thrown in between the travel scenes kept the audience in hearty good humor. Something entirely new was provided by a series of dissolving views of famous Americans. As usual the musical programme rendered by Mr. Howe was of a high standard and was much appreciated.

SERVANTS LAW IN WESTMOUNT

Must Give Fifteen Days' Notice or Pay Heavy Fine

£100,000 FOR ROADS.

By a by-law passed at Monday's meeting of Westmount City Council, it will in future be illegal for any apprentice, servant or laborer, under written or verbal contract for one month or more, to leave his or her employment without giving fifteen days' notice of intention to quit. The penalty for infringing this by-law was fixed at $40 and costs; but it also contains provisions binding on employers, and any employee who has a complaint to make as to conditions of service may summon the employer, who, if proved guilty, is also liable to a $40 fine. The same notice required of the employee must also be given by the employer. Any person harboring a deserting employee will be liable to penalty.

A by-law giving a lease of a part of the park, on the south side of Westmount avenue, to the Westmount Bowling Club, for a period of twenty-one years, at an annual rental of $500, passed its three stages of reading, but as the Council has no power to grant a lease for a longer term than nine years without consulting the ratepayers, a public vote will be taken on the question on July 6.

Formal authorization was given to a loan of one hundred thousand pounds sterling for the construction of roads and sewers. It was agreed to spend $5,400 on paving the continuation of St. Antoine street to the western limits of the town. It was also agreed to have gas installed on Sydenham Ave.

Last night, for the first time, the Mayor of Westmount wore an insignia of office, in the shape of a gold chain. The chain has a number of medallions on which the names of the successive wearers will be inscribed. Alderman Hyde, who passed the chain round Mayor Rutherford's neck, said it had been felt for some time that the Mayor of Westmount should have some insignia of office to wear on official occasions. Mayor Rutherford in acknowledgement expressed the hope that all who should wear it would be worthy of what it signified.

Other projects discussed and approved at the meeting were the continuation of Western avenue from Wood avenue to the city limits, and the purchase of a corner strip of land on the new park.

Ald. McBride brought forward his motion of which he had given notice at last meeting, for the appointment of a committee to devise plans by which all overhead wires would be put underground.

The Council approved of the motion, and appointed Ald. McBride and Ald. McLennan a committee of two to consider the matter and make the necessary arrangement to carry out the work.

DECORATIONS IN CITY

Business Streets Assuming a Gay Appearance.

St. James street has every appearance of assuming the premier position as far as decorations are concerned, but the adornments are principally confined to the banks. The City and District Bank, the Bank of Commerce, and the Merchants Bank of Canada, have workmen busily engaged in arranging a great variety of streamers, flags and every kind of bunting. The banks along this thoroughfare are apparently in friendly competition with each other for the 'best show.'

Craig street, however, will not be totally devoid of a show of patriotism. The 'Witness' building is in the hands of the decorators, and the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co. will have a magnificent electrical display, the building being outlined with hundreds of lights.

Passing west, a few enterprising storekeepers have flags floating, but the principal electrical display will be witnessed at the C. P. R. Windsor street station, where workmen have been busy for nearly two weeks arranging the myriads of electrical lights which are hung around the whole of the exterior of the station. The perilous work of fixing the bunting from turret to turret was commenced this morning. One has only to go on the roof and inspect the work to grasp its real dangers.

St. Catherine street is beginning to look in a gay mood, several places of business having commenced preparations for Thursday's holiday, but not to the same extent that is shown down town, but there is still time for much to be done. The absence of decorations, or even preparations, was very conspicuous at the hotels.

'Can't Get Men' is Familiar Cry at Nigara-on-the-Lake Camp

Niagara-on-the-lake, Ont., June 20.—In marked contrast to the opening day of the militia camp of instruction just completed, the troops forming the second camp arrived yesterday under a sizzling hot sun. The same cry is going up, however that was heard in the last camp, namely: 'Can't get men,' and some of the regiments are weaker than they have been in several years. The weakness is apparent chiefly among the infantry regiments, most of the cavalry units being fairly well up to strength. There may possibly be 4,000 troops in camp.

There is only one infantry regiment which is anywhere nearly up to full strength. This is the 97th Algonquin Rifles from northern Ontario, under Lieut.-Col. H. E. McKee. This regiment has nearly 350 men of all ranks, the greater number of pioneers and bushmen. The Algonquin rifles have the greatest recruiting ground for any regiment in Ontario. Work will be commenced to-day and the training will be carried on the same principle as it was last year, as little attention as possible being paid to ceremonial.

Annie Featherstone, aged 5 years, fell a distance of three stories at her home, 230 Railway Track, yesterday, and sustained internal injuries. She was removed to Nortre Dame Hospital.

For striking a man named Kaufman in his house on St. George Street Monday 'Ike' Bryan was fined $2 in the Recorder's Court yesterday.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Beatrice McClung, who wore pink crepe de chine, large black hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. H. H. MacLeay, of Kelowna, B.C., was best man. Dr. E. H. Brown, of Montreal, and Mr. Forest McClung, of Waterville, were the ushers. Among the guests at the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Silver, of Montreal. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the interior decorations were wild roses and ferns, and the bride's table was a color scheme of pink and white. The numerous and valuable wedding gifts were much admired. After the reception the bride and groom left by automobile for Hatley, where they took train for New York. The bride's going-away gown was of royal blue, with hat to match. On their return they will make their home in Montreal.

WHEAT RISES BIRTHS DECLINE

INFANTILE MORTALITY.

Suggestion That Official Should Go to Europe and Study Child Conservation.

'As wheat goes up the birth-rate goes down,' said Dr. Louis Laberge, Medical Health Officer, to a Witness reporter yesterday quoting a conclusion arrived at by Dr. Jacques Bertillon, chief statistician of Paris, after a close study based on the careful statistics of years. This relation between the cost of living and the birth-rate is now well understood.

This remark was made in the course of a conversation on the infantile mortality in Montreal. Dr. Laberge had been explaining that in Montreal, with an annual birth-rate of 37 per thousand the infantile mortality would naturally show a greater percentage in the total number of deaths than in other cities where it averaged 27 or 28 per thousand. The death-rate in Montreal this year has not yet reached its usual figure, fifty percent, but during the hot weather it is expected to arrive there.

'It would be worth while for the City to send a man to Sweden, Denmark and the other countries where they have a low death-rate, and study their methods,' continued Dr. Laberge. 'There are local conditions and local methods which a man can only study and appreciate close at hand. It would have an appreciable influence on the city's death-rate if this were done, and the recommendations adopted.'

'Another thing,' said Dr. Laberge 'there is a crying need for the education of mothers on the necessity of feeding their babes at the breast. Nothing else is ever so good, and it is an injustice to the child to make it depend on the cow. The law compels a father and mother to give their child the proper nourishment except at this period, when it needs most and the effects are most lasting. A certain kind of nourishment should then be given, which the mother can give, but the law does not specify.

OPINIONS on the MARKET

Miller & Co.—We always have more or less of crop damage talk about this time of the year, but this is one of these markets, which in our opinion will advance more in five hours than it will decline in five days.

MERITS OF HUGE PAINT CONCERN ARE DISCUSSED

MR. W. COTTINGHAM.

Interest in the subscription for the alloted $300,000 offering of preferred stock in the newly organized Sherwin-Williams Paint Company of Canada carrying a bonus of 20 percent of common was evident on the 'Street' to-day. Of the $3,000,000 preferred stock issued the Sherwin-Williams Company of America and the directors of the new company have taken $1,500,000 for investment, and of the balance $1,200,000 has been taken by Canadian investors, leaving only the small amount $300,000 available for the present offering.

In discussing the properties of the local company, President W. H. Cottingham, of the Sherwin-Williams Company of America, states that the Sherwin-Williams Company is the largest manufacturers of paints and varnishes in Canada. The Montreal plant covers about four acres and is the most modern of its kind in the world. It comprises paint works, varnish works, linseed oil mill, tin can factory and box works, all connected and operated by one central power plant, insuring economy and efficiency in operating. The company has its offices and modern warehouses in Winnipeg, and operates branch houses in Toronto and Vancouver.

'The Canada Paint Company,' Mr. Cottingham says, 'which was organized eighteen years ago, was a consolidation of three of the largest paint manufacturing concerns in Canada, at that time. The Canada Paint Company operates its own paint and color works at Montreal with varnish works at Toronto, and a paint factory and linseed oil mill at Winnipeg. It also owns and operates its own Oxide and Graphite mines, the products of which are extensively used in the manufacture of paint.

Regarding the Lewis Berger & Sons, Limited, which is affiliated with the new Canadian company, Mr. Cottingham declares that this concern is one of the oldest and best known paint manufacturers in Great Britain. Founded 150 years ago, it has grown from small beginnings till to-day it is one of the leading concerns of its kind in the British Empire. The plant is situated in the city of London. Besides the large business carried on throughout Great Britain, this company's export business has grown to large proportions and it maintains its own offices and warehouses at leading cities throughout the world.

Mr. Cottingham is very enthusiastic regarding the outlook for the new Canadian company, and he is not surprised that the stock offering should meet with immediate success.

Butte, Mont., June 21.—Butte Central Copper Mine, which is largely controlled by Montreal capitalists, has made a rich strike on the 300-foot level of the Ophir mine. The ore body is 2½ feet wide, averaging $300 in silver to the ton. The mine is making regular weekly shipments to the Washoe smelter.

STEEL HEADS

Loondon has a rumor that President J. T. Drummond, of the Lake Superior Corporation, now in London, will be joined there by Chairman Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation.

Possibility of an agreement between the two concerns is being discussed.

The new $300,000 public issue of the Sherwin-Williams paint amalgamation offered to-day was much discussed on the 'Street', where it is evidently considered to be one of the best bargains which have lately been accessible to the investor.

Considering the large and growing earnings of the combined companies, the calibre of the men at the head and the evidently bright future, this offering of preferred stock at 95 with 20 percent common as bonus, it is no wonder that it has an immediate appeal.

If signs are not misleading, it will not be many weeks before the civic authorities and the Montreal Street Railway will sign a contract of terms and conditions—which consummation is, of course, devoutly to be wished.

Both parties to the agreement have evidently been working quietly, but systematically, to frame list of stipulations which will best serve the interests of the city.

The company is genuinely desirous of creating a perfect traction system, which it will do with adequate encouragement.

James J. Hill, who 'retired' from the railroad business several years ago, and placed the crown of the Northwest on his favorite son, Louis, is still actively engaged in the business of retiring. Louis is putting in full time in his shirt sleeves as president of the road his father built, but the big thinking part in the northwestern railroad game is still played by the chairman of the board.

Louis, although a chip of the old block, is not quite up to the point of planning $600,000,000 mortgages.

Canadian Westinghouse Company declared regular quarterly dividend of 1½ percent, and an extra of ½ of 1 percent payable July 10.

GOOD NEWS IS COMING ON THE M.S.R. SITUATION

An announcement of great importance and encouragement to the 'Street' is likely to be made soon from the Montreal Street Railway offices.

Although it must be admitted that it is impossible to acquire an exact knowledge of how the matter stands—as those who are conducting it will not divulge—there are nevertheless certain deductions to be made, the truth of which can be corroborated.

From a variety of indications it now seems practically assured that not only will the Montreal Street soon be in a position to announce the completion of a friendly agreement made with the city, but will also be in a position, it is said to publish the successful financing of the new Tramways Company.

The probable effects of so important a pronouncement to the 'Street' need not be expatiated upon, as the relation of Montreal Street to the rest of the market has been so much discussed in financial circles of late as to make the important bearing of that stock on the local market quite apparent.

President Robert and the directors have not been idle, and while some apparent delay has been evident, nevertheless, hard and consistent work has gone on in recent weeks, and it is now only a question of a very short time until M.S.R. people make public their position. It may prove a pleasant surprise.

INCREASE FOR NEXT QUARTER

New York, June 21.—Asked as to the possibility of the La Rose dividend being increased at the next quarterly meeting, several directors expressed the opinion that there was a likelihood of favorable action being taken.

'The company,' said a director, 'is in an excellent treasury position and we cannot go ahead indefinitely with piling-up surplus. Furthermore, the Lawson mine is panning out nicely, and I, for one, will not be surprised if the dividend is increased at the next quarterly meeting.'

New Sugar Factory

Chatham, June 21.—It is practically assured that a sugar factory with a daily capacity of one thousand tons will be built here. Mr. D. A. Gordon, M.P., of the Wallaceburg and Berlin factories is interested.

Lady Van Horne and family have left for St. Andrew's, to spend the season at their summer residence, 'Coven Hoven.'

Mrs. William Caldwell, with her son, has left for a visit at Metis, before going with Professor Caldwell to spend the rest of the summer at Dalhousie.

The marriage of Miss Marie Fraser, daughter of Mrs. A. C. Sutherland, of Fraserville, to Mr. Charles G. Coristine, son of the late James Coristine, is to be celebrated very quietly to-morrow. Mr. Coristine and his bride sail for a wedding trip in Europe before returning to take up their residence in Montreal.

The engagement is announced of Baron von Nettelbladt, of Chateau de Zele, Flanders, and 20 St. James's square, London, and Jane Walton, daughter of Major Atkin-Roberts, of Glassenbury Park, Cranbrook, Kent. Baron von Nettelbladt was a visitor in Montreal a couple of years ago.

The wedding took place this afternoon in Dominion Methodist Church, Ottawa, of Miss Pansy Mills, youngest daughter of Dr. James Mills, of the Railway Commission, to Mr. Victor Montague Drury, of Montreal, son of Brigadier-General Drury, and Mrs. Drury, of Halifax. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henderson in the presence of a large gathering of guests. The church was decorated for the occasion with a profusion of hydrangea and palms and ferns. The music was under the direction of Dr. Sanders, and during the signing of the Register Miss Helen Ferguson sang 'A song of Thanksgiving.' The bride was given away by her father, and wore white duchesse satin, fashioned in empire effect, with a court train, and trimmed with Carrickmacross lace and satin roses, and she wore a long tulle veil with a mob cap of lace and coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her little niece, Miss Louise Creelman, of Guelph, as maid of honor, and five bridesmaids, Miss Marion Creelman, of Montreal, Miss Margaret Fitzpatrick, Miss Elma Reid, Miss Helena Hughson, and Miss Gladys Carling. Their gowns were of white marquisette over white silk, trimmed with heavy embroidery and finished with girdles. Their hats were large white mohair models, faced with satin and they carried bouquets of pink peonies. Mr. C. Drury, of Quebec, was groomsman for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Hugh Fraser, of Ottawa, Mr. Len Shaw and Mr. Hazen Porteous, of Montreal; Mr. Bruce Campbell and Mr. Pat Bergeron, of Calgary. After the ceremony a reception was held at 241 Gilmour street, where the collection of wedding gifts was shown. Refreshments were served in a large marquee on the lawn. Mr. and Mrs. Drury left on the afternoon train for Quebec and the Saguenay, and will reside afterwards in Montreal. The bride travelled in a tailor-made suit of Nattier blue cloth with a blouse of Irish crochet lace, and small black hat trimmed with blue flowers. Among the guests at the wedding were Lady Sybil Grey, Professor and Mrs. Harrison, of St. Anne de Bellevue; Mr. A. R. Creelman, the Misses Creelman, Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Drury, of Sherbrooke; Miss Eva Drury, of Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Porteous, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sise, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fergie, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ambrose, Mr. Edward Savage, Mr. Gordon McKinnon, Mr. Reginald Lloyd-Jones, all of Montreal; Dr. and Mrs. Creelman, of Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. William Price, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porteous, of Quebec.

The marriage of Miss Alice Mary Wilson, of 48 Highwood Terrace, Weehawken, and Mr. Gustav Baur, of Brooklyn, was solemnized by the Rev. C. J. Miller, of the Woodcliff chapel. Miss Teresa Baur, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Chas. Baur was best man. The bride was gowned in charmeuse satin, draped and caught up with orange blossoms and trimmed with pointe Milan lace. She wore a rope of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was of white roses, and the veil was gathered in with a Grecian band of orange blossoms. The bridesmaid was gowned in pale blue messaline, draped with marquisette and caught up with rose buds. Her hat was of black hemp with yellow plumes and rosebuds and streamers of black velvet. A reception was held at the bride's home. Among the out-of-town guests was Miss Pearl Corner, of Montreal, who sang a solo, 'O perfect love.'

PROPERTIES

The following information has been supplied by Messrs. Walter H. Cottingham and C. C. Ballantyne:

The Sherwin-Williams Company Limited of Canada has been formed to take over the Canadian business of the Sherwin-Williams Company of America; the Lewis Berger & Sons, Limited, of London, England, which since 1905 has been associated with The Sherwin-Williams Company of America, and was founded over 150 years ago; and has acquired control of the Canada Paint Company of Montreal.

The Sherwin-Williams Company are the largest manufacturers of paints and varnishes in Canada. Their plant covers about four acres in the City of Montreal, and is the most modern and complete of its kind in the world, having been built in 1905. It comprises paint works, varnished works, linseed oil mill, tin can factory and box works, all connected and operated by one central power plant, insuring economy and efficiency in operating. The company has its offices and modern warehouses in Winnipeg, and operates branch houses in Toronto and Vancouver. The business was established 24 years ago by Mr. Walter H. Cottingham, now President of the Sherwin-Williams Company of America.

The Canada Paint Company Limited, organized 18 years ago, was a consolidation of three of the largest paint manufacturing concerns in Canada at that time. Its total output to-day is practically as large as that of the above company. The Canada Paint Company operates its own paint and color works at Montreal; varnish works at Toronto, and a paint factory and linseed oil mill at Winnipeg. It also owns and operates its own Oxide and Graphite mines, the products of which are extensively used in the manufacture of paint.

The brands of these two companies are among the best and most favorably known in Canada.

Lewis Berger & Sons, Limited, is one of the oldest and best known paint, varnish and color manufacturers in Great Britain. Founded over 150 years ago, it has grown from small beginnings till to-day it stands one of the leading concerns of its kind in the British Empire. The plant is situated upon four acres of land in the city of London. Besides the large business carried on in London and throughout Great Britain, this company's export business has grown to large proportions, and maintains its own offices and warehouses at Sydney, Australia; Wellington, New Zealand; Bombay, India, and Paris, France.

MANAGEMENT

The present management will be continued, and the Canadian company, under an agreement with the American company, will have the benefit of the large research and development work constantly being done by the latter. Mr. Walter H. Cottingham, founder the Canadian business of the Sherwin-Williams Company, Chairman of Lewis Berger & Sons, Limited, and President of the Sherwin-Williams Company of America, will be President of the new company. Mr. C. C. Ballantyne, who has been General Manager for Canada of the Sherwin-Williams Company, and who has been associated with Mr. Cottingham for nearly twenty years, will be Vice-President and Managing Director of the company.

The present management of the Canada Paint Company and Lewis Berger & Sons, Limited, will be continued.

Mr. James W. Garson, Managing Director of Lewis Berger & Sons, Limited, who will be one of the directors of the new company, has been connected with the Berger organization for over twenty years.

OBJECTS OF CONSOLIDATION.

It is confidently expected that large economies will be effected by utilizing the manufacturing facilities of each company for the benefit of the common interest. Some of the products, it has been found, can be more economically manufactured in one plant than in others, by reason of conditions being more favorable. It has also been found that by handling the entire output of some articles in one plant instead of three, a considerable saving can be accomplished, by reason of the larger output being handled in one plant. The new company will be operated in a manner to take advantage of the opportunity for savings and increased efficiency of this kind.

The Sherwin-Williams Company of America are manufacturers in a large way of zinc oxide and white lead, their plants being among the most efficient for this purpose. The new company will have the advantage of their methods and experience.

It will be the object of the new company to produce and control practically all of its important raw materials, including Dry White Lead, thus guaranteeing lowest cost with highest quality.

MARKET.

Paints, varnishes and colors are among the most staple articles being used in some form or other by railroads, steamships and manufacturers, builders, property owners and householders, and are used in some form in every house, and in all buildings, public or private.

ASSETS AND EARNINGS.

The books and accounts of the Sherwin-Williams Company (Canadian Branch) and the Canada Paint Company, Limited, have been examined by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Company, Chartered Accountants, and the Real Estate, Buildings and Equipment have been appraised by the Canadian American Appraisal Company, Limited. The books and accounts of Lewis Berger & Sons, Limited, have been audited in London by Messrs. Craig, Gardener & Harris, Chartered Accountants, and the Real Estate, Leaseholds and Plant have been valued by Messrs. Fuller, Horsey Sons & Cassell, London.

On the basis of the reports and valuations mentioned the net assets amount to.....	$3,635,012.61
to which must be added the profits to date of the combined companies as estimated by Mr. C. C. Ballantyne, Managing Director, amounting to..	370,000.00
'or a total.....	$4,005,012.61
In the above no allowance has been made for formulae, trade mark, patents, rights, good will of the companies, which are valued at over.....	$3,000,000.00
The combined earnings for the year 1910, as certified by the same accountants, after allowing for depreciation, amounted to.....	537,807.73
Interest on bonds issued..$147,000

Total Charges.....	357,000.00
Surplus, equal to 4.50% on the total Common Stock.....	$ 180,807.73

MR. BORDEN AND RECIPROCITY

Mr. Borden, the leader of the Opposition in Canada, in beginning his campaign against reciprocity at Winnipeg yesterday, argued to the astonished Canadian farmers that they would be much injured by getting a new market in the United States. The proof seems to be the same on both sides of the frontier. It has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the demonstrators that the American farmer would be ruined by the Canadian agreement, but he did not know till Mr. Borden spoke, and till Senator Gore reproduced some of the Canadian wails the other day, that his Canadian brother would be in the same miserable company. That all this talk is taken seriously on either side of the line is not very probable. Seemingly more to the point is what Mr. Borden had to say about the disadvantage to Canada which would result from her being compelled to give to other countries the same tariff concessions she makes to us. This follows from the application of the most-favored-nation doctrine, as held by all the world except the United States. But Mr. Borden omitted to state that this very matter was under earnest discussion at the Imperial Conference, and that steps were taken to release the self-governing colonies from the obligations of a commercial treaty in force in the rest of the Empire. This, of course, relates only to the future, yet we fancy that even in the present the farmers of the Western Provinces of Canada will not be dismayed by the picture which Mr. Borden drew of their being exposed in their own homes to the dire competition of Argentina, Spain and Venezuela.—New York 'Evening Post.'

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 21, 1911.

MR. BORDEN AND THE PAST.

In 1854, Lord Elgin succeeded in negotiating the famous and much-discussed Reciprocity Treaty with the United States. It remained in force until 1866, when it was abrogated by the Republic after the necessary one year's notice. In the Elgin treaty, as in the present agreement, there was free exchange only of the products of the farm, the mine, the forest and the sea. Manufactures were not included. There was no preference given to the United States over Great Britain or vice versa, yet trade with the Republic rapidly increased. To-day, of course, Great Britain has a preference, and will continue to have a preference, which will be increased, we hope, along the lines of bringing about free trade between this country and the mother country, and, eventually, other parts of the empire. The Elgin treaty, it is alleged, was abrogated by the United States because of the part our Tories took in helping and sympathizing with the South in the civil war. Whether or no, the commercial and financial results of the abrogation were not so disastrous as after the abolition of the British preferential system, which turned some Montreal Tories into annexationists—the only Canadian annexationists on record!

Sir Alexander Galt in 1858 made the first attempt to establish incidental protection in Canada, and in 1859 duties were shoved up as follows: Molasses from 11 to 30 percent; refined sugar from 25 to 40 percent; boots and shoes 20 to 25 percent; cotton, iron, silk and wool goods from 15 to 20 percent. In 1878, when Sir John Macdonald was again returned to power, a fiscal era was inaugurated by which the duties were raised to an average of 30 percent. But in 1877, Sir John moved an amendment to Sir Richrd Cartwright's budget proposals which read as follows: 'This House is of the 'opinion that the welfare of Canada 'requires the adoption of a National 'Policy, which, by a judicious read-'justment of the Tariff, will benefit 'and foster the agricultural, the min-'ing, the manufacturing and other in-'terests of the Dominion; that such a 'policy will retain in Canada thousands 'of our fellow-countrymen now oblig-'ed to expatriate themselves in search 'of the employment denied them at 'home; will restore prosperity to our 'struggling industries, now so sadly 'depressed; will prevent Canada from 'being a sacrifice market; will encour-'age and develop an inter-provincial 'trade; and moving (as it ought to do) 'in the direction of a reciprocity of 'tariffs with our neighbors, so far as 'the varied interests of Canada may 'demand, will greatly tend to procure 'for this country eventually a reci-'procity of trade.'

It was the above motion (which was defeated in the House of Commons by 114 to 77 votes) upon which the succeeding campaign was mainly fought, and won by the Conservatives. Further, on January 15, 1878, at a Convention of Conservatives of Ontario, a resolution was unanimously approved by the delegates which included this clause: 'That until a reciprocity of 'trade is carried out with our neigh-'bors, Canada should move in the 'direction of a reciprocity of tariffs so 'far as her varied interests may de-'mand.' These resolutions are important not only because they sustained the action of Sir John Macdonald and his supporters in Parliament during previous sessions, but because the views expressed were, as we have said, the basis of the ensuing electoral victory. Later, on December 17, 1884, or between twenty-six and twenty-seven years ago, there was another Ontario Conservative Convention, to welcome Sir John back from England when Queen Victoria had created him a G. C. B. At this Convention Conservative principles were affirmed anew. The following resolution was unanimously carried: 'That this Convention, 'on behalf of the Conservative party 'of Ontario, endorses the National 'Policy, which the country declared for 'in 1878, and again in 1882, being con-'vinced from the plain and manifest 'results that have followed the appli-'cation of the tariff since 1879, that it 'is the policy best calculated to pro-'mote the welfare of a young commun-'ity (more especially of one lying 'alongside a great protectionist nation 'like the United States), and to secure 'its interests against destruction from 'the slaughtering of foreign goods in 'seasons of temporary depression; and 'that we call upon parliament to main-'tain this policy intact until such 'times as the Americans, who rejected 'our Reciprocity proposals in 1874, 'think fit to offer the free interchange 'of those natural products which by 'law the government of Canada have 'now the power to admit free on reci-'procal conditions.' In face of this alone—and much more of the same sort of evidence could be produced—how can Mr. Borden tell the West that 'the reciprocity agreement constitutes 'not only an important revision of the 'tariff, but a reversal of Canada's fis-'cal policy for the past thirty years?'

ALL EYES ON LONDON.

The magnificent ceremony which takes place in the ancient Abbey of Westminster to-morrow centres the gaze of the world upon our King and Queen. The presence of the notables of the Empire, and of other nations, the stately ceremonial, the rich music, the picturesque regalia, the wonderful setting of it all in the beautiful and historic sanctuary, the immense concourse of spectators in the church and in the streets, and more wonderful still, the throb and trill of loyalty which will go around the Empire, all come to a focus upon the man and woman who have been called to this the highest office in the realm. Judging from the many portraits of their Majesties in their robes of state they will look every inch the King and Queen. But it is significant that to most people when King George and Queen Mary are mentioned the picture conjured up is not of two stately personages, attired in jewels and cloth of gold, receiving the homage of nobles and empires, but of a plain man and woman to whom the trappings of royalty are rather troublesome than otherwise, and who are happiest when they are engaged in doing something to promote the practical welfare of their people, or when they can relax from the cares of state in the homely interests and pleasures of home. 'Some things are clear already,' wrote Mr. Sydney Brooks of King George a year ago. 'The absolute blamelessness of his 'private life, his modesty and good 'nature, his sportsmanship, his insist-'ent sense of duty, his frankness and 'honesty—these are fundamental at-'tributes that declare themselves in 'his face, his demeanor, in every 'speech and action of his career. To 'these qualities the nation holds, just 'as it holds to the transparent bene-'volence, good sense and practicality 'of Queen Mary, and to the certainty 'that the new King and Queen will 'maintain a Court that in dignity and 'simplicity might serve as a model for 'any household in the land.'

It is not known to everyone that King George, like many sailors, has a strong and simple sense of religion. During his visit to India a few years ago he made a point of holding a service every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock, at which, of course, the officials and their families had to attend. The slackness of religious observance among some of the British residents shocked both his feelings and his judgment. 'Here you are,' he said, 'ruling the most spiritually-minded 'people in the world, and you do not 'even trouble to pay the ordinary 'tribute of respect to your own faith.' As fine was the incident of which Henry Warwick tells in his new book 'King George and Queen Mary.' The Chancellor of the Exchequer, in accordance with custom, waited on the new King after the death of King Edward. 'Mr. Lloyd George, a Welsh-'man, a Nonconformist, who had been 'brought up under strong religious in-'fluence, and a warmly impulsive man, 'forgot his formal duty, and under 'the stress of his emotion began to 'condole with the son who had lost 'a noble and good father, and to sug-'gest to him the grounds of comfort 'that come to the sincere Christian in 'such hours of bereavement. King 'George's heart was so touched that 'he warmly thanked Mr. Lloyd George 'and asked him if he would mind 'speaking similar words of comfort 'to the widowed Queen in her dire 'distress. Mr. Lloyd George said he 'would be glad to do so if Queen 'Alexandra wished it. She did wish 'it, and the Chancellor of the Ex-'chequer was the means of consoling 'the sorely tried woman who, had 'found that death, the great leveller, '"with equal foot, knocks at the 'palace and the cottage door."' As to Queen Mary she is like the King in her simplicity, in her simple piety, in her interest in the poor and distressed. She has brought up her boys to be clean, kindly, manly boys and her daughter to follow in her own footsteps.

One jarring note has been struck amid the coronation acclamation. Mr. Keir Hardie, if the report is to be believed, has railed bitterly against everything connected with the coronation. Mr. Hardie, of course, has a morbid sense of the miseries and inequalities of life. Evidence is not wanting that the sympathies of King George and Queen Mary with the poor and unfortunate are just as keen, and their helpfulness to the distressed just as practical as that of Mr. Hardie. It should be remembered that the coronation is not a personal glorification of the sovereign. The King is crowned as representative of the nation. 'In a sense,' says an English writer, 'we crown ourselves in crown-'ing him, and potentially we all will 'stand in Westminster Abbey to re-'ceive the coronation.' The coronation, if it means anything, is a symbol of the blessings which King and people desire and pray may descend upon the nation. 'He shall judge the 'poor of the people, he shall 'save the children of the needy, 'and shall break in pieces the 'oppressor. He shall deliver the 'needy when he crieth; the poor also, 'and him that hath no helper. He 'shall spare the poor and needy, and 'shall save the souls of the needy. He 'shall redeem their soul from deceit 'and violence and precious shall their 'blood be in his sight.' These words described the office of a true King in the ancient days. They are as applicable and are even more full of meaning today. They indicate not only the duties of a king, but of a royal people like our own, and that they shall be lived out in greater and greater fulness during the reign of King George seems to be the prophecy of the noblest and most vital tendencies of this great age.

GENERAL DIAZ AT HAVRE.

Former Mexican President Welcomed to France.

Paris, June 21.—General Porfirio Diaz arrived here at midnight from Havre and was greeted at the S. Lazare station by a large and distinguished company of Mexicans and many personal friends from other countries.

M. Fouquieres, of the Foreign Office, representing M. Cruppi, Minister of Foreign Affairs, welcomed General Diaz on behalf of the French Government.

Subsequently General Diaz went to the home of Eustache D'Escandon, an intimate personal friend, where he will probably remain for a fortnight.

GOING TO VANCOUVER.

Mr. R. S. Lea, consulting engineer of Montreal, has been appointed consulting expert for a general sewerage scheme for Greater Vancouver. This will include the adjoining municipalities, such as Point Grey, Burnaby and South Vancouver, and will cover the greater part of the area between Vancouver Harbor and the Fraser river. Vancouver is growing very rapidly and already covers a large area, and by this general scheme of drainage the present and future requirements of the whole district can be carried out according to one comprehensive plan.

Mr. Lea left for Vancouver last night on a preliminary visit.

TWO BROTHERS DROWNED.

Quebec, June 21.—News of a sad drowning accident reached here to-day from Seven Islands, in which the two sons of Mr. Horace Demeule, lighthouse keeper at Seven Islands, lost their lives. The lads were aged [illegible]teen and twenty years respectively, and their bodies were found in the bottom of a deep well. It is supposed that one of the boys fell into the well and the other, while endeavoring to assist him, shared the same fate.

Doctor Told Her She Did Not Have A Pint Of Good Blood In Her Body.

Mrs. Dosithe P. Cormier, Middle Sackville, N.B., says:

"In the spring of 1897 I was all run down, and the doctor told me I had not a pint of good blood in my body. I took different remedies from doctors, but they did not seem to do me any good. After having taken a lot of different other kinds of medicine, and they did not seem to benefit me, I was almost in despair and did not know what to do until my husband met a lady and told her about my sickness and she told him to try Burdock Blood Bitters as she had received the greatest benefit from using it. My husband went and bought me a bottle, and after having taken it I felt better, so I kept on using one bottle after another until I had taken six in all and then I was strong and well. I am positive that my being alive to-day is due to the use of Burdock Blood Bitters. One spring since then I was not feeling very well and had a lot of work to do. I thought I would procure a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and after I had taken two I was able to do a lot of hard work all the summer, and I never felt better in my life. In the winter of 1906 I had Pneumonia, and it left me with a severe pain in the left side. Every morning when I would get out of bed I had to sit down for a while it was so painful. After I had used Burdock Blood Bitters the pain disappeared completely. It has also cured me of bleeding piles. I have received so much benefit from Burdock Blood Bitters that you may publish this as it may help others as it has me."

Tired in Body and in Mind

Worn Out by the Monotonous Indoor Life of Winter

Spring Finds the Blood Weak and the System Run Down—Vigor is Restored by

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Just at the time when the buds are bursting and the birds are chirping merrily in the treetops, many people feel most keenly the debilitating and enervating effects of indoor winter life.

The blood is so thin and watery that it fails to supply nutrition to the nervous system and to the vital organs. You feel tired, weak and discouraged, appetite fails, digestion is impaired, energy and ambition are lacking, and strange depressing feelings come over you.

But nature has provided certain restoratives to be used at this time of year to form new, rich blood and create new nerve force. These elements are found in condensed and easily assimilated form in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Thousands of men and women have learned to escape this spring depression and weakness and discouragement by using this great restorative.

Vitality is increased, strength and confidence return, buoyancy is felt in every movement of the body, pallor and weakness and disease give place to the glow of health and vigor of mind and body.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great spring tonic and restorative, 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

HAIL STORM CAUSES HAVOC.

New Milford, Conn., June 21.—This section of Connecticut faced a scene of desolation to-day as the result of a record hail storm, which swept across the state last night. The heaviest damage was to the tobacco farms, where many thousand young plants were cut to pieces. At Gaylordsville every tree in an apple orchard owned by Alfred Hungerford was uprooted by the wind.

The hail stones reached a record size, and many of them were strangely colored.

This was the day scheduled for the start of the second stage from here to Spa and return, a distance of 37 1-2 miles.

HAMMOCKS FOR THE SEASON.

There is no more delightful accessory to the summer more than acomfortable hammock in which to loll during the warm days. Two styles in summer hammocks are illustrated in the above picture. One is of canvas, a particularly practical model; the other, in fancier fashion, swings from side poles.

THE VISITING HOUSEKEEPER.

The experience of social workers in the homes of the poor emphasizes the importance of a knowledge of housekeeping. Every social worker has learned that although sometimes the wolf enters the home because the income is too small, often he comes because the outgo is too large; that two many pennies roll away in the wake of burned food materials and unmended garments; that when mothers don't know how to fight germs with cleanliness and sanitary habits, disease becomes a culture medium for poverty and poverty again for disease in what physicians call a 'vicious circle.' To cure poverty arising from ignorance of the principles of domestic economy the associated charities of an American city have hit upon the plan of employing a visiting housekeeper.

This housekeeper works by practical methods. She cooks sample meals, washes the children, 'tidies' the house, and shows the mother how to bring order out of confusion. After the windows have been washed, the floor scrubbed, the stove cleaned, dishes put away, and things put to rights generally, come lessons in keeping the house. Instruction is given in cooking, planning meals, buying and preparing the food. It is demonstrated to the housewife how to select food so as to obtain the greatest amount of nutrition at the smallest cost. The visiting housekeeper takes her pupils on a marketing expedition, then shows them in their own homes how to cook the food, and utilize all the different parts in different dishes so that there will be the least possible waste.

FOR THE GIRL WHO FRECKLES.

A few freckles add a piquancy to a pretty face; a multitude of them mar beauty. The first golden rule with freckles is to take them in hand seriously at the start of the summer. At this season they do not seem so thoroughly 'set' as in the later summer and so are much more easily removed. But there must be no roughness used. A complexion that freckles easily is always delicate, and should be treated with great consideration and care.

One way to overcome partially the little brown spots is to use a solution of elderflower water. This should be applied several times during the day, with a piece of soft linen. It will be found both cooling and pleasant.

The second golden rule in freckles is that 'prevention is better than cure.' Wash in rain water if it can possibly be obtained, or, at least in soft water. To bathe the face each morning in milk is beneficial in some cases. Dry thoroughly with a soft cloth and before venturing into the heat, rub lightly over the skin some toilet cream. Choose one which is without animal grease, and rub it into the surface, then dust over with a little powder. It will prove a great protection from the fierceness of the sun.

It is certainly difficult to play a game of tennis or golf when wearing a hat which shades the face, but this is necessary unless all such amusements be left until it is sufficiently late in the day for the sun to have lost its most powerful heat. Otherwise one must put up with the consequences, which will certainly be either sunburn or freckles on face and hands.

Boating should also be left until evening, for the brightness of the sun striking upon the water will penetrate through any sunshade or veil.

WHEN THE BABY SLEEPS.

A new born baby should sleep eighteen or twenty hours out of the twenty-four, but as it grows older it sleeps less and less. When it is a year old it should sleep fifteen or sixteen hours a day. Regularity in sleeping is of as much importance as regularity in eating.

It is best for both mother and child that the baby should have a separate bed. If they sleep together one will disturb the other and neither will have the required amount of sleep.

Another reason why a separate bed is advisable is that it lessens the danger of too frequent nursing. When the baby is sleeping near the mother there is the temptation to nurse it every time it cries in the night.

The most convenient bed for a baby is the bassinet. A very good one may be constructed from an oval clothes-basket which should be about three feet long. It may be made to look very dainty by covering the sides with white dotted Swiss or other thin material. The inside should be padded and fitted with a removable mattress. A rather large pillow will serve at first, but later it is desirable that a hair mattress should be used. Blankets are better than comforters for the little bed, as they can be washed easily. If a pillow for the head is used it should be small. Over the mattress and under the sheeting should be a rubber sheet or, preferably, one of stork sheeting. The basket should be placed on a stand or on two chairs. If allowed to be on the floor the baby is in danger of draughts which always are more numerous near the floor. This basket will answer very well for a bed for the baby until it is about eight months old. By that time it is beginning to move around considerably and is in danger of falling out of bed. A crib with high sides is the best for the baby at this age, and may serve as a bed for a number of years. The old-fashioned cradle is seldom used now. The poets used to sing of the mother who sat and rocked the cradle hour after hour, but someway no one seemed to wonder why it took the baby so long to be rocked to sleep. Recently we have come to the conclusion that the constant movement disturbed the nervous system and kept away the 'sand man.'

When the baby is put to bed the mother should not sit in the room unless she wants to be compelled to do so every day, for a baby soon becomes accustomed to having its mother near and will not permit her to be absent. After the baby has been laid in bed it should not be taken up again, even though it does cry. The mother should investigate to see that it is perfectly comfortable, that its clothing is dry and not in wrinkles, that there are no pins unfastened. Then she should give it a drink of water and gently but firmly give it to understand that it will not be taken up. She should leave the room immediately, as her presence is a constant reminder to the baby that it wants to be held.

All during the summer time the baby should sleep out of doors in the day time at least. Select a cool, shady spot and use netting to protect the baby from its enemies, the flies.—Edith B. Lowry, M.D., in 'Woman's World' for June.

FLOWERS THAT ARE EATEN.

A favorite sweetmeat in former days was made of the candied petals of violets, and it is in favor again.

Besides the soothing potion distilled from orange blossoms and known as orange flower water a syrup is made by boiling the flowers with sugar. A little of this syrup stirred in iced water makes a refreshing summer drink.

In this country floral sandwiches are generally made of nasturtiums, probably the most useful edible flower that grows here. Its young leaves, seed pods and stems, with or without the flowers, form appetizing salads and add to the piquancy of sauces, gravies, meat dishes, salads and pickles.

The unopened flowers of the globe artichoke, one of the thistles, appear on the table as a vegetable. Another food flower is the cauliflower, which Dr. Johnson is said to have called the finest flower in the garden. This is truly a flower that is eaten, for the snowy vegetables served at the table are the unexpanded flowers of a variety of cabbage.

It is in Oriental countries that flowers form an important article of diet. Cloves and capers are familiar flowers that are eaten. The former are the immature blossoms of a plant of the myrtle order growing in the Moluccas. It is a beautiful evergreen tree thirty or forty feet high with crimson flowers. The buds are first light colored, then green and afterward red. At this stage they are gathered and dried. The little round knob in the centre of the clove is the unexpanded crimson blossom.

Another queen of flowers, the lily, contributes in a more solid form to the menu in some parts of China. The dried flowers of certain species of lily are eaten as a relish with meats, especially pork.

Many edible flowers are to be found in India. One of the most appreciated grows on a tree named mhowad. The natives consume an enormous number of the flowers, whose pale yellow corolla is pulpy and thick and so full of sugar that there is no need to candy it, and it is eaten either fresh or dried in the sun. It is used by the natives along with rice. When the flowers are fresh they are put in cakes, to which they give a sweet flavor, but they are more especially used for making bread after they have been dried and reduced to flour.

ABOUT LINGERIE FROCKS.

The season for wearing lingerie gowns is so short that one likes to indulge in this sort of dainty attire whenever possible. The sheer lingerie materials are suitable only for the house, or for garden parties and festival occasions, but the linens come in light weight and open weaves that make them cool and comfortable for street wear.

There is no place in which cheap lace and coarse embroidery shows to worse advantage than in the white lingerie frock, but when the materials are of the best, and the shape and style are correct, the lingerie gown is one that the feminine heart rejoices in. There are two things to be remembered about the lingerie gown, that its fashion does not change so markedly from year to year and that it will clean or launder indefinitely. This year the lingerie gowns are simple in design, the skirts are medium width, with bands of embroidery or lace, made to wear either with or without a fichu, and with a handsome girdle or sash.

The embroidered lingerie and linen gowns this summer are more effective than ever, and this statement applies to the less expensive as well as to the very elaborate. The English eyelet embroidery and the cut work open designs are in great demand, but there are also most effective and beautifully embroidered designs in the so-called solid embroideries. All grades of material are used, from the heavy linen to the finest of batiste and handkerchief linen, and all kinds of laces are combined with the embroidery. Guipure, filet, Valenciennes, each and all are made up into the trimming of these gowns, while at the same time there are many of the smartest of the linen gowns that have no lace on them at all.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

Discuss Homestead Privileges at Closing Session of Convention.

Fort William, Ont., June 21.— The last day (yesterday) of the sessions of the National Council Convention dawned very bright and fair, and every delegate was in her place when the roll was called. A private meeting of the council was held at ten o'clock. Miss Riddell, the corresponding secretary, left last night for Chapleau, to organize a local council there, the women of Chapleau having arranged a meeting for that purpose.

The whole council yesterday morning resolved itself into a finance committee to consider ways and means, and several important resolutions will be sent out to the local councils.

The officers of the National Council for the ensuing year are: President, Mrs. Torrington, Toronto; vice-presidents, Lady Taylor, Hamilton; Mrs. Frost, Smith's Falls; Mrs. Freeman, St. John; Mrs. McCauley, Vancouver, B.C.; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Plumptre; treasurer, Mrs. A. D. Durnford, Montreal; convener, objectionable printed matter, Mrs. Liddell, Montreal; convener, dependent classes, Mrs. George Watt, Brantford; convener, press committee, Mrs. Reynolds, Toronto; all other officers and conveners as last year. The changes brought in by the constitution committee were discussed and adopted.

Mrs. Graham, of Winnipeg, spoke upon homesteads for women. She is circulating a petition throughout Canada asking that the privilege of homesteading be extended to women in the Canadian West.

The local councils will be advised to take into consideration the subject of homestead privileges for women.

HERVEY INSTITUTE FETE.

Hervey Institute day at Dominion Park, despite the unsettled weather yesterday, was a success, and the ladies who had the fete in hand were much gratified with the support given them. It is expected that a considerable sum has been made for the work of the Institute, as the park was visited by thousands all afternoon and evening, and the various attractions were thronged. The vaudeville theatre also attracted crowds, while the seats around the band stand were occupied by an appreciative crowd listening to the special programme of music.

THE 'WITNESS' DAILY PATTERN.

The home dressmaker should keep a little catalogue scrap book of the daily pattern cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

8981.—A PRETTY GRADUATION DRESS.

This model will develop very effectively in flouncing or embroidered batiste, and is equally desirable for other lingerie materials, for Swiss, mull, organdie, lawn or linon. The gored skirt has groups of tucks between the seams, and the flounce, sleeves, and waist are tucked to correspond. A puff sleeve or short tucked sleeve may be used on the waist. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18 years. It requires 5 1-2 yards of 44 inch materia for the 16 year size.

NEWFOUNDLAND MISSIONS.

Toronto, June 21.—The Rev. W. H. Barraclough, of Sarnia; the Rev. Dr. F. C. Stephenson and Mrs. Stephenson leave to-day for St. John's, Nfld., to conduct a summer school of missions. They will do similar work in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

HOWE'S TRAVEL FESTIVAL.

Amongst the 'trips abroad' in Howe's travel festival at the Princess Theatre, this week, there is a boat ride down the Danube from Passau to Vienna, Austria; another through the mountainous district of New Zealand where the banks are lined with giant ferns and reeds, and yet another through rock-bound rapids in Japan, exciting because of the imminent dangers lurking at every turn. An adventurous ride is offered in a car of the Cog Wheel Railway of Montreux, and up the Wetterhorn Suspension Railway which swings the audience from one Alpine peak to another. Other scenes take the audience to the Faroe Islands to witness a 'battle royal' between a 'school' of whales and their captors; to the Krimmel waterfalls, Austria; to the London Zoo, and to Belgium during cavalry manoeuvres across country that seems impassable.

CONCILIATION SUCCEEDS

Unanimous Settlement of Port Arthur Mine Dispute.

Ottawa, June 21.—The Department of Labor has received a report of the Board of Conciliation and Investigation established at Port Arthur to adjust a dispute between the Canadian Northern Coal and Ore Dock Company and its employees, the latter being members of the Coal Handlers' Union. The number of men involved was 350. The dispute was as to wages and there had been much friction with regard to the question of union recognition. The report is unanimous in nature and particularly satisfactory, in view of the fact that it includes an agreement between the company and the men as to wages to be paid between May 1, 1911, and April 30, 1912, and contains stipulations looking to the making of a further agreement beginning with the rules of the present. The company undertook to reinstate five men whose discharge during May last was in a measure responsible for the outbreak of the dispute, and undertook also not to discriminate against members of the union. The rate of wages agreed on is 25 cents per hour for dock work, and 30 cents per hour for boat work during the season of navigation, with time and a half for Sunday work and overtime, and the rate of pay of 22 1-2 cents per hour for work performed between the close of navigation and April 30, 1912.

SUMMARY OF THE PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

The story opens at the break up of a picnic in North Transvaal, the time being just before the outbreak of the Boer war. In this district there had always been the friendliest relations between the better class of Boers and their compatriots of British descent, the Granville girls being the centre of social life to Boer and Briton alike. The second daughter, Mamie, had just become engaged to Chris Andre, while Jan Van Reenan, his chum, was deeply in love with Joyce, the eldest. The two young men were shortly returning to Oxford, to which both had gone on the advice of Joyce, but her heart had long been given to Chris. The visit of the witch doctor to the camp had caused general excitement, but he had given a special message to Joyce who had great influence with the natives owing to her birth and early life among them, her foster-mother being the witch doctor's sister. She was greatly disturbed by it, and with the added sorrow of Mamie's engagement to Chris, returned home to Fairfontein in much distress. She told no one that the witch doctor had warned her war was near at hand, but her father had partially guessed the message, and sends the family off to England, Joyce electing to stay behind. When war breaks out, Jan Van Reenan rides over and endeavors by threats and taunts as to her love for Chris, to make her leave with him for safety. He fails, and leaves in anger, while Joyce, learning from a party of Boers who strip the farm, that Mr. Granville, a determined neutral, will not be well treated if met, sets out in the storm to meet him, and finds him and his attendant shot to death on the veldt. After the night spent guarding her father's body from the vultures, Chris finds and takes her home, only to have her lose her reason almost immediately. The tribe among whom she was born, send and carry her off, while Chris is warned that interference will be less than useless. The rest of the Granville family in England, are rather miserable until a turn of events opens the hearts of kindly Mrs. Jamieson and other neighbors, and the young ship's doctor, Ned Grey, who had been very friendly, turns up again. Then comes a letter from Joyce, breaking off abruptly at her father's death, and the presence of Chris. Mamie bitterly reads the abrupt mention of Chris as his consent to her father's death, but manages soon again to enjoy life. Joyce, after regaining health in the chief's kraal, goes south, stays with Vrouw Andre until the old lady dies, then goes on to nurse the wounded. At Pretoria she sees Jan Van Reenan, and he contrives to leave with her sufficient money to take her to England, before he is killed in battle.

CHAPTER XXI.

A MOMENTARY GLIMPSE.

Joyce did not forget that last promise made to Jan, but it was many months before she was able to fulfil it. There was so much woman's work to be done, so few women capable of doing it. An account of all her adventures and wanderings would take far too long in the telling.

Although she retained the mental attitude she had adopted from the first, as one who abhorred the war from her very soul and whose sympathies were divided between Boers and British, she could not resist a thrill of pride when the English troops entered Pretoria.

She did not see that splendid and moving spectacle when, in the great square, 'at two o'clock on the afternoon of June 5th (1900), Lord Roberts sat his horse and saw pass in front of him the men who had followed him so far and so faithfully—the Guards, the Essex, the Welsh, the Yorks, the Warwicks, the guns, the mounted infantry, the dashing irregulars, the Gordons, the Canadians, the Shropshires, the Cornwalls, the Camerons, the Derbys, the Sussex and the London Volunteers. For over two hours the Khaki waves, with their crest of steel, went sweeping by, and high above their heads from the summit of the Raad-saal the broad Union Jack streamed for the first time.'*

She did not see it, for she was in close attendance on her patients, but she heard of it, and her heart beat high, higher still when she found that this army of occupation was more like an army that had come to the relief of a beleaguered and friendly city than an army of conquerors.

Surely never in the annals of warfare have the victors treated the vanquished in the spirit manifested by our troops in South Africa, who not merely obeyed the stringent orders issued against looting and personal violence, but evinced the good humor, the large-hearted courtesy and sympathy due rather to friends than foes—an attitude, alas! that was largely taken advantage of by the more 'slim,' suspicious, and narrow-minded among the Boers, though there were many who appreciated and responded to it loyally.

Joyce had always been proud of the fact that she was an Afrikander; she was now even more proud of the fact that she was also an Englishwoman.

To her great amazement, not unmixed with consternation, she found herself in the course of a few days an object of considerable interest and admiration at headquarters. The American doctor under whom she had chiefly worked, and who speedily fraternized with the English medical staff, sang the praises of Nurse Granville right and left. He told as much of her story as he knew, learned not from Joyce herself, but from her stanch admirer Jacob Schmidt, quite sufficient to exalt her into something of a heroine, and, backed by his eulogies of her 'genius' as a nurse—no less word satisfied the enthusiastic and chivalrous Yankee—to bring her the offer of an official appointment on the nursing staff, in addition to compliments and courtesies that might have turned the head of any ordinary girl; but she was an extraordinary girl.

She was sent down almost immediately to Johannesburg, where she remained on duty for some time; long enough to receive letters from her mother and sisters in answer to those which she now despatched regularly by every mail, writing them by snatches in her brief intervals of leisure.

Strange it seemed, after these long months of storm and stress and separation, to be able to communicate once more with those dear ones in England. From them the news was all good so far as their present circumstances went. They were happily settled in their new home; Mrs. Granville was quite strong again, and the others better than they had ever been in their lives; especially Babs, who flourished in the mild Devon climate as under her native skies.

Joyce read and re-read those letters till the paper would scarcely hold together, and lovingly treasured them and the little snap-shot photographs often sent with them. Still there was something wanting.

She longed often, with a sick yearning, to be with her mother, able to tell and to hear all that could not be conveyed by any letter.

After all, letters are unsatisfactory. Few people are able to write all that is in their hearts, all that they would fain say, even to their nearest and dearest. Joyce herself could not, though she had always been reckoned an exceptionally good letter writer.

Therefore neither she nor her mother wrote much concerning the tragedy of her father's death, or of their several experiences in the time that followed. Joyce did not even tell her mother of those strange visions that she had twice experienced, or of the spiritual strife and peace that had come to her in the chief's kraal. It seemed impossible even to attempt to set these things down with pen and paper. It was much easier to write in the earlier letters of bare facts, such as Vrouw Andre's death and that of Jan van Reenan, and later of hospital gossip, with brief and vivid descriptions and anecdotes of her patients and fellow-workers, while on the other hand the letters from her mother and sisters were merely 'small beer' chronicles; all very pleasant to read, but leaving many blanks that could only be filled in later or that perhaps would never be filled in.

There came a definite break in the communications also, occasioning more blanks, during an interval when Joyce was attached to a field hospital and two or three of her letters went astray, following her up and down the country, and never reaching her; and she could only guess at their contents by trying to fit in as context such news as those contained which she did receive.

The most important item was the news that Mamie was engaged to be married to Dr. Grey, which puzzled and distressed her not a little. She gathered this only from incidental remarks in the later letters, for that which contained the announcement, and presumably details, never reached her. It troubled her most because she inferred from it that they must certainly have received news in England of Chris Andre's death, though she had heard nothing.

The idea never occurred to her that Mamie might have changed her mind. Though she had gained much experience of human nature in this long year, she was still essentially single-minded and simple-hearted, apt to judge others by her own standard.

She had mentioned Chris once or twice in her earlier letters, asking if they had had news of him, and saying that she had none; but if the question was answered, it must have been in the missing letters.

"BED-TIME STORIES"

CHILDRENS CORNER. ... bISac ou

THE WAKE-UP STORY.

The sun was up and the breeze was blowing, and the five chicks and four geese and the three rabbits and two kitties and one little dog were just as noisy and lively as they knew how to be.

They were all watching for Baby Ray to appear at the window; but he was still fast asleep in the little white bed, while mamma was making ready the things he would need when he should wake up.

First she went along the orchard path as far as the old wooded pump and said: 'Good pump, will you give me some nice clear water for the baby's bath?' And the pump was willing.

The good old pump by the orchard path
Gave nice, clear water for the baby's bath.

Then she went a little farther on the path and stopped at the wood pile and said: 'Good chips, the pump has given me nice, clear water for dear little Ray; will you come and warm the water and cook his food?' And the chips were willing.

Gave nice, clear water for the baby's bath;
And the clean, white chips from the pile of wood.
Were glad to warm it and cook his food.

So mamma went on till she came to the barn, and then said: 'Good cow, the pump has given me nice, clear water, and the woodpile has given me clean, white chips for dear little Ray; will you give me some warm, rich milk,' And the cow was willing.

Then she said to the topknot hen that was scratching in the straw: 'Good Biddy, the pump has given me nice, clear water, and the woodpile has given me clean, white chips, and the cow has given me warm, rich milk for dear little Ray. will you give me a new-laid egg?' And the hen was willing.

Gave nice, clear water for the baby's bath;
And the clean, white chips from the pile of wood
Were glad to warm it and cook his food;
The cow gave milk in the milk-pail bright.
And the topknot Biddy an egg new and white.

Then mamma went on till she came to the orchard, and said to a red June apple tree: 'Good tree, the pump has given me nice, clear water, and the woodpile has given me clean, white chips, and the cow has given me warm, rich milk, and the hen has given me a new-laid egg for dear little Ray; will you give me a pretty red apple?' And the tree was willing.

So mamma took the apple and the egg and the milk and the chips and the water to the house, and there was Baby Ray in his nightgown looking out of the window.

And she kissed him and bathed him and dressed him, and while she brushed and curled his soft brown hair she told him the wake-up story that I am telling you.

The good old pump by the orchard path
Gave nice, clear water for the baby's bath;
And the clean, white chips from the pile of wood
Were glad to warm it and cook his food;
The cow gave milk in the milk-pail bright;
And the topknot Biddy an egg new and white;
And the tree gave an apple, so round and so red,
For dear little Ray, who was just out of bed.

PEACE RESTORED TO COUNCIL: ANOTHER FIGHT COMMENCES

Board of Control and Aldermen Compose Differences in Amicable Manners

RACIAL QUESTION AGAIN.

Some Public Works Reports Pass by Narrow Majorities—Ald. Ward. Not Permitted to Speak, and is Shouted Down.

The storm in the City Council on Monday as to who was responsible for the delay in the public works has cleared the air. At the request of Ald. L. A. Lapointe, at yesterday's meeting, Ald. Lussier withdrew his motion expressing regret at criticisms made by the Controllers concerning delays caused by aldermen when the reports were brought before Council. Controller Wanklyn and Dr. Lachapelle expressed great pleasure at the new turn of events, and so far as this item was concerned everything ran smoothly. There may have been smothered wrath somewhere among the members of the Council, but it had to seek new channels. There were not wanting opportunities, and the tilt between Ald. Prud'homme and Ald. O'Connell was as stormy an affair as any that have occurred this year in that chamber of disputes. Only a racial question would have produced it, and the gist of the matter seemed to be that because of certain events in Maine and in Ontario, the French-Canadians should seek to reduce the Irish representation on the Catholic Board of School Commissioners by one. Ald. O'Connell used the expedient of 'Next meeting,' but Ald. Prud'homme refused the dominion of a mere rule of Council, and continued to talk. After sundry votings one way and another seeking to avoid Ald. O'Connell's 'Next meeting,' the matter was dropped for the moment, and the ordinary business of Council proceeded.

In suggesting that the trouble between the Controllers and the aldermen should be smoothed over, Ald. L. A. Lapointe suggested that had the Mayor exercised his privilege of calling special meetings better headway might have been made and the works not delayed so much. It was not for them to judge each other, but for the people at the polls to judge them both.

Ald. Lussier agreed to withdraw his motion, the Controllers accepted the hand of peace, Ald. Lamoureux explained that he was not responsible for all inspired by his 'Next meeting' motion of privilege, Ald. Brodeur's suggestion that the Controllers should be invited to attend caucus meetings was accepted, and everything was lovely once more.

Ald. Brodeur thought that the trouble was largely due to the fact that the Controllers were not represented at the caucus of aldermen on the morning preceding Council meetings. He thought that if they and the chief engineer had been there to explain matters the progress of business would have been facilitated very much.

IRISH AND FRENCH ON CATHOLIC SCHOOL BOARD.

After the opinions of Mr. Ethier, chief city attorney, had been read to the effect that the Council had no right to appoint school commissioners to the Protestant and Catholic School Boards after June 10, Ald. Prud'homme moved that the Lieutenant-Governor be called upon to appoint a French-Canadian in the place of ex-Ald. Gallery, whose term as a member of the Catholic School Board has now expired. He was proceeding to speak to this motion when Ald. O'Connell called 'Next meeting.'

Ald. Prudhomme

Ald. Prud'homme angrily objected, saying the proceeding was irregular. Ald. O'Connell said he would take all responsibility for it, and stuck to his point. He was supported by Acting-Mayor Gauvin, but Ald. Prud'homme persisted in the face of cries that there could be no discussion on a motion of 'Next meeting.'

Ald. L. A. Lapointe objected to Ald. Prud'homme's proceeding in the face of a rule of Council, and the latter turned on him with 'When you were dealing with Ald. Carter and his Early Closing By-law you knew how to get around it.'

Ald. Prud'homme started again, and Ald. O'Connell again objected, saying, 'We have as much right as you here. You cannot frighten any one here.'

Ald. Monahan said that as this was a new motion it could not come up for thirty days again.

When the Council came to the first order of the day, which referred to this very matter, Ald. Lariviere moved that the first order of the day should be struck, but this was lost by 10 to 15. Ald. O'Connell moved that the next order of the day should be proceeded with, but this also was lost by 14 to 9.

Ald. Prud'homme thus having his way cleared for a motion, moved that Ald. Lavallee should be named to fill the vacancy. The latter, however, declined to accept the honor, as Mr. Ethier, chief city attorney, had given it as his opinion that the Council had no legal right to make the appointment.

Ald. Prud'homme began to quote figures as to the proportion of the population made up by the French and Irish-Canadians respectively, but Ald. Carter objected that this had no bearing on the motion. Ald. O'Connell asked him why he did not go to Quebec if they wanted more representation. He and Ald. Monahan would gladly support them in getting their right share if they had not it already, but the Irish of the city wanted to keep what they had now.

Ald. Prud'homme said he esteemed the Irish, but justice must be done to the French Canadians. He referred to a letter sent to Rome by an Irish Catholic some years ago in which it was stated that the French-Canadians did not contribute towards public education. The contrary was the case as all their own colleges were sustained by them, and in certain districts Irish institutions were sustained by the money of French-Canadians. He said that in 1909-10 of 21,986 students at their schools 4,629 spoke English. 'Before closing,' said Ald. Prud'homme, 'I wish to refer to the unjust war which the Irish clergy are making on the French-Canadian clergy.'

'I object to bringing the clergy into this question,' said Ald. O'Connell, leaping to his feet. 'Don't you bring the clergy into it. I have never heard of the Irish running to the Bishop or going to the Pope to remove him, because he was a French-Canadian. It is very much an injustice to the Irish people the clergy into it. I have never objected to the French parish priest that we have had in Saint Ann's Ward for the last 25 years. You have in general not to give this appointment to an Irish Catholic. I do not care whether they give it to me or not. So long as they give it to an Irish Catholic I will be satisfied. What happened in Maine or Upper Canada is out of the question. Ald. Prud'homme cannot show any way in which Ald. Monahan or myself have done any injustice to any religion, Protestant or Catholic. We are elected for all nationalities. It is hard that you should cut off the head of the Irish in Montreal, because of something that happened in Maine.'

Ald. O'Connell.

Ald. Monahan also said that Ald. O'Connell and himself would object as strenuously as any of them to any injustice being done to the French-Canadians of Montreal. He said that the government and the religious appointees represented all classes except the Irish Catholics, and it was only fair that the City Council should see that these received representation. He was willing to go to Quebec afterwards with them, and help them secure three more French-Canadians on the Board if they thought they did not have enough.

On Ald. L. A. Lapointe's motion the debate was adjourned to allow the public business being transacted.

VALUE OF DAY LABOR DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL.

Day labor versus contract labor formed the theme of discussion while reports for public works were before the Council. The report asking $336,690 for five new fire stations and equipment passed without debate, as did also the $250,000 appropriation for grading and macadamizing certain streets after a suggestion was received from Ald. Lariviere that the Controllers should divide the macadam where most needed among the different wards.

Altogether the Council disposed of about $1,500,000 in reports on public works. The report on sewers, calling among other things, for a large trunk sewer through St. Denis Ward for draining Rosemount through Longue Pointe Ward to the river, occasioned the discussion on day labor. This sewer will cost $263,000, but the city's tender was $4,000 more, and Ald. Tetreau and Ald. Monahan moved an amendment that it should be accepted as this would give day labor to the workingman.

Ald. Drummond objected to this work being done by day labor, as the proprietors of his ward knew from work done there before that work done in that way would cost them much more than work done by contract.

Controller Wanklyn said that this would mean that the work could not begin before next autumn, and would not be completed this year. They should adhere to the principle of the lowest tender as well.

Ald. Lavallee wanted to know what advantage it would be to the workingman to work for the city rather than for a contractor.

Ald. Clement said that contractors often engaged outsiders and ignored Montrealers, and that when the city did the work the money earned was sure to remain in Montreal.

Controller Ainey said that the mere fact of the city tendering was a guarantee that the work would go at the lowest price, and the system was a protection for both sides. In studying the question of Italian labor he had never found lower rates paid than $2 a day.

Ald. Dandurand thought that to ignore the lowest tender would leave the city open to injunction proceedings.

Controller Wanklyn agreed with Controller Ainey's statement. They had been instructed by the Council to ask their Chief Engineer to tender with the contractors, and he had tendered in good faith. 'We have recommended to you the acceptance of the lowest tender. If you put aside the successful tenders and accept the Engineer's tender because you desire to have the work done by the city, it is not fair to the contractors who tendered. We have before you to-day a very important report on permanent sidewalks. The city has tendered and has been successful in being the lowest tenderer in a very large number of these sidewalks. These tenders were submitted under exactly the same conditions as those of other tenderers, and we are still prepared to do about $250,000 worth of work by day. In this case the city has lost the tender. 'We will see that the city is given good value.

Ald. Tetreau's motion was lost by 8 to 16. His supporters were, besides himself and the seconder:— Aldermen Leclaire, Lamoureux, Gauvin, Clement, Letourneau and Marcil.

The main motion was first defeated by being two votes short of the majority of the whole Council, but on a motion for reconsideration, supported by Ald. Carter and Ald. L. A. Lapointe, it passed 19 to 6.

Ayes—Ald. L. A. Lapointe, N. Lapointe, Leclaire, O'Connell, Ward, Carter, Prudhomme, Dandurand, Gauvin, Roux, Brodeur, Garceau, Monahan, Marcil, Emard, Lariviere, Dequire, Drummond and Lavallee — 19.

Nays — Ald. Lamoureux, Tetreau, Clement, Letourneau, Mayrand and Bastien—6.

WANT HOFELLER TENDER STRUCK OUT OF SIDEWALKS.

For a time more delay was threatened on the $500,000 permanent sidewalks report, when Ald. Lamoureux, seconded by Ald. Leclaire, submitted an amendment that the award of $100,000 for cement walks to the Hofeller Paving Company should be struck out, and that the city lay those sidewalks by day labor. Thus the same question of ignoring the lowest tender was revived again.

The city already has $125,000 of this work to do, but Ald. Lamoureux wanted to add the additional amount, as he believed the tender of the Hofeller Paving Company to be illegal because they had not submitted a $15,000 cheque with their tender. The Board had given them the contract for $150,000 worth of work before it was discovered that there was only a cheque for $10,000, and that the company limited their tender to $100,000, making it necessary to divide the extra $50,000 among the other tenderers at their prices.

Ald. Bastien also thought this would be a bad precedent for the city to establish.

Ald. Ward supported the lowest tender, saying that the Hofeller Paving Company had always done good work in laying cement sidewalks, a work in which poor work was worse than useless. He was sorry they had not tendered for his ward. As the proprietors paid half the cost they had an interest in seeing that the lowest tender was accepted.

Controller Ainey having declared that Chief Engineer Janin has already all the work he can do, the motion was put, and Ald. Lamoureux's amendment was lost by 8 to 14.

The main motion was then carried by 18 to 4, only Aldermen Leclaire, Lamoureux, Bastien and Lariviere opposing.

The report was, therefore, carried by only one vote, 17 votes comprising the necessary majority.

PURE MILK STATIONS AND THEIR SITUATIONS.

Ald. Roux thought the pure milk stations were not situated where they would do the most good, and criticised the Controllers for the money voted for this purpose.

Dr. Lachapelle said that the city was not paying the full cost, and so had not full say as to where these should be placed.

Quite a debate took place on this question, and an effort was made by Ald. Tetreau to introduce a motion to have stations established in other wards. This he eventually withdraw, as it was regarded as irregular until a report came from the commissioners, and the regular report passed though.

ALD. WARD NOT ALLOWED TO SPEAK.

Ald. Ward, who had attempted to speak several times through the progress of this debate, once again attempted to speak, but Acting Mayor Gauvin declared the report carried, and then told Ald. Ward that he was too late. As he still attempted to protest against this, there were calls from all over the chamber, continued long enough so that nothing he said could be heard except one indignant question, 'Am I going to sit on this Council without the Privilege of speaking?'

Ald. Ward.

Ald. Lapointe—We have a great deal of business to do, Ald. Ward.

Ald. Ward—I have a right to speak on this subject. You have spoken to it three or four times.

Ald. Carter—I rise to a question of privilege. I wish to state that respect must pe paid to every member of this Council. I think that Ald. Ward was shown a lack of respect. He got on his feet before the motion was carried, and asked the privilege of speaking, but could not then, as questions of order were being discussed. As soon as these were disposed of he rose again, and then before he could express himself the mayor declared it carried without giving him a chance to say anything. He might have said something that would have prevented it passing. I claim the right of every one to be heard.'

'Carried,' called Ald. Lapointe and others.

Ald. Ward tried to speak again, the only words heard being, 'It is all very well to say "carried," but are you going to let me speak.'

SEAMEN GAIN DEMANDS

Cunard, White Star and Allan Lines Grant Increases—New York Strike Settled

Liverpool, June 21.—The Cunard, White Star and Allan lines yesterday conceded the advances demanded by the striking seamen and arranged a compromise on other points with the strikers.

London, June 21.—There is little change in the situation in connection with the international seamen's strike. It is stated in despatches from Liverpool that the American and Dominion lines have granted the same concessions as the Cunard, but as the conceding lines are outside the Shipping Federation, which thus far refuses to compromise, there is no present prospect of the strike ending.

At Southampton the situation is rather worse. The White Star and American line representatives have wired their agents elsewhere to divert all cargo to other ports.

New York, June 21.—The differences between the coastwise steamship companies and their seamen were adjusted last night, bringing to an end the strike against the Morgan line. This statement was made by H. Griffen, vice-president of the International Seamen's Union, following a conference between company officials and representatives of the union. Mr Griffen said there had been concessions on both sides, but that the various steamship companies had in the main met the demands of the men and that only minor details remain to be adjusted. Up to midnight no statement on result of the conference had been made in behalf of the companies.

JAPAN AND ADVERTISING.

From time to time a half-hearted attempt is made in this country and in America to prevent the desecration of fields and woods by glaring advertisements. It has been left to Japan to give the Western world the lead in this matter, for a law has recently been passed by both houses of parliament at Tokio giving the government the power to protect picturesque sites against the abuse of advertisements. The government is, in fact, to have the guardianship of the scenery of Japan, and anything that tends to spoil the natural beauty of the country is to be prohibited. Already the famous grove of trees at Habone has been spoiled by an enterprising merchant who has turned them into so many sandwich men for the advertisement of his wares. The proper place for advertisements, we beg to leave to say, is a newspaper.—'Dundee Advertiser.'

SIR WILFRID RETICIENT

But New York Hears that He is Determined on Reciprocity and Favors Arbitration

New York, June 21.—A London cable to the 'Herald' says: 'Sir Wilfrid Laurier is determined to sink or swim with reciprocity. This is the deep-seated conviction of his intimates, though the Premier himself will not be interviewed. He declined yesterday to say a word about the report that he will prorogue the Canadian Parliament on his return to Ottawa and submit the reciprocity question to the people of the Dominion. He will not let his government be forced by Mr. R. L. Borden, the Opposition leader, and is satisfied to let him and other political foes continue to speculate as to his probable action.

Sir Wilfrid will leave here July 1 for Canada, to resume his fight for reciprocity. According to the 'Herald's' informant, the Premier is confident that the treaty will be ratified by the Dominion Parliament. It is known that Sir Wilfrid is profoundly impressed with the sincerity of Mr. Taft, and is certain that the President will be able to induce the Senate to pass the bill without amendment.

Sir Wilfrid is unalterably convinced that reciprocity will promote the prosperity of both countries.

Canadians here declare that Sir Wilfrid is deeply interested in the ratification of the peace treaty with the United States and believes its adoption will be not only a stroke of supreme statesmanship that will promote closer relations between Washington and London and the British colonies, but will be the greatest step in history to insure peace throughout the world.

In this connection a leading Canadian said yesterday:

'Sir Wilfrid Laurier believes that if Mr Redmond and the Irish in the United States tender their support this treaty will do more to make Home Rule a certainty than millions of money and years of agitation.'

OUTINGS BY CAR

Pleasant Trips for Citizens and Tourists by Electric Car

Of the many trips round Montreal there are few pleasanter than there that by elective car. This is one of the most delightful trolley trips to be had anywhere, and affords visitors a splendid opportunity of seeing and appreciating the beauties of the famous 'Mount Royal,' together with the picturesque suburban towns which skirt the sides of the Mountain. There is a regular service every 20 minutes from 10 o'clock, a.m.

A special observation car is also on —Passing Peel and St. Catherine Streets at 10 a.m., and every hour thereafter, except noon hour.

A delightful nine mile trip can be taken to historic Lachine. Parties desiring to shoot the rapids should board the 4 p.m. car. Cars leave Place D'Armes Square every twenty minutes.

At Bont De L'Ile—The Meeting of the Waters,' visitors should not miss an opportunity of enjoying the beautiful scenery along the line. The Railway Company have a beautiful picnic ground at the terminus. There is also a large hotel, where meals may be had at reasonable rates. Cars leave LaSalle Avenue and Notre Dame Street every 30 minutes. There is no better place to hold a picnic than at Bout de l'Ile Park.

'AMERICAN' PEERESSES.

Representative Has a Little Fun Over their Coronation Disappointment.

Washington, June 21.— Investigation of 'Chronic titleitis,' described as a disease of 'rich, trust-made American women,' is urged in a resolution introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Sabath, of Illinois, who would have the State Department inquire why only two dozen American peeresses have been granted permission to take part in the Coronation ceremonies in London, and to ascertain the amount this country is sending across the Atlantic annually to maintain the titles.

After demanding that light be thrown on the discriminations shown against the other American peeresses, the resolution calls for information as to the number of unhappy marriages and the amount of American money being spent in the chase after coronets. The information, says the resolution, is desired so that this government may judge 'to what extent our country is being benefited by this trade.'

BOMB CAUSED PANIC.

Series of Explosions in Chciago Conduit Puzzles Police.

Chicago, June 21.—A dynamite explosion in a conduit of the Commonwealth Edison Company, in Harmon Place, between Michigan and Wabash avenues, early to-day, broke windows in buildings for several blocks around and caused a panic in several hotels in the vicinity.

The explosion was the fifth within three weeks in the conduits of the Edison Company, and the police are working on the theory that the dynamite was placed by employees of the company in an effort to force it to abolish the open shop.

The detonation was heard for more than five miles, and many hundred panes of glass were broken, though no one was injured by the explosion.

WOOL TARIFF BILL.

United tSates Houes Adopts Revision Measure.

Washington, D.C., June 21.— The House of Representatives by a vote of 221 to 100 yesterday passed the Underwood Wool Tariff Revision Bill, providing for a reduction of the duty on wool and manufactures of wool. Twenty-four Republicans voted with the Democrats for the passage of the measure, and one Democrat, Representative Francis, of Ohio, voted against it.

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES

Toronto at Newark.
Rochester at Jersey City.
Buffalo at Baltimore.

Providence, R.I., June 20.— The Grays cleaned up the series with Montreal this afternoon, taking the final game by a score of 9 to 5. The game was full of sensational fielding by both teams, this fact alone saving both teams from getting into double figures.

Barberich was wild in the first five innings, and was hit hard with men on bases. On the other hand, Lavender went like a race horse for five innings, holding the Royals close to the ground, but as Barberich improved he went to pieces, and the visitors hit him hard in the last four innings, and but for some sensational work by the men behind him might have tied the game up in the ninth, when two hits and a base on balls crowded the bases with only one out. The victory was the fifth straight for the Grays.

The Grays scored three in the second. Elston walked, and so did Perry, Gillespie slapped out a double to left, on which two runs went across. Rock sent a single to centre, scoring Gillespie with the third run.

Gillespie opened the fourth with a pretty single to centre, and Rock followed with a bunt to Barberich, who made the play on Gillespie at second, but missed the mark and threw wild to right field. Gillespie cantered to third, and could have made the plate with ease, and Rock would have taken third had it not been for poor coaching. Rondeau grounded out, and Lavender died on strikes, but Anderson singled down the left foul line, driving in both Gillespie and Rock.

Lavender began to wobble in the fifth. Hanford walked and Anderson robbed Gandil of a double by a fine catch. Demmitt drew a pass, and the double steal was worked, Hanford taking third. Holly grounded out, Rock to McDermott, and Hanford scored.

The Grays went through the Royals like water through a sieve in their half of the round, and nine men faced Barberich, four runs being made. Atz walked and Perry singled. Elston slashed the ball over second for a single, Atz scoring. With Perry on third and Elston on first, the double steal was worked, Perry registering. McDermott sacrificed and Gillespie singled, Elston taking his run over. Rock forced Gillespie, and went to second on Rondeau's single. Lavender hit Yeager, who lost the ball, and Rock made the plate.

The Royals hit Lavender hard in the sixth, and made another run. French singled and Yeager duplicated. Miller forced Yeager, and French made third. Hanford's bid for a hit was killed by Rock, but French scored.

The Royals continued to find Lavender, and sent two runs over the plate in the seventh. Demmitt singled, and made the plate on Holl's triple. Curtis grounded out, but Barberich singled, Holly scoring. A triple by Hanford, followed by a sacrifice by Gandil, gave the Royals their last run in the eighth.

Jersey City, N.J., June 20.—Toronto concluded their second series with Jersey City this afternoon with an 8 to 3 victory. Kelley's men had a picnic with the curves of Justus, and slammed them to all corners of the lot, connecting 12 times for 7 runs in 7 innings. D. Rudolph kept the Skeeters' hits widely separated. Toronto fielded perfectly, while Jersey City was charged with 5 errors. Score:

SAILORS SHIPWRECKED.

Newark, N.J., June 20.—The Hustlers swamped the Indians to-day in a batting feast. The visitors hit the ball hard and freely. Simmons, Holmes, Moran and Alperman, each had a three-base hit to their credit. The Indians used three twirlers, including the 'Iron Man' McGinnity in an effort to stay the onslaught, but without avail. Each team made several errors and the visitors made more, but they won out, 11 to 8. McConnell was so wild he had to be taken out.

DIAMOND FLASHES

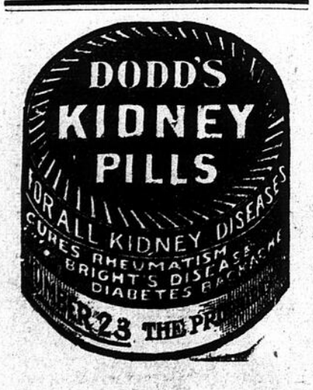
Barberich got in bad against his old mates. They all do now and then.

French had a big day with the stick, getting three hits. Holly and Hanford were there with the long ones, each getting a three-bagger during the contest.

The amateurish look of the scores to-day is a reminder of the early series, when every one was raising objections to the new ball. We had no kick coming in the games played at Atwater Park, as they were all small scores, and in no way looked like the southern brand. Is it possible to keep that much criticized cork pill for the benefit of the south side?

Manager McCafferty is to be congratulated on his success as manager so far. We hear of no discordant note among the men, and his judgment in keeping a player at it in the face of a few hits is not to be questioned adversely. Yesterday's game was quickly put on ice by the Grays getting an early start at Barberich. He finished strong, while Lavender was going to the bad in the latter end for the Clam Diggers.

Rock, a fair hitter usually, swelled his batting average considerably during the Montreal games, batting for .457 in the series. He is one of the best men in the short field in the league to-day, which is some rare going. When he was playing in his best days a few years ago the Boston Americans had about closed a deal for his purchase. A broken leg put him out of the game for a season and the deal for his services fell through. He makes no false moves in his playing, and is an easy going fielder, never having been put out of a game for any reason in eight years.



Chicago, June 21.—Announcement is made that six more clubs have been admitted to the Western Golf Association, making a total of 18 since the annual meeting last winter. The latest additions include the Essex County Golf and Country Club, Sandwich, Ont.; St. Catharines Golf Club, St. Catharines, Ont., and Walkerville Golf Club, Walkerville.

According to Attorney Robison Made Three Copies of His Will, All of Which Were Duly Attested.

St. Louis, June 21.—A contest for control of the St. Louis National League Baseball Club was begun between Harry Troll, St. Louis Public Administrator, and Edward A. Steininger, president of the club, when Troll yesterday filed what he claims is an authenticated copy of Stanley Robison's will, which had been probated in Cleveland, Ohio, where the baseball magnate died on March 24.

Troll, in filing his copy of the will, which he claims is the original, asked for the removal of Steininger as administrator of the Missouri estate of Robison. The present leader of the club was appointed by Probate Judge Holtcamp, on March 27, when he filed what purported to be a copy of the will, with a petition signed by Miss Sarah C. Hatheway Robison and Mrs. Helena Robison Britton, who asked that he be named.

The Robison etsate in Missouri consists for the most part of 996 shares of the St. Louis Athletic and Exhibition Company, the official name of the club.

According to Steininger, Robison made three copies of his will, each of which was signed by attesting witnesses. One of them he filed at the time he was appointed administrator. This document has been sent to Cleveland by Probate Judge Holtcamp, to have the witnesses there verify their signatures. When it returns Judge Holtcamp will decide the contest.

In case Troll wins he will have direction of the baseball team, and will receive a fee of five percent for all the money he handles for the estate.

LADIES AT GOLF.

The Beaconsfield ladies paid a visit to the Royal Montreal ladies and played them a friendly at Dixie yesterday afternoon, resulting in a win for the hostesses by a score of 13 to 1.

WESTMOUNT BOWLING.

Games for Club Trophy Unearth Trundling Stars.

Several games were played during the week-end for the Westmount Club Trophy. The new members added to the club's role this season are showing up particularly well, the play of H. A. Nelson, C. Alves, R. Gibb, C. P. Reiffenstein being generally commended.

Bell's rink had a walk-over with the McLaren quartette, but the match in which McPhee defeated Howell, developed an exciting finish. The score was 20 to 19 in favor of McPhee, with Howell lying two close shots. McPhee made a running shot, caught the pack with his backwood and with his second bowl drew in another.

Stewart Rutherford, another of the juveniles, repaid the good training of the veteran skips by defeating the club's stand-by, Henry Mason. The scores:

C. G. Mussen	O. Smith
A. Barry	W. E. Foster
W. Brisbane	P. W. McLagan
I. R. Bell (skip)—21	H. McLaren (skip)— 6

POINTE CLAIRE CLUB'S FETE.

The Pointé Claire Boating Club will hold a fete de nuit to celebrate the coronation. This will take the form of a flotilla of decorated boats of all descriptions, prizes being given for the best decorated in each classs.

The lake shore clubs have not in the past gone in for this class of entertainment, but as considerable interest is being taken in this 'Fete de Nuit' it is thought that the event will be a great success.

At 8 p.m. the boats will be formed into a procession and towed past the judges for inspection, and as darkness falls colored illuminations and fireworks will be set off. The procession will be followed by a dance, af which the prizes will be given to the owner of the best decorated boat in each class.

The big C. C. A. Eastern division meet, are holding their local spring regatta Saturday next. The club's paddlers have been practising hard for over a month, and some keen competition is expected. A cup will be put up for the competitor scoring the most points. A motor boat race is carded for the same day; also a high diving exhibition. There will be a dance in the evening.

WINGED WHEEL WHISPERS

Mr. John Davidson, managing director of the association, was just hurrying away from the lacrosse practice, to face a night's work at the club sanctum in Peel street, as a 'Witness' sporting representative made his call.

'Never in the history of the M.A.A.A. lacrosse,' said the courteous 'J. D.,' 'was so much enthusiasm in evidence in Canada's national sport as it is at present. The squad to a man turn out at the call of practice, and although the match with the Caughnawaga Indians is of the exhibition kind, it is being taken as seriously as if the N. L. U. championship depended on the result. It will be an interesting game and well worth seeing, as the Indians are anxious to acquit themselves well, having in view their possible inclusion to senior league company next season.

CAUGHNAWAGA INDIANS DON THE WAR PAINT

And Will Make Every Endeavor to Scalp the Wearers of the Winged Wheel Uniform To-morrow.

ON THE M. A. A. A. HUNTING GROUNDS.

How Lacrosse Was Originally Played by the Full-blooded Indians in the Days of the Dim and Distant Past — Many Innovations To-day.

The lacrosse fixture for to-morrow afternoon (Coronation Day) is an exhibition game between the Montreals and the Caughnawaga Indians. The chief interest in the match does not centre round its final issue (which is a a foregone conclusion), but rather as to the degree in which the red men have kept pace with the development of lacrosse, as it is played to-day. The origintocs of our national summer pastime (among whom figured the forefathers of our friends from Caughnawaga) would hardly recognize modern lacrosse as the child of their own nuturing had they the privilege of being reincarnated to pay a visit to the M.A.A.A. hunting grunds to-morrow afternoon. The aboriginal hair-takers would scorn with contempt the 'fishing nets' in use to-day—for tha original stick was gutted as tightly as in snowshoe, and required vastly more skill in catching, passing and shooting the ball. No nets graced either end of the field, but merely two upright poles stuck into the ground, and it was left to the quick eye of the umpire to judge when a goal was scored. The short, rapid passing is a modern innovation, and does away with the long throws from one end of the field to the other, for which Indian defence man was famous. Twenty-five years ago many a contest was engaged in between Shamrocks and the Caughnawaga team, and the difference in the relative lacrosse merits of the two teams and his red brother was not pronounced as it is to-day. John White, of Cornwall, and other men on the Caughnawagas were very few full-blooded Indians to be termed top-notchers which is peculiarly their own.

In addition to the lacrosse match to-morrow, Mr. Jacobs, the manager of the Caughnawagas, will fetch over a band of warriors to perform some features specially in honor of the coronation of their Big Chief in London. This will include the ceremony of painting a chief, in full native war paint, tomahawks, knives, feathers, etc., accompanied by blood-curdling warhoops and chanting. All will be realistic except the actual scalping, and those who hope to take from the craftiness their opponents in the lacrosse match

The Sons of Scotland-Royal Rovers match for the Rosemount Shield and medals, will be the Star Association Football attraction to-morrow, at which President Fred Barter and the members of the P. Q. F. A. will be present.

A rumor is in circulation that the game is not being taken seriously by the players, and that there are no medals for the winners of the trophy, and various other misleading and malicious statements calculated to detract from the importance of the match to-morrow.

On the contrary, both teams are anxious to win the coveted shield and the medals which accompany it, and a more seriously contested game will not be played this season. The game will not lack for anything in its manner of being handled when the name of Jim Clarke is put down as the referee, and his lieutenants on the line will be Messrs. P. Fitzpatrick and T. Brooks.

A great deal of interest is being attached to the coming match between the Rose and Thistle and Grand Trunk on the ground of the former. Up to now, the 'Elephants' have not dropped a point, and as next Saturday finishes the first half of the junior league schedule, they will have beaten every club in the junior league, should they win from the Rose and Thistle. To accomplish this, they will certainly have to go some, as the Rose and Thistle are putting on the field one of the best teams they have produced this season.

To forecast the result of such a match would be a difficult job, as one that would take some thinking out. Up to now, the Thistles have not lost a match on their own ground, and it is not likely that they will spoil their record just for the Grand Trunk. All things point to a good fast game, and one that will be enjoyed by those who avail themselves of seeing it. The Rose and Thistle hope to be presented by the following team: Burgess, Keyzer, Barton, Munro, Ross (Capt.), Hattrick, Atkins, Bendon, Oxley, Webber, Martin.

The management of the Rose and Thistle invite all those interested to come and see the game. To reach the ground one should take a Westmount street car and get off at Bourget street, Point St. Charles, and proceed south towards the river till they reach the ground, which cannot be mistaken.

LEGISLATIVE POWER OF THE DOMINIONS

Resolution to Increase its Scope is Finally Rejected

AT IMPERIAL CONFERENCE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Praises Home Government Officials—Mr. Asquith Optimistic in Reply.

(Canadian Associated Press).

London, June 21.—At the Imperial conference, at Monday afternoon's sitting, the delegates resumed consideration of the proposal of New Zealand for wider legislative powers with respect to British and foreign shipping. Mr. Buxton said the resolution was too wide and vague for the Government to propose legislation founded upon it. At present the principle of merchant shipping legislation was fairly plain, and simply modified by the power of the self-governing dominions to regulate their own coasting trade, and, by territorial limitations, their jurisdiction. If what New Zealand now desired was power to regulate round voyages beginning and ending in the Dominion, or that the Dominions should be empowered to pass reciprocal legislation, providing that the labor legislation of each Dominion should apply to their own registered vessels while in territorial waters of the other Dominions which were parties to the agreement, the Home Government would not stand in the way, but if, as he understood from Sir Joseph Ward's explanation, the proposal was to go considerably further, great caution was necessary. It should be borne in mind that the greater proportion of British and foreign commerce is conducted, not by liners regularly trading between given ports, but by tramp steamers, trading now in one part of the world, and now in another, according to the state of the freight market. The question would also have to be considered from the point of view of the competition of foreign shipping. Dominion conditions could not be so effectively enforced on foreign shipping as on British, with the result that the proposed powers would discriminate to the disadvantage of British ships. If an attempt were made to impose conditions and restrictions on foreign ships, and that attempt failed, a preference would be given to foreign shipping. If the attempt succeeded, retaliation would ensue, the whole force and brunt of which would fall on United Kingdom shipping. As the United Kingdom carried for the whole world, a large section of our carrying trade was very vulnerable to reprisals. He regretted that His Majesty's Government could not adopt the resolution as it stood. It was difficult to amend it in an acceptable manner, and he hoped Sir Joseph Ward would not press it.

DECLINED TO WITHDRAW.

Sir Joseph Ward said he was absolutely certain that something in the nature of this proposal was necessary to enable New Zealand to give effect to the labor conditions which the people there required. The resolution was intended to give the Dominions wider legislative powers than were contained in the Imperial Merchant Shipping Act, as without such powers they were unable to meet the position which recently had arisen. He, therefore, must decline to withdraw a proposal dealing with a matter so vital to his country.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said the discussion had emphasized the position which the Government of Canada had taken up, namely, that as they already had power to legislate on shipping it was desirable that their position should be made perfectly clear, so that they might know exactly where they were.

The Hon. L. P. Brodeur then cited cases in which the Canadian Government had passed legislation based on Imperial acts, and where those provisions had been repealed by subsequent Imperial legislation, with the result that Canada's legislative power had been seriously curtailed. They had a bill before the Canadian Parliament at present with the object of repealing sections of the Imperial Merchant Shipping Act of 1894, which were in conflict with their own legislation.

Mr. Harcourt said the British Government would abstain from voting on the resolution.

Premier Fisher said that Australia was satisfied with the powers which they contended they possessed. If supported, the resolution must not be taken as admitting that their powers were in any way limited. The resolution was then put to the conference. It was supported by Canada and New Zealand, but Great Britain, Australia, South Africa and Newfoundland abstained from voting.

Sir Joseph Ward moved that there should be more uniformity in the law as to alien immigration and exclusion. This should be referred to the royal commission already recommended. This suggestion was agreed to.

ENFORCEMENT OF JUDGMENTS.

Sir R. R. Isaacs then moved that the Government should consider, in concert with the Dominion Governments, whether and to what extent, and under what conditions, it was practicable and desirable to make mutual arrangements with a view to enforcement in one part of the Empire of judgments and orders of courts made in another part, including judgments, orders and commercial and arbitration awards. This was agreed to.

Premier Fisher moved that the United Kingdom continue to use its influence for obtaining a substantial reduction in the present charges on the Suez canal. This was also agreed to.

Yesterday's sitting of the conference approved the report of the committee on military defence, which had held two sittings.

Premier Fisher moved that the United Kingdom's ministers and the dominions' ministers, between conferences, exchange reciprocal visits so as to make themselves personally acquainted with all the self-governing parts of the Empire, and that the United Kingdom's Government consider the possibility of holding the next conference in one of the overseas dominions. He said the ministers could have no conception of the warm and kindly welcome they would receive if they were able to visit the dominions. As to conference sitting outside of London, the Imperial Government had not hesitated to send to different parts of Europe sometimes ministers of the highest standing to discuss special treaties, and he submitted that the discussions of the conference had as good a bearing on Government safety and the progress of the whole of the Empire as some of the most important treaties they had had.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he entirely approved the suggestion, and earnestly commended it to the consideration of the Home Government.

Sir Joseph Ward heartily endosed the sentiments, but as to the second part of the resolution, while he thoroughly agreed with the idea, he forsaw great difficulties in carying it out. It was practically impossible to transfer to one of the oversea dominions all the machinery for an imperial conference.

Sir Louis Botha doubted if the scheme were practicable, in London all ministers were available, and questions could be discused with them personally.

Premier Morris fully agreed with the desirability of the British ministers visiting the dominions, but he thought is was practically impossible that an imperial conference could be held elsewhere than in London.

PRACTIBILITY IS DOUBTED.

Mr. Asquith said that if he continued to be responsible for the conduct of public affairs, he would make every effort to ensure that one more of his colleagues would have the opportunity of acceding to the wishes so kindly expressed. While it would be very desirable, if possible, that the conference should meet in one of the domonions, he shared the doubts expressed as to the practicability of the suggestion, while yet preserving the full utility of the conference. Perhaps under the circumstances Premier Fisher would be content with the first portion of the resolution.

In reply, Premier Fisher said he did not wish to convey the idea that his second proposal was practicable at present. He simply put forward the view of its possibility being considered. Personally he believed the conference eventually would have to be held more frequently than once every four years. He believed the gatherings did more to help progress, reduce friction, and preserve peace than anything else.

The second portion of the rssolution was amended to read:—'That the United Kingdom take consideration of the possibility of holding a meeting of the conference or a subsidiary conference in one of the oversea dominions.' The whole resolution as amended was agreed to.'

SIR WILFRID LAURIER'S PRAISE.

In the concluding speeches, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, addressing Mr. Asquith, said:—'We have now reached the end of our labors and ere we separate I would claim the privilege, being the oldest member at this conference, to convey to yourself, sir, and Mr. Harcourt, the sense of our gratitude for the manner in which you and he have carried on the labors of this conference. It was well known in advance that you would preside over our deliberations with the dignity, fairness and courtesy which has marked your chairmanship all through the proceedings, which we are most happy to acknowledge, all and every one of us. Mr. Harcourt, being young in years and experience, was, if I may say so, under trial. You, sir, would be the first to admit that upon his shoulders fell the heaviest and most difficult part of the work of studying, mastering, classifying, preparing for discussion, and assisting in the solution of the various questions which came up for consideration, work which was unseen and unknown by the public, to be judged only when fully matured. This work Mr. Harcourt has carried out to the absolute and most general satisfaction of all the members of the conference. He has carried it out in a manner worthy of the name he bears of a long line of ancestors, who, in their generation, served their king in the councils of the nation, in church and army, and, above all, the last of his race before him, his illustrious father, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who has been the very embodiment of the best traditions of British parliamentary life. It would afford us, and does afford us, the greatest possible pleasure to proclaim, as we feel it, the deep sense of our appreciation of the many kindnesses and courtesies which we have received from him, from the King, from the Government, from the Opposition, and from the whole British people. Therefore, I beg to move as the last act of this confeernce this resolution, which I have asked my friend, Premier Ward, to second:

RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION.

'The members of this conference, representing the overseas dominions, desire, before they separate, to convey to the Prime Minister and the Secretary of the Colonies, their warm and sincere appreciation of the manner in which they have prepared, assisted in, and presided over, the labors of the conference, as well as of the many courtesies which we have received from them. They desire also to put on record their deep sense of gratitude for the generous hospitality that has been extended to them by the Government and people of the United Kingdom.'

Sir Wilfrid Laurier was warmly cheered.

Sir Joseph Ward, in seconding the motion, said: 'No one could express in more suitable language what was intended to be conveyed on behalf of the whole of us than Sir Wilfrid Laurier has done. I acknowledge, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, how much we are indebted to the kindness, courtesy, and consideration of Mr. Asquith, for the smooth running of the business of the conference, in many aspects of the very important questions that came before us. May I also be allowed to say how very highly we appreciate all that Mr. Harcourt has done for us, both officially and privately. I do not propose to go at length into the various matters we have dealt with, but it has just passed through my mind whilst Sir Wilfrid Laurier was speaking, that on all important questions of defence the information furnished us probably has never been of greater value to the oversea representatives than upon this occasion, because it will be so valuable to our countries and ourselves, in understanding and considering the difficulties of the home Government in connection with Empire defence. The important resolution which Sir Wilfrid Laurier has moved for the setting up of a royal commission, would, if nothing else had been done, in my opinion show that the calling together of representatives of the oversea dominions in conference with him and the ministers here, enables us to take a broad view, a practical view of the need for investigating difficult, different and complex questions, affecting the different portions of the Empire. Finally, I want to say that I endorse very humbly the expressions which fell from Sir Wilfrid Laurier regarding the kindness the King has shown us since we have been here. I desire to acknowledge the remarkable kindness which te members of the Government, from Premier Asquith downwards, have extended to us. I also acknowledge the kindly consideration shown us by the gentlemen who represent the Opposition here. This conference will, I believe, be productive of great good. I want to say, this, speaking as one who has had the honor of being at a former conference, and not one which has done more valuable work than the present conference.'

PREMIER BOTHA.

Premier Botha said: 'If we want to go good work for the Empire, the only way we can make the Empire greater is to do it through love and co-operation. I believe the people do not understand really what is taking place at this conference. Hitherto we have been negotiating with the United Kingdom Government and the United Kingdom. At the portals of the household. You have thought it wise to take the representatives of the dominions into the inner counsel of the nation, to discuss affairs of the Empire as they affect each and all of us. Time alone will discover what that means. I am optimistic. I would like to add, not as words of warning, but as words, shall I say, of wise reserve, that the people we represent should not be too anxious to know all the things that have been said by those who are responsible here to those who are immediately responsible in other parts of the dominions, but to rest content with the assurances that those who have the responsibility of advising him on questions of moment and great interest are doing the best they can in the interest, not only of the King himself, but of every subject who has the privilege of being under his reign.'

Premier Morris also spoke briefly.

MR. ASQUITH OPTIMISTIC.

Mr. Asquith spoke as follows:—'Your main obligations, so far as you are under obligation at all to persons in this matter, are due to my right honorable friend and colleague, Mr. Harcourt. I associate myself entirely, if I may do so, with every word of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's eloquent tribute. Mr. Harcourt has not been long at the Colonial Office, but I think I may venture to appeal to the verdict of you, who know better than any one else, and with more intimacy, more responsibility, what the affairs of Empire are, that he already has more than justified his selection for that responsible post (hear, hear), and that his work, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier says, not perceived, a work carried on behind the scenes, but none the less arduous and responsible, of preparing the ground for a meeting of this kind, has never been more efficiently performed. If I were asked to define what has been the dominant governing feature of the conference, I should say it has been the attempt to promote and develop closer co-operation through the old British institution of free and frank discussion. I think you will agree that the value of the conference and its permanent results are not to be judged entirely by the actual resolutions affirmed on the proposals adopted. I agree with Sir Joseph Ward that some more valuable, perhaps the most valuable, use to which we have been able to put our time, has been in the consideration of matters on which we have deliberated and abstained from coming to any, for the moment, definite conclusion, but upon which we have cleared the air and cleared the ground, and got a better mutual understanding of the relative reciprocal requirements. We see in truer perspective the proportion, bulk and dominance of not a few of our imperial problems, and that is the result which could never have been attained in any other way than by assembling together the responsible statesmen of the different parts of the Empire to hold a perfectly free interchange of opinion, each presenting those aspects of the case with which he himself from his own local experience was exceptionally familiar. You will all, I am sure, remember our meeting in committee of defence, when Sir E. Grey presented a survey of the foreign policy of the Empire. That is a thing which will be stamped upon all our recollections. I do not suppose there is one of us who did not feel when that exhibition of our foreign relation had been concluded that we realized in a much more intimate and comprehensive sense than ever before the international position and its bearings upon the problems of government in the different parts of the Empire itself. So again, our discussions conducted, as was also necessary, under the same veil of confidence in regard to co-operation for naval and military purposes, have resulted, I think, in a most satisfactory agreement, which, while it recognizes our common obligations, at the same time acknowledges with equal clearness those obligations that must be performed in the different parts of the Empire in accordance with the requirements of local opinion, local need, and local circumstances (hear, hear).

UNANIMOUS CONFERENCE.

Those, gentlemen, are matters on which we cannot take the world into our confidence. We cannot even take our own fellow subjects into our confidence in the full sense of the term, but we who have gone into it with a frankness which such confidential discussions admit of, will agree that even if the conference has done no more than that, it would have been a landmark in the development of what we may call our imperial constitutional history. When you come to the internal relations of the Empire itself, without attempting to give the exact order of precedence to the particular resolutions, I confess, speaking for myself, that I attach as much importance to that which was said and which is now agreed to with regard to the court of appeal as perhaps any other. I think, in regard to the constitution and practice of our Imperial Court of Appeal, the dominions had well-founded criticisms to make, which were put forward here with moderation, but with great point and force. I believe that the suggestions which the Government was able to indicate, and which have now received your approval, will, when carried into effect, displace these criticisms for the future and provide the Empire as a whole with a tribunal which will secure unanimous confidence. I think your assent to the propositions with regard to nationalization a very great step in advance. We shall all return to our respective spheres of duty with a stronger sense of our common obligation to the Empire, a more complete confidence one in another, and a more earnest determination to work together for the good of the whole.'

Mr. Harcourt said it would always be a pride to him to have taken part in the conference which has made so notable an advance in the policy of imperial co-operation.

CENSUS IS SECRET

Government Declares Information Must Not be Divulged

Ottawa, June 21.—Clerks engaged in the census department have been sworn to secrecy, and strict orders are issued that there should be no discussion even among themselves, as to the information supplied in the census schedules. The penalty for violation of this will be dismissal. The whole business is to be treated as confidential. In the case of information furnished by manufacturers, the name will be on a counter foil, which will be detached and the documents will be numbered. The clerks engaged in compiling will not know with whose figures they are dealing.

The reports indicate that the work is well advanced and proceeding with a remarkable absence of trouble. Compilation will start about the first of July. About a hundred machines of different kinds are being installed, and the bulk of the extra staff will go to work Monday. The principal delay will be in northern British Columbia, where, owing to rivers and mountains, some enumerators will several times have to buy and sell horses or boats with which to travel.

$700 Damage Awarded Against Ville Emard.

A verdict awarding $700 damage was rendered yesterday by a jury in the second case against Ville Emard and the St. Paul Electric and Power Company, for damages in connection with the Cote fire. This action was brought by Mr. Wilfrid Quesnel, who claimed that the lack of pressure allowed the fire to spread to his premises. Evidence by the ex-chief of the fire brigade, and the ex-Mayor of Ville Emard, supported the contention, and the verdict of the second jury was the same as that in the first case. Mr. Quesnel claimed $1,585 damages, but this was reduced to $700. Several other similar cases are pending, and will be heard in the fall.

An Unprecedented Proposition!

An Unprecedented Offer!

—AND—

An Unprecedented Sale!

Never before in the History of Real Estate operations on the Island of Montreal has such an unprecedented offer been made the public; nor been accepted with such avidity as my magnanimous Real Estate offering of Saturday when for the first time I placed 1,000 Lots on the market at $25.00 to $100.00 each. From the time the first paper appeared on the street, until eleven o'clock at night, there was a surging crowd inside and in front of my office, and my extensive office staff and force of 21 salesmen were kept busy explaining just where the PLAZA was, and writing out promises of sale. Over 350 Lots were disposed of during the day, and the possibilities of increased orders from anxious enquirers has augmented this amount considerably.

In my advertisement I announced that these Lots at $25.00 were on the Island of Montreal, but I did not mention that they were within a mile of the City limits, and that before long a Boulevard would connect the PLAZA with one of the finest Boulevards the City has at present.

I have told you what the PLAZA is, and what you can buy there, and will now tell you where it is, and how to get to it:

Back River---River des Prairies---Sault Recollet, all convey the idea of where it is located and its immediate connection to the West, with Angus Boulevard, explains just where the PLAZA is---

THE PLAZA

To get to the PLAZA take a St. Denis car and transfer to Back River car, which lets you off at our office right on the property, where my representatives will meet you, or make an appointment at my office, No. 517 St. Catherine Street West. Tel. Up. 2990, or Up. 1728, and I will arrange to take you out to the property.

"THE PLAZA" consists of some 200 arpents being 5 arpents or more wide by nearly 40 arpents in length. To the South end is part of the Angus Park property, and these two properties are connecting by a wide Boulevard which will extend to the City limits in a short time. PLAZA Boulevard, 95 feet wide, extends right through the PLAZA property and there are four other avenues: London, Paris, Rome and Berlin, with cross streets from 10 to 15 inclusive, and a magnificent River Road at the front of the property.

Nothing before in the way of prices has ever been attempted, and this fact is amply demonstrated by the property immediately adjoining selling 400 per cent. higher.

The Georgian Bay Canal scheme is evidently a very live issue from what Mr. James Ross has recently stated about it, and this is further emphasized by the fact that the Hon. Rudolph Lemieux, recently speaking at St. Vincent de Paul, advised the farmers to hold their farms for higher prices in view of the effect that this Canal route would have on their property.

TO REACH "THE PLAZA"

Take Amherst Car North to end of line and my Autos will meet you there.

These Lots are selling so rapidly and we have so many communications by wire and mail from out-side parties, that I do not think there will be many of these available in a short time. Act immediately and secure a few of them, as they will undoubtedly increase in value and bring considerable of a return on your investment - - - - - - - - - - - -

All our $25 Lots are gone, but we have choice Lots at $50 and $75 that are going fast.

You will never get a chance again like this.

Write, phone, or wire for reservation immediately.

'OLYMPIC' DOCKED AT NEW YORK.

New York, June 21.—The new White Star liner Olympic, the largest steamer afloat, arrived early this morning on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic. At 12.17 a.m. the lights of the mammoth ship were sighted east of Fire Island. Although this point is some distance from the New York water front, steamers are generally reported as arrived after passing there. The steamer docked later at the Chelsea Pier, to which a hundred foot extension was recently made so that she might be amply protected.

'IRIDESCENT DREAM'

United States Senator's Description of Annexation—What Uncle Sam Owes Britain

Washington, June 21.—Statements in the Senate yesterday by Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, that 'Whatever we have taken from England has been taken at the point of the bayonet,' produced the only tense moment of yesterday's short debate on the Canadian reciprocity bill. Senator Heyburn's remark, which he later explained extended only to governmental acquisitions, was challenged by Senator Bacon, of Georgia, as a 'grave matter,' in view of the pending arbitration negotiations with England.

'We have more to enjoy that we have received from England than from all the rest of the world put together,' said Senator Bacon.

Senator Gallinger brought on the controversy by asking if this nation did not owe more to England, in the way of reciprocity, than it did to Canada, because of the free trade market that England had always given to this country and the rest of the world.

Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, declared that his only hope of benefit from the Canadian reciprocity agreement was that it might lead to annexation of Canada. He met Senator Gallinger's argument that reciprocity ought to be given to Mexico and all other nations, if given to Canada, by saying that this country could not hope to annex the rest of the world.

'But if we can accomplish the annexation of Canada we will have done a great deal,' said Senator Nelson.

'Canadian annexation at this time is an irridescent dream,' said Senator Gallinger, who is a Canadian by birth. 'At one time it was seriously considered by the leading men of Canada; but now that country has grown to be a big, self-asserting nation, and by this treaty we will further strengthen it.'

'I am convinced,' added Senator Gallinger, 'that when this bill passes there are many Republicans on this side who will join the Democrats in kicking out the foundation stones of the protective tariff system. We will be fortunate if the whole structure of protection does not fall.'

Senator Cummins to-day introduced a number of amendments to the bill which were calculated to enlarge the list of articles that will be admitted free from Canada.

CHOLERA ON 'DUCA DEGLI ABRUZZI.'

New York, June 21.—The steamer Duca degli Abruzzi, which arrived yesterday from Naples, was discovered to have two cases of cholera on board. The patients were taken to the hospital on Swinburne Island, and all the steerage passengers will be detained at Hoffman Island.
