Government and dealers blamed in meat scandal

MONTREAL (CP) — The report of the Quebec Police Commission inquiry into organized crime, made public Thursday, said "an inconceivable immorality in the pursuit of quick profits" on the part of some government employees and meat dealers led to the province's tainted meat scandal.

The 270-page report hit the administrative sluggishness of the three levels of government in dealing with the sale of tainted meat.

It said the Quebec government took little action to curtail the trade despite numerous briefs and memos from government veterinarians and meat inspectors.

Blame was also cast on the federal government for failing to enforce provisions in the Food and Drug Act which outlaw the sale of consumers of meat from diseased or improperly slaughtered animals.

The report also noted that the City of Montreal failed to hire sufficient staff and provide proper working conditions for its meat inspection services. Establishments known to be unclear or to be handling meat of doubtful quality were not shut down, the report said.

Ten persons currently face charges of fraud, conspiracy and violation of the federal

Food and Drug Act in connection with evidence gathered during the inquiry. RECOMMENDS CHARGES

The report recommended that many of the witnesses who appeared before the inquiry be charged with felonies ranging from fraud and conspiracy to sell tainted meat for public consumption, to perjury for false testimony delivered before the inquiry during public hearings May 20 to June 26.

The report was also critical of provincial authorities responsible for meat inspection.

Hardest hit was Dr. Camille Julien, associate deputy minister in the Quebec agriculture department since March, 1970.

The report said his testimony showed he knew of the illicit trade from the time he entered the department in the mid-1960s and criticized him for not taking any earlier action, leaving ministerial levels uninformed of the trade.

Strict government directives to govern the behavior of inspectors were recommended in the report, including annual refresher courses for inspectors to keep up with developments in their field.

The report also urged tougher regulations for meat salvagers, on whom it placed a large part of the blame for the scandal.

It recommended that central salvaging operations be set up in regions where they would be economically feasible, adding that government inspectors should be on hand during the disposal of tainted meat.

Meat salvagers purchase lower-quality meat for pet food and fertilizer manufacture.

The inquiry report recommended the Quebec government re-evaluate its policy towards the province's 400 small slaughterhouses. A government order last summer forced the shutdown of many of these.

Quebec Solicitor-General Fernand Lalonde, who received the report Thursday afternoon, told reporters he did not believe that the question of the inquiry's legality, currently before the Supreme Court of Canada, would prevent the inquiry from resuming public hearings scheduled for Nov. 27.

Urges tighter control on existing abattoirs

The report also dealt with Quebec's small Class B slaughterhouses, of which there are about 400 in the province. A government order last summer forced the shutdown of many of these slaughterhouses.

The inquiry report urged tighter Quebec government controls on the operation of Class B slaughterhouses, so they could continue to serve their regions.

The last part of the report's recommendations involved the use of wiretapping in the gathering of information pertaining to criminal cases.

The report noted that its hearings proved the "efficiency" of practices such as electronic eavesdropping in putting together evidence.

"It is certain that without electronic eavesdropping, it would have been impossible to unfold all the ramifications of the different networks (of tainted meat)," the report said.

The inquiry recommended the Quebec justice department press the federal government to amend wiretapping laws in view of the inquiry's experience.

Meanwhile, at brief ceremonies Thursday to mark the handing over of the report to the Quebec solicitor-general, Mr. Lalonde, the inquiry received assurances that any challenge to its constitutionality would be met "vigorously."

Mr. Lalonde told reporters he did not believe a federal challenge to the inquiry's legality, currently before the Supreme Court of Canada, would prevent the inquiry from resuming public hearings scheduled for Nov. 27.

The minister said the inquiry's mandate, scheduled to expire Dec. 31, would be extended if necessary to allow it to prepare its report on matters still under investigation.

Magog firm gets go ahead to use Bell poles

OTTAWA (CP) — A Quebec cable television company has permission to string its cable lines on Bell Canada telephone poles in a landmark decision by the Canadian transport commission.

The commission ruled in a decision dated Wednesday that Bell must allow Transvision (Magog) Inc. of Magog, Que. to place its own cable wire on Bell poles.

"The decision means that Bell can no longer act unilaterally and arbitrarily in its dealings with cable companies in Quebec and Ontario," said Michael Hind-Smith, president of the Canadian Cable Television Association.

A Bell Canada official said the company has not yet decided whether to appeal the commission decision. He offered no further comment on the ruling.

The commission has never before ordered Bell Canada to grant these rights to cable companies. Bell leases its own cables to some cable companies but at terms some cable operators say are unfair. PERMISSION SOUGHT

 Cable companies have long fought for permission to put their cable lines on Bell poles, which they consider to be for public use.

Mr. Hind-Smith said that "it is too early to tell whether other cable companies will seek similar action."

The commission ruled that Transvision should be allowed to attach its cable wire to Bell poles for an appropriate rental fee. If the two parties reach an impasse on the rental charge the dispute must be referred to the commission for settlement.

Several cable companies sought permission from the commission in 1973 to enter into individual pole attachment agreements with Bell under the Bell Canada Act.

But the commission rejected that application, saying the companies were trying to substitute a new agreement for an existing contract that did not involve pole attachments of the sort permitted by the Bell act.

This ruling was upheld by the Federal Court of Canada. CASE DIFFERENT

However, the Transvision case is different, the commission said. Transvision was seeking permission under the Railway Act to string its lines near Bell telephone lines—on the same poles.

There was no existing agreement between Bell and Transvision.

The commission noted that Bell already provides for joint use of poles in an agreement with Quebec Hydro.

The Canadian Radio-Television Commission some years ago rejected a proposal by Bell Canada to own cable TV services. The CRTC said there should be a separation between companies providing broadcasting service and telecommunications carriers such as Bell.

Bell territory includes Ontario, Quebec, parts of Labrador and the Northwest Territories.

CRTC rules on cable in Sherbrooke area

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian Radio-Television Commission Thursday announced several decisions affecting cable broadcasting in Quebec.

National Cablevision Ltd. will be allowed to delete CKTM-TV Trois Rivieres and to substitute CKSH-TV Sherbrooke in its program schedule for Sherbrooke. Lennoxville Transvision

Inc. will be allowed to add CKSH-TV and CIVM-TV Montreal to its Lennoxville programming as well as CHLT-FM Sherbrooke and CFGL-FM Laval to its radio schedule.

J. Bergeron et Frere Ltee. of St. Tite will decrease its installation fee to $25 from $75 and increase its monthly subscriber fee to a maximum of $5 from $3.70.

Quebec in focus

Quebec incomes board

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec will establish its own board to control prices and incomes in line with the program announced Monday by Prime Minister Trudeau, Premier Robert Bourassa told a news conference Thursday.

Legislation will be introduced to set up the board as soon as the national assembly resumes sitting Nov. 4, Mr. Bourassa said.

The Quebec board will regulate increases in prices and incomes that come within the province's jurisdiction, such as professional fees.

Meetings with federal authorities next week will determine more specifically in what area the Quebec board will exercise power, the premier said.

Police release names

MONTREAL (CP) — Provincial police have released the names of two men who died Thursday when a 40-foot crane collapsed on a construction site near the recently-inaugurated Mirabel International Airport, 35 miles northwest of here.

Paul Bolduc, 27, and Raymond Tremblay, 39, both from Montreal, died at the site of a CP hotel under construction in the airport area. Cause of the accident has not been determined.

Three other men injured in the accident are in satisfactory condition at a nearby St. Jerome hospital, police said.

The workers were transferring tools and materials to the top level of the crane at the time of the accident, a police spokesman said earlier Thursday.

Farm damage loans

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec government will guarantee loans of up to $15,000 to farmers whose operations were damaged by tornadoes or landslides this year, Agriculture Minister Kevin Drummond announced Thursday.

The government also will pay all interest on the loans until June 30, 1976, but only five per cent of the interest after that date.

These special considerations are being granted to farmers in 17 designated areas under a law favoring special credit for agricultural producers in times of crisis, the minister said in a statement.

Farmers concerned must obtain authorization from the Quebec Farm Credit Board to obtain a loan of no more than $15,000 and of a duration no longer than 15 years.

The loans will be granted by chartered banks and credit unions at preferential rates no higher than one per cent above the institution's basic rate.

Designated areas where the program applies are: —St. Bonaventure, St. David and St. Joachim de Courval, about 60 miles east of Montreal, that were struck by a tornado July 24;

—St. Ambroise, Shipshaw, Chambord, Metabetchouan, Hebertville, St. Bruno, Bourget Township, Hebertville Station, St. Gedeon and Larouche in the Chicoutimi-Lac St. Jean area that were hit by a tornado June 23;

—St. Remi, St. Michel and St. Isidore, 20 to 30 miles south of Montreal, where a tornado struck May 31; —and St. Ambroise de Kildare in Joliette County where a landslide occurred last April 19.

All loans under the program must be contracted by Jan. 30, 1976.

Postal strike held off by negotiations

OTTAWA (CP) — The post office and the Canadian Union of Postal Workers (CUPW) today reopened contract negotiations in a final bid to avert a national postal strike.

Before the talks resumed, chief union negotiator Jean-Claude Parrot said the 22,000 CUPW members have given their executive authority to call a walkout if negotiations fail.

Postmaster-General Bryce Mackasey said the government has made contingency plans for the delivery of essential mail and "is prepared to sit it out for a long time" if necessary.

Both sides entered the new bargaining session far apart on wage proposals.

However, the renewed talks likely will be heavily influenced by the fact that the anti-inflation review board must approve any post office contract settlement exceeding the government's new selective wage controls which limit annual increases to a basic 10 per cent in the first year of a contract for more than four million workers.

Mr. Parrot could not predict how long the talks will last "but we hope they are serious negotiations this time."

WANTS $3.26

The union, which represents mail sorters and postal clerks, has demanded a 71-per-cent increase of $3.26 an hour in a one-year contract. The average wage for CUPW members now is $4.59 an hour.

Mr. Mackasey said Thursday he was prepared to approach any new talks "in a conciliatory mood."

However, he refused to say whether the post office will budge from its plan to offer a $1.70-an-hour increase in four raises over a 30-month period.

"The union has set a good climate and I am not going to negotiate in public."

Mr. Mackasey said he still supports the proposal for a $1.70-an-hour increase contained in a conciliation report prepared by Judge Jean Moisan of the Quebec Superior Court. It would give inside postal workers slightly more than letter carriers, who signed a contract last spring.

Quebec to set up its own board

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec government is to establish its own prices and incomes control board but Premier Robert Bourassa indicated Thursday the province is prepared to cooperate with the federal government in the fight against inflation.

Mr. Bourassa told a news conference the provincial board will be set up by legislation that will be presented to the Quebec national assembly when it resumes Nov. 4.

"We have decided to act within our jurisdiction, while in sectors where federal and provincial laws overlap, we are ready to make administrative agreements," he said.

However, the premier said no decision has been made on what powers will be ceded to Ottawa and he refused to disclose the mandate of the provincial control board.

He said it is premature to comment until the federal guidelines are worked out. It would be preferable to wait until after a meeting of provincial finance ministers with their federal counterparts scheduled for next week, he said.

"The legislation will contain provisions to enable the Quebec government to make administrative agreements with the federal government in certain precise jurisdictions," he said.

However, Mr. Bourassa gave no hint of a reduction in provincial government spending.

"The Quebec government has no intention of cutting expenditures that will aggravate unemployment and the economic position of lower-income groups," he said.

Currently involved in negotiations with its 300,000 civil servants, Mr. Bourassa said the government's pay offer to its employees, whose salaries represent almost half the provincial budget, has to be revised in light of federal wage restraints.

The premier said that in the revised proposals "we cannot but take into account catch-ups demanded by the civil servants and other groups."

"We will try and reconcile respect for the wage guidelines with particular catch-ups in certain sectors," he said.

He indicated Quebec nurses, pressing for wage parity with their Ontario counterparts, may be included in the exempt category.

Asked whether civil servants would get more than the 10 per cent permitted under federal guidelines, he said: "We have to take inflation into account."

Air Canada completes phase of aircraft sales and lease-back investment program

MONTREAL — In a continuing effort to satisfy long-term financial requirements, Air Canada announced last week the completion of an important phase in its aircraft sale and lease-back investment program which will generate more than $42-million in new capital.

Three aircraft are involved in the current program including two Lockheed 1011s and one Boeing 727.

In making the announcement, Michael Cochrane, vice-president-finance, stated that a portion of the funds were raised by introducing a completely new and innovative leasing plan which, for the first time, will enable an individual financial institution to own a large commercial aircraft independently.

"Up to this point in time, the company's leasing activity was confined primarily to syndicates of Canadian financial institutions," said Mr. Cochrane. "However, the new plan now makes it possible for an individual organization, in this case Royal Trust Company, to own an aircraft outright."

The leasing plan which involved the sale and lease-back of a Lockheed 1011 aircraft was developed by Air Canada and Royal Trust with the assistance of McLeod, Young, Weir, a major Canadian investment house.

Mr. Cochrane stated the two other aircraft involved in the current program were purchased by a group of major Canadian financial institutions.

"Investors will receive rental payments plus the residual value of the aircraft at the end of a 16 year period," he said.

Mr. Cochrane said the airline expects to raise more than $100 million by year end through its highly successful 1975 aircraft leasing program. "What this means is that Air Canada will have been successful in raising more than $150 million in new capital through aircraft lease agreements during the last two years."

Traditionally, the airline met most of its capital requirements from internally generated funds and through the issuance of notes and debentures primarily to the Government of Canada.

"It is important to note that the success of this leasing plan has placed Air Canada in a position where it will not be dependent on the Government of Canada for any new financing in 1975 or the foreseeable future," declared Mr. Cochrane.

The current leasing program brings to eight the number of aircraft involved in the airline's aircraft sale and lease-back program including four Lockheed 1011s, three Boeing 727s and one Douglas DC-9.

Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Negative reaction to the federal government's economic restraints and late losses on Wall Street helped push prices sharply lower on the Toronto stock market Thursday.

The industrial index, a major indicator of market trend, fell 1.42 to 174.61, its lowest level since Jan. 23. Base metals dipped .08 to 73.65 and western oils .09 to 189.09. Golds rose 1.83 to 304.49.

Analysts said investors were especially concerned about Ottawa's intention to not permit any increase in the dollar value of dividends per share during the next year, apart from certain exemptions.

Trading remained light with the volume dropping to 1.26 million shares from 1.30 million Wednesday. Value was $12.64 million, down from $14.4 million Wednesday.

A 360 four-barrel, eight cylinder is also available.

Shell Canada president calls for oil price control removal

WINNIPEG (CP) — C. William Daniel, president of Shell Canada Ltd., said Wednesday that removal of provincial oil price controls is urgently needed.

"The continuation of price freezes will result in a slowdown in activity by the companies who are most likely to discover and develop new resources," he told a Rotary Club luncheon.

The provincial price freezes are estimated to have cost the oil industry many millions of dollars in lost revenues, he said.

"We estimate that the price freeze in Ontario of 4 1/2 months will affect our company alone by some $23 million in lost revenue."

The oil from Alberta and Saskatchewan costs the oil companies $8 a barrel but, with the price freezes, the companies can recover only $6.50 of its raw material costs, he said.

"We have no choice but to pay the higher cost because an integrated system such as ours must immediately replace at the in end each barrel of oil used when the product leaves the oil end. We cannot allow the system to run down. There must be continuous flow."

Because of reduced incomes, Mr. Daniel said the oil industry has had to obtain funds from other sources to finance higher crude oil costs.

He said the companies have had to either borrow money which results in increased operating costs or divert funds from other productive uses.

A text of his speech was released in advance of delivery.

Prices are also frozen in Manitoba, he said, while British Columbia has allowed increases for some products but not others. Nova Scotia requires that fuel price changes be approved by its Public Utilities Board and New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island are now calling for their own reviews.

ACTION UNEXPECTED

Mr. Daniel said when the industry agreed to cooperate with the federal government's request for a 45-day delay in passing on increased energy costs to the consumer, the industry did not anticipate additional price freezes being imposed by the provinces.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, encouraged by another U.S. federal reserve board move to stimulate the economy, got off to a strong start Thursday only to give up most of its gains later in profit taking.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials settled for a .65 advance at 837.85 after having been ahead as much as 8 points early in the afternoon.

Standard and Poor's 500-stock index moved up .14 to Brokers said the catalyst for the early buying was the reserve board's announcement late Wednesday that it was lowering to one per cent from three per cent the amount of reserves member banks must hold against time deposits.

The cut had the effect of injecting some additional funds into the banking system, thus making more money available to fuel a rebound from the recession.

HOPES HEIGHTENED

While the total involved was modest, analysts said, the move also represented further evidence of a more relaxed credit policy by the reserve board and thus heightened hopes for a downturn in interest rates.

Rates in both the bond and short-term money markets fell in reaction to the news.

The waning of enthusiasm in the stock market late in the day was blamed mainly on technical forces.

Brokers noted that chart-watching investors still seemed uneasy over the Dow's immediate chances for breaking through the 840 area and holding above that point.

Westinghouse Electric was the most active issue on the NYSE, down 3/4 at $13. A 268,000-share block traded at that price.

AMP fell 1 1/4 to $26 3/4. Texas Instruments was down 4 1/4 at $98 3/4 and Motorola lost 2 3/4 to $43 1/4 on negative comment on electronics stocks in a Wall St. Journal article.

Cowansville plans industrial mall

COWANSVILLE (JM) — Mayor Rosaire Raymond and Industrial Commissioner Jean-Jacques Trevaud unveiled plans for a new industrial mall on Textile St. at a press conference held at the town hall here Wed. night.

The project will comprise 18,000 square feet. Norbert Dunlavey, promoter of the project, explained the building which is aimed at attracting secondary industries will be separated into single or multiple units of 4,500 square feet which will be rented according to the needs of future users.

The commission will reveal the names of the new industries which will be settling here sometime in the near future.

Mayor Raymond and Mr. Trevaud then revealed a speculative investment of additional industrial space which will either be rented or sold and will be located in Cowansville's Industrial Park on Blvd. Jean-Jacques Bertrand. Full details of the size and type of the buildings will be given at a later date.

Both projects were developed and financed locally.

The mayor and the industrial commissioner are leaving for Germany when Mr. Trevaud will attend a seminar on foreign investment in Quebec which will be held in Frankfurt, West Germany Oct. 21 and 22. Premier Robert Bourassa will chair the seminar.

This is the first time the Cowansville-Bromont industrial Commission has attended an official function in Germany and it is hoped contacts established there will benefit future industrial developments here.

Mayor Raymond said he would be meeting with the mayor of a yet unidentified town of a similar size in West Germany with a view towards "twinning" on the eve of Cowansville's centenary. He refused to reveal the name of the town until his return from Europe later this month.

Hospital sets up program for volunteer services

SHERBROOKE (SB) — Not everyone has the temperament or inclination to be a volunteer, but for those who have the desire, the willingness and the ability to serve, there are many rewards says Mrs. Elsie Linholm, Sherbrooke Hospital's new Director of Volunteer Services.

Mrs. Linholm, of Magog, was hired on a part-time basis last June to co-ordinate the volunteer services program, a program supported financially by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Sherbrooke Hospital.

From her office in the Norton Annex, Mrs. Linholm presently co-ordinates the movements of some 25 volunteers dispersed throughout the various departments of the hospital. The volunteers range from high school students, or Volunteers as they are called at the hospital, to mature community members, who give their free time to the hospital and its patients.

In an interview last week, Mrs. Linholm stated that she was very pleased with the work being done by the volunteers and also that the hospital staff has been extremely responsive to the program. Prior to opening the department, Mrs. Linholm visited some of the major hospitals to get some idea as to how they ran their respective volunteer services programs. And she was amazed at the number of volunteers participating as well as the zeal displayed by the volunteers in their work at the hospitals.

To enlarge the volunteer staff at the Sherbrooke Hospital, Mrs. Linholm will be visiting various community groups in the area. She has already spoken to the Red Cross Youth group at Alexander Galt School concerning the Volunteers program at the hospital.

A volunteer is anyone who wishes to help his or her fellow man; there's no age limit and the volunteer is oriented to the workings of the hospital during his or her interview with Mrs. Linholm. On-job training is done by the staff requesting volunteer services.

Mrs. Linholm also stated that she would like to see more male volunteers as well as a night program to visit with the patients after the dinner meal has been served as a way to tone down the sudden change from normal, active life to the restricted confines of hospital life.

Anyone wishing more information on the volunteer program, contact Mrs. Linholm at Norton Annex of the Sherbrooke Hospital or by calling 569-3661 ext. 276.

UPA calls for regional abattoirs

SHERBROOKE (SB) — The UPA (Union des Producteurs Agricoles), Eastern Townships Congress has called on the provincial UPA to apply pressure on the provincial government regarding its stand on abattoirs.

At Thursday's regional congress held at the University of Sherbrooke, the UPA passed a resolution calling for the operation of one abattoir for each 10 mile radius. In this way farmers would have no further than 10 miles to transport cattle for slaughter. Some existing small abattoirs would be closed as a result, but far fewer than the number the government has been considering.

The resolution is in response to recent government proposals to close down all small abattoirs in the province. Much protest has come from farmers and abattoir owners who feel that the farmer and small abattoir operator would be unnecessarily penalized by such a move.

Included on Thursday's agenda was the election of a new president to replace Denis Messier of Bromptonville. Lionel Drouin, of Waterville, was elected to the post.

The federation also asked delegates for a raise in membership fees, stating that the boost to $50 from the present $25 was due to the effects of inflation. The raise was necessary if the Federation wished to remain independent. After much discussion the delegates voted in favor of the raise.

The UPA English sector, one of the four mini-sectors which make up the Federation, elected Douglas B. MacKinnon, president, producers must buy their grain from the western provinces, the federal government will be requested initiate construction of storage silos in Quebec to increase the amount of bushels stored in the productive regions Lake Megantic and Sherbrooke will be suggested as sites for the silos.

Considering the role of the producer's wife on the farm the Federation put forth a request that wives be included in the provincial pension plan and also that the wife's personal exemption be raised to $2,000.

Besides the producers present at the congress were Lionel Bombardier and Ivan Charland, representing the Ministry of Agriculture, and Armand Guérard, first vice-president of the Quebec UPA.

Library opens campaign

LENNOXVILLE — The annual Lennoxville Library campaign will be on Monday, Oct. 20. Volunteers will canvass the area for financial support.

Apart from a small government grant and the provision of premises by the Town of Lennoxville, the library is self supporting. Operating expenses are met by the membership fees and by an annual campaign for funds.

Since 1912, the Lennoxville Library has been in constant use. The Library contains about 8,000 volumes, including an excellent selection of recent fiction and non-fiction, and a large number of children's books.

Children may use the library facilities free of charge. Its main aim is to introduce children to the world of reading and individual assistance will be given upon request. There is a minimal yearly fee for adult membership.

Visitors are welcome during the library hours of 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, or from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday and Friday. Prospective members are invited to consult with the librarian, Mrs. Barbara Gosselin.

The campaign is a special appeal for Lennoxville residents to support a need in the community.

Stanstead College

By IVY HATCH

The boys were home on the Thanksgiving holiday weekend leaving on Saturday after lunch and returning on Tuesday evening. Friday evening the Thanksgiving dinner took place in the dining hall where guests included Mr. and Mrs. A.P. Gordon, also Mr. and Mrs. Carpentieri of Flushing, New York, who were at the Imperial and visiting their sons, Peter and John, students here at Stanstead.

Saturday five of our teams played football and soccer with teams from Alexander Galt. But another group of boys under the direction of staff Peter Ashworth worked hard washing cars to raise a gift of money to give to Mr. and Mrs. Allison Dustin "Dusty" as he is familiarly known here at the school.

Dusty has been employed here at Stanstead over a period of many years, now he keeps the Amaran Gym and the Ralph B. Hood Buildings in tip top shape. As one of the boys said, "He picks up our towels and clothes we forget." Everyone was saddened when the Dustin home was destroyed by fire but the boys got into immediate action.

The boys as well as members of staff have contributed money, clothing and so forth to assist the family in their trouble and at the Thanksgiving dinner on Friday night, Headmaster Thomas Russell told the boys he was proud of their action especially at a time "when we have so much to be thankful for."

October 20 the teaching staff and wives are entertaining local area school teachers and their "better half" in Lebaron Hall reception room as a get-acquainted affair.

PCs to meet

COWANSVILLE (JM) — The Brome-Missisquoi Progressive Conservative Association will hold a meeting at the St. Leon Community Center here Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. to elect a new slate of officers and to name delegates to the national leadership convention to be held in Ottawa next February. All are welcome to attend.

It is expected Heward

Graffey, MP Brome-Missisquoi, and the first declared candidate for the national P.C. leadership, will discuss the party's success in the byelection held in the Montreal riding of Hochelaga earlier this week when Jacques Lavoie easily defeated Communications Minister Pierre Juneau.

The Liberals had been undefeated in Montreal-Hochelaga since 1921.

Callaghan writes thinly veiled biography

A Fine and Private Place
 By Morley Callaghan
 MacMillan of Canada
 $9.95; 213 pages

After a 14 year hiatus we have a new novel by Morley Callaghan. This novel, his seventeenth published work, was chosen by Book of the Month Club as a summer selection. Before reviewing it it might be worthwhile to refresh the reader's memory about the author, as one of the characters, Eugene Shore an elderly writer, is so clearly based on Mr. Callaghan himself.

Morley Callaghan, a graduate of University of Toronto, was called to the bar in 1928 but never practised. He was at one time a cub reporter on the Toronto Star alongside Hemingway and Fitzgerald and he soon became a well known short story writer. He travelled a great deal and lived in Paris for some time, settling eventually in Toronto. Amongst his literary honours is a nomination for the Nobel Prize in Literature, the Canada Council Medal and the Governor General's Award.

Despite Callaghan's obvious success and recognition as an outstanding Canadian writer,

Edmund Wilson, a highly acclaimed critic, in a piece in the New Yorker magazine on Canadian writers, called Callaghan "the most unjustly neglected novelist in the English-speaking world." Later, the New York Times said, "If there is a better short story writer in the world, we don't know where he is." Shore, the writer in the book has even written novels whose themes are assuredly based on Callaghan's "Such is my Beloved" and "More Joy in Heaven". There is a great deal of stress on the fact that Shore is not appreciated in his own city (clearly Toronto), or country for that matter. The autobiographical overtones are very obvious.

Although the story subtly revolves around Shore, its central character is Al Delaney, a young graduate student who drives a cab to support himself and is working on a PhD thesis on Norman Mailer. Delaney falls in love with Lisa Tolen, a rich and possessive, but lovely, T.V. researcher. Al moves in with her and all seems to go well until the two lovers accidentally become involved with Eugene Shore. Al becomes deeply immersed in writing a book on the elusive author but his subsequent obsession with his subject, and Lisa's jealousy and hostility, cause the romance to shatter temporarily but violently. Shore's private world is invaded by Al and Lisa and he eventually becomes very involved with Al's project but his spectre is a constant threat to the relationship. The introduction of an abrasive and overzealous policeman gives a new twist to the story and the effect he has as a catalyst changes the course of events drastically.

The ending was a bit disappointing. Just what part does the cop or Lisa, with her tragic meddling, play in Shore's sudden death? Was it accidental? Is it possible after Shore's demise, despite Al's new understanding of the man and his writings, that the lovers can patch things up? Will Lisa ever be able to come to grips with her private guilt? One ponders these questions and more but can't tune in next week to find out!

Although the plot is weak at times, the style is lean and smooth and the characters are for the most part well developed. However, the parallel between Shore and Callaghan is so thinly veiled that frankly one is not sure if the author wrote the novel with tongue-in-cheek or as a self-advertisement, a la Mailer. If the latter assumption is indeed correct it is rather pathetic that a writer of Morley Callaghan's talent and established reputation, here and abroad, should use such chicanery in writing what amounts to his own literary obituary.

UN is all we have

In the thermonuclear age, the peaceful solution of international problems could be the salvation of mankind. Indeed, every life saved in the continuing and bitter confrontation between Israel and the Arab states should be seen as a monument to the civilizing influence that individuals and organizations can still bring to bear on the opponents.

The one organization that truly embodies the dream of mankind to create a better world is the United Nations, which now has 138 member states. The United Nations has been called spineless, devoid of power, a body that turns its back on problems, a club of poor nations that wish to take from the rich.

These are the sweeping generalizations which the critics of the United Nations like to throw at the organization. The truth is that the UN has helped to prevent wars, has helped — by persuasion and by police action — to halt wars. The Indo-Pakistani war of 1965 was one such example.

Those who wish to foster public disdain or hostility toward the UN (and there are signs that the popularity of the world organization among the public is decreasing) are playing with fire. It is a cliché to say that if the UN were to cease its existence, it would have to be invented all over again. And yet it is true.

Among the Sinners

The European Economic Community is suddenly alarmed by the revival of protectionism in the United States, the world's largest single market. Canada has reason for alarm, too, because it depends more than any nation on that market, and the world market as a whole. The immediate cause of the latest transatlantic dispute is the U. S. Steel Corporation's demand for high countervailing duties on competitive products from Europe on the ground that they are unfairly subsidized through the EEC tax system.

If this demand is granted, many industries besides steel will seek the same treatment and some of them are seeking it already. The Ford government is under strong pressure to curtail imports of foodstuffs, automobiles, shoes and various manufactured goods. As he approaches next year's election the president, and leader of the traditionally protectionist Republican party, will need all his political courage to resist the pleas of his supposed friends, and especially of the labor unions.

Answering the U.S. Steel Corporation's request for increased tariffs, the EEC commission issued a remarkably blunt statement: "In this case, as in others, the commission looks to the United States administration to respect its international obligations and to exercise its general responsibility with other members of the international community to control the forces of protectionism."

Bethune biography well documented

"Bethune" by Roderick Stewart: New Press $10.00, 210 pages.

Mr. Stewart's biography of Dr. Norman Bethune is a well documented piece of work that gives a fairly comprehensive picture of this talented and enigmatic Canadian. However, it is inevitable when reviewing biographies to compare one work to another and I feel that Ted Allan and Sydney Gordon's revised edition of "The Scalpel, The Sword" captures the multifaceted personality of Bethune more accurately. Mr. Allan had a distinct advantage over Mr. Stewart in that he personally knew his subject and had a love-hate, father-son relationship with him, and as a result his book is less journalistic and more empathetic. Both books are nevertheless valuable in capturing the elusiveness of this controversial figure and should be compulsory reading for Canadian students.

It is incredible that a man of such stature and obvious accomplishment as Dr. Bethune, hero to one quarter of the world's population, is little known here in Canada, his homeland. It is a sad statement of our narrow-mindedness and provincial outlook that such a distinguished personage should be all but ignored by his countrymen because of his political beliefs and affiliations.

In short, Mr. Stewart's book takes us from Bethune's birth in Gravenhurst, Ontario in 1890, through his medical training, personal battle with tuberculosis, stormy marital problems, career as a thoracic surgeon and his years in Spain and in China, where he died of septicemia in 1939.

It is intriguing to observe the metamorphosis that took place in Bethune's lifetime from a hedonistic bourgeois (who could be described by all of the following adjectives: agnostic, attractive, intolerant, irascible, conceited, obnoxious, unstable, sympathetic and unorthodox!), to a selfless, indomitable and courageous humanitarian, whose tireless dedication to the sick, wounded and oppressed was a source of inspiration to all who came in contact with him.

How many Canadians know that in Spain, while fighting Franco's Loyalists, Bethune revolutionized wartime medical care with his system of mobile blood transfusion units? In China, where he went to help the Chinese in their fight for political freedom, his medical accomplishments working with the Eighth Route Army were legion and earned him the role of one of the most revered heroes of the Chinese Revolution. Bethune's pioneering in medical and surgical procedures in guerilla warfare, his village blood banks, portable surgical units and his training of paramedical and medical personnel saved thousands of lives.

Norman Bethune had always had a terrific drive to help his fellow man and he loathed oppression of any kind. He became discouraged and disgusted by the materialistic credo of Western Society, especially as evidenced in some medical practices where the doctors seemed more interested in their own revenue than their patients' welfare. His sojourns in Spain and later in China provided him with the ideal medium in which to grow and develop, utilizing all his resources, talents, individualism and idealism.

One feels in reading Mr. Stewart's book that the biography is basically unbiased and the Bethune's communism, the "bete noire" that has haunted his reputation, was perhaps more an extension of his deep humanitarianism than simply a political idealism. This biography helps us to appreciate Bethune for his many contributions to medicine and to mankind and to put his achievements, irrespective of his politics, into perspective.

Two part novel fails

"The Traitor and Oram" by Charlotte Douglas: Vantage Press, $4.95, 115 pages.

As a reviewer I feel it is my duty to read a book in its entirety, and it is sad to say that in the case of Ms. Douglas' mini-opus it was time misspent. The book is really two novelettes. The first, "Traitor", is in two parts. The first part deals with a terminally ill priest, who falls in love with a young cleaning-girl in his hospital ward and is snatched from having to break his vow of chastity by the Angel of Death. The story is quite well written but unfortunately the second part, which one assumes is about the reincarnation of the priest as a kinky homosexual, reads like a trip through a Hieronymus Bosch painting without benefit of a guide.

The second story, "Oram", is a loosely hinged, imagery-laden tale of two hippies. Oram the revolutionary in search of a revolution, and his lady-love Josiah. The couple stumbles on a deserted log cabin whilst escaping the restrictions of urban civilization and lives there happily until the owner, all done up as the Devil's Disciple, arrives on the scene and disrupts the harmony with his Machiavellian machinations. The finale, which is pretty flabby, is fraught with symbolism and closes a rather dismal little book on a pathetic note.

One is able to glimpse literary talent from time to time but Ms. Douglas doesn't quite make it as a wit or a storyteller.

Royal palace is focal point

BUDAPEST (CP) — After 30 years, the royal palace once again is the focal point of Budapest. It sits high on one of the Buda hills and for centuries has been the cynosure of eyes looking up from the Pest side of the River Danube at the turrets, steeples and domes of Castle Hill.

Near the end of the Second World War, Nazi troops moved into the palace and when they were forced out, they bombed it, leaving it, along with much of Budapest and the city's bridges, in ruins. With so much reconstruction going on, work on the castle wasn't started until 1959.

Some of the rubble remains but the palace looks much as it did before the war with its baroque facade restored and its dome replaced. Instead of copying the previous baroque style of the interior, the architects have designed great, open halls with red marble floors, columns and walls. The new dome is a glorious orb of white plaster and glass. During rehabilitation the walls of earlier fortresses, castles and dungeons, along with Turkish tombstones were unearthed and these have been left to give visitors a glimpse of still earlier times.

PUT TO NEW USES

In its reincarnation, the palace is being put to new uses in contrast with its past as housing for royalty, government or the military.

Now it is the cultural centre of Budapest and the new home of the National Gallery. A public library aiming to be the most up to date in central Europe will open in 1976.

NEW YORK — Cell surgery, a method of dissecting with glass points not much thicker than a wave of red light, was demonstrated to the New York Electrical Society last night.

The points are about one-twenty-five thousandths of an inch in diameter, made by drawing out a molten glass tube.

This surgery is used to explore single cells of living bodies, to capture bacteria singly, and is valuable for industrial work in isolating individual holds and spores.

The technique shown last night was perfected by Dr. Robert Chambers, professor of biology of New York University, and in his absence was explained by Dr. Henry J. Fry, another biology professor, with the aid of microscopic motion pictures devised by C.G. Brand, also of New York University.

The apparatus is named micromanipulator. The picture showed single cell animals, such as an amoeba, in a drop of water suspended from the bottom side of a pane of glass, a microscope above the glass, a light shining through the drop from below, and the glass needles, operated by thumb screws, reaching like fingers into a drop of water.

PLOW MATCH — Phillip Bowen is seen plowing five furrows with Willie Antink's new outfit at last Saturday's Stanstead County Plow Match. Winners will be announced at this weekend's banquet to be held in the United Church Hall, Hatley.

STANSTEAD (IH) — Another successful Stanstead County Ploughing Match was held on Saturday, Oct. 11 at the Steve Brus farm at Cassville on Route 143, Stanstead.

There were 41 tractors and men ploughing and a team of beautiful horses owned by Billy Nelson and Bill Delaney of Kingsbury. They were trucked to the Brus farm by Cecil Johnston also from Kingsbury; then the three men ploughed in competition with Sally and Queen. It was a real treat to see horses pulling the plow.

Alex Johnston, Stanstead, 74, was the oldest ploughman in the field. This year he had his grandson also ploughing and from the plot ploughing it looks like he will be as good a plowman as his grandfather. Johnny Brus, 10, was the youngest plowman in the field.

Judges were Herb Winget and Don Goodfellow. Alvin Smith was field judge. They, along with Agronome Narcisse Dery, will speak at the Plowmen's supper to be held on Oct. 18 at the United Church in Hatley. Films and other speakers, the announcement of the October 11 winners and presentation of trophies and prizes will make up the program.

The directors who work hard to make the plowing match a success were pleased that many spectators came to see the match. Many took pictures. At noon Kentucky Fried chicken boxes were available.

Anne Louise Carson was presented with a crown and $15 as queen of the local club. A cash donation was given to the local plowing match.

A short business meeting was held. Rev. D. McKenzie showed slides on Scheferville. He and Mrs. McKenzie gave a very interesting commentary on mining soil and climate of the area. As the climate is too cold for vegetation, all food is brought in. The only trees are very small firs. The only time there is grass is when a visiting dignitary comes and they bring in turf to build a few lawns.

At the close of the evening a lunch was served while a social time was enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie answering many questions.

This is the year to compare Plymouth

1976 Plymouth Valiant Silver Duster

Compare! '76 Plymouth Torsion Bar Ride

Torsion bar suspension is Plymouth's way of making sure you get a ride that's both quiet and comfortable. Better than springs, torsion bars smooth out rough spots, give you the precise handling and quick response you have every right to expect from the car you drive.

New cars, new car claims. It can be confusing! That's why this year more than ever, you must compare Plymouth.

Compare 1976 Plymouth Valiant. What performance! What economy! Easy to see why Plymouth Valiant is Canada's best selling compact car.

Compare 1976 Plymouth Fury. Handles beautifully like the beautiful mid-size car it is, yet gives you all the comfort and luxury of the big ones.

And compare full-size Plymouth Gran Fury for 1976. Excellence in engineering, in design, in superb luxury features will make you glad you compared.

Yes, before you buy, make the 1976 Plymouth comparison at your Plymouth dealer's.

Compare! '76 Plymouth Unibody Construction

If you could count them, you'd find more than 4,000 individual welds in the frame of every '76 Plymouth. That's unibody construction, and means you get a tight, tough, shake-resistant structure for a ride that's not only quiet, it's safer too.

Compare! '76 Plymouth Living Room Comfort

There's head room, leg room, elbow room to spare. From compact Valiant to full-size Gran Fury, every '76 Plymouth has the kind of passenger room that demands comparison. And you can add options like air conditioning and a sun roof to make your '76 Plymouth an even greater pleasure to drive.

Compare! THE CHRYSLER WARRANTY

It's a 12 month unlimited mileage warranty, and that means from the moment you slip behind the wheel of your '76 Plymouth you're covered for a full year, no matter how many miles you drive. Covered for any part that proves defective or wears out including shocks, mufflers, brake linings, disc brake pads. Even the tires are covered, by the people who make them. All you have to do is perform normal maintenance like changing oil filters and wiper blades. (Warranty for taxis and police cars is 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first.)

Polly's Pointers Polish plastic with toothpaste

By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY - Do you know how to remove ballpoint ink marks from a plastic purse? I am not really sure if it is plastic or imitation leather. Any information would be greatly appreciated. This is a purse I use all the time and it is embarrassing to walk around with such stains on an ivory colored purse. - GLORIA.

DEAR GLORIA - Try rubbing alcohol. I have had good luck removing such stains from a shiny white plastic purse. Toothpaste is also good for removing ballpoint ink from such things. The following letter from a reader also suggests toothpaste for soiled white shoes. - POLLY.

DEAR POLLY - If your white shoes have spots on them, clean with your favorite flouride toothpaste. The spots will come right off and the shoes are really clean. - BETH.

DEAR POLLY - Mary wanted to know how to clean bronze flatware that came from Bangkok. Ours came from the same place and we clean it with fresh lemon juice. If there are any stains they can be wiped off with a paste made of lemon juice and cold cigarette ashes. This was the local recommendation given to us and it works perfectly. - C.B.S.

Celebrate fall with acorn squash Engagement Announced

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Fall is a good time to take advantage of a variety of fresh squash in most parts of the country. For attractiveness and taste select an acorn squash with its scalloped edges. Cut it in half and bake with a dab of butter or brown sugar, stuff with vegetables or ground meat. Or cut the acorn into rings and bake with orange juice and a sweet glaze. When buying acorn squash see that the outer shell is sound and free from decay. Store at room temperature only for two or three days before use.

GLAZED ACORN RINGS
2 acorn squash
1/3 cup orange juice
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons grated fresh lemon rind
1/8 teaspoon salt

Cut off ends of squash. Cut crosswise into 1-inch slices and remove seeds. Place in a single layer in a large shallow casserole or baking dish and add orange juice. Cover and bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Combine brown sugar and remaining ingredients in a small saucepan; simmer for 5 minutes. Pour over squashes and bake uncovered for 15 minutes longer, basting occasionally. Makes 6 servings.

STUFFED ACORN SQUASH
2 acorn squash
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped fresh celery
1/3 cup chopped fresh onion
1 1/2 cups chopped cooked ham
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/8 teaspoon allspice

Cut acorn squash in half lengthwise and remove seeds. Place cut side down in baking dish with one-half inch water. Cover and bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes. Meanwhile prepare stuffing. In small skillet or saucepan melt butter; add celery and onion and cook until tender. Add ham, sugar and allspice. Heat. Invert squash. Fill cavities with ham mixture. Cover and bake 15 minutes longer. Makes 4 servings.

ACORN RINGS are baked in orange juice with a sweet glaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Raycraft of Malton, Ontario (formerly of Huntingville, Quebec) wish to announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Faye Darleen, to Mr. Friedrich Anton Held, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Held of Norham, Ontario (formerly of Klagenfurt, Austria.) ## Wishing-Well Shower

VALE PERKINS - The United Church Hall, here, recently was the scene of a miscellaneous bridal shower in honour of Karen Jones, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones of this community.

A Wishing-Well flanked by pots of Amaryllis lilies was part of the country garden scene arranged by Pearl Jewett.

Marion Newell greeted the bride-to-be and presented her with a unique necklace she had designed with various kitchen gadgets. Karen was then asked to walk to the seat of honour along a simulated flag-stone path of Good Wishes bordered by containers of yellow and blue pansies and gifts that overflowed the Wishing-Well. She was assisted on one side of the setting by her mother, Nora and on the other by her grandmother, Mrs. Kate Jones and Kathy Methot. Karen graciously thanked one and all for the lovely array of gifts which would be treasured in use and memory.

Mrs. Hazel Brulotte won the home-maker style of game with clothes pins.

In keeping with the theme, the tea-table was centered by the bride's cake made in the form of a miniature Wishing-Well, by Mrs. Newell. It was surrounded by beautiful dahlia blooms and flanked by mauve candles in beds of mauve Michaelmas daisies.

A buffet lunch was served, tea was poured by Mrs. Kate Jones and Mrs. Daisy Jones of Knowlton's Landing.

The memory of this very pleasant evening will long be cherished.

Ann Landers says:

You'll do just fine

Dear Ann Landers: I am just an average 16-year-old girl, but my parents bug me. They keep saying, "It's so hard to be parents these days." Why don't they realize it's hard to be a teenager, too?

This is a crazy, mixed-up world. There are times when I don't know the difference between normal horsing around and what is actually wrong to do. I can't tell some truths from lies. I'm confused about being square or hip.

I want to make my parents proud of me but it's impossible to agree with them all the time and never express an idea of my own. I find myself trying to be the perfect child. But it's impossible to please others all the time. The best I can do is try to be decent and hope I don't let them down.

So, Mom and Dad, if I wear the wrong clothes, or say the wrong thing, or bring home a guy who looks a little freaky, please remember you raised me and basically I'm a pretty good kid. I'm a part of you both so I can't be all bad.

I realize you worked and sweated a lot to bring me up right and one day I'll be doing the same for my children. I just want you to know I think you are really great parents and I love you very much. Please trust me a little and have faith. - Your Stumbling Child

Dear Child: Your letter, straight from the heart of a 16-year-old, could have been written by any of a million kids. Thanks for expressing so honestly your fears, hopes, dreams - and your deep appreciation of your parents' love.

I'll bet your mom and dad are very proud of you, in spite of your doubts, and it's my hunch that you'll do just fine.

CONFIDENTIAL to Did You See It?: Yes, I did, and the results are worth repeating. The study by Dr. Chester Schmidt and others at Johns Hopkins showed that while alcohol was a factor in 50 per cent of all fatal auto accidents, the drivers followed a distinct personality pattern. They were belligerent, loud-mouthed, and aggressive. Nearly one-third had had their licenses suspended at least once. One out of five had been convicted of drunken driving.

Christenings held

WATERLOO - On Thanksgiving Sunday at the 11 a.m. service in St. Luke's Church, the infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman were christened.

Mr. and Mrs. David Chapman's baby received the names of Christopher David, his sponsors being Mr. Richard Reed and Miss Susan Chapman while the other baby received the names of Jonathan Clark, his sponsors being Mrs. Brian Norton, Mr. Michael Lee and Mr. Clark Jones. Rev. N. Tucker officiated.

Following the service, upwards of thirty-five relatives and friends attended the luncheon at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman.

At this time pictures were taken of the five generations, which included the great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Cora McGill who on Oct 10th had celebrated her 95th birthday.

The christening dresses worn by the babies was a gift of one great-grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Norton.

Coffee Party

EAST CLIFTON - Mrs. Hollis Cairns entertained at a coffee party on Thursday morning, Oct. 9 for Mrs. George Pinchin and Mrs. Ernest Cragg who are going to England to visit relatives for a month.

A pleasant time was enjoyed and delicious refreshments served, including a Bon Voyage cake made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Leah Goode, in white with mauve and yellow trim. On behalf of those present, Mrs. Cairns presented each of them with lovely travelling cases and Bon Voyage cards with names of the donors, and wished them both a pleasant trip.

Both ladies expressed their thanks for the gifts and good wishes.

It was an unfortunate decision, since South had to lose three tricks in his diamond contract. However, change the North-South cards a trifle and the decision would have been a mighty good one.

The really good bid with the hand was North's five diamonds. He saved a lot of points, because had he passed East would wrap up the four-

Ask the Jacobys

A reader from California wants to know which major suit do you bid when you have four cards in each and partner responds a Stayman two-clubs to your opening no trump.

The answer to this one is that it is a matter of partnership agreement. Some like to bid two spades; others prefer two hearts.

Our own practice is to bid the stronger suit.

CAVALCADE HELD - The United Churches of Mansonville and Bolton Centre held a fall cavalcade recently to mark the 50th anniversary of the United Church in Canada. Above, visiting the Vale Perkins United Church Hall, left to right, are Vernon George, of Lennoxville, who was Sunday School librarian in 1925 in the area, Mrs. Madeline Thomas of Windsor Mills, who was guest organist; Mrs. Hazel Jones, Mansonville, and Rev. Ron Coughlin of Mansonville.

Historical tour held to mark 50th anniversary

MANSONVILLE (MB) - The congregations of the United Churches of Mansonville and Bolton Centre formed a 50th Anniversary of the United Church of Canada Cavalcade on Sun., Sept. 28, wending its way from Mansonville over back roads past historic sites and areas of breath-taking beauty with autumn foliage. Each car flew a special pennant which caught many an eye along the way.

Leaving the Mansonville Church, the tour included a view of the Laurier Range and south to the Green Mountains of Vermont as the travellers passed the Old Orford Mountain Railroad Station, presently the home of the Rupert Clarks. They then took the route of King's Highway (Leadville Rd.) and turned at Old Niger Road, back to the Vale Perkins Road, thus passing the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Urban Darling, 1925 Sunday School Superintendent and Primary teacher, respectively.

In the Vale, one recalls that Mrs. John (Clara) McCoy was the Bible teacher of the Union Sunday School that year. She lived in the now abandoned building which had at one time, been a cheese and butter factory, a residence, and finally an Anglican Chapel in which United Church Services were held on alternate Sundays. The first stop on the tour was for a water-divining demonstration by Lyle Jones near his old Blacksmith Shop. Interest was keen and other hands succeeded in divining to varying degrees. Also noted at this point was the old water barrel and iron kettle where the water still flows since time immemorial, and for many years, was the only source of drinking water for this hamlet which was carried by individual pails.

Four generations saw the years turned back half a century as they entered the Vale Perkins United Church Hall, formerly Potton School No. 12 and renumbered to 6 at Scholastic year Dec., 1927. As of yore, seats were placed two by two facing the door, and the teacher's desk held old school books, memorabilia, and even a well polished apple. Prying eyes revealed "The Strap" which, this time, produced hearty laughter. To add to the 1925, atmosphere, walks were covered with huge old maps and one could notice the crock water dispenser flanked by quart pail dinner containers. The theme was that of an oldtime Union Sunday School. A glimpse of the past with a look to the future was produced as the Minister, Ron Coughlin, read the text Matthew 5:43-48, which had been the choice of Rev. Eastcott as recorded in the 1925 diary of Aunt Lizzie Darling.

The responsive reading and the hymns, Jewels and Jesus Loves Even Me, were taken from the Book of Old Favourites of the same year. Mrs. Madeline Thomas, formerly of Bolton Centre, played the organ in its original corner of the old Church-School house. A poem, in tribute to "Uncle Urb" Darling (Superintendent 40 years), written by Mrs. Charles N. (Addie) Hardy, was read by her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Jones, now 86 years old. Vernon George, now residing in Lennoxville, the 1925 Librarian, took up the offering and participated in its dedication to Missionary work. Another note of interest is that Mrs. Harry (Ethel) George of the Vale Perkins community, was Secretary for the Sunday School session 50 years ago. A picnic was enjoyed before the Cavalcade continued on its way to Knowlton's Landing and its second historic stop, the old Coolidge School site where notes of interest were distributed by Viola Knowlton.

The tour then passed through the beautiful scenery around Sugar Loaf Pond, headed south to Peabody Road which traversed to the site of the Turner Schoolcraft Road where Maria Bray presented historical notes of this school and its church services there.

Travelling along the Schoolcraft Road, a highlight of the Cavalcade was another stop, at Potton Springs, the private property of Jack Isherwood and his sister, Mrs. Florence Whittaker, which was marshalled by Irene and Elgar Gaylor. A scrapbook and notes recorded the historic importance of this place.

The cavalcade was terminated with Worship Services of the afternoon held in the Bolton Centre United Church after arriving by way of the East River Road between South Bolton and Bolton Centre. This church, built in 1879 by Willis Mack, was radiant with baskets of fall flowers and beautiful 50th Anniversary Banners made by Hilda Cousens, also a hand-crocheted scene of The Last Supper in white and mounted on red, made by Mrs. George (Myrtle) Davis (organist) graced the front of the church.

Mrs. Madeline Thomas of Windsor Mills, was guest organist for this special commemorative service. The favorite hymns of 89-year-old Mrs. Tom (Myrtle) Cousens and 96-year-old Aunt Ella McGill, were enjoyed: Will Your Anchor Hold and What a Friend We Have in Jesus. The offering was received by Murray Cameron.

The purpose of this day was appropriately summarized by Mr. Coughlin's theme-talk, Our Heritage and The Future. A cavalcade map drafted by Pearl Jewett guided the entourage to the completion of a delightful trip down the Road of Memories in celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the United Church of Canada.

In Memoriam

ROSS - In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, Dora, who was accidentally killed and called away 12 long years ago, Oct. 13, 1963. A flower white I'll wear today for one I love so dear. In a mansion prepared for her above where she rests and sleeps in her Saviour's love. Said the angels to the Lord above, Take her home as she will be handicapped. So He took her up in Heaven to be His very special child where she'll rest in peace from pain. I miss seeing her smile and hearing her voice, but God gave me no other choice. Then with tearful eyes I watched her go without a last goodbye to me. Now my constant prayer shall be that God with special care will keep and guard my loving daughter while she sleeps.

Ken Cusack arrives in camp Cornwall here tonight, Shawinigan Sunday

Sherbrooke Beavers will be gunning this evening at the Sports Palace to strengthen their hold on first place of the West Division of the QMJHL when they play hosts to the Cornwall Royals.

The Beavers hold a slim two-point lead over the Royals, following Tuesday's win over Three Rivers, but the Royals are favored to knot the battle with a win over Hull before coming to Sherbrooke for tonight's tilt.

Sherbrooke has another battle on tap Sunday, at home, when they square off against Shawinigan. Both games are very important and the outcome of both will have a big bearing in the race for better positions for all clubs concerned.

The tilt this evening is slated for 8:00 p.m. while Sunday it is at the regular time of 7:30. Cornwall, Shawinigan and Sherbrooke will be trying to consolidate their positions in the race for a higher spot in the standing.

The tilt this evening will be the first meeting between the Royals and Beavers this year and Coach Delage, knowing the Cornwall crew, will have his boys up for the fixture. The Royals have lost only one game so far this year like the Beavers so it should be a tight duel the whole way.

On Sunday evening the Beavers will tangle with another tough opponent in the Shawinigan club. They are on top of the East section, holding a slim one-point advantage over Sorel and Chicoutimi for their seven games played. They have posted three wins with the same number of losses with young American, has finally arrived in the City. Coach Delage has been trying for the past couple of weeks to secure the services of Cusack. He checked in last weekend and the local pilot offered him a contract, which he accepted.

There is a strong possibility that he may be in uniform this evening if his papers arrive in time and if the CAHA gives him the green light. General manager Georges Guilbault has been working on the release for the past week and is hoping to have permission in time for this evening.

Cusack stands 6'1" and tips the scales at 200 pounds. He is 19 years of age and hails from East Boston where he played for Boston Colts the past couple of months. He was in the US Marine Corps for a short period. Boxing is his favorite sport and he practices daily at it. He is known as being quite capable of looking after himself and can toss his weight around.

Coach Delage in order to sign him is obliged to send two Americans to his farm club as according to QMJHL clubs can carry only so many Americans in their lineup. Granby has their quota so the local pilot has arranged to send Mitch Bradt and Fabien Hart to Coach Nelson Tremblay of Lake Megantic but they will remain the property of the Beavers on their protected list.

Tony Perez bangs two homers Big Red Machine at it again, win 6-2

CINCINNATI (AP) — Boston Red Sox find themselves on the critical list today after being hit and run over by the Big Red Machine.

After struggling through the first four games of the World Series, Tony Perez suddenly returned to form with two home runs as Cincinnati Reds beat the Red Sox 6-2 Thursday night and took a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven series.

The National League champions can finish off the Red Sox on Saturday in the sixth game at Fenway Park in Boston, where Jack Billingham will face Boston left-hander Bill Lee.

"I never get down on myself," said Perez, who had fought a torturous batting slump before breaking it Thursday night before the appreciative hometown fans in Riverfront Stadium.

Cincinnati's all-time RBI leader had gone hitless in 15 World Series appearances before smashing a hanging slider from Reggie Cleveland over the left-centre field wall to give the Reds a 1-1 tie.

LED BY FOUR
 In the sixth inning, Perez got another good pitch from Anderson tried some humor before the game to loosen up the Cuban slugger. He told the first baseman that the way he was going, he would soon set a record for hitless appearances in a World Series.

"It got to be ridiculous," Anderson told the press conference afterward. "I had to lighten things up with a little joke."

While he was making life miserable for the American League champions with his bat, Gullett was making them look sick with his arm.

The Reds' best pitcher gave up only two hits to Boston through eight innings and then three more in the ninth before being forced from the game with one out to go.

"I lost a little bit in the ninth," said Gullett, explaining he got cold while waiting during a long Cincinnati eighth inning. "I asked (pitching coach Larry) Shepard if I should go down and throw in the bottom of the eighth to keep warm, but the bottom of the order was coming up, so I couldn't."

Stanstead rallies to nip Galt 9-8 in ETIAC football, Junior Pipers blast Stanstead 59-0

By BILL BROCK

STANSTEAD — For the first time since the inception of the E.T.I.A.C., it appears that there is a good balance between Varsity football teams. Saturday's game at Stanstead was no exception as the Spartans rallied from a 7-0 quarter deficit and clawed out a narrow 9-8 victory over Galt in a game dominated by the defenses.

The Pipers struck first on a thirty-five yard passing play which capped a 58 yard drive in seven plays. The rest of the half belonged to the Spartans. Following the Galt touchdown they drove from their own thirty to the Galt five in nine plays but the drive stalled.

Galt was unable to get the first down and were forced to punt but Peter Jacobsen blocked the kick and recovered on the Piper one from whence the Spartans tied the score on a touchdown by George Baptist.

The Spartans continued to maintain good field position but were unable to mount a drive and settled for a single on a Davies' punt to lead 8-7 at the half.

"On the first home run, the ball was in on me and it felt good when I hit it," said Perez, happy to finally escape the clutches of his series-long slump. "It was the first pitch all series inside to me."

"The second homer was on a fastball inside. They kept the ball away from me all series, but tonight they came in. I felt real good in batting practice."

RECORD IN REACH
 Perez' depressing slump had reached such a point that manager Sparky to Carl Yastrzemski and Carlton Fisk, Anderson was out to talk to him.

But when the obviously tired Gullett later gave up a run-scoring double to Fred Lynn, Anderson revisited the mound and brought in Rawly Eastwick, who blew three pitches by the dangerous Rico Petrocelli for the clincher.

Johnny Bench assessed Gullett's over-all performance as near his best. "I've never seen him throw any better," he said. "He was just super. In my opinion, he pitched as well as anybody can possibly pitch."

Gullett gave up a run in the first inning on a triple by Doyle and Yastrzemski's sacrifice fly before Boston's ninth-inning flurry. Along with Perez' four RBIs, the Reds got a run in the fifth on Gullett's single and a double by Pete Rose and one in the eighth on Dave Concepcion's sacrifice fly.

Diane Jones wins gold

MEXICO CITY (CP) — For Diane Jones, even the walk to the winner's podium at the Pan-American Games was a distraction from the task at hand.

Most of the athletes in the Canadian camp would consider any kind of medal a reward for years of hard work, self-denial and occasional frustration. But the gold medal Diane wants is not to be found in Mexico City.

"I found this meet a nuisance because I lost two months of endurance and strength training," the 24-year-old University of Saskatchewan student said Thursday after her impressive victory in the pentathlon.

Miss Jones, ranked fourth in the world in the event, has her sights set on the 1976 Olympics in Montreal, where she faces stronger competition than the 12 girls she defeated in the Pan-Ams.

Even so, "it turned out to be a tougher competition than I thought it would be."

Her winning score of 4,673 points technically does not qualify as a Games record because Patricia Winslow of
