Fiftieth Year

World News In Brief

London, July 8.—(C.P.)—Police and villagers armed with clubs scoured a wide area of Southern England today for the slayer of 11-year-old Sheila Martin, whose body was found early this morning in a clump of bushes 300 yards from her home at Fawkhams. Discovery of the body, with its right arm missing, was a night-long search for the child, who had been reported missing late yesterday.

Vatican City, July 8.—(P.)—Church bells pealed throughout the Eternal City of Rome yesterday to proclaim the elevation of Mother Frances Xavier Cabrini to sainthood in the Roman Catholic Church—the first time such an honor has been conferred upon a citizen of the United States. Pope Pius, presiding over the rites of canonization, declared that "the nations and peoples will learn from her—who ardently loved her fatherland and scattered the treasures of her charity and labor even to other countries—that they are called to constitute a single family, a family that must not be divided in stormy rivalry."

Speaking in Latin, the Pope told of the life of St. Frances Xavier—"a humble child who distinguished herself not by tribute or richness of power, but by virtue."

Vienna, July 8.—(P.)—Russian occupation authorities have ordered 54,000 native Germans and other foreigners in the Russian zone of occupation in Austria to leave the country by 8 a.m. Monday. It was learned last night.

A reliable source who declined to be quoted by name said the new order was closely connected with the confiscation of "German assets" which the Russians announced Saturday. Austrian officials said the Soviets were claiming 75 per cent of the republic's industrial capacity.

Red Army and Austrian Communist Party trucks were posted outside the homes of the non-Austrians ordered to leave. The Russian order told them they would be permitted to take only 30 pounds of belongings. They were to be sent to the French zone in Germany.

Aboard U.S. Appalachian, July 8.—(P.)—The atomic bomb smashed the coral on the bottom of Bikini lagoon 100 feet below the surface of the water.

This was one of the unexpected blows struck by the air bomb released July 1. These blows make it appear certain that navies and ships of the future must be redesigned even to meet the threat of this least formidable type of atomic attack.

Close-up pictures taken from the photographic tower show that the bomb seared everything in a circle of more than a mile in a direct blast of fire.

A moment after the bomb was detonated a terrific tornado roared over the entire guinea pig fleet. This was an atomic tornado with a blow-torch-like center. Its apparent diameter on the water's surface was more than a mile.

Vancouver, July 18.—(C.P.)—Fred Abernethy, president of the A.F. of L. Moulders' Union, said last night that members of his organization would return today in 17 city foundries despite picket lines of the striking Metal and Chemical Workers' Union.

The announcement came as James Thompson, chief provincial conciliation officer, reported discussions with operators and union representatives would continue today in an effort to settle the 51-day-old walkout embracing 30 plants and 800 employees altogether.

Another Pogrom Is Feared As Jews Flock Into Poland

By LARRY ALLEN
Warsaw, July 8.—(P.)—The thousands of Jewish repatriates streaming into Poland from Russia are causing authorities to fear a recurrence of anti-Jewish outbreaks such as the Kielce pogrom in which 41 persons died.

A government spokesman said Sunday that armored cars and militia reinforcements had been dispatched to the ancient Cathedral City of Czestochowa, west of Kielce, to prevent what appeared to be an attempt to start rioting.

The appearance of a Pole with a camel which he said he acquired from the Russians caused intense excitement in the market place of Czestochowa. The government spokesman said anti-Semitic agitators circulated in the curious crowd around the camel-ride, started

Big-4 Powers Deadlocked On Matter Of Invitations For Proposed Peace Talks

U.S. To Submit New Plan To Enforce Atom Control

New York, July 8.—(P.)—The United States prepared to submit a new memorandum to the atomic energy commission today containing specific proposals for the enforcement of atomic control regulations and outlining possible penalties for violations.

The staff of United States representative Bernard M. Baruch whipped the document into final form as the commission's six-member sub-committee was called into session to resume discussions on this phase of the control problem.

The new United States memorandum, amplifying previous declarations on enforcement and penalties, was understood to propose that the contemplated atomic development authority be given power to impose all penalties except for violations actually threatening world peace.

A delegate, who did not wish to be identified, said all members of the commission, including the United States, were agreed that serious violations were a matter for the Security Council to handle. Under the United States proposals, the authority would be given the right to impose penalties for lesser violations without referring them to the Security Council. These penalties would include such measures as denial or revocation of licenses to produce atomic energy.

The suggestions were expected to meet opposition from some delegates, especially Russia, France and Poland, who are known to favor placing all enforcement measures in the hands of the Security Council.

Higher Executive Committee said that group was drafting a new note to Britain warning that unless the British Government took immediate steps to halt the illegal entry of Jews into Palestine there would be a "wave of non-co-operation by Arabs, followed possibly by civil disobedience."

"After that," the spokesman said, "the next step may be mass demonstrations by Arabs, and this executive will refuse to accept responsibility for them."

Khalidi's statement came as the executive committee disclosed it already had drafted a letter to President Truman accusing him of "flagrant, empty and irresponsible statements" in connection with the problem of Jewish immigration to Palestine.

The note was prepared in reply to a White House statement last Tuesday to the effect that the United States was prepared to assume technical and financial responsibility for the transportation of 100,000 European Jewish refugees to Palestine in accordance with recent recommendations of the Anglo-American inquiry commission.

The Arab committee said it "would have liked to ignore this latest statement and attach no importance to it—coming as it does at a time when President Truman is begging for Jewish votes in the forthcoming presidential election."

Cardinal Villeneuve was ordained as priest in 1907 and after 23 years on the staff of the scholasticate of the Oblates in Ottawa, where he had completed his religious training, he was appointed Bishop of Gravelbourg, Sask.

Two years later he was enthroned as Archbishop of Quebec and the following year he was elevated to the cardinalate.

Cardinal Villeneuve was the fourth Canadian Cardinal. A fifth, Cardinal McGuigan, of Toronto, received the Cardinal's Red Cap at the February consistory.

Cardinal Said Not In Danger By Physician

Villeneuve Reported To Be Recovering From Sudden Illness—Extreme Unction Administered Saturday.

Quebec, July 8.—(P.)—Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, stricken by a sudden illness, is in hospital here today apparently out of danger and on the road to recovery.

The 62-year-old Archbishop of Quebec, fatigued after taking part in religious ceremonies at Ile a la Crosse, Sask., from which he returned only Friday night, was taken to hospital Saturday and received the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

His physician, Dr. Jean Baptiste Jobin, said last night, however, that he believed the Cardinal had passed the danger point. His Eminence is believed to have suffered a heart attack but the nature of his illness was not made known officially.

First word of the Cardinal's illness came in a brief communique from the Archbishop's Palace which said he was confined to his room and that "it was deemed wise to administer him the Extreme Unction" Saturday.

Prayers for his recovery were asked for by Msgr. J. Omer Plante, auxiliary Bishop of Quebec.

The distinguished prelate, a native of Montreal, has travelled widely in recent years. He was in Rome last February for Pope Pius XII's consistory and shortly before that went to Mexico City as papal legate at ceremonies marking the 50th anniversary of the coronation of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

He visited Canadian servicemen in England, Belgium and Italy in the fall of 1944.

Russian Envoy Blocks Move Despite Pleas Of U. S. and British Representatives for Immediate Action.

Paris, July 8.—(P.)—The Foreign Ministers' Council recessed after a morning meeting today, still deadlocked on the question of sending out invitations for a 21-power peace conference July 29.

Arguments that have marked Foreign Minister Molotov's opposition to sending invitations for the conference unless they were accompanied by a strict code of rules for its procedure were presented again today in the face of pleas by State Secretary Byrnes of the United States and Britain's Foreign Secretary Bevin to have the invitations go out immediately.

Messrs. Bevin and Byrnes said they were willing to discuss procedure rules as suggestions but would not attempt to foist them on the other countries.

The Ministers were to resume their session late today.

Sources close to the council said that failure to reach an immediate solution of the procedural problem upon which the Foreign Ministers have been deadlocked since Friday might result in indefinite postponement of the proposed peace conference.

Tass news agency, meanwhile, injected a new note of disension into the proceedings by stating that the British, American and French representatives had begun "secret" talks concerning Germany from which Russia was being excluded.

The deadlock on the peace conference stemmed from Russia's insistence demands that the Big Four impose a set of rules of procedure on the conference—demands which both the British and American delegates vehemently opposed.

The procedural deadlock was heightened by a protest from China against being omitted from the list of inviting powers. China's Foreign Minister Wang Whim-Chieh told the council that it had been specifically agreed in Moscow that China should be one of the inviting powers, but Mr. Molotov had insisted that they be limited to the United States, Britain, France and Russia.

Noted Flyer Near Death After Crash

Fast, Long-Range Craft Smashes Into Beverly Hills Houses With Builder Howard Hughes at Controls.

Los Angeles, July 8.—(P.)—Howard Hughes, movie maker and builder of airplanes, clung precariously to life today in hospital after the crash and explosion of his latest creation, XF-11, unofficially reported to be the fastest long-range craft ever constructed.

The twin-engine monoplane crashed into three houses and a garage in a Beverly Hills residential district late yesterday with Hughes alone at the controls on its maiden flight.

Hughes staggered from the wreckage, was hustled to Beverly Hills emergency hospital, and transferred from there to Good Samaritan Hospital for surgery. He was placed in an oxygen tent. Doctors said he had a 50-50 chance to survive.

Padilla said he believed that the actual popular vote favored him overwhelmingly and added that "in

Katevale Conflagration

A general view of the site where six buildings were burned to the ground in the Katevale conflagration on Saturday morning, taken some hours after the blaze had died down. While the fire raged, it was impossible to take any photographs due to the tremendous amount of smoke and heat waves which registered only a grey mass on the film. Apart from a few household belongings and a number of head of cattle, the buildings were a complete loss.

Mexican Vote Followed By Fraud Charge

Miguel Aleman Claims Election to Presidency—Two Deaths Reported as Army Used to Police Polls.

Mexico City, July 8.—(P.)—Miguel Aleman, 42-year-old candidate of the powerful government party (P.R.L.), today claimed election as President of Mexico in balloting yesterday which brought charges of fraud from his principal opponent, former Foreign Minister Ezquiel Padilla.

Two deaths and a number of minor casualties marked the voting, in which the army was used for the first time in history to police polling places.

Although the results will not be known officially until Thursday, Aleman said there was no doubt of his election.

Padilla, candidate of the Mexican Democratic Party, charged that the election in the federal district, which includes Mexico City and its environs was "stained by the gravest of frauds" and added:

"From what happened in the federal district, where all means of guaranteeing honest elections were hoped for, it can be imagined what happened in the rest of the country."

Padilla said he believed that the actual popular vote favored him overwhelmingly and added that "in

Bread Rationing Deemed Necessary

London, July 8.—(C.P. Cable)—Reynolds' News said in an editorial yesterday that "if bread rationing is unpopular, as the Tory newspapers of the Lords Kemsley, Rothmans and Beaverbrook say it is, this only serves to emphasize it is necessary."

The newspaper, published by the Co-operative Wholesale Society, added: "No government would persist in courting unpopularity this way if an easier course were open to it."

The editorial questions the influence on public opinion of the newspapers owned by the men it mentioned but said: "They have in their hands the power to create the fiction of a nation-wide public outcry."

Bread rationing in Britain is scheduled to start July 21.

See Approval By President Of Price Bill

Senators Commence Showdown Fight on Revival of Controls—Truman Said to Be in Favor of Compromise.

Washington, July 8.—(P.)—A prediction of presidential approval was thrown behind the compromise Office of Price Administration renewal bill today as Senators dug in for a showdown fight over whether—and how—to revive price controls.

With the country entering its second week since the death of the war-born agency, a Capitol Hill adviser to President Truman let it be known he "has no doubt" that the President will sign the pending measure if leaders can bludgeon it through Congress in its present form.

This official, who declined to be quoted by name, emphasized to a reporter that he was not attempting to forecast Mr. Truman's reaction if any of a new series of restricting amendments are written into the measure during its precarious course through the Senate and a Senate-House conference committee.

The word that Mr. Truman apparently is satisfied with what Democratic leader Alben Barkley of Kentucky was able to bring out of the banking committee was passed down through the ranks in an obvious attempt to offset the criticism voiced against the compromise by O.P.A. Administrator Paul Porter last week.

Anti-Allied Riot Injures 11 In Trieste

American Troops Held In Barracks to Prevent Recurrence of Demonstration—British Use Tear Gas.

Trieste, July 8.—(P.)—American troops here were ordered held in their barracks yesterday to prevent a recurrence of anti-Allied demonstrations by pro-Italian groups which injured eleven persons Saturday night.

British military police replenished stocks of tear gas, which they used Saturday night to break up the free-for-all fight before United Nations headquarters in the city.

Meanwhile pro-Yugoslav leaders, responsible for a nine-day-old harbor strike, said their followers would not demonstrate against the Paris decision.

A spokesman warned that the strike, which involves some 260,000 workers, would continue until the Allied Military Government meets the strikers' demands, which include the "removal of pro-Fascist elements in the Venezia Giulia civil police" and the arrest of Italian action squad members who wrecked Yugoslav establishments last Sunday and "expulsion of all pro-Fascist elements who came here recently."

Tax Relief Insufficient PC Member To Tell House

Ottawa, July 8.—(P.)—Debate on the budget will begin today with J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Muskoka-Ontario) taking the floor as chief financial critic for the official Progressive Conservative opposition.

Mr. Macdonnell has indicated that he will criticize the government for failing to cut expenditures sufficiently to permit greater reductions in taxes than forecast in Finance Minister Isley's budget speech June 27.

Mr. Isley said that income tax exemptions for single persons will be increased from $660 to $750 and for married persons from $1,200 to $1,500. But these and other major tax changes do not become effective until January 1, three months before the end of the current fiscal year.

The opposition has indicated that it will charge the government with failing to provide the tax relief

14 Fatalities Are Reported On Week-End

Include Five Drownings and Five Automobile Deaths—Considerable Reduction From Dominion Day Toll.

By The Canadian Press
Week-end fatalities in Eastern Canada reached a total of 14, a survey by The Canadian Press showed today, and in addition a woman is missing from her home at London, Ont. The number was a considerable reduction from last week-end when the Dominion Day holiday combined to boost traffic accidents and a total of 59 persons across Canada lost their lives.

The week-end's eastern fatalities included five drownings, five killed by cars or trucks and four deaths from a variety of causes.

Mystery surrounds the whereabouts of Mrs. Bernice Whalley, missing from London, Ont. Her husband reported to police last night that she had gone to Port Stanley, a summer resort on Lake Erie, and he feared she had met with an accident.

Quebec Provincial Police are investigating the death of Ida Duhaime, Yarmou County farmer, Duhaime died of severe injuries in a farmhouse where he was carried by two men who said they found him lying on the highway near Sorel Saturday.

The car fatalities included Edmond Comeau, 69, of Digby, N.S., Frank Burns, 51, at Montreal, and Mrs. William Saunders, 81, who died in hospital at Ottawa from injuries received in a car accident July 2.

The drownings included those of Meta Mervick of Atwater, Sask., and Roger Zakpison of Stockholm, Sask., whose car went off the end of a dock at Kenora, Ont., during a heavy rainstorm.

Dorothy Cook, only 18 months old, toddled into the water at a beach at Windsor, Ont., and was drowned. Claude Mantha was drowned at St. Canute, Que., while swimming, and the body of a man believed to be Robert Adams, missing from his Kingston home for some days, was found on the shore of Wolfe Island.

Guilt Proved Of Chetnik Minich Says

Prosecutor Sums Up Charges in Treason Trial of General Mihailovic—Anglo-Americans Accused.

Belgrade, July 8.—(P.)—Chief prosecutor Col. Miroslav Minich began his summation in the treason trial of Gen. Draza Mihailovic today by declaring that every charge contained in the prosecution indictment had been proved irrefutably.

Minich also accused Anglo-American representatives who were stationed at Mihailovic's headquarters of instigating him to fight against Yugoslav Communists.

Minich said that American officer, had remained at Mihailovic's headquarters late as January, 1945, and that this gave the Chetnik leader an opportunity to maintain that he was not collaborating with the enemy.

Describing Mihailovic's activities as "a four year fight against the national liberation movement," Minich charged that the politicians of all the pre-war Yugoslav parties had collaborated closely with the Chetnik leader. He added that the "home traitors" who worked with Mihailovic had "prevented the people of Yugoslavia from giving even more aid to the Allies during the war."

necessary to provide the peak production called for by Mr. Isley.

The cut in corporation taxes from 20 to 15 per cent has already been pointed to by budget critics as being insufficient to stimulate full production.

It is not known what stand the opposition will take on Mr. Isley's Friday announcement that the Canadian dollar has been brought to a parity with the United States dollar and that other steps have been taken to protect the Canadian economy from outside inflationary pressures.

Reference to the announcement is expected to be made by Mr. Macdonnell during the budget debate, the main item of business left on the sessional program.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King disclosed Friday that the budget

JAMES AITKEN DIES FOLLOWING LONG ILLNESS

The death occurred on Wednesday, June 26, of James Aitken, of Waterloo, in the Ste. Anne de Bellevue Military Hospital after a lengthy illness. Mr. Aitken was a veteran of the First Great War, and a severe wound he received at that time kept him bed-ridden for the past few years. Prior to that, however, he was an employee of the Mack Molding Ltd., where he worked for several years.

The funeral service was held on Friday afternoon at two p.m. in St. Paul's United Church with the minister officiating. The hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Lead Kindly Light" were sung by the choir under the direction of the organist, Roger McKergow. The bearers were four veterans and friends of the deceased.

He leaves to mourn him besides his wife, three sons, James, Wallace and William, and four daughters, Mrs. Bert Fisher, Mrs. Claude Lussier, Mrs. Bockus and Betty Aitken. Interment took place in the Waterloo Cemetery.

Governor-General Sees Regina Area

Regina, July 8.—A drive through rich wheatlands in the Regina district yesterday completed the two-day visit to this city of Canada's 17th Governor-General, Viscount Alexander of Tunis.

It was the first day of relaxation for the Governor-General since they began their tour of Western Canada in Winnipeg last Thursday.

Thousands of cheering citizens lined the main streets to greet the vice-regal party when they arrived early Saturday. After being officially welcomed at the City Hall by Mayor T. G. McNall, Viscount Alexander addressed a meeting of the Canadian Club.

A crippled Indian girl, dwarfed by the wheel-chair in which she sat, was the first to be greeted by the Governor-General on a tour of the Regina General Hospital. He chatted with many veterans in the military wing of the hospital before being escorted to the legislative building where acting Premier C. M. Fines extended an official welcome on behalf of the province.

After inspecting a guard of honor composed of veterans of four wars, Viscount Alexander presented decorations to twenty-four soldiers and airmen who had distinguished themselves in battle.

The vice-regal party left for Calgary last night.

Noted Army Man 'Prelate Endorses Dies In Vancouver Palestine Policy

Vancouver, July 8.—Lt.-Col. T. D. Sutherland, 52, O.B.E., D.S.O. and bar, M.C., died suddenly at his home here Saturday.

Born in the Orkney Islands, Scotland, Lt.-Col. Sutherland had an impressive record in both Great Wars.

He was engaged in tea-planting in Ceylon until 1914, when he enlisted in the Sixth Lincoln Regiment, and saw action in the Mediterranean area and France, winning the D.S.O. and bar and the M.C.

On his discharge, he came to Vancouver where he was connected with the provincial police. In 1939, after being rejected by the Canadian Army, he travelled to England aboard a freighter to enlist as a second lieutenant in the Imperial Seaforth Highlanders. He was engaged in secret service with the British Army, and served at Dunkirk, the Mediterranean, Balkans, North Africa and Greece.

debate was the principal matter to be dealt with but said that many bills still have to be introduced. An early end of the session could not be expected unless all parties co-operated to curtail debate.

Mr. King made no particular reference to the contentious flag issue, but said that the House would have to deal with the reports of committees now sitting. The flag committee has not set since the more than 2,000 designs submitted to it were cut down to two. One of these was the red design with a golden maple leaf in the fly. The other was a design of red and white triangles cut diagonally by a green maple leaf.

Some Quebec members claim that they would carry on a prolonged verbal battle against acceptance of any design including the Union Jack as does the red design. These members say they realize that such debate would prolong the session for an indefinite period and that they would like to see the whole matter left over another year. The government has not yet given a definite indication as to what it plans to do.

Approximately 3,000,000 Mexicans were estimated to have voted in the elections, at which 174 deputies and 58 senators were chosen in addition to a president. Both Houses of Congress are now controlled by a heavy government party majority.

The two election day fatalities were recorded at a provincial polling place, where an army sergeant and a politician were reported killed in a fight.

One person was killed in a pre-election fight in Tlajomulco Saturday, and several others were wounded, including the mayor.

Prelate Endorses Palestine Policy

Canterbury, England, July 8.—Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, rejected today a protest by Dr. J. Herzog, Chief Rabbi of Palestine, and supported the British Government in its announced endeavor to restore order in the Holy Land.

The future of Palestine, the Archbishop said at his diocesan conference, was in no way prejudged by the government's action—wide-spread policy and military operations in which more than 2,000 Jews were arrested—"except to make it clear the future would not be settled by violence."

"Since the recent government action in Palestine," he declared, "I have received from the Chief Rabbi of the Holy Land and others communications which seem to me not only to beg the question, but to beg the wrong questions."

Calling for a decisive declaration of policy on Palestine, the Archbishop offered "only two alternatives:

"An implementation of the recommendations of the Anglo-American Commission, including immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews; or acceptance of the Peel plan, rejected in 1938, which recommended partition of Palestine, setting up Jewish and Arab states."

Forty Persons Made Homeless In Blaze At Katevale As Six Structures Burned To Ground

Six two-story structures including a convent, six private dwellings, two general stores, a blacksmith shop, garage, service station and Post Office, roughly half the village of Katevale, were destroyed by fire of an unknown origin within three hours on Saturday morning, causing property damage estimated at above $50,000.

Although no one was injured, over forty persons were rendered homeless by the fire which started in a rear wooded shed, spread rapidly to the adjacent home of Joseph Emile Fontaine which housed Katevale's largest general store and the Post Office. Within one hour five adjoining buildings were ablaze.

Upon the arrival of the North Hatley brigade under the direction of J. E. McCrea, the fire had gained considerable headway and was beyond control of the firemen and bucket brigades organized by the townspeople due to the inadequate water supply which consisted of two house wells in the immediate vicinity.

Buildings razed by the conflagration included the home of J. E. Fontaine, which contained a general store and Post Office, a recently completed garage and service station along with the blacksmith shop and home of Germain Gingras, the homes of Frank Lamoureux and Joseph Michaud, as well as the St. Catherine Convent and a store and home, the property of Maurice Aubert.

NORTH HATLEY SAWMILL PREY OF SEVERE FIRE

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a sawmill and some 10,000 feet of lumber at North Hatley early on Sunday morning. The mill was the property of Airlie Fearon who lives in Sherbrooke on the Lennoxville road.

Volunteer firemen of the municipality under Chief James McRea, answered the call which was rung in at 3.30 o'clock, but the fire had gained such headway that the firefighters abandoned the mill to the blaze and concentrated on saving a large pile of logs and preventing the flames from spreading to neighboring buildings.

This was the second time within 24 hours that the volunteer department had been called, having assisted the Sherbrooke department to extinguish the blaze at Katevale on Saturday morning.

A plentiful supply of water at North Hatley aided the firemen in their efforts and streams were played on the blaze until after eight o'clock in the morning.

The property was formerly owned by T. V. Reed. Loss is only partially covered by insurance.

LENNOXVILLE LADIES PAID HIGH TRIBUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Lennoxville Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held in the workroom on Main Street, with Mrs. H. L. Wallace, the president, in the chair.

Reports from the various committees were read and approved and several items of correspondence were read by the secretary, Mrs. E. W. Gilbey, which included a letter of thanks from the Maple Cross Chapter of the I.O.O.F. in Lennoxville, for aid given in their sewing by the Red Cross workers when Red Cross work was not on hand.

The summer supply of sewing and knitting is in the workroom and quite a number of garments made. The knitting consists of sweaters and stockings for boys and outfits for babies. Owing to the very warm weather the workroom will be closed until August 5th. Anyone wanting work during this time may telephone the president, Lennoxville 237-7.

Mrs. Wallace reported that she was in charge of the arrangements for the arrival of war brides and two were expected this week.

Mr. R. Blake, chairman of the "Swimming and Water Safety" program reported that two local boys, Allan Sutherland and Bruce Johnston, had been sent to Montreal for the short course given for this purpose and through the different young peoples groups both English and French, they would give instructions and training to both boys and girls. This is not a course in swimming but teaching the art of safety and life saving.

At the close of the business meeting a very pleasing program was given by a number of members and workers gathered and four honorary badges were awarded.

Mrs. R. W. E. Wright, honorary president and president of the Lennoxville Branch for the duration of World War I, for which she was wearing a medal presented by the King, spoke briefly of the comparison of the work and contribution of the workers on this branch, before presenting Mrs. Lee M. Watson with an honorary membership medal on which was the citation: "Mrs. Watson has been active since 1939 and president from 1942. Her tactfulness and outstanding ability in organizing the work and in choosing enthusiastic leaders for the various committees have contributed in a large measure to the success of Red Cross work in this district. She has displayed exceptional co-operation with Red Cross house, giving prompt attention to all requests, organizing special committees when necessary to fill rush orders."

Then to Miss Doreen Bennett, whose mother in her absence received the award of a service badge. The citation read: "Miss Bennett, a member of the teaching staff of the Lennoxville High School, has during the past 10 years, worked unceasingly for the Junior Red Cross. She has encouraged and inspired the members of her class to knit, sew and do handwork and raise funds for the school branch of the Junior Red Cross. During the war years, besides helping to make outfits required by this group, she devoted her spare leisure to knitting for the senior branch of the Lennoxville Red Cross."

Mrs. W. H. Abbott, honorary secretary, and who was secretary-treasurer for the duration in World War I and wearing a Red Cross life membership pin given her by the Knitting Club of that time, asked the workers to work for the peace as in war so that it might be made a lasting peace. She then presented Mrs. T. Saunders with a service badge. This citation read: "Mrs. T. Saunders has been an exceptionally clever and untiring worker for the Red Cross. Her efforts have been almost colossal and beyond belief. At various times she has had charge of the sewing and knitting, has assisted with the packing, organized and directed the making of surgical dressings and assisted in no small way with administration of the Sherbrooke Blood Clinic. She, at all times, felt personally responsible for the success of the Red Cross work and was unceasing in the efforts to bring in slackers."

Then she presented Mrs. C. E. Sterling with a service badge. This citation read: "Mrs. Sterling has been a bulwark of strength to the Lennoxville branch. She has entered into every activity with unfailing goodwill and helpfulness. Without her extreme devotion the branch would never have maintained its continued efficiency."

Mrs. Wallace thanked Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Abbott and offered her congratulations to the members receiving the awards. Tea was served and a pleasant social time enjoyed. The large work table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of pansies.

Mrs. Wallace presided at the silver tea service and the hostesses were Mrs. R. C. McFadden, Mrs. E. W. Gilbey and Mrs. Wallace.

GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY

The members of St. Monica's Guild met at the home of Mrs. C. Parkin, Church Street, for a garden party in honor of Mrs. W. B. Brady, who is leaving Lennoxville.

Sixth Home Falls Prey To Blaze

The last house to be razed by the Katevale fire on Saturday morning is shown burning furiously. When the Record photographer arrived shortly after ten o'clock, the place was ablaze and the fire, fanned by a strong wind, prevented approach closer than fifty feet.

Loan Referendum To Be Held In Spite Of Dollar's Parity

Sherbrooke ratepayers will vote tomorrow on the municipal referendum for renewal of a $434,000 bond issue in New York in spite of the adjustment of the Canadian dollar at par with the American dollar, it was learned today.

City Treasurer Maurice Cormier said that it had been found necessary to proceed with the referendum, rather than redeem the bonds at once now that the dollar is at par, because of negotiations already completed between the city, the Bank of Montreal and New York banks concerning the renewal of the loan at 2 per cent.

In view of the altered exchange situation, and the benefit which Sherbrooke stands to gain if the bonds are paid up now, it is expected that citizens may oppose, rather than uphold, the referendum, in which case the municipal authorities will proceed to redeem their obligation.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Two of Sherbrooke's well-known citizens, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Codere, celebrated the golden wedding anniversary of their wedding on Saturday, June 29.

A local newspaper of the same date in 1896 said: "Mr. L. E. Codere, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Codere, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Josephine Mary Cecilia Doherty, a young lady of many graces of manner and disposition, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Doherty, also of Sherbrooke. The young couple, both gifted musicians, were married in St. Patrick's Church by Rev. Father E. C. Fiset, with the Miss Margaret and Irene Doherty attending the bride."

"Local musicians made a gala event of the wedding. Co-students of both bride and groom from Montreal and elsewhere sang leading parts in the music rendered by St. Patrick's choir and Union Musicians. Mrs. Charles Boudoin sang Gounod's Ave Maria with violin obligato by T. K. Doherty, and a full volunteer orchestra accompanied the service throughout."

"The church was filled. . . the wedding trip a reception was held home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Doherty, London Street."

Upon their return from their wedding trip a reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. Codere, on King Street, where the young couple were serenaded by the Harmony Band, which gave a concert on the green terrace in front of the Codere home.

In 1921, silver bells rang for their 25th wedding anniversary. Father Fiset celebrated the thanksgiving mass. Almost the entire original members of the wedding party and guests attended. The Cathedral Choir, with Professor Cartier as organist, contributed the musical portion of the service, rendering "A Hymn of Praise" by Mrs. Codere.

Mr. and Mrs. Codere had twelve children, five of whom died in infancy.

Owing to a bereavement through the recent death of an older son, their golden wedding anniversary was very quietly observed. A thanksgiving mass was celebrated at St. Patrick's by their nephew, Rev. Canon Napoleon Codere, with invitations confined to immediate relatives and a few old friends. In the sanctuary were Very Rev. Canon McGee, Rev. Father R. Moisan, the pastor, and Rev. Father L. Tierney, assistant priest. Mass was served by two grandchildren, Jean Paul Leveque and Richard Tanner. Canon McGee congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Codere on having reached a milestone attained by a comparative few; on their large Christian family and on the harmony they created among themselves and shared with citizens at large. He mentioned the children who are following in their parents' footsteps, notably John Codere, their master in St. Patrick's where his father and mother had been organist and choir leader, and Margaret, Mrs. McManus, assistant organist and choir leader at the Gesù parish in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Maurice Shea presided at the organ. John Codere played the "In Memoriam Choral" and the "Te Deum." and Miss Margaret Doherty sang an "Ave Maria," composition of Mrs. Codere.

Later a wedding breakfast was served at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Codere. Mrs. Eugene Codere, last of her generation, attended the church service but on account of illness could not attend the reception. Mrs. J. H. Walsh, a guest at the 1896 wedding, called during the reception but was unable to attend the church service. A toast was proposed by Canon Codere. Short congratulatory addresses were given by Canon McGee, Rev. Father Moisan and Rev. Father Tierney.

BOND ISSUE IS PUT OUT FOR NEW HOSPITAL

The proposed new hospital at a site on Portland Avenue to replace the Sherbrooke Hospital, was a step nearer realization today with issuance by the A.E. Ames and Company underwriters of $376,800 in non-callable serial bonds at two, two and a half, two and three quarters and three per cent interest rates.

The $376,800 represents the yearly government grant over a period of twenty years and along with the $250,000 which is expected to be realized by the sale of the present institution and about $309,000 to be secured by private bond issues, will make up the total estimated cost of a million dollars for the new completely equipped hospital.

The bonds now on sale by the A. E. Ames Company are fully subsidized by the Province of Quebec under the Public Charities Act and legal investment for Trustees Funds in the province.

EMPLOYEES AT TEXTILE FIRM END HOLIDAY

Dominion Textile Company employees, numbering 782, returned to work this morning after enjoying a week's holiday with pay.

The holiday bonus, company officials said, represented two per cent on the year's earnings, with a $20 minimum for any veterans who rejoined the company.

RESULTS GIVEN OF EXAMINATION AT PIGEON HILL

School was closed on Thursday last, after a very successful term, the teacher, Mrs. Laycock, and her pupils held a picnic in the "Sage Grove," where games and sports of all kinds were enjoyed.

The following is a report of final exams, Pigeon Hill School. Names in order of merit:

Grade VII: Agnes Perrott, 76; Barbara Deline, 74.2.

Grade V: Ronnie Deline, 72.7; Marjorie Jackavonis, 70.4; Stephen Day, absent.

Grade IV: Lucien Boucher, 73.3; Menette Day, 72.3; Jane Erno, 70.7; Foster Wilson, absent.

Grade III: Earl Erno, 55.8.

Grade II: Doris Deline, 79.6.

Grade I: Wayne Sornberger, 95.5; Madeline Rychar, 93.

Prize winners:

General proficiency in all grades, Wayne Sornberger.

Personal neatness, Agnes Perrott.

Prize for best kept work books, given by Mrs. V. Jenkins, was won by Madeline Rychar. Because of the neatness of the books, Mrs. Jenkins gave each pupil a scribbler.

Crop Damage By Heat, Drought Experienced In This District

Damage by heat and drought to crops in the district is noted in the telegraphic report issued today by the Agricultural Branch of the Bureau of Statistics. The report, third in a series of seven, is based on information supplied by district agronomists of the Province of Quebec and by the Information and Research Service of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

A summary of crop conditions shows fodder plants, truck crops and cereals suffered from lack of rain last week, which saw one of the most severe periods of drought and excessive heat. The hay crop will be rather light. Pastures are poor in grass and milk production has begun to decrease as compared with last year at the same date.

Based upon conditions reported by correspondents, the general situation regarding agricultural pests is satisfactory. Nevertheless, flies, beetles and Colorado beetles on potatoes, cut-worms in cabbages, tomatoes and tobacco, maggots on onions, aphids in all crops and tent caterpillars on fruit and ornamental fruits are presently the most active insects. The principal diseases noted are mosaic on potatoes, bacterial blight on beans and especially apple scab on fruits and leaves. Weeds are plentiful and are a disgrace along the roads. Drought, wind and heavy rains have caused damage to some crops in many localities.

Crop conditions in Eastern Townships districts follow, with a report on agricultural pests covering June 15-30.

Frontenac: Drought is persisting. Cereals, meadows and pastures are suffering from lack of rain. Milk production is decreasing. Strawberry crop is compromised.

Arthabaska, Megantic, Wolfe: Warm and dry weather. Pastures are suffering and hay crop will be only average. Milk flow is holding fairly well. Rain is needed in all crops.

Drummond, Nicolet, Richelieu, Yamaska: Warm weather and no rain during last ten days; drought is to be feared. Hay and grain, in many localities.

Compton, Richmond, Sherbrooke, Stanstead: Hay has improved greatly during the past two weeks; however there is very little clover due to winter killing and yield on old meadows will be light. A few farmers have commenced haying. Most of corn was planted late but weather this week has been ideal for this crop. Early planted potatoes look promising. Root crops are late. Milk production was good to June 24th, weather was cool, no flies; weather since the 24th has been hot and dry and it will affect pastures very quickly.

Brome, Rouville, Shefford: Seeding completed and germination good. Hay crop is expected to range from poor to fair. Pastures are mediocre due to lack of moisture but live stock are in normal conditions. Transplantation of sugar beets is 90 per cent finished, fields are clean and appearance is good. Picking strawberries is in full swing, with good yields. Apple trees have good appearance.

Based upon conditions reported by correspondents, the general situation regarding agricultural pests is satisfactory. Nevertheless, flies, beetles and Colorado beetles on potatoes, cut-worms in cabbages, tomatoes and tobacco, maggots on onions, aphids in all crops and tent caterpillars on fruit and ornamental fruits are presently the most active insects. The principal diseases noted are mosaic on potatoes, bacterial blight on beans and especially apple scab on fruits and leaves. Weeds are plentiful and are a disgrace along the roads. BROMPTON LAKE LAND IS SOLD TO BOMBARDIER

Alfred Bombardier, snowmobile manufacturer of Valcourt, Que., has purchased the territory surrounding Brompton Lake for $150,000. The land includes several thousand acres and extends on one side to Kingsbury and on the other to Montjoie Lake.

Pulpwood on the property has been sold to the Canada Paper Company and hardwood to other concerns. Alex Philip, resident manager of the Canada Paper, stated to the Record today that his company, in line with its policy of forest conservation and preservation of the beauty of the Townships, is giving property owners on the lakeshore an opportunity to buy the trees on their land.

There is talk of constructing a dam on the property which would flood a part of the purchased terrain to a depth of ten feet. This would be a hydraulic exploitation and the section which would be flooded, it is stated, is now being sold for summer cottages.

LOCAL SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS ARE RETURNED

Re-election of retiring commissioners on the Protestant and Roman Catholic school boards took place this morning, with Dr. H. D. Bayne and W. H. Bradley being returned for another term on the Protestant Board, and Joseph Labrecque and John R. Sims being re-elected by the Catholic panel.

The complete Protestant Board: James H. Wark, chairman; Claude L. Scaford, vice chairman; Dr. H. D. Bayne, W. H. Bradley and A. C. Ross, members; George E. Ewing, secretary-treasurer.

The complete Catholic Board: Edouard Boivin, chairman; Ernest Lafontaine, Eugene Gervais, Joseph Labrecque and John R. Sims, members; Mastie J. Choquette, secretary-treasurer.

JOHNS-MANVILLE
MERCURY HITS 2800 DEGREES!

Most of us think that boiling water at 212° is pretty hot. So it is hard to imagine temperatures way up around twenty-eight hundred degrees. Yet modern industrial processes require this fierce heat. Control of high temperatures would not be possible without the help of insulating materials such as Johns-Manville makes.

You see J-M insulating materials not only withstand extreme temperatures, but they also stop heat from escaping. They enable engineers to build up temperatures, keep them uniform and cut down fuel costs. Johns-Manville industrial insulations thus serve in the development of many new manufacturing processes and they save industry millions of dollars in fuel every year.

If you have an insulating problem in your plant, for any condition from 400 degrees below zero up to 2800 degrees above, get in touch with Johns-Manville — Sun Life Building, Montreal.

WHY EXTEND WAR TIME CONTROLS?

Canadians, who have become decidedly restive under the continuation of the wartime psychology displayed by the members of the Dominion Cabinet in extending various emergency measures and controls, will view with grave concern the request made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King that the powers conferred upon the Cabinet to issue orders to meet emergency conditions be extended for sixty days after the next session of Parliament meets instead of for the fifteen days provided under existing legislation.

What is the purpose behind the proposal for a forty-five-day extension of the emergency powers? Why does the Prime Minister feel that the country must be governed by decree for sixty days after Parliament opens? Does he envisage some new developments on which he does not wish to take the people into his confidence? Or has the administration become so seeped in the idea of inflicting its will upon the people that it cannot conceive surrendering any of its excessive prerogatives until the last possible moment?

To anyone who has followed the reasoning of the majority of the members of the Government, the latter appears the most likely alternative. Their thought processes have become so dominated by the bureaucrats they have put in senior positions that they seem afraid to do anything which would curb the power of this star chamber government.

In demanding these control extensions the Government is using the legal myth that Canada is still at war. This may serve to save their own consciences, but it will not cloud the issue in the mind of the average citizen. For all intents and purposes, the war has been over for twelve months now and despite the lack of any formal treaty or proclamation by the government, the average citizen is faced with the problems of peace and reconversion. It is time that the Government took the same view. What people want is to be permitted to meet these problems in their own way without undue interference on the part of the executive. The Cabinet Ministers must revise their way of thinking immediately. The country accepted war time controls to win the war, but it will not accept war time controls that are hampering a return to real peace.

DEMOCRACY ENDANGERED

Serious concern is being expressed by many shrewd observers lest the democratic system in Canada and the United States is being undermined by an unconscious public desire for more government dictators to smooth out the rough wrinkles in our complex post-war world. That the feeling democracy is being undermined by these demands is widespread is evident from recent news despatches from points as far removed as Vancouver and New York in which public-minded men are reported to have issued warnings against this tendency.

In Vancouver, S. N. F. Chant, professor of philosophy at University of British Columbia, deprecated the delegating of too much authority to government and explained: "The more government regulates our lives the less true democracy we will have, and the more indication there is that we are incapable of handling our own affairs."

A similar warning was issued in New York by James Aloysius "Big Jim" Farley, long an astute diagnostician of the United States political pulse. Said the former United States Postmaster-General:

"I have an uneasy feeling that the belief is spreading that people are not capable of governing themselves; that problems today are so complex that citizens at large must of necessity detach themselves from their own difficulties. The concept of the political elite is growing."

Too much dependence on governments is a quieter but nearly as dangerous threat to democracy as the blunt challenge of Hitler, Mussolini and the Japanese war lords. The only way in which it can be battled successfully is for the display of greater self-reliance on the part of the individual. There is too much calling upon the government to control this or that or to provide financial assistance to some cause or other. These actions might be of temporary advantage to the recipients of this aid, but it must be appreciated that the more the government assists any organization, the more it will insist upon controlling its policies until finally the entire control will rest with the government—or more likely with the bureaucrats who have so much to do with the determination of government policy.

HANDLING DISPLACED PERSONS

Little objection can be taken to the dictum of the military authorities in the British-occupied zone of Germany that the displaced persons now being cared for in that area accept one of three alternatives: Work in Germany and live on German rations, return to their homes in Eastern Europe or get no rations at all.

The problem of the displaced persons—those who were forcibly removed from their home areas by the Nazis and placed in the German industrial machine or those who fled their homelands before the advance of invading armies—has been one of the most difficult facing the occupation authorities. For the most part they have been lodged in camps and fed by UNRRA on rations substantially above the level of the average German. But they have been essentially non-producers and their maintenance has been an added burden on the United Nations.

Admittedly their position draws a certain degree of justified sympathy, but the feeling has been growing in recent months that many of them felt no inclination to restore themselves. Some, perhaps, are right in their contention that they face persecution for their political views if they return to their homeland, but it is to be feared that a great proportion of them objected to the re-transfer because they felt their position was better than at home or because they might have an opportunity of playing upon the sympathies of the Allies to be migrated to happier lands. So strong is the opposition to the re-transfer that it is anticipated some 350,000 displaced persons will be left in the British occupation zone by the end of the year when UNRRA folds up. It seems only logical that if they are unwilling to return home, they at least do something for their own maintenance.

HOUSING WITHOUT OPA CEILINGS

When the runaway Congress knocked out price ceilings last week-end, it may also have blown the roof off the veterans' housing program. All the angles have not yet been figured out by Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt's experts, but if Congress does not renew price controls in some form applicable to the housing program, the National Housing Agency will have to do a lot of fast erection of emergency shelters to cover these problems.

Under the Veterans' Housing Act, the Federal Housing Administration was authorized to put ceiling prices on completed housing and channel building materials into this "HH" priority construction. The cost of any house, however, is made up of the sum of the costs of its components—lumber, brick, plumbing and so forth. A ceiling price could be put on a completed house only if there were ceilings on the components. So if the ceilings are taken off the components how can the roof be kept on the house?

Furthermore, if there are no price ceilings on building materials, what good are the so-called "HH" priorities? If a building supply dealer can legitimately sell his materials at high prices to the first comer, there is no point in selling them at lower prices to go into priority housing on which there must be a ceiling.

Another feature of the Patman Housing Act provided for paying premiums for extra production of scarce building materials. Agreements have already been made on how these premiums, or subsidies, will be paid for extra production of plywood, clay products and gypsum paper liners. Agreements are all ready on hardwood flooring, cast iron soil pipe and heating convectors. Others are in preparation. Now that price ceilings are removed, all production can be sold at prices even higher than provided as premium payments. So these incentives become meaningless, and Expediter Wyatt may have to exercise his option to terminate these premium payment plans.

HIGHER PRICES DEFEAT VET PROGRAM

In the same way, guaranteed market payments for new building materials and prefabricated housing may become ineffective. With higher prices on standard building materials permissible, guaranteed payments on new materials would have to be still higher to encourage their production and use. That would only defeat the main purpose of the vets' housing program, which is to build as much low-cost housing as possible.

One of the points emphasized in Wyatt's first monthly progress report, just issued, is that about half of the $31,000 HH priority dwelling units approved in the first five months of 1946 will sell for less than $7500 or rent for less than $60 a month. Wyatt says this is too high and there must be more units to rent for under $40. This was hard enough under the OPA ceilings existing up to June 30.

"If these controls are removed or substantially weakened," says Wyatt, "the whole low-cost nature of the program will be endangered."

LUMBER ALREADY HAS INCREASED

President Truman's OPA veto message statement that under the Taft and Wherry amendments, the average increase of building materials, excluding lumber, would be approximately 20 per cent, was based on OPA estimates ranging from 16 to 26 per cent for various materials. That's an important point. The Taft and Wherry amendments might have caused higher prices than would obtain under a free market, with no controls at all. That helps explain the veto.

Lumber was excluded from the President's statement because since November the three principal grades of lumber, comprising 90 per cent of all sales, have already had price increases of 11 to 12 per cent. Bureau of Labor Statistics says lumber prices are now 25 per cent above 1945, 90 per cent above 1939. Removal of price controls on lumber might therefore have less effect than on other building materials. This is borne out by Cotton Northern, secretary of the National Retail Lumber Dealers' Association. He says there may be some lumber increases at first to meet black market competition but that as soon as the black market is eliminated, there should be more lumber and more mill work, better distributed and at less cost.

On other building materials, the chief shortages are in steel and copper, caused by recent strikes. Manufacturers of building materials declared there is ample plant capacity to supply all building materials needed. They have been operating at only 60 to 70 per cent capacity because OPA ceilings on low-cost standard building materials have made it more profitable to manufacture high-grade materials. Now that the ceilings are off, production of low-cost materials should go up quickly, and prices should come down.

Press Comment

Today and tomorrow the Record will publish editorials taken from other Canadian papers showing the press reaction to Finance Minister Isley's budget. Most significant of today's editorials are those in the Windsor Daily Star and the Montreal Star. Both these papers are usually supporters of the present Federal Government. In its budget comments the Montreal paper criticizes the Government severely, and the Windsor daily "dams with faint praise" to begin with, and then deplores Mr. Isley's "line of thinking" that would take purchasing power out of the public's hands.

EDITOR.

THE BUDGET

Montreal Daily Star
The inevitable reaction of the average Canadian citizen to the Budget statement made by the Finance Minister, Mr. Isley, in the House of Commons last night will be one of mingled surprise, irritation and anger. The public, basing its expectations on the previous Budget statement, had anticipated, and with sound reason, that in this, the first peacetime budget since 1939, there would be a substantial relief granted the Dominion in taxation. Instead, they find no relief for the present year, and such relief measures as are granted—and they are mainly tawdry and insignificant—will not apply until 1947. In that year, the personal income tax will be reduced in the lowest brackets and will bring a welcome relief for the poorer classes. Other so-called relief consists of a cut in the flat rate corporation tax from 40 to 30 per cent—in accordance with an agreement between the Federal Government and the Provinces—and in the excess profits tax of 5 per cent. These are slight reliefs. The reduction in the excess profits tax will not eliminate the disability which the remaining excess profits tax will work on Canadian business against American competition, since the United States has abolished its excess profits tax entirely. Even in war-shaken England, where they are finding it exceedingly difficult to raise money by taxation to meet the vast expense of the socialist government-ownership legislation, the excess tax will be abolished at the end of this year.

There are numerous little sops to Canadians scattered through the Budget statement, but they mean very little indeed to anybody, and their sincerity may be doubted, in view of the obvious trick of doubling the federal succession duties with provincial succession duties allowable as a deduction, which is dealt with elsewhere in these columns.

The public will naturally ask: Why, since the war is over and its enormous inevitable expense is eliminated, cannot the Government give the people of Canada some substantial relief from taxation? They will point to the enormous deficit of $1,739,000,000 for the past financial year, despite the fact that some $555,000,000 was cut off the aggregate expenditure as the result of the end of the war and the reduction of war outlay. The public may well ask: Where is all the money going to? Mr. Isley is evidently inspired by fear of inflation. It is an ever-present menace, and to reduce taxation too much might leave too much money in the hands of the public. But if it is desirable to keep money out of the public's hands, would it not be a better plan to re-introduce some form of compulsory saving that would give the taxpayer some hope of getting his money back some time?

It is all very well, say Mr. Isley and the Government, to be afraid of inflation, but they should equally fear a lowering of Canadian industry. No man is going to work harder—as we discovered even in war plants during the conflict—if he knows that the greater part of what he earns will go to the Government for a purpose he cannot discover.

The situation would be different if the Canadian people saw what they are getting for these extraordinary tax collections, but a careful perusal of the Budget proposals discloses no return to the Canadian people except an illusory social security from which, until now, only a few people in the country benefit.

From whatever viewpoint it may be regarded this Budget statement cannot be held as other than exceedingly disappointing, and certainly not calculated to bring anything but weakened public confidence in our federal financial administration.

Mr. Isley has manifestly been very ill-advised and his experts appear to have been exploiting untested theories at the expense of the Canadian taxpayer.

THE BUDGET

Windsor Daily Star
Hundreds of thousands of people least able to pay will, beginning six months from now, enjoy welcome relief from the burden of income taxation. More than half a million will get complete exemption. An even greater number, in the lowest taxable brackets, will be called on to pay as much as 50 per cent less than at present.

This is the bright spot in the budget brought down in the House of Commons last night by Rt. Hon. J. L. Isley. It is well to mention the cheerful side of the matter at once. Perhaps it will serve as some preparation for the shocks and disappointments contained in the rest of the announcement.

Those who expected any great over-all relief from the burdensome income taxation find the actuality much less attractive than their hopes. Those who had looked forward to an immediate relief are utterly disappointed. Everyone must continue, for the remainder of this year, to pay exactly what he is now paying.

The budget contains one sound principle, relief for the people receiving low incomes. Statistically, the Government can point impressively to the numbers removed from the tax roll entirely, and this will be generally welcomed. The reductions, however, are not so inclusive as the people had been led to expect.

As income rises, the saving is sharply reduced. The person who receives $3,000 and upward per year finds little to cheer about. True, Mr. Isley has re-instituted the principle of absolute exemptions, of $750 for single people and $1,500 for married, and that is to be welcomed. He has also reduced the rates, and at first glance these reductions seem to be substantial.

The net decrease, however, is not so striking. When it is considered that the 16 per cent flat rebate disappears, as does also the drawback which has applied since the dropping of the compulsory saving principle. The relief thus becomes more apparent than real.

There is a still more serious factor, and this is the continuing feud between the Dominion and the provinces, to which Mr. Isley is significantly devoted a great deal of attention. He severely lectured the other Governments which failed to reach agreement at the recent conferences, and outlined a plan whereby those provinces which will not sign separate pacts with the Dominion will be left free to go back into the personal and corporate income tax field.

The possibilities implicit in this situation are disturbing. Satisfaction with the reductions in the tax rate must be qualified by the uncertainty as to what the provinces will do. It is quite possible that any saving will be wiped out by a duplication of taxation. It is, in fact, impossible to appraise the net effect until we know what the provinces are going to demand.

One disturbing feature is the indication of certain lines of thinking to be found in Mr. Isley's words. He spoke of taxation imposed for the purpose of keeping buying power out of the hands of the people, as a safeguard against inflation. That principle should have gone by the boards with the ending of the war. The one aim of taxation today should be to collect necessary revenue.

He spoke also of providing the "incentive" to produce goods, but the budget does little in this direction at least for the immediate future. As a matter of fact, the failure to give effect at once to the measures for relief are more likely to result in a sag in production between now and the end of the year.

There will be keen disappointment that the reductions do not operate at once, as they have invariably done up until the present. This is likely to have a serious moral effect. The people have been confidently counting on the immediate enjoyment of whatever benefits the budget might bring them. Instead, they must look forward to another six months of burdensome levies, and even the hope of relief at the end of that period will do little to dull their disappointment.

THE BIG STICK

Toronto Globe and Mail.

It is impossible by any stretch of fiscal fact or economic circumstance to see the necessity for Finance Minister Isley confusing his Budget with the Federal Government's latest "proposals" to the Provinces. To excuse doing so he announced that succession duties will be doubled, and advised corporations that if the Provinces accept his ultimatum they will pay an extra 5 per cent tax. The propriety of place and timing aside, his statement was a singularly bad-mannered method of informing those Governments which were supposed to be meeting in conference to discuss a financial agreement that the Dominion has reached a decision.

Mr. J. M. Macdonnell, Opposition financial critic, stated the case succinctly and precisely when he said that "a very, very big stick" was being used, making tenable the assumption that Prime Minister King and his colleagues "did not want the conference to succeed" last May. Indeed, the more one ponders the Finance Minister's ultimatum and reflects on the manoeuvring of the last eleven months, the more apparent it becomes that Mr. King and his Government have abandoned a conference they couldn't use to create a national issue.

Mr. Isley's statement took no trouble to conceal that attitude, which was in strange contrast to his appeal for earnest and quick consideration by the Provinces. What is there to consider? It is take-it-or-leave-it. Ottawa is going to do what it wants to do, and what it intended to do from the outset. By way of pointing up this dismissal of the conference, it is worth recalling just how the Dominion—Provincial Conference developed.

It was last August that the Provinces were first called to Ottawa to consider the Federal proposals for a temporary financial agreement. Those proposals were then offered not as a future way of life, but as a basis for discussion. During the November session of the conference those proposals were varied. Last January they were varied again. And during the April-May meeting when the conference spent a few days in "open" session, they were varied again. Now, without informing the Provinces, they are varied again, even the term of the agreement has been changed from three to five years, and some of the "proposals" written into the Budget.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the new proposals is the manner in which the Federal Government has swallowed itself. Last August while trying to sell its original proposals it rightly pointed out that double taxation had to end. It was uneconomic and wasteful. There were wild outcries against an Ontario suggestion that some forms of double taxation be retained, pending a permanent re-allocation of powers and taxation sources, but that uniform legislation be adopted and the collection centralized.

That would not do at all. This was said, was an attempt at evasion of a wrong principle and a bad practice. Yet, in effect, this is precisely what Mr. Isley would do now. The Federal Government will take over income and corporation taxes. But there is to be a 5 per cent tax.

BAIT FOR THE PROVINCES

Montreal Daily Star
The new federal proposals to the provinces will doubtless be regarded by the latter as a club held over their heads—and with considerable justification. Ottawa has succeeded in conveying the impression that its plan "gives" the provinces something. As a matter of fact Ottawa gives nothing; it merely returns to the provinces money which they themselves would have collected under the old system of taxation.

From the point of view of the provincial legislator eager to have more money to spend, the proposals perhaps have something to recommend them. Ottawa encourages the provinces to spend more money at a time when economy should be the watchword not only in provincial capitals but in the national capital as well. Yet, as a bait to entice the provinces into new taxation agreements, Ottawa offers them an increase in their receipts from the $124,500,000 they receive under existing tax agreements to $168,200,000 under the proposed agreements. This is a clear invitation to the provinces to spend more money.

From another point of view the new plan is designed to coerce Quebec and Ontario to come into a scheme from which they have withheld themselves. It is doubtful that the coercion will succeed, for both Ontario and Quebec are the major money-earning provinces in the Dominion, are in a position to go their own sweet way notwithstanding anything Ottawa may do. It is true that if Ottawa imposes high taxation, as it proposes to do with respect to succession duties, and the provinces impose duplicate taxation in the same fields, provincial taxpayers will complain and support their complaints at the polls. What remains in doubt is where the political blow would fall. It might very well fall on the Federal Government, which is responsible for the high tax proposals and for the President Roosevelt has ordered the occupation of Iceland by United States troops to avert a Nazi pincer move on the vital British shipping lane. His latest warning to Germany carries permission for United States warships to fire upon Nazi surface or undersea craft found in these waters.

The Royal Air Force has dropped a new four thousand pound bomb in its offensive against the invasion coast where it is seeking to soften Nazi defences.

Officers elected at the annual meeting of the Richmond branch of the W.C.T.U. were: Mrs. M. Armistage, Mrs. C. R. Boast, Mrs. J. A. Grady, Mrs. A. Norris and Mrs. Ellsworth Beers.

The Sherbrooke municipal authorities have opened negotiations for the purchase of a property on Meadow Street for the purpose of improving the entrance to the parking ground and substantially increasing its capacity.

invitation to the provinces to be aion rate in that field beyond all extravagant reason.

The proposal to double succession duties is iniquitous on its face. It is doubtless part of the plan Ottawa finance officers seem to have to redistribute Canadian income, but it penalizes initiative and in the long run will bring less return to the country.

It is all very well to talk about getting rid of double taxation, but the need for filling in a multiplicity of forms, but the taxpayer or his estate will take little comfort from this if at the same time the rate of taxation is doubled. Mr. Isley implies that the doubling of taxation results from Ottawa taking over both provincial and Federal succession duties, but it should be remembered that until 1941 Ottawa collected no succession duties at all. The Federal authority was not in this field and invaded it for purposes of war revenue only. Now it proposes not only to remain in a field formerly the exclusive prerogative of the provinces, but to increase the tax-

Those administrators who have had experience with Ottawa and the provinces with regard to succession duties are aware that whereas an estate can be settled in from three to six months in any province, to get one through the maze of Federal regulations and investigations takes years.

This form of taxation—call it double or duplicate taxation or what you will—can hardly be tolerated. Because it represents the invasion of a field formerly reserved to the provinces, it will leave a sore; it will cause disunity taking over both provincial and Federal succession duties, but it should be remembered that until 1941 Ottawa collected no succession duties at all. The Federal authority was not in this field and invaded it for purposes of war revenue only. Now it proposes not only to remain in a field formerly the exclusive prerogative of the provinces, but to increase the tax-

DEFENSE IS FOILED ON HOLD-UP OF KING

There was a battle of wits on today's hand in a recent tournament and fearless defenders lost the contract. Fred L. Karpin of Brooklyn, N.Y., read through East's keen defense and made a nice play to make his contract.

At most tables declarer trumped the ace of diamonds with a small spade and took four rounds of trumps. The ten of clubs was led and the finesse taken, and if East won with the king the contract was safe because the losing hearts were discarded on good clubs.

At some tables East refused to win with the king of clubs, and declarer cashed the ace and king of hearts, hoping to drop the queen doubton, and if that did not work, intending to take an- other club finesse. Then of course East won the second club finesse contract, and a heart trick was cashed.

Karpin took the club finesse immediately after trumping the first diamond. When East refused to win, Karpin then cashed the ace in this case, some South players and king of hearts and led the third round of hearts with the in- king, but the holdup of the king was a simple defensive play.

Mrs. R. G. Little, of Hatley, was in town and was an afternoon guest of Mrs. Frank Smith.

Miss Marguerite Millmore entertained at a delightful miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss June Reed, a popular bride-to-be,
which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Millmore. After a social evening the bride-elect was presented with a gaily decorated umbrella which was filled with useful gifts, for which Miss Reed thanked her friends in her usual pleasing manner. Mrs. Robert Reed presided at the dainty tea table, centered with a silver basket of white flowers and pink tapers in silver holders. The hostess was assisted in her hospitable duties by Mrs. G. T. Millmore. The decorations were carried out in pink.

Loyalty To Legion Is Demanded At Area Meeting Held In Magog

Magog, July 8.—An meeting of the Canadian Legion of the Eastern Townships Area, No. 3, was held in the Laurier Street Armoury.

Ten branches were represented: Cowansville, East Angus, Granby, Magog, Potton, Sawyerville, Sherbrooke, North Hatley, Knowlton and Waterloo.

Comrade D. Ramage, president of the Magog Branch, welcomed the delegates, then handed the meeting over to Comrade Arthur Ruck, president of the area.

Comrade Dr. M. E. Adams of Magog, who welcomed the members of the Legion to Magog, said that he would do anything in his power to help them. He also asked for their help in the collection of clothes for Europe.

Comrade Westgate, of East Angus, third vice-president of the Provincial Command, thanked the members of the Legion for honoring him with that position, but stated that the veterans were not showing the same loyalty as they had when in uniform. They were not proving to the public in general that they are worthy of the special privileges that the Legion has obtained and is trying to obtain for the returned men. They should show their loyalty to the Legion by sticking to their jobs and not having so many reunions during working hours. The Legion should not be an organization solely for deriving benefits but rather to help a less fortunate comrade. The Legion must have the public support or all its members will suffer.

President Ruck called for an election of a new president for the area. Comrade Westgate took the chair for the election. Comrade R. Myers, of Granby, was elected president of the area. He called for a vote of thanks for Comrade Ruck for the splendid work he had done during the last four years as area president.

It was decided to divide the area into four zones, and the branches in each zone are to meet and elect delegates to the district council. The meeting places for the zones are as follows: Brome, North Hatley, East Angus and Drummondville. The district council is to meet in Sherbrooke.

Comrade B. Miller, of Drummondville, urged for the support of these zone and district meetings. Many suggestions were made to be forwarded to the Provincial Command, after being approved by the different branches, among which were: a full time paid field secretary; enlargement of the Provincial Council to include members of outlying district, the forming of a nominating committee, to send to each branch a list of the names nominated for elective officers; of the provincial command and at least thirty days before the Provincial convention; and a new method of balloting at the convention.

Comrade A. Bourgeois spoke of the work of the Sherbrooke Branch, at the St. Francis Sanatorium, and asked for support from other branches.

Comrade Rev. A. Tulk, chaplain of Branch No. 80, thanked the members for attending in such large numbers and told the delegates to remember that the most important work of the Legion was not done at the area meetings or at the provincial or Dominion conventions but was done by each member of the legion in his own branch. The meeting closed with singing of "God Save The King" after which refreshments were served by Magog Branch.

General Notes
The clothing drive is now on for the collection of clothing for the suffering people of Europe. The Post Office is the depot for your bundles. Give generously.

Mrs. Foss, Miss Eva Westover and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner of Sandwich, Mass., spent several days at the former's cottage, at Lake Memphremagog.

The Women's Missionary Society was entertained by Mrs. J. W.

Broadbent, at her home at Wright's Beach. Transportation was provided by the various members with cars.

Mr. Harry Magoon, of Woodville, N.H., was a recent guest of his aunts, the Misses Dolloff.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Miss Ethel Wilson and Mr. Gordon Wilson motored to Lancaster, N.H., where they were guests of Mrs. Ida Page and Miss May Page.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

"I bought this up-to-the-minute book on juvenile delinquency—it worries me how stubborn and hard-boiled he is demanding his bottle!"

BEDFORD

Miss Peggy Parsons, of Montreal, was the guest over the holiday week-end of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Parsons.

Miss Ruth Van Horn has returned from Walton, N.Y., where she was the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Fitch, and is leaving shortly to spend the summer in the Laurentians.

Miss L. Simard who taught at Megantic during the past year, has returned to Bedford to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Simard.

Miss Violet Bodreau has completed her business course at the Convent of the Sisters of the Presentation of Mary, at Freilighsburg, and has returned to Bedford and is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bodreau.

On Monday evening Miss Martha Holland, whose marriage to Mr. Harold Palmer takes place on Saturday next, was the guest of honor at a shower tendered her by her friends. The party was held at the home of Mrs. John Ewing, with Miss Audrey Bardshaw as joint hostess. Miss Holland was the recipient of many dainty and useful gifts.

Mr. Wilbur Borden is spending his vacation with Mrs. Borden at their summer home at Parker's, at North Hero, Vt.

Mr. William MacArthur has purchased from Mr. L. Ames, the lot adjoining Mr. Ames' residence on Dutch Street.

On Saturday evening the very successful tombola held by members of St. Damien Roman Catholic Church concluded. It was held on the grounds adjoining St. Joseph's Convent and was largely attended during the five evenings, which it was opened. On Thursday evening an old fashioned supper was held, at which were present over three hundred guests, the arrangements for the supper being in the hands of Mr. Sylvia Hebert, while among the young ladies of the parish who assisted in serving the supper were the Misses Delia Dupuis, Madeline and Suzanne LeRoque, L. Maurice, L. Leblanc, A. Dery and L. Hiroux. On the final evening the drawing for the large doll, which was dressed and donated by Mrs. G. C. Leblanc took place, the winning ticket being held by little Miss Lauzier of St. Armand, while Miss Granger held the winning ticket for the sum of $50.00, the remainder of the one hundred dollars on which tickets were sold were won by Mr. Germain of Notre Dame de Stanbridge, Mr. Loisele, of Stanbridge East, and Mrs. Martin, of St. Johns. The funds raised from this event will be used for improvements to the church property. A popular feature of the tombola were two fortune telling booths, which were in charge of Mrs. L. Dragon and Mrs. J. Brazeau. The treasurer for the tombola was Mr. Hector Langevin.

The marriage of Eufimie Cecile Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Smith, of Three Rivers, to Mr. James Caruthers Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reid, of Kinkora, P.E.I., took place on June 29th, Miss Donald College.

A miscellaneous shower was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jenkins and Miss Elsie Jenkins for Miss Ena Mansell, whose marriage to Mr. Royce Chamberlain, of the Pinnacle, is taking place shortly. A friend of the groom took Miss Mansell and Mr. Chamberlain for a drive prior to the shower, ending at the Jenkins home, where thirty friends had assembled. After Miss Mansell had been escorted to a chair beside a basket decorated in pink and white, which was filled with many and varied articles including pyrex ware, linen, kitchen ware and cheques. After Miss Mansell opened her gifts, both she and Mr. Chamberlain thanked all her many friends. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Jenkins, who was assisted by Miss Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mahannah and Mr. Frederick Jenkins.

Miss Parsons, who has attended art school in Montreal during the past months, has returned to Bedford and is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Parsons.

Mrs. F. W. Wallace has gone to Magog where she will remain during the summer.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McCaw was baptized at the eleven o'clock service on Sunday morning at St. James' Church, the rector, the Rev. M. Stephens, officiating. The child received the names of John Malcolm.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Demers have returned from New Bedford, Mass., where they have spent the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ames are spending their holidays the guests of Prof. Call in Knowlton and will also visit in Three Rivers before returning home.

The death took place at her residence, 5644 Esplanade Avenue, Montreal, on Wednesday, June 26, of Mary Christina Alloway, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Robert Arthur Alloway, in her 71st year. The funeral service was held on Thursday, June 27th, at 11 a.m., at the Armstrong Chapel, 3426 Park Avenue, Montreal. The late Miss Alloway was a former resident of Bedford during the time that her father, Dr. Alloway, lived in Bedford, where he practised his profession as dentist. Previous to coming to Bedford, Miss Alloway had lived in Montreal, where she returned, after several years' residence in Bedford, and where the remainder of her life was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Williams are spending their holidays at Brome Lake. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Arthur Williams was christened on Sunday at the eleven o'clock service at St. James' Church, the rector, the Rev. M. Stephens, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Williams, grandparents of the child, who received the names of Brian Arthur, stood proxy for the godparents who were Miss Gladys Pike and Mr. Frederick Haycock, of Vancouver, B.C.

Master Richard Preston is spending some time in boys' camp at Fitch Bay. Miss Betty Reid has gone to Magog where she will spend the summer at the Hermitage Club. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, Mr.

Eric Jones, together with Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Draper spent the holiday week-end at their cottage at Lake Memphremagog.

FULFORD

Mr. Oscar Davis, Mr. J. W. Bockus, Mrs. Agnes Peacock and Mrs. Douglas Bockus were in Philadelphia to attend the graduation of Miss Leon d'Artois. Mrs. Elton Bockus and Mr. Gyles d'Artois accompanied them from Knowlton. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Graves and Mr. W. Miles, of Sherbrooke, were callers of Mr. J. W. Bockus and Mrs. Douglas Bockus. Mr. John Bockus, Mr. Edgar Bockus spent a day in Knowlton, with Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bockus and family. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis and Mrs. Catherine Davis were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis, in Waterville. Mrs. C. Davis remained for a few days longer. Mrs. Douglas is spending a few days in Farnham. Mr. and Mrs. Percy Clark, of Waterloo, were guests of Mrs. Legge and Mr. H. Banks.

Waiting is tough on us, too

For months we've been hoping to present each and every one of you with the new Packards you've ordered, and have been waiting for so patiently.

Last fall, the outlook was good. Packard was confident it would double its pre-war output in 1946. (The factory is equipped to turn out far more than that.)

Look what has happened!

Then came material shortages. Parts shortages. For reasons completely beyond its own control, Packard was able to keep its assembly line moving only nine days in the first quarter of this year.

In the meantime . . .

Our friends have kept calling us up and asking, "Hey! Where's that new Packard I ordered weeks ago?" Many of these are old friends—Packard owners since 'way back.

But to make life more complicated, everybody seems to want one of these grand new Packards. Over 65% of the people out to buy new Packards are now driving some other make.

Honest, it's gotten so we hate to answer the telephone or look our friends in the face. But . . .

Your patience will pay off!

One of these days, the shortage of parts and materials is bound to ease up. And when it does, those twin-assembly lines at Packard will really roll.

Anyway, you can depend on this:

As fast as the factory ships cars to us, we'll do everything we can to deliver yours at the earliest possible moment.

So, we hope you'll be patient a little longer. We're doing the best we can, and so are the folks at the factory!

CHURCH MARKS ANNIVERSARY AT WATERVILLE

Waterville, July 8.—The Eighty-fourth Anniversary Services of the Waterville United Church were held in June. The Special Morning Service was conducted by the minister, Rev. Mr. W. A. Edwards, his inspiring text being taken from Prov. 23, 18th verse, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." The Senior Choir sang the anthem, "Praise the Lord, Oh Jerusalem," the guest soloist was Miss Thelma Crawford, of Lennoxville, her solo, "Oh Rest in the Lord."

At the close of the regular service, three girls joined the church by profession of faith and were received into full membership. Following their reception, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed.

The evening service was also conducted by Mr. Edwards, whose subject for this occasion was "The beautiful garments of Christianity." Miss Crawford was the special soloist, singing the beautiful solo, "Love ye the Lord." The Senior Choir closed the service with the hymn, "The day is gently sinking to a close."

There was an excellent attendance at both services, many out of town friends being present. The church was attractive with colorful flowers, beautifully arranged in Communion Golets.

The Sunday Services were followed by an "At Home," held on Monday evening in the Church Hall. The many guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gale. Mr. Edwards was chairman of the program, introducing Miss Thelma Crawford, guest soloist, who delighted all with her three solos: "Bless Our Homes," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Sing me to Sleep."

Mrs. Arthur Bell and Miss Gladys Swanson sang a duet, "Come where my Love lies dreaming," and were accompanied by Mrs. Roy Beckett. Rev. Mr. R. C. Tait, minister of Plymouth Church, Sherbrooke, was the guest speaker, his subject being, "An interesting trip to Zion City."

Mrs. Arthur Bell, Miss Gladys Swanson, and Miss Crawford, sang the trio, "Father in High Heaven Dwelling."

Mr. H. S. Ball moved the vote of thanks to our special guests, Mr. Tait and Miss Crawford, and to our own talented members, Mrs. Roy Beckett, Mrs. Arthur Bell, and Miss Gladys Swanson.

Delicious refreshments were served following the program, the convener being Mrs. Robert Smith, assisted by Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Warren Gale and Mrs. Stuart Blier poured at the attractive table, which was centered with a

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

THE PHYSICALLY DISABLED VETERAN— A straightforward approach to his employment

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

The job efficiency and working habits of the physically disabled are well illustrated by a survey of 100 firms employing substantial numbers of disabled. Of the 100 firms, 55 found absenteeism lower for the physically disabled, 40 found it the same as with the so-called able bodied, and only 5 found it higher for the physically disabled. Labour turnover was lower for the physically disabled in 83 cases, the same in 16 and higher for the disabled in only 1 case. The accident rate was lower for the physically disabled in 57 cases, the same in both groups in 41 cases and higher among physically disabled in only 2 cases. Productivity among the disabled was lower in 10 cases only. In 66 cases this was considered the same, and in 24 cases productivity was higher among the disabled.

It's what a man CAN DO that counts

The Doctor Says

RELAXING SUN-BATHS
BENEFIT THE BODY

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Advocates of sun-bathing make enthusiastic claims for its health benefits, but only one disease (rickets) is prevented or cured by sunlight. Rickets is a disorder of the skeleton of the rapidly growing child, and it does not occur in adults.

Rickets ordinarily develops in infants and children who do not receive regular doses of sunlight or its substitute, vitamin D. Diets deficient in bone-building materials also contribute to the development of rickets—more commonly, however, in animals than in man.

Rickets, in mild degree, may develop at any time up to the completion of growth (18 to 21 years), during the periods in which growth is extremely rapid.

It is not necessary to expose the entire body to the sun in order to receive the maximum benefit from ultra-violet radiation. The practice of wearing special summer clothing, while it adds to the comfort of the individual is not necessary from the standpoint of ultra-violet radiation. Daily exposure of the hands and face is sufficient for health needs.

Rays Produce Vitamin D

The chief effect of ultra-violet radiation on the body is to help it make better use of the calcium and phosphorus in the diet. The rays act on the oils in the skin and produce vitamin D.

In animals the practice of licking the skin serves a useful purpose in providing extra amounts of vitamin D, but the way in which this oil is utilized in man is not clear.

Other effects of sunlight on the body are an increase in the respiration and pulse rates, a slight increase in the white blood cells, and a lowering of blood pressure. Ultra-violet rays also destroy bacteria in nature, but, as they penetrate only the outer layers of the skin, they do not have any effect upon the disease germs in the body.

Sun-bathing promotes relaxation. Whether we practice it outdoors in the summertime or under an ultra-violet lamp in a cot in a conditioning studio in the wintertime, the effect is the same. Winter vacations in warm places relax tension and lower the blood pressure temporarily.

When blood pressure examinations are made of troops before they leave for the tropics and at periodic intervals after their arrival, a definite lowering of the blood pressure is recorded. This is not a direct effect of sunlight. Rather, it is the indirect effect on men who have adopted the living habits of the tropics.

Sun Benefits Skin

Most skin diseases improve in the summertime, especially adolescent acne. In fact, all skin troubles in which there is an emotional factor involved are relieved by sunlight. Skin disease patients who must apply medicines to the skin during the winter months are often advised to discontinue treatment during the summer.

Patients with tuberculosis of the bones, glands, and peritoneum are helped by sunlight, but victims of lung tuberculosis should not be exposed to excessive amounts. The old idea that the treatment of tuberculosis required sun, fresh air, and special diets for cure has been replaced by the new concept holding that the most important factor in treatment is rest and that only ordinary amounts of sun and fresh air are needed.

Summer is a good time to relax. Even though no formal vacation is possible for everyone, all of us can take time out take it easy occasionally.

Efficiency experts point out that it is possible to get more work done in a shorter time if we practice daily relaxation.

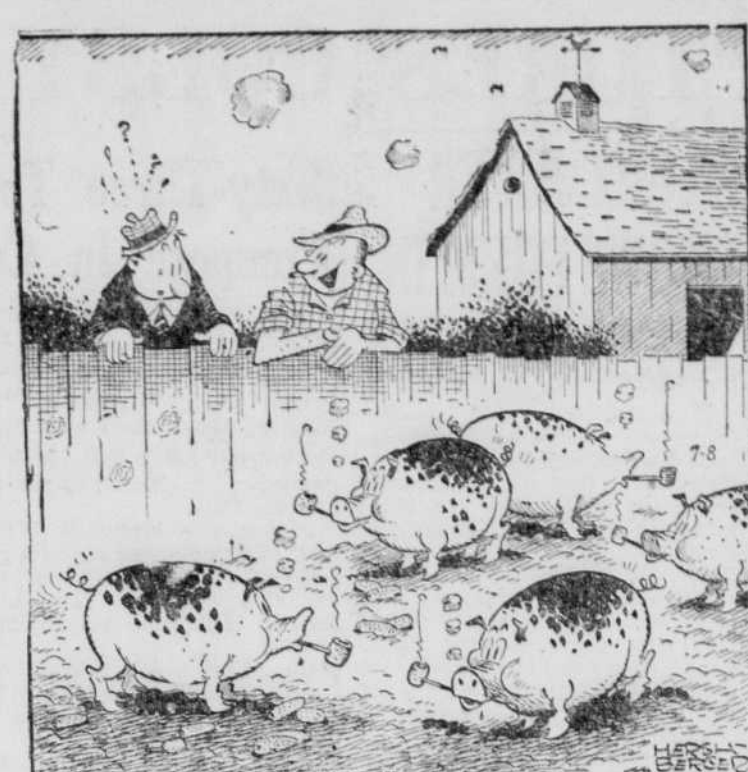

Question: My 16-month-old daughter has a birthmark on her stomach which is about the size of a dime, bright red in color, and slightly raised from her body. Do you advise removal?

Answer: Most authorities advise removal of this type of birthmark. Consult your physician for details.

MODERN SCHOOL IS PROPOSED IN DRUMMOND

Drummondville, July 8.—A community centre for the English-speaking population of Drummondville will be provided in the new high school scheduled to be ready for pupil occupancy by the opening of the 1947 school year.

Combining many modern school plan features, the Drummondville building has been designed by A. Leslie Perry, consulting architect to the Montreal Protestant Central School Board. Primarily an elementary school, it will have facilities for a limited number of high school pupils, and has been planned as a consolidated school for Protestant pupils within a radius of 20 miles of Drummondville.

The building will include seven classrooms and a kindergarten. The kindergarten will have its own washroom where small fittings will be used. Junior classrooms will be equipped with activity and control space, while senior classes will have corridor lockers.

Example of dual use of a room will be given by the visual education and science demonstration room. Here the science table will be a combination professor and student arrangement with storage cabinets for 16 pupils.

The building will also include manual training and domestic science rooms. The homemaking room will be divided so that the portion containing living room furniture and sewing equipment can be utilized as a club or lunch room. Also provided will be a corner for instruction in laundry technique.

The combined gymnasium-auditorium, which will serve the community as well as the school, will provide space for three badminton courts and a basketball court. Locker rooms near the gymnasium will be used as changing rooms to serve the outdoor skating rink which will be placed between the two wings of the building.

Community use of the auditorium, domestic science and wood-working rooms and the library will be facilitated by placing these together at one end of the building, making it possible to shut off the rest of the school.

It is expected that work on the building will be underway early next year so that the school will be completed by September, 1947.

OBITUARIES

MR. PAUL BARANEK, OF EASTMAN

Eastman, July 8.—Death removed one of Eastman's well-known citizens, Mr. Paul Baranek, familiarly known to his friends as "Mike," on June 11th, after an illness of seven months, peacefully borne. The deceased was born in Russia, on October 28th, 1889, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Baranek. He went to South America in 1912, later coming to Canada in 1913, and working in Eastman mines ten years. On January 31, 1922, he married Margaret Ellen Hallam at Eastman. One daughter, Dorothy, was born of this union.

Rev. A. E. Tuik of Magog, officiated at the service held at the St. John's Anglican Church, Eastman. The casket was borne by friends and neighbors, Messrs. Ernest Hopps, William Ewens, Sr., Morden Lamb, Ora Bowen, Elmer Parker and Lynford Sweet. Beautiful floral tributes covered the casket showing the high esteem in which the deceased was held. The singing of the hymns, "Unto The Hills" and "Safe In The Arms of Jesus" was rendered by the choir, with Mrs. Lawrence Ewens at the organ.

Left to mourn his loss are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Baranek, and daughter Miss Dorothy Baranek, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hallam, of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hallam, of Eastman; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. George Hallam, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hallam of Ont., brothers-in-law and sisters of the deceased.

Those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ball, and son, Eddie, of Waterville; Mrs. Oscar Matteau, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, aunt, of Sherbrooke; nephews and nieces, the Messrs. Margaret and Alice Green, Mr. Arthur Green, of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. Edith Hopps of Magog. Interment took place in Silver Valley Cemetery.

The funeral was directed by Mr. W. H. McKenna, of Magog.

MR. ERNEST ARTHUR MCKEE, OF FITCH BAY

Fitch Bay, July 8.—The funeral of E. A. McKee, who died at St. Anne's Military Hospital, was held in St. Mathias Church on Friday afternoon, June 21st, at one o'clock, Rev. A. E. Godwin officiating.

The presence of many friends and neighbors testified to the love and esteem felt for "Mac," who during his seven years' residence here had made a very real place for himself in the life of the community.

The simple and beautiful burial service of the Church of England, was used, and Rev. Mr. Godwin spoke very briefly, expressing the sympathy of all to the family, and of his own personal sense of loss in a good friend. Two favorite hymns, "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me," and "Abide With Me," were sung by a mixed choir and the Nunc Dimittis was sung as the body left the church.

Bearers were George Pelkie, Jr., Lyell Wilson, K. L. Pelkie, H. C. Rollins, Charles Thayer and J. H. W. Lavery. The interment took place in Danville.

Ernest A. McKee was born in St. Sylvestre, sixty-one years ago, the youngest son of the late John and Fanny McKee, and was the last of the sons to die. At the age of fourteen he went to Theford Mines, later going to Montreal where the greater part of his life was spent.

He was united in marriage to Laura McKennie, of Danville, by whom he is survived, together with one son, Clifford, of this place, and two daughters, Sgt. Irene McKee, of the C.W.A.C., Ont., and Miss Verna McKee, of Montreal, as well as a foster son, Bob Foster. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Edward Culbert, of Brantford, Ont., and Mrs. Andrew Goff, of Worcester, Mass.

Mr. McKee saw service in the First World War, from 1915-19, enlisting with the 42nd Highlanders (Black Watch). Seven years ago the McKee family came here from Coaticook, Mr. McKee soon after that entering the employ of R. L. Cooke in the store, where his unflinching courtesy and good humor to all made him many friends who mourn his passing.

For a long time his health had not been good but he continued to serve in the store as long as he was able. Since January his health had begun to fail rapidly, and about May 1 he was taken to Sherbrooke, where he was a patient in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital awaiting a bed in St. Anne's Military Hospital, being confined to his bed for seven weeks. During that time Mrs. McKee was constantly at his bedside.

Among those from out of town, in addition to the above relatives, were Mr. Andrew Goff, of Worcester, Mass.; Mr. Frank Olney, of Danville; and Mrs. Laxson, of Danville.

CANADA IS A

Moderate Nation

Moderation is a Canadian characteristic.

It is a heritage of our people. As children, we learn moderation.

As adults, we practice it. As Canadians, we are proud of it.

In spite of post-war temptations to splurge and spend, we have kept our heads. We've acted moderately... we have not given in to the natural desire for immediate enjoyment of everything and anything in short supply

... and that is why, as individuals and as a nation, we are unhindered by the excesses of inflation.

We can point to a fine record. We can point to Canada's future with certainty.

But, we can do this only if we continue to live up to our Canadian principles of moderation—moderation in all things.

THE HOUSE OF SEAGRAM

In Sporting Vein

By Allan Bryce

Normie Dussault didn't make the last road trip with the ball club. He stayed at home, and worked out every day at the stadium, hitting by the hour in an attempt to shake off a batting slump.

It has always been known that Dussault is the finest fielder, and probably the fastest base runner in the Border League, but he has been lacking in the power an outfielder is supposed to provide.

Well, last night the Sherbrooke lad was right there when the chips were down. After getting two of the home team's five hits in the first game, he teed off in the nightcap for a pair of lusty doubles, and drove in four of the Canadians' ten tallies.

It is also no secret that if Dussault and others on the club start hitting, the team will go places.

After the first game last night "Dutch" Proechel was sitting dejectedly in the Sherbrooke dressing room. Trainer Tommy Whalen was gazing fixedly into space. Dickerson, the tall boy who had gone six innings in fine style and given up only two hits, was taking a shower. Quiet reigned supreme. It was so peaceful. But if what these three were thinking could be put into words, the verbal blast would outline any atomic bomb ever manufactured.

Blow that broke the camel's back in that first game was an off-hand bloop hit by burly Ben Lady. Kingston's manager-catcher, who dropped safely in left field. Dickerson went to pieces, allowed five hits and four runs before Motola came in to stop the Ponies. Kingston snatched victory from defeat in that last inning.

Actually, Sherbrooke would have made it a clean sweep had they been hitting at all. Besides Dussault, only Lurel, Long and Koller got safeties in that first game. Frank and Washburn, hitting third and fourth, went hitless, as did Proechel, Thompson and Dickerson.

The Canadians left nine men stranded on the paths in six innings, and had these runners been brought across the platter, the Ponies' uprising in the ninth wouldn't have amounted to a hill of beans.

In the second game, because Dussault and Proechel, who got three singles and drove him three runners, hit in the "clutch," the home team won.

To win a game, a team must have pitchers who can ration out hits, and batters who can pound that apple. The hitting was missing in the first game, so the game was lost.

A visiting team in the Border League is assured a minimum of 75 per game every time it goes into action on the road. Fans will also be interested to learn that a ten-cent-per-ticket rate prevails for any tickets sold once the 750 mark has been reached.

Looking at it another way, every time the Sherbrooke team plays here before a crowd of less than 750 people, the local management still has to dig into the cash box and produce $75. It's easy to see that it is hard to make money on that basis if only a corporal's guard attends the encounter.

To date this season, the other teams in the loop have not enjoyed coming to Sherbrooke, because all they have been getting, except in the case of one or two crowds of 1,000, is the straight $75.

Then again, Sherbrooke enjoys playing in towns like Kingston, Watkinson, Oudenburg and Auburn, where good crowds attend, and where a slice of the gravy comes to much more than the 750 smackers laid down as the minimum.

Actually, the road games pay better than the home games as far as the Canucks are concerned. They are hoping the situation will change for the better here, and it will if the club can put together a few victories in a row.

It was mighty good to hear the enthusiasm of the group of football players who decided to wear the colors of the old Athletics in Quebec Rugby Football Union warfare again this fall.

It has been six long years since Sherbrooke had an entry in the rugby football picture, and it's high time the city was put back on the map in this sport. For one thing, football as it is played here is strictly amateur, and is absolutely home town. No imports are brought in and paid money, principally because there is no money to pay them.

This year there will be a young bunch of gridders in action, with a few of the old-timers on the field to steady them down and provide the brains of the outfit.

The club is getting organized early, and plans to start practising in the middle of next month. If they can get in a circuit with McGill and Quebec, Sherbrooke fans will be assured of plenty of entertainment again, with Sherbrooke High in the school loop and the A's in the intermediate set-up.

It is to be hoped that the businessmen of Sherbrooke will rally round and help promote this home town project. It is also an organization that deserves a hand from the municipal sports commission.

SMITH NAMED GENERAL MANAGER

George "Pappy" Smith has been named general manager of the Sherbrooke Canadians Baseball Club, replacing William Burns, Jr., of Rochester, it was announced today. Lucien Robichaud, of Sherbrooke, remains local business manager.

FELLER HURLS 15TH VICTORY FOR TRIBESMEN

National League partisans, already aware their favorites will enter tomorrow's all-star contest in Boston against the American League's best on the short end of the worst mis-match in the classic's 13-year history, must have experienced that sinking sensation today. Scanning latest scores of major league baseball games gave them no encouragement whatsoever. If any National Leaguers nursed any hope that the junior circuit's pitching twins, Cleveland's Bobby Feller and Detroit's Hal Newhouse, would not be right for the "dream," that must be dispelled by now.

Feller, already named by American League all-star manager Steve O'Neill as his starting pitcher, began poorly yesterday, allowing two runs in the first frame, but picked up steam as he went along and whipped Chicago White Sox, 3-2, for his 15th victory of the season. The Indian fireballer whiffed six batters to raise his season total to 190 in 179 innings. The Sox, behind Eddie Lopat's two-hit twirling, won the nightcap 5-0.

Newhouse, expected to hurl the middle three frames for the Harrier clan, turned in a five-hit performance in blanking St. Louis Browns, 3-0, in a single fray.

Spud Chandler, the choice to twirl the final three frames for the American Leaguers, did not fare as well, yielding five hits and three runs in six innings to the Athletics as New York Yankees and Philadelphia divided a doubleheader. A five-run rally in the seventh enabled the Yanks to win the opener, 7-3, but the A's won the second, 4-1.

With each of the Boston Red Sox's six all-star chubbies contributing in large doses, the Red Sox increased their first-place lead over the runner-up Yankees to 7 1/2 games by taking the measure of Washington Senators, 11-1 and 9-4. National League fans can point with pride to the splendid pitching performance turned in by St. Louis Cardinal's Howie Pollet.

The youthful southpaw yielded three hits as he shut out Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-0, in the nightcap of a doubleheader for his ninth victory of the year and his fifth in his last six starts.

The Cards also won the opener, 4-3, to gain a full game on the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers, who now lead by five as a result of their split with Boston. A ninth-inning two-run rally gave the Braves a 3-2 victory in the opener but the Brooks came back to win the nightcap, 4-2.

Helped by all-stars Johnny Mize and Walker Cooper, New York Giants downed Philadelphia Phillies twice 2-1 and 10-2, to wrest sixth place from their opponents. In a single encounter, Cincinnati defeated Chicago Cubs 6-2.

Canucks Gain Split With Ponies By Winning Second Contest 10-5

Ben Lady shifted his chair to the right side of his massive face and howled, "The game is under protest," when "Dutch" Proechel trotted in from third base last night on what Umpire Severa ruled was a balk by pitcher Ken Terry, of Kingston Ponies.

That run didn't matter much, however, because the Canadians got nine more to top the Limestone City crew 10-5 in the nightcap of a double bill feature marking Sherbrooke's return to the Park Avenue Stadium after an unsuccessful road trip.

The win gave Sherbrooke a split in the night's spoils. Kingston had snapped the first game right out of the fire by sending four runners across the pay station in the seventh and final frame after the Canucks had led 2-0 all the way from the opening stanza.

A crowd of 1,300 was in a good frame of mind as Sherbrooke turned the Ponies back handsily in the first six innings of the curtain-raiser between Dickerson, towering pitcher, who limited Ben Lady's leads to a scratch single and one double in the six cantos.

Then came the seventh. Dickerson gave up a single to Alltop, the left fielder, then picked him off at second on Kitchener's weak roller. Lady, the belligerent Kingston leader, then sneaked a freak pop fly hit into short left field. Karpuk, the first baseman, walked and the first run was forced in. First baseman Dickerson promptly singled, to score Lady and Karpuk, and Dickerson walked dejectedly out of the ball game.

Mottola came in at this stage, and Lay got another hit, to bring Gubernat across with the fourth and last marker, then Heximer and Gee were tossed out to end the uprising.

Sherbrooke went down one, two, three in their last trip to the platter. Canadians got two runs in the first inning, only one of which was an earned tally. Mike Lurel, leading off, got on via an error by George Gee, the hockey-playing third sacker. He promptly singled, and after Dussault whiffed, went to third on Franks' infield out.

A wild pitch by Karpuk brought Mike in with the first run. Washburn walked, Proechel was safe on an error, and Jerry Long, new first baseman, lined a single into centre to bring Washburn home.

Sherbrooke got only five hits in this first game, and left nine men stranded. Hits at the proper time would have meant runs, and the game would never have been lost.

In the second game, the fans got cold and the Canadians got hot, coming from behind to win. Hottest of the Sherbrooke players were Norm Dussault, who got two doubles and drove in four runs. Proechel, who collected three hits and drove in three tallies, and Joe Thompson, back in a Canadian suit, who had a double and single and drove in one runner.

Four pitchers worked in this game, "Pappy" Smith giving way to "Chief" St. Denis, for Sherbrooke, and Bill Terry, a former Sherbrooke moundman, replacing De Luca in the first frame for the Ponies.

De Luca was wild as a March hare. He walked Lurel, who stole second. Dussault rolled out, but Franks was hit by a pitched ball. Washburn fanned, then Proechel lined out a hit to score Lurel and Franks. Long was then hit by a De Luca pitch, and that was all for Mr. De Luca and the inning was over.

The Ponies knotted the count in the third on three hits. Gubernat and Terry singled, and were moved along by Karpuk's sacrifice. Dillalo brought them both in with a well-placed safety.

Smith was sent to the showers as the Ponies went ahead 4-2 in the fourth. Gee singled, but was out at second on Alltop's roller. Kitchener moved Alltop to third on a single, then Gubernat's long fly to centre field accounted for a run. Terry came through with a single, bringing Kitchener in. Karpuk then singled, and Smith left the game. St. Denis scraped through the inning with no further scoring.

Thompson's walk, St. Denis' sacrifice and Dussault's double made the score 4-3 in the fourth, then the Canucks went to town in the fifth for five runs. Washburn singled, but Proechel forced him at second. Long singled Proechel to third. Koller forced Long at second, then Terry balked, and Proechel came home. Thompson doubted, to send Koller in. St. Denis was hit by a pitched ball, then Lurel stroled, to fill the sacks. Dussault's second double in a row cleared all three bases.

Karpuk's triple paved the way for Kingston's fifth run in the seventh. Dillalo bringing him in on an infield out. Then in the eighth, Sherbrooke got their last two. Franks singled with two away, and Washburn walked. Proechel's single scored Franks and sent Washburn to third. Then Proechel started slowly for second, and Koller, who had a lead off, hit him. Washburn crossed the plate while half the Kingston team was chasing Proechel up and down the base path.

Kingston and Sherbrooke meet again tonight in a single game at 8:30.

McGILL DIVER SHOWS FORM IN SWIMMING MEET

Hamilton, Ont., July 8.—Only one Canadian swimming record was broken Saturday at the Hamilton Centennial invitation swimming meet when a junior men's relay team from Victoria set a new 200 yard relay mark of 1:44.7.

Led by Peter Salmon, of Victoria, who set a record of 1:08.6 in the junior men's 100-yard breaststroke championship Friday, the British Columbians led a Hamilton and a Toronto west end team to the finish line in record time.

The easterners came into their own in the diving competition when George Athens of McGill, winner of the British Empire title in 1932, piled up a total of 140.166 points against his nearest opponent, Frank Johnson, of Hamilton, Ontario title winner of last June.

Sixty-Three Townships Golfers Compete In Country Club Event

Sixty-three Eastern Townships golfers, fifty-eight of whom turned in their scores, competed in the Joseph Colby Memorial Trophy handicap tournament Saturday at the Country Club, with top honors going to Stan Morse, of the Lennoxville Club.

Morse, who tied with William Doe of Granby, for the best gross score of the day, 78, had a net of 65, five less than Dr. Lionel Darche, of Sherbrooke, who had a net 70.

Good-sized delegations from Granby, Windsor Mills and Lennoxville competed against the large group representing the Country Club. Windsor Mills failed to place in the prize list, while Lennoxville and Granby each figured prominently in the list of top shotmakers.

The prize list follows:
Colby Memorial Trophy: Stan

Morse, Lennoxville, net 65.

Class "A"
1st Low gross: William Doe, Granby, 78.
2nd Low gross: Fred Kirby, Country Club, won toss from V. E. Laurie and Don Doe, Granby, all three had 80.

1st Low net: Phil Robins, Sherbrooke, 71.
2nd Low net: V. E. Laurie, Granby, 72.

Class "B"
Low gross: Bruce Harley, Sherbrooke, 88.
1st Low net: Dr. L. D. Darche, Sherbrooke, 70.
