Khrushchev, Soviet bloc leaders arrive

Red summit meeting opens in E. Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — Premier Khrushchev arrived in East Berlin today for a summit meeting with leaders of Soviet-bloc nations.

He was accompanied by his wife, Nina, but reports made no mention of Soviet spacewoman Valentina Tereshkoval. Rumors had been persistent that he would bring her along.

Following Khrushchev into Berlin were Polish party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka and Czechoslovak President Antonin Novotny. Other satellite leaders are expected to assemble in East Berlin by Sunday, the 70th birthday of East Gearman Communist party boss Walter Ulbrichtt.

Ulbricht's birthday celebration was the official reason for the gathering. But it is the first time Khrushchev has left home to attend a birthday party for a satellite leader, and Western officials in Berlin were convinced there was much more to the trip than that.

The announcement that Gomulka and Novotny also were coming produced a revision of Western speculation that Khrushchev's visit was mainly a propaganda move intended to blunt the impact of President Kennedy's jubilant reception in West Berlin two days ago.

It seemed logical to conclude that Ulbricht's high-level birthday party would be considerably more than a social or a propaganda occasion.

SEEKS SUPPORT?

The Soviet and Chinese Communist parties open talks in Moscow July 5 on their dispute over the policy the Communist countries should pursue in their relations with the rest of the world. Red Chinese leaders have marshalled public support for their stand in recent meetings with their North Vietnamese and North Korean allies. The Berlin meeting could produce new endorsements of Khrushchev's position from his major Euopean allies.

Some Western officials feel the Communist leaders might take the occasion to renew demands for a German peace treaty.

The Communist press and radio called on East Germans to come out and cheer Khrushchev on his 15-mile route from the airport to the East Berlin city hall and then to Ulbricht's residence in the Pankow suburb.

WHICH CAME FIRST? — Cherry Ann Charlebois looks at a turtle egg and may well be pondering a new version of an old question — which came first, the turtle or the egg? Two of her playmates (right) had the answer. The turtle came first, dug a hole in a lawn near their Waterloo, Ont., homes and laid 31 eggs. Then the big snapper waddled back to a ditch. (CP Photo)

To build new plant in city

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Fairbanks - Morse Company Limited Thursday announced its name will be changed to Robert Morse Corporation Limited effective June 28.

Robert Morse III, president and general manager, announced at a press conference the name change and plans for a new $700,000 scale factory at Sherbrooke, Que.

He said the main reason for the name change is to eliminate confusion with the separate Fairbanks, Morse and Company in the United States.

"Although U.S. Fairbanks-Morse has never had a financial interest in Canadian Fairbanks-Morse there was an indirect link through stock ownership by the Morse family in both concerns," he said.

"This link no longer exists, and certain recently acquired subsidiaries of this company actually compete with U.S. Fairbanks, Morse."

EXCLUSIVE DISTRIBUTOR

Robert Morse Corporation would continue to act as exclusive distributor in Canada for Fairbanks-Morse diesel engines.

Production at the new scale factory in Sherbrooke is to begin in December.

Plans had been approved and construction is to start early in July.

The plant would manufacture static weighing machines, bulk weighing equipment and electronic control devices for proportioning and batching by weight.

It replaces a plant, built in 1908 in Sherbrooke, which has been sold.

Mr. Morse said the company shows a consolidated net profit of $227,000 for the first five months of this year, compared with a loss of $164,000 for the corresponding period last year.

He predicted that consolidated shipments for 1963 should exceed $50,000,000 if the present level of business activity continues.

Shipments last year totalled a record $48,000,000.

Will show go on?

YARMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—Officials of a floating circus destroyed by fire still are uncertain if to continue the show.

D. R. Miller of Hugo, Okla., one of the owners of the Al G. Kelly and Miller Brothers circus, said in an interview early today: "We just don't know what is going to happen—and we probably won't know for another 48 hours."

The circus met disaster after its first performance. The 1,100-ton vessel Fleurus, used to transport the circus here from Florida, caught fire Wednesday and sank off a pier in this southwestern Nova Scotia port.

Many of the performers were hopeful the show would continue. One aerialist said she would go back on board the vessel "if they could only get her afloat again."

MUST MOVE SHIP

Mr. Miller said he doubted the Fleurus could be refloated but she would have to be moved from the 30 feet of water near the wharf because the pier was needed by other ships.

He said:

"We may be able to lease a boat and continue . . . or we may have to travel by truck and rail. One problem is some of the places we planned to visit can't be reached by any other means than a boat."

Jack Arnott, publicity agent for the circus, said it appears the circus would be able to continue its circuit of the Atlantic provinces with a few changes in schedule.

But a meeting of circus officials Thursday night failed to reach a definite decision on the troupe's future.

JFK acclaimed in Cork; made freeman of the city

CORK, Ireland (AP)—President Kennedy was made a freeman of Cork today. He told a cheering crowd that when he retires he will take great satisfaction "in not only being president of my own country but a freeman of this city."

Cork, the Republic of Ireland's chief port and second city, staged a rousing welcome for the president. Packed into a hectic 75-minute schedule was a parade through the city, the ceremony making him a freeman and a reception by the city fathers.

Landing in his helicopter from Dublin, Kennedy found his limousine out of action. He took over the car normally used by his secret service men.

Skies were as grey as the old port's stone buildings, but the rain which pelted Kennedy as he left Dublin held off for his drive through Cork's narrow hilly streets.

PUSH CROWDS BACK

It seemed as if all of Cork's 80,000 inhabitants had turned out to see and cheer the president. As his car neared the mansion house—the city hall—crowds surged forward and tried to touch the car. Secret service men shoved them back.

Inside the mansion house on a stage flanked by the Irish and American flags, Mayor Sean Casey presented the freedom of the city.

"We welcome you not only as chief of the greatest nation in the world but also for what you are yourself," Casey said as the audience drummed their feet on the floor and roared their enthusiasm.

The president won his audience immediately with some Irish wit. He talked about all the cousins every Irishman can claim in the United States and said:

"I'd like to ask anybody who has relatives in the United States to hold up their hands."

A goodly array of hands shot up.

"I want to tell you they're doing well," Kennedy said, bringing a roar of laughter.

TURNS SERIOUS

Kennedy became serious as he spoke of the world facing an atomic weapons race which could "annihilate the human race in a few hours."

Referring to Ireland's part in the United Nations force in The Congo, he said: "Ireland has found a new mission in the 1960s, to lead and join the free world in an intimate association with independence and freedom."

A helicopter stood by to whisk Kennedy to Dublin for his address to the Dail.

After this there were ceremonies awarding the president honorary degrees from the National University and the University of Dublin and honorary freedom of the Irish capital.

The president was guest of honor Thursday night at a banquet given by President Eamon de Valera and Prime Minister Sean Lemass in Dublin.

PRESSED BY CROWD

As he left the banquet, Kennedy walked toward the crowd waiting outside instead of going straight to his car. The Dubliners surged over the rope barrier and swarmed around Kennedy until harried secret servicemen formed protective barriers and shoved back the throng.

Growth slows slightly

OTTAWA (CP) — The growth rate of Canada's economy slowed slightly in the first quarter of this year, with gross national product hitting an annual rate of $41,584,000,000, up 0.8 per cent from the last quarter of 1962, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Higher prices accounted for about one-quarter of the gain, and the volume of output of goods and services rose an estimated 0.6 per cent.

The bureau's report on gross national product — total value of all goods and services produced — hinted that with good crops this year the gain may turn out to be larger.

It was the first-quarter figure of gross national product—an annual rate adjusted to offset seasonal factors—is based on the assumption 1963 crops will be average in contrast to last year's near-record crops. Trade Minister Sharp has said the West's grain harvest may turn out to be a large one.

The report said this assumption of normal crops meant cutting $200,000,000 from the GNP rate of $41,252,000,000 in last year's fourth quarter, offsetting some of the growth which took place in other sectors of the economy.

Pope seeking to improve lot of Iron Curtain RCs

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI is understood to be studying ways of arranging with Communist governments to improve the lot of the 60,000,000 Roman Catholics behind the Iron Curtain.

In his week-old reign, the pontiff has set the stage publicity for re-establishing old Vatican ties with Communist nations. He was served notice that he has no intention of involving the Vatican in the internal affairs of nations, but he has indicated that he wants Catholics behind the Iron Curtain to regain the opportunity to practice their faith freely.

His approach, revealed in messages received Thursday in Moscow and Warsaw, is persuasion. The messages, addresed to Premier Khruhchev and Aleksander Sawadzki, titular head of the Polish government, acknowledged congratulations on the Pope's election.

But they also reminded the Communist leaders that Christians live in their lands, especially in Poland which has a 1,000-year history of Catholicism.

The Pope's message to Zawadzki—the first known communication from a pope to the Communist government of Poland — noted that the Pole's greetings came from "a country with which we have been tied for a long time with old and dear remembrances and for which we desire with all our heart divine care."

Khrushchev's message, the pontiff wrote, "awakens in our soul the memory of the Russian people, their secular and Christian history. . . ."

Pope Paul is reported to be more interested in repairing bonds disrupted after the Second World War than in keeping alive old conflicts with Communists.

In this, he is following policies initiated by Pope John XXIII, who sought to get Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to leave the U.S. legation in Budapest and come to the Vatican in exchange for a relaxation of the Hungarian government's restrictions on the church.

Proposed industry department gets mixed reaction in Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The government's proposed department of industry, a wide plank in the Liberal party election campaign, was hoisted high for all to see in the Commons Thursday—and all sides got a different view.

Generally, Liberals got a rosy view; Conservatives saw it as exceedingly dark; Social Credit and New Democratic Party members observed it as spotty, but acceptable.

There is a greater need than ever before for such a department, said Defence Production Minister Drury, picked to head the proposed ministry.

"A powerful weapon to fight unemployment," said Herb Gray, (L—Essex West).

The government has buried the trade and commerce department without even a proper wake, scoffed George Nowlan, former finance ministry in the Conservative government.

SEES INTERFERENCE

". . . Another means of interfering with the provinces," said Louis-Joseph Pigeon (PC — Joliette - l'Assomption - Montcalm).

Maurice Cote (SC — Chicoutimi) said government intervention would favor the establishment of industries, but care should be taken not to impinge on the rights of the provinces."

The bill is acceptable to the NDP party, said Arnold Peters (NDP — Timiskaming). Amendments would be suggested later.

All this comment, and more, followed Mr. Drury's introduction of the bill for second reading — approval in principle—which was not completed. The debate goes on again today.

SET UP BRANCHES

Mr. Drury, a former deputy trade minister, told the House that the proposed department would establish branches in the main regional centres of Canada and would include an area development agency so problems of industry could be tackled at local levels across the country.

The new department would deal with manufacturing as existing government departments deal with the natural resources industries. With present trends in the economy, it was necessary to devote more assistance to the problems of secondary production.

The new department would co-operate closely with all other departments, with the provinces, and with organized labor. It would help manufacturers in studying basic problems and arriving at solutions and would study foreign products to see whether they could be manufactured in Canada.

3 FLQ suspects go to voluntary statement

MONTREAL (CP) — Three teen-age students are to appear for voluntary statement today on charges laid in the throwing of an incendiary bomb at the Victoria Rifles armory March 8.

VILLENEUVE

The three, Raymond Villeneuve, 19, Alain Brouillard, 18, and Alain Gabriel, 19, are charged with conspiracy and public mischief endangering human life.

They were also committed to voluntary statement on charges of conspiracy and attempted arson, amended from conspiracy and causing an explosion.

Voluntary statement is a stage in Quebec court procedure at which the defence may present evidence.

Their preliminary hearings on these charges, ending Thursday, were the first completed on any of 158 charges against 18 suspected members of the terrorist Front de Liberation Quebecois.

Preliminary hearings were scheduled to resume today on charges of non-capital murder against five of the 18 in the death of night watchman Wilfred Vincent O'Neill, 65, killed when a time-bomb exploded outside an army recruiting centre April 20.

The five are Villeneuve, Gabriel Hudon, 20, Jacques Giroux, 19, Georges Schoeters, 33, and Yves Labonte, 18.

Preliminary hearings on other charges against all 18 accused were postponed Thursday to various dates next week.

Appearing as a Crown witness at Villeneuve's preliminary hearing in the Victoria Rifles case, Brouillard testified that Villeneuve threw a Molotov cocktail through a window of the armory.

At Brouillard's preliminary hearing Villeneuve refused to testify on grounds of "political principles," although ordered to testify by Judge Emile Trottier.

Brouillard testified Thursday that he, Villeneuve and Gabriel travelled by bus to the vicinity of the Victoria Rifles armory, opposite Place Ville Marie in the heart of Montreal.

He said he and Villeneuve went into a lane beside the building shortly after midnight with two Moltov cocktails—beer bottles filled with a liquid—in a paper bag.

He said he handed one of them to Villeneuve, who tossed it through a window, but he did not remember who lit the wick.

He said he dropped the other bottle and they left the scene.

Brouillard testified that while he and Villeneuve were in the alley Gabriel "went painting" some distance away from them.

Gabriel testified that he painted the letters FLQ in red on a wall near the armory with a spray gun.

Expect hot weather in eastern Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Hot and muggy weather is predicted for most of Eastern Canada for the Dominion Day holiday weekend. Some scattered showers are also forecast in the region.

But the west coast expects just one thing — rain.

The Prairies can look for clear skies and moderate temperatures.

The sizzling readings that have reached Ontario this week —in the 90s in southern Ontario —are expected to hold high into the weekend. In Toronto Thursday, the humidity was 80 per cent and it's not likely to drop much before Saturday.

British Columbia, which hasn't seen the sun for any lengthy period since June 16, will only see it briefly during the weekend. A disturbance moving down from the Gulf of Alaska almost guarantees a damp and cool holiday.

A variety of picnics, barbecues, Indian pow - wows and highland games are in store for Canadians wanting to get in on organized events.

PLAN BARBECUE

At Saturna Island between Vancouver Island and the mainland 1,200 people and 300 to 400 boats are expected to attend a massive barbecue Monday, featuring freshly - killed island lambs cooked over hot coals.

The Indians of the Sarcee reservation, near Calgary, will hold an international pow-wow Monday and Tuesday. Tribes include the Blackfoot, Stoney, Blod, Piegan and Hobbemas of Alberta and the Browning and Wolf Points of Montana. Others will come from Saskatchewan.

Highland games, sponsored by the Scottish Amateur Athletic Association, get under way in Winnipeg Monday.

Two major sports events are scheduled for Toronto Monday—the Dominion Day Stakes at Woodbine and the Canadian Open at suburban Scarborough.

The national capital celebrates the 96th Canadian birthday with military events the order of the day. A 21 - gun salute booms out at noon, signalling the start of marching, bands and displays by the services.

VOODOOS TO FLYPAST

The Parliament Hill pageantry includes a 100-man guard of honor for Governor - General Vanier, a flypast of six RCAF Voodoo jets, the navy's celebrated sunset ceremony and the changing of the guard — a big tourist thriller.

In Montreal, no special events are planned, although a 21-gun salute will be fired on Mount Royal Monday.

New Brunswick expects a quiet holiday weekend. Harness racing is a traditional Dominion Day event in Summerside, P.E.I. In Nova Scotia the RCMP said they are planning something which will remain "wrapped in secrecy" until Tuesday.

Payroll stolen

MONTREAL (CP) — The chauffeur of a company that employs only physically handicapped persons watched helplessly Thursday while a $1,900 payroll was snatched from another employee by a bandit and whisked away in a getaway car. The chauffeur, a wheelchair case, was unable to leave his specially hand-operated car to give chase.

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan's controversial medical care plan observes its first anniversary Monday in an atmosphere charged with continuing mistrust, suspicion and ill-will between most doctors and the provincial government.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

DOUBLETON IS SOUTH WORRY

The hand that really cries for the Blackwood convention is one that has first or second round control of all units so that the Blackwood bidder is really interested in the number of aces his partner holds.

Conversely, when a player holds a worthless doubleton in an unbid suit or a suit bid by the opposition he should find some other way of approaching a slam.

4 ♠	Pass	5 ♠	Pass

Opening lead—♥ 4

South has enough strength for a slam after his partner gives him a jump raise in spades, but he has a poor hand for the Blackwood bid. Suppose his partner shows him two aces, there may still be two losers in hearts.

South decides to bid four diamonds as the start of his slam campaign. At this point North might well try Blackwood but North feels that his three-spade jump has shown just about all his strength. North merely goes to four spades.

At this point South is still interested in a slam but still does not want to use Blackwood. Fortunately, he has an unmistakable way to invite the slam. South bids five spades.

This gives North a complete picture. South has taken time to show the ace of diamonds and has gone past game in spades. He doesn't have the ace of spades or king of diamonds so he surely has the king of clubs. He must be worried about hearts, but North isn't worried and North goes to the laydown slam.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	West
1 Club	Pass	1 Spade	Pass
4 Spades	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5 Spades	Pass	6 Clubs	Pass

You, South, hold:

Spades A-Q-6-5, Hearts K-3-2, Diamonds A-Q-2, Clubs A-6-5.

What do you do?

A—Bid six spades. Your partner has placed the slam in clubs. but you should overrule him.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four notrump over your four spades, your partner bids five hearts. What do you do in this case?

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The Keefe Brasselle Show, which had its debut Tuesday night as Garry Moore's summer replacement on CBS, is a pleasant, tuneful and well - intentioned variety hour.

The show boasted guests Zsa Zsa Gabor, playing the comedy femme fatale role she has developed so adroitly, Fred (Car 54) Gwynne, making his sad faces, and Barbra Streisand, who can—and did — suffer or clown in song with equal facility.

Brasselle is a good looking fellow who can sing a little and dance a little, but is a little awkward in the comedy department. He has surrounded himself with a "family" including comedienne Ann B. Davis, Rocky Graziano, who just had to be a better prize-fighter than he is a comic, and a shapely blonde dancer named Noelle Adam, who didn't dance much but strolled around the stage a lot in tights.

A half hour earlier, CBS dropped Picture This into Jack Benny's usual time. Period.

This is still another game show, obviously inspired in its physical setup by "Password." The gimmick however, involves having a contestant picked from the audience draw a picture from a description by his celebrity teammate and try to guess what he's drawing.

Host Jerry Van Dyke and celebrity guests Orson Bean and Gretchen Wyler tried hard and futilely to generate some interest and excitement.

UNITED NATIONS YEMEN OBSERVER MISSION: Once again under the flag of the UN the Canadian Army and RCAF are engaged in logistical and air support of a peace mission as a new set of initials, UNYOM comes into being. Already five Canadian Army officers are in Sana, the capital city of Yemen, which is destined to be the headquarters of the newly-created force. They are Major E. R. Sharpe, Winnipeg, and Major H. A. McLellan, Sarnia, Ont., operations officer; Major E. J. Amirault, Ottawa, operations officer and legal adviser; Major A. V. Horie, Vancouver, an observer and Captain R. A. Thorne, of Saint John, N.B., supply officer. The ancient walled city of Sana, which has seen little change in the past 2,000 years, is situated 6,500 feet above sea level. It is located in the centre of the 4,500 square miles of mountains, fertile valleys and arid desert that make up the Arabian territory of 4,500,000 people. To head its Yemen corps, the UN chose Swedish Maj.-Gen. Carl Carlsson von Horn. His mission is to supervise a disengagment pact reached between Saudi Arabia and the UAR. Gen. von Horn's 200-man UN team, made up of Canadians and others from the UN Emergency Force in the Gaza strip, is to patrol a buffer zone along the Saudi-Yemeni border and to supervise the withdrawal of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's troops.

Must approve project

Province has guaranteed $250,000 bridge grant

By JAMES DAVIES
(Record Staff Reporter)

The City of Sherbrooke has been officially guaranteed that a grant of $250,000 will be forthcoming from the Quebec government to help defray costs of the projected Montreal-Terrill Street project, Mayor Armand Nadeau told The Record Thursday.

The $1,500,000 plan proposed by Sherbrooke officials to relieve traffic congestion in the centre of the city and to facilitate traffic between the East and North Wards includes a bridge over the St. Francis River joining Montreal and Terrill Street. A span over the Magog River also forms part of the plans as does a highway along a part of the river and traffic circles.

Mayor Nadeau said "As soon as the provincial authorities have approved the plans for the project, then Sherbrooke will definitely receive the $250,000 grant.

The initial announcement of the possibility of Sherbrooke receiving the grant was made March 20 when Premier Jean Lesage tabled his third set of supplementary estimates.

The firm of Cote-Lemieux-Carignan, responsible for drafting the plans, told The Record Thursday that they should be complete and ready for submission to the Sherbrooke council "within one month or one month and a half".

Claims building should be moved at Magog's cost

MAGOG — (Special) — The Magog city council has instructed its legal advisor, Yves Forest, MP, and engineer, Germain Rivard, to study the problem of moving a building on Maisonneuve Street belonging to G. Langlois. Mr. Langlois has stated that the building will have to be removed at the city's expense, but council maintains that the cost will have to be borne by the owner.

COMPRESSOR

At last Thursday's meeting, the balance of the month's business agenda was tabled, and resulted in a decision to purchase a portable air compressor unit for the municipality at a cost of $4,380, which is $1,000 less that the machinery's list price.

EXCHANGE

It was also decided that lots owned by the City of Magog be exchanged with Gilles Ledoux to permit the continuance of St. Joseph Street in Magog East. Mr. Ledoux will receive $1,000 to cover his expenses in the removal of a garage.

PLAQUE

Mayor Ernest Simard has proposed placing of a plaque in the city hall, naming past city officials from 1950. The council asked that quotations be obtained before giving their approval.

Mrs. Alger, on behalf of the W.A. members, presented Mrs. Hill with the W.A. pin and best wishes in her new work as Head Supervisor of girls at the new Residential School for Indian Children at La Tuque.

The G.A. girls presented Mrs. Hill with a gift in appreciation of the many hours of dedication to their auxiliary.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alger, with Mrs. R. W. Peirce pouring.

Mrs. Hill leaves in July to commence her duties, and prepare for the school opening in September.

No date set for meeting on planned new city hall

No definite date has been set for a meeting with Quebec authorities to discuss the projected erection of a new city hall, Mayor Armand Nadeau said yesterday.

The Record has been previously informed that a meeting would take place, by mid-June, with public works minister Rene St. Pierre. Object of the encounter, according to city officials, is to discuss a price that provincial officials intends to offer in rental fees for a portion of the premises.

Sherbrooke M.P.P. Carrier Fortin, minister without portfolio, has informed the city that he is trying to get a special centenary grant for the projected building. He has, included it on the list of special works which various municipalities propose be undertaken to mark the centenary of Confederation.

To hold meeting 'within 10 days' on airport needs

Mayor Armand Nadeau said Thursday that he has received assurance from Sherbrooke M.P., Gerard Chapedelaine that a meeting has been arranged between federal government authorities and Sherbrooke municipal officials to be held "within 10 days" to discuss the possibility of obtaining air service for Sherbrooke.

Previous attempts by Sherbrooke city officials to get the Ottawa government to aid in providing either subsidies or complete air service for the local airport were unsuccessful.

One promise, according to Mayor Nadeau, that the federal has committed itself to is the provision of subsidies for operation costs of the airport.

Urge changes in psychiatric services

A brief drafted after a conference in Montreal last January, sponsored by the Quebec division of the Canadian Mental Health Association and submitted to the government this week points to some essential defects in our approach towards mentaly-ill patients.

In summary, officials ask for more trained personnel and money, greater public participation in helping to treat patients and a broader understanding of mental illness.

A highlight of the brief is a request that the care and treatment of psychiatric patients be included under the Quebec Hospital Insurance program. There is no doubt that this move would help immeasurably families who are unable to pay for competent psychiatric services. But to implement this measure immediately would cause a serious strain on the government's financial resources. Medical hospitals are having grave difficulties meeting the expenses involved in the program and it is largely through heavy government subsidies that they have been able to continue operations.

Integration of psychiatric services under the hosiptal plan would also underscore, as the association officials indicate in the brief, the need for buildings, facilities and able workers. There's no point in financing help for mental patients if there are no places to treat them.

The association recommends financial assistance for training centres to provide personnel specializing in psychiatric work and for hospitals. Research, to develop new diagnostic and therapeutic procedures has received very little government encouragement in Quebec. The same applies to promoting community services which can, when properly managed be an important complement to mental hospitals. The association has urged action on these latter points as well.

Quebec association authorities also support the proposed law which would make the hospitalization of the psychiatrically-ill obligatory. They argue that this would assure greater respect of the right of citizens; would encourage the mentally-ill to seek early and effective treatment; be a step toward the removal of the stigma attached to mental illness and would encourage more members of the medical and allied professions to interest themselves in the problem of mental disease.

A complete overhauling of psychiatric services in the province is due. As the population grows, the problem will become more acute and the solution, will not only be more costly, but harder to arrive at.

Special care over double holiday

The proximity of the Dominion Day holiday in Canada and the Independence Day observances in the United States results in an abnormal increase in highway traffic with a consequent intensifying of the dangers of road accidents.

Travel experts agree that during the coming week, the number of cars on the highways of the two countries will be about three times the normal volume. This means that the highway traveller who wishes to complete his journey without injury or damage to himself and others will have to exercise three times his normal alertness and pay special attention to the three C's of driving—care, courtesy and commonsense.

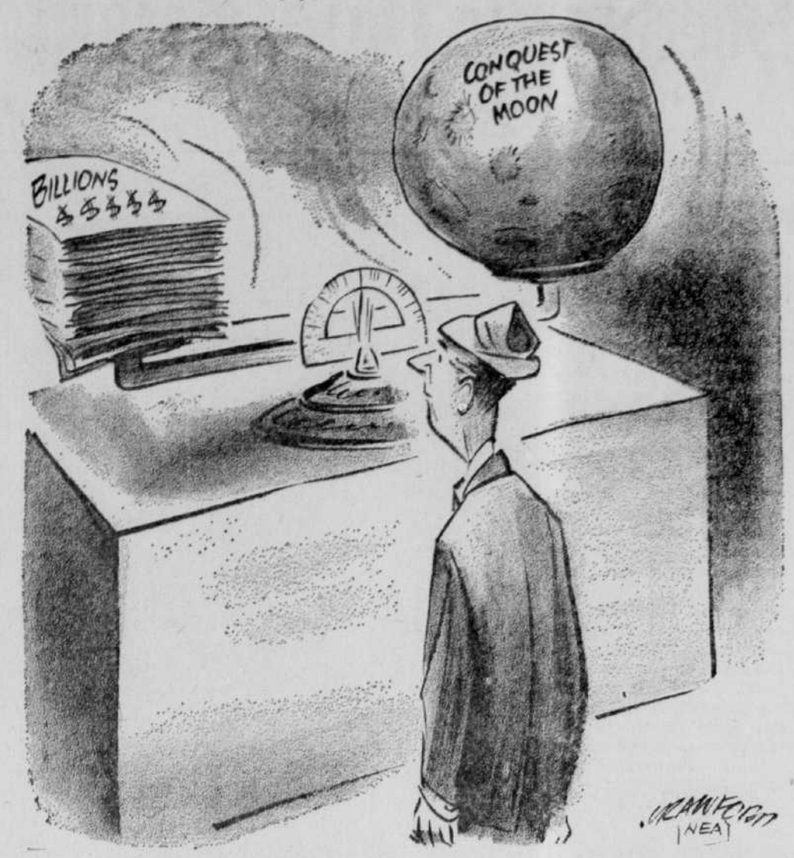

In travelling over the next few days, it is wise to remember that if you go more slowly you see more. If you are not interested in seeing the countryside through which you are passing, the safest way to travel is by air. It is not necessary to travel 60 miles an hour constantly just because it's legal to do so. While speed in itself is not a killer, it can be a contributing factor in emergencies when time is insufficient to take avoiding action.

Travellers should start for home early. Don't succumb to the temptation to put off departure on the return journey until the last minute. Accident frequency tends to increase during the closing hours of the last day of the holiday.

One should not expect American visitors to know the vagaries of Canadian motor travel. Many are travelling in territory strange to them.

Treat all other drivers with care and courtesy — your conduct could be catching.

Picture Hatley, not North Hatley

DEAR SIR:

I am writing, concerning a country scene printed in the 'Record' Friday, June 21, 1963, and it was described as being not far from North Hatley.

Actually a number of people that I have spoken to about this picture believe it is at Hatley instead of North Hatley. The reason for this being that Tom Rides barn can be identified, also Mr. Donat Lachapelle's barn and as well the buildings on the farm of Mr. John Joyal (Duff), being on the road out of Hatley to Massawippi.

Also we believe Mr. Gerrish took the picture from a part of our pasture, just behind Mr. Ivan Herring's house, as a number of our cattle herd can be seen. We do not want to be continually mistaken for North Hatley.

Very sincerely,
Mrs. Beaven W. Bowen.
Hatley.

Fear French may disappear

WINNIPEG (CP) — "Under the present educational system French in Manitoba will disappear. It is only a matter of time."

These are the words of Prof. Gaston Dulong, a Laval University philologist who recently completed a month's field study in the province.

Duart Farquharson of the editorial page staff of the Winnipeg Free Press writes that discussions with a score of representative leaders of Manitoba's French-speaking community show they share Prof. Dulong's fears.

The result, Farquharson writes in a series in The Free Press, is a "ferment . . . currently seizing French Manitoba" that has, not yet penetrated the mass of the French-speaking population but is the intense preoccupation of the leaders.

He cites two factors as responsible for the increasing concern in the last five years.

"The first is the likelihood—certainty for many—that the mass communications media (especially television), the movement into metropolitan areas, and the new large school divisions, are killing the French language. The second, of less but quickly growing importance, is the influence of the no longer 'quiet' revolution in Quebec."

Census figures show the extent of the problem. In 1961 almost 84,000 people, or nine per cent of Manitoba's 921,686 population, gave their ethnic origin as French on their father's side. But fewer than 61,000 listed French as mother tongue.

Twenty years earlier only 53,000 Manitobans of French descent were recorded but just 1,500 said French was not their first language.

LAW LIMITS FRENCH

An important factor appeared to be that they did not settle to any great extent in homogeneous French neighborhoods, where he problem of retaining French would have been less acute, but tended to disperse among metropolitan areas.

The Manitoba School Act allows the teaching of one period of French a day starting from Grade 4 in public schools. It is forbidden, however, as the language of general instruction.

Farquharson says there is agreement that the present system is "hopelessly inadequate for French-Canadian children." He adds it is common, though technically illegal, in French areas to start teaching French from the first grade—with the tacit consent of the government.

Proposed solutions vary among moderates and extremists, he writes. The moderates demand at least partial use of French as the language of instruction for French children as a minimum requirement.

The extreme view is that children learn and master their mother tongue first and that French-Canadian children not be taught English until the fourth grade.

It is a reasonable assumption, Farquharson says, that "one of these days the government will legalize the French option in the first grade.

"But . . . such a step will—in the eyes of the Franco-Manitoban, whether moderate or extremist—fall far short of safeguarding his language, the foundation of the nation's second culture. He is demanding that the government once and for all end the official fiction of treating French, the mother tongue, only as it would French, the second language."

But Protestant sects have rough time

Noticeable abatement of tension between Cuba regime, RC church

HAVANA (CP) — There has been a noticeable abatement of tension between Cuba's revolutionary government and the Roman Catholic church.

However, some Protestant sects, principally the Jehovah's Witnesses, have recently been having a rough time. They seem to be getting much the same kind of treatment the Catholic Church got during the anti-clerical campaign of two years ago.

Today the Catholic Church feels itself under much less pressure.

"The situation has definitely improved in the last year or so," says a prominent priest. "The people demanded that the campaign against the church be stopped."

The country's troublesome economic situation may also have had something to do with the new policy, he suggested.

"With shortages getting worse, especially food shortages, they (the authorities) probably concluded that there was enough prospective discontent without tampering with something so close to the heart of Cubans as the church."

Though Cubans generally are reputed to be lax at practising their faith, some 95 per cent are nominal Catholics.

"Religion is something sentimental with them, and therefore hard to root out," the priest said.

For their part, government officials have always denied any intention to wipe out the church. They have said their purpose was to weed out "counter-revolutionary" and "falangist" elements among the clergy and to relieve the church of responsibilities they felt were not properly within its sphere. This meant, among other things, expropriation of parochial schools. despite the improved church state climate, ecclesiastical authrities are deeply concerned about the future. Fear of immediate further repressive measures has been replaced by anxiety about whether the church will be able to survive as a viable institution over the long period.

Of the approximately 200 priests remaining in Cuba—compared with 750 before the mass exodus two years ago—at least half are said to be over 60.

Nineteen of the priests are Canadians, from the Foreign Missions Society, Montreal. About an equal number of Canadians fled in the spring of 1961.

The entire littoral from Havana eastward to Las Villas province, a distance of 100 miles, now is served by Canadian missionaries.

In Havana itself, the Church of Charity, parish seat of Msgr. Eduardo Boza Masvidal, auxiliary bishop of Havana until his deportation in the fall of 1961, now has a Canadian as its parish priest. He is Rev. Jacques de Charette, and he and a single Cuban assistant minister to 40,000 parishioners.

About 120 Spanish priests remain, compared with more than 500 here little more than two years ago. The rest are Cuban.

Calculated on an estimated Catholic population of 6,500,000 there is one priest for every 32,500 persons.

Hardest hit by the shortage of clergy is Camaguey province in eastern Cuba which has eight priests to serve more than 1,000,000.

Both in Havana and the interior, clergy leave their cassocks at home and wear ordinary clothes in public. This is a practice that lingers from the recent past when priests felt it was dangerous to be seen abroad in ecclesiastical garments.

MAY ADMIT PRIESTS

Some church officials are optimistic about the future. One source, noting the apparent change in the government's mood, expressed guarded hope that it may be moved to allow more foreign priests into the country to relieve the shortage.

It is understood the Castro government has indicated a willingness to admit five more Canadian missionaries.

There is a trickle of Cuban priests returning from seminaries abroad. In Cuba itself, one seminary is operating. It is said to have about 40 students.

Catholic Action groups have started up again in Oriente province, apparently with the consent of the authorities. Catechism classes have resumed in some interior parishes. Priests are permitted to make sick calls; even, in some cases, to government hospitals.

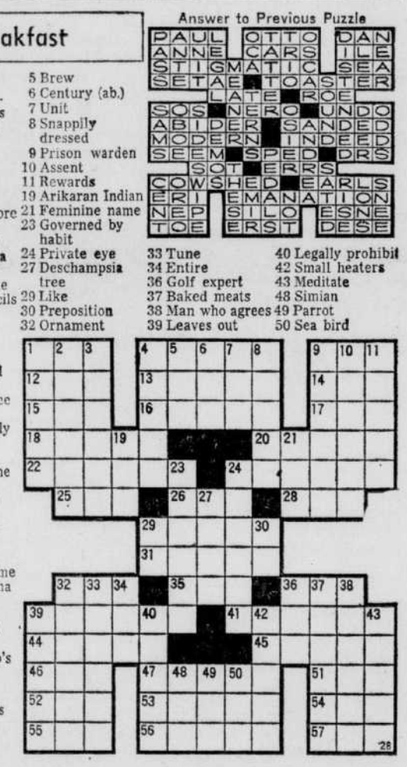

"Best of all," said a church authority, "people are no longer staying away from services because of fear."

OTHER SECTS ATTACKED

There is less talk now about a national church, something the government was promoting two years ago but appears to have abandoned.

Headline English more like Chinese

(Manchester Guardian)

The learned Professor of English at Zurich University once wrote a linguistic study of the English used in newspaper headlines. He had no difficulty in showing that it is quite a different language from that written by all except sub-editors. What language is it then? Here he might have referred to another famous Continental philologist, Dr. Otto Jesperson, who long ago compared English with Chinese for its terseness and freedom from accidence. The vocables of Chinese have been eroded to their present smoothness by the rolling centuries, like pebbles on the sea bed. In a newspaper office the same process has been speeded up a million-fold by the irresistible pressure of edition times and column widths. And so English becomes more and more monosyllabic: a language of "probes" and "bits." Articles and conjunctions are suppressed; so is "is." All tenses are absorbed in the historic present. Distinctions between parts of speech disappear, even more than in standard English: smogs are killer, drugs are miracle, bids are mercy, and civil servants are axed. Interrogative sentence structure is shown merely by a question mark after the indicative, just as Chinese forms many questions simply by adding a final interrogative syllable. Similarly, indirect speech is rare; instead we have the direct form followed by "court told," or some such clause. And innumerable "literary" allusions, referring to a culture shared by writer and reader, act as a kind of shorthand; the words "hullo girl" in themselves are mysterious, just as "hundred flowers" have implications beyond their literal meaning.

All this is Chinese. Or rather, the compression is even more rigorous. For Chinese is not a monosyllabic language—many words have to be written with two or more characters—and the grammar has its own complications, however loose it looks after Latin. Nevertheless the general effect is often astonishingly similar—most of all in the way in which both languages break down a statement into simple concrete components; "Woman saves two boys, then vanishes," instead of "A woman vanishes after saving two boys." Oddest of all, sub-editors seem to have stumbled on the Chinese method of forming adjectival relative clauses, put before the word they qualify. "Walk-out welders sacked" (that is, the welders who walked out); "Want-to-be-a-vet boy stoned cat"; "Beat-the-clock Princess finds time for a chat." Shall we all be talking this language when English is as old as Chinese?

Bar Association urges province to build courthouse in Granby

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The District of Bedford Bar Association, which includes a large group of Granby lawyers, has asked the provincial government for better legal representation for Granby when it comes to Superior Court cases.

In a resolution recently adopted by the Bar Association and sent to Attorney-General Georges-Emile Lapalme, the association requests that a superior court judge for the District of Bedford be ordered to hear cases at Granby as well as at Sweetsburg.

The resolution states that the superior court judge should also be allowed to hear cases at Granby, especially those cases which originate in Shefford County.

The Association adds that all cases originating in Brome and Missisquoi counties be heard at Sweetsburg but that all cases originating in Shefford County be heard at Granby.

For several years, various Granby associations have been trying to have the District of Bedford Court House at Sweetsburg moved to Granby. All previous attempts have proven futile.

In November 1960, most municipalities in Shefford County passed a resolution asking the provincial government to create a new judicial district with the actual court house at Granby. This court would have been for the audition of criminal matters as well as civil matters.

November 10 of the same year, the Shefford County Liberal Association requested that a new judicial district be formed for Shefford County. The Corporation of the Township of Ely closely followed the Liberal Association with a similar request.

Nothing developed as a result of the many requests forwarded the government and now, three years later, the Bar Association has tabled the matter once again.

Granby Chamber supports Bar

GRANBY—(Special)— The directors of the Granby District Chamber of Commerce have resolved to support the Bedford Bar Association in its steps to obtain the Superior Court in Granby and especially to take charge of the various cases arising in the county of Shefford.

This week the Mayors' Council of the district of Shefford, which holds its tri-annual meeting in Waterloo will vote on a resolution similar to the one adopted by the Bar. The majority of cases entered into the judicial district of Bedford have their origin around Granby. They are currently being heard in Sweetsburg.

The Bar underlined that it was deplorable that citizens of Granby and the area must go to Sweetsburg, thus losing part of a day's work because of the inadequate transportation services between the two cities.

Cowansville to hear Bedford Ambassadors

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — The Bedford Ambassadors, considered to be one of the 12 best bands in the province, will put on an unprecedented exhibition at Cowansville here Tuesday evening July 2.

This band, which includes 75 members, will gather at the Cowansville municipal park on James Street about 8 p.m. It will then parade throughout Cowansvile streets along Oxford, Larocque, South, Albert and Bernard avenues.

The parade will end at the municipal ball park where a timing and choreography display will be executed by the band and the band majorettes.

The concert will include such popular music as Never on Sunday, Wooden Heart, the theme from Exodus and many more.

This is the same band that performed in the St. Jean Baptiste Parade at Montreal last Sunday and at the Montreal forum.

This special program will replace the weekly band concert held during summer months, evening organizer, Gerard Gendron announced.

East Farnham driver cleared of blame in death of child

COWANSVILLE — (Staff)— A 53-year-old East Farnham resident, who ran over a four-year-old Cowansville child with his car while the child's mother witnessed the accident, was cleared of all criminal responsibility in the death of the child Tuesday night.

The unanimous verdict was passed by a five-man coroner's inquest jury at the hearing held at the Bedard morgue, Williams Street Cowansville.

Mrs. Wilfrid Poirier, mother of Jean-Guy Poirier, who died after he was struck by an automobile driven by Lionel Desnoyers, East Farnham, gave evidence.

Mrs. Poirier told the jury that the accident occurred on North Street about 5 p.m. June 20, about 30 feet away from where she stood.

She told the jury that the child was in the middle of the road when he was struck by the Desnoyers automobile.

Lionel Desnoyers, told the inquest that he was on his way home after picking up his son at the Vilas Company when the crash occurred. He said that he was travelling between 40 to 45 miles per hour in a 30-miles per hour zone.

His testimony was corroborated by his son, Jacques.

Municipal constable Arthur Jacques, 27, testified that according to the skid marks left on the road by the car's tires, the car was travelling at about 45 miles per hour. The accident occurred one half mile from the town's limits.

PEACE IN FIELDS — A program of land reform dating from 1915 has helped keep peace among Mexican farmers. But not in all cases is it matched by the adoption of progressive methods and many farmers still plow the land with oxen. BEEBE — A grand Dominion Day celebration is being planned again this year at the Border Communities for July 1, by the Stanstead Frontier Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

The day of events will start at 10 a.m. with a mammoth parade of decorated floats, civic dignitaries and other celebrities, which will include hockey stars, the R.C.M.P. officers, Guides, Scouts and bicycles and horses. Also the Sacred Heart School Band, playing in public for the first time and who have been practicing many hours a day are to give a good performance, Les Dynamiques of Sherbrooke Cadets, 120 majorettes, of these 70 are from Thetford Mines and 50 from Sherbrooke.

The parade will start at the North end of Stanstead Village, to Rock Island turning down Railroad Street and later through the Village of Beebe to the Memorial Park where a grand field day is promised for persons of all ages.

At 12:30 p.m. there will be speeches of welcome and events will continue all through the afternoon and evening with one of the largest displays of fireworks ever to take place at the Boundary commencing at 9:30 p.m. The fireworks will be followed by a dance at 10 p.m. in the Beebe Town hall. Music will be played by the Volcanoes.

The day's events will include limbo and twist contest, bands, majorette and cadet demonstrations, and novelty whip act Jocques Codere and his troupe will present thrilling parachute jumps. There will also be an auction sale of merchandise.

Many attended festivities last year

BEEBE — Dominion Day was marked here last year with festivities beginning in the morning with a parade and ending at night with a display of fireworks and a dance.

Sponsored again by the Stanstead Frontier Branch No. 5 of the Royal Canadian Legion, the event brought nearly 5,000 people to Stanstead, Rock Island and Beebe to view the parade and take part in in the festivities at the Beebe Memorial Park.

The parade formed at the North end of Stanstead and proceeded through Stanstead and Rock Island where it disbanded to form again on Canusa Avenue in Beebe and on to the park.

Led by two members of the RCMP in colorful dress uniform and Legion Color parties, the parade included floats, decorated cars, fire trucks on which Peanut League baseball players rode, Boy Scouts, dignitaries in open cars, decorated bicycles, old time automobiles, horses and ponies.

Flags of the United Nations and along with all these the antics of the "horribles" as they pranced about the streets. The Pipe band of the 24th Technical Squadron R.C.E.M.E. of Sherbrooke and the Richmond Harmony Band provided march music.

The float winning first prize was awarded to the Beebe Boy Auxiliary to the Stanstead Frontier Branch of the Legion and it was Toyland. The many small children, dressed in beautiful costumes, portraying toyland was indeed a delightful sight to behold. A large white rabbit and a large black cat added to the picture.

The second prize last year, was awarded to the Beebe Boy Scouts for a float depicting a Camping Scene. The work put into this float was done by the Scouts themselves under the direction of leaders.

An attractive Dutch scene, complete with a large windmill and people in original costume was awarded the third prize. This float was entered by the National Clothing Workers' Union of Spencer Supports of Canada, Rock Island.

The float that received honorable mention in 1962 was entered by the Beebe Fire Department and was entitled Space Flight. This float received much attention from spectators as it was built in the shape of a globe of the world with the countires mapped out on colored plastic. Atop the globe were revolving aluminum colored rockets, one representing the U.S.A. and the other the U.S.S.R., the two countries who are pioneers in space flight.

Several decorated bicycles were entered and the first prize which was awarded by the Legion went to Linda Lepitre and Larry Lepitre who were dressed in old fashioned costumes, drawing a gaily trimmed cart. Second prize winner was Dennis Viger who received a prize from Rene Letourneau MP. Other prizes were awarded by Carroll Smith and Hugo Lapenna.

Following the announcements, of the prize winners, Arthur Langevin as master-of-ceremonies introduced the following dignitaries, George Vaillancourt, M.P.P., Rene Letourneau, MP., Mayors E. J. Struthers, of Stanstead, Carroll Smith of Rock Island and Hugo Lapenna.

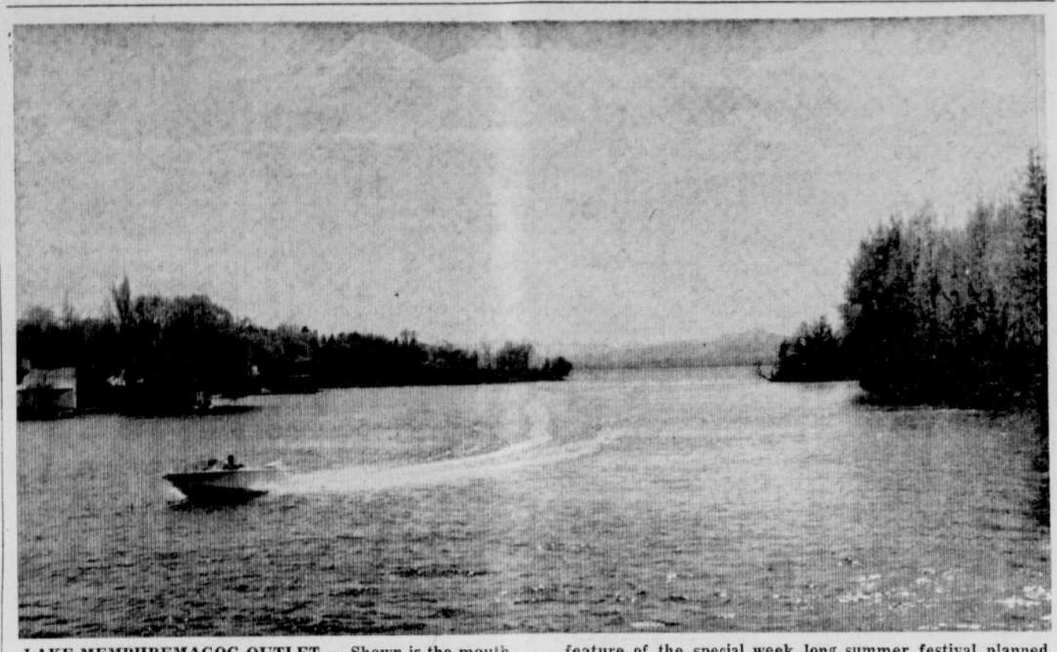

Also Reg. Fleming, of the Chicago Black Hawks hockey team was present. Each spoke briefly, extending congratulations to the Legionnaires and best wishes to all who were gathered on this, Canada's 95th birthday.

During the afternoon crowds thronged the park where there was fun for young and old with games of chance, a penny hunt for the tiny tots, various rides for children and booths entered by church groups and other organizations displaying attractive sales.

The Pipe band entertained on the field and of much attraction to the young people was a twist contest. Top winners were Terry Shaw and Lynn Sherman, second place winners, Joe Distefano and Janet Devost and third place, Jeanie Laro and Ruby Lavers.

A double header baseball game was played by the Peanut Leaguers with Derby Line winning over Beebe 19- 1 and Rock Island over Stanstead with a score of 22-10.

Parachute jumps were made by Jacques Codere of Sherbrooke and Dick Wilbur and Glen Read of the Montreal Sky Divers. The plane circled the field several times as a brisk breeze made it impossible to jump from near the field area.

LAKE MEMPHREMAGOG OUTLET — Shown is the mouth of the Magog River at Magog, where much of the Provincial Invitation Fishing Derby commencing for one week this weekend will be centered. The derby will be the main feature of the special week long summer festival planned at Magog for this coming week.

St. Paul's United Church parishoners bid farewell to minister and family

MAGOG — (Special) — Parishoners of Magog's St. Paul's United Church, Georgeville and Fitch Bay residents, and friends of Rev. Robert A. Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell and their family held a farewell party for the Mitchells on Wednesday evening.

Rev. Mitchell and his family are moving to Otterburn Park, after spending six and a half years in Magog. They came to Magog from Chesterville, Ontario, on January 2, 1957. Rev. Mitchell was rector at Knowlton from 1944 until 1948.

In speaking on behalf of those who gathered Wednesday evening in St. Paul's Church hall, A. E. Smith, senior parishoner in the congregation, said that Magog and the people of this parish would miss the Mitchells, who had endeared themselves to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Smith received guests at the door for the party, and later Mr. Smith was joined by Mrs. J. Atkins of Georgeville in presenting Rev. Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell, their son Robert and daughters Joan and Margaret with parting gifts.

Rev. Mitchell in turn presented Mr. Smith with a bound history of St. Paul's Church, which will be held as an official record of the parish.

The Wednesday party was opened with a short worship service directed by Miss Ada Sandell, following a formal introduction by chairman of the gathering, George Smiley. This service was followed by musical renditions directed by Clifford Force, and group hymn singing, after which presentations were made, and short addresses given by Rev. A. B. Lovelace and Dr. Graham Barr of Sherbrooke.

In responding to the words of praise given him and his family, Rev. Mitchell expressed sorrow at leaving Magog, and thanked all the community for their kindness.

Rev. Mitchell commented, "The way you have allowed me to minister to you has been the most wonderful experience in my ministry," and added, "we'll take the experience we have gained among you with us."

Mrs. Mitchell also offered her words of appreciation, as did Robert, Jr.

Various achievements are accredited to Rev. Mitchell, among which one of the most outstanding was the completion of the church school rooms in St. Paul's Pine Street church and hall building. The work was completed and the dedication of the rooms was included in the seventy-fifth anniversary program of the local congregation. The trustees, of which Mr. Mitchell is the chairman, were also able to provide new kitchen facilities for the ladies organisations in the recent past.

Shortly after coming to Magog, Mr. Mitchell was appointed secretary of the Quebec Sherbrooke Presbytery, succeeding Rev. A. Cameron, of Sawyerville to that office. He will relinquish his post to Rev. G. Joycey of Ayer's Cliff when he leaves.

He has also served the presbytery in pastoral relations and church property offices, and took over the direction of the boys' camp at Cedar Lodge last summer.

While they have resided in Magog the Mitchell children have taken part in most school and church activities. The Mitchell twins are well remembered for their track and field achievements and also for their skill as basketball players. They have been leaders in Explorer and C.G.I.T groups, and are both members, along with their father, of St. Paul's choir which has won renown at the different music festivals in the district. Robert Jr., as a member of St. Paul's Sigma-C Group has attended Older Boys' Parliament. He is a graduate of Princess Elizabeth High School, and attended Stanstead College to complete Grade XII during the past term. Mrs. Mitchell is on the staff of the Sunday School and also acts as Program Convener for United Church Women.

One of the highlights of Mr. Mitchell's ministry was the arranging for tht 75th Anniversary of St. Paul's Church in Magog. Three important visitors, including the Moderator of the United Church of Canada, were welcomed to the special services and many old friends and members of the congregation came great distances to renew acquaintances and take part in the festivities. Among other notable things which the various committees did was the production of a seventy-five year history of the local congregation.

When Mr. Mitchell recently received a unanimous call from the congregation of the Community Union Church of Otterburn Park, and accepted it, a committee was established to name his successor.

The committee's recommendation of Rev. Ronald Nickle was accepted by the congregation and Mr. Nickle will take up his work in Magog about the middle of September. Meanwhile the Quebec Sherbrooke Presbytery has appointed Dr. R. Graham Barr of Sherbrooke to see to the pastoral needs of the congregations of the Magog Charge.

At the conclusion of the fine gathering of people who bid the Mitchell family a fond "farewell" last evening, Mr. Mitchell presented the congregation with a gift in turn when he donated a bound volume of annual reports and other valuable documents of permanent record to the chairman of the meeting. It is hoped that this will have great worth in time to come as a source of historic information.

Spotlight is on Luplow and Power as American League race warms up

A glove, and a fist.

And, in the fury of the American League pennant chase the spotlight glares sharply on Al Luplow and Vic Power.

The glove belongs to Luplow, Cleveland Indians outfielder who made a spectacular diving catch of Dick Williams' bid for a three-run homer in the eighth inning and preserved a 6-4 triumph over third-place Boston Red Sox Thursday.

The fist belongs to Power, Minnesota Twins' first baseman who threw a punch at Detroit pitcher Phil Regan and was ejected from the game during a 10-6 triumph over the Tigers that moved the Twins to within three games of first-place New York Yankees.

Chicago White Sox downed the Yankees 6-0 as Ray Herbert pitched a five-hitter for his sixth shutout and second over New York while pulling the White Sox to within eight percentage points of the front-runners.

TOP ATHLETICS

In the only other game scheduled, Washington Senators used home runs by Jim King, Don Zimmer and Hobie Landrith to top Kansas City Athletics 4-2.

Both Luplow's glove and Power's fist likely will wind up the subject of reports to AL president Joe Cronin.

Red Sox manager Johnny Pesky didn't believe the unbelievable catch should have deprived Williams of a homer because the ball was caught in the bullpen, and played the game under protest.

Umpire Joe Paparella ruled it a sacrifice fly, scoring Lu Clinton from third base.

Luplow, inserted into the lineup as a defensive replacement, started racing to his right as soon as Williams connected with the Ted Abernarthy pitch, man meeting ball at the bullpen wall about 38 feet from home plate.

Luplow leaped into the air, speared the ball and at the same time tumbled over the five-foot bullpen wall and disappeared. A second later, wildly waving the glove—with the ball nestled in it—he reappeared.

FIVE HIT HOMERS

Five homers were hit in the game, Jerry Kindall, Max Alvis and Gene Green connecting for the Indians in support of Barry Latman, 5-3. Carl Yastrzemski and Russ Nixon homered for the Red Sox. Wilbur Wood, 0-4, took the loss.

Power took his poke at Regan, after the Tiger pitcher had walked in the fifth inning. Regan appeared to block the punch, but a short scuffling match followed before the umpires intervened. Power was thrown out, and drew an automatic $50 fine.

Jimmy Hall and Harmon Killebrew cracked homers for the Twins while Killebrew, Rich Rollins and Zoilo Versalles each collected three hits in a 14-hit attack that made it easy for Jim Perry, 8-4. Terry Fox, 3-4, was the oser.

The White Sox jolted Jim Bouton, 10-3, for 10 hits in five innings and breezed behind Herbert, 8-4, to their fifth victory in six games with the Yankees this season. Chicago actually put it out of reach with a three-run first inning in which Floyd Robinson's single accounted for two runs.

Home runs by King and Zimmer, his first in the AL, gave Washington a 2 - 0 lead. Ed Brinkman singled home what turned out to be the decisive run in the sixth and Landrith added some insurance with his seventh inning homer. Norm Siebern homered for the Athletics. Bennie Daniels, 1-4, was the winner, Dave Wickersham, 5-7, the loser.

REMEMBER WHEN

Joe Louis, defending his world heavyweight title, smashed Two-Ton Tony Galento into helplessness in the fourth round of their Yankee Stadium battle 24 years ago today. The fight was Louis' toughest since he had won the title two years previously in 1937. Galento, weighing 233 pounds to Louis' 200 pounds, had the Brown Bomber down in the third but the champion returned with a savage attack.

Drummondville takes long one 18-9

By TED ANDERSON

Three home-runs, 11 errors, a lady winner of the car donated by an Alouette director were the features of a four-hour baseball game between the Alouettes and Drummondville at the Park Avenue Stadium last night.

Drummondville took the game by an 18-9 score. Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. Acton Vale will meet the Als.

During the game the 1963 car drawing will be made, under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Optimist Club.

Two hits, one of them a home-run by Marreo, got the visitors away to a three-run lead in the top of the first inning. Als got one of these back in their half of the same inning, two bases on balls and a fielder's choice setting up the run.

Four hits in the second added two more runs to the Drummondville squad. It was nothing across for the Als in the second. Bernier had replaced starting pitcher conroy in this inning.

A home run by Porreveechio and a single by McIntyre in the third were good for four more tallies for Drummondville. Alouettes broke into the scoring column in their part of the third, getting two runs on a triple by Woojie and a single by St. Vincent. A grand slam home run by centre-fielder Este in the seventh finished off the visitors' scoring.

The Als in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh scored their remaining runs, Drummondville taking the game on the long end of a 18-9 score.

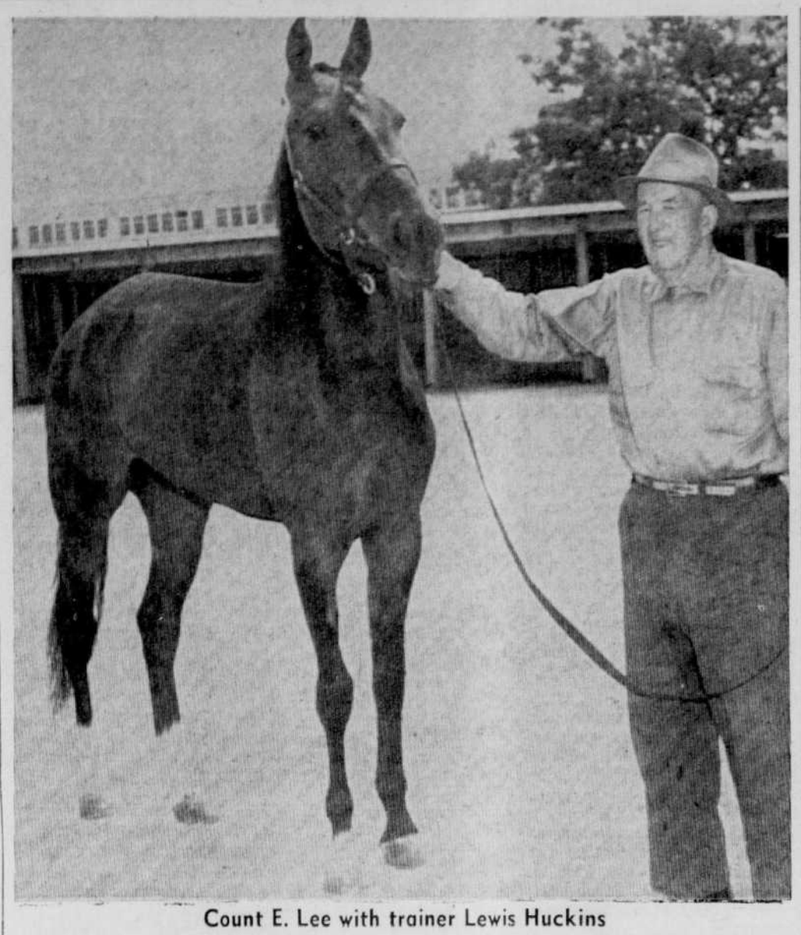

Marik, third baseman of Drummondville, came up with four hits in the game; Este had two home runs to his credit. In other Provincial League action, St. Johns Pirates beat Granby Knights 8-3 at St. Johns last night. Saturday night at 8:30 at Sherbrooke the Als meet Acton Vale Beavers.

Mrs. Robert Emond was the winner of the car at last night's game.

'Black Rico Pace' to be run for purse of $750 Sunday

By LEN O'DONNELL

In keeping with the policy released at the start of the racing season, the Sherbrooke Racing Club will hold its first special event of the year Sunday evening, when the "Black Rico Pace" will be held.

This is the first for young pacers and will comprise a field of ten starters for a purse of $750. All horses must have started at least once this year.

All the special paces and trots will be named after top stallions in the district. Black Rico is the property of the Dream Valley Farm and is owned by Miss Eileen Morgan of Sherbrooke. The second special event will be named after State Express, owned by E. Dutilly of Granby. Several of State Express' colts have been performing at the local track and turned in fine times.

Dr. R. Veilleux of Sherbrooke has Adio Abe, and a stake will be named for him. Dr. Veilleux also has a trotter, Bangaway, while Miss Morgan has Kruger Babb, another trotter.

The Fabi Stock Farm has a pacer in Bill Mitchell who has sired several colts performing around the Townships and a trotter in the well known Cyril Hanover. Both these sires are standing at the Fabi Farm on the outskirts of Sherbrooke.

In the ten-horse field Sunday, Clair Leavner's Count E. Lee and A. Poulin's Star Adios are rated the favorites although tough competition can be expected from the rest of the field. A. Beaudoin's Charmante Frisco is rated as the dark horse of the class. Laurier St. Onge's Adios Whitney is another which must be considered. The St. Onge colt has turned in some fine races this season.

Roger Bergeron's Adios Vicky is the third Sherbrooke owner's entry in the field. Blue Easter, Scotla Express, Sir Royal Traux, Drummond Elaine, the property of Gerard Veilleux of Drummondville, and Bobby Ibaf, owned and driven by Bobby Houde of Richmond.

The main idea behind such special events, stated President Roger Trudeau, is to encourage horse owners. It will give them an opportunity of making good money instead of racing for small purses. Colt races will get the full support of the club and by staging these special events it will go toward promoting racing in the Townships, added President Trudeau.

Ray Culp, minor-league loser, may be first NL rookie 20-game winner

Ray Culp, Philadelphia's $100,000 bonus right hander who has a losing minor league record, is halfway home in his bid to become the first rookie pitcher since 1947 to enter the 20-victory circle in the National League.

The top rookie winner among a talented crop of young pitchers, the 21-year-old Culp won No. 10 Thursday night as the Phillies pounded out 18 hits and clobbered Pittsburgh Pirates 13-4 in the only game on the National League schedule.

If Culp continues at his present pace, he will have an excellent chance to become the first rookie two-game winner since Larry Jansen of New York Giants posted a 21-5 record in 1947. Bob Grim of New York Yankees was the last American Leaguer to do it with a 20-6 mark in 1954.

Culp came to spring training with four years of professional experience behind him, a 27-35 minor league record and a fat 5.33 earned run average. But he had showed promise in 1962 at Williamsport of the Eastern League, where he was 13-8.

And now the six-foot, 200-pounder is the rookie sensation of the league with a 10-5 record and a respectable 2.55 earned run average to go with seven complete games in 14 starts. He is No. 4 in strikeouts with 103.

Against the Pirates, Culp allowed only two hits for six innings but was touched for two runs and three hits in the seventh and was given a rest by manager Gene Mauch.

The Phillies, meanwhile, started off by tagging Don Cardwell, 3-5, and continued throughout the game, piling up 18 hits and their biggest run production of the season. The 18 hits tied the NL high for the season.

Johnny Callison took hitting honors for Philadelphia, becoming the first player in either league to complete the single, double triple, homer cycle this year. He tripled in the first inning and scored the first run, then followed with a three-run homer, a single and a run producing double.

Clay Dalrymple also homered for the Phillies, but on the debit side of the ledger left fielder Tony Gonzalez committed his first error in 205 games, a major league record. The old mark was 199.

Everyone returns to action tonight as the tight pennant struggle continues with five teams within four games of the top spot. St. Louis Cardinals lead, with Los Angeles Dodgers one-half game back, San Francisco Giants 1½ behind, Cincinnati three out and Chicago Cubs four to the rear.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitching—Ray Hebert, White Sox, posted his sixth shutout and second against first-place New York by downing the Yankese 6-0 on five hits and pulling Chicago to within eight percentage points of the American League leaders.

Batting — Johnny Callison, Philadelphia Phillies, hit for the cycle by collecting a single, double, triple and homer in 13-4 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates.

Bangkok — Adul Srisothorn, 128, Thailand, outpointed Oripes Dos Santos, 128, Brazil, 10.

Bill Eggers, Clyde Mullins Cleveland stars

CLEVELAND (AP) — They may not be up there at the finish, but two colorful newcomers to upper bracket golf are creating an early furore in the $110,000 Cleveland Open.

The upstarts are 30-year-old Bill Eggers of Henderson, Nev., and 29-year-old Clyde Moon Mullins of Indio, Calif., a transplant from Kentucky's Hills. In three years on the tour neither has come close to winning a tournament.

Eggers, a smiling redhead, rode a long-driving 19-year-old brassie to a rousing five-under-par 66 in Thursday's opening round.

That tied him with Gary Player and Bo Wininger for the top spot in the field of 150 shooting for the $22,000 first prize.

Waterloo Kiwanis hold tournament

WATERLOO — (Special) — The Waterloo Kiwanis club held its golf day recently at the Waterloo Country Club and some 20 members turned out as well as several members of the Granby Kiwanis Club.

The winners in the low gross categories were Gene Sheppard, Clair Ramer and Butch Bouchard.

Low net awards went to Walter Hughes, Walley Jenks and Jean Mathieu.

The sealed hole award went to Art Reed and the most honest golfer honors went jointly to Fred Allen and J. Claude Remy.

Fishing derby will be highlight of Magog Summer Festival

MAGOG — The official opening of Festival Week in Magog June 29 to July 7 will begin by the remittance of the Key of the City of Magog by His Honour, Mayor Ernest Simard, to the Tourist Office, Main Street West, at 3:00 p.m. June 29.

The official opening of the Provincial Fishing Derby on Lake Memphremagog, highlight of the Festival, will also be held the same day.

A parade and blessing of boats will be held June 30 at 1.00 p.m. on the Montreal Road, followed by a demonstration by the Yacht Club on Lake Memphremagog. At 2.30 p.m. there will be Go-Kart Races on the new course in Magog East.

July 1 there will be a Lion's Club sponsored washing of cars. There will also be a special celebrations organized by the Chamber of Commerce, in the evening. Possibly there will be fire works at Merry's Point.

July 2 there is a cruise on the Lake on the Memphremagog Cruise Ltd., in the afternoon and evening.

July 3rd is Mount-Orford Day—Visit of Mount-Orford and C.H.L.T.-TV Station, Channel 7, Sherbrooke. In the afternoon, there is an inspection of bicycles by the Magog Police Force ,assisted by Rene Viens.

July 4 marks the bicycle rodeo for boys and girls at the Market Place, organized by Rene Viens. In the evening (indoor) street there is a hockey game—Unconquerable Club vs Library Club, at 7.30 p.m. on Bowen Street, between Champlain and Chamberland streets.

July 5th Magog Retail Merchants Day (Commercial Centre) will have special attractions on Main Street, (Parking, Decorations, Trees, Band, Majorettes, etc.). At 10.00 p.m. there will be dancing in the Street with a well-known Orchestra—Free Door and Dance Prizes are offered. In the event of rain, the dance will be held at the Centre Sportif.

July 7th is the derby for the Memphremagog Conservation Club from 12.01 a.m. to 4.00 p.m. At 1.30 p.m., there is a softball game at Merry's Point between Molson Four Aces vs the best team of Magog. From 4.00 p.m. to 5.00 p.m., music marching, end of local and provincial derby—Door Prizes, etc., and distribution of fishing prizes will be given.

From June 29 to July 7, the Memphremagog Conservation Club will organize a Fishing Derby on the Provincial Scheme and a local one simultaneously.

The reason being that on each occasion where the Local Club took part in the Provincial Derby on Lake Memphremagog, the members of the Club won practically all the honours. In fact, the Memphremagog Cup has never been won to an outside Club since the existence of the "Provincial" Derby in the past seven or eight years.

In order to remedy this situation, the Clubs and Associations may enter as many teams as they wish and information as to better places will be supplied them with the exception that the Memphremagog Conservation Club will be limited, according to the number of inscriptions received from out-of-town.

A local Fishing Derby will be held simultaneously with interesting prizes for the Memphremagog members.

Summer Festival and Bicycle Rodeo

On the occasion of the Festival, a foods company offers its collaboration to the organizers in furnishing a Mobil Unit for the entire week. Hostesses will serve tea during the different manifestations of the week.

On Thursday evening, there will be a Hockey Game on the streets of the City, between the Unconquerables of the "J.O.C." and a well-known team from out-of-town, in a new style never presented to the population of Magog.

Friday, great manifestations from the merchants on Main Street. Merchants will celebrate Christmas in July with decorations, exhibition of the Unconqurables; it is certain that four corps of Majorettes and two corps corps of Trumpets will participate at this Festival ending by an Open Air Dance in the evening with the "Fiori" Orchestra of great international reputation. All these details were foreseen in order to obtain complete success of the Magog Festival.

Go-Kart Races

The "GO-KART" Races were entered in the Programs of the Summer Festival. June 30 seems to become a major event for the participation of out-of-town competitors from Montreal Quebec City, Three Rivers and even the United States. On this occasion, $300 in prizes will be given to the winners of the different categories.

Distribution of Prizes

The fishing fans as well as the spectators may obtain participation tickets to the Fishing Tournament at $1 each—Wining Prize being $100, plus $300 in prizes for fishing competitors and door prizes for the different events of the day on July 7. All prizes and distribution of trophies wil be held at Merry's Point, where an open air picnic will close the Summer Festival and Provincial Fishing Derby on Lake Memphremagog.

Fishing Derby Rules

The "Provincial" Fishing Tournament is open to all fishermen, clubs and associations of the Province of Quebec.

The clubs and associations may furnish as many teams as they wish, except the Memphremagog Conservation Club which will be limited according to the number of outside teams registered.

A team includes two fishermen. The teams must furnish their own craft. (Do not forget that Lake Memphremagog is a big Lake—Over 35 miles long).

The teams must report their catches daily and are allowed to fish everyday from June 29 to July 7.

On July 7th, the inscriptions of catches will not be accepted after 5.00 p.m.

The total weight of the biggest fish of each of the following species: Brown Trout, Rainbow Trout, Walleye (Dore), Smallmouth Bass captured per team will decide the winning team of the Molson Trophy.

A miniature trophy will be given to each member of the team.

The participation in the Provincial Derby and the drawing of the numerous Door Prizes . . . Tickets $1.00 each. Apply to "Paradis des Sports", Memphremagog Conservation Club, P.O. Box 30, Magog, or the directors of the local Club.

The weighing of fishes must be made daily at the following official places: W. Rolfe—Big Timber Camp; McGowan House—Georgeville; Ronald Descouteaux's Restaurant, 75 Lake Street, Magog; (Merry's Point on July 7th only).

After the weighing of fishes, the weighers will cut the fin and open the body for interior verification.

The Rules and Regulations of the Province of Quebec must be observed, all teams not observing these Rules will be disqualified without recall. The judges' decisions will be final.

The Management wish all fishermen the best of success during the fishing season and "Provincial" Tournament."

The Records' Farm Report

Agriculture Nagged as Ministers Wait

Among the least envied members of Mr. Pearson's Cabinet last week were those concerned with Agriculture. Messrs. Hays and Tremblay were being continually twitted on the Liberal promise of $2.00 wheat, on criticisms of the new dairy price policy, on rail line abandonment and such.

Prospects are that these two Cabinet ministers will labor under difficulties for several weeks yet. It will take that long to get their new Agriculture Department legislation passed and their joint and several responsibilities established. Meanwhile, Agriculture minister Hays resigned as Mayor of Calgary last week and it is expected he will be spending much more of his time in Ottawa from now on.

Wheat Sales Pick up, China Bargains

Canada's export sales of wheat have improved in recent weeks. Last week another seven cargoes were sold to Japan for delivery in September and October. Indications now are that exports for the crop year ending July 31 may be higher than expected. Outlook is for exports of close to 325 million bushels, only 30 million below last year's near-record deliveries.

Wheat negotiations with China are nearing completion. Wheat Board chairman McNamara went to Hong Kong last week to participate as negotiations reached their final stages. Indications are that reciprocal exports from China to Canada have become as important as easier credit terms in this new wheat agreement. So overall trade policy with China will be important in future.

Wheat Condition Offers Another Bumper

Prairie crops continue to show excellent promise in nearly all areas. In Saskatchewan and Manitoba moisture conditions are very good and insect damage has been negligible.

Parts of southern Alberta are still suffering from drought and early crops have been damaged. Scattered showers gave only temporary relief there. Elsewhere in Alberta, while moisture supply is below normal, growth has been good and early rains could give normal or better in yields.

US Hog Price Lifts Domestic Outlook

The rise in US hog prices has strengthened the domestic price position considerably. US hog prices, last week at $24.30, (dressed equivalent, Chicago, butchers) are up over $2.50 in the last five weeks. Indications are that these prices have now levelled off. But summer marketings of US hogs are expected to hold at about last year's levels. So prospects are good for US prices to hold near present levels.

Canadian hog marketings, since January well below last year's, are now coming into line with last year as they near their summer low. Hog gradings fell to 116.6 thousand last week, 9,000 below the previous week but close to the 115.9 thousand graded in the same week last year. With marketings continuing low in Western Canada, prospects are that July-September marketings in Canada will average about 115 thousand a week. At this level, prices are expected to hold up close to $30.00. last week A's were $30.40 in Toronto.

Beef Shares Optimism For Fall Price

Last week's evidence indicates a firmer fall market for beef. Prices are edging upward. After holding around $23.50 (Toronto, good steers) for several weeks, prices rose to $24.00 and $24.50 last week.

Optimism is added by indications that US beef prices are now firm and may rise. The evidence shows that US feedlots had reduced considerably their cattle on feed by the end of May. USDA reports the cattle placed on feed in April and May were down sharply from last year. It is expected that by the end of June US cattle on feed will be 6-7% below last year. This would mean stronger US prices by fall. Yet, if it represents merely a postponement of feeding, US prices next winter and spring may again be hit by heavy fed cattle sales.

Expect Dairy Support Costs To Fall

Parliamentary Secretary Bruce Beer announced in the House last week that the 25 cent subsidy paid in the 1962-63 dairy year on manufacturing milk had cost the federal treasury over $13 million. Answering a question in the Commons, Mr. Beer said that 65,840 milk producers had received the 25-cent subsidy last year.

For the 1963-64 year, Mr Beer estimated that the cost of the 30-cent subsidy on milk for cheddar cheese would cost about $3.8 million. The 10-cent subsidy on casein would cost $2.2 million, with 14 commercial casein factories eligible for this subsidy.

These two subsidies ($6 million) plus any loss incurred in stabilizing the price of skim milk powder, indicate that support costs for manufacturing milk may be lower in 1963-64 than last year.

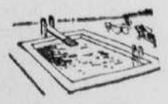

Capital Yields More On Big Farms

To produce a dollar's worth of farm products, big commercial farms use only about 25% of the capital used by small commercial farms. From a report released by the census division recently, the productivity of capital on various sizes of farms can be calculated. It shows that on the largest farms (those with sales of farm products of $25,000 or over) the average investment (land, buildings, livestock and equipment) was $123,000. On this group of large farms, sales of farm products averaged $49,500 per farm. In other words, they required about $2.50 in capital for each dollar of sales.

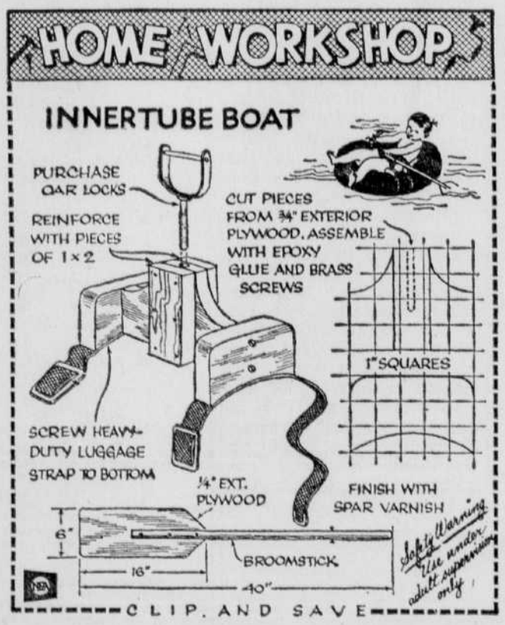

On this basis, the medium-sized farms (sales between $5,000 and $10,000 required $5.50 in capital for each dollar of farm sales. But on the small commercial farms (sales between $1,200 and $2,500) and average of $9.40 in capital was needed to produce each dollar of sales.

YOUR GARDEN HEADQUARTERS

Mulching gains in favor

By MARGARET E. DOVE

Each year numbers of gardeners forsake the dust mulch idea of cultivating plants and instead follow the ancient natural practice of mulching.

By muching is meant the strewing of wastes of one kind or another on the surface of the soil to conserve moisture, to make cultivation needless and to aid in plant nutrition.

One kind of mulching is that given permanent plantings of fruiting and ornamental trees, shrubs and herbaceous perennials.

A STARTER

At the start of such a long-range program it is advisable to give the plants a feeding of chemical fertilizer before the first mulching is done.

However after a season or two, the decaying mulch will provide ample food. All that is necessary usually will be an annual replenishment of the mulch from above.

Such mulching conserves moisture, making soil fertility more easily available to the plants. The run-off of rain water is checked because the mulch breaks up the raindrops and permits the water to seep into the soil which is not caked on the surface.

EVEN TEMPERATURES

Soil temperatures do not fluctuate widely under a permanent mulch, being generally lower in summer and higher in winter than bare soil.

These factors tend to explain the great value of a mulch as a means of preventing late winter foliage injury of evergreens and of the heaving of roots of herbacious perennials due to the action of sun then frost on unmulched soil.

A mixed mulch of well-rotted manure, peatmoss, compost, chopped leaves and other kinds of plant wastes applied three inches or more deep will provide excellent mulching material. (TNS)

Do-it-yourself

Measure for measure—proper tool makes the job

By MR. FIX

Do-it-yourself projects around the home generally lack the professional look because measurements were not precise.

Plumb installations, square cuts, holes that are on center mean the difference between sightly and unsightly work. A small number of relatively inexpensive tools used to best advantage will provide the accuracy needed for a finished job. Remember to measure everything twice.

Good Rule

To measure you will need a rule. There are several types on the market. The wooden yardstick that some merchants give away as an advertisement is good enough for rough work. Once it becomes warped, nicked and the ends get worn, better discard it.

Brass tipped rules retain their accuracy and are better suited than plain wooden rules. For convenience, 6 and 8-foot rules fold up to 8 inch lengths so that they can be tucked in a hip pocket.

They have spring type locking joints so that they don't collapse when opened. Keep the joints oiled and clean.

Flexible Device

A flexible steel rule that pushes into a case about two inches wide is another convenient measuring device. They are generally graduated more finely than wood rules. Get one with a movable hook for taking inside or outside measurements. Also get a case with one side flat so that the size of the case can be added for inside measurements.

If you are marking a dimension at the end of the rule you can hold it flat on the work surface. But for accurate marking along a surface, hold the rule edgewise.

Since pencils tend to get dull and make a thick line use a metal scriber or a knife to mark measurement on a wooden surface.

Sophisticated Tools

As you tackle projects that are a little more complicated you will need measuring tools that are more sophisticated than a simple rule.

Use a try square to check the squareness of small boards A combination square not only provides you with a 90 degree angle but a 45 degree angle as well. It is also equipped with a small level and a scriber in the head.

A bevel square or a sliding T-bevel is a try square with an adjustable blade or angles from 0 to 180 degrees. Get yourself a protractor to use with this for setting.

Dividers or a compass—dividers have two steel points, a compass has a pencil for one point—are used for scribing circles or small arcs and for marking off equi-distant points along a line.

Use calipers for round objects .Outside calipers measure a round surface, while in side calipers are for the inside of a hole. Combination calipers will do both. (NEA).

Toronto clown to go to Russia with full-scale American circus

By JIM PEACOCK

NEW YORK (CP) — Will circus audiences in the Soviet Union laugh at clown routines born and tested in Toronto?

Hermann Sperlich says he's sure they will—and he speaks with a certain authority, having performed for Soviet audiences in the past.

Sperlich, 26, German - born but a Canadian citizen who now calls Toronto his home, is going to Russia this summer to perform as a clown with the first full-scale American circus to be staged in the Soviet Union.

He plans to take with him routines and comedy gimmicks he began developing while playing for critical audiences at the German Club in Toronto.

"The German people are a tough audience," Sperlich said, "because they know entertainment. I played drums in the band at the German Club and tried out new clown gags there. I got whistled — booed — out plenty of times then. But not anymore."

Herman — he uses the single N in his one-name professional circus billing—was born in Ohlau, which later became part of Poland, and grew up in East Germany. Later—with proper legal papers—he moved to West Germany and in 1957 went to Canada as an immigrant, settling in Toronto.

FORMER ELECTRICIAN

His trade was as an electrician in Germany, but he has been a performer since he was a child and in and out of circuses since he was 18. His mother was a singer until she lost her husband in the Second World War and retired to raise her three sons, and an uncle was a comedian.

The uncle put Herman on an opera stage as a child singer when he was 10. As a youth, Herman played drums in dance bands and before he left East Germany he played in a Russian concert band. He learned to speak the Russian language at that time.

"I feel I know something of the Russian tastes in entertainment from that experience," Herman said.

When he arrived in Toronto, he learned to speak English, then tried show business as a livelihood.

"My first work was at openings of shopping plazas and gas stations," he recalled. "It was very, very hard work, being a clown all day long, but I liked it more and more. These people who watched me enjoyed themselves and I thought it would be a wonderful profession to bring joy to other people."

GAINED SUCCESS

With hard work and ingenious gimmick devices he constructed himself—such as an exploding trumpet on which he can play tunes and an electrical horse that spins its tail, opens its mouth and shakes its head—and with constantly-improving command of English, he became a successful clown.

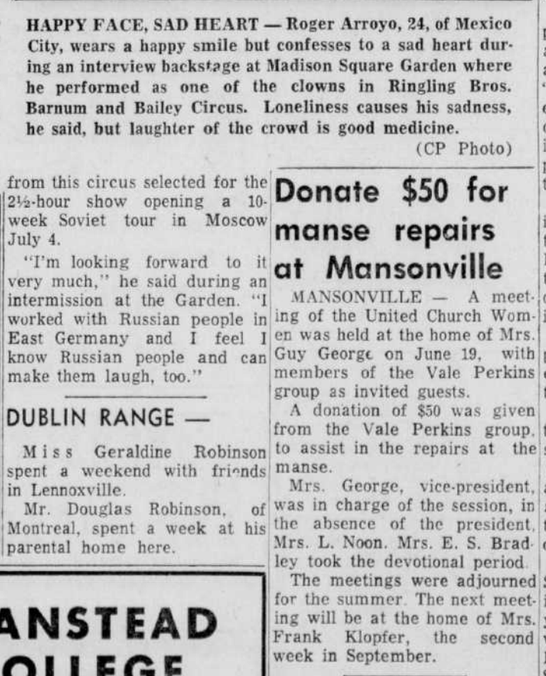

While working with Garden Brothers Circus of Canada, he was signed by Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Circus, which he joined this year and with which he played Madison Square Garden here for 40 days this spring.

His clown act was one of two from this circus selected for the 2½-hour show opening a 10-week Soviet tour in Moscow July 4.

"I'm looking forward to it very much," he said during an intermission at the Garden. "I worked with Russian people in East Germany and I feel I know Russian people and can make them laugh, too."

TO CLOWN IN RUSSIA— Herman Sperlich, 26, German-born Canadian citizen from Toronto, calls this motor-driven machine the Skybolt, which almost flies and almost floats as part of his clown routine with the Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Circus. He goes this summer to Russia as part of the first full-scale American circus to play the Soviet Union. (CP Photo).

HAPPY FACE, SAD HEART — Roger Arroyo, 24, of Mexico City, wears a happy smile but confesses to a sad heart during an interview backstage at Madison Square Garden where he performed as one of the clowns in Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Circus. Loneliness causes his sadness, he said, but laughter of the crowd is good medicine.

Saskatchewan dean of law is Liberal planner

SASKATOON (CP) — A year ago Otto Lang became the youngest dean at a Canadian University.

Few questioned the ability of the 29-year-old native of Handel, Sask., to handle the task of dean of law at the University of Saskatchewan.

But more than a few eyebrows were lifted when the appointment was announced because of Dean Lang's heavy involvement in politics.

A Rhodes scholar and one of the most popular instructors on the Saskatoon campus, Dean Lang is Liberal party campaign chairman in Saskatchewan.

When he was appointed he refused to admit there was any basis for criticism.

"There are those who disapprove of my interest in politics and say so, but I myself disapprove of them," he says. "Every man should be interested in politics. In the business of turning out law graduates the influence of the teacher is important and it is important that these influences must be good.

"I like my students intensely interested in justice and willing to do something about it. But I can't see how we can create a thirst for justice in any law student and have him disinterested in the political question."

Dean Lang's own interest in politics developed during his early teens—"I knew I wanted to be in politics at 15."

The only son of a high school teacher (although he had three sisters), Otto Lang recalls that the family listened to as many as eight news broadcasts a day and that from an early age he took part in family discussions on current and political events.

He entered the University of Saskatchewan at 16, graduated in arts in 1951 and in law two years later, the same year he was named a Rhodes scholar. In 1956 he was admitted to the Saskatchewan bar and also joined the university faculty. In August, 1961, he was appointed acting dean of law and seven months later the appointment was made permanent.

WE'VE PUT A STOP TO HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Here's an arresting fact: More than 591,600 Canadian automobile owners pay too much for gasoline!

They are people whose cars were designed for premium grade fuel, but don't require the full power in the top-octane premiums available. These motorists are buying gasoline which costs a nickel per gallon more than Regular . . . and are paying for extra octane their cars can't use.

Now, BP puts an end to this kind of waste. We've added two new Super gasolines with octane ratings... and prices... between those of the top Super and Regular. Now there are four BP Maximum Energy Gasolines... three Supers plus one Regular . . . and BP's thorough research has proved that one of them is exactly right for your car.

Maybe you are among those thousands of premium gasoline buyers who now can use one of the new BP gasolines and save 2¢, even 4¢, on every gallon.

POWER TO MEASURE, PRICE TO MEASURE

Select from these four gasolines. Note how you can grade up or down to suit your car and budget.

SUPER RED . . . The same famous top-octane premium always sold at BP service stations.

SUPER WHITE. . Costs 2¢ less per gallon than Super Red.

SUPER BLUE . . Costs 4¢ less per gallon than Super Red and only 1¢ more than Regular.

REGULAR . . . . The same dependable Regular gasoline always sold at BP service stations.

Your BP dealer can help select the right one to give you maximum power with maximum economy.

Canadians join together to celebrate national holiday July 1

In three days the Dominion of Canada will be 96 years old.

In 1967, just four years away, Canadians — hosts to the 1967 World's Fair — will be celebrating Canada's 100th birthday.

Ninety-six years ago the British North America Act was passed by the British Parliament. By it, Upper Canada (henceforth Ontario); Lower Canada, (henceforth Quebec), New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were united in a federal union to be known as the Dominion of Canada.

As far back as 1861 the idea of a federation of British North America was not new.

It was a favorite idea with the United Empire Loyalists and it was later espoused by persons as different as John Stratchan and John Beverley Robinson on the one hand and Robert Courlay and William Lyon Mackenzie on the other.

It was advocated by Lord Durham though he did not think it was feasible in his time and it became the theme of some of the most stirring oratory of Thomas D'Arcy McGee:

"I see in the not remote distance," said McGee, "one great nationality, bound, like the shield of Achilles, by the blue rim ocean."

But it was not only the breakdown of government in United Canada (1861-1864) that brought the idea of the union of British North America within the sphere of practical politics.

It became necessary to submerge or subordinate the rival animostities of Upper and Lower Canada in a larger arena; and in 1964 the leading politicians in both parties in Canada were brought together in a coalition government with a view to bringing about this result.

At this time the idea of the union of the Maritime Provinces was in the air; and in September, 1864, a meeting of delegates from the Maritime Provinces was called to meet at Charlottetown in order to discuss this project.

Delegates from Canada were sent to this conference to invite the delegates from the Maritime Provinces to meet at Quebec in October to discuss the larger union.

The invitation was accepted.

On October 10, 1864, there met at Quebec the famous Quebec Conference which after deliberations lasting two weeks, framed 72 resolutions embodying the basis of Confederation.

Owing to political difficulties in the Maritime provinces, Confederation was not immediately consummated.

It was not until 1866 that representatives from Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick met in London to discuss with representatives of the Colonial office the terms of union.

The result of their deliberations was the British North American Act. This was passed by the British Parliament in 1867. To it, Upper Canada (henceforth Ontario); Lower Canada, (henceforth Quebec), New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were united in a federal union to be known as the Dominion of Canada.

The new Dominion combined the advantages of central government with those of local autonomy. Efficient government machinery was created, with its headquarters in Ottawa, but at the same time the individual provinces retained their identity and their control of local affairs.

To the Dominion was given oversight of such general matters as customs and excise, trade and commerce, militia, and defence, railways and canals, and criminal justice. The provinces retained control of education, property and civil rights, municipal affairs and other matters of local concern.

This arrangement enabled the province of Quebec, for example, to preserve its peculiar institutions, such as its language, its civil laws and its schools; while it gave to it at the same time the backing of other provinces in matters of general concern, such as military and naval defence, the building of railways, postal facilities and so forth.

There has been at times difficulty in drawing the line between the spheres of the Dominion and the provinces, and a good deal of litigation has resulted. But the application of the federal principle to Canadian government has gone a long way toward solving the problem of the two races in Canada. Federalism has removed most of the sources of friction between the French and the English-speaking in Canada and while no one can pretend that friction has disappeared it has been reduced to a minimum.

The federation of 1867 included only Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, but with astonishing rapidity, the infant Dominion proceeded to extend itself from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In 1869 the Dominion acquired the vast extent of the Hudson's Bay Company's territories, out of which have been carved since that time the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

In 1871, British Columbia came into Federation and in 1873 Prince Edward Island. In 1895 Canada took over from the mother country, the islands of the Arctic Archipelago. These accessions of territory to the Dominion an area greater than that of the United States.

Finally, in 1949, Newfound at long last came into the Canadian federation and thus became the 10th province.

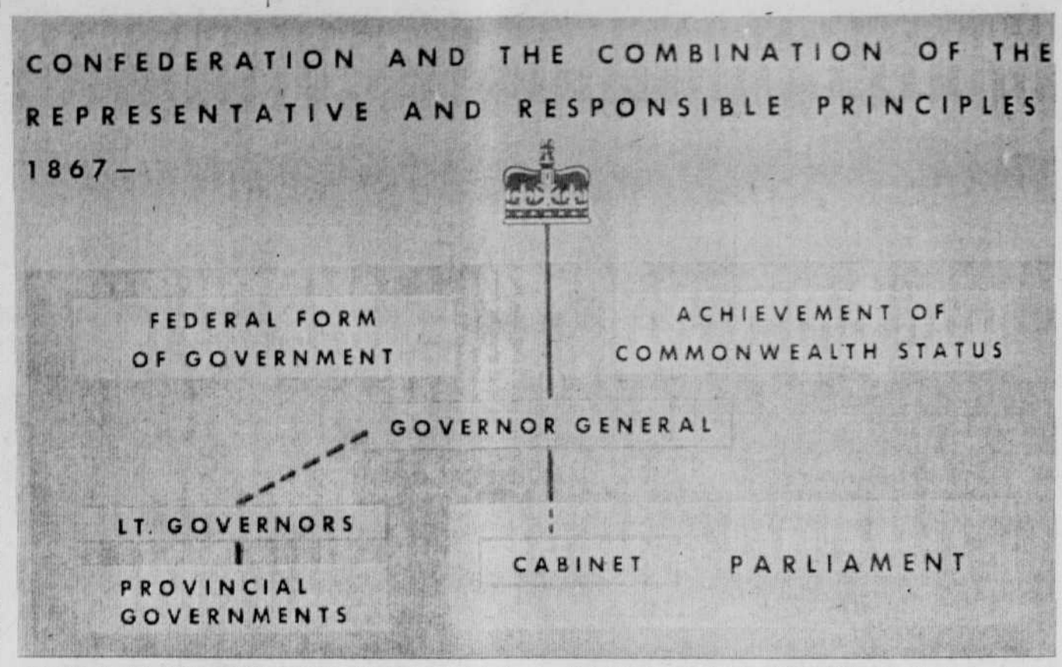

In the years immediately following 1867 the internal changes in the constitution of Canada were slight.

Some diminution in the power of the Governor General was introduced in 1878 at the instance of Edward Blake and there have been amendments to the British North America Act, such as that of changing the number of members in the Canadian Senate.

Up to 1952 these amendments were made by the British Parliament, as a result of a 'humble address' of both houses of the Canadian Parliament 'praying' for such amendment.

But in 1949 the Canadian government asked for and was granted the power of amending the British North America Act itself. It passed its first amendment of the act in 1952, when it altered the distribution

IN 1867, by the British North America Act, the province of Canada united with Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to establish a federal system of government. Principles of responsible government and representation by population have now become basic. Since 1867, Canadian has achieved nationhood while maintaining the traditional link with the Crown. of the federal electoral constituencies as called for by the decennial census.

There is still some uncertainty as to the means by which the constitution is to be amended if the amendment touches on provincial rights. Probably the assent of the provinces concerned will be refarded as essential in such a case.

Some other constitutional changes have taken place in recent years. In 1947 an act came into force that for the first time defined for all purposes Canadian citizenship as distinct from British citizenship.

In 1949 all appeals to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council were abolished and the Supreme Court of Canada became the final court of appeal for all Canadian cases.

Finally, in 1952, there was the appointment for the first time a Canada Governor General to represent the Crown of Canada. These changes were the result of the policy of the St. Laurent Government 'to work for complete recognition of Canadian nationhood and the development of all aspects of our national life.'

There have been proposals looking toward the adoption of a distinctive Canadian flag and toward the renaming of Dominion Day to Canada day. But legislation effecting these changes has not yet been passed.

Three years after the union of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario in 1867, the Dominion acquired from the Hudson's Bay Company in the North-west Territories, out of which the province of Manitoba was created in the same year, British Columbia acceded to the union in 1871. Prince Edward Island followed two years later. In 1905 Alberta ad Saskatchewan became provinces. In 1912 the north boundary of Manitoba was extended to the 60th parallel, while Ontario and Quebec absorbed all the territory lying south of Hudson Bay and Strait. The Crown colony of Newfoundland joined the union in 1949. More than 1,500,000 square miles still remain under federal jurisdiction in the Yukon and Northwest territories. Here are the reasons why Motor Trend Magazine chose the 1963 Rambler as the "Car of the Year"

The coveted Motor Trend magazine "Car of the Year" award was won this year by the entire line of 1963 Ramblers. The popular Classic 6—the powerful Ambassador V8 and the compact American 6. The award was given to Rambler "for outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership." The panel of automotive experts took 26 pages in the February issue of Motor Trend magazine to outline the reasons for their choice of Rambler. The following are excerpts from their remarks to show you why Rambler is "Car of the Year" for 1963.

1 Unisides Construction "... this latest design represents a real advancement and the biggest single reason we chose Rambler Car of the Year. Not only does this new construction method save approximately 150 pounds over the older design, but it results in a unit so strong it'll take punishment longer and naturally hold its resale value."

2 Handling and Driving ". . . pleasingly light and responsive under all cornering conditions . . . a good boulevard and highway ride. There isn't any pitch or choppiness noticeable even on rough roads."

3 Styling "Progress in design is the theme of Motor Trend's Car of the Year award. American Motors' Ramblers are this year's best examples of outstanding design achievement. New styling is based on lean, clean lines that are apparent from almost any angle."

4 Interior Room and Comfort "The lengthened wheelbase has given more room inside . . . and this means increased driver/passenger comfort. The interior offers plenty of leg room. Reclining bucket seats with headrests are options well worth the extra expenditure."

5 Economy "There won't be many cars of this size delivering more fuel economy than the basic-engined Classic."

6 Value and Features "Quality has always been one of American Motors' largest selling points and continues to be on the new models. In addition to the long-recognized owner appreciation features inherent in all Ramblers, the factory has doubled the new-car warranty to 24 months or 24,000 miles.

In summing up, all we can add is that it looks like the new Rambler will be an even better buy than it has been in previous years."

That's what the experts say. They are echoing what Rambler owners have been proudly claiming for years. To prove to yourself Rambler's exceptional value see your Rambler dealer soon. Take a test drive in the "Car of the Year"—the 1963 Rambler.

Ask your Rambler dealer for your free reprint of the 26-page Motor Trend article.

Sale of farm property severs link with past

The North West part was bought as crown land on March 16, 1869, by James Wallace and sold to Henry Geake who sold it to his brother Robert, April 12, 1906, and Henry went to the Canadian West.

Robert built a barn and house on these lots, where he and his wife, the former Margaret Jamieson, lived until their death. Their sons Albert and Gladwin resided there until they sold it to Mr. Roy.

A DOMINION DAY MESSAGE

CANADA'S 96th BIRTHDAY...

JULY 1st — 1963 —

Ninety-six years after the Confederation Fathers brought together the scattered provinces and two peoples into one country, the creation of Canada, which began as a supreme act of faith, was approaching fulfilment. In nine decades, Canada has walked boldly from the colonial dependence to the full sovereignty and responsibilities of an independent nation. Her strength, as she faced the future, lay in the stability of her parliamentary government, the diversity and vitality of her people and the richness and beauty of the land that cradled them from sea to sea.

Canada, in the words of her eminent historian Arthur Lower, sought and found a new consciousness a "national spirit" in the land which gave her birth: "in the little ports of the Atlantic provinces, in the flaming autumn maples of the St. Lawrence valley, in the portages and lakes of the Canadian Shield, in the sunsets and relentless cold of the prairies, in the foothill, mountain and sea of the west and in the unconquerable vastness of the north."

DURRELL — MACFARLANE

ST. JOHNS — The marriage of Sandra Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William MacFarlane, of St. Johns, to Mr. Larry Chester Durrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Durell, of Foster, took place on Saturday, June 8, 1963 in St. James Anglican Church in St. Johns. Rev. Lionel Temple Hill officiating. Mrs. M. Donaldson played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of white poult de soie fashioned on princess lines, the fitted bodice having a scoop neckline. Her fingertip length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a tiny crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Joyce Adams, of Oromocto, N.B., as matron of honor, who wore a street-length dress of lilac taffeta fashioned similar to the bride's gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of pale yellow carnations.

Mr Garth Durrell, brother of the groom, acted as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Robert MacFarlane, brother of the bride and Stanley Hancox of Foster.

Mrs. W. MacFarlane, the bride's mother was dressed in a light brown sheath dress, with matching hat and white accessories She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. W. R. Durrell, mother of the groom, was attired in a pink silk sheath with white accessories and a corsage of deep pink roses.

Today's recipe

GRILLED STUFFED TOMATOES

Cut slices from tops of firm tomatoes. Scoop out juice and pulp. Combine chopped left-over chicken, ham or tuna fish with soft stale bread crumbs and seasonings. Moisten with the tomato pulp. Refill tomatoes. Wrap each individually in foil. Cook on grill 25 minutes. Eat right from foil.

SALMAGUNDI

Cut fresh corn from the cob, peel fresh tomatoes, squeeze out the seeds and discard; then chop. Peel and dice small eggplant, remove seeds and dice green pepper and chop onion. Combine all these vegetables on a large piece of heavy duty aluminum wrap, allowing about equal amounts of corn, eggplant and tomato; less of green pepper and onion. Dot with butter and sprinkle with salt, pepper, garlic, a little basil and chopped parsley. Seal the foil and cook for 30 minutes, shaking the package occasionally.

SUMMER SQUASH, ONIONS AND DILL

Slice tender young summer squash in 4-inch slices. Slice onions very thin. Arrange a layer of summer squash, a layer of onion slices and a final layer of squash on the foil. Dot with butter, shake on salt and pepper and sprinkle with sprigs of fresh dill or 2 or 3 pinches of dried dill. Seal the package and cook on the grill over medium heat about 30 minutes. Shake the package frequently.

"Miracle" fabrics make task easier

TORONTO (CP)—Planning a trip involves planning a practical wardrobe. And the increasing number of synthetic and so-called "miracle" fabrics available suggests this task should be easier than ever before.

But no fabric is a miracle fabric. Each has advantages and disadvantages.

Some fabric tips from the Home Economics Service of the Ontario agricultural department may help you choose those best suited for your own personal needs.

Generally, loose or open-weave fabrics give more comfort than tightly-woven fabrics because they allow air circulation. Smooth fabrics are cooler than fuzzy ones.

Cotton, silk and rayon absorb water readily and are comfortable to wear, especially if it is perspiring weather.

Specially finished cottons are warmer than untreated cottons because they do not absorb perspiration as quickly.

Nylon, acetate, arnel and terylene—also called dacron—do not absorb body perspiration and so are less comfortable to wear.

TRANSPORTS MOISTURE

Terylene is more comfortable than nylon because of its "wicking" tendencies—the yarns of the fibres act as wicks and transport moisture.

But "wicking" is not always an advantage. "If you are caught in a rainstorm in a terylene suit, you will be wet to the skin within minutes."

The texture and weave of a fabric determine its resistance to wrinkles. "Crepe or knitted constructions, loose porous weaves, fuzzy textured and printed surfaces all help to shed or conceal wrinkles."

Terylene recovers from wrinkles rapidly, even when wet. Silk, orlon, acetate and arnel also have good resistance but cottons, rayons and linens are wrinkle - prone unless treated with special finishes.

Terylene is not weakened by sunlight but cotton, rayon, linen, nylon and silk fabrics lose strength after prolonged exposure.

Fabrics which require little or no ironing and which can be pressed without dampening are acetate, arnel, nylon, orlon and terylene.

Terylene, orlon, acrilan, nylon and arnel are widely used alone and in blends with cotton and rayon, for "wash and wear" performance.

NEED LITTLE IRONING

Good wash and wear blends are: 65 per cent terylene, 35 per cent cotton; 55 of terylene, 45 of rayon; 50 of terylene, 50 of orlon; 80 of orlon, 20 of cotton; 70 of orlon, 30 of rayon; 80 of acrilan, 20 of cotton; 70 of acrilan, 30 of rayon.

Terylene has the best inherent wash and wear properties.

In terylene-cotton blends, cotton adds to the fresh texture and increases absorbency, preventing a clammy feeling when worn.

In terylene - rayon blends, rayon gives softness, more weight and a good drape. Both cotton and rayon minimize the static electricity accumulated by the synthetic fabric.

A good wash and wear garment of synthetic fibres should have seams of nylon or terylene thread and which are loosely overcast. "Be sure there's no puckering—it will never iron out."

The Home Economics Service recommends washing rather than dry cleaning for all synthetics.

Polly's pointers

by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — If you have small children who love flowers and pick just the ones you would like to leave growing in the garden, plant a "children's row" of flowers. Then they can pick their own bouquets and will not snap any of your favorite blooms. It can also teach them how to grow and care for flowers. NORA

DEAR POLLY—Because of poor eyesight grandma always had a hard time keeping track of various articles in her handbag. We solved the problem by stringing everything — purse, keys, comb, mirror, etc. — on a long thin chain. Each article was spaced just so far apart and the chain was attached to the inside lining of the handbag. Now nothing is lost and she can "feel" for a needed item when it is wanted and need not spill out the contents of her bag to search for it.—MRS. E. L. R.

GIRLS — I know some Grandmas, including myself, who would do well to adopt this purse "filing" system.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — An unusual gift (and an inexpensive one) for a sick child is a bouquet of balloons. Put a small piece of modeling clay in the bottom of a cut-off plastic detergent bottle. Blow up 10 or 12 gaily colored balloons, tie them to balloon sticks and secure the sticks in the clay—Mrs. L. K.

DEAR POLLY—Here is a handy tip for those who knit. A neater way to roll a ball of wool so that it will not roll away or tangle is to have it pull from the center rather than the outside of the ball. To do this, start in the usual manner for rolling a ball of wool. Instead of winding all the wool around the tiny center ball at once, wind about a yard in one direction. Then pull out one end for about two inches and wind the rest in the opposite direction. When the ball is completed, pull on the end that hangs out and the rest follows as you need it.—GOLDIE

DEAR POLLY—When you paint window frames, paint the curtain rods the same color. This makes the rods nearly unnoticeable. — MRS. G. R.

GIRLS—To me, matching curtain rods and window frames are a "must." When draw curtains are open and an expanse of rod shows between the open curtains, the effect of matching rods and frames is much more pleasing when the rod and frame are the same colors. I used varnish with stain in it on the rods in my den where the woodwork is stained pine. It is worth taking the rods down and painting them to match the frames even if they are not being done at the same time.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—My hint is mainly for the man in the house. Our lawn was literally covered with ant hills and was an ungainly sight. I strewed moth flakes in each of them and in no time at all, there was not a sign of ants. It is easy to do and works wonders.—J. O. A.

GIRLS — It is fun to watch the ants as they scurry away as soon as they smell the moth flakes. And since my grass is ruined where the ant hills are I did not wory about the effect of this treatment on it.—POLLY

Bilingualism encouraged by University Women

By PATRICK RUSAK

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Federation of University Women will ask the Canadian government to encourage bilingualism in the civil service.

A resolution requesting this action was initiated by the University Women's Club of Arvida, Que., and was adopted at the federation's annual council meeting Saturday.

Ambassadors in particular should speak both French and English, one delegate said. "An ambassador representing Canada, a bilingual country, could do lots of damage if he cannot speak both languages."

Irene Hilton of London, president of the International Federation of University Women, said "the only way you can get international understanding is through the knowledge of languages."

EXPLAINS OBJECTION

A representative of the Montreal University Women's Club said: "If a French - speaking Canadian wants to join the civil service, he must speak English, but an English-speaking applicant is not asked to speak French. This is what we object to."

The 200 delegates from across Canada defeated a resolution, also submitted by the Arvida club, requesting that provincial education departments introduce French or English into elementary school curriculums.

The conference also adopted a resolution urging the government to enact legislation for effective land use.

Member clubs of the federation were asked to make studies of federal and provincial divorce laws in their provinces so that improvements to such laws could be requested.

Ruth Millett

No ground for divorce

I'm sure of you wives saw the news story recently about the midwestern husband who is suing his wife for divorce because she complains to him about her household problems.

It's bad enough to face up to problems all day at the office, he contends, without having to listen to new ones when he gets home in the evening.

Why, he asks, can't wives handle daily headaches concerning the children, budgets, shopping, etc., without asking him to listen to them?

It was bound to happen. Women have been told too often that they should meet their husbands with a beaming smile and stifle the urge to unload the day's troubles on big, broad shoulders. They should be willing to listen sympathetically while their husbands tell what went wrong at the office.

So the men are sure to expect that kind of treatment is their due.

But they'd be wise not to to make a divorce issue out of the unloading of troubles. Because they're too often guilty on that score themselves.

Papa may be the soul of diplomacy at the office.

But he reserves the right to let off steam when he gets home, and he expects his wife to take it unflinchingly—and, moreover, to soothe his ruffled disposition.

Being a man, he may not be as understanding when his wife starts in to tell him her troubles. Few wives actually expect a man to be.

But even if he doesn't exert himself to cheer her up, he ought to be resigned to some complaining. After all, the woman who runs a house and looks after children meets with as many frustrations and annoyances as any man.

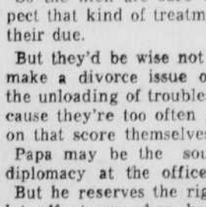

So while he may not welcome her complaints, he certainly shouldn't regard them as grounds for divorce. Home is sometimes a battleground. It can't always be a haven.

The man who gets a wife who never complains and never burdens him with her troubles is just plain lucky.

But it's just luck—not his natural due. And let's not start giving divorces on the assumption that it is.
