Coulonge leading 2 to 1 in finals against Shawville

George Gagnon's strong pitching puts the Comets in a 2-1 game lead for the Upper Ottawa Valley Baseball League final series.

This game was played before an enthusiastic crowd of over 240 fans in Fort Coulonge. This game had quite a few thrilling moments with 3 home runs for the Comets and one for the Tigers.

George Gagnon went all the way on the mound for the Comets, he faced 32 of the Tiger batters and struck out 14.

Harvey Sweetman started off for the Tigers and was relieved in the 7th inning by Billy Murray. The combination of Sweetman and Murray faced 33 of the Comet batters and struck out 6.

Line-Ups:
Shawville: Wayne Chamberlain with one hit, Brian Murray with one hit, Billy Murray, H. Smith with one hit, Irving Campbell with one home run and one single, Harvey Sweetman, Earl Powell, F. Schock with 2 hits, Murphy replaced by Royce Richardson in the 9th inning.

These two clubs will meet again next Sunday at Shawville and no doubt the Tigers will be looking for revenge. So if you don't know what to do next Sunday come on out to the game and you certainly will see an interesting game of ball.
Note: During the game a collection was picked up for Edward Pare one of the Fort Coulonge Comets players who left Monday to go to the training camp at St. Catherines and we wish him the best of luck and hope that he will be back soon to see us.

Sea to sea via Starks Corners, Que. 2 girls are doing it on horse back

Frankie and Belva Dear are big black horses, bought from a herd of wild ones in British Columbia, who are destined to end their days on some farm in Nova Scotia. They are travelling under their own steam from Vancouver Island to Cape Breton Island this year, under the direction of two spunky western girls.

Helen Allwood, a plywood spotter and Joyce Myhon an electronic transistor tester, are taking Canada in the saddle and their forthcoming book on the subject promises to be terrific reading.

How their itinerary brought them through Starks Corners has amazed some of us but after all, they had to go through a great number of towns and villages, so why not Starks Corners,

They stopped on their journey at the corner store, unloaded their mounts and lay down for a sleep by the Starks Corners United Church. Every day on their journey, after about five hours of the steady jogging pace the horses maintain, they stop for a few hours relaxation while the horses graze and the girls make a few notes, do a little reading, plan their next day's routes and talk to passers by.

At Starks Corners, the passers by included Her Worship Mayor Elsie Gibbons of nearby Portage du Fort, Rev Ludger Emard who photographed them for The Equity, a great number of school children and teachers, neighbors and others who heard they were in the neighborhood and sought them out.

Meeting these girls was quite a privilege, not that they were too different from any other two young ladies in their twenties with a spirit of adventure, but these two not only had the spirit, they had put it into action.

Helen had the idea of a cross-Canada saddle trek three years ago and at that time eight other girls wished to join in the escapade. As the time drew near to take off one by one the others dropped out but Helen's cousin, Joyce Myhon heard about it and decided to accompany Helen.

Having never ridden horses before, they were true green horns but plunged in regardless. They bought their horses and brand new saddles, bridled up and rode away on April 23rd. No riding lessons, no experience, just spunk!

The horses had been saddle broken by the Indians who sold them. Frankie is a mare of 12 and Belva Dear is a 7 year old gelding. The mare does better than the geld even with her advanced years and even though she met with a serious accident Frightened by a hurled beer bottle from a passing car, Frankie went out of control, almost rammed a passing bus and landed on both knees before rolling into the ditch. Helen escaped unhurt but the mare's knees were badly skinned and one suffered severe damage.

Until their stop at Starks Corners they had only bathed the knee with salt water and it was not healing properly. However Shawville veterinarian Dr. Rolly Armitage took a look at it and gave the necessary treatment and advice. He remarked on the good sense the girls had used in their care for the horses, particularly as they had no previous experience, and he complimented them on the condition of their animals. Their own condition was rather terrific too, we must add.

When they started out they had a pack horse as well, to carry winter gear, because April in the

Pierre Janet Hospital will be open to all

Mr. Oswald Parent, Hull member of the Quebec Legislature has assured the Equity that the new psychiatric hospital to be opened in Hull will be available to all persons in the region in need of psychiatric care or treatment regardless of their language or religious affiliation.

The new Pierre Janet Hospital as the former St. Laurent Sanitarium will be known, will be operated by an independent corporation under the Quebec Department of Health. Judge Francois Chevalier is head of the new corporation, and the medical superintendent is to be Dr. Gaston Harnois, it is hoped that clinic services will be available in the new location on October 1st, but the problem of staffing the hospital on a full-time basis is not one that can be completed overnight.

As an interim measure the Grey Nuns will continue to provide nursing services and such other specialist services as possible pending completion of qualifying courses in Montreal by selected personnel.

Aylmer annual oyster party

The Aylmer Rotary Club annual Oyster Fiesta is slated this year for October 15th. The Aylmer Rotary members give their services collectively, and individually for the benefit of everyone. Many worthwhile efforts in the community receive their quiet effective support, and as individuals we have Rotarians Frank Lynch serving on Council, Past President Joe Ray on the ad hoc committee on law enforcement, and Don Ritchie on The Town Planning Committee. Rotary also donated the rescue vehicle to the town.

The Oyster Bash is strictly a stag affair .The purchase of a ticket ($3.50) would be a good way of making donation to the very fine work done by this organization. All Rotarians have tickets for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant, on their Golden Wedding Day
Entertained at a surprise dinner in the Shawville United Church Hall in honour of their fiftieth wedding anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Grant of Bristol. About forty relatives were present.

THIS ELECTION

The election has been called for November 8th; the returning officer Denzil Moodie, has arranged for his office in the old Unemployment Insurance office, Mousseau Building, in Campbell's Bay; Parliament has been dissolved which means that now there is no Member of Parliament in Pontiac or anywhere else.

Enumerators are being instructed; polls are being organized; voters lists are being prepared.

It is usual for each party which intends to enter a candidate in a general election to hold a membership convention at which time their standard bearer is chosen. It is usual at these conventions for each prospective candidate to go in with an ardent group of supporters and fight to the last ditch for the nomination, using every sort of political ruse he can muster to outwit his opponents. Then, after the majority of delegates has chosen their standard bearer, it is usual for all other contenders to rally around this one man and pledge their undying support to him, wiping away everything they might have said against him during the previous few hours, or weeks.

This is the pattern which is set for September 22 when the Liberals will hold their convention in Temiscamingue. Delegates there will choose between Tom Lefebvre, 38, and Jim Robinson 27. Tom is married, has three children and owns and operates his own service station in Temiscamingue, having previously been employed by Canadian International Paper Company. Jim, the oldest of a family of 15, is now employed by CIP, responsible for design and plant engineering. He is a graduate in Engineering from McGill University.

Tom is a member of the Kinsmen Club, the Recreation Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the town council at Temiscamingue. Jim is a member of the Royal Canadian Legion at Quyon, the Rotary Club at Shawville and is an alumnus of St. Mary's High School, St. Patrick's College, Ottawa University as well as McGill. Between school and work he was an officer on active duty with the RCAF for three years. His family has farmed in Pontiac for four generations.

Tom and Jim will battle it out on Wednesday and the delegates will choose. Who the winner will face is still a mystery because the PC's, NDP and Social Credit haven't been heard from.

At Shawville Recreation Park, another very successful season has come to a close. This very worthwhile project does, however, cost money and funds are urgently needed to pay off debts incurred this past summer. Many local individuals and business houses have made generous contributions but as more is required any donations will be gratefully accepted by either Bud Rowat or Bill Main.

Congratulations to Mrs. L. A. Smart, 90 years old on Friday September 17.

This year an innovation at Shawville Fair. People paying for admission will have a chance on a television set donated by Athol Dale and the Westinghouse people. It is likely that even people who have complimentary tickets will want to buy an additional admission to have their number on the FV raffle.

Friday's big Stake Race is described elsewhere in this issue but there's also a great race slated for Saturday afternoon which will delight the harness racing fans. This promises to be the best year yet for horsemen.

Wolves and bears bring no bounty but hunting them is a useful sport because there are too many around this season Stan Langdon has shot one bear and three wolves so far. Another bear was shot by Lorne, Brent and Neil Sharpe.

Three dear little collie (?) pups have been abandoned by their owners and are now looking for good homes. They are presently being looked after in the horse trailer on the Dickson's field, King Street .If anyone would like to have one, contact Charles Dickson, Shawville.

This is Shawville Fair week so its raining! To avoid a drought next summer we should schedule the Fair for June or July.

David Smith awarded University bursary

David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith of Shawville, has won a two hundred dollar bursary to attend Carleton University this term. Principal Hanna believes this is the first on record for Shawville High School graduates and cites David's accomplishment as proof of the fact that perseverance can do great things where there's a will to achieve. Our very best wishes go with David to Ottawa on this his first step into higher learning.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The political road

Aylmer, Sept 12

Dear Editor:

There is a good deal of head-shaking going on locally over the recently-released Ottawa area transportation study. One thing seems clear—if the proposed freeway plans on this side of the river are ever implemented, it will mean the end of the squawks about Aylmer Police lying i wait for speeders ,because the proposed new road will link in with the McConnel Road at the Deschenes Road—and there is talk from Quebec, mostly backed by an apparent slip of the tongue of the Minister of Roads who mentioned the new extension of Highway 8 from the "collector road" north of Aylmer (ie the intersection of the new freeway) to Wyman. Plans were drawn up some years ago for just such a new Highway 8, to run along from this point closer to the Mountain and by-pass Breckenridge. After that, presumably it is anybody's guess. However, in company with a good many others, we'll con tinue to buck, shake, twist and rattle our way unhappily to a point beyond Quyon where adequate roads begin. If ever there was a blatant case of patronage in road building, it is this disgraceful section of what is not only supposed to be a major road, but is in fact the ONLY link in the Belle Province between the traditionally Union Nationale Pontiac county and the traditionally Liberal Gatineau ridings. If the powers that be in Quebec are sincere in their proud boast that patronage is a thing of the past, one way to prove it in this area would be to make a start on wiping out the blatant scars of the sins of omission of previous administrations by building a logical, not a political road. A number of Departments in the provincial set-up can, should, and must take an interest in this. There are resources to be opened up, and Lands and Forests also have an interest in this. If that Department really wants to have much of the processing of wood done in the province—they should at least make it physically possible to move the raw materials from one part of the province to another—without having to cross over to the Ontario side to get a truckload of heavy timber from Chichester to Gatineau. An what about moving long loads of steel for new construction? This week, very early in the morning, a truck driver with a block-long trailer of steel rods was having a very worried discussion with another trucker downbound with a load of logs on the Eardley Road just in front of St. Paul's Church. From the gestures, it was obvious that the steel hauler was being informed of what lay ahead of him on his foray into the Pontiac. As the other trucker pulled away, the steel trucker stood well back, looked at his truck, and finally asked plaintively—("Say lady, do you know anything about a bad turn at a place called "Beechgrove"—and how far i it from here?" He wasn't at all reassured with my answer—and even less so when told that he'd have a rough time of it long before Beechgrove—at the Tremblay Beach intersection in the middle of Luskville for one . . . and some of the narrow curves through Eardley and near Quyon . . . He looked even more crestfallen, if possible, looked up at the face of the church in front of him, climbed into his cab, and pulled very very slowly away. Wonder if he made it?

Fran O'Malley.

Good buy!

Letter to the Editor:

Fort Coulonge,

Dear Sirs:

I think that the Prime Minister has done the right thing to call a Federal Election at this time for it is the only way to get rid, once and for all, off the leader of the Conservative Party who accomplished very little while in power with the greatest majority ever.

His greatest achievement has been to create disunity in the Conservatve Party, has done and is dooing all in his power to devide the Canadian people, he is ready to destroy everything to satisfy his ambition to become once again the Prime Minister of Canada. He will long be remembered as the man who has done the most harm to Canadian Unity n Canadan hstory, fortunately Nov 8th will bring relief to most Canadian people for it will be good buy "UNCLE JOHN".

The Editor,
The Equity:
The $64 Question
How to Vote in the next Election

There was a time when political parties had clear cut national policies, and one could decide on the merits of each and decide accordingly. Today, with minor exceptions, party policies are practically all the same, except as to competition, as to which party is disposed to offer the greatest subsidy for this or that even to the point of outright Government ownership.

The basic trouble appears to be that all Governments have too much money to spend. Patronage of one kind and another is rampant. At one time only political patronage had to be reckoned with and even that, at times, could be used to advantage. Now it is monetary patronage that is in the ascendancy and the greatest flop of any commission, set up to correct matters, was the Price Spreads Commission whose recommendations haven't proved worth the paper on which they were written.

Instead of alleviating conditions these recommendations almost appear to have aggravated them, for there never was a time when there was less real competition in the food industry than there is today. As it used to be there was competition between purveyors of food, both at retail and wholesale levels. Today with all food distribution and organization controlled by Bay St., St. James St., and Wall St. with services paid for on a percentage of the gross, there is little competition in selling except for prearranged sales, all retail prices being practically the same.

Food is man's first and greatest necessity and any political party that could come out with a new and comprehensive food producton and distribution policy, conceived primarily in the interests of producers and consumers, should be able to win the next election hands down.

Food supply depends primarily on agriculture. No party has any agricultural policy that hits at the root of the problem. Government food subsidies and support prices are not the answer except possibly in times of disaster. They weren't needed during the war.

With labor, health and old age problems largely taken care of food production and distribution is one industry that should be able to stand on its own feet and so regulated.

Ordinary future requirements of each food commodity are now statistically known and can be computed and publicized well in advance. Presently such is not being done. Next year's food production is just one colossal gamble.

Any party that could come out with a comprehensive food and agricultural policy could win the next election.

As things stand now very few know how to vote.

Yours sincerely,
W. A. Brown, B. B. E.

Representing Pontiac over the centuries

Members of Parliaments since before confederation

Redistribution is afoot. The electoral boundaries are about to be changed. In the election after the current one the local Member of Parliament will represent an entirely different area.

This isn't the first time this has happened.

Edgar Mulligan has done some monumental work to uncover facts about the men who have represented Pontiac's interests as far back as 1792 in the Government of this country.

The earliest ones probably never even visited this area which was first called York County and included all that part of Quebec Province west of Montreal.

Our earliest members were M. Lotbiniere and Pierre DeBonne in 1792, H. Lacroix and J. Hetier in 1796, J. Bedard and Mr. Foucher in 1800, John Mure and E. N. L. Dumont in 1804, J. J. Trestler in 1808, P. St. Julien in 1809, F. Ballet in 1810 (heavy turnover those years!), E. N. L. Dumont back again from 1814 to 1827 serving alongside William Forbes, J. B. Fire, A. Perreault and J. Simpson in that order, J. B. Lefebvre in 1827 with Jacques Labrie and W. H. Scott winding up in 1830.

In that year the area was separated into three counties — Deux-Montagnes, Vaudreuil and Ottawa. Ottawa County took in all the territory in western Quebec from Deux-Montagnes to the border of Ontario separated by the Ottawa River.

In those times of great political wrest in Canada, MacKenzie and Papineau were agitating for control of the purse and responsible government.

Ottawa County which included us was represented by Philemon Wright and Theodore Davis in 1830, Baxter Bowman and James Blackburn in 1834 and then followed an era when there were no elected members.

From 1838 to 1841 Canada was ruled by an Executive Council, and the next elected member to represent us was Charles-Dewey Ray, in 1841, followed by Denis Papineau until 1847 when the first real representative of the people here, John Egan, was elected.

Pontiac was formed under a new division of constituencies in 1853 which split Ottawa County, and except for the northern part it has held the same boundaries until now.

John Egan who represented the Pontiac in 1854, was a lumberman, well known throughout the Ottawa Valley. He was followed by Edmond Heath who was acclaimed Member of Parliament in 1858. Heath was a Conservative and a supporter in the Federal Government of Sir John A. MacDonald's "New Deal" for Canada.

Heath was born in England, educated there and was a major in the Militia and Crown Land Agent for Pontiac. His address was Clarendon and he was an Anglican.

He was followed in the House of Commons by Captain John Poupore, a Captain in the 5th Battalion of the Pontiac Militia who was Postmaster and Mayor of Chichester. Poupore was a Roman Catholic .He defeated Edmund Heath at the polls by 8 votes, 685 to 677, in 1861.

On July 1, 1867, through the British North America Act, the Fathers of Confederation had their plan accepted whereby Canada would become a self governing Dominion.

Lt. Col John Poupore shared the honours at first with Edmund Heath by being acclaimed Pontiac's first representative to Quebec Provincial Government. He defeated J. Hodgins in 1872 by a handsome majority to retain the seat. Poupore 1116—J. Hodgins 594.

Next in 1878 under the name of John Poupore he defeated Thomas Murray in the Federal Election of that year by a majority of 207 votes. John Poupore was a Conservative.

William McKay Wright B.A. was elected by acclamation to the Federal House of Commons in 1872. A Conservative, he represented Pontiac until 1878. He was the youngest grandson of Philemon Wright and the son of Ruggles Wright. He married Mary Skead, the daughter of Senator James Skead.

Hon. L. R. Church Q.C. was elected to represent Pontiac County as a member of the Legislative Assembly in Quebec in 1778 until 1882. He was the grandson of Col. Benjamin Church, one of this country's most illustrious army men. He married Jane Erskine, held a cabinet position at Quebec and was instrumental in negotiating a large Provincial Loan for the Province.

John Bryson, a Conservative was the next Member of the Parliament of Canada to represent Pontiac at Ottawa. Son of late George Bryson, he married Mary, daughter of Thos. Bryson who lived at Fort Coulonge. He defeated N. McCuaig a Liberal and W. Somerville by 215 votes.

Thomas Bryson at this time won an election to the Assembly of Quebec and he also ran against N. McCuaig and defeated him by 300 votes. Thos. Bryson was a lumber merchant, a director of the Bank of Ottawa, was mayor of Mansfield and warden of the county for four successive terms. His address was Fort Coulonge. He died in 1881.

W. J. Poupore ran for the seat left by Mr. Thos. Bryson and won for the Provincial House and again against N. McCuaig and J. G. Roney by a narrow majority of 50 votes. William Poupore was the first man that was born in Pontiac to become Member for his county. He married Elenore Poupore and was Mayor of Chichester 1872-82 and Warden of Pontiac 1881-82. A Conservative and a Roman Catholic he held the seat until 1892 when he was defeated by a Liberal David Gilles by 400 votes.

David Gilles gave his address as Braeside, non-resident Member, but with vast interests in Pontiac. He was a descendant of an old Scottish family who settled in Lanark County in 1822 and represented Pontiac at Quebec until 1908.

Thomas Murray was elected in 1891, a Liberal and he defeated John Bryson and H. McLean with a plurality of 300 votes. His wife was Elizabeth Powers. He had been an unsuccessful candidate many times. His address was Pembroke and he was defeated in the 1896 nominations by T. C. Galbourg.

W. J. Poupore won the Federal seat for the Conservatives in 1896 by a majority of 600 votes over T. C. Galbourg. Thos. Murray won the seat back for the Liberals in 1900, but this time over C. H. Brabazon.

C. H. Brabazon a Conservative won the seat back from the Liberals in 1904 by a narrow majority of 95 votes over George Fred Hodgins. He was son of Samuel Brabazon and Margaret Clarke both from Ireland, resided at Portage du Fort was mayor 18 years and warden for 12 years, served in Northwest Rebellion, married Nellie Murphy and was of the Church of England faith.

G. F. Hodgins won the seat in 1908 from Mr. Brabazon with a majority of 800 votes and represented the Liberal point of view for Pontiac at Ottawa. Mr. Hodgins was married to Georgina Thomas. Their children were Genevieve, Letta, Eleanor, Georgina, Frederick, Erskine, James, Meredith. He was a merchant and a Methodist.

G. H. Brabazon won the seat back in 1911 and held it until 1917 by defeating C .F. Hodgins by 800 votes and F. S. Cahill, another Liberal, by 600 votes.

Frank S. Cahill won the election of 1917 for the Opposition, Wilfred Laurier's Party. Born on Calumet Island he was the son of William Cahill and his wife Mary. He married Mildred Coyne, daughter of John Coyne a broker from Portage du Fort. A Liberal, a Roman Catholic, his address was Campbell's Bay. He won over J. D. Bastien of Ville Marie by a 5,000 majority and he remained Pontiac's representative at Ottawa until 1930, when he was defeated by Charles Belec. R. Cote ran as an Independent Liberal. In 1921 he defeated Mr. G. Campbell and J. Landon by over 6000 votes. In 1925 he defeated Mr. Ladouceur and Mr. Lepage and in 1926 he defeated Mr. Ladouceur by 5000 votes. Now we should catch up with the Provincial side of our story which we left off with David Gilles.

T. C. Gaboury MD, a Liberal from Bryson won over Dr. F. McNally in 1908 by 188 votes and was chosen to represent Pontiac at Quebec. He married Jane Fletcher of Rigaud and had three brothers who were physicians. He was Mayor of Bryson 1890-92 and a Roman Catholic.

George B. Campbell defeated Dr. Gaboury in 1912 and Pontiac was represented in Quebec by a Conservative. The majority was 9 votes. He was a resident of Ottawa.

William Hodgins defeated Mr. Campbell in 1916 and brought the Liberals back in power in Quebec. His father was one of founders of Shawville, son of James and Sarah Hodgins. He married Marion Stevenson of Campbell's Bay, was Mayor of Clarendon for 20 years and a member of the Church of England. Shawville was his home.

W. R. McDonald defeated W. Hodgins in 1919 and David R. Berry with a plurality of 544 votes. Born Portage du Fort, son of Alexander McDonald and Annie McIntosh he married Cora Desjardins of Allumette Island. He speaks out on such things as Bill of Rights, National Productivity Council and a Deep Sea Waterway along the Ottawa River. His address is Campbell's Bay.

The History of Politics in Pontiac is as varied as it is in most other parts of Canada. You will now see from the brief description of the individuals who participated in the past that many elections were narrowly won and also you will notice that the emotions of the residents were carried to extreme at times and were swept along with the band-wagon of Canadian Public Opinion.

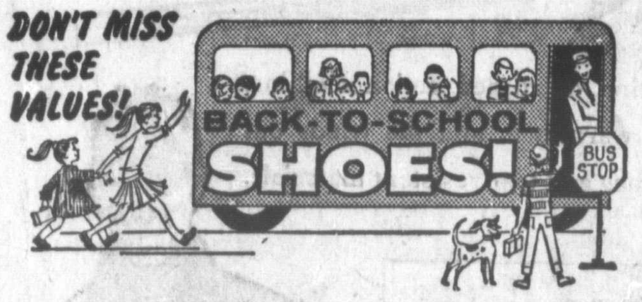

The government of Canada, or the Executive in a Parliamentary system is supposed to govern, but if it were not for the back-bencher and sovereignty vested in the voter, our form of Government would crumble.

Sir John Bourinot (one time Clerk of the House of Commons) stated: "The principles that lie at the basis of English parliamentary law have, however, been always kept steadily in view by the Canadian Parliament"—to protect a minority and restrain the improvidence or tyranny of a majority; to secure the transaction of public business in an orderly manner; to enable every member to express his opinion within the limits necessary to preserve decorum and prevent an unnecessary waste of time; and to prevent any legislative action being taken on sudden impulse.

The root and ever-present problem of parliamentary procedure is to reconcile two primary needs—the need to expedite the orderly transaction of the nations business and the need to preserve freedom of debate.

Norway Bay

Once more the holiday season is almost to an end at the Bay. All families who have school age children for senior pupils had to answer the roll call and when one realizes what an education means for your living today there should not be a vacant chair in the schools

It was announced from the pulpit and any way its church work and why should we be so indifferent, to any form of church work, as we all must know we all have to give an account of our work in our judgement at the final call.

The summer home church of the Bay has also closed for this year which makes 65 years of Sunday service on the Bay. As has already been told the first services were held on the sand beach by the Rev. Regionale roundup

During the past three weeks, the re-opening of classes has occupied most sessions of the Catholic Regionale. Hiring of teachers, provision of transportation facilities, and the hundred-and-one details of getting the schools ready and the books delivered to the right places at somewhere near the right time. Appointment of two senior employees in the administrative offices should help to ease the strain in this connection. Gerard Tardif, administrator, gets an assistant, known as an executive office Grade 1, Andre Plouffe. Bob Proulx, secretary-treasurer who has had to have part-time help just to work out the payrolls alone and prepare the cheques every two weeks, also gets an assistant, in the same classification, Mr. Ghislain Pilon. Both appointments are for a six-month probationary period.

During the forthcoming term, pupils entering Grade 8 will not be separated into the traditional scientific or general course until after the end of the first term so that the pupil's abilities and interests can be more equitably assessed.

The newly authorized re-orientation course for Grade 11 students will be made available this year for pupils in the regionale who have not been able to attend the Grade 11 scientific course through no fault of their own, or through inadequate classification in years past. This is an intensified course destined to make up the msising subjects from the scientific course so that a pupil who wants to go on to university will not find himself blocked because of some lack in the curriculum he has been following for four years.

Preliminary information was made available on the adult education courses to be given starting in October. One feature to be stressed in this matter is that the question of religious affiliation does NOT enter into the picture at all. Anyone wishing to secure more infomation about the availability of courses is asked to write to Mr. Gerald Binette, Director of Adult Education, Outaouais Regionale School Commission, 103 Montcalm Street, Hull, Que.

Now it might be possible for high school drop outs to pick up subjects that are keeping them from securing a matric diploma.

mountains was winter. At Kenora they sold the pack horse and sent home their winter things and continued with just the two.

Their gear has been cut to a minimum. Waterproof groundsheets, blankets as few personal things as is absolutely necessary, two days supply of oats for the horses and (hold onto your hats) a couple of extra horse shoes, nails and horseshoeing tools, are all they carry.

Yes, Helen and Joyce have put on 50 horseshoes, so far. They took the three horses to a blacksmith in Vancouver Island before they left and watched as 83-year-od Mr. McKay did the 12 shoes. As he was a little fellow of advanced years, they figured between themselves they could do the same. So they tried and they did, 50 times and lots more to go. They say the front ones were the easiest!

The plan is to sell their animals at Sidney although they hate the thought of parting with them after all these months of interdependence. Then they will try to find a cheap car and drive home through the Southern States with Florida as part of the trip.

Though Shawville is known as the town where "Horse is King" it was only by chance that these horseback cross country trekkers happened to stay here overnight. Having rested up at Starks Corners they started out for their usual two hour evening jog and it brought them to Shawville where they bedded down near the school grounds.

They have only one address from here to the coast and that is General Delivery, Grand Falls New Brunswick. They will probably be there in three weeks and we intend to send along a copy of this paper. Anyone else who saw them along the way or might wish to send them a word of encouragement, or an extra horse shoe (size 1 or 2) could do so.

We were tempted to delay them longer, get a gang in and hear all about their adventure, but their destination would never be achieved with such delays. Anyway they are writing a book, which should be priceless if they write it as they tell it in the little bits we heard.

Aylmer Jottings

With election talk starting to boil here and there, we can expect a good deal of free-wheeling, mud-slinging ,and general charges and counter-charges between now and November 8th when the people will probably turn around and vote exactly as they and their grandfathers have voted for years, with the usual predictable (?) results. The only uncertainty would appear to be in Gatineau County where the present member Dr. J. R. Leduc of Maniwaki has decided not to hit the campaign trail again. So far the only announced candidate is Dr. Gaston Isabelle, Mayor of Lucerne, who recently stepped down as President of the Student City Corporation. However, nominating conventions have yet to be held, and it will be interesting to see whether this increasingly urban riding will have an urban standard-bearer in the Liberal camp this time around.

Aylmer Rotary has lost one of its more popular and best-known members. Vice-President Steve Hero is a victim of his own talents as a manager for the Toronto-Dominion Bank, and has been transferred to higher things in Montreal.
He and his family, residents of Glenwood Domaine, will be greatly missed. Steve was a familiar figure with his camera at almost every Rotary function —and he is no mean ball player either!

Larry Johnson has been appointed a Director of the Aylmer Club to replace Steve Hero, and Bill Kereliuk has taken over Steve's spot as vice-president.

SHAWVILLE W I

The regular meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Paul, with Mrs. L. Corrigan presiding.

The meeting opened with collect, followed by roll call "Relate a rule for accident prevention. (These were varied and educational) answered by 14 members and one visitor. Convenors reports were given: Mrs. Paul Bridge convener reported last marathon completed, prize won by Mrs. Muriel Kelly. New schedule being drawn up.

Mrs. L. Corrigan and Mrs. E. C Hodgins attended June Convention at Macdonald College, the latter gave such an interesting account of this that one who wasn't there could follow through and feel we had attended ourselves.

Prize money for 1964 Fair Exhibit received, cheque donated back to Shawville Ag. Soc. Mrs. Gordon Paul and Mrs. Leslie Dale appointed delegates to county semi-annual convention to be held at Fort Coulonge, Oct 13th.

Mrs. Audrey Jacques convenor of Welfare and Health read an interesting article on "How Young People Kill old People with kindness" stating that young people coddle older parents too much, therefore they become inactive which isn't good for them. The author states "It is better to wear out than rust out".

Publicity convenors comment: "I doubt if many of us in this busy community will rust out".

Meeting adjourned followed by delicious refreshments served by hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jodoin and Mrs. Bilodeau.

Pastoral comment...

Rev. W. J. Wingle

Many Christians should blush over their meager knowledge of God. When asked to tell what they know about that Great Being who created the world and each one of us as well, they are at a loss for a definite answer. They can describe in detail each one of their friends or neighbors. They are able to list all of their qualities and their faults. But the Great Master of the universe remains to them practically unknown.

The fact is that they have never, or at least very seldom, bothered going into that matter. They felt He was there and that was as far as their interest took them. Perhaps some day, later on, they might go into that matter Perhaps when death was drawing near, they might give it a thought. What a shame. They are Christians, followers of a Leader, a Leader they know little or nothing about. Can we dare to think that this Leader is quite satisfied with such an indifferent attitude on our part? Do we show Him much respect, to Him who has done more for us than any other?

Let us at least place firmly in our mind these eight principal facts concerning God, His eight main perfections . . . Perhaps through knowing these facts, we will be drawn to love Him, just a little bit more, and serve Him a little bit more faithfully.

God is Infinite, Eternal, Immense, All-powerful, Creator, Provident, Good and Just. This simply means that in all His perfections He is the greatest possible, and without limit, He had no beginning and will have no end, He occupies all space and extends to every part of His great universe, there is nothing that He is incapable of doing, His great Work was the Creation of the word and all it contains and all that surrounds it. He watches over and provides, as the best of Fathers, for all He has created, He is Good, in every sense of the word, since nothing of badness could exist in Him, as contrary to His nature, and lastly He is Just, ready at all times to reward the good and punish the wicked.

Of course we will answer: "We know all that, we learned it when we were young, we just could not think of it. We even tried to imitate all we could of these perfections, in the early days, and to admire the rest. Should we not, even at this later date, endeavor to prolong our childhood piety, try to remain as little children, for Christ has said: "Suffer the little children to come unto me, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

Rev. George Atkinson Welcomed
