IMMEDIATE SHOWDOWN LIKELY IN AFRICAN WAR

British Gaining Huge Advantage, Churchill Says

Adopting Tone of Cautious Optimism, Prime Minister Tells House of Commons that the Next Few Days Will See Developments Which Will Include Many Highly Interesting Features—Resembles Sea War.

London, Nov. 20.—(Ø)—Prime Minister Churchill declared today that Britain's long-awaited big push across North Africa, sprung out of the Egyptian dawn two days ago, already had won positions of "marked advantage" and that the major test "cannot be long delayed."

Weighing his words with cautious optimism, the Prime Minister told the House of Commons:

"It is far too soon to indulge in any exaltation.... All now depends on the battle which follows. It is evident that the next few days will see developments which will include many highly interesting features."

He said Britain waited, planned and massed her strength for five months before unleashing the assault.

"This," he declared, "is the first time we have met the Germans at least equally well armed."

He said that the purpose of the campaign was to destroy the German and Italian armies in Libya in a huge-scale battle of mechanization.

He told the cheering House that the British forces caught their foes by surprise and added that, just as in a sea battle, the desert campaign "may be settled one way or another in the course of a few hours."

The offensive had been long and elaborately prepared, he declared.

"We have waited for nearly five months in order that our army will be well equipped with all weapons that have made their mark in this new war," he said.

"There is nothing in the world quite like the war conditions prevailing in the Libyan desert, in which swift and far ranging movements are only possible by the extraordinary use of armor, air power and mechanization," he said.

"I do not know whether the trial of strength has yet taken place between heavy armored forces but it cannot be long delayed."

Another authoritative source said that British operations in Libya "are proceeding according to plan."

Mr. Churchill went on to say that "conditions are in many respects like those of sea war.

"The principal units involved keep wireless silence when preparing and making their rapid and extensive movements.

"The encounter, when it is achieved, is like a clash of fleets and flotillas and as in a sea battle all may be settled one way or another in the course of a few hours.

"The object of the British and Empire offensive is not so much to occupy this or that locality but the destruction of the army and primarily the armored forces of the enemy.

"One thing is certain, that the British and Empire troops are animated by a long pent-up and ardent desire to engage the enemy, feeling as they all do that this is the first time we have met the Germans at least equally well armed.

"For this purpose the army of

COAST GUARD FREES LINER CORDOVA FROM ROCKS

Seattle, Nov. 20. — (AP) — A Coast Guard cutter today pulled the 2,098-ton pasenger liner Cordova free from the Alaskan reef where she grounded while en route from Juneau to Ketchikan.

The Cordova, refloated at high tide, proceeded to Ketchikan in the company of two Coast Guard vessels and an army transport which had taken aboard the little liner's passengers.

CANADA TODAY HONORS MEMORY OF STATESMAN

Government and University Leaders Join in Centennial Celebrations for Birth of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

St. Lin, Que., Nov. 20.—(Ø)—Government and university leaders gathered in this little French-Canadian village thirty-five miles Northeast of Montreal today to mark the 100th anniversary of a great statesman of former years, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King led a large delegation of Federal Government members, while Lieutenant-Governor Sir Eugene Fiset and Premier Godbout headed a Provincial Government group to ceremonies that will dedicate the house in which Sir Wilfrid was born, as a National Historic Site.

An air of uneasiness was added to the ceremonies because of the absence of one scheduled to have played a big part in ceremonies to honor a man often regarded as his predecessor in Canadian political life. Justice Minister Lapointe, who followed Sir Wilfrid as spokesman for French Canada, remained in critical condition in hospital in Montreal after a two-weeks' illness.

The ceremonies will be held in the old Laurier house, a five-roomed brick home that was acquired by the Japanese Interest Focussed On Washington As Diet Nears Close

Tokyo, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The special session of the Diet which opened Sunday cleaned its slate of business in both Houses today in preparation for the formal closing ceremony tomorrow.

Japanese attention was focused on Washington, where Japan's representatives and State Secretary Hull are conducting discussions which the newspaper Yomiuri termed "the key to Pacific war or peace."

Yomiuri declared the issue probably would be decided in the next one or two sessions.

Referring to Navy Minister Shigetaro Shimada's statement before the Diet that Japanese forces were prepared for any eventuality, the newspaper said "We have nothing to do but await results of the Washington conference."

Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo had an audience with Emperor Hirohito.

CLAIMS APPEASEMENT POSSIBLE

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Senator Gerald Nye (Rep., North Dakota), said today he was convinced the United States could end the Sino-Japanese war on a satisfactory basis and prevent further hostilities in the Pacific if it was willing to "help Japan save her face" by agreeing to relatively minor concessions for Japan in China.

"The trouble is," he told reporters, "that the administration doesn't want to settle this thing because it is largely responsible for any war fever that may be felt in this country now."

Nye, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, voiced the belief that most of the tension in the Orient could be eliminated by countenancing the establishment of Japanese air bases at two or three points in China, such as Shanghai, where she has had territorial rights for years.

But Nye's appraisal of the situation was not shared by one of his Republican colleagues, Senator Styles Bridges, of New Hampshire, who has supported the Administration's foreign policies.

"I don't think there is anything to be gained by trying to appease the Japanese," Bridges declared. "We have to be firm with them—it's the only language they know. Two or three air bases in China wouldn't satisfy them."

The latest series of United States-Japanese diplomatic conversations, meanwhile, were at a standstill. Tokyo's flying special envoy, Saburo Kurusu, and Ambassador Kichisaburo Nomura awaited further instructions from their Government before resuming the talks with Secretary Hull. There was no indication how soon the exchange of views would be renewed.

NINE NATIONS SUFFER UNDER HOSTAGE PLAN

Inter-Allied Information Committee Claims 100,000 Persons Executed by Nazis in Occupied Countries.

London, Nov. 20.—(Ø)—The Inter-Allied Information Committee said today that more than 100,000 persons had been killed, many thousands imprisoned, and whole villages deprived of meat or burned down in the "hostage terror" sweeping nine Axis-occupied countries of Europe.

The committee's formal report said the system was first developed by the Italians in Albania in 1939, then perfected by the Germans and given "its most ruthless application" by the Bulgarians, who were said to have killed 15,000 persons in a single reprisal expedition into six Greek villages.

At least 82,000 Poles have been killed in two years by the Germans under the hostage system, the report said.

More than 5,000 persons were executed by the Germans in Yugoslavia, and many former government leaders, professors and Jews died in the Netherlands.

Former army generals and hundreds of hostages were killed in Czecho-Slovakia, the report said, and at least 250 Frenchmen have been killed because of the assassination of German officers.

New British Offensive In Libya Undertaken By Largest Possible Army

British Imperial Army of 750,000 Men Considered Largest Force that Operating Space Permits—Greatest Secrecy Marked Launching of Great Offensive Which Has Advanced British Forces Fifty Miles.

GERMANS CLAIM BRITISH ATTACK UPON CHANNEL CONVOY UNSUCCESSFUL

Berlin, Nov. 20. — (Ø) — The German high command today claimed patrol boats of a German convoy off the Flanders coast beat off an attack by British speedboats without loss, one of the British speedboats was set afire, it said.

It reported that a medium-sized British merchant ship was damaged by German bombs near the Faeroe Islands and said objectives along the English Southwest Coast were attacked from the air.

The reports were not confirmed.

SWEDEN'S ONLY COURSE

Stockholm—(Ø)—Neutrality is still Sweden's only course and the nation is prepared to fight for it, said Minister of Defence, P. E. Skold, in a recent address to the nation.

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A British Imperial army of 750,000—as big as the operating space permits—drove deep into Libya today with strong R.A.F. and Royal Navy support in a triple onslaught aimed at eliminating the Axis from North Africa, creating a diversion to aid Russia, and eventually knocking Italy out of the war.

The big offensive began secretly at dawn on Tuesday on a 140-mile front swinging from the sea clear down to the Oasis of Giarabub.

The onslaught set the armies of Germany and Italy back on their heels in shocked surprise, so closely had the British secret been guarded, British reports said.

In the first onrush, against comparatively little opposition, British forces swept Westward to a depth of more than fifty miles, the first communique on the offensive said.

British advices added that numbers of Germans had been captured, that Italian forces were falling back, that the fleet has bombarded the stubborn gateway of Halfays (Hellfire) Pass, and that the air force has wrought tremendous damage to German-Italian positions and airdromes along the coast.

That the re-invasion of Libya would not continue to be so easy was acknowledged, British officers stating that the Germans have taken many pains to build up a force of seasoned veterans in fortified positions, despite the constant losses inflicted by the British fleet on the Axis transport system from Europe.

This German army, bolstered by Italians, must face a British striking force which is avowedly the newest, finest and best-equipped in the Empire.

The joint British command is headed by Dublin-born Lt.-Gen. Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham for the Army; his brother, Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, for the Navy; and Air Vice-Marshal Arthur Coningham, an Australian, for the R.A.F.

When the blow fell, however, it was heavy, the Air Ministry saying the R.A.F. had attacked and was attacking "a variety of targets with a ferocity never yet seen or experienced in North Africa." Seven Axis troop carriers were shot down in one preliminary engagement.

The land forces moved up to the barren border zone on Monday night and bivouacked for a few hours of sleep. But a rainstorm swept over the desert.

The going was admittedly made difficult along shore, where the German armored divisions were spread out, but both sides were troubled, for the R.A.F. reported sighting 200 Italian tanks, armored cars and trucks bogged down in one sector.

It was at Sidi Omar, a score of miles South of the Mediterranean shore, and at Fort Maddelena, fifty miles from the coast, that the main force of the British armored thrust was first directed, squadrons of tanks from the United States dashing across the sands.

The Imperial forces appeared intent on a flanking movement, aim-

Washington Warns Against Closer Vichy Tie To Reich

United States Declares that Government Will Have to Make Complete Restudy of Relations to France in Event of Closer Collaboration with Reich—Further Shipments to North African Forces Halted.

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The United States put Vichy on notice today that this Government was compelled to make a complete restudy of relations with France, because of the renewed signs that the French regime was moving toward closer collaboration with Germany.

The notice carried a frank warning, informed sources said, which intimated that severance of diplomatic relations was a possibility. State Undersecretary Sumner Welles stated the case to Gaston Henry-Haye, the French ambassador, during a conference yesterday.

American officials made no secret of their apprehension that Vichy's reported ousting of Gen. Maxime Weygand, France's Proconsul in North Africa, might prove an ominous development in the increasing Nazi pressure to convert Vichy into an active partner of the Reich.

As the supreme authority in Morocco, Algiers and Tunisia, Weygand has been one of the few Vichy officials to co-operate with the United States in seeking to keep complete control of those colonies in French hands.

Under an arrangement with Gen. Weygand the United States re-established trade with the African colonies, shipping foodstuffs and articles required for civilian life in return for raw materials for national defence production in the United States.

Two of the vessels which have been making regular voyages sailed a week ago, but officials said they would be the last until the French situation has been clairfied.

The United States, it was stated, would withhold decisive action concerning the renewed signs of closer Franco-German collaboration—pending a complete report, expected today, from Admiral William D. Leahy, the American ambassador.

Leahy conferred at length with Marshal Petain, the chief of the French state, late yesterday, and is expected to provide official information which may throw light on the Vichy Government's position.

WEYGAND MOVEMENTS VEILED

Vichy, France, Nov. 20.—(AP)—General Maxime Weygand left Vichy for "Somewhere in Southern France" today amid undenied reports that he had resigned as Marshal Petain's Proconsul and military commander in North Africa.

His departure after three days of conferences with his chief coincided with a demand voiced through the German-controlled Paris newspaper, Nouveaux Temps, for immediate defence of Africa against what was described as "British-American attack."

The newspaper declared "American influences" should be cleaned out of North Africa, and attacked Admi-

GERMANS OPEN NEW ATTACK ON RED DEFENCES

Nazis Launching Three-Pointed Attack on Outer Defences of Russian Capital and Against Rostov.

London, Nov. 20.—(Ø)—German soldiers pressing a new offensive against Moscow, are smashing at three key points in the Russian capital's defence chain and are seeking to score a triumph at Rostov, Don river port and gate to the Caucasus, it was reported today.

A Russian communique at midnight last night announced fierce fighting was underway at Volokolamsk, sixty-five miles West and slightly North of Moscow, at Kalinin, ninety-five miles Northwest of the capital, and at Rostov.

Other Russian sources said the Red army had repulsed a German attack on Tula, munitions manufacturing city 100 miles South of Moscow. About 15,000 troops and eighty Nazi tanks made up the attacking force, the Moscow radio said.

Some Soviet units were forced to evacuate a number of villages in heavy fighting in the Volokolamsk area, the war correspondent of the newspaper Pravda, Communist organ, said. When the withdrawal took place was not given. He said the Germans threw five infantry divisions (about 75,000 men) into ac-

ADEQUATE SUPPLIES FOR LIBYAN ATTACK

Melbourne, Nov. 20.—(AAP)—Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Commander-in-Chief of the Australian Imperial Force, commenting on the Cyrenaican offensive, said that definite plans had been made for this action and adequate forces provided.

"It will be very bad luck indeed if it is not completely successful," he said, and predicted that the Tobruk garrison would be relieved at last.

CANADA-BERMUDA TRADE

New York.—(Ø)—Canada was second only to United States in 1940 as a source of supply for Bermuda, reported D. S. Cole, Canadian Trade Commissioner. The United States sold Bermuda goods valued at $2,674,332, Canada $1,586,000 and the United Kingdom $1,490,000.

STUDY LIFTING BAN ON RUSSIAN PAPERS

Canberra, Nov. 20.—(AAP)—Australian Army Minister Francis Forde today told the House of Representatives that certain banned Russian papers and publications would be reviewed to ascertain whether any could be released for circulation.

He said that the Russian newspapers Pravda and Izvestia and a number of Lenin's works were included in a list of 171 international publications now on the army's banned list.

Justice Minister Continues In Grave Condition In Hospital

Montreal, Nov. 20.—(Ø)—Condition of Justice Minister Lapointe remained "very grave" in hospital here today, after a tense night during which the sixty-five-year-old statesman hovered near death.

Mr. Lapointe's personal physician, while declining to discuss the nature of his patient's illness said that "we have to consider his condition as very grave, in fact dangerous."

Hospital authorities confined themselves to the statement the condition of the Justice Minister remained "very grave" following a relapse.

Mr. Lapointe entered hospital two weeks ago for what was generally considered at that time to be a routine check-up of his health. He appeared to be progressing favorably and as late as Monday night, Dr. Prevost expressed the hope that his patient would be out of hospital within a few days. The relapse came Tuesday afternoon, and Mr. Lapointe's condition grew worse after that.

Last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered yesterday, and Msgr. Joseph Charbonneau, Archbishop of Montreal, visited the sick room to give his blessing. Mrs. Lapointe and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ouimet, spent much of the time within a short distance of the hospital room.

In the evening, Prime Minister King visited his colleague of many years for a short time, entering the hospital at 7.30 p.m. and leaving half an hour later. He made no comment after the visit beyond saying that Mr. Lapointe's condition was serious.

The Prime Minister visited Montreal on his way to St. Lin, Que., to attend ceremonies in connection with the 100th anniversary today of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Lapointe has long been regarded as the political successor to Sir Wilfrid.

WAR BULLETINS

Berlin — Offensive operations on the Eastern front are proceeding successfully, the German high command said today.

It claimed that the German air force had bombed Soviet air bases on the Northern shore of the Black Sea and districts along the middle course of the Don.

Rail lines East of the Volkhov river also were bombed and explosives and incendiaries were dropped on Moscow in a daylight attack, the war bulletin claimed.

It reported that eight Russian planes were shot down near Leningrad.

Roosevelt Intervention Is Sole Hope To End Walk-Out

John L. Lewis Refuses to Budge from Non-Compromise Position Despite Fresh Effort by President to End Walk-out—May Seek Legislative Action to Prevent Defence Strikes Before Using Armed Forces.

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Hopes for settlement of the United States captive coal strike without Government action reached the vanishing point today, as John L. Lewis refused to budge from his non-compromise position despite a fresh effort by President Roosevelt to end the walkout.

In flatly rejecting the new peace formula, the Chief of C.I.O.'s United Mine Workers said that he spoke solely for himself and that no formal reply was possible until the Union's Policy Committee meets Saturday. However, no one in labor or Government circles doubted that the committee would uphold his verdict.

When the Committee officially confirms Lewis' refusal, informed sources believe, it will make federal intervention virtually inevitable—although there was still some difference of opinion what form this intervention would take.

Some authoritative sources seemed convinced that the President would have the army take over the mines with the 50,000 troops which have been mobilized and instructed for such special duty. Others however would not rule out the possibility that Mr. Roosevelt would first seek a legislative answer to the problem.

In Capitol Hill, the disposition was to go ahead speedily with legislation to curb defence strikes, regardless of the outcome of the captive coal controversy.

There was almost universal approval in Congress for the formula which Mr. Roosevelt advanced yesterday to get the idle mines back in production.

The President recommended that further discussion of the one point at issue—the closed shop, in his words—be deferred until the national emergency is over, or that this question be submitted to arbitration, with the union and the mine operators agreeing in advance to abide by the result.

Lewis, the field marshal of U.M.W.'s fight to win a union shop, replied that officers of the Union had no authority from the membership to agree to anything save a "union shop"—a system under which all miners would have to join the union after a probationary employment period.

A rough survey yesterday showed that at least 90,000 miners were out on sympathy strikes in commercial mines, and the strike was generally effective in the captive pits, although some were operating on a partial basis.

WEIGHT ADDED TO WARNING OF NAVY MINISTER

Five Survivors of Ship Sunk Short Distance Beyond Belle Isle Reach Canadian Port.

A Canadian Port, November 20.—(Ø)—Echoes of Navy Minister Macdonald's recent warning that Axis undersea craft are operating near Canada's coast were heard here as survivors from a torpedoed British freighter told of being sunk by enemy submarines they first contacted only thirty miles off the Dominion's Atlantic seaboard.

Five of the freighter's crew of forty-three were all that survived the midnight sinking which occurred "a few hundred miles" beyond Belle Isle after the submarines had trailed their convoy for three days, refusing to be driven off by depth charges dropped by escorting warships. Those five told an almost unbelievable tale of escape.

Loaded with a deadweight cargo, their ship plunged under the water a bare forty seconds after the torpedo struck. Four of the crew were on deck and were blown to the surface. The fifth survivor, an Arabian fireman named Ali Abdullah Saliman, remained under water for many minutes, finally bobbing above the waves unharmed.

British Officials Probe Slight Against Russian Envoy To U.S.

London, Nov. 20.—(Ø) — Richard Law, Foreign Undersecretary said today that a slip-up which prevented Maxim Litvinov, Soviet Ambassador to the United States, and his wife from obtaining seats on a British Overseas Airways plane from Teheran to Cairo was being investigated.

Litvinov was told at the Teheran airport yesterday that there were no seats available.

'I have this morning received a report from the Minister at Teheran from which there appeared to be an unfortunate misunderstanding as a result of which the departure of Litvinov and his party was delayed," Mr. Law told the House of Commons.

"The exact circumstances are being investigated by the Minister who at once sent a personal apology to Litvinov and the Soviet Ambassador at Teheran.

"I am glad to have this opportunity of saying how much we regret that an unintentional discourtesy to our Russian ally and Mrs. Litvinov was involved in this unfortunate occurrence."

Government Completes Plans For Stabilization Of Retail Prices

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—(Ø)—Central administration of the Government organization to handle the new price-ceiling programme, was considered officially to be complete today with announcement of three major changes in the set-up of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board:

1—Appointment of Donald Gordon, Deputy Governor of the Bank of Canada, as Board Chairman. He has been Associate Chairman for two weeks.

2—Appointment of Hector McKinnon, present Chairman, as President of a new commodity prices stabilization corporation which is being established. He continues to be a member of the Board.

3—Addition of four new members to the Board—L. D. Wilgress, Deputy Trade and Commerce Minister; Dr. Bruce M. Stewart, Deputy Labor Minister; J. G. Bouchard, Assistant Deputy Agriculture Minister, and Walter L. Gordon, Special Assistant to Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy Finance Minister.

Mr. McKinnon, in his capacity as President of what is described unofficially as an "important trading corporation" will direct operations intended to "implement the policy of the board in connection with the purchase and resale of various commodities, particularly raw materials, at prices which will ensure the maintenance of retail ceiling prices."

The new policy is scheduled to go into effect December 1. Under it, a general ceiling is placed over prices of virtually all commodities at the highest level between September 15 and October 11.

DECLARES ARMS PROGRAMME IN U.S. EXCESSIVE

Colorado Senator Declares that Congress Is Being Asked to Appropriate Sums in Excess of U.S. Needs.

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Senator Alva Adams (Dem., Colorado) asserted today that Congress was being asked to appropriate for war supplies "far in excess of the needs for American defence."

He also declared to reporters that the military production programme was being conducted with "incalculable waste."

Adams' assertion was prompted by President Roosevelt's request, now under consideration by a House Committee, for $7,082,419,000 additional defence funds, of which $6,687,000,000 would go to the army.

Piling this on top of approximately $58,500,000,000 already appropriated or authorized by Congress for defence, Adams said, made it apparent that no amount of economy in non-defence expenditures could relieve the financial strain materially.

The Colorado Senator is chairman of a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee which will consider the $7,082,419,000 measure if it is approved by the House of Representatives.

HOOVER FLAYS U.S. POLICIES

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover urges calling a halt to what he calls an attempt to condition United States minds artifically for war.

In an address made before the Union League Club last night, the former President asserted propaganda agencies already were voicing "preliminary demands" for the sending of United States land forces into the European maelstrom.

He said the "preliminary demand" for overseas forces "is likely to be for an expeditionary force to Persia or Egypt."

Mr. Hoover described the European war as a "military stalemate" and said the effect an American expeditionary force would have on the outcome was the primary question before the American people.

His only explanation was that he had been caught in an air pocket formed when the ship went down, drawn to its outer edge by suction and then buoyed up by his lifebelt.

Carl Hubinette, of Hull, Eng., one of the five, said "We were in the water for about an hour when a corvette picked us up. Most of us were num and half-frozen with the cold."

He said the thirty-eight crew members below deck "didn't have a chance." The ship sank so quickly that even he, from his vantage point at the wheel, failed to reach a lifeboat before "a wall of water struck me and everything started swirling."

The one Canadian known to have been aboard—a Montrealer—was not among the survivors. Hubinette said his last sight of the young chap was seeing him rip a canvas from a rocket gun in a vain attempt to fire it. "I never saw the third mate again," he said.

Torpedoes also accounted for a second ship in the convoy, the men related. However, it was fortunate enough to get lifeboats out and apparently saved most of the crew.

tion and suffered heavy losses.

The war correspondent of the Moscow newspaper Izvestia, Soviet Government organ, reported that the Germans were continuing the Tula attacks with two infantry divisions (about 30,000 men) supported by a tank division.

"The fighting is heavily taxing their strength," he said.

The correspondent added that the Germans were driven from two villages about three miles from Tula yesterday and suffered heavy losses.

In Berlin, the Germans early today ignored the beginning of a British offensive in Libya and a spokesman continued to emphasize the German high command's claim of yesterday that "new and successful operations are under way on the East front."

While Russians indicated they had held their lines against the new German attacks on the mainland, they acknowledged that Soviet troops in the Kerch area, on the Eastern tip of the Crimean peninsula, were "gradually retreating."

The Germans have claimed the capture of Kerch, a stepping stone to an attack on the Caucasus across the narrow Kerch Strait.

An enigmatic Tass, Soviet official news agency, dispatch said, however, that the Germans were forced to abandon newly-won positions and form a new line farther back on the Crimea. The location of this reported set-back for the Germans was not given.

UNITED STATES AND MEXICO TO END DISPUTES

Two Countries Have Worked Out Good Neighbor Programme to Solve Many Long-Standing Arguments.

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The United States and Mexico have worked out a good neighbor programme for the amicable solution of big, long-standing problems which affected harmonious relations between the two countries in the past.

Both State Secretary Hull and Francisco Castillo Najera, the Mexican Ambassador, hailed the accomplishment as an advance of great importance in the field of Western Hemisphere solidarity and collaboration.

The programme, represented by a series of agreements signed late yesterday, provides for the following:

Settlement of the protracted controversy over Mexico's expropriation of American oil holdings there;

A $40,000,000 payment by Mexico as full settlement of general and agrarian claims by American citizens;

Negotiation of a reciprocal trade pact;

American financial assistance in stabilizing the Mexican peso;

An agreement for purchase by the United States of newly mined Mexican silver;

A $30,000,000 loan by the United States to assist in the financing of Mexico's highway construction programme.

Settling the oil expropriation dispute promised to be the most difficult task posed by the programme. Ever since the oil properties were taken over by the Mexican Government in March, 1938, there have been negotiations between the Mexican Government and the oil companies to arrive at a mutually satisfactory price for the holdings.

Shortly after Weygand's departure Fernand de Brinon, French Ambassador to German-occupied Paris, arrived in Vichy. The purpose of his visit was not explained.

NEW OUTBURST IN COAL FIELD

Pittsburgh, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Three men were wounded today by a volley of shots in a clash at dawn between pickets and non-striking coal miners in the Fayette County coal fields, hotbed of the four-day-old mine workers strike for a union shop.

All were shot in the vicinity of the Edenborn mine of the H. C. Frick Company about eighteen miles North of Uniontown.

One man, shot through the left shoulder, was identified at Brownsville Hospital as Ernest Metzner, twenty-nine, of California, Pa., a miner at the nearby Vesta mine of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation. Two other men, hit by grazing shots in the face and leg, were not immediately identified. They were not taken to a hospital.

Less than two hours after the men were wounded, a fusilade of shots struck the automobile of Mine Superintendent James Maher as he drove through the picket line. He escaped injury but his car was punctured by bullets.

Dominion Government in 1938 and reconditioned, decorated and furnished as nearly as possible in the style of the period during which Sir Laurier lived in it as a boy.

The ceremonies in the old home opposite the village school which Sir Wilfrid first attended are but part of widespread celebrations to honor the former Liberal Prime Minister. Tonight, the centenary observance will continue in Montreal where a rally has been planned in the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial gymnasium of McGill University. The rally is sponsored jointly by University of Montreal and McGill.

In Quebec City, a special Mass will be sung in memory of Sir Wilfrid. Fisheries Minister Michaud will represent the Dominion Government in the Quebec section of the anniversary observance. Air Minister Power and Senator Raoul Dandurand are scheduled to address the rally in Montreal.

viet army newspaper Red Star reported today.

The Germans hurled a large force against Volkhov, junction of the Leningrad-Murmansk and Leningrad-Vologda railways, after being blocked in a push toward Tikhvin last Sunday, the paper said.

Leningrad was reported still in railroad communication with the Russian interior.

The situation remains tense in the Volkhov sector, Red Star said, with the Germans gathering reserves for a new offensive.

Repeated Russian counter-attacks in the Tikhvin sector, some executed by Red army tanks, were reported to have dislodged the Germans from several settlements.

Fierce fighting continued near the approaches to Leningrad, where the Russians persisted in counter-attacks in the face of heavy German artillery and mortar fire from a strongly fortified point, it was stated.

ed at getting around the powerfully-defended Axis border fortress of Bardia—and perhaps forming an early juncture with the British forces at Tobruk, besieged since last April 11.

Gen. Cunningham's army, said an authority here, is the greatest ever assembled in North Africa. Considering the limits imposed by the desert conditions, "it is correct to say the maximum has been reached," he added.

This is the new Eighth Army or Army of the West, formed when the old Army of the Nile was split. One section remained in the desert while the other under Lt.-Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson became the Army of the North in Syria and Palestine.

Both are under Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck, commander-in-chief for the Middle East.

In addition, Britain has increasing forces in Iraq and Iran.

the Western Desert took up its preliminary station on a broad front from the sea to Giarabub Oasis and all was in readiness by nightfall of the 17th.

"At dawn on the 18th the general advance began.

"Very heavy and exceptional rains hampered the movement of our forces which had great distances to cover.

"Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck and Lt.-Gen. Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham have made a brilliant and successful strategic approach and have gained positions of marked advantage.

"All now depends on the battle which follows.

"It is evident that the next few days will see developments which will include many highly interesting features."

DETAILED WEATHER

CLOUDY AND COLDER

The weather has been moderately cold in the Western Provinces with snow and sleet in some sections of Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Showers have occurred in many parts of Ontario with light snow in Northern sections of the Lake Superior district.

Forecasts: Strong Southwest to West winds with occasional rain; cooler tonight. Friday: Strong West and Northwest winds; cloudy and rather cold with scattered snowflurries.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 67 and the minimum 29. Last year the temperatures were 39 and 28.

UNITED STATES IS OBSERVING THANKSGIVING

President Roosevelt Plans Quiet Observance of Early Thanksgiving as Sixteen States Defer Celebration.

Washington, Nov. 20. — (AP) — President Roosevelt joined citizens of two-thirds of the United States today in observing the third and last "early thanksgiving," but international and domestic complications kept him and most of his Cabinet at their desks part of the day.

Sixteen States were foregoing their holiday turkey until the regular time a week from today. The entire country will revert to the last Thursday in the month after this year, the President having decided the wider spread between Thanksgiving and Christmas meant little or no increase in business for retail merchants who had proposed the experiment.

The President remained on the job to watch the coal strike developments. It was the first Thanksgiving he had spent in Washington since 1937. If the strike situation permits he will go to the Warm Springs, Ga., Infantile paralysis Foundation next Thursday to observe a second Thanksgiving.

Leaving his entire day free for duties of state, the President reserved the hour beginning at 7 p.m., for a full-course roast turkey dinner with all the fixings. Only Mrs. Roosevelt and Capt. and Mrs. James Roosevelt were to dine with him.

Most Government offices were closed for the holiday.

Resolutions Committee with A. D. Lewis and members of his United Construction Workers Organizing Committee have been devoted to various phases of the issues, chief controversial subject remaining for consideration.

Lewis, brother of John L. Lewis, and some members of the U.C.W.O.C. had demanded a resolution denouncing Hillman. They have charged that Hillman, President-on-leave of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and long at odds with John L. Lewis, recommended against the award of a defence housing contract to the Currier Lumber Co. of Detroit, whose employees are members of the U.C.W.O.C.

The Convention's Resolutions Committee completed hearings on the subject last night, and prepared the draft of a resolution but members of the Committee would not disclose its nature until it could be presented on the floor.

Born In Canada Of French Parents, Youth Before Court On Charge Of Refusing To Report For Training

Born in Canada of French parents, a 21-year-old Windsor Mills youth who was turned down by the R.C.A.F. before the fall of France and who is now before the courts on a charge of failing to report for compulsory military training, is the central figure in one of the most unusual cases to come before the local tribunal since the outbreak of the war.

At the present time the boy has no objection against reporting for military training but objects to a conviction on the charge of failing to report, while the accused's father is opposed to his boy swearing allegiance to His Majesty the King on the grounds that it might result in the confiscation of certain interests which he has in Vichy-controlled France.

Furthermore, the father contends that the time may come when England will invade France and he does not want his son to be called upon to fight against his fellow-Frenchmen "like it happened in Syria."

Because the case was held behind closed doors and the difficulty in confirming all the angles, the name of the accused is omitted, but according to information obtained today this is the story.

As mentioned above, the boy was born in Canada of French parents and as such had the right to make an option to retain his French citizenship or become a British subject. As he did not make an option, he automatically became a British subject and as such was subject to military training when he reached the age of 21.

The youth received his notice to report for medical examination, which he did, but did not report when he was called for training. Arrested by officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who are charged with picking up delinquent draftees, the accused pleaded not guilty and at first claimed that he was not subject to the Canadian law.

It was pointed out by the Court and by Albert Rivard, counsel for the department, that the accused was a British subject according to law as he had not made an option to retain his French citizenship which he inherited from his parents.

It was then argued by the defence that prior to the Fall of France and the signing of a separate peace between Germany and Vichy, the boy had volunteered for the Royal Canadian Air Force but had been turned down because of his father's nationality.

The boy's argument was that "if I wasn't good enough for the Air Force because my father was a Frenchmen then my father is still a Frenchman so I can't be good enough for the infantry."

When the father and son were convinced that the boy was subject to military training, the father still objected on the grounds that his son might be called upon to fight against fellow-Frenchmen b... Mr. Rivard pointed out that he was not obliged to sign up for active service Overseas but that service in Canada was obligatory.

The father then inquired whether or not the son would have to take an oath of allegiance to the King and he was told that as a member of His Majesty's armed forces he would naturally have to swear allegiance. The father strongly objected to this, claiming that Frenchmen were forbidden by Vichy to join any army and that if his son did so, certain interests which he had in France might be confiscated.

"As a member of the Canadian Army he will be called upon to follow the rules and regulations like the rest of the troops," Mr. Rivard told the father. "If he fails to comply he will have to suffer the consequences."

That is how the case stands at the present time and Judge J. H. Lemay is trying to find a solution which will settle the matter to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Judgment in the case is expected within the next two weeks.

STILL NO TRACE OF EAST ANGUS MAN

East Angus, Nov. 20.—Determined efforts to find Henry Reilly, 77-year-old local man, who is believed dead somewhere in the Stoke woods, were still fruitless today, but a group of searchers with a trained dog of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, are still at work combing the large wooded area.

Reilly has been unreported since he left his home on Tuesday, November 4th, to spend a few days alone hunting in the vicinity of Porcupine camp, about three and a half miles from this town.

PLAYWRIGHT DEAD

CONTINUE FLOW OF GOODS FOR BOYS OVERSEAS

Executive of 35th Battery Association Authorizes Large Shipment of Sweatshirts, Tobacco and Socks.

Shipment Overseas of 206 sweatshirts with crests, 12,000 cigarettes, fifteen pounds of pipe tobacco, fifteen pounds of cigarette tobacco and fifty pairs of knitted wool socks was authorized last night at a meeting of the Executive of the 35th Battery Association, held at the Belvidere Street Armory.

Final preparations were made for the bingo programme to be staged by the Association in the Armory on Friday night, November 28. A drawing will be held during the evening, and several prizes will be awarded to holders of the lucky tickets.

It is expected that this event will be well supported, since all receipts will go toward providing comforts for the boys in England.

LENNOXVILLE

The W.C.T.U. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Atto. There was a record attendance and one new member was welcomed.

Mrs. L. W. Smith presided and Mrs. E. Seale conducted the devotional period and had as her subject, "The Public-spirited Woman." The roll call was responded to by "How to get rid of local option," and all women were reminded to see that their names were on the voters' list before the end of the month. After the routine business, Mrs. E. M. McCurdy gave an address on "Post-War World." After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Atto, Mrs. Nellie White and Mrs. E. Seale, with Mrs. W. H. Abbott doing the honors at the tea table..

The Young Women's Association of the United Church was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. William Sawyer, Lorne Avenue. Mrs. A. L. Kuehner conducted the meeting. Plans were made to help with Christmas cheer, and a very interesting talk on "Herbs" was given by Mrs. Mortimer Greaves, after which the hostesses, Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. Stuart Snow, Mrs. Eric Lennon and Mrs Harold Turner, served lunch.

Mrs. Arthur Hunting, Clough Avenue, left on Tuesday for Jarvis, Ont., to join her husband, LAC. A. W. Hunting, who is completing his course as wireless air gunner at the R.C.A.F. Training and Gunnery School.

A Wabasso demonstration and fashion show will be held in aid of the local Red Cross branch on Friday at 2:30 o'clock in St. Anthony's Hall.

Word has been received in Lennoxville of the death in Toronto of Emily Maude Wainwright, wife of the late W. Russell Thomas, M.D. Older residents will remember Dr. and Mrs. Thomas and family, who lived here for a number of years.

Since the death of Dr. Thomas in 1916, Mrs. Thomas spent the greater part of her time at the home of her sisters, the Misses Wainwright where she passed peacefully away on November 3, after being in failing health for a couple of years. Surviving are two sons, Wynne Alan and Walter David, both of Toronto, two grandsons, Gordon and Keith Thomas, a daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. D. Thomas, several sisters, nieces and nephews who have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

MISS CARON'S CONDITION IMPROVED

Condition of Simone Caron, 25-year-old Sherbrooke housemaid, who was found unconscious on the highway near East Angus early last Friday morning, is improving all the time, St. Vincent de Paul Hospital authorities said today.

The girl, who suffered a fractured skull and other injuries, had a satisfactory night.

Farmer Committed To Stand Trial On Charge Of Perjury

Sixty-Year-Old George Langlois, of La Patrie, Expected to Appear Before Current Assizes—Charge Sequel to Series of Litigations Between Himself and Municipality of La Patrie.

Accused of having committed perjury while giving evidence in a civil court action instituted by his son, Georges Langlois, 60-year-old farmer of La Patrie, was committed for trial before the Court of King's Bench by Judge J. H. Lemay in Magistrate's Court yesterday afternoon.

Langlois was released on $500 bail and the trial will probably be heard at the current term of the higher court.

The charge of perjury heard against the elder Langlois is the sequel to a series of litigations between the accused and his son on one side and the Corporation of the Municipality of La Patrie and farmers of the district on the other over the disposal of sewage from farms on the higher level of the municipality.

In the civil action taken against the municipality and a number of farmers, it was alleged by Langlois that the farmers allowed the sewage to run into a stream which traversed his property, causing him considerable damage and preventing his cattle from watering in this brook.

The younger Langlois asked the Court to issue an order forbidding the farmers from dumping their sewage into the brook and in the event of their failing to comply with the court order that they each be assessed two thousand dollars damage.

As all the civil actions were based on the same facts a test case was made of the Langlois suit against Georges Turcotte, operator of a creamery, and it was in this case that it was alleged the elder Langlois committed perjury.

It was alleged by the complainant that Langlois in his testimony categorically denied ever having made any demand upon the municipality for any specific amount of money in settlement of the damages which he claimed and it was charged that he had done so on several occasions.

After C. E. Bachand, Prothonotary of the Superior Court, and L. J. Begin, Court stenographer, had testified that Langlois had been duly sworn when he gave his evidence, Ivan Sabourin, K.C., counsel for the prosecution, called Ernest Jette, Mayor of La Patrie, who identified a letter written by the accused to the municipality in which he said that some settlement of the litigation should be made and declared that his lawyers had suggested an amount of $5,000 as a fair arrangement.

Mayor Jette said he had told the accused that the councillors had declined to consider any such settlement.

Questioned by Mr. Sabourin, Mayor Jette said that on another occasion Langlois had told him verbally that he was willing to settle the whole matter for an annual grant of $350.

The only other witness called for the prosecution was Joseph Drolet, a member of the Council of La Patrie, who testified that on one occasion Langlois had told him that "if it had not been for Jette the whole question could have been settled long ago."

Deciding that the accused would have an opportunity of "explaining his case to the jurors," Judge Lemay committed him for trial before the Court of King's Bench.

Evender Veilleux represented the accused.

EVIDENCE IS COMPLETED IN CYR HEARING

Operator of Local Service Station Charged with the Theft of Equipment Owned by Miss Helena Allaire.

Evidence was completed at noon today in the case of Roland Cyr, of Thetford Mines, who is charged with theft of $300 from Miss Helena Allaire, also of Thetford Mines, in connection with the operation of a gasoline service station here in Sherbrooke. A verdict is expected this afternoon.

In defence, the accused claimed that Miss Allaire had furnished the money for the purchase of the service station to "put him on his feet." Witnesses for the defence said that they became estranged about a month after the purchase of the station.

It is claimed by Miss Allaire that Cyr sold some of the equipment of the station after she had given formal orders against disposal of any of the stock.

Albert Mercier, who is charged with the same offence but who will be tried separately, said that he had worked for Cyr at the station and that all the business had been conducted in Cyr's name.

Cesaire Gervais, K.C., is acting for the Crown and Roland Dugre is representing the accused.

SIGN CONTRACT FOR OPERATION OF BUS SERVICE

The contract between the City of Sherbrooke and the Sherbrooke City Transit Company for operation of a passenger-bus service within the city limits for a period of one year was signed at the City Hall yesterday afternoon.

H. J. Curtis, Vice-President and Treasurer, and Roch Tremblay, Secretary, signed the contract, on behalf of the company, and Mayor Joseph Labrecque and City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers, on behalf of the city.

The existing contract between the city and the company expires February 1, 1942, and the new franchise covers a period of one year from that date.

Under the terms of the new contract, the company agrees to put two new motor coaches in service and to contribute $250 annually during the winter of 1941-42 and 1942-43 to help defray the cost of spreading cinders on the city streets.

The company's schedule and rates remain the same.

WOULD GOVERN SALE OF WOOD IN THIS CITY

Wood Merchants to Consider Question of Asking City Council to Institute By-law Similar to One Controlling Sale of Coal.

A meeting of wood merchants of the City of Sherbrooke will be held in the near future when the question of asking the city to institute some by-law governing the sale of firewood along the same lines as the regulations governing the sale of coal will be discussed.

The merchants have received a number of complaints from purchasers who contend they are not receiving full measure and it is with the object of avoiding such complaints that some legal supervision is demanded.

In the majority of cases, it is pointed out, the fault does not rest with the merchant as in a number of cases the purchaser does not check the load until considerable time after the delivery with the result that if any wood has been stolen in the interim the blame is unjustly placed on the shoulders of the merchant.

Just what type of regulation will be demanded of the city has not been decided as yet but it is generally believed that the only possible method would be to have the wood measured by a city inspector, probably the same party who now weighs coal deliveries at the public scale.

Should the plan meet the approval of all the merchants and action is taken by the city to institute such a by-law, cost of the operation will be passed on to the consumer by the merchants. The additional cost will be negligible in return for the guarantee which the purchaser will have that he is receiving a full load.

Such a move received the approval of Judge J. H. Lemay in a recent Court case in which a purchaser sought to recover $14 which he had paid for wood which he had not received. It was pointed out by the Judge that merchants outside the city usually lost a considerable portion of their load while bringing wood into the city and that while there was no intention to defraud on the part of the seller, the consumer nevertheless did not receive the full measure for which he paid.

All African Bushmen pray to the moon and other celestial bodies, and have an extensive series of myths and legends relating to them.

Police Net Thrown Out For Burglar Who Has Robbed At Least 20 Homes In 30 Days

A city-wide search is being made by Sherbrooke police for one of the smoothest sneak thieves to operate in this district for many years and who to date has successfully burglarized between twenty and thirty local residences, obtaining amounts varying between a few dollars and one hundred dollars.

Although the police have been keeping a strict lookout for him during the past month they have been unable to trap him or find any clue which might lead to his arrest.

Last night he broke into the home of Louis Echenberg, Magog Street, but although he ransacked the house nothing was missing. It was also reported that he broke into another house on Portland Avenue last night but the police did not have the complete report on this case.

According to the police, the thief has not as yet been obliged to actually break into a house by using force. He usually carefully removes the double windows and places them on the ground beside the window and then opens the inner window with little difficulty. Failure of the police to discover any fingerprints leads them to believe he is using gloves and wears soft-soled shoes because in one case he went through purses left in a bedroom while twenty-five people were playing cards in an adjoining room.

So far he has taken only cash, leaving behind any jewelry, trinkets or checks which he found in the women's purses.

One of his victims, Octave Gagne, 14 Minto Street, lost fifteen dollars which his daughter had collected during the Federated Catholic Charities campaign.

It was at the home of A. W. Kerridge, 130 Victoria Street, that he broke into a bedroom and ransacked about thirty purses which guests had left with their clothes.

Among some of the other homes in which the thief made successful raids were those of Dr. Gadbois, Brooks Street, Oscar Nault, Gordon Street, George St. Pierre, 86 Court Street, Capt. the Rev. W. R. Northridge, 68 Portland Avenue and N. B. Prichard, 121 Quebec Street.

Last night the police received a report around 10.30 that a man was seen on the fire-escape of the Parthenon Apartments and Capt. Omer Daudelin, accompanied by eight officers, surrounded the building. A search was made on the roof and in the apartments but no trace of the man could be found.

The police are convinced that the man works as a "lone wolf" and keeps a check on the society columns to find out when meetings or parties are being held because he has turned up at a number of these gatherings and made a good haul in each case.

CHANGES IN BRITISH HIGH COMMAND

Experience during the present war has indicated that it is usually fruitless to decide what course of action the British Government may have behind any important shift in the command of the armed forces, many transfers which appear demotions often proving just the reverse as events develop. But two names do command particular attention in the latest shake-up, those of Lt.-Gen. Henry R. Pownall who gave up the post of Vice-chief of the Imperial General Staff to take over an undisclosed job, and Maj.-Gen. Archibald Edward Nye who has jumped over the heads of many general officers to become Vice-chief.

General Pownall is "required for an important appointment which will be announced before long," it was stated, and speculation on what his appointment will be and whether it involves a field command is not encouraged in London. But his record shows he has had much service in the Northwestern Frontier of India, an area that can yet become a battlefield or supply line in this war.

General Nye, who receives a promotion unusual for an officer of his rank, is only forty-six. He has been Director of Staff Duties at the War Office. His qualifications are not known to the general public but obviously he must have made his mark in the army while advancing so rapidly to the top between the days of the First Great War, and now. Only once in British military history has a man risen from private to Chief of the General Staff—Field Marshal Sir William Robertson accomplished it—and General Nye bids fair to equal that record before his career is finished.

The new Chief of General Staff, Sir Alan Brooke, is one of the talented soldiers that Ulster produces so consistently. Turning his attention to mechanized warfare, he has become a recognized specialist in tanks, gunnery and anti-aircraft defence. As Commander-in-Chief of the Home Forces during the past year and a half he won the respect of the army, including the Canadian Corps which under Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton makes up a part of the command which General Brooke now relinquishes to Lt.-Gen. B. C. T. Paget.

The post of Chief of General Staff has since Dunkerque been in the hands of Gen. Sir John Dill, another fighting Irishman from Ulster who took over from Field Marshal Lord Ironside at the lowest ebb in military strength in modern history. Britain's troops, but not Britain's army, had poured back, weaponless and disorganized from the sands of Dunkerque. An invasion threat appeared imminent and the only well-equipped division in all Britain in that desperate month is reported to have been the 1st Canadian.

Under Dill, Brooke, Pownall and Viscount Gort, then Inspector-General of the Forces and now Governor of Gibraltar, the new army began to emerge. But while building at home, General Dill as Chief of Staff had the rest of the Empire to watch and he, with the cabinet, took the responsibility of moving soldiers from threatened Britain to Egypt to face the then truculent Mussolini. He accompanied Foreign Secretary Eden on a tour of the Middle East. Under his direction were the campaigns in Libya, Syria, Iraq and Iran.

New General Dill becomes Field Marshal and goes to Bombay as Governor. Testing posts, the Indian governorships have frequently been stepping stones to higher responsibilities, the most recent instance having been Sir John Anderson, former Governor of Bengal, who at the start of the war was Home Secretary and now is Lord President of the Council and a member of the War Cabinet.

JAPAN AGAIN WARNED

Once again the British Government has served notice upon Japan that any drive to sever the Burma Road, which serves as a supply line for the Chinese Nationalist Forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek might well provoke open hostilities between the British Empire and Japan. This warning provides another example of the sterner stand which the Western democracies are taking in connection with the Far Eastern situation. Much of the evasive language of diplomacy has been superceded by plain speaking, the national leaders of Great Britain and the United States preferring to name the possible aggressor and give a clear outline of his possible plans, rather than intimate that somebody is perhaps thinking about doing something somewhere.

And the change in the diplomatic tone is accompanied by a strengthening of the military and naval position of the two nations. Britain has been moving troops from all parts of the Empire to the Far Eastern bases, British, Indian and Australian detachments arriving in Singapore and Malaya with startling regularity, while the despatch of a number of Canadian units to Hong Kong gives Canada its true place in the Pacific picture.

Coupled together, all signs point that the democracies have come to the end of their appeasement tether and that in the future the major powers concerned, the British Commonwealth, the United States, the Netherlands East Indies and China will present a united front against Japanese aggression and that if the latter country hopes to start trouble in the region or plans to take a blow at Russia, it will find itself opposed by one of the greatest military machines ever concentrated in the Western Pacific.

THE LAURIER CENTENARY

The village of St. Lin, in the Laurentian mountains a short distance North of Montreal, is the scene today of the Laurier centennial celebrations, marking the hundredth anniversary of the birth of one of the outstanding statesmen of Canada. The ceremonies are being attended by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Premier Adelard Godbout as well as many other leaders in the public life of Canada.

In many ways, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, for fifteen years Prime Minister of Canada, held a unique place in Canadian history. The only member of a minority race to take the highest office in the gift of the Canadian people, he was one of the leading exponents of Canadian unity and did more than any other individual to bring the two major races of the country together. He has admirers and supporters in all parts of the country and among all races and creeds.

He was a strong proponent of closer Empire trade relations, being responsible for the first system of Imperial preference agreements, while at the same time he sought to break down the tariff barriers separating Canada and the United States, his last term of office ending in 1911 with the defeat of his Government on the reciprocity agreement.

Sir Wilfrid was more than a political leader. He was a great national leader and his life should be held as an inspiration to every loyal Canadian.

HAVE A SMILE

A doctor and a dentist shared the services of a typist, and both fell in love with her.

The dentist was called away on business, so he sent for the typist and said, "I'm going to be away for ten days. You'll find a little present in your room."

She went in, and found ten apples.

"Have you heard about Jenny going to a fortune-teller?" asked the girl in the green turban.

"No; what?" replied the one with toeless sandals eagerly.

"Well, she wanted to find out when it would be best for her to get married."

"And what did he say?"

"Well, he took one look at her and told her to take the first chance."

Bump: "Has your wife learned to drive the car yet?"

Bumper: "Yes. In an advisory capacity."

"What did your father say about you smashing up his car?"

"Shall I leave out the swear words."

"Certainly."

"Then he didn't say anything."

A girl in the bus took her powder puff from her handbag and began powdering her face. Then she took out her lipstick and made up the curves of her lips. Still not content with her appearance, she devoted a little attention to her eyebrows.

This beauty treatment was evidently too much for the bus conductor, who had been watching her every movement, and he suddenly called out:

"Any gent 'ere like to borrow my shaving tackle?"

NAMES OF CITIES

Your city may have been named after a famous man, an Indian tribe, a part of the surrounding geography, or perhaps its name was the ingenious invention of its founders. All of the following were named after men. Who were they?

1—Jefferson City, Mo., and Cleveland, Ohio.
2—Custer, S.D., and Astoria, Ore.
3—Houston and Austin, Tex.
4—Shreveport, La., and Dodge City, Kan.
5—Baltimore, Md., and Pittsfield, Mass.

PRESS COMMENTS

CONDITIONS CHANGE
St. Catharines Standard

With the best intentions in the world and fostered no less than by President Roosevelt, the United States passed its Neutrality Act. The teeth of that Act have now been drawn; its vicious appeasement clauses eliminated. President Roosevelt has given full and frank admission of his error in judgment and discretion in first promoting that Act. He has admitted his mistake and has also rectified it.

In Canada there is a Prime Minister not moved at all by the forward march of events, nor by the exigencies of this cruel war. He stands where he has always stood, against equal service by all and against any form of compulsion. He stands by and for the Liberal party, which has indoctrinated into it the principle that it must hold Quebec. And yet there is reason to believe a great percentage of Quebec people, perhaps even the majority, are being misrepresented by this intransigient attitude of the Prime Minister. It has always been assumed since 1917 that Quebec would never take conscription. That has been meat for the Liberal politicians. They are still feeding on it. But is it really so in this new war, this war against all the savagery and unholy manifestations of Nazism? There is not a Roman Catholic priest in Quebec, and it is the priest who guides the people and forms their thoughts, who does not realize what Hitlerism will mean to this world.

Visitors in Quebec Province, also many writers of note, have in recent months formed the conclusion that selective service would meet general approval there. It has been a first enquiry by many, just to find out how the Quebecois stood on the question of national service. They have been surprised at the answers received. It will be of great interest to have an intelligent survey made, and it will be a greater thing if this Quebec anti-conscription bogey can be laid at rest for all time.

BACON FOR BRITAIN
Ann Rutherford, in the Stratford Beacon-Herald

Bacon and ham are being sent over to Britain in increasing quantities, as Canadian producers get into their stride. Such emphasis has been placed on the need for such food that the other parts of pork have been decidedly neglected. People got the idea they should stop eating pork in order to send more across the seas. That idea would not work, for there are many cuts which are not suitable for shipping but which afford perfect means right here.

There are spare ribs, for example. They could not be shipped out. They belong right here, with or without a filling of sauerkraut to bring out that delicious flavor.

There's pork tenderloin, a meat fit for a King. Neat squares of it, suitably dressed, are equally at home on the banquet table or at dinner in the kitchen. It doesn't g to Britain.

And what about pig's feet? And hocks? Pickled trotters may not look enticing, but they have within them that certain something which defies description. They are, in the best sense of the word, toothsome, whether the tooth be natural or store variety.

Sausages need no brief from any one. Served au naturel with apple rings, with tomato slices, with ketchup or relish or plain mustard, they take second place to no meat at breakfast, dinner or supper. Little sausages or big ones, flanked by scalloped potatoes or baking powder biscuits—ah me! The flavor lingers!

Last but not least, there's headcheese. It's messy stuff in the making, but the end justifies the means. The ugly head, resolved into its meaty parts and moulded into a quivering jelly was a standby in pioneer times. It helped to nourish brawny men and noble women. It does the same nowadays, when it gets the chance. There are those who claim it is quite the choicest of all pork tidbits. We'd hardly go as far as that. Suffice it to remark that nectar and ambrosia wouldn't stand a chance on a cold winter's evening in the lamplight when the headcheese is set out on the table in all its glory.

HITLER'S RUSSIAN PROBLEM
Montreal Gazette

Here and there on the long Eastern front Nazi troops are making some headway, and Moscow admits it. But Moscow has not been conquered and although the German high command proclaims that only bad weather has saved it the spirited defence maintained by the Soviet armies and the terrible losses which the Germans have sustained tell a different story. At intervals during the last two weeks it has been stated that the Germans have been throwing all their forces into this drive or that, but new Soviet armies have also gone into action, and still the fight rages, and still Russia is undefeated. What is more, there is no prospect of Soviet submission. There are occasional withdrawals when Russian troops are outnumbered, but always there are counter-attacks and often these are successful. Moscow may fall, but the Russians will go on fighting, and so long as they do fight, Hitler will be losing equipment and men on a tremendous scale, will be exhausting his reserves of oil and will be obliged to extend lines of communication which are already difficult to maintain.

AFTER HITLER, HERE ARE SOME VILLAINS
Woodstock Sentinel-Review

The post-war world is going to be a better place in which to live: no doubt of that. Plans and specifications for the improved model are all laid out by governments of the democracies for use as soon as Hitler can be disposed of. But while he is the principal villain, there are certain types in our midst upon whom it might be well to keep an eye.

Take the individual who keeps the radio turned on in such volume that unwilling neighbors are forced to listen to such programmes as he sees fit to confer upon them. Something ought to be done about him.

We could dispense with the talent of the artist who cannot refrain from carving his initials in freshly laid cement.

Innumerable merchants would countenance the internment of fruit-pinchers; those persons who test ripe peaches, etc., with thumb and finger and leave bruise-spots to discourage prospective purchasers.

The automobile age has brought us the individual who alights from a car on the side next to traffic, and the smart driver who passes on the wrong side of vehicles at traffic intersections while the lights are changing. Any motorist, of course could write a book on the foibles of pedestrians, and it would certainly include a chapter about those who ignore protected intersections and cross a few yards down the block in the midst of moving traffic.

Suitable punishment is needed for a number of persons who lately have been guilty of shortchanging or otherwise stealing from blind newsdealers.

Oh yes, there are a lot of reforms needed, and they are not all in Axis countries. We have a lot of queer customers, and none more so than the individual who walks up to a bank teller's wicket or a theatre box office without a glance at those awaiting their turn in a long queue, and apparently expects immediate service. These, it is fair to say, are rarely of the male sex.

COMPULSION ALONE WILL GET RESULTS
Simcoe Reformer

It is clear that there will be compulsory selective service neither for war industry nor for the army, so long as the King Government remains in power. The influence of men like Hon. Ernest Lapointe and Hon. Thomas Crerar still dictates the Government's policy. They are trying to wage a total war against the most powerfully armed nation in the world on a voluntary basis. They believe that an adequate army can be raised by this system, that full co-operation of labor can be obtained and that the civilian population will voluntarily adopt a plan of self-sacrifice and self-abnegation in the common cause.

It cannot be done.

The gradual decline of War Savings purchases, the failure to reduce gasoline consumption by the required percentage and the mad orgy of consumer spending all go to show that compulsion alone will achieve results.

Precious months are melting into years as we fiddle about with one or another form of voluntary effort. The spasmodic and haphazard nature of recruiting for the armed forces is but one phase of the broader voluntary programme which has proved sadly ineffective to marshal Canada's full resources to meet the impending crisis.

It is time that an end was put to the anomaly which permits one cabinet minister to appear on the public platform and tell the public that a large Canadian army is not necessary to defeat the foe, while another cabinet minister is pleading for "men and more men." It is the kind of thing that breeds lack of confidence and unrest such as have undermined many a European nation in the present struggle.

STRUGGLING WITH FATE
Sydney Post-Record

Addressing the People's Forum at Montreal recently, Dr. Otto Strasser said: "Hitler has already lost this war, as Kaiser Wilhelm lost the Great War after the Battle of the Marne. All the later years were a desperate attempt to correct the decisions of fate. All Hitler undertakes now merely increases his crimes, but cannot stave off the end."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE
By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

KNOWING WHEN TO BREAK RULES PAYS IN BRIDGE

Two hobbies for which, in my opinion, most rules have been established are bridge and photography. Just recently I became a photography "bug" and have spent the last year learning a lot of rules. Now I have to learn when to break those rules. The same holds true in bridge.

You learn in bridge, for instance, never to finesse your partner's lead. So in today's hand, when West opens the spade, East promptly goes up with the ace, leads the queen, which is allowed to hold, and then plays the five of spades. Declarer wins the third spade trick and immediately tackles the diamonds. On the diamonds East is forced to discard a couple of hearts to protect his club suit, and declarer is able to develop a second club trick for game.

Now suppose that East breaks the rule never to finesse his partner's lead. Instead of winning the first spade trick with the ace, he plays the queen. You can see the declarer's predicament. He does not know where the ace of spades is, and he is afraid to play low, fearing that East will lead through his king of spades and he won't get a spade trick at all.

If he wins the first spade with his king and starts the diamonds,

	♠ 10 6 4 ♥ K 7 ♦ K Q J 9 5 ♣ Q 3 2
♠ J 9 7 2 ♥ Q 10 4 3 ♦ 8 3 2 ♣ 8 7	N W E S Dealer	♠ A Q 5 ♥ 8 6 2 ♦ A 10 4 ♣ K J 6 5

East wins with the ace, cashes the ace of spades and leads the five. West cashes his good spades and can sit back and wait for either a heart or a club trick.

AYER'S CLIFF COUPLE FETED ON DEPARTURE

Ayer's Cliff, Nov. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Martin, who were recently married, were feted prior to their leaving for Quebec City where they will reside, when Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chadsey, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wood, entertained in their hoonr at the Chadsey home.

Twenty-eight friends of the young couple assembled to extend their felicitations and also to wish them every happiness in their new home. Mr. Martin has been employed in the office of the Price Brothers in Quebec for the past year and all wish him continued success in his work.

The evening's entertainment afforded much amusement for all as "Bingo" was played and as the guests of honor were winners of the round, they were presented with a special gift and when all assembled they had a beautiful three-piece "Silver Tea Service."

The evening of gaiety concluded when the hosts and hostesses served refreshments. Mr. John Chadsey and Miss Margaret Gilpin, of Quebec, were the only out-of-town guests.

Cutting Calories Cuts Your Weight

Low-Calory Foods Needed

Heart-breaking when all your efforts to get slim fail!

But they needn't fail—they can't fail—if your slimming is done scientifically.

Cutting your lunches to "bites" isn't scientific, but cutting your calories is!

A "bite" consisting of a bowl of potato soup (300 calories), a date and cream cheese sandwich (290) and coffee with sugar and cream (110) is as fattening as a full-course meal.

Yet on more courses you could be reducing—losing two pounds a week—if you knew your calories! A bowl of beef broth (55), a tomato sandwich (125), a piece of gingerbread (100) and tea with lemon (no calories) makes a really slimming lunch.

Of course you want to be sure of your foods. Sipping a daily chocolate malted (750), for instance, would put a pound BACK each week. But your calary chart tells food enemies and friends; following it, you'll soon be slim!

Our 32-page booklet tells how to reduce quickly and safely, has calory chart, 42 tasty low-calory menus. Also gives three-day liquid diet to start reducing.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "The New Way to a Youthful Figure" to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

COMEDY STAGED

A capacity crowd greeted the players of Beebe, when under the auspices of the Junior Women's Association in the United Church Hall, they presented their three-act comedy "Aunt Cindy Cleans Up."

At the conclusion of the play the cast were entertained at a social hour and refreshments were served by members of the Association.

General Notes.

Mrs. W. E. Ansell spent a day in Sherbrooke.

Miss Gertrude Sharon is visiting friends in town prior to her return to Richmond.

Mrs. David Young was a visitor in Sherbrooke recently.

A special committee appointed by the local Red Cross' Society under the convenership of Mrs. M. H. Sanderson have recently packed and wrapped twenty Christmas boxes for local men and friends of this community who are in the Overseas Service. These boxes contained a real Christmas treat, the piece de resistance being a red apple waxed and donated by Rev. Mr. Sanderson. A sincere and hearty vote of thanks is due to Miss M. L. Kezar, who made a thorough canvas of the town for funds to make these gifts possible and was successful in collecting seventy dollars. Boxes are also being packed for the men in service over here but have not as yet been completed.

Miss Caroline Moir, of Lennoxville, spent a week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Moir.

Mr. John Chadsey and Miss Margaret Gilpin, of Quebec, were week-end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chadsey.

Mr. and Mrs. George McLeod, of Sherbrooke, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Moir.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Emberley left last week for Ontario, where they will spend the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chadsey, of Bedford, and Mr. William Killick, of Lacolle, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chadsey.

Mrs. Roy Harrison, of Rock Island, was a guest of Miss Millicent Martin at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dustin, School Street.

Miss Irene Orcutt spent a week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Orcutt in Hatley.

Mrs. Gay Libby has returned to her home in Coaticook after spending the past month with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Lyon.

By a special committee of St. George's Guild who went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cass, Mrs. Donald Martin was presented with a lovely silver casserole, from the members, in honor of her recent marriage and also as a going away gift.

Germany has trained parachute troops since 1935.

Mrs. J. Hazle, President of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity United Church, and Mrs. Fred Williams, received the many guests as they entered the Church Hall yesterday afternoon, to attend the highly successful tea and sale given under the auspices of the above-mentioned Society. Miss M. Heath, Treasurer, acted as cashier and the delightful tea party was convened by Mrs. F. Cathcart and Mrs. R. Dietz. Tea was poured by Mrs. Fred Williams, the lovely table with silver services at either end very charmingly continuing the Yuletide motif with lighted red candles in silver candlesticks and small Christmas trees glistening with tinsel. The same decorative scheme was used on the many small tables placed about the hall, and also on the larger tables where aprons were sold by Mrs. F. A. Cutter and Mrs. H. A. Moore, and delectable home-cooked food by Mrs. E. Hodge and Mrs. O. Nelson. Assisting were Mrs. L. Rainey, who made the tea, Mrs. Ray Badger, Mrs. O. Bailey, Mrs. G. Aubrey, Mrs. W. Atkins and Mrs. O. Williams.

BAKED GRAPEFRUIT ADDS NEW FLAVOR TO MENUS

Emulating the noble spud, grapefruit now goes right into the oven and comes out baked for a first or last course.

BAKED WHOLE GRAPEFRUIT

Wash grapefruit and wipe dry. Place on ungreased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for one hour. Remove from oven, cut in half and serve hot with any of these following variations.

FIRST COURSE APPETIZER TOPPING: a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, mixed ground spices and sugar, about ¼ teaspoon of crushed or powdered bay leaf.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Pineapple and lime juice, crisp bacon, oatmeal muffins, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, whole cornbread, molasses, applesauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Salmon and tuna casserole, baked potatoes, carrots with parsley, lettuce and green pepper salad, broiled grapefruit, coffee, milk.

DESSERT COURSE TOPPING: teaspoon of marmalade, sprinkle with maple sugar, top with crushed lemon drops or chocolate mints, teaspoon of honey, tablespoon of butterscotch syrup or sauce.

Broiled grapefruit halves are becoming more and more popular. They offer a different way of getting the daily quota of citrus fruit into your family menus.

Select juicy grapefruit. Wash and dry. Cut in half crosswise. Remove seeds and pulp. Better loosen sections, too, with a sharp knife. Place halves on baking sheet and sprinkle about 2 tablespoons brown sugar on each and dot with a little butter. Broil under low flame for about 15 minutes.

Oranges can be cooked too. Use thin skinned seedless oranges. Cover with cold water, and boil until skin is tender. When pricked, drain, Cut in half crosswise. Fill center with sugar, add 1 teaspoon brandy or non-alcoholic brandy flavoring and dot with butter. Place in casserole and bake in moderate oven (380 degrees F.) until sugar browns. Serve as a garnish for turkey or roast.

MUNICIPAL I.O.D.E.

Reports of special interest were heard at the monthly meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., held at the MacKinnon Memorial on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. E. Loomis, Regent, presided and the Treasurer, Mrs. Mathew Graham, submitted the financial statement for the month, money, its receipt and expenditure, being ever of vital importance, perhaps more especially so at the present time, with the Christmas season and its many appeals so nigh at hand.

Second only is the War Service report by Mrs. A. W. Reid, Convener, who stated that a very large shipment had been forwarded to Montreal last month.

This included field comforts, clothing, new and used, for victims in bombed areas in England, personal property bags, 35 new blankets and quilts and throws for the W.A.T.S.

Mrs. P. H. Skelton reported taking 127 articles to the Lawrence Colony to be distributed by the school teacher, Mrs. Morrow.

It was also decided to ask each Chapter to contribute towards a fund to supply cocoa for the children at Lawrence.

Further discussion ensued concerning Christmas baskets for needy families, and a special meeting was called for December 16th to make arrangements for their distribution.

The appeal for "books for soldiers" was repeated, and several other matters of routine business were disposed of prior to adjournment.

Miss Gertrude Labbe was a guest of Miss Margaret LeRoux.

Mr. Melvin Stevens spent a week-end at his home here to attend the Horan-Barlow reception.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Olney and daughter, Anne, of Magog, and Miss Cecile Joyal, of Waterville, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Olney.

PARTICIPATION OF Y.W.C.A. IN WAR DESCRIBED

Mrs. Arthur Grenfell, Who Will Be in Sherbrooke Saturday, Says Y.W.C.A. Has Provided "True Comradeship and Gaiety."

The participation of the Y.W.C.A. in the war was termed as providing "true comradeship and gaiety" by Mrs. Arthur Grenfell, President of the British Y.W.C.A. and cousin of Lady Tweedsmuir, during a national broadcast. Mrs. Grenfell will speak at the MacKinnon Memorial here Saturday evening.

Speaking on behalf of the Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund for British Service Women, Mrs. Grenfell thanked listeners for their present support of "Y" work and urged "continued interest as it undertakes one burden after another as war spreads."

The speaker said she had come to Canada with messages of sympathy and interest from Her Majesty the Queen, the Prime Minister and Mrs. Churchill, who is President of the Y.W.C.A.'s British wartime appeal.

Mrs. Grenfell told of the "Y" centres for nurses in the Middle East, who are employed in hospitals of the Eastern Expeditionary Force, being supported by the gift of an Indian Maharajah to Queen Elizabeth.

She compared the situation in 1914, when voluntary organizations in Britain had to remind the governments of the services they had to offer and today, when the Y.W.C.A. with other groups, was represented on all central government welfare committees and had been given a large sphere of action.

One must think of England as an island packed with people continually having to shift the scene of their work in the quickest possible time and of all the problems involved, where shall they sleep and eat? While the physical needs of hard-driven workers must be met, so must the spiritual demands be met and high morale maintained."

The Y.W.C.A. President described the residential and recreational centres maintained for women of the services and in all branches of war work. As an instance she told of Coventry, where large numbers of young girls, some from Northern Ireland, had come to work on munitions from comparatively safe places and of their immediate need for comfort and "Y" housing until billets could be found.

She mentioned the loss from bombing of the Y.W.C.A. centre in Bristol and the rebuilding of the Club and Hostel. "Within four days of the raid, meals were served in the cafeteria."

When Mrs. Grenfell completes her Canadian speaking tour in behalf of the fund, for which contributions are being received at national headquarters on Jarvis Street, Toronto, she will be returning to continue her work in London.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1—If in travelling you have a reservation for an upper bert should you have the seat facing forward?

2—Is a tip of five cents sufficient to give a boy who shines your shoes in a barber shop?

3—If you are using a traveller's check to pay for hotel accommodations, when do you sign it?

4—Is ten cents enough for a man to tip for checking his hat and coat?

5—If a man is accompanying a woman in a street car does he enter first?

What would you do if—

You are travelling by coach on a train and would like to sit in the club car—

(a) Sit in the car without asking?

(b) Ask a trainman if the car's accommodations are for second-class passengers?

(c) Stay where you are?

ANSWERS

1—No. The person in the lower berth has the seat facing forward.

2—Yes.

3—As you pay. Never ahead of time.

4—Yes.

5—Yes.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b) or (c).

"Sir, I believe that you're trying to kiss me."

"Well, now that you know, let's stop assaulting each other and cooperate a bit."

TWIN OUTFITS FOR BOY AND GIRL

MARIAN MARTIN

Pattern 9897

When they're twins — little brother and sister look so adorable dressed alike! Marian Martin designs her new pattern, 9897, to make each a Tyrolean outfit. The little girl's skirt has two panels in the front and a snug waistband to which are buttoned the crossed suspender straps. The little boy's trousers button at either side, and his suspender straps also cross in back and button on to the waistband. For the Tyrolean touch, add the peasant embroidery outlined by the transfer motif, and perhaps bright red ricrac too! They both wear the same blouse buttoned in reverse—it may have long or short sleeves.

Pattern 9897 may be ordered only in children's sizes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. Size 5, skirt, requires 1 yard 54 inch fabric and blouse, 1 yard 35 inch fabric; trousers, ¾ yard 54 inch fabric and blouse, 1¼ yards 35 inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name address and style number.

Send your order to Sherbrooke Daily Record, Pattern Department, Sherbrooke, Quebec.

A rival of Bob Burns says: "My brother and I were twins. We looked so much alike that no one could tell us apart. One day in school my brother threw spitballs in school and I was punished. My brother was arrested for speeding and spent three days in jail and paid a fine for it. I had a girl and my brother ran off with her. But last week I got even with him—I died, and they buried him."

SCOTT'S EMULSION

ENTERTAINMENT BY RICHMOND YOUNG PEOPLE

Lecture on Newfoundland Given by Rev. S. G. Woolfrey at Session of Richmond and Melbourne United Church Group.

Richmond, Nov. 20.—A splendid entertainment was held under the auspices of the Young People's Union of the Richmond and Melbourne United Church at the College Street Church Hall.

The programme opened with the singing of Newfoundland's National Anthem by the Y.P.U. Rev. S. G. Woolfrey then gave a lecture on "Newfoundland," his homeland and where he and Mrs. Woolfrey visited during the summer. This talk was accompanied by slides. Rev. Woolfrey divided his lectures under four headings: habits of the Newfoundlanders, cod fishing, whaling, and scenery of the country.

During the intermission candy was sold, followed by two solos by Mrs. H. N. Becker which were very much enjoyed by all.

A humorous one-act play, "Larks For An Hour," was then presented. The cast consisted of Errol Taylor, Steve Perkins, Lucy Healy, Jean Fee, Ada Ross, Lucien Perron, Jean Allan, and Audrey Fee. All played their parts very well and thanks were extended to Mrs. Woolfrey for making the play a success.

The programme closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

REMEMBRANCE DAY OBSERVED AT SCOTSTOWN

"Meeting for Victory" Sponsored by Women's Institute Largely Attended in Town Hall—Special Programme Presented.

Scotstown, Nov. 20. — In commemoration of Remembrance Day, a "get-together meeting for Victory," sponsored by the Women's Institute, was held in the Town Hall with a large representation of the citizens for which a specially prepared programme was arranged by Mrs. John M. MacAulay, Convener of National and International Events.

After the singing of "O Canada," the theme for the evening, "All out for Victory," was introduced by the chairman, Rev. C. J. Gustafson, who based his remarks on Psalm 46, pointing out what victory really means. To the accompaniment of music softly rendered by Mrs. Pennoyer, the names of those who gave their lives in the war of '14, were read by Col. G. C. Beard, followed by the Last Post and Reveille, sounded by Mr. F. J. Buck. Prayer was offered by Rev. Oscar Berry and a two-minute silence was observed.

A male quartette, Rev. O. Berry, Messrs. A .A .MacKenzie, F. J. Buck and E. A. Wilson, rendered "Oh Valiant Hearts," as a tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice. The poem, "In Flanders Field" was recited by Miss Cuyla MacAulay, and an inspiring address on "The Present Struggle for Freedom" was given by Rev. J. W. Smith. A Negro spiritual, entitled, "O Lord, I Want to be a Christian in My Heart," was sung by Mr. A. A. MacKenzie, the chorus being sung by Rev. O. Berry and Mr. E. A. Wilson.

Timely remarks on, "Preparation for Lasting Peace," were made by Rev. O. Berry and a solo, "Lest We Forget," (Kipling), was sung by Mr. A. A. MacKenzie, following a brief talk on "Scotstown's War Effort" by Rev. C. J. Gustafson, various reports in this connection were submitted. Mrs. H. A. Scarth, Institute President, stated that the aims of the W.I. were the promotion of education, patriotism, agriculture and also to raise the standard of homemaking, spoke of the work being done for the refugees, and appealed for more workers, who are urgently needed in this department of the work. Thanks were extended for the splendid co-operation and assistance already given.

Col. G. C. Beard, reporting for salvage, spoke of the necessity of saving all metals, bones, newspapers and rubber and announced that a drive to collect salvage would be made shortly, the proceeds to be devoted to the Red Cross. Lt.-Col. E. S. McMannis was appointed chairman of the Salvage Committee and Mr. Norman Morrison, Secretary.

In connection with the Junior Red Cross, Miss Lois MacKenzie requested that tooth paste and shaving cream tubes be saved, as well as cold cream jars, and tinfoil, stating that collectors would call for the same. Mrs. Pennoyer reported for the Red Cross, that kits were being made for boys and girls, as well as hospital supplies, and reported the enlistment of seventy-four local men, Army, sixty-five, Air Force eight, Navy one, and stated that forty-nine Christmas boxes had been packed and forwarded to those Overseas, the ones in Canada to be sent later. The local movies, for the benefit of Red Cross work, brought in the splendid sum of $52. Mrs. E. S. McMannis gave a report on the bales sent to headquarters, as well as two cartons of clothing forwarded to the Salvation Army.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the programme to a close. Mrs. Scarth acted as accompanist for the evening. The hall was appropriately decorated with flags, portraits of the Royal Family, and Winston Churchill and large posters of war slogans. The stage, draped in dark blue, formed a background for a large red "V".

Before dispersing, the audience was given an opportunity of viewing the display of quilts, clothing, and knitted garments made for the refugees from cast-off materials, discarded clothing, and knitted articles. The contents of a soldier's box was shown, and how it should be wrapped for mailing articles for salvage were also displayed, the exhibit being designed that those contributing may do so more helpfully and intelligently. Those in charge of the display were Mrs. J. B. Scott, Mrs. J. D. Cox, Mrs. B. G. Mayhew, Mrs. N. L. Nicholson, Mrs. E. S. McMannis, Mrs. J. A. Pennoyer, Mrs. Philip Boy, Mrs. Colin Henderson and Mrs. E. A. Wilson.

Prior to the open meeting a short business session was conducted by the President, Mrs. H. A. Scarth. Following a prayer for soldiers, sailors and airmen, Mrs. W. A. Ladd reported a generous collection of jams, jellies and pickles for the Sherbrooke Hospital and Wales Home. It was announced that handkerchiefs had been purchased for the soldier's boxes, and a report was given that five quilts for refugees had been completed.

It was decided that the next meeting take the form of a White Christmas party, each member bringing a wrapped gift which would later be given to the sick. Mrs. Ladd and Mrs. J. D. Cox were appointed a committee for Christmas cheer, and a sum of money was voted for that purpose. In accordance with a request form the Town Council that two Institute members be appointed to meet with the Council committee to discuss the by-law concerning the milk question, Mrs. P. A. Sherman and Mrs. G. C. Beard were appointed to act in this connection.

W.M.S. MEETING

The monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society was entertained by Mrs. George Kinsey and was in charge of the President ,Mrs. C. M. Smith, who opened the meeting with the poem, "How Young He Was." The hymn, "Who Is He," was followed by the Litany of Praise, a portion of the Te Deum and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The treasurer's report was submitted and showed receipts for October as $54.35, which included the Thankoffering of $45.80. "Liquor as Related to Discipline in the Army," was read by Mrs. R. A. Scott. Sixteen subscribers to the Missionary Monthly were reports by Mrs. F. B. Mayhew. The secretary was instructed to send a card from the Society to Mrs. Angus MacLennan, who is a patient in the Montreal General Hospital.

A splendid report of the Mission Band activiites was presented by Mrs. A. A. MacKenzie. Mrs. Gustafson reported having entertained the parents of the Baby Band members. The members were reminded to present their dime cards at the next meeting. Mrs. A. A. MacKenzie, Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, and Mrs. William Murray were named as a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the ensuing year. The devotional period was directed by Mrs. D. J. Graham. The theme, "We live by faith in God", based on Psalm 113, was followed by dedicatory reading and prayer. A portion of the Study book, reviewed by Mrs. J. D. Cox, dealt with three evacuations of Missionaries from West China. Later the hostess served tea, assisted by Mrs. Mayhew.

EDUCATION WEEK OBSERVED

As a feature of the Canadian-wide Education Week, the teaching staff of the High School held open house for the parents and friends. A large number of those interested embraced the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the methods of acquiring knowledge in the school life of the child. The guests were welcomed by the Principal, Miss Norva Clark, and her assistants, and a pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent in the class rooms, which were decorated in patriotic colors, as well as attractive samples of hand work done by the pupils.

Of special interest in the primary room was the Rhythm Band, who gave a very creditable performance under the direction of their teacher, Miss C. Perkins. A song by little Shirley Morrison was also much appreciated. Educational pictures were enjoyed, the beautiful scenery of Nova Scotia being depicted, also British Guiana, with its bauxite which has been developed to produce aluminum, four tons being required to make one ton of aluminum.

Tea was served the guests by Cuyla MacAulay, Alice Simpson, Kathleen Morrison, Marion Hunter, Marjorie MacDonald, Jean Nicholson and Isabel MacLennan. Hazel Murray presided at the tea table which was attractive with silver service and lighted candles in crystal holders, the room being decorated in the school colors of purple and white.

TO REMEMBER SOLDIERS

The November meeting of St. Andrew's Association was held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Scott, with the President, Mrs. Payson Sherman, in the chair. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. R. A. Scott, after which a report of food sale was given by Mrs. Cox, Mrs. A. G. Sherman and Mrs. A. A. MacAulay were appointed Conveners for next food sale. The Treasurer, Mrs. Macdonald, reported cash on hand as $85.40.

The president announced that a list of all those known to be in the Army would be displayed, and requested co-operation in notifying the Red Cross Secretary if any omissions were noted, as it was desired that all would be remembered at the Christmas season. Appreciation was expressed to Mr. P. A. Sherman for his kindness in having the piano in the church hall tuned.

Final arrangements were made for a rummage sale to be held in the church hall under the Convenership of Mrs. F. B. Mayhew. The matter of holding a Christmas sale was discussed, and the following committee to arrange a programme was appointed, Mrs. J. B. Scott, Mrs. W. A. Ladd, and Mrs. J. D. Cox.

The secretary was instructed to send a letter of thanks to Mr. W. E. Jackson, of Magog, for a generous donation. A cash donation from Mrs. A. Henderson, of Toronto, a former member, was gratefully acknowledged. Mrs. J. B. Scott and Mrs. F. B. Mayhew were named as a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the ensuing year.

It was agreed that a working meeting would be held in the church hall, and a committee for Christmas decorations were appointed as follows, Mrs. R. A. Scott, Mrs. C. M. Smith and Mrs. C. J. Gustafson. After a period of work tea was served by the hostess.

DANCE STAGED BY TEACHERS AT INVERNESS

Large Crowd Enjoys Social Evening Held at Court House — Moving Pictures Shown.

Inverness, Nov. 20. — The Court House was filled with guests at the dance held recently by the Teachers' Association, their first public function given in Inverness.

The music was furnished by Miss O. Little and Mrs. George, pianists, and Messrs. C. Little, G. Davidson and F. George, violinists. Moving pictures were shown by Mr. L. Cormier, of Quebec.

With good music, good pictures and a delicious supper a most enjoyable evening was spent.

LADIES' AID MEETS

An interesting meeting of the Ladies' Aid, St. Andrew's Church was held at the home of Mayor McCullough, with the Vice-President, Mrs. McCullough, as hostess.

Mrs. A. D. McCammon was chairman for the election of the year's officers. They are: President, Mrs. Reynolds; Vice-President, Mrs. McCullough; Secretary, Mrs. McCammon; and Treasurer, Mrs. Mimnaugh.

The President conducted the worship service. The members spent a busy afternoon finishing a quilt which is to be quilted at the next meeting at the home of Mrs. McCammon. Seven boxes were packed by Mrs. McCullough, and Mrs. McCammon and send by the Ladies' Aid to Home and Overseas boys. One blanket was donated to the Red Cross. At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served. The table was beautifully arranged with an all-over embroidery tablecloth, Chinaware, silver and cut glass. Mrs. McCullough poured tea. The guests of honor were Reverend W. Reynold and Master Jack and Eric Reynold.

RED CROSS GROUP MEETS

Mrs. W. Beattie presided at the regular meeting of the Inverness Group of Red Cross in the Odd Fellows' Hall Thursday. Mrs. Adey and Mrs. I. Hogge served afternoon tea. The attendance was good and one quilt was quilted. The guest of honor was Mrs. R. White.

General Notes.

Mr. Walkins and family have come to Inverness for the winter.

Rev. W. Reynolds spent a week-end in London, Ont. There was no service at St. Andrew's or Adderley.

Sgt. D. M. Smith, of Quebec, spent a day here with his family.

The Anglican Guild members spent a busy day quilting at the home of Mrs. James Blundon. A basket lunch was served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Barlow were week-end guests of Mrs. Barlow's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Perkins.

Fifty-Seven Take Part In Experiment

Kansas City, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Fifty-seven human guinea pigs with a taste for liquor submitted themselves to science to give police authentic information on alcohol's effect on motorists.

The volunteers, all men, will drink highballs or beer (the police supply the intoxicants) at half-hour intervals while undergoing rigid examinations of their driving ability. Just to make sure each subject drains his glass, a policeman will be his constant companion.

Each volunteer will drink and drive until disqualified—or he gets too pickled to take the wheel.

The police, learning many of their subjects planned to fortify themselves with huge steak dinners as cushions against the effects of alcohol, ordered the volunteers to report five and one-half hours before the tests begin.

The tests, explained Henry W. Johnson, head of the police traffic and safety division, were designed as a fair and impartial examination of alcohol's effect on drivers — not the effects of alcoholic antidotes and remedies.

Each driver will undergo a thorough physical examination. He will be handed two ounces of whisey and given ten minutes to drink it.

Then he must drive a car forward and backward a distance of 200 feet, keeping the wheels within a 12-inch strip. He must drive a figure eight course marked by 16 posts set nine feet apart. This manoeuvre must be completed satisfactorily within three minutes.

At half-hour intervals each driver will down two more ounces of whisky and repeat the driving performances.

Frequent examinations will be made with a drunkometre and upon the subject's eyes, blood, reflex action, blood pressure and facilities of observation and co-ordination.

Part of the tests will be for beer drinkers only.

The tests will be closed to the public.

After it's all over an officer will escort each driver to his home and explain, if necessary, to his wife that her tippling husband got that way all in the interests of science and safe driving.

MARSBORO

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Russel and family, of Beverly, Mass., motored here and spent a week-end with Mrs. C. MacDearmid and Mr. Johnnie MacDearmid. They were accompanied back by Mrs. C. MacDearmid, who will spend two weeks visiting her children there.

Mrs. J. J. MacIver spent a few days visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dave MacDonald, and family, at Megantic.

Mrs. L. C. Allan, of Lennoxville, was an overnight guest of her mother, Mrs. D. A. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stewart, of Megantic, and Mr. Earl Stewart, of Lennoxville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Gunn.

Mr. Alex Murray, of Scotstown, was visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stewart, Mr. Richard Shaw and father, Mr. Shaw, and a friend from Coaticook, spent a week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stewart and at "Bachelors' Rest Camp" hunting.

CLARENCEVILLE

The Clarenceville friends of Prof. Carrie M. Derick were saddened to learn of her death in the Ross Memorial Pavilion of the Royal Victoria Hospital of Montreal, on Monday, November 10th. Prof. Derick was a native of Clarenceville and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Derick, former residents of this place. The sympathy of her many friends in her home town goes out to her bereaved sister, Miss Louise Derick and to her nephew, Mr. Chester Adams, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, of Clarenceville East, were recently called to the bedside of their daughter, Mrs. Robert Channell, of North Hampton, Mass. While there, Mrs. Channell passed away on Monday, November 10th, leaving her aged parents to mourn the loss of their last remaining child.

The annual meeting of the Clarenceville Branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held in the lecture room of Wesley United Church. The chair was taken by Rev. Isaac Nelson. After the opening exercises an interesting and instructive address on China was given by Mr. Franck, agent of the Society. More than twenty dollars were collected by Miss Myrtle Greene and Miss Rubena Tipping, of the village, and by Mrs. Grace McArthur, of Clarenceville East. Rev. W. E. Lewis was re-elected President and Mrs. Albert Rowe, Secretary-Treasurer of the Clarenceville Branch for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Nettie Kennedy, of New York City has recently sold her farm to Mr. Merle Campbell, of the Parish of Noyan.

Mrs. Flora Miller has removed from her home on North Street to spend the winter months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chilton.

Mr. Maxwell Derby, of Montreal, spent a week-end with his family and with his father, Mr. O. M. Derby.

Mr. Johnnie Brown has recently purchased from Mr. Ernest Hauver the residence and farm formerly owned by the late Mr. Lewis Hauver. Mr. Brown is taking immediate possession of the farm and later, possession of the house.

Miss Kathleen Derby and Mr. Frank Bailey were week-end guests at the home of Mr. O. M. Derby.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis, Miss June Miller and Mr. Johnnie Brown motored to and from St. Johns on Friday afternoon, November 14th.

A new water system has been installed at the United Church parsonage costing in the neighborhood of one hundred dollars.

DAVIDSON HILL AND BETHEL

Bishop Arthur Carlisle, of Montreal, made his first visit to All Saints' Church at a confirmation service on Thursday, November 13, the candidates being Mrs. Roy Davidson, Miss Winnifred Lancaster, Mr. Wilmur Davidson and Messrs. Horace and Wilfred Lancaster. Rev. D. G. Macdonald, of Boscobel, and Rev. Canon Morris, of Montreal, were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lancaster and family, who spent some time here as guests of relatives and friends, have moved into their new home in Richmond.

Mr. Fred Mongeau, of Richmond, is a guest of his son, Master Archie, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mallette.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ingram and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. Biggs and Mrs. R. Davidson were guests of relatives in Richmond.

Mr. Harvey Lancaster, of Richmond, was a week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lancaster. He was accompanied back to Richmond by Messrs. Thomas Lancaster and Garnet Henderson and the Misses Pearl Henderson and Jean Young.

The many friends and relatives of Mr. Leonard Davidson, of Kirkdale, are sorry to hear that he cut his foot while working in the woods.

Bishop Arthur Carlisle and Rev. Canon Morris, of Montreal, and Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, of Boscobel, were tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davidson.

A lake near Naples, the Averno, was so foul that the ancients believed it to be the entrance to hell.

WOMEN'S GROUP MEETING HELD AT WATERVILLE

Eleven Members Attend Gathering Held at Home of Miss Woodside — Slate of Officers Selected.

Waterville, Nov. 20.—The W.M.S. held their November meeting at the home of the Misses Woodside, with eleven ladies present.

Owing to Mrs. Blier's absence, Mrs. Fulcher presided and conducted the worship service, with Mrs. Beckett at the piano.

The minutes of the October meeting were accepted as read by the Secretary. A survey of the Society's financial standing was given by the Treasurer.

A nominating committee was appointed to bring in a slate of officers for 1942.

A most interesting review of the first chapter of the study book was given by Mrs. Fulcher.

GUILD MEETING HELD

The St. John's Anglican Guild held their regular meeting in the Jubilee Hall. The President, Mrs. J. Lunn occupied the chair. Canon Roy opened the meeting with prayer.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and many items of business were discussed.

Plans were completed for the Christmas sale to take place in the church hall on Friday, November fifth. The sale is to include food, fancy work and afternoon tea. Flowers for the altar were donated for the winter by Miss Bradley. Canon Roy announced that owing to the absence of Mrs. Jaquest, Mr. J. Lunn will act as choir director.

A welcome was extended to Miss Taylor and Mrs. Rowe on their return to the Guild.

Lunch was served by the executive, Mrs. J. Lunn, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. T. Brown, Mrs. Watts, Mrs. G. Hammond, and Mrs. L. Pearson.

An urgent need for workers to sew on pyjamas and hospital nightshirts for soldiers and also clothing for refugee children is felt by the Waterville Branch of the Canadian Red Cross and an appeal to all interested persons to assist in the work is being made. The sewing is all done under the guidance of Mrs. F. A. Burton, Work Convener.

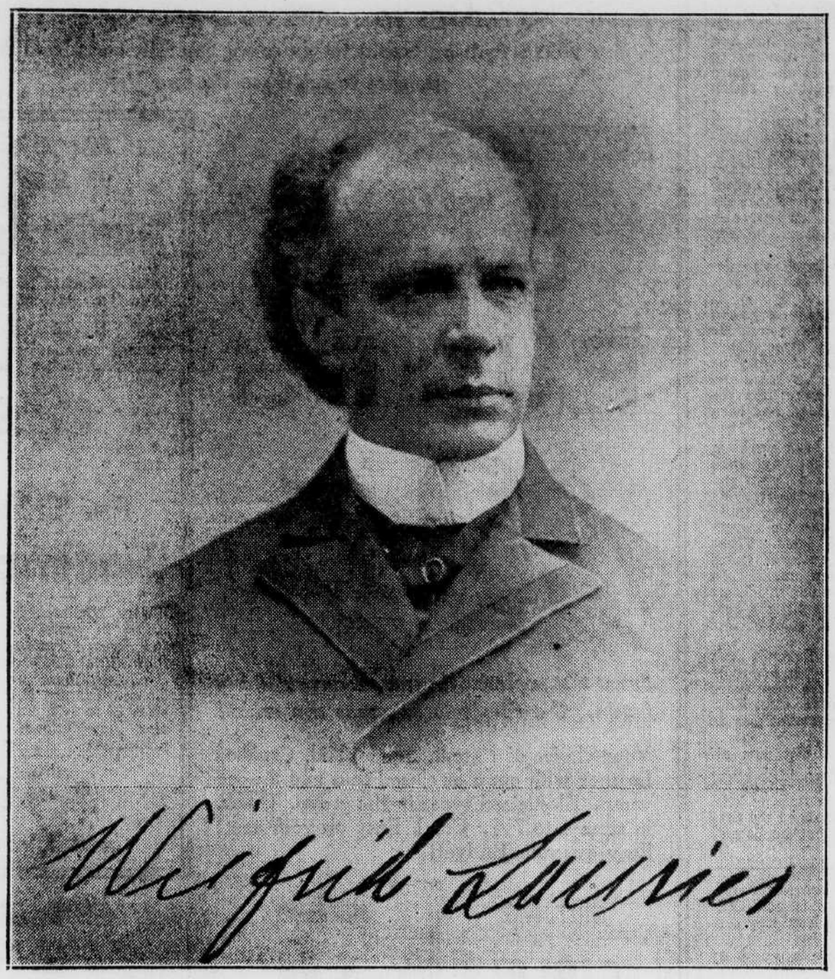
CANADA TODAY PAYS TRIBUTE TO ITS NOBLE SON

SIR WILFRID LAURIER



Today marks the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Canada's beloved statesman, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. And today, in a large measure through his efforts, Canada stands united against any foe which dares invade its integrity or threaten its shores.

As Prime Minister of the Dominion from 1896 to 1911 he won the devotion and admiration of his followers and forged the great link that perpetuated Canadian unity to the present day. Always a true Canadian, ever fostering Canadian ideals, Sir Wilfrid laid the foundation upon which our Canadian unity has been built.

And it is with true Canadian spirit that we today honor the memory of Sir Wilfrid, who has been a cornerstone in the building up of a united Canada.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT KNOWLTON HIGH

One Hundred Out of 135 Pupils Promoted on Last Year's Work, Principal Reports.

Knowlton, Nov. 20.—The annual Commencement Exercises of Knowlton High School were held in the Lake View Hall with an unusually large attendance of interested parents and friends.

The programme, which was exceptionally well presented, was as follows: "O Canada," by the School; "The Health Alphabet," by Grade I; "The Making of the Flag," by Grade IV; piano solo, "Nola," by Phyllis Allen; "The Marching Song," by Grades II and III; "The Lemonade Stand," by Grade V; "Britannia's Daughters," a pageant, by Grades VI and VII; a Robin Hood play, by David Roberts, John Bogan, Billy Blackwood, James Ransom, Roderick Crandall, Roger Guillet, Alfred Stewart, Orison Inglis and Douglas Ladd; piano solo, "Impromptu," by Heather Bullard; scenes from "Perrichon," Grade X; choral tribute to the Armed Forces, to the Navy, Sailing," to the Army, "Ton Petit Kaki," to the Air Force, "To the Stars"; victory song and pageant, the School.

During intermission home-made candy was sold, proceeds from which are to be donated to the Junior Red Cross.

In his report Principal J. C. Moore, expressed his appreciation of the interest shown by the parents, which was indicated by their interest in the school in their attendance at the opening exercises of the school. He spoke of the difficult task facing the teachers of today, in preparing pupils for post-war conditions and also paid a tribute to the numerous Knowlton High School graduates who are serving in the Forces.

He stated that the staff of teachers remained the same, with the exception of one teacher, Mrs. Hazel Miller, whom he heartily welcomed to the staff. Principal Moore reported that out of one hundred and thirty-five pupils, one hundred had been promoted last year.

He spoke of the athletic activities of the school, which included badminton, basketball and hockey. The hockey team won the District of Bedford High School Championship.

He expressed his appreciation as well as that of his staff of the co-operation of the School Commissioners, who during the past year, had provided a motion picture machine, delineascope and lantern and at the present time were having a rink made on the school grounds.

Distribution of prizes was then made by Principal Moore, B.., Mr. Harry Morrison, B.A., Miss May Hextall, Miss A. E. Elliott, M.A., Mrs. Hazel Miller, and Miss Minnie E. Scott, a of the school staff, Mrs. George H. Robb, Regent of the Sir John Fisher Chapter, I.O.D.E., and Mr. L. A. Boyd, of the School Board.

Prizes for proficiency, donated by the School Board, were awarded by Mr. L. A. Boyd as follows: Grade I, David Bowbrick and Kit Templeton; 2 Joan Clark and Mitchell Call;; Grade II, Doreen Moffat, 2 Jean Allen and Bruce Patton; Grade III, June Boyd, Joan Taylor and Sheila Taylor; Grade IV Grayson Champeau and Margaret Sellars; Grade V, Jessie Sanborn and Janet Blackwood; Grade VI, Crandall Bockus and Lorna McClay; Grade VII, Roderick Crandall and Ruby Pettes; Grade VIII, Milton Peters and Janet Knowlton; Grade IX, Keith Jackson and Phyllis Allen: Grade X, Jean Tracey and Alice Derby; Grade II, Joyce Knowlton and Jessie Emerson.

Prizes donated by the I.O.D.E. to the pupils making the best progress during the year were presented by Mrs. Robb as follows: Grade I, Isabelle Balch; Grade II, Ian Bockus; Grade III, Eunice Clark; Grade IV, Margaret Sellars; Grade V, Barbara Jean Armstrong; Grade VI, Keith Mizener; Grade VII, Frances Bancroft; Grade VIII, Anne Louise Mapes; Grade IX, Alfred Arthur; Grade X, Jean Tracey; Grade XI, Jessie Emerson.

The prize donated by Miss A. E. Elliott for the best pupil in French in Grade X and XI was won by Joyce Knowlton. Athletic awards were presented to Dorothy Strange and David Roberts. The National Anthem brought the evening to a close.

The Women's Association of the United Church met at the Parsonage with the President, Mrs. G. M. Ransom, in the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of the hymn, "My Times Are In Thy Hand." The 91st Psalm was read by Mrs. Ian W. Crandall and Rev. E. D. Mitchell offered prayer, after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Crandall, and approved and the Treasurer, Mrs. E. W. Morgan, gave her report, which showed a most substantial balance on hand.

A letter of thanks was read from a member who had been remembered in her bereavement and another member expressed her thanks for a sunshine basket which had been sent her when ill.

It was decided to hold a hot dish supper and sale of Christmas aritcles. Mrs. D. H. Mapes was appointed to be in charge of the sales table and Mrs. A. C. Carter of decorations.

It was decided to send flowers to a shut-in member and a mother of one of the members who is ill. Eleven members and two visitors were present, and two new names were added to the roll.

The meeting was brought to a close with the Mizpah benediction, after which refreshments were served.

Painful, Pus Filled Boils the Cause of Much Misery

If you suffer from boils you know how sick and miserable they made you feel.

Boils are an outward indication of impurities in the system, and just when you think you are rid of one another crops up to take its place and prolong your misery. All the lancing and poulticing you can do may not stop more coming.

To help overcome boils you should purify the blood, so why not give that old, reliable blood medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, a chance to show what it will do in helping you get rid of them? Thousands have used it for this purpose for the past 60 years. Why not you?

FINE ADDRESS DELIVERED AT COWANSVILLE

Address by Mental Hygiene Institute Official Feature of Observance of Education Week.

Cowansville, Nov. 20.—As a part of the programme for Education Week arranged by the Principal and staff of the High School, Miss Verity Mitchell, Clinical Psychologist, Mental Hygiene Institute, Montreal, gave a lecture on the subject, "Do Adolescents Need Parents?" Principal A. D. G. Arthurs presided and introduced the speaker.

Miss Mitchell held the attention of her audience as she described the period of adolescence as a process of development which takes place between the ages of twelve and twenty-one, one of the characteristics of which is inconsistency, which is shown by a desire to be treated alternately as an adult and a child.

"This is a time of physical ,mental and emotional development," she said, "when the guiding hand and heart of loving and wise parents is needed most of all."

"Mutual respect of one another's judgment is an essential if the relationships between parent and child is to be helpful, and if the attitude between the two generations is to be that of friend or foe," she concluded. Mr. Arthurs, on behalf of the teachers and parents, thanked the speaker for her most interesting talk. Motion pictures were shown and Principal Arthurs acknowledged the generosity of the School Commissioners in providing the projector machines for use in the school. The films are received from the Provincial Department of Education and are in charge of Betty Henry, who very efficiently checks them as received and returned.

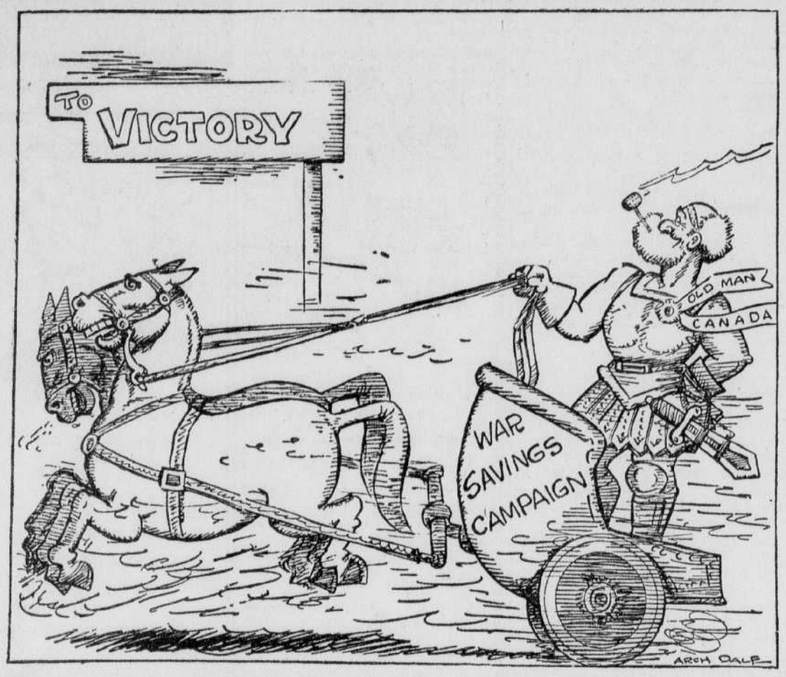
A social hour was spent visiting the school rooms, after which refreshments were provided by the teachers and served by the senior pupils.

The concluding observance of Educational Week was a church service in Trinity Anglican Church which was planned and conducted by the pupils of the High School, with Dr. John S. Astbury, Principal of Baron Byng High School, as the special speaker. His subject was "Postive Living."

A special feature was a selection by the pupils of the primary grades. The choir was composed of school girls. Shirley Teel led the service and James Montle read the lesson. The offertory was received by Dale Morrison and Garth Dean. The church was filled to capacity and chairs were used in the aisles. Mrs. C. E. Hayes presided at the organ.

In a clear and forceful manner Dr. Astbury pointed out how positive and negative qualities are present in life and nature. Still they were comparative terms and few things or qualities could be called absolute, for instance, love and hatred, light and darkness.

The ability of the individual to choose the emphasis on which his manner of living shall be based, determines the quality and mental stability of that life, he said, and Jesus Christ was the greatest exponent of positive living the world has ever seen, he concluded.



Daily Living Becoming Acute Problem For French Residents

(Foreign correspondent Roy Porter, just returned from France relates the complications of the average Frenchman's daily life.)

By ROY PORTER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Nov. 20—(AP)—The average Frenchman lives today literally from hand to mouth, with much thought of the present and almost none for the future.

His life is complicated from early in the morning to late at night by a never-ending string of decrees, ordinances, proclamations, regulations and simple instructions. This is true in both the German-occupied and unoccupied zones.

Take Jean Durand, for example, in German-occupied territory. He is a middle-class white-collar worker who earns 2,500 francs a month (about $55) as a clerk in a men's wear shop in downtown Paris. He lives with his wife and two children in a four-room apartment in the Passy district of Western Paris for which he pays 5,000 francs a year rent, plus 2,700 francs taxes.

When Jean gets up in the morning, he has had a good night's sleep because by German military order, he had to be home before the midnight curfew. He could not stay out later because, as a day worker, he is not entitled to a night pass. If he went to visit friends after dinner and since there are no taxis, he had to catch the last subway train which left shortly after 11 p.m. All subways stop at 11.30.

When he shaves in the morning, he has to use a gritty mixture of synthetic soap and sandlike ingredients which he has bought on his soap ration coupon. He shaves and washes in cold water five days a week because his apartment building is allowed hot water on only two days—generally Saturday and Sunday. The two days are consecutive to save coal and sometimes the hot water runs over into the morning of the third day.

His breakfast is usually black coffee and bread. The coffee cannot contain more than twenty per cent real coffee; the rest may be malt, herbs, or toasted acorns. It has to be black because milk is reserved for children and nursing mothers. His wife buys the coffee on her ration card and hands over tickets for the bread to the baker.

Jean smokes one cigarette after breakfast, carefully and down to the end. He gets only two packages every ten days and has to buy them at the same store every time, where his name and number are entered in a ledger.

On the way to the subway he buys a newspaper which costs him one franc which is double what he paid a year ago. The paper has only four pages because there's a paper and ink shortage.

When he gets to the store where he works, he finds the latest instructions from the manager, telling him what articles are still allowed to be sold freely and which require tickets from the clothing ration cards.

If he wants a drink before lunch he has to recall what day it is. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday he can have only a mild apertif of less than twelve per cent alcohol. On the other days he can drink stronger drinks the alcoholic content of which is legally permitted to go as high as eighteen per cent.

What he eats for lunch also depends on what day it is. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are meatless days; the rest of the week he can have meat, if it is on the menu. He can't have more than three dishes in regulated combinations and he has to give tickets for his bread and meat and a special ticket for the grease in which his food has been cooked.

While Durand has been working, Mrs. has been out shopping. She carries her food tickets with her and must go to the same stores every day because she has registered her family in the books of the specific merchants with whom she deals. These shopowners can sell rationed goods only to registered shoppers.

About the time Jean is due home for dinner, she figures out the best way to cook the meal quickly. Gas is rationed.

After dinner, the Durands and their two children collect in one room of the apartment where they share a single light to save electricity, which is rationed in the same way as gas.

His son, Francois, who has already started to school, asks about a new pair of shoes and shows his father that he has a hole in one. Mrs. Durand says she asked the shoe repair man about it but he doesn't have any leather.

General Notes

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Grayborn received the rite og baptism at the United Church: Rev. Dr. S. W. Boyd officiating. The name given was Ann. The sponsors were H. E. Jenssen and Kirshen Jenssen, of Montreal. Mrs. Boyd played soft organ music during the ceremony.

Donald Carlin, Douglas Smith and Arthur Knight attended a Patrol Leadership Training course at Bedford.

The local Red Cross Society gratefully acknowledges a donation of $266 from Mrs. S. J. Mackie and her group of workers who sponsored a tea and food sale for the "Blanket Fund" also a donation of $50 from Bruck Silks for the same worthy purpose. This amount will buy approximately 158 blankets which are so much needed to meet the emergency at this time. Members are again reminded that all annual fees to the Red Cross Society are now due.

The "Blankets for Britain" tea and food sale held in the Church Hall was a magnificent success, socially and financially. A large quantity of home-made baking was quickly disposed of and refreshments were served at daintily appointed tea tables. Thanks were extended to all who had so generously assisted in making the afternoon a success. Mrs. G. F. Fuller won the $10 War Savings Certificate, and other prizes went to Mrs. Eugene Hall and Mr. C. W. Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Pibus and daughter, Beverly, of Magog, and Mrs. L. A. Marchessault, of West Shefford, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Brown.

Mr. Lawrence Scharpe is visiting in Ottawa.

It was with deep regret that news of the sudden death of Mr. Walter Morrison, of Farnham Centre, was received here. The deceased was well and favorably known and sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

The Young People's Societies of the Anglican and United Churches were entertained by the Young People's Union of East Farnham. A very enjoyable time was spent by all.

Messrs. E. B. L. McCrum and Victor Champigny had a very successful hunting trip in the vicinity of Scotstown. Each returned home with a deer.

Mrs. M. Goodin, of Scotstown, is spending a few days here as a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. McCrum.

Mrs. N. H. McCrum and three children spent a week-end in Coaticook, guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Sweet, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Masters have moved from Albert Street to Mr. A. C. McPhee's house on Church Street.

LAC. Berthyl Lewis, of Summerside, P.E.I., is spending a two-week furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewis. Miss Laura Elvidge, of Lacolle, was a week-end guest at the same home.

Mrs. Irene Aicheson spent a week-end with relatives in Montreal.

Mr. William Fryer, of Montreal, spent a week-end at his home here.

Mr. Jeffrey Mark who is in the employ of the W. F. Vilas Company, has been transferred to Toronto.

Former friends of Miss Violet Godden who was at one time on the local staff of the Bell Telephone Company were pleased to hear her voice in an Overseas broadcast. Miss Godden, who was a native of England, returned there before the outbreak of the war and is now Corporal in the Women's Auxiliary services.

Mrs. J. B. Stone is a guest of her niece, Mrs. Dixon, and Mr. Dixon, in Drummondville.

Miss Vivian Lowe, of Montreal, is a guest of Miss Annie Lowe and Mrs. D. Kerr.

The regular meeting of Emmanuel Ladies' Club was entertained at the home of Miss Marian Cleary. The President, Mrs. Herman Stowe, presided. Plans were made for the anuual sale to be held early in December. Two contests were arranged by the hostess and the prize-winners were Mrs. S. W. Boyd and Mrs. F. Barette. Several aprons were donated for the sale. Refreshment were served by the hostess.

Lieut. Kenneth Johnson, 24th-75th Field Battery, R.C.A., of Sussex, N.B., was a week-end guest at his home here.

Mr. Hobbles ,of Bruck Silks, has been transferred to the Montreal office.

FITCH BAY

Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Waid, of Hatley, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sheldon.

Rev. R. W. Carr, of Cookshire, spent a few days at the Wyman home. While here he was the special speaker at the anniversary service at Georgeville United Church.

Mr. Roy Gustin, of Newport, Vt., was a guest of his father, Mr. S. A. Gustin.

Mr. D. A. Dolloff, of Rock Island, spent a day at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Raymond, of Sherbrooke, were in town as guests of Mrs. W. J. Redway.

Mrs. E. C. Williams has returned from Bissell Road, where she spent a few days as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bissell.

Beebe talent presented the play "Aunt Cindy Cleans Up" at Canon Gustin Hall before an appreciative audience. This was given under the auspices of the Women's Association of the United Church. Lunch was served to members of the cast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cooke following the play.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Arkin, of Newport, Vt., were guests of Mr. B. H. Rider.

OBITUARIES

MRS. MARY MacLEOD, SCOTSTOWN.

Scotstown, Nov. 20.—The funeral of Mrs. Mary MacLeod was held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Scotstown, on Monday, November 3, in the presence of a large circle of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Rev. J. W. Smith, pastor of the church, spoke words of comfort to the bereaved from Revelations 14:13, "Blessed are the dead, which die in the Lord from henceforth: that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them." The choir, with Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie at the organ, rendered the "Twenty-Third Psalm," "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown," and "Shall We Gather at the River?" favorite hymns of the deceased.

The bearers were Messrs. R. A. Scott, Joseph Start, Murdo Murray and Norman Morrison, of Scotstown, Hugh MacDonald, of Fisher Hill, nephew, and John Morrison, of Graniteville, Vt., cousin. Interment was made in Gould Cemetery, where a committal service was held.

The funeral was under the direction of Mr. Alex M. MacDonald, assisted by Mr. J. C. Morrison. The many beautiful floral offerings bore silent tribute to the esteem in which the deceased was held in the community.

Mrs. MacLeod was born in Galson, and at an early age went to Lowell, Mass., where she was employed until her marriage, on October 30, 1888, to Mr. Angus MacLeod, of Red Cliff, Colorado, where they made their home for over twenty years. In 1909, they returned to Canada, and retired on the farm, formerly owned by Mrs. MacLeod's parents. Mr. MacLeod predeceased her on March 27 1915, and in 1922 she moved to Scotstown, where she resided until her death.

Although of a quiet and retiring nature, Mrs. MacLeod took an interest in all the activities of the church, and was ever ready to help in any worthy cause. She will be remembered as a loving mother and a true friend, and will be greatly missed by all who knew her. On March 27, she suffered a stroke, from which she never fully recovered. She passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. C. Goodin.

She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Mrs. J. N. MacIver and Mrs. F. C. Goodin, of Scotstown, and Mrs. R. A. Bardsley, of Hingham, Mass.; two sons, Mr. K. R. MacLeod, of Scotstown, and Mr. H. A. MacLeod, of New London, Conn.; three sisters, Mrs. Dora Stearns and Miss Katie Morrison, of Scotstown, and Mrs. H. A. Adams, of Montreal; thirteen grandchildren, and one great-grandchild, all of whom attended the funeral, except Lieut. Len MacIver, of Camp Borden, who was unable to be present.

Those from out-of-town attending the service were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bardsley, Miss Betty and Master Bobby Bardsley, Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacKenzie and Miss Joan MacKenzie, of Hingham, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. H. A. MacLeod, of New London, Conn.; Mrs. Lorne McQuaig, Miss Miriam MacLeod and Mr. E. W. MacIver, of Montreal; Miss Eleanor MacLeod and Miss Pauline Goodin, of Farnham; Mr. John Morrison, of Graniteville, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Belliveau, of East Angus; Mrs. Stearns Morrison, of Bishopton; Mrs. John MacLeod and Mr. Hugh MacDonald, of Fisher Hill, and Mr. John C. Morrison, of Dell.

JOB ONLY FOR PIPER

London—(CP)—Seeking a caretaker for the Scottish hostel for servicemen in London, it was stressed he must be a piper or his application would not be considered.

For Eczema---
Skin Troubles

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to any good drug store and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil—it lasts many days because it is highly concentrated.

The very first application will give you relief — the itching of Eczema is instantly stopped—eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Itching Toes and Feet, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum and other skin troubles.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.

RICHMOND AND MONTREAL IN CLASH HERE

Monarchs Play Senior "B" Loop Aggregation

Montreal Team in City and District League to Provide Howie Peterson's Boys with First Test of Season — Former Senior Group and Provincial League Stars in Lineup of Visiting Squad—Large Crowd Expected to See Arena Scrap.

After Sherbrooke Indians held forth for two successive Sundays at the Arena, Howie Peterson's Richmond Monarchs will step into the limelight this coming week-end when they meet the Montreal entry in the Montreal City and District Senior "B" League.

In all probability another bumper crowd will be on hand to see the unveiling of the entry to carry the Richmond green in the coming Eastern Townships League battle, with good numbers coming in from Richmond unless an unusually heavy snowfall occurs to block the highways between now and Sunday.

The Montreal team will not be any farther along than Richmond, since they have seen very little action in their circuit, and certainly no more practices than the Monarchs. Very little is known of the actual strength of the Montreal outfit, which is coached by G. Lalonde.

On the lineup of the Montrealers are Goalie Mason, Defencemen Hudon, last year with St. Jerome, Landreville, former Valleyfield Brave, and Booth, and three sets of highly-rated forwards. Playing on one line will be Bill Meloche, former Verdun and Senior Group performer, Monahan and Davies. The second unit will comprise Conrad Bourcier, of Provincial League and Senior Group fame, A. Lalonde and Proulx, while the other attacking unit is made up of Frank Stangle, ex-Quebec Aces star, Paul Armand, one-time playing coach of Lachine Rapides, and J. Horman, with Montreal Royals Juniors in the 1940-41 campaign.

It will be interesting to see how Richmond will do. The Sherbrooke team has done remarkably well against out-of-town opposition, trimming Joliette Cyclones 4-1 and holding Quebec Morton Pirates to a 2-2 deadlock, and the Monarchs will be anxious to make just as good an impression.

Choice of goalie for the game has not been announced by playing coach Howie Peterson of the Monarchs, who can send either Bernier, formerly of East Angus, or Lucien Gagnon between the pipes. Defensive position will be filled by Ivan Boisvert and Jack Campbell, holdovers from the 1940-41 Monarchs, Johnny Dier, a newcomer who has seen action at Atlantic City and Detroit, and Pat Murphy, also a Richmond stalwart.

Up front the Monarchs appear to be much stronger than last year, with Henri "Guidoo" Roy secured to play beside Peterson and the veteran "Hank" Harris of automobile skates fame, and with Harry Allen, late of Loyola, Paul Gagnon, ex-Sherbrooke performer, "Sonny" Mooney, Dave McCrea and several others set to carry the attack to opposite outfits.

Although exhibition games mean little, fans will be able to get a line on the kind of club Richmond will send into League action when the hat is dropped next month.

FRANK PATRICK WON'T DISCUSS LAPRADE STORY

Maintains Tight-Lipped Silence on Rumor He Is Trying to Line Starry Brothers Up for Canadiens.

Port Arthur, Nov. 20.— (CP) — There's an old saying that everything comes to him that waits—maybe that's why Business Manager Frank Patrick, of the National Hockey League Montreal Canadiens, has set up a stand here.

Since he checked in at a hotel here, an air of mystery has developed about the N.H.L. club official. The hockey wise believe he is trying to pry the Laprade brothers, Edgar and Bert, loose from the Port Arthur Bearcats, Thunder Bay Senior Amateur Champions for the last three years.

Patrick refuses to confirm or deny this theory, saying only that he is here "on a scouting trip."

The second eldest of the hockey famous Patrick brothers did not say whether he had any other Lakehead players in mind for his professional team. He added, however, that he is in no hurry to leave Port Arthur —a statement which led to the belief that if he waits long enough he'll get what he came after.

Meanwhile the Laprade boys went ahead with their plans for occupation of the new homes they have just built in Port Arthur.

Bert, a Bear Cat defenceman, reported that neither he nor his brother, Centreman Edgar, have heard from Patrick. What's more, he added, they did not even know Patrick was in town except through what they had read in the newspapers.

CHESTNUTS TOP "Y" BUSINESS MEN'S CIRCUIT

Sweep Three Volley Ball Games from Peanuts to Break Top-Place Deadlock with Donuts.

Deadlock for first place in the Y.M.C.A. Business Men's Volley Ball League was broken last night when the Chestnuts swept three strings from the Peanuts and moved three games ahead of the Donuts, with whom they were tied before this match.

Chestnuts paraded through the Peanuts to a 15-6 victory in the first game, won the second 15-10 and then beat down stubborn resistance in the third encounter to take the honors, 15-12.

It was the Chestnuts' second straight three-game victory, and gave them a record of seven wins and two losses to date. The second-place Donuts have won four and lost two, but can again gain a first-place draw by sweeping their games with the Walnuts tomorrow evening.

The teams:

Chestnuts: Wilbur Fuller, Ken Muzzey, Bert Woolgar, Don Johnson, Dr. Simon Marcus, O. Craig and Allan Bryce.

Peanuts: Nelson Lothrop, Austin Workman, Bill Chisholm, Leo Foley, Frank Simms and Rollie Badger.

IN SPORTING VEIN

By ALLAN BRYCE

Although the Indians won't be playing this Sunday, the Arena should be just as well-filled as it has been the last two week-ends when Richmond tangles with Montreal's City and District Senior "B" League team in another of the pre-season exhibition encounters.

Howie Peterson seems to have lined upon outfit that will give a good account of itself in the Eastern Township League wars and that seems, on paper, at any rate, to be stronger than the team which came so close to capturing the loop honors last season in Richmond's return to the E.T. big time.

There is no doubt that there'll always be an England and it would appear also that there'll always be a "Guidoo" Roy. Just as inevitably as night follows day, or vice versa, as long as there is a "Guidoo" there will always be a crowd up at the Arena to see him play. Roy, back from a season with the R.C.A.F. team in Ottawa, will add plenty of appeal to the Richmond team with his circus jumps as he speeds into the defence. Other players who will be watched closely tomorrow are Johnny Dier, new rearguard, and Harry Allen, local boy who starred at Loyola College for several seasons.

Leo Haber and Pierre Chapdelaine are slated to renew their table tennis rivalry here on Saturday night, and any who is still convinced that this game is fit only for girls, sissies and one-armed weaklings had better make it a point to watch these boys bang that circular celluloid around. The two boys, top players in Canada, will play at ten o'clock at the St. Francis Club, with the public being admitted, and will later battle again at the Elks Club in a private session for members of the Lodge only.

Capdelaine took Haber's measure at the Country Club a while back, but Leo hopes to be able to make up for that beating in this second meeting.

It appears that another team is to be welcomed into the ranks of the Eastren Townships Table Tennis Association—the Hillcrest Ski Club. Organizers of the circuit plan to start competition in earnest in several weeks, with regular matches for the St. Francis, Social Club, Windsor Mills Flying Training School, Elks, Y's Men and Hillcrest Club, and in the meantime the practice of exchanging visits to the various clubs on Tuesday nights is to be continued.

* * *

Ross Planche apparently made a good impression in his debut with Royals of the Junior Amateur Hockey Association a few nights ago. The sturdy younger brother of Jim Planche, a Royal regular, will be able to look after himself against any kind of opposition in this junior set-up, because he is well-built and able to "take it" as well as hand it out if the occasion demands. These two boys are keeping East Angus on the hockey map with their fine play.

Post Schedule For Eastern Townships Hockey Campaign

Senior "B" League Approves Schedule Drawn Up by Secretary-Treasurer Ernie Taylor—Opening Game December 4—First Four Teams Will Compete in Playoffs.

Richmond, Nov. 20.—Meeting here last night, officials of the Eastern Townships Hockey League approved and adopted the schedule which had been drawn up by Secretary-Treasurer Ernie Taylor and submitted for acceptance.

The schedule calls for the curtain-raising tilt to be played on Thursday, December 4, at Victoriaville, between Victoriaville Flyers and a team representing the R.C.A.F. training school. On Sunday, December 7, the other three outfits will swing into action, with Richmond Monarchs clashing with the Indians at the Sherbrooke Arena and with Victoriaville invading Windsor Mills to meet Dallas Grant's Paper Makers.

Each team will have twelve games at home and the same number away, and the concluding tussles will take place on Sunday, February 15, with Sherbrooke performing at Victoriaville and Richmond going to Windsor Mills.

Arrangements for playoffs were also made at the meeting. The first four teams in the circuit will compete for the flag after the completion of the regular schedule, with the first-place team opposing the fourth-place outfit, and the second and third squads clashing in best-of-five series, and the winners tangling in a best-of-seven struggle.

CARDS SWAMPED WITH RECRUITS FOR 1942 CLUB

Star-Laden Talent Up from Farm System to Back and Bolster Regulars of Last Season.

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Branch Rickey, shaggy-maned general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has warned various persons, including Manager Billy Southworth, to lay in an ample supply of aspirin for the 1942 National League season.

The Cards have so many players they don't know what to do and Rickey said today it'll be a real headache for Southworth to decide which to keep on the roster.

The champion Brooklyn Dodgers and the other teams in the league will get their headaches trying to keep up with the Cardinals in the pennant race, Rickey said.

To start with, the Cardinals have the same players who stayed in the flag fight all the last season despite numerous injuries, and then there's star-laden talent up from the farm system to back and bolster the regulars.

"We'll have nineteen pitchers this spring," he chortled. "Wow! Nineteen of the best hurlers in the United States."

Rickey said there was so much ability among the newcomers that veteran pitchers will have to fight to keep their jobs.

Southworth will pick his outfield from eleven players, all capable, Rickey said, of playing on any major league team.

SPORT FLASHES

The secret is out . . . Jawn Kimbrough admitted to Worcester, (Mass.) scribes the other day that he will be glad when the pro football season is over . . . "This is just all artificial life," he said, "I'm determined to quit football for good and all when I fly to Hollywood the night of November 30" . . . Guess John figures there's nothing artificial in Hollywood—at least as long as he's acting in hoss operas to pay for a Texas ranch.

We've heard of football games being postponed because of rain, snow, fog, light failure and various other reasons, but Lowell Redelings of the Hollywood Citizen-News comes up with a new one . . . Seems a game out this way was postponed on account of an earthquake.

Pups she's right:

At a Wisconsin field trial a setter pup named Tipshoals Nina wasn't performing very well for her handler, Carl Bechtold . . . Finally she heard Mrs. Bechtold's voice in the gallery and ran to her. The upshot was that Mrs. B. had to take over the handling job and the pup won . . . Seems Nina knew who's boss in her family.

Black Hawks Will Get First Real Test In N.H.L. Tonight

Fast-Stepping Chicago Team at Home to Boston Bruins—League-Leading Maple Leafs at Detroit in Second Game of Road Trip—Rangers and Americans Open Intra-City Series in New York.

Chicago Black Hawks move into the big league tonight, and whether they stand or fall will be of major interest to N.H.L. managers and other keen students of the game.

That isn't meant to scare people away. Anyone who has a relative or friend who is a keen student of the game is eligible to read on. For Chicago's swift and unbeaten rise in the N.H.L. has brought considerable comment. The usual number of people have arisen to remark that Chicago finally has a team for those amazingly zealous Chicago fans.

What everyone failed to mention was that so far Chicago has beaten only Brooklyn and Detroit, and was held to a tie by Montreal. The two victories over Americans were by one goal each, as was the one over Red Wings. Montreal is in last place, Detroit second last. This could be worked out by algebra, letting X equal the bums and Y the unknown quantity. But it would produce no answer other than the fact that Chicago hasn't beaten anybody important, yet.

Black Hawks will be at home to Boston tonight. The third-place Bruins have been beaten once this year, in four games, but are definitely in a better class than Americans, Detroit and Canadiens. The public should know whether or not the Hawks can stand up to the big boys, after tonight.

The league-leading Toronto Maple Leafs will be at Detroit in the second game of their road trip in another N.H.L. contest tonight. In the third game, Rangers and Americans will open their intra-city series in New York. For the first time in several years, the fifth-place Rangers will be fighting from underneath Americans.

EDUCATION IS EMPHASIZED AT MELBORO EVENT

Programme for Mothers and Friends at Melboro Consolidated School in Keeping with Education Week.

Melboro, Nov. 20. — In keeping with Education Week, the teachers, Miss Thelma Dawson and Miss Isobel Skillen, of the Melboro Consolidated School, held a short programme, to which mothers and interested friends were invited.

The programme opened in Miss Skillen's room with Keith Taber and Joyce Johnston, of Grade IV, presenting a French dialogue, " Fruit Merchant." This was followed by a spelling match of Grades III, IV, and V. John Batchelor and Douglas Smith were captains. Miss Dawson's room presented a French dialogue, "Robin Hood and the Sheriff," with Doris Pariseau explaining each scene. Those taking part were Henry Waterhouse, Osbourne Wilkins, Lennox Morrison, Roderick Morrison, Frederick Batchelor, Gerald Fowler, Lorne Taber and Elsie Booth.

A debate was held by Grades VIII and IX, "Resolved it is more healthful and advantageous to attend school in the three summer months rather than the three winter months." Ross Morrison was chairman. The affirmative side was taken by Ruth Brooks, Rodney Taber and Irene Wallace, and the negative by Helen Roberts, Edna Wallace and George Pariseau. Miss Isobel Skillen, Mrs. Vernon Booth and Mrs. George Barrington acted as judges. The decision was in favor of the negative side, although some very good points were put forward from the affirmative side, making it quite difficult for the judges to decide.

The session was brought to a close by all standing and joining in the singing of the first stanza of "O Canada" and "God Save the King." The teachers, Miss Dawson and Miss Skillen, are to be congratulated upon the fine way in which one and all did their parts and upon the great progress all are making in their school studies.

WAY'S MILLS

An appropriate programme to commemorate Remembrance Day was arranged by the teachers of the Way's Mills School. The programme opened by the singing of "O Canada" by the class, then a poem, "I Vow to Thee My Country," was read by Lorne Bryan. The hymn, "O God Our Help In Ages Past," was sung by the class, following which the poem "In Flanders Field," was read by the class in unison. A poem, "The Warders," was read by Robert Holmes, after which the two minutes' silence was observed. The guest speaker, Mr. Gledhill, explained the symbol of the poppy, outlined democracy, and impressed upon the pupils that the establishment of democracy depended upon the youth of today. The honor roll was read, also the names of all those who are at present fighting for their country. Two interesting letters were read, which greatly impressed the pupils. Miss Rider, on behalf of the pupils, thanked Mr. Gledhill for his most beneficial address. A prayer was read by Gloria McDonald, followed by a prayer in unison. A collection to aid the Poppy Fund was taken up by Stanley Holmes and the National Anthem brought the programme to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cramer called on Mrs. Julia Morse at Boynton. Mrs. Perley Standish was a caller at the same home.

Miss Agnes Oliver has returned from the Sherbrooke Hospital and is gaining in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Grainger, of Georgeville, were guests of Mrs. Evelyn Hanson.

The Boy Scouts, under the leadership of the Scoutmaster, J. Gledhill, and the Girl Guides, with their leaders, Mrs. Sheard and assistant, Mrs. Markwell, attended the Anglican Church in a body and listened to a stirring address by Rev. Mr. Belford.
