DUAL FEARS OF RED RISING AND GERMAN INVASION WORRY FRANCE

France Hears that Chancellor Hitler's Black-Clad "Schutz Staffel" Storm Troops Have Been Rushed to Reinforce Guards Along Alsace-Lorraine Border Already Tense with the Approach of a Showdown on the Banning of Communist Rallies—Internal Trouble Still Feared Despite Fact that Communists Have Accepted Government Ruling.

Strasbourg, France, October 10.—Sudden reports that Chancellor Hitler's black-clad "Schutz Staffel" storm troops had reinforced the Franco-German frontier guard today stirred Alsace-Lorraine, already tense with the approach of a showdown on the banning of Communist rallies.

Word of the "S.S." reinforcements reached the Alsace-Lorraine prefecture from undisclosed sources a short time after the border province authorities had decreed a general ban on forty-two Communist meetings and had backed the order with armed force. The "S.S" is a semi-political military body, separate from the regular army.

In Metz, with a Communist meeting scheduled for tonight, there were reports that Communists had received arms and that thousands of Rightist peasants were planning to march on the city, swinging pitchforks and scythes.

The peasants planned a counter-demonstration for tomorrow.

On the Lorraine frontier, French reports said, the German frontier guard actually was doubled.

The "Front of True Alsace," a union of Rightist parties, rushed orders to peasants in the fields to rally for mass counter-attacks, planned even against the "authorized" Communist gatherings.

With more than 2,500 French mobile guards being poured into the disturbed regions from other sectors, the Rightists were represented as promising not to fight the guardsmen, but to concentrate on breaking up any meeting of the Communists.

GERMAN MINISTRY DENIES STRENGTHENING GARRISON

Berlin, Oct. 10.—The Propaganda Ministry asserted today French reports that German frontier guards had been reinforced by Schutz Staffel men on the Alsace-Lorraine border were "absolutely untrue."

COMMUNIST PARTY BOWS TO GOVERNMENT DEMANDS

Strasbourg, France, Oct. 10. — France's Communist party, yielding to stiff Government dictates, cut its scheduled week-end mass meetings in Alsace-Lorraine to ten today, but the concession failed to end a state of tension in the closely-guarded "lost provinces."

With unconfirmed reports stating German frontier guards, in some sections, had been doubled; with scores of squadrons of French mobile guards pouring into the sector; with rumors of marching peasants and a united Rightist plan to break up even the ten "authorized" Communist meetings, general apprehension ran high.

The first test comes tonight when Communist meetings, authorized by the Government, are scheduled to be held at Metz, Waldhambach and Bischwiller.

Reports reaching authorities here that Chancellor Hitler's black-clad "Schutz Staffel" men, had reinforced the German frontier guard were followed by word from Metz that the Lorraine guard at the German side had been doubled. .

The Schutz Staffel form the visible arm of the secret state police headed by Heinrich Himmler.

(Berlin denied that "SS" men had been sent to the Alsace-Lorraine frontier as border reinforcements, saying the increased members of the formation seen there were merely traffic police).

The Communist capitulation, reducing the number of planned gatherings from fifty-two to ten, came after border province authorities had backed their ban on the forty-two unauthorized meetings with armed force.

MORE BRITISH SOLDIERS WOUNDED IN ARAB BATTLE

Jerusalem, Oct. 10.—Three British soldiers and a constable were wounded today when a band of Arab rebels ambushed a military patrol en route from Yatta to Hebron.

Twenty Arabs were reported killed earlier in a sharp battle with tank-equipped troops in the Tulkarem area. Forty Arabs were arrested.

COURT EXAMINATION DID NOT WORRY NEW FRENCH SOCIAL PARTY LEADER

Paris, Oct. 10.—Col. Francois de la Rocque, Nationalist leader, appeared today before an examining magistrate to answer questions on charges he has reconstructed the dissolved Croix de Feu to form his new French Social party.

He smiled and joked, refusing to answer questions about last Sunday's fights between his adherents and Communists.

After the questioning was over, de la Rocque returned home, receiving an ovation from a crowd outside the courtroom.

Other Social party leaders were questioned later.

INTERNATIONAL PLOWMEN'S HONORS GO TO GUELPH MAN

Alex Black Clung to Championship Title Despite Threats from J. R. Hargreaves, of Bachville, and Richard Jarvis, of Milliken.

Cornwall, Ont., Oct. 10.—For the second successive year Alex Black, of Guelph, Ont., goes home with the international championship of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, but he came close to losing the title to another Western Ontario man.

Black, winner of yesterday's jointer class in the Association's international meet, took the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett Trophy and forty dollars for that event and clung to his title despite threats from J. R. Hargreaves, of Bachville, and Richard Jarvis, of Milliken, both former champions. Judges said their work was so good they had difficulty placing them.

Ontario entrants carried off major honors in all classes of the meet, making a clean sweep of the special prizes offered for work during the last three days when open competitions were held. Crowds varying from four thousand to forty thousand watched the contests, bringing total attenndance to about eighty-five thousand.

Archie McMillan, of Nappan, N.S., won a closed event for visitors yesterday, open only to residents of Quebec, the Maritimes and the United States. The match attracted fourteen entrants, McMillan and thirteen Quebeckers.

AUSTRIA TAKES DRASTIC MOVE TO CONSOLIDATE MILITARY STRENGTH

Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg Dissolves All Private Armies and Orders Consolidation with Austrian State Militia in Effort to Bring All Military Power in Own Hands—Order Expected to Meet with Considerable Opposition from Von Starhemberg and Other Fascist Heimwehr Movement Leaders.

Vienna, Oct. 10. — Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, seeking to consolidate Austian military power in his own hands, ordered the dissolution of all private armed forces today.

The Chancellor's sweeping command, which was approved by the Cabinet after a thirty-hour session, would disband the Fascist Heimwehr of former Vice-Chancellor Prince Ernst von Starhemberg and Schuschnigg's own Catholic militia, the Ostaerkische Sturmscharen.

Upon dissolution, the private armies were ordered consolidated with the Austrian state militia, which the Chancellor planned to make a branch of the regular army under his control as Minister of Defence.

The order met strong opposition from two cabinet members known as "Starhemberg's cabinet representatives."

Vice-Chancellor Eduard Baar-Baarenfeld and Minister of Finance Ludwig Draxler handed their resignations to Schuschnigg. They were joined by Hans Pernter, Minister of Public Instruction, a member of the Chancellor's Catholic militia.

The three ministers walked out of the cabinet meeting and while they were absent the dissolution order was voted.

Afterward, Schuschnigg gave them back their cabinet positions as private individuals but not as private army representatives.

Two companies of heavly-armed "alarm police units" were summoned to guard the Chancellory, where they took up positions with six machine guns.

Schuschnigg left for Budapest immediately after the cabinet session to attend the funeral of Premier Julius Goemboes, of Hungary.

Disbanding of the private armies—beside consolidating military control in the hands of the Chancellor—was expected to end completely the political strife threatening to split the nation which arose from a personal quarrel over Heimwehr leadership between Von Starhemberg and Major Emil Fey, former Vienna Heimwehr commander.

Observers agreed the next question depended on the manner in which both Von Starhemberg and Fey received the dissolution order. The Prince once said such action would be accomplished "only over my lifeless body."

An official committee was named to clarify the state militia's regulations, to study relations between the army and the militia and also to outline the militia's connection with the national defence system.

By the order, the armed forces of Austria would be increased to approximately 158,000 men, including the co-ordinated militia, the army and the federal conscription service.

The programme for the new defence organization was to be compiled before October 14th, when it will be presented to the cabinet for consideration.

Schuschnigg's dissolution order put into effect a threat he made less than six months ago.

On May 15th, in a radio address, he declared the private armies would be consolidated into the national militia and sanctioned a semi-official announcement the new organization would be an armed force at the disposition of the Austrian "Fatherland Front," the political organization.

At that time, Von Starhemberg spoke vigorously against disbandment of his Heimwehr and declared: "All my life I have been a fighter and Austria will soon see I am not licked now. The real contest is just starting."

URGES GREATER APPRECIATION OF VOTE VALUE

Hon. Gilbert Layton Tells Protestant Teachers that Children Must Be Taught Value of Franchise if Politics Are to Be Cleaned Up.

Montreal, Oct. 10.—To clean up politics in the city, province and country, school children must be taught the value of the vote and be intersted in political matters, Hon. Gilbert Layton, minister without portfolio in the Quebec Union Nationale Cabinet, told members of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers at their annual session yesterday.

The Minister contrasted coolness of the English-speaking voters in the last provincial election with the enthusiasm of the French, and said if the French had political control in this province they deserved it.

Premier Duplessis was sympathetic to teachers, Mr. Layton said, and his attitude would lead to action in the matter of pensions as soon as circumstances permitted. English Protestant deputies at Quebec intended to review the whole question of Protestant education in the province, he added, and the Government would study teachers, pensions.

The downward trend in teachers' salaries was deplored by Mrs. Ruth R. Knowlton, association president. It was a serious situation, she said.

CLAIMS TRADE TREATY AIDING U.S. INDUSTRY

President Roosevelt Declares Growing Consumption and Better Farm Prices Prove Benefit of U.S.-Canada Treaty—Landon Charges Relief Used to Coerce Voters.

Aboard Roosevelt Train Enroute to Omaha, October 10. — President Roosevelt hit the campaign trail to Nebraska today after a night speech at St. Paul in which he asserted figures on "growing consumption and better farm prices" proved the "New Deal" reciprocal tariff programme was benefitting United States industry and agriculture.

Addressing a huge outdoor crowd from the steps of the Minnesota state capitol last night, the President declared "trade" meant commerce flowing in two directions.

Exports during the first half of this year, he added, increased $132,000,000 compared with the same period in 1935, with those to Canada of both manufactured and farm commodities jumping $24,000,000.

"American industry and American agriculture are both benefitting by increased general trade," he said. "The figures prove it, and our growing consumption and better farm prices prove it."

The President injected into his speech here his first public reference to the recent agreement between the United States, Great Britain and France to stabilize currencies.

"Within the past two weeks," he said, "splendid progress has been made in giving a greater stability to foreign exchange. Within that same time there have been lifted many quotas and embargoes, including those on important American agricultural export products."

DENOUNCES ATTITUDE OF GOVERNMENT TO RELIEF RECIPIENTS

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 10.—Gov. Alf. M. Landon renewed his United States presidential campaign for Ohio's twenty-six electoral votes today with a denunciation of the "New Deal" as "endeavoring to coerce thousands of voters by threatening those on relief with destitution unless they vote right."

"It is trying to poison the mind of the public with a campaign of vicious misrepresentations," Landon said in a speech prepared for delivery before a breakfast rally of party workers.

Directly quoting Franklin D. Roosevelt seven times, Landon cited the words of "Candidate Roosevelt" at Pittsburgh four years ago as reasons "Why balancing the budget is of vital importance" and asserted the "New Deal's" fiscal policies "will wreck the Government."

Landon told the party rally the 1936 presidential contest was "the battle of our century" and that "New Deal" procedure has violated the fundamental principles of the Democratic party.

CALIFORNIA VOTERS APPEAR TO FAVOR ROOSEVELT

San Francisco, Oct. 10. — California has registered 57.74 per cent. Democratic and 38.44 per cent. Republican for the United States November general election, in which Roosevelt and Landon will battle for the state's twenty-two electoral votes.

ALBERTA PRESS SEEKS HELP OF DOMINION LAWS

Newspapers Debate Possibility of Incorporating Under Federal Statutes in Effort to Evade Possible Licensing Legislation Proposed by Premier Aberhart.

Calgary, Oct. 10.—The question of Alberta newspapers incorporating under Dominion statutes as a protion against Premier William Aberhart's suggestion proposing licensing of newspapers was discussed at the convention of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association. O. L. Spencer, of the Calgary Herald, has been asked to address the convention today to explain possibilities of such a move.

"The Dominion Government believes in a policy of allowing the province self-government and would not interfere if legislation licensing newspapers was passed by the Provincial Government," S. Hodson, of Okotoks, told the convention yesterday.

The action proposed by Premier William Aberhart was to prevent newspapers from misinterpreting facts, another member contended.

"Who is going to be the judge of what truth is?" Mr. Hodson asked.

PREMIER ABERHART RESTS FROM SPEAKING TOUR

Calgary, Oct. 10.—Premier William Aberhart was resting here over the week-end, breaking a two weeks' speaking tour of the province which took him into southern constituencies this week and will continue in southeastern Alberta next week.

The Premier's tour was designed for two purposes—to inspire confidence in his Social Credit dividends when they are issued, and to determine the viewpoint of the people on three major points.

Judging from hints he dropped, questions he asked and the responses of the crowd, the Alberta Government is opposed to:

1—Establishment of a Loan Council if that question is revived by the Federal Government at the Dominion-Provincial Conference in December. He told the crowds it would transfer from Edmonton to Ottawa the control of the province's credit.

2—Reverting to the old average of 4.89 per cent. on Alberta bonds in place of the 2 1-2 per cent. set earlier this year. At each meeting the Premier told the crowds Alberta could not pay the higher rate and remain solvent.

3—Repealing or modifying the debt legislation affecting individuals. He said this brought a ray of hope to harassed farmers, ranchers, traders and home-owners across the province, saving them from bankruptcy and eviction.

At each meeting in the south the Premier would make an appeal to the crowds for confidence in his Social Credit dividends, telling them it was the only escape from economic bondage. Once or twice he asked them if they wanted the Government to go ahead and pay dividends, the response being a loud and emphatic "Yes."

DARING NEW ZEALAND AVIATRIX MAKING GOOD TIME

REBELS MAKING DESPERATE STAND TO RETAIN BELEAGUERED OVIEDO

Hundreds of Bodies Littering Streets After Night of Intensive Fighting in which City Was Bombarded from All Sides by Dynamite-Throwing Asturian Miners—Situation in Madrid Reported Critical as Insurgent Forces Occupy Strategic Cities on Road to the Capital.

Oviedo, Spain, Oct. 10.—Insurgent defenders of Oviedo, making a desperate stand in the centre of the city, were bombarded from all sides today by dynamite-throwing Asturian miners. Hundreds of bodies littered the streets after a night of intensive fighting.

COLD WEATHER HAMPERS FIGHTING IN MOUNTAINS

Las Navas des Marques, Spain, Oct. 10.—A sharp cold spell threatened to halt military operations in the mountainous sectors northwest of Madrid today.

Mountain passes were blocked by heavy falls of snow. The temperature dropped to the freezing point in this mountain town and icy rain added to the hardships of Government militiamen.

Commanders of the Socialist forces declared the town of Navalperal had been evacuated because of a combined air and artillery attack by Fascist insurgents.

TREACHERY CHARGED IN MADRID LOYALIST RANKS

Madrid, Oct. 10. — Government militiament went oer the top today in a Government offensive at Pelayos as Syndicalists in Madrid charged "inactivity breeds demoralization."

Backed by artillery, the weary Socialist troops made a desperate attempt to regain the strategic town of San Martin de Valdeiglesias from positions forty-three miles due west of Madrid.

The Socialist newspaper Informaciones caused a sensation in Madrid by asserting Fascists had claimed assistance, during the final drive, from a "fifth column inside the capital."

(Dispatches concerning the "inside" column were cut drastically by the Spanish censor although indications were given mass arrests of Fascist suspects followed the newspaper's story.)

On the Pelayos front, three government six-inch guns rained shells on insurgent encampments along the eastern outskirts of San Martin.

Smoke from the shells mixed with

PENSIONERS TO RECEIVE MONEY IN SHORT TIME

Hon. William Tremblay, Minister of Labor, Announced Yesterday that First Old Age Pensions Cheques Will Be Issued About November 1.

Quebec, Oct. 10.—There was reason for elation today among the indigents over seventy years of age in the Province of Quebec. The cause for the happiness was the statement made by Hon. William Tremblay yesterday wherein the Minister of Labor announced that "on or about November 1, 1936, the first cheques will be issued to pensioners accepted as due for pensions by the Quebec Old Age Pensions Commission, according to the Quebec Old Age Pensions Act, I. VIII, Chapter 1."

Hon. Tremblay stated that between 1,000 and 2,000 cheques will be issued to applicants accepted at that date by the commission and gave notice to "all pensioners who will receive such cheques that no cheque will be honored except upon the endorsement therein being certified by a minister of a religious denomination, a Justice of the Peace, a member of a municipal council or a commissioner of the Superior Court, according to Section 13, subsection 2 of the Act."

Incorporated in the Minister of Labor's announcement was the important warning that all pensioners have their endorsement certified as requested if they hoped to have their cheques honored on presentation and that particular attention should be paid to the special instructions printed on the cheques.

The legislation referred to by the Minister of Labor was rushed through the Legislature and given royal sanction on June 10 last, the last day of sitting for the Legislature elected on November 25, 1935. Since that time, notably during the last provincial campaign, and in several statements issued by Premier Duplessis since the Union Nationale was elected on August 17, the new Government has made it clear that the intention is to redraft the law in such a manner as to make it more easy of application.

The provincial legislation is complementary in Quebec, as elsewhere in Canada, to the federal law, under which the Ottawa Government pays seventy-five per cent. of the cost of these pensions, the province in each instance bearing the burden of the additional twenty-five per cent. plus cost of administration. The Quebec Government, however, does not intend to follow the example of Ontario in levying part of its share of the twenty-five per cent. contribution upon the municipalities in which the indigents are domiciled.

THREE FASCIST NATIONS PLANNING FORMAL PROTEST ON SOVIET NOTE

Italian Delegate to Non-Intervention Committee Repudiated Every Single Point of Soviet Allegations Against Italy in Heated Language—Action on Appointment of Investigation Committee to Study Charges Against Portugal Postponed Awaiting Receipt of Portuguese Acceptance of Plan—Britain Avoids Responsibility for Charges.

London, October 10.—Three Fascist nations of Europe, accused by Russia of sending illegal aid to Spanish insurgents, were reported considering today a formal protest against the charges to the Moscow Government.

Italy, Germany and Portugal pondered the prospective action, informed sources said, as their representative relaxed after a noisy, tense session of the International Committee attempting to isolate the Spanish civil war.

During the meeting, Dino Grandi, Premier Mussolini's delegate and Ambassador to London, called the Soviet representative a liar, "energetically refuted and repudiated every single point of the allegations against Italy," and turned the Russian accusations upside down to declare Moscow was assisting the Madrid Government.

Francisco Calheiros, of Portugal, who later withdrew from the raucous assembly, and Prince Otto von Bismarck, of Germany, in turn denied the allegations made by Moiseyevich Kagan, representing Russia.

Eight hours of heated debate brought these results:

1—Russia decided not to cancel her membership in the International Non-Intervention Committee.

2—The Committee agreed a Soviet proposal to appoint an investigating commission to determine whether foreign aid is being sent into Spain through Portugal should await receipt of a formal answer from the Lisbon Government.

3—Italy, Germany and Portugal were given time to answer complaints of assisting Spanish Fascists which were first laid before the group by the Madrid Government and, because of the time element, took precedence over almost identical later Russian charges.

4—The Committee voted to put Madrid's accusations against the three nations "to the most searching examination" which "should be carried through with the greatest possible speed."

The session, at which the Italian representative's heated language was described as "without parallel in contemporary diplomatic gatherings," adjourned last night without setting the date for its next meeting.

(In Rome, high officials asserted Grandi brought up three instances of Soviet violation of the non-intervention agreement sponsored by France and signed by twenty-seven European nations.

(Great Britain, by permitting eight British pilots to fly fighting ships for the Spanish Socialists, also abrogated the accord, Grandi was reported to have declared.)

CANADA INCLUDED ON COMMITTEE TO REVIEW COVENANT REFORM

Geneva, Oct. 10.—The League of Nations Assembly adopted today a proposal to establish a committee of twenty-eight countries, including Canada, which would be charged with study of suggestions for Covenant reform.

The Assembly also approved the reports of its economic and disarmament committees.

The economic report carried a British proposal to create a commission to study accessibility of raw materials. The United States and other non-members would be invited to participate.

Delegates of nations represented in the Covenant reform committee decided to meet on December 12 to start their task.

LENGTHENS WORKING WEEK TO INCREASE PRODUCTION

Rome, Oct. 10.—Premier Mussolini stepped up the weekly work schedule to sixty hours today in a labor order designed to increase production of war materials by 1,200 industries.

On Il Duce's recommendation the Cabinet raised the number of naval enlistments to 60,000 men.

The labor production plan, the Premier said, was designed principally to increase the output of factories manufacturing supplies for the air force and navy.

Construction of airplanes, he asserted, has "reached a satisfactory daily figure but is not yet sufficient according to the pre-established plan."

"The whole military preparation of the nation is being intensified with the best results," Mussolini told the Cabinet.

He said the number of cadets for the air force has been doubled and an increase in the aviation enlistments "proceeds regularly."

In shipyards, he asserted, "there are at present under construction several score warships."

The previous naval enlistment was 50,000.

The Cabinet accepted article four of the London Naval Treaty of 1930 dealing with the use of submarines against merchant vessels. The article decrees a submarine may not attack a merchant vessel without having placed the passengers, crew and the ship's papers in a place of safety.

FOREIGN SECRETARY HEARS REPORTS OF PROCEEDINGS

London, Oct. 10.—Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, fresh from a conference in Paris with Leon Blum, French Premier, returned to the Foreign Office today and heard from the Earl of Plymouth, Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a review of yesterday's meeting of the Spanish non-intervention committee, Lord Plymouth presided at the meeting.

The Government meanwhile hastened to discount any impression it was assuming responsibility for the truth of Spanish Government allegations of European assistance to the insurgents in Spain.

The communique issued after the meeting said concerning the Spanish documents alleging violation of the non-intervention agreement "the United Kingdom representative accepted responsibility for their presentation to the committee." As Spain is not a member of the committee, she could not present the allegations herself.

ANCIENT POMP AT OPENING OF BRITISH HOUSE

King Edward Will Make Full State Drive from Buckingham Palace to the House of Lords for Opening of First Parliament of Reign on November 3.

London, Oct. 10.—King Edward will open the first Parliament of his reign at Westminster on November 3. He will drive in full state from Buckingham Palace to the House of Lords, and will read his Speech from the Throne to a chamber crowded with peers and peeresses and with the "Faithful Commons" in attendance.

The King wil not wear a crown. The crown and the Sword of State will be taken from St. James's Palace in the morning to the House of Lords in a state landau, guarded by an escort of Life Guards, and the Cap of Maintenance, the other emblem of Royal power, will be carried in front of the King. Not until he has been crowned at Westminster Abbey in May will King Edward wear his crown.

If he follows the example of his father, who also opened his first Parliament some time before his coronation, the King will wear full-dress naval uniform for his drive from the Palace, and will don heavy robes of crimson velvet edged with gold for the ceremony in the Lords, putting on the cocked hat of an Admiral when he comes to read the Speech from the Throne.

While he is at the House of Lords the King will carry out another ceremony of great constitutional importance. This is the signing of the Royal Declaration of Protestant Faith, which the Sovereign must make either at the opening of his first Parliament or at his coronation, whichever comes first.

The King's drive from the Palace will be his first full state drive. For his drives to St. James's Palace to hold levees earlier this year the King used semi-state landaus.

For the first time in many centuries the King's procession will include the Master of the Robes—an old office to which the King recently appointed Lord Colebrooke. In the reigns of married sovereigns, the office has been superseded by that of Mistress of Robes to the Queen.

and students planning to become teachers were being discouraged. There was danger the ultimate result would be a lowering of the standard.

"Should we not petition the Government for an adequate minimum wage?," she asked. The pensions committee had done such valuable work, she said, and should be continued, to press for action toward alleviation of distress caused by salary cuts.

Dr. W. D. Woodhead, dean of the Faculty of Arts at McGill University, stressed the importance of scholarships and bursaries to students who otherwise could not obtain superior education. In two years, he said, there probably would be seventy men and women, otherwise unable to receive a University education, benefitting from McGill's policy of financial assistance.

At a luncheon preceding the afternoon session, Hon. Gordon W. Scott, Member of the Legislative Council and chairman of the Protestant Committee of the Council of Public Instruction, said the teaching profession was the foundation of society.

Catastrophe would result if it were not built on the surest rock, he said. He warned against the dangers of false doctrines aboard today and called upon teachers to see that children in their charge learned a proper respect for old traditions.

Other speakers at the luncheon included Dean Carlisle, of the Montreal Protestant Board of School Commissioners, Father Stanford, representing English-speaking Catholic schools in Montreal, and E. Piedalue, for the Catholic School Board.

The morning session consisted of business sessions where papers were read by representatives of different educational departments. Among those heard were Miss Estelle Le Blanc, of Ottawa; Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College; professor A. Robert George, of McGill; Dr. K. A. Keys, of McGill; and Miss Evelyn Elderkin, Macdonald College.

AIDING QUEBEC FARMER TO BUY CATTLE IN WEST

Provincial and Federal Governments Will Defray Transportation Costs of Beef Cattle Females Purchased in Western Canada for Breeding Purposes.

Quebec, Oct. 10. — Hon. M. Bona Dussault, Minister of Agriculture, has decided to help the Quebec farmers who are desirous of securing beef cattle females in Western Canada for breeding purposes. The breeders of the Prairie Provinces cannot feed their cattle, owing to the scarcity of feeds following the severe drought which hit several districts in that part of the country last summer.

The Provincial Department of Agriculture will pay fifty per cent. of the transportation costs for such cattle brought from Western Canada in carload lots to be placed on farms in this Province. The Quebec farmers will thus have the advantage of securing at exceptionally favorable costs beef type cattle of good quality. This policy will contribute to increase Quebec's beef production and will help the farmer supply local marke' in a greater measure than he has done in the past.

As the Federal Department of Agriculture also contributes fifty per cent. of the transportation costs, any farmer buying beef cattle females will thus have only the purchasing cost to pay.

Any farmer interested in this offer of the Provincial Department of Agriculture must first obtain an authorization from his county agronome.

ONTARIO WOMAN HELD FOR SPREAD OF QUEER MALADY

Police Believe Woman Placed Unidentified Poison in Food which Caused Illness to Seven Men, One of Whom Died.

Kitchener, Ont., Oct. 10.—A woman whose name was not revealed is being held by police today for mental examination as authorities continue to probe the mysterious illness that afflicted seven men near here and caused the death of one of them.

Crown Attorney W. P. Clement said the woman is being held in Waterloo county jail in connection with the case.

Walter Ritter, Woolwich township farmer, died September 24th, presumably of influenza.

About the same time his brother, Charles, and five others were afflicted with a strange disease that first numbed their limbs and caused violent seizures.

With the exception of Charles Ritter and John Deering, an employee on th Ritter farm, who is paralyzed and in a critical condition, all have recovered. All are said to have eaten meals at Charles' farm. The Ritter brothers are bachelors.

Dr. E. R. Frankish, Ontario Government medico-legal expert, arrived here last night to take charge of the exhumation of Walter Ritter's body and conduct an autopsy.

clouds banked low over the valley in which San Martin is situated while Government tanks rumbled ahead sending machine gun fire into the insurgent lines.

Government commanders asserted a Fascist column advancing from Maqueda toward Navalcarnero was being supported by a strong squadron of "foreign bombers and fighters.' The column was declared nearing Valmojado, six miles southwest of Navalcarnero.

Socialist officials in Madrid acknowledged the insurgent drive was being concentrated west of capital in a line running from Segovia, provincial capital north of the Guadarrama mountains, to Toledo, forty-one miles southwest of Madrid.

The line, the Government declared, ran through the regions of El Escorial and Navalcarnero.

REBELS CLAIM BOMBS CUT LAST RAIL LINK TO MADRID

Burgos, Spain, Oct. 10.—Insurgent bombardment of Aranjuez, important communications centre twenty-nine miles southeast of Madrid, has cut the only remaining railroad link between the capital and the eastern coast, Fascist officials asserted today.

Insurgent bombing planes attacked Aranjuez and the rail line running through it, the High Command declared, doing great damage to the Madrid-Valencia railroad.

The attack was made with a double purpose, Fascist officials said:

The capital and Socialist militiamen on the battlefronts would be cut off from food supplies coming from provincial centres on the eastern coast and the last means of escape by rails for fleeing Government officials—in the event the capital falls to the insurgents—would be destroyed. The only route left to Valencia would be the highway running from Madrid southeast through Aranjuez.

Insurgent commanders announced capture of two towns in the sector south of Avila where a Fascist "mop up" squad apparently was in action—San Juan de la Nava and Baraco .

The insurgent officers denied reports of a Government victory at Oviedo, Socialist-besieged provincial capital on the northern battlefront.

Demand for Individual Issues Offset by Quiet Profit-Taking in Others—Bonds Were Moderately Improved.

New York, Oct. 10. — The stock market paddled along a bit indifferently today, with demand for individual issues being offset by quiet profit-taking in others.

Some traders shied away from the buying side in view of the forthcoming Monday holiday. In addition while economic news was still inspiring, the European situation was seen as none too encouraging.

Higher by as much as a point or more in the final hour were Santa Fe, Delaware and Hudson, Great Northern, Douglas Aircraft, Woolworth, International Harvester, Allied Chemical, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Standard Oil of New Jersey, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, American Shipbuilding, Standard Brands and Warner Bros.

Unchanged to lower were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, National Distillers, Schenley, Goodyear, Consolidated Edison, Deere, American Telephone, American Water Works, Anaconda, Kennecott, Du Pont, Yellow Truck and Hercules Motors.

Bonds were moderately improved. Commodities were mixed. Rail shareholders noted with satisfaction the climbing freight loading totals and also reports passenger traffic is showing a smaller than seasonal decline following unusually heavy travel in the summer months.

Issues of building material companies were scanned in the boardrooms following publication of the F. W. Dodge figure estimating residential construction in the first three quarters of this year at twenty-three per cent. above all of 1935. It was thought the aggregate for 1937 would be three times that of either 1933 or 1934.

SEVEN MEMBERS OF BLACK LEGION GIVEN LIFE TERMS

Night-Riders Sentenced for Roadside "Execution" of Charles Poole Last May.

Detroit, Oct. 10.—Seven nightriders of the Black Legion yesterday received life terms in prison for murder after "Colonel" Harvey Davis charged Prosecutor Duncan McCrea was a member of the secret order and that one of the trial jurors perjured himself.

McCrea said the charge was "a ——lie" and Judge Moynihan proceeded with sentencing the men convicted of the roadside "execution" of Charles Poole last May 12th.

"I'm not guilty of this crime," Davis told the judge. "I don't think I had a fair trial. Mr. McCrea here, the prosecutor who prosecuted this case, belongs to the Black Legion. It was a perjured trial."

CRERAR OPTIMISTIC FOR CANADA'S MINING FUTURE

Canadian Minister of Mines Warns Industry Against Practice of "Neglecting to Mine Ore in Order to Mine Public."

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Canadian Minister of Mines, last night affirmed his optimism for the future of mining in Canada but warned the industry against the practice of "neglecting to mine the ore in order to mine the public."

Addressing the annual banquet of the British Columbia Division, Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, Mr. Crerar said the public was entitled to a fair deal in the development of Canada's mines. "I hope the mining fraternity of this country will set its face definitely against such practices."

The Mines Minister also urged a "fair deal for the prospector."

Referring to mining taxation, Mr. Crerar said:

"There are some things a government can do. It is necessary, of course, to have revenue, but we need a little sounder understanding of the incidence of mining taxation. We have to remember a mine is a wasting asset.

"I have been able to get the assurance of my colleagues that there will be no increase in mining taxation in the life of the present government at Ottawa."

WRECKED FLIER PREPARED TO MAKE ANOTHER ATTEMPT

Kurt Bjorkvall, on Arrival in Irish Free State, Refuses to Comment on Charges of the Baroness Whom He Left in New York.

Valentia, Irish Free State, Oct. 10.—Happy but without one word for the Baroness he left behind, Kurt Bjorkvall, Swedish trans-Atlantic flier whose solo journey from New York ended in the sea, reached here today aboard the French trawler which rescued him.

Asked if he had anything to say to the Baroness Eva von Blixen-Finecke, who contends he backed down on his promise to take her with him to Stockholm, Bjorkvall shook his head and said: "No, nothing."

Bjorvall, who said his plane developed engine trouble early Wednesday, the day he was forced to descend in the ocean, declared he was willing to "try it again."

He was rescued by the trawler Imbrin, 150 miles from the Irish coast.

BOOMING TONE REGISTERED ON STOCK MARKETS

Canadian Markets Close Near Five-Year High Following Week of Heaviest Trading in Years—Inflation Talk Undermines Gold Issues.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—There was no holding the Canadian industrial markets this week as they pressed forward on the heaviest wave of buying witnessed in years. In the eight sessions since the month opened, five net gains were recorded on the Toronto industrial section, lifting the price average each time to a new height since 1931. At the close yesterday prices were holding just under the top.

On th mining floor the atmosphere was less exhilarating. Traders sounded a gloomy dirge of falling prices, particularly for the gold stocks. The price average for the yellow metal group was marked down in every session of the week. Miscellaneous mines, including the base metals, presented a firmer front.

Weakness of the golds is explained by some market analysts on the ground that there has been a great deal of switching from the metals to the industrials in expectation of a new wave of inflation in the United States soon after the election. The fact that the golds have been sold of late suggests the trading fraternity feels that any future dose of inflation will come from expansion of credits and heavy spending and not from further currency devaluation.

In other financial circles the swing from the mines to the industrials is regarded as a normal market development and they look to see traders taking down their industrial stock profits shortly and returning to the metal stocks.

About fifty stocks reached new peak prices for the year or longer on the industrial board this week. New highs among the utilities were posted by the Quebec power stocks, Shawinigan, Power Corporation, Montreal Power and Beauharnois, as well as by Brazilian, Bell Telephone, United Fuel preferred, B. C. Power "A", Bathurst Power "A", and Winnipeg Electric "A". Heavy industrials to chalk up new highs included Steel of Canada, the Canadian Car and Foundry issues, United Steel Corporation, National Steel Car, Dominion Bridge, the Hamilton Bridge stocks, pressed Metals and Page Hersey.

International Nickel registered a new high along with the Abitibi stocks, Walkers common, Cockshutt Plow, Loblaw B, Weston preferred, Consolidated Bakeries, the Canners issues, Rogers-Majestic and the Dehaviland stocks.

The oils staged a fast market on the report that the big oil companies were selling their retail gas stations and would confine themselves to the refining and wholesaling end of the business. Gains of seventy-five cents to $1.75 were registered by the leaders.

In the mining section the base metals stocks developed only narrow changes. A gain of ninety cents for Hudson Bay was the main adjustment.

Senior golds were off. Dome dropped $2.50, McIntyre $1.35 and Lake Shore $1. Losses of thirty to forty-five cents came out for the smaller golds. The silver issues remained quiet and steady. A few golds closed higher including Bralorne, Littl Long Lac, O'Brien and Macassa.

"CUT PRICES" ARE BLAMED FOR UNETHICAL PRACTICES

Abandonment of Retail Market by Importers and Wholesalers Suggested to Tory Royal Commission.

Montreal, Oct. 10.—The suggestion that abandonment of the retail market by importers and wholesalers would correct alleged unethical practices in the Canadian anthracite coal industry came in for consideration today by the Tory Royal Commission.

Andrew Latour, of the retail firm Tiery Latour, told the Commission yesterday short-weighing was still a common practice among certain Montreal coal dealers, and fifth, sixth and even seventh grade coal was being delivered to consumers as first grade.

He charged Montreal consumers were being "unfairly dealt with by certain unscrupulous dealers," alleging many low grade coals costing the dealers considerably less than first grade were mixed with it and sold as Grade A.

Latour blamed the unethical practices on "cut prices," and told Dr. H. M. Tory, conducting the probe into the Canadian anthracite situation, he believed remedy lay in abandoning of the retail market by importers and wholesalers.

ANOTHER BRUTAL MURDER.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 10.—Admittedly without clues, United States Government agents pushed an investigation today into the killing of Miss Christina Mary Jureller, whose bruised body was found on a mound of fallen leaves on the Cattaraugus Indian Reservation.

The body of the attractive thirty-one-year-old woman—missing from home since she started for a movie Wednesday—was found forty feet from a busy road. Two teeth were missing. Black and blue marks about the neck indicated strangulation.

State police said she must been "horribly beaten." Medical Examiner Charles E. Long said definitely she was murdered, probably Wednesday.

A skilled "animator" is said to maintain an excellent average if he turns out from five to eight feet of animated cartoons in a day.

DREAD MINERS' DISEASE CALLED "COLOSSAL RACKET"

Charges "Silicosis Racket" Is Fostered by Political Groups and Other Interested Parties, Including Medical and Legal Men.

Vancouver, Oct. 10. — Charges made before the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, British Columbia division, that silicosis, dread miners' disease, is a "racket of colossal dimensions" drew mixed reactions today from medical and other authorities.

Edward J. Bloom, San Francisco attorney with a practice among California mining companies, told convention delegates yesterday the "racket" is fostered by political groups and other interested parties, including medical and legal men.

P. Browning, of Britannia, B.C., countered with an assertion "there is no racket in silicosis" in British Columbia.

Bloom charged no competent medical men would admit what silicosis actually is and he contended most cases could be traced to presence of tuberculosis prior to exposure to silica or other types of dust.

In Ottawa, however, a high medical authority described this assertion as completely erroneous. He said medical authorities had studied the disease for several years and the Banting Institute of Toronto had made a special study of the disease and had found ample material for study in sanatoria.

Medical men explained almost any dust inhaled in sufficient quantity may cause chest trouble, but certain dusts are related to the disease generally called silicosis but known within the profession as miners' phthisis. Tuberculosis is said to play a "more or less" important part in the disease and is always associated with a fatal termination.

Chop suey originated in New York's Chinatown in 1896 and is practically unknown in China.

MANY LISTENED TO ACCOUNT OF TRIP TO VIMY

Meeting of Stanstead I. O. D. E. Chapter Featured by Descriptions of Pilgrimage to Vimy Ridge by Mrs. Lewis Griegg and Mrs. E. J. Struthers.

Stanstead, Oct. 10.—Thirty-five members of the Stanstead Chapter of the I.O.D.E. and guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Lewis Griegg Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Grace Kirwin as assisting hostess. The principal feature of the afternoon was the description given by Mrs. Griegg and Mrs. E. J. Struthers of the recent Vimy Ridge celebration.

The meeting opened with the prayer of the Order, the regent, Mrs. Bernice McIntosh, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Burns, in the absence of Miss Flint, and accepted. Mrs. Parsons presented the financial report, which proved satisfactory, revealing that the proceeds of the lawn party had amounted to ninety-eight dollars.

Several items of business were discussed and disposed of, while conveners were appointed for a rummage sale to be staged shortly. A committee was also named to entertain the Girl Guides and delegates appointed to attend the provincial Order meetings in Sherbrooke. One new member was received at this meeting.

Following the business session the regent presented Mrs. Griegg, who gave a very interesting account of the Vimy pilgrimage, covering the ground from Montreal, the starting point. Many interesting events which occurred on shipboard, and a graphic picture of the ceremonies at the Canadian memorial, at which King Edward and the President of France were present, concluded Mrs. Griegg's survey.

In her very complete report, Mrs. Struthers described the cathedals, battlefields and country visited and told of the excellent arrangements made for the comfort and entertainment of the vast company of Canadians. Mrs. Struthers also described a visit to Buckingham Palace, where the Canadians were guests of the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester.

A vote of thanks was moved by Miss Colby, O.B.E., to Mrs. Griegg and Mrs. Struthers for their interesting outlines of their journeys to France and the events which occurred on this memorable occasion.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Griegg and Mrs. Kirwin at the tea hour and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

The study book, "Men and Women of Far Horizons," proved interesting and instructive. Plans were discussed for the missionary supper, when Dr. Start, of Japan, will give an illustrated lecture.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

"Own a Home of Your Own!"

Mr. Picobac was talking turkey to young Alex McKenzie who had come to town to work in the pickle factory.

"Young man", said he, "you listen to me. I've been through the mill. You get a nice Essex County girl and settle down in the land of prime Canadian Burley, with a home of your own."

"Me?" said Alex. "All I got is a job."

"What more do you want?" demanded Mr. Picobac. "Money's plentiful. Money's cheap. There's too much money idle — it should be put to work. Interest rates are down. Building costs are down. Build a home now before rates go up and prices climb. Any Canadian girl that's worth her salt will help her husband save for a home of her own."

Mr. Picobac chuckled down the stem of his pipe.

"And another thing", advised he, "a man never knows the full comfort and satisfaction of married life until he lights a pipe of Picobac and settles down for a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke—right in his own home!"

URGES W.M.S. RETAIN VIEW OF COMPLETE CHURCH WORK

Moderator of Presbyterian Church Warns of Dangers of Too Great Enthusiasm of Any Particular Organization for Own Work.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Rev. Dr. Malcolm Campbell, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, warned against any one church organization becoming so bound up in its own activities as to lose sight of the church's broader programme, as he addressed the Ontario branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the church.

"There is the danger that the very enthusiasm and efficiency of the W.M.S. in their own work may cause them to lose sight of the wider programme which the church is carrying out," he said.

In many congregations, he said, givings to the W.M.S. exceeded the donations of the whole congregation to the general budget of the church.

"There is the feeling in many of our presbyteries, among the ministers and elders, that the W.M.S. is getting too large a share of the missionary money raised in the congregation and that this is militating against the general missionary budget of the church. This is quite pronounced in many places," he said

"It is doubtful if it will make for the highest interest in our church if any such feeling of rivalry is allowed to spring up between the church as a whole and any organization in it," Dr. Campbell said.

The common sign of greeting employed by Gulf of Mexico Indians on meeting friends is to blow into one another's ears.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is one of the most profitable customs we can engage in. Thanksgiving turns ones thoughts away from self, away from morbid introspection, puts an end to self-consciousness, makes deadly self-pity impossible and fixes our attention on something or some one outside ourselves.

That is why one particular day of the year is set aside as "Thanksgiving Day," when people are urged to ponder over the numerous and varied blessings for which humble and sincere thanks should be given to a kind Providence.

And certainly, Canada has much to be thankful for. She enjoys the inestimable blessings of peace and abundant harvests.

And so it will be that on Monday the people of Canada will unite in a common act of thanksgiving. Thanksgiving Day is a day of unity. The whole Dominion observes the festival and differences of race, creed and politics should be smothered in the determination to seek a higher ideal.

But thanksgiving should not be limited to one special day of the year. It should be the habitual attitude and act of all who trust and honor God, for He is ever sufficient reason and cause for our thanksgiving. As we look to Him we can always say, "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Prosperity Of Mining Industry.

The Canadian mining industry is enjoying an unprecedented degree of prosperity and the production in the metallic division has attained levels not hitherto recorded in this country. The annual review number of The Northern Miner, a well edited and most interesting edition, points out that the industry has forged ahead during the past few years until the Dominion now stands first in the world in the production of nickel and platinum, third in copper, zinc and silver, and fourth in gold and lead. This, The Northern Miner remarks, is an extraordinary performance for a nation of eleven million people, and is also a portent of what may be expected in the future when the mineral areas are thoroughly opened up.

The metallic production of Canada is now at the rate of $280,000,000 annually, or at the level of $23 per capita. The mine output, including all minerals, is at the rate of $32 per person.

Mineral production of Canada reached its highest point in history in the first half of 1936. The Dominion authorities at Ottawa report that output was valued at $165,482,423, as compared with $138,836,420 in the first half of 1935. A gain of nearly $21,000,000 was made in the value of metallics alone.

Substantial gains were recorded in the production of lead and zinc, the former showing an advance of $2,205,739 and the latter $980,196.

Of particular significance to the Eastern Townships is the fact that Asbestos production in the first half of 1936 in Canada also recorded a remarkable gain. In that period 120,437 tons were mined, with a value of $4,016,912. For the corresponding period of 1935 the output was 81,907, valued at $2,777,035.

S. H. Logan, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, computes that mine purchasing power is $1,000,000 per day, an outstanding contribution to the financial welfare of Canada. The same authority points out that all Canadians benefit directly and indirectly by this stream of new wealth.

Truly, Canada has been blessed in an extraordinary way with mineral-bearing territory. It holds the largest area of the Pre-cambrian formation in the world, and it is attacking this vast region, continental in scope, with an increasing energy and a pyramiding success. Each year finds a new wedge driven into the Northern wilderness, with new outposts dotting the horizon. In the present year outstanding discoveries have been made in the new fields and old. Extraordinary success has attended prospecting and a stupendous series of new developing efforts has been initiated. All of this activity will bear fruit; it has never failed to do so in the past.

Sweethearts! Take Note!

Young woman, inwardly pondering on the real character of the man she hopes to marry in the not-too-far distant future, has been offered a new character test by the American Automobile Association.

"If a prospective bride," claims Burton Marsh, director of the Safety and Traffic Engineering Department, "really wants to know her future husband's mind, let her ride with him through a traffic jam—she'll learn things.

"A half mile drive through tooting horns, screeching brakes and traffic policemen," he said, "will bring out: a violent temper, nerves, a tendency to fatigue, timidity, manners and sportsmanship."

Mr. Marsh's remarks could perhaps be no better exemplified than in the following lines by a budding young poet:

Take a ride, little bride, with the man you admire,
And observe if he drives with inflammable ire;
If the least little thing makes him bluster and curse,
You're a sucker to take him for better or worse;
If the horn, he keeps tooting wherever he goes,
He'll make a big noise when you buy some new clothes;
If he cuts in and out, just to keep in the lead,
He's a pinhead, a poor sport who'll make your heart bleed;
If pedestrians he scatters without any qualm,
You'll find, for your feelings, he'll never have balm;
If he hogs the best part of the road all the way,
He'll expect you to slave for him, day after day;
If he speeds through the red when he thinks he'll get by,
He's an alibi artist who'll cause you to sigh;
If breaking the speed laws, you note, is his whim,
Take care—you may soon prove too darn slow for him.

Whether or not all these characteristics enumerated by Mr. Marsh and by the above poem will be revealed, the fact cannot be disputed that driving through the streets of a modern city during the rush hours or in the country over a holiday week-end is enough to reveal the ability of a man to control his disposition.

Editor's Note-Book.

The Belleville Chamber of Commerce proposes that a Royal Commission be named to inquire into our present system of taxation with a view to having a more equitable distribution of the burden. True, business men and property owners faced with tax after tax on the same article for the Dominion, province and municipality favor a simplification of the financial structure, but even better than the naming a Commission for the reform of the tax system would be an economy drive by the governments to reduce this taxation.

* * *

There are a good many kinds of business which can be conducted quietly without reference to people other than those immediately concerned. The business of entertaining visitors, however, comes under quite a different heading. Year by year Canada is in the unique position of entertaining a number of visitors which is sometimes twice the number of her entire population. There is no other country in the world where visitors come in such vast numbers. To the extent that each Canadian who comes in contact with these visitors and helps to make their vacation pleasant, he will be doing his part toward fostering one of the greatest industries of Canada.

Sir Richard Paget, English scientist, believes that some day there will be a universal sign language, and that a man will be able to speak to all the races of the world simultaneously. He maintains that an extensive vocabulary can be evolved from appropriate movements of fingers, hands and arms. Thus, hand on heart could indicate "love," finger on brow "wisdom," and so on. But we doubt if any number of signs will enable Europeans to explain to the people on this side of the Atlantic why they cannot get along together peaceably.

What Editors Say

OUR HIGHWAYS.

Le Canada, Montreal.

At the present time, a new highway ninety feet in width is in construction between Niagara and St. Catharines. This comprises two lanes thirty feet wide, separated by islands of the same width. On each lane the traffic will be one-way, so that collisions will be impossible and at night one will not be blinded by the glare of cars coming in the opposite direction.

It would be a good thing to follow that example here on thickly-frequented highways.

The works to be undertaken soon as unemployment relief will provide an excellent opportunity, since the repair of old highways and construction of new ones come into the programme. Too many precautions will never be taken to prevent people from breaking their necks.

PROMINENT PEOPLE OF THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

THE LORD BISHOP OF SHERBROOKE.

About the saintly person of the Right Reverend Alphonse-Osias Gagnon, D.D., Lord Bishop of Sherbrooke, centres the allegiance, love and esteem of all Roman Catholics of the Diocese of Sherbrooke, who are proud and happy to claim him as their spiritual father and their friend.

But the respect which is felt for Bishop Gagnon is not confined solely to those of his own faith. By the large non-Catholic portion of the population of the community he is also held in high regard.

Bishop Gagnon is beloved and respected because he is a man of broad outlook, a man whose sterling qualities of mind and heart, whose genuine sympathy, whose understanding and whose love for his fellowmen make him in every way thoroughly qualified for the exalted position to which he has been called.

Today, at the age of seventy-six years, Bishop Gagnon, as the third Bishop of Sherbrooke, is ably carrying on the work of his two illustrious predecessors, the Rev. Antoine Racine and the Right Rev. Paul Larocque.

It was in the fall of 1875 that Alphonse-Osias Gagnon, then a young lad of fifteen years of age, came to Sherbrooke from Notre-Dame du Bonsecours de Stukely, his birth place, to enter St. Charles Seminary as a student. That was the year St. Charles Seminary was opened and the future Bishop of Sherbrooke was the seventh student to sign the register.

Little did those in charge of the Seminary at the time realize what an outstanding career lay before the young student. Little did they realize that this youthful Alphonse-Osias Gagnon would, at the age of twenty-three, be ordained to the priesthood and later become a member of the college faculty. But that was not all. This quiet, unassuming young student was destined for even greater achievements. Not only was he in time to become Superior of the Seminary, but later he was to be consecrated a bishop and assume charge of the Diocese of Sherbrooke.

On July 8, 1883, after completing his course in theology, the dream of his youth was realized and Alphonse-Osias Gagnon was summoned to kneel before Bishop Antoine Racine, first Bishop of Sherbrooke, to be ordained into the priesthood.

Immediately following his ordination he was engaged as professor of versification at the Seminary, from 1885 until 1893 professor of rhetoric and from 1893 to 1895 professor of moral theology. On October 5, 1895, he was enrolled as a student at the Catholic University of Paris, France, where he remained for two years.

Returning to Sherbrooke in 1897, he became professor of Letters at the Seminary and later was named Prefect of Studies and then Superior.

But further honors and greater recognition were to be his. On March 28, 1917, he was named Diocesan Consultor, and in May, 1919, was created Domestic Prelate by the late Bishop LaRocque, whom he was to succeed as Lord Bishop.

On May 23, 1923, following the death of Bishop H. O. Chalifoux, who was first Auxiliary Bishop of Sherbrooke, Mgr. Gagnon was named assistant to Bishop LaRocque. Afterwards he was consecrated Bishop of Spiga by Archbishop Gauthier, of Montreal. This impressive ceremony took place on June 23, 1923, in the Pauline Chapel of St. Michael's Cathedral, Sherbrooke. On July 19, 1923, he was named Vicar-General and on July 16, 1926, became Dean of the Chapter of the Sherbrooke Cathedral.

At a public consistory in Rome on June 23, 1927, he was named third Bishop of Sherbrooke and was enthroned by Bishop Forbes, of Joliette, on September 29, 1927.

On numerous occasions the citizens generally have openly proclaimed their affection for the spiritual head of the Catholic Church in this district. Whenever the occasion presented itself Catholic and Protestant alike have joined in manifestation of love and esteem to the venerable gentleman who has given fifty-three years of his life to the service of the Master.

A sincere Christian, a wise counsellor, a true friend and an honest, upright gentleman, Bishop Gagnon stands for all that is noble and good.

He is in every sense a noble Christian gentleman of whom it might well be said "on God and God-like men we build our trust."

PRAYER FOR A SENSE OF HUMOR.

Violet Alleyn Storey in the New York Times

Out of Thy sense of humor's superabundance,
Lend, Lord, this day, some small amount to me,
For mine it would seem that I had lost entirely,
Since I must take myself so seriously!
Make me start skipping when I would walk sedately,
Make me burst into song when I would preach—
And whatever solemn sin I'm for committing
Snatch, on my sudden laughter, out of reach!

Seldovia, Alaska, October 10.—Alaska's first woman legislator — flying Nell Scott—was elected without making a single campaign speech.

The Seldovia Woman's aerial campaign ignored both political practice and traditions of feminine talkativeness. She let her masculine opponents have the first and last word, while she took the votes.

She covered the district in an airplane, having heart to heart talks with individual voters and key persons in organizations.

BRITISH AVIATION PARTY RESCUED ON MALAY COAST

Passing Steamer Rescued Aviation Expert and Three Companions, Forced Down on Beach After Failure of Gasoline Supply.

Port Darwin, Australia, Oct. 19—Lord Sempill, British aviation authority, and three companions have been rescued from a lonely beach on the coast of Timor in the Malay archipelago where they made a forced landing two days ago, it was learned here today.

The party took off from here Tuesday for Koepang, capital of Timor, with only seven hours' fuel supply. When they were unreported for twenty-four hours ships and planes were sent to search for them.

The fliers landed on the beach early Wednesday and were picked up by a British steamer en route from Australia to Durban, South Africa. The plane, which was damaged in landing, was abandoned. The fliers were not injured.

Letters To The Editor

A GOOD SOUNDING NAME TENDS TO RAISE TONE OF A STREET.

To The Editor,
Sherbrooke Record.
Dear Sir:

The action of the local Historical Society in persuading the City Council to change the name of Water street to Abenakis street, and of that continuation of St. Francis street (which almost became Langis Canal) to Grand Forks street, was highly commendable. But why did they rest there?

The name of a street means much more than just a postal and house address. It can influence the whole development of a neighbourhood. Conversely, of course, neighbourhoods sometimes acquire reputations hardly in keeping with their street names, but such a situation is not likely to arise in Sherbrooke.

We have in Sherbrooke a magnificent boulevard in Queen street. Yet Queen street it remains, whereas Alxandre street becomes Alexandre Boulevard! Queen Mary Boulevard would be more in keeping than Queen street, and at the same time it would commemorate the name of a gracious and beloved Queen.

A worse situation arises in regard to numbered streets and avenues. East Sherbrooke (on the map) has a series of numbered avenues running from First avenue almost ad infinitum. This system, while perhaps necessary in a great city the size of New York, is not only ridiculous in Sherbrooke but also as dull as dis-water.

It cannot be that we have run out of names. First let us consider the names of sister Canadian cities. We have Montreal and Quebec, but where are Halifax, St. Johns, Toronto, Kingston, Ottawa, Kitchener, Winnipeg Edmonton Regina and Vancouver? There are also many great Canadian patriots whose naes could be similarly commemorated: MacDonald, Cartier, MacKenzie, Papineau and many, many others.

These remarks are not intended in a frivolous vein. It is a well-known fact that a good-sounding name tends to raise the tone of a street, and an example is West mount, where even the names sound "Westmountish," and here it might be pointed out that "street" and "avenue" are not the only words for street. There are also boulevard, terrace, crescent, circle, square, lane, walk and road.

IMPROVER

THE SOYBEAN.

To The Editor,
Sherbrooke Record,
Dear Sir:

Referring to the article in your issue of October 5th, may we say that you are to be commended for bringing soybeans to the attention of the public for we well know how widely the Record is read throughout the Townships.

The growing of the soya bean and its many uses for food, medicine and in industry are bringing it to a high place in the commercial world. In fact, in the United States it has been arised to the status of a primary crop and last Monday for the first time was traded on the Grain Exchange.

May we say that while the article was under the caption "Paying Winter Job For Farmers," the soya bean is sown in May, matures in a hundred to a hundred and fifteen days and is harvested in September. The average yield is fourteen to twenty-four bushels an acre.

The quotation mentioned of $1.18 a bushel was, of course, F.O.B. Chicago, the present price in Montreal being around $1.50 at the factory and $3.50 to $4.50 for selected seed. There is at all times a ready market and demand exceeds supply.

This makes a lucrative cash crop for the grower. Furthermore, being a legume deriving eighty-five per cent. of its sustenance from nitrogen in the air, the soya bean is a valauble agent for resuscitating land wihch has petered out for lack of fertilization.

The soil of the Eastern Townships is well suited for the purpose and we know from enquiries many farmers contemplate growing this crop. We have thought it of sufficient general interest to write you on the subject and trust you will deem it worth while passing along to our farmer friends through the good old Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Your truly,
The Province of Quebec Soybean Growers' Association.

"CALLING THE ROAD DEPARTMENT"

To The Editor,
Sherbrooke Record,
Dear Sir:

In view of the great amount of money that is being poured into public improvements in Sherbrooke, could a lowly pedestrian-taxpayer respectfully suggest that the Council consider paving the sidewalk on Strathcona Square from Marquette street to the Q.C.R. Building? This is the only example of the ancient flag-stone sidewalk to be found in the business section, and in winter the surface is a glare of ice, while in summer, when it rains, puddles large and small make walking tiresome.

BUSINESS MUST GO ON AS USUAL.

Lewes, Del., Oct. 10.—A barber wanted to move his shop, but he hated to take time out to do it.

So he loaded the shop, lock, stock, and barrel, onto greased wooden beams and started down the street.

En route—he moved it several blocks—twenty-six customers, both men and women, climbed confidently into the visibly trembling chairs and received treatment. No casualties were reported.

In ancient Rome, silken fabric dyed purple cost as much as $1,800 a pound.

St Paul's Conception of Thanksgiving

2 Cor. I; 4—"Blessed be the God of all comfort, Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble."

Few sayings of the Great Apostle reveal so clearly as this how truly he had found Christ, and been found in Him. The very spirit of the Master is here. The Church in Corinth had been a disappointment. The future looked very dark and cheerless, but God had spoken to his soul a word of comfort; and, note this particularly, St. Paul thanked the Lord because the comfort that had come to him gave him the power to give like comfort to others! The words quoted above are the expression of the heartfelt gratitude of a strong, active man, zealous in good works.

A lesser man than this could not rise to the full appreciation of a gratitude so lofty and so freed from all selfishness. Superstition prompts such a man to thank God for gifts and kindnesses which go no farther than himself. Or, like the Pharisee, he says in effect: "God, I thank Thee that I am not as other men are." While his own home is comfortable, his own table bountifully supplied, his own future apparently secure, he is disposed to say, with the poet: "God's in His Heaven, All's right with the World!"

Not so with the Apostle. Not so with the true Christian—who looks beyond himself to a larger purpose, which includes other lives less favored than his own.

And, strange as it may appear, this realization of a vaster purpose strengthens in the man the conviction of the Heavenly Father's personal love and care.

Evidently, then, if I am in the habit of giving praise and thanks to God simply for food and clothing, and house, and friends, I may even allow myself to drift into the attitude that, practically, He exists, for me, in order that I may be warm, and comfortable, and well-fed. Of course, this is utterly absurd, and yet thousands of quite respectable, cultured men and women live and act as if that were exactly what they believed. They either fail to see, or refuse to see, the larger purpose.

They are individualists in their religion, as they are in their business and their pleasures. The description "rugged" has been applied to people of this caliber; perhaps the adjective "little" were more appropriate.

The Pharisee wanted to keey himself as different from other people as possible; the Christian thanks God for His blessings and comforts because he always hopes and strives that others may share the same help and joy.

The very appointment of a day of national thanksgiving is a rebuke to the individualistic, ego-centric spirit. It is a reminder of the essential belonging together of citizens of the same Dominion and Empire, it tells of mercies, and forgiveness, and loving-kindnesses, that we share in common, and for which we gladly offer our meed of gratitude to the Author and Giver of every good and perfect gift.

But even this is not inclusive enough. There is such a thing as "Racial Individualism," such as was manifested by the Jews when they called all other races "Gentiles," or the Greeks, in whose sight all others were "Barbarians," or the Germans today in their carefully-fostered pride in a non-existent racial solidarity. The rampant nationalism of these post-war days is nothing more or less than "Group-Individualism," and is far more pernicious, because infinitely more dangerous, than the petty self-inflation of contemporary exemplars of the gentleman in the parable who planned to pull down his barns and build greater wherein to bestow all his fruits and his goods.

Democracy has its shortcomings and its dangers; its governments may be weak and indecisive, and its counsels be divided by faction—as in France, throughout whose history as a republic the average tenure of a ministry is less than six months! But, however great an evil faction may be, it is at least a proof of the liberty of the subject; hence Fascism, Nazism, and Communism alike refuse to tolerate it. The aim of dictatorships is to standardize or stereotype thought, conduct, and belief in the interests of the super-individual at the head of the super-state.

Selfishness is almost as unlovely a vice in a race, as it is in an individual. Christ taught the "Brotherhood of Man"; with Him there was neither Jew nor Greek, bond nor free; and St. Paul, though a patriotic Jew, and citizen of no mean city, kept this ideal ever before his eyes, and proclaimed that the Gentiles were fellow-heirs of the promises. He was, above all, an altruist, and, like all truly great men, he felt he was not his own, and that what God gave him, He gave him for mankind. Such a man cannot, dare not, absorb for his own use all that he receives, but is, as it were, a point of radiation for God's light. St. Paul could not only voice the splendid chant of thanksgiving for personal salvation: "Unto Him that loved us and washed us from our sins be glory and dominion"; but also the more sober thanksgiving for usefulness: "Blessed be the God of comfort, Who comforteth us that we may be able to comfort them that are in tribulation." The Great Apostle felt it to be his calling and election, not only to live a manly life for God's sake, but also to live a godly life for men's sake.

HAIL NEW DRUG IN TREATMENT OF NERVE DISEASE

Derived from Milk Sugar, Latest Drug Is Said to Be Important in Treatment of Epilepsy and Excessive Thyroid Activity.

Washington, Oct. 10—A new drug hailed as more effective than old chemicals in the treatment of epilepsy, excessive thyroad acticity, neurasthenia and other nervous diseases has been developed by the Bureau of Standards.

It carries the imposing name of "calcium labtobionate-calcium bromide" and its maker, Dr. H. S. Isbell, sugar chemist of the Bureau, declared today it "gives promise of becoming an important medicinal agent" in the treatment of nervous conditions where complete rest is essential.

No clinical applications have been made of the chemical in the United States, Dr. Isbell declared, and he was reluctant to make any sweeping claims for it.

"The application of this drug to human diseases is the province of the medical profession," he said, "and I hope that physicians will cooperate with the Bureau of Standards in testing it."

Clinical tests have been made in Switzerland and Germany where the drug was made independently, Dr. Isbell added, and have been reported in medical journals from those countries as being highly effective. Sixty-seven cases at the University of Munster, Germany, and forty-seven cases at the University of Berne gave encouraging results in the treatment of nervous disorders.

The basic ingredient is lactose, or milk sugar. Passing of an electric current through a solution of the sugar converts it to lactobionic acid by the addition of a molecue of oxygen. This is then combined with calcium and bromine in solution to form the new salt.

STATE HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN HELD "INEVITABLE"

Toronto, Oct. 10.—State health insurance in Ontario is "inevitable," Hon. David A. Croll, Ontario Minister of Welfare Labor, told a druggists' meeting here, adding that when the legislation was ultimately passed the insurance plan would be built upon the framework already provided the province's medical-relief system.

"It's inevitable," he said. "It's as certain as I'm standing here that within our time a system of state health insurance will be introduced in Ontario."

MARTINVILLE GIRL DIES OF HER INJURIES

Six-Year-Old Carmen Simard, Daughter of Ligouri Simard, Succumbed to Fractured Skull in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital —Sherbrooke and Marbleton Women Injured.

A six-year-old girl was dead today and two other persons injured as the result of accidents in this district. A fracture of the skull and of the right leg, received on Tuesday last when struck by an automobile while playing on the road in front of her home, proved fatal last evening to Carmen Simard, daughter of Ligouri Simard, of Martinville. The six-year-old girl died from her injuries in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital at 6:30 o'clock last evening. An inquest will be held today by Coroner Leonidas Bachand.

Mrs. Edgar Roy, fifty-three years old, R.R. No. 2, Sherbrooke, was severely burned about the back and legs this morning in an explosion that occurred when she endeavored to light her kitchen stove with the aid of coal oil. The explosion set the woman's garments in flames and she was severely lacerated and burned before her blazing clothes were extinguished. She was rushed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital.

Mrs. B. F. Staples, sixty years of age, of Marbleton, suffered several fractured ribs last evening when she was trampled by a cow which attacked her in the pasture. Mrs. Staples and Miss Violet Besant, eighteen years old, entered the pasture to remove a new-born calf. The cow resented the interference and charged the woman. Miss Besant's cries for help brought assistance. Mrs. Staples is confined to her home.

"Great Scott! wot'll I do? New shoes not delivered yet—old ones look like heck — girl friend waitin' to go to that chicken-pie supper...."

COUNT DE CAIX GUEST IN CITY LAST EVENING

Former Member on Commission of Mandates at Geneva Regards War in Europe as "Very Great Possibility" — Situation in France Turbulent.

War in Europe is regarded as a "very great possibility" by Count Robert de Caix, of Staymour, France, one of the editors of "Le Journal des Debats," Paris, and a former member on the Commission of Mandates at Geneva, who was in this city last night.

He descirbed Germany as "no longer a country, but an immense barracks." In such intense and feverish rearmament, he said, lies danger of an European conflict.

Count de Caix was the guest of honor at a reception held at the Union Musicale Salon on Frontenac street. He arrived in Sherbrooke yesterday afternoon, motoring from the Maitimes, where he has been studying the Acadian question.

Count de Caix inaugurated L'Alliance Francaise in this city several years ago and in 1930 decorated the late Monsignor E. C. Tanguay with the medal of Officer of Public Instruction.

The situation in France today, he said, was turbulent, but Premier Blum's Government would likely remain in power for a comparatively long period provided it did not antagonize the Radical element.

He described as "ridiculous" the Communist claim that Col. de la Rocque's Fascist group was working under instruction from Berlin.

"Col. de la Rocque is a patriot. He is a man who possesses great personal magnetism, but he has no definite political policy. He has been pushed to the forefront by the large group of dissatsified citizens."

The Count referred to the civil war in Spain. Victory for the Government, he said, would probably mean that "Moscow wil try to foment trouble in other countries." On the other hand, an insurgent victory would result in order in Spain itself, but a certain amount of disturbance, although not likely to lead to war in other European countries, to his opinion.

ORFORD W. I. MADE PLANS FOR QUARTERLY MEETING

Formulating plans for the county quarterly meeting in November and making arrangements for a card party, which through the courtesy of Mrs. Andrew Faith will be held at her home, occupied the members of the Orford Women's Institute who met this week at Miss K. Thompson's home on the Montreal Road. The roll call was answered by "A Law Affecting Women." Mrs. Faith, the president, presided, and after some discussion the MacKinnon Memorial was decided upon as the meeting place for the November session of theCounty W.I. After the meeting a pleasant social hour was enjoyed, the hostesses, Miss Thompson and Mrs. Ralph Olyer, serving afternoon tea They were assisted in their hospitable duties by Miss Joyce Richards and Mrs. G. Richards.

THANKSGIVING DINNER AT THE CATHEDRAL

Under the joint supervision of Mrs. Leonidas Bachand and Mrs. L. N. Boisvert, the Annual Thanksgiving Dinner in aid of the Grey Nuns will be held in the Cathedral Basement on Monday evening, October 12th, at 6 and at 7 o'clock. An eminent Frenchman once said: "The table is the only place where one is never lonely during the first hour." The implication carries double force at this Annual Dinner which, for its excellence, has gained wide renown during the past few years. For those who enjoy French cooking, it would be the part of wisdom to be at the Cathedral on Thanksgiving evening. The dinner starts with hors-d'oeuvres and is followed by one delicious course after another until the final taste of wine brings to an end an hour of perfect satisfaction. Don't miss it.

TWO MILES FALLS VISITED BY LOCAL MAYOR AND ALDERMEN

An examination of the City of Sherbrooke property at Two Miles Falls near Weedon, where the city is contemplating construction of a new power devolpment, was made yesterday by Mayor Emile Rioux and a number of Aldermen and city officials.

The party visited the premises, Mayor Rioux stated to a Record representative today, particularly to see where the dam would be built should the city decide to go ahead with the power development project.

"Our main object," he said, "was to see how much land would be covered by water should the dam be built, so we might have an idea of just where to locate our camps for the men who would cut the timber and clear the land."

He denied a report that the erection of a retaining wall would be commenced on the site in the immediate future. No such decision had been reached, the Mayor said.

Mayor Rioux was accompanied to Weedon by Aldermen Armitage, Genest, Lacriox and Thibault, J. R. McGregor, superintendent of the Gas and Electric Department, and W. L. McSwiggan, building inspector.

ASCOT W. I. ENJOYED UNUSUALLY INTERESTING SESSION

"Children's Sleep" was the subject of an outstandingly interesting and instructive article read by Mrs. L. Parnell, convener of Child Welfare, at the October meeting of the Ascot Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Walter Browne.

Mrs. LaBonte, convener of Education and Better Schools, reported that the W. I. had given prizes in each grade for mathematics. These had been presented at the Ascot School opening. Members were urged to decide, as soon as they conveniently could, what prizes they would give next year, thus enabling the committee to post printed lists of awards in the School at the earliest possible moment. The Short Course committee was accounted for by Mrs. Pearson, and members expressed their approval of several changes which have been made recently. During the discussion on medical inspection in schools the suggestion was made that members interview parents of children attending school. Suggestions for "girls' work" occupied some time and were referred to Mrs. F. S. Browne, a member of the programme committee.

A food sale had successfully augmented the W. I. funds, and plans were made for catering for the Ploughman's Banquet, which occurs next week, this event being the reason for holding the W. I. meeting a week earlier than usual. The roll call was answered by "Prominent Educators."

Following adjournment, a pleasant social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostesses, Mrs. W. Browne, Mrs. Billings and Mrs. F. Mitchell, served a delicious afternoon tea. They were assisted by Miss Edith Browne. Mrs. Lipsey will entertain the members at the next meeting.

REPORTER, SEEKING NEWS, STRUCK BY BICYCLE.

A member of the Sherbrooke Record's alert editorial staff sallied forth blithely this morning in quest of up-to-the-minute news for today's edition. He had not a care in the world and was in unusual good humor despite the spirit-dampening weather conditions.

A few minutes later he returned. His re-appearance, minus the loud whistling which generally heralds his arrival and which almost drowns out the noise of the electric drill on Wellington street, caused some eyebrow lifting on the part of the other members of the staff.

Yes, something had happened, and it was not long before the reason for the unnatural quietness was learned.

Something on the other side of the street had attracted the attention of the news gatherer and he prepared to cross. Rather than have an argument with a heavy truck over the right-of-way, he stood on the sidewalk awaiting his chance to jay walk across the busy thoroughfare.

He saw a chance and started to dart across. But a bicycle, travelling on the wrong side, struck him before he had made two steps. The "victim" was tossed dangerosly close to an electric light post, while the bicycle and its rider, a messenger boy, skidded into the middle of the street, leaving a heap of parcels to mark the spot where the mishap had occurred. No medical attention was needed, but plenty of soothing words were necessary to calm the "victim's" ruffled feelings.

A few moments later Lord's ambulance rushed through the streets on an emergency call.

"I'm glad it was the bicycle and not Lord's ambulance that hit me," was the philosophical remark as a clatter of typewriter keys wrote "30" to the incident—and also helped to partly silence the tuneless warbling.

The giant kangaroo, in full flight, bounds from ten to twelve feet in a single leap. When standing erect, it is nearly as tall as a man.

Gent: "Is there any soup on the bill of fare?"

Waiter: "There was, sir, but I wiped it off."

Judge: "Can't this case be settled out of court?"

Kelly: "Sure, that's what we were trying to do, your honor, when the police interfered."

BURY RESIDENT ATTEMPTED TO TAKE OWN LIFE

Levi Allison, Sixty Years Old, Rushed to Local Hospital at Noon Today Suffering from Gash About the Neck.

Bury, Oct. 10. — Levi Allison, sixty years old, who was released from the Verdun Hospital three months ago, was rushed by Lord's ambulance to a Sherbrooke hospital at noon today suffering from a self-inflicted gash about the neck.

The sixty-year-old Bury resident, reported very despondent for the pas week, crawled into the hayloft on the property of his sister, Mrs. Ernest Burgess, where he resided, at eleven o'clock this morning and slashed his throat with a sharp instrument.

He was found by his sister and medical aid was immediately summoned.

Allison spent two years in the Verdun Hospital and was released only three months ago. Since then he worked on Osborne Dougherty's farm near here. A week ago he abandoned his work and came to reside with his sister and Mr. Burgess. He was in a despondent and discouraged mood.

LATEST PARIS COSTUMES CARRY TRIMMING ON BACK

Belts Are Few and Far Between in Fall Presentation of Paris Designers—Plain Flat Fronts and Tricky Backs Feature of Evening Wear.

Paris, Oct. 10. — The latest costumes are trimmed in the back, blouses and shirtwaists as well as dresses conforming to the new rule of fashion.

The front of gowns and blouses is worn smooth with just enough fullness to drape the figure gracefully.

Some of the new blouses have little high collars ending in the back in scarf effects that can be twisted around the neck to tie in a large bow. Others have rows of buttons down the back to close them. Sparkling clips are used in the same manner on more formal blouses.

The belts are very few and far between, but those still to be seen have ornate buckles in the centre of the back. Many gowns are closed in the back by means of laced cords, of silk or wool for the day, and gold or silver for afternoon and evening suits.

Evening blouses and gowns continue to leave the back pretty bare, in spite of efforts to resuscitate the front decollet. Most of the evening dresses have plain flat fronts and tricky backs. Maggy Rouff puts fullness in the back of one of her gowns by using horizontal rows of shirring. Patou does the same type of thing with flat skirts by adding lots of shirring behind. It floats gracefully when in motion.

ATTRACTIONS AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

THE GRANADA.

The unfortunate course on which one child is sent by the separation of his parents in treated with appealing effect in "Let's Sing Again," which will head the Granada Theatre bill tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

The subject of the story is "Billy," an eight year old boy, who is gifted with a wonderful voice. "Billy" is confined in an orphanage after his mother deserted her poor but aspiring husband, who was also a singer.

Choked with a desire for freedom to express his endowed gift, "Billy" flees from the orphange and charms a tent show handyman, who is also an erstwhile singer. They both go to New York and wend their way to the home of a famous concert singer whose guest-of-honor chances to be "Billy's" father.

Through the medium of a song he used to sing to his son in the cradle, they are reunited in a heart-gripping denouement.

The cast also includes George Houston, Vivienne Osborne and Henry Armetta.

The second attraction on this same bill will be "The Return of Sophie Lang," starring Gertrude Michael with Ray Milland, Sir Guy Standing and Elizabeth Patterson in the supporting cast.

THE PREMIER

The home of a wealthy man is in the grip of terror. In the dining room a man lies sprawled across the table, dead. One hand is twisted to his back in an attempt to get at the knife which caused his death. Eight persons might have committed the murder. All had sufficient reason to kill the man. All eight now stare in fright and horror at the body. Suddenly, one of the guests asks that the scene be re-enacted. The lights are turned out again. Without warning, the murderer strikes again. Another man gasps his last in the darkness. Only a long wicked knife plunged to the hilt in his back tells how he came to his death.

This is the suspence in "Blackmailer," with William Gargan, Florence Rice and H. B. Warner, which will be the "headliner" at the Premier Theatre for three days, beginning tomorrow.

"Bengal Tiger," which will be the second picture on this bill, is packed with adventure and excitement, as well as romance.

In this picture, Barton MacLane plays the role of a fearless animal trainer. Reckless in his daring, he is finally clawed by one of the tigers and is saved from death only by the prompt action of his assistant, who loses his own life in rescuing him. Back on the job he looked up his assistant's daughter. He finds her in trouble and in jail, but manages to obtain her freedom and marries her.

Barton MacLane, June Travis, Warren Hull, Paul Graetz and Joseph King have the leading roles.

The Gorgeous Hussy

Novelized from the METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER Picture

By HALSEY RAINES

What has happened so far: Peggy Eaton, wife of the Secretary of War and confidante of President Andrew Jackson, pays a secret farewell visit to Senator John Randolph as he lies dying from an assassin's bullet. She had loved Randolph ever since she was a school girl, but never married him because of his political differences with Jackson. As she is leaving, escorted by an old friend, Rowdy Dow, a man outside, an old admirer of Peggy's, demands money for keeping the visit unknown. Rowdy kills him in the ensuing struggle, and gets Peggy away in her carriage before the police arrest him.

CHAPTER XII.

Someone had seen Peggy with Rowdy in the carriage, and further evidence was offered that she had met him at Gadsby's Inn. While this did not, of course, involve her directly in the self-defence killing of Sunderland, it did create a tempest of talk all over Washington.

The loquacious dowagers to whom gossip was meat and drink went into a huddle, and decided that a formal protest should be filed with Vice-President Calhoun.

They did not know that Peggy had gone to visit the dying Randolph, but they had invented an ingenious explanation for the fact that she was along with Dow. She had accompanied him, they said, to the town of Warrenton for the purpose of immoral conduct, and while under the influence of liquor had provoked a street quarrel between him and Sunderland, resulting fatally for the latter.

Peggy normally would have paid no heed to such a fantastic piece of calumny, but now she had her husband to think about. As a national figure, this undercover talk would injure him politically. Eaton himself heard Peggy's story of what happened from her own lips, and never doubted it for an instant. But he was a quiet, reserved man, and he did not wish to involve the name of the dead Virginia Senator in the affair, if it could be avoided.

The committee that waited upon Calhoun included Mrs. Bomfret Beall, the pinch-faced Louisa Abbot and some of the other chief scalpel-wielders of Washington society. Mrs. Beall, as spokeswoman, presented her case eloquently, only the peculiar glint in her eys betraying the morbid hatred she felt for Peggy. She described the alleged actions of the latter as an affront to all principles of decent conduct and said in conclusion:

"We must insist that you as Vice-President demand of our misguided Chief Executive that this woman be expelled, once and for all, from our community!"

The Vice-President politely said he would present their ultimatum to the President, and Mrs. Beall led her feline drove away.

Meanwhile the wives of Cabinet officers had brought private pressure of their own to bear, and when the President's advisory body next convened the air was thick enough to be cut with a knife. The presence of John Eaton made the situation all the more embarrassing. Finally Secretary Samuel Ingham, hemmed and hawed his way to the point at issue: that some drastic action ought to be taken about the wife of the Secretary of War.

"You see, Mr. President," he explained, "the unpleasant accusations against this woman are based upon the sworn statements of the most respectable members of our community."

"Ah!" cried Jackson. "I ain't a mentionin' any names but are these here respectable spew-cats ready to place their claws on the Holy Book an' swear they saw what they say happened? I suppose they was hiddin' in a corner disguised as lamp shades."

Secretary Ingham waited for somebody else to break the tense silence, and, when no one did, ventured another word himself.

"The whole thing is very distressing," he said, "but you see—"

"No 'buts'!" shouted Jackson. "By the Eternal, there ain't one of you man enough to bring your proof forward. Git this! An' git it straight! Everyone o' you kin go to thunder! The administration kin go to thunder; But I'm goin' to have justice!"

"Old Hickory" had never made a threat in the heat of combat that he was not prepared to carry out, and this case was no exception. Within forty-eight hours Washington extras carried streamers disclosing the wholesale dismissal of the Jackson Cabinet, to avenge the Peggy Eaton slander. Mrs. Beall toppled back on her chaise longue and called for smelling salts when she heard the news, and other ladies of her circle displayed similar inelegant reactions.

But the battle was not over. Calhoun brought to Jackson's study the following day Horatio Peabody, a bigoted but extremely influential social leader whose official title was Chairman of the Society for the Protection of Public Morals.

"Mr. Peabody," said Calhoun, introducing him, "is cognizant of all the facts."

"What facts" demanded Jackson, with a belligerent glare.

"I have made no statement," said Peabody awkwardly, "that they were actually witnessed by me, or any of my colleagues, but—"

"Excuse me," said John Eaton, interrupting, "but I think Peggy ought to be here."

Jackson gave a nod of assent, and Eaton stepped to the next room to escort his wife into the study.

"Sit down, honey," said the President. "This gentleman thinks he's found your finger-prints smeared all over the black monument o' Sin." He pounded his fist on the desk with a resounded crack. "But, by Eternal, I been waitin' for this moment!"

He paused momentarily for emphasis, then pointed an accusing finger at Peabody.

"Now git this an' take it home to your scurvy colleagues! Mrs. Margaret Eaton travelled to Warrenton under my express orders to visit the late John Randolph o' Roanoke — God rest his loyal soul! — an' Mr. Roderick Dow escorted her through the request of her own husband, Mr. Secretary Eaton!"

Peggy gave a gasp. She looked at Calhoun and Peabody. They were both speechless.

"Now, my fine Ambassador o' Public Morals," added Jackson, looking at Peggy and pointing at the door, "git out!"

No one spoke, after the others left, for a few dramatic moments. Then Peggy stepped forward and placed one hand on the President's.

"Funny," smiled Jackson, "my conscience don't hurt me the way it ought to."

"You've won a great victory for me," said Peggy seriously. "But there's something else on my mind now."

"I don't know what you're thinkin'," said Jackson, "but I do know youre still holdin' the fate of this administration an' maybe the country in the palm o' your purty hand."

"That's a great compliment," returned Peggy. "It's a temptation for any woman, but it isn't worth the price."

"What do you mean?" asked the President.

"I mean that no one person, however well meaning, ought to attract so much attention away from the main affairs of state. When they keep talking about me people will forget the real issues of the nation. If I'm half the person you think I am, there's only one sensible thing for me to do."

"What's that?" queried Jackson.

"Git!" replied Peggy.

Jackson studied her for a few careful moments, a quizzical smile playing over his face. Finally he spoke.

"I guess maybe youre right," he said. "An' I got the answer. How'd you like it if I made John Minister to the Court o' Spain?"

* * *

It was almost sailing time, and Peggy and John Eaton were the center of an admiring group. Major O'Neale was on board for a farewell hug and kiss, and Cuthbert had brought a small bunch of flowers from the courtyard of the Franklin Inn.

At the last moment a familiar figure hopped over the rail. It was Rowdy Dow.

"Rowdy!" cried Peggy, throwing her arms about him. "How did you get here?"

"He pardoned me," answered Rowdy, with a significant glance at the tall figure of the President. Then he took Peggy's hands. "Are you really happy at leaving Washington?"

"Of course," she replied. "Wouldn't you be if you were going to mingle with kings and queens, to say nothing of lowly dukes and duchesses?"

"Even if you don't mean it," Rowdy returned, "you're fooling everybody but me."

Jackson was the last person to bid Peggy adieu.

"Remember," he said, "maybe Spain'll git your purty smile for a spell, but your heart's stayin' right here with me, to help me keep goin'."

"I reckon you're not half started yet," said Peggy. Jackson laughed.

"There's a new tune," he said, "written by a friend o' mine named Sam Smith. I'm a-goin' to have him an' the boys play it for you."

As the boat glided away the strans of "America" floated across the water. Peggy, eyes filling with tears, stood alone at the stern. "Good-bye, John Randolph," she murmured to herself.

Then Eaton came to her side, and she turned to him with one of those rare smiles that only she could command.

"It is a pretty tune," she said. "Isn't it, John?"

THE END.

Oliver Cromwell issued a Puritan proclamation that made Christmas feasting illegal in England from 1644 to 1662.

ERWIN A. TICEHURST, TOMIFOBIA

Tomifobia, Oct. 10.—This community was shocked and saddened on Saturday afternoon, September 26, 1936, by the sudden passing of one of its lifelong and respected citizens in the person of Mr. Erwin A. Ticehurst. Mr. Ticehurst was born on the old farm at Ticehurst Corner, October 4, 1865, the son of Caleb and Rosamond (Brainerd) Ticehurst. ### MRS. BERTHA THOMAS, STANBRIDGE RIDGE.

Stanbridge Ridge, Oct. 10—After an illness of only a few days' duration, Mrs. Bertha Thomas, nee Whitman, widow of Mr. Lorenzo L. Thomas, passed away at her home here on Tuesday, September 29th. The deceased was seventy-seven years of age, and although she had suffered from injuries received when she fell and fractured her shoulder two years ago, was in other respects in good health until she was suddenly stricken four days previous to her death with a malady which in spite of loving care and constant medical attention, proved fatal.

Mrs. Thomas was a woman of sterling character, who will be missed by hosts of friends.

Sincere sympathy in their great loss is extended to the bereaved family, which includes her daughter, Mrs. Carl Vaughan; a son-in-law, Mr. Vaughan; two grandchildren, Miss Hilda Vaughan and Mr. Clifford Vaughan; one sister, Mrs. E. Schofield, of St. Albans, Vt.; two brothers, Messrs. Homer and R. Whitman, of Richford, Vt., besides several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in the Stone Church on Thursday, October 1st, and were largely attended by sorrowing and sympathizing neighbors, relatives and friends.

Quantities of beautiful floral tributes were silent testimonials of condolence from numerous friends. Rev. F. B. Staes, of Stanbridge East, and Rev. H. V. Fricker, of Bedford, conducted the services.

The bearers were Messrs. Arthur Sheltus and Frank Best, of Bedford, and George Phelps and Archie Sager, of this place.

LOCAL LADIES OPENED CHURCH LEAGUE SEASON

Four St. Andrew's Church Teams Victorious in Opening Games of Y. W. C. A. Inter-Church League — St. Faith's Guild Downed Trinity Church in Fifth Fixture.

Rivalry for the championship of the Y.W.C.A. Inter-Church Bowling League this year practically boils down to St. Andrew's against the "rest of the world." The Presbyterians have entered no less than four quintettes in the ten-team circuit this season and all four were victorious in the opening ga...es of the schedule. Composing the remainder of the group are two Plymouth Church aggregations, two teams representing St. Peter's and one each from the Trinity and Baptist churches.

The St. Andrew's Lady Amateurs posted the highest aggregate of the opening programme as they sent the Plymouth "A" ladies down to defeat. The St. Andrew's Auxiliary ranked second in the pinfall column with its triumph over the Baptist title seekers, while the Andrewettes had a team total of seven hundred as they started their campaign victoriously against their Plymouth "B" opponents. Although missing a player, St. Andrew's Guild took the measure of St. Peter's Guild by a margin of 182 pins.

The only fixture in which a Presbyterian squad was not involved resulted in St. Faith's Guild defeating Trinity Church in the closest contest of the week, only twenty-eight pins separating the two teams.

Mrs. R. Patton, of the Andrewettes, was the high scorer of the week with a two-string aggregate of 211, while Miss L. Burns, of St. Andrew's Auxiliary, won single-string honors with a total of 111.

ONLY FOUR AGGREGATIONS IN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE

Interest in big-pin bowling appears to be waning in Sherbrooke if the Industrial League can be held up as an example of the trend toward duckpin trundling locally. In sharp contrast to the dimensions of the Industrial League last season, there are only four teams seeking the 1936-37 championship. Lack of interest and inability to secure playing facilities because of the increasing popularity of the duckpin game are given as the principal reasons for the few entries in the Industrial circuit this year.

In the opening fixtures last evening the Queen's quintette blanked New Bowling, while Modernistik nosed out the Levesque, Ltd., squad by two strings to one, winning the deciding contest by the margin of a single pin.

Archie Bishop, after hanging up his racquet following a successful tennis season, set the pace last night with a single-string score of 200 and a triple aggregate of 526. Others rolling over five hundred for three strings were R. Waller with 525, Ernie Taylor with 520, and W. Reid with 516.

MITCHELL'S TOOK THREE STRINGS FROM ST. PAT'S

It would have been just the game had Mitchell's claimed their Y.M.C.A. Five-Pin Bowling League game against St. Pat's by default when the Irishmen failed to appear as per schedule Thursday night. The Irishmen rolled their three strings last night and failed to beat the scores the hardware merchants had produced the previous evening—even the low aggregate of 756 recorded in the opening contest.

Bert Ross was the subject of considerable ribbing by his team-mates when he failed to get more than 430 for his three strings. He had company last night, however, when Len O'Donnell missed the marker so frequently that he finished with an aggregate of 360. Harry Petts and Jim Corfield rolled high single-string totals of 244, while the former led the three-string column with 627.

KING AND QUEEN OF TENNISDOM

Fred Perry, of England, and Helen Hull Jacobs, of California, who have been named the world's greatest tennis players of 1936. Perry retained his No. 1 position without dispute by holding the all-England title and regaining the United States championship, while Miss Jacobs was elevated to the top rung mainly as a reward for her perseverance in winning the Wimbledon crown after eight unsuccessful attempts and despite her loss of the United States title.

HELEN JACOBS AND PERRY TOP COURT RANKING

British Ace and California Girl Selected as World's Greatest Tennis Players of 1936 by British Authority.

New York, Oct. 10.—England's Fred Perry and California's Helen Hull Jacobs are the world's greatest tennis players of 1936 in their respective divisions. This is the judgment of A. Wallis Myers, British authority who annually lists the world's "first 10" of the net game.

Miss Jacobs succeeds Mrs. Helen Wills Moody as women's ruler on the strength of her successful bid for the Wimbledon title after eight unsuccessful attempts.

Commenting on his selections, Myers said:

"Miss Jacobs won the all-England title after eight attempts, yet 1936 was not her best year. She was defeated by four players and was lucky to survive her match against a fifth (Frau Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling, of Germany and Denmark).

"Perry had a great year, but still he is not as great as Bill Tilden was Donald Budge, of Oakland, Cal., has made great strides since his first appearance at Wimbledon last year. He is in a class apart in America."

Myers listed Anita Lizana, of Chile, as the most improved player of the year.

This year's rankings saw the red-headed Budge pull up from sixth to third behind the German, Gottfried von Cramm; Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Tex., 1935 United States titleholder, drop from fourth to seventh, and Bryan "Bitsy" Grant, Jr., of Atlanta, admitted to the exclusive set for the first time at No. eight.

Two others, Adrian Karl Quist, of Australia, and Heiner Henkel, of Germany, also were given international ratings as Sydney Wood, of New York, Frank Shields, of Hollywood, and Christian Boussus, of France, were dropped.

Back of the three leaders, Myers graded the men's list as follows: No. 4, Quist; No. 5, H. W. "Bunny" Austin, England; No. 6, Jack Crawford, Australia; No. 7, Allison; No. 8, Grant; No. 9, Henkel; No. 10, Vivian McGrath, Australia.

Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling, who lost to Miss Jacobs in the Wimbledon final, was ranked No. two, followed by Dorothy Round, of England; Alice Marble, of San Francisco; Simone Mathieu, of France; Jadwica Jedrzejowska, of Poland; Kay Stammers, of England; Anita Lizana, of Chile; Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan, of Brookline, Mass., and Carolin Babcock, of Los Angeles.

HERE'S ANOTHER GOOD ONE.

Atlanta, Oct. 10.—Judge Jesse M. Wood stood on the No. 12 tee at East Lake Country Club when along came a golf ball, propelled by a player on No. 11 tee, some 150 yards away, and flopped into the judge's hip pocket.

Strictly speaking, it was not an unplayable lie but the driver and the jurist agreed it would be better to lift and drop than to try a niblick shot.

ORILLIA TITLE HOLDERS AGAIN CAPTURE CROWN

Terriers Annexed Canadian Lacrosse Championship and Mann Cup for Third Successive Year by Decisively Defeating British Columbia Indians Last Night.

Toronto, October 10.—Outplaying their opponents every step of the way, Orillia's mighty Terriers captured the Canadian lacrosse championship and the Mann Cup for the third successive year here last night with a twenty to nine victory over the gallant Vancouver North Shore Indians. The decisive win gave them the best-of-five series by three wins to one.

Showing true championship form from the opening whistle, the Terriers had the Squamish Braves bewildered with speed and combination most of the way. What chances they did get were well handled by forty-five year old Bill MacArthur in the winners' nets.

The largest crowd to witness a lacrosse game in Maple Leaf Gardens—approximately 9,500 — stood and cheered most of the one-sided struggle. When Vancouver scored they, too, were given tumultuous applause.

After the struggle the Terrier players hoisted MacArthur on their shoulders and carried him about the floor to the accompaniment of the Orillia Highlanders band and a rousing reception from the fans.

The titleholders routed the Indians with three goals in the first quarter, six in the second, five in the third and another half dozen in the last.

The vanquished Braves, always fighting, could get but a singleton in the opener, two in the second session, and three in each of the third and fourth. The overwhelming win came as a surprise in view of the closeness of former games between the two teams, although Orillia were slight favorites to pull out a victory.

George Snowden, twenty-two year old wing player, was the high scorer with six smooth Terrier tallies. "Butch" Boettger, Ernie Curran, Dick Cheevers, Shipwreck Kelley and big "Toar" Munro, each with two, and Bill Curran, Albert Smith, Dick Walsh and "Wandy" McMahon, made up the Orillia total.

Young Freddie Smith, brought up to the team the last game, was the only player, besides MacArthur, who did not score. He came close, though, with a smart assist.

Slim Jack Squires, Indian centre, Oscar Bomberry and "Beef" Smith scored two each for the Pacific Coast challengers, while Chief Moses Joseph, Stew Bomberry and Hubie Smith, with one each, made the Redskins' nine.

Hughie Gifford, of New Westminster, B.C., who rushed here by plane to officiate along with Hank Goudie, of Toronto, handed out ten penalties with the champions drawing down six.

The game was delayed one-half hour when Gifford, missing plane connections at Chicago, was forced to charter a special plane to Hamilton forty-one miles west of here and land by beacon lights. He was then rushed to Toronto by automobile.

Gifford was asked to referee by Canadian Amateur Lacrosse officials in a long distance telephone talk from Toronto to New Westminster. He accepted and took a plane from Vancuover Wednesday afternoon on the 3,200-mile trip.

Orillia took the first game by eight to six, and Vancouver the second by ten to eight. The third struggle, best of the series, went to Orillia to the tune of eleven to nine.

Both teams protested the refereeing after the third contest and C.A.L.A. decided to name new officials.

TWENTY-FOUR RACERS EARN BERTHS IN SPEED TRIALS

Westbury, N.Y., Oct. 10.—With two days of qualifying trials to be run off, twenty-four knights of the roaring road have earned starting places in the 300-mile Vanderbilt Cup speed test on the new Roosevelt raceway on Monday.

The twisting four-mile strip of asphalt has lived up to expectations in that no driver has come close to the 100-mile an hour speeds common on other tracks. The best speeds were recorded on Wednesday by Tazio Nuvolari, of Italy, who is considered the man to beat in the race. He did one lap at 70.1 miles per hour and averaged 69.929 for the twenty-mile qualifying test.

Fifteen drivers qualified on Tuesday and Wednesday and nine more yesterday. Some forty-five in all are expected to be on the starting line when the field is sent away Monday morning.

With $60,000 in prize money at stake and the dangerous "pretzel" course, combining the features of road and speedway racing, receiving its first test, it is expected about 60,000 spectators will fill the big stands, which have been arranged so that everyone can see the entire course.

The 300-mile race, a combination of curves and straightaway driving that will require both sense and nonsense to win, will be worth approximately $40,000 to the victor, while the remaining $20,000 will be spread among the next nine place winners. The speedway, so bending that exactly 1,200 turns will be necessary before the three hundred miles are traversed, was not popular among the speed demons, who figured it too dangerous for fast racing. They estimated that an average of sixty-four miles an hour would be enough to win and that the pilot whose car stood up under the grind would be lucky.

GRANBY'S LADY GOLFERS CLOSE A FINE SEASON

Lady Members of Granby Golf Club Highly Satisfied with Past Season's Activities — Several Members Won Prizes in Eastern Townships Field Days.

Granby, Oct. 10.—Lady members of the Granby Golf Club are highly satisfied with their past season's activities. Reports submitted at the closing tea of the summer revealed that local feminine shotmakers had experienced considerable success in the several Eastern Townships field days. Co-featuring the closing tea was the distribution of club prizes won during the past season.

Miss Muriel Horner again brought several honors to the local club. Miss Horner was the low scorer in the field day over the Hermitage Country Club links, Magog, and finished in the runner-up position behind Mrs. B. N. Holtham, of the Sherbrooke Country Club, in the Eastern Townships women's championship tournament. In the title play Miss Dorothy Roberts placed third and annexed the low gross prize in the bronze division both days.

Miss Dorothy Travers captured the low net award in the silver division at the field day over the St. Francis Club fairways, Sherbrooke, while in the same tourney Miss Naomi MacDonald topped the low gross column in the bronze division. Granby returned home from this event with both the gross and net team cups.

Miss Travers was also victorious in the field day held here, while the homesters again annexed both gross and net team trophies which will remain in the local club's possession until next year.

HIGH QUALITY OF WHEAT CROP OFFSETS DROP

Prairie Provinces' Wheat Output of 216,000,000 Bushels Is 43,500,000 Bushels Less than Last Year's Yield and Compares with Ten-Year Average of 358,192,000 Bushels.

While this year's total wheat crop in the Prairie Provinces is estimated to be less than last year, the lower production is partially offset by the high grade and quality of the grain, according to telegraphic reports received at the Head Office of the Bank of Montreal from its branches.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics' estimate of the wheat production of the three Prairie Provinces, namely 216,000,000 bushels, is 43,500,000 bushels less than last year's yield, and compares with a ten-year average of 358,192,000 bushels.

The estimated average wheat yields by provinces are: Manitoba twelve bushels, Saskatchewan eight bushels, Alberta 9.3 bushels.

The 1936 wheat acreage in the Prairie Provinces is officially estimated at 24,522,000 acres, or 1,000,000 acres more than last year. Production of coarse grains was substantially lower and winter feed supplies are insufficient in a number of districts. Oats are estimated at 136,408,000 bushels and barley at 55,208,000 bushels. With the exception of a small acreage in the Peace River District, threshing is completed. Deliveries of wheat by farmers to country elevators from August 1 to October 3 totalled 106,115,000 bushels compared with 101,315,000 bushels during the same period last year.

In Quebec crop results generally were very good, except that a small apple crop resulted from spring frosts and that the yield of sweet corn was reduced by the corn borer.

In the eastern and southwestern portions of Ontario crops of all kinds were satisfactory; in other portions of the province yields were severely affected by drought.

Winter wheat gave a normal yield, but spring grains were unsatisfactory in yield and quality. Hay crops were light. Late root crops are promising. The yields of most kinds of fruits and tobacco were much below average.

Throughout the Maritime Provinces farmers generally enjoyed a satisfactory year, although some loss in the yield and quality of grains resulted from too much rain during the harvest season. There is a good supply of fodder.

In British Columbia grain crops were satisfactory, hay fair to good, total yields of tomatoes and potatoes were larger than last year due to increased acreage, and other vegetable production normal. Owing to winter damage the fruit tree crop was materially below that of last season.

LOUIS HAD NO TROUBLE WITH LATEST SET-UP

Detroit's 'Brown Bomber' Knocked Out Jorge Brescia, Giant Argentine, in Third Round of Scheduled Ten-Rounder Last Night.

New York, Oct. 10.—Joe Louis today motioned for his pin boy, Promoter Mike Jacobs, to set 'em up in another alley.

The "Brown Bomber" scored the third straight "strike" of his comeback campaign at the inaugural show of Promoter Jacobs' Hippodrome indoor season last night by knocking out Jorge Brescia, giant Argentine, in the third round of a scheduled ten-rounder. Brescia rolled over on his blood-spattered face, a badly beaten victim, after two minutes and twelve seconds of both tame and furious fighting.

Louis was far too ringwise for the young "Bull of the Pampas" and he hit far too hard. Brescia, sent in to fight the ring's most fearsome puncher after only eight unimportant battles, impressed the crowd of 5,200 paid spectators with his gameness under fire, but that was all.

Apparently frightened by Louis' reputation, the "Young Bull" opened cautiously, forcing the "Bomber" to do all the leading. He did not throw a single punch for the first minute of battling as Louis gauged him carefully, backed him into the ropes and hammered him with right and left hooks. Brescia nailed Louis with a long right to the eye that made the "Bomber" blink, but it was his best and only good punch of the fight.

Before Louis stretched him on the canvas, the Argentine, his legs wobbling under the terrific fire, gamely mixed with Louis. The flurry last twenty seconds and brought the crowd to its feet, but the crafty Detroit negro measured him beautifully, sent him reeling with a terrific right and knocked him down and out with a well-timed left hook. Brescia fell on his back, rolled over on his face and was out for a full minute.

Over his comeback drive, Louis has used up eleven rounds in disposing of Jack Sharkey, former heavyweight champion; Al Ettore, rugged Philadelphian, and Brescia. He kayoed Sharkey in three rounds, Ettore in five and Brescia in three. None of the fights proved much to the experts, who thought the "Bomber" was invincible until Max Schmeling proved he wasn't, except that Louis still hits too hard for the average fighter. Only $24,820.32 was paid in the gate last night.

Except for refereeing a match at the Chicago Stadium on October 13 and engaging in a six-round exhibition at South Bend, Ind., on October 14, Louis has no definite plans now except some rest and a "lot of chicken eating." His next important fight, still in the tentative stage, may be as participant in Ed Bang's Christmas show at Cleveland.

NO TRUE LOVE FOR THIS TAVERN WINDOW COUPLE

Scheduled Tavern Wedding Cancelled when Couple Unable to Produce Necessary Marriage Licence — Locale of Wedding Changed to Another State.

Westport, Conn., Oct. 10. — There's stilu a tavern in the town but true love was sitting down somewhere else today.

In the window of the tavern last night rested a sign:

"Wedding here at 8 o'clock tonight."

Into the window, wearing shorts and sweater, stepped Mrs. Roy Atwell, former wife of the uncertain-syllable comedian, Roy Atwell.

The wedding was to be hers. Cyril Tolley a former Ottawa, Ont., resident and now a Westport golf professional, was the bridegroom-elect.

But there wasn't any wedding. The couple left disappointment in the crowd that had gathered. They said they were going to Armonk, N. Y., but ther was no wedding there, either. The trail dimmed in the vicinity of White Plains and Port Chester, N.Y. with still no wedding.

Mrs. Atwell announced yesterday she and Tolley would wed in the tavern window last night, although neither had a license for a Connecticut service.

Blond Mrs. Atwell helped bartenders for a time before her debut in the window. The crowd applauded her appearance. Then Tolley entered the window, posing with a golf stick and a ball.

But no one appeared to perform a ceremony, and the couple deserted their audience.

BOMBER LEAVES HIS CALLING CARD

Pushed back on the ground by the relentless attack of the Spanish rebels, Loyalist airmen carry on desperate bombing raids, risking destruction by explosion of their own missiles to harass rebel positions. So close to the ground is the bomber pictured above that it barely escaped envelopment in the smoke cloud released by explosion of the bomb it released.

ROTARY CLUB HAS RECORDED FINE PROGRESS SINCE ITS FOUNDATION

Approximately 169,000 Members Enrolled in World-Wide Service Organization Since First Club Was Formed in Chicago Thirty-One Years Ago—Young Lawyer, Paul P. Harris, Started Movement when He Found Himself a Stranger in a Large City—Clubs Organized in Canada and in England Shortly After First Sixteen Clubs United for Purpose of Extending Principles and Practices of Rotary.

Thirty-one years ago an enterprising young lawyer found himself a stranger in Chicago. His alert mind weighed the merits of founding a club wherein the members might not only become acquainted with one another but might also devise means of making themselves proficient in thoughtfulness of and helpfulness to each other. The idea grew and developed after the young advocate had surrounded himself with men, each one engaged in a different branch of service to the public.

The young lawyer was Paul P. Harris and the club he laid the foundation for is the Rotary Club.

The charter members of the organization, which has since become a world-wide fraternity, met in rotation at their respective offices and places of business, thus suggesting the name which today stands for better business practices and loftier ideals in business and professional intercourse, for service to one's city, state or province, and nation, to society in general and for the development of international understanding and peace.

From these humble beginnings, Rotary has progressed with such rapid leaps and bounds that today the membership is approximately 169,000—members of 3,964 clubs in every civilized country in the world—while during the past quarter of a century new Rotary Clubs have been chartered on an average of one every two and one-third days.

The first Rotary Club in Chicago existed alone for a little more than three years before the second club came into existence in San Francisco. The movement spread rapidly, gaining in popularity on the Pacific Coast before being introduced in the more populous centres in the east. The first sixteen clubs gathered together in 1910 and formed an association for the purpose of extending the principles and practices of Rotary by organizing clubs in all commercial centres of the world.

The objects of Rotary, in no matter what language they are written, are to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster—first—the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service; second—high ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society; third—the application of the ideal of Rotary to his personal, business and community life; and fourth—the advancement of international understanding, good-will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Many Benefits Derived From Rotary Membership

By observing these ideals the members of Rotary clubs have found that they become better friends, better competitors, better husbands, fathers and brothers, and better citizens—the result of the efforts of Rotarians to make friendship one of the vital elements of true happiness, basing this friendship upon a sympathetic knowledge and understanding of one's fellowman, his business, his thoughts, his joys and his sorrows.

The Rotary Club does not, as an organization, promote and carry on civic activities rightfully belonging to other organized agencies. A resolution adopted thirteen years ago decreed that (a)—a Rotary club should not engage in any general community service activity that requires for its success the support of the entire community; (b)—should not endorse a project unless it is prepared to carry it through to completion; (c)—should not engage in any activity or project that is already being well handled by some other agency, and (d)—activities that enlist the individual efforts of all Rotarians are most in accord with the genius of the Rotary. At present it is generally advocated that a Rotary club should not engage in an activity which by its very nature is continuous in character but, on the other hand, it should select an activity which is capable of being completed in a definite time, preferably not over a year.

There are many benefits that a citizen derives from being a member of a Rotary Club. Among these are the enlargement of acquaintance with men whom one ought to know well; the development of many true and helpful friendships; stimulation of one's mind to travel in unfrequented channels of thought; obtaining enlightenment as to other men's work, problems and successes; an opportunity to obtain a broad outlook on one's business or profession by becoming acquainted with approved means for improving one's own business from the standpoint of its contribution to the well-being of its employees and customers; the securing of help and inspiration to assist one in his efforts as an individual to participate more effectively in the activities which make the community a better place in which to live, and an opportunity to learn the true meaning of "Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

Rotary Has One Ideal—The Ideal of Service

Rotary limits membership in a club to put one man from each classification, except newspaper classification and additional active member. The principal reasons for this policy are: 1—because it enables the club to be a true cross-section of the industrial and professional life of the community; 2—because it develops fellowship based on diversity of interest instead of similarity of interest; 3—because it prevents the club from being dominated by any one business group; 4—because it makes a membership more valuable and enable a club to demand attendance; and 5—because it allows a freedom in making vocational talks that would not be possible if a competitor were present.

The programme of Rotary is summarized in the statement that Rotary has one ideal—the ideal of Service. It is the obligation of a Rotarian to strive both to interpret and translate the ideal of Service into his own life, and he has four ways in which he may manifest his adherance to this ideal:1—club service, which means a Rotarian's contributions in attendance, fellowship, programme participation, etc., in his Rotary club; 2—in vocational service, which means his service in his profession or business and in the general trade of which his particular business is a part; 3—in community service, which means doing his good-sized bit as a neighbor and a citizen; and 4—in international service, which means widening his horizon and extending his view beyond national boundaries, the doing of things for men in other countries that will help to make secure the good relations now existing between his country and other countries and prevent the development of strained relations and war.

Rotary Has Developed Many Activities

Rotary has developed many activities. Rotarians are found active in improving trade and professional practices, in civic work, in leading boys into good citizenship, in the betterment of rural-urban understanding, in rehabilitation of crippled children, and in helping, by kindly personal acts, to make secure the good relations between their respective countries and other countries.

The Rotary spirit is perhaps no better expressed than in the following poem penned by Edgar A. Guest:

Red roses for the living, and hand-clasps warm and true,
A heart that's turned to giving, and strength to dare and do;
The sound of honest laughter, the joy of honest toil,
For those that follow after, to leave a finer soil.
All this has been and ever will be the Rotary plan,
A man's sincere endeavor to serve his fellowman.

A little less self-seeking, a little more for men,
Less bitter in our speaking, more kindly with the pen,
A little less of swerving from paths of truth and right,
A little more of serving and less of dollar might.
More peaceful with our neighbors, and stauncher to our friends.
For this all Rotary labors, on this its hope depends.

To smooth the way for others, to make of life the most,
To make the phrase "our brother" mean more than idle boast,
To praise sincere endeavor, when praise will spur it on,
Withholding kind words never until the friend is gone.
This is the Rotary spirit, this is the Rotary dream,
God grant that we may near it, before we cross the stream.

A six-weeks-old calf was nibbling at the grass in the yard, and was viewed in silence for some minutes by the city girl.

"Tell me," she said, turning impulsively to her hostess, "does it really pay you to keep as small a cow as that?"

Bus Conductor: How old are you, little girl?

Little Girl: If the corporation doesn't object, I'd prefer to pay full fare and keep my own statistics.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

KARL BARRETT, PRESIDENT OF THE SHERBROOKE ROTARY CLUB.

The continued improvement recorded in business and industrial life during the course of the year was reflected in the unprecedented success which rewarded our efforts last autumn. The increased attendance at our annual Fair exceeded even our fondest expectations, and new high figures were established in both the gross and net returns.

As a result of the financial success of the 1935 Rotary Fair, it was possible for our Club to extend its benevolent work, and the assistance rendered to crippled children during the course of the past twelve months has been greater than in any other period. Financial help was also extended to a number of local welfare organizations, particularly in relation to the work carried on among needy children.

The preliminary work for the 1936 Rotary Fair was started last August and substantial progress has been recorded during the course of the past few months. Public interest in the Fair has never been greater. Recognition of the large amount of welfare work accomplished through the medium of the Rotary Club has made it extremely popular.

Many changes, some of a radical nature, have been made for the 1936 Fair which opens on Wednesday. The automobile game, a replica of the one so popular at Atlantic City, is being introduced for the first time and several new booths have been added.

Children's afternoon is receiving special attention and a varied programme has been drawn up which assures the youngsters of an enjoyable Saturday afternoon.

In allotting four days to the Fair, it has been done with the idea of minimizing the large crowds on the Friday and Saturday evenings. It means a considerably greater effort on the part of the workers, but we hope it will prove to be of considerable advantage to the community in general.

Vice-president Rosaire Samson is directing the Fair activities this year and the enthusiastic co-operation which he has received from all quarters suggests that the 1936 Rotary Fair will be another tremendous success.

As President of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, I extend a very cordial invitation to all residents of Sherbrooke, the Eastern Townships and the New England States to visit the 54th Armoury and contribute their effort towards this great annual undertaking on behalf of the needy and the crippled children.

KARL E. BARRETT,
President, Sherbrooke Rotary Club.

Jekyll and Hyde on the Highway

Why, pertinently inquires the author, do men who are perfect gentlemen while on foot become boors and demons on a turnpike?

By A. J. BRACKEN,
County Judge, Chappell, Nebraska.

I am a polite man, At least, I pride myself that I am courteous and pleasant to my fellowmen, and that I observe all of those little niceties of conventional behavior due from one person to another.

I have been taught from childhood that tipping my hat to a lady, taking the proper place as an ascort of the fairer sex, and being respectful and considerate of the feelings of others is the proper thing to do; and I do it.

I would not presume to break in on the conversation of others, uninvited, or to display a pompous, brusque attitude toward those who enter my home or office.

All these and many other polite and courteous mannerisms I observe, as I make daily contact among my fellowmen, wether at home or abroad.

But when it comes to wending my way through crowded thoroughfares and along highways, through traffic, in my high-powered car, I find that I am a vertiable Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. I have awakened to the fact that I am irritable and indifferent to the rights of others, that I have at times exercised coarse and inhuman individualism in maintaining the supremacy of my right of the road. I find that this attitude toward my fellowtravellers has grown upon me daily until it is a power and danger to be reckoned with by those who encounter me in travel. Why it this?

I, who have never been known to elbow my way on foot through crowds, who always take pride in the fact that I am kindly and generous, especialy to children, the aged, and the infirm, have awakened to the fact that I am a very impolite, coarse, and inconsiderate person when behind the wheel.

Am I a polite man about town because I am fearful of physical attack, should I attempt to be otherwise? No, that cannot be the answer, for I know after strict examination that I bow to no man in physical fear. Is it because I like to nurse my ego and take pride in being considered polite and courteous? Perhaps to some extent, but I like to think that I am polite and considerate while about my daily tasks because it is a gentlemanly instict and custom.

Custom, that is it. Now, perhaps I have a faint idea of why I am such an inconsiderate, blustering, ripping devil on the highway and in traffic jams. We are all creatures of habit and custom, and I presume I attained this habit of overrunning the rights of everyone else on the highway and letting the devil take the hindmost, because someone else in the early days of my driving career did so to me. The natural for me to do was to retaliate and as I could not do it to the one who so unmercifully overode my rights. I subconsciously passed the injury to my feelings on to the next poor unfortunate who happened to be in my way of travel; and so it grew and became a custom, until today when I take my seat behind the steering wheel I assume the pompous egotistical attitude that I am out to take care of myself, and let the other fellow beware!

Now, I realize that all this is a bad thing for me, that it is weakening my character and self-respect, and more-over it may result in my maiming or killing some unfortunate stranger, some member of my family, or myself. And yet, how am I to overcome such an attitude which has been built up in me during years of driving?

Am I to go carefully along the road, pulling off to one side while others less considerate go blithely by? Am I to lag along behind some old wheezing "Model-T" making its progress of ten miles an hour up some long steep hill? Am I to bring my car to a full stop at all Stop signs and railroad crossings, even when there is nothing approaching so far as my eye can reach? Am I to dim my lights and go along in semi-darkness while the oncoming highfalutin speed-king blinds me with his bright lights?

In other words, am I to observe all the rules of courtsy on the highway that I do as a gentlemanly man on the sidewalk?

Yes—I must break myself of this dual personality if I am honestly to call myself a consistently polite and courteous gentleman.

Will it be an easy habit to break myself of? No, I rather think that 'mid the stress and hurry of the busy day, when my nerves are taut and time may mean the earning of another Almighty Dollar, I will forget myself and be inclined to fall back into the old insolent "take-care-of-myself" attitude. But I can try. I know that each time I observe some nice little courtesy of the road, I will feel better about it and will have set the example for someone else who has fallen into this old dangerous and discourteous custom.

Further, I will not run the chance of being compelled to stand by and witness the poor torn and bleeding results of my arrogant haste and know—regardless of my audible protestations to the contrary—that I was to blame.

Finally, in the exercise of a reasonable restraint upon my passions and prejudices while on the highway, I may escape the front-page casualty lists a while longer and in consequence enjoy a few more days on this mundane sphere from which, after all, I am reluctant to depart. (From the Rotarian Magazine.)

Johnny—"Mom, won't you give me that candy now?"

Mom — "Didn't I tell you I wouldn't give you any unless you kept still?"

Johnny—"Yes, but—"

Mom—"Well, the longer you keep still, the sooner you'll get it."

SOME INTERESTING HIGHLIGHTS IN HISTORY OF LOCAL ROTARY

Since Its Organization in 1919 the Sherbrooke Rotary Club Has Held Enviable Position in City and Has Counted Among Its Members Most Active Business and Professional Men of Sherbrooke and Immediate Vicinity—Rev. George Ellery Read Was First President of Local Club—Review of Activities Since Club's Inception.

Since its organization on May 22nd, 1919, the Sherbrooke Rotary Club has held a notable place in this city. It counts among its members the most active business and professional men of Sherbrooke and the immediate vicinity. The club has grown steadily since its debut seventeen years ago, until today it numbers no less than ninety members. This membership is truly of an international nature, and includes English-Canadians, French-Canadians, Americans and men from the British Isles. Creed and nationality are not considered in Rotary International.

The Sherbrooke Rotary Club held its organization meeting on May 22nd, 1919, in the Magog House. Albert C. Skinner was in the chair and many members of the Montreal Rotary Club were present. It was largely due to the aid and encouragement of this latter club that the Sherbrooke Rotary Club owes its successful inauguration.

The local club was duly formed, with the following charter members: Albert C. Skinner, Rev. George Ellery Read, Karl Barrett, Harry Blue, Fred Dakin, Winn Farwell, Harry Haight, El. Lunderville, Wesley McKee, George MacKinnon, Victor Morrill, E. J. Page, C. O. Palmer, Stewart Patterson, Joseph Rosenbloom, Fred Bugg and Andrew Sangster.

September, 1931 — About fifty-six Rotarians made the trip to Colebrooke for the international meeting. Everyone received a cordial welcome and a splendid programme was given, including an address by Rev. LeRoy Rice, of Barre, Vt., illustrated with remarkably clear moving pictures of Vienna and other spots seen along the route to and from the R.I. convention.

November, 1931 — The 1931 Rotary Fair, staged under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, was a tremendous success. The whole-hearted co-operation which greeted this initial Fair was a splendid tribute to the confidence and esteem which the Rotary Club

Although a resident of Sherbrooke for only a few years, Col. Rosaire Samson has already revealed himself a very progressive citizen. His initiative and ability were recognized by his fellow members of the Rotary Club when he was named general chairman of this year's Rotary Fair.

AUTO RACING GAME

The Auto Racing Car travels back and forth on a track 18 feet long. Due to its heavy construction, ball bearings, track guidance and other mechanical features are necessary. The speed at which it travels varies, and the location on the track at which it comes to rest is always uncertain.

The length of the track is divided into 20 equal spaces, covered by 20 numbers, each number also designating a car of familiar manufacture. The set-up is as follows:

| Location No. | Name of Automobile | Location No. | Name of Automobile |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 | Nash | 11 | Hupmobile |
| 2 | Plymouth | 12 | Auburn |
| 3 | Studebaker | 13 | Cadillac |
| 4 | Reo | 14 | Austin |
| 5 | Packard | 15 | Chrysler |
| 6 | Terraplane | 16 | Hudson |
| 7 | Chevrolet | 17 | Dodge |
| 8 | Oldsmobile | 18 | Ford |
| 9 | Pontiac | 19 | DeSoto |
| 10 | Buick | 20 | Graham |

Each numbered space is divided into 7 winning divisions, the centre one being designated by a "Red" space. When the racing car comes to rest, the indicator attached to the car chassis indicates the winner, whether its position is on a "White" space or a "Red" space. Major prizes are paid on the "Red," minor prizes on the "White." This is the same as with the wheels on other booths.

This Auto Racing Game is a duplicate of that installed and in constant use during the past season on the Boardwalk, opposite the Million Dollar Pier, at Atlantic City.

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL SEEN AS STRONG FORCE FOR WORLD PEACE

Director of Rotary International Declares that World-Wide Organization Lifted Him Out of Confines of His Local Community and Gave Him Real Sense of His Own Personal Responsibility — Achievement of World Peace Bound Up in Rotarians—Leaders of Rotary Cultivating International Acquaintance and Good-will.

"Rotary is to me a great source of power from which I draw strength to meet the daily perplexing problems in my business and community life," W. W. Emerson, of Winnipeg, director of Rotary International, declared in an address on "Why I Am a Rotarian."

In one community, he said, he had seen a club gather around one member who was drinking the dregs of the cup of despair through no fault of his own, and unobtrusively put him where he could face the future with hope and his friends without shame. In more ways than one the club had saved that man's life.

"It is equally true," he said, "that such examples of devotion to community duty have helped me in my business. Like everyone else I realize that our community problems are largely the result of the improper working of business laws and the dislocation of our business system. Left unchecked these by-products in misery might conceivably topple the whole structure into the abyss."

Rotary International, Mr. Emerson continued, had lifted him out of the narrow confines of his local community and given him a real sense of his own personal responsibility. "Not only has it given me a sense of exhiliration to know that I was chosen to become a part of the world's largest organization of peace, but it has enabled me to see that I, in my own isolated spot, am vital to its success. World Courts and League of Nations are high-sounding titles, but they can only act as public opinion supports them. The achievement of permanent world peace is bound up in men like you and me. We are the final determinants. Who would not feel exalted to share the responsibility which every Rotarian bears in this high endeavor?

"And then my belief in our world peace objective has made me more appreciative of this work to cultivate international acquaintance and good will which our leaders are carrying on. Here again myriads of examples might be cited, but let me take just one to illustrate my point. Consider the enormous effect of the visits of our beloved founder—Paul Harris—into practically every corner of the Rotary world."

Continuing Mr. Emerson said: "I expect the imagination of us all has lingered more than once on the stirring events of the days of ancient chivalry—of those bold Crusaders in breastplate and helmet, with long spears and great two-handed swords, who sought to possess the Holy Sepulchre—or of that heroic figure, Sir Galahad, "whose strength was as the strength of ten because his heart was pure"—or of those merry knights who gathered with King Arthur in song and story about his famous Round Table.

"Gallant gentlemen these — enjoying a fraternity comradeship which would seem to realize the very ideal of what true fellowship should be—gallant gentlemen carrying out their daily tasks, whether in routine duty, or on the more glamorous field of honor, in a spirit of willingness on the one hand and fair play on the other, so that the whole land rang with their praises—gallant gentlemen protecting the weak and aiding the unfortunate, yet in such a modest and courtly manner that a mythical halo has been placed around the head of each one whose name has come down to us.

"Gallant gentlemen these were, living in stirring and romantic times. Do we not sometimes regret that we shall see their like no more?

"But are we not seeing them recreated before our very eyes every day in this thing we call Rotary? For Rotary, it seems to me, may also be likened to a crusade—a modern crusade in business brotherhood. A crusade in Club Service which permits you to enjoy true fellowship with those brave and joyous comrades who gather with you about Rotary's 'Round Table' every week.

"A crusade in Vocational Service which inspires you to dignify your daily tasks by willing service and to achieve gallant behaviour in the dangerous field of applied business ethics.

"A crusade in Community Service in which you can exhibit all the courtly considerations of old for others less fortunate than yourself.

"A crusade in International Service, nobler than anything engaged in by knights of yore because we seek, by pacific means and by whatever sacrifice of self is necessary, to aid humanity in its eternal search after world peace.

"Simulated by such a group as Rotary throws around you and inspired by the high ideals which this crusade holds before you, your whole outlook on life enlarges. You achieve a mental balance which enables you to better weigh and place present-day factors (often confusing and apparently conflicting factors) which enter into the solution of modern-day problems."

WHAT IS THE ROTARY CLUB?

The Rotary club is an association of business and professional men of a community selected for their value to society with regard to the realization of the ideal of Service.

The meetings of the Rotary club are characterized by wholesome good fellowship and the development of more intensive and more practical friendships.

Its membership is formed on the unique plan of one active and representative man from each line of business and profession in the community.

Acceptance of membership in a Rotary club comprises the acceptance of the ideals of Rotary and the assumption of a responsibility for living and promoting them in all daily contacts of business, civic, and social affairs.

The benefits that come to men, or some of them at least, from holding membership in the Rotary club may be stated as follows:

Acquaintance of men one ought to know.

Participation in genuine, wholesome good fellowship.

Development of true and helpful friendships.

Enlightenment as to other men's work, problems and successes.

THERE'S A SUN LIFE POLICY FOR EVERYONE

When A Feller Needs A Friend

By WILLIAM F. McDERMOTT

(Condensed by Reader's Digest from The Rotarian.)

As a police reporter, I learned that there's nothing that packs the thrill of a first-rate rescue story—and if I were asked to name the most thrilling of them all, I'd think first of the 15,000 men and women who are devoting the hours that would otherwise be leisure to the job of rescuing abandoned youth. Into the back streets, tenements and courts they go, unremunerated workers, seeking the boys and girls with whom the school and home and church have failed, and who are headed for almost certain criminality. They are known, in 36 states and six Canadian provinces, under the rather sentimental name of Big Brothers and Big Sisters. During 1934 they helped 64,000 children. And they get results: 97 per cent. of these youths turn their backs permanently on the path to crime.

The Big Brother movement sprang from an appeal by Ernest K. Coulter to the men's club of the Central Presbyterian church of New York in 1904. At that time 40 business men agreed each to take a friendly interest in one boy who had been brought into children's court. Other organizations heard of it, and soon were formed the Catholic, then the Jewish Big Brothers. Big Sister groups followed, and the two movements spread until they reached the present total of 355 volunteer organizations.

Here is the setting in which they go into action: Juvenile court is in sessions. "What are the charges?" asks the court. "Stealing, malicious mischief, resisting an officer," drones the clerk. The boy admits his guilt. Shall the sentence be prison, with desperate criminals for associates, or the reformatory from which 50 per cent. will almost certainly graduate into major crime? The judge ponders the question.

At this point a young man apparently well known to the court steps up. He is one of the fulltime staff workers the Big Brothers employ. This lad, he tells the judge, is just the sort a Big Brother can work with most successfully; he is normal and healthy, with no deep-lying physical or mental disorders. The trouble is not with the boy, pleads the staff worker, but with the forces brought to bear on him. Introduced new influence and you get a new boy. The judge agrees to turn the lad over to the Big Brothers.

During the next few weeks the staff workers patiently gather information about the boy's habits, associates, health and surroundings.

The scene then shifts to a downtown office, where the worker who appeared in court is conferring with a young business executive. He tells about the boy and his troubles with the police, sketches his character and background. "Of course I'm interested," says the business man. I'll call on him to-night."

And that night begins the real work of a Big Brother. Man and boy may meet on a sand lot for a little baseball; or perhaps the Big Brother is a riding enthusiast — his young friend's eyes open wide at the thought of learning to ride himself—and the ice is broken. As the months go on the friendship ripens, They exchange confidences, come to know each other. The Big Brother never moralizes. Only by showing the boy a new world of real heroes to contrast with his old world of gangsters idols, does he win his case. His job doesn't end until that boy feels that he's an established member of society, with a job, a future, and an inerest in the world's work. That may take two years or ten.

In a midwestern city of 75,000, a father in a poor district had deserted his wife and three boys. The mother, a drab, beaten woman, resorted to prostitution for a livelihood, and the boys were constantly in court for petty thieving. The juvenile court turned the problem over to the Big Brothers. The sponsor rented a cottage in a new neighborhood, and a state mother's aid pension was secured. Clothing was provided for all, and the mother was encouraged to clean up her children and her home. The boys are devoted to the Big Brother, and try to please him. The whole family has found a new pride in citizenship.

In another case a 17-year-old automobile thief violated a parole and his own father asked that he be sent to prison. A Big Brother discovered a mutual hatred between the boy and his stepmother, and suggested that the lad be placed in a boarding school to work for his room and board. Here the boy is making fine progress.

At one time Peoria, Illinios, had 45 boys in the state reformatory. A united Big Brother programme wrought such results that now there are no Peoria boys there at all.

Evanston tried turning over its "problem" children, the truants, the delinquents, the rebellious and defiant, to Big Brothers and Big Sisters. In one year all court records were cleared of juvenile offenders and the cost of the experiments was only a fraction of what the criminal prosecution and care would have been.

The real results of such prevention are revealed in the reduction of the population of Illinios state reformatory from 812 to 379 in four years. And what has been going in Illinios has been occurring in 36 other states and in the provinces of Canada.

Thus labor those who man the lonely outposts against crime in more than 100 American and Canadian cities. Their only weapons are the side arms of character, devotion, sacrifice and good will. Yet they're winning the battle—if a score of ninety-seven per cent. is acknowledged as victory!

Most of these potential criminals must be reached before sixteen, say Big Brothers and Big Sisters. Fourteen is the most effective age of contact, and good work can be done as early as nine. Let a capable Big Brother get on to a case before a wayward lad has tasted prison and associated with confirmed criminals, and the chances are 97 per cent. he will be guided into good citizenship. Let the lad be committed and the chances are 75 per cent. that he will graduate into crime. Figure reformatory cost at $500 and Big Brother care at $20, and the saving of $480 per year per lad, or $40 a month, ought to interest the taxpayer and businessman. Moreover, the cost of putting one criminal behind the bars for the average term would give Big Brother care for twenty-five incipiently wayward boys for a year.

Government figures place America's crime bill at fifteen billion dollars per year. One wonders just what it would be if about 400,000 earnest persistent, successful American men and women would say: "Here am I, use me!" and an equal number would contribute overhead for their labors.

"Mummy," asked the little boy, "how long is it since daddy died?"

"He didn't die, darling," his mother sighed; "he joined a golf club."

ACTIVITIES OF ROTARY CLUB ARE REVIEWED

Past Year Has Been an Active One in History of Sherbrooke Rotary Club, which Is Holding Its Sixth Annual Fair in This City Next Week.

The following were some of the outstanding activities during the year:

MANY CHILDREN BENEFITED FROM PROFITS OF FIVE ROTARY FAIRS

Over $18,500 Realized at Annual Events Held in This City by Sherbrooke Rotary Club Has Been Used for Benevolent Work—This Year's Fair Promises to Be Bigger and Better than Ever—Auto Racing Game Will Be One of Thrilling Entertainments — List of Assignments for Sherbrooke Rotarians.

Revenues from the five Rotary Fairs held annually in this city since 1931 have enabled members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club to spend in excess of eighteen thousand dollars on benevolent work in Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships.

Crippled and under-privileged children have benefited to the extent of $18,559.26. The object of the Rotary Fair is a meritorious one indeed. Many boys and girls have received medical attention, have benefited from expert treatment for deformities and have been clothed from the funds realized at the Rotary Fairs.

And now another Fair, the sixth annual event of its kind, is scheduled to open on Wednesday next, October 14th, for a four-day period.

The local Rotarians have been working zealously for the success of this their sixth venture. They have given unselfishly of their time and effort. They have set the high objective of $10,000 net profit before them, and are relying upon the citizens of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships to visit their fair and lend their generous support to this event, considered the most worthwhile ever attempted in this city.

The Fair promises to be bigger and better than ever. There are new innovations to entertain and delight the visitor.

Objective Is Gross Revenue of $15,000.

The first Rotary Fair was held in 1931. It was acclaimed a tremendous success. Over fifteen thousand people visited the Belvidere Street Armoury during the three evenings, and it was the unanimous opinion of all who by their very presence lent encouragement to the undertaking that it was the biggest and best effort of its kind that had ever been staged locally.

That year the gross revenue from the Fair was $6,234.86. Expenditures amounted to $3,164.41, leaving a net return of $3,067.45.

Another success was scored the following year. The people of Sherbrooke and the surrounding district lent generous support to the undertaking, assured as they were that the Fair, sponsored by the Rotary Club, was being held for a benevolent purpose and not for individual gain.

In 1932 the returns totalled $6,163.71 and expenditures $3,114.53. That left a net profit of $3,049.18.

The following year the net sum of $3,218.63 was taken in and in 1934 this figure increased to $4,569.98.

Last year's Fair was the most successful of all. Gross returns amounted to $9,969.82. Expenditures totalled $5,315.80. The Rotary's Benevolent Work Fund received the tidy sum of $4,645.02.

It will be seen from these statistics that the five Fairs that have been held, brought in a total gross revenue of $36,447.52. Expenditures totalled $17,888.26, leaving the handsome profit of $18,559.26 for philanthropic work.

This year's event had been planned on a big scale. The Rotarians hope to take in approximately $15,000 gross revenue, and realize a profit of about $10,000 to carry on the praiseworthy work of assisting crippled and sick children and caring for underprivileged kiddies.

This year's Fair will be held over a period of four days instead of three, as in the past. The Rotarians believe that this extra day will relieve the congestion that has been exprienced in other years, allow for a greater attendance from points outside the city and also, of course, add to the revenue.

Automobile Game Is One of Outstanding Features.

The "Automobile Game," imported from Atlantic City, will be a feature of this year's event. Albert Munster and Gordon Miller will be in charge of this entertainment.

This "Auto Game" is a duplicate of that installed and in constant use during the past season on the Boardwalk, opposite the Million Dollar Pier, at Atlantic City. The auto racing car travels back and forth on a track eighteen feet long. The speed at which it travels varies, and the location on the track at which it comes to rest is always uncertain. The track is divided into twenty equal spaces, covered by twenty numbers, each number designating a car of familiar manufacture. Each numbered space is divided into seven winning divisions, the centre one being designated by a "Red" space. When the racing car comes to rest, the indicator attached to the car chassis indicates the winner, whether its position is on a "White" space or a "Red" space. Major prizes are paid on the "Red," minor prizes on the "White."

The visitor to the Fair will find plenty of fun and entertainment, and even a profitable return from his investment provided, of course, he is fortunate at the many games and booths.

Admission to the Fair is free, and one may rest assured that the money spent at this annual event will go towards a highly deserving purpose.

PUNCH AND JUDY SHOW

A "Punch and Judy" Show will provide part of the entertainment at the Sherbrooke Rotary Fair on Saturday afternoon next, which has been reserved for the kiddies.

MESSAGE FROM FAIR CHAIRMAN RE 1936 EVENT

Sixth Annual Fair Sponsored by Sherbrooke Rotary Club Promises to Be Even More Attractive than Previous Events—Additional Space Has Been Provided in Belvidere Street Armoury.

Col. Rosaire Samson, General Chairman of the 1936 Rotary Fair, has issued the following statement in connection with the Sherbrooke Rotary Club's sixth annual Fair, which will be inaugurated at the Belvidere Street Armoury on Wednesday next:

"The sixth annual Fair, sponsored by the Sherbrooke Rotary Club, promises to be even more attractive than in previous years. A much earlier start was made this year and an effort has been made to create a more varied programme.

"The 1936 Rotary Fair will be held over a period of four days instead of three as in previous years. It was felt that the extra day would relieve the congestion which has been evidenced in previous years and also allow for a larger attendance from outside points.

"Additional space has been provided and the layout of the different booths has been arranged so that freer circulation will minimize the inconveniences of large crowds.

"The feature attraction of the sixth annual Rotary Fair will be the automobile game, imported from Atlantic City. President Karl Bartlett and delegates to the International convention last June, kept an eye open for suggestions, and this new feature is reported to be the sensation of the Atlantic City Boardwalk.

"Children's afternoon is again in charge of Rotarian Phil Mathias, who has arranged an outstanding programme which should appeal to the thousands of youngsters who look forward with the keenest of delight to the annual Rotary Fair. Ponies and at least one donkey will be availabble for rides in the large space at the rear of the Armoury, and the number of rides will be limited only by the willingness of the little animals and the time at the disposal of the committee.

"The Punch and Judy show will again be staged and special prizes are being offered to boys and girls who visit the Fair on Saturday afternoon. As far as possible children are invited to visit the Fair on Saturday afternoon in order to relieve congestion at night time.

"Admission to the Fair is absolutely free and, all grown-up folks and children within an unlimited radius, are cordially invited to come to the Armoury for at least one day of the Fair. Every member of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club is lending a hand, and a large number of outside volunteer workers have again offered their services.

"The Fair will be held on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with a special performance for children on Saturday afternoon. The dates are October 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th. Come to the Fair as often as you can. You will receive a warm welcome."

ARKANSAS ALLIGATOR BECOMES ELECTION ISSUE.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 10.—The sleepy Arkansas alligator, harassed for years by hunters and collectors, found himself championed today in a move to punish those who disturb his slumbers.

The State Game and Fish Commission called attention to the Saurian's value; the curator of the Little Rock zoo urged protective legislation; and the Democratic gubernatorial nominee promised "every consideration" for recommendations in the alligator's behalf.

DAY RESERVED FOR TOTS AT ROTARY FAIR

"Punch and Judy" Show Will Provide Part of Entertainment for Children on Saturday Afternoon at Sixth Annual Sherbrooke Rotary Club Fair.

The children are to have their day at the sixth annual Rotary Fair which opens at the Belvidere street armory on Wednesday of next week.

And it is only right that an afternoon should be set aside for the kiddies, considering that the revenue from the Fair is devoted to the care and treatment of sick and underprivileged children and other benevolent work of a like nature.

Next Saturday afternoon the doors of the Belvidere street armory will be thrown wide open to welcome the youngsters. It will be their Fair, and the Rotarians will do everything possible to entertain and amuse them during their visit.

A "Punch and Judy" show will undoubtedly provide the most fun, while a number of ponies and donkeys have been secured for the kiddies to ride. The vacant lot at the rear of the armory will be used for this purpose.

Six valuable prizes will be given away to the kiddies. A ticket will be handed each boy or girl upon entering the armory, and the drawing will take place at four-thirty o'clock. It is important for the children to bear in mind that they must be present at the Fair when the drawing takes place in order to be eligible.

P. D. Mathias, in charge of the arrangements for the children's afternoon, has the following message for the kiddies:

"Last year, children's afternoon was such a whooping success that the Rotary Fair officials decided that another gala event would be held this year. We all enjoyed the 'Punch and Judy' show and it is going to be back with us again this year.

"I am sure you will all be pleased to hear that we have been able to secure a number of ponies and a real donkey, fit for a queen to ride. The little animals have a gentle disposition and are going to let you youngsters have as many rides as possible. I know that children of today are taught to be kind to dumb animals, but just the same I am going to ask you to see that they are not annoyed in any way. We will use the vacant land in the rear of the armory and little tots get first call.

"We are going to give away six prizes this year and I would ask you to read carefully the instructions given below. These prizes are all very useful. Nobody has too many good clothes and as I am a firm believer in the old saying 'All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy,' we have also included skis and skates.

"Remember, Saturday afternoon is arranged exclusively for the children, so be on your best behavior and ask Mother or Dad to bring you down to enjoy the fun.'

The following are the rules governing the six valuable prizes being offered on Children's Day.

1—Come to the Rotary Fair Saturday afternoon.

2—As you go into the 54th Armory you will be given a ticket with a number. Keep this ticket as the corresponding stub will be placed in a box.

3—At 4.30 p.m., Saturday afternoon, six tickets will be drawn out of the ballot box.

4—To win any of the prizes, you must be in the armory at 4.30 p.m., and present your ticket corresponding to the number drawn.

5—Should the holders of the winning tickets not be present when the draw is made additional numbers will be drawn until the prizes are awarded.

6—Every boy and girl under 12 years of age at the opening of the Fair (born on or before October 14, 1924) is entitled to receive a ticket.

7—Only one ticket will be given to each youngster.

8 — Any youngster leaving the armory before 4.30 p.m., must give up his or her ticket. On returning to the hall a new ticket will be given.

9—Remember that to win a prize you must be present at the drawing.

10—Only one ticket will be given to each youngster, so don't lose it.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN STE. ANNE DE BEAUPRE FIRE

The above pictures reveal the damage caused in Ste. Anne de Beaupré by the conflagration which started in a hotel and swept the main street of the village built around the famous shrine. The top photograph is a view of the $325,000 fire at its height as building after building fell prey to the flames. At the left is a portion of the Redemptorist Fathers' sanatorium, while opposite and beside it are the charred ruins of the hotels and boarding houses occupied by pilgrims to the famous shrine.

"SERVICE ABOVE SELF—HE PROFITS MOST WHO SERVES BEST."

Rotary is not of yesterday nor tomorrow but of today; not destructive but intensive; not selfish but practical; not stilted and formal but social and fraternal.

Service in the Rotarian sense is a mental process. It is an attitude of mind which relates persons and things with action. Thoughtfulness of others is the basis of Service. Helpfulness to others is its expression.

ROTARY WHEEL

(Thomas Keeley)

Rotary's wheel is a symbol
Of service that stands before self,
That's why if the wheel's to keep moving
All work is for love, not for pelf.
Remember when helping the helpless
You will also be helping yourself.

Charity heads all the virtues,
Heart speaks to heart, and is kind,
Arouses the best that is in us,
Refines and refreshes the mind.
It's true that one cannot help many,
Though many can well help the few.
Yes, and will help the few.

Fair be your days and your fortune,
Abounding with health to the end;
Inspire the helpless with vision,
Relieve those who have not a friend.

TRAFFIC TAGS SUSTAINED SALESMAN'S CLAIMS.

Auburn, N.Y., Oct. 10.—C. M. Jewett, of Niagara Falls, sold the city of Auburn a quantity of "non fixable" traffic violation tags yesterday.

He started for home.

He got a ticket for running through a red traffic light.

The ticket was all he claimed for it—non-fixable.

He paid three dollars in Magistrate's Court.

The careful driver came to the railroad crossing. He stopped, looked and listened. The only sound he heard was the car behind crashing into his gas tank.

Snakes have large scales on their under sides and each scale is connected to a rib. As the snake moves his ribs, the scales move, also, and thus the reptile progresses.

The female of the species is more THRIFTY than the male.

That remark is a real compliment. And, dear Madam, it is probably the reason why you've been doing about 80% of the family buying for years.

But do you always make that buying as easy as possible? You can by reading the advestisements. They're full of interesting news about foods, sales of clothing, and bargains for your home. Read them regularly — particularly now when you're planning your fall shopping. Perhaps you will be able to find an attractive sample coat for your little girl. A pair of shoes for yourself. A new chair for the fireside nook. Winter daperies in exactly the right color and pattern.

The advertisements help you. They keep you in touch with the best bargains, and increase your reputation for thrift.

AN EFFICIENT CITIZEN MUST GIVE SERVICE

International Service, Vocational Service, Fellowship and Community Service Make Up Efficient Citizen, According to First Vice-President of Rotary International Association for Great Britain and Ireland.

International service, vocational service, fellowship, community service—these make up the efficient citizen, according to Thomas A. Warren, of Wolverhampton, England, first vice-president of Rotary International-Association for Great Britain and Ireland.

"When we come to the end," he said at the twenty-seventh annual convention of Rotary International, 'there will be three tests of citizenship in this world. The first one will be the man who has neither lost the world anything, nor given it anything. There will be the man who has taken something on the balance, but the effective citizen will leave the world, having given it something.

'My conception of an effective citizen definitely includes love of country, pride in its best traditions, but that sane love demands that we shall probe into its problems, the problems of poverty, the problems of sicknes, the problems of strife, and that we shall then bring to them individual thought, and there follows from that, from the really effective citizen, independent action, even if it hurts, and I wonder if you would accept this: That governments are largely what their particular citizens deserve. Is every man in this hall satisfied that the abundant and even overflowing mercies of a really bountiful providence are properly distributed in this town and country?

"My efficient citizen is interested in his job. He believes that personal qualities were meant for use. He has no use for the maxim, 'Fling away ambition,' but he accepts at the same time that his personal qualities, if outstanding, were given to him to be used for the common good, and he plays the game by those who work with him and even by those who work against him. And he regards the lowliest of crafts as divine if it is worthily pursued.

"My efficient citizen believes that his emotions were meant to be used, but in conjunction with reason. This is the old discussion as to the use of the hand and the heart simultaneously. I am not afraid of the epithet 'hot air.' When somebody tells you that you are using hot air, you tell him that it is needed in the coldest of places. But he uses neither hot air nor icy caution to excess. They can lead you to destruction.

"My efficient citizen is loyal to his friends. He keeps away from envy, hatred and malice, those very instruments of hell. He treads the sad places of life and mostly does it by stealth, and he doesn't confine the whole of his good deeds to one Christmas day in the year. He appreciates that the best things of life are those that most people won't have as a gift, and he revels in that greatest and most lasting of all jobs, seeing his own smile mirrored in the eyes of others, especially the sick and the needy and the children.

"'He profits most who serves the best.' Life teems with opportunities, and my efficient citizen finds his best enjoyment in them. Life is richer for his passing, but the greatest of all: 'He profits most who serves the best.' It is his soul which is richest of all because of his experience."

SOME OF BENEFITS TO BE DERIVED FROM ROTARY MEMBERSHIP.

Here are some of the benefits that a Rotarian derives from being a member of a Rotary Club:

The enlargement of acquaintance with men whom one ought to know well.

The development of many true and helpful friendships.

Stimulation of one's mind to travel in unfrequented channels of thought.

Obtaining enlightenment as to other men's work, problems and successes.

An opportunity to obtain a broad outlook on one's business or profession by becoming acquainted with approved means for improving one's own business from the standpoint of its contribution to the well-being of its employees and customers.

The securing of help and inspiration to assist one in his efforts as an individual to participate more effectively in the activities which make the community a better place in which to live.

An opportunity to learn the true meaning of "Service Above Self" and "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

BLINDNESS FAILS TO DETER AMBITIOUS SCOUT.

Piedmont, Calif., Oct. 10.—Donald Lafrenz, twelve-year-old Boy Scout, won the rank of Eagle Scout despite his blindness.

The boy, who lost his sight six years ago from an illness, received the award after determined competition with companions who see normally. His specialty is tying knots.

AMAZING CONDITION OF PRIVATION.

London, Ont., Oct. 10.—Without a morsel of food for three days, a small child, discovered by J. B. M. Ferguson, school attendance officer, was responsible today for the Board of Education's decision to appeal directly to the public for help in stopping "amazing conditions of privation" in this city.

MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Thanksgiving Day should have particular significance for Canadians. With the Old World seething with unress and warlike preparations, civil strife and strained relationships, Canada has much to be grateful for as it prepares to thank Providence for the many blessings bestowed on the Dominion.
