OTTAWA.
A Breakdown in the Custom House—The Bell Telephone Case—The Cornwall Post Office.
OTTAWA, November 24.—The Supreme Court sits again to-morrow, when the Quebec case will be taken up.
The second floor of the Custom House fell on Saturday evening, there being several hundred barrels of apples placed thereon. On the lower floor were gin and brandy casks and other articles which were smashed to pieces. The loss will be upwards of $2,000. As the goods were in bond the Government will be the losers. The accident was due to the rickety floor.
The Bell Telephone and Dominion Telephone are now submitting evidence to the Minister of Agriculture in regard to the dispute between the two companies. An adjournment was made from 1.30 to 2.30, when the case was again proceeded with.
Col. F. C. Morehead arrived to-day to again interview the Government respecting an exhibit from the Dominion to the New Orleans exhibition. It is understood the Government will send a representation.
Mr. L. A. Ross, one of the contractors of the new post office in Cornwall, was in the city to-day interviewing the Department of Public Works in regard to the winding up of the contract. The building has been completed throughout with the exception of the furnishings. It will be ready for occupation about the end of January.
A parade of the Governor-General's Foot Guards took place to-night. At the close of the same a reception was given by Mrs. Colonel Ross to General Middleton and district staff and friends.
The winter time-table of the Canadian Pacific Railway went into effect to-day.
A case was opened Mr. Roaf, on behalf of the telephone manufacturing company of Toronto, read a formal judgment of Chief Justice Osler, dismissing the application made by the Bell Telephone Company. Mr. Cameron, Q. C., then moved for a further adjournment of the hearing on the ground that an appeal made against the decision of Chief Justice Osler, founded upon, as he alleged, sufficient grounds, which were disclosed in the written judgment of the Chief Justice, which he (Mr. Cameron) read in support. To this an objection was raised by Mr. McLean of Ottawa, on the ground that the adjournment was not made in good faith but for the purpose of securing a greater delay so that the same ground would be given to the respondents to apply for further delay in the Court of Appeals should affirm the judgment of Chief Justice Osler, and so on through the Supreme Court to the Privy Council. He also pointed out that any further delay was inconsistent with the first adjournment and the spirit of the section of the act under which the proceeding was taken. The case was now ready for hearing. The statute was clear as to the responsibility of the Minister of Agriculture, whose duty to proceed, he believed, was not discretionary, but imperative. The Minister ruled that he had no alternative by the statute but to proceed. Mr. Roaf, on behalf of the Toronto Company, then went on with the case. Evidence was called with a view to establishing the fact that in violation of the patent act the Bell Telephone Co. had both refused to sell their instruments to parties desiring to purchase and had imported instruments from the United States in contravention to the act. Mr. Sweeney and Mr. Wright, of the Dominion Telephone Company, also gave evidence. The case was then adjourned in order to see if oral examinations were possible as to parties making the declaration, the case was adjourned until a week from to-morrow. Mr. Reynolds, of Hamilton, and Z. A. Walsh, Q. C., were also in attendance for the Bell Company.

QUEBEC.
Accused of Book Stealing—A New Secretary of Instruction—Congratulations from the Learned—They Want a Bonus.
QUEBEC, November 24.—On a writ of habeas corpus granted by Judge McCord, the late Civil Service employe accused of the robbery of books from the office of the Attorney-General, has been admitted to bail by giving security in his own behalf to the extent of $1,000, and two other securities of $500 each.
Mr. Paul DeCazes has been appointed assistant secretary of the council of public instruction.
Hon. Jean Blanchet has received from Mr. Jules Simon, of the French academy, a letter of congratulation upon the successful publication by him of the Manuscrits de la Nouvelle France.
Rain fell during the whole night. The snow has nearly all disappeared, leaving the roads in a bad condition in Quebec and surrounding country. The weather is turning cold now with appearances of snow.
The River Police will, as usual at the close of navigation, be paid off and disbanded this week. The men have petitioned the Government for a bonus of twenty-five cents per day extra, and they have been led by politicians to believe that they will get it.
Mr. James McKenna, agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway in this city, has completed his arrangements for the issuing of tickets to New Orleans from this city and return for the low figure of $40, good during the six months' progress of the great exhibition.
The damage done to the wing of the Provincial buildings by the dynamiter has been all repaired, but there is still nothing heard of the miscreants who committed the deed. The rewards offered both by the contractor and the Provincial authorities are still conspicuously advertised in all the local papers.
A grand banquet in honor of Hon. J. J. Ross' silver jubilee as a politician will be given in the Town Hall at Three Rivers on Thursday. A special train will leave the North Shore railway station at three o'clock with guests from this district.

THE WHOLE OF THE NORTH SHORE TELEGRAPH SYSTEM east of Beresim is out of order, and has been so for weeks past, communication being entirely cut off. Nothing seems to have been done by the Government operators in charge towards having it repaired. The public meanwhile find it very awkward to have communication cut off just now when it is most needed. The recent wrecks and loss of life there are a standing evidence of the serious want of this line in good order at this season of the year.
Mrs. Boutte's lawyers are engaged in the preparation of the record in support of her petition, which will be heard before the full Court of Queen's Bench sitting in appeal.
TORONTO.
A Kieptanulise—Killed by an Express Train—The South Renfrew Case—An Absconding Confidential Clerk—A Steer Drowned—Another Libel Case.
TORONTO, November 24.—James A. Buck, of Newcastle, was this morning committed as a lunatic. Last week he was charged with stealing two horses from his father, and both father and son acted so queerly that the case was adjourned until a medical examination was made.
James Griffith of Port Credit, a carpenter, was killed near Mimico station on Saturday evening, by the Grand Trunk express. He was standing on one track to allow the freight train to pass on the other, when the express came thundering down upon him, killing him instantly. The body was brought to the morgue. The coroner deputed an inquest unnecessary.
A man named Campbell, a C.P.R. contractor, arrived last night from Port Arthur, suffering from typhoid fever. He was taken to the hospital, and died this morning.
The argument on the appeal in the South Renfrew election case, by Dr. Dowling, against his disqualification, and the cross appeal by the petitioner that he was not a qualified elector, were argued by Patrick Devine, Conservative candidate, took place before the Court of Appeal, and judgment was reserved.
Considerable excitement has been caused in commercial circles here over the disappearance of George E. Wingate, confidential clerk of Scarth, Cochran & Co., and Assistant Commissioner of the Scottish Ontario and Manitoba Land Company, with over $9,000 of the firm's funds. Wingate obtained leave of absence last Tuesday to visit friends in Hamilton, and he has not been seen since. On Saturday a false entry was noticed in his books, and careful investigation showed defalcations by Wingate of over $9,000. Every effort was made to keep the matter quiet but it got whispered about last afternoon. It is believed Wingate did not take much money with him, but lost most of it by speculating in North-West lands. He was a married man and a native of Hamilton. His present whereabouts are unknown, but it is thought he has skipped to Mexico.
The residence of Captain Gilroy, of the Salvation Army, was broken into last night during his absence at the meeting and $140 in cash belonging to the army and a quantity of jewellery stolen. Every trunk and drawer in the house had been ransacked.
George Winham and James Stewart early this morning went out duck shooting in Ashbridge's bay. The boat was capsized owing to the heavy gale blowing, and both were left struggling in the water. Stewart seized hold of his companion, who could not swim, and managed to get a grip of the keel of the boat. They were observed by county constable Lang, who put off in a boat and rescued them, both being thoroughly exhausted and nearly dead with cold.
Alexander Boyd, of Boyd Bros., wholesale dry goods merchants, has issued a writ against the Journal of Commerce for $10,000 damages for an alleged libellous article which appeared in its columns last week concerning Boyd's connection with the failure of Watson, Young & Co., of London.

A Tribute of Respect and Esteem.
HAMILTON, Ont., November 24.—The remains of the late Edward Gurney were buried this afternoon amid such demonstrations of respect and sorrow as are seldom seen at the funerals of the most prominent citizens. The funeral was attended by many of the leading men of Hamilton and by the small army of workmen employed by the deceased gentleman, including 150 from the Toronto foundry and a large number from Dundas. The management of the Winnipeg and Montreal branches were present. The pall-bearers were the heads of the various departments of the Hamilton Works. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. W. Carson, assisted by Rev. Dr. Brown. The casket was borne by a number of the workmen.
Convicted of Receiving Stolen Goods.
HAMILTON, Ont., November 24.—The man Gurney pleaded guilty at the police court to-day to one charge of receiving stolen goods. He is the man who was arrested in connection with the Toronto foundry in a house here. He will be sentenced to-morrow.
The C.P.R. Steamer Alberta.
OWEN SOUND, Ont., November 24.—The steamer Alberta of the Canadian Pacific Railway line arrived here yesterday from Port Arthur. She reports very heavy weather with snow storms. She is now loading for Port Arthur and will leave as soon as the weather permits. This will be the last trip of the season. The Campans arrived down from Lake Superior at three p.m. to-day, having experienced very rough weather and blinding snow storms. If the weather clears up she will leave for Collingwood to-night, otherwise she will go into winter quarters here. She reports steamers Pacific and Africa at Saunt on down trip.

An Outburst of Indignation.
WINNIPEG, Man., November 24.—The pressure brought to bear on the Government by the public indignation at the flogging of the prisoner McCormick at the instigation of the Attorney-General Miller is so great that the Government has demanded Miller's resignation.

LATEST BY CABLE.
Cholera Dying Out in Paris.
PARIS, November 24.—The Sanitary Commission has ceased to hold daily sessions. The cholera epidemic is considered at an end.
PARIS, November 24.—The Radical newspapers accuse the Government of angering the crowd on Sunday by a needless display of the police and military forces. The organizers are determined to make a demonstration next Sunday, when emutes are expected.
British Troops at Dongola.
DONGOLA, November 24.—Wolsey's troops are arriving here rapidly.
Colonel Stewart has gone to select a site for the camp twenty miles south of this place.
Concessions to the Turkish Soldiers.
VARNA, November 24.—The disaffection in the Turkish army has been quieted by the Government agreeing to pay the troops part of the arrears, and to reduce the term of service by two years.
A Judge's Good Intentions.
LONDON, November 24.—Judge Manisty, of the Court of Queen's Bench, has ordered a stay of execution in the Adams-Coleridge case. The judge explained that his action in overruling the verdict of the jury was taken in the interest of both parties. If the Court of Appeals overrules his decision a second trial will not be necessary.
Further Railroad Massacre.
MONTREAL, November 24.—A collision occurred last night at Perido on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, between a north bound passenger train and a south bound freight train. An engineer was killed and many wounded.
Another Cavern Discovered.
KINGWOOD, Va., November 24.—A remarkable cavern has been discovered on the Cheat River, near here. Small apertures lead to a series of seven chambers, the smallest of which is 75 feet long, by 40 feet wide and 30 feet high. The caverns have not all been explored, but they are believed to be very extensive. The formation is rock crystal, exceedingly beautiful, and explorers believe they will rival the Luray caverns.

An Unsatisfactory Tribunal.
LIMA, November 24.—The Anglo-Chilian tribunal now sitting in Chili to pass upon the claims of British subjects for losses sustained during the war has rejected almost every claim presented, and has so astounded foreigners of all nationalities possessing like claims that they have held meetings here and taken combined action in order to abolish the different conventions and have an independent court of arbitration appointed. In many of the decisions rendered by the tribunal the adverse vote of the English representatives has been overruled, and the interests they represent sacrificed by the will of the majority. It is asserted that British interests are not well represented, and that the Chilians are jubilant over their constant failures to obtain equitable awards for losses clearly proven and undoubtedly brought home to the brutal and frenzied soldiery in the hour of triumph. It is said the American claims will share the same fate.
A Breeze in the French Chamber.
PARIS, November 24.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day upon the Tonquin credits, M. Lacroix (Radical) attacked the Government and generally criticised its Colonial policy. M. Delafosse (Right) vehemently denounced the Ministers, and claimed that they deserved to be impeached.
The College Difficulty in Spain.
MADRID, November 24.—The conflict between the authorities and the university students grows more serious daily. Hundreds of arrests have been made, in effecting which large numbers of people have been wounded, including several members of the police. The Government has appointed a new Ultramontane rector to succeed the Sagastan rector, who resigned last week. The streets resemble a city in a state of siege. The press retaliates with extreme violence upon the prosecution of the liberal and republican papers. The majority of those arrested were released. The force of police has been stationed in the precincts of the university. The majority of the professors refuse to deliver lectures under such conditions, and the students refuse to attend. There is great agitation also in provincial universities. Seven more democratic newspapers are to be prosecuted.

The Distribution Bill to be Introduced.
LONDON, November 24.—In the House of Commons to-day Gladstone said he hoped to introduce the Redistribution Bill next Monday and move the second reading the following Thursday. The Income Tax Bill passed its third reading to-day. Mr. Chamberlain will call a meeting of the Conservatives.
King Humbert Receives an Ovation.
ROME, November 24.—General Durando has been nominated President of the Senate. King Humbert and the rest of the Royal family received an ovation as they entered the city yesterday. The workmen especially turned out in great numbers. The king visited Prime Minister Depretis, who is critically ill.
The Navigation of the Niger.
PARIS, November 24.—Figaro states that England will permit the Congo conference to establish an international commission for the regulation of the Niger was intimated at the first session of the conference. Malet, British delegate, declared in explanation that the commerce of the Niger was exclusively British, and the tribes in Niger Delta were under British protection. England, he asserted, would pledge herself to clear the river, regulate the navigation and throw the river open to the world.
A Suicide.
BERLIN, November 24.—Yesterday Max Hamburger, merchant, doing business in New York, Paris and Berlin, visited his mother's grave, and while there suicided. Business losses are said to be the cause.
A Destructive Cyclone.
LONDON, November 24.—India advises state that a terrible cyclone recently visited the Madras presidency, causing immense damage. Dykes burst in many places, stopping the water supply of the City of Madras.

Preparations for War in South Africa.
Great activity prevails at Woolwich in the preparation of stores and munitions of war. Indications are that the expedition to Bechuanaaland will be larger than was expected. Several battalions have been ordered to place themselves in readiness for foreign service.
A Labor Demonstration.
PARIS, November 24.—The meeting yesterday, at which violent speeches against the rich were made, was composed of unemployed men. Five thousand were in attendance. It was resolved to hold another out-of-door meeting. As the men left the hall they sang the "Marseillaise" and "Carmagnole." The police interfered and a scuffle ensued. Some of the policemen, including the commissary police, were wounded. Thirty persons were arrested.
Anarchy in Abyssinia.
PARIS, November 24.—A Massowah dispatch describes the district ceded by the English to King John of Abyssinia as a scene of pillage, fire and massacre. The tribes throughout Bagos province have revolted, and destroyed tobacco plantations and refused to support his colleague Keran. Foreign traders in Massowah have been ruined, and are uniting in petition to their governments to insist upon their indemnification by the English Government.
The Navy to be Increased.
LONDON, November 24.—The Admiralty has invited tenders for building new men-of-war from shipbuilders on the rivers Clyde, Tyne and Mersey, among other orders will be distributed to remedy the present depression in the ship-building trade.
Gladstone and Salisbury Understand each other.
LONDON, November 24.—Mr. Gladstone and Salisbury have arrived at a definite agreement upon the Redistribution Bill. Chamberlain, President of the Board of Trade, still resists the radical pressure and continues to support his colleague. The Cabinet is thus united upon the question.
Parliament will adjourn about the 12th December.

FRANCE AND CHINA.
SHANGHAI, November 24.—The Chinese fleet is preparing to go to Formosa.
It is believed that, in order to settle the Franco-Chinese difficulty, France demands the strict execution of the Tientsin treaty, the occupation of Keelung and Tamsui for one year, and an apology from the Chinese Government for the Langson affair. The Chinese declare that the trouble at Langson was altogether the fault of France, and they utterly refuse the terms, believing that, if France is allowed to hold Formosa for five years, she will find an excuse for permanent occupation.
HONG KONG, November 24.—It is asserted that reports of victories by the French in Formosa are fabrications, and that the French successes in Tonquin have been greatly overrated. The invaders of Tonquin are making no progress. Their operations are at a standstill and they are confined to the Red River Delta. In Formosa the French have no foothold except at Keelung. The Chinese are now assuming the offensive in Tonquin and Formosa. If the French are to continue their course of taking reprisals, they will require 15,000 reinforcements in Tonquin and 10,000 in Formosa. An expedition against Peking direct would be cheaper for France.
The Chinese Attacked and Beaten.
PARIS, November 24.—Tonquin advances say that, as a reprisal for the attack made by the Chinese upon the French gunboats Elclair and Tromer on the 19th instant, General Delisle telegraphs that Colonel Duchesne attacked the forces of black flags and Chinese regulars entrenched in fortified works near that place. The French forces captured the fortifications and the enemy fled. The French lost eight killed and twenty wounded. The Chinese have evacuated Long-Kam valley.
A later despatch states that Colonel Duchesne the next day stormed, without loss, three fortified villages and destroyed or captured all the enemy's supplies. The enemy were in full retreat, taking refuge in the mountains and forests.

JUSTICE TO A HUNGARIAN PATRIOT
Exonerated from a False Charge of Treachery.
VIENNA, November 24.—Two hundred and eighty of the former comrades of General Gorgei, the noted Hungarian leader, presented him yesterday with a manifesto, exonerating him from the charge of treachery which was made against him after the surrender of the Hungarian forces in 1849. Count Andrássy, Gen. Kapka, and many other distinguished men signed the document. Gorgei was greatly affected, and said, with much emotion, that he had been resigned to die under the accusation of treason, but he greeted with joy the courage of his comrades in restoring to him his reputation to take with him to the grave.
THE CONGO CONFERENCE.
Providing for the Future of Interior Africa.
BERLIN, November 24.—Experts hold that England has no claim to Bonnie, Benne and Upper Niger rivers, and can claim only the real mouth of the Niger. It is semi-officially stated that France has concluded two conventions with the African International Association, one defining the Congo territories, the other acknowledging the Association formally by treaty. At the last meeting of the committee of the Congo conference the Italian delegate proposed that the powers should contribute for the protection of all missionaries, travellers and savants who visit the Congo region. Stanley advocated the construction of a railway from Viva to Stanleypool, in order to cheapen transport service to the interior.
BERLIN, November 24.—At a meeting of the Congo Committee to-day Ambassador, the English delegate, supported the views of Stanley upon the question of the boundaries of the Congo basin. The Portuguese experts opposed it. The Committee did not debate on the Niger question.
BERLIN, November 24.—The Congo

COMMITTEE UNANIMOUSLY AGREED that free trade shall prevail in the western part of Congo basin. Woermann, for Germany, advocated the extension of the basin to the eastward, but the committee resolved to favor its extension both eastward and westward, preserving the existing rights of sovereignty. The representatives of the English mercantile houses believe that English trade will be largely benefited by the adoption of the free trade principle.
LONDON, November 24.—Earl Granville is in constant communication with Malet, the English delegate to the Congo Conference. The situation is unpleasant. Malet opposed the appointment of a committee of enquiry upon England's claims to the Niger river and the nomination of Baron de Courcel, the French delegate, as president of the committee is considered marked evidence of a hostile combination against English claims.
EGYPT AND THE SOUDAN.
DONGOLA, November 24.—The British are advancing rapidly, though many boats have been injured.
A Nest Compliment.
WASHINGTON, November 24.—It is stated that President Arthur has invited Mr. Cleveland to make the White House his home while preparing for the inauguration ceremonies.
Talmage on Science and Revelation.
NEW YORK, November 24.—When the Baptist ministers met to-day, Rev. Mr. Phillips, of Williamsburg, offered a resolution that the conference declare itself not responsible for the wild utterances of Rev. Dr. Austin D. Fulton at last week's session. The resolution was not seconded, and the matter dropped. Rev. Dr. Talmage made an address on evolution. "There is no contest," said Talmage, "between science and revelation. Who gave us the telegraph?—Morse, a Christian. Who swung the cable?—Cyrus W. Field, another Christian. Evolution is out and out infidelity. Paine, Hume, and Voltaire did no more disbelieve the Holy Scriptures than those who believe in evolution. There is one dogma of evolution which we are particularly asked to adopt, viz.: the survival of the fittest. But do the fittest survive? Garfield died in June, and Guitau was alive nearly a year afterward. (Applause.) The origin of the doctrine of evolution is attributed to Herbert Spencer and a few others, but evolutionists exist before Spencer began to evolve. (Laughter.) It is an old heathen curse set up in a morgue, and Darwin and Spencer have been trying to galvanize it. (Roars of laughter.) If a pair of apes had a man for their descendant, why should not all apes have that honor? According to evolutionists, man is a bankrupt monkey. Talmage reviewed Darwin's theories, and said they were brutalizing.

CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS.
ASHTABULA, November 24.—C. H. L. Morrison and A. C. Fisk, directors of the Loan Association Bank, have been arrested, charged with complicity in the embezzlement of $30,000 by Cashier Southwick. Other arrests are expected.
NEW ORLEANS, November 24.—A number of buildings in St. John parish were wrecked by the storm on Saturday night. A nephew of Congressman St. Martin was killed. The latter narrowly escaped. Schuyler Elzer was killed by lightning at La Pointe Crossing. The sugar plantations are damaged.
BIODENSURG, O., November 24.—The only remaining liquor saloon in this town was wrecked by the prohibitionists on Saturday night. The proprietor was struck by a stone and died from his injuries.
ATLANTA, November 24.—Specials from Brunswick say that the report that the recent fire there was caused by negroes, is false. At a meeting of whites resolutions were passed denouncing the attempt to throw odium on colored people.
PITTSBURG, November 24.—It has been developed at the hearing before Commissioner Breck in the case of Riggs, Jarvis and others against the Pittsburg McKee's Port and Youngsborough Railroad—a suit for $100,000 damages, in which a verdict for $15,000 was granted to the plaintiffs by the jury—that the grossest kind of bribery was practised. The evidence shows the attorney for the plaintiffs offered $10,000 for evidence that would implicate certain railroad officials in trying to bribe juriesman.

THE ORIGIN OF SOME FEMINE APPELLATIONS.
Annabella is not Anna-bella, or fair Anna, but is the feminine of Hannibal, meaning gift or grace) of Bell, the name is not Arabella, or beautiful Arabella, or Orabella, a praying woman. It is an Anglicized form of Orabel it was much more common in the thirteenth century than at present. Maurice has nothing to do with Mauritius, or a Moor but comes from Albertus-hummelreich—the Kingdom of Heaven.
Ellen is the feminine of Alain, Alan, or Allan, and has no possible connection with Helen, which comes from a different language, and older by at least a thousand years. Amy is not from amee, but from amee. Arise, or Aris, does not exactly mean advice, as some seem to think. It comes from Edwis, and means happy woman. Eliza has no connection with Elizabeth; it is the sister of Louisa, and both are the daughters of Heloise, which is Heloise's children woman. There is indeed another form of Heloise, or rather Louise, which is the feminine of Louis, but this was scarcely heard of before the sixteenth century.
The older Heloise form of the name, Aloisia-Alois, or Aloysis, was adopted to medieval Europe as Alesia—a name which our old genealogists always confuse with Alice. Emily and Amelia are not different forms of one name. Emily is from Emylie, the name of an Etruscan gens; Amelia comes from the Gothic amala—heavenly. Reginald is not derived from Regina, and has nothing to do with a Queen. It is Rem-sat—exalted by merit. Alice, Adelaide, Adelaide, Aliza, Aliz, and Adeline are all forms of one name, the root of which is adel—noble. But Anne was never used as identical with Annis or Agnes [of which last the old Scottish Annas is a variety]; nor, as I stupidly maintained, was Elizabeth ever synonymous with Isabel.

CRIMES AND ACCIDENTS.
ASHTABULA, November 24.—C. H. L. Morrison and A. C. Fisk, directors of the Loan Association Bank, have been arrested, charged with complicity in the embezzlement of $30,000 by Cashier Southwick. Other arrests are expected.
NEW ORLEANS, November 24.—A number of buildings in St. John parish were wrecked by the storm on Saturday night. A nephew of Congressman St. Martin was killed. The latter narrowly escaped. Schuyler Elzer was killed by lightning at La Pointe Crossing. The sugar plantations are damaged.
BIODENSURG, O., November 24.—The only remaining liquor saloon in this town was wrecked by the prohibitionists on Saturday night. The proprietor was struck by a stone and died from his injuries.
ATLANTA, November 24.—Specials from Brunswick say that the report that the recent fire there was caused by negroes, is false. At a meeting of whites resolutions were passed denouncing the attempt to throw odium on colored people.
PITTSBURG, November 24.—It has been developed at the hearing before Commissioner Breck in the case of Riggs, Jarvis and others against the Pittsburg McKee's Port and Youngsborough Railroad—a suit for $100,000 damages, in which a verdict for $15,000 was granted to the plaintiffs by the jury—that the grossest kind of bribery was practised. The evidence shows the attorney for the plaintiffs offered $10,000 for evidence that would implicate certain railroad officials in trying to bribe juriesman.

THE ORIGIN OF SOME FEMINE APPELLATIONS.
Annabella is not Anna-bella, or fair Anna, but is the feminine of Hannibal, meaning gift or grace) of Bell, the name is not Arabella, or beautiful Arabella, or Orabella, a praying woman. It is an Anglicized form of Orabel it was much more common in the thirteenth century than at present. Maurice has nothing to do with Mauritius, or a Moor but comes from Albertus-hummelreich—the Kingdom of Heaven.
Ellen is the feminine of Alain, Alan, or Allan, and has no possible connection with Helen, which comes from a different language, and older by at least a thousand years. Amy is not from amee, but from amee. Arise, or Aris, does not exactly mean advice, as some seem to think. It comes from Edwis, and means happy woman. Eliza has no connection with Elizabeth; it is the sister of Louisa, and both are the daughters of Heloise, which is Heloise's children woman. There is indeed another form of Heloise, or rather Louise, which is the feminine of Louis, but this was scarcely heard of before the sixteenth century.
The older Heloise form of the name, Aloisia-Alois, or Aloysis, was adopted to medieval Europe as Alesia—a name which our old genealogists always confuse with Alice. Emily and Amelia are not different forms of one name. Emily is from Emylie, the name of an Etruscan gens; Amelia comes from the Gothic amala—heavenly. Reginald is not derived from Regina, and has nothing to do with a Queen. It is Rem-sat—exalted by merit. THE GREAT ENTERPRISE NEARING ITS COMPLETION.

The Toronto Week speaks of the vigorous pushing through of the Canadian Pacific Railway and of the general excellence of the work. It explains how it is that such an undertaking is being completed with unprecedented despatch and at the same time with regard to the high excellence of construction. It says:—

The reasons for haste in the construction of the Pacific Railway, when haste is being objected to, ought to be fairly stated. On the admission of British Columbia into the Canadian Confederation Parliament, wisely or unwisely, agreed to build a railway to the Pacific Ocean within ten years. This was found impossible of accomplishment, and an extension of time was obtained. But the consent of British Columbia to delay was reluctantly given, and discontent in the Pacific Province was rising among the objections were heard mutterings of possible secession. Parliament, as a matter of good faith, and on grounds of public policy, decided last session that the construction should be pushed on at a rate that would ensure a completed railway by the end of the year 1885. It was on this express ground that it sanctioned the loan.

The doctor was seen by a representative of the Star this morning, when he said that he hoped to conclude his report this week. He was not in a position so far to express any opinion as to the sanity or insanity of the patient, and stated that the case was a much more difficult one to decide than the general public had any idea of. In answer to the question whether he did not think three months rather a long time to take for the investigation, he said that some of the most able insanity experts of Paris took as long as five or six months to decide on similar questions. The mere fact of Mrs. Lynam giving her evidence in an intelligent manner, and to all intents and purposes appearing perfectly sane, was no evidence of her real sanity and it was on this point that he was taking so much trouble with this case.

"Have you seen Dr. Tuke's report?" he was asked. "And what do you think of it?" "I think he certainly has exaggerated a good deal. Of course there are improvements which might be made as regards medical supervision, but as to the question of restraint, that is still a matter of discussion even amongst the most celebrated European specialists."

As regarded what Dr. Tuke had said as to Beaupre, Dr. Vallee considered he certainly had very much exaggerated the restraint system there, as out of eight or nine hundred patients there were never more than ten under restraint at one time.

The Quebec Government and Dr. Vallee, up to yesterday, had probably not succeeded in getting sufficient evidence to justify the detention of Mrs. Lynam, but they will probably keep persecuting her until they die. As for so long a time being required to determine whether a person is sane or not, Dr. Vallee's statement supplies a nice commentary on the fact that the contractors at Longue Pointe claim to be able to decide such matters off-hand, while not more than a five or ten minutes' examination seems necessary in order to get a person sent to Longue Pointe for life. In fact, the contractors have claimed that people should be shut up for life because it was the wish of their relatives and without regard to a medical examination at all!

In this "interview" Dr. Vallee has shown where his sympathies lie; so that Mrs. Lynam's friends could only expect the worst from his report. The Government, no doubt, is casting its influence against the unfortunate woman.

NOT RECONCILED.

It is going to take time for the more prominent and zealous Blaine journals to get reconciled to Mr. Cleveland's election. The Chicago Tribune, a very able and influential journal, finds it particularly hard to accept the situation without kicking back viciously. Here is one of its flings at the successful party:—"One of the first results of the election of Grover Cleveland to the Presidency has been to bring the venomous old Copperheads out of their holes and give them an opportunity to vent their poisonous hatred against the Government. The Centralist, Ill., Sentinel of the 19th has a letter from Sandoval containing the testimony of several gentlemen [of that place] to the effect that the Democratic jollification meeting, the Copperhead crowd amused themselves with destroying an American flag that hung across the street. A few of the more prominent Democrats of the place denounced the outrage, but did not dare to restrain the crowd from its infamous work. At Berlin, Wis., a drunken Democratic procession cheered for Jeff Davis. These disgraceful scenes have occurred at other places. It only goes to show that these traitors fancy their opportunity has come. Perhaps they will find themselves mistaken. They may carry things too far." When it is considered that these are only two cases selected—represented by the Democratic party—of nearly thirty millions, it must be admitted that the "outrages" due to an excess of satisfaction are scarcely worth mentioning. There are fools in all

THE CANADIAN CATTLE TRADE.

In another column will be found a letter from a Liverpool gentleman, Mr. James Pritchard, who is in a position to know the exact condition of the cattle trade of England, and whose warning words in this connection are timely and judicious. Mr. Pritchard indicates the causes which have brought about the fall in the price of cattle in England, and they seem sufficiently convincing. They may be summed up thus:—The English farmers and breeders are raising more cattle than formerly. In many quarters they are abandoning the cultivation of grain (which has been so depressed by foreign imports) and are laying their land down to grass for cattle. The United States, Australasia, Brazil and Russia are sending vast quantities of dead meat. It is said that it is practically unlimited, and it is expected that live stock will be sent in even from Australia. Under these circumstances, Mr. Pritchard points to the losses of this year to the Canadian exporter or Canadian live stock, which he places at the remarkably heavy average of $20 per head, being continued if the price paid the stock raiser be kept up, which, of course, is practically impossible. We gather from his remarks that the cattle export trade of Canada has come to an end, unless stock raisers accept lower prices. He says that six cents and seven cents per lb. to the raisers of Canadian live stock are prices of the past; the figures in future can not exceed four cents and five cents, and he urges raisers to moderate their demands accordingly. These figures harmonize with the advice already offered by Canadians interested in the trade and which may have been regarded with suspicion by those to whom it was addressed. There is no denying the fact that the cattle export business has been conducted at a dead loss, which cannot continue. The next question is, can Canadian stock raisers produce cattle profitably at four and five cents per lb. live weight? Looking to the great surplus of fodder in the country, particularly in Ontario, the question can, no doubt, be answered in the affirmative for this year at least; and looking to the remarkable root crops which may be pretty certainly counted upon in any year, and the liberal production of oil cake, it would seem as if cattle might be staid fed in the Eastern Provinces as cheaply as anywhere else. At all events, farmers have yet to wrestle with the problem that is now before them, and we have no doubt they can do it successfully. For this year at least they have had all the profit there has been in any department of the cattle trade, and it is only reasonable that in future the exporter should see some result for his expenditure and labor.

DR. VALLEE AND ROSE LYNAM.

That Dr. Vallee is simply an agent of the Provincial Government and a partisan who is committed to the present system of management of the insane, a sympathizer with Longue Pointe in its war upon Mrs. Lynam, need no longer be doubted. His replies to a reporter for an evening paper show exactly of what stuff he is made. We quote:—

The doctor was seen by a representative of the Star this morning, when he said that he hoped to conclude his report this week. He was not in a position so far to express any opinion as to the sanity or insanity of the patient, and stated that the case was a much more difficult one to decide than the general public had any idea of. DEATHS.

DAWES—At Lachine, on Monday, 24th November, Sarah Ferrer, wife of James P. Dawes. Funeral will take place from her late residence, on Wednesday, 26th inst., at one p.m., for Mount Royal Cemetery. DONNELLY—On the morning of the 23rd inst., at 655 Palace street, Maria Clark, beloved wife of James Donnelly, aged 53. The funeral will take place on Tuesday, the 25th inst., at half-past two o'clock, from her late residence, St. George's Church. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

parties, but there are apparently also some very wise heads in the Democratic party. Witness the meeting of Georgia whites a day or two ago to denounce those who accused the negroes of incendiarism. This was a praiseworthy act, and may fairly be set off against the folly of the Wisconsin and Illinois Bourbons who cheered for Davis and insulted the American flag.

A GAME "SAXON."—As we do not desire to be classed with those editors who conceal from their readers for months valuable correspondence which, if published, might tend to the salvation of nations, or at least of an ancient people, we delay not to place before our readers "Saxon's" views as to the proper steps to be taken to overcome a crisis in the affairs of the British nation. His remedy seems very simple, and as Lord Lansdowne is at present charged with the care of Imperial interests in Canada we commend to his notice our friend "Saxon's" invention, in the hope that His Excellency will lose no time in laying it before Her Majesty or her Prime Minister. Being only an editor we are not in a position to pronounce conclusively upon its merits, but if it be found to contain the panacea needful for the healing of the British Constitution, we know at least one gallant heart that will rejoice with joy unfeigned. Pending the actual test of the new prescription we take leave to say that while our correspondents' references to bills of Attainder, obsolete acts of William and Mary, and the character of James 2nd and Henry 8th seem fair reading and might be very much to the point if the point in controversy were other than what it is, we fall to see their bearing on the matter in hand. Doubtless, this is owing to a mental obtuseness in which our readers probably share. The real point is whether the people can abolish the House of Lords; and on this point, although our correspondent wanders far afield and lugs in a variety of characters and arguments, as it were, by the neck and heels and without the least ceremony, yet in effect he abandons his idea of the Lords really enjoying "hereditary right" when he says:

"I must repeat that the Queen sits on her throne by right of inheritance with the consent of her people; so sit hereditary peers in their House."

This is the case in a nut shell. The consent of the people—the will of the people—determines the Royal succession as it does the existence of the House of Lords. The people have all power. Neither the Queen nor her heirs, nor the Lords or their heirs have any authority or power or privileges save such as the people are willing to accord to them; and when the people decide that the reigning dynasty must end, and the Lords' privileges shall be abolished, away goes the dynasty and good-bye to the House of Lords and its so-called "hereditary rights."

This is "Saxon's" doctrine and it is ours, and why he should wish to quarrel with us on the subject is more than we can make out.

GAS CONTROVERSIES.—We recently noted the consolidation of rival gas companies in New York. About the same date was Baltimore's turn to see her contending companies unite and put up the price of gas by sixty cents per thousand. Says the New York Gas Journal:—

The inevitable result has been finally reached in the case of the Baltimore gas war, and the only thing to wonder at in connection therewith is the fact that hostilities were kept up for such a length of time. It has been agreed that all active competition shall cease; that a certain division of territory will be made; and that the selling price of gas is to be fixed at the rate of $1.60 per thousand cubic feet. It is reported that the overtures looking to a settlement of the matter proceeded chiefly from those interested in the financial management of the Consolidated Company, and it is quite easy to understand that such should be the case, since the Consolidated staggers under a burden of capitalization load of close on to ten millions of dollars, while the Equitable has only to carry in the neighborhood of two and a half millions. At any rate, they have agreed to "bury the hatchet," and give the consumer a chance to pay sixty cents a thousand more for his light supply than the figure at which he has obtained it during the last four years. The aforesaid Baltimore consumer is deserving of no pity; indeed, on the whole, he is rather lucky to get off so easily. There was nothing to prevent the price figure from being agreed to "bury the hatchet," or even more. Thus do we once more behold a nice illustration of how opposition in gas supply serves the public.

Sir Richard Cartwright is not so well known in Montreal as his abilities and standing as a public speaker deserve. CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Herald.

I have read, naturally with a good deal of interest, your leading editorial of Saturday last in which you devote not less than a column and a half of "valuable space" to certain criticisms of mine which seem to me sufficiently simple to have been dealt with in a much smaller compass.

It is now three months since I invoked the assistance of the law of the land to procure the liberation of this poor unfortunate woman, who, as I believe, has been by her man most inhumanly deprived of her liberty and incarcerated in a mad-house.

When I think of the wrongs that this innocent woman has been made to suffer and of the dilatoriness and apathy of those who should be eager to do her prompt justice I begin to doubt whether I live in a British colony and under the protection of British law.

I am yours, ALFRED PERRY.

WORDS OF WARNING. To the Cattle Feeders and Others Engaged in the Transatlantic Line.

To the Editor of the Herald. Having been very extensively engaged in the transatlantic live stock trade for many years I venture to offer to the feeders and shippers of the United States and Dominion of Canada, a few words having reference to the experiences of the past and the prospect for the future.

It is well known and very generally felt that the shipping of live stock from the Continent of America to England, has for a long time been a most unprofitable trade.

I have seen instances this last season where cattle have lost as much as $30 per head to the shippers, not few but numerous instances.

The present prospects in England are far from encouraging to the cattle and sheep to this country, it is not only my opinion but also the opinion of all connected with the trade who are in a position to judge, that prices of both cattle and sheep are almost certain to rule very low in England in the immediate future.

It is also expected that before very long live cattle and sheep may be imported from Australasia; the experiment has already been tried and the thing has been found quite practicable.

In face of these influences and particularly the large importations of dressed meat, which lands day after day in splendid condition and in many instances sells for as much per lb, as English killed, and the steady increase of our own flocks and herds, what can the natural result be? Certainly no raise in prices, but on the contrary low rates must be anticipated.

The trade of England is bad generally and we are passing through the period of depression. The extensive emigration which has been going on to a great extent lessened the demand for meat and the result is a surplus in a surprising state with little prospect of improvement.

My advice to all interested in the Canadian export trade—to the large distillery feeders—to the feeders generally and to the shippers, is that in order to avert further disaster they must at once take action to enable them to meet the low rates which are certain to rule in the British markets.

All stock should be bought at least $2 per hundred less than previous years. Unless this be done the trade will inevitably find itself in an even worse position than during the past season.

We hear of such prices as $6 or $7 per hundred having been paid last year for winter fed cattle so that it is not surprising that losses of $10 to $30 per head were made on an average $20, for little less could have been reasonably expected.

What will be the rates paid for cattle and sheep next spring in Canada? Judging from the present outlook shippers will not be in a position to pay more than 5 cents or 4 cents respectively, and I cannot urge too strongly upon feeders generally the necessity of insisting upon having their stock cattle at least $2 per hundred less than last year, for unless they do this they will most absurdly find themselves in the same position as the shippers are now, and in fact have been for a long time past, it being patent to everyone engaged in the trade that the shippers have lost hundreds of money of late years.

I trust that these few words of warning may be in time, and not altogether out of place and that you may consider them worthy of insertion in your valuable journal which I understand circulates largely among those engaged in this trade.

that this shameful mockery was ended. I know for a fact that the alleged illness of this man Lyman is of a piece with the other devices by which this poor creature, his wife, was imprisoned in Longue Pointe Asylum.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH. The Buntin Case. Mr. Justice Monk appeared on the Bench at 10.30 yesterday morning. He stated that judgment would be delivered in the Buntin case this morning.

The case of the Queen vs. Mann, for committing a nuisance, was commenced. Messrs. Duhamel and C. H. Stephens appeared for Mr. Mann, while Messrs. Davidson and J. S. Hall, Jr., represented the Crown.

Mr. Hall stated that Mr. Mann had the sole contract for removing night soil from the city of Montreal. This material he had carted to a field owned by himself in Verdun, where it was dumped. This was a neighborhood and also affected the purity of the water from which cattle drink.

Mr. J. M. Crawford, Mayor of Verdun, said that at the beginning of June last Mr. Alex. Ramsay complained that his family had been made ill by the offensive smell from deposits on the Mann property.

On the 3rd of June a conference of councillors was held, and the next day witness visited the locality. He found there about fifty loads of four or five barrels each, the stench from which was terrible.

Mr. Alexander Ramsay testified that he had resided in Verdun for twenty-four years. He gave evidence concerning what Mr. Crawford had testified.

AFTERNOON SESSION. The court opened at 2 o'clock, the first witness being Joseph Braut, farmer, residing at Verdun, who was sworn on behalf of the prosecution.

To Mr. Davidson—I reside in the middle part of Verdun, on Lower Lachine Road, about ten acres below Mann's farm. Night soil was deposited on the 2nd of the premises during May and up to June 2. Duhamel passed witness' house had a bad odor.

By Mr. Duhamel—Cross-examined—Refuse has been dumped on the place indicated for four or five years, but the smell was not so bad as it is latterly. Some was carried to Mr. Caverhill's property, but was not offensive.

By Mr. Davidson—The odor from the passing garbage carts was stronger than from ordinary manure; knew what night soil was.

John Deacon, laborer—Have been ten years employed on the Lower Lachine Road. Knew Mr. Mann to see him. Saw loaded garbage carts passing during May, but in June they had such a disgusting smell that I had to cross the road to avoid them.

By Mr. Davidson—The smell was very bad, but like everything else, they (the residents of the locality) got used to it. Was positive a bad smell came from Mann's property.

Mr. Desrosiers, Judge of Court of Sessions, was called by the witness to the effect of Joseph Rielle, a witness for prosecution, who made a deposition as to the nuisance on Mann's premises before leaving for Europe. The document was read, and was substantially the same as the evidence already adduced in the case.

John Monteith, farmer. Lived at Verdun between the two farms above Mann's property. Have a farm of 70 acres, and have been a resident there seven years. Considered the deposits of night soil referred to dangerous and injurious.

By Mr. Davidson—The exact date of the sickness in Mr. Monteith's family was November, 1877. Germs at that season can be spread by the wind if the soil has been contaminated by typhoid patients.

THE GAGUS STALK. The Most Terrible and Fatal Intoxicant Yet Discovered.

[From the San Francisco Call.] "Do you know what that is?" said the captain of a bark lately returned from a cruise in the Southern seas to a Gall reporter who was prowling around the water front in search of items. He held in his hand what appeared to be a gaudily painted barber's pole shrunken to the size of a policeman's club. The reporter surveyed the object curiously and admitted that he could not guess what it was.

"That," continued the skipper, taking the nondescript object from the reporter's hands and carrying it as though it were a kitten, "is a piece of gagus stalk. It came from Gaupil Island, near the Malacca group. I have navigated the South Seas for many years, and I never saw it growing upon any other island, and I don't think you will find any seafaring man who will tell you that it grows there."

"But what is it?" questioned the reporter, eyeing the curiosity. "Gagus root?" "Yes, that's as near as we sailors can get to what the natives there call it. I've heard these four-eyed scientific lubbers call it by a name a yard long but I might as well have tried to reef a mainmast on a reel to round my mental windlass. Gagus is good enough for me."

"Who pointed it?" went on the reporter, a suspicion creeping into his mind that the captain had ornamented it with color for the purpose of selling it to some Democrat to put in his hat.

"Pointed it? Why, jigger me, that's the way it grew," cried the skipper, with a laugh. "I guess you haven't seen anything like it before."

The reporter admitted that he had not, and asked the captain to describe to him the cloud of mystery surrounding the "gagus."

"It is a species of cactus," he explained, "and, as I said, grows only to my knowledge, on Gaupil Island. The island is a small one, but is well populated by natives of the Malay race. In the interior the plant grows wild, flourishing especially in the red rocky soil. It looks beautiful when growing, as you might judge by the bright leaves with which this is spotted. The main stalk is covered with sharp, nettle-like protuberances, and a prick from one of them will cause more than a handful of red pepper thrown in your eyes. When young the plant consists of but one stalk, which shoots up straight to a height of four or five feet. It is a brilliant scarlet in hue. Toward winter a number of offshoots spring out all the things like a broom stood upright. Green and purple specks then appear all over it. A grove of gagus shrubs is a very pretty sight. But it is the properties of the plant which distinguish it. Opium is a potent drug, but I will back the extract from the gagus stalk to effect more damage on the human system than all the opium in the world. The natives cut the plant in the early spring. After they have gathered a sufficient quantity they put it in large bowls and crush it with huge stones. A grayish sap runs out freely and this they collect and drink after letting it ferment, which it does easily. One drink of a pint is enough for an ordinary man, but I have seen natives drink more. Within half an hour after imbibing it the drinker becomes perfectly stupid and lies around like a log. The spell lasts a day or more, during which time the natives say they live in paradise."

"Do white men drink it?" "I have known sailors to try it, but they never tackled it twice. Three years ago I had men in my crew who were driven crazy by one drink."

"What effect does it have upon the natives?" "Well, that is where the gagus displays itself. If you could see some of the terrible examples of gagus drinking in Gaupil you would be horrified. The first effect of the liquor is to soften the bones and gradually eat them away. There are natives there, the victims of gagus, who are indeed boneless and unable to walk or use their limbs. They then begin to wither away like this stalk until they die in misery and convulsions. Immediately after death the head of the corpse becomes soft as pulp, no bones can be felt, the skull is completely eaten away. The body then begins to swell as though it were inflated with gas and immediate burial is necessary. How long does it take to thus devastate a human being?" asked the reporter.

"That is according to the appetite of the victim for the stuff. Usually two years will finish the hardest man. Oh, the sufferings of the slaves to the drink are terrible."

The piece of plant was again subjected to an inspection by the reporter, and this time with some manifest interest. "You see, it is hard," said the captain, dropping it on the deck to prove his words; "and this is harmless unless, I presume, it was soaked in water and the liquor drank."

GEMS OF THE ORIENT.

Three Bushels of Diamonds Found inside an Idol.

The history of gems in the East is the history of the governing princes, for so often has the course of history in the Orient been effected by intrigues about precious stones that they assume a state of importance. The traditional diamond in the East is the Great Mogul. The original weight of this stone 787 carats. The stone disappeared at the last Tartar invasion, when treasures to the value of $350,000,000 were captured by Nadir Shah. It is believed to be at present hidden away in some obscure fortress in Asia Minor, and may be recovered at some future time. Some idea of the abundance of precious stones in the East may be gained from the fact that when Mahmood, in the eleventh century captured Summar, an idol statue was broken, opened and found to contain three bushels of diamonds, rubies and emeralds. Alau-d-din obtained from the Kaga of Mahattas 50 pounds of diamonds and rubies and 175 pounds of pearls. Shah Jehan, the greatest of the Mogul sovereigns left a treasure of incalculable value at his death, a throne valued at $36,000,000 and a crown worth $12,000,000. The throne was the celebrated peacock throne, so called from the images of two peacocks which stood before it, each made of precious stones so matched in color and in position to resemble the natural colors of the bird. The throne was six feet long and four feet wide, of gold and emeralds. Steps of silver led up to it, while a canopy of gold, fringed with pearls, supported by twelve pillars encrusted with gems, surmounted the whole. On each side was a sacred umbrell made of velvet, encrusted with pearls, the handle being of gold inlaid with diamonds. It was the most costly work of art ever made. Its only rival was the cerulean throne of the house of Bahmeene in the Nizam. This was built in the seventeenth century, was nine feet long by three feet wide, was made of ebony covered with plates of gold encrusted with gems, and was valued at $20,000,000. A late traveler in the East, Mr. Eastwick, has recently given a graphic account of the magnificence of the Persian crown jewels. In the jewel room he found treasures valued at $35,000,000, among them the crown, a mass of diamonds surrounded by a ruby of big as a hen's egg. The king's belt is a wonder of barbaric magnificence, weighing about twenty pounds and composed of a solid mas of diamonds, rubies and emeralds. As Persia is the native land of the turquoise, it is but natural that the finest stone of this description is to be found in its collection. This royal specimen is four inches long, perfect in color, and without a flaw. When the Shah was in Europe, some years ago, he wore a variety of diamonds and other precious stones that kept the detectives in a constant fever of fear lest he should be robbed of some of them, for one even of the smallest, would have been a fortune for half a dozen thieves. The buttons of his coat were five in number, and each button was a diamond larger than the Kohinoor, while every part of his clothing seemed to be useful, not as a covering for his body, but as a place to hang diamonds on.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Bassett, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Bilroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indigestible odor in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky sime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling; the eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferer feels tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whistling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels are constipated, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes close, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above-named symptoms should not feel nervous for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), 17, Farringdonroad, London, E.C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November 24th, 1881. Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief; and after taking two bottles of it I feel quite cured. I am, Sir, yours truly, Mr. A. J. White. William Brent, September 8th, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues, and one customer described it as "Godsend to dyspeptic people. I always recommend it with confidence. Faithfully yours, (Signed) Vincent A. Wils, Chemist-Dentist, Merthyr Tydfil, To Mr. A. J. White.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure constiveness. Preston, Sept. 21st, 1883.

My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible. The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."

The sale keeps up wonderfully—in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great. I am, dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. Bowker, To A. J. White, Esq., Spanish Town, Jamaica, West Indies, October 24, 1882.

Dear Sir,—I write to inform you that I have derived great benefit from "Seigel's Syrup." For some years I have suffered from liver complaint, with its many and varied concomitant evils, so that my life was a perpetual misery. Twelve months ago I was induced to try Seigel's Syrup, and although rather sceptical, having tried so many reputed infallible remedies, I determined to give it at least a fair trial. In two or three days I felt considerably better, and now at the end of twelve months (having continued taking it) I am glad to say that I am a different being altogether. It is said of certain peaches that they come as soon and as a blessing to men; and I have no reason to doubt the truthfulness of the statement. I can truly say, however, that Seigel's Syrup has come as a "boon and a blessing" to me. I have recommended it to several fellow-sufferers from this distressing complaint, and their testimony is quite in accordance with my own. Gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the excellent preparation, prompts me to furnish you with this unsolicited testimonial. I am, dear Sir, Yours ever gratefully, (Signed) Cary B. Berry, Baptist Missionary.

A. J. White, Esq., Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 16, 1882. Mr. A. J. White,—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health. I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) John H. Lightfoot.

Clergymen, Singers and Public Speakers, will find Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion of the greatest benefit to them, where there is any tendency to weakness of the throat or bronchial tubes, as it soothes the irritated membrane, gives full-tone and strength to the vocal organs and imparts new life and vigor to the enfeebled constitution. SOMETHING that will quiet the nerves, give strength to the body, induce refreshing sleep, improve the quality of the blood, and purify and brighten the complexion, is what many persons would be very glad to obtain. Carter's Liver Pills are made for exactly this purpose, and are remarkably successful in all cases of indigestion, constipation, biliousness, and all the ailments which are usually attendant upon a disordered liver. Price, 50 cents a box. See advertisement.

THE GREAT DR. DIO LEWIS.

His Outspoken Opinion.

The very marked testimonials from College Professors, respectable Physicians, and other gentlemen of intelligence and character to the value of Warner's SAFE Cure, published in the editorial columns of our best newspapers, have greatly surprised me. Many of these gentlemen I know, and reading their testimony I was impelled to purchase some bottles of Warner's SAFE Cure and analyze it. Besides, I took some, swallowing three times the prescribed quantity. I am satisfied the medicine is not injurious, and will frankly add that I found myself the victim of a serious kidney trouble. I should use this preparation. The truth is, the medical profession stands dumb and helpless in the presence of more than one kidney malady, while the testimony of hundreds of intelligent and very reputable gentlemen hardly leaves room to doubt that Mr. H. H. Warner has fallen upon one of those happy discoveries which occasionally bring help to suffering humanity.

CANADA IN ENGLAND.

Sir John Macdonald at the Lord Mayor's Banquet.

Notes From Workers in the Emigration Field.

From the Canadian Gazette, London, Nov. 13.

Sir John A. Macdonald's presence at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall on Monday will be noted with gratification in Canada, not only as a compliment to the Premier personally, but also as a recognition of the hospitality due to the leading men and representatives of the Dominion. Sir John, on rising to respond to the toast of "The visitors," was very cordially received. In the course of his remarks he said that he felt that the honor done him was owing to the fact that he was connected with the public affairs of Canada. The Dominion, with its five millions of inhabitants, was growing in strength year by year, and was proud of no longer being a cause of weakness to the old country. They looked forward to the time when some form of confederation between Canada and Great Britain should take place. The same feeling existed, he believed, in Australia and the other colonies, and should it ever happen that England ever came into collision with any foreign power, that power would find that it had not only England itself to reckon with, but also with her powerful auxiliary kingdoms. These sentiments were very warmly cheered.

Sir John A. Macdonald is preparing to sail for Canada on the 29th inst.

Sir John was present on Tuesday evening at the opening meeting of the present session of THE ROYAL COLONIAL INSTITUTE.

In the course of the proceedings it was stated by the chairman (the Right Hon. W. E. Forster, M.P.) that 37 essays on the Dominion of Canada had been sent in for competition for the prizes offered, and that the result would be announced in due course.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council resumed its sittings on Tuesday. Twelve appeals are listed, one being from Quebec.

During October, butter was imported into the United Kingdom to the weight 230,820 cwt., as compared with 243,180 cwt. in the same month last year. Of this amount Canada contributed 106,023 cwt. this October as against 74,330 cwt. last year.

At a meeting of the Council of the Royal Colonial Institute last week, General Sir H. C. B. Daubeney, G.C.B., in the chair, the following gentlemen were elected Fellows:—The Hon. A. C. La Riviere, Minister of the Interior, &c., for the Province of Manitoba; the Hon. J. R. Evans, C. J. Littleton, M.A.; the Hon. James A. Miller, Attorney-General, Manitoba, and the Hon. John Norquay, Premier of Manitoba.

A NEW DEPARTMENT of a praiseworthy kind has just been taken by the Central Emigration Society. The committee have decided to supply lectures on the colonies free of expense to any institution or persons who may desire to have a lecturer sent them, this course being taken in the just belief that the best way to promote emigration and open up the resources of the colonies is to disseminate accurate information respecting them in this country. We may also in this connection note that the autumn edition has now been issued of the extremely useful "Handy Guide to Emigration" by Mr. W. W. Paton, the honorary secretary of the Central Emigration Society. We can only repeat the commendations we bestowed six months ago upon this extremely serviceable little pamphlet.

Dr. Barnardo, on Monday, in addressing a very large meeting of the working classes of the East End, gave some very sensible and useful information respecting emigration to Canada. Dr. Barnardo, who has been in the just belief that the best way to promote emigration and open up the resources of the colonies is to disseminate accurate information respecting them in this country. We may also in this connection note that the autumn edition has now been issued of the extremely useful "Handy Guide to Emigration" by Mr. W. W. Paton, the honorary secretary of the Central Emigration Society. We can only repeat the commendations we bestowed six months ago upon this extremely serviceable little pamphlet.

THE INDUSTRIAL FARM, which, with the co-operation of the Canadian Government, he is about to establish in the North-West in order to enable older lads to be trained there for agricultural pursuits. Dr. Barnardo's advice as to the class of persons who should go to Canada will, we hope, be thoroughly appreciated and valued by the people to whom it was addressed. No greater harm, he said, could be done to the poor of London and to Canada than by indiscriminate, ill-advised emigration; but on the other hand—as every authority on the subject has stated—those who are able and willing to work but could not find employment here would do remarkably well in Canada, and in a very short time would rise to such a state of prosperity as in their present hours they could never have hoped for here.

THE METHOD OF WORK ADOPTED. One or two portions of this official statement, however, are worthy of notice, as they refer to points which have been more or less the subject of discussion. The committee state that they found the number of applicants for State aid to be large. "Families gladly availed themselves of the boon offered, and the only difficulty was to refuse the applications of poor families where there were many young children, and where the bread winners were not numerous enough." The system of emigration by families is regarded by the committee as a success. "The people," they say, "fully appreciated the scheme which helped them to remove out of districts where they had experienced many privations, where the land was poor, and the holdings too small for their requirements, and where employment was intermittent and uncertain, to go all together to a country where they could live in comfort on the high wages which were to be earned there." The results attained are regarded as being thoroughly satisfactory so far as can be at present judged; and the committee offer some remarks on the emigrants who have been returned by the emigration commissioners in the United States, which, from their bearing on similar complaints occasionally made in Canada, deserve quotation. The number of

EMIGRANTS WHO HAVE BEEN SENT BACK.

The committee state, "it is quite insignificant when compared with the total number who received State aid, only thirteen families, or fifty persons, having been returned (up to the date of writing this report) out of some 17,000. In the cases of several families the letters of encouragement proved a failure; either the friends did not meet them on arrival, or else were unable to assist them in obtaining employment as promised; in the cases of others the unexpected death of the bread winner of the family (in one case after two months' successful stay in the States) deprived them of their means of support, and in several cases, emigrants sanctioned by the Local Government Board for Canada were sent by the guardians to the United States without any authority for so doing. Exceptions of this kind are sure to arise when dealing with a large number of persons, and we submit that these facts show that there was scarcely sufficient justification for the alarm which was excited in America with regard to the 'importation of pauper emigrants.'"

THE REV. J. BRIDGER, the well known emigrant chaplain at Liverpool, was present on Monday at a meeting of the Home Mission Society, under the auspices of the National Society, which was presided over by the Archbishop of Canterbury, and which was attended by a number of bishops and over two hundred clergymen. Several papers were read on the subject of the amelioration of the condition of the poor, Mr. Bridger contributing a very interesting paper on emigration, with special reference to Canada. His remarks attracted much attention from the prelates and clergy present.

HAWTHORNE'S LOVE LETTERS.

Here are a few short extracts from Hawthorne's love letters: "Oh, my dearest, do let our love be powerful enough to make you well. I will have faith in its efficacy; not that it will work an immediate miracle, but it shall make you so well at heart that you need possibly be ill in the body." And she writes to him, "What a year has this been to us! My definition of beauty is that it is love, and therefore includes both truth and good. But those only who love as we do can feel the significance and force of this. Here is a fantasy, such as we usually find in Hawthorne's shorter stories, with which he concludes one of his love-letters: "When we shall be endowed with spiritual bodies I think they will be so constituted that we may send thoughts and feelings any distance, in time at all, and transmit them warm and fresh into the consciousness of those we love. Oh, what happiness it would be, at this moment, if I could be conscious of some poor feeling, some more delicate sentiment, some lovelier fantasy than could possibly have had its birth in my own nature, and therefore be aware that you were thinking of me! Perhaps you possess this power already." The lovers were married by the Rev. James Freeman Clarke on July 9, 1842, and he, singularly, never afterwards met them until on May 19, 1864, when he preached Hawthorne's funeral sermon at Concord.

The secret of the large and constant sales of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound probably lies in the fact that whereas there are many "Bitters" and "Tonics" of equal value, but so completely inferior to all other preparations specially recommended for the needs of women that it has practically no rivals.

LA SKEPTICAL CLERGYMAN.

Throws Aside "Bibles and Bears Strong Testimony to the Truth.

(London Advertiser.)

Skepticism is a deplorable thing, especially when it leaves the mind on a stormy sea without an anchor or hope of haven. It does not probably prevail any more in these days than it did in the past, but we hear more of it because of the publicity given by the secular press. Some minds are so constituted that they cannot accept anything without proof, and yet they do not necessarily demand that the proof shall have the stamp of highest authority. They recognize merit for itself, and accept it gladly, knowing that eventually it must gain general recognition. The legal and medical professions as well as the ecclesiastical are slow to adopt what may conflict with their notions of self-interest and right. New ideas are most always disturbing, but eventually they become assimilated and are no longer remarkable. The case of the Rev. George Waterman, a talented clergyman of Berywa Lodge, Broadstone, Weyborne, Eng., suggests these observations. He got into a desperate condition, which thoroughly unfitted him for ministerial use. His mind sympathizing with his body, became very much depressed. As the mind is so the thoughts are. He finally put himself under the care of the best London specialists. For several years he pursued the ever fleeting phantom, but at length they told him his case was beyond amendment. Still more thoroughly depressed, he grew skeptical to a degree and believed himself doomed.

Provisionally, however, he had his attention drawn to a widely-reputed means of restoration in cases like his own. He reluctantly began its use. Ever for a few weeks he had chemical analyses made, and finding constant improvement, he eagerly persevered, and when twenty-six bottles had been used, the analyst reported: "No trace of either albumen or sugar by the severest tests." In other words, he exclaimed with rapture, "I was cured." He had bright's disease of the kidneys. That was in 1882, and from the day he put aside his skepticism to the use of an unauthorized remedy until to-day he has been strong and well in body and mind, and contrary to the usual opinion, his friends had no relapse. It is only fair to remark, though it may be unusual for papers editorially to do so, that Warner's safe cure is the remedy which saved Mr. Waterman's life, to which he ever bears willing testimony. And when we see it publicly endorsed by eminent persons of quality as the Right Rev. Bishop Edward Wilson, the Rev. W. S. Henderson, of Prescott, Madame Sainton-Dolby, the renowned music teacher of London, Dr. Dio Lewis, the famous American hygienist, the Rev. Dr. Squirrel, of Rugby, Eng., the Rev. D. A. Brown, of Antwerp, Mr. Arthur Augur, of Montreal, Captain W. H. Nichols, of Hamilton, the Rev. Dr. C. Soverby, of Heleasburgh, N.B., the Rev. James Brierly, M.A., Congleton, Eng., the Hon. Geo. Taylor, of the Globe, and others equally well-known, we cannot but commend it to the favor of our readers.

THE CANADIAN PRESS CHROMO. Says the Toronto Week—"An overture was made some time ago to the Editor of this journal by an American firm which proposed to bring out a group of chromo-litho portraits of representatives of the Canadian Press. The overture was ultimately declined. But the firm has now brought out a sheet of portraits, among which is introduced that of a writer who, though a contributor to this journal, is not its Editor, and would not have consented to appear in that character, or in any way connected with the production. The editor of the Toronto Week says that any overture has been made to his contributor, he regrets it, but is in no way to blame. The sheet is a strange collection altogether, inasmuch as it contains no representative of the Mail, the World, the London Free Press, the Hamilton Times, the Montreal Herald, the Quebec Chronicle, or any Ottawa journal. The comic press is also unrepresented; while the social press is represented in a manner calculated to make some members of the group feel not very proud of their company."

LAUNCH OF A DREDGER.—A new iron screw dredger of 600 tons, built by Messrs. W. Simons & Co., was yesterday launched from their works in Renfrew. It is of 350 indicated horse power, and will dredge to 32 feet depth. It is the property of the Harbor Commissioners of Aberdeen, and has been built under the direction of Mr. Wm. Smith, their engineer. This is the second dredger this firm have supplied to the Commissioners, the former one in 1870, and after thirteen years' hard work it was accidentally sunk, then raised and restored, and last month sold for a sum equal to its original contract price. THE CITY COUNCIL.

The First Order of the Day Takes Up the Whole Session. At a meeting of the City Council held yesterday His Worship the Mayor presided and there were present Alderman Grenier, Mooney, J. C. Wilson, Jolland, Beauchamp, Laurent, Stevenson, Stroud, McShane, Fairbairn, Gray, Hood, Tansey, Gaultier, de Gennex, Beauvois, Hainville.

REPORT FROM FIRE COMMITTEE asking for leave to vary their appropriation.

REPORT FROM THE HEALTH COMMITTEE recommending the acceptance of Messrs. Douville and Lavin's tender for the scavenging of the city.

REPORT FROM THE FINANCE COMMITTEE occurring in the Health Committee's report for an additional appropriation to enable to retain three men recently added to the sanitary force.

NOTICE OF MOTION. Alderman Beausoleil gave notice of motion to the Finance Committee to the effect that the Vigilant Society be extended to Campeau street in the event of the Vigilant Cattle Market being removed.

CONSIDERABLE discussion then ensued as to whether the Council would take up the order of the day or not. The Mayor thought that it was time to commence work on the mass of accumulated reports now before the Council, as unless they got through some of the work it would soon overwhelm them.

THE first order of the day was then taken up, viz., a report from the Health Committee for leave to vary certain items in their appropriation so as to enable them to engage a proper public vaccinator.

A petition was then read from the Societe d'Hygiene protesting against the removal of the present vaccinators. They contended in their petition that if one special officer was appointed, nobody would employ him.

Ald. Mooney then rose and held the floor for some time. He said that this was an old movement of the Health Committee, and that there had been an agitation about the matter for the past ten years, which, however, had never been successful.

The Mayor then read a report from the Health Department, and said that he wanted a public vaccinator who would be entirely in the service of the board, so that the vaccination service would be perfect.

Alderman Beausoleil then moved, seconded by Alderman Gennex, that the committee be authorized to select a vaccinator, and that the committee be instructed to make a report on the necessity of reorganizing the department.

Alderman Beausoleil said that this report had been passed in the committee by a minority who opposed it were absent from the committee, and that those members who had opposed the motion had not received any notice of the meeting in question.

Further the committee were moving to the matter, only in the interest of one particular individual, viz., in the interest of the city.

He said that the City Hall was not practicable for this assistant vaccinator attended to all the children of the city. Where would he locate himself so that all the poor people could visit him. Would the poor people of Point St. Charles be able to bring their children to the City Hall? He said that the whole plan was ridiculous, for it expected one man to do the work of five at a salary of $1,000 per year.

He knew what the trouble was in the Health Department. It was not because they had not enough officers, but because they had not a good physician and a medical health officer and the sanitary inspector were always at loggerheads, and the sooner they found some means of remedying this state of affairs the better.
