ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF TEN FIRE VICTIMS.

Quebec, Oct. 3.—No blame was imputed to anybody at the Coroners' inquest held at St. Bernard, County Dorchester, on the bodies of the ten children of Mr. Alexander Gravel, who perished in the fire Tuesday night. The jury rendered a verdict stating that the ten children were burned accidentially. Mr. Alexander Gravel, blacksmith, father of the victims, testified that he on entering his blazing house had attempted in vain to save the children.

THE OPENING OF THE ELEVATOR.—THE HON. J. D. HAZEN, MINISTER OF MARINE AND FISHERIES, LEAVING MONTREAL ON THE 'EARL GREY,' FOR THE BANQUET AT SOREL.

SOCIAL WAR IN SPAIN

Government Fearing Strik Orders 60,000 Reserve- to Rejoin Colors

Madrid, Oct. 3.—All the Spanish reservists who have left active service during the past six years were summoned to join the colors to-day, and 60,000 men, who ordinarily would not have been called to join their regiments until March next year, were also ordered to present themselves. The decree mobilizing this vast army was published in the 'Official Journal' to-day, and is regarded as showing that the Government considers the railway strike distinctly serious.

Premier Canalejas asserts that the railway men have virtually declared a social war. He says their demands are impossible of fulfillment, and that an early settlement of the strike is impossible.

COUNCIL WINS ON LOCAL OPTION

Judge Refuses Mandamus in Owen Sound Application.

Toronto, Oct. 3.—In the Owen Sound local option by-law case, Judge Lennox to-day refused the application of John David Stoddart for a mandamus requiring the Owen Sound Town Council to submit another by-law for repeal. His Lordship also refused costs to either Stoddart or the town, pointing out that Stoddart stood by at the last repeal election and saw going on without protest from him irregularities on which he based his application. That these irregularities were gross, His Lordship explicitly states, but there is nothing to prevent the Owen Sound Council from submitting a repeal measure to the citizens next January, or at any time thereafter, if they see fit without waiting for the expiration of the usual time required by law between the submission of applications for repeal. The evidence shows that in all but one police subdivision there were gross irregularities.

'It cannot be argued for a moment, says Mr. Justice Lennox that the vote was taken in accordance with the principles of the statute; that there was an opportunity afforded for a full, fair and untramelled vote of the electorate.'

In the vote on the by-law for the repeal of local option last January repeal was defeated by 1393 votes to 1288. Only a bare majority was needed as local option was carried in the town prior to the adoption of the two-thirds clause.

Mr. William Redmond will arrive here at 8.20 this evening from Pittsfield, Mass. To-morrow evening, at 8.15, in the Windsor Hall, he will address a public meeting at which the Hon. C .J. Doherty, K.C., Minister of Justice, will preside. Mr. Redmond is a brilliant orator, and recently addressed 5,000 people at the Philadelphia Convention, where he received pledges of $150,000 in support of Home Rule.

BIG JEWELLERY HAUL.

Brothers Remanded Until Tuesday on Charge of Stealing $1,000 Worth of Valuables.

In the Court of Special Sessions this morning before Judge Choquette, Percy and Gordon Ferguson were remanded till Tuesday for sentence on a charge of recuring stolen goods, and of burglary. Gordon, the elder of the two brothers, took all the blame for the theft of $1,000 worth of jewellery from the home of Mrs. Abbott, 299 Pine avenue. Percy at first pleaded not guilty of receiving the stolen goods. When he was identified by the owned of a second hand store as the man who sold the watch, which was part of the goods stolen, he changed his plea to one of guilty.

EIGHT HORSES IN DANGER.

Fire broke out at seven o'clock last evening in a stable occupied by Mr. Law, at 3 Beaver Hall. The flames were easily subdued. Eight horses were removed from the stable and put in a place of safety.

TURKISH FRONTIER GUARDS ATTACK MONTENEGRINS TO-DAY

Cettinje, Montenegro, Oct. 3.—A detachment of Turkish frontier guards to-day attacked the Montenegrin guards on the border in the Berana. The Montenegrins did not reply to the firing and the Turks then retired.

The order for a general mobilization in Montenegro has been received with the utmost enthusiasm throughout the country. King Nicholas and his ministers have received a number of telegrams urging them to begin hostilities immediately against Turkey.

KING OF GREECE IN CONFERENCE

Vienna, Oct. 3.—King George of Greece to-day had a long audience with the Italian, Russian and French ambassadors to Austria-ungary.

HUNDRED MEN FROM TORONTO

Toronto, Oct. 3.—The committee which looks after the interests of Macedonians and Bulgarians in Toronto, last night held a meeting and decided that a hundred men should be held in readiness to go to the seat of war in event of an outbreak of hostilities with Turkey. They will leave immediately war is declared.

CENSORSHIP IN TURKEY NOW

New York, Oct 3—A strict censorship of telegraphic despatches is being enforced by the Turkish government according to advices received here by the commercial cable company. Despatches for European and Asiatic Turkey, the Turkish Islands and the province of Yemen will be admitted only if written in plain language in English, French, German and Turkish.

BALKAN PATRIOTS DRILL IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 3—Bulgarians and Servians of fighting age to the number of several thousand out of the twenty-five thousand of those races living in Chicago are drilling here in preparation for war against Turkey. A large number of able bodies men are on their way to the eastern seaboard to sail for home, and more ar epreparing to go. Funds are being collected to send them to the front

The local Greek newspapers give almost their entire space to the Balkan situation, and crowds gather in the streets to read them wherever they are posted.

STEADINESS MARKED BOURSE

Berlin, Oct. 3.—The apprehensions of the Bourse in connection with the Balkan situation have been quietened by the semi-official statement in the 'Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitun' and by the semi-official organs of Vienna and St. Petersburg. Selling orders from the provinces to-day found willing buyers, and practically the whole list gained, including even Turkish and Russian bonds. Anatolia and Orient railway stocks opened lowet, but later regained their loss. Canadian Pacific improved more than two points.

Smouldering Fires of Balkan Wrath Against Porte May Burst at Any Moment

SULTAN OF TURKEY.

ITALIAN DENY ANY PEACE PACT

Rome, Oct. 3.—The Italian foreign office this morning denied the reports circulated abroad that peace had been concluded between Italy and Turkey.

POWERS ACTIVE IN INTERESTS OF PEACE

Paris, Oct. 3.—The urgent necessity of finding a means to relax tension over the Balkan situation has awakened Europe to a display of nervous energy unequalled since the last serious trouble in the same territory when Austria annexed Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Paris for the moment is the centre of activity, the arrival of the Russian Foreign Minister, M. Sazonoff, arousing the expectation that his conferences with Premier Poincare will complete the work set on foot at Balmoral and enable the powers to make a joint pronouncement which will satisfy the Balkan states that this time there will be no turning back until the wrongs of Macedonia are righted.

The conferences between the French Premier and the foreign ambassadors and ministers, which started early yesterday, culminated last night with a prolonged examination of the whole situation by M. Poincare and M. Sazonoff at the Foreign Office. The fact that the Russian statesman immediately after a fatiguing journey repaired to the Quai d'Orsay and plunged into a complicated controversy is taken as proof that the powers recognize that they have a minimum to time in which to avert war.

For nearly two hours the two ministers consulted over Balkan affairs. M. Poincare, who had seen the German, Russian, British and Italian ambassadors and the Bulgarian, Greek, Servian and Montenegrin ministers at various periods throughout the day, was in a position fully to acquaint the Russian Foreign Minister with the views held by all the interests concerned. The ministers only parted near midnight, to meet again early this morning to more fully develop the measures sketched out as best calculated to avert war.

ULTIMATUM PRESENTED TO-DAY

London, Oct. 3.—No ultimatum has yet been delivered to Turkey from the four Balkan states, but according to the most reliable news such an ultimatum will be presented at Constantinople to-day. It will demand autonomy for Macedonia, Albania, Old Servia and Crete within three days. In the event of failure to comply with this demand, the Balkan coalition will repeat it and at the same time address a collective note to the great powers notifying them that after the expiration of another three days the Balkan states will enforce the demand by recourse to arms.

Thus there will be a respite of a week before hostilities open. This respite will be utilized by the powers to seek to arrange a compromise with Turkey acceptable to the four states, which, it is believed, would prefer a way out without bloodshed.

TURKEY WILL NOT CONSIDER DEMANDS

London, Oct. 3.—'If the Balkan states have in view any idea of autonomy for Macedonia they can be informed immediately that this is out of the question,' was the reply of a representative of the Turkish embassy to an inquiry as to what Turkey was willing to do to appease those who are threatening her with war.

The official pointed out that Turkey had decided to apply to the whole of European Turkey the reforms already introduced in Albania. The Porte, he said, realized that reforms were needed, but their application could not be carried out in a minute. Unless the Balkan states, he continued, were merely seeking a pretext for trouble, their only course was to allow reasonable time for the reforms to go into effect. The question of reforms does not, as has been suggested in some quarters, merely consist of promises made by the commission of inquiry, but of steps which are considered adequate for the purpose in view.

FIRED ON BY TURKISH FORTS

New York, Oct. 3.—The New York American has the following cable from London, dated Oct. 3:

'The London 'Daily Chronicle,' in its last edition this morning, prints this despatch from Constantinople:

'"An alarming incident is reported to-night. Two Greek steamers in the Bosphorus have been fired upon by the Turkish forts.

'"The Greek minister at once protested, and also lodged a complaint with the British ambassador. Greece has called out all its reserves for the last fourteen years, and many Greeks have left Constantinople."'

A SPEECH BY LORD MILNER

Famous Adm nistrator in Town to-day after visiting Lennoxville

Lord Milner, the distinguished British statesman, who landed at Quebec ten days ago, and has been visiting in the Maritime Provinces, and at Lennoxville, Que., arrived at the Windsor Station this morning on the private car 'Colonial.'

He received a 'Witness' reporter shortly after arriving, in a cery pleasant and friendly maner, but stated that this was purely a private trip, as far as Montreal was concerned, and his sojourn in Canada would be brief. He would stay in the city for two or three days, as the guest of Mr. R. W. Reford, and then would go on to Toronto, returning directly to sail for England again.

Asked for some expression of opinion on Imperial matters, he declined to enter into such discussion, stating that while he had done so at St. John and Fredericton recently, it was because, when here two years ago, he promised to speak at the Canadian Clubs in those cities, but was unable to do so. On this occasion he would not speak either in Montreal or Toronto.

Lord Milner, tall and rather wiry in build, was looking in the best of health and spirits, and said that he was enjoying him trip in Canada.

At Lennoxville yesterday he was the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. F. G. Vial, the latter being a relative. Speaking at Bishop's College, he said he was delighted to see that as a university they had been holding their end up. There was no country in the world that offered such opportunities of success to men of energy and character as does Canada. 'I feell sure,' he said, 'that all those present will avail themselves of these opportunities, not only for their own advantage, but for that of their country.

'Material prosperity was the necessary foundation of a great nation, but there was a truer and a higher necessity, and that was a high standard of manhood and womanhood. This should be the watchword. Not only should they strive for a great Canada, but for great Canadians. To that end your national life must rest on the golden tripod, education, patriotism and religion.

STILL SEARCHING FOR MURDERER

Regina, Oct. 3.— John Thiel, alleged murderer of William Parkin at Grand Coulee, has not yet been captured, though a Mounted Police posse of twenty men, has searched three days. It is not believed he will be captured alive.

Lee Pryne, the other man shot, is better this morning.

A man whose name is unknown, lies unconscious in the General Hospital as a result of a fall from the Unity Building, which is being erected at the corner of Alexandra street on Lagauchetiere street.

TEACHERS CONVENE IN CITY

Five Hundred at Annual Gathering, But Few From the Country

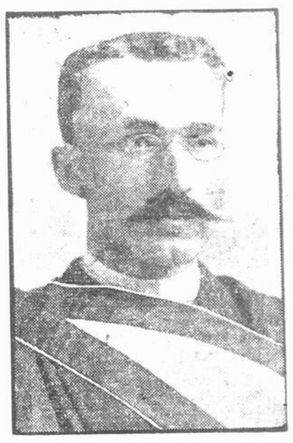

With an attendance of something like five hundred, the forty-eighth annual convention of the Protestant Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec, which opened in the High School to-day, is not in a measure disappointing.

The trouble is that the attendance of rural teachers shows a marked falling off. At one time forty percent of the teachers outside the Island of Montreal attended. Now only 22 per-cent come.

'What is the trouble?' asked Prof. J. A. Dale of McGill 'Is it that there is a lack of value in the convention, that it is held at the wrong time of the year, or what?'

'I'll tell you what the trouble is,' said one country delegate. 'It is not that the teachers are not enthusiastic or do not value the convention. The trouble is that they cannot afford the expense.'

On the motion of Principal Knee-land, the convention decided to ask the executive to consider the whole question of attendance, and also in this connection to consider also the time and place of meeting, and take such action as might be considered necessary.

PROPOSAL TO ORGANIZE TRUSTEES.

An important departure which may be the result of to-day's session, is that it may result in the organization of the school trustees of the province.

At present the trustees, while they are vested with much power in their different localities, often know but little about educational problems, and under present conditions anything like unity of action is impossible. It is hoped that this will soon be changed, for on the motion of Dr. Sinclair, of Macdonald College, the following resolution was agreed to:—

'Whereas it is desirable that school commissioners and trustees meet for consideration of educational affairs, and that trustees and teachers com-

DRY DOCK COMING IN.

The Montreal floting dry dock, the 'Duke of Connaught,' was at 10.30 this morning, 200 miles east of Cape Race, and 1,000 miles east of Quebec.

This was the substance of a Marconigram received this morning, by the Canadian branch of Messrs. Vickers, Ltd., in this city. The progress of the dock has been uneventful, not the slightest accident having befallen her.

LEDGER KEEPER OUT ON $10,000 BAIL

Bank of Hochelaga Clerk Committed for Trial on Misappropriation Charge.

Henri Legace, accused of misappropriation of $35,000, the property of the Bank of Hochelaga, while acting as ledger keeper, came up for voluntary statement before Judge Leet in the Enquete Court to-day, and was remanded to the Court of King's Bench for trial.

Mr. J. A. Mann, representing the insurance company through which the action against the accused was taken, asked that bail be fixed at $20,000. Mr. David McAvoy, counsel for Legace, objected to what he termed a prohibitive amount, and $10,000 was the bail fixed by the court for his appearance at the November term of the Court of King's Bench.

CITY WORK DELAYED.

Owing to the unfavorable weather for outside work nineteen days were lost on the civic works in September. It is now feared that one hundred thousand dollars' worth of work authorized in the way of street improvements, new sewers, and water mains, will have to be held over till next year for completion.

LOST TEN CHILDREN BY FIRE

Terrible Tragedy Overwhelmed French-Canadian Family in Village of Ste Bernard

The ten children of Alexandre and Mrs. Gravel, St. Bernard, Que., were burned to death early yesterday. Their parents left them in the house when they went out to a party, and it is presumed that the youngsters, while playing, overturned the lamp and so set fire to the house. The children ranged in age from fifteeen years to eighteen months old. Only the skeleton of the oldest child, a girl, and the skull of the youngest, were found in the heap of ashes that the fre reduced the house to.

The parents are almost maddened with distress.

The unhappy parents, it appears, arrived home to find their home a raging furnace. The father made heroic efforts to enter and save his children, but in spite of the aid given him by the villagers he could not reach them and all were burned to death.

St. Bernard is in Dorchester county, four miles from Scott.

SIR ARTHUR LAWLEY AT CANADIAN CLUB

At the special luncheon of the Canadian Club yesterday, Hon. Sir Arthur Lawley, K.C., M.G., said that what had impressed him most during his visit to Canada was the great patriotism of Canadians. He had obtained some conception of the grandeur and silence of the north when in the snow-clad mountains of the Rockies, and could now more fully realize the hardships and adversities which the pioneers of Canada had to endure.

Regarding the subject of his address, 'Some Links in the Chain of Empire,' he stated that after having visited practically all parts of the Empire, he had found them expanding under the same sea power. 'Sea power is empire,' he continued, 'but I don't claim any originality for this phrase. It was first uttered by no less a personage than Emperor William of Germany.'

Towards the close of his address, Sir Arthur gave a glowing description of India, and declared that the loss of India would mean the disintegration of the Empire, and the only way that India could be held was by the strength and stability of the navy. He also made a few allusions to the fact of Canada contributing to the navy, and having a voice in the councils of Empire, where the issues of peace and war would be decided.

Hearty applause punctuated his address throughout.

PROTESTS AGAINST MISREPRESENTATION.

Mr. O. H. Skroder, secretary of the Montreal Society for the Protection of Women and Children, writes as follows:

'In your issue of Saturday last, we notice an article which is as unfair for your paper, as it is unjust to the Society for the Protection of Women and Children as it could be.

'Your heading is "Child Welfare Conclusions," and reads as follows: They say that, when a man drinks in Montreal, the Society for the Protection of Women and Children brings the case to court, puts the man in jail and probably leaves the women and children starving.

'We strongly protest against such a false representation to your readers, and the party who wrote the article was either ignorant of the society's doings, or wrote it to advertise himself.

'In nearly every case, when a man is sent to jail, the court is requested to do so, by the wife who has suffered hunger, cruelty and neglect. Experience has taught us in many cases, that the longer a drunken husband can be kept in jail, the happier is the home.

'Then again, when such a creature is sent to jail, aid and assistance always remain in view, the S. P. W. C. immediately take means to have the children, who are six to twelve years old, placed in the institutions, and paid for by the city.

'Here let me say that children under six years are not considered by the Municipal Assistance Department, and for more then twelve months past, the Protestant institutions have taken but a small percentage of the applicants, so many have been refused admission, that the S. P. W. C. have had to place children in private homes and paid for their keep, does that look like if the society left them to starve?

'We think the foregoing will suffice to show that what you published in your paper in reference to the Society for the Protection of Women and Children is fully contradicted.

'Yours truly,

'O. H. SKRODER, Sec.

MR. H. BULMER'S PEACEFUL END

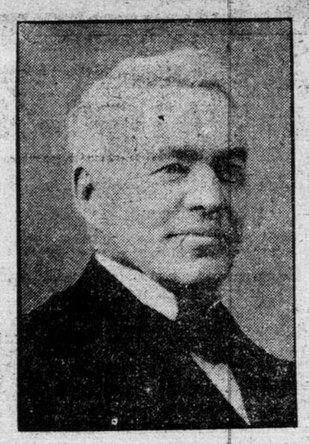

Died in His Chair at Home Tuesday After a Most Strenuous Life.

HIS NINETY-FIRST YEAR.

Carried on the Business of Contracting and Took Active Part in Municipal Affairs.

Death, sudden and unexpected, came on Tuesday afternoon to Mr. Henry Bulmer, one of the oldest and best known gentlemen of the city, at his residence, 330 Mackay street. Although in his ninety-first year, Mr. Bulmer had been enjoying very good health, and only a few days ago he spent part of the afternoon downtown. Tuesday, while resting quietly in his chair, death came to him and he passed peacefully away.

The late Mr. Bulmer was one of the few remaining links that unite the present day with the past. Half a century ago he was one of the leaders of the civic and business life of Montreal. In more recent years he has lived quietly in the assurance of a life's work well done.

MR. HENRY BULMER, former Chairman of Harbor Board, who passed away Tuesday.

He was born near Doncaster, England, on the 19th of February, 1822. When he was ten years of age his parents came to C nada, and in 1842, or ten years after arriving in the new country, they made their home in Montreal. Ever since that time, seventy years ago, he has resided here. On August 7th, 1848, he was united in marriage to Miss Jane Maxwell, who died in 1892.

For many years he carried on very successfully the business of contracting and building. Although a busy man, he took an active part in the municipal affairs of the new city, and in 1856 he was elected a city councillor. Three years later, when the first aldermen for Montreal were chosen, he was one of those who formed the civic board. For many years he was returned to the City Council, where his advice was always regarded as in the best interests of the young city.

He took a keen interest, too, in military matters, and was captain in the Montreal Field Artillery. When the 'Oregon' difficulty occurred he was under arms with his company.

He was president of the Mechanics' Institute, and, also, of the St. George's Society. He was chairman of the Board of Art and Manufacturing; later he was for a long time the president of the Harbor Commission. He was a trustee of Mount Royal Cemetery, too.

In politics he was a Conservative, and in 1878 he took a most active interest in the affairs of his party, being prominently mentioned for parliament at the time.

He was a member of the Anglican Church and the Masonic order; he was one of the oldest and most regular attendants at St. George's Church.

Mr. Bulmer leaves two sons, Messrs. F. T. Bulmer, of New York, and John A. Bulmer, of this city. Three sisters also survive him, Miss Bulmer, Mrs. J. B. Bond, of Montreal, and Mrs. Tiplin, of Newark, N.J.

The funeral was held this afternoon, from his late residence on Mackay street, at half-past two o'clock. It was strictly private the burial took place in Mount Royal Cemetery.

ANOTHER WOMAN LIKELY TO DIE

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 2.—The woman who lost her life in the wreck on the Bay of Quinte Railway this morning is Mrs. Alfred Brown, of Moscow. Two women were seriously hurt, Mrs. Fahland, of Clam Falls, Wis., who suffered terrible cuts about the head in addition to internal injuries. She is likely to die. Mrs. A. E. Yourex, of Moscow, received severe injuries to her back. Both women were brought to the Kingston Hospital. There were fifteen passengers on the train at the time, and it is a miracle that several were not killed.

Marshall Parks, conductor, of Tweed, was injured, but not seriously.

A safe from the baggage car fell on him and pinned him down.

REMOVING A CEMTTERY.

Cure of St. Theodosie Obtains the Court's Permission to Rebury Dead.

A judgment handed down by Judge Beaudin yesterday grants the petition presented by the Curé and Marguilliers de L'Oeuvre et Fabrique, of the parish of St. Theodosie, in the county of Vercheres, asking that they be allowed to exhume the dead now in their cemetery and be reburied in their new cemetery.

The petitioners alleged that the reason they were compelled to do this was that their old cemetery was getting to be very small, and that it was too near habitation.

THE ART OF COOKING.

Mons. Nicholas Soyer, who was formerly chef to the late King Edward, gave his first demonstration of the art of cooking in Stanley Hall on Tuesday. There was a large gathering present when the famous chef wrought wonders in the culinary demonstration. Mons. Nicholas Soyer is recognized as the prince of cooks, and his demonstration on Tuesday was an additional evidence of the unique position that he occupies.

There will be others given to-day, and Friday at 11 a.m. and at 3 p.m.

SCANDAL ALLEGED

Member of Catholic School Board Accused of Receiving $8,000 Rake-Off

The French paper, the 'Pays,' is demanding an investigation into an alleged scandal in connection with the Catholic School Commission of Montreal. It states that some months ago Mr. Julien Therrien sold to the commission some real estate situated at Longue Pointe, for the sum of $32,600. This land, it asserts, had been acquired for $22,500, and after the transaction, the 'Pays' declares, a member of the School Commission received a commission of $8,000, which was sent to him in eight bills of $1,000 each. The journal adds that if the School Commission declines to hold an inquiry into this transaction, it will demand that the government appoint a Royal Commission to make an investigation.

FIVE HUNDRED TEACHERS HERE

Forty-eighth Annual Convention of Protestant Teachers Here To-day.

Five hundred school teachers from all parts of the province of Quebec, assembled at the Montreal High School, Peel street, to-day as delegates to the forty-eighth annual convention of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec.

The convention began at 9 a.mm. The morning session was principally occupied with the presentation of various reports. Probably the two most interesting were those of the Executive Committee, and the Pension Commissioners.

The Executive Committee met last evening at 8 o'clock finally to consider the report which it was to present to the convention this morning. The financial statement of this report shows that of the total receipts, amounting to $751.06, after all expenditures have been covered, a balance of $317.20 will remain on hand.

The report on the revenue and expenditure of the Pension Fund for officers of primary instruction shows that with a total revenue of $84,124.75, the sum of $82,026.53 has been paid out for pensions during the year to teachers in Quebec.

The annual banquet of the Overseas Club will be held on Trafalgar Day, Oct. 21, at which Mr. H. B. Ames, M.P., will speak among other noted politicians. This was the announcement made Tuesday night at the second annual meeting, held in the Edinburgh Cafe.

Besides the routine work, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place. Mr. A. E. Southall was returned unanimously for president. Last year Mr. Southall was vice-president, and ever since its inauguration has been an enthusiastic member. The secretary, Mr. E. B. Prichard was returned for another term in the same office.

Ever since its conception in this city two years ago, the Overseas Club, which is a patriotic society whose chief aim is to foster federation, has been steadily progressing, and during the proceeding year many new members were added to its roll.

IS 'JIMMY' HARRIS THE GUILTY NEGRO?

St. Lambert People Claim the Colored Burglar Was a Much Taller Man.

Although Mr. Louis Betournay, of St. Lambert, has identified 'Jimmy' Harris as the negro who assaulted him, several residents of the transpontine municipality who had their residences broken into recently, said yesterday that 'Jimmy' was too short to be the guilty one. They claim the burglar was a much taller man.

Harris was to have been tried yesterday, but the condition of Mr. Betournay was such that the trial was postponed until Friday

ANNOYED THE SERVANT.

Westmount Pedlar Fined $25 For Being Rough With a Girl.

Peter Tougas, a pedlar, who was arrested for assaulting a servant girl on the St. Antoine road in Westmount, came before Magistrate McMahon yesterday morning and was fined $25. The young woman was in the house at the time, and find the pedlar annoying, ordered him away. During the exchange of words he pushed her about the room, and handled her roughly.

MR. COSMO HAMILTON'S ADDRESS.

(To the Editor of the 'Witness.')

Sir,—I have read the reports of Mr. Cosmo Hamilton's address at the Princess Theatre, and while I do not propose to discuss the several sociological questions raised by him, I feel bound to deal with his scathing criticism of Englishmen—his own people—and their ways, as being very superficial, very ill-timed, and, I believe, very misleading to those who have not visited England. It is doubtless true that snobbery and distorted ideals prevail among some young people in England, together with some older ones; but that these words apply to more than a slender minority of its vast population, no one who knows the Old Country will affirm. Incidentally, I might ask, supposing Mr. Hamilton's statements were not so entirely fallacious, how he imagines he will serve either his country or this one by publicly denouncing it over here? Rather than dwell on the sorry picture he has painted, Canadians will recall Prince Bonnie's recent testimony to the virility of Britain at this very moment, and to the high aims and steadfast purpose of its people.

I need not apologize for signing myself an Englishman; one of the millions who have the welfare of Canada at heart.

FINANCE

Notices have been sent out by all the leading Canadian banks announcing that the rate for call money will be advanced from 5 1-2 to 6 percent. The action taken in this respect is stated to follow logically on the general monetary situation. Money is tight without being stringent. The increased rate, it is generally thought, will hold until the turn of the year.

NEW DEBENTURE ISSUE IS DUE IN LONDON FOR C.N.R.

London, Oct. 2.—(Cable) — The 'Standard' prints a rumor to the effect that there will be a fresh debenture issue by the Canadian Northern Railway.

It is stated that the issue will be of five percent income charge convertible debenture stock to the amount of two millions sterling at a price of about 96.

The 'Standard' says: 'Inquiries in good quarters tend to confirm the rumor.'

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Sir William Mackenzie this morning would not give out any information regarding the issue of debentures in London. He said it was not his custom to give out particulars about his London business from this end.

C.P.R. AND TOOKE THE FEATURES OF THE MARKET

Canadian Pacific stocks naturally played a dominating role in the morning's market, when over a thousand shares changed hands at rising prices.

Tooke common ran it a close second from the point of view of activity, while the price movement was more spectacular, there being a rise of three points, followed by a commensurate decline.

The market, generally, was active and firm, with lots doing in bonds and banks.

New York, Oct. 2.—Wall street—Noon—The foreign situation was again responsible for the heaviness shown by to-day's early market. Opening prices were a reflection of extensive selling by London, not only for its own account, but other European centres as well.

Large amounts of Steel and other active issues were unloaded, most of these recording initial losses of a point or more, while the coal stocks and the more obscure shares lost as much. There was general recovery under lead of St. Paul before the end of the active first hour, after which trading became quiet. Towards noon, however, activity vived with a strong undertone throughout the list.

Money renewed and opened at 6 percent. Bonds were irregular.

WALL ST. 3 P.M

New York, Oct. 2. — Wall street, 3 p.m. — Further unsettlement was shown in the late afternoon with renewed pressure upon Steel and some other leaders including United Pacific, St. Paul and Reading. Money rates relaxed but the tendency was firm.

C.P.R. QUIET IN AFTERNOON---A RISE IN RICH.

The excitement in Canadian Pacific stock had died down before the afternoon's reopening of the Stock Exchange. There was only a little doing at 278.

Power and Laurentide were somewhat weaker while Richelieu gained in strength, with its position improving all the time.

CEREAL CO. NEW PLANS

Shareholders of the Canadian Cereal and Milling Company have approved of the plan of reorganization submitted to them. A new company will be formed, known as the Canadian Cereal and Flour Mills, Limited, and $250,000 will be raised as additional working capital by the means of 7 percent cumulative preference shares. This amount has already been subscribed. The new company will have $2,000,000 authorized preferred stock, of which $750,000 is to be issued, and $2,000,000 authorized common stock, of which $750,000 is to be issued.

The present company will transfer all its assets in consideration of $500,000 preferred shares of the new company.

The ordinary shares will be used as a bonus to the underwriters, in consideration of their taking $250,000 of preferred at par.

The remaining $500,000 of preferred will be issued to the preferred shareholders of the old company, at the rate of $40 for $100 of their present holdings.

The common stock of the old company receives no allotment.

The reorganization committee is composed as follows: Messrs. A. E. McCuaig, K. W. Blackwell, J. P Black, James Reid Wilson, J. Godfrey Bird, Edgar Smith and F. E. M. Smith.

London Discounts Firm The Balkan Situation is Still a Disturbing Factor

London, Oct. 2.—Money was plentiful and discount rates were firm today.

The Balkan situation caused a depressing feeling on the Stock Exchange, and dealers fearing a batch of continental selling orders marked down values everywhere. American securities being especially weak, partly on the flurry in the money rates in the American market.

But around noon under Paris, Berlin and local repurchases a more confident tone developed, and a good recovery was made all around. Dealers are still nervous as to entering into large commitments, but notwithstanding this the market was comparatively steady at the closing. Consols, in which the settlement was concluded, lost one-sixteenth.

American securities opened weak on high money rates in the United States and the Balkan situation, stocks showing losses from 7-8 to 3 points over the final New York prices of yesterday. Later there was a good recovery on continental, local and Wall Street buying, and the closing was steady with Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and C. & O. leading in the upward movement.

The subscription list for $5,000,000 General Electric of New York debenture bonds was only open a short time and quickly oversubscribed. The Rio Janeiro loan of $15,000,000 was poorly subscribed, the underwriters taking only eighty percent.

Laidlaw and Company—General news remains favorable of tenor, but it was the opinion of many shrewd observers, who until recently had operated consistently for higher prices, that the market was beginning to 'bull hard' and that a good reaction would be the best corrective development.

J. S. Bache and Company—While the situation looks somewhat threatening in the Balkans, the Powers will act quickly and decisively to prevent an outbreak.

Miller and Company—We regard the present temper of the market as largely in the nature of a natural reaction, and with the splendid underlying conditions, would buy into the market on such days.

Prince and Whitely—The immediate future will be governed by money. We incline towards purchases on soft places.

C.P.R. NEW $60,000,000 ISSUE AT 175 TO RETIRE BONDS, WITH RESIDUE FOR NEW EQUIPMENT

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Reviews the Most Prosperous Year in Railway's History at Annual Meeting—Refers to Grain Crops and Other Vital Matters.

New York, Oct. 2.— Interests identified with St. Paul road declare there is no truth whatever in the rumor that the Canadian Pacific has bought, or is negotiating for, control of the St. Paul railway.

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY.

On motion of Sir William Van Horne seconded by Mr. R. B. Angus, the shareholders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, at the annual meeting at noon yesterday unanimously passed a resolution adopting the recommendation of the directors to issue an additional $60,000,000 of capital at a premium of 75 percent.

After the resolution to issue the additional $60,000,000 stock had been passed, Sir Thomas remarked, 'I think the shareholders have probably done one of the best pieces of business they have ever done at an annual meeting. He stated that it would be early in January before subscriptions could be called for, and the calls would cover practically all of next year.

SIR THOMAS SHAUGHNESSY'S INTERESTING ADDRESS.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy in his annual address, said in part that the annual report of the company covers the most prosperous year in the company's history, the gross operating income having exceeded one hundred and twenty-three million dollars, and the net balance, after providing for fixed charges and making the usual deductions, being thirty-three millions, seven hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars.

'Each year,' continued Sir Thomas, 'there is apt to be some damage to the crops in one section or another of a country as vast as ours, and the cool weather and heavy rains that were so general during the past few weeks have, no doubt, had bad local effects, but in Western Canada there is the prospect that the grain crops will be larger than was estimated and of particularly good quality. Unfortunately the weather conditions and the shortage of farm help interfered with the threshing, and, as a consequence, the movement of the grain to the markets will crowd the facilities of the transportation lines between this time and the close of lake navigation. We hope, however, to escape anything in the nature of serious congestion, and we have reason to expect that the grain traffic and the general business of the company during the next year will be at least as large as it was last year. Sir Thomas at some length dealt with the construction of many branch lines —particularly in the West.

C. P. R. MUST IMPROVE ALL ITS SYSTEM.

'Innumerable works of lesser importance,' said Sir Thomas, 'but involving a large expenditure of money, all designed to facilitate the movement of traffic and to accommodate the public, have been executed or are in process of execution; and there would appear to be no limit to the demands of this kind that it will be necessary to meet if our business continues to expand as it has in the past. The most prudent and effective method of providing money for all these purposes has the close and constant attention of the directors, and they believe that the future, as in the past, the best interests of the company and of Canada will be served by giving an opportunity to the shareholders of the company to furnish from time to time such additional capital on a basis that makes the investment reasonably attractive.

SIR THOMAS TELLS HOW NEW CAPITAL WILL GO

'With the four percent consolidated debenture stock that the directors are now authorized to issue and sell, the proceeds to be used in retiring outstanding bonds carrying a higher rate of interest, and in meeting expenditures for additional railway mileage heretofore constructed or acquired, and the consolidated debenture stock that may be issued in respect of the proposed construction or acquisition of the several railway lines described in the annual report that you will be asked to sanction at this meeting, there will be a total of approximately $90,000,000 four percent consolidated debenture stock, in excess of all heretofore disposed of, that the company will be authorized to issue and sell. Instead of going to the market with any considerable portion of this amount, your directors recommend that you make use of the authority conferred upon you by the Parliament of Canada to issue ordinary shares of capital stock in lieu of consolidated debenture stock, for the purposes for which you are authorized to issue consolidated debenture stock, and to that end that you increase your ordinary share capital from $200,000,000 to $260,000,000, to be offered to the shareholders at the price of $175 for each share of $100, being at a premium of 75 percent at a time and on terms of payment to be fixed by your directors. The proceeds of this issue to the amount of $60,000,000 will be used to meet expenditures for which proceeds of consolidated debenture stock would otherwise have been utilized, including the satisfaction and cancellation of all of the company's outstanding 5 percent first mortgage bonds amounting to $33,766,000, on or before the date of their maturity, July 1st, 1915, and the balance will be devoted to such additions and improvements to the company's property, properly chargeable to capital account, as are in the opinion of the directors necessary from time to time. By this means the company will be getting more on its ordinary share capital at a low rate of interest, taking the present dividend rate as a basis, its bond and debenture debt will be $60,000,000 less, its fixed charges will be $2,400,000 per annum less than they otherwise would have been, and its available funds to be increased by $45,000,000. The directors will recommend that the amount be supplemented by an appropriation of $15,000,000 from your accumulated surplus, that might properly be distributed to the shareholders, or that will instead be expended on capital account in additions and improvements to your property.

OLD BOARD WAS RE-ELECTED UNANIMOUSLY.

The following retiring directors were re-elected for a term of four years: Mr. W. D. Matthews, Sir Sandford Fleming, Mr. Adam R. Creelman and Sir William Whyte.

Among the directors present at the meeting were: Mr. Richard B. Angus, Mr. Adam R. Creelman, K.C., Mr. Herbert S. Holt, Mr. Charles R. Hosmer, the Hon. Robert Mackay, Senator; Mr. Wilmot D. Matthews, Mr. David McNicoll, Sir Edmund B. Osler, M.P.; Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, Sir Thomas Skinner, Bart.; Sir William C. Van Horne, K.C.M.G.; Sir William Whyte.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS AND STOCKS

LAKE OF THE WOODS MILLING CO. IN STRONG POSITION AS TO FINANCE AND STATE OF TRADE

The confidence felt by shareholders [illegible] of the Woods Milling Company in the capacity of Colonel Frank M. Leigh and his directors to carry out the important work involved, appears to be shown to be amply justified as the annual meeting yesterday—the first [illegible] which the Colonel presided.

The report contained none of the mock modesty and evasion which sometimes characterizes the remarks of milling officials. On the contrary, it showed that business conditions were not worth, and that members of the company have every reason to view the future with hope and confidence.

Indeed, it was pointed out in the report that milling conditions had improved much in recent months, giving every hope of a continuation throughout the current fiscal year.

The statement showed profits of $457,011 for the year. As compared with the previous year this represented an increase of $44,878, but as compared with 1909-1910, a decrease of $18,215. The increase of nearly 11 per cent in profits as compared with the previous year represents at least in part general improvement in the milling business in the latter part of the year, and makes the outlook encouraging for the current year. The balance account on August 31 last, after allowing for all deductions thereon, amounted to $842,957.

After meeting fixed charges and payment of preferred dividend, but before deductions for depreciation, etc., the earnings on the common stock were 12 percent, as compared with a little less than 10 the previous year. Surplus at the close of the year stood at $817,457, as compared with $857,457 in the previous year, and $1,074,357 at the end of 1909-1910. During the year $109,000 6 percent bonds were redeemed.

The directors and officers of the company were re-elected as follows: President and managing director, Frank S. Meighen; vice-president, W. W. Hutchison; directors, the Hon. Robert Mackay, Robert Reford, George V. Hastings, Tancrede Bienvenu, Abner Kingman, R. M. Ballantyne, J. K. L. Ross.

Following are details in part of the financial report:

Profit for year ending Auguts 31, 1912		$457,011
Interest on bonds for year	55,140
Interest Keewatin Flour Mills Co. bonds	45,000
Dividends—

New York, Oct. 3.—'Prominent banking interests here are working on a plan to bring about a merger of the leading independent steel companies, to be headed by the Republic Iron and Steel Company and the Bethlehem Iron and Steel Company. Back two years ago similar plans were under negotiation, but it is stated that there seems to be a very much better chance of their going through now than at that time. The new company will make a specialty of export trade, of which some of them have been securing a large amount during the past year.'

LA ROSE MINES HAVE PILED UP HUGE FORTUNE

Cobalt, Oct. 3.—The La Rose profits prior to organization of La Rose Consolidated amounted to $2,766,685, and the present company has declared to date $3,141,685. The total earnings would therefore be $5,908,370. Add to the same the cash on hand and ore on hand and a total of $8,000,000 may fairly be assumed.

The present position of La Rose Company from a financial point of view is very favorable, while development work at the different properties gives evidence of continued large output of silver ore.

GOOD NEWS FOR BETHLEHEM CO. SHAREHOLDERS

New York, Oct. 3.—In connection with reports bearing upon resumption of dividends on Bethlehem Steel preferred stock, an interest of the company says: 'It is likely that a dividend will be paid on the stock in June of next year, but it will be at rate of less than 7 percent, perhaps 1 1-4 percent. President Chas. M. Schwab intends to keep the company strong financially, and it is because of this that he is opposed to the payment of the 1 3-4 percent quarterly on the stock.

MR. SCHWAB.

Dividends on the common stock, according to President Schwab, are remote, as later on the works will be further extended at a cost of several million dollars. Bethlehem Steel Corporation will remain independent. No negotiations for the sale of property are under way.

BANK RATE UNCHANGED.

London, Oct. 3.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged at 4 percent to-day.

Will Take a 15,000 Mile Sea Cruise Round Cape Horn--- These Steamers Will be Engaged in Fish Trade

The growing commercial importance of Prince Rupert—one of Montreal's possible rivals as a port—is shown by several recent developments, one of which is the growth of one of its, and what will become one of Canada's largest industries, viz., the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., of which Mr. James Carruthers is vice-president, and Mr. Andrew Kelly, of Winnipeg, president.

The immense cold storage plant at Prince Rupert is not yet completed, but by the early spring fishing operations will be launched on a large scale.

Three steam trawlers just built at Grimsby, England, are being started on their passage to Prince Rupert. These cost about $40,000 each, and are of splendid physique. Their length is 118 feet. They will have to cover 15,000 miles in their passage around Cape Horn.

E. and C. Randolph.—There should and probably will be some reaction from the rapid advance of past weeks in the prices of securities. On any such reaction we would advise the purchase of standard dividend-paying shares only.

Miller and Company—The market has had to take enormous offerings of stocks from Europe; it would seem to be altogether likely that the Balkan situation will right itself and that it should be followed by another advance in the stock market—more especially so as a good many stops were caught on the decline.

J. S. Bache and Company—The bullish element is entirely satisfied with the activity of the market especially as there has been no aid from the Government for crop moving purposes.

PALESTINE IS HERE, EVEN THE DEAD SEA

Hundreds Flock to See Marvellous Representation of the Holy Land, Ancient and Modern

Montreal has taken into her boundaries a whole new city, its people, its customs and its very interesting sights. This afternoon Palestine was the objective point of hundreds who visited the ancient city at the Arena, and explored it even to the depths of the Dead Sea.

The whole Arena has been turned into an instructive exhibition, to be known as 'Palestine in Montreal,' which will be on view every afternoon and evening until the 24th of this month, from 2.30 till 10 p.m. continuously.

The opening ceremonies of this educative exhibition were performed this afternoon by Bishop Farthing, assisted by many of the most prominent church workers of Montreal, who include practically every religious denomination known in the city.

The last meeting of the workers connected with 'Palestine in Montreal,' preparatory to this afternoon's ceremony, was attended by some 1,500 workers, who were all intensely interested in the success of the exhibition, which, under the auspices of 'The London Society for the Promotion of Christianity amongst the Jews,' is in direct charge of the Rev. S. Schor, himself a native of Palestine.

Every phase of life in Palestine is shown in the magnificent arrangement of the Arena into the present day likeness of this great Palestine.

There will be lectures in costume by nearly a score of lecturers in as many divisions of the building, dealing with subjects perhaps only vaguely referred to in the Bible.

The actual kind of manger which the Saviour must have been born is shown, with its meagre and crude furnishings. Such homes as Jesus nas undoubtedly familiar with are shown, with a reality which is bound to impress the visitor. Amongst the other dwellings of Biblical times the home of Martha and Mary where Christ visited, is a very interesting domicile, in the long line of exhibits which include the Rock Hewn Tomb, Bethany Cottaie, the Court of Agri? culture, Missionary Court, native weavers and potters, barley loaves the same as are made in Palestine, a Palestine Archaelogicl collection, the fauna of the district, the hortocultural and floral specimens of the district, and an exact reproduction of the Holy Sepulchre, fashioned after the original even as to size. The British and Foreign Bible Society also has a stand at the exhibition.

The Rev. Mr. Schor's staff, direct from England, includes his two daughters who lecture in costume, while there are very many local helpers and lecturers who have been trained for this edifying function here.

There are realistic scenes from Palestine life enacted twice each day, when Mr. Schor's lecture is accompanied by the performance of a band of fifty ladies and gentlemen, who render songs as they are presented in the Palestine of to-day, and the Palestine of long ago, where customs have gone on without change.

Since much of the Bible was written in Palestine, the exhibition does much to elucidate what might otherwise be unintelligible in its reading, while at the same time it greatly tends to break down any prejudice which may exist against the Jewish race.

The opening of No. 2 Harbor oCmmissioners Elevator is another impressive illustration of Montreal's growth as a port, while the apparent activity on the part of responsible officials —particularly at the banquet table—gives to the members of the Board of Trade is a feeling that things are moving.

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—Reports from the West indicate that while grain harvested and threshed will be very large, the percentage of grain of no grade is far in excess of last year, when failure of the crop for quality was admitted.

Reports received on the Board of Trade state that the western grain crop, although it will not exceed last year's average quantity, will be of much higher quality; but on account of delay in harvesting there will undoubtedly be a large amount for which there will be great difficulty in securing railroad transportation before close of navigation, and there is not sufficient capacity in the elevators to handle later shipments, so that the money situation is not likely to improve materially for some time, especially as continued activity in business will keep up the demand from this source.

Zam-Buk Cures Bad Burns.

Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M.S. "Cochrane," says:—"I slipped and fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin. At once the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but the burns took the wrong way, owing to a lot of dirt from the pipe setting up blood-poison. A large scab appeared, and from underneath the festering flesh, matter oozed out. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease.

"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good. Indeed, I got worse. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

Zam-Buk cures eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ringworm, bad leg, varicose ulcers, piles, cold sores, chapped hands, babies' sores, etc. All stores at 50c., or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send 1c. stamp for trial box.

TWO HARBOR COMMISSIONERS TO RETIRE, SAYS HON. MR. HAZEN

Minister of Marine and Fisheries at Opening of Largest Concrete Elevator Says Capacity of No. 1 Elevator Will be More More Than Doubled

Two announcements of great importance to the port of Montreal were made by the Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, at the luncheon held yesterday afternoon in connection with the formal opening of the new elevator in the harbor. Two at least of the present Board of Harbor Commissioners will retire from office at the close of the season of navigation. For this change, the rapidly increasing cares of their own private businesses, and a corresponding growth in the responsibilities of the commissioners as the trade of the port developed, was the reason assigned by the head of the department. Although there was no mention of names, it is known that Mr. C. C. Ballantyne and Mr. L. E. Geoffrion have been considering the advisability of such a step for several months.

The other one was that, within the last two weeks, the Department of Marine and Fisheries had given its approval to the plan of the Harbor Commissioners to proceed at once with the erection of an addition to the government elevator, No. 1—near the C. P. R. wharves—and that its storage capacity of one million bushels would be increased to 2,600,000 bushels. When completed there will be government elevators in the port with a capacity of more than five million bushels. The Hon. Mr. Hazen was very optimistic, and freely predicted that even this addition would not be sufficient to accommodate the trade for very long.

The luncheon was held in the upper part of the new shed, No. 16, near the Victoria pier. By the lavish use of bunting and banners, it had been transferred into an admirable banquetting hall. Plates were laid for three hundred guests, and there were no vacant places at the table.

The Hon. Mr. Hazen was received by the commissioners at the entrance to the new elevator, after he had visited the different works in progress in the harbor and on the south shore. Here he held an informal reception—until the bugle called the guests to the luncheon.

Major G. W. Stephens presided. On his right was the guest of the occasion, while the Hon. F. D. Monk was on the left. Next to the Hon. Mr. Hazen sat His Worship, Mayor Lavallee, while among the others at the head table were the following: Sir Alex. Lacoste, the Mayors of Westmount and Verdun, the consuls of France, Russia, Austria-Hungary, Mexico, Belgium, Greece, Guatemala, Norway, Portugal and Sweden, Principal Peterson, Bishop Farthing, the Rt. Rev. Dr. Hanson, Mr. R. W. Reford, president Board of Trade; Mr. Jas. Carruthers, representing Corn Exchange; Mr. Armand Chaput, Chambre de Commerce, Board of Commissioners of Montreal; Mr. J. Obalski, representing the Chambre de Commerce Francais; Mr. Andrew Allan, president Shipping Federation of Canada; Sir H. Montagu Allan, president Merchants Bank of Canada; Mr. F. S. Spence, representing the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Toronto; Messrs. W. M. Dobell, W .C. Marsh and L. P. Normand, of the Quebec Harbor Commissioners; Mr. Chas. Gurd, president of the Commereial Travellers' Association; the Hon. J. P. B. Casgrain, the Hon. Louis Beaubien, Messrs. H. B. Ames, M.P.; Geo. H. Baker, M.P.; Louis Coderre, M.P.; D. O. Lesperance, M.P.; P. E. Lamarche, M.P.; Richard Grigg, chief officer of the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa; Mr. F. R. Lewis, director of Canadian Vickers, Ltd.; the Hon. C. P. Davidson, Chief Justice; four ex-commissioners of the harbor, Messrs. H. Laporte, H. A. Ekers, Alphonse Racine, W. E. Doran, and many others prominent in the commercial life of the city.

PRESENTATION TO MR. HAZEN.

The toast, 'The King,' was proposed by the president. Then followed the presentation of a piece of plate to the guest of the commissioners by Major Stephens, representing, as he said, all the shareholders of the great elevator, the citizens of the Dominion. As Mr. Hazen rose to reply, he received an ovation, and was forced to listen to the singing of 'He's a Jolly Good Fellow' before he could proceed with his address.

He expressed his sincere appreciation of the reception that had been accorded him, and voiced the regret of his colleague, the Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, who was detained in Ottawa by urgent business.

The work of the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, he said, was of supreme national importance to Canada and to the Empire. In the year that he had been in office he had been endeavoring to get a clear idea of what was being performed, and he was glad to say that the work of the Harbor Commissioners had been conducted along proper lines and in a way that was for the benefit of Canada. 'For years past we have been spending millions and millions of dollars to connect the Atlantic and the Pacific. That expenditure has all been justified.'

Of course there had been 'Doubting Thomases,' and he recalled the prophecy that was made in the early days that the C.P.R. across the continent would never pay for the grease for the cars. There were many who were always ready to criticize any great work that any government was performing. 'Maybe in the past we have been too negligent and did not see that we had to place harbors on the Atlantic and the Pacific and give them an equipment by which they could handle freight as economically as in any port in the world. It is an absolute necessity that our harbors shall equal any in the world. The freight of Canada must pass through the ports of Canada. The work of the Harbor Commissioners of Montreal shows that they have been following the correct lines, but much more awaits to be done in the future than has been in the past.'

Referring to the enormous sums that had been expended on the port in the past, he said that it was only a drop in the bucket to what must be spent in the future. The resources of the authorities would be taxed to keep the facilities of the port able to handle the traffic of the West.

There was no one, he said, who possessed sufficient imagination to predict what the conditions in Canada would be in fifty years. In the West we were but touching the fringes of the land capable of production. 'Two hundred million acres in that great land remained yet uncultivated. With the development of that country there would come tremendous traffic to the ports.

The port of Montreal was not to be regarded as a local one. It was a great national work, the great national port of Canada. Others were like it in that respect, St. John and Halifax on the Atlantic and Vancouver and Victoria on the Pacific. These must be regarded as national undertakings, and not merely for the advantage of the locality where they money was expended.

Continuing, Mr. Hazen said that his millions each month, and the nation could afford to be generous. He declared that the Government of the country and the Parliament would not be grudging or too prudent, but that there would be a ready response to any calls for money required for the development of the great national ports. The nation's purse was bursting and overflowing with gold.

The announcement of the addition to be made to the old elevator No. 1 met with a great response. It would give the government storage elevators in the harbor a capacity of over five million bushels, and with the private ones here would provide accommodation for over 6,000,000 bushels in 1913. Even that, he predicted, would not be sufficient for very long.

Continuing, Mr. Hazen said that his relations with the commissioners had been very pleasant, but he regretted that with the close of the season of navigation two at least of the members would tender their resignation owing to the increasing demands of their own private business.

The Hon. Mr. Hazen then told of how the Government designed to help the Western farmer by the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway to Port Nelson. He further contended that this would be of great benefit to Quebec and the Maritime Provinces as well, because the port at the southern nected with the port at the southern end of James Bay, where the railway to be constructed from Montreal would end. This would mean another way by which East and West could interchange their products. He did not give much importance to the stories of ice in the bay.

The minister stated that in accordance with a resolution of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association asking the Government to represent to Lloyd's that insurance rates were too high on vessels coming to British North American ports, had made such representations without receiving the slightest encouragement that they would be reduced, the underwriters stating that they had no profits out of this business. The Hon. Mr. Hazen drew to their attention the fact that the wrecking plant which had been maintained at Quebec under arrangement with the Government, got so little work that the contractor cancelled the arrangement. The Government had now gone in partnership on the scheme, but so few and trivial were the accidents along the St. Lawrence that there was little probability of the Government making any profit. To other American ports on single screw vessels Lloyd's charged ten to eleven cents on $100 of value, and fifteen cents to those vessels taking the St. Lawrence route. On double screw steamers the rate was 15 cents to American ports and 22½ cents to 25 cents to British North American ports. They had raised the rate to one percent on tramp steamers, and to two percent after October, which was practically prohibitive. The Government was averse to entering the insurance business itself as suggested by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, but he assured them that if they would get together and devise some workable arrangement and submit it to the Government it would receive their warm sympathy.

He could hold out no hope that Lloyds would reconsider their decision.

After the conclusion of the Hon. Mr. Hazen's address, the guests inspected the new elevator, while the minister left for Sorel for the banquet in his honor in the evening.

THE ELEVATOR

The elevator is one of the finest on the inland waters of the continent and will do much to relieve the annual congestion of the wheat traffic in the port. It is situated on the bulkhead wharf, opposite Jacques Cartier square, and between the Jacques Cartier and the Victoria piers. It was planned in the beginning to have a capacity of one million bushels; that was in 1909. The year following the Harbor Commissioners altered the structure so that it would accommodate 1,750,000 bushels. But the acute situation in the grain trade last season led the officials to decide to erect an addition to it, so that the capacity of the new structure, when completed, will be 2,600,000 bushels.

STORAGE CAPACITYY.

Elevator No. 2 is constructed of reinforced concrete throughout. It is a structure 456 feet long by 100 feet wide, the receiving elevator being 314 feet long and the extension 142 feet.

The storage capacity of the working one is 1,772,000 bushels and of the storage addition 848,000, making a total of 2,620,000 bushels.

The grain handling capacity of this elevator is very large. Four railroad tracks extend through the entire length of the building and there are 12 receiving lofter legs set in double hoppers, each having an elevating capacity of 12,000 bushels per hour. There are 24 unloading places at which cars may be set. The track hoppers are of sufficient size so that when the leg is busy elevating grain received from a car on one side of it, unloading the car on the opposite side may be proceeding. Twenty-four pairs of grain power shovels are installed so that if desired 24 cars can be unloaded simultaneously. The receiving capacity from cars will be 250 cars in ten hours.

DOUBLE LEGGED MARINE JETTY.

On a special jetty built in the slip opposite the elevator, a double marine tower for unloading vessels has been erected. This is a steel structure with reinforced concrete floors and roofs. It is designed for unloading the inland vessels now reaching Montreal or which may be expected to reach it when the Georgian Bay Canal is completed. Two marine legs each with a capacity of 20,000 bushels per hour are provided, one on each side of the tower, so that two vessels may be unloaded at the same time. Grain from these legs is weighed on automatic scales and conveyed by belt conveyors, running through a steel gallery, to the main elevator. At the elevator it is carried by lofter legs to the cupola and distributed to the bins.

The present extensive conveyor system for shipping to vessels from elevator No. 1 has been connected with elevator No. 2, and it will be continued to the new Victoria pier. Grain from either elevator will therefore be conveyed to any of 19 steamships at their regular berths. The total length of conveyor galleries will be about 2 1-8 miles, using some 10 1-2 miles of rubber belting.

The foundation of the jetty rests upon 7,781 wooden piles driven to a penetration ranging to a depth of 51 feet. Its foundations were dredged to a depth of 38 feet below the low water level. The outer end consists of cribwork 200 feet long and 50 feet wide filled with rock to the low water level. Unlike all the other elevators in the port, ships unloading at this one will moor end-on instead of sideways to the wharf.

NO REMEDY FOR POLLUTION

But Experts Doubt Its Need in Great Lakes, Anyhow

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—'To compel cities along the Great Lakes to so treat their sewage that it would not contaminate the lakes into which it is dumped would place upon these cities an unnecessary and unjustifiable expense, which would bankrupt the cities in most cases.'

This was the opinion of Dr. McLaughlin, an expert from the surgeon-general's office at Washington, D.C., who recently reported on the question of the pollution of the Great Lakes by the American cities. 'I know that there is a strong sentiment against dumping raw sewage into the rivers and lakes, but this sentiment, while no doubt it is earnest, is largely due to lack of information. It is sentimental rather than practicable. Of course it might be different in the case of small rivers, but in such large rivers as we are considering here such a restriction is not necessary.'

This evidence was given yesterday afternoon before the International Joint Commission on Waterways, now in session here, which has been asked by the Governments of the United States and Canada to report on the whole question of the pollution of boundary waters. It would be well for the commission to get control of the situation now, however, Dr. McLaughlin suggested.

Dr. McLaughlin, however, took the general position for the present that since it would be impossible to entirely prevent contamination of the Great Lakes and connecting rivers and the cities to be absolutely safe on the water question, must purify their water anyhow, it accordingly might be wiser to allow them to further contaminate the lakes, which in such large bodies of water was comparatively slight in any case, than to put them to the big expense of treating all their sewage.

Dr. McLaughlin filed his reports on the pollution of the Great Lakes and rivers along the American shore and both he and Prof. Starkey, of McGill University, who is acting for Canada, thought it impossible that contamination from Canadian cities was ever washed across the lakes to make impure the water of an American city or vice versa.

Dr. McLaughlin said that the question of the water supply used by passenger steamers plying along the lakes and rivers was now occupying the attention of the United States Government, and it was in this connection that he was ordered to make the report. He thought that all passenger boats should be compelled to take their water for human consumption from authorized sources or use distilled water. If they took their water from mid-lake or mid-stream it would be all right, but they do not do it. He cited one case in which a coastwise steamer, the 'Northwest,' supplied its passengers with water from the river below Detroit, and left passengers at every point stricken with typhoid. Contamination might be expected on Lake Erie as far from the shore as ten miles.

The two medical men seem to be of the opinion that the Canadian situation should be reported on in a manner such as the American shores had been, and then a report be made of the dangers of Canadian shore contamination being carried to the American shore, and vice versa.

MR. SULZER GETS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

Member of Congress for New York City Upheld for Governorship

Convention Hall, Syracuse, N.Y., Oct. 3.—Mr. William Sulzer, representative in Congress for New York city, was nominated for governor early this morning by the Democratic state convention. It was the seventh time he had been a candidate for this nomination.

Mr. Sulzer was formerly declared the choice of the party at 1.05 a.m., after the delegates had spent nearly four hours in balloting.

Three ballots were taken for the gubernatorial nominee. When the fourth began Sulzer had 195 votes, or within 31 of the majority required for nomination. The fourth ballot had just started when Deputy Attorney General Joseph A. Kellogg withdrew the name of Governor Dix, who had got 147 votes on the first ballot to Sulzer's 126. Sulzer had gained steadily from the first. Others proposed were Martin Glynn, of Albany, who was later named as candidate for Lieutenant-Governor; Herman A. Metz, of Brooklyn, and George B. Gurd, of Buffalo, while 21 votes were cast on the first ballot for Congressman Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, and scattering votes went to State Comptroller Sohmer, Alton B. Parker, Judge Victor J. Dowling, William B. Ellison and others. Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, was excused from voting on the first ballot, and the New York delegation scattered its votes until the name of Governor Dix was withdrawn, when they voted solidly for Sulzer, and only the Osborne three votes were cast against the nomination of the Manhattan congressman.

After the nomination of Sulzer and Glynn the convention at 1.30 a.m. adjourned until 10 a.m.

THROWN INTO UPROAR.

The convention was thrown into an uproar late yesterday afternoon by an attack upon Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader directed by Thomas M. Osborne, of Auburn, who long has been identified with the efforts to unseat Mr. Murphy and his friends from their position of prominence of the party in New York State.

'Choose ye this day,' concluded Mr. Osborne, 'whom ye will serve. On the one side stands Woodrow Wilson and the principles of the progressive democracy; on the other, Charles F. Murphy and the cohesive power of public plunder.'

Mr. Osborne left the platform followed by a storm of jeers and hisses, and State Senator Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the resolutions committee, hurried to the platform to answer him. He charged Mr. Murphy's critic as disappointed because he had failed to receive the nomination for governor or for United States senator.

He said conditions in the twine factery formerly owned by Osborne had been deplorable.

'Liar, liar,' shouted Osborne, jumping from his seat on the floor.

Senator Wagner warmly defended leader Murphy, declaring that his public nad private life were above reproach, and concluded with a defense of the platform which Osborne had attacked.

The platform was adopted without dissent and soon afterward the convention took a recess until the night session.

The platform ratifies the Democratic national platform, pledges its support to Wilson and Marshall, and condemns what it styles as the 'monopolistic tariff evils' of the Republican party.

'Under the false plea of protection to the American farmer and the American workman,' says the platform, 'the Republican party has taxed the necessaries of life for the benefit of the favored private enterprises. We condemn the action of the President in vetoing the tariff bills passed by the present Congress. The failure of the American people to obtain relief through a downward revision of the tariff is due entirely to a Republican Senate and to President Taft. Such revision can be obtained only by the election of a Democratic President and a Democratic House of Representatives.'

ST. HENRI METHODISTS.

This was the decision of the members of the society present at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Fred Driver, Cazelais street. The report of the past season proved very satisfactory as, not only have several new members been enrolled, but the finances of the society have improved. The committee request that all persons interested in the formation of a church orchestra will meet this evening at the church hall.

WEATHER KIOSKS IN OUTREMONT

Company Applies to Council for Permission to Erect Them With Advertising

MATTER LEFT OVER.

Plans For Cottages of Clerics of St. Viateur Passed After Stable and Kitchen are Altered.

Two representatives of the clerics of St. Viateur were present at the opening of the Outremont Council last night, and produced amended plans of the buildings to be erected on the corner of St. Viateur and Bernard avenues. The plans show cottages of two stories, one at each corner, with an open space of thirty-six feet between, and with ornamental railing and gates. The stable and kitchen, to which objection was made, are to be built well back from the street. The amended plans having been found satisfactory the permit to build was granted on the motion of Councillor Little, seconded by Councillor Picher.

Messrs. Degrys & Co.'s application for permission to place meteorological kiosks in different parts of the town, with clock towers and advertising matter, was taken up, but it was decided to leave the matter in abeyance.

A complaint was made by residents of Macdougall avenue that the water service had been insufficient for some time past. Councillor Picher said he had received similar complaints from ratepayers in other parts of the town. Mr. Duchastel, the town engineer, reported that the company had a number of men going around and making tests, with the object of laying connecting links in the pipes, and possibly this might account for the occasional irregularity of the services. The secretary was instructed to write a letter to the company about the complaints.

A lawyer's letter was received informing the Council that Mr. E. Enopf, of 737 St. Catherine road, claimed $1,000 for damages to his property caused by blasting operations in connection with the laying of the drain. The town engineer explained that blasting was necessary to remove the rock. The rock had to be got out to permit the sewer being laid. He did not think that the blasting by the town contractor had been very severe.

Councillor Munro said he had given careful attention to the heavy blasting at the reservoir, the effects of which were apt to be confined to the immediate neighborhood; but they were felt practically all over the upper sections of the town.

WORK MUST GO ON.

Councillor Little said the work must go on, and if any damage resulted, then the sufferer had his recourse against whoever caused the damage.

The matter was allowed to drop, and the Council took up the question of heavy traffic on the streets. Councillor Little suggested that the road committee be requested to report on the subject.

BELL TELEPHONE PUBLIC CALL OFFICE.

The Bell Telephone Company were given permission to have a public call office, which is to be placed in the Town Hall building; and the company have agreed to put on a wire for the town engineer's office.

The assessors, having completed the valuation roll for the present year, submitted the following statement:

Valuation of property in Outremont for this year and last year:

Taxable 1911-12.

	Land.	Buildings.
South Ward	$1,829,589	$699,570
West Ward	1,939,831	560,000
North Ward	1,246,976	1,552,567
	$5,018,398	$2,812,157

Taxable 1912-13.

	Land.	Buildings.
South Ward	$2,715,447	$852,500
West Ward	3,607,995	685,950
North Ward	2,145,645	2,189,803
	$8,469,087	$3,728,253

Non-taxable 1911-12.

	Land.	Buildings.
South Ward	$1,119,552	$262,540
West Ward	79,533	29,150
North Ward	119,796	104,350
	$1,318,881	416,040

Non-taxable 1912-13.

	Land.	Buildings.
South Ward	$2,861,006	$339,340
West Ward	175,625	41,060
North Ward	268,100	281,400
	$3,304,733	$661,740

Included in the item of non-taxable property is an item of $2,049,935 for land, and of $88,040 for buildings, in connection with the Mount Royal Cemetery, all of which is situated in the town of Outremont, and all of which is exempt from taxation.

On motion of Councillor Robinson, seconded by Councillor Cooke, the roll was homologated, and the rate of taxation fixed at seven mills, being the same as last year.

A letter was submitted from Mr. S. Carmichael, solicitor for the Water & Power Company, in which he says he is instructed by the company to appeal from and protest against the valuation roll of the properties in Outremont by the assesors, together with the annual rental valuation placed upon it, which roll was ready for homologation in October 2. The protest is based on the ground that the formalities requiring the roll to be placed for inspection in the Town Hall have not been entirely carried out. Mr. Carmichael also protests against the rental valuation; whether the property is rented or occupied by the owner. The amount inscribed on the roll does not represent the amount of annual rent paid by tenants, and in the case of proprietors the annual value inscribed on the roll is not the full annual value.

Mr. Carmichael added that inasmuch as the company had a direct interest in rental valuations he was instructed to inform the Council that the company holds the town responsible for the formation of the roll as a matter of contract, wholly apart from the legal remedies it may have against the roll itself.

In a second letter Mr. Carmichael says: 'I am instructed by the directors of the company to again notify you that they object to and do not accept the principle involved in the manner in which your roll is made up, in so far as it does not agree with article 8 of the contract, in so far as that article refers to the property surrounding the buildings. As your roll now stands it is impossible to tell whether more or less than one acre surrounding any particular house is included in your rental valuation. There is a reduction of $13,000 in rental valuation on houses which were assessed last year. The company does not acquiesce in the matter of the principles involved.'

The monthly report of the chief of police, Mr. Tiernan, was presented, from which it appears that fourteen cases were tried before the Magistrate's Court held in the Town Hall during the month of September.

Mr. Reid, building inspector, reported that permits were taken out for buildings during the last six months as follows:

76 cottages	$306,000
187 flats	427,000
Alterations	27,200
	$760,200

Exclusive of property exempted from taxation, the plans in hand for new buildings amount to over $100,000. The value of new buildings for the year will run over a million without including exempt property.

Before the adjournment, Councillor Little referred to the successful skating rink enterprise last winter, and suggested that if the Council intended to have a rink this winter it would be well to make the necessary arrangements immediately, so as to avoid vexatious delays in the opening of the skating season.

A committee was appointed to provide a skating rink in the park.

BOUDRIAS TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER

Was Committed for Trial Yesterday at the November Term of King's Bench.

Adelard Boudrias, who came before Judge Lafontaine yesterday morning charged with the murder of his wife on or about July 15th, was committed for trial at the November term of the Court of King's Bench. There were no witnesses examined in the case, the evidence now in the hands of the court being sufficient to commit him.

Mrs. Boudrias' body was found floating in the St. Lawrence river near Varennes, and the discrepancies in the story told by the husband, and that of several witnesses for the prosecution, led to his arrest by the provincial detectives.

TORONTO-OTTAWA LINE BEFORE YEAR'S END

Toronto, Oct. 3.— The Canadian Northern Railway Company's line from Toronto to Ottawa will probably be running for freight purposes, if not for passenger traffic, before the close of the year. This is the expectation of the officials of the company. The new big steel bridge over the Rideau is now practically completed which, with the Jock river bridge already completed, leaves the section from Ottawa to Smith's Falls ready for the putting down of the rails. The work on this is the next to be undertaken.

CANCER 'CURES' ARE WORTHLESS

New York, Oct. 3.—Dr. E. F. Basford, of the London Imperial Cancer Research Fund, and the foremost English authority on cancer, declared in an address before the American Pathological Society here last night, that practically all of the so-called cures of cancer announced within the last few years are worthless.' He added that the only means of saving or prolonging the life of a person afflicted with the disease is by operation.

'Cancer kills one man in every seven,' he said.

'In one hundred families of six members each, equally divided between the sexes, about sixty-four, or more than ten percent, will die of cancer. It is an important cause of death from thirty-five years on, getting rapidly more so as age increases. Cancer is now becoming more frequent in young persons.'

The ceremonies began with a religious service in the great hall of the new structure of what is to be officially recognized as the head chapel of the Westminster circuit under the ministry of the Rev. LAST OF THE GROUP OF JEWISH HOLIDAYS.

The last of the group of Jewish Holiday celebrations commenced last night, and terminates at sundown to-morrow. This holiday is known in Hebrew as 'Simchas Torah,' which means the joy in being given the ten commandments. On this day God gave the Jewish people the ten commandments when he placed them under Mount Sinai.

This holiday is more of a jovial and feasting celebration than anything else, inasmuch as the aim of the holiday is to be joyful and merry in order to celebrate the day upon which the Jewish religion was given them.

FLEE FROM REBEL TROOPS

Inhabitants of Foochow in State of Terror at Outbreak Among Soldiers.

Amoy, Oct. 3.—The inhabitants of Foochow, the capital of Fukien province, are fleeing from the city, owing to their fears of outbreaks among the troops under the command of General Pung. He has an army of men estimated from ten thousand to twenty thousand with him, and openly defies the provincial authorities.

Steamers reaching here from Foochow are crowded with refugees.

CRAVING FOR A POWER.

Bishop Boyd Carpenter Addresses Students on 'Comparative Religion.'

In the Royal Victoria College yesterday afternoon, the Right Rev. Bishop Boyd-Carpenter, late Bishop of Ripon, gave the first of a series of three lectures on 'Comparative religion,' which he is delivering to the students at the joint session of the Montreal Theological Colleges. An excellent attendance of clergymen and the general public also listened to the lectures.

Dr. Boyd-Carpenter opened with expressing the opinion that a general outlook on the world seemed to urge the necessity of taking a very wide and comprehensive view of the various forces which would be brought into play in the future of mankind. In some instances the old evidences of God had broken down. Paley's argument, for instance, regarding design, had become useless because the author of it had regarded the world as a finished product, while mankind today realized that it was only in the making. The powers of man were still in a state of development, just as the Apostle Paul had said, 'We are living in a world of becomings.'

The lecturer followed with a description of what he considered essential elements in any vital religion, and said that one ought not to ridicule the superstitious which were so prominent in other religions. They really signified that humanity was fearful of a greater power, which would not be against them, but with them. The cry of humanity for such a power greater than man was an essential in which both Mohammedanism and Buddhism failed.

Dr. Boyd-Carpenter also lectured this afternoon, in the Royal Victoria College, and will lecture again tomorrow, at 4 o'clock.

SHOE SHINER'S CORNER.

It Was Smaller Than He Bargained On, so He Has Gone to Court.

The troubles of the proprietor of a shoe-shining parlor were heard before Mr. Justice Lane in the Superior Court yesterday. The plaintiff, Peter Pulos, represented that he had leased a gateway between 235 and 237 St. Catherine street West, for one year, on the understanding that he would have a store eight feet, wide, but it appeared that the lessor had used four feet of the gateway to build a stairway, and the remaining four feet, he claimed, were utterly useless for an establishment such as his business demanded. Hence, the demand that the lease calling for a monthly rental of $75 should be cancelled by the court.

The defendant, Mr. Fred W. Gross, however, contends that at the time the gateway was leased, there was no structure there, and that the plaintiff was shown the plans of the building to be erected, and he could have seen that a stairway in the gateway was a necessity.

The case was taken endelibere.

BULL GORED FARMER.

Cobourg, Oct. 3.—On the tenth line of Cavan William Nill, sr., a well known farmer, was gored by a mad bull and seriously injured. Mr. Nill was leading the animal when it got loose and rushing at him knocked him down, one horn breaking a rib and piercing Mr. Nill's lung. Mrs. Nill, who was suffering from a fractured ankle, hobbled out into the yard, and her screams diverted the animal's attention.

This is the third bad accident in the family this season. Last spring Mr. Nill's son had his leg broken, and a few weeks ago the horse Mrs. Nill was driving became frightened and unmanageable, and she had an ankle broken.

TOOK OLD MAN FROM BLAZING BED.

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 3.—Arising from bed at six o'clock this morning Harry Revell noticed flames coming from a window in a adjoining house. Knowing that an old man named Henry Balderson lived alone in the house, Revell rushed in through the flames, got Balderson out of the blazing bed, and took him out of the house. Balderson was badly burned about the face and legs, and later succumbed to his injuries. The fire was easily extinguished.

FELLOW-PRISONERS LYNCHED NEGRO IN WEST.

Rawlins, Wyo., Oct. 3.—Convicts at the Wyoming State Prison yesterday lynched Frank Wigfall, a negro and ex-convict, who was put in the state institution for safe-keeping. He was arrested on a charge of attacking Mrs. Esther Higgins aged 78, last Sunday.

Wigfall was arrested at Fort Steele, 15 miles from here. Mrs. Higgins, the aged victim of the negro's attack, lived near the state penitentiary and was a favorite with the prisoners.

FEWER FIRES.

During September, Fire Commissioner Latulippe inquired about 114 fires, and held 24 investigations, attended by 75 witneses. For September last year the corresponding figures were 176, 26 and 90.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Regina, Oct. 3.—Nine year old Peter Belowtz, son of a Galician farmer near Yorkton, was instantly killed, and his brother was severely injured when playing with a gun which was accidentally discharged.

7 IN 100,000 ARE MURDERED

American Statistics Throw Creepy Sidelight on Conditions

New York, Oct. 3.—Seven out of about every 100,000 New Yorkers are murdered, according to figures gathered by an insurance journal here. The statistics, covering a score of the largest cities of the country, show, however, that New York is a very good place compared with some other American communities. The rate of homicides per 100,000 of population for some of the other cities is as follows:—Washington, 9.2; Chicago, 9.1.; San Francisco, 10.4; St. Louis, 15.5; Nashville, Tenn, 35.3; Savannah, Ga, 37.8; Charleston, S.C., 42.3, and Memphis, Tenn, 63.4.

In England and Wales in 1909, with a population of 35,756,000, the percentage of homicides was only 0.8.

YOUNG MAN HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

North Bay, Oct. 3.—Fred Haggerty, a young man of twenty-five years, is in the North Bay jail waiting trial on a serious charge, while Agness Quintin, a pretty girl of eighteen, is very ill at the home of her parents here.

Haggerty came here this spring to act as chauffeur for a real estate firm, and becoming acquainted with the girl, paid her a good deal of attention until the friendship ripened into a deeper intimacy. This attachment culminated in an elopement, and Haggerty left town taking the girl with him, first to Sudbury then to Ottawa, where her mother followed, and finding her daughter brought her back to North Bay.

The unfortunate girl has been very ill since her return, and is under the care of physicians. Haggerty was arrested in Ottawa, and brought back to North Bay. As Miss Quintin was unable to appear in court Haggerty was remanded for eight days without bail. Haggerty is a married man, having a wife and one child in Ottawa. J. M. McNamara appeared for the accused, and entered a plea of not guilty. Crown Attorney T. E. McKee is prosecuting.

ALLEGED VIOLATION OF FISHERIES ACT

Windsor, Oct. 3.—Complaint was lodged yesterday against A. F. Healy, a well known Windsor barrister, and A. Chappus for an alleged violence 'stopped the egress and ingress of fish along the shore waters of the Detroit river.' The defendants in the case have established a carp pond down the river, and for the betterment of their plan it is alleged they walled up the 'mouth of Big Creek after the fish had gone into it to spawn.

A test case is to be made, and the outcome will be watched with interest. Healy and Chappus appeared in court yesterday, and pleaded not guilty.

The case was enlarged for a week.

FIRST ANNUAL DANCE Y.M.H.A. SNOWSHOE CLUB

The first annual dance of the Y. M. H. A. Snowshoe Club and installation of officers for the ensuing year took place last Sunday evening at the Auditorium Hall.

The hall was artistically decorated to suit the occasion. The walls were hung with the blue and white colors of the Y. M. H. A., intermingled with the crossed snowshoes, the crest of the Snowshoe Club, while from the ceiling fell fantastic showers of snow incessantly.

At one end of the balcony a counter was built and tables set, and spotlessly white garbed waiters, the efficiency of whose service was often commented upon, glided to and fro serving refreshments to the gay throng who came to enjoy an evening of festivities such as only Dave Livinson can prepare.

The orchestra box was prettily embellished with flags, and the Y. M. H. A. orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. M. Garfinkle, rendered all the latest orchestrations—so excellent was the music that several encores were demanded for each selection.

The floor committee, all of whom were faultlessly attired, wearing silk bands around their arms, arranged for an excellent variety of dances, and performed their duties very satisfactorily. Between the dances operatic selections were rendered by an auxe-to-phone, furnished by the courtesy of the Berliner Gramophone Company; altogether making one of the most elaborate and best enjoyed dances ever held in this city.

About 550 people attended this successful affair, and the proceeds will go far towards assuring the success of the Y. M. H. A. Snowshoe Club, who are planning for a large and expensive programme for the coming season.

In a short speech, Mr. J. Goldstein, president of the Y. M. H. A., duly installed the following officers for 1912-1913:—

President: Davis Levinson; vice-president, A. Harry Wolfe; secretary and treasurer, F. Berlin; corresponding secetary, J. Sigman; captain, H. Rawson; scout, S. Rawson; whipperin, Chas. Hermann.n

The following were the members of the committee to whom the success of this dance was due,—

Director—Dave Livinson; floor and reception, J. Sigman, A. H. Wolfe, A. H. Livinson, T. Garfinkle, W. Wisse, N. Takefman, G. Soloman, H. J. Carsley, C. Herman, J. Daniels, I. Miller, D. Krukin, B. Silverman, and S. Rawson.

Yield in Walla Walla This Year is Three Hundred and Fifty Cars.

Walla Walla, Wis., Oct. 4.—Responding to a request from 'Better Fruit,' published at Hood River, Ore., the Walla Walla Commercial club has prepared figures showing the output of prunes in the Walla Walla valley and estimating the yield this season at 350 car loads. Of this quantity 200 car loads will be handled through the Milton-Freewater Fruit Growers' Exchange, about 80 car loads by the Blalock Fruit Company and the remainder by local produce men. The crop this year is superior in quality, and in quantity is in excess of the record crop of two years ago, according to estimates.

The article, which will hold a prominent place in the special 'prune edition,' also points out that 500 acres of young prune trees are just coming into bearing and that a large acreage of prunes is this year being set out. It is said that more money is being realized from the prunes than from apples.

QUEBEC ALDERMAN DIED IN CITY HALL.

Quebec, Oct. 3.—There was a sensation at the City Hall last evening, when Alderman Patrick Dinan, one of the best-known members of the City Council, who had intended to attend a committee meeting, was suddenly taken ill and expired, notwithstanding all that could be done. Ald. Dinan had not been feeling well for some time, but still appeared to be in the best of health.

THE EDUCATIONAL VALUE
of such pictures as crowd the pages of the "Canadian Pictorial" every month can hardly be over-estimated. More can be learned by old and young alike from a single issue of the "Canadian Pictorial," than from many pages of mere reading matter, not to speak of the delight and entertainment these beautiful photogravures give to the home.

It is, of course, impossible to know much about mining advertising, which offers probably the most speculative, and, therefore, the most risky of all investments. The great chances of gain are balanced by the great chances of loss, and no one should invest in a very speculative property more than he can afford to lose.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1912.

It is to be hoped that no pains will be spared to show civility to the group of German physicians who are about to visit our city, and to send them away under the complete conviction that, however much some here may have been convinced of danger from Germany, no one has any ill intent or ill-will towards that country. As none of us want any quarrel—as indeed a quarrel would be almost the greatest conceivable calamity to both nations, it is worth our while to do our utmost to remove from the minds of our German kindred all notion of antagonism, and to cultivate relations with them that would be incompatible with enmity.

WAR MEASURES IN PEACE.

Turkey's action in commandeering the Greek ships found in her waters at a time of peace with that nation, and apparently firing on some that would not accept the situation, is held by her government to be justified in case of need, by international law. Whether there be any technical ground for that excuse or not, it is a flimsy pretence. Such a reason would give her an equal right to seize British ships, and in most parts of the world there are more good British ships to be had than those of any other flag. Turkey is at war only with Italy, and does not want merchant ships for that war. To fly her flag upon them would only be to put them in peril. Her promise to pay for the ships later means in her case very little. It is evidently because Greece is one of the four powers that are threatening Turkey that this treatment is meted out to her ships, and if so, it is a virtual act of war—which is the last thing Turkey should be seeking.

It may be, however, that Turkey has more hopes from war than from peaceful concessions. She has no genius for governmental reform. Her protest that she must be given time to bring about the reforms the protesting states are demanding is a mere phrase, in view of the long and vain demand for those reforms and the very frequent assurance that they would be carried out. On the other hand, Turkey has a genius for war, and she has a genius for playing her enemies off against each other. She counts on the support of the Albanian mountaineers from the very regions in which an open revolt against her has precipitated the present embroglio. The Albanians are mostly Mahommedans, and are as familiar with fighting for the Sultan as were the Scottish Highlanders with flocking to the standard of the Stuarts. She also, in some way, counts on the support of Roumania. That can hardly be but of love. The Roumanians claim kindred rather with the Italians. By their national name they are Romans. And they know what Turkish tyranny is. But who knows what differences there may be between them and their Slavic neighbors, the Serbs and Bulgars? The ultim[illegible] of the four states, Bulgari[illegible] Montenegro and Greece is [illegible]presented to-day, and if it is not followed by war it will be the result of pressure from without. The central demand of the protest is autonomy for Macedonia and Albania, and that we are assured the Porte is determined not to give.

ROAD REGULATION.

A by-law passed by the city council forbidding the use of our streets to useful steam vehicles met with ridicule in these columns. The council had had the by-law drawn up by its lawyers, and then, to make assurance of its legality doubly sure made changes on that, with the result that any steam vehicle that was of any use was forbidden and all such that were merely for pleasure were permitted. The regulation being passed in this form has come again under the purview of the law advisers with the result that they have declared it ultra vires. Apart from the incongruity just mentioned we pointed out that, while it might be held to prohibit the city's own road rollers and other movable appliances, if these were excluded by limiting the word vehicle to such steam waggons as carry loads, it would not reach the very tractors at which it was aimed. So the traffic which calls so urgently for regulation goes on unchecked, making some of our best streets too filthy to cross.

Some of the criticisms on the new traffic are not fair to it. While the steam trucks all burn coke, which does not smoke, tractors burn soft coal and make a dirty, destructive smoke that should not be permitted. It is not fair to make smoke a ground for forbidding vehicles that do not smoke. Because some have destructive wheels with deep cross flanges that tear up the macadam and break the scoria blocks is no reason for prohibiting those that have smooth wheels. The most absurd objection to the trains of trailers is that they take up too much room on the streets. Each of these waggons carries at least twice as much as an ordinary two-horse waggon. To haul the load carried by the traction engine with four trailers would take at least eight teams and wagons. Each of these teams and waggons would take up twice as much ground as a trailer and would create a danger zone as large as itself in front of it. It would therefore take about four times as much street space to carry the load borne by such a train if it had to be hauled by horses. Another thing that is unfair to these engines is to judge them by their effect on the pavement of a street where automobiles, brick waggons or doctor's vehicles suddenly sink through to be hauled out next day. If the heavy engines have pushed the last light coating of soft stones laid on this street further down and squeezed the mud to the surface, that is not their fault.

The 'Witness' was among the first to call for the regulation of this traffic. It desired reasonable restrictions placed on the breadth of tire and the roughness of the wheels. The smoke also calls for regulation. As to noise they are not as bad as a street car nor are they probably any worse than the dozens of teams that would have to take their place. The vibration caused is a really difficult question and needs the most careful consideration. Steam vehicles are, however, the only suitable mode of taking loads up such hills as Montreal has allowed to stand in the way of its progress. They are the most efficient city-building vehicles that have appeared since the first electric trolley car. When the trolley cars were new many evinced the greatest hatred and fear of them. The same was true of the advent of the bicycle and is now being experienced with the automobile. The council cannot hasten too much to allay this prejudice against progress by conservative and careful regulation.

FINE HORSES ARRIVED ON 'MOUNT TEMPLE'

Fifty-six Blue Blooded Belgians Were Imported by Western Dealer

Fifty-six registered Belgian horses were part of the cargo carried by the C. P. R. liner, 'Mount Temple,' which docked here early to-day. The animals were taken on board at Antwerp, and were the first that the ship has had this season. They were valued at from $2,000 to $4,000 each. The entire lot was consigned to Mr. H. Hunter, a prominent Western dealer.

Lovers of splendid horses pronounced them the finest that have come to the port this year. They left for the West on a special train this afternoon.

TEACHERS CONVENE

bine for discussion and deliberation, and whereas to this end provision has been made by which a trustees' department may be organized in connection with the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers of the Province of Quebec, be it resolved that this association request the executive committee to take such steps in the formation of such department as they may deem advisable.'

DELEGATES WANT UNIFORM TEXT-BOOKS.

The lack of uniformity in text-books was another of the matters brought up. Some of the teachers complained strongly about this, and also complained of optional text-books placing on them the onus of choosing. The choice for all the schools in the province, they maintained, should be made by a central and expert body.

Prof. Dale explained that this matter was being considered seriously by the Protestant Committee, and doubtless the matters complained of would be remedied.

Considerable discussion took place in regard to examinations and course of study in superior and elemntary schools, and especial emphasis was laid on the need for some changes to meet the insistent public demand for more hygienic and nature study. These matters will be looked into by committees.

The treasurer's report, showing total receipts of $751 and a balance in hand after payment of all expenses of $317, was adopted.

This afternoon, the many requests which have been made for demonstrations in teaching was responded to by Prof. John Brittain, of Macdonald College, who gave his model nature study lesson, and there were also sectional talks on the teaching of French by Mr. A. W. Bain; teaching writing, by Mr. A. F. Newlands, Ottawa; spelling, by Mr. W. O. Rothney.

To-night the big feature, to which the public is invited, will be an address by Dr. S. B. Sinclair, of Macdonald College, on 'The Needs of the Rural Schools.' This address will be illustrated.

It was with much regret that Prof. Dale announced to-day that Miss A. E. George, of New York, had found it impossible to come to deliver her address on 'The Montessori Method,' as had been announced for to-morrow afternoon's session. This method is one of the most remarkable departures in educational methods in recent years, and Miss George's absence means that one of the most valuable parts of the programme has been lost. However, it is hoped that she will visit Montreal very shortly, and possibly give her address in connection with the Child's Welfare Exhibition. It is expected that Bishop Boyd-Carpenter will give an address instead, to-morrow afternoon.

DISRAELI.

Benjamin Disraeli, statesman and author, declared he would never marry for love or romance. And he didn't. Nevertheless Louis N. Parker, author of the 'Pomander Walk,' has made him the guiding spirit in a charming little love story in which a couple of young English aristocrats of the early seventies, figure as principals. The play is entitled after the distinguished character who dominates his action, and George Arless, supported by an exceptionally fine cast, will continue to appear in it, following a triumphant New York run of 350 performances that is just drawing to a close. He will be at His Majesty's next week before going to Boston.

TOOK GAS ACCIDENTALLY.

Gas leaking through the earth into an excavation at the C.N.R. station yesterday so affected John Peffel and Joseph Beaudoin they were overcome. After being taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital for examination, they were sent home.

ASLEEP IN A BLAZING ROOM.

A slight fire broke out yesterday afternoon in a restaurant at 111 Craig street West, occupied by Alfred St. Marie. When the brigade arrived it was discovered that the ceiling in the kitchen was burning, and although no definite cause could be assigned, the report causically remarks that two men were found sleeping on the premises.

BALKAN KINGDOMS UNITE IN DEMANDS AGAINST TURKEY
MOBILIZATION OF ARMIES BELIEVED TO MEAN WAR

FOURTH MOUNTAIN BATTERY OF BULGARIAN ARTILLERY.

The mobilization of the armies of Bulgaria, Servia and Greece will probably mean immediate war, according to the belief held in political circles throughout Europe. The nature of Turkey's military activity in the last few days is taken to mean that she intends to make war. In that case the Balkan coalition has forestalled her in her endeavor to profit by the rapid concentration of troops.

It is believed the Turks will grant the reforms which have become absolutely imperative in Macedonia. Instead, however, of carrying into effect their promises to ameliorate the Macedonian situation, the Porte, when pressed to do so, replies by mobilizing the army. The manoeuvres ordered in the Adrianople district are only mobilization in disguise.

The Balkan kingdoms are determined to bring an end to the anarchical situation in Macedonia, and the Powers must act promptly and in a practical manner if they are to prevent hostilities, toward which the first steps already have been taken.

FRONTIER SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Forty-seventh Annual Convention at Valleyfield, When Important Resolutions Were Passed.

The forty-seventh annual convention of the Frontier Sunday School Association was held at Valleyfield on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 26th and 27th. The day sessions were all held in the Methodist Church, and the evening sessions in the Presbyterian Church, while tables were set each evening for the delegates in the school room of St. Mark's Church by the ladies of the three congregations. The programme was a long and interesting one and the attendance was large at the six sessions.

The convention was opened by the president, the Rev. Robert Smith, of Huntingdon, who welcomed the delegates present.

The Rev. C. W. Shelley gave a very interesting and able address on the attendance of children in the church service. He contended that every sermon in the church should have a special message for the children; and that they should be made to feel that they are part of the congregation. He finished with an eloquent appeal for the revival of the family pew. This was followed by an able and witty discussion of the subject by the Rev. E. Scott, in which he pointed out that the messages of salvation should be put up in palatable form, as the present-day physician puts his medicine in sugar-coated pills.

The resolutions were presented by the Rev. E. Scott as follows: I. Resolved that, this being the first meeting of the Frontier Sunday School Association since the Rev. E. T. Capel retired from the secretaryship of the Sunday School Union of the Province of Quebec to be assistant to the Rev. Canon Troop, of St. Martin's Church, Montreal, the convention place on record its profound appreciation of the faithful and untiring services of Mr. Capel during his nine years of office. It is to his personal initiative and efforts that the district conventions owe their existence.

The Rev. E. Scott, in moving the resolution said: 'There has been no meeting of any convention, whether provincial, county or district, but Mr. Capel has made it his object to be present—the servant whom his master found ever watching. He was ready at every call; he had labored to make himself an expert in every department of the work; in every discussion, and in every practical difficulty it was to him that we turned to hear the right word, and he always said it. In brief, the story of our convention, during his term of office, has been bound up in a very special degree with his wise, strong and loveable personality.'

II. Resolved that, this also being the first meeting of the convention since the Rev. J. G. Fulcher was appointed provincial secretary in succession to the Rev. E. T. Capel, the convention give expression to their most hearty welcome of Mr. Fulcher. He has been present at all our sessions and we already know that our Master has sent us a worthy successor to the good and faithful servant who has gone from us. We discern in him already the same qualities of wisdom, kindness, spiritual enthusiasm, mental power and practical ability which marked his predecessor. We give Mr. Fulcher the assurance of that loyal support and co-operation which, more than any formal words, will be the best welcome and reward that he desires.

III. Resolved that the convention send an expression of sympathy to the Rev. Dr. Morrison, of Ormston, in his present disablement, resulting from his recent accident, with the prayer and hope that he will be speedily restored to a full measure of health and strength.

IV. Resolved that the convention endorse the suggestions made at its sessions for agressive temperance work, and would suggest to the general secretary and the manager of the Book Room the possibility of providing appliances for temperance teaching, such as diagrams, lantern slides, etc.

V. Resolved that a hearty vote of thanks be accorded to the speakers, who in the midst of the various duties have come to us, to all who have extended hospitality to the delegates in their homes, to the ladies for poviding the suppers, to the singers from the various churches who have led in the service of praise, to our able and worthy secretary, the Rev. J. D. Anderson, and to our able and genial president and chairman, the Rev. Robert Smith, of Huntingdon.

Mr. R. H. Buchanan, of Montreal, was the last speaker of the convention, with a very important subject—that of steawardship.

ONTARIO GETS 40 PERCENT

Biggest Slice of Immigration Rush, and Mostly From Great Britain

Toronto, Oct. 3.—Immigrants to the number of 4,413 for the month of September, as compared with about a hundred in September last year, and more than three hundred for the first three days of this month, to less than a hundred for the whole of last October. This is the record of the Dominion Government Ontario immigration office at the Toronto Union Station, and shows the number of immigrants distributed by this office throughout the province last year.

Of these immigrants, at least 75 percent are English, with a small percentage of Irish and Scotch. Of the total number of immigrants locating in Ontario this season about ninety percent are British-born. All told, nearly forty thousand have been distributed throughout Ontario this year, which is three or four times the number of any previous year. Ontario is now getting forty percent of the total number of immigrants entering the Dominion.

LABOR SITUATION VERY ACUTE

Threshing Held Up, and $3.50 a Daily Fails to Bring Men

Saskatoon, Oct. 3.—The labor situation here is beginning to be extremely acute. Threshing is held up, and much impeded by a great scarcity of men. Every employment office is besieged by farmers looking for help, and it is certain that were one thousand men shipped in to-day they would be placed by noon.

The Board of Trade is helpless to alleviate the present serious condition which, if not improved shortly, may mean big loss to grain growers, and business houses of the city.

In an effort to improve conditions some farmers have agreed to advance wages, and are now offering $3.50 a day. One farmer said he would take women if he could get them.

THE LA PALME PROGRAMME.

The programme for the song-recital to be given in the Monument National on Monday evening, Oct. 14, by Mme. Beatrice La Palme, contains several novelties not heard here before. Mme. La Palme's selection of songs for her recital is invariably characterized by a catholicity broad enough to satisfy almost every taste, and on this occasion she will give several lieder which will be found to possess not only artistic interest, but educational value. The violinist for the occasion, Mr. Franklin Holding, is a pupil of Sercik, the famous Prague master who taught both Kubelik and Marie Hall.

INDUSTRIAL PEACE IN LAWRENCE NOW

Prospect that To-day Would be Uneventful Among Mill Workers

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 3.—Surface appearances indicated that industrial peace prevailed in Lawrence when the textile mills began operations to-day. There were on disturbances of any kind when the gates were thrown open to the workers, and there was every prospect that the day would be uneventful.

Some of the mills reinstated operatives who were refused work yesterday because of their participation in Monday's twenty-four-hour strike in protest against the imprisonment of Ettor and Giovannitti.

There still remained about 1,500 employees who considered themselves locked out on account of their activities in the Ettor demonstration. The leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World were undecided as to what would be done to protect the unemployed operatives, but for the present they will be supported by the organization. Final disposition of the matter is expected to be made at a mass meeting next Sunday.

William D. Hayward was in Lawrence to-day, usually accompanied by three or four companions. The Industrial Workers leaders said that Haywood had consented to a bodyguard after receiving threatening letters.

OPPONENTS IN SOCIAL HARMONY

President Taft and Governor Marshall Meet at Masonic Banquet.

Boston, Oct. 3. — Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, the Democratic candidate for vice-president, shook hands with President Taft last night just before the banquet of the Supreme Council, Scottish Rite Masons, at which both were guests. President Taft joked with Governor Marshall for a few moments on the wear and tear of campaigning, and then both passed into the banquet hall, where they stood side by side in the receiving line and shook hands with the diners.

In his remarks at the banquet, where were seated Masons of high degree from all over the world, President Taft referred to himself as 'a poor, humble, Master Mason in their sight.' He discussed world peace and also took occasion to pass a few pleasantries with Governor Marshall.

'As I look at my friend, Governor Marshall,' said the President, 'I have great sympathy for him as to what he is going to talk about. We exchanged protests on the announcefent of the toastmaster that politics were tabooed, and if I understand aright the signs he made to me, they were signs of distress.'

Governor Marshall, while responding to the toast 'Free Masonry,' said that in the President's presence he was reminded of an old Presbyterian article of faith: 'We are commanded not to speak evil of our rulers.'

'That holds,' said Governor Marshall, 'for two consecutive, terms, but no further.'

Continuing, he said: 'Politics are just the furniture of our national life. There is the good old fashioned furniture of Taft, the bizarre furniture of Roosevelt and the good old hickory furniture of Wilson and myself, but when it comes out from the wash, it is all the same sacred furniture of the hearth.'

SPENT DAY IN TORONTO RESTING

Sir Wilfrid Was Off on Tour Again This Morning, However.

Toronto, Oct. 3. — Sir Wilfrid Laurier spent yesterday resting in Toronto. He was given a warm welcome when he emerged from the Union Station. He had no public engagements in Toronto, but was the guest of J. E. Atkinson at luncheon in the National Club and last evening was entertained by Sir William Mulock at the York Club.

During the whole day there was a steady stream of callers. He was accompanied to Toronto by Hon. Sydney Fisher, Hon. George P. Graham, Hon. Charles Murphy, and Hon. Mackenzie King. The party proceeds to Chatham this morning, where they will be joined by F. F. Pardee, M.P., Chief Liberal Whip; Dr. Michael Clark, M.P., for Red Deer; E. M. MacDonald, M.P., for Wellington, and Dr. J. A. McDonald, all of whom are billed to take part in the opening of the Liberal Club rooms at Hamilton.

Hon. C. W. Cross and Hon. Duncan Marshall, of the Alberta Government, invited Sir Wilfrid to the Provincial Liberal conventions in Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia.

MAISONNEUVE COUNCIL.

The Mayor Says the Town Ranks Fifth Among the Manufacturing Centres in Canada.

Mayor Michaud presided at last night's meeting of the Council of Maisonneuve, and Councillors Fraser, Germain, Belanger, Tremblay, Dufresne and Lemay were present.

Mr. Thierry, a civil engineer, submitted an offer to construct kiosks or chalets de necessité, which would be placed at convenient points in the streets.

The offer will be taken into consideration.

At the request of several commercial corporations, who are desirous of obtaining the right to vote at elections, the town solicitor was instructed to include this amendment in the list of amendments to be submitted to the Legislature at its next session.

The application of Mr. G. Pasquini for a grocer's license to sell liquor was refused.

An appropriation of $300 was made to the St. Vincent de Paul Society for charitable purposes on the application of the Parish of St. Clement.

The superintendent of roads was instructed, on motion of Councillor Tremblay, to lay down sidewalks where they are wanted in the east ward.

Mayor Michaud, before the adjournment, addressed the Council, and referred to the fact that the advantages which Maisonneuve offered as a manufacturing centre had attracted the attention of the convention of manufacturers which recently met at Ottawa.

Mr. Archibald Blue, chief of the Federal Department of Statistics at Ottawa, had told the convention that Maisonneuve occupied the fifth place as a manufacturing centre in the Dominion of Canada, coming immediately after Hamilton. The first place was occupied by Montreal, with Toronto, Winnipeg and Hamilton next in order. The total annual value of Maisonneuve's manufactures amounted to $20,000,000, the city of Quebec coming next with a production of $17,000,000.

The mayor added that Maisonneuve was only at the commencement of its industrial career, and had a brilliant future in prospective. The extension work shops of Messrs. Maxim, Wickers & Co., in connection with the great dry dock, would soon be in operation. He fully expected that Maisonneuve would soon occupy the fourth place in the list of manufacturing towns in the Dominion.

Controller Godfrey said to-day that the controllers would consider the appointment of an officer to the vacancy created by the resignation of Chief of Detective Carpenter in a week or ten days. Nothing has yet been done in respect to this appointment. Controller Ainey said they wanted to settle the chief attorneyship of the city first. A story around the City Hall corridors to-day was that Chief Campeau would be elevated to supreme head over both branches of the police force and that a deputy chief of police would relieve him of some of his routine functions, while he would assume some of the duties pertaining to Chief Carpenter. A deputy chief of detectives would be named to assume active and direct charge of the detective department. Controller Ainey said that nothing in respect to this has been done and that it had not even been considered.

There are many applicants for the position left vacant by the retirement of Chief Carpenter, but it is said none of them may receive the post.

ALTERNATIVE PROPOSED.

Controller Dupuis said to-day that if the aldermen insisted in a repeal of the paving law a change in the city charter would have to be made to provide for additional revenue. One amendment that he suggested was that responsibility for the payment of the water tax should be shifted upon the shoulders of the proprietors. At the present time, it is said, many of the tenants were unable to pay this tax and they were either far in arrears or they would never meet this obligation.

DOCTOR WANTED

Clue May Lead Detectives to Whereabouts of Miss Westcott.

Detective Lajoie left the city yesterday following a clue that may lead to the arrest of Miss Westcott wanted in connection with the death of Mrs. Hornby, who died from the effects of an illegal operation. It is claimed by the Detective Bureau that the name of the doctor in the case will be revealed if the clue is followed successfully.

TALESMEN WERE EXCUSED

Convinced of Guilt of Labor Men Implicated in 'Dynamite Conspiracy'

Indianapolis, Oct. 2.—A staff of government agents scattered from Boston to Los Angeles, it was learned to-day, already is at work seeking out the witnesses who are to appear for the prosecution in the tral of the men accused of complicity in the 'dynamite conspiracy.'

To keep the authorities informed of the whereabouts of the people who will be called, a half dozen agents are now employed regularly in an office adjacent to that of District Attorney Miller. In some instances telegraphic instructions are sent and a checking system is maintained for witnesses who change their residences.

The trial was begun yesterday before Federal Judge A. B. Anderson, and the original number of fifty-four men indicted, headed by Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was reduced to forty-six—the Government withdrew the charges against three men, and another defendant was absent because of a broken leg. Ortie E. McManigal pleaded guilty, and another defendant was reported 'not found.'

John J. and James B. McNamara, serving terms in a prison in California, also were reported 'not found.'

J. M. Hatfield, a farmer and country school teacher, was excused because he said he had an opinion that the defendants were guilty.

One man was excused because he had sons who were members of labor unions.

'Did you ever read McManigal's confession in which he implicates these defendants as being associated with him in carrying dynamite and nitroglycerine about the country?' Charles W. Johnson, a farmer, was asked.

'Yes, I read it, and together with the fact that the grand jury found indictments here convinced me these men are guilty,' he answered.

Ten more talesmen were excused after expressing similar opinions.

WANTS A FURNACE.

City Mission Tells in Pamphlet What is Required During the Winter.

A handsomely illustrated pamphlet describing their work, has just been published by the Montreal City Mission, which has been in operation for the past two years, with headquarters at 287 Cadieux street. The Rev. W. Bowman Tucker, M.A., Ph.D., is the superintendent, and the mission, which is entirely undenominational, performs educational, benevolent and religious work among the 70,000 foreigners and other poor people of the city. Roumanian, Russian, Polish and Bulgarian interpreters are employed, and the Scriptures are distributed in 18 different languages. The mission has raised $500 through its own efforts during the past year.

Regarding the help required for coming operations, the pamphlet says: 'Now that the season of 1912-13 is upon us, the needs of the Mission press upon our atention. First and foremost is the heating equipment which requires a furnace, with hot water tank and radiators. Who will supply the coal? Three thousand dollars are needed for the work. Is it worth while? We have no doubt that our needs will be met, but we want to impress the public with the fact that it is their privilege to be partners with us in the work. If you intend to do something let us hear from you at once. This work is testing Christianity.' 'It will be an awful challenge to the churches.'

New to the millinery world is the hat which is a hat and neck piece combined. A black velvet hat in the popular sailor shape is encircled with a white ostrich feather boa which, brought around the hat from right to left, down over the left shoulder and around the neck, falls off the right shoulder. A rosette of white satin ribbon with long ends adds a dainty finish to this simple novelty. The other hat shown is very chic. A black silk beaver shape is trimmed with black paradise, arranged in an odd manner.

ULCTIVATE NEATNESS.

There are many girls who, without being at all good looking, always appear neat and smart.

They may have only a small dress allowance, but with it are able to appear more attractive than girls with twice their amount of money.

What is the secret of this

Surely it is due to the neat girl's taste; she always put on her clothes with care and makes a point of her appearance being neat and tidy. She keeps her wardrobe orderly and has a place for everything; her ribbons, gloves, handkechiefs, etc., are never bundled into a drawer just to get them out of the way, but are carefully put in their proper places.

THE JACKET LINING.

Many people clever with their needle who think it is difficult to reline a jacket, will find that in reality it is quite a simple affair. Rip out one half of the jacket lining for a pattern ,and cut a complete lining by this, leaving the other half attached to the jacket for a guide. Sewing the lining together, leaving the under-arm seams open.

Now tack in one half, fitting it smoothly along the fronts and base of the jacket, then cut out the other half of the old lining and tack it in the same way.

PROVINCIAL W. C. T. U.

Delegates Discuss Various Departments of Temperance Work.

FAIRMOUNT UNION SECEDES.

Mayor and Ministers of Huntingdon Approve Work of Unions.

('Witness' Staff Correspondence.)

Huntingdon, Oct. 2.—The morning session of the second day of the annual convention of the Quebec Provincial W. C. T. U. was principally occupied with the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Mrs. J. S. Sanderson, of Danville, was again elected president. Mrs. F. H. Waycott, of Montreal, vice-president owing to Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Knowlton, being unable to retain the office any longer; Miss Loudon, of Westmount, was again re-elected recording secretary; and Mrs. R. W. McLachlan re-elected corresponding secretary. Mrs. S. W. Foster was unanimously elected honorary president. Miss Leders, of Montreal, was elected treasurer,

MRS. F. H. WAYCOTT,
Elected Vice-President.

and Mrs. Leggatt, of Montreal, 'Y' secretary. Mrs. A. H. Dyer, of Sutton, was made a life member of the World's Union.

The devotional meeting, which preceded the usual session, was conducted by Mrs. John Currie, of Montreal, and in the reading of the minutes of the executive, which took place after the ordinary session opened, it was stated that for the first time in twenty-nine years a union, Fairmount, had decided to withdraw from the provincial union. The correspondence between the provincial secretary, Mrs. McLachlan, and Mrs. John Scott, of the Fairmount Union, was read.

Mrs. G. W. Leet, of Danville, presented the report on Franchise, and in the discussion that followed, Mrs. Geggie said she hoped that this year,

MRS. R. W. McLACHLAN,
Re-elected Corresponding Secretary.

next to temperance, votes for women would be the great question. Mrs. Rutherford, of Toronto, said the majority of men say that women do not want the vote—so the women must educate their sisters on the question.

Mrs. James Mabon, of Montreal, reported on temperance work in the Sunday-schools, Mrs. J. A. Peabody, of Farnham, on railway work, which included the putting up of bills at railway stations, and the distribution of literature among railway men.

On resuming after dinner, which had been given in the basement of the Methodist Church, by the ladies of that organization, a devotional service was conducted by Mrs. John H. Roberts, of Montreal, and after some proposed changes in the constitution had been discussed, the correspondence in regard to Fairmount Union seceding from the Provincial Union was discussed, and a resolution unanimously carried accepting Fairmount Union's resignation, but expressing the regret of the delegates that Fairmount had taken this action.

Miss Elizabeth Blackwood, of Huntingdon, told a wonderful tale in her report on flower missions, of how the unions of the province and the Y's had sent flowers to the churches, clothing, vegetables, fruit, groceries to missions, jellies, preserves, to the sick in the hospitals, food to the poor and toys to the children.

Mrs. S. A. Jones, of Sherbrooke, gave the report on Prisons and Reforms, and in referring to the good work that was being done in Montreal by a home for fallen girls, to which many of the W. C. T. U. unions and 'Y's' had subscribed, said there was a necessity for expansion in this kind of work, and also for improvement in the quarters for women in the jails.

Mrs. Jones in reporting on the White Ribbon Bulletin, said there was a decrease in the subscriptions to this publication, and urged the delegates to try and get more members to take it up.

Mrs. Fussie reported on Humane Education, and Mrs. R. W. McLachlan reported on the White Ribbon Leaflet.

On a ballot for the position of editor of the 'Leaflet,' Mrs. McLachlan was again re-elected. Mrs. R. W. McLachlan on behalf of Mrs. H. P. Merrill, of Sherbrooke, in submitting a report on Lord's Day observance, told of the literature distributed and the efforts made by unions to have pool rooms closed, and also shops closed on Sundays.

EVENING SESSION.

Last night the Mayor, ministers, W. C. T. U. and citizens of Huntingdon, voiced their greetings to the Quebec Provincial W. C. T. U. convention, while the joint choirs of the Protestant churches rendered anthems in a manner that reflected great credit on their leaders, Mrs. F. H. Waycott, president of Hochelaga County, officiated as chairman.

Mr. R. H. Crawford, Mayor of the town, in welcoming the Convention on behalf of the Town Council, traced the history of the temperance question in their midst from the time a prohibition law was passed thirty-eight years ago, until the present time. At first it had not been successful, the law was broken, and although the temperance party prosecuted, the evidence obtained was not satisfactory, and in seven months a petition was signed by the majority of the citizens that prohibition was a detriment to the town, and the by-law was repealed. The fight had been going on ever since and largely through the assistance of the ladies, between three and four years ago local option was carried, both in the town and county. He believed it was for the good of the town, and since then many improvements were noticeable.

Mr. Robt. Sellar, of the 'Gleaner,' in conveying the greetings of the press, made a strong speech in which he said that there was a misconception in regard to what the liquor traffic meant, and if it had been understood aright, it would have been driven out long ago. The spectacle of a man in various stages of intoxication, was portrayed by the speaker in a most realistic manner.

The Rev. J. B. McLean, minister of the Presbyterian Church, welcomed the delegates because of the work they were engaged in, and because they were Christian in name and deed. It was the women who were the chief sufferers of those who drank, and therefore it was right that the women should take up the work. It was good that they should be banded together to try and banish this curse from the land, and to try to keep their sisters from ever falling under its degrading influence.

The Rev. Robt. Smith, of the Methodist Church, said he would give the women the franchise, and allow them to vote. He was at harmony with all the aims and objects of the W. C. T. U., and believed in total abstinence for the individual, and prohibition for the state. In referring to the scenes that had taken place in a leading Montreal hotel at the New Year, and which had been mentioned by the previous speaker, where not only men, but women, were intoxicated, he said it was a disgraceful state of affairs when leaders of society set such an example.

The Rev. Mr. Godard, of the Episcopal Church welcomed the delegates They were working for civic righteousness and moral uplift, and should be well supported. They put the first things first, God, home, and native land. There was a marked tendency to confine the word temperance to too narrow a scope. Some confined it to alcoholic drinks, but he thought that one who overloaded his stomach was a glutton, and the one with the bitter tongue that said poisonous things, or those that allowed temper to become the master, were intemperate.

Mrs. Robt. Sellar, on behalf of the Huntingdon Union, spoke of the advance made, and the improvements in Huntigdo. They had still their blind pigs, drunk men, lukewarm supporters, warm supporters of the hotels, and many temperance people who would not give evidence in liquor cases. The local union made a strong appeal to the Convention to stir up temperance sentiment in the town, and to encourage those who were carrying on the temperance crusade.

Mrs. A. F. Leggatt, of Montreal, treasurer of Hochelaga Council, in graceful words, acknowledged all the kind things said, and expressed the pleasure of the convention in meeting in a local option town.

Mrs. Rugg, of Sherbrooke, paid a tribute to the manner in which the efforts of the local ladies had been backed up by the minister and societies of the churches, and Mrs. Sanderson, in returning thanks for the offering given, said Quebec leads the world in gifts to the World's Temperance Union, having contributed $1,700, and that they were going to send another $100 to advance the work.

AN IMPORTANT POSITION.

A recent important appointment by the United States Government, with a salary of $5,000, has been given to a woman, Miss Julia C. Lathrop, who will be head of the Children's Bureau in the Department of Commerce and Labor. The position seems one that calls for the knowledge and sympathy of a woman, and Miss Lathrop, who was an associate of Jane Addams, at Hull House, brings to her work administrative ability and deep sympathy unweakened by sentimentality.

The Children's Bureau is to serve as a sort of clearing house for all the other agencies working on behalf of children throughout the country. Through these various agencies information will be obtained, then tabulated and arranged so that it will be available for all. The boards of health and departments of charity in the different cities will co-operate, supplying reports of existing conditions, and labor organizations also will place before the Bureau conditions that require remedial measures. Settlements and philanthropic societies will also furnish data, and all organizations will be able to have the benefit of these investigations.

While it is the children of the poor primarily who need the protection of the government, the scope of the bureau's activities is not limited to them. The language of the statute under which it is established reads:—'All matters pertaining to the welfare of children and child life among all classes of the people.'

FILMY AND METALLIC LACES.

Laces of the filmy sort are to the fore this season. At a time when softness is the keynote in all fabrics it is essential that laces should be of a quality to blend well with the materials they adorn.

Now that drapery is so important a part of the fashionable gowns it is important that any material used in their construction should have that pliable quality that lends itself to graceful lines. A clever use is made of lace on some of the festooned skirts. Just below the drapery there is a flounce of lace varying from eight inches to double in width, according to the finish of the skirt. The flounce has scarcely any fulness; indeed, no lace flounces are full but hang perfectly straight. Another style has the drapery of the skirt carried diagonally downward from the right side, lace following the line of the silk, over which it hangs loosely.

Almost all the soft laces that are so much used for jabots and waist trimming this autumn are termed shadow laces, and they are far in the lead of other popular laces. Nothing is so good if one wants frills or cascades, as one often does for the front of a bodice.

While fabric laces are important and never out of fashion as accessories to dress, this season they will be outshone by the metallic laces. In pattern these follow many of the designs of the fabric laces, besides having some that are peculiar to themselves. Gold lace is so rich in combination with the colors now coming into fashion that it probably will hold first place despite the rumors that silver was to be the first of fashion's favorites in this line. A lovely evening gown has a deep pointed gold lace flounce on an apricot satin skirt just below an overdress of embroidered chiffon, and the same lace issued to form the upper part of the bodice, extending over the upper part of the arm to form short sleeves.

Very often a slight touch of gold lace will bring out effectively the color of a gown. One made of one of the new shades of red has only a tiny vest of gold lace, but it gives character to the entire gown.

CURED OF THIS HORRIBLE DISEASE

Edmonton Girl Saved By "Fruit-a-tives"

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 20th, 1911.

"I had been a sufferer from babyhood with that terrible complaint, Constipation.

I have been treated by physicians and have taken every medicine that I heard of, but without the slightest benefit. I concluded that there was no cure for this horrible disease.

Finally, I read of "Fruit-a-tives" and decided to try them, and the effect was marvellous.

The first box gave me great relief, and after I used a few boxes, I found that I was entirely well.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that ever did me any good for Chronic Constipation and I want to say to all who suffer as I did—Try "Fruit-a-tives—" why suffer any longer when there is a perfect cure in this great fruit medicine."

BASEBALL

It is Thought that the Spitball Will Play a Large Part in the Ultimate Result of the Great Games Which Start Next Tuesday—The Belief that the Spitball is Unhittable Has Been Exploded Long Ago.

ONCE THE SPITBALL IS FOUND IT REBOUNDS WITH REMARKABLE FORCE ON ACCOUNT OF THE STRANGE WHIRLING MOTION WHICH HAS BEEN IMPARTED TO IT.

Now that the world's series is about to begin and all interest is centering in the two spitball artists who will oppose each other for the third and possibly the deciding game, namely 'Jeff' Tesreau and 'Buck' O'Brien, it would not be out of the way to discuss some of the theories accounting for the spitball's peculiar action. Of course, the belief that the spitball is unhittable has been exploded long ago. It is only necessary to touch it before it breaks to get a safety; for, owing to its peculiar whirling motion, it rebounds from the bat with extraordinary ease, but it is almost impossible to get near it before it does curve, especially if the pitcher is well on to his tricks, and stands well back in his box. Hundreds of theories have been given for the peculiar motion, but in all probability all of these will be unprovable as long as the game is in existence. If it were necessary to be definite, the spitball is nothing more or less than a ball whose curves (which are generally unknown even to the pitcher himself) break almost at right angles, which make it impossible to connect, except in the case of a fearfully poor batter, who sometimes touches it by pure luck.

In the final game in the American League several years ago between Detroit and Philadelphia, when a win for the former meant their clinching the pennant, while the same for the latter would have given Connie Mack's men a fighting chance, and as they were going strong at this stage, it was all that they asked. Owing to the illness of their regular man in right field, a new player, named Carrun, whom they had got from a Tri-League club. In a moment of eccentricity, even Connie Mack has these—the new man was sent in to bat, although, as it was the first of the tenth and Detroit had one run in the lead, and there were plenty of good pinch hitters almost weeping to be sent in, but Connie was obdurate, and the man started to hit. Killian, now relegated to the minors, was twirling, and with a grin of derision began to serve them up. The point of the story is, that the man Carrun got a timely little double, bringing in the tying run. Detroit finally won, but that is neither here nor there. Big Ed Killian had dished up a spitball on the third strike, but by some unaccountable streak of luck the man barely touched it, and as a result he pulled off a nice hit. A good hitter would have missed the ball altogether.

In an interview with the famous Frank Bowerman, some time ago, erstwhile catcher of 'Christy' Mathewson and the backstay of the Giants, he said to the writer: 'Believe me, all these dopesters have the thing wrong. The spitter is caused from nothing more or less than the speed of the delivery, causing little globules of moisture to break off from the ball at a tangent and, being small as atoms, mix readily with the air, giving it a greater specific gravity, and hence offering greater resistance to the ball. Now, as all curves are caused by just this very resistance, so that when the air is abnormally condensed, the curves are, as a result, abnormally sharp. Do you catch me?

Frank Bowerman has as good a knowledge of the 'spitter,' both practically and theoretically, for not only has he been on the diamond a lifetime, but is a college graduate.

This is by far the most satisfying theory given to the world, so far, for the curious action of the spitball.

HUGH JENNINGS SAYS

BOSTON HAS A BIG ADVANTAGE IN CATCHERS, BILL CARRIGAN BEING ONE OF THE BRAINIEST BACKSTOPS, WHILE MEYERS IS A GOOD MECHANICAL CATCHER.

By Hugh A. Jennings.
Manager of the Detroit American League Team.

The catching in the coming world's series between the Giants and Red Sox will be of as much or of more importance than the pitching.

Boston will place dependence mainly upon Bill Carrigan, using Cady to catch Joe Wood undoubtedly, while the New York club will use Meyers in every game unless he is injured. The work of Meyers in the last series was high class.

You will hear much talk about the speed of the Giants' base runners this fall, just as you did last year, and the statement will be made that Boston's catchers will not be able to hold them down.

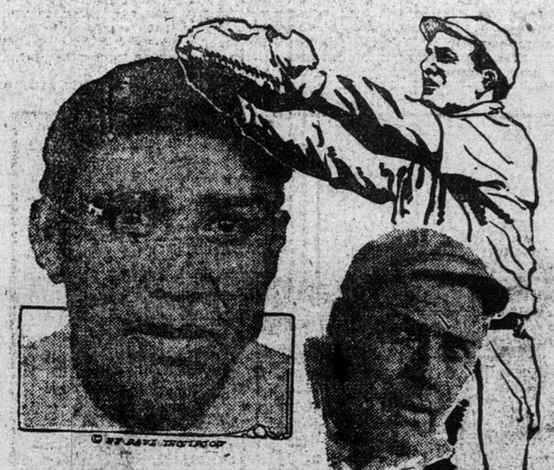

Just remember this: It is necessary for the batter to become a base runner before he can steal, and no short series was ever won on the base lines. Also remember, please, that Carrigan is one of the wisest catchers in the game to-day.

Cobb and Bush, of the Detroit team, are reasonably fast men on the base lines, but Carrigan has held them this year, and if he can do this he can hold the Giants' speeders. Carrigan hasn't a very good throwing arm, but despite this handicap, he keeps runners from stealing by using his head.

He prevents bases being stolen by brains rather than by bullet-like throwing. He can outguess his opponents in almost every case. Some times his ability seems almost uncanny.

And he is a good hitter, too, batting about .280, and, best of all, getting hits when they are needed.

Of course, Chief Meyers of the Giants, has been tried and found not wanting. His work a year ago was a bright spot in the series. But he is only a good methodical catcher, a skilful machine rather than a fast-thinking, brainy backstop. When

CHIEF MEYERS.

Mathewson is pitching he will do most of the thinking for the battery.

Meyers is a clean-up hitter, one of those players who at any time is liable to slam the ball to the fence for a trip around the bases.

The Giants are faster on the bases as a team, but they are weaker hitters than Boston. A glance at the printed records will show that the Giants have scored more runs for their hits than the Red Sox and have stolen 100 more bases, but it is also true that the scores throughout the season in the National League have been more one sided, in New York's favor, than in the American League, where big score games are rare. So this is really no comparison to make. The Red Sox are notedly timely hitters.

The Giants will find it difficult to get upon the bases, to make their speed effective, and when they do get on they will find it just as difficult to steal as they did a year ago on Thomas and Lapp. On the other hand the Red Sox will give Meyers more trouble, because they will be upon the bases more frequently, due to their heavier hitting.

BILLINGTON WILL NOT BE ON McGILL LINE-UP AT TORONTO

It looks as though Billington, the crack McGill half, would not be on the team which will play in Toronto on Saturday. The officials of the club have left no stone unturned to obtain permission to have Billington leave the 'Laurentic' at Rimbuski, but owing to the quarantine laws this will be impossible.

As it is now Billington will not reach Montreal until Saturday morning which will be too late to reach Toronto in time for the game.

The team which will leave here to-night for Toronto instead of on Friday as has been the custom in the past, has not yet been announced, but in all likelihood it will consist of the following. On the back division there will be Lee, Masson, Bignall, Paisley, Draper or Fisher. With Paisley on the half line it looks as though McEvenue had the quarter back job cinched. Three men have been tried out in the last two practices at centre scrim and any one of these is liable to catch the place, with the betting favoring Montgomery. Williamson and Johnston are the other candidates. Turnbull and Ramsep Rankin are likely to be the wing scrimmages. Cruickshank and Waterous will probably be at middle wing with Tinling and Hall in the absence of 'Bus' Matheson at inside. Lang and Lewis are practical certainties for the outside wing positions and this pair ought to be the best couple in the business this season, with Wilkes a mighty good substitute should anything happen to either of them.

It is possible that Timmins will be in shape to play on Saturday and in that case he will certainly get a place on the line.

Despite the announcement made by the Interprovincial authorities that Dr. Hendry would referee for them on Saturday, the Intercollegiate people are expecting the Toronto man to officiate at the McGill-Varsity game.

A RECORD.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3.—What is believed to be a new record for a yearling trotter was made here yesterday, when Aidedale, driven by N. C. Moody, and owned by J. L. Tarlton, of this city, trotted a mile in 2.15 3-4, at the breakers' matinee. The fractional time was 34 1-2; 1.07 1-2; 1.41 1-2; 2.15 3-4.

WESTMOUNT AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION AFFAIRS WILL BE DISCUSSED TO-NIGHT

The Westmount Amateur Athletic Association executive have sent out the following circular to the members of the association.

Westmount, October 1, 1912.

Dear Sir, — As you are no doubt aware, a crisis has arisen in the affairs of the W. A. A. A. which calls for the active and intelligent co-operation of all members who have the interests of the association at heart.

Your executive committee has apparently become discouraged with the lack of support from the members and citizens and has determined to wind up the association and transfer the assets to a social club, to be organized with our funds as a nucleus. Some months ago the executive's proposal was submitted to a general meeting when it was defeated by a majority of ten votes, the committee thereupon promptly resigned. It was induced to continue in office on a compromise, but finding such compromise impossible of execution called another meeting when the already defeated scheme was reintroduced and carried by a majority of about twelve, two of which majority voted against their convictions and are now willing to propose a reconsideration. There is thus a large body of members who are convinced that the executive committee's scheme is not in the interests of the association. They do not approve of the issuance of stock to individual members against the assets, which latter are really a trust, and not fairly the personal property of individuals, but should be used, if the association goes out of existence, for some public object for the benefit of the residents of Westmount, especially the younger ones.

The assets of the association will amount to at least $30,000, the first five or six thousand of which was contributed by citizens through bazaars organized by the ladies of Westmount, the balance mofing from the increase in value of the grounds purchased by the bazaar money. We therefore, believe that it would be misappropriating these assets to present them as proposed to a new social club for the benefit, chiefly, of some two or three hundred older men, who if they desire to form a social club should themselves subscribe the necessary capital.

With the removal this year by the executive committee of over one hundred names from the membership roll for non-payment of dues our active senior membership is reduced to 115 of whom almost certainly not more than 30 or 40 would think of joining a social club with large annual dues. This means that the assets of the association would practically be presented to those 30 or 40 members and to 200 or 300 outsiders.

Whether you favor the committee's scheme or not, please show your interest in the W. A. A. A. by attending the meeting Thursday evening, 3rd inst., at 8.15 in the Victoria Hall.

Yours Truly,

RUGBY

Finishing Touches Were Put on Last Night by Montreal Team.

Only the finishing touches were added in the light practice held last night of the Montreal Rugby Club. It is now too late to make any radical changes in the team, but the matter of strengthening the weak spots keeps steadily on.

At the end of the practice the players retired to the club house, and talked over general policies, after which some little trick plays were explained.

The news of the laying off of 'Banty' Russell by the Argos came during the practice, and deep were the expressions of sorrow.

'Russell was the very best of men to be ranged' against. 'Always playing his best, he never stooped to sinister tactics whatever.' 'Russell was one who was as popular with his opponents as with his own team mates.' These are some of the opinions expressed by several of the old-timers that were present.

Although it was generally expected that a Montreal man would be chosen as umpire since Dr. Hendry, from Toronto will referee, the announcement came to the club yesterday that Bell, another 'Varsity man, will do the umpire's duties next Saturday.

MANN CUP CHALLENGE.

St. Catharines, Ont., Lacrosse Team to Play Vancouver Amateurs Next Saturday.

Vancouver, Oct. 3.—The Vancouver A. C. lacrosse team will defend the Mann cup against the St. Catharines, Ont., challengers, next Saturday, Oct. 5, and Wednesday, Oct. 9. The challengers suggested that the matches be played on October 9 and 12, but the cup holders decided that it would be impossible to consent to such late dates on account of the uncertainty of the weather, and it was decided to inform the challengers that the locals would be prepared to defend the cup on October 5 and 9, and a telegram was dispatched to the trustees to this effect.

The series promises to be the best ever played for the Mann Cup. Although the officials have not yet been appointed, it is expected that Fred Lynch and Charles Snell, who handled the recent series with Winnipeg, will have charge. The appointment of officials has been left in the hands of Mr. Joe Lally, of Cornwall, Ont., one of the trustees.

WORLD'S SERIES SPORTLIGHTS---NO. 8

Christy Mathewson, the "Old Master," Likely to Again Be Giants' Main Dependence in World's Series

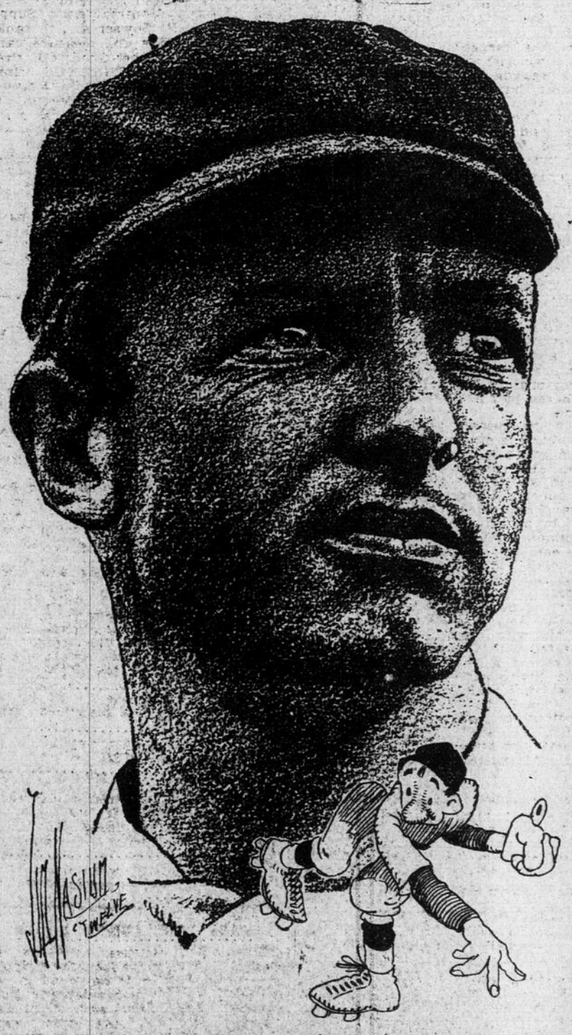

BY JIM NASIUM

Without disparagement to the grand defensive service occasionally rendered by eight other hirelings who occupy positions to the right and left, in front and to the rear of the pitcher's rubber during working hours, it can be truthfully stated that ball games in general are decided on the comparative effectiveness of the pitchers in foiling the malignant machinations of the opposing hitters. Betimes it is granted the other uniformed figures dotting the landscape to save a game for a pitcher who is being hit hard, but these fellows can be several nautical miles off form and still get away with it if the pitcher is good, while if the pitcher is bad the stuff is off.

Only on rare occasions is a ball game decided through brilliant fielding. For this reason a short series of games such as the annual fall grappling match for the big honors of the baseball world, being of too short duration to permit of the likelihood of brilliancy afield proving much of a factor in the moulding of the result, are invariably decided on the comparative merits of the opposing pitchers. Which also means the comparative merits of the opposing hitters, as pitching strength is only measured by hitting weakness.

Most important of all, then, in considering the comparative chances of the belligerents in the coming World's Series for grabbing down the big divvy, vaudeville contracts and other spoils of victory in the big fuss, is the question of whether Joe Wood, "Buck" O'Brien et al. will be more successful in crabbing the assault of Giant bats than the Mathewson - Tesreau - Marquard shooting squad will be in smothering Boston bludgeons.

As we draw nearer to the big scrap we are more able to discern, looming out of the fuss and flurry stirred up by modern pitching records—standing serene and confident, waiting again for the call to the crucial test that he has so frequently answered and never been found wanting—that "Old Master" of the hurling hill, Christy Mathewson. While his team-mate, Rube Marquard, was busy "pitching himself out," mowing a gash in existing pitching records both ancient and modern, while Tesreau and his fellow-members of that valiant squad have been uncorking "all they had" in order to win another pennant for their team and qualify for the big honors, Mathewson, the "Old Master," has been loafing along conserving his resources for the crucial test that he knew awaited him—the one reserve force for his team to fall back upon in the hour of need if the fighting grew hot, or, if his teammates successfully weathered the brunt of the pennant fight, their one big conserved resource for the crucial test of the World's Series.

Some critics otherwise more or less intelligent, taking their tip from the way Mathewson has been batted freely during the season, venture the statement that "Matty is a back number." By the same source of information they "discovered" this fact last season, yet the Athletics, admittedly the most dreaded macers of the pill that ever faced a pitcher, found "Matty" as good as ever and a hard nut to crack when they faced him in the last World's Series—one that held their wallloping crew to one run in the opening game and beat them opposed to Bender at his best, who blanked them for eight and two-third innings two days later, and a nut that only the big bludgeon of Frank Baker finally succeeded in denting the shell.

Mathewson, always a pitcher who conserved his resources for the crucial test, holding something in reserve for the game that just had to be won, has never been a record pitcher, but can always be depended on to be absolutely at his best in a crucial series. Marquard may be a winning pitcher in the crucial series, and again he may not—as proved the case last fall; Tesreau may be "there with the bells on," and again there is that lingering doubt that always hovers around an unknown quantity; but we know, absolutely, what Mathewson will be in the crucial test, and across the sunlit trail to the finish we hear less hubbub about the wonderful record of Marquard and the meteoric rise of Tesreau, and through the fading glamor of the past performances of these young pitchers we are able to perceive the Giants again snuggling up to the tall form of the "Old Master" for the crucial

Several records were smashed at the sixteenth annual track and field sports between the Westmount schools, namely, Westmount Academy, King's School, Roslyn, Avenue School and Queen's School, which were held on the M. RALPH DE PALMA WON THE CLASSIC VANDERBILT CUP

Wauwatosa, Race Course, Wis., Oct. 3.—Ralph de Palma, driving true to the form and luck which he exhibited at Elgin a month ago, to-day, with his Mercedes car, won the eighth running of the classic Vanderbilt Cup automobile race from a field of eight starters over the new Wauwatosa road course. His time was four hours, 20 minutes, 31.54 seconds for a distance of 301 miles 2,764 feet. This was at a speed of 69 miles an hour, or five miles per hour slower than last years Vanderbilt race at Savannah.

CAZEAUX COMES BACK.

Cazeaux came back all right last night at Sohmer Park, before one of the largest houses that has ever witnessed a bout in Montreal. Pardello put up a brave fight, but was finally conquered after an hour's strong work by the Bordelais. The match was chiefly notable for the rough house tactics adopted by both, with perhaps the Italian the greatest offender in this way. At one stage in the game Pardello was about to lam his opponent on the head with a hard chair, but was fortunately checked in his desire by one of the spectators.

Pardello, after a fall was given to his opponent on a foul, protested violently against the decison. The Italian at length agreed to wrestle again providing that somebody replaced Beauque. Maupas then took on the Italian and during the second bout both appeared somewhat eased up on the work. During this bout it was apparent Cazeaux would be the ultimate winner. The Italian, however, stuck to it to the last, but instead of being the aggressor, was all the time on the defensive, and many times in seemingly hopeless positions, for nearly half an hour he stayed the hold. Once the Bordelais had a hamerlock, another time a toe hold, both of which promised to finish the bout, but knowing the Bordelais a spot, he commenced vigorously to twist at his moustache, which on every occasion had the desired effect. Toward the end Pardello could do nothing but slip out of hold after hold, finally going down before a body hold after twenty-nine minutes.

TERRORIZER HELD AT DETROIT

Self-confessed Murderer May be Author of Long List of Outrages

Detroit, Oct. 3.—If the story which George Brown Spengler told last night proves to be true, the mystery of a crime which has puzzled Detroit police and detectives for nearly three years has been cleared up.

Spengler, a laborer, 30 years old, and described as a moral pervert, was arrested in connection with the murder of 12-year-old Matilda Reis, whose mutilated body was found in an alley near her home last Tuesday night. He confessed not only to having killed and mistreated this child, but told the police he also mistreated and murdered Helen Brown, 11 years old, whose body was found in a coal yard on Dec. 12, 1909.

Four other girls have been attacked in Detroit in the last thirteen months, one of whom was permanently injured and the others less seriously hurt. Spengler admits responsibility for two of these offences. In each case the child was attacked as she lay asleep in her parents' home.

For more than a year a succession of attacks on women and girls has mystified local police officials. Women have been knocked down and dragged into dark alleys. With Spengler's confession, it was at first thought the mysterious 'prowler' had been discovered, but early to-day city detectives stated their belief that Spengler was not the perpetrator of those outrages.

NO DELAY IN WINDING UP BANK, SAYS LIQUIDATOR

Evidence in the case of De Serres against the 'Patrie' Publishing Company for $10,000 damages suffered as the result of alleged libellous and malicious statements made in the editorials of the defendant journals was resumed yesterday. The evidence of the plaintiff is still being heard as there are a large number of witnesses to be examined.

The principal witness yesterday afternoon was Mr. Phillie the liquidator, appointed to wind up the affairs of the bank. He stated that the depositors were paid 90 percent and that as to the remaining 10 percent he was waiting the decision in a case against the Quebec Southern Railway, at present pending before the Exchequer Court and that he could fall back upon the double liability clause relating to bank directors. There was no hindrance whatever in the winding up of the affairs of the bank.

Mr. De Serres, the plaintiff, declared that he was ridiculed by the 'Patrie' because he bought the accounts of the depositors for 50 percent. He stated that he made a business of buying such accounts, and this he had always done through the agency of the Bank of Hochelaga.

Other witnesses, such as the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, ex-postmaster-general, Senator Beique, Senator Wilson, T. T. Brouchard, M.L.A. for St. Hyacinthe, J. L. Carmier, sheriff of St. Hyacinthe, and Albert Morin were next examined on behalf of the plaintiff and their evidence was to the effect that in their estimation the editorials of the 'Patrie' were malicious and rebelious against the plaintiff. Although, when severely cross-examiner by Mr. Marechal, the opposing counsel, they admitted that Mr. De Serres was in no way lowered in their eyes as a result of publication of these editorials.

MONTREAL JAIL TO PASS UNDER AUCTIONEER'S HAMMER

The Montreal jail, after nearly a century of existence in its present location on Notre Dame street east, will pass under the auctioneer's hammer on Nov. 14, large yellow and black bills announcing this having been placed on the walls yesterday morning.

Thus will pass from the sight of man, if not from the memory, the old Montreal jail, erected during the revolt of 1837-38, when no less than 104 persons were tried as political prisoners, 12 of whom were hanged, 9 acquitted, and the remainder sentenced to death, but afterwards deported. Five of those executed were taken to the front gateway, where the gallows was erected, for the public to behold the order of the court carried out, the reality of the executions having been doubted by the populace.

THE OLD MONTREAL JAIL ON NOTRE DAME STREET EAST, WHICH WILL SHORTLY COME UNDER THE HAMMER OF THE AUCTIONEER.

As the new jail now under construction will show a change for the better as regards sanitation and proper accommodation for the inmates, so was the old jail an advance in this direction over its predecessor, which stood in the open space lying between the Court House and the City Hall.

With the passing of this jail there came a change in the punishment meted out to prisoners by the judges of the court. No longer were branding and the pillory inflicted. The latter used to be carried out in the market place, and latter, at the base of Nelson's monument, the culprit made to face the river, while the hangman, with whip in hand, lashed him at every twist of the body. And all in view of the populace, who pelted the culprit with stones and mud to their heart's content.

The cat-o'-nine-tails, or the whip, now and again ordered for wife-beaters of the present day, has disappeared as a punishment administered in a public place, and is done at the jail, away from the gaze of any who would like to see it. At the base of the Nelson monument on Jacques Cartier square, there is a cannon which has never been removed from its original position. Those who were ordered whipped at the post were tied to this cannon, in the sight of all, and received the lashes which the law fixed at thirty-nine, no matter what the crime.

With the advent of the Montreal jail in 1836, new punishments were given for crimes that up to that time meant death on the gallows. Hanging for forgery, burglary, larceny, uttering base coin, or counterfeiting, has been abrogated and other punishments substituted. Capital punishment is awarded now for the crime of murder alone.

Baptized by the military prisoners, the jail returned to its original purpose, and for seventy-five years continued to house within its cold walls the evildoers of all classes. Murderers terrorized the inhabitants of the then sparsely settled Montreal, when the police were few and far between; murder was easily carried out on the lonely roads of the city, with the woods and waggon paths close at hand. No road in the city but led to the wilderness of trees that started at Beaver Hall Hill on the west, and Panet street on the east. Along these lonely roads burglaries, and what are now termed hold-ups, were frequent, and this kind of crime, so persistently carried out, was the dread of the people who in the early years of the nineteenth century fixed the penalty of death by hanging to the one found guilty.

In ten minutes one can ride from the centre of the city and come face to face with the huge towering walls that scarcely hide the barred windows from which some face can invariably be seen looking out on the mighty St. Lawrence and the broad stretch of land to the south.

A change to be carried out in the new jail to be finished next spring, is the size of the cells. They are to-day exactly as they were in 1803, when the prison was situated on Neptune's Fountain, on either side of which was a fine garden, this being where the present City Hall and Court House now stand. This was called the Governor's garden, and was one of the beauty spots of early Montreal.

THREE PROBABLY FATALLY HURT

Buffalo, Oct. 3.—Three persons were probably fatally injured and fifteen others more or less seriously hurt in a collision of a West Shore passenger train and a freight train at Wende station, 20 miles east of this city this morning. Eight of the injured were brought to the emergency hospital here, and ten were taken to Batavia.

ANGOLA MISSION STATION BURNED

Canadian Institution in West Central Africa Suffers Badly From Fire.

News of a disastrous fire which occurred at the mission station of the Canadian Congregational Church at Chisamba, West Central Africa, on August 13th has been received here. The fire broke out near the sawpits, and owing to the fact that all the roofs were of grass and had been subject to the fierce heat of a tropical sun for three months without a drop of rain, and that a high wind was prevailing at the time, there was no chance of saving the buildings and only a few of the contents could be saved.

The five carpenter shop buildings went down with probably all the tools, the ox waggon was dragged to a place of safety, but nine small houses used by the native school girls were burned, with two or three missionary storehouses and a considerable stock of imported food stuffs, besides several other out-buildings, and the large house specially built only a few years ago for the three lady teachers of the station.

The mission force at the time consisted of the new industrial missionary, Mr. Gordon Cattell, late of Hamilton, Ont., and of the three lady teachers, Miss Bell, Miss Helen Melville, Miss Maggie Melville, (formerly of Toronto, and just returned after furlough), and Miss Dadem Bell, (of Milton, N.S.) The three former had only arrived at the station about ten days, and, with Miss Bell, lost practically everything, clothes, books, and all personal belongings, except such freight as had not yet arrived at the station.

It is the custom of the natives to turn over the entire country each dry season so as to keep wild animals in check, each native village and each mission station protecting itself by first burning a large strip around the entire place. This strip had already been burnt off by the older native Christians at Chisamba, but evidently some embers remained unnoticed in the vicinity of the saw pits, and continued smouldering till they burst into flames.

Many of our readers will remember that the Rev. Walter T. Cuine, D.D., and his wife were for many years connected with Chisamba station, and only retired a short time ago, when failing health compelled Dr. Cuine to seek a home in British Columbia. The Rev. John T. Tucker and Mrs. Tucker left Montreal last April to join the mission, but were obliged to remain in Lisbon for some months in order to study Portuguese, so that they were not on the field when the fire took place.

The immediate needs of the missionaries are being ministered to by the missionaries of the stations near them, and native friends and Portuguese traders in the vicinity are giving practical assistance.

SOME GRAIN MAY GO BY DULUTH

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—At the instance of the Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, the Canadian Pacific Railway has made application to the American Interstate Commerce Commission for the same rates on export wheat shipped from Western Canada points to Duluth as from the same points to Fort William and Port Arthur. The privilege is the same as was granted last winter. Correspondence is at present in progress with the Canadian Northern on the same subject.

Six weeks ago the minister first took up the question. He hoped that the grain could all be handled through Canadian channels, but, fearing a repetition of last year's blockade, it was decided in view of the lateness of the harvest operations, to make arrangements for shipment by Duluth, if necessary. The result is the application of the C. P. R. for lower rates, and a favorable reply is expected shortly.

ST. LAWRENCE NEEDS CARED FOR

Mr. Hazen, in Sorel Speech Promises 35-Foot Channel Soon.

Sorel, Que., 3.—The Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fsheries, was the guest of honor at a banquet in the Hospital of the Grey Nuns here last evening. Albert Gendron, president of the Working Men's Conservative Club, presided, and on his right sat Mr. Hazen, while on his left was the Hon. F. D. Monk, Minister of Public Works, with Sir Rodolphe Forget and others.

Mr. Hazen appreciated the fact that the banquet was especially a tribute from the working men. It had been his experience in St. John to receive the support of the working men. In the days of Sir John A. Macdonald, the working men had rallied to the support of the National Policy, and he did not believe they had ever had cause to regret it.

In speaking of the shops at Sorel, Mr. Hazen said his policy would be to render them as efficient as they could be made. There were 600 men in the shops now and enough work ahead to keep them employed all winter. He thought the work was well done and predicted that in time to come vessels of a more ambitious character would be built.

It was his sincere desire to make the St. Lawrence channel the safest in the history of the world. In a few years time there would be a 35-foot channel, one of the safest in the world. This would be the St. Lawrence of the future, the greatest system of waterways communication in the world. This would mean work and he saw no reason why most of this work should not be done from Sorel.

Referring to Montreal, he predicted a population of two million souls within the lifetime of those present. He also predicted great growth for Quebec and an increase for the St. Lawrence tonnage in comparison with which the trade of to-day was but a pigmy.

FUR SALES BEGIN.

Messrs. Holt, Renfrew and Co. Have a Splendid Display on St. Catherine Street.

The winter season for furs opened to-day, and the various fur stores in the city were crowded with sightseers and intending purchasers. All fur emporiums report a record business for an opening day.

'This year will be a big one for us,' said the manager of one of the largest local fur-selling concerns this morning; 'at least, if we are justified in gauging from our first day's sales.'

On entering the premses of the Holt, Renfrew Company, on St. Catherine St. West, one is delighted by the magnificent collection of skins exhibited on all sides. The store has been artistically decorated, and it more resembles a fairy castle than a modern commercial house. The windows alone are highly artistic, and the beautiful specimens of the furriers' art displayed cause nearly all passers-by to pause and inspect the wares.

In the upstairs window is a magnificent American bear skin measuring about seven feet by five. In texture and weight this specimen is as nearly perfect as possible. Owing to the rapid killing off of these animals, the skins are becoming more difficult every year to procure, and it will not be long ere they will be entirely off the market.

The proprietors state that the public are cordially invited to visit the store, and that an inspection involves no obligation to purchase whatever.

THE PATH OF GLORY

A ROMANCE OF THE FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR.

BY

PAUL LELAND HAWORTH

(Copyright, Little, Brown, and Co., Boston.)

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS.

On the eve of the French-Indian war, George Wasnington, in company with Charles Randolph, a young Englishman, an Irishman, Barnaby Currin, Jacob Van Braam, a Dutchman, and a number of Indians, is the bearer of a menacing letter from the British governor of Virginia to the Chevalier de Saint-Pierre, commander of a fort near Quebec, accusing the French troops of encroaching on British territory. The envoys are gallantly entertained by the Chevalier and his beautiful daughter, Alfrede, but Captain Reparti, commander of another French fort, shows hostility, and plans to surprise the Britishers; however, they receive a timely warning from Alfredo. Charles Randolph is given the captainey of a company in the army, while Barnaby is made a lieutenant. The Chevalier de Saint-Pierre is summoned to Quebec for military orders, and Alfrede, who bids good-bye to the old fort, follows in company with her trusty servants. On the way they are taken captive by a squad of Indians, who overheard their plans, and Alfrede is on the point of being burnt to death when she is rescued by Charles Randolph, Barnaby, and their company. Randolph escorts her to within sight of Fort Presqu' Isle, where she is discovered by Captain Reparti and his men. The captain ascertains the whereabouts of Alfrede's rescuers, and he cunningly inflicts a great massacre at the British fort, and takes Barnaby's family prisoners. Randolph and his men set out and liberate the captives, but they are unable to find Barnaby's little boy. In a battle with the French, Randolph is wounded and taken prisoner by Captain Reparti. After his recovery he is conducted to Quebec, where he associates with the French nobility. Here, he again meets Alfrede. Randolph is accused of planning to set fire to Quebec, and is imprisoned, and later sentenced to death. Alfrede and her friends visit him, and Randolph declares his love for the girl. Captain Reparti, the supposed perpetrator of the plot, promises to secure a reprieve for the prisoner on the condition that Alfrede consents to marry him, and she promises. But Jacob Van Braam, Randolph's loyal friend, challenges Reparti to a duel, and the Frenchman is seriously wounded. With the assistance of Alfrede and her friends Randolph escapes from prison, but he remains in concealment for many months. All the while he is eager to join a British fleet which has landed at Quebec, and finally he ventures out at night, but while going through a wood he stumbles over a man. The two, supposin each other to be enemies, wrestle, and when Randolph is overcome, he recognizes that the other is Barahy Currin, who has been scouting for the British. They then make their way to the river and board a British ship, where Randolph is introduced to General Wolfe.

CHAPTER XXXIII—Continued.

Verse by verse he recited. The sound of the gently dipping oars and the soft ripple of the current mingled with his mellow voice but did not drown it. All listened as does an audience at some great opera, when the perfect voice of the singer expresses the supremest emotion in the gamut of passion or of suffering. And there was not one but remembered to his dying day how the young commander's feelings mastered him and how his voice broke as he quoted the immortal stanza:

'"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave,
Await alike th' inevitable hour:
The paths of glory lead but to the grave."'

He made no attempt to recite more. 'Gentlemen,' he said, after a pause, 'I would rather have written those lines than take Quebec to-morrow.'

Out of the blackness loomed the dark outlines of a vessel lying in the centre of the stream.

'"'Tis the sloop 'Hunter,' said Captain Chads, when the foremost boat was within half a cable's length. 'Oh! what are the crew doing?'

'I believe they take us for the enemy,' Wolfe exclaimed, in great alarm. 'See, they are running to quarters and seem to be training guns on us. If they fire, our enterprise is ruined.'

'What boats are those?' demanded a hoarse voice from the 'Hunter.'

'British; for God's sake, don't fire!' cried Chads.

'Stand off till I make sure,' came the stern order. What is the countersign?'

'Victory,' said Chads quickly.

'Come nearer,' said the speaker, evidently still unconvinced.

Willingly enough, Wolfe's boat drew alongside. 'We are friends, Captain Smith,' called the commander. 'I am General Wolfe. We are on a secret expedition.'

'Gad!' exclaimed the captain. 'You had a close call! I came near giving you a broadside without troubling to challenge you. I took you for a provision convoy that a couple of deserters say the French are expecting down the river to-night.'

After the boats left the 'Hunter,' it became necessary for them to steer in toward the north shore in order not to be swept past their destination.

'Qui vive!' sharp and menacing came a challenge from the darkness at the foot of the cliff.

It was a breathless moment. Discovery spelt failure. But there was in the nearest boat a quick-witted Highland officer who, having served on the Continent, knew French perfectly. He had also heard the colloquy with the captain of the 'Hunter.'

'France!' he responded without hesitation.

'A quel regiment!' demanded the voice.

'De la Reine,' replied the Highlander, in subdued tones.

Probably the sentinel did not hear the answer, for he said: 'Why do you not speak louder?'

'Keep quiet, comrade,' said the Highlander, still in French. 'These are the provision boats. I fear we shall be heard.'

Satisfied with this plausible answer, the sentinel said no more. Vastly relieved, the English passed on. Randolph and Currin directed the midshipman at the tiller where to steer, and in a few minutes Wolfe's boat grated upon the narrow beach. The general himself was the first man to spring ashore, closely followed by Randolph, Currin, and Captain De Laune, and the twenty-four volunteers. Three light infantry companies under Colonel Howe, brother of him who had fallen at Ticonderoga, were landed to support the attempt.

The critical moment had now come. Above towered the bold cliff which must be scaled and mastered. In many hearts were doubts and misgivings, but two little figures stepped to the head of the volunteers and led the way toward the rocky spur up which the attempt was to be made. Who were these figures? Who should they be but those two comrades whom we have followed in hazardous marches along the Riviere aux Boeufs, beside the swift Monongahela, and down this very cliff that frowns so blackly before us? Creeping through the thicket that skirted it, the party arrived at the foot of the spur.

'Take your time, men,' said Randolph, in a low voice. 'Keep cool and avoid loose stones. We shall reach the top with ease.'

With muskets slung at their backs, the volunteers followed the two Virginians. Roots, bushes, and the trunks of trees furnished welcome assistance. Now and again some dislodged rock went tumbling down the cliff, but the splash of the falls of the little brook Saint Denis mercifully deadened the noise. In five minutes Randolph, Currin, and Captain De Laune were on the summit. The men were following close behind them.

From along the cliff came the challenge:

'Qui vive!'

'France,' said Randolph, anxious to gain even a minute's delay. Barnaby dropped back into the shadow.

'Le mot d'ordre?'

'La victoire,' replied Randolph, mumbling the words so that there were unintelligible. 'I command a relieving party, mon enfant. You may call off the other guards. We will care for les Anglais if any come.'

Fortunately the sentinel was a slow-witted habitant, unaccustomed to the usages of war. Though still suspicious, he waited until other dark forms began to appear over the brow of the cliff, and one man, unaware of the sentinel's proximity, uttered an incautious British oath.

Instantly the sentinel raised his fusil. But before he could fire there leaped out from behind a neighboring tree an agile form. The sentinel went to earth with his throat clutched in the iron graps of Barnaby Currin. In a minute the astonished man was bound and gagged.

In the time thus gained all the volunteers and part of the light infantry had reached the summit. Then from further up the cliff arose the wild shout:

'Les Anglais! aux armes! aux armes! les Anglais!'

Two or three shots rang out. The volunteers and Howe's infantry sprang toward the white tents that were becoming faintly visible in the increasing morning light. Ther were confused cries, a volley of shots, a glimpse of scurrying, half-dressed forms; and the camp was taken. To the anxious army below went down a hearty British cheer.

Soon the men came swarming up the cliff. The path was cleared. The remaining troops on the ships—which had dropped down the river with the tide—and the detachment from Goreham's Post were landed and likewise climbed the cliff. The Samos battery above the cove bellowed harshly for a time, but was stormed by Howe and his light infantry. By a little after sunrise the British army was drawn up in order of battle on the Heights of Abraham.

At last Fortune had smiled!

CHAPTER XXXIV.

THE FATE OF A CONTINENT.

Resplendent in his new uniform and attended by his staff, including Randolph and Barnaby, General Wolfe was moving down his line of battle.

'Our chance has come,' he said exultantly to the commander of each regiment he passed, 'at last we are where they must fight us! Let every man do his duty, and this will be a glorious day for England. Double-shot your muskets. But do not fire until the enemy are within forty paces. After the first volley, reload, advance twenty paces, fire again, then charge!'

The men caught his spirit. Despite discouraging failures, they had never yet lost faith in their ardent young leader. Presently a company of the Forty-seventh struck up to the tune of 'Lilies of France,' a song which had been much heard during the early days of the campaign, but which had fallen into disuse since the disastrous repulse at the heights of the Montmorency, where its composer, Sergeant Ned Bostwood, had fallen. Soon the whole battle line was singing:

'Come,' each death-doing dog who dares venture his neck,
Come, follow the hero who goes to Quebec;
Jump aboard of the transports, and loose every sail,
Pay your debts at the tavern by giving leg-bail;
And ye that love fighting shall soon have enough;
Wolfe commands us, my boys, we shall give them Hot Stuff!

'Up the River St. Lawrence our troops shall advance,
To the Grenadiers' March we will teach them to dance.
Cape Breton we've taken, and next we will try
At their capital to give them another black eye.
Vaudreuil, 't is in vain you pretend to look gruff,—
Those are coming who know how to give you Hot Stuff!

'With powder in his periwig, and snuff in his nose,
Monsieur will run down our descent to oppose;
And the Indians will come: but the light infantry
Will soon oblige them to betake to a tree.
From such rascals as these may we fear a rebuff?
Advance, grenadiers, and let fly your Hot Stuff!

'When the Forty-seventh regiment is dashing ashore,
While bullets are whistling and cannons do roar,
Says Montcalm: 'Those are Shirley's, —I know the lapels.'
'You lie,' says Ned Botwood, 'we belong to Lascelles'!
Tho' our clothing is changed, yet we scorn powder-puff;
So at you, ye b——s, here's give you Hot Stuff!'

While the refrain still rose along the line the ridge ahead began to be thronged with white uniforms. Randolph looked attentively at the standard fluttering over them, and saw that, in the language of heraldry, it was quarterly first and fourth feuille-morte, second and third vert; over all a white cross.

'Those troops belong to the battalion of Guienne. I recognize the standard,' he said to Wolfe.

'Let them come,' said the commander gayly. 'I am happy to see them.'

The white-coated gentry extended themselves along the ridge, but otherwise made no hostile demonstration. Swarms of Indians and Canadians soon made their appearance, however, and, creeping along under cover of the woods and thickets, opened a galling fusillade on the English wings.

At this Barnaby began to grow restive. 'If I had my old rifle here,' said he to Randolph, 'I would kinder like to mix in that.'

(To be continued.)

"BED-TIME STORIES"

LAME TATJA'S HELPER.

Far, far away, across the deep blue sea, there is a land called Holland. It is small and neat and very pretty, so pretty that it seems more like a dolls' land than one where real people live.

Long ago in that little country there lived a girl called Tatja, says the Detroit 'Free Press.' Tatja had many small sisters and brothers, and because her father was dead she got up early every morning and carried milk to all the houses to get enough money to keep her family in bread and butter. She liked the work, and everybody greeted her happily, but she had one great misfortune—she was so lame that she had to use a stick to help her walk. The roads of Holland are wide and smooth, and everywhere tulips, lilies and bright golden daffodils grow just as daisies grow here.

One morning the sun blazed down so warmly that Tatja longed to rest, and stepped into a field where tulips, pink and white and purple, opened their beauty to the sky. It may have been the heat of the day or it may have been a fairy spell that put the girl to sleep. She slept as only children do, and when she awoke, behold! her basket was lying empty on the ground, and right beside her was a new scarlet waggon filled with shining milk cans! As she rubbed her eyes it seemed to her that a tiny voice said:

'It will be easier for you, Tatja, to push the waggon than to carry a basket load.'

So Tatja sang as she pushed the little cart along and did her work in half the time. Then winter came with snow and wind and rain, and very soon the roads were covered with mud. One by one the lilies died, the daffodils faded and only a few ragged-looking tulips remained in the fields, yet Tatja never passed without saying, 'Thank you, dear tulip fairies,' and the tulips always nodded to her.

This little waggon seemed heavier now because of the muddy roads, and one day it stuck so deep that she could not pull it out. Tired and sad, she sat down on a stone and began to cry.

Piff paff! Something fluttered near her, and a voice she remembered whispered:

'No tears, Tatja. Look!'

Tatja looked and saw that a great dog almost as big as herself was harnessed to the waggon. He had kind eyes and his tongue was like pink velvet when he licked her hand. Then he started off at a trot and stopped before the houses where Tatja's customers lived.

Every day he went with her, and that is why, even to-day, the milkmaids of Holland have strong brown dogs to draw their red milk waggons.

ALL TOGETHER, SING!

(By May Turner, in 'Youth's Companion.')

Sparrow, swinging on a branch, sang the softest trill—
Low and long it was, full of lovely meaning.
Robin, tugging at a worm, paused and wiped his bill;
Paused ad perked his head, stood, his feathers preening.
To sing his song it really seemed he had forgotten quietly.
A bee that flew from rose to lily lingered in her flight,
Hummed, and buzzed, and hummed again, tried to give the keynote;
Wren, though busy with her nest, stopped to sing a wee note.
Thus reminded, robin chirped cheerily, and sang;
Sparrow trilled his very loudest, sang his sweeteset, best;
When, upon the arbor perched, looking at her nest,
Sang with robin and with sparrow till the garden rang!

WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURE?

October 3.

Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.—Isa. lxii., 11.

What is it makes my Saviour stay?
So strong, so ready to redeem?
Not Jesus wills the unkind delay,

Nor casts out those that come to him:
His grace the secret bar must move,
Or I shall still reject his love.

He only is my rock and my salvation.—Psa. lxii., 2.

FINANCIAL.

'I dont' know whether it is a good thing to encourage women to go into politics or not,' said the man with the furrowed brow.

'Surely you do not doubt their capability?'

'Not in the least. But think of the appalling sums that will change hands if they get to betting hats on elections.'

HIS KICK.

(Cincinnati 'Enquirer.')

'I have a kick coming,' snorted the indignant citizen as he entered the Bureau of Complaints.

'Well, keep cool, 'replied the clerk. 'You'll get it when your turn comes.'

VICE VERSA.

A farmer fent into a hardware store and, while purchasing some tools, was asked by the proprietor if he did not want to buy a bicycle.

'A bicycle won't eat its head off,' said the man, 'and you can ride around your farm on it. They're cheap now, and I can let you have one for $35.'

'I'd rather put the $35 in a cow, 'replied the farmer.

'Oh, well,' said the hardware man, sarcastically, 'you'd look almightly foolish riding round your farm on a cow, now, wouldn't you?'

'No more foolish, perhaps,' said the farmer, 'than I would milking a bicycle.'—'Mail and Empire.'

PARIS POLICE REPORTS.

(Paris Correspondence London Telegraph.')

At the Prefecture of Police are preserved the most characteristic reports drawn up by policemen during the last thirty years. Thus, one guardian of the law announces his discovery of 'the skeleton of a head whose owner I was unable to find.' Another, with a love for brevity, wrote: 'This gentleman gave me his card of membership of the Society of Animals.' Yet another solemnly deposes that 'the injured man was unable to write, seeing that both his feet were crushed.'

The doctor we sent for stated that the injured man had his whole body covered with confusians,' was found in another report. It is rather difficult to recognize contusions in their Chinese guise.

RAILWAY OPENS THE NEW KITCHEN.

The dining car department of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Calgary entertained sixty women the other day when the new kitchens were opened to the public for inspection, and a demonstration of scientific cooking was given by the staff. Supervising Chef R. Taylor and a staff of four assistants conducted the visitors over the building, and explained the uses and construction of the various apparatus. The demonstration was a revelation of many valuable secrets of the cuisine. The visit proved of a very interesting and instructive character, and the kitchens were thrown open again on account of the great interest that was taken in the work.

C. P. R. HEAD OFFICES ALMOST COMPLETED.

In about another week the work of cementing the old and new offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway on Windsor street will be completely finished, both on the east and west side of the building. The workmen have inserted all the necessary steel for strengthening the building, and the stone work is finished to the top storey but one. Inside the cement floors are nearly finished, and the cementing in of the steel pillars is progressing at a rapid pace. In a very short time the roof will be reached, and nothing will remain except the finishing of the inside work. Preparations are being made for the removal of the shipping department from the old offices to the new quarters, and also the photographic department. The decoration of the interior of the executive offices is progressing rapidly, and the main entrance from Windsor street to the new offices is now well under way. Workmen are busy in every portion of the new building pushing the work ahead with all possible speed.

C. P. R. TERMINALS AT COQUITLAM, B.C.

Work on the terminal yards at Coquitlam, B.C., of the Canadian Pacific Railway is progressing rapidly, and work trains are now busy day and night hauling the necessary ballast to the ever-increasing number of tracks in connection with the huge undertaking. The C. P. R. is spending a million of dollars on this gigantic work, which will serve as a relief to the traffic which is every day increasing at Vancouver. All the tracks in the new yards are being raised a distance of about eight feet from the level of the land, and some idea of the amount of ballast and labor involved may be gained when it is remembered that the yards cover a stretch of land three-quarters of a mile in width and over two miles in length. All the immense amount of ballast for this work is brought from the company's gravel pit, near Hammond, where there is almost an unlimited supply of first class ballast. The double track of the main line between the Hammond pit and Coquitlam, has been completed for some time, and the work trains, by using the extra track, do not interfere with the freight and passenger traffic. Several hundred men are on the company's payroll in Coquitlam, besides the large numbers employed by the numerous contractors on buildings for the company. The round house is almost complete, work having ben somewhat delayed, on account of extra work to be done not called for in the contract. It is expected that by the first of December next the first unit of the work will be completed, and a hundred and fifty employees of the company will take up their quarters in the town. A temporary pile bridge is being erected over the Pitt river to accommodate the traffic.

PROGRESS ON G. T. P.

Rapid progress is being made with the construction of stations along the main and branch lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Indeed, by the time that the first train runs from coast to coast over the completed line, travellers should look out on a handsome building at every stopping place. A report covering the last three months shows that, out of a total of 237 stations, 79 have been completed, 58 are in various stages of construction, while 100 remain to be erected. These are divided as follows:—

Main line—Winnipeg to Fitzhugh—159 stations; 69 completed, 44 under construction; and 46 not started.

Yorkton branch.—10 stations; 2 completed, 5 under construction, and 3 not started.

Regina branch—17 stations; 4 completed, 3 under construction, and 10 not started.

Calgary branch—32 stations; 4 completed, 3 under construction, and 25 not started.

Prince Albert branch—19 stations; 3 under construction, and 16 not started.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON TO VISIT CANADA.

New York, Oct. 3.—Sir Thomas Lipton is expected to leave England next Saturday for a visit to this country. His trip is to be merely a vacation outing, and he has written that he will not discuss yachting or the America Cup while on this side. He will spend a few days in New York and then go on to Canada, later visiting San Francisco..

BIG CLAIM FOR FROST-BITTEN EARS

Plaintiff Alleges Imprudence Against Cab Proprietor in Damage Action.

For pain caused by two frozen ears, Alfred Smith is suing a cab proprietor named Jovit Menard, of Boucherville, for $1,500. He went to Boucherville during February, 1911, and to get back hired a cab from the defendant. On the journey to Montreal across the river, Smith claims he was ordered out of the cab, and was compelled to walk. Then his ears froze. Mr. Justice Lafontaine is hearing the case.

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD DISSOLVED

Berlin, Oct. 3. — Telegrams from Munich state that the attempts to heal the breach between Prince and Princess George of Bavaria has proved futile. Their household has already been dissolved and preliminary steps have been taken to obtain an annulment of the marriage from the Pope. It is denied that questions of precedence at court are responsible for the present situation, which, it is declared now, is due entirely to the Princess' unconquerable dislike' of her husband. Prince George is a grandson of the Prince Regent of Bavaria.

I.W.W. ORGANIZERS WERE BADLY BEATEN.

Lawrence, Mass., Oct. 3.—Two organizers of the Industrial Workers of the World, Frank Morris and Joseph O'Carroll, were attacked on Essex street, in the heart of the city, last night and badly beaten. They were returning from a meeting they had addressed, when, seeing that they were followed by a crowd of young men, they called a policeman to protect them. The officer followed them for a while, but saw no indication of trouble.

When the two men reached the vicinity of their hotel, the crowd closed in and they were severely handled, finally escaping into the hotel. One arrest was made.

SHERBROOKE SHOOTING MAY HAVE FATAL TERMINATION

Sherbrooke, Que., Oct. 3.—Russell Bloomfield, fourteen years of age, and only son of Dr. S. J. Bloomfield, of this city, lies in a critical condition as a result of a bullet wound received from a 32-calibre revolver in the hands of a young lad named Wright. Both lads were playing together when Wright pointed the revolver at Bloomfield. It was discharged and the bullet entered the boy's forehead. He was at once taken to the hospital and an operation performed, but the bullet could not be located. One side is paralyzed and no hopes are entertained for his recovery.

WOOD ALCOHOL MADE HIM BLIND

Farmer Ordered the Arrest of the Grocer Who Supplied Him.

Another arrest in the wood alcohol poisoning case, the drinking of which caused the deaths of eleven Russians during six days of last August, was made last night by Detectives Lajoie and Boulard, who served a warrant for the arrest of B. Sipson, a grocer at 40 Vallee street, and 309 St. George street.

The complainant, Treffle Bellemare, charges the grocer with attempted murder in administering poison and other destructive things to him on Aug. 17th. On that day he brought some garden produce to market from a farm at Cote De Liesse, and stopped at Sipson's to get some liquor, and was given, he says, his highwines from a barrel, after one of the clerks had told him they did not keep it.

Soon after drinking, he was taken violently ill, and in company of a man named O'Grady, whom he had treated, was taken to the Hotel Dieu, from which institution he was taken to an eye specialist, as he was unable to see. His eysight having returned, he was taken before Sipson, whom he identified as the man who sold the liquor. This is the third arrest in the case; the other two, Kost Bolohura and George Zimmerman, having been discharged.

EXPECTED TO BRING DIAMONDS TO COBALT.

Cobalt, Ont., Oct. 3.—It is expected that Walter Haberner, a well known Northern Ontario prospector, will shortly reach here with the first lot of diamonds from the reported diamond fields bordering on Hudson Bay. He was in the Nottawa River district last winter and went in again early last spring with a gang of men.

Taberner first received his information regarding diamonds in Northern Quebec from a Chicago man, who claimed to have been in the country eighteen years ago, and to have brought out $300,000 worth of diamonds. He provided maps and directions which Taberner, on his first trip, found accurate. He succeeded in locating the old camps and workings. It is stated the gems are in the blue clay workings which geologists have stated as the proper formation for diamonds. Other prospectors have visited the North, but have failed to bring back anything better than good-looking diamond matrix.

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT FOR VANCOUVER MAYORALTY.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 3.—Mayor Findlay announced yesterday that he would be a candidate to succeed himself at the New Year election. It looks as if the fight would be a three-cornered one. Alderman Ramsay has announced his intentio of ruig and ex-Mayor Taylor, of the World, is also likely to be in the field.

RELEASED FROM DUBLIN PRISON

Miss Evans, Suffragette Who Set Theatre on Fire, a Physical Wreck

Dublin, Oct. 3.—The suffragette 'hunger strike' brought about the release on parole from jail to-day of another militant suffragette, Gladys Evans.

The prison doctors advised the authorities that Miss Evans' condition of health had become very grave, and the order releasing her on license, as it is called here, was issued this morning.

Miss Evans will be compelled to report periodically to the authorities during the remainder of the term of five years to which she was sentenced on Aug. 7 on the charge of setting fire to the Theatre Royal here the day before Premier Asquith was to speak on Home Rule.

As in the case of Mary Leigh, recently released for the same reason from a similar term, should Miss Evans subsequently be convicted of another crime the judge may order her to serve the rest of her present sentence.

CATS SUPREME ON OCEAN LINER

Three big cats reign supreme on the C. P. R. liner 'Lake Champlain'—monarchs of all that they survey. One is a black fellow, as black as midnight, while his two mates are of the tiger variety. They own the ship, roam where they will and dine off the 'fat' of the land. Woe betide the man who steps on the tail of these poor pussies! It is the only absolutely unpardonable offence on the liner. You may do almost anything else and escape, but he who treads on the tail of the ship's cats is in for a bunch of trouble.

They are neither blue ribbon nor blue blood pussies, either, just plain every-day, backyard, midnight musicians. In fact, if the truth must be told in all its baldness, they are just stragglers that came aboard in Liverpool, and like the looks of things so much that they adopted the ship. The sailors took them in, and now they have been enrolled on the ship's crew. They cross and recross the Atlantic—they are grand seamen—but never do they attempt to desert the vessel when the port is reached.

CANADA OVERLOADING HERSELF WITH FINANCE.

London, Oct. 3.—The 'Daily News and Leader' give prominence to the following views of a correspondent:—'Signs have not been wanting recently of increasing uneasiness in financial circles in regard to the immediate future of Canada.

No one questions the great destiny which the Dominion will ultimately fulfill, with its enormous areas of fertile land and immense natural resources, but Rome was not built in a day and Canadians, with their boundless energy and self-confidence haven't laid the meaning of that proverb sufficiently to heart.

They are in too great a hurry to realize their quite laudable ambition; they want to bridge the next decade or two in as many of their brief seasons. The natural consequence is that they seem to be outrunning the constable and have borrowed more than they can conveniently pay for. In the seven years ending with 1911 Canadians issues in London, public and private, amounted to $860,000,000. Last year the aggregate was about $225,000,000 and for the first six months of the current year nearly $110,000,000.

TWELVE MILLION BALES IN U. S. COTTON CROP.

Washington, Oct. 3.—An unofficial estimate of the 1912 cotton crop of the United States based upon reports issued by the Government yesterday places the total production of cotton at about 12,700,000 bales of 500 pounds each. This estimate, reached after the Department of Agriculture methods, is based upon the figures showing the condition of the crop to have been 69.6 percent of a normal on September 25, or 2.1 percent better than the average condition on that date for the past ten years, but one-half of one percent poorer than the condition of last year.

FINED $15,000 FOR FREIGHT RATES REBATE.

New York, Oct. 3.—W. O. Divine, freight agent for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad at Cincinnati, pleaded guilty in the Federal Court yesterday afternoon to granting and giving rebates. He was fined $15,000.

Judge Mayer imposed the fine after District Attorney Wise had asked for a penalty that would elicit a 'squeal on the one higher up.'

JUSTICE ROUTHIER CELEBRATES.

Quebec, Oct. 3.—Sir A. B. Routhier and Lady Routhier celebrated their golden wedding yesterday. At the chapel of the Sacred Heart a special mass was celebrated in honor of the chief judge of the Admiralty Court and Lady Routhier. The chapel was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and Mgr. Routhier, of Ottawa, officiated at the mass.

PRESBYTERIAN BOYS SCHOOL FOR HALIFAX.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 3.—The Presbyterian Synod, in session at Pictou yesterday morning, considered the founding of a boys' school in Halifax at Pine Hill Presbyterian College. It is proposed to remove the Theological College to the Dalhousie campus, the school to occupy the vacated buildings, and the college to be paid $150,000 to reimburse them for removing. The proposal was presented by the Rev. J. A. MacGlashen, of Sydney, and supported by Dr. McLean and Dr. Jack, of North Sydney. It was favorably received and remitted to a committee. At present Presbyterian boys attend the colleges at Toronto and thus, it is believed, are lost to the province.

RECORD SHIPMENT OF COBALT BULLION

Cobalt, Oct. 2.—A record shipment of bullion left the camp for England yesterday, 141 bars being in the consignment. The value of this shipment was $102,100.32, and it contained 159,400.61 ounces of fine silver. Nipissing, Crown Reserve and O'Brien mines were the shippers, and the total for the day is almost equal to the camp's weekly record established last week.

RIVAL POWER COMPANIES.

St. Paul Electric Co. and Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co. in Dispute.

According to preliminary ruling, handed down by Mr. Justice Beaudin yesterday, the question whether the St. Paul Electric Company is or is not backed up by the Canadian Light, Heat & Power Company in its fight against the Montreal Light, Heat & Poer Company, regarding the operations of the latter concern within the limits of St. Paul ward, has no vital bearing upon the matters at issue beteen the two companies.

The St. Paul Company took out an injunction against the Power Company to restrain it from operating within the territory of St. Paul ward on the ground that it had exclusive rights within that territory. In reply to this injunction, the Power Company stated that the proceedings taken by the St. Paul Company were not in good faith, but that they had been instigated by the Canadian Light Heat & Power Company, a rival concern, when efforts to force the Power Company to buy out the rights and franchises of the St. Paul Company had failed.

An inscription-in-law was filed by the St. Paul Company to have this argument struck off from the proceedings, as it has no bearing on the issue, and judgment maintaining this inscription-in-law was rendered by Mr. Justice Beaudin as above.

COMPANY ANNULLED.

One-man Concern Violated Its Letters Patent and Conducted A Lottery.

As the result of proceedings taken by Sir Lomer Gouin, acting in the capacity of Attorney-General, the Phoenix Land Investment Company was declared null yesterday by Mr. Justice Archer, it being proved that the company violated the terms of its letters patent, inasmuch as it was a one-man concern, the owner carrying on the business for his own personal interest. It was also shown that the firm had engaged in the lottery business.

CHANGING WARDS.

Ald. Lariviere will propose a plan to the Legislation Committee to redistribute and fuse some of the city wards. He says there are too many now, and that inequalities in their size exist. He said that he has not finally determined on any scheme. East and Centre wards are among the smaller ones of the city, but it is considered improbable that these will be interferred with, for they are among the oldest and most influential in the city.

NO EXTENSION OF TRACKS.

The Board of Control yesterday decided not to grant permission to the Grand Trunk Railway Company to extend its trackage in front of the new playground and park in Point St Charles, and the company will be asked to remove its tracks from a section of the dyke near the Royal Alexander Hospital.
