FOUR MILLIONS FOR PARCEL POST

CANADIAN RAILWAYS WILL ASK THAT MUCH INCREASE FOR MAIL SUBSIDY.

Ottawa, Nov. 21—Six million dollars in place of two millions is practically what Canadian railways will ask as a yearly subsidy for carrying the mails after the parcel post is inaugurated. An all-day conference was held yesterday on the subject and was not concluded. There will be further negotiations next week.

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern were represented, but the Canadian Pacific was not. It is understood that the latter company takes the position that its case is of a special character.

The railways for the past four years have been urging strongly that the rate of compensation be practically doubled, but the principal factor in the demand is the impending parcel post post system. While it is not suggested that the effect of the parcel post on the express companies owned by the railways is an element of consideration in making their increased demand, there is little doubt that the revenues of such concerns will be adversely affected by the inauguration of the system.

The question of compensation for carrying mails on land and water is a large one and the Hon. Mr. Pelletier is endeavoring to reach what is a fair average basis of payment to the companies.

TAKE REVENGE ON SUFFRAGETTES.

Oxford, Eng., Nov. 21.—Vengeance was wrecked on the suffragettes who, early this morning set fire to a great lumber yard on the banks of the Thames, for while the place was still burning the offices of a suffragette society in this city were raided and wrecked. All the furniture and a large collection of suffrage literature were thrown into the streets.

The damage done by the lumber yard's fire amounted to tens of thousands of dollars. Confirmation of the suspicions of the police that the gettes was found on post cards left on the scene. On these was written: 'Send the Bill to Chancellor Lloyd George to-night," and "Democracy never has been a menace to property" a quotation from one of Mr. Lloyd George's speeches.

WASHINGTON HEARS CLOCK IN PARIS.

Washington, Nov. 21 — Three weeks of patient experimentation culminated in success last night when the United States naval observatory here heard the beats of the Paris observatory clock as transmitted by radio signals from the Eiffel tower to the great navy radio station at Arlington. The "beats" were compared with those of the Washington clock for some minutes by the method of "coincidences."

The American and French commissioners who are conducting these experiments to determine the difference in longitude between Paris and Washington and the velocity of propogation of radio signals through space, were greatly encouraged by their success. They announced today that the season of the year when atmospheric conditions are best for radio work is now coming on and that their work will proceed as planned.

STR. NEW ZEALAND NOW AT HALIFAX

CIVIC ADDRESS WILL BE PRESENTED TO THE CAPTAIN TODAY.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 21.—The battle cruiser New Zealand arrived this afternoon from Bermuda and is anchored off the dock yard. The cruiser was met off the harbor entrance by the government steamer Petrol with Mayor Bligh and civic officials, F. B. McCurdy, M. P., and president of the Board of Trade, and others aboard, and the warship welcomed to Halifax.

The forts of the harbor were silent, the big ship being given no salute.

Tomorrow a civic address will be presented to the captain and officers and the ship will be open to the public for inspection.

On Sunday Prince George of Battenburg, who is one of the officers on the New Zealand, accompanied by Captain Halsey, will leave for Ottawa, where the Prince is to be received by the Duke of Connaught.

TUBERGULOSIS IN MONTREAL CITY

COL. BURLAND SCORES INDIFFERENCE OF CITIZENS NEGLIGENCE OF COUNCIL.

Montreal, Nov. 21. — Some plain-speaking was indulged in with regard to sanitary conditions in the City of Montreal at to-day's annual meeting of the Royal Edward Institute for the Study, Prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis.

The Hon. Dr. J. J. Guerin, former mayor, stated that a fully prepared draft of regulations for the department of hygiene had been before the City Council for several months—the original draft having been submitted some sixty years ago—yet nothing had been done to put them in force. The attention of the mayor and council will be called to these facts in an adopted resolution.

Col. J. H. Burland, president of the institute, gave a none too cheerful account of the existing conditions in the city. While much was being accomplished they faced the fact that tuberculosis, instead of being checked was on the increase. He attributed the high tuberculosis death-rate to the indifference of the citizens who are not in office and the criminal negligence of those who are.

LARKIN SPEAKS.

Says Authorities Made Ridiculous Mistake in Freeing Him.

London, Nov. 21.—James Larkin said to-day:

"It seems to be the impression in America that the Dublin strike is connected officially with Mr. Redmond's fight for Home Rule. That is not true. Irish-Americans should realize that this movement heralds the rapid advance, in the near future, of sweeping reforms in the social and political situation throughout the whole world.

"Its objects are too vast for it to tie itself dow o anything so local as the Home Rule fight. The authorities made a farcical mistake when they freed me, but their folly was exceeded by the American authorities who set Haywood at liberty.

"He is bigger and more powerful than they, and the idea is an invaluable asset of American workers, who I believe, will soon catch the contagion of the labor movement and rise in a revolution against existing conditions."

QUEER PRACTICE IN MEXICAN CONGRESS FOUND PUZZLING

Deputy Speaker Declares That There Is No Quorum Present Although There Is.

IS HUERTA BLUFFING?

Order for British Squadron to Proceed to Vera Cruz is Countermanded

Mexico City, Nov. 21—The bulk of the evidence at hand continues to indicate that Victoriano Huerta is unalterably determined not to accede to the demands of the United States government for his elimination as President of Mexico; but there is some basis for the belief that he may at last give in, but in such a manner as to leave the impression that he acted of his own free will, defying Washington to the last.

The high handed parliamentary practice in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon gave rise to considerable speculation. The roll of members was called and it was quite evident that the number necessary for a quorum was present, but Col. Victor Corral, presiding in the absence of Eduardo Tamariz, the Speaker, who was ill, looked the deputies straight in the eye and declared there was no quorum. Not a deputy protested, and the chamber stood adjourned until tomorrow.

It was suggested that this action might be part of a plan to bring about the death of congress and thus split hairs with the Washington government, which, through John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, had insisted that this new legislative body should not come into existence. Under the law should there be no quorum three times in succession, the House would be automatically dissolved. One Mexican, speculating on the motive for today's adjournment, suggested that it was merely a time saving device, adding: "Time for Huerta today is fine spun gold."

It became known today that Manual Aldape, prior to his expulsion from the Cabinet, submitted for the consideration of the United States a proposition signed by President Huerta, to the effect that congress should meet, merely for the transaction of three or four measures, namely, ratification of the decree of October 11, dissolving congress; declaring the eelctions of President and Vice-President null and void, and calling for new elections, and, because there might arise the question as to the legality of the new chamber and senate, calling an election for deputies and senators as well. It was understood that after these measures had been acted upon the new congress would adjourn and the nation again would await the results of elections.

For this reason it is not believed that the no quorum rule will be carried out indefinitely, and that it was used today merely as a matter of sparring for time.

Government officials are authority for the statement that there has been inaugurated beween Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American Charge d'Affaires, and Mexico certain negotiations. Confirmation of this is not obtainable at the embassy and in government circles all details are refused.

That a British cruiser squadron was ordered from Barbados to Vera Cruz on representations made by Sir Lionel Carden, became known here today. It was also learned that a counter-order was made as the result of an energetic communication from Secretary of State Bryan to the British ambassador at Washington. Sir Lionel Carden is said to have represented to his government that conditions were becoming so bad that fresh uprisings would be no surprise, and should they occur, he doubted the ability of the American marines at Vera Cruz, even if so disposed, to afford proper protection. He then suggested sending a squadron, it is said.

Secretary Bryan, according to the cablegrams reaching here, learned the news from press reports, and gave the British ambassador to understand that the United States would regard the presence of a British squadron in Mexican waters as undesirable, and as a result the order was changed to provide for one boat to proceed to Tampico or some other gulf-port.

AMERICAN OIL INTERESTS WILL BE PROTECTED

Washington, Nov. 21.—Rear-Admiral Fletcher, commanding the American fleet on the east coast of Mexico, late today cabled the Navy Department a message he had received from General Aguilar, the Constitutionalist leader, who has occupied the vicinity of Tuxpam, giving assurances that American and other extensive oil interests in that territory would be protected.

Admiral Fletcher is under orders to take such steps as may be necessary to protect foreign lives and property, reports from Tuxpam having indicated that the Constitutionalists were

TRAIN CRASHING INTO BOULDER IS HURLED INTO LAKE

FIREMAN IS DROWNED WHEN CARS ARE THROWN OVER CLIFF.

Winnipeg, Nov. 21.—While tearing along the brow of a cliff that overhangs Lake Superior, 178 miles east of Fort William, at 2 o'clock this morning, the first section of the Canadian Pacific Railway west-bound Imperial Limited, traveling 45 miles an hour, crashed into a gigantic boulder which had hurtled down to the track from far up the precipitous cliffside. The engine was hurled from the steel into the chasm of waters beneath, carrying in its mangled mass to a watery grave, fireman Ernest O'Connor, of Schreibe. The engineer escaped miraculously as the train struck but his warning cry to his fellow-workman was too late.

Luckily the engine broke away from the rest of the train before it plunged over the cliff. Three cars only left the track and the train held the foremost from following the engine into the lake. No one else was injured. In any event, the death rate would not have been high as the train was composed only of transcontinental mail, express and baggage car, with a first-class passenger coach at the rear, occupied by but one man. There were, however, besides the engine crew, a conductor, two brakemen, a mail clerk and baggage and express agents on the train.

BIG FIRE AT STE. MARIE DE BEAUCE

30 HOUSES DESTROYED AND IT IS FEARED THAT WHOLE VILLAGE WILL BE WIPED OUT.

At two thirty this morning the Chronicle received news that a terrible conflagration was raging at Ste. Marie de Beauce and threatened to reduce the whole village to cinders.

At that hour no less than thirty houses had already been utterly destroyed and the strong south wind which was blowing made it almost impossible to cope with the flames which were spreading with terrific rapidity. The fire fighting appliances of the village are altogether inadequate to deal with the situation.

Hundreds of inhabitants are rendered homeless and according to reports it was pitiful to see them and hear them lamenting the loss of their homes, many of which represent a total loss.

Urgent and desperate appeals for assistance are being sent out in all directions, but it is feared that the toll of damage will be ruinously heavy before it can arrive.

No details as to how the fire originated are yet available.

MAZDAZNAN LEADER TO BE TRIED SOON

PONTIFF OF THE SUN CULT CHARGED WITH PUBLISHING OBSCENE LITERATURE.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—The jury which is to try Ottoman Szar Adusht Hanish leader of the Mazdaznan sun cult, will probably be ready by noon tomorrow. Twelve men acceptable to the tSate were in the stand at adjournment to-night. Eleven of these had been questioned by defence and indications were that all eleven were acceptable.

Hanish is charged with sending obscene literature through the express companies in violation of the Inter-State Commerce laws. The "inner studies," and the "green book" of the cult were held by the federal inspectors to contain improper passages.

The Weather

Toronto, Nov. 21.—The depression which was in the Missouri valley last night, is now situated to the northwest of Lake Superior. A few scattered showers have occurred in Ontario and some local snowfalls in Manitoba. Otherwise the weather has been fair.

Lower St. Lawrence and Gulf: Fresh to strong south-easterly, shifting to south-westerly winds, some scattered showers, but mostly fair with higher temperature.

A MONEY-GRUBBERS' WAR IN PROSPECT, SAYS THE OUTLOOK

London Paper Charges Oil Trust and "Wall Street Hyenas" of Fomenting It.

HINTS AT ANNEXATION.

Conquests Through Monroe Doctrine "Which Means Anything It is Required to Mean"

London, Nov. 21.—Under the heading "a money grubbers war" the Outlook to-day publishes a bitter article on the Mexican situation.

"Across the Atlantic," the Outlook says, "there is in busy preparation, if certain forces can accomplish it, a crime against civilization, against humanity. At any moment we may hear of its first overt stages, with inevitably the ensuing slaughter of tens of thousands young Americans and half-armed peasants, the devastation of humble towns and rude countrysides, the sufferings of the helpless and the innocent and the outpouring of millions of money.

"And all for what or for whom? Wars have been waged for military ambition, but who is the Napoleon of the United States? They have been due to colonial expansion, but half the States are sparsely peopled; and they have been fought for liberty—and what wars have we seen lately, sheltering under this claim.

"But there is no pretense of this or of any of the historic reasons here. A war between the United States and Mexico, if it arises, will be the first war waged solely for private greed — the first money grubber war."

After saying that the United States have been pilching territory from the neighbors for sixty years, and have reduced weak States to obsequious dependents through the Monroe Doctrine "which means anything it is required to mean," the Outlook predicts that American dollars will create revolutions in Trinidad and Jamaica, as it alleges they did in Panama, and predicts the annexation of the northern Mexican States.

"If the guides of American opinion among whom we refrain from mentioning, Dr. Wilson," the article says in conclusion, "get their way, in a few weeks, perhaps days, Jim Smith, of Virginia, will be cutting the throat of Leon Ramiez, of Morelos, in the sacred name of the oil trusts and the band of Wall street hyenas."

CHARMED WHITE DEER IS SLAIN.

Great Barrington, Nov. 21—Charles A. Franklin of Greenfield has shot the famous white deer that for four years has been sought by hunters at Mt. Washington in vain every open season. A superstitious belief existed that it could never be shot.

BOMB FACTORY IN CALCUTTA

Calcutta, Nov. 21.—A police raid on a suspected house in Calcutta today led to the arrest of four men and the discovery of a bomb factory. A quantity of correspondence found in the building is believed to give a clue to the inner circle of the anarchistic conspiracy which has resulted in many recent outrages, including the attempt to kill the Viceroy with a bomb at Delhi last December.

LICENSE COMMN'S REPORT ADVOCATES ABOLITION OF BAR

Would Gradually Replace It by European Cafe System---Reduction of Quebec Licenses---Division of Province into Two Zones---Retail Liquor Stores

The report of the License Commission of the Province of Quebec composed of Hon. Judges Carrol, Cross, and Tessier, appointed in 1912 to study everything relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors and to closely study the Quebec License Law and the changes which it is expedient to make therein, was tabled in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon and its contents therefore becomes public property.

Chief Recommendations.

In brief the main recommendations of the report are as follows:—

The gradual elimination of refreshment rooms, counters, and bars, and the substitution of cafes, European style, where there are tables and chairs.

The reduction of the number of hotel licenses at Montreal to 350, and those in Quebec to 50.

The reduction to the same number of retail licenses.

The separation of the grocery busi-

REPORT OF THE LICENSE COMMISSION.

The long-awaited report of the License Commission on the liquor question in the Province of Quebec was tabled in the House yesterday and contains much that is instructive. The Commissioners have approached the matter with true judicial reasoning and the result of their findings should undoubtedly prove of much benefit to the Province. While recognizing the evils due to alcoholism and not hesitating to paint them in their true colors, they point out that much harm can be done by over-zealous persons who preach extreme doctrines. "We may here," says the report, "recall the words of Henry Ward Beecher: 'If you say to me that I ought not to drink, perhaps I would agree with you; but if you tell me I must not drink, I will drink, because I have a natural right to do so—to drink what I please.'"

"This," says the report, "is the general feeling when we endeavor to impose our own line of conduct upon those who do not share our views."

The main recommendations come under nine heads, these being: The education of the people, teaching in the schools, diminution of the restaurants, the bars, retail liquor shops, compensation, execution of the law, beer and wine, and the rehabilitation of inebriates.

It is pointed out that education is the most effectual means to combat alcoholism. It is not merely a question of enacting temperance legislation but also of convincing the public of their wisdom. And this work of education is not the work of a day or of a year. Time and patience are necessary and public opinion must not be the result of fear of force.

The Commission also suggests that the question of temperance be dealt with in the schools, not by means of lessons to be learned by rote, but by object lessons to be given with charts and illustrations. But here also the executive should "be on its guard against a teaching which would be self-destroying by reason of its exaggerations. The moral aspect should be left in the hands of the clergy of the different denominations."

It is suggested that the number of licenses of hotels and restaurants in the city of Quebec be further reduced to 50 and that the number in Montreal should be fixed at 350, while all so-called restaurants that furnish liquor without giving food should disappear.

The Commission considers that it is the bar-room which does the greatest evil and that to it therefore the attention of the Legislature should be especially directed. In fact, the gradual abolition of the bar is recommended to the government, in the interest of the rising generation. The bar is condemned on the ground that people encourage each other to drink there and this leads to excesses. It appeals to the grogarious instinct and physicians consider the mode of drinking at a bar is extremely prejudicial to health. The cafe system with chairs and tables is to be substituted by degrees as opportunity arises.

As for the retail liquor shops, it is suggested that the number of these should not exceed that of hotels and restaurants, this reform to be brought about by gradual diminution and cancelling of licenses for infractions of the law. And in every case where there is an application for new licenses, the applicant must separate the liquor business from the grocery store.

Although the principle of compensation was admitted at the last session when the Legislature diminished the number of licenses in Quebec the Commission now says "it would perhaps be equitable to apply it to the case of those hotel and restaurant licensees in Quebec and Montreal, the renewal of whose licenses will be refused. But no compensation should be granted in future.

As for the execution of the law, it is recommended that the Province be divided into two divisions, with two license commissions, one in Montreal and the other in Quebec, to supervise the execution of the law throughout the entire province. With other extensive powers the Commission would have that of trying persons for drunkenness, while a licensee would ipso facto and at once lose his license when condemned for a second offence. The cost of the Commission would be borne by raising a tax on the hotels and restaurants.

Additional recommendations are to the effect that the Commissioners should have the right to cancel the licenses of those who keep uncleanly hotels; that in future no new establishment shall be licensed if the premises are less than 300 feet distant from any church, chapel, college, convent, public school, manufacture, factory, public market or shop or departmental store in which more than 25 persons are employed; that sample and commission licenses should be granted only in cities and towns; that no license should be granted at exhibitions and races; that the third penalty for selling intoxicating liquors without a license should be imprisonment without the option of a fine; that no express company or transportation company shall transport intoxicating liquors under condition of payment therefor to the carrier or his agent or another; that druggists should not sell more than six ounces of alcohol at a time; that Labor Day and Confederation Day should be added to the days of closing; that the hour of opening in the morning should be half an hour later; that there should be no bars on steamboats; that the delivery of liquor from retail liquor stores must be prohibited after seven o'clock on Saturday evenings; that the law be amended to prevent bottlers from circulating in the country and selling from house to house; that it be forbidden to advertise the sale of intoxicating liquors by means of suggestive advertisements tending to induce the public to believe that the use of intoxicants is beneficial to mind or body.

There are, no doubt, several of the suggestions made by the Commission which it may not be well to enforce at this period. On the other hand, the report contains much that is illuminating and practical and will no doubt furnish the basis of excellent legislation in the near future.

AUSTRALIA'S EXAMPLE.

The British parliamentary party has reached South Africa in its tour around the world. It undertook to visit Canada, Australia and South Africa in three months. Now that it has reached the third stage of its journey, some of its members seem troubled with nostalgia. "We want to get home; that is what's the matter with us," said Mr. Will Crooks at Cape Town.

Mr. Hamar Greenwood, it seems, went no farther than the second stage, and proceeded directly from Australia to England. In the London papers he is giving freely the impressions made upon him in Australia. As a native of Canada, he is able to contrast affairs in Canada and Aus- And the principal thing he noticed was the perfect unanimity of the public men of Australia in all matters of defense. "Where Australia scores just now," he says, "is in the imperial sense. The government and the opposition are one when questions military or naval arise. There is no public man in Australia who is not in favor of the cadet movement. * * There is a great deal of comment at the Antipodes and a general tone of regret that Canada cannot agree on a naval scheme. The Australian and New Zealand fleets were non-partisan questions from the date of the naval conference, and are still kept non-partisan questions."

It was the hope of most patriotic Canadians, when the naval question arose, that the statesmen of Canada would exhibit a like elevation of sentiment regarding it. They had before them the example of the mother country, where Unionists and Liberals never dream of contending over a matter of national safety, and where the opposition in parliament could invariably be relied upon to support the government proposels for huge expenditures on warship building. Certainly Mr. Borden did everything in his power to keep his naval proposals above the plans of party politics. He took the advice of the British admiralty, and simply proposed doing what the admiralty advised him it would be most helpful for Canada to do. At that juncture, Sir Wilfrid Laurier had the chance of his life to show himself a true Briton. His natural and proper course under the circumstances was to second the premier's motion, and settle the matter at once in a manner that would redound to Canada's credit all around the world. But he chose to be swayed by the picayune spirit of a ward heeler. At his instance the government measure became a football of party strife, amounting to pandemonium. Canada stood disgraced in the eyes of every other part of the empire, and an object of derision in the chancelleries of Europe.

Mr. Greenwood says Australians and New Zealanders are very keen for another naval conference, as they consider there has been a complete change in world policies since the last one. "The feeling is that it should be held soon in London." From other sources we learn that there is some talk of the next naval conference being held in Vancouver, as a half-way house in the worldwide sphere of naval operations. It is more likely, however, to be held in London, owing to the necessity of consultation with the authorities of the admiralty. Anyway, who would want to see such a conference in Canada while Canada continues in the unique and shameful position of having done absolutely nothing toward imperial defense? The less public our humiliation the better.

PRESS COMMENT.

No tears need be shed because Sir Thomas Lipton has failed in his effort to buy the old Washington home at Sulgrave Manor, England, the ancient seat of the Washington family, that he might ship it to America. Doubtless the intentions of Sir Thomas were good, but what he proposed to do would have been an act of desecration. His proposition was to tear down the old house, transport the materials to the United States and re-erect the old home here—an act of vandalism prompted by kindness and good will. The house should be left standing where it is. Preserve it, yes, but don't pull it to pieces and remove it from where it was originally erected. It marks the spot where Washington's forbears were born, lived and died. It would be out of place anywhere else. Sulgrave Manor would never have the same interest either to Americans or Englishmen, and the old home torn from its setting would breathe no appeal to sentiment. To Sulgrave it belongs, there let it remain. Nearby is the church in which the Washingtons were married and christened, and in the churchyard lie their bones. They were modest country folk of the gentry class, and the visitor from America, looking upon the home and the manor, can perceive and understand the surroundings amid which the ancestors of the race were cradled. Here Colonel John Washington, great grandfather of the Father of His Country, was born—a younger son, by the way—and hence he migrated to Virginia to become a man of mark and substance. The house in which he first saw the light speaks of the men who reared it, who dwelt in it and sent out shoots to become tall trees in a new land. It would be akin to robbing a tomb to dismantle it and set it up where it does not belong, where it would have no meaning and where it would be shorn of the sentiment clinging around it. It is a memorial where it stands. In America it would be a vulgar show place. With many thanks to Sir Thomas Lipton for the courtesy which prompted his scheme, every American who reveres the memory of Washington should rejoice that the cradle of his race is not to be disturbed. In England we should go when we desire to see where and how the forbears of the Hero of the Revolution dwelt and what manner of folk they were. Mount Vernon belongs in Virginia, but Sulgrave belongs in England. Let each land keep its own, and hold to the traditions of its children.—Oakland Tribune.

After conferences between the Hon. George E. Foster and Sir Edward Grey the world-wide machinery of the British consular service has been placed at the disposal of Canadian citizens. Any Canadian merchant in the business of supplying foreign customers, or seeking for prospective customers, may now rely upon the British consul to supply him with all possible information and aid to secure a footing in the desired foreign market. British consuls are maintained at every important centre of trade in the world. They are accustomed to the methods of keen British merchants, who trade all over the world on the basis of efficient service—without protective tariffs to allow them to sell dear at home and cheap abroad. The vice-consul for the British Government in New York, Mr. J. Joyce Broderick, after speaking in Ottawa on Saturday, is now touring through Canada to make known the fact that Canadian exporters are invited to use the British consular service, and to Canadianize it. The Canadian extension of the service has been arranged by Mr. Richard Grigg of the department of trade and commerce. By linking up Canada with the great British organization much credit is due to the Hon. George E. Foster. Canadian merchants have secured an efficient consular service, unexcelled in the world of commerce. —Ottawa Citizen.

Easier, Quicker and Better Dusting and Cleaning

EASIER, because you do not have to get down on your hands and knees to dust, clean and polish a hardwood floor, or the stairs, or move heavy furniture to dust under it. Easier, because you do not have to stand on a chair to dust the molding or the tops of doors, or the tops of high furniture. Quicker, because you only have to go over the surface once to dust, clean and polish. One operation does it all. Better, because the O-Cedar Polish gives a high, hard, durable finish, not a gummy, hazy bluish cast.

O-Cedar Polish Mop

Makes It Easy to Clean Those Hard-to-get-at Places

and does away with the hardest part of housekeeping.

The mop is heavily padded to protect the furniture, and the handle is 54 inches long. It can be easily cleaned by washing and renewed by pouring a few drops of O-Cedar Polish on the mop.

We Make It Prove Its Worth to You Before You Buy It

The price of the O-Cedar Polish Mop is $1.50, but we will instantly return the price, if, after two days' trial you do not find the mop all we claim for it and satisfactory in every respect.

LOVE LETTERS OF TOLSTOI PUBLISHED

EXTENDED OVER FORTY-EIGHT YEARS OF LIFE WITH HIS WIFE.

Paris November 12.—There has just been published in Russia one of the most interesting books of the year. The book which has been given to the world by Countess Tolstoi herself, contains the letters which Tolstoi sent to her in the course of their long and happy married life. In the preface to the Russian edition she says: "Before leaving this world to be forever united in the spiritual world to him I love, I wish to share with all those who cherish the memory of Leo Tolstoi that which I consider as the most precious to myself, namely, his letters which speaks of forty-eight years of happy married life."

Let us glance at these letters which we have specially translated from the original Russian. They are worth perusal. The present, in the most idyllic terms, the story of a love match that is almost unprecedented in literary history, if we except the Brownings.

Tolstoi's first love letter, which we quote in extenso, is a characteristic epistle.

First Love Letter.

"It gets unbearable," he writes: "I have suffered for three weeks. Every day I say to myself, 'Today I shall tell her everything,' and I leave with the same anguish, repentance, fear and felicity in my heart. Every night I ponder over the past. I suffer and say to myself, 'Why did I not tell her then and how and what would I have told her?' I am going to take this letter with me so that I can give it to you in case I shall not have the courage or the opportunity to tell you everything myself. You are an honest woman, so tell me sincerely and honestly what must I do. But for heaven's sake do not be rash. If a month ago some one would have told me that I should suffer as I do now I should have died from laughter. Now my suffering is a happy martyrdom. Answer sincerely. Do you wish to be my wife?' But only if you can, say 'yes' fearlessly and with all your soul. If you have a shadow of a doubt it would be better to say 'No' at once. For heaven's sake question yourself well. I dread the answer, yet I foresee it, but I shall have fortitude enough to bear it. If as a husband I can not be loved as I love myself, it will be dreadful."

We have said that the letter is characteristic. The last sentence is an extraordinary confession, and throws a considerable light on the peculiar temperamental egoism of Tolstoi. The same note breaks out in a letter which he handed to his wife only after they were married. Two years before their marriage she had published a novel in which the hero was a certain Mr. Dubitsky. It is a gloomy letter, but it reveals Tolstoi in a familiar mood.

"Your novel is on my brain, because in Mr. Dubitsky I recognize myself. I have now convinced myself of what I only too often forget—namely, that I am Uncle Lyavon, and old and exceedingly unattractive devil who has to work alone, obstinately and seriously, at the work God has given him to do, and not dream of any other happiness except of the consciousness of a duly fulfilled. I get gloomy every time I look at you because your youth reminds me only too vividly of my own age and of the impossibility of my happiness. But to marry a woman merely to have a wife I can not. I claim the extreme, the anithesis of marriage. I claim to be loved as I love myself, but that is, however impossible.

Happiness Long Ideal.

The atmosphere of ideal happiness was without a cloud, and three years later, when he went to Moscow to get the necessary material for his novel, "War and Peace," he wrote in this delightful vein to his wife at home.

"I am sitting in my room alone on the top floor, and have just read your letter. I can not describe to you all the affection—affection even to tears—that I feel for you, and not merely now, but every minute of the day. For goodness sake do not give up writing to me every day until Saturday, as the letters arrive here only on the following day."

The picture of ideal happiness is complete, the dream that he had placed before himself, and which he had thought impossible, still continues. They have been twenty years married, and he writes to her in the vein of a young and amorous husband

"I am not anxious to see you," he writes from Moscow. "My love for you goes on increasing. You have become more dear and more interesting to me. The road to happiness is everywhere. It seems to me that a new bond has arisen between us, and I am terribly afraid that it should break. I feel so relieved, so well and well and Tolstoi's love letter so amorous with you. I hope you feel the same with me."

When we turn from the mere domestic details of their lives to those greater interests which were a firm bond between them, we find the picture no less satisfactory and complete. It was a quite and happy idyll on the background of which emerges "War and Peace." His wife was his chief critic and adviser when he was writing this novel, and in several of his letters we get one or two very intimate pictures of the novelist at work at his masterpiece.

Culminating Tragedy.

"How wise you are to write and tell me not to give my novel to any one to read," he writes; "but if this were not even wise I should still do as you tell me, because it is you who wish it. . . . . To-day I read all you had copied over again, and I felt that I was losing my hand. I tried to correct some of the passages, and I could not do it. On the whole, I began to feel disappointed in my talent, the more so as I have been in dictating yesterday frightful nonsense to Lisa. I know this is but a fleeting mood and will pass."

The culminating tragedy of Tolstoi's life is too well known for much comment. It is Shakespearean in its dramatic intensity and realism, and only comparable to the tragedy of King Lear. It is well for us to know that the cataclysm came only toward the very close of their lives. Tolstoi had not only become a convert to his own impracticable sociological ideas, but he had even attempted to carry them out in his own life and in the life of his family. The result was disaster. Countess Tolstoi, although her affection for him was still unchanged, took a firm stand on behalf of her children and there is nothing more pathetic in literary history than the grim struggle that went on in her soul when she saw the fruits of their long and happy union turn to dead ashes. Tolstois' flight from Yasnaya Polyana was a well-thought-out and deliberate plan. As early as 1907 he had conceived the idea, and he wrote a letter to his wife explaining his views and intentions which came to light after his death.

At Breaking Point.

"The fact that I have left you does not demonstrate that I do not love you. . . . On the contrary, I remember with love and gratitude the forty-five long years of our married life, especially the first half of that life, when you with all your maternal self-sacrifice so courageous and nobly performed your duties as wife and mother. You have given to me and to the world that which you could give. You have given much maternal love, and have made great sacrifices which are worthy of all praise. But during the last fifteen years of our life we seem to have gone astray. I can not think that I am guilty, because I could not do otherwise. Nor do I blame you, for not following me. I thank you, and I shall remember with love all that you have given me. Farewell, my dear Sonia. I love thee."

It was not until three years later that he took the tragic resolution to escape from the world. He was not alone in his flight. His daughter Alexandra, whom he called his most faithful fellow-worker" and Dr. Makoviczy went with him. The following pathetic farewell letter explains everything.

After Final Departure.

"Four o'clock, morning of November 10, 1910—My departure grieves you. I am sorry, I can not act in any other way, understand and believe me. My position at home is becoming and has become unbearable. I can not continue to live in the conditions of luxury in which I have lived and I am going to do now what most old people of my age generally do—retire from the worldly life in order to spend in peace and quietness the remainder of their existence. Please understand me, and do not follow me even if you know where I am. Such a course would make you and my position yet worse, but would not change my resolution. I thank you for the forty-eight years' honest life with me, and beg you to pardon me all my shortcomings, as I from the depth of my soul pardon whatever may have appeared faulty in you. I advise you to resign yourself to the new condition created by my departure, and not to feel any resentment against me. If you wish to communicate with me, tell Sasha; she will know where I am and send what is necessary. She can not tell you where I am, as I took her promise not to divulge this to any one."

The countess did follow him, however, but it was too late.

BOWIE MAY PLAY.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—Russell Bowie, hailed by many hockey fans as the greatest stick-handler who ever fooled a goal-tender, may turn out with the Victorias this year in the City League.

Bowie is still connected with the club, and as a matter of fact accompanied the team to New York last winter, playing in one or two of the games, and showing the same dazzling form as of old. Bowie had always resisted the efforts of the professional promoters to get him to join their ranks, but officials of the Victoria Club declare there is a strong prospect that he will turn out for one or two of the games this winter.

threatening to destroy the tanks of British oil interests. This led to talk of the possibility of the landing of marines or bluejackets from the American battleships, and developments in the situation have been awaited with intense interest.

General Aguilar's message, sent in reply to Admiral Fletcher's demand that no harm should come to foreigners or their property, said:

"I am governing on a constitutional basis, my attitude being to guarantee the interests of all foreign and domestic oil corporations existing in the territory I occupy, fulfilling in this manner the demands of civilization and not being governed by caprice or vengeance."

Officials here think this means that there will be no troublesome complications as a result of Aguilar's occupation of the oil fields territory. Destruction of the tanks would have endangered the lives of many Americans and other foreigners. Two British armored cruisers have been ordered to the scene, but in the meantime the United States had been asked to guard British interests.

Frequent conferences today between Secretary of State Bryan, Counsellor John Bassett Moore, of the State Department, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, acting Secretary of the Navy, and two visits by the Secretary of State to the White House, accompanied by Mr. Roosevelt, were the outward marks of the deep interest felt in official circles in the Mexican situation.

It developed that the welfare of the two Madero brothers and their relatives, who had sought asylum in the American consulate at Vera Cruz, was the feature of these conferences. There was a strong desire on the part of the administration to learn whether any resistance had been offered by the local Mexican authorities to the removal of the refugees aboard a battleship, and it was quite apparent that a sense of relief was experienced when it was learned that it had not been necessary to employ force.

Late in the day the department received a cablegram from Admiral Fletcher announcing that "Daniel Madero and five companions were received this morning on board the Louisiana as refugees."

It was said at the Navy Department that no special instructions had been given in regard to the treatment of the refugees, though the Admiral had been told to confer with John Lind, who last evening had been authorized by President Wilson himself to extend protection to the Maderos.

MONROE DOCTRINE ATTACKED

Diverse Views Expressed at Pan-American Conference.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 21.—The Monroe Doctrine was attacked and defended at today's sessions of the Pan-American Conference at Clark University. George F. Tucker of Boston, author of books on South American affairs, urged that the words "Monroe Doctrine" be given up and a policy of Pan-American defence adopted. Prof. Hiram Bingham of Yale expressed similar views.

Charles H. Sherrill, former American minister at Buenos Ayres, suggested that in case affairs in Mexico should make it necessary for the United States to intervene, Argentina or Brazil or some other South American country be invited to join.

Rear-Admiral French E. Chadwick, United States Navy, retired, and Prof James M. Callahan, of West Virginia, discussed the doctrine at the afternoon session.

Admiral Chadwick held that while the relations of the United States to the larger nations of South America should be as an equal among equals, the question of the Caribbean, the Gulf of Mexico and that part of the Pacific bordering Central America had a different status.

"Under no circumstances," said he, "can we brook any attempt on the part of foreign nations to secure new footholds in these regions. The protection of the Panama Canal, which is so vital a link in our defensive system, demands such an attitude."

Prof. Callahan defended the doctrine, saying that it had aided people who were struggling to free themselves from conditions imposed by European politics, and had prevented the partition of Latin-America. He declared that with the development of orderly government around the Caribbean Sea, the United States would gladly be relieved from the often-embarrassing responsibility by which it has sought to preserve constitutional government and peace on the western hemisphere.

MEXICAN PRESS ATTACKS WILSON

Reproaches Him for Countenancing Rebels.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—Commenting on the situation in an editorial article today El Pais says:

"Does President Woodrow Wilson not know or does he not care to know that in history and before the civilized world he will be obliged to answer the charges which humanity will make against Francisco Villa."

The article then recapitulates the crimes of murder and pillage attributed to Francisco Villa, the rebel leader, at Torreon and Juarez, alleging that if the revolution triumphs Villa will become Vice-President, Minister of War or some other functionary by virtue of the valuable services he has rendered to Venustiano Carranza, the Constitutional leader. It continues:

"This President Wilson should know and does know for a certainty, yet, wishing to justify his unwarranted and absurd meddling in our affairs, he chooses to protect Francisco Villa, the better to impose his will and caprice upon Mexico, even though such a course be the direct cause of crimes without number, such as have been committed at Torreon, Juarez and many other towns."

The Imparcial publishes today under a scare head the statement that the adherents of Carranza in the vicinity of Juarez shot two American army officers. This news is alleged to have been conveyed to the federal capital by private messages which declare that President Wilson is horrified by the infamous executions carried out by Villa, which have inclined him to give the Mexican question "the solution demanded by justice and common sense—that is to say, the recognition of the constituted government whose chief is the illustrious Huerta."

LORD COWDRAY GIVES INTERVIEW

London, Nov. 21.—Lord Cowdray, who has large oil, railway and other concessions in Mexico, in an interview today said he had learned with great interest from the newspapers that a British warship had been despatched to the Puerto Mexico terminus of the Tehuantepec Railway, which he owns, because, while that line is still running, the Mexican government lines which join it have been cut and therefore several thousand employes for whom he is responsible could only be aided by a warship.

Asked if he would be satisfied with the protection that could be given his interests at Tuxpam by the United States battleship Louisiana, Lord Cowdray answered: "Certainly. It is bound to protect my interests."

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY FOR TRAINS IN TRANSIT.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 21—Practicability of wireless telegraphy for the operation of railroad trains in transit was determined between this city and Binghampton, N.Y., this afternoon when the Scranton and Binghampton wireless stations of the Lackawanna Railroad were able to keep in touch constantly with the limited, the fastest train on the road. Messages were sent to and from the train and received perfectly, although it was passing through a mountainous region and the antejac on top of the cars is only two feet above the roofs.

On board the train at the time of the test were L. B. Foley, superintendent of telegraph, J. J. Graff, telephone engineer and M. L. Berger, expert wireless operator.

HINDU DEPORTATION CASE AT VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Nov. 21—Farther complications have arisen in connection with the deportation of Bhagwan Singh, the Hindu priest, who was shipped to the Orient on the Empress of Japan on Wednesday night by Immigration Inspector Reid. Bhagwan Singh had been under arrest by the police on a charge of assault and was held under a $500 bond supplied by his friends. The question now arises if the bail can be estreated.

SITUATION IS BAD IN SOUTH AFRICA

EUROPEANS ARM THEMSELVES IN FEAR OF DESPERATE INDIANS.

London, Nov. 22—The Daily Mail correspondent at Durban says apprehension exists there owing to the desperation of the hungry East Indians who are out on a general strike, and that Europeans are arming themselves in fear that the Indians will begin looting. The correspondent adds that the colliery employes are keeping the Indian workers in a barbed wire enclosure, the wire being charged with powerful electric current supplied by the generating stations.

BULGARIAN KING MAY ABDICATE

London, Nov. 22.—The Daily Mail correspondent in a despatch printed today repeats the report that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria is about to abdicate, and connects with it mysterious humors concerning Crown Prince Boris, who has left Sofia. According to some reports the Crown Prince quit the capital because he had received threatening letters, while others have it that he has gone to a sanitarium in Hungary owing to a nervous breakdown.

ATTEMPT MADE TO WRECK TRAIN

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 21.—The T. H. & B. officials made the discovery yesterday that attempts had been made to wreck trains on their freight spur line in the east end of the city. A section foreman found rail joints in several places plugged, and when he removed the obstructions, it was discovered twenty minutes later that the obstruction had been replaced at one point.

IS FATALLY INJURED IN DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 21.—Henry Bailey, of Rose Isle, a man aged 68 years, received injuries in a dynamite explosion today that will cause his death. He was blasting on a farm near Portsmouth. The charge of dynamite failed to go off, but when Bailey proceeded to investigate there was an explosion, and his arms and shoulder were badly mangled and his face severely burned by powder. He was removed to the General Hospital.

DARING AVIATORS.

Chanteloupe Does Remarkable Feat in Air.

Issy-Les-Moulineaux, France, Nov. 21.—M. Chanteloupe, an aviator, today in a biplane described a vertical circle, similar to the achievement of Adolphe Pegoud, who used a monoplane. This was the first vertical circle made in a biplane, the other previous performances in craft of this description being known as "loops on the wing," which fell short of being vertical.

Chanteloupe's flight was the most astounding since Fegoud turned in the air. He sent his machine head-downward in a corkscrew descent and righted it when only 150 feet above the ground. The aviator said afterward that the downward corkscrew is more difficult than the loop.

SOCIALIST TROUBLE AT SCHNECTADY

Schnectady, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Frank L. Dujay, a sub-foreman at the General Electric Company, second vice-president of the Schenectady Trades Assembly, and president of the Electrical Trades Alliance here, is the center of a trades union maelstrom which tonight threatened to end in a strike at the big plant here. Dujay is a Socialist. While the company has emphatically denied that he was picked out for a lay-off because of his political and trades union activity, his fellow workmen have taken such a view. Thousands tonight voted on a walkout tomorrow morning unless Dujay is given back his position. The walkout has not received the sanction of international officers and it is problematical what percentage of the 19,500 employes at the works may leave. The company has announced a lay-off of 2,000 hands because of a slump in business.

MONTREAL CITIZENS AND THE TRAMWAY

Montreal, Nov. 21—"Considering that the question of granting a new franchise to the Montreal Tramways Company is of the greatest importance to the welfare of the city and Island of Montreal; and,

"Considering that the present contract between the city of Montreal and the Montreal Street Railway has still nine years to run;

"Considering also that it is a question of making a new contract for a considerable number of years, and in view of the importance of the enormous changes proposed;

"It is the opinion of this association that no new contract should be concluded until a complete, careful and explicit study of the whole question of transportation has been made."

This formal resolution was passed this afternoon, at a meeting of the executive of the Montreal Citizens' Association, and ordered to be sent to the Board of Contrlo.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE ON VANCOUVER ISLAND

Vancouver, Nov. 21—F. C. Ackland, Deputy Minister of Labor, is here on his way east after making an investigation of the coal miners strike on Vancouver Island. He said:

"The tension which has existed for several months past appears to have been greatly relaxed. Excellent order prevails in all the camps and only the technical point of union recognition appears now to prevent a return to normal conditions. It is not quite clear what will take place on this latter point, but the trouble gives every appearance of diminishing.

COST OF LIVING TO BE SUBJECT OF AN INVESTIGATION

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR ORDERS INSPECTORS TO START AN ENQUIRY.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—Rumors which have reached the Labor Department concerning conditions in lumbering camps in Ontario and Quebec have led to an investigation being started by order of the Minister of Labor.

Officers of the department are being sent on a tour of inspection of all lumber camps, with orders to see to it that conditions conducive to the health of the men prevail. Proper sanitary provisions, and good healthy food will be demanded by the department, and where these are not provided, fines will be imposed.

In addition to this inquiry into the conditions prevalent in lumber camps, a number of special inquiries are proceeding in the Department of Labor as follows:

Into wholesale and retail prices of leading commodities at all points in Canada, bearing on the cost of living, into wages paid in all lines of industry at all important centres in Canada; into causes of all strikes and lockouts in Canada, the number of workmen concerned, amount of time lost, and results generally achieved; into labor organizations in Canada, and into a number of specific grievances alleged to exist in different parts of Canada.

LUTHERAN MOVEMENT.

Berlin, Ont., Nov. 21.—The organization of a Lutheran laymen's movement of Canada was completed here to-day, by a special committee appointed to draw up a constitution. Officers appointed are: President, C. L. Stiner, Unionville; vice-president, E. W. Coskopf, Zourich; English secretary, Dr. C. J. Johannesburg, Hamilton; German secretary, L. Peine, New Hamburg; treasurer, A. L. Bither, Berlin. The place for the next meeting was left to the executive committee.

RECEIVED SENTENCE TO PENITENTIARY.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 21—Franklin C. Cook and J. O. Hearn were sentenced at Victoria today to three and a-half years in the penitentiary for fraud in their operations in connection with the Bankers Trust.

The method employed by Cook and Hearn was along get-rich-quick lines, with two or more companies whose stock was juggled back and forth.

THE ANNEXATION OF MONTCALMVILLE

RESULT OF YESTERDAY'S VOTING MAKES IT PRACTICALLY ASSURED.

Voting on the annexation of Montcalmville to the City of Quebec began yesterday in that municipality, and will conclude at five o'clock this afternoon. The result of the first day's voting, however, makes annexation practically assured. Out of a total of 417 proprietors who are entitled to the franchise, no less than 279 voted yesterday and when the poll was closed it was found that there was a majority of 77 in favor of casting in their lot with the city. This means that the annexationists need only 31 votes out of the remaining 138 to have a majority of the total vote.

By the terms of the agreement the City agrees to assume the liability for the town of Montcalmville's debt, which exceeds $430,000 and to spend a sum of $250,000 during the next five years in the new ward which will be called Belvedere. The date of annexation will be April 30th.

C. M. B. A. APPOINTMENT.

Mr. R. Timmons, J.P., has been named Grand Deputy of the C. M. B. A. for the District of Quebec.

NEW ENGLISH GOODS.

Two cases of latest fall goods have arrived from England for J. H. Mullin of which one is the latest style English Silk Ties from 50c. up to $3.50 also Flannel Shirts.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Three prisoners charged with drunkenness appeared before the Recorder yesterday. One was fined $10 and costs or one month's jail; one $5 and costs or fifteen days and one was discharged.

CASE OF SMALLPOX ON C. G. S. CHAMPLAIN.

A man named Duchaine, who was employed on board the C. G. S. Champlain, at Henry wharf, became ill and was allowed to go to his home at Les Eboulement, after a doctor declared he was suffering from pleurisy. Subsequently, a doctor at Les Eboulements telegraphed the Marine Department that the man had developed smallpox.

Dr. Catellier visited the Champlain at once and had the vessel fumigated and all the crew vaccinated. He visited the vessel again yesterday, when he gave her a clearance, as all danger was passed.

ST. PATRICK' S CHURCH MISSION

The Mission being preached at St. Patrick's Church by the Rev. Fathers of the Redemptorist Order, for the men of the congregation, is drawing an immense attendance at every service, morning and evening. Last night the church was again crowded to its utmost capacity, and the Rev. Father O'Reilly, C.SS.R., preached a most eloquent sermon on the subject of the "home," and in a powerful logical argument impressed upon his hearers the fact "that if a husband is not loyal to his wife, or children not loyal to their parents in respect, obedience and filial love, they cannot be loyal to Jesus Christ or to their country."

POPULAR COMMERCIAL MAN.

Mr. Fred. Glackmeyer, of Montreal representing J. S. Fry & Son, spent the week in town on business, and registered at the Victoria. Mr. Glackmeyer, "Fred," as he is better known under that name, among his numerous friends, is one of the most popular Knights of the Grip in this Province, and at a recent meeting of the Dominion Travellers' Association, he was nominated as one of the directors of that prominent organization, and will be balloted for at the annual meeting to be held next month. As there are a very large number of commercial travellers in this district, there is no doubt that they will all line up for Fred. Glackmeyer.

S. P. C. A. SALE.

Bridge Tables Will Also Be Provided.

At the Ball, under the patronage of the Governor-General and the Duchess of Connaught, and the Lieut-Governor and Lady Langelier, which takes place next Tuesday, the 25th inst., it is necessary that tickets should be presented at the Chateau.

Bridge tables will be provided for those who care to play.

The ladies receiving will be Mrs. J. T. Ross, president of the Women's Branch; Mrs. Oscar Pelletier, vice-president; and Mrs. B. A. Scott.

SPEAKS 17 LANGUAGES. CAN HE EARN LIVING?

New York, Nov. 21—Fluency in 17 languages would not, in the opinion of the immigration autrorities, necessarily fit a man to support himself in the United States. Although Lucian Canala, a Roumanian immigrant, proved that he could speak all these, and seven Slavish dialects besides, he was detained at Ellis Island today pending further inquiry. Canala said he served as interpreter for some of the Boer generals in the South African war.

FIRE IN RENAUD'S LOOKED SERIOUS

DAMAGE TOTALLED $15,000, MOST BEING DUE TO SMOKE AND WATER.

A fire broke out yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in one of the warerooms of the firm of J. B. Renaud & Co., which threatened to develop into a serious conflagration, and therefore caused the sounding of a general alarm, which brought the entire fire brigade with their apparatuses to the scene.

The fire originated in the warehouse on St. Andrew street, in rear of the firm's cold storage, where lard and pickled fish are stored on the first floor, and flour and meal on the second and third floors. Fortunately, there was an excellent pressure of water, but owing to the inflammable nature of the surrounding buildings that comprise the J. B. Renaud Co. provision stores, and the immense amount of perishable goods in storage to the value all told of nearly a half million dollars, Chief Hamel and his deputies lost no time in coming to the conclusion to take no chances in the interest of salvage, and the word was passed to put the fire out at all hazards.

Firemen with chemicals rushed into the warehouse to cope with the flames and stay their spread, until the water was ready to pump on, and in less than ten minutes a half dozen hose were collected with nearby hydrants, and as many streams of water poured into the building. A few moments later a dozen streams were at play from every point of vantage, and the fire fighters climbing up ladders and to the flat roofs of the adjoining buildings, in a determination to cope with the fire, and confine it where it originated, without danger of spreading to the other stores.

In less than a half hour after the water was got to play the fire was under control, and a few moments later completely subdued. This was altogether owing to the immense volume of water that was pumped from the dozen or more streams into the building, which flooded every inch of the premises, and quenched every vestige of flame.

A large crowd of citizens were attracted to the fire, hundreds took observation from the Ramparts, while St. Paul and St. Andrew streets were crowded with people, who admired the good work of the firemen.

The loss entailed by the blaze will amount approximately to $15,000, fully covered by insurance. $3,000 on damage done to the premises, and $12,000 damage by smoke and water to the perishable provisions stored therein.

SHOPS OF FASHION-CRAFT SOLICIT YOUR PATRONAGE

Fashion-Craft Clothes are the best men's clothes made. If you want the best you can buy it at the same price as you would have to pay for an inferior article. The lowest price suit or overcoat made by Fashion-Craft will cost you $15.00, and it costs the same to make as the best price suit or overcoat they sell. More expensive garments cost more because of the higher price material used in their construction.

MOTOR TRAFFIC IN CANADA.

Over 12,400 more motor vehicles were in use in the Dominion on November 1st than at the end of last year, according to the figures compiled by the Automobile Club of Canada. The following are the totals for each of the provinces, including private and commercial vehicles and motor cycles:

| | 1912 | 1913. |
|---|---|---|
| Quebec | 3,597 | 4,706 |
| Ontario | 11,930 | 15,255 |
| New Brunswick | 280 | 789 |
| Manitoba | 3,943 | 5,016 |
| British Columbia | 4,666 | 7,044 |
| Nova Scotia | 867 | 1,300 |
| P. E. Island | ... | ... |
| Saskatchewan | 3,742 | 6,513 |
| Alberta | 2,835 | 3,640 |
| Yukon | 5 | 15 |

It is rather remarkable that the largest gains among the motor vehicle using provinces were made at the two ends of the continent—in New Brunswick and the Yukon, where the increases were over 300 per cent.

QUIET SITTING OF THE LEGISLATURE

MR. SAUVE WOULD KNOW IF CHARWOMEN ARE APPOINTED BY ORDER-IN-COUNCIL.

Yesterday's sitting of the Legislative Assembly was typical of all Friday afternoon meetings of the Lower Chamber, and after an hour's routine work the House adjourned until Monday evening at eight o'clock.

While the sitting itself was without any feature of undue interest, a document which had been awaited with unusual impatience was tabled by the Hon. P. S. G. Mackenzie, provincial treasurer, and that is the report of the License Commission of the Province of Quebec, of which a summary is given in another column.

Hon. Mr. Allard's resolutions to increase the annual grant to the Provincial Forestry School from five thousand to eight thousand dollars, were passed in Committee of the Whole, and afterwards a bill based on them was read a third time.

Among the public bills read a second time and referred to the Legislation Committee were:

Respecting the holding of elections, Mr. Lavergne; respecting officials belonging to the Militia of Canada, Mr. Lavergne; to amend article 137 of the Code of Civil Procedure, Mr. Stein; respecting certain declarations to be published by companies owning news papers, Mr. Lavergne.

The Private Bills read a second time and referred to the Private Bills Committee are:

To authorize the trustees of the Catholic Cemetery of St. Michel de Sherbrooke to transfer their cemetery to the Roman Catholic Episcopal Corporation of Sherbrooke, Mr. Therrien;

To prescribe a special manner of service upon certain creditors having a privilege and hypothec upon the immoveables No. 22b, of the official plan and book of reference of the parish of Boucherville, and Nos. 6 and 7 of the official plan and book of reference of the parish of St. Hubert, Mr. Desaulniers;

To incorporate the Town of De Lery, Mr. Robert (Beauharnois).

Among the petitions presented for private legislation was one by Mr. Stein to amend the charter of the Quebec and Island of Orleans Railway Company, seeking power to extend its lines from Quebec to Montreal, to establish a line of steamships between the two cities and to increase the borrowing powers of the company.

The private bills presented and read the first time were:

To amend the charter of the City of Montreal; to amend the charter of the city of Lachine; and several of others of minor importance.

Mr. Kelly's bills concerning the instituting of actions before the courts of the elected domicile and relating to the election of domicile, were presented and read a first time, as was Mr. Devlin's bill to amend the Quebec Mining Law, and Mr. Perron's bill to amend the Civil Code respecting substitutions.

NOTES.

Hon. Mr. Allard, Minister of Crown Lands, was leading the Government in the House yesterday, in the absence of Sir Lomer Gouin, who had left for Ottawa, to be invested with the Order of Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George, by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught.

Mr. Slater, of Argenteuil, has given notice of a question for Monday next in which he will ask what members of the Government of the Province of Quebec, are actually directors of commercial, financial or industrial corporations, and what is the remuneration received by each of those members.

Mr. Lavergne will ask if the employees of the Quebec Court House received an increase of salary. The names of those who have and those who have not had their salaries increased, and the reason why some have not had their salaries increased.

Mr. Lavergne will also ask if the Stadacona seat in the Legislative Council is vacant? If so, when did it become vacant? If the Government has received any applications to fill the vacancy, and if so, from whom? If there have been no applications, when will the Government fill the vacant seat?

Mr. Sauve has given notice of two questions concerning charwomen in the employ of the Government, in which he will enquire with regard to their terms of employment, if they were appointed by order-in-council, and if pensions will be granted to them?

Mr. Lavergne's motion to bring the editor of the Herald before the Bar of the House on the accusation of having calumniated the member for Laval, will most likely come up on Monday.

C. P. R. DISPUTE.

Maintenance of Way Men Agree to Arbitration Board.

Winnipeg, Nov. 21—What threatened to become an open rupture between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its maintenance of way men has simmered down, the parties having agreed to the appointment of an arbitration board.

Approximately 22,000 men are affected, consisting of about 5,000 men engaged on eastern lines and 17,000 in the west.

The men have demanded an increase averaging 15 per cent., which in some cases runs as high as 25 per cent.

The arbitration board will consist of Judge Meredith, chairman; Welter Nesbitt, K.C., Toronto, representing the company, and W. Irwin for the men.

It is expected that the board will meet next Monday in Montreal.

HARVARD AND YALE WILL CLASH TODAY

LATTER NOW BELIEVE THEIR TEAM HAS GOOD CHANCE OF VICTORY.

New York, Nov. 21.—The Harvard stadium will be the mecca toward which the eyes of all faithful eastern football followers will turn tomorrow, for on the green turf of that arena, surrounded by towering walls of humanity, will come the climax of the gridiron season in the meeting of the elevens of Harvard and Yale. Other games are scheduled for eastern football fields, but none rise to the rank of this contest which may definitely decide the championship of this section of the football world. There is the same undergraduate interest and rivalry in the Wesleyan-Trinity, Syracuse-Carlisle, Lehigh-Lafayette, Stevens-Rutgers, Army-Springfield and Navy-New York University games, but the fame and tradition of the gridiron classic at Cambridge over shadows all other contests of the day.

In both play and attendance the game promises to prove its right to be classified as the feature football event of the season. For more than a week the alumni of the two universities have been gathering in Boston for the struggle and tonight the thousands were augmented by the advance of the entire Yale ungraduate body from New Haven. This unanimous support of the Eli eleven by the student body is a factor of great importance since the Blue team, by its great rally and exhibition of high class playing form in the Princeton game has won the faith and encouragement needed to make it a most formidable opponent for the all-conquering Crimson in the final game of the year.

In place of the early season hope of holding Harvard to a low score victory, Yale now believes that her team has an excellent chance of defeating the Bambridge combination decisively and the Eli players will enter the stadium confident in the support of their classmates and their ability to give the Crimson a terrific battle for inter-Varsity football honors.

YALE COACHES OPTIMISTIC.

Captain Ketcham also Confident This Morning that Elis will Trim the Harvard Team.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 21—Yale's final ovation to its football players and coaches this morning was the most enthusiastic on record. Several hundred undergraduates gave Captain Ketcham a round of cheers and he responded as follows:

"I want to thank you for the spirit you showed Saturday. I am sorry we didn't win. I thought we were going to win. I wish all the men who played on the team Saturday were here to see the spirit you are showing today. I don't want to predict anything about Saturday, but no Yale team has ever had more loyal support, and whether we win or whether we lose, that team is going in with everything that is in them, and we are going to do better than last Saturday. We feel that we can beat a team twenty-five per cent stronger than we are because of the spirit you have put into it."

Head Coach Jones said:

"There is just one thing I want to say, I do believe in my heart that this Yale team will give every ounce that is in them in the game on Saturday, and that if it is in the team physically, we are going to win. We have a better team than a lot of people think."

Assistant Coach Bomeisler said:

"Three weeks ago people were saying how rotten we were. Odds were three to one that Harvard would win. Now the betting is ten to nine on Yale. We showed the public what we had in us. There is not going to be any individual star Saturday but every Yale man is going to lick his Harvard man, and that brings success."

F. J. Daly, 1911, captain of the 1910 team, said:

"For the last two or three years it has been customary to say how rotten Yale was, and how wonderful Harvard and Princeton were. But if we look back we can see some of those rotten teams that "came back," and I believe from looking over the team out there today, that it has the makings of a champion."

RHODES SCHOLARS.

The Dean Defends the Athletic Situation.

Oxford, Eng., Nov. 21.—A. N. S. Jackson, dean of the Oxford University athletes, and treasurer of the Oxford University Athletic Club denies that the new rules limiting the eligibility of Rhodes scholars to compete in the univtrsity sports are the direct outcome of recent victories by Rhodes students. He says the matter was discussed in 1911, and that unless some action along this line had been taken the Oxford University Athletic Club soon would have ceased to exist because all the energy would have been damped.

Lord Desborough expresses approval of an age limit for competitors in all university sports. He says it is not fair to run men who have been in competition for four years against those who have been in athletics but three years.

CANADIAN PONIES TAKE HIGH HONORS

BROCKVILLE ENTRIES CARRY OFF BLUE RIBBON AT NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 21.—Master and Masterpiece, the splendidly matched pair of ponies exhibited by Major C. W. McLean, of Brockville, Ont., were again in the limelight today at the Horse Show. As in the Olympia Show in London, they carried off the blue ribbon in the class of ponies in harness, and excited the admiration of the older lovers of horses as well as that of the children present. In the class for ponies not exceeding 13 hands 2 inches, Masterpiece took the blue ribbon and Master the red.

Chief honors went to foreigners in the feature event of the afternoon program the trial of hunters over the water jump, a leap at first of 15 feet and finally widened to 18 feet. Twenty-three horses were exhibited in the spectacular event.

First prize went to Romeo, exhibited by the French government and ridden by Lieut. Le Marquis D'Orgeix; second, Ramuncho, owned and ridden by Chevalier Edward De Selliers De Moranville, Belgium; third, Commander, exhibited by Squadron "C" Farm, United States Army, and ridden by Dennis Stockton; fourth, Mayfair, exhibited by Captain J. W. Sifton, Canada, and ridden by Jack Hamilton.

The Alfred B. MacLay Cup for hunters was won by Lansdown, exhibited by Gerald T. Hanley and ridden by F. Ambrose Clark. Ruby and Lasca, handled by R. E. Moreland and entered by E. T. Stotesbury, were awarded first prize in the class for road pairs and in the championship event of this class. In the harness horse class, Judge William H. Moore's Beautiful won first and his Roderick Dhu fourth honors.

In the class of winners for the championship cup presented by Charles E. Coxe, the stallion J. Malcolm Forbes, owned by J. R. McGowan of Stirling, Ky., carried off the silver ribbon. It was reported that the Russian government later made an offer of $40,000 for this horse.

SIMARD IS DEFEATED.

Ottawa, Nov. 21—Hokuf defeated Simard in two falls at St. Anne's Hall tonight. Cazeaux was to have wrestled Simard, but he failed to show up, and the Iowa man was substituted. He took the first fall on a foul and the second with the toe hold.

HOLD HIM, INDEED.

One of them related to a christening ceremony that was taking place in a church in a mining district. The infant that was to be christened was very gloriously arrayed. Among other things it wore a splendid bonnet, which, when the critical moment arrived, the mother had some difficulty in removing.

With the eyes of the congregation upon her the poor woman was greatly flustered, and her attempts to hold the baby and take its bonnet off at the same time seemed likely to end in her dropping the infant on the floor.

The clergyman turned rather impatiently to the father, a tremendously powerful looking collier, who was standing stolidly watching his wife's struggles.

"Can you hold the child?" he asked sharply.

The big collier turned a disdainful glance on the minister, rather a diminutive man. "Haud him!" he whispered fiercely. "Man, I could fling him ower the kirk—an you tae!"—Pearson's Weekly.

SNEEZES AND LOSES A MEAL.

"Bill" Snyder Circumvents El Capitan's Cannibalistic Design.

"Bill" Snyder, head keeper in the Zoo in Central Park, was seated in the hay house yesterday afternoon when an excited young woman rushed in. The pelican had just swallowed two pigeons, she exclaimed.

"That happens about twice a month," said Snyder and laughed.

"But the poor birds! What becomes of them?" cried the visitor.

"They wait until the pelican sneezes," said Snyder. "Come with me. I'll show you."

Snyder led the way to the large bird cage. El Capitan, the largest pelican, looked sheepish, and the pouch under her great bill bulged enormously. Snyder called "Bob" Hurton, another keeper.

"Are you ready?" he asked.

"I am," said Hurton.

"El Capitan!" they roared together. The great bird started, opened her bill, and out flew the pigeons.

"You see," explained Snyder, "their feathers were dry, and a bird cannot swallow a dry feathery substance. So we startle the pelican by shouting her name, and that gives the pigeons a chance to escape."—New York Times.

WRESTLING GAME IS ON THE DECLINE

DOUBLE DEFEAT OF HACKENSCHMIDT KILLED AMERICANS' INTEREST IN SPORT.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 21—It is a deplorable but incontestable fact that public interest in wrestling is slowly but surely dying out. Both as an exercise and a money-drawing spectacle the game has ceased to attract, and, excepting a few amateur enthusiasts in America and England and a sprinkling of professional performers scattered throughout the world, there are none who take the game seriously.

A few years ago there was just a chance of a great revival—George Hackenschmidt and Frank Gotch booming the game for that period—but the band of European fakers rushed in for a brief spell to gain easy money, and the mischief was done. Both in America and England the sport has suffered at the hands of these Polish champions, Terrible Greeks and Galician Lions, and it will be a long time, if ever again, before the old pastime is looked upon with favorable eye. The public was ready to pay big money in London for first-class wrestling, as was shown at the first Hackenschmidt-Madrali match. The Turk had been very well served by a first-class press agent, and everybody, except those immediately concerned, were under the impression that he was a prospective world beater.

Even after the first fiasco, which lasted less than a minute, the long-suffering Londoners were willing to stand for the same stuff again, only to get as badly left as before. Madrali was no more a champion wrestler than William Taft, and the people who foisted him onto the British public were not allowed to run another show of this class. A year or so afterward London was inflated with Greeks, Galicians, Poles, all with awe-inspiring names, and the bunch played a merry game beating one another, until a smart press man discovered that they were all under the same management.

The Zbyszco-Gama farce put the lid on the game completely, and from that time London and, in fact, England has been free from the taint of professional wrestling. Had Hackenschmidt defeated Frank Gotch in either of his matches the game might have been kept alive a while longer, but the conclusive victories of the Humboldt giant killed Hack's reputation here, and he has not fulfilled any vaudeville contracts since. Amateur wrestling is practiced in a quiet sort of way in England, but the champion meets fail to attract anything like a crowd, and the class of the performers is not a very high standard. In Finland, Russia, Germany and Switzerland there are a goodish number of wrestlers who shine at Olympic meets in the Graeco-Roman style, but their amateur status is one that would not bear very close inspection.

PLANS REPARED FOR MEXICAN INVASION

A few days ago Senator Penrose said that he would not be afraid to march from the border to Mexico City with an army of 10,000 Americans behind him, and in the certainty of arriving on schedule time with his army practically intact. On the other hand, a high military authority, who reported to President Taft three years ago as to the cost of intervention in Mexico, calculated that it would require an army of half a million men two years to accomplish the task. Incidentally he figured that it would cost a million dollars a day, or more than $700,000,000, for the necessary period. It is plain that what the ordinary civilian means by intervention is very different from what army men understand by it. Senator Penrose, for instance, seemed to suppose that intervention consisted of marching an army to the capital, driving out Huerta, and going home again. As a matter of fact the real work would just have begun when the capital was occupied and the existing Government overthrown.

American Plans Ready.

Since the Mexican problem has been rather acute for three years, and since talk of American intervention has been more or less current in that time, it is not to be supposed that a plan for military intervention has not been already decided upon. Indeed, it is asserted from Washington on good authority that the experts have been making their plans for years, and know exactly what they will have to do when the word comes. Moreover, they will set about it at once. The sort of invasion mentioned by Senator Penrose will be the mere curtain raiser. A small American army will cross the border, occupy Matamoras, Nuevo Laredo, Juarez, Piedras Negras and Nogales. Battleships on the east coast of Mexico will seize and blocade Tampico, Vera Cruz, Campeche, Progreso, Puerta, Mexico, while on the other coast Guayamas, Mazatlan and Salina Cruz will be held. In view to the relative strength of the two navies, and the fact that an expeditionary force is already near the Texas border, it is not unreasonable to suppose that these steps can be swiftly and certainly accomplished.

What Intervention Means.

At Vera Cruz a force can be landed, and will proceed to Mexico City, while from the northern border another force will converge upon it. The telegraphs and railroad lines will be held, and upon three sides Mexico can be shut off from the outside world and her trade paralyzed. In fact, she would be considered conquered by judges in a sham battle, but it is at this point that the difference between war and sham battles begins. The Huerta Government overthrown, there would remain three things to be done. In the first place, the lives and property of foreigners living in Mexico would have to be protected, and since the foreign population is scattered over thousands of miles, it is plain that no small central force would be of any use in bringing this about. Then law and order would have to be restored, a process that would certainly require time, and finally the Mexicans would have to be presented with a constitutional Government, and an election held.

Guerilla Warfare.

It was with these considerations in mind that the army expert estimated that half a million soldiers would be required for two years to secure effective intervention. There is no country in the world better suited for successful guerilla warfare than certain parts of Mexico, and, as has been pointed out in The Mail and Empire before, the Mexican problem is the problem of quelling thousands of bands of thugs operating over a territory of many thousands of square miles. No army can pursue them. They will have to be hunted down by a great number of small forces, each strong enough to accomplish this task in the face of the sullen hostility of the entire population and resistance on the part of a couple of armies, and having accomplished it, to remove what is said to be the trouble at the bottom of the whole Mexican trouble, the land trouble, is the task that awaits the United States if it is to effectively intervene.

Not Like Last War.

The last war with Mexico was a short one, and glorious enough for the American soldiers, but the present war will be very different. Then all that was necessary was to meet the Mexican army and defeat it, and seize California, Texas having already been seized. In that war American forces easily defeated Mexican forces much stronger numerically, and there is little reason to doubt that the Americans can duplicate the victories of 1846. It is claimed by Huerta that he has an army of 80,000 men under his command. Carranza, the leader of the Constitutionalists, has a force of equal number. Whether these would combine against the United States or whether Carranza would fight side by side with the Americans is a problem. However, the United States army numbers only 80,000, and there is 100,000 militia. It is plain that at least 250,000 Americans must leave their ordinary occupations if intervention is to succeed, and before this army is enrolled Congress will have to meet and sanction it. The President's control ends with authority over the existing army.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

Coroner Jolicoeur held an inquest yesterday morning on the body of Harry Lilleman, who was drowned near the Quebec Bridge. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

The trial of the Gothenburg and Bergen systems in all cities of more than 4,000 population. By these systems the attraction of profit is taken away from the individual, by contributing all profit on the business to the state and the municipalities.

The execution of the new law by two license commissioners, one at Montreal and the other at Quebec.

The strict maintenance of the new law for a period of, at least, five years, so as to allow of a complete trial.

The Commissioners begin with a summarized historical review of the Quebec License Law as well as the Canada Temperance Act.

Against Prohibition.

Treating on prohibition the Commissioners assert that it was clearly proved a few years ago that the immense majority of the population of this province is opposed to prohibition, and that such a measure would be contrary to public sentiment in the province.

"In so far as we are concerned," the Commissioners report, "we are not prepared to say that such a measure would be in the interest of the province. Experience, the great teacher, has convinced us that prohibition in populous towns would not succeed here any more than it has done elsewhere."

Gothenburg System.

Referring to the systems in vogue in Gothenburg, Sweden, and in Bergen, Norway, to deal with the liquor traffic, the object being to eliminate from the traffic in intoxicants the incentive of gain, they say that they cannot recommend their adoption throughout the whole province, but recommend a trial of them in cities and towns of 4,000 souls or more, always excepting Montreal and Quebec.

How to Combat Alcoholism.

Under the above heading the last chapter of the report contains a large number of important suggestions, and starting off with the education of the people it states:—

"The most effectual way is to educate the people. It will be useless for the legislator to enact the wisest laws, if the people are not convinced of their wisdom; for such laws will not be obeyed. In the words of Thiers, speaking on an analogous subject: "No law more than this one requires the support of the public morals."

"The bringing about of temperance is not the work of a day or of a year; it calls for constantly renewed efforts. Each new generation inherits the appetite for drink transmitted to it by that which has gone before; at certain times, which might also be looked upon as periodical, a wave of alcoholic passion spreads over the world; the work of the reformer has to be perpetually renewed and never ends. Those who would wish to see their hopes speedily realized, should bear this truth in mind.

"Force and rage combined are violence, and violence in this matter has never done any good. It intimidates at the time, but it does not convince, and it is by being convinced that temperance is best for them and for their happiness that men will become temperate. Temperance was never established by texts of law. The law comes to the assistance of a well prepared and matured public opinion; it is powerless if this opinion be not serious or be the result of fear.

Reduce Quebec Licenses.

"Under a law in force since a year the number of hotel and restaurant licenses in the city of Quebec has been reduced to sixty. We would suggest that this number be further reduced to fifty, by eliminating as far as possible those restaurants which are in close proximity to hotels.

"We would suggest that the number of hotel and restaurant licenses in Montreal city be fixed at three hundred and fifty, and that all the noxious saloons now in existence be removed.

"We also recommend that the above numbers, in Montreal and Quebec, be not increased during five years, whatever may be the growth of the population in either of the said cities during that period.

The Bar Room.

"It is the bar-room that works the greatest evil amid the population, and it is to it especially that the Legislator must direct his attention.

"We recommend to the Government the gradual suppression of all bars.

"The bar is of English and American origin; it has been introduced into this province, but it is not in harmony with the manner of its inhabitants.

"The bar, with few exceptions, does not exist in France, nor on the continent of Europe. Those who wish for a drink take it in large rooms where there are tables and chairs as in a dining room.

"This is the kind of arrangement we should wish to see substituted for bars and bar-rooms, not all at once, but gradually and little by little.

Change to be Gradual.

"It is only by way of toleration that certain persons are allowed to sell intoxicating liquors, and these persons must be prepared to make sacrifices.

"Besides, as we have said, the existing licensees will not be compelled to make this change, which will take place gradually; at the death of a licensee, for example, or upon his giving up his business voluntarily or otherwise the purchaser of the business will be required to replace the bar by the new system. He will be obliged to serve his customers, no longer at a bar, but at table, in a room specially fitted up for the purpose.

"This method of reform removes all reason for complaint on the ground of acquired rights; the change will bear upon the new licensees only.

"Needless to say that the present license holders are invited, although not obliged, to remove their bars at once and to replace them by the new system.

"But it may be urged that the change will operate to the detriment of the heirs of a licensee.

The Public Interest.

"To this objection there is a peremptory answer; if the change diminishes the value of the establishment, it can only be by reason of the decrease in the consumption of alcohol; but this decrease is in the public interest, and the public welfare must always override private interests. Nor can the heirs allege in their own behalf any legal or moral right, inasmuch as the licensees are annual permits, which terminate at the end of each year.

"So much as regards the existing license holders.

Retail Liquor Shops.

As we have already seen there are 548 retail liquor shop licenses in the city of Montreal. This is too great a number.

We suggest that the number of retail liquor shops should not exceed that of hotels and restaurants.

"The retailing of intoxicating liquors shall be separated from grocery business with the exception of the establishments of existing license holders. Where there is no actual retail license the separation of the two businesses shall be a condition of the granting of the license."

Two Districts.

The commission propose that the province be divided into two districts corresponding with the divisions of the Court of Review. There shall be two commissions. Beyond their actual powers, they shall have the power to superintend the execution of the law throughout the province, to appoint inspectors and officers, to supervise hotels, etc. Each commission shall be composed of three members, of whom two shall be magistrates and one a doctor. The commission shall have the right, at its discretion, of refusing a municipal council the privilege of reducing the number of licenses. No municipal influence shall be necessary in the matter of the control of the license revenue. Hotel and restaurant license holders having bars in their establishments shall defray the expenses necessary for the fulfillment of the law, and shall pay in addition to the cost of their license, 25 per cent of such cost. Nothing shall be exacted from those who prefer to change their system and abolish their bars.

Wine and Beer Trade.

With regard to the demand which has been made to create more favorable conditions for the wine and beer trade, the commissioners consider that the existing conditions should not be changed with the exception that it would be important to restrict the bottle trade in the country.

The report contains a special chapter on the reform of drunkards, the commissioners expressing the opinion that great indulgence should be shown to persons arrested for the first or second time on a charge of drunkenness, and that all possible precaution should be taken for their reform.

Additional Recommendations.

In short, the commissioners make the following recommendations: The adoption of a standard of two and a half per cent of proof alcohol for non-alcoholic liquors; a law providing that no place where liquor is sold shall be allowed within 300 feet of a church, chapel, convent, public school, factory, public market, or store, or any place where more than twenty-five people are employed; that no "samples" shall be sold outside cities and towns; that no intoxicating liquor shall be sold at exhibitions or races; the abolition of C. O. D. delivery of intoxicating liquors; three months' imprisonment without the option of a fine for the landlords or tenants of houses of ill-fame which keep intoxicating liquors; severe penalties for adults who buy intoxicating liquor for a minor, or for a retailer who connives thereat; that no druggist be allowed to sell more than six ounces of alcohol at a time; that on festivals and Dominion Day no alcoholic liquor shall be sold; that in the cities of Quebec and Montreal the opening hour be made 7:30 a. m. instead of 7; that no intoxicating liquors shall be delivered after 7 p. m. on Saturdays; that there shall be no bars on steam boats, drinks only being served at table or in the cabins; that retailers in the bottle trade be prohibited from travelling in the country and selling from house to house; that advertising by means of suggestive pictures which tend to creating the belief that bodily or physical strength is acquired by using certain liquors, be made illegal.

In conclusion, the Commissioners point out that the law as it stands has allowed of the establishment of prohibition in more than two-thirds of the rural municipalities of this province, and that the result shows that the municipal control of licenses in the rural districts has been favorable to temperance.

The commissioners believe that when the Legislature shall have made certain amendments in the law with the exception of certain modifications of detail, that law should remain in force for five years to allow a fair test of the new system. Finally, the commissioners state that the temperance movement is growing, thanks to the efforts of temperance societies and good-will of the Government, loyally supported by the Legislature.

"The question of the sale of intoxicating liquors is a very large one, and it is not without considerable anxiety that we have reached the conclusion set forth in our report. We do not pretend that this report is the last word on the question, but if we have succeeded in rendering some service for our fellow citizens our efforts will not have been in vain."

"DYNIMITERS" WILL GO TO THE ONTARIOS.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Manager Murphy, of the Ontarios, has received word from Howard McNamara, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to the effect that he would be in town in a few days to talk over the matter of signing for the coming season. McNamara has been in the north woods for three weeks on a hunting expedition, and reports that he is in condition to get into the game.

George McNamara, who, with Howard, was the backbone of the Tecumseh team last season, will also be with the Ontarios, provided a suitable contract is offered him.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Arguments in Case of C. P. Railway versus Roy.

Ottawa, Nov. 21—In the Supreme Court today the arguments were concluded in the appeal of Lamoureux vs. Craig, and judgment was reserved.

The arguments then proceeded in the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company vs. Roy. The respondent was a commercial traveller in the employ of Bate & Company, in Ottawa, and was very seriously injured in the accident which occurred in Hull on March 8th, 1912, so that, according to the evidence, he may never again be capable of resuming his former employment, although he may perhaps be able to work as a clerk; this incapacity resulting from injuries to the cervical vertebra at the base of the neck and other minor injuries which had seriously affected his nerves and his general health. The action was brought for $30,000 damages and on the verdict of the jury judgment was entered for $21,075, which included an assessment for general damages in addition to certain specific items found by the jury. On appeal the Court of King's Bench affirmed this judgment. Trenholme and Cross, JJ. dissenting. The company appeals to have the damages reduced by about one-half as to the item of $18,000 on the ground that the assessment was excessive and unreasonable in the circumstances and that the jury had not made a complete answer to the question under which this item was awarded by stating the nature of the disability and incapacity for which they considered this item of damages should be allowed. Judgment was reserved.

F. E. Meredith, K.C., for appelant; Henry Aylen, K.C., for respondent.

The hearing of appeals from the Province of Ontario may be taken up on Tuesday next.

"SAFETY FIRST."

Here are some "Safety First" maxims given out by Mr. N. S. Dunlop to a meeting of railway men at an address in Montreal:—

"Don't throw anything out of a moving train. It's a bad thing to get a mail bag in the stomach from an express running thirty miles an hour.

"A brakeman should not sit down on the track and be run over by the train he went to flag.

"It takes less time to prevent an accident than it does to fill up Form 74 (the accident report form).

"Don't fool with machines. They can be replaced. Hands cannot.

"You can start a 'Safety First' committee right in your own home.

"Get the 'Safety First Habit.'

"Stop supporting the undertaker and the artificial limb maker.

"No man should go twenty-four hours without placing his insurance."

Mr. Dunlop is an enthusiast for "Safety First," a movement which was started on the C. P. R. so long ago as 1885.

As Claims Adjuster of that Company, Mr. Dunlop has had to deal with many sad experiences due to neglect of "Safety First" principles.

LISTEN MOTHER, DO BE CAREFUL

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea give a teaspoonful of 'California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups, plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

The body-building power of Bovril proved to be from 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

In the remarkable experiments upon human subjects conducted in a well-known British physiological laboratory and reported to the British Medical Association, Bovril was conclusively proved to have a body-building power of from 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

In each case the addition of Bovril to the regular diet showed a definite increase in bodily weight—out of all proportion to the Bovril taken.

This remarkable increase was due firstly to the nourishing value of Bovril itself, and secondly to the fact that Bovril possesses the peculiar power of enabling the system to extract from other foods nourishment which would otherwise be wasted.

Drink Bovril—the proved body-builder, to maintain strength and to fortify the body against the attacks of disease.

Bovril is the concentrated goodness of the best of beef. It is a wonderfully warming winter beverage; it builds up the weak constitution and strengthens the strong one; it guards against the grip; it checks colds and chills; it is cook's right hand in the kitchen; it is nurse's first aid in the sick-room. # Two Ways To Shop For Christmas

Which Way Will YOU Choose ?

(A) Hurry madly from shop to shop, comparing as best you can their offerings and prices—and always with the haunting suspicion that your friends have themselves already examined and priced the very gifts you at last are compelled to buy for them—gifts that lack the charm of novelty.

or

(B) Suffer many disappointments on account of the limited variety of gifts offered by local shops. Perhaps even make tiresome and costly trips in search of what you cannot possibly discover nearer home.

(C) And finally be immensely disappointed by finding, probably on Christmas Eve, that some of the things you bought at the last moment cannot be delivered until many days after Christmas. A gift received late loses half its charm.

(A) Sit comfortably at home and look through the hundred and sixteen pages of Birks' Christmas Catalogue, giving pictures, descriptions and prices of the very best and most appropriate Christmas offerings. These gifts you can compare at leisure, and when you finally present them, they will have the great charm of novelty.

(B) Choose from the inexhaustible stocks of the largest Gift Shop in Canada, as presented in Birks' Christmas Catalogue; and then buy them by mail and have them delivered prepaid to your own door.

(C) Then, having made your selections and checked up your list in plenty of time, you will know that everything has been delivered so punctually that you can spend Christmas week in far more pleasant pursuits than last-minute shopping.

Plan now to do your Christmas shopping in this pleasant, effortless way.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, November, 1813 and 1913.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A Tale of Two Cities.

Thirty years ago, the Montreal Gazette sent the following warning to the Quebec newspapers concerning a young girl named Arthemise Patry, who, after robbing a Mr. Richard of Montreal, by whom she was employed, of a large sum of money, she decamped and shortly afterwards turned up in Quebec. It appears that she boarded with a Mrs. Frechette, to whom she represented herself to be a lady of means. She wore flashy jewelry and an eye glass, and did a lot of driving about the town. At the end of five days, however, she entered the Bon Pasteur as a penitent, but two days afterwards, the rules not being strict enough for her, she left. The next heard of her, she was in Dr. Belleau's employ at the Isle of Orleans, where she managed to reap a rich harvest. The police being communicated with, sent her to the Bon Pasteur to await the necessary papers from Montreal regarding her operations there, the papers not arriving as was expected.

Quebec Police Too Confiding.

The Quebec Police placed her on board the Montreal boat on her promising to enter the Bon Pasteur as soon as she arrived, her promise to the confiding Quebec police was, however, soon forgotten, and as soon as she arrived in Montreal, she set to work once more to prey upon society, and to what extent she succeeded many Montreal citizens know to their sorrow. The Montreal "finest" have their little weaknesses, but they are not in the same class as the police of the Ancient Capital.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

The Battle of Dresden.

Bonaparte has again left Dresden for Selesia, the disasters of his army there under Macdonald requiring his presence. The Allies had retired within the borders of Bohemia, again moved towards Dresden; 50,000 men were dispatched to co-operate with Blucher. After Bonaparte had left again for Dresden, Macdonald took a strong position in the neighborhood of Jauer. There he was attacked by Blucher and driven from his position, leaving on the ground 50 pieces of artillery and sustaining a loss of 10,000 men taken prisoners. On the two following days Blucher pursued the retreating French and took 50 more cannon, and 5,000 prisoners. The French retreated across the Bober, still closely pursued by the indefatigable Blucher, until they were met by Bonaparte, who had proceeded by rapid marches from Dresden to their aid. Here, according to the French accounts, Blucher again in his turn retreated across the Baber, and the Emperor again returned to Dresden. After the battle of Dresden Ney had been dispatched by Bonaparte to reinforce and command the French troops. A great battle was fought about 70 miles from Dresden, where the French were again compelled to retreat with a loss of 6,000 killed and 10,000 prisoners, 80 cannon and 400 waggons.

If the public were aware of the great advantage of Toric Lenses over the ordinary kind, Torics would be the only kind in demand. The focus of those glasses is absolute, while in the ordinary flat glasses it exists in a limited space only. These are recommended by oculists as the only lens to prescribe.

ENGLISH HAND-MADE LACE

MADE BY THE COTTAGERS OF BUCKINGHAMSHIRE.

This is the old-fashioned lace made on the cushion, and was first introduced into England by the Flemish Refugees. It is still made by the village women in their quaint old way.

Our Laces were awarded the Gold Medal at the Festival of Empire and Imperial Exhibition, Crystal Palace, LONDON, ENGLAND, for general excellence of workmanship.

BUY some of this hand-made Pillow Lace, it lasts MANY times longer than machine made variety, and imparts an air of distinction to the possessor, at the same time supporting the village lace-makers, bringing them little comforts otherwise unobtainable on an agricultural man's wage. Write for descriptive little treatise, entitled "The Pride of North Bucks," containing 200 striking examples of the lace makers' art, and is sent post free to any part of the world. Lace for every purpose can be obtained, and within reach of the most modest purse.

DENTISTRY FOR TREES.

All Cavities Should Be Treated as Soon as They Appear.

Whether the shade or fruit tree a little judicious treatment of a cavity will often save the tree for many years of usefulness. Whether it be a branch or the main trunk the treatment will be the same. First all decayed or apparently decaying or diseased wood should be removed with a sharp chisel or knife until perfectly sound heartwood is exposed. Immediately wash the wound with a solution of copper sulphate in the proportion of one pound of sulphate to five gallons of water.

As soon as this has been done fill the cavity with a thin mortar made by mixing one part of cement with three parts of clean sand. When it has become stiff, but not hard, face it on the outside with thin cement, using a trowel to smooth the cement over all parts that have become injured. If a cavity or split should occur near a fork of the tree it would be an additional safeguard to put a long bolt through both branches so as to hold them together. When the cement hardens in a cavity the trunk will be perfectly solid, and decay will be arrested.—Farm and Fireside.

N. Y. COTTON EXCHANGE PROPOSES AMENDMENTS.

New York, Nov. 21.—The Board of Managers of the Cotton Exchange today proposed amendments to the by-laws putting into effect a monthly revision of differences on spot quotations, and vesting in the board the power to change the grade standards. The board approved a new rule, to take effect January 1, 1914, which in substance, will prohibit the extension of credit to any person or firm other than members of the New York Cotton Exchange.

These changes were made upon the recommendation of a special committee appointed to consider the question of changing existing type standards, and making other modifications in the present form of contract.

MAKING HAIR GROW

It appears that in all the world there has been discovered one drug—and Only one—that actually stimulates to renewed action the follicles and cells that nourish the hair and thereby make it grow—even on bald heads. That drug is a standard article of commerce well known to the drug trade. The National Standard Dispensatory says it acts as a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair. Therefore, even if you have tried a hundred kinds of hair tonic without that drug, you have not proven that a hair tonic containing that drug will not make your hair grow. The best way is to mix your own tonic, or have a reliable druggist mix it for you. Here is a formula that includes the drug referred to: Bay Rum, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1-2 drachm; Lavona de Composee, 2 oz. You can get these ingredients at any drug store. If you choose you may add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. Apply to the scalp with the fingers night and morning. This formula is recommended for falling hair and dandruff. It should make your hair grow. It is NOT in any sense a dye and contains no coloring matter whatever, but has a tendency to stimulate the pigment-secreting cells and thereby restore prematurely gray hair to its natural color.

LOST LAND OF OPHIR PROBABLY AMERICA

SCIENTIST BELIEVES MEXICO WAS KING SOLOMON'S TREASURE BOX.

About 3,000 years ago three great ships set sail from the shores of Arabia. Their destination was the Land of Ophir.

The great vessels were gone three years. They went back laden with gold and silver for the building of Solomon's Temple; then they sailed away for another three years. This happened again and again.

No one, with the exception of a few oath-bound navigators, knew where the Land of Ophir lay. To the world at large it was somewhere in the region of dreams, three years beyond the borders of the Red Sea. Thus, when the ships, through some cause, ceased to ply their way back and forth over the long seaway the Land of Ophir sank quietly back into the mystery from which it had emerged. Within a few years it became an enigma of the past; a puzzle to which, save in the dead brains of wise men and kings, there existed no answer.

Out of this age-old enigma a California scientist named Thomas Crawford Johnston has extracted, to the satisfaction at least of himself and many other scientists, the solution of another historic puzzle—Who discovered America?

It was the latter problem that Johnston started out to solve. The importance of the lost Land of Ophir arose incidentally. As the scientist's investigation progressed he became more and more certain that the two mysteries were closely related. At last he reached definite and startling conclusions. They were:—

Startling Conclusions.

1. That the lost Land of Ophir and the American continent were identical.

2. That the adventurers who 3,000 years ago set out from the shore of the Red Sea can be accepted as the original discoverers of America.

In support of his theories Johnston has written a three-hundred page book. He calls it, "Did the Phoenicians Discover America?" The title would be more descriptive if it was "Did the Phoenicians, aided by the Hebrews, the Scythians and the Thracians, Discover America?" This is what the author believes, and, in careful detail, undertakes to prove it.

Johnston has searched among the Aztecs and Toltecs, the Phoenicians, the Hebrews and several other races. As a result he has found striking similarities of traditions, customs and general character. These furnish the groundwork of his book.

The author begins by bridging the greatest gap—the distance between Asia and America. He searched about until he found a people capable of navigating this distance. The prize navigators of ancient days were the Phoenicians. Their ships weren't quite up to the Imperator, but they were far from being catboats. The liners of Bible times were much larger than the average person may imagine. St. Paul was wrecked in a ship which carried 276 persons besides the crew, and the boat which dropped Josephus into the sea had a passenger list of 600.

Real Ocean Ships.

These ships, Mr. Johnston points out, were certainly capable of navigating the Pacific. In fact, history proves that they plied constantly between the east coast of the Mediterranean and the faraway shores of England. The Phoenicians were the traders of the age. A chief necessity of the period was tin, and the only available tin lay in Britain. The Phoenicians made a business of mining tin and selling it in Egypt. To do this they had to be able to navigate the Mediterranean. Any ship which could navigate the Mediterranean would undoubtedly be able to navigate the Pacific.

Having established the seaworthiness of Phoenician ships, Johnston turns to the navigating abilities of their captains. He complies evidence to prove that they were able to steer by compass and sun. The question of sailing from Phoenicia to America becomes, therefore, a matter of miles. The Phonenicians could have covered them. Mr. Johnston's problem is to prove they did.

He turns to the Bible. In I. Kings, ix., he finds that Solomon made a navy of Tharshish, at Eziengeber, which is beside Eloth, on the shores of the Red Sea, in the land of Edom. And Hiram sent in the navy his shipmen that had knowledge of the sea, with the servants of Solomon. And they came to Ophir, and fetched them gold four hundred and twenty talents, and brought it to King Solomon."

Solomon was in the height of his glory about this time. Hiram was King of the Phoenicians. The Bible states that he and Solomon were fast friends. The Red Sea was the ideal starting point for a trans-Pacific expedition.

Another quotation, this time from II. Chron. ix., reads:

"For the ships went to Tharshish with the ships of Hiram, every three years once came the ships of Tharshish, bringing gold, silver and ivory, and apes and peacocks."

This is remarkable. Three years was a long time for the ships of Tharshish to be gone. There was so little silver in existence in the Orient that it was worth ten times as much as gold. There was plenty of gold, and ivory, and apes, and peacocks, but no silver. There was silver in Spain, but the ships of Tharshish did not sail toward Spain. They sailed East. And, so far as is known, the first country which proved to contain silver in large quantities was the American continent.

Turns to America.

This is the tradition that Johnston finds in the Orient. He then turns to America, to the legends of the Toltecs and the Aztecs. The period of Aztec history which embraces the tenth century before Christ, or thereabouts, is commonly known as the Votanic period, owing to the arrival at that time of a god or super-man known as Votan. This Votan, according to the Abbe Brasseur de Bourberg's translations of early Aztec documents, arrived on the Pacific Coasts about 1000 B.C., accompanied by seven great ships. This was just at the time that Solomon and Hiram were beginning their three-year expeditions to the Land of Ophir.

The personnel of these expeditions, Johnston points out, was peculiarly conglomerate. First, there was the shipmen of Hiram and the servants of Solomon. In addition, the scientist believes, there were certain mercenaries, recruited from two warrior races of the time—the Scythians and the Thracians. It was the custom of both the Phoenicians and the Jews to hire such mercenaries. Johnston finds the possibility of their presence on these expeditions extremely valuable in explaining certain points.

This, then, is the evidence. At about 1000 B.C., he finds three great ships of Tharshish leaving the Red Sea on a three-year voyage to the mysterious Land of Ophir; at about the same time he finds the traditional founder of Aztec civilization landing on the shores of America. The ships bring back so much silver that it becomes a drug in the streets of Jerusalem; America is the only known country where silver could then have been obtained in such quantities.

It is thus assumed that the three great ships of Tharshish were bound for America. Johnston turns next to the course they may have followed. The way lay clear from the Red Sea to the Straits of Babelmandeb, then passed around the coast of Arabia into the Persian Gulf and continued along the west coast of the Bahreim Islands to the mouth of the Euphrates, and down the east side of India. Thence the logical way to America was, and still is, by way of Java, Sumatra, Torres Straits, the Caroline Islands, Tonga, Samoa, Rappa, Tahiti and Easter Island. It is presumed by Johnston that the Phoenicians took this route; therefore, he has looked for traces of them, not only in Central America, but everywhere along the way. The evidence which he found forms the true basis of his theory.

Mixed Crew.

Some of the traces are Scythian, some Thracian, some Phonecian, some Hebrew. This he explains by the mixed character of the expedition. The Scythians and Thracians, he thinks, were left in charge of the way stations; the Phonecians and Hebrews governed and colonized the newly-discovered Ophir itself.

A Scythian deity was Tabiti, the goddess of the hearth. Tabiti is the native name of the Island of Tahiti. Other gods were Papeus, Apia, Apollo, Venus, Urania, Hercules and Mars. The names of these deities, with legends similar to those of Scythia, are found in various forms, throughout the island group which includes Tahiti.

The Scythians always fought on horseback, used the bow and arrow and scalped their victims. So did the Indians of North America. They did not bathe in water, but affected something resembling a vapor bath. This custom is found among the natives of Tahiti. They painted their bodies and traced their ancentry back to wild animals. This, also, will be recognized as characteristic of the North American Indian. They were cannibals. So are some of the islanders in Tahitian or Society group.

Now for the Thracians. The Thracians tattooed themselves. So do the Society Islanders. The Thracians fought with the spear and javelin. So do the Society Islanders. In fact, every characteristic of the inhabitants of the mid-Pacific points strongly toward a mixed and forcibl einfluence. Their numeric skill, cosmogeny, astronomical knowledge and religion is declared by Johnston clearly to be Phoenician; their traditions—an example being the story of Adam and Eve—to be with equal clearness, Hebrew.

Leaving the Islands, and turning to Mexico, which is the point where the original discoverers of America are supposed to have landed, Johnston finds architecture which is plainly Phoenician; laws which are Hebrew, and customs which are either Scythian or Thracian. He does not merely make the assertion; he states instances and quotes authorities.

Such theories may be hard to prove, but the author paints a new romance in the story of the world.

KING AS LANDLORD.

Tenants Given Free Homes by Late King Now Refuse to Pay Rent.

London, Nov. 18.—Despite the Briton's proud boast that "An Englishman is master in his own house," recent events have proved that a British King is not always in the same enviable position.

King George has since his accession to the throne discovered that he was no more exempt to troubles from his tenants than anyone of less royal lineage, and these have culminated in an outspoken defiance on the part of a number of what the man on the street terms "Royal Charity tenants" of His Majesty's claim for rental for apartments or palaces held by them rent-free under gifts from the late King Edward.

The King has sought by persuasion and argument to enforce his right to obtain some recompense from the tenants, many of them wealtby, in order that the nation may get some return for the heavy expense in keeping up these places, but so far without avail. Even the King's legal advisers have been unable, so far, to enforce his claim for rental.

Among those of noble blood and in well-to-do circumstances, thus challenging the King's right, are Countess of Gleichen, Sir Dighton Proby, Lady Ellis, and Mrs. Whitaker Laking, all of whom refuse to pay any heed to the royal demands.

AMERICAN COMMITS SUICIDE AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The body of James A. Twohey, an attorney of Washington, D. C., was found in a room in the Grand Union Hotel early this evening. A letter was found on a table near the bed addressed to Mrs. James A. Twohey, 3179 Eighteenth street, Washington, D. C.

The man had committed suicide with a razor which was found at the side of the bed.

STOCK COMPANIES ALREADY HAVE VOTE

BOARD OF TRADE SECRETARY DISCOVERS THIS AT THE CITY HALL.

The Secretary of the Quebec Board of Trade discovered at the City Hall yesterday, where he went to place before the Mayor the resolution of the Council of the Board adopted on Thursday, requesting Mayor Drouin to give the right to joint stock companies to vote in municipal elections through their representatives, that the right sought had been already granted

It appears that when the City Charter was amended at the last session of the Legislature, the question of joint stock companies having the right to vote was included and became law by assent in April, 1912.

It is provided, however, that all joint stock companies desirous of franchise shall have their taxes paid, and have their respective representative sent to the city assessor's office by December 1st. The clause as now inserted in the lines of the amended Quebec City Charter reads as follows:—

32. "Companies or joint stock companies may, upon payment of their taxes, be inscribed on the list of municipal electors, and vote for the election of aldermen No. 1 and 2, according as they may be proprietors or tenants, through a representative duly authorized for the purpose by a resolution of their board of directors, a copy of which resolution shall be produced at the office of the city assessor on or before the first day of December of each year. And they may exercise this right in any ward where assessments or taxes are imposed upon them, provided each representative be, at the time of votnig, a director or employe of the company or corporation.

A WOMAN'S HELPLESSNESS

Cured Through the Rich, Red Blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backaches, dizziness, langour and nervousness. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of the blood. They take one thing for their head, another for their stomach and a third for their nerves. And yet all the while it is simply their blood that is the cause of all the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure because they actually make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, carrying with it a new health and new strength. Mrs. Wm. Acorn, Charlottetown, P.E.I., says: "Before I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was one of the most miserable women living. For more than three years I lived a life of constant dread. I was taking weak spells so that I could not be left alone If I walked from one room to another my heart would palpitate so violently that I feared I would die. I was continually sending for the doctor, who told me I had no blood and that my nerves were shattered. Notwithstanding his treatment I did not get any better. I could not keep anything on my stomach, and the least thing would make me sick. Then my trouble was complicated with rheumatism, which became so bad that I had to be lifted like a child, and the pain was almost unbearable. I was in this deplorable condition when my husband read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and got me a supply. When I had taken half a dozen boxes I felt much better, and could go about the house. I kept on taking the Pills until I had used twelve boxes, and I can truly say they made me a well woman. Indeed I do not think I would be living now but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I wish I could persuade every woman who is sick to follow my example, for I have proved they will cure the most desperate cases, and I consider myself a living witness to this fact."

You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

RUSSIAN DYNASTY NEAR EXTINCTION

NICHOLAS LIKELY TO BE LAST OF ROMANOFFS TO OCCUPY THE IMPERIAL THRONE.

London, Nov. 21—The Russian dynasty is in imminent danger of lying out and the present Emperor Nicholas is likely to be the last of the Romanoffs to occupy the Imperial throne, according to a writer in "Free Russia," a newspaper appearing here. He says:

"The young Alexis, the Emperor's only son, is suffering from an incurable disease — tuberculosis of the bones, it is said—and can only be kept alive a few months longer. The Emperor himself has become the victim of fits of melancholy. His consort, the unfortunate Empress, iss till suffering acutely from a complete nervous breakdown. The question arises therefore, who will be the heir to Nicholas the Second, or will it be the last of the autocrats of Russia? The daughters of Nicholas cannot ascend the throne because Paul I, who hated his auguste mother, Catherine the Great, made a law whereby it became impossible for a woman to reign in Russia. Therefore, in case of the demise of Nicholas II, the throne should fall to his brother, Michael. But this is hardly possible since he has renounced all his rights and has married morganically a Russian lady with whom he lives very happily far from court intrigues."

The writer then discusses the Grand Dukes, but finds insuperable objections to all of them.

GERMAN SAVANT TRACES "THE CURVE OF LOVE."

Hamburg, Germany, Nov. 21.—The "curve of love" has been traced by Dr. Jehann Jackih, after much study of the scientific principles governing the relations between the sexes. His diagram shows that the male capacity for affection towards the other sex is highest between the ages of 24 and 26, whereas the "female curve" rises highest between 30 and 34.

The statistics are based on an examination of the sex lines of 400 famous men and women. Dr. Jackh observes that man loves appreciably at 20, but that after that there is a drop owing to his setting over his youth's first delusions. "He begins to love strongly," says the doctor, "at 24. He seldom really loves at 30, being then too busy with his advancement in life. At that age he will accept love and in many instances make some advances, but after 30 almost invariably, the man is wholly receptive and the woman makes practically all the advances."

NAVY AEROPLANE SITE SECURED IN SCOTLAND.

London, Nov. 21.—A conference between representatives of the Admiralty and the Dundee Harbor Trust made provisional arrangements for a seven years' lease of a site on the Tay within half a mile of the submarine base, for the establishment of a navy aerdrome.

The station will have accommodation for 12 machines, and launching ways will be laid down. It is probable that this base will be the headquarters in Scotland of the naval aircraft and that a repair factory will also be erected.

STEAL BODY OF VICTIM OF STRANGE MALADY.

Boy's Head Swelled to Twice Its Natural Size From Snake Bite —Father Hunting Corpse.

Altoona, Pa., Nov. 21.—August Kuhleman of Pavia, Bedford county, has gone to Baltimore to search the medical schools and hospitals of that city in the hope of finding the body of his son, who died two weeks ago from a peculiar malady. He was bitten by a snake last summer and never fully recovered. Finally, his head swelled to twice its natural size and death resulted from apoplexy.

Surgeons asked him the privilege of examining the brain and were refused and last Friday it was found that the body had been stolen from the grave Having learned that a large box supposed to have contained trees was shipped from Pavia to Baltimore, Kuhleman believes the limbs of his son have been sent there.

NEW EXPLOSIVES SAFEST KNOWN.

Trotol is the name given to a new explosive for which it is claimed, that it is the safest high explosive known. Its formula was worked out by Lieut. Herold C. Woodward, an officer in the New York national guard. He proposes, as reported, to present his discovery without reward to the United States government. The following account of Lieutenant Woodward's invention is from the columns of the New York Sun,

Three years ago a brother of Lieutenant Woodward came across an old volume that had been presented to German officials at the time of the Franco-Prussian war. In the book were 2,000 formulas for high explosives, mainly anonymous. The Germans had simply shelved the book, perhaps discouraged by the number of receipts and the impossibility of testing them all.

Woodward tried five formulas at random and found them all either worthless or inferior to explosives now in use. He tried a sixth at random and found it extraordinarily safe and good, but rather weak as compared with the best dynamite. But from it he developed trotol.

Trotol can be exploded only by fulminate of mercury, the substance used to explode dynamite. It cannot be set off by any shock, however great. In a test at Fort Wadsworth trotol was packed into a 12-inch shell and the shell was fired at armor plate 1,000 yards away. The shell struck the armor plate while going at a rate of 2,750 feet a second, but the trotol inside remained unexploded, in spite of the terrific concussion.

Six ounces of trotol, it is said, will do the work of 12 ounces of dynamite. Dynamite deteriorates in water or on the water and under certain atmospheric conditions. Trotol can be soaked in water for years and be as good as ever. It looks like wet brown sugar, and is made up in sticks like dynamite. Trotol can be carried wet or dry, and the fulminate of mercury which must be kept yards away from dynamite lest a premature explosion result, may come as close as six inches to trotol without danger. Like dynamite, trotol cannot be exploded by ignition.—Outlook.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that, under the Quebec Companies Act, Supplementary, letters patent have been issued by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec, bearing date the sixteenth day of October, 1913, incorporating Messrs. by which the "La Compagnie de Pulpe de Chicoutimi," has been authorized to increase its capital stock from one million dollars ($1,000,000) to seven million five hundred thousand ($7,500,000), dividing the new stock into forty thousand (40,000) of common stock and twenty-five thousand (25,000) seven per cent. cumulative participating preference shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each, with the preference and priorities and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned:

The holders of the said cumulative participating preference shares shall be entitled to be paid out of the surplus or net profits of the company of each year a fixed preferential dividend, when, and as declared by the directors, at the rate of seven per cent. on the amount paid up thereon, such dividend to be payable from the first day of January, 1914, to be paid out of the profits earned during each year or previously accumulated and to be cumulative, and such preference shares shall rank both as regards dividends declared and capital in priority to all ordinary or common shares;

The dividend of seven per cent. on the preferred shares be payable before any dividends on the common shares shall be paid in any year. The holders of said preferred shares shall be entitled to participate pari passu with the ordinary shares in the surplus profits of each year, which shall remain after paying the fixed dividend aforesaid for such year on the said preference shares and a like dividend for such year on the capital paid up on the ordinary shares;

In the event of any liquidation, dissolution, or winding up, whether voluntary or involuntary, of the company, the holders of the said preferred shares shall be entitled to be paid in full both the per amount of their shares and the dividends duly declared, before any amount shall be paid to any holder of the common stock; and after payment to the holders of the preferred stock of the par value thereof, the said holders of the preferred stock shall be entitled to participate "pari passu" with the holders of the common stock in the distribution of surplus assets and funds after the said repayment of preferred and common stock;

The preference shares shall not be redeemable except in the event of liquidation, dissolution or winding up, whether voluntary or involuntary, of the company;

The holders of the said cumulative participating preference shares shall have a right to vote at all meetings whether special or general, of the company, but the said right to vote shall only accrue to the said holders of the said shares and be exercised by them in the event of the company failing to declare and pay any dividend upon the said cumulative participating preference shares for three calendar months after the date upon which in the ordinary course of the business of the company the said dividend should have been declared and paid;

Instead of issuing twenty-five thousand cumulative participating preference shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each, the company may, in its discretion, issue five hundred thousand cumulative participating preference shares of the par value of one pound sterling each, the equivalent in Canadian currency of one pound sterling, being four dollars and eighty-six and two-third cents or a certain number of such shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each and a certain number of the par value of one pound sterling each, as aforesaid, provided, however, that the amount issued either in shares of the par value of one hundred or in shares of the par value of one pound each, taken together shall not exceed the sum of two million five hundred thousand dollars in all;

At any time at any meetings of the company when a vote is called and taken, a holder of shares in the company, subject to the foregoing conditions as the voting power of the cumulative participating preference shares, shall be entitled to one vote for every share of the par value of one hundred dollars which he holds and the following additional powers: The company shall have the power to raise monies or assist in the raising of monies in favor of any other company or corporation; they shall have also the power, by way of loans, promise, engagements, bonuses, endorsements, guarantee of obligations, of bonds, or other securities, to aid and assist any other company whose objects are similar to their own or carrying on the same kind of business, or in whose success or undertaking they are interested in any way.

An Organization Which is Outcome of a National Awakening

The National Opera Company of Canada, whose coming to Quebec on Jan. 12th for a week at the Auditorium, is an organization that can truly be said to be the outcome of a National awakening, a realization by public-spirited men of Canada as to what Grand Opera means. For three seasons Montreal has striven to produce an opera worthy of the nation, but the ever increasing demand for something better, of the best in fact, has led to the development of this new organization, which is promising to make Montreal one of the musical centres of the world.

The untiring work of Max Rabinoff, the managing director of the National Opera Company of Canada, gives every indication that Montreal is to have a season of opera this year which, in the matter of artists, stage settings and general performances will far surpass any previous operatic efforts. Mr. Rabinoff has succeeded in gathering together a company which includes many artists of International reputation.

The season in Quebec will be under the local management of Mr. J. H. Paquet.

Some of the Artists.

Leo Slezak, known the world over as the giant Czech tenor, the idol of Vienna and Berlin and one of the most popular members of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, will appear with the National Opera Company of Canada as Samson, Lohengrin and Otello. In the latter two parts he achieved the greatest success of his career, and it will be the first time that he sings Samson on any stage.

Marie Rappold, dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and for four years one of the greatest stars of that institution, will appear as the "Street Singer" in Ponchielli's "La Gioconda" and Elsa in "Lohengrin."

Jeanne Gerville-Reache, principal contralto of Hammerstein's Manhattan Opera House, Boston Opera Company, and the Chicago-Philadelphia Company, will be principal contralto of the National Opera Company of Canada. She will appear as Dalila and Navarraise, the parts which she created in America when those magnificent operas were produced at the Manhattan Opera House.

Veteran of Crimean War and Indian Mutiny Suffered Horribly With Rheumatism, Until "Fruit-a-tives" Brought Welcome Relief.

GEORGE WALKER, ESQ.

Chatham, Ont., April 3rd, 1913.

"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got to using "Fruit-a-tives." They cured me of both the Constipation and Rheumatism. Today, my bowels move immediately after breakfast, and in my regular employment, I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation

You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter and my photo if it will be advantageous to "Fruit-a-tives." GEO. WALKER.

This letter of Mr. Walker tells how to cure Rheumatism, but does not tell WHY "Fruit-a-tives" cures this trouble. Rheumatism is the result of poisoned blood, due to weakness or faulty action of the bowels, kidneys or skin. In Mr. Walker's case, Rheumatism was the result of excessive Constipation. Waste matter remained too long in the system, was absorbed by the blood and inflamed the nerves and membranes in his legs. When he started to take "Fruit-a-tives", these tablets immediately acted on the liver. More bile was given up to move the bowels. As the bowels were cleansed, the poisonous waste matter was removed, the blood became clear and the nerves were no longer irritated. Today Mr. Walker is enjoying vigorous health that was his when he fought with Lord Roberts and helped to plant the British Flag firmly in our Over-Seas Possessions. He is as active as a man of forty and cannot praise "Fruit-a-tives" too highly. Try them yourself, 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c., at all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FOOD PRICES HIGH IN UNITED STATES

TOPMOST POINT TOUCHED ON AUGUST 15—BIG ADVANCE IS SHOWN SINCE LAST YEAR.

Washington, Nov. 21—Retail prices of food were higher August 15th than they had been at any other time during the last twenty-three years, according to figures of the bureau of labor statistics issued today. Retail prices of the principal articles of food in forty important industrial cenres, gathered and compiled by experts, show that during the year, twelve of the fifteen articles advanced in price while only three declined.

Comparison of retail prices on Aug. 15th, 1913, with prices of the same date in 1912, shows potatoes advanced 20.0 per cent.; bacon 18.6 per cent.; smoked ham 17.6 per cent.; eggs 12.6 per cent.; round steak 11.5 per cent; sirloin steak 10.2 per cent.; hens, 8.7 per cent.; lard 8.1 per cent.; rib roast 7.9 per cent; butter 5.7 per cent; and milk 2.7 per cent. Sugar declined 7.0 per cent; wheat flour 5.5 per cent., and corn meal 2.7 per cent.

Compared with average prices for the ten year period, 1890 to 1899, every article for which prices were noted, with exception of sugar, advanced. Bacon advanced 139.0 per cent; pork chops 124.5 per cent; round steak 108.4 per cent; smoked ham 92.2 per cent; sirloin 79.3 per cent; rib roast 76.5 per cent; potatoes 75.2 per cent; hens 73.2 per cent; lard 96.8 per cent; eggs 66.4 per cent; corn meal 60.0 per cent; butter 41.9 per cent; and milk 38.8 per cent. Sugar declined 2.3 per cent.

When the price of each of the fifteen articles of food is weighted according to average consumption in workingmen's families, retail prices on Aug. 15, 1913, were 66.1 per cent. above the average price for the ten-year period, 1890 to 1899; 8.0 per cent above the price on Aug. 15, 1912, and 14.9 per cent. above the price on August 15th, 1911.

A WONDERFUL CASE

Three Months in Hospital And Came Out Uncured.

Zam-Buk Cured Him in Few Weeks.

Mr. Fred Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer of St. Andrews, N. B., says:

"I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched, would become very painful. When the knee got warm it burned worse, and the itching and burning and smarting were almost unbearable. I tried various remedies, but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take a special treatment. I received treatment at the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured, and almost gave in. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial.

"Almost as soon as applied Zam-Buk stopped the itching and the irritation. I persevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was quite cured.

"Since then Zam-Buk has cured blood-poison in my finger, and at a time when my finger was in such a terrible condition that I feared it would have to be amputated."

For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, abscesses, varicose ulcers, bad leg, cold sores, chapped hands, cuts, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal.

INDIGESTION, GAS, DYSPEPSIA GONE

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" FIXES SICK, SOUR, GASSY STOMACHS IN FIVE MINUTES.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occassionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember, the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

COUNTESS WRITES OF REINCARNATION

London, Nov. 21.—The Countess of Cromartie, who is a Peeress in her own right, has long been engaged upon weird book dealing with the doctrine of reincarnation and the volume will shortly make its appearance. Lady Cromartie has written many verses and short stories as well as one or two "spiritual" books. She is the exact opposite in character of her sister, the strenuous Lady Constance Stewart Richardson. While Lady Constance dances in music halls, swims, shoots, rides and makes herself generally conspicuous the world over, Lady Constance dreams and writes.

She cares nothing for sport. Her sister's life is a great worry to her. Lady Cromartie among her own artistic set is found very interesting. She owns large property in the North.

She believes implicitly in the theory of reincarnation and tells her friends in the most matter of fact way of things she remembers from a few hundred years ago when she was someone else. Her book will contain the interesting re-incarnation reminiscences of many other men and women who believed in the same doctrine. These will include, it is believed, those of Mrs. James Brown Potter, who asserts she was an Egyptian in the time of the Pharaohs.

HARD WORK AND LOVE HER OLD-AGE SECRET

London, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Rebecca Law, an old-age pensioner, of Little Chesterford, Essex, who recently celebrated her hundredth birthday, was left a widow at 43 with seven children under 14. By working in the field for farmers by sack mending, and washing for the farmers' wives she brought up her family.

She toiled until she was 70, when she was admitted to one of Lord Braybrooke's almshouses on the Audeley End estate, where she remained until she was 90.

Asked to what she attributed her good health and long life, Mrs. Law said: "Hard work, my dear, and happy with it. No woman has worked harder than I have, and I was never happier than when at work. I love everybody. If I did not I should not have lived so long."

WOMEN AND GOSSIP.

It is more important that a woman should be a good gossip and tell pleasantly and smartly of common friends and the thousand and one nothings of the day and hour than that she should speak with the tongue of men and angels, for awhile together by the fire happens more frequently in marriage than the presence of a distinguished foreigner to dinner.—R. L. Stevenson.

BY-LAW No. 24a.

To Amend By-Laws, Concerning the Buildings.

(Drawn up in French Language.)

At a meeting of the City Council of the City of Quebec, held at the City Hall, in the said City of Quebec, on the seventeenth day of October, One Thousand Nine Hundred and thirteen (1913) in conformity to law, and in virtue of a By-Law passed by this Council pursuant thereto, and after the due observance of all the formalities prescribed by the statute in such case made and provided, at which meeting two-thirds of the members composing the Council of the City of Quebec, that is to say:

His Worship the Mayor, Aldermen Barube, Campbell, Cannon, Collier, Cote, Dinan, Dussault, Emond, Fiset, Gauvin, Guillot, Lantier, Lavigueur, Lockwell, Madden, Morin, Pouliot, Trudel, Verret.

It is ordained and enacted by the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, and the said Council ordains and enacts as follows:

1st. In the following wards of the City, to wit: St. Peter's, St. Louis and Palace, it is forbidden to erect any building whatsoever, even sheds, otherwise than in stone or brick or concrete or wooden wall recovered with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or with asbestos cement.

2nd. In the following wards of this City: St. John, Montcalm, St. Roch and Jacques Cartier, not only the houses, but also all the other buildings, shops, ware houses, must be constructed of stone or brick or concrete or of wood covered with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or with materials of cement asbestos, or with a rough cast of cement laid upon metallic laths, with the exception of such sheds as are used exclusively to put in fuel or coal.

3. But even as regards such wooden sheds, their front walls bordering on a street, or public square, must also be of stone or brick or of wood recovered with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or of materials of cement asbestos, or of rough cast of cement laid upon metallic laths. The other side may be covered with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

4. But if such shed does not border on a street or public square, the four sides may be covered with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

5. In the following wards of this City, to wit: St. Sauveur, St. Valier, St. Malo, Limoilou and Champlain, the front walls of the houses, shops, ware houses, bordering on a street, or (beton), or of wood with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or with materials of cement asbestos, or of rough cast cement laid upon metallic laths.

6. The walls of wooden houses not bordering on a street of public square must be shielded with brick of at least four inches in thickness or of materials of cement asbestos, or with a rough cast of cement laid upon metallic laths, or with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise, and the sheds must be completely covered with sheet iron.

7. In all the wards of the City, if a proprietor raises his wooden building by adding one or more stories, and that by this fact, the gable ends or side walls exceed the roofs of the neighboring buildings, such gable ends or side walls may be covered with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

8. In all the wards of this City, if the owner of a house already built wishes to shield the gable ends or sides thereof facing a yard or a vacant lot, he may cover them with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

9. In all the wards of this City, the porches and enclosed stairways situated on the outside of buildings must be shielded on their sides and on the top and bottom thereof with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise or square, or with other incombustible material above enumerated.

10. The wooden sheds or outhouses used as store houses upon the wharves must be shielded with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise or square. And if there is no wooden board covered such asbestos must exceed by an inch on all sides the studs, rails or rafters.

11. Such sheds or out houses built on wharves must not be occupied as offices or rooms used as lodgings, unless such sheds be put in the same conditions as those required for the building of houses.

12. In the following wards: St. John, St. Roch, Montcalm, Jacques Cartier, St. Sauveur, St. Valier, St. Malo, Limoilou, Champlain, private stables and dependencies occupied for domestic purposes shall be considered as sheds (hangars).

13. In all the wards of this City, it is forbidden to construct wooden buildings of more than thirty-five feet in height from the average level of the sidewalk to the highest point of the roof, nor having more than three stories above the masonry walls of the cellar or basement.

14. In all the wards of the City, a wooden building constructed in conformity with the present by-law must be coated with brick, stone, materials of asbestos cement, or sheet iron immediately after it has been erected.

In case the proprietor or builder should neglect to conform to the present by-law within thirty days after being notified by the City inspector of buildings to build such coating, the said building shall be considered as having been constructed contrary to law and to the by-laws of this Council.

15. In all the wards of the City, no wooden building already built and not covered with incombustible materials will be allowed to be transferred from one lot of land to another, or from one portion of the said lot to another portion of the same lot, unless it be covered in incombustible materials, as required by the present by-law immediately after such displacement.

16. In all the wards of the City, it is forbidden to use saw dust or shavings of wood between the floors or in roofs except as regards ice houses and refrigerators.

17. The outside cornices of buildings must be in incombustible materials, and in all cases the stone or brick walls behind the cornices must be extended up to the under side of the planking of the roof (or cut-fire wall, if need be), and such cornices shall be solidly fixed to the wall independently of all wood work.

18. Whenever there shall be within the limits of this City any old walls, chimneys, or buildings in ruins, either through age, or after fire which may menace public security, it shall be the duty of the City Inspector of Buildings to inspect the same and examine them, in company with a competent person and to draft a report stating the facts, and to deliver a copy of this report with a notice summoning the proprietor of the said building to demolish, throw down immediately the said walls, chimneys or buildings or any portion thereof which may be a menace to the public security, and the said proprietor shall then be bound and compelled to demolish or take them down immediately at his own cost or expense.

19. Every proprietor or builder must remove the rubbish from buildings in construction or in process of demolition through a conduit made of wood or metal, running from the upper story down to a distance of two feet from the ground.

20. When a wall of a building must be erected alongside another wall already existing, whether the latter be a wall belonging to an adjoining building or that it belongs to a wall of a building the property of the person who erects the new wall, such new wall must be built of stone or brick or of wood covered with brick of at least four inches in thickness.

21. In all the wards of the City, if a proprietor builds of wood or of brick two or more houses, he shall be bound to erect the dividing or cut-fire walls (coupe-feu) in brick or concrete, of at least eight inches in thickness between each or the said houses, and moreover the said dividing or cut-fire wall must be laid on a stone or concrete foundation.

22. The roofs of buildings in this City may be covered with five layers of ten ounce tarred paper with one layer of gravel over. The said gravel must be imbedded in warm pitch.

23. Whoever proposes to build in this City any building whatsoever, or to execute upon a building repairs, the cost of which is valued at more than one hundred dollars, must, before beginning such works of construction or of repairs, obtain from the City Building Inspector a written permit to execute the same.

24. The following sums shall have to be paid for the water from the waterworks used in the preparation of mortar or concrete to be used in the construction of buildings as follows, to wit:

A. For each thousand of bricks employed for the said building, ten cents (10 cts.).

B. For each cubic yard of masonry of stone, concrete or terra cotta, three cents (.03).

C. For each one hundred superficial yards of plastering or deafening floor, fifty cents.

25. When a building is in course of construction in line with a street, the sidewalk must be kept all the time free of obstruction.

26. Every sidewalk, whether temporary or not, fronting a building in course of construction, must be provided at a height of eight feet above the said sidewalk with a planking sufficiently strong and waterproof to protect the passers by against the fall of objects which might drop over them.

27. That all the former provisions in the City By-Laws which are incompatible with the provisions of the present by-law, are by the present by-law repealed.

28. Whoever infringes any of the provisions of the present by-law is liable to a fine not exceeding forty dollars, and in default of the said fine and costs thereof, liable to be imprisoned for a space of time not exceeding two months.

29. Each separate day during which an infringement of any of the above provisions shall be committed or continued during the day, shall constitute a distinct and separate offence punishable in the manner above prescribed.

WOULD CHANGE TAX ON LIFE INSURANCE

CANADIAN BODY CONSIDERS QUEBEC SYSTEM INCONSISTENT AND BURDENSOME.

Waterloo, Ont, Nov. 21—The members of the Canadian Life Officers Association held their annual meeting at the home office of the Mutual Life, Waterloo, Ont., today. It had been the custom in the past to convene in the city of Toronto,, inasmuch as a majority of the company's head offices are located there. This year, however, in response to an invitation of the retiring president, Mr. George Wegenast, the members agreed to gather in Waterloo. To this Anglo-German town the phrase the "Hartford of Canada," has been applied, three fire and two life insurance companies having originated here.

The principal subject discussed was the taxation of life insurance premiums. The much discussed question of co-operative publicity was deferred and will probably go by default. In regard to the question of taxation of life companies premium income, the net result of the conference indicated an unanimous feeling that life insurance taxation, more particularly in the Province of Quebec, should be more consistent and uniform and less burdensome to policy holders. It is beieved that the concerted effort which will be put forth on behalf of the relief of the policy holders will bear fruit. The awakened public sentiment has now shown that whatever be the burdens or exactions placed upon the companies, these in the end are transfered to the policy holders and are, therefore, of vital interest to them and their dependents. Taxation of all kinds, when levied on the premiums in particular directly increases the cost of the policy or deducts the result under the policy. This in many cases becomes a great hardship to the insurer of small means, particularly of the laboring classes.

The newly elected officers are:

President, T. B. MacAulay, F.I.A.F.A.S.; first vice-president, A. Bissett; second vice-president, G. A. Somerville; honorary secretary-treasurer, D. E. Kilgour; assistant secretary-treasurer, W. G. Reburn; executive committee, the above and Messrs. George Wegenast, J. E. Kavanagh, A. R. Howell, Col. W. C. Macdonald and J. T. Weston.

SIFTON ENTRY MAKES A RECORD.

Skyscraper Clears 7 ft, 3 in. In Exhibition Jumps.

New York, Nov. 21.—Canadian horses figured prominently at the night session, when the Sifton entries cleared the boards in the high jump, and three Canadian horses got third place in the contest for three officers of each nationality.

Skyscraper, the Sifton entry, admirably ridden by Jack Hamilton, established a new record for Madison Square Garden, by clearing 7 feet 3 inches in an exhibition jump after the contest had been decided. Hamilton also rode the other two Sifton entries, Confidence and The Wasp, and while he was disappointed in the failure of Confidence to equal his record made at Ottawa of 8 feet 1-2 inch, he was well pleased at Capturing the cup and the next two prizes.

France won the America Cup, presented by C. K. G. Billings for the jumps, over the course by teams of three horses, ridden by officers of the same nationality. The winners were Sarah, Groose Amazone and Odfellow, ridden by Lieut. Le Marquise D'Orgiez, Lieut. Baron De Meslon and Lieut. De Laissardieres. England came second with Harmony, Surprise and Dan Leno, ridden by Col. P. A. Kenna, V.C.; Major M. F. McTaggart, and Capt. R. M. Stewart Richardson, while Canada took third place with Skyscraper, Dandy and Bad Girl, ridden by Captain J. W. Sifton, Major Douglas Young and Captain W. H. Bell.

In both contests Captain Stewart Richardson, on Dan Leno, his wonderful jumper, bought from an Irish butcher for $75, came in for great applause. He rode with only one stirrup, as he had his leg crushed on Monday, and has since been using crutches, but his placility appeared in every contest in which he had entered.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF FAISE PRETENCES.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—From descriptions furnished by tellers of several branch banks of Montreal, detectives arrested Charles Rosenberg, of Montreal, alias Ross, alias Brown, alias Haynes, on a charge of false pretences.

Rosenberg himself seems to have fallen a victim to a stranger who was unscrupulous enough to have drawn his balance of $216 in the Imperial Bank at the corner of King street and Spadina avenue, and flitted.

The complaint that reached the police was that a man of Rosenberg's description has overdrawn his accounts in several banks.

It is alleged that Rosenberg opened small accounts in various banks under his numerous aliases, and by his pleasing personality familiarized himself sufficiently with the tellers to have checks honored for slightly more than his bank book showed.

Within the past few days he is alleged to have secured $179 in this way.

Where Rosenberg got nipped was in soliciting a stranger whom he had just met to present a check for $216 on the Imperial Bank, King street and Spadina avenue. The stranger obliged, but did not return with the cash as he had been instructed to do.

MURPHY'S NEPHEW IN GRAFT DEAL

WAS PARTNER OF McGUIRE WHO TESTIFIES AGAINST HIM.

New York, Nov. 21—George H. McGuire, the Syracuse bonding agent for State highway and barge canal contractors, is a partner of Charles F. Murphy, Jr., nephew of the leader of Tammany Hall. He so testified today at the John Doe inquiry into highway graft and said that he had an agreement with Murphy to divide all the bonding business they obtained.

Further, McGuire confessed to having attempted to hold up at least three asphalt companies for $5,000 contributions to the State Democratic committee in return for getting them contracts from the State Highway Department. McGuire was to get a commission of one cent a gallon for all the asphalt the companies sold to the State or to contractors, he said, and the companies were to charge the contributions against the commission.

BRAHMIN WIDOW COMMITS "SUTTEE."

Is Burnt Alive on Husband's Funeral Pyre — Relatives Sentenced.

Calcutta, Nov. 21.—An important case exemplifying the slowness of Indian customs in dying has been decided in the Allahabad High Court.

The widow of a Brahmin committed "sutte" on her husband's death, that is, was buried on the funeral pyre in the presence of the whole village. Five of the relatives were arrested for abetting her suicide, and were sentenced to imprisonment. They appealed to the High Court, the defence being that the fire was lighted by supernatural means, the flames descending from heaven. The High Court rejected the appeal and has increased the sentences in two of the cases.

The present case is only the fourth recorded in the united provinces and Bengal since 1829, when suttee was prohibited.

U. S. LABORITES.

Consider Intervention Might Be Desirable.

Seattle, Wn., Nov. 21.—The American Federation of Labor refused to-day to adopt a resolution condemning armed intervention in Mexico, on the ground that such intervention might be justifiable and desirable. The convention unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"The American Federation of Labor condemns attempts being made by American and foreign corporations, and certain jingo newspapers to force armed intervention by the United States Government in Mexico, and urges upon the President of the United States the continuance of a policy looking to a peaceful adjustment of the conflict among the Mexican people, and that the President and Secretary of the American Federation of Labor be instructed to transmit the position of the Federation upon that matter to the President of the United States."

John Mitchell took the floor and begged the convention not to hamper President Wilson. While he was a peace advocate, he believed there were conditions that sometimes justified war within a nation and between nations.

MOVING PICTURE TRUST HEARING IS ADJOURNED.

New York, Nov. 21.—Testifying for the defence in the governments suit under the Sherman law, against the so-called moving picture trust, J. A. Berst, head of the Pathe Freres Company in America, denied that the General Film Company, one of the defendants, was organized for the purpose of restraining trade. He characterized as false, the testimony of several witnesses for the government to the effect that he threatened owners of film exchanges with the cancellation of their licenses if they did not sell out to the General Film Company.

By agreement of counsel for both sides, the hearing was adjourned until December. It will then be continued until Dec. 13, after which testimony will be taken in another city.

COLOR LINE DRAWN AGAINST MEDICAL MAN

London, Nov. 21.—Camberwell Board of Guardians after advertising for a district medical officer, received only two applications. One of the applicants, an Englishman, appeared before the board, and a member explained that it was not thought desirable to bring the second candidate.

Another member exclaimed:

"Because he happens to be a black man, I move that the second candidate be invited to attend."

The first member admitted that the colored doctor's professional qualifications were higher than those of the white man, but he contended that patients among the poor would refuse to be attended by a colored doctor. The English doctor was appointed.

SHERMAN LAW CASE.

Activities of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. Are Described.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Further information on the activities in 1912 on the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to absorb 20,000 independent concerns was given today by B. G. Hubbell, of Buffalo, government witness in a hearing in connection with the prosecution of the American company for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

In the cross-examination of Mr. Hubbell, who is president of the Federal Telephone and Telegraph Company, counsel sought to show that the purpose of consolidation was to save expense and would result in lowering the cost of service to the public. Mr. Hubbell thought the motive of the American company was to eliminate costly competition.

INTER-STATE COMMERCE COMMISSIONER DIES

Washington, Nov. 21.—John H. Marble, a member of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, died here tonight, following an attack of acute indigestion with which he was stricken yesterday in Philadelphia.

John Hobart Marble practised law in San Francisco from 1903 to 1906. He was private secretary to Franklin K. Lane when the latter became Secretary of the Interior, after which he was appointed a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

He was formerly a linotype operator.

FISHERY PROTECTION CRUISER ARRIVES

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 21.—The new fishery protection cruiser Malaspina, the first of the two to be built for the Dominion government, dropped anchor in Esquimalt harbor this morning, 75 days out from Greenock, Scotland. She made excellent time on her 15,000 mile voyage via the Straits of Magellan. She met very rough weather off Rio De Janeiro and the firmen had to work in water hip deep in the engine room. Captain Hose, of the Rainbow, boarded her this morning and went on a trial spin. It is understood that after she has been overhauled here, Captain Newcomb will take command.

DUTCH BELTED CATTLE.

Once Nearly Exterminated, They Are Now Bred by the Nobility.

Dutch belted cattle originated in Holland several hundred years ago. At the time of the great Holland wars they were nearly exterminated by the invading armies, and the few that remained became the property of the nobility, who have bred them pure ever since, but do not willingly part with them. They are known in Holland as Veldlargers, which name means "wrapped around with a sheet."

In color they are black, with a band of pure white entirely around the body. They may also have white fore feet, white hind feet and legs up to the gambrels and a white switch. The "belt" varies in width. On some it is but a few inches wide. On others it reaches back on the hips and forward on the shoulders. Usually it covers the body from just in front of the hips nearly to the shoulders.

They have the prominent eyes, thin neck, silky hair, soft skin, elevated flanks, broad hips, long, slim tails shapely, well placed udders, prominent milk veins and so called milk form, which make up the dairy type of cow. They are very tame and docile, hardy and vigorous.—G. G. Gibbs in American Cultivator.

RULES TO OBSERVE IN MAKING A CAKE

A well-known cooking instructor tells her pupils:

No oven thermometer has yet proved practical—experience alone has proved the most reliable teacher.

In baking cake devide the time required into quarters. First quarter, mixture should begin to rise. Second quarter, continue rising and begin to brown. Third quarter, continue browning. Fourth quarter, finish baking and shrink from pan.

If oven is too hot open check and raise back covers or open oven door.

It is sometimes necessary to cover cake with brown paper; there is, however, danger of cake adhering to the paper.

Cake should be often looked at during baking; provided oven door is opened and closed carefully there is no adnger of cake falling

Cake should not be moved in oven until fully risen; after this time it is desirable to move it, so that it will brown evenly.

Cake when done skrinks from the pan and does not retain indention when pressed with the finger.

Place cake as nearly in centre of over as possible. If too near firebox one side will burn before the other side is cooked.

If cake is put in too slow oven it rises over sides of pan and is coarse in texture. If oven is too hot it browns before sufficiently risen, and in its attempt to rise breaks through the crust.

Cake will crack if too much flour has been used.

The oven should be kept as nearly uniform in temperature as possible.

Small and layer cakes require a hotter oven than loaf cakes.

The Dollar Sale

A LAY OF THE SEVEN-CENT EGG.

O mighty Hen!
Say when
This business has to stop!
Sure there must be a top
Notch for the cost of unhatched chicks,
Canst thou not watch the tricks
Of tradesmen, middlemen, cold-storage knaves,
And all the grasping braves
From out the Dollar Tribe?
What bribe
Can move thee to be generous as great—
To turn the scales of fate
For us, e'en now too harshly toiled
To win the price of scrambled or soft-boiled?
For some the world's an oyster. But an egg—
For that, on shell or half-shell, must we come to beg?
The scrambled luxury that on breakfast morn
Gladdened our hearts, before the storage fiend was born—
Golden it lay;
Now, who has gold for its rich excellence to pay?
O kind and cackling Hen!
Just now and then
Think most beneficently, we implore!
Make two eggs lie where but one lay before!

LONDON AND BERLIN TANGO MAD ✦ DOINGS OF KING AND QUEEN

Tango Reigns at Opening of Berlin Dancing Season, but Society Only Looks

The United States Ambassador Occupies a Box, with Professor Archibald Coolidge, Major G. T. Langhorne and Mr. Willing Spencer Among His Guests.

AMERICAN CHURCH LADIES ELECT OFFICERS

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]
BERLIN, Nov. 22

THE dancing season was inaugurated this week by a big charity ball for the benefit of the Convalescent Home for Policemen, a philanthropic institution of which the German Crown Princess is royal patron. Taking advantage of the tango epidemic, the committee in charge of the arrangements gave this irresistible cachet to the programme, which was dedicated to dances and fashion.

It was hoped that society would take part in the dancing competition, but, as at Baden Baden, society sat and watched the professional dancers from various cafés dansant. One room was devoted to the mysteries of the tango, and here the spectators were three deep, with chairs furnishing a vantage point for the rearmost. The United States Ambassador occupied a box, having as guests Professor Archibald Coolidge, Major G. T. Langhorne, Mr. Willing Spencer, Herr von Kliest, Captain Roesler, Secretary of the Olympian games, and Mr. Lanier Winslow.

At a business meeting of the Ladies' Union of the American Church the following board of officers was elected:—President, Mrs. Anna B. McElree; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Stephen H. McFadden and Mrs. Bernard Goldsmith; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Grace Mackenzie Wood; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Dunning; Treasurer, Mrs. Ernest L. Elliot.

Post for Mrs. Gerard.

A motion was unanimously received to invite Mrs. J. W. Gerard to become honorary president of the organization. Mrs. Gerard will identify herself at once with the work of the American Woman's Club, in which she is very much interested. When Mrs. Thackara leaves for Paris the duties of acting president will be assumed by Mrs. Gerard. This office has been held by the wives of two previous American Ambassadors to Germany. Mrs. Andrew D. White was always in the chair whenever she was in the city, and Mrs. Charlemagne Tower was also chief officer of the club pending the arrival of Mrs. Elizabeth Pickerall, who served the interests of the club with such efficiency two seasons ago and who is now returning to resume her connections with some department of the organization of the club under temporary management.

This week a check was received from the headquarters of the Red Cross Society in Washington reimbursing the club treasury for $400 advanced by Mrs. Thackara, acting for the club, for the purpose of sending a Red Cross outfit to the corps of American physicians who did such efficient work in the Balkans.

Tea for Mrs. Thackara.

Mrs. Albert S. Wilkie was hostess of the largest tea of the week, given for Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thackara. Mrs. S. B. Conger and Mrs. George N. Allen assisted in receiving the guests, among whom were the American Ambassador and Mrs. J. W. Gerard, the Cuban Minister and Señora de Quesada, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark Grew, Mr. Willing Spencer and Mr. Theodore Sutro, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Spiering, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Shapleigh, Señorita de Quesada, Dr. John Crosser, Mrs. Arthur N. Davis, Dr. R. W. Drechsler, Miss Eleanor Thackara, Miss Luise Cavalli, Mr. C. De Witt Poole, Mr. Alfred R. Thompson, Mrs. T. Stewart White, Dr. George H. Allen and Mr. Walter McClintock.

A very important wedding in German circles this week was that of Frau Ulrike von Levetzow to Herr Rudolph Hamel, a wealthy sportsman. The bride is a descendant of her namesake, Goethe's great friend, and has inherited all the relics of the great German poet belonging to her great-aunt.

When she was presented at court last season Frau von Levetsow was much admired for her wit and her dancing, being one of the young women chosen to dance with the Garde du Corps officers, to whom the place of honor immediately in front of the throne is always assigned. The wedding took place in the historic old Trinity Church and was followed by a dinner at the Hotel Esplanade.

Mrs. Hazeltine Gives a Dinner.

Mrs. Charles Hazeltine, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who is in Berlin to see her daughter, Countess Adolph Montgelas, entertained at dinner at the Hotel Cumberland for Mrs. T. Stewart White, also of Grand Rapids. Among those present were Count Montgelas, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark Grew and the Consul General and Mrs. Thackara.

Mrs. John Cleves Symmes gave a tea for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waite, of New York.

The Hon. Mary Portman and Miss Amy Hare have issued invitations for a big dinner and dance on November 24 for the American Ambassador and Mrs. Gerard, and also as a farewell for the Consul General and Mrs. Thackara.

Too Much Sugar in Beer.

Quite an exciting scene occurred one night this week in a Bohemian resort in the so-called American quarter in Berlin, much frequented by American music students and members of the colony in general. A young American woman, who persisted in sportively sugaring her neighbor's beer in spite of his lively protest and repeated warnings, was deluged with a glassful of foaming beer. In a jiffy the young American was on his feet, taking sides vehemently in the altercation, until the proprietor, finding suasion of no effect upon his inflamed spirits, unceremoniously ejected the entire party.

'SHARK-SWISH' TANGO, WITH A SIDEWAYS DIP, LONDON'S NEWEST FORM OF CRAZE

MISS PHYLLIS MONKMAN IN THE POM-POM GOWN

What of the tango now? asks the Sketch in publishing a new freak in dress. This is called the "pom-pom," and is being shown by an actress in the British capital. London, as well as Berlin, is tango mad, but possibly these cities may change their ideas now and go in for the "pom-pom," whatever that may be.

Dancers Use the Easy Motion of the Well Known Fish When It Turns in the Water to Seize Its Prey—Otherwise Society Is Not Very Busy in the Ante-Christmas Season.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]
LONDON, Nov. 22.

OF social gayety, comparatively speaking, very little is going on, though the last week has been very busy. The hotels were full, the restaurants crowded for luncheon and dinner and the opera and theatres all doing well.

Dances are still conspicuous by their absence, though the tango craze is growing. The "shark-swish," a new form of tango, won first prize at a semi-bohemian ball given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klein to two hundred guests. The dance gets its name from the fact that the dip sideways of each couple is accentuated with an easy motion as of a shark turning in the water to seize its prey. It is danced sideways altogether and necessitates the newest creation in free motion tango dresses.

Mr. H. B. Irving, actor, and Mr. Henry Arthur Jones, dramatist, upheld the author's interpretation of the tango, but it looked like a minuet compared with the latest innovations danced here some years ago.

It would have been possible usually at this time in November to make a forecast of the ante-Christmas season, but it seems this year difficult so to do, for the political situation is affecting matters considerably.

Skating Club Opening.

So far not a single dance is announced in any private house this month, and as far as can be seen there does not appear to be any hostess who is likely to do any entertaining.

A considerable number of well known persons were present at the opening of the Holland Park Sunday Skating Club. Among those skating were Lady Exmouth, wearing black velvet with a white velvet sailor collar and a small black hat, and her daughter, the Hon Georgina Pellew, in tailor made brown serge.

Lady Musgrave was in black and Lady Southwell in tweed when both were skating. Also present were Lady Rivett-Carnac and Lady Fandel-Phillips, watching her daughters, Mrs. Charles Tufton and Miss Faudel Phillips, skating.

Earls Court also will be a busy place this winter. The season there began tonight under the direction of Mr. F. W. Payne with the opening of the new Queen's Rink and the Palais de Danse. The Queen's Rink is a fine building, four hundred feet in length and beautifully decorated to represent the interior of a palace courtyard. At one end there is a succession of terraces on which persons may get light refreshments served and from which they have an uninterrupted view of the skaters. Half way down the rink is a big salon, decorated in novel fashion, suggested by a famous Parisian dressmaker. The scheme is entirely in black and white.

Titled Hostesses.

The Olympia Skating Club, of which Viscount Grichton is president, will be housed here on Sundays, and on November 27 there is to be a rink meet, at which twenty-six titled women, one for each borough of the metropolitan area, will act as hostesses under the presidency of the Marchioness of Tweeddale. Among the society women acting as hostesses will be the Duchess of Marlborough, the Duchess of Somerset, Catherine Lady Decies, Lady Neumann and Lady Maud Warrender. The proceeds will go to a special fund for providing pure free milk to the London poor. An interesting programme is being arranged and the famous tango dancers now appearing at the Queen's Theatre will introduce the tango on skates for the first time.

From the rink a covered way leads to the Palais de Danse and a huge hall will be furnished as a superb dancing floor, and dancing will take place there nightly, from half-past eight to midnight.

A few weeks before Christmas also is the season when thoughts turn to charity, and many such events are now occurring. Princess Marie Louise of Schleswig-Holstein was at the parish room of Holy Trinity, Brompton, and opened a sale of curios from many lands in aid of the Ada Leigh homes in Paris for American and British girls. The curios offered included a prayer book dated 1627, once the property of a Bishop of Ontario; a "Breeches" Bible, a bonbonnière of Royal Copenhagen porcelain, presented by Princess Alexander of Teck; the priedieu of Marie Antoinette and a Louis XIV. rosewood inkstand.

Sales for Charities.

Lady Hillingdon, wearing sables and a brown dress with a blue feather in a velvet hat, opened the sale organized by Adeline Duchess of Bedford in aid of the Belgravia and Pimlico Association for the Care of Friendless Girls.

The Earl and Countess of Strathmore held a sale of useful Christmas gifts at their home in St. James square in aid of the General Lying-in Hospital in York Road.

Lady Wakeford is organizing a Christmas sale for the Home Arts Industries Association at her residence in Hyde Park Gardens next week.

Derby's race meeting took many away from London for two or three days, but the meeting was not a great social function. It used to be when the late Duke and Duchess of Devonshire entertained large parties at Chatsworth and Rangemore. Bretby Castle and Byrkly Lodge were all filled for the week. The present Duke and Duchess of Devonshire do not care for racing and have never entertained for this meeting.

Dowager Lady Burton had a party stopping at Rangemore and Mr. and Mrs. Miller Mundy also were hosts at Shipley Court, but owing to mourning Lady Carnarron was unable to entertain at Bretby.

The season of amateur theatricals also is beginning and from now until the middle of Lent these entertainments will be given not only in London but in the country in aid of charities. Every day fresh recruits join the ranks of the amateur players.

The noted Windsor Strollers soon are to give a series of performances in the Royal Borough, some very clever persons taking part, including Lady Crutchley and Mr. Ralph Alderson.

Amateurs in Performance.

Lady Meux gave an entertainment at Kings Theatre, Portsmouth, on Wednesday in aid of the Naval Disaster Funds. Every seat was sold and the programme included "Heard at the Telephone" and a pantomime rehearsal. Parties were gathered in all the notable houses of the neighborhood for the performances.

Lady Muriel Paget Arranges Great Picture Ball for London

Queen Mary Promises Her Patronage to Christmas Carnival, Which Will Be Outstanding Event of Coming Winter Social Programme.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]
LONDON, Nov. 22.

LADY MURIEL PAGET, aided by Mr. G. Sherwood Foster, is arranging the first of the great semi-public balls which for some years have been such notable events.

Last winer it was "The Pantomime Ball," in which about twenty of the prettiest girls of society made up a procession of "dancing princesses." In June it was the summer ball and pageant, a spectacle of magnificence and beauty entitled "The Court of Versailles."

A prince of the blood royal impersonated Louis XIV., with the Countess of Dudley as the French Queen. Nearly every prominent woman in the fashionable world was in one or other of the "royal progresses." There were as many kings and queens in the great space of the Albert Hall as could be found in a mixture of a dozen packs of cards. In the royal box watching the scene was Queen Mary, accompanied by princesses, royal duchesses and other exalted personages.

This winter's ball promises to be equally successful and even more interesting. It is to be known as "A Picture Ball and Christmas Carnival," and again the Queen has promised her patronage. It will take place on December 3 in the Albert Hall, and the proceeds from the tickets, of which the first thousand are to be sold at £1 ($5) each, are to be devoted to the funds of the Invalid Kitchens of London.

The list of gentlewomen who have already promised to assist by forming groups for pictures and in bringing parties of young dancing people to the ball includes the Duchesses of Marlborough, Norfolk, Somerset and Bedford, the Marchionesses of Winchester and Tullibardine, Countess Fitzwilliam, Countess of Kenmare, Cora Countess of Strafford, Countess Pappenheim, Viscountesses Ridley, Gladstone and St. Cyres, Lady Leith of Fyvie, Frances lady de l'Isle and Dudley, Lady Ashby St. Ledgers, Lady Herbert, Lady Speyer, Lady Bering, Lady Edmund Talbot, Lady Constance Hatch, Lady Diana Manners, Lady William Cecil, Lady Julia Duff, Lady George Campbell, Mrs. Arthur Grenfell, Baroness d'Erlanger, Mrs. Harcourt and Mrs. Walter Reubens. Each group will illustrate the development of pictorial art from the earliest times to the present.

Generally speaking, costumes of spectators and dancers not in the groups may represent any period from early Egyptian to Victorian. The various groupings of pictures will represent the schools of early Egypt, the Grecian, Byzantine, Spanish, Flemish, French, Dutch, eighteenth century English and pre-Raphaelite. The tableaux and living pictures will be the pageant of the night, a change from the somewhat prolonged quadrilles and interminable processions of the pantomime and Versailles balls.

A small band of fashionable women, under the guidance of a royal princess noted for her deep art culture, will group special features representing great masters, from the time of Cimabue, Gotto and the early Italian masters.

British Nation Will Acquire Remarkable Costume Collection

Mr. Talbot Hughes' Display, Which Is Record of Fashions of Olden Times, May Go to South Kensington Museum.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]
LONDON, Nov. 22.

THE most complete collection of English costumes owned privately is to be purchased for presentation to the nation, and it will probably be placed in the South Kensington Museum, thus making the national collection a comprehensive record of fashion's changes down to the seventies.

For nearly a quarter of a century Mr. Talbot Hughes, the artist, who owns the collection, has been adding to this historic wardrobe. He has passed an immense amount of time and spent money in accumulating specimens, and even now he intends to add to them as occasion offers.

"I started collecting these costumes," he said, "for the purpose of my paintings, but gradually the fascination grew upon me and the collection increased."

All parts of the country have been laid under contribution, not only for men's and women's costumes, but for old lace, &c. The artist's hobby became known and dealers have long been on the lookout for interesting specimens.

The splendid preservation of the collection is a silent tribute to the quality of the hand-loom work of Spitalfields, now experiencing a notable revival. Silks, satins and brocades, the "glad rags" of cavaliers, the flowered flounces of the English women of long ago, are surprisingly perfect in shape and texture. There are specimens that would impart a note of elegance to the smartest costume ball.

In view of the desire nowadays for perfect accuracy, whether in the theatre or the ballroom, the collection will prove to be invaluable.

"Prints," said Mr. Hughes, "are all very well in their way, but the student cannot examine them as in the case of the original costume."

Mr. Hughes' collection of early English boots and shoes is the only one of its kind. Apparently worthless pieces of leather, found in many curious places, have been turned out, under his deft reconstruction, as typical examples of the early shoemaker's art. Primitive enough are some of them. Others have been unearthed from the plague pits of London. This collection of shoes dates back to the fourteenth century.

There are about 450 specimens in all, and the observer may follow the evolution and the passing of the high heel and pass in review the fashions in footwear as they affected the ballroom and the market place. There is a shoe worn by a child at the time of Edward VI., and near it is a quaint specimen of the fourteenth century shoe with the familiar curled toe.

Mr. Hughes has proved conclusively, he says, that while "there's nothing like English leather," the native craftsman has likewise always held his own. It is generally believed that the French hold the supremacy in this respect, but Mr. Hughes says decidedly "No!" A topboot of the time of Charles II. is a notable piece of work, far in advance of anything fashioned by the French craftsmen of that day.

King George and Queen Mary To Be at Chatsworth Five Days

Sovereign Will Shoot Pheasants During Visit to Duke of Devonshire—Riding Judges Believe Princess Mary Will Become Finest Horsewoman in England.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]
LONDON, Nov. 22.

PREPARATIONS are already being made at Chatsworth for the reception of the King and Queen, who are to be the guests of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire from December 8 to December 13. This will be their first visit to the Duke's Derbyshire mansion since their accession, although as Prince and Princess of Wales they frequently stopped there as guests of the late Duke.

The estate affords the finest shooting in the Peak district and the coverts have been carefully preserved for the visit of the King, who will have three days' sport among the pheasants.

It is probable that Princess Mary will accompany her father and mother, as among her most intimate friends is Lady Maud Cavendish, eldest daughter of the Duke and Duchess. The entertainments arranged for the royal visit include a theatrical performance in the fine theatre erected at Chatsworth by the late Duke, and a ball, to which many of the Duke's Derbyshire neighbors will be invited.

The Duchess of Devonshire is quite restored to health after her long sojourn at Bad Nauheim and will be able to discharge personally the duties of hostess during the royal sojourn at Chatsworth. The Duchess was abroad during the greater part of the London season and made her first official appearance as Mistress of the Robes since Easter on the occasion of the marriage of Prince Arthur of Connaught.

Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra, although resembling one another in some ways, are not at all alike as regards settling dates beforehand. Queen Mary is very precise in these matters; the day and hour for keeping an appointment are not only fixed long before, but when fixed are rigidly adhered to.

Queen Alexandra, on the other hand, dislikes very much to be tied down to a particular day or hour. Particularly in the matter of journeying, there is almost always a change of arrangements at the last moment.

Such was the case recently when it had been announced that the two Queens would travel to Sandringham together. Queen Alexandra at the last moment postponed her departure for twenty-four hours, whereas Queen Mary started on the day that had been fixed.

Princess Victoria's dislike of the trammels that surround royalty and its proceedings shows itself chiefly in going about incognita on every possible occasion. Recently she went to stop on the Kent coast with her former governess, Mrs. Johnson, under an assumed name, and to her great satisfaction managed to escape recognition.

The same kind of thing transpires almost every day when Queen Alexandra and her daughter are in residence at Marlborough House, for Princess Victoria, whenever possible, leaves quietly by a side door, accompanied by a friend or some one connected with the royal household, and invariably on foot. In this way she goes shopping and to the park and the picture galleries without the discomfort of being stared at or saluted by a loyal but over-demonstrative public.

Princess Mary is becoming quite a queen in riding circles. It is thought by good riding judges that she will develop into the finest horsewoman in the country. If you want to rouse the grooms attached to the royal stables at Windsor to the highest pitch of enthusiasm, you have only to mention Princess Mary. And they are all particularly proud of the Princess' horses.

"That one, sir, can jump like a stag," said one of the head grooms to a visitor the other day, "and he has to when the Princess is riding him across country."

Prince John seems also certain to grow into a brilliant horseman. When at Windsor he passes much of his time with his little ponies, and has even had the temerity to mount the polo ponies of his brother, the Prince of Wales. The young Prince passes hours in the royal riding school, and is fond of being present when the grooms are banging tins, blowing horns and whistles and shouting, to accustom the royal carriage horses to bands and crowds.

Palace in London No Longer 'Ugly'

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]
LONDON, Nov. 22.

BUCKINGHAM Palace, under the restorer's hand, is now scarcely recognizable as the same building, and when the King and Queen return they will find that it has ceased to be the ugliest palace in Europe.

The whole of the main building has been refronted. In place of the old, crumbling, dingy front, fine white Portland stone, worked into graceful architectural composition, meets the eye.

The work has been one of considerable magnitude. At one time 500 men were kept busy, 400 in the daytime and the other half by night, when the building was illuminated by electricity. Nearly 100,000 cubic feet of stone have been used, and many modern inventions not generally employed in the building trade were utilized.

Perhaps the most remarkable aspect of the work has been the speed with which it has been carried out. The new front was designed by Sir Aston Webb, R. A., and the drawings were approved by the King last year. It was, of course, impossible for the work to be carried on while the King was permanently in residence, so that only three months in the year could be allocated to Messrs. Leslie & Co., the contractors.

They were offered two "years," but undertook to finish the work in one "year" of three months, and they began operations on August 5. The most careful drawings were made, and two stone yards were kept hard at work to supply the material required. Each stone was numbered, so that when brought to the palace it could be fitted at once into its proper place. Special precautions were taken against suffragettes, and not a single untoward incident occurred, with the exception of the death of one employe.

The statues which once figured on the front have been replaced by a simple balustrading on the roof. Their chipped surface and crumbling bases suggest that they are worthy only of the rubbish heap, but experts who have examined them have selected a few to set up in the gardens.

The refronting has to some extent revived the suggestion, often mooted in court circles, that the palace might be thrown open to the public when the King and Queen are not in residence. While the King is anxious that the great treasures it contains should be accessible to lovers of beautiful things, there are stated to be certain objections which stand in the way.

In addition to the refronting, workmen also are engaged in redecorating the interior of the palace. A special suite of rooms is being prepared for the Prince of Wales. While the King's apartments overlook the gardens, the Prince is stated to prefer the outlook toward the Mall, and his new rooms will be almost in the centre of the facade.

So pleased is the King with the work that he entertained all the workmen at dinner at the King's Hall of the Holborn Restaurant recently.

Evening Suits in Blue Are Worn

Mr. H. Dennis Bradley Devises Startling Fashions for Men in "Are You There?"

[SPECIAL DISPATCH.]
LONDON, Nov. 22.

STRIKING fashions for men are seen in "Are You There?" at the Prince of Wales' Theatre. The producers of the play called in the assistance of an expert in men's clothes, Mr. H. Dennis Bradley, to evolve new fashions for the piece, and gave him a free hand.

Three distinct color schemes have been carried out for the dressing of the first act, in which the men wear lounge suits of various shades of blue, brown and gray. All the usual shades of dark navy blue have been passed over as being too ordinary. In their place are four distinct shades of blue—purple blue, royal blue, plum blue and china blue.

The brown suits are mostly in autumnal shades—warm browns with tints of red in them. One is, appropriately enough, a "nut" brown. The gray suits vary in shade from black and white grays to bright silver grays. In striking contrast to these is Mr. Lawrence Grossmith's smartly cut black-braided jacket, fastened at the waistline with one button.

In the second act all the chorus wear evening suits of blue, the coat being faced with blue silk. A new kind of evening overcoat—blue with blue silk facings and fastened with only one button—has been specially devised for this act. Another new kind of evening overcoat is worn by Mr. Alec Fraser. It has silk lapels rolling right down to the bottom of the coat—hardly an overcoat for the very cold weather, but an extremely smart coat to slip over evening clothes. Mr. Fraser's bright blue evening suit, with its white corded waistcoat, is one of the sartorial successes of the production.

Mr. Lawrence Grossmith wears an evening suit of another shade of blue, and with it a silk waistcoat of a light biscuit shade.

CLOSING LETTER.

Received over the private wire of Neuville Belleau & Co., brokers, 93 St. Peter st., Quebec.

New York, Nov. 21.—There was little change in the market today. Trading was without feature and with prices at about last night's parity. General business shows decided evidence of slowing down. The American Brass Company has laid off several hundred men and is working only four to five days in the week. The General Electric Co. is threatened with a strike, following the laying off of 3,000 men. The U. S. S. has closed down its Carnegie plant, affecting 900 employees. The Westinghouse Electric has let several hundred men go at one plant and is contemplating the dismissal of many more. The American Locomotive is operating only 60 per cent of its force. All of this, while distressing as to the actual business and manufacturing situation indicates very easy money rates this winter and possibly a better market for strictly safe dividend paying ard interest bearing securities. There was engaged at the sub treasury today $2,500,000 gold for shipment to Canada. The developments of the St. Louis & San Francisco investigation have left a bad impression and the proposition to extend the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate the issues of securities is likely to meet with public favor. Copper metal owing to the depression in manufacturing business is off ½ cent further to 15 cents, but with little doing. Several stock exchange houses have announced their intention of retiring from business by the end of the year. The General Chemical Co. has declared an extra dividend of 5 per cent on its common shares. London did practically nothing in our market today.

Business contracted as the day advanced and only 9,000 shares were dealt in during the noon hour with less than 10,000 shares between 1 and 2 p.m., and but 83,800 shares up to 2 o'clock.

CITY HALL.
Quebec, November 20th, 1913

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that sealed tenders endorsed "Tender for Trenching and Laying," addressed to the undersigned, will be received up to 4 p.m. on Thursday the 27th inst., for the laying of 18-inch water pipes on Montcalm street, Avenue Laurier to Ursule street, as per specifications to be seen at this office.

Tenders to be in blank forms procurable at this office and to be signed by two responsible parties as sureties for the fulfilment of the contract.

Each tender shall contain the City Treasurer's receipt for the sum equal to 5 per cent of the amount of the tender, which sum shall be confiscated in case of refusal to carry out the contract.

The City is not bound to accept the lowest or any of the tenders and the contractor shall pay for drawing up the contract, and for a certified copy thereof for City use.

LIBELLED FOR INADEQUATE SUPPLY OF LIFEBOATS.

A thousand dollar fine has been imposed upon the Spanish ocean steamer Montevideo, which plies between San Juan, Porto Rico, and Europe, by the United States Department of Commerce because it carried an inadequate supply of lifeboats. This was the first fine to be imposed on any ship by domestic authorities for this offense, and, accordingly, it was decided to make it the maximum fine. It was stated at the Department of Commerce on November 11 that the Montevideo dropped into the port of San Juan last August 28 with 768 persons on board. The ship carried approved lifeboats for but 702 persons. It was acknowledged that in addition the vessel carried three canvas boats, but the United States inspectors refused to accept and approve these as suitable life craft for ocean use. Inquiry directed at the Department of Commerce failed to disclose the ownership of the Montevideo, but it was stated that the fine and negotiations relating thereto had been conducted with the agent for the vessel at San Juan, whose name is Sobrinus de Ezquiga.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.

Received over the private wire of McDougall & Cowans, Stock Brokers, 91 St. Peter St. Quebec. Tel. 245.

New York, Nov. 21.—A dull dragging market, with stocks going down under some slight dribbling liquidation and absence of support describes the dealings which have taken place today.

Out side of one or two specialties like Alaska Gold, which sold at the lowest it has touched since it was listed in the exchange, and New Haven, which broke down close to its former low level, changes have been small and general interest entirely lacking. There was no further news from Mexico where affairs seemingly are to be allowed to drift along in the present condition for some time yet, and the engagement of $1,500,000 gold for Canada created but little interest in the present condition of the money market and in view of the fact that the banks continue to gain quite freely from the interior. Leading issues like Union, Reading, Steel and Amalgamated all closed at small fractional declines and while the general tone of the market was heavy during most of the day, it was at on time weak.

In the last few minutes some covering by room shorts was sufficient to convert in many instances small fractional losses into correspondingly small fractional gains.

CLOSING MARKET LETTERS.

Received by Breen & Gourdeau, stock brokers, 63 St. Peter St. and 6 Sault au Matelot.

New York, Nov. 21.—The character of today's stock market was unchanged from that which has existed for some time, and transactions, professional in nature, showed the smallest total for any full session since the middle of July. No news of important bearing developed, price changes were unimportant and no relief from the uncertainty that has so long characterized the stock market was suggested. The tone, however, appears good, with indications pointing toward a sold-out condition existing.

For the present, we believe the usual market leaders a purchase on setbacks for a turn.

Boston, Nov. 21.—Scattered selling orders in copper stocks today. The changes in the metal prices did not bring in any substantial buying. Coppers are cheap, but the lack of confidence keeps buying down.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—With wheat on an export basis in all directions there is little to be expected on the short side, but with everyone making every effort in our Northwest and Canada to push wheat into export position it takes the edge off of the buyer. The next move of any importance in value, however, we expect, will be on the long side.

Corn has long suffered a severe decline. Much of it was due to the prospect of heavy arrivals at Kansas City next week and continued free receipts at Omaha and free offerings through points from South Dakota for December shipment. Weather clearing over the corn belt.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building. Telephone 1227.

(Canadian Press Service.)

New York, Nov. 21.—There was little to distinguish today's stock market from the sleepy sessions which have preceded it this week, although the tone was better. At the outset there was a small decline, owing presumably to the influence of the dragging market for American stocks in London and the sharp break in copper metal prices abroad. The market showed greater recuperative power than yesterday, however, and the opening losses were soon made up, some of the leaders rising well above the previous close. Speculation dwindled as the day advanced, and prices eased off slightly from the high point, but there were no signs of general weakness, despite marked heaviness in individual cases.

The firmer tone of the market was due chiefly to the strong technical position, which induced shorts to cover whenever they were able to procure stocks at recessions. Even the limited inquiry demonstrated the difficulty of obtaining stocks to retire short contracts. An unexpectedly large borrowing demand followed yesterday's selling, and while buyers were still timid and no attempt was made to drive the bears to cover, the tone of the market was influenced by the obvious scantiness of the supply.

Heaviness of the coppers acted as a drag on the whole list. The break in London metal prices was followed by the report that some producers were offering copper in the domestic market at 15 cents. Pessimism regarding the business outlook was increased by news that reduction in working forces, heretofore confined principally to steel mills, had spread to other industries.

A cash gain for the banks on the week was predicted, despite shipment of $2,500,000 to Canada, making the week's total shipments to the Dominion $3,500,000. Money continues to come in from the interior so that the movement to Canada is of little influence on the money market. Further shipments across the border are expected, on account of the extensive movement of Canadian grain to export. Much of the grain is going forward through American points, and selling of grain bills here against these exports had placed large balances to the credit of Canadian banks here.

Bonds were less stable than stocks, despite cessation of liquidation of some issues. Total sales, par value, $1,280,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.

By private wire to M. L. Dohan, broker, Dominion building, St. Peter street. Phone 4748.

New York, Nov. 21.—Volume of trading was very light in the late afternoon, with the result that transactions for the day were smallest for any full session since July 15th. Prices were inclined to sag as result of selling pressure on New Haven, Alaska Gold, and one or two less active issues. A humorist must have supplied the argument on which New Haven was sold. The stock was weak on a rumor that no dividend would be declared on the stock at directors' meeting this afternoon. Traders assumed that they meant that dividend would be passed, forgetting that President Ellott had stated some time ago that action on the dividend question would not be taken until the second week of December. There was some selling of Central Leather on the ground that expectation of early dividend action was likely to be disappointing. The stock had considerable rise and the reaction was natural.

Money 3 per cent.
Total sales, 109,486.

COST OF REMOVING SNOW IS BECOMING SERIOUS PROBLEM

THE CITY ATTORNEYS THINK THERE IS NO OBLIGATION ON MERGER TO DO IT.

The increased cost of removing snow from the city streets during the winter season, is proving a heavy burden on the householders of Quebec, who are anxiously studying the problem of relief.

Householders and shop-keepers residing and doing business in streets through which the street cars pass, have come to feel that the Quebec Railway, Light, Heat and Power Company, should bear its share of the extra cost, by increasing the allowance the Company grants to the proprietors in connection with the removal of the snow.

When the Q. R., L., H., & P. Co. inaugurated its electric street car company in Quebec, the Company entered into an agreement with the proprietors residing along the streets through which the railway tracks lined, to pay a portion of the cost of the removal of the snow from ten to fifteen cents per lineal feet in front of each property. When this agreement was entered into, the cost of snow removal was from 50 to 75 per cent less than the rates now asked by the snow contractor, hence the demand of the proprietors. That the company should pay its share of the increase.

The question having become acute, a Chronicle representative paid a visit to the City Hall yesterday, to take cognizance of the terms of the contract and agreement of the City with the Q. R., L., H. & P. Co., in regard to the removal of snow from the streets wherein the street cars operate. He found that there was nothing in the agreement that binds the Company to remove the snow from the streets.

The following is a copy of the clauses in the agreement with the City and the Q. R., L., H. & P. Co., in conformity with the contract, that deals specially with the removal of snow:

Clause 16: "The Company shall remove the snow and ice from the track between the rails of the said railway, and to the extent on the outside thereof, of two feet in breadth on each side, and it shall not use salt to melt the same except on the rails, over grades, curves and switches, and on the sidings. During the summer season the Company shall also keep the said track in good order, the same as in winter.

Clause 17: "Should the City Council deem it advisable, it may order, that the City Inspector shall cause to be removed all, or a portion of the snow and ice, between the two sidewalks, on the streets, or part of streets traversed by the cars of the said Company, including even the snow thrown or falling from the roofs of houses in the said streets, and on demand, the Company shall be bound to reimburse to the City one-half the cost of the removal of such snow and ice."

The officials of the City Engineers Department are of the opinion that the citizens of Quebec, comprising the proprietors along the car lines, have no valid claim on the Q. R., L., H. & P. Co., to oblige them to contribute to the increased rate of removing the snow. One of the officials recalled to mind a certain lessee of the Seminary property on the Grande Allee, took action in the Superior Court to compel the Company to remove or pay the cost of removal of the snow on the frontage of the property he leased, and the Court decided against him. The by-law provides that all riparian proprietors must keep the road in front of their premises clear of snow above four inches of ice on the road, or streets.

The Company some years ago entered into a friendly agreement with the householders to allow them a certain sum for cartage on the cost of the removal of the snow and has kept its agreement, though it was not in anyway obligatory.

City's Legal Opinion.

The Chronicle later called at the office of the City-Attorneys to discuss the question and obtain their legal opinion, Mr. Chouinard was seen, and is of opinion that the Q. R., L., H. & P. Co. cannot be compelled to pay any increase of the amount than it now allows. He said that the agreement between the Company and the riparian proprietors was a private one, advanced by the Company, and and further said he did not think that the Public Utilities Commission had any jurisdiction in the matter.

"Some years ago," said the City Attorney, "the corporation of Montreal took action against the Tramway Company in that city to pay a portion of the cost of the removal of the snow in the streets in Montreal over which the cars run. The Company attained judgment in its favor in the Superior Court, and the case was carried to the Supreme Court of Canada and finally to the Privy Council, where judgment was confirmed in the Company's favor.

"The contract and agreement between the City of Quebec and the Montreal contract were identically the same, the clauses in the Quebec contract, being copied from the Montreal contract. The final judgment rendered in favor of the Montreal Tramway Company, was given by the Privy Council in 1907."

Mr. Matthews Interviewed.

Mr. H. E. Matthews, general manager of the Q. R., L., H. & P. Co., and assistant to the President, was next seen in regard to the question, and was most happy to give all the information needed, and said:

"The Q. R., L., H. & P. Co. is under no obligation to remove or pay for the removal of the snow in the streets of Quebec, and is certainly not responsible for the increase in the cost of removal by the snow contractors. The Company, of its own accord, agreed to assist the citizens of Quebec by paying a portion of the cost entailed on them for the removal of the snow from the streets in which their tracks were laid, and cars are operated.

"We pay a minimum of ten cents per lineal foot, and a maximum of 15 cents, according to conditions, and this we have carried out at the free will of the company, as we desire to live on good terms with the people by bearing what we consider a fair and equitable share of the cost.

"If the cost of removal of snow has increased, it is no fault of ours, it is more the fault of the people, who should get together and deal with one contractor for each street, instead of thirty or forty carters. One contractor would do the work for a much lower price, and everybody would be satisfied.

"I have a very good idea of what it should cost to remove the snow from the streets of Quebec. As our Company have to do its own removal from Maple Avenue, St. Foye and St. Louis roads, and we are prepared to remove the snow from all City streets in which our cars operate, if the City should desire, at a fair and reasonable cost.

"In regard to the present agitation over the cost of snow removal, and the demand that we should be forced to pay more by the Public Utilities Commission. All I have to say it, the Public Utilities Commission have absolutely no jurisdiction. This question has already been before the courts, and we welcome another suit, confident of the judgment.

"In the meantime, we wish to deal with the Quebec public, as fairly as we possibly can, and live in harmony, in keeping with the public good-will, and feel, in this respect, that we are doing our duty, even in connection with the snow question."

JEALOUSY OVER INVITES TO WHITE HOUSE WEDDING

Washington, Nov. 21.—Regardless of the fact that the White House is not the most commodious mansion on the earth, and that the East room can scarcely accommodate more than 500 or 600 guests at a time, the invitation list for the coming marriage of Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson to Francis Sayre of New York is charged with the awful responsibility of having started a real social war.

There are recriminations and heart burnings already. Everybody in Washington who considers herself, or more particularly herself and husband, as members of upper tendoin, has thought that she at least would receive the coveted card. Instead, adhering strictly to the desire of the White House family that the wedding should be as quiet and dignified as possible and that at all hazards, social or otherwise, there should be no "crush" at the most important function of the season, the number of invited guests has been kept down to 600.

The invitation includes, in addition to the intimate friends of the President's family, the Senators and their wives and heads of embassies and diplomatic missions. Of the representatives and their wives only such as are numbered among the personal acquaintances of the Wilson family have been invited.

Even in the cabinet circle the invitations were not scattered so broadly as to include the entire household of some of the most conspicuous officials.

PARIS INSTITUTION IS GIVEN BIG SPECIMEN.

Paris, Nov. 21—Count Stenboch Fermor, of the island of Great Lyakersky, New Siberia, has presented to the natural history museum in Paris what is considered to be the finest specimen of a mammoth yet found.

The gift is especially interesting because the animal had not finished digesting his last meal at the moment of his death, countless centuries ago. This the savants are for the first time able to study accurately the nature of the flora of the far-distant epoch. They have simply to examine the contents of the mammoth's stomach. He was found in an absolutely complete condition in a strata of ice. The skin, which is without a scratch, is covered with reddish hair, thick and soft to the touch as that of a lap dog. The work of digging out the monster from his primeval cold storage and bringing him to Paris was one of extreme difficulty. The body was cut carefully into pieces, each one labeled, and then carried 1800 miles to railway line on dog sledges.
